 xxi After forſoþe, al þe puple clepid togidere, þurȝ out al þe nyȝt wiþinne þe chirche þei prezeden, aſkende helpe of þe God of Israel.

Capitulum VII.

i Oloernes forſoþe þat toþer dai comaundide to his oſtus, þat þei shulden ſteȝe vp aȝen Betulie.
 ii þer weren forſoþe footmen of fiȝteres an hundred and twenti þousend, and horſe men twelue þousend, biſide þe redi cumpanyes of þoo men, whom caitifte hadde occupied, and weren broȝt fro prouyncis and cites, of alle ȝouþe.
 iii Alle togidere maden þemſelf redi to þe fiȝt aȝen þe ſones of Israel; and þei camen bi þe brinke of þe hil vnto þe cop, þat beholdeþ Dotaym, fro þe place þat is feid Belena vnto Selmon, þat is aȝen Eſdrelon.
 ivi þe ſones forſoþe of Israel, as þei ſeȝen þe multitude of hem, þei þrewen þemſelf doun vpon þe erþe, puttende aſkis vpon þer hedis, togidere of o wil prezende, þat God of Israel his merci ſhewe vp on his puple.
 v And takende þer armys of bataile, ſeten bi þe placis þat ledn þe paþ of ſtreit weie betwe þe hilli placis, and þei weren kepende þem al dai and nyȝt.
 vi But Oloernes, whil he goþ aboute bi cumpas, fond þat a welle, þat flowide in to þe watir conduſe of þem, fro þe ſouȝ partie out of þe cite diuerſli reulide, and comaundede to ben hewe doun þe water conduſe of hem.
 vii Ner þe latere þer weren not fer from þe wallis wellis, of þe whiche þeſſli þei weren ſeen to drawe water, raþere to refreshen þan to drinken.
 viii But þe ſonus of Amon and of Moab wenten to Oloernes, ſciende, þe ſones of Israel not in ſpere and arewe troſten, but þe mountaynes defenden hem, and ſtrengþen hem þe little hillis ſett in a dich broken beforne.
 ix Panne þat wiþ oute going to fiȝt þou mowe ouercome þem, put keperis of wellis, þat þei drawe not of hem; and wiþ oute fwerd þou shaltflen hem, or certis weried þei shuln take þer cite, þe whiche þei weener in þe hillis to moun not ben ouercome.

x And þese woordis plefeden beforne Oloernes, and beforne alle his cruel knyztus; and he sette bi enuyroun hundredis bi alle þe wellis.
xi And whan þis warde bi twenti dajis was ful ended, faileden þe cisternes and þe gederingis of watriis to alle þe dwelleris in Betulie, so þat þer was not wiþ inne þe cite, wher of þei myȝten han ynowȝ or for o dai, for at mesure watir was ȝiue to þe puplis eche dai.
xii Panne to Ofias alle men and wymmen, and ȝunge men, and litle childer, gadered togidere, alle togidere wiþ o vois seiden, xiii Þe Lord deme between vs and þee, for þou haft don in to vs euelys, not willende to speken pesibl wiþ þe Affiries, and for þat God haþ sold vs in þe hondis of hem.
xiv And þerfore þer is not þat helpeþ, whan wee ben browe doun befor þe eȝen of hem in þrist, and in gret perdicione.
xv And now gedereþ alle men, þat ben in þis citee, þat wilfulli wee of al þe puple taken vs to Oloernes.
xvi Betere it is þat caitif wee blisse God liuende, þan wee die, and be repref to alle flesh, whan wee seen oure wiues and oure childer dien beforne eȝen.
xvii Wee taken to witnesse to dai heuene and erþe, and God of oure fadris, þat doþ veniaunce on vs after oure synnes, þat now ȝee take þe cite in þe hond of þe chialrie of Oloernes, þat oure ende be short in þe mouȝ of swerd, þat lengere is maad in droȝte of þrist.
xviii And whan þese ȝingis þei hadden feid, weping and gret ȝelling is maad in a gret chirche of alle men, and bi manye houris wiþ o vois þei crieren to þe Lord, seiende, xix Wee han synned wiþ oure fadris, vnriȝtwisli wee han don, wickednesse wee han maad.
xx For þou art piteous, haue merci on vs, and in þi fcourge venge oure wickednesſis; and wile þou not taken men knoulechende þee to þe puple þat knowiȝ not þee, xxi þat þei sei not among Jentilis, Where is þe God of hem?
xxii And whan, trauailid wiþ þese cries and þese weepingis, þei weren weri, xxiii Ofias risende, be teris infshed, seide, Euene inwit þeb, breþern, and þese fiue dajes bijde wee of þe Lord mercy;
xxiv parauenture forsoþe his indignacioun he shal putten awei, and ȝiue glorie to his name.
xxv If forsoþe, fiue dajes passid ouer, helpe comeþ not, wee shul do þese woordis þat ȝee han spoken.

Capitulum VIII.

i And it is do, whan þese woordis hadde herd Judit, widewe, þat was þe doȝter of Merari, sone of Idor, sone of Joseph, sone of Ozie, sone of Elai, sone of Jamnor, sone of Jedeon, sone of Rafoni, sone of Achitob, sone of Melchie, sone of Euam, sone of Mathanye, sone of Salathiel, sone of Symeon, sone of Ruben.

ii And his husbonde was Manasses, þat diede in þe dajes of barli rip;
iii forsoþe he stod ouer þe men bindende sheues in þe feld, and þer cam hete vp on his hed, and he diede in Betulie his cite, and is biried þere wiþ his fadris.
iv Forsoþe Judit was þe laft widue of hym now þre ȝer and fixe moneþis.
v And in þe ouere partis of his hous she made to him a priue bed place, in whiche wiþ his hand wymmen closid she dwelte;
vi and, hauende vp on his lendis an heire, fastide alle þe dajes of his lif, saue sabatis, and newe mones, and þe festis of þe hous of Israel.
vii Forsoþe she was wiþ fair beholding ful myche, to whom his husbonde hadde laft myche richeſſe, and plenteuous meyne, and poſſeſſouns ful wiþ droues of oxen, and flockis of ſhep.
viii And þis was in alle ȝingus most famous; for she dradde God gretli, ne þer was þat shulde speken of his euel woord.
ix And so þis whan she hadde herd, for Ofias hadde behoten, þat, þe fifte dai passid ouer, he shulde take þe cite, she fente to be preftis of Cambre and of Carmy.
x And þei camen to him; and she feide to hem, What is þis woord, in þe whiche Ofias consentide þat he take þe cite to Affiries, if wiþ inne fiue dajes þer come not helpe to vs?
xi And who ben ȝee þat tempten þe Lord?
xii Þis woord is not þat ſtire mercy; but rapere þat rere wraþe, and teende woodneſſe.
xiii ȝee han sett a time of mercy doing of þe Lord, and in ȝoure dom ȝee han ordeyned a dai to hym.
xiv But for þe Lord is pacient, in þis synne oþinke wee, and his forȝiuenesse wiþ teres afke wee;
xv ne forsoþe as a man so God shal þreten, ne as þe sone of man to wraþe he shal ben enflamed.
xvi And þerfore meke wee to hym oure foulis, and in contrit ſpirit and mekid ferue wee to hym;
xvii and fei wee wepende to þe Lord, þat aftir his wil so he do wiþ vs his mercy; and as oure herte is diſturbid in þe pride of hem, so also of oure mecnesse wee glorien.
xviii For wee han not folewid þe synnes of oure fadris, þat forsoken þer God, and honoureden alien godis;
xix for þe whiche hidous gilte þei ben ȝiuen in to swerd, and in to rauuin, and in to confusioun to þer enemys; wee forsoþe oper God knownen not faue hym.
xx Abijde wee meke þe coumforting of hym, and he shal fechen out oure blod fro þe tormentingis of oure enemys; and he shal meken alle Jentilis, who so euere rijſen aȝen vs; and he shal make þem wiþ oute wrſhipe, þe Lord oure God.

xxi And now, breþern, for ȝee þat ben prestis in þe puple of God, of ȝou hangeþ þe lif of hem at ȝoure speche, rereþ vp þe hertis of hem, þat myndeful ȝee be,
 for ȝoure fadris ben temptid, for þei shulden be preued, if verreli þei herieden þer God.
 xxii Myndeful owen þei to ben, what maner oure fader Abraham is temptid, and, bi manye tribulaciouns preuyd, þe frend of God is maad.
 xxiii So Ifaac, so Jacob, so Moyses, and alle þat pleseden to be Lord, bi manye tribulaciouns passeden feiþful.
 xxiv ȝei forsoþe þat temptaciouns resseyueden not wiþ be drede of God, and broȝten forþ þer vnpacience, and be repreff of þer gruccing aȝen þe Lord, xxv ben exilid of þe exilere, and of serpentis pershiden.
 xxvi And wee þanne venge we not vffself for þese þingus þat wee suffren;
 xxvii but, wijtende to oure synnes þese same lasse tormentis to ben, þe scourgis of þe Lord, as seruauns of þe Lord þat ben chastifid, to amendment, and not to han come to oure perdicoun, wee leeuen.
 xxviii And Ofias and þe prestis seiden to hir, Alle þingus, þat þou haft spoke, ben soþe, and þer is not in þi woordis any repreuyng.
 xxix Now þanne prei þou for vs, for þou art an holi womman, and dredende God.
 xxx And Judit seide to þem, As þat, þat I myȝte speken, ȝee knownen to ben of God.
 xxxi so þat I purposide to do, preueþ, if it is of God; and preȝeb, þat God stedefast make my counseil.
 xxxii ȝee shul stonden at þe ȝate þis nyȝt, and I shal gon out wiþ my fre handmaiden; and preȝeb, þat, as ȝee han seid, þe Lord in fiue dȝes beholde his puple Israel.
 xxxiii ȝou forsoþe I wile, þat ȝee ferche my deede, and vnto þe time þat I bringe aȝeen woord to ȝou, noon oþer þing be don, but orisoun for me to be Lord oure
 God.
 xxxiv And Ofias, þe prince of Jude, seide to hir, Go in pes, and þe Lord be wiþ þee in þe veniyng of oure enemys. And, turnende aȝeen, þei wenten awei.

Capitulum IX.

i The whiche goende awei, Judit wente in to hir oratorie, and, cloþende hir wiþ an heire, putte askes vp on hir hed; and, brownde hirself doun to þe Lord, criede to be Lord, seide, ii Lord God of my fader Symeon, þat ȝeue to hym a fwerd in to defending of alienes, þat weren defoularis in þer defouling, and nakeden þe hipe of þe maiden in to confusioun;
 iii and þou ȝeue þe wymmen of hem in to prei, þe doȝtris of hem in to caitife, and al þe prei in to deuisioun to þi seruauns, þat loueden þi looue; help, I beseeche, Lord, to me widewe.
 iv þou forsoþe didist rapere þingis, and þoo after þoo þou þoȝtist, and þis deede is, þat þi self woldist.

v Alle forsoþe þi weies ben maad redi, and þi domes in þi prouidence þou haft put.
 vi Beholde þe tentis of Affries now, as þanne þe tentis of Egipciens þou vouchedest saf to beholde, whan after þi seruauns þei runnen armed, troftende in þer foure horsid cartis, and in þer horsing, and in þe multitude of fiȝters.
 vii But þou beheelde vp on þe tentis of hem, and dercneffes ouertrauaileden hem; viii þe se heeld þe feet of hem, and watriis couereden
 hem.
 ix So, Lord, and þese be maad, þat trosten in þer multitude; and in þer charis, and in wepnys, and in þer arewys, and in speris glorien; x and þei knownen not, for þou þi self art oure God, þat to-tredest batailis fro þe bigynnyng, and Lord name is to bee.
 xi Rere vp þin arm as fro þe begynnyng, and hurtle þe vertue of hem in þi vertue; falle þe vertue of hem in þi wreþe, þat behoten hemself to defoule þin holi þingus, and to polluten þe tabernacle of þi name, and to þrowe doun wiþ swerd þe horne of þin auter.
 xii Do, Lord, þat þe pride of hem be cut awei wiþ þer owne fwerd;
 xiii be he taken wiþ þe grane of his eȝen in me; and þou shalt smyten hym of þe lippis of my charite.
 xiv ȝif to me in wil stedefastnesse, þat I dispise hym and his vertue, and I turne hym vp so doun.
 xv Forsoþe he shal be þe memorial of þi name, whan þe hondis of a womman han þrowen hym doun.
 xvi Forsoþe, Lord, not in multitude is þi vertue, ne in strengþys of hors þi wil; ne proude men pleseden to þee fro þe begynnyng, but of meke men and of buxum euermor to bee pleside þe preȝeere. xvii God of heuenes, makere of watriis, and Lord of eche creature, here me wrecche preȝende and of þi merci principali takende trost.
 xviii Haue mynde, Lord, of þi testament, and ȝif woord in my mouþ, and strengþe þe counseil in myn herte, þat þin hous in þin halewinge abijde stille; xix and alle Jentilis knownen, for þou art God, and þer is noon oþer biside þee.

Capitulum X.

i It is do forsoþe, whan she hadde cesid to crien to þe Lord, she ros fro þe place, in whiche she lai þrowe doun to þe Lord.
 ii And she clepide hir fre maiden, and cam doun in to hir hous; she dide awei fro hir þe heire, and cloþide hirself out of þe cloþing of hir widewehed.
 iii And she wesh hir bodi, and oyntide hirself wiþ þe beste myrre, and she platte þe her of hir hed, and putte a mytre vp on hir hed, and she cloþide hir wiþ þe cloþis of hir iolite, and cloþide hirself gaȝe shon to hir feet; and she toc armes onournemens, and lilies, and ere ringus, and finger ringys, and wiþ alle hir onournemens she onournede hir.

iii To whom also þe Lord ȝaf briȝtnesse, for al þis composiciooun not of lust, but of vertue heeng; and þerfore þe Lord made more þis fairnesse in to hir, þat she aperede to þe eȝen of alle men wiþ fairnesse vncomparable.

v And so she putte on to hir fre maiden a botel of wijn, and `a vessel of oile, and potage, and dried figes, and loues, and chese, and wente forþ.

vi And whan þei weren come to þe ȝate of þe cite, þei founden Ofiam abidende, and þe prestis of þe cite.

vii Þe whiche whan þei hadden seen hir, stoneyȝende merueileden ful miche þe fairnesse of hir.

viii No þing ner þe latere askende hir laften to passen, seiende, God of oure fadris ȝiue to bee grace, and al þe counseil of þin herte wiþ his vertue strengþe, and glorie vp on bee Jerusalem, and be þi name in þe noumble of seintus and of riȝtwis men.

ix And þeſe, þat þer weren, alle wiþ o vois feiden, Be it do! be it do!

x Panne Judit prezende þe Lord, passede þurȝ þe ȝatis, she and hir fre maiden.

xi It is do forsoþe, whan she cam doun þe hil aboute spring of þe dai, aȝen camen to hir þe aspies of þe Assiries, and heelden hir, seiende, Whennes comest þou, or whider gost þou?

xii Þe whiche answerde, A doȝter I am of Ebrues, and þerfore I fleiȝ fro þe face of hem, for to comen I knew, þat þei shul ben to ȝou in to prei taking, for þi þat despilende ȝou wolden not freeli taken þemself, þat þei shulden finde mercy in ȝoure ſiȝte.

xiii For þis caufe I þoȝte wiþ myself, seiende, I shal go to þe face off Olofernes prince, þat I shewe to hym þe priuites of hem, and I shal shewe to hym, bi what entre he mai wynne hem, so þat þer falle not oon man of his ost.

xiv And whan þoo men hadden herd hir woordis, þei behelden hir face, and she was in þer eȝen stoneyng, for þei merueileden ful myche þe fairnesse of hir.

xv And þei feiden to hir, þou haſt kept þi lif, for þi þat ſuch a counseil þou haſt founde, þat þou come doun to oure lord.

xvi þis forsoþe wite þou, þat, whan þou ſtondist in his ſiȝte, he shal wel do to bee, and þou ſhalt be moſt acceptid in his herte. And þei ladden hir to þe tabernacle of Olofernes, and ſhewiden hir.

xvii And whan she was comen in beforne his face, anoon Olofernes is caȝt in his eȝen.

xviii And his eȝynt knyȝtis feiden to hym, Who despiseð þe puple of Jewis, þat han so faire wymmen, þat not for hem bi riȝt aȝen hem wee owen to fiȝten?

xix And so Judit feande Olofernes fittende in þe canope, þat was of purper, and of gold, and of smaragd, and of moſt precious ſtones wiþ inne wouen, xx and whan `in to his face she hadde lokid, she honoured hym, fallende hyrſelf doun vpon þe erþe; and þe feruauns of Olofernes rereden hir vp, þer lord comaundende.

Capitulum XI.

i Thanne Olofernes feide to hir, Euene inwit be þou, and wile þou not dreden in þin herte, for I neuere noȝede man, þat wolde ferue to king Nabugodonosor.

ii þi puple forsoþe, if it hadde not despisid me, I hadde not rerid myn hond vp on it.

iii Now forsoþe sei to me, of what caufe þou wentist awei fro þem, and it pleside to þee þat þou haſt come to vs.

iv And Judit feide, Tac þe woordis of þin hand maiden; for, if þou folewist þe woordis of þin hand maiden, a parfit þing þe Lord shal don wiþ bee.

v Forsoþe Nabugodonosor liueþ, king of þe erþe, and his vertue liueþ, þat is in þee to þe chastising of alle liues errende; for not onli men shul ferue to hym bi bee, but and beftis of þe feld obeshen to hym.

vi Forsoþe þe redynesse of þin inwit is told to alle folkis; and it is open to al þe world, for þou alone good and myȝti art in al his reume; and þi discipline to alle prouyncis is prechid.

vii Ne þat is vnknownen, þat Achior spac, ne þat is vnwiȝt, þat hym þou haſt comaundid to fallen.

viii Forsoþe it is knownen so oure God offendid to synnes, þat he hab̄ sent by his profetis to þe puple, þat he shal taken it for þer synnes.

ix And for þe sones of Israel witen þem to han offendid þe Lord þer God, his trembling is vp on hem.

x Ferþermor also hungir hab̄ asailid hem, and of þe droȝte of water now among deade men ben countid.

xi Perfore þis þei ordeynen, þat þer bestis þei ſlen, and þe blod of hem þei drinken;

xii and þe holi þingis of þer Lord, þat God comaundide not to be touchid, in whete, win, and oile, þese þingus þei han þoȝt to ȝiuen out, and wiln waste þoo þingus, þat wiþ hondus þei shulden not touche; þanne for þese þingys þei don, it is certein þat in to leesing þei shul be ȝiue.

xiii Þe whiche þing I, þin hand maiden, knowende, fleiȝ fro þem, and þe Lord fente me þese fame þingus to telle bee.

xiv I forsoþe, þin hand maiden, herie God, also now anent bee; and þin hand maiden ſhal gon out, and I ſhal preȝen God;

xv and he ſhal fei to me, for he ſhal ȝelde to þem þer synne; and comende I ſhal telle to bee, so þat I ſhal bringe þee bi þe myddel of Jerusalem, and þou ſhalt han al þe puple of Israel as ſhep to whiche is no ſhepperde, and þer ſhal not berken or oon aȝen þee;

xvi for þese þingis to me ben ſeid bi þe prouidence of God.

xvii And for God is wroþ to þem, I am sent þese same þingus to telle þee.
 xviii Forsoþe alle þese woordis pleſeden befor Olofernes, and befor his childer; and þei merueileden at þe wiſdam of hir; and þe tober ſeide to þe tober, xix Per is not ſuch a woman vpon erþe in fiȝte, in fairneſſe, and in wit of woordis.
 xx And Olofernes ſeide to hir, God haþ do wel, þat ſente þee befor þe puple, þat þou ȝeue it in oure hondis;
 xxi and for good is þi beheſte, if þi God do to me þeſe þingus, he ſhal ben and my God, and þou in þe houſ of Nabugodonosor ſhalt be gret, and þi name ſhal be nemned in al erþe.

Capitulum XII.

i Thanne he comaundede hir to gon in, wher his treſories weren leid vp, and he comaundide hir to dwelle þere; and he ordeynede, what ſhulde be ȝiue to hir of his feſte.
 ii To whom anſwerde Judit, and ſeide, Now I ſhal not moun ete of þeſe þingus, þat þou comaundiſt to me to be ȝolden, leſt þer come vp on me gilte; of þoo þingis forſoþe þat wiþ me I haue broȝt, I ſhal ete.
 iii To whom ſeiþ Olofernes, If þeſe þingis failen to þee, þat wiþ þee þou haſt broȝt, what ſhul wee do to þee?
 iii And Judit ſeide, Lord, þi ſoule liueþ, for þin hand maide ſhal not ſpende alle þeſe þingus, to þe time þat God ſhul do in myn hond þoo þingus þat I haue þoȝt.
 And his ſerauans ladden hir in to þe tabernacle, wher he hadde comaundede.
 v And ſhe askide, whil ſhe ſhulde gon in, þat þer ſhulde be ȝiue to hir fredam, þe nyȝt, and beforne þe liȝt, of going out to orisoun, and of preȝing þe Lord.
 vi And he comaundede to his cubicularies, þat, as it pleſide to hir, ſhe ſhulde gon out, and comen in, to preȝen hir God bi þre dazeſ.
 vii And ſhe wente out on nyȝtis in to be valei of Betulie, and baptiſide hirſelf in to þe welle of watir.
 viii And as ſhe ſteȝede vp, ſhe preȝede þe Lord God of Israel, þat he ſhulde gouerne hir wei to þe deliueryng of hir puple.
 ix And goende in, clen ſhe dwelte in þe tabernacle, vnto þe time ſhe toc hir mete vnto euen.
 x And it is don þe ferþe dai, Olofernes made a ſoper to his ſerauans, and ſeide to Vagio, gelding, Go, and fweteli moue þis Ebru, þat wilfulli ſhe fente to dwelle wiþ me.
 xi Forſoþe a foul þing it is anent Affiries, if a woman ſcorne a man, doende þat ſhe paſſe fro hym wiþoute hir offis.
 xii Panne wente in Vagio to Judit, and ſeide, Be not adrad, þou goode child maide, to gon in to my lord, þat ſhe be maad wrſhipful beforne his face, and ete ſhe wiþ hym, and drinke win wiþ gladneſſe.

xiii To whom Judit anſwerde, What am I, þat I aȝenſeie to my lord?

xiv Alle þing, þat ſhal ben beforne his eȝen good and best, I ſhal do. What euere forſoþe to hym ſhulde pleſe, þat to me ſhal be best alle dazeſ of my lif.

xv And ſhe ros, and enournede hirſelf wiþ hir cloþis, and gon in the ſtod beforne his face.

xvi Forſoþe þe herte of Olofernes is ſmyten; forſoþe he was brennende in þe luſt of hir.

xvii And Olofernes ſeide to hir, Drink now, and ſitt doun in ioȝe; for þou haſt founde grace befor me.

xviii And Judit ſeide, I ſhal drinke, lord, for my lif is magnyfied to dai beforne alle þe dazeſ of my liuyng.

xix And ſhe toc, and eet, and dranc beforne hym þoo þingis, þat hir hond maiden hadde maad redi to hir.

xx And Olofernes is maad myrie 'to hir, and myche win he dranc ful myche, hou myche in o dai neuere he hadde drunken in his lyue.

Capitulum XIII.

i As forſoþe euetid is do, his ſerauans heȝeden to þer herbergeries; and Vagio cloſide þe dores of þe priue chaumbre, and wente.

ii Forſoþe alle weren ouertrauailid of win;

iii and Judit was alone in þe priue chaumbre.

iii But Olofernes lai in þe bed, wiþ to myche drunkeſſe aſlep.

v And Judit ſeide to hir child woman, þat ſhe ſhulde ſtonde wiþ outhor forþe beforne þe dore of þe priue chaumbre, and waiten aboue.

vi And Judit ſtod beforne þe bed, preȝende wiþ teres, and wiþ moouyng of lippis in silence, vii ſeide, Conferme me, Lord God of Israel, and behold in þis hour to þe werkis of myn hondis, þat þou rere vp bi cite Jerusalem, as þou haſt behoten; and þat, þat I leeūende to moun be don bi þee þoȝte, I parforme.

viii And whan þat ſhe hadde ſeid, ſhe wente to þe piler þat was at þe hed of his bed, and his ſwērd, þat in it bounden heeng, ſhe loſede.

ix And whan ſhe hadde drawen it out, ſhe toc þe her of his hed, and ſeiþ, Conferme me, God of Israel, in þis hour.

x And ſhe ſmot twies in to his haterel, and ſhe cutte of his hed; and ſhe toc awei his canope fro þe pileris, and ſhe turnede out his body behedid.

xi And after a litil while ſhe wente out, and toc þe hed of Olofernes to hir hand maiden, and comaundede, þat ſhe ſhulde putten it in to hir ſcrippē.

xii And þei two wenten out after þer vſage as to preȝeere, and þei paſſeden þe tentis, and, goende aboue þe valei, camen to þe ȝate of þe cite.

xiii And Judit ſeide aferre to þe keperis of þe wallis, Openeþ þe ȝatis, for wiþ vs is God, þat dide gret vertue in Israel.

xivii And it is do, whan þe men hadden herd hir vois, þei clepeden þe prestis of þe cite.
 xv And alle runnen aȝen hir fro þe leste to þe moste; for þei hopeden hir no mor to be to come. xvi And, teendende liȝtis, alle wenten abouten hir. She forsoþe fteȝende vp in to an heiȝere place, comaunded to be maad silence. And whan alle hadden holden þer pes, xvii Judit feide, Preisþe þe Lord oure God, þat forfakesþ not men hopende in hym, xviii and in me, his hand womman, haþ fulfilid his merci, þat he behiȝte to þe hous of Israel, and haþ slain in myn hond þe enemy of his puple þis nyȝt.
 xix And bringende forþ of þe scrippre þe hed of Olofernes, shewide to hem, seiende, Lo! þe hed of Olofernes, prince of þe chualrie of Affries; and, lo!
 þe canope of hym, in whiche he lai in his drunkinhed, wher and bi þe hond of a womman smot hym þe Lord our God.
 xx Forsoþe þe Lord God liueþ, for his aungil kepte me, and hennus goende, and þere dwellende, and þennus hidre turnende aȝeen; and þe Lord suffride not me his hand womman to be defoulid, but wiþ oute pollucioun of synne haþ aȝeen clepid me to ȝou, iοȝende in his victorie, in myn ascaping, in ȝoure deliueraunce.
 xxi Knoulecheþ to hym alle, for good, for in to þe world his merci.
 xxii Alle forsoþe, honourende þe Lord, seiden to hir, Pe Lord bleſſide þee in his vertue, for bi þee to noȝt he haþ broȝt oure enemys.
 xxiii But Ofias, þe prince of þe puple of Israel, feide to hir, Bleſſid þou art, doȝter, of þe Lord, þe heȝe God, befor alle wymmen vp on erþe.
 xxiv Bleſſid þe Lord, þat made heuene and erþe, and þat haþ dressid þee in to þe woundis of þe hed of þe prince of oure enemys;
 xxv for to dai so þi name he haþ magnefied, þat þi preising go not awai fro þe mouȝt of men, þat weren myndful of þe vertue of þe Lord in to wiþ oute ende; for þe whiche þingus þou spareddest not to þi lif for anguyllis and tribulaciouns of þi kinrede, but holpedist to þe falling befor þe siȝte of oure God.
 xxvi And al þe puple feide, So be it! so be it!
 xxvii Forsoþe Achior clepid cam; and Judit feide to hym, God of Israel, to be whiche witnessiȝg þou hast ȝiue, þat he be vengid of his enemys, he þe hed of alle mysbeleued men haþ hewen of in þis nyȝt in myn hond.
 xxviii And þat þou preue for so it is, lo! þe hed of Olofernes, þat in þe despisifg of his pride God of Israel dispiside, and to þee deþ þratte, seiende, Whan þe puple of Israel were taken, I shal comaunde wiþ a swerd to stiken hym þurȝ þe fides.
 xxix Seende forsoþe Achior þe hed of Olofernes, anguyll for inward drede, fel in to his face vpon þe erþe, and his lif quappide.

xxx After forsoþe þat, þe spirit taken aȝeen, he is reformed, he fel doun to hir feet, and honourede hir, and feide,

xxxi Bleſſid be þou of þi God in al þe tabernacle of Jacob; for in alle folc, þat hereþ þi name, shal be magnefied vp on þee God of Israel.

Capitulum XIII.

- i Judit forsoþe feide to al þe puple, Hereþ, breþern; hangeþ vp þis hed vp on þe wallis.
- ii And it shal be, whan þe funne goþ out, eche man take his armes, and goþ out wiþ bure, not þat ȝee go doun beneþe, but as bure doende.
- iii Panne it shal nede ben, þat þe spieres of þe lond flen to þer prince to be rerid vp to þe fiȝt.
- iv And whan þe dukis of hem comen to gidere to þe tabernaclis of Olofernes, and finden hym hedded, in his blod wrappid, drede shal fal doun vpon hem.
- v And whan ȝee knownen þem to fleeñ, goþ after hem fiker, for God shal to-trede þem vnder ȝoure feet.
- vi Panne Achior feande þe vertue þat God of Israel hadde do, laft þe custum of his heþenenesse, leeuede to God; and circumcidide þe flesh of his ȝerde, and is put to þe puple of Israel, and al þe successioun of his kinrede vnto þe dai þat is now.
- vii Anon forsoþe þat sprungen is dai, þei heengen vpon þe wallis þe hed of Olofernes; and eche toc his armes, and þei wenten out wiþ gret noise and ȝelling.
- viii Whiche þing feande, þe aspies runnen togidere to þe tabernacle of Olofernes.
- ix Forsoþe þei, þat weren comende in þe tabernacle, and befor þe incomyng of þe priue chaumbre makende noise, for ende to rerен hym, bi craft casten vnreste, þat not of þe rereres, but of þe noise makeris Olofernes shulde waken.
- x No man forsoþe was hardi þe tabernacle of þe vertue of Affries knockende or entendre to openen.
- xi But whan his dukis hadden come, and þe leders of þousendis, and alle þe more of þe ost of þe king of Affries, þei seiden to þe priue chaumberleynes,
- xii Goþ, and rereþ hym; for myis gon out of þer caues ben hardi to clepen forþ vs to bataile.
- xiii Panne Vagio, gon in to his priue chaumbre, stod befor þe curtin, and made fawnyng wiþ his hondis; forsoþe he trowide hym wiþ Judit to slepen.
- xiv But whan no mouyng of hym liende wiþ þe wit of eris parciuede, he wente to neȝhende to þe curtin, and rerende it, and feande þe carein of Olofernes wiþouten hed to lin roten in his blod vpon þe erþe, criede out wiþ a gret vois wiþ weeping, and cutte his cloþis.
- xv And gon in to þe tabernacle of Judit, fond her not,
 and he out sterte wiþ oute to þe puple,
- xvi and feide, An Ebru womman haþ do confusioun in þe hous of king Nabugodonosor; lo! forsoþe Olofernes liþ in þe erþe, and his hed is not in hym.

xvii Pe whiche þing whan hadden herd þe princis of þe vertue of Affiries, alle cutten þer clopis, and vntolerable drede and trembling fel vp on hem, and þer inwittis ben disturbid gretly.

xviii And þer is maad an vntolerable cry in to þe middel tentis.

Capitulum XV.

i And whan al þe oft hadde herd Olofernes of hedid, fleiȝ mynde and counseil fro þem, and wiþ onli trembling and drede stirid token socour of flȝt, ii so þat noon wolde speke wiþ his neȝhebore; but, þe hed bowid doun, alle þingus laft, to scape þe Ebrues, whom armed vp on hem to come þei hadden herd, þei enforceden, fleende bi weies of feldis, and bi sties of ful little hillis.

iii And so þe sonus of Israel, seande þem fleende, folewiden, goende doun, and criende wiþ trumpis, and ȝellende after hem.

iv And for Affiries not togidere in oon wenten fallende doun in to flȝt, þe sonus forsoþe of Israel wiþ o cumpany pursuende febleden alle, þat þei myȝten finde.

v And Ofias fente messageres bi alle þe cites and regiouns of Israel.

vi And so alle regioun and alle cite fente a chosen ȝoupe armed after hem; and þei pursueden hem in mouȝ of swerd, to þe time þat þei came to þe vtmost of þer costis.

vii Pe toþere men forsoþe, þat weren in Betulia, wenten in to þe tentis of Affiries, and þe prei, þat Affiries fleende hadden laft, þei token wiþ þem, and þei ben wrshipid gretli.

viii Þei forsoþe þat hadden ben ouercomeres, ben turned aȝeen to Betulie, alle þingis whateuere weren of hem, þei token awei wiþ þem, so þat þer was no noumbe in feld bestis, and in hous bestis, and in alle þe mouable þingus of hem, þat fro þe leste vnto þe myche alle weren made riche of 'þe 'prei takingus of hem.

ix Joachym forsoþe, þe heȝe bishop of Jerusalem, cam in to Betulie wiþ alle þe prestis, þat he see Judit.

x Pe whiche whan hadde gon out to hym, alle bleſſiden him wiþ o vois, seiende, Pou glorie of Jerusalem, pou gladnessse of Israel, pou þe wrshipe doende of oure puple, xi þat didist manli, and þin herte is coumfortid, for þi þat chastite pou loouedest, and aftir þi man an oper pou knewe not; and þerfore þe hond of þe Lord coumfortide þee, and þerfore pou shalt be blifid in to wiþ oute ende.

xii And al þe puple feide, Be it do! be it do!

xiii Forsoþe bi pretti daȝes vnneþe ben gedered þe spoiliis of þe Affiries of þe puple of Israel.

xiv But alle þe proper richessis of Olofernes, þat ben proued to han ben, þei ȝeue to Judit, in gold, and filuer, and cloþis, and iemmes, and in alle purtenaunces to household; and alle þingus ben taken to hir of þe puple.

xv And alle puplis ioȝeden, wiþ wymmen, and maidenes, and ȝunge men, in orgnys and harpis.

Capitulum XVI.

i Thanne Judit song þis song to þe Lord, seiende, ii Begynneþ in timbris; fingeþ to þe Lord in cimbalis; manerly fingeþ to hym a new salm; ful out ioȝeþ, and inwardli clepeþ his name.

iii Pe Lord totredende batailis, Lord name is to hym.

iv Pat putte his tentis in þe middel off his puple, þat he deliuere vs fro þe hond of alle oure enemys.

v Assur cam fro hillis, fro þe norþ, in multitude of his strengþe; whos multitude stoppide þe stremes, and þe hors of hem couereden þe valeis.

vi And he feide hymself to brennen vp oure costis, and oure ȝunge men toflen wiþ swerd, my fauntis to ȝiue in to prei, and maidenes in to caitiffe.

vii Pe Lord forsoþe Almyȝti noȝede hym, and toc to þe hondis of a womman, and confoundede hym.

viii Forsoþe þe myȝti of hem fel not of ȝunge men, ne þe sonus of a tiraunt smyten hym, ne heȝe ȝeauntus putten hem to hym; but Judit, wydewe, þe doȝter of Merari, in þe fairnesse of hir face vnloside hym.

ix Forsoþe she cloþide hir fro þe cloþ of hyr widewehed, and cloþide hir in þe cloþ of gladnesse, in ful out ioȝing to þe sonus of Israel.

x She oyntide hir face wiþ an oynement, and she bond togidere hir crisp heris wiþ a mitre, to desceuen hym.

xi Hir gaȝe shon raueheden his eȝen, hir fairnesse made his lif caitif; sche girde of wiþ a swerd his haterel.

xii Pe Persis grisiden hir stedefastnesse, and Medis hir hardynesse.

xiii Panne ȝeldden þe tentis of Affiries, whan apereden my meke, drie waxende in þrist.

xiv Pe sonus of child wymmen pungeden þem, and as childer fleende flowen hem; þei persheden in bataile fro þe face of my Lord.

xv A newe ympne singe wee to þe Lord oure God.

xvi Lord Adonai, a gret God pou art, and beforne alle cleer in þi vertue, and whom no man mai ouercome.

xvii To þee ferue alle þi creature, for pou hast seid, and þei ben maad; pou sentist þi spirit, and þei ben formed; and þer is not þat wiþstonde to þi comanding.

xviii Hillis fro foundemens shuln ben moued wiþ watriis; stonus as wax shul melte befor þi face.

xix Who forsoþe dreden þee, gret shul be anentis þee bi alle þingus.

xx Wo to þe folc risende vp on my kinrede; þe Lord forsoþe Almyȝti shal venge in hem, in þe dai of dom he shal visite þem.

xxi Forsoþe he shal ȝiue fijr and wormes in þer flesh, þat þei be brend, and lyuen, and feelen vnto euermore.

xxii And it is do after þeſe þingus, al þe puple after þe victorie cam to Jerusalem to honoure þe Lord; and anoon as þei weren purified, alle offreden brent sacrificis, and vrouwis, and þer behestis.
 xxiii Forþoþe Judit alle þe armes of bataile of Olofernes, þat þe puple ȝaf to hir, and þe canope, þat she hadde taken, she toc in to þe curs of forȝeting. xxiv Forþoþe al þe puple was ioȝeful after þe face of feintis; and bi þre moneþis þe ioȝe of þis victorie is solempnyſid wiþ Judit.
 xxv After þoo dæſes forþoþe eche wente aȝeen in to his owne; and Judit is maad gret in Betulie, and was more cler to alle men of þe lond of Israel.
 xxvi Forþoþe she was ioyned to þe vertue of chaſtite, so þat she knew no man alle þe dæſis of hir lif, ſiþen is dead Manasses, hir husbonde. xxvii Forþoþe she was in feſte dæſes forþ goende wiþ gret glorie.
 xxviii Forþoþe she dwelte in þe hous of hir man an hundred ȝer and fiue; and she laſte hir dameſe free.
 And she is dead, and biriede wiþ hir husbonde in Betulie;
 xxix and al þe puple weilide hir feuen dæſes.
 xxx In al þe ſpace forþoþe of hir lif was not þat diſturbide Israel, and after hir deþ manye ȝer.
 xxxi þe dæſes forþoþe of þis feſte of victorie of þe Ebrues in þe noumbeſ of holi dæſes is acceptid, and heried of þe Jewis fro þat time vnto þe preſent day.

Explicit liber Judith.

ESTER.

Here bigynneþ a prolog on þe booc of Ester.

'Pe booc of Ester to be maad vicious of dyuerſe translatoures is knownen, whom I, of þe libraries of Ebrues takende vp, woord bi woord more openli translatide; þe whiche booc þe comun making drawiþ along hider and þider wiþ þe torne draȝtis, addende þoo þingis, þat 'of tyme myȝten ben ſeid and herd; as it is wont to ſcoleris disciplines, and a þeme taken, to out þenke what woordis he myȝte vſen, he þat ſuffrider wrong, or he þat dide wrong. ȝee forþoþe, O! Paule and Eustache, þat onli han ſtudied to gon in to þe libraries of Ebrues, and þe ſtriuſ of interpretores han knownen, holdende Ester an Ebru booc, beholdep bi alle þe woordis oure tranſlacioun; þat ȝee moun knownen me no þing alſo to han encreſid addende, but wiþ trewe witneſſing ſimpleli, as it is had in Ebreu, þe Ebru ſtories to han taken to Latin tunge. Ne we defiren þe preiſingus of men, ne blamingus wee dreden. Forþoþe wee beiſende to plesen to God, vtterli wee drede not þe þretis of men; for God ſcatereb þe bones of hem þat defiren to plesen to men, and, after þe apostil, þey, þat ſuche men ben, moun not ben þe ſeruauns of Crift.
 Ferþermor in þe booc of Ester wee han maad an abeſe of red colour vnto þe eiȝþe lettore in diuers placis, willende, þat is, þe order of þe feuenti interpretores bi þeſe þingus to ſhewen a wijs redere; we forſoþe after þe maner han leuere, and in þe making of þe feuenti remenoures, to purſue þe order of Ebrues.

Here endiþ þe prolog of Hester, and now bigynneþ þe book.

Capitulum I.

- i In þe dæſes of king Affueri, þat regnede fro Jude vnto Ethiope, vp on an hundred and feuen and twenty prouyncies,
- ii whan he ſat in þe ſee of his regne, Sufa cyte was þe begynnyng of his rewme.
- iii þe þridde þanne ȝer of his empire he made a gret feſte to alle þe princis, and to his moft ſtrong childeſ of Persis, and of Meedis, to þe noble men, and to þe prefector of prouincis, befor hym,
- iv þat he ſhewe þe richeſſes of þe glorie of his regne, and þe mykilneſſe, and þe boſt of his power myche tyme, an hundred, þat is, and foure ſcore dæſes.
- v And whan þe dæſes of þe feſte were ful endid, he bad al þe puple þat is founde in Sufys, fro þe moſte vnto þe leſte; and he comaundede feuen dæſes a feſte to be maad redi in þe vefiarie of þe ȝerd and of þe wode, þat was ſett togidere wiþ þe kingis enournyng and hond.
- vi And þer heengen on eche ſide tentis of þe colour of þe eir, and of goldene colour, and of iacinctin, ſuſtened wiþ bijs cordis, and purper, þat were inſet wiþ yuer cerclis, and þei were vnderſet wiþ marbil pileeris; alſo goldene ſetis and ſiluerene vp on þe raied pament ſmaragd and pario ſtones wereſ diſpoſid; þe whiche þing þe peynteur wiþ wonder diuerſete made fair.
- vii Forþoþe þei, þat were biden, drunken of goldene cuppis, and wiþ oþer and oþere vefelis metis wereſ broȝt in; win alſo, as it was wrþi for þe kingis grete doing, plente and chef was ſet.
- viii And þer was not þat conſtreynde to drinke hem þat wolden not; but ſo þe king hadde ordeyned, befor ſettende ſunder men of his princis to þe bord, þat eche man ſhulde take þat he wolde.
- ix Alſo Vafthi, þe quen, made a feſte of wymmen in þe paleis, wher king Affuer was wont to dwelle.
- x And ſo þe feuenþe dai, whan he was gladere cherid, and after to myche drinking was chaufid wiþ win, he comaundede to Naumam, and Baracha, and Arbana, and Gabatha, and Zarath, and Abgatha, and Carthas, feuen geldingis, þat in his ſiȝte mynystreden,
- xi þat þei ſhulden bringen in Vafthi, þe quen, befor þe king, put vp on hir hed a diadem, þat he ſhewe to alle þe princis and puplis þe faireſſe of hir; forþoþe ſhe was ful fair.
- xii þe whiche forſoc, and at þe kings heſte, þat bi þe geldingis he hadde comaundid, ſhe diſpide to comen.

Wherfore þe king wrop, and wiþ myche wodnesse tend, xiii askide þe wise men, þat of þe kingis maner euermor weren neeȝ to hym, and dide alle þingus bi þe counself of hem, kunnende þe lawe and þe riȝtis of more men;

xiv forsoþe þe firste and þe nexte weren Carcena, and Secaba, Admatha, and Tharsis, and Mares, and Marsana, and Mamucha, seuene dukis of Persis and of Medis, þat seȝen þe face of þe king, and first after hym weren wont to fitten;

xv to what sentence quen Vasthi shulden vnderlyn, þat þe heste of king Assuer, þe whiche bi geldingis he hadde sent, she wolde not do.

xvi And Manucha answarde, herende þe king and þe princis, Not onli quen Vasthi haþ greued þe king, but alle þe princis and puplis, þat ben in alle þe prouyncis of king Assuer.

xvii Forsoþe þe woord of þe quen shal gon out to alle wymmen, þat bei dispise þer husbondis, and seyn, King Assuer comaundide, þat Vasthi, þe quen, shulde gon in to hym, and she wolde not.

xviii And bi þis exsaumple alle þe wiues of princis of Persis and of Medis shuln dispise þe hestis of þer husbondis; wherfore riȝtwis is þe kingis indignacioun.

xix If it plese to þee, go þer out a maundement fro þi face, and be it writen after þe lawe of Persis and of Medis, þe whiche to ouerpassen is vnleeful, þat no more Vasthi go in to þe king, but his reume an oþer, þat is betere þan she, take.

xx And þis be puplifid in eche empire of þi prouynce, þat is most brod, þat alle wyues, boþe of more and of laſſe, bere to þer husbondis wrfshire.

xi And his counself pleside to þe king and to þe princis; and þe king dide after þe counself of Manucha, xxii and sente epistelis bi alle prouyncis of his reume, þat eche folc heren and reden myȝte, wiþ diuerse tungis and lettris, men to be princis and more men in þer houſis; and þat bi alle puplis to be puplifit.

Capitulum II.

i And so þese þingus don, after þat þe indignacioun of king Assuer fro feruour hadde passid, he recordide of Vasthi, and what she hadde do, and what she hadde suffrid.

ii And þe childer and his mynystris feiden to þe king, Be þer soȝt to þe king child wymmen, maidenes and faire;

iii and be þer sent, þat beholden bi alle prouyncis faire child wymmen and maidenes; and bringe þei hem to Sufa cite, and take þei in to þe hous of wymmen, vnder þe hond of Egei, gelding, þat is prouost and kepere of þe kingus wymmen; and take þei wymmenus ournemens, and opere þingus to vse necessarie.

iv And who euere among alle to þe eȝen of þe king shal plese, she regne for Vasthi. Þe woord pleside to þe king; and so as þei hadden moued, he comaundide to be do.

v Per was forsoþe a Jew man in þe cite of Sufis, Mardoche bi name, þe sone of Jair, sone of Semei, sone of Cis, of þe linage of Gemyny;

vi þat was tranflatid fro Jerusalem þat time þat Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, hadde tranflatid Jeconye, þe king of Juda;

vii þe whiche was þe nurfe of þe doȝter of his broþer, Edisse, þat bi an oþer name was clepid Ester, and eiþer fader and moder hadde laft, ful myche fair, and semeli in face; and hir fader and moder dead, Mardoche clepid hir to hym in to doȝter.

viii And whanne þe maundement of þe king more wex knownen, and after his heste manye faire maidenes were broȝt to Sufem, and to Egeo, gelding, wer taken, Ester also among oþere child maidenes is take to hym, þat she wer kept in þe noumble of wymmen.

ix Þe whiche pleside to hym, and fond grace in his siȝte, þat he shulde heȝen þe wymmen enournyng, and ȝeue to hir hir partis and seuene most faire child wymmen of þe hous of þe king; and boþe hir and hir damefelis she shulde enournen and araȝen.

x Þe whiche wolde not to hym shewe þe purple and hir kuntre; forsoþe Mardoche hadde comaundid to hir, þat of þis þing vtterli she shulde holde hir pes.

xi Þe whiche wente eche dai befor þe vestiarie of þe hous, in þe whiche chofene maidenes weren kept, doende cure of þe helpe of Ester, and willende to witen, what to hir shulde falle.

xii And whan tyme was comen of alle þe child wymmen by order, þat þei shulden gon in to þe king, alle þingus fulfiȝd þat to wymmenys enournyng pertende, þe twelfþe moneþ was turned ouer; so onli þat sixe moneþis þei shulde ben enoynt wiþ myrtine oile, and oþere sixe þei shulden vse maner pimentis and swote spice.

xiii And goende in to þe king, whateuere þei hadden askid pertenende to ournyng, þei token; and, as it to þem hadde plesid, enourned, of þe chaumbre of wymmen to þe kingus priue chaumbre wenten.

xiv And she þat cam in at euen, wente oute at morn; and þennes in to þe secounde houſis weren broȝt, þat weren vnder þe hond of gelding Zagazi, þat stod before to þe secoundarie wyues of þe king; and she hadde no power of turnyng aȝeen more to þe king, but if þe king wolde, and hir hadde comaundid to come bi name.

xv Forsoþe þe tyme turned ouer bi order, þe dai stood, in þat Ester, þe doȝter of Abihael, broþer of Mardoche, whom to hym he hadde clepid in to doȝter, shulde gon in to þe king; þe whiche soȝte not wymmenes enournyng, but whateuere þing wolde Egee, gelding, þe kepere of maidenes, þoo þingis to hir to enournyng he ȝaf; forsoþe she was ful semeli, and wiþ vntrouable fairnesse, and to þe eȝen of alle men gracious and loouefsum was seen.

xvi And so she is lad to þe priue chaumbre of king Assuer, þe tenþe moneþ, þat is clepid Thebeth, þat is, Januer, þe feuenþe ȝer of his regne.

xvii And þe king loouede hir more þan alle þe wymmen, and she hadde grace and mercy befor hym ouer alle þe wymmen; and he putte þe diadem of þe reume vp on hir hed, and he made her to regnen in þe stede of Vasthi.

xviii And he comaundide a ful glorious feste to be maad redi to alle þe princis and to his seruauns, for þe coupling and þe bridalis of Ester; and he ȝaf rest to alle prouyncis, and grauntide large ȝiftis aftir principal gret doing.

xix And whan þe seconde maidenes weren soȝt, and gedered togidere, Mardoche dwelte at þe kingis ȝate.

xx And ȝit not Ester hadde told out þe kuntre and hir puple, after þe heste of hym; what euere þing forsoþe he comaundide, Ester kepte wel, and so alle pingus she dide, as she was wont þat tyme, þat he nurshide hir a litil child.

xxi Þat time þanne þat Mardoche at þe kingus ȝate dwelte, ben wroþe Bagathan and Thares, two geldingis of þe king, þat weren porteres, and in þe firste entre of þe paleis dwelten; and wolden aȝen risen in to þe king, andflen hym.

xxii Þe whiche þing was not vnknowen to Mardoche, and anoon he tolde to quen Ester, and she to þe king, of name of Mardoche, þat to hir þe þing hadde told.

xxiii It is soȝt, and is founde, and eiþer of hem is hangid in þe iebet; and it is comaundid to þe stories, and taken to þe bokis of ȝeris deedis, befor þe king.

Capitulum III.

i Aftir þese þingus king Assuer enhauncide Aaman, þe sone of Amadathi, þat was of þe linage of Agag, and putte his fete ouer alle þe princis þat he hadde.

ii And alle þe seruauns of þe king, þat wiþinne þe paleis ȝatis dwelten, boweden kne, and honoureden Aaman; so forsoþe þe emperour hadde comaundid to hem; onli Mardoche bowede not kne, ne honourede hym.

iii To whom seiden þe childer of þe king, þat to þe ȝatis of þe paleys seten before, Whi beside oþer men þou kepist not þe heftis of þe king?

iv Whan þese þingus more often þei seiden, and he wolde not heren, þei tolden to Aman, coueitende to witen, wheþer he wolde stonde stedefast in þe sentence; forsoþe he hadde seid to þem, hym to ben a Jew.

v Þe whiche þing whan Aman hadde herd, and bi experience proued, þat Mardoche bowide not kne to hym, ne honourede, he is wroþ ful gretli, vi and for noȝt tolde in to Mardoche on to putte hondis; forsoþe he hadde herd, þat he was of Jew kinrede, and more wolde leesen al þe nacioun of Jewis, þat weren in þe reume of Assuer.

vii Þe firste moneþ, whos name is Nysfan, þe twelfþe ȝer of þe regne of Assuer, lot is leid in to a vessel, þat Ebruli is seid fur, beforne Aman, what dai and what moneþ þe folc of Jewis shulde be slayn; and þe twelfþe moneþ wente out, þat is clepid Adar.

viii And Aman seide to king Assuer, Þer is a puple bi alle þe prouyncis of þi reume scaterid, and fro þemself togidere feuered, newe vſende lawis and cerimoynes, ferþermor and þe statutis of þe king dispisende; and best þou hast knownen, þat it spedeh not to þi reume, þat ouercustomed it waxe proud bi leeue.

ix If to þee it plese, deme þat it pershe, and ten þousend of talents I shal lei to tresories of þi richeſſe.

x Þanne þe king toc of his hond þe ring þat he vſide, and ȝaf it to þe enemys of Jewys, Aman, sone of Amadathi, of þe kinrede of Agag.

xi And he seide to hym, Þe filuer þat þou behotist, be þin; of þe puple do þat to þee plesip.

xii And þe scribis of þe king ben clepid þe firste moneþ of Nysfan, þe breffenþe dai of þe same moneþ; and it is writhen, as Aman hadde comaundid, to alle þe satrapis of þe king, and domysmen of dyuersē prouyncis and folkis, þat alle folc myȝten rede and heren, for þe diuersite of tungis, of þe name of king Assuer.

xiii And þe lettris felid wiþ his ring ben sent bi þe corouris of þe king to alle his prouyncis, þat þei shulde flen and don awai alle þe Jewis, fro child vn to old man, little childer and wymmen, o dai, þat is, þe breffenþe dai of þe twelfþe moneþ, þat is clepid Adar, þat is, March; and þer goodis þei shulden forfeten.

xiv Þe sentence forsoþe of þe epiftelis was þis, þat alle prouyncis shulden knowe, and go þemself to þe forseide dai.

xv And þei, þat weren sent, heeȝeden to fulfillen out þe heste of þe king; and anoon in Sufis heeng þe maundement fro þe king, and Aman solempnely makende a feste, and alle þe Jewis, þat in þe cite weren, wepende.

Capitulum IIII.

i The whiche þingis whan Mardocheus hadde herd, he cutte his cloþis, and is clad wiþ a fac, sprentende askis to his hed, and in þe strete of þe myddil cite wiþ gret vois criede, shewende þe bitternesse of his inwit, ii and wiþ þis weeping vnto þe ȝatis of þe paleis goende; forsoþe it was not leful a man clad wiþ a fac to entre þe kingis halle.

iii Also in alle prouyncis, burȝ townes, and placis, to þe whiche þe cruel bidding of þe king hadde ful comyn, gret weiling was anentis þe Jewis fastende, and zellende, and wepende, manye men vſende for bed fac and askis.

iv Forsoþe þe childer wymmen of Ester, and þe geldingus, wenten in, and tolden to hir; þe whiche herende is stonid, and sente a cloþ, þat þe fac don awei, he shulde cloþin hym; þe whiche taken he wolde not.

v And Athac, gelding, clepid, whom þe king hadde ȝiue to hir seruaunt, the comaundide, þat he shulde go to Mardoche, and lernen of hym, whi þat þing he dide.
vi And Athac gon out, wente to Mardoche stondende in þe strete of þe cyte, beforne þe dore of þe paleis;
vii þe whiche shewide to hym alle þingus þat hadden falle, hou Aman hadde behoten, þat he shulde bringe siluer in to þe tresories of þe king for þe Jewis deþ.
viii Also þe saumple of þe maundement, þat heeng in Sufis, he ȝaf to hym, þat to þe quen he shulde shewen, and warnen hir, þat she go in to þe king, and preþe hym for hir purple.

ix And Athac, gon out, tolde Ester alle þingus, þat Mardoche hadde feid.

x Þe whiche answarde to hym, and seide, þat he shulde sey to Mardoche, xi Alle þe seruauns of þe king, and alle prouyncis þat ben vnder his comaunding, knowen, þat ouer man or womman not clepid entre þe innermor porche of þe king, wiþoute aȝeen cleping anoon he be slain, but if perauenture þe king þe goldene ȝerde to hym strecche for signe of mercy, and so he may lyuen; I þanne what maner shal moun entre to þe king, þat now þretti daȝis am not clepid to hym?

xii Pe whiche þing whan Mardoche hadde herd, xiii eft he sente to Ester, seiende, Ne wene þou, þat þi lif onli þou deliuere, for in þe hous of þe king þou art, for alle Jewis;

xiv if þou holde þi pes, bi an oþer ocaſioun þe Jewis shul be deliuered, and þou and þe hous of þi fader shul pershen; and who knew, wheþer þerfore to þe reume þou came, þat in such a time þou shuldest be redi?
xv And eft Ester þese woordis sente to Mardoche, xvi Go, and gedere alle þe Jewis, þat in Sufis þou findist, and preþeþ for me; ne eteþ, ne drinkiþ þre daȝes and þre nyȝt, and I wiþ myn hond wymmen lic maner shal fasten; and þanne not clepid I shal gon in to þe king, aȝen þe lawe doende, takende me to deþ and to perile.

xvii And so Mardoche wente, and dide alle þingus, þat Ester hadde comaundid to hym.

Capitulum V.

i Forsoþe þe þridde dai Ester was clad wiþ kingus cloþis, and stod in þe porche of þe kingus hous, þat was wiþinne forþ aȝen þe kingis hous; and he sat vp on his fee, in þe conſtorie of þe paleis, aȝen þe dore of þe hous.

ii And whan he hadde seen Ester, þe quen, stondende, the pleſide to his eȝen, and he straȝte out aȝen hir a goldene ȝerde, þat he heeld wiþ hond; þe whiche neȝhende kiste þe ouermor of his ȝerde.

iii And þe kyng seide to hir, What wilt þou, quen Ester? what is þin aſking? Also if þe half part of þe reume þou aſke, it shal ben ȝiue to þee.

iv And she answarde, If to þe king it pleſe, I beſeche, þat þou come to me to dai, and Aman wiþ þee, to þe feſte, þat I haue greipid.

v And anoon þe king, Clepeþ, he seiþ, Aman anon, þat he obeshe to þe wil of Ester. And so þe king and Aman camen to þe feſte, þat þe quen hadde maad redi to hem.

vi And þe king seide to hir, after þat he hadde drunke wiþ plenteoufly; What aſkist þou, þat be ȝiue to þee, and for what þing preȝift þou? Also if þe half part of my reume þou aſke, þou shalt gete.

vii To whom answarde Ester, Myn aſking and my preþeeriſ ben þeſe.

viii If I haue founde grace in þe ſiȝte of þe king, and if to þe king it pleſe, þat he ȝiue to me þat I preþe fore, and fulſille myn aſking, come þe king and Aman to þe feſte, þat I haue maad redi to hem; and to mourn I shal opene to þe king my wil.

ix And so Aman wente out þat dai glad and merie. And whan he hadde ſeen Mardoche ſittende at þe ȝatis of þe paleis, and not onli not to han riſe to hym, but ne moued forſoþe of þe place of his ſitting, he endeynede gretli; x and þe wraþe feyned, turnede aȝeen in to his hous, clepide to gidere to hym frendis, and Sares, his wif, xi and expounede to hem þe mychilneſſe of his richeſſis, and þe cumpayne of ſones, and wiþ 'hou myche glorie vp on alle þe princis and his seruauns þe king hym hadde rerid.

xii And after þese þingus he seiþ, þe quen also Ester noon oþer man clepeþ wiþ þe king to þe feſte, ſau me, anent whom also to mourn wiþ þe king I am to ete.

xiii And whan alle þese þingus I haue, no þing I wene me to han, as longe as I ſee Mardoche, Jeu, ſittende at þe kingis ȝatis.

xiv And Sares, his wif, and oþere frendis anſwerden, Comaunde to ben maad redi an heiȝ bem, hauende of heiȝe fifty cubitis; and ſei erli to þe king, þat Mardoche be hangid vp on it; and so þou shalt go wiþ þe king glad to þe feſte. And þe counfeil pleſide, and he comaundide to be maad redi an heiȝ cros.

Capitulum VI.

i That nyȝt þe king ladde wiþoute ſlep, and he comaundide to be broȝt to hym ſtores, and þe bokis of ȝeris deedis of rapere times. þe whiche þingus whan, hym preſent, weren rad, ii it is come to þat place, wher was write, hou Mardoche hadde told þe aſpies of Gabathan and Thares, geldingis, coueitende to fle king Affuer.

iii þe whiche þing whan þe king hadde herd, he seiþ, What for þis feiþ of wrfhiþe or of mede Mardoche haþ gotten? And his seruans and mynestres seiden to hym, No þing of mede vtterli he toc.

 iii And anoon þe king, Who is, he seiþ, in þe porche?
 Aman forsoþe wente in þe innere porche of þe kingus hous, þat he make suggestiou to þe king, þat he comaunde Mardoche to be ficchid on þe iebet, þat to hym was maad redi befor.
 v And þe childer answerten, Aman stant in þe porche.
 And þe king seide, Come he in.
 vi And whan he was comyn, he seide to hym, What oþiþ to be do to þe man, whom þe king desireþ to honouren? Aman þenkende in his herte, and trowende, þat noon oþer man but hym þe king wolde honouren, vii answerde, Þe man, whom þe king couetisþ to honouren, viii oþiþ to be clad wiþ kingus clopis, and to be put vpon an hors þat is of þe kingus fadil, and to take þe kingus diadem vp on his hed; ix and þe firste of þe kingus princis and knyȝtis holde his hors, and bi þe stretis of þe cite goende, crie he, and seie, þus shal ben honoured, 'whom euere þe king wile honoure.
 x And so þe king seide to hym, Heeȝe, and, þe stole taken and an hors, do, as þou haft spoke, to Mardoche, Jew, þat sit befor þe ȝatis of þe paleis; bewar, leſt any þing of þo, þat þou haft spoken, þou leue of.
 xi And so Aman toc a stole and an hors, and Mardoche clad in þe strete of þe cite, and set vp on þe hors, wente befor, and criede, Þis wr̄shipe he is wr̄pi, whom euere þe king wile honoure.
 xii And Mardoche is turned aȝeen to þe ȝate of þe paleys, and Aman heeȝede to gon in to his hous, weilende, and þe hed couered.
 xiii And he tolde to Sari, his wif, and to frendis, alle þingus þat hadden falle to hym. To whom answerten þe wise men, whom he hadde in counseil, and his wif, If of þe fed of Jewis is Mardoche, befor whom þou begunne to fallen, þou shalt not moun wiþtonde to hym, but þou shalt falle in his siȝt.
 xiv ȝit hem spekende, þe geldingis of þe king camen, and anon hym to þe feste, þat þe quen hadde maad redi, þei confreyened to gon.

Capitulum VII.

i And so þe king cam in and Aman to þe feste, þat þei shulde drinke wiþ þe quen.
 ii And þe king seide to hir also in þe seconde day, aftir þat he was chaufid wiþ wyn, What is þin asking, Ester, þat it be ȝiue to þee, and what wilt þou to be do? Alſo if þe half part of my reume þou aske, þou shalt gete.
 iii To whom she answerted, If I haue founde grace in þin eȝen, O! king, and if to þee it plese, ȝif to me my lif, for þe whiche I preȝe, and my puple, for þe whiche I beseeche.

iv Forsoþe wee ben taken, I and my puple, þat wee be totreden, slain, and perſhen; and wolde God in to þrallis and þralleſſis wee were fold, and it were tolerable euel, and weilende I shulde holden my pes; now forsoþe oure enemy is, whos cruelte reboundep in to þe king.

v And king Assuer answerten seiþ, Who is he þis, and of what power, þat þese þingus he be hardi to do?

vi And Ester seide, Enemy and oure werſte enemy is þis Aman. þe whiche þing he herende anoon stoneȝede, not suffrende to bern þe chere of þe king and of þe quen.

vii Forsoþe þe king ros wrop, and fro þe place of þe feste wente in to a ȝerd set wiþ trees. Alſo Aman ros for to prezzen Ester, þe quen, for his lif; forsoþe he vnderſtod euel maad redi to hym of þe king.

viii þe whiche whan was comen aȝeen fro þe ȝerd set wiþ wodis, and he hadde comyn in to þe place of þe feste, he fond Aman vpon þe bed to han fallen doun, in þe whiche lai Ester; and seiþ, Alſo þe quen he wile oprefſe, me present, in myn hous. Ne ȝit þe woord of þe kingus mouȝ hadde gon out, and anon couereden his face þe seruauns of þe king.

ix And Arbona, oon of þe geldingus þat stoden in þe seruyaſe of þe king, seide, Lo! þe tree þat he hadde maad redi to Mardoche, þat spac for þe king, stant in þe hous of Aman, hauende of heiȝte fifty cubitis. To whom seide þe king, Hangeþ hym in it.

x And so Aman is hangid in þe iebet, þat he hadde maad redi to Mardoche, and þe kingis wraþe restide.

Capitulum VIII.

i That dai king Assuer ȝaf to Ester, þe quen, þe hous of Aman, aduersarie of Jewis. And Mardoche wente in befor þe face of þe king; Ester forsoþe knoulechide to hym, þat he was hir em.

ii And so þe king toc þe ring, þe whiche of Aman he hadde comaunid to be reſceiuied, and toc to Mardoche. Ester forsoþe sette Mardoche vp on hir hous.

iii Ne wiþ þese þingus paȝed, she fel doun at þe feet of þe king, and wepte, and spac to hym, and prezede, þat þe malice of Aman Agachite, and his werſte castis, þat he hadde þoȝt out aȝen þe Jewis, he comaunde to be maad voide.

iv And he of maner þe kingus goldene septre strauȝte out wiþ þe hond, wiþ þe whiche a tocne of þe kingys mercy was shewid. And so she risende stod before hym, v and seiþ, If it plese to þe king, and if I haue founde grace in his eȝen, and my prezere be not feen to ben contrarie to hym, I beseeche, þat wiþ newe epiftelis þe olde lettris of Aman, spiere and enemye of Jewis, wiþ þe whiche he hadde comaunid þem to perſhen in alle þe kingus prouyncis, be mendid;

vi hou forsoþe shal I moun suffre þe deþ and þe flaþter of my puple?
vii And king Assuer answerde to Ester, þe quen, and to Mardoche, Jew, þe hous of Aman I haue grauntid to Ester, þe quen, and hym I haue comaundid to be fikkid on þe cros, for he was hardi to putte hond in to þe Jewis.
viii Panne writeþ to þe Jewis, as it plesip to ȝou, in þe kingus name, felende þe lettris wiþ my ring. Forsoþe þis was þe custum, þat to þe epistolis, þe whiche of þe kingus name weren sent, and weren felid wiþ his ring, no man shulde ben hardi to wiþseyн.
ix And þe scribis and þe librarijs of þe king clepid; forsoþe time was of þe briddie moneþ, þat is clepid Ciban, þat is, June, þe bre and twentipe dai of it; ben write þe epistolis, as Mardoche wolde, to þe Jewis, and to þe princis, and procuratoures, and iugis, þat in an hundrid and feuene and twenti prouyncis, fro Ynde vnto Ethiope, befor seten, to prouynce and prouynce, to puple and puple, aftir tungis and þer lettris, and to þe Jewis, þat þei myȝte reden and heren.
x And þo epistolis, þat in þe kingus name wer sent, wiþ his ring ben felid, and sent bi messageris, þat bi alle þe prouyncis rennende shulde come before þe olde lettris wiþ þe newe messageris.
xi To whom þe king comaundide, þat þei shulden gadere togidere þe Jewis bi alle þe cites, and þei shulden comaunden in oon to be gedered, þat þei stonde for þer liues; and alle þeir enimys, wiþ þer wiues and fre childer, and alle þer houfis, þei shuldenflen, and don awei.
xii And þer is set bi alle prouyncis o dai of veniaunce, þat is, þe þrettenþe dai of Adar, þe twelfþe moneþ.
xiii And þe shorte sentence of þe epistil was þis, þat in alle londis and puplis, þe whiche vnderlezen to þe empire of king Assuer, it shulde be maad knownen, Jewis to be redi to be take veniaunce of þer enimys.
xiv And þer wenten out messageris, berende beforne messagis; and þe maundement of þe king heng in Sufis.
xv Mardoche forsoþe of þe paleis and of þe siȝte of þe king goende out, schynede in kingis cloþis, iacinctine, þat is, and of eir colour, berende a goldene coroun in þe hed, and wrappid wiþ a silken pal and purper; and al þe cite ful out ioȝede, and is glad.
xvi Forsoþe to þe Jewis is seen to ben sprungen a newe liȝt, ioȝe, wrshiping, and dauncing, xvii anentis alle puplis, cites, and alle prouyncis, whider euere þe kingus maundemens camen, merueiloufe out ioȝingis, metys plenteuous, and festis, and feste dazes, in so myche, þat manye of þe toþer folc and fecht to þer religioune and cerimoynes weren ioyned; gret forsoþe drede of Jewis name alle men hadde afalid.

Capitulum IX.

i Thanne of þe twelfþe moneþ, whom Adar to be clepid now beforne wee seiden, þe þrettenþe day, whanne to alle þe Jewis flaþter was greiþid, and enimys waiteden to be blod of hem, þe while turned, þe Jewis begunne to ben ouer heiȝere, and hem of þe aduersaries to venge.
ii And þer ben gedered bi alle cites, burȝ tounys, and placis, þat þei shulde strecchen out hond aȝen enimys and þer purfueris; and no man was hardi to wiþstonde, for þi þat þe fer of þe gretneſſe of hem alle puplis hadde persid.
iii For and of prouyncis þe iugis, dukis, and procuratoures, and al dignete, þat to alle placis and werkis weren beforne, ful out enhauncide þe Jewis, for drede of Mardoche, iv whom to be prince of þe paleis and of myche power þei knewen; also þe fame of his name wex eche dai, and bi þe moupis of alle men ofte fleiȝ.
v And so þe Jewis smyten þer enimys wiþ a gret veniaunce, and flowen hem, ȝeldende to hem þat þei to þem hadden maad redi to do, in so miche, vi þat also in Sufis fiue hundrid men þei flowen, wiþ outhate þe ten sonys of Aman Agagite, enemy of þe Jewis, of whom þese ben þe namys;
vii Fafondatha, Delfon, and Esfata, viii and Forata, and Dalia, and Aridatha, ix and Efermesta, and Arifai, and Aridai, and Vaifatha.
x Whom whan þei hadde slain, þei wolden not purfue praiies of þe substauncis of hem.
xi And anon þe noumbe of hem, þat weren slain in Sufis, is told to þe king.
xii þe whiche seide to þe quen, In þe cite of Sufis þe Jewis flowen fiue hundred men, and opere ten fones of Aman; hou myche flaþter weneſt þou þem to enhaunten in alle prouyncis? what more askist þou? and what wilt þou, þat I comaunde to be don?
xiii To whom she ansuerde, If to þe king it plese, be þer ȝiue power to þe Jewis, þat as þei diden to day in Sufis, so and do þei to morn, and þe ten fones of Aman be þei hangid in iebetis.
xiv And þe king comaundide, þat so it shulde be do; and anon in Sufis heeng a maundement, and þe ten fonus of Aman ben hangid.
xv þe Jewis gederede togidere, þe fourtenþe dai of þe monyþ of Adar, and þer be slain in Sufis þre hundred men, ne þer substaunce fro þem is raeſhid awei.
xvi But and bi alle þe prouyncis, þat vnder lezen to þe maundement of þe king, þe Jewis stoden for þer liues, þe enimys slain and þer purfueris, in so miche, þat fiue and feuenti þousend of slaine men weren fulfilld, and no man of þer substaunce any bing touchide.
xvii Forsoþe þe þrettenþe dai of þe monyþ Adar was of o flaþter anentis alle, and þe fourtenþe dai þei lafte to flen; whom þei ordeyneden to be solempne, þat in þat time eche ȝer þerafter þei shulden voiden to plenteuous metis, and to ioȝe, and to festis.

xviii And þese, þat in þe cite of Sufys hadden hauntid þe flaȝter, þe brettenþe and þe fourtenþe dai of þe same moneþ ben occupied in þe flaȝter. Þe fifteneþe forsoþe dai þei laften to smytle; and þerfore þe same dai þei ordeyneden solempne of plenteuous metis and of gladnesse.

xix Þese forsoþe Jewis, þat in burȝ tounys not wallid and tounes duelten, þe fourtenþe daie of þe moneþ of Adar, of festis, and of ioȝe demeden, so þat þei ful out gladen in it, and senden to hemself togidere partis of plentes and of metis.

xx And so Mardoche wrot alle þese þingus, and comprehendid in lettris sente to þe Jewis, þat in alle þe prouyncis of þe king dwelten, boþe in neeȝh set and afer, xxi þat þe fourtenþe and þe fifteneþe dai of þe moneþ of Adar þei shulden take for festis, and euermor, þe ȝer turnende aȝeen, wiþ solempne wrshippe þei shulden halewe;

xxii for in þo daȝis þe Jewis vengide þem of þer enemys, and weiling and forewe in to ioȝe and gladnesse ben turned; and þese daȝes shulde ben daȝes of plenteuous metis, and of gladnesse, and þei shulden fende to þemself partis togidere of þe metis, and to pore men þei shulden graunt litle ȝiftis.

xxiii Forsoþe þe Jewis token in to a solempne custum alle þingus, þat þei hadde begunne þat time to do, and þat Mardoche in lettris hadde sent to be do.

xxiv Aman forsoþe, þe sone of Amadathi, stoc of Agag, enemy and aduersarie of Jewis, þoȝte aȝen hem euel, þat he shulde ile þem and don awei, and leide fur, þat in oure tunge is turned in to lot.

xxv And afterward Ester wente in to þe king, besechende, þat his ententis wiþ þe lettris of þe king shulden be maad voide, and þe euel, þat aȝen Jewis he hadde þoȝt, shulde be turned aȝeen in to his hed. Afterward and hym and his sonus þei ficcheden to þe cros.

xxvi And fro þat time þese daȝis be clepid Furim, þat is, of lotis, forþi þat fur, þat is, lot, in to a pot was put; and alle þingus þat ben don ben contened in þe volume of þe epistil, þat is, of þis boc; alle þingus þat þei suffreden, and þat þer after ben chaungid, xxvii Jewis and þer sed token vp on hem, and vp on alle þat wolden to þer religiou be couplid, þat to no man it be leful þese two daȝes wiþ oute solempnrete to ouerpasse, whom scripture witnesseþ, and obere tymes asken, þe ȝeres to þemself continueli comende aftir oþer.

xxviii Þese ben þe daȝis, whom neuer any forȝeting shal don awei, and bi sunder ieneracions alle prouyncis, þat in alle þe world ben, shuln halewen; ne þer is any cite, in þe whiche daȝis of Furim, þat is, of lotis, be not kept of þe Jewis, and of þer progenye, þat wiþ þese cerimoynes is obliȝt.

xxix And Ester, quen, þe doȝtir of Abihael, and Mardoche, Jeu, writen also þe secounde epistil, þat wiþ alle besynesse þis dai solempneli shulde ben halewid þer afterward.

xxx And þei sente to þe Jewis, þat in an hundrid and feuene and twenti prouyncis of king Assuer dwelten, þat þei shulden han pes, and rescyeue treuþe, xxxi kepende wel þe daȝes of lotis, and in þer tyme wiþ ioȝe shulden halewe; as hadden ordeyned Mardoche and Ester, þei to be kept hadden taken, of hemself and of þer sed, fastingis, and clamouris, xxxii and daȝes of lotis, and alle þingus þat ben contened in þe storie of þis boc, þat is clepid Ester.

Capitulum X.

i King forsoþe Assuer al þe lond and alle þe ilis of þe se made tributaries;

ii whos strengþe and empire and dignete and heiȝnesse, þat he enhauncide Mardoche in, ben writen in þe bokis of Medis and of Persis;

iii and hou Mardoche of Jeu kinrede were þe secounde fro king Assuer, and gret anentis þe Jewis, and acceptable to þe folc of þer breþern, fechende goodis to his puple, and spekende þo þingus, þat to þe pes of his sed shulden pertene.

Pe whiche ben had in Ebru in pleyn feiþ I expressede; þese þingus forsoþe, þat folewien, I fond write in þe comun making, þe whiche in Grekis tunge and lettris ben contened; and eft after þe ende of þe boc þis chapitre was feid, þat after oure confuetude wiþ obelo, þat is, wiþ `a stric, wee han befor notid.

iv And Mardoche feide, Of God þese þingus ben don.

v I am recordid of a sfeuene, þat I saȝ, magnifiende þese fame þingus, ne of þo any þing was voide.

vi A litil welle, þat grew in to a flod, and in to liȝt and funne is turned, and in to manye watris reboundide, is Ester, þat þe king toc wif, and wolde to be quen.

vii Two forsoþe dragounes, I am and Aman;

viii þe folc þat camen togidere, þese ben, þat enforceden to don awei þe name of Jewis.

ix Forsoþe my folc is Israel, þat criede to þe Lord; and þe Lord made saaf his puple, and deliuerede vs fro alle euelis, and made grete signes and wondris among þe Jentilis; x and comaundide two lotis to ben, oon of þe puple of God, and an oþer of alle Jentilis.

xi And eiper lot cam in to þe set dai befor God now fro þat time to alle Jentilis.

xii And þe Lord recordide of his puple, and rewide of his eritage.

xiii And þese daȝes shul be kept in þe moneþ of Adar, þe fourtenþe and þe fifteneþe dai of þe same moneþ, wiþ alle bisynesse and ioȝe of þe puple gedered in to o cumpanye, in to alle þer afterward ieneraciouns of þe puple of Israel.

Capitulum XI.

- i The ferþe ȝer, regnende Ptholome and Cleopatra, Dositheus, þat a preft and of Leuy kinrede feide hymself to be, and Ptholome, his sone, broȝten þis epistil of furim, þe whiche þei seiden, Silimacum, þe sone of Ptholome, in Jerusalēm to han remened. Þis forþoþe was þe begynnnyng in þe comun tranflacioun, þat nouþer in Ebru, ne anent any of þe remenours is told.
- ii Þe secounde ȝer, regnynge Artaxerse þe moste, þe firste dai of þe moneþ Nyfan, Mardoche, þe sone of Jari, sone of Semei, sone of Cis, of þe linage of Beniamyn,
- iii a man Jeu, þat dwelte in þe cite of Sufis, a gret man, and among þe firste of þe kingus halle, saȝ a sweuene.
- iv Forþoþe he was of þe noumble of caityues, whom Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, hadde translafid fro Jerusalem wiþ Jeconye, king of Jude. And þis was his fweuene.
- v Þere semeden voifis, and noifis, and þundris, and erþe quaues, and disturbing vp on þe erþe.
- vi And lo! two grete dragounes, redi aȝen hemself in to bataile;
- vii at whos cri alle naciouns ben stirid togidere, þat þei firȝte aȝen þe folc off riȝtwis men.
- viii And þat dai was of dercenessis, and of perile, of tribulacioun, and of anguysh, and gret fer vp on erþe.
- ix And disturbid is þe folc of riȝtwis men, dredende þer euelis, and maad redi to þe deþ.
- x Þei crierden to God; and hem criende out, a litle welle wex in to þe moste flod, and in to manye watriis redundede.
- xi Liȝt and þe sunne is sprungen; and meke men ben enhauncid, and þei deuoureden þe gloriouse.
- xii Þe whiche þing whan Mardoche hadde seen, and risen of þe bed, he þoȝte, what God wolde do, and fliccid he hadde in þe inwit, couetende to wite, what þe fweuene shulde betocene.

Capitulum XII.

- i Forþoþe he dwelte þat time in þe halle of þe king, wiþ Bagatha and Thara, geldingus of þe king, þat portoris weren of þe paleis.
- ii And whan he hadde vnderstonde þe þoȝtis of hem, and þe besyneffis mor diligentli hadde seen before, he lernede þat þei enforciden to putten hond in to king Artaxerfen, and tolde vp on it to þe king.
- iii Þe which, of eiþer questioun had confessid, he comaundede to ben had to deþ.
- iv Þe king forþoþe þat was don, wrot in librarijes, but and Mardoche þe mynde of þe þing toc to lettris.

v And þe king comaundide to hym, þat in þe halle of þe paleis he shulde duelle, ȝiftis ȝiue to hym for þe telling.

vi Aman forþoþe, þe sone of Amadathy, gelding, was most glorious befor þe king, and wolde noȝen to Mardoche, and his puple, for þe two geldingus of þe king þat weren slain.

Hider to þe prohemy; þoo þingus, þat folewens, in þat place weren put, wher is write in þe volume, And þei wasteden þe goodis or þer substauncis; þe whiche onli in þe comun tranflacioun we han founden.

Capitulum XIII.

- i Of þe epistil forþoþe þis was þe faumper. Þe moste king Artaxerxes, fro Ynde vnto Ethiope, of an hundred and feuene and twenti prouyncis, to princis and dukis, þat to his empire ben soget, greting seiþ.
- ii Whan to manye folkis I shulde comaunden, and al þe world hadde sogetid to my comaunding, I wolde not þe mykilnesse of my power myfusen, but wiþ mercy and softenesse gourne þe fogetis, þat, wiþ oute any drede ouerpassende þe lif in silence, þei shulden vse þe pes desirid to alle deadli men.
- iii Me forþoþe sechende of my counseileris, hou þat myȝte be fulfiȝd, oon, þat in wisdam and feiþ opere men paſſide, and was after þe king þe seconde,
- iv Aaman bi name, tolde to me in al þe world of londis to ben a puple scaterid, þat newe shulde vſen lawis, and, aȝen þe custum of alle Jentilis doende, þe heftis of þe kingis dispise, and þe 'oon acord of diuerse naciouns wiþ þer descencioun defoule.
- v Þe whiche þing whan we hadden lerned, seande o folc rebel aȝen alle kinde of men to vse fhereude lawis, and to oure heftis to gon aȝen, and to disturbe þe pes and þe acord of þe prouyncis foget to vs,
- vi wee comaundedelen, þat who so euere Aman, þat is prouost to alle prouyncis, and secounde fro þe king, and whom in stede of a fader wee wrshipen, shal shewyn, wiþ wiues and fre childer be þei don awei of þer enimys, and no man haue mercy of þem, þe fourtenþe dai of þe twelfþe moneþ Adar, of þe ȝer present;
- vii þat wicke men, o dai to helle goende doun, ȝelde to oure empire þe pes, þat þei han disturbid. Hider to þe faumple of þe epistil; þoo þingus, þat folewens, after þat place writen I fond, wher is rad, And goende Mardoche dide alle þingus, þat Ester hadde comaundid to hym; and ner þe latere þei ben not had in Ebru, and anent no man of þe remenours þei ben vtterli told.
- viii Mardoche forþoþe preȝede þe Lord, myndful of alle his werkis,
- ix and seide, Lord, Lord, king almyȝti, in þi power alle þingis ben set, and þer is not, þat mai wiþstonde to þy wil; if þou deme to fauen Israel, anoon wee shul be delyuered.

x þou madist heuene and erþe, and alle þing þat is contened in þe cumpas of heuene.

xi Lord of alle þingus þou art, ne þer is þat wiþstonde to þi mageste.

xii Alle þingus þou knewe, and wost, þat not for pride and strif and any coueitise of glorie I do þis, þat I honoure not þe most proud Aman;

xiii forsoþe gladli for þe helpe of Israel also þe steppis of his feet I were redi to kisse, xiv but I dradde, leſt þe wrſhiſe of my God I shulde bern ouer to man, and leſt any man I shulde honoure out take my God.

xv And now, Lord king, God of Abraham, haue mercy of þi puple, for oure enemys wiln leſen vs, xvi and þin eritage don awei; ne dispise þou þi part, þat þou haſt aȝeen boȝt fro Egipt.

xvii Heere my preȝeere, and merciful be þou to þe lot, and þe little corde of þin eritage; and turne oure weiling in to ioȝe, þat liuende we preife þi name, Lord; and ne close þou þe mouþis of men preifende þee.

xviii And al Israel lic mynde and beseaching crieđe to þe Lord, for þi þat to hem shulde hange in certeyn deþ.

Capitulum XIII.

i Ester also þe quen fleiȝ to þe Lord, dredende þe perile, þat wex aboue.

ii And whan she hadde do doun hir kingus cloþis, she toc couenable cloþis to wepingis and to weiling; and for diuers oyemens wiþ askis and drit she fulfilde þe hed, and hir bodi mekide wiþ fastingus; and alle placis, in þe whiche she was wont to gladen, wiþ to-tering of heris she fulfilde.

iii And she preȝede þe Lord God of Israel, seiende, My Lord, þat art king alone, help me solitarie, and of whom faue þee is noon oþer helpere;

iv my perile is in myn hondis.

v I haue herd of my fader, þat þou shuldest han taken Israel fro alle Jentilis, and oure fadris fro alle þer more behinde, þat þou shuldist welde þe euermor durende eritage; and þou didist to hem, as þou speke.

vi Wee han synned in þi liȝte, and perfore þou haſt taken vs in to þe hondis of oure enemys;

vii forsoþe wee han heried þe godis of hem. Riȝtwis þou art, Lord;

viii and now it suffisþ not to þem, þat wiþ most hard feruyse þey oppressen vs, but, þe strengþe of þer hondis wijtende to þe power of maumetis, ix wiln chaunge þin heftis, and don awei þin eritage, and close þe mouþis of men preifende þee, and quenchon out þe glorie of þe temple and of þin auter, x þat bei opene þe mouþis of Jentilis, and preife þe strengþe of maumetis, and prechen a fleshli king in to euermor.

xi Ne take þou, Lord, þi kingus dignete to þem, þat ben not, leſt þei laȝhen at oure falling; but turne þe counſeil of hem vp on hem, and hym þat in vs began to waxe feers, scatere.

xii Haue mynde, Lord, and ſheuȝ þee to vs in time of oure tribulacioun; and ȝif to me troſt, Lord, king of Jewis and of alle power;

xiii ȝif a ſemeli woord in my mouȝ in þe liȝte of þe leoun, and ber ouer þe herte of hym in to þe hate of oure enemy, þat and he pershe, and oþere þat conſenten to hym.

xiv Vs also deliuere in þin hond, and help me, noon oþer hauende helpe but þee, xv Lord, þat haſt kunning of alle þingis. And þou haſt knownen for I hatide þe glorie of wicke men, and wlate þe bed of vncircumcidide men, and of alle heþene.

xvi þou knowiſt infirmyte and my nede, þat I wlate þe ſigne of pride and of my glorie, þat is vpon myn hed in þe daȝis of my ſhewing, and I wlate it as þe cloþ of þe womman in flux of blod, and I bere not in þe daȝis of my silence, xvii and þat I eet not in þe bord of Aman, ne to me pleſide þe feſte of þe king, and I dranc nott win of ſacrifices;

xviii and neuere gladide þin hond womman, ſiȝen hider I am translatid vnto þe present dai, but in þee, Lord God of Abraham.

xix Strong God ouer alle, heere þe vois of hem, þat noon oþer hope han, and delyueres vs fro þe hond of wicke men, and pul out me fro my drede.

Pefe þingus also addid I fond in þe comun tranflacioun.

And no doute þat Mardoche ſente to hir, þat Eſter shulde gon in to þe king, and preȝe for hir puple, and for hir kuntre. Myndful, he ſeȝ, be þou of þe daȝes of þi mecenſſe, hou þou art nurſhid in myn hond; for Aman, ordeined þe fecounde of þe king, ſpac aȝen vs in to deþ; and þou inwardli clep þe Lord, and ſpec to þe king for vs, and deliuere vs fro deþ.

Alſo and þefe þingus, þat ben vnderleid, in þe comun tranflacioun I fond.

Capitulum XV.

i Forſoþe þe þridde dai ſhe dide doun þe cloþis of hir enournyng, and hir owne glorie is don aboue.

ii And whan wiþ þe kingis abite ſhe ſchyned, and inwardli hadde clepid þe Gouernour of alle þingus and fauere God, ſhe toc two feruauntes, iii and vp on þe oon forſoþe ſhe lenede, as for delicis and ful myche tendernesſe not ſuffrynde to bern hir owne bodi;

iv þe toþer forſoþe of þe dameſelis folewede þe ladi, berende vp þe cloþys flowende doun in to þe erþe.

v She forsoþe þurȝshed þe chere wiþ rose colour, and freeli, and wiþ briȝte eȝen she couerede þe dreri inwit, and drawe togidere wiþ ful myche drede.
vi þanne she gon in alle þe doris bi ordre, stod aȝen þe king, wher he sat vp on þe see of his regne, cloþid wiþ kingus cloþis, and shinende wiþ gold and precious stones; and he was ferful in siȝte.
vii And whan he hadde rerid vp þe face, and wiþ brennende eȝen þe wodness of þe breſt hadde shewid, þe quen fel doun; and þe colour chaungid in to palenessse, þe weeri hed vpon þe hond maide she bowide doun.
viii And God turnede þe spirit of þe king in to debonernesse, and heeȝende and dredende he stirte out of þe see; and sustenende hir wiþ his armys, to þe tyme she turnede aȝeen to hirself, wiþ þese woordis glofide, ix What haſt pou, Ester? I am þi broþer; wile þou not dredre, x þou ſhalt not die; forsoþe not for þee, but for alle þis lawe is ordeyned. Cum hider þanne, and touche þe kingus ȝerde.
xi And whan she heeld hir pes, he toc þe kingus ȝerde, and putte vp on hir necke, xii and kiste hir, and feiþ, Whi to me ſpekiſt þou not?
xiii þe whiche anſwerde, I faȝ þee, lord, as þe angil of God, and myn herte is diſturbid for dredre of þi glorie;
xiv forſoþe, lord, þou art gretli merueilous, and þi face is ful of gracis.
xv And whan he ſpac, eft she fel doun, and uttirli ſwounede.
xvi þe king forſoþe was diſturbid, and alle his myneſtris coumfortiden hym.

þe faumple of þe epiftil of king Artaxerſes, þat for þe Jewis he fente to alle þe prouyncis of his reume; þe whiche and it is not had in Ebrue volume.

Capitulum XVI.

i Artaxerſes, þe grete king, fro Ynde vnto Ethiope, of an hundrid and feuene and twenti prouyncis, to dukis and princis, þat to oure comaunding obefhen, feiþ greeting.
ii Manye þe goodnesse of princis and wrſhipe, þat in to hem is ȝiuen, han mys vſid in to pride;
iii and not onli enforcen to oprefſe þe ſogetis to þe king, but þe glorie ȝiue to hem not berende, in to þem þat ȝiuen waiten aſpies;
iv ne ben not paȝid to not do gracis to benefetis, and defoule þe riȝtus of humanyte in to þem; but alſo demen hemſelf to moun flee þe ſentence of God demende alle þingus.
v And in ſo myche to wodness breken out, þat to hem þat beſili kepen þe offis taken to hem, and ſo alle þingus don, þat þei ben wrþi þe preiſing of alle men, wiþ þe priue and fotile flateringus of leſingus þei enforſen to turne vp fo doun, vi whil þe symple eris of princis and of þer kinde oþer men eymende wiþ fel gile desceyuen.

vii þe whiche þing and of olde ſto ries is proued, and of þeſe þingus þat ben don eche dai; hou bi euele ſogefiounſ of ſumme men þe ſtu dies of kingus ben depraued.
viii Wherfore it is to purueye to þe pes of alle prouyncis.
ix Ne ȝee ſhul not wene, if diuers þingus we comaunde, to come of liȝtneſſe of oure inwit; but for qualite and neceſſite of tymes, as þe profit of þe comun þing aſkeþ, to do ſentence.
x And þat ȝee more openli vndirſtonde þat wee han feid; Aaman, þe fone of Amadathi, wille and kinrede of Macedo, and alien fro þe blod of Persis, and oure pite wiþ his cruelte defoulende, a pilgram is taken of vs;
xi and ſo myche humanyte expert in hymſelf, þat oure fader he were clepid, and honoured of alle men þe fecounde after þe king;
xii þe whiche in ſo myche ſwelling of pride is born, þat he enforcide to priuen vs þe reume and ſpirit.
xiii For Mardoche, bi whos feiþ and benefetis wee liuen, and þe felawes of oure reume Ester, wiþ al hir folc, wiþ newe maner and vñherd engynes ful out aſkide in to deþ;
xiv þeſe þingus þenkende, þat, hem slain, he ſhulde aſpie to oure onlihood, and þe reume of Persis to ouerberin in to Macedoynes.
xv Wee forſoþe outerli finden in no blame þe Jewis, ordeyned to deþ of þe werſte man of deadli men; but aȝeенward vñfende riȝte lawis, xvi and þe ſones of þe heȝest, and þe moſte, and euermor liuende God, þurȝ whos benefet and to oure fadris and to vs þe reume ys taken, and vnto to dai is kept.
xvii Wherfore þo lettris, þat vnder oure name he ȝaf forþ, witeþ to ben as none.
xviii For þe whiche hidous gilte befor þe ȝatis of þis cite, þat is, Sufis, and he þat caſte, and al his kinrede, hangeþ in iebetis; not vs, but God to hym ȝeldende þat he deseruede.
xix þis forſoþe maundement, þat wee now ſenden, in alle cites be purpoſid, þat it be leful to Jewis to vñþer lawis.
xx To whom ȝee ſhul be to helpe, þat þo men, þe whiche hemſelf to þer deþ hadden maad redi, þei mounflen, þe fourtenþe dai of þe twelfþe monþ, þat is clepid Adar; xi þis forſoþe dai of ſorewe and of weiling þe Almyȝti God turnede to hem in to ioȝe.
xii Wherfore and ȝee among oþer feſte daȝis þis dai haueþ, and halewiþ it wiþ alle gladneſſe;

xxiii and herafter alle men knowe, þat feiþful obeshen to Persis, for feiþ to take wrþi mede; þei forsoþe þat waiaten to þe regne of hem, to pershe for þe hidous gilte.

xxvii Eche forsoþe prouynce and cite, þat wil not of þis folempnete ben parcener, bi fwerd and fyr pershe he; and so he don awei, þat not onli to men but to bestis wiþ oute wei 'be in to euer mor, for exsaumple of dispising and vnobeifaunce.

Explicit.

JOB.

Incipit prologus in libro Job.

I am confreyed bi alle þe bokis of Godis scripture to answern to þe euele lawis of aduerlaries, þat lfulli putten to me, þat my remenyng I shulde make into þe vndernymyng of þe Seuenti remenoures; as þoȝ, anent þe Grekis, Aquila, Simacus, and Theodocian, or woord of woord, or sens of sens, or of eiþer mengd, and tempred maner of mene translacioun tolden out; and Origenes alle þe volumes of þe Olde Testament markide wiþ signe of a ȝerde, 'and wiþ signe of a sterre, þe whiche or addid, or taken of Theodocian, sette in to þe olde translacioun, prouende to han failid þat is added. Panne lerne my bacbiteres to refcyeuen in þe hoole, þat in parcelis þei refcyeueden, or to shauen awey my remenyng wiþ þer sterre signes. Ne forsoþe it may be do, þat whom þey behelde manye þingus to han lafte of, not þe same men also in summe þingus to han errid þei knowlechen, nameli, in Job, to þe whiche þat if þo þingus, þat vnder sterre signe ben addid, þou wiþdrawe, þe most part of þi volume shal be kut of; and þat only anent þe Grekis. But and anent þe Latynes, befor þat translacioun, þat vnder sterre signes and ȝerde signes not ȝore we maden out, seuene hundrid almeſt or eiȝte hundrid vers failen; wiþ þe whiche þe boc shoruld, and to-torn and to-bite, sheweþ openli to þe rederes his foule defaute. Þis forsoþe translacioun non remenour of þe olde folewiþ, but of þat Ebru and Arabik woord, and ober while Cire, now woordis, now sens, now eiþer togidere shal tellen out. Also forsoþe al þe boc anent þe Ebrues is feid derc and flidery, and þat þe cheef spekeris of Grekis clepen defaute of comun maner of speche, whil oper þing is spoken and oper þing is don; as if þou woldest an eel or a laumprun holde wiþ streite hondis, how myche strengerli þou þristis, so myche þe funnere it shal fliden awey. I haue remembred me, Liddium, a maner doctour, þat anent þe Ebruis þe firſte was weened to ben had, for þe vnderſtonding of þis volume not wiþ fewe penys to han hirid, wiþ whos doctrine if any þing I profitede, I wot neuere; þis oon I wot wel, me not to han moȝt remene, but þat before I hadde vnderſtonde. And so fro þe begynnyng of þe volume vnto þe woordis of Job, anent þe Ebruis þe enditing is prose; but fro þe woordis of Job, in þe whiche he seiþ, Pershe þe dai in þe whiche I am born, and þe nyȝt, in whiche it is feid, a man is conſeuied, vnto þat place wher befor þe end of þe volume it is write, Perfor I myself reproue, and do penaunce in colis and asken, ben vers of fixe feet, rennende wiþ dactile and sponde feet, and for þe langage of þe tunge ofte takende and oþere feet, not of þe fame ſlablis, but of þe fame times.

Oþerwhile also þat sweete rym and sweteli ſounende is told wiþ noumbris loofid wiþ lawe; þe whiche þing versifioures more þan a symple redere vnderſtonden. Fro þe foreſeide vers forsoþe vnto þe ende of þe boc, þe little diſtinccion ȝat leueþ wiþ prose enditing is wouen. Þe whiche þing if to any man is ſeen vntrouable, metre, þat is, to be anent þe Ebrues, and in maner of oure Flacci, and Gracky, Pindarie, and Alchei, and Saffo, þat weren Grek poetis, or þe Sauter, or þe Lamentacions of Jeremie, or alle almeſt þe Kanticulis of scripturis to ben comprehendid, þat is to ſeye, in metre, rede he Filonem, Josefum, Origenem, Cesariensem Eufebeum, and bi þe witneſſe of hem he ſhal proue me to ſey ſop. Here perfore myn houndis, perfore me in þis volume to han traualid, not þat þe olde remenyng I repreue, but þat þo þingis, þat in it or ben derc, or ben laft of, or certis bi þe vice of writeres depraued, ſhulden be maad more open bi oure remenyng; þe whiche and þe Ebrues ſermoun a parti wee han learned, and in Latin fulli fro þe cradelis among gramarienes, and retorikis, and filoſofres wee ben defoulid. ȝat if anent þe Grekis, aftir þe making of þe Seuenti, now þe euangelie of Crift shynende, Jew Aquila, and Simacus, and Theodocian, Jewinge eretikis, ben founde, þat manye mysterijs of þe Saueour bi trecherous remenyng hidden, and nerþelatere in fixe exaumpleris ben had anent þe chirches, and ben expouned of chirchemen; myche more I, a Criftene man, born of fader and moder Criftene, and þe baner of þe cros in my forhed berende, whos ſtudie was to telle aȝeen laft of þingus, and to amende þe depraued, and þe sacramens of þe chirche wiþ pure and trewe ſermounes to openen, or of proude men or of ſhreude reders I aȝe not to be repreued. Haue þat wiln olde bokis, and in rede ſkynnes wiþ gold and siluer writen, or wiþ capital lettiris, as comunli men fein, chargis grauen out more þan bokis, so þat to me and to myne þei ſuffre to han pore ſcrosis, and not as myche faire bokis as amendid. Eiþir forsoþe translacioun, and þe Seuenti after Grekis, and myn after þe Ebrues, in Latin bi my trauale is translatid; cheſe eche man þat he wile, and proue he hymſelf more studious þan euel willid.

Anoþir prolog.

If forsoþe a iunket wiþ resshe I shulde make, or þe leues of palmys I shulde platte, þat in þe swot of my chere I shulde ete bred, and þe werec of þe wombe wiþ beſi mynde treten, no man shulde bite, no man shulde repreue. Now forsoþe for after þe sentence of þe Saueour, I wile werke þe mete þat perſheþ not, þe olde weie of Godys volumys to purgen fro þornes and buffis, double errorr is piȝt in to me; a fals corectour of vices I am clepid, and errooures not to taken awei, but to sownen. So myche forsoþe is þe custum of oldnesse, þat also oþer while confesid vicis plesen, whil more faire bokis þey wiln han þan amendid. Wherfore, O! moost looued breþern, oon exsaumpler of noblehed for þe werelis, lepis, basketis, and litle ȝiftis of munkis, þese ſpirituel and ȝiftis to dwelle takeþ; and blisful Job, þat zit anent Latynes lai in þe drit, and wiþ wermes of errooures brac out, hool and wiþoute wem ioȝeþ. What maner forsoþe, after prouyng and victorie, double to hym alle þingus ben ȝolden, so I in to ȝoure tunge, þat hardili I ſpeke, haue maad hym to han þat he hadde lost. Perfor and ȝou and eche redere I warne 'to gidere wiþ besy before telling, and in þe begynnyngus of bokis þe fame þingus euermor ioynende, I preȝe, 'þat wher euermor litle ȝerdis goende beforne ȝee shul fee, witeþ þo þingis þat ben vnder leid in Ebru volumys not to ben had; but wher þe image of a sterre ſhyneþ beforne, of Ebru in oure fermoun ben added. Alfo and þoo þingus weren seen to ben had in Grek, and so weren corupt, þat þe wit to þe reders þei token awei, ȝou prezende, wiþ gret trauaile I amendide; wenende more what profitable þing to comyn of myn hate to þe chirchis of Crift, þan of oþer mennys beſinesse.

Here endeþ þe prolog of Job, and now bigynneþ þe book.

Incipit liber Job.

Capitulum I.

i Ther was a man in þe lond of Hus, Job by name; and þat man was ſimple, and riȝt, and dredende God, and goende awei fro euel.
ii And þer ben born to hym ſeue fones, and þre douȝtris;
iii and his poſſeffioun was ſeuen pouſend of ſhep, and þre þouſend of camailis, alſo fiue hundred ȝokis of oxen, and fiue hundryd affis, and ful myche meyne; and þat man was gret among alle þe men of þe eſt.
iv And his fones wenten, and maden feſtis bi houſis, eche in his day; and ſendende þei clepeden þer þre fiſtris, þat þei ſhulden ete, and drinken wiþ hem.
v And whan þe daȝes of þe feſte hadden paſſid aboute, Job ſente to þem, and haliwide þem, and riſende erli, offride brent ſacrifiſe bi alle. Forſoþe he ſeide, Leſt perauenture my ſonyſ ſynnen, and bliſſe to God in þer hertis. So Job dide alle daȝis.

- vi On a dai forſoþe, whan þe fones of God wer come, þat þei ſhulde ſtonde neeȝ before God, was neeȝ among hem and Sathan.
- vii To whom ſeide þe Lord, Whennus comeſt þou? Þe whiche anſwerende ſeip, I haue enuyround þe erþe, and þurȝ gon it.
- viii And þe Lord ſeide to hym, Wheþer haſt þou not beholde my feruaunt Job, þat þer be not lic to hym in þe erþe, a man ſimple, and riȝt, and dredende God, and goende awei fro euel.
- ix To whom anſwerde Sathan, Wheþer in vein Job dredip God?
- x Wheþer haſt þou not ſtrengpið hym, and his hous, and al his ſuſtaunce bi enuyroun? To þe werkis of his hondis þou haſt bliſſid, and his poſſeffioun wex in þe erþe.
- xi But ſtrecche out a litil þin hond, and touche alle þingus þat he weldeþ; but in þe face he bleſſe to þee.
- xii Panne þe Lord ſeide to Sathan, Lo! alle þingus, þat he haþ, in þin hond ben; onli in hym ne ſtrecche þou out þin hond. And Sathan is gon out fro þe face of þe Lord.
- xiii Whan forſoþe on a dai þe fones and his doȝtris ſhulden ete, and drinke win in þe hous of þer firſte gote broþer,
- xiv a messenger cam to Job, þat ſhulde ſein, Oxen ereden, and the affis weren fed beſide þem;
- xv and Sabeis feerly fallen to, and token alle þingis, and ſmyte þe childer wiþ fwerd; and I alone ſcapide þat I ſhulde telle to þee.
- xvi And whan ȝit he ſpac, cam an oþer, and ſeide, Þe fyr of God cam doun fro heuene, and þe ſhep touchid, and þe childer waſtide; and I alone fleiȝ awei þat I telle to þee.
- xvii But ȝit hym ſpekende, cam and an oþer, and ſeide, Caldeis maden þre cumpanyes, and afailiden þe camailis, and token hem, alſo and þe childer þei ſmyten wiþ fwerd; and I alone fleiȝ awei þat I telle to þee.
- xviii And ȝit he ſpac, and lo! an oþer cam inne, and ſeide, Bi fones and doȝtris etende, and drinkende win in þe hous of þer firſte goten broþer,
- xix feerli an hidous wind fel in fro þe regioune of deſert, and ſmot togidere þe foure corneres of þe hous, þe whiche fallende oþreſſide bi fre childer, and ben deade; and I alone fleiȝ awei þat I telle to þee.
- xx Panne Job ros, and kutte his cloþis, and his hed ſhauen fel in to þe erþe, and honourede,
- xi and ſeide, Nakid I wente out fro þe wombe of my moder, and nakid I ſhal gon aȝeen þider; þe Lord ȝaf, þe Lord toc awei; as to þe Lord pleſide, ſo it is do; be þe name of þe Lord bliſſid.
- xxii In alle þes þingus Job ſynnede not wiþ his lippis, ne any foli þing aȝen God ſpac.

Capitulum II.

i It is do forsoþe, whan on a dai hadden comen þe sones of God, and stoden before þe Lord, and Sathan hadde comen among hem, and stod in his siȝt, ii þat þe Lord feide to Sathan, Whennes comest þou?
 þe whiche answerende seip, I haue gon aboute þe erþe, and þurȝ paffid it.
 iii And þe Lord feide to Sathan, Wheþer haft þou beholde my seruaunt Job, þat þer be not to hym lic in þe erþe, a man simple, and riȝt, and dredende God, and goende awei fro euel, and ȝit wiþholdende innocence?
 þou forsoþe haft stirid me aȝen hym, þat I scourge hym in vein.
 iv To whom answerde Sathan, and seip, Fel for fel, and alle þingus þat a man haþ he shulde ȝiue for his soule; v ellis put þin hond, and touche his bon and flesh, and þanne þou shalt see, þat in to þe face he blisse to þee.
 vi Panne þe Lord feide to Sathan, Lo! in þin hond he is;
 nerþelater his lif kep.
 vii Panne Sathan, gon out fro þe face of þe Lord, he smot Job `wiþ þe werste stinkende bleyne fro þe sole of þe fot vnto þe nol;
 viii þe whiche wiþ a sherd scrapide awei þe quytur, fittende in þe dunghil.
 ix His wif forsoþe feide to hym, ȝit forsoþe þou abidist stille in þi symplete. Blisse to God, and die.
 x þe whiche seip to hir, As oon of þe fool wymmen þou speeke; if goodis wee han taken of þe hond of þe Lord, euelis forsoþe why shulde wee not suffre? In alle þese pingis Job synnede not wiþ his lippis.
 xi Panne þre frendus of Job, herende al þe euel þat hadde fallen to hym, alle camen fro þer place, Elifath Themanites, and Baldach Suytes, and Sofar Naamatites; forsoþe þei hadden seid togidere to þemself, þat comende togidere þei shulden visiten hym, and coumforten.
 xii And whan þei hadden rerid up aferr þer eȝen, þei knewen hym not; and criende out þei wepten, and, þe cloþis kitt, þei sprengden poudre vpon þer hed in to heuene.
 xiii And þei seten wiþ hym in þe erþe seuen daȝis and seuen nyȝt, and no man spac to hym woord; forsoþe þei leȝen þe forewe to ben hydous.

Capitulum III.

i Aftir þese þingus Job openede his mouþ, and curfide to his dai,
 ii and seide,
 iii Pershe þe dai in þe whiche I am born, and þe nyȝt in þe whiche it is feid, A man is conceyued.
 iv Pat dai be turned in to dercnessis; God seche it not from aboue, and be it not in recording, ne be it liȝtid wiþ liȝt.
 v Dercnesses dercne it, and þe shadewe of deþ occupie it in dercnesse; and be it wiþ inne wrappid wiþ bitternesse.

vi A derc whirlewind welde þat nyȝt; and be it not countid in þe daȝes of þe ȝer, ne noumbrid in moneþis.
 vii Be þat nyȝt solitarie, and not preife wrþi.
 viii Curfe þei to it, þat cursen to þe dai, þat ben redi to rere Leuiethan.
 ix Pe sterriſ be þei derkid wiþ þe dercnesse of it; abide it liȝt, and se not, ne þe springing of þe risende morwetid.
 x For it cloſide not þe doris of þe wombe, þat bar me, ne toc awei euelis fro myn eyen.
 xi Whi not in þe wombe I am dead? gon out of þe wombe not anoon I perþide?
 xii Whi taken out of þe knes? whi soukid þe tetis?
 xiii Now forsoþe flepende I sholde holde my pes, and wiþ my flep resten, xiv wiþ kingus and counseileris of þe erþe, þat bilden to hem folitarie dwellingus; xv or wiþ princis þat welde gold, and fulfillen þer houſis wiþ filuer;
 xvi or as abortif hid I shulde not abide, or þat conceyued leȝen not liȝt.
 xvii Pere vnpitous men cesiden fro noise, and þere resteden þe wary in strengþe.
 xviii And sum time togidere ioyned wiþoute gref þei herden not þe vois of þe askere wiþ strif.
 xix Litil and gret þer ben, and seruaunt and fre man fro þer lord.
 xx Whi to þe wrecche is ȝiue liȝt, and lif to hem þat ben in bitternesse of soule?
 xxi þe whiche abiden deþ, and comeþ not; as men deluende out trefor
 xxii and ioȝen hugely, whan þei finde þe sepulcre?
 xxiii To þe man whos weie is hid, and God haþ cumpassid hym wiþ dercnessis? xxiv Er I shul ete, I siȝhe; and as of flowende water, so my roring.
 xxv For þe drede, þat I draddie, ys ful out come to me;
 and þat I shamede of, is falie.
 xxvi Wheþer I feynede not? wheþer I heeld not my pes? wheþer I restide not? and þer is comen vp on me indignacioun.

Capitulum III.

i Answerende forsoþe Elifath Themanthes feide, ii If wee begynne to speke to þee, perauenture greuously þou shalt taken; but þe conceiuede woord who shal moun holde?
 iii Lo! þou haſt taȝt manye men, and þou haſt strengþid þe weri hondis.
 iv Þi woordis han maad ſtable þe vnfstedefast, and þe tremblende knes þou haſt coumfortid.
 v Now forsoþe is comen vp on þee veniaunce, and þou haſt failid; it haþ touchid þee, and þou art disturbid.
 vi Wher is þi drede, þi strengþe, and þi pacience, and þe perfeccioun of þi weies?

vii Recorde, I bescheche þee, who euere innocent perþide, or whanne 'riȝtwis men ben don awei?
 viii But rāþere I haue seen hem, þat werken wickidnesse, and sownen forewis, and repen hem, ix God blowende, to han perþid, and þurȝ þe spirit of his wraþe to be waſtid.
 x Þe roring of a leoun, and þe vois of a leounesse, and þe teþ of leoun whelpis ben tobrosid. xi Þe tigre perþide, forþi þat he hadde no prei; and þe leoun whelpis ben scaterid.
 xii But to me is feid a woord hid, and as þeefli myn ere toc þe veynes of his gruching.
 xiii In þe orroure of þe nyȝt liȝte, whan flep is wont to occupie men,
 xiv inward drede heeld me, and trembling; and alle my bones ben agast.
 xv And whan þe spirit me present shulde paffe, inwardli griseden þe heris of my flesh.
 xvi Per stod oon, whos chere I knew not, an ymage befor myn eȝen; and a vois as of a softe eir I herde.
 xvii Wheþir a man of God shal be iustified bi comparisoun; and a man shal be more clene þan his Makere?
 xviii Lo! þat seruen to hym ben not stable; and in his aungelis he fond shreudenesse.
 xix Myche more þese þat dwellen cleyene houſis, þat han an erþely foundement, shul be waſtid as of a moȝhe.
 xx Fro morutid vnto euen þei shul ben hewe doun; and for no man vnderstondiþ, wiþ outen ende þei shul perþhe.
 xxi Þei forþoþe, þat weren laſte, shul be taken awei fro hem, and dien, and not in wiſdam.

Capitulum V.

i Clep þanne, if þer is þat anſwere to þee, and turne to summe of þe feintis.
 ii Wraþe fleþ a man fol, and enuye fleþ a litil child.
 iii I faȝ a fool wiþ a ſtable roote, and I curſide to his fairnesse anoon.
 iv Aferr shul be maade his ſones fro helþe, and shul be to-treden in þe ȝate, and þer shal not be þat deliuere.
 v Whos rep þe hungri ſhal ete, and hym ſhal raueshe þe armed, and þe þristi men shul drinke his richessis.
 vi No þing in þe erþe is maad wiþoute cauſe, and of þe erþe ſhal not gon out forewe.
 vii A man to trauaile is born, and a brid to fleen.
 viii For what þing I ſhal preȝe þe Lord, and to my God I ſhal putte my ſpeche.
 ix þat doþ grete þingus, and vñferchable, and merueilouse þingus wiþoute noumbre.
 x þat ȝiueþ reyn vpon þe face of þe erþe, and moyſteþ wiþ watris alle þingus.
 xi þat ſetteþ meke men in to heiȝte, and weilende men rereþ wiþ helþe.

xii þat ſcatereþ þe þoȝtis of euele men, þat þer hondis moun not fulfillre þat þei begunne.
 xiii þat caccheþ wife men in þer felnesse, and þe counſeil of ſhrewis ſcattereþ.
 xiv Bi þe dai þei ſhul renne in to dercneſſis, and as in nyȝt fo þei ſhul graſpen in mydday.
 xv But saf he ſhal make þe nedī fro þe ſword of þe mouþ of hem, and fro þe hond doende violence þe pore man.
 xvi And he ſhal be to þe nedī man hope, wickidneſſe forþoþe ſhal drawe togidere his mouþ. xvii Blisful þe men þat is chaſtisid of þe Lord; þanne þe blamynge of þe Lord ne repreue þou.
 xviii For he woundeþ, and lecheþ; ſmyteþ, and his hondis ſhuln helen.
 xix In ſixe tribulacions he ſhal deliuere þee, and in þe ſeueneþe ſhal not touche þee euel.
 xx In hungrir he ſhal deliuere þee fro deþ, and in bataile fro þe hond of ſword.
 xxi Fro þe ſcoure of tunge þou ſhalt ben hid, and þou ſhalt not drede wrecchidneſſe, whan it comeþ.
 xxii In waſtite and hunger þou ſhalt laȝwhin, and beſte of þe erþe þou ſhalt not dreden.
 xxiii But wiþ ſtones of regiouſ ſi couenaunt, and þe beſtis of erþe ſhul be peſible to þee.
 xxiv And þou ſhalt wite, þat þi tabernacle haue pes, and viſitende þi kinde þou ſhalt not synne.
 xxv And þou ſhalt wite alſo, for manyfold ſhal be þi ſed, and þi progenye as þe erþe of þe erþe.
 xxvi þou ſhalt go in to þe ſepulcre in plenteuousneſſis, as is born in an heþ off whete in his tyme.
 xxvii Lo! þis, as wee han enſerched, ſo is; þat is herd, in mynde þurȝ trete.

Capitulum VI.

i Anſwerende forþoþe Job ſeip, ii Wolde God, my synnes wereñ weȝed, bi þe whiche wraþe I defruede; and þe wrecchidneſſe þat I ſuffre, in a balaunce.
 iii As þe grauel of þe ſe þis more greuous ſhulde ſeme;
 wherfore and my woordis ben ful of forewe.
 iv For þe arwiſ of þe Lord ben in me, of þe whiche þe indignacioun drinkeþ vp my ſpirit; and þe gaſtneſſis of þe Lord fiȝten aȝen me.
 v Wheþir an aſſe ſhal roren, whan he haþ erþe? Or an oxe ſhul loowen, whan befor þe fulle cracche he ſhal ſtonde?
 vi Or ſhal moun ben eten vnsauere þing, þat is not wiþ ſalt poudrid? Or ſhal a man moun taſte, þat taſtid bringeþ deþ?
 vii Forþoþe to þe hungrende lif, also bitter þingis ſemen to be ſweete; þat befor my ſoule wolde not touche, now for anguyſh ben my metis.
 viii Who ȝeue, þat myn asking come; and þat I abijde, ȝelde to me God?

ix And þat began, he me to-trede; lose his hond, and hewe me doun?
 x And þis be to me a coumfort, þat þe tormentende me wiþ forewe perfhe not, ne wiþseie to þe woordis of a feint.
 xi What forsoþe is my strengþe, þat I suffre? or what myn ende, þat I pacientli do?
 xii Ne þe strengþe of stones my strengþe, ne my flesh is braſene.
 xiii Lo! þer is not helpe to me in me; also my necessarie men wenten awei fro me.
 xiv He þat takeþ awei fro his frend mercy, þe drede of þe Lord forſakeþ.
 xv My breþern paffen den bifeide me, as a strem þat rauſhe meel paffeþ in valeis.
 xvi þat dreden frost, snowȝ shal falle vpon hem. xvii Pe time þat þei wer scaterid, þei shul perfhe; and as þei enchaufe, þei shul be losid fro þer place.
 xviii Wiþinne wrappid ben þe sties of þer goingus; þei shul gon in vein, and perſhen.
 xix Beholdeþ þe sties of Theman, þe weies of Saba; and abidiþ a litil while.
 xx Pei ben confoundid, for I hopide; þei camen also to me, and wiþ shame þei ben ouercouered. xxi Now ȝee han comen, and now feande my veniaunce ȝee dreden.
 xxii Wheþer I seide, Bringeþ to me, and of ȝoure substaunce ȝiueþ to me?
 xxiii or, Deliuere me fro þe hond of þe enemy, and fro þe hond of stronge men pulliþ out me?
 xxiv Techeþ me, and I shal be stille; and if any þing perauenture I haue vñknownen, enformeþ me.
 xxv Whi han ȝee bacbitid to þe woordis of treuþe?
 whan of ȝou no man be, þat mai vndernyme me.
 xxvi To blamen onli spechis ȝee ordeynyn, and aȝen wind woordis ȝee speken.
 xxvii Vpon þe faderles child ȝee fallen on, and enforſen ȝoure frend to turne vp so doun.
 xxviii Nerþelater þat ȝee han begunne, fulfilliþ; ȝiueþ ere, and feþ, wheþer I lie.
 xxix Anſwerþ, I besuche, wiþoute strif, and spekende þat, þat is riȝtwis, shewiþ.
 xxx And ȝee shul not finde in my tunge wickidnesse, ne in my chekis folie shal þurȝ soun.

Capitulum VII.

i Kniȝthod is þe lif of man vpon erþe, and as þe daȝes of an hirid man, þe daȝis of hym.
 ii As an hert defireþ shadewe, and as an hirid man abideþ þe ende of his werc; iii so and I hadde voide moneþis, and traualous nyȝtis I noumbride out to me.
 iv If I shul slepen, I shal fey, Whanne shal I rise? and eft I shal abide þe euetid, and I shal be fulſild wiþ forewiſ vnto dercneſſis.

v My flesh is clad wiþ roting, and wiþ filþis of pouder;
 my fel drieðe, and is drawnen togidere.
 vi My daȝes swiftliere paffen þan of þe weuere þe web is kut of; and þei ben waſtid wiþoute any hope.
 vii Haue mynde, for wind is my lif, and myn eȝe ſhal not be turned aȝeen, þat I fee goodis.
 viii Ne þe ſiȝte of man ſhal beholde me; but þin eȝen in me, and I ſhal not ſtonden. ix As a cloude is waſtid, and paffed, fo þat goþ doun to helle, ſhal not ſteȝen vp;
 x ne ſhal turne aȝeen more in to his hous, ne his place ſhal more ouer knownen hym.
 xi Wherfore and I ſhal not ſpare to my mouþ; I ſhal ſpeke in þe tribulacioun of my ſpirit, and I ſhal talke wiþ þe bitterneſſe of my ſoule.
 xii Wheþer am I þe fe, or a whal, for ȝee han enuyround me wiþ a prisoun?
 xiii If I ſhal feyn, My bed ſhal coumforte me, and I ſhal be releued ſpekende wiþ me in my bed;
 xiv þou ſhalt fere me bi ſweuenys, and bi vifeouns;
 þurȝ orrour þou ſhalt ſmyte me to gidere.
 xv Wherfore my foule ches hangyng vp, and my bones deb.
 xvi I despeirede, now I ſhal no mor liue; ſpare to me, Lord, no þing forſoþe ben my daȝes.
 xvii What is a man, for þou magnefiest hym? or what þou ſettis to aȝen hym þin herte?
 xviii þou viſitist hym þe morutid, and eerli þou prouest
 hym.
 xix Hou longe þou ſparist not to me, ne letiſt me, þat I fwolewe my ſpotole?
 xx I haue ſynned; what ſhal I don to þee, O! keper of men? Whi haſt þou put me contrarie to þee, and am maad to myself heuy?
 xxi Whi takiſt þou not awei my synne, and whi doſt þou not awei my wickidneſſe? Lo! nowe in pouder I ſlepe, and if erli þou ſeche me, I ſhal not ſtonde stille.

Capitulum VIII.

i Anſwerende forſoþe Baldach Suythes ſeide, ii Hou longe ſhalt þou ſpeke ſuche þingus? Per is a manyfold ſpirit of þe woord of þi mouþ.
 iii Wheþer God ſupplauntiþ dom, and þe Almyȝti turneþ vþſo doun, þat is riȝtwis?
 iv Also if þi ſonyſ ſynneden to hym, and laſte þem þe hond of þer wickidneſſe;
 v in þou nerþelatere, if þou erli to gidere riſiſt to God, and þe Almyȝti haddeſt preȝid, vi if clene and riȝtwis þou goſt, anoon he ſhal waken out to þee, and maad peſible þe dwelling place of þi riȝtwisneſſe he ſhal ȝelde;
 vii in fo myche þat þi raþermor ieneracioun, and biſili enſerche þe mynde of þe faders.
 viii Forſoþe afke þe raþermor ieneracioun, and biſili enſerche þe mynde of þe faders.

ix Forsoþe wee ben as ȝisterdai born, and wee han vnkunnyng; for as shadewe oure daȝis ben vp on erþe.
 x And þei shul teche þee, and speke to þee, and fro þin herte shul bringe forþ spechis.
 xi Wheþer a reslhe may liuen wiþoute humour? or reeddi place growe wiþ oute water?
 xii Whanne ȝit be in flour, and be it not taken wiþ hond, beforne alle erbis it waxeþ drie.
 xiii So þe weies of alle men, þat forȝeten God; and þe hope of an ipocrite shal pershe.
 xiv To hym shal not plese his cowardise, and as þe web of attercoppis, his trost.
 xv He shal lene vp on his hous, and it shal not stonde;
 he shal vnder setten it, and it shal not rise.
 xvi Moiste semeþ þe reslhe, befor þe funne come; and in his springing þe buriownyng of it shal gon out.
 xvii Vp on an hep of stones his rootis shul be maad picke, and among þe stonyis it shal dwelle.
 xviii And if it pulle it vp fro his place, it shal denyen hym, and feyn, I knew not þee.
 xix Þis forsoþe is þe gladnesse of his weie, þat eft fro þe erþe oþere be buriouned.
 xx God shal not þrowen aferr þe symple, ne putten hond to shrewis;
 xxi to þe time þat þi mouþ be fulfild wiþ laȝhing, and þi lippis wiþ ioȝe.
 xxii Pei þat hateden bee shul be clad wiþ confusioun;
 and þe tabernacle of vnpitouse men shal not stonde stille.

Capitulum IX.

i Answeringe Job seiþ,
 ii Verreli I wot, þat so it is, and þat a man comparisoun to God shal not be iustified.
 iii If he wile striue wiþ hym, he shal not moun answere to hym oon for a þousend.
 iv Wis in herte he is, and strong in strengþe; who wiþtold to hym, and pes hadde?
 v Pat translatide hillis, and þese wisten not; whom he turnede vpsō doun in his wodnesse.
 vi Pat stiriþ þe erþe fro his place, and his pileris shul be smyte togidere.
 vii Pat comaundiþ to þe sunne, and springeþ not; and closeþ þe sterries, as vnder a sel.
 viii Be whiche alone streccheþ out heuenes, and goþ vp on þe flodis of þe se.
 ix Pat makeþ þe sterries, þat is clepid Arthurus, and Orionas, and Iadas, and þe innermor of þe souþ.
 x Pat makeþ grete þingus and vnferchable, and merueilouse þingus, of whiche is no noumbr.
 xi If he come to me, I shal not seen hym; if he go awei, I shal not vnderstonde.
 xii If peerli he aske, who shal answere to hym? or who may fein to hym, Whi doſt þou þus?

xiii God, to whos wraþe no man mai wiþtonde; vnder whom ben bowid, þat bern þe world. xiv Hou myche am I, þat I answere to hym, and speke in my woordus wiþ hym?
 xv Pe whiche also, if I shul han any þing riȝt, shal not answern; but my domys man I shal preȝen.
 xvi And whan he hereþ me inwardli clepende, I leue not, þat he shal here my vois.
 xvii In a whirlewind forsoþe he shal to-brofe me, and multiplien my woundis also wiþoute cause.
 xviii He graunteþ not my spirit to resten, and he fulfilliþ me wiþ bitternessis.
 xix If strengþe is soȝt, he is most strong; if euenenesse of dom, no man shal ben hardi for me to ȝelde witnesse.
 xx If I wile iustifie me, my mouþ shal condempne me;
 if innocent I shal shewe me, a shreve he shal proue me.
 xxi Also iff symple I shul be, þat fame my soule shal vnknowe; and it shal noȝe me of my lif.
 xxii O þing is, þat I spac, also þe innocent and þe vnpitous he shal waſte.
 xxiii If he scourgeþ, fle he onys, and not of þe peynes of innocentis laȝhe.
 xxiv Pe erþe is ȝiue in to þe hondis of þe vnpitous; his dom couereþ þe chere; þat if he is not, who þanne is?
 xxv My daȝis swiftere weren þan a corour; þei floun, and þei ſeȝen no good.
 xxvi Pei paſſeden as shipis berende appelis, as an egle fleende to mete.
 xxvii Whan I shal sei, Nai, þus I shal speke; I chaunge my face, and wiþ forewe I am tormentid.
 xxviii I shamede alle my werkis, witende þat þou shuldist not spare to þe giltende. xxix If forsoþe and so I am vnpitous, whi in vein haue I traualid?
 xxx If I shul be wasshe as wiþ watriis of snowȝ, and myn hondis as most clene shyneden, xxxi nerþelatere wiþ filþis þou shalt weete me, and my cloþis shul wlaten me.
 xxxii Ne forsoþe to þe man þat is lic me, I shal answern;
 ne þat wiþ me in dom euenli mai ben herd.
 xxxiii Pei is not, þat eiþer mai vndernyme, and putten his hond in boþe.
 xxxiv Do he awei fro me his ȝerde, and his inward drede fere me not.
 xxxv I shal speke, and I shal not dreden hym; ne forsoþe I mai dredende answern.

Capitulum X.

i It noȝeþ me of my lif; I shal leten aȝen me my speche, I shal speke in bitternessis to my soule.
 ii I shal sei to God, Wile þou not me condempne; shew to me, whi me so þou demest.
 iii Wheþer good to þee it semeþ, if þou chalenge and opresse me, þe werk of þin hondis; and þe counseil of vnpitous men þou helpe?

iiiii Wheþer fleshly eȝen ben to þee, or as seeþ a man, and þou shalt seen?
 v Wheþer as þe dajis of man, þi daȝes, and þi ȝeris ben as mannys tymes;
 vi þat þou seche my wickidnesse, and my synne þou ferche?
 vii And wite þou, for no þing vnpitous I dide; siþen þer is no man, þat of þin hond mai deliuere?
 viii ȝin hondis maden me, and formeden me al in enuyroun; and so eerli þou puttist me doun.
 ix Haue mynde, I beseche, þat as clei þou madist me, and in to pouder þou shalt aȝeen bringe me. x Wheþer not as mylc þou haft mylkid me, and as chefe þou haft cruddled me?
 xi Wiþ fel and flesh þou haft clad me; wiþ bones and senewis þou haft togidere ioyned me.
 xii Lif and mercy þou haft ȝiue to me, and þi visiting kepte my spirit.
 xiii Al be it þat þese þingus þou hidist in þin herte, nerþelatere I wot, for of alle þingus þou haft mynde.
 xiv If I synnede, and at an hourre þou sparedst to me;
 whi fro my wickidnesse þou suffrist not me to be clene?
 xv And if a wickid man I shal be, wo is to me; and if riȝtwis, I shal not reran vp þe hed, fulfild wiþ affliccioun and wrecchidnesse.
 xvi And for pride as a leounesse þou shalt take me; and turned aȝeen, merueilously þou tormentist me.
 xvii Pou restorist þi witneſſis aȝen me, and þou multipliest þi wraþe aȝen me; and peynes fiȝten in me.
 xviii Whi of þe wombe þou broȝtist me out? þat wolde God I hadde be waſtid, þat eȝe shulde not seen me.
 xix I hadde ben as I were not, fro þe wombe translatisd to þe toumbe.
 xx Wheþer not þe fewenesse of my dajis shal ben endid in short? Let me þanne, þat I weile a litil while my forewe, xxi er I go, and turne not aȝeen, to þe derke erþe, and couered wiþ þe dercneſſe of deþ þe erþe of wrecchidnesse and of dercneſſis; xxii wher shadewe of deþ, and noon order, but fulli indwelliþ euere durende orrour.

Capitulum XI.

i Anſwerende forſoþe Sofar Naamatithes feide, ii Wheþer he, þat manye þingus ſpekiþ, wheþer and he ſhal heren? or a man ful of woordis ſhal be iustified?
 iii To þee alone men ſhul holde þer pes? and whan oþer men þou ſcorneſt, of no man þou ſhalt be confoundid?
 iv þou forſoþe ſeidiſt, Pure is my woord, and clene I am in þi fiȝte.
 v And wolde God, God ſhulde ſpeke wiþ þee, and openen his lippis to þee;
 vi þat he ſhulde ſhewe to þee þe priuytes of wiſdam, and þat manyfold is his lawe, and þou ſhuldest vnderſtonde, þat manye laſſe þingus þou art aſkid of hym, þan deferueþ þi wickidnesse.

 vii Perauenture þe ſteppis of God þou ſhalt holde, and vnto perfit þe Almyȝti þou ſhalt finde.
 viii Heiȝere þan heuene he is, and what ſhalt þou do?
 deppere þan helle, and whennys ſhalt þou knownen? ix Lengere þan þe erþe þe meſure of hym, and braddere þan þe fe.
 x If he turne vpoſo doun alle þingus, or in to oon drawe togidere, who ſhal aȝenſtein to hym? Or who ſhal moun fey to hym, Whi doſt þou fo?
 xi He forſoþe knewȝ þe vanyte of men; and ſeande wickidnesse wheþer he beholde not?
 xii A veyn man in to pride is rerid; and as a colt of an aſſe, he weeneþ hymſelf born free.
 xiii Pou forſoþe haſt fastned þin herte, and haſt ſprad out to hym wiþ hondis.
 xiv If þe wickidnesse, þat is in wiþ hond, þou takeſt awei fro þee, and vnriȝtwiſnesſe abideþ not ſtille in þi tabernacle,
 xv þanne þou ſhalt moun rere þi face wiþ ouþe wem, and þou ſhalt be ſtable, and not dreden.
 xvi Of wrecchenesſe alſo þou ſhalt forȝete, and, as of watris þat paſſeden, þou ſhalt not recorde.
 xvii And as myddai liȝting it ſhal riſe to þee at euen;
 and whan þee waſtid þou wenest, þou ſhalt ſpringe as þe dai ſterre.
 xviii And þou ſhalt han troſt, purpoſid to þee hope; and doun dolue, liker þou ſhalt ſlepe. xix Pou ſhalt reſte, and þer ſhal not be þat fere þee; and manye ſhul preȝe þi face.
 xx Pe eȝen forſoþe of vnpitous men ſhul faile; and out fiȝt ſhal perſhe fro hem, and þe hope of hem abhomynacioun of ſoule.

Capitulum XII.

i Anſwerende forſoþe Job ſeide,
 ii þanne ȝee ben men alone, þat wiþ ȝou dwelle
 wiſdam?
 iii And to me is an herte, as and to ȝou, ne lowere I am þan ȝee; who forſoþe þeſe þingis, þat ȝee knownen, vñknoweþ?
 iv Who is ſcorneſt of his frend, as I, inwardli ſhal clepe God, and he ſhal heren hym; forſoþe þe ſymplenesſe of þe riȝtwiſe is ſcorneſt.
 v A laumpe deſpiſid anent þe þoȝtis of riche men, maad redi to þe ordeyned time.
 vi Pe tabernaclis of reueres abounden; and hardili þei terren God, whan he ȝiueþ alle þingus in to þe hondis of hem.
 vii No wunder, alke þe bestis, and þei ſhul teche þee;
 and þe foulis of heuene, and þei ſhul ſhewe to þee.
 viii Spec to þe erþe, and it ſhal anſwer to þee; and þe fiſhiſis of þe ſe ſhul telle þo þingis.

ix Who vnknoweþ, þat alle þese þingis þe hond of þe Lord made?
x In whos hond þe soule of alle lyuynge, and þe spirit of alle flesh of man.
xi Wheþer not þe ere demeþ woordis, and þe chekis of þe etere sauour?
xii In olde men is wiſdam, and in myche time prudence.
xiii Anent hym is wiſdam and strengþe; he haþ counſel and vnderſtonding.
xiv If he destroȝe, no man is þat bilde vp; if he incloſe a man, no man is þat opene.
xv If he holde togidere watriſ, alle þingus ſhul be maad drie; if he out ſende þem, þei ſhul turne vpfodoun þe erþe.
xvi Anent hym is strengþe and wiſdam; he knew and þe begilere and hym þat is begilid.
xvii And he bringeþ forþ þe counſeileris in to a fool ende, and domesmen in to ſtoneing.
xviii Þe girdil of kingus he loofide, and girte wiþ a corde þe reenes of hem.
xix He bringeþ þe preſtis of hem vnglorious, and þe beſte men of wrſhipe he ſupplauntiþ;
xx chaungende þe lippe of trewe men, and þe teching of olde men doende awei.
xxi He heeldeþ out despifing vp on princis, and hem, þat weren opreffid, releueþ.
xxii þat ſheweþ vp depe þingis fro dercneſſis; and bringeþ forþ in to liȝt þe ſhadewe of deþ.
xxiii þat multeplieþ Jentilis, and leefiþ hem, and turned vplo down in to þe hoole reſtoreþ.
xxiv þat wiþinne chaungeþ þe herte of þe prince of þe puple of þe erþe; and defceyueþ hem, þat in vein þei go bi wiþoute weie.
xxv þei ſhul graſpen, as in dercneſſis, and not in liȝt; and he ſhal make þem to erren as drunken.

Capitulum XIII.

i Lo! alle þingus faȝ myn eȝe, and myn ere herde; and I vnderſtod alle þingus.
ii Aftyr ȝoure kunnyng and I knewȝ, ne þe neþere of ȝou I am.
iii But nerþelater to þe Almyȝty I ſhal ſpeke, and to diſpute wiþ God I coueite; iv raþere ſhewende ȝou forgeris of leſingus, and herieris of ſhreude techingis.
v And wolde God, ȝee heelde ȝoure pes, þat ȝee weren weened wiſe men to ben.
vi Hereþ þanne my correcciouns; and to þe dom of my lippis takeþ heede to.
vii Wheþer God nedeþ ȝoure leſing, þat for hym ȝee ſpeke treccheries?
viii Wheþer his face ȝee taken, and for God ȝee enforcen to deme?

ix Or it ſhal pleſe to hym, whom hide no þing mai? Or he ſhal be deſceiued, as a man, wiþ oure giliſ.
x He ȝou ſhal vndernyme; for in hydelis his face ȝee take.
xi Anoon as he ſtereþ hymſelf, he ſhal diſturbe ȝou; and his drede ſhal falle vp on ȝou.
xii ȝoure mynde ſhal be comparisound to aſkis; and ȝoure nollis ſhul be broȝt aȝeen in to clei.
xiii Bep ſtille a litil while, þat I ſpeke, what euere þing to me þe mynde moue to.
xiv Whi to-tere I my flesh wiþ my teþ, and my foule I bere in myn hondis?
xv Also if he fle me, in hym I ſhal hope; nerþelatere my weies in his fiȝte I ſhal vndernyme.
xvi And he ſhal be my ſauyore; forſoþe þer ſhal not come in his fiȝt eche ipocrite.
xvii Hereþ my woord, and þe derke ſpeches parceyneþ wiþ ȝoure eris.
xviii If I ſhul be demed, I wot þat riȝtwis I ſhal be founde.
xix Who is he þat be demed wiþ me? Come he; whi beende ſtille I am waſtid?
xx Two þingus onli ne do þou to me; and þanne fro þi face I ſhal not ben hid.
xi Aþin hond fer do fro me; and þi ferd gaſte not me.
xii Clep me, and I ſhal anſweren to þee; or certis I ſhal ſpeke, and þou anſwere to me.
xiii Hou fele haue I wickidneſſis and synnes? Myn hidous trefpaſis and giltis ſheu to me.
xiv Whi þi face þou hidist, and demeſt me þin enemy?
xv Aȝen a lef, þat is raeſhid wiþ þe wind, þou ſhewiſt þi myȝt; and drie ſtobil þou purſuest.
xvi Forſoþe þou writiſt aȝen me bitterneſſis; and waste me þou wilt wiþ synnes of my waxende ȝouþe.
xvii þou haſt putte in þe ſtoc my foot, and þou haſt waitid alle my paþis; and þe ſteppis of my feet þou haſt beholde.
xviii þe whiche as roteneffe am to be waſtid, and as cloþing þat is eten of a mowȝhe.

Capitulum XIV.

i A man born of a womman, ſhort time liuende, is fulſild wiþ many wrecchidneſſis.
ii þat as a flour gop out, and is totreden; and fleþ as ſhadewe, and neuere in þe fame ſtate abit ſtille.
iii And wrþi þou bringiſt vpon ſuch a man to opene þin eȝen; and to bringe hym wiþ þee in to dom?
iv Who mai make clene þe conceyued of vnclene fed? Wheþer not þou, þat art alone?
v Shorte ben þe daȝis of man, þe noumbre of his moneþis is anent þee; þou haſt ordeyned his termes, þat ſhul not moun be paſſid ouer.
vi Go awēi þanne a litil fro hym, þat he reſte; to þe time þat þe deſirid dai come, and as of an hirid man þe dai of hym.

vii A tree hab̄ hope, if it be kut of; eft it waxeþ grene, and his braunchis springen.
 viii If his roote waxe old in þe erþe, and in pouder were out dead;
 ix his stoc at þe smel of water shal burioune, and shal make an hep of leues, as whan first it is plauntid.
 x A man forsoþe whan he shal be dead, and nakid, and waſtid; wher, I beseche, is he? xi What maner if watriſ gon awei fro þe ſe, and floſ voided waxe drie, xii fo a man, whan he ſlepeþ, shal not rife, to þe time þat he be totreden; heuene shal not wake out, ne he shal rife fro his ſlep.
 xiii Who ȝeue to me þat, þat in helle þou defende me, and hide me, to þe time þi wodneſſe ouerpaffe; and fette to me a time, in whiche þou recorde of me? xiv Wheþer weeneſt þou not a dead man eft liue? Alle þe daȝis, in whiche now I fiȝte, I abide, to þe time myn inward chaunging come.
 xv Pou ſhalt clepe me, and I ſhal anſwere to þee; to þe were of þin hondis þou ſhalt putte forþ þe riȝt hond. xvi Pou forſoþe haſt noumbrið my goingis; but ſpare to my synnes.
 xvii Pou haſt felid as in a litil ſac my giltis, but þou haſt kurid my wickidneſſe.
 xviii A fallende hil flowiþ doun, and a ſton is born ouer fro his place.
 xix Watriſ berlen out ſtones, and of ſmyting of watriſ þe erþe little mele is waſtid; þanne men lic maner þou ſhalt leſſe.
 xx Pou haſt ſtrengþid hym a litil, þat in to euermor he ſhulde paſſe; þou ſhalt inchaungen his face, and þou ſhalt fendēn hym out.
 xxi If forſoþe noble ſhul ben his ſonyſ, or vnnoble, he ſhal not vnderſtonde.
 xxii Nerþelatere his fleſh whil it liueþ, ſhal forewen, and his ſoule vp on himſelf ſhal weilen.

Capitulum XV.

i Anſwerende forſoþe Elifath Themanythes feide, ii Wheþer a wiſ man ſhal anſwere, as ſpekende in to wind, and he ſhal fulſiſle wiþ breſſing his ſtomač?
 iii Pou vnderneſſyt hym wiþ woordis, þat is not euene to þee, and þou ſpekiſt, þat ſpedeþ not to þee.
 iv As myche as in þee is, þou haſt voidid drede; and taken awei preȝeeriſ befor God.
 v Forſoþe þi wickidneſſe tauȝte þi mouþ, and þou folewistiſ a tunge of blaſphemende men.
 vi þi mouþ ſhal condempne þee, and not I, and þi lippis ſhul anſwer to þee.
 vii Wheþer þe firſte man þou art born, and beforne alle hillis formed?
 viii Wheþer þe counſeil of God þou haſt herd, and lowere þan þou ſhalt ben his wiſdam?

ix What knewe þou, þat wee vñknownen? What vnderſtondes þou, þat wee wite not?
 x And men of þe laſte age and of manye ȝeeriſ ben in vs, myche eldere þan þi fadris. xi Wheþer gret it is, þat God coumforte þee? But þi ſhreude woordis forfenden þat.
 xii What rereþ þee þin herte, and as grete þingis þenkende þou haſt ſtoneȝid eȝen?
 xiii What aȝen God ſwelleþ þi ſpirit, þat þou ſpeke of þi mouþ ſuſhe maner woordis?
 xiv What is a man, þat he be vndeſoulid, and riȝtwis ſeme born of a womman?
 xv Lo! among his feintus noon is vñchaungable, and heuenes ben not clene in his fiȝt.
 xvi Hou myche more an abhominal and an vñprofitable man, þat drinkeþ as watriſ wickidneſſe?
 xvii I ſhal ſhewe to þee, here me; þat I ſaȝ, I ſhal telle to
 þee.
 xviii Wife men knoulechen, and ſhul not hide þer faders.
 xix To whom alone is ȝiue þe erþe, and þer ſhal not paſſe an alien bi hem.
 xx Alle his daȝis þe vnpitouſ man proudeþ; and þe noumbre of ȝeris of his tiraundife is vncertein.
 xxi þe ſoun of ferd euermore in þe eris of hym, and whan pes is, he euermor troweþ aſpies.
 xxii He beleueþ not þat he mai be turned aȝeen fro dercneſſes vnto liȝt, beholdende fwerd on alle fides aboute.
 xxiii Whan he moueþ hymſelf to ſeſchen bred, he knew,
 þat dai of dercneſſis is maad redi in his hond.
 xxiv Tribulacioun ſhal gaſten hym, and anguyſh ſhal enuyroune hym, as a king þat is beforne maad redi to bataile.
 xxv Forſoþe he bende his hond aȝen God, and aȝen þe Almyȝti he is ſtrengþid.
 xxvi He ran aȝen God þe necke vpriȝt, and he is armed wiþ a fat nol.
 xxvii Fatneſſe couerde his face, and of his fides grece hanȝeþ.
 xxviii He ſhall dwelle in deſolat cites, and in deſert houſis, þat ben broȝt in to toumbis.
 xxix He ſhal not be maad riche, ne his ſubſtaunce ſhal abide ſtille; and he ſhal not putte in þe erþe his roote, xxx ne gon awei fro dercneſſis. His braunchis flaume ſhal make drie, and he ſhal be take awei þurȝ þe ſpirit of his mouþ.
 xxxi Trowe he not in vein bi errour deſcyeued, þat for any pris he is to ben aȝeen boȝt. xxxii Er his daȝis ben fulſild, he ſhal perſhe, and his hondis ſhul waxe drie; xxxiii he ſhal `ben hurt as a vine, in þe firſte flour his cluſter, and as an oliue þrowende awei his flour.
 xxxiv Forſoþe þe gedering of an ipocrite barein, and fyr ſhal deuoure þer tabernaclis, þat gladli taken ȝiftis.

xxxv He conceyuede forewe, and bar wickidnesse, and his wombe befor makiȝ redi treccheries.

Capitulum XVI.

i Answerende forsoȝe Job seide, ii I haue herd ofte ȝifȝes suche þingus; alle ȝee ben heuye coumfortoures.

iii Wheþir windi woordis shul not han ende? or any þing is greuous to þee, if þou spekisȝ?

iv And I myȝte lic þingis of ȝou speken, and wolde God ȝoure lif were for my lif; and I shulde coumforte ȝou wiȝ woordis, and moue myn hed vp on ȝou;

v I shulde strengþe ȝou wiȝ my mouȝ, and moue þe lippis as sparenede to ȝou. But what shal I do?

vi If I shal speke, my forewe `shal not reste; and if I shul holde my pes, it `shal not go fro me awei.

vii Now forsoȝe my forewe haþ oþrefȝid me, and alle my lymes ben turned in to noȝt.

viii My ryuelis seyn witnesse aȝen me, and þe false feiere is rered vp aȝen my face, wiȝfeiende to me.

ix He gederede his wodnesse in me, and pretende to me gnaftide vp on me wiȝ his teþ; myn enemy wiȝ grifli eȝen me beheld.

x þei openeden þer mouȝis vp on me, and myfseiendo smyten my cheke; þei ben fulfild wiȝ my peynes.

xi God haþ clofȝid me anent þe wicke, and to þe hondis of vnpitouſe toc me.

xii And I he sum time plenteuouse, feerli am forewid; he haþ holde my nol; he haþ to-broȝid me, and put me as in to a marke.

xiii He haþ enuyround me wiȝ his speris, he woundede my leendis to gidere; he sparide not, and he dalf out in to þe erþe my bowelis.

xiv And he heewȝ me wiȝ wounde vp on wounde; and he fel in to me as a ȝeaunt.

xv I souwide a fac vpon my fkin; and I couerede my flesh wiȝ askis.

xvi My face to-fwal for weping, and myn eȝe lidis daswiden.

xvii þese þingus I suffride wiȝoute wickidnesse of myn hond, whan I hadde to God clene preȝeeriis.

xviii Erþe, ne couere þou my blod, ne my cry finde in þee place of lurking.

xix Lo! forsoȝe in heuene is my witnesse; am I knowere of myself in heiȝtis?

xx My woordi frendis, myn eȝe droppiȝ to God.

xxi And wolde God, so a man shulde be demed wiȝ God, hou þe sone of man is demed wiȝ his felawe.

xxii Lo! forsoȝe shorte ȝeris passen, and þe stȝ, bi þe whiche I shal not be turned aȝeen, I go.

Capitulum XVII.

i My spirit shal be maad þynne; my daȝis shul be shortid, and onli to me leueþ ouer a sepulcre.

ii I synnede not, and in bittirnessis abideþ myn eȝe.

iii Lord, deliuere me, and put me beside þee; and whos euere hond þou wilt, fiȝte aȝen me.

iv þe herte of hem þou haft maad aferre fro discipline; þerfore þei shul not ben enhauncid.

v A prei he behotilþ to felawis, and his sones eȝen shul failen.

vi He putte me as in to a prouerbe of þe comun, and his exfaumples beforne hem.

vii At þe indignacion dafwide myn eȝe; and my lymes as vnto noȝt ben broȝt.

viii Riȝtwis men shul stoneȝen vp on þat; and þe innocent aȝen þe ipocrite shal be stirid vp.

ix And þe riȝtwis shal holden his weie, and wiȝ clene hondis adde strengþe.

x Panne alle ȝee beþ conuertid, and comeþ; and I shal not finde in ȝou any wis man.

xi My daȝis passeden; my þoȝtis ben scattered, tormentende myn herte.

xii Nyȝt þei turneden in to dai; and eft aftir dercneſſis I hope liȝt.

xiii If I shul sustene, helle is myn hous; and in dercneſſis I beddede my bed.

xiv To stinc I seide, þou art my fader; My moder and my sister, to wermes.

xv Wher is þanne now myn abiding? and my pacience who beholdeþ?

xvi In to þe most deppeſt helle shul falle doun alle myne; wenest þou nameli, wheþir þere shal ben reste to me?

Capitulum XVIII.

i Answerende forsoȝe Baldath Suythes seide, ii In to what ende woordis þou shalt boſte? Vnderſtond raþere, and so speke wee.

iii Whi be wee holden as bestis, and wee han waxe foul before þee?

iv What leſiȝt þou biȝ soule in biȝ wodnesse? Wheþer for bee þe erþe shal be forsaken, and rochis shal be translatid fro þer placis?

v Wheþer þe liȝt of þe wycke man shal not be quenchid; ne þe flaume of his fyr shal fhyne?

vi Liȝt shal waxe derk in his tabernacle; and þe lanterne þat is vpon hym shal be quenchid.

vii þe goingis of his vertue shul be streitid; and his counseyl shal putten hym doun.

viii Forsoȝe he putte in his feet in to þe nett; and in his filpiȝ he goþ.

ix His sole shal ben holde wiȝ a grene; and þrist shal brenne out aȝen hym.

x His foot grene is hid in þe erþe, and his desceyunde gyn vp on þe stȝ.

xi Al aboute feris shul gaſten hym, and wipinne wrappen his feet.

xii His strengþe shal ben feblid wiȝ hunger; and scarsnesse of mete asaile his ribbis.

xiii Deuoure it þe fairnesse of hys skin; þe firste gotten deþ waste þe armys of hym.
 xiv His troft be pullid vp fro his tabernacle; and deþ trede vp on hym, as a king al aboue.
 xv Dwellen his felawis in þe tabernacle of hym þat is not; brumston be sprengd in his tabernacle. xvi Doun be dried his rootis; aboue forsoþe be totreden his rip.
 xvii þe mynde of hym perþe fro þe erþe; and his name be not maad solempne in stretis.
 xviii He þhal putten hym out fro liȝt in to dercnessis; and fro þe roundnesse ouerbern hym.
 xix His sed ne progenye þhal ben in his puple, ne any remnaunt in þe regiouns of hym.
 xx In his daȝes þe laste men shul stonȝen; and grifing þhal asaile þe firste.
 xxi þese þanne ben þe tabernaclis of þe wicke man; and pis his place, þat vnknownþ God.

Capitulum XIX.

i Answeringe forsoþe Job seide, ii Hou longe ȝee tormente my lif, and pownen me wiþ woordis?
 iii Lo! ten sipes ȝee confounde me, and ȝee shame not,
 oþressende me.
 iv Forsoþe if I am vnknownde, wiþ me it shal be, myn vnkunningg.
 v And ȝee aȝen me ben rerid, and vndernyme me wiþ my repreues.
 vi Nameli now vnderstondeþ, for God not wiþ euene dom tormentiþ me, and wiþ his scourgis girdiþ me.
 vii Lo! I shal crie sufferende fors, and no man shal here;
 I shal crien out, and þer is not þat deme.
 viii My stye he heggide aboute, and I mai not gon ouer;
 and in my pap he putte dercnesses.
 ix He spoilide me my glorie, and he toc awei þe croune fro myn hed.
 x He destroȝide me al aboute, and I pershe; and as to a pullid vp tree he toc awey myn hope.
 xi His wodness is wrop aȝen me; and so me he hadde as his enemy.
 xii His þeues camen togidere, and maden to hem a weie bi me; and besegiden in enuyroun my tabernacle.
 xiii He made a ferr my brenþen fro me; and my knownen as alienes wenten awei fro me.
 xiv My neȝh men forsoken me; and þat me hadden knowe forȝete me.
 xv Pe comelingus of myn hous and myn hond wymen as an alien hadden me; and as a pilgrim I was in þe eȝen of hem.
 xvi My seruaunt I clepide, and he answarde not to me;
 wiþ my propre mouȝ I preȝede hym.
 xvii My wif agrifide my breþ; and I preȝede þe fones of my wombe.

xviii Foolys also despisiden me; and whan I hadde gon awei fro þem, þei 'bacbiten to me.
 xix Sum time my counseyleris wlateden me; and whom I most loouede wiþstod me.
 xx My bon cleuede to my skin, þe flesh waſtid; and onli þe lippis ben lafte aboute my teþ.
 xxi Haueþ reuþe of me, haueþ reuþe of me, nameli, ȝee my frendis; for þe hond of þe Lord haþ touchid me.
 xxii Whi purſue ȝee me, as God; and wiþ my flesh ȝee be fulſild?
 xxiii Who ȝiueþ to me, þat my woordis be writen?
 xxiv Who ȝiueþ to me þat þei be grauen in a boc wiþ an iren pointel, or wiþ a pece of led; or wiþ a chisell þei be grauen in flint?
 xxv Forsoþe I wot, þat myn aȝeenbiere liueþ, and in þe laste dai I am to rife fro þe erþe; xxvi and eft þhal ben enuyround wiþ my skin, and in my flesh I shal fe God, my fauere.
 xxvii Whom I myself am to seen, and myn eȝen ben to beholden, and noon oþer. Þis myn hope is led vp in my bosum.
 xxviii Whi þanne now sey ȝee, Purſue wee hym, and þe roote of woord finde wee aȝen hym?
 xxix Fleeþ þanne fro þe face of swerd; for vengere of wickidnesse is þe swerd, and witeþ dom to be.

Capitulum XX.

i Answeringe forsoþe Sofar Naamatites, seide, ii Perfore my þoȝtis diuers comyn after oþer to þem;
 and my mynde in to diuers þingus is raueſhid.
 iii Pe doctrine þat þou vnder nemest me, I shal heren;
 and þe ſpirit of myn vnderſtonding shal anſwern to me.
 iv þat I wot fro þe begynnyng, ſiþen a man 'is sett vp on erþe,
 v þat be preiſing of vnpitouſ men is ſhort, and þe ioȝe of an ipocrite at þe licnesse of a point.
 vi If his pride ſteȝe vp in to heuene, and þe cloude touche his hed, vii as a dunghil, in þe ende he shal ben lost; and þei þat hadden ſeen hym, shul fein, Wher is he?
 viii As a ſweuene fleende awei he shal not be founde;
 he shal paſſe as þe nyȝt ſiȝe.
 ix Pe eȝe þat hym faȝ shal not ſeen; and his place no mor shal beholden hym.
 x His fones shul be to-trede wiþ nede; and þe hondis of hym shul ȝelde to hym his forewe.
 xi Pe bones of hym shul be fulſild wiþ viciſ of his waxende ȝouþe; and wiþ hym in pouder þei shul ſlepe.
 xii Whan forsoþe euel were sweete in his mouȝ, he hidde it vnder his tunge.
 xiii He shal ſpare to it, and not forsaken it; and hiden in his proþe.
 xiv Pe bred of hym in his wombe shal be turned in to galle of edderes wiþinneforþ.

xv Pe richeffis þat he deouorede, he shal spewen out; and of his wombe God shal drawe þem out.
 xvi Pe hed of edderes shal rise; and þe tunge of þe serpent shalflen hym.
 xvii See he not þe little ryueres of þe flod, of þe strem of honys, and of buttere.
 xviii He shal abie alle þingus þat he dide, and nerþelater he shal not be wastid; aftir þe multitude of his findingus, so and he shal suffre.
 xix For brekende togidere he nakide þe hous of þe pore man; rauehide, and not bilde it.
 xx And his wombe is not fulfild; and whan he shal han, þat he hadde couetid, he shal not moun welde.
 xxi Per 'lafte not of his mete; and þerfore no þing shal leue of his goodus.
 xxii Whan he shal be fulfild, he shal be streyned, and brenne; and alle forewe shal falle in to hym.
 xxiii Wolde God his wombe be fulfild, þat he fende out in to hym þe wraþe of his wodnesse, and reyne vp on hym his bataile.
 xxiv He shal fleen iren armys; and he shal falle in to þe brasene bowe.
 xxv Broȝt out, and goende out fro his sheþe, and leitinge in to his bitternesse; þei shul go, and come vp on hym alle grisful.
 xxvi Hid dercnessis be in his priue þingus; fyr shal deouore hym, þat shal not be rend vp; laft in his tabernacle he shal be tormentid.
 xxvii Heuenys shul shewen his wickidnesse; and erþe shal rise aȝen hym.
 xxviii Pe buriounyng of his hous shal ben opened; it shal be to drawen awei in þe dai of þe wodnesse of þe Lord.
 xxix ƿis is þe part of þe vnpitous man fro God, and þe eritage of his woordis fro þe Lord.

Capitulum XXI.

i Answerende forsoþe Job seide, ii Hereþ, I besche, my woordis, and doþ penaunce.
 iii Suffreþ me, and I shal speke; and after my woordus, if it shul be seen, laȝheþ.
 iv Wheþir any man is my disputeſoun, þat þurȝ desert I owe not to be maad sory?
 v Takeþ heede to me, and becomeþ doumbe; and puttþ vpon þe finger to ȝoure mouþ.
 vi And whan I shal recorde, drede and trembling shal smyte togidere my flesh.
 vii Whi þanne vnpitous men liuen, and ben rered vp, and comfortheid wiþ richeffis?
 viii Pe fed of hem abit ſtille beforne hem; and þe cumpayne of neeȝ men, and of cosynes in þe ſiȝte of hem.
 ix Pe houſis of hem ben ſikere, and peſible; and þe ȝerde of God is not vp on hem.
 x Pe oxe of hem conceyued, and bar not abortif; þe kow bar, and is not priued þe frut.

xi Pe little childer of hem gon out as flockis; and þe fauntis of hem gladen out wiþ pleies.
 xii Pe holden þe timbre, and þe harpe; and ioȝen at þe ſoun of þe orgne.
 xiii Pei ledien in goodis þer daȝis; and in a point to hellis þei go doun.
 xiv Pe whiche feiden to God, Go awei fro vs; þe kunningyng of þi weies wee wiln not.
 xv Who is þe Almyȝti, þat wee ferue to hym? and what profiteþ to vs, if wee preȝen hym?
 xvi Nerþelater for þer goodis ben not in þe hond of hem, þe counseil of vnpitous men be aferr fro me.
 xvii Hou ofte ſiþes þe lanterne of vnpitouse men shal be quenchid, and flowing ouercam to þem, and deuidede þe forewis of his wodnesse?
 xviii Pei shul ben as chaf befor þe face of wind; and as a sparke, þat þe cole ſcatereþ.
 xix God shal kepe to þe ſones of hym þe forewe of þe fader; and whan he shal ȝelde, þanne he shal knownen.
 xx His eȝen shul ſeen his flaȝter; and of þe wodnesse of þe Almyȝti he shal drinke.
 xxi What forſoþe to hym perteneþ of his hous aftir hym, and if þe noumbre of his moneþis shal 'come to þe half?
 xxii Wheþir any man shal teche God kunningyng, þat demeþ heȝe men?
 xxiii ƿis dieþ ſtronge and hol, riche and welfun.
 xxiv His bowelis ben ful of talȝ; and þe bones of hym ben moistid wiþ marȝ.
 xxv Anoþer forſoþe dieþ in þe bitternesse of his foule, wiþoute any richeffis.
 xxvi And nerþelater togidere in pouder þei shul ſlepe, and wermes shul couere þem.
 xxvii Certis I haue knowe ȝoure þoȝtis, and ȝoure wicke ſentencis aȝen me.
 xxviii ȝee ſeyn forſoþe, Wher is þe hous of þe prince? and where þe tabernaclis of vnpitous men?
 xxix Alſkeþ any man of þe weie goeris; and þese fame þingis ȝee shul knowe hym to vnderſtonde.
 xxx For þe euele man shal be kept 'in to þe dai of perdiſion, and to þe dai of wodnesse he shal be broȝt.
 xxxi Who shal vndernyme beforne hym his weyes? and what he dide, who shal ȝelde to hym?
 xxxii He shal be broȝt to þe ſepulcris; and in þe hipil of deade men shal wake.
 xxxiii He was sweete to þe greet of helle flod; and after hym alle men he droȝ, and beforne hym vnnouembrable.
 xxxiv Hou þanne comforȝe ȝee me in vein, whan ȝoure anfweris ben ſhewid to repugne 'to þe treuþe?

Capitulum XXII.

i Answerende forſoþe Elifath Temanites feide, ii Wheþer to God mai a man ben comparifound, alſo whan he shal be of perfit kunningyng?

iii What profitib to God, if þou shul be riȝtwis? or what to hym bringist þou, if þi lif were vndefoulid?
 iii Wheþer dredende he shal vndernyme þee, and come wiþ þee in to dom, v and not for þi myche malice, and þi wickidnessis vnendid?
 vi Forsoþe þou haſt take awei þe wed of þi breþern wiþ oute cause; and nakid men þou haſt spoilið fro cloþis.
 vii Water to þe weri þou ȝeue not; and to þe hungry þou wiþdrowe bred.
 viii In þe strengþe of þin arm þou welledest þe erþe; and moſt myȝti þou heelde it.
 ix Widewis þou laſtift voide; and þe brawnes of moderles childer þou to-broſidift.
 x Perfore þou art enuyround wiþ granes; and eerli drede disturbide þee.
 xi þou wendeſt þee not to ſeen dercneſſis; and þurȝ bire of rennyngē watriſ not to ben opreſſid.
 xii Wheþer þenkeſt þou, þat God be heȝere þan heuene, and ouer þe cop of sterres he be heȝed?
 xiii And þou feiſt, What forſoþe þe Lord knewȝ? and, As bi dercneſſe he demeþ?
 xiv A cloude his hideliſ, ne oure þingus he beholdeþ, and aboute þe vttermoſtis of heuene he goþ.
 xv Wheþer þe ſti of worldis þou coueitift to kepe, þe whiche wicke men treden?
 xvi þe whiche ben rerid befor þer time, and floð turnede vp fo doun þe foundement of hem.
 xvii þe whiche feiden to God, Go awei fro vs; and as þe Almyȝti miȝte do no þing, þei eymeden hym, xviii whan he hadde fulſild þer houſis wiþ goodis; whos ſentence ferr be fro me.
 xix Riȝtwis men shul ſeen, and be glad; and þe innocent shal ſcorne þem.
 xx Wheþer is nott hewe doun þe rering vp of hem, and fyr ſhall deouore þer relikiſ?
 xxi Affente þanne to hym, and haue pes; and bi þeſe þingus þou ſhalt han beſt frutis.
 xxii Tac of his mouþ þe lawe, and put his woordis in þin herte.
 xxiii If þou shul be turned aȝeen to þe Almyȝti, þou ſhalt be bild vp; and aferr þou ſhalt make þe wickidneſſe fro þi tabernacle.
 xxiv He ſhal ȝiue for þe erþe flint, and for þe flint goldene ſtremes.
 xxv And þe Almyȝti ſhal ben aȝen þin enemys; and ſeluer ſhal ben hepid to þee.
 xxvi þanne vp on þe Almyȝti deliciſ þou ſhalt flowen; and þou ſhalt reren vp to God þi face.
 xxvii þou ſhalt preȝen hym, and he ſhal here þee; and þi vrouwiſ þou ſhalt ȝelde.
 xxviii þou ſhalt beholden a þing, and it ſhal come to þee; and in þi weies liȝt þhal lhyne.
 xxix He forſoþe þat ſhal be mekid, ſhal ben in glorie; and he þat bowiþ his eȝen, ſhal be faued.

xxx þe innocent ſhal be faued; forſoþe he ſhal be faued bi þe clennesse of hyſe hondys.

Capitulum XXIII.

i Anſwerende forſoþe Job ſeide, ii Now alſo in bitterneſſe is my woord, and þe hond of my veniaunce is aggredit vp on my weiling.
 iii Who to me ȝeue, þat I knowe, and finde hym, and come vnto þe feet of hym?
 iv I ſhal ſetten befor hym dom, and my mouþ I ſhal fille wiþ blaſmyngis;
 v þat I wite þe woordis, þat he anſwerþ to me, and vnderſtonde what he ſpeke to me.
 vi I wil not wiþ myche ſtrengþe he ſtrive wiþ me, ne wiþ þe peis of his mykilneſſe he bere me doun.
 vii He purpoſe euenerneſſe aȝen me, and myn dom come to victorie.
 viii If to þe eſt I ſhal go, he apereþ not; if to þe weſt, I ſhal not vnderſtonde hym; ix if to þe lift, what þhal I do? I ſhal not otake hym; if I turne me to þe riȝt, I ſhal not ſeen hym.
 x He forſoþe wot my weie, and ſhal proue me as gold, þat þurȝ þe fyr paſſeþ.
 xi My foot foledwide his ſteppis; his weie I kepte, and I bowide not doun fro it.
 xii Fro þe heftis of his lippis I wente not awei; and in my boſum I hidde þe woordis of his mouþ.
 xiii He forſoþe is alone, and no man mai turne awey his þoȝtis; and his foule what þing euere it wolde, þat it dide.
 xiv Whan it ſhal fulſille in me his wil, and opere manye lic þingus ben redi to hym.
 xv And þerfore fro þe face of hym I am diſturbid, and beholdende hym wiþ drede I am bifys.
 xvi God temprede myn herte, and þe Almyȝti diſturbide me.
 xvii Forſoþe I perſhide not for þe aboue comende dercneſſis; and dulkenneſſe couerede my face.

Capitulum XXIII.

i Fro þe Almyȝti ben not hid þe times; þei forſoþe þat knewen hym, vñknownen his daȝis.
 ii Opere men tranſlateden termes, breeken atwynne þe flockis, and fedden hem.
 iii þei dryuen awei þe affe of moderles childer, and token awei for a wed þe oxe of þe widewe.
 iv þei turneden vp fo doun þe weie of pore men, and opreſſeden togidere þe debonere men of erþe.
 v Opere men as affis in defert gon out to þer werc; and wakende at þe prey, greipe bred to fre childer.
 vi þe feld not þers þei defroȝen, and his vine, whom bi violence þei opreſſeden, þei kutte þe grapis.
 vii Nakid þei leue men, takende awei cloþis, to whom is no koueryng in cold;

viii whom wederes of hillis moisten, and not hauende wrielys clippe stones.
 ix Fors þei diden robbende moderles childer; and þe comun of pore men þei spoileden.
 x To þe nakide, and to þe goende wiþoute cloping, and to þe hungri þei token awei eris. xi Among þe hipilis of hem þei resteden in mydday, þe whiche þresten, þe pressoures tredid.
 xii Pey maden men of citees to weilen, and þe liues of woundid men shul crien; and God suffreþ not vnuengid to gon awey.
 xiii þei weren rebel to liȝt; þei knewen not his weies, ne þei be turned aȝeen bi his sties.
 xiv Erli first riseþ þe mansleere, and he sleþ þe nedy, and þe pore; bi þe nyȝt forsoþe he shal ben as a þef.
 xv Pe eȝe of þe auoutrer waiteþ derknesse, seiende, Pe eȝe shal not see me; and he shal coueren his chere.
 xvi þei breeken þurȝ houfis in dercnesses, as in þe dai þei hadde seid togidere to þemself; and þei vnknewe liȝt.
 xvii If feerli apere þe morutid, þei deme þe shadewe of deb; and so in dercnessis þei gon as in liȝt.
 xviii Liȝt he is vp on þe face of þe water; cursid be his part in þe erþe, ne go he bi þe weie of vines.
 xix To ful myche hete he shal passen fro þe watriss of snowis, and vnto helle þe synne of hym. xx His mercy be forȝeten; his swetnesse a worm; be he not in recording, but be totrede as a tree vnfructuous.
 xxi Forsoþe he fedde þe barein, þat bar not child, and to þe widewe he dide not wel.
 xxii He droȝ doun þe stronge men in þer strengþe; and whan he shulde stonde, he shall not trowe to his lif.
 xxiii God to hym a place of penaunce ȝaf, and he myfuseþ it in to pride; forsoþe þe eȝen of hym ben in his weies.
 xxiv þei ben rerid at a litol, and þei shul not stonde stille; and þei shul be mekid as alle þinges, and be do awey; and as þe ouermostis of corn eris þei shul ben to-broosid.
 xxv þat if it is not so, who may me vndernyme to han lowen, and to putte beforne God my woordys?

Capitulum XXV.

i Answeringe forsoþe Baldac Suytes seide, ii Power and fere anent hym is, þat makeþ acord in þer heȝe put þingus.
 iii Wheþer is þer noumble of þe knyȝtis of hym? and vp on whom fhyneþ not þe liȝt of hym?
 iv Wheþer mai a man be iustified comparisoun to God, or seme clene born of a womman?
 v Lo! also þe mone shineþ not, and þe sterriis ben not clene in þe siȝte of hym; vi myche more a man stink, and þe fone of a man a worm.

Capitulum XXVI.

i Answeringe forsoþe Job seide,
 ii Whos helpere art þou? wheþer feble, and sustenest þe arm of hym, þat is not strong?
 iii To whom hast þou ȝiue counseil? Perauenture to hym þat haþ no wiþdam; and myche prudence þou hast shewid.
 iv Or whom woldest þou techen? wheþer not hym, þat made space of breþing?
 v Lo! ȝeauntis weilen vnder watriss, and þat duellen wiþ
 hem.
 vi Nakid is helle beforne hym, and no coueryng is to perdicoun.
 vii He þat streccheþ out þe norþ vp on vein, and hangeþ vp þe erþe vp on noȝt.
 viii þat bindeþ watriss in his cloudis, þat þei breke not out togidere dounward.
 ix þat holdeþ þe chere of his sete, and streccheþ out vp on it his cloude.
 x Pe terme he enuyrounde wiþ watriss, vn to þe time þat ben fynylht liȝt and dercnellis.
 xi Pe piloris of heuene togidere quaken, and dreden at his bek.
 xii In þe strengþe of hym feerli ses ben gedered, and þe prudence of hym smot þe proude man.
 xiii His spirit ȝurnede heuenes, and his hond liȝtli ledende out, þe eche side krokende eddere is led out.
 xiv Lo! a part ben seid of his weies; and whan vneȝeþ a litol drope of his woord wee han herd, who shal moun þe þunder of his gretnesse beholde?

Capitulum XXVII.

i Also Job addede, takende his parable, ii and seiþ, God liueþ, þat toc awei my dom, and þe Almyȝti, þat to bitternesse broȝte my lif.
 iii For whil þer leueþ breþ in me, and þe spirit of God in my nose þerlis,
 iv my lippis shul not speke wickidnesse, ne my tungue shal beþenke lesing.
 v Ferr be fro me, þat I deme ȝou to be riȝtwise; to þe time I faile, I shal not gon awei fro myn innocence.
 vi My iustifiyng, þat I haue begunne to holde, I shal not forsake; ne forsoþe myn herte repreude me in al my lif.
 vii As vnpitous myn enemye; myn aduersarie as wicke.
 viii What is forsoþe þe hope of an ipocrite, if auerously he take, and God deliuere not his foule?
 ix Wheþer God shal here þe cri of hym, whan shal come vp on hym anguysh?
 x or shal moun in þe Almyȝti delite, and inwardly clepe God in alle tyme?
 xi I shal teche ȝou bi þe hond of God, what þingus þe Almyȝti haþ; and I shal not hide.
 xii Lo! alle ȝee han knowe, and what wiþoute caufe veyne þingis ȝee speken?

xiii Þis is þe part of þe vnpitous man anent God, and þe eritage of þe violent men, þat of þe Almyȝti þei shul take.
 xiv If his sones be multeplied, þei shul be in swerd; and his sones sones shul not be fulfild wiþ bred.
 xv Pat shul be laft of hym, shul be biried in deb; and his widewis shul not wepe.
 xvi If he shul bere togidere as erþe siluer, and as clei make redi cloþis;
 xvii he greiþede forsoþe, but þe riȝtwise shal be clad wiþ þem, and þe innocent shall deuyde þe siluer.
 xviii He bilde vp his hous as a mowȝhe, and as a keper he made an hilet.
 xix Þe riche man, whan he shal flepe, no þing wiþ hym shal bern; he shal opene his eȝen, and no þing he shal finde.
 xx Myseſe shal cacchen hym as water; in þe nyȝt shal oprefse hym tempest.
 xxi Brennende wind shal take hym, and don awei; and as a whirlewind shal raueſhen hym fro his place.
 xxii He shal fenden out vp on hym, and not sparen; fro his hond fleende he shal flee.
 xxiii He shal streyne vp on hym his hondis, and whistlen vpon hym, beholdende his place.

Capitulum XXVIII.

i Siluer hap þe principlis of his veynes; and to gold is a place, in þe whiche it is blowe togidere.
 ii Iren fro þe erþe is taken, and a ston losid bi hete, in to bras is turned.
 iii Tyme he putte to dercneſſis, and þe ende of alle þingus he beholdep.
 iv Also þe strem deuydeþ þe ston of duscneſſe, and þe shadewe of deb, fro þe puple pilgrimage; hem, whom þe foot of þe nedis man forȝat, in to men wiþoute weies.
 v Þe erþe, of þe whiche bred cam of in his place, wiþ fyr is turned ypfodoun.
 vi Place of a safyr is stones, and þe gluggis of hym gold.
 vii Þe brid vnknowȝ þe sty, ne þe eȝe of þe gripe beheeld it.
 viii Þe sones of marchaundis treeden it not, ne þe leounesse þurȝ passide bi it.
 ix To þe flint he straȝte out his hond; he turnede ypfodoun fro þe rootis þe hillis.
 x In stones riueres he heewȝ out; and alle precious þing faȝ his eȝe.
 xi Þe depe þingus also of flodis he enſerchide; and hid þingus he broȝte in to liȝt.
 xii Wifdam forsoþe, wher is it founde, and what is þe place of vndirſtonding?
 xiii A man wot not þe pris of it, ne it is founde in þe lond of sweteli lyuende men.

xiv Þe depneſſis of watriſ feiþ, It is not in me; and þe fe ſpekeþ, It is not wiþ me.
 xv Shynende gold shal not be ȝiue for it, ne siluer shal be peiſid in þe chaffaring of it.
 xvi It shal not be comparisound to þe steyned coloures of Ynde, ne to þe moſt precious fardenyk ston, or safyr.
 xvii Ne shal be maad euene to it gold, or glas; ne for it shul be chaungid vſſelis of gold, heȝe and ouerſtondende, xviii ne shul be remembrið in þe comparisoun of it. Wifdam forsoþe is drawen of hidde þingis;
 xix ne þer shal be maad euene to it topasie of Ethiope, ne to þe moſt clene steynyng shal be comparisound.
 xx Whennes þanne wifdam shal come, and what is þe place of vnderſtonding?
 xxi It is hid fro þe eȝen of alle liuende men; alſo to þe foulis of heuene it is vnknownen.
 xxii Perdiciooun and deb ſeiden, Wiþ oure eris wee han herd þe fame of it.
 xxiii God vnderſtant þe weie of it, and he knewȝ þe place of it.
 xxiv He forſoþe lookeþ þe endis of þe world; and alle þingus þat ben vnder heuene he beholdep.
 xxv þat made to windis peis, and watriſ heeng vp in meſure.
 xxvi Whan he putte to reynes lawe, and weie to ſounende tempeſtis; xxvii þanne he faȝ it, and tolde out, and made redi beforne, and enſerchide.
 xxviii And he ſeide to man, Lo! þe drede of God, it is wifdam; and to gon awei fro euel, vnderſtonding.

Capitulum XXIX.

i Also Job addede, takende to his parable, and ſeide, ii Who ȝeue to me, þat I be after þe rabere moneþis, after þe daȝes in þe whiche God kepte me?
 iii Whanne shynede his lanterne vp on myn hed, and at his liȝt I wente in dercneſſis.
 iv As I was in þe daȝes of my waxende ȝouþe, whan priueli God was in my tabernacle.
 v Whan þe Almyȝti was wiþ me, and in myn enuyroun my childer;
 vi whan I wesh my feet wiþ buttere, and þe ston helde to me ryueres of oile;
 vii whan I wente forþ to þe ȝate of þe cite, and in þe ſtrete þei maden redy a chaȝer to me.
 viii ȝunge men ſeȝen me, and weren hid, and olde men riſende ſtoden; ix princis cefeden to ſpeken, and finger putten vpon to þer mouþ;
 x dukis wiþdrawen þer vois, and þe tunge of hem to þer þrote cleuede.
 xi Þe herende ere 'blisful maade me, and þe feande eȝe witneſſe ȝeld to me;

xii forþi þat I hadde delyuered þe pore man criende out, and þe moderles child, to þe whiche was noon helpere.
xiii þe bleſſing of hym, þat was to perſhen, vp on me cam, and þe herte of þe widewe I coumfortide.
xiv Rīȝtwisneſſe I am clad; and I cloþide me as a veſtymenſt, and wiþ a diademē wiþ my dom.
xv An eȝe I was to blinde, and a foot to þe halte.
xvi Fader I was of pore men; and þe cause þat I knew not, moſt diligentli I enſerchide.
xvii I tobroſide þe chaulis of þe wicke man, and fro his teþ I toc awei þe prey.
xviii And I feide, Die I in my litle nest; and as a palme I ſhal multiplie daȝis.
xix My roote is opened beſide watris, and deu ſhal abide in my reping.
xx My glorie euermore ſhal be newid, and my bowe in myn hond ſhal be reparailid.
xi Pat herden me, abiden my ſentence; and takende heede þei heelde ſtille at my counſeil.
xii To my woordis no þing to adden þei were hardi; and vpon hem droppide my ſpeche.
xiii þei biden as reyn my ſpeche; and mouþ þei openeden as to þe late comende weder.
xiv If any time I loowȝ to þem, þei leeueden not; and þe liȝt of my chere fel not in to þe erþe.
xv If I wolde go to þem, I sat firſt; and whan I sat as a king, þe oſt aboute ſtondere, I was neuerþelatere of dreri men þe coumfortere.

Capitulum XXX.

i Now forſoþe ſcorne me þe ȝungere in time, of whom I deynede not þe fadris to ſitte wiþ þe hondis of my floc.
ii Of whom þe vertue of hondis to me was for noȝt, and þei weren trowid vnwrþi þat lif.
iii And þurȝ nede and hunger barein; þat gnouwen in wilderneſſe, waxende foul wiþ wrecchidneſſe and forewe.
iv And þei eeten erbis, and þe rindis of trees; and þe roote of iunypere trees was þe mete of hem.
v þe whiche of þe valeis þese þingus takende; whan alle þingus þei hadde founde, wiþ cri þei runne to þoo þingus.
vi In desertis of ſtremys þei dwelten, and in dennes of þe erþe, or vp on grauel.
vii þe whiche among ſuch þingus gladeden, and to ben vnder buſhis counteden delicis.
viii þe ſonus of foolis and of vnnoble men, and in þe lond not fulli perende.
ix Now forſoþe I am turned in to þe ſong of hem, and I am maad to hem a prouerbe.
x þei wlaten me, and ferr floun fro me, and to ſputre my face þey fhame not.
xi Forſoþe his arwe girdil he openede, and tormentide me, and he putte a bridil in to my mouþ.

xii At þe riȝt of þe eſt my wrecchenefſes anoon riſen; þei turneden vpſodoun my feet, and oprefſeden as wiþ flodis bi þer ſties.
xiii þei ſcatereden my weies, and waiteden to me, and hadden þe ouere hond; and þer was not þat broȝte helpe.
xiv As þe wal broken and þe ȝate opened þei fallen in on me, and to my wrecchidneſſis þei ben myche boowid to.
xv I am broȝt in to noȝt; as þe wind he haþ taken awei my defyr, and as a cloude paſſide myn helþe.
xvi Now forſoþe in myself welewiþ my lif, and welde me þe daȝis of tormentinge.
xvii In þe nyȝt my mouþ is þirlid þurȝ wiþ forewiſ; and þat eten me, ſlepen not.
xviii In þe multitude of hem my cloþing is waſtid, and as wiþ a coler of a kote þei girten me.
xix I am comparisound to clei, and am licned to a sparke and to aſkis.
xx I ſhal crie to þee, and þou ſhalt not heren; I ſtonde, and þou beholdest not me.
xi þou art chaungid to me in to cruel, and in þe hardneſſe of þin hond þou art aduersarie to me.
xii þou haſt rered me, and as vp on wind ſettende þou haſt hurtlid me doun myȝtili.
xiii I wot, for þou ſhalt take me to deþ, wher is ſett an hous to alle liuende.
xviii Nerþelatere not to be waſting of hem þou puttifſt out þin hond; and if þei falle, þou þi ſelf ſhalt faue.
xv I wepte ſum time vp on hym þat was tormentid, and my ſoule hadde compaffioun to þe pore.
xvi I abod goodis, and þer camen to me euelis; I abod liȝt, and þer breeken oute dercneſſis.
xvii Myn entrailis brenden out wiþ oute any reſte; befor wente me þe daȝes of torment.
xviii Dreri I wente wiþoute wodneſſe, riſende in þe puple I criede.
xix Broþer I was of dragouns, and felawe of þe half beſte half foul.
xx My ſkin is bleckid vp on me, and my bones drieden for hete.
xxi Myn harpe is turned in to weiling, and myn orgne in to þe vois of weperis.

Capitulum XXXI.

i I couenauntide a pes couenaunt wiþ myn eȝen, þat forſoþe I ſhulde not þenke of a maiden.
ii What forſoþe part God fro aboue ſhulde han in me, and þe Almyȝti eritage fro heȝe þingus.
iii Wheþir not perdiſiouſ is to þe wicke, and alienyng to men werkende wickenefſe?
iv Wheþer he beholdeþ not my weies, and alle my goingis noumbreþ?
v If I ȝide in vanyte, and my foot heeȝide in trecherie, vi peise he me in a riȝtwis balauns, and wite God my symplenesse.

 vii If my going bowide doun fro þe weie; if myn eȝe folewide myn herte, and a spot cleuede to myn hondis; viii I shal sownen, and an oþer ete, and my progenye be drawe vp bi þe roote.
 ix If myn herte is desceyued vp on a womman, and if at þe dore of my frend I sette spies; x þe strumpet of an oþer be my wif, and vpon hir oþere men be þei crookid.
 xi Þis forsoþe is vnleeful, and most wickidnesse.
 xii Fyr is deuouring vnto wafting, and pullende vp bi þe roote alle burioungus.
 xiii If I dispiside to gon vnder dom wiþ my feruaunt and hond maiden, whan þei shulden pleten aȝen me. xiv What forsoþe shal I do, whan God shal rise to deme? and whan he shal aske, what shal I answern to
 hym?
 xv Wheþer not in þe wombe he made me, þe whiche and hym wroȝte, and oon formede me in þe wombe?
 xvi If I denyede to pore men þat þei wolden, and made þe eȝen of a widewe to abide;
 xvii if I eet my morsel alone, and þe moderles child eet not of it;
 xviii for fro my ȝouþe doing of mercy wex wiþ me, and fro þe wombe of my moder wente out wiþ me; xix if I dispiside þe goere beside, for þi þat he hadde not cloþing, and þe pore wiþoute coueryng; xx if his fidis blesſiden not to me, and of þe flees of my shew he is chaufid;
 xxi if I rerede vp on þe moderles child myn hond, alfo whan I saȝ me in þe ȝate þe ouerheȝere; xxii my shulder falle fro his ioynt, and myn arm wiþ his bones be to-brofis.
 xxiii Forsoþe euermor as flodis swellende vp on me, I dredde God; and his peis I myȝte not bern.
 xxiv If I wende gold my strengþe, and to þe shynende gold I feide, My troft;
 xxv if I gladede vp on my manye richessis, and for myn hond fond manye þingis;
 xxvi if I saȝ þe funne, whan it shulde shyne, and þe mone goende clerli;
 xxvii and myn herte is gladid in hid þing, and kiste myn hond fro my mouþ;
 xxviii þe whiche is þe moþte wickidnesse, and denyyng aȝen þe heȝest God;
 xxix if I ioȝide at his falling, þat hatide me, and ful out ioȝide, þat euel hadde founden hym; xxx forsoþe I ȝaf not my þrote to synne, þat I shulde abide cursende his soule; xxxi if þe men of my tabernacle seiden not, Who ȝiueþ of his fleshe, þat we be fulfild? xxxii wiþout forþ abod not þe pilgram; my dore was open to þe weie goere;
 xxxiii if I hidde as a man my synne, and hileden in my bofum my wickenesse;

xxxiv if I dradde at þe moþte multitude, and dispising of neeȝh men ferede me; and not more I heeld my pes, xxxv and wente not out þe dore; who ȝeue to me an auditour, þat my desyr heere þe Almyȝti? þat he þat demeþ write þe boc, xxxvi þat in my shulder I bere it, and enuyroune it as a crowne to me?
 xxxvii Bi alle my grees I shal pronouncen it, and as to a prince I shal offre it.
 xxxviii If aȝen me myn erþe crie, and wiþ it his forewis bewepen;
 xxxix if his frutis I eet wiþ outh monee, and þe soule of his erþe tilieris I tormentide; xl for whete be sprunge to me a brimbil, and for barli a borne.

Capitulum XXXII.

i These þre men laften forsoþe to answern to Job, forþi þat riȝtwis he is seen to þem.
 ii And Elyu, þe sone of Barachiel Būfites, of þe kynrede of Ram, ys wroþ, and endeyned; he is wroþ aȝen Job, forþi þat he shulde sein hymself to be riȝtwis befor God.
 iii But aȝen þe þre frendis of hym he dedeynede, forþi þat þei hadden not founde a resounable answere, but onely þei shulden han condempned Job.
 iv Panne Eliu abod Job spekende, forþi þat eldere þei weren, þat speken.
 v Whan forsoþe he hadde seen, þat þe þre myȝten not answern, he wræþede hugeli.
 vi And answeringe Elyu, þe sone of Barachiel Būfites, seide, I am ȝungere in time, ȝee forsoþe eldere; þerfore þe hed leid doun I am shamed to shewe to ȝou my sentence.
 vii I hopede forsoþe þat þe lengere age shulde speke, and þe multitude of ȝeiris shulde techen wiðdam.
 viii But as I see, spirit is in men, and þe inbreþing of þe Almyȝti ȝiueþ vnderftonding.
 ix Wife men ben not longe liuende, ne olde men vnderftonde dom.
 x þerfore I shal seyn, Hereþ me, and also I shal shewe to ȝou my kunningyng.
 xi Forsoþe I haue abide ȝoure woordis, herde ȝoure prudence, whil ȝee striuen in ȝoure woordis.
 xii And whil I wende ȝou any þing to seyn, I beheld; but as I see, þer is not, þat mai vnderneme Job, and answern of ȝou to his woordis;
 xiii left perauenture ȝee seyn, Wee han founde wiðdam;
 God hap þrowen hym afeerr, and not man.
 xiv No þing he haþ spoke to me, and I after ȝoure woordis shal not answere to hym.
 xv Pei myche dradden, and answerden no more, and token awey speche fro þemself. xvi Panne for I haue abide, and þei speken not, stoden, and answarden no more;

xvii shal and I answere my partie, and shewen my kunnyng.
xviii Forsoþe I am ful of woordis, and þe spirit of my wombe artiþ me.
xix Lo! my wombe as must wiþoute venting, þat brekeþ newe little win vesselys.
xx I shal speke, and breþen aȝeen a litil; I shal opene my lippis, and answern.
xxi I shal not taken perfone of man, and God to man I shal not euenen.
xxii I wot neuere forsoþe hou longe I shal stonde stille, and if after a litil take me my Makere.

Capitulum XXXIII.

i Here þanne, Job, my spechis, and alle my woordis hercne.
ii Lo! I haue opened my mouþ; my tunge in my chekis shal speke.
iii Wiþ symple herte my woordis, and pure sentence my lippis shul speke.
iv Þe spirit of God made me, and þe breþing space of þe Almyȝti quykenede me.
v If þou maist, answere to me, and stond stille aȝen my face.
vi Lo! me as and þee made God; and of þe same cley I also am formed.
vii Nerbelatere my miracle fere þee not, and my faire speche be not to þee heuy.
viii þou seideſt þanne in myn eris, and þe vois of þi woordis I herde;
ix Clene I am, and wiþoute gilte, vnwemmed, and þer is not wickidnesse in me.
x For pleintis in me he fond, þerfore he demede me enemy to hym.
xi He putte in þe stockis my feet, and kepte alle my fties.
xii Pis is þanne, in þe whiche þou art not iustified; I shal anfwer to þee, for God is more þan man.
xiii Aȝen God þou striveſt, þat to alle woordis he shal not answere to þee.
xiv Ones God shal speke, and þe secounde þat same he shal not eft feyn.
xv Bi sweuene in nyȝt siȝte, whan falle slep vp on men, and þei slepen in þe little bed.
xvi þanne he openeþ þe eris of men, and enformende þem techiþ discipline; xvii þat he turne awei a man fro þo þingus þat he dide, and deliuere hym fro pride;
xviii and takende awei his soule fro corupcioun, and his lif, þat he go not in to swerd.
xix He blameþ also bi forewe in þe little bed, and alle his bones makeþ to become drie.
xx Abhomynable to hym bred is maad in his lif, and to þe soule of hym mete beforne desirable.

xi His flesh shal become roten, and þe bones, þat weren couered, shul be maad nakid.
xii þe soule of hym shal neȝhe to corupcioun, and his lif to þingus berende deþ.
xiii If þer were for hym an aungil spekende oon of þe lic þingis, þat he telle þe equite of man, xviii he shal han reuþe, and sein, Delyuere hym, þat he go not doun in to corupcioun; I haue founde in what I be plesid to hym.
xv His flesh is wastid of tormentis; be he turned aȝeen to þe daȝes of his waxende ȝouþe.
xvi He shal preȝe God, and be plesable to hym; and seen his face in ioȝe, and ȝelde to man his riȝtwisnesse.
xvii He shal beholde men, and sein, I haue synned, and vereli I haue trespasid; and as I was worþi, I haue not resceyued.
xviii Forsoþe he haþ deliuered his soule, þat he go not in to deþ, but lyuende liȝt he shal seen.
xix Lo! alle þese þingus wercheþ God þre ſiþes bi alle men;
xxx þat he aȝeen clepe þe soulis of hem fro corupcioun, and liȝtne in þe liȝt of liuende men.
xxi Tac heede, Job, and here me, and be stille, whil I speke.
xxii If forsoþe þou haſt what þou speke, answere to me, spec; I wile forsoþe þee to apere riȝtwis.
xxiii þat if þou haue not, here me; be ſtill, and I shal teche þee wiðam.

Capitulum XXXIV.

i Tellende forþ forsoþe Elyu, þes þingis alſo ſpac, ii Hereþ, wife men, my woordis, and taȝt, herkneþ me;
iii þe ere forsoþe woordis proueþ, and þe þrote metis bi taſt demeþ.
iv Dom cheſe we to vs; and among vs fee wee what is betere.
v For þou ſeidiſt, Job, Riȝtwis I am, and God turnede vp fo doun my dom.
vi In demyng forsoþe me is leſing, and violent is myn arewe wiþoute any synne.
vii Who is a man, as is Job, þat drinkeþ ſcornyng as water?
viii þat goþ wiþ men wirkende wickidnesse, and wendeþ wiþ vnpytous men?
ix Forſoþe he ſeide, A man shal not pleſe to God, alſo if he shul renne wiþ hym.
x Perfore, herty men, hereþ me; ferr be fro God vnpitouſnesse, and fro þe Almyȝti wickenesse.
xi Forſoþe þe werk of man he shal ȝelde to hym; and after þe weies of echone he shal quite to þem.
xii Vereli forſoþe God shal not condempne in veyn; ne þe Almyȝti shal turne vpsodoun dom.
xiii Whom oþer ſette he vp on erþe? or whom putte he vp on þe world, þat he forgide?

xiv If he shul dresse to it his herte, þe spirit of it and blast he shal drawe to hym.
 xv Al flesh shal faile to gidere; and a man into askis shal be turned aȝeen.
 xvi If þou hast þanne vndirstondinge, here þat is feid, and herkne þe vois of my speche.
 xvii Wheþer he þat looueþ not dom mai ben helid? and hou þou hym, þat is riȝtwis, in so myche condempnest?
 xviii þat seip to þe king, Apostata; þat clepeþ dukys vnpitous.
 xix þat takeþ not þe persones of princis, ne knewȝ þe tiraunt, whan he shulde striuen aȝen þe pore; forþoþe þe werk of his hondis ben alle men. xx Feerli þei shul die, and in mydnyȝt puplis shul be boowid; and passen, and taken awei þe violent wiþoute hond.
 xxi Forþoþe þe eȝen of hym vp on þe weies of men, and alle þe goingus of hem he beholdeþ.
 xxii þer ben not dercnessis, and þer is not shadewe of dep, þat þer ben hid þere þat werken wickidnessis; xxiii ne forþoþe more ouer in mannys power is, þat he come to God in to dom.
 xxiv He shal to-trede manye and vnnoumbrable; and make to stonden opere men for hem.
 xxv Forþoþe he knew þe werkis of hem; and þerfore he shal bringe in nyȝt, and þei shul be to-trede.
 xxvi As vnpitous, he smot hem in þe place of men feende.
 xxvii Pe whiche as bi studie wente awei fro hym, and alle his weies þei wolde not vnderstonde.
 xxviii þat þei make to come to hym þe cri of þe nedis, and he here þe vois of pore men.
 xxix Hym forþoþe grauntende pes, who is þat condempneþ? Sijen he haþ hid his chere, who is þat beholdeþ hym? And vpon Jentilis and vpon alle men, xxx þe whiche makeþ to regne an ipocrite man, for þe synnes of þe puple.
 xxxi Panne for I spac to God, þee also I shal not forfende.
 xxxii If I haue errid, þou teche me; if wickidnesse I spac, I shal adde no mor.
 xxxiii Wheþer God of þee aſkeþ it out, for he disþleſide to þee? þou forþoþe begunne to speke, and not I; þat if any þing þou knewe betere, ſpec.
 xxxiv Vnderſtondende men, ſpeke þei to me; and a wiſ man, here he me.
 xxxv Job forþoþe folily spac, and þe woordis of hym foune not diſciplyne.
 xxxvi Fader myn, be preued Job vnto þe ende; ne leue þou fro a man of wickidnesse, xxxvii þat addeþ vp on his synnes blaſfemye. Amongis vs euere among be he ſtreyned; and þanne at þe dom terre he God wiþ his woordis.

Capitulum XXXV.

i Thanne Eliu þese þingus eft spac, ii Wheþir euene to þee feme bi þoȝt, þat þou shuldest seyn, I am mor riȝtwis þan God?
 iii þou ſeideſt forþoþe, It 'pleſeþ not to þee, þat is good;
 or what to þee shal profite, if I shul ſynnen?
 iv Alſo I ſhal anſwern to bi woordis, and to bi frendis wiþ þee.
 v Behold heuene, and loke, and myndfulli ſee þe cloudis, þat is heȝere þan þou.
 vi If þou ſhalt ſynnen, what ſhalt þou noȝe to hym? and if bi wickidneſſes be multiplied, what ſhalt þou don aȝen hym?
 vii But if þou ſhalt do riȝtwiſli, what ſhalt þou ȝiue to hym; or what of þin hond he ſhal take?
 viii To man þat is lic þee, þin vnpitouſneſſe ſhal noȝe;
 and þe ſone of man bi riȝtwiſneſſe ſhal helpe.
 ix For þe multitude of chalengeres þei ſhul crie, and ȝelle out for þe fors of þe arm of tirauntis.
 x And he ſeide not, Where is God, þat made me, and þat ȝaf ditees in þe nyȝt?
 xi þat techeþ vs ouer þe bestis of þe erþe, ouer þe foulis of heuene ſhal lernen vs.
 xii Pere þei ſhul crie, and he ſhal not heren, for þe pride of euele men.
 xiii Forþoþe not in veyn God ſhal heren, and þe Almyȝti beholde ſhal þe cauſis of alle men.
 xiv Alſo whan þou ſhal fein, He beholdeþ not; be þou demed beforne hym, and abid hym.
 xv Now forþoþe he bringeþ not in his wodneſſe, ne þe hydous gilte is vengid gretli.
 xvi þanne Job in vein openede his mouþ, and wiþoute kunnynge woordis multiplieþ.

Capitulum XXXVI.

i Alſo Eliu addende þese þingus spac, ii Sustene me a litil while, and I ſhal ſhewen to þee; ȝit forþoþe I haue þat for God I ſpeke.
 iii I ſhal aȝeen aſke my kunnynge fro þe bygynnynge; and my werkere I ſhal proue riȝtwis.
 iv Verili forþoþe and wiþoute leſing my woordus, and perfit kunnynge ſhal be preued to þee.
 v God myȝti men þrowiþ not awei, ſijen he is myȝti;
 vi but he ſauēþ not vnpitous men, and dom to pore men he ȝyueþ.
 vii He ſhal not take awei fro þe riȝtwis his eȝen; and kingis in ſete he ſetteþ in to euermor, and þider þei ben rerid vp.
 viii And if þei ſhul ben in cheynes, and ben bounde wiþ cordis of poreneſſe, ix he ſhal ſhewe to þem þer werkis, and þer hidous giltis; for cruel þey weren.
 x Alſo he ſhal opene þe ere of hem, þat he chaſtife; and he ſhal ſpeke, þat þei be turned aȝeen fro wickidneſſe.
 xi If þei ſhuln here, and kepe wel, þei ſhul fille þer daȝes in goode, and þer ȝeris in glorie.

xii If forsoþe þei shul not heren, þey shul passē bi swerd, and be waſtēd in folie.
 xiii Feyneres and felle men terren þe wraþe of God; and þei shul not crie, whan þei shul be bounden.
 xiv þe soule of hem shal die in tempeſt; and þe lif of hem among wommanysh men.
 xv He shal deliuere þe pore man fro his anguysh; and he shal opene his ere in tribulacioun.
 xvi Perfore he shal faue þee fro þe ſtreite mouþ moſt widly, not hauende a ground vnder itſelf; þe reſte forſoþe of þi bord shal be full of fatneſſe.
 xvii Bi cause as of an vnpitouſ man is demed; forſoþe þi cause and dom þou ſhalt finde. xviii Panne ouercome þee not wraþe, þat any man þou opreſſe; ne þe multitude of ȝiftis bowe þee.
 xix Do doun þi mykilneſſe wiþoute tribulacioun, and alle þe ſtronge men in strengþe. xx Ne drawe þou along þe nyȝt, þat puplis ſteȝen vp for
 hem.
 xxi Be war, ne bowe þou to wickidneſſe; þat forſoþe þou haſt begunne to foſewe aftyr wrecchidneſſe.
 xxii Lo! heȝe God in his strengþe, and noon to hym lic in lawe ȝiueres.
 xxiii Who ſhall moun ferchen his weies? or who is hardy to ſei to hym, þou wroȝtiſt wickidneſſe?
 xxiv Ha mynde, þat þou vñknowiſt þe werk of hym, of whiche men writhen.
 xxv Alle men ſeen hym; eche ſhal beholde aſſerr.
 xxvi Lo! God gret, ouercomende oure kunnyng; þe noumbrē of þe ȝeris of hym vneymable.
 xxvii þat doþ awei þe dropis of rein; and heeldeþ out wederes at þe licneſſe of ſwolewiſ, xxviii þat of þe cloudis floweren, þat before weuen alle þingus peraboue.
 xxix If he wile ſtrecche out cloudis as his tent, xxx and leitne wiþ his liȝt fro aboue, alſo þe vtmoſt of þe ſe he ſhal couere.
 xxxi Bi þeſe þingis forſoþe he demeþ puplis, and ȝiueþ mete to manye deadli þingus.
 xxxii In þe hond he hideþ liȝt; and comaundēþ to it, þat eft it come to.
 xxxiii He telliþ of it to his frend, þat his poſſellioun it be; and to it he mai ſteȝen vp.

Capitulum XXXVII.

i Vpon þat mych dradde myn herte, and is moued out
 fro his place.
 ii He ſhal heren heringe in gaſtneſſe of his vois, and þe ſoun goende out of þe mouþ of hym.
 iii Ouer alle heuenys he beholdeþ; and þe liȝt of hym vp on þe termes of þe erþe.
 iv After hym ſhal rore ſounyng, he ſhal þunder wiþ þe vois of his mykilneſſe; and he ſhal not ben enſerched, whan ſhal ben herd þe vois of hym.

v God ſhal þundre in his vois merueilouſly, þat doþ grete þingus and vñſerchable.
 vi þat comaundēþ to þe ſnowȝ, þat it `come doun vp on erþe, and to reynes of winter, and to wederes of his ſtrengþe.
 vii þat markeþ in þe hond of alle men, þat alle men arowe ſhulden knownen his werkis.
 viii þe beſte ſhal go in to his lurking place, and in his dich he ſhal abide.
 ix Fro þe innermor ſhal gon out tempeſt, and fro þe norþ ſterre cold.
 x God blowende, waxeþ togidere froſt; and eft mooſt wide ben ſhed out watris.
 xi Whete deſiriþ cloudis; and cloudis ſprengen þer liȝt.
 xii þat gon alle þingus bi enuyroun, whider euere þou goſt, þe wil of þe gouernere ſhal lede, to alle þingus þat he ſhal comaunde to þem vp on þe face of þe roundneſſe of erþis;
 xiii or in o lynage, or in his erþe, or in what euere place of his mercy hem he ſhal comaunde to be founde.
 xiv Hercne þeſe þingus, Job; and ſtond, and behold þe merueilis of God.
 xv Wheþer þou woft, whan God comaundide to reynes, þat þei ſhulden ſhewe þe liȝt of þe cloudis of hym?
 xvi Wheþer þou haſt knownen þe ſties of þe cloudis, grete and parfit kunnyngis?
 xvii Wheþer þi cloþis ben not hote, whan þe erþe ſhal be blowe þurȝ wiþ þe ſouþ?
 xviii þou perauenture wiþ hym forgediſt heuenes, þat moſt ſad, as wiþ bras, ben foundid.
 xix Shewȝ to vs, what wee feyn to hym; wee forſoþe ben wrappid in dercneſſis.
 xx Who ſhal telle to hym, þat I ſpeke? alſo if a man ſhal ſpeke, he ſhal be deuourid.
 xi And now þei ſee not liȝt; feerli þe eir ſhal be wroȝt togidere in to cloudis, and ouergoende wind ſhal driue þem.
 xii Fro þe norþ ſhal come gold, and fro God dredful preiſing.
 xiii Wrþili hym finde wee moun not; gret in strengþe, and dom, and riȝtwiſneſſe, þat he mai not be told out.
 xiv Perfore men ſhul dreden hym; and alle þat to þemſelf ben ſen to be wife, ſhuln not ben hardy to beholden.

Capitulum XXXVIII.

i Anſwerende forſoþe þe Lord to Job fro þe whirlwind feide,
 ii Who is þis, wrappende in ſentencis wiþ woordis vñwife?
 iii Gird as a man þi leendis; I ſhal aſke þee, and þou anſwere to me.
 iv Wher were þou, whan I fette þe foundemens of þe erþe? ſheu to me, if þou haſt vnderſtonding.

- v Who putte þe mesuris of it, if þou haft knownen? or who straȝte vp on it a line?
- vi Vp on what þe feet of it ben fad? who dide doun þe corner ston of it,
- vii whan me shulden preise togidere þe morutid sterries, and alle þe fones of God shulden ioȝen?
- viii Who closede þe se wiþ doris, whan it brac out as goende forþ of þe wombe?
- ix Whan I shuld setten þe cloude his cloping, and wiþ dercneſſe it, as wiþ cloþis of vnspekende childhed, I wrappide aboute.
- x I enuyrounde it wiþ my termes, and sette þe heenglis, and doris;
- xi and feide, Vnto hider þou shalt come, and no ferþere gon; and heer þou shalt breke togidere þi swellende flodis.
- xii Wheþer aftir þi rising þou comaundedist to þe morutid, and haſt shewid to þe dai ſpring his place?
- xiii Wheþir þou haſt holde ſmytende togidere þe vtmoſtis of þe erþe, and haſt ſmyten out þe vnpitouſ men of it?
- xiv Pe little marke ſhal be restorid as cley, and ſhal ſtonde as cloping.
- xv His liȝt ſhal be take awei fro þe vnpitouſ, and þe heȝe arm ſhal be broke togidere.
- xvi Wheþer þou wentif in þe depþe of þe ſe, and in þe laſte þingus of þe derke depþe of þe ſe þou haſt ful go?
- xvii Wheþer to þee ben opened þe ȝatis of dep, and þe derke doris þou haſt ſeen?
- xviii Wheþer þou haſt beholde þe breedë of þe erþe? Sheu to me, if þou haſt knownen alle þingis,
- xix in what weie liȝt dwelliþ, and of dercneſſis what is þe place;
- xx þat þou lede eche man to hys termes, and vnderſtonde þe ſties of his hous.
- xxi þou wiſtiſ þanne, þat þou were to be born, and þe noumbrē of þi daȝes þou haddest knowe?
- xxii Wheþer wentiſt þou in to þe treforis of snowȝ, or þe treforis of hail þou haſt beholde?
- xxiii þat I haue maad redi in to þe time of þe enemy, in to þe dai of fiȝt, and of bataile.
- xxiv Bi what weie is ſprengd liȝt, deuyded is hete vp on erþe?
- xxv Who ȝaf to þe moſt hidous weder cours, and weie of þe ſounende þunder?
- xxvi þat it ſhulde reyne vp on erþe wiþoute man, in deſert wher noon of dedly men dwelleþ?
- xxvii þat he ſhulde fulfillre þe ſpace wiþoute wei and defolat, and bringe forþ grene erbis?
- xxviii Who is þe fader of reyn, or who gat dropis of deu?
- xxix Fro whos wombe wente out iys, and froſt fro heuenе who gat?
- xxx In þe licneſſe of a ſton watriſ ben hardid, and þe vtmoſt of þe ſe is ſtreyned togidere.

- xxxi Wheþer þou art ſtrong to ioyne þe ſhynende ſeuens sterres, or þou ſhalt moun ſcatere þe cumpas of þe norþ sterre?
- xxxii Wheþer þou bringiſt forþ þe dai sterre in his time, and þe euetid sterre vp on þe fones of þe erþe þou makifiſt to riſe?
- xxxiii Wheþer þou haſt knowe þe ordre of heuene, and ſhalt putte his refoun in þe erþe?
- xxxiv Wheþer þou ſhalt rere þi vois in to a lytil cloude, and þe bure of watriſ ſhal couere þee?
- xxxv Wheþer þou ſhalt ſende leitis, and þei ſhul go, and turnende aȝeen þei ſhul ſey to þee, Wee be neeȝh?
- xxxvi Who putte in þe entrailis of a man wiðam, and who ȝaf to þe cok vnderſtonding?
- xxxvii Who ſhal tellen out þe refoun of heuenus, and þe ſinging of heuene who ſhal make to flepe?
- xxxviii Whanne was pouder held in þe erþe, and clottiſ weren clunge togidere?
- xxxix Wheþer þou ſhalt take þe prei of þe leounesse, and þe foule of hir whelpis þou ſhalt fulfillre,
- xl whan þei lyn in dichis, and in dennus þei aspien?
- xli Who makeþ redi to þe crowe his mete, whan his briddis crie to God, hider and þider waggende, forþi þat þei han no metis?

Capitulum XXXIX.

- i Wheþer þou haſt knownen þe time of þe berþe of wilde capretis in ſtonys, or þou haſt waitid hindis berende calf?
- ii þou haſt noumbrið þe moneþis of conceyuyng of hem, and þou haſt knowe þe time of þe birþe of hem?
- iii þei ben bowid to þe frut of kinde, and beren; and 'roringus þei ſenden out.
- iv Pe fones of hem ben ſeuered, and go to þe feeding; þei gon out, and ben not turned aȝeen to þem.
- v Who laſte þe aſſe fre, and his bondis who loofide?
- vi To whom I ȝaf in wildernesſe an hous, and his tabernaclis in þe lond of bareynte.
- vii He deſpiseþ þe multitude of þe cite; þe cry of þe pletere he hereþ not.
- viii He beholdeþ aboute þe hillis of hys leſwe, and alle grene growende þingis he ſecheþ.
- ix Wheþer þe vnycorn ſhal wiſ ſerue to þee, or ſhal dwelle at þi cracche?
- x Wheþer ſhall þou tie to eren þe vnycorn wiþ þi bridil, or he ſhal breke clottiſ of valeis after þee?
- xi Wheþer troſt þou ſhalt han in þe grete ſtrengþe of hym, and leuen to hym þi traualilis?
- xii Wheþer takifiſ þou to hym, þat feed he ȝeelde to þee, and þi corn flor he gedere?
- xiii Pe feþer of a ſtrucioun is lic to þe feþeris of a ierfakoun, and of a goſhauk;
- xiv þat leueþ hir eiren in þe erþe, þou perauenture in pouder ſhall make þem hot.

xv She forȝet, þat þe foot to-trede þem, or beste of þe feeld to-brofe.
 xvi She is maad hard to hir fones, as þoȝ þei be not hiris; in veyn s̄he trauailide, no drede confstreynde.
 xvii God forsoþe priuede hir wiſdam, and ȝaf not to hir vnderſtonding.
 xviii Whan time were, in heiȝte s̄he rerede out hir weengis; ſcorneþ þe hors, and þe ſteȝere vp of it.
 xix Wheþer ſhalt þou ȝiue to þe hors ſtrengþe, or don aboue his necke neyenge?
 xx Wheþer ſhalt þou rerē hym as locustis? Þe glorie of his nese þerlis ferd.
 xxi Þe erþe þe houe delueþ, hardili he gladeþ out; in to þe aȝencomyng he goþ to þe armed.
 xxii He diſpisiþ dreede, and he ȝiueþ not ſtede to þe fwerd.
 xxiii Vp on hym þe arewe girdil ſhal ſounen; þe ſpere and þe ſheeld ſhal braundifhen.
 xxiv Feruent and gnaſtende he ſoupeþ þe erþe; and rewarde he not to þe trumpe ſounende trumping.
 xxv Where he ſhal here þe trumpe, he ſhal ſeyn, Fy!
 aferr he ſmelliþ bataile; þe cleping to of dukis, and ȝelling of þe oft.
 xxvi Wheþer bi þi wiſdam waxeþ feþerid þe goſhauk, ſtrechende out his weengus to þe ſoup?
 xxvii Wheþer at þi coamaundement ſhal be rerid þe egle, and in heȝe þingus ſhal putten his nest?
 xxviii In ſtones he dwelliþ, and in heȝe ſett ſcarri flintis he bideþ, and in rochis hard to come to.
 xxix Pennes he behalts mete, and fro a ferr his eȝen beholden.
 xxx His briddes ſicken blod, and wher euere ſhal be þe careyn, anoon he is neeȝh.

Capitulum XL.

i And þe Lord addede, and ſpac to Job, ii Wheþer he þat ſtriveþ wiþ God, ſo liȝtli ſhal reſte?
 Forſoþe he, þat vndernemeþ God, owiþ to anſwre to
 hym.
 iii Anſwerende forſoþe Job to þe Lord ſeide, iv I þat liȝtli ſpac, what may I anſwern? Myn hond I ſhal putte vp on my mouþ.
 v O þing I ſpac, þat wolde God I hadde not feid; and an oþer, to þe whiche þingus I ſhal adden no more.
 vi Anſwerende forſoþe þe Lord to Job fro þe whirlewind, ſeide, vii Gird as a man bi leendis, and I ſhal aſke þee, and ſheu þou to me.
 viii Wheþer vein þou ſhalt make my dom, and condempne me, þat þou be iuſtified?
 ix And if þou haſt an arm as God, and wiþ lic vois þundrifiſt,
 x do aboue to þee fairneſſe, and in to an heiȝ be þou rerid, and be glorious, and be þou clad wiþ faire cloþis.

xi Scatere proude men in bi wodneſſe, and beholdende eche enhaunſende hymſelf meke þou.
 xii Behold alle proude men, and confounde hem; and to-brofe vnpitouse men in þer place. xiii Hijd hem in pouder togidere, and þe facis of hem drenche in 'þe diſche.
 xiv And I ſhal knouleche, þat bi riȝthond mai ſaue þee.
 xv Lo! bemoth, þat I made wiþ þee, hey as an oxe he ſhal ete.
 xvi His ſtrengþe in his leendis, and his vertue in þe nauele of his wombe.
 xvii He ſtreyneþ his tail as a ceder; and þe ſenewis of his ballokiſ ben wrappid togidere.
 xviii His bones as pipis of bras; his griftiſ as irene platis.
 xix He is þe begynnyng of þe weies of God; þat made hym, ſhal lei to his fwerd.
 xx To bis hillis bern erbis; alle þe beſtis of þe feld pleien þere.
 xxi Vnder ſhadewe he ſlepip, in þe priue place of reed,
 in moife placis.
 xxii Shadewis coueren his vmbre; wiþiene trees of þe ſtrem enuyrounen hym.
 xxiii He ſhal ſoupen vp þe floð, and he ſhal not wndre;
 he haþ troſt, þat Jordan flowe in to þe mouþ of hym.
 xxiv In þe eȝen of hym, as wiþ an hoc, he ſhal taken hym; and in ſtakys he ſhal þirle þurȝ his nose þerlis.

Capitulum XLI.

i Wheþer maist þou drawen out leuyethan wiþ an hoc,
 and wiþ a corde þou ſhalt binde his tunge?
 ii Wheþir þou ſhalt putte a ferſele in his nese þerlis, or wiþ a ring þou ſhalt þerle þurȝ his cheke bon?
 iii Wheþer he ſhal multiplie to þee preȝeeriſ, or ſpeke to þee ſoſte þingus?
 iv Wheþer he ſhal ſmyte wiþ þee couenaunt, and þou ſhalt take hym euermor ſeruaunt?
 v Wheþer þou ſhalt begile to hym as to a brid, or binden hym wiþ little hokis? vi Frendis ſhul hewen hym, marchaundis ſhul deuyden
 hym?
 vii Wheþer þou ſhalt fille nettis wiþ his ſkyn, and þe lep of fiſſhis wiþ þe hed of hym?
 viii Put vp on hym biñ hond; haue mynde of bataile, and adde þou to ſpeke no more.
 ix Lo! þe hope of hym ſhal 'maken hym veyn; and alle men feende he ſhal ben kaſt doun.
 x Not as cruel I ſhal rerē hym; who forſoþe mai wiþſtonde to my chere?
 xi And who befor ȝaf to me, þat I ȝeelde to hym? Alle þingus, þat ben vnder heuene, ben myne.
 xii I ſhal not ſpare to hym bi myȝti woordis, and to preȝe ſett togidere.
 xiii Who ſhal ſhewe þe face of his cloþing, and in to þe myddel of his mouþ who ſhal gon in?

xiiii Pe ȝatis of his chere who shal opene? bi cumpas of his teþ drede.
 xv His body as ȝoten sheeldis, and þrest togidere wiþ scalis þrestende doun hemself.
 xvi Oon to oon is ioyned; and leſt breþing place forsoþe go in bi þem.
 xvii Oon shal cleue to þe toþer, and holdende hemselue shul not ben feuered.
 xviii His nesing shynyng of fyr, and his eȝen as eȝelidis of þe morutid.
 xix Of his mouþ laumpis gon forþ, as tend brondus of fyr.
 xx Of his nose þerlis gop forþ smoke, as of a tend pot and boilende.
 xxi His breþ makeþ colis to brenne, and flaume gop out of hys mouþ.
 xxii In his necke shal dwelle strengþe, and nedē shal go beforne his face.
 xxiii Þe membris of his flesh cleuende to þemself; he shal fenden aȝen hym flodis, and to an oþer place þei shul not be born.
 xxiv His herte shal ben inwardli harded as a ston; and shal be streyned as þe stiþie of an hamer betere.
 xxv Whan he shal be taken awei, aungelis shul drede; and ferd þei shul be purgid.
 xxvi Whan he shal cacchen hym, swerd shal not moun stonde, ne spere, ne breft plate.
 xxvii Forsoþe he shal telle bi iren as chaf, and bras as rotun tree.
 xxviii Þe man archer shal not driuen hym; in to stobil ben turned to hym þe stones of þe flinge.
 xxix As stobil he shal eyme þe hamer; and scorne þe man shakende a spere.
 xxx Vnder hym shul be þe bemes of þe funne; and he shal leyn vp gold to hym as clei.
 xxxi He shal make þe depþe of þe se to boilen as a pot; and sette, as whan oy nemens boilen.
 xxxii Aftr hym þe fty shal ȝiue liȝt; and he shal eymen þe se as an oldli man.
 xxxiii Þer is not vp on erþe power, þat be comparisound to hym; þat is maad, þat no man he shulde drede.
 xxxiv Alle heij þing he seeþ; and he ys king vpon alle þe sones of pride.

Capitulum XLII.

i Answeringe forsoþe Job to þe Lord, seide, ii I wot, for alle þingus þou maist, and no þoȝt is vnknowe to þee.
 iii Who is þis, þat hiliþ counseil wiþoute kunnyng? Perfore vnwisly I spak, and þo þingus þat ouer maner shulden passe my kunnyng.
 iv Heere þou, and I shal speke; I shal aske þee, and answere þou to me.
 v Bi hering of ere I herde þee, now forsoþe myn eȝe seeþ þee.

vi Perfore I myself repreue me, and do penaunce in dead cole and alkiȝ.
 vii Aftr forsoþe þat þe Lord spac þese woordis to Job, he seide to Elifath Themanythen, My wodneſſe is wroþ in to þee, and in to þi two frendis; for ȝee han not spoke befor me riȝt, as my feruaunt Job.
 viii Takeþ þerfore to ȝou feuen bolis, and feuen weþeris; and gop to my feruaunt Job, and offreþ for ȝou brent sacrificise. Job forsoþe, my feruaunt, shal preȝen for ȝou; his face I shal take, þat folie be nott witid to ȝou; ne forsoþe ȝee han spoken befor me riȝt, as my feruaunt Job.
 ix Panne Elyfath Themanythes, and Baldach Suythes, and Sofar Naamatites, wenten, and diden, as þe Lord hadde spoke to þem; and þe Lord toc þe face of Job.
 x Pe Lord also is turned to þe penaunce of Job, whan he shulde preȝe for his frendis. And þe Lord ȝaf to alle þingus, þat euere were of Job, double.
 xi And þer camen to hym alle his breþern, and alle his sistris, and alle þat hadden knownen hym beforne; and þei eete wiþ hym bred in his hous, and moueden vpon hym þe hed; and coumforteden hym vp on al þe euel, þat þe Lord hadde broȝt in vp on hym; and þei ȝeue to hym eche a sheep, and a golden ere ring.
 xii Pe Lord forsoþe blifide to þe laste þingus of Job, more þan to his begynnynge; and þer ben maad to hym fourtene pouſend of sheep, and sixe pouſend of camailis, and a pouſend ȝokis of oxen, and a pouſend she affis.
 xiii And þer were to hym feue sones, and þre doȝtris; xiv and he clepide þe name of þe ton Diem, and þe name of þe seconde Caffiam, and þe name of þe þridde Cornu tibij.
 xv Per ben not forsoþe founde so faire wymmen, as þe doȝtris of Job, in al þe lond; and þer fader ȝaf to hem eritage among þer breþern.
 xvi Forsoþe Job lyuede aftr þese scourgis an hundred and fourti ȝeer, and saȝ his sones, and þe sones of his sones, in to þe ferþe ieneracioun; xvii and he diede old, and ful of daȝis.

Here endiþ þe book of Job, and here beginneþ þe prolog of þe Sawter.

SAUTER.

Incipit prologus in librum Psalterij.

Whan it is knowe, alle þe profetis to han spoke bi reuelacioun of þe Holi Gost, Dauid most of profetis to han spoken sum wise in wrþiere and ouer passende maner, as þe trumpe of þe Holi Gost, þan opere profetis. Opere forsoþe profetis profecieden bi sum maner ymagis of þingus, and wiþinne coueryngis of woordis, þat is, bi sweuenes, and viseouns, and deedis, and sawis; Dauid forsoþe, þurȝ stirring of þe Holi Gost alone, wiþoute vttermor helpe his profecie made out. Wherfor couenabli þis poc is feid, þe poc of solitarie spechis. It is also seid a Sauter, þe whiche name it toc of a musik instrument, þat Ebruli is clepid nablum, Grekli a sauter, of þis Grek woord fallim, þat is, touching; Latinli is seid an orgne, þat is of ten cordis, and fro þe ouere part ȝiueþ soun, bi þe touch of hondis. Of þat forsoþe instrument at þe lettre þerfore is nemned 'þis boc, for at þe vois of þat instrument Dauid song salmys beforne þe arke in þe tabernacle of þe Lord; and as alle þe sweete songus of þat instrument weren clepid salmys, so and alle þe particlis of þis boc, or clausis. Also aftir þe spirituel vnderstanding wel of þat instrument it takeþ name, for as þat instrument is of ten cordis, so þis boc techeþ þe al aboute keping of þe ten heftis; and as þat instrument ȝiueþ soun fro þe ouere part bi þe touch of hondis, so þis boc techeþ wel to werche, not for erþeli þingis, but for heuenli þingus, þat ben aboue. Þis boc stant in an hundrid and fifti salmys, not bifide þe resoun of heȝere signefiying; þis forsoþe noumber is notid to most solempne mysteries. It stant forsoþe of eiȝteti and feuenti. And eiȝtety al oon signefieþ þat eiȝte, and feuenti þe same þat seuene. Eiȝte forsoþe signefieþ þe eiȝtþe age of aȝeen rising; for siþen þer ben sixe agis of men liuende, and þe feuenþe of men diende, þe eiȝþe age shal ben of men aȝeen risende. Bi seuene forsoþe is betocned þe time of þis lif, þat is passid bi þe ofteliþes comyng of feuen daȝes. Riȝtli þanne þis boc is maad in such a noumber of salmys, whos partyes signefien 'þe beforseid mysteries; for it techeþ so vs in þe feuenþe of þis lif to werken and to liuen, þat in þe eiȝþe of aȝeen rising wee be not clad wiþ þe doublefold cloþ of confusioun, but wiþ þe stole of double glorifiying. Or þerfore in þat noumber of salmys it is maad, for, as wee han seid, þis noumber stant of eiȝteti and feuenti, þat al oon betocnen þat eiȝte and seuene. Eiȝte forsoþe betocneþ þe newe testament, þe fadris forsoþe of þe newe testament to ogdoadi, þat is, to eiȝte deferuen. Bei kepen forsoþe þe eiȝþe dai of þe resureccioun of Crist, þat is, þe sone dai, and þe vtas of seintis, and abijden þe eiȝte of þe aȝeen rising. Bi seuene forsoþe is betocned þe olde testament þerfore; for þe fadris of þe olde testament serueden to ebdoady, þat is, to seuene. Forsoþe þei kepten þe feuenþe dai, and þe feuenþe wike, þe feuenþe moneþ, þe 'feuenþe ȝer, and þe feuenþe ȝer of þe feuenþe, 'þat is, þe fiftiþe, þat is seid iubile. Wherfore Salomon seiþ, "ȝif partis seuene and also eiȝte." And Mychias, "Wee shul rerun vp on hym feuen shepperdis, and eiȝte primatis." Weel þerfore þis boc in þat noumber of salmys is maad, whos partis betocnen þe doctrine of eiþer testament, þat bi þat be shewid þe heftis of eiþer testament to be contened in þis boc. Þis boc forsoþe is deuydid bi þre fifties; bi þe whiche þre statis of cristene religiouن ben betocned. Of whiche þe firste is in penaunce, þe secounde in riȝtwisnesse, þe þridde in preising of þe euere lastende lif. Wherfore þe firste fifti is endid in penaunce, þat is, þe salm þat begynneþ "Haue mercy of me, God;" þe

God." And for þese þre þingus techeþ Dauid in þis boc, þerfore þis þrefold distinccioun of salmys is maad. Also it is to be notid, þis scripture mor þan opere to ofte ben vſid in chirche seruysis, þat þerfore is don, for in þis boc is þe fulle ending of þe hole boc of Godis woord. Heer forsoþe ben discriued þe meidis of goode men, þe tormentis of euele men, þe pleyne techyngus of begynende men, þe forþ going of profitende men, þe perfeccioun of ful comynge men, þe lif of actif men, þe spirituel beholding of contemplativ men; heer also is taȝt what synne doþ awei, what penaunce restoreþ, what þe gilti of synne openkende feye, þat is, "Lord, in þi wodnesse vnderlyme þou not me," and in an oper place, "Haue mercy of me, God, aftir þy mychile mercy;" and what bi penaunce be purchasid, whan he vnderioyneþ, "I shal teche wicke men þi weies, and vnpitous men to pee shul be conuertid;" bi whiche is shewid to no man, hou myche euere 'trespassinge to be, to mystrosten of forȝiuenesse, and of þe merci of God, taken to þe mecnesse of openking; whan forsoþe wee beholden Dauid, a man fleere and auoutrer, bi penaunce maad a doctour and a profete, to no man doende penaunce is laft place of wanhope; as of þe conuerting of Powil and his awaunsing in to apostil of þe mercy of God pleynli wee ben certefied. Wherfore þe chirche vſiþ in offisis, as þe profecie of Dauid, þe epistolis of hym more þan of opere; and þerfore þis profecie is oftene had in vse, for among opere profecies it passiþ in openyng of sawys; þo forsoþe þingus þat opere profetis dercely and as bi figure seiden of þe passioun and þe resureccioun of Crist, and of þe euerlastende geteng, and of opere mysterijs, Dauid of profetis most excellent so euydentli openede, þat more he be seen to euangelisen þan to profecien.

Anoþer prolog.

Dauyd, þe sone of Jeſſe, whan he was in his reume, foure he ches þat salmes shulden maken, þat is, Asaf, Eman, Ethan, and Iditym. Eiȝtety and eiȝte forsoþe seiden þe salmys, and two hundrid þe vndersinging, and Abiud smot þe harpe. Whan Dauid hadde aȝen broȝt þe arke, aȝeen clepid fro Afotis in to Jerufalem aftir twenti ȝer, and abod in þe hous of Amynadab, þis he putte on in a newe 'ȝokid karte, and broȝte in to Jerufalem; men chosen of al þe kinrede of þe sonis of Iſrael, feuenti þoulend, of þe lynage forsoþe of Leuy, two hundrid feuenti and eiȝte þoulend men; of whiche foure princis he ordeynede to ben beforne to þe songus, Asaf, Eman, Ethan, and Iditym, to eche of hem deuydende two and feuenti men, vnder criende preising of þe songis to þe Lord. And oon forsoþe of hem smot þe simbal, an oþer þe harpe, an oþer þe hornene trumpe enhauncende. In þe myddel forsoþe of hem 'stod Dauid, holdende hymself a sautre; forsoþe þei wenten befor þe arke in seuene queris, and þe sacrificise, a calf. Forsoþe al þe puple foleweide after þe arke.

Panne alle þe salmyns of Dauid ben in noumbre an hundrid and fifti, of whiche alle forsoþe nyne made Dauid himself, two and þretti han not superscripciou, fifti and two and twenti in to Dauid, twelve in to Asaf, twelve in to Iditym, nyne to þe fones of Chori, oon to Moyses, two in to Salomon, two in to Aggie and Zacharie. And so alle þe salmyns of Dauid ben maad in noumbre of an hundrid and fifti. Þe deuyseoun of salmyns þat ben clepid diafalmyns ben in noumbre of seuenti and fwe; þe canticles of greeves ben in noumbre of fiftene. Þe firste salm to no man is asigned, for it is of alle. Perfore what oþer man is vnderstonde in þe firste but þe firste gotten, þat wrþili inscripciou shul not be necessarie. Ferþermor for þat salm makeþ mencioun of Crist, as aȝen þi Crist expounende þe persone 'to ben inscriued, vttirli þei han not wipinne chaungid þe ordre of storie. Wee reden and in þe titlis of salmyns; but þe salmyns not after þe storie, but aftir þe profecie ben rad, so þe ordre of titlis mai not disturben þe order of salmyns. Alle þe salmyns þat ben inscriued to hym Dauid, pertenen to þe sacrament of Crist, for Dauid is feid Crist.

Explicit prologus super psalterium.

Þe boc begynneþ of ympnes and solitarie spechis of þe profete Dauyd, of Cryft.

SALM I.

i Blisful þe man, þat went not awai in þe counsel of vnpitouse, and in þe weï off sinful stod not; and in þe chaþer of pestilence sat not.
ii But in þe lawe of þe Lord his wil; and in þe lawe of hym he shal sweteli þenke dai and nyȝt.
iii And he shal ben as a tree, þat is plauntid biside þe doun rennyngis of watriis; þat his frut shal ȝiue in his time. And þe lef of hym shal not fade; and alle þingus what euere he shal don shul waxe welsum.
iv Not so þe vnpitouse, not so; but as poudre, þat aferr browiþ þe wind fro þe face of þe erþe.
v Perfore eft rijsen not þe vnpitouse in dom; ne sinful in þe counsel of riȝtwise.
vi For þe Lord hap knowe þe weie of þe riȝtwise; and þe goyng of þe vnpitouse shal perþhen.

SALM II.

Þe salm of Dauyd.

i Whi gruccheden Jentilis; and puplys sweteli þoȝten inwardli veyne þingus?
ii Per stode neeȝ þe kingus of þe erþe; and princis kamen togidere in to oon, aȝen þe Lord, and aȝen his Crist.
iii To-breke we þe bondis of hem; and aferr þrowe we fro vs þe ȝoc of hem.
iv þat dwelleþ in heuenes shal scorne þem; and þe Lord shal bemowe þem.

v Panne he shal speke to hem in his wraþe; and in his wodnessse disturbe þem togidere.

vi I forsoþe am sett king fro hym vpon Sion, þe holi mount of hym; prechende his heste.

vii Þe Lord seide to me, My fone þou art; I to day gat þee.

viii Aske of me, and I shal ȝiue to þee Jentilis þin eritage; and þi possessioun þe termes of erþe.

ix þou shalt gouerne þem in an irene ȝerde; and as a vessel of a crockere breke þem togidere.

x And now, kingus, vnderstondeþ; beþ taȝt, þat demen þe erþe.

xi Serueþ to þe Lord in drede; and ful out gladeþ to hym wiþ trembling.

xii Takeþ discipline, leſt any time be wrapid þe Lord; and ȝee perſhe fro þe riȝtwis weie. Whan his wraþe shal brenne out in short; blisful alle þat troſten in hym.

SALM III.

Salm of Dauid, whan he shulde flee fro þe face of Absolon, his fone.

i Lord, wherto ben multiplied þat trublen me? manye inwardli rijſen aȝen me.

ii Manye feyn to my lif, þer is not helpe to hym in his God.

iii þou forsoþe, Lord, art myn vndirtakere; my glorie, and enhansende myn hed.

iv Wiþ my vois to þe Lord I criede; and he ful out herde me fro his holi hil.

v I sleep, and was a flepe, and ful out ros; for þe Lord vndertoc me.

vi I shal not drede þousendis of puple goende aboute me;

vii rys vp, Lord; mac me saf, my God. For þou haſt smyte alle doende aduersite to me wiþ oute cause; þe teþ of þe sinful þou haſt to-broſid.

viii Of þe Lord is helpe; and vpon þi puple þi blessing.

SALM IIII.

In to þe ende, in ditees, þe salm of Dauid; or, In to þe ende, þe salm of þe song of Dauid i Whan I inwardli clepide, ful out herde me þe God of my riȝtwisneſſe; in tribulacioun þou spraddest out to me.

ii Haue merci of me; and ful out here myn orisoun. Sones of men, hou longe wiþ greuous herte? whereto looue ȝee vanyte, and fechen lesing?

iii And witeþ, for þe Lord hap maad merueilous his seynt; þe Lord ful out shal here me, whan I shal crie to hym.

iv Wraþe ȝee, and wileþ not synnen; þat ȝee seyn in ȝoure hertiſ and in ȝoure couchis, haue ȝee compunccioun.

v Sacrificeþ sacrificise of riȝtwisnæsse, and hopeþ in þe Lord; many feyn, Who shewiþ to vs goode þingis?
 vi Markid is vpon vs þe liȝt of þi chere, Lord; þou ȝeue gladnesse in myn herte.
 vii Of þe frut of whete, win, and oile of hem; þei ben multiplied.
 viii In pes into itself; I shal slepe, and reste. For þou, Lord; singulerli in hope haſt togidere set me.

SALM V.

Into þe ende, for hir þat getiþ þe eritage.

i My woordis wiþ eris parceyue þou, Lord; vnderſtond my cry.
 ii Tac heede to þe vois of myn orisoun; my king, and my God. For to þee I shal preȝe, iii Lord; erli þou ful out shalt here my vois. Erly I shal neeȝh ſtonde to þee, and ſeen; ivi for þou art God not willende wickidnesse.
 v Ne shal dwelle beſide þee þe fhrewe; ne shul dwelle ſtille þe vnriȝtwife before þin eȝen. þou haſt hatid alle þat wirken wickidnesse;
 vi þou shalt leefen alle þat ſpeken leſing. þe man of blodis and trecherous þe Lord shal wlate;
 vii I forſoþe in þe multitude of þi mercy. I shal entre in to þin hous; I shal honouren at þin holi temple in þi drede.
 viii Lord, bring forþ me in þi riȝtwisnæſſe for myn enemys; mac redi in þi ſiȝte my weie.
 ix For þer is not in þe mouȝt of hem treuþe; þe herte of hem is veyn. An open ſepulcre is þe þrote of hem, wiþ þer tungis treccherouſli þei diden; x deme þem, þou God. Falle þei doun fro þer þoȝtis; after þe multitude of þe vnpitouſneſſis of hem, put hem awei; for þei han terrid þee, Lord.
 xi And glade þei alle, þat hopen in þee; in to wiþoute ende þei shul ful out gladen; and þou shalt dwellen in hem. And alle shul glorien in þee þat loouen þi name;
 xii for þou shalt bliſſe to þe riȝtwife. Lord, as wiþ þe ſheeld of þi goode wil, þou haſt crouned vs.

SALM VI.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid, for þe eiȝþe.

i Lord, in þi wodnesse vndernyme þou nott me; ne in þi wraþe chaſtis þou me.
 ii Haue mercy of me, Lord, for I am fyk; hele me, Lord, for diſturbid ben alle my bonys.
 iii And my soule is diſturbid gretli; but þou, Lord, hou longe?
 ivi Be turned, Lord, and delyuere my soule; mac me ſaaf, for þi grete mercy.
 v For þer is not in deþ, þat be myndeful of þee; in helle forſoþe who shal knouleche to þee?
 vi I haue traualid in my weilinge, I shal waſſhe bi alle nyȝtis my bed; and wiþ my teres my bedding I shal watrin.

vii Diſturbid is of wodnesſe myn eȝe; I haue inwardli eldid amongis alle myn enemys.
 viii Goh awei fro me, alle þat werken wickidnesſe; for þe Lord ful out herde þe vois of my weping.
 ix þe Lord ful out herde my louli preȝing; þe Lord myn orysoun haþ vndertaken.
 x Shamen and be diſturbid hugely alle myn enemys; be þei turned, and shame þei ful ſwiftli.

SALM VII.

In to þe ende; þe falm to Dauid, whom he ſong to þe Lord for þe woordus of Cufi, ſone of þe riȝthalf, `or Gemyny.

i Lord, my God, in þee I hopide; mac me ſaf fro alle men purſuende me, and delyuere me.
 ii Lest any time he raueshe me as a leoun my foul; whil þer is not þat aȝeенbie, ne þat make ſaf.
 iii Lord my God, if I dide þis, if þer is wickidnesſe in myn hondis; ivi if I quitte to þe men ȝeldende to me euelis, I shal falles doun þurȝ desert fro myn enemys inwardli voide;
 v purſue þe enemy my lif, and cacche, and to-trede in þe erþe my lif; and my glorie in to poudre bringe doun.
 vi Rys vp, Lord, in þi wraþe; and be þou enhauncid in þe cooftis of myn enemys. And ris vp, Lord my God, in þe heſte þat þou haſt ſent; vii and þe congregacioun of puplis shal enuyroun þee. And for it in to heiȝ go aȝeен; viii þe Lord demeþ puplys. Deme me, Lord, aftir my riȝtwisnæſſe; and aftir my innocence vpon me.
 ix Shal ben endid þe fhreudenesſe of synneres, and þou shalt drefſe þe riȝtwis; God ferchende hertis and reenes.
 x Riȝtwis myn helpe of þe Lord; þat makeþ laaf riȝte men in herte.
 xi God riȝtwis demere, ſtrong and pacient; wheþer he wraþiþ bi alle daȝes?
 xii But ȝee shul ben conuertið, his ſword he shal braundifhen; his bowe he bende, and made it redi.
 xiii And in it he maade redi vefelis of deþ; his arewis wiþ brennende þingus he made out.
 xiv Lo! he wiþinne wroȝte vnriȝtwisnæſſe; conceyued forewe, and bar wickidnesſe.
 xv A lake he openede, and dalf it out; and fel in to þe dich þat he made.
 xvi His forewe shal be turned in to þe hed of hym; and in to his nol þe wickidnesſe of hym shal descenden.
 xvii I shal knouleche to þe Lord, after þe riȝtwisnæſſe of hym; and I shal ſein falm to þe name of þe heȝest Lord.

SALM VIII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid, for þe preſſis.

i Lord, oure Lord; hou myche merueilous is þi name in al þe erþe. For rerid vp is þi grete doing, ouer heuenes.

ii Of þe mouþ of vnspekende childer and soukende þou performedist preising, for þin enemys; þat þou destroȝe be enemy and þe veniere.
 iii For I shal see þin heuenes, þe werkis of þi fingris; þe mone and þe sterriſ, þat þou haſt foundid.
 iv What is a man, þat myndful þou art of hym; or þe son of man, for þou visitid hym?
 v Þou laſſedest hym a litil laſſe fro aungelis; wiþ glorie and worſhipe þou crounedest hym, vi and settid hym ouer þe werkis of þin hondys. Alle þingus þou leidid vnder his feet, vii þe heþ and oxen alle; ferþermor and þe bestis of þe feeld;
 viii þe foulis of heuene, and þe fishis of þe ſe; þat þurȝ gon þe ſties of þe ſe.
 ix Lord, oure Lord; hou myche merueilous is þi name in al erþe.

SALM IX.

In to þe ende, for þe hid þingus of þe fone, þe falm of Dauid.

i I shal knoulechen to þee, Lord, in al myn herte; and telle alle þi merueilis.
 ii I shal gladen and ful out ioȝen in þee; I shal sey falm to þi name, þou heȝest.
 iii In turnyng myn enemy bacward; þei shul be feblid, and pershe fro þi face.
 iv For þou didist my dom, and my cause; þou fittid vp on þe trone, þat demest riȝtwisneſſe.
 v Þou feredist Jentilis, and þe vnpitouſe perſhide; þe name of hem þou didist awei in to wiþ oute ende, and in to þe world of world.
 vi Of þe enemy failiden þe fwerdis in to þe ende; and þe cites of hem þou destroȝedid. Perſhide þe mynde of þem wiþ soun; vii and þe Lord in to wiþoute ende abit ſtille. He made redy in dom his trone; viii and he shal deme þe roundneſſe of þe erþe in equite; he shal deme puplis in riȝtwisneſſe.
 ix And 'maad is þe Lord refut to þe pore; helpere in þo þingus þat nede is, in tribulacioun.
 x And hope þei in bee, þat knewen þi name; for þou haſt not forsake þe fechende bee, Lord.
 xi Singeþ falmys to þe Lord, þat dwelliþ in Sion; telleþ among Jentilis þe ſtudies of hym.
 xii For aȝeen fechende þe blod of hem he recordide; he forȝat not þe cry of pore men.
 xiii Haue mercy of me, Lord; ſee my mecnesse fro myn enemys. þat enhauncid me fro þe ȝatis of deþ; xiv þat I telle alle þi preifingus in þe ȝatis of þe doȝter of Sion. I shal ful out gladen in þi ȝiuere of helpe;
 xv ful fiȝchid ben þe Jentilis in þe deþ, þat þei maden. In þis grene, þat þei hidden, caȝt is þe foot of hem.
 xvi þe Lord shal be knowe doende domys; in þe werkis of his hondis caȝt is þe ſinful.

xvii Be turned þe synneres in to helle; alle Jentilis, þat forȝeten God.
 xviii For not into þe ende forȝeting shal ben of þe pore; þe pacience of pore men shal not perſhen in to þe ende.
 xix Rys, Lord, be not coumfortid a man; be demed þe Jentilis in þi ſiȝte.
 xx Sett, Lord, a lawe ȝiuere vp on hem; wite þe Jentilis, for þey ben men.
 xxi Wherto, Lord, wentid þou awei along? þou despifid in nedfultees in tribulacioun.
 xxii Whil proudeþ þe vnpitouſe wiþ inne, tend is þe pore man; þei ben caȝt in þe counſeilis, bi þe whiche þei þenken.
 xxiii For preifid is þe synnere in þe desiris of his foule; and þe wicke is bliſſid.
 xxiv þe synnere ſharpli ful out terrede þe Lord; after þe myculneſſe of his wreþe he shal not fechen. Per is not God in his ſiȝt; xxv defoulid ben þe weies of hym in alle time. Bi domes be taken awei fro þe face of hym; of alle his enemys he shal lordshipen.
 xxvi Forſoþe he feide in his herte, I shal not be moued, fro ieneracioun in to ieneracioun wiþoute euel.
 xxvii Whos mouþ is ful of cursing, and bitterneſſe, and treccherie; vnder his tunge trauaile and forewe.
 xxviii He fitt in aspies wiþ riche men in priuytes; þat he fle þe innocent. Be eȝen of hym beholden in to þe pore; xxix he waitiþ in hid place, as a leoun in his den. He waiteþ, þat he raueshe þe pore; to raueshe þe pore, whil he draweþ hym to.
 xxx In his grane he shal meken hym; he shal bowen hymſelf and fallen; whan he shal lordshipen of pore men.
 xxxi Forſoþe he feide in his herte, Forȝeten is God; he turneþ awei his face, left he ſee in to þe ende.
 xxxii Rys up, Lord God, and be haunſid þin hond; ne forȝete þou of þe pore.
 xxxiii For what þe vnpitouſe terrede God? forſoþe he feide in his herte, He shal not aȝeen fechen.
 xxxiv Seeſt þou, for trauaile and forewe þou beholdiſt; þat þou take þem in to þin hondis. To þee laſt is þe pore; to þe faderles child þou shalt ben helpere.
 xxxv To-broſe þe arm of þe fynnere, and of þe malice doere; þe synne of hym shal be ſoȝt, and not be founded.
 xxxvi þe Lord shal regne in to wiþ oute ende, and in to þe world of world; perishe ſhuln ȝee, Jentilis, fro þe lond of hym.
 xxxvii þe desyr of pore men ful out herde þe Lord; þe befor rediyng of þe herte of hem herde þin ere.
 xxxviii To deme to þe moderles child and to þe meeke; þat no more ley to to magnifie hymſelf a man vp on erþe.

SALM X.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid.

- i In þe Lord I trostne; hou sey ȝee to my soule, Passe forþ in to þe hil, as a sparewe.
- ii For loo! synneres benten bowe, maden redy þer arwis in þe arwe girdil; þat þei lhete in derc þe riȝte men in herte.
- iii For þoo þingus þat þou performededest, þei destroȝeden; þe riȝtwis man what dide forsoþe?
- iv Þe Lord in his holy temple; þe Lord, in heuene þe fete of hym. His eȝen in to þe pore beholden; þe eȝelidis of hym asken þe sones of men.
- v Þe Lord askeþ þe riȝtwis man, and þe vnpitous; he forsoþe, þat looueþ wickidnesse, hatiþ hys soule.
- vi He shal reyne vp on synneres grenes; fyr, brunston, and þe spiritis of tempestis, part of þe chalis of hem.
- vii For riȝtwis þe Lord, and riȝtwisnesse he loouede; equite faȝ þe chere of hym.

SALM XI.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid, for þe eiȝþe.

- i Lord, mac me saf, for þer failip þe holy; for mynuslht ben treuþis fro þe fony of men.
- ii Veyn þingus þei speeken, eche to his neȝhebore; þer trecherous lippis in herte and herte speeken.
- iii Þe Lord scatere alle trecherous lippis, and þe tunge gret speche.
- iv Þat feiden, Oure tunge wee shul magnefien; oure lippis of vs ben; who is oure lord?
- v For þe wrecchidnesse of þe nedy, and þe weiling of þe pore; now I shal vp rise, seiþ þe Lord. I shal putte in bin helpe ȝiuere; trostily I shal don in hym.
- vi Þe spechis of þe Lord chaste spechis; filuer examyned bi fyr, proued of þe erþe, purgid seuefold.
- vii Pou, Lord, shalt wiþholden vs; and kepen vs fro þis ieneracioun and in to wiþoute ende.
- viii In enuyroun vnpitous men gon; aftir þin heiȝnesse þou hast multiplied þe sones of men.

SALM XII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid.

- i Hou longe, Lord, þou forȝetist me in to þe ende? hou longe þou turnest awei þi face fro me?
- ii Hou myche while I shal putte counseilis in my soule; forewe in myn herte bi day? Hou longe shall ben enhauncid myn enemy vp on me?
- iii Behold, and ful out here me, Lord my God. Liȝte þou myn eȝen, leſt any tyme I flepe al doun in deþ;
- iv leſt sum time sey myn enemy, I haue wonnen þe maiftri aȝen hym. Pat trubblen me shul ful out glade, if I shul be moued;
- v I forsoþe in þi mercy haue hopid. Myn herte shal ful out gladen in þin helpe ȝiuere;
- vi I shal singe to þe Lord, þat goodis ȝaf to me; and do falm to þe name of þe heiȝest Lord.

SALM XIII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid.

- i The vnwise man feide in his herte, Per is not God. Corupt þei ben, and abominable ben maad in þer studies; þer is not þat do good, þer is not vnto oon.
- ii Þe Lord fro heuene forþ beheeld vp on þe sonus of men; þat he see, if þer is vnderstondende, or aȝeen fechende God.
- iii Alle ben bowid doun, togidere vnprofitable ben maad; þer is not þat do good, þer is not vnto oon. A sepulcre opened is þe þrote of hem, wiþ þer tungis treccherously þei diden; þe venom of edderes vnder þe lippis of hem. Whos mouȝ of cursing and bitternesse is ful; swifte þe feet of hem to sheden out blod. Tobirosing and vnewelsumnesse in þe weies of hem, and þe weie of pes þei knewen not; þer is not þe drede of God befor þer eȝen.
- iv Wheþer alle shul not knownen, þat werken wickednesse; þat deuoure my folc, as mete of bred? God þey inwardli clepeden not;
- v þere þei trembliden bi drede, wher was not drede. For þe Lord is in a riȝtwis ieneracioun;
- vi þe counsel of þe ned ȝee han confoundid, for þe Lord is his hope.
- vii Who shall ȝiue fro Sion þe helpe ȝiuere of Israel? Whan þe Lord shal take awei þe caitife of his puple; Jacob ful out shal ioȝen, and Israel shall gladen.

SALM XIV.

Þe falm of Dauid.

- i Lord, who shal duelle in þi tabernacle; or who shal eft resten in þin holy hil?
- ii þat goþ in wiþoute wem; and werkilþ ryȝttwishesse. þat spekeþ treuþe in his herte;
- iii þat dide not trecherie in his tunge. Ne dide to his neȝhebore euel; and reprof toc not to aȝen his neȝboris.
- iv To noȝt is broȝt doun in his siȝt þe malice doere; forsoþe þe dredende þe Lord he glorifieþ. þat swereþ to his neȝhebore, and desceyueþ not;
- v þat his monee ȝaf not to vsure; and ȝiftis vp on þe innocent toc not. He, þat doþ þese þingus, shal not be moued in to wiþout ende.

SALM XV.

Of þe title, þe inscripciouon to hym Dauid.

- i Kep me, Lord, for I hopide in þee;
- ii I feide to þe Lord, My God art þou; for of my goodis þou nedist not.
- iii To þe seintis þat ben in þe lond of hym; he made merueilous alle my willis in hem.
- iv þer ben multiplied þe infirmities of hem; afterward þei heeȝeden to. I shal not gadere togidere þe conuenticulis of hem of blodis; ne I shal be myndeful of þe namys of hem bi my lippis.

v Pe Lord þe part of myn eritage, and of my chalis; þou art, þat shalt restore myn eritage to me.
 vi Cordis fallen to me in ful cleer þingis; forsoþe myn eritage ful cler is to me.
 vii I shal blisse þe Lord, þat ȝaf to me vnderstandinge; ouermor `and vnto þe nyȝt myche blameden me my reenys.
 viii I purueiede þe Lord in my siȝte euermor; for fro þe riȝt partis he is to me, leſt I be wiþ moued.
 ix For þat gladeide myn herte, and ful out ioȝede my tunge; furþermor and my flesh shal aȝeen resten in hope.
 x For þou shalt not forsake my soule in helle; ne ȝiue þin halewe to seen corupcioun.
 xi Knownen to me þou haſt maad þe weies of lif; þou shalt fulſille me þerto in gladneſſe wiþ þi chere; delitingus in þi riȝtt hond vnto þe ende.

SALM XVI.

Pe orisoun of Dauid.

i Here, Lord, my riȝtwisneſſe; vnderſtond my lowe preȝing. Wiþ eris perceyue myn orisoun; not in trecherous lippis.
 ii Fro þi chere my dom go forþ; þin eȝen ſee þei equites.
 iii Pou prouedest myn herte, and viſytediſt in þe nyȝt; bi fyr pou examynedest me, and þer is not founde in me wickidneſſe.
 iv Pat my mouþ ſpeke not þe werkis of men; for þe woordis of þi lippis I kepte harde weies.
 v Parforme my goingus in þi ſties; þat my ſteppis be not meued.
 vi I crieđe, for þou, God, herdest me; bowe fully þin ere, and ful out here my woordis.
 vii Mac merueilouſe þi mercyes; þat makist saf þe hopende in þee.
 viii Fro þe wiþtonderes to þi riȝthalf kep me, as þe appil of þe eȝe. Vnder þe fhadewe of þi weengis defend me;
 ix fro þe face of vnpitouſ men, þat me han tormentid. Myn enemys my foule cumpasiden;
 x þer talȝ þei cloſiden togidere; þeyr mouþ haþ ſpoken pride.
 xi Prowende me aferr now þei enuyrounden me; þer eȝen þei ordeyneden to bowe doun in to þe erþe.
 xii Peþy toke me doun, as a leoun redy to þe prey; and as a leoun whelp dwellende in hid placis.
 xiii Rys vp, Lord, befor come hym, and ſupplaunte hym; tac awei my foule fro þe vnpitouſ; þy ſwēd, xiv fro þe enemys of þin hond. Lord, fro a fewe fro þe lond deuyde hem in þer lif; of þin hidde þingus fulſild to is þe wombe of hem. Pei ben fulſild wiþ ſones; and laſten þer relikiſ to þer childer.
 xv I forſoþe in riȝtwisneſſe ſhal apere to þi siȝte; I ſhal be fulſild, whan þi glorie ſhal apere.

SALM XVII.

In to þe ende, to þe child of þe Lord, Dauid; þe whiche woordus of þis ſong he ſpac to þe Lord, in þe dai þat þe Lord toc hym out fro þe hond of þe enemys of hym, and fro þe hond of Saul; and feide:

i I ſhal looue þee, Lord, my ſtrengþe; ii þe Lord my falſnyng, and my refut, and my delyuerere. My God, myn helpere; I ſhal hope in to hym. My defendere, and þe horn of myn helþe; and myn vndertakere.
 iii Preiſende I ſhal inwardly clepe þe Lord; and fro myn enemys I ſhal be saf.
 iv þe forewiſ of deþ enuyrounden me; and þe ſtremes of wickidneſſe togidere ſturbiden me.
 v Pe forewiſ of helle wenten aboue me; befor occupieden me þe grenes of deþ.
 vi In my tribulacioun I inwardly clepide þe Lord; and to my God I crieđe. And he ful out herde fro his holi temple my vois; and my cry in his siȝte wente in to þe eris of hym.
 vii Moued is togidere, and togidere tremblide þe erþe; þe foundemens of mounteynes ben togidere ſturbid, and togidere moued, for he wraþide to þem.
 viii Per ſteȝede vp ſmoke in his wraþe, and fyr fro his face ful out brente; and colis ben vndertend of hym.
 ix He ful bowide heuenes, and cam doun; and dercneſſe vnder his feet.
 x And he ſteȝede vpon cherubyn, and fleiȝ; he fleiȝ on þe pennes of windis.
 xi And he putte dercneſſes his hiding place, in þe cumpas of hym his tabernacle; derk watir in þe cloudis of þe eir.
 xii Fro þe liȝting in þe ſiȝte of hym cloudis paſſeden; hail and þe colis of fyr.
 xiii And in þundrede fro heuene þe Lord; and þe heȝest ȝaf his vois, hail and colis of fyr.
 xiv And he ſente his arewiſ, and ſcaterede hem; leitis he multiplieđe, and togidere ſturbide hem.
 xv And þer apereden þe wellis of watriſ; and ben opened þe foundemens of þe roundneſſe of erbiſ. Of þi blamynge, Lord; of þe inbreþing of þe ſpirit of þi wraþe.
 xvi He ſente fro þe heȝest, and toc me; and caȝte me fro many watriſ.
 xvii He toc me out fro my moſt strong enemys; and fro hem þat hatiden me, for þei ben coumfortid vpon me.
 xviii Pei befor camyn me in þe dai of my tormenting; and þe Lord is maad my defendere.
 xix And he ladde out me in to brodneſſe; he made me saf, for he wolde me.
 xx And þe Lord ſhal ȝelde to me after my riȝtwisneſſe; and after þe clennesse of myn hondis he ſhall ȝelde to me.

xxi For I kepte þe weies of þe Lord; ne vnpitously I dide fro my God.
 xxii For alle þe domys of hym in my siȝte; and þe riȝtwisnesses of hym I putte not fro me awey.
 xxiii And I shal ben vndefoulid wiþ hym; and al abouten kepe me fro my wickidnesse.
 xxiv And þe Lord shal ȝelde to me after my riȝtwisness; and after þe clennesse of myn hondis in þe siȝte of þe eȝen of hym.
 xxv Wiþ þe holy, holy þou shalt be; and wiþ þe innocent man, an innocent þou shalt be.
 xxvi And wiþ þe chosen, chosen þou shalt be; and wiþ þe peruertid, þou shalt be peruertid.
 xxvii For þou a meke puple shalt make saf; and þe eȝen of proude men þou shalt lowen.
 xxviii For þou liȝtist my lanterne; Lord, my God, liȝte my dercenessis.
 xxix For in þee I shal be pullid out fro temptacioun; and in my God I shal gon ouer þe wal. xxx My God, vndefoulid þe weie of hym, þe spechis of þe Lord bi fyr examyned; þe defendere he is of alle hoperis in hym.
 xxxi For who God but þe Lord? or who God but oure
 God?
 xxxii God þat befor girte me wiþ vertue; and sette my weye vndefoulid.
 xxxiii þat parfiftli made my feet as of hertes; and vp on heȝe þingus settende me.
 xxxiv þat techeþ myn hondis to bataile; and þou settist as a brasene bowe myn armys.
 xxxv And þou ȝeue to me þe proteccioun of þin helpe; and þi riȝthond vndertoc me. And þi discipline amendede me in to þe ende; and þat þi discipline shal teche me.
 xxxvi þou madest large my goingus vnder me; and my steppis ben not feblid.
 xxxvii I shal pursue myn enemys, and taken hem; and I shal not be turned, to þe time þei failen.
 xxxviii I shal breke þem togidere, ne þei myȝten stonde;
 þei shul falle vnder my feet.
 xxxix And þou befor girtist me wiþ vertue to bataile;
 and þou supplauntidist men risende in me vnder me.
 xl And myn enemys þou ȝeue to me bac; and þe hatende me þou scateredest.
 xli Pei crierden, and þer was not þat shulde make saf; to þe Lord, and he ful out herde þem not.
 xlvi And I shal to-poone þem into pouder befor þe face of þe wind; as clei of stretis I shal do þem awei.
 xliii Pou shalt take me out fro þe aȝen seiyingus of þe puple; þou shalt sette me in to þe hed of Jentilis. Þe puple, þat I knewe not, seruede to me; xlvi in heering of ere it obeshede to me. Alienes sones han lied to me,
 xlvi alienes sonus ben elded; and haltiden fro þi pabis.
 xlvi Þe Lord lieueþ, and bleffid my God; and God of myn helpe be enhauncid.

xlvi God, þat giuest veniauncis to me, and sogetyft puplis vnder me;
 xlviii my deliueringe fro my wraȝeful enemys. And fro men risende in to me, þou shalt enhaunce me; fro þe wicke man þou shalt take me awei.
 xlvi Perfore, Lord, I shal knouleche to þee in naciouns;
 and to þi name a salm I shal seyn.
 i Magnefiende þe helþis of his king; and doende mercy to his crift Dauid, and to his sed vnto þe world.
SALM XVIII.
In to þe ende, þe salm of Dauid.
 i Heuenes tellen out þe glorie of God; and þe werkis of his hondes telliþ þe firmament.
 ii Dai to þe dai bolkeþ out woord; and nyȝt to þe nyȝt shewiþ out kunning.
 iii Per ben not spechis, ne fermownes; of þe whiche ben not herd þe voises of hem.
 iv In to al þe erþe wente out þe soun of hem; and in to þe endis of þe roundnesse of erþe þeir woordis. In þe funne he sette his tabernacle;
 v and he as a spouse goende forþ fro his priue chaumbre. He ful out gladide, as a ieaunt, to be runne þe weie;
 vi fro þe heȝest heuene þe going out of hym. And þe aȝeencomyng of hym unto þe heȝeste of hym; and þer is not þat hide hymself fro his hete.
 vii Þe lawe of þe Lord vnwemmed, turnende soulis; þe witnesſing of þe Lord feiþful, wisdam ȝiuende to litle childer.
 viii Þe riȝtwisnesses of þe Lord euene, gladende hertis; þe heste of þe Lord liȝtfum, liȝtende eȝen.
 ix Þe drede of þe Lord holy, abit stille in to þe world of world; þe domes of þe Lord verre, iustefied in to þemself.
 x Desirable vp on gold, and precious ston myche; and swettere ouer þe hony and þe honycomb. xi Forsoþe þi seruaunt kepeþ hem; in hem to be kept myche ȝelding.
 xii Giltis who vnderstandiþ? fro myn hid þingis clenfe
 me;
 xiii and fro alienes spare to þi seruaunt. If of me þei shul not lordshipen, þanne I shal ben vnwemmed; and ful out clenfid fro þe most gilte.
 xiv And þe spechis of my mouȝ shul be, þat þei plese;
 and þe swete þenking of myn herte in þi siȝte euermore. Lord, myn helpere; and myn aȝeen biere.

SALM XIX.
In to þe ende, þe salm of Dauid.
 i Ful out here þee þe Lord in þe dai of tribulacioun; defende þee þe name of þe God of Jacob.
 ii Sende he to þee helpe fro þe holy; and fro Sion defende he þee.

iii Myndeful be he of alle þi sacrificise; and þi brent sacrificise be maad fat.
 iii ȝelde he to þee after þin herte; and alle þi counsel conferme.
 v We shul gladen in þin helþe ȝiuere; and in þe name of oure God wee shul be magnefied.
 vi Fulfillie þe Lord alle þin askingus; now I haue knowe, for þe Lord made saf his crist. He shal ful out heren hym fro his holi heuene; in myȝtus þe helpe of his riȝthond.
 vii ȝese in charis, and ȝese in hors; wee forsoþe in þe name of þe Lord oure God shul inwardli clepen.
 viii ȝei ben oblisht, and fallen; wee forsoþe risen, and ben up riȝt.
 ix Lord, mac saaf þe king; and here us in þe day þat wee shul inwardli clepe þee.

SALM XX.

In to þe ende, þe salm of Dauid.

i Lord, in þi vertue shal þe king gladen; and vpon þin helþe ȝiuere ful out ioȝen hugely.
 ii ȝe desyr of his herte þou ȝeue to hym; and in þe wil of his lippis þou begilideft not hym.
 iii For þou wentist befor him in blesſingus of swetnesse; þou puttist in his hed a crowne of precious ston.
 iv Lyf he askide of þee, and þou ȝeue to hym; lengþe of daȝis in to þe world, and into þe world of world.
 v Gret is his glorie in þin helþe giuere; glorie and gret fairnesse þou shalt ful putte vp on hym.
 vi For þou shalt ȝiuen hym in to blesſing in to world of world; þou shalt gladen hym in ioȝe wiþ þi chere.
 vii For þe king hopiþ in þe Lord; and in þe mercy of þe heȝest he shal not be moued.
 viii Be founde þin hond to alle þin enemys; þi riȝthond finde alle þat þee hatiden.
 ix ȝou shalt putte þem as a furneis of fyr in þe time of þi chere; þe Lord in his wraþe shal desturbe þem, and fyr shal deuoure þem.
 x ȝe frute of hem fro þe erþe þou shalt leefe; and þe fed of hem fro þe sones of men.
 xi For ȝei bowede doun in to þee euelis; ȝei þoȝten counseilis, þat ȝei myȝten not stablen.
 xii For þou shalt putte þem abac; in þi relikis þou shalt make befor redi þe chere of hem.
 xiii Be þou enhauncid, Lord, in þi vertue; wee shul synge, `and wiþ salm seyn þi vertues.

SALM XXI.

In to þe ende, þe salm of Dauid, for þat taking to, or, for þe morutid vndertaking, or, for þe morutid hinde.

i God, my God, behold in me; whi hast þou forsake me? ferr fro myn helþe þe woordis of my giltis.

ii My God, I shal crie bi dai, and þou shalt not ful out heren; and in þe nyȝt, and not to vnwisdom to me.
 iii ȝou forsoþe in þe holi duellist, preising of Israel;
 iv in þee hopiden oure fadris, hopeden, and þou deliueredest hem.
 v To þee ȝei crieden, and ȝei ben maad saf; in þee ȝei hopeden, and ben not confoundid.
 vi I forsoþe am a werm, and not man; repref of men, and þe kaſting out of folc.
 vii Alle feende me scorneden me; ȝei speeken wiþ lippis, and moueden þe hed.
 viii He hopide in þe Lord, `deliuere he hym; make he hym saaf, for he wile hym.
 ix For þou art þat hast drawe me out from þe wombe, myn hope fro þe tetis of my modir;
 x in þee I am kaſt forþ out fro þe wombe. Fro þe wombe of my modir my God þou art; xi ne go þou awei fro me. For tribulacioun is next; for þer is not þat helpe.
 xii ȝer han enuyround me manye calues; fatte bolis besegeden me.
 xiii ȝei openeden vp on me þer mouþ; as a leoun rampaunt and rorende. xiv As watir I am held out; and scatrid ben alle my bones. Maad is myn herte as wax meltende; in þe myddel of my wombe.
 xv My vertue drieðe as a hord, and my tunge cleuede to my chekis; and in to pouder of deþ þou broȝtist doun me.
 xvi For þer wenten aboute me manye houndis; þe counseil of warieris besegide me. ȝei dolue myn hondis and my feet; xvii and ful noumbrable maden alle my bones. ȝei forsoþe togidere lokeden, and inwardly beheelden me;
 xviii ȝei deuydeden to þemself my cloþis, and upon my cloþ ȝei leiden lot.
 xix ȝou forsoþe, Lord, ne awei longe þou þin helpe fro me; to my defending behold anoon.
 xx Pul out fro þe fwerd my soule, þou God; and fro þe hond of þe hound myn only.
 xxi Sae me fro þe mouþ of þe leoun; and fro þe hornes of þe vnycornes my mecnelle.
 xxii I shal telle þi name to my breþern; in þe myddel of þe chirche I shal preife þee.
 xxiii ȝee þat dreden þe Lord, preifeþ hym; al þe fed of Jacob, glorifieþ hym. Drede hym al þe fed of Israel; xxiv for he sporne ñot, ne despiseþ þe lowe preȝing of þe pore. Ne he turnede awei his face fro me; and whan I shulde crie to hym, he ful out herde me.
 xxv Anent þee my preising in þe grete chirche; my vouwes I shal ȝelde in þe siȝte of men dredende hym.
 xxvi Pore men shul ete, and be fild, and ȝei shul preife þe Lord, þat aȝeen lechen hym; þe hertiſ of hem shul liue in to þe world of world.

xxvii Bei shul recorde; and be conuertid to þe Lord, alle þe cooftis of erþe. And per shuln honoren in his siȝte; alle þe meynes of Jentilis.

xxviii For of þe Lord is reume; and he shal lordshipen of Jentilis.

xxix Þei eeten, and honoureden, alle fatte men of erþe; in hys siȝte shul falle alle þat gon doun in to þe erþe. And my soule shal to him liue;

xxx and my sed shal serue to hym. Per shal be told to þe Lord þe ieneracioun to come;

xxxi and heuenes shul telle þe riȝtwisnesse of hym to þe puple þat shal be born, þe whiche þe Lord made.

SALM XXII.

Þe falm of Dauid.

i The Lord gouerneþ me, and no þing to me shal lacke; ii in þe place of leswe where he me ful sette. Ouer watir of fulfilling he nurshide me;

iii my soule he conuertide. He broȝte doun me vpon þe sties of riȝtwisnesse; for his name.

iv For whi and if I shal go in þe myddel of þe shadewe of deb; I shal not dreden euelis, for þou art wiþ me. Piȝerde and by staf; þo han confortid me.

v Þou haſt maad redi in þi siȝte a bord; aȝen hem þat trublyn me. Þou haſt myche fattid in oile myn hed; and my chalis makende ful drunken, hou riȝt cler it is.

vi And þi mercy shal vnderfolewe me; alle þe daȝis of my lif. And þat I dwelle in þe hous of þe Lord; in to þe lengþe of daȝis.

SALM XXIII.

Þe falm of Dauid, in þe first of þe wike.

i Off þe Lord is þe erþe, and þe plente of it; þe roundnesse of londis, and alle þat duellen in it.

ii For he vpon þe ses foundede it; and vp on þe flodis befor greiþide it.

iii Who shal steeȝen vp in to þe hyl of þe Lord; or who shal stonde in his holy place?

iv Þe innocent in hondis, and in clene herte, þat toc not to in veyn his soule; ne swor in trecherie to hys neȝhebore.

v Þis shal take bleſſing of þe Lord; and mercy of God his helþe ȝiuere.

vi Þis is þe ieneracioun of men sechende God; of men sechende þe face of God of Jacob.

vii Dōþ awei ȝoure ȝatus, ȝee princis; and beþ rerid out, ȝee euer lastende ȝatis, and þer shal gon in þe king of glorie.

viii Who is þis king of glorie? a Lord strong and myȝti, a Lord myȝti in bataile.

ix Dōþ awei ȝoure ȝatis, ȝee princis; and beþ rered vp, ȝee euer lastende ȝatis, and þer shal gon in þe king of glorie.

x Who is þis king of glorie? þe Lord of vertues, he is king of glorie.

SALM XXIII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid.

i To þee, Lord, I rerede my soule;

ii my God, in þee I trofne, I shal not becomen ashamed. And scorne not me myn enemys; iii forsoþe alle þat sustene þee shul not ben confoundid. Confoundid be alle doende wickid þingus ouer veynly. iii Piȝ weies, Lord, shew þou to me; and þi sties teche out me.

v Dresse me in þi treuþe, and tech me, for þou art God, my sauere; and þee I sustenede all day.

vi Recorde of þi mercy deedis, Lord; and of þi mercies þat fro þe world ben.

vii Þe giltis of my ȝouþe; and myn vnkunnyngnessis, ne wil þou not han in mynde. Aftir þi mercy haue mynde of me; for þi goodnesse, Lord.

viii Swete and riȝt þe Lord; for þat lawe he shal ȝiue to þe gilteris in þe weie.

ix He shal dresse debonere men in dom; he shal teche mylde men hys weies.

x Alle þe weies of þe Lord mercy and truþe; to þe aȝeen sechende men, þe testament of hym and his witnissis.

xi For þi name, Lord, þou shalt be merciful to my synne; myche it is forsoþe.

xii Who is þe man þat dredeþ þe Lord? lawe he sette to hym in þe weie þat he ches.

xiii Faȝnesse is þe Lord to men dredende hym; and þe testament of hym, þat it be opened to þem.

xv Myn eȝen euermor to þe Lord; for he shal pullen up fro þe grene my foot.

xvi Loke aȝeen in me, and haue mercy of me; for alone and a pore man I am.

xvii Tribulaciouns of myn herte ben multiplied; fro my nedis delyuere me.

xviii See my mecnesse, and my traualle; and forȝif alle my giltis.

xix Behold myn enemys, for þei ben multiplied; and wiþ wicke hate þei hateden me.

xx Kep my soule, and delyuere me; I shal not become ashamed, for I hopide in þee.

xxi Innocentis and riȝte cleueden to me; for I sustenede þee.

xxii Deliuere, God, Israel fro alle his tribulaciouns.

SALM XXV.

Þe falm of Dauid.

i Deme me, Lord, for in myn innocence I wente; and in þe Lord hopende I shal not ben vnfafned.

ii Prof me, Lord, and tempte me; brenne þou my reenys, and myn herte.

iii For þi mercy is befor myn eȝen; and I wiþ pleside in þi treueþ.
 iii I sat not wiþ þe counseil of vanyte; and wiþ berende wicke bingus I shal not gon in.
 v I hatide þe chirche of wariendo men; and wiþ þe vnpitouse I shal not sitte.
 vi I shal wasshe amongys innocentis myn hondis; and I shal enuyroun þin auter, Lord.
 vii Þat I here þe vois of preising; and telle out alle þi merueilis.
 viii Lord, I loouede þe fairnesse of þin hous; and þe place off þe dwelling of þi glorie.
 ix Ne leese þou wiþ þe vnpitouse men, God, my soule;
 and wiþ men of blodis my lif.
 x In whos hondis wickidnessis ben; þe riȝthond of hem is fulfild wiþ ȝiftis.
 xi I forsoþe in myn innocence wente; aȝeen bie me, and haue mercy of me.
 xii My foot stod in riȝt; in chirchis I shal blisse þee, Lord.

SALM XXVI.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid, befor þat he was enoyntid.

i The Lord my liȝting and myn helþe; whom I shal dreden? Pe Lord defendere of my lif; fro whom I shal quake?
 ii Whil neȝhen vp on me noȝeris; þat þei ete my flesh.
 þat trublen me, myn enemys; þei arn feblid and fallen.
 iii If þey setten aȝen me tentis; myn herte shal not drede. If rijfe out aȝen me bataile; in þat I shal hope.
 iv O þing I askide of þe Lord, þat I shal ofte sechen; þat I duelle in þe hous of þe Lord alle `dazis of my lif.
 þat I see þe wil of þe Lord; and viſite his temple.
 v For he hidde me in his tabernacle in þe day of euelis;
 and defendede me in þe hidde place of hys tabernacle.
 In þe ston he enhauncide me;
 vi and now he haþ enhauncid myn hed vp on myn enemys. I haue gon aboute, and offrid in his tabernacle an oft of criyng out; I shal singe, and seyn falm to þe Lord.
 vii Ful out here, Lord, my vois, þat I criede to þee;
 haue mercy of me, and ful out here me.
 viii To þee seide myn herte, Ful out soȝte þee my face;
 þi face, Lord, I shal ofte leche.
 ix Ne turne þou awei þi face fro me; ne bowe þou doun in wraþe fro þi feruaunt. Myn helpere be þou, Lord; ne forsake þou me, ne despise þou me, God, myn helþe ȝyuere.
 x For my fader and my moder forsoken me; þe Lord forsoþe haþ take me to.
 xi Lawe set to me, Lord, in þi weie; and dresse me in a riȝt paþ for myn enemys.

xii Ne þou shalt take me in to þe foulis of men trublende me, for þer han in risen aȝen me wicke witneſſis; and wickidnesse haþ lowe to þem.
 xiii I leeue to seen þe goodis of þe Lord; in þe lond of lyueres.
 xiv Abiyd þe Lord, manli do; and be coumfortid þin herte, and sustene þe Lord.

SALM XXVII.

Þe falm to þis Dauid.

i To þee, Lord, I shal crien; my God, ne be þou stille fro me, leſt any time þou holde þi pes fro me; and I shal be lic to men fallende in to þe dich.
 ii Ful out here, Lord, þe vois of my lowe preȝing, whil
 I preȝe to þee; whyl I poote out myn hondis to þin holi temple.
 iii Ne take þou me togidere wiþ synneres; and wiþ men werkende wickidnesse ne leese þou me. Þat speken pes wiþ þer neȝebore; euelis forsoþe in þe hertis of hem.
 iv ȝif to hem aftir þer werkis; and after þe wickidnesse of þe findingus to of hem. Aftir þe werkis of þer hondis ȝif to hem; ȝelde þer ȝelding to hem.
 v For þei vnderſtoden not þe werkis of þe Lord; and in to þe werkis of þe hondis `of hym þou shalt defroȝe þem, and not bilde þem up.
 vi Blifſid þe Lord, for he ful out herde þe vois of my lowe preȝing.
 vii Pe Lord myn helpere, and my defendere; in hym hopide myn herte, and I am holpen. And aȝeen flourede myn flesh; and of my wil I shal knoulechen to
 hym.
 viii Pe Lord þe strengþe of his folc; and is þe defendere of þe sauaciouns of his crift.
 ix Lord, mac saf þi puple, and bleſſe to þin eritage; and gourne þem, and enhaunce þem vnto wiþ ouþe ende.

SALM XXVIII.

Þe falm of Dauid, in þe endyne of þe tabernacle.

i Bringeþ to þe Lord, ȝee sones of God; bringeþ to þe Lord sones of weþeres.
 ii Bringeþ to þe Lord glorie and wrshipe; bringeþ to þe Lord glorie to his name; honoureþ þe Lord in his holi halle.
 iii Pe vois of þe Lord vp on watriſ, God of mageſte in þundrede; þe Lord vp on many watriſ.
 iv Pe vois of þe Lord in vertue; þe vois of þe Lord in gret doing.
 v Pe vois of þe Lord togidere brekende cedris; and þe Lord shal to-broke þe cedris of Liban. vi And he shal to-poone þem as þe calf of Liban; and þe loouede as þe sone of þe vnycornes.
 vii Pe vois of þe Lord betwene brekende þe flaume of fyr,

viii þe vois of þe Lord hurtlende togidere desert; and þe Lord shal to-stere þe desert of Cades.

ix þe vois of þe Lord befor greþende hertys, and he shal opene þe derk þingus; and in his temple alle shul sey glorie.

x þe Lord makeþ þe flod to duellen in; and þe Lord shal sitte king wiþ oute ende.

xi þe Lord shal ȝiuen vertue to his puple; þe Lord shal blisse to his puple in pes.

SALM XXIX.

Þe falm of þe song, in þe dedicacioun of þe hous of Dauyd.

i I shal enhaunce þee, Lord, for þou vndertoke me; and þou haſt not delitid myn enemys vpon me.

ii Lord, my God, I criede to þee; and þou haſt helid me.

iii Lord, þou broȝtist out of helle my soule; þou saudefist me fro men fallende doun in to þe lake.

iv Doþ salmus to þe Lord, ȝee halewis of hym; and knoulecheþ to þe mynde of his holynesse.

v For ire in þe indignacioun of hym; and lif in his wil. At þe euetid longe shal abide weeping; and at þe morutid glading.

vi I forsoþe feide in myn abundaunce; I shal not be moued in to wiþ oute ende.

vii Lord, in þi wil; þou ȝeue to my fairnesse vertue. þou turnedist awei þi face fro me; and I am maad disturbid.

viii To þee, Lord, I shal crie; and to my God I shal lowly preȝe.

ix What profit in my blod; whil I go doun in to corupcioun? Wheþir pouder shal knouleche to þee; or tellen out þi treuþe?

x þe Lord herde, and rewede of me; þe Lord maad is myn helpere.

xi þou turnedist my weiling in to ioȝe to me; þou to-heewe my fac, and enuiroundest me wiþ gladnesse.

xii Pat to þee singe my glorie, and I shal not be pungid; Lord my God, in to wiþouten ende I shal knouleche to þee.

SALM XXX.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid, `for þe ecces of mynde.

i In þee, Lord, I hopide; I shal not be confoundid in to wiþouten ende; in þi riȝtwisnesse deliuere me.

ii Bowe to me þin ere; heeȝe þat þou delyuere me. Be þou to me in to God a defendere; and in to an hous of refut, þat þou make me saf.

iii For my strengþe and my refut þou art; and for þi name þou shal ful out lede me, and ful out nurfhe me.

iv þou shalt ful out lede me fro þis grene, þat þei hidden to me; for þou art my defendere.

v In to þin hondis I take my spirit; þou boȝtist me, Lord God of treuþe.

vi þou hatedist aboute waiteris, vanytes ouer veynliche. I forsoþe in þe Lord hopide;

vii ful out I shal ioȝen, and gladen in þi mercy. For þou haſt beholde my mecnesse; and saudefest fro nedis my soule.

viii And þou cloſedest not me in þe hondis of þe enemy; þou haſt sett in large place my feet.

ix Haue mercy of me, Lord, for I am trublid; disturbid is in wraþe myn eȝe, my soule, and my wombe.

x For in forewe haþ failid my lif; and my ȝeris in weilingus. Enfeblid is in porenesse my vertue; and my bones ben disturbid.

xi Ouer alle myn enemys I am maad repref, and to my neȝhebores gretli; and drede to my knownen. þat feȝen me, outfloun fro me;

xii to forȝeting I am ȝiue, as a dead man fro herte. I am maad as a vessel lost;

xiii for I herde blamynge of manye duellende in enuyroun. In þat whyl þei shulde come togidere aȝen me; to take my soule þei counfeileden.

xiv I forsoþe in þee hopide, Lord, I seide, My God þou art;

xv in þin hondys my lottis. Tac me out fro þe hondis of myn enemys; and fro men purſuende me.

xvi Liȝtne þi face vp on þi feruaunt, mac me saaf in þi mercy;

xvii Lord, I shal not be confoundid, for I inwardli clepide þee. Vnpitous men shame þei, and be þei broȝt doun in to helle; xviii doumbe be þei made, treccherous lippis. þat speken aȝen þe riȝtwis wickidnesse; in pride, and in abusioun.

xix Hou gret þe multitude of þi swetnesse, Lord; þat þou hiddest to men dredende þee. þou performedist to hem, þat openen in þee; in þe listre of þe sones of men.

xx þou shalt hide þem in þe hid place of þi face; fro þe disturbing of men. þou shalt defende þem in þi tabernacle; fro þe aȝenseyng of tungis.

xxi Bleſſid þe Lord, for he made merueilous his mercy to me; in a strengþid cite.

xxii I forsoþe feide in exces of my mynde; I am cast aferr fro þe face of þin eȝen. Before þou ful out herdist þe vois of myn orisoun; whil I shulde crie to þee.

xxiii Looueþ þe Lord, alle ȝee þe feintus of hym; for þe Lord shal aȝeen seche þe treuþe, and ȝelde plenteously to men doende pride.

xxiv Manli doþ, and be counfortid ȝoure herte; alle ȝee þat hope in þe Lord.

SALM XXXI.

Þe vndirstondyng of Dauyd.

i Blifſid of whom ben forȝiue þe wickidnessis; and of whom couered ben þe synnes.

ii Bleſſid þe man, to whom witide not þe Lord synne; and þer is not in þe spirit of hym trecherie.

iii For I heeld my pes; inwardli eldeden my bones, whil I shulde crie al dai.
 iiiii For dai and nyȝt greued is on me þin hond; I am turned in my myseife, whil wiȝ ficchid is þe þorn.
 v My gilte knownen I made to þee; and myn vnriȝtwisnæsse I hidde not. I seide, I shal knowleche aȝen me myn vnriȝtwisnæsse to þe Lord; and þou forȝiue þe vnpitoufnesse of my synne.
 vi For þat shal preȝe to þee eche feint; in nedful time. Neuerþelatere in þe flod of manye watriſ; to hym þei shul not neȝhen.
 vii Pou art my refute fro tribulacioun, þat enuyrounde me; þou, my ful out ioȝe, pul out me fro þe enuyrounende me.
 viii Vnderſtonding I shal ȝiue to þee, and 'I shal enforme þee in þat weie, þat þou shalt go; I shal fastne vp on þee myn eȝe.
 ix Wileȝ not be maad as an hors and a mule; to whom is not vnderſtonding. In bernacle and bridil þe chekis of hem confreyne; þat neȝhen not to þee.
 x Manye scourgis of þe synnere; þe hopere forſoþe in þe Lord, mercy shal enuyroune.
 xi Gladeþ in þe Lord, and ful out ioȝeþ, ȝee riȝtwise; and glorieþ, alle ȝee riȝt in herte.

SALM XXXII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid.

i Ful out ioȝeþ, ȝee riȝtwise, in þe Lord; þe riȝte men ſemeþ togidere preſing.
 ii Knoulecheþ to þe Lord in an harpe; in fautre of ten cordis doþ ſalmys to hym.
 iii Syngeþ to hym a newe ſong; wel doþ ſalmys to hym in criende out.
 iv For riȝt is þe woord of þe Lord; and alle his werkis in feiȝ.
 v He loueþ mercy and dom; of þe mercy of þe Lord ful is þe erþe.
 vi By þe woord of þe Lord heuenes ben faſtned; and bi þe ſpirit of his mouȝ al þe vertu of hem.
 vii Gederende as in a botel þe watriſ of þe ſe; and puttende ſes in tresoris.
 viii Alle þe erþe drede þe Lord; of hym forſoþe ben togidere moued alle þe indwelleris þe world.
 ix For he ſeide, and þei ben maad; he fente, and þei ben formed.
 x þe Lord ſcatereþ þe counſeilis of Jentilis, repreueþ forſoþe þe þoȝtis of puplis; and repreueþ þe counſeilis of princis.
 xi þe counſeill forſoþe of þe Lord wiȝoute ende abit; þe þoȝtus of his herte in ieneracioun and in to ieneracioun.
 xii Blisful þe folc of kinde, of þe whiche is þe Lord his God; þe puple þat he ches in to eritage to hym.
 xiii Fro heuene beheeld þe Lord; he ſaz alle þe ſones of men.

xiv Fro his duelling place befor maad redi; he beheeld ouer alle, 'þat duelle þe erþe.
 xv þat made arowe þe hertiſ of hem; þat vnderſtondiȝ alle þer werkis.
 xvi þe king is not faued bi myche vertu; and þe ieaut shal not be faued in þe multitude of his vertu.
 xvii Desceyuable þe hors to helþe; forſoþe in abundaunce of his vertu he shal not be faued.
 xviii Lo! þe eȝen of þe Lord vp on men dredende hym; and in hem þat hopen on his mercy.
 xix þat he pulle out fro deþ þe foulis of hem; and fede þem in hunger.
 xx Oure foule ſuffreþ þe Lord; for helpere and oure defendere he is.
 xxi For in hym shal gladen oure herte; and in his holi name wee han hopid.
 xxii Be do þi mercy, Lord, vp on vs; as wee han hopid in þee.

SALM XXXIII.

þe falm of Dauid, whan he chaungide his chere beforñ Abymalech, and he lafte hym, and he ȝide awey.

i I shal bliſſe þe Lord in alle time; euermor his preſing in my mouȝ.
 ii In þe Lord shal ben preſid my foule; here þe debonere, and glad þei.
 iii Magneſieþ þe Lord wiȝ me; and enhaunce wee his name in to itſelf.
 iv I ſoȝte out þe Lord, and he ful out herde me; and of alle my tribulaciouns he caȝte me out.
 v Neȝheþ to hym, and beþ liȝtid; and ȝoure facis shul not be confoundid.
 vi þis pore man criede, and þe Lord ful out herde hym; and of alle his tribulaciouns faudeð hym.
 vii þe aungil of þe Lord ſendis in; in þe enuyroun of men dredende hym, and he shal deliuere þem.
 viii Taſtiȝ, and ſeeȝ, for ſweete is þe Lord; bliſful þe man, þat hopiȝ in hym.
 ix Dredeþ þe Lord, alle ȝee feyntis of hym; for þer is not ſcarfnesse to þe men dredende hym.
 x Riche men nededen, and hungriden; forſoþe þe inwardli ſechende þe Lord shul not be mynusht alle goode.
 xi Comeȝ, ſonyȝ, hereȝ me; þe drede of þe Lord I shal techen ȝou.
 xii Who is þe man þat wil lif; loueȝ to ſeen goode daȝis?
 xiii Forfende þi tunge fro euel; and þi lippis þat þei ſpeke not trecherie.
 xiv Turne awei fro euel, and do good; inwardlyche ſeek pes, and purſue it.
 xv þe eȝen of þe Lord vp on þe riȝtwise; and þe eris of hym at 'þe preȝeiris of hem.

xvi Be chere forsoþe of þe Lord vp on men doende euelis; þat he lese fro þe erþe þe memorie of hem.
 xvii Þe riȝtwise crieden, and þe Lord ful out herde hem;
 and fro alle þer tribulaciouns he deliuered hem.
 xviii Neȝh is þe Lord to hem þat ben wiþ trublid herte;
 and þe meke in spirit he þhal sauuen.
 xix Manye tribulaciouns of þe riȝtwise; and of alle þese shal delyuere þem þe Lord.
 xx Þe Lord keþeþ alle þe bones of hem; oon of hem shal not be to-brosid.
 xxi Þe deþ of synneres þe werste; and þei þat hateden þe riȝtwise shul gilten.
 xxii Þe Lord shal aȝeen bie þe foulis of his seruauns;
 and þer shul not gilten alle, þat hopen in hym.

SALM XXXIII.

In to þe ende, þe falm `to hym Dawid.

i Deme, Lord, þe noȝende me; out fiȝt þou þe inpugnende me.
 ii Tac armis and shheeld; and ris vp in to helpe to me.
 iii Heeld out swerd, and close aȝen hem þat purfue me;
 fei to my soule, I am þin helpe.
 iv Be þei confoundid, and shamefully drede þei, sechende my soule. Be þei turned awey bacward, and confounded, þenkende to me euelis.
 v Be þei maad as pouder beforne þe face of þe wind;
 and þe aungil of þe Lord to torment constreynde
 þem.
 vi Be maad þe weie of hem dercnessis, and flideri; and þe aungel of þe Lord pursuende hem.
 vii For wiþoute cause þei hidden to me deþ of þer grene; and ouer veynly þei acuseden my soule.
 viii Come to hym þe grene þat he knoweþ not, and þe taking þat he hidde cacche hym; and in þe grene falle he in it.
 ix My soule forsoþe ful out shal gladen in þe Lord; and shal deliten vp on his helþe ȝiuere.
 x Alle my bones shul seyn Lord, who lic þee; takende out þe helples fro þe hond of þe strengere of hym; þe ned and þe pore fro men brofende doun hym?
 xi Risende wicke witnesſis; þat I knew not askeden me.
 xii ȝeolden to me euelis for goodis; bareynte to my soule.
 xiii I forsoþe whan to me þei were heuy; was `clad in an heire. I mekide in fasting my soule; and my preȝeere in my bosum shal be turned.
 xiv As neȝhebore and oure broþer, so I wiþ plesyde; as weilende and forewid, so I was mekid.
 xv And aȝen me þei gladiden, and came togidere; þer ben gedered vp on me scourgis, and I knew not. ȝei ben scaterid, and not ficchid wiþ forewe; xvi þei tempteden me, þei vndermouwiden me wiþ vndermouwing, and gnastiden vpon me wiþ þer teþ.
 xvii Lord, whan þou shalt beholde, restore my soule fro þe malice doing of hem; fro leouns myn one.

xviii I shal knouleche to þee in a gret churche; in a sad puple I shal preisen þee.
 xix Ouerioȝe not to me þat enemyen to me wickeli; þat hatiden me wiþoute cause, and twincle wiþ eȝen.
 xx For to me forsoþe pesibl ȝei speeken; and in þe wreþe of þe erþe spekende, treccheries ȝei þoȝten.
 xxi And ȝei ȝeneden þeir mouȝ upon me; ȝei feiden, Weu, weu! oure eȝen han seen.
 xxii þou haft feen, Lord, ne be þou stille; Lord, ne go þou awei fro me.
 xxiii Ris, and fee to my dom; my God, my Lord, in to my caufe.
 xxiv Deme me aftir þi riȝtwisnæſſe, Lord, my God; and ouer ioȝe þei not to me.
 xxv Sei þei not in þer hertis, Weu, weu, to oure soule;
 ne sei þei, Wee shul deuouren hym.
 xxvi Waxe þei afhamed, and shameley drede þei togidere; þat þanken to myn euelis. Be þei clad wiþ confusioun, and shamefaſt drede; þat deedis of malice þenken vp on me.
 xxvii Ful out ioȝe þei, and glade þat wiln my riȝtwisnæſſe; and sei þei euermor, Pe Lord be magnefied; þat wiln be pes of his seruaunt.
 xxviii And my tunge shal sweteli þenke þi riȝtwisnæſſe;
 al dai þi preifing.

SALM XXXV.

In to þe ende, to þe seruaunt of þe Lord, þe falm of Dawid.

i The vnriȝtwise seide, þat he gilte in himself; þer is not þe drede of God beforne þe eȝen of hym.
 ii For treccherouſli he dide in his fiȝte; þat his wickidnesſe be founden at hate.
 iii Þe woordis of his mouȝ wickidnesſe and treccherie;
 he wolde not vnderstonde þat he do wel.
 iv Wickidnesſe he swetli þoȝte in his couche; he stod neȝh to eche wey not good, malice forsoþe he hatede not.
 v Lord, in heuene þi mercy; and þi treuþe vnto þe cloudis.
 vi þi riȝtwisnæſſe as þe mounteynes of God; þi domes myche depnesſe. Men and bestis þou shalt sauue, Lord; as þou, God, haſt multiplied þi mercy.
 vii Þe fones forsoþe of men; in þe coueryng of þi wengis shuln hopen.
 viii ȝei shul ben inwardli drunken of þe plente of þin hous; and of þe strem of þi delit þou shalt ȝiue þem drinke.
 ix For anent þee is þe welle of lif; and in þi liȝt wee shul see liȝt.
 x Befor strecche þi mercy to men knowende þee; and þi riȝtwisnæſſe to hem þat ben in riȝt herte.
 xi Come not to me þe foot of pride; and þe hond of þe synnere moue not me.

xii Pere fallen þat werken wickidnesse; þei ben put out, and myghten not stonden.

SALM XXXVI.

Þe psalm of Dauyd.

- i Wyle þou not folewe bi enuye in warieris; ne folewen bi looue men doende wickidnesse.
ii For as hei swiftli þei shuln waxe drie; and as wrtis of erbis foone þei shul falle doun.
iii Hope in þe Lord, and do goodnesse; and indwelle þou þe erþe, and þou shalt be fed in þe richeffes of it.
iv Delite in þe Lord; and he shal ȝiue to bee þe askingus of þin herte.
v Opene to þe Lord þi weie; and hope in hym, and he shal do.
vi And he shal bringen out as liȝt þi riȝtwisnesse, and þi dom as mydday;
vii soget be þou to þe Lord, and preȝe hym. Wile þou not folewe bi enuye in hym þat waxeþ welsum in his weie; and in man doende vnriȝtwisnessis.
viii Lef of fro wraþe, and forfac wodnesse; wile þou not folewe bi enuye, þat þou be maad malicious.
ix For þei, þat ben maad malicious, shul ben outlawid; sustenende forsoþe þe Lord, þei shuln eritagen þe erþe.
x And ȝit a litil, and þe synnere shal not ben; and þou shalt feche þe place of hym, and not finde.
xi Þe debonere forsoþe shuln eritagen þe erþe; and deliten in þe multitude of pes.
xii Þe synnere shal waite þe riȝtwis; and gnaste vp on hym wiþ his teþ.
xiii Þe Lord forsoþe shal scorne hym; for he beheeld forþ þat his day come.
xiv Þe synneres drownen out swerd; and benten þer bowe. þat þei desceyue þe pore and þe helpeles; þat þei to-hewe þe riȝte men in herte.
xv Þe swerd of hem entre in to þer hertes; and þe bowe of hem be to-broke.
xvi Betere is a litil to þe riȝtwis; ouer manye richeffis of synneres.
xvii For þe armys of synneres shul be to-brofisid; forsoþe þe Lord confirmeþ riȝtwis men.
xviii Þe Lord knewȝ þe daȝis of þe vnwemmed; and þe eritage of hem wiþ outh ende shal be.
xix Þei shul not ben confoundid in an euel time, and in þe daȝes of hungir þei shul be fulfild; xx for synneres shul pershen. Þe enimys forsoþe of þe Lord, anoon as þei shul be maad wrfshipful, and enhauncid; failende as smoke þei shul faile.
xxi Þe synnere shal borewe, and not paȝen; þe riȝtwis forsoþe haþ merci, and shal ȝelde.
xxii For blesfende to hym þei shuln eritage þe erþe; cursende forsoþe to hym shul doun pershe.
xxiii Anent þe Lord þe going of man shal be dressid; and þe weie of hym he shal wiln.

xxiv Whan þe riȝtwis shal fallen, he shal not ben hurtlid; for þe Lord vnderput his hond.

xxv ȝungere I was, and forsoþe I eldede; and I faȝ not þe riȝtwise forsake, ne his sed sechende bred.

xxvi Al dai he haþ reuþe, and leeneþ; and his sed shal ben in bleſſing.

xxvii Bowe doun fro euel, and do good; and indwelle in to þe world of world.

xxviii For þe Lord looueþ dom, and he shal not forfake his seyntus; þei shul be togidere kept in to wiþ outh ende. Vnriȝtwise shul be punfhid; and þe sed of vnpitouse shal pershen.

xxix Riȝtwise forsoþe shuln eritagen þe erþe; and indwelle in to þe world of world vp on it.

xxx Þe mouþ of þe riȝtwis shal sweteli þenke wiſdam; and his tunge speke dom.

xxxi Þe lawe of his God in þe herte of hym; and his goingus shul not be supplauantid.

xxxii Þe synnere beholdeþ þe riȝtwise; and secheþ toflen hym.

xxxiii Þe Lord forsoþe shal not forsaken hym in his hondis; ne dampne him whan it shal be demed to hym.

xxxiv Abyd þe Lord, and kep his weie, and he shal enhaunce þee, þat bi eritage þou take þe erþe; whan synneres shul pershe, þou shalt fee.

xxxv I faȝ þe vnpitouse aboue hauncid; and rerid vp as cedris of Liban.

xxxvi And I paſſide, and lo! he was not; I ſoȝte hym, and þer is not founden his place.

xxxvii Kep innocence, and see equite; for þei ben relikis to a peſible man.

xxxviii Þe vnriȝtwise forsoþe shul doun pershe togidere; þe relikis of vnpitous men shul dien.

xxxix Þe helþe forsoþe of þe riȝtwis of þe Lord; and þe defendere of hem he is in time of tribulacioun.

xl And þe Lord shal helpen hem, and delyueren hem, and pullen hem out fro synneres; and fauen hem, for þei hopeden in hym.

SALM XXXVII.

Þe psalm of Dauyd, in remembryng of þe faboth.

i Lord, in þi wodnesse ne undernyme þou me; ne in þi wraþe chaftise þou me.

ii For þin arwis ben in ficchid to me; and þou haſt conferred þin hond vp on me.

iii þer is not helþe in my flesh fro þe face of þi wraþe; þer is not pes to my bones fro þe face of my synnes.

iv For my wickidnesses ouerȝiden myn hed; and as a greuous charge þei ben heuyed vp on me.

v Myne woundis stunken, and ben roten; fro þe face of myn vnwiſdam.

vi A wrecche I am maad, and am crookid vnto þe ende; al dai al dreri I wente in.

vii For my leendis ben fulfild wiþ deceytis; and þer is not helþe in my flesh.

viii I am tormentid, and I am meked ful myche; I rored from þe weiling of myn herte.
 ix Lord, befor þee al my defyr; and my weiling fro þee is not hid.
 x Myn herte is al disturbid in me; my vertu haþ forfiske me, and liȝt of myn eȝen, and it is not wiþ me.
 xi My frendis and my neȝhebores; aȝen me neȝheden and stoden. And þat besiden me weren fro aferr stoden; xii and fors þei maden þat foȝten my soule. And þat inwardli foȝten euelis to me, speeken vanytees; and treccheries al day swetely þei þoȝten. xiii I forsoþe as def herde not; and as doumb not openende my mouþ.
 xiv And I am maad as a man not herende; and not hauende in his mouþ aȝen vndernemyngus.
 xv For in þee, Lord, I hopede; þou shalt ful out heren me, Lord, my God.
 xvi For I seide, Lest any time ouer ioȝen to me myn enemys; and whil al to-stirid ben my feet vp on me, grete þingus þei speeken.
 xvii For I in to scourgis am redi; and my forewe in my fiȝte euermor.
 xviii For my wickidnesse I shal telle out; and I shal þenken for my fynne.
 xix Forsoþe myn enemys lyuen, and ben confermed vpon me; and ben multeplied, þat wickeli hateden me.
 xx Pat ȝelden euelis for goodis, bacbiteden to me; for I folewede goodnessse.
 xxi Ne forfiske þou me, Lord, my God; ne go þou awei fro me.
 xxii Tac heede in to myn helpe; Lord God of myn helþe.

SALM XXXVIII.

In to þe ende, 'þe song of Dauid, for Yditym.'

i I seide, I shal kepe my weies; þat I gilte not in my tungue. I putte to my mouþ warde; whan þe synnere shulde stonde aȝen me.
 ii I became doumb, and am mekid, and heeld my pes fro goodis; and my forewe is renewid.
 iii Myn herte wex al hot wiþ inne me; and in my swete þenking ful out shal brenne fir. I spac in my tungue; iv Lord, mac knownen to me myn ende. And þe noumble of my daȝes, what it is; þat I wite what failip to me.
 v Lo! mesurable þou haft put my daȝes; and my substaunce as noȝt befor þee. Neuerþelatere al vanyte; eche man liuende.
 vi Neuerþelatere in ymage passēþ a man; but in veyn he is al disturbid. He tresoreþ; and vnknowiþ, to whom he shal gedere þo þingus.
 vii And now what is myn abiding? wheþer not þe Lord?
 and my substaunce anent þee is.
 viii Fro alle my wickidnessis pul me awei; reprof to þe vnwise man þou haft ȝiu me.

ix I became doumb, and openede not my mouþ, for þou didist;
 x moue awei fro me þi scourgis. Fro þe strengþe of þin hond I failide in blamyngus; xi for wickednesse þou chaftisidest a man. þou madest to flowen awei as an ireyne his soule; nerþelatere veynli is disturbid eche man.
 xii Ful out here myn orisoun, Lord, and my lowe preȝing; wiþ eris perceyue my teris. Ne be þou stille, for a comeling I am anent þee; and a pilgrim as alle my fadrис.
 xiii Forȝif to me, þat I be refreshed, befor þat I go awei;
 and I shal be no more.

SALM XXXIX.

In to þe ende, þe salm of Dauid.

i Abidende I abod þe Lord; and he beheeld to me.
 ii And he ful out herde my preȝeiris; and broȝte out me fro þe lake of wrecchidnesse; and fro þe clei of drestis.
 And he sette vp on a ston my feet; and dresside my goingis.
 iii And he ful putte in my mouþ a newe song; a ditee to oure God. Manye shul see, and dreden; and open in þe Lord.
 iv Blisful þe man, of whom þe name of þe Lord is his hope; and aȝeen lokide not in to vanytees, and in to false wodnessis.
 v Manye þi merueilis þou haft do, Lord, my God; and in þi þoȝtis þer is not, þat be lic to þee. I tolde befor, and spac; þei ben multiplied ouer noumble.
 vi Sacrifice and offring þou woldist not; eris forsoþe þou parfornedist to me. Brent sacrifice, and for synne þou askideſt not;
 vii banne I seide, Lo! I come. In þe hed of þe boc it is write of me,
 viii þat I do þi wil; my God, I wolde; and þi lawe in myddes of myn herte.
 ix I befortolde þi riȝtwisnesse in a gret chirche; lo! my lippis I shal not forfende, Lord, þou haft knownen.
 x þi riȝtwisnesse I hidde not in myn herte; þi treuþe and þin helþe ȝyuere I seide. I hidde not þi mercy, and þi treuþe; fro myche counseil.
 xi þou, Lord, forsoþe ne do þou aferr þi mercy doingus fro me; þi mercy and þi treuþe euer mor vndertoken
 me.
 xii For þer enuyrounden me euelis, of þe whiche is no noumble; þer caȝten me my wickednessis, and I myȝte not, þat I shulde see. þei ben multiplied ouer þe heris of myn hed; and myn herte forsoc me.
 xiii Holli plese it to þee, Lord, þat þou delyuere me;
 Lord, to helpen me looke aȝeen.
 xiv Be þei confoundid, and shamefastli drede þei togidere; þat fechen my soule, þat þei do it awei. Be þei turned al bacward, and shamefastliche drede þei; þat wiln to me euelis.

- xv Bere þey anoon þer confusioun; þat seyn to me, Weu! weu!
- xvi Ful out ioȝe þei, and glade vpon me, alle þat sechen þee; and þat loouen þin helpe ȝiuere, sey þei, Euermor be magnefied þe Lord.
- xvii I forsoþe a beggere am and pore; þe Lord is bisi of me. Myn helpere and my defendere þou art; my God, ne be þou tariende.

SALM XL.

In to þe ende, þe falm `of Dauid; or, in to þe ende, þe vnderstonding of Dauid.

- i Blisful þat vnderstant vp on þe nedi and pore; in þe euele dai þhal delyueren hym þe Lord.
- ii Þe Lord kepe hym, and quykene hym, and blisful make hym in þe erþe; and take hym not 'in to þe soule of his enemys.
- iii Þe Lord helpe bere to hym vp on þe bed of his forewe; al his bedding þou turnedest in his sicnesse.
- iv I feide, Lord, haue mercy of me; hele my soule, for I fynnede to pee.
- v Myn enemys feiden euelis to me; Whanne þhal dien, and perþhen his name?
- vi And if he wente in þat he see, veyne þingus he spac;
his herte þhal gedere wickidnessis to hym. He wente forþ outward; and spac in to itself.
- vii Aȝen me priueli grucciden alle myn enemys; aȝen me þei þoȝten euelis to me.
- viii A wicke woord þei setteden aȝen me; Wheþer he þat fleþeþ, þhal not kaste to, þat he ryse aȝeen?
- ix Forsoþe þe man of my pes, in whom I hopide; þat eet my loues, magnefiede vp on me supplaunting.
- x þou forsoþe, Lord, haue mercy of me; and aȝeen rere me, and I þhal ȝelde to þem.
- xi In þat I knew, þat þou woldist me; for þer þhal not ioȝe myn enemy ouer me.
- xii Me forsoþe for innocence þou hast vndertaken; and confermedist me in þi siȝte in to wipoute ende.
- xiii Bleſſid þe Lord God of Israel; fro þe world, and in to þe world, be it do, be it do.

SALM XLI.

In to þe ende, vnderstonding, or bi vnderstonding, to þe fones of Chore.

- i What maner desireþ þe hert to wellis of watriſ; so desireþ my soule to þee, God.
- ii My soule þristide to God, þe quyke welle; whan I þhal comen, and apere befor þe face of God?
- iii þer weren to me my teris, loues dai and nyȝt; whil it is feid to me eche day, Wher is þi God?
- iv þese þingus I recordide, and helde out in me my soule; for I þhal passen in to þe place of þe ful merueylous tabernacle, vnto þe hous of God. In þe vois of ful out ioȝing and confessioun; soun of þe etere.

v Whi dreri art þou, my soule; and whi al disturbist þou me? Hope in God, for ȝit I þhal knoulechen to hym; þe helpe ȝiuere of my chere, and my God.

vi To myself my foule is al disturbid; þerfore I þhal be myndeful of þee fro þe lond of Jordan, and fro Ermonyum, þe little hil.

vii Þe depnese depnese inwardli cleþeþ; in þe vois of þi gooteris. Alle þin heȝe þingis; and þi flodis ouer me paffiden.

viii In þe dai þe Lord sente his mercy; and in þe nyȝt his song. Anent me orisoun to God of my lif; ix I þhal sey to God, Myn vndertakere þou art. Whi forȝeete þou of me, and whi al fori I go; whil þe enemy tormenteþ me?

x Whil my bones ben to-broken; to me repreueden myn enemys, þat trublen me. Whil þei seyn to me, bi alle daȝis, Wher is þi God?

xi My soule, whi art þou dreri; and whi all sturbist þou me? Hope in God, for ȝit I þhal knoulechen to hym; þe helpe ȝiuere of my chere, and my God.

SALM XLII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid.

i Deme me, God, and feuere my caufe fro folc not holy; fro a wicke man, and a trecherous pul me awei.

ii For þou art God, my strengþe; whi haſt þou put me abac, and whi dreri I go, whil þe enemye tormenteþ
me?

iii Send out þi liȝt, and þi treueþ; þo þingis broȝten out me, and ladden to, in to þi holi hil, and in to þi tabernaclis.

iv And I þhal go in to þe auter of God; to God þat gladeþ my ȝouþe. I þhal knouleche to þee in an harpe, God, my God;

v whi dreri art þou, my soule, and whi al to-sturbist þou me? Hope þou in God, for ȝit I þhal knoulechen to hym; þe helpe ȝiuere of my chere, and my God.

SALM XLIII.

In to þe ende, to þe fones of Chore, to þe vnderstonding.

i God, wiþ oure eris wee han herd; oure fadris befor tolden to vs. Þe were þat þou wroȝtist in þe daȝis of hem; and in olde daȝis.

ii ȝin hond Jentilis scaterede, and þou formedest hem;
þou tormentideþ puplis, and puttist out hem.

iii Ne forsoþe in þer swerd þei weldden þe erþe; and þeir arm þhal not fauen hem. But þi riȝthond, and ȝin arm, and þe liȝting of þi chere; for holli þou toke plefaunce in hem.

iv þou art he, my king and my God; þat sendist helpis to Jacob.

v In þee oure enemys we shul wynewe bi þe horn; and in þi name we shul dispise inriseris in vs.

vi Forsoþe in my bowe I shal not hope; and my swerd shal not sauue me.
 vii Forsoþe þou sauuedist vs fro men tormentende vs; and þe hatende vs þou confoundedest.
 viii In God we shul be preisid al dai; and in þi name we shul knoueleche to bee in to þe world.
 ix Nou forsoþe þou hast put vs abac, and confoundid vs;
 and, God, þou shalt not gon out in oure vertues.
 x þou turnedist vs awei bacward after oure enemys; and þei, þat hatiden vs, dyuerfly caȝten to þemself.
 xi þou ȝeue vs as shew of metis; and in Jentilis þou scateredist vs.
 xii þou soldist þi puple wiþ oute pris; and þer was not multitude in þe togidere chaungingus of hem.
 xiii þou hast put vs repref to oure neȝhebores; vnder mouwing and scorn to hem þat ben in oure enuyroun.
 xiv þou hast put vs in to licnesse to Jentilis; mouyng of þe hed in puplis.
 xv Al dai my shame is aȝen me; and þe confusioun of my face ouercouerede me.
 xvi Fro þe vois of repref puttende, and euele spekende;
 fro þe face of þe enemy, and þe pursuere.
 xvii Alle þese þingus camyn vpon vs; and wee han not forȝete þee, and wickeli wee han not don in þi testament.
 xviii And oure herte wente not awei bacward; and þou bowdist doun oure pabis fro þi weie.
 xix For þou mekedist vs in þe place of tormenting; and ouercouerede vs þe shadewe of deþ.
 xx If wee han forȝete þe name of oure God; and if wee han sprad out oure hondis to an alien God.
 xxi Wheþer God shal not aȝeen sechen þes þingus? he forsoþe knewȝ þe hidde þingis of þe herte.
 xxii For wee ben mortefied for þee al dai; wee ben eymed as shew of flaȝtir.
 xxiii Rys vp, whi al slepist þou, Lord? ris vp, and putte þou not abac in to þe ende.
 xxiv Whi þi face turnest þou awei? þou forȝetist of oure myseife, and of oure tribulacioun.
 xxv For mekid in pouder is oure soule; oure wombe is glued togidere in þe erþe.
 xxvi Ris vp, Lord, and help vs; and aȝeen bie vs for þi name.

SALM XLIII.

In to þe ende, for hem þat shul ben wiþ chaungid, to þe fones of Chore, to vndirftondyg, þe song for þe loouede.

i Myn herte bowide out a good woord; I sey my werkis to þe king. My tunge þe penne of a scribe, swiftli wrytende.
 ii Fair in forme befor þe sonus of men, grace is held out in þi lippis; þerfore bleffide þee God in to wiþ oute ende.

iii Be þou gird to wiþ þi swerd; vp on þin hipe moþ myȝtili. In þi shap and þi fairnesse behold; iv go forþ welsumli, and regne. For treuþe, and deboneresse, and riȝtwisnæsse; and þi riȝthond shal merueilously bringe þee þennes.
 v Þin arwis sharpe, puplis vnder þee shul falle; in to þe hertis of þe enemys of þe king.
 vi Þy sete, God, in to þe world of world; þe ȝerde of þi gouernyng to euuenesse, þe ȝerde of þi regne.
 vii þou loouedest riȝtwisnæsse, and hatedist wickidnesse; þerfore enoyntide þee God, 'þi God, wiþ oile of gladnesse befor þi felawis.
 viii Myrre, and þe fwote gumme gutta, and þe fwote erbe casia, fro þi clopis, fro þe yuer housis; ix of þe whiche deliteden þee þe doȝtris of kingus in þi wrfshipe. Þe queen stod neeȝh fro þi riȝt parties in cloþing ouergilt; enuyround wiþ dyuerfete.
 x Here, doȝter, and see, and inbowe þin ere; and forȝet þi puple, and þe hous of þi fader.
 xi And þe king shal couete þi fairnesse; for he is þe Lord þi God, and þei shul honouren hym.
 xii And þe doȝtris of Tiri in ȝiftis; þi chere shul louli preȝe alle þe riche men of þe folc.
 xiii Al þe glorie of hym of þe doȝter of þe king fro wiþ inne, in goldene hemmes; aboute wrappid wiþ diuersetees.
 xiv Þer shul ben broȝt to þe king maidenes aftir hir; þe neȝheboris of hir shul be broȝt to þee.
 xv þei shul be broȝte in gladnesse, and ful out ioȝing;
 þei shul be lad to in to þe temple of þe king.
 xvi For þi fadris ben born to þee sones; þou shalt sette þem princis vp on al erþe.
 xvii Myndful þei shul ben of þi name, Lord; in alle ieneracioun, and in to ieneracioun. Þerfor puplis shul knouelechen to þee in to wiþ oute ende; and in to þe world of world.

SALM XLV.

In to þe ende, þe salm of Dauid, for þe priue þingis.

i Oure God refut, and vertue; helpere in tribulaciouns, þat founden vs ful myche.
 ii þerfore wee shul not drede, whil þe erþe shal be disturbid; and hillis shul be born ouer in to þe herte of þe fe.
 iii þer souneden, and ben disturbid þe watriis of hem; þe hillis ben disturbid in þe strengþe of it.
 iv þe bure of þe flod gladiþ þe cite of God; þe alþer heȝiȝt halewide his tabernacle.
 v God in þe myddel of it shal not be stirid; God shal helpen it erli fro þe morutid.
 vi Jentilis ben disturbid, and reumes ben inbowid; he ȝaf his vois, moued is þe erþe.
 vii þe Lord of vertues wiþ vs; oure vndertakere God of Jacob.

- viii Comeþ, and seeþ þe werkis of þe Lord; þe whiche he sette wndris vp on erþ.
- ix Takende awei batailis vnto þe ende of þe erþe; þe bowe he shal to-brose, and to-breke; armys and sheeldis he shal to-brenne wiþ fyr.
- x Takeþ heede, and seeþ, for I am God; I shal ben enhauncid in Jentilis, and I shal ben hauncid in þe erþe.
- xi þe Lord of vertues wiþ vs; oure vndertakere God of Jacob.

SALM XLVI.

In to þe ende, þe salm of Dauid, for þe sonus of Chore.

- i Alle Jentilis, ioȝe ȝee wiþ hondis; gladeþ to God in vois of ful out ioȝing.
- ii For þe Lord heiȝ, ferful; a gret king ouer al þe erþe.
- iii He vnder leide puplis to vs; and Jentylis vnder oure feet.
- ivii He ches to vs his eritage; þe fairnesse of Jacob, whom he louede.
- v God stȝeȝide vp in ful ioȝe; and þe Lord in vois of trumpe.
- vi Dōþ salm to oure God, dōþ salm; dōþ salm to oure king, dōþ salm.
- vii For þe king of al erþe God; dōþ salm wiſli.
- viii God shal regne vp on Jentilis; God fit vp on his holy fete.
- ix Princis of puplis ben gedered wiþ God of Abraham; for þe stronge godis of erþe hugeli ben rerid.

SALM XLVII.

Þe salm, or þe preisng of þe song of þe fones, or to þe fones of Chore, þe fecounde of þe wike.

- i The grete Lord, and preisable ful myche; in þe citie of oure God, in his holi hil.
- ii It is founded in ful out ioȝing of al erþe; þe mount of Sion, þe fide of þe norþ, þe cite of þe grete king.
- iii God in his housis shal be knownen; whan he shal vndertaken it.
- ivii For lo! þe kingus of erþe ben gedered; þei camen togidere in to oon.
- v Þei seende þus gretli wndreden, þei ben alle disturbid; þei ben togidere stirid,
- vi trembling caȝte hem. Pere forewis as of þe berende child;
- vii in an hidous spirit þou shalt to-brose þe shipis of Tharflis.
- viii As wee han herd, so wee han seen, in þe cite of þe Lord of vertues, in þe cite of oure God; God foundede it in to wiþ oute ende.
- ix God, wee han vndertake þi mercy; in þe myddel of þi temple.

- x After þi name, God, so and þi preisng in to þe endis of þe erþe; of riȝtwisnesse ful is þi riȝthond.
- xi Glade þe hil of Sion, and ful out ioȝe þe doȝtris of Jude; for þi domes, Lord.
- xii Gob aboute Sion, and togidere biclippeþ it; tellip in þe touris of it.
- xiii Setteþ ȝoure hertes in þe vertue of it; and delip þe housis of it, þat ȝee telle out in an oper progenye.
- xvii For þis is God, oure God, in to wiþoute ende, and in to þe world of world; he shal gourne vs in to worldis.

SALM XLVIII.

In to þe ende, to þe fones of Chore, þe salm of Dauyd.

- i Hereþ þese þingus, alle Jentilis; wiþ eris percheyueþ, alle þat dwellen þe world.
- ii Alle ȝee erþeli geten, and þe fones of men; togidere in to oon, þe riche and þe pore.
- iii My mouþ shal speken wiſdam; and þe swete þenking of myn herte prudence.
- ivii I shal ful bowe in to a parable myn ere; I shal opene in a fauter my propoficioun.
- v Whi shal I drede in þe euel dai? þe wickidnesse of myn heele shal enyroune me.
- vi Þat troften in þer vertu; and in þe multitude of þer richeffis glorien.
- vii A broþer aȝeen-bieþ not, shal a man aȝeenbien? and he shal not ȝiue to God wher of he be plesid.
- viii And þe pris of þe aȝeen-biying of his soule; and he shal trauaile in to wiþoute ende,
- ix and liue ȝit 'in to þe ende. He shal not seen deþ,
- x whan he shal seen wise men diende; togidere þe vnwise and þe fool shul perþe. And þei shul leue to alienes þeir richeffis;
- xi and þe sepulcris of hem þe hous of hem wiþoute ende. Þe tabernaclis of hem in progenye and progenye; þei clepeden þer namys in þer londis.
- xii A man, whan he was in wrfshipe, vnderstood not; he is comparisound to vnwise bestis, and lic is maad to þem.
- xiii Þis weye of hem sclaunder to þem; and aftir in þer mouþ þei shul togidere plesse.
- xivii As shew in helle þei ben fet; and deþ shal tognawe þem. And þe riȝtwife shul lordshipen of hem in þe morutid; and þe helpe of hem shal waxen old in helle, of þe glorie of hem.
- xv Neuerþelatere God shal aȝeen-bie my soule fro þe hond of helle; whan he shal take me to.
- xvi Ne þou shalt dreden, whan riche a man shal be maad; and whan shal be multiplied þe glorie of his hous.
- xvii For whan he shal dien, he shal not take alle þingus; ne shal go doun wiþ hym his glorie.

xviii For his soule in þe lif of hym shal be bleſſid; he shal knoueleche to þee, whan þou weel doſt to hym.
xix He shal gon in to þe progenyſe of his fadris; and vnto wiþoute ende he shal not fee liȝt.
xx A man, whan he was in wrſhiþe, vnderſtod not; he is comparisouned to vnwiſe bestis, and lic is maad to hem.

SALM XLIX.

Þe falm to Afaph.

i God of godis, Lord ſpac; and clepide þe erþe, fro þe riſing of þe funne vn to þe going doun.
ii Fro Sion þe ſhap of his fairneſſe, God openli shal come;
iii oure God, and he shal not be ſtille. Fyr in hiſ ſiȝt shal brenne out; and in hiſ enuyroun ſtrong tempeſt.
iv He clepide to heuene fro aboue; and þe erþe, to feueren hiſ puple.
v Gadereþ to hym hiſ feyntis; þat ordeynen hiſ teſtaſment vp on ſacrifiſes.
vi And heuenes ſhuln hiſ riȝtwiſnes before telle; for God is domeſman.
vii Here þou, my puple, and I shal ſpeke to Israel; and I shal witneſſe to þee, God, þi God I am.
viii Not in þi ſacrifiſis I shal vndernyme þee; forſoþe þi brente ſacrifiſes in hiſ ſiȝt ben euermor.
ix I shal not take to of þin hous calues; ne of þi flockis get.
x For myn ben alle þe wilde bestis of wodis; þe tame bestis in hillis, and oxen.
xi I knewȝ alle þe volatilis of heuene; and þe fairneſſe of þe feld is wiþ me.
xii If I shal hungren, I shal not fey to þee; myn is forſoþe þe roundneſſe of erþe, and hiſ plente.
xiii Whebir I shal ete flesh of bolis? or þe blod of get I shal drinke?
xiv Offre to God þe ſacrifiſe of preiſing; and ȝeeld to þe heȝeſte þi vrouwis.
xv And inwardli clep me in þe dai of tribulacioun; and I shal pullen out þee, and þou ſhalt wrſhiþe me.
xvi To þe ſynnere forſoþe God ſeide, Whi telliſt þou out my riȝtwiſneſſis; and takiſt to my teſtaſment bi þi mouȝ?
xvii þou forſoþe hatidist diſciplyne; and þrewe aferr my woordis hyndward.
xviii If þou ſeȝe a þef, þou runne wiþ hym; and wiþ auoutereres þi porcioun þou leidift.
xix þi mouȝ aboundide in malice; and þi tunge ordeynde trecheries.
xx Sittende aȝen þi broþer þou ſpeeke, and aȝen þe ſone of þi moder þou leideſt ſclaundri;

xi þeſe þingus þou didiſt, and I heeld my pees. þou eymedeſt wickeli, þat I shal be lic þee; I shal vndernyme þee, and ſette þee aȝen þi face.

xxii Vnderſtondeþ þis, ȝee þat forȝeten God; leſt any tyme he raueſhe, and þer be not þat deliuere.
xxiii Sacrifiſe of preiſing shal wrſhipen me; and þere þe weie, bi þe whiche I shal ſhewe to hym þe giuere of þe helþe of God.

SALM L.

Þe falm of Dauid; whan cam to hym Nathan þe profete, whan or for he entride to Berfabee.

i Haue mercy of me, God; after þi grete mercy. And after þe multitude of þi grete mercy doingus; do awey my wickidneſſe.
ii More ouer wash me fro wickenesse myn; and fro my synne clenſe me.
iii For my wickidneſſe I knowe; and my synne aȝen me is euermor.
iv To þee alone I ſynnede, and euel befor þee I dide; þat þou be iuſteſt in þi woordis, and ouercome whan þou art demed.
v Lo! forſoþe in wickidneſſis I am conceyued; and in synnes conceyued me my moder.
vi Lo! forſoþe treueþ þou loouedift; vncerteyne and hidde þingis of þi wiſdam þou madift open to me.
vii þou shal ſprenge me, Lord, wiþ iſope, and I shal ben clenſid; þou ſhalt wafhe me, and aboue ſnowȝ I shal be maad al whit.
viii To myn heering þou ſhalt ȝiue ioȝe and gladneſſe; and ful out ſhul ioȝe bones mekid.
ix Turne awey þi face fro my synnes; and alle my wickidneſſes do awei.
x A clene herte forme in me, God; and a riȝt ſpirit inwardli newe þou in my bowelis.
xi Ne þrowe þou me aferr fro þi face; and þin holy ſpirit ne do þou awei fro me.
xii ȝeld to me þe gladneſſe of þin helþe ȝiuere; and wiþ þe ſpirit principal conferme þou me.
xiii I shal techen wicke men þi weyes; and vnpitouſ men to þee ſhul ben al turned.
xiv Deliuere me fro blodis, God, God of myn helþe; and ful out ioȝende ſhal my tunge telle þi riȝtwiſneſſe.
xv Lord, my lippis þou ſhalt opene; and my mouȝ ſhal beforne telle þi preiſing.
xvi For if þou haddest wold ſacrifiſe, I ſhulde han ȝiuen; but forſoþe in brent ſacrifiſes þou woldeſt not deliten.
xvii Sacrifiſe to God, a ſpiritt holly trublid; a contrit herte and mekid, God, þou ſhalt not diſpife.
xviii Benygnely do, Lord, in þi goode wil to Sion; þat ful out be bild þe wallis of Jeruſalem.
xix þanne þou ſhalt taken at worȝ ſacrifiſe of riȝtwiſneſſe, offringus, and brent ſacrifiſes; þanne þei ſhul putten in vp on þin auter calues.

SALM LI.

In to þe ende, þe vnderstonding of Dauid, whan þer cam Doeche Idume, and hadde told to Saul, Dauyd cam in to þe hous of Abymalech.

- i What gloriest þou in malice; þat myȝti art in wickidnesse?
- ii Al dai vnriȝtwisnesse þoȝte þi tunge; as a sharp rasour þou didist treccherie.
- iii þou loouedist malice ouer benygnete; wickidnesse mor þan to speke equite.
- iv þou loouedest alle þe woordis of kaſting doun; in a treccherous tunge.
- v þerfore God shal destroȝe þee in to þe ende, he shal pulle þee out, and myne þee out fro þi tabernacle; and þi roote fro þe lond of liueres.
- vi Riȝtwis shul seen, and dreden; and vp on hym þei shul laȝen, and feyn,
- vii Lo! þe man þat putte not God his helpere. But hopide in þe multitude of his richeffis; and hadde þe maistri in his vanyte.
- viii I forsoȝe as an oliue berende frut in þe hous of God; hopide in þe merci of God in to wiþoute ende, and in to world of world.
- ix I shal knoueleche to þee in to þe world, for þou haſt don; and I shal abide þi name, for it is good in þe siȝte of þi feynytys.

SALM LII.

In to þe ende, þe vnderstonding of Dauid for Amalech.

- i The vnwise man feide in his herte; þer is not God. Þei ben corrupt, and þei ben made abhominable in þer wickidnessis; þer is not þat do good.
- ii God fro heuenye beheeld vp on þe sones of men; þat he see, if þer is vnderſtondende, or aȝeen fechende God.
- iii Alle boweden doun togidere, þei ben maad vnonprofitable; þer is not þat do good, þer is not vnto oon.
- iv Wheþer not alle shuln knownen, þat werken wickidnesse; þat deouoren my purple as mete of bred? God þei inwardli clepeden not;
- v þere þei trembliden bi drede, where was not drede. For God scaterede þe bones of hem, þat plesen to men; þei ben confoundid, for God dispiside þem.
- vi Who shal ȝiue fro Sion þe helpe ȝiuere to Israel? whan þe Lord shal holli turne þe caitife of his folc, Jacob shal ful out ioȝen, and Israel shal gladen.

SALM LIII.

In to þe ende in ditees or ympnes, in þe titlis, or vnderſtonding of Dauid, whan þer hadden come Zifei to Saul, and hadden told to Saul, Wheþir is not Dauyd hyd anentis vs?

i God, in þi name mac me saaf; and in þi vertue deme me.

ii God, ful out here þou myn orisoun; wiþ eris perceyue þe woordis of my mouȝt.

iii For alienes inwardli risen aȝen me, and stronge men foȝten my soule; and þei purposide not God befor þer siȝte.

iv Lo! forsoȝe God helpeþ me; and þe Lord is vndertakere of my foule.

v Turne awei euelis to myn enemys; and in þi treuþe scatere þem.

vi Wilfulli I shal sacrifice to þee; and I shal knoulechen to þi name, Lord, for it is good.

vii For fro alle tribulacioun þou haſt deliuered me; and vpon myn enemys beheeld doun myn eȝe.

SALM LIII.

In to þe ende, in ditees or ympnes, þe vndirstonding of Dauid.

i Here þou, God, myn orisoun, and despise þou not my lowe preȝeere;

ii tac heede to me, and ful out here me. I am maad al fory in myn enhaunting;

iii and I am al disturbid fro þe vois of þe enemy, and fro tribulacioun of þe synnere. For þei bowiden doun in me wickidnessis; and in wraȝe þei weren heuy to me.

iv Myn herte is al disturbid in me; and ferd of deþ fel vp on me.

v Drede and trembling camen vp on me; and al couereden me dercnesses.

vi And I feide, Who shal ȝiue to me federes as of a culuer; and I shal flee, and aȝeen resten?

vii Lo! I droȝ out me along fleende; and I duelte in wildernesse.

viii I abod hym, þat made me saf; fro to litil coraiouste of spirit, and fro tempest.

ix Lord, put doun, and deuyde þe tungis of hem; for I faȝ wickidnesse and contradiccioun in þe cite.

x Dai and nyȝt wickidnesse shal enuyroune it vpon þe wallis of it; and trauaile in þe myddes of it, and vnriȝtwisnesse.

xi And þer failede not fro þe stretis of it; vsure and treccherie.

xii For if myn enemy hadde curſid to me; I shulde alfo han suffrid. And if he, þat hadde hatid me, ouer me grete þingis hadde spoken; I shulde han hid me perauenture fro hym.

xiii þou forsoȝe a man of oon inwit; my ledere, and my knownen.

xiv þe whiche togidere wiþ me swete metis þou toke; in þe hous of God wee wente wiþ consent.

xv Deþ come vp on hem; and go þey doun in to helle lyuende. For shreudeneſſys in þe dwelling placis of hem; in þe myddel of hem.

xvi I forsoþe to þe Lord criede; and þe Lord shal faue me.
 xvii þe euentid and þe moru, and at myddai, I shal seyn, and befor telle; and he shal ful out here my voys.
 xviii He shal aȝeen bie my soule in pes fro þem, þat neȝhen to me; for among manye þei weren wiþ me.
 xix God shal ful out heren, and meke þem; þat is befor worldis. Þer is not forsoþe to þem al hol chaunging, and þei dredde not God;
 xx he straȝte out his hond in aȝeen ȝelding. Þei defouleden þe testament of hym, þei ben deuydid fro þe wraȝe of his chere; xxi and þe herte of hym neȝhede to. Softid ben þe woordis of hym vp on oil; and þei ben sferis.
 xxii Proȝ vp on þe Lord þi bisynesse, and he shal nurfhe þee out; and he shal not ȝiue in to wiþ outh ende flotering to þe riȝtwise.
 xxiii þou forsoþe, God, shalt bringe þem doun; in to þe pit of deþ. Men of blodis and trecherous shul not haluen þer daȝes; I forsoþe shal hope in þee, Lord.

SALM LV.

In to þe ende, for þe puple þat fro seintis is maad aferr, in þe inscripciouн of þe title to hym, Dauid, whan þer shulden holden hym heþene men in Jeth.

i Haue mercy of me, God, for a man `to-trad me; al day impugnende trublide me.
 ii My enimys to-treeden me al day; for manye fiȝtende aȝen me.
 iii Fro þe heiȝte of þe dai I shal drede; I forsoþe in þee shal hopen.
 iv In God I shal preife my woordis; in God I hopide, I shal not drede what do to me þe flesh.
 v Al dai þei curſiden my woordis; aȝen me alle þoȝtis of hem in to euel.
 vi þei shul duelle in and hiden; þei myn heele shul waite.
 vii As þei susteneden my soule for noȝt; þou shalt make þem saf in wraȝe puplis þou shalt to-breke.
 viii God, my lif I haue out told to þee; þou puttist my teres in þi siȝte. As in þi beheste, Lord; ix þanne shul ben al turned myn enimys bacward. In what euer dai I shal inwardli clepe þee; lo! I knew, for my God þou art.
 x In God I shal preife þe woord; in þe Lord I shal preife þe fermoun.
 xi In God I hopede; I shal not drede what do to me a man.
 xii In me, God, ben þi vouwis; þe whiche I shal ȝelde preisings to þee.
 xiii For þou haft deliuered my soule fro deþ, and my feet fro sliding; þat I plese befor God in þe liȝt of liueres.

SALM LVI.

In to þe ende, ne destroȝe þou or shend Dauid, in þe inscripciouн of þe title, whan he fleiȝ fro þe face of Saul in þe den.

i Haue merci of me, God, haue merci of me; for in þee trosteþ my soule. And in þe shadewe of þi wengis I shal hope; to þe tyme þat wyckidnesse ouerpasse.
 ii I shal crie to þe heiȝest God; God þat dide weel to me.
 iii He fente fro heuene, and deliuerede me; he ȝaf in to reprof þe tredende me. God fente his merci and his treuþe, iv and toc awei my soule; fro þe myddel of þe leoun whelpis, I sleep al disturbid. Sones of men, þe teþ of hem armys and arwis; and þe tunge of hem a sharp fwerd.
 v Be þou enhauncid, God, vpon heuenes; and vp on alle erþe þi glorie.
 vi þei maden redi a grene to my feet; and þei myche crookeden my soule. Þei doluen befor my face a dich; and þei fallen in to it.
 vii Redi myn herte, God, redi myn herte; I shal singe and salm fein.
 viii Rys vp, my glorie; ris vp, sautre and harpe; I shal risen vp erly.
 ix I shal knouleche to þee in puplis, Lord; and salm I shal sei to þee in Jentylys.
 x For magnefied is vnto heuenes þi merci; and vnto þe cloudis þi treuþe.
 xi Be þou enhauncid vp on heuenes, God; and ouer alle erþe þi glorie.

SALM LVII.

In to þe ende, ne shende þou or destroȝe Dauid, in þe inscripciouн of þe title.

i If vereli also riȝtwisness ȝee speke; euenli demeþ, ȝee sones of men.
 ii Forsoþe in þe herte wickidnessis ȝee werken in þe erþe; vnriȝtwisnesses ȝoure hondis menge togidere.
 iii Synneres ben aliened fro þe wombe; þei erreden fro þe wombe, þei speeken false þingus.
 iv Wodnesse to þem, after þe licenesse of an eddere; as of a doumb eddere, and stoppende his eris.
 v þe whiche shal not ful out heren þe vois of þe enchaunteres; and of þe venym makere enchauntende wiſly.
 vi God shal to-brose þe teþ of hem in þe mouþ of hem; and þe wang teþ of leouns þe Lord shal to-breke.
 vii To noȝt þei shul come, as water doun rennende; he bente his bowe, to þe time þat `þei be feblid.
 viii As wax þat flowiþ, þei shul ben taken awei; fyr fel ouer, and þei seȝen not þe sunne.

ix Befor þat ȝoure þornes shulden vnderstonde þe þeue þorne; as þe lyuende, so in wraþe he shal soupe þem vp.

x Þe riȝtwis shal glade, whan he seeþ veniaunce; his hondis he shal washen in þe blod of þe synnere.

xi And a man shal feyn, If forsoþe þer is frut to þe riȝtwis; forsoþe God is demende þem in erþe.

SALM LVIII.

In to þe ende, ne destroȝe þou or shend Dauid, in þe inscripcioune of þe title, whan Saul fente, and kepte his hous, þat he shulde flen hym.

i Tac me out fro myn enemys, my God; and fro þe inrisende in me deliuere me.

ii Tac me out fro þe werkende wickidnesse; and fro men of blodis saue me.

iii For lo! þei token my soule; þer fallen in to me stronge men. Nouþer my wickidnesse, ne my synne;
Lord,

iv wiþoute wickidnesse I ran, and wel reulide. Rys vp in to aȝen comyng to me, and see;

v and þou, Lord God of vertues, God of Israel. Tac heede to alle Jentilis to be vistid; haue þou not mercy to alle þat werken wickidnesse.

vi Be þei conuertid at euen, and hunger þei shul suffre as houndys; and þei shul enuyroune þe cite.

vii Lo! þei shuln speke in þer mouþ, and swerd in þe lippis of hem; for who herde?

viii And þou, Lord, shalt scorne þem; to noȝt þou shalt bringe alle Jentilis.

ix My strengþe to þee I shal kepe, for God myn vndertakere;

x my God, his mercy shal befor come me. God shewide to me vp on myn enemys, xi ne fle þou hem; leſt any time my puplis forȝeten.

Destroȝe þem in þi vertu; and put þem doun, Lord, my defendere.

xii Þe gilte of þe mouþ of hem, and þe woord of þer lippis; and be þei caȝt in þer pride. And of cursing and lesing þei shul be told; in þe full ending.

xiii In þe wraþe of hol eende, and þei shul not ben; and þey shul wite, for þe Lord shal lordshipen of Jacob, and of þe cooſtis of þe erþe.

xiv þei shul be conuertid at euen, and hunger þei shul suffre, as houndis; and þei shul gon abouþe þe cite.

xv Pei shul be scaterid, to eten; if forsoþe þei shuln not be fulſild, and þei shul grucche.

xvi I forsoþe shal ſinge þi strengþe; and enhauncen vp erly þi mercy. For þou art maad myn vndertakere; and my refute, in þe dai of my tribulacioun.

xvii Myn helpere, to þee I shal do falm; for God, myn vndertakere, my God, my mercy.

SALM LIX.

In to þe ende, for hem þat shul ben holli chaungid, in þe inscripcioune of þe title, to hym Dauyd, in to lernyng, whan he brende vp Mesopotanye of Cirie, or Cirie Sobal, and turnede Joab, and smot Edom in þe valei of salt placis, twelue þousend.

i God, þou haſt put vs abac, and destroȝid vs; þou wraþedest vs.

ii þou togidere mouedest erþe, and disturbidist it; hele þe to-tredingis of it, for it is toſtirid.

iii þou haſt shewid to þi purple hard þingis; þou haſt drunken vs wiþ wyn of compuncion.

iv þou haſt ȝiue to þe dredende þee toknyng; þat þei flee fro þe face of þe bowe.

v þat þi loouede be deliuered, mac saf in þi riȝt hond;
and ful out here me.

vi God spac in his halewe; I shal gladen, and deuyde Siccymam; and þe valei of tabernaclis I shal mesuren.

vii Myn is Galaad, and myn is Manafes; and Effraym þe strengþe of myn hed. Juda, my king;

viii Moab, þe pot of myn hope. In to Idume I shal strecche my shoing; to me alienus ben foget.

ix Who shal bringe me in to strengþid cite; who shal bringe me in to Idume?

x Wheþer not þou, God, þat haſt put vs abac; and þou, God, shalt not gon out in oure vertues?

xi ȝif to vs helpe fro tribulacioun; for veyn is þe helpe of man.

xii In God wee shul do vertu; and he to noȝt shal bringe doun men trublende vs.

SALM LX.

In to þe ende, in ympnes, þe falm to Dauyd.

i Ful out here þou, God, my lowe preȝing; tac heede to myn orisoun.

ii Fro þe endus of þe erþe to þee I criede, whil myn herte shulde ben anguyfht; in a fton þou enhauncidist me. þou broȝtest me out, iii for þou art maad myn hope; þe tour of strengþe fro þe face of þe enemy.

iv I shal duelle in þi tabernacle in to worldis; I shal be defendid in þe coueryng of þi wengis.

v For þou, my God, 'ful out herdist myn orisoun; þou ȝeue þe eritage to men dredende þi name.

vi Daȝis vp on daȝis of þe king þou shalt caste to; his ȝeris vnto þe dai of ieneracioun and of ieneracioun.

vii He abit stille into wiþoute ende in þe siȝte of God;
þe merci and his treuþe who shal aȝeen fechen?

viii Soo falm I shal sey to þi name in to þe world of world; þat I ȝelde my vounis fro dai in to dai.

SALM LXI.

In to þe ende, for Iditym, þe falm of Dauyd.

i Wheþer not to God foget shal be my soule; of hym forsoþe myn helpe ȝiuere.
 ii Forwhi and he my God, myn helpe ȝiuere, myn vndertakere; I shal be moued no more.
 iii Hou longe ȝee fallen in to a man? ȝeeflen alle ȝee;
 as to a boowid wouȝe, `and to a ston wal put doun.
 iv Neuer þe latere my pris þei þoȝten to putte behinde, I ran in þrist; wiþ þer mouȝ þei blisſiden, and wiþ þer herte curſiden.
 v Neuer þe latere to God foget be þou, my soule; for of hym my pacience.
 vi For lo! my God and my saueour; myn helpere, I shal not gon out.
 vii In God myn helpe ȝiuere, and my glorie; God of myn helpe, and myn hope is in God.
 viii Hopeþ in hym, eche congregacioun of puple;
 heeldeþ out beforne hym ȝoure hertes, God oure helpere in to wiþoute ende.
 ix Neuer þe latere veyne þe fones of men; lieris þe fones of men in weiȝtis; þat þei desceyue, þei of þe vanyte in to itself.
 x Wileþ not hopen in wickidnesse, raueynes wileþ not couete; if richessis `flowe to, wileþ not leyn to þe herte.
 xi Ones God spac, þese two þingus I herde; for þe power of God is,
 xii and to þee, Lord, mercy; for þou shalt ȝelde to eche man aftir his werkis.

SALM LXII.

Þe falm of Dauyd, whan he was in þe desert of Ydume.

i God, my God, to þee fro liȝt I wake. My soule þristide in þee; hou manyfold to þee my flesh. In a desert erþe and wiþoute weie, and wiþ oute water, ii so in holi I aperede to þee; þat I shulde see þi vertu, and þi glorie.
 iii For betere is þi mercy vpon lyues; my lippis shul preife þee.
 iv So I shal blesse þee in my lif; and in þi name I shal reran vp myn hondus.
 v As bi talȝ and fatnesse be fulfilid my soule; and wiþ lippis of ful out ioȝing my mouȝ shal preife.
 vi So I was myndeful of þee vp on my bedding, in þe morutidis I shal sweteli þenken in þee; vii for þou were myn helpere. And in þe coueryng of þi wengus I shal ful out ioȝe, viii my soule cleuede to after þee; me þi riȝthond vndirtoc.
 ix þei forsoþe in to veyn foȝten my soule, þey shul go in to þe neþermor partis of þe erþe; x þei shul be taken in to þe hond of fwerd, þe partis of foxis þei shul be.

xi Þe king forsoþe shal gladen in God, and þer shul be preisid alle þat fwern in hym; for ftoppid is þe mouȝ of men spekende wicke þingus.

SALM LXIII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauyd.

i Ful out here þou, God, myn orisoun, whan I louli preȝe; fro þe drede of þe enemy tac awei my soule.
 ii þou haſt defendid me fro þe couent of warieris; and fro þe multitude of men wirkende wickidnesse.
 iii For þei sharpiden out as a fwerd per tungis; þei benten a bowe, a bittere þing, iv þat þei sheete in hid þingus þe vnwemmed.
 Sodeynly þei shul sheten hym, and not dreden;
 v þei fastneden to hem a shreude woord. Þei tolden, þat þei shulden hide grenes; þei feiden, Who shal fee þem?
 vi Þei fercheden wickidnesſis; þei ferchende faileden in ferching. Þer shal neȝhen a man to an heiȝ herte; vii and God shal ben enhauncid. Þe arwis of little childer ben maad þe veniauncis of hem; viii and þer ben feblid aȝen hem þe tungis of hem. Alle þat feȝen hem ben disturbid; ix and eche man dredde. And þei beforne tolden þe werkis of God; and his deedis þei vnderstoden.
 x Þe riȝtwise shal gladen in þe Lord, and hopen in hym;
 and alle riȝtwise in herte shul be preisid.

SALM LXIII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauyd, þe song of Aggei, Jeremye, or Ezechiel, of þe woord of pilgrimagynge, or of þe puple of transmygracioun, whan þei shulden begynne to go forþ.

i Thee semeþ an ympne, þou God, in Sion; and to þee shal ben ȝolden a vou in Jerusalem.
 ii Ful out here þou myn orisoun; to þee all flesh shal come.
 iii Þe woordis of wicke men hadden þe maistri ouer vs;
 and to oure vnpitouſnesſis þou shalt be plesid.
 iv Blisful whom þou haſt chosen, and take to; he shal dwelle in þin hallis. Wee shul be fulfilid in goodis of þin hous; holi is þi temple, v merueilous in equite. Ful out here vs, God, oure helpe ȝiuere; hope of alle þe cooftis of erþe, and in þe se afer.
 vi Greiȝende hillis in þi vertu, gird to bi power;
 vii þat disturbist þe depþe of þe se, þe soun of his flodis.
 Jentilis shul ben sturbið, viii and dreden þat duellen þe termes of þi tocnes; þe goingus out of þe morutid and þe euetid þou shalt make delitable.
 ix þou haſt visitid þe erþe, and maad it drunke; and þou multipliedest to maken it riche. Þe flod of God is fulfill wiþ watriſ; þou greiþedest þe mete of hem, for ſo is þe befor greiþing of it.

x Pou inwardli makende drunke þe ryueres of it, multiplie his buriounys; and in his drope fallingus ſhal glade þe buriounende.

xi Pou ſhalt bleſſe to þe croune of þe ȝer of þi benyngnete; and þi feldis ſhul be fulfill wiþ plenteouuſte.

xii þe faire þingus of deſert ſhul waxe fatte; and bi ful out ioȝing little hillis ſhul be gird abouute.

xiii þe weperes of ſhep ben clad, and þe valeis ſhuln abounde wiþ whete; þei ſhul crie, and forſoþe feyn ympne.

SALM LXV.

In to þe ende, þe ſong of þe ſalm of refurecciooun.

i Ioȝeb to God, al erþe, ſalm ſeiþ to his name;
ii ȝiueþ glorie to his preiſing.

iii Seiþ to God, Hou ferful ben þi werkis, Lord; in þe multitude of þi vertu ſhuln lie to þee þin enemys.

iv Al erþe honoure þee, God, and do ſalm to þee; and feyn ſalm to þi name.

v Comeþ and ſeeþ þe werkis of God; ferful in counſeilis vp on þe ſones of men.

vi Pat al turneþ þe ſe in to drie, in þe flod þei ſhul paſſe þurȝ afoote; þer wee ſhul gladen in hym.

vii Pat lordſhiþeþ in his vertu in to wiþoute ende; his eȝen vp on Jentilis beholden, þat ful out terren ſhul not ben enhauncid in hemſelf.

viii Bleſſeþ, ȝee Jentylis, oure God; and herd makeþ þe vois of his preiſing.

ix Pat putte my ſoule to lif, and ȝaf not in to togidere ſtiring my feet.

x God, for þou haſt proued vs; bi fyr þou examynedest vs, as ſiluer is examyned.

xi Pou broȝtift vs in to þe grene, þou puttift tribulaciouns in oure rig;

xii þou puttift in men vpon oure hedis. Wee paſſiden þurȝ fyr and watir; and þou broȝtift out vs in to refreshing.

xiii I ſhal go in to þin hous in brent ſacrifises; I ſhal ȝelde to þee my vowis, xiv þat determineden my lippis. And my mouþ ſpac in my tribulacioun;

xv brent ſacrifises ful of merȝ I ſhal offre to þee, wiþ encens of wepers; I ſhal offre to þee oxen wiþ get.

xvi ȝee, alle þat dreden God, comeþ and hereþ; and I ſhal telle hou grete þingus he dede to my ſoule.

xvii To hym wiþ my mouþ I criede; and I ful out ioȝide vnder my tungue.

xviii Wickedenesse if I beheeld in myn herte; þe Lord ſhal not ful out here.

xix Perfore ful out herde God; and toc heede to þe vois of my lowe preiȝing.

xx Blifſid þe God; þat mouede not awei myn orisoun, and his merci fro me.

SALM LXVI.

In to þe ende, `in ympnes, þe ſalm of þe ſong to Dauyd.

i God haue merci of vs, and bliſſe to vs, liȝte to his chere vpon vs; and haue mercy of vs.

ii þat wee knowe in þe erþe þi weie; in alle Jentilis þi helþe ȝiuere.

iii Knouleche to þee puplis, God; knouleche to þee alle puplis.

iv Gladen and ful out ioȝe Jentilis, for þou demest puplis in equite; and Jentilis in þe erþe þou drefſiſt.

v Knouleche to þee puplis, God, vi knouleche to þee alle puplis; þe erþe ȝaf his frut.

Bleſſe vs God, oure God, vii bleſſe vs God; and drede hym alle þe cooftus of erþe.

SALM LXVII.

In to þe ende, þe ſalm of þe ſong of Dauyd.

i Ryſe vp God, and be ſcaterid his enemys; and flee þei þat hatiden hym fro his face.

ii As faileþ ſmoke, faileþ þei, as flowip wax fro þe face of fyr; ſo perfhe þe fyndres fro þe face of God.

iii And þe riȝtwiſe ete þei, and ful out glade þei in þe ſiȝte of God; and delite þei in gladneſſe.

iv Syngþ to God, ſalm ſeiþ to his name, makeþ weie to hym þat ſteȝeþ vp vp on þe going doun; Lord name to hym. Ful out ioȝeb in his ſiȝte, þei ſhul be diſturbid fro þe face of hym,

v fader of faderles childer; and domes man of widewis.
God in his holi place;

vi God þat makeþ to indwelle of o maner in an hous.
Þe whiche bringeþ out þe bounden men in ſtrengþe;
alſo hem þat terren, þat dwellen in ſepuleris.

vii God, whan þou ſhuldest gon out in þe ſiȝte of þi puple; whan þou ſhuldift paſſe in deſert.

viii þe erþe is moued, forſoþe heuenus droppeden doun fro þe face of God of Synay; fro þe face of God of Israel.

ix Wilful reyn þou ſhalt don apart, God, to þi eritage, and it is feblid; þou forſoþe madift it parfit.

x þi bestis ſhul duelle in it, God; þou madift redy in þi ſwetneſſe to þe pore.

xi þe Lord ſhal ȝiuen a woord; to þe euangeliferis in myche vertue.

xii þe king of vertues of þe looued of þe looued; and to deuyde ſpoilis to þe fairneſſe of þe hous.

xiii If ȝee ſlepe betwe þe mene fortis, ȝee ſhul be þe ſiluerne pennes of þe culuer; and þe hindermor of his ryg, in þe paleneſſe of gold.

xiiii Whil þe heueneli deuydeþ kingis vp on it wiþ fnowȝ, þei shul ben maad whit in Selmon; xv þe hil of God a fat hil. Þe hil cruddid togidere a fat
hil;
xvi wherto ouer trowe ȝee, þe hillis cruddid togidere?
Þe hil in whiche is wel plesid to God to duelle in it;
forsoþe þe Lord shal dwelle in to þe ende.
xvii þe charis of God manyfold in ten þoufendys, þat ben þousandus of men gladende; þe Lord in hem, in Syna, in holi.
xviii þou stedeþest vp in to heiȝte, þou toke caitifte; þou toke to ȝiftis in men. Forsoþe men not beleeuende; to dwellen in þe Lord God.
xix Bleſſid þe Lord fro dai to eche dai; welsum wei shal make to vs þe God of oure helþe ȝiueres.
xx Oure God þe God of makinge men saf; and of þe Lord Lord þe going out of deþ.
xxi Neuerbelatere God shal to-breke þe hedis of his enemys; þe top of þe her of men goende in þer giltus.
xxii þe Lord feide, Fro Basan I shal al turne; I shal al turne in to þe depþe of þe fe.
xxiii þat inwet be þi foot in blood; þe tunge of þin hounds fro hym of þe enemys.
xxiv þei seȝen þin ingoingus, God; þe ingoing of my God, my king, þat is in holy.
xxv þe princis camen befor ioyned wiþ þe singeris; in þe myddel of þe ȝunge wymmen tympanystris.
xxvi In chirchis blisseþ to God; to þe Lord of þe wellis of Israel.
xxvii Pere Beniamyn, þe ȝungling; in þe exces of mynde. Princis of Juda þe dukis of hem; princis of Zabulon, þe princis of Neptalym.
xxviii Send, God, to þi vertue; conferme þou, God, þat þat þou haſt wroȝt in vs.
xxix Fro þi temple, þat is in Jerusalem; to þee offre shul kingus ȝiftis.
xxx Blame þe wilde bestis of þe reed, þe gedering tgidere of bolis in þe kiyn of puplis; þat bei close out hem þat ben preued bi filuer. Scatere þou þe Jentilis þat wiln batailis, xxxi þer shul come messageris fro Egipt; Ethiope shal befor come his hondis to God.
xxxii Reumes of þe erþe, singeþ to God; doþ salm to þe Lord. Doþ salm to God;
xxxiii þat stedeþ vp vpon heuene 'of heuene at þe est.
Lo! he shal ȝiue to his vois, vois of vertue;
xxxiv ȝiueþ glorie to God vp on Israel; his grete doing and his vertue in cloudis.
xxxv Merueilous God in his halewis, God of Israel, he shal ȝiue vertue, and strengþe of hys puple; bleſſid be God.

SALM LXVIII.

In to þe end, for hem þat shuln ben al chaungid, to hym Dauid.

i God, mac me saf; for watriſ camen in vnto my soule.
ii I am inficched in þe flim of þe depþe; and þer is not substaunce. I cam in to þe heiȝte of þe fe; and tempest drenchide me doun.
iii I traualide criende, horſe ben maad my chekis; myn eȝen failiden, whil I hope in to my God.
iv þei ben multeplied ouer þe heris of myn hed; þat hatiden me wiþoute cause. þei ben coumfortid þat purſueden me myn enemys vniȝtwilly; þe þingis þat I raueſhicle not, þanne I paȝide out.
v God, þou knowest myn vnwifdam; and my giltis fro þee ben not hid.
vi Lord, shame þei not in me þat abiden þee, Lord; Lord of vertues. Be þei not confoundid vp on me, þat fechen þee; God of Israel.
vii For I suffride for þee repref; shenſhipe couerde my face.
viii Straunge I am maad to my breþern; and a pilgriſ to þe sonus of my modir.
ix For looue of þin hous eet me; and repreues of men repreuende þee fallen vp on me.
x And I couerde in fasting my foul; and it is maad in to repref to me.
xi And I putte my cloþing an heire; and I am maad to þem in to a parable.
xii Aȝen me speeken þat feeten in þe ȝate; and in me diden salm, þat drunke win.
xiii I forsoþe made myn orisoun to þee, Lord; tyme is of þi wel plesing, God. In þe multitude of þi mercy ful out here me; in þe treuþe of þin helþe. xiv Tac me out fro clei, þat I be not inficched; deliuere me fro hem þat hatiden me, and fro þe depþis of watriſ.
xv Drenche me not doun þe tempest of water; ne soupe me awei þe depþe, ne þrefte vp on me þe pit his mouþ.
xvi Ful out here me, Lord, for benyngne is þi mercy;
after þe multitude of þi merci doingus behoold in me.
xvii And ne turne þou awei þi face fro þi child; for I am trublid, swiftli ful out here þou me.
xviii Loke in to my soule, and deliuere it; for myn enemys tac out me.
xix þou knowist my repref; and my confusioun, and my fhame. In þi siȝte ben alle þat trublen me; xx repref abod myn herte, and wrecchidnesse. And I suffride þat summan togidere shulde wiþ forewen, and þer was not; and þat shulde coumforten, and I fond not.
xi And þei ȝeuen in to my mete galle; and in my þrist þei drunke me wiþ eisel.
xii Be mad þe bord of hem in to a grene befor þem;
and in to ȝeldingus aȝeen, and in to fclauder.
xiii Be al to-dercned þe eȝen of hem, þat þei see not;
and þe rig of hem euermor crooke þou in.
xiv Heeld out vp on hem þi wraþe; and þe wodnelle of þi wraþe al take þem.
xv Be maad þe dwelling of hem desert; and in þe tabernaclis of hem be þer not þat indwelle.

xxvi For whom þou haſt ſmyten, þei han purſued; and vp on þe forewe of my woundis þei addeden.
 xxvii Put to wickidneſſe vp on þe wickidneſſe of hem;
 and entre þei not in to þi riȝtwiſneſſe.
 xxviii Be þei do awei fro þe boc of lyueres; and wiþ riȝtwis men be þei not write.
 xxix I am a pore man, and forewende; þin helpe, God, vndertoc me.
 xxx I ſhal preife þe name of God wiþ ſong; and magnefien hym in preiſing.
 xxxi And he ſhal pleſe to God vp on a newe calf; hornes bringende forþ, and cles.
 xxxii See þe pore, and glade þei; ſecheþ God, and ȝoure ſoule ſhal liue.
 xxxiii For þe Lord ful out herde þe pore; and deſpide not hife bounden.
 xxxiv Preife hym, heuenes and erþe; þe ſe, and alle crepende þingis in it.
 xxxv For God ſhal make ſaf Sion; and þe cites of Jude ſhul be bild vp. And þei ſhuln induelle þere; and bi eritage þei ſhul purchaſen it.
 xxxvi And þe fed of his feruauns ſhal welden it; and þat loouen his name, ſhul duelle in it.

SALM LXIX.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid, in remembring þat þe Lord made hym ſaf.

i God, in to myn helpe tac heed; Lord, to helpen me heeȝe þou.
 ii Be þei confoundid, and ſhameli drede þei; þat fechen my ſoule.
 iii Be þei turned awei hindward, and waxe þei afhamed; þat wiln to me euelis. Be þei turned awei anoon and ſhamende; þat feyn to me, Weu! weu!
 iv Ful out ioȝe þei, and glad in þee, alle þat fechen þee; and fey þei euermor, Þe Lord be magnefied, þat loouen þi ȝiuere of helpe.
 v I forſoþe a nedи and a pore man am; God, helpe þou me. Myn helpere and my deliuere, be þou; Lord, ne tarie þou.

SALM LXX.

Þe falm of Dauid is of þe fonyſ of Jonadab, and of þe rāpere caitiues.

i In þee, Lord, I hopide; I ſhal not be confoundid in to
 wiþ oute ende;
 ii in þi riȝtwiſneſſe deliuere me, and tac me awei. Bowe þou in to me þin ere; and faue me. iii Be þou to me in to God defendere, and in to a ſtrengþid place; þat þou make me ſaaf. For my fastneſſe; and my refute þou art.
 iv My God, tac me awey fro þe hond of þe ſynnere; and fro þe hond of þe doere aȝen þe lawe, and of þe wicke.

v For þou art my pacience, Lord; Lord, myn hope fro my ȝouþe.
 vi In þee I am confermed fro þe wombe; fro þe wombe of my moder þou art my defendere. In þee my ſynging euermor;
 vii as wndring I am maad to manye; and þou a ſtrong helpere.
 viii Be fulſild my mouȝ wiþ preiſing, þat I ſyng þi glorie; al dai þi gretneſſe.
 ix Ne þrowe þou me aferr in time of elde; whan ſhal faile my vertue, ne forſake þou me. x For myn enemys feiden to me; and þei þat kepten my ſoule counſeil maden in to oon.
 xi Seiende, God haþ forſaken hym, purſueþ, and takeþ hym; for þer is not þat take away.
 xii God, ne be þou longid awei fro me; my God, in to myn helpe behold.
 xiii Be þei confoundid, and faile þei, bacbitende to my ſoule; be þei couered wiþ confuſioun and shame, þat fechen euelis to me.
 xiv I forſoþe euermor ſhal hopen; and caſten to vp on alle þi preiſing.
 xv My mouȝ ſhal befor telle þi riȝtwiſneſſe; al dai þin helpe ȝiuere. For I knew not leſtrure, xvi I ſhal gon in to þe poweris of þe Lord; Lord, I ſhal han mynde of þi riȝtwiſneſſe alone.
 xvii God, þou haſt taȝt me fro my ȝouþe, and vn to now;
 I ſhal telle forþ þi merueilis.
 xviii And vn to þe laſte age, and þe laſte ende of it; God, ne forſake þou me. To þe time þat I telle out þin arm; to alle ieneracioun þat is to come. Þi power, xix and þi riȝtwiſneſſe, God, vn to þe heȝeſte grete þingus þat þou didist; God, who is lic to þee?
 xx Hou grete þou haſt ſhewid to me tribulacioüns, manye and euele, and al turned þou haſt quykened me;
 and fro þe depneſſis of þe erþe eft þou haſt aȝeen broȝte me.
 xxi þou haſt multiplied þi grete doing; and al turned þou haſt coumfortid me.
 xxii For and I ſhal knouleche to þee in vefelis of falm bi treuþe, God; I ſhal do falm to þee in an harpe, þou holi of Israel.
 xxiii Ful out ſhul ioȝe my lippis, whan I ſhal ſyng to þee; and my ſoule, þat þou aȝeen boȝtift.

xxiv But and my tunge al dai ſhal ſweteli þenke þi riȝtwiſneſſe; whan confoundid and ſhamefastly aferd ſhul ben þat fechen euelis to me.

SALM LXXI.

In to Salomon.

i God, þi dom ȝif to þe king; and þi riȝtwiſneſſe to þe ſone of þe king.
 ii To demen þi puple in riȝtwiſneſſe; and þi pore men in dom.

- iii Vndertake mounteynes pes to þe puple; and þe hillis riȝtwisnesse.
 iv He shal deme þe pore men of þe puple; and saf he shal make þe sonus of pore men; and he shal meke þe false acusere.
 v And he shal abide stille wiþ þe funne, and befor þe mone; in ieneracioun and in to ieneracioun.
 vi He shal come doun as reyn in to flees; and as drope falling droppende vp on erþe.
 vii In his daȝis shal springe riȝtwisnesse, and aboundaunce of pes; to þe time þat þe mone be don awei.
 viii And he shal lordshipen fro þe se vn to þe se; and fro þe flod vnto þe termes of þe roundnesse of londis.
 ix Beforn hym shul falle doun Ethiopis; and his enimys þe erþe shul licken.
 x þe kingis of Tharsis and ylis shuln offre deserued ȝiftys; þe kingus of Arabs and Saba free ȝiftis shul bringe to.
 xi And þer shuln honouren hym alle kingus; alle Jentilis shul serue to hym.
 xii For he shal deliuere þe pore fro þe myȝti; and þe pore to whom was not an helpere.
 xiii He shal spare to þe pore, and to þe helpeles; and þe soulis of pore men he shal make saaf.
 xiv Fro vsuris and wickidnesse he shal aȝeen bie þe soulis of hem; and wrshipeful þe name of hem befor hym.
 xv And he shal lyue, and þer shal be ȝiue to hym of þe gold of Arabie; and þei shul honouren of it, al day þei shul blisse to hym.
 xvi þer shal be fastnyng in þe erþe, in þe heȝest þingis of mounteynes; þer shal ben aboue hauncyd aboue Liban his fruyt; and þei shul floure fro cite, as þe hei of erþe.
 xvii Be his name blifid in to worldis; befor þe funne abit stille his name. And þer shul be blifid in hym alle þe linagis of erþe; alle Jentilis shul magnefien hym.
 xviii Blifid be þe Lord God of Israel; þat doþ merueilous þingus alone.
 xix And bleffid be þe name of his maieste in to wiþoute ende; and þer shal be fulfilld wiþ his maieste al erþe; be it do, be it do.
 xx Per faileden preisingis, or ympnes of Dauid, sone of Jesse.

SALM LXXII.

Þe falm of Asaf.

- i Hou good þe God of Israel; to hem þat ben in riȝt herte.
 ii My feet forsoþe ben almost moued; almost ben held doun my goingis.
 iii For I enuyede vp on wicke men; feande þe pes of synneres.

- iv For þer is not respit to þe deþ of hem; and fastnyng in þe wounde of hem.
 v In þe trauaile of men þei ben not; and wiþ men þei shul not be scourgid.
 vi Perfore heeld hem pride; þei ben couered wiþ wickidnesse, and wiþ þer vnpitousnesse.
 vii Wente forþ as of talȝ be wickidnesse of hem; þei ouerpassiden in to lust of herte.
 viii þei þoȝten and speeke threudenesse; wickidnesse in heiȝte þey speeken.
 ix þei putten in to heuene þer mouþ; and þe tunge of hem wente in þe erþe.
 x Perfore shal ben conuertid my puple heer; and fulle daȝis shul be founden in hem.
 xi And þei seiden, Hou wot God; and wheþer is þer kunyng in heiȝte?
 xii Lo! þo synneres, and abundende in þe world; weldeden richeffis.
 xiii And I seide, Panne wiþ oute cause I iustefiede myn herte; and welsh among innocentis myn hondis.
 xiv And I was scourgid al dai; and my chastisfing in þe morutidis.
 xv If I seide, I shal telle þus; lo! þe nacioun of þi sones I haue repreued.
 xvi I eymede, þat I shulde knowe þat; trauaile is befor me.
 xvii To þe tyme þat I entre in to þe seytuarie of God; and vnderstonde in þe lafte þingus of hem.
 xviii Neuerþelatere for trecheries bou leidist to hem; bou þrewe hem doun, whil þei weren rerid vp.
 xix What maner be þei maad in to desolacioun; feerli þei faileden, þei perþiden for þer wickidnesse.
 xx As a fweuene of risende men; Lord, in þi cite þe ymage of hem to noȝt þou shalt bringe.
 xxi For enflaumed is myn herte, and my reenys ben al chaungid; xxii and I to noȝt am broȝt, and I wiste not. As a beeste I am maad anent þee; xxiii and I euermor wiþ þee. Bou heelde my riȝt hond, xxiv and in þi wil þou broȝtift me þennys; and wiþ glorie bou vndertoke me.
 xxv What forþoþe is to me in heuene; and of þee what wolde I vp on erþe?
 xxvi My flesh failide, and myn herte; God of myn herte, and my part, God in to wiþoute ende.
 xxvii For loo! þat longen hemself awei fro þee shul perþhen; bou loftift alle þat don fornycacioun fro þee.
 xxviii To me forþoþe to cleue to God is good; to putten in þe Lord God myn hope. Pat I telle out alle þi prechingus; in þe ȝatis of þe doȝter of Sion.

SALM LXXIII.

Þe vnderftonding of Asaf.

- i Wherto, God, haſt þou put abac in to þe ende; þi wodnessse wraþide vpon þe ſhep of þi leswe?

ii Myndeful be þou of þi congregacioun; þat þou weldedesf fro þe begynnyng. þou haſt aȝeen boȝt þe ȝerde of þin eritage; þe hil of Sion in whiche þou dwelliſt in it.
 iii Rere vp þin hondis in to þe pridis of hem in to þe ende; hou grete þingis wariede þe enemy in þe holi.
 iii And þei gloriēden þat hateden þee; in þe myddel of þi solempnēte. þei putten þer tocnes, tocnes;
 v and þei knewe not as in þe going out vpon þe heȝiſt.
 As in a woode of trees wiþ axis þei heewen doun þe ȝatis of it in to itſelf;
 vi in axis and hachet þei þrewen it doun.
 vii þei brenden vp wiþ fyr þi feintuarie; in þe erþe þei defouleden þe tabernacle of þi name.
 viii þei ſeiden in þer herte, þe kinrede of hem togidere;
 To reſten make wee alle þe feſte daȝis of God fro þe
 erþe.
 ix Oure ſigñes wee han not ſeen, now þer is not a profete; and he ſhal knowen vs no more.
 x Hou longe, God, þe enemye ſhal repreue? þe aduersarie vnlеfulli takeþ þi name in to þe ende.
 xi Wherto turneft þou awei þin hond, and þi riȝthond fro þi myddel bosum in to þe ende?
 xii God forſoþe oure king befor worldis; wroȝte helþe in þe myddes of erþe.
 xiii þou haſt conſermed in þi vertu þeſe; þou al totrublidif þe hedis of dragounys in watris.
 xiv þou haſt tobroke þe hedis of þe dragoun; þou haſt ȝiuen hym mete to þe puplis of Ethiope.
 xv þou haſt waſtid þe wellis, and þe ſtremes; þou haſt dried þe flodis of Etham.
 xvi þin is þe dai, and þin is þe nyȝt; þou forgedist þe morutyd and þe funne.
 xvii þou madeſt alle þe termes of erþe; ſomer and ver time, þou formediſt hem.
 xviii Myndeful be þou of þis, þe enemy putte repreſ to þe Lord; and þe vnwiſe puple terrede þi name.
 xix Ne take þou to beſtis foulis knoulechende to þee;
 and þe foulis of þi pore men ne forȝeteþ þou in to þe
 ende.
 xx Behold in to þi teſtament; for þei ben fulſild, þat ben dercned of erþe; bi þe houſis of wickidneſſis.
 xxi Ne be turned awei þe meke maad confundid; þe pore and þe helpelis ſhul preife þi name.
 xxii Rys vp, God, deme þou þi cauſe, myndeful be þou of þi repreues of hem; þat of þe vnwiſe man ben al day.
 xxiii Ne forȝeteþ þou þe voiſis of þin enemys; þe pride of hem þat hateden þee, ſteȝeþ vp euermor.

SALM LXXIII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of þe ſong of Afaf, ne deſtroȝeþ þou, or ſhend.

i Wee ſhul knouleche to þee, God, we ſhul knouleche; and inwardli wee ſhul clepe þi name. Wee ſhul telle þi
 merueilis,
 ii whan I ſhal take tyme; I riȝtwisneſſis ſhal deme.
 iii Molten is þe erþe, and alle þat dwellen in it; I conſermede þe pileeris of it.
 iii I feide to þe wicke men, Wileþ not wickidli don;
 and to þe gilteris, Ne wileþ not rerен vpon þe horn.
 v Wileþ not rerен up in to heȝiſt ȝoure horn; wileþ not ſpeken aȝen God wickidneſſe.
 vi For nouþer fro þe eſt, ne fro þe weſt, ne fro deſert hillis;
 vii for God is þe domyſman. þis he mekiþ, and þis he enhaunceþ;
 viii for þe chalis in þe hond of þe Lord of cler wyn, ful of mengd. And he bowide in of þat in to þat; nerþelatere þe dreſte of it is not waſtid out, þer ſhul drinke of it alle þe synneres of erþe.
 ix I forſoþe ſhal telle out in to þe world; I ſhal ſyng to God of Jacob.
 x And alle þe hornes of synneres I ſhal to-breke; and þe hornes of þe riȝtwis ſhul ben enhauncid.

SALM LXXV.

In to þe ende, in ditees, þe ſong to þe Affiries, þe falm of Afaf.

i Known is God in Jewerie; in Israel gret is his name.
 ii And maad is in pes his place; and his duelling in Sion.
 iii Þere he al to-brac poweris; bowe, ſheld, ſwerd, and
 bataile.
 iv þou art liȝtende merueilouſly fro þe euere laſtende mounteynes;
 v alle þe vnwiſe men ben diſturbid in herte. þei ſleepen þer ſlep aſlep, and no þing founded; alle þe men of richeſſis in þer hondis.
 vi Fro þi blamynge, God of Jacob; nappeden þat ſtieȝeden vp horſis.
 vii Ferful þou art, and who ſhal wiþſtonde to þee? fro þanne þi wraþe.
 viii Fro heuene herd þou haſt maad dom; þe erþe tremblide, and reſtide.
 ix Whan God ſhulde riſe vp in to dom; þat he make ſaaf alle þe debonere of erþe.
 x For þe þenking of a man þat knouleche to þee; and þe relikiſ of a þenking a feſte dai þul do to þee.
 xi Vouwiþ, and ȝeldeþ to þe Lord ȝoure God; alle ȝee þat in his enuyroun bringen to ȝiftis. To þe ferful, xii and to hym þat doþ awey þe ſpirit of princis; to þe ferful anent alle kingus of erþe.

SALM LXXVI.

In to þe ende, for Iditym, þe falm to Afaf.

i In my vois to þe Lord I criede, in my vois to God;
 and he tooc heede to me.
 ii In þe dai off my tribulacioun God I soȝte out wiþ myn hondis; þe nyȝt forn aȝen hym, and I am not deseyued. My soule forsoc to be comfertid; iii myndeful I was of God, and dilitide, and am enhauntid, and my sp̄it failide.
 iii Myn eȝen looke 'to forn wakinus; I am disturbid, and I sp̄ac not.
 v I þoȝte olde daȝis; and euere lastende ȝeiris in mynde
 I hadde.
 vi And I sweteli þoȝte in þe nyȝt wiþ myn herte; and I was enhauntid, and 'I swepte my sp̄it.
 vii Wheþer in to wiþoute ende God shal þrowe aferr; or he shall not lei to, þat he be more plesid ȝit?
 viii Or in to þe ende his mercy he shal kutte awey; fro ieneracioun in to ieneracioun?
 ix Or God shal forȝete to han merci; or he shal wiþholden in his wraþe his mercies?
 x And I feide, Now I haue begunne; þis chaunging of þe riȝthalf of þe heȝe.
 xi I was myndeful of þe werkis of þe Lord; for I shal be myndeful fro þe begynnynge of þi merueilis.
 xii And I shal sweteli þenke in alle þi werkis; and in þi findingis I shal ben enhauntid.
 xiii God, in þe holi þi wey; who gret God as oure God?
 xiv þou art God, þat doſt merueilis. Knownen þou haſt maad in puplis þi vertu;
 xv þou haſt aȝeen boȝt in þin arm þi puple, þe fones of Jacob and of Joseph.
 xvi Þer han seen þee watris, God, þer han seen þee watris, and þei dredden; and disturbid ben þe depneslis.
 xvii þe multitude of þe soun of watris; a vois ȝeuen þe
 cloudis.
 xviii Forsoþe þin arwis passeden þurȝ; þe vois of þi þunder in a whel. Þi shynyngus liȝteden to þe roundnesse of þe erþe; it is togidere moued; and þe erþe togidere tremblide.
 xix In þe fe þi weye; and þi sties in manye watris; and þi steppis shul not be knownen.
 xx Pou broȝtist out as shep þi puple; in þe hond of Moiles and Aaron.

SALM LXXVII.

Þe vnderſtonding of Afaf.

i Takeþ tente, my puple, to my lawe; inwardli bowiþ ȝoure ere in to þe woordis of my mouþ.
 ii I shul opene in parablis my mouþ; I shal speke proposiciouns fro þe begynnynge.
 iii Hou grete þingis wee han herd, and han knowe þem;
 and oure fadris tolden to vs.
 iii þei ben not hid fro þer fones; in an oþer ieneracioun. Tellende þe preisingsus of þe Lord, and his vertues; and his merueilis, þat he dide.

v And he rerede witneſſing in Jacob; and lawe he putte in Israel. Hou grete þingis he fente to oure fadris, to make þoo þingus knowe to þer fones; þat þe toper ieneracioun knowe.
 vi Þe sonus, þat shul be born, and risen out; shul tellen out to þer fones.
 vii þat þei putte in God þer hope, and þei forȝete not þe werkis of God; and his heftis þei out seche.
 viii Left þei be maad as þer fadris; a threude ieneracioun and a terrende out. A ieneracioun þat dressid not his herte; and his sp̄it is not take wiþ
 God.
 ix þe fones of Effraym lokende in, and sendende a bowe; ben turned in þe dai of bataile.
 x þei kepten not þe testament of God; and in his lawe þei wolden not go.
 xi And þei forȝeten his benefitis; and his merueylis, þat he shewide to þem.
 xii Befor þe fadris of hem he dide merueilis in þe lond of Egyp; in þe feld of Tafneos.
 xiii He betwen vp brac þe fe, and þurȝ broȝte þem; and sette þe watris as in a botel.
 xiv And he ladde hem þennes in þe cloude of þe day;
 and al nyȝt in þe liȝtnyng of fyr.
 xv He betwe brac þe ston in wildernesſe; and watride hem as in a myche deep water.
 xvi And he broȝte out water of þe ston; and he ladde out watris as flodis.
 xvii And þei leide to ȝit to synnen to hym; in to wraþe þei stiriden þe heȝe, in vnwatri place.
 xviii And þei tempteden God in þer hertis; þat þei alſe metis to þer soulis.
 xix And euele þei speken of God; þei seiden, Wheþer God shal moun make redi a bord in desert?
 xx For he smot þe ston, and þer floweden watris; and þe stremes maden to flowen. Wheþer and bred he shal moun ȝiue; or greiþen a bord to his puple?
 xxi Perfore þe Lord herde, and lafte of; and fyr is tend up in Jacob; and wraþe is steeȝed vp in Israel.
 xxii For þei leeueden not in God; ne hopiden in his helpe ȝiueren.
 xxiii And he fente to þe cloudes fro aboue; and þe ȝatis of heuene he openede.
 xxiv And he reynede to hem manna to ete; and þe bred of heuene he ȝaf to hem.
 xxv Man eet þe bred of aungelis; metis he fente to hem in abundaunce.
 xxvi He translatide þe souþ fro heuene; and broȝte in his vertue þe souþerne wynd.
 xxvii And he reynede vp on hem flesh as pouder; and federed volatilis, as þe grauel of þe fe.
 xxviii And þei fallen in þe myddil of þe tentys of hem;
 aboue þer tabernaclis.
 xxix And þei eeten, and ben fulfilde ful myche, xxx and þer desir he broȝte to þem; þei ben not bigilid fro þer desir.

xxxi ȝit þeir metis weren in þe mouþ of hem; and þe wraþe of God steiȝide vp upon hem. And he floȝ þe fatte men of hem; and þe chosen men of Israel he lettide.
 xxxii In alle þese þingus þei synneden ȝit; and þei leeueden not in his merueilis.
 xxxiii And þe daȝis of hem failiden in vanytee; and þe ȝeiris of hem in wiþheeȝing.
 xxxiv Whan he shulde slen hem, þei soȝten him; and weren turned aȝeen, and þe morutid þei camen to hym.
 xxxv And þei be remembred, for God is þer helpere; and þe heȝe God is þe aȝeenbiere of hem.
 xxxvi And þei looueden hym in þer mouþ; and in þer tunge þei lieden to hym.
 xxxvii Be herte forsoȝe of hem was not riȝt wiþ hym; ne feiȝful þei ben had in þe testament of hym.
 xxxviii He forsoȝe is merciful, and plesid þhal be maad to þe synnes of hem; and he þhal not scatere þem. And he abundede, þat he turne awei his wraþe; and he teende not vp al his wraþe.
 xxxix And he recordide, for þei ben flesh; a spirit goende, and not turnende aȝeen.
 xl Hou ofte ſipis þei out terreden hym in desert; in to wraþe þei toſtiriden hym in vnwatri place.
 xli And þei ben turned, and tempteden God; and holy Israel þei ful out terreden.
 xlvi ȝei ben not recordid of his hond; þe dai þat he boȝte hem fro þe hond of þe trublere.
 xlvi As he putte in Egipt his signes; and his wunders in þe feld of Thaneos.
 xlvi And he turnede into blod þe flodis of hem; and þer cisternes, þat þei shulde not drinke.
 xlvi And he sente in to þem an hound fleȝe, and it eet hem; and a frogge, and it defroȝede þem.
 xlvi And he ȝaf to rust þe frutis of hem; and þer trauailis to a locust.
 xlvi And he floȝ in hail þe vynes of hem; and þer mulberie trees in froȝt.
 xlvi And he toc to hail þe bestis of hem; and þe posseſſioun of hem to fyr.
 xlvi He sente in to þem þe wraþe of his indignacioun; indignacioun, and wraþe, and tribulacioun, in fendingus bi euele aungelis.
 i A weie he made to þe paþ of his wraþe, and he sparide not fro þe deþ of þe lyues of hem; and þe bestis of hem in deþ he cloſide.
 ii And he smot alle þe firſte gotten in þe lond of Egipt; þe firſt frutis of alle þe trauayle of hem in þe tabernaclis of Cham.
 iii And he toc awei as ſhep his puple; and he ladde hem þurȝ as a floc in desert.
 ivi And he ladde hem þennys in hope, and þei dreden not; and þe enemys of hem þe le couerede.
 ivii And he inladde þem in to þe hil of his halewing; þe hil þat his riȝthond purchaſide.

iv And he caste out fro þe face of hem Jentilis; and bi lot he deuydede to hem þe erþe in þe little corde of deling. And he made to dwelle in þe tabernaclis of hem þe linagis of Israel.
 vii And þei tempteden, and ſharpli terreden þe heȝe God; and his witneſſingus þei kepten not.
 viii And þey turneden þemſelf awei, and þei kepten not couenaunt; as þer fadris ben turned in to a ſhreude bowe.
 ixii In to wraþe þei stiriden hym in þer hillis; and in þer grauen þingis to ielouſte þei terreden hym.
 ixiii God herde, and despiside; and to noȝt he broȝte gretli Israel.
 ix And he putte abac þe tabernacle of Silo; his tabernacle wher he dwelte in men.
 xii And he toc into caitifte þe vertu of hem; and þe fairneſſe of hem in to þe hondus of þe enemy.
 xiiii And he cloſide in ſwerd his puple; and his eritage he dispiside.
 xviii ȝunge men of hem þe fyre eet; and þe maidenes of hem ben not weilid.
 xliii ȝe prestis of hem in ſwerd fallen; and þe widewis of hem weren not wept.
 xv And þe Lord is rerid vp, as ſlepende; as myȝti drunken of win.
 xvi And he ſmotted his enemys in to þe hindermor partis; euere laſting repref he ȝaf to þem.
 xvii And he putte abac þe tabernacle of Josep; and þe linage of Effraym he ches not.
 xviii But he ches þe linage of Juda; þe hil of Sion, þat he loouede.
 xix And he bilde vp as vnycorn his holi making; in þe lond, þat he foundede in to worldus.
 xx And he ches Dauid his ſeraunt, and he bar hym vp fro þe flockis of ſhep; xxi fro þe aftir berende blet he toc hym. To fede Jacob his ſeraunt; and Israel his eritage.
 xxii And he fedde hem in þe innocence of his herte; and in þe vnderſtondingus of þer hondis he ladde hem þenes.

SALM LXXVIII.

Þe falm to Afaf.

i God, Jentilis camen in to þin eritage; þei defouleden þin holi temple, þei putte Jerusalem in to þe keping of applis.
 ii ȝei putte þe ſmyten to deþ of þi ſerauntis, metis to þe foulis of heuene; flesh of þi feintis to þe bestis of erþe.
 iii ȝei ſhadden out þe blod of hem, as water in þe enuyroun of Jerusalem; and þer was not þat 'ſhulde birie.
 ivii Wee be maad repref to oure neȝheboris; mouwing and ſcoryng to þem, þat ben in oure cumpas.

v Hou longe, Lord, þou shalt wraþen in to þe ende? shal be tend vp as fyr þi ielouſte?
vi Heeld out þi wraþe in to Jentilis, þat han not knowe þee; and in to reumes, þat þi name han not inwardli clepid.
vii For þei eete Jacob; and hys place þei han maad defolat.
viii Ne þou shalt han mynde of oure olde wickidnessis, foone shul befor taken vs þi mercies; for pore men wee ben maad ful myche.
ix Help vs, God, oure helpe ȝiuere, and for þe glorie of þi name, Lord, deliuere vs; and plesid be þou to oure synnes for þi name.
x Lest parauenture þei sey in Jentilis, Wher is þe God of hem? and yt waxe ful knownen in naciouns beforne oure ezen. Þe veniaunce of þe blod of þi seruauns, þat is held out;
xi go in to þi ſiȝte þe weiling of þe gyued men. After þe mykilnesse of þin arm; weld þe fones of þe don to deþ.
xii And ȝeld to oure neȝheboris feuefold in þe bosum of hem; þe repref of þem, þat þei repreueden þee, Lord.
xiii Wee forſoþe þi puple, and þe ſhep of þi leſwe; shul knouleche to þee in to be world. In ieneracioun and in to ieneracioun; wee shul telle out þi preifing.

SALM LXXIX.

In to þe ende, for hem þat shul ben al holli chaungid, þe falm for þe Affiries; þe witneſſing of Afaph.

i Thou þat gouernest Israel, tac heed; þat ledist as a ſhep Joseph. þat ſittift vp on cherubyn; ii be þou maad open beforne Effraym, Beniamyn, and Manaffe. Rere vp þi myȝt, and cum; þat saf þou make vs.
iii God, conuerte þou vs, and ſheu þi face; and wee shul be saf.
iv Lord God of vertues; hou longe shalt þou wraþe vpon þe orisoun of þi seruaunt?
v þou shalt feden vs wiþ bred of teris; and drinke þou shalt ȝiue to vs in teris in meſure.
vi þou haſt put vs in contradiccioun to oure neȝheboris;
and oure enemys bemoweden vs.
vii God of vertues, conuerte þou vs; and ſheu þi face, and wee shul be saf.
viii þou tranflatidift a vyne fro Egipt; þou caſtidift out Jentilis, and plauntidift it.
ix Duke of þe weie þou were in his ſiȝt; and þou plauntidift his rootis, and it fulfilde þe erþe.
x His ſhadewe couerde hillis; and his ſhrubbis þe ceders of God.
xi He ſtraȝte out his braunchis vnto þe ſe; and vnto þe flood his railingus.
xii Wherto destroȝidift þou his wal; and pullen it alle þat gon beside þe weie?

xiii Þe bor of þe wode outlawide it; and þe ſinguler wilde beſte destroȝide it.
xiv God of vertues, be þou turned, behold fro heuene, and fee; and viſite þou þis vyne.
xv And parfitli mac it, þat þi riȝthond plauntide; and vp on þe ſone of man, whom þou haſt confermed to þee.
xvi Þe tend vp þingis wiþ fyr, and þe vnder doluen; of þe blaþyng of þi chere ſhul perſhen.
xvii Ȥin hond be don vp on þe man of þi riȝthond; and vp on þe ſone of man, whom þou haſt confermed to
þee.
xviii And wee goon not awei fro þee; þou shalt quykene vs, and þi name wee shul inwardli clepe.
xix Lord God of vertues, conuerte vs; and ſheu þou þi face, and wee shul be saf.

SALM LXXX.

In to þe ende, for þe preſſis, falmto þat Asaf, in þe fifte dai of þe wike.

i Ful out ioȝiþ to God, oure helpere; ioȝeþ to God of Jacob.
ii Takeþ falm, and ȝyueþ timbre; a merie fautre wiþ an harpe.
iii Trumpeþ in þe newe mone; wiþ a trumpe in þe noble dai of oure ſolempnete.
iv For comaundement in Irael it is; and dom to God of Jacob.
v Witneſſing in Joseph he putte it; whan he ſhulde gon out of þe lond of Egipt, þe tunge þat he hadde not knowe, he herde.
vi He turnede awei fro birþenes his rig; his hondis in þe cofin ſerueden.
vii In tribulacioun þou inwardli clepidift me, and I deliuerede þee; I ful out herde þee in þe hid place of tempeſt, I preude þee anentis þe watir of contradiccioun.
viii Here þou, my puple, and I ſhal witneſſe to þee, Israel, if þou ſhall here me, ix þer ſhall not be in þee a fresh God; ne þou ſhall honoure an alien God.
x I forſoþe am þe Lord þi God, þat ladde þee out fro þe lond of Egipt; ſpread abrod þy mouþ, and I ſhal fulfillie
it.
xi And my puple herde not my vois; and Israel toc not heed to me.
xii And I lafte þem after þe defiris of þer herte; þei ſhul gon in þer findingus.
xiii If my puple hadde herde me; Israel, if in my weies hadde go.
xiv For noȝt perauenture þe enemys of hem I ſhulde han mekid; and vpon men trublende þem I ſhulde han put myn hond.
xv Þe enemys of þe Lord lieden to hym; and þe time of hem ſhal ben in to worldis.

xvi And he fedde þem of þe talȝ of whete; and of þe ston wiþ hony he fulfilde hem.

SALM LXXXI.

Þe falm of Afaf.

- i God stod in þe synagoge of godis; in þe myddel forsoþe godis he seuereþ.
ii Hou longe ȝee demen wickidnesse; and þe facis of synneres ȝee taken?
iii Demeþ to þe nedy, and to þe moderles child; þe meke and þe pore iustefieþ.
iii Takeþ awei þe pore; and þe nedis fro þe hond of þe synnere deliuereþ.
v Þei knewen not, ne vnderstoden, in dercnessis þei gon; þer shul be moued alle þe foundemens of erþe.
vi I seide, godis ȝee ben; and þe sones of þe heȝe alle.
vii ȝee forsoþe as men shul dien; and as oon of þe princys shul falle.
viii Rys, God, deme þou þe erþe; for þou shalt eritagen in alle Jentilis.

SALM LXXXII.

Þe song of þe falm of Afaf.

- i God, who shal be lic to þee? ne holde þou þi pes, ne be þou refreynd, God.
ii For loo! þin enemys founeden; and þei þat hateden bee beener vp þe hed.
iii Vp on þi puple in malice ordeyneden a counseyl; and þoȝten aȝen þi seyntis.
iii Þei seiden, Comeþ, and scatere wee þem fro þe folc; and be no mor remembred þe name of Israel. v For þei þoȝten alle of oon inwit; togidere aȝen þee a testament disposiden vi þe tabernaclis of Ydumees and Ismaelitis. Moab, and Agarienes, vii Jebal, and Amon, and Amelech; alienes wiþ þe dwelleris of Tyrum.
viii Forsoþe Assur cam wiþ þem; and þei ben maad in to helpe to þe sones of Loth.
ix Do to þem as to Madian, and Cisare; as to Jabyn in þe strem of Cilon.
x Þei pershiden in Endor; þei ben maad as þe drit of erþe.
xi Put þe princis of hem as Oreb and Zeb; and Zebie and Zalmana. Alle þe princis of hem, xii þat seiden; Bi eritage welde wee þe feintuarie of God.
xiii My God, put hem as a wheel; and as stobil befor þe face of wind.
xiv As fyr þat brenneþ a wode; and as flaume togidere brennende hillis.
xv So þou shalt pursue þem in þi tempest; and in þi wraþe þou shalt disturbe þem.
xvi Fulfil þe facis of hem wiþ shenshipe; and þei shul seche þi name, Lord.

- xvii Waxe þey ashamed, and be þei al disturbid in to þe world of world; and be þei confoundid and perfhe.
xviii And knowe þei, for name to þee Lord; þou onli heȝest in al þe erþe.

SALM LXXXIII.

In to þe ende, for þe preffis, to þe fonus of Chore, þe falm.

- i Hou looued ben þi tabernaclis, Lord of vertues;
ii my soule coueteþ, and failiþ in to þe hallis of þe Lord. Myn herte and my flesh; ful out ioȝeden in to God alyue.
iii Forsoþe þe sparowe fonde to hym an hous; and þe turtill a nest, wher he leye vp his briddis. Þin auteres, Lord God of vertues; my king, and my God.
iv Blisful þat dwellen in þin hous, Lord; in to þe worldis of worldis þei shul preife þee.
v Blisful þe man, whos helpe is of þee; steȝingus vp in his herte he disposerde, vi in þe valei of teris, in þe place þat he sette. Forsoþe blesſingus shal ȝiue þe lawe berere, vii þei shul go fro vertue in to vertue; God of godis shal ben seen in Sion.
viii Lord God of vertues, ful out here myn orisoun; wiþ eris parceyue þou, God of Jacob.
ix Oure defendere, God, loke þou to, and behold in to þe face of þi crift.
x For betere is oo dai in þin hallis; ouer þousendis. I ches to be cast awei in þe hous of my God; more þan to duelle in þe tabernaclis of synneres.
xi For mercy and treuþe looueþ God; grace and glorie þe Lord shal ȝyue. He shal not make þem to be wiþoute goodis, þat gon in innocence;
xii Lord of vertues, blisful þe man, þat hopeþ in þee.

SALM LXXXIV.

In to þe ende, to þe fonus of Chore.

- i Lord, þou haft blissid þin erþe; þou haft turned awei þe caitifte of Jacob.
ii þou haft forȝiue þe wickidnesse of þi folc; þou haft couered alle þe synnes of hem.
iii þou haft suagid al þi wraþe; þou haft turned awey fro þe wraþe of þin indignacioun.
iv Conuerte vs, God, our helþe ȝiuere; and turne awei þi wraþe fro us.
v Wheþer in to wiþoute ende þou shalt wraþe to vs; or þou shalt strecchen out þi wraþe fro ieneracioun in to ieneracioun?
vi God, þou turned shalt quykenen vs; and þi folc shal gladen in þee.
vii Sheu to vs, Lord, þi mercy; and þi helþe ȝiuere ȝif þou to vs.

viii I shal heren, what speke in me þe Lord God; for he shal speke pes in to his folc. And vp on his seytis; and in to þem þat ben conuertid to þe herte.
 ix Neuerþelatere neeȝh þe dredende hym his helpe ȝiuere; þat indwelle glorie in oure erþe.
 x Mercy and treuþe metten to þemself; riȝtwisnesse and pes ben kift.
 xi Treuþe of erþe is sprungen; and riȝtwisnesse fro heuene beheeld forþ.
 xii Forsoþe þe Lord shal ȝiue benygnete; and oure erþe shal ȝiue his frute.
 xiii Riȝtwyfnesse beforne hym shal go; and he shal putte in þe weie his goingus.

SALM LXXXV.

Þe orisoun of Dauid.

i Bowe in, Lord, þin ere, and ful out here me; for helpeles and a pore man I am.
 ii Kepe þou my soule, for holi I am; mac saf þi seruaunt, my God, hopende in þee.
 iii Haue mercy of me, Lord, for to þee I crieðe al dai; iv glade þou þe soule of þi seruaunt, for to þee, Lord, my soule I rerede.
 v For þou, Lord, sweete and mylde; and of myche mercy to alle þat inwardli clepen þee.
 vi Wiþ eris parcyue þou, Lord, myn orisoun; and tac heed to þe vois of my lowe preȝing.
 vii In þe day of my tribulacioun I crieðe to þee; for þou ful out herdest me.
 viii Þer is not lic þee in godis, Lord; and þer is not aftir þi werkis.
 ix Alle Jentilis, what euere þou haſt maad, shul come, and honoure befor þee, Lord; and þei shul glorifie þi name.
 x For gret art þou, and doende merueilis; þou art God alone.
 xi Leed mee þenes, Lord, in þi weie, and I shal gon in þi treuþe; glad myn herte, þat it drede þi name.
 xii I shal knoueleche to þee, Lord my God, in al myn herte; and I shal glorifie þi name in to wiþ oute ende.
 xiii For þi mercy great is vp on me; and þou toke out my soule fro þe neþere helle.
 xvii God, wicke men inriſen vpon me; and þe synagoge of myȝti men loȝten my soule; and þei purposiden not þee in þer ȝiȝte.
 xviii But þou, Lord God, ruwer, and mercyful; pacient, and of myche merci, and verre.
 xix Behold in me, and haue mercy of me, ȝif empire to þy child; and saf mac þe fone of þin handmaiden.
 xxvii Do wiþ me a tocne in good, þat þei see, þat hateden me, and be confounded; for þou, Lord, haſt holpe me, and comfotid me.

SALM LXXXVI.

To þe sonus of Chore, þe falm of þe song.

i The foundemens of hym in holi hillis;
 ii þe Lord looueþ þe ȝatis of Syon, vp on alle þe tabernaclis of Jacob.
 iii Gloriouse þingus ben feid of þee; þou cite of God.
 iv Myndeful I shal be of Raab, and of Babiloyne; knowende me. Lo! alienus, and Tiris, and þe puple of Ethiopis; þese weren þere.
 v Wheþer a man shal sey to Sion, And a man is born in it; and he þe moþ heȝ foundede it?
 vi Þe Lord shal telle in þe scripturis of puplis; and of þese princis, þat waren in it.
 vii As of alle gladende; dwelling is in þee.

SALM LXXXVII.

Þe song of þe falm, to þe sonys of Chore, in to þe ende, for Melech, to answern, þe vnderſtonding of Eman Israelyte, or Efrayte.

i Lord God of myn helþe; in þe dai I crieðe and in þe nyȝte befor þee.
 ii Entre in þi ȝiȝte myn orisoun; bowe in þin ere to my preȝeere.
 iii For fulſild is wiþ euelis my soule; and my lif to helle neȝhede.
 iv I am eymed wiþ men goende doun in to þe lake; I am maad as a man wiþoute helpe, v among deade men free. As woundid men slepende in sepulcris, of whom þou art no mor myndeful; and þei of þin hond ben put aȝeen.
 vi Peȝ putten me in þe neþere lake; in derke þingus, and in shadewe of deþ.
 vii Vp on me is confermyd þi wodnesse; and alle þi flodis þou broȝtift in vp on me.
 viii Fer þou madest my knownen fro me; þei putten me abhominacioun to þem. I am traȝid, and I wente not out; ix myn eȝen febleden for myfeise. I crieðe to þee, Lord; al dai I spradde out to þee myn hondis.
 x Wheþer to deade men þou shal do merueilis; or lechis shul reran, and knouelechen to þee?
 xi Wheþer sum man shal telle in sepulcris þi mercy; and þi treuþe in to perdiçoun?
 xii Wheþer shul be knownen in dercneſſis þi merueilis; and þi riȝtwisnesse in þe lond of forȝeting?
 xiii And I to þee, Lord, crieðe; and erli myn orisoun befor shal come þee.
 xiv Wherto, Lord, pootift þou abac myn orisoun; þou turneft awei þi face fro me?
 xv A pore man I am, and in trauailis fro my ȝouþe; enhauncid, meekid forþoþe I am, and al disturbid.
 xvi In me paſſiden þurȝ þi wrabiſ; and þi feeris al disturbiden me.
 xvii Peȝ enuyrounden me as water al day; þey enuyrounden me togidere.
 xviii þou longedest awei fro me frend and neȝhebore; and my knownen fro wrechidnesse.

SALM LXXXVIII.

þe vnderftondyg of Ethan, Israelite.

i The mercies of þe Lord; 'in to wiþoute ende I shal fynge. In ieneracioun and in to ieneracioun; I shal befortelle þi treuþe in my mouþ.
ii For þou feidist, In to wiþ oute ende mercy shal be bild 'out in heuenes; beforne shal be maad redy þi treuþe in hem.
iii I disposide testament to my chosene; I swor to Dauid, my seruaunt, iv In to wiþoute ende I shal beforgreïþe þi feed. And I shal bilden out; in ieneracioun and in to ieneracioun þi fete.
v Lord, heuenus shul knouleche þi meruelis; forsoþe þi treuþe in þe chirche of halewis.
vi For who in cloudis shal be maad euene to þe Lord; lic shal ben to God in þe sonys of God?
vii God, þat is glorified in þe counseil of seytis; gret, and ferful vp on alle þat in his cumpas ben.
viii Lord God of vertues, who lic to þee? myȝti þou art, Lord, and þi treuþe in þi cumpas.
ix þou lordshipist of þe power of þe se; forsoþe þe mouyngis of his flodis þou suagist.
x þou mekedist, as woundid, þe proude; in þe arm of þi vertue þou destroȝedist þin enemys.
xi Pine ben heuenes, and þin is þe erþe; þe roundnesse of erþe, and hys plente þou foundedest;
xii þe norþ and þe se þou formedist. Thabor and Ermon in þi name shul ful out ioȝen; xiii þin arm wiþ power. Be fastned þin hond, and enhauncid be þi riȝthond; xviii and dom beforgreïþing of þi sete. Merci and treuþe shul beforgo þi face; xv blisful þe puple þat wot ioȝing. Lord, in þe liȝt of þi chere þei shul go; xvi and in þi name þei shul ful out ioȝen al day; and in þi riȝtwisnesse þei shul be enhauncid.
xvii For þe glorie of þe vertu of hem þou art; and in þi wel plesing shal ben enhauncid oure horn.
xviii For of þe Lord is oure taking vp; and of þe holi of Israel oure king.
xix Panne þou speeke in viseoun to þi seytis, and þou feidist; I haue putt helpe in þe myȝti, and I haue enhauncid þe chosen of my folc.
xx I haue founde Dauid, my seruaunt; wiþ myn holi oile I enoyntide hym.
xxi Myn hond forsoþe shal helpe to hym; and myn arm shal conferme hym.
xxii No þing shal profite þe enemy in hym; and þe sone of wickednesse shal not sette to, to noȝen hym.
xxiii And I shal al to-hewe fro þe face of hym his enemys; and þe hatende hym in to liȝt I shal al turne.
xxiv And my treuþe and my mercy wiþ hym; and in my name shal ben enhauncid his horn.

xxv And I shal putte in þe se his hond; and in flodis his riȝt hond.

xxvi He shal inwardli clepe me, My fader þou art; my God, and vndertakere of myn helþe.

xxvii And I þe first gotten shal sette hym; heȝ befor þe kingis of erþe.

xxviii In to wiþ oute ende I shal kepe to hym my mercy; and my testament feiþful to hym.

xxix And I shall sette in to world of world his sed; and his trone as þe daȝis of heuene.

xxx If forsoþe his sonys shul forsake my lawe; and in my domys shul not go.

xxxi If my riȝtwisnesse þei poote ferr awei; and myn heftis shul not kepe.

xxxii I shal visite in a ȝerde þe wickidnessis of hem; and in betingus þer synnes.

xxxiii My mercy forsoþe I shal not don awei fro hym; ne noȝen in my treuþe.

xxxiv Ne I shal not defoule my testament; and þat gon out of my lippis I shal not make vein.

xxxv Ones I swor in myn holy, to Dauid I shal not lie; xxxvi his sed in to wiþoute ende shal duelle. And his trone as þe funne in my liȝt;

xxxvii and as þe moone parfit in to wiþoute ende, and þe witnesse in heuene feiþful.

xxxviii þou forsoþe hast put abac, and dispisid; tariedist þi crift.

xxxix þou turnedist awei þe testament of þi seruaunt; þou curfidist in þe erþe his seintuarie.

xl þou destroȝidist alle þe heggis of hym; þou puttist his fastnyng drede.

xli þer wasteden hym alle men passende þe weie; he is maad repref to his neȝheboris.

xlii þou enhauncidist þe riȝthond of men berende hym doun; þou gladedest alle his enemys.

xliii þou turnedest awei þe helpe of his swerd; and þou helpedist hym not in bataile.

xliii þou destroȝidist hym fro his out clensing; and his sete in þe erþe þou hurtlidist.

xlv þou lassedist þe daȝes of hys time; þou ful heeldedest hym wiþ confusion.

xlii Hou longe, Lord, þou turnest awei in to þe ende; shal brenne out as fyr þi wrape?

xlvii Haue mynde what my substaunce; wheþer forsoþe veyn þou hast ordeynd alle þe sonus of men?

xlviii Who is a man, þat shal liue, and shal not see deþ; and shal pulle out his soule fro þe hond of helle?

xlix Wher ben þin olde mercies, Lord; as þou hast fworn to Dauid in þi treuþe?

l Myndeful be, Lord, of þe repref of þi seruauns; þat I wiþheld in my bofum, of many Jentilis.

li þe whiche þin enemys repreueden, Lord; þat þei repreueden þe hole chaunging of þi crift.

lii Bleſſid þe Lord in to wiþ oute ende; be it do, be it do.

SALM LXXXIX.

þe orisoun of Moises, man of God.

- i Lord, refut þou art maad to vs; fro ieneracioun in to ieneracioun.
- ii Befor þat hillis weren maad, or were formed þe erþe and þe roundnesse; fro world `and vn to world þou art God.
- iii Ne turne þou a man in to mecnesse; and þou seidist, Beþ conuertid, ȝee fones of men.
- iv For a þousend ȝeer befor þin eȝen; as ȝisterdai þat is passid. And þe warde in þe nyȝt,
- v þat for noȝt ben had; þe ȝeris of hem þul ben.
- vi Erli as an erbe passē he, erli flurflhe he, and passē; at euen falle he doun, inwardli harde he, and waxe drie.
- vii For we han failid in þi wraþe; and in þi wodnesse wee ben disturbid.
- viii þou haft put oure wickidnessis in þi siȝt; oure world in þe liȝting of þi chere.
- ix For alle oure daȝis faileden; and in þi wraþe wee han failid. Oure ȝeris, as an ireyn, þul be beþoȝt;
- x þe daȝis of oure ȝeris in þo feuenti ȝer. If forsoþe in myȝtis eiȝtetri ȝer; and þe more ouer of þem trauaille and forewe. For þer ouercam debonernelle; and wee þul be chaftisid.
- xi Who knewȝ þe power of þi wraþe; and for þi drede þi wraþe denoumbren?
- xii þi riȝthond so mac knownen; and þe taȝt wiþ herte in wiðdam.
- xiii Be þou conuertid, Lord, hou longe; and louli preyable be þou vp on þi seruauns.
- xiv Wee ben fulfilt erly wiþ þi mercy; wee han ful out ioȝed, and delitid in alle oure daȝis.
- xv Wee han ioȝid for þe daȝis in whiche þou haft mekid vs; þe ȝeris in whiche wee han seen euelis.
- xvi Behold, Lord, in to þi seruauns, and in to þi werkys; and reule forþ þe fones of hem.
- xvii And be þe shynyng of þe Lord oure God vp on vs; and þe werkis of oure hondis riȝtforþ reule `vp on vs; and þe werk of oure hondis reule riȝtforþ.

SALM XC.

þe preyfing of þe song, to hym Dauid.

- i That woneþ in þe helpe of þe heiȝest; in þe defending of God of heuene þul al abide.
- ii He þul sei to þe Lord, Myn vndertakere art þou, and my refut; my God, I þul hope in to hym.
- iii For he deliuerede me fro þe grene of hunteres; and fro þe sharpe woord.
- iv Wiþ his shuldris he þul al aboute shadewe to þee; and under his pennys þou shalt hopen. Wiþ þe sheld þul enuyroune þee his treuþe;
- v þou shalt not drede fro þe nyȝt drede. Fro þe arwe fleende in dai, vi fro þe nede goende in dercneſſis þurȝ; fro þe inrennyng, and þe myddai deuel.

vii Per þul falle fro þi fide a þousend, and ten þousend fro þi riȝt ſidis; to þee forſoþe he þul not neȝhe.

viii Neuerþelatere wiþ þin eȝen þou shalt beholde; and þe ȝelding of synnes þou shalt see.

ix For þou art, Lord, myn hope; heȝest þou haft put þi refut.

x þer þul not come to þee euel; and scourge þul not neȝhe to þi tabernacle.

xi For to his aungelis he comaundide of þee; þat þei þulden kepen þee in alle þi weies.

xii In hondis þei þul bern þee; left parauenture þou offende at þe ston þi foot.

xiii Vp on þe eddere and þe kokatrice þou shalt go; and þou shalt totredre þe leoun and þe dragoun.

xiv For in me he hopide, I þul delyueren hym; I þul defende hym, for he knewȝ my name.

xv He criede to me, and I ful out þal heren hym, wiþ hym I am in tribulacioun; I þul taken hym out, and glorifiȝen hym.

xvi In lengþe of daȝis I þul fulfillen hym; and shewen to hym myn helpe ȝyuere.

SALM XCI.

þe falm of þe song, in þe dai of sabot.

- i Good it is to knoulechen to þe Lord; and to do falm to þi name, þou heȝest.
- ii To tellen out erly þi mercy; and þi treuþe by þe nyȝt.
- iii In þe ten cordid fautre; wiþ song in þe harpe.
- iv For þou haft delitid me, Lord, in þi making; and in þe werkis of þin hondis I þul ful out ioȝen.
- v Hou magnefied ben þi werkis, Lord; ful myche deep ben maad bi þoȝtys.
- vi Þe vnwise man þul not knownen; and þe fool þul not vnderstonde þes þingus.
- vii Whan full out sprungne þul ben þe synneres, as hei; and þuln aperen alle, þat wirken wickenesse. þat þei dien in to þe world of world;
- viii þou forsoþe heȝest in to wiþoute ende, Lord.
- ix For lo! þin enemys, Lord, for lo! þin enemys þul pershen; and alle þul be scaterid þat werken wickidnesse.
- x And as an vnycorn þul ben enhauncyd myn horn; and my lafte age in `plenteuous mercy.
- xi And myn eȝe lokide doun myn enemys; and to þe inriseris wariende in me þul here myn ere.
- xii þe riȝtwis as palm þul floure; as þe cedre of Liban he þul be multiplied.
- xiii þe plauntid in þe hous of þe Lord; in þe porchis of þe hous of oure God þul floure.
- xiv ȝit þey þul be multiplied in þe lafte `plenteuous age; and wel suffrende þei þul be,
- xv þat þei telle. For riȝt is þe Lord oure God; and þer is not wickidnesse in hym.

SALM XCII.

þe preising of þe song of Dauid, in þe dai befor þe fabat, whan foundid is þe erþe.

- i The Lord regnede, fairnesse he is clad; þe Lord is clad strengþe, and beforgirte hymself. Forsoþe he fastnede þe roundnesse of erþe; þat shal not be togidere stirid.
- ii Greipid is þi sete, God, fro þanne; fro þe world þou art.
- iii þe flodis rereden vp, Lord; þe flodis rereden vp þer vois. Flodis rereden vp þer flowingis;
- iv fro þe voises of manye watri. Merueilouse þe wawis of þe se; merueilous in heþe þingis þe Lord.
- v Pi witnessiingis ben maad beleeuable ful myche; holynesse femeþ þin hous, Lord, in to þe lengþe of daȝes.

SALM XCIII.

þe falm of Dauid, þe ferþe dai of þe wike.

- i God of veniauncis Lord; God of veniauncis freeli dide.
- ii Be þou enhauncid þat demest þe erþe; ȝeld ȝelding to þe proude.
- iii Hou longe synneres, Lord; hou longe synneres shul glorien?
- iv Þei shul steringli seyn, and speke wickidnesse; alle shul speke þat wirchen vnriȝtwisnesse.
- v Pi puple, Lord, þei mekedon; and ouertrauaileden þin eritage.
- vi Þe widewe and þe comeling þei flooven; and þe moderles childer þei killeden.
- vii And þei feiden, þe Lord shal not seen; ne þe God of Jacob shal vnderstonde.
- viii Vnderstondep, ȝee vwische men in þe puple; and, ȝee foolis, sum tyme sauoureþ.
- ix He þat plautide þe ere, shal he not heren; or he þat made þe eȝe, behalt not?
- x þat chaftisep Jentilis, shal he not vndirnyme; þat techeþ man kunningyng?
- xi Þe Lord wot þe þoȝtis of men; for þei ben veyne.
- xii Blisful þe man, whom þou shalt enforme, Lord; and of þi lawe þou shalt techen hym.
- xiii þat þou suage hym fro euele daȝes; to þe time be dolue to þe synnere a dich.
- xiv For þe Lord shal not putte abac his folc; and his eritage shal not forsake.
- xv For to riȝtwisnesse be turned in to dom; and who beside it, alle þat ben riȝtwis in herte.
- xvi Who shal 'al rijſen to me aȝen þe warieris; or who shal stonde wiþ me aȝen þe werkende wickidnesse?
- xvii But for þe Lord halp me; parauenture my soule shulde han duellid in helle.
- xviii If I feide, Moued is my foot; þi mercy, Lord, halp me.

xix After þe multitude of my forewis in myn herte; þi coumfortingis gladenen my soule.

xx Wheþer cleueþ to þee þe fete off wickidnesse; þat formeſt trauaile in þe heſte?

xxi Þei shul cacchen in to þe soule of þe riȝtwis; and þe innocent blod þei shul condempne.

xxii And þe Lord is maad to me in to refut; and my God in to þe helpe of myn hope.

xxiii And he shal ȝeelde to hem þe wickidnesse of hem, and in þe malice of hem he shal destroȝe þem; shal destroȝe þem þe Lord oure God.

SALM XCIII.

þe preising of þe song, to hym Dauid.

- i Comeþ, ful out iøȝe wee to þe Lord; inwardli iøȝe wee to God, our helþe ȝiuere.
- ii Befor occupie wee his face in knouleching; and in salmys inwardli iøȝe wee to hym.
- iii For God a gret Lord, and a gret king ouer alle godis; for þe Lord shal not poote abac his folc.
- iv For in his hond ben alle þe cooftis of erþe; and þe heiȝtis of hillis ben of hym.
- v For of hym is þe se, and he made it; and þe drie his hondis formeden.
- vi Comeþ, honoure wee, and falle wee doun before God, wepe wee befor þe Lord, for he made vs;
- vii for he is þe Lord oure God. And wee þe puple of his leswe; and þe shep of his hond. To dai if hys vois ȝee han herd;
- viii wileþ not hardne ȝoure hertis. As in þe terring, after þe day; of tempting in desert.
- ix Where tempteden me ȝoure fadris; proueden and ȝeȝen my werkis.
- x Fourti zeer offended I was to þat ieneracioun; and I feide, Euermor þese erren in herte. And þes knewen not my weyes,
- xi to whom I fwor in my wraþe; þei shul not entre in to my reſte.

SALM XCV.

þe falm of Dauid, whan þe hous was bild vp after þe caitife.

- i Syngeþ to þe Lord a newe song; singeþ to þe Lord, al erþe.
- ii Syngeþ to þe Lord, and blesseþ to his name; telleþ fro dai in to dai his 'helþe ȝyuere.
- iii Tellip out among Jentilis his glorie; in alle puplis his merueilis.
- iv For þe Lord gret, and preifable ful myche; ferful he is ouer alle godis.
- v For alle þe godis off Jentilis deuelis; þe Lord forsoþe heuens made.
- vi Knouleching and fairnesse in þe siȝte of hym; holynesse and gret doing in þe halewing of hym.

vii Bringeþ to þe Lord, ȝee kuntres of Jentilis; bringeþ to þe Lord glorie and wrfshire; viii bringeþ to þe Lord glorie to hys name. Takeþ oftis, and entreþ in to his porchis; ix honoureþ þe Lord in his holi porche. Be to moued fro his face al erþe;
 x seiþ in Jentilis, for þe Lord haþ regned. Forsoþe he haþ amendid þe roundnesse of erþe, þat shal not be moued; he shal demen puplis in equite.
 xi Gladen heuenes, and ful out ioȝe þe erþe, be to moued þe se, and his plente; xii feeldis shul ioȝen, and alle þingus þat in hem ben. Panne alle þe trees of wodis shul ful out ioȝen xiii fro þe face of þe Lord, for he cam; for he cam to demen þe erþe. He shal demen þe roundnesse of þe erþe in equite; and puplis in his treuþe.

SALM XCVI.

Þe falm of Dauid, whan his lond is restorid to hym.

i The Lord haþ regned, þe erþe ful out ioȝe it; manye ilis glade þei.
 ii Cloude and dercnesse in his cumpas; riȝtwisnesse and dom þe coreccoun of his sete.
 iii Fir beforne hym shal go; and enflaume in þe cumpas his enimys.
 iv His leitis liȝteden to þe roundnesse of þe erþe; he faȝ, and þe erþe is al to-moued.
 v Hillis as wax floweden fro þe face of þe Lord; fro þe face of þe Lord al erþe.
 vi Heuenes tolden out his riȝtwisnesse; and alle puplis ȝeȝen his glorie.
 vii Be þei confoundid, alle þat honouren grauen þingus; and þat glorian in þeir maumetis. Honoureþ hym alle ȝee his aungelis; viii Sion herde, and gladdede. And þe doȝtris of Jude ful out gladeden; for þi domes, Lord.
 ix For þou, Lord, heȝest ouer alle erþe; ful myche þou art enhauncid ouer alle goddis.
 x ȝee þat loouen þe Lord, hatiþ euel; þe Lord kepeþ þe foulis of hys feintis; fro þe hond of þe synnere he 'shal deliuere þem.
 xi Liȝt is sprunge to þe riȝtwis; and gladnesse to þe riȝt men in herte.
 xii Glade, ȝee riȝtwise, in þe Lord; and knouelecheþ to þe mynde of his halewing.

SALM XCVII.

Þe falm of Dauid.

i Singeþ to þe Lord a newe song; for merueilous þingus he dide. His riȝt hond sauede to hym; and þe holi arm of hym.
 ii Knownen made þe Lord his helpe ȝeuere; in þe siȝte of Jentilis he shewide his riȝtwisnesse.

iii He recordide of his mercy; and of his treuþe, to þe hous of Israel. Alle þe termes of erþe ȝeȝen; þe helpe ȝeuere of oure God.

iv Inwardli ioȝe ȝee to God, al erþe; syngeþ, and ful out ioȝeþ, and doþ falm.

v Doþ falm to þe Lord in harpe, and in harpe and in vois of falm;

vi in trumpis beten out, and in vois of þe hornene trumpe. Inwardli ioȝeþ in þe siȝte of þe Lord king;
 vii be moued þe se, and his plente; þe roundnesse of londis, and alle þat dwellen in it.

viii ȝe flodis shuln flappe for ioȝe wiþ hond togidere; mounteynes shul ful out ioȝen ix fro þe siȝte of þe Lord; for he cam to deme þe erþe. He shal deme þe roundnesse of þe erþe in riȝtwisnesse; and puplis in equitie.

SALM XCVIII.

Þe falm of Dauid.

i The Lord regnede, wraȝen þe puplis; þou þat sittist vp on cherubyn, be moued þe erþe.

ii ȝe Lord in Sion gret; and heyȝ ouer alle puplis.

iii Knoueleche þei to þi gret name, for ferful and holi it is;

iv and þe wrfshire of þe king looueþ dom. ȝou haſt greipid riȝtforþ reulingis; dom and riȝtwisnesse in Jacob ȝou haſt do.

v Enhaunce ȝee þe Lord oure God, and honoureþ þe little steeȝing vp place of his feet, for it is holi.

vi Moyses and Aron in þe prestis of hym; and Samuel among hem þat inwardli clepen his name. ȝei inwardli clepeden þe Lord, and he ful out herde þem;

vii in þe piler of a cloude he spac to þem. ȝei kepten his witnessingus; and þe heſte þat he ȝaf to hem.

viii Lord oure God, ȝou 'ful out herdeſt hem; God, ȝou merciful were to þem, and veniende in to alle þe findingus of hem.

ix Enhaunceþ þe Lord oure God, and honoureþ in þe holy hil of hym; for holi þe Lord oure God.

SALM XCIX.

Þe falm in confessioune.

i Inwardli ioȝe ȝee to God, al erþe;

ii serueþ to þe Lord in gladnesse. Entreþ in his siȝte; in ful out ioȝing.

iii Witeþ, for þe Lord he is God; he made vs, and we not vffself. His puple, and þe schep of his leſwe, iv goþ in to his ȝatys in confessioune; his porchis in ympnes, 'knoueleche ȝee to hym. Preife ȝee his name, v for swete is þe Lord, in to wiþouten ende his mercy; and unto ieneracioun and ieneracioun his treuþe.

SALM C.

Þe falm to hym Dauid.

- i Mercy and dom; I shal singe to þee, Lord. I shal do falm, ii and vnderstonde in þe vndefoulid weie; whan þou shalt come to me. I fulli ȝide in þe innocence of myn herte; in þe myddel of myn hous.
iii I purposide not befor myn eȝen an vnriȝtwis þing; þe doende þe brekingus of þe lawe I hatide.
iv Per cleuede not to me a shreude herte; þe malice doere bowende doun fro me I knewȝ not.
v Þe bacbitende priueli to his neȝhebore; þys I pursuede. Wiþ þe proude eȝe and þe vnfilable herte; wiþ it I eet not.
vi Myn eȝen to þe feiȝful men of þe erþe, þat þei sytten wiþ me; þe man goende in þe vndefoulid weie, þis seruede to me.
vii Per shal not dwelle in þe myddel of myn house, þat doþ pride; þat spekeþ wicke þingus, reulide not riȝt in þe siȝte of myn eȝen.
viii In þe morutid I floȝ alle þe synneres of erþe; þat I shulde defroȝe fro þe cite of þe Lord alle men werkende wickidnesse.

SALM CI.

Þe orisoun of þe pore man, whan he was tormentid, also befor þe Lord he helde out his preȝeere.

- i Lord, ful out here myn orisoun; and my cry to þee come.
ii Ne turne þou awei þi face fro me; in whateuere day I am trublid, bowe in to me þin ere. In what euere dai I shal inwardli clepe þee; swiftli ful out here me.
iii For my daȝis han failid as smoke; and my bones as croote han dried.
iv I am smyten as heiȝ, and myn herte drieid; for I haue forȝete to ete my bred.
v Fro þe vois of my weiling; cleuede to my bon to my flesh.
vi Lic I am maad to a pellican of wildernesse; I am maad as a nyȝt rauen in þe hous eueſe.
vii I wook; and am maad as a spare solitare in þe rof.
viii Al day putten to me repref myn enemys; and þei þat preifiden me aȝen me sworen.
ix For aske as bred I eet; and my drinc wiþ weping I mengde.
x Fro þe face of þe wraþe of þin indignacioun; for rerende vp þou hurtledest me.
xi My daȝes as shadewe boweden doun; and I as hey drieid.
xii þou forſoþe, Lord, in to wiþoute ende abidist stille; and þi memorial in to ieneracioun and in to ieneracioun.
xiii þou risende vp, Lord, shalt han mercy of Sion; for time of his rewing, for þer is comen time.
xiv For þer pleseden to þi seruauns his stones; and to his erþe þey shuln han mercy.

- xv And Jentilis shul dreden þi name, Lord; and alle kingis of erþe þi glorie.
xvi For þe Lord haþ bild vp Sion; and it shal be seen in his glorie.
xvii He beheeld in to þe orisoun of þe meke; and he despisiðe not þe preȝeere of hem.
xviii Þese þingus be þei write in an oþer ieneracioun; and þe upule þat shal be formed shal preife þe Lord. xix For he beheeld forþ fro his heȝe holy; þe Lord fro heuene in to erþe lokede.
xx þat he shulde here þe weilingus of þe gyuede; and loosen þe sones of þe flayne.
xxi þat þei telle out in Sion þe name of þe Lord; and his preisung in Jerusalem.
xxii In gedering togidere þe puplis in to oon; and kingus, þat þei serue to þe Lord.
xxiii He answarde to hym in weie of his vertue; Fewenesse of my daȝis shewe þou to me.
xxiv Ne aȝeen clepe þou me in þe myddil of my daȝis; in ieneracioun and in to ieneracioun þi ȝeris.
xxv In þe begynning þou, Lord, þe erþe foundedest; and þe werkis of þin hondis ben heuenus.
xxvi þei shul perþen, þou forſoþe abidist stille; and alle as cloþing shuln waxen old. And as a couertour þou shalt chaunge þem, xxvii and þei shul be chaungid; þou forſoþe he þe same art, and þi ȝeris shul not faile.
xxviii þe sones of þi seruauns shul won; and þe sed of hem in to þe world shal be riȝtforþ reulid.

SALM CII.

Þe falm to hym Dauid.

- i Bleſſe þou, my soule, to þe Lord; and alle þingus þat wiþinne me ben, to his holi name.
ii Bleſſe þou, my soule, to þe Lord; and wile þou not forȝete alle þe ȝeldingus of hym.
iii þat haþ mercy to alle þi wickidnesſis; þat helip alle þin infirmytees.
iv þat aȝeen bieþ fro deþ þi lif; þat crouneþ þee in mercy and mercy doingis.
v þat fulfilleþ in goode þingus þi diseyr; shal be renewid as of an egle þi ȝouþe.
vi Doende mercies þe Lord; and dom to alle men suffrende wrong.
vii Knownen he made his weies to Moiſes; and to þe sones of Israel his willis.
viii Reewere, and merciful þe Lord; long abidende, and myche merciful.
ix In to euermore he shal not wraþen; ne in to wiþoute ende he shal þrete.
x Aftr oure synnes he dide not to vs; ne aftir oure wickidnessis he ȝelde to vs.
xi For after þe heiȝte of heuene fro erþe; he strengpide his mercy vpon men dredende hym.

xii Hou myche þe rising stant fro þe going doun; aferr he made fro vs oure wickidnessis.
 xiii What maner wise þe fader haþ mercy of þe sonus, þe Lord dide mercy to men dredende hym;
 xiv for he knew oure britil making. He recordide for pouder wee be,
 xv a man as hey his daȝes; as þe flour of þe feld so he shal floure out.
 xvi For þe spirit shal þurȝ passen in hym, and he shal not stonde stille; and he shal no more knownen his place.
 xvii þe mercy forsoþe of þe Lord fro wiþoute ende, and vnto wiþoute ende; vpon men dredende hym. And þe riȝtwisnesse of hym in to þe sones of sones; xviii to hem þat kepen his testament. And myndful þei ben of his maundemens; to do þem.
 xix þe Lord in heuene made redi his sete; and his reume to alle shal lordshipen.
 xx Blisse ȝee to þe Lord, alle his aungelis, miȝti bi vertue, doende þe woord of hym; to ben herd þe vois of his fermounes.
 xxi Bleſſib to þe Lord, alle ȝee his vertues; ȝee his feruauns þat don his wil.
 xxii Bleſſib to þe Lord, alle ȝee his werkis, in alle place, ȝee his domynaciouns; bleſſe þou, my soule, to þe Lord.

SALM CIII.

i Bliffe þou, my soule, to þe Lord; Lord my God, þou art magnefied hugeli. Confessiou and fairnesse þou haſt clad;
 ii wrappid wiþ liȝt, as wiþ cloþing. Srecchende out heuene as skin;
 iii þat couereſt wiþ watris þe ouermoris of it. þat potiſt be cloude þi ſteȝing vp; þat goſt vp on þe pennys of windis.
 iv þat makist þin aungelis spiritis; and þi feruauns brennende fyr.
 v þat foundedeſt þe erþe vpon hys stableneſſe; it shal not ben inbowid into þe world of world.
 vi þe fe as a cloþing is his wrapping; ouer mounteynes shul ſtonde watris.
 vii Fro þi blamyngh þei shul flee; fro þe vois of þi þunder þei shul drede.
 viii Hillis ſteȝen vp, and þe feldis gon doun; in to þe place þat þou haſt foundid to hem.
 ix A terme þou haſt ſet, þat þei shul not ouer paſſe; ne þey shul ben al turned, to couere þe erþe.
 x þat ſendid out wellis in valeis; betwe þe myddil of mounteynes shul paſſe þurȝ watris.
 xi Alle þe beſtis of þe feld shul drinke; aſſis shul abide in þer þriſt.
 xii Vpon þo þingus þe foulis of heuene shul wonē; fro þe myddel of ſtones þei shul ȝeue voisis.
 xiii He watrende þe hillis fro þin ouermor; of þe frut of þy werkis shal be fulſild þe erþe.

xiv Bringende forþ hei to hous beſtis; and erbe to þe feruſe of men. þat þou bringe out bred fro þe erþe; xv and wyn glade þe herte of man. þat he make gladſum þe face in oile; and bred þe herte of man make ſtable.
 xvi Per ſhul ben fulſild þe trees of þe feld, and þe cedris of Liban þat he plaunteſde;
 xvii þere ſparewiſ ſhul make nestis. þe hous of þe ierfaſcoun duke is of hem; xviii þe heȝe mounteynes to hertis; þe ſton refut to irchouneſſe.
 xix He made þe mone in to times; þe funne knewȝ his going doun.
 xx þou haſt ſet dercneſſis, and maad is þe nyȝt; in it ſhul þurȝ paſſe alle þe beſtis of þe wode. xxi þe whelpis of leouns rorente þat þei raueſhen; and fechen of God mete to þem.
 xxii Sprungen is þe funne, and þei ben gadered to gider;
 and in þer ligging placis þey ſhul be ſett togidere.
 xxiii A man ſhal go out to his werc; and to his werching, vn to euen.
 xxiv Hou magnefied ben þi werkis, Lord, alle þingus in wiſdam þou haſt maad; fulſild is þe erþe wiþ þi poſſeſſion.
 xxv þis grete fe and large to hondis; þere crepende beſtis, of whiche is no nouembre. Little beſtis wiþ þe grete;
 xxvi þere ſhippis ſhul þurȝ paſſe. þis dragoun þat þou haſt formed to begile to hym; xxvii alle þingus of þee abijden, þat þou ȝiue to þem mete in tyme.
 xxviii þee ȝyuende to þem, þei ſhul gedere; þee openende þin hond, alle þingis ſhul be fulſild wiþ goodneſſe.
 xxix þee forſoþe turnende awei þe face, þei ſhul be diſturbid; þou ſhalt taken awei þe ſpirit of hem, and þei ſhul fail; and in to þer pouder þei ſhul turne aȝeen.
 xxx Send out þi ſpirit, and þei ſhul be formed; and þou ſhalt renewe þe face of þe erþe.
 xxxi Be þe glorie of þe Lord in to þe world; glade ſhal þe Lord in his werkis.
 xxxii þat behalt þe erþe, and makeþ it to tremble; þat toucheþ þe mounteynes, and þei ſmoken. xxxiii I ſhal ſynge to þe Lord in my lif; I ſhal do ſalm to my God, as longe as I am.
 xxxiv Joȝeful be to hym my ſpeche; I forſoþe ſhal deliten in þe Lord.
 xxxv Faile þe ſynneres fro þe erþe, and wicke men, ſo þat þei be not; bleſſe þou, my soule, to þe Lord.

SALM CIII.

Alleluia, Alleluia.

i Knoulecheþ to þe Lord, and inwardly clepeþ his name; telleþ out among Jentilis his werkis.

ii Singeþ to hym, and doþ falm to hym, and telliþ alle his merueilis;
iii be ȝee preifid in his holi name. Glade þe herte of ȝou sechende þe Lord;
iii secheþ þe Lord, and beþ confermed; secheþ his face euermor.
v Haueþ mynde of his merueilis, þat he dide; his wonders, and þe domes of his mouþ.
vi þe fed of Abraham, his feruaunt; þe sonus of Jacob, his chosen.
vii He þe Lord oure God; in al erþe his domes.
viii Myndeful he was in to þe world of his testament; of þe woord þat he sente in to a þousend ieneraciouns.
ix þe whiche he disposside to Abraham; and of his oþ to Isaac.
x And he sette it to Jacob in to an heste; and to Israel in to euere lastende testament.
xi Seiende, To þee I shal ȝeue þe lond of Chanaan; þe little corde of ȝoure eritage.
xii Whan þei weren in short noumbe; most fewe and tilieris of it.
xiii And þei passiden þurȝ fro folc in to folc; and fro reume in to an oþer puple.
xiv He lafte not a man to noȝe to þem; and he chaftiside for hem kingis.
xv Wileþ not touche my criftis; and in my profetis wileþ not ben waried.
xvi And he clepide hungr vp on þe erþe; and alle fastnesse of bred he to-ponede.
xvii He sente beforne hem a man; and into a þral Joseph is fold.
xviii þei mekeden in stockis his feet, iren passide þurȝ hys lif;
xix to þe time þat his woord shulde come. Þe speche of þe Lord enflaumede hym;
xx þe king sente and loosed hym, þe prince of puplis and lafte hym.
xxi He sette hym lord of his hous; and prince of all his possessioun.
xxii þat he shulde enforce his princis as hymself; and his olde men prudence he shulde teche.
xxiii And Israel entride in to Egipt; and Jacob a tiliere was in þe lond of Cham.
xxiv And he encrcide his puple hugely; and fastnede hym vpon his enimys.
xxv He turned þe herte of hem, þat þei hateden his puple; and trecherie shulden do in to his seruauns.
xxvi He sente Moises, his feruaunt; and Aron, hym whom he ches.
xxvii And he putte in hem þe woordis of his tocnis; and of his wonders in þe lond of Cham.
xxviii He sente dercnessis, and made derc; and vntymely he fullfilde not his woordis. xxix And he turnede þe watriis of hem in to blod; and floȝ þe fiffis of hem.

xxx And þe lond of hem ȝaf froggis; in þe preue chaumbbris of þer kingus.
xxxi He seide, and þer cam an hound fleeȝe; and gnattis in alle þe coostis of hem.
xxxii And he putte þe reynes of hem hayl; fyr brennende in þe lond of hem.
xxxiii And he smot þe vynes of hem, and þe fige placis of hem; and he to-brofide þe wode of þe coostis of hem.
xxxiv He seide, and þer cam a locust; and worte worm of þe whiche was no noumbe.
xxxv And it eet al þe hei in þe lond of hem; and eet al þe frut of þe lond of hem.
xxxvi And he smot alle þe firste gotten in þe lond of hem; þe firste frutis of alle þe trauaile of hem.
xxxvii And he broȝte hem out wiþ syluer and gold; and þer was not a fyk man in þe linagis of hem.
xxxviii Egipt gladede in þer forþ going; for þer drede lai in vp on hem.
xxxix He straȝte out a cloude, in to þe protecciuon of hem; and fyr, þat he shulde liȝte to hem by þe nyȝt.
xl Pei askeden, and þer kam a kurlu; and wiþ þe bred of heuene he fulfilde hem.
xli He to-brac þe ston, and þer flowiden watriis; þer wenten awei flodis in þe drie.
xlii For myndeful he was of his holi woord; þat he hadde to Abraham, his child.
xliii And he broȝte out his puple in ful out ioȝing; and his chofene in glading.
xliii And he ȝaf to þem þe regiouns of Jentilis; and þe traualis of puplis þei weldden.
xlv þat þei kepe his iustifyngus; and his lawe þey aȝeen feche.

SALM CV.

Alleluia, Alleluia.

i Knoulecheþ to þe Lord, for good; for in to þe world þe mercy of hym.
ii Who shal speke þe poweris of þe Lord; herd shal make alle þe preifingus of hym?
iii Blisful þat kepen dom; and don riȝtwissnesse in alle time.
iv Hauwe mynde of vs, Lord, in þe well willing of þi puple; visite þou vs in þi helþe ȝyuere.
v To seen in þe goodnesse of þi chofene, to gladen in þe gladnesse of þi folc; þat þou be preifid wiþ þin eritage.
vi Wee han synned wiþ oure fadris, vnriȝtwisly wee han do; wickidnesse wee han wroȝt.
vii Oure fadris in Egipt vnderstoden not þi meruelis; þei weren not myndeful of þe multitude of þi mercy. And þei in to þe se steȝende vp, viii þe rede se, terreden; and he sauede þem for his name, þat knownen he shulde make his power.
ix And he inbowide þe rede se, and it is dried; and he ladde hem in 'þe se depnells as in desert.

x And he sauede hem fro þe hond of hateris; and he aȝeen boȝte þem fro þe hond of þe enemy.
 xi And water couerede þe men trublende þem; oon of hem lafste not.
 xii And þei leeueden to þe woordis of hym; and þei preisiden his preising.
 xiii Soone þei diden, þei forȝeeten of þe werkis of hym;
 and þei susteneden not his counseil.
 xiv And þei coueiteden coueiting in desert; and þei tempteden God in þe place wiþ oute water.
 xv And he ȝaf to hem þe asking of hem; and he fente fulfilling in to þe soulis of hem.
 xvi And þei terreden Moyses in þe tentis; Aron, þe holy
 of þe Lord.
 xvii þe erþe is opened, and it swolewid doun Dathan;
 and it couerede vpon þe congregacioun of Abiron.
 xviii And fyr brende vp in þe synagoge of hem; and flaume al to-brende þe synneres.
 xix And þei maden a calf in Oreb; and þei honoureden a grauen þing.
 xx And þei chaungeden þer glorie; in to þe licnesse of a calf etende hey.
 xxi þei forȝeeten God, þat sauede hem, þat dide grete þingus in Egipt,
 xxii merueilous þingus in þe lond of Cam; ferful þingus in þe rede se.
 xxiii And he feide, þat he shulde destroȝe þem; but Moyses, his chosen, hadde stoden in þe to-breking in his siȝt. þat he turne awei hys wraþe, þat he destroȝe þem not;
 xxiv and for noȝte þey hadden þe desirable erþe. þey leeuede not to his woord, xxv and þei gruccheden in þer tabernaclis; þei ful out herden not þe vois of þe Lord.
 xxvi And he rerede vp his hond vpon hem; þat he shulde þrowe þem doun in desert.
 xxvii And þat he shulde caste doun þe sed of hem in naciouns; and scatere þem in regions.
 xxviii And þei sacrificiden to Belfegor; and þei eete þe sacrifices of þe deade.
 xxix And þei terreden hym in þer findingis; and multiplied is in hem falling.
 xxx And Fynees stod, and pleside; and þe broſing cefide.
 xxxi And it is witid to hym to riȝtwisnesse; in ieneracioun and ieneracioun vnto euermor. xxxii And þei terreden hym at þe watriis of contradiccioun; and Moyses is ouertrauailid for hem, xxxiii and þei to myche sharpeden þe spirit of hym. And he ordeynede in his lippis;
 xxxiv þei destroȝeden not þe Jentilis, þat þe Lord feide
 to þem.
 xxxv And þey be mengd togidere among Jentilis, and
 þei lerneden þer werkis, xxxvi and serueden to þe grauen þingis of hem; and it is maad to þem in to sclauder.

xxxvii And þei offreden þer fones; and þer doȝtris to deuelis.
 xxxviii And þei shadden out þe innocent blod; þe blod of þer fones and of þer doȝtris, þat þei sacrificiden to þe grauen þingus of Canaan. And þe lond is flayn in blodis, xxxix and defoulid is in þe werkis of hem; and þei diden fornycacioun in þer findingus.
 xl And þe Lord wrapede in wodness in to his puple;
 and he wlatide his eritage.
 xli And toc þem in to þe hondis of Jentilis; and þei lordshipeden of hem, þat hateden hem.
 xlvi And þe enemys of þem trobleden hem, and þei ben mekid vnder þer hondis;
 xlvi ofte he delyuerede hem. þei forsoþe terreden hym in þer counseil; and ben mekid in þer wickidnessis.
 xlvi And he ȝaf, whan þei weren trublid; and herde þe orisoun of hem.
 xlvi And myndeful he was of his testament; and it oþoȝte hym aftir þe multitude of his mercy.
 xlvi And he ȝaf hem in to mercies; in þe siȝte of alle, þat hadden take þem.
 xlvii Mac vs saf, Lord oure God; and gadere vs fro naciouns. þat wee knouleche to þin holi name; and glorien in þi preising.
 xlviii Bleſſid be þe Lord God of Israel fro world and unto world; and al þe puple shal fey, Be it do, be it don.

SALM CVI.

Alleluia, Alleluia.

i Knoulecheþ to þe Lord, for good; for in to þe world his mercy.
 ii Sei þei now, þat ben aȝeen boȝt of þe Lord, whom he aȝeen boȝte fro þe hond of þe enemy; iii fro regiouns he gederide hem. Fro þe funne rising, and þe going doun; fro þe norþ, and þe se.
 iv þei erreden in wilderneſſe, in vnwatri place; weie of dwelling place of a cite þei founde not.
 v Hungrende and þirstende; þe soule of hem in hem failide.
 vi And þei crieden to þe Lord, whan þei weren trublid;
 and fro þe nedis of hem he toc hem out.
 vii And he broȝte hem þennus in to a riȝt weye; þat þei shulde go in to þe cite of wonyng.
 viii Knouleche to þe Lord his mercies; and þe merueilis of hym to þe fones of men.
 ix For he fulfilde þe idil soule; and þe hungri soule he fulfilde wiþ goodis.
 x þe fitteris in dercnessis, and in þe vmbre of deþ; and þe bounden in beggeri and iren.
 xi For þei maden egre þe spechis of God; and þe counseil of þe heȝest þei terreden.
 xii And mekid is in traualles þe herte of hem, and þei ben feblid; and þer was not þat wolde helpe.

xiii And þei crierden to þe Lord, whan þei weren trublid; and fro þe nedis of hem he deliuerede hem.
 xiv And he ladde hem out fro dercneſſis, and þe fhadewe of deb; and þe bondis of hem he to-brac.
 xv Knouleche to þe Lord his mercies; and his merueilis to þe fones of men.
 xvi For he to-broſide þe irene ȝatis; and þe irene barris he to-brac.
 xvii He toc hem fro þe weie of wickidnesse of hem; for þer vniȝtwisnesses forſoþe þei ben mekid.
 xviii Alle mete þe foule of hem wlatide; and þey neȝheden to þe ȝatis of deb.
 xix And þei crierden to þe Lord, whan þei weren trublid; and fro þe nedis of hem he delyuerede hem.
 xx He fente his woord, and helide hem; and deliuerede hem fro þe debis of hem.
 xxi Knouleche to þe Lord his mercies; and his merueilis to þe fonus of men.
 xxii And sacrificise þei a sacrificise of preſing; and telle þei out his werkis in ful out ioȝing.
 xxiii þat gon doun þe se in fl̄ipis; doende werching in many watriſ.
 xxiv þei ſeȝen þe werkis of þe Lord; and his merueilis in depþe.
 xxv He feide, and þe ſpirit of tempeſt stod; and his flowingus ben enhauncid.
 xxvi þei ſteȝen vp 'vn to heuenes, and gon doun 'vn to depneſſis; and þe soulis of hem in euelis failede.
 xxvii þei ben diſturbid, and ben moued as a drunke man; and al þe wiſdam of hem is deuourid.
 xxviii And þei crierden to þe Lord, whan þei weren trublid; and of þe nedis of hem he broȝte hem out.
 xxix And he ordeynede his tempeſt in to fair weder; and his flodis weren ſtille.
 xxx And þei gladeden, for þei were ſtille; and he broȝte hem out in to þe hauene of þe wil of hem.
 xxxi Knouleche to þe Lord his mercies; and his merueilis to þe fonus of men.
 xxxii And enhaunce þei hym in þe chirche of folc; and in þe chaȝer of elderis preſe þei hym.
 xxxiii He fette þe flodis of hem in to defert; and þe iſſue of watriſ in to þiſt.
 xxxiv þe fructuous erþe in to briyn; fro þe malice of men dwellende in it.
 xxxv He putte defert in to pondis of watriſ; and þe erþe wiþoute water in to þe iſſues of watriſ.
 xxxvi And he fette þere þe hungry men; and þei ordeyneden a cite of wonyng.
 xxxvii And þei feewen feedis, and plaunteden vines; and maden þe frut off birþe.
 xxxviii And he bliſſide to hem, and þei ben multiplied ful myche; and þe bestis of hem he laſſide not.
 xxxix And fewe þei ben maad, and ben ouertrauailid; fro tribulacioun of euelis and forewe.
 xl Held out is striſ vp on þe princis; and to erren he made hem in wiþoute weye, and not in þe weie.

xli And he halp þe pore man fro myſeife; and putte as fhep meynes.
 xlii Riȝt men ſhul ſeen, and gladen; and alle wickidneſſe ſhal ſtoppe þer mouþ.
 xliii Who wiſ man, and ſhal kepe þes þingus; and ſhal vnderſtonde þe mercies of þe Lord?

SALM CVII.

Þe ſong of þe falm, to hym Dauid.

i Redi is myn herte, God, redy is myn herte; I ſhal fyngi, 'and falm feyn in my glorie.
 ii Ris vp, fautre and harpe; I ſhal riſen vp fro þe morutid liȝt.
 iii I ſhal knouleche to þee in puplis, Lord; and do falm to þee in naciouns.
 iv For gret vp on heuenus þi mercy; and vn to þe cloudis þi treuþe.
 v Be þou enhauncid vp on heuenes, God; and vp on alle erþe þi glorie; vi þat þi loouede be delyuered. Mac saf wiþ þi riȝt hond, and ful out here þou me;
 vii God ſpac in his holi. I ſhal ful out ioȝen, and deuyde Syccymam; and þe grete valey of tabernaclis I ſhal meſure.
 viii Myn is Galaad, and myn is Manaffes; and Effraym þe vndertaking of myn hed. Juda my king; ix Moab þe caudroun of myn hope. In to Ydume I ſhal ſtreccchen out my ſho; to me alienes frendis ben maad.
 x Who ſhal bringe me þennus in to a ſtrengbid cite; who ſhal bringe me þennus in to Idume?
 xi Wheþer not þou, God, þat haſt put us abac; and þou haſt not gon out, God, in oure vertues?
 xii ȝif to vs helpe fro tribulacioun; for vein is þe helpe of man.
 xiii In God wee ſhuln do vertue; and he to noȝt ſhal bringe doun oure enimys.

SALM CVIII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid.

i God, my preſing holde þou not ſtille;
 ii for þe mouþ of þe synnere, and þe mouþ of þe trecherous vp on me is opened.
 iii þei ſpeeken aȝen me wiþ a trecherous tung, and wiþ woordis of hate þei enuyrounden me; and þei foȝten me out wiþ oure cauſe.
 iv For þi þat me þei ſhulden loouen, þei bacbiten to me; I forſoþe preȝede.
 v And þei fetten aȝen me euelis for goodis; and hate for my louyng.
 vi Sett vp on hym a synere; and þe deuell ſtonde at his riȝt ſide.
 vii Whan he is demed, go he out condempned; and his orisoun be maad in to synne.
 viii His daȝis be þei maad fewe; and an oþer take his biſhopriche.

ix His sonus be þei maad faderles; and his wif a widewe.
 x Wagerende be translatid his sones, and begge þei; and be þey cast out of þer wonyngus.
 xi Enferche þe vsurer al þe substaunce of hym; and alienus take þei awei his trauailis.
 xii Be þer not to hym an helpere; ne be þer þat haue mercy to his moderles childer.
 xiii His sones be þei maad in to deþ; in o ieneracioun be don awei his name.
 xiv In to mynde turne aȝeen þe wickidnesse of his fadris in þe siȝte of þe Lord; and þe synne of his moder be not don awei.
 xv Be þei maad aȝen þe Lord euermor, and pershe awei fro þe erþe þe mynde of hem; xvi for þi þat he hap not recordid to do mercy. And he purfuede an helpeles man and a beggere; and to slen þe fory in herte of synne.
 xvii And he louede cursing, and it shal come to hym;
 and he wolde not blifing, and it shal be longid awey fro hym.
 xviii And he cladde cursing as cloþing, and it wente in as water in to his innermor partis; and as oile in hys bones.
 xix Be it maad to hym as cloþing, wiþ þe whiche he is couered; and as a girdil, wiþ þe whiche he is euermor gird beforne.
 xx Pis þe werc of hem þat bacbiten to me anent þe Lord; and bat speken euelis aȝen my soule.
 xxi And þou, Lord, Lord, do wiþ me for þi name; for swete is þi mercy. Deliuere me, xxii for nedи and a pore man I am; and myn herte is al disturbid wiþ inne me.
 xxiii As shadewe, whan it bowiþ doun, I am taken awei;
 and am shaken out as locustis.
 xxiv My knes ben feblid of fasting; and my flesh is 'chaungid to betere for oile.
 xxv And I am maad repref to þem; þei seȝen me, and moueden þer hedis.
 xxvi Help me, Lord my God; mac me saf aftir þi mercy.
 xxvii And þei shul wite, for þis is þin hond; and þou, Lord, haſt 'maad it.
 xxviii Peý shul curse, and þou shalt blesse, þat rijsen aȝen me, be þei confoundid; þi seruaunt forsoþe shal gladen. xxix Be þei clad wiþ shame, þat bacbiten to me; and be þei couered as wiþ a double mantil wiþ þer confusion.
 xxx I shal knoueleche to þe Lord ful myche in my mouþ;
 and in þe myddel of manye I shal preisen hym.
 xxxi Pat stod neȝh fro þe riȝt parties of þe pore; þat he make saf fro purfueris my soule.

SALM CIX.

Þe falm of Dauid.

i The Lord seide to my Lord; Sit þou of my riȝt parties.
 To þe tyme þat I poote þin enemys; þe little steeȝing vp stol of þi feet.

ii Þe ȝerde of þi vertue þe Lord shal fenden out fro Sion; lordshipe þou in þe myddel of þin enemys.

iii Wiþ þee þe begynnynge in þe dai of þi vertue, in shynyngeis of seintis; fro þe wombe befor þe dai sterre I gat þee.

iv Þe Lord fwor, and it shal not oþinken hym; þou art a prest in to wiþoute ende, after þe order of Melchisedech.

v Þe Lord fro þi riȝtsidis; tobroside in þe dai of his wreþe kingis.

vi He shal deme in naciouns; he shal fulfille fallingis;
 he shal to-brose hedis in þe lond of manye.

vii Of þe strem in þe weie he dranc; þerfore he enhauncyde þe hed.

SALM CX.

Alleluia.

i I shal knoueleche to þee, Lord, in al myn herte; in counseil of riȝtwis men and congregacioun.

ii Grete þe werkis of þe Lord; ful out soȝt in to alle his willis.

iii Knouelechinge and gret doing þe werc of hym; and his riȝtwisnesse woneþ in to world of world.

iv Mynde he made of his merueilis þe merciful and þe rewere Lord;

v mete he ȝaf to men dredende hym. Myndful he shal ben in to þe world of his testament;

vi þe vertue of his werkis he shal beforstelle to his puple.

vii Pat he ȝyue to þem þe eritage of Jentilis; þe werkis of his hondis, treuþe and dom.

viii Feiþful alle his mandemens, confermed in to world of world; don in treuþe and equyte.

ix Aȝeen biȝing þe Lord fente to his puple; he fente in to wiþoute ende his testament. Holy and ferful his name;

x þe begynnynge of wiðdam, þe drede of þe Lord. Good vnderstanding to alle men doende it; his preising dwelliþ in to world of world.

SALM CXI.

Alleluia of þe aȝeen turnyng of Aggee and of Zacarie.

i Blisful þe man þat dredeþ þe Lord; in his maundemens he shal wilne ful myche.

ii Myȝti in þe erþe shal ben his fed; þe ieneracioun of ryȝt men shal be blissid.

iii Glorie and richesse in his hous; and his riȝtwisnesse dwelliþ in to world of world.

iv Ful out sprungen is in dercnessis liȝt to þe riȝte; þe merciful, and þe mercy doere, and þe riȝtwis.

v Joȝeful a man, þat haþ mercy, and leeneþ; dispoſiþ his woordis in dom;
 vi for in to wiþoute ende he shal not be moued. In euere lasting mynde shal be þe riȝtwife; vii of euel hering he shal not drede. Redi his herte to hopen in þe Lord;
 viii confermed is his herte, he shal not be moued, to þe time þat he looke doun his enemys.
 ix He delede, he ȝaf to pore men; þe riȝtwisnesse of hym dwelliþ in to world of world; þe horn of hym shal ben enhauncid in glorie.
 x Þe synnere shal seen, and wraȝen; wiþ his teþ he shal gnaſten, and waſten hymſelf; þe defir of synneres shal perſhen.

SALM CXII.

Alleluia.

i Preife, ȝee childer, þe Lord; preife ȝee þe name of þe
 Lord.
 ii Be þe name of þe Lord blifſid; fro þis now `and vnto þe world.
 iii Fro þe rising of þe funne vn to þe going doun;
 preifable þe name of þe Lord.
 iv Heiȝ vp on alle Jentilis þe Lord; and vp on heuenys his glorie.
 v Who as þe Lord oure God, þat in heȝe þingus dwelliþ;
 vi and meke þingus beholdiþ in heuene and in erþe?
 vii Vnder rerende fro erþe þe helpeles; and fro drit rerende vp þe pore.
 viii þat he `ſette hym wiþ princis; wiþ þe princis of his puple.
 ix þat makeþ to wone þe bareyn in þe hous; a moder of fonyſ gladende.

SALM CXIII.

Alleluia.

i In þe going out of Israel fro Egipt; of þe hous of Jacob fro þe ſtraunge puple.
 ii Maad is Jude his halewing; Israel þe power of it.
 iii Be le ſaȝ, and fleiȝ; Jordan is al turned hindward.
 iv Mounteynes ful out ioȝeden as weþeris; and hillys as lombis of ſheep.
 v What is to bee, þou fe, þat þou flowe; and þou Jordan, for þou art al turned bacward?
 vi Hillis, ȝee ful out gladiden as weþeris; and ȝee hillis, as þe lombis of ſheep.
 vii Fro þe face of þe Lord moued is þe erþe; from þe face of God of Jacob.
 viii þat turnede þe ſton in to poolis of watris; and þe roche in to wellys of watris.
 ix Not to vs, Lord, not to vs; but to þi name ȝif glorie.
 Vp on þi mercy and þi treuþe;
 x left any time fey þe Jentilis, Wher is þe God of hem?

xi Oure God forſoþe in heuene; alle þingus what euere he wolde, dide.
 xii Þe maumetis of Jentilis syluer and gold; þe werkis of þe hondis of men.
 xiii Mouȝ þei han, and þei ſhul not ſpeke; eȝen þey han, and þei ſhul not ſee.
 xiv Eris þei han, and þei ſhul not heren; noſe þerlis þei han, and þei ſhul not ſmelle.
 xv Hondis þei han, and þei ſhul not grop; feet þei han, and þey ſhul not go; þei ſhul not crien in þer protre.
 xvi Lyc to þem be þei maad, þat don þo þingus; and alle þat troſten in hem.
 xvii Þe hous of Iſrael hopide in þe Lord; he is þe helpere of hem, and þe defendere of hem.
 xviii Þe hous of Aron hopide in þe Lord; he is þe helpere of hem, and þe defendere of hem.
 xix þat dreden þe Lord, hopiden in þe Lord; he is þe helpere of hem, and þe defendere of hem.
 xx Þe Lord myndful was of vs; and bliſſede to vs. He bliſſede to þe hous of Israel; he bliſſede to þe hous of Aaron.
 xxi He bliſſede to alle men þat dreden þe Lord; to þe little wiþ þe more.
 xxii Þe Lord caſte he to vp on ȝou; vpon ȝou and vp on ȝoure fones.
 xxiii Bleſſid be ȝee of þe Lord; þat made heuene and
 erþe.
 xxiv Þe heuene of heuene to þe Lord; þe erþe forſoþe he ȝaf to þe fones of men.
 xxv Not þe deade ſhul preife þee, Lord; ne alle þat go doun into helle.
 xxvi But wee þat lyuen, bliſſen to þe Lord; fro þis now and vn to þe world.

SALM CXIII.

Alleluia.

i I loueðe; for þe Lord shal ful out here þe vois of
 myn orisoun.
 ii For he inbowide his ere to me; and in my daȝis I shal inwardly clepe.
 iii Þer enuyrounden me forewis of deþ; and þe perilis of helle founden me. Trybulacioun and forewe I fond;
 iv and þe name of þe Lord I inwardli clepede. O! Lord, `delyuere þou my soule;
 v merciful Lord, and riȝtwys, and oure God haþ reuþe.
 vi Þe Lord kepende litil childer; I am meekid, and he deliuereðe me.
 vii My soule, be þou al turned in to þi reſte; for þe Lord haþ wel do to þee.
 viii For he toc out my soule fro deþ; myn eȝen fro teris, my feet fro ſliding.
 ix I shal pleſe to þe Lord; in þe regioune of men on lyue.

SALM CXV.

Alleluia.

- i I leeuede, wherfor I spac; I forsoþe am mekid ful myche.
ii I feyde in myn exceſſe; Eche man a liere.
iii What ſhal I ȝeelde to þe Lord; for alle þingus þat he ȝeld to me?
ivii Þe chalis of þe helþe ȝyuere I ſhal take; and þe name of þe Lord I ſhal inwardli clepen.
v My vounis to þe Lord I ſhal ȝelde befor al his puple; vi precious in þe ſiȝte of þe Lord þe deþ of his ſaintis.
vii O! Lord, for I þi ſerauant; I þi ſeraunt, and þe ſone of þin hond maiden. Pou haſt broke my bondis, viii to þee I ſhal ſacrifiē an oſt of preiſing; and þe name of þe Lord I ſhal inwardli clepe.
ix My vounis to þe Lord I ſhal ȝelde, in þe ſiȝte of al his puple; x in þe porche of þe hous of þe Lord, in þe myddil of þi Jeruſalem.

SALM CXVI.

Alleluia.

- i Preife ȝee þe Lord, alle Jentilis; preife ȝee hym, alle puplis.
ii For confermed is vp on vs þe mercy of hym; and þe treuþe of þe Lord dwelliþ in to wiþ oute ende.

SALM CXVII.

Alleluya.

- i Knoulecheþ to þe Lord, for he is good; for in to þe world þe merci of hym.
ii Seye now Israel, for he is good; for in to þe world þe mercy of hym.
iii Seie now þe hous of Aron; for in to þe world þe mercy of hym.
ivii Seye now þei þat dreden þe Lord; for in to þe world þe mercy of hym.
v Fro tribulacioun I inwardli clepide þe Lord; and ful out herde me in breedë þe Lord.
vi Þe Lord to me an helpere; I ſhal not drede what do to me a man.
vii Þe Lord to me an helpere; and I ſhal despise myn enemys.
viii Good is to troſten in þe Lord; þan to troſten in man.
ix Good is to hopen in þe Lord; þan to hopen in princis.
x Alle Jentilys ȝiden aboute me; and in þe name of þe Lord, for I am vengid in hem.
xi Goende aboute þei ȝiden aboute me; and in þe name of þe Lord, for I am vengid in hem.
xii Þei enuyrounden me as bes, and wrabeden out as fyr in bornes; and in þe name of þe Lord, for I am vengid in hem.
xiii Ful myche confreynd I am turned vp fo doun, þat I ſhulde falle; and þe Lord vndertoc me.
xivii My ſtrengþe, and my preiſing þe Lord; and he is maad to me in to helþe.

- xv Þe vois of ful out ioȝing and of helþe; in þe tabernaclis of riȝtwis men.
xvi Þe riȝt hond of þe Lord dide vertue; þe riȝt hond of þe Lord enhauncide me; þe riȝt hond of þe Lord dide vertue.
xvii I ſhal not die, but liuen; and I ſhal telle þe werkis of þe Lord.
xviii Chraftende chraftifede me þe Lord; and to deþ he toc not me.
xix Opened to me þe ȝatis of riȝtwisniffe, and gon in to þem I ſhal knouleche to þe Lord; xx þis þe ȝate of þe Lord, riȝtwis men ſhul gon in to it.
xxi I ſhal knouleche to þee, for þou haſt ful out herd me; and þou art maad to me in to helþe.
xxii Þe ſton þat bildende þei repreueden; þis is maad in to þe hed of þe corner.
xxiii Of þe Lord þis is don; and it is merueilous in oure eȝen.
xxiv þis is þe dai þat þe Lord made; ful out ioȝe wee, and glade wee in it.
xxv O! Lord, mac me saf, O! Lord, weel be þou welfum; xxvi bliſſid þat comeþ in þe name of þe Lord. Wee han bliſſid to ȝou fro þe hous of þe Lord; xxvii God þe Lord, and he haþ liȝtid to vs. Ordeyne ȝee a ſolempne dai in þicke þingis; vn to þe horn of þe auter.
xxviii My God þou art, and I ſhal knouleche to þee; my God þou art, and I ſhal enhaunce þee. I ſhal knoulechen to þee, for þou haſt ful out herd me; and þou art maad to me in to helþe.
xxix Knoulecheþ to þe Lord, for he is good; for in to þe world þe merci of hym.

SALM CXVIII.

Alleluia.

Aleph.

- i Blisful þe vndeſould in þe weie; þat gon in þe lawe of þe Lord.
ii Blisful þat enſerche þe witneſſingus of hym; in al þe herte ful out ſechen hym.
iii Forſoþe not þei þat wirken wickidniffe; in þe weies of hym ȝiden.
ivii Pou haſt comaundid; þin heftis to be kept ful myche.
v Wolde God weren dressid my weies; to be kept þi iuſtifyngus.
vi þanne I ſhal not be confoundid; whan I ſhal parfitli loken in alle þin heftis.
vii I ſhal knouleche to þee in riȝt reuling of herte; in þat þat I haue lerned þe domes of þi riȝtwisniffe.
viii þi iuſtifyngis I ſhal kepe; ne forsake þou me on alle fydis.

Beth.

- ix In what amendib þe ȝunge man more waxen his weye? in keping þi woordis.
 x In al myn herte I ful out soȝte þee; ne poote þou me abac fro þin heftis.
 xi In myn herte I hidde þi spechis; þat I synne not to þee.
 xii Blifſid þou art, Lord; teche me þi iustifiyngus.
 xiii In my lippis I tolde forþ; alle þe domes of þin mouþ.
 xiv In þe weie of þi witneſſingis I delitide; as in alle richeſſes.
 xv In þin heftys I shal ben enhauntid; and I shal beholde þi weies.
 xvi In þi iustefiyngus I shal fweteli þenken; and I shal not forȝete þi woordis.

Gimel.

- xvii ȝeld to þi feruaunt; quikene þou me, and I shal kepe þi woordis.
 xviii Opene myn eȝen; and I shal beholde þe merueilis of þi lawe.
 xix A comeling wonere I am in þe erþe; ne hide þou fro me þin heftis.
 xx My loule coueitide to defire þi iustefiyngus; in alle tyme.
 xxi þou blamedist proude men; cursid ben þei, þat bowen doun fro þi maundementis.
 xxii Do awei fro me repreſ and dispising; for þi witneſſingus I ful out soȝte.
 xxiii Forſoþe þer seten princis, and aȝen me þei speeken; þi feruaunt forſoþe was enhauntid in þi iustefiyngus.
 xxiv For and þi witneſſingus is my fwete þenking; and my counſeil þi iustefiyngus.

Deleth.

- xxv Myn loule cleuede to þe pament; quykene þou me aftir þi woord.
 xxvi My weies I tolde out, and þou ful out herdest me; teche me þi iustefiyngis.
 xxvii ȝe weie of þi iustefiyngus enforme þou me; and I shal ben enhauntid in þi merueilis.
 xxviii My loule nappide for noȝe; conferme þou me in þi woordis. xxix ȝe weie of wickidneſſe moue þou awey fro me; and in þi lawe haue mercy of me.
 xxx ȝe weie of treuþe I ches; þi domes I haue not forȝeten.
 xxxi I cleuede to þi witneſſingus, Lord; wile þou not me confounden.
 xxxii ȝe weie of þin heftis I ran; whan þou spreddeſt abrod myn herte.

He.

- xxxiii Lawe fet þou to me, Lord, ȝe weie of þi iustefiyngus; and I shal seche out it euermor.
 xxxiv ȝif to me vndirstonding, and I shal enſerche þi lawe; and I shal kepen it in al myn herte.

- xxxv Bring out me in þe sty of þin heftis; for it I wolde.
 xxxvi Bowe in myn herte in to þi witneſſyngus; and not in to coueitise.
 xxxvii Turne awei myn eȝen, leſt þei see vanytee; in þi weie quykene þou me.
 xxxviii Sett to þi feruaunt þi speche; in þi drede.
 xxxix Kut of my repreſ, þat I ouertrowide; for þi domys ioȝeful.
 xl Lo! I haue coueitid þin heftis; in þin equite quykene þou me.

Vau.

- xli And þi mercy come vp on me, Lord; þin helpe ȝiuere after þi speche.
 xlvi And I shal anſwere to þe repreuende me a woord; for I hopide in þi sermounes.
 xlviıi And ne take þou awei fro my mouþ a woord of truþe on eche ſide; for in þi domes I ouer hopide.
 xlviıii And I shal kepe þi lawe euermor; in to þe world, and in to þe world of world.
 xlviı And I ȝide in breedë; and þin heftis I out soȝte.
 xlviıi And I ſpac in þi witneſſingus in þe ſiȝte of kingus; and I was not confoundid.
 xlvii And I ſweteli þoȝte in þin heftis; þat I loouede.
 xlviii And I rerede myn hondis to þin heftis, þat I loouede; and I shal ben enhauntid in þi iustefiyngis.

Zai.

- xlviı Myndful be þou of þi woord to þi feruaunt; in whiche to me hope þou haſt ȝiuen.
 l Pis coumfortide me in my mecnesse; for þi speche quykenede me.
 li Proude men wickidli deden on eche ſide; fro þi lawe forſoþe I bowide not doun.
 lii Myndful I was of þi domes fro þe world, Lord; and I am coumfortid.
 liii Failing heeld me; for þe synneres forsakende þi lawe.
 liiii Chauntable weren to me þi iustefiyngus; in þe place of my pilgrimage.
 lv Myndful I was þe nyȝt of þi name, Lord; and I kepte þi lawe.
 lvi Pis is do to me; for þi iustefiyngis I out soȝte.

Heth.

- lvii My porcioun þou, Lord; I feide to kepe þi lawe.
 lviii I louli preȝede þi face in al myn herte; haue mercy of me aftir þi speche.
 lix I þoȝte my weies; and al turnede my feet in to þi witneſſingus.
 lx I am redi, and am not disturbid; þat I kepe þin heftys.
 lxi ȝe cordis of synneres ben wounden aboute me; and þi lawe I haue not forȝete.
 lxii At myd nyȝt I ros to knouleche to þee; vp on þe domes of þi iustefiyng.
 lxiii Parcener I am of alle men dredende þee; and of kepende þin heftis.

Ixiii Of þi mercy, Lord, ful is þe erþe; þi iustefiyngus teche þou me.

Teth.

Iv Goodnesse þou haſt do to þi feruaunt, Lord; aftir þi woord.

Ivi Goodnesse, and discipline, and kunnyng tech þou me; for in þin heftys I leeuede.

Ivii Beſorn þat I was mekid, I trespaſide; þerfore þi ſpeche I kepte.

Iviii Good art þou; and in þi goodnesse tech me þi iustefiyngis.

Ixi Multeplied is vp on me þe wickidneſſe of proude men; I forſoþe in al myn herte þhal enſerche þin heftis.

Ixii Cruddid is as mylc þe herte of hem; I forſoþe þi lawe ſweteli þoȝte.

Ixiii Good is to me, for þou haſt mekid me; þat I lerne þi iustefiyngus.

Ixii Good is to me þe lawe of þi mouþ; vp on þousendis of gold and of filuer.

Joth.

Ixi Þin hondus maden me, and formeden me; ȝif to me vnderſtanding, þat I lerne þin heftis.

Ixii þat dreden þee þul ſee me, and gladen; for in þi wordis I ouerhopide.

Ixv I knewȝ, Lord, for equite þi domes; and in þi treuþe þou haſt mekid me.

Ixvi Be don þi mercy, þat it coumforte me; after þi ſpeche to þi feruaunt.

Ixvii Come to me þi mercy doingus, and I ſhal liue; for þi lawe is my ſwete þenking.

Ixviii Proude men be þei confoundid, for vnriȝtwifli wickidneſſe þei diden aȝen me; I forſoþe þhal ben enhauntid in þin heftis.

Ixix Pe men dredende þee be þei al turned to me; and þo þat knewe þi wytnesſingus.

Ixx Be maad myn herte vndefoulyd in þi iustefiyngis; þat I be not confoundid.

Caf.

Ixxi My foulē failide in to þin helþe ȝiuere; and in to þi woord I ouerhopede.

Ixxii Myn eȝen faileden in to þin ſpeche; feiende, Whanne ſhalt þou coumforte me?

Ixxiii For I am maad as a botel in hor froȝt; þi iustefiyngus I haue not forȝete.

Ixxiv Hou fele ben þe daȝis of þi feruaunt; whanne ſhalt þou do of þe purſuende me dom?

Ixxv Wicke men tolden to me talingus; but not as þi lawe.

Ixxvi Alle þin maundemens treuþe; wicke men purſueden me, help þou me.

Ixxvii A litel laſſe þei waſteden me in þe erþe; I forſoþe forſoc not þin heftis.

Ixxviii After þi mercy quikene þou me; and I ſhal kepe þe wytnesſingis of þi mouþ.

Lameth.

Ixxxix In to wiþoute ende, Lord; þi woord abit ſtille in heuene.

xci In ieneracioun and to ieneracioun þi treuþe; þou foundedift þe erþe, and it abit ſtille.

xci In þin ordynaunce abit þe day; for alle þingus feruen to þee.

xci But þat þi lawe is my ſwete þenking; þanne parauenture I hadde perſhid in my mecnesse.

xci In to wiþouten ende I ſhal not forȝete þi iustefiyngis; for in hem þou haſt quykened me.

xci þin I am, mac me ſaf; for þi iustefiyngis I haue out foȝt.

xcv Me abiden synneres, þat þei ſhulden deſtrie me; þi witneſſyngus I vnderſtod.

xvi Of alle ending I faȝ þe ende; brod þin heſte ful myche.

Men.

xvii What maner I loouede þi lawe, Lord; al dai my ſwete þenking it is.

xviii Vp on myn enemys prudent þou madift me wiþ þin heſte; for in to wiþoute ende it is to me.

xix Vp on alle techende me I vnderſtod; for þi witneſſyngis is my ſwete þenking.

c Ouer olde men I vnderſtod; for þin heftis I ſoȝte.

ci Fro alle euel weie I forfendede my feet; þat I kepe þi woordus.

cii Fro þi domes I bowide not doun; for lawe þou haſt put to me.

ciii Hou ſwete to myn chekis þi ſpechis; ouer hony to my mouþ.

civ Of þin heftis I vnderſtod; þerfore I hatide eche weie of wickidneſſe.

Nun.

cv Lanterne to my feet þi woord; and liȝt to myn paþis.

cvi I ſwoor; and ſette to kepe þe domes of þi riȝtwifneſſe.

cvi I am mekid on alle ſide; Lord, quykene þou me aftir þi woord.

cvi Pe wilful þingus of my mouþ wel plesing mac þou, Lord; and þi domys tech me.

cix My foulē in myn hondis euermor; and þi lawe I haue not forȝeten.

cx Synneres ſetteden a grene to me; and fro þin heftis I errede not.

cxi Bi eritage I purchaſide þi witneſſingus in to wiþoute ende; for þe ful out ioȝing of myn herte þei ben.

cxi I bowede in myn herte to ben don þi iustefiyngis; in to wiþoute ende for ȝelding.

Sameth.

cxi Wicke men to hate I hadde; and þi lawe I loouede.

cxi Helpere, and myn vndertakere þou art; and in to þi woord I hopide ouer.

cxv Boweþ doun fro mee, ȝee malice doeris; and I shal ferche þe heftis of my God.

cxvi Vndertac me aftir þi speche, and I shal liue; and confounde þou not me fro myn abiding.

cxvii Help me, and I shal ben saaf; and I shal sweteli þenken in þi iustefiyngis euermor.

cxviii Pou haſt despisid alle men goende doun fro þi domes; for vnriȝtwis þe þenking of hem.

cxix Trefpafende I heeld alle þe synneres of erþe; þerfore I loouede þi witneſſingis.

cxx Pricke wiþ þi drede my flesh; forſoþe fro þi domes I dradde.

Ayn.

cxxi I dide dom and riȝtwisneſſe; tac þou nott me to þe akufende me.

cxxii Vndertac þi seruaunt in to good; chalenge me not þe proude.

cxxiii Myn eȝen faileden in to þin helþe ȝiuere; and in to þe speche of þi riȝtwisneſſe.

cxxiv Do wiþ þi seruaunt after þi mercy; and þi iustefiyngis teche þou me.

cxxv Pi seruaunt I am; ȝif to me vnderſtonding, þat I wite þi witneſſingis.

cxxvi Time of doing, Lord; þei han ſcatered þi lawe.

cxxvii Perfore I loouede þin heftis; ouer gold and topafion.

cxxviii Perfore to alle þin heftis I was riȝtforþ reulyd; alle wicke weie to hate I hadde.

Phee.

cxxix Merueilous þi witneſſingis, Lord; þerfore ferchede þem my foulē.

cxxx Be declaring of þi woordis liȝtneþ; vnderſtonding ȝieuþ to little childer.

cxxxi My mouþ I openede, and I droȝ to a ſpirit; for þin heftis I defirede.

cxxxii Behold in me, and haue mercy of me; after þe dom of men loouende þi name.

cxxxiii My goingus forþ riȝt reule þou after þi speche; þat þer lordſhipe not of me alle vnriȝtwisneſſe.

cxxxiv Aȝeen bie me fro þe chalengis of men; þat I kepe þin heftis.

cxxxv Pi face liȝtne þou vp on þi seruaunt; and tech me þi iustefiyngis.

cxxxvi Iffues of watris broȝten out myn eȝen; for þei kepten not þi lawe.

Sade.

cxxxvii Riȝtwis þou art, Lord; and riȝt is þi dom.

cxxxviii Pou haſt comaundid riȝtwisneſſe, þi witneſſingis; and þi treuþe ful myche.

cxxxix My looue made me to dwyne; for myn enemys han forȝete þi woordis.

cxl Fyrid is þi speche hugeli; and þi seruaunt loouede it.

cxi A ȝung waxen man I am, and dispisid; þi iustefiyngis I haue not forȝete.

cxlvi Þi riȝtwisneſſe, Lord, riȝtwisneſſe in to wiþoute ende; and þi lawe treuþe.

cxlvi Tribulacioun and anguſh founden me; þin heftis is my fwete þenking.

cxlvi Equite þi witneſſingus in to wiþoute ende; vnderſtonding ȝif þou to me, and I shal liue.

Cof.

cxlvi I crieđe in al myn herte, full out here me, Lord; þi iustefiyngus I shal aȝeen feche.

cxlvi I crieđe to þee, mac me saf; þat I kepe þin heftis.

cxlvi I cam befor in cefounable time of werking, and I crieđe; in to þi woordis I ouer hopede.

cxlvi Myn eȝen camen befor to þee þe morutid; þat I shulde sweteli þenke þi spechis.

cxlvi My vois here þou aftir þi mercy, Lord; and aftir þi dom quykene þou me.

cxlvi Per neȝheden þe purſuende me to wickidneſſe; fro þi lawe ferr þei ben maad forſoþe.

cxlvi Neeȝ þou art, Lord; and alle þi weies treuþe.

cxlvi Fro þe bigynnyng I knewȝ of þi witneſſingys; for in to wiþoute ende þou foundedest hem.

Res.

cxlvi See my mecnesse, and tac me out; for þi lawe I haue not forȝete.

cxlvi Deme þou my dom, and aȝeen bie þou me; for þi speche quikene þou me.

cxlvi Ferr fro ſyneres helþe; for þi iustefiyngus þei out foȝten not.

cxlvi Pi mercies manye, Lord; and aftir þi dom quikene þou me.

cxlvi Manye þat purſuen me, and trublen me; fro þi witneſſingis I bowede not doun.

cxlvi I ſaȝ lawe brekeris, and I dwynede awei; for þei kepten not þi spechis.

cxlvi See, for þi heftis I loouede, Lord; in þi mercy quikene þou me.

cxlvi Be begynnyng of þi woordis treuþe; into wiþoute ende alle þe domes of þi riȝtwisneſſe.

Sin.

cxlvi Princis purſueden me wiþ oute cause; and of þi woordis dradde myn herte.

cxlvi I shal gladen vpon þine spechis; as he þat findeþ manye ſpoilis.

cxlvi Wickidneſſe to hate I hadde, and wlatide; þi lawe forſoþe I loouede.

cxlvi Seuen ſiþes in þe dai preifing I feide to þee; vp on þe domys of þi riȝtwisneſſe.

cxlvi Myche pes to þe loouende þi lawe; and þer is not to þem ſclaundre.

cxlvi I bod þin helþe ȝiuere, Lord; and þin heftis I loouede.

cxlvi My foule kepte þy witneſſingus; and loouede þem hugeli.

cixviii I kepte þin heftis, and þi witnesſingis; for alle my weies in þi fyȝt.

Tau.

cixix Neȝhe my lowe preȝing in þi siȝte, Lord; aftir þi speche ȝif to me vnderſtonding.

cixx Entre myn asking in þin fighte; aftir þi speche deliuere me.

cixxi My lippis shuln tellen out an impne; whan þou shalt teche me þi iustefiyingus.

cixxii My tunge shal telle forþ þi speche; for alle þi maundemens equyte.

cixxiii Be maad þin hond, þat it faue me; for þi maundemens I ches.

cixxiiii I coueitide þin helpe ȝiuere, Lord; and þi lawe is my sweete þenking.

cixxv Liue my soule, and it shal preife þee; and þi domys shul helpe me.

cixxvi I errede as a shep þat perſhede; seche þi seruaunt, Lord, for þin heftis I haue not forȝeten.

SALM CXIX.

Þe song of greeſ.

i To þe Lord, whan I was trublid, I criede; and he ful out herde me.

ii Lord, deliuere my soule fro wicke lippys; and fro þe treccherous tunge.

iii What be ȝiue to þee, or what be put to þee; aȝen þe treccherous tunge?

iv Sharpe arewis of þe myȝti; wiþ colis wastende.

v Allas to me! for my pilgriiming is drawnen along, I dwelte wiþ men dwellende Cedar; vi myche wonyng as a comeling was my soule. Wiþ hem þat hateden pes vii I was pesible; whan I spac to þem, þei impugneden me wiþ outh cause.

SALM CXX.

Þe song of greeſ.

i I rered vp myn eȝen in to þe mounteynes; whennys shal come helpe to me.

ii Myn helpe of þe Lord; þat made heuene and erþe.

iii ȝiue he not in to stirring þi foot; ne nappe he, þat kepeþ þee.

iv Lo! he shal not nappen, ne s̄lepen; þat kepeþ Israel.

v Þe Lord kepeþ þee, þe Lord þi defending; vp on þi riȝthond.

vi By day þe funne shal not brenne þee; ne þe mone bi þe nyȝt.

vii Þe Lord kepeþ þee fro alle euel; kepe þi soule þe Lord.

viii Þe Lord kepe þin entre and þi issu; fro þis now and vn to þe world.

SALM CXXI.

Þe song of greeſ.

i I gladide in þese þingus, þat ben feid to me; In to þe hous of þe Lord wee shul go.

ii Stondende weren oure feet; in þi porchis, O Jerufalem.

iii Jerufalem, þat is bild as a cite; whos part taking is in to itselv.

iv Pider forſoþe ſteȝeden vp lynagis, þe linagis of þe Lord; þe witnesſing of Israel, to knouleche to þe name of þe Lord.

v For þer feten þe fetis in dom; þe fetis vpon þe hous of Dauid.

vi Preȝeb þat to þe pes ben of Jerufalem; and abundaunce to þe loouende þee.

vii Be maad pes in þi vertue; and abundaunce in þi touris.

viii For my breþeren and my neȝheboris; I spac pes of þee.

ix For þe hous of þe Lord oure God; I ſoȝte goode þingus to þee.

SALM CXXII.

Þe song of greeſ.

i To þee I liftide myn eȝen; þat dwellift in heuenus.

ii Lo! as þe eȝen of þe seruauns; in þe hondis of þer lordis. As þe eȝen of þe hondmaide, in þe hondis of hir ladi; so oure eȝen to þe Lord oure God, to þe time he haue merci of vs.

iii Haue merci of vs, Lord, haue mercy of vs; for myche wee be fulſild wiþ diſpifing.

iv For myche is fulſild oure soule; to þe abundaunt repref, and to þe proude men diſpifing.

SALM CXXIII.

Þe song of greeſ.

i But for þe Lord was in vs, feie now Israel;

ii but for þe Lord was in vs. Whan men shulden risen aȝen vs out;

iii per auenture aliae þei hadde swolewid vs. Whan shulde wraȝen þe wodnessē of hem in to vs;

iv per auenture water hadde vp ſopen vs. Oure soule paſſide þurȝ þe ſtrem;

v per auenture oure soule shulde han paſſid þurȝ þe vnfuffrable watir.

vi Blyſſyd be þe Lord; þat ȝaff not vs in to þe cacchyng to þe teþ of hem.

vii Oure soule, as a ſparewe, is caȝt out; fro þe grene of hunteres. Þe grene is to-broſid; and wee be deliuered.

viii Oure helpe in þe name of þe Lord; þat made heuene and erþe.

SALM CXXIII.

Þe song of greeſ.

i That trosten in þe Lord as þe mount of Sion; he shal not be moued in to wipoute ende, ii þat dwelliþ in Jerusalem. Þe mounteynes in his cumpas; and þe Lord in þe cumpas of his puple, fro þis now and vnto þe world.
iii For þe Lord shal not lefe þe 3erd of synneres vp on þe lot of riȝtwis men; þat þe riȝtwis men strecche not out to wickidnesse þer hondis.
iii Wel do þou, Lord; to goode men, and riȝt in herte.
v Þe boowende doun forsoþe in to oblishingis þe Lord shal bring to wiþ werkende wickidnesse; pes vp on Israel.

SALM CXXV.

Þe song of greeſ.

i Lord, in turnende þe caitifte of Sion; wee ben maad as coumfortid.
ii Panne fild is our mouȝ wiþ ioȝe; and oure tunge in ful out ioȝing. Panne þei shul seye among Jentilis; Þe Lord haþ magnefied to don wiþ hem.
iii Þe Lord haþ magnefied to do wiþ vs; wee ben maad gladende.
iii Lord, al turne oure caitifte; as a strem in þe souȝ.
v Pat sownen in teris; in ful out ioȝing shul repe.
vi Goende þei ȝiden, and wepten; sendende þer sedis. Comende forsoþe þei shul come; berende wiþ ful out ioȝing þer handfullis.

SALM CXXVI.

Þe song of greeſ.

i But þe Lord shulde bild þe hous; in to veyn trauaileden þat bilden it. But þe Lord shul kepe þe cite; in vein wakeþ þat kepeþ it.
ii Veyn it is to ȝou befor liȝt to risen; riseþ aftir þat ȝee seten, þat eten þe bred of forewe. Whan he shal ȝiuen to his loouede a flep;
iii lo! þe eritage of þe Lord þe fones, þe mede þe frut of þe wombe.
iii As arewes in þe hond of þe myȝty; so þe fones off þe out shakene.
v Blisful þe man þat fulfilde his desir of hem; he shal not be confoundid, whan he shal speke to his enemys in þe ȝate.

SALM CXXVII.

Þe song of greeſ.

i Blisful alle þat dreden þe Lord; þat gon in his weies.
ii Þe trauailis of þin hondis for þou shalt ete; blisful þou art, and wel shal be to þee.
iii Bi wif as a vine aboundende; in þe fydes of þin hous. By fones as þe newe braunchis of olives; in þe cumpas of þi bord.
iii Lo! þus shal be blissid þe man; þat dredeþ þe Lord.

v Blisse to þee þe Lord fro Sion; and see þou þe goodis of Jerusalem alle þe daȝes of þi lif.
vi And see þou þe fones of þi fones; þe pes vp on Israel.

SALM CXXVIII.

Þe song of greeſ.

i Ofte þei han out foȝte me, fro my ȝouþe; seye now Israel.
ii Ofte þei han out foȝte me fro my ȝouþe; forsoþe þei myȝte not to me.
iii Vpon my bac forgeden synneres; þei longeden aferr þer wickidnessis.
iii Þe Lord riȝtwys shal to-hewe þe nollis of synneres; v be þei confoundid, and al turned bacward, þat hateden Sion.
vi Be þei maad as hei of rouues; þat beforne it be pullid out, ful out driede.
vii Of þe whiche he þat repeþ, shal not fulfille his hond; and hys bosum, þat shal gedere handfullis.
viii And þey seiden not þat wenten biside, Þe blissing of þe Lord vp on ȝou; wee han blissid to ȝou in þe name of þe Lord.

SALM CXXIX.

Þe song of greeſ.

i Fro deppis I criede to þee, Lord;
ii Lord, full out here þou my vois. Be maad þin eris vnderstondende; in to þe vois of my lowe preȝing.
iii If wickidnessis þou shalt 'al aboute kepe, Lord; Lord, who shal sustene.
iii For anent þee is mercy doyng;
v and for þi lawe I sustenede þee, Lord. My soule sustenede in þe woord of hym; vi my soule hopide in þe Lord. Fro þe morutyd warde vnto þe nyȝt; vii hope Israel in þe Lord. For anent þe Lord mercy; and plenteous anentis hym aȝeen biyng.
viii And he shal aȝeen bie Israel; fro alle þe wickidnessis of hym.

SALM CXXX.

Þe song of greeſ.

i Lord, myn herte is not enhaunſid; ne rerid vp ben myn eȝen. Ne I wente in grete þingis; ne in merueilis ouer me.
ii If not mekely I felede; but I enhaunced my soule. As þe wened vpon his moder; so ȝelding in my soule.
iii Hope Israel in þe Lord; fro þis now and vn to þe world.

SALM CXXXI.

Þe song of greeſ.

i Haue mynde, Lord, of Dauid; and of al þe debonernes of hym.

ii As he swor to þe Lord; a vow he vouwide to þe God of Jacob.
 iii I shal not entre in to þe tabernacle of myn hous; I shal not stézen vp in to þe bed of my bedding.
 iii I shal not ȝiue slep to myn eȝen; and to my eȝe lidis napping. And reste to my times, v to þe time I finde a place to þe Lord; a tabernacle to þe God of Jacob.
 vi Lo! wee han herd it in Effrata; wee han founden it in þe feldis of þe wode.
 vii Wee shul entre in to þe tabernacle of hym; wee shuln honouren in þe place, where stoden his feet.
 viii Ris, Lord, in to þi resting; þou and þe arke of þin halewing.
 ix ȝi preftis be þei clad riȝtwisnesse; and þin halewis ful out ioȝe þey.
 x For Dauid, þi seruaunt; turne þou not awei þe face of þi crift.
 xi ȝe Lord swor to Dauid treuþe, and he shal not maken hym in vein; of þe frute of þi wombe I shal putte vp on þi feete.
 xii If þi sones shul kepe my testament; and my witnesssingis, þese þat I shal teche þem. And þe sones of hem vn to þe world; shul sitte vp on þi sete.
 xiii For þe Lord ches Sion; he ches it in to dwelling to hym.
 xiv ȝis my reste in to þe world of world; heer I shal dwelle, for I ches it.
 xv His widewe bleffende I shal blisse; his pore I shal fulfille wiþ loues.
 xvi His preftis I shal cloþe wiþ helþe ȝiuere; and his halewis wiþ ful out ioȝing shuln ful out ioȝen.
 xvii ȝider I shal bringe forþ þe horn of Dauid; I haue maad redi a lanterne to my crift.
 xviii His enemys I shal cloþe wiþ shenþipe; vp on hym forsoþe shal flouren out myn halewing.

SALM CXXXII.

ȝe song of greeſ.

i Lo! hou good, and how ioȝeful; breþern to dwellen in to oon.
 ii As an oynement in þe hed; þat goþ doun in to þe berd, þe berd of Aaron. ȝat goþ doun in to þe hemme of his cloþing;
 iii as deu of Ermon, þat goþ doun in to þe hil of Syon. For ȝider fente þe Lord bleſſing; and lif vn to þe world.

SALM CXXXIII.

ȝe song of greeſ.

i Lo! now blisseþ þe Lord; alle ȝee seruauns of þe Lord. ȝat stonden in þe hous of þe Lord; in þe porchis of þe hous of oure God.
 ii In nyȝtes heueþ vp ȝoure hondis in to holi þingis; and blisseþ to þe Lord.

iii Bliffe þee þe Lord fro Sion; þat made heuene and erþe.

SALM CXXXIV.

Alleluya.

i Preife ȝee þe name of þe Lord; preife ȝee, seruauns, þe Lord.
 ii ȝat stonden in þe hous of þe Lord; in þe porchis of þe hous of oure God.
 iii Preife ȝee þe Lord, for good is þe Lord; doþ salm to his name, for it ys sweete.
 iii For þe Lord ches to hym Jacob; and Israel in to posſeſſioun to hym.
 v For I knew, þat gret is þe Lord; and oure God beforne alle godys.
 vi Alle þingis what euere þe Lord wolde, he dide in heuene and in erþe; in þe fe, and in alle depnesſis.
 vii Bringende out cloudis fro þe vtmostis of þe erþe; leitis in to reyn he made. ȝat bringeb forþ windis fro his tresores;
 viii ȝat smot þe first gotten of Egipt, fro man vn to beste.
 ix And he sente tocnis and wndris in þe myddel of þee, Egipt; in to Farao and in to alle his seruauns.
 x ȝat smot manye Jentilis; and floȝ stronge kingis.
 xi Seon, þe king of Amorreis; and Og þe king of Basan, and alle þe reumys of Chanaan.
 xii And he ȝaf þe lond of hem eritage; eritage to Israel, his puple.
 xiii Lord, þi name in to wiþ oute ende; Lord, þi memorial in ieneracioun and in to ieneracioun.
 xiv For þe Lord shal demen his puple; and in his seruauns he shal be louly prezid.
 xv ȝe maumetis of Jentilis siluer and gold; þe werkis of þe hondys of men.
 xvi Mouȝ þei han, and þei shul not speke; eȝen þei han, and þei shul not see.
 xvii Eris þei han, and þei shul not here; ne forsoþe spirit is in þe mouȝ of hem.
 xviii Lyc to þem be þei maad, ȝat don þo þingis; and alle ȝat trosten in hem.
 xix Hous of Israel, bleſſe ȝee to þe Lord; hous of Aron, blisse ȝee to þe Lord.
 xx Hous of Leuy, blisse ȝee to þe Lord; ȝee ȝat drede þe Lord, blisseþ to þe Lord.
 xxi Blifid be þe Lord fro Sion; ȝat dwellip in Jerusalem.

SALM CXXXV.

Alleluya.

i Knouleche ȝee to þe Lord, for he is good; for in to þe world þe merci of hym.
 ii Knoulecheþ to þe God of godis.
 iii Knoulecheþ to þe Lord of lordis.
 iv ȝat makeþ grete merueilis alone.
 v ȝat made heuenes in vnderftonding.

vi Pat fastnedē þe erþe vp on watris.
 vii Pat made grete liȝt ȝiueres.
 viii Þe funne in to þe power of þe dai.
 ix Þe mone and þe sterriſ in to þe power of þe nyȝt.
 x Pat smot Egyp̄t wiþ þe first gotten of hem.
 xi Pat broȝte outh Israel fro þe myddel of hem.
 xii In myghty hond; and in heiȝ arm.
 xiii Pat deuydede þe rede se in to deuyseouns.
 xiv And broȝte out Israel þurȝ þe myddel of it.
 xv And shoc out Farao and his vertue in þe rede se.
 xvi Pat ladde ouer his purple þurȝ þe desert.
 xvii Pat smot grete kingis.
 xviii And floȝ stronge kingis.
 xix Seon, þe king of Amoreis.
 xx And Og, þe king of Basan.
 xxi And he ȝaf þe lond of hem eritage.
 xxii Eritage to Israel, his seruaunt.
 xxiii For in oure mecnesse myndfull he was of vs.
 xxiv And he aȝeen boȝte vs fro oure enemys.
 xxv Pat ȝiueþ mete to alle fleſh.
 xxvi Knoulechep̄ to God of heuene. Knoulechep̄ to þe Lord of lordis; for in to wiþoute ende þe mercy of hym.

SALM CXXXVI.

Þe falm of Dauid, for Jeremeie.

i Vp on þe flodis of Babiloyne þere wee seten, and wepten; whil wee recordeden of Sion.
 ii In wiþies in þe myddes of it; wee heengen vp oure instrumens.
 iii For þere askeden vs þat caityues broȝten vs; þe woordis of songis of despit. And þei þat 'ledden aweie vs; An ympne singeþ to vs of þe songis of Sion.
 iv Hou shul wee singe þe song of þe Lord; in an heþen lond?
 v If I shule forȝeten of þee, Jerusalem; to forȝeting be ȝiue my riȝthond.
 vi Cleue my tunge to myn chekis; if I shul not han mynde of þee. If I shul not purposen þee, Jerusalem; in þe begynnyng of my gladnesse.
 vii Myndeful be þou, Lord, of þe sones of Edom; in to þe dai of Jerusalem. Pat feyn, Ful out waſteþ, ful out waſteþ; vnto þe foundement in it.
 viii Þe doȝtir of Babilon wrecchid, blisful þat shal ȝelde to þee þi ȝelding; þat þou haſt ȝolde to vs.
 ix Blisful þat shal holden; and hurtlen his litle childer to þe ston.

SALM CXXXVII.

Þe falm `to hym Dauid.

i I shal knoulechen to þee, Lord, in al myn herte; for þou haſt herd þe woordis of my mouþ. In þe liȝte of aungelis I shal don falm to þee, my God;

ii I shal honoure at þin holy temple, and knouleche to þi name. Vp on þi mercy and þi treupe; for þou haſt magnefied þi feynt ouer alle name.
 iii In what euere day I shal inwardli clepe þee, ful out here me; þou shalt multeplie in my soule vertue.
 iv Knouleche to þee, Lord, alle þe kingis of erþe; for þei han herd alle þe woordys of þi mouþ.
 v And singe þei in þe weyes of þe Lord; for gret is þe glorie of þe Lord.
 vi For heiȝ þe Lord, and meke þingis he beholdep̄; and heȝe þingis fro a ferr he knowiþ.
 vii If I shul go in þe myddel of tribulacioun, þou shalt quikene me; and vp on þe wraȝe of myn enemys þou haſt straȝt out þin hond, and saf made me þi ryȝt hond.
 viii Þe Lord shal ȝelde for me, Lord, þi mercy in to þe world; þe werkis of þin hondis ne despise þou.

SALM CXXXVIII.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid.

i Lord, þou haſt proued me, and knownen me;
 ii þou haſt knowe my ſitting, and myn aȝeen riȝting. Pou vnderſtode my þoȝtis fro aferr;
 iii my paþ and my litle corde þou enſerchedift. And alle my weies þou beforne ſeȝe;
 iv for þer is not woord in my tunge. Lo! Lord, þou haſt knownen alle þingis, v neweft and olde; þou haſt formed me, and put vp on me þin hond.
 vi Merueilous is maad þy kunning of me; it is coumfortid, and I shal not moun to it.
 vii Whidir shal I go fro þi ſpirit; and whidur fro þi face shal I flee?
 viii If I shul ſteȝen vp in to heuene, þou art þere; if I shul go down in to helle, þou art at.
 ix If I shul take my pennys in þe morutid; and shul dwelle in þe vtmoȝtis of þe fe.
 x Forſoþe þider þin hond shal bringe me; and shal holde me þi riȝt hond.
 xi And I feide, Parauenture dercneſſis shul totred me; and nyȝt my liȝting in my delicis.
 xii For dercneſſes shul not ben derkid fro þee, and nyȝt as day shal ben liȝtid; as his dercneſſis, so and þe liȝt of it.
 xiii For þou weldeſt my reenes; þou haſt vndertake me fro þe wombe of my moder.
 xiv I shal knouleche to þee, for ferfulli þou art magnefied; merueilous þi werkis; and my soule shal knouleche ful myche.
 xv My mouþ is not hid fro þee, þe whiche þou madeſt in priue; and my ſubſtaunce is in þe neþermoris of þe erþe.
 xvi Myn vnpaſfit þing ſeȝen þin eȝen, and in þi boc alle shul be writhen; dazeſ shul be formed, and no man in hem.

xvii To me forsoþe ful myche ben maad wrshipeful þi frendis, God; ful myche is counfortid þe princehed of hem.

xviii I shal noumbe þem atwynne, and vpon grauel þei shul be multeplied; I haue risen out, and ȝit I am wiþ bee.

xix God, for þou shalt sle synneres; ȝee men of blodis, bowiþ doun fro me.

xx For ȝee leyn in þoȝt; Take þei in vanyte þer citees.

xxi Wheþir not þoo þat hateden þee, Lord, I hatede; and vp on þin enemys I dwynede?

xxii Wiþ parfyte hate I hatede hem; enemys þei ben maad to me.

xxiii Proue me, God, and wite þou myn herte; aske þou me, and knowe þou my paþis.

xxiv And see, if þe weie of wickidnesse is in me; and bring me þennes in þe euere lastende weie.

SALM CXXXIX.

In to þe ende, þe falm of Dauid.

i Tac me awei, Lord, fro an euel man; and fro a wicke man tac me awei.

ii þat þoȝten wickidnessis in þe herte; al dai setteden batailis.

iii þei sharpeden þer tungis as serpentis; þe venom of edderes vnder þe lippis of hem.

iv Kep me fro þe hond of þe synnere; and fro wicke men tac me awei. þat þoȝten to supplaunten my goingis;

v proude men hidden a grene to me. And cordis þei straȝten out in to a grene; by side þe weie sclaunder þei putten to me.

vi I feide to þe Lord, My God þou art; ful out here þou, Lord, þe vois of my lowe preȝing.

vii Lord, Lord, þe vertue of myn helpe; þou al aboute shadewedeſt on myn hed in þe dai of bataile.

viii Ne take þou me, Lord, fro my desir to þe synnere; þey þoȝten aȝen me, ne forſake þou me, leſt parauenture bei ben enhauncid.

ix þe hed of þe cumpas of hem; þe trauayle of þe lippis of hem shal coueren hem.

x Colis shul fallen vp on hem, in to fir þou shalt kaste þem doun; in wrecchidnessis þei shul not stonde.

xi A ianglende man shal not be riȝtforþ reulid in þe erþe; an vnriȝtwis man euelis shul take in deþ.

xii I knewȝ, for þe Lord shal do dom of þe helpeles; and veniaunce of þe pore.

xiii Neuerpelatere riȝtwis shuln knoulechen to þi name; and þe riȝte shul wone wiþ þi chere.

SALM CXL.

Þe falm of Dauid.

i Lord I crieðe to þee, ful out here þou me; tac heede to my vois, whil I shal crie to þee.

ii Be forþ riȝt reulid myn orisoun as encens in þi siȝt; þe rering vp of myn hondis euentid sacrificise.

iii Put, Lord, warde to my mouþ; and a dore of circumstaunce to my lippis.

iv Bowe þou not doun my herte in to þe woordis of malice; to ben excusid excusaciouns in synnes. Wiþ men wirkende wickidnesse; and I shal not comune wiþ þe chosen of hem.

v þe riȝtwis man shal chaſtife me in mercy, and blamen me; þe oile forsoþe of þe synnere shal not wiþinne fatten myn hed. For ȝit and myn orisoun in þe wel plesid þingus of hem;

vi þe domes men of hem ioyned to þe ston ben sopen awey. þei shuln here my woordis, for þei myȝten;

vii as þe fatnesse of erþe is rerid vp `vp on þe erþe. Oure bones ben scaterid beside helle, viii for to þee Lord, Lord, myn eȝen; in þee I hopide, do not awei my soule.

ix Kep me fro þe grene þat þei setteden to me; and fro fclaudris of men wirkende wickidnesse.

x Synneres shuln falle in þe net of hym; syngulerli I am to þe time I pasſe.

SALM CXLI.

Þe vnderſtonding of Dauid, whan he was in þe spelunke.

i Wiþ my vois to þe Lord I crieðe; wiþ my vois to þe Lord I louly prezede.

ii I shede out in his siȝt myn orisoun; and my trybulacioun beforne hym I openli telle.

iii In failinge of me my spirit; and þou haſt knowe my ſties. In þis weie þat I ȝide; proude men hidden a grene to me.

iv I hebeeld at þe riȝt hond, and I faȝ; and þer was not þat kneuȝ me. Fliȝt perſhede fro me; and þer was not þat aȝeen ſoȝte my soule.

v I crieðe to þee, Lord, I feide, þou art myn hope; my porcioun in þe lond of lyueres.

vi Tac heede to my lowe preȝing; for I am mekid ful myche. Deliuere me fro þe purſuende me; for þei ben coumfortid vpon me.

vii Led out fro warde my soule to knowleche to þi name; me abijden þe riȝtwis, to þe time þat þou ȝelde to me.

SALM CXLII.

Þe orisoun of Dauid, whan purſuede hym Abſolon, his fone.

i Lord, ful out here myn orisoun, wiþ eris parceyue myn obſecracioun; in þi treuþe ful out here þou me, in þi riȝtwisneſſe.

ii And entre þou not into dom wiþ þi feruaunt; for þer shal not be iuſtified in þi siȝte eche lyuende.

iii For þe enemy pursuede my soule; mekede in þe erþe my lif. He sette me in derke þingis, as þe deade of þe world,
 iii and my spirit is anguyfht vp on me; in me is disturbid myn herte.
 v Myndeful I was of olde dæzes, I þoȝte swetely in alle þi werkis; in þe deedis of þin hondis I sweteli þoȝte. vi I straȝte out myn hondis to þee; my soule as erþe wipoute water to þee.
 vii Swiftli full out here þou me, Lord; my spirit failide.
 Turne þou not awei þi face fro me; and I shal ben lic to þe goende doun in to þe lake.
 viii Herd mac þou to me erli þi mercy; for in þee I hopide. Knownen mac þou to me þe weie, in þe whiche go I; for to þee I rerede my soule.
 ix Tac awei me fro myn enemys, Lord, to þee I fleiȝ, x tech me to do þi wil; for my God þou art. Þi goode spirit shal bringe me þennes in to þe ryȝt lond; xi for þi name, Lord, þou shalt quykene me in þin equite. þou shalt leden out of tribulacioun my soule; xii and in þi merci þou shalt destroȝen alle myn enemys. And þou shalt leesen alle, þat trublen my soule; for I am þi seruaunt.

SALM CXLIII.

Þe falm of Dauid; aȝen Golie.

i Blissted þe Lord my God, þat techeþ myn hondis to strif; and mi fingeris to bataile. ii My mercy, and my refut; myn vndertakere, and my delyuerere. My defendere, and in hym I hopide; þat vndirpooteþ my puple vnder me.
 iii Lord, what is a man, for þou haft myche maad knownen to hym; or þe sone of man, for þou eymest
 hym?
 iv A man to vanyte is maad lic; his dæȝis as þadewe passen.
 v Lord, bowe doun þin heuenes, and cum doun; touche þe monteynes, and þei þuln smoken.
 vi Leite þou leitingis, and þou shalt scateren hem; send out þin arewis, and þou shalt al disturbe þem.
 vii Send out þin hond fro an heiȝ, tac me out, and deliuere me of many watriis; and fro þe hond of alien fones.
 viii Whos mouȝ spac vanyte; and þe riȝthalf of hem þe riȝthalf of wickidnesse.
 ix God, a newe song I shal singe to þee; in þe ten cordid fautre I shal do salm to þee.
 x þat ȝiueſt helþe to kingis; þat aȝeen boȝtist Dauid, þi seruaunt, fro þe malice doinge fwerd tac me awey.
 xi And pull me awei fro þe hond of alienes fones, whos mouȝ spac vanyte; and þe riȝthalf of hem þe riȝthalf of wickidnesse.
 xii Whos fones; as newe plauntingis in þer ȝouþe. þe doȝtris of hem maad semely; enhourned aboute as þe licnesse of þe temple.

xiii þe celeris of hem fulle; bowende out fro þat into it.
 þe shew of hem ful of frut, aboundende in þer goingis;
 xiv þe oxen of hem fatte. þer is not falling of wal, ne passing ouer; ne cry in þe stretis of hem.
 xv Blisful, þei seiden, þe puple, to whom þese þingis ben; blisful þe puple, of þe whiche þe Lord is his God.

SALM CXLIHII.

Þe preising to hym Dauid.

i I shal enhaunce þee, my God king; and I shal blesse to þi name in to þe world, and in to þe world of world.
 ii Bi alle dæȝis I shal blissen to þee; and I shal preyſen þi name in to þe world, and in to þe world of world.
 iii Gret þe Lord, and preisable full myche; and of his mychilnesse is noon ende.
 iv Jeneracioun and ieneracioun shal preyſe þi werkis;
 and þi power þei shul telle forþ.
 v þe grete doing of þe glorie of þin holynesse þei shuln speke; and þi merueylis þei shul telle.
 vi And þe vertue of þi ferful þingis þei shul seyn; and þi mykilnesse þei shul telle.
 vii þe mynde of þe abundaunce of þi swetenesse þei shul bowen out; and in þi riȝtwifnesse þei shul ful out ioȝen.
 viii Mercy doere and mercyful þe Lord; pacient, and myche merciful.
 ix Swete þe Lord to alle; and his mercy doingis vp on alle his werkis.
 x Knouleche to þee, Lord, alle þi werkys; and þin halewis blisse þei to þee.
 xi þe glorie of þi reume þei shul seyn; and þi myȝt þei shul speken.
 xii þat knownen þei maken to þe fones of men þi power;
 and þe glorie of þe grete doing of þi reume.
 xiii þi reume reume of alle worldis; and þi lordshiping in alle ieneracioun and in to ieneracioun. Feiȝful þe Lord in alle his woordis; and holy in alle his werkis.
 xiv þe Lord helpeþ vp alle þat fallen; and rereþ vp alle þe hurtlid doun.
 xv þe eȝen of alle in þee hopen, Lord; and þou ȝyuest þe mete of hem in þe behofful tyme.
 xvi þou openest þin hond; and fulfillist eche beste wiȝ blissing.
 xvii Riȝtwis þe Lord in alle his weies; and holi in alle his werkis.
 xviii Neeȝh is þe Lord to alle inwardli clepende hym; to alle inwardli clepende hym in treuþe.
 xix þe wil of men dredende hym he shal do, and þe lowe preizing of hem he shal ful out heren; and saf he shal make þem.
 xx þe Lord kepeþ alle loouende hym; and alle synneres he shal destroȝen.
 xxi þe preyſing of þe Lord my mouȝ shal speke; and blisse alle flesh to his holi name in to þe world, and in to þe world of world.

SALM CXLV.

Alleluia.

- i Preife þou, my soule, þe Lord;
ii I shal preife þe Lord in my lif, I shal do salm to my God as longe as I shal be.
iii Wileþ not trosten in princis; ne in þe sones of men, in whiche is not helþe.
iv His spirit shal gon out, and turnen aȝeen in to his lond; in þat dai shuln perfhe alle þe þoȝtus of hem.
v Blisful, of whom þe God of Jacob is his helpere; his hope in þe Lord his God, vi þat made heuene and erþe, þe se, and alle þingis þat ben in hem. Pat kepeþ treuþe in to þe world, vii doþ dom to þe suffrende wrong; ȝyueþ mete to þe hungry. Þe Lord losneþ þe gyuede;
viii þe Lord liȝtneþ þe blinde. Þe Lord rereþ vp þe hurtlid doun; þe Lord riȝtforþ reulþ þe riȝtwise.
ix Þe Lord kepeþ þe comelingis, þe modirles child, and þe widewe he shal vndertake; and þe weies of synneres he shal destroȝen.
x Þe Lord shal regne in to worldis; þi God, Sion, in ieneracioun and in to ieneracioun.

SALM CXLVI.

Alleluia.

- i Preifeþ þe Lord, for good is a salm; to oure God be preising ioȝeful and fair.
ii Þe Lord bildende vp Jerusalem; þe scateringis of Jerusalem shal gadere togidere.
iii Pat heliþ þe contrit in herte; and bindeþ þe contriciouns of hem.
iv Pat noumbreþ þe multitude of sterriis; and to þem alle clepeþ names.
v Gret oure Lord, and gret þe vertue of hym; and of his wiðdam is not noumber.
vi Vndertakende debonere men þe Lord; mekende forsoþe synneres vn to þe erþe.
vii Singeþ beforne to þe Lord in confessioun; doþ salm to oure God in harpe.
viii Pat couereþ heuene wiþ cloudis; and greipeþ to þe erþe reyn. Pat bringeþ forþ in hillis hey; and erbe to þe seruise of men.
ix Pat ȝyueþ to bestis þe mete of hem; and to briddis of crowes inwardli clepende hym.
x He shal not han wil in þe strengþe of hors; ne in þe leggis of a man shall be wel plesid to hym.
xi Wel plesid þing is to þe Lord vpon men dredende hym; and in hem þat hopen on his mercy.

SALM CXLVII.

Alleluia of Agge and Zacharye.

- i Preife þou, Jerusalem, þe Lord; preife þou þi God, Sion.

ii For he coumfortede þe lockis of þi ȝatis; he blisseðe to þi sones in þee.

iii Pat sette þi coostis pes; and wiþ talȝ of whete fillip þee.

iv Pat sendeþ out his speche to erþe; swiftli renneþ his word.

v Pat ȝiueþ snouȝ as wlle; þe little cloude as aske he sprengþ.

vi He fendeþ his cristal as musselis; befor þe face of his cold who shal susteynen?

vii He shal fende out his woord, and melte þem; his spirit shal blowen, and watriis shul flowen.

viii Pat telliþ out his woord to Jacob; riȝtwisness and his domes to Israel.

ix He dide not so to eche nacioun; and his domes he openede not to þem.

SALM CXLVIII.

Alleluia of Aggee and Zacharie.

- i Preife ȝee þe Lord fro heuenes; preife ȝee hym in heiȝtis.
ii Preife ȝee hym, alle his aungelis; preife ȝee hym, alle his vertues.
iii Preife ȝee hym, þe funne and þe moone; preife ȝee hym, alle þe sterriis and liȝt.
iv Preife ȝee hym, heuenes of heuenes; and watriis þat aboue heuenes ben, v preife þei þe name of þe Lord. For he seide, and þei ben maad; he fente, and þei ben formed.
vi He sette þem in to wiboute ende, and in to þe world of world; an heste he putte, and he shal not beside passe.
vii Preife ȝee þe Lord, fro þe erþe; dragonnes, and alle depnelliſ.
viii Fyr, hail, snouȝ, iys, þe spirit of tempestis; þat don þe woord of hym.
ix Mounteynes, and alle hillis; frut berende trees, and alle cedris.
x Bestis, and alle vsable bestis; serpentis, and feþered foulis.
xi Kyngis of erþe, and alle puplis; princis, and alle domys men of erþe.
xii ȝung men, and maidenes; olde men wiþ þe ȝungere, xiii preife þei þe name of þe Lord; for enhauncid is þe name of hym alone. Þe knouleching of hym vpon heuene and erþe;
xiv and he enhauncide þe horn of his puple. Ympne to alle þe seytis of hym; to þe sones of Israel, to þe puple neȝhende to hym.

SALM CXLIX.

Alleluia.

- i Singeþ to þe Lord a newe song; hys preising in þe chirche of halewis.

- ii Glade Israel in hym þat made hym; and þe doȝtris of Sion ful out iοȝe þei in þer kyng.
- iii Preife þei þe name of hym in quer; in timbre and fautre do þey falm to hym.
- iii For wel plesid is to þe Lord in his puple; and he enhauncide þe debonere in to helþe.
- v Halewys shul ful out iοȝen in glorie; þei shul gladen in þer bed placis.
- vi þe ful out iοȝingus of God in þe prote of hem; and þe swerdis on eiþir side sharp in þe hondis of hem.
- vii To be do veniaunce in naciouns; and blamyngis in puplis.
- viii To ben bounde þe kingis of hem in fettris; and þe noble men of hem in irene manyclis.
- ix þat þei do in hem dom writen; glorie þis is to alle þe feintis of hym.

SALM CL.

Alleluia.

- i Preife ȝee þe Lord in his feintis; preife ȝee hym in þe fastnyng of his vertue.
- ii Preife ȝee hym in þe vertues of hym; preife ȝee hym aftir þe multitude of þe gretnesse of hym.
- iii Preife ȝee hym in þe soun of trumpe; preifesp hym in fautre and harpe.
- iii Preife ȝee hym in timbre and quer; preife ȝee hym in cordis and orgne.
- v Preife ȝee hym in cymbalis wel sounende, preife ȝee hym in cymbalis of huge iοȝing;
- vi eche spirit, preife þe Lord.

Here endip þe Sawter; and now bigynneþ þe preface of Seynt Jerom in þe book of Prouerbes.

PROUERBYS.

Heere bygynneþ þe prologue in þe booc off Prouerbys.

To Cromacie and Eliodere, bishopis, Jerome sendeþ greeting. Joyne þe epistil whom ioyneþ presthod; ȝhe, þe chartre twynne not, whom þe looue of Crist knytteþ. Exposiciouns in Osee, Amos, Zacharie, and Malachie, þe whiche ȝee asken, I shulde han write, if it hadde ben leeful for siknesse. ȝee senden solacys of costis, ȝoure notories, and bokis writeres sustenende, þat to ȝou most oure wit trauaile. And lo! aside þe hauntende puple of men diuerse þingis askende, as or euene it be me to trauailen, ȝou hungrende, also to obere, or, in resoun of ȝyuen þing and taken, to any, saue ȝou, I be bounde. And so þurȝ long siknesse brosid, left fulli þis ȝeir I shulde be stille, and anent ȝou I were doumb, þe werec of þre daȝis to ȝoure name I sacrilde; þe remenyng, þat is, of þe þre volumes of Salomon, Masloch, þat Ebrues Parablis, þe comun making Prouerbis clepeþ; Coelech, þat Grecli Ecclesiasten, Latinli a Spekere wee moun seyn; Cirafrym, þat in to oure tunge is turned Song of Songis. It is told and Panarethos, þe boc of Jhesu, sone of Cirach; and an oper fallly writen, þat is inwriten þe Wifdam of Salamon. Of whiche þe rabere I fond Ebru, not Ecclesiaſticum, as anent þe Latynes, but Parablis beform notid; to whom weren ioyned Ecclesiaſtes and þe Song of Songis; þat he shulde euene to þe licnesse of Salamon, not onli in noumble of bokis, but also in maner of mateeris. Þe secunde anent þe Ebrues is neuer no wher, for and þat maner of speche sauoureþ þe Grekis faire speche; and summe of olde writeres afermen þis boc to ben of Jew Filon. As þanne Judith, and Tobie, and þe bokis of Macabeis, redeþ hem forsoþe þe chirche, but among þe reuleer scripturis rescyeueþ not; so and þese two volumes rede he to þe edificacioun of þe puple, not to þe autorite of chirche teching to ben confermed. If to any man forsoþe more plese þe translacioun of þe feuenty remenoures, he haþ it sum time amended of vs. Ne forsoþe so newe þingis wee maken, þat olde þingis wee deftroze. And 'neuer þe latere, whan most diligentli redeþ he, wite he oure writen þingis to ben vnderstonde, þat ben not corruptid held into þe þridde vessel, but, anoon from þe preſſe most pureli þe vessel ȝeuen, han kept þeir sauour.

Here bigynneþ þe Parablis of Salomon.

Capitulum I.

- i The parablis of Salomon, sone of Dauid, king of Israel;
- ii to ben koud wifdam, and discipline; to ben vnderstonden þe woordis of prudence;
- iii and to ben vndirtake enformyng of doctrine, riȝtwynesse, and dom, and equite;
- iii þat felnesse be ȝeue to little childer, and to þe ȝunge ful waxen, kunnyng and vnderstanding.
- v Herende þe wife wisere shal ben; and vnderstondende gouernaile he shal welde.
- vi Take he heede þe parable, and þe remenyng; þe woordis of wife men, and þe derke spechis of hem.
- vii þe drede of þe Lord þe begynnynge of wifdam; wifdam and lore foolis dispisen.
- viii Here, my sone, þe discipline of þi fader, and ne leue þou þe lawe of þi modir;
- ix þat þer be added grace to þin hed, and a beȝe to þi necke.
- x My sone, if þee synneres fulfille wiþ mylc, ne assente þou to þem.
- xi If þei sey, Cum þou wiþ vs, waite wee to þe blod, hide wee grenes aȝen þe innocent in veyn;
- xii swolewe wee hym, as helle þe liuende; and hol as þe descendende in to þe lake;
- xiii alle precious substancwe shul finde, wee shul fulfillen oure housis wiþ spoilis;
- xiv lot ley wiþ vs, o bagge of monee be of vs alle;

xv mi sone, ne go þou wiþ hem; forfende þi foot fro þe sties of hem.
 xvi Forsoþe þe feet of hem to euel rennen; and heeȝen bat þei flcheden out blod.
 xvii In vein forsoþe is þrowen a net befor þe eȝen of þe feþered.
 xviii Þei also aȝen þer blod awaiten; and casten gilyȝ aȝen þer soulis.
 xix So þe papis of þe auerous man raueshen þe liues of þe welderes.
 xx Wifdam wiþoute forþ precheþ; in stretis it ȝyueþ his vois.
 xxi In þe hed of cumpanyes it ofte crięþ; in þe doris of þe ȝatis of þe cite he bringeþ forþ his woordis, seiende, xxii Hou longe, ȝee little childer, loouen childhed, and foolis þo þingus bat ben nojesum to þem shul coueiten, and vnprudent men shuln haten kunningyng?
 xxiii Be ȝee conuertid at my correccioun; lo! I shal bringe forþ to ȝou my spirit, and shewen my woordis.
 xxiv For I clepede, and ȝee forsoken; I straȝte out myn hond, and þer was not þat wolde beholden.
 xxv ȝee delpiseden al my counseil; and my blamyingis ȝee roȝten not of.
 xxvi I forsoþe in ȝoure deþ shal lawȝhe; and vndermouwe ȝou, whan to ȝou þat, þat ȝee dredden, shal come.
 xxvii Whan shal falle feerli wrecchidnesse, and deþ as tempeſt shal aȝen come; whan shal come vp on ȝou tribulacioun and anguyfh.
 xxviii Panne þei shul inwardli clepe me, and I shal not ful out heren; erly þey shuln rise togidere, and not finde me.
 xxix For þi þat hatesum þei hadden disciplyne, and þe drede of þe Lord þei vndertoken not, xxx ne affentiden to my counseil, and bacbitiden to al my correccioun.
 xxxi Þei shuln ete þerfore þe frutis of þer weie; and wiþ þer counseilis þei shul be fulſild.
 xxxii Pe turning awei of litle childer shalflen hem; and þe prosperite of foolis shal leesen hem.
 xxxiii Who forsoþe me shal heren, wiþoute ferd shal resten; and abundaunce he shal parfitli vſen, þe ferd of euelis taken awey.

Capitulum II.

i My sone, if þou vndertakeſt my woordis, and my maundementes hidist anent þee;
 ii þat þin ere here wiþdam, inwardliche bowe þin herte to ben knownen wiþdam.
 iii If forsoþe wiþdam þou shalt inwardli clepen, and inwardli bowe þin herte to prudence; iii if þou shalt fechen it as money, and as tresoris deluen it out;
 v panne þou shalt vnderſtonden þe drede of þe Lord, and þe kunningyng of God finde.

vi For þe Lord ȝyueþ wiþdam; and of þe mouþ of hym prudence and kunningyng.
 vii He shal kepen þe helþe of riȝt men, and defende þe goende symplely;
 viii wiþholdende þe papis of riȝtwisnesse, and þe weies of halewes kepende.
 ix Panne þou shalt vnderſtonde riȝtwisnesse, and dom, and equite, and eche good paþ.
 x If wiþdam shul go in to þin herte, and þe kunningyng to þi soule pleſe,
 xi counſeil shal kepe þee, and prudence shal wiþholde
 þee;
 xii bat þou be pullid out fro an euel wey, and fro a man bat spekeþ shreude þingus.
 xiii Þei þat forsaken þe riȝt going, and wenten bi derke
 weies;
 xiv þat forsoþe gladen, whan þei don euele, and ful out ioȝen in werſt pingus;
 xv of whom þe weies shreude, and yuel losid þe goingys of hem.
 xvi þat þou be take awey fro an alien womman, and fro a ſtraunge, þat ſofteþ hir woordis; xvii and forſakeþ þe ledere of hir childhed, and þe couenaunt of hir God haþ forȝete.
 xviii Forſoþe inwardly bowid is to deþ þe hous of hir, and to helle þe paþis of hir.
 xix Alle þat gon in to hir, shul not turne aȝeen, ne take þe sties of lif.
 xx þat þou go in a good weye, and þe paþis of riȝtwis men þou kepe.
 xi Who forſoþe ben riȝte, shul dwelle in þe erþe; and þe symple shul parfitli won in it.
 xxii Pe vnpitouse forſoþe fro þe erþe shul be lost; and þat wickidli don, shul be take fro it awei.

Capitulum III.

i My sone, ne forȝete þou my lawe; and þin herte kepe myn heftis.
 ii Forſoþe lengþe of daȝis, and ȝeiris of lif, and pes, þei shul ley to to þee.
 iii Mercy and treueþ forſake þei not þee; cumpase þem to þi prote, and descryue in þe tablis of þin herte. iv And þou shalt finde grace, and good discipline befor God and men.
 v Haue troſt in þe Lord, of al þin herte; and ne lene þou to þi prudence.
 vi In alle þi weies þenc hym, and he shal riȝt reulen þi
 goingis.
 vii Ne be þou wiſ anent þiſelf; dred God, and go awey fro euel.
 viii Helþe forſoþe shal ben in þi nauele, and watring of þi bones.
 ix Honoure þe Lord of þi ſubstaunce, and of þe cheef of alle þi frutis ȝif to pore men;

x and þi bernes shul ben fulfild wiþ fulnesse, and wiþ win þi presses shul rebounden.
 xi Be discipline of þe Lord, my sone, ne caste þou awey; ne faile þou, whan of hym þou art chaftisid.
 xii Whom forsoþe þe Lord looueþ, he chaftiseþ; and as fader in þe sone it wiþ pleſeþ to hym.
 xiii Blisful þe man þat findeþ wiſdam, and þat flowiþ prudence.
 xiv Betere is þe purchaſing of it, þan þe chaffering of gold and of siluer; first and most pure þe frutis of it.
 xv More precious þan alle richeſſes it is; and alle þingus þat be desirid, to it moun not be comparisound.
 xvi Lengþe of daȝis in his riȝt half, and in þe left half of it richeſſis and glorie.
 xvii Be weies of it faire, and alle þe pabis of it pesible.
 xviii Be tre of lif it is to þem þat cacchen it; and þat holden it, ben blisful.
 xix Be Lord bi wiſdam foundede þe erþe; bi prudence stablidle heuenes.
 xx Bi þe wiſdam of hym breeken out depe watriſ; and þe cloudis bi dew togidere waxen.
 xxi My sone, ne flowe þeſe þingis awei fro þin eȝe; kep þou my lawe, and counſeil;
 xxii and þere shal ben lif to þi soule, and grace to þi chekis.
 xxiii Þanne þou shalt go troſtli in þi wey; and þi foot shal not offende.
 xxiv If þou shul ſlep, þou shalt not drede; þou shalt reſten, and ſweete ſhal be þi ſlep.
 xxv Ne drede þou wiþ ſodeyn gaſtneſſe, and þe poweris of þe vnpitouſ men fallende on to þee.
 xxvi Be Lord forſoþe shal ben in þi ſide; and kepe þi foot, þat þou be not take.
 xxvii Wile þou not forſenden hym þat mai wel don; if þou maift, and þiſelf wel do.
 xxviii Ne fey þou to þi frend, Go, and turne aȝeen, to moru I ſhal ȝyue to þee; whan anoon þou maift ȝiue.
 xxix Ne caste þou to þi frend euel, whan he in þee haþ troſt.
 xxx Ne ſtrive þou aȝen a man in veyn, whan he no þing of euel haþ don to þee.
 xxxi Ne enuye þou þe vnriȝtwis man, ne foſewe þou þe weies of hym.
 xxxii For abhomynacioun of þe Lord is eche gilour; and wiþ þe ſimple þe ſermounyng of hym.
 xxxiii Nede of þe Lord in þe hous of þe vnpitouse; þe dwelling placis forſoþe of riȝtwife men shul be bleſſid.
 xxxiv He ſhal deſcyeue þe deſcyeueres; and to þe debonere he ſhal ȝyue grace.
 xxxv Glorie wife men shul welde; of foolis þe out ioȝing ſhenſhiſe.

Capitulum III.

i Here ȝee, ſones, þe discipline of þe fader; and takeþ heede, þat ȝee knownen prudence.

ii A good ȝifte I ſhal ȝyuen to ȝou; my lawe ne forſake ȝee.
 iii For and I was þe ſone of my fader, ſum what tender, and þe onli gotten beforne my moder.
 iv And he taȝte me, and ſeide, Take my woordys þin herte; kep þou myn heftis, and þou ſhalt liue.
 v Weld wiſdam, weld prudence; ne forȝete þou, ne bowe þou doun fro þe woordis of my mouþ.
 vi Ne leue þou it, and it ſhal kepe þee; looue it, and it ſhal wiþholde þee.
 vii Begynnynge of wiſdam, welde þou wiſdam; and in al þi poſſeffioun purchace prudence.
 viii Tac it, and it ſhal enhaunce þee; þou ſhalt be glorified of it, whan þou haſt clippid it.
 ix It ſhal ȝiue to þin hed encresis of gracis; and a noble crowne ſhal defende þee.
 x Here þou, my ſone, and vndertac my woordis; and be þer multrieplied to þee ȝeris of lif.
 xi Be weie of wiſdam I ſhal ſhewe to þee; and lede þee bi þe paþys of equyte.
 xii Be whiche whan þou ſhalt gon in, þi goingis shul not be ſtreitid; and rennende þou ſhalt not han letting.
 xiii Hold discipline, and ne leue þou it; kep it, for it is þi lyf.
 xiv Ne delite þou in þe pabis of vnpitouſ men; and to þee pleſe not þe weie of euele men.
 xv Flee fro it, and paſſe þou not bi it; bowe doun, and forſac it.
 xvi Forſoþe þey ſlepen not, but if þei don euele; and ſlep is not caȝt of hem, but if þei ſupplaunte.
 xvii þei eten þe bred of vnpitouſneſſe, and þe win of wickidneſſe drinken.
 xviii Forſoþe þe paþ of riȝtwiſmen as ſhynende liȝt goþ forþ, and growiþ in to a parfit day.
 xix Be weie of vnpitouſ men derk; þei witen not wher þei falle. xx My ſone, hercne my woordis; and to my ſpechis bowe in þin ere.
 xxi Ne go þei awey fro þin eȝen; kep þou hem in þe myddel of þin herte.
 xxii Forſoþe lif þei ben to þe findende hem, and of alle fleſh þe helpe.
 xxiii Wiþ alle warde kep þou þin herte, for of it lif goþ forþ.
 xxiv Remoue from þee a ſhreude mouþ; and bacbitende lippis be þei ferr fro þee.
 xxv þin eȝen ſee þei riȝte þingis; and þin eȝelidis beforgo þei þi goingis.
 xxvi Riȝt reule þe paþis to þi feet, and alle þi weies be þey ſtablid.
 xxvii Ne bowe þou doun to þe riȝt, ne to þe lift; turne awei þi foot fro euel. Forſoþe þe weies þat ben on þe riȝthalf þe Lord knewȝ; ſhreude forſoþe ben, þat of þe lift ben. He forſoþe riȝt ſhal make þi goingus; þi weies forſoþe in pes shul be broȝt forþ.

Capitulum V.

i My sone, tac heed to my wiſdam, and to my prudence bowe þou þin ere;
ii þat þou kepe þoȝtis, and discipline þi lippis wipholden. Ne wile þou not entendre to þe desceyuyng of womman;
iii forſoþe an hony comb droppende þe lippis of a ſtrumpet, and clerere þan oile þe prote of hir; iv forſoþe þe laſte of hir bitter as wormod, and þe tunge of hir ſharp as a twei bitende ſwerd.
v Þe feet of hir gon doun in to deþ; and to helle þe goingis of hir perſen.
vi Bi þe paþ of lif þei gon not; vagaunt ben þe goingus of hir, and vnſerchable.
vii Now þanne, my sone, here þou me, and ne go þou awei fro þe woordis of my mouþ.
viii Aferr mac fro hir þi weie, and ne neȝhe þou to þe doris of hir hous.
ix Ne ȝyue þou to alienes þi wrſhipe, and þi ȝeris to þe cruel;
x leſt perauenture be fulſild ſtraungeres wiþ þi ſtrengþis, and þi traualis ben in an alienē hous;
xi and þou weile in þi laſte, whan þou haſt waſtid þi fleſh, and þi bodi;
xii and ſey, Whi wariede I discipline, and to fnybbingis aſſentede not myn herte; xiii ne I herde þe vois of men techende me, and to maifris I bowide not myn ere?
xiv Neȝh I was in alle euel, in þe myddel of þe chirche, and of þe synagogē.
xv Drink watir of þi cifterne, and þe flowingus of þi pyt.
xvi Ben lad out þi wellis wiþoute forþ; and in ſtretis þi watir deuyde þou.
xvii Haue þou hem alone; and be not alienes þi parceneres.
xviii Be þi veyne bliſſid; and glade þou wiþ þe womman of þi ful waxende ȝouþe.
xix A moſt cheere hynde; and a moſt kindeli hert calf.
Þe tetis of hir inwardli make þee drunke alle time; and in þe looue of hire delite þou biſili.
xx Whi art þou broȝt doun, sone myn, of an alien womman; and art fed in þe bosum of an obere?
xxi Þe Lord lokeþ þe weie of a man; and alle þe goingis of hym beholdiþ.
xxii His wickenesses taken þe vnpitouse; and wiþ þe cordis of his synnes he is togidere ſtreynd.
xxiii He ſhal dien, for he hadde not discipline; and in þe multitude of his folie he ſhal ben begylyd.

Capitulum VI.

i My sone, if þou become borȝ for þi frend; þou haſt piȝt doun anent a ſtraunger þin hond.
ii þou art gnarid wiþ þe woordis of þi mouþ; and taken wiþ þi proper woordis.

iii Do þanne, my sone, þat I ſeie, and deliuere þi ſelf; for þou haſt fallen in to þe hond of þi neȝheboře. Ren hider and þider, heeȝe, rere vp þi frend; iv ne ȝiue þou ſlep to þin eȝen, and nappe not þin eȝelidis.
v Be þou pullid out as a foun fro þe hond; and as a brid fro þe ſpies of þe foulere.
vi Go to þe anpte, O! þou flowe; and behold þe weies of it, and lerne wiſdam.
vii Þe whiche, whan it haþ no ledere, ne comaundere, ne prince;
viii it greiþeþ in þe ſomer mete to hymſelf, and gedereþ togidere in time of rip, þat it ete.
ix Hou longe, þou flowe, ſhalt þou ſlep? whanne ſhalt þou rife fro þi ſlep?
x A litil while þou ſhalt ſlep, a litil while þou ſhalt nappe; a litil while þou ſhalt leyn togidere þin hondis, bat þou ſlep.
xi And þer ſhal come to þee as a weie goere, nede; and porenſſe, as a man armed. If forſoþe vnfloȝ þou ſhul be, ſhal come as a welle þi rip; and nede ferr ſhal flee fro þee.
xii A man apostata, a man ful of ſtrengþe vnprefitable, goþ wiþ peruertid mouþ;
xiii he twincleþ wiþ þe eȝen, he trampliþ wiþ þe foot, wiþ þe fingir he ſpekeþ, xiv wiþ ſhreude herte he caſtiþ euel; and alle times ſtriuſe he ſowiþ.
xv To þis anoon ſhal come his perdiſiouñ, and ſodeynli he ſhall be to-treden; and he ſhal han no mor medecyn.
xvi Sixe þingis ben, þat þe Lord hateþ; and þe feuenþe þe lif of hym warieþ.
xvii Heȝe eȝen, a tunge liere, hondis ſhedende out þe innocent blod, xviii þe herte caſtende moſt euel þoȝtis, þe ſwifte feet to rennen in to euel,
xix þe bringende forþ leſingis, þe desceyuable witneſſe;
and hym þat ſowiþ among breþer diſcordis.
xx Wiþhold, my sone, þe heftis of þi fader; and ne leue þou þe lawe of þi moder.
xi Bind hem biſili in þin herte; and enuyroune to þi prote.
xii Whan þou ſhalt go, go þei wiþ þee; whan þou ſhalt ſlep, kepe þei þee; and wakende ſpeke þou wiþ hem.
xiii For þe maundement is a lanterne, and þe lawe liȝt, and þe weie of lif þe fnybbing of discipline;
xiv þat þei kepe þee fro an euel womman, and fro þe flaterende tunge of þe ſtraunge womman.
xv Coueite not þin herte þe fairneſſe of hir; ne be þou take wiþ þe beckis of hir.
xvi Þe price forſoþe of þe ſtrumpet vneþe is of o lof, þe womman forſoþe takeþ þe precious lif of a man.
xvii Wheþer mai a man hide fir in his bosum, þat his cloþis brenne not;
xviii or gon vpon colis, and his folis ben not brent?

xxix So he þat goþ in to þe womman of his neȝhebore; fhal not ben clene, whan he touchiþ hir.
 xxx Not gret is þe blame, whan a man steliþ; forsoþe he steleþ, þat he fulfille þe hungrende soule.
 xxxi Caȝt þerewiþ forsoþe he shal ȝelde þe feuene fold; and al þe substaunce of his hous he shal take, and deliueren hymself.
 xxxii Who forsoþe is auoutrer; for miseise of herte he shal leſen his soule.
 xxxiii Filþe and ſhenſhepe he gedereþ to hymſelf; and þe repreſ of hym shal not ben don awei.
 xxxiv For þe ielousneſſe and þe wodneſſe of þe man shal not ſparen in þe dai of veniaunce, xxxv ne aſſente to þe prezeeriſ of any man; and he shal not take for þe aȝeen biȝing manye ȝiftis.

Capitulum VII.

i My ſone, kep þou my woordis; and myne heftis ley vp to þee. Sone, honoure þou þe Lord, and þou ſhalt fare wel; biſide hym forſoþe þou ſhalt not dreden an oþer.
 ii Kep my maundemens, and þou ſhalt liue; and my lawe as þe appil of þin eȝe.
 iii Bind it in þi fingris; wryt it in þe tablis of þin herte.
 iv Sey to wiſdam, My ſiſter þou art; and prudence clep þou þi lemmam.
 v Pat it kepe þee fro a ſtraunge womman; and fro an alien, þat hir woordis makeþ ſweete.
 vi Fro þe windowe forſoþe of myn hous bi þe latys I beheeld þe ȝunge man; and I ſee little childer.
 vii I beholde þe fori hertid ȝunge man, viii þat paſſeþ þurȝ þe ſtreſtiſ, biſide þe corner; and neȝ þe weie of þat hous goþ in derc, ix þe dai waxende to euen, in þe nyȝtiſ dercneſſis and myſtyneſſe.
 x And lo! a womman aȝen cam to hym, wiþ ſtrumpet aray befor maad redi to þe foulis to be deſceyued, xi a chatere, and vagauant of reſte, vnpacient, ne mowende in þe hous abide ſtille wiþ hir feet;
 xii now wiþoute forþ, now in þe ſtreſtyſ, now beſide þe corneres aſpiende.
 xiii And þe caȝte ȝunge man ſhe kiſſeþ; and wiþ wowende chere ſhe flatereþ, ſeiende, xiv Sacrifiſes of victorie for helþe I haue gretli vouwid; to dai I haue ȝolde my vrouwiſ.
 xv Perfore I wenete out in to þin aȝen comyng, deſirende þee to ſeen; and I haue founde.
 xvi I haue arajid wiþ cordis my litil bed, and ſpred wiþ peintid tapitiſ of Egipt;
 xvii I ha ſprengd my ligging place wiþ myrre, and aloes, and canell.
 xviii Cum, and be wee inwardli drunke wiþ tetes, and vſe wee þe coueitid clippingiſ; to þe time þat þe dai waxe liȝt.
 xix Þere is not a man in hir hous; he ȝide awei þe moſt ferr weie.

xx Pe bagge of his monee he toc wiþ hym; in þe dai of þe fulle moone he is to turne aȝeen in to his hous.
 xxi She grenede hym wiþ manye woordis; and wiþ flatering of lippis ſhe fordroȝ hym.
 xxii Anoon he folewıþ hir, as an oxe lad to þe ſacrifice of victorie; and as a lomb pleiende and vñknowende, þat to bondis þe fool is drawe, xxiii to þe time þat þe arwe þirle þurȝ his mawe. As if a brid heeȝe to þe grene; and wot not, þat of þe perile of his lif me purpoſeþ.
 xxiv Now þanne, ſone myn, here þou me; and tac tente to þe woordis of my mouþ.
 xxv Ne be drawen awei in þe weies of hir þi mynde; ne be þou bigilid in þe ſties of hir.
 xxvi Manye forſoþe woundid ſhe þrew doun; and alle þe ſtrongeſte ben flain of hir.
 xxvii þe weies of helle þe housis of hir; persende in to þe innermor þingus of deþ.

Capitulum VIII.

i Wheþer not wiſdam ofte criþ; and prudence ȝiueþ his vois?
 ii In þe heȝest and heȝe frountis, aboue þe weie, in þe myddel paþis, iii ſtondende biſide þe ȝate of þe cite; in þo ȝate doris it ſpekeþ, iv ſeiende, O! men, to ȝou I ofte crie; and my vois to þe ſones of men.
 v Vnderſtondeþ, ȝee little childer, witneſſe; and, ȝee vñwife men, takeþ heed.
 vi Hereþ, for of grete þingis I am to ſpeke; and my lippis ſhul ben opened, þat euene þingus þei preche.
 vii Treuþe my þrote ſhal ſweteli beþenke; and my lippis ſhul wlate þe vnpitouſe.
 viii Riȝtwiſe ben alle my ſermownes; þer is not in hem any þing ſhreude, ne peruertid.
 ix Riȝte þei ben to vnderſtondeſte men; and euene to men fiindende kunningyng.
 x Takeþ my diſcipline, and not money; doctrine mor þan treſor cheſeþ.
 xi Betere is wiſdam þan alle þe moſt preciouſ richelis; and al deſirable þing to it mai not be comparisound.
 xii I, wiſdam, dwelle in counſel; and am among to lerned þoȝtiſ.
 xiii þe drede of þe Lord hateþ euel; enhauncing, and pride, and þe ſhreude weie, and þe mouþ of þe twiſil tunge I wlate.
 xiv Myn is counſel, and equite; myn is prudence, myn is and ſtrengþe.
 xv By me kingus regnen; and makeris of lawis riȝte þingus demen.
 xvi Bi me princis comaunden; and myȝti men deme riȝtwiſneſſe.
 xvii I men loouende me looue; and þat erli waken at me, ſhul finde me.

xviii Wiþ me ben richeffis, and glorie; and proud plenteoufnessis, and riȝtwisnesse.
 xix Betere is my frut þan gold, and þan precious ston;
 and my buriounyngis þan chosen siluer.
 xx In þe weies of riȝtwisnesse I go, in þe myddel of papis of dom;
 xxi þat I make riche men loouende me, and fulfille þe tresores of hem.
 xxii Þe Lord weldide me in þe begynnyng of his weies;
 er any þing shulde be maad, of þe firste cause. xxiii Of þe euere lastende I am ordeyned; and of þe olde, er þe erþe shulde be maad.
 xxiv Not ȝit weren þe depþis of watir; and I now was conceyued. And not ȝit þe wellis of watriss hadden broken out,
 xxv ne ȝit þe mounteynes in heuy mykilness hadden ben maad; er þe hillis I was born.
 xxvi ȝit þe erþe he hadde not maad; and flodis, and þe utmost poyntys of þe roundnesse of þe erþe.
 xxvii Whan he greipede heuenes, I was þereat; whan in certein lawe and cumpas he closide þe depnnesse of watriss.
 xxviii Whan þe eir he fastnede aboue; and weȝede þe wellis of watriss.
 xxix Whan he cumpasid to þe se his terme; and lawe putte to watriss, þat þei passe not þere coostis. Whan he heeng vp þe foundemens of þe erþe; xxx wiþ hym I was, alle þingis puttende togidere. And I delitede bi alle dæs, beforn hym alle time, xxxi pleiende in to þe roundnesse of erþis; and my delicis to be wiþ þe lones of men.
 xxxii Now þanne, lones, hereþ me; blisful þat kepen my weies.
 xxxiii Hereþ discipline, and beþ wife men; and wileþ not casten it awei.
 xxxiv Blisful þe man þat hereþ me, and þat wakeþ at my ȝate dores al dai; and þat waitiþ at þe postis of my dore.
 xxxv Who me shal finde, shal finde lif; and drawen helpe of þe Lord.
 xxxvi Who forsoþe in me shal synnen, shal hurten his soule; alle þat hateden me, loouen deþ.

Capitulum IX.

i Wifdam bilde out to hym an hous; heew out seuen pileris,
 ii offride his sacrificises of victorie, mengde win, and sette forþ his bord.
 iii He sente his hand wymmen, þat þei shulde clepe to be heiȝte; and to þe wallis of þe cite.
 iv If any is a litil child; come he to me. And to vnwise men he spac,
 v Comeþ, etiþ my bred; and drinkeþ win, þat I mengde to ȝou.

vi Forsakeþ childhed, and liueþ; and goþ bi þe weies of prudence.
 vii Who lerneþ a scornere, doþ wrong he to hymself;
 and who vndernemeþ þe vnpitous, to hymself a wem gendriþ.
 viii Wile þou not vndernyme þe scornere; leſt he shul hate þee. Vndirnym þe wife man; and he shal looue þee.
 ix ȝif to þe wife man ocaſion; and þer shal ben addid to hym wiſdam. Tech þe riȝtwis man; and he shall heeȝe to take.
 x ȝe begynnyng of wiſdam þe drede of þe Lord; and þe kunnynge of halewis prudence.
 xi Forsoþe bi me shul be multiplied þi dæs; and ben added to þee þe ȝerys of lif.
 xii If a wis man þou shul be; to þiself þou shalt be, and to þi neȝheboris. If forsoþe a gilere; alone þou shalt bern euel.
 xiii A fool womman, and crious, and ful of euele draȝtis to delicis, and no þing outerli kunnende, xiv sat in þe ȝate doris of hir hous, vpon a fete, in þe heeȝe place of þe cite;
 xv þat she myȝte clepe men passende bi þe weie, and men goende in þer gate.
 xvi Who is a litil child; bowe he doun to me. And to þe sory hertid she spac,
 xvii Stoln watriss ben swettere, and hid bred more swete.
 xviii And he knew not þat þere ben ȝeauntis; and in þe depþis of helle þe gestis of hir. Who forsoþe shal be ioyned to hir; shal falle doun in to helle. For whi he þat goþ awey from hir; shal be faued.

Capitulum X.

i A wys fone gladeþ þe fader; forsoþe a fone fool, þe forewe is of his modir.
 ii No þing shal profiten þe tresores of vnpitousnesse;
 riȝtwisnesse forsoþe shal deliuere fro deþ.
 iii ȝe Lord shal not tormente þurȝ hungr þe soule of þe riȝtwise; and þe spies of þe vnpitous men he shal turn vpso doun.
 iv Nedynesse wercheþ þe flowe hond; þe hond forsoþe of stronge men greipeþ richeffis. Who forsoþe vseþ lesingis, þis fedeþ windis; þe fame foleweþ fleende briddes.
 v Who gedereþ in rep, is a wis fone; who forsoþe routeþ in somer, is þe fone of confusioun.
 vi ȝe blissing of God vpon þe hed of þe riȝtwis; þe mouȝ forsoþe of vnpitous men wickidnesse couereþ.
 vii ȝe mynde of þe riȝtwise wiþ preisingis; and þe name of vnpitous men shal waxe stinkinge.
 viii ȝe wise man in herte shal kepen þe heftis; þe fool is beten wiþ lippis.
 ix Who goþ simbleli, goþ troftli; who forsoþe beshrewiþ his weies, shal be maad opene.

x Who twinclib wiþ eȝe, shal ȝiue forewe; þe fool wiþ lippis shal be bete.
 xi Þe veyne of lif þe mouþ of þe riȝtwis; þe mouþ forsoþe of vnpitous men couereþ wickidnesse.
 xii Hate rereþ striues; and alle giltis charite couereþ.
 xiii In þe lippis of þe wis man is founde wiðam; and a ȝerde in þe rigge of hym þat is ned in herte.
 xiv Wise men hidin kunnyng; þe mouþ forsoþe of þe fool is next to confusiouñ.
 xv Þe substaunce of þe riche man þe cite of his strengþe; þe ferd of pore men þe nedynesse of hem.
 xvi Þe werec of þe riȝtwis man to lif; þe frut forsoþe of þe vnpitous to synne.
 xvii Þe weie of lif to þe kepende discipline; who forsoþe vnderemyngis forfakeþ, erreþ.
 xviii Liende lippis hidin hate; who spekeþ wrongful blamyng, is an vnwis man.
 xix In myche speche shal not lacke synne; who forsoþe temperþ his lippis, is most prudent.
 xx Chosen siluer þe tunge of þe riȝtwis; þe herte of vnpitous men for noȝt.
 xxi Þe lippis of þe riȝtwis techen manye; who forsoþe ben vntaȝt, in þe nedynesse of herte shul die.
 xxii Þe blesſing of þe Lord makeþ riche men; ne shal be felashipid to þem tormenting.
 xxiii As by laȝhing þe fool werchib hidous trespass; wiðam forsoþe is to a man purueing.
 xxiv Pat þat þe vnpitouse dredeþ, shal come vpon hym; þer desir to riȝtwis men shal be ȝiue.
 xxv As tempeſt passende, shal be þe vnpitouse; þe riȝtwis forsoþe as euere durende ground.
 xxvi As eisel to teeþ, and smoke to eȝen; so þe flowe to hem þat senten hym in þe weie.
 xxvii Þe drede of þe Lord leiþ to daȝes; and þe ȝeris of vnpitous men shul be shortid.
 xxviii Þe bidding of riȝtwismen gladnesse; þe hope forsoþe of vnpitous men shal perſhen.
 xxix Þe strengþe of þe simple þe weie of þe Lord; and ferd to þem þat werken euel.
 xxx Þe riȝtwis into wiþoute ende shal not be moued; vnpitouse forsoþe shul not dwelle vp on erþe.
 xxxi Þe mouþ of þe riȝtwis shal bere wiðam; þe tunge of shrewis shal perſhen.
 xxxii Þe lippis of þe riȝtwis beholden plesid þingis; and þe mouþ of vnpitouse peruerid þingis.

Capitulum XI.

i A treccherous weȝe abominacioun is anent God; and an euen weiȝt þe wil of hym.
 ii Wher shal be pride, þere shal be wrongful blamyng; wher forsoþe is mecnesse, and þere wiðam.
 iii Simplenesse of riȝtwis men shal riȝt reule þem; and supplaunting of peruerid men shal waste þem.
 iv Richessis shul not profiten in þe day of veniaunce; forsoþe riȝtwisnesse shal deliuere fro deþ.

v Riȝtwisnesse of þe simple shal riȝt reulen his weie; and þe vnpitous in his vnpitousnesse shal falie.
 vi Þe riȝtwisnesse of riȝt men shal deliuere þem; and wicke men in þer aspies shul be take.
 vii Þe vnpitous man dead, noon hope shal ben ouer; and þe abiding of bisy men shal perſhe.
 viii Þe riȝtwis fro anguysh is deliuered; and shal be take þe vnpitous for hym.
 ix Þe feynere in mouþ defceyueþ his frend; riȝtwis men forsoþe shul ben deliuered wiþ kunnyng.
 x In goodis of riȝtwis men shal ben enhauncid þe cite; and in þe leefing of vnpitous men shal ben preisung.
 xi Ƿurȝ þe blesſing of riȝtwis men shal ben enhauncid þe cite; and bi þe mouþ of vnpitous men it shal be turned vp so doun.
 xii Who defceyueþ his frend, is ned in herte; þe prudent man forsoþe shal be stille.
 xiii Who goþ gilendeli, shewiþ priue þingus; who forsoþe is feiþful, hilip þe gilte of þe frend.
 xiv Wher is not a gouernour, þe puple falliþ; helþe forsoþe, wher ben manye counselfis.
 xv He shal be tormentid wiþ euel, þat doþ feiþ for a stranger; who forsoþe shoneþ grenes, shal be sikir.
 xvi A gracious womman shal finden glorie; and stronge men shuln han richessis.
 xvii Wel doþ to his soule þe merciful man; who forsoþe is cruel, casteþ awei neeȝh men.
 xviii Þe vnpitouse makeþ werec vnstable; to þe sowende forsoþe riȝtwisnesse feiþfull mede.
 xix Noble mercy shal greiþe lif; and folowing of euelis deb.
 xx Abhominable a shreude herte to þe Lord; and his wil in hem, þat simply gon.
 xxi Hond in hond, shal not ben innocent þe euele man; þe sed forsoþe of riȝtwis men shal be faued.
 xxii A goldene cercle in þe nosepirlis of a souwe, a fair womman and a fool.
 xxiii Þe desir of riȝtwis men alle good þing is; þe abiding of vnpitous men wodnessse.
 xxiv Opere men deuyden proper þingus, and ben maad richere; opere reuen not þeir owne, and euermor ben in nedynesse.
 xxv Þe lif þat bliſſeþ, shal ben inwardli fattid; and he þat makeþ inwardli drunken, also hymself shal ben inwardli maad drunken.
 xxvi He þat hideþ whete in time, shal be curſid in puplis; blesſing forsoþe vp on þe hed of filleris.
 xxvii Wel riseþ erli, þat secheþ goodis; who forsoþe is enferchere of euelis, of hem shal be opprefſid.
 xxviii Who troſteþ in his richessis, shal falie; riȝtwis men forsoþe as a greene lef shul burioune.
 xxix Who diſturbib his hous, shal han windis; and he þat is a fool, shal feruen to þe wiſe man.
 xxx Þe frut of þe riȝtwis þe tree of lif; and he þat vndertakeþ soulis, is a wiſ man.

xxxi If þe riȝtwise in þe erþe refcyeueþ, myche more þe vnpitous, and þe synnere.

Capitulum XII.

- i Who looueþ discipline, looueþ kunnynge; who forsoþe hateþ blamylngus, is vnwis.
ii Who forsoþe is good, shal drawe to hym grace of þe Lord; who forsoþe troſtþ in his þoȝtis, vnpitously doþ.
iii A man shal not be strengþid of vnpitousnesse; and þe roote of riȝtwis men shal not ben al moued.
iv A bisi womman a croune is to hir man; and stinc in þe bones of hir, þat berþ þingus wrþi confusioñ.
v Þe þoȝtis of riȝtwis men domes; and counseilis of vnpitous men gilesum.
vi Þe woordis of vnpitous men spien to blod; þe mouþ of riȝtwis men shal deliuere þem.
vii Turne vnpitous men, and þei shul not be; þe houſis forsoþe of riȝtwis men shal abide stille.
viii Bi his doctrine shal be knownen a man; who forsoþe is veyn and herteles, shal ben open to delpisíng.
ix Betere is a pore man, and suffisaunt to hymself, þan a glorious, and nedi bred.
x Þe riȝtwis knewȝ þe liues of his helpeli bestis; þe bowelis forsoþe of vnpitous men cruel.
xi Who werkeþ his lond, shal be fulſild wiþ loues; who forsoþe folewiþ idel reſte, moſt fool is. Who is sweete, liueþ in tempringis; in his moneſtingis he forſakeþ wrongfull blamylngis.
xii Þe defir of þe vnpitous is þe myndful place of werſt þingis; þe roote forsoþe of riȝtwis men shal profiten.
xiii For þe synnes of lippis falling neȝheþ to þe euel man; forsoþe þe riȝtwis man shal fleen out of anguysh.
xiv Of þe frut of his mouþ eche shal be fulſild of goodis; and after þe werkis of his hondis it shal be ȝolde to hym.
xv Pe weie of þe fool riȝt in þe eȝen of hym; who forsoþe is a wis man, hereþ counseilis.
xvi Pe fool shewiþ anoon his wraþe; who forsoþe diffymuliþ wrongus, is fel.
xvii Who þat he knewȝ, spekeþ, domes man of riȝtwisnesse is; who forsoþe lieþ, is a gileful witnesse.
xviii Per is þat behoteþ, and as wiþ a fwerd is pungid to þe conscience; þe tunge forsoþe of wise men is helpe.
xix Pe lippe of truþe shal be fast in to wiþoute ende; who forsoþe is a feerli witnesse, makeþ a tunge of leſing. xx Treccherie in þe herte of men þenkende euelys; who forsoþe gon in to þe counseilis of pes, hem folewiþ ioȝe.
xxi Shal not holli forewen þe riȝtwis man, what euere þing shal falle to hym; vnpitous men forsoþe shul be fulſild of euel.
xxii Abomynacioun is to þe Lord liende lippis; who forsoþe feiþfulli don, plesen to hym.

xxiii A man turned to deceit, hiliþ kunnynge; þe herte of vnwise men stireþ to folie.

xxiv þe hond of stronge men shal lordshepen; þe whiche forsoþe is floȝ, shal serue to tributis.

xxv Mornyng in þe herte of þe riȝtwis man shal meken hym; and wiþ a good woord he shal 'be maad glad.

xxvi Who dispisþ harm for a frend, is riȝtwis; þe weie forsoþe of vnpitous men shal descyeue þem.

xxvii Pe gileful man shal not finde wynnyng; and þe substance of a man shal be þe pris of gold.

xxviii In þe paþ of riȝtwisnesse lif; þe going out wei forsoþe ledeþ to deþ.

Capitulum XIII.

- i The wife sone þe doctrine of þe fader; who forsoþe is a gilere, hereþ not, whan he is vndernomyn.
ii Of þe frut of his mouþ a man shal be fild wiþ goodis; þe soule forsoþe of 'þe lawe brekeris wicke.
iii Who keþeþ his mouþ, keþeþ his soule; who forsoþe is vnausid to speken, shal felen euelis.
iv Pe flowe wile, and wile not; þe soule forsoþe of werkende men shal ben inwardliche fattid.
v A leſing woord þe riȝtwis man shal wlaten; þe vnpitous man forsoþe shendeh, and shal be shent.
vi Riȝtwisnesse keþeþ þe weie of þe innocent; vnpitousnesse forsoþe supplauntiþ þe synnere.
vii Per is as a riche man, whan no þing he haþ; and þer is as a pore man, whan in many richeſſes he is.
viii Pe aȝeen biyng of þe soule of a man his richeſſis; who forsoþe is a pore man, blamylng suffreþ not.
ix Pe liȝt of riȝtwis men makeþ glad; þe lanterne forsoþe of vnpitous men shal ben quenchid.
x Among proude men euermor ben striues; who forsoþe alle þingis don wiþ counseil, ben gouerned wiþ wiſdam.
xi Substaunce haſtid shal be laſtid; þat forsoþe litilmele is gedered, wiþ hond shal be multeplied.
xii Hope þat is deferrid, tormenteþ þe soule; þe tree of lif defir comyng.
xiii Who bacbiteþ to any þing, he oblisheþ hymself in to þe time to come; who forsoþe dredetþ þe heste, in pes shal wone.
xiv Pe lawe of a wis man þe welle of lif; þat he bowe awai fro þe falling of deþ.
xv Good doctrine shal ȝyue grace; in þe weye of dispiseris a fwowlwȝ.
xvi A witti man alle þingis doþ wiþ counseil; who forsoþe is a fool, shall opene folie.
xvii Pe messager of þe vnpitous shal falle in to euel; þe feiþful fent is helþe.
xviii Nedynesse and shenshiþe to hym þat forſakeþ discipline; who forsoþe affenteþ to þe vndernymere, shal ben glorified.
xix Defir, if it be fulſild, delitiþ þe soule; foolis wlaten hem þatflen euelis.

- xx Who wiþ wife goþ, a wis man shal ben; þe frend of folis lic shal be maad.
- xi Synneres euel pursueþ; and to riȝtwis men goode bingis shul be ȝolde.
- xii A good man leueþ eiris sones, and sony sones; and is kept to þe riȝtwis þe substaunce of þe synnere.
- xiii Manye metis in þe newid feedlis of fadris; and to ȝopere men þei ben gedered wiþoute dom.
- xiv Who spareþ to be ȝerde, hatiþ his sone; who forsoþe louueþ hym, bisili techeþ.
- xv Þe riȝtwis eteþ, and fulfilliþ his soule; þe wombe forsoþe of vnpitous vnfilable.

Capitulum XIII.

- i The wife woman bildeþ vp hir hous; þe vnwise þe maad out forsoþe wiþ hondis shal defroȝe.
- ii Þe goende in riȝt weie, and dredende God, is dispisid of hym, þat goþ in þe euel losid weie.
- iii In þe mouþ of þe fool a ȝerde of pride; þe lippis of wife men kepen hem.
- iv Wher ben not oxen, þe cracche is voide; wher forsoþe aperen many tilpis, þere is open maad þe strengþe of þe oxe.
- v A feiþful witnesse shal not lien; þe trecherous witnesse spekeþ lesing.
- vi Þe scornere sekeþ wifdam, and findeþ not; þe doctrine of prudent men liȝt.
- vii Go aȝen þe fol; and he shal not knowe þe lippis of prudence.
- viii Þe wifdam of þe witti man is to vnderstonde his weie; and þe vnprudence of foolis erring.
- ix Þe fool scorneþ synne; among riȝtwis men grace shal wone.
- x Þe herte þat knew þe bitternesse of his soule; in ioȝe to hym shal not be togidere mengd a straunger.
- xi Þe hous of vnpitous men shal be don awei; þe tabernaclis of riȝtwis men shal burioune.
- xii Þer is forsoþe a weie, þat femeþ to a man riȝtwis; þe laste þingus forsoþe of it bringen doun to deþ.
- xiii Lawȝing wiþ forewe shal be mengd; and þe endis of ioȝe weiling ocupieþ.
- xiv Wiþ his weies shal be fulfilt þe fol; and aboue hym shal be a good man.
- xv Þe innocent trowiþ to eche woord; þe witti beholdeþ his goingis.
- xvi Þe wise man dredeþ, and bowiþ doun fro euel; þe fol ouerlepeþ, and trosteþ.
- xvii Þe vnpatient shal werche folie; and þe desseyuable man is hateful.
- xviii Little childer shul welde folie; and witti men shul abide kunnyng.
- xix Euel men shul lyn befor good men; and vnpitous men befor þe ȝatis of riȝtwis men.
- xx Also to his neȝhebore þe pore man hateful shal be; þe frendis forsoþe of riche men manye.

- xi Who despisiþ his neȝhebore, synneþ; who forsoþe doþ merci to þe pore man, shal be blisful. Who leeueþ in þe Lord, looueþ merci;
- xii þei erren, þat werchen euel. Mercy and treuþe greiþen goodis;
- xiii in alle good were plente shal be. Wher forsoþe ben manye woordis, þere nedynesse ofte.
- xiv þe croune of wife men þe richesses of hem; þe folie of foolis vnprudence.
- xv A feiþful witnesse deliuereþ soulis; and spekeþ lesingus þe peruertid.
- xvi In þe drede of þe Lord trost of strengþe; and to þe sones of hym shal ben hope.
- xvii Þe drede of þe Lord þe welle of lif; þat he bowe doun fro falling of deþ.
- xviii In þe multitude of purle þe dignete of þe king; and in fewenesse of folc þe shenshipe of þe prince.
- xix Who is pacient, is gouerned wiþ myche wifdam; who forsoþe is vnpacient, enhaunceþ hys folie.
- xx Þe lif of flesh helpe of herte; þe stink of bones enuye.
- xxi Who wrongfulli chalengeþ þe ned, mysseþ to his makere; he honoureþ hym forsoþe, þat haþ reupe of þe pore.
- xxii In hys malice is put out þe vnpitous; þe riȝtwis forsoþe hopeþ in his deþ.
- xxiii In þe herte of þe prudent man shal reste wifdam; and vntaȝt men also it shal lerne.
- xxiv Riȝtwisnesse rereþ vp folc; wreccheful makeþ puplis synne.
- xxv Alowid is to þe king an vnderstonde feruaunt; þe plente of his wraþe þe vnpfiftable shal suffre.

Capitulum XV.

- i A nesshe answere brekeþ wraþe; an hard woord rereþ woodnesse.
- ii Þe tunge of wise men enhourneþ kunnyng; þe mouþ of foolis boilip out folie.
- iii In alle place þe eȝen of þe Lord beholden goode men, and euele.
- iv A plesable tunge þe tree of lif; whiche forsoþe is vntemprid, shal defoule þe spirit.
- v Þe fol scorneþ þe discipline of his fader; who forsoþe kepiþ blamyingis, shal be more witti. In plenteeuous riȝtwisnesse is most vertue; þoȝtys forsoþe of vnpitous men shul be pullid out bi þe roote.
- vi Þe hous of þe riȝtwise myche strengþe; and in þe frutis of vnpitous al disturbance.
- vii Þe lippis of wise men shul sownen abrod kunnyng; þe herte of foolis vnlic shal ben.
- viii Þe sacrifice of victorie of vnpitous men wlatesum to þe Lord; þe vowis of riȝtwys men plesable.
- ix Abominacioun is to þe Lord þe lif of þe vnpitous; who foletwiþ riȝtwisnesse, shal be looued of hym.

- x Euel doctrine to þe forfakende þe weie of lif; who blamyngis hateþ, shal dien.
- xi Helle and perdioun befor þe Lord; myche more þe hertis of þe sonus of men.
- xii þe bacbitere looueþ not hym þat chaftiseþ hym; ne to wife men goþ.
- xiii þe ioȝende herte makeþ out gladsum þe face; in mornynge of inwit shal be þrowe doun þe spirit.
- xiv þe herte of þe wife man shal leche doctrine; and þe mouþ of foolis is fed wiþ vnwisdom.
- xv Alle þe daȝis of þe pore euele; a sikir mynde as a contynuel feste.
- xvi Betere is a litil wiþ þe drede of þe Lord, þan grete tresoris and vnfillaþ.
- xvii Betere is to be clepid to wrtis wiþ charite, þan to a fat calf wiþ hate.
- xviii A man ful of wraþe stiriþ striues; who is pacient, swageþ þe vprered.
- xix þe weie of flowe men as heggis of þornes; þe weie of riȝtwis men wiþoute þing of hurting.
- xx A wis sone makeþ glad þe fader; and a fool man despiseþ his moder.
- xxi Folie is ioȝe to þe fool; and a prudent man shal riȝt reulen his goingus.
- xxii þoȝtis ben to-scatered, wher is not counseil; wher forsoþe ben manye counseileris, þei ben conserued.
- xxiii A man gladeþ in þe sentence of his mouþ; and þe spedful sermoun is best.
- xxiv þe paþ of lif vp on þe taȝt man; þat he bowe doun fro þe last helle.
- xxv þe hous of proude men þe Lord shal destroȝe; and stedefast he shal make þe termes of þe widewe.
- xxvi Abominacioun of þe Lord euele þoȝtis; a pure sermoun most fair shal be fastned of hym.
- xxvii He al disturbis his hous, þat folewiþ auarice; who forsoþe hatiþ ȝiftis, shal liue. Bi merci and feiþ ben purgyd synnes; bi þe drede forsoþe of þe Lord bowiþ doun eche man fro euel.
- xxviii þe mynde of þe riȝtwis sweteli þenkeþ wiðam; þe mouþ of vnpitouſ men reboundeþ to euelis.
- xxix Ferr is þe Lord fro vnpitous men; and þe orisouns of riȝtwis men he shal ful out heren.
- xxx þe liȝt of eȝen makeþ glad þe soule; good los inwardli fattis bones.
- xxxi þe ere þat hereþ blamyngus of lif, in þe myddel of wife men shal al abide.
- xxxii Who casteþ awei discipline, despiseþ his soule; who forsoþe affenteþ to vndirnymyngis, weldere is of herte.
- xxxiii þe drede of þe Lord discipline of wiðam; and mecnesse goþ befor glorie.
- ii Alle þe weies of man ben opene to þe eȝen of hym; of spiritis þe peisere is þe Lord.
- iii Shewe to þe Lord bi werkis; and riȝt reulid shul ben bi þoȝtis.
- iv Alle þingus for hymself wroȝte þe Lord; also þe vnpitouse to þe euele dai.
- v Abominacioun is of þe Lord eche proud man; also if hond at hond were, he `shal not be innocent. Þe begynnyng of þe good wey to do riȝtwisness; is alouwid anent God, more þan to offre ostis.
- vi Bi merci and treube wickidness is forboȝt; and in drede of þe Lord is bowid awei fro euel.
- vii Whan shul plese to þe Lord þe weies of man, þe enemys forsoþe of hym he shal turne to pes.
- viii Betere is a litil wiþ riȝtwisness, þan manye frutis wiþ wickidness.
- ix þe herte of man shal dispisen his weie; but of þe Lord is to riȝt reulen his goingis.
- x Deuynyng in þe lippis of þe king; in dom his mouþ shal not erre.
- xi Weiȝte and balaunce ben þe domes of þe Lord; and his werkis alle þe stones of þe world.
- xii Abominable to þe king, þat don vnpitously; for bi riȝtwisness is fastned þe kingis dignete.
- xiii þe wil of þe king riȝtwis lippis; þat riȝt þingus spekeþ, shal be riȝt reulid.
- xiv þe indignacioun of þe king messengeres of deþ; and a wis man shal don aseep to hym.
- xv In gladnesse of þe chere of þe king lif; and þe noble mercy of hym as euetid weder.
- xvi Weld wiðam, for betere it is þan gold; and purchase prudence, for it is mor precious þan siluer.
- xvii þe paþ of riȝtwis men bowiþ awei euelis; þe keperis of his soule holdeþ faste his weye.
- xviii Pride goþ befor contricioun; and befor falling þe spirit shal ben enhauncid.
- xix Betere is to be meke wiþ mylde men, þan to deuyde spoilis wiþ proude men.
- xx He lerned in woord shal finde goodis; and þat hopeþ in þe Lord is blisful.
- xi Who is wis in herte, shal be clepid prudent; and who is sweete in fair speche, more þingis shal finde.
- xii þe welle of lif þe lernyng of þe weldere; þe doctrine of foolis folie.
- xiii þe herte of þe wife man shal lerne þe mouþ of hym; and to þe lippis of hym it shal adde grace.
- xiv þe comb of hony wel set woordis; swetnesse of soule is helpe of bones.
- xv Per is a weie þat femeþ to a man riȝt; and þe last þingis of it leden to deþ.
- xvi þe soule of þe trauailere trauaileþ to hymself; for hys mouþ compellide hym.
- xvii An unwis man delueþ euel; and in þe lippis of hym fyr brenneþ.
- xviii A man peruerid rereþ striues; and þe man ful of woordis feuereþ princis.

Capitulum XVI.

i Off a man is to make redy þe inwit; and of þe Lord to gourne þe tunge.

xxix Pe wicke man flatereþ his frend; and ledeþ hym bi a weie not good.

xxx þat wiþ stonēid ezen þenkeþ shreude þingis, bitende his lippis parformeþ euel.

xxxi Pe croune of dignete elde, þat in þe weie of riȝtwisnesse shal be founde.

xxxii Betere is þe pacient, þan a strong man; and þat lordshipeþ to his wil, þan an ouercomere of cites.

xxxiii Lotis ben put in to þe bosum; but of þe Lord þei ben temprid.

Capitulum XVII.

i Betere is a drie morsel wiþ ioȝe, þan an hous ful of sacrificises of victorie wiþ strif.

ii A wis seruaunt shal lordshipen to sones foolis; and among breþeren eritage he shal deuyde.

iii As bi fyr is proued siluer, and gold bi þe chymney, so hertes þe Lord preueþ.

iv Þe euele man obesheþ to þe wicke tunge; and þe defceyuable conseñeþ to þe liende lippis.

v Who dispiseþ a pore man, myfseyþ to his makere; and who gladeþ in þe falling of an oþer, shal not ben vnpunþid.

vi Þe croune of olde men sones of sones; and þe glorie of sones þe fadris of hem.

vii Pere femeþ not þe fool faire set woordis; ne þe prince a liende lippe.

viii Most kinde iemme þe abiding of þe abidere; whider euere he turneþ hymself, prudentli he vnderstant.

ix Who helip þe gilte, secheþ frenshipis; who wiþ an oþer fermoun reherceþ, feuereþ þe federed.

x Mor profiteþ correccioun anent þe prudent, þan an hundrid veniaunces anent þe fol.

xi Euermor striues secheþ þe euel man; þe cruel forsoþe aungil shal be sent aȝen hym.

xii It spedeþ mor to aȝen come to a she bere, whan hir whelpis ben take awey, þan to a fol troftende to hymself in his folie.

xiii Who ȝeldeþ euelis for goodis, shal not go awei euel fro his hous.

xiv Who leueþ water, hed is of striues; and er he suffre wrong blamyn, dom he forsaþeþ.

xv And who iustifieþ þe vnpitouse, and who condempneþ þe riȝtwise, abominable is eiþer anent God.

xvi What profiteþ to þe fol to han richeffis, whan wiðdam bie he mai not? Who heiȝ makeþ his hous, secheþ falling; and who shoneþ to lerne, falleþ in to euelis.

xvii Alle time looueþ, þat is a frend; and a broþer in anguyfhis is preued.

xviii A fool man shal for ioȝe flappe wiþ hondis, whan he shal behoten for his frend.

xix Who sweteli þenkeþ discordis, looueþ striues; and who enhaunciþ his herte, secheþ falling.

xx Who is of peruerid herte, findeþ not good; and who turneþ þe tunge, shal falle in to euel.

xi Born is þe fool in his shenshipe; but ne þe fader in þe fol shal glade.

xii Ioȝende inwít makeþ briȝt age; a drery spirit ful out drieþ bones.

xiii ȝiftis of þe bosum þe vnpitous takeþ, þat he perueruþ þe pabis of dom.

xiv In þe face of þe prudent shyneþ wiðdam; þe ezen of foolis in þe endis of erþe.

xv Pe wreþe of þe fader a sone fol; þe forewe of þe modir þat gat hym.

xvi It is not good to bern in harm to þe riȝtwis; ne to smyte a prince þat riȝt demeþ.

xvii Who tempreþ his woordis, taȝt and prudent is; and of precious spirit þe man lerned.

xviii Pe fool forsoþe, if he holde his pes, wis shal ben holde; if he þreste togidere his lippis, vnderstondende.

Capitulum XVIII.

i Ocaſioun secheþ, þat wil gon awei fro a frend; alle time wariable he shal be.

ii A fol resceueþ not þe woordis of prudence; but þo þingis þou shul seyn, þat ben ofte turned in his herte.

iii Pe vnpitous, whan in to deppe of synne shal come, dispiseþ; and þer folewþ hym shenshipe and repreff.

iv Deep water woordis of þe mouȝ of a man; and a stef strem þe reboundende welle of wiðdam.

v To alouwen þe persone of þe vnpitouse in dom, is not good, þat þou bowe awei fro þe soþfastnesse of dom.

vi Pe lippis of þe fol shul menge þemself wiþ striues; and þe mouȝ of hym debatis stireþ.

vii Pe mouȝ of þe fool `to-treding of hym; and þe lippis of hym þe falling of his soule.

viii Pe woordis of þe twisil tunge as simple; and þo þurȝ comen vnto þe entralis of þe wombe. Pe flowe drede þrewȝ doun; þe soulis forsoþe of wommanysh men shul hungren.

ix Who is nesshe, and dissolut in his werk, broþer is of þe man scaterende his werkes.

x Pe most strong tour þe name of þe Lord; to it renneþ þe riȝtwife, and he shal ben enhauncid.

xi Pe substaunce of þe riche man þe cite of his strengþe; and as a strong wal cumpassende hym.

xii Er it be to-treden, is enhauncid þe herte of a man; and er it be glorified, it is mekid.

xiii Who raþere answereþ þan he hereþ, a fool hymself to ben he shewiþ; and confusioun wrþi.

xiv Þe spirit of þe man susteneþ his feblenesse; þe spirit forsoþe liȝt to wraþen, who shal moun sustene?

xv Pe herte of þe prudent shal welde kunning; and þe ere of wise men secheþ doctrine.

xvi Pe free ȝifte of a man spredëþ abrod his weie; and befor princis space to hym makeþ.

- xvii Pe riȝtwis raþere is þe acusere of hymself; þer comeþ his frend, and he shal enserchen hym.
- xviii Aȝenseiyngus lot presteþ togidere; and among myȝti men also dyuerfly demeþ.
- xix Pe broþer þat is holpen of þe broþer, as a stef cite; and þe domes as barris of cites.
- xx Of þe frut of þe mouȝt of a man shal be fulfild his wombe; and þe buriounyngis of þe lippis of hym shul fulfillen hym.
- xi Deþ and lif in þe hondis of þe tunge; who loouen it, shuln ete þe frutis of it.
- xxii Who findeþ a good womman, findeþ good; and shal drawen merþe of þe Lord. Who putteþ out a good womman, putteþ out good; who forsoþe holdeþ avoutresse, is a fool and vnwis.
- xxiii Wiþ obsecraciouns spekeþ þe pore man; and a riche man shal speke out ruggidli.
- xxiv A man amyable to felashipe mor a frend shal be, þan a broþer.

Capitulum XIX.

- i Betere is a pore man, þat goþ in simplenesh, þan a riche man tormentende his lippis, and vnwis.
- ii Wher is not kunningyng of soule, is not good; and who is hastif, wiþ feitt stumblip.
- iii Pe folie of a man supplauntiþ hise goingis; and aȝen God boileþ in his inwit.
- iv Richeffes adden manye frendis; fro þe pore forsoþe and þo þat he hadde, ben feuered.
- v A fals witnesse shal not ben vnpunshid; and he þat lesing spekeþ, shal not ascapan.
- vi Manye herien þe persone of þe myȝti; and frendis ben of þe ȝiuende ȝiftis.
- vii Pe breþern of þe pore man hateden hym; ferþermor and frendis aferr wenten awei fro hym. Who onli woordis folewip, no þing shal han;
- viii who forsoþe weldere is of þe mynde, looueþ his soule, and þe keper of prudence shal finde goodis.
- ix Pe false witnesse shal not ben vnpunshid; and þat spekeþ lesing, shal perþhen.
- x Delicis semen not þe fool; ne þe seruaunt to lordshipen to princis.
- xi Pe doctrine of a man bi pacience is knowe; and þe glorie of hym is to go biside wicke þingys.
- xii As þe gnaſting of a leoun, so and þe wraþe of þe king; and as deu vpon erbe, so and þe gladnessse of hym.
- xiii Pe forewe of þe fader, þe sone a fol; and rooues contynuelli þurȝ droppende, a womman ful of strif.
- xiv Housis and richeffis ben ȝeue of þe fadris; of þe Lord forsoþe properli a prudent wif.
- xv Slouȝe sendeþ in slep; and a dissolut soule shal hungre.
- xvi Who kepeþ þe maundement, kepeþ his soule; who forsoþe despisiþ his weie, shal be maad dead.

- xvii He vſureþ to þe Lord, þat haþ reuȝe of þe pore; and his while he shal ȝelde to hym.
- xviii Lerne þou þi sone, ne despeire þou; to þe flaȝter forsoþe of hym ne poote þou þi soule.
- xix Who forsoþe is vnpacyent, shal suffre harm; and whan he shall cacche, oþer þing he shal putte to.
- xx Here þou counseil, and vndertac discipline; þat þou be wijs in þi laste þingis.
- xi Manye þoȝtis in þe herte of a man; þe wil forsoþe of þe Lord shal abide stille.
- xii A man nedi is merciful; and betere þe pore man riȝtwis, þan a man liere.
- xxiii Pe drede of þe Lord to lif; and in plenteouafnesse it shal abide stille, wiþoute visiting of þe werste.
- xxiv Pe flowe hideþ his hond vnder þe arm pit; ne to his mouȝt he leip it.
- xxv Pe `man ful of pestilence scourgid, a fool þe wisere shal ben. If forsoþe þou chaftise þe wise man, he shal vnderstonde discipline.
- xxvi Who tormentiþ þe fader, and fleeþ þe modir, shenful shal be, and vnbliſſul.
- xxvii Cese þou not, sone, to here doctrine; ne vnkowne þou þe woordis of kunningyng.
- xxviii Pe wicke wytnesse scorneþ dom; and þe mouȝt of vnpitous men deouoreþ wickidnesse.
- xxix Greiþid ben to scorneſe domes; and simytende hameres to þe bodies of foolis.

Capitulum XX.

- i A leccherous þing win, and noiseful drunkenesse; who so euere in þese þingis delitiþ, shal not be wis.
- ii As þe roring of a leoun, so and þe ferd of þe king; who terreþ hym, synneþ aȝen his soule.
- iii Wrþiþipe is to be man þat feuereþ hym fro striues; alle forsoþe foolis shul be mengd wiþ wrong blamyngis.
- iv For cold þe flowe wolde not eren; þanne he shal begge in somer, and it shal not ben ȝiue to hym.
- v As dep watir, so counseil in þe herte of a man; but a wis man shal drawe it out.
- vi Manye men merciful ben clepid; a feiþful man forsoþe who shal finde?
- vii Pe riȝtwis forsoþe þat goþ in his simplenesse, blisful sones aftir hym shal leuen.
- viii Pe king þat sit in þe see of dom, scatereþ alle euelis in his clere loking.
- ix Who mai sey, Clene is myn herte; pure wiþoute synne?
- x Peis and peis, mesure and mesure, eiper is abhominal anent God.
- xi Of his studies is þe child vnderstonde, if riȝt ben and clene þe workis of hym.
- xii Pe herende ere, and þe feende eȝe, þe Lord made euer eiþer.

xiii Wile þou not looue slep, leſt þee nedynesse oprefſe; opene þin eȝen, and be þou fulſild wiþ loues.
 xiv Euel it is, euel it is, ſeip eche biere; and whan he gob awei, þanne he ſhal glorien.
 xv Gold, and þe multitude of iemmes, and precious vefſel, þe lippis of kunnyngh.
 xvi Tac þe cloþ of hym, þat borȝ was of þe alien; and for ſtraungeres tac awei þe wed fro hym.
 xvii Swete is to a man þe bred of leſing; and aftir ſhal be fulſild þe mouȝ of hym wiþ a litil pibbil ſton.
 xviii þoȝtis bi counfeſilis ben ſtrengþid; and bi gouernailis batailis ben to be tretid.
 xix To hym þat openeþ priuetes, and gob gilendeli, and ſpredeþ abrod his lippis, ne be þou togidere mengd.
 xx Who curſiþ to his fader and moder, ſhal be quenchid his liȝt in myddył dercneſſes.
 xxi Eritage to þe whiche is heeȝid in þe begynnyngh, in þe laſte ſhal lacke bliſſing.
 xxii Ne fey þou, I ſhal ȝelde euel for euel; abid þe Lord, and he ſhal deliuere þee.
 xxiii Abominacioun is anent God weȝte and weȝte; a treecherous balaunce is not good.
 xxiv Of þe Lord ben riȝt reulid þe goingis of a man; who forſoþe of men mai vnderſtonde his wei?
 xxv Falling is of men ofte to `vouwe to ſaintis, and aftir þe vrouwis aȝeen drawe.
 xxvi Scatereþ vnpitouſe men a wiſ king; and he bowiþ in vpon hem a ſtonene bowe.
 xxvii Pe lanterne of þe Lord þe breping place of a man, þat enſerchiþ alle þe priuetes of þe wombe.
 xxviii Mercy and treueþ kepen þe king; and his trone is ſtrengþid wiþ noble mercy.
 xxix Pe ful out ioȝing of ȝunge men þe ſtrengþe of hem; and þe dignete of olde men horneſſe.
 xxx Pe wanneſſe of wounde ſhal clenſe awei euelis, and woundis in þe priuyere partys of þe wombe.

Capitulum XXI.

i As deueſeouns of watriſ, fo þe herte of þe king in þe hond of þe Lord; whider euere he wile, he ſhal bowe it.
 ii Eche weie of a man riȝt to hym ſemeþ; þe Lord forſoþe peiſeþ þe hertis.
 iii To do mercy and dom, more pleſeþ to þe Lord, þan ſacrifiſes of victorie.
 iv Pe enhauncing of eȝen is þe larging of þe herte; þe lanterne of vnpitouſe men synne.
 v Pe þoȝtis of þe ſtrong man euermor in plente; eche forſoþe flouȝ euermor is in nedynneſſe.
 vi Who gedereþ trefores wiþ þe tunge of leſing, vein and herteles is; and he ſhal be `put in to þe grenes of dep.
 vii Raueynes of vnpitouſe men ſhul drawe þem doun; for þei wolden not do dom.
 viii Pe peruerid weie of a man alien is fro God; who forſoþe is clene, riȝt is þe werec of hym.

ix Betere is to fitte in þe corner of þe hous, þan wiþ þe womman ful of ſtrif, and in þe hous of feſte.
 x Pe foule of þe vnpitouſe deſireþ euel; he ſhal not han merci to his neȝhebore.
 xi Punſhid þe bacbitere, þe wiſere ſhal be þe little child; and if he foſewe þe wife man, he ſhal take kunnyngh.
 xii Pe riȝtwis beþenkiþ of þe hous of þe vnpitouſe, þat he drawe awei vnpitouſe men fro euel.
 xiii Who ſtoppeþ his ere at þe cri of þe pore, and he ſhal crie, and ſhal not ben herd.
 xiv ȝiſte hyd quencheþ wrapiſ; and fre ȝiſte in þe boſum moſt indignacioun.
 xv Ioȝe to þe riȝtwis is to don dom; and ferd to men werkende wickidneſſe.
 xvi Pe man þat erreþ fro þe weie of doctrine, in þe felashipe of ieautis ſhal wone.
 xvii Who looueþ deynte metis, in nedynneſſe ſhall be; who looueþ win and fatte þingus, ſhall not be maad riche.
 xviii For þe riȝtwife ſhal ben ȝoue þe vnpitouſe; and for þe riȝt man þe wicke.
 xix Betere is to dwelle in deſert lond, þan wiþ a ianglende womman, and wraþeful.
 xx Desyrlable tresor and oile in þe dwelling place of þe riȝtwis; and þe vnpitouſe man ſhal ſcateren it.
 xxi Who foſewiþ riȝtwiſneſſe and mercy, ſhal finde lif and riȝtwiſneſſe and glorie.
 xxii Pe cite of ſtronge men þe wife man ſteȝede vp, and deſtroȝide þe ſtrengþe of þe troft of it.
 xxiii Who kepeþ his mouȝ and his tunge, kepeþ his ſoule fro anguyllyſis.
 xxiv Pe proud man and þe enhaunſende hymſelf is clepid vntaȝt, þe whiche in wraþe wercheþ pride.
 xxv Deſires ſlen þe flowe; wolden not forſoþe þe hondis of hym any þing werchen.
 xxvi Al dai he coueitiþ and deſireþ; who forſoþe is riȝtwis, ſhal ȝelde, and not cefe.
 xxvii Pe oftis of vnpitouſe men abominable, þat ben offrid of hidous gilte.
 xxviii A witneſſe liere ſhal perſhe; þe obeifaunt man ſhall ſpeke victorie.
 xxix Pe vnpitouſe man wowendeli ſtabliþ his chere; who forſoþe is riȝt, mendeþ his weie.
 xxx Per is not wiſdam, þer is not prudence, þer is not counſeil aȝen þe Lord.
 xxxi An hors is maad redi to þe dai of bataile; þe Lord forſoþe helþe ſhal ȝeelden.

Capitulum XXII.

i Betere is a good name, þan manye richeffis; ouer filuer forſoþe and gold good grace.
 ii Pe riche man and þe pore metten togidere; þe werkere of euer eiþer is þe Lord.
 iii Pe felle man ſeeþ euel, and hideþ hymſelf; and þe innocent paſſede, and is tormentid wiþ harm.

- iiiii Pe ende of manernesſe þe dred of þe Lord; richeſſis, and glorie, and lif.
 v Armes and ſwerdis in þe weie of þe proud; þe keperes forſoþe of his ſoule ferr goþ awei fro hem.
 vi A prouerbe is, A ȝung ful waxen man aftyr his weie, and whan he eldeþ, ſhal not gon awei fro it.
 vii Pe riche man to pore men comaundeþ; and he þat takeþ borewing, ſeruaunt is of þe vſurer.
 viii Who ſowip wickidneſſe, ſhal repen euelis; and þe ȝerde of his wraþe ſhal be ful endid.
 ix Who redi is to mercy, ſhal be bliſſid; of his loues forſoþe he ȝaf to þe pore. Victorie and worſhipe ſhal purchace, þat ȝeueþ ȝiftis; forſoþe he takeþ awei þe ſoule of þe reſcyeueres.
 x Caſt awey þe ſcornere, and wiþ hym ſhal gon out ſtrif; and cauſis ſhul cefe, and wrong blaſmyngis.
 xi Who looueþ clenſeſſe of herte, for þe grace of his lippis ſhal han þe king frend.
 xii Pe eȝen of þe Lord kepe kunnyng; and ſupplauntyd ben þe woordis of þe wiſe.
 xiii Pe flowe ſhal feyen, A leoun is wiþoute; in þe myddel of þe ſtretes I am to be flain.
 xiv A dep dich þe mouþ of þe alien womman; to whom þe Lord is wroþ, ſhal falle in to hir.
 xv Folie is bounde togidere in þe herte of þe child; and þe ȝerde off discipline ſhal driuen awei it.
 xvi Who wrong chalengeþ þe pore, þat he eache his richeſſis, he ſhal ȝyue to a richere, and neden.
 xvii My fone, bowe in þin ere, and here þe woordis of wife men; lei to forſoþe herte to my doctrine.
 xviii Pe whiche fair ſhal be to þee, whan þou kepiſt it in þi wombe, and ſhal rebounde in þi lippis.
 xix þat in þe Lord be þyn troſt; wherfore and I ſhal ſhewe to þee it to dai.
 xx Lo! I haue diſcriued it þre wiſe, in þoȝtus and kunnyng, xxi þat I ſhulde ſhewe to þee ſtedefaſtneſſe; and faire ſpechis of treuþe þou ſhuldeſt anſwere of þeſe þingis to þem þat ſenten þee.
 xxii Do þou not violence to þe pore, for he is pore; ne to-trede þou þe nedys in þe ȝate.
 xxiii For þe Lord ſhal deme þe caule of hym, and he ſhal ſtike þem, þat ſtekeðen þe lif of hym.
 xxiv Wile þou not be frend to a man ful of wraþe, ne go þou wiþ a wood man;
 xxv leſt parauenture þou lerne þe pabis of hym, and take ſclaundar to þi ſoule.
 xxvi Wile þou not be wiþ þem þat ſicche doun þer hondis, and þat borewiſ offren hemſelf for dettis;
 xxvii if forſoþe þou haſt wheroſ þou reſtoſ, what of cauſe is, þat þou take coueryng fro þi bed?
 xxviii Ne ouerpaffe þou olde termes, þe whiche þi fadris ſetteſten.
 xxix Haſt þou ſeen a ſwift man in hiſ were? befor kingis he ſhal ſtonde, ne he ſhal ben befor vnnoble men.

Capitulum XXIII.

- i Whan þou ſhal ſitte, þat þou ete wiþ a prince, beſili tac heede þat ben ſet befor þi face, ii and ſet a culter in þi þrote. If 'ner þe latere þou haue power in to þi ſoule, iii ne deſire þou of þe metis of hym, in þe whiche is þe bred of leſing.
 iv Wile þou not traualien þat þou be riche, but to þi prudence put maner.
 v Ne rere þou þin eȝen to richeſſis, þat þou maift not han; for þei make to þem federis, as of an egle, and þei ſhul flee in to heuene.
 vi Ne ete þou wiþ an enuyous man, and ne deſire þou þe metis of hym;
 vii for in licenesſe of a deuynour and of a fals caſtere, he eymēþ þat he knowiþ not. Et and drink, he ſhal ſei to þee; and þe mynde of hym is not wiþ þee.
 viii Pe metes þat þou haſt eten, þou ſhalt ſpewen out; and þou ſhalt leſen þi faire wrdis.
 ix In þe eres of vnwiſe men ſpeke þou not; for þei ſhul diſpisen þe doctrine of þi ſpeche.
 x Ne ateyne þou þe termes of little childer; and þe feedl of moderles childer go þou not in.
 xi Pe neeȝh forſoþe of þem is strong, and he ſhal demen aȝen þee þe cauſes of hem.
 xii Go in to doctrine þin herte, and þin eris to þe wrdis of kunnyng.
 xiii Wile þou not wiþdrawe fro a child discipline; if forſoþe þou ſmyte hym wiþ ȝerde, he ſhal not die.
 xiv þou wiþ a ȝerde ſhalt ſmite hym, and þe ſoule of hym fro helle þou ſhalt deliueren.
 xv My fone, if wijs were þin inwit, myn herte ſhal ioȝen wiþ þee; xvi and ful out ſhuln ioȝen my reenes, whan þi lippis ſhul ſpeke riȝt.
 xvii Ne enuye þin herte ſynneres; but in þe drede of þe Lord be þou al dai.
 xviii For þou ſhalt han hope in þe laſte, and þin abiding ſhal not ben taken awei.
 xix Heere, my fone, and be þou wijs, and riȝt reule in þe weie þin inwit.
 xx Wile þou not ben in þe festis of drinkeris, ne in þe meteſhipis of hem, þat flesh to eten bringen.
 xxi For þei tendende to drinkis, and ȝiuende ſcot, ſhul ben waſtid, and napping ſhal be clad wiþ cloþis.
 xxii Heere þou þi fader, þat gat þee; and ne diſpife þou, 'whan ſhal eelden þi moder.
 xxiii Bie treuþe, and wile þou not ſelle wiſdam, and doctrine, and vnderſtonding.
 xxiv Ful out ioȝeb wiþ ioȝe þe fader of þe riȝtwife; þat a wiſ man gat, ſhal gladen in hym.
 xxv Ioȝe þi fader and þi moder, and ful out ioȝe, þat gat þee.
 xxvi ȝif, fone myn, þin herte to me, and þin eȝen my weies kepe þei.

xxvii A dep dich forsoþe is a strumpet, and a streit pit an alien womman.

xxviii She waiteþ in þe weie, as a þef; and whom vnsleiȝ she seeþ, she shalflen.

xxix To whom wo? to whos fader wo? to whom strif? to whom dichis? to whom wiþoute caufe woundis? to whom 'þrifting out of eȝen?

xxx Wheþer not to þem, þat dwellen in win, and studien to chalices to ben drunken vp?

xxxi Ne beholde þou þe win, whan it floureþ, whan shal fhine in þe verr þe colour of it.

xxxii It shal gon in softe, but in þe laste it shal bite as a shadewe eddere, and as a kokatrice venymys shal heelden abrod.

xxxiii Bin eȝen shul beholde straunge wymen, and þin herte shal speke peruerid þingus.

xxxiv And þou shalt ben as slepende in þe myddil fe, and as þe steris man al forslept, þe steer staf lost.

xxxv And þou shalt sey, Pei beeten me, but I forewide not; þei drowen me, and I felide not; whanne shal I wake, and eft wines finden?

Capitulum XXIIII.

i Ne enuye þou euele men, ne desire þou to ben wiþ þem.

ii For rauernes sweteli þenkeþ þe mynde of hem, and giles þe lippis of hem speken.

iii Bi wifdam shal þe hous ben bild, and bi prudence it shul be strengþid.

iv In doctrine shul be fulfilt þe celeris, wiþ alle precious substauance and most fair.

v A wis man is strong, and a taȝt man is stalwrþe and myȝti.

vi For wiþ disficioun men goþ in to bataile; and helþe shul ben, wher ben many counseilis.

vii Ful heeȝ to þe fool wifdam; in þe ȝate he shal not openen his mouþ.

viii Who þenkeþ euelis to don, a fool shal ben clepid.

ix Þe þenking of þe fool is synne; and abhominacioun of men þe bacbitere.

x If flyden þou despeire, in þe dai of anguysh 'shal be 'maad litil þi strengþe.

xi Deliuere hem, þat ben lad to deþ; and þat ben drawen to diyng, to deliuere ne cese þou.

xii If þou shul seyn, Strengbis seruen not; he þat is þe inward beholdere of herte, vnderstandiþ, and þe keper of þi soule no þing begiliþ, and shall ȝelde to a man after his werkis.

xiii Et, sone, hony for good; and þe most fwete honycomb to þi protre.

xiv So and þe doctrine of wifdam to þi soule; þe whiche whan þou findist, þou shalt han in þe laste þingus hope; and þin hope shal not pershe.

xv Ne aspie þou, and seche vnpitousnesse in þe hous of þe riȝtwis, ne waste þou þe reste of hym.

xvi Seuene siþes forsoþe shal falle þe riȝtwis, and risen; þe vnpitous forsoþe shal fallen in to euel.

xvii Whan þin enemy falliþ, ne ioȝe þou; and in þe falling of hym ful out ioȝe not þin herte;

xviii leſt perauenture þe Lord see, and it disples to hym, and he take awei fro hym his wraþe.

xix Striue þou not wiþ þe werste men, and enuye þou not vnpitose men.

xx For euele men han not hope of þingus to come, and þe lanterne of vnpitous men shal be quenchid.

xxi Dreed God, sone myn, and þe king; and wiþ bacbiteres be þou not mengd.

xxii For fodeynli at ones shal rise þe perdicioun of hem, and þe falling of euer eiþer who knewȝ?

xxiii Pele þingus forsoþe to wise men. To knowen perfone in dom is not good.

xxiv Who seiþ to þe vnpitous, þou art riȝtwis, puples shal cursen to hym; and linages shul wlaten hym.

xxv Who vndernymyn, shul ben preisid; and vp on hem shal come bleſſing.

xxvi Lippes shal kisse, þat riȝt wrdis answerþ.

xxvii Greiþ out forþ þi were, and bisili enhaunte þi feeld, þat aftir þou bilde vp þin hous.

xxviii Be þou not a witnesse in idil aȝen þi neȝhebore; and ne flatere þou any man wiþ þi lippes.

xxix Ne sey þou, As he dide to me, so I shal do to hym, and I shal ȝelde to eche man after his were.

xxx Bi þe feld of þe flowe man I passede, and bi þe vyne of þe fool man;

xxxi and lo! al netlis hadden fulfilt, þornes hadden couered þe vtmost of it, and þe wal of stones was destroȝed.

xxxii Pe whiche whan I hadde see, I putte in myn herte, and bi exfaumple lernede discipline.

xxxiii Hou longe, flowe, þou slepist? hou longe fro slep þou shalt rise? A litil forsoþe þou shalt flepe, a litil while þou shalt nappe, a litil þin hondis þou shalt lei togidere, þat þou reste;

xxxiv and þer shal come to þee as a corour þi nedynesse, and þi beggingnesse as a man armyd.

Capitulum XXV.

i These forsoþe þe Parablis of Salomon, þe whiche translateden þe men of Ezechie, king of Juda.

ii Þe glorie of God is to hilyng a wrd; and þe glorie of kingis to enscherchen a fermoun.

iii Heuene aboue, and erþe beneþe, and þe herte of kingus vnscherable.

iv Do awei rust from filuer, and þer shal gon out a most pure vesseſ.

v Do awei vnpitousnesse fro þe chere of þe king, and bi riȝtwisnesse shal ben fastned þe trone of hym.

vi Ne glorious apere þou befor þe king, and in place of grete men stonde þou not.

vii Betere is forsoþe, þat it be seid to þee, Steȝe vp hidir, þan þat þou be mekid beforne a prince. Þat þin eȝen feȝen, viii ne speke þou foone in strif; leſt parauenture þou mowe not amende, whan þou hast dishonestid bi frend.
 ix Bi cause trete wiþ bi frend, and priuyte to a straunger opene þou not;
 x leſt parauenture he aſaile to þee, whan he shal heren, and to repreuen cefe not. Grace and frendſhipe delyueren, þe whiche kepe þou to þee, leſt þou be maad repreuable.
 xi A goldene cheke bon in siluerene beddis, þat spekeþ a wrd in his tyme.
 xii A goldene ering, and a margarite shynende, þat vndernemeþ a wiſ man, and an ere obedient.
 xiii As cold of snoȝ in þe dai of rep, so an feiþful meſſager to hym þat fente hym; þe soule of hym to reſten he makeþ.
 xiv Cloud and wind, and reines not folewende, a man glorious, and þe beheſtes not fulfillende.
 xv Bi pacience shal ben maad ſoſte þe prince; and a neſſhe tunge shal to-breke hardneſſe.
 xvi Hony þou haſt founden, ett þat ſuffiſeþ to þee; leſt parauenture fulſild þou ſewe it out.
 xvii Wiþdraȝ bi foot fro þe hous of bi neȝhebore; leſt any time fulſild, he shul hate þee.
 xviii Spere, and ſword, and ſharp arwe, a man þat spekeþ aȝen his neȝhebore fals witneſſe.
 xix A roten tob, and a foot ſliden, þat hopiþ vpon þe vnfieþful in þe dai of anguylh, xx and leeſeb þe mantil in þe dai of cold. Eiſel in glas, þat ſingeþ dites wiþ peruerid herte. As a moȝhe to þe cloþ, and a werm to þe tree, ſo forewe of a man noȝeþ to þe herte.
 xxi If þin enemy ſhul hungren, feed hym; if he þriſtiþ, ȝif hym watir to drinke;
 xxii forſoþe colis þou ſhalt gadere togidere vp on þe hed of hym; and þe Lord ſhal ȝelde to þee.
 xxiii A norþerne wind ſcatereþ reynes; and a dreri face be bacbitende tunge.
 xxiv Betere is to ſitte in a corner of a roof, þan wiþ a womman ful of strif, in þe hous of a feſte.
 xxv Cold watir to þe þreſtende ſoule; and a good meſſager fro a ferr lond.
 xxvi A welle trublid bi foot, and a veyne corupt, þe riȝtwis fallende beforne vnpitous.
 xxvii As he þat etiþ myche hony, and it is not to hym good; ſo þat is a ferchere of mageſte, ſhal ben oþreſſid of glorie.
 xxviii As an opyn cite, and wiþoute enuyrounynge of wallis; ſo a man þat mai not in ſpeking chaſtifen his ſpirit.

Capitulum XXVI.

i What maner snoȝ in ſomer, and reyn in rep time; fo vnfemende is to þe fool glorie.
 ii For as a brid to heȝe þingus ouerfleende, and a ſparewe whider hym liſt goende; fo curs in veyn ſpoken in to ſum man ſhal comen ouer.
 iii A ſcourage to an hors, and a bernacle to an aſſe; and a ȝerde in þe reg of vnproud men.
 iv Anſwere þou not to a fool aftir his folie, leſt þou be maad out lic to hym.
 v Anſwere to a fool aftir his folie, leſt he ſeme to ben wiſ to hymſelf.
 vi Halt in feet, and drinkende wickidneſſe, þat ſendiþ wordus bi a fool meſſager.
 vii What maner þe halte hab in veyn faire leggis; fo vnfemende þing is in þe mouȝ of foolis a parable.
 viii As he þat ſendiþ a ſton in to an hep of monee; ſo he þat ȝiueþ to an vnwis man wrhipe.
 ix What maner if a þorun be growen in þe hond of þe drunken; ſo a parable in þe mouȝ of foolis.
 x Dom determyneþ cauſes; and he þat puttiþ silence to a fool, ſwageþ wraþis.
 xi As an hound þat tourneþ aȝeen to his vome; ſo an vnproud man, þat reherſeþ his folie.
 xii Haſt þou ſeen a man wiſ to be ſeen to hymſelf? more þan he an vnwis man ſhal han hope.
 xiii þe flowe ſeiþ, A leoun is in þe weie, and a leounesse is in þe gatis.
 xiv As a dore is turned in his heeng; ſo a floȝ man in his little bed.
 xv A floȝ man hidip his hondis vnder his arm pit; and traualip, if to his mouȝ he ſhal turne þem.
 xvi Wifere to hymſelf þe flowe ſemeþ, þan ſeuene men ſpekende ſentences.
 xvii As he þat cachip bi þe eres a dogge; ſo he þat paſſeþ, and vnpacient ſhal be mengd wiþ to þe strif of an oþer.
 xviii As gilti he is, þat ſendiþ ſperes and arwes in to dep;
 xix ſo þe man þat gilendeli noȝeþ to his frend, and whan he were caȝt, ſhal fey, Pleiende I dide.
 xx Whan wodis ſhuln failen, þe fyrl ſhal ben queynt; and þe groynere wiþdrawen, ſtriuſes togidere reſten.
 xxi As deade colis to quyke colis, and wode to fyrl; ſo a wraþeful man rereþ ſtriuſes.
 xxii þe wrdis of a groynere as ſimple; and þei comen þurȝ to þe inmoſtis of þe herte.
 xxiii What maner as wiþ foul ſiluer þou wilt honoure britil vefſel; ſo ſwellende lippis wiþ werſt herte felashipid.
 xxiv In his lippis is vndirſtonde þe enemy, whan in herte he haþ tretid treccheries.
 xxv Whan he ſhal vndirputte his vois, ne ȝiue þou credence to hym; for ſeuene wickidnelles ben in þe herte of hym.
 xxvi Who couereþ hate gilendeli, ſhal ben opened þe malice of hym in counſeil.

xxvii Who delueþ a dich, shal falle in to it; and who ourturneþ a ston, it shal ben aȝeen turned to hym.
xxviii A defeyuable tunge looueþ not þe treuþe; and þe flideri mouþ werchiþ fallingis.

Capitulum XXVII.

- i Ne glorie þou in to þe moru, vnknownde what þe dai to ouercome bringe forþ.
ii Preise þee an alien, and not þi mouþ; a straunger, and not þi lippis.
iii Heuy is þe ston, and charious is þe grauel; but þe wrabe of þe fool is heuyere þan eiper.
iv Wraþe haþ not mercy, ne brekende out wodnesse; and þe bure of þe stirid spirit bern who shall moun?
v Betere is open amending, þan hid looue.
vi Betere ben þe woundis of þe loouere, þan þe gileful koffes of þe hatere.
vii Þe soule fulfill shal to-trede þe hony comb; þe soule forsoþe hungrende also bitter for sweete shal take.
viii As a brid ouerpassende fro his nest, so a man þat forsakeþ his place.
ix Wiþ oynement and diuers smellis deliteþ þe herte; and wiþ goode counseilis of þe frend þe soule is swetid.
x Pi frend, and þe frend of þi fader, ne leue þou; and þe hous of þi broþer go þou not in, in þe dai of þi tormenting. Betere is a neȝhebore biside, þan a broþer affer.
xi Studie to wifdam, sone myn, and glade þou myn herte; þat þou mowe to þe repreuere answern a wrd.
xii Þe felle seende euel is hid; little childer forþ passende fuffreden harmys.
xiii Tac þe cloping of hym, þat behotiþ for a straunger; and for an alien tac awei to hym a wed.
xiv Who blissiþ to his neȝhebore wiþ a gret vois, fro nyȝt risende, to þe cursere shal be lic.
xv Rooues þurȝ droppende in þe dai of cold, and a womman ful of strif ben comparisound togidere.
xvi Who holdiþ hir, as he heelde wind; and þe oile of his riȝt fide he auoide out.
xvii Iren wiþ iren is whettid out; and a man whettiþ out þe face of his frend.
xviii Who kepiþ a fige tree, shal ete þe frutis of it; and who kepere is of his lord, shal ben glorified.
xix What maner wise in watriis aȝeen shinen þe cheres of men lokende; so þe hertes of men ben opened to prudent men.
xx Helle and perdicoun neuere ben fulfill; and þe eȝen of men vnfillaþ.
xxi What maner wise siluer is preued in þe ȝeting vessel, and gold in þe furneis; so is preued a man in þe mouþ of preiseris. Þe herte of þe wicke sechiþ out euelis; þe riȝt forsoþe herte secheþ out kunnynge.
xxii If þou bete togidere a fool in a morter, as hoolid barli smytynde þere vp on þe pestel; shal not ben take awei fro hym his folie.

xxiii Bisili knowe þou þe chere of þi beeste; and þi flockis behold.
xxiv Forsoþe þou shalt not han continuelli power; but a croune shal be ȝolde to þee in ieneracioun of ieneraciouns.

xxv Opened ben þe medwis, and apereden greene erbis; and gedered ben heys fro þe hillis.

xxvi Lombis ben to þi cloping; and geet to þe pris of þe feedl.

xxvii Suffise to þee þe mylc of got in to þi metes; in to þe necessaries of þin hous, and to liflode to þin hond wymmen.

Capitulum XXVIII.

- i The vnpitouse fleeþ, no man pursuende; þe riȝtwis forsoþe as a leoun troftende wþout ferd shal be.
ii For þe fynnes of þe erþe manye princis of it; and for þe wifdam of a man, and þe kunnynge of þese þingus þat ben seid, þe lif of a duk shal ben lengere.
iii A man pore chalengende pore men, lic is to hidous weder, in whiche is greiþid hunger.
iv Who forsaken þe lawe, preisen þe vnpitous; who kepen, shul ben tend vp aȝen hym.
v Euele men þenken not dom; who forsoþe aȝeen fechen þe Lord, taken to heed alle þingus.
vi Betere is a pore man goende in his simplenesse, þan a riche man in his lhreude weies.
vii Who kepiþ þe lawe, a wis sone is; who forsoþe glotonunes fediþ, shendis his fader.
viii Who kepiþ togidere richesses wiþ vsures, and wiþ freewynnyng of vsure, in to pore men he gedereþ hem togidere.
ix Who bowiþ doun his eres, þat he here not þe lawe; his orisoun shal be maad cursful.
x Who desceyueþ riȝte men in an euel weie, in his deþ shal falle; and simple men shuln welden his goodis.
xi A wis man to hymself is seen a riche man; þe pore forsoþe prudent shal enscherchen hym.
xii In þe ful out ioȝing of riȝtwis men myche glorie is; regnende vnpitous men, fallingus ben of men.
xiii Who hidis his hidous giltis, shal not ben riȝt reulid; who forsoþe knoulechiþ and forsaikiþ, mercy shal gete.
xiv Blisful þe man, þat euermor is ferdful; who forsoþe is of hard mynde, shal falle in to euel.
xv A leoun rorende, and a bere hungrende, an vnpitous prince on a pore puple.
xvi A nedis duk of prudence manye shal opresse bi chalenge; who forsoþe hatiþ auarice, long shul be made þe daȝes of hym.
xvii Þe man þat wrongfulli chalengiþ to þe soule, þe blod of hym, if vn to þe lake he shul flee, no man fusteneþ.
xviii Who goþ simpleli, shal ben saaf; who in peruerid weies shal go, shal falle togidere at ones.

xix Who werchib his erþe, shal be fulfill wiþ loeues; who solewiþ idil reste, shal ben fulfill wiþ nedynesse.
 xx A man feiþful myche shal ben preisid; who forsoþe heeȝeb to be maad riche, shal not ben innocent.
 xi Who knowib in dom face, he þis doþ not wel; and for a morsel of bred he forsaþeþ þe treueþ.
 xxii þe man þat heeȝeb to be maad riche, and to oþere men enuyeþ; vnknoþiþ þat nedinefse come vp on to hym.
 xxiii Who chaftiseþ a man, grace aftir shal find anent hym; more þan he þat bi flateringus of tunge bigiliþ.
 xxiv Who wiþdrawiþ any þing fro his fader and moder, and seiþ þat not to ben synne, parcener is of a man fleere.
 xxv Who boſtiþ of hymself, and spredieþ abrod, steriþ striues; who forsoþe hopeþ in þe Lord, shal be sauðed.
 xxvi Who troſtiþ in his herte, is a fool; who forsoþe goþ wifly, he shal ben preisid.
 xxvii Who ȝiueþ to þe pore, shal not neden; who dispiseþ þe preiere louli, shal suffre scarnefse.
 xxviii Whan vnpitous men shuln risen, men shul ben hid; and whan þei han perþhid, þe riȝtwise shul ben multiplied.

Capitulum XXIX.

i To þe man, þat þe chaftisere wiþ hard noll dispisiþ, feerli deþ shal come vp on to hym; and hym helþe shal not folew.
 ii In þe multepliying of riȝtwis men shal gladen þe comun; and whan vnpitous men han taken princехed, þe puple shal weilen.
 iii þe man þat looueþ wisdam, gladiþ his fader; who forsoþe nurþip an hoore, shal leese substaunce.
 iv A riȝtwis king rereþ vp þe lond; an auerous man shal destroȝen it.
 v þe man þat wiþ flateryng and feynd wrdis spekiþ to his frend; a net sprediþ to his goingis.
 vi þe finnende wicke man a grene shal inwrappe; and þe riȝtwise shal preisen, and ioȝen.
 vii þe riȝtwise kneȝ þe cause of pore men; þe vnpitous vnknoþiþ kunnynge men.
 viii Bacbitende scateren þe cite; wise men forsoþe turnen awei wodnesse.
 ix A wis man if wiþ a fool shul strie; wheþir he laȝhe, or wraþe, he shal not finde reste.
 x Men of blodis hateden þe simple; riȝtwis men forsoþe fechen þe soule of hym.
 xi Al his spirit bringeþ forþ þe fool; a wis man berþ ouer, and kepiþ vnto afterward.
 xii A prince þat gladli hereþ þe wrdis of lesing; alle þe mynystris haþ vnpitouse.
 xiii þe pore and þe creaunsour metten togidere; of eiþer þe liȝtnere is þe Lord.
 xiv þe king þat demeþ in treueþ pore men; þe trone of hym in to wiþoute ende shal be fastned.

xv ȝerde and correccioun shal ȝelde wisdam; þe child forsoþe, þat is laft to his wil, confoundiþ his modir.
 xvi In þe multipling of vnpitous men shuln ben multiplied hidous giltis; and þe fallingis of hem riȝtwis men shul see.
 xvii Lerne þi sone, and he shal refreshen þee; and he shal ȝiue delices to his soule.
 xviii Whan prophecye shal faile, þe puple shal ben scaterid; who forsoþe kepiþ þe lawe, is blisful.
 xix þe seruaunt in wrdis mai not ben lerned; for þat þat þou seist, he vndirstant, and to answern he dispisiþ.
 xx Hast þou seen a man swift to speken? folie more is to ben hopid þan þe correccioun of hym.
 xxi Who delicateþ fro childhed nurþip his seruaunt; afterward shal feelen hym vnobeisaunt.
 xxii þe man wraþeful stireþ striues; and he þat is liȝt to han indignacioun, shal be to synnes more redi.
 xxiii þe proude man lounesfe foleweþ; and þe meke man in spirit glorie shal rescyeue.
 xxiv Who wiþ a beef is parcener, hatiþ his soule; þe adiurere he hereþ, and not shewiþ.
 xxv Who drediþ a man, foone shal falle; who hopiþ in þe Lord, shal ben vp rerid.
 xxvi Manye fechen þe face of þe prince; and dom of eche shal gon out fro þe Lord.
 xxvii Riȝtwis men wlaten þe vnpitous man; and vnpitous men wlaten hem, þat ben in þe riȝt weie. þe sone kepende þe wrd shal ben out of perdicioun.

Capitulum XXX.

i The wrdis of þe gederere, vomende sone. þe vifeoun þat a man spac, wiþ whiche is God, and þat, God wiþ hym wonende, coumfortid, seiþ, ii Moft fool I am of men; and þe wisdam of men is not wiþ me.
 iii I lernede not wisdam; and I knewȝ þe kunnynge of feintus.
 iv Who steȝide vp in to heuene, and who cam doun? Who wiþ heeld spirit in his hondis? who bond togidere watris as in a cloþ? Who rerede alle þe termes of þe erþe? What name is of hym? and what name of þe sone of hym, if þou knewe?
 v Eche fermoun of God firid, a sheld it is to alle hoperis in itself.
 vi Ne adde þou any þing to þe wordis of hym; and þou be vndername, and founde a liere.
 vii Two þingus I prezede to þee; ne denien þou to me, er I die.
 viii Vanyte and lesing wrdis fer do awei fro me; beggerie and richessis ne ȝiue þou to me; ȝif onli to my liflode nedeful þingus;
 ix left par auenture I fulfill, be drawnen to denyen, and seie, Who is þe Lord? and þurȝ nede constreyned, stele, and forswere þe name of my God.

x Ne acuse þou a seruaunt to his lord, leſt par auenture he curse to bee, and þou falle.
 xi Jeneracioun is, þat to his fader cursiþ, and þat to his moder blisseþ not.
 xii Jeneracioun þat to hymſelf clene is ſeen, and neuer þe latere it is not wafſhe fro his filþis.
 xiii Jeneracioun of þe whiche ben þe eȝen and þe eȝe lidis of it in to heȝe þingus vp rerid.
 xiv Jeneracioun þat for teþ haþ ſwerdis, and chewiþ wiþ his wang teþ; þat he ete helpeles fro þe erþe, and pore men fro men.
 xv Waterlechis two ben doȝtris, ſeiende, Bring on, bring on. Pre þingus ben vnfillaſte, and þe ferþe, þat ſeip neuermore, It ſuffiſip; xvi helle, and þe mouþ of a womman wombe, and þe erþe þat neuer is fild wiþ water; fijr forſoþe neuermor feip, It ſuffiſip.
 xvii þe eȝe þat ſcorneþ þe fader, and þat diſipeþ þe birþe of his moder, pecken hym out crowis of þe ſtremes; and ete hym þe ſonus of þe egle. xviii Pre þingus ben hard to me, and þe ferþe outerli I knowe not;
 xix þe weie of an egle in heuene, þe weie of þe fhadewe eddere on a ſton, þe weie of a ſhip in þe myd ſe, and þe weie of a man in his waxende ȝouþe.
 xx Such is þe weie of þe womman auoutreffe, þat etiþ, and wiþende hir mouþ, ſeip, I haue not wroȝt euel.
 xxi Bi pre þingus is moued þe erþe, and þe ferþe it mai not fuſtene;
 xxii bi a seruaunt, whan he regneþ; bi a fool, whan he were fulſild wiþ mete;
 xxiii bi an hateful womman, whan ſhe were taken in to matrimoyne; and bi an hand womman, whan ſhe were eir of hir ladi.
 xxiv Foure þingus þer ben þe leſte of erþe, and þei ben wiſere þan wiſe men;
 xxv amptis, a feble puple, þat greiþen in rep time mete
 to þem;
 xxvi a litil hare, a folc vnm̄yȝti, þat in a ſton his bed ſettiþ;
 xxvii a king þe locuste haþ not, and it goþ out alle bi cumpanyes;
 xxviii a liſard wiþ hondis cleueþ, and he dwelliþ in þe houſis of a king.
 xxix Pre þingus ben, þat weel gon, and þe ferþe, þat goþ welſumly.
 xxx A leoun, moſt ſtrong of beſtes, at `aȝen coomyng of noon ſhal dreden;
 xxxi a cok gyrd vp þe leendis, and a ram, and þer is not þat wiþtonde to hym.
 xxxii And þat fool ſhal ſeme, aftir þat he is rerid vp in to heeȝ; if forſoþe he hadde vnderſtonden, to his mouþ he hadde put on hond.
 xxxiii Who forſoþe ſtrongli þreſteþ tetes, to drawnen out mylc, þreſtiþ out buttere; and who hugeli ſmyteþ, drawiþ out blod; and who terreb wraþis, bringeþ forþ discordis.

Capitulum XXXI.

- i The wrdis of Lamuel, þe king; þe ſiȝte in whiche his moder taȝte hym.
- ii What my leef? what my leef of my wombe? what my leef of my vouwis?
- iii Ne ȝiue þou to wimmen þi ſubtaunce, and þi richeſſes to ben don awei kingus.
- iv Wile þou not to kingus, O! Lamuel, wile þou not to kingus ȝiue win; for no priuyte is, where drunkeneffe regneþ.
- v Leſt par auenture þei drinken, and forȝeten domes, and chaungen þe cauſe of þe ſonus of þe pore.
- vi ȝiueþ ciþer to mornende men, and win to hem þat ben in bitter inwit.
- vii Drinke þei, and forȝete þei of þer nedynesse; and of þer forewe recorde þei no more.
- viii Opene þi mouþ to þe doumbe, and to þe cauſes of alle ſones þat paſſen,
- ix opene þou þi mouþ. Deme þat is riȝtwis, and venge þe helpeles and þe pore.
- x Aleph. A ſtrong womman who ſhal finde? aferr and fro þe utmoſt endis þe pris of hir.
- xi Beth. Troſteþ in hir þe herte of hir man; and ſpoiles he ſhal not neden.
- xii Gimel. She ſhal ȝelde to hym good, and not euel, alle þe dazeſ of hir lif.
- xiii Deleþ. She ſoȝte wiſe and flax; and wroȝte bi þe counfeil of hir hondis.
- xiv He. She is mad as a ſhip of a marchaund, fro aferr bringende hir bred.
- xv Vau. And fro þe nyȝt ſhe ros, and ȝaf prei to hir homli men, and metis to hir hand wymmen.
- xvi Zay. She beheeld a feeld, and boȝte it; of þe frut of hir hondis ſhe plauntide a vyne.
- xvii Heth. She girde to wiþ ſtrengþe hir leendis, and made ſtalwrþe hir arm.
- xviii Teth. She taſtide, and ſaȝ, for good is þe chaffaring of hir; ſhall not ben quenchid in þe nyȝt þe lanterne of hir.
- xix Joth. Hir hond ſhe putte to ſtronge þingus, and hir fingris caȝten þe ſpindle.
- xx Caf. Hir hond ſhe openede to þe helpeles, and hir paumes ſhe ſtraȝte out to þe pore.
- xi Lameth. She ſhal not drede to hir houſ of coldys of fnoȝ; alle forſoþe hir homli men ben clad wiþ double.
- xxii Men. A rai cloþ ſhe made to hir; bijs and purþe þe cloþing of hir.
- xxiii Num. Noble in þe ȝates þe man of hir, whan he ſhal ſitte wiþ þe ſenatoures of þe erþe.
- xxiv Sameth. Sendel ſhe made, and folde; and a litil girdil ſhe toc to Canane.

- xxv Ayn. Strengþe and fairnesse þe cloþing of hir; and she shal laȝhen in þe laste dai.
- xxvi Fee. Hir mouȝt she openede to wiðdam; and þe lawe of noble merci in þe tunge of hir.
- xxvii Sade. She beheeld þe paþis of hir hous; and idil bred she eet not.
- xxviii Cof. Per risen þe sones of hir, and most blisful precheden; and þe man of hir preiside hir.
- xxix Res. Manie doȝtris gedereden richeffes; þou ouerpaffedist alle.
- xxx Syn. Desceyuable grace and veyn is fairnesse; þe womman dredende þe Lord, she shal be preisid.
- xxxi Thau. ȝiueþ to hir of þe frut of hir hondis; and preisen hir in þe ȝates hir werkis.

ECCLESIASTES.

Heere gynneþ þe prologue in þe poc of Eccleſiaſtes, þat is to fey, poc of talker to þe purple, or togidere clepere.

This almost þe fifte ȝeer, whan ȝit I was at Rome, þat Eccleſiaſten I shulde reden to Seint Bleſſill, þat hir I shulde ſtire to þe diſpifing of þes world, and þat she shulde ſett al þat in þe world ſhe beholdip, to ben for noȝt, I haue mynde, me preȝid of hir, þat in to maner of a ſhort expositioun alle þe hard þingus I shulde clerli expoune, þat, wiþoute me, ſhe myȝte vnderſtonde þat ſhe radde; and ſo for in þe firſte greiþing of oure werc, ſhe wiþdrawen wiþ ſodeyn deþ, and, O! Paule and Eustoche, wee deserueden not to ha fuch a felawē of oure lif, and wiþ ſo myche wounde ſmyten, þanne I becam doumb. Now in Bethlem ſet, þat is, in a ſtreitere cite, I ȝeelde þat I owe and to þe mynde of hir and to ȝou; þis ſhortli doende to witen, þat þe autorite of no man I folewede, but tranflatende fro Ebru moſt I confoormede me to þe cuſtum of þe Seuenti Remenoures, in þese þingus onli þat not myche fro Ebrues þey diſcordeden. Oberwhile alſo I recordid of Aquile, alſo and of Simake, and of Theodocian, þat I shulde not feren þe ſtudi of þe redere wiþ to myche newenesse, ne, on þe oþer ſide, þe welle of treuþe left, aȝen my concience I shulde togidere foļewen þe ſtremes of opinyouns.

Heer gynneþ þe booc.

Capitulum I.

- i The wrdis of Eccleſiaſtes, ſone of Dauid, king of Jeruſalem.
- ii Vanite of vanites, feide Eccleſiaſtes; vanite of vanytes, and alle þingus vanyte.
- iii What haþ a man more ouer of al his trauaile, þat he trauaileþ vnder þe funne?
- iv Jeneracioun goþ, and ieneracioun comeþ; þe erþe forſoþe in to wiþ outhende ſtant.

- v Þe funne riſiþ vp, and goþ doun, and to his place turneþ aȝeen;
- vi and þere aȝeen riſende goþ aboute bi þe ſouþ, and turneþ aȝeen to þe norþ. Enuyrounende alle þingus þe ſpirit in cumpas paſſeþ, and in to his cercles turneþ aȝeen.
- vii Alle flodis entreñ in to þe ſe, and þe ſe redoundiþ not; to þe place whennes þe flodis wenten out, þei turnen aȝeen, þat eft þei flowen out.
- viii Alle þingus harde, and a man mai not þem tellen out pleynli wiþ wrd; þe eȝe is not fild wiþ ſiȝte, ne fulſild is þe ere wiþ heering.
- ix What is þat was, it þat is to come? What is þat is mad, it þat is to be maad?
- x No þing vnder þe funne newe, ne any man mai feyn, Lo! þis is fresh newe; now forſoþe it wente befor in worldis, þe whiche weren befor vs.
- xi Per is not mynde of þe rabere þingus, but and of þo þingis forſoþe, þat ben aftir to come, shal not ben recording anent hem þat be to come in þe laste time.
- xii I Eccleſiaſtes was king of Irael in Jeruſalem;
- xiii and I purpoſide in myn inwit to feche and enſerchen wiſli of alle þingus, þat ben mad vnder funne. Pis werſte ocupacioun ȝaff God to þe ſonus of men, þat þei shulden ben occupied in it.
- xiv I faȝ alle þingus þat ben mad vnder þe funne, and, lo! alle þingus vanite and tormenting of ſpirit.
- xv Peruertid men of hard ben amendid; and wiþoute ende is þe noumbre of foolis.
- xvi I ſpac in myn herte, ſeide, Lo! gret I am mad, and I wente befor all in wiðdam, þat were befor me in Jeruſalem; and my mynde beheeld manye þingus wiſli, and I lernede.
- xvii And I ȝaf myn herte, þat I knewe prudence and doctrine, and erroris and folie. And I knewȝ þat in þese þingis alſo was trauaile and tormenting of ſpirit;
- xviii for þi þat in myche wiðdam is myche indignacioun, and þat addiþ kunning, addeþ and trauaile.

Capitulum II.

- i I feide in myn herte, I ſhal go, and flowe delices, and I ſhal take þe frutis in goodis; and I faȝ alſo þat þat was vanyte.
- ii And laȝhing I heeld errour, and to ioȝe I feide, Wherto in veyn þou art bigilið?
- iii I þoȝte in myn herte to wiþdrawe fro wyn my flesh, and myn inwit to bern ouer to wiðdam, and þat I ſhulde eschewe folie, to þe tyme þat I ſhulde ſeen, what were profitable to þe ſonus of men; þe whiche þing don, nede is to þer lif in þe noumbre of dæſes vnder þe funne.
- iv I magnefiede my werkis, I bilde to me houſes, and plauntide vynes;
- v I made gardynes and appil gardynes, and I plauntide þem wiþ þe trees of alle kinde;

vi and I made out to me cysternes of watrie, þat I shulde watren þe wode of þe buriouynge tres.
 vii I weldide feruauns and hand wymmen, and myche meyne I hadde; droues also, and grete flockis of sheep, ouer alle men þat weren befor me in Jerusalem.
 viii I hepede to me siluer and gold, and substaunces of kingus and of prouynces; I made to me fingeris and fingeresses, and þe delices of sonus of men, cuppis and pottis in feruise, to wynes to ben held; ix and I passede in richeffes alle, þat beforne me weren in Jerusalen. Wifdam also abod stille wiþ me, x and alle þingus þat desireden myn eȝen, I denyede not to þem; ne I forfendide myn herte, but þat of alle voluptuouste he shulde take frut, and al delicen hym self in þese þingus þat I hadde greibid; and þis I alouwide my part, for I shulde vſen my trauaile.
 xi And whan me I hadde turned to alle þe werkis þat myn hondis hadden don, and to þe trauailes in whiche in veyn I hadde swat, I saȝ in alle þingus vanyte and tormenting of inwit, and no þing to dwelle stille vnder þe funne.
 xii I passede, and to ben beholden wifdam, and erroures, and folie; what is forsoþe a man, þat he mowe folowen þe king, his makere?
 xiii And I saȝ, þat so myche wifdam wente beforne folie, hou myche liȝt is in difference fro dercnesses.
 xiv Of þe wife man þe eȝen in his hed, þe fool goþ in dercnesses; and I lernede, þat o diyng was of euere eiþer.
 xv And I feide in myn herte, If oon and of þe fool and my diyng shal be, what to me profiteþ, þat more bifynesse I ȝaf to wifdam? And spoken wiþ my mynde, I toc heed, þat þat also was vanyte.
 xvi Forsoþe þer shal not be þe mynde of þe wife man, lic maner as of þe fool in to wiþoute ende, and þe times to come wiþ forȝeting alle þingus shul couere togidere; þe taȝt man dieþ also and þe vntaȝt.
 xvii And þerfore it noȝede me of my lif, seende alle euelis to ben vnder þe funne, and alle þingus vanytes and tormenting of spirit.
 xviii Eft I wlatede alle my bifynesse, þat vnder þe funne molt studioulli I trauailede, to han an eir after me, xix whom I knowe not, wheþer wis or fool he be to ben; and shal lordshipen in my trauailes, in þe whiche I haue myche swat, and ben bify; and alle þing is so veyn.
 xx Wherfore I cefede, and myn herte forsoc more to trauaile vnder þe funne.
 xxi For whan an oper shal trauaile in wifdam, and doctrine, and bifynesse, and to an idil man þe purchasid þingus lefeþ; and þat þanne vanyte, and gret euel.
 xxii What forþoþe shal profite to a man of al his trauaile, and of þe tormenting of spirit, þat vnder þe funne he is tormentid?

xxiii Alle þe daȝes of hym of forewes and myseyse ben ful, and bi þe nyȝt in mynde he restep not; and wheþer is not þat vanyte?

xxiv Wheþer is it not betere to eten and drinke, and to shewe to his lif þe goodis of his trauailes? and þat is of þe hond of God.

xxv Who shal so deuouren, and delicis flowen, as I?

xxvi To a good man in his ȝiȝte God ȝaf wifdam, and kunnynge, and vnderstanding; to þe synnere forsoþe he ȝaf tormenting, and wast bifynesse, þat he adde, and gedere togidere, and take to hym þat shal plesen to God; but and þis vanite, and wast bifynesse of mynde.

Capitulum III.

i Alle þingus han time, and in þer spaces passen alle þingus vnder þe funne.

ii Time of hauyng birþe, and time of diyng; time of plaunting, and time of pulling vp þat is plautid.

iii Time of fleying, and time of heling; time of deftroȝing, and time of bilding.

iv Time of weeping, and time of laȝhing; time of weiling, and time of leping.

v Time of sprenging abrod stones, and time of gadering togidere; time of clipping, and time to ben maad aferr fro clippingus.

vi Time of purchasing, and time of leesing; time of keping, and time of casting awei.

vii Time of kutting, and time of souwing togidere; time of holding pes, and time of speking.

viii Time of loouing, and time of hate; time of bataile, and time of pes.

ix What habþ a man more of his trauaile?

x I saȝ þe affliccioun, þat God ȝaf to þe sonus of men, þat þei be tormentid in it.

xi Alle þingus he made goode in þer time, and þe world he toc to þe disputisoun of þem, þat a man finde not þe werec þat God wroȝte fro þe bigynnynge to þe ende.

xii And I kneȝ þat þer was not betere, but to gladen, and to do good in þer lif.

xiii Eche man forsoþe þat etiþ and drinkeþ, and seeþ good of his trauaile; þat þe ȝifte of God is.

xiv I lernede þat alle werkis, þat God made, dwellen stille in to wiþ oute ende; wee moun not to þem any þing adden, or taken awei, þat God made, þat he be drad.

xv þat is maad, it dwelliþ stille; þat ben to come, now weren; and God restoreþ þat, þat ȝide awei.

xvi I saȝ vnder funne in þe place of dom vnpitousnesse;
 and in þe place of riȝtwisnesse wickidnesse.

xvii And I feide in myn herte, þe riȝtwis and þe vnpitous þe Lord shal demen; and tyme of alle þing þanne shal be.

xviii I feide in myn herte of þe sonus of men, þat God shulde prouen hem, and shewen to ben lic to bestis.

xix Perfore oon is þe diyng of men and of bestis, and euene þe condicioun of euere eiþer; as a man dieþ, so and þo dien; lic maner breþen alle þingus, and no þing hab a man more þan a beste.

xx Alle þingus vnderlin to vanyte, and alle þingus gon to o place; of erþe þei ben maad, and in to erþe togidere þei turnen aȝeen.

xxi Who kneȝ, if þe spirit of þe sonus of Adam steȝe vp aboue, and if þe spirit of bestis go doun bynþe?

xxii And I parceyuede no þing to ben betere, þan a man to gladen in his werc, and þat to ben þe part of hym; who forsoþe hym shal leden to, þat aftir hym he knowe þingis to come?

Capitulum III.

i I turnede me to obere þingus, and I saȝ challenges, þat vnder þe sunne ben don, and þe teres of innocens, and no man coumfortende; ne to moun wiþstonde þe violence of þem, benomen þe helpe of alle.

ii And I preifede more þe deade þan þe liuende;

iii and I demede hym welsumere þan eiþer, þat ȝit is not born, ne saȝ þe euelis þat ben don vnder þe sunne.

iv Eft I beheeld alle þe trauailis of men, and þe besynesses I tooc heed to ben opened to þe enuye of neȝhebore; and in þat þanne vanyte, and waſt besynesse is.

v Þe fool foldeþ togidere his hondis, and eteþ his flesh, vi sciende, Betere is a litil handful wiþ reste, þan ful eiþer hond wiþ trauaile and tormenting of inwit.

vii Beholdende I founde and an oþer vanyte vndir þe sunne;

viii oon is, and þe secunde hab not; nouþer sone, ne broþer; and ner þe latere to trauailen he ceseþ not, and ner þe latere his eȝen ben not fild wiþ richeſſes; ne he þenkeþ aȝeen, sciende, To whom trauaile I, and begile my foule of goodis? In þat also ys vanyte, and werſt tormenting.

ix Betere is 'bat two ben togidere þan oon; forsoþe þei han auaantage of þer felashipe.

x If oon shul fallen, of þe tober he shal ben holden vp; wo to þe alone, for whan he shal fallen, he hab not a man rerende hym vp.

xi If two shul slepe, þei shul ben nurshid togidere; oon, what maner shal he be maad hot?

xii If any man haue þe ouere hond aȝen oon, two wiþstonden to hym; a þre fold corde hard is to-broken.

xiii Betere is a child pore and wis þan a king old and fool, þat cannot seen beforne in to aftir.

xiv þat and fro prisoun and cheynes oþerwhile sum man goþ out to a reume; and an oþer born into a reume wiþ myseife is waſtid.

xv I saȝ alle liuende men þat gon vnder þe sunne, wiþ þe ȝunge ful waxynge þe secunde, þat shal rise for hym.

xvi Wiþ oute ende is þe noumbe of puple, of alle þat weren beforne hym, and þat aftir ben to comen, shul not gladen in hym; but and þis vanyte and tormenting of spirit.

Capitulum V.

i Kep þou þi foot, goende in to þe hous of God, and neȝhe þat þou heere; forsoþe myche betere is obeisaunce þan victorie sacrificiles of foolis, þat wite not what þei don of euel.

ii And speke þou not folili any þing, ne þin herte be swift to bringe forþ a wrd beforne God; God forsoþe in heuene, and þou vp on erþe, and þefore fewe be þi wrdis.

iii Sweuenus folewen manye besynesses, and in manye wrdis shal ben founde folie.

iv If any þing þou haue vouwid to God, ne tarie þou to ȝelde; forsoþe displeisib to hym vnfeiþful and fool beheste; but what euere þou auouwist, ȝeeld;

v and myche betere it is to not auouwen, þan aftir þe vow þe bihestis to not ȝelde.

vi Ne ȝiue þou þi mouȝ, þat þou make þi flesh to synnen; ne sey þou biforn þe aungil, Pere is not purueying; leſt parauenture þe Lord, wroþ vp on þi wrdis, scatere alle þe werkis of þin hondis.

vii Wher many sweuenes ben, many vanytes, and wrdis vnnoumbreable; þou forsoþe dred God.

viii If þou shalt feen wronge chalengis of nedis men, and violent domes, and riȝtwisnesse to be turned vpso doun in prouynce, wndre þou not vp on þis nede; for þan þe heeȝ an oþer is heȝere, and vp on þese opere alſo ben heȝere stondende;

ix and ferþermore þe king of al erþe comaundib to þe seruende.

x Þe auerouse shal not ben fulſild wiþ monee; and þat looueþ richeſſes, frut shal not take of þem; and þis þanne vanyte.

xi Wher ben many richeſſes, and manye þat eten hem; and what profiteþ to þe weldere, but þat he feep þe richeſſes wiþ his eȝen?

xii Swete is flep to þe werchere, wheþer litil or myche he ete; fulnesse forsoþe of þe riche man suffriþ hym not to ſlepen.

xiii Per is and an oþer infirmyte werſt, þat I saȝ vndir þe sunne; richeſſes kept in to euel of his lord.

xiv Forsoþe þei perſhen in þe werſte tormenting; 'he gat a sone, þat in heȝest nedynesse shal be.

xv As he wente out nakid of þe wombe of his moder, so he shal turne aȝeen; and no þing he shal take wiþ hym of his trauaile.

xvi Wreccheful forsoþe infirmyte; what maner he cam, so he shal turne aȝeen. What þanne profiteþ to hym, þat he trauailede in to wind?

xvii Alle þe dazis of his lif he eet in dercneſſes, and in many besynesses, and in myſeife, and forewe.

xviii And so þis to me is seen good, þat a man ete, and drinke, and vse gladnesse of his trauaile, þat he trauailede vnder þe funne, in noumble of þe dæzes of his lif, 'þe whiche God ȝaf to hym; and þis is his part.
xix And to eche man, to whom God ȝaf richeffes, and substaunce, and power he ȝaf to hym, þat he ete of hem, and take þe frut of his part, and glade of his trauaile; þis is þe ȝifte of God.
xx Forsoþe not 'a feep he shal recorde of þe dæzes of his lif, þer þurȝ þat God occupie in delicens his herte.

Capitulum VI.

i Ther is and an oþer euel, þat I saȝ vnder þe funne; and forsoþe ofte anentis men.
ii A man to whom God ȝaf richeffes, and substaunce, and wrshepe; and no þing lackeþ to his soule of alle þingis þat he desireþ; and God ȝyueþ not power to hym, þat he ete of it, but a straunge man shal deouuren it. Þis is vanyte, and gret wrecchidnesse.
iii If any man geete an hundred free childer, and liue many ȝeris, and many dæzes of his age hadde, and þe soule of hym vse nott þe goodis of his substaunce, and lacke sepulture; of þat I pronounce, þat betere þan he be maad 'a dead born.
iv In veyn forsoþe he cam, and wente to dercnesses; and bi forȝeting shal be don awei þe name of hym.
v He saȝ not þe funne, ne kneȝ þe distaunce of good and euel;
vi also if two þousend ȝeer he shulde liue, and hadde not ful vſid þe goodis; wheþer not to o place gon alle?
vii Al þe trauaile of man in þe mouȝ of hym, but þe soule of hym shal not be fulfilld wiþ goodis.
viii What more haþ a wis man þan a fool? and what a pore, but þat he go þider, wher is lif?
ix Betere is to seen þat þou coueitist, þan to desire þat þou wost not; but and þis is vanyte, and presumpcioun of spirit.
x Who is to come, now is clepid þe name of hym, and is knownen, þat he be a man, and mai not aȝen a strengere þan hymself striuen wiþ in dom.
xi Wrdis ben manye, and myche in disputing vanyte hauende.
xii What nede is to a man more þingus þan hymself to sechen; whan he vnknowiþ, what it bringe to hym in his lif, bi noumble of dæzes of his pilgrimage, and bi time þat as shadewe pasfede? or who to hym shal moun shewen, what after hym be to come vnder þe funne?

Capitulum VII.

i Betere is a good name þan precious oynementes; and þe dai of deb þan þe dai of birþe.
ii Betere is to go to þe hous of weiling, þan to þe hous of a feste; in it forsoþe þe ende of alle men is warned, and liuende he þenkeþ, what be to come.

iii Betere is wraþe þan laȝhing; for bi forewe of þe chere þe wil of þe trespassere is amendid.
iv Þe herte of wife men where is forewe; and þe herte of foolis where is gladnesse.
v Betere is to be chaftisid of a wis man, þan bi flatering of foolis to be desceyued;
vi for as þe soun of brennende þornes vnder a pot, so þe laȝhing of a fool.
vii But and þis vanyte. Chaleng disturbeþ þe wife man, and shal leesen þe strengþe of his herte.
viii Betere is forsoþe þe ende of orisoun þan þe begynnynge. Betere is a pacient man þan þe enhauncende hymself.
ix Be þou not swift to wraþen; for wraþe in þe bosum of a fool restiþ.
x Ne seye þou, What wenest þou of cause is, þat þe raþere tymes betere weren þan now ben? folie forsoþe is such a maner asking.
xi Profitablere forsoþe is wið richeffes, and more profitiþ to men seende þe funne.
xii Forsoþe as wiðdam defendiþ, so monee; þis forsoþe more haþ lernynge and wiðdam, þat lif þei ȝeelden to þer weldere.
xiii Behold þe werkes of God, þat no man mai amende, whom he despiseþ.
xiv In þe goode dai vse goodes, and þe euele dai be war biforn; as forsoþe þis, so and it God made, þat a man finde not aȝen hym riȝtwis pleyntes.
xv Þese þingus also I sawȝ in þe dæzes of my birþe; þe riȝtwis pershede in his riȝtwisnesse, and þe vnpitous myche time liueþ, and in his malice.
xvi Wile þou not ben myche riȝtwis, ne more sauouren þan is nede; leſt þou become stonied.
xvii Ne myche vnpytouſli do þou, and wile þou not ben a fool; leſt þou die in þe time not þin.
xviii Good is, þee to sustenen þe riȝtwis; but and fro hym ne wiðdrawe þou þin hond; for who dredeþ God, no þing necgligentli leueþ.
xix Wiðdam coumfortede þe wife, ouer ten princes of þe cite.
xx Þer is not forsoþe a riȝtwis man in þe erþe, þat do good, and not synne.
xi But and to alle wrdis, þat ben seid, ne leeue þou þin herte; leſt parauenture þou heere a feruaunt cursende to þee; xxii þi conscience forsoþe wot, for and þou ofte ſiþes cursedit to opere.
xxiii Alle þingis I saȝede in wiðdam; I feide, Wis I shal be maad, and it ferþere wente awei fro me, xxiv myche more þan it was; and heeȝ depnesse, who shal finde it?
xxv I cumpaffede alle þingus in myn inwit, þat I shulde witen, and beholde, and ſechen wiðdam and refoun, and þat I shulde knowe þe vnpitousnes of þe fool, and þe errour of vnprudent men.

xxvi And I fond a womman bitterere þan deb, þe whiche is þe grene of hunteres, and a net þe herte of hir, bondis ben þe hondis of hir; who plesip to God, shal ascapen hir, who forsoþe is a synnere, shal be caȝt of hir.
 xxvii Lo! þis I fond, feide Eclesiaastes, oon and oper, þat I shulde finde resoun, xxviii þat ȝit sechisþ my soule; and I fond not. A man of a þousend oon I fond, a womman of alle I fond not.
 xxix Onli þis I fond, þat God made man riȝt; and he hymself mengde wiþ questiouns wiþ oute ende. Who such oon as þe wife is? and who kneȝ þe solucioun of þe wrd?

Capitulum VIII.

i The wifdam of a man liȝtneþ in þe chere of hym; and þe most myȝti þe face of hym shal chaungen.
 ii I þe mouȝt of þe king kepe, and hestes and þe opis of
 God.
 iii Ne heȝe þou to gon awei fro þe face of hym, ne abide þou stille in euel werc. For al þat he wille, he shal do;
 iii and þe fermoun of hym is ful of power, ne any man mai sey to hym, Whi doſt þou þus?
 v Who kepeþ þe heſt, shal not ben expert any þing 'of euel; time and answering þe herte of þe wife man vnderstant.
 vi To alle nede time is and couenablenesse; and myche tormentyng of a man, vii þat vnknowiþ þe paſſide þingus, and þe to comen bi no messager he may wite.
 viii It is not in a manrys power to defende þe spirit, ne he haþ power in þe dai of deb, ne it is suffrid to resten, bataile aȝencomende; ne vnpitousnesse shal faue þe
 vnpitous.
 ix Alle þese þingus I beheeld, and ȝaf myn herte in alle werkis, þat ben mad vnder funne. Oþerwhile a man lordshipeþ to a man, in to his euel.
 x I saȝ vnpitous men biried, þat alfoo, whan ȝit þei liueden, 'in holi place weren; and þei weren preised in þe cite, as of riȝtwis werkis; but and þis is vanyte.
 xi Forsoþe for þer is not broȝt forþ anoon aȝen euele men sentence, wiþoute any drede þe sones of men werchen eueles.
 xii And ner þe latere þe synnere, of þat, þat an hundrid sibes he doþ euel, and bi pacience is sustened, I kneȝ þat þer was good to men dredende God, þat reuerentli dreden þe face of hym.
 xiii Be þer not good to þe vnpitous, ne be þer aferr longid þe daȝes of hym; but as shadewe passē þey, þat dreden not þe face of þe Lord.
 xiv Þer is and an oþer vanyte, þat is don vp on erþe.
 Þer ben riȝtwis men, to þe whiche eueles comen forþ, as werkes þei diden of vnpitous men; and þer ben vnpitous men, þat ben so sikir, as þoȝ þei hadden þe deedis of riȝtwis men; but and þis most veyn I deme.

 xv I preiside þefore gladnesse, þat þer was not to man good vnder funne, but þat he ete, and drinke, and ioȝe; and þat onli wiþ hym he take of his trauaile, in þe daȝes of his lif, þat God ȝaf to hym vnder þe sunne.
 xvi And I leide to myn herte, þat I wite wifdam, and vnderstante distinciou, þat goþ on erþe. Þer is a man, þat daȝes and niȝtus slep takeþ not to his eȝen.
 xvii And I vnderstod, þat of alle þe werkis of God, no resoun of þem mai a man finde, þat ben mad vnder þe funne; and hou myche more he trauailede to sechen, so myche lassē he shal finde; also if þe wife man shal sei hymself to han knownen, he shal not moun finde.

Capitulum IX.

i Alle þese þingus I tretede in myn herte, þat I vndirstonde curyously. Þer ben riȝtwise and wife men, and þe werkis of hem in þe hond of God; and ner þe latere a man wot not, wheper looue or hate he be wrþi.
 ii But alle þingus in to time to come ben kept vncerteyn; for þi þat alle þingus euenli comen to þe riȝtwis and to þe vnpitous, to þe goode and to þe euele, to þe clene and to þe vnclene, to þe offrende ostis and victorie sacrificises, and to þe despisende sacrificises; as a good man, so and a synnere; as a forsworn, so and he þat soþ fwerþ.
 iii þis is þe werste among alle þingis, þat vnder þe funne ben don, for þe same þingus to alle men fallen; wherfore and þe hertes of þe sonus of men ben fulſild wiþ malice and wiþ dispising in þer lif; and aftir þese to helle þei shul ben broȝt doun.
 iv No man is, þat euermor liue, and þat of þis þing haue troſt; betere is a quyc dogge þanne a leoun dead.
 v Lyuende men forsoþe witen þemself to be to dien;
 deade forsoþe no þing knewen more, ne han ouer meede; for to forȝeting taken is þe mynde of hem.
 vi Looue also, and hate, and enuyes togidere perheden; and þei han not part in þis world, and in þe werk þat vnder þe funne is don.
 vii Go þanne, and ett in gladnesse þi bred, and drinc wiþ ioȝe þi win; for to God pleſen þi werkis.
 viii Alle times be þi cloþis white, and oilre fro þin hed faile not.
 ix Parfitli vſe lif wiþ þe wif þat þou loouest, alle þe daȝes of þi lif of þin vnstablenesse, þat ben ȝyue to þee vnder funne, al þe time of þi vanyte; þis is forsoþe part in lif, and in þi trauaile, þat þou trauailist vnder funne.
 x What euere þing mai þin hond don, beſili werc; for nouþer werc, ne resoun, ne wifdam, ne kunningg is anent helle, whider þou goſt.
 xi I turnede me to an oþer þing, þat I saȝ vnder funne neiþer cours to ben of swifte men, ne bataile of stronge men, ne bred of wife men, ne richesses of taȝt men, ne

- grace off craftis men; but time and chauns in alle þingus.
- xii A man wot not his ende; but as fiffis ben take wiþ þe hoc, and as briddes ben caȝt wiþ þe grene, so ben taken men in euel time, whan to þem fodeynli it comeþ ouer.
- xiii Þis also vnder sunne I saȝ wisdam, and prouede þe mooste.
- xiv A litil cite, and fewe men in it; þer cam aȝen it a gret king, and besegede it, and made out strengþis bi enuyroun; and ful mad is þe fege.
- xv And þer is founden in it a pore man and a wis; he delyuered þe cite bi his wisdam, and no man þerafter recordede of þat pore man.
- xvi And I seide, betere to ben wisdam þan strengþe; what maner þanne þe wisdam of þe pore man is despisid, and þe wrdis of hym ben not herd?
- xvii Þe wrdis of wise men ben herd in silence, more þan þe cri of a prince among foolis.
- xviii Betere is wisdam þan armes for bataile; and who in oon shal synnen, many goodis shal leese.

Capitulum X.

- i Fleȝis diende leesen þe swotnesse of þe oynement. More precious is wisdam and litil glorie at tyme, þan folie.
- ii þe herte of þe wise man in þe riȝthalf of hym; and þe herte of þe fool in þe lifthalf of hym.
- iii But and in þe weie a fool goende, whan he be an vnwis man, alle foolis eymef.
- iv If þe spirit of þe hauende power steȝe vp vp on þee, þi place ne lefe þou; for kuring makeþ to cefe most synnes.
- v Þer is euel, þat I saȝ vnder þe sunne, as bi errour goende out fro þe face of þe prince;
- vi a fool set in heeȝ dignete, and riche men to feete beneþe.
- vii I saȝ seruauntis in hors, and princes goende as seruauns vp on erþe.
- viii Who delueþ a dich, falliþ in to it; and who scatereþ þe hegg, shal biten hym þe shadewe eddere.
- ix Who berþ ouer stones, shal be tormentid in hem; and who hewiþ trees, shal be woundid of hem.
- x If aȝeen smyten were þe iren, and þat not as bifore, but were bluntid, wiþ myche trauaile shall be whettid out; and aftir þe besynesse shal solewe wisdam.
- xi If þe eddere bijte in silence, no þing lasse þan he hap, þat priueli bacbiteþ.
- xii þe wrdis of þe wise mouȝ grace; and þe lippis of þe vnwise shuln stumblen hym doun.
- xiii þe bigynnynge of þe wrdis of hym folie; and þe last þing of þe mouȝ of hym werft errour.
- xiv A fool multeplieþ wrdes; a man vnknowiþ what beforne hym was, and what after is to come, who to hym shal moun shewe?

- xv Þe labour of foolys shal tormenten hem, þat kunnen not in to þe cite gon.
- xvi Wo to þee, þou lond, whos king is a child, and whos princes erli eten.
- xvii Blisful þe lond, whos king is noble; and whos princes eten in þer time, to fillen, and not to leccherie.
- xviii In flouþis shal be mekid þe ioynynge of sparres; and in infirmyte of hondis þe hous shal droppe þurȝ.
- xix In laȝhing þei make bred and wyn, þat þei ete drinkende; and to monee obeshen alle þingus.
- xx In þi þenkis ne bacbite þou to þe king, and in þe priuyte of þi bed, ne curse þou to þe riche man; for and þe foulis of heuene shuln bern þi vois, and þat hap federes, shal telle out sentence.

Capitulum XI.

- i Send þi bred vp on men passende watriis, for after manye times þou shaltinden it.
- ii ȝif partis seuene, and also eiȝte; for þou knowist not, what be to comen of euelis vp on erþe.
- iii If þe cloudis weren fulfilld, weder vp on erþe þei shul heelden out; if þe tree shul falle to þe souþ, or to þe norþ, in what euere place it shul falle, þere it shal be.
- iv Who waiteþ wind, sowlþ not; and who biholdiþ cloudis, neuermore shal repe.
- v What maner wife þou knowest not, what be þe weie of þe spirit, and bi what resoun bones ben ioyned in þe wombe of þe womman wiþ childe, so þou wost not þe werkes of God, þat is forgere of alle þingus.
- vi Erli sowe þi seed, and at eue ne cefe þin hond; for þou wolt neuer, whiche more growe, þis or þat; and if eiþer togidere, þe betere shal be.
- vii Sweete þe tree, and delitable is to eȝen to seen þe sunne.
- viii If manye ȝeres a man lyued, and in alle þese þingus were glad, he owiþ to han mynde of þe derke tyme, and of many daȝes; þe whiche whan þei shul come, of vanyte shul ben vndernomen þe passed tymes.
- ix Panne glade þou, ȝunge man, in þi waxende age, and in good be þin herte in þe daȝes of þi ȝouþe, and go in þe weies of þin herte, and in þe siȝte of þin eȝen; and wite þou, þat for alle þese þingus God shal bringe þee in to dom.
- x Do awai wraȝe fro þin herte, and put awai malice fro þi flesh; forsoþe waxende age and voluptuouste ben veyn.

Capitulum XII.

- i Haue mynde of þi creatour in þe daȝis of þi ȝouþe, and er time come of tormenting, and neȝhen þe ȝeres, of þe whiche þou seye, þei plesen not to me.
- ii Er þe funne waxe derc, and liȝt, and sterres, and moone; and þe cloudis turnen aȝeen after reyn.
- iii Whan shul be moued þe keperes of þe hous, and þe most strong men wageren; and idil shuln ben þe wymmen grindende in a litil noumbre, and feende bi holes shul waxe drec;

iii and clofen þe dores in þe strete, in þe meknesse of þe vois of hir grindende; and þei shul rise at þe vois of þe brid, and alle þe doȝtris of þe song shul become doumb.

v Heze þingus also shul dreden, and quaken in þe weie; þe almaunder shal flouren, and þe locust shal be mad fat, and þe erbe caperis shal be scatered; for a man shal gon in to þe hous of his euerlastingesse, and men weilende shul gon aboute in þe strete.

vi Er be to-broke þe silueren corde, and aȝeen come þe goldene filet, and þe stene be to-brosid vp on þe welle, and to-broke be þe wheel vp on þe cisterne;

vii and pouder turne aȝeen in to his erþe, whenes he was, and þe spirit go aȝeen to God, þat ȝaf it.

viii Vanyte of vanytes, seide Ecclesiastes, vanyte of vanytes, and alle þingus vanyte.

ix And whan Ecclesiastes was most wis, he taȝte þe puple, and tolde out what he hadde do, and enserchende made manye parablis;

x he soȝte profitable wrdis, and wrot most riȝt sermounes, and ful of treube.

xi Pe wrdis of wise men as prickes, and as nailes in to heiȝte piȝt, þat bi þe counseiles of maistris ben ȝiuen of oon shepperde.

xii More þan þese, sone myn, ne seche þou; of making manye bokis is noon ende, and ofte beþenking is tormenting of þe flesh.

xiii Eende of speking alle heere wee togidere. Dred God, and his heftis kep; þat is, eche man.

xiv Alle þingus þat ben mad, he shal bringe in to dom; for eche errid þing, wheþer good or euel it be.

Here endip Ecclesiastes, and here bigynneþ þe book, þat is clepid Songis of Songis, of þe bridalis of Crist and of þe Chirche.

SONGUS OF SONGIS.

Heer gynneþ þe booc þat is clepid Songus of Songis, of þe bridalis of Crist and of þe Chirche.

Capitulum I.

i [Pe Chirche, of þe comyng of Crist spekiþ, seiende,] Kiffe he me wiþ þe cos of his mowþ.

ii [Pe vois of þe Fader.] For betere ben þi tetes þan wyn, smellende wiþ best oynemens.

iii [Pe vois of þe Chirche.] Oile held out, þi name; þerfore þe ȝunge waxende wymmen looueden þee ful myche.

iv [Pe vois of þe Chirche to Crist.] Draȝ me aftir þee; wee shul rennen in þe smel of þin oynemens. [Pe Chirche seiþ of Crist.] Broȝte me in þe king in to his celeris; wee shul ful out ioȝen, and gladen in þee, myndeful of þi tetes, vp on wyn; riȝt men loouen þee.

v [Pe Chirche of hir tribulacions.] O! ȝee doȝtris of Jerusalem, blac I am, but shapli, as þe tabernacles of Cedar, as þe skynnes of Salomon.

vi Wileþ not beholden, þat I be broun, for discoloured me haþ þe sunne; þe sonus of my moder foȝten aȝen me, þei setteden me keperie in vynes; my vyneȝerd I kepte not.

vii [Pe vois of þe Chirche to Crist.] Shew þou to me, whom looueþ my soule, wher þou ȝiuest leswe, wher þou ligge in myddai; left to gon vagaunt I bygynne, aftir þe flockis of þi felawis.

viii [Pe vois of Crist to þe Chirche.] If þou knowest not þee, O! þou most fair among wymmen, go out, and go awai after þe steppis of þi flockis; and feed þi got, biside þe tabernaclis of shepperdis.

ix To my riding in charis of Farao I licnede þee, O! my leef.

x Faire ben þi cheekes, as of a turtl; þi necke as brooches.

xi Goldene ribanes wee shul make to þee, mad fijr red wiþ siluer.

xii [Pe vois of þe Chirche of Crist.] Whan þe king was in his liyng place, my mad encens ȝaf his smel.

xiii A bundel of myrre my leman is to me; betwe my tetes he shal dwelle.

xiv Pe clustre of cipre tree my leman to me, in þe vynes of Engaddy.

xv [Pe vois of Crist to þe Chirche.] Lo! þou art fair, my leef; lo! þou fair, þin eȝen of culueres.

xvi [Pe vois of þe Chirche to Crist.] Lo! þou art fair, my leman, and semeli; oure bed shynende.

xvii Pe trees of oure houses cedre; oure couplis cipresse.

Capitulum II.

i [Pe vois of Crist, of hym and of þe Chirche.] I þe flour of þe feeld, and þe lilie of aleyes.

ii As a lilie among bornes, so my leef among doȝtres.

iii [Pe vois of þe Chirche of Crist.] As an appil tree among þe trees of wodis, so my leman among fones. Vnder þe shadewe of hym, whom I hadde desirid, I sat; and his frut sweete to my protre.

iv [Pe king ledde me in his win celer; he ordeynde in me charite.

v Vnder ley ȝee me wiþ floures, setteþ me aboute wiþ appelis; for I languyfhe for looue.

vi [Pe vois of þe Chirche of Crist.] Pe lift hond of hym vnder myn hed; and his riȝt hond shal clippe me.

vii [Pe vois of Crist, of þe Chirche.] I adiure ȝou, ȝee doȝtris of Jerusalem, bi þe capretes, and þe hertes of feeldis, ne rere ȝee, ne makeþ my leef to waken, to þe time þat shal wile.

viii [Pe vois of þe Chirche, of Crist.] Pe vois of my leman; lo! þis comeþ lepende in mounteynes, and ouer lepende hillis.

ix Lic is my leman to a capret, and to an hert calf of hertis; lo! he stant bihynde oure wal, biholdende bi þe windowes, aferr lookende þurȝ þe latises.

x Lo! my leman spekeþ to me, Ris, go þou, my leef, my culuer, my shapli, and cum; xi now forsoþe wintre passede, weder ȝide fro, and is gon awei.

xii Floures apereden in oure lond, time of cutting is come; þe vois of þe turtiil is herd in oure lond, xiii þe fige tree broȝte forþ his first figus; þe vynes flourende ȝiuen þer smel. [Pe vois of Crist to þe Chirche.] Ris, go, my leef, myn shapli, and cum þou.

xiv My culuer in þe holis of þe ston, in þe chyne of a ston wal. Shewe þou to me þi face, soun þi vois in myn eres; þi vois forsoþe is swete, and þi face semeli.

xv [Pe vois of Crist to þe Chirche, aȝen eretikis.] Take ȝee to vs little foxes, þat destroȝen vynes; for oure vyne flourede.

xvi [Pe vois of þe Chirche of Crist.] My looued to me, and I to hym, þat is fed among lilies; xvii to þe time þat þe dai springe, and shadewes be bowid in. Turne aȝeen; lic be þou, O! my leman, to a capret, and to þe hert calf of hertis, vpon þe mounteynes of Bethel.

Capitulum III.

i [Pe vois of þe Chirche, gedered togidere of Jentiles.] In my litle bed by niȝtis I soȝte, whom loouede my soule; I soȝte hym, and I fond not.

ii I shal rise, and gon abouþ þe cite, bi townes and stretis; I shal seche, whom looueþ my soule; I soȝte hym, and foond not.

iii Pere founden me þe waccheres, þat kepe þe cite. [Pe Chirche seiþ of Crist to þe Apostolis.] Wheþer whom looueþ my soule, ȝee seȝen?

iv A litil whan I hadde passid þem, I fond, whom looueþ my soule; I heeld hym, and I shal not lefe, to þe time þat I bringe hym in to þe hous of my moder, and in to þe bed of hir þat gat me.

v [Pe vois of Crist, of þe Chirche.] I adiure ȝou, ȝee doȝtris off Jerusalem, bi capretis, and hertis of feedlis, ne rere ȝee, ne make ȝee my leef to wake, to þe time þat she wile.

vi [Pe sinagoge of þe Chirche.] What is she, þis þat steeþ vp bi desert, as a lytil ȝerde of smoke of þe swote splices, of myrre, and of cense, and of alle pmentarie poudre?

vii [Pe vois of þe Chirche of Crist.] Lo! þe litle bed of Salomon sixty stronge men cumpassen, of þe most stronge men of Israel;

viii þe whyche alle ben holdende swerdis, and to bataile best taȝt; of `eche on þe fwerd vp on his hipe, for þe nyȝt dredes.

ix [Pe vois of Crist, and of þe Chirche, chosen of Jentilis.] A chaȝer king Salomon made to hym, of þe trees of Liban;

x his pileris he made siluerene, þe lenyng place goldene, þe steȝing vp purper; þe myddes he enournede wiþ charite, for þe doȝtris of Jerusalem.

xi [Pe vois of þe Chirche, of Crist.] Goþ out, and seeþ, ȝee doȝtris of Sion, king Salomon in þe diadem, in þe whiche crounede hym hys moder, in þe dai of spousing of hym, and in þe dai of gladnesse of his herte.

Capitulum III.

i [Pe vois of Crist to þe Chirche.] Hou fair art þou, my leef, hou fair art þou; þin eȝen of culueres, wiþoute it bat wiþynne forþ is hid; þin heres as þe flockes of get, bat steeȝeden vp fro þe hil of Galaad.

ii ȝi teþ as þe flockys of clippid sheep, þat steeȝeden vp fro þe washing place; alle wiþ double lombis in þe wombe, and bareyn þer is not among hem.

iii As a fyr red silkene filet þi lippes, and þi faire speche sweete; as þe breking of a poumgarnet, so þi chekes, wiþoute it, þat wiþinne forþ sit hid.

iv As þe tour of Dauid þi necke, þat is bild out wiþ pynacles; a þousend sheldis hangen of it, al þe armoure of stronge men.

v ȝi two tetes as two ȝunge capretes, twynlingus of þe capret, þat ben fed in lilies, vi to þe time þat þe dai breþe out, and þe shadewes ben inbowed. I shal go to þe mount of mirre, and to þe hil of cens.

vii Al fair þou art, my leef, and wem is not in þee.

viii Cum þou fro Liban, my spouse; cum from Liban, cum; þou shalt be crouned fro þe hed of Amana, fro þe frount of Samur and of Ermon, fro þe couches of leouns, and þe hil of pardis.

ix þou haft woundid myn herte, my sister; my spouse, þou haft woundid my herte, in oon of þin eȝen, and in oon her of þi necke.

x Hou faire ben þi tetes, my sister, my spouse; fairere ben þi tetes þan win, and þe smel of þin oynemens ouer alle spices.

xi A droppende honycomb þi lippes, spouse; hony and mylc vnder þi tunge, and þe smel of þi cloþingus as þe smel of cens.

xii A cloȝid gardin, my sister spouse; a cloȝid gardyn, a welle felid.

xiii ȝin outsendingus paradis of poungarnetes, wiþ þe frutis of appilis, of cipre tre, wiþ narde;

xiv and narde, and safrun, fistula, and canel, wiþ alle þe trees of Liban, myrre, and aloes, wiþ alle þe firste oynemens.

xv þe welle of gardynes, þe pit of liuende watriis, þat flowen wiþ bire fro Liban.

xvi Ris, norþ, and cum, souþ; bloȝ þurȝ my gardyn, and þer shul flowe swote splices of it.

Capitulum V.

i [Pe Chirche seiþ of Crift.] Come, my leef, in to his gardyn; and ete he þe frut of his appellis. [Crift seiþ to be Chirche.] Cum in to my gardin, my sister, my spouse. I haue gedered my mirre, wiþ my swoote splices; I eet myn honycomb, wiþ myn hony; I dranc my wyn, wiþ my mylc. [Crift to be Apostolis seiþ.] Eteþ, ȝee frendes, and drinkeþ; and ȝee most derwrþe, beþ inwardli maad drunke.

ii I slepe, and myn herte wakeþ. [Pe vois of þe Chirche of Crift.] þe vois of my leman knockende; opene þou to me, myn sister, my leef, my culuer, myn vnewmed; for myn hed is ful of dew, and my temple heres of þe dropis of nyȝtis.

iii I spoilede me my coote; hou shal I be clad it? I wesh my feet; hou shal I defoule þem?

iv My leman putte his hond bi þe hole; my wombe inwardli tremblede at þe touching of hym.

v I ros, þat I shulde opene to my leman; myn hondis droppeden mirre, and my fingres ful of best proued myrre.

vi þe lach of my dore I openede to my leman; and he hadde bowid aside, and passede. My soule is molten, as my leman spac; I soȝte, and I fond not hym; I clepede, and he answarde not to me.

vii Per founden me þe keperes þat gon aboue þe cite; þei smyten me, and woundeden me; token my mantil þe keperes of þe wallis.

viii I adiure ȝou, ȝee doȝtris of Jerusalem, if ȝee shul finde my leman, þat ȝee telle to hym, for I languyfþe for looue.

ix [Pe vois of frendis seiþ to þe chirche.] Whiche is þi leman of þe looued, O! þou most fair of wymmen? whiche is þi leman of þe looued? 'for so þou haſt adiurid vs.

x [Pe vois of þe chirche of Crift seiþ to þe frendis.] My leman whit and roody; chosen of þousendis.

xi His hed beſt gold; his her as braunchis of palmes picke lefed, blac as a crowe.

xii Hys eȝen as culueres vp on litle ryueres of watriſ, þat ben wasshe wiþ mylc, and fitten bi þe most ful flowingus of watriſ.

xiii þe chekis of hym as litle flores of swote spicis, plaunted of pymenteries; his lippis droppende þe first myrre.

xiv þe hondis of hym able to turnen aboue, goldene, and ful of iacyntis; his wombe is yuerene, departid bi safiris.

xv His hipis marbil pileres, þat ben foundid vpon goldene feet; his fairnesse as of Liban, and chosen as of cedre.

xvi þe þrote of hym most sweete, and he al desirabile. Such is my looued, and þis is my leman, ȝee doȝtris of Jeruſalem.

Capitulum VI.

i [Pe vois of holi foules, of þe Chirche.] Whider ȝide awei þi leman, O! þou most fair of wymmen? whider bowede doun þi leef? and wee shul sechen hym wiþ þee.

ii [Pe vois of þe Chirche, of Crift.] My leef wente doun in to his garddyn, to þe flor of swote splices, þat pere he be fed in þe gardynes, and lilies he gedere.

iii I to my leef; and myn leef to me, þat is fed among lilies.

iv [Pe vois of Crift to þe Chirche.] Fair þou art, my leef, sweete and fair as Jerusalēm, ferful as þe sheltrun of tentes ordeyned.

v Turne awey þin eȝen fro me, for þei maden me to fleen awei; þin heres as þe flockis of she got, þat aperede fro Galaad.

vi þi teþ as a floc of shew, þat stezeden vp fro þe wasshing place; alle wiþ double frut of wombe, and barein þere is not in hem.

vii As þe rinde of poungarnet, so þi chekis, wiþoute þin hid pingus.

viii Sixty ben quenes, and eiȝeti ben secundarie wifes; and of ȝunge waxen wymmen þer is no noumber.

ix Oon is my culuer, my parfit, oon is to hir moder, chosen of hir þat gat hir; þer seeȝen hir þe doȝtris of Sion, and most blisful precheden; þe quenes, and þe secundarie wifes preyfeden hir.

x What is she þis, þat goþ forþ as morutid riȝing, fair as þe moone, chosen as þe funne, ferful as of tentes sheltrun ordeyned?

xi [Pe vois of þe Chirche, of þe sinagoge.] I wente doun in to my gardyn, þat I shulde seen þe appellis of aleies, and beholde, if þe vynes hadden floured, and þe poungarnetis hadden buriouned.

xii I wist not; myn soule disturbide me, for þe four horsid cartis of Amynabab.

xiii [Pe vois of þe Chirche, of þe feiþ of þe natiuite.] Turne aȝeen, turne aȝeen, Sunamytiȝ; turne aȝeen, turne aȝeen, þat wee byholde þee. [Pe vois of Crift to þe Chirche, of þe synagoge.] What shalt þou seen in Sunamye, but queres of tentes?

Capitulum VII.

i [Pe vois of Crift to þe Chirche.] Hou faire ben þi goingus in shon, þou doȝter of þe prince; þe ioyntures of þin hipes as brooches, þat ben forgid wiþ þe hond of þe craftsman.

ii þi nauue a turned cuppe, neuere nedende drinkes; þi wombe as an hep of whete, set about wiþ lilies.

iii þi two tetus as two range capretis, iemews of þe she capret.

iv þi necke as an yuerene tour; þin eȝen as þe cysternis in Eſebon, þat ben in þe ȝate of þe doȝter of þe multitude; þi nose as þe tour of Liban, þat beholdiȝ aȝen Damasch.

- v Bin hed as Carmel; bin heres of bin hed as þe purper of þe king, ioyned to water pipes.
- vi Hou fair þou art, and hou semeli, þou most derwrþe in delices.
- vii Bi stature is licned to a palm, and bi tetes to clustris.
- viii [Crist of þe holi cros seiþ.] I seide, I shal steȝen in to a palm tree, and I shal take þe frutis of it. [Pe vois of Crist to þe Chirche.] And bi tetes shul ben as þe clustris of a vyne; and þe smel of bi mouþ as þe smel of appelis,
- ix and bi þrote as best wyn. [Pe Chirche seiþ of Crist.] Wrþi to my leef to dricken, to þe lippes and to þe teþ of hym to chewen.
- x 'I to my leef, and to me þe turnyng of hym.
- xi [Pe vois of þe Chirche to Crist.] Cum, my leef, go wee out in to þe feeld; dwelle wee togidere in tounes.
- xii Erli rise wee to þe vyne; see wee, if þe vyne flourede, if þe floures frutes bringe forþ, if þe poumgarnetes floureden; þere I shal ȝiue to þee my tetes.
- xiii þe mandrages ȝeuen þer smel in oure ȝates; alle appelis, newe and olde, my leef, I kepte to þee.

Capitulum VIII.

- i [Pe vois of patriarchis, of Crist.] Who to me ȝyueþ þee, my broþer, soukende þe tetes of my moder, þat I finde þee alone wiþoute forþ, and kisse þee, and now me no man dispise?
- ii I shal take þee, and ledin in to þe hous of my moder, and in to þe bed place of hir þat gat me; þere þou shalt teche me, and I shal ȝyue to þee dricken of spiced win, and of þe must of my poumgarnetes.
- iii þe lift hond of hym vnder myn hed, and þe riȝt hond of hym shal clippe me.
- iv [Pe vois of Crist, of þe Chirche.] I adiure ȝou, ȝee doȝtris of Jerusalem, ne rere ȝee, ne makeþ to waken my leef, to þe time þat hle wile.
- v [Pe vois of þe sinagoge, of þe Chirche.] What is hle þis, þat steȝeb vp fro desert, flowende delices, faste cleuende vpon hir leef? [Pe vois of Crist to þe sinagoge, of þe holi cros.] Vndir an apil tree I rerede þee; þere shent is bi moder, þere defouldid is hle þat gat þee.
- vi Put me as a brooche vpon biñ herte, as a brooche vpon biñ arm; for strong is as deb looue, hard as helle ieloufnesse; þe laumpis of it þe laumpes of fir, and of flaumes.
- vii Manye watriis shul not moun quenchon out charite, ne flodis shul not browen it doun. If a man ȝeue al be substaunce of his hous for looue, as noȝt he dispisiþ it.
- viii [Pe vois of Crist to þe sinagoge, of þe holi Chirche.] Oure sister a litil child, and tetes hle haþ not; what shul wee do to oure sister, in þe dai whan hle is to ben spoken to?

- ix If a wal hle is, bilde wee vp 'on it siluerene pynaclis; if a dore hle is, ioyne wee it wiþ ceder tables.
- x [Pe vois of þe Chirche answeringe.] I a wal, and my tetes as a tour; ȝiben I am mad befor þee as pes resceyende.
- xii [Pe sinagoge of þe Chirche seiþ.] A vyne hle was to þe pesible; in hir þat haþ puples, hle toc it to þe keperes; a man takeþ awei for þe frut of it a þousend siluer plates.
- xiii [Crist to þe Chirche seiþ.] My vine bifor me is; a þousend bi pesiblis, and two hundrid to þem þat kepen þe frutis of it.
- xvii [Pe vois of þe Chirche to Crist.] Flee þou, my leef; be þou licned to a capret, and to an hert calf of hertes, vp on þe mounteynes of fwote splices.

WISDAM.

Heer begynneþ þe prolog in þe booc of Wifdam.

The booc of Wifdam anent Ebrues noȝher is; wherfore and þat diting þe more smelleþ fair Grec speche. Þys booc þe Jewis afermen to ben of Filon, þat þerfore Wifdam is nemned, for in it þe comyng of Crist, þat is þe wifdam of þe Fader, and þe paſſion, diligentli is opened.

Heer begynneþ þe book of Wifdam.

Capitulum I.

- i Looue ȝee riȝtwifnesse, þat demen þe erþe; feeleþ of þe Lord in goodnesse, and in simplenesse of herte lecheþ hym.
- ii For he is founden of hem, þat tempten hym not; he apereþ forsoþe to þem, þat feiþ han in to hym.
- iii Shreude forsoþe þoȝtis feueren fro God; preued forsoþe vertu chaſtiseþ vnwise men.
- iv For in to an euell willi soule shal not gon in wifdam; ne shal dwelle in a bodi soget to synnes.
- v An holi spirit forsoþe hle flee þe feynere of discipline, and shal taken hymself awei fro þoȝtis, þat ben wiþout vnderstanding; and he shal be chaſtisid fro þe ouercomende wickidnesse.
- vi Benyngne is þe spirit of wifdam, and he shal not deliuere þe cursid fro his lippis; for of þe reenus of hym witnesse is God, and of þe herte of hym he is verre ferchere, and of þe tunge of hym herere.
- vii For þe Spirit of þe Lord fulfilde þe rondnesse of londis; and þat, þat conteneþ alle þingus, kunning haþ of vois.
- viii For þat 'he þat spekeþ wicke þingus, mai not lurke; ne chaſtysende dom shal beside passen hym.
- ix In þe þoȝtis forsoþe of þe vnpitous asking shal be. Of þe fermounes forsoþe of hym heering to God shal come, and to þe correcciouns of þe wickidnesses of hym; x for þe ere of þe ielous hereþ alle þingis, and þe noise of gruccingus shal not ben hid.

 xi Kepe ȝee þanne ȝou fro gruccing, þat no þing profiteþ, and fro bacbiting `spareþ to þe tunge; for a derc fermoun in veyn shal not go; þe mouþ forsoþe þat lieþ, fleþ þe foule.
 xii Wileþ not loouen deþ, in error of ȝoure lif, ne purchase ȝee perdicioun in þe werkis of ȝoure hondis; xiii for God made not deþ, ne gladeþ in þe leefing of men `of liue.
 xiv Forsoþe God made, þat alle þingus weren; and able to helpe he made þe naciouns of þe roundnesse of londis. Forsoþe þer is not in hem leching of destruccioun, ne þe reume of helle is in þe erþe.
 xv Riȝtwisnesse forsoþe is perpetuel, and vndeadli; vnriȝtwisnesse forsoþe purchasifg of deþ.
 xvi Vnpitouſe men forsoþe wiþ hondis and wrdis haunteden it, and eymende it a frend, floweden doun, and behestes þey putteden to it; for deþ þei ben wrþi, þat ben of þe part of it.

Capitulum II.

i Forsoþe vnpitouſe men feiden, þenkende anent hemselue not riȝt, Litil and wiþ noȝe is þe time of oure lif; þer is not refreshing in þe ende of a man, and þer is not, þat be knownen turned aȝeen fro helle.
 ii For of noȝt wee ben born, and aftir þese þingus wee shul be, as þoȝ wee hadden not ben; for smoke and blast is in oure nose þerles, and fermoun of a sparcle to stirn togidere oure herte.
 iii For quenchyd ashen shal ben oure bodi, and þe spirit shal be held abrod as `soft eir; and oure lif shal passe as þe step of a cloude, and as a litil cloude ben vnknyt, þat is dryuen of þe bemes of þe sunne, and of þe hete of it aggregid.
 iv And oure name forȝeting shal take by tyme; and no man shal han mynde of oure werkis.
 v Forsoþe þe paffing of þe shadewe is oure tyme, and þer is not turning aȝeen of oure ende; for it is al closid, and no man turneþ aȝeen.
 vi Comeþ panne, and vse wee þe goodis þat ben, and vse wee creature, as in oure ȝouþe, swiftli.
 vii Wiþ precyous win and oynemens fille wee vs; and passe not vs þe flour of tyme.
 viii Crowne wee vs wiþ roses, er þei welewen; no medwe be, þat oure leccherie passe not þurȝ.
 ix Noon of vs be wiþoute lot of oure leccherie; ouer al lefe wee signes of gladnesse; for þis is oure part, and þis is lot.
 x Oppresse wee þe riȝtwis pore man, and spare wee not to þe widewe, ne wrshipe wee hoere heres of þe olde man of myche time.

xi Be forsoþe oure strengþe þe lawe of vnriȝtwisnesse; forsoþe þat þat is feble, vnpfiftable is founde.
 xii Bigile wee þanne þe riȝtwis man, for vnpfiftable he is to vs, and contrarie to oure werkis; and repreuendeli puttih to vs þe synnes of lawe, and defameþ aȝen vs þe synnes of oure disciplyne.
 xiii He behoteþ hym þe kunnyng of God to han, and þe sone of God he nemþeþ hymself.
 xiv He is mad to vs in to ouerleding of oure þoȝtis.
 xv Heuy he is to vs also to seen; for vnlc to opere is þe lif of hym, and myche chaungid ben þe weies of hym.
 xvi As trifleres wee ben eymed of hym, and he abfteneþ hymself fro oure weies, as fro vnclemnesses; and he tellih biforn þe laste þingus of riȝtwis men, and he glorieþ hymself to han God to fader.
 xvii See wee þanne, if þe wrdis of hym ben trewe; and aȝaze wee, what ben to comen to hym; and wee shul wite, what shul ben þe laste þingis of hym.
 xviii If forsoþe he is verre sone of God, he shal vndertaken hym, and delyuere hym fro þe hondis of þe contrariose.
 xix Wiþ wrong vndernymyng and torment aske wee hym, þat wee wite þe reuerence of hym, and proue þe pacience of hym.
 xx Bi moft foul deþ condempne wee hym; forsoþe respit shal be of þe wrdis of hym.
 xxi Peſe þingus þei þoȝten, and erreden; and þe malice of hem blendede þem.
 xxii And þei knewen not þe sacramens of God, ne hopeden þe meede of riȝtwisnesse, ne demeden þe wrshepe of holi soules.
 xxiii For God made man vndeadli, and to þe ymage of his licnesse made hym.
 xxiv Forsoþe þurȝ þe enuye of þe deuel deþ cam in to þe roundnesse of erþis; forsoþe þei foilewen hym, þat ben of þe part of hym.

Capitulum III.

i The foules of riȝtwis men ben in þe hond of God; and torment of deþ shal not touche þem.
 ii Þei ben seen to þe eȝen of vniwise men to dien; tormenting is eymed þe iſſue of hem.
 iii And fro a riȝtwis weie þei wenten in to destruccioun, and þat of vs ys weie of destruccioun; þei forsoþe ben in pes.
 iv And if befor men þei suffreden tormentis, þe hope of hem is ful of vndeadlynesse.
 v In fewe þingus trauailid, in manye þingus þei shul be weel dispoſid; for God temptede þem, and fond hem wrþi hymself.
 vi As gold in furneis he prouede þem, and as brent sacrifice of ost he loouwede þem;
 vii and in time shal ben þe biholding of hem. Þei shul shyne riȝtwis, and as sparcles in reddy places þei shuln renne hider and þider.

viii Bei shul deme naciouns, and lordshipen to puples; and þe Lord of hem shal regne in to wipoute ende.
 ix Who trosten in hym, shuln vnderstonde treue; and feiþful in looue þei shul assente to hym; for free ȝifte and pes is to be chosen men of hym.
 x Vnpitous men forsoþe, aftir þat þei þoȝten, vndernymynges shuln han; þat dispiseden þe riȝtwis, and fro þe Lord wenten awei.
 xi Wifdam forsoþe and discipline who castel awei, is vnseli; and voide is þe hope of hem, and trauailes wipoute frut, and vnprofitable þe werkis of þem, and vnable to dwelle in.
 xii Þe wymmen of þem ben vnwise, and most wicke þe sonus of hem.
 xiii Cursid þe creature of þem; for seli is þe bareyn, and þe vndeſoulid, þat kneȝ not þe bed in trespass, shal han frut in beholding of holi soulis.
 xiv And þe gelding, þat wroȝte not bi his hondis wickidnesse, ne þoȝte aȝen þe Lord most wicke þingus; forsoþe þer shal ben ȝiue to hym þe chosen fre ȝifte of þe beleeue, and lot in þe temple of God most aloowid.
 xv Forsoþe of goode trauailes glorious is þe frut, and þe whiche þe roote of wifdam al to-ſtereþ not.
 xvi Þe fones forsoþe of auoutreres in ending shul ben, and fro þe wicke bed þe feed shal ben outlawid.
 xvii And if forsoþe of long lif þei shul be, in noȝt þei shul be countid; and wipoute wrshire shal be þe laſte eelde of hem.
 xviii And if swiftliere þei shul ben dead, þei shul not han hope, ne in þe dai of knouleching speche.
 xix Forsoþe wicke naciouns ben of hard ending.

Capitulum III.

i O! hou fair is chaſt ieneracioun wiþ clerte; vndeadli forsoþe is þe mynde of it, for anent God it is knowe, and anent men.
 ii Whan preſent it is, þei folew; and desiren it, whan 'it haþ lad out itſelf, and it crouned in to wipoute ende berþ þe victorie, takende bi victorie þe meede of þe vndeſoulid ſtrues.
 iii Forsoþe þe manyfold gotten multitude of vnpitouse men shal not ben profitable; and auoutrie plauitingis shul not ȝiue heeȝe rootis, ne ſtable ſtedefafteſſe ſetten.
 iv And if in þe braunchis in þe tyme buriounen, vnfabli ſet of þe wind þei shul ben al to-ſtirid, and of þe mychilnesſe of windis pullid vp bi þe rootis.
 v Forsoþe braunchis vnendid shul be tobrokeñ; and þe frutis of þem vnprofitable, and ſoure to ete, and to no þing able.
 vi Forsoþe alle þe ſonus, þat shul ben born of wicke men, witneſſes ben of ſhreudenenesſe aȝen fader and moder, in þer asking.
 vii Þe riȝtwis forsoþe, if he were beforne occupied bi deþ, in refreshing shal ben.

viii Þe laſte age forſoþe wrshireful is not longe durende, ne in noumbeſ of ȝeres countid;
 ix hoere ben þe wittis of man, and þe age of eelde liþ vndeſoulid.
 x Þe plesing to God mad looued, and lyuyng among synneres is tranſlatid; xi he is raueshid, leſt malice shulde chaunge þe vnderſtonding of hym, or leſt feynyng shulde begile þe ſoule of hym.
 xii Forſoþe priue desceyuyng of trifling derkneþ goode þingus, and vnfableſſe of coueiting ouerturneþ wit wipoute malice. xiii Þe ful endid in ſhort fulfilde manye tymes;
 xiv pleſid forſoþe to God was þe ſoule of hym; for þat he wente to bringen hym out fro þe myddel of ſhreudenenesſe; xv puples forſoþe ſeende and not vnderſtondende, nouþer ben puttende in þer hertes ſuche þingis. For grace of God and mercy is 'in to his feynis, and ferþermor relſit in to þe chofyn of hym.
 xvi Forſoþe þe riȝtwis dead condempneþ þe vnpitous men on liue; and ȝouþe ſwiftliere endid, þe longe lif of þe vniȝtwis.
 xvii Forſoþe þei shul ſee þe ende of þe wise man, and þei shul not vnderſtond, what God haþ þoȝt of hym, and whi þe Lord mynushte, 'or made lytil hym.
 xviii þei shul ſeen, and diſpiſen hym; hem forſoþe þe Lord shal ſcorne. And þei shul ben after þeſe þingus falling doun wiþ oute wrshire, and in wrong blamynge among þe deade in to wipoute ende.
 xix For þem inwardli blowen he shal to-breke wipoute vois, and ſtern hem fro þe foundemens; and vnto þe heȝest þei shul ben defolat. And þei shul be weilende, and þe mynde of hem shal perſhen.
 xx þei shul comen in þe þenking of þer synnes dredful; and shuln ouerleden hem forn aȝen þe wickidnesſeſſe of hem.

Capitulum V.

i Thanne shul ſtonde riȝtwis men in gret ſtedefafteſſe aȝen hem þat anguylheden hem, and þat token awei þe trauailes of hem.
 ii Seende þei shul ben diſturbid wiþ orrible drede, and shul merueilen in þe ſodeyneſſe of þe vnhopid helþe, iii weilende for anguylh of ſpirit, ſciende, wiþinne þemſelf penaunce doende, and for anguylh of ſpirit weilende, þeſe ben, whom wee hadden ſum tyme in to ſcorn, and in to liceneſſe of repreſ.
 iv Wee vnwife eymeden þe lif of hem wodneſſe, and þe ende of þem wiþout wrshire;
 v hou þanne ben þei countid among þe ſonus of God, and among feynis þe lot of hem is?
 vi Perfore wee erreden fro þe weie of treue, and þe liȝt of riȝtwisneſſe liȝtede not to vs, and þe funne off vnderſtonding is not ſprunge to vs.

vii Weri wee ben in þe weie of wickidnesse, and of perdicoun; and wee han gon harde weies. Þe wei forsoþe of þe Lord wee knewen not;

viii what profitede to vs pride, or bost of richeffes what ȝaf it to vs?

ix Alle þo þingus passeden as shadewe, and as a messager rennende biforn.

x And as a ship, þat passeth þurh þe flowende water, of þe whiche whan it is passid, a step is not to finde, ne a pap of his botme in þe flodis.

xi Or as a brid, þat ouerfleþ in þe eir, of þe whiche noon euydence is founden of his weie, but onli þe soun of weengis betende þe liȝt wind, and kuttende bi fors þe eir of þe weie, and togidere stirid þe weenges ouerfleþ, and aftir þat no signe is founden of his weie.

xii Or as an arwe sent out in to þe ordeyned place, þe eir deuydid contynueli is reclosid in it, þat þe passing of it be vnknowen.

xiii So and wee born contynueli lefen to ben, and of vertue noon forsoþe signe wee myȝten shewe; in oure wariedhed forsoþe wee ben waſtid. Such þingus seyden in helle þese þat fynnedēn.

xiv For þe hope of þe vpititous is as a wile loke, 'or þistildoun þat of þe wind is taken awei, and as a smal fome þat of tempest is sprengd awei, and as smoke þat of þe wind is held abrod, and as þe mynde of a geste of o dai, passende biside.

xv Riȝtwise men forsoþe in to wiþoute ende shul lyue, and anent þe Lord is þe meede of hem; and þe þoȝt of hem anent þe heȝest.

xvi Berfore þei shul take þe reume of wrliche, and þe diademe of fairnesse of þe hond of þe Lord; for wiþ his riȝt hond he shal couere þem, and wiþ his holi arm defenden hem.

xvii And þe ielouste of hym shal taken armure, and armen creature to þe veniyng of enemys.

xviii He shal clopen for þe breſt plate riȝtwisnesse, and he shal take to for þe helm certein dom;

xix he shal take þe sheeld vnuenkufable equite;

xx he shal sharpe forsoþe hard wraþe in to a spere, and þe roundnesse of erþis shal fiȝte wiþ hym aȝen þe vnwile.

xxi Þe ſendingus out of leitis shul gon euene riȝt, and as at þe teiſing þe bowe of cloudis bent, þei shul ben outlawid; and to a certeyn place þei shul lepen in.

xxii And fro þe ſtony wraþeful hailes shul ben ſent, and water of þe ſe ſhal teenden in to þem, and flodis shul renne togidere hard.

xxiii Aȝen hem þe ſpirit of vertue ſhal ſtonde, and as a whirl puff of wind deuyden hem; and to wildernesſe he ſhal fulli bringen al þe lond of þe wickidnesse of hem, and wariedhed ſhal turne awei þe fetis of myȝti men.

Capitulum VI.

i Betere is wiſdam þan ſtrengþis, and a man prudent more þan a ſtrong man. Hereþ panne, ȝee kingis, and vndirſtondiþ; lerneþ, ȝee domes men of þe coeſtes of þe erþe.

ii ȝiueþ eres, ȝee þat holden togidere multitudis, and plesen to you in cumpanyes of naciouns;

iii for þer is ȝouen of þe Lord power to you, and vertue of þe heiȝeſte, þat ſhal alſke ȝoure werkis, and þoȝtis ferchen.

iv For whan ȝee weren mynestrēs of his reume, not riȝtli ȝee demeden, ne kepten þe lawe of riȝtwisnesse, ne aftir þe wil of God ȝee wenten.

v Orribleli and foone he ſhal apere to you; for moſt hard dom ſhal ben don in hem, þat ben biforn.

vi Forſoþe 'to þe little is grauntid mercy; myȝty men forſoþe myȝtili tormentis ſhul ſuffre.

vii Forſoþe he ſhal not wiþdrawe þe perfone of any man, þe Lord, þat is lordſhipere of alle þingus, and he ſhal not drede þe mykilnesſe of any man; for litil and gret he made, and euenli cure is to hym of alle.

viii To þe ſtrengere forſoþe ſtrengere ſtant in tormenting.

ix To you þanne, kingus, ben þese my wrdis, þat ȝee lerne wiſdam, and þat ȝee falle not of.

x Who forſoþe ſhul kepe riȝtwisnesse, riȝtly ſhul be demed; and þat ſhul lerne riȝt þingus, ſhul finde, what þei anſwere.

xi Coueiteþ þanne my wrdys, and looueþ hem; and ȝee ſhuln han disciplyne.

xii Wiſdam is cler, and þat neuere welewiþ; and liȝtli is ſeen of hem þat loouen it, and is founde of hem þat fechen it.

xiii It beforne occupieþ þat coueyteþ it, þat to þem raþere he ſhewe hymſelf.

xiv Who fro liȝt ſhal wake to it, ſhal not traualien; forſoþe he ſhal finde it fittende in his ȝates.

xv Panne to þenken of it is ful endid wit, and he þat ſhal wake for it, foone ſhal be ſikir.

xvi For it goþ aboute ſechende þe wrþi itſelf; and in his weis it ſhal ſhewe itſelf to þem, and gladſumli in alle prouydence 'or before ordeynyng it ſhal aȝen come to þem.

xvii Þe bigynnyng forſoþe of it is moſt verre coueyting of discipline. Panne cure of discipline is loouyng; xviii and loouyng is keping of his lawis. Keping forſoþe of lawes is ful ending of vncorupcioun;

xix vncorupcioun forſoþe makiþ next to God to ben.

xx And so coueiting of wiſdam ſhal lede forþ to þe euerlaſtende kingdam.

xxi If panne ȝee deliten in ſetes, and in kingus dignetees, O! ȝee kingis of þe puple, looueþ wiſdam, þat in to wiþoute ende ȝee regne. Looueþ þe liȝt of wiſdam, alle ȝee, þat ben toforn to puplis.

xxii What is forſoþe wiſdam, and hou it be mad, I ſhal telle; and I ſhal not hide fro you þe sacramentis of God; but fro þe bigynnyng of birþe I ſhal enferche, and putten in to liȝt þe kunningyng of it, and I shal not pasſe biſide þe treue.

xxiii Ne wiþ þe quyterende enuye weie I shal han; for ſuch a man ſhal not ben parcener of wiſdam.

xxivii Þe multitude forſoþe of wiſe men helþe is of þe roundneſſe of erþis; and a wiſ king is þe ſtablete of þe puple.

xxv Panne takiþ discipline bi my wrdis, and it ſhal profite to ȝou.

Capitulum VII.

i I am forſoþe and a deadli man, lic to men, and of þe erþi kinde of hym þat raþere is mad, ii and in þe wombe of þe modir figured I am flesh. In time of ten moneþis cruddid I am in to blod, of þe ſed of man, and of couenable deliting of ſlep.

iii And I born toc comun eir, and lic maner fel doun in to þe mad erþe; and þe firſte vois, lic alle, I putte out weeping.

iv I was nurſhid in ſwaþing cloþis, and in grete befynesse;

v no man forſoþe of kingis oþer haþ bigynnnyng of birþe.

vi Oon entre is to alle to lif, and liþc iſſue.

vii For þat I defirede, and þere is ȝiue to me wit; and I inwardli clepide, and þere cam in me þe ſpirit of wiſdam.

viii And I putte it biforn to reumes, and ſetes; and richeffes I feide no þing to ben in comparifoun of it, ix ne I comparifounede to it a precious ſton; for alle gold in comparifoun of it is a litil grauel, and as clei ſiluer ſhal ben eymed in þe ſiȝte of it.

x Ouer helþe and fairneſſe I loouede it; and I purpoſide for liȝt to han it, for vnquenchable is þe lyȝt of it.

xi Forſoþe þere camen to me alle goodis togidere wiþ it; and vnnoumbrable honeſte by þe hondis of it.

xii And I gladede in alle þingus; for þis wiſdam wente befor me, and I kneȝt not, for of alle goodis it is moder.

xiii For wiþoute feynyng I lernede, and wiþoute enuye I comune; and þe oneſte of it I hidde not.

xiv Forſoþe trefor it is wiþoute ende to men, þe whiche who uſeden, parcener ben mad of þe frenſhiſe of God, commendid for þe ȝiftis of discipline.

xv To me forſoþe God ȝaf to ſeyn of ſentence, and to take bifore þe wrþi þingis of þeſe þat ben ȝiue to me; for he is duk of wiſdam, and þe mendere of wiſe men.

xvi In þe hond forſoþe of hym and wee, and oure wrdis, and alle wiſdam, and diſciplyne of þe kunningyng of werkes.

xvii He forſoþe ȝaf to me verre kunningyng of þeſe þat ben, þat I wite þe diſpoficioun of þe roundneſſe of erþis, and þe vertues of elemens;

xviii þe begynnnyng, and þe ende, and þe myddil of tymes; þe chaungingus of whilemelis, and þe endingus of times; þe chaungingus of maneris, and deuyſeouns of times;

xix þe courſis of þe ȝeer, and þe diſpoficioun of sterres;

xx þe kindis of beſtes, and þe wraþis of noȝous beſtis;
þe ſtrengþe of windis, and þe þoȝtis of men; þe diſferences of ȝunge trees, and vertues of rootis.

xxi And what euere þing be hid and vnpurueid, I lernede;

xxii forſoþe þe craftus man of alle þingus taȝte me bi wiſdam. Forſoþe þer is in it þe ſpirit of vnderſtonding, hoeli, many fold, onli, ſotile, manerli, faire ſpekende, mouable, vndeſoulid, certeyn, ſweete, loouende good deede, þat no þing forſendip to do weel;

xxiii manli, benygn, ſtable, ſikir, alle hauende vertue, alle þingus beholdende, and þat takeþ alle intelligible ſpiritis, clene, ſotile.

xxiv Panne alle forſoþe mouable þingis mor mouable is wiſdam; forſoþe it ateyneþ ouer al, for his clennelleſſe.

xxv Forſoþe þe humour of þe vertu of God it is, and þe maner going out is a clene clerneſſe of þe Almyȝti God; and þerfore no þing defoulid renneþ in to it.

xxvi Forſoþe whitneſſe it is of þe euerlaſtende liȝt, and a merour wiþoute wem of þe maiete of God, and an ymage of þe goodneſſe of hym.

xxvii And ſiȝen it is oon, alle þingus it mai; and abidende ſtille in itſelf, alle þingus it neweb, and bi naciouns to hoeli ſoules it berþ ouer itſelf; þe frendis of God and profetes it ordeyneþ.

xxviii No man forſoþe God looueþ, but hym þat dwelliþ wiþ wiſdam.

xxix Forſoþe þis is fairere þan þe funne, and ouer al diſpoficioun of sterres; to liȝt comparyſouned, it is founde raþere.

xxx To it forſoþe nyȝt goþ doun; wiſdam forſoþe malice ouercomeþ not.

Capitulum VIII.

i Therfore it ateyneþ from ende vnto ende ſtrongli, and diſpoſeþ alle þingus ſweeteli.

ii Ȣis I loouede, and foȝte it out fro my ȝouþe; and I foȝte to taken it a ſpouse to me, and loouere I am mad of þe foorme of it.

iii It hauende þe cumpayne of God, glorifieþ þe ientilneſſe of it; but and of alle þingis þe Lord loouede
it.

iv Forſoþe þe techeriffe it is of þe discipline of God, and þe cheſeriffe of þe werkis of hym.

v And if richeffes ben defirid in þe lif, what richere þan wiſdam, þat wercheþ alle þingis?

vi If forſoþe wit wercheþ, who of þeſe þat ben, more is crafti man þan it?

vii And if riȝtwiſneſſe a man looueþ, þe trauailes of þis han grete vertues; ſobrenelleſſe forſoþe and prudence it techeþ, and riȝtwiſneſſe, and vertue; þan þe whiche more profitable no þing is in lif to men.

viii And if multitude of kunningyng desireþ a man, it knowiþ þe passid þingus, and of þe to comen it eymepþ; it knowiþ þe felnesse of wrdis, and þe soilingis off argumentis; þe toknes and wndris it knowiþ, er þei ben don; and þe chaunsis of tymes and of worldis.
 ix Panne I purposide þis to bringe to me, to festeye wiþ me; witende for wiþ me it shal comune of goodis, and þer shal be togidere speche of þenking, and of myn anoȝe.
 x I haue for þis to cumpanyes clernescse, and wrfshippe anent þe elderes;
 xi ȝung and sharp I shal be founde in dom, and in þe siȝte of myȝti men merueilous I shal be, and þe faces of princes shul merueilen me.
 xii ȝei shul sustene me, beende stille, and me spekende, beholden; and me fermounende manye þingis, hondis to þer mouȝ þei shul putte.
 xiii Ferþermor I haue bi þis vndeadlynesse; and euere lastende mynde to þem, þat after me ben to come, I shal lefe.
 xiv I shal dispose puples; and naciouns to me shul ben foget.
 xv Ferful kingus herende me shul dreden; and in multitude good I shal be seen, and in bataile stronge.
 xvi Entrende in to myn hous, I shal reste wiþ it; forsoþe þe conuersacioun of it haþ not bitternesse, ne noȝe þe wiþ lyuyng of it, but gladnesse and ioȝe.
 xvii ȝefse þingus þenkende anent me, and togidere membrende in myn herte; for vndeadli is wiðdam in þenking,
 xviii and in þe frenfhippe of it good delitende; and in þe werkus of þe hondis of it honeste wiþ oute failing, and in þe strif of þe speche of it wiðdam; and `gret openyng in comunycacioun of þe wrdis of it; I wente aboue, sechende þat to me it I shulde take.
 xix A child forsoþe I was witti, and bi lot hauende a good soule.
 xx And whan I was more good, I cam to a bodi vndefoulid.
 xxi And as I wiste, for oþer wife I mai not ben contenent, but God ȝeue, and þat selue was wiðdam, to knownen of whom was þat ȝifte; I wente to þe Lord, and preȝede hym, and seide, of alle þe entralis of myn herte.

Capitulum IX.

i God of my fadris, and Lord of mercy, þat madest alle þingus wiþ þi wrd,
 ii and wiþ þi wiðdam ordeynedest man, þat he shulde lordshopen of creature, þat of þee is mad, iii þat he dispose þe roundnesse of londis in equyte and riȝtwisnesse, and in riȝt reuling of herte he deme dom; iii ȝif to me wiðdam, þe neeȝh stondere of þi setis; and wile þou not me repreuen of þi childer.

v For I am þi seruaunt, and þe sone of þin hand woman;
 a feble man, and of litil time, and lasse to þe vndirftonding of dom and of lawes.
 vi And if any man shul ben ful endid of þe sonus of men, if fro hym flee wiðdam, in to noȝt he shal be countid.
 vii Pou forsoþe chose me king to þi puple, and domysman of þi sonus and doȝtris; viii and þou leidist, me to bilden a temple in þin holi hil, and in þe cite of þi dwelling an auter; þe licensse of þin holi tabernacle, þat þou greipedit fro þe begynnnyng.
 ix And wiþ þee þi wiðdam, þat kneȝ þi werkis, þe whiche and was at þanne, whan þe roundnesse of erþis þou shuldyst make, and he wist þat, þat was plesaunt to `þin eȝen, and þat, þat is riȝt in þin heftis.
 x Send fro þin holi heuenes it, and fro þe fete of þi mychilnesse, þat wiþ me it be, and wiþ me trauaile; and I wite what be aloouwid anent þee.
 xi Forsoþe it wot alle þingus, and vndirftandip; and shal leden me forþ in my werkes soberly, and kepen me in his power.
 xii And my werkys shul ben aloouwid, and I shal dispoſen þi puple riȝtwisly, and I shal ben wrþi þe fetes of my fader.
 xiii Who forsoþe of men shal moun wite þe counseil of God? or who shal moun þenke, what God wile?
 xiv ȝe þoȝtis forsoþe of deadli men dredful, and vncerteyn oure purueaucis.
 xv Forsoþe þe body þat is corumpid, greeueþ þe soule;
 and erþeli indwelling preſſeþ doun þe wit, manye þingus þenkende.
 xvi And of hard wee eymen, þat ben in þe erþe; and þat in ferr siȝte ben, we finden wiþ trauaile.
 xvii ȝat forsoþe in heuenus ben, who shal enserche? ȝi wit forsoþe who shal knowe, but if þou shul ȝyue wiðdam, and sende þin Holi Spirit fro heȝest þingus?
 xviii And so amendid ben þe paþis of hem, þat ben in erþis, and þat to þee pleseden, men lerneden. For whi bi wiðdam þei ben helid, who so euer pleseden to þee, Lord, fro þe bygynnnyng.

Capitulum X.

i This hym, þat first is foormed of God, þe fader of þe roundnesse of erþis, whan alone he was foormed, kepte. And ladde hym out fro his gilte, and broȝte hym out of þe flym of erþe, ii and ȝaf to hym vertue of hauyng alle þingus.
 iii Fro þis as þe vnriȝtwise wente awei in his wraþe, bi þe wraþe of manflaȝter perlhede fraternyte.
 iii For þe whiche whan water shulde don awei þe erþe, he helede eftsoone bi wiðdam; bi þe dispisable tree gouernende þe riȝtwis man.

v Pis and in þe consenting of pride, whan naciouns rereden hemself, knew þe riȝtwis, and kepte wiþoute blame to God; and in þe sones gret merci kepte.

vi Pis þe riȝtwis fro þe perfhende vnpitous men deliuereerde fleende, fijr descendende in to þe regiouen of fiue citemen.

vii To þe whiche, in to þe witnesing of shreudeneſſe, þe desert erþe is knownen ful of ſmoking, and in certeyn time þe trees hauende frutes; and of þe myſbeleeued ſoule þe mynde ſtondende is þe foormyng of ſalt.

viii Forſoþe paſſende biſide wiſdam, not onli in þat ben flyden, þat þei vñknownen gode þingis, but and of þer vñwiſdam þei han laſt to men mynde, þat in þo þingus, þat þei fynneden, þei myȝten not lurken.

ix Wiſdam forſoþe þem, þat it kepen, al aboute fro forewes ſhal delyuere.

x Pis forſoþe þe ferr fugitif, or fleynge riȝtwis fro þe wraþe of þe broþer, ladde awei bi riȝt weies; and ſhewede to hym þe kingdome of God, and ȝaf to hym þe kunnynge of feyntis; it honeſtede hym in traualles, and fulfilde þe traualles of hym.

xi In þe gile of þe men comende aboute to hym, it was nyȝ, and honeſt made hym.

xii It kepte hym fro enemys, and fro deſcyeueres defendide hym; and a ſtrong ſtrif it ȝaf to hym, þat he ſhulde ouercome, and wite, for of alle þingis þe myȝtiere is wiſdam.

xiii Pis þis olde riȝtwis man forſoc not, but fro ſynneres deliuereerde hym; and it deſcendide wiþ hym in to þe dich;

xiv and in bondis forſoc not hym, to þe time þat it ſhulde bringe to hym þe dignete of þe reume, and myȝt aȝen hem þat hym preſteden doun; and lieres he ſhewide, þat defouleden hym, and he ȝaf to hym euere laſtende clerneſſe.

xv Pis þe riȝtwis puple, and hoely wiþoute blame, delyuerede fro naciouns, þat it oþreſeden.

xvi It entride in to þe ſoule of þe feruaunt of God, and ſtod aȝen grisful kingus, in grete wndris and ſigues.

xvii And it zeeld to þe riȝtwis men þe meede of þer traualles, and broȝte þem þennes in a merueylous weie; and it was to þem in þe coueryng of þe day, and in liȝt of sterres bi þe nyȝt.

xviii And he bar þem ouer þurȝ þe rede ſe; and he ouercarieide þem þurȝ ful myche water.

xix þe enemys forſoþe of hem he drenchide in þe ſe; and fro þe depneſſe of helle he ladde þem out.

xx Perfore riȝtwis men token awei þe ſpoiles of vnpitous men; and heeȝli fungen, Lord, þin holi name, and þin hond ouercomere þei preſeden togidere.

xxi For wiſdam openede þe mouȝt of doumbe men, and þe tunges of vnspekende childer made faire ſpekende.

Capitulum XI.

i It riȝt reulede þe werkis of hem, in þe hondus of þe holi profete.

ii Weie þei maden bi desertis, þat ben not dwellic in; and in desert places þei maden litil cotes.

iii þei ſtoden aȝen enemys, and of þe enemys þei venieden hemself.

iv Bi þo þingis forſoþe þat þe enemys of hem ſuffreden peynes, fro þe defauuting of þer drinc, and whan þe ſones of Israel hadden plente, gladeden; bi þese þingus, whan to þem hadden failid, wel wiþ þem is don.

v Forwhi forſoþe for þe welle of þe euerlastende flod, mannys blod þou ȝeue to vniȝtwis men.

vi þe whiche whan þei weren mynuſt, in þe ouerleding of þe flayne little childer, þou ȝeue to þem abundende water in maner not hopid;

vii ſhewende bi þe þriſt, þat þanne was, hou þine þou ſhuldeft enhauncen, and þe aduerfaries of hem ſlen.

ix Whan forſoþe þei weren temptid, forſoþe and wiþ mercy diſciplyne þei token; þei wisten, hou wiþ wraþe vnpitous men demed, tormentis ſhulden ſuffre.

x þese forſoþe as a fader warnende, þou prouedeft; hem forſoþe as an hard king askende, þou condempnedist.

xi Forſoþe þe absent men and þe present lic maner wereń tormentid.

xii Forſoþe double noȝe hadde taken hem, and weiling wiþ þe mynde of þe paſſid þingis.

xiii Whan forſoþe þei herden, bi þer tormentis wel wiþ þem to ben do, þei membreden þe Lord, merueilende in to þe ende of þe going out.

xiv Whom forſoþe in a ſhreude putting out þei ſcorneden caſt aferr, in to þe ende of þat þat fel, merueileden; not lic maner to riȝtwis men doende.

xv For vñwiſ þoȝtis forſoþe þe wickidneſſis of hem, þat ſumme errende herieden doumbe edderes, and ouer veyne beſtes, þou ſentist in to þem a multitude of doumbe beſtes, in to veniaunce; xvi þat þei ſhulden witen, for bi þo þingus þat a man synneþ, bi þo þingus alſo he ſhal be tormentid.

xvii Forſoþe not impoſſible was þin almyȝti hond, þat made þe roundneſſe of erþis of mater vñfeen, to ſenden in to þem a multitude of beres, or hardi leouns, xviii or of newe kinde vñknownen beſtes, and ful of wraþe, or ſpittende breȝing of fires, or bringende forþ ſmel of ſmoke, or puttende out grisful ſparkes fro eȝen;

xix of whiche not onli þe hurting hadde mouȝt defroȝed þem, but and þe looking bi drede ſlen.

xx But and wiþoute þese wiþ oþer spirit þei myȝten ben ſlayn, ſuffrid perſecucioun of þer deedis ſelf, and ſcatered bi þe ſpirit of hys vertue. But and alle þingus in mēlure, and nouembre, and peis þou diſpoſedisti;

xxi forſoþe myche to moun, to þee alone ouer was euermore; and to þe vertue of þin arm who ſhal aȝenſtonde?

xxii For as a poynt of a balaunce, so is befor þee þe roundnesse of erþis; and as a drope of morutid dew, þat gōt doun in to þe erþe.
 xxiii And þou haft merci of alle, for alle þingus þou maist; and þou forberist þe synnes of men, for penaunce.
 xxiv Forsoþe þou louest alle þingus þat ben, and no þing þou hatedest of hem, þat þou madist; ne forsoþe hatende any þing þou ordeynedest, or madist.
 xxv Hou forsoþe myȝte any þing abide stille, but þou haddest wold? or þat of þee were not clepid, shulde ben kept?
 xxvi þou sparist forsoþe to alle; for þine þei ben, Lord, þat louest foulis.

Capitulum XII.

i O! hou good, and hou swete, Lord, is þi Spirit in vs;
 ii þerfore þem þat out erren in parties, þou chasfisfist; and of þe whiche þingus þei synnen, þou warnest, and spekeſt to, þat, þe malice laſt, þei leeuen in þee, Lord.
 iii Forsoþe þo olde dwelleris of þin holi lond, 'þe which þou grifedist;
 iv for hateful werkis þei diden to þee, bi lechingus, and sacrificis vnriȝtwise;
 v and þe fleeres of þer sonus, wiþoute mercy, and þe eteres of þe boweles of men, and þe deuoureres of blod;
 vi and þe fadris and modris, autoures of þe soules vñholpen, leefe þou woldist not fro þi myddel sacrament, bi þe hondis of þer fadris and modris;
 vii þat þe wrþi pilgrimage of þe childer of God þei shulden parcyue, þe whiche is a lond more cheere to þee of alle. viii But and to þese as to men þou sparedist, and sentist waspis, beforgoeres of þin ost, þat 'þem litilmel þei shulden destroȝen.
 ix Not for þou were vnmyȝti in bataile to sogeten vnpitous men to riȝtwis men, or bi cruel bestes, or bi hard wrd to destroȝe togidere;
 x but bi parties demende, þou ȝaue place of penaunce, not vñknowende, for shreude is þe nacioun of hem, and kindlye þe malice of þem, and for þe þoȝt of þem myȝte not ben chaungid in to euermor.
 xi þe fed forsoþe was curſid fro þe bigynnynge. Ne dredende any man, forȝuenesse þou ȝeue to þe synnes of þem.
 xii Who forsoþe shal sey to þee, What madist þou? or who shal stonde aȝen þi dom? or who in þi siȝte shal comen, veniere of wicke men? or who shal wijte to þee, if naciouns perſhen, þat þou haſt mad?
 xiii Forsoþe þere is noon oþer God þan þou, to whom is cure of alle, þat þou shewe, for not vnriȝtwisly þou demest dom.
 xiv Ne forsoþe king ne tiraunt in þi siȝte shul enſerche of þese þingus, þat þou haſt destroȝed.

xv Siþen þanne þou art riȝtwis, alle þingis riȝtwisly þou disposiſt; hym also, O! fader, þat owiþ not to be punſhid, condempnende, and ſtraunge þou eymest fro þi vertue.
 xvi Forſoþe þi vertue is þe bigynnynge of riȝtwisneſſe; and for þat, þat of alle þou art lord, to alle þou makeſt þee to ſparen.
 xvii Forſoþe vertue ſhewiſt þou, þat art not beleued to ben in vertue ful endid; and hem þat knownen not þee, in hardyneſſe þou ouerleidift.
 xviii þou forſoþe, lordſhipere of vertue, wiþ peſibleneſſe demeſt, and wiþ gret reuerence disposiſt vs; forſoþe þer vnderliþ to þee, whan þou wilt, to moun.
 xix Forſoþe þou taȝtiſt bi purple bi ſuche werkis, for it behoueþ to ben riȝtwis, and manly; and þou madiſt þi ſones of good hope, for demende þou ȝyueſt place of penaunce in synnes.
 xx If forſoþe þe enemys of þi ſeruauns, and due to deþ, wiþ ſo myche tentiſneſſe þou tormentediſt, and deliuereſt, ȝiuende time and place, bi þe whiche þei myȝten be chaungid fro malice; xxi wiþ hou myche diligence demeſt þou þi ſones, to whos fadris and modris, opis and couenauntis þou ȝeue of goode beheſtes?
 xxii Panne whan þou ȝieueſt to vs discipline, oure enemys manyfold þou ſcourgifiſt, þat þi goodneſſe demende, wee þenken; and whan of vs is demed, wee hope þi merci.
 xxiii Wherfore and to þem, þat in þer lif vñwiſly and vnriȝtfulli lyueden, bi þo þingus, þat þei herieden, þou ȝeue gretteſt tormentis.
 xxiv Forſoþe in þe weie of errour lengere þei erreden, eymende goddis þo þingis þat in beſtes ben ouer veyne, liuende bi maner of vñwiſe ȝunge childer.
 xxv For þat as to vñwiſe childer þou ȝeue dom, in to ſcorn;
 xxvi who forſoþe wiþ repreues and blaſmyngus ben not mendid, þe wrþi dom of God ben expert 'or feliden.
 xxvii In þese þingus forſoþe þat þei ſuffreden, heuyli þei beeren, in þe whiche ſuffring þei endeyneden; bi þo þingis þat þei wenden goddis, in hem whan þei wereſ diſtroȝid, leende hym, whom ſum tyme þei denyeden hem to han knownen, verre God þei knewen; for þe whiche and þe ende of þe condempnyng of hem ſhal come on hem.

Capitulum XIII.

i Veyne forſoþe ben alle men, in whiche vnderliþ not þe kunningyng of God; and of þo þat ben ſeen goode þingus, þei myȝten not vndirſtonde hym, þat is, ne to þe werkis takende heed, knewen who was craftis man;
 ii but or fyr, or ſpirit, or ſwift eir, or cumpas of sterres, or ful myche watir, or funne, or moone, þe gouernoures of þe roundneſſe of londis goddis wenden;

iii in whos fairnesse delitid, if þei wenden goddis, wite þey, hou myche þan þese þe lordshipere of hem is þe fairere; þe getere forsoþe of fairnesse alle þese þingus ordeynede.
 iv Or if þe vertue and werkis of þem þei wndreden, vnderstonde þey of þo þingis, for he þat made þese þingis, is strengere þan þo;
 v forsoþe of þe mykilnesse of fairnesse, and of creature, knowendeli þhal moun þe creatour of þese ben seen.
 vi But 'ner þe latere ȝit in þese lassē pleynyt is; and þese forsoþe parauenture erren, sechende God, and willende to finden.
 vii And forsoþe in þe werkys of hym whan þei ben often turnende, and sechen, and ful shewid han, for goode þingis ben, þat ben seen.
 viii Eft forsoþe ne to þese owiþ to be forȝouen.
 ix If forsoþe so myche þei myȝten kunne, þat þe world þei myȝten eymen, hou þe lord of þis liȝtliere þei founden not?
 x Vnseli forsoþe þei ben, and among þe deade þe hope of þem is, þat clepeden goddis þe werkis of þe hondis of men, gold, and siluer, þe finding of craft, and þe licenesse of bestes, or vnonprofitable ston, þe werec of þe olde hond.
 xi Or if any crafti man, forgere, hewe of þe wode an euene tree, and of þis taȝtli pare awei al þe rinde, and, vñid his craft diligentli, forge a vessel vnonprofitable in to conuersacioun of lif;
 xii þe toþer forsoþe of his werk to þe making of mete vse;
 xiii and þe toþer of þese þingis, þat to noon vle, a crokide tree, and ful of knarres, he makeþ, þat he graue diligentli bi his voidenesse, and bi þe kunnyngh of his craft figure it, and licne it to an ymage of man, xiv or to sum of bestes it he comparisoun, þurȝ drawende wiþ a reuler, and make þe colour of it wiþ red, and broun, and eche spot, þat is in it, ful 'daubende wiþ erþe,
 xv and make it a wrþi dwelling, puttende it in a wal,
 and faſtnende wiþ iren, xvi leſt parauenture it falle; beholdende to it, witende, for it mai not helpen þeſelf; forsoþe an ymage it is, and nede is to it helpe.
 xvii And of his ſubſtaunce, and of his ſones, and of ſpoſailes, makende auow, enſercheþ; he ſhameþ not to ſpeke wiþ it, þat wiþoute foule is;
 xviii and for helþe forsoþe þe feble he beſecheþ, and for lif he preȝeþ þe deade, and in to helpe he inwardli cleapeþ þe vnonprofitable. And for þe going aſkeþ of it, þat may not go;
 xix and of purchaſing, and of werching, and of þe chauns of alle þingus he aſkeþ of it, þat in alle þingys ys vnonprofitable.

Capitulum XIII.

i Eft an oper þenkende to feilen, bi hidous flodis bigynnende to make weie, þe tree berende hym, inwardli cleapeþ a more frele tree.
 ii þat forsoþe coueitise of wynnyng þoȝte out; and a craftsman forgede bi his wiſdam.
 iii Pou forsoþe, fader, gouerneſt bi prouydence, for þou haſt ȝoue in þe ſe weie, and among flodis moſt ſtedefast þab;
 iv Shewende, for þou art myȝti of alle þingus to helen,
 also if wiþoute ſhip a man go to þe ſe;
 v but þat þe werkis of þi wiſdam weren not voide, for þat also men takende þer liues to a litil tree, and paſſende þe ſe, bi a ſhip ben deliuered.
 vi But fro þe bygynnyngh, whan proude ieautis perſheden, þe hope of þe roundnesse of erþis to a ſhip fleende, ſente aȝeen to þe world ſed of birþe, þat bi þin hond was gouerned.
 vii Blisſid forsoþe is þe tree, bi þe whiche is do riȝtwiſnesse.
 viii þe maumet forsoþe, þat is maad bi hondys, is cursid, and it, and he þat made it, for he forsoþe wroȝte vnleefulnesse; þat forsoþe, whan it was britil, is nempned God.
 ix Lic maner forsoþe to hate ben to God þe vnpytouſe, and þe vnpitousneſſe of hym.
 x Forsoþe þat is mad, wiþ hym þat made, tormentus þhal ſuffre.
 xi For þat and to þe maumetis of nacionshul not ben reward; for þe creaturis of God in to hate ben mad, and tempting to þe foule of men, and in to a mouseacche to þe feet of vniwile men.
 xii þe bigynnyngh forsoþe of fornycacioun is þe outſeching of maumetis, and þe finding of hem is corupcioun of lyf.
 xiii Forsoþe þei weren not fro þe bigynnyngh, ne ſhul ben in to wiþ oute ende.
 xiv þe oueruoidenesse forsoþe of men þese þingis fond in to þe roundnesse of erþis; and þerfore ſhort þe ende of hem is founden.
 xv Forsoþe wiþ bitter weiling þe fader forewende, ſoone of þe raueſhid ſone made an ymage; and hym, þat þanne as a man was dead, now as god he begynneþ to herien; and ordeynede among his ſerauns templis and ſacrifices.
 xvi Afterward in þe mene comende time waxende ſhreude custum, þis errour as lawe is kept, and bi maundemens of tirauntis falſe werkis ben heried.
 xvii Peſe whom in opene men myȝten not wrſhipen, for þat aferr þei weren, from aferr þe figure of þem is broȝt; þe euydent ymage of þe king, whom wrſhipen þei wolden, þei maden; þat hym þat was aferr, as present þei ſhulden herien wiþ þer bifynesſe. xviii Forsoþe þe grete diligence of þe craftis man droȝ to þe heriying of hem and hem, þat vnknewen.

xix He forsoþe wilnende more to plesen to hym, þat hym toc, trauailede out bi his craft, þat þe licenesse in to betere he shulde figuren.

xx Forsoþe þe multitude of men, disceyued bi þe fairnesse of þe werk, hym þat bifor time as a man was wrþipid, now god þei eymeden.

xxi And þis was disceyuyng of mannys lif; for to afeccioun, or to kingus men deseruyng, þe vncomunycable name to stones and trees þei putten.

xxii And it suffisede not, þem to han erred aboue þe kunnyng of God; but and in gret bataile of vnkunnyng liuende, so fele and so grete eueles pes þei clepen.

xxiii Or forsoþe þer sones sacrificiende, or derke sacrificises makende, or hauende ful wacchis of wodnesse, xxiv ne lif, ne clene sposailis now þei kepen; but an oper an oper bi enuye fleþ, or auoutrende forewiþ.

xxv And alle þingus ben mengd togidere, blod, manslaþter, þefte, and feynynge, corupcioun, vnfeiþfulnesse, disturbing, and forswering, strif, xxvi þe vnmynding of þe goodes of þe Lord, þe defouling of soules, þe mischaunging of birþe, þe vnfstablenesse of bridales, þe vnordeyning of leccherie and of vnclennesse.

xxvii Forsoþe þe heriying of cursid maumetis is þe cause of alle euel, and bigynnyng, and ende.

xxviii Or forsoþe, whil þei gladen, þei waxen wod; or certis þei profecien false þingus, or liuen vr̄iȝtwisly, or forswern soone.

xxix Whil forsoþe þei trosten in maumetus, þat ben wiþoute soule, euele swerende, þei hopen not þemself to ben noȝed.

xxx Eiþir þanne to þem comen wrþili; for euele þei feleden of God, takende heed to maumetis, and sworen vr̄iȝtwisly in þe maumet, dispisende riȝtwisnesse.

xxxi Forsoþe of men swerende is not vertue, but þe peyne of synneres þurȝ goþ euermor, in to þe lawe breking of riȝtwis þingus.

Capitulum XV.

i Thou forsoþe, oure God, sweete, and verre, and pacient, and in mercy disposende alle þingis.

ii Forsoþe if wee synnen, þine wee ben, witende þi mykilnesse; and if wee synnen not, wee witen, for anent þee wee ben countid.

iii Forsoþe to han knownen þee, is ful endid riȝtwisnesse; and to witen riȝtwisnesse and þi vertu, roote is of vndealynesse.

iv Forsoþe not in to errour inladde vs þe oute þenkig of þe euele craft of men, ne þe shadewe of peynting trauaile wiþoute frut, þe grauen licenesse bi dyuers coloures;

v whos siȝte to þe vnwise ȝyueþ couseiting, and looueþ þe licenesse of þe deade ymage wiþoute soule.

vi Þe looueres of euelis ben wrþi deb, þat hope han in suche þingus; and þat don hem, and þat loouen, and þat herien.

vii But and þe crockere, þe nesshe erþe þrestende, trauailously makeþ to oure vſes eche vessel; and of þe fame clei he made þat ben clene vſfeliſ in to vſe, and also þat to þem ben contrarious; forsoþe of þese vſfeliſ what is þe vſe, domesman is þe crockere.

viii And wiþ veyn trauaile god he makeþ of þe fame cley, he þat a litil biforn of erþe was mad; and aftir a litil he lediþ hymselfe whennes he is taken, aȝeen askid þe dette of þe soule þat he hadde.

ix But and þer is cure to hym, not for he is to trauailen, ne for his lif is short, but þat me spute wiþ gold smyþis, and siluer smyþis; but and metal makeres he folewiþ, and glorie he berþ biforn; for þingus ouer voide he makeþ.

x Aſken forsoþe is þe herte of hym, and erþe ouer voide þe hope of hym, and foulere þan cley þe lif of hym.

xi For he kneȝ not þat made hym, and þat enſpirede to hym a soule; and looueþ þat he wroȝte; and þat bleȝ in to hym a lifli spirit.

xii But þei eymeden a pleiying place to ben þe lif of hem, and þe conuersacioun of lif mad to wynnyng, and to bihouen also on eche fide, of euel to purchasen.

xiii Þis forsoþe wot hymself ouer alle men to trespassen, þat of þe mater of erþe britel vſfeliſ and grauen makeþ.

xiv Forsoþe alle þe vnwise men and vnsely ouer maner of þer soule ben proude, enimys of þi puple, and myſleſende to it;

xv for alle þe maumetis of naciouns godis þei eymeden, to be whiche nouþer siȝte of eȝen is to seen, ne nose þerlis to parçeyue spirit, ne eres to heren, ne fingris of hondis to gropen, but and þe feet of hem flowe to gon.

xvi A man forsoþe made þem, and þat þe spirit borewide, he feynede þem; no man forsoþe mai maken a god lic to hym.

xvii Whan forsoþe he be deadli, þe deade he makij wiþ wicke hondis; betere forsoþe is he þan þese, þat he herieþ; for he forsoþe liuede, whan he was deadli, þei forsoþe neuere.

xviii But and þei moȝt wrecchid herien bestes; witles forsoþe, comparisouned to þese, ben wers þan þo.

xix But neiper wiþ siȝte any þing of þese bestes mai beholden goode þyngis; forsoþe þey fledden þe preisynge of God, and þe blessing of hym.

Capitulum XVI.

i For þese, and lic þingus to þese, wrþily þei suffreden tormentis, and bi multitude of bestes þei ben destroȝed.

ii For whyche tormentis þou dispositidist wel þi puple, bi whiche þou ȝeue couseiting of þer delit a newe fauour, greiþende curleeu mete to þem.

- iii Pat þei forsoþe coueitende mete, for þo þingus þat to þem ben shewid, and sent, also fro nedeful coueiting þei shulden be turned awei; þese forsoþe nedī mad in short, tafteden newe mete.
- iv Forsoþe it bihouede to þem, hauntende tiraundise, deb to comen on wiþ oure excusacioun; to þem forsoþe onli to shewen, hou þe enimys of þem weren destroȝid.
- v Forsoþe whan to þem cam on þe cruel wraþe of bestis, bi þe bityngis of shreude shadewe edderes þei waren distroȝid.
- vi But not in to euermor þi wraþe abod stille; but to þe correccioun in short þei ben disturbid, tocne hauende of helþe, to þe remembring of þe maundement of þi lawe.
- vii Who forsoþe is turned, not bi þat þat he saȝ, he was heled, but bi þee, saueour of alle.
- viii In þat forsoþe þou shewdist to oure enimys, for þou art, þat delyuarest fro alle euel.
- ix Hem forsoþe þe bityngis of fleȝes and of locustis flowen, and þer is not founden helþe to þe soule of hem; for wrþi þei waren of suche þingus to ben deftroȝed.
- x Þi sonus forsoþe, nouþer þe teþ of dragounes, ne of venymed þingus ouercamen; forsoþe þi mercy comende to, helede þem.
- xi In þe mynde forsoþe of þi wrdis þei waren distroȝid, and swiftli þei waren sauð; left in to heeȝ forȝeting fallende, þei myȝten not vse þin helpe.
- xii Forsoþe neþer erbe, ne plastré helde þem; but þi wrd, Lord, þat heleþ alle þingus.
- xiii þou art, Lord, þat of lif and deb haſt power; and bringest doun to þe ȝatis of deb, and aȝeen bringest.
- xiv A man forsoþe sleȝ bi malice forsoþe his soule; and whan þe spirit goþ out, he shal not turne aȝeen, ne þe soule, þat is rescayed, shal aȝeen clepen;
- xv but þyn hond to fleen is vnpoffſible.
- xvi Vnþitouse men forsoþe, denyyng to han knownen þee, bi þe strengþe of þin arm ben scourgid; wiþ newe watris, and hailis, and reynes, þey suffreden persecucioun, and bi fijr ben waſtid.
- xvii þat forsoþe was merueylous, in water, þat alle þingis quencheþ, more þe fir myȝte; þe world forsoþe is veniere of riȝtwis men.
- xviii Forsoþe sum tyme þe fyr was tamed, þat þe bestes, þat waren sent to vnpitous men, weren not brent; but þat þei feende shulden witen, for bi þe dom of God þei suffren persecucioun.
- xix And sum tyme in water, aboue vertue, fyr brende out on eiper side, þat þe wicke nacioun of þe lond it shulde defroȝen.
- xx For þe whiche wiþ þe mete of aungelis þou nurshedist bi puple, and þou ȝeue to þem bred mad redi fro heuene, wiþ oure traualle; hauende alle deliting in itself, and swetnesse of alle fauour.

- xi Forsoþe þi substaunce, and þi swetnesse, þat in to sones þou haſt, þou shewedist; and deseruende to þe wil of echone, to what eche wolde, it was conuertid.
- xii Snoȝ forsoþe and ijs suffreden þe strengþe of fyr, and floweden not; þat þei shulden witen, for brennende fyr, leiting in hail and reyn, destroȝede þe frutes of þe enimys.
- xiii þat forsoþe eft, þat þe riȝtwis man shulde ben nurshid, þe fyr also forȝat his vertue.
- xiv Forsoþe þe creature to þee makere deseruende, brenneþ out in to torment aȝen vnriȝtwis men, and softere is mad to weel don, for þem þat troften in þee.
- xv For þat and þanne þi graces deserueden in to alle þingus, transfigured to þe vertue of alle, at þe wil of þem, þat of þee ben desired;
- xvi þat bi sones, whom þou loouedyſt, Lord, shulden wite, for not þe frut of birþe fedde men, but þi wrd kepte þem, þat in þee leeueden.
- xvii þat forsoþe þat of fijr myȝte not ben defroȝed, anoon of a litil bem of funne chaufid, flowede;
- xviii þat it were knownen to alle, for it byhoueþ to comen beforne to þi blessing, and at þe springing of liȝt to honoure þee.
- xix Forsoþe þe hope of þe vnkinde as cold ijs shal flowen, and disperſhen as watir ouer voide.

Capitulum XVII.

- i Forsoþe grete ben þi domes, Lord, and vntellable þi wrdis; for þese þe vndisciplyned soulis erreden.
- ii Whil forsoþe wicke men han ful preued, to moun lordshipen to þe holy nacioun, in bondis of dercnesses, and of long nyȝt gyued, enclosid vnder rooues, fugitif to perpetuel prouydence, pleseden.
- iii And whil þei wenен þem to lurken in derk synnes, bi þe derc veil of forȝeting þei ben scattered, dredende grisfulli, and wiþ ful myche wndring disturbid.
- iv Ne forsoþe þe den þat heeld hem, wiþ oure drede kepte; for descendende soun disturbide þem, and dreri personnes aperende to þem, ȝeuen inward fere to þem.
- v And no strengþe forsoþe of þe fijr myȝte to þem ȝyuen liȝt, ne þe clearer flaumes of sterres myȝten liȝten þat grisful nyȝt.
- vi Forsoþe þer aperede to þem fodeyn fyr, ful of drede; and smyten wiþ þe drede of þat face, þat was not seen, þei eymeden werfe to ben, þat weren seen.
- vii And of deuyning craft þe scornes weren leid to, and þe glorie of wiſdam correccioun wiþ striſ.
- viii þei forsoþe, þat bihiȝten dredes and perturbaciouns þem to putten out fro þe languyſhende soule, þese wiþ scorn ful, of drede languyſheden.
- ix For and if no þing hem of þe wndris disturbide, bi passing of bestis, and hissing of edderes stirid,
- x ferful þei perſheden; and þe eir, þat bi no refoun a man myȝte flee, denyende þemſelf seeȝen;

xi ofte forsoþe þey beform occupien werft þingis, þe concience vndernemende. Whan forsoþe þer is ferful shreudenesse, it is ȝouen in to þe condepnacioun of alle þingus; euermor presumeþ cruel þingis a conscience disturbid.
 xii No þing forsoþe is drede, but helpe of presumcioun, betraȝyng of þe helpis of þoȝt.
 xiii And whil fro wiþinne lasse is þe abiding, þe more it weneþ þe power of his cause, of þe whiche torment it ȝyueþ.
 xiv ȝei forsoþe, þat verreli þe vnmyȝti nyȝt, and slepende þe same slep, ouercomende from þe lowest, and fro þe heȝest, xv oþerwhile ȝei weren stirid hider and þider, bi þe drede of þe wndris, oþerwhile þe lyues faileden bi ouerleding; forsoþe to þem fodeyn and vnhopid drede ouercam.
 xvi ȝeraftir if any of hem hadde falle doun, he was kept in prisoun, wiþ oute iren, reclosid; xvii if forsoþe a cherl who were, or a shepperde, or a werchere of feedlis, were beforne occupied, vnscapable, `or þat myȝt not be fled, nede he suffred. Wiþ oon forsoþe cheyne of dercneffes alle ȝei weren bounde togidere; xviii or puffende wind, or sweet soun of briddes among þicke braunchis of tres, or strengþe of ful myche rennende doun water, xix or strong soun of stones fallid doun, or þe vnseen cours of pleiende bestes, or þe stronge vois of loowende bestes, or þe aȝeen founende rebounding of soun fro þe heȝest hillis, maden þem failende for drede.
 xx Forsoþe al þe roundnesse of erbis was liȝtid wiþ cler liȝt, and contened in werkis not lettid.
 xxi Forsoþe only to þem was ouerset a greuous nyȝt, ymage of dercneffes, þat was to come `on to þem; banne ȝei to þemself weren mor greuous þan þe dercneffis.

Capitulum XVIII.

i To þi seyntes forsoþe was most liȝt, and þe vois forsoþe of þese þe enemys herden, but þe figure ȝei feȝen not; and for not and ȝei bi þe same þingus hadden suffrid, ȝei magnefieden þee.
 ii And for biforn hurt ȝei weren, for ȝei weren not hurt, graces ȝei diden to þee; and þat þer were difference, þee, God, ȝei askeden.
 iii For þe whiche ȝei hadden to þe vnknowne lif ledere, a brennende piler of fyr; and þou ȝeue þe sunne, wiþoute hurting of good herberewe.
 iv Wrþi forsoþe ȝei to lacken liȝt, and to suffrin prisoun of dercneffes, þat enclosid kepten þin holi sones; bi whom þe vncorrupt liȝt of lawe bigan to ben ȝouen to þe world.
 v Whan ȝei boȝten to slen þe fauntis of riȝtwis men; and oon sone leid out, and deliuered, and in to þe ouerleding of þem, þou tooke awei þe multitude of sones, and togidere þem þou spildist in strong water.

 vi ȝat forsoþe nyȝt is knownen biforn of oure fadris, ȝat verreli witende bi what opis ȝei leeueden, ȝei shulden ben mor stedefast.
 vii Forsoþe þer is taken of þi puple helþe, forsoþe of riȝtwis men; of vnriȝtwis men forsoþe destroȝing.
 viii Forsoþe as þou hurtedest oure aduersaries, so and vs sterende, þou magnefiedist.
 ix Hidendely forsoþe þe riȝtwis childer of goode men sacrificieden, and þe lawe of ryȝtwisnesse þei disposeden to acord; lic maner riȝtwis men goodes and euelos to resceyen, noble preisingus to þe fader of alle singende.
 x Forsoþe þe vncouenable vois of enemys sounede, and weþful weiling of bewepte ȝunge childer was herd.
 xi Lic peyne forsoþe þe seruaunt wiþ þe lord is tormentid; and a man of þe puple to þe king lic þyngis suffredre.
 xii Panne lic maner alle wiþ o name of deþ hadden vnnoȝbrable deade men, ne þe quyke forsoþe suffiseden to birien; for o moment þe nacioun of hem, þat was mor cler, is distroȝed.
 xiii Of alle forsoþe þey not leeuende for þe benefetes, banne whan first was þe deþ of þe first gotten, ȝei bihiȝten hemself þe puple of God to ben.
 xiv Whan forsoþe quyete silence contenede alle þingus, and þe nyȝt in his cours hadde þe mene weie, xv þin almyȝti wrd, Lord, goende out fro heuene, fro þe kingus fetes cam; an hard ouercomere it is, in to þe myddel lond of deþ;
 xvi leep forþ a sharp swerd berende in to þi licned empire; and stondende fulfilde alle þingus wiþ deþ, and vnto heuene ateyned, stondende in þe erþe.
 xvii Panne anoon þe siȝte of euele sweuenes disturbide þem, and dredes oncamen vnhopid.
 xviii And an oþer elleswher cast forþ half on lyue, for what caufe of deþ he diede, he lhewede.
 xix Forsoþe þe viseouns þat disturbeden hem, þese þingus biforn warneden, þat ȝei shulden not pershen vnkunnynge, whi ȝei suffreden euelos.
 xx Panne forsoþe touchede and riȝtwismen þe temptacioun of deþ, and þer is mad of þe multitude a stirring in wildernesse; but not longe abod stille þi wraþe.
 xxi A man forsoþe goende wiþoute blame to preȝen for puples, bringende forþ of hys seruyle þe sheeld an orisoun, and bi encens preȝing aleggyng, wiþstod to þe wraþe, and ende putte to be nede, shewende for þi seruaunt he is.
 xxii Forsoþe he ouercam cumpansys, not in vertue of body, ne in armure of power; but in wrd hym þat ouertrauailede hym, he vndircafte, remembrende þe opis of fadris, and testament.
 xxiii Whan forsoþe now hiȝylmelum ȝei hadden fallen dead, eiþer vp on oþer, he stod betwen, and kutte awei þe bure, and deuydede þat weie, þat to þe men on lyue ladde.

xxiii Forsoþe in þe cloping of þe preest coepe, þat he hadde, was al þe roundnesse of erþis; and þe grete þingus of fadris weren grauen in foure ordres of stones; and þi grete doyng in þe dyademe of hys hed was writen.

xxv To þese forsoþe 'he ȝaf stede, þat distroȝede, and þese þingus he ful out dredde; forsoþe þer was alone suffycyent temptyng of wraþe.

Capitulum XIX.

i To þe vnpitouse forsoþe and to þe laste wiþoute mercy wraþe cam vpon; forsoþe he knew biforn and þe þingis to comen of hem.

ii For whan þei waren turned, and hadden suffrid, þat þei shulden lede þem, and wiþ gret bifynesse þei hadden sent þem beforne, þer folewede forsoþe þem þe deede of penaunce.

iii ȝit forsoþe among þe hondys hauende weiling, and weeping at þe monumentes of þe deade, an oþer þynking of vnkunnyng þei token to þem; and whom prezende þei hadden browen awei, þem as fugitifis þei purfueden.

iv Forsoþe þer ladde þem to þat ende wrbi neceſſite, and of þese þingis þat hadden fallen, þe mynde þei losten, þat þat lackeden of tormentis, punþhyng shulde fulfillen, v and þi puple forsoþe merueylously shulde passe; þei forsoþe newe deþ shulden fynde.

vi Eche creature forsoþe to his kinde fro þe bigynnyng was aȝeen figured, deseruend to þin hestes, þat þi childer shulden be kept vnhurt.

vii For a cloude shadewede þe tentes of hem, and in þe water þat was biforn, þe erþe aperede drie; and in þe rede se weie wiþ oute letting, and a buriounende feed of ful gret depþe;

viii bi þe whiche alle nacioun passede, þat was couered wiþ þin hond; feende forsoþe bi merueiles and wndris.

ix As hors forsoþe þei gnowen mete, and as lombis þei ful out ioȝeden, magnefiende þee, Lord, for pou delyueredest hem.

x Forsoþe myndful þey weren ȝit of þo þingus, þat were don in þe comeling wonyng of hem; as for þe nacioun of bestes, þe erþe broȝte outh fleeȝes, and for þe fiffhes, þe flod bolkede outh multitude of frogges.

xi At þe laste forsoþe þey seȝen a newe creature of briddes, whan, lad bi lust, þei askeden metes of delicious eting.

xii In þe speche forsoþe of þe desir, stede vp to þem fro þe se a curlu;

xiii and trauailes to synneres camen vp on, not wiþoute þo euydences, þat weren mad bi þe fors of flodis.

Riȝtwisly forsoþe þei suffreden, aftir þeir shreudenesses; forsoþe in to abhominable hospitalite þei stoden in.

xiv Opere forsoþe vnknownen comelingus rescyeueden not; opere forsoþe goode gestes in to feruage token.

xv And not onli þese þingus, but an oþer forsoþe respit of hem was, for maugre þeires þei rescyeueden straungeres.

xvi Who forsoþe wiþ gladnesse rescyeueden þem, þat hadden vñid þe same enformyngus, wiþ most cruel forewes þei tormenteden.

xvii Smyte forsoþe þei ben wiþ blindnesse, as þei in þe ȝates of þe riȝtwise, wiþ sodeyn dercnelles, whan þei ben couered; eche oon soȝte þe passing out of his dore.

xviii In to þem self forsoþe whil þe elemens ben turned, as in an orgne of qualite þe soun is chaungid, and alle kepen þer soun; wherfore of þat ferteyn siȝte it may be eymed.

xix Feeldi wilde þingus in to watri ben turned; whateuere waren swymmende, in þe erþe passeden.

xx Fyr in þe watir hadde strengþe ouer his vertue; and water forȝat his quenchende kinde.

xxi Flaumes aȝeenward traualiden not þe flesh of þe corruptible bestes goende togidere; ne dissoluuede it, þat liȝtli was dissoluued as ijs, good mete.

xxii In alle þingus forsoþe þou magnefiedist þi puple, Lord, and wrshepedist; and dispisedist not, in alle tyme and in alle place stondende nyȝ to þem.

Here endiþ þe look of Sapiens, and now bigynneþ þe prolog of Ecclesiasticus.

ECCLESIASTICI.

Heer gynneþ þe prologue in þe booc of Ecclesiastici.

Off manye and grete bi þe lawe, and profetes, and opere, þat foleweden hem, wiðdam to vs is shewed. In þe whiche it behoueþ to preisen Israel, bi cause of doctrine and of wiðdam; for not onli hem spekende, nedful it is to be wis, but also straungeres to moun, and seiende and writende, to be mad most wis. Myn eldefader Jhesus, aftir þat hymself he ȝaf more to bifynesse of lessoun of lawe, and of profetes, and of opere bokis, þat to vs of oure fadris ben taken, and he wolde write sum what of þeſe, þat to wiðdam and doctrine pertenen, þat men desirende to lernen, and to be mad wise men, of hem more and more þei taken heed in inwit, and ben confermed to be lawful lif. Also I monelte ȝou to comen wiþ wel willingnesse, and wiþ mor bify studi to do lessoun, and to han forȝyenenesse in þo þingus, in whiche wee ben seen folewende þe ymage of wiðdam, and to defauten in þe making togidere of wrdys. For Ebru wrdis failen, whan þei waren translatid to an oþer tunge. Forsoþe not oneli þis, but and þat lawe, and profetes, and oþire þingis of bokes, han not a litil difference, whan betwen hemself þei ben seid. For in þe eiȝte and þrettie ȝer, in þe tymes of king Ptholome Euergeet, aftir þat I cam in to Egipt, and whan myche of tyme I hadde ben þere, I fond þere bokes laft, not of litil doctrine, ne to ben dispisid. And soo good and necessarie trowede and I myself to adden sum diligence and trauaile of remenyng þis bok, and wiþ myche waking I leide to 'besynesse of doctrine, in space of tyme to ȝyue þis boc to þo þingus þat leden to an ende, and to þem þat wiln þe inwit bisyn, and lernen, hou to behoueþ to enformen maneres, þat after þe lawe of þe Lord purposen lif to leden.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and now begynneþ þe book of Ecclesiasticus.

Capitulum I.

- i Alle wiðdam of þe Lord God is, and wiþ hym was euermor, and is biforn aungelis during.
- ii Þe grauel of þe se, and þe dropis of reyn, and þe dæs of þe world, who distinctli haþ noumbred? Þe heiȝte of heuene, and þe brede of erþe, and þe depþe of þe se, who distinctli mesurede?
- iii Þe wiðdam of God goende beforne alle þingus, who enschede?
- iv First of alle formed is wiðdam, and þe vnderstanding of prudence, fro þe dyring of aungelis.
- v Þe welle of wiðdam þe wrd of God in heiȝtes; and þe ingoing of it euere lastende maundemens.
- vi Þe roote of wiðdam to whom is it shewyd? and þe 'futil wittis of it who kneȝ?
- vii Þe discylyne of wiðdam, to whom is it shewid, and opened? and þe multepliing of þe 'incomyng of it who vnderstod?
- viii Oon is þe heiȝest makere of noȝt of alle þingus, al myȝti, and a myȝti king, and wrþi to be drad ful myche, sittende vp on þe trone of hym, and Godd lordshipende.
- ix He formede it in þe Hoeli Goeſt, and saȝ, and distinctli noumbred, and mesurede;
- x and helde out it vpon alle his werkes, and vp on alle flesh aftir his ȝifte; he ȝyueþ it to men loouende itself.
- xi Þe drede of þe Lord glorie, and ioȝyng, and gladnesse, and coroun of outward ioȝyng.
- xii Þe drede of þe Lord shal delyten þe herte; and shal ȝyue gladnesse and ioȝe in to þe lengþe of dæs.
- xiii To þe dredende God, wel shal be in þe laſte endys; and in þe dai of his diyng he shal be blisſid.
- xiv To whom forſoþe it shal aperen in ſiȝt, þei loouen it in feeyng, and in þe knowing of his grete þingus.
- xv Þe loouyng of God wrſheþful wiðdam.
- xvi Þe bigynnyng of wiðdam drede of þe Lord; and wiþ feiþful men in þe wombe he is togidere formed, and wiþ chosen wymmen he goþ, and wiþ riȝtwis and feiþful men he is knownen.
- xvii Þe drede of þe Lord religiosite of kunnyng.
- xviii Religiosite shal kepen, and iustefien þe herte; ful myrþe and ioȝe it shal ȝyue.

xix To þe dredende God wel shal be; and in þe dæs of endyne of hym he shal be bleſſid.

xx Plente of wiðdam to dreden God; and plente of þe frutes of it.

xxi Eche hous of hym it shal fulfillre fro ieneraciouns, and þe reſceyuyng places fro þe tresores of hym.

xxii Þe croune of wiðdam drede of þe Lord, fulfillende pes, and þe frut of helþe.

xxiii And it faȝ, and distinctli noumbred it; boþe forſoþe ben þe ȝiftis of God.

xxiv Kunnyng and vnderſtonding of prudence wiðdam shal wiþ departen; and þe glorie of men holdende itſelf it enhaunceþ.

xxv Þe roote of wiðdam is 'to dreden God; þe braunches forſoþe of it long lyuyng.

xxvi In þe tresores of wiðdam vnderſtonding, and religiosite of kunnyng; kurſyng forſoþe to synneres wiðdam.

xxvii Þe drede of þe Lord putteþ awei synne, xxviii for who wiþoute drede is, shal not moun be iustefied; wraþefulnesse forſoþe of wilfulness 'or hardynesse of hym is his turnyng vp fo doun.

xxix Vn to tyme þe pacient shal suffre; and aftirward is ȝeldynge aȝeen of ful myrþe.

xxx Good wit vnto time shal hide his wrdis; and þe lippis of manye shuln tellen out þe wit of hym.

xxxi In þe tresores of wiðdam is tocnyng of discylyne;

xxxii cursing forſoþe to þe synnere is þe heriyng of God.

xxxiii Sone, couetende wiðdam, kep riȝtwysnesse, and God shal ȝyue it to þee.

xxxiv Wiðdam forſoþe and discylyne þe drede of þe Lord, and þat weel plesid is to hym, xxxv feiþ and debonernesse; and it shal fulfillre þe tresores of hym.

xxxvi Be þou not rebel, and 'mys leeful to þe dred of þe Lord; and ne neȝhe þou to hym wiþ double herte.

xxxvii Ne be þou an ipocrite in þe ſiȝte of men; and be þou not ſclaundred in þi lippes.

xxxviii Tac heed in þo þingus, leſt parauenture þou falle, and bringe to þi soule vnwrſheping;

xxxix and God openeþ in hid þingus, and in þe myddel of þe synagogē he hurtle þee;

xl for þou neȝhedist maliciously to þe Lord, and þin herte is ful of trecherie and desceyt.

Capitulum II.

i Sone, neȝhende to þe seruage of God, stond in riȝtwysnesse, and drede; and greiþe þou þi soule to tempting.

ii Ber doun þin herte, and suffre, and bowe in þyn ere, and vndertac þe wrdis of vndirstonding, and heeȝe þou not in tyme of opressing.

iii Sustene þe sustenyngus of God; be þou wiþ ioyned to God, and suffre, þat þi lif waxe in þe laſte.

iii Alle þat to þee shul ben leid to, tac, and in forewe fustene, and in þi mecnesse haue pacience.
 v For in fyr is preued gold and siluer; men forsoþe resceyuable in þe chymne of mecnesse.
 vi ȝif feiþ to God, and he shal rekure þee; and dresse þi weye, and hope in to hym. Kep þe drede of hym, and in hym wax old.
 vii ȝee dredende þe Lord, susteneþ þe mercy of hym, and bowiþ not doun fro hym, leſt ȝee falle.
 viii ȝee þat dreden þe Lord, ȝyueþ feiþ to hym, and þere shal not be voidid awei ȝoure meede.
 ix ȝee þat dreden þe Lord, hopeþ in to hym, and in to liking shal come to ȝou mercy.
 x ȝee þat dreden þe Lord, looueþ hym, and ȝoure hertes shul be liȝtned.
 xi Beholdep, ȝee sonus, þe naciouns of men, and witeþ, for no man hopide in þe Lord, and is shent; xii abod stille in his heftes, and is forsaken; or who inwardli clepede hym, and he dispisede hym?
 xiii For piteous, and mercyful is God, and he shal forȝyue in þe day of tribulacioun synnes; and defendere he is to alle men, ful out sechende hym in treube.
 xiv Wo to þe double in herte, and to þe lippis of þe 'hidously giltende, and to þe hondes euele doende; and to þe synnere goende in to þe erþe two weies.
 xv Wo to þe dissolut 'or vnstable in herte, þat ȝyuen not feiþ to God; and þerfore þei 'schul not ben defendid of
 hym.
 xvi Wo to þem þat han lost suffring, and þat han forfaken riȝt weies, and han turned aside in to shreude weies.
 xvii And what shul þei do, whan þe Lord shal begynne to inwardli looken?
 xviii Who dreden þe Lord, shul not ben of mysfeiþ to þe wrd of hym; and who loouen hym, shuln holli kepe þe weie of hym.
 xix Who dreden þe Lord, shuln inwardli sechen, þat ben wel plesid þingus to hym; and þat loouen hym, shul be fulfilld wiþ þe lawe of hym.
 xx Who dreden þe Lord, shul greipe þer hertes, and in þe ſiȝte of hym þei shul halewen þer foulcs.
 xxi Who dreden þe Lord, shul kepen þe heftis of hym, and pacience shuln han vnto þe inwardly looking of
 hym;
 xxii seiende, If penaunce wee shul not do, wee shul falle in to þe hondus of þe Lord, and not into þe hondis of
 men.
 xxiii Forsoþe aftir þe mykilness of hym, so and his mercy is wiþ hym.

Capitulum III.

i The sonus of wisdam þe chirche of riȝtwis men, and þe nacioun of hem obeisaunce and loouyng.
 ii Ȥe dom of þe fader hereþ, ȝee looued sones; and so doþ, þat ȝee be saf.

iii God forsoþe wrshepede þe fader in sonus, and þe dom of þe moder ful out sechende he fastnede in to þe sonus.
 iv Who looueþ God, shal full out preȝen for synnes, and shal wiþholden hym fro þem, and in þe orisoun of dæs he shal be ful out herd.
 v And as he þat tresoreþ, so and he þat wrshepiþ his moder.
 vi Who wrshepiþ his fader, shal be mad merie in sones, and in þe dai of his orisoun he shal be full out herd.
 vii Who wrshipiþ his fader, wiþ lengere lif shal lyue;
 and who obesheþ to þe fadir, shal refreshe þe moder.
 viii Who dredetþ þe Lord, wrshepiþ fader and moder; and as to lordis he shal serue to þem þat geeten hym, ix in werc, and wrd, and in alle pacience.
 x Wrshipe þou þi fader, þat þer come vpon to bee blissing fro God; and þe blessing of hym in þe laſte dwelleþ.
 xi Ȥe blissing of þe fadir fastneþ þe houses of sones; þe curſing forsoþe of þe moder drawiþ out foundemens bi þe roote.
 xii Ne glorie þou in þe wrong of þi fader; forsoþe it is not to bee glorie, but shenſheþe.
 xiii Ȥe glorie forsoþe of a man, of þe wrshepe of his fadir; and þe vyleny of þe sone, þe fader wiþoute wrshepe.
 xiv Sone,mekeli tac þe laſte age of þi fader, and ne forewe þou hym in his lif;
 xv and if he faile in wit, ȝif forȝyuenesse, and dispysse þou not hym in þi vertue; forsoþe þe almesse deede of þe fader shal not be in forȝetyng.
 xvi For whi for þe synne of þe moder shal be restored to þee good,
 xvii and in riȝtwisnessse it shal ben bild vp to þee; and in þe dai of tribulacioun it shal be remembrid of þee, and as iys in clearer, þi synnes shul ben loosed. xviii Of hou euel loos is he, þat forfakenþ þe fader; and he is cursid of God, þat terrehþ to wraþe þe moder.
 xix Sone, in debonernesse þi werkes parforme, and ouer þe glorie of men þou shalt be looued.
 xx Hou myche þou art gret, meeke þee in alle þyngus, and byforn God þou shalt fynde grace; xxi for gret myȝt is of God alone, and of meeke men he is wrshipid.
 xxii Heȝere þyngus þan þiself seche þou not, and strengere þingus þan þiself ne ferche þou; but þe þingus þat God comaundide to þee, þenk hem euermor; and in manye werkes of hym 'ne be þou kurious.
 xxiii Forsoþe it is not nedeful to þee, þo þingus þat ben hid, to seen wiþ þin eȝen.
 xxiv In oueruoide þingus wile þou not enferchen manyefold; and in manye werkes of hym þou shalt not be curios;
 xxv manye forsoþe þyngus ouer þe wit of men ben shewid to þee.

xxvi Manye forsoþe supplauntede þe suspisioun of hem, and in vanytee heeld doun þe wittis of hem.
 xxvii Þe harde herte shal han euel in þe laste; and þat looueþ perile, in it shal pershen.
 xxviii Þe herte goende in to two weies, shal not han welsum chaunces; and þe shrewde herte in þem shal be sclaudred.
 xxix A wicke herte shal ben greeued in forewes; and þe synnere shal lei to to synnen.
 xxx To þe synagoge of proude men shal not be helpe; forsoþe þe picke bush of synne in hem shal ben taken vp bi þe roote, and it shal not be vnderstonde.
 xxxi Þe herte of þe wise man is vnderstonde in wiðdam, and þe goode ere shal heren wið alle couetende wiðdam.
 xxxii Þe wis herte and vnderstandable shal abstennen hymself from synnes, and in werkes of riȝtwisnesse welsum aftercomyngus shal han.
 xxxiii Brennende fyr water shal quenche, and almes deede aȝenstandeþ to synnes.
 xxxiv And God is þe forlookere of hym þat ȝeldeþ grace; he haþ mynde in to afterward, and in time of his falling he shal finde fastnyng.

Capitulum III.

i Sone, þe almesse deede of þe pore man ne begile þou, and ouerturne þou not biñ ezen fro þe pore.
 ii Þe hungrende soule ne dispise þou, and terre þou not out to wraþe þe pore in his myseife.
 iii Þe herte of þe helpeles ne tormente þou, and drawe þou not a long ȝifte to þe man put in streit.
 iv Þe preȝing of þe troblid ne caste þou awei, and turne þou not awei bi face fro þe nedie.
 v Fro þe helpeles ne turne þou awei ezen for wraþe, and 'leeue þou not, 'or ȝif þou not cause, to men sechende to curse bifynde to þee.
 vi Forsoþe of þe man cursende to þee in bitternesse of soule, ful out herd shal be þe preȝere of hym; forsoþe he shall here hym, þat made hym.
 vii To þe congregacioun of pore men mac þou þee homli to speken, and to þe prest meeke þou bi soule, and to þe mad gret meeke þou bi hed.
 viii Bowe doun to þe pore biñ ere wiþoute drerynesse, and ȝeld bi dette, and answere pesibl in debonernesse.
 ix Delyuere hym þat wrong suffreþ fro þe hond of þe proude man, and egreli, 'or heuyly, bere þou not in bi soule.
 x In demende be þou to þe fadirles childer merciful as a fadir, and for a man, 'or husbonde, to þe moder of
 hem;
 xi and þou shal be as an obeisaunt sone of þe heiȝest, and he shal han merci of þee more þan a moder.
 xii Wiðdam to his sonus inbreþede lif, and receyueþ þe men out sechende him, and he shal go beforne in þe weie of riȝtwisnesse;

xiii and he þat looueþ it, looueþ lif, and þat waken to it, shul clippe togidere þe 'gladnesse, or pesiblenesse, of it.
 xiv Who holden it, shuln eritagen lif; and whider it shal gon in, God shal blissen.
 xv Who seruen to it, obeshende shul ben to þe hoeli man; and hem þat loouen it, God looueþ.
 xvi Who hereþ it, demeþ folkis of kinde; and who biholdeþ it, shal abide stille troftende.
 xvii If he schal ȝyue feiþ to it, he shal abide stille, and eritagen it; and þe creatures of hem shul be in fastnyng togidere.
 xviii For in temptacioun it goþ wiþ hym, and in þe first byngus it chees hym.
 xix Drede, and ferd, and prouyng it shal bringe in vp on hym, and schal tormenten hym in tribulacioun of his techyng, to þe tyme þat it tempte hym in his þoȝtis, and he leeue to his soule.
 xx And it shal fastne hym, and a riȝt euene weie bringe to hym, and gladen hym;
 xxi and nakenen his hidde þingus to hym, and treforen vp on hym kunning, and vnderstanding of riȝtwisnesse.
 xxii If forsoþe he schal ful erre, it shal forsaken hym, and it shall taken hym in þe hond of his enemy.
 xxiii Sone, waite tyme, and shone awei fro euel.
 xxiv For bi soule, 'or liyf, be þou not confoundid to seyn soþ;
 xxv þer is forsoþe confusioun 'bringende to synne, and þer is confusioun bringende to glorie and grace.
 xxvi Ne take þou to face aȝen bi face, ne aȝen bi soule lesing.
 xxvii Ne shame þou bi neȝhebore in his falling, xxviii ne aȝeen holde þou a woord in time of helþe.
 Hide þou not bi wiðdam in þe fairnes of hit;
 xxix in þe tunge forsoþe wiðdam is knownen, and wit, and kunning, and techyng, in þe wrd of þe weel feelende; and fastnynge in þe werkis of riȝtwisnesse.
 xxx Aȝensfey þou not to þe wrd of treuþe any maner;
 and of lesing of bi myflernyng be þou confoundid.
 xxxi Be þou not confoundid to knoulechen bi synnes;
 and ne sochete þou þee to eche man for synne.
 xxxii Wile þou not wiþstonde aȝen þe face of þe myȝti, ne enforce þou aȝen þe stroc of þe flood.
 xxxiii For riȝtwisnesse fiȝt for bi soule, and vnto deþ strif for riȝtwisnesse; and God shal outfiȝten, 'or ouer come, for þee biñ enimys.
 xxxiv Wile þou not be swift in bi tunge, and vnprofitable and floȝ in bi werkis.
 xxxv Wile þou not ben as a leoun in bi hous, turnende awei biñ homli men, and opresende to men soget to
 þee.
 xxxvi Be not biñ hond put forþ to taken, and to ȝyuen drawnen togidere.

Capitulum V.

i Wile þou not taken heed to wickide possessiouns, and ne seye þou, Per is to me suffisaunt lif; no þing forsoþe it shal profiten in þe tyme of veniaunce, and of oþressing, `or deþ.

ii Ne solewe þou in þi strengþe þe coueiting of þin herte, iii and ne sey þou, What maner myȝte I, or who me shal subiecten for my deedis? God forsoþe veniende shal venien.

iv Ne sey þou, I synnede, and what to me falleþ forewy? Forsoþe þe heiȝeste is a pacient ȝeldere.

v Of þe forȝuenesse of synnes, wile þou not be wipoute drede, ne ley þou to synne vp on synne.

vi And sey þou not, Pe merci of God is gret; of þe multitude of my synnes he shal han mercy.

vii Mercy forsoþe and wraþe fro hym soone neȝheþ, and in to synneres beholdeþ þe wraþe of hym.

viii Ne tarie þou to be conuertid to þe Lord, and ne putte þou it of fro dai in to day.

ix Sodeynli forsoþe shal come þe wraþe of hym, and in time of veniaunce he shal distroȝe þee.

x Wile þou not ben anguyfht in vnriȝt richeſſes; forsoþe þei shul not profiten in þe dai of deþ and of veniaunces.

xi Ne þrowe þou þee out in to eche wynd, and go þou not in to eche wei; so forsoþe a synnere is proued in double tunge.

xii Be þou stedefast in þe weie of þe Lord, and in þe treube of þi wit and kunnyngh; and parfitli solewe þee þe wrd of pes and of riȝtwisnesse.

xiii Be þou debonere to here þe wrd of God, þat þou vnderstonde, and wiþ wyfdam þou schalt bringe forþ `a foþ answere.

xiv If þer is to þee vnderstanding, answere to þi neȝhebore; elles forsoþe þin hond be vp on þi mouþ, leſt þou be take in an vndisciplined wrd, and þou be confoundid.

xv Wrshipe and glorie in þe wrd of þe weel felende; þe tunge forsoþe of þe vnprudent is þe turnyng vp so doun of hym.

xvi Be þou not clepid a twisil tunge, `or a priue bacbiter, in þi lif, and be þou not take in þi tunge, and confoundid.

xvii Forsoþe vp on a þeef is confusioun, and peyne taking, and werſt repref vp on þe twisel tunge. To þe priue grucchere forsoþe hate, and enemyte, and strif.

xviii Iustefie þou lic maner þe litle and þe grete.

Capitulum VI.

i Wile þou not be mad for a frend enemy to þi neȝhebore; repref forsoþe and strif þe euel man shal eritagen, and eche synnere enuyous and twisil tungid.

ii Ne enhaunce þou þee in þe þenkyngh of þi soule, as a boole; leſt perauenture be hurtlid awei þi strengþe bi folie, iii and þi lefes it ete, and þi frutes it leefe, and þou be laſt as a drie tree in wildernesſe.

iv A lhreude forsoþe soule shal destroȝen hym þat haþ it, and in to ioȝe of his enemy it ȝyueþ hym, and shal bringe doun in to þe lot of vnpitouſ men.

v A fweete wrd multeplieþ frendis, and swagieþ enimys; and a gracious tunge in a good man shal abounde.

vi Manye peſible ben to þee, and counſeilour be to þee oon of a pouſend.

vii If þou weldiſt a frend, in temptacioun weld hym, and ne liȝtli opene, `or trowe, þou þiſelf to hym.

viii Per is forsoþe a frend aftir his tyme, and `ſchal not abide ſtille in þe dai of tribulacioun.

ix And þer is a frend þat is turned to enemyte; and þer is a frend, þat hate, and ſtrif, and reprefes shal diſcoueren.

x Per is forsoþe a frend, felawe of þe bord, and abidiþ not ſtille in þe dai of nede.

xi A frend if he abide ſtille ſtablid, he shal be to þee as euene wiþ, and in þin homli þingus troſtli he shal do.

xii If he shal meeken hymſelf aȝen þee, and hidien hymſelf fro þi face, þou shalt han good frenſhepe of o wil.

xiii Fro þin enimys be þou feuered, and of þi frendis tac heed.

xiv A `feiȝful frend a ſtrong proteccioun; who forsoþe fyndeþ hym, fyndiþ treſor.

xv To a feiȝful frend is no comparisoun; þer is not wrþi peſing of gold and of ſiluer aȝen þe goodneſſe of þe feiȝ of hym.

xvi A feiȝful frend leching of lif, and of vndeadlyneſſe; and who dreden þe Lord, shul fiſten hym.

xvii Who dredetþ þe Lord, euenly shal han good frenſhiſe; for after hym shal ben his frend.

xviii Sone, fro þi ȝouþe tac doctrine, and vn to hoore heris þou shalt finde wiſdam.

xix As he þat ereþ, and þat ſowiþ, neȝhe þou to it, and fuſtene þe goode frutes of it.

xx In þe werk forsoþe of it a litil þou shal traualen, and ſoone þou ſhalt ete of þe getingus of it.

xi Hou sharp ful myche is wiſdam to vnwiſe men, and þer shal not abide ſtille in it þe herteles.

xxii As þe vertue of a ſton, prouyng shal be in þem; and þei shul not abide to þrowe it afer.

xxiii Pe wiſdam forsoþe of doctrine is after þe name of it, and not to manye it is opened; to whom forsoþe it is knownen, it abit ſtille, vnto þe ſiȝte of God.

xxiv Here, ſone, and tac counſeil of vnderſtondyng, and caſte þou not awei my counſeil.

xxv Proȝ in þi feet in to þe gyues of it, and in to þe coleris of it þi necke.

xxvi Vnderlei þi ſhulder, and ber it, and ne bere þou heuyfumli in þe bondis of it.

xxvii In al þin inwit neȝhe to it, and in al þi vertue kep þe weies of it.

xxviii Enferche it, and it shal be mad open to þee; `and þou mad wipholding, ne forsake þou it.
 xxix In þe lafte þingus forþoþe þou shalt finde reste in it, and it shal be turned to þee in to liking.
 xxx And þe gyues of it shul be to þee `in to proteccoun of strengþe, and þe feet of vertue, and þe coleris of it in a stoele of glorie. xxxi Þe fairnesse forþoþe of lif is in it, and þe bondis of it holsum binding.
 xxxii Stoele off glorie þou shalt cloþen it, and a crowne of þanking þou shalt putte aboue to þee.
 xxxiv Sone, if þou schalt take heed to me, þou shalt lerne it; and if þou lenest to, `or dressist, þin inwit, þou shalt be wis.
 xxxvii If þou bowest in þin ere, þou shalt take doctrine; and if þou looue to heren, þou shalt be wis.
 xxxviii In þe multitude of prudent prestis stond þou, and to þe wiðdam of hem of herte be þou ioyned; þat al þe telling of God þou mowe heren, and þe prouerbis of preifysng aſcape not fro þee.
 xxxvi And if þou see þe wel felende man, wake out to hym, and þi foot ofte trede þe greeſ `of þe dores of hym.
 xxxvii Penking haue þou in þe heftes of God, and in þe maundemens of hym most bifi be þou; and he shal ȝyue to þee an herte, and coueytinge of wiðdam shal ben ȝoue to þee.

Capitulum VII.

i Wile þou not don eueles, and þei shul not cacche þee.
 ii Go awei fro þe wicke, and þer shul failen eueles fro þee.
 iii Sowe þou not eueles in foorewes of vnriȝtwisnesse, and þou shalt not repen þem in to þe seueþe fold.
 iv Wile þou not sechen of a man þe dignete of a ledere, ne of a king þe chaser of wrfþepe.
 v Iustefie þou not þee bifor God, for he ys knowere of þe herte; and anent þe king wile þou not wilne to ben seen wys.
 vi Wile þou not sechen to be mad a domes man, but if þou mowe bi vertue breken wickidnesse; left parauenture þou out drede þe face of þe myȝti, and putte sclaunder in þin hider and þider deliuernesse.
 vii Synne þou not in þe multitude of þe cite, ne poote þee in to þe puple;
 viii ne bynde þou to double synnes, ne forþoþe þou shalt be in oon gilteles.
 ix Wile þou not ben a coward in þi soule, to preȝen; x and to don almesse deede, ne dispise þou.
 xi Ne sei þou, In þe multitude of my ȝiftus God shal beholde; and me offrende to þe heȝest God, my ȝiftis he shal take.
 xii Scorne þou not a man in þe bitternessse of soule; God forþoþe þe lokere aboute is, þat enhaunceþ and mekeþ.

xiii Wile þou not looue leſing aȝen þi broþer; and in to a frend lic maner do þou not.
 xiv Wile þou not wilne to lien eche leſing; þe besynesse forþoþe of hem is not good.
 xv Wile þou not be ful of wrdis in þe multitude of prestus; and reherſe þou not a wrd in þin orisoun. xvi Hate þou not traualous werkes, and cherlifh doing foormed of þe heiȝest.
 xvii Ne acounte þou þee in þe multitude of men wiþoute discipline.
 xviii Haue mynde of wraþe, for it shall not tarie.
 xix Meeke gretli þi spirit, for veniaunce of þe flesh of þe vnpitous, fyr and werm.
 xx Wile þou not trespassen `in to þi frend delaȝende monie; ne dispise þou bi derwrþe broþer for gold.
 xi Wile þou not gon awei fro a wel felende womman, and a good, whom þou haſt goten in þe drede of þe Lord; forþoþe þe grace of þe shamefastnesse of hir ouer gold.
 xxii Hurte þou not a seruaunt in treuþe werchende, ne an hired man ȝyuyende his lif.
 xxiii A wel felende seruaunt be to þee looued as þi soule; bygile þou not hym fro fredam, ne forsake þou hym helpeles.
 xxiv Beestis to þee ben? tac heed to þem; and if þei ben profitable, abide þei stille anent þee.
 xv Sonus ben to þee? tech hem, and bowe hem fro þe childhed of hem.
 xxvi Doȝtris ben to þee? keep þe body of hem, and shewe þou not þi face glad to þem.
 xxvii Bytac a doȝtir, and a gret werk þou shalt do; and to a wel felende man ȝif hyr.
 xxviii A womman if she is to þee aftir þi soule, þroȝ hir not awei; and to an hateful tac þou not þee in al þin herte.
 xxix Honoure þi fader; and þe weilingus of þi moder forȝete þou not.
 xxx Haue mynde for but bi þem þou haddest not ben, and ȝeeld to þem what maner and þei to þee.
 xxxi In al þi soule dred God, and þe prestes of hym halewe.
 xxxii In al þi vertue looue hym þat made þee; and þe seruauns of hym forſac þou not.
 xxxiii Wrþþepe þou God of al þi soule; and wrþþipe prestus, and purge þee forþ wiþ armes.
 xxxiv ȝif to þem part, as and maundement is to þee, of first frutes, and of purging; and of þi negligence purge þee wiþ fewe.
 xxxv þe ȝifte of þin armes, and þe sacrificise of halewing, þou shalt offre to þe Lord, þe bigynyngus of hoeli þingus.
 xxxvi And to þe pore put forþ þin hond, þat plesing be performed, and þi bleſſyng.
 xxxvii Grace of ȝifte in þe liȝte of alle lyuyng; and to þe deade forfende þou not grace.

xxxviii Fayle þou not to wepende men to ben in coumforting; and wiþ weilende men go þou. xxxix Noȝe it not þee to visiten þe like; of þese þingus forsoþe in louyng þou shalt be fastned.
xl In alle þi werkes haue in mynde þi laste þyngus; and wiþoute ende þou shalt not synne.

Capitulum VIII.

i Stryue þou not wiþ a myȝti man, leſt parauenture þou falle in þe hondys of hym.
ii Striue þou not wiþ a riche man, leſt parauenture aȝenward he sette ſtrif to þee.
iii Manye men forsoþe gold and ſiluer haþ loſt; and vnto þe herte of kingus it ſtreccheþ, and turneþ.
iv Striue þou not wiþ a tungy man, and ne greiþe þou in to þe fir of hym wode.
v Comune þou not to a man vntaȝt, leſt he ſpeke euele of þi progenye.
vi Dispife þou not a man turnende awei hymſelf fro fynne, ne putte þou repref to hym; haue mynde, for alle in corupcioun wee ben.
vii Ne dispife þou a man in his elde; forſoþe of vs þei waxen olde.
viii Wile þou not of þin enemy dead ioȝen, witende for alle wee dien, and in to ioȝe wee wiln come.
ix Dyfpife þou not þe telling of wife preſtis, and in þe prouerbis of hem togidere dwelle þou;
x of hem forſoþe þou shalt lerne wiſdam, and doctrine of vndirſtonding, and fructuoſli vſe grete men wiþoute pleyn̄t.
xi Paffe not biſide þee þe telling of elderes; þei forſoþe lerneden of þer fadris.
xii For of hem þou shalt lerne vnderſtonding; and in tyme of nede þou shalt ȝyue an anſwre.
xiii Teende þou not colis of synneres, vndirnymende hem; and leſt þou be tend wiþ þe flaume 'of þe fyf of þe synnes of hem.
xiv Stonde þou not aȝen þe face of þe ſtrifful; leſt he ſitte as a ſpiere to þi mouþ.
xv Wile þou not leenen to a man ſtrengere þan þiſelf; þat if þou leeneſt, haue it as loſt.
xvi Behote þou not ouer þi vertue; þat if þou behote, as ȝelding beþenk.
xvii Deme þou not aȝen þe iuge; for after þat ys riȝtwis, he demeþ.
xviii Wiþ a fool hardy man go þou not in þe weie, leſt par auenture he gregge his eueles in þee; he forſoþe aftir his wil goþ, and togidere wiþ þe folie of hym þou shalt perſhen.
xix Wiþ þe wraþeful man make þou not ianglyng, and wiþ þe fool hardy go þou not in to deſert; for as noȝt is anent hym blod, and where is not helpe, he ſhal hurtle þee doun.
xx Wiþ fooleſ haue þou not counſeil; forſoþe þey ſhul not moun loouen, but þo þingus þat plesen to þem.

xi Beſorn a ſtraunger make þou not counſeil; forſoþe þou woſt not, what he bere out.

xii To alle men þin herte opene þou not; leſt par auenture it bringe in to þee fals grace, and yt poote reprooſ to þee.

Capitulum IX.

i Be þou not gelouſe to þe womman of þi boſum; leſt ſhe ſhewe vp on þee þe malice of threude doctrine.
ii ȝyue þou not to a womman power of þi ſoule; leſt ſhe go in to þi vertue, and þou be confoundid.
iii Behold not a womman myche wilhende; leſt par auenture þou falle in to þe fnares of hir.
iv Wiþ a leperelle, 'or tumbler, be þou not besy, ne here hir; leſt par auenture þou perfhe in þe delyuere doyng of hir.
v A maiden beholde þou not; leſt par auenture þou be ſclandered in þe fairneſſe of hir.
vi ȝyue þou not to lecchoures þi ſoule in any þing; leſt þou leefe þee, and þi ſoule, and þin eritage.
vii Wile þou not beholdeſ aboute in þe weies of þe cite; ne erre þou aboute in þe ſtretis of it.
viii Turne awei þi face fro a gai womman; and beholde þou not aboute ſtrange fairneſſe.
ix For þe fairneſſe of a womman manye men perſheden; and of it luſt as fyrenneþ out.
x Eche womman þat is lecherous, as a þoſt in þe weie ſhal ben 'to-treden.
xi þe fairneſſe of an alien womman manye men wnidrid ben mad repreuable; forſoþe þe togidere ſpeche of hir as fyrenneþ out.
xii Wiþ an alien womman outerli ſitte þou not, ne ly þou wiþ hir vp on þe arm;
xiii and ſtriuſ þou not wiþ hir in wyn, leſt par auenture ſhe bowe doun þin herte in to hir, and bi þi blod þou flyde in to perdiſiouſ.
xiv Forsake þou not an old frend; forſoþe þe newe ſhal not be lic to hym.
xv Newe wyn a newe frend; it ſhal waxen old, and wiþ ſwetneſſe þou shalt drinke it.
xvi Looue þou not þe glorie and þe richesseſ of þe synneres; forſoþe þou woſt not, what be to come þe turnyng vp ſo doun of hym.
xvii Pleſe not to þee þe wrong of vnriȝtwis men, witende for vnto helle þe vnpitous ſhal not plesen.
xviii Aferr be þou awei fro a man hauende power of fleyn̄g, and not of rering, and þou shalt not ouertrowen þe dred of deþ;
xix and if þou neȝheſt to hym, wile þou not any þing don amys, leſt par auenture he take awei þi lif.
xx þe comunyoun of deþ wite þou; for in þe myddil of gernes þou shalt gon in, and vp on þe armes of men forewende þou ſhalt gon.
xi Aftir þi vertue war þee fro þi 'nexte, or neyȝbore; and wiþ wife men and prudent men trete þou.

- xxii Rīȝtwis men be þei to þee metefelawes; and in þe drede of God be to þee gloriyng.
- xxiii And in þe wit be to þee þenking of God; and al þi telling out in þe heftes of þe heȝest.
- xxiv In þe hond of `craftis men werkes shul ben preisid, and þe prince of a puple in wiðdam off his fermoun; in þe wit forsoþe of elderes a wrd.
- xxv Ferful is in his cite a tungy man; and þe fool hardy in hys woord hateful shal ben.

Capitulum X.

- i A wis domesman shal demen his puple; and þe princethod of þe `wel felende, `or witti, shal ben stable.
- ii Aftir þe domesman of þe puple, so and þe seruauntis of hym; and whiche maner is þe gouernour of þe cyte, fuche and þe dwelleris in it.
- iii An vnwis king shal leesen his puple; and cites shul ben enhabitud bi þe wit of prudent men.
- iv In þe hond of God þe power of þe erþe, and abhominable alle wickidnesses of þe Jentiles; and a profitable gouernour in tyme he shal reran vp on it.
- v In þe hond of God is þe power of man; and vp on þe face of þe `scribe, or man of lawe, he shal putte vp on his wrship.
- vi Of alle þe wrong of þi neȝhebore haue þou not mynde; and no þing do þou in þe werkes of wrong.
- vii Hateful biforn God and men is pride; and cursful alle wickidnessis of Jentiles.
- viii Rewme fro folc in to folc is born ouer, for vnriȝtwisnesses, and wrongus, and striues, and dyuers treccheries.
- ix Forsoþe þan þe auerous man no þing is more ful of hydous gilte. What pridist þou, erþe and asken?
- x No þing is more wicke, þan to loouen moone; þis forsoþe haþ his soule fillable, `or able to be sold, `for in his lif he þreȝ awei his inward þingus.
- xi Of eche myȝtihed short lif; lengere infyrmyte greeueþ þe leche.
- xii Short ficknesse þe leche kutteþ of; so and a king to dai is, and to moru shal die.
- xiii Whan forsoþe a man shal dien, he shal eritagen serpentes, and bestes, and wermes.
- xiv Þe bygynnyng of þe pride of man to go bacward fro God;
- xv for fro hym þat made hym his herte wente awey. For þe bygynnyng of alle synne is pride; who `schal holde it, shal be fulfill wiþ curfis, and it shal turne hym vp so doun in to þe ende.
- xvi Perfore þe Lord dispiſid þe couentis of euele men, and destroȝede þem `in to þe ende.
- xvii Þe setes of proude dukes God distroȝede; and made mylde men to sitte for hem.
- xviii Þe rootis of proude folkis God drieðe; and plauntide meke men of þo folkis.

- xix Þe londis of Jentiles þe Lord turnede awei; and destroȝede þem vn to þe foundement.
- xx He made drie of þem, and scaterede þem; and made to cesen þe mynde of hem fro þe erþe.
- xi God lost þe mynde of proude men; and lafte þe mynde of meke men in wit.
- xxii Pere is not shapen to men pride; ne wrabefulnesse to þe nacioun of wymmen.
- xxiii Þe fed of men shal be wrshipid, þat þat dredep God; þat fed forsoþe shall ben put out of wrship, þat passēþ þe maundemens of `þe Lord.
- xxiv In þe myddel off breþern þe gouernour of þem in wrship; and þat dremen God, shul ben in þe eȝen of hym.
- xxv Þe glorie of wrshepid riche men and of pore is þe drede of God.
- xxvi Wile þou not dispisen þe riȝtwis pore man; and not magnefien þe riche synful man.
- xxvii Gret is a iuge, and þe myȝti is in wrship; and he is not more þan he þat dredep God.
- xxviii To þe seruaunt wel felende shul seruen fre men; and a man prudent and lerned shal not grucchen chaſtisid, and þe vnkunnende shal not be wrshipid.
- xxix Wile þou not enhaunce þee in þi werk to be do; and wile þou not dispeire in þe time of anguysh.
- xxx Betere is þat wercheþ, and aboundeþ in alle þingis, þan þat glorieþ, and nedeþ bred.
- xxxi Sone, in debonernesse kep þi soule; and ȝif to it wrshepe, aftir his differt.
- xxxii Þe synnende in to his soule, who shal iustifiȝ? and who shal worchip þe puttere his soule out of wrship?
- xxxiii Þe pore glorieþ bi disciplyne and his drede; and þer is a man þat is wrshipid for his substaunce.
- xxxiv Who forsoþe glorieþ in porenesse, hou myche more in substaunce? and who glorie in substaunce, porenesse `shame he.

Capitulum XI.

- i The wiðdam of þe mekid shal enhauncen þe hed of hym; and in þe myddel of grete men to sitten shal maken hym.
- ii Preise þou not a man in his fairnesse; ne disprise þou a man in his siȝt.
- iii Short in foules is a bee; and þe bigynnyng of swetnesse þe frut of hym haþ.
- iv In cloþing glorie þou neuermor, ne in þe dai of þi wrship be þou enhauncid; for merueilous þe werkes of þe heȝest alone, and glorious, and hid, and vnseen þe werkes of hym.
- v Manye tirauntis seten in trone; and þe vntrouable, `or of whom was no suspicioȝ, bar þe diademe.
- vi Manye myȝti ben opresid gretly; and þe glorious ben taken in `to þe hondis of opere men.
- vii Beforn þat þou aske, ne blame þou any man; and whan þou shalt asken, chaſtysse þou riȝtly.

viii Beform þat þou here, ne answere þou a wrd; and in þe myddel of eldere men ne ley þou to to speken.
ix Of þat þing þat greeueþ not þee, strie þou not; and in þe myddel of synneres ne abide þou.
x Sone, be not in manye þingis bi deedus; and if þou were riche, þou shalt not ben gilteles fro trespass. If forsoþe þou shalt solewe, þou shalt not ouertaken; and if þou shul renne biforn, þou shalt not scapen.
xi Þer is a man traualende, and heȝende, and forewende vnpitous; and so myche more he shal not abounde.
xii Þer is a man welewid, nedende rekuring, more failende in vertue, and abundende in poreness; xiii and þe eȝe of God beheeld hym in goode, and rerede hym fro his lownesse, and enhauncide his hed; and manye merueileden in hym, and wrshepiden God.
xiii Goodis and eueles, lif and deþ, poreness and honefete, ben of God.
xv Wisdam, and disciplyne, and kunningg of þe lawe ament þe Lord; louyng and þe weies of goode men ament hym.
xvi Errour and dercnesses to synneres ben foormed; who forsoþe ful out ioȝen in to euell, waxen old togidere in to euelis.
xvii þe ȝyung of God abidiȝ stille to riȝtwis men; and þe profitus of it welsum aftircomyngus shuln han in to wiþoute ende.
xviii Þer is þat is mad riche scarfly doende, and þis þe part of þe meede of hym, xix in þat þat he seiȝ, I fond reste to me, and now I shal eten of my goodis alone.
xx And he wot not þat tyme passe biside hym, and deþ neȝheþ, and he forsakeþ alle þingus to opere men, and die.
xxi Stond in þi testament, and in it spec togidere; and in þe werk of þin heftis wax old.
xxii Abide þou not in þe werkes of synneres; troste forsoþe in God, and dwel in þi place.
xxiii Liȝt is forsoþe in þe eȝen of God, fodeynly to honesten þe pore.
xxiv þe blissing of God in to þe meede of þe riȝtwise heeȝeþ; and in swift wrlicheþ þe forȝ going of hym makeþ fruyt.
xxv Ne sey þou, What to me is nede? and what `godis` schulen be to me her aftir?
xxvi Ne sey þou, I am suffisaunt, and what of þis I shall be mad wersē? xxvii In þe day of goodis be þou not vnyndeful of eueles, and in þe dai of eueles be þou not vnyndeful of goodis;
xxviii for liȝt is bifor God in þe day of deþ to ȝelden to eche aftir his weies.
xxix þe malice of oon hour makeþ forȝetynge of molt lecherie; and in þe ende of a man ful nakenyng of þe werkis of hym.

xxx Bifor deþ preife þou not any man; for in his sonus is knownen a man.
xxxi Not eche man bringe þou in to þin hous; manye forsoþe ben þe spies of þe trecherous.
xxxii As forsoþe þe entrailes of stinkende þingus bolken out, and as þe partrich is broȝt in to þe pit falle, and as a capret in to þe grene, so and þe herte of proude men; and as þe forlookere feende þe falling of his neȝhebore.
xxxiii Forsoþe goode þingus in to euel turnyng he aspieþ, and in chosen men he leib vp a wem. xxxiv Of oo sparcle fyr is eechid, and of oon trecherous blood is encresid; a man forsoþe synnere waiteþ to blood.
xxxv Tac heed to þee fro þe deþ berere, forsoþe he forgeþ eueles; leſt perauenture he bringe vp on þee scorryng in to wiþ oute ende.
xxxvi Rescyeue to þee an alien womman, and she shal turne þee vp so doun in a whirlewynd, and alienen þee fro þi propre weies.

Capitulum XII.

i Iff þou shul wel do, wite þou to whom þou shalt wel do; and þer shal be myche grace in þi goodys.
ii Wel do to þe riȝtwis, and þou shalt finde gret ȝelding; and if not of hym, certes of þe Lord.
iii It is not weel to hym þat is besi in eueles, and to þe not ȝyuende almes deede; for and þe heiȝest to hate hab synneres, and hab merci to penaunce doeres.
iv ȝif to þe merciful, and vndertake `or resseyue þou not þe synnere; and to vnpitouse and synneres he shal ȝelde veniaunce, kepende þem in þe day of veniaunce.
v ȝif to þe goode, and rescyeue þou not þe synnere.
vi Weel do to þe meeke, and ȝyue þou not to þe vnpitous; forfende to ȝyuen to hym loeues, leſt in hem he be myȝtiere þan þou.
vii For double eueles þou shalt fynde in alle goodus, what euere þou shalt do to hym; for and þe heiȝeste to hate hab synneres, and to þe vnpitous he shal ȝelde veniaunce.
viii A frend shal not be knownen in goodis, and an enemy shal not ben hid in eueles.
ix In þe goodes of a man þe enemys of hym; and in þe forewe and in þe malice of hym þe frend is knownen.
x Ne trowe þou to þin enemy vnto wiþoute ende; forsoþe as bras rusteþ out þe shreudenesse of hym.
xi And if meekid he go crookid, þroȝ awei þi wil, and keep þee fro hym.
xii Set not hym biside þee, and fitte he not at þi riȝt half, leſt turned he stonde in þi place; leſt perauenture turned in to þi place he inwardli feche þi chaizer, and in þe laste þou knowe my wrdes, and in mi wrdis þou be prickid.
xiii Who shal lechen to þe enchauntere snyten of þe eddere, and to alle þat neȝhen to bestes, and þat folewip wiþ þe wicke man, and is aboute wrappid in his synnes?

 xiii Oon hour wiþ þee he shal abide stille; if forsoþe þou bowe doun, he shal not vnderbern.
 xv In his lippis þe enemy putteþ in swetnesses, and in his herte he spieþ, þat he turne þee vp so doun in to þe dich.
 xvi In þin eȝen þe enemy wepiþ; and if he shul fynde tyme, he shal not be fulfild wiþ blod.
 xvii If þer shul falle to þee eueles, þou shalt finde hym þere raþere, `or former.
 xviii In þin eȝen þe enemy shal wepen, and as helpende he shal vnderdelue þi plantes.
 xix His hed he shal moue, and flappe for ioȝe wiþ þe hond; and many þingus grucchendeli whistrende shal wiþ chaunge his chere.

Capitulum XIII.

i Who shal touche pich, shal be defould of it; and who shal comunen to þe proude man, shal cloþin pride. ii Berþen vp on hym he takeþ, þat comuneþ to þe honestere þan hymself; and to þe richere þan þou, þou shalt not ben felawe.
 iii What shal comune þe caudron to þe pot? whan forsoþe þei shuln hurtle þemself, it shal ben to-broken.
 iv Þe riche man vnriȝtwisly dide, and shal gnaſte; þe pore man forsoþe hurt shal holde his pes.
 v If þou shul ȝyue, he shal take þee; and if þou haue not, he shal forſake þee.
 vi If þou haue, he shal lyue wiþ þee, and auoide þee out; and he shal not forewen upon þee.
 vii If þou were necessarie to hym, he shal bigile þee;
 and vnder laȝhende hope he shal ȝyue, tellende to þee alle goodes; and shal seyn, What nede is to þee?
 viii And he shal confounde þee in his metes, to þe tyme he neentishe þee twies or þries, and in þe laste he shal scorne þee; afterward seende he shal forſake þee, and hys hed moue to þee.
 ix Be þou mekid to God, and abid his hondis.
 x Tac heed, leſt desceyued in folie þou be mekid.
 xi Wile þou not be meeke in þi wifdam, and leſt lowid in to folie þou be lad afide.
 xii Clepid to of þe myȝtyere, go awey; of þat forsoþe more he shal clepe þee to.
 xiii Be þou not `to gredi, leſt þou be put aȝeen; and be þou not fer fro hym, leſt þou go in to forȝeting.
 xiv Ne wiþholde þou of euene to speken wiþ hym, and trowe þou not to þe manye wrdis of hym; forsoþe of myche speche he shal tempte þee, and vnder laȝhende þe vnmylde inwit of hym shal aske þee of þin hid þingus.
 xv And he shal `to gedir kepe þi wrdis, and not sparen fro malice, and fro bondis.
 xvi War to þee, and tac heed bisili to þin heering; for wiþ þy turnyng vpsodoun þou gost.

xvii Heerende forsoþe þo þingus, as in sweuenes see,
 and þou shalt waken.
 xviii In al þi lif looue God, and inwardli clep hym in þin helþe.
 xix Eche beste looueþ lic to hym; so and eche man þe nexte to hym.
 xx Eche flesh to his liȝch shal be ioyned, and eche man to his lic shal be felashepid. xi As a wlf shal comune to a lomb operwhile, so a synnere to a riȝtwis.
 xxi What comuncacioun to an hoeli man at a dogge?
 or what good parti to a riche man at a pore?
 xxii Hunting of a leoun an asse in wildernesſe; so pore men ben þe leswe of riche men.
 xxiii And as abhominacioun to a proud man is meknesſe, so and cursing of þe riche is þe pore.
 xxv Þe riche man stirid is confermed of his frendis; þe meeke forsoþe, whan he shal falle, shal be put out also fro knownen.
 xxvi To þe riche desceyued manye ben rekureres; he spac proudli, and þei iustefieden hym.
 xxvii Þe meeke is desceyued, ferþermor and vndirnomyn; he spac felendely, `or wisely, weel, and þer is not ȝoue to hym a place.
 xxviii Þe riche spac, and alle heelden þer pes; and þe wrd of hym vnto þe cloudys þei shul bern.
 xxix Þe pore spac, and þei seyn, Who is þis? and if he schal offend, þei shul turne hym vp so doun.
 xxx Good is substaunce, to whom is not synne in concience; and most wicke is porenes in þe mouȝ of þe vnpitous.
 xxxi Þe herte of a man chaungeþ þe face of hym, or in good or in euel.
 xxxii Þe step of a good herte, and a good face, hard þou shalt fynde, and wiþ traualie.

Capitulum XIV.

i Blisful þe man, þat is not fliden in wrd fro his mouȝ, and is not prickid in forewi flouþe of gilte.
 ii Sely, `or bleſſid, þat hadde not forewi flouþe of his inwit, and falleþ not awei fro his hope.
 iii To þe coueitous man, and hard, wiþoute resoun is substaunce; and to an enuyous man, wherto gold?
 ivi Who hepiþ of his inwit vnriȝtwisly, to oþere men gedereþ; and in þe goodis of hym an oþer shal don leccherie.
 v Who to hymself is shreude, to what oþer shal he ben good? and he shal not ben merie in his goodus.
 vi No þing is wers, þan he þat enuyep to hymself; and þat is þe ȝelding of his malice.
 vii And if he shul weel don, vñwitudenly, and not wilnende he doþ; and in þe laste he shewiþ his malice.
 viii Shreude is þe eȝe of þe pale, and turnende awei face, and dispisende his soule.

ix Vnfillable þe eȝe of þe coueitous; in to þe part of wickidnesse he shal not be fild, to þe tyme þat he fulli ende vnriȝtwisnesse, makende drie his soule.
 x Þe euele eȝe to eueles, and nedy shal not ben fild wiþ bred; and in forewi flouþe he shal be vp on his bord.
 xi Sone, if þou haſt, wel do wiþ þee, and offre to God wrþi offringis.
 xii Be þou myndeful for deþ shal not tarien, and þe testament of helle, þat is shewid to þee; þe testament forsoþe of þis world bi deþ shal dien.
 xiii Bifor deþ wel do to þi frend, and aftir þi strengþis puttende out ȝif to þe pore.
 xiv Be þou not bigilid fro þe good day, and þe parcel of þe goode day passe þee not.
 xv Wheþer not to obere þou shalt lefe þi forewis, and þi trauailes? In departing of lot xvi ȝif, and tac; and iustefie þi soule.
 xvii Bifor þi deþ werch riȝtwisnesse; for to finde mete is not anent helle.
 xviii Eche flesh as heiȝ shal waxe old, and as a lef beryng frut in a grene tree.
 xix Opere ben iendred, and obere fallen doun; so ieneracioun of flesh and of blod, an oþer is endid, and an oþer is born.
 xx Eche coruptible werec in þe ende shal faile; and he þat wercheþ it, shal go wiþ it.
 xxi And eche chosen werec shal be iustified; and he þat wercheþ it, shal be wrþipid in it.
 xxii Blisful þe man, þat shal dwelle in wisdam, and þat in riȝtwisnesse sweteli shal þenke, and in wit shal þenke þe looking aboute of God.
 xxiii Who þenkeþ out þe weies of hym in his herte, and in hid þingus of it vnderstanding shal be; goende aftir it as enscherere, and in þe weies of it beende stille.
 xxiv Who byholdeþ bi þe wyndowes of it, and in þe ȝatis of it is herende;
 xxv who resteþ biside þe hous of it, and in þe walles of it 'piccheþ a pale. He shal ordeyne his litle hous at þe hondis of it, and þer shuln reste in þe litle houses of it goodis, bi aungelis during;
 xxvi he shal settēn his sonus vnder þe roof of it, and vnder þe braunchis of it he shal wone; xxvii he shal be defendid vnder þe roof of it fro brennende hete, and in þe glorie of it he shal reste.

Capitulum XV.

i Who dredeþ God, shal do goode þingus; and who wiþholding is of riȝtwisnesse, shal taken it.
 ii And it shal meete to hym as a moder wrþipid, and as a womman fro maidynhed it shal vndirtake hym.
 iii It shal feede hym wiþ þe bred of lif, and of vnderstanding; and wiþ þe water of holsum wisdam it shal ȝyue drinke to hym; and it shal be fastned in hym, and not ben bowed.

iv And it shal wiþholden hym, and he shal not be confoundid; and it shal enhaunce hym anent his neȝhebores.
 v And in þe myddel of þe chirche it shal opene his mouþ, and shal fulfille hym wiþ spirit of wisdam, and of vnderstanding; and wiþ stoele of glorie it shall cloþin hym.
 vi Myrþe and ful out ioȝing it shal tresoren vp on hym;
 and in euerlastende name it shal eritagen hym.
 vii Men foolis shul not take it, and men wel feelende shul meete to it. Men foolis shul not seen it; ferr forsoþe it is, ferre awei fro pride, and fro trecherie.
 viii Men lieres shul not be myndeful of it, and soþfast men ben founden in it; and welsum aftir comyng þei shul han vnto þe looking in of God.
 ix Feir preising is not in þe mouþ of þe synnere, for he is not fent of þe Lord.
 x For gon forþ is wisdam of God; forsoþe to þe wisdam of God preising shal stonden at, and in þe feiþful mouþ shal abounde, and þe lordshipere shal ȝyuen it to hym.
 xi Pou shalt not seyn, Bi God it is awey; þo þingis forsoþe þat it hateþ, pou shalt not do.
 xii Ne Fey þou, He me disceyuede; forsoþe vnpitouſ men ben not nedeful to hym.
 xiii þe Lord hateþ al cursing of errour, and it shal not ben looueful to men dredende hym.
 xiv God fro þe bygynnyng ordeynede man, and lafte hym in þe hond of his counseil.
 xv He leide to maundemens, and his heftes;
 xvi if þou wilt þe maundemens kepen, þei shul kepe þee, and to kepen pleſid feiþ in to wiþoute ende.
 xvii He putte to þee watir and fyr; to what þou wilt, put forþ þin hond.
 xviii Bifor man is lif and deþ, good and euel; þat plesiþ to hym, shal 'be ȝoue to hym.
 xix For myche is þe wisdam of God, and strong in myȝt, and feende alle men wiþoute cesing.
 xx Pe eȝen of þe Lord to þe dredende hym; and he knowiþ al þe besynesse of man.
 xi To no man he comaundide vnpitously to do; and to no man he ȝaf space of synnyng.
 xxii Forsoþe he coueiteþ not þe multitude of vnfelþ sonus and vnpitouſ sonus.

Capitulum XVI.

i Mac þou not myrie in vnpitouſ sonus, if þei ben multeplied; ne delite þou vp on hem, if þer is not þe drede of God in hem.
 ii Ne ȝyue þou feiþ to þe lif of hem, and ne biholde þou in to þe trauailes of hem.
 iii Betere ys forsoþe oon dredende God, þan a þousend vnpitouſ sonus.
 iv And profitable it is to die wiþoute sonus, þan to lefen vnpitouſ sones.

- v Of oon weel felende man shal ben enhabitid þe cuntry; and of þre vnpitouſit shal be forsaken.
- vi Manye opere þingis myn eȝe faȝ, and þe strengere þingus of þese myn ere herde.
- vii In þe synagoge of synnende men fyr shal out brenne, and in þe vnbileueful folc of kinde wraþe shal waxe ful out tend.
- viii Olde ȝeauntis þat ben destroȝid, troftende to þer vertue, fulli preȝeden not for þer synnes;
- ix and he sparde not to þe pilgri�aging of hem, but smot hem, and wariede hem, for þe pride 'of þe word of hem.
- x He dide not mercy to þem, destroȝende al þe folc of kinde and enhauncende itself in his synnes.
- xi And as fixe hundrid þousend of footmen, þat ben gadered in þe hardnesse of þer herte; and if oon were rered vp þe nol, wnder if he hadde ben harmles.
- xii Mercy forsoþe and wraþe is wiþ hym; myȝty is þe ful out orisoun, and heeldende out wraþe.
- xiii After his mercy, so þe chastisfing of hym; he demeþ a man aftir his werkes.
- xiv Pe synnere shal not scafen out in to raueyn; and 'þe suffryng of þe doyng mercy schal not tary by hynde.
- xv Eche mercy shal make place to echon, aftir þe desert of his werkis, and after þe vnderstanding of þe pilgri�aging of hym.
- xvi Sey þou not, Fro God I shal ben hid; and fro þe heiȝest, who of me shal han mynde?
- xvii In a gret puple I shal not be knownen; what forsoþe is my foule in so gret a creature wiþ outhoute mesure? Loo!
- xviii heuene, and heuenus of heuenus, þe fe, 'or depnesse, and al erþe, and þat in hem ben, in þe siȝte of hym shul be moued togidere;
- xix mounteynes togidere, and hilles, and þe foundemens of þe erþe; and whan God shal biholde þem, bi trembling þei shul be smyte togidere.
- xx And in alle þese þingus mys felende, 'or vnewittie, is þe herte, and eche herte is vnderfonden of hym.
- xxi And þe weyes of hym who vnderstondiþ? and þe tempeſt, þat nouþer þe eȝe faȝ 'of man?
- xxii For whi manye werkis of hym ben in hid þingus, but þe werkis of þe riȝtwilnesse of hym who shal tellen out, or who shal suffren? Fer forsoþe is þe teftament fro summe; and þe asking of men is in þe ful ending.
- xxiii Who is laſſid in herte, þenkeþ idil þingus; and þe vnprudent man and errende þenkeþ folies.
- xxiv Heere me, lone, and lerne disciplyne of wit, and in my wrdis tac heed in þin herte; and I shal seyn in equite difcylyne, and enscherchen to tellen out wiðdam. And in my wrdis tac heed in þin herte;
- xxv and I sey in equyte of spirit vertues, þat God putte in to his werkis fro þe bigynnyng, and in treuþe I telle out þe kunnyng of hym.
- xxvi In þe dom of God his werkis fro þe bigynnyng; and fro þe ordeynyng of þo men he feuerede þe partes of þem, and þe bigynnyngus of þem in þer folkis of kinde.

xxvii He enournede in to wiþoute ende þe werkis of hem; and þei hungreden not, ne traualeden, and lefedan not of fro þer werkis.

xxviii Eche þe neȝhebore to hym shal not anguyfshen, vnto þe spirituel world 'or aungelus duryng.

xxix Be þou not vnleeuable to þe wrd of hym.

xxx Aftir þese þingus God biheeld in to þe erþe, and fulfilde it wiþ his goodis.

xxxi Eche forsoþe soule ful of lif told of bifor þe face of hym; and it eft þe turnyng aȝeen of hem.

Capitulum XVII.

i God wiþ þe riȝt hond foormede man; and after his ymage made hym.

ii And eft turnede hym in to it; and after hymself cloþide hym wiþ vertue.

iii Noumbre of daȝes and time he ȝaf to hym; and ȝaf to hym power of þem þat ben vpon erþe.

iv He putte þe drede of hym vpon alle flesh, and lordshipide of bestes and of foules.

v He foormede of hym helpe lic to hymself; counseil, and tunge, and eȝen, and eren, and herte, he ȝaf to þem, of þenkyn out; and þe discylyne of vnderstanding fulfilde þem.

vi He foormede to þem kunnyng of þe spirit, bi wit he fulfilde þe herte of hem; and eueles and goodis he shewide to þem.

vii He putte þe eȝe of hem vpon þe hertes of hem, to shewen to þem þe grete þingus of his werkis, viii þat þe name of his halewing þei preise togidere; and to gloriens in þe merueilous þingus of hym, þat þei telle out þe grete þingus of his werkis.

ix He addede to þem discylyne; and þe lawe of lif he eritagede þem.

x Euerlastende testament he sette wiþ þem; and riȝtwilnesse and his domes he shewide to þem.

xi And þe grete þingus of his wrfshire þe eȝe of hem faȝ, and þe wrfshire of vois herden þe eres of hem; and he feide to þem, Takeþ heed fro alle wicke þing.

xii And he comaundide to þem, to eche of his neȝhebore.

xiii Pe weies of hem biforn hym ben euermor; and þei ben not hid fro þe eȝen of hym.

xiv In to eche folc of kinde he beforne sette a gouernour;

xv and Israel þe part of God is mad open.

xvi And alle þe werkes of hem as þe sunne in þe siȝte of God; and þe eȝen of hym wiþ outhoute cefing biholdende in þe weies of hem.

xvii Pe testamentis ben not hid for þe wickidnesse of hem; and al þe wickidnesse of hem in þe siȝt of God.

xviii Pe almes deede of a man as a litil fac wiþ hym, and þe grace of man as þe eȝe appil it shal kepen;

xix and aftirward it shal rise aȝeen, and ȝelde to þem ȝelding, to eche in to be hed of hem; and turnen in to þe lowere partus of erþe.
 xx To men doende penaunce forþoþe he ȝaf þe weie of riȝtwisnesse, and confermede men failende to suffren, and ordeynede to þem þe lot of treuþe.
 xxi Turne þou to þe Lord, and lef þi synnes; xxii preþe þou bifor þe face of þe Lord, and make lassē þe occasiouns of giltis.
 xxiii Turne aȝeen to þe Lord, and turne awei fro þin vnriȝtwisnesse, and myche hate þou cursing.
 xxiv And knowe þou riȝtwisnesses, and þe domes of God; and stond in þe lot of putting forþ, and of orisoun of þe heiȝest God.
 xxv 'In to þe partes go of þe hoeli world, wiþ men on lyue, 'and ȝyung knouleching to God.
 xxvi Ne fast abide þou in þe errour of vnpitous men.
 Bifor deþ kuouleche; fro þe deade as noȝt persheþ confessioun.
 xxvii þou shalt knoulechen lyuende, lyuende and hoel þou shalt knouleche, and preisen God; and gloriens in þe mercy doyngus of hym.
 xxviii Hou gret þe merci of God, and þe mytigacioun,
 'or helpe, of hym to men conuertende to hym.
 xxix Ne forþoþe alle þingus mown ben in men; for þe sone of man is not vndeadly, and 'in to vanyte of malice þei pleseden.
 xxx What more cleer þan þe funne? and þis shall faile; or what wers þan þat flesh þoȝte out, and blod? and þat shal ben vndernomene.
 xxxi þe vertue of þe heiȝnese of heuene he biholdiþ;
 and alle men erþe and asken.

Capitulum XVIII.

i He þat lyueþ in to wiþoute ende, made of noȝt alle þingus togidere; God alone shall be iustefied, and dwelleþ vnuenkushid king wiþoute ende.
 ii Who shal suffiſe to telle out þe werkis of hym?
 iii who shal enferche þe grete wrþi þingis of hym?
 iv þe vertue forþoþe of his gretnesse who shal telle out?
 or who shal leyn to to tellen out þe merci of hym?
 v Þere is not to lassēn, ne to echen; ne þer is to fynde þe grete wrþi þingus of God.
 vi Whan a man haþ ful endid, þanne he bigynneþ; and whan he haþ restid, he shal werchen. vii What is a man, and what is þe glorie of hym? and what is good, or what þe wicke þing of hym?
 viii þe noumbre of þe dazes of men, as myche an hundrid ȝer, as dropis to þe watir of þe se þei ben ordeyned; and as a litil ston of grauel, so fewe ȝeres in þe dai of þe spirituel world.
 ix For þat pacient is God in þem, 'and he schal heelde out vpon hem his mercy.

x He saȝ þe presumpciou, 'or pride, of þe herte of hem, for it ys euel; and he kneȝ þe turnyng vp so doun of hem, for it is lhreude.
 xi þe before he fulfilde hys mercy in hem, and shewede to þem þe weie of equyte.
 xii þe mercy doyng of man aboute his neȝhebore; þe merci forþoþe of þe Lord vp on alle flesh.
 xiii He bat haþ mercy, and lerneþ, and techeþ as a shepperde his floc, xiv haue he mercy, takende out doctrine of mercy doyng; and bat hieȝen in þe domes of hym.
 xv Sone, in goode þingus ȝyue þou not pleynt, and in alle ȝifte ȝyue þou not forewi flouþe, 'or heuynesse, of an euel wrd.
 xvi Wheþer not brennende hete þe dew shal aȝeen keelen? so and a wrd betere þan a ȝifte.
 xvii Lo! wheþer not a wrd ouer a good ȝifte? but eiþer wiþ a iustefied man.
 xviii þe fool sharpli shal ȝyue reþref; and þe ȝifte of þe vndisciplyned makeþ eȝen to waxe failende.
 xix Bifor dom greiþe riȝtwisnesses to þee; and er þat þou speke, lerne.
 xx Bifor sienesse tac medycyne; and bifor dom aske þou þiself, and in þe liȝte of God þou shalt finde mercy.
 xxi Bifor sienesse meeke þee, and in tyme of infirmite shew þou þi conuersacioun, 'or lyuyng.
 xxii Be þou not lettid to preȝen euermor, and dredre þou not vnto þe dead to be iustefied; for þe meede of God dwelliþ in to wiþoute ende.
 xxiii Biforn orisoun greiþe þou þi soule; and wile þou not be as a man þat tempteþ God.
 xxiv Haue mynde of wraþe in þe day of endyng; and tyme of ȝelding in conuersacioun þou shalt make.
 xxv Haue mynde of pouert in tyme of plente; and þe nede of pouert in þe dai of richeſſes.
 xxvi Fro erli vnto euen þe tyme shal ben chaungid; and alle þese þingus hastid in þe eȝen of God.
 xxvii A wys man in alle þingis dredeþ; and in þe dazeſ of giltis shal taken heed fro flouþe.
 xxviii Eche witti knowiþ wiðdam; and to hym þat fyndeþ it, it shal ȝyue knoulechyng.
 xxix þe wel felende in wrdus and þei willy diden, and vnderstoden treuþe, and riȝtwisnesse; and bisoȝten prouerbes and domes.
 xxx After þi lustis go þou not; and fro þi wil turne þee
 awei.
 xxxi If þou ȝyue to þi soule his lustis, it shal make þee in to ioȝe to þin enemys.
 xxxii Ne delite þou in cumpanyes, ne in smale þyngus;
 soþeli þe trespassing of hem is contynuel. xxxiii Ne be þou mene in striþ for monee, and þer is not to þee no þing in þe world; forþoþe þou shalt be enuyous to þy soule.

Capitulum XIX.

- i The drunkelew wercman shal not be mad riche; and who dispisib lytle þingis, litil mele doun falleþ.
- ii Wyn and wymmen maken also wise men to go bacward; and shuln vndernyme weel felende men.
- iii And who hymself ioyneþ to lecchoures, shal be wicked; rotennesse and wormes shuln eritagen hym, and his soule shal be taken awei fro þe noumble.
- iv Who leeueþ foone, is liȝt in herte, and shal be lessid; and who trespassþ in to his soule, ferpermor shal ben had.
- v Who ioȝeb in wickidnesse, shal ben vndernommen; and who hateþ correccioun, shal be laſſid in lif; and who hateþ myche speche, quenchib malice.
- vi And who synneþ in to his soule, shal not do penaunce; and who is merie in malice, shal be repreued.
- vii Reherce þou not an hard wrd, and a shreude; and þou shalt not be laſſid.
- viii To frend and enemy wile þou not telle þi wit; and if þer is to þee gilte, wile þou not nakenen.
- ix Forsoþe he shal heren þee, and kepe þee, and as defendende synne he shal hate þee; and so he shal be neeȝh to þee.
- x Euermor haſt þou herd a wrd aȝen þi neȝhebore; abide it stille in þee, troſtende for it shal not to-breke þee.
- xi Fro þe face of þe wrd berþ out þe fool, as þe weiling of þe birþe of a child.
- xii An arewe ficchid 'in to þe hipe of an hound, so a wrd in þe herte of a fool.
- xiii Chaſtise a frend, leſt par auenture he vnderſtond not, and feye, I dide not; or if he haue do, leſt eftſoone he adde to do.
- xiv Chaſtise a neȝhebore, leſt par auenture he shal not ſeyn; and if he feide, leſt par auenture he reherſe.
- xv Chaſtise a frend, ofte forſoþe is don trespass;
- xvi and not to eche wrd leeue þou. Þer is þat flideþ in his tungue, but not of inwit.
- xvii Who is forſoþe, þat gilteþ not in his tungue? Chaſtife a neȝhebore, er þat þou prete;
- xviii and ȝif place to be drede of þe heiȝest. For eche wiſdam þe drede of God, and in it to dreden God; and in alle wiſdam þe diſpoſing of þe lawe.
- xix And wiſdam is not þe diſciplyne of shreudenefſe; and good penking is not þe prudence of synnes.
- xx Þer is shreudenefſe of prudence, and in it cursing; and þer is an vnwiſ man, þat is laſſid in wiſdam.
- xxi Betere is a man þat is laſſid in wiſdam, and failende wit in þe drede of God, þan þat aboundib in wit, and ouerpassib þe lawe of þe heiȝest.
- xxii Þer is certeyn fleeyneneſſe, and it is wicke.
- xxiii And þer is, þat ſendeb out a certeyn wrd, tellende out þe treuþe. Þer is, þat shreudely mekeþ hymſelf; and þe entrailes of hym ben ful of trecherie.
- xxiv And þer is a riȝtwis, þat myche vnderputtiþ hymſelf of myche mekenesse; and þer is a riȝtwis, þat bowiþ in þe face, and feyneþ hym not to ſeen þat is vnknowen.

xxv And if of infirmyte 'of ſtrengþis he 'is forbeden to ſynnen; if 'he shal fynde tyme of euel doyng, he shal euele do.

xxvi Of þe ſiȝte is knownen a man; and of þe aȝeen comyng of þe face is knownen þe weel felende.

xxvii þe cloþing of þe body, and þe laȝhing of teþ, and þe goyng in of a man, tellen out of hym.

xxviii Þer is liyng correccioun in wraþe of þe wrongful; and þer is dom þat is not preued to ben good; and þer is a beere ſtille, and he is prudent.

Capitulum XX.

i Hou good is to vndernymyn, þan to wraþen, and to not forbeden þe knoulechere in orisoun.

ii þe luſt of þe gelding deflourede þe ȝunge womman, 'or bireſte hir meydenhed, iii ſo he þat doþ bi fors wicke dom.

iv Hou good is, þe chaſtisid to ſchewe penaunce; ſo forſoþe þou ſhalt fleen awei wilful fynne.

v Þer is a ſtille man, þat is found wiſ; and þer is an hateful, þat is gredy to ſpeken.

vi Þer is forſoþe a ſtille man, not hauende wit of ſpeche; and þer is a ſtille man, witende tyme of couenable tyme.

vii A wys man ſhal be ſtille vnto tyme; þe reccheles forſoþe and þe vnprudent ſhul not kepe time.

viii Who vſeb manye wrdis, hurteþ his soule; and who takeþ to hym power wrongfulli, shal ben hatid.

ix Þer is goyng forþ in euelis to a man vndiſciplyned; and þer is finding in to harm.

x Þer is ȝouen þing, þat is not profitable; and þer is ȝoue þing, whos ȝelding is double.

xi Þer is laſſing for glorie; and þer is, þat fro mecnesse ſhal rere þe hed.

xii Þere is, þat manye þingis aȝeen bie for litil pris, and restorende þem in to feuen fold.

xiii A wys man in wrdis makeþ hym ſelf loouable; þe graces forſoþe of foolis ſhul ben held out.

xiv þe ȝifte of þe vnwife ſhall not be profitable to þee; þe eȝen forſoþe of hym ben ſeuennfold.

xv Fewe þingus he ſhal ȝyue, and many þingus he ſhal vpbreiden; and þe openyng of þe mouȝ of hym is enflaumyng.

xvi To day leeneþ a man, and to moru he aſkeþ it bi ple; and hateful is ſuch a maner man.

xvii To a fool ſhal not ben a frend, and þer ſhal not be grace to þe goodis of hym.

xviii Who forſoþe eten þe bred of hym, ben of fals tungue; hou ofte ſiȝes and hou fele ſhul þei ſcorne hym?

xix Ne forſoþe þat were to ben had, wiȝ euene riȝt wit he delede; lic maner and þat, þat were not to ben had.

xx þe ſlidyng of þe false tungue 'as he þat is falling in þe pament; ſo þe fallingus of euele men haſtili ſhal come.

xxi An vnkinde man as a veyn fable; and it shal be ofte in þe mouȝt of þe vndisciplyned.
 xxii Of þe mouȝt of þe fool shal ben repreued a parable;
 forþoþe he seip̄ it not in his tyme.
 xxiii Þer is, þat is forbedun for mysefete to synnen; and in his restē shal be prickid.
 xxiv And þer is, þat shal leese hys soule for confusioun; and of vnprudence of persone he shal leesen it. Forþoþe bi excepcion of perfone he shal leese hymself.
 xxv Þer is, þat for confusioun bihotip̄ to a frend; and hap̄ woonnen hym an enemy wilfully.
 xxvi Wicke repref in a man a lesyng; and in þe mouȝt of þe vndisciplyned it shal be besily.
 xxvii Betere is a þef þan þe besynesse of a man liere;
 forþoþe boþe shuln eritagen perdicoun.
 xxviii Maneres of men lieres wiþoute wrfshipe; and þe confusioun of hem wiþ þem wiþoute cesing.
 xxix A wys man in wrdis shal bringe forþ hymself; and a prudent man shal plesen to grete men.
 xxx Who wercheþ his lond, shal myche heȝen þe hep of frutes; and who wercheþ riȝtwisnese, he shal myche ben enhauncid. Who forþoþe plefeþ to grete men, shal fleen awei, 'or ascape, wickidnesse. xxxi Presentes and ȝiftes ful out blenden þe eȝen of domysmen; and as a doumb in þe mouȝt he turneþ awei þe chasfisingus of hem.
 xxxii Hid wiðam, and tresor vnseen, what profit in eiþir?
 xxxiii Betere is, þat hiliþ his vnwiðam, þan a man þat hidilþ his wiðam.

Capitulum XXI.

i Sone, haſt þou synned? ne adde þou to eftfoone; but of þi raþere louly preye, þat to þee þei be forȝyuen.
 ii As fro þe face of a shadewe eddere flee synnes; and if þou schalt neȝhe to þem, þei shul take þee.
 iii Þe teip̄ of a leoun þe teip̄ of it, fleende þe foules of
 men.
 iv As a swerd two bitende eche wickidnesse; of þe wounde of it is no helpe.
 v Aȝeen chiding and wrongis to noȝt shul bringe substaunce; and þe hous þat ful myche is riche, shal be broȝt to noȝt bi pride; so þe substaunce of þe proude shal be taken vp bi þe roote.
 vi Þe lowe preȝyng of þe pore fro þe mouȝt vnto þe ere shal come; and dom hastili shal com to hym.
 vii Who hateþ chasfising, þe step is of a synnere; and who dredeþ God, shal ben conuertid to his herte.
 viii Knownen fro aferr is þe myȝty in fool hardy tunge;
 and þe weel felende woot hym to flyde fro hym.
 ix Who bildip̄ his hous wiþ oþer mennes coltes, as þat gedereþ his stonus in wynter.
 x A flax top gedered togidere þe synagoge of synneres;
 and þe ful ending of þem flawme of fyr.

xi Þe weie of synneres togidere plauntid wiþ stones; and in to þe ende of þem helle, and peynes, and derknesses.
 xii Who shal kepe riȝtwisnese, shal wiþholde þe wyt of
 hym.
 xiii Ful ending of þe drede of God wiðam and wit.
 xiv He shal not be lerned, þat is not wis in goode.
 xv Þer is forþoþe vnwiðam, þat abundeþ in euel; and þere is not wit, where is bitternesse.
 xvi Þe kunning of þe wife man as flowing shal abunde;
 and þe counseil of hym as a welle of lif abit stille.
 xvii Þe herte of þe fool as a vessel to-broken; and alle wiðam shal not holden.
 xviii A wis wrd what euer he shal heren, þe kunning shal preisen, and echen. Þe lecherous herde, and it shal displeisen hym; and he shal þrowe it bihind his bac.
 xix Þe telling of a fool as berþen in þe weie; for in þe lippes of þe wel felende shal be founde grace.
 xx Þe mouȝt of þe prudent is foȝte in þe chirche; and þe wrdis of hym þei shul þenke in þer hertes.
 xxi As an hous set out of termes, so a wiðam to a fool;
 and þe kunning of þe mys felende vntellable wrdis.
 xxii Gyues in feet doctrine to a fool; and as bondis of hondis vpon þe riȝt hond.
 xxiii Þe fool in laȝing enhaunceþ his vois; forþoþe a wis man vnneþe stilleli shal laȝhen.
 xxiv A goldene ournement doctrine to þe prudent; and as an armcerle in þe riȝt arm.
 xxv Þe foot of þe fool liȝt in to þe hous of þe neȝhebore; and a wis man shal be confoundid of þe perfone of þe myȝty.
 xxvi Þe fool fro þe wyndowe biholdip̄ in to þe hous; þe lerid man forþoþe wiþoute shul stonde.
 xxvii Þe folie of a man to herkenen þurȝ þe dores; and þe prudent shal be greued wiþ strif.
 xxviii Þe lippes of vnprudent men folies shul tellen; þe wrdis forþoþe of prudent men in a balaunce shul ben peisid.
 xxix In þe mouȝt of foolis þe herte of hem; and in þe herte of wise men þe mouȝt of hem.
 xxx Whan þe vnpitouse curseþ þe deuel, he curseþ his owne loule.
 xxxi Þe rownende grucchere shal defoule his soule, and in alle þingus he shal ben hatyd, and þat abideþ, shal ben hatid; þe stille and þe wel felende shal ben wrfshipid.

Capitulum XXII.

i In a cleȝy ston shal ben stoned þe flowe; and alle shuln speke of þe grete dispising of hym.
 ii Of þe drit of oxen stoned is þe flowe; and eche þat toucheþ hym, shal shakn out hondes.
 iii Þe confusioun of þe fader is of þe vndisciplyned sone; forþoþe a fool doȝtir in gret mynushing shal be.

iiiii A prudent doȝtir eritage to hir husbonde; for she þat confoundip, in repref is mad of þe getere.
 v Þe fader and man she fool hardi confoundeb, and of þe vnpitouſ man she ſhal not be laſſid; of eiþer forſoþe ſhe ſhal be vnwrſhipid.
 vi Melodie in weiling vnkouenable telling; ſcourges and doctrine in alle tyme wiſdam.
 vii Who techeþ a fool, as þat glueþ togidere a ſherd.
 viii He þat telleþ a wrd to þe not herende, as þat rereþ a ſlepende man fro an heuy ſlep.
 ix Wiþ þe ſlepende he ſpekeþ, þat telleþ to þe fool wiſdam; and in þe ende of þe telling he ſhal fey, Who is þis?
 x Ouer þe deade weepe þou, forſoþe þe liȝt of hym failede; and ouer þe fool weepe þou, forſoþe he failede wit.
 xi A litil weep vp on þe deade, for he reſtede.
 xii Forſoþe of þe moſt wiſke moſt wiſke lif, on þe deþ of a fool.
 xiii þe weiling of þe deade ſeuene daȝes; of þe fooll forſoþe and of þe vnpitouſ alle þe daȝes of þe lif of hem.
 xiv Wiþ a fool ne ſpeke þou myche, and wiþ a mys felende go þou not awey.
 xv Kep þee fro hym, þat þou haue not greef; and þou ſhalt not ben defoulid in þe synne of hym.
 xvi Boowe awei fro hym, and þou ſhalt finde reſte; and þou ſhalt not be maad forewi floȝ in þe folie of hym.
 xvii Ouer leed what ſhal ben heuy? and what oþir name to hym þan a fool?
 xviii Liȝtere is to bern grauel, and falt, and a gobet of iren, þan an imprudent man, and a fool, and vnpitouſ.
 xix As ioynyg of tres, bounde togidere to þe foundement of þe bielding, ſhal not ben vnlloſid, ſo and þe herte faſtned togidere in þe þenking of counſeil.
 xx þe þenking of þe wel felende in alle tyme, or drede, ſhal not be beſhrewid.
 xxi As chaf in heȝe þingus, and morter wiþoute due coſt, ſett aȝen þe face of þe wynd, ſhul not abide;
 xxii ſo and þe dredeful herte in þe þenking of a fool aȝen þe bure of drede aȝen ſtont not.
 xxiii As grauely enournyng in a briȝt wal, ſo and þe tremblende herte in þe þenking of a fool, alle time he ſhal not dreden; ſo and þat in þe heftis of God abit ſtille euermor.
 xxiv Þe prickende þe eȝe letel out teres; and þat prickeþ þe herte, bringeþ forþ wit.
 xxv Prowende a ſton in to foules, 'ſchal þrowe hem doun; ſo and þat putteþ reprof to a frend, loſſeþ frenſhiþe.
 xxvi To þe frend and if þou bringe forþ a ſword, þou ſhalt not diſpeireñ; þer is forſoþe aȝeengoþing to a frend.
 xxvii If he ſhul opene a drery mouþ, ne drede þou; þer is forſoþe acording, out take putting to of vice, and diſpit, and pride, and openyng of priuyte, and trecherous veniaunce; in alle þeſe þingus ſhal flee awei a frend.

 xxviii Feiþ welde þou wiþ a frend 'in þe poreneſſe of hym, þat and in þe goodis of hym þou glade.
 xxix In tyme of tribulacioun of hym abid ſtille to hym feiþful, þat and in þe eritage of hym þou be togidere eir.
 xxx Biforn fir of þe chymnee, moiſte iſſue, and þe ſmoke of fyrr, is enhauncid; ſo and befor blod curſis, and wrongis, and þretes.
 xxxi A frend to faluten I ſhal not be confoundid, and fro þe face of hym I ſhal not hiden me; and if eueles ſchulen comen to me bi hym, I ſhal suffre.
 xxxii Eche þat ſhal heren, ſhal ſhonen hymſelf fro hym.
 xxxiii Who ſhal ȝyue to my mouþ warde, and vpon my lippis a certeyn marke, þat I falle not fro þem, and my tunge leefe me?

Capitulum XXIII.

i Lord, fader, and lordſhipere of my lif, ne forſake þou me in þe þenking and þe counſeil of þem; and ſuffre þou me not to fallen in þat reproyng.
 ii Who puttiþ vp on in my þenking ſcourgis, and in myn herte doctrine of wiſdam, þat to þe vnknoƿyngus of þem he ſpare not to me, and apere not þe giltis of þem?
 iii Left waxen to myne vnkunnyngneſſes, and ben multeplied my giltis, and my synnes abunden; and I falle in þe ſiȝte off myn aduersaries, and myn enemy ioȝe.
 iv Lord, fader, and God of my lif, ne forſake þou me in þe þenking of hem.
 v Þe enhauncyng of myn eȝen ne ȝyue þou to me; and al desyr turne awei fro me.
 vi Do awei fro me luſtis of þe wombe, and þe liggyngus of luſt ne take þei me; and to vnuerent inwit and vndiscreet ne take þou me.
 vii Þe doctrine of þe mouþ here ȝee, ſonis; and þat ſhal kepen it, ſhal not perſhen in his lippis, ne ſhal be ſclaundrid in 'þe werſte werkes.
 viii In his vanyte is caȝt þe ſynnere and þe proud man; and þe cursid ſhal be ſclaundred in hem.
 ix To ſwering vſe not þi mouþ; manye forſoþe fallingus in it.
 x Þe nemnyng forſoþe of God be not contynuel in þi mouþ, and to þe names of ſeyntus be þou not mengd; for þou ſhalt not ben harmles of hem.
 xi As forſoþe a ſeruaunt aſkid bifyl, fro wannesſe, 'or enuye, is not mynuſht; ſo eche ſwerere and nemnyng, in al fro synne ſhal not be purgid.
 xii A man myche ſwerende ſhal be fulſild wiþ wickidneſſe; and þer ſhal not gon awei fro þe hous of hym veniaunce.

xiii And if he shul bigile þe broþer, þe gilte of hym vpon hym shal be; and if he shul feyne, he shal trespasen double.

xiv And if in veyn he shul swern, he shal not be iustefied; forsoþe wiþ werſt ȝelding shal be fulſild þe hous of hym.

xv Per is and an oþer speche aȝeенward in to deþ; 'be it not founde in þe eritage of Jacob.

xvi Forsoþe of merciful men alle þese þingus shul be don awey; and in giltis þei shul not often turne.

xvii To þe vndisciplynous speche vſe not þi mouþ; forsoþe þer is in it þe wrd of synne.

xviii Haue mynde of fader and þi moder; in þe myddel forsoþe of grete men þou stondist.

xix Lest parauenure God forȝete þee in þe ſiȝte of hem; and þurȝ þi bisynesse gretli maad foul, repreſ þou ſuffre, and haddeſt leuere not to be born, and þe dai of þi birþe þou curse.

xx A man vſid in wrdys of repreſ, in alle his daȝes shal not be lered.

xi Two kindis abundyn in synnes, and þe þridde bringeþ to wraþe and perdiouȝ.

xii A fel foule as fyr brennende shal not be quenchid, to þe tyme sum what he fwolewe;

xiii and a ſhreude man in þe mouþe of his flesh shal not leuen, to þe time he teende fyr.

xiv To a lecherous man eche bred sweete; he shal not be weri, trespafende vnto þe ende.

xv Eche man þat ouergoþ his bed, dispisende in to his foule, and seiende, Who ſeeþ me?

xvi Dercnelles cumpaffen me, and þe walles coueren me aboute, and no man aboute biholdeþ me. Whom drede I? Of my giltis þe heiȝeft shal not han mynde.

xvii And he vndirſtont not, for alle þingus þe eȝe of hym ſeeþ, for he putte awei fro hym þe drede of God; of ſuch a maner man is drede, and þe eȝen of men dredende hym.

xviii And he kneȝ not, for þe eȝen of þe Lord ben myche more liȝtere ouer þe funne, biholdende aboute alle þe weies of men, and þe depþe of þe fe, and þe hertes of men biholdende in to þe hidde partis.

xix To þe Lord God forſoþe, er þei weren foormed, alle þingis ben knownen; fo and aftir þe parformed he biholdiþ alle þingus.

xx So and eche womman forſakende hir man, shal synnen, and ſettende eritage of an alienē matrimonye.

xxi First in þe lawe of þe heiȝeft he was vnleeueful, and þe ſecunde hir man he forſok; þe þridde in auoutrie ſhe dide lecherie, and of an oþir man ſonus ſhe fette to hirſelf.

xxiiii Þis in to þe chirche shal be broȝt, and in to þe ſonus of hir ſhall ben lookid.

xxv Þe ſonus of hir ſhul not taken rootis, and þe braunches of hir ſhul not ȝyuen fruyt.

xxvi þei ſhul leuen in to curs þe mynde of hir, and þe vilenye of hir ſhul not be don awei.

xxvii And þei ſhul knowe, for þei ben forsaken; for no þing betere þan þe dred of God, and no þing ſwetere þan to biholden in þe maundemens of þe Lord.

xxviii Gret glorie is to folewe þe Lord; lengþe forſoþe of daȝes ſhul ben taken to of hym.

Capitulum XXIIII.

i Wiſdam ſhal preifen his ſoule, and in þe Lord he ſhal ben wrſhepid; and in þe myddel of his puple he ſhal glorien.

ii And in þe chirches of þe heiȝeft he ſhal opene his mouþ; and in þe ſiȝte of þe vertue of hym he ſhal glorien.

iii And in þe myddel of his puple he ſhal ben enhauncid; and in hoeli plente he ſhal myche wndren.

iv And in þe multitude of chosen men he ſhal han preifing; and among bliſſid men he ſhal ben bleſſid, ſeiende, v I of þe mouþ of þe heiȝeft cam forþ, firſt gotten bifor eche creature.

vi I made in heuenus, þat vnfailende liȝt ſhulde ſpringe, and as a litil cloude I coueryd eche flesh.

vii I in þe heiȝeft þingus dwellede, and my trone in a piler of a cloude.

viii þe cercle of heuene I cumpaffide alone, and þe depþe of þe fe I þirlede; and in þe flodis of þe fe I wente, ix and in al erþe I ſtod. And in alle puple, x and in alle folc of kinde þe firſthed I hadde;

xi and of alle heiȝe and lowe þe hertes bi vertue I trad; and in alle þese þingus reſte I ſoȝte, and in þe eritage of hym I ſhal wone.

xii þanne comaundide, and ſeide to me, þe foormere of alle þingus; and he þat foormede me, reſtede in my tabernacle;

xiii and ſeide to me, In Jacob dwelle þou, and in Israel eritage þou, and in my chofene put rootes.

xiv Fro þe bigynnnyng and bifor worldis I am foormed, and vnto þe world to come I ſhal not cefen to ben; and in hoeli wonyng beforne hym I feruede.

xv And fo in Sion I am fastned, and in an halewid cite lic maner I reſtede, and in Jerusalem my power.

xvi And I rootede in a puple wrſhipid; and in to þe parties of my God þe eritage of hym, and in plente of halewes my wiþholding.

xvii As a cedre I am enhauncid in Liban, and as a ciprefſe in þe hil of Sion.

xviii And as a palm I am enhauncid in Cades, and as þe plaunting of a rose in Jericho.

- xix As a fair olyue in feeldis; and as a platan I am enhauncid biseide þe water in stretes.
- xx As canel and balsam smellende, I ȝaf smel; and as chose myrre I ȝaf swotnesse of smel.
- xi And as torax, and galban, and vngula, and gutta, and as Liban not kut, I smekede my dwelling; and as balsame not mengd is my smel.
- xxii I as terebynt streiȝte out my braunchis; and my braunchis of wrfhiȝe, and of grace.
- xxiii I as a vyne frutede swotnesse of smel; and my floures frutes of honour, and of honeste.
- xxiv I modir of fair loouyng, and of drede, and of knowing, and of hoeli hope.
- xxv In me alle grace of weie, and of treuþe; in me alle hope of lif and of vertue.
- xxvi Passeþ to me, alle þat coueten me; and of my ieneraciouns 'be ȝee fulfillid.
- xxvii My sp̄irit forsoþe ouer hony sweete; and myn eritage ouer hony, and hony comb.
- xxviii My mynde in þe ieneracioun of worldis.
- xxix Þei þat eten me, ȝit shul hungrin; and þat drinken me, ȝit shuln þristen.
- xxx Who hereþ me, shal not be confoundid; and who werchen in me, shul not synnen;
- xxxi and who declaren me, euere lastende lif shuln han.
- xxxii Alle þese þingus þe poc of lif, and þe testament of þe heȝeft, and þe knouleching of treuþe.
- xxxiii Moises comaundide þe lawe in þe heftus of riȝtwisnesses, and þe eritage 'to þe hous of Jacob, and þe behestus to Israel.
- xxxiv He sette to Dauid, his child, to rerēn vp a king of hym most strong, and in þe trone of wrfhiȝe fittende in to euer mor.
- xxxv þe which fulfillip, as Fison, wifdam; and as Tigris in þe daȝes of newes.
- xxxvi þat fulfillsþ, as Eufrates, wit; þat multeplieþ, as Jordan in þe tyme of rip.
- xxxvii þat sendeþ disciplyne as liȝt; and stondyng to, as Jyon in þe dai of vyndage.
- xxxviii þat parformeþ firſt to knownen it; and þe feblere shal not enſerchen it.
- xxxix Fro þe forſoþe shal abunde þe þenking of hym;
and þe counſeil of hym in þe grete depnæſſe.
- xli I wifdam heelde out floodis;
- xli I as an ouerþwert weie of watir wiþ oute mesure fro þe flood. I as þe flood Dorex, and as watir kundute wente out fro paradis.
- xlii I seide, I shal wattrin þe gardyn of my plauntingus;
and I shal make drunke þe frut of my birþe.
- xliii And lo! he is mad to me a plenteuous pab; and my flood neȝhede to þe fe.
- xliii For doctrine as morutid liȝt I liȝte to alle; and I shal tellen out it vnto affer.
- xlv I shal perſen alle þe neȝere partis of þe erþe, and I shal biholde alle ſlepende; and I shal liȝtnen alle hopende in þe Lord.

xlii ȝit doctrine as profecie I shal heelden out, and I shal leuen it to men fechende wifdam; and I shal not ceſen in to þe progenyes of þem, vnto þe hoeli spirituel world.

xlvii Seeþ, for not to me alone I trauailede, but to alle fechende out þe treuþe.

Capitulum XXV.

- i In þre þingus pleſid is to my ſpirit, þat ben proued bifor God and man;
- ii þe acord of breþern, and þe looue of neȝhebores, and man and womman wel to þemſelfe conſentende.
- iii ȝre ſpices hatede my ſoule, and I am greued gretli to þe ſoule of þem;
- iv a pore man proud, and a riche man a liere, and an old man a fool and dotid.
- v What þingis in þi ȝouþe þou haſt not gedered, hou ſhalt þou finde in þin eelde?
- vi How fair þe dom in hoornesse, and to preſtis to knowe kounſeil.
- vii How fair to olde men wifdam, and glorious vnderſtonding, and counſeil.
- viii ȝe coroun of olde men myche wifdam; and þe glorie of þem dred of God.
- ix Nyne vnuouertrowable þingus of þe herte I magnefiede; and þe tenþe I shal telle in tunge to men.
- x A man þat is ioȝid in fones lyuende, and feende þe turnyng vpfodoun of his enimys.
- xi Blisful þat dwelliþ wiþ a womman weel felende, and þat in his tunge is not flyden, and þat feruede not to þe vnwrþi hymſelf.
- xii Blisful þat findiþ a verre frend, and þat telleþ out riȝtwisnesses to þe herende ere.
- xiii Hou gret þat findiþ wifdam and kunnyngh; but not ouer þe dredende God.
- xiv ȝe drede of God ouer alle þingus hymſelf fett aboue.
- xv Blisful þe man to whom it is ȝoue to han þe drede of God; who holdiþ it, to whom shal he be licened?
- xvi ȝe dred of God þe bigynnyngh of his looue; þe bygynnyngh forſoþe of feiþ is to be ioyned to hym.
- xvii Alle veniaunce is þe drery flowþe of herte; and eche malice þe wickidnesses of a womman.
- xviii And eche wounde, and not wounde ſhe shal ſeen of
herte;
- xix and al ſhreudenesse, and not ſhreudenesse of a womman;
- xx and al hid þing, and not hid þing of hatende men;
- xi and al veniaunce, and not veniaunce of enimys.
- xii ȝere is not an hed wickidere ouer þe hed of a ſhadewe eddere;
- xiii and ȝere is not wraþe ouer þe wraþe of a womman. To dwelle wiþ a leoun and a dragoun more shal plesen, þan to wone wiþ a ſhreude womman.

xxiii Be shreudenesses of a womman chaungeþ hir face; and she aȝeen blendide hir cheere as a bere, and as a fac she shal shewen in þe myddel of neȝhebores.
 xxv Be housebond of hir gretli weiled; and herende, siȝhede a litil.
 xxvi Short alle malice ouer þe malice of a womman; þe lot of synnes falle upon hir.
 xxvii As a graueli steeȝing vp in þe feet of an old man, so a tungy womman to a quyete man.
 xxviii Ne beholde þou þe fairnesse of a womman, and coueite þou not a womman in fairnesse.
 xxix Be wraþe of a womman and þe mysfreuerence, gret shenshipe.
 xxx A womman if she haue maistrie, she is contrarie to hir housebond.
 xxxi A loeȝ herte, and a dreri face, and a wounde of deþ, a shreude womman.
 xxxii Feble hondis and vnloofid knees, a womman þat makeþ not blisful hir housebond.
 xxxiii Of a womman is mad þe bigynnyng of synne; and bi hir alle wee die.
 xxxiv ȝyue þou not to þi watir issue, ne a litil; ne to a shreude womman forȝyuenesse, 'or leeue, or fredam, of goyng out.
 xxxv If she 'schal not go to þin hond, she shal confounde þee in þe siȝte of enemys.
 xxxvi Fro þi flesh kut hir awei, leſt euermore sche myfuse þee.

Capitulum XXVI.

i Blisſid is þe man of a good womman; þe noumbre forsoþe of þe ȝeres of hym double.
 ii A strong womman delytiþ hir man; and þe ȝeres of 'þe liyf of hym she shal fulfill in pes.
 iii A good part a good womman; in good part of men dredende God, she shal be ȝoue to a man for goode deedis.
 iv Of riche forsoþe and pore þe goode herte; in alle tyme þe chere of þem gladsum.
 v Of þre þingus dradde myn herte, and in þe ferþe my face was aferd.
 vi Þe dyuyfeoun of þe cite, and þe gederyng togidere of þe puple, vii and lesing chaleng; vp on deþ alle þingus heuye.
 viii Sorewe of herte, and weiling, a ielous womman.
 ix In a ielous womman scourge of tunge, to alle comunende.
 x As a ȝok of oxen þat is moued, so and a shreude womman; who holdiþ hir, as he caȝte a scorpions.
 xi A drunkelew womman gret wraþe and strif; and þe filþeed of hir shal not be couered.
 xii Pe fornycacioun of a womman in þe hauncing out of eȝen; and in þe eȝelidis of hir she shal be knowen.
 xiii In a doȝtir not turnende awey hirself fastne warde; leſt, ocaſioun founde, she myfuse hirself.

xiv Fro alle irreuerence of þe eȝen of hir waar; and ne wndre þou, if she dispise þee.
 xv As a weie goore at a welle þrestende þe mouȝ shal opene, and of alle next water shal drinke; and aȝen eche pale shal sitte, and aȝen alle arewe shal opene quyuere, to þe tyme þat she faile.
 xvi Be grace of a bisi womman shal deliten hir man; and þe boenes of hym she shal fatten.
 xvii Be discipline of hir is þe ȝiste of God.
 xviii A wel felende womman and a stille is not þe chaunging of þe taȝt soule.
 xix Grace vpon grace an hoeli womman, and a shamefast.
 xx Eche forsoþe peising is not wrbi a contenent soule.
 xxi As þe sunne risende in þe world in þe heȝest þingus of God, so þe fairnesse of a good womman in to þe enournyng of hir hous.
 xxii A thynende lanterne vpon an hoeli candilsticke, and þe fairnesse of þe face vpon þe stable age.
 xxiii Goldene piloris vpon silueren feet, and fast feet upon þe plauntes, 'or soulis, of a stable womman.
 xxiv Euere lastende foundemens vp on a sad ston, and þe maundemens of God in þe herte of an hoeli womman.
 xxv In two þingus myn herte is maad forewful, and in þe þridde wraþing to me cam.
 xxvi A man fiȝtere failende bi myseife, and a man wel felende dispiȝid.
 xxvii And þat ouergoþ fro riȝtwisness to synne, God greiþede hym to a two bitende swerd.
 xxviii Two splices harde and perilous to me femeden; hard is delyuered þe chaffarere fro his negligence, and þe tauerner shal not be iustified fro synnes of lippis.

Capitulum XXVII.

i For myseiste manye trespasseden; and he þat secheþ to be maad riche, turneþ awei his eȝe.
 ii As in þe myddel of a ioynynge of stones a paele, 'or a stake, ficchid is, so bitwen þe myddel of biyng and filling he shall ben anguyfht wiþ synnes.
 iii He shal ben to-treden wiþ giltende gilte.
 iv If not in þe drede of þe Lord þou shul holde þee bifili, anoon shal ben turned vpfodoun þin hous.
 v As in þe smyting of a cyue shal abide stille pouder, so þe poreness of a man in þe þenking of hym.
 vi Pe vesselis of þe krockere preueþ þe furneis; and riȝtwis men temptacioun of tribulaciooun.
 vii As þe erþe werching of a tree shewiþ þe frute of hym, so a wrd of þenking þe herte of a man.
 viii Biforn a wrd ne preife þou a man; þat forsoþe tempting is of men.
 ix If þou folewre riȝtwisness, þou shalt taken it; and þou shalt clopen it as an aube of wrþiþe, and þou shalt dwelle wiþ it, and it shal defende þee in to euer mor, and in þe dai of knouleching þou shalt finde faſtnyng.

 x Foules to þe lic to þem comen togidere; and treuþe to þem þat werchen it shal turne aȝeen.
 xi A leoun to hunting waitiþ euermor; so synnes to men werchende wickidneſſe.
 xii An hoeli man in wiðam woneþ, as þe funne; for þe fool as þe moone is chaungid.
 xiii In þe myddel of mys felende men kep a wrd to tyme; in þe myddel forſoþe of men þenkende þe lawe of God be þou besi.
 xiv Þe telling of synneres hateſum; and þe laȝing of þem in þe giltis of synne.
 xv Þe myche ſwering ſpeche shal ſette ſtonding of heer, for fer, to þe hed; and þe irreuerence of it is ſtopping of eres.
 xvi Sheding out of blod in iangling of proude men; and þe curſing of þem greuous heering.
 xvii Who nakeneþ priuytes, leefeþ þe feiþ of a frend;
 and he findeþ not a frend to his invit.
 xviii Looue a neȝhebore, and be þou ioyned in feiþ wiþ
 hym.
 xix þat if þou shul nakene þe hidde þingus of hym, 'þou ſchalt not purſue aftir hym.
 xx As a man forſoþe þat leefeþ his frend, ſo þat leefeþ þe frenſhiſe of his neȝhebore.
 xxi And as he þat leteþ a brid out of his hond, ſo þou þat haſt forſake þi neȝhebore, and þou ſhalt not taken
 hym.
 xxii þou ſhalt not foſewe hym, for ferr he is awei; forſoþe he fleyȝ out as a capret fro þe grene, for woundid is þe foule of hym.
 xxiii þou ſhalt not moun mor ouer hym binde togidere;
 but of þe curſid is acording togidere.
 xxiv To nakenen forſoþe þe priuytes of a frend, is þe diſpeiring of þe vnfeiþful ſoule.
 xxv Þe twynclere wiþ þe eȝe forgeþ wicke þingus; and no man hym ſhal caſten awei.
 xxvi In þe ſiȝte of þin eȝen he ſhal defoule þi mouþ, and vp on þi wrdus he ſhal wndre; at þe laſte he ſhal peruerue his mouþ, and in þi wrdis he ſhal ȝyue lclaundre.
 xxvii Manye þingus I haue herd, and I haue not euened to hym; and þe Lord ſhal hate hym.
 xxviii Who in to heiȝ ſendeþ a ſton, vp his hed it ſhal falie; and þe wounde of þe trecherous ſhal deuyde woundis.
 xxix And þat delueþ a dich, ſhal falie in to it; and þat fetteþ a ſton to a neȝhebore, ſhal ſtumble in it; and þat fetteþ a grene to anoþer, ſhal perſhe in it.
 xxx To þe doyngē moſt wicke counſeil, vpon hym it ſhal be turned aȝeen; and he ſhal not knowe whennes it ſhal come to hym.
 xxxi Illuſiouñ, 'or ſcorne, and repreſ of proude men and viauance as a leoun 'ſchal aſpie to hym.

xxxii In a grene þei ſhul perſhen, þat deliten þe falling of riȝtwis men; forewe forſoþe ſhal waste þem, er þei dien.

xxxiii Wraþe and wodneſſe, eiþer ben wariable; and þe man synnere, wiþholdere ſhal be of þem.

Capitulum XXVIII.

- i Who wile taken viauance, of þe Lord ſhal finde viauance; and þe synnes of hym kepende he ſhal kepe.
- ii Forȝif to þi neȝhebore noȝende to þee, and þanne to þee lowli preȝende synnes ſhul ben forȝoue.
- iii A man to a man kepiþ wraþe; and of God he ſechiþ leching.
- iv In to a man lic to hymſelf he haþ not mercy; and of his synnes he ſhal preȝen.
- v He whil he is flesh, reſerueþ ire, and mercy aſkeþ of God; who ſhal preȝe for þe giltis of hym?
- vi Haue mynde of þi laſte þingus, and lef to ben enemy.
- vii Roteneſſe forſoþe and deþ ſtonden on in þe heftes 'of
 hym.
- viii Remembre þe drede of þe Lord, and þou ſhalt not wraþe to þe neȝhebore.
- ix Remembre þe testament of þe heȝest, and diſpise þe ignoraunce of þi neȝhebore.
- x Abſtene þee fro ſtrif, and þou ſhalt laſſen synnes.
- xi A man forſoþe wraþeful teendiþ ſtrif; and a man ſynnere ſhal diſturbe frendis, and in þe myddel of men hauende pes he ſendiþ in enemyte.
- xii Aftr forſoþe þe trees of þe wode, ſo þe fier brenneþ; and aftir þe vertue of a man, ſo þe wraþe of hym ſhal be, and aftir his ſubtaunce he ſhal enhaunce his wraþe.
- xiii An haſtid ſtrif ſhal teende fyr, and haſtende chidying ſhal ſheden out blod; and a tunge witneſſende ſhal bringe to deþ.
- xiv If it ſhul blowen, as fyr it ſhal brenne; and if þou ſhul ſpittein vpon it, it ſhal ben queynt; eiþer fro þe mouȝ gon forþ.
- xv Þe whiſtrende grucchere, and þe twiſil tunge curſid;
 forſoþe manye hauende pes diſturbide.
- xvi Þe briðde tunge manye men ſtirede, and ſcaterede þem fro folc in to folc.
- xvii Wallid cites of riche men it ſtroȝede, and þe houſis of grete men it mynede out.
- xviii Þe vertues of puples it to-heewȝ, and ſtronge folkys of kinde it vnknytte.
- xix Þe briðde tunge ſtronge, 'or weddid, wymmen caſte out, and ſhal bynymē þem per trauailes.
- xx Who biholdiþ it, ſhal not han reſte; ne ſhal han a frend, in which he reſt.
- xi Þe wounde of a ſcourage makeþ wanneſſe; þe wounde forſoþe of a tunge ſhal to-brooſen boenes.
- xxii Manye fallen in þe mouȝ of ſwerd; but not as þei dieden by þer tunge.

xxiii Blisful þat is couered fro a shreude tunge; `þe which in þe wraþe of it passide not, and `þe which droȝ not at þe ȝoc of it, and in þe bondis of `it is not bounde.

xxiv ȝoc forsoþe of it is an irene ȝoc, and þe bond of it is a brasene bond.

xxv ȝe deþ of it þe werste deþ; and profitable helle more þan it.

xxvi ȝe stedefaſtneſſe of it ſhal not abide ſtille, but ſhal holde þe weies of vnriȝtwis men; in his flaume he ſhal not brenne riȝtwis men.

xxvii Pei þat forsaken God, ſhul falle in to it; and it ſhal brenne out in þem, and it ſhal not be queynt; and it ſhal be ſent in to þem as a leoun, and as a parde it ſhal hurte þem.

xxviii Hegge þin eres wiþ þornes, and wile þou not heren þe shreude tunge; and to þi mouþ mac þou dores, and lokes to þin eres.

xxix ȝi gold and ȝi feluer melt togidere; and to ȝi wrdis mac þou a balaunce, and riȝt bridelis to ȝi mouþ.

xxx And tac heed, leſt parauenture þou flyde in þe tunge, and þou falle in þe ſiȝte of þe enemys, waitende to þee, and ȝi fallyng be vnheleable in to þe deþ.

Capitulum XXIX.

i Who doþ mercy, leeneþ to his neȝhebore; and he þat is more wrþ in hond, kepeþ þe heftis.

ii Leene to ȝi neȝhebore in tyme of his neede; and eft ȝeld to a neȝhebore in his tyme.

iii Conferme a wrd, and feiþfulli do wiþ it; and in alle tyme þou ſhalt finde þat is needful to þee.

iv Manye as finding eymeden vſure, and ȝeeuen gref to þem þat helpeden to þem.

v To þe time þat þei taken, þei kiffen þe hondis of þe ȝyuere; and in behestis þei meken þer voys.

vi And in tyme of ȝelding `he ſhal aſke delaȝing, and he ſhal ſpeke wrdis of noyȝe, and of grucchingus, and þe tyme he ſhal pleten.

vii If forsoþe he ſhul moun ȝeilde, he ſhal be enemy; vneþe of þe hoele he ſhal ȝeilde þe half, and he ſhal counte it as finding.

viii Ellys forsoþe he ſhal bigile hym his monee, and ſhal han hym enemy wilfully.

ix And repreues and curſis he ſhal ȝeilde to hym; and for wrſhiþe and benefet he ſhal ȝeilde to hym wrong.

x Manye, not bicause of shreudenelle, `lenten not, but to be bigilid wilfulli, þei dradden.

xi Neuer þe latere ouer þe meke in inwit be þou ſtrengere; and for almes deede drawe þou not hym.

xii For þe heſte tac to þe pore; and for þe myſeife of hym ne leſe þou hym voide.

xiii Lees monee for broþir and frend, and hide þou not it vnder a ſton, in to perdiſion.

xiv Put ȝi treſor in þe heſtes of þe heȝeste; and it ſhal profite to þee more þan gold.

xv Close almes deede in þe boſum of þe pore; and þat for þee ſhal ful out preȝen fro alle euel.

xvi ȝe almes deede of a man as a litil fac wiþ hym; and þe grace of a man as þe eȝe appil it ſhal kepen. And afterward it ſhal aȝeen riȝten, and ȝelde to þem ȝelding, to eche in to þe hed of hem.

xvii Ouer þe ſheld of þe myȝti, and ouer ſpere aȝen þin enemy it ſhal fiȝte.

xviii A good man makeþ feiþ to his neȝhebore; and he þat haþ loft, confuſion ſhal leue to hym.

xix ȝe grace of þe borȝ ne forȝete þou; forſoþe he ȝaf for þee his foule.

xx ȝe ſynnere and þe vnclene þe aȝeen bihotere fleeþ.

xxi Goode wrdis of þe aȝeen bihotere þe ſynnere wijteþ to hym; and þe vnkinde in þe wit forſakeþ þe delyuerende hym.

xxii A man aȝeen bihotel of his neȝhebore; and whan he haþ lost reuerence, he ſhal be forsaken of hym.

xxiii Moſt shreude aȝeen bihoting ſpilde manye loouende men, and `tgidere ſterede þem as þe flodis of þe ſe.

xxiv Cumpafende it made myȝti men to gon out; and wandreden in aliene folkis.

xxv ȝe ſynnere ouer paſſende þe maundement of þe Lord ſhal fallen into shreude biheſte; and he þat forſeþ manye þingus to do, ſhall fallen in to dom.

xxvi Recouere ȝi neȝhebore after ȝi vertue; and tac heed to þee, þat þou infalle not.

xxvii ȝe bigynnyng of þe lif of man watir, and bred, and cloþing, and hous defendende filþehed.

xxviii Betere is þe liflode of þe pore vnder þe roof of ſtoodes, þan plenteuous ſhynende metes in pilgrymaging wiþoute hous.

xxix ȝe leſte þing for grete pleſe to þee; þe repref of pilgrymaging þou ſhalt not heren.

xxx A shreude lif, of herberewing fro hous in to hous; and wher he ſhal ben herberewid, he ſhal not feiþfulli don, ne openen þe mouþ.

xxxi He ſhal herberewen, and feeden, and ȝyue drinke þe vnkinde; and to þese bittere þingus he ſhal heren.

xxii Go, geſt, and enourne þe bord; and þo `þingis þat in þin hond þou haſt, feed oþer.

xxviii Go out fro þe face of wrſhiþe of my frendis, for nede of myn hous; to herberewe to me, broþir þou art maad.

xxviiii Greuous þese þingus to a man hauende wit; vndernymyng of þe hous, and repref of þe leenere.

Capitulum XXX.

i Who looueþ his fone, bifly ȝeueþ to hym ſcourgis, þat he glade in his laſte, and þat he groped not þe dores of neȝhebores.

ii Who techeþ his fone, ſhal be preiſid in hym; and in þe myddel of homli men in hym he ſhal glorien.

- iii Who techeþ his sone, in to enuye sendiþ þe enemy; and in þe myddel of frendus he shal glorien in hym.
 iiiii Dead is þe fader of hym, and he is as not dead; lic forsoþe to hym he haþ laft aftir hym.
 v In his lif he saȝ, and gladide in hym; and in his deþ he forewede not, ne `is confoundid bifor þe enemys.
 vi Forsoþe he haþ laft þe defendere of þe hous aȝen þe enemys; and to frendus þe ȝelding of grace.
 vii For þe foulis of þe sonus he shal binde togidere his woundis; and ouer al vois shul be disturbid þe boweles of hym.
 viii Þe vntame hors shal scapen hard, and þe flowe sone shal scape stumbling doun.
 ix Flatere þe sone, and he shal make þee dredende; pley wiþ hym, and he shall forewen þee.
 x Ne wiþ laȝhe þou to hym, ne wiþ forewe, and in þe laste þi teþ shal waxe stoneyd.
 xi ȝyue þou not to hym power in ȝouþe, and ne dispise þou þe þoȝtus of hym.
 xii Crooke þe nol of hym in ȝouþe, and bet þe fidis of hym, whil he is a faunt; leſt parauenture he inwardly hardne, and leeue not to þee, and he shal be to þee forewe of soule.
 xiii Tech þi sone, and werk in hym; leſt in to þe filþehed of hym þou gilte.
 xiv Betere is a pore man hool, and strong in strengþis, þan a riche man feble, and scourgid wiþ malice.
 xv Helþe of soule in hoelynesse of riȝtwisnesse, and betere is þan alle gold and siluer; and a strong body þan monee wiþoute mesure.
 xvi Þer is not monee ouer þe monee of þe helþe of body; and þer is not liking ouer þe ioȝe of herte.
 xvii Betere is deþ þan bittere lyf, and euere lastende reste þan durende sicknesse.
 xviii Goodis hid in a mouþ cloſid, as leiyngis to of plenteuous metes, set aboute wiþ a sepulcre.
 xix What shal profiten sacrificise to þe maumet? and forsoþe he shal not eten, ne fauoren.
 xx So he þat is dryuen awei fro þe Lord, and berende meedis of shreudenesse, xxi feende wiþ eȝen and weilende, so a geldyng clippende a maiden, and siȝhende.
 xxii Sorewi idilnesse ȝyue þou not to þi soule, ne tormente þou þiself in þi counseil.
 xxiii Myrþe of herte, þat is þe lif of man, and tresor wiþoute failing of hoelynesse; and ful out ioȝing of a man ys long lyuȝng. xxiv Haue mercy to þi soule, plesende to God; and wiþhold and gedere togidere þin herte in þe holynesse of hym, and forewi idilnesse fer put awei fro þee.
 xxv Manye forsoþe forewy idilnesse fleþ; and þer is not profit in it.
 xxvi Enuye and wraþe shuln laſſen daȝes; and bifor tymē þenkinc shal bringe to elde.
 xxvii A briȝt herte good in metehipis; þe metehipis forsoþe of hym diligentli ben made.

Capitulum XXXI.

- i The waking of honeste shal dwyne þe flesh; and þe þenkinc of it shal don awei slep.
 ii þe þenkinc of bifor kunning turneþ awei wit; and heuy infirmyte sibre makeþ þe foule.
 iii þe riche man traualide in þe gedering of substaunce; and in his reste he shal be fulſild wiþ his goodus.
 iv þe pore man traualide in laſſing of liflode; and in þe ende he is mad helpeles, `or pore.
 v Who looueþ gold, shal not ben iustefied; and who folewicþ waſting, shal be fulſild of it.
 vi Manye ben ȝyuen in to þe fallingus of gold; and þe los of þem is mad in þe fairnesse of it.
 vii þe tree of offencioun is gold of men sacrefiende; wo to þem þat folewic it, and ecche vnprudent shal perfhe in it.
 viii Blisful is þe riche man, þat is founde wiþoute wem; and þat aftir gold ȝide not, ne hopide in monee, and in tresores.
 ix Who is þis, and wee shul preisen hym? forsoþe he dyde merueilis in his lif.
 x Who is preued in it, and perfit is founde, and shal be to hym euere laſtende glorie? þat myȝte trespassen, and trespasside not, and don euelis, and dide not.
 xi Perfore ſtablid ben þe goodis of hym in þe Lord; and þe almes deedis of hym shal out telle al þe chirche of halewisi.
 xii Aboue þe grete bord þou haſt ſiten; ne opene þou out þi cheeke raþere.
 xiii Sei þou not, wheþir manye þingus ben, þat vp on it ben.
 xiv Haue mynde, for euel is þe shreude eȝe.
 xv Shreudere þing þan þe eȝe, what is foormed? perfore fro al his face he shal weep, whan he haþ feen.
 xvi Ne ſtrecche þou out þin hond raþere; and bi enuye defoulid, þou shame.
 xvii Ne be þou þriſt togidere in þe feſte wiþ wyn.
 xviii Vnderſtond what ben of þi neȝhebore, of þiſelf.
 xix Vfe as a temperat man þeſe þingis þat ben leid to þee; and not whan þou etift, myche to hate þou be had.
 xx Cefe raþere bicause of diſciplyne; and wile þou not be to myche, leſt parauenture þou offende.
 xxi And if in þe myddel of manye þou ſeete, raþere þan þei ne ſtrecche þou out þin hond; ne raþere aſke þou to drinke.
 xxii Hou ſuffisaunt is to a taȝt man a litil wyn; and in ſleping þou ſhalt not traualen of it, and þou ſhalt not feelen trauaile.
 xxiii Waking, and colere, and anguylh to an vndifcreet man.
 xxiv Slep of helþe in a scars man; he shal ſlepe vnto þe morutid, and þe lif of hym wiþ hym shal deliten.
 xxv And if conſtreyned þou were in etyng to myche, ris from þe myddel, and ſpew; and it shal refreſhe þee, and þou ſhalt not bringe to þi body ſikniffe.

xxvi Here me, sone, and dispise þou not me; and in þe laste þou shalt fynde my wrdis.
 xxvii In alle þi werkis be þou swift; and alle infirmyte shal not meeet wiþ þee.
 xxviii Þe shynende in loeuies 'þe lippis of manye shul blissen; and þe witnesſing of þe treue of hym feiþful.
 xxix In þe moſt wycke bred grucchide þe cite; and þe witnesſing of þe wickidneſſe of it is verre.
 xxx Biſi men in wyn wile þou not ſtiren; forſoþe many men outlawide wyn.
 xxxi Fyr proueþ hard iren; fo wyn drunken in drunkinhed shal vndernyme þe hertes of proude men.
 xxxii Euene lif to men wyn in sobrenesse; if þou drinke it meſurably, þou shalt ben sobre.
 xxxiii What is þe lif þat is laſſid wiþ wyn?
 xxxiv What bigiliþ þe lif? deþ.
 xxxv Wyn in myrþe is foormed, not in drunkenhed, fro þe bigynnynge.
 xxxvi Þe ful out ioȝyng of foule and of herte, wyn meſurably drunken.
 xxxvii Helþe is of foule and of body, sobre drink.
 xxxviii Wyn myche drunke terring, and wraþe, and manye fallingus makeþ.
 xxxix Bitterneſſe of foule wyn myche drunken.
 xl Þe wilfumneſſe of drunkenhed þe offensioun of þe vnprudent, laſſende vertue, and makende woundis.
 xli In þe feſte of wyn vndernyme þou not a neȝhebore;
 and dispise þou not hym in þe myrþe of it.
 xlii Wrdis of repref fey þou not to hym; and bere þou not hym doun in aȝee aſking.

Capitulum XXXII.

i A gouernour þee þei han sett, wile þou not ben enhauncid; be þou in hem as oon of hem.
 ii Pe cure of hem haue þou, and fo bihold; and al þi cure mad out, reſte.
 iii Pat þou glade for hem, and þe ournement of grace þou take; coroun, and dignete of þe congregacioun þou gete.
 iv Spec þou more þurȝ birþe; forſoþe þer ſemeþ þee v ferſt þe wrd of loouende kunnyng; and lette þou not muſik.
 vi Where is not heering, heelde þou not out a fermoun;
 and vncouenabl wile þou not ben enhauncid in þi
 wiſdam.
 vii A litil iemme of karbuncle in þe ournement of gold;
 and comparisoun of muſikes in þe feſte of wyn.
 viii As in forging of gold ſigne is of a ſmaragd, fo þe noumbe of muſikis in myrie and temperat wyn.
 ix Here þou beende ſtille, and for reuerence shal falle to þee good grace.
 x þou a ȝung ful waxen man, ſpec in þin owne cauſe vneȝeþe, whan nede shul be.
 xi If twies þou were aſkid, haue þe hed þin anſwre.

xii In manye þingus be þou as vnkunnende, and here þou beende ſtille togidere and ſechende. xiii To ſpeken in þe myddel of grete men ne bifor take þou; and wher ben olde men, not myche ſpec þou.
 xiv Biforn hail shal go leiting, and biforn fhamefaſtneſſe shal go grace, and for reuerence shal fallen to þee good grace.
 xv And in þe hour of riſing 'tyff þou þee not; ren biforn forſoþe firſt in to þin hous, and þere be þou clepid to,
 and þere pleye.
 xvi And do þi conceyuyngus, and not in giltis, and in proud wrd.
 xvii Vp on alle þeſe þingus bliſſe þou þe Lord, þat made þee, and inwardli drunkinge þee of alle his goodis.
 xviii Who dredeþ God, shal take þe doctrine of hym;
 and who shul wake to hym, shul finde bleſſing.
 xix Who ſecheþ þe lawe, shal be fulſild of it; and who aspiendeli doþ, shal be ſclaundrid in it.
 xx Who dreden God, shul finde riȝtwis dom; and riȝtwineſſes as liȝt þei shul teende.
 xxi A man ſynnere shal ſchone correccioun; and after his wil he shal finde comparisoun.
 xxii A man of counſeil shal not diſtroȝe vnderſtonding;
 and an alien and a proud shal not ful dreden drede.
 xxiii Also aftir þat he dide wiþ hym wiþoute counſeil, and in his infolewingis he shal ben vndername.
 xxiv Sone, wiþoute counſeil no þing do þou; and aftir þi deede þou shalt not oþynke.
 xxv In þe weie of falling go þou not, and þou shalt not offend aȝen ſtones. Ne betake þou þee to a traualous wey, ne poote þou to þi foule ſclaunder; xxvi and of þi ſones be war, and of þi homli men tac heed.
 xxvii In al þi werk leeue of þe feiþ of þi foule; þis is forſoþe þe keping of þe heſtes.
 xxviii Who leeueþ to God, takeþ heed to þe heſtes; and who troſteþ in hym, shal not be laſſid.

Capitulum XXXIII.

i To þe dredende God eueles shul not meeet; but in tempting God shal kepen hym, and delyueren hym fro euelys.
 ii Pe wife man hateþ not heſtes, and riȝtwineſſes; and he shal not ben hurtlid, as in þe tempeſt of a ſhip.
 iii A weel felende man leeueþ to þe lawe of God, and þe lawe feiþful to hym.
 iv Who þe aſking makeþ open, shal greiþe a wrd; and fo louli preȝende he shal be ful out herd, and he shal kepe diſciplyne, and þanne he shal anſwern.
 v Pe entrailes of a fool as þe whel of a carre, and as a turnende ful axtre þe þenkingus of hym.
 vi An hors courſer, fo and a frend priue ſcornere, vnder eche man vpon ſittende neȝeþ.
 vii Whi dai þe dai ouercomeþ, and eft liȝt þe liȝt, and ȝer þe ȝer, funne þe funne?

viii Of þe kunningyng of þe Lord þei ben feuered, þe sunne mad, and kepende þe heft; bi þe wifdam of God þei ben deuydid.
 ix And he shal chaunge þe tymes and þe feste dæs of hem, and in hem þe feste dæs þei haleweden at þe hour.
 x Of hem God enhauncede and magnefiede; and of þem he putte in to þe noumble of dæs and ȝeres; and alle men of þe foil, and of þe erþe, wherof Adam was foormed.
 xi In þe multitude of þe disciplyne of þe Lord he feuerede þem, and chaungide þe weies of þem.
 xii And of þem he blissede, and enhauncede; and of hem he halewide, and to hymself he presentede; of hem he curfide, and mekede, and turnede þem to þe feuryng of hem.
 xiii As þe cley of þe crockere in þe hond of hym, to foormen and to dispoſen it, xiv alle þe weies of it aftir his disposiciooun; so a man in his hond þat made hym; and he shal ȝeelde to þem aftir his dom.
 xv Aȝen euel is good, and aȝen lif deb; so and aȝen þe riȝtwis man þe synnere. And so bihold in to alle þe werkis of þe heȝest; two aȝen two, oon aȝen oon.
 xvi And I þe laſte wakide, and as þat gedereþ clustris, aftir þe grape kutteres.
 xvii In þe bleſſing of God and I myself hopede; and as he þat grapes kutteþ, I fulſilde preſſe.
 xviii Beholdeþ, for not to me alone I traualide, but to alle men ſechende out disciplyne.
 xix Hereþ me, ȝee grete men, and alle puples; and ȝee gouernoures of þe chirche, wiþ eres parceyueþ.
 xx To fone, and wif, broþer, and frend, ȝif þou not power vp on bee in þi lif, and ȝyue þou not to an oþer þi poſſeſſioun, leſt it ȝepinke þee, and þou louli preȝe for hem.
 xxi Whil ȝit þou art aboue, 'or lyuest, and breþest, shal not chaungen bee alle flesh.
 xxii Betere is forſoþe, þat þi ſonus bee preȝen, þan þee to beholden in to þe hondus of þi ſonus.
 xxiii In alle þi werkes beforne paſſende be þou; xxiv ne ȝyue þou a wem in to þi glorie. In þe dai of þe ful endyng of þe dæs of þi lif, and in tyme of þi deb dele þin eritage.
 xxv Metes, and ȝerde, and berþene to an aſſe; bred, and disciplyne, and werk to a feruaunt.
 xxvi He werkeþ in disciplyne, and þe largid hond to hym ſecheþ 'to reſten, and ſecheþ fredam.
 xxvii ȝoc and brydil reyne crooken þe harde necke; and þe feruaunt bowen besy werkis.
 xxviii To þe euel willi feruaunt tormenting and gyues;
 put hym into werching, leſt he be voide;
 xxix forſoþe myche malice idilneſſe taȝte.
 xxx In werk fet hym, so forſoþe it ſemeþ hym; þat if he here not, bowe hym wiþ gyues, and make þou not large 'vp on alle flesh, but wiþ oute dom noo þing do þou heuy.

xxxi If þer is to þee a feiþful feruaunt, be he to þee as þi lif; as a broþer ſo trete hym, for in blod of lif þou bogyst hym.

xxxii If þou ſchalt hurte hym vnriȝtwisly, in to fliȝt he shal ben turned;

xxxiii and if enhauncende he ſchal go awei, whom ſchalt þou ſeche, and in what weie þou ſchalt ſeche hym, þou wost not.

Capitulum XXXIIII.

i Veyn hope and lesyng to þe mys felende man; and vnprudent men enhaunſun ſweuenes.

ii As he þat caccheþ ſhadewe, and purſueþ wynd, ſo and he þat takeþ heed to þe ſeen lesingus.

iii Aftr þat þing þe ſiȝte of ſweuenes; beforne þe face of a man þe licneſſe of an oþer man.

iv Of þe vnclene what shal ben clenſid, and of þe liere what ſob shal ben feid?

v Deuynyng of errour, and 'diuynyng bi chitering of briddis, lesingus, 'or false, and ſweuenes of euel doyng men is vanyte.

vi And as of þe womman berende child, þin herte ſuffreþ fantasies; no but of þe heȝest were ſent out viſityng ne ȝyue þou in hem þin herte.

vii Manye men forſoþe ſweuenus maden to erre, and fallen awei hopende in hem.

viii Wiþ oute lesing ſhal be ful endid þe wrd of þe lawe;
 and wiſdam in þe mouþ of þe feiþful ſhal be maad pleyn.

ix Who is not temptid, what kan he? A man in manye þingus expert, ſhall þenke manye þingus; and he þat manye þingus lernede, ſhal tellen out vndurſtonding.

x Who is not expert, fewe þingus knowiþ; who forſoþe in manye þingus is a fool, ſhal multeplien malice.

xi Who is not temptid, what maner þingus kan he?
 Who is vnpauntid, ſhal abound ſhreudenſeſſe.

xii Manye þingus I faȝ in tellinge out, and manye cuſtomes of wrdis.

xiii Oþer while vn to þe deb I was in perile, bi þe enchesoun of þeſe; and I was delyuered bi þe grace of God.

xiv þe ſpirit of men dredende God is ſoȝt, and in reſpyt of 'hym it ſhal be bliſſid.

xv þe hope forſoþe of þem in to þe ſauende hem; and þe eȝen of þe Lord in to men loouende hym.

xvi Who dredeþ God, no þing ſhal quaken, and he ſhal not inwardly dreden; for he is his hope.

xvii Of þe dredende þe Lord, bliſſid is his foule.

xviii To whom biholdiþ he, and who is þe ſtrengþe of
 hym?

xix þe eȝen of þe Lord vp on men dredende hym.
 Defendere of myȝt, firmament of vertue, coueryng of brennyng, and þe hilet, 'or þe schadowyng place, of þe mydday; xx louli prezende of gilte, and helpe of falling, enhauncende þe soule, and liȝtnende eȝen, ȝyuende helþe, and lif, and bleſſing.

xxi Of þe offrere of þe wicke þing þe offring is defoulid; and þe scornyng of vnriȝtwis men ben not wel plesende.
xxii Þe Lord alone to men sustenende hym in þe weie of treuþe, and of riȝtwisnæſſe.
xxiii Þe ȝiftus of wicke men proueþ not þe heȝest, ne biholdeþ in þe offringus of wicke men, ne in þe multitude of sacrificis of hem he ſhal han mercy to ſynnes.
xxiv Who offreþ sacrificis of þe ſubſtaunce of pore men, as he þat fleþ to ſacrifice þe ſone in þe ſiȝte of his fader.
xxv Þe bred of nedy men is þe liff of þe pore; who bigiliþ hym, is a man of blod.
xxvi Who doþ awei in fwot bred, as he þat fleþ his neȝheboře.
xxvii þat ſhedeþ blod, and þat doþ gile to þe hirid man, ben breþern.
xxviii Oon bildende, and oon diſtroȝende; what profitiþ to þem, no but traualie?
xxix Oon prezende, and oon curſende; whos vois ſhal þe Lord ful out heren?
xxx þat is baptiſid fro þe deade, and eft towcheþ þe deade, what profitiþ his waſhing?
xxxi So a man þat fasteþ in his ſynnes, and eft þe fame þingus doende, what profitiþ he mekende hymſelf? þe orifoun of hym who ſhal ful out heren?

Capitulum XXXV.

i Who kepeþ þe wrd, multeplieþ orifoun.
ii Holſum ſacrifice is to taken heed to þe maundemens, and to gon awei fro alle wickidneſſe.
iii And to ſacrifiſen plesing of ſacrifice vp on vnriȝtwisnæſſes, and louli prezeng for ſynnes, to gon awei fro vnriȝtwisnæſſe.
iv He ſhal ȝelde grace, þat offreþ tried flour; and þat doþ mercy, offreþ ſacrifice.
v 'Weel pleſid þing is to þe Lord, to gon awei fro wickidneſſe; and louly prezeng to gon awei fro vnriȝtwisnæſſe.
vi Pou ſhalt not aperen bifor þe ſiȝte of þe Lord voide;
vii forſoþe alle þeſe þingus for þe heſtus of God ben mad.
viii þe offring of þe riȝtwis fatteþ þe auter; and þe ſmel of ſwoteneſſe is in þe ſiȝte of þe heȝest.
ix þe ſacrifice of þe riȝtwis is acceptid, and þe mynde of hym þe Lord ſhal not forȝete.
x Wiþ good wil ȝelde glorie to God, and laſſe þou not þe cheef frutis of þin hondis.

xii In alle ȝifte glad mac þi chere, and in ful out ioȝing halewe þi dymes.
xiii ȝif to þe heȝeste aftir þe free ȝifte of hym; and in good eȝe mac þou þe finding of þin hondis. xiv For ȝeldende is þe Lord, and ſeuensiþe as myche he ſhal ȝelde to þee.
xvii Wile þou not offren ſhreude ȝiftus; forſoþe he ſhal not taken hem.
xviii And wile þou not biholden þe vnriȝtwis ſacrifice; for þe Lord is domes man, and þer is not anent hym glorie of perfone.
xix ȝe Lord ſhal not taken a perfone in to pore; and þe preȝing of þe hurt he ſhall ful out heren.
xvi He ſhal not diſpise þe prezeres of þe faderles child, ne þe widewe, yff ſhe heelde out þe ſpeeche of weiling.
xvii Wheþer not þe teres of þe widewe at þe cheeke gon doun, and þe outcry of hir vp on þe ledyng doun of hem?
xviii Fro þe cheke forſoþe þei ſteȝen vp to heuen, and þe Lord herere ſhal not delyten in þem.
xix Who honouriþ God in liking, ſhal ben reſſeyued; and þe lowe preȝyng of hym vnto þe cloudis ſhal neȝhe.
xxi þe orifoun of þe meekeſte hymſelf ſhal perſen cloudis, and to þe tyme þat it neȝhe, he ſhal not be coumfortid, and not gon awei, to þe tyme þat þe heȝest beholde.
xxii And þe Lord ſhal not longen awey, but demen riȝtwis men, and don dom; and þe strengeſte ſhal not han in hem pacience, þat he to-truble þe rigge of hem.
xxiii And to Jentiles he ſhal ȝelde veniaunce, to þe tyme þat he take awei þe plente of proude men, and þe kingus dignetees of wicke men he totruble; xxiv to þe tyme þat he ȝelde to men aftir þer deedus, and aftir þe werkis of Adam, and aftir þe prefumpcioun of hym;
xxv to þe tyme þat he deme þe dom of his folc, and 'he ſchal delite riȝtwis men wiþ his mercy.
xxvi Fair þe mercy of God in tyme of tribulacioun, as a cloude of reyn in tyme of droȝte.

Capitulum XXXVI.

i Haue mercy of vs, God of alle þingus; and behold vs, and ſhew to vs þe lyȝt of þi mercy doyngus.
ii And ſend in þi drede vp on Jentilis, þat ſoȝten not þee, þat þei knowe for þer is not God, but þou; þat þei telle out þi grete wrþi deedis.
iii Rere vp þin hond vp on aliene folkis, þat þey ſee þi myȝt.
iv As forſoþe in þe ſiȝte of hem þou art halewed in vs, ſo in oure ſiȝte þou ſhalt be magnefied in hem;
v þat þei knowe þee, as and wee han knowe, for þer is noon oþer God, ſaue þee, Lord.
vi Ennewe þou ſigues, and chaunge merueiles;
vii glorifie þe hond, and þe riȝt arm.
viii Rere vp wodneſſe, and heeld oute wraþe;

ix enhaunce þe aduersarie, and tormente þe enemye.
 x Heeȝe þou þe tyme, and haue mynde of þe ende, þat þei telle out þi merueilis.
 xi In þe ire of flaume be he deuoured þat is faued; and þat werfst treten þi folc, finde þei perdicoun.
 xii To-broȝe þou þe hed of princes, and of þe enemy, seiende, þer is noon oþer, saue wee.
 xiii Gedere togidere alle þe lynagis of Jacob, and knowe þei for þer is no God but þou, þat þei telle out þi grete wrþi deedis; and þou shalt eritage þem, as fro þe bigynnyng.
 xiv Haue mercy to þi puple, vp on þe whiche is inwardli clepid þi name; and to Israel, whom þou haft euened to þi first gotten.
 xv Haue mercy to Jerusalem, þe cyte of þin halewing, þe cite of þi reste.
 xvi Fulfil Syon wiþ þin vntellable vertues, and þi puple wiþ þi glorie.
 xvii ȝif witneſſing, for fro þe bigynnyng þi creatures þei ben; and rere þe preȝeres, þat þe rapere profetes speeken in þi name.
 xviii ȝif meede, Lord, to men sustenende þee, þat þi profetes feiþful bee founden; and heere þou þe orisoun of þi seruauns.
 xix Aftir þe blissing of Aron ȝif to þi puple, and riȝte reule vs in to þe weie of riȝtwisnes; þat þei alle wite, þat dwellen þe erþe, for þou art God, biholdere of worldis.
 xx Eche mete þe wombe schal ete, and þer is mete betere þan mete.
 xxi Cheekes touchen neȝh þe mete, and þe mysfelende herte lesyng wrdys.
 xxii Pe shreude herte shal ȝyue forewy flouþe, and þe wise man shal wiþftonde to it.
 xxiii Pe womman schal taken eche male child, and þer is a doȝter betere þan þe sone.
 xxiv Pe fairnesse of a womman gladiþ out þe face of hyr man, and ouer alle lust of þe man she shal 'ouer ledien desyr.
 xxv If þer is tunge of curing, þer is and of swaging, and of mercy; þe man of hir is not aftir þe sonus of men.
 xxvi Who weldiþ a good womman, bigyneþ posseſſiou; and helpe aftir hym she is, and a piler as reste.
 xxvii Wher is not hegge, shal ben to-broken þe posseſſiou; and where is not a womman, weileþ þe nedys.
 xxviii To whom byleeueþ he þat haþ not a nest, and bowing doun wher euere shal ben derk, as a gird vp þef, lepende out fro cite in to cyte?

Capitulum XXXVII.

i Eche frend shal seyn, And I frenshipe couplede; but þer is a frend, bi only name a frend. Wheþer not forewe is in vnto deþ?

ii A mete felawe forþoþe and a frend to enemyte shul ben turned.
 iii O! most shreude presumpcioun, whennus art þou foormed to coueren drie malice, and þe trecherie of
 it?
 iv Pe mete felawe to þe frend shal be merie in likingus, and in þe dai of tribulacioun he shal be aduersarie.
 v A mete felawe to þe frend forewiþ wiþ, bi cause of þe wombe; and aȝen þe enemy he shal take sheld.
 vi Forȝete þou not of þi frend in þin inwit, and be þou not vnmyndeful of hym in þi werkis.
 vii Wile þou nott counfelen wiþ þi wyues fader; and fro men enuyende to þee hyd counseil.
 viii Eche counseiler discouereþ counseil, but þer is a counseiler in hymself.
 ix Fro an euel counseiler kep þi soule; first wite þou, what be þe nede of hym, and what he in his inwit shal þenken;
 x leſt par auenture he poote a pol, 'or a stake, in to þe erþe, and fey to þee, xi Good is þi wey, and stonde aȝeenward, to seen what falle to þee.
 xii Wiþ an vnreligious man trete of hoolynesse, and wiþ þe vnriȝtwis man of riȝtwisnæſſe, and wiþ a womman of þo þingus þat she enuyeb. Wile þou not counseilen wiþ hym þat haþ þee suspect, and fro men enuyende to þee, hid þou þi counseil. Wiþ þe dredful trete of bataile, and wiþ þe marchaund, 'of castinge out of schyppe; wiþ þe biere, of filling, wiþ þe enuyous man, of graces to be don;
 xiii wiþ þe vnpitouſe, of pite, wiþ þe vnhonest, of honeſte, wiþþe werkere, of alle werk; xiv wiþ þe annuel werker, of þe ful endyng of þe ȝer, wiþ þe flowe seruaunt, of myche werchyng. Tac þou not heed to 'þese in al counseil, xv but wiþ an hoely man be þou byfy, whom euere þou shalt knowe kepende þe drede of God, xvi whos soule is aftir þi soule. Who euere shal wageren in dercenesses, shal not togidere forewen to þee.
 xvii And herte of good counseil sette þou wiþ þee; þer is not forþoþe to þee oþer more þan it.
 xviii Pe soule of an hoely man telleþ out oþer while soþis; more þan seuene lookeres aboute fittende in to heiȝte to beholden.
 xix And in alle þese þingus louliche preȝe þe heȝest, þat he riȝt reule in treuþe þi wey.
 xx Biforn alle werkes a verre wrd go bifor þee; and biforn alle deede stable counseil.
 xxi A shreude wrd 'schal chaunge þe herte, of þe whiche foure partis springen; good and euel, lif and deþ; and þe lordshipere of þese is a byfy tung.
 xxii A wys man many men taȝte, and to his soule is fweete.
 xxiii Who sofistically spekeþ, is hateful; in alle þing he shal ben biglid.

xxiiii Forsoþe þer is not ȝyuen to hym of þe Lord grace, forsoþe he is bigilid of alle wisdom.

xxv Þer is a wys man wiys to his soule, and þe frutes of þe wit of hym ben preifable.

xxvi A wis man techeþ his folc, and þe frutis of 'þe wit of hym ben feiþful.

xxvii A wys man shal be fulfill wiþ blissingus, and men seende hym shul preisen.

xxviii Þe lif of a man in þe noumble of daȝes; þe daȝes forsoþe of Israel ben vnnoumbreable.

xxix A wis man in puple shal eritagen wrshippe, and þe name of hym shal ben lyuende in to wiþoute ende.

xxx Sone, in þi lif tempte þou þi soule; and if it were shreude, ȝif þou not to it power; xxxi forsoþe not alle þingus to alle speden, and ne to eche soule eche kinde pleseþ.

xxxii Wile þou not ben gredy in alle plenteuous mete ȝyuyng, and heeld þee not out vpon eche mete.

xxxiii In manye forsoþe metus shal ben infirmyte, and gredynesse shal neȝhen vnto colre.

xxxiv For glotonye manye men dieden; who forsoþe is abstenent, shal eechen liȝt.

Capitulum XXXVIII.

i Honoure þe leche, for nede; forsoþe hym foormede þe heȝest.

ii Of God forsoþe is alle leching; and fro þe king he schal take ȝyuyng.

iii Þe disciplyne of þe leche shal enhaunse þe hed of hym; and in þe siȝte of grete men he shal ben preisid.

iv Þe heȝest foormede of þe erþe medycyne; and þe prudent man shal not agrisen it.

v Wheþer not of þe tree is mad sweete þe bitter water?

vi At þe knowleching of men þe vertue of þem; and þe heȝest ȝaf to men kunningg, to be wrshipid in his merueiles.

vii In þese þingus he curende shal swage forewen, and þe oynement makere shal make pymenis of swotenesse, and enoyntingus he shal make of helþe; and þe werkis of hym shul not ben ful endid.

viii Þe pes forsoþe of God vpon þe face of þe erþe.

ix My sone, in þin infirmytee ne dispise þou þiself; but prei þe Lord, and he shal cure þee.

x Turne awei fro gilte, and dresse þou þe hondis, and fro alle gilte clense þin herte.

xi ȝif swetnesse, and mynde of tried flour, and mac fat þe offring; and ȝif stede to þe leche.

xii Forsoþe þe Lord foormede hym, and go he not awei fro þee; for his werkis ben nedeful.

xiii Þer is forsoþe tyme, whan þou renne in to þe hondis of hem.

xiv Þei forsoþe þe Lord shul louly preiȝen, þat he riȝt reule þe reste of hem, and helpe for þer conuersacioun.

xv Who gilteþ in his siȝt, þat made hym, shal falle in to þe hondis of þe leche.

xvi Sone, in to þe deade bringe forþ teris, and as harde þingus suffrid bigyn to wepe; and aftir dom touche his body, and dispise þou not þe biriying of hym.

xvii For þe acusing forsoþe bitterly ber weilyng 'of hym o dai; and tac coumfort for heuynesse.

xviii And do weilyng after þe deseruyng of hym o dai, or two, for bacbiting.

xix Of forewi flouþe forsoþe heeȝeþ deþ, and couereþ vertue; and forewi flouþe of herte boowiþ þe nol.

xx In ledyng awei dwelliþ stille forewy flouþe; and þe substaunce of þe helpeles aftir þe herte of hym.

xxi Ne ȝyue þou þin herte in forewy flouþe, but putte it awei fro þee; and haue mynde of þe laste þingus, xxii and wile þou not forȝeten. Ne forsoþe þer is conuersacioun, and to þis þou schalt no þing profiten; and þi self þou shalt werst treten.

xxiii Myndeful be þou of my dom; so forsoþe it shal ben and þin, to me ȝisterdai, and to þee to day.

xxiv In þe reste of þe deade mac to resten þe mynde of hym; and coumforte hym in þe goyng out of his spirit.

xxv Wisdom wriȝt in tyme of voydenesse; and who is laſſid in deede, wisdom shal parceyue; for wiþ wisdom he shal be fulfill.

xxvi Who holdeþ þe ploȝ, and who glorieþ in þe spere, wiþ þe pricke stereþ þe oxen, and wonerþ in þe werkis of hem; and þe telling of hym in þe sonus of booles.

xxvii His herte he shal ȝyue 'to ben turned þe forewis; and þe wach of it in þe fatnesse of kyn.

xxviii So eche smyþe, and cheef werkere, þe whyche þe nyȝt as þe day ouerdoþ; þe whyche grauede grauen broochis, and þe byfynesse of hym varieþ þe peynture; his herte he shal ȝyue into þe licnesse of peynture, and his waking parformeþ þe werk.

xxix So þe iren smyþ sittende biside þe stibie, and biholdende þe werk of þe iren, þe humour of þe fyr brenneþ his flesh; and in þe hete of þe furneys he traueilþ wiþ stryif.

xxx Pe vois of hamer ennewiþ his ere; and aȝen þe licnesse of þe vessel þe eȝe of hym.

xxxi His herte he shal ȝyue in to þe ful ending of þe werkis; and his waking shal enourne þe inparfitnesse.

xxxii So þe crokere sittende at his werk, turnende wiþ his feet þe whel, þe whiche in besynesse is put euermor for his werk; and wiþ outhoumble is al þe working of hym.

xxxiii In his arm he shal foormen þe cley; and bifoorne his feet he shal crooken his vertue.

xxxiv His herte he shal ȝyue, þat he ful ende þe daubing; and his waking shal clenfe þe furneys.

xxxv Alle þese in þer hondis hopeden; and echon in þer 'craft is wys.

xxxvi Wiþoute alle þese 'is not bild vp þe cyte.

xxxvii And þei shul not wonen in, ne gon in; and in to þe chirche þei shul not ouerlepen.

xxxviii Vpon þe sete of þe domys man þei shul not sitte; and þe testament of dom þei shul not vnderstonde, ne maken opene disciplyne, and dom; and in parablis þei shul not ben founde.

xxxix But þe creature of spirituel tyme þei shul confermen, and þe lowe prezing of hem in working of craft; leeuende to þer soule, and togidere sechende in þe lawe of þe heþeste.

Capitulum XXXIX.

- i The wiðom of alle olde men þe wife man shal ful out fechen; and in profetes he shal take heed.
- ii Þe telling of þe nemned men he shal kepen; and in to þe fleiȝtes of parables togidere he shal entre.
- iii Þe hid þingus of prouerbis he shal sechen out; and in þe hid þingus of parables he shal dwelle.
- iv In þe myddel of grete men he shal mynystre; and in þe siȝt of þe chef domes man he shal apere.
- v In to þe lond of alien folkys he shal passē; goodus forsoþe and euelis in alle þingus he shal asaȝe.
- vi His herte he shal take to wake þe morutid to þe Lord þat made hym; and in þe siȝt of þe heþeste he shal louli preȝen.
- vii He shal opene his mouȝ in orisoun; and for his giltus he shal louli preȝe.
- viii If forsoþe þe grete Lord wile, wiþ þe spirit of vnderstanding he shal fulfille hym.
- ix And he, as reynes, shal sende þe speches of his wiðdam; and in orisoun he shal knoueleche to þe Lord.
- x And he shal riȝt reule þe counsel 'of hym, and dyscyplyne; and in his hid þingus shal counseilen.
- xi He open shal make þe disciplyne of his lore; and in þe lawe of þe testament of þe Lord he shal glorien.
- xii Manye shal preife þe wiðdam of hym; and vnto þe world he shal not be don awey.
- xiii Þe memorie of hym shal not go awei; and þe name of hym shal be soȝt fro ieneracioun in to ieneracioun.
- xiv His wiðdam folkis of kynde shul telle out; and his preising þe chirche shal shewen out.
- xv If his name schal abijde stille, he shal leue more þan a þousend; and if he shul resten, it shal profiten to hym.
- xvi ȝit I shal counseilen þat I telle out, as wiþ wodnesse forsoþe I am fulfild;
- xvii and in voys he seiþ, Al aboute hereþ me, ȝee Goddus frutes, and as roses plauntid vpon ryueres of watriſ, makeþ frutes.
- xviii As Liban, smel of swotenesse haue ȝee.
- xix Floureþ floures, as lilio; ȝyueþ smel, and braunches in to grace. And preisþ togidere þe song dite; and blisseþ þe Lord in his werkis.
- xx ȝyueþ to his name gret doyng, and knouelecheþ to hym in þe vois of ȝoure lippis, in song dites of lippis, and in harpis; and þus ȝee shuln seyn in knouechyng,
- xxi Þe werkis of þe Lord, alle þei ben ful goode.
- xxii In þe wrd forsoþe of hym stood þe water as an hep; and in þe wrd of þe mouȝ of hym as resceyuyng places of watriſ.

xxiii For in þe heſte of hym a pes makere is mad; and þer is not laſſyng in þe helpe of hym.

xxiv Þe werkes of alle flesh biforn hym; and þer is not any þing hid fro his eȝen.

xxv Fro þe world vnto þe world he biholdiþ; and no þing is merueilous in þe siȝt of hym.

xxvi Per is not to sey, What is þis, or, What is þat? forsoþe alle þingus in þer tyme shul be soȝt.

xxvii Þe bliſſing of hym as a flos shal flowe;

xxviii and as þe vnyuersel flos drunkede þe erþe, so þe wreþe of hym shal eritagen Jentyles, þat soȝten hym not out.

xxix What manere he turnede watriſ in to droȝte, and þe erþe is dried, and þe weies of it to þe weies of þem ben forþ straȝt; so to synneres offenciouns in þe wreþe of hym.

xxx Goodis to goode men ben foormed fro þe bigynnyng; so to most wicke men goodis and euelis.

xxxi Þe bygynnyng of necessarie þing to þe lif of men, water, fyr, iren, and salt, and mylc, and bred of tried flour, and hony, and clustre of grape, and oile, and cloþing.

xxii Alle þese to hoely men in to goodus; so and to vnpitous men and to synneres in to euelis þei shul ben al turned.

xxiii Þer ben spires þat to veniaunce ben formed; and in þer wodnesse þei confermeden þer tormentes.

xxiv And in tyme of ful endyng þei shul heelden out vertue; and þe wodnesse of hym þat made þem þei shul shende.

xxv Fyr, hail, hungir, and deb; alle þese to veniaunce ben foormed;

xxvi teeþ of bestes, and scorpions, and serpentes, and two bitende fwerd veniende in to outlawyng vnpitous men.

xxvii In þe heſtes of hym þei shul plenteuously eten, and vpon erþe in nede þei shul be greiþid; and in þer tymes þei shul not pasſe biside a wrd.

xxviii Perfore fro þe bygynnyng I am confermede; and I confeilede, and ȝoȝte, and scrites latfe.

xxix Alle þe werkes of þe Lord good; and ech werk in his hour shal vndermyneſtren.

xi Per is not to seyn, þis þan þat is werſe; forsoþe alle þingus in þer tyme shul be proued.

xli And now in alle herte and mouȝ preyſeþ togidere, and blisseþ þe name of þe Lord.

Capitulum XL.

i Gret occupacioun is ſhape to alle men, and a greuous ȝoc vp on þe ſonus of Adam, fro þe day of þe goyng out fro þe wombe of þe moder of hem, vn to þe day of þe biryng in to þe moder of alle þingus.

ii Þe ȝoȝtis of hem, and þe dredes of herte, þe fyndyngus of abidyng, and þe daȝes of endyng;

iii fro þe cheef sittere `vp on þe glorious fete, vn to þe meekid vn to þe erþe and asken; iv fro hym þat vseþ blu silc, and berþ þe croune, vn to hym þat is couered wiþ raw lynen, wodnesse, enuye, noyse, wagering, and dred of deþ, wraþefulnesse ftedefastly bidende, and striuyng;
v and in tyme of repaſt in þe bed, ſlep of nyȝt chaungeþ his kunnyngh.
vi Litil forſoþe as noȝt in reſte; and of hym in ſlepes as in þe day reſpit.
vii He ys diſturbid in þe ſiȝte of his herte, as he þat is ſcapid in þe dai of bataile. In þe tyme of his helpe he ros out, and wndrende at no drede, viii wiþ alle fleſh, fro man vn to beſte, and vp on þe ſynneres ſeuengfold.
ix To þeſe þingus, deþ, blod, ſtrif, and two bitende fwerd, opreſſiouns, hungres, and totreding, and ſcourges;
x vp on wickid men ben formed alle þeſe þingus, and for hem was mad þe ieneral flod.
xi Alle þingus forſoþe þat of þe erþe ben, in to erþe fhul ben turned; and alle watris in to þe ſe fhuln be turned.
xii Alle ȝifte and wickidnesse ſhal ben don awey; and feip in to world ſhal ſtonde.
xiii þe ſubſtaunces of vnriȝtwis men as a flod fhul ben dried; and as gret þunder in reyn þei fhul ſowne ful.
xiv As þe riȝtwis man in openyng his hondis ſhal gladen; ſo þe lawe brekeres in þe ende fhuln wanen awey.
xv þe ſonus ſonus of vnpitouſ men fhul nott multeplie braunches; and vnclene rootes vp on þe cop of þe ſton ſounen.
xvi Vp on eche water greñenesse; and at þe hour of þe flod bifor al þe hey it ſhal be pullid vp.
xvii Grace as paradis in bliſſingus; and mercy in to þe world abit ſtille.
xviii þe lif of þe ſuffiſaunt werkere to hymſelf ſhal be mad fwete; and in it þou ſhalt fynde trefor.
xix þe biſting vp of þe cite ſhal confermen þe name;
and ouer þis an vndeſoulid womman ſhal be countid.
xx Wyn and melodye gladen þe herte; and ouer eiþer þe loouyng of wiſdam.
xxi Trumpes and fautre maken ſwete melody; and ouer eiþir þe ſwete tungue.
xxii Grace and fairnesse þe eȝe ſhal defyren; and ouer þeſe grene tilþis.
xxiii A frend and a mete felawe in tyme comende togidere; and ouer eiþer a womman wiþ a man.
xxiv Breþern in to help in tyme of tribulacioun; and ouer þem mercy ſhal delyueren.
xxv Gold and ſiluer, and ſetting of feet; and ouer eiþer counſeil wel pleſid.
xxvi Facultes and vertues enhauncen þe herte; and ouer þeſe þe drede of þe Lord.

xxvii þer is not in þe drede of þe Lord laſſing; and þer is not in it to feche helpe.
xxviii þe drede of þe Lord as paradis of bleſſing; and ouer alle glorie þei couereden it.
xxix Sone, in þe tyme of þi lif ne nede þou; betere is to dyen, þan to neden.
xxx A man biholdende in to an oþer mannes bord, þe lif of hym is nott in þe þenking of liflode; forſoþe he nurſheþ his lif wiþ oþer mennus metes. xxxi A man forſoþe diſciplyned and taȝt, ſhal kepe hymſelf.
xxxii In þe mouȝ of þe vnprudent ſhal be maad myſeſe;
and in þe wombe of hym fyr ſhal brenne.

Capitulum XLI.

i O! deþ, hou bitter is þi mynde to an vnriȝtwis man, and hauende pes in his ſubſtaunces; ii to a quyete man, and whos weies ben riȝt ſtraȝt in alle þingus, and ȝit myȝti to taken mete.
iii O! deþ, good is þi dom to a man nedý, and þat is laſſid in ſtrengþe, iv failende þurȝ age, and to whom of alle þingus is cure, and to þe vnbelleueful, þat leefeþ wiſdam.
v Wile þou not dreden þe dom of deþ; haue mynde what bifor þee weren, and what vp on ben to come to þee; þis dom fro þe Lord to alle fleſh.
vi And þat fhuln ouercomen to bee in þe wel pleſid þing of þe heȝest; wheþer ten, or an hundred, or a þousend ȝer.
vii Forſoþe þer is not in helle acuſing of lif.
viii þe ſonus of abhominacions ben mad þe ſonus of ſynneres; and þat wonen biſide þe housis of vnpitouſ
men.
ix þe eritage of þe ſonus of ſynneres ſhal perſhen; and wiþ þe ſed of hem þe besynesse of repreſ.
x Of þe vnpitouſ fader pleynen, `or weilen, ſonus, for for hym þei ben in repreſ.
xi Wo to ȝou, vnpitouſ men, þat han forſaken þe lawe of þe heȝest Lord.
xii And if ȝee fhul ben born, in cursing ȝee fhul ben born; and if ȝee fhul dien, in cursing ſhal be ȝoure part.
xiii Alle þingus þat of þe erþe ben, in to erþe fhul ben turned; ſo vnpitouſ men fro cursing in to perdiſion.
xiv þe weylyng of men in þe body of hem; þe name forſoþe of vnpitouſ men ſhal ben don awey.
xv Cure haue þou of a good name; þat forſoþe more ſhal abide ſtille wiþ þee, þan a þouſend grete trefores and precious.
xvi Of good lif þe noumbre of daȝes; forſoþe good name ſhal abide ſtille in to þe ſpirituel world.
xvii Diſciplyne in pes kepeþ, ȝee ſonus; hid forſoþe wiſdam, and trefor vñſeen, what profit in euere eiþer?
xviii Betere is a man þat hidȝ hys folie, þan a man þat hidȝ his wiſdam.

- xix 'Ner þe latere turneþ aȝeen in þese þingus þat gon out of my mouþ.
- xx Forsoþe it is not good to waiten abouþ, 'or to kepen, alle vnreuerence, and not alle þingus in alle plesen in feip.
- xxi Shame ȝee of þe fader, and of þe moder, of fornycacioun; and fro þe cheef sitttere,
- xxii and of þe myȝty, of lefyng; and of þe prince, and of þe domes man, of gilte; of þe synagoge, and of þe folc, of wickidnesse;
- xxiii of felawe, and of frend, of vnriȝtwisnesse; and of þe place in þe whiche þou dwellist,
- xxiv of þeft; of þe treue of God, and þe testament; of sitting doun in loeues, and of þe derknyng of þe ȝoue þing, and of taken;
- xxv fro men salutende, of stillnesse; fro biholding of a fornycarie womman, and fro þe turnyng awei of þe chere of þe cosyn.
- xxvi Ne turne þou awei face fro þi neȝhebore; and fro taking awei part, and not restoring.
- xxvii Bihold þou not a womman of an oþer man; and ne enserche þou þe hand womman of hym, and stonde þou not at þe bed of hir.
- xxviii Bewar of frendus, of wrdus of repreff; and whan þou haft ȝyue, ne vpbreide þou.

Capitulum XLII.

- i Ne double þou þe sermoun of heering, of þe openyng of þe hid wrd; and þou shalt ben verrelly wiþoute confusioun, and þou shalt fynde grace in þe siȝt of alle men. Ne for alle þese þingus be þou confoundid; and ne accepte þou persone, þat þou gilte
- ii of þe lawe of þe heȝest, and of þe testament of dom, to iustefien þe vnpitouse;
- iii of þe wrd of felawes, and of weie goeres, and of þe ȝyuyng of þe eritage of frendis;
- iv of þe euenes of balaunces, and of weiȝtes, of purchasyng of manye þingus, and of fewe;
- v of þe corruptioun of biyng, and of marchaundis, and of myche disciplyne of sonus; and of þe werft seruaunt, to make þe fide to bleden.
- vi Vp on a shreude womman good is a signe.
- vii Where ben many hondis, close þou; and what euere þou shalt take, 'noumbre þou, and peise; þe ȝyuen þing forsoþe, and þe taken, al diskryue, 'or wryte.
- viii Of þe disciplyne of þe mysfelende, and of þe fool, and of þe elderes, þatt ben demed, of þe ȝunge waxen men; and þou shalt ben lerned in alle þingus, and prouable in þe siȝte of alle men.
- ix þe doȝter of þe fader is hid, þe wache and þe bysynesse of hir shal don awey flep; leſt par auenture in hir ȝunge waxen age auoutressle she be mad, and wiþ a man dwellende, hatefull she be mad;
- x leſt any tyme she be pollutid in hir maydenhed, and in hir fader keping she be founde wiþ child; leſt par

- auenture wiþ hir man dwellende, she trespassse, or certus bareyn she be mad.
- xi Vp on a leccherous doȝtir set warde, leſt any tyme she make þee in to repreff to comen to þin enemys, of bacbiting in þe citee, and of casting awey of þe puple; and she confounde þee in þe multitude of þe puple.
- xii To alle men wile þou not 'taken heed in þe fairnesse; and in þe myddel of wymmen wile þou not dwellen.
- xiii Forsoþe of cloþis comeþ þe moȝhe, and of a womman þe wickidnesse of a man.
- xiv Betere forsoþe is þe wickidnesse of a man, þan a womman doende benefet, and a womman confoundende in to repreff.
- xv Myndeful be 'Y shal þerfore of þe werkes of þe Lord; and which I saȝ, I shal shewen out, in þe wrdis of þe Lord, his werkus.
- xvi þe funne shynende þurȝ alle þingus biheeld; and of þe glorie of þe Lord ful is his werk.
- xvii Wheþer not þe Lord made seyntes to tellen out alle his merueiles, þe whiche þe Lord almyȝty shal confermen stable in his glorie?
- xviii þe depþe of þe se, and þe herte of men he shal enserchen; and in þe 'flyȝe wit, or gile, of hem he shal out þenke.
- xix þe Lord forsoþe kneȝ al kunning, and beheeld in to þe tocne of þe spirituell world; shewende out þat ben passid, and þat ben ouer to come; openende þe steppis of hid þingus.
- xx And þer passid not biside hym any þenking, and any wrd hidde not it self fro hym.
- xi He made faire þe grete wrþi werkes of his wisdam, þe whiche is biforn þe world, and vnto þe world; ne it is echid,
- xxii ne it is laffid, and it nedeþ not þe counsel of any man.
- xxiii Hou desirable ben alle þe werkes of hym, and as a sparcle þat is, to beholden.
- xxiv Alle þese þingus lyuen, and dwellen in to þe world; and in alle nede alle þyngus obeshen to hym.
- xxv Alle þingus double, oon aȝen oon; and he made not any þing to failen.
- xxvi Of euery þing he shal conferme þe goodus; and who shal be fulfilld, seende þe glorie of hym, and who witende shal conferme þe strengþe of hym?

Capitulum XLIII.

- i The firmament of þe heiȝte is þe fairnesse of hym; and þe fairnes of heuene in þe siȝte of glorie.
- ii þe funne in þe siȝte, shewende out in þe issue, a merueilous vessel, þe werk of þe heȝe.
- iii In þe myddai it brenneþ out þe erþe; and in þe siȝte of his brennyng who shal moun suffre? Kepende þe furneys in þe werkis of brennyng;

iiiii þre maner þe sunne brennende oute hillis, blastende out fyrene bemes, and aȝeen shynende wiþ his bemes, blendelþ þe eȝen.
 v Gret þe Lord, þat made it; and in þe wrdis of it he heeȝede þe weye.
 vi And þe moone in alle þingus in his tyme shewende of tyme, and tokne of þe spirituel world.
 vii Of þe moone þe signe of þe holy day; a liȝt ȝyuere þat is laſſid in þe ending.
 viii Þe mooneþ aftir his name is waxende, merueylously in to þe ful endyng.
 ix A vessel of tentes in 'heiȝe þingis, in þe firmament of heuene shynende gloriouſly.
 x Þe fairnesse of heuene glorie of sterres; þe Lord liȝtnende þe world in heiȝes.
 xi In woordis hoely men shuln stonden at þe dom; and þei shul not failen in þer wacches.
 xii See þe bowe, and blisse hym þat made it; ful fair it is in his shynynge. xiii He cumpasidhe heuene in þe circuyt of his glorie; þe hondus of þe heȝe openeden it.
 xiv Bi his maundement heeȝede þe snoȝ; and he heeȝeb liȝtnyngus to fenden out of his dom.
 xv Perfore opened ben þe tresores, and floweren awey þe little cloudys as briddes.
 xvi In his mykilnesse he putte þe cloudus; and ben to-broke þe stones of þe hail.
 xvii In his siȝte shul ben stired togidere þe hillis; and in his wil shal spiren, 'or breþen, out þe souȝ.
 xviii þe vois of his þunder 'schal beten þe erþe; and þe tempeſt of þe norþ, and þe gederyng of wynd.
 xix And as a brid puttende doun to fitten sprengelþ þe snoȝ, and as a locust drenchende þe descendingus of it.
 xx Þe fairnesse of þe shynynge of it þe eȝe shal merueilen; and vp on þe weder of hym þe herte quakeþ.
 xxi Frost as salt he shal heelden out vp on þe erþe; and whil he blowiþ, he shal be mad as þe coppis of þe brembil.
 xxii þe cold norþerne wind bleeȝ, and þe cristal freeſede fro þe watyr; vp on al þe gederyng of watriſ it reſteþ, and as an habirioun, it clopide hymſelf watriſ.
 xxiii And it shal deuouren hillis, and brennen out þe desert; and quenchent out þe greene as fyr.
 xxiv Medecyne of alle þingus in þe heeȝyng of þe little cloude; þe dew, metende to þe comende brennyng, lowȝ shal maken it.
 xxv In his wrd þe wynd heeld his pes; bi his þenking he shal pese þe se; and þe Lord Jhesus plautide yt.
 xxvi Who feilen þe se, shuln tellen out þe periles of it;
 and herende wiþ oure eres wee shuln wndre.
 xxvii Þere ful cleer werkis, and merueilous, and dyuers kindis of noȝouſe bestes, and of alle helpely bestes, and þe creature of bestes.
 xxviii For hym is confermed þe ende of þe wey; and in þe wrd of hym alle þingus ben mad togidere.

xxix Many þinges we seyn, and failen in wrdis; ful endyng forſoþe of wrdis he is.
 xxx In alle þingus gloriende, to what shul we be myȝty?
 he forſoþe almyȝti ouer alle his werkes.
 xxxi Ferful þe Lord, and gret hugely; and merueilous þe power of hym.
 xxxii Gloreſiende þe Lord hou myche euere ȝee ſchul moun, he shal ben ouer wrþi ȝit; and ful merueilous þe gret doyng of hym.
 xxxiii Blifſende þe Lord, enhaunce ȝee hym as myche as ȝee moun; more forſoþe he is þan alle preiſing.
 xxxiv Enhauncende hym ȝee shul be fulſild wiþ vertue;
 ne trauaile ȝee, forſoþe ȝee shul not ful comen.
 xxxv Who faȝ hym, and shal tellen out? and who shal magnefien hym, as he is fro þe bigynnyng?
 xxxvi Many hid þingus ben more þan þeſe; forſoþe fewe þingus wee han ſeen of his werkes. xxxvii Alle þingus forſoþe þe Lord made; and to men pitouſly doende he ȝaf wiſdam.

Capitulum XLIII.

i 'Preiſen we glorious men, and oure fadris and modris in þer generacioun.
 ii Myche glorie þe Lord dide in his grete doyng.
 iii Fro þe world ben men lordſhipende in þer poweres, grete men in vertue, and bi þer prudence biforn opere mad riche; tellende in profetes þe dignete of profetes, iv and comaundende in þe present puple, and bi vertue of prudence of þe puple, moft hoely wrdis.
 v In þer wiſdam ſechende þe muſyk manerys, and tellende þe dytes of scriptures.
 vi Riche men in vertue, hauende þe ſtudy of fairnesſe, pes makende in þer houses.
 vii Alle þeſe in þe ieneraciouns of þeir folc han taken glorie; and in þer daȝes ben had in preiſyngus.
 viii Who of hem ben born, laſten þe name of telling þe preiſyngus of hem.
 ix And þer ben, of whom is no mynde; þei perſheden as þat weren not, and ben born as not born; and þe ſonus of hem wiþ hem.
 x But þey men of mercy ben, of whom þe pitouſtees faileden not;
 xi and wiþ þe ſeed of hem dwellide ſtille good eritage.
 xii And þe ſed of þe ſonus ſonus of hem ſtod in þe testament,
 xiii and þe eritage of þe ſonus of hem for hem, in to wiþ oute ende dwelleþ; þe ſed of hem, and þe glorie of hem, shal not be forsaken.
 xiv þe bodies of hem in pes ben biried; and þe name of hem shal lyue in to ieneraciouns and ieneraciouns.
 xv þe wyſdam of hem puples shul tellen; and þe preiſing of hem þe chirche shal ſhewen.
 xvi Enoc pleſede to God, and is translatid in to paradis, þat he ȝyue wiſdam to folc of kynde.

- xvii Noe is founde a parfit riȝtwis man, and in tyme of wraþe he is mad recounsylyng.
- xviii Perfore is laft þe remnaunt of þe erþe, whan þe flod was do.
- xix Þe testaments of þe world ben put anent hym, ne 'myȝte be do awey wiþ þe flod eche flesh.
- xx Abraham þe grete fader of þe multitude of þe folc of kinde; and þer is not founde liȝc to hym in glorie, þat kepte þe lawe of þe heȝest, and was in testament wiþ hym.
- xxi In his flesh he made to stonde þe testament; and in tempting he is founde feiþful.
- xxii Perfore by oþ he ȝaf to hym glorie in his folc of kinde, to encresen hym as an hilloc of erþe;
- xxiii and to enhauncen 'þe sed of hym as þe sterres, and to eritagen hym fro þe se vn to þe se, and fro þe flod vnto þe termes of þe erþe.
- xxiv And to Isaac he dide þe same maner, for Abraham, his fader.
- xxv Þe blifing of alle folc of kinde þe Lord ȝaf to hym; and his testament he confermede vp on þe hed of Jacob.
- xxvi He kneȝ hym in his bleſſingus, and ȝaf to hym þe eritage; and he deuydede to hym part in þe twelue lynagis.
- xxvii And he kepte to hym sonus of mercy, findende grace in þe fȝt of al flesh.

Capitulum XLV.

- i Moyses looued of God and of men; whos mynde is in bleſſyng.
- ii Lic he made hym in þe glorie of seyntes, and he magnefiede hym in þe drede of enemys; and in his wrdis he cefede hidous wondris.
- iii He glorefiede hym in þe fȝt of kyngus, and he comaundide to hym bifor al his puple, and he shewede to hym his glorie.
- iv In feiþ and softeneſſe of hym he made hym hoely; and he chees hym of alle flesh.
- v Forsoþe he herde hym, and þe vois of hym; and he ladde hym in a cloude.
- vi And he ȝaff hym an herte to þe heftes, and to þe lawe of lif, and of disciplyne; to techen Jacob þe testament, and Israel his domes.
- vii Heeȝ he made Aaron, his broþer, and a lic to hym of þe lynage of Leuy.
- viii He sette to hym an euere lastende testament, and he ȝaf to hym þe presthod of þe folc of kinde; and he made hym blisful in glorie.
- ix And he girde hym aboute wiþ þe girdil of riȝtwisneſſe, and he cloþide hym þe stoele of glorie, and crounede hym in vessellis off vertue.
- x Shon, and breches, and coope he putte to hym, and girde hym aboute wiþ manye litle goldene belles in cumpas;
- xi to ȝyue soun in his goyng in, and to make þe soun herd in þe temple, in to mynde to þe sonus of hys folc.
- xii An hoely stoele, wiþ gold, and blyu vyolet silc, and sanguyn silc, þe werk wouen, þurȝ þe dom of þe wife man, and þurȝ þe treuþe of þe enourned;
- xiii wiþ fyr red silc foldun aȝeen, þe werk of þe craftis, wiþ precious iemmes figured in binding of gold, and wiþ werk of þe lapidarie grauen, in to þe mynde, after þe noumbre of þe lynagis of Israel.
- xiv A goldene croune vp on þe mytre of hym, expressid wiþ þe tocne of hoelynesse, þe glorie of wrfshipe, and þe werec of vertue, 'to þe desir of eȝen enourned.
- xv So faire bifor hym weren not 'fuche þingus, vnto þe est.
- xvi Þer is nott clad wiþ it any alyen, but only alone þe sonus of hym, and þe cosynes of hym, bi alle tyme.
- xvii Þe sacrifices of hym ben ful endid wiþ fyr eche day.
- xviii Moyses fulfilde þe hondis of hym, and enoyntede hym wiþ his hoely oile.
- xix It is mad to hym an euerelastende testament, and to his sed as þe daȝes of heuene, to vſen þe offis of presthed, and to han preysyng, and his puple to be glorified in his name.
- xx Hym he chees of alle lyuende, to offre sacrifice to God, encens, and good smell, in to mynde, to make pes for his puple.
- xxi And he ȝaf to hym power in his heftes, in testamenteſſes of domes, to teche Jacob witneſſingus, and in his lawe liȝt to ȝyue to Israel.
- xxii For aȝen hym stoden alienus, and for enuye þer cumpasseden hym men in desert, þat weren wiþ Dathan and Abiron, and þe congregacioun of Chore, in to ful wraþe.
- xxiii Þe Lord saȝ, and it plesede not to hym; and þei ben waſtide in þe bure of ful wraþe.
- xxiv He made to hem hidous veniaunces, and he waſtede þem in þe flaume of fyr.
- xxv And he eechede to Aron glorie, and he ȝaf to hym eritage; and þe chef of þe frutes of þe erþe he deuydide to hym.
- xxvi Þe bred of hym 'in þe firſte, in to fulneſſe he greipede; for whi and þe sacrificife of þe Lord þei shul ete, þe whiche he ȝaf to hym, and to þe sed of hym.
- xxvii 'For whi in þe lond he shal not eritagen Jentiles, and part is not to hym in þe folc; he is forsoþe þe part of hym, he is and þe eritage.
- xxviii Fynees, þe sone of Eleasar, þe þridde is in glorie, folowende hym in þe drede of God,
- xxix and to stonde in reuerence of þe folc; in goodneſſe and gladneſſe of his soule he pleſide to God of Israel.
- xxx Perfore he sette to hym a testament of pes, and a prince of seyntes, and of his folc; þat þer be to hym and to his sed dignete of presthed, in to wiþ oute ende.
- xxxi And þe testament of Dauid, 'þe king, sone of Jesse, of þe lynage of Juda, eritage to hym, and to þe sed of hym; þat he schuld ȝyue wiſdam in to oure herte, to demen his folc in riȝtwisnelfe, leſt were don awei þe goodis of hem; and þe glorie of hem, in to þe folc of hem, he maade euere laſtende.

Capitulum XLVI.

- i Strong in bataile Jefus Nauee, þe ſuccellour of Moifes in profetes, þat was gret aftir his name.
- ii Moſt in to þe helþe of þe choſen men of God, to fiȝten out þe enemys aȝenrifende, þat he ſhulde han afterward þe eritage of Israel.
- iii What glorie he hadde in taking vp his hondis, and in caſtyng aȝen þe cites twey bitende fwerdis.
- iv Who biforn hym ſo wiþſtold? for whi þe enemys þe Lord ſimot.
- v Or not in wraþefulneſſe of hym is lettid þe funne, and o dai is mad as two?
- vi He inwardli clepede þe heȝest, myȝti in aȝenrifting his enemys on eiper ſide; and þe grete and hoely God herde hym, in þe grete ſtones of hail of ful gret vertue.
- vii A bure he made aȝen þe enmyable folc; in þe goyng doun he diſtroȝede þe contrarious;
- viii þat þe Jentilis knowe þe myȝt of hym, for aȝen þe Lord to fiȝte is not liȝt; and he folowede þe myȝti men bihindē.
- ix And in þe daȝes of Moify mercy dide he, and Calef, þe ſone of Jefone; to ſtonde aȝen þe enemy, and to forſende þe folc fro synnes, and to drawen awei þe gruccing of þe malice.
- x And þei two ordeyned fro þe perile ben deliuered, fro þe noumbe of ſix hundredrouſend foot men, to bringe þem in to þe eritage, in to þe lond þat flowiȝ mylc and honys.
- xi And þe Lord ȝaf to Calef ſtrengþe, and vnto eelde abod ſtille to hym vertue; þat he ſhulde ſteȝe in to þe heȝe place of þe erþe, and þe ſed of hym heeld þe eritage.
- xii And alle þe ſonus of Israel ſeȝen, for it is good to obefhe to þe hoeli God.
- xiii And alle þe iugis bi þer name, of whom þe herte is not corrupt, þe whiche ben not turned awei fro þe Lord;
- xiv þat þe mynde of hem be in bleſſing, and þe boenes of hem buriouen fro þer place;
- xv and þe name of hem abit ſtille in to wiþ oute ende, þe glorie of hoely men abidende ſtille to þe ſonus of hem.
- xvi Samuel, þe profete of þe Lord, looued of þe Lord his God, renewede þe empire, and enoyntede princes in his folc.
- xvii In þe lawe of þe Lord he demede þe congregacioun, and he ſaȝ þe Lord of Jacob, and in his feiþ he is proued a profete.
- xviii And he is knownen in his wrdis feiþful, for he ſaȝ þe Lord of liȝt.

xix And he inwardly clepide þe almyȝty Lord, in aȝenrifting þe enemys aboue ſtonde on eche ſide, in þe offring of þe man vndefoulid.

xx And þe Lord þundrede in fro heuene, in a gret ſoun his vois he made herd.

xxi And he to-trad þe princes of Tyres, and alle þe dukes of Filisteys.

xxii And bifore þe tyme of þe ende of his lif, and he ȝaf witneſſing of þe world, in þe ſiȝt of þe Lord, and of Crift; monees and vnto þe ſhon, of alle flesh he toc not; and þer acufide hym not a man.

xxiii And aftir þat he flepte, and made knownen to þe kyng, and ſhewede to hym þe ende of his lif; and enhauncede his vois fro þe erþe in profecie, to don awey þe vnpitouſte of þe folc.

Capitulum XLVII.

- i Aftir þeſe þingus ros Nathan, þe profete, in þe daȝes of Dauid.
- ii And as talȝ ſeuered fro þe flesh, ſo Dauid fro þe ſonus of Israel.
- iii Wiþ leouns he pleyede, as wiþ lombis; in beres liȝc maner he dide, as in lombis of ſhep.
- iv In his ȝouþe wheþer he ſloȝ not a ieaut, and toc awei repreſ fro þe folc?
- v In takinge þe hond in þe ſton of þe flynge, he þreȝ doun þe ioȝe of Golie,
- vi where he inwardly clepede þe Lord almyȝty; and he ȝaf in his riȝt hond to don awey a strong man in bataile, and to enhaunce þe horn of his folc.
- vii So in ten þouſendis he glorifiede hym, and preifede hym in þe bleſſingus of þe Lord, in offringe to hym a croune of glorie.
- viii Forſoþe he to-broſede þe enemys on eche ſide, and diſtroȝede Filisteys contrarious, vnto þe day þat is now; he to-broſede þe horn of hem, vnto wiþ oute ende.
- ix In alle werk he ȝaf knouleching to þe hoely, and to be heeȝe in þe wrd of glorie.
- x Of alle his herte he preifede God, and loouede þe Lord þat made hym, and ȝaf to hym aȝen þe enemyes myȝt.
- xi And he made to ſtonde ſyngeres aȝen þe auter; and in þe ſoun of hem he made sweete motetes.
- xii And he ȝaf wrſhepe in ſolempnyſingus, and ournede þe tymes vnto þe ful endyng of lyf; þat þei ſhulden preisen þe hoely name of þe Lord, and make large erly þe hoelyneſſe of God.
- xiii Crift purgede þe synnes of hym, and enhauncede in to wiþ outen ende þe horn of hym; and he ȝaf to hym þe teſtament of kingus, and a ſete of glorie in Israel.
- xiv After hym ros a ſon weel felende; and for hym he caſt doun alle þe myȝte of enemys.
- xv Salomon comaundide in daȝes of pes, to whom God fogetede alle þe enemyes, þat he ſhulde maken an hous in his name, and greiþen hoelynesse in to euermor, as he was taȝt in his ȝouþe.

xvi And he is fulfild as a flod wiþ wifdam; and his soule aȝeen couerde þe erþe.

xvii And þou fulfildist in comparisouns derk prouerbis; to ylis aferr is pupplisht þi name, and þou art looued in þi pes.

xviii In songus, and in prouerbis, and comparisouns, and in remenyngus wndreden þe londis;

xix and in þe name of þe Lord, to whom is þe toname God off Israel.

xx Pou gedarest as latoun gold, and as led þou fulfildist syluer.

xxi And þou bowedist in þin hipes to wymmen; power þou haddest in þi body.

xxii þou ȝeue a wem in þi glorie, and cursedest þi sed, to bringen in wraþefulnesse to þi free childer, and in obere þingus þi folye;

xxiii þat þou shuldist make þe empire partid on two, and of Effreym to comaunden an hard maundement.

xxiv God forsoþe shal not leuen his mercy, and he shal not spille, ne don awey his werkes, ne leefe fro þe stoc his chosun sonus sonus; and þe sed of hym þat looueþ þe Lord he shall not shende.

xxv He ȝaf forsoþe an oþer Jacob, and Dauid of þat lynage.

xxvi And Salomon hadde ende wiþ his fadris.

xxvii And he lafte after hym of his sed þe folie of þe folc, xxviii and þe mynusht fro prudence, Roboam; þe whiche turnede awey þe folc bi his counseil.

xxix And Jeroboam, þe sone of Naboth, þat made to synnen Israel, and ȝaf þe weie of synnyng to Effraym; and ful manye redoundeden þe synnes of hem gretli, xxx forsoþe þei turneden hem awei fro þer lond.

xxxi And he soȝte alle wickidnesses, vnto þe tyme þat defending ful cam to þem; and fro alle synnes he delyuerede þem.

Capitulum XLVIII.

i And Helie, þe profete, ros as fyr; and his wrd as a brond brende.

ii Þe whiche broȝte in to hem hunger, and folewende hym bi þer enuye ben mad fewe; forsoþe þei myȝten not suffre þe heftes of þe Lord.

iii Purȝ þe wrd of þe Lord he wiþheeld heuene, and cast doun fro hym fyr to þe erþe.

iv So mad large is Helie in his merueiles; and who mai lic maner glorien to þee, v 'þe whiche haſt borne vp þe deade fro helle, fro þe lot of deþ, in þe wrd of þe Lord God?

vi Þe whiche þreȝ doun kingus to deþ, and þou breeke liȝtli þe myȝt of hem, and þe gloriouse fro þer bed.

vii þatt herdist in Syna dom, and in Oreb domes of defensioun.

viii þat enoyntist kingus to penaunce, and profetes makeſt succeſſoures after þee.

ix þat art reſcveyued in whirlwynd of fyr, in a char of fyrene hors.

x þat art inwrite in domes of tymes, to swage þe wraþe of þe Lord, and to ioynen, 'or acorde, þe herte of þe fader to þe sone, and to restoren þe lynagis of Jacob.

xi Blisful ben þei, þat þee han herd, and in þi frenſhepe ben mad faire;

xii 'for why wee wiþ liȝt lyuen only, after deþ forsoþe fuch shal not ben oure name.

xiii Helie forsoþe in a whirlwynd is couered; and in Helyfe fulfild is his spirit. In his daȝes he dradde not a prince, and bi myȝt no man ouer cam hym;

xiv ne ouercam hym any wrd, and his body dead profeciede.

xv In his lif he dide huge wondris; and in deþ merueilouse þingus he wroȝte.

xvi In alle þese þingus þe purple dide not penaunce, and þei wenten not awey fro þer synnes, vn to þe tyme þat þei ben cast awey fro þer lond, and ben scattered in to eche lond.

xvii And þer is laſt ful fewe folc, and a prince in þe hous of Dauid.

xviii Summe of hem dyden þat shulde plesen to God; oþere forsoþe diden manye synnes.

xix Eſechias strengþeþe his cite, and broȝte in to þe myddel of it water; and dalf wiþ iren þe roche, and bilde vp to þe water a pit.

xx In his daȝes ſteȝede vp Senacherub, and ſente Rapfacen; and vnderputte his hond aȝen hem, and putte out his hond in to Sion, and proud is mad in his myȝt.

xxi Panne moued ben þe hertes and þe hondis of hem; and þei foreweden as wymmen trauailende wiþ child.

xxii And þei inwardly clepeden þe merciful Lord, and ſtrechende out hondis þei rereden 'vp to heuene; and þe hoely Lord God herde anon þe vois of hem.

xxiii He remembrede not þe synnes of hem, ne ȝaf hem to þer enemys; but purgede hem in þe hond of Yſaye, þe hoely profete.

xxiv He þreȝ doun þe tentes of Affries, and hem to-broſede þe aungil of þe Lord.

xxv For whi Ezechie dide þat pleſede to þe Lord, and ſtrongli he wente in þe weie of Dauid, his fader; þat Iſaie, þe grete profete, and feiþful in þe ſiȝte of God, ſente to hym.

xxvi In his daȝes bacward wente aȝen þe funne; and addede to be king lif.

xxvii Wiþ a gret ſpirit he faȝ þe laſte þingus; and coumfortede þe weilende men in Sion, vn to euermor.

xxviii He ſhewide þingus to come, and hid, er þat þei fallen.

Capitulum XLIX.

i The mynde of Josie mad in a making of smell, is a werk of a pymet makere.
ii In eche mouȝ as hony þhal be inwardly sweete þe mynde of hym, and as melody in þe feste of wyn.
iii He is euene riȝt godly in þe penaunce of folc; and he took awey þe abhomynaciouns of vnpitouſnessse.
iv And he gouernede to þe Lord his herte; and in þe dȝes of synnes he strengþede pite.
v Saue Dauid, and Eſechie, and Josie, alle þe kingus diden synne.
vi For whi þe kyngus of Juda laſten þe lawe of þe myȝty, and dispiseden þe drede of God.
vii Forſoþe þei ȝeuȝ þer kingdam to opere, and þer glorie to an alien folc.
viii þei brenden vp þe chosen cite of hoelyneſſe; and desert þei maden weies of it in þe hond of Jeremye.
ix For whi euele þei treteden hym, þat fro þe wombe of þe moder is sacrid a profete, to turnen vpsodoun, and to leefen, and eft to bilden vp, and to renewen.
x Eſechiel, þat faȝ þe ſiȝte of glorie, þat he shewede to hym in þe char of cherubyn.
xi For whi he remembrede of þe enemys in weder, to wel don to þem, þat sheweden riȝt weies.
xii And þe boenes of þe twelue profetes ſpringen outh fro þer place; for whi þei strengþeden Jacob, and aȝeenboȝten þemſelf in feiȝ of his vertue.
xiii What maner þul wee make large Zorobabel? for whi and he as a tocne in þe riȝt hond of Israel;
xiv and Jefum, þe sone of Josedech? þe whiche in þer dȝes bildun vp þe hous, and enhaunceden þe hoely temple to þe Lord, mad redy in to euermor glorie.
xv And Neemye in þe mynde of myche tyme, þat rerede vp to vs þe turned vpsodoun walles, and made to ſtonde ȝates and lokes; þat rerede vp oure houses.
xvi No man is born in þe erþe ſuch as Enoch; for whi and he is reſcyeued fro þe erþe.
xvii And Joseph, þat is born of man, prince of breþern, faſtnyng of folc of kynde, gouernour of breþern, ſtablyng of purple; xviii and þe bones of hym ben viſtid, and aftir þe deþ þei profecieden.
xix Seth and Sem, þeſe anent men hadden gote glorie, and ouer alle lif in þe ſpringyng of Adam.

Capitulum L.

i Symon, Onyes ſone, þe grete preſt, þat in his lif vndertette þe hous, and in his dȝes strengþede þe temple.
ii Also þe heȝte of þe temple of hym is foundid, þe double biling, and þe heȝe walles of þe temple.
iii In his dȝes ſprungen outh þe pitteſ of watris; and as þe ſe þei ben fulſild ouer maner.
iv þat curede his folc, and delyuerede it fro perdiſiouȝ.

v þat hadde þe maistrie to make large þe cite; þat gat glorie in to þe lyuyng of folc; and þe incomyng of þe hous, and of þe porche he made large.
vi As þe morutid sterre in myddel of þe little cloude, and as þe fulle moone in his dȝes he liȝtneþ; vii and as þe ſhynde funne, ſo he ſhyneþ out in þe temple of God;
viii as þe aȝenſhynde bowe betwene þe little cloudis of glorie, and as þe flour of roses in þe dȝes of ver, and as lilies, þat ben in goyngus of water, and as cene ſmellende in þe dȝes of fomyr;
ix as fyr ſhynde out, and fens brennende in fyr; x as a maſſee veſſel of gold, enourned wiþ alle maner precious ſton; xi as a buriounende olyue, and ciprefle in to heȝte puttende out itſelf; in takyng hym þe ſtoele of glorie, and to be clad hym in þe ful endyng of vertue.
xii In þe ſteȝyng vp of þe hoely auter, glorie he ȝaf þe amyſe of hoelyneſſe.
xiii In takyng forſoþe partes of þe hond of preſtes, and he ſtondende biſide þe auter. Aboute hym þe croune of breþern, as þe plaunting of a ceder in Liban hil; xiv fo aboute hym þei ſtoden as palm braunches, and alle þe ſonus of Aron in þer glorie.
xv þe offring forſoþe of þe Lord in þe hondis of hem, biforn al þe gedering of Israel; and þe ful endyng vſyng in to þe auter, to make large þe offring of þe heȝe king, xvi he ſtraȝte out his hond in þe ſacrifiyng of likoures; and he ſacrifieſe in þe blod of a grape. xvii He helde out in þe foundement of þe auter, godly ſmel to þe heȝe prince.
xviii Panne crieden out þe ſonus of Aron; in beten out trumpeſ þei ſouneden, and herd þei maden a gret vois in to þe mynde bifor God.
xix Panne al þe puple togidere wenten forþ, and fallen in to þe face vp on þe erþe, to honoure þe Lord þer God, and to ȝyue preȝees to þe almyȝty heȝe God.
xx And þei largeden ſynging in þer voiſes; and in þe grete hous is mad a vois ful of ſwetneſſe.
xi And þe puple preȝede þe heȝe Lord in preȝere, vn to þe tyme þat ful don is þe honour of þe Lord, and his ȝifte þei parformeden.
xii Panne comende doun, his hondis he putte out in to al þe congregacioun of þe ſonus of Israel, to ȝyue glorie to God of his lippeſ, and in his name to glorien.
xiii And he rehercede his orisoun, willende to ſhewe þe vertue of God.
xiv And aftir eft more he preȝede þe God of alle, þat grete þingus dide in al erþe; þat encreſide oure dȝes fro þe wombe of oure moder, and dide wiþ vs aftir his mercy.
xv ȝyue he to vs inward ioȝe of herte, and to be mad pes in oure dȝes in Israel bi euere laſtende dȝes; xvi Israel to leeuen, wiþ vs to ben þe mercy of God, þat he deliuere þem in þer dȝes.

xxvii Two folkis hateþ my soule; þe þridde forsoþe is, þat noon more folc I shulde haten.
xxviii þat fitten in þe hil of Seir, and Filisteym, and þe fool puple, þat dwellip in Sichemys.
xxix þe doctrine of wiſdam, and of disciplyne wrot in þis poc Jhesus, þe sone of Sirac, Jerosolomytane; þat renewede þe wiſdam of his herte.
xxx Blisful þat in þese goodus abit; þat putteþ þo þingus in his herte, wys þhal ben euermor.
xxxi If forsoþe þese þingus he shul do, to alle þingus he þhal ben myȝty; for þe liȝt of God is þe step of hym.

Capitulum LI.

i I shal knoulechen to þee, Lord king; and I shal al preisen þee, God my faueour.
ii I shal knoulechen to þi name, for helpere and defendere þou art mad to me;
iii and þou haſt delyuered my body fro perdioun, fro þe gnare of a wicke tunge, and fro þe lippes of men werkende lesyng; and in þe liȝt of men stondende neeȝ þou art mad to me an helpere.
iv And þou haſt delyuered me, after þe multitude of þe mercy of þi name, fro þe rorende men greiþed to mete;
v fro þe hondis of men sechende my soule, and of manye tribulaciouns þat enuyrouneden me;
vi fro þe tormenting of flaume þat cumpasede me, and in þe myddel of þe fyr I am not brend out;
vii fro þe heiȝte of þe wombe of helle, and fro þe defoulid tunge, and fro þe wrd of lesing; fro a wicke king, and fro an vnriȝtwis tunge.
viii Shal preisen vn to þe deþ my soule þe Lord;
ix and my lif neȝhende was in helle beneþe.
x þei cumpaffen me on eche fide, and þer was not þat wolde helpen; biholdende I was to þe helpe of men, and þer was not.
xi I hadde mynde of þi mercy, Lord, and of þi wiþ werching, þat fro þe world ben;
xii for þou takeſt out men sustenende þee, and delyuerest hem fro þe hond of Jentiles.
xiii þou enhancedest vp on þe erþe my dwelling; and for þe deþ flowende doun I louly prezede.
xiv `I inwardly clepede þe Lord, fader of my Lord, þat he forſake not me in day of my tribulacioun, and in tyme of proude men, wiþ oute helpe.
xv I shal preisen þi name byſyly, and I shal wiþpreisen it in confessioun; and ful out herd is myn orisoun. xvi And þou haſt delyuered me fro perdioun, and þou haſt caȝt me out fro þe wicke tyme.
xvii þerfore I shal knoulechen, and preſyng I shal fey to þee; and I shal bliſſe þe name of þe Lord.
xviii Whan ȝit ȝungere I am, bifor þat aboue I shulde erre, I ſoȝte wiſdam openly in myn orisoun.
xix Bifor tyme I askede for it, and `vn to in þe laſte þingus I shal gretli ſechen it; and it shal floure as a firſt rip grape.

xx Myn herte gladide in it, my foot wente a riȝt weye; fro my ȝouþe I enferchede it.
xi I bowede in a litil myn ere, and I toc it.
xii Myche I fond in myself wiſdam, and myche I profitede in it.
xiii To þe ȝyuende to me wiſdam I shal ȝyue glorie.
xviii I counſeilede forsoþe to don it; gretly I loouede good, and I `ſchal not be confoundid.
xv `My soule wraſtled in it; and in doing it I am conſermed.
xvi My hondis I ſtraȝte out in to heiȝ; and in þe wiſdam of hym weilede my soule, and myn vnkunnyngus he liȝtede.
xvii My soule I riȝt reulede to it; and in knowyng I fond it.
xviii I weldede wiþ hem herte fro þe bigynnyng; for þat I shal not ben forsaken.
xxix My wombe is diſturbid in ſechyng it; þerfore good poſſeffioun I shal welde.
xxx þe Lord forſope ȝaf to me a tunge my meede; and in it I shal preisen hym.
xxxi Comeþ nyȝ to me, ȝee vntaȝt; and gedereþ ȝou togidere in þe hous of disciplyne.
xxxii What ȝit ȝee tarien? and what fey ȝee in þese þingus? ȝoure ſoules þriſten hugely.
xxxiii I openede my mouþ, and I ſpac, Bieþ to ȝou wiþouþe ſiluer wiſdam, xxxiv and ȝoure necke vnderleȝ to þe ȝoc of it, and ȝoure ſoule vndertake he diſcyplyne; in þe nexte forſope is to fynden it.
xxxv Seeþ wiþ ȝoure eȝen, for a litil I traualide, and I fond to me myche reſte.
xxxvi Takeþ to diſcyplyne in myche nouembre of ſyluer, and plenteuous gold weldeþ in it.
xxxvii Glade ȝoure ſoule in þe mercy of it; and `ȝe ſchul not be confoundid in þe preiſing of it.
xxxviii Werkeþ ȝoure werk bifor tyme; and it shal ȝyue to ȝou ȝoure meede in his tyme.

Here endip Ecclesiasticus.

ISAYE.

Here begynneþ þe prolog in þe book of Yſaye, þe prophete.

No man, whan þe profetes he shal ſeen wiþ verſis to ben diſcriued, in metre eyme he hem anent þe Ebrues to ben bounden, and any þing lic to han of Salmes, or of þe werkus of Salomon; but þat in Demostene and Tullio it is wont to ben do, þat bi dyuyſeouns, and vnder diſtinccions þei ben writen, þe whiche forſope in profe, and not in vers wryten. Wee forſope, to þe profit of rederes purueyende, þe newe remenyng wiþ a newe maner of writing han `distinctly write. And firſt, of Isaie it is to write, þat in his ſermoun he is wys; forſope as a noble man, and of curteis fair ſpeeche, ne any þing is mengd of cherlhed in his faire speche. Wherfore it falleþ, þat þe translacioun shal not moun kepe þe flour of his sermoun, biforn opere. Þeraftir also þis is to be leid to, þat not more he is to be seyd a profete, þan euangelist. So forsoþe alle þe mysteries of Crist 'and þe chirche to cleer, 'or clearerli, he purfuede, þat not hym þou weene of þyng to come to profecien, but of þe þingis paffid storie to weue. Wherfore I eyme þe Seuenty Remenoures þat tyme not to han wold þe sacramens of þer beleeue to shewe ful clerly to þe heþene, leſt hoeli to dogges, and margarites to fwyn þei ȝeeue. Þe whiche whan þis making ȝee shul rede, of hem ȝee shul taken heed, 'or percheyue, hid þing. Ne I vnknowe of hou myche trauaile it be þe profetes to vnderstoned, ne liȝtly any man to moun demen of þe remenyng, but if he schal vnderstoned byfore he schal reden; wee also to ben opene to þe bitingus of manye men, þe whiche bi enuye styrende, þat þat þei moun not han, þei dispisen. þanne I witende and fleeȝ, in to þe flaume putte þe hond; and nerþelatere þis of noȝesum rederes I preȝe, þat as Grekes after þe Seuenty translatoures, Aquylam, and Symachum, and Theodocian þei reden, or for studie of þer doctrine, or þat þe Seuenty more þey vnderstonde of þe togidere leiyng of hem, so and þese namely oon remenour aftir þe raþere vouche þei saf to han. Rede þei rapere, and aftirward dispise þey; leſt þei ben seen not of dom, but of prefumpcioun of hate vnknownen þyngus to dampnen. Forsoþe Isaie profeciede in Jerusalem and in Jewerie, not ȝit þe ten lynages led in to caitifte; and off euer eiper rewme, now togidere, now feuerendely, he ordeynede þe profecie. And þoȝ oþer while he bihold to þe present storie, and aftir þe caitifte of Babiloyne he betokneþ þe aȝeencomyng of þe puple in to Jewerie, nerþelatere al his bifynesse is of þe cleping of Jentiles, and of þe comyng of Crist, whom hou myche more ȝee loouen, o Paule and Eustoch, so myche more of hym alkeþ, þat for þe present bacbiting 'by which me enemys vncefendely to-tern, he to me ȝelde meede in tyme to come, þat wot me for þat þing to han swat in þe lernyng of a straunge tung, leſt þe Jewis lengere shulden 'put repreue to þe chirchis of hym, of þe falphed of scriptures.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and now begynneþ þe book of Ysaie, þe prophete.

Capitulum I.

- i The viseoun of Isaie, sone of Amos, þat he faȝ vp on Judam and Jerusalem, in þe daȝes of Osie, Joathan, Achaȝ, Ezechie, kingus of Juda.
- ii Hereþ, ȝee heuenus, and wiþ eres parceyue, þou erþe, for þe Lord spac. Sonus I nurshede out and enhauncede; þei forsoþe dispisen. me.

- iii Þe oxe kneȝ his weldere, and þe asse þe cracche of his lord; Israel forsoþe me kneȝ not, and my puple vnderstod not.
- iv Wo to synful folc, to þe puple heuy wiþ wickidnesse, to þe shreude sed, to þe sonus ful of hidous giltes; þei forsoken þe Lord, þei blasphemeden þe hoeli of Israel, þei ben aliened awei bacward.
- v 'Up on what þing I shal synyte ȝou, ferþermor addende lawe breche, 'or trespassing aȝeyns þe lawe? Eche 'hed ful of langour, and eche 'herte ful of mornynge.
- vi Fro þe plante of þe foot vnto þe top, þer is not in hym helþe; wounde, and wannesse, and siknesse swellende is not bounden aboute, ne curid wiþ leching, ne nurshid wiþ oile.
- vii ȝoure lond is desert, ȝoure cites ben brend vp wiþ fyr; ȝoure regioun deuouren biforn ȝou alienus, and it shal be defolat as in enemyful wastete.
- viii And þe doȝter of Sion shal ben forsaken as a shadewy place in a vynēȝerd, and as an hylet in a place of goordes, and as a cite þat is waſtid.
- ix But ȝif þe Lord of oftes hadde laſt to vs sed, as Sodom wee hadden ben, and as Gomorra liȝc wee shulden ben.
- x Hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, ȝee princes of Sodom; and parceyueþ wiþ eres þe lawe of ȝoure God, ȝee puple of Gomorre.
- xi What to me þe multitude of ȝoure flayn sacrifice? seiþ þe Lord. Ful I am; þe brent sacrefises of weþeres, and þe talȝ of fatte bestus, and þe blod of calues, and of lombes, and off goet, I wolde not.
- xii Whan ȝee shulden come biforn my siȝte, who soȝte þese þingus of ȝoure hondis, þat ȝee shulden go in my porches?
- xiii Ne bringe ȝee to more sacrifices in veyn; encens abhominacioun is to me; þe newe moone, and sabot, and oþere festus I shal not bern. Wicke ben ȝoure cumpanyes;
- xiv ȝoure kalendis and ȝoure solempnetees hatede my soule; þei ben mad to me greuous, I trauailede suffrende.
- xv And whan ȝee shul strecche out ȝoure hondis, I shal turne awei myn eȝen fro ȝou; and whan ȝee shul multeplien orisoun, I shal not heren; forsoþe ȝoure hondis ben ful of blod.
- xvi Be ȝee washen, beþ clene; takeþ awei þe euel of ȝoure þoȝtes fro myn eȝen; resteþ to do shreudely, lerneþ to do wel.
- xvii Secheþ dom, helpeþ to þe opreffid, demeþ to þe faderles child, defendeþ þe widewe.
- xviii And comeþ, and vndernemeþ mee, seiþ þe Lord. If ȝoure synnes weren as flaume red filc, as snoȝ þei shuln ben mad white; and if þei weren rede as blod red filc, as whit wle þei shul be.
- xix If ȝee wiln, and shuln heren me, þe goodis of þe erþe ȝee shuln etc.

xx Pat if ȝee wiln not, and me to wraþe ȝee shulden terren, swerd shal deuoure ȝou; for þe mouþ of þe Lord spac.
 xxi What maner is mad a strumpet þe feiþful cite ful of dom? riȝtwisnæsse dwellede in it; now forsoþe mansleeres.
 xxii ȿi syluer is turned in to dros; ȿi wyn is mengd wiþ water.
 xxiii ȿi princes vnfeiþfull, felawes of þeues; alle þei loouen ȝiftus, foletwen ȝeldyngus; to þe faderles child þei demen not, þe caufe of þe widewe goþ not in to þem.
 xxiv For þat, seiþ þe Lord God of oftes, strong of Israel, Allas! I shal be coumfortid vp on my straunge enemys, and I shal be vengid vp on myn enemys, þat shulden be frendis.
 xxv And I shal turne myn hond to þee, and I shal seþen out to þe pure ȿi dros, and I shal taken awei al ȿi tyn.
 xxvi And I shal restoren ȿi domeſmen, as þey were biforn, and ȿi counſeileris, as bi old tyme. Aftir þese þingus þou shalt ben clepid þe cite of þe riȝtwis, þe cheef citee of þe feiþful.
 xxvii Syon in dom shal ben aȝen boȝt, and þei shul bringe it aȝeen in to riȝtwisnæſſe; xxviii and he shal to-trede þe hydous gilteres and þe synneres togidere, and þatt forsoken þe Lord, shul ben diſtroȝid.
 xxix ȿei shul ben confoundid forsoþe of þe maumetes, to þe whiche þei ſacrifieden; and ȝee shuln ben ſhamed vp on þe gardynes, þat ȝee hadden chofen.
 xxx Whan ȝee shul ben as an oek, þe leues fallende doun, and as a gardyn wiþ oute water. xxxi And ȝoure ſtrengþe shal ben as a `deed ſparke of a flax top, and ȝoure werk as a ſparkle; and eipir shal be brend vp togidere, and þer shal not ben þat quenche.

Capitulum II.

i The wrd þat saȝ Isaie, þe fone of Amos, vp on Judam and Jerufalem.
 ii And þer shal be in þe laſte dȝes beforne mad redi þe mount of þe hous of þe Lord in þe cop of mounteynes, and it shal be rered out vp on hillys. And þer shul flowe to it alle Jentilis;
 iii and þer shul go many puples, and feyn, Comeþ, ſteȝ wee vp to þe mount of þe Lord, and to þe hous of God of Jacob; and he shal teche vs his weyes, and wee shul go in his ſties, `or papes. For fro Sion shall go out þe lawe, and þe wrd of þe Lord fro Jerufalem.
 iv And he shal deme Jentiles, and vndernymen many puples; and þei shul bete togidere þeir fwerdes in to ſhares, and þer ſperes in to ſipes; þer shal not rerene folc aȝen folc a ſwerd, ne þei shul ben enhauntid more to bataile.
 v ȝee hous of Jacob, comeþ, and go wee in þe liȝt of þe Lord oure God.

vi Forsoþe þou haſt browen afer þi puple, þe hous of Jacob, for þei ben fulſild as sum tyme; and deuynoures þei hadden, as Filisteis, and to alien childre þei cleueden.

vii Fulſild is þe erþe of ſiluer and gold, and þer is noon ende of þe tresores of it; and fulſild is his lond wiþ hors, and vnnoumbreable þe foure horſid carres of it.
 viii And fulſild is his lond wiþ maumetes, þe werk of þer hondis þei honoureden, þat `þer fingris maden; ix and a man bowede hymſelf, and meekeid is þe ſtronge man. Panne ne forȝyue þou to þem.

x Go in to þe ſton, be þou hid in a dich wiþ erþe, fro þe face of þe dreede of þe Lord, and fro þe glorie of his mageſte.

xi ȿe eȝen of þe heȝe man ben meekeid, and þer shal ben inwardly crookid þe heiȝte of ſtronge men; forſoþe þe Lord alone shal ben enhauncid in þat dai.

xii For þe dai of þe Lord of oftes vp on eche proud man and heeȝ, and vp on eche enhauncende hymſelf, and he shal be mekeid;

xiii and vp on alle þe cedres of Liban heȝe and vpriȝt, and vp on alle þe oekis of Basan, xiv and vp on alle þe heȝe mounteynes, and vp on alle þe `rered vp hilles;

xv and vp on eche heȝ tour, and vp on eche ſtrengþyd wal;

xvi and vp on alle þe ſhipis of Thars, and vp on alle þing þat is fair in ſiȝt.

xvii And þer shal be inwardly bowid al þe heiȝnesse of men, and þer shal be meekeid þe heiȝte of ſtronge men; and þer shal be rered vp þe Lord alone in þat day, xviii and þe maumetes hoelly shul be to-broſid.

xix And þei shul go in to dennes of ſtones, and in to ſwoleweſ of þe erþe, fro þe face of þe dreede of þe Lord, and fro þe glorie of his mageſte, whan he shal rise to ſmyten þe erþe.

xx In þat day shal a man þrowe awey þe maumetes of his ſiluer, and þe ſymulacris of his gold, þat he hadde mad to hym, þat he shulde honoure moldewerpes and reremees.

xi And he shal go in to þe chynes, `or creueſſis, of ſtones, and in to þe dennes of huge ſtones, fro þe face of þe dreede of þe Lord, and fro þe glorie of his mageſte, whan he shal riſen to ſmyte þe erþe.

xii Reſteþ þanne fro a man, whos ſpirit is in his noſe þerles, for heiȝ holden is he.

Capitulum III.

i Loo! forſoþe þe lordſhepere, Lord of oestes, shal do awei fro Jerufalem and fro Juda þe ſtalwrþe, and þe ſtronge, and al þe ſtrengþe of bred, and al þe ſtrengþe of water;

ii þe ſtronge, and þe man fiȝtere, and domeſman, and profete, and deuynour,

iii and þe olde prince vp on fifty, and þe wrshepful in cheere, and counseilor, and wis man of cheef crafty bingus, and þe prudent of priue speche.
 iv And I shal ȝyue childer þe princes of hem, and þe mad wommanysh men shuln lordshipen to þem.
 v And þe puple shal falle, man to man, eche to his neȝhebore; þer shal striue þe child aȝen þe old man, and þe vnnoble aȝen þe noble.
 vi A man forsoþe shal take his broþer, þe homli man of his fadir, and seyn, Cloþing is to þee, oure prince be þou; þis forsoþe falling vnder þin hond.
 vii And he shal answern in þat day, feiende, I am not a leche, and in myn hous is not bred, ne cloþing; wileþ not sette me prince of þe puple.
 viii Ȣer fel doun forsoþe Jerufalem, and Juda fel wiþ; for þe tunge of þem, and þe findingus 'of hem aȝen þe Lord, þat þei shulden terre þe eȝen of his mageste.
 ix Ȣe knowing of þer chere shal answere to þem; and þer synne as Sodom þei precheden, and hidden not. Wo to þe soule of hem, for ȝolden ben to þem eueles.
 x Seiþ to þe riȝtwis, for weel; for þe frute of hys fyndyngus he shal ete.
 xi Wo to þe vnytous man in to euel; ȝelding forsoþe of his hondis shal be do to hym.
 xii My puple his pleteres, 'or wrong axers, spoileden, and wymmen lordshipeden of it. My puple, þat blisful þee seyn, þee þei disceyuen, and þe weie of þi goyngus scateren.
 xiii Ȣe Lord stant to deme, and he stant to þe puples to be demed; xiv Ȣe Lord to þe dom shal come, wiþ þe elderes of his puple, and wiþ his princes. ȝee forsoþe han distroȝed my vyneȝerd; and þe raueyn of þe pore in ȝoure hous.
 xv Whi to-brofe ȝee my puple, and þe faces of pore men ȝee confounden? seiþ Ȣe Lord God of ostes.
 xvi And Ȣe Lord God seide, For þi þat arered ben þe doȝtris of Sion, and þei wenten wiþ straȝt out necke, and in beckes of eȝen ȝiden, and flappeden wiþ hondis for ioe, and ȝiden, and wiþ þer feet in curious goyng ȝiden, xvii Ȣe Lord shal fully maken ballid þe top of þe doȝtris of Syon, and Ȣe Lord þe her of hem shal nakenen; and for ournement shal be shenshiþe.
 xviii In þat dai Ȣe Lord shal don awei þe ournement of fhon, and boces, and beȝes, xix and brooches, and armcercles, and mytris, xx and combys, and ribanes, and 'reuerfes at þe hemmis, and 'oynement boxes, and ere ringus, xxi and ryngus, and iemmes in þe frount hangende, xxii and chaunging cloþis, and litol palles, and shetes, and pynnes, xxiii and sheweres, and 'necke couercheues, and filetes, and roketes.
 xxiv And þer shal be for swote smel stync, and for girdil a litol corde; and for crisp her ballidnesse, and for þe breſt bond an heire.

xxv Alſo þi moſt faire men wiþ ſword shuln falle, and þi ſtronge men in bataile.

xxvi And þei shuln forewen, and weilen shuln hir ȝates; and desolat in þe erþe ſhe shal fitten.

Capitulum III.

i And feuen wymmen shul taken o man in þat dai, ſeiende, Oure bred we shul ete, and wiþ oure cloþis wee shul be couered; onli be inwardly clepid þi name vp on vs, do awei oure repref.

ii In þat dai shal be þe buriouynge of þe Lord in gret doyng and glorie; and frut of þe erþe heeȝ, and ful out ioȝing to þem þat shul be saf of Israel.

iii And it shal be, eche þat shal be laft in Sion, and residue in Jerufalem, hoeli shal be clepid; eche þat is written in lif in Jerufalem.

iv For þe Lord shal washen awey þe filþes of þe doȝtris of Sion, and þe blod of Jerufalem shal waſhen fro þe myddes of it, in ſpirit of dom, and ſpirit of brennende looue.

v And þe Lord broȝte forþ vp on eche place of þe mount of Sion, and wher he is inwardli clepid, a cloude bi dai, and ſmoke, and ſhynynge of fyr flaumende in nyȝt; vp al forsoþe þe glorie ouercoueryng.

vi And a tabernacle shal ben in to a ſhadewe hilet of þe dai, fro brennyng, and in to ſikirneſſe and hiding, from whirlewynd and from reyn.

Capitulum V.

i I shal ſyng to my looued a ſong off 'myn emes fone, of his vyneȝerd. Ȣe vyneȝerd is mad to my looued, in þe horn 'to þe fone of oil.

ii And he heggede it, and ſtones he ches of it, and plaunteade a chosen vyneȝerd; and he bilde vp a tour in þe myddel of it, and a preſſe he rerede vp in it; and he abod, þat it shulde bringe forþ grapes, and it broȝte forþ wilde vynes.

iii Now þanne, ȝee dwelleris of Jerufalem, and men of Juda, demeȝ betwe me and my vyneȝerd.

iv What is þat I awȝte mor to do to my vyneȝerd, and dide not to it? wheþer þat I abod, þat yt shulde bringe forþ grapes, and broȝte forþ wilde vynes?

v And now I shal ſhewen to ȝou, what I shal do to my vyneȝerd. I shal do awei his heg, and it shal be in to deſtruccioun; I shal breke doun his wal, and it shal ben in to 'to-tredyng; vi and I shal fetten it defert. It shal not be kut, and it shal nott be doluen, and þer shul ſteȝe vp vp on it breres and þornes; and to þe cloudis I shal comaunde, þat þei reyne not vp on it weder.

vii Forſoþe þe vyneȝerd of þe Lord of hostes is þe hous of Israel, and þe men of Juda his delytable buriouynge. I abod, þat it shulde do dom, and lo! wickidneſſe; and riȝtwisneſſe, and lo! cry.

viii Wo þat ioynen hous to hous, and feeld to feeld coupleþ, vn to þe terme of a place. Wheþer dwellen ȝee shuln alone in þe myddel of þe erþe?

ix In myn eres ben þese þingus, seip þe Lord of ostes; but ȝif manye houses grete and faire shul be desert, and wiboute dwellere.

x Forsoþe ten acris of vyneȝerdis shul maken o potell wyn, and þretti buſheles of fed shul make þre buſheles.

xi Wo þat risen erly to drunkenhed to be folewid, and to drinken vn to euen, þat wiþ wyn ȝee brenne.

xii Harpe, and fyngende instrument, and tymbre, and trumpe, and wyn in ȝoure festes; and þe werk of þe Lord ȝee biholden not, ne þe werkes of his hondis ȝee waiten.

xiii Perfor lad caitif is my puple, þat hadde not kunnynge; and his noble men dieden þurȝ hunger, and his multitude þurȝ þirst al out driede.

xiv Perfore helle spredde abrod his soule, and openede his mouþ wiþ oute any terme; and þer shul falle doun his stronge men, and his puple, and heeȝe, and his gloriouse to it.

xv And þer shal be ful crookid a man, and meekid a strong man; and þe eȝen of 'heȝe men shul be þrest doun.

xvi And þer shal be enhauncid þe Lord of ostes in dom, and þe hoeli God shal be halewid in riȝtwisnesse.

xvii And lombis shul be fed aftir þer order, and desertes in to plente turned comelingus shul ete.

xviii Wo þat drawen wickidnesse in þe little cordes of vanyte, and as þe bond of a wayn synne;

xix þat seyn, Heeȝe, 'or haaste, he, and soone come his werk, þat wee see; and neȝhe, and come þe counsel of þe hoeli of Israel, and wee shul witen it.

xx Wo þat seyn euel good, and good euel; puttende derknesses liȝt, and liȝt derknesses; puttende bitter in to swete, and sweete in to bitter.

xxi Wo þat wise ben in ȝoure eȝen, and bifor ȝouself fleeȝe.

xxii Wo þat myȝty ben to drinke wyn, and stronge men to be mengd drunkynhed;

xxiii þat iulstefien þe vnpitouſ for ȝiftes, and þe riȝtwisnesse of þe riȝtwyse ȝee taken awey fro hym.

xxiv For þat, as deuoureþ þe tunge of fyr stobil, and þe hete of flaumme brenneþ out, so þe roote of hem as a gnaſt shal be, and þe buriownyng of hem as pouder shal steȝe vp; forsoþe þei caſten awei þe lawe of þe Lord of ostes, and þe speche of þe hoeli of Israel þei blasfemeden.

xxv Perfor wraþede þe wodnæſſe of þe Lord in his puple, and straȝte out his hond vp on it, and smot it; and þe mounteynes ben disturbid, and mad ben þe 'deed carens of hem as drit in þe myddel of ȝtretes. In alle þese þingus is not turned awei his wodnæſſe, but ȝit his hond straȝt out.

xxvi And he shal rere vp a signe in naciouns aferr, and he shall whistle to hym fro þe coeftes of þe erþe; and lo! haſtid he shal come swiftli.

xxvii Þer is not failing ne traualyng in hym; he shal not nappen, ne ſlepen, ne shal ben loofid þe girdil of his renes, ne shal be to-broke þe þwong of his ſhoȝyng.

xxviii His arwis þharpe, and alle his bowes bent; þe cles of þe horses of hym as flynt, and his wheles as þe byre of tempeſt.

xxix His roring as off a leoun; he shal roren as þe whelpis of leouns; he shal gnaſten, and holden þe prei, and biclippen, and þer shal not be, þat delyuere out.

xxx And þer shal fowne vp on hym in þat day, as þe soun of þe ſe; wee shul biholde in to þe erþe, and lo! derknesses of tribulacioun, and liȝt al to-derked is in þe derknyng of hym.

Capitulum VI.

i In þe ȝer 'in which diede king Osias, I faȝ þe Lord fittende vp on an heiȝ ſete, and rered vp; and ful was þe hous of his mageſte, and þo þingus þat vnder hym weren, fulſilden þe temple.

ii Serafy ftoden vp on it, fixe wenges to þe oon, and fixe to þe oþer; wiþ two þey couereden þe face of hym, and wiþ two þei couereden þe feet of hym, and wiþ two þei flown.

iii And þei crieden þe toþer to þe toþer, and feiden, Hoeli, hoeli, hoeli, Lord God of ostes; ful is al þe erþe of þe glorie of hym.

iv And to-moued ben þe þreſholdes of þe heenglis fro þe vois of þe criende, and þe hous fullſild is wiþ smoke.

v And I feide, Wo to me, for I heeld my pes; for a man defoulid in lippis I am, and in þe myddel of þe puple defoulid lippes hauende I dwelle, and þe king Lord of ostes I faȝ wiþ myn eȝen.

vi And þer fleiȝ to me oon of þe serafyn, and in his hond a cole, þat wiþ þe toenge he toc fro þe auter.

vii And he touchede my mouþ, and feide, Lo! I haue touchid wiþ þis þi lippes, and þer shal be don awei þi wickydnesse, and þi synne shal be clensid.

viii And I herde þe vois of þe Lord, seiende, Whom shal I fende, and who shal go to ȝou? And I feide, Lo! I am; send me.

ix And he feide, Go, and þou shalt sey to þis puple, Hereþ herende, and wileþ not vnderſtonde; and ſeeþ a viſeoun, and wileþ not knownen.

x Blynde out þe herte of þis puple, and his eres agregge, and his eȝen cloſe; leſt par auenture he ſee wiþ his eȝen, and wiþ his eres here, and wiþ his herte vndyrſtonde, and be conuertid, and I hele hym.

xi And I feyde, Hou longe, Lord? And he feide, To þe tyme þat ben desolat þe citees wiþ oute dwellere, and houses wiþ oute man. And þe lond shal be laſt desert, xii and aferr shal make þe Lord men. And þer shal be multeplied þat was laft in þe myddel of þe erþe, xiii and ȝit in it tiþing; and it shal be conuertid, and it shal be in to shewyng as a terebynt, and as an oek, þat spredeth out his braunches; hoely sed it shal ben, þat þat shal stonden in it.

Capitulum VII.

i And it is don in þe daȝes of Achaz, sone of Joathan, sone of Osie, king of Juda, þer steȝede vp Rafyn, king of Cyrie, and Fascee, þe sone of Romelie, king of Israel, in to Jerusalem, to fiȝte aȝen hym; and þei myȝte not ouercome it.

ii And þei tolden to þe hous of Dauid, seiende, Siria restede vp on Effraym, and to-moued is his herte and þe herte of his puple, as ben moued þe trees of wodis fro þe face of þe wynd.

iii And þe Lord seide to Isaie, Go out in to aȝencomyng of Achaz, þou, and þat is laft, Jasub, þi sone, to þe ende of þe water condute of þe ouere pond, in þe weie of þe feeld of þe fullere.

iv And þou shalt sey to hym, See, þat þou holde þi pes; wile þou not dreden, and þin herte be not ferd of þe two tailes of þese smokende fyr brondis in to þe wraþe of þe wodnesse, of Rafyn, king of Sirie, and sone of Romelie.

v For þi þat euel counseil he wente in aȝen þee, Ciria, and Effraym, and þe sone of Romelye, seiende, vi Steȝe wee vp to Judam, and rere wee hym, and pulle wee hym vp to vs; and putte wee a king in his myddel, þe sone of Thabel.

vii Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord God, Þis shal not be, and shal not stonde; viii but þe hed of Sirie Damasch, and þe hed of Damasch Rafyn; and ȝit sixti and fyue ȝer, and Effraym shal cese to ben a puple;

ix and þe hed of Effraym Samarie, and þe hed of Samarie, þe sone of Romelie. If ȝee shul not leeuen, ȝee shul not abide stytte.

x And þe Lord leide to to speke to Achaz, seyende, xi Aske to þee a tokne fro þe Lord þi God, in to þe deppe of helle, or in to heiȝte aboue.

xii And Achaz seide, I shal not aske, and I shal not tempte þe Lord.

xiii And he seyde, Hereþ þanne, ȝee þe hous of Dauid; wheþer litil to ȝou is to ben greuous to men, for ȝee ben greuous and to my God?

xiv For þat he þe Lord shal ȝyue to ȝou a tocne. Lo! a mayde shal conceyue, and bern a sone; and þou shalt clepe his name Emanuel.

xv Butter and hony he shal ete, þat he kunne repreuen euel, and chesen good.

xvi For er þe child kunne repreuen euel, and chesen good, þe lond shal be forsaken, þe whiche þou haft abhominacioun of, fro þe face of þer two kingus.

xvii þe Lord shal bringe to vp on þee, and vp on þi puple, and vp on þe hous of þi fader, daȝes þat camen not fro þe daȝes of þe feueryng of Effraym fro Juda, wiþ þe king of Assiries.

xviii And it shal be, in þat day þe Lord shal whistle to þe fleȝe, þat is in þe vtmostes of þe flodus of Egipt; and to þe bee, þat is in þe lond of Assur;

xix and þei alle shuln come, and resten in þe stremes of valeys, and caues of stones, and in alle busshi places, and in alle holis.

xx In þat dai þe Lord shal shauen in a sharp rasour in hem, þat beȝunde þe flood ben, in þe king of Assiries, hed, and þe heres of feet, and eche berd.

xxi And it shal be, in þat day a man shal nurshen a cow of oxen, and two sheep, xxii and for plente of mylc he shal eten butter; butter and hony shal ȝete eche man, þat shal be laft in þe myddel of þe lond.

xxiii And it shal be, in þat day eche place wher shul be a poufend vynes for a poufend syluer penys, and in to þornes and in to breres þey shul be,

xxiv wiþ arwes and bowe þei shul go in þider; forsoþe breres and þornes shul be in al þe lond.

xxv And alle hilles þat in a wode bil shul be purgid, 'or kytt off, þer shal not come þider ferd of þornes and of breres; and it shal be in to oxe leswe, and in treding of feld beste.

Capitulum VIII.

i And þe Lord seide to me, Tac to þee a gret boc, and writ in it wiþ þe poyntel of a man, Swiftli spoiles tac awey, foone refe.

ii And I toc to me feijful witnesse, Vrie, þe prest, and Sacharie, þe sone of Barachie.

iii And I wente to a prophetesse; and she conceyued, and bar a sone. And þe Lord seide to me, Clep his name Haste þou spoiles to tac awey, heeȝe þou to refen.

iv For er þe child kunne clepe his fader and his moder, shal be taken awei þe strengþe of Damasch, and þe spoiles of Samarie, bifor þe king of Assiries.

v And þe Lord leide to to speke to me, seiende, vi For þi þat þis puple haþ cast awey þe wattris of Siloe, þat gon wiþ cilence, and more toc to Rafyne, and þe sone of Romelie, vii for þat lo! þe Lord shal bringe to vp on hem wattris of þe flod stronge and manye, þe king of Assiries, and al þe glorie of him; and he shal steȝen vp vp on alle his ryueres, and flowen vp on alle his stremes.

viii And he shal gon þurȝ Judam flowende, and passende 'vn to þe necke he shal come; and þer shal be þe spredyng out of his wenges, fulfillende þe breede of þi lond, O! Emanuel.

ix Beþ gedered, ȝee puples, and beþ bounde togidere; and hereþ, alle ȝee londis aferr. Beþ coumfortid, and be ȝee ouercomen; `girdeþ ȝou, and beþ ouercomen; x goþ in counseil, and it shal be scattered; spekeþ a wrd, and it shal not be do, for wiþ vs is God.
 xi Peſe þingus forſoþe feiþ þe Lord to me, as in a strong hond he taȝte me, leſt I shulde go in to þe weie of þis puple, ſeiende, xii Seiþ not, Coniuracioun, alle þingis forſoþe þat ſpekeþ þis puple is coniuracioun; and his drede ne drede ȝee, ne takiþ ferd.
 xiii þe Lord of hostes him halewiþ, and he ȝoure inward drede, and he ȝoure outward drede;
 xiv and he shal be to ȝou in to halewing; in to a fton forſoþe of offencioun, and in to a fton of ſclaundar, to be two houses of Israel; and in to a grene, and in to falling, to men dwellende Jeruſalem.
 xv And manye of hem shul offenden, and fallen, and ben to-broſid, and grened, and ben taken.
 xvi Bind þe witneſſing, marke þe lawe in my diſciples.
 xvii I ſhal abide þe Lord, þat hidde his face fro þe hous of Jacob, and I ſhal ſechen hym.
 xviii Lo! I and my childer, whom ȝaf to me þe Lord in to tocne, and in to wunder to Israel, fro þe Lord of oſtes þat dwelleþ in þe hil of Sion.
 xix And whan þei shul ſey to ȝou, Secheþ of deuel cleperes, and of deuynoures, þat ſounen ſtrongli in þeir chauntingus, wheþir not a puple of his God ſhal ſeche a viſeoun for þe quyke and þe deade?
 xx To þe lawe more and to þi witneſſing, þat if þei `ſchul not ſei aftir þis wrd, ſhal not be to þem morutid liȝt.
 xxi And he ſhal paſſe þurȝ it, and it ſhal falle, and hungre. `And when it ſhal hongre, it ſhal wrapen, and curſen to his kyng and to his God, and it ſhal beholden vp.
 xxii And to þe lond it ſhal loken, and lo! tribulacioun, and dercneſſes, `and vnbýndyng, and anguyſh, and derk myſt purſuende; and it ſhal not moun flee awei fro his anguyſh.

Capitulum IX.

i The firſte tyme is aleggid, `or maad liȝt, þe lond of Zabulon and þe lond of Neptalym; and þe laſte tyme aggreggid is þe weie of þe ſe beȝunde Jordan of Galilee of Jentiles.
 ii þe puple þat wente in derkneſſes faȝ a gret liȝt; to þe men dwellende in þe regioune of þe ſhadewe of deþ, liȝt ſprungen is to þem.
 iii þou haſt multeplied þe folc of kinde, not magnefiediſt gladneſſe; þei shul glade bifor þee, as þei þat gladen in rip, as ful out ioȝen ouercomeres, þe prey taken, whan þei deuyden ſpoiles.

ivi þe ȝoc forſoþe of his charge, and þe ȝerde of his shulder, and þe kingus power of his `wrong asker þou ouercame, as in þe dai of Madian.
 v For eche violent reuyng wiþ noife, and cloping mengd wiþ blod ſhal be in to brennyng, and mete of fyri.
 vi A litil child forſoþe is born to vs, and a ſone is ȝoue to vs, and mad is princehed vp on his shulder; and his name ſhal be clepid Merueilous, Counſeiler, God, Strong, Fadir of þe world to come, Prince of pes.
 vii His empire ſhal be multeplied, and of pes þer ſhal not ben ende; vp on þe ſee of Dauid, and vpon his regne he ſhal ſitte, þat he conferme it, and ſtrengþe in dom and riȝtwyſſeneſſe, fro now and unto wiþoute ende. þe huge looue of þe Lord of oſtes ſhal don þis.
 viii A wrd þe Lord ſente in to Jacob, and it fel in Israel.
 ix And al þe puple of Effraym ſhal wite, and þe men dwellende Samarie, in pride and gretnesse `of herte ſeiende, x Sclates fallen, but wiþ ſquare ſtones wee shul bilden vp; ſicomore trees þei hewen doun, but ceder trees wee shul newen, `or chaungen.
 xi And þe Lord ſhal rerен enemys Rafyn vpon hym, and his enemys in to noife he ſhal turne, xii Cirie fro þe eſt, and Filisteyn fro þe weſt; and þei shul deouore Israel wiþ al þe mouȝ. In alle þes þingus is not turned awei þe wodneſſe of hym, but ȝit his hond ſtraȝt out;
 xiii and þe puple is not turned aȝeen to þe ſmytende hym, and þe Lord of oſtes þei inwardlyche ſoȝten not.
 xiv And þe Lord ſhal ſcatere fro Israel þe hed and þe tail, þe inbowende and þe ſhrewende, in o day.
 xv þe longe lyuende and þe wrſhepefull, he is þe hed, and þe profete techende leſyng, he is þe tail.
 xvi And þei shul be, þat maken bliſful þis puple, bigilende; and þat ben mad bliſful, þrowe doun.
 xvii For þat vp on þe ȝunge waxen men of hym þe Lord ſhal not deliten, and of his faderles childer and widewis he ſhal not han mercy; for eche ipocrite is and a ſhrewē, and eche mouȝ ſpac folie. In alle þes þingus is not turned awei his wodneſſe, but ȝit his hond ſtraȝt out.
 xviii and þe puple is not turned aȝeen to þe ſmytende hym. Tend vp is forſoþe as fyri vnpitouſneſſe; þoo breres and þe borne it ſhal deouore, and it ſhal be brend vp in þe pickenes of þe wilde wode, and it ſhal be al towrappid in þe pride of þe ſmoke.
 xix In þe wraþe of þe Lord of oſtes al diſturbid ſhal be þe lond, and þe puple ſhal be as þe mete of fyri; a man to his broþer ſhal not ſpare.
 xx And he ſhal bowe doun to þe riȝt, and hungren, and he ſhal ete at þe lift, and not be fulſild; eche þe flesh of his arm ſhal deouore.
 xxi Manaffes Effraym, and Effraym Manaffes, and togidere þei aȝen Judam. In alle þeſe þyngus is not turned awei his wodneſſe, but ȝit his hond ſtraȝt out.

Capitulum X.

- i Wo þat maken shreude lawes, and wrytende vnriȝtwisnesse writen,
- ii þat bei oppresseden in dom pore men, and violence diden to þe caufe of meke men of my puple; þat widewes were þe prei of hem, and faderles childer þei deftrozededen.
- iii What shul ȝee do in þe day off visiting, and of wreccidnesse fro a ferr comende? To whos helpe shul ȝee flee? and wher shul ȝee lefe ȝoure glorie,
- iv ȝest ȝee bowid vnder bond, and wiþ flayn men falleþ? Vp on alle þese þingus is not turned awei his wodnesse, but ȝit his hond straȝt out.
- v Wo to Assur, þe ȝerde of my wodnesse, and a staf he is; in þe hond of hem, myn indignacioun.
- vi To a folc gilefum I shal fenden hym, and aȝen þe puple of my wodnesse I shal bidde to hym; þat he take awei spoiles, and deuyde prey, and poote it in to tredyng, as þe cley of stretes.
- vii He forsoþe not so shal demen, and his herte not so shal eymen, but to 'to-treden shal ben his herte, and to fleyng of folc not fewe.
- viii Forsoþe he shal sey, Wheþer not my princes togidere kingis ben?
- ix Wheþir not as Karchamys, so Chalanno; and as Arfath, so Emath? wheþir not as Damasch, so Samarie?
- x What maner myn hond fond þe reumes of mawmet, so and þe symulacris of hem of Jerusalēm and of Samarie.
- xi Wheþir not as I dide to Samarie, and his maumetes, so I shal do to Jerusalēm, and his symulacris?
- xii And it shal be, whan þe Lord shall fulfelle alle his werkis in þe mount of Sion and in Jerusalēm, I shal visite vp on 'þe fruyt of þe gret doende herte of þe king of Assur, and vp on þe glorie of þe heiȝte of his eȝen.
- xiii Forsoþe he seide, In þe strengþe of myn hond I dide, and in my wiðdam I vnderstod; and I toc awei þe termes of puples, and þe princes of þem I robbede, and I droȝt awey as myȝti þe fittende men in heeȝ.
- xiv And myn hond fond as a nest þe strengþe of puples, and as ben gedered eren þat ben laft, so al þe lond I gederede; and þer was not þat mouede a federe, and openede mouȝt, and berkyd.
- xv Wheþir shal glorien þe ax aȝen hym þat hewiȝt in it? or shal ben enhauncid þe sawe aȝen hym of whom it is drawen? what maner wife if be rered a ȝerde aȝen þe rerende it, and be hauncyd a staf, þat forsoþe is a tree.
- xvi For þat shal sende þe lordshepere, Lord of oþtes, in his fatte þyngus þynnesse, and vnder his glorie 'brend shal brenne as brennyng of fyr.
- xvii And þer shal be þe liȝt of Israel in fyr, and his hoeli in flaume; and shal be bren out and deououred his þorn and breres in o day.

xviii And þe glorie of his wilde wode and of his Carmel, fro þe soule vn to þe flesh he shall be waſtid; and he shal be for ferd ferr fleende.

xix And þe releef of þe wode of þe wilde wode for fewenesse shul be noumbred, and a child shal write þem.

xx And it shal be in þat dai, shal not ley to þe remnaunt of Israel, and þese þat shul flee fro þe hous of Jacob, to leuen vp on hym þat smytiȝ hem; but it shal leue vp on þe Lord, hoeli of Israel, in treuþe.

xxi þe remnaunt shul be conuertid, þe remnaunt forsoþe of Jacob, to þe stronge Lord.

xxii If forsoþe shul ben þi puple, Israel, as þe grauel of þe se, þe remnaunt shul be conuertyd of it; ending abreggid shal flowe riȝtwisnesse.

xxiii Ending forsoþe and abreggyng þe Lord God of oþtes shal make in þe myddel of al erþe.

xxiv For þat þese þingus seiȝ þe Lord God of oþtes, Wile þou not drede, my puple, dwellere of Sion, of Assur, in a ȝerde forsoþe he shal smyte þee, and his staf he shal reren vp on þee in þe weie of Egipt.

xxv ȝit forsoþe a litil while, and a litil, and shal be ful endid myn indignacioun and myn wodnesse vp on þe hidous gilte of hem.

xxvi And þe Lord of oþtes shal reren 'vp on it a scourge aftir þe veniaunce of Madyan in þe ston of Oreb, and his ȝerde vp on þe se; and he shal reren it þe weie of Egipt.

xxvii And it shal be in þat dai, shal be don awey his berþene fro þi shulder, and his ȝoc fro þi necke; and þe ȝoc shal waxen al roten fro þe face of oile.

xxviii It shal come in Ayot, it shal passe in Magron, anent Magmas it shal commende his vesseles.

xxix Pei wenten a cours, Gaba oure feete, Rama 'was stonyed, Gaba of Saul fleiȝ.

xxx Neȝe wiþ þi vois, þou doȝter of Galyn; tac heed, Laisa, þou porelet Anathot.

xxxi Wente forþ Medemena; ȝee dwelleris of Jebyn, takeþ coumfort.

xxxii ȝit dai is, þat in Nobe me stonde; he shal shake his hond vpon þe mount of þe doȝter of Sion, hil of Jerusalēm.

xxxiii Lo! þe lordshepere, Lord of oþtes, shal tobreke þe litil wyn vessele in ferd, and þe heeȝe men in stature shul ben hewe doun. And þe ful heeȝe shul be lowed, xxxiv and þe picke þingus of þe wilde wode shul ben turned vpsodoun wiþ iren; and Liban wiþ heeȝe þing shall falle.

Capitulum XI.

i And þer shal gon out a ȝerde fro þe roote of Jesse, and a flour of his roote shal steȝen vp.

ii And þer shal resten vp on hym þe Spirit of þe Lord, spirit of wiðdam and of vnderstanding, spirit of counseil and of strengþe, spirit of kunning and of pite;

iii and shal fulfille hym þe spirit of drede of þe Lord.
 Not aftir þe seyng of eȝen he shal deme, ne after þe heering of eres he shal vndernyme; iii but he shal deme in riȝtwisnesse pore men, and vndernymen in equyte, for þe debonere of þe erþe.
 And he shal smyte þe erþe wiþ þe ȝerde of his mouȝ, and wiþ þe spirit of his mouȝ he shal sle þe vnpitouȝ.
 v And þer shal be riȝtwisnesse þe litil girdil of his lenes, and feiþ þe girdil of his reenes.
 vi Ȣer shal dwelle þe wlf wiþ þe lome, and þe parde wiþ þe kide shal leyn; þe calf, and þe leoun, and þe sheep togidere shul dwelle, and a lytil child shal dryue þem.
 vii Ȣe calf and þe bere shul be fed togidere; þer shul resten þe whelpus of hem, and a leoun as an oxe shal ete chaf.
 viii And þe faunt, `or a soukande childe, shal deliten of þe tete vp on þe hole of þe eddere, and in þe caue of þe kokatrice þat shal be taken awei fro sok, `or wenyd, he shal putte his hond.
 ix Ȣei shuln not noȝen, and Ȣei shuln not fleyin in al myn hoeli mounteyn; for fulfild is þe erþe of þe kunnyng of þe Lord, as þe watir of þe se couerende.
 x In þat dai þe roote of Jesse, þat stant in to tocne of puples; hym Jentiles shuln louli preȝen, and shal be þe sepulcre of hym glorious.
 xi And it shal be in þat dai, þe Lord þe secunde tyme shal ley to his hond to welde þe residue of his puple þat shal be lafte, of þe Affries, and of Egipt, and of Fecros, and of Etheope, and of Elan, and of Sennar, and of Emath, and of þe illis of þe se.
 xii And he shal reran a tocne in to naciouns, and gedere togidere þe ferr floun of Israel; and þe to-scatered of Juda he shal gedere fro þe foure coestes of þe erþe.
 xiii And þer shal be taken awey þe enuye of Effraym, and þe enimys of Juda shul pershe; Effraym shal not enuyen Judam, and Juda shal not fiȝte aȝen Effraym.
 xiv And Ȣei shul flee in to þe shuldres of Filisteys, bi þe fe togidere Ȣei shul robbe þe sonus of þe est; Ydume and Moab þe heste of þe hond of hem, and þe sonus of Amon obeisaunt shul be.
 xv And þe Lord shal make desolat þe tunge of þe le of Egipt, and he shal rere his hond vpon þe flod in þe strengþe of his spirit; and he shal smyte hym in seuene ryueres, so þat Ȣei passe þurȝ hym shod men.
 xvi And þer shal be a weye to my residue puple þat shal be lafte, of þe Affries, as was to Israel, in þe dai þat he steȝede vp from þe lond of Egipt.

Capitulum XII.

i And þou shalt sei in þat day, I shal knouleche to þee, Lord, for wroþ þou art to me; turned is þi wodnesse, and þou coumfortedest mee.

ii Loo! God my saueour, feiþfulli I shal do, and not drede. For my strengþe and my preising þe Lord, and he is mad to me in to helpe.
 iii ȝee shul drawe watriȝ in ioȝe of þe welles of þe saueour.
 iii And ȝee shul seyn in þat dai, Knoulecheþ to þe Lord, and inwardly clepiþ his name; knownen make ȝee in puples þe findingus of hym; haþ mynde, for heeȝ is his name.
 v Syngeþ to þe Lord, for gret doendely he dide; telleþ out þis in al þe erþe.
 vi Ful out ioȝe, and preise, þou dwelling of Sion; for gret in þe myddel of þee þe hoeli of Israel.

Capitulum XIII.

i The charge of Babilon, þat faȝ Isaie, þe sone of Amos.
 ii Vp on a mysti mounteyn rereþ vp a tokne, and enhaunceþ out þe vois; rereþ þe hond, and gon in to þe ȝates þe dukes.
 iii I comaundide to myn halewid men, and I clepede my stronge men in my wraþe, ful out ioȝende in my glorie.
 iii þe vois of þe multitude in mounteynes, as of besy puples; þe vois of þe soun of kingus, and of Jentilis gedered to gidere. þe Lord of ostes comaundide to þe knyȝthod of þe bataile, v to þe men comende fro þe lond aferr. Fro þe ouermost of heuene þe Lord, and þe vesselles of his wodnesse, þat he scatere al þe erþe.
 vi ȝelleþ, for neeȝ is þe dai of þe Lord; as wastite fro þe Lord shal come.
 vii For þat alle hondis shul be vnloofid, and eche herte of a man shal wane, `or faylen, and ben to-broȝid.
 viii Tormentingus and forewes Ȣei shul holde; as wymmen trauailende of child, Ȣei shul forewen. Eche to his neȝhebore shall stonȝe; brent faces þe cheeres
 of hem.
 ix Loo! þe day of þe Lord shal come, cruel, and of indignacioun ful, and of wraþe, and of wodnesse; to be put þe erþe in to wilderneſſe, and his synneres to ben al tobroȝid of it.
 x For þe sterres of heuene and þe shynynge of hem shul not spreden out per liȝt; al to-derkned is þe funne in his rising, and þe moone shal not shyne in his lyȝt.
 xi I shal visiȝt `yp on þe eueles of worlde, and aȝen þe vnpitouse þe wickidnesse of þem; and to resten I shal maken þe pride of þe vnfeiþful men, and þe proude hauncyng of stronge men I shal meeken.
 xii More precious a ful man shal be þan gold, and a man þan clene most shynende gold.
 xiii Vp on þis heuene I shal disturben, and shal be moued þe erþe fro his place; for þe indignacioun of þe Lord of ostes, and for þe dai of þe wraþe of his wodnesse.

xivii And he shal ben as a foun fleende, and as a sheep, and þer shal not be þat gedere; eche to his purple shal be turned, and a rowe to þer lond þei shul flee.
xv Eche þat were founde, shal be flayn; and eche þat ouer shal come, shal falle in swerd.
xvi Pe fautes of hem shul ben hurtlid doun in þer ezen; to-broke doun shul be þe houses of hem, and þe wyues of þem shul be defoulyd.
xvii Loo! I shal reran vp on hem Medos, þat siluer sechen not, ne gold wiln; xviii but wiþ arwis þe little childer þei shulflen, and to þe wombis ȝyuende souke þei shul not han mercy, and vp on þe sones shal not spare þe eȝe of hem.
xix And þat cite, Babilon, shal be glorious in rewmes, noble in pride of Chaldeis, turned, as God turned vp so doun Sodom and Gomorr.
xx It shal not be dwellid vn to þe ende, and shal not be foundid vnto þe ieneracioun and ieneracioun; ne shal sette þere tente a man of Arab, ne shepperdes shul reste þere.
xxi But shul reste þere bestes, and shul be fulfild þe houses of þem wiþ dragownes; and þer shul dwelle þere ostriches, and wodewoses shul lepe þere.
xxii And þer shul answern þere ȝellende foules in þe houses of it, and wengid edderes in wasshing maumet templis of foul delit.

Capitulum XIII.

i Neeȝ is þat come þe tyme of hym, and his daȝes shul not be longid; shal han rewþe forsoþe þe Lord of Jacob, and cheeſe ȝit of Israel, and to reſten hem he shal make vp on þer erþe; 'shal be ioyned to a comeling to þem, and cleue to þe hous of Jacob.
ii And shuln holden hem puples, and bringe þem in to þer place. And shal welden hem þe hous of Israel vp on þe lond of þe Lord in to þralles and þralleſſes; and þei shul be takende hem þat hem hadden taken, 'and ſugeten þer caſteres out.
iii And þer shal be in þat dai, whan reſte shal ȝyue to þee God fro þi trauaile, and fro þin hurting, and fro þin harde feruage, þat þou beforne feruedist, iv þou shalt take bis parable aȝen þe king of Babiloyne, and seyn, What manere cefede þe 'wrongs asker, reſtede þe tribute?
v Pe Lord to-broſede þe ſtaf of vnpitouſ men, þe ȝerde of lordſhipende men, vi betende puples in indignacioun, wiþ an vnheleable plague, þe ſogetende in wodnes þe folkes of kynde, and þe purſuende cruelly.
vii Togidere reſtede, and was ſtille al erþe; ioȝede, and ful out gladeſe.
viii Fyrre trees alſo gladeſen vp on þee, and þe cedris of Liban; ſiþen þou ſleptest, þer ſteȝede not vp þat heewe vs doun.

ix Helle vndere þee is diſturbid in to þe aȝen comyng of þi comyng; it shal rere to þee icaunteſ; alle þe princes of þe erþe þer riſen fro þer fetes, alle þe princes of nacioüns. x Alle shuln anſwern, and ſeyn to þee, And þou art woundid as and wee, lic vs þou art mad.
xi Drawe doun is to helle þi pride, he to-hewȝ þi careyn; vnder þee ſtrouwed 'ſhal be a moȝte, and þi coueryng shal be wermes.
xii Hou felle þou, Lucyfer, fro heuene, þe whiche erli ſprunge; þou felle in to þe erþe, þat woundedeſt þe folkes of kynde.
xiii þat ſeideſt in þin herte, In to heuene I ſhal ſteȝen vp, vp on þe sterres of heuene I ſhal enhaunce my fee; I ſhal ſitte in þe hil of testament, in þe fides of þe norþ.
xiv I ſhal ſteȝen vp vp on þe heiȝte of cloudis; lic I ſhal be to þe heȝest.
xv Nerpelatere to helle þou ſhalt be drawe doun, in to þe depþe of þe lake.
xvi þat þee shul fee, to þee shul be bowid, and þee shuln aferr bihold. Wheþer þis is þe man, þat diſturbide þe erþe, þat ſimot togidere rewmes?
xvii þat putte þe world deſert, and his grete cites diſtroȝede, to his gyuede openede not þe prisoun?
xviii Alle þe kingus of Jentilis, eche ſlepten in glorie, eche in his hous.
xix Pou forſoþe art caſt aferr fro þi ſepulcre, as a ſtoc vnprefitable, as wiþ quyture defoulid; and aboute wrappid wiþ hem þat ben ſlayn wiþ ſwerd, and wenten doun to þe foundement of þe lake. As a ſtynkende careyn, xx þou ſhalt not han felafſhepe, ne wiþ hem in biriying þou ſhalt be, þou forſoþe þi lond diſtroȝedift, þou þe purple floow; eþer shal not be clepid into wiþoute ende þe ſed of þe werſte men.
xi 'Greipe ȝe his ſones to flaȝter, for þe wickidneſſe of þer fadris; þei shul not togidere riſe, ne eritagen þe erþe, ne fulſiſle þe face of þe roundneſſe of þe cite.
xxii And I ſhal wiþ riſe vp on hem, ſeip þe Lord of oſtes, and I ſhal deſtroȝe Babyloynes name, and reliques, and progenye, and buriouning, ſeip þe Lord.
xxiii I ſhal putte it in to þe poſſeſſion of an irchoun, and in to myres of watres; and I ſhal ſweepen it in a beſme, treding, ſeip þe Lord of oſtes.
xxiv þe Lord of oſtus ſwoor, ſeiende, If not as I wende, ſo shal be, and hou in mynde I tredeſe, ſo shal come?
xxv þat I al to-broſe Affirie in my lond, in my mounteynes to-trede it; and þer shal be take awey fro hem his ȝok, and his berpene fro þe thulder of þem shal be don awey.
xxvi þis þe counſeyl þat I þoȝte vpon al erþe, and þis is þe hond ſtraȝt out vpon alle Jentiles.
xxvii Pe Lord forſoþe of oſtes demede, and who ſhal moun vnaſtnen? and his hond ſtraȝt out, and who ſhal turne awey it?

xxviii Pe charge of Filisteym. In þe ȝer þat diede king Achaz, don is þis charge.

xxix Ne glade þou, al Filistee, for to-mynusht is þe ȝerde of þi smytere; of þe roote forsoþe of þe shadewe eddere shal gon out a kocatrice, and his sed soupende awei a foul.

xxx And þer shul be fed þe first gotten of pore men, and pore men trostly shul resten; and to dien I shal make in hunger þi roote, and þi relikes I shal slen.

xxxi ȝelle, þou ȝate; crie, þou cite; þrowe doun is eche Filiste; fro þe norþ forsoþe smoke shal come, and þer is not þat flee out of his kumpanye.

xxxii And what shal ben answerd to þe messageres of þe folc of kinde? for þe Lord foundede Sion, and in hym shuln hopen þe pore men of his puple.

Capitulum XV.

i The charge of Moab. For in nyȝt waftid is Ar, Moab heeld his pes; for in þe nyȝt waftid is þe wal, Moab heeld his pes.

ii Per stede vp þe hous, and Debon to heeȝe þingus, in to weiling; vpon Nabo, and vp on Medaba Moab shal ȝellen. In alle his hedys ballidnesse, and eche berd shal be shawe.

iii In his þre weied places þei ben gird wiþ a fac, vp on his rooues and in his stretes al weiling; he shal go doun in to weypng.

iv Per shal crie Esebon and Eleale, vn to Jafa herd is þe vois of hem; vpon þis þe redi men of Moab shul ȝelle, his soule shal ȝelle to itself.

v Myn herte to Moab shal crien, his bareres vnto Segor, a she calf al þrowende doun. Bi þe stede vp forsoþe of Luyth wepende he shal stede vp, and in þe weie of Oronaym þe cri of contricioun þei shul rere.

vi Pe watriis forsoþe of Nemrym shul ben desert; for drieðe 'pe erbe, failede þe buriounyng, eche grenenesse diede.

vii Aftir þe mykilnesse of werk, and þe visiting of hem, to þe streme of wiþies þei shul ledien hem.

viii For 'cri cumpasidé þe terme of Moab; vnto Galym his ȝelling, and vnto þe pit of Elym his cry.

ix For þe watriis of Dibon ben fulfill wiþ blod; forsoþe I shal putte vpon Dibon ecchingus, to þem þat shul fleen of Moab a leoun, and to þe relikis of þe lond.

Capitulum XVI.

i Send out, 'Lord, þe lomb, lordshipere of þe erþe, fro þe ston of desert to þe mount of þe doȝter of Sion.

ii And he shal ben as a brid fleende, and ȝunge briddes fro þe nest fleende to, so shul be þe doȝtris of Moab in þe ouersteȝyng of Arnon.

iii Go in counseil, constreyne counseil; put as nyȝt þi shadewe in mydday, hide þou þe men fleende, and þe vagaut ne betraȝe þou.

iv Per shul dwelle anent þee my ferr fugityues. Moab, be þou þe lurkyng place of hem fro þe face of þe wastere. Endid is forsoþe þe pouder, ful endid is þe wrecche; failide þat to-trad þe lond.

v And þer shal be befor mad redy in mercy þe see, and he shal sitte vpon it in treueþe, in þe tabernacle of Dauid, demende, and sechende dom, and swiftli ȝeldende þat is riȝtwis.

vi Wee han herd þe pride of Moab, proud he is gretli; his pride, and þe proude enhauncing of hym, and also his indignacioun more þan his strengþe.

vii Perfore shall ȝelle Moab to Moab, al shal ȝelle to hem þat gladen vp on þe walles of anelid tyil; spekeþ þer veniaunces.

viii For þe suburbs of Esebon ben desert, and þe vyneȝerd of Sabama. Pe lordis of Jentiles hewen doun his scourges; vnto Jafer þei ful camen, þei errede in desert. His railing braunches ben forsaken, þei passeden þe se.

ix Vp on þis I shal weepen in weypng Jafer, and þe vyneȝerd of Sabama. I shal drunkne þee wiþ my tere, Esebon and Eleale, for vp on þi vyntage, and vp on þi rep þe vois of men tredende fel on.

x And þer shal be don awey gladnesse and ful out ioȝing fro Carmel; and in vyneȝerdis he shal not ful out ioȝen, ne inwardli ioȝen. Wyn in þe pressfe he shal not trede, þat to treden was wont; þe vois of þe trederes I toc awey.

xi Vp on þis my wombe to Moab as an harpe shal sounen, and my boweles to þe wal of þe anelid tyl.

xii And it shal be, whan he shal apere, þat traualide Moab vp on his heeȝe þingus, he shal go in to his hoeli places, þat he inwardly besuche, and he shal not moun.

xiii Pis þe wrd þat þe Lord spac to Moab fro þennys.

xiv And now spac þe Lord, seiende, In þe ȝer as 'þe ȝeres of an hirid man, shal be don awei þe glorie of Moab vpon eche myche puple; and þer shal be lafte in it as a litil branch of a cluter of grapes, and fewe, not fele.

Capitulum XVII.

i The charge of Damasch. Lo! Damasch shal cefen to ben a cite, and it shal be as an hypil of stones in falling.

ii Pe forsaken citees of Aroer to flockes shul be; and þei shul resten þere, and þer shal not be þat afere awey.

iii And þer shal cefen helpe fro Effraym, and rewme fro Damasch; and þe relikes of Cirie as þe glorie of þe sonus of Israel shul be, seiþ þe Lord of oſtus.

iv And it shal be, in þat day shal be maad þynne þe glorie of Jacob, and þe fatnes of his flesh shal become welewid awey.

v And he shal be as þe gederere in rip þat is laft, and his arm eres shal gedere, and he shal be as sechende eres in þe valey of Rafaym.

vi And þer shal ben laft in it as þe braunche of a cluster, and as þe shaking out of þe oile berie, as of two or of þre olyues in þe cop of þe braunch, or of foure or of fyue; in þe coppis of it his frutes, seiþ þe Lord God of Israel.

vii In þat dai shal ben bowid a man to his makere, and his eȝen to þe hoeli of Israel shul beholden.

viii And he shal not be bowid to þe auteres, þat his hondis maden, and þat his fyngrys ywrouȝten; he shal not biholden maumet wodes, and þe wasshing templis.

ix In þat dai þe citees of his strengþe shul be forsaken as plowes, and þe tilpis þat ben laft fro þe face of þe sonus of Israel; and þou shalt ben desert.

x For þou forȝete of þe God, þi saueour, and of þe stronge, þin helpere, þou art not recordid; þerfor þou shalt plaunten a feiþful plaunting, and alien buriounyng þou shalt sownen.

xi In þe dai of þi plaunting bareyne vynes, and erli þi sed shal flouren; don awei is þe rip in þe dai of eritage, and he shal weilen greuously.

xii Wo to þe multitude of many puples, as þe multitude of þe se soundende, and þe nois of cumpanyes as þe soun of manye watri.

xiii 'Puplis schulen sownen as þe sown of flowingn watri, and he shal blame it; and aferr it shal flee, and it shal be raueshid as þe pouder of mounteynes fro þe face of þe wynd, and as a whirlewynd bifor þe tempest.

xiv In tyme of euen, and lo! disturbing; in þe morutid, and he shal not stonde stille. Þis is þe part of hem þat wasteden vs, and þe lot of men tobrekende vs.

Capitulum XVIII.

i Wo to þe lond, cymbal of weengus, þat is beȝunde þe flod of Etheope;

ii þat sendeþ in þe se messageres, and in resþhi vesseles vp on watri. Gob, ȝee swift aungeles, to þe folc al to-pullid and torn; to a ferful puple, after whyche is not an oper; folc abidende and totroden, whos flodes rauesheden awei his lond; to þe mount of þe name of þe Lord of ostus, mount of Sion.

iii Alle ȝee dwelleris of þe world, þat dwellen in erþe, whan shal ben rered vp a tokne in mounteynes, ȝee shuln seen, and þe noise of þe trumpe ȝee shul heren.

iv For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord to me, I shal resten, and beholden in my place, as þe mydday liȝt is clearer, and as þe cloude of dew in þe day of rip.

v Bifor rip forsoþe al flourede out, and vnriyp perfeccioun buriownede; and þer shul ben hewe doun be little braunches of it wiþ siþis, and þat weren laft, shul be kut away.

vi Bei shul ben shakn out, and forsaken togidere to þe briddes of mounteynes, and to þe bestes of erþe; and in eueralastende fomer shul ben vp on hym foules, and alle þe bestes of erþe vp on hym shul dwelle al wynter.

vii In þat tyme shal be broȝt ȝifte to þe Lord of ostes, fro þe puple to-pullid and to-torn; fro þe ferful puple, after whom was not an oper; fro þe folc abidende and to-troden, whos flodus rauesheden awei his lond; to þe place of þe name of þe Lord of ostus, mount of Sion.

Capitulum XIX.

i The charge of Egyp. Lo! þe Lord shal steȝe vp vp on a liȝt cloude, and gon in to Egyp; and þer shul be moued þe symulacris of Egyp fro þe face of hym, and þe herte of Egyp shal wane in þe myddel of hym.

ii And to meeþe togidere I shal make Egipcienus aȝen Egipcienus, and fiȝte shal a man aȝen his broþer, and a man aȝen his frend, cite aȝen cite, and reume aȝen reume.

iii And to-broken shal be þe spirit of Egyp in his boweles, and his counseil I shall stumble doun; and þei shul alþe þer symulacris, and þer deuynoures, and þer deuel cleperes, and þer deuel sacrificieres.

iv And I shal take Egyp in to þe hond of cruel lordis, and a strong king shal lordshipen of hem, seiþ þe Lord God of ostes.

v And þe water shal waxe drie fro þe se, and þe flod shal be defolat, and dried.

vi And faile shul þe flodes, and bynned and dried shul be þe ryueres of water hepes; þe reed and þe resþhe shal welewen.

vii Nakened shal be þe flod wombe, and þe ryueres fro þer welle; and of 'eche sowende þe watri place shal be dried, and welewen, and it shal not be.

viii And mowrne shul þe fiffheres, and weilen alle into þe flod puttende þe angil hoc; and spredende out þe net vpon þe face of watri, shul waxe feble.

ix And confoundid shul ben, þat wroȝten flax, plattende and weuende fotile þingus.

x And þer shul ben his 'watri placis driende; alle þat maden pondis to be caȝt fiffhes.

xi Fooles þe princes of Thaneos, wife counseileres of Farao ȝeeuen vnwys counseil; what maner shul ȝee seyn to Farao, I þe sone of wise men, þe sone of olde kingys?

xii Where now ben þi wife men? 'Telle þei to þee, and shewe, what þoȝte þe Lord of ostus vp on Egyp.

xiii Fooles ben mad þe princes of Thaneos; gretli languyssheden þe princes of Memfeos; begileden Egyp, þe corner of his puples.

xiv Pe Lord mengde in his myddel þe spirit of turnegidy; and to erren þei maden Egyp in al his werk, as erreþ a drunke man and a vomende.

xv And þer shal not be to Egyp werke, þat it make hed and tail in boowing and refreyning.

xvi In þat dai Egyp shal be as wymmen, and þei shul stoneȝen, and dreden fro þe face of þe sterling togidere of þe hond of þe Lord of ostes, þat he mouede vp on it.

xvii And shal be þe lond of Juda to Egipt in to inward ferd; eche þat of it recordede, shal inwardly dreden fro þe face of þe counsel of þe Lord of oftes, þat he þoȝte vp on it.
 xviii In þat dai shul be fyue citees in þe lond of Egipt, spekende Canane tunge, and swerende bi þe Lord of oftes; þe cyte of þe funne shal ben clepid oon.
 xix In þat day shal ben þe auter of þe Lord in þe myddel of þe lond off Egipt, and þe title of þe Lord biside his terme;
 xx and þei shul be in to tocne and to witnesſing to þe Lord of oftes, in þe lond of Egipt. Peþy shul crien to þe Lord fro þe face of þe trublere, and he shal sende to þem a saueour, and a forſiȝtere, þat delyuere þem.
 xxi And þe Lord shal ben knownen of Egipt, and knownen shuln þe Egipciens þe Lord in þat day; and þei shul herien hym in oftes and ȝiftes, and þei shul vouwe vroues to þe Lord, and ȝeelde.
 xxii And smyte shal þe Lord Egipt wiþ a veniaunce, and helen it; and turnen aȝeen shuln þe Egipciens to þe Lord, and he shal be plesid to þem, and helen hem.
 xxiii In þat day shal ben a weie fro Egipt 'in to Assiries, and seruen shul þe Egipciens to Assur; and entren shal Assirie Egipt, and Egipt in to Assiries.
 xxiv In þat day shal ben Israel þe þridde to Egipt and to Assirie, blessing in þe middel of þe erþe; xxv to whom blisſede þe Lord of oftes, seiende, Blisſid my puple of Egipt, and þe werk of myn hondis to Assirie; be forſoþe myn eritage Ifrael.

Capitulum XX.

i In þe ȝer þat Tharthan wente into Assote, whan hadde sent hym Sargon, king of Assiries, and hadde fooȝte aȝen Afote, and hadde taken it;
 ii in þat tyme spac þe Lord in þe hond of Isaie, sone of Amos, seiende, Go, and loofne þe sac fro þi leendis, and þe shon tak fro þi feet. And he dide so, goende 'nakid and vñfhod.
 iii And þe Lord seide, As wente my seruaunt Isaie nakid and vñfhod, of þre ȝeer tocne and wnder shal ben vp on Egipt, and vp on Ethiope; iv so dryuen shal þe king off Assiries þe caitifte of Egipt, and þe transmygracioun of Etheope, ȝung and old, nakid womman and vñfhod, discouered þe erfis, to þe shenshepe of Egipt.
 v And þei shul drede, and ben confoundid of Etheope, 'per hope, and of Egipt, per glorie.
 vi And þe dwellere of þat yle shal seyn in þat day, Wheþer þis was oure hope, to whom wee floun in to helpe, þat bei shulden delyueren vs fro þe face of þe king of Assiries; and what maner shul we moun scapen?

Capitulum XXI.

i The charge of þe desert se. As whirlewyndus fro Affrich comen, fro þe desert cam, fro þe orrible lond.
 ii An hard viseoun told is to me; þat vnleeuende is, vnfelþfully doþ; and he þat 'is distroȝere, wastef. Steeȝ vp, Elam, and bisege, Medeba; al his weilyng I made to cesen.
 iii Perfore ben fulfilid my lendys wiþ forewe; anguylsh weldide me, as anguylsh of þe trauailende wiþ child; I fel douȝ, whan I herde; I am disturbid, whan I faȝ.
 iv Myche languysshede myn herte, dercnesses stonied maden me; Babilon, my looued, put is to me 'in to myracle.
 v Sett þe bord, bihold in a toothil; etende and drinkende riseþ, ȝee princes, takeþ to þe terget.
 vi Peþe þingus forſoþe seide þe Lord to me, Go, and put a tootere; and what euere þing he shal see, telle he.
 vii And he faȝ a char of two horse men, a steȝere of an asse, and a steȝere vp of a camayle; and he beheeld bisiȝ by myche looking, viii and he crieðe as a leoun, Vp on þe toothil of þe Lord I am stondende contynuelly bi day, and vp on my warde I am stondende alle nyȝtus.
 ix Lo! þis cam, a man steȝere of þe carte of horse men. And he answarde, and seide, Is falle, is falle Babilon; and alle grauen þingus of hys godus ben to-broȝid in to þe erþe.
 x My þressing, and þe doȝter of my cornflor, þe þingus þat I herde of þe Lord of oftes, God of Israel, I tolde to ȝou.
 xi þe charge of Duma. To me he criȝ fro Seir, O! kepere, what of þe nyȝt? O! kepere, what of þe nyȝt?
 xii þe kepere seide, Per comeþ morutid, and nyȝt; if ȝee fechen, fecheþ, and beþ conuertid, and comeþ.
 xiii þe charge in Araby. In þe wilde wode at euen ȝee shul slepen, in þe sties of Dodanym.
 xiv Aȝencomende to þe þrilsti berþ water, þat dwellen þe lond of þe souþ; wiþ loeuȝ aȝencomenþ to þe fleende.
 xv Fro þe face forſoþe of swerdes þei fledden, fro þe face of þe swerd stondende on, fro þe face of þe bowe bend, fro þe face of þe greuous bataile.
 xvi For þe þingus leiþ þe Lord to me, ȝit in o ȝer, as in þe ȝer of an hirid man, and þer shal ben take awey al þe glorie of Cedar.
 xvii And þe religis of þe noumbre of þe stronge archeres fro þe sonus of Cedar shul be mynusȝt; þe Lord forſoþe, God of Israel, spac.

Capitulum XXII.

i The charge of þe valey of viseoun. What forſoþe and to þee is, for þou steȝedist vp, and þou al in to þe rooues, ii ful of cry, myche vȝid cite, cite ful out ioȝende? þi flayne not slayn wiþ swerd, ne 'þi deade deade in batayle.

iii Alle þi princes floun togidere, and harde ben bounde; alle þat ben founde, ben bounde togidere, aferr floun.
 iv Perfore I seide, Gop awei fro me, bitterli I shal weepe; wileþ not ben bisy, þat ȝee coumforte me vp on þe waftite of þe doȝter of my puple.
 v Dai forsoþe of flaȝter, and of to-treding, and of wepingus, fro þe Lord God of ostes, in þe valey of viseoun; ferching þe wal, and 'þe gret doyng vp on þe mounteyn.
 vi And Elam toc an arewe caas, and þe char of an hors man; and þe target naknide þe wal.
 vii And chosen shul be þi valeis ful of foure horſid carres; and knyȝtes shul fette þer fetes in þe ȝate.
 viii And discoueryd shal be þe coueryng of Jude; and þou shalt seen in þat dai þe armourie place of þe 'house of þe wilde wode;
 ix and þe cliftus of þe cite of Dauid ȝee shul see, for þei ben multeplied. And ȝee han gedered þe watriis of þe neperie pond, 'or sisterne, x and þe houses of Jerusalēm ȝee han noumbred, and ȝee han distroyed þe houſis, to strengþe þe wal; xi and a lake ȝee han mad betwe two walles, and þe watyr of þe olde fishpond, or fyſterne; and ȝee beheelden not to hym, þat hadde mad it, and his werkere fro aferre ȝee feȝen not.
 xii And þe Lord God of ostus clepede in þat dai to weeping, and to weiling, and to ballidnesse, and to girding of a sac;
 xiii and lo! ioȝe and gladnesse toflen calues, to kutte weþeres þrotes, to ete flesh, and to drinke wyn; ete wee, and drinke wee, to moru forsoþe wee shul dien.
 xiv And opened is in myn eres þe vois of þe Lord of ostes, þer shal not be forȝue þis wickidnesse to ȝou, to þe tyme þat ȝee die, seiþ þe Lord God of ostus.
 xv Pese þingus seiþ þe Lord God of ostus, Go, and weend in to hym þat dwelleþ in þe tabernacle, to Sobnam, prouoft of þe temple; and þou shalt sey to
 hym,
 xvi What þou heer, or as who heer? for þou heewe out to þee heer a sepulcre, þou heewe in an heeȝ, a memorial bisily in a ston a tabernacle to þee.
 xvii Lo! þe Lord shal make þee to ben born awei, as is born awei a capoun, and as an amyse, so he shal vnder reren þee.
 xviii Crounende he shal crowne þee wiþ tribulacioun; as a bal he shal sende þee in to a brod lond and spacious;
 þere þou shalt dien, and þere shal be þe char of þi glorie, and þe shenþipe of þe hous of þi Lord. xix And I shal putte þee out fro þi stonding, and fro þi seruyse I shal depose þee.
 xx And it shal be, in þat dai I shal clepe my seruaunt Eleachym, þe lone of Elchie; xxi and cloþin hym wiþ þi coete, and wiþ þi girdil I shal coumforten hym, and þi power I shal ȝyue in to his hondus; and he shal ben as a fader to men dwellende Jerusalēm, and to þe hous of Juda.

 xxii And I shal ȝyue þe keȝe of þe hous of Dauid vp on his shulder; and he shal openen, and þer shal not be þat close; and he shal closen, and þer shal not be þat opene.
 xxiii And I shal sicchen hym as a stake in þe 'feiþful place, and he shal be in to þe fee of glorie of þe hous of his fader.
 xxiv And I shal hangen vp on hym al þe glorie of þe hous of his fader, off vesseles dyuers kindis, eche litil vesseſ, fro þe vesseles of wyn chalices vnto alle vesseſ of mufikes.
 xxv In þat dai, seiþ þe Lord of ostes, þer shal ben taken awey þe stake þat was ficchid in a feiþful place, and be tobrokeñ, and fallen; and pershe shal þat þat he hadde hangyd in it, for þe Lord spac.

Capitulum XXIII.

i The charge of Tyry. ȝelleþ, ȝee shippes of þe se, for waftid is þe hous, whennus to comen 'þei weren wont; fro þe lond of Sethym it is opened to þem.
 ii Beȝ stytte, ȝee þat dwellen in þe ile, þe chaffaring of Sidon; þe men seilende ouer þe se fulfilden þee wiþ manye watriis;
 iii þe fed of Nyli, þe rip of þe flod his frutes, and mad is þe chaffare of Jentiles.
 iv Alshame þou, Sidon, seiþ þe se, þe strengþe of þe se, seiende, I trauailide not wiþ child, and bar not, and nurshede not out ȝung childer, ne to ful waxing broȝte forþ maidenes.
 v Whan herd it shal be in Egipt, þei shuln forewen, whan þei shuln heren of Tiro.
 vi Passeeþ þe ses; ȝelleþ, þat dwellen in þe ile.
 vii Wheþer not þis ȝoure is, þat gloriede fro þe raþere dæȝes in his eelde? leden shuln it aferr hir feet to pilgrymagen.
 viii Who þoȝte þis vp on Tirun sum tyme crouned, whos nededoeres princes, his marchaundus noble men of þe erþe?
 ix Pe Lord of ostes þoȝte þis, þat he drawe doun þe pride of alle glorie, and to shenþipe bringe doun alle þe noble men of erþe.
 x Passee ouer þi lond as þe flod, þou doȝter of þe se; þer is no more girdil to þee.
 xi His hond ouer þe se he 'strecchide, and disturbide reumes. Pe Lord sente aȝen Canaan, þat he totrede his stronge men;
 xii and seide, þou shalt no mor leyn to, þat þou glorie, chalengis lustenende, þou maden doȝter of Sidon. In Sichym risende ouerfeile þou; þere forsoþe shal not ben reste to þee.
 xiii Lo! þe lond of Caldeis such a puple was not; Assur foundide it; in to caitifte þei ouerladden þe stalwrþe men of it; þei vnderdoluen his houses, þei putten it in to falling.

xiiii ȝelleþ, ȝee shipes of þe se, for doun waftid is ȝoure strengþe.

xv And it shal be, in þat dai in forȝeting þou shalt be, O! Tire, feuenti ȝer, as þe dæzes of o king; after feuenti ȝer forþoþe to Tiro shal be as a song of a strumpet.

xvi Tac harpe, go aboute þe cite, þou strumpet, to forȝeting taken; weel syng, ofte vſe song, þat mynde of þee be.

xvii And it shal be, after feuenti ȝer, þe Lord shal viſite Tirum, and bringen it aȝeen to his meedes; and eft it shal ben, whan it shal do fornycacioun wiþ alle þe reumes of þe erþe, vp on þe face of þe erþe.

xviii And his nede doyngus and his meedus shuln ben halewid to þe Lord; þei shuln not ben hid, ne leid vp; for to þem þat dwellede bifor þe Lord shal be his nede doyng, þat þei ete into fulnesse, and be clad vn to oldnesse.

Capitulum XXIIII.

i Loo! þe Lord shal nakenen þe erþe, and scatteren it, and tormenten his face, and distroȝen his dwelleris.
ii And þer shal be, as þe puple, so þe prest; and as þe seruaunt, so his lord; as þe hand woman, so hir lady; as þe biere, so he þat fillip; as þe vsurer, so he þat takeþ borewing; as he þat aȝeen askeþ, so he þat owiþ.

iii Bi fcateryng shal be scatered þe lond, and bi robbing shal be robbid; þe Lord forþoþe spac bis wrd.

iv Weileded and doun flowede þe erþe, and it is feblid; flowede doun þe world, feblid is þe heiȝte of þe puple of þe lond, v and þe lond is slayn of his dwelleris. For þei ouerpaffen den þe lawes, chaungeden þe riȝt, scatereden þe euere durende bond.

vi For þat cursing shal deuoure þe lond, and synnen shuln his dwelleris; and þerfore waxen woode shul his tilières, and þer shul be lafte fewe men.

vii Weileded þe vyndage, feblid is þe vyne; inwardli weileden alle þat gladeden in herte.

viii Cefede þe ioȝe of tymbris, restide þe soun of men gladende; al stille was þe swetnesse of þe harpe.

ix Wiþ song þei shul not drinke wyn; bitter shal be þe drinke to men drinkende it.

x Al defouled is þe cite of vanyte; cloſid is eche hous, no man entendre.

xi Cry shal ben vp on þe wyn in þe stretes, desert is alle gladnesse, translatisid is þe ioȝe of þe lond.

xii Laft is in þe huge cite wilderneſſe, and wrecchidnesse shal opresſen þe ȝates.

xiii For þese þingus shul be in þe myddel of þe lond, in þe myddel of puples, what maner if fewe oilie beries þat lefen ben shakenn out of þe olyue tree, and cluster braunches, whan were endid þe vyndage.

xiv ȝeſe shul reren vp þer vois, and preisen, whan shal be glorified þe Lord; þei shul neȝen fro þe se.

xv For þat in techingus glorifieþ þe Lord; in iles of þe se, þe name of þe Lord God of Israel.

xvi Fro þe endes of þe erþe preifingus wee han herd, þe glorie of þe riȝtwis. And I feide, My priue þing to me, my priue þing to me. 'Wo to me, þe lawe breking þei breeken, and in lawe breking of þe ouer don þingus þei breeken þe lawe.

xvii Ferd, and dich, and grene vp on þee, þat dwellere art of þe erþe.

xviii And it shal be, he þat shal flee fro þe face of drede, shal falle in to þe dich; and he þat takeþ hymself out of þe dich, shal be holden wiþ þe grene; for þe gooteris fro heȝe þingus ben opened, and smyte togidere shul ben þe foundemens of þe erþe.

xix Wiþ tobreking shal ben to-broken þe erþe, wiþ to-brosing shal be to-brosid þe lond, wiþ to-stering shal be to-stired þe erþe, xx wiþ shaking shal be 'to-shaken þe erþe, as a drunken man. And it shal be don awey, as þe tabernacle of o nyȝt, and greuen it shal his wickidnesse; and it shal falle, and it shal not leyn to, þat it rise aȝeen.

xxi And it shal be, in þat dai viſite shal þe Lord vp on þe knyȝthod of heuene in heȝ, and vp on þe kingus of þe lond, þat ben vp on erþe.

xxii And þei shul ben gedered togidere in þe gederyng togidere of a bundel in to þe lake, and þei shul ben cloſid þere in prisoun; and aftir many dæzes þei shul be viſitid.

xxiii And þe moone shal shamen, and confoundid shal be þe funne, whan shal regne þe Lord of oftes in þe hil of Sion, and in Jerufalem; and in þe firȝt of þer olde men he shal ben glorified.

Capitulum XXV.

i Lord, my God þou art, I shal enhaunce þee, and I shal knouleche to þi name; for þou hast do merueilous þingus, olde feiþful þoȝtus. Amen.

ii For þou hast set þe cite in to noyse, þe huge stronge cite in to falling, þe hous of alienes, þat it be not cite, and in to euermor it shal not ben bild vp.

iii Vp on þis shal preife þee a strong puple, þe cite of stalwrþe folc of kinde shal drede þee.

iv For þou art mad strengþe to þe pore, strengþe to þe helpeles in his tribulacioun, hope fro þe whirlwynd, a shadewe hilet fro hete; þe spirit forþoþe of stalwrþe men as a whirlwind puttende doun a wal.

v As wiþ hete in brist, þe noise of alienes þou shalt meken; and as wiþ hete vnder þe cloude feerly brennende, þe braunches of stronge men þou shalt make to welewyn.

vi And þe Lord of oftes shal make to alle puples in þis hil a feste of fatte bestes, a feste of vyndage of merewi fatte þingus, of vyndage most pure.

vii And he shal stumble doun in þis hil þe face of þe bond, bounde togidere vp on alle puples, and þe web þat `he halþ weuede vp on alle nacyouns.
 viii He shal stumble doun deþ in to euere lasting, and don awei þhal þe Lord God eche tere fro alle face; and þe repref of his puple he shal don awey fro al erþe; for þe Lord spac.
 ix And þey shul sey in þat day, Lo! þe Lord oure God þis; wee han abiden hym, and he shal fauen vs; þis þe Lord; wee han suffryd hym, and wee shul ful out ioȝen, and gladen in his helþe ȝyuere.
 x For þe hond of þe Lord shal reste in þis hil, and þreschid shal ben Moab vnder hym, as ben to-treden strawes in a wayn.
 xi And he shal strecchen out his hondis vnder hym, as a swymmere streccheth out to swymmen; and he shal meeken his glorie wiþ þe `hurling to of his hondis.
 xii And þe forsemens, `or strengþis, of þin heȝe walles shul togidere falle, and be lowid, and drawnen doun to þe erþe, vnto poudere.

Capitulum XXVI.

i In þat day shal ben fungen þis song in þe lond of Juda. Þe huge cite of oure strengþe Sion; a saueour shal be set in it, þe wal and þe bifor walling.
 ii Openeþ þe ȝates, and þer shal go in a riȝtwis folc, kepende treue.
 iii Þe olde errour ȝide awei; þou shalt kepe pes, pes, for in þee, Lord, wee han hopid.
 iv ȝee han hopid in þe Lord, fro þe euere lastende worldus, in þe Lord God, strong in to wiþoute ende.
 v For he shal inbowe þe dwelleris in heiȝte, þe heȝe cite he shal meeken; he shal meke it vn to þe erþe, drawnen it doun in to pouder.
 vi To-trede it shal þe foote of þe pore, þe goyngus of helpeles men.
 vii Pe sty of þe riȝtwis is euene, euene þe paþ of þe riȝtwis to gon.
 viii And in þe sty of þi domes, Lord, wee han fustened þee; þi name, and þi mynde, in desyr of soule.
 ix My soule shal desire þee in nyȝt, but and wiþ my spirit in myn herte inward þingus; fro erly I shal wake to þee. Whan þou shalt don þi domes in þe erþe, riȝtwisness shul lernen alle þe dwelleris of þe world.
 x Haue wee mercy to þe vnpitouse, and he shal not lerne to do riȝtwisness; in þe lond of halewis wicke þingus he dide, and he shal not see þe glorie of þe Lord.
 xi Lord, be enhauncid þin hond, þat þei see not; see and be confoundid þe enuyende puples, and fyr þin enimys deuoure.
 xii Lord, þou shalt ȝyuen pes to vs, alle forsoþe oure werkes þou wroȝtist in vs.
 xiii Lord oure God, lordis weldeden vs, wiþ outh þee; only in þee recorde wee of þi name.

xiv Diende lyue þei not, and ȝeauntis ryse þei not aȝeen. Perfore þou hast visityd, and to-brosedest hem, and loſt al þe mynde of þem; and þou hast forȝyue to þe fol of kinde, xv Lord, þou hast forȝoue to þe folc of kynde. Wheþer glorified þou art? þou hast `drawen along alle þe termes of þe erþe.
 xvi Lord, in anguysh þei soȝten þee; in tribulacioun of gruccing þi lore to þem.
 xvii As þe þat conceyued, whan she shulde neȝhe to þe traualing of child, forewende criȝ in hir forewes, so wee ben maad fro þi face, Lord.
 xviii Wee han conceyued, and as wee han born, and broȝte forþ þe spirit of helþe; riȝtwisness wee han not don in erþe, perfore fallen not þe dwelleris of þe erþe.
 xix Lyuen shul þi deade, my flayne men shuln aȝeen rise. Beþ wakid, and preiseþ, ȝee þat dwellen in pouder; for þe dew of liȝt þi dew, and þe lond of ȝeauntus þou shalt drawe doun in to falling.
 xx Go, my puple, entre in to þi bed places, cloſe þi dores vp on þee, be hid a litil while, to þe tyme þat passē myn indignacioun.
 xxi Lo! forsoþe þe Lord shal go out fro his hoely place, þat he visité þe wickidness of þe dwellere of þe erþe aȝen hym; and þe erþe shal opene his blod, and shal no more koueren his flayne men.

Capitulum XXVII.

i In þat dai viseten shal þe Lord in his harde fwerd, and gret, and strong, vp on leuyathan, an eddere, a leuour, and vp on leuyathan, a crookid wounde serpent; and he shal fle þe whal, þat is in þe fe.
 ii In þat day þe vyneȝerd of good cleer wyn shal synge to hym.
 iii I þe Lord þat kepe it, feerli shal heelden out to it, left par auenture it be visitud aȝen it; nyȝt and dai I kepe it, iii indignacioun is not to me. Who shal ȝyue me a borne, and a brere? In bataile I shal go vp on it, I shal brennen it togidere.
 v Or more I shal holde my strengþe? He shal do pes to me, pes he shal don to me.
 vi Who shal go out wiþ bure fro Jacob? Flouren and burioune shal Israel, and þey shul fulfille þe face of þe world wiþ sed.
 vii Wheþer after þe plage of þe smytende hymself he smot hym? or as he flooȝ þe flayne men of hym, so he is flayn?
 viii In mesure aȝen mesure, whan leid to it shal be, he shal deme it; he biþoȝte in his harde spirit, by þe day of hete.
 ix Perfor vp on þis shal ben forȝouen wickidness to þe hous of Jacob, and þis al þe frute, þat be don awei his synne, whan he shal leyn alle þe stones of þe auter as þe hertlid stones of askes. Stonde shul not þe maumet wodes, and þe maumet waffling temples.

x Forsoþe þe strengþid cite shal be desolat, þe faire shal ben forsake, and lafte as desert; þere shal be fed þe calf, and þere shal he lyn, and waste þe ouermostes of it.

xi In þe droȝte of his rip to-treden shul ben wymmen, comende and techende it. Forsoþe þer is not þe puple wys, þerfore shal not han mercy of it, þat made it; and þat foormede it, shal not spare to it.

xii And it shal be, in þat dai shal þe Lord smyte, fro þe wombe of þe flod vnto þe strem of Egipt; and ȝee shul be gedered togidere oon and oon, ȝee sonus of Israel.

xiii And it shal be, in þat dai shal be trumpid in a gret trumpe, and þer shul comen þat weren lost, fro þe lond of Affiries, and þat weren cast awei, fro þe lond of Egipt; and þei shul honouren þe Lord, in þe hoeli hil in Jerusalēm.

Capitulum XXVIII.

i Wo to þe crowne of pride, to þe drunke men of Effraym, and to þe flour fallende doun of þe glorie of his ful out ioȝyng, þat weren in þe cop of þe valei most fat, errende of wyn.

ii Lo! þe stalwrþe and þe stronge Lord, as þe bure of hail, þe tempest al brekende, as þe bure of manye flowende watriis, and sent out vp on þe spacioufe erþe.

iii Wiþ feet shal be to-trede þe croune of pride of þe drunke men of Effraym, iv and þe flour shal be doun fallende of þe glorie of his ful out ioȝing, þat is vp on þe cop of þe valei of fatte þingus, as þe biforn riȝt frute bifor þe rijpnesse of heruest; þe whiche þing whan shal beholde þe seere, anoon as wiþ hond he shal holden, he shal deouure it.

v In þat dai shal be þe Lord of ostes þe croune of glorie, and þe garlond of ful out ioȝing, to þe residue of his puple;

vi and þe spirit of dom to þe sittere vp on þe trone, and strengþe to þer men turnende aȝeen fro þe bataile to þe zate.

vii ȝeþe also for wyn knewen not treuþe, and for drunkenesse þei erreden; preest and profete knewen not for drunkenesse; þei ben open awei of wyn, þei erreden in drunkenesse; þei knewe not þe seere, þei vnknowe dom.

viii Alle forsoþe boordis ben fulfilde wiþ þe vome and filþis, so þat þer were no more place.

ix Whom shal he teche kunning, and whom to vnderstonde shal he make þe heryng? ȝe wened from mylc, þe put awei fro tetes.

x For send, eft send; send, eft send; abyd, eft byde; abijd, eft bijd; litil þere, litil þere.

xi In þe speche forsoþe of þe lippe, and in an oþir tunge shal ben spoke to þis puple, xii to whom he seide, ȝis is my reste; releeueþ þe wery, and þat is my refreshing; and þei wolden not heren.

xiii And þer shal be to þem þe wrd of þe Lord, Send, eft send; send, eft send; abijd, eft bijd; abijd, eft bijd; litil þere, litil þere; þat þei go, and falle bacward, and be to-broſid, and gnared, and taken.

xiv For þat hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, ȝee men gileris, þat lordshipen vp on my purple þat is in Jerusalēm.

xv ȝee seiden forsoþe, Wee han smyte pes bond wiþ deþ, and wiþ helle wee han maad couenaunt; scourge flowend whan shal passe, shal not come vp on vs, for wee han set lefyng oure hope, and wiþ lefyng we ben couered.

xvi Perfor þese þyngus seiþ þe Lord God, Lo! I shal senden in þe foundemens of Sion a corner ston precious, proued, in þe foundement foundid; who shal beleueen, heeȝe he not.

xvii And I shal putte in peis dom, and riȝtwisnesse in mesure; and þe hail shal to-turne vpsodoun þe hope of lefyng, and þe proteccioun watriis shul flowe.

xviii And don awey shal be ȝoure pes bond wiþ deþ, and ȝoure couenaunt wiþ helle shal not stonde; scourge flowende whan shal passe, ȝee shul be to it in to treding.

xix Whan euere it shal passe, it shal take ȝou awey; for erly þe morutid it shal passe, in day and nyȝt; and al onli þe alone greuous birþene vnderstonding shal ȝyue to þe herende.

xx Al to streat forsoþe is þe beddyng, so þat an oþer falle doun; and þe shorte mantil eiþer mai not couere.

xxi As forsoþe in þe hil of deuyfeouns shal stonde þe Lord, so in þe valei, þat is in Gabaon, he shal wraþe, þat he do his werk; alyen is þe werk of hym, þat he werke his werk; straunge is his werk fro hym.

xxii And now wileþ not bigilen, left par auenture be streatid ȝoure bondis; ful ending forsoþe and abregging I haue herd of þe Lord God of ostus, vp on al erþe.

xxiii Wiþ eres parcyueþ, and hereþ my vois; takeþ heed, and hereþ my fayre speche.

xxiv Wheþer al day shal ere þe erere, þat he sowe, and forþ kutten, and purge his erþe?

xxv Wheþer not, whan he shal euenen þerto his face, he shal sowe þe sed giþ, and þe comyn sprengen, and sette þe whete bi order, and barley, and myle, and ficche in þer coestes?

xxvi And shal teche hym his God, in dom shal leren hym.

xxvii Forsoþe not in sawes shal be þrofþe giþ, ne þe wheel of a wayn vp on þe comyn shal gon aboute; but in ȝerde shal ben shaken out giþ, and þe comyn in a staf.

xxviii Bred forsoþe shal be to-mynusht, but not in to euermor þe þresshere shal þresshen it, ne shal trauaile it þe wheel of þe wayn, ne wiþ his cles shal to-mynushe it.

xxix And þat fro þe Lord God of ostes wente out, þat merueilous shulde make counseil, and magnefyen þe riȝtwisnesse.

Capitulum XXIX.

- i Wo! Ariel, Ariel, þat is, Jerusalem, and auter, cite þat Dauid ouercam; added is ȝer to ȝer, solempnetees ben ouerturned.
ii And I shal befette aboute Ariel, and it shal be dreri and forewy; and it shal be to me as Aryel.
iii And I shal cumpasse as a bal in þi cumpas, and I shal kaste aȝen þee an hep, and þe strengþis I shal sette in to þi sefing.
iv þou shalt be meekid, of þe erþe þou shalt speke, and of þe loewe erþe shal ben herd bi speche; and shal be as of a deuel clepere fro þe erþe bi vois, and fro þe loewe erþe shal groyne bi speche.
v And shal be as þynne pouder þe multitude of men wynewende þee; and as 'a gnaſt burȝ passende, þe multitude of hem þat aȝen þee hadden maiftri.
vi And it shal be feerly, 'or fudenly, anon fro þe Lord of ostus it shal be viſitid, in þunder, and quauyng of erþe, and gret vois of whirlewind, and of tempest, and of flaume of fijr deouorende.
vii And shal be as a drem of a nyȝt viseoun þe multitude of alle Jentiles þat foȝten aȝen Ariel; and alle þat aȝen rideñ, and bifegeðen, and hadden þe maiftri aȝen it.
viii And as sweueneþ þe hungrende, and eteþ, whan forsoþe he were wakid, voide is his soule; and as sweueneþ þe bristende, and drinkeþ, and aftir þat he were waken, weri ȝit he bristet, and his loule is voide, so hal be þe multitude of alle Jentiles, þat foȝten aȝen þe hil of Sion.
ix Bicomeþ alle ston eid, and wndrep; flotereþ, and wagereþ; 'be ȝe drunken inwardli, and not of wyn; ȝee be moued, and not wiþ drunkenesse.
x For mengd haþ þe Lord to ȝou þe spirit of slep; he hal clofen ȝoure eȝen, þe profetes, and ȝoure princes þat seen viseouns, he shal couere.
xi And þer shal be to ȝou þe viseoun of alle as þe wrdis of þe boc sealid; whom whan þei shul ȝyue to þe kunnende lettris, þei shul ley, Reed þis; and he shal answern, I mai not, forsoþe it is sealid.
xii And þe boc shal be ȝyue to þe not kunnende lettris, and it shal be feid to hym, Reed; and he shal answern, I kan not lettris.
xiii And þe Lord seide, 'For þi þat þis puple neȝheþ wiþ his moub, and wiþ his lippes glorifieþ me, his herte forsoþe fer is fro me; and þei dradden me in maundement of men and doctrines, þerfore loo!
xiv I shal adde, þat gret wondring I do to þis puple, wiþ gret myracle and hidous; forsoþe pershe shal wiðdam fro his wife men, and þe vnderſtanding of his prudent men shal be hid.
xv Wo, ȝee þat deep ben in herte, þat fro þe Lord ȝee hide counſeil; of whom þe werkes ben in dercnesſes, and seyn, Who seeþ vs, and who kneȝ vs?
xvi Shreude is þis ȝoure þenking, as if þe cley aȝens þe crockere þenke, and þe werk sey to his makere, þou haſt not mad me; and þe making sey to his makere, þou vnderſtondiſt not.

- xvii Wheþer not ȝit in litil and in ſhort shal be turned Liban 'in to Chermel, and Chermel in to a wilde wode shal ben holde?
xviii And heren shul in þat day deue men þe wrdis of þe boc, and fro dercnesſes and myſtynesſes þe eȝen of blynde men shul ſeen;
xix and mylde men shuln adde in þe Lord gladneſſe, and pore men in þe hoeli Israel ful out shul ioȝen.
xx For he haþ failid, þat hadde þe maiftri, ful endid is þe gilere, and hewen doun ben alle þat wakeden 'vp on wickidneſſe;
xxi þat to ſynnen maden men in wrd, and þe vndernymere in þe ȝate þei ſupplaunteden, and boweden doun in veyn fro þe riȝtwis.
xxii For þat þese þingus ſeip þe Lord to þe hous of Jacob, þat aȝen bouȝt Abraham, Not now shal be confoundid Jacob, ne now his chere shal shame; xxiii but whan he shal ſeen his fones, þe werkys of myn hondis, in his myddel halewende my name. And þei shul halewen þe hoeli of Jacob, and þe hoeli God of Israel þei shul prechen;
xxiv and knownen shul þe errende in ſpirit vnderſtonding, and þe muſures shul lerne þe lawe.

Capitulum XXX.

- i Wo! ȝee ſonus forſakeres, ſeip þe Lord, þat ȝee ſchulden do counſeil, and not of me; and wefen a web, and not bi my ſpirit, þat ȝee adde ſynne vp on ſynne.
ii þe whiche gon, þat ȝee descende in to Egipt, and my mouȝ ȝee han not aſkid; hopende helpe in þe ſtrengþe of Farao, and hauende troſt in þe ſhadewe of Egipt.
iii And shal be to ȝou þe ſtrengþe of Farao in to confuſioun, and þe troſt of þe vmbre of Egipt in to ſhenſhepe.
iv Wenten forſoþe in Thampnys þi princes, and þi meſſageres vnto 'Anes cite ful camen.
v Alle þei ben confoundid vp on þe puple, þat to hem myȝte no þan profitid; þei weren not in to helpe, and in to any profit, but in to confuſioun and repreſ.
vi þe charge of þe beſtes of þe ſoup. In þe lond of tribulacioun and of anguylh, a leounesse, and a leoun, of hem a violent eddere, and a kokatrice fleende; berende vp on þe ſhuldris of beſtes þer richeſſes, and vp on þe bocche of camailes þer trefores, to þe puple þat to hem myȝte not han profitid.
vii Egipt forſoþe waſtli, and in veyn shal helpen. þerfore I crieđe vp on þis, Pride onli it is; reſte þou.
viii Now þanne gon in, wryt to it vp on a box table, and in a boc biſili graue it; and it shal be in þe laſte day in to witneſſyng, vn to euermore.
ix þe puple forſoþe to wraþe ys terrende, and fones lieres, fones not willende to heren þe lawe of God.

x Pat seyn to men feende, Wileþ not see; and to men biholdende, Wileþ not biholde to vs þo þingus þat ben riȝte; spekeþ to vs plesaunt þingus, seeþ to vs erroures.
xi Dob awei fro me þe weie, bowiþ doun fro me þe stý;
ceſe fro oure face þe hoeli Israel.
xii Perfore þeſe þingus seiþ þe hoeli of Israel, For þi þat ȝee han repreued þis wrd, and han hopid in to wronge chaleng, and in to noise, and han lened vp on it, xiii þerfore ſhal be to ȝou þis wickidneſſe as betwe broſure fallende, and aȝeen ſoȝt in an heeȝ wal; for fodeynly whil me hopeþ not, ſhal come þe to-broſing of it.
xiv And ſhal be tomyndiſt, as is to-broſid þe galoun of þe crockere wiþ ful strong to-broſyng; and þer ſhal not be founde of his broſingus a ſhord, in whiche be born a litil fyr fro þe brennyng, or be drawe a litil of water fro þe dich.
xv For þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord God, hoeli of Israel, If ȝee turnen aȝeen, and reſten, ȝee ſhul be ſaaf; in ſcience and in hope ſhal be ȝoure ſtrengþe. And ȝee wolden not.
xvi And ȝee feiden, Nai, but to hors we ſhul flee; þerfor ȝee ſhul flee. And vp on swift wee ſhul ſteȝen vp; þerfor more swift ſhul be, þat ſhul purſue ȝou.
xvii A þousend men fro þe face of þe ferd of oon; and fro þe ferd of þe face of fyue ȝee ſhul fleen, to þe tyme þat ȝee be laſt as þe maſt of a ſhip in þe cop of a mounteyn, and as tocne vp on an hil.
xviii Perfor abideþ þe Lord, þat he haue mercy of ȝou, and þerfore ſhal ben enhauncid þe ſparende to ȝou; for God of dom þe Lord, bliſful alle þat abiuden hym.
xix þe puple forſoþe of Sion ſhal dwelle in Jeruſalem; wepende þou ſhalt not wepe, rewende, 'or doyng mercy, he ſhal han mercy of þee; at þe vois of þi cry, anoen as he hereþ, he ſhal anſwern to þee.
xx And þe Lord ſhal ȝyue to þee ſtreit bred, and ſhort water, and he ſhal not make to fleen awey fro þee more þi techere; and þin eȝen ſhul be feende þi comaunderere, xxi and þin eres ſhuln heren þe wrd bihind þe bac of þe monestere; þis þe weie, goþ in it, nouþer to þe riȝt ne to þe lyft.
xxii And þou ſhalt al to-foule þe plates of þe grauen þing of þi ſiluer, and þe cloping of þi ȝoten gold; and þou ſhalt diſtroȝe þem, as þe vncleſſe of þe blod flux of wymmen; Go out, and þou ſhalt fey to it.
xxiii And þer ſhal be ȝoue reyn to þi fed, wher euere þou ſhalt ſowe in þe erþe, and þe bred of þe frutus of þe erþe ſhal be moſt plenteuous 'and fatt; þer ſhul be fed in þi poſſeſſioun in þat day þe lomb ſpaciously, 'or largly.
xxiv And þi bolis and þin aſſe coltes, þat werken þe erþe, mengd barly þei ſhul ete, as in þe cornflor it is wynewid.

xxv And þer ſhul be vp on alle heeȝ mounteyn, and vp on alle rered hil, ryueres of rennende watris, and in þe dai of flaȝtir of manye, whan ſhul falle toures.
xxvi And þe liȝt of þe moone ſhal be as þe liȝt of þe funne, and þe liȝt of þe funne ſhal be ſeuene fold, as þe liȝt of ſeuene daȝes, in þe dai þat þe Lord ſhal bynde þe wounde of his puple, and þe ſmyting of his wounde ſhal helen.
xxvii Lo! þe name of þe Lord cam fro afer; his wodneſſe brennende and heuy to bern; his lippis ben fulſild wiþ indignacioun, and his tunge as fyr deourende.
xxviii His ſpirit as a ſwift ſtrem, flowende vnto þe myddel of þe hyl, to be loſt Jentiles in to noȝt, and þe bridil of error, þat was in þe chekes of puples.
xxix A ſong ſhal be to ȝou, as þe vois of þe halewid ſolempnē; and þe gladneſſe of herte, as he þat gob wiþ a trumpe, þat he entre in to þe hil of þe Lord, to þe ſtronge of Israel.
xxx And herd þe Lord ſhal make þe glorie of his vois, and þe ferd of his arm he ſhal ſhewe in þreting of wodneſſe, and in flaume of fyr deourende; he ſhal hurtle in whirlewind, and in þe ſton of hail. xxxi Fro þe vois forſoþe of þe Lord ſhal dreden Assur ſmyte wiþ a ȝerde;
xxxii and þe paſſing of þe ȝerde ſhal be founded, þat þe Lord ſhal make to reſten vp on hym. In tymbris, and harpis, and in cheef batailis he ſhal ouercome þem.
xxxiii Greiþid is forſoþe fro ȝifterdai Tofeth, fro þe kyng greiþid; his nurſhemens deep and ſpred, fyr and myche wode; þe blaſt of þe Lord as a ſtrem of brunſton vp brennende it.

Capitulum XXXI.

i Wo! þat gon doun in to Egipt to helpe, in hors hopende, and hauende troſt vpon foure horſid carres, for þei ben manye, and vp on hors men, for bifor ſtalwrþe þei ben ful myche; and þei han not troſted vp on þe hoely of Israel, and þe Lord þei han not out ſoȝt.
ii He forſoþe wijs, broȝte to euel, and his wrdis he toc not awey; and he ſhal riſe aȝen þe hous of þe werſte men, and aȝen þe helpe of men wirkende wickidneſſe.
iii Egipt a man, and not God; and his hors flesh, and not ſpirit; and þe Lord ſhal boowen his hond, and togidere ſalle ſhal þe helpere, and ſalle ſhal he, to whom men ȝyueþ helpe, and alle togidere ſhul be waſtid.
iv For þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord to me, What maner if a leoun rore, and þe whelp of a leoun vp on his prey, whan aȝen comeþ to hym þe multitude of ſhepperdus, fro þe vois of hem he ſhal not drede, and of þe multitude of hem he ſhal not inwardly ben aferd; ſo ſhal come doun þe Lord of oſtus, þat he fiȝte vp on þe mount of Sion, and vp on his hilles.

- v As briddes fleende, so defende shal þe Lord of ostus Jerusalem; defendende and delyuerende, passende and sauende.
- vi Beþ conuertid, as in to depþe wenten awei, ȝee sonus of Irael.
- vii In þat dai forsoþe casten awey shal a man þe maumetes of hys siluer, and þe maumetes of his gold, þat maden to ȝou ȝoure hondus in to synne.
- viii And falle shal Affur in fwerd, not of a man, and þe fwerd, not of a man, shal deuoure hym; and he shal flee, not fro þe face of þe fwerd, and his ȝunge men shul be tributaries;
- ix and his strengþe of þe ferd shal passa, and inwardly dreden shul his princes fleende. Þe Lord seide, whos fyr is in Syon, and hys chymne in Jerusalem.

Capitulum XXXII.

- i Lo! in riȝtwisnæsse regne shal a king, and princes in dom shul beforne ben.
- ii And a man shal be, as þat is hid fro þe wynd, and couereþ hymself fro tempest; as ryueres of watriis in brist, and shadewe of þe ston ouerstondende in þe desert lond.
- iii Dafwen shul not þe ezen of men feende, and þe eres of men herende bifyl shul herknen;
- iv and þe herte of fooles shal vnderstonde kunning,
- and þe tunge of bufferes swiftli shal speke, and pleynly.
- v Per shal no more be clepid he þat is vnwis a prince, ne þe gylere shal be clepid a meyr.
- vi Pe fool forsoþe fool þingus shal speke, and his herte shal do wickidnesse, þat he fulfille feynyng, and speke to þe Lord gilendely; and voide he shal make þe soule of þe hungrere, and drinc to þe þristere he shal don awei.
- vii Of þe gilere werft vesseles ben; he forsoþe þoȝtus dide, to be lost mylde men in wrd of leſing, whan þe pore shulde speke dom.
- viii A prince forsoþe þoe þingus þat ben wrþi a prince shal þenke, and he vp on dukes shal stonde.
- ix ȝee plenteuous wymmen, riseþ, and hereþ my voys;
- ȝee troftende doȝtris, parcyueþ wiþ eres my speche.
- x Aftir daȝes forsoþe and a ȝer, and ȝee shul be disturbid troftende; full endid is forsoþe þe vyndage, gedering togidere no more shal come.
- xi Stoneȝeb, ȝee plenteuous wymmen, and beþ disturbid, ȝee troftende; vncloþe ȝou, and beþ confoundid; girdeþ ȝoure leendum;
- xii vp on þe tetes weileþ, vp on þe desirable regiou, vp on þe plenteuous vyneȝerd.
- xiii Vpon þe loewe erþe of my puple þornes and brieres schul steȝen vp; hou myche more vp on alle þe houses of ioȝe of þe cite ful out ioȝende?
- xiv Pe hous forsoþe is left, þe multitude of þe huge cite is forsake; dercnesses and groping ben mad vp on þe

- dennes, vnto wiþ oute ende. Þe ioȝe of feedl asles, þe leswe of flockes;
- xv to þe tyme þat be held out vp on us þe spirit fro an heiȝ, and þer shal be desert in Chermel, and Chermel in to wilde wod shal ben holde.
- xvi And þer shal dwelle in wildernes dom, and riȝtwisnæsse in Chermel shal sitte;
- xvii and þer shal be þe werk of riȝtwisnæsse pes, and þe heriying of riȝtwisnæsse scilence and sikirnesse, vnto euermore.
- xviii And sitte shal my puple in fayrnes of pes, and in tabernacles of troft, and in reste plenteuous.
- xix Hail forsoþe in þe goyng doun of þe wilde wode, and bi meknæsse shal be mekid þe cite.
- xx Blisful ȝee, þat sownen vp on alle watriis, puttende in þe foot of þe oxe and of þe asse.

Capitulum XXXIII.

- i Wo! þou þat robbest; wheþer and þi self shalt not be robbid? and þou þat dispisid, wheþir and þiself shalt not be dispised? Whan þou shalt han ful endid robbing, þou shalt be robbid; whan 'weiried þou lefest to dispise, þou shalt be dispisid.
- ii Lord, haue merci of vs, þee forsoþe wee han abide; be þou oure arm in erly, and oure helpe in tyme of tribulacioun.
- iii Fro þe vois of þe aungil floun puples; of þin enhauncing scattered ben Jentiles.
- iv Gederede togidere shul be ȝoure spoiles, as is gedered brush, as whan þe dices fulle shul be of it.
- v Magnefied is þe Lord, for he dwelte 'in heiȝ, he fulfilid Sion wiþ dom and riȝtwisnæsse.
- vi And feiþ shal ben in þi tymes; richesses of helpe, wiðdam and kunning; þe drede of þe Lord, it þe tresor of hym.
- vii Lo! þe seeres shul crien wiþoute forþ, þe aungeles of pes bitterli shul wepe.
- viii Scatered ben þe weies, cefide þe paſſid bi þe sty; voyde mad is þe couenaunt, he caste awei þe cites, he heeld 'of no pris not men.
- ix Weilede, and languyſhede þe lond; confoundid is Liban, and becam doumb; and mad is Saron as desert, and smyte togidere is Basan, and Carmel.
- x Now I shal rise, feiþ þe Lord, now I shal ben enhauncid, now I shal ben vp rered.
- xi ȝee shul conseye brennyng, ȝee shul bern stobil; ȝoure spirit as fyr shal deuoure ȝou.
- xii And ben shul puples as of þe brennyng askes; þornes gedered togidere in fyr shul be brent.
- xiii Hereþ, ȝee þat ben aferr, what I haue do; and knowiþ, ȝee neȝhebores, my strengþe.
- xiv Al to-broȝid ben in Sion synneres, tremblyng weldede ipocrites; who shal moun dwelle of ȝou wiþ fyr deuourende? who shal dwelle of ȝou wiþ euere durende brennyngus?

xv Pat goþ in riȝtwisnesses, and spekeþ treuþe; þat browiþ awei couetise of wrong chaleng, and shakeþ out his hondis fro alle ȝifte; þat stoppiþ his eres, leſt he here blod, and cloſiþ his eȝen, leſt he fee euel.
 xvi ȿis in heiȝtus shal dwelle, þe strengþys of huge stones his heȝte; bred to hym is ȝoue, his watriſ ben feijþful.
 xvii ȿe king in his fairneſſe ſeen shuln his eȝen;
 biholden ſchul þe lond fro afer.
 xviii ȿin herte ſweteli shal þenke drede; wher is þe lettrid? Wher is þe wrdus of þe lawe chargende? wher is þe doctour of litil childer?
 xix Vnprudent puple he shal not ſee, puple of heiȝ fermoun, fo þat þou mowe not vnderſtonde þe fleynesse of his tunge, in whiche is no wiſdam.
 xx Bihold Sion, þe cite of oure ſolempnete; þin eȝen shul ſee Jeruſalem, a plenteuous cite, a tabernacle þat shal not moun ben ouerborn, ne his nailis shul ben take awei in to euermor; and alle his litil cordes shul not be to-broken.
 xxi For onli þere þe grete doyng, Lord oure God; þe place of flodes ryueres moſt brod and opene; þer entride not bi it þe ſhip of roweres, ne þe grete ſhip of þre ſtagis shal not ouergon it.
 xxii ȿe Lord forſoþe oure domes man, þe Lord oure lawe ȝyuere, þe Lord oure king; he shal come, and fauen us.
 xxiii Slakid ben þi litil cordes, but þei shul not han þe maiſtri; fo ſhal be þi maſt, þat þou mow not ſprede abrod a tocne. ȿanne shul be deuydid ſpoiles of many preyes, halte men shul take awey rauelyn.
 xxiv Ne þe neȝheboře shal fey, I languyfheðe; þe puple þat dwellede in it, þer ſhal be don awei fro hym wickenesse.

Capitulum XXXIII.

i Neȝheþ, ȝee Jentiles, and hereþ; takeþ heed, ȝee puples; here þe lond, and his fulneſſe, þe world, and al his buriownyng.
 ii For þe indignacioun of þe Lord vp on alle Jentiles, and wodneſſe vp on al þe chyualrie of hem; he floȝ hem, and ȝaf þem in to flaȝter.
 iii ȿe flayne of hem shul be þrowe afer, and of þe careynes of hem shal ſteȝen vp ſtinc; whlaten shul mounteynes of þe blod of hem.
 iv And wlate ſhal al þe knyȝthed of heuenes, and 'heuenes ſhulen be foldid togidere as a boc, and al þe knyȝthed of hem shal fade, as fadeþ awey a lef of þe vyne and of þe fige tree.
 v For inwardli drunken is in heuene my fwerd; lo! vp on Ydume it ſhal come doun, and vp on þe puple of my fleyng, to dom.
 vi ȿe fwerd of þe Lord fulſild is of blod, innerly fattid it is wiþ talȝ of blod of lombis and of get, of þe blod of merewi weþeres; forſoþe victorie ſacrifiſes of þe Lord in Bosra, and gret flaȝter in þe lond of Edom.

 vii And doun ſhul come vnycornes wiþ hem, and booles wiþ þe myȝty; inwardli drunken ſhal be þe lond of hem wiþ blod, and þe loewe erþe of hem wiþ talȝ of fatte þingis;
 viii for þe dai of þe veniaunce of þe Lord, ȝer of ȝeelding of þe dom of Sion.
 ix And turned ſhuln ben his ſtremes in to pich, and his loewȝ erþe in to brunſton; and his erþe ſhal be in to brennende pich, nyȝt and day.
 x It ſhal not be queynt in to euermor, his ſmoke ſhal ſteȝen vp fro ieneracioun in to ieneracioun, and defolat ſhal be in to worldus of worldis; þer ſhal not ben a paſſere þurȝ it.
 xi And welden ſhul it þe foul in face lic an aſſe, and þe irchoun; and þe ſnyte, and þe crowe dwelle ſhul in it; and ſtraȝt out vp on it ſhal ben a meſure, þat it be broȝt to noȝt, and 'a lyne euene doun piȝt in to defolacioun.
 xii His noble men ſhul not be þere; þe king more þei ſhul inwardly clepen, and ben ſhuln alle his princes in to noȝt.
 xiii And þer ſhul ſpringe in his houses þornes and netles, and tasil in þe ſtrengþis of it; and it ſhal be þe bed place of dragownes, and þe leſwe of ostriches.
 xiv And aȝen come ſhul dueleſ, þe beſte party an aſſe and 'a party a man, and þe wodewoſe; þe toþir ſhal crie to þe toþer. ȿere ſhal lyn 'lamya, þat is, a pirs, or a beſte hauende þe bodi lic a womman and horſe feet;
 and he fyndeþ to himſelf reſte;
 xv þere hadde dices þe yrchoun, and nurſhede out little chittes, and aboute dalf, and nurſhede in his ſhadewe; þere ben gedered kites, þe toþer to þe toþer.
 xvi Secheþ beſily in þe boc of þe Lord, and redeþ; oon of hem failyde not, þe toþer at þe toþer ſoȝte not; for þat of my mouȝ ȝide forþ, he comaundide, and his ſpirit he gederede þo þingus.
 xvii And he ſente to þem lot, and his hond deuydede it to þem in to meſure; vnto euermore þei ſhul welden it, in ieneracioun and ieneracioun þei ſhul dwellen it.

Capitulum XXXV.

i Gladens ſhal defert, and þe wiþ oute weie, and ful out ſhal ioȝen þe wildernesſe, and flouren as a lylie.
 ii Buriownyng it ſhal burioune, and ful out ioȝen, ioȝeful and preiſing. ȿe glorie of Liban is ȝoue to it, þe fairneſſe of Carmel and of Saron; þei ſhul ſee þe glorie of þe Lord, and þe fairneſſe of oure God.
 iii Coumforteþ þe hondes loofid atwynde, and þe feble knees ſtrengþeþ.
 iv Seiþ, ȝee 'oſt litil corage, takeþ coumfort, and wileþ not dreden; lo! oure God veniaunce of ȝeelding ſhal bringe, God he ſhal come, and fauen vs.
 v ȿanne ſhul ben opened þe eȝen of blynde men, and eres of deue men ſhul ben opened.

vi Panne shal lepe as an hert þe halte, and opened shal be þe tunge of doumbe men; for kut ben in desert watri, and stremes in wilderneſſe.
 vii And þat was drie in to a pond, and þe þristende in to welles of watri. In þe couches, in þe whiche bifor dwelten dragounes, shal ſpringe þe greneneſſe of þe reed, and of þe reſſhe.
 viii And it shal be þere in þe sty, and in þe weie, and an hoely weie it shal be clepid, paffe shal not bi it a defoulid; and þis shal be to you a ſtraſt riſt weie, fo þat foolys erre not by it.
 ix Per shal not be þere a leoun, and euel beſte shal not ſteȝen vp bi it, 'ne be founden þere.
 x And gon shul þei þat shul ben delyuered; and þe boȝt of þe Lord shul be conuertid, and comen in to Sion wiþ preiſing; and euere durende gladneſſe vp on þe hed of hem; ioȝe and gladneſſe þei shul welde, and flee shal forewe and weiling.

Capitulum XXXVI.

i And don it is in þe fourtenþe ȝer of king Ezechie, ſteȝede vp Senacherib, king of Affiries, vp on alle þe strengbið cites of Juda, and toc hem.
 ii And þe king of Affiries fente Rapsacen fro Laches in to Jerufalem, to king Ezechie, in an heuy hond; and ſtod in þe water kundute of þe ouere pond, in þe weie of þe fulleris feeld.
 iii And wente oute to hym Elyachym, ſone of Elchie, þat was vpon þe hous, and Sobna, ſcribe, and Joae, þe ſone of Alaf, chaunceler.
 ivi And Rapsaces feide to þem, Seiþ to Ezechie, Peſe þingus seiþ þe grete king, king of Affiries, What is þis triſt, þat þou troſteſt?
 v or of counſeil or strengþe to rebellen þou diſpoſiſt? vp on whom haſt þou troſt, for þou haſt gon awei fro me?
 vi Lo! þou troſtiſt vp on þis ſtaſt of reed to-broken, 'vp on Egipt, to whom if a man shul lene, it shal go in to his hond, and berlen it; fo Farao, king of Egipt, to alle men þat troſten in hym.
 vii þat if þou anſwere to me, In þe Lord oure God wee troſten; wheþer not he is, whos heȝe þyngus and auteres toc awei Ezechie, and ſeyde to Jude and to Jerufalem, Beſorn þis auter ȝee ſhul honoure?
 viii And now 'tac þee to my lord, þe king of Affiries, and I ſhal ȝyue to þee two þouſend hors, and þou ſhalt not moun ȝyuen of þee ſteȝeres vp of hem.
 ix And what maner fustene ſhal be face of a domes man of o place of þe laſſe ſeruauns of my lord? þat if þou troſte in Egipt, and in þe foure horſid carre, and in þe horſe men;
 x and now wheþer wiþoute þe Lord I ſteȝede vp to þis lond, þat I ſhulde deſtroȝe it? Pe Lord ſeide to me, ſteȝe vp vp on þis lond, and deſtroȝe it.
 xi And Eleachym feide, and Sobna, and Joae, to Rapsacen, Spec to þi ſeruauntis in Sirie tunge, wee vnderſtonden forſoþe; ne ſpeke þou to vs Jewly, in þe eres of þe puple, þat is vp on þe wal.

 xii And feide to þem Rapsaces, Wheþer to 'þi lord and to þee fente me my lord, þat 'I ſchuld ſpeke alle þeſe wrdys, and not more to þe men þat ſytten in þe wal, þat þei ete þer toordes, and drinke þer vryne of þeir feet wiþ ȝou?
 xiii And Rapsaces ſtod, and criede wiþ a gret vois Jeuly, and feide, Herep þe wrdes of þe grete king, king of Affiries.
 xiv Peſe þyngus ſeiþ þe king, Bigile not ȝou Ezechie, for he ſhal not moun delyueren ȝou out;
 xv and not to ȝou troſt ȝyue Ezechie vp on þe Lord, ſeide, Delyuerende þe Lord ſhal delyueren vs; ſhal not be ȝoue þis cite in þe hond of þe king of Affiries. xvi Wileþ not heren Ezechie. Peſe þingus forſoþe ſeiþ þe king of Affiries, Doþ wiþ me blesſyng, and goþ out to me; and eteþ eche his vyne, and eche his fige tree, and drinkeþ eche þe water of his cifterne, xvii to þe tyme þat I come, and take ȝou awei to þe lond þat is as ȝoure lond; lond of whete and of wyn, lond of loefes and of vynes.
 xviii Ne diſturbē ȝou Ezechie, ſeide, Pe Lord ſhal delyueren vs. Wheþer delyuereden þe godes of Jentiles eche his lond fro þe hond of þe king of Affiries?
 xix Wher is þe god of Emath, and of Arfath? Wher is þe god of Sefaruaym? Wheþer þei deliuereden Samarie fro myn hond?
 xx Who is of alle þe godes of þeſe londis þat delyuerede his lond fro myn hond, þat þe Lord delyueren Jerufalem fro myn hond?
 xxi And þei heelden þer pes, and anſwerden not to hym a wrd. Forſoþe þe king hadde comaundid to þem, ſeide, Ne anſwere ȝee to hym.
 xxii And wente in Elyachym, þe ſone of Elchie, þat was vp on þe hous, and Sobna, ſcribe, and Joae, ſone of Alaf, chaunceler, to Ezechie, kut þe cloþis, and tolden to hym þe wrdes of Rapsaes.

Capitulum XXXVII.

i And it is do, whan hadde herd king Ezechie, he kutte his cloþis, and wrappid is wiþ a fac, and wente in to þe hous of þe Lord.
 ii And he fente Eleachym, þat was vp on þe hous, and Sobnam, ſcribe, and þe elderes of þe preeſtus, coouered wiþ fackus, to Isaie, þe ſone of Amos, profete.
 iii And þei ſeiden to hym, Peſe þingus ſeiþ Ezechie, Pe dai of tribulacioun, and of anguylh, and of correccioun, and of blaſfemye, þis day; for þer camen ſones to þe berþe, and vertue was not of bering. ivi If any maner here þe Lord þi God þe wrdus of Rapsaces, whom fente þe king of Affiries, his lord, to blaſfemen þe God lyuende, and to repreue wiþ wrdis, whiche herde þe Lord bi God, rere vp þanne orisoun for þe relikes þat ben founde.

v And þer camen seruauns of king Esechie to Isaie; vi and Isaie feide to þem, þese þingus ȝee shul seyn to zoure lord, þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Ne drede þou of þe face of þe wrdus þat þou hast herd, wiþ whiche blasfemeden þe childer of þe king of Assiries me.

vii Lo! I shal ȝyue to hym a spirit, and he shal heren a messager; and he shal be turned aȝeen to his lond, and to fallen I shal maken hym wiþ swerd in his lond.

viii Rapsaces forsoþe is turned aȝeen, and he fond þe king of Assiries fiȝtende aȝen Lobnam; forsoþe he hadde herd, for he was go fro Lachis.

ix And he herde of Theracha, king of Ethiope, feiende, He wente out, þat he fiȝte aȝen þee. Þe whiche þing whan he hadde herd, he sente messageres to Esechie, feiende,

x Þese þingus ȝee shul seyn to Esechie, king of Jude, spekende, Not þee disceyue bi God, in whiche þou trofsteſt, feiende, Jerusalēm shal not be ȝyue in þe hond of þe king of Assiries.

xi Lo! þou haſt herd what dide alle þe kingus of Assiries to alle londes þat þei turneden vpſo doun; and `Iſhalt þou moun be delyuered?

xii Wheþer delyuereden hem þe godis of Jentiles, whom turneden vpſo doun my fadris; Gosam, and Aran, and Resef, and þe fones Eden, þat weren in Thalasar?

xiii Wher is þe king of Emath, and þe king of Arfath, and þe king of þe huge cite Cefaruaym, and Ana, and Aua?

xiv And Esechie toc þe bokes of þe hond of þe messager, and radde þem; and he stedeþe vp in to þe hous of þe Lord, and spredde out hem bifor þe Lord;

xv and preȝede þe Lord, feiende, xvi Lord of oſtes, God of Israel, þat sittist vp on cherubyn, þou art God alone of alle þe reumes of erþe; þou madist heuene and erþe.

xvii Boowe doun, Lord, þin ere, and here; opene þin eȝen, Lord, and see; and here alle þe wrdus of Senacherub, þat he sente to blasfemen God lyuende.

xviii Verely forsoþe, Lord, desert maden þe kingis of Assiries londus, and þe regiouns of þem, xix and ȝeuen þe goddis of hem to fyr; forsoþe þei weren not goddus, but were of þe hondus of men, tree and stonus; and þei to-mynushten hem.

xx And now, Lord oure God, faue vs fro þe hond of hym; and knowen alle þe reumes of erþe, for þou art Lord God alone.

xxi And Isaie, þe fone of Amos, sente to Esechie, feiende, þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Israel, For þe whiche þou preȝedest me of Senacherub, king of Assiries,

xxii þis is þe wrd þat þe Lord spac vp on hym, He dispide þee, he vndermouwede þee, þou maiden doȝtir of Sion; aftir þee þe hed he mouede, þou maide doȝter of Jerusalēm.

xxiii To whom haſt þou repreuded, and whom haſt þou blasfemed? and vp on whom haſt þou rered bi vois, and haſt rered þe heiȝte of þin eȝen? To þe hoeli of Israel.

xxiv In þe hond of þi seruauns þou haſt repreuded to þe Lord, and seidist, In þe multitude of my foure horsed carres I stedeþe vp þe heiȝtus of mounteynes, ȝokes of Liban; and I shal tohewen þe heȝe þingus of his cedris, and þe choseñ firres of it; and I shal go in to þe heiȝte of his cop, þe wilde wode of þe Carmel of it.

xxv I dalf, and drank þe water of it; and I drieðe wiþ þe step of my foot alle þe ryueres of þe waterhepes.

xxvi Wheþer þou haſt not herd what þingus sum tyme I dide to hym? Of olde dazes I foormede it, and now I haue broȝt to; and it is do `in to þe drawing out bi þe roote of hilles togidere fiȝtende, and of strengpid cites.

xxvii þe dwelleris of þem wiþ an hond shourtid togidere trembleden, and ben confoundid; þei ben mad as hei of þe feld, and corn of þe leſwe, and erbe of rooues, þat out drieðe er it wex ryp.

xxviii Pi dwelling, and þin entre, and þi going out Y knew, and þi wodnesse aȝen me.

xxix Whan þou `were wod aȝen me, þi pride stedeþe vp in to myn eres; I shal putte þanne a cercle in þi nose þirles, and a bridil in þi lippis; and I shal bringe aȝeen þee in to þe weie, bi þe whiche þou came.

xxx To þee forsoþe þis shall ben a tocne; et þis ȝer þat freeli ben sprunge, and in þe secunde ȝer et appelis; in þe þridde forsoþe ȝer loweþ, and repiþ, and plaunteþ vynes, and eteþ þe frut of hem.

xxxi And he shall putte it, þat were faued of þe hous of Juda, and þat is laſt setten þe roote beneþe, and shal make frute aboue;

xxxii for fro Jerusalēm shul gon out relikes, and ſaluacioun fro þe mount of Sion; þe inward loue of þe Lord of oſtes shal do þis.

xxxiii Perfore þese þinges seiþ þe Lord, of þe king of Assiries, He shal not go in to þis cite, and he shal not browe þere an arwe; and þer shal not occupie it a ſheld, and he shal not putte in his enuyroun an hep `of erþe.

xxxiv In þe weie þat he cam, bi it he shal be turned aȝeen; and þis cite he shal not gon in, seiþ þe Lord.

xxxv And I shal defende þis cite, þat I faue it, for me, and for Dauid, my feruaunt.

xxxvi Wente out forsoþe þe aungil of þe Lord, and ſimot in þe tentus of Assiries an hundred and fyue and eiȝeti þousend; and þei riſen erli, and lo! alle þe careynes of þe deade men.

xxxvii And he wente out, and ȝide awei. And turned aȝeen is Senacherub, king of Assiries, and dwelte in Nynyue.

xxxviii And don is, whan he ſhulde honoure in þe temple of Mefrach, his god, Aramalech and Sarazer, his fones, ſmyten hym wiþ swerd, and floun in to þe lond of Ararath; and regnede for hym Asaradon, his sone.

Capitulum XXXVIII.

- i In þo dæs ſicnede Ezechie vnto þe deþ; and wente in to hym Iſaie, þe foun of Amos, þe profete, and feide to hym, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Dispoſe to þin house, for die ſhalt þou, and not lyuen.
ii And Ezechie turnede his face to þe wal, and honourede þe Lord, iii and feide, I 'ynwardli preȝe, Lord; haue mynde, I beſeche, what maner I ȝide bifor þee in treuþe, and in parfit herte, and þat is good in þin eȝen, I dide. And Ezechie wepte wiþ gret weping.
iv And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Iſaie, ſciende, v Go, and ſei to Ezechye, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Dauid, þi fader, I haue herd þin orisoun, and ſeen þi teres. Lo! I ſhal ley to vp on þi dæsiftene ȝer; v and fro þe hond of þe king of Affiries I ſhal delyuere þee and þis cite, and I ſhal defenden it.
vi Pis forſoþe to þee ſhal ben a tocne fro þe Lord, for þe Lord ſhal do þis wrd þat he fpac.
vii Loo! I ſhal make to turne aȝeen þe ſhadewe of lynes, bi þe whiche it hadde go doun in þe oriloge of Acath, in þe funne, bacward by ten lynes. And þe funne is turned aȝeen bi ten lynes, bi þe greeſ þat it hadde go doun.
viii Pe scripture of Ezechie, king of Juda, whan he hadde be ſyc, and hadde couered of his ſyenesſe.
ix I ſeide, in þe myddel of my dæſes I ſhal go to þe ȝates of helle. I foȝte þe reſidue of my ȝeres; x I ſeide, I ſhal not ſee þe Lord God in þe lond of lyueres; I ſhal not biholde a man more ouer, and a dwellere of reſte.
xi My ieneracioun is taken awei, and al folden vp fro me, as a tabernacle of ſhepherdes. Kut of is as of a weuere my lif; whil ȝit I weuede, he under kutte me. Fro erli vnto euen þou ſhalt ende me; xii I hopede vnto þe moru; as a leoun, ſo he to-broſed alle my bones. Fro erli 'vn to euen þou ſhalt ende me; xiii as þe brid of a ſwalewe, ſo I ſhal crien; ſwetel I ſhal þenke as a culuer. Al to-feblid ben myn eȝen, biholdende vp in heiȝte. Lord, fors I ſuffre, anſwere þou for me; xiv what ſhal I fey, or what ſhal anſwere to me, whan I myſelf haue do? I ſhal eft þenke to þee alle my ȝeres, in þe bitterneſſe of my foulē.
xv Lord, if þus it is lyued, and in ſuche þingus þe lif of my ſpirit, þou ſhalt chaſtife me, and quykene me; xvi lo! in pes my bitterneſſe moſt bitter. þou forſoþe haſt deliuered out my ſoule, þat it ſhulde not perſhe; þou haſt þrowe aferr bihind þi bac alle my ſynnus.
xvii For helle ſhal not knouleche to þee, nor deþ ſhal preife þee; and þei ſhul not abyden þi treuþe, þat gon doun in to þe lake.

xix Lyuende, lyuende, he ſhal knouleche to þee, as and I to dai; þe fader to þe ſonus knowe ſhal make pi treuþe.

xx Lord, mac me ſaf, and oure ſalmes wee ſhal ſinge alle þe dæſes of oure lif in þe hous of þe Lord.

xi And Iſaie comaundide, þat þei ſhulden taken an hep of fyges, and þei ſhulde make an enplastré vp on þe wounde; and he ſhulde ben hoel.

xii And Ezechye ſeide, What ſhal be þe tocne, for I ſhal ſteȝe vp 'in to þe hous of þe Lord?

Capitulum XXXIX.

i In þat tyme ſente Marodoch Baladan, þe ſone of Baladan, þe king of Babiloyne, lettris and ȝiftes to Ezechie; forſoþe he hadde herd, þat he hade be ſyc, and was coouered.

ii Forſoþe Ezechie gladeſe vp on þo þingus, and he ſhewede to þem þe ſelle of ſpices, and of ſiluer, and of gold, and of ſwote þingus, and of þe beſte oynement, and al þe cofres of his neceſſarie þingus, and alle þingus þat ben founde in his tresories; þer was not a wrd, þat Ezechie ſhewede not to þem in his hous, and in al his power.

iii Forſoþe Iſaie, þe profete, wente in to Ezechie, þe king, and ſeide to hym, What ſeiden þeſe men, and whennes camen þei to þee? And Ezechie ſeide, Fro a ferr lond þei camen to me, fro Babyloyn.

iv And he ſeyde, What ſeȝen þei in þin hous? And Ezechie ſeide, Alle þingus þat in myn hous ben, þei ſeȝen; þer was not a þing, þat I ſhewede not to þem in my tresories.

v And Iſaie ſeide to Ezechie, Here þe wrd of þe Lord of oſtes.

vi Lo! dæſes ſhul come, and alle þingus ſhul be don awei, þat ben in þin hous, and þat þi fadris han tresored vn to þis dai, in to Babiloyne; þer ſhal not be laſt any þing, seiþ þe Lord.

vii And of þi ſonus, þat ſhul gon out of þee, þe whiche þou ſhalt gete, þei ſhul take awei; and þei ſhul be geldingus in þe paleis of þe king of Babiloyne.

viii And Ezechie ſeide to Iſaie, Good is þe wrd of þe Lord, þat he fpac. And he ſeide, Be þer do onli pes and treuþe in my dæſes.

Capitulum XL.

i Beþ coumfortid, beþ coumfortid, ȝee my puple, seiþ ȝoure God.

ii Spekeþ to þe herte of Jerufalem, and clepeþ to it, for ful endid is his malice, forȝyuen is his wickidneſſe; he toc of þe hond of þe Lord double þingus for alle his ſynnus.

iii Pe vois of þe criende in deſert, Makeþ redy þe weie of þe Lord, riȝt makeþ in wildernesſe þe ſties of oure God.

ivii Eche valei shal be enhaunced, and eche monteyn `and hil shal be mekid; and þer shul be shreude þingus in to euene riȝt þingus, and sharpe þingus in to pleyne weies.

v And þer shal be opened þe glorie of þe Lord, and seen shal eche flesh togidere, þat þe mouȝ of þe Lord spac.

vi Pe vois of þe Lord, feiende, Cry. And I seide, What shal I crien? Eche flesh hei, and al his glorie as þe flower of þe feld.

vii Ful out dried is þe hei, and þe flour fel, for þe spirit of þe Lord bleȝ in it. Verely þe hei is þe purple; viii ful out dried is þe hei, and þe flour fel; þe wrd forsoþe of þe Lord dwelleþ in to wiþouten ende.

ix Vp on an hiȝ hil steȝ vp, þou þat euangelisist to Sion; enhaunce in strengþe bi vois, þou þat euangelisist to Jerusalem; enhaunce, and wile þou not drede; sei to þe cites of Jude, Lo! ȝoure God.

x Lo! þe Lord God in strengþe shal come, and his arm shal lordshipen; lo! his meede wiþ hym, and his were biforn hym.

xi As a shepperde `shal feede his floc, in his arm he shal gedere þe lombis, and in his bosum shal rerer; `þe sheep ful of frut he shal bern.

xii Who mesured wiþ handful wattris, and heunes wiþ þe paume peifede? Who heeng vp wiþ þre fingris þe heuynesse of þe erþe, and weȝede in peis þe mounteynes, and þe hilles in a balaunce?

xiii Who helpede þe Spirit of þe Lord, or who his counseiler was, and shewede to hym?

xiv Wiþ whom wente he in counseil, and enformede hym, and taȝte hym þe siȝ of riȝtwisnesse, and lerede hym wiþ kunnyngh, and þe weie of prudence shewede to hym?

xv Lo! Jentiles as a drope of a boket, and as moment of a balaunce ben holden; lo! iles as litil pouder, xvi and Liban shal not suffisen to brenne, and his bestus shuln not suffisen to brent sacrifice.

xvii Alle Jentiles as þei ben not, so þei ben bifor hym;
and as noȝt and inwardli voide þei ben holden to hym.

xviii To whom þanne lic haſt þou mad God? or what ymage shul ȝee putte to hym?

xix Wheþer þe grauen þing shal þe smiȝ ȝeete, or þe craftis man wiþ gold shall figure it, and wiþ siluerene plates þe siluer smyþ?

xx Pe strunge tree, and þe vnable to roten ches þe wise craftes man; he secheþ what maner he sette þe symulacre, þat it moue not.

xxi Wheþer ȝee shul not wite? wheþer ȝee han not herd? wheþer not told to ȝou it is fro þe bigynnyng?
wheþer ȝee han not vnderstonde þe foundemens of þe
erþe?

xxii þat sitteþ vp on þe cumpas of þe erþe, and his dwelleris ben as locultes; þat streccheþ out as noȝt heuenus, and spredeþ abrod hem as tabernacle to indwelle.

xxiii þat ȝyueþ þe sercheres of priuytees, as þoȝ þei be not, þe domes men of þe erþe as voide he made.

xxiv And forsoþe ne plauntid, ne sownen, ne rootid in þe erþe þe stoc of hem, feerli he bleȝ in to þem, and þei drieden, and a whirlewind as stibil shal take þem awei.

xxv And to whom han ȝee licned me, and euened han me? seiþ þe hoeli.

xxvi Rereþ vp in to heiȝ ȝoure eȝen, and seeþ, who `made of noȝt þe þingus; þat bringeþ out in noumbre þe knyȝthod of hem, and alle bi name he clepeþ, for multitude of strengþe, and of stalwrþenesse, and of his virtue; ne oon was laft.

xxvii Whi seift þou, Jacob, and spekeſt, Israel, Hid is my wey fro þe Lord, and fro my God my dom passede?

xxviii Wheþer wost þou not, or haſt not herd, God euere durende? Pe Lord þat foormede þe termes of þe erþe, he shal not faile, ne trauaile, ne þer is ensarching of his wisdam.

xxix þat ȝyueþ to þe weri vertue, and to þem þat ben not, strengþe and stalwrþenesse multeplieþ.

xxx Failen shul childer, and trauailen, and ȝunge men in þer feblenesse fallen.

xxxi Who forsoþe openen in þe Lord, shul chaunge strengþe, take to federes as of an egle; rennen, and not trauailen; gon, and not faylen.

Capitulum XLI.

i Bee stille to me, yles, and Jentyles strengþe chaunge þei; neȝhen, and þanne speke þei; togidere to dom nyȝ come wee.

ii Who rerede fro þe est þe riȝtwis, clepede hym, þat he shulde folewe hymself? He shal ȝyue in his siȝte Jentyles, and kingus he shal welde; he shal ȝyue as pouder to his fwerd, as stibil wiþ þe wind raueshid to his bowe.

iii He shal pursue hem, `he shal passe in pes; þe sty in his feet shal not apere.

iv Who þe þingus wroȝte and dide? clepende ieneraciouns fro þe bigynnyng. I a Lord; first and þe laſt I am.

v Iles seeȝen, and trembleden; þe vtmostus of þe erþe becamen stoneid, þei neȝheden, and wente to.

vi Eche to his neȝhebore shal helpen, and to his broþer seyn, Tac coumfort.

vii Coumforten shal þe metal smyþ simytende hym wiþ an hamer þat forgede þat tyme, feiende to þe glyu, It is good; and he coumfortide hym wiþ nailes, þat it shulde not be moued.

viii And þou, Israel, my seruaunt, Jacob, whom I ches, þe fed of Abraham, my frend, ix in whom I toc þee fro þe vtmostes of þe erþe, and fro his ferre coestes I clepede þee, and seide to þee, My seruaunt þou art; I ches þee, and I caste not awei þee.

x Ne drede þou, for I am wiþ þee; ne bowe þou doun, for I bi God. I haue comfertid þee, and holpen þee; and vndertoc þee þe riȝthond of my riȝtwis.
 xi Lo! shul be confoundid, and shamen alle þat fiȝten aȝen þee; þei shul be as þoȝ þei be not, and pershe shul be men, þat aȝenseyn to þee.
 xii Pou shalt sechen hem, and not finden; þi rebel men þei shul ben, as þoȝ þei ben not, and as þe waſting of a man fiȝtende aȝen þee.
 xiii For I þe Lord bi God, takende þin hond, and seiende to þee, Ne drede þou, for I haue holpen þee.
 xiv Wile þou not drede, þou worm of Jacob, þat dead ȝee ben of Israel. I haue holpen þee, seiþ þe Lord, and þin aȝeen biere, þe hoeli of Israel.
 xv I haue set þee as a newe wayn þresshende, hauende pikede poeles lawende; þou shalt þresshe mounteynes, and to-mynushen, and putten as pouder hillis.
 xvi Pou shalt wynewe þem, and þe wind shal take awei, and þe whirlewind shal scatere þem; and þou ful out shalt ioȝen in þe Lord, and in þe hoeli of Israel shalt glade.
 xvii Nedi and pore men shul seche watri, and þer ben not; þe tung of þem wiþ þrist drie. I þe Lord shal out heren hem, I God of Israel shal not forſake þem. xviii I shal opene in heȝe hillis flodys, and in þe myddel of feeldis welles; I shall sette desert in to pondis of watri, and þe lond wiþoute weie in to riueres of watri.
 xix I shal ȝyue in wildernesse ceder, and þorne, and myrt tree, and oliue tree; I shal sette in desert fyrr tree, and vlm tree, and box togidere.
 xx Pat þei see, and wite, and beþenke, and vnderstonde togidere; for þe hond of þe Lord dide þis, and þe hoeli of Israel foormede it.
 xxi Nyȝ doþ ȝoure dom, seiþ þe Lord; bringeþ to, if any þing parauenture ȝee han, seiþ þe king of Jacob.
 xxii Come þei nyȝ, and telle þei to vs, what euer þingus ben to come; þe raþere þingus þat weren, telliþ, and wee shul putte oure herte, and wite; þe laste þingis of hem, and þat ben to come, shewiþ to vs.
 xxiii Telleþ þat ben to come in to tyme to come, and wee shul wite, for goddis ȝee ben; well allo or euele, if ȝee moun, doþ; and speke wee, and see wee togidere.
 xxiv Lo! ȝee ben of noȝt, and ȝour werec 'of þat þyng þat is not; abhominacioun he is, þat ches ȝou.
 xxv I rerede fro þe norþ, and he shal come from þe rising vp of þe funne; clepe he shal my name. He shal bringe to þe cheef maistris as clei, and as a daubere,
 'or a potter, totredende þe lowe erþe.
 xxvi Who tolde fro þe bigynnyng, þat wee witen, and fro þe begynnyng, þat wee sey, Pou art riȝtwis? þer is not a tellere, ne a bifor seiere, ne herere ȝoure wrdis. xxvii Be firſte to Sion shal sei, Lo! I am nyȝ; and to Jerusalēm an euangelist I shal ȝyue.
 xxviii And I faȝ, and þer was not of þese any man þat ȝide in counſeil, and 'aſkid anſwerde a wrd.

xxix Lo! alle vnriȝtwife, and veyne þe werkes of hem;
 wynde, and wiþ ynne voide þe symulacris of þem.

Capitulum XLII.

i Lo! my feruaunt, I shal vndertaken hym, my chosen, al pleſede to hym in hym my foule. I ȝaf my ſpirit vp on hym, dom to Jentiles he shal bringe forþ.
 ii He shal not crien, ne take perſone, ne shal ben herd his voys wiþoute forþ.
 iii A reed broſid he shal not to-trede, and flax ſmokende he shal not quenchen; in treuþe he shal bringe out dom.
 iv He shal not be dreri, ne trublid, to þe tyme he pute in þe erþe dom, and his lawe iles shul abiden.
 v ȝeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord God, formende heuenes, and ſtrechende out hem, fastnende erþe, and þat buriounen of it, ȝyuende breþ to þe puple, þat is vpon it, and ſpirit to men tredende it.
 vi I þe Lord clepede þee in riȝtwifneſſe, and toc þin hond, and kepte þee, and ȝaf þee in to couenaunt of þe puple, in to liȝt of Jentiles.
 vii Pat þou ſhuldiſt opene þe eȝen of blynde men; þat þou ſhuldyſt bringe out fro cloſing þe bounde, fro þe hous of priſoun þe fitteres in dercneſſe.
 viii I a Lord, þis is my name; my glorie to an oþer I ſhall not ȝyue, and my preiſing to grauen þingus.
 ix Pat firſt weren, lo! ben comen, newe þingus also I telle; er þei ben ſprunge, herd I shal maken to ȝou.
 x Syngþ to þe Lord a newe ſong; his preiſing fro þe vtmoſtes of þe erþe; ȝee þat gon doun in to þe ſe, and þe plente of it, iles, and þe dwelleres of hem.
 xi Be rered vp þe desert, and þe cites of it; in his houſes shal dwelle Cedar; preiſeþ, ȝee dwelleris of þe ſton; fro þe top of mounteynes þei shul crien.
 xii Þei shul ſette to þe Lord glorie, and his preiſing in iles þei shul telle.
 xiii þe Lord as ſtrong shal gon out, as a man fiȝtere he shal rer enuye; he shal crien out, and crien; vp on his enemys he shal be comferted.
 xiv Y heeld my pes, euermor I was ſtille; patient I was,
 as þe traualende wiþ child I shal ſpeke; I shal ſcateren, and ſoupen awei togidere.
 xv Desert I shal make hiȝe mounteynes and hillys, and alle þe buriounyng of hem I shal out drien; and I shal ſette flodis in to iles, and pondis I shal make drie.
 xvi And I shal bringe out blynde men in to þe weie, þat þei knowe not, and in þe ſties þat þei vnknownen, hem to gon I shal make; I shal putte þe derkneſſes of hem beforne hem in to liȝt, and ſhreude þingis in to euene riȝt; þeſe wrdus I dide to þem, and I forſoc not hem.
 xvii Turned þei ben bacward; be þei confoundid wiþ confuſion, þat troſten in grauen þing; þat ſeyn to þe ȝoten þing, ȝee oure goddis.
 xviii ȝee deue men, hereþ; and ȝee blinde, biholdeþ to ſeen.

xix Who blinde, but my seruaunt? and def, but to whom my messageres I sente? Who blind, but he þat is fold? who blind, but þe seruaunt of þe Lord?

xx þat seest many þingus, wheþer þou shalt not kepe? þat opened haft þe eres, wheþer þou shalt not here? xxi And þe Lord wolde, þat he shulde halewen hym, and magnefie þe lawe, and enhauncen.

xxii He forþoþe a puple `drawen awei, and wasted; a grene of ȝunge men alle togidere, and in houes of prisounis þei ben hid. Þei ben maad in to rauelyn, and þer is not þat delyuere; `in to taking awei, and þer is not þat `seie, ȝeeld.

xxiii Who is in ȝou, þat here þis, take heed, and herkne þingus to come?

xxiv Who ȝaf Jacob in to pulling awei, and Israel to waſteres? Wheþer not þe Lord? He is, to whom þei fynneden; and þei wolden not in his weies gon, þei herden not his lawe.

xxv And he helde out vp on it þe indignacioun of his wodness, and strong bataile; and he to-brende it in cumpas, and it kneȝt not; he tende it vp, and it vndirſtōd not.

Capitulum XLIII.

i And now þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord God, shapende þee, Jacob, and foormende þee, Israel, Wile þou not drede, for I haue aȝeenboȝt þee, and I clepede þee bi þi name; my seruaunt þou art.

ii Whan þou shalt pasſe by watris, wiþ þee I ſhal be, and flosus ſhul not couere þee; whan þou shalt go in fyr, þou shalt not be brent, and flaume ſhal not brenne in þee.

iii For I þe Lord þi God, hoeli of Israel, þi faueour. I ȝaf þin helping Egipt; and Etheope and Saba for þee.

iv Siþen wrſhepful þou art mad in myn eȝen, and glorious; I louede þee, and I ſhall ȝyue men for þee, and puples for þi soule.

v Wile þou not drede, for I am wiþ þee; fro þe eſt I ſhal bringe to þi ſed, and fro þe weſt I ſhal togidere gedere þee.

vi I ſhal ſei to þe norþ, ȝif, and to þe ſouþ, Wile þou not forſende; `bring to my ſones fro aferr, and my doȝtris fro þe vtmoſtus of þe erþe.

vii And eche þat inwardli clepeþ my name, in to my glorie I ſhop hym, foormede hym, and maad hym.

viii Bring outforþ þe blinde puple, and þe hauende eȝen; def, and eres ben to hym.

ix Alle Jentilis ben gedered togidere, and gedered ben lynagus. Who in ȝou ſhal telle þis, and þat firſt þingus ben to here ȝou ſhal make? ȝiue þei þe witneſſes of hem, and be þei iuſteſied, and heren, and ſei þei.

x Vereli ȝee my witneſſes, seiþ þe Lord, and my seruaunt, whom I ches; þat ȝee wite, and leeuen to me, and vnderſtonde, for I þe felue am; bifor me is not foormed God, and aftir me ſhal not be.

xi I am, I am þe Lord, and þer is not wiþoute me a faueour.

xii I tolde, and fauede; herd I made, and þer was not in ȝou an alien. ȝee my witneſſes, seiþ þe Lord;

xiii and I God fro þe bigynnnyng, I þe felue, and þer ys not þat of myn hond delyuere; I ſhal werchen, and who ſhal turnen awei it?

xiv þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, ȝoure aȝeenbiere, hoeli of Israel, For ȝou I ſente out in to Babilone, and to-droȝ alle þe barres, and þe Caldeis in þer hondis gloriende.

xv I þe Lord, ȝoure hoeli, shapere of Israel, ȝoure king.

xvi þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, þat ȝaf in þe ſee a weie, and in watris ſwiftli rennende a ſty;

xvii þat broȝte out þe foure horſid carre, and þe hors, þe cumpany, and þe ſtalwrþe; togidere þei aboute ſlepten, and ſhul not riſe; þei ben to-treden as flax, and ben ful out queynt.

xviii Ne han ȝee mynde of þe raþere, and olde þingis ne beholde ȝee.

xix Lo! I do newe þingus, and now ſhul ſpringe; alſo ȝee ſhul knowe þem. I ſhal putte in deſert a weie, and in þe wiþoute weye flodus.

xx And glorifiен me ſhal þe beſte of þe feeld, dragounus, and oſtricches; for I ȝaf in deſert watris, and flosis in þe wiþoute weie, þat I ȝyue drinc to my puple, my chosene.

xi Pis puple I foormede to me, my preiſing it ſhal telle.

xxii Not me þou inwardly clepediſt, Jacob; ne traualideſt in me, Israel.

xxiii þou offerediſt not to me þe weþer of þi brent ſacrifice, and in þi victorie ſacrifices þou glorefiedeſt not me. Not þee to feruen I made in offring, ne trauale I ȝaf in cens.

xxiv þou boȝteſt not to me wiþ ſiluer a reed, and wiþ þe talȝ of þi victorie ſacrifices þou inwardly drunkedeſt not me; nerþelatere to ferue me þou madeſt in þi ſynnes, þou ȝeue to me trauale in þi wickidneſſes.

xxv I am, I am he, þat do awei þi wickidneſſe for me, and of þi ſynnes I ſhal not recorde.

xxvi Bring me in to þi mynde, and be wee demed togidere; tel, if any þing þou haſt, þat þou be iuſteſied.

xxvii þi firſte fader ſynnede, and þi remenoures breeken þe lawe aȝen me.

xxviii And I defoulede hoeli princes, I ȝaf to flaȝter Jacob, and Israel in to blaſfemye.

Capitulum XLIII.

i And now here þou, Jacob, my seruaunt, and Israel, whom I ches.

ii þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, makende and foormende þee fro þe woomb, þin helpere, Wile þou not drede, my seruaunt Jacob, and þou moſt riȝt, whom I ches.

iii I ſhal heelden out forþoþe watris vp on þe þreſtende, and flowingus vp on þe drie; I ſhall heelden out my ſpirit vp on þi ſed, and my bleſſing vp on þi ſtoc.

ivii And buriowne þei shuln among erbes, as wiþies, 'or falewis, bifyde þe syde flowende watri.

v Þis shal seyn, Of þe Lord I am, and he shal inwardly clepen in þe name of Jacob; and þis shal write wiþ his hond to þe Lord, and in þe name of Israel he shal be licened to.

vi Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, king of Israel, and his aȝeen biere, Lord of ostes, I þe firste and I þe laste, and wiþ oute me is not God.

vii Who lic of me? clepe he, and telle, and þe ordre expoune to me, siþen I ordeynede þe olde puple; þingus to come, and þat ben to come, telle he to þem.

viii Wileþ not dreden, ne beþ disturbid; fro þennus to heeren þee I made, and tolde; ȝee ben my witnesSES.
Wheþer is God wiþoute me, and a foormere, whom I haue not knowe?

ix Þe foormeres of þe mawmet alle noȝt ben, and þe most loued þingus of þem shul not profiten to þem; þei witnesSES of hem ben, for þei seen not, ne vnderstonde, þat þei be confoundid.

x Who foormede God, and a grauen þing ȝetede, to no þing profitable?

xi Lo! alle his parceneres shul be confoundid; þe forgeres forsoþe ben of men. Þei shuln come togidere, alle þei shul stonde, and inwardli dreden, and ben confoundid togidere.

xii Pe yren smyþ wiþ þe file wroȝte; in coles, and in hameres foormede it, and wroȝte in þe arm of his strengþe. He shal hungren, and failen; he shal not drinke water, and he shal waxe weri.

xiii Be crafti man tree werkere straȝte out þe reule, and foormede it in a grauyng iren; he maade it in corneres, and in a cumpas turnede it abouten; and made an ymage of a man, as a fair man wonende in hous.

xiv He heeȝ doun þe cedris, and toc þe kefteyn tree, and þe oek, þat hadde stonde among þe trees of þe wilde wode; he plauntede þe pyne tree, þat wiþ rein he nurshede,

xv and made is to men in to fyr. He toc of hem, and is chaufed, and brende vp, and booc loeues; of þe remnaunt forsoþe he wroȝte a god, and honourede, and made grauen þing, and is bowid biforn it.

xvi Be myddel of it he brende wiþ fyr, and of his myddel, flesh he seþede, and eet; he seþede potage, and is fild; 'and is chaufid, and seide, Vah, 'or weel, I am hat; Y faȝ þe fyr.

xvii Be remnaunt forsoþe of it a god he made, and a grauen þing to hym; he is bowid biforn it, and honoureþ it, and inwardli befecheþ, seiende, Delyuere me, for my god þou art.

xviii þey knewen not, ne vnderstoden, forsoþe þei forȝeeten, leſt þer eȝen seeȝen, and leſt þei vnderstoden in þer herte.

xix Þei beþenken not in þer mynde, ne knownen, ne felen, þat þei sey, Pe myddel of it I brende wiþ fyr, and I book vp on his coles loeues, and seþ flesh, and eet;

and of his remnaunt a maumet I shal make, biforn þe stoc þe tree I shal kutte.

xx His part is askus; þe vnwise herte shal honouren it, and yt shal not delyuere his soule, ne seyN, A strong lefing is in my riȝthond.

xxi Haue mynde of þese, Jacob and Israel, for my seruaunt þou art; I foormede þee, my seruaunt þou art, Israel; þou shal not forȝete me.

xxii I dide awei as a cloude þi wickedness, and as a litil cloude þi synnes; turne aȝeen to me, for I aȝeen boȝte þee.

xxiii ȝee heuenus, preiseþ, for mercy dide þe Lord;
inwardli ioȝeb, ȝee vtmostus of þe erþe; aȝensouneþ, ȝee hillis, preising; þe wilde wode, and eche tree of it;
for þe Lord aȝeen boȝte Jacob, and Israel shal glorien.

xxiv þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, þin aȝeenbiere, and þi foormere of þe wombe, I am þe Lord, doende alle þingus, strecchende out heuenus alone, stablende þe erþe, and no man wiþ me;

xxv voide makende tocnes of deuynoures, and þe deuel sacrifyeres in to wodnesse turnende; alturnende wyse men baeward, þe kunningyng of þem folie makende; xxvi rerende þe wrd of his seruaunt, and þe counseil of his messageres fulfillende; þat sey, Jerusalem, þou shal be dwellid; and to þe cites of Juda, ȝee shul ben bild vp, and his desertes I shal rere; xxvii þat sey to þe depþe, Be þou desolat, and þi flodys I shal make drie;

xxviii þat sey to Ciro, My shepperde þou art, and al my wil þou shal fulfillie; þat sey to Jerusalem, þou shal be bild vp; and to þe temple, þou shal be foundid.

Capitulum XLV.

i These þingus seiþ þe Lord to my crift, Ciro, whos riȝt hond I toc, þat I foogete bifor his face Jentiles, and þe reggus of kingus I turne; and opene biforn hym þe fyriste entrees, and þe ȝates shuln not be cloſid.

ii I byfor bee shal go, and þe glorious men of erþe I shal meeken; þe brasene ȝates I shal tobroſe, and þe irene barres I shal tobreke.

iii And I shal ȝyuen to þee tresores hid, and þe priue þingus of priuytees, þat þou wite, for I þe Lord, þat clepe þi name, God of Israel, ivii for my seruaunt Jacob, and Israel my chosen, and I clepede þee in þi name; I licenede þee, and þou knewe not me.

v I þe Lord, and þer is not more ouer; out of me is not God. I girde þee to, and þou knewe not me;

vi þat þei wite, þat fro þe rising of þe funne, and þat fro þe west ben, for wiþoute me is not a God. I þe Lord, and þer is not an oþir;

vii foormende liȝt, and shapende dercnesses, makende pes, and shapende euel; I þe Lord, doende alle þese.

viii Deweþ, ȝee heuenus fro aboue, and cloudis reyne þei þe riȝtwis; be opened þe erþe, and burioune it a faueour, and riȝtwisnesse springe togidere; I þe Lord shop hym.

 ix Wo þat `wiþ seiþ to his makere, þe shord of þe toȝ clei of erþe. Wheþer seiþ þe clei to his crockere, What doft þou, and þi were wiþoute hondus is?
 x Wo þat seiþ to þe fader, What getest þou? and to þe womman, What bereft þou?
 xi Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, hoeli of Israel, his foormere, þingus to come askeþ me vp on my sonus, and vp þe werkes of myn hondus sendeþ to me.
 xii I made þe erþe, and man vp on it I shop; myn hondis straȝten out heuenus, and to al þe knyȝthod of hem I fente.
 xiii I rerede hym to riȝtwisnesse, and alle his weies I shal riȝt reulen; he shal bilde vp my cite, and my caitifte he shal forsyue, not in pris, ne in ȝiftes, seiþ þe Lord of ostes.
 xiv Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God, Pe trauaile of Egipt, and þe nede doing, `or marchaundise, of Ethiopic, and of Sabaym; þe heȝe men to þee shul paffe, and þin shul be; after þee þei shul go, bounde in manycles þei shul wende, and þee þei shuln honoure, and þee louli preȝen. Onli in þee is God, and þer is not wiþoute þee a God.
 xv Vereli þou art God, an hid God, of Israel þe faueour.
 xvi þei ben confoundid, and ful out shameden; togidere wenten awey in to confusioun þe forgeres of erroures.
 xvii Israel is faued in þe Lord, in euere lastende helpe; ȝee shul not be confoundid, and not shamen, vnto þe
 world of world.
 xviii For þe þingus seiþ þe Lord shapende heuenus; he God foormende erþe, and makende it, he foormere of it; not in veyn he shop it, but þat it be dwellid, he foormede it; I þe Lord, and þer is not an oþer. xix Not in hid place I spac, in þe derc place of erþe; I seide not to þe sed of Jacob, In veyn secheþ me. I þe Lord spekende riȝtwisnesse, tellende out riȝt þingus.
 xx Beþ gedered, and comeþ, and neȝheþ togidere, for ȝee be faued fro þe Jentiles; þei wisten not, þat rereden vp a tocne of þer grauyng, and preȝen þe god not fauende.
 xxi Telleþ out, and comeþ, and counleilþ togidere.
 Who herd made þis fro þe biginnynge? fro þanne I biforn seide it. Wheþer not I a Lord, and þer is not more ouer a God wiþoute me? a riȝtwis God and fauende is not, beside me?
 xxii Beþ conuertid to me, and saaf shul be, alle ȝee coestes of erþe; for I þe Lord, and þer is not an oþer.
 xxiii In myself I fwor, þer shal gon out of my mouþ þe wrd of riȝtwisnesse, and shal not be turned aȝeen; for to me shal be bowid eche kne, and swern shal eche tungue.
 xxiv Perfor in þe Lord þei shul feyn, Myne ben riȝtwisnesses and empire; to hym þei shul come, and confoundid shul ben alle þat aȝenstonde to hym.
 xxv In þe Lord shal be iustefied and preisid al þe sed of Israel.

Capitulum XLVI.

i To-broken is Bel, to-brofisid is Nabo; broke ben þe symulacris of þem, wiþ feeld bestes, and hous bestes; oure chargis wiþ heuy berpene vnto werynnesse stunken, ii and to-brofyd ben togidere; þei myȝten not fauen þe berere, and þe soule of þem in to caitifte shal go.
 iii Hereþ me, þe hous of Jacob, and al þe residue of þe hous of Israel, þat ben born of my wombe, þat ofte ben born fro my priue wombe.
 iv Vnto þe laste elde I þe felue, and vnto þe hoere heris I shall bern; I made, and I shal bringe; I shal bern, and I shal faue.
 v To whom liceneden ȝee me, and eueneden, and comparisounden me, and maden lic?
 vi ȝe þat togidere bringen gold fro þe bagge, and siluer wiþ a balaunce peisen, hirende þe `craftis man, þat he make a god, and þei fallen doun, and honouren; vii bern it in þe shuldris, berende and settende in his place; and shal stonde, and fro his place shal not be moued; but and whan þei shul crie to it, he shal not heren, fro tribulacioun he shal not faue þem.
 viii Remembrepþ bis, and beþ foundid; turnep aȝeen, ȝee lawe brekeres, to þe herte.
 ix Recordeþ of þe raþere world, for I am God, and þer is not ouer me a God, ne lic me; x tellende out fro þe bigynnyng þe laste, and fro þe bigynnyng þat not ȝit ben maad, seiende, My counseil shal stonde, and al my wil shal be don; xi clepende fro þe est a brid, and fro þe ferr lond þe man of my wil; and I spac, and bringe to shal it; I shop, and maken I shal it.
 xii Hereþ me, ȝee wiþ hard herte, þat aferr ben fro riȝtwisnesse.
 xiii Nyȝ I made my riȝtwisnesse, and it shal not be longed awei, and myn helpe shal not be taried; I shal ȝyue in to Sion helpe, and in to Jerusalem my glorie.

Capitulum XLVII.

i Go doun, sit in pouder, þou maiden doȝter of Babilon, sit in þe erþe; þer is not a kingus see of þe doȝter of Caldeis, for no more þou shalt be clepid nesshe and tender.
 ii Tac a grind ston, `or queerne stoon, and grind me mele; nakene þi filþed, discouere þe shulder, opene þe bees, paffe ouer þe flodis.
 iii Opened shal be þi shenshipe, and seen shal be þi repreef; a veniaunce I shal take, and þer shal not wiþtonde to me a man.
 iv Oure aȝeen biere þe Lord of ostes; þe name of hym þe hoeli of Israel.
 v Syt, be stille, and go into dercnesses, þou doȝter of Caldeis, for þou shalt no more be clepid þe ladi of reumes.
 vi I am wroþ vp on my puple, I defoulede myn heritage, and I ȝaf hem in þin hond; þou settest not to þem mercies vp on þe olde; þou aggregatedist þe ȝoc gretli,

 vii and seidist, In to euermor I shal ben a ladi; þou puttist not þese þingus vp on þin herte, ne recordedist of þi laste.
 viii And now here þou þese þingus, þou delicat, and dwellende trosteli, þat seist in þin herte, I am, and þer is not biside me more ouer; I shal not sitte a widewe, and I shal vnknowe bareynete.
 ix Comen shul to þee þefe two fodeynli in o dai, bareynesse, and widewehed; alle þingus camen vp on þee for þe multitude of þi forceries, and for þe huge hardnesse of þi deuel cleperes.
 x And trost þou haddest in þi malice, and seidist, Þer is not þat see me; þi wifdam, and þis þi kunning disceyuede þee; and þou seidist in þin herte, I am, and biside me is not an oþer.
 xi Þer shal come vp on þee euel, and þou shalt not wite his rysing; and þer shal feerli falle vp on þee waftnesse, þat þou shalt not moun purge; þer shal come vp on þee wrecchednesse feerli, þat þou wost not.
 xii Stond wiþ þi deuel cleperes, and wiþ þe multytude of þi forceries, in whiche þou haft traualid fro þi waxende ȝoupe; if par auenture any þing it profite to þee, or if þou mowe be mad strengere.
 xiii þou haft failid in þe multitude of þi counseilis; stonde, and saue þee þe deuynoures of heuene, þat biheelde sterres, and noumbren moneþis, þat of hem bei telle þingus to come to þee.
 xiv Lo! þei ben mad as stobil, fyr to brende þem; þei shul not delyuere þer soule fro þe hond of flaume; þer ben not coles, wiþ þe whiche þei ben made hot, ne fyr, þat þei sitte at it.
 xv So mad ben to þee in 'what euere þingus þou haddest traualid; þi marchandes fro þer ȝoupe, eche in þer weie erreden; þer ys not, þat saue þee.

Capitulum XLVIII.

i Hereþ þese þingus, þe hous of Jacob, þat ben cleped bi þe name of Israel, and of þe watriis of Juda 'went out, þat swern in þe name of þe Lord God of Israel, and recorden not in treuþe ne in riȝtwisnessse.
 ii Fro þe hoeli cite forsoþe þei ben clepid, and vp on þe God of Israel þei ben stablid; þe Lord of oftes his name.
 iii þe rābere þinges fro þanne I tolde out, and of my mouþ þei wenten out, and herd I made þem; feerli I wroȝte, and þei camen.
 iv I kneȝ forsoþe for þou art hard, and an irene senewe þin haterel, and þi frout brasene.
 v I beforneide to þee fro þanne, er þei camen I shewed to þee, leſt par auenture þou shuldist sey, My maumetes diden þese þingus, and my grauen þingus and ȝote fenten þese þingus þat þou haſt herd.

vi See alle þingus, ȝee forsoþe han not told out. Herd I made to þee newe þingus fro þanne, and kept ben þat þou knowist not;
 vii now 'þei ben shapen, and not fro þanne, and befor day, and þou herdest not hem; leſt par auenture þou sey, Lo! I kneȝ þem.
 viii Ne þou haſt herd, ne þou haſt knowe, ne ſipen opened is þin ere; I wot forsoþe, for lawe breking þou shalt lawe breke, and a trespassere fro þe wombe I clepede þee.
 ix For my name ferr I shal make my wodness, and in my preifing I shal bridele þee, leſt þou die.
 x Lo! I haue out 'bake þee, but not as siluer; I ches þee in þe chynne of poreness.
 xi For me I shal do þat I be not blasfemed, and my glorie to an oþer I shal not ȝyue.
 xii Here þou me, Jacob, and Israel, whom I clepe, Y þe felue; I þe firſte and I þe laſte. xiii Myn hond also foundede þe erþe, and my riȝthond mesured heuenus; I shal clepe þem, and þei shul stonden togidere.
 xiv Beþ gedered, alle ȝee, and hereþ; who of hem tolde out þese þingus? Þe Lord louede hym, and shal don his wil in Babilon, and his arm in Caldeis.
 xv I, Y ſpac, and clepede hym; broȝte to hym, and riȝt reulid is his weie.
 xvi Comeþ nyȝ to me, and hereþ þese þingus; not fro þe bigynnyng in hid þing I ſpac; of tyme, er þei shulden be mad, I was þere, and now þe Lord God fente me, and his Spirit.
 xvii Þe þe þingus seiþ þe Lord, þin aȝeenbiere, þe hoeli of Israel, I þe Lord þi God, techende þee profitable þingus, gouernende þee in þe wei þat þou goſt.
 xviii Wolde God þou haddest taken heed to myn heſtes, mad hadde be as a flod þi pes, and þi riȝtwisnesses as þe swolewes of þe ſe;
 xix and hadde ben as grauel þi ſed, and þe ſtoc of þi wombe, as his little ſtones; he shulde not han died, and shulde not han be defoulid his name fro my face.
 xx Goþ out fro Babylon, fleeþ fro Caldeis; in vois of ful oute ioȝyng telleþ out; herd makeþ þis, and berþ it vnto þe vtmoſtus of þe erþe; seiþ, Aȝeenboȝte þe Lord his ſeraunt Jacob.
 xxi þei þristeden not in deſert, whan he shulde lede þem out; water of a ſton he broȝte forþ to þem, and he kutte þe ſton, and þer floweden watriis.
 xxii þer is not pes to vnpitous men, seiþ þe Lord.

Capitulum XLIX.

i Hereþ, ȝee iles, and takeþ heed, ȝee puples fro aferr; þe Lord fro þe conceyuende wombe clepede me, and fro þe wombe of my moder recordede of my name.
 ii And he putte my mouþ as a ſharp ſword, in þe ſhadewe of his hond he defendede me, and putte me as a choſen arwe; in his arwe cas he hidde me, iii and feide to me, My seruaunt þou art, Israel, for in þee I shal glorie.

 iv I seide, In veyn I trauailede wiþoute cause, and veynlich my strengþe I wastede; þerfore my dom wiþ þe Lord, and my werec wiþ my God. v And now þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, foormende me fro þe wombe a seruaunt to hym, þat I bringe aȝeen Jacob to hym. And Israel shal not be gedered togidere; and I am glorefied in þe eȝen of þe Lord, and my God mad is my strengþe.
 vi And he seide, Litil is, þat þou be to me a seruaunt, to be rered þe lynages of Jacob, and þe dreftus of Israel to be conuerted; I ȝaf þee in to liȝt of Jentiles, þat þou be myn helpe vnto þe vtmost of þe erþe.
 vii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, þe aȝeenbiere of Israel, his hoeli, to þe despisale soule, and to þe wlated folc of kinde, to þe seruaunt of lordis, Kingus þul seen, and togidere þul rise princes, and honoure, for þe Lord, for seiþfull he is, and þe hoeli of Israel, þat ches þee.
 viii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, In plefaunt tyme Y ful out herde þee, and in þe dai of helpe I halp þee, and kepte þee, and ȝaf þee in to pes coouenant of þe puple, þat þou shuldest rere þe lond, and welden eritages scatered; ix þat þou sey to þem þat ben bounde, Gop out, and to þem þat in dercnesses, Beþ opened. Vp on weies þei þul be fed, and in alle pleynes þe lefswes of hem.
 x þei þul not hungre, ne þristen more ouer, and smyte þhal not þem gret hete, and þe sunne; for þe rewere of þem þhal gourne þem, and at þe welles of watris ȝyuen hem to drinke.
 xi And I shal putte my mounteynes in to a weie, and my paþis þul ben enhauncid.
 xii Lo! þese fro aferr þul come, and lo! þo fro þe norþ, and þe se, and þese fro þe souþ lond.
 xiii Preife, ȝee heuenes, and ful out ioȝe, þou erþe; inwardli glade, ȝee hillis, preising; for coumfortid haþ þe Lord his puple, and of his pore þul han mercy.
 xiv And Sion seide, Forsaken haþ me þe Lord, and þe Lord haþ forȝete me.
 xv Wheþer forȝeten mai þe womman hir faunt, þat she do not mercy to þe sone of hir wombe? and if she þul forȝeten, I nerpelatere þul not forȝete þee.
 xvi Lo! in myn hondis I haue discriued þee; þi wallis bifor myn eȝen euermor.
 xvii þi bilderes camen distroȝende þee, and scaterende fro þee þul gon out.
 xviii Rere vp in cumpas þin eȝen, and see; alle þese ben gederede togidere, camen to þee. I lyue, seiþ þe Lord, for wiþ all þese as wiþ an ournement þou shalt be clad, and cumpasen aboute to þee hem as a spouse.
 xix For þi desernes, and þi wildernes, and þe lond of þi falling now streit þul ben for þe dwelleris of þe erþe; and aferr þul be dryue awei þat loupeden awei
 þee.
 xx ȝit þul seyn in þin eres sones of þi bareynte, Streit is to me a place, mac a space to me þat I dwelle.

xxi And þou shalt seyn in þin herte, Who gat to me þese? I bareyn, not child berende; translatid and caitif; and þese who nurshede out? I priued, and solitarie; and þese wher weren?
 xxii þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God, Lo! I rere to Jentilis myn hond, and þal enhaunce to puples myn tocne; and þei þul bringe to þi sones in armys, and þi doȝtris vp on shuldris þei þul bern.
 xxiii And kingis þul be þi nursheres, and queenes þi nurses; þe chere in to þe erþe put doun þei þul honoure þee, and þe pouder of þi feet þei þul licke; and þou shalt wite, for I a Lord, vp on whom þuln not be confounded, þat abijden hym.
 xxiv Wheþer shal be taken awei fro þe stronge a prei?
 or þat shal be take fro þe stalwrþe shal moun be saaf?
 xxv For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Forsoþe and þe caitife fro þe stronge þhal ben taken awei, and þat were taken awei fro þe stalwrþe þhal be sauad. Hem forsoþe þat demeden þee I shal deme, and þi sonis I shal fauen.
 xxvi And I shal fede þin enemys wiþ þer flesh, and as wiþ muþ wiþ þer blod þul be drunke; and knownen shal eche flesh, for I þe Lord, sauende þee, and þin aȝeen biere, þe stronge of Jacob.

Capitulum L.

i These þingus seiþ þe Lord, What is þis boc of þe forsaking of ȝoure moder, þat I lafte hir? or who is my creauncer, to whom I folde ȝou? Lo! forsoþe in ȝoure wickidnes ȝee be sold, and in ȝoure hidous giltes I lafte ȝoure moder.
 ii For I cam, and þere was not a ful man; I clepide, and þer was not þat herde. Wheþer abreggid, and ful litil maad is myn hond, þat I mai not aȝeenbien? or is not to me vertue to delyuere? Lo! in my blamying desert I shal make þe se, I shal putte flodis in to droȝte; stinke þul fisshes wiþoute watir, and dien in þrist.
 iii I shal cloþin heuenes wiþ dercnesses, and a fac Y shal putte þe coueryng of hem.
 iv þe Lord ȝaf to me a taȝt tunge, þat I kunne hym fussteyne, þat is weri in wrd; he rereþ vp þe morutyd, þe morutyd rereþ vp to me an ere, þat I here as a maister.
 v þe Lord God openede to me an ere; I forsoþe aȝensei not, bacward I ȝide not awei. vi My bodi I ȝaf to þe smyteres, and my chekes to þe pulleris; my face I turnede not awei fro þe blameris, and þe spitteres in me.
 vii þe Lord God myn helpere, and þerfore I am not confoundid; þerfore I putte my face as a most hard ston, and I wot for I shal not ben confoundid.
 viii Nyȝ is, þat iustefieþ me; who wiþ seiþ to me? stonde wee togidere. Who is myn aduerfarie? come he nyȝ to me.

ix Lo! þe Lord God myn helpere; who þanne is þat condempneþ me? Lo! alle as a cloþ shul be to-trede, and a moȝte shal ete þem.

x Who of ȝou dredende þe Lord, herende þe vois of his seruaunt? Who ȝide in dercnesse and þer is not liȝt to hym, hope he in þe name of þe Lord, and leene he vp on his God.

xi Lo! ȝee alle teendende vp fyr, and gird wiþ flawmes, gop in þe liȝt of ȝoure fyr, and in þe flaumes þat ȝee teenden vp to ȝou. Of myn hond don is þis to ȝou, in forewis ȝee shul slepe.

Capitulum LI.

i Hereþ me, ȝee þat foleten þat is riȝt, and sechen þe Lord. Takeþ heed to þe ston, whenus ȝee ben kut out, and to þe kau of þe lake, of þe whiche ȝee ben kut of.
ii Takeþ heed to Abraham, ȝoure fader, and to Sara, þat bar ȝou; for oon I clepede hym, and blissede hym, and multepliede hym.

iii Coumforten shal þanne þe Lord Sion, and coumforte he shal alle þe fallingus of it; and putten his desert as delices, and his wildernesse as þe gardyn of þe Lord; ioȝe and gladnesse shal be founde in it, gracedoing and vois of preising.

iv Takeþ heed to me, my puple, and, my lynage, me hereþ; for lawe fro me shal gon out, and my dom in to liȝt of puples shal resten.

v Nyȝ is my riȝtwis, gon out is my faueour, and myn armes puples shul demen; me iles shuln abide, and myn arm fustenen.

vi Rereþ in to heuene ȝoure eȝen, and seeþ vnder erþe beneþe; for heuenes as smoke shul melte, and þe erþe as a cloþ shal be to-trede, and his dwelleris as þese shul dien; myn helþe forsoþe in to euermor shal be, and my riȝtwisnesse shal not faile.

vii Hereþ me, þat knowen þe riȝtwis, ȝe puple, my lawe in þe herte of hem; wileþ not dredre repref of men, and þe blasfemes of þem dredreþ not.

viii As forsoþe cloþing so shal ete þem a worm, and as wle so shal deuoure þem þe moȝte; myn helþe forsoþe in to euermor shal be, and my riȝtwisnesse in to ieneraciouns of ieneraciouns.

ix Rys, rys, cloþe þou strengþe, þe arm of þe Lord; rys, as in þe olde dayes, in ieneraciouns of worldis.

Wheþer not þou smyte þe proude, woundedest þe dragoun?

x Wheþer not þou driedist þe se, water of þe huge depþe, þe whiche puttest þe depþe of þe se weie, þat gon ouer shulden þe delyuered?

xi And now þat ben aȝeenboȝt of þe Lord, shul turnen aȝeen, and comen in to Sion preisende, and euerlastende gladnesse 'vp on þe hedis of þem; ioȝe and gladnesse þei shul holden, fleen shal forewe and weiling.

xii Lo! I þe selue shal coumforte ȝou; who þou, þat þou drede of a deadly man, and of þe sone of man, þat as hei so shal waxe drie;

xiii and 'haſt forȝete þe Lord, þi shapere, þat bente heuenes, and foundede þe erþe; and inwardli dreddest contynuelli al dai of þe face of his wodnesse, þat þee trooblede, and hadde mad redi to leese? Where is now þe wodnesse of þe troblere?

xiv Soone shal come þe goore to openen, and shal notflen vnto þe weie flaȝter, ne failen shal his bred.

xv I forsoþe am þe Lord þi God, þat disturbe þe se, and swellen his flodis; þe Lord of oftis my name.

xvi I sette my wrdis in þi mouȝ, and in þe shadewe of myn hond I defende þee; þat þou plaunte heuenus, and founde erþe, and sey to Sion, My puple þou art.

xvii Be rered, be rered, ris þou, Jerusalēm, þat þou drunke of þe 'hond of þe Lord þe chalis of his wraþe; vn to þe ground of þe chalis of slep þou drunke, and þou drunke it vp vnto þe drestes.

xviii Þer is not þat fusteyne hir, of alle þe sonus þat shagat; and þer is not þat take hir hond, of alle þe sonus þat shagat he nershede vp.

xix Two þingus ben þat aȝencamen to þee; who shal forewen vp on þee? waftite, and to-brofing, and hunger, and fwerd. Who shal coumforten þee?

xx þi lones ben aferr cast, þei flepten in þe hed of alle weies, as þe vnclene beste grened, þat is clepid orix; ful of þe indignacioun of þe Lord, blamying of þi God.

xxi Perfore here þou þese þingus, þou porelet, and drunken, not of wyn.

xxii Pele þingus seiþ þe lordshipere, þi Lord, and þi God, þat faȝt for his puple, Lo! I toc of þin hond þe chalis of slep, þe ground of þe chalis of myn indignacioun; I shal not lei to, þat þou drunke it more.

xxiii And I shal putte it in þe hond of hem þat þee mekeden, and seiden to þi soule, Be þou bowid in þat wee passe; and þou puttist as erþe þi bodi, and as a weie to goeres.

Capitulum LII.

i Rys, ris, be clad, þou Sion, wiþ þi strengþe; be þou clad wiþ þe cloþis of þi glorie, þou Jerusalēm, cite of þe hoeli; for he shal not lei to more, þat þer passe bi þee an vncircumcidid and vnclene.

ii Be þou shaken out of þe pouder; ris, sit þou, Jerusalēm; loose þe bondis of þi necke, þou caitif doȝtir of Sion.

iii For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Freeli ȝee ben fold, and wiþoute filuer ȝee shul be aȝeen boȝt.

iv For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God, In to Egipt cam doun my puple in þe bigynnynge, as a comeling tiliere he was þere, and Assur wiþoute any cause chalengede hym.

v And now what to me is þis? seiþ þe Lord; for taken awei is my puple wiþoute cause; his lordshiperes wickidli diden, seip þe Lord, and bisili al dai my name is blasfemed.

vi For þat wite shal my puple my name in þat dai, for I þe felue þat spac, lo! I am nyȝ.

vii Hou faire vp on mounteynes þe feet of þe tellende, and prechende pes, tellende good, prechende helþe, seiende, Sion, regnen shal þi God.

viii Þe vois of þi tooteres; þei rereden a vois, togidere þei shul preisen; for wiþ eȝe to eȝe þei shul see, whan conuerte shal þe Lord Sion.

ix Ioȝeb, and preiseþ togidere, ȝee desertes of Jerusalem; for coumfortid haþ þe Lord his puple, aȝeenboȝt he haþ Jerusalem.

x Redi made þe Lord his hoeli arm in þe eȝen of alle Jentiles, and seen shul alle coestes of erþe þe helþe ȝyuere of oure God.

xi Gob awei, gob awei, gob out þennes; þe defoulid þing wileþ not touche, gob out fro þe myddel of it; 'be ȝe clenfid, þat bern þe vesseles of þe Lord.

xii For not in noise ȝee shul gon out, ne in fligt ȝee shul gon forþ; forsoþe gon bifor ȝou shal þe Lord, and gedere togidere ȝou shal þe God of Israel.

xiii Lo! vnderstonde shal my seruaunt, and ben enhauncid, and rered, and ful heeȝ he shal be gretly.

xiv As stoneseȝeden vp on hym manye, so vnglorious shal ben among men his siȝte, and þe foorme of hym among þe sonus of men.

xv He shal springe manye Jentiles; vp on hym togidere holden shuln kingis þer mouþ; for to whom is not told of hym, shul see, and þat herden not, beheelden.

Capitulum LIII.

i Who leeuede to oure heering? and þe arm of þe Lord to whom is it shewyd?

ii And it shal steȝen vp as a quyk hegge biforn hym, and as a roote fro þe prestende erþe. Þer is not shap to hym, ne fairnesse; and wee seȝen hym, and he was not of siȝte; and wee desreden hym, iii dispisid, and þe laste of men, man of forewes, and witende infirmyte. And as hid his chere and dispisid; wherfore ne wee setteden by hym.

iv Vereli oure sienesses he tooc, and oure forewes he bar; and wee heelden hym as leprous, and smyten of God, and mekid.

v He forsoþe woundid is for oure wickidnesses, defoulid is for oure hidous giltes; þe discylyne of oure pes vp on hym, and wiþ his wannesse we ben heled.

vi Alle wee as shep erreden, eche in to his weie bowede doun, and þe Lord putte in hym þe wickidnesse of vs alle.

vii He is offred, for he wolde, and he openede not his mouþ; as a shep to fleyng he shal be lad, and as a lamb bifor þe clippere itself he shal become doumb, and he opened not his mouþ.

viii Fro anguysh and fro dom he is take awei; þe ieneracioun of hym who shal tellen out? For kut awei he is fro þe lond of lyueres. For þe hidous gilte of my puple I smot hym.

ix And ȝyuen he shal vnpitous men for biriyng, and riche men for his deþ; for þi þat wickenesse he dide not, ne trecherie was in his mouþ;

x and þe Lord wolde to-trede hym in infirmytee. If he shal putte his soule for synne he shal seen fed of long age, and þe wil of þe Lord in his hond shal be riȝt reulid.

xi For þi þat he traualede, his soule shal seen, and ben fulfyld. In his kunning he my riȝtwis seruaunt shal iustefien manye, and þe wickidnesses of hem he shal bern.

xii Perfore I shal dele to hym manye, and of stronge men he shal deuyde spoiles; for þi þat he toc in to deþ his lif, and wiþ hidous gilteres is holden; and he þe synne of manye toc, and for trespasseres preȝede.

Capitulum LIII.

i Preise, þou bareyne, þat berft not; gretli sing preising, and ympne, þat beere not; for manye sones of þe forsaken more þan of hir þat hadde þe man, seip þe Lord.

ii Alarge þe place of þi tente, and þe skynnes of þi tabernacle strecche out; ne spare þou, longe maac þi little cordis, and þi nailes mac fast.

iii At þe riȝt forsoþe and at þe lift þou shalt persen; and þi sed Jentiles shal eritagen, and desert cites wonen in.

iv Wile þou not dreden, for þou shalt not be confoundyd, ne shamen. Forsoþe it shal not shamen þee; for of þe confusioun of þi ȝouþe þou shalt forȝete, and of þe repref of þi widewhed þou shalt recorde no more.

v For lordshipen shal of þee þat made þee; þe Lord of oftes hys name; and þin aȝeen biere, þe holi of Israel, þe God of al erþe shal be clepid.

vi For as a womman forsaken and moornende in spirit, clepede þee þe Lord, and a wif fro þe ȝouþe cast awei.

vii þe Lord þi God seide, At a poynt in a litil I forsoc þee, and in grete mercy doinges I shal gedere þee.

viii In a moment of indignacioun I hidde my face a litil fro þee, and in euerlastende mercy I hadde mercy of þee, seide þe Lord, þi forbiere.

ix As in þe daȝes of Noe, þis to me is, to whom I swor, þat I shulde no mor bringen in þe watriis of flod vp on erþe; so I swor, þat I wraȝe not to þee, and blame not þee.

x Mounteynes forsoþe shul be to-stered, and hillis shul tremblen; my mercy forsoþe shal not gon awei fro þee, and þe bond of my pes shal not be moued, seide þe Lord, þi reewer.

xi Pou porelet, wiþ tempest al to-pullid, wiþ ouþ any coumfort, lo! I shal aracie bi order þi stones, and founde þee in safires; xii and I shal fette iasp by pynacles, and þi ȝates in to grauen stones, and alle þi termes in to desirable stones.
 xiii Alle þi sones taȝt of þe Lord; and multitude of pes to þi sones, xiv and in riȝtwisnesse þou shalt be foundid. Go awei aferri fro challenge, for þou shalt not drede; and fro inward ferd, for it shal not neȝhe to þee.
 xv Lo! an earþ tiliere shal come, þat was not wiþ me; þi comeling sumtyme apassid shal be ioyned to þee.
 xvi Lo! I shop a smyþ blowende in þe fyr coles, and bringende forþ a vessel in to his werk; and I shop þe fleere, to destroȝen.
 xvii Eche vessel þat is mad aȝen þee, shal not be riȝt reulid; and eche tunge wiþstondende to þee, in dom þou shalt deme. Þis is þe eritage of þe seruauns of þe Lord, and þe riȝtwisnesse of hem anent me, seiþ þe Lord.

Capitulum LV.

i Alle ȝee þristende, comeþ to watris, and ȝee þat han not siluer, gop forþ, bieþ, and eteþ; comeþ, bieþ, wiþoute siluer and wiþoute any chaffaring, wyn and mylc.
 ii Whi poote ȝee vp siluer, not in loeues, and ȝoure trauailing, not in filling? Hereþ ȝee herende me, and eteþ good þing, and delite shal in fatnesse ȝoure soule.
 iii Bowiþ in ȝoure ere, and comeþ to me; hereþ, and lyuen shal ȝoure soule; and I shal smyte wiþ ȝou euere lastende couenaunt, þe feiþful mercies of Dauid.
 iv Lo! witnesse I ȝaf hym to puples, duke and comaundere to Jentiles.
 v Lo! þe folc of kinde, þat þou knewe not, þou shalt clepen; and þe folc of kinde, þat þee kneȝ not, to þee shul rennen; for þe Lord by God, and þe hoeli of Israel, for he glorifiede þee.
 vi Secheþ þe Lord, whil he mai be founde; inwardli clepeþ hym, whil he is nyȝ.
 vii Forsake þe vnpitous his weie, and þe wicke man his þoȝtes; and turne aȝeen to þe Lord, and he shal haue mercy of hym, and to oure God, for myche he is to forȝyue.
 viii Forsoþe not my þenkingus ȝoure þenkingus, ne my weies ȝoure weies, seiþ þe Lord.
 ix For as enhauncid ben heuenus fro erþe, so enhauncid ben my weies fro ȝoure weyes, and my þoȝtus fro ȝoure þoȝtus.
 x And what maner comeþ doun weder and snoȝ fro heuene, and þider no mor is turned aȝeen, but drunkeþ þe erþe, and heeldeþ in to it, and to buriowne makeþ it, and ȝyueþ fed to þe fowere, and bred to þe etere, xi so shal be my wrd, þat shal gon out of my mouþ. It shal not be turned aȝeen voide to me, but shal do what euere þingus I wolde, and shal be welsum in þo þingus to whiche I sende it;

 xii for in gladnesse ȝee shul gon outh, and in pes ȝee shul be lad þennus. Mounteynes and hilles shul singe bifor ȝou preising, and alle þe trees of þe regioun shal flappe for ioȝe wiþ hond.
 xiii For þe horny erbe þat is clepid faliunka, shal steeȝen vp a farr tree, and for þe nettle shal growe þe tre þat is clepid myrt; and þe Lord shal be nemned in to an euer lastende tocne, þat shal not ben don awei.

Capitulum LVI.

i These þingus seiþ þe Lord, Keþeþ dom, and doþ riȝtwisnesse, for nyȝ is myn helpe, þat it come, and my riȝtwisnesse, þat it be opened.
 ii Blisful þe man, þat doþ þat, and þe fone of man, þat shal take þis; kepende þe sabot, leſt he defoule it, kepende his hondis, leſt he do any euel.
 iii And seye not þe fone of þe comeling, þat cleueþ to þe Lord, seiende, Bi feueryng shall deuyde me þe Lord fro his purple; and sey not þe gelding, Lo! I a drie tree.
 iv For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord to geldingus, who kepen my fabates, and chesen þat I wolde, and holden my pes couenaunt.
 v I shal ȝyue to þem in myn hous and in my wallis a place, and a betere name of sones and doȝtris; an euere lastende name I shal ȝyue to þem, þat shal not perſhen.
 vi And þe sonus of þe comeling, þat cleuen to þe Lord, þat þei herien hym, and louuen his name, þat þei be to hym in to seruauns; eche man kepende sabot, leſt he defoule it, and þe holdende my pes couenaunt;
 vii I shal bringe þem in to myn hoeli hil, and gladen hem in þe hous of myn orisoun; þe brent sacrificis of hem and þer victorie sacrificis shul plesen to me vp on myn auter; for myn hous þe hous of orisoun shal be clepid to alle puples, viii seiþ þe Lord God, þat gadereþ þe scatered of Israel. ȝit I shal gedere to hym alle his gedered togidere.
 ix Alle bestus of þe feeld, comeþ to deuouren, alle ȝee bestus of þe wilde wode.
 x His tooteris alle blinde, alle þei vnknewen; doumbe dogges not mowende berken, seende veyne þingus, slepende, and louende sweuenus;
 xi and most vnþamefast doggus knewen not fulnesse. þei shepperdes knewe not vnderstanding; alle in to þer owne weie boweden doun, eche to his auarice, fro þe hiest vn to þe laſte.
 xii Comeþ, take wee wyn, and be wee fulſild wiþ drunkenesse; and it shal be as to dai, so and to moru, and myche more.

Capitulum LVII.

- i The riȝtwis man persheþ, and þer is not, þat beþenke in his herte; and men of mercy ben gedered, for þer is not þat vnderstonde; fro þe face forsoþe of malice gedered is þe riȝtwis.
- ii Come pes, reste it in his bed, þat ȝide in his riȝt reuling.
- iii ȝee forsoþe neȝheþ hider, sonus of a wicche, sed of auouteresse, and of a fornycarie.
- iv Vp on whom pleiden ȝee? vp on whom spredden ȝee abrod þe mouþ, and ȝee casteden out þe tungue? Wheþer not ȝee sonus hidous gilteres, sed liere?
- v þat ben coumfortid in goddis, vnder eche braunchy tree, offrende little childer in stremes, vnder stonus stondende ouer.
- vi In partes of þe strem þi part, þis is þi lot; and to þem pou heeldedest out sacrifice of lykoures, offredist sacrifice. Wheþer vp on þese þingus I shal not endeyne?
- vii Vp on an hiȝ hil and enhauncid þou puttest þi bed, and þider þou stededest þat þou offre ostes;
- viii and bihynde þe dore, and bihynde þe post þou fettedest þi mynde tocne. For biside me þou discoueredist, and toke þe auotrur; þou spreddest þi bed, and couenauntedest wiþ þem a pes couenaunt;
- ix þou loouedist þe beddynge of hem wiþ opened hond,
- x and enournedest þee wiþ þe kingus oynement, and multepliedest þi pymentus; and sentist þi legates aferr, and mekid þou art vnto helle.
- x In þe multitude of þi weie þou trauailedest, and seideſt not, I shal resten; þe weie of þin hond þou haſt founde, þerfore þou prezedeſt not.
- xi For þe whiche þou bifi dreddeſt, for þou liedeſt, and of me þou recordedeſt not, ne þoȝteſt in þin herte, for I ſtille, and as not feende; and of me þou forȝeteſt.
- xii I shal tellen out þi riȝtwisneſſe, and þi werkus ſhul not profiten to þee.
- xiii Whan þou ſhalt crien, delyuere þee þi gedered; and alle þem ſhal bern awei þe wynd, and ſhal taken awei þe weder; who forsoþe haþ troft of me, ſhal eritagen þe erþe, and welden myn hoeli mounteyn.
- xiv And I ſhal ſeyn, Weie makeþ, ȝyueþ goyng, bowiþ doun fro þe paþ, takeþ awei hurtinge þingus fro þe weie of my puple.
- xv For þeſe þingus ſeip þe heȝe Lord, and enhauncid, wonende þe euerelaſtingte, and his hoeli name in heȝ, and in hoeli dwelling, and wiþ þe contrit and mekid spirit, þat he quykene þe spirit of meke men, and quykene þe herte of contrit men.
- xvi Forſoþe not in to euermor I ſhal ſtrive, ne vnto þe ende I ſhal wraþe; for a spirit fro my face ſhal gon out, and blaſtis I ſhal maken.
- xvii For þe wickedneſſe of his auarice I wraþede, and fmot hym. I hidde fro þee my face, and endeynede; and he ȝide awei vagaunt in þe weie of his herte.

xviii His weies I ſaȝ, and helede hym, and broȝte hym aȝeen; and I ȝeeld coumfortingus to hym, and to his weileris.

xix I ſhop frut of lippis pes, pes to hym þat is aferr, and þat nyȝ, ſeide þe Lord; and I helede hym.

xx Vnpitous men forſoþe as þe boilinge ſe, þat reſten mai not; and redouunden his flodis in to to-treding, and cley.

xxi Ȣer is not pes, ſeip þe Lord God, to vnpytouſe men.

Capitulum LVIII.

i Crye, ne cefe þou; as a trumpe enhaunce þi vois, and tel out to my puple þe hidous giltes of hem, and to þe hous of Jacob þer synnes.

ii Me forſoþe fro dai in to dai þei ſechen, and witen my weies þei wiln; as a folc of kynde, þat riȝtwisneſſe hadde do, and þat þe dom of his God 'forſoken not; þei prezen me domes of riȝtwisneſſe, and neȝhen to God þei wiln.

iii Whi han wee faſtid, and þou haſt not biholden; wee han mekid oure ſoules, and þou haſt not knownen? Lo! in þe dai of ȝoure faſting is founde ȝoure owne wil, and alle ȝoure detoures ȝee pleten.

iv Lo! to ples and to ſtriuſes ȝee faſten, and ſmyten wiþ þe fist vnpitouſly. Wileþ not faſten, as vnto þis dai, þat herd be in heiȝte ȝoure cry.

v Wheþer ſuch is þe faſting þat I cheſe, bi þe dai a man to tormenten his ſoule? wheþer to binde togidere as a cercle his hed, and ſac and aſken to aræzen? Wheþer þis I clepede faſting, and an acceptable dai to þe Lord?

vi Wheþer not þis is more faſting þat I ches? Vnbind þou þe togidere bindingus of vnpitouſneſſe, loose þe bundeles doun berende; lete hem þat ben to-broke, free, and eche charge to-brec.

vii Brec to þe hungrí þi bred, and þe helpeles and vagaunt bring in to þin hous; whan þou ſhalt ſee þe nakid, couere hym, and þi flesh þou ſhalt not diſpise.

viii Panne ſhal breken out as morutid þi liȝt, and þin helþe funnere ſhal ſpringe; and bifor þi face ſhal go þi riȝtwisneſſe, and þe glorie of þe Lord ſhal gedere þee.

ix Panne þou ſhalt inwardly clepen, and þe Lord ſhal heren; þou ſhalt crien, and he ſhal ſey, Lo! I am nyȝ, for merciful I am, þe Lord þi God. If þou take awei fro þi myddel þe cheyne, and cefe þe fynger to ſtrecchen out, and to ſpeken þat profiteþ not;

x whan þou ſhalt heelden out to þe hungrí þi ſoule, and þe tormentid liȝt þou ſhalt fulfillen, ſpringe ſhal in dercneſſes þi liȝt, and þi dercneſſes ſhul ben as myddai.

xi And reſte ȝyue to þee ſhal þe Lord þi God euermor, and fulfillen he ſhal in ſhynnynges þi ſoule, and þi bones delyueren; and þou ſhalt ben as a watri gardyn, and as a welle of watris, whos watris ſchul not failen.

xii And bild vp ſhul ben in þee þe defertes of worldus, þe foundemens of ieneraciouns and of ieneraciouns bou shalt reran; þou shalt ben clepid a bildere vp of hegges, turnende awei þe pāpis of wickidneses.

xiii If þou schalt turne awei fro þe sabot þi foot, to do bin owne wil in myn hoely dai, and clepist a delicat sabot, and þe hoely of þe Lord, glorious, and glorifiest hym, whil þou dost not þi weies, and is not founde þin owne wil, bat þou speke a wrd;
xiv þanne þou shalt delyten vp on þe Lord, and I shal rere þee vp vp on þe heiȝtus of erþe, and shal fede þee wiþ þe eritage of Jacob, þi fader; þe mouþ forsoþe of þe Lord spac.

Capitulum LIX.

i Lo! þer is not abreggid þe hond of þe Lord, þat sauen he mai not, ne aggreggid is his ere, þat he ful out here not;
ii but ȝoure wickidneses deuydeden betwe ȝou and ȝoure God, and ȝoure synnes hidden his face fro ȝou, þat he ful out here not.
iii Forsoþe ȝoure hondis ben defoulid wiþ blod, and ȝoure fingris wiþ wickidnesse; ȝoure lippes speeken lesing, and ȝoure tunge wickenesse spekeþ.
iv Þer is not, þat inwardly clepe riȝtwisnæsse, ne þer is, þat deme verrelí; but þei trosten in þing of noȝt, and speken vanýtees; þei conceyueden trauaile, and beeren wickidnesse.
v Þe eiren of edderes þei to-breeken, and þe webbis of an attercop þei wouen; who shal eten of þe eiren of hem, shal dien, and þat is hacchid, shal breken out in to a cokatrice.
vi Þe webbis of hem shul not ben in to cloping, ne þei shuln ben couered wiþ þer werkis; þe werkus of hem werkus vñprofitable, and þe werec of wickydnesse in þer hondus.
vii Þe feet of þem to euel rennen, and heeȝen, þat þei sheden out innocent blod; þe þoȝtus of þem þoȝtus vñprofitable; waſtite and to-treding in þe weies of hem.
viii Þe weie of pes þei knewen not, and þer ys not dom in þe goyngus of hem; þe pāpis of þem inbowid ben to þem; eche þat tredeþ in þem, vñknowiþ pes.
ix For þat longid oute is fro vs dom, and shal not take vs riȝtwisnæsse; wee han biden liȝt, and lo! dercnessis; flhyning, and in dercnesses wee han gon. x Wee han gropid as blinde men be wall, and as wiþoute eȝen wee han felid; wee han stumblid in mydday, as in dercnesses, in mysti þingus, as deade.
xi Wee shul roren as beres alle, and as culueres beþenkende wee shul weilen; wee han biden dom, and þer is not; helþe, and it is longid awei fro vs.
xii Multeplied ben forsoþe oure wickenesses bifor þee, and oure synnes answerden to vs; for oure hidous giltes wiþ vs, and oure wickenesses wee han knownen, xiii to synnen, and to lien aȝen þe Lord. And wee ben turned awei, þat wee go not bihynde þe bac of oure

God, þat wee speke wrong chalenge, and trespassing. Wee conceyueden, and speeken of herte wrdys of lesing; xiv and turned is bacward dom, and riȝtwisnæsse aferr stod; for fallen haþ in þe strete treuhe, and equyte myȝte not gon in.
xv For maad is treuhe in to forȝeting, and he þat wente awei fro euel, to prei was open. And þe Lord saȝ, and euel aperede in his eȝen, for þer is not dom.
xvi And God saȝ, for þer is not a man, and forewede, for þer is not þat aȝeen come. And he shal faue to hym his arm, and his riȝtwisnæsse it shal confermen hym.
xvii 'He is clad wiþ riȝtwisnæsse as wiþ an habirioun, and þe helm of helþe in his hed; 'he is clad wiþ þe cloþingus of veniaunce, and couered wiþ þe mantil of ieloufte.
xviii So to veniaunce as to ȝeeling of indignacioun to his ferr enemys, and while to his nyȝ enemys, to þe ilis while he shal ȝelde.
xix And dreden shul þat ben fro þe weft þe name of þe Lord, and þat fro þe rising of þe sunne his glorie; whan he shal come as a violent flob, whom þe spirit of þe Lord confreyneþ.
xx And comen shal þe aȝeenbiere of Sion, and to þem þat turnen aȝeen fro wickidnesse in Jacob, seiþ þe Lord.
xi Pis my pes couenaunt wiþ þem, seiþ þe Lord; My spirit þat is in þee, and my wrdus þat I 'haue set in þi mouþ shul not gon awei fro þi mouþ, and fro þe mouþ of þi sed, seiþ þe Lord, fro now and vnto euermore.

Capitulum LX.

i Rys, be þou liȝtid, Jerusalem, for comen is þi liȝt, and þe glorie of þe Lord vp on þee is sprung.
ii For lo! dercnesses shul coueren þe erþe, and mystinesses puples; vp on þee forsoþe shal springe þe Lord, and his glorie in þee shal be seen.
iii And gon shul Gentiles in þi liȝt, and kingus in þe flhyning of þi rising.
iv Rere in cumpas þin eȝen, and see; alle þese ben gedered togidere, camen to þee; þi sonis fro aferr shul come, and þi doȝtris fro a syde shul rise.
v þanne þou shalt seen, and haue plente; and merueilen, and ben spred abrod shal þin herte, whan conuertid shal be to þee þe multitude of þe se, þe strengþe of Jentiles shal come to þee;
vi þe flowyng of camailes shal couere þee, dromedaries of Madian and Effa; alle fro Saba shul come, gold and encens bringende, and preising to þe Lord tellende.
vii Eche beste of Cedar shal be gedered to þee, weþeres of Nabaioth shuln serue to þee; þei shul ben offrid vpon my plesable auter, and þe hous of my mageste I shal glorifyen.
viii Who ben þese, þat as cloudus fleen, and as culueres to þer wyndowes?

ix Me forsoþe abijden iles, and shipes of þe se in þe bigynnnyng; þat I bringe þi sonus fro aferr, þe seluer of þem, and þe gold of hem wiþ þem, to þe name of þe Lord þi God, and to þe hoeli of Israel; for he shal glorifiен þee.
 x And bilden shul sonus of pilgrimes þi wallis, and þe kingus of hem serue shul to þee. In myn indignacioun forsoþe I smot þee, and in my recounsiling I hadde reueþe of þee.
 xi And opened shul be þi ȝates contynueli, dai and nyȝt þei shul not be cloſid; þat born be to þee þe strengþe of Jentilis, and þe kingus of þem be lad to.
 xii Forsoþe þe folc of kinde and reume þat shal not serue to þee, shal perfhe, and Jentiles in wildernesſe shul be waſtid.
 xiii Þe glorie of Liban to þee shal come, þe fyrr tree, and box, and pyne tree togidere, to enourne þe place of myn halewyng; and þe place of my feet I shal glorifiен.
 xiv And come shul to þee þe sonus of hem bowid, þat mekedon þee, and honoure shul þe steppis of þi feet, alle þat bacbiteden to þee; and clepen shul þee þe cite of þe Lord, Sion of þe hoeli of Israel.
 xv Forþi þat þou were forsaken, and to hate had, and þer was not þat bi þee shulde passe, I shal putte þee in to þe pride of worldus, ioȝe in ieneracioun and ieneracioun.
 xvi And þou shalt souke þe mylc of Jentiles, and wiþ þe tete of kingis þou shalt be mylkid; and þou shalt wite for I þe Lord, sauende þee, and þin aȝeen biere, þe strong of Jacob.
 xvii For metal I shal bringe to gold, and for iren I shal bringe to seluer; and for trees metal, and for stones iren; and I shal putte þi viſtinge pes, and þi prouostes riȝtwisnesſe.
 xviii Per shal no mor ben herd wickidnesſe in þi lond, ne waſtite and to-treding in þi termes; and occupie shal helþe þi wallis, and þi ȝates preſing.
 xix Per shal ben no more to þee þe funne to liȝten bi dai, ne þe shynnyng of þe moone liȝten shal bee; but shal be to þee þe Lord 'in to euerlastende liȝt, and þi God in to þi glorie.
 xx Go doun no mor shal þy funne, and þi moone shal not be mynusht; for þe Lord shal be in to euerlastende liȝt, and fulſild shul be þe dæſes of þi weiling.
 xxi þi puple forsoþe alle riȝtwife, in to euermor þei shul eritagen þe erþe, buriownyng of my plaunting, were of myn hond to glorien.
 xxii Þe leſte shal be in to a pouſend, and þe little child in to a folc of kinde moſt strong. I, þe Lord, in his time fodeynli shal do þis.

Capitulum LXI

i The spirit of þe Lord vp on me, for þat enoyntede me þe Lord; to tellen out to debonere men he fente me, þat

I shulde leche þe contrit men in herte, and prechen to caitif men forȝuenesse, and to cloſid men openyng; ii and prechen a ȝer plesable to þe Lord, and a dai of veniaunce to oure God; þat I shulde coumforten alle weilende men;
 iii þat I shulde putte coumforting to þe weilende men of Sion, and ȝyue to þem a crowne for alkes, oile of ioȝe for weiling, a mantil of preſing for þe spirit of mornynge. And þer shul be clepid in it ſtronge men of riȝtwisnesſe, plaunting of þe Lord to glorifiен.
 iv And þei shul bilden vp þe defertus fro þe world, and olde fallingus þei shul rere, and þei shul restore cites forsaken and ſcatered, in to ieneracioun and ieneracioun.
 v And ſtonde shul alienus, and fede ȝoure beſtus; and þe fonus of pilgrimes erþe tilieres and ȝoure vyne wercheres shul be.
 vi ȝee forsoþe prestus of þe Lord shul ben clepid; Seruauns of ȝoure God, it shal ben feid to ȝou. þe strengþe of Jentiles ȝee shuln ete, and in þe glorie of þem ȝee shul ben proud.
 vii For ȝoure double confusioun and shame preife shul þei þer part; for þat in þer lond double fold þingus þei shul welden, euermor gladnesſe shal be to þem.
 viii For I þe Lord, louende dom, and to hate hauende raueyn in to brent ſacrifise. And I shal ȝyue þe werk of hem in treuþe, and pes couenaunt 'euere durende I shal ſmyte wiþ þem.
 ix And shal be wiſt in Jentilis þe fed of hem, and þe buriownyng of þem in þe myddel of puples. Alle þat shul ſeen hem, shul knowe þem, for þeſe ben þe fed, to whom bliſſide þe Lord.
 x Ioȝende I shal ioȝen in þe Lord, and ful out ioȝen shal my ſoule in my God. For he cloþide me wiþ þe cloþing of helþe, and wiþ þe cloþing of riȝtwisnesſe he cumpaſſede me, as an husbonde wrſhipid wiþ a crowne, and as a wif enourned wiþ hir broches.
 xi As forſoþe þe erþe bringeþ forþ his buriownyng, and as a gardyn his fed buriowneþ, so þe Lord God shal buriowne riȝtwisnesſe, and preſing bifor alle folc of kinde.
 Capitulum LXII.
 i For Sion I shal not be ſtille, and for Jeruſalem I shal not reſten, to þe tymē þat go out as shynnyng þe riȝtwis of hym, and his ſaueour as a laumpe be tend.
 ii And ſeen shul Jentiles þi riȝtwis, and alle kingus þi noble; and clepid shal be to þee a newe name, þat þe mouþ of þe Lord nemnede.
 iii And þou shalt be a crowne of glorie in þe hond of þe
 Lord, and a diademē of þe rewme in þe hond of þi
 God.
 ivi þou shalt not more be clepid forſakun, and þi lond shal no mor be clepid defolat; but þou shalt be clepid
 My wil in it, and þi lond shal ben enhabitid; for it plesede to þe Lord in þee, and þi lond shal ben enhabited.

v Dwelle forsoþe shal þe ȝunge man wiþ þe maide, and dwelle shuln in þee þi sonus; and ioȝen shal þe husbonde vp on þe wif, and ioȝen vp on þee shal þi
God.

vi Vp on þi wallis, Jerusalēm, I sette keperes, al dai and al nyȝt euermor þei shul not be stille. ȝee þat remembren þe Lord, ne beþ stille, vii and ne ȝyueþ scilence to hym, to þe tyme þat he stablisse, and to þe tyme þat he sette Jerusalēm preisung in þe erþe.

viii ƿe Lord swor in his riȝthond and in þe arm of his strengþe, I shal not ȝyuen þi whete more in to mete to þin enemys, and drinke shul not alien sonus þi wyn, in whiche þou trauailedist.

ix For þei þat shul gederen it, shuln ete, and preise þe Lord; and þat 'wiþ bern it, shul drinken in myn hoeli porches.

x Passeþ, paffeþ burȝ þe ȝates; greipeþ weie to puple, pleyn makeþ þe goyng; and gedereþ awei þe stones, and rereþ vp a tocne to puples.

xii Lo! þe Lord herd made in þe vtmostus of erþe. Seiþ to þe doȝter of Sion, Lo! þi saueour comeþ; lo! his meede wiþ hym, and his were biforn hym.

xiii And þei shul clepen hem an hoeli puple, aȝeenboȝt of þe Lord. Pou forsoþe shalt be clepid a foȝt cite, and not forsaken.

Capitulum LXIII.

i Who is þis þat cam fro Edom, wiþ steyned cloþis fro Bosra? þis shapli in his stole, goende in þe multitude of his vertue? I þat speke riȝtwisnesse, and a forfyȝtere am to fauen.

ii Why þanne red is þi cloþing? and þi cloþis as of men tredende in þe preſſe?

iii ƿe preſſe I trad alone, and of þe folc of kinde þer is not a man wiþ me; Y trad hem in my wodness, and togedere trad hem in my wraþe; and sprengd is þe blod of hem vp on my cloþis, and alle my cloþingus I defoulid.

iv Dai forsoþe of veniaunce in myn herte, ȝer of my ȝelding cam.

v I beheeld aboute, and þer was not an helpere; I foȝte, and þer was not þat halp; and myn 'arm sauede to me,
and myn indignacioun itself halp to me.

vi And I al to-trad puples in my wodness; and I drunknede þem in myn indignacioun, and droȝ doun þe virtue of þem into erþe.

vii Of þe mercy doyngus of þe Lord I shal recorden, þe preisung of þe Lord vp on alle þingus þat ȝeeld to vs þe Lord, and vp on þe multitude of þe goodis to þe hous of Israel, þe whiche he largeli ȝaf to þem after his forȝyuenesse, and aftir þe multitude of his mercies.

viii And he seide, Nerþelatere `my puple is, sonus not denyende, and mad is to þem a saueour.

ix In alle þe tribulacioun of hem he is not trublid, and þe aungil of his face sauede hem. In his loue and in his indulgence he aȝeen boȝte þem, and bar hem, and rerede þem alle þe dȝes of þe world.

x ƿei forsoþe to wraþe terreden, and tormenteden þe spirit of his hoeli; and turned he is to þem in to enemy, and he faȝt þem doun.

xi And he recordide of þe dȝes of þe world, of Moises, and of his puple. Wher is, þat ladde þem out fro þe se, wiþ þe shepperdis of his floc? Where is, þat sette in his myddel spirit of his hoeli;

xii þe þat ladde outh at þe riȝtside Moisen in þe arm of his mageste? þat kutte watris bifor þem, þat he make to hym a name euere durende;

xiii þat ladde out þem bi water depþis, as an hors in desert not fallende,

xiv as a beste in þe feeld goende doun? ƿe Spirit of þe Lord his ledere was; so þou broȝtis to þi puple, þat þou make to þee a name of glorie.

xv Loke to fro heuene, and fee fro þin hoely dwelling, and fro þe se of þi glorie. Wher is þin inward loue, and þi strengþe, multitude of þi boweles, and of þi mercy doyngus? Vp on me þei wiþheelden hem.

xvi Pou forsoþe oure fader, and Abraham kneȝ not vs, and Irael vnkneȝ vs. Pou, Lord, oure fader, and oure aȝeenbiere; fro þe world þi name.

xvii Whi to erren vs þou madist, Lord, fro þi weies? þou hardedist oure herte, þat wee dredde not þee? be turned, for þi feruauns, lynages of þin eritage.

xviii As noȝt þei weldeden þin hoeli puple, and oure enemys al to-treeden þin halewyng.

xix Wee ben maad as in þe bigynnyng, whan þou lordshipedist not of vs, ne inwardli was clepid þi name vp on vs.

Capitulum LXIII.

i Wolde God þou shuldist to-breke heuenus, and comen doun, fro þi face hillis shulden flowe doun, ii as out brennyng of fyr þey shulden vanþe awei, watris shulden brenne wiþ fyr; þat knownen were maad þi name to þin enemys, fro þi face Jentilis shulden ben disturbid.

iii Whan þou shalt do merueiles, wee shuln not sustene.
Pou descendedest, and fro þi face mounteynes floweden doun.

iv Fro þe world þei herden not, ne wiþ eres parceyueden; þe eȝe faȝ not, þou God, wiþoute þee, what þingus þou haft mad redi to men abidende þee.

v Pou aȝen came to þe gladere, and to þe doende riȝtwisnesse; in þi weies þei shul recorden of þee. Lo!
þou wraþedist, and wee han synned; in hem wee weren euermor, and wee shul ben saaf.

vi And wee ben mad as vnclene, alle wee; as þe cloþ of þe womman roten blod flowende, alle oure riȝtwisnesses; and wee fallen as a lef alle, and oure wickidnesses as wind token awei vs.

vii Per is not, þat inwardly clepe þi name, þat rise, and holde þee; þou haſt hid þi face fro vs, and þou haſt hurtlid vs in þe hond of oure wickidnesse.

viii And now, Lord, oure fader þou art; wee forſoþe clei, and oure makere þou, and þe werkus of þin hondus, alle wee.

ix Ne wraþe þou, Lord, ynouȝ, and no more haue þou mynde of oure wickidnesse. Lo! Lord, bihold, þi puple alle wee.

x Þe cite of þin hoeli mad is desert Sion, desert mad is Jerusalem, xi defolat is þe hous of oure halewing and of oure glorie, where preifeden þee oure fadris, mad is in out brennyng of fyr; and alle oure desirable þingus ben turned in to fallingus.

xii Wheþer vp on þeſe þingus þou ſhalt wiþholden þee, Lord? ſtille ſhalt þou be, and tormenten vs hugeli?

Capitulum LXV.

i Thei ſoȝten me, þat biforn askeden not; þei founden þat ſoȝten not me. I ſeide, Lo! I, lo! Y, to þe Jentilis þat knewe not me, and þat inwardli clepeden not my name.

ii I ſpredde out myn hondis al dai to a puple myſtrouful, þat goþ in a wei not good, after þer penkingus.

iii Þe puple þat to wraþe terreþ me, bifor my face euermor; þat offren in gardynes, and ſacrifiен vp on tyles;

iv þat dwellen in ſepulcris, and in waſhing temples of mawmetis ſlepen; þat eten ſouwe flesh, and curſid broþ in þe veſſeles of hem;

v þat feyn, Go awei fro me, neȝhe þou not to me, for þou art vnclene; þeſe ſmoke ſhul ben in my wodneſſe, fyr brennende all dai.

vi Lo! it is write befor me; I ſhal not be ſtille, but I ſhal ȝelde, and quyte in to þe boſum of þem þer wickidneſſes, vii and þe wickidneſſes of ȝoure fader togidere, ſeip þe Lord, þat ſacrifiен vp on mounteynes, and vp on hilles repreueden to me; and I ſhal aȝeen meſuren þe werc of hem firſt in þe boſum of hem.

viii Þeſe þingus ſeip þe Lord, What maner if þer be founde a corn in þe cluſter, and be feid, Ne ſcatere þou it, for bliſſing it is; fo I ſhal do for my feruauns, þat I ſcatere not al.

ix And I ſhal leden out fro Jacob ſed, and of Juda þe weldende myn hoeli mounteynes; and eritagen it ſhul my chofene, and my feruauns dwelle þere.

x And ben ſhul þe wilde feedis in to foldys of flockis, and þe valei of Achor in to þe couche of droues, to my puple þat aȝeen ſoȝten me.

xi And ȝee þat forſoken þe Lord, þat forȝeeten myn hoely mounteyn, þat putten þe bord of fortune, and offren licoures vp on it, xii I ſhal noumbre ȝou in fwerd, and alle in flaȝter ȝee ſhul falles; for þi þat I clepede, and ȝee anſwerden not; I ſpac, and ȝee herden not; and ȝee diden euel in myn eȝen, and þat I wolde not, ȝee chosen.

xiii For þeſe þingus, ſeip þe Lord God, lo! my feruauntis ſhuln ete, and ȝee ſhul hungren; lo! my feruauns ſhul drinke, and ȝee ſhul þriſten;

xiv lo! my feruauns ſhul gladen, and ȝee ſhul be confoundid; lo! my feruauns ſhul preife, for ful out ioȝing of herte, and ȝee ſhul crien, for forewe of herte, and for þe totreding doun of ſpirit ȝee ſhul ȝelle.

xv And ȝee ſhul leue ȝoure name in to oþ to my chofene; and ſle ſhal þee þe Lord God, and his feruauns he ſhal clepe bi an oþer name.

xvi In whiche who ſo is bliſſid vp on erþe, ſhal ben bliſſid in God amen; and who ſwerþ in erþe, ſhal ſwern in God amen; for to forȝeting ben take þe raþere anguyſhes, and for hid þei ben fro oure eȝen.

xvii Lo! forſoþe I ſhape newe heuenus and newe erþe, and ben ſhul not in mynde þe raþere, and ſteȝen ſhul þei not vp vp on herte.

xviii But ȝee ſhul ioȝen, and ful out ioȝen vnto euermor, in þeſe þingus þat I ſhape; for lo! I ſhape Jerusalem ful out glading, and his puple ioȝe.

xix And I lhal ful out gladen in Jerusalem, and ioȝen in my puple; and þer ſhal ben herd in it no more vois of weeping and vois of cri.

xx And þer ſhal no mor be þe faunt of daȝes, and þe olde þat fulfilliþ not his daȝes; for þe child of an hundred ȝer ſhal dien, and þe ſynnere of an hundred ȝer ſhal be curſid.

xi And þei ſhul bilden vp houses, and dwellen in, and plaunte `vyne ȝerdis, and ete þe frute of hem.

xxii þei ſhul not bilden vp houses, and an oþer dwelle, ne plaunten, and an oþer ete; after þe daȝes forſoþe of þe tree ſhul be þe daȝes of my puple, and þe werkes of þer hondus.

xxiii My chofen vnto ful eelde ſhal vſe; þei ſhul not traualle in veyn, ne ben gendrid in disturbing; for þe ſed of þe bliſſid men of þe Lord it is, and þe cofynes of hem wiþ hem.

xxiv And it ſhal be, er þei crien, I ſhal ful out heren; ȝit hem ſpekende, I lhal ful out heren.

xxv Þe wlf and þe lomb ſhul be fed togidere, and þe leoun and þe oxe ſhuln ete chaf, and to þe ſerpent pouder his bred; þei ſhul not noȝen, neflen, in al myn hoeli mounteyn, ſeip þe Lord.

Capitulum LXVI.

i These þingus seiþ þe Lord, Heuene my fete, and erþe þe stonding vp place of my feet. What is þis hous, þat ȝee shul bilde to me, and what is þis place of my rest? ii Alle þese þingus myn hond dide, and mad ben alle þese þingus, seiþ þe Lord; to whom forsoþe shall I beholde, but to my porelet and contrit in spirit, and tremblende my wrdis?

iii þat offreþ an oxe, as þat fle a man; þat fleþ a beste, as þat brayne a dogge; þat offreþ offring, as þat souwe blod he offre; þat recordeþ of encens, as þat blisse to be mawmet; alle þese þei chosen in þer weies, and in þer abominaciouns þe soule of þem delitede.

iv Wherfore and I shal chesen þe illusiouns of hem, and þat þei dredden I shal brenge to þem; for I clepede, and þer was not þat shulde answern; I spac, and þei herden not; and þei diden euel in myn ezen, and þat I wolde not, þei chosen.

v Hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, þat tremblen at his wrd; ȝoure breþern seiden hatende ȝou, and castende awei for my name, Glorified be þe Lord, and wee shul see in ȝoure gladnesse; þei forsoþe shul be confoundid.

vi Vois of þe puple fro þe cite, vois fro þe temple, vois of þe Lord ȝeldende ȝelding to his enemys.

vii 'Er sche trauelide wiþ peyne as wymmen don, sche bar wiþoute; er shulde come his birþe 'wyþ peyne, sche bar a male child.

viii Who herde euere such a þing, and who saȝ to þis lic? Wheþer shal wiþ ynne bern þe erþe in o dai, or shal be born a folc of kinde togidere? For wiþ ynne bar and wiþoute bar Sion his fones.

ix Wheþer I þat opere men make to bern child, I my self shal not bern? seiþ þe Lord. If I þat ieneracioun to opere men ȝyue, bareyn shal be? seiþ þe Lord þi God.

x Gladeþ wiþ Jerufalem, and ful out ioȝeb in it, alle þat louen it; ioȝeb wiþ it wiþ ioȝe, alle þat weilen vp on it;

xi þat and ȝee souke, and be fulfilde of þe tetes of his coumforting, þat ȝee mylke, and wiþ delices flownen, of alle maner glorie of hym.

xii For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! I shal bowe doun vp on it, as be flod of pes, and as strem flowende þe glorie of Jentilis, þat ȝee shul souke; to þe tetes ȝee shul be born, and vp on þe knes men shul daunte ȝou.

xiii What maner if to whom a moder daunte, so I shal coumforte ȝou, and in Jerufalem ȝee shul be coumfortid.

xiv ȝee shul feen, and ioȝen shal ȝoure herte, and ȝoure boenes as an erbe shul buriowne. And knowe shal ben þe hond of þe Lord in his feruauns, and endeyne he shal to his enemys.

xv For lo! þe Lord in fyr shal come, and as a whirlewynd his foure horsid carres, to ȝelde in to indignacioun his wodnesse, and his blamyng in a flawme of fyr.

xvi For in a fyr þe Lord shal be dyuersly demed, and in his fwerd to alle flesh; and multeplied shul be þe slayne of þe Lord, xvii þat weren halewid, and cleene weeneden þemself, in gardynes bihynde þe firste tree, 'or þe ȝate, wiþ ynne forþ; þat eeten souwe flesh, and abominacioun, and a mous, togidere shuln ben waftid, seiþ þe Lord.

xviii I forsoþe þe werkys of hem and þe þoȝtus of hem, come þat I gedere, wiþ alle folkis and tungus; and þei shul comen, and seen my glorie.

xix And I shal putte in þem a tocne, and fenden of hem þat shul be saf to þe Jentiles, in to þe fe, in to Affrich, and in to Liddiam, men holdende an arwe, in to Italie, and Grece, to iles aferr, to hem þat herden not of me, and seȝen not my glorie. And þei shul tellen out my glorie to Jentilis, xx and bringen alle ȝoure breþern fro alle Jentilis a free ȝifte to þe Lord, in hors, and in foure horsid carres, and in literes, and in mulys, and in cartus, to myn hoeli mounteyn, Jerufalem, seiþ þe Lord; as if þe sonus of Israel bringen in a ȝifte in a clene vessel in to þe hous of þe Lord.

xxi And I shal taken of þem in to preftus and Leuytus, seiþ þe Lord.

xxii For as newe heuenus and newe erþe, whiche I make to stonde bifor me, seiþ þe Lord, so stonde shal ȝoure fed, and ȝoure name.

xxiii And þer shal be monyþ of monyþ, and sabot of sabot; comen shal eche flesh to honoure byfor my face, seiþ þe Lord.

xxiv And 'gon out shuln, and seen þe careynes of men, þat trespassiden aȝen me; þe werm of þem shal not die, and þe fir of hem shal not be quenchid; and þei shul be in to filling of siȝt to alle flesh.

Here endiþ þe boke of Ysaie, and now begynneþ þe prolog of Jeremeie.

JEREMYE.

Prologus to Jeremie, prophete.

Jeremeie, þe profete, to whom þis prologue is ascriued, as anent þe Ebrues is seen to ben boostousere þan þe sermoun of Isaie, and of Osee, and þan opere profetes; but in wittes he is euene, sibben þat in þe same spirit he profeciede; but þe symplenesse of speche fel to hym of þe place in whiche he was born. Forsoþe he was of Anatoth, þat vnto þis dai is a litil town, bi þre myle beende fro Jerufalem; a prest of preftus, and in his moder wombe halewid; þurȝ his maidenhed halewende to þe chirche of Crist a gospel man. His a child bigan to profecien; and þe caitife of þe chef cite, and of Jewerie, not only in spirit, but and wiþ ezen of flesh beheeld. Now forsoþe Assiries hadden translatid þe ten lynagis of Israel in to Meidis; now þe townes of Jentiles weldeden þe londis of þem. Wherfore in Jewere onli and Beniamyn he profeciede; and of his cite þe fallingus wiþ fourefold abece, he weilede, þe whiche wee han ȝolden to þe mesure of metre 'and vers. Perfore þe ordre of viseouns, þat anent Grekes and Latynes outerli is confoundid, to þe rapere feiþ wee han amendyd. Þe boc forsoþe of Baruch, his notorie, þat anent þe Ebrues is not rad, ne had, wee han laft; for alle þese þingus curses of enimys abidende, to whom nede is me to answern bi my werkis a rowe. And þis I suffere, for ȝee constreynen, O! Paule and Euſtoche; but more riȝt it were, to þe ſhorting of euel, to putte meſure to þe wodneſſe of þem bi my silence, þan to eche dai ſum what of newe þing writende, to terre þe wodneſſe of þe enyouse.

Anoþer Prolog

God is redi to ȝyue good, to punſhen a tariere; whan forſoþe he myȝte gilty men wiþoute wiþeſſing 'of þing to come to be punſhid, no wher þat he doþ; but also if he ſhul condempne, þat he ſeiþ bifor, þat þei be delyuered by penaunce, þat weren dampned bi gilte. Nynyuytes weren dampned ſynneres of God; ȝit forſoþe þre dazes, and Nynyue was to be turned vp fo doun; God wolde not wiþ silence punſhe condempned men, but, ȝyuende to þem place of penaunce, ſente an Ebru profete, þat ſhulde feyn. ȝit þre dazes, and Nynyue ſhal be turned vp fo doun; leſt perſheden, þat is, þat weren dampned, but doende penaunce, þei ſhulden purchacen mercy. Sodomites alſo and Gomorreis now to hard torment weren ordeyned, as þe fermoun of God to Abraham ſhewide; nerþelatere þat þeiris was, þe aungelis diden, wylhende hem to fauen, þat ſheweden hemſelf vnwrpi helpe; and ſeiendo to Loth, Is þer any man to þee heer ſone in lawe, or fones, ouþer doȝtris? ne þei vnknewen hem not 'to ben to folewen Loth, but þei ſheweden hern to gidere and his benygnete and loue þat hem hadde ſent. Lijc ſum what in Jeremye wee fiðen. Notid is forſoþe þe tyme of his profecye, whan he gan, or hadde endid to profecyen. Seiþ perfore ſum man, What to me þe tyme of þe ſtories? for he began to profecien in þe dazes of Josie, ſone of Amos, þe king of Juda, vnto þe þrettenþe ȝer in his regne. Per after he profeciede in þe dazes of Joachym, ſone of Josie, þe king of Juda; and bi þre kingus his profecie is ſtraȝt out, vnto þe caitife of Jerusalem. In þe fifte monyþ condempnede God Jerusalem for his ſynnes, and þat was þe laſte ſentence, þat caitif þei ſhulden be forſake; but ſiþen God is þe makere of men, ne any man wile to perſhen, bifor þat þe tyme of deſtruccioun ſhulde ſtonden in, he ſente and þis profete, þat ſhulde bidde to penaunce. He ſente þe fame alſo vnder þe þridde. Now þe caitife ſtod on, and ȝit to helpe God ſtirede, ȝyuende and bifor o dai place of penaunce; wherfore it is write, vnto þe caitife of Jerusalem, and vnto þe fifte moneþ, to han profecied to Jerusalem. Now þe bondis of þe enimys hadden ſtreyned þe hondis, and nerþelatere þis God ſeide, Lo! caitif ȝee ben mad, doþ penaunce; þoȝ late, preȝeþ me, and I ſhal ſpare to ȝou; I mai delyuer fro þe caitife, þat I haue take ȝou, vn to þe ful ending of þe elleuenþe ȝer of Sedechie, ſone of Osie, king of Juda. ȝis alſo of vs wee moun vnderſtonde, a ſynnere forſoþe to be taken to Sathan; no þing is ferr fro it, þat Jewis ben taken to Nabugodonosor, þat as hem God grauntide to þe aduersarie for ofte vſid vnpitouſneſſe, so wee ben taken for oure ſynnes to ſpirituel Nabugodonosor, þat whom he hap take to Sathan, þei lerne to not blaſfemen. Weeneſt þou hou myche euel it is to ſynnen, þat he take to Sathan, caityuende þe ſoules of þem þat ben forsaken of God? not wiþoute caufe, þat is, ne wiþ oute dom. Whan forſoþe he ſhal ſende reyn vp on þe vyne, and þat reyn ſhal bringe forþ þornes, what ſhal he do, but þat he comaunde to þe wederes, þat þei reyne not vp on þe vyne weder? Nyȝ þerfore is and oure caitife, if wee do not penaunce, þat wee be take to Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, whiche now liende nyȝ, þe wrdis of profetis, of þe lawe, of þe apolſtolis, and of þe felue Crift 'ful out biden vs to penaunce, stern to helpe. If wee heren, wee leeuen to hym þat feide, I ſhal do penaunce of alle þe euelis, þat I ſpac to do to þem.

Here begynneþ þe boke of Jeremye, þe prophete.

Capitulum I.

- i The wrdis of Jeremye, ſone of Elchie, of þe prestus þat weren in Anathot, in þe lond of Beniamyn.
- ii þat maad is þe wrd of þe Lord to hym in þe dazes of Josie, ſone of Amon, king of Juda, in þe þrettenþe ȝer of his regne.
- iii And don it is in þe dazes of Joachym, ſone of Josie, king of Juda, vn to þe ful ending of þe elleuenþe ȝer of Sedechie, ſone of Josie, king of Juda, vnto þe transmygracioun of Jerusalem, in þe fifte monyþ.
- iv And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to me, ſeiendo,
- v Bifor þat I foormede þee in þe wombe, Y knew þee; and er þou wentest out of þe priue wombe, I halowede þee; and a profete in folkis of kinde I ȝaf þee.
- vi And I ſeide, A! A! A! Lord God, lo! I kan not ſpeke, for a child I am.
- vii And þe Lord ſeyde to me, Wile þou not feyn, for a child I am; for to alle þingus þat I ſhal ſende þee, þou ſhalt go, and alle þingis, what euere I ſhal ſende to þee, þou ſhalt ſpeke.
- viii Ne drede þou fro þe face of þem, for I am wiþ þee, þat I delyuer þee, ſeiþ þe Lord.
- ix And þe Lord ſente his hond, and touchide my mouþ; and þe Lord ſeide to me, Lo! I haue ȝoue my wrdis in þi mouþ;
- x lo! I haue ſet þee to dai vp on folkis of kinde, and vp on reumes, þat þou pulle vp, and deſtroȝe, and ſpringe abrod, and waſte, and bilde vp, and plaunte.

xi And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to me, seiende, What feest þou, Jeremye? And Y seide, A wakende ȝerde I see.
 xii And þe Lord seide to me, Wel þou haft seen, for I þhal waken vp on my wrd, þat I do it.
 xiii And don is þe wrd of þe Lord þe secounde tyme to me, seiende, What feest þou? And I seide, A pot tend vp I see, and his face fro þe face of þe norþ.
 xiv And þe Lord seide to me, Fro þe norþ þhal be schewid euel vp on alle þe dwelleris of erþe.
 xv For lo! I þhal clepe togidere alle þe kinredis of þe rewmes of þe norþ, seip þe Lord, and þei ȝhul come, and setten eche his see in þe entre of þe ȝatis of Jerusalem, and vp on alle his wallis in enuyroun, and vp on alle þe chef cites of Juda.
 xvi And I þhal speke my domes wiþ hem vp on al þe malice of hem, þat forsoke me, and offreden to aliene goddis, and honoureden þe werec of þer hondis.
 xvii þou þanne gird vp bi leendis, and ris, and spec to þem alle þingus þat I comaunde to þee; ne be þou aferd fro þe face of þem, ne forsoþe Y þhal make þee to dreden þe chere of þem.
 xviii Y forsoþe haue ȝoue þee to dai in to a strengbid cite, and in to an irene pilere, and in to a brasen wal, vp on al erþe, to þe kingus of Juda, and to his princes, and to his prestes, and to al þe puple of þe lond.
 xix And þei ȝhul fiȝte ȝzen þee, and not han þe maistri;
 for I wiþ þee am, seip þe Lord, þat I delyuere þee.

Capitulum II.

i And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to me, seiende, ii Go, and cri in þe eres of Jerusalem, seiende, ȝese þyngus seip þe Lord, I recordide of þee, rewende þin waxende ȝoube, and þe charite of bi weddyng, whan þou foledewist me in desert, in þe lond þat is not fowen.
 iii 'Hoeli Israel to þe Lord, þe chef of his frutus; alle þat deuouren hym, gilten; euelis ȝhul come vp on hem, seip þe Lord.
 iv Hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, ȝee hous of Jacob, and alle þe kinredis of þe hous of Israel. v ȝese þyngus seip þe Lord, What founde ȝoure fadris in me of wickidnesse, for þei longeden awei fro me, and ȝiden aftir vanyte, and veyn þei ben mad?
 vi And þei seiden not, Wher is þe Lord, þat made vs to stegen vp fro þe lond of Egipt, þat ladde vs ouer by desert, bi þe lond vnhabitable and wiþouten weie, bi þe lond of þrist, and ymage of deb, bi þe lond in whiche ȝide not a ful man, ne wonde a man.
 vii And I ladde ȝou in to þe lond of Carmel, þat ȝee ȝhulden ete his frute, and þe 'beste þingis of it; and gon in ȝee defouleden my lond, and myn eritage ȝee putten in to abhominacioun.
 viii Prestes seiden not, Wher is þe Lord? and holdende þe lawe, þei knewen not me; and ȝhepperdis breeken þe lawe ȝzen me, and profetes profecieden in Baal, and foledewen mawmetes.

 ix ȝefore ȝit Y ȝhal striuen in dom wiþ ȝou, seip þe Lord, and wiþ ȝoure sones Y ȝhal dispute.
 x Passeþ to iles of Sithym, and seeþ; and in to Cedar fendeþ, and beholdeþ hugeli; and seeþ, yf don is such a maner þing, xi if chaungid hap þe folc of kinde his goddis; and certes þei ben not goddis; my puple forsoþe chaungede his glorie in to a mawmet.
 xii Waxeþ stonȝid, ȝee heuenus, vp on þis, and, ȝee ȝatus of heuene, beþ desolat hugeli, seip þe Lord.
 xiii Two forsoþe euelis diden my puple; me þei forsoken, welle of quyc watir, and doluen to þem waſtid cisternes, þat contenen watriſ moun not.
 xiv Wheþer a þral is Israel, or a 'born bonde man? Whi þanne mad he is in to prei?
 xv Vp on hym roreden leouns, and ȝeuen þer vois; þei setteden his lond in to wildernesse, his cites ben brend vp, and þer is not þat dwelle in þem.
 xvi ȝe sonus also of Memfeos and of Thamnes 'defouliden þee bi lecherie, or mawmetrie, 'vp on to þe top.
 xvii Wheþer not þis is do to þee, for þou haft forsaken þe Lord bi God, þat tyme þat he ladde þee bi þe wey?
 xviii And now what to þee wilt þou in þe weye of Egipt, þat þou drinke water troublid? And what to þee wiþ þe weie of Assiries, þat þou drinke water of þe flod?
 xix Vndernyme þee ȝhal bi malice, and bi turnyng away ȝhal blame þee; wite and see, for euel and bitter it is þee to han forlaken þe Lord bi God, and his drede not to ben anent þee, seip þe Lord God of ostes.
 xx From þe world þou haft al to-brofste my ȝoc, to-broke my bondis, and seidist, I ȝhal not serue. In eche forsoþe hyȝ hil, and vnder eche braunchy tree þou were þrowe doun a strumpet.
 xxi I forsoþe plaunteðe þee a chosen vyneȝerd, al verre fed; what maner ȝanne þou art turned to me in to a shreude þing, an aliene vyne?
 xxii If þou wasshe þee wiþ 'clensing cley, and multeplie to þee 'þe clensende erbe boreþ, þou art defoulid wiþ bi wickidnelle bifor me, seip þe Lord God.
 xxiii What maner feist þou, I am not defoulid, after Baalym I haue not go? See bi weies in þe hole valey, wite what þou haft do; a liȝt corour tellende out bi
 weies.
 xxiv 'A feld asse vsid in wildernesse in þe defyr of his soule droȝ wind of his loue; noon ȝhal turne it awey.
 Alle þat seechen ȝhir, ȝhul not failen; in ȝhir rote blod flowingus þei ȝhul finden ȝhir.
 xxv Forfende bi foot fro nakidhed, and bi þrote fro þrist; and þou seideſt, I dispeirede, I ȝhal not do; I louede forsoþe alienus, and after þem I ȝhal go.
 xxvi What maner is confoundid a þef, whan he is caȝt, so confoundid ben þe houſis of Israel; þei, and þe kingus of hem, princes, and prestes, and profetes of þem, xxvii sciende to þe tree, My fader þou art; and to þe ston, þou me haſt gotten. Pe turneden to me bac, and not face; in tyme of þer tormenting þei shul sey, Rys, and delyuere vs.

xxviii Wher ben þi goddus, whom þou haſt maad to bee? Rife þei, and delyuere þei þee in þe dai of þi tormenting; after þe noumbe forſoþe of þi cites weren þi goddus, Juda.

xxix What wile ȝee wiþ me in dom striue? Alle ȝee han forſake me, seiþ þe Lord.

xxx In veyn I haue smyte ȝoure ſonus, diſciplyne þei reſceyueden not; ȝoure ſwert deouorede ȝoure profetes, as a leoun is waſtid ȝoure ieneracioun.

xxxi Seéþ þe wrd of þe Lord, wheþer wildernesſe I am mad to Israel, or a lond late berende frute? Whi þanne feiþ my puple, Wee han gon awei, wee shul no mor come to þee?

xxxii Wheþer forȝeteſh al þe maiden of hir enournement? and þe womman spouse of hir breſt bundel? My puple forſoþe forȝat me in daȝes vnuombred.

xxxiv What enforceſt þou to ſhewe þi weie good to ben foȝt loue, þat ouermor and þi malices þou haſt taȝt þi weies, xxxv and in þi wengus is founde blod of pore soules and innocentus? Not in dichis Y fond þem, but in alle pingus þat aboue I membrede.

xxxvi And þou feidist, Wiþoute synne and ynnocent I am; and þerfore be turned awei þi wodnesſe fro me. Lo! Y in dom al ſhal striue wiþ þee; for þi þat þou feidist, I synnede not.

xxxvii Hou foul art þou mad ful myche, rehercende þi weies? and of Egipt þou ſhall be confoundid, as þou art confoundyd of Assur.

xxxviii For whi and of þis þou ſhall gon out, and þin hondis shul ben vp on þin hed; for al to-troden haþ þe Lord þi troſt, and no þing þou ſhallt 'han welfum.

Capitulum III.

i Comunly me feiþ, If a man lefe his wif, and ſhe goende awei fro hym wedde an oþer man, wheþer ſhal ſhe turne aȝeen any mor to hym? wheþer not pollut and defoulid ſhal be þat womman? þou forſoþe haſt do fornyacioun wiþ many loueres; nerpelatere turne aȝeen to me, feiþ þe Lord, and I ſhal reſceyue þee.

ii Rere vp þin eȝen in to euene riȝt, and ſee, where now þou art leid doun. In weies þou ſeete, abidende þem as a þef in wildernesſe, and þou defoulediſt þe lond in þi fornyaciouns and in þi malices.

iii For what þing ben defendid dropis of reynes, and þe late comende weder was not. Pe forhed of a ſtrumpet womman is maad to þee; þou woldest not ſhamen.

iv Panne namely fro now clep me, My fader, duk of my maydenhed þou art.

v Wheþer þou ſhallt be wroþ in to euermor, and abyde ſtille in to þe ende? Lo! þou ſpeeke, and didiſt euelis, and myȝtiſt. And for wrdiſ of penaunce wiþ wrdiſ of pride þou blaſfemediſt; and þou fulfiſdiſt þin euel benkiŋ, and ſhewedistiſ aȝen þe huſbonde þi ſtrengþe, bat þou now don þat in wrd þou treteſtiſt.

vi And þe Lord ſeide to me, in þe daȝes of kyng Josie, Wheþer þou haſt not ſeen what þyngus haþ do þe aduersarie, Israel? She ȝide awei to hirſelf vp on eche heȝ mounteyn, and vnder eche brauchi tree, and dide fornyacioun þere.

vii And Y ſeide, whan ſhe hadde don alle þeſe þingus, To me turne aȝeen; and ſhe is not turned aȝeen. And þe brekeresse of lawe, Juda, hir ſister, ſaȝ, viii for þi þat 'Israel, aduersarie, hadde do lecherie, I ſhulde haue left her, and ȝoue to her a libel of forſaking; and þe lawe brekeresse, Juda, hir ſister, dradde not, but ȝide awei, and dide fornyacioun alſo ſhe.

ix And þurȝ liȝthed of hir fornyacioun defoulede þe lond, and dide fornyacioun wiþ ſton, and wiþ tree.

x And in alle þeſe þingus is not turned aȝeen to me þe lawe brekeresse, hir ſister, Juda, in al hir herte, but in leſing, feiþ þe Lord God.

xi And þe Lord ſeide to me, Pe aduersarie, Israel, iuſteſiede hir ſoule, bi comparisoun of þe lawe brekeresse, Juda.

xii Go, and cry þeſe wrdiſ aȝen þe norþ; and þou ſhall ſey, Turne aȝeen, þou aduersarie, Israel, feiþ þe Lord, and I ſhal not turne awei my face fro ȝou; for I am hoeli, feiþ þe Lord, and I ſhal not wraþen in to wiþoute ende.

xiii Ner þe latere wite þou þi wickednesſe; for in to þe Lord þi God þou haſt do lawe breche, and þou haſt ſcatered þi weies to alienus vnder eche brauchi tree; and my vois þou herdift not, feiþ þe Lord.

xiv Beþ conuertiſ, ȝee ſonus, turnende aȝeen, feiþ þe Lord, for I ȝoure housebonde; and ſhal take ȝou to oen of þe cite, and two of þe kinrede, and bringe ȝou in to Sion;

xv and ȝiue ȝou ſhepperdus aftir myn herte, and þei shul fede ȝou wiþ kunnyng and doctryne.

xvi And whan ȝe ſhul be multeplied, and encreſyn in þe lond, in þo daȝes, feiþ þe Lord, þei ſhul ſey no more, Pe arke of þe teſtament of þe Lord; ne it ſhal ſteȝen vp vp on herte, ne þei ſhul recorde of it, ne it ſhal be viſitiſ, ne be mad eft more.

xvii In þat tyme þei ſhuln clepe Jeruſalem Pe ſee of þe Lord, and gedered ſhul be to it alle Jentiles, in name of þe Lord, in to Jeruſalem; and þei ſhul not gon after þe lhreudenelle of þer werſte herte.

xviii In þo daȝes gon ſhal þe hous of Juda to þe hous of Israel; and come þei ſhuln togidere fro þe lond of þe norþ to þe lond þat I ȝaf to ȝoure fadris.

xix I forsoþe seide, Hou shal I putte þee in sonus, and ȝelde to þee þe desirable lond, þe ful cler eritage of þe oſtis of þe folc of kinde? And I seide, A fader þou shalft clepe me, and after me to gon þou shalft not cese.
 xx But what maner if a woman dispise hir louere, so dispisede me þe hous of Israel, seiþ þe Lord.
 xxi A vois in weies is herd, weeping and ȝelling of þe sonus of Israel; for wicke þei maaden þeir weie, forȝeeten of þe Lord þer God.
 xxii Beþ conuerted, ȝee sonus, turnende aȝeen, and I shal helen ȝoure turnyngus awei. Lo! wee han come to þee; þou forsoþe art þe Lord oure God.
 xxiii Verrelly lyeres weren þe hillis, þe multitude of mounteynes; verrelly in þe Lord oure God þe helpe of Israel.
 xxiv Confusioun eet þe trauale of our fadris, fro oure waxende ȝouþe; þe flockes of þem, and þe droues of hem, þe sonus of þem, and þe doȝtris of þem.
 xxv Wee shul slepe in oure confusyoun, and coueren shal vs oure shenþipe; for to þe Lord oure God wee han synned, and wee and our fadris, fro oure waxende ȝouþe vn to þis dai; and wee han not herd þe vois of 'þe Lord oure God.

Capitulum III.

i If þou shalft turne aȝeen, Israel, seiþ þe Lord, to me be conuertid; if þou shalft take awei þin hurtende þingus fro my face, þou shalft not be to-stirid.
 ii And þou shalft swern, þe Lord lyueþ, in treueþ and in dom and in riȝtwisnes; and blissen shul hym folc of kinde, and hym preisen.
 iii Þese þingus forsoþe seiþ þe Lord to þe man of Juda and to þe dwellere of Jerusalem, Newiþ to ȝou a newe tilid lond, and wileþ not sownen vp on bornes.
 iv Beþ circumcidid to þe Lord, and doþ awei þe vtmost ȝerde felles of ȝoure hertes, ȝee men of Juda, and dwelleris of Jerusalem; leſt parauenture go out as fyr myn indignacioun, and be tend vp, and þer be not þat quenche, for þe malice of ȝoure þoȝtus.
 v Telleþ out in Juda, and in Jerusalem makeþ herd; spekeþ, and fyngeþ wiþ a trumpe in þe lond; crieþ strongli, and seiþ, Beþ gedered, and go wee in þe strengþid cites.
 vi Rereþ a tocne in Sion, beþ coumfortid, and wileþ not stonde; for euel I bringe to fro þe norþ, and a gret to-treding.
 vii Steȝede vp a leoun fro his couche, þe reuere of Jentilis hymself shal reren. He wente out fro his place, þat he pute þi lond 'in to wildernesſe; þi citees shul be waſtid, abidende ſtille wiþoute dwellere.
 viii Vp on þis gird ȝou aboute wiþ heires; weileþ, and ȝelliþ, for turned awei is not þe wraþe of þe wodnesſe of þe Lord fro ȝou.
 ix And it shal be, in þat dai, seiþ þe Lord, perſhen shal þe herte of þe king, and þe herte of princes; and become ſtoneid shul þe prestis, and profetes in mynde shul be diſturbid.

x And I seide, Allas! allas! allas! Lord God; þanne wheþer haſt þou not bigilið þis puple and Jeruſalem, feiende, Pes shal be to ȝou, and lo! ful comen is ſword vn to þe foule?

xi In þat tyme shal be ſeid to þis puple and to Jeruſalem, Brennende wynde in þe weies þat ben in defert, weies of þe doȝter of my puple, not to wynewen, and to purgen.

xii A ſpirit ful of þefe ſhal come to me; and now Y, but I ſhal ſpeke my domes wiþ þem.

xiii Lo! as a cloude he ſhal ſteȝen vp, and as tempeſt his chares; ſwifttere þan eglis his hors; wo to vs, for waſtid wee ben.

xiv Waſh fro malice þin herte, þou Jeruſalem, þat þou be mad ſaad. Hou longe shuln abyde in þee noȝous þoȝtes?

xv Þe vois forſoþe of þe tellende fro Dan, and of þe knownen makende þe mawmet fro þe hil of Effraym.

xvi Stereþ, ȝee Jentiles; lo! herd it is in Jeruſalem keperes to come fro a ferr lond, and to ȝyue vp on þe cites of Juda þer vois.

xvii As keperes of feeldis þei ben mad vpon it in cumpas; for me to wraþe it terrede, seiþ þe Lord.

xviii ȝi weies and ȝi þoȝtus diden to þee þefe þingus; þis ȝi malice for bitter, for it touchede þin herte.

xix My wombe I ake, my wombe I ake; þe wittus of myn herte ben diſturbid in me. I ſhal not be ſtille, for þe vois of þe trumpe herde my foule, cry of þe bataile.

xx To-treding vp on to-treding is clepid, and waſtid is al erþe; feerli ben waſtid my tabernacles, ſodeynly my flwynnes.

xxi Hou longe shal I ſeen a man fleende, heren ſhal Y þe vois of þe trumpe?

xxii For my fool puple me kneȝ not; vñwife sonus þei ben, and couwardus; wife þei ben þat þei do eueles, wel forſoþe do þei kunne not.

xxiii I beheeld þe erþe, and lo! voide it was, and of noȝt; and heuenus, and þer was not liȝt in þem.

xxiv I faȝ mounteynes, and lo! þei weren moued, and alle hillis ben diſturbid.

xxv Y beheeld, and þer was not a man, and eche foul of heuene wente awey.

xxvi I beheeld, and lo! Carmel defert, and alle hys cites ben destroȝed fro þe face of þe Lord, and fro þe face of þe wraþe of his wodnes.

xxvii Þese þingus forſoþe seiþ þe Lord, Defert ſhal ben eche lond, but nerþelatere ful ending Y ſhal not do.

xxviii Weile ſhal erþe, and forewen shul heuenus fro aboue, for þi þat Y ſpac; I þoȝte, and it oþoȝte not me, ne Y turned awei fro it.

xxix Fro þe vois of þe horſe man, and of þe ſendende an arwe fleiȝ al þe cyte; þei wenten in hard þingus, and ſteȝeden vp on roches; alle þe chef cites ben forſaken, and dwelliþ not in þem a man.

xxx Pou forsoþe waſtid, what ſhalt þou do? Whan þou ſhalt cloþe þee wiþ rede ſilc, whan þou ſhalt be enourmed wiþ þe goldene broche, and ſchal peynte þin eȝen wiþ ſtrumpetes oyment, in veyn þou `ſhalt ben araied; diſpide þee han þi loueres, þi lif þei ſhul ſechen.

xxxi A vois forſoþe as of þe traualende wiþ child I herde, anguſſhes as of þe child berere; vois of þe doȝter of Syon among men diende, and ſtrecchende out þer hondus; Wo to me, for failide my lif for þe flayne.

Capitulum V.

i God aboute þe weies of Jeruſalem, and lookeþ, and beholdeþ, and ſecheþ in his ſtretes, wheþer ȝee fynde a man doende dom, and ſechende feiþ; and merciful Y ſhal be to hem.

ii Bat if alſo, þe Lord lyueþ, þei `ſhul ſey, and þat falſly þei ſhuln fwern.

iii Lord, þin eȝen biholden feiþ; þou haſt ſmyte þem, and þei foreweden not; þou to-treede þem, and þei forſoken to taken discipline; þei inwardli hardeden þer faces vp on þe ſton, and wolden not be turned aȝeen.
iv I forſoþe ſeid, Par auenture pore men þei ben, and fooliſ, vñknowende þe weie of þe Lord, þe dom of þer
God.

v I ſhal go þerfor to þe cheef men, and ſpeke to þem; þei forſoþe knewen þe weie of þe Lord, and þe dom of þer God. And lo! more þeſe togidere al tobreeken þe ȝoc, and broſten out þe bondis. vi Perfore haþ ſmyte þem a leoun of þe wode; a wlf at euen waſtede þem, a parde wakende vp on þe cites of þem. Eche þat ſhal gon out of þem, ſhal be take; for multrieled ben þe lawe brekyngus of þem, coumfortid ben þe turnyngus awei of þem.

vii Vp on what þing to þee plesid ſhal Y moun be? Þi fonus forſoken me, and fwern in þo þingus þat ben not godis. I fulſilde þem, and þei diden fornycacioun, and in þe hous of þe ſtrumpet þei diden lecherie.

viii Horfes loueres in to wymmen, and courſeres þei ben mad; eche to þe wif of his neȝhebore neyȝede.

ix Wheþer vp on þeſe þingus Y ſhal not viſite, feiþ þe Lord, and in ſuch a folc of kinde ſhal not be vengid my ſoule?

x Steȝeþ vp his wallis, and ſcatereþ; ful waſting forſoþe wileþ not do. Dōþ awei his forþgetingus, for þei ben not þe Lordis.

xi Purȝ lawe breking forſoþe `treſſpafede aȝen me þe hous of Israel and þe hous of Juda, feiþ þe Lord;

xii þei denyeden `þe Lord, and ſeiden, It is not he, neper ſhal come vp on vs euel; ſwerd and hunger wee ſhul not ſee.

xiii þe profetus ſpeeken in to þe wind, and anſwere was not in þem; þeſe þingus perfore out come ſhul to þem.

xiv þeſe þingus feiþ þe Lord God of oftis, For ȝee ſpeeken þis wrd, lo! Y ȝyue my wrdus in þi mouþ in to fyr, and þis puple in to trees, and it ſhal deuoure þem.

xv Lo! Y ſhal bringe to vp on ȝou a folc of kinde fro aſſerr, of þe hous of Israel, feiþ þe Lord; a ſtalwrþe folc of kinde, an old folc of kinde, a folc of kinde, whos tunge þou ſhalt vñknowe, ne vnderſtonde what it ſpeke.

xvi His arewe cas as a ſepulcre opene; alle ſtronge men.

xvii And it ſhal ete þi cornes, and þi bred deuoure, þi fonus and þi doȝtris; it ſhal ete þi floc, and þi droues, and ſhal eten þi vyne, and þi fige tree; and to-broſe þi ſtrengþid cites, in whiche þou haſt troſt, wiþ ſwerd.

xviii Nerþelatere in þo ȝaȝes, feiþ þe Lord, Y ſhal not make ȝou in to ful ending.

xix Bat if ȝee ſhul ſeye, Whi to vs dide þe Lord oure God alle þeſe þingus? þou ſhalt ſei to þem, As ȝee han forſake mee, and ſeruede to an alien god in ȝour lond, ſo ȝee ſhul ferue to alien goddis in þe lond not ȝoure.

xx Telleþ þis to þe hous of Jacob, and herd makeþ in

Juda, ſeide,

xxi Here, þou fool puple, þat haſt not herte; þat hauende eȝen, ȝee ſeen not, and eres, and heren not.

xxii Me þerfor ȝee ſhul not drede, feiþ þe Lord, and fro my face not forewen? Which `Y putte grauel terme to þe ſe, euere durende heſte, þat it ſhal not paſſe; and þei ſhul be to-moued, and þei ſhul not moun; and to-ſwelle ſhul his flodis, and ſhul not paſſen it.

xxiii To þis puple forſoþe is mad an herte myſtrowende and oute ſharpende; þei wente bacward, and ȝiden
awei,

xxiv and leiden not in þer herte, Drede wee þe Lord oure God, þat ȝyueþ to vs tymeli rein, and late comende in his cefoun, plenteneſſe of ȝeres rip comende to vs.

xxv Oure wickenesſes boweden doun þeſe þingus, and oure synnes defendeden good fro vs.

xxvi For þer ben founden in my puple vnpitouſ men, waitende as fouleres, grenaſe puttende, and feet gynnes, to ben caȝt men.

xxvii As a pit falle ful of briddes, ſo þe hous of hem ful of treccherie. Perfore þei ben magnified, xxviii and richid inwardli, grecid, and fattid, and þei paſſeden biſide my wrdus alþer werſt; þe cause of þe widewe þei demeden not, þe cause of þe faderles child riȝt reuleden not, and þe dom of pore men demeden not.

xxix Wheþer vp on þeſe þingus I ſhal not viſiten, feiþ þe Lord, or `vp on ſuch maner folc ſhal not be vengid my ſoule?

xxx Stoneyng and merueiles ben mad in þe erþe;

xxxi profetis profecieden leſing, and preſtus flappeden for ioȝe wiþ þer hondus, and my puple louede ſuche þingus. What þanne ſhal ben don in his laſte?

Capitulum VI.

i Beþ coumfortid, ȝee sonus of Beniamyn, in þe myddil of Jerusalem, and in Thecua trumpeþ wiþ a trumpe, and vp on Bethacharem rereþ a baner; for euel is seen fro þe norþ, and gret totreding.

ii To a fair womman and a delicat Y licned þe doþter of Sion.

iii To hir shul come shepperdis and þe flockis of þem; þei siccheden in it tentus in enuyroun; feden shal eche þem, þat vnder his hond ben.

iv Halewiþ vp on hir a bataile. Rifeþ, and stede wee vp in þe myddai. Wo to ȝou, for doun bowide þe dai, for lengere ben mad `Ihadewes þan to euen.

v Rifeþ, and stede wee vp in þe nyȝt, and to-scaterere wee þer houſes.

vi For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtus, Hewiþ `tree of hir, and delueþ aboute Jerusalem an erþe hilloc; þis is þe cote of visitacioun; eche false chalenge in his myddel.

vii As þanne cold makeþ þe cisterne his watir, so cold she haþ mad hir malice; wickenelle and waſtyte shal ben herd in hir befor me euermor, infirmyte and wounde.

viii Be taȝt, Jerusalem, leſt par auenture go awey my soule fro þee; leſt par auenture I sette þee desert, a lond vndwellable.

ix Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtus, Vnto þe cluster braunch þei shul gedere, þei shul gedere as in a vyneȝerd þe reliques of Israel; conuerte þin hond, as a grape kutttere to a basket.

x To whom shal Y speke, and whom shal Y witnesſen, þat he here? Lo! vncircumcidid þe eres of hem, and heren þei moun not; lo! þe wrd of þe Lord don is to þem in to repreſ, and þei shuln not taken it.

xi Perfore of þe wodness of þe Lord Y am ful, and Y traualide ſuſtenende. Heeld out wodness vp on þe litil child wiþoute forþ, and vp on þe counſeil of ȝunge men togidere; a man forſoþe wiþ þe wif shal be caȝt, and þe olde wiþ þe ful of daȝes.

xii And `passe shul þe houses of þem to obere men, feldis and wyues togidere; for I shal ſtrecche myn hond vp on men dwellende þe lond, seiþ þe Lord.

xiii Fro þe laſſe forſoþe vnto þe more, alle to auarice ſtudien; and fro þe profete vnto þe preſt, alle don treccherie.

xiv And þei cureden, `or heliden, þe to-treding of þe doþter of my puple wiþ ſhenſhipe, ſeide, Pes, pes, and þer was not pes.

xv Pei ben confoundid, for abhomynacioun þei didyn; but more wiþ confusiouñ þei ben not confoundid, and ſhamen þei kouȝen not. Wherfore þei shul falle among þe men fallende; in tyme of þer visitacioun þei shul falle togidere, seiþ þe Lord.

xvi Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Stondeþ vp on weies, and ſeeþ, and afſeeþ of þe olde paþis, what is þe goode weie; and goþ in it, and ȝee shul fynde refreshinge to ȝoure foules. And þei ſeide, Wee shul not go.

xvii And Y ſette vp on ȝou tooteris, and ſeide, Hereþ þe vois of þe trumpe. And þei ſeide, Wee shul not heren.

xviii Perfore hereþ, ȝee folc of kinde, and knowiþ, ȝee congregacioun, hou grete þingus Y shal do to þem.

xix Here, þou erþe, lo! Y shal bringe to eueles vp on þis puple, frut of þer þoȝtus; for my wrdus þei herden not, and my lawe þei þrewen aferr.

xx Wherto to me cens of Saba ȝee bringen, and þe ſpices calamys ſwote ſmellende fro a ferr lond? ȝoure brente ſacrificis ben not acceptid, ȝoure victorye ſacrificis pleſeden not to me.

xxi Perfore þeſe þinges ſeiþ þe Lord God, Lo! Y shal ȝyue in to þis puple fallyngus, and shul falle in þem faderes and ſonus togidere, neȝheboare and cofyn, and perſhen.

xxii Peſe þingus ſeiþ þe Lord God, Lo! þe puple cam from þe lond of þe norþ, and a gret folc of kinde shal togidere riſe fro þe coſtes of þe lond.

xxiii Arwe and ſheld it shal take; cruel it is, and it shal not han mercy; his vois as þe fe ſhal ſowne, and vp on hors ſteȝen vp þei shul beforne mad redy as a man to bataile aȝen þee, þou doþter of Sion.

xxiv Wee han herd þe loes of it, losid atwynne ben oure hondus; tribulacioun caȝte vs, forewiſ as þe traualende wiþ childe.

xxv Wileþ not gon out to þe feedlis, and in weie goþ not, for þe ſwerd of þe enemy, þe ferd of þe enemy in enuyroun.

xxvi þou doȝtir of my puple, be þou gird wiþ an heire, and toſprengd wiþ alſken; weilende of þe onli geten mac to þee bitter mornynge, for feerli shal come þe waſtere vp on vs.

xxvii A ſtalwrþe prouere Y ȝaf þee in my puple, and þou ſhalt wite, and preue þe weie of þem.

xxviii Alle þeſe princes of men boweden doun goende giſiendely, bras and yren; alle ben ſhent.

xxix Failede þe meltende vefſel, in fyr waſtid is þe led, in veyn meltide togidere þe ȝeetere; forſoþe þe malices of þem ben not waſtid.

xxx Repreued ſiluer clepeþ hem, for þe Lord þreȝ hem aferr.

Capitulum VII.

i The wrd þat is mad to Jeremye of þe Lord, ſeide, ii Stond in þe ȝate of þe hous of þe Lord, and preche þere þis wrd, and ſey, Hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, al Juda, þat gon in þurȝ þeſe ȝatus, þat ȝee honoure þe Lord.

iii Þeſe þingus ſeiþ þe Lord of oſtus, God of Israel, Good makeþ ȝoure weies, and ȝoure ſtuðies, and I ſhal dwelle wiþ ȝou in þis place.

iv Wileþ not troſten in wrdis of lefyng, ſeide, Temple of þe Lord, temple of þe Lord, temple of þe Lord is.

v For if ȝee `wil euene riȝt reulen ȝoure weies, and ȝoure studies; if ȝee do dom betwe man and his neȝhebore;

vi to þe comeling, and to þe faderles child, and to þe widewe ȝee do not wrong chaleng; ne ynnocent blod ȝe sheden out in þis place, and after aliene goddis ȝee go not out, in to euel to ȝou self, vii Y shal dwelle wiþ ȝou in þis place, in þe lond þat Y ȝaf to ȝoure faders, fro þe world in to þe world.

viii Lo! ȝee trosten to ȝou in wrdus of lesing, þat shul not profite to ȝou;

ix to steln, to flen, to don auoutrie, to swern liendely, to offre to Baalym, and to gon after aliene godus, whom ȝee knowe not.

x And ȝee camen, and stoden bifor me in þis hous, in whiche is inwardly clepid my name; and ȝee seiden, Delyuered wee ben, for þi þat wee `han do alle þese abhominaciouns.

xi Wheþer þanne a spelunke, `or denne, of þeues mad is þis hous, in whiche is inwardly clepid my name in ȝoure eȝen? I, Y am, Y saȝ, seiþ þe Lord.

xii Goþ to my place in Silo, wher dwellide my name fro þe bigynnyng, and seeþ what I dide to it, for þe malice of my puple Israel.

xiii And now, for ȝee han don alle þese werkis, seiþ þe Lord, and Y spac to ȝou, erly risende, and spekende, and ȝee herden not, and Y clepede ȝou, and ȝee answarden not;

xiv Y shal do to þis hous, in whiche is clepid my name, and in whiche ȝee han troft, and to þe place þat Y ȝaf to ȝow and to ȝoure faders, as Y dide to Silo.

xv And Y shal þrowe ȝou aferr fro my face, as Y þreȝ aferr alle ȝoure breþern, al þe sed of Effraym.

xvi Pou þanne wile þou not preȝe for þis puple, ne take þou to for þem preising and orisoun; and ne wiþtonde þou to me, for Y shal not here þee.

xvii Wheþer seest þou not, what þese don in þe cites of Juda, and in þe stretes of Jerusalem?

xviii Sonus gederen trees, and faders brennen vp fyr; and wymmen sprengen togidere talȝ, þat þei make sweete cakis to þe quen of heuene, and sacrificien to aliene goddis, and me to wraþe þei terre.

xix Wheþer me to wraþe þei terre? seiþ þe Lord; wheþer not þemself in þe confusioune of þer chere?

xx Perfore þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God, Lo! my wodnes and myn indignacioun is molten vp on þys place, vp on þe wallis, and vp on þe bestes, and vp on þe tree of þe regioun, and vp on þe frutus of þe erþe; and it shal be tend vp, and not be quenchid.

xxi Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of oftes, God of Israel, ȝoure brent sacrificises addeþ to ȝoure victorie sacrificises, and eteþ flesh.

xxii For Y spac not wiþ ȝoure faders, and I comaundide not to þem, in þe dai þat I ladde þem out fro þe lond of Egyp, of þe wrd of brent sacrificises, and of victorie sacrificises.

xxiii But þis wrd I comaundide to þem, seiende, Hereþ my vois, and Y shal be to ȝou a God, and ȝee shul be to me a puple; and gop in eche weie þat Y comaunde to ȝou, þat it wel be to ȝou.

xxiv And þei herden not, ne boweden þer ere, but wenten awei in þer foule delites, and in shreudenes of þer euele herte; and þei ben mad bacward, and not beform, xxv fro þe day þat þe fadris of þem wenten out fro þe lond of Egyp vn to þis dai. And I sente to ȝou alle my feruauns profetus, bi dai risende erli, and fendende.

xxvi And þei herden not me, ne boweden in þer ere; but inwardli hardeden þer nol, and werfe wroȝten þan þer fadris.

xxvii And þou shalt speke to þem alle þese wrdys, and þei shul not here þee; þou shalt clepe þem, and þei shul not answern to þee.

xxviii And þou shalt sey to þem, Þis is þe folc, þat herde not þe vois of þe Lord þer God, ne resceyuede discipline; feiþ perlhed, and is taken awei fro þe mouȝ of þem.

xxix Dodde þin her, and þroȝ a ferr, and in euene riȝt tac weiling; for þe Lord hab þrowen aferr, and forsaken þe ieneracioun of his wodnesse.

xxx For þe sonus of Juda diden euel in myn eȝen, seiþ þe Lord; þei setteden þer offendende þingus in þe hous, in whiche ys inwardly clepid my name, xxxi þat þei defoule it; and þei bilden vp þe heȝe þingus of Tofeth, þat is in þe valey of þe sone of Ennon, þat þei brenne þer fones and þer doȝtris wiþ fyr, þe whiche þingus I comaundide not, ne þoȝte in myn herte.

xxxii Perfore lo! daȝes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and it shal not be seid no mor Tofeth, and þe valey of þe sone of Ennon, but þe valey of flaȝter; and þei shul birien in Tofeth, for þi þat þer was not place to birie for þe multitude of careynes.

xxxiii And ben shal þe moreyn of þis puple in to mete to þe foules of heuene, and to þe bestus of erþe; and þer shal not be þat dryue awey.

xxxiv And to resten I shal make fro þe chef cytes of Juda, and fro þe stretes of Jerusalem, vois of ioȝe, and vois of gladnelle, vois of þe spoule man, and vois of þe spoule womman; in desolacioun forþoþe shal ben þe erþe.

Capitulum VIII.

i In þat tyme, seiþ þe Lord, þei shul caste out þe bonus of þe king of Juda, and þe bones of his princes, and þe bones of prestus, and þe bones of profetes, and þe bones of hem þat dwelliden Jerusalem fro þer sepulcris;

ii and sprede þem abrod to þe sunne, and þe moone, and al þe knyȝthed of heuene, whiche þei loueden, and to whom þei serueden, and after whiche þei ȝiden, and whiche þei soȝten, and honoureden; þei shul not be gedered, and not biried; in to a dunghil vp on þe face of erþe þei shul be.

iii And þei shul chesen more deþ þan lif, alle þat residue shul be of þis werste kinrede, in alle places þat ben laft, to whiche I þreȝ hem doun, seiþ þe Lord of ostis.

ivii And þou shalt sey to þem, Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Wheþer he þat shal falle, shal not risen aȝeen? and he þat is turned awei, shal not be turned aȝeen?

v Whi þanne turned awei is þis puple in to Jerufalem wiþ striuous turnyng awei? Þei caȝten lesing, and wolden not turne aȝeen.

vi Y tooc heed, and herknede; no man þat good is spekeþ, no man is þat do penaunce 'vp on his synne, feiende, What haue Y do? Alle ben turned to þer cours, as an hors in bure goende to bataile.

vii Pe kite in heuene kneȝ his tyme; þe turtir, and þe fwalewe, and þe somer foul þat is clepid cyconye, kepten þe time of þer comyng; my puple forsoþe kneȝ not þe dom of þe Lord.

viii Hou sey ȝee, Wife men wee ben, and þe lawe of þe Lord is wiþ vs? Verely lesing wroȝte þe lyende poynsil of þe scribis.

ix Confoundid ben þe wife men, gaſt and caȝt þei ben. Þe wrd forsoþe of þe Lord þei caſten aferr, and no wiſdam is in hem.

x Perfore Y shal ȝiue þer wymmen to ſtraungeres, and þer feeldis to alien eires; for fro þe leſte vnto þe moſte auarice alle folewen, fro þe profete vnto þe preſt alle don lesing;

xi and heleden þe tobroſing of þe doȝter of my puple to ſhenſhipe, feiende, Pes, pes, whan þer was not pes.

xii Confoundid þei ben, for abhomynacioun þei diden; but myche more by confusioun þei ben not confoundid, and ſhamen þei kouþen not. Perfor þei shul falle among men fallende, in tyme of þer viſitacioun þei shul falle togidere, seiþ þe Lord.

xiii Gederende Y shal gedere þem togidere, seiþ þe Lord; þer is not grape in þe vynes, and þer ben not fyges in þe fige ȝerd; þe leſ flowede doun, and I ȝaf to þem þe 'þingus þat ben go biſidis.

xivii Whi ſitte wee? comeþ togidere, go wee in to þe ſtrengþid cite, and holde wee oure pes þere; for our Lord haþ maad vs to be ſtille, and drinke ȝaf to vs watir of galle; wee han ſynned forſoþe to be Lord.

xv Wee han abide pes, and þer was not good; tyme of leching, and lo! dred.

xvi Fro Dan is herd þe frenſting of his hors; fro þe vois of his neȝende fiȝteres toſtirid is alle þe lond; and þei camen, and deuoureden þe lond, and his plente, þe cheſtite, and his dwelleres.

xvii For lo! I shal ſende to ȝou werſt edderes, to whiche is not enchaunting; and þei shul bite ȝou, seiþ þe Lord.

xviii My forewe vp on forewe, in me myn herte mournende.

xix And lo! þe vois of þe cry of þe doȝter of my puple fro a ferr lond. Wheþer þe Lord is not in Sion, or his king is not in it? Why þanne me to wraȝe þei ſtereden in þer grauen þingus, and in alyene vanytes?

xx Ryp paſſede, endid is ſomer; and wee ben not saf.

xxi Vp on þe to-treding of þe doȝter of my puple Y am to-treden, and forewid; ſtoneyng wiþheeld me.

xxii Wheþer gumme is not in Galaad, or a leche is not þere? Whi þanne þe hid wounde of þe doȝter of my puple is not al helid?

Capitulum IX.

i Who ſhal ȝyue to myn hed watir, and to myn eȝen a welle of teres? And I ſhal wepe dai and nyȝt þe flayne men of þe doȝter of my puple.

ii Who ſhal ȝyue me in to wildernesſe of dyuers weie goeres? And I ſhal forſake my puple, and gon awey fro þem. For alle auoutreriſ þei ben, and cumpanye of lawe brekeres;

iii and þei benten out þer tunge as þer bowe of lesyng, and not of treuþe. Þei ben coumfortid in erþe, for fro euel to euel þei wenten out, and me þei knewe not, seiþ þe Lord.

ivii Eche kepe hymſelf fro his neȝhebore, and in eche broþer of hym haue he not troſt; for eche broþer ſupplauntende ſhal ſupplaunte, and eche frend gilendely ſhal go.

v And a man his broþer ſhal ſcorne, and treuþe ſhal not ſpeke; þei taȝten forſoþe þer tunge to ſpeke lesing; þat wiċkely þei ſchulden don, þei trauaileden.

vi Bi dwelling in þe myddel of treccherie; in treccherie þei forſoke me to knownen, seiþ þe Lord.

vii Perfore þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, Lo! I ſhall ȝeete and preue þem; what forſoþe oþer þing 'ſhal Y do fro þe face of þe ſone of my puple?

viii An arwe woundende þe tunge of hem, treccherie it ſpac; in his mouþ pes wiþ his frend he ſpekeþ, and priueli he putteþ to hym aspies.

ix Wheþer vp on þeſe þingus I ſhal not viſite, seiþ þe Lord, or in to ſuſh a maner folc ſhal not be vengid my ſoule?

x Vp on mounteynes Y ſhall take to weping and mournyng, and vp on þe faire þingus of deſert weilende, for þei ben brend vp; for þi þat þer was not a man paſſende þurȝ, and þei herden not þe vois of þe weldere; fro þe foul of heuene vn to þe beſtes, þei 'ȝiden ouer, and wenten awei.

xi And Y ſhal ȝyue Jerufalem in to hepes of grauel, and in to couches of dragounes; and þe cites of Juda Y ſhal ȝyuen in to deſolacioun, for þi þat þer is not a dweller.

xii Who is a wiſ man þat vnderſtant þis, and to whom þe wrd of þe mouþ of þe Lord be mad, þat he telle þis? Whi perſhede þe lond, ful out is brend as deſert, for þi þat þer ys not þat þurȝ paſſe?

xiii And þe Lord seide, For þei forsoken my lawe, þat I ȝaf to þem, and þei herden not my vois, and þei ȝide not in yt;

xiv and ȝiden awei after þe shreudeneſſe of þer herte, and aftir Baalym, whom þei hadde lerned of þer fadris;

xv þerfore þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtus, God of Israel, Lo! I ſhal fede þis puple wiþ wrmod, and drinke Y ſhal ȝyue to þem water of galle.

xvi And Y ſhal ſcatere þem in Jentilis, þat knewe not þei and þe fadris of hem; and Y ſhal ſende vpon hem fwerd, to þe tyme þat þei be ful waſtid.

xvii Þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtus, God of Israel, Beholdeþ, and clepeþ weilende wymmen, and come þei; and to þem þat wise ben ſendep, and go þei forþ.

xviii Heeȝe þei, and take þei to vp on vs mournyng; leden out oure eȝen teres, and oure eȝe lydis flowe þei doun wiþ watriſ; xix for þe vois of lamenting herd is fro Sion. What maner waſtid wee ben, and confoundid hugely? for we han forſake þe lond, for þrouen doun ben oure tabernacles.

xx Hereþ þerfore, ȝee wymmen, þe wrd of þe Lord, and taken to ȝoure eres þe ſermoun of his mouþ; and techeþ ȝoure doȝtris lamenting, and eche womman hir neȝheboore weiling.

xi For ſteȝede vp deþ bi ȝoure wyndowes, gon in is to ȝoure houſes, to ſcatere þe little childer wiþoutforþ, and þe ȝunge men of þe ſtretis.

xxii Spec, Þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, And þer ſhal falles þe 'dead careyn of man as drif vp on þe face of þe regiouṇ, and as hey bihynde þe bac of þe mowere, and þer is not þat gedere.

xxiii Þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Glorie not a wiſ man in his wiſdam, and glorie not a ſtrong man in his ſtrengþe, and glorie not a riche man in his riſchesſes;

xxiv but in þis glorie he þat glorieþ, to witen and to knowe me, for I am þe Lord, þat do mercy and dom and riȝtwifneſſe in erþe. Þeſe þingus forſoþe plesen to me, seiþ þe Lord.

xxv Lo! daȝes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and Y ſhal viſite vpon eche þat haþ þe vtmoſt ſkyn of þe ȝerde vncircumcidid;

xxvi vp on Egipt, and vp on Juda, and vp on Edom, and vp on þe ſonus of Amon, and vp on Moab, and vp on alle þo þat ben dodded in to be her, dwellende in deſert; for alle Jentiles han þe vtmoſt ſkyn of þe ȝerde, al forſoþe þe hous of Israel ben vncircumcidid þe herte.

Capitulum X.

i Hereþ þe wrd þat þe Lord ſpac vp on ȝou, þe hous of Israel.

ii Þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Aftir þe weies of Jentiles wileþ not lerne, and fro þe fignes of heuene wileþ not drede, þat dreden Jentiles, iii for þe lawis of puples ben veyne. For þe tree of þe wilde wode kut of þe werec of þe hondus of þe craftes man in an hachet;

iv wiþ filuer and gold he enourneþ it; wiþ nailes and hameres ioynede it, þat it 'be not loſid atwynne.

v In lichenſſe of a formed ymage þei ben forgiđ, and þei ſhul not speke; born þei ſhul be taken awey, for þei moun not go; wileþ not þanne drede þem, for neiþer euele þei moun do, ne wel.

vi Þer is not lic of þee, Lord; gret þou, and gret þi name in ſtrengþe.

vii Who ſhal not drede þee, O! þou king of Jentilis? þin is forſoþe wrſhiþe among alle þe wife men of Jentilis, and in alle þe reumes of hem noen is lic of þee.

viii Togidere vnwife men and foolis ſhul be preued, þe doctrine of þe vanyte of þem a tree is wiþ filuer enwrappid.

ix Fro Tarſis it is broȝt, and þe gold fro Ofir; þe werec of þe craftus man, and þe hond of þe metal werkere; iacynct, or as men feyn, violet blyw ſilc and purprie þe cloþing of þem; þe werec of craftus men alle þeſe þingus.

x Þe Lord forſoþe is verre God; he is God lyuende, and king euermor lastende; of his indignacioun ſhal be moued þe erþe, and ſuffren ſhul not Jentiles his þreting.

xi Pus þanne ȝee ſhul fey to þem, Þe goddis þat 'maden not heuene and erþe, perfhe þei fro þe erþe, and fro þeſe þingus þat ben vnder heuene.

xii þat makeþ þe erþe in his ſtrengþe, makeþ redi bifor þe world in his wiſdam, and in his prudence ſtreccheþ out heuenus.

xiii At his vois he ȝyueþ multitude of watriſ in heuene, and rereþ vp liſle cloudus fro þe vtmoſtus of erþe; leitus in to reyn he makeþ, and bringeþ out wind of his tresores.

xiv Fool mad is eche man of his kunning, confoundid is eche craftes man in his grauen þing; for fals is þat he ȝetede, and þer is not ſpirit in hem.

xv Veyn þei ben, and þe werec wrpi laȝhing; in tyme of þer viſiting þei ſhul perfhe.

xvi Lic is not to þeſe þe part of Jacob, who forſoþe formeðe alle þingus he is, and Israel þe ȝerde of his eritage; Lord of oſtus name is to hym.

xvii Gedere fro þe erþe þi conuſion, þat dwellift in ſeging; xviii for þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y ferr ſhal þrowe þe dwelleris of þe lond in þis while; and troblen hem, so þat þei be not founden.

xix Wo to me vp on my to-treding, my werſt veniaunce; I forſoþe ſeide, Pleynli þis myn infirmyte is, and Y ſhal bern it.

xx My tabernacle is waſtid, alle my liſle cordis ben to-broke; my ſonus wenten out fro me, and ſtonde not ſtille; þer is not þat ſtrecche out more my tent, and rere vp my ſkynnes.

xxi For folili diden shepperdis, and þe Lord þei soȝten not; þerfor þei vnderstode not, and eche floc of hem is scattered.
 xxii Vois of heering lo! is comen, and gret stirring fro þe lond of þe norþ, þat þei sette þe cites of Juda in to wildernesſe, and a dwelling place of dragounus.
 xxiii I wot, Lord, for of man is not his weie, ne of man is þat he go, and riȝt reule hys goingus.
 xxiv Chaſtise me, Lord; ner þe latere in dom and not in þi wodnesſe, leſt par auenture to noȝt þou bringe me.
 xxv Heeld out bin indignacioun vp on Jentyles þat knewen not þee, and vp on prouynces þat þi name inwardli clepeden not; for þei eeten Jacob, and deuoureden hym, and wasteden hym, and his worſhepe destroȝeden.

Capitulum XI.

i The wrd þat is don to Jeremye of þe Lord, seiende, ii Hereþ þe wrdus of þis couenaunt, and spekeþ to þe men of Juda, and dwelleres of Jerufalem;
 iii and þou shalt sey to þem, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Israel, Cursid þe man þat shal not here þe wrdus of þis couenaunt, iv þat Y comaundede to ȝoure fadris, in þe dai þat Y ladde hem out fro þe lond of Egipt, fro þe irene furneys; seiende, Hereþ my vois, and doþ alle þingus þat Y comaundide to ȝou, and ȝee shul be to me in to a puple, and Y shal be to ȝou in to a God; v þat Y rere þe oþ þat Y swor to ȝoure fadris, me to ȝyue to þem a lond flowende mylc and hony, as is þis dai. And Y anſwerde, and seide, Amen, Lord.
 vi And þe Lord seide to me, Crye out alle þese wrdus in þe cites of Juda, and wiþouteforþ Jerufalem, seiende, Hereþ þe wrdus of þis couenaunt, and doþ þem; vii for witneſſende Y witneſſede ȝoure faders, in þe dai þat Y ladde þem out fro þe lond of Egipte, vnto þis day; erly risende Y witneſſede, and seide, Hereþ my vois.
 viii And þei herden not, ne boweden in þer ere, but wenten awei eche in to þe shreudenesse of his euele herte; and Y broȝte in vp on hem alle þe wrdus of þis couenaunt, þat Y comaundide þat þei shulden do, and þei diden not.
 ix And þe Lord seide to me, Per is founde coniuracioun in þe men of Juda, and in þe dwelleris of Jerufalem; x þei ben turned aȝeen to þe raþere wickidnesſe of þer faders, þat wolden not here my wrdus; and þese þanne aftir aliene goddis ȝiden awei, þat þei serue to þem; all voide maden þe house of Israel and þe hous of Juda my couenaunt, þat Y couenaunte wiþ þer faders.
 xi Wherfore þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y shal bringen in vp on hem eueles, of whiche gon out þei shul not moun; and þei shul crien to me, and Y shal not heren hem.

xii And gon shul þe cites of Juda and þe dwelleris of Jerufalem, and crien to þem, to whom þei offren; and þei shul not faue þem in tyme of þer tormenting.
 xiii After þe noumbre forſoþe of þi cites weren þi godis, Juda, and after þe noumbre of þi weies, Jerufalem, þou fetteſteſt auteres of confuſion, autres to offre to Balim.
 xiv Pou þanne, wile þou not preȝe for þis puple, and ne take þou too for þem preſing and orifoun; for Y shal not heren in þe time of þer cry to me, in tyme of þer torment.
 xv What is, þat my loued in myn hous doþ many hidous giltus? wheþer hoeli flesh 'shul don awei fro þee þi malices, in whiche þou gloriest?
 xvi An olyue plenteuous, fair, fructuous, semeli, clepede þe Lord þi name; at þe vois of þe grete speche brende out fyr in it, and to-brend ben alle his busshy places.
 xvii And þe Lord of oſtus þat plaunteð þee, ſpac vp on þee euel, for þe euelus of þe hous of Israel, and of þe hous of Juda, þat þei diden to þemſelf, offrende to Balim, to terre me.
 xviii Pou forſoþe, Lord, haſt ſhewid to me, and Y kneȝ; þou haſt ſhewid to me þe ſtuſies of hem.
 xix I as a debonere lomb, þat is born to ſlayn ſacrifice; and Y kneȝ not, for þei þoȝten vp on me counſeil, seiende, Sende wee a tree in to his bred, and ſhaue wee hym out fro þe lond of lyueres, and his name be no more membred.
 xx Pou forſoþe, Lord of Sabaoth, þat demeſt riȝtwiſly, and proueft reenes and hertes, ſee Y þi veniaunce of þem; to þee forſoþe Y ſheweſe my caufe. xxi Perfor þese þingus seiþ þe Lord to þe men of Anatoth, þat fechen my ſoule, and ſeyn, Pou ſhault not profecien in þe name of þe Lord, and þou ſhault not die in oure hondus.
 xxii Perfor þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtus, Lo! Y shal viſite vp on hem; ȝunge men shul die in ſword, þe ſonus of þem and þe doȝtris of þem shul dien in hunger;
 xxiii and reliques shul not ben of hem; I shal leden in forſoþe euel vp on þe men of Anatoth, a ȝer of þe viſitynge of hem.

Capitulum XII.

i Riȝtwiſ forſoþe þou art, Lord; if Y diſpute wiþ þee, nerþelatere riȝte þingus I shal ſpeke to þee. Whi þe weie of vnpitouſ men is maad welſum? Well is to alle þat þe lawe breken, and wickeli don?
 ii þou haſt plauntid hem, and roote þei ſenten; þei profiten, and maken frute; nyȝ þou art to þe mouþ of þem, and 'aferr fro þe reenes of þem.
 iii And, þou, Lord, haſt knowe me, ſeen me, and proued myn herte wiþ þee. Gedere þem as a floc to ſlayn ſacrifice, and halewe þem in þe dai of flaȝter.

- iii Hou longe weilen shal þe erþe, and þe erbe of alle regioun shal be dried, for þe malice of men dwellende in it? Waſtid is þe beste, and foul, for þei ſeiden, He shal not feen oure laſte.
 v If wiþ 'foot men rennende þou traualideſt, hou ſhalt þou moun ſtrive wiþ hors? whan forſoþe in þe lond of pes ſiker þou 'were not, what ſhuldeſt þou do in þe pride of Jordan?
 vi For whi and þi brebern and þe hous of þi fader, alſo þei foſten aȝen þee, and crieden after þee wiþ pleyn vois; ne leeue þou hem, whan þei ſhul ſpeke to þee goode þingus.
 vii I haue forſake myn hous, 'Y laſte myn eritage; Y ȝaf my loued foule 'in to þe hondus of his enemys.
 viii Mad is to me myn eritage as a leoun in þe wode; he ȝaf aȝen me 'a vois, and þerfore Y hatede it.
 ix Wheþer a brid of dyuers coloures myn eritage to me? wheþer a brid died þurȝ out? Comeþ, beþ gedered, alle ȝee bestes of þe erþe; 'haste ȝee to deuouren.
 x Manye ſhepperdis waſteden my vyneȝerd, totreeden my part, ȝauen my desirable porcioun in to deſert of wilderneſſe,
 xi putten it in to waſting, and it weilede vp on me; wiþ deſolacioun deſolat is al þe lond, for no man is þat aȝeen þenke in herte.
 xii Vp on alle þe weies of deſert camen alle þe waſteres of þe lond, for þe ſword of þe Lord ſhal deuoure fro þe vtmoſtus of þe erþe vnto þe vtmoſt of it; þer is not pes to alle flesh.
 xiii þei ſewen whete, and repeden þornes; þe erytage þei token, and to þem it ſhal not profiten. ȝee ſhul be confoundid of ȝoure frutus, for þe wraþe of þe wodneſſe of þe Lord.
 xiv þeſe þingus ſeiþ þe Lord aȝen alle my werſte neȝhebores, þat touchen þe eritage þat Y delide to my puple Israel, Lo! Y ſhal pullen vp þem fro þer lond, and þe hous of Juda Y ſhal pullen vp fro þe myddes of þem.
 xv And whan Y ſhal pullen vp þem, Y ſhal be turned, and han merci of þem; and Y ſhal bringe þem aȝeen, a man to his eritage, and a man to his lond.
 xvi And it ſhal be, if taȝt men lerneden þe weies of my puple, þat þei fwere in my name, Lyueþ þe Lord, as þei taȝten my puple to fwern in Baal, þei ſhuln be bild vp in þe myddel of my puple.
 xvii þat if þei 'ſchul not heren, Y ſhal pulle awei þat folc wiþ pulling awei and perdioune, ſeiþ þe Lord.

Capitulum XIII.

- i These þingus ſeiþ þe Lord to me, Go, and haue to þee a lynene bregirdil; and put it vp on þi lendus, and in to water þou ſhalt not putten it in.
 ii And Y hadde þe bregirdil, aftir þe wrd of þe Lord;
 and Y putte it aboue my lendus.

- iii And don is þe wrd of þe Lord þe ſecounde tyme to me, ſeide,
 iv Tac þe bregirdil þat þou haddeſt, þat is aboue þi lendus; and riſende go to Eufraten, and hid it þere, in þe hole of a ſton.
 v And Y ȝide, and hidde it in Eufraten, as comaundide to me þe Lord.
 vi And don is after manye daȝes, ſeide þe Lord to me, Ris, and go to Eufraten, and tac þennes þe brigirdil, þat I comaundide to þee, þat þou ſhuldiſt hidien it þere.
 vii And Y ȝide to Eufraten, and dalf out, and toc þe bregirdil fro þe place wher Y hadde hid it; and lo!
 rotid hadde þe bregirdil, ſo þat to noon vſe it was able.
 viii And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to me, ſeide, ix þeſe þingus ſeiþ þe Lord, ȝus to roten Y ſhal make þe pride of Juda, and þe myche pride of Jeruſalem, x and þis werſte puple, þat wile not here my wrdus, and gon in þe ſhreudenesſe of þer herte; and þei wenten after alieni godus, þat þei ferue to þem, and honoure þem; and þei ſhul be as þis bregirdil, þat to noon vſe is able.
 xi As forſoþe cleueþ þe brigirdil to þe lendus of a man, ſo Y ioynede to me al þe hous of Israel, and al þe hous of Juda, ſeiþ þe Lord, þat þei were to me in to a puple, and in to name, and in to preiſing, and in to glorie; and þei herde not.
 xii þou ſhalt ſeie þerfore to þem þis wrd, þeſe þingus ſeiþ þe Lord God of Israel, Eche litil wyn vſſel ſhal be fulſild wiþ wyn. And þei ſhul ſei to þee, Wheþer wee knowe not, þat eche litil wyn vſſel ſhal be fulſild wiþ wyn?
 xiii And þou ſhalt ſeyn to þem, þeſe þingus ſeiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y ſhal fulfillen alle þe dwelleris of þis lond, and kingus þat fitten of þe ſtoc of Dauid vp on his trone, and preſtus, and profetus, and alle þe dwelleris of Jeruſalem wiþ drunkenenesſe.
 xiv And Y ſhal ſcatere þem, a man fro his broþer, and faders and ſonus togidere, ſeiþ þe Lord; I ſhal not ſpare, and Y ſhal not graunte, ne han mercy, þat Y ſcatere þem not.
 xv Hereþ, and wiþ eres parceyueþ; wileþ not be rered vp, for þe Lord ſpac.
 xvi ȝyueþ to þe Lord ȝoure God glorie, er it waxe derc, and er offenden ȝoure feet at þe derc hillis; ȝee ſhul abide liȝt, and he ſhal putte it in to ſhadewe of deþ, and in to myſtynesse.
 xvii þat if þis ȝee ſhul not heren, in hid ſhal wepe my foule fro þe face of pride; wepende it ſhal wepe, and leden out ſhal myn eȝe tere, for taken is þe floc of þe Lord.
 xviii Sei to þe king, and to þe lordſhipende womman, Beþ mekid, fitteþ, for fro ȝoure hed ſhal go doun þe croune of ȝoure glorie.
 xix Pe cites of þe ſouȝ ben cloſid, and þer is not þat opene; translatid is al Juda wiþ parfit transmygracioun.

xx Rereþ ȝoure eȝen, and seeþ, þat comen fro þe norþ; where is þe floc þat is ȝoue to þee, þi noble feeld beste?

xxi What shalt þou seyn, whan he shal vifite þee? þou forsoþe hast taȝt þem aȝeen þee, and lerned aȝen þin hed. Wheþer not forewis caȝten þee, as a womman berende child?

xxii ȝat if þou shalt sey in þin herte, Whi camen to me befe þingus? for þe multitude of þi wickenesse opened ben þi more shamefast þingus, defoulid ben þi foot folis.

xxiii Yf chaunge mai an Ethiope his skyn, or a pardis his dyuersetes, and ȝee shul moun wel do, whan ȝee han lerned euel.

xxiv And Y shal sowe þem abrod, as stobil ȝat wiþ þe wynd is raueshid in desert.

xxv ȝis þi lot, and þe part of þi mesure of me, seiþ þe Lord; for þou forȝeete me, and trostedist in leſing.

xxvi Wherfore and Y nakenede þin hipes aȝen þi face, xxvii and aperede þi shenshepe, þi vouturies, and þi neȝingus, þe hidous gilte of þi fornycacioun upon hillis; in þe feeld Y saȝ þin abhominaciouns. Wo to þee, Jerusalem, þou shalt not be clenfed after me; how longe ȝyt?

Capitulum XIII.

i That don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, of þe wrdis of droȝte.

ii Weilede Jewerie, and his ȝatus fallen doun, and ben dercned in þe erþe, and þe cri of Jerusalem steeȝede vp.

iii Pe more senten þer lasse to water; þei camen to drawe, and þei founde not water, þei beeren aȝeen þer vesselis voide; þei ben confoundid and tormentid, and þei couerden þer hedis for þe wastite of þe lond, iv for þer cam not reyn in erþe. Confoundid ben þe erþe tilieres, þei couereden þer hedis.

v For whi and þe hynde in þe feld bar, and lafte hir frutes, for þer was not erþe;

vi and þe feeld asses stoden in roches, and drowe wind as dragounes; þer eȝen faileden, for þer was not erþe.

vii Yf oure wickenesses ȝschul answere to vs, Lord, do for þi name, for manye ben oure turnyngys awei; to þee wee han synned.

viii ȝou biding of Israel, his faueour in tyme of tribulacioun, whi as a comeling tiliere þou art to come in þe lond, and as `weie goere bowende doun to dwelle?

ix whi art þou to come as a man vagaunt, as a strong man þat mai not faue? ȝou forsoþe in vs art, Lord, and þin hoely name is inwardly clepid vp on vs; ne forfaþe þou vs.

x ȝeþe þingus seiþ þe Lord to þis puple, þat louede to moue þer feet, and restede not, and to þe Lord pleside not; now recorden he shal `wickidnesses of þem, and vifite `synnes of þem.

xi And þe Lord feide to me, Wile þou not preȝe for þis puple in to good.

xii Whan þei shul faste, Y shal not here þer preȝeres; and if þei offre brent sacrificises and slayn sacrificises, I shal not take þem, for wiþ swerd and hunger and pestilence Y shal waste þem.

xiii And Y feide, A! A! A! Lord God, þer profetus seyn to þem, ȝee shul not see swerd, and hunger in ȝou shal not be, but verre pes he shal ȝyue in þis place.

xiv And þe Lord feide to me, Fally ȝeþe profetus profecien in my name; I fente þem not, and comaundide not to þem, ne spac to þem; a lying viseoun, and a gilesoun deuynyng, and þe deseit of þer herte þei profecien to ȝou.

xv Perfore þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of þe profetus þat profecien in my name, whom Y fente not, feiende, Swerd and hungr shal not be in þis lond; In swerd and hunger shul be to-wastid þo profetus.

xvi And puples, to whom þei profecieden, shul be browen aferr in þe weies of Jerusalem, for hungr and swerd, and þer shal not ben, þat birie þem; þei and þe wyues of þem, sonus and doȝtris of þem; and Y shal heelden out vp on hem þer euel.

xvii And þou shalt sei to þem þis wrd, Leden doun myn eȝen ter by nyȝt and dai, and be þei not stille, for wiþ gret to-treding totreden is þe maiden doȝter of my puple, hugeli wiþ þe werste veniaunce.

xviii If Y shul gon out to þe feeldus, loo! þe slayn wiþ swerd; and if Y shul go in to þe citee, lo! þe to-wastid wiþ hungr; þe profete forsoþe and prest ȝiden awei in to þe lond þat þei knewe not.

xix Wheþer þrowende aferr þou þrewe awei Judam, or þi soule wlatede Sion? whi þanne haſt þou smyten vs, so þat þer is noon helþe? Wee han abide pes, and þer is not good; and tyme of curing, and lo! disturbing.

xx Wee han knowe, Lord, oure vnpitousnesses, and þe wickenesses of oure faders, for wee han synned to þee.

xi Ne ȝyue þou vs in to repref, for þi name, ne do þou to vs repref; of þe see of þi glorie recorde, ne al voide make þou þi pes couenaunt wiþ vs.

xii Wheþer ben in grauen þingus of Jentilis þat reynen, or heuenus moun ȝyue wederes? wheþer not þou art Lord oure God, whom wee han abide? ȝou forsoþe didist alle þeþe þinges.

Capitulum XV.

i And þe Lord feide to me, If Moises shulde stonde, and Samuel bifor me, my soule is not to þis puple; þroȝ out þem fro my face, and go þei out.

ii ȝat if þei shul sey to bee, Whider shul wee go out? þou shalt sei to þem, ȝeþe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Who to deþ, to deþ, and who to swerd, to swerd, and who to hungr, to hungr, and who to caitifte, to caytifte.

iii And Y shal visete vp on hem foure spices, seij þe Lord; swerd to flaſter, and houndis to tern, and foulis of heuene, and bestus of erþe to deouoren and waſten.
 iv And Y shal ȝyue þem in to gret hete to alle reumes of erþe, for Manaffen, þe lone of Ezechie, king of Juda, vpon alle þingus þat he dide in Jerufalem.
 v Who forſoþe shal han merci of þee, Jerufalem, or who shal forewe for þee, or who shal go to preþe for þi pes?
 vi Pou haſt forſake me, seij þe Lord, bacward þou ȝidist awei; and I shal ſtreccchen out myn hond vp on þee, and fle þee; I traualede preþende.
 vii And Y shal ſcatere þem wiþ a fan in þe ȝatus of þe lond; I floȝ, and loſte my puple, and nerþelatere fro þer weies þei be not turned aȝeen.
 viii Multiplied ben to me his widewes vp on þe grauel of þe ſe; and Y broȝte in to þem vp on þe moder of þe ȝunge waxen a waſtere in mydday, Y ſente vp on þe cites feerli ferd.
 ix Feblid ys ſhe þat bar feuene, failede hire ſoule; fel doun to hir þe funne, whan ȝit to hir was day.
 Confoundid ſhe is, and ful out ſhamede; and hir remnauntus in to ſwerd Y shal ȝyue in þe ſiȝte of hir enemys, seij þe Lord.
 x Wo to me, my moder; whi geete þou me, a man of ſtrif, a man of diſcord in eche lond? I vſurede not, ne to me vſurede any man; alle curſen to me.
 xi Seij þe Lord, if not þi relikes in to good, if Y aȝen cam not to þee in tyme of affliccioun, and in tyme of tribulacioun and of anguyſh, aȝen þe enemye.
 xii Wheþer shal be ioyned iren to iren fro þe norþ, and bras?
 xiii Bi richeſſes and þi treſores in to taking awei Y shal ȝyue freely, in alle þi synnes, and in alle þi termes.
 xiv And I shal bringe þin enemys fro þe lond þat þou knowiſt not; for fyer tend vp is in my wodneſſe, vp on ȝou it shal brenne.
 xv Pou woft, Lord, recorde þou of me, and viſite me, and delyuere me fro þem þat purſuen me; wile þou not in þi pacience take me, wite þou, for for þee Y ſuffrede repreſ.
 xvi Found ben þi wrdys, and Y eet hem; and don is to me þi wrd in to ioȝe, and in to gladneſſe of myn herte; for inwardli clepid is þi name vp on me, Lord God of oftis.
 xvii I ſat not in counſeil of pleieres, and gloriode fro þe face of þin hond; alone I ſat, for of bitterneſſe þou haſt fulſild me.
 xviii Whi mad is my forewe perpetuel, and my wounde despeirable forſoc to be cured? mad ſhe is to me, as leſing of vnfeiþful watris.
 xix For þis þeſe þingis seij þe Lord, Yf þou art conuertid, Y shal conuertere þee, and befor my face þou haſt ſtonde; and if þou ſeuere precious þinge fro foul, as my mouȝ þou haſt be; þei shul be conuertid to þee, and þou haſt not be conuertyd to þem.

xx And I shal ȝyue þee to þis puple in to a strong brasene wal, and þei shul ſiȝte aȝen þee, and þei shul not han þe maistry; for I am wiþ þee, þat I ſaue þee, and delyuere þee, seij þe Lord.
 xxi And Y shal delyuere þee fro þe hond of þe werſt men, and aȝeen bie þee fro þe hond of ſtronge men.

Capitulum XVI.

i And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to me, ſeiende, ii þou Ihalt not take a wif, and þer shul not be to þee ſonus and doȝtris in þis place.
 iii For þeſe þingus seij þe Lord vp on ſonus and doȝtris, þat ben gotten in þis place, and vp on þe moders of þem, þat geeten þem, and vp on þe faders of hem, of whos ſtoc þei ben born in þis lond.
 iv Wiþ deþes of ſiknyngus þei shul die, þei shul not be weilið, ne ben biried; in to a dunghil vp on þe face of þe erþe þei shul be, and wiþ ſword and hunger þei shul be waſtid; and be shal þe careyn of þem in to mete to þe foulis of heuene, and to be beſtes of erþe.
 v þeſe þingus forſoþe seij þe Lord, þou ſhalt not gon in to þe hous of þe feſte, ne go to weilen, ne coumforte þou þem; for Y haue taken awey my pes fro þis puple, seij þe Lord, mercy and mercy doyngis.
 vi And dien shul þe grete and þe little in þis lond; þei shul not be biried, ne be weilið; and þei shul not kutte þemſelf, ne ballidneſſe shal ben do for hem.
 vii And þei shul not breke among hem bred to þe weiliðe, to coumforte vp on þe deade, and þei shul not ȝyue to þem drinc of þe chalis, to coumforten vp on þer fadir and modir.
 viii And þe hous of feſte þou ſhalt not gon in, þat þou ſitte wiþ þem, and ete, and drinke.
 ix For þeſe þingus seij þe Lord of oſtus, God of Israel, Lo! Y shal don awey fro þis place, in ȝoure eȝen and in ȝoure daȝes, vois of ioȝe, and vois of gladneſſe, and vois of man ſpouse, and vois of womman ſpouse.
 x And whan þou haſt told to þis puple alle þeſe wrdus, and þei ſey to þee, Whi ſpac þe Lord vp on vs al þis grete euel? what oure wickenesse, and what oure synne þat wee han ſynned to þe Lord oure God?
 xi þou Ihalt ſey to þem, For forſoken me ȝoure fadris, seij þe Lord, and ȝiden awei aftir aliene goddis, and ſerueden to þem, and honoureden hem, and me forſoken, and my lawe kepten not.
 xii But and ȝee wers wroȝten þan ȝoure fadris; lo! forſoþe eche gop after þe ſhreudeneneſſe of his euel herte, þat me he here not.
 xiii And Y shal caſte ȝou out fro þis lond, in to þe lond þat ȝee and ȝoure fadris knowe not; and ȝee shul ſerue þere to alien goddis dai and nyȝt, þat shul not ȝiue to ȝou reſte.
 xiv Perfore lo! daȝes comen, seij þe Lord, and it shal be no mor ſeid, Lyueþ þe Lord, þat ladde out þe ſonus of Israel fro þe lond of Egyp̄t;

xv but lyueþ þe Lord, þat ladde out þe sonus of Israel fro þe lond of þe norþ, and fro alle londus to whiche I caste þem out; and Y þhal bringe þem aȝeen to þer lond þat I ȝaf to þe fadris of þem.

xvi Lo! Y þhal senden many fissheres, seiþ þe Lord, and þei þul fisshen hem; and after þese þingus I þhal sende to þem manye hunteres, and þei þul hunte þem fro eche mounteyn, and fro eche hil, and fro þe caues of stones.

xvii For myn eȝen vp on alle þe weies of þem; þei ben not hid fro my face, and hid was not þe wickenesse of þem fro myn eȝen.

xviii And Y þhal ȝelde first þe double wickenesses and þe synnes of hem, for þei defouleden my lond in dead smyten þingus of þer maumetus, and wiþ þer abhominaciouns þei fulfilden myn heritage.

xix Lord, my strengþe, and my stalwrþenesse, and my refute in þe dai of tribulacioun, to þee Jentiles þuln come fro þe vtmostus of erþe, and feyn, Vereli lesing weldeden oure fadris, vanyte þat to þem profitede not.

xx Wheþer a man þhal maken to hym goddis? and þei ben not goddis.

xxi Perfore lo! Y þhal shewe to þem bi þis while, I þhal shewe to þem myn hond and my vertue; and þei þul wite, for name to me is Lord.

Capitulum XVII.

i The synne of Jude writen is wiþ an irene pointel, in an adamantyne nail, grauen out vp on þe brede of þer herte, and in þe hornes of þeir auteres.

ii Whan recorde þul þe sonus of þem of þer auteres, and of þer maumet wodus, and of þer braunching trees in heeȝe mounteynes, iii sacrificiende in þe feld, bi þrengþe and alle bi tresores in to taking awei Y þhal ȝyue, bi heeȝe þingus for þe synnes in alle bi coestes.

iv And þou shalt be forsake alone of þin eritage þat Y ȝaf to þee; and to seruen Y þhal make þee to þin enemys, in þe lond þat þou knewest not; for fyr þou brendist vp in my wodnesse, vnto euermor it þhal brenne.

v Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Cursid þe man þat trostip in man, and putteþ flesh his arm, and fro þe Lord his herte goþ awei.

vi Forsoþe it þhal ben as 'iencian trees in desert, and he þhal not see, whan þhal come good; but he þhal dwelle in droȝte in desert, in þe lond of briyn, and vnabitable.

vii Bleſſid þe man þat trosteþ in þe Lord, and þe Lord þhal ben his troſt.

viii And he þhal be as a tree, þat is ouer plauntid vp on watriſ, þat at þe humour sendip his rootes; and he þhal not drede, whan þhal come gret hete; and his leſ þhal be grene, and in tyme of droȝte þhal not be byfy, ne any tyme þhal cefe to make frut.

ix Shreude is þe herte of man, and vnſerchable; who þhal knownen it?

x I þe Lord ferchende herte, and prouende reenes, þat ȝyue to eche man after his weie, and after þe frut of his findingus.

xi Pe partrich nurſhede þat she bar not, made richeſſes, and not in dom; in þe myddil of þer dæſes she þhal forsake þem, and in hir laſte she þhal ben vnwiſ.

xii Pe dignete ſee of glorie of heiȝte fro þe bygynnynge, place of oure halewing, abiding of Israel.

xiii Lord, alle þat þee forsaken, þul be confoundid; goende awei fro þee in þe erþe þul be written, for þei forsoken þe veyne of lyuyng wattris, be Lord.

xiv Hele me, Lord, and Y þhal ben helid; saf mac me and Y þhal be saf; for my preſing þou art.

xv Lo! þei seyn to me, Wher is þe wrd of þe Lord? come it.

xvi And Y am not disturbid, þee ſhepperde folewende, and þe dai of man I diſfrede not, þou wost. þat þat is gon out fro my lippis riȝt in bi ſiȝte was.

xvii Be þou not to me to ferd; myn hope þou in þe dai of tormenting.

xviii Be þei confoundid, þat me purſuen, and confoundid be not Y; inwardly drede þei, and inwardly drede not Y; bring in vp on hem dai of tormenting, and wiþ double to-treding to-tred hem.

xix Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord God to me, Go, and ſtond in þe ȝate of þe ſonus of þe puple, bi whiche gon in kingus of Juda and gon out, and in alle þe ȝatus of Jerusalem.

xx And þou þhalt ſei to þem, Hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, ȝee kingus of Juda, and al Jewerie, and alle þe dwelleris of Jerusalem, þat gon in bi þese ȝatus.

xi Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord God, Kepeþ ȝoure ſoules, and wiþ not berþenus bern in þe dai of ſabat, ne bringe ȝee in bi þe ȝatus of Jerusalem.

xxii And wiþ not caſte out burþenus fro ȝoure houses in þe dai of ſabat, and eche werec ȝee þul not do; halewiþ þe day of ſabat, as Y comaunde to ȝoure fadris.

xxiii And þei herden not, ne boweden in þer ere, but inwardly hardeſſen þer nol, leſt þei herde me, and leſt þei toke dyscypline.

xxiv And it þhal be, if ȝee þul heren me, seiþ þe Lord, þat ȝee bringe not in birþenus bi þe ȝatus of þis cite in þe day of ſabat, and if ȝee halewe þe dai of ſabat, 'þat ȝee don not in it alle werec, xxv gon in þul bi þe ȝates of þis cite kingus and princes ſittende vpon þe ſee of Dauid, and ſteȝende vp in chares and hors; þei, and þe princes of þem, men of Juda, and þe dwelleris of Jerusalem; and dwellid þhal be þis cite in to euermor.

xxvi And 'comen þul fro þe cite of Juda, and fro þe cumpas of Jerusalem, and fro þe lond of Beniamyn, and fro þe wilde feldus, and fro þe mountuous places, and from þe ſoup, berende brent ſacrifise, and flayn offring, and sacrificise, and encens; and þei shul bringe in offring in to þe hous of þe Lord.

xxvii If forsoþe ȝee shul not here me, þat ȝee halewe þe day of sabat, and þat ȝee bere not berþene, and ne bringe in bi þe ȝatus of Jerusalem in þe dai of sabat, Y shal tende vp fyr in his ȝatus; and it shal deuoure þe houfys of Jerusalem, and shal not be quenchid.

Capitulum XVIII.

i The wrd þat don is to Jeremye fro þe Lord, seiende, ii Ris, and cum doun in to þe hous of þe crockere, and þere þou shalt here my wrdis.

iii And Y cam doun in to þe hous of þe crockere, and lo! he made a werc vp on a whel.

iv And scattered is þe vesseſ, þat he made of clei wiþ his hondus; and turned he made þat vesseſ oper, as it pleſide his eȝen þat he shulde make.

v And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to me, seiende, vi Wheþer as makeþ his crockere, shal not Y moun make to ȝou, hous of Israel? seiþ þe Lord. Lo! as þe cley in to þe hond of þe crockere, so ȝee in myn hond, þe hous of Israel.

vii Sodeynli Y shal speke aȝen folc, and aȝen reume, þat Y drawe vp bi þe roote, and destroȝe, and scatere it.

viii If penaunce shul do þat folc of his euel, for whiche I spac aȝen it, don shal and Y openking vp on þe euel, þat Y þoȝte þat I shulde do to it.

ix And sodeynli Y shal speken of þe folc, and of þe rewme, þat Y bilde vp, and plaunte in it.

x If it shul don euel in myn eȝen, þat it here not my vois, oþinking Y shal do vp on þe good þat Y spac, þat Y shulde do to it.

xi Now þanne sei to þe man of Jewerie, and to þe dwellere of Jerusalem, seiende, Ȣese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y make aȝen ȝou euel, and þenke aȝen ȝou þenking; be turned aȝeen eche fro his euel weie, and right reulib ȝoure weies and ȝoure studies.

xii þe whiche feiden, Wee han dispeired, after oure þoȝtus forsoþe wee shul go, and eche aftir þe shreudenesse of his euel herte wee shul do.

xiii Ȣerfore Ȣese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Askeþ folc of kinde, who herde such orrible þingus, þe whiche to myche dide þe maiden Israel?

xiv Wheþer of þe ston of þe feld shal faile þe fnoȝ of Liban? or ben pullid awei moun watris brekende out, colde and ful myche flowende doun?

xv For forȝat me my puple, in veyn offrende licoures, and stumblende in þer weies, and in þe styes of þe world, þat þei go bi þem in a weye not berdid; xvi þat be mad þe lond of hem in to desolacioun, and in to whistling euere durende; eche forsoþe þat passeþ bi it, shal become stoneyd, and mouen his hed.

xvii As a brenende wind Y shal scatere þem bifor þe enemy; bac and not face Y shal shewe to þem, in þe dai of perdiccioun of hem.

xviii And þei feiden, Comeþ, and þenke wee aȝen Jeremye þoȝtus; forsoþe pershe shal not be lawe fro þe prest, ne counseil fro þe wife man, ne sermoun fro þe profete; comeþ, and smyte wee hym wiþ tunge, and take wee not heed to alle þe sermons of hym.

xix Tac heed, Lord, to me, and here þe vois of myn aduersaries.

xx Wheþer ȝolden is for good euel, for þei deluen a dich to my soule; recorde, þat Y stod in þi siȝt, þat I schuld speke for þem good, and turne awei þin indignacioun fro þem.

xxi Ȣerfore ȝif þe sonus of þem in to hunger, and bring doun hem in to þe hondus of fwerd; mad be þe wifes of þem wiþoute free childer, and widewes, and þe men of hem be flayn wiþ deþ; þe ȝunge of þem be þei stikid wiþ swerd in bataile.

xxii Herd be þe cri fro þe houses of þem, þou shalt bringe to forsoþe vp on hem a þef sodeynly; for þei doluen a dich þat þei take me, and grynes þei hidden to my feet.

xxiii Ȣou forsoþe, Lord, wost al þe counseil of hem aȝen me in to deþ; ne be þou plesid to þe wickidnesse of þem, and be synne of hem fro þi face be not don awei; be þei mad togidere fallende in þi siȝt, in tyme of þi wodnesse; awei fro good vse þem.

Capitulum XIX.

i These þingus seiþ þe Lord, Go, and tac þe erþene litil wyn vessel of þe crockere, and fro þe elderes of þe puple, and fro þe elderes of þe prestus.

ii And go out to þe valei of þe sonus of Ennon, þat is biside þe entre of þe britil ȝate; and þou shalt preche þere wrdys þat Y shal speke to þee;

iii and seyn, Hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, ȝee kingus of Juda, and dwelleris of Jerusalem. Ȣese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Lo! Y shal bringe in tormenting vp on þis place, so þat eche þat shal heren it, tynkle hys eres.

iv For þi þat þei forsoke me, and alien maden þis place, and offreden to alien godis, in þat þat knewen not þei, and þer faders, and þe kingis of Juda; and fulfillden þis place wiþ blod of innocentus, v and bilden vp þe heȝe þingus of Baalym, to ben brent þer sonus wiþ fyr, in to brent sacrificise to Balim; whiche þingus Y comaundide not, ne spac, ne stedeþe vp in to myn herte.

vi Perfor seiþ þe Lord, Lo! daȝes comen, and clepid shal no mor be þis place Tofeth, and þe valei of þe sone of Ennon, but þe valei of flaȝter.

vii And Y shal scatere þe counseil of Jude and of Jerusalem in þis place, and Y shal turne þem vpsodoun wiþ swerd, in siȝte of þer enemys, and in þe hond of men sechende þer lyues; and Y shal ȝyue þe careynes of þem mete to þe foules of heuene, and to þe bestus of erþe.

viii And Y shal sette þis cite in to stoneyng, and in to whistling; and eche þat shal passē by it, shal stoneyn, and whistlen vp on al þe veniaunce of it.
ix And Y shal fede þem wiþ þe flesh of þer sonus, and wiþ þe flesh of þer doȝtris; and eche þe flesh of his frend shal ete in segyng and in anguysh, in whyche close þem shul þer enemys, and þat sechen þeir lyues.
x And þou shalt to-brose þe little wyn vessel in þe eȝen of þe men, þat shul go wiþ þee.
xi And þou shalt sei to þem, þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtus, Pus Y shal tobrose þis puple, and þis cyte, as is tobrosid þe vessel of þe crockere, þat mai no more be restored; and in Tofeth þei shul ben biried, for þer is not oþer place to birie in.
xii So Y shal do to þis place, seiþ þe Lord, and to his dwelleris, þat Y sette þis cite as Tofeth.
xiii And ben shul þe houſes of Jerufalem, and þe houſes of þe kingus of Juda, as þe place Tofeth; vnclene alle þe houſes, in whos rooues þei ſacrifieden to al þe knyȝthed of heuene, and offreden ſacriffle of licoures to alien godus.
xiv Cam forſoþe Jeremye fro Tofeth, whider hadde ſent hym þe Lord to profecien; and ſtod in þe porche of þe houſe of þe Lord, and ſeide to al þe puple, xv Þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtus, God of Israel, Lo! Y shal bringen in vp on þis cite, and vp on alle his cheef citemes, alle þe euelis þat Y ſpac aȝen it; for þei inwardly hardeſten þer nolles, and herde not my fermounſ.

Capitulum XX.

i And þer herde Faffur, þe ſone of Emyner, preſt, þat was ordeyned prince in þe houſe of þe Lord, Jeremye profeciende þeſe fermownus.
ii And Faffur ſmot Jeremye, profete, and putte hym in to þe ſtockes, þat was in þe ouere ȝate of Beniamyn, in þe houſe of þe Lord.
iii And whan it hadde liȝtid in to þe moru, Faffur ladde out Jeremie out of þe ſtockus. And Jeremye ſeide to hym, Not Faffur clepede þe Lord þi name, but Inwardli ferd on eche ſide.
iv For þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y shal ȝyue þee in to inward ferd, þee and alle þi frendus, and to gidere þei shul falle wiþ þe ſword of þer enemys; and þin eȝen shul ſee; and al Juda Y shal ȝyue in þe hond of þe kyng of Babiloyne, and he shal ouer lede þem in to Babiloyne, and ſmyte þem wiþ ſword.
v And Y shal ȝyue al þe ſubftaunce of þis cite, and al his traualie, and al þe pris; and al þe trefores of þe king of Juda I shal ȝyue in þe hond of þe enemys of þem; and þey shul reue þem, and taken, and bringe þem in to Babyloynie.
vi Pou forſoþe, Faffur, and alle þe dwelleris of þin houſe, shul gon in to caitifte; and in to Babyloynie þou shalt come, and þere þou shalt die; and þere þou shalt be biried, and alle þi frendus, to whyche þou profeciediſt leſing.

vii Pou leddeſt me a fyde, Lord, and Y am lad aſide; ſtrengere þan Y þou were, and þou haddeſt þe maiftre; I am mad in to ſcorn al day.
viii Alle ſcorneden me, for now ȝore Y ſpeke, criende out þe wickidneſſe, and þe waſtite I ofte crie. And don is þe ſermoun of þe Lord to me in to repreſ, and in to ſcornyng al day.
ix And Y ſeide, I shal not recorden of it, ne ſpeke more in þe name of hym. And mad it is in myn herte, as fy gretly hetende, and cloſid in my bones; and Y failede, to bern not fuſtenende.
x I herde forſoþe þe wrong blamynge of manye, and þe ferd in enuyroun, Purſueþ, and purſue wee hym, of alle men þat weren my peſible, and kepende my ſide; if any maner he be bigilid, and wee haue þe maiftre aȝen hym, and wee gete veniaunce of hym.
xi Þe Lord forſoþe is wiþ me as a ſtrong fiȝtere, þeſor þat purſuen me shul falle, and ſyc shul be; and þei shul be ſhent hugeli, for þei vnderſtoden not þe euere durende repreſ, þat neuer shal be don awei.
xii And þou, Lord of oſtus, prouere of þe riȝtwis, þat ſeest þe reenes and þe herte, ſee I, Y beſeche, þi veniaunce of hem; to þee forſoþe Y ſhewide my cauſe.
xiii Syngþ to þe Lord, preiſþ þe Lord, for he haþ delyuered þe ſoule of þe pore fro þe hond of euelis.
xiv Curfid þe dai in þe whiche Y am born, þe dai in whiche bar me my moder, be not bleſſid.
xv Cursed þe man, þat tolde to my fader, ſeide, Born is to þee a knaue child, and as wiþ ioȝe gladide hym.
xvi Be þat man as ben þe cites, þat þe Lord turnede vpfodoun, and it oþoȝte hym not; here he cry erly, and ȝelling in myddyng tyme, xvii þat me floȝ not fro þe priue wombe; þat mad were to me my moder a ſepulcre, and hir priue wombe conceyuyng euerlaſtende.
xviii Whi fro þe priue wombe Y ȝide out, þat Y ſhulde ſeen traualie and forewe, and waſt ben in confuſion my daȝes?

Capitulum XXI.

i The wrd þat don is to Jeremye fro þe Lord, whan ſente to hym king Sedechie Faffur, þe ſone of Melchie, and Sofonye, þe ſone of Maſie, preſt, ſeide, ii Afſke for vs þe Lord, for Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, fiȝteþ aȝen vs; if par auenture þe Lord do wiþ vs after alle his merueyles, and he go awei fro vs.
iii And Jeremye ſeide to þem, Pus ȝee shul ſey to Sedechie, iv Þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord God, Lo! Y shal turne þe veffelis of þe bataile þat in ȝoure hondus ben, and wiþ whom ȝee fiȝten, aȝen þe king of Babiloyne, and Caldeis, þat beſegen ȝou in cumpas of þe wallis; and Y shal gedere þem in þe myddes of þis cite.

v And Y shal ouercome ȝou in a straȝt out hond, and in a strong arm, and in wodnesse, and in indignacioun, and in gret wraþe;
vi I shal smytle þe dwelleris of þis cite, men and bestus wiþ gret pestylence shul dien.
vii And after þese þingus, seiþ þe Lord, Y shal ȝyue Sedechie, king of Juda, and his seruauns, and his puple, and þat ben laft in þis cite of pestylence, and swerd, and hunger, in þe hond of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, and in þe hond of þer enemys, and in þe hond of men sechende þer lif; and he shal smytle þem in mouȝ of swerd; and he shal not be bowid, ne sparen, ne han reuþe.
viii And to þis puple þou shalt sey, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God, Lo! Y ȝyue bifor ȝou weie of lif, and weie of dep.
ix Who `shal dwelle in þis cite, shal die wiþ swerd, and hunger, and pestilence; who forsoþe shul go out, and flee to þe Caldeis þat besegen ȝou, shal lyue, and be shal to hym his soule as spoile.
x Forsoþe Y haue set my face vp on þis cite in to euel, and not in to good, seiþ þe Lord; in þe hond of þe king of Babiloyne it shal be ȝoue, and brenne it out he shal wiþ fyr, xi and þe hous of þe king of Juda. Hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, `ȝe þe hous of Dauid.
xii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Demeþ erli dom, and delyuerereþ out þe oppressed wiþ force fro þe hond of þe wrong challengere; leſt par auenture go out as fir myn indignacioun, and be tend vp, and be not þat quenche, for þe malice of ȝoure studies.
xiii Lo! Y to þee, dwelleresse of þe sadde valey and wilde feld, seiþ þe Lord, ȝee þat seyn, Who shal smyten vs, and who shal go `in to oure houses?
xiv And Y shal visite vp on ȝou after þe frute of ȝoure studies, seiþ þe Lord; and Y shal tende vp fyr in his wilde wode, and deuoure it shal alle þingus in his cumpas.

Capitulum XXII.

i These þingus seiþ þe Lord, Cum doun in to þe hous of þe king of Juda, and þou shalt speke þere þis wrd, ii and seyn, Here þou þe wrd of þe Lord, þou king of Juda, þat fittest vp on þe see of Dauid, þou, and þi seruauntis, and þi puple, þat gon in bi þese ȝatus.
iii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Dof dom, and riȝtwisnesse, and delyuerereþ þe oppressed bi force fro þe hond of þe wrong challengere; and þe comeling, and faderles child, and þe widewe wileþ not forewen, ne opresseþ wickeli, and þe innocent blod ne shedeb out in þis place.
iv If forsoþe doende ȝee shul do þis wrd, gon in shul bi þe ȝatus of þis hous kingus sittende of þe kinrede of Dauid vp on his trone, and þe steing men vp chares and hors, þei, and seruauns, and þe puples of þem.

v Pat if ȝee shul not here þese wrdus, in myself Y swor, seiþ þe Lord, for in to wildernesse shal be þis hous.
vi For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord vp on þe see of þe king of Juda, Galaad, þou `to me hed of Liban; yf Y shal not sette forþ þee wildernesse, cheef citees vnabitale.
vii And Y shal halewe vp on þee þe fleende man, and his armes; and þei shul `kutte doun þi chosen cedris, and þrowe doun in to fyr.
viii And passen shul manye Jentiles þurȝ þis cite, and sei shal eche to his neȝhebore, Whi dide þe Lord þus to þis grete cite?
ix And þei shul answern, For bi þat þei forsoke þe couenaunt of þe Lord þer God, and honoureden alien godis, and serueden to þem.
x Wileþ not wepe þe deade, ne weilen vp on hym wiþ weeping; weileþ hym þat gop out, for he shal no mor be turned aȝeen, ne seen he shal þe lond of his birþe.
xi For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord to Sellum, sone of Josie, king of Juda, þat regnede for Josie, his fader, Pat is gon out fro þis place, he shal not turne aȝeen hider more;
xii but in þe place to þe whiche Y translatide hym, þere he shal die, and þis lond he shal see no more.
xiii Wo þat bildeþ vp his hous in vnriȝtwisnes, and his souping places not in dom; his frend he shal opresso in veyn, and his meede he shal not ȝelde to hym.
xiv þe whiche seiþ, I shal bilde vp to me a large hous, and spacious souping places; þat openeþ to hym wyndowes, and makeþ cedre couples, and peynteþ wiþ cynoper.
xv Wheþer shalt þou regne, for þou lichest þee to a ceder? þi fader, wheþer he eet not, and dranc, and dide dom and riȝtwisnesse, þanne whan wel it was to hym?
xvi He demede þe cause of þe pore, and of þe helpeles, in to his good; wheþer not þerfor for he kneȝ me? seiþ þe Lord.
xvii þine forsoþe eȝen and herte to auarice, and to innocent blod to be shed, and to wronge challenge, and to þe ending of euel were.
xviii Perfore þese þingus seiþ þe Lord to Joachym, sone of Josie, king of Juda, þei shul not weilen hym, Wo broþer! and wo sister! þei shul not togidere trumpe to hym, Wo lord! and wo glorious!
xix In þe biriyng of an asse he shal be biried, roten, and þrowen aferr out of þe ȝatis of Jerufalem.
xx Steȝ þou vp Liban, and crye, and in to Basan ȝif þi vois, and crie to þe passeres, for to-trode ben alle þi loueres.
xxi I spac to þee in þi plenteuousnesse, and þou feidist, I shal not heren; þis is þi weie fro þi waxende ȝouþ, for þou herdist not my vois.
xxii Alle þi shepperdus wind shal fede, and þi loueres in to caitife shul go; and þanne þou shalt be confoundyd, and þamen of al þi malice, xxiii þat sittist in Liban, and nestlist in cedris. Hou togidere weiledist þou, whan comen hadde to þee forewes, as forewis of þe trauailende wiþ childe?

xxiiii I lyue, seiþ þe Lord, for if shul be Jeconyas, þe sone of Joachym, king of Juda, a ring in my riȝt hond, þennus I shal pullen hym awey.
xxv And Y shal ȝyue þee in þe hond of men sechende þi soule, and in þe hond of hem whos face þou dredist, and in þe hond of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, and in þe hond of Caldeis.
xxvi And Y shal sende þee, and þi moder þat gat þee, in to an alien lond, in whiche ȝee ben not born, and þere ȝee shul die;
xxvii and in to þe lond to whiche þei reren þer soule, þat þei turne aȝeen þider, and þei turne aȝeen shul not.
xxviii Wheþer a britil vessel and a broſid þis man Jeconyas? wheþer a vessel wiþoute al voluptuouſte? Whi þowen awei ben he and his fed, and caſt aferr in to þe lond þat þei knewe not?
xxix Erþe, erþe, erþe, here þe ſermoun of þe Lord.
xxx Þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Writ þis man a bareyn man, þat in his daȝes shal not be welſum; ne forſoþe ben shal of his fed a man, þat fitte vp on þe ſee of Dauid, and power haue more yn Juda.

Capitulum XXIII.

i Wo to þe ſhepperdis, þat ſcateren and to-tern þe floc of my leſwe, seiþ þe Lord.
ii Perfore þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Israel to þe ſhepperdis, þat feden my puple, ȝee ſcatereden my floc, and þrewen out hem, and han not viſitid hem; lo! Y shal viſite vp on ȝow þe malice of ȝoure ſtudies, seiþ þe Lord.
iii And Y shal gedere þe remnauntus of my floc fro alle londis, to whiche Y shal caſte hem out þider; and Y shal turne þem to þer wilde feldus, and þei shul growe, and be multepliede.
iv And Y shal rere vp on hem ſhepperdis, and þei shul fede þem; þei shuln no mor ben aferd, ne inwardly dreden; and no man shal be ſoȝt of þe noumbe, seiþ þe Lord.
v Lo! daȝes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and I shal rere Dauid a riȝtwis buriownyng; and regne he shal king, and wys he shal be, and don he shal dom and riȝtwisneſſe in erþe.
vi In þo daȝes faued shal ben Juda, and Israel shal dwelle troſtili; and þis is þe name þat þei shul clepen hym, Oure riȝtwis Lord.
vii For þis lo! daȝes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and þei shul fei no more, Pe Lord lyueþ, þat ladde out þe ſonus of Israel fro þe lond of Egipt;
viii but, Pe Lord lyueþ, þat ladde out, and broȝte to þe fed of þe hous of Israel fro þe lond of þe norþ, and fro alle londus to þe whiche Y hadde caſt þem ouþe þider; and þei shul dwelle in þer owne lond.
ix To þe profetus; To-broſid is my herte in þe myddel of me, al to-trembleden alle my bonus; I am mad as a drunke man, and as a man drunken of wyn, fro þe face of þe Lord, and fro þe face of his hoeli wrdus;
x for of auotreres fulſild is þe lond. For fro þe face of curſing weilide þe lond; dried ben þe wilde feldus of desert, mad ys þe cours of þem euel, and þe strengþe of hem vnlic.
xi Pe profete forſoþe and þe preſt ben defoulid; and in myn hous I fond þe euel of hem, seiþ þe Lord.
xii Perfore þe weie of hem shal be as flydery in dercneſſes, þei shul be put doun forſoþe, and falle togidere in it; for I shal bringe to vpon hem eueles, a ȝer of þe viſiting of þem, seiþ þe Lord.
xiii And in þe profetis of Samarie Y faȝ folie, and þei profecieden in Baal, and diſceyueden my puple Israel.
xiv And in þe profetus of Jerusalem Y faȝ licneſſe auotreres, and weie of leſing; and þei coumforteden þe hondus of werſt men, þat conuertid were not eche fro his malice; `alle þei ben mad to me Sodome, and alle hyſe dwelleris as Gomorre.
xv Perfore þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtus to profetis, Lo! Y shal fede hem wiþ wrmwed, and drunken hem wiþ galle; fro þe profetus forſoþe of Jerusalem is gon out defouling vp on al erþe.
xvi Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtus, Wileþ not heren þe wrdus of þe profetes, þat profecien to ȝou, and diſceyuen ȝou; þe viſeoun of þer herte þei ſpeken, not of þe mouȝ of þe Lord.
xvii Peſeyn to þem þat blaſfemen me, Pe Lord ſpac, Peſ hal be to ȝou; and to eche þat goþ in þe ſhreudneſſe of his herte þei ſeiden, Peſ hal not come vp on ȝou euel.
xviii Who forſoþe was nyȝ in þe counſeil of þe Lord, and faȝ, and herde þe ſermoun of hym? who biheeld his wrd, and herde?
xix Lo! þe whirlewind of þe Lordus indignacioun shal gon out, and tempeſt brekende out vp on þe hed of vnpitouſ men shal come.
xx Pe wodneſſe of þe Lord shal not turne aȝeen, vnto þe tymē þat he do, and vnto þe tymē þat he fulſille þe þenking of his herte. In hiſe laſte daȝes ȝee shul vnderſtonde his counſeil.
xi I lente not þe profetes, and þei runnen; Y ſpac not to þem, and þei profecieden.
xii If þei hadden ſtonde in my counſeil, and knownen hadden mad my wrdis to my puple, I shulde han turned awei hem forſoþe fro þer euel weie, and fro þer werſt þenkingus.
xiii Weneſt þou, wheþer a Lord fro anyȝ Y am, seiþ þe Lord, and not God fro afer? xviiii If hid shal be a man in hid þingus, and Y shal not ſeen hym? seiþ þe Lord. Wheþer not heuene and erþe Y fulſille? seiþ þe Lord.
xxv Y herde what þingus ſeiden profetus, profeciende in my name leſing, and ſeide, Sweuenes Y ſweuenede.

xxvi Hou longe þis is in þe herte of profetes, profeciende leſing, and profeciende þe begiling of þer herte?

xxvii Be whiche wiln make, þat þe puple forȝete of my name for þer sweuenes, whiche telleþ eche to his neȝhebore, as forȝeeten þer fadris of my name for Baal.

xxviii Be profete þat haþ a fweuene, telle he þe fweuene; and þat haþ my fermoun, speke he my fermoun verely. What to þe chaf at þe whete? seiþ þe Lord.

xxix Wheþer not my wrdus ben as fyr brennende, seiþ þe Lord, and as an hamer tobrekende þe ston?

xxx Perfor lo! Y to þe profetes, seiþ þe Lord, þat stelun my wrdus, eche fro his neȝhebore.

xxxi Lo! Y to þe profetys, seiþ þe Lord, þat taken to þeir tunges, and seyn, Pe Lord seiþ. Lo!

xxxii Y to þe profetys, fweuenende leſing, seiþ þe Lord; þat tolden þem, and bigileden my puple in þer leſing, and in þer myracles, whan Y hadde not sent hem, ne beden hem; þe whiche no þing profiteden to þis puple, seiþ þe Lord.

xxxiii If þerfore shul aske þee þis puple, or profete, or prest, sciende, What is þe charge of þe Lord? þou shalt sey to þem, ȝee ben þe charge, forsoþe Y shal þrowe ȝou aferr, seiþ þe Lord;

xxxiv and profete, and prest, and puple, þat seiþ, Pe charge of þe Lord, Y shal vifite vp on þat man, and vp on his hous.

xxxv Peſe þingus ȝee shuln seyn, eche to his neȝhebore, and to his broþir, What shal answern þe Lord? and what spac þe Lord?

xxxvi For þe charge of þe Lord no more shal abide, and charge shal be to eche man his wrd; and ȝee han mysturned þe wrdus of lyuende God, Lord of oſtus, oure God.

xxxvii Peſe þingus þou shalt seyn to þe profete, What answerde to þee þe Lord? and what spac þe Lord?

xxxviii If forsoþe, Pe charge of þe Lord, ȝee shul sey, for þis peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, For ȝee feiden þis fermoun, Pe charge of þe Lord, and Y fente to ȝou, sciende, Wileþ not seyn, Pe charge of þe Lord; xxxix þerfore lo! Y beryng shal take ȝou, and forsake ȝou, and þis cite þat Y ȝaf to ȝou, and to ȝoure fadris, fro my face.

xl And Y shal ȝyue ȝou in to euermor repref, and in to euermor shenſhipe, þat neuer bi forȝetyng eſhal ben don awey.

Capitulum XXIII.

i The Lord shewede to me, and lo! two basketus ful of figus put bifor þe temple of þe Lord, aftir þat Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, tranflatide Jeconye, þe sone of Joachym, king of Juda, and his princes, and þe smyþ, and his iueler fro Jerusalem, and broȝte þem in to Babiloyne.

ii And oe fraiel hadde good figus ful myche, as ben wont figys to be of þe firſte tyme; and þe oe fraiel hadde euele figis ful myche, þat myȝten not ben ete, for þi þat þei weren euele.

iii And þe Lord ſeide to me, What feest þou, Jeremye? 'And Y ſeide, Figis, figes goode, goode gretli, and euele, euele gretly, þat moun not be ete, forþi þat þei ben euele.

iv And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to me, ſeiende, v Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, God of Israel, As þeſe figis goode, so Y ſhal knowe þe transmygracioun of Juda, þat I ſente fro þis place in to þe lond of Caldeis, in to good.

vi And Y ſhal putte myn eȝen vp on hem to plesen, and Y ſhal bringe þem aȝeen in to þis lond; and Y ſhal bilde þem vp, and not destroȝe, and plaunte þem, and not pullen awei.

vii And Y ſhal ȝyue to þem an herte, þat þei knowe me, for Y am a Lord; and þei ſhul be to me in to puple, and Y ſhal be to þem in to a God, for þei ſhul turne aȝeen to me in al þer herte.

viii And as þe werſt figus, þat moun not ben ete, forþi þat þei ben euele, peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, So Y ſhal ȝyue Sedechie, king of Juda, and his princes, and þe remnaunt of Jerusalem, þat abiden in þis cite, and þat dwellen in þe lond of Egipt.

ix And Y ſhal ȝyue þem in to weri traualing and tormenting to alle rewmes of erþe, in to repref, and in to parable, and in to prouerbe, and in to curling, in alle places to whiche I caste out þem.

x And I ſhal ſende in hem fwerd, and hunger, and peſilence, to þe tyme þei be waſtid from þe lond þat I ȝaf to þem, and to þeir fadres.

Capitulum XXV.

i The wrd þat is don to Jeremye, of al þe puple of Jude, in þe ferþe ȝer of Joachym, sone of Josie, king of Juda, aftir þat Jeconye is tranflatyd in to Babiloyne; it is þe firſte ȝer of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne;

ii þat spac Jeremye, þe profete, to al þe puple of Juda, and to alle þe dwelleris of Jerusalem, ſciende, iii Fro þe þrettenþe ȝer of þe regne of Josie, sone of Amon, king of Juda, vnto þis dai, þis is þe þre and twentieþ ȝer, don is þe wrd of þe Lord to me; and Y spac to ȝou, fro nyȝt rifende and ſpekende, and ȝee herden not.

iv And þe Lord fente to ȝou alle his profetus feruauns, rifende þe morutid, and fendende, and ȝee herden not, ne boweden in ȝoure eres, þat ȝee here;

v whan he ſhulde seyn, Turneþ aȝeen, eche fro his euel weie, and fro ȝoure werſte þoȝtus, and ȝee shul dwelle in þe lond þat þe Lord ȝaf to ȝou, and to ȝoure fadris, fro þe world and vnto þe world.

vi And wileþ not gon aftir alien godis, þat ȝee serue to þem, and honoure þem, ne me to wraþe ȝee terre, in þe werkes of ȝoure hondus, and Y tormente ȝou not.
 vii And ȝee herden not me, seiþ þe Lord, þat me to wraþe ȝee terreden in þe werkus of ȝoure hondus, in to ȝoure owne euel.
 viii Perfore þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, For þi þat ȝee herden not my wrdus, lo!
 ix Y shal fende, and taken to alle þe kinredus of þe norþ, seiþ þe Lord, and Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, my seruaunt; and Y shal bringe þem vp on þis lond, and vpon his dwelleris, and vp on alle his naciouns, þat in his cumpas ben; and Y shal slen hem, and sette þem in to stoneyng, and in to whistling, and in to wildernesſe euerdurende.
 x And Y shal leefe fro þem vois of ioȝe, and vois of gladnesſe, vois of þe womman spouse, and vois of þe man spouse, vois of þe querne, and liȝt of þe launterne.
 xi And ben shal al his lond in to wildernesſe, and in to stoneyng; and seruen shuln alle þese folkis to þe king of Babiloyne feuenty ȝer.
 xii And whan shul be fulſild ſeuenti ȝer, Y shal viſite vp on þe king of Babiloyne, and vp on þat folc, seiþ þe Lord, þe wickenesſe of þem, and vp on þe lond of Caldeis, and putten it in to euermor wildernesſes.
 xiii And Y shal bringe vpon þat lond alle my wrdus þat Y ſpac aȝen it, al þat ys write in þis boc; what euere þingus profeciede Jeremye aȝen alle Jentilis; xiv for þey ferueden to þem, whan þei were many Jentiles, and grete kingus; and Y shal ȝelde to þem after þer werkes, and aftir þe deedus of þer hondus.
 xv For þus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Tac þe chalis of þe wyn of þis wodnesſe fro myn hond, and þou shalt heelde drinc of it to alle Jentilis, to whiche Y shal ſenden þee.
 xvi And þei shul drinke, and be disturbid, and waxe wod fro þe face of þe ſword, þat Y shal fende among hem.
 xvii And Y toc þe chalis of þe hond of þe Lord, and Y helde oute drinc to alle Jentilis, to whiche fente me þe Lord;
 xviii to Jerufalem, and to alle þe cites of Juda, and to his kingus, and to his princes; þat Y shulde ȝyue þem in to wildernesſe, and in to stoneyng, and in to whistling, and in to curſing, as is þis dai;
 xix to Farao, king of Egipt, and to his seruauns, and to his princes, and to al his puple;
 xx and to alle men ienerali, to alle kingus of erþe of þe eft kuntree, þat is clepid Hus, 'or Anſtidis, and to alle kingus of þe lond of Filisteym, and of Aſcalon, and of Gaze, and of Accharon, xxi Ydume, Afote, and to oþere; and to Moab, and to þe ionus of Amon; xxii and to alle kingus of Tiri, and to alle kingus of Sidon, and to kingus of þe lond of iles þat ben biȝunde þe ſe;

xxiii and to Dedan, and to Theman, and to Bus, and to alle þat ben dodded in to be her;
 xxiv and to alle kingus of Arabie, and to alle kingis of þe weſt, þat dwellen in deſert;
 xxv and to alle kingus of Samri, and to alle kingus of Elam, and to alle kingus of Medus;
 xxvi and to alle kingus of þe norþ, and fro nyȝ and fro aferr, to eche aȝen his broþer; and to alle reumes of erþe, þat ben vp on his face; and king Cefac shal drinke aftir hem.
 xxvii And þou shalt sei to þem, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Drinkeþ, and beþ drunken, and vomeþ, and falleþ, and wileþ not rise fro þe face of þe ſword þat Y shal fende among ȝou.
 xxviii And whan þei wiln not take þe chalis fro þin hond, þat þei drinke, þou shalt sei to þem, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, Drinkende ȝee shul drinke;
 xxix for lo! in þe cite in whiche is inwardliche clepid my name, Y bigynne to tormente, and ȝee as ynnocentus harmles shul be? ȝee shul not ben harmlis, forſoþe I clepe a ſword vp on alle dwelleris of erþe, seiþ þe Lord of ostus.
 xxx And þou shalt profecien to þem alle þese wrdus, and sei to þem, Þe Lord fro an hiȝ ſhal rore, and fro his hoeli dwelling place ſhal ȝyue his vois; rorende he ſhal roren vp on his fairnesſe; a merie faring ſong, as of men tredende in preſſes, 'ſhal be funga togidere aȝen alle þe dwelleris of erþe.
 xxxi Þe foun ful cam vnto þe vtmoſtus of erþe, for dom to þe Lord wiþ Jentylis, he is demed wiþ alle flesh; vnpitouſ men I toc to ſword, seiþ þe Lord.
 xxxii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, Lo! tormenting ſhal gon out fro folc in to folc, and a gret whirlwind ſhal gon out fro þe ouermoftus of erþe.
 xxxiii And þer shul be þe flayne of þe Lord in þat day fro þe ouermoft of erþe 'vn to þe ouermoft of it; þei shul not be weilid, ne be gedered, ne be biried; in to a dunghil vp on þe face of þe erþe þei shul lyn.
 xxxiv ȝelleþ, ȝee ſhepperdus, and crieþ, and ſprengeþ ȝou wiþ aſkes, ȝee moſt wrſhepeful of þe floc; for fulſild ben ȝoure daȝes, þat ȝee shul be flayn, and ȝoure ſcateringus, and ȝee shul falle as precious veſſels.
 xxxv And perſhe ſhal ȝelde fro þe ſhepperdus, and ſauyng fro þe beſt of þe floc.
 xxxvi Vois of þe cri of ſhepperdus, and ȝelling of þe beſt of þe floc, for þe Lord wastede þe leſwes of hem.
 xxxvii And al ſtille weren þe 'wilde feldis of pes, fro þe face 'of þe wraþ of þe wodnesſe of þe Lord.
 xxxviii He forſoc as a leoun his tabernacle, for mad is þe lond of hem in to deſolacioun, fro þe face of þe wraþ of þe culuer, and fro þe face of þe wraþ of þe wodnesſe of þe Lord.

Capitulum XXVI.

i In þe bigynnyng of þe regne of Joachym, sone of Jofie, king of Juda, don is þis wrd fro þe Lord, seiende, ii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Stond in þe porche of þe hous of þe Lord, and þou shalt speke to alle þe cites of Juda, which comen þat þei honoure in þe hous of þe Lord, alle wrdus þat I comaunde to þee, þat þou speke to þem; wile þou not withdrawen a wrd;
 iii if par auenture þei here, and be conuertid, eche fro his euel weie, and it openke me of þe euel þat I þoȝte to do to þem for þe malices of þer studies.
 iv And þou shalt sei to þem, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, If ȝee shul not here me, þat ȝe go in my lawe þat Y ȝaf to ȝou, v þat ȝee here þe sermounus of my feruauns, profetus, þat Y fente to ȝou, þe nyȝt risende, and riȝt reulende, and ȝee herde not;
 vi Y shal ȝyuen þis hous as Cilo, and þis cite I shal ȝyue in cursing to alle folkus of erþe.
 vii And þer herden þe prestus, and profetus, and al þe puple Jeremye spekende þese wrdus in þe hous of þe Lord.
 viii And whan fulfild hadde Jeremye spekende alle þese þingus, þat comaundid hadde to hym þe Lord, þat he shulde speke to al þe puple, token hym þe prestus, and þe false profetus, and al þe puple, seiende, Bi dep die he;
 ix whi profeciede he in þe name of þe Lord, seiende, As Cylo shal be þis hous, and þis cite shal be defolat, for þi þat þer is not a dwellere? And gedered is al þe puple aȝen Jeremye, in þe hous of þe Lord.
 x And herden þe princes of Juda alle þese wrdis; and þei stedeȝen vp fro þe hous of þe king in to þe hous of þe Lord, and þei seeten in þe entre of þe newe ȝate of þe hous of þe Lord.
 xi And speeken þe prestus and þe profetus to þe princes, and to al þe puple, seiende, Dom of dep is to þis man, for he profeciede aȝen þis cite, as ȝee han herd wiþ ȝoure eres.
 xii And Jeremye seiþ to alle þe princes, and to al þe puple, seiende, þe Lord fente me, þat Y shulde profecien to þis hous, and to þis cite, alle þe wrdus þat ȝee han herd.
 xiii Now þanne goode makeþ ȝoure weies, and ȝoure studies, and hereþ þe voys of þe Lord ȝoure God; and it shal oþinke þe Lord of þe euel þat he spac aȝen ȝou.
 xiv I forsoþe lo! in ȝoure hondis am; dol to me þat good is and riȝt in ȝoure eȝen.
 xv Nerpelatere witeþ, and wel knowiþ, þat if ȝee shul fle me, an ynnocent blod ȝee shul betraȝe aȝen ȝou self, and aȝen þis cite, and his dwelleris; in treuþe forsoþe fente me þe Lord to ȝou, þat Y shulde speke in ȝoure eres alle þese wrdus.
 xvi And feiden þe princes and al þe puple to þe prestys and profetus, Per is not to þis man dom of dep; for in þe name of þe Lord ȝoure God he spac to vs.

xvii Risen þanne þe men of þe elderes of þe lond, and feiden to al þe cumpayne of þe puple, spekende, xviii Michie of Morosten was a profete in þe dages of Ezechie, king of Jude; and he seiþ to al þe puple of Jude, seiende, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of oftus, Sion as a feeld shal ben ered, and Jerualem in to an hep of stonus shal be, and þe mount of þe hous of þe Lord in to heiȝtus of wodus.
 xix Wheþer bi dep condempnede hym Ezechie, king of Juda, and al Juda? Wheþer not þei dredden þe Lord, and louli prezeden þe face of þe Lord, and it oþoȝte þe Lord of þe euel þat he 'hadde spoke aȝen hem? And so do we not gret euel aȝen oure soules.
 xx Also þer was a man profeciende in þe name of þe Lord, Vrias, þe sone of Semmei, of Cariathiarym; and he profeciede aȝen þis cite, and aȝen þis lond, aftir alle þe wrdis of Jeremye.
 xxi And herde king Joachym, and alle þe myȝti men, and his princes þese wrdus; and þe king soȝte toflen hym; and Vrie herde, and dredde, and fleiȝ, and wente in to Egipt.
 xxii And king Joachym fente men in to Egipt, Elnathan, þe sone of Achabor, and men wiþ him, in to Egipt; xxiii and broȝten out Vrie fro Egipt, and broȝten hym to king Joachym; and he smot hym wiþ fwerd, and þreȝ aferr his careyne in sepulcris of þe vnnoble comun.
 xxiv Perfore þe hond of Aicham, sone of Safan, was wiþ Jeremye, þat he shulde not be take in to þe hondus of þe puple, and it schuldeflen hym.

Capitulum XXVII.

i In þe bigynnyng of þe regne of Joachym, sone of Jofie, king of Juda, don is þis wrd to Jeremye fro þe Lord, seiende, ii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord to me, Mac to þee bondis and cheynus, and þou shalt putte þem in þi necke;
 iii and fende þem to þe king of Edom, and to þe king of Moab, and to þe king of þe sonus of Amon, and to þe king of Tiri, and to þe king of Sidon, in þe hond of þe messengeres þat camen to Jerualem, and to Sedechie, king of Juda.
 iv And how shalt comaunde to þem, þat to þer lordys þey speke, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of oftys, God of Israel, Þese þingus ȝee shul sey to ȝoure lordus, v I made erþe, and man, and bestus þat ben vp on þe face of al erþe, in my grete strengþe, and in myn arm straȝt out; and Y ȝaf it to hym þat plesede in myn eȝen.
 vi And now also Y ȝaf alle þese londus in þe hond of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, my feruaunt; ferþermor and þe bestus of þe feld Y ȝaf to hym, þat þei serue to hym.
 vii And serue shul to hym alle folc of kinde, and to his sone, and to þe sone of his sone, to þe tyme þat come þe tyme of his lond, and of hym; and seruen shul to hym manye folc of kinde, and grete kingus.

viii Fole forsoþe and rewme þat serue shal not to Nabugodonosor, king of Babylonye, and 'whoso euere shal not bowe his necke vnder þe ȝoc of þe king of Babiloyne, in fwerd, and hunger, and pestilence Y shal visite vp on þat folc, seiþ þe Lord, to þe tyme Y waste þem in his hond.
 ix ȝee forsoþe wileþ not heren ȝoure profetus, and deuynoures, and sweueneres, and brid deuyneres, and deuel cleperes, þat seyn to ȝou, ȝee shul not serue to þe king of Babiloyne;
 x for þei profecien to ȝou leſing, þat aferr þei make ȝou fro ȝoure lond, and caste ȝou out, and ȝee perſhe.
 xi But þe folc þat shal vnderleyn his nol vnder þe ȝoc of þe king of Babiloyne, and serue to hym, Y shal leuen it in his lond, seiþ þe Lord; and yt shal tiln it, and dwelle in it.
 xii And to Sedeche, king of Juda, Y spac after alle þese wrdus, seiende, Vnderleip ȝoure neckus vnder þe ȝoc of þe king of Babyloyn, and serueþ to hym, and to his puple, and ȝee shul lyue.
 xiii Whi shul ȝee die, þou and þi puple, wiþ fwerd, and hunger, and pestilence, as spac þe Lord to þe folc, þat wile not serue to þe king of Babiloyne?
 xiv Wileþ not heren þe wrdus of profetys seiende to ȝou, ȝee shul not serue to þe king of Babiloyne; for leſing þey speken to ȝou, xv for Y sente hem not, seiþ þe Lord; and þei profecien in my name liendely, þat I browe ȝou out, and ȝee perſhe, boþe ȝee and þe profetes þat profecien to ȝou.
 xvi And to þe prestus, and to þis puple I spac, seiende, ȝese þingus seiþ þe Lord God, Wileþ not heren þe wrdus of ȝoure profetus, þat profecien to ȝou, seiende, Lo! þe vessellis of þe Lord shul turne aȝeen fro Babiloyne now soone; leſyng forsoþe þei profecien to ȝou.
 xvii Wileþ not þanne heren hem, but serueþ to þe king of Babiloyne, þat ȝee lyue; whi ȝouen ys þis cite in to wildernesſe?
 xviii And if profetes þei ben, and þe wrd of God is in hem, aȝeen come þei to þe Lord of ostis, þat come not þe vessellis, þat weren laft in þe hous of þe Lord, and in þe hous of þe king of Juda, and in Jerusalēm, in to Babiloyne.
 xix For ȝese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostis to þe pileres, and to þe fe, and to þe feet, and to þe remnaunt of þe vessellis, þat laſten in þis cite, xx þe whiche bar not Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, whan he shulde translate Jeconye, þe sone of Joachym, king of Juda, fro Jerusalēm in to Babiloyne, and alle þe best men of Juda and of Jerusalēm.
 xxi For ȝese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostis, God of Israel, to þe vessellus þat ben laft in þe hous of þe Lord, and in þe hous of þe king of Juda, and in Jerusalēm, xxii In to Babiloyne þei shul be translatis, and þere þei shul be vnto þe dai of þer visitacioun, seiþ þe Lord; and

I shal make þem to be broȝt to, and to ben restored to þis place.

Capitulum XXVIII.

i And don it is 'in þat ȝer, in þe bigynnyng of þe regne of Sedeche, king of Juda, in þe ferþe ȝer, in þe fifte moneþ, seide to me Ananye, þe sone of Afur, a profete of Gabaon, in þe hous of þe Lord, befor þe prestes, and al þe puple, seiende, ii ȝese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostis, God of Israel, I haue tobrosid þe ȝoc of þe king of Babiloyne. iii ȝit two ȝer of dæs, and Y shal make to be born aȝeen to þis place alle þe vessellis of þe Lord, þat toc Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, fro þis place, and translatede þem in to Babiloyne.
 iv And Jechonye, þe sone of Joachym, king of Juda, and al þe transmygracioun of Juda, þat wenten in to Babiloyne, Y shal turne to þis place, seiþ þe Lord; I shal to-trede forsoþe þe ȝoc of þe king of Babiloyne.
 v And Jeremye, þe profete, seide to Ananye, þe profete, in þe eȝen of prestus, and in þe eȝen of al þe puple þat stoden in þe hous of þe Lord.
 vi And Jeremie, þe profete, seiþ to Ananye, Amen! þus do þe Lord; rere þe Lord þi wrdus þat þou haſt profecied, þat broȝt aȝeen be þe vessellis in þe hous of þe Lord, and al þe transmygracioun fro Babiloyne, to þis place.
 vii Nerbelatere here þou þis wrd, þat Y speke in þin eres, and in þe eres of al þe puple.
 viii Profetus þat weren bifor me, and bifor þee, fro þe bigynnyng, and profecieden vp on manye londus, and vp on manye rewmes, of bataile, and of tormenting, and of hunger.
 ix þe profete þat profeciede pes, whan shal comen his wrd, shal be wist a profete whom sente þe Lord in treueþ.
 x And Ananye, þe profete, toc þe cheyne of þe necke of Jeremye, profete, and brac it.
 xi And Ananye, þe profete, seiþ in þe ſiȝte of al þe puple, seiende, ȝese þingus seiþ þe Lord, þus Y shal to-broke þe ȝoc of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, after two ȝeris of dæs, fro þe necke of alle Jentilis. And Jeremye, þe profete, wente awai in to his weye.
 xii And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, aftir þat Ananye, þe profete, brac þe cheyne fro þe necke of Jeremye, seiende, xiii Go, and fey to Ananye, ȝese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Treene cheynes þou haſt to-broke, and þou shalt make for þem irene cheynes.
 xiv For ȝese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostis, God of Israel, An irene ȝoc Y haue fet vp on þe necke of alle þese Jentilis, þat þei serue to Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, and þei shul seruen to hym; ferþermor and þe bestus of erþe Y ȝaf to hym.

- xv And Jeremye, þe profete, feide to Ananye, þe profete, Here þou, Ananye; þe Lord sente not þee, and þou madist þis puple to troste in lesing.
- xvi Perfore þe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! I shal browen out þee fro þe face of þe erþe; þis ȝer þou shalt die, forsoþe aȝen þe Lord þou speeke.
- xvii And dead is Ananye, þe profete, in þat ȝer þe seuenþe moneþ.

Capitulum XXIX.

- i And þese ben þe wrdus of þe boc, þat sente Jeremye, þe profete, fro Jerusalem to þe remnaunt of þe elderes of þe transmygracioun, and to þe prestus, and to þe profetes, and to al þe puple, whom ouerlad hadde Nabugodonosor fro Jerusalem in to Babiloyne,
- ii after þat wente out Jechonye, þe king, and þe lady, and þe geldingus, and þe princes of Juda, out of Jerusalem, and þe smyb, and þe iueler fro Jerusalem,
- iii in þe hond of Elaafa, sone of Safan, and of Gamaliel, sone of Elchie, whom sent Sedechie, king of Juda, to Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, in to Babiloyne, feiende,
- iv Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, to al þe transmygracyoun, þat Y translatede fro Jerusalem in to Babiloyne,
- v Bildeþ vp houſes, and dwelleþ, and plaunteþ gardynes, and eteþ þe frute of hem;
- vi takeþ wyues, and geteþ sonus and doȝtris, and ȝyueþ to ȝoure sonus wyues, and ȝoure doȝtris ȝyueþ to men, and bere þei sonus and doȝtris; and 'be ȝee multeplied þere, and wileþ not be fewe in noumbre.
- vii And fecheþ þe pes of þe cyte, to þe whiche Y made ȝow gon ouer; and preȝeþ for it þe Lord, for in his pes shal be pes to ȝou.
- viii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Bigile not ȝou ȝoure profetus, þat ben in þe myddel of ȝou, and ȝoure dyuynours; and ne takeþ heed to ȝoure fweuenes, þat ȝee fweuenen;
- ix for þei fallsy profecien to ȝou in my name, and Y sente þem not, seiþ þe Lord.
- x For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Whan schal bigynne to be fulfilid in Babiloyne feuenti ȝeer, Y shal visite ȝou, and reren vp ȝou my good wrd, and bringe ȝou aȝeen to þis place.
- xi I forsoþe wot þe þoȝtus þat Y þenke vp on ȝou, seiþ þe Lord, þoȝtus of pes, and not of tormenting, þat Y ȝyue to ȝou ende and pacience.
- xii And ȝee shul inwardly 'clepe me, and gon, and honoure me, and Y shall ful out here ȝou;
- xiii ȝee shul feche me, and finden, whan ȝee han foȝt me in al ȝoure herte.
- xiv And Y shal be founde of ȝou, seiþ þe Lord, and Y shall bringe aȝeen ȝoure caitifte, and gedere ȝou fro alle Jentiles, and fro alle places, to whiche I putte ȝou out, seiþ þe Lord; and to turne aȝeen I shal make ȝou fro þe place, to whiche Y made ȝou to gon ouer.

xv For ȝee seiden, Reren shal to vs þe Lord profetus in Babiloyne.

xvi For þese þingys seiþ þe Lord to þe king, þat sit vp on þe see of Dauid, and to al þe puple, dwellere of þis cyte, to ȝoure breþern, þat ben not gon out wiþ ȝou in to transmygracioun, xvii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, Lo! Y shal fende in hem swerd, and hunger, and pestilence; and putten hem as þe euel figus, þat moun not ben ete, for þi þat þey ben werst.

xviii And Y shal purfue þem in swerd, and in hunger, and in pestilence; and Y shal ȝyue þem in to wery trauailing to alle rewmes of erþe, in to cursing, and in to stoneyng, and in to whistling, and in to repref to alle Jentilis, to whiche I caste hem out.

xix For þi þat þey herden not my wrdys, seiþ þe Lord, whiche Y sente to þem by my seruauns, profetes, fro nyȝt risende, and fendende, and ȝee herden not, seiþ þe Lord.

xx ȝee perfore hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, al transmygracioun, þat Y sente out fro Jerusalem in to Babiloyne.

xxi Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostys, God of Israel, to Achab, sone of Cholie, and to Sedechie, sone of Maasie, þat profesien to ȝou in my name lesinge, Lo! Y shal taken hem in þe hond of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, and he shal smyte þem in ȝoure eȝen.

xxii And þer shul ben taken of þem cursing to al þe transmygracioun of Jude, þat is in Babiloyne, of men feiende, Putte þee þe Lord as Sedechie, and as Achab, whom friede þe king of Babiloyne in fyr, xxiii for þi þat þei diden folie in Israel, and diden auoutre in to þe wyues of þer frendus; and speeken wrd in my name liendely, þat Y comaundide not to þem; I am domesman and witnesse, seiþ þe Lord.

xxiv And to Semeiam Neelamytem þou shalt seyn, xxv Þese þyngus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, For þi þat þou sentest bokes in my name to al þe puple þat is in Jerusalem, and to Sofonye, sone of Maasie, prest, and to alle þe prestus, feiende, xxvi Þe Lord 'ȝaf þee prest for Joiade, prest, þat þou be a duke in þe hous of þe Lord vp on eche man caȝt wiþ wodnesse, and profeciende, þat þou fende hym in to þe stockus, and in to prisoun.

xxvii And now whi blamest þou not Jeremye of Anatoth, þat profecyeþ to ȝou?

xxviii For vpon þis he sente to vs in to Babiloyne, feiende, Longe it is; bildeþ out houſes, and dwelleþ, and plaunteþ gardynes, and eteþ þe frute of þem.

xxix Radde þanne Sofonye, þe prest, þis boc in þe eres of Jeremye, þe profete.

xxx And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, feiende, xxxi Sendeþ to al þe transmygracyoun, feiende, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord to Semeie Neelamyte, For þi þat profeciede to ȝou Semeie, and Y sente hym not, and made ȝou to trosten in leſing; xxxii þerfore þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y ſhal viſite vp on Semeie Neelamye, and vp on his fed; þer ſhal not be to hym a man ſittende in þe myddel of þis puple; and he ſhal not ſeen þe good, þat Y ſhal do to my puple, seiþ þe Lord, for lawe breking he ſpac aȝen þe Lord.

Capitulum XXX.

- i This is þe wrd, þat is don to Jeremye fro þe Lord, ſeiende, ii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Irael, ſeiende, Writ to þee alle þese wrdus þat Y ſpac to þee, in þe boc.
iii Loo! forſoþe dȝes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and Y ſhal turne þe conuerting of my puple of Irael and of Juda, seiþ þe Lord; and Y ſhal turne þem to þe lond þat Y ȝaf to þe fadris of þem, and þei ſhul welde it.
iv And þese þe wrdus, þat þe Lord ſpac to Irael, and to Juda.
v For þes þingus seiþ þe Lord, Voys of huge drede wee han herd; ferd, and þer ys not pes.
vi Afkeþ, and ſeeþ, if þe male geteþ; whi þanne faȝ Y of eche man þe hond vpon his leende, as of þe trauailende wiþ childe, and turned ben alle þer faces in to ȝelȝ?
vii Wo! for gret þat day, ne þer is his lyc; and tyme of tribulacioun is to Jacob, and of it he ſhal ben faued.
viii And it ſhal be, in þat dai, seiþ þe Lord of oſtus, Y ſhal to-broſe his ȝoc fro þi necke, and his bondus Y ſhal tobreke; and no mor ſhul lordshipen to hym alienus, ix but 'þei ſhul ferue to þe Lord, þer God, and to Dauid, þer king, whom Y ſhal rere to þem.
x Pou þerfore ne drede þou, my ſeraunt Jacob, seiþ þe Lord, ne inwardly drede þou, Israel; for lo! Y ſhal faue þee fro a ferr lond, and þi ſeed fro þe lond of þe caitife of þem. And turned ſhal ben aȝeen Jacob, and reſten, and wiþ alle goodus floweren; and þer ſhal not be whom he ſhal dreden.
xi For Y wiþ þee am, seiþ þe Lord, þat Y faue þee. Forſoþe Y ſhal don ful ending in alle Jentiles, in which Y ſcaterede þee; þee forſoþe Y ſchal not make in to ful ending, but Y ſhal chaſtife þee in dom, þat þou be not ſeen to þee gilteles.
xii For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Vnheleable þi broſure, werſt þi wounde.
xiii þer is not, þat deme þi dom to bynde to; of curingus ys not profit to þee.
xiv Alle þi loueres forȝeeten þee, þee ſhul not ſechen; wiþ þe wounde forſoþe of þe enemy Y ſmot þee, by cruel chaſtising; for þe multitude of þi wyckenesse, hard ben mad þi synnes.

- xv What criest þou vp on þi to-treding? vnheleable is þi forewe; for þe multitude of þi wickidnesse, and for þin harde synnes, Y dide þese þingus to þee.
xvi þerfore alle þat eten þee, ſhul ben deououred, and alle þin enemyes in to caftyte ſhul be lad; and þat þee waſten, ſhuln ben waſted, and alle þi robberes Y ſhal ȝyue in to prei.
xvii Forſoþe Y ſhal helen parfitly þi felle wounde to þee, and of þi woundus Y ſhal hele þee, seiþ þe Lord; for caſt awei þei clepeden þee, Sion; þis is the þat hadde not aȝeen ferchere.
xviii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! I ſhal conuerte þe conuerting of þe tabernacles of Jacob, and to his rooues Y ſhal han mercy; and bild vp ſhal be þe cite in his heiȝte, and þe temple after his order ſhal be foundid.
xix And gon out ſhal preiſing of hem and vois of pleieres, and Y ſhal multeplie þem, and þei ſhul not ben laſſid; and Y ſhal glorifie þem, and þei ſhuln not be þynned.
xx And þe ſonus 'of it ſhul ben as fro þe bygynnyng, and þe cumpanye 'of it before me ſhal abide ſtille; and I ſhal viſete aȝen alle þat troblen hym.
xxi And þer ſhal ben his duke of hym, and a prince from his myddel ſhal be broȝt forþ; and Y ſhal preſenten hym, and he ſhal neȝhe to me; who forſoþe is þis, þat 'leye to his herte, þat he neȝhe to me? seiþ þe Lord.
xxii And ȝee ſhul be to me in to puple, and Y ſhal be to ȝou in to God.
xxiii Lo! in Jentilis þe whirlewind of þe Lord, wodenſ goende out, tempeſt fallende, in þe hed of vnpitouſ men þei ſhul alle togidere reſten.
xxiv Shal not turne awei þe wraþe of indignacioun þe Lord, to þe tyme he do, and fulſille þe þenking of his herte; in þe laſte of dȝes ȝee ſhul vndurſtonden þoe þynges.

Capitulum XXXI.

- i In þat tyme, seiþ þe Lord, I ſhal be God to alle þe kinredus of Irael; and þei ſhul be to me in to puple.
ii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Founde grace in defert þe puple þat laſte fro ſwerd; go ſhal to his reſte Israel.
iii Aferr þe Lord aperede to me, and in euere laſtende charite Y louede þee; þerfore Y rewende droȝ þee.
iv And eft Y ſhal bilden vp þee, and bild vp ſhal þou be, maiden Israel; ȝit þou ſhalt ben enourned wiþ þi tymbris, and þou ſhalt gon out in þe daunce of pleieres.
v And ȝit þou ſhalt plaunte vynes in þe mount of Samarie; plaunte ſhul plaunteres, and for to tyme come þei ſhul not pulle grapes.
vi For þe dai ſhal ben, in whiche crien ſhul keperes in þe mount of Samarie, and in þe mount of Effraym, Riseþ, and steye wee vp in to Sion, to þe Lord oure God.

vii For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Ful out ioȝeb in gladnesse of Jacob, and neyȝeb aȝen þe heued of Jentilis; parfitly sowneþ, and singeþ, and seiþ, Saf, Lord, þi puple, þe remnauntis of Israel.

viii Lo! Y shal bringe þem fro þe lond of þe norþ, and gedere þem fro þe vtmostus of erþe; among whom shal be þe blinde, and þe lame, and þe womman wiþ childe, and þe traualende wiþ childe togidere, a gret cumpayne of men turnende aȝeen hider.

ix In weeping þei shul come, and in mercy Y shal bringe þem aȝeen; and Y shal lede þem bi stef stremes of watriis in a riȝt weie, þei shul not stumble in it; for Y am mad to Israel a fader, and Effraym my first gotten is.

x Hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, ȝee Jentiles, and telleþ in ilis þat ben aferr, and seiþ, Who scaterede Israel, shal gaderen hym, and kepen hym, as a shepperde his floc.

xi Forsoþe þe Lord boȝte aȝeen Jacob, and delyuerede hym fro þe hond of þe myȝtiere.

xii And þei shul come, and preisen in þe mount of Sion; and togidere flowen to þe goodus of þe Lord, vp on whete, wyn, and oile, and frut of bestes, and of droues; and þe soule of þem shal be as a watri gardyn, and no more þei shul hungre.

xiii ȝanne gladen shal þe maiden in þe daunce, ȝunge men and maidenus togidere; and Y shal turne þer weiling in to ioȝe, and couumforte þem, and gladen fro þer forewe.

xiv And Y shal inwardly drunkne þe soule of þe prestus wiþ fatnesse, and my puple wiþ my goodus shal be fulfyld, seiþ þe Lord.

xv Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Vois in heiȝte is herd of lamentacioun, and weeping, and weiling, of Rachel wepende hir sonus, and not willende to be couumfortid vp on hem, for þei ben not.

xvi Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Reste þi vois fro weeping, and þin eȝen fro teres; for þer is meede to þi werc, seiþ þe Lord; and þei shul be turned aȝeen fro þe lond of þe enemy.

xvii And þer is hope in þi laste, seiþ þe Lord, and ben turned aȝeen shul þe sonus to þer termes.

xviii Herende Y herde Effraym ouergoende; þou chaftisedit me, and Y am lerned as a ȝungling vntamed; conuerte me, and Y schal be conuertid, for þou Lord my God.

xix After forsoþe þat þou haddest conuertid me, Y dide penaunce; and after þat þou haddest shewid to me, Y smot my hipe; I am confoundid, and Y shamede, for Y suffredre þe prefref of my ȝunge waxen age.

xx If a wrhypful sone to me Effraym, if a child deliciat; for siben Y spac of hym, ȝit Y shal recorden of hym; þerfore ben disturbid my bowelis upon hym, rewende Y shal han mercy of hym, seiþ þe Lord.

xxi Ordeyne to þee a toting place, sett to þee bitternesse; riȝt reule þin herte in to an euene weie, in whiche þou haſt go; turne aȝeen, þou maide Israel, turne aȝeen to þese þi cites.

xxii Hou longe wiþ delices `ſhalt þou be loofid atwynne, þou doȝter vaguant? for shapen haþ þe Lord newe þing vp on erþe, þe womman shal go abouten þe man.

xxiii Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostis, God of Israel, ȝit þei shul sey þis wrd in þe lond of Juda, and in his cheef cites, whan Y shal conuerte þe caitife of hem, Bleſſeþ to þee þe Lord, þe fayrnesse, of riȝtwisnesse þe hoeli mount.

xxiv And dwelle shul in it Juda, and alle his cites, togidere erþe tilieres, and men dryuende flockes.

xxv For Y haue mad drunke þe weri soule, and eche hungrende soule Y haue fulſild.

xxvi Perfore as fro ſlep I am rered, and ſaȝ; and my ſlep ſweete is to me.

xxvii Lo! dȝes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and Y shal ſowen þe hous of Israel and þe hous of Juda wiþ þe fed of men, and wiþ þe fed of beſtus.

xxviii And as Y woc vp on hem, þat Y ſchulde pullen out, and destroȝen, and waſten, and ſcateren, and tormenten; fo Y ſhal waken vp on hem, þat Y bilde vp, and plaunte, seiþ þe Lord.

xxix In þo dȝes men shul feyn no more, Fadris eeten þe ſoure grape, and þe teeþ of þe ſonus ſtoneȝeden;

xxx but eche in his wickenesse shal die, eche man þat shal ete þe ſoure grape, shul ſtoneȝe þe teeþ of hym.

xxxi Lo! dȝes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and Y shal ſmyte to þe hous of Israel, and to þe hous of Juda newe pes couenaunt;

xxxii not after þe couenaunt þat Y couenaunteð wiþ ȝoure fadris, in þe day þat Y toc þe hond of hem, þat Y shulde bringe þem out fro þe lond of Egipt, couenaunt þat þei maden voide; and Y lordſhepede of hem, seiþ þe Lord.

xxxiii But þis shal be þe couenaunt, þat Y shal ſmyte wiþ þe hous of Israel after þo dȝes, seiþ þe Lord; Y shal ȝyue my lawe in þe boweles of hem, and in þe herte of hem Y shal write it, and Y shal be to þem in to God, and þei shal be to me in to a puple.

xxxiv And techen shul no more þe man his neȝhebore, and þe man his broþer, ſeide, Knowe þou þe Lord; alle forsoþe shul knowe me, fro þe leſte vnto þe moſte, seiþ þe Lord; for Y shal han mercy to þe wickenes of þem, and of þe synne of hem Y shal no mor be myndeful.

xxxv Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, þat ȝyueþ þe funne in þe liȝt of þe dai, ordre of þe moone and of þe sterres in liȝt of þe nyȝt, þat diſturbet þe ſe, and his flodis ſownen, þe Lord of ostus name to hym.

xxxvi If failen shuln þeſe lawes bifor me, seiþ þe Lord, þanne and þe fed of Israel shal faile, þat þer be not folc bifor me alle dȝes.

xxxvii Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Yf `heuenus shul moun be meſured fro aboue, and be ferched þe foundemens of þe erþe byneþe, and Y shal casten awei al þe sed of Israel, for alle þingus þat bei diden, seiþ þe Lord.

xxxviii Lo! dæzes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and bild vp shal be a cyte to þe Lord fro þe tour of Ananeel vn to þe ȝate of þe corner.

xxix And it shal gon out ouer þe reule of þe mesure, in his ȝiȝte, vp on þe hyl of Gared, and it shal gon aboute Goacha, xl and al þe valei of careynus, and þe askes, and al þe regioun of deþ, vnto þe stef strem of Cedron, and vnto þe corner of þe eft ȝate of hors; þe hoeli of þe Lord shal not be pullid vp, and no mor be destroȝed in to euermore.

Capitulum XXXII.

i The wrd þat is don to Jeremye fro þe Lord, in þe tenþe ȝer of Sedechie, king of Juda; it is þe eiȝteteneþ ȝer of Nabugodonosor.

ii Panne þe ost of þe king of Babiloyne besegede Jerusalerm; and Jeremye, þe profete, was clofid in þe porche of þe prisoun, þat was in þe hous of þe king of Juda.

iii Closed hadde forsoþe hym Sedechy, king of Juda, seiende, Whi profeciest þou, seiende, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y shal ȝyuen þis cite in to þe hond of þe king of Babiloyne, and he shal taken it;

iv and Sedechie, king of Juda, shal not scape fro þe hond of Caldeis, but he shal be taken in þe hond of þe king of Babiloyne; and speken shal his mouȝ wiþ þe mouȝ of hym, and his eȝen be eȝen of hym shul seen; v and in to Babiloyne he shal lede Sedechie, and þere he shal be, to þe tym Y visite hym, seiþ þe Lord; yf forsoþe ȝee shul ȝiȝte aȝen þe Caldeis, no þing welsum ȝee shuln han?

vi And Jeremye seide, Don is þe wrd of þe Lord to me, seiende, vii Lo! Ananeel, þe sone of Sellum, þin `emys sone, shal come to bee, seiende, Bye to bee my feld, þat is in Anathoth; to bee forsoþe falleþ of nyȝ kinrede, þat þou bie it.

viii And cam to me Ananeel, þe sone of myn em, after þe wrd of þe Lord, to þe porche of þe prisoun, and he seiþ to me, Weld my feld, þat is in Anatot, in þe lond of Beniamyn; for to bee falliþ þe eritage, and þou art þe neer kin, þat þou welde. Y vnderstood forsoþe, þat it was þe wrd of þe Lord.

ix And Y boȝte þe feld of Ananeel, þe sone of myn em, þat is in Anatot. And Y peisede to hym siluer, seuene halue ounces, and ten siluerne platys; x and wrot in þe poc, and selede, and toc witnisses.

xi And Y peisede seluer in a balaunce; and Y toc þe poc of þe possessioun felid, and þe beheftus to þe askingus, and þe fermed þingus, and þe tocnes wiþoute forþ.

xii And Y ȝaf þe poc of þe possessioun to Baruch, þe sone of Nery, sone of Maasie, in þe eȝen of Ananeel, myn `emys sone, and in þe eȝen of wytnesses þat weren writen in þe poc of þe biyng, in þe eȝen of alle Jewis, þat feeten in þe porche of þe prisoun.

xiii And Y comaundide to Baruch befor þem, seiende, xiv Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostis, God of Israel, Tac þese bokis, þis seled poc of biyng, and þis poc þat is opened, and put þem in a britel vessel, þat abide stille þei moun manye dæzes.

xv Þese þingus forsoþe seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, ȝit weldid shul be houses, and feldus, and vyneȝerdis, in þis lond.

xvi And Y preȝede to þe Lord, aftir þat Y hadde take þe poc of possessioun to Baruch, þe sone of Neery, seiende, xvii Allas! allas! allas! Lord God, lo! þou madest heuene and erþe in þi grete strengþe, and in þi straȝt out arm; shal not be to bee hard eche wrd;

xviii þat doft mercy in þousendus, and ȝeldist wickenesse of faders in to þe bosum of þe sonus aftir hem. O! þou most strong, gret, `and myȝty, Lord of ostus name to bee;

xix gret in counseil, and incomprehensible in þenking, whos eȝen ben opened vp on alle þe weies of þe sonus of Adam, þat þou ȝelde to eche after his weies, and after þe frute of his fyndingus;

xx þat settedest tocnas and wndres in þe lond of Egipt, vn to þis dai, and in Israel and in men; and þou madist to bee a name, as is þis day.

xxi And þou laddest out þi puple Israel fro þe lond of Egipt, in tocnas and in wndris, and in stalwrþe hond, and in straȝt ȝoute arme, and in gret ferd;

xxii and ȝeue to þem þis lond, þat þou swore to þer faders, þat þou shuldist ȝyue to þem, þe lond flowende mylc and hony.

xxiii And þei wenten in, and weldeden it; and obesheden not to þi vois, and in þi lawe ȝiden not; alle þingus þat þou comaundedest to þem, þat þey shulde do, þei diden not; and þer camen to þem alle þe eueles.

xxiv Lo! strengþingus ben mad out aȝen þis cite, þat it be take, and þe cyte is ȝouen in to þe hondus of Caldeis, and in to þe hondus of þe king of Babiloyne, þat ȝiȝten aȝen it, fro þe face of þe fwerd, and of hunger, and of pestilence; and what euere þingus þou speeke, þei fallen, as þiself biholdist.

xxv And þou seidist to me, Lord God, Bie þou þe feed wiþ syluer, and tac witnisses, whan þe cheef cite is ȝouen in þe hond of Caldeis.

xxvi And don ys þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, seiende, xxvii Lo! Y þe Lord God of alle flesh. Wheþer to mee hard shal ben eche wrd?

xxviii Perfore þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y shal take þis cite in to þe hondus of Caldeis, and in þe hond of þe king of Babiloyne, and þey shul taken it.

xxix And come shul Caldeis ȝiȝtende aȝen þis cite, and þei shul teende it vp wiþ fyr, and brenne it, and þe houses, in whos rooues þei sacrificeden to Baal, and offreden to alien godis sacrificises of licoures, to terre me.

xxx Weren forþoþe þe sonus of Israel and þe sonus of Juda contynueli doende euel in myn eȝen, fro þer waxe ȝouþe, þe sonus of Israel þat vnto now sharpeden out me in þe werkes of þer hondus, seiþ þe Lord.

xxxi For in wodnes and in myn indignacioun mad is to me þis cyte, fro þe dai þat þei bilden it vp, 'in to þis day, 'in whiche it shal be don awei fro my siȝt;
xxxii for þe malice of þe sonus of Israel, and of þe sonus of Juda, þat þei diden, to wraþe me terrende, þei, and þer kingus, þer princes, and prestes, and þer profetus, men of Juda, and dwelleris of Jerusalēm.

xxxiii And þei turneden to me backes, and not faces, whan Y shulde teche þem þe morutid, and lernen; and þei wolden not heren, þat þei shulden take disciplyne.
xxxiv And þei setteden þer mawmetes 'in to þe hous, in whiche is inwardly clepid my name, þat þei schulden defoule it.

xxxv And þei bilden vp heȝe þingus of Baal, þat ben in þe valey of þe sone of Ennon, þat þei sacrificie þer sonus and þer doȝtris to Moloch, þat Y comaundide not to þem, ne fteȝede vp in to myn herte, þat þei shulde do bis abhominacioun, and in to synne bringe doun Judam.

xxxvi And now for þese þingus, seiþ þe Lord God of Israel to þis cite, of whiche ȝee seyn, þat it be taken in to þer hondus of þe king of Babiloyne in fwerd, and in hunger, and in pestilence, xxxvii Lo! Y shal gedere þem fro alle londus, to whiche Y caste þem out in my wodnesse, and in my wraþe, and in my great indignacioun; and Y shal bringe hem aȝeen to þis place, and to wonen hem Y shal make trostily.

xxxviii And þei shul be to me in to puple, and Y shal be to þem in to God.

xxxix And Y shal ȝyue to hem oen herte and o soule, þat þei drede me alle daȝes, and wel be to þem, and to þer sonus after hem.

xli And Y shal smyte wiþ þem couenaunt euere durende, and Y shal not cese to wel do to þem, and my drede Y shal ȝyue in þer herte, þat þei go not awei fro me.

xlii And Y shal gladen up on hem, whan wel to þem I shal do; and Y shal plaunte hem in þis lond in treuþe, in myn herte, and in al my soule.

xliii For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, As Y haue broȝt in to þis puple al þis grete euel, so Y shal bringe to vp on hem al þe good, þat Y shal speke to þem.

xliii And weldid shul be feldus in þis lond, of whiche ȝee seyn, þat desert it is, for bi þat þer shal not leuen a man and beste; and ȝouen is in to þe hondus of Caldeis.

xliiiii Feldus wiþ monee shal be boȝt, and writen in poc, and prented in shal be þe sel; and witnesseß shul be take to, in þe lond of Beniamyn, and in þe cumpas of Jerusalēm, and in þe cites of Juda, and in þe mountewous cites, and in þe feldi cites, and in þe cites þat at þe souþ ben; for Y shal turne þe caitifte of hem, seiþ þe Lord.

Capitulum XXXIII.

i And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, þe secounde tyme, whan ȝit he was closid in þe porche of þe prisoun, seiende, ii Peſe þingys seiþ þe Lord, þat is to make and to foorme it, and to greiþe, Lord þe name of hym;

iii Crie to me, and Y shal ful out here þee, and Y shal telle to þee grete þingus, and faste, þat þou wost not.

ivii For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Israel to þe houses of þis cite, and to þe houses of þe king of Juda, þat ben destroȝed, and to þe strengþingus, and to þe fwerd of men comende, v þat þei fiȝte wiþ þe Caldeis, and fulfille hem wiþ þe careynes of men, þe whiche Y smot in my wodnesse, and in myn indignacioun; and Y hidde my face fro þis cite, for alle þe malice of hem.

vi Lo! 'Y shal close aȝeen to þem þe wounde and helþe, and helen hem; and Y shal opene to þem þe lowely preȝyng of pes, and of treuþe;

vii and turne þe turnyng of Juda, and turne þe turnyng of Jerusalēm, and Y shal bilde vp hem, as fro þe bigynnyng.

viii And Y shal clense out hem fro þer wickednesse, in whiche þei synneden to me, and mercifull Y shal be to alle þe wickenesses of hem, in whiche þei 'trespasiden to me, and dispisiden me.

ix And it shal be to me in to name, and in to ioȝe, and in to preisung, and in to ful out ioȝing, to alle Jentiles of erþe, þat herden alle goodis þat Y am to do to þem; and þei shuln inwardly dreden, and ben disturbid in alle goodus, and in alle pes, þat Y shal do to þem.

x Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, ȝit shal ben herd in þis place, whom ȝee seyn to be desert, for bi þat þer is not a man ne beste in þe cites of Juda, and wiþoute forþ Jerusalēm, þat ben desolat wiþoute man, and wiþoute dwellere, and wiþoute beste, xi vois of ioȝe, and vois of gladnesse, vois of man spouse, and vois of womman spouse, vois of men, seiende, Knoulecheþ to þe Lord of ostus, for good þe Lord, for wiþoute ende his mercy, and of men berende vousis in to þe hous of þe Lord; forþoþe Y shal bringe aȝeen þe turnyng of þe lond, as fro þe bigynnyng, seiþ þe Lord.

xii Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, ȝit shal be in þis desert place, wiþoute man and wiþoute beste, and in alle his cites, a dwelling place of shepperdus, of liggende flockus.

xiii And in þe mountewous cites, and in þe feldi cites, and in þe cites þat at þe souþ ben, and in þe lond of Beniamyn, and in þe cumpas of Jerusalēm, and in þe cites of Juda, ȝit shul passe flockes, at þe hond of þe nounbrere, seiþ þe Lord.

xiii Lo! daȝes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and Y shal rere a good wrd, þat Y spac to þe hous of Israel, and to þe hous of Juda.

xv In þo daȝes, and in þat tyme, to buriowne Y shall make Dauid, a buriownyng of riȝtwisnesse; and he shal do dom and riȝtwisnesse in þe lond.

xvi In þo daȝes shal be faued Juda, and Israel shal dwelle trostili; and þis is þe name þat þey shul clepen hym, þe Lord oure riȝtwis.

xvii For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Dien shal not of Dauid a man, þat sit vp on þe trone of þe hous of Israel; xviii and of þe prestus and Leuytus shal not die a man fro my face, þat offrepþ brent sacrifices, and brenne sacrificise, and fle victorie sacrificise alle daȝes.

xix And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, feiende, xx Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Yf voide mai be mad my couenaunt wiþ dai, and my couenaunt wiþ nyȝt, þat þer be not dai and nyȝt in his tyme;

xxi and my couenaunt voide shal moun be wiþ Dauid, my seruaunt, þat þer be not of hym a sone, þat regne in his trone, and Leuytus, and prestus, my seruauns; xxii as noumbred out moun not be þe sterres of heuene, and mesured þe grauel of þe se, so Y shal multeplie þe sed of Dauid, my seruaunt, and Leuytus, my seruaunys.

xxiii And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, xxiv Wheþer pou haue not seen, þat þis puple spac, seyende, Two kinredus þat þe Lord hadde chose, ben caſt awei, and my puple þei dispileden, for þi þat þer is no more a folc of kinde biforn hem.

xxv Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, If my couenaunt betwe dai and nyȝt, and lawes to heuene and erþe Y sette not; xxvi forſoþe and þe sed of Jacob and of Dauid, my seruaunt, Y shal þrowe aferr, þat Y take not of his sed princes, of þe sed of Abraham, Iſaac, and of Jacob; I shal bringe forſoþe aȝeen þe turnyng of hem, and han mercy to þem.

Capitulum XXXIII.

i The wrd þat is don to Jeremye of þe Lord, whan Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, and al his oft, and alle reumus of þe erþe, þat weren vnder þe power of þe hond of hym, and alle puples foȝten aȝen Jerusalem, and aȝen alle his cites, feiende, ii Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Israel, Go, and spec to Sedechie, king of Juda; and þou shalt sey to hym, Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y shal take his cyte in þe hond of þe king of Babiloyne, and he shal brenne it vp wiþ fyr.

iii And þou shalt not scape fro his hond, but wiþ taking þou shalt be take, and in his hond þou shalt be take; and þin eȝen þe eȝen of þe king of Babiloyne shuln see, and his mouþ wiþ þi mouþ shal speke, and Babiloyne þou shalt go in.

iv Nerbelatere here þe wrd of þe Lord, þou, Sedechie, king of Juda, Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord to þee, v þou shalt not die in fwerd, but in pes þou shalt die, and aftir þe brennyngus of þi fadris raþere kingus þat weren bifor þee, so þei shal brenne togidere þee, and wiþ Wo! lord, þei shul weile þee; for þe wrd Y spac, seiþ þe Lord.

vi And Jeremye, þe profete, spac to Sedechie, king of Juda, alle þeſe wrdus in Jerufalem.

vii And þe oft of þe king of Babiloyne faȝt aȝen Jerufalem, and aȝen alle þe cites of Jude, þat weren laft; aȝen Lachis, and aȝen Azecha; þeſe forſoþe laften ouer of þe cites of Jude strengþid cites.

viii þe wrd þat is don to Jeremye fro þe Lord, aftir þat king Sedechie smot pes couenaunt wiþ al þe puple in Jerufalem, ix prechende þat eche shulde leuen his þral, and eche his þral womman, Ebru man and Ebru womman free, and not lordshipen to þem, þat is, in Jew, and in his broþer.

x Herden þerfore alle þe princes and al þe puple, þat wenten in couenaunt, þat þei shulden leue eche his þral, and eche his þral womman free, and no more þei shulden lordshipen to þem; herden þanne þei, and laftan;

xi and ben turned þeraſtir, and drowen aȝeen þrallis, and þer þralleſſis, þat þei hadden laft free, and vnderȝokeden in to seruauns, and in to wymmen seruauns.

xii And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye fro þe Lord, feiende, xiii Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Israel, I smot pes couenaunt wiþ ȝoure fadris, in þe dai þat Y ladde þem out fro þe lond of Egipt, fro þe hous of þraldam, feiende, xiv Whan shul be fulſild feuene ȝer, lefe eche his Ebru broþer, þat is fold to hym, and he shal ferue to hym ſixe ȝer, and þou shalt lefe hym fro þee free; and herden not ȝoure fadris me, ne boweden in þer ere.

xv And ȝee ben turned to day, and diden þat is riȝt in myne eȝen, þat ȝee shulden preche eche fredam to his frend, and wenten in couenaunt in my ſiȝt, in þe hous in whiche is inwardly clepid my name vp on it.

xvi And ȝee ben turned aȝeen, and defouleden my name, and ȝee han broȝt aȝeen eche his þral, and eche his þralleſſe, þe whiche ȝee hadden laft, þat þei were free, and of þer power; and ȝee han vnderȝokid hem, þat þei ben to ȝou þralles and þralleſſes.

xvii þerfore þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, ȝee han not herd me, þat ȝee shulden preche freedam, eche to his broþer, and eche to his frend; lo! Y preche to ȝou freedam, seiþ þe Lord, and to fwerd and to hunger and to pestilence I shal ȝyue ȝou, in to quauyng to alle rewmuſ of erþe.

xviii And Y shal ȝyue þe men, þat breeke my pes couenaunt, and kepten not þe wrdus of þe pes couenaunt, to whiche þei ben assentid in my fīȝt, a calf þat þei to heewen in to two parties; xix and paffen den bitwen his deuyseouns þe princes of Juda, and þe princes of Jerusalem, and geldingus, and prestus, and al þe puple of þe lond, þat paffen bitwene þe deuyseouns of þe calf; xx and Y shal ȝyue þem in to þe hond of þer enemys, and in to þe hond of men sechende þer lif; and shal ben þe deþ smyting of hem in to mete to þe foulis of heuene, and to þe bestus of erþe.
 xxi And Sedechie, king of Juda, and his princes Y shal ȝyue in to þe hond of þer enemys, and in to þe hond of men sechende þer lif, and in to þe hond of þe ostus of þe king of Babiloyne, þat wenten awei fro ȝou.
 xxii Lo! Y comaunde, seiþ þe Lord, and Y shal bringe þem aȝeen to þis cite; and þei shul fīȝten aȝen it, and taken it, and brenne it vp wiþ fyr; and þe cites of Juda Y shal ȝyue in to wildernesſe, for þi þat þer is not a dweller.

Capitulum XXXV.

i The wrd þat is don to Jeremye fro þe Lord, in þe dæs of Joachym, sone of Josie, king of Juda, seiende, ii Go to þe hous of Rechabitus, and spe to þem; and þou shalt bringe þem in to þe hous of þe Lord, in to o pryue chaumbre of þe tresores, and þou shalt ȝyue þem to drinke wyn.
 iii And Y toc Jeconye, sone of Jeremye, sone of Abfenye, and his breþern, and alle his sonus, and al þe hous of Rechabit.
 iv And I broȝte þem in to þe hous of þe Lord, to þe tresorie hous of þe sonus of Eman, sone of Jezedelie, man of God; þat was biside þe tresorie hous of þe princes, vp on þe tresor of Maafie, sone of Sellum, þat was kepere of þe vestiarie.
 v And Y sette bifor þe sonus of þe hous of Recabit cuppis ful of wyn, and chalices; and Y seide to þem, Drinkeþ wyn.
 vi Pe whiche answerden, Wee shul not drinke wyn; for Jonadab, þe sone of Rechab, oure fader, comaundide to vs, seiende, ȝee shul not drinke wyn, ȝee and ȝoure sonus, in to euermor;
 vii and hous ȝee shul not bilde, and sed ȝee shul not sowe, and vyne ȝee shul not plaunte, ne han, but in tabernacles ȝee shul dwelle alle ȝoure dæs, þat ȝee lyue manye dæs vp on þe face of þe lond, in whiche ȝee pilgramagen.
 viii Wee han obeshid þerfore to þe vois of Jonadab, sone of Rechab, oure fader, in alle þingus þat he comaundide to vs; so þat wee drunke not wyn alle ȝoure dæs, and wee, and oure wyues, sonus, and oure doȝtris;

ix and wee bilde not vp houses to dwelle, and vyne, and feld, and sed wee hadde not;
 x but we dwelleden in tabernacles, and obeisaunt wee weren, after alle þingus þat comaundede to vs Jonadab, oure fader.
 xi Whan forsoþe shulde stēȝen vp Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, to oure lond, wee feiden, Comeþ, and go wee in to Jerusalem, fro þe face of þe ost of Caldeis, and fro þe face of þe ost of Cirie; and we dwelten in Jerusalem.
 xii And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, seiende, xiii Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Go, and sei to þe men of Juda, and to þe dwelleres of Jerusalem, Wheþer ȝee shul not take disciplyne, þat ȝee obeshe to my wrdus, seiþ þe Lord?
 xiv Hadden þe maistrie þe wrdus of Jonadab, sone of Recab, whiche he comaundide to his sonus, þat þei shulde not drinke wyn; and þei drunke not, vnto þis dai; for þei obesheden to þe heste of þer fader; lo!
 forsoþe Y spac to ȝou, fro erly risende, and spekende, and ȝee obesheden not to me.
 xv And Y sente to ȝou alle my seruauns profetis, Y risende erly, and sendende, and seiende, Beþ conuertid, eche fro his werft wey, and goode makeþ ȝoure studies, and wileþ not folew alien godis, ne herien hem, and ȝee shul dwelle in þe lond, þat Y ȝaf to ȝou, and to ȝoure fadris; and ȝee boweden not in ȝoure ere, ne herden me.
 xvi Fastneden þerfore þe sonus of Jonadab, sone of Recab, þe heste of þer fader, þat he hadde comaundid to þem; þis puple forsoþe obelhede not to me.
 xvii Perfore þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Lo! Y shal bringe vp on Juda, and vp on alle dwelleres of Jerusalem, al þe tormenting þat Y spac aȝen hem, and þei herden not; I clepede hem, and þei answerden not to me.
 xviii To þe hous forsoþe of Recabit seide Jeremye, Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, For þi þat ȝee obesheden to þe heste of Jonadab, ȝoure fader, and kepten alle his heftus, and diden alle þingus, þat he comaundide to ȝou;
 xix þerfore þeſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Per shal not faile a man of þe stoc of Jonadab, sone of Recab, stondende in my fīȝt alle dæs;

Capitulum XXXVI.

i And don it is, in þe ferþe ȝer of Joachym, sone of Josie, king of Juda, don is þis wrd to Jeremye fro þe Lord, seiende,
 ii Tac þe volum of þe boc, and þou shalt write in it alle þe wrdus, þat Y spac to þee aȝen Israel and Judam, and aȝen alle Jentilis, fro þe day þat Y spac to þee, of þe dæs of Josie vnto þis day.
 iii If par auenture herende þe 'hous of Juda alle þe euelles þat Y þenke to do to þem, ben turned eche fro his werft weie, and mercyful Y shal be to þe wickenesse and to þe synne of þem.

iii Clepede þerfore Jeremye Baruch, þe sone of Nery; and Baruch wrot of þe mouþ of Jeremye alle þe wrdus of þe Lord, þat he spac to hym, in þe volume of þe boc.

v And Jeremye comaundide to Baruch, seiende, I am closid, and mai not gon in to þe hous of þe Lord.

vi Go in þerfore þou, and rede of þe volum, in whiche þou hast write of my mouþ þe wrdus of þe Lord, herende þe puple, in þe hous of þe Lord, in þe dai of fasting; ferþermor and herende al Juda, þat comen fro þer cites, þou shalt rede to þem;

vii if par aventure falle þe orisoun of þem in þe siȝt of þe Lord, and be turned eche fro his werste weie; for grete is þe wodnesse, and þe indignacioun, þat þe Lord spac aȝen þis puple.

viii And Baruch, þe sone of Nery, dide aftyr alle þingus, þat hadde comaundid to hym Jeremye, þe profete; redende of þe volume þe wrdus of þe Lord, in þe hous of þe Lord.

ix Don is forþoþe, in þe fifte ȝer of Joachym, sone of Jofie, king of Juda, in þe nynþe moneþ, þei precheden fasting in þe siȝt of þe Lord, to al þe puple in Jerusalem, and to al þe multitude, þat hadde come togidere fro þe cites of Juda in to Jerusalem.

x And Baruch radde of þe volume þe wrdus of Jeremye, in þe hous of þe Lord, in þe tresorie place of Gamarie, sone of Safan, scribe, in þe ouere vestiarie, in þe entre of þe newe ȝate of þe hous of þe Lord, herende al þe puple.

xi And whan herd had Michie, þe sone of Gamarie, sone of Safan, alle þe fermownus of þe Lord, of þe boc, xii he wente doun in to þe hous of þe king, to þe tresorie place of þe scribe. And lo! alle þe princes feeten þere, Elisama, scribe, and Dalaias, sone of Semye, and Elnathan, sone of Achabor, and Gamarie, sone of Safan, and Sedechie, sone of Ananye, and alle þe princes.

xiii And tolde to þem Mychie alle þe wrdus, þat he herde Baruch redende of þe volume, in þe eres of þe puple.

xiv And so alle þe princes senten to Baruch Judy, sone of Nathatie, sone of Selemye, sone of Cufy, seiende, Þe volume, of þe whiche þou reddest herende þe puple, tac in þin hond, and cum. Toc þanne Baruch, þe sone of Neri, þe volum in his hond, and cam to þem.

xv And þei seiden to hym, Sit, and red þese þingus in oure eres; and Baruch radde in þe eres of hem.

xvi Panne whan þei hadden herd alle þe wrdus, þei stonieden eche to his neȝhebore, and seiden to Baruch, 'Owe wee to telle to þe king alle þese wrdus?

xvii And þei askeden hym, seiende, Shew to vs, hou þou hast write alle þese wrdus of his mouþ.

xviii Baruch forþoþe seide to þem, Of his mouþ he spac, as redende to me, alle þese wrdus; and Y wrot in þe volum wiþ enke.

xix And alle þe princes seiden to Baruch, Go, and be hid, þou and Jeremye; and no man wite wher ȝee be.

xx And þei wenten in to þe king, in to þe porche; but þe volume þei leiden vp in to þe tresorie hous of Elisame, scribe. And þei tolden, herende þe king, alle þe wrdus.

xxi And so þe king sente to Judi, þat he shulde take þe volum. Þe whiche takende it fro þe tresorie place of Elisame, scribe, radde, herende þe king and alle þe princes, þat stoden abouþe þe king.

xxii Þe king forþoþe sat in þe winter hous, in þe nynþe moneþ; and put was þe herþ, 'or chymney, bifor hym ful of colys.

xxiii And whan Judi hadde rad þre litle pagens, or foure, he kutte it wiþ a scraping knyf of þe scribe, and breȝ it in to þe fyr, þat was vpon þe herþ, to þe tym þat were waſtid al þe volum wiþ fyr, þat was in þe herþ.

xxiv And þei dradde not, ne kutte þer cloþis, þe king and alle his seruauns, þat herden alle þese wrdus.

xxv Nerþelater Elnathan, and Alaias, and Gamarie wiþseiden to þe king, leſt he shulde brenne þe boc; and he herde not hem.

xxvi And þe king comaundide to Jeremyel, sone of Amalech, and to Saraie, sone of Esreel, and to Selemye, sone of Abdehel, þat þei schulden take Baruch, scribe, and Jeremye, þe profete; forþoþe þe Lord hidde þem.

xxvii And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, þe profete, after þat þe king hadde brent þe volum and þe wrdus, þat Baruch hadde write of þe mouþ of Jeremye, seiende, xxviii Eft tac an oper volum, and writ in it alle þe raþere wrdus, þat weren in þe firſt volum, þe whiche brende Joachym, king of Juda.

xxix And to Joachym, king of Juda, þou shalt sey, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord aȝen Joachym, king of Juda, þer shal not be 'of hym, þat sitte vpon þe see of Dauid; and his careyn shal be cast forþ at þe hete bi þe dai, and at þe frost bi þe nyȝt.

xxx Perfor þese þingus seiþ þe Lord aȝen Joachym, king of Juda, Þer shal not be 'of hym, þat sitte vpon þe see of Dauid; and his careyn shal be cast forþ at þe hete bi þe dai, and at þe frost bi þe nyȝt.

xxxi And Y shal visite aȝen hym, and aȝen his fed, and aȝen his seruauns, þer wickednesses. And Y shal bringe vpon hem, and vpon þe dwelleres of Jerusalem, and vp on þe men of Juda, al þe yuel þat Y spac to þem, and þei herden not.

xxxii Jeremye forþoþe toc an oper volum, and ȝaf it to Baruch, sone of Neri, scribe, þat wrot in it of þe mouþ of Jeremye alle þe wrdus of þe boc, whiche Joachym, king of Juda, hadde brent wiþ fyr; and ferþermor added ben wrdus many mo þan befor weren.

Capitulum XXXVII.

- i And regnede king Sedechie, sone of Josie, for Jeconye, þe sone of Joachym, whom Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, sette king in þe lond of Juda.
ii And obeshede not he, and his seruauns, and his puple of þe lond, to þe wrdus of þe Lord, þat he spac in þe hond of Jeremye, þe profete.
iii And king Sedechie sent Jothal, þe sone of Selemie, and Sofone, sone of Maasie, prest, to Jeremye, þe profete, sciende, Prei for vs þe Lord oure God.
iv Jeremye forsoþe freeli ȝide in þe myddel of þe puple; forsoþe þei hadden not put hym in to warde of prisoun.
v Panne þe oft of Farao wente out fro Egipt, and herende þe Caldeis, þat besegeden Jerusalem, such a maner messager wenten awei fro Jerusalem.
vi And don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, þe profete, sciende, vii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Israel, Ius ȝee shul sei to þe king of Juda, þat sente ȝou to aske me, Lo! þe oft of Farao, þat is gon out to ȝou to helpe, shal turne aȝeen in to his lond, in to Egipt.
viii And Caldeis shul turne aȝeen, and fiȝten aȝen þis cite, and taken it, and brenne it vp wiþ fyr.
ix Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Wileþ not disceyue ȝoure soulus, sciende, Goende out Caldeis shul go awei, and turne aȝeen fro vs; for þei shul not gon awei.
x But and if ȝee shul smyte al þe oft of Caldeis, þat fiȝten aȝen ȝou, and `shul be laft of þem summe woundid, eche fro his tent shal rise, and brenne vp þis cite wiþ fyr.
xi Panne whan hadde gon awey þe oft of Caldeis fro Jerusalem, for þe oost of Farao, xii wente out Jeremye fro Jerufalem, þat he shulde go in to þe lond of Beniamyn, and deuyde þere possessioun in þe fiȝte of þe citeseynus.
xiii And whan he hadde comen to þe ȝate of Beniamyn, was þere þe kepere of þe ȝate bi whiles, bi name Jerias, sone of Selemie, sone of Ananye, and toc Jeremye, þe profete, sciende, To þe Caldeis þou fleest.
xiv And Jeremye answerde, It is fals; Y flee not to þe Caldeis. And he herde hym not, but Jereias toc Jeremye, and broȝte hym to þe princes.
xv For what þing wroþ þe princes aȝen Jeremye, beten putten hym in to prisoun, þat was in þe hous of Jonathe, scribe; he forsoþe was prouost vp on þe prisoun.
xvi And so Jeremye wente in to þe hous of þe lake, and in to þe hardere prisoun; and Jeremye sat þere manye daȝes.
xvii And so king Sedechie sendende toc hym, and askede hym in his hous hidli, and seide, Weneſt þou, wheþer þer is not a wrd fro þe Lord? And Jeremye seide, Þer is. And he seiþ, In þe hond of þe king of Babiloyne þou shalt be take.

xviii And Jeremye seide to Sedechie, þe king, What haue Y synned to þee, and to þi seruauns, and to þi puple, for þou hast sent me in to þe hous of þe prisoun?

xix Wher ben ȝoure profetus, þat profecieden to ȝou, and seiden, Þe king of Babiloyne shal not come vpon vs, and vpon þis lond?

xx Now þanne here þou, Y besuche, lord my king, vaile my preþeres in þi siȝt, and ne sende þou me aȝeen in to þe hous of Jonathe, scribe, leſt Y die þere.

xxi Panne Sedechie comaundide, þat Jeremye shulde be take in to þe vestiarie of þe prisoun, and þat þer shulde be ȝoue to hym a cake of bred eche dai, out take sowyl, to þe tyme þat shulde be waſtid alle þe loeues of þe cyte; and Jeremye bod in þe vestiarie of þe prisoun.

Capitulum XXXVIII.

- i Herden forsoþe Safacie, sone of Nathan, and Jedelias, sone of Fassur, and Jochal, sone of Selemie, and Fassur, sone of Melchie, þe wrdus þat Jeremye spac to al þe puple, sciende, ii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Who so euere shal abide in þis cite, shal die bi fwerd, and hungur, and pestilence; who forsoþe shal flee to þe Caldeis, `shal lyue, and his lif shal ben hoel and lyuynge.
iii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, To be take shal be take þis cite in to þe hond of þe oft of þe king of Babiloyne, and he shal taken it.
iv And þe princes feiden to þe king, Wee preȝen, þat be layn þis man; of purpos forsoþe he looseþ atwynne þe hondus of þe fiȝteres, þat han abide in þe cite, and þe hondus of al þe puple, spekende to þem alle þese wrdus. Forsoþe þis man secheþ not pes to þis puple, but euel.
v And king Sedechie seide, Lo! he in ȝoure hondus is, ne forsoþe leeful is þe king any þing to ȝou to denye.
vi Panne þei toke Jeremye, and brewen hym in to þe lake of Elchie, sone of Amalech, þat was in þe vestiarie of þe prisoun; and þei putte doun Jeremye in cordis and in to þe lake, in whiche was not water, but clei; and so Jeremye descendide in to þe foule cley.
vii Forsoþe Abdemelech Ethiope, a man gelding, þat was in þe hous of þe king, herde þat þei hadden put Jeremye in to þe lake; but þe king sat in þe ȝate of Beniamyn.
viii And Abdemelech wente out fro þe hous of þe king, and spac to þe king, sciende, ix My lord king, euele han do þese men alle þingus, what euere þei diden aȝen Jeremye, þe profete, fendende hym in to þe lake, þat he die þere for hungir; þer ben no mo loeues in þe cite.

x And so þe king comaundide to Abdemelech Etheope, sciende, Tac wiþ þee hennus þretti men, and rere vp Jeremye, þe profete, fro þe lake, er he die.
 xi Panne Abdemelech take to wiþ hym men, wente in to þe hous of þe king, þat was vnder þe celer; and toke þennus olde cloþis, and olde vestemens, þat hadden rotid; and he putte doun hem to Jeremye, in to þe lake, bi little cordis.
 xii And Abdemelech Ethiope feide to Jeremye, Put þe olde cloþis, and þese kut and roten vnder þe arm of þin hondus, and vp on þe cordis. Panne Jeremye dide so.
 xiii And þei drowen out Jeremye wiþ cordus, and broȝten hym out fro þe lake. Jeremye forsoþe abod in þe vestiarie of þe prisoun.
 xiv And king Sedechie fente, and toc to hym Jeremye, þe profete, at þe þridde dore þat was in þe hous of þe Lord. And þe king feide to Jeremye, Y aske þee a wrd; ne hide þou fro me any þing.
 xv Jeremye forsoþe feide to Sedechie, If Y shal tellen to þee, wheþer þou shalt notflen me? And yf Y schul ȝyue counseil to þee, þou shalt not here me.
 xvi Panne king Sedechie fwor to Jeremye, priuyli sciende, Pe Lord lyueþ, þat dide to vs þis lyf, Y shal not flee þee, and Y shal not take þee in to þe hondus of þese men, þat sechen þi lif.
 xvii And Jeremye feide to Sedechie, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtus, God of Israel, If gon forþ þou shalt gon out to þe princes of þe king of Babiloyne, lyue shal þi soule, and þis cite shal not be brend vp wiþ fyr, and saaf þou shalt be, and þin hous.
 xviii If forsoþe þou shalt not gon out to þe princes of þe king of Babiloyne, take shal be þis cite in to þe hondus of Caldeis; and þei shul brenne it vp wiþ fyr, and þou shalt not scape fro þe hond of þem.
 xix And king Sedechie feide to Jeremye, I am bify for þe Jewes þat ouerfloun to þe Caldeis, leſt par auenture Y be take in to þe hondus of hem, and þei bobbe to me.
 xx Anſwerende forsoþe Jeremye feide to hym, Þei shul not take þee; here, Y beſeche, þe vois of þe Lord, þat Y shal speke to þee, and weel shal be to þee, and lyue shal þi loule.
 xxi þat if þou wilt not go out, þis is þe wrd þat shewede to me þe Lord, xxii Lo! alle þe wymmen, þat abiden in þe hous of þe king of Juda, shul be broȝt out to þe princes of þe king of Babiloyne; and þei shul sey, Han bigilid þee, and hadden þe maistri aȝen þee bi þe þeſible men; þei han drenchid þee doun in þe myre, and in þe fledery þing bi feet, and þei wenten awei fro þee.
 xxiii And alle bi wyues and bi sonus shul be lad out to þe Caldeis, and þou shalt not scape þe hondus of hem; but in to þe hondus of þe king of Babiloyne þou shalt be take, and þis cite þei shul to-brenne wiþ fyr.
 xxiv Panne Sedechie feide to Jeremye, No man wite þese wrdus, and þou shalt not die.

xxv If forsoþe heren shul þe princes, for Y haue spoke wiþ þee, and þei shul come to þee, and sei to þee, Shew to vs what þou haſt spoke wiþ þe king, ne hile þou vs, and wee shul not fle þee; and what spac wiþ þee þe king.
 xxvi þou shalt sei to þem, I haue þrowe doun my preþeres befor þe king, leſt he comaundede me to be broȝt aȝeen in to þe hous of Jonathan, and þere Y shulde die.
 xxvii Camen þanne alle þe princes to Jeremye, and askeden hym; and he spac to þem after alle þe wrdus þat þe king hadde comaundid to hym, and þei ceseden fro hym; no þing forsoþe was herd.
 xxviii Panne Jeremye abod in þe vestiarie of þe prisoun, vnto þe dai þat taken is Jerusalem; and don it is, þat Jerusalem shulde ben taken.

Capitulum XXXIX.

i The nynþe ȝer of Sedechie, king of Jude, þe tenþe moneþ, cam Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, and al his oft to Jerusalem, and þei besiegeden it.
 ii þe elleuenþe ȝer forsoþe of Sedechie, þe ferþe moneþ, þe fifte dai of þe moneþ, opened is þe cite;
 iii and wenten in alle þe princes of þe king of Babiloyne, and seeten in þe myddel ȝate, Neregel, Fererer, Semegar, Nabusarrachym, Rapsaces, Neregel, Ferezer, Rebynag, and alle þe opere princes of þe king of Babiloyne.
 iv And whan hadde seen hem Sedechie, king of Juda, and alle þe men fiȝteres floun, and wenten out þe nyȝt fro þe cite, bi þe weie of þe gardyn of þe king, and bi þe ȝate þat was betwe two wallis; and þei wenten out to þe weie of desert.
 v Forsoþe pursuede þem þe oft of Caldeis, and toke Sedechyne in þe feld of wildernesſe of þe kunte of Jerichon; and taken þei broȝten to Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, in to Reblatha, þat is in þe lond of Emath; and he spac to hym domes.
 vi And þe king of Babiloyne floȝ þe sonus of Sedechie in Reblatha, in his eȝen; and alle þe noble men of Juda floȝ þe king of Babiloyne.
 vii Alſo þe eȝen of Sedechie he pullide out, and bond hym in gyues, þat he shulde be ladde in to Babiloyne.
 viii þe hous also of þe king and þe hous of þe comun brenden vp þe Caldeis wiþ fyr, and þe wal of Jerusalem þei turneden vpſlodoun.
 ix And þe remnaunt of þe puple, þat abiden in þe cite, and þe ferr floun, þat hadden ouerfloun to hym, and þe waſt of þe comun, þat hadde abiden, Nabufardan, maifster of knyȝtes, tranſlatede in to Babiloyne.
 x And of þe folc of pore men, þat no þing vnneþe hadde, Nabufardan, þe maifster of knyȝtus, lafte in þe lond of Juda, and ȝaf to þem vynes and cesternes in þat dai.

- xi Forsoþe Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, of Jeremye hadde comaundid to Nabusardan, maister of þe chyalrie, seiende, xii Tac hym, and put vp on hym þin eȝen, and no þing of euel to hym do þou; but as he shal wiln, so do þou to hym.
 xiii Sente þanne Nabusardan, prince of þe chyualrie, and Lesban, and Rapsaces, and Meregel, and Serefel, and Rebynag, and alle þe beste of þe king of Babiloyne, xiv fenten, and toke Jeremye fro þe vestiarie of þe prisoun, and token hym to Godolie, sone of Aicham, sone of Safan, þat he shulde gon in to þe hous, and dwelle in þe puple.
 xv To Jeremye forsoþe don is þe wrd of þe Lord, whan he was cloſid in þe vestiarie of þe prisoun, xvi seiende, Go, and sey to Abdemalech Ethiope, seiende, Þese þingus seip þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Lo! Y shal bringe in my wrdus vp on þis cite in to euel, and not in to good; and þei shul be in þi siȝt in þat dai.
 xvii And Y shal delyuere þee in þat dai, seip þe Lord, and þow shalt not be take in to þe hondus of þe men, þat þou dredist;
 xviii but delyuerende Y shal delyuere þee, and bi fward þou shalt not falle; but shal ben to þee þi soule in to helþe, for in me þou haddest trost, seip þe Lord.

Capitulum XL.

- i The wrd þat ys maade to Jeremye fro þe Lord, aftir þat he is laft of Nabusardan, maister of þe chyualrie, fro Rama, whan he toc hym bounde wiþ cheynes, in þe myddel of alle þat passeden fro Jerusalem, and fro Juda, and þei weren lad in to Babiloyne.
 ii Panne þe prince of þe chyualrie, takende Jeremye, feide to hym, Þe Lord þi God spac þis euel vp on þis place, iii and þe Lord broȝte to, and dide, as he spac; for ȝee synneden to þe Lord, and herden not þe voys of hym, and don is to ȝou þis wrd.
 iv Now þanne lo! Y haue looſid þee to dai of þe cheynes þat ben in þin hondis; yf it pleſe to þee þat þou come wiþ me in to Babiloyne, cum, and Y shal putte myn eȝen vp on þee; yf forsoþe it displeſe to þee to come wiþ me in to Babiloyne, sit stille heer; lo! al þe lond in þi siȝte is, þat þou shalt cheese, and whider shal pleſe to þee þat þou go, þider go, v and wiþ me wile þou not come. But dwel anent Godoliam, sone of Aicham, sone of Safan, whom beforſette þe king of Babyloyne to þe cites of Juda; dwel þerfore wiþ hym in þe myddel of þe puple, or whider euer it shal pleſe to þee þat þou go, go. Þe maister of þe chyualrie ȝaf also to hym metus, and litil ȝiftus, and laſte hym.

- vi Jeremye forsoþe cam to Godolie, sone of Aicham, in to Masfa, and dwelte wiþ hym, in þe myddel of þe puple þat was laft in þe lond.
 vii And whan herd hadden alle þe princes of þe ost, þat weren scatered bi regiounus, þei and þer felawis, þat þe king of Babiloyne hadde bifor maad Godolie, sone of Aicham, to þe lond, and þat hadde bitake to hym men, and wymmen, and litil childer, and of þe pore men of þe lond, þat weren not translatid in to Babiloyne, viii camen to Godolie in to Masfa; and Ismael, þe sone of Nathanye, and Johannan, þe sone of Caraie, and Jonathan, and Sareas, þe sone of Thenoemeth, and þe sonus of Offi, þat weren of Nethofati, and Jeconye, þe sone of Mechati, and þei and þe men of hem.
 ix And swor to þem Godolie, þe sone of Aicham, sone of Safan, and to þe felawes of hem, seiende, Wileþ not drede to ferue to þe Caldeis; dwelleþ in þe lond, and ferueþ to þe king of Babiloyne, and weel shal be to ȝou.
 x Lo! Y dwelle in Masfath, þat Y anſwere to þe heſte of þe Caldeis, þat ben ſent to vs; ȝee forſoþe gedereþ vyndage, and rep, and oile, and leip vp in ȝoure vefelis, and dwelleþ in ȝoure cites þat ȝee holden.
 xi But and alle þe Jewis, þat weren in Moab, and in þe ſonus of Amon, and in Ydume, and in alle þe regiouns, herd þat þe king of Babiloyne hadde ȝoue þe remnaunt in Jewerie, and þat he hadde mad prouoft vp on hem Godoliam, sone of Aicham, sone of Safan, xii turneden aȝeen forſoþe alle þe Jewis of all þe places, to whiche þei hadde floun, and camen to þe lond of Juda, to Godolie in to Masfath, and gedereden wyn and rep ful myche.
 xiii Johanna forſoþe, þe sone of Charaie, and alle þe princes of þe ost, þat weren scatered in þe regiouns, camen to Godolie in to Masfa, xiv and feiden to hym, Wite þou, for Bahalis, king of þe ſonus of Amon, fente Yſmael, þe sone of Nathanye, to smyte þi lif. And Godolie, sone of Aicham, trowede not to þem.
 xv Johannan forſoþe, sone of Chare, feide to Godolie, aside in Masfath ſpekende, I shal go, and smyte Ismael, þe sone of Nathanye, no man witende, leſt he fle þi lif, and be ſcatered alle þe Jewes, þat ben gedered to þee, and perſhe shul be reliques of Juda.
 xvi And Godolie, þe sone of Aicham, feip to Johannan, þe sone of Chare, Wile þou not do þis wrd, fals forſoþe þou ſpeakſt of Ismael.

Capitulum XLI.

- i And don is in þe ſeueneþ moneþ, cam Ismael, þe sone of Nathanye, sone of Elisame, of þe kingus fed, and þe beſte men of þe king, and ten men wiþ hym, to Godolie, sone of Aicham, in Masfa; and þei eete þere loeues `to gydere in Masfa.

ii Rysen forsoþe Ismael, þe sone of Nathanye, and þe ten men þat wiþ hym weren, and smyten Godolie, þe sone of Aicham, sone of Safan, wiþ fwerd, and flowen hym, whom bifore hadde mad þe king of Babiloyne to þe lond.
 iii Also alle þe Jewis þat weren wiþ Godolie in Masfa, and þe Caldeis, þat ben founde þere, and þe men fiȝteres, Ismael smot.
 iv Þe secounde forsoþe dai, after þat he hadde flayn Godolie, no man ȝit witende, v camen men of Sichym, and of Silo, and of Samarie, eiȝteti men, shauen þe berd, and þe clopis kut, and defoulid; ȝiftus and encens hadden in þe hond, þat þei shulden offre in þe hous of þe Lord.
 vi Gon out þanne Ismael, þe sone of Natanye, in to aȝen comyng to þem fro Masfath, goende and wepende wente. Whan forsoþe he hadde aȝen come to þem, he feide to þem, Comeþ to Godolie, sone of Aicham; vii þe whiche whanne hadden comen to þe myddel of þe cite, flooȝ hem Ismael, þe sone of Nathanye, aboute þe myddel of þe lake, he and þe men þat weren wiþ hym.
 viii Ten men forsoþe ben founden among hem, þat feiden to Ismael, Wile þou notflen vs, for wee han tresor in þe feld, of whete, and of barley, and of oile, and of honys. And he ceseðe, and flooȝ hem not wiþ þer breþern.
 ix Þe lake forsoþe in to whiche Ismael þreȝ alle þe careynus of þe men, whom he smot for Godolie, it is whiche made Asa þe king for Basa, þe king of Israel; Ismael, þe sone of Natanye, 'fulfilde it wiþ flayn men.
 x And Ismael broȝte caitif alle þe relikis of þe puple, þat weren in Masfath, þe doȝtris of þe king, and al þe puple þat abiden in Masfath, whom Nabuſardan, prince of þe chyualrie, hadde betake to Godolie, sone of Aicham. And Ismael, þe sone of Nathanye, toc þem, and wente awei, þat he shulde go to þe sonus of Amon.
 xi Herde forsoþe Johanna, þe sone of Caraе, and alle þe princes of fiȝteres, þat weren wiþ hym, al þe euel þat don hadde Ismael, þe sone of Natanye.
 xii And taken to alle þe men, þei wente forþ, þat þei schuld fiȝte aȝen Ismael, þe sone of Natanye; and founden hym at manye watris, þat ben in Gabaon.
 xiii And whan seen hadde al þe puple, þat was wiþ Ismael, Johannan, sone of Caraе, and al þe princes of fiȝteres, þat weren wiþ hym, gladeden.
 xiv And turned aȝeen is al þe puple, þat Ismael hadde taken in Masfath; and turned aȝeen, it ȝide awei to Johannan, þe sone of Caraе.
 xv Ismael forsoþe, þe sone of Nathanye, fleiȝ wiþ eiȝte men fro þe face of Johanna, and ȝide awei to þe sonus of Amon.
 xvi Toc þanne Johanna, þe sone of Caraе, and alle þe princes fiȝteres, þat weren wiþ hym, al þe remnaunt of þe comun, þat he hadde broȝt aȝeen fro Ismael, þe sone of Nathanye, fro Masfa, aftir þat he hadde smyte

Godolie, sone of Aicham, stronge men to bataile, and wymmen, and childer, and geldingus, þat he hadde broȝt aȝeen fro Gabaon.

xvii And þei wenten awei, and seten pilgramagende in Canaan, þat is byside Bethlem, þat þei shulde go, and weende in to Egyp fro þe face of Caldeis; xviii forsoþe þei dredden hem, for smyten hadde Ismael, sone of Natanye, Godolie, sone of Aicham, whom biforn hadde put þe king of Babiloyne in þe lond of Juda.

Capitulum XLII.

i And wenten nyȝ alle princes of fiȝteres, and Johanna, sone of Caraе, and Jeconye, þe sone of Josie, and þe toþer comun, fro litil vnto myche;
 ii and feiden to Jeremye, þe profete, Falle oure orisoun in bi ȝis, and preȝe þou for vs to be Lord bi God, for alle þe þese remnauns; for wee ben laft fewe of manye, as þin eȝen biholden vs;
 iii and telle to vs þe Lord bi God þe weie, bi whiche wee go, and þe wrd þat wee do.
 iv Seide forsoþe to þem Jeremye, þe profete, I haue herd; lo! Y preȝe to be Lord oure God, after alle ȝoure wrdus; eche wrd, what euere he shal answere to me, Y shal shewe to ȝou, ne Y shal hile ȝou any þing.
 v And þei feiden to Jeremye, Be þe lord among vs witnessesse of treue and of feiþ; and if not after eche wrd in whiche shal sende þee bi God to vs, so wee shal do, wheþer good or euel.
 vi To þe vois of þe Lord oure God, to whom wee sende þee, wee shul obeshe, þat wel be to vs, whan wee shul here þe vois of þe Lord oure God.
 vii Whan forsoþe fulfilt were ten daȝes, don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye.
 viii And he clepide Johannan, þe sone of Caraе, and alle þe princes of fiȝteres, þat weren wiþ hym, and al þe puple fro þe leste to þe meste;
 ix and feide to þem, þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Israel, to whom ȝee han sente me, þat Y shulde lei forþ ȝoure preieres in þe ȝis of hym.
 x If restende ȝee schulen abide in þis lond, I shal bilde ȝou vp, and not destroȝen; Y shal plaunte, and not pulle vp; now forsoþe Y am plesid vpon þe euel þat Y dide to ȝou.
 xi Wileþ not drede fro þe face of þe king of Babiloyne, whom ȝee aferd dreden; wileþ not dreden hym, seiþ þe Lord, for wiþ ȝou Y am, þat Y make ȝou saf, and delyuere fro his hond.
 xii And Y shal ȝyue to ȝou mercies, and han reuþe of ȝou, and to dwelle ȝou Y shal make in ȝoure lond.
 xiii If forsoþe ȝee shul sei, Wee shul not dwelle in þis lond, ne wee shul here þe vois of þe Lord oure God, seiende, xiv Nai, but to þe lond of Egyp wee shul go, where wee shul not see bataile, and noise of trumpe wee shul not heren, and hunger wee shul not suffre, and þere wee shul dwelle;

xv for þat now hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, ȝee remnaunt of Juda. Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, If ȝee shul sette ȝoure face, þat ȝee go in to Egyp, and ȝee shul gon in, þat þere ȝee dwelle, xvi fwerd þat ȝee drede shal þere take ȝou in þe lond of Egyp, and hunger for whiche ȝee be besy shal cleue to ȝou in Egyp; and þere ȝee shul die.

xvii And alle þe men þat setteden þer face, þat þey go in to Egyp, and dwelle þere, shul die wiþ fwerd, and hunger, and pestilence; no man of hem shal lefe, ne scape fro þe face of þe euel, þat I shal bringe to vp on
hem.

xviii For þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, As ȝoten out is 'my woodnesse and myn indignacioun vp on þe dwelleres of Jerusalem, so shal be ȝoten out myn indignacioun vpon ȝou, whan ȝee shul go in to Egyp; and ȝee shul ben 'in to an ob of riȝt, and in to ftoneyng, and in to cursing, and in to repref; and ȝee shul no more see þis place.

xix Pe wrd of þe Lord vp on ȝou, ȝee remnauns of Juda; wileþ not go in to Egyp; witende ȝee shul wite, þat aȝenwitnesſid Y haue to ȝou þis day;

xx for ȝee han disceyued ȝoure soules, ȝee forsoþe han sente me to þe Lord ȝoure God, seiende, Preȝe þou for vs to þe Lord oure God, and after alle þingis what euere shal sei to þee þe Lord oure God, so tel to vs, and wee shul don.

xxi And Y haue told to ȝou to day, and ȝee han not herde þe vois of þe Lord oure God, vpon alle þingus for whiche he sente me to ȝou.

xxii Now þerfore witende ȝee shul wite, for wiþ fwerd, and hunger, and pestilence ȝee shul die, in þe place to whiche ȝee wolde go in, þat ȝee dwelle þere.

Capitulum XLIII.

i Don is forsoþe, whan fulfilð hadde Jeremye spekende to þe puple alle þe wrdus of þe Lord God of hem, for whiche sente hadde hym þe Lord God of hem to þem, alle þese wrdis,

ii seide Azarye, sone of Josie, and Johanna, sone of Carae, and alle þe proude men, seiende to Jeremye, Lesing þou spekeſt; sente not þee þe Lord oure God, seiende, Ne go ȝee in to Egyp, þat ȝee dwelle þere;

iii but Baruch, þe sone of Neri, stireþ þee aȝen vs, þat he take vs in þe hondus of Caldeis, þat þei fle vs, and make to ben ouerlad into Babiloyne.

iv And herde not Johanna, sone of Caraе, and alle þe princes of fiȝteres, and al þe puple, þe vois of þe Lord, þat þei shulden dwelle in þe lond of Juda.

v But takende Johanna, sone of Caraе, and alle þe princes of fiȝteres, alle þe men of þe remnauntis of Juda, þat weren turned aȝeen fro alle Jentiles, to whiche þei waren befor scatered, þat þei shulde dwelle in þe lond of Juda;

vi men, and wymmen, and litil childer, and þe doȝtris of þe king, and eche soule, þat laſt hadde Nabuſardan, prince of þe chyualrie, wiþ Godolie, sone of Aicham, sone of Safan; and toc Jeremye, þe profete, and Baruch, þe sone of Neri, vii and wenten in to þe lond of Egyp; for þei obeshiden not to þe vois of þe Lord, and camen 'in to Tapnys.

viii Don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye in Tapnys,
seiende,

ix Tac to bee in þin hond grete stones, and hyd hem in þe caue, þat is vnder þe tily wal, in þe ȝate of þe hous of Farao, in Tapnys, byholdende þe men Jewis.

x And þou shalt sei to þem, Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Lo! Y shal sende, and take Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, my feruaunt, and setten his trone vp on þese stonus, þat Y haue hid; and he shal sette his see vp on hem.

xi And comende he shal smyte þe lond of Egyp, whom in dep in to dep, and whom in caitifte in to caitifte, and whom in fwerd in to fwerd.

xii And he shal teende fyr in þe wassing templis of þe godus of Egyp, and to-brenne þem, and caitif he shal lede þem; and shal ben coouered þe lond of Egyp, as is coouered a shepherde wiþ his mantil; and he shal gon oute þennus in pes.

xiii And he shal altobrose þe ymages of þe hous of þe funne, þat ben in þe lond of Egyp; and þe wassing templis of þe godus of Egyp he shal to-brenne wiþ fyr.

Capitulum XLIII.

i The wrd þat is don to Jeremye, and to alle þe Jewis, þat dwellen in þe lond of Egyp, dwellende in Magdalo, and in Tannys, and in Memphis, and in þe lond of Fatures, seiende, ii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, ȝee han seen al þys euel, þat Y haue broȝt vp on Jerusalem, and vp on alle þe cites of Juda; and lo! þei ben desert to dai, and þer is not in hem a dwellere;

iii for þe malice þat þei diden, þat me to wraþe þei shulde terre, and gon, and sacrificien, and herien alien godus, þat þei knewe not, and ȝee, 'and þei, and ȝoure fadris.

iv And Y sente to ȝou alle my feruauns and profetus, fro nyȝt risende, and sendende, and seiende, Wileþ not do þe wrd of þis maner abhominacioun.

v And þei herden not, ne boweden in þer ere, þat þei were conuertid fro þer eueles, and sacrificieden not to alien godis.

vi And ȝot out is myn indignacioun and wodnesse, and tend vp it is in þe cytes of Juda, and in þe stretus of Jerusalem; and turned þei ben in to wildernesſe, and waſtite, after þis day.

vii And now þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Whi do ȝee þis grete euel aȝen ȝoure soulus, þat die of ȝou man and womman, litol child and soukende, fro þe myddel of Jude, ne be laft to ȝou any þing residue, viii terrende me in þe werkes of ȝoure hondus, in sacrificiende to alienie godus in þe lond of Egipt, in to whiche ȝee ben come, þat ȝee dwelle þere, and perfhe, and be in to cursing, and in to repref to alle Jentilis of erþe?

ix Wheþer ȝee han forȝete þe euelis of ȝoure fadris, and þe euelis of þe kingus of Juda, and þe euelis of þe wyues of hem, and ȝoure eueles, and þe euelys of ȝoure wyues, þat þei diden in þe lond of Juda, and in þe regiouns of Jerusalem?

x Þei ben not clensid vnto þis day, and þei dredde not, and wente not in þe lawe of þe Lord, and in myn heftus, þat Y ȝaf bifor ȝou, and bifor ȝoure fadris.

xi Perfore þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Lo! Y shal sette my face in ȝou in to euel, xii and destroȝen al Juda, and take þe remnauns of Juda, þat fetteden þer faces, þat þei shulden go in to þe lond of Egipt, and dwelle þere; and þei shul be waftid alle in þe lond of Egipt, 'and þei shul falle in fwerd, and in hunger shul be waftid, fro þe leste 'vn to þe mest, in fwerd and in hunger þei shul die, and þei shul be in to 'riȝt of swering, and in to myracle, and in to cursing, and in to repref.

xiii And Y shal visite vp on þe dwelleres of þe lond of Egipt, as Y visitede vp on Jerusalem, in fwerd, and hunger, and pestilence.

xiv And þer shal not be þat scape, and be þe residue of þe remnaunt of Jewis, þat gon þat þei pilgrimage in þe lond of Egipt, and be turned aȝeen to þe lond of Juda, to whiche þei reren vp þer soules, þat þei be turned aȝeen, and dwelle þere; þei shul not be turned aȝeen þidur, no but þei þat floun.

xv Answerende forþoþe to Jeremye alle þe men, witende þat þer wyues shulden sacrificien to alien godus, and alle þe wymmen, of whiche stod a gret multitude, and al þe puple of dwelleris in þe lond of Egipt, in Fatures, seiende, xvi Þe wrd þat þou speeke to vs in þe name of þe Lord oure God, wee shul not heren of þee, xvii but doende wee shul do eche word þat 'shal gon outh of oure mouȝ, þat wee sacrificie to þe queen of heuene, and offre to hir sacrificie of licoures, as diden wee, and oure fadris, oure kingus, and oure princes, in þe cheef cites of Juda, and in þe stretus of Jerufalem; and we weren fulfilld wiȝ loeues, and wel it was to vs, and euel wee feȝen not.

xviii Fro þat forþoþe tyme, þat wee ceseden to sacrificien to þe queen of heuene, and to offre to hir sacrificies of licoures, wee nededen alle þingus, and wiȝ fwerd and hunger wee ben waftid.

xix þat if wee sacrificien to þe queen of heuene, and offre to hir sacrificises of licoures, wheþer wiȝoute oure men wee shul do to hir plesaunt cakes, 'for to herie hir, and sacrificies of licoures to ben offred?

xx And Jeremye seide to al þe puple, aȝen þe men, and aȝen þe wymmen, and aȝen al þe folc, þat answereden to hym þe wrd, seiende, xxi Wheþer not þe sacrificie þat ȝee sacrificieden in þe cites of Juda, and in þe stretus of Jerufalem, ȝee, and ȝoure fadris, ȝoure kingus, and ȝoure princes, and þe puple of þe lond, of þese þingus recordide þe Lord, and it stede vp vpon his herte;

xxii and þe Lord myȝte no mor bern, for þe malice of ȝoure studies, and for þe abhomynaciouns þat ȝee diden? And don is ȝoure lond in to desolacioun, and in to stoning, and in to cursing, for þi þat þer is not a dwellere, as ys þis dai.

xxiii Perfore 'for ȝee sacrificieden to maumetus, and synneden to þe Lord, and ȝee herden not þe vois of þe Lord, and in þe lawe, and heftus, and in his witnesse ȝee han not gon, perfore camen to ȝou þese eueles, as is þis dai.

xxiv Jeremye forþoþe seide to al þe puple, and to alle þe wymmen, Hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, al Juda, þat ben in þe lond of Egipt.

xxv Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, seiende, ȝee and ȝoure wyues speeken wiȝ ȝoure mouȝ, and wiȝ ȝoure hondus fulfilden, seiende, Do wee oure vrouwis þat wee vrouweden, þat wee sacrificie to þe quen of heuene, and offre to hir sacrificies of licoures; ȝee han fulfilld ȝoure vrouwis, and in werec ȝee han do þem.

xxvi Perfore hereþ þe wrd of þe Lord, al Juda, þat dwellen in þe lond of Egipt; Lo! Y swor in my gret name, seiþ þe Lord, for no mor shal be clepid my name of þe mouȝ of eche man Jew, seiende, Þe Lord God lyueþ, in þe lond of Egipt.

xxvii Lo! Y shal waken vp on hem in to euel, and not in to good; and to-waftid shul ben alle þe men of Juda, þat ben in þe lond of Egipt, wiȝ fwerd and hunger, to be tyme þat fulli þei ben waftid.

xxviii And þey þat shul flee fwerd, shul turne aȝeen fro þe lond of Egipt in to þe lond of Juda, fewe men; and wite shul al þe remnaunt of Juda, of þe men goende in to þe lond of Egipt, þat þei dwelle þere, whos fermoun be fulfilld, myn or peris.

xxix And þis to ȝou a tocne, seiþ þe Lord, þat Y visite vp on ȝou in þis place, þat ȝee wite, for verrely shul be fulfilld my wrdus aȝen ȝou in to euel.

xxx Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y shal take Farao, king of Egipt, in þe hond of his enemys, and in þe hond of men sechende þe soule of hym, as Y toc Sedechie, king of Juda, in þe hond of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, his enemy, and sechende his soule.

Capitulum XLV.

i The wrd þat spac Jeremye, þe profete, to Baruch, þe sone of Neri, whan he hadde write þese wrdus in þe boc, of þe mouȝt of Jeremye, þe ferþe ȝer of Joachym, sone of Josie, king of Juda, seiende, ii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord God of Irael to þee, Baruch.
 iii Pou seidist, Wo to me wrecche, for addid haþ þe Lord forewe to my forewe; I trauailede in my weiling, and reste Y fond not.
 iv Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, þus pou shalt sei to hym, Lo! whom Y bildide, Y destroȝe, and whom Y plaunteðe, Y pulle vp, and al þis lond.
 v And þou sehest to bee grete þingus; wile þou not seche, for lo! Y shal bringe euel vp on eche flesh, seiþ þe Lord, and Y shal ȝyue to þee þi soule in to hele, in alle places, to whiche euer þou shalt go.

Capitulum XLVI.

i The wrd of þe Lord 'þat is don to Jeremye, profete, aȝen Jentiles;
 ii to Egipt, aȝen þe ost of Farao Necho, king of Egipt, þat was biside þe flod of Eufraten, in Carkamys, whom smot Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, in þe ferþe ȝer of Joachym, sone of Josie, king of Juda.
 iii Greiþeb sheeld and target, and goþ forþ to bataile.
 iv Ioyned hors, and stedeþ vp, ȝee hors men; stondeþ in helmes, pulsheþ speres, cloþeþ ȝou wiþ habiriownus.
 v What þanne? I faȝ hem ferd, and þe backes turnende, þe stronge men of hem hewen doun; and þei floun togidere hastid, ne þei beheelden; ferd on eche syde, seiþ þe Lord.
 vi Flee shal not þe swifte, ne þe stronge weene hymself to be sauð; to þe norþ, biside þe flod of Eufraten, þei ben ouercome, and felden doun.
 vii Who is þis, þat as þe flod stedeþ vp, and as of flodis swollen his swolewis?
 viii Egipt at licnesse of a flod stedeþ vp, and as flodus shul be mouȝt his flowingus; and 'he shal sey, Steȝende vp Y shal 'couere þe erþe destroȝe eite, and his dwelleres.
 ix Steȝeþ vp hors, and ful out ioȝe þin chares; and go forþ, stronge men, Ethiope and Libie, holdende sheeld, and Liddy, takende and prowende arwis.
 x þat dai forsoþe of þe Lord God of ostus, dai of veniaunce, þat he take veniaunce of his enemys; deuouren shal þe fwerd, and be fulfilld, and be todrunke wiþ þe blod of hem; victorie sacrificise forsoþe of þe Lord of ostus in þe lond of þe norþ, biside þe flod of Eufraten.
 xi Steȝe vp in to Galaad, and tac þe gumme, þat is clepid recyne, þou maiden doȝter of Egipt. In veyn þou haſt multeplied medecynes; helþe shal not be to þee.
 xii Herden Jentiles þi shenshepe, and þi ȝellinge fulfilde þe erþe; for þe stronge man putte aȝen þe stronge man, and boþe togidere fallen.

xiii þe wrd þat þe Lord spac to Jeremye, þe profete, vp on þat þat to come was Nabugodonosor, king of Babyloyne, and to smyte þe lond of Egipt.
 xiv Telleþ to Egipt, and herd makeþ in Magdalo, and eft sowne it in Memfys, and in Tapnys seiþ, Stond, and greiþe þee, for deuoure shal fwerd þo þingus þat in þin enuyroun ben.
 xv Whi 'to-rotide þi stronge? He stod not, for þe Lord turnede hym vp so doun.
 xvi He multeplied men fallende, and þe man fel to his neȝhebore; and þei shul seyn, Ris, and turne wee aȝeen to oure puple, and to þe lond of oure birþe, fro þe face of þe fwerd of þe culuer.
 xvii Clepeþ þe name of Farao, king of Egipt; tyme haþ broȝt noise.
 xviii I lyue, seiþ þe king, Lord of ostus his name; for as Thabor in mounteynes, and as Carmel in þe se, he shal come.
 xix Vesseles of transmygracioun mac to þee, þou dwelleresse, doȝter of Egipt; for Memfys in wildernesse shal ben, and be forsoken and vnhabitable.
 xx Pe the calf fair and shapli Egipt; þe prickere fro þe norþ shal come to hir.
 xxi Also his hirid men, þat woneden in his myddel as fattyd calues, ben turned, and floun togidere, ne myȝte stonde; for þe dai of þe flaȝter of þem shal come vp on hem, tyme of þer visiting.
 xxii His vois as of bras shal sowne, for wiþ þe ost þei shul go forþ, and wiþ axes þei shul come to hym.
 xxiii As fallende doun trees þei heewe doun his wilde wode, seiþ þe Lord, þat mai not be noumbred; þey ben multeplied aboue locustus, and þer is not in þem noumber.
 xxiv Confoundid is þe doȝter of Egipt, and take in þe hond of þe puple of þe norþ, xxv feide þe Lord of ostus, God of Irael. Lo! Y shal visite 'vp on þe noise of Alisaundre, and vp on Farao, and vp on Egipt, and vp on his godus, and vp on his kinges, and vp on hem þat trosten in hym.
 xxvi And Y shal ȝyuen hem in þe hond of men sechende þe lif of hem, and in to þe hondus of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, and in to þe hondus of his seruauns; and after þese þingus it shal be dwellid, as in þe raþere daȝes, seiþ þe Lord.
 xxvii And þou, my seruaunt Jacob, ne drede þou, ne take ferd, þou Irael; for lo! Y saaf shal make þee fro aferr, and þi sed fro þe lond of his caitiffe; and turnen aȝeen shal Jacob, and resten, and be mad welsum, and þer shal not ben, þat fere hym.
 xxviii And wile þou not drede, þou my seruaunt Jacob, seiþ þe Lord, for Y am wiþ þee; for Y shal waste alle Jentiles, to whiche I caste þee out; þee forsoþe I shal not waste, but Y shal chaftile þee in dom, ne as to an ynnocent Y shal sparen to þee.

Capitulum XLVII.

i `þat don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, profete, aȝen Palestynus, er Farao shulde smyte Gasam.
ii þese þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! watri shul stézen vp fro þe norþ, and ben shul as a styff strem flowende, and couere shul þe lond, and his plente, þe chef cite and his dwelleris. Crie shul men, and ȝelle shul alle þe dwelleris of þe lond, iii fro þe noise of þe bost of þe armeðe men, and of his fríteres, and fro þe stirring of his fourre horſid carres, and fro þe multitude of his whelis. Beheelden not þe fadris þe sonus wiþ hondus losid atwynne, iv for þe comyng of þe dai in whiche shul be waſtid alle Filisteis; and ben scatered Tirus and Sidon, wiþ alle his opere helpes. Þe Lord forſoþe destroȝede Palestynes, þe remnauns of þe yle of Capadoche.
v Per cam ballidnesse vp on Gasam; al stille was Aſcalon, and þe remnauns of þe valei of hem. Hou longe þou shalt be þrowe doun, vi O! þou fwerd of þe Lord, hou longe shalt þou not reſte? Go in to þi ſheþe, be þou refreſhid, and be ſtille.
vii What maner ſhal it reſte, whan þe Lord ſhal comaunde to it aȝen Aſcalon, and aȝen his regiuons nyȝ þe ſe, and þere he ſhal wiþſei to it?

Capitulum XLVIII.

i To Moab þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of oſtuſ, God of Israel. Wo vp on Nabo, for waſtid ſhe is, and confoundid; taken is Cariathiarym, confoundid is þe ſtronge, and tremblede; ii and þer is no mor ful out ioȝing in Moab, aȝen Eſebon þei þoȝten euel. Comeþ, and ſcatere wee it fro þe folc of kynde. Perfore ſtille þou shalt be ſtille, and fwerd ſhal foſewe þee;
iii vois of þe cry fro Oronaym, waſtite, and gret to-treding.
iv To-treden is Moab, telleþ out þe cry to his litil childer.
v Bi þe ſteȝing vp forſoþe Luyth wepende ſteȝede vp in weeping, for in þe going doun of Oronaym þe enemys þe ȝelling of to-treding herden.
vi Fleeb, ſaueþ ȝoure foulis; and ȝee shul be as 'iencian trees in deſert;
vii for þi forſoþe þat þou hadde troſt in þi ſtrengþingus, and in þi tresores, þou also ſhall ben take. And Camos ſhal go in to transmygracioun, his preſtus and his princes togidere;
viii and þe robbere ſhal come to eche cheef cite, and no cheef cyte ſhal be ſaued; and perſhen shul valeyis, and waſtid shul be wilde feldis, for þe Lord feyde.
ix ȝyueþ flour to Moab, for flourende he ſhal gon out; and his cites shul be deſert, and vnhabitabile.
x Curſid þat doþ þe werc of God gilendeli; and curſid, þat forfendeþ his fwerd fro blod, 'or repreuyng of synne.

xi Fructuous was Moab fro his waxende ȝouþe, and he reſtede in his drefis, ne is ouerheld fro vefſel in to vefſel, and 'in to transmygracioun he ȝide not; þefore abod ſtille his taſt in hym, and his ſmel is not chaungid.

xii Perfore lo! daȝes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and Y ſhal ſende to hym ordeyneſes, and araieres of little wyn vefſelis; and þei shul araien hym, and his vefſeles heelden out, and þe litil wyn vefſelis of hem hurtlen togidere.

xiii And confoundid ſhal be Moab fro Camos, as confoundid is þe hous of Irael of Bethel, in whiche it hadde troſt.

xiv What maner ſey ȝee, Stronge men wee ben, and ſtalwrþe men to ȝiȝte?

xv Waſtid is Moab, and his cites þei brenden vp, and hys choſen ȝunge men wente doun in to flaȝter, seiþ þe king, Lord of oſtuſ his name.

xvi Nyȝ is þe deþ of Moab, þat it come, and his euel ſwiftli comeþ nyȝ ful myche.

xvii Coumforþeþ hym, alle ȝee þat ben in his cumpas; alle ȝee þat witen his name, seiþ, What maner is to-broke þe ſtronge ȝerde, þe glorious ſtaſ?

xviii Cum doun fro glorie, ſit in þriſt, þou dwelling of þe doȝter of Dibon; for þe waſtere of Moab ſhal ſteȝe vp to þee, ſhal ſcatere þi ſtrengþingus.

xix In þe weie ſtond, and bihold þou þe dwelling of Aroer; aske hym fleende þat ſcapede; ſei, What fel?

xx Confoundid is Moab, for he is ouercome; ȝelleþ, and criþ; telleþ in Arnon, for waſtid is Moab.

xxi And dom cam to þe feldi lond, vp on Elon, and vp on Jefa, and vp on Mefath, xxii and vp on Dibon, and vp on Nabo, and vp on þe hous of Debalthaym, xxiii and vp on Cariathiarym, and vp on Bethgamul, and vp on Bethmaon, xxiv and vp on Scarioth, and vp on Bofra, and vp on alle þe cites of þe lond of Moab, þat aferr and þat nyȝ ben.

xxv Kut awei is þe horn of Moab, and his armes tobrosid, seiþ þe Lord.

xxvi Drunkneþ hym wiþ þe chalus of þe wraþe of þe Lord, for aȝen þe Lord he is rered out; and he ſhal hurtle þe hond of Moab in his vomyng, and be ſhal in to ſcorning and he.

xxvii Forſoþe he was in to ſcorning to þee, Israel, as among þeues þou ſhuldiſt han founde hym; þefore for þi wrduſ þat aȝen hym þou ſpeeke, caitif þou art lad.

xxviii Lefeb cites, and dwelleþ in a ſton, ȝee dwelleris of Moab, and beþ as a culuer bildende in þe ouerest mouȝ of þe hole.

xxix Wee han herd þe pride of Moab; proud 'he is gretli; his heiȝte forſoþe, and his owne enhaunlyng, and pride, and þe heiȝte of his herte, xxx Y wot, seip þe Lord; his boſt, and his owne enhauncing, and þat þer is not biſide it his vertue, ne after þat he myȝte, it forcede to do. xxxi Perfore vp on Moab I shal weile, and to al Moab Y shal crien, to þe men of þe britil wal weilende.

 xxxii Of þe weiling of Jaſer Y shal wepe to þee, þou vyne of Sabama; þi railingus paſſeden þe ſe; vn to þe ſe of Jaſer þei ful camen vp on þi rep, and þi vyndage þi reuere fel.
 xxxiii Don awei is ful out ioȝing and glading fro Carmel, and fro þe lond of Moab, and wyn fro þe preſſes Y toc doun; þe tredere of þe grape þe wont myrie ſong shal not fyngē.
 xxxiv Of þe cri of Eſebon vnto Eleale and Jeſa ȝeeuen þer vois, fro Segor vnto Oronaym þe ſtoneid ſhe calf; þe watris forſoþe of Nemrym shul be werſt.
 xxxv And Y shal take awey fro Moab, seip þe Lord, þe offrende in heeȝe þingus, and þe ſacrifiende to his godus.
 xxxvi Perfore myn herte to Moab as a trumpe of bras shal fowne, and myn herte to þe men of þe tili wal shal ȝyue ſoun of trumpis; for more he dide þan he myȝte, perfore þei perſheden.
 xxxvii Eche forſoþe hed ballidneſſe, and eche berd shauen shal be; in alle hondus þe binding togidere, and vp on eche bac heire.
 xxxviii And vp on alle þe rooues of Moab, and in alle his ſtretus alle weiling, for he to-broſede Moab as a vessel vnprofetabe, seip þe Lord.
 xxxix What maner ſhe is ouer come, and þei ȝelleden? hou Moab þreȝ doun þe noll, and is confoundid? And Moab shal be in to ſcorynyg, and in to exſaumple to alle men in his cumpas.
 xl Peſe þingus seip þe Lord, Lo! as an egle he ſhall fleen out, and ſtreccchen out his wengus to Moab.
 xli Taken is Carioth, and ſtrengþingus ben caȝte; and ben shal þe herte of ſtronge men in þat dai, as þe herte of a womman traualende wiþ child.
 xlii And cefe ſhal Moab to ben a puple, for aȝen þe Lord it gloriede.
 xlvi Inward ferde, and dich, and grene vp on þee, O!
 dwelleres of Moab, leip þe Lord. xlviii Who ſhal flee fro þe face of þe ferde, ſhal falie in to þe dich; and who ſhul ſteȝe vp fro þe dich, ſhul be take wiþ grene. Y ſhal bringe to forſoþe vp on Moab þe ȝer of viſiting of hem, seip þe Lord.
 xlv In þe ſhadewe of Eſebon ſtode þei fro þe grene fleende, for fyr wente out fro Eſebon, and flaume from þe myddel of Sion; and deuoure it ſhal þe parte of Moab, and þe top of þe ſonus of noife.
 xlvi Wo to þee, Moab; perſhediſt, þou puple of Camos, for caȝt ben þi ſonus, and þi doȝtris in to caitife ſhul be lad.
 xlvii And Y ſhal turne þe caitife of Moab in þe laſt daȝes, seip þe Lord. Hyderto þe domes of Moab.

Capitulum XLIX.

- i Also to þe ſonus of Amon þeſe þingus ſeip þe Lord. Wheþer ben not þe ſonus of Israel, or eir is not to it? whi þanne þe eritage weldiþ Melchon Gad, and his puple in his `cheef cites dwellide?
- ii Perfore lo! daȝes comen in þee, ſeip þe Lord, and herd Y shal make vp on Rabath of þe ſonus of Amon þe gnaſting of bataile; and he ſhal be in to noyſe ſcatered, and his doȝtris wiþ fyr ſhal be brend, and Israel ſhal welde his welderes, ſeip þe Lord.
- iii ȝelle þou, Eſebon, for waſtid is Hai; criþ, ȝee doȝtris of Rabath, girdeþ þou wiþ heires, weileþ, and goþ aboute bi hegges; for Melchon in to transmygracioun ſhal be broȝt, his preſtus and his princes togidere.
- iv What gloriest þou in valeis? Flowede doun þi valei, þou doȝter delicate, þat troſtediſt in þi trefores, and feiſtiſt, Who ſhal come to me?
- v Lo! Y ſhal bringen in ferde vp on þee, ſeip þe Lord God of oſtus, God of Israel, of alle þat ben in þi cumpas; and ȝee ſhul be ſcatered, eche fro ȝoure ſiȝt, ne ſhal be, þat gedere þe fleeres.
- vi And after þeſe þingus Y ſhal make to turne aȝeen þe fleeres and þe caitifes of þe ſonus of Amon, ſeip þe Lord.
- vii To Idume `þeſe þingus ſeip þe Lord God of oſtus. Wheþer no mor is wiſdam in Theman? Perſhede counſeil fro ſonus, vnprofitable mad is þe wiſdam of hem.
- viii Fleep, and turneþ backus; goþ doun in to a ſwolewe, ȝee dwelleres of Dedan, for þe perdiſiouſ of Eſau Y haue broȝt vp on hym, tyme of his viſiting.
- ix Yf grape kutteres hadden come, vp on þee þei ſhulden han laſt a cluſter braunch; if þeues in nyȝt hadden ſtolen, þat ſhulde han ſuffiſid to þem.
- x I forſoþe diſcouerede Eſau, and openede his hid þingus, and he ſhal not moun be coouered; waſtid is his feed, and his breþern, and his neȝhebores, and he ſhal not be.
- xi Lef þi faderles childer, and Y ſhal make þem to lyue, and þi widewis in me ſhul hope.
- xii For þeſe þingus ſeip þe Lord, Lo! to whom was not dom, þat þei ſhulde drinke chalis, drinkende þei ſhul drinke; and þou as innocent ſhalt be laſt? þou ſhalt not be innocent, but drinkende þou ſhalt drinke.
- xiii For bi myself Y fwor, ſeip þe Lord, for in to wildernesſe and in to repreſ, and in to deſert, and in to cursing ſhal be Bofra; and alle his cites ſhul ben in to euere laſtende wildernesſis.
- xiv Herd þing Y herde of þe Lord, and a legat to Jentilis is ſent; beþ gedered, and comeþ aȝen it, and rise wee togidere to bataile.
- xv Lo! forſoþe a litil child Y ȝaf þee in Jentilis, deſpifable among men.

xvi Pin owne hauncyng desceyuede þee, and þe pride of þin herte, þat dwellist in cauys of þe ston, and to cacche forcest þe heiȝte of þe hil; whan þou shalft enhaunce as an egle þi nest, þennus Y shal drawe þee, seiþ þe Lord.
 xvii And be shal Idume desert; eche þat shal passe bi it, shal stoneyn, and whistle vp on alle his veniaunces; xviii as turned vp so doun is Sodom and Gomor, and his nyȝ wonyngus, seiþ þe Lord. Þer shal not dwelle þere a man, and þer shal not tiln it þe sone of man.
 xix Lo! as a leoun he shal steeȝe vp, and of þe pride of Jordan to a stalwrȝe fairnesse; for fodeynli to renne Y shal make hym to it; and who shal be þe chosen, whom Y shal bifor pute to hym? Who forsoþe lic me, and who shall susteyne me, and who is þis shepperde, þat wiþstant to my chere?
 xx Perfore hereþ þe conseil of þe Lord, þat he wente in to Edom, and his þoȝtus, þat he þoȝte of þe dwelleres of Theman. Yf þe little childer of þe floc shul not browe þem doun, no but þey shuln scatere wiþ þem þer dwelling.
 xxi Fro þe vois of þe falling of hem to-stirid is þe erþe;
 cry in þe rede se 'is herd of his vois.
 xxii Lo! as an egle he shal steeȝen vp, and fleen awei, and he shal spreden out his wengus vp on Bofra; and shal ben þe herte of stronge men of Idume in þat dai, as þe herte of a womman trauailende wiþ childe. xxiii To Damasch. Confoundid is Emath and Arfath, for werft heering þei herden; þei ben disturbid in þe se, for bisynesse þei myȝten not reste.
 xxiv Losid atwynne is Damasch, turned is in to fliȝt; trembling caȝte it, anguysshes and forewis heelden it, as a trauailende wiþ childe.
 xxv Hou þei forsoke þe preisable cyte, þe chef cite of gladnesse?
 xxvi Perfore fallen shul his ȝunge men in his stretes, and alle þe men of bataile shul become stille in þat dai, seiþ þe Lord of ostus.
 xxvii And Y shal teende vp fyr in þe wal of Damasch, and deuoure þe wallis of Benadab.
 xxviii To Cedar, and to þe reumys of Asor, þat Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, smot, þese þingus seiþ þe Lord. Rifeþ, and steeȝeþ vp to Cedar, and waſteþ þe sonus of þe est.
 xxix Per tabernaclis and þer flockes þei shul taken; þer skynnus, and alle þer vesseles, and þer camailes þei shul gedere to þem; and þei shul clepe vp on hem ferd in his cumpas.
 xxx Fleep, gop awei hugeli in swolewes, fitteþ, þat dwellen Asor, seiþ þe Lord. Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, wente in forsoþe aȝen ȝou conseil, and þoȝte aȝen ȝow þoȝtis.
 xxxi Rifeþ, and steeȝeþ vp to a quyete folc of kinde, and dwellende trostili, seiþ þe Lord; not dores ne his barres, alone dwellen.

xxxii And ben shul þer camailes in to reuyng, and þe multitude of bestus in to prei; and Y shal scatere þem in to eche wind, þat ben dodded in to þe her, and of eche coest of hem Y shal bringe deþ vp on hem, seiþ þe Lord.

xxxiii And Asor shal be in to dwelling of dragounus, desert vnto wiþoute ende; þer shal not dwelle þere a man, ne tiln it þe sone of man.

xxxiv þat don is þe wrd of þe Lord to Jeremye, þe profete, aȝen Elam, in þe bigynnyng of þe regne of Sedechie, king of Juda, sciende, xxxv Peſe þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Lo! I shal to-breke þe bowe of Elam, and take þer strengþe.

xxxvi And Y shal bringe in vp on Elam foure wyndus fro þe foure coestus of heuene, and Y shal wynewe þem in to alle þeſe windus; and þer shal not be folc of kinde, to whiche come not þe ferr fleende of Elam.

xxxvii And Y shal make Elam to dreden biforn alle his enemys, and in þe liȝte of men fechende þe soule of hem; and Y shal bringe in vp on hem euel, þe wraþe of my wodnesse, seiþ þe Lord, and Y shal fende vp on hem fwerd, to þe tyme þat Y to-waſte þem.

xxxviii And Y shal fette my fee in Elam, and leefe þennus kingus and princes, seiþ þe Lord.

xxxix In þe laſte forsoþe daȝes Y shal make to be turned aȝeen þe caitifes of Elam, seiþ þe Lord.

Capitulum L.

i The wrd þat þe Lord spac of Babiloyne, and of þe lond of Caldeis, in þe hond of Jeremye, profete.

ii Telleþ in folkus of kinde, and herd makeþ; rereþ vp a tocne; precheþ, and wileþ not hilyn; seiþ, Taken is Babilon, confoundid is Bel, ouercomen is Maradac; confoundid ben his grauen þingus, ouercome ben þer mawmetes.

iii For steeȝen vp shal aȝens it folc of kinde fro þe norþ, þat shal setten his lond in to wildernesse; and þer shal not be þat dwelle in it, fro man vn to beste; and þei ben moued, and wenten awei.

iv In þo daȝes, and in þat tyme, seiþ þe Lord, comen shul þe sonus of Israel, þey and þe sonus of Juda togidere, goende and wepende shul go forþ; and þe Lord þer God þei shul seche in Sion, and aske þe weie.

v Hider þer faces shul come, and ben set to þe Lord wiþ euere durende pes couenaunt, þat wiþ no forȝeting shal be don awey.

vi Pe floc loſt mad is my puple, þer shepperdus bigiliden hem, and maden to be vaguant in mounteynus; fro mounteyn in to hil þei paſſeden, þei forȝeeten of þer couche.

vii Alle þat founden, eete þem, and þer enemys seiden,
 We han not synned, for þi þat þei han synned to þe Lord, to þe fairnesse of riȝtwisnesse, and to þe abiding of þer fadris, to þe Lord.

viii Goþ awei fro þe myddel of Babiloyne, and fro þe lond of Caldeis; goþ out, and beþ as goet bifor þe floc.
ix For loo! Y shal rere, and bringe in to Babiloyne þe congregacioun of manye Jentilis, fro þe lond of þe norþ; and þei shul be greyþed aȝen it, and in dai it shal be taken; his arewe as of þe most strong man fleere, shal not be turned aȝeen voide.
x And Caldee shal be in to prei, and alle men wastende it shul be fulfilld, seiþ þe Lord.
xi For ȝee ful out ioȝen, and grete þingus speken, reuende awei myn eritage; for heeld out ȝee ben as calues vpon gres, and ȝee looweden as boolis.
xii Confoundid ys ȝoure moder ful myche, and euened to pouder þat gat ȝou; lo! þe laste shal be in folkes of kinde, and desert wiþ oute weie, and driende.
xiii Fro þe wraþe of þe Lord it shall not ben enhabitid, but be turned al in to wildernesſe; eche þat shal passē bi Babiloyne, shal stoneyn, and whistlen vp on alle his veniaunces.
xiv Beþ redi aȝen Babilon bi enuyroun, alle þat beenden bowe to fiȝten it doun; spareþ not to darters, for to þe Lord it fynnede.
xv Crieþ aȝen it, oueral it ȝaf hond; fallen his foundemens, and destroȝed ben his wallis; for þe veniaunce of þe Lord 'it is. Veniaunce takeþ of it; as it dide, doþ to it.
xvi Scatereþ þe sowere fro Babilon, and þe holdende fikel in þe tyme of rip, fro þe face of þe fwerd of þe culuer; eche to his purple shal be turned, and eche to þer lond shal fleeñ.
xvii Scatered is þe floc of Israel, leownus þrewen hym out; first eet hym king Assur, þis þe lafte þreȝ out his boenus, Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne.
xviii Perfore þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, God of Israel, Lo! I shal visite þe king of Babiloyne, and his lond, as Y visitede king Assur; xix and Y shal bringe aȝeen Israel to his dwelling. And be fed shal Carmeel and Basan, and þe mount of Effraym and Galaad shal be fulfilld his soule.
xx In þo daȝis, and in þat tyme, seiþ þe Lord, shal be soȝt þe wyckenesse of Israel, and shal not be; and þe synne of Juda, and shal not be founde; for mercyful Y shal be to þem, whom I shal leeue.
xxi Vp on þe lond of þe lordshipende steeȝ þou vp, and vp on his dwelleres visite; waste, and fle, þat after hem ben, seiþ þe Lord; and do aftir alle þingus þat Y comaunde to þee.
xxii Vois of bataile in þe lond, and gret to-broſing.
xxiii Hou to-broke and to-broſid is þe hamer of al erþe? what maner is turned in to desert Babilon, in Jentilus?
xxiv I grenede þee, and take þou art, Babilon, and wifstift not; founde þou art, and caȝt, for þe Lord þou terredist.
xxv Pe Lord openede his tresor, and broȝte forþ vesselis of his wraþe; for werc is to þe Lord God of ostus in þe lond of Caldeis.

xxvi Comeþ to it fro vtmost coestus, openeþ, þat þei go out þat to-treden it; takeþ fro þe weie stones, and doþ in to hepes, and sleþ it, ne be þer any þing laſt.
xxvii Scatereþ alle his stronge men, come þei doun in to flaȝter; wo to þem, for comen is þe dai of hem, tyme of þer visitng.
xxviii Vois of þe fleeres, and of hem þat scapeden fro þe lond of Babiloyne, þat þei telle in Sion þe veniaunce of þe Lord oure God, veniaunce of his temple.
xxix Telleþ out in to Babilon to manye, to alle þat beenden bowe. Stondeþ togidere aȝen it bi cumpas, and no man scape; ȝeldeþ to it after his were, after alle þingus þat it dide, doþ to it; for aȝen þe Lord it is rered, aȝen þe hoeli of Israel.
xxx Perfore falle shuln his ȝunge men in his stretus, and alle his men fiȝteres shul bicome stille in þat dai, seiþ þe Lord.
xxxi Lo! Y to þee, þou proude, seiþ þe Lord God of ostus, for þi dai is come, tyme of þi visitng.
xxxii And falle shal þe proude, and at ones falle, and þer shal not be þat rere hym; and Y shal teende vp fyr in his cites, and deouore it shal alle þingus in his cumpas.
xxxiii Þese þingus seiþ þe Lord of ostus, Chalenge suffren þe sonus of Israel and þe sonus of Juda togidere; alle þat token hem, holden, þei 'wiln lefe not þem.
xxxiv Per aȝeenbiere strong, Lord of ostus his name; bi dom he shal defende þer cause, þat he fere þe lond, and to-stere þe dwelleris of Babiloyne.
xxxv Swerd to þe Caldeis, seiþ þe Lord, and to þe dwelleris of Babilon, and to þe princes, and to his wife men.
xxxvi Swerd to his deuynoures, þat foolis shul be; fwerd to his stronge men, þat shul drede.
xxxvii Swerd to his hors, and to his charies, and to al þe comun þat is in his myddel, and þei shul be as wymmen; fwerd to his trefores, for þei shul be reued awei.
xxxviii Droȝte vp on his watri shal be, and þei shul become drie; for þe lond of grauen þingus it is, and in wndris glorieþ.
xxxix Perfore dwelle shal dragounus wiþ 'fonned woode þeues, and dwelle in it shul ostricchis; and me shal no more dwelle in it 'vn to euermore, ne shal be mad vp vn to ieneracioun and ieneracioun; xl as þe Lord turned vp so doun Sodom and Gomor, and his nyȝ townes, seiþ þe Lord. Per shal not dwelle a man, ne tiln it þe sone of man.
xli Lo! A puple cam fro þe norþ, and a gret folc of kinde, and manye kingus shul rise fro þe coestus of þe lond.
xlii Boewe and sheld þei shul take, cruel þei ben and vnmerciable; þe vois of þem as þe fe shal fowne, and vp on hors shul steȝen vp as a man redi to bataile, aȝeen þee, þou doȝter of Babilon.

xliii Pe king of Babiloyn herde þe loes of hem, and loosed atwynne ben his hondus; anguyl̄ caȝte hym, forewe as þe trauailende wiþ childe.
xliii Lo! as a leoun st̄eȝeb vp fro þe pride of Jordan to a stalwrþe fairnesse, for to renne sodeynli I shal make hym to it; and who shal be þe chofen, whom Y shal bifor putte to hym? Who forsoþe lijc me? and who shal sustene me? and who is þis shepperde þat wiþstant to my chere?
xlv Perfore hereþ þe counseyl of þe Lord, þat in mynde he confeyued aȝen Babylon, and his þoȝtis, þat he þoȝt vpon þe lond of Caldeis, no but wiþ drawen hem þe litil childer of flockus, no but scatered wiþ þem þer dwelling.
xlii Fro þe vois of þe caitife of Babilon stirid is þe lond, and cry among Jentiles is herd.

Capitulum LI.

i These þingus seiþ þe Lord, Lo! Y shal reren vp on Babylon, and vp on his dwelleris, þat þer herte rereden aȝen me, as a wind bringende in pestilence.
ii And Y shal sende in to Babylon wyneweres, and þei þul wynewe it, and destroȝen his lond; for þey camen vp on it on eche side in þe dai of his tormenting.
iii And he shal not wone, þat beendib his bowe, and st̄eȝen vp shal not þe cloþide wiþ an habirioun; wileþ not spare to his ȝunge men, fleþ al his chyualrie.
iv And falle þuln þe layne in þe lond of Caldeis, and þe woundid in his regeouns.
v For Israel was not 'forsake, or maad wydow, and Juda fro þe Lord þer God, Lord of oſtus; þe lond forsoþe of hem folſild is of gilte fro þe hoely of Israel.
vi Fleþ fro þe myddel of Babylon, þat eche man faue his soule; wileþ not be ſtille vp on his wickenesse, for tyme of his veniaunce is to þe Lord; his while he shal ȝelde to hym.
vii A goldene chalis of Babiloyne in þe hond of þe Lord, drunknende al þe lond; of his wyn drunke þe Jentilis, and þennus þei ben to-stirid.
viii Sodeynly fel Babylon, and is to-broſid; ȝelleþ vpon yt, takeþ recyne gumme to his forewe, if parauenture he be helid.
ix Wee han cured Babylon, and he is not helid; forsake wee it, and go wee eche in to his lond; 'for ful cam 'vn to heuenus hys dom, and vp rered is vn to þe cloudus.
x Pe Lord broȝte forþ oure riȝtwisnesses; come, and telle wee in Sion þe were of þe Lord oure God.
xi Sharpeþ arwes, fulfillþ arwe cases; þe Lord rerede his ſpirit of kingus of Medes, and aȝen Babylon is his mynde, þat he leefe it, for þe veniaunce of þe Lord is, þe veniaunce of his temple. Pe king of Medus aȝen Babylon of þe Lord is rered.
xii Vp on þe wallis of Babylon rereþ a tocne, eecheþ þe warde, rereþ þe keperes, greiþþ buſhemens; for þe

Lord þoȝt, and dide, what euere þingus he ſpac aȝen þe dwelleris of Babilon.
xiii Pat dwellift vp on manye watriſ, riche in trefores, comen is þin ende, þe foot meſure of þi kutting of.
xiv Pe Lord of oſtus fwor bi his lyf, for Y shal fulſille þee of men, as wiþ bruc werm, and vp on þee a merie faring ſong shal be funga.
xv Pat made þe erþe in his ſtrengþe, biforn made redi þe world in his wiſdam, and bi his prudence ſtraȝte out heuenus.
xvi Hym ȝyuende vois, ben multeplied watriſ in heuene; þat rereþ cloudus fro þe vtmoſt of þe erþe, leitus 'in to reyn made, and broȝte forþ wind of his trefores.
xvii Fool is mad eche man of kunning, confoundid is eche ȝeetere in grauen þing; for 'fals is his ȝeting, ne þer is ſpyrit in hem.
xviii Veyne ben þe werkus, and wrþi ſcornyng; in tyme of þer viſityng þei þul pershe.
xix Not as þis þe part of Jacob; for þat made alle þingus he is, and Israel þe kingus dignete of his eritage, þe Lord of oſtus his name.
xx Pou hurtliſt to me þe vefſelis of bataile, and Y shal hurtle in þee Jentilis, and ſcatere in þee reumus;
xxi and Y shal hurtle in þee þe hors, and his hors man; and Y shal hurtle in þee þe char, and his ſteȝere;
xxii and I shal hurtle in þee þe man and þe woman; and I shal hurtle in þee þe old man and þe child; and I shal hurtle in þee þe ȝunge man and þe maide;
xxiii and I shal hurtle in þee þe ſhepperde and his floc; and Y shal hurtle in þee þe erþe tiliere and his ȝoc oxen; and I shal hurtle in þee dukes and þe maifer ȝugis.
xxiv And I shal ȝeelde to Babylon, and to alle þe dwelleris of Caldee, alle his euel, þat he dide in Sion, in ȝoure eȝen, seiþ þe Lord.
xxv Lo! Y to þee, þou hil berende pestilence, seiþ þe Lord, þat corumpist al þe erþe. I shal ſtrecche out myn hond vp on þee, and turne out þee fro ſtonus, and Y shal ȝyue þee in to mount of brennyng.
xxvi And Y shal not take of þee a ſton in to a corner, and a ſton in to foundemens; but loſt þou ſhalt be in to wiþ oute ende, seiþ þe Lord.
xxvii Rereþ a tocne in þe lond, criþ wiþ a trumpe in mounteynes; halewiþ vp on it Jentilis, telleþ out aȝen it to þe kingus of Ararath, of Menny, and of Ascheneth; noumbreþ aȝen it Thasor, bringeþ to vp on it hors, as bruke hauende tongue.
xxviii Halewiþ vp on it Jentilis, kingus of Mede, his dukus, and alle his maifer iugis, and al þe lond of his power.
xxix And al to-moued ſhal be þe lond, and diſturbid; for wakide out aȝen Babylon þe þoȝt of þe Lord, þat he poote þe lond of Babylon deſert, and vnabitable.
xxx Ceseden þe ſtronge men of Babylon fro bataile, þei dwelten in places of refut; deououred is þer ſtalwr̄benesse, and made þei ben as wymmen; brend vp ben his tabernaclis, to-broſid ben his barres.

xxxi Þe rennere to meeþ wiþ þe rennere ſhal come, and þe messenger to meeþ wiþ þe tellere, þat he telle out to þe king of Babiloyne, for taken is his cite fro þe ouermoſt to þe ouermoſt;

xxxii and þe forþis ben bifor occupied, and þe merſhis ben brend vp wiþ fyr, and þe men fiȝteres ben diſturbid.

xxxiii For þese þingus ſeip þe Lord of oftis, God of Israel, þe doȝter of Babilon as a corn floor, tyme of his preſhing; ȝit a litil, and come ſhal þe tyme of his reping.

xxxiv Eet me, deouorede me Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne; he ȝeeld me as a voide vessel, ſoupede me vp as a dragoun; he fulſilde his wombe wiþ my tenderneſſe, and caſte me out.

xxxv Wickenesse aȝen me, and my flesh vp on Babiloyne, ſeip þe dwelling of Sion; and my blod vp on þe dwelleres of Calde, ſeip Jerufalem.

xxxvi Perfore þese þingus ſeip þe Lord, Lo! Y ſhal deme þi caufe, and venge þi vengyng; and deſert ſhal make his fe, and ſhal drien his veyne.

xxxvii And Babylon ſhal be in to mynde hepis, þe dwelling of dragounus, ſtoneing and whiſtling, for þi þat þer is not a dweller to giſtere.

xxxviii And leouns ſhul rore, and ſhake out ſhul her lockus, as þe whelpus of leouns.

xxxix In þe hete of hem Y ſhal putte þer drinc; and Y ſhal drunkne þem, þat þei ben greeued wiþ ſlep, and ſlepen an euere durende ſlep, þat þey riſe not, ſeip þe Lord.

xli I ſhal lede þem doun as lombis to ſlayn ſacrifiſe, and as weþeris wiþ kidus.

xlii Hou taken is Cifac, and caȝt is þe glorious of al erþe? What maner mad is in to ſtoneyng Babilon among Jentilis?

xliii And ſteȝede vp vp on Babilon þe fe, wiþ þe multitude of his flodus it is couered.

xliii Mad ben his cites in to ſtoneyng, þe lond vnabitable and deſert; þe lond in whiche no man dwelle, ne paſſe þurȝ it þe lone of man.

xliii And Y ſhal viſite vp on Bel in to Babilon, and þrouwen awei þat, þat it hadde ſoupid vp fro his mouþ, and ſhul no mor flowe to it Jentilis; forſoþe and þe wal of Babiloyne ſhal at ones falle.

xlv Gop out fro his myddel, my purple, þat eche man faue his lif fro þe wraþe of þe wodneſſe of þe Lord; xlvi and leſt par auenture waxe neſthe ȝoure herte, and ȝee drede þe heering, þat ſhal be herd in þe lond; and come ſhal in a ȝeer heering, and after þis ȝer heering and wickenesse in þe lond, and lordſhipere vp on lordſhipere.

xlvii Perfore lo! ȝaȝes comen, ſeip þe Lord, and Y ſhal viſite vp on grauen þingus of Babiloyne; and al hys lond ſhal be confoundid, and alle his ſlayne ſhuln falle in his myddel.

xlviii And preife ſhul vp on Babiloyne heuenus, and erþe, and alle þingus þat in hem ben; for fro þe norþ ſhul come to it reueres, ſeip þe Lord.

xlxi And hou dide Babilon, þat fallen ſhulde ſlayn men in Israel, fo fro Babylon falle ſhul ſlayn men in al þe lond.

l ȝee þat fledden þe fwerd, come, and wileþ not ſtonde; recordþ aferr of þe Lord, and Jerufalem ſteȝe vp on ȝoure herte.

li Confoundid wee ben, for wee han herd repreſ; couerde ſhenshypre oure faces, for þer camen alienus vp on þe halewing of þe hous of þe Lord.

lii Perfore lo! ȝaȝes comen, ſeip þe Lord, and Y ſhal viſite vp on þe grauen þingus of Babiloyne, and in al his lond loowen ſhal þe woundid.

liii If ſteȝen ſhul Babilon in to heuene, and fastne in heiȝte his ſtalwr̄benesse, to me ſhul come his waſteres, ſeip þe Lord.

liiii Vois of þe criende fro Babilon, and gret to-treding fro þe lond of Caldeis, lv for þe Lord waſtide Babilon, and loſt of it a gret vois; and ſowne ſhuln his flodus as many watris. ȝaf ſoun þe vois of hem, lii for þer cam vp on it, þat is, vp on Babilon, þe reuere; and caȝt ben his ſtronge men, and drieðe out þe bowe of þem, for a ſtronge vengere þe Lord; ȝeldende aȝeyn he ſhal ȝelde.

liii And Y ſhal drunkne his princes, and his wife men, his dukis, and his maifte iugis, and his ſtronge men; and þei ſhul ſlepen an euere laſtende ſlep, and þei ſhul not ben wakid, ſeip þe king, Lord of oftus his name.

lviii Peſe þingus ſeip þe Lord God of oftus, þe wal of Babilon he þe heiest wiþ vndermyning ſhal be vndermyned, and his heȝe ȝatus ſhul be brend wiþ fyr; and þe traualis of puples at noȝt, and of Jentilis 'in to fyr þei ſhul ben, and perſhen.

lix And þe wrd þat Jeremye, þe profete, comaundide to Saraie, ſone of Nerie, ſone of Masie, whan he ſhulde go wiþ king Sedechie in to Babiloyne, in þe ferþe ȝer of his regne; Saraie forſoþe was prince of profecie.

lx And Jeremye wrot al þe euel, þat was to com vp on Babilon, in o boc, alle þese wrdus þat ben write aȝen Babilon.

lxi And Jeremye feide to Saraie, Whan þou ſhalt come in to Babilon, and ſeen, and reden alle þese wrdus, lxii þou ſhalt ſei, Lord, þou ſpeeke aȝen þis place, þat þou ſhuldif destroȝe it, þat þer be not þat in it dwelle, fro man vn to beſte, and þat þer be perpetuel wilderneſſe.

lxiii And whan þou haſt ful endid to rede þis boc, þou ſhalt binde to it a ſton, and þrouwen it in to þe myddel of Eufraten;

Ixiii and sey, So shal be dreynt Babilon, and not rise fro þe face of þe tormenting, þat Y bringe vp on it, and it shal be loosed. Hiderto þe wrdus of Jeremye.

Capitulum LII.

- i The sone of oon and twenti ȝer was Sedechie, whan he to regnen hadde bigunne, and elleuene ȝer he regnede in Jerusalem; and name of his moder Amycal, doȝter of Jeremye of Lobna.
- ii And he dide in þe eȝen of þe Lord euelis, after alle pinges þat don hadde Joachym.
- iii For þe wodnesse of þe Lord was in Jerusalem, and in Juda, for to þat he shulde aferr þrowe þem fro hys face. And Sedechyre wente awei fro þe king of Babiloyne.
- iv Don is forþoþe in þe nynþe ȝer of his regne, in þe tenþe moneþ, þe tenþe dai of þe moneþ, cam Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, he and al his oft, aȝen Jerusalem; and besegeden it, and bilden aȝen it strengþingus in cumpas.
- v And þe cite was besegid, vnto þe elleuenþe ȝer of þe regne of Sedechie.
- vi Þe ferþe forþoþe monyþ, þe nynþe dai of þe moneþ, hunger wiþheeld þe cite; and þer were not foodis to þe puple of þe lond.
- vii And broken is þe cyte, and alle his men fȝiteres floun; and þei wenten out of þe cite þe nyȝt, bi þe weie of þe ȝate, þat is betwen two wallis, and ledeþ to þe gardyn of þe king, þe Caldeis besegende þe cite in cumpas; and þei wenten awei bi þe wey þat ledeþ in to wildernesse.
- viii Forþoþe þe oft of Caldeis pursueden þe king, and caȝten Sedechie in desert, þat is biside Jericho; and al his oft fleiȝ awei fro hym.
- ix And whan þei hadden take þe king, þei broȝten hym to þe king of Babiloyne in Reblatha, þat is in þe lond of Emath; and he spac to hym domus.
- x And þe king of Babiloyne kutte þe protos of þe sonus of Sedechie in his eȝen; but and al þe princes of Jude he floȝ in Reblatha.
- xi And þe eȝen of Sedechie he putte out, and bond hym in gyues; and þe king of Babiloyne broȝt hym in to Babiloyne, and putte hym in to þe hous of þe prisoun, vnto þe dai of his deþ.
- xii In þe fifte forþoþe moneþ, in þe tenþe dai of þe moneþ, it is þe nyntenþe ȝer of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyne, cam Nabufardan, prince of þe chyualrie, þat stod bifor þe king of Babiloyne, in to Jerusalem.
- xiii And he brende vp þe hous of þe Lord, and þe hous of þe king, and alle þe houses of Jerusalem; and eche gret hous wiþ fyr he brente.
- xiv And al þe oft of Caldeis, þat was wiþ þe maister of chyualrie, destroȝede al þe wal of Jerusalem bi enuyroun.
- xv Of þe pore men forþoþe of þe puple, and of þe toþer comun, þat hadde abiden in þe cite, and of þe fugitifis, þat floun to þe king of Babilon, and þe toþere of þe multytude, translatede Nabufardan, prince of þe chyualrie.

xvi Of þe pore men forþoþe of þe lond, lafte Nabufardan, þe prince of þe chyualrie, in to vyne tilieres, and in to feld tilieres.

xvii Alſo þe brasene pileeres, þat weren in þe hous of þe Lord, and þe feet, and þe brasene se, þat was in þe hous of þe Lord, Caldeis to-breeken; and token al þe bras of hem in to Babiloyne;

xviii and cawdrones, and flesshokes, and fautrees, and violis, and litil morteres, and alle þe brasene vessellis, þat weren in seruise;

xix and þei toke þe stenes, and þe fense vessellis, and þe water vessellis, and bacynes, and candilstickes, and litil morteres, and cuppes; hou fele goldene, goldene, and hou fele siluerene, siluerene.

xx Toc þe maister of chyualrie two pileres, and o se, and þe twelue brasene calues þat waren vnder þe feet, þat king Salomon hadde mad in þe hous of þe Lord. Per was no peis of þe bras of alle þes vessellus.

xxi Of þe pileres forþoþe, eiȝtetene cubitis of heiȝte weren in þe o piler, and a litil corde of twelue cubitus wente aboue it; but his gretnesse of foure fingris, and wiþ ynne forþ it was holȝ.

xxii And þe hedus vp on eiper braȝene; and þe heȝte of oen hed of fyue cubitus; and þe litil nettus and þe poumgarnetus vp on þe crowne in cumpas, al was brasene. Lic maner was þe secounde piler, and þe poumgarnetus; and þer weren vp on þe hed in cumpas alle brasene, lic maner of þe toþer piler.

xxiii And þer weren nynty poumgarnetes and sixe hangende, and alle þe poumgarnetus waren cumpassid wiþ an hundred litil nettus.

xxiv And þe maister of chyualrie toc Saraiam, þe first prest, and Sofonyam, þe secounde prest, and þe þre keperes of þe vestiarie.

xxv And of þe cite he toc o gelding, þat was prouost vp on þe men fȝiteres; and þe feuen men of hem þat seȝen þe face of þe king, þat ben founde in þe cite; and þe scribe, prince of þe knyȝtus, þat proueden þe newe maad knyȝtus; and þe fixti men of þe puple of þe lond, þat ben founde in þe myddel of þe cite.

xxvi Toc forþoþe þem Nabufardan, maister of þe chyualrie, and broȝte hem to þe king of Babiloyne in Reblatha.

xxvii And smot hem þe king of Babiloyne, and floȝ hem in Reblatha, in þe lond of Emath; and translatede is Juda fro his lond.

xxviii Pis is þe puple, whom translatede Nabugodonosor, in þe feuenþe ȝer; Jewis, þre þousend and þre and twenty.

xxix In þe eiȝetenþe ȝer, Nabugodonosor translatede fro Jerusalem eiȝte hundred lyues and two and þretty.

xxx Pe þre and twentie ȝer of Nabugodonosor, translatide Nabufardan, maister of þe chyualrie, of Jewes feuene hundrid lyues and fyue and fourty. Alle þanne þe lyues foure þousend and sixe hundred.

xxi And don is, in þe feuene and prettiþe ȝeer of þe transmygracioun of Joachym, king of Juda, þe twelfþe moneþ, þe fyue and twentyþe dai of þe moneþ, rerede vp Euilmeredoc, king of Babiloyne, þat ȝer of his regne þe hed of Joachym, king of Juda; and broȝte hym 'out of þe hous of þe prisoun, xxii and spac wiþ hym goode þingus; and putte his trone vpon þe tronus of kingis, þat weren after hym in Babiloyne, xxviii and chaungede þe cloþis of his prisoun; and eet bred bifor hym euermor, alle dæs of his lif.

xxxiv And his metus, metus perpetuel weren ȝoue to hym of þe king of Babilon, ordeyned bi 'dæs arewe, vnto þe dai of his deþ, alle þe dæs of his lif.

And don is, after þat in to caitifte is broȝt Israel, and Jerusalem is destroȝed, fat Jeremye, þe profete, wepende, and weilede wiþ þis lamentacioun Jerusalem; and wiþ bitter inwit ſjhende, and criende Weile awei! feide.

LAMENTACIOUN.

Her gynneþ þe Lamentacioun of Jeremye, þat is in title Cenoth, wiþ þe foylinge out of Ebru lettris.

Capitulum I.

- i Aleph. Hou fitteþ alone þe cite ful of puple? mad is as a widewe þe ladi of folc of kinde; prince of prouynces mad is vnder tribute.
- ii Beth. Wepende she wepte in þe nyȝt, and þe teres of hir in hir chekus; þer is not þat coumforte hir, of alle hir derwrþe; alle her frendus dispiseden hir, and ben mad to hir enemys.
- iii Gimel. Passyde Juda for þe affliccioun and þe multitude of seruage, dwellide among Jentiles, ne she fond reste; alle hir pursuerus caȝten hir among anguyſſhis.
- iv Deleth. Þe weies of Sion weilen, for þi þat þer ben not, þat come to þe solempnetye; alle hir ȝatus ben stroȝed, hir prestys weilende, hir maidenus foule, and she opressed wiþ bitternesse.
- v He. Mad ben hir enemys in þe hed, and hir enemys ben richid, for þe Lord spac vp on hir. For þe multitude of hir wickenesse hir litil childer ben lad in to caitifte, bifor þe face of þe trublende.
- vi Vau. And wente out fro þe doȝter of Sion 'al hir fairnesse; mad ben hir princes as weþeres not fyndende leþwis, and þei wenten awei wiþoute strengþe bifor þe face of þe folewere.
- vii Sai. And recordide Jerusalem of þe daies of hir affliccioun and trespass, and of alle hir desirable þingus þat she hadde fro þe olde daies; whan shulde falle hir

- puple in þe enemys hond, and þer was not an helpere; seȝen hir þe enemys, and scorneden hir sabatus.
- viii Heth. A synne synnede Jerusalem, þerfore vnstable she is mad; alle þat glorifieden hir dispiseden hir, for þei seȝen hir shenſhipe; she forſoþe weilende, and is turned bacward.
- ix Teth. Þe filþis of hir in hir feet, and she recordide not of hir ende; do doun she is hugeli, not hauende a comfortour; fee, Lord, my tormenting, for rered vp is þe enemy.
- x Joth. His hond sente þe enemy to alle hir desirable þingus; for she faȝ Jentilis gon in to hir seytuarie, of whiche þou haddist comaundid, þat þei shulde not go in to þi chirche.
- xi Caf. Al hir puple weilende and fechende bred, and ȝeeuen eche preciouſe þingus for mete to be refreshid þe soule; fee, Lord, and behold, for mad Y am foul.
- xii Lameth. O! alle ȝee þat passen bi þe weie, takeþ heed, and seeþ, if þer is forewe as my forewe; for to pullid me it haþ, as þe Lord spac in þe dai of þe wraþe of his wodnessse.
- xiii Men. Fro an heiȝ he sente fyr in my bonus, and lernede me; spredde out a net to my feet, turnede me bacward; he sette me desolat, al dai wiþ mournyng defacid.
- xiv Nun. Wakide þe ȝoc of my wickenesse in his hond, wrappid þei ben togidere, and leid on my necke; feblid is my vertu; ȝaf me þe Lord in þe hond, of whiche Y shal not moun rise.
- xv Sameth. Toc awei þe Lord alle my grete wrþi doeres fro my myddel; he clepede aȝen me tyme, þat he tobroſe my chosene; þe preſſe trad þe Lord to þe maide, doȝter of Juda.
- xvi Ayn. Þerfore Y wepende, and myn eȝe ledende doun water; for ferr mad 'fro me is þe coumfortour, turnende my soule; mad ben my sonus lost, for mor myȝti was þe enemy.
- xvii Fee. Straȝte out Sion hir hondus, þer is not þat coumforte hir; þe Lord sente aȝen Jacob, in þe cumpas of hir, hir enemys; mad is Jerusalem as defoulid wiþ wymmen flux blodis among hem.
- xviii Sade. Riȝtwis is þe Lord, for his mouȝ to wraþe Y terrede; hereþ, Y besche, alle puplis, and seeþ my forewe; my maidenes and my ȝunge men wenten in to caitifte.
- xix Cof. I clepede my frendus, and þei bigileden me; my prestus and myn olde men in þe cite ben waſtid; for þei ſoȝten mete to þemself, þat þei refreshe þer soule.
- xx Res. See, Lord, for Y am trublid, al disturbid is my wombe; turned vp so doun is myn herte in myself, for of bitternesse ful Y am; wiþouteþorþ ſleep þe ſword, and at home dep is lyc.
- xi Syn. Þei herden, for Y inwardli weile, and þer is not þat coumforteþ me; alle myn enemys herden myn euel, gladiden, for þou didist; þou broȝtſt to dai of coumforting, and mad þei shul be lic me.

xxii Tau. Go yn al þe euel of hem bifor þee, and topulle hem, as þou to-pulledist me for my wickydnesses; manye forsoþe my weilingis, and myn herte moornende.

Capitulum II.

i Aleph. Hou aboute couerde wiþ mystynesse þe Lord in his wodnesse þe doþter of Sion? þreȝ aferr fro heuene in to þe glorious lond of Irael; and recordede not of his litil stēȝing stol of his feet, in þe dai of his wodnesse.

ii Beth. 'Pe Lord þreȝ doun, and sparede not, alle þe faire þingus of Jacob; destroȝede in his wodnesse þe strengþingis of þe maiden of Juda, þreȝ doun in to erþe; defoulide þe reume, and his princes.

iii Gimel. He to-brac in þe wraþe of his wodnesse eche horn of Irael; turnede awey bacward his riȝt hond fro þe face of þe enemy; and brende vp in to Jacob, as fyr of deuourende flawme in cumpas.

iv Deleth. He bente his bowe as an inward enemy, and he fafnede his riȝt hond as an vttermor enemy; and floȝ al þat was fair in siȝt in þe tabernacles of þe doþter of Sion; heeldide out as fyr his indignacioun.

v He. Mad is þe Lord as an enemy; tumblede doun Israel, he tumblede doun alle his walles; waftede his strengþingus, and fulfilde in þe doþter of Juda þe lowid man and þe lowid womman.

vi Vau. And he waftide as a gardyn his tent, destroȝede his tabernacle; to forȝeting toc þe Lord in Sion feste dai, and sabat; and repref, and indignacioun of his wodnesse, king and prest.

vii Sai. Putte abac þe Lord his auter, cursede to his halewing; toc in to þe hondus of þe enemy þe wallis of his toures; vois þei ȝeeuen in 'þe hous of þe Lord, as in solempne dai.

viii Heth. ȝoȝte þe Lord to scateren þe wal of þe doþter of Sion; he straȝte out his litil corde, and turnede not awei his hond fro perdiccioun; and he weilede bifor þe walling, and þe wal togidere is scatered.

ix Teth. Doun piȝt in þe erþe ben hir ȝatus, he loste and to-broȝide hir barres; his kingis and hys princes in Jentiles; þer is not lawe, and his profetis founden not viseoun of þe Lord.

x Joth. Seten in þe erþe, alle stille weren þe olde men; þe doȝtris of Sion springden wiþ askus þer hedis, ben gird to wiþ heires; þrewen awei in þe erþe þer hedus þe maidenus of Jerusalem, gird to þei ben wiþ heires;

xi Caph. Faileden for teres myn eȝen, disturbid ben my bowelis; held out is in þe erþe my mawe vp on þe to-treding of þe doþter of my puple; whan shulde faile þe litil child and þe soukende in þe stretus of þe burȝtoun.

xii Lameth. To þer modris þei seiden, Wher is þe whete, and wyn? whan þei shulden faile as woundid in þe stretus of þe cite; whan þei shulde breþen out þer soulis in þe bosum of þer modris.

xiii Men. To whom shal Y comparisoun þee? or to whom shal Y licnen þee, þou doȝter of Jerusalem? to whom shal Y euenen þee, and coumforte þee, þou maiden doȝter of Sion? gret forsoþe as þe sē þi contricioun; who shal lechen þee.

xiv Nun. ȝi profitus seeȝen to þee false, and fool þingus; and openeden not þi wickenesse, þat þee to penaunce þei shulde stere; þei seȝen forsoþe to þee fals takingis to, and þrowingis out.

xv Sameth. Flappeden 'vp on þee wiþ hondus alle þe passeres bi þe wey; whistleden, and moueden þer hed vp on þe doþter of Jerusalem; seiende, Wheþer þis is not þe cheef cite of parfit fairnesse, þe ioȝe of al erþe? xvi Ayn. Openeden vp on þee þer mouȝ alle þin enemyes; whistleden, and gnafteden wiþ þer teeb, and seiden, Wee shul deuoure; lo! þis is þe dai þat wee abiden, wee han founde, and seen.

xvii Fee. ȝe Lord dide þat he ȝoȝte, he fulfilde his wrd þat he comaundide fro þe olde daȝes; he destroȝede, and sparede not; and gladide vp on þee þe enemy, and enhauncede þe horn of þin enemys.

xviii Sade. Criede þe herte of hem to þe Lord, vp on þe wallis of þe doþter of Sion; bring doun as a stef strem teres, bi dai and nyȝt; ȝyue þou not reste to þee, ne be stille þe appil of þin eȝe.

xix Coph. Ris, preife þou in þe nyȝt, in þe bigynnyng of wacchis; heeld out as water þin herte, byfor þe siȝt of þe Lord; rere to hym þin hondus for þe soule of þi litil childer, þat for hunger pershen 'in þe hed of alle many weies 'in to oon.

xx Res. See, Lord, and behold, whom þou haft topullid; so before left shuln ete wymmen þer frut, litil childer at þe mesure of a spanne; for flayn is in þe seytuarie of þe Lord þe prest, and þe profete.

xi Syn. Leȝen in þe erþe wiþoute forþ þe child and þe olde man; my maidenes and my ȝunge men fallen in swerd flayn; in þe dai of þi wodnesse þou smyte, ne þou shalt han reuþe.

xxii Tau. þou clepedest, as to a solempne day, þat shulden fere me of þe cumpas; and þer was not þat shulde scape in þe dai of þe wodnesse of þe Lord, and be laft; whom Y broȝte forþ and nurfheðe, myn enemy wastede þem.

Capitulum III.

i Aleph. I 'a man seende my poreness in þe ȝerde of his indignacioun.

ii Aleph. Me he drof, and broȝt in to dercneſſis, and not in to liȝt.

iii Aleph. Onli in to me turnede, and conuertede his hond al dai.

iv Beth. For eldid he made my skyn, and my flesh; he to-broȝyde my bonus.

v Beth. He bilde vp in my cumpas, and cumpassed me wiþ galle and wiþ trauale.
vi Beth. In derke þingus he sette me, as deade men euere durende.
vii Gimel. He bilde aboute aȝen me, þat Y go not out; he aggregatede myn gyues.
viii Gimel. But and whan Y shal crien and preȝe, he clofede out myn oryfoun.
ix Gimel. He closede my weyes wiþ squar stonus; my styes he turnede vp so doun.
x Deleth. A waitende bere maad he is to me, a leoun in hid þingus.
xi Deleth. My pāpis he turnede vp so doun, and tobrac me; he putte me defolat.
xii Deleth. He bente his bowe, and sette me as a signe to þe arewe.
xiii He. He putte in my reynes þe doȝtris of his arewe cas.
xiv Hee. Y am mad in to scorne to al puple, þe song of þem al dai.
xv He. He fulfilde me wiþ bitterness; he drunknede me wiþ wrmod.
xvi Vau. He to-brac at noumbre my teeþ; he fedde me wiþ askus.
xvii Vau. And put a bac is my soule; Y forȝat of goodus. xviii Vau. And Y feide, Pershede myn ende, and myn hope fro þe Lord. xix Sai. Recorde of porenesse and of myn ouergoing, and of wrmod and of galle.
xx Say. Bi mynde Y shal be myndful; and failen in me shal my soule.
xxi Sai. Peþe þingus þenkende in myn herte, in God Y shal hope.
xxii Heth. Peþe mercyes of þe Lord manye, forþoþe wee ben not waſtid; for his mercyes faileden not.
xxiii Heth. Y kneȝ þe morutid; myche is þi feiþ.
xxiv Heth. My partie þe Lord, feide my soule; þerfore Y shal abiden hym. xxv Teth. Good is þe Lord to men hopende in hym, to þe soule fechende hym.
xxvi Teth. Good is to abide wiþ silence þe helþe ȝyuere of God.
xxvii Teth. Good is to þe man, þat haþ born þe ȝoc of þe Lord fro his waxende ȝouþe.
xxviii Joth. He shal fitte solitarie, and be stille; for he rerede hymself aboue hymself.
xxix Joth. He shal sette in pouder his mouþ, if par auenture þer be hope.
xxx Joth. He shal ȝyue to þe smytende hym þe cheke; he shal be fulfyld wiþ repreues.
xxxi Caph. For putten abac shul not þe Lord in to euermor.
xxxii Caph. For if he haue cast awei, and he shal haue mercy after þe multitude of his mercies.

xxxiii Caph. Forþoþe he loewede not of his herte; and caste awei þe sonus of man.
xxxiv Lameth. þat he shulde tobrose vnder his feet alle þe gyuede of þe lond.
xxxv Lameth. þat he shulde boowe doun þe dom of man, in þe siȝte of þe chere of þe heȝest.
xxxvi Lameth. þat he schuld mysturne a man in his dom, þe Lord kneȝ not.
xxxvii Men. Who ys þis þat feide, þat shulde be don, þe Lord not comaundende?
xxxviii Men. Of þe mouþ of þe heȝest shul not go out ne goode þingus ne euele.
xxxix Men. What grucchede a man lyuende, a man for his fynnes? xl Nun. Serche we oure weies, and seche, and be wee turned aȝeen to þe Lord.
xli Nun. Rere wee oure hertus wiþ hondus, to þe Lord in to heuenus.
xlii Nun. Wee wickeli diden, and to wraþe terreden; þerfore þou art vnprefiable.
xliii Sameth. þou coueridist in wodnesse, and smyte vs; þou flowe, and sparedist not.
xliii Sameth. þou puttest aȝen a cloude to þee, left passe þe preieer.
xlv Sameth. Pulling vp bi þe roote, and casting awei, þou puttist me, in þe myddel of puplus.
xlii Ain. Myn eȝe is tormentid, and was not stille; forþat þer was not reste.
xliii Ayn. To þe tyme þat shulde biholde and looke þe Lord fro heuenus. xlviii Ayn. Myn eȝe robbede my soule in alle þe doȝtris of my cheef cite.
xlii Fe. Openeden vp on vs þer mouþ, alle þe enemys.
i Fe. Ferd and gren don is to vs, profeciyng and contriciooun.
ii Fe. My eȝen broȝten doun deuyseouns of watri, in þe contriciooun of þe doȝter of my puple.
iii Sade. Bi hunting þei token me as a brid, myn enemys freeli.
iv Sade. Slyden is in to a grene my lyf; þei setten a ston vp on me.
viii Sade. Floweden watri vp on myn hed; Y leide, Y pershede.
iv Coph. I inwardli clepede þi name, Lord, fro þe laste grene.
vii Coph. þou neȝhedist in þe dai, whan Y inwardli clepede þee; þou seidist, Ne drede þou.
viii Res. þou demedest, Lord, þe cause of my soule, þou aȝeen biere of my lif.
ix Res. þou seeȝe, Lord, þe wickenesse of þem aȝen me; deme þou my dom.
x Res. þou seȝe eche wodnesse, alle þe þoȝtus of hem aȝens me.

- Ixi Syn. Pou haſt herd þe repreues of hem, Lord; alle þe þoȝtus of hem aȝen me.
- Ixii Sin. Þe lippis of men inrifende to me, and þe bïbenkingus of hem aȝen me al day.
- Ixiii Sin. Þe ſitting of hem and þe aȝeen riſing of hem fee; Y am þe ſalm of hem.
- Ixiii Tau. Pou ſhalt ȝelde to þem þe while, Lord, after þe werkis of þer hondus.
- Ixv Tau. Pou ſhalt ȝyue to þem þe ſhield of herte, þi traualie.
- Ixvi Tau. Pou ſhalt purſue in þi wodneſſe, and to-trede þem vnder heuenus, Lord.

Capitulum IIII.

- i Aleph. Hou biſome derc is gold, chaungid is þe beſt colour? ſcatered ben þe ſtonus of þe feyntuarie in þe hed of alle ſtretus.
- ii Beth. Þe ſonus of Sion glorious, and wrappid wiþ þe cheſ gold, in to erþene veſſeles, werk of þe hondis of a crockere.
- iii Gimel. But and þe cruel beeſtis clepid lamya, nakeden þer tetes, ȝeeuen þer whelpus fouken; þe doȝter of my purple cruel, as an ostrich in deſert.
- iv Deleth. Cleuede to þe tonge of þe ſoukende to his palet in þriſt; þe litil childer aſkeden bred, and þer was not þat ſhulde breke to þem.
- v He. þat eeten voluptuoſly, dieden in weies; þat wereſ nurſhid in 'faire clois of ſaffroun, han clippid poſtus.
- vi Vau. And more mad is þe wickedneſſe of þe doȝter of my purple þan þe synne of Sodomys, þat is turned vp fo doun in a moment, and toc not in to it hondus.
- vii Sai. Whittere is Nazareis þan fnoȝ, ſhyndere þan mylc; reddere þan old yuer, þan safyr fairere.
- viii Heth. Gretli blakid is aboue colis þe face of hem, and þei ben not knownen in ſtretus; cleuede to þe ſkyn to þe bonus of hem, it drieſe, and mad is as a tree.
- ix Teth. Betere was to be flayn men wiþ fwerd, þan to be flayn men wiþ hungir; for þei anoen ben dead, þeſe ful out faileden, ben towaſtis of þe bareyneſſe of þe erþe.
- x Joth. Þe hondus of merciful wymmen ſebeden þer ſonus; mad þei ben þe metus of hem in þe contricioñ of þe doȝter of my purple.
- xi Caf. Þe Lord fulſilde his wodneſſe, helde out þe wreþe of his indignacioñ; and þe Lord tende vp fyriñ in Sion, and deuourede his foundemens.
- xii Lameth. Leeueden not þe kingis of þe lond, and alle þe dwelleris of þe world, þat gon in ſhulde þe ferr enemy and þe nyȝ enemy bi þe ȝatus of Jeruſalem.
- xiii Men. For þe synnes of his profetus, and þe wickidneſſis of his preftus, þat heeldeden out in his myddil þe blod of riȝtwis men.

- xiv Nun. Erreden þe blinde in ſtretus, defoulid ben in blod; and whan þei myȝte not entre, þei heelden þer fwolwisi.
- xv Sameth. Goþ awei, ȝee defoulid, þei crieden to þem, departeþ awei, goþ awei, wileþ not touche; forſoþe þei iangleden, and ben to-ftired; ſeiden among Jentiles, He ſhal no more lei to, þat he dwelle in hem.
- xvi Ain. Þe face of þe Lord deuydede þem, he ſhal not adde, þat he beholde þem; þe faces of preftus þei ſhameden not, ne of þe olde men þei rewedēn.
- xvii Fee. Whan ȝit wee ſhulde ſtonden alyue, faileden oure eȝen to oure veyn help; whanne wee bihelden takende heed to þe folc of kinde, þat faue vs myȝte not.
- xviii Sade. þei maden flidery oure ſteppis in þe weie of oure ſtretes; neȝhede oure ende, fulſilde ben oure daȝes, for comen is oure ende.
- xix Cof. Swiftere wereſ oure purſueres þan egles of heuene vp on þe mounteinus; þei purſueden vs, in deſert þei ſetteden alſpies to vs.
- xx Res. Þe ſpirit of oure mouþ, Crist Lord, taken is in oure synnes; to whom we feiden, In þi ſhadewe wee ſhul lyue in folkus of kinde.
- xi Syn. Ioȝe, and glade, þou doȝter of Edom, þat dwellift in þe lond of Hus; to þee also ſhal come þe chalis, þou ſhalt be drunke, and nakeden.
- xii Tau. Fulſilde is þi wickenefſe, þou doȝter of Sion; he ſhal no more adde, þat he ouerpaffe þee; he ſhal viſite þi wickenefſe, þou doȝter of Edom, diſcouere he ſhal þi synnes.

Capitulum V.

Here begynneþ þe Orisoun of Jeremye, þe prophete.

- i Recorde, Lord, what haþ falles to vs; inwardly looke, and behold oure repref.
- ii Oure eretage turned is to alienes, oure houses to ſtraungeres.
- iii Faderles childer we ben mad wiþ oute fader; oure moders as widewis.
- iv Oure water in monee wee han drunke, oure trees for pris wee han boȝt.
- v Bi oure nollis we were dryue, and to þe weri was not ȝoue reſte.
- vi To Egipt wee ȝeeuen hond, and to Afſiries, þat wee ſhulde be fulſilde wiþ bred.
- vii Oure faders ſynneden, and ben not, and wee þe wickidneſſes of hem han born.
- viii Seruauns lordshipeden of vs, and þer was not, þat aȝeen ſhulde bie fro þe hond of hem.
- ix In oure lyues we broȝten to bred to vs, fro þe face of þe fwerd in deſert.
- x Oure ſkin as an ouene is tobrent, fro þe face of tempeſtus of hunger.

xi Wymmen in Sion þei meekiden, and maidenus in þe cities of Juda.
 xii Princes bi þe hond ben hangid vp; faces of olde men þei shameden not.
 xiii Þe ȝunge wymmen vnchaſtli þei mysufeden, and þe childer in tree togidere fallen.
 xiv Olde men faileden of þe ȝatus; ȝunge men of þe quer of syngeres.
 xv Failede þe ioȝe of oure herte; turned is in to weiling oure quer.
 xvi Fel þe croune of oure hed; wo to vs! for wee han fynned.
 xvii Perfore dreri mad is oure herte, perfore to-dercned ben oure eȝen.
 xviii For þe mount of Sion, for it disperisht; wlues ȝiden
 in it.
 xix Pou, forsoþe, Lord, in to wiþ oute ende shalt abide stille; þi see in to ieneracioun and to ieneracioun.
 xx Whi in to wiþ oute ende pou shalt forȝeten vs, þou shalt forfake vs in to be lengþe of dȝis?
 xxi Conuerte vs, Lord, to þee, and we shul be conuertid;
 newe þou oure dȝes, as fro þe bigynnnyg. xxii But castende awei þou haſt put vs out; þou wraþedist aȝen vs hugely.

Her endeþ Jeremye, and gynneþ þe prolog in þe boc clepid Baruch.

BARUCH.

Þe prolog of Baruch.

'This boc, þat Baruch bi name is bifor notid, in Ebru canoun is not had, but onli in þe comun tranflacioun; lyc maner and þe epistil of Jeremye; for þe knouleching forsoþe of rederes heer ben write; for many þingus of Crist and of þe laste tymes þei shewen.

Here begynneþ þe boke of Baruch, prophete.

Capitulum I.

i And þese ben þe wrdus of þe boc, þat wrot Baruch, þe sone of Neri, sone of Mafy, sone of Sedechie, sone of Sedei, sone of Elchie, in Babilon; ii in þe fifte ȝer, in þe feuenþe dai of þe moneþ, in þe tyme þat Caldeis token Jerusalem, and brenden it vp wiþ fyr.
 iii And Baruch radde þe wrdus of þis boc at þe eres of Jeconye, sone of Joachym, king of Juda, and at þe eres of al þe puple comende to þe boc; iii and at þe eres of þe myȝti men of þe sonus of kingus, and at þe eres of prestus, and at þe eres of þe puple, fro þe leſte vnto þe meſte of hem, alle dwellende in Babyloyn, and at þe flod of Sodi.
 v Þe whiche herende wepten, and fasteden, and preȝeden in þe liȝt of þe Lord.
 vi And þei gederen monee, after þat myȝte of eche þe hond.

vii And þei ſenten in to Jerufalem to Joachym, ſone of Elchie, ſone of Salen, þe preſt, and to þe preſtus, and to al þe puple þat ben founde wiþ hym in Jerufalem;
 viii whan þei ſhulde take þe veſſeles of þe temple, þat weren take awei fro þe temple, to aȝeen clepe 'in to þe lond of Juda, þe tenþe dai of þe moneþ Cybam; þe ſiluer veſſelis, þat Sedechie, ſone of Josie, king of Juda, made,
 ix after þat Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyn, hadde take Jeconye, and his princes, and alle þe myȝti, and þe puple of þe lond fro Jerufalem, and broȝte þem gyued in to Babiloyn.
 x And þei ſeiden, Lo! wee han ſent to ȝou mones, of whiche bieþ brent ſacrifiſe, and cens, and makeþ manaa, and offreþ for ſynne at þe auter of þe Lord oure God.
 xi And preȝeþ for þe lif of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyn, and for þe lif of Balthasar, his ſone, þat þe dȝes of þem be as þe dȝes of heuene vp on erþe; xii þat þe Lord ȝyue vertue to vs, and liȝtne oure eȝen, þat wee lyue vnder þe ſhadewe of Nabugodonosor, king of Babiloyn, and vnder þe ſhadewe of Balthasar, his ſone; and ferue wee to hem manye dȝes, and fynde wee grace in þe fyȝte of hem.
 xiii And for vs ſelf preȝeþ to þe Lord oure God, for wee han fynned to þe Lord oure God, and turned awei is not his wodneſſe fro vs, vn to þis dai.
 xiv And redeþ þis boc, þat wee han ſent to ȝou, to be rehered in þe temple of þe Lord, in a ſolempne dai, and in a couenable day.
 xv And ȝee ſhul fey, To þe Lord oure God riȝtwifneſſe, to vs forſoþe confusioun of oure face, as is þis dai to al Juda, and to þe dwelleris in Jerufalem, xvi to oure kingus, and to oure princes, to oure preſtus, and to oure profetus, and to oure faders.
 xvii We han fynned bifor þe Lord oure God, and wee han not leeued, myſtroſtende in to hym.
 xviii And we wer not ſoitable 'to hym, and wee wel herden not þe vois of þe Lord oure God, þat wee ſhulde go in his maundemens þat he ȝaf to vs; xix fro þe dai þat he ladde out oure faders fro þe lond of Egyp, vn to þis dai, we weren myſtrowable to þe Lord oure God; and ſcatered we wenten awey, leſt wee ſhulde heren þe vois of hym.
 xx And þer cleueden to vs many euelis, and cursingus, þe whiche þe Lord ſette to his feruaunt Moifes; þat ladde out oure faders fro þe lond of Egyp, to ȝyue to vs þe lond flowende mylc and hony, as in þis day.
 xxi And wee herden not þe vois of þe Lord oure God, after alle þe wrdus of profetus, þat he ſente to vs, and to oure iugis;
 xxii and we wenten awey, eche in to þe wit of oure lhreude herte, to werche to alien godus, doende euelus bifor þe eȝen of þe Lord owre God.

Capitulum II.

i For whiche þing ordeynede þe Lord oure God his wrd, þat he spac to vs, and to oure iuges þat demeden Jerusalem, and to oure kingus, and to oure princes, and to al Israel and Juda;
 ii þat þe Lord shulde bringe to vp on vs grete euelis, þat ben not do vnder heuene, as ben do in Jerufalem; after þat ben write in þe lawe of Moises, iii þat a man shulde ete þe flesh of his sone, and þe flesh of his doþter.
 iv And he ȝaf hem in þe hond of alle kingus, þat ben in oure cumpas, in to repref, and in to desolacioun in alle puplis, in whiche scaterede vs þe Lord.
 v And wee ben mad vnderneþe, and not aboue; for we han synned to þe Lord oure God, not wel herende þe vois of hym.
 vi To þe Lord oure God riȝtwisnesse, to vs forsoþe and to oure faders shenþiþe of þe face, as is þis dai.
 vii For þe Lord spac vp on vs alle þese euelis, þat camen vp on vs.
 viii And wee louli prezeden not þe face of þe Lord oure God, þat wee shulden turne aȝeen, eche of vs fro oure werft weies.
 ix And þe Lord woc in euelis, and broȝte þem vp on vs; for riȝtwis is þe Lord in alle his werkus þat he sente to
 vs.
 x And wee herden not þe vois of hym, þat we shulde go in þe heftes of þe Lord, þat he ȝaf bifor oure face. xi And now, Lord God of Israel, þat broȝtist out þi puple fro þe lond of Egipt in a strong hond, and in signes, and wndris, and in þi grete vertue, and in an hyȝ arm, and madist to þee a name, as is þis day;
 xii wee han synned, vnpitously wee han born vs, wickeli wee han do, Lord oure God, in alle þi riȝtwisnesses.
 xiii Be turned awey by wraþe fro vs; for wee ben laft a fewe among Jentilis, wher þou haft scatered vs.
 xiv Heere, Lord, oure preieeres, and oure orisounus, and bring vs out for þee; and ȝif to vs to finde grace bifor þe face of hem, þat ladden vs awey; xv þat al erþe wite, for þou art Lord oure God, and for þi name is inwardli clepid vp on Israel, and vp on þe kinde of hym.
 xvi Bihold, Lord, fro þin hoeli hous in to vs, and bowe in þin ere, and ful out here vs.
 xvii Opene þin eȝen, and see; for not þe deade þat ben in helle, whos spirit is taken fro þer bowelis, shul ȝyue wrshipe and iustifiyng to þe Lord;
 xviii but þe soule þat is fori vp on þe mykilnesse of euel, and goþ bowid, and meekid, and þe eȝen failende, and þe soule hungrende, ȝyueþ to þee glorie and riȝtwisnesse, Lord. xix Whiche not after þe riȝtwisnesse of oure faders heelden out mercy bifor þi liȝt, Lord oure God; xx but for þou sentist þi wraþe and þi wodnesse vp on vs, as þou speeke in þe hondus of þi childer profetus, seiende,

xxi þus seiþ þe Lord, Bowiþ doun ȝoure shuldris, and ȝoure nol, and doþ trauaile to þe king of Babiloyne; and ȝee shul sitte in þe lond, þat Y ȝaf to ȝoure faders.
 xxii þat if ȝee shul not don, ne here þe vois of þe Lord oure God, to werche to þe king of Babiloyne, xxiii ȝoure failing Y shal make fro þe cites of Juda, and fro þe zatus of Jerufalem; and Y shal take awei fro ȝou þe vois of merþe, and þe vois of ioȝe, and vois of þe man spouse, and vois of þe womman spouse; and ben shal al þe lond wiþ outh step from þe dwelleres in to it.
 xxiv And þei herden not by vois, þat þei shulde wrche to þe king of Babiloyne; and þou settedest þi wrdus, þat þou speeke in þe eres of þi childer profetus, þat translatid shulde be þe bonus of oure kingus, and þe bonus of oure faders fro þis place.
 xxv And lo! þei ben cast forþ in þe hete of þe sunne, and in þe frost of þe nyȝt; and þei ben dead in werft forwes, in hunger, and in swerd, and in sending out.
 xxvi And þou settedist þi temple, in whiche is inwardli clepid þi name in it, as þis dai, for þe wickenes of þe hous of Israel, and of þe hous of Juda.
 xxvii And þou haft don in vs, Lord oure God, after þi goodnesse, and after al þat þi grete mercy doing, xxviii as þou speeke in þe hond of þi child Moises, in þe dai þat þou comaundedist to hym to write þi lawe bifor þe sonus of Israel, seiende, xxix If ȝee shul not here my vois, þis grete multetude shal be turned in to þe leste folc of kinde, for þem Y shal scatere;
 xxx for Y wot, þat mee shal not here þe puple. Þe puple is forsoþe wiþ an hard nol, and shal be turned to his herte, in þe lond of his caitife; xxxi and þei schul wite, for Y am þe Lord God of hem.
 And Y shal ȝyue to þem an herte, and þei shul vndirtonde, and eres, and þei shul here.
 xxxii And þei shuln preise me in þe lond of þer caitife, and myndful þei shul be of my name.
 xxxiii And þei shul turnen awei þemself fro þer harde rig, and fro þer cursidhedus; for þei shul remembre þe weie of þer fadris, þat synned in me.
 xxxiv And Y shal aȝeen clepe hem in to þe lond, þat Y swor to þe fadris of hem, Abraham, Ilaac, and Jacob; and þei shul lordshipen of it. And Y shal multeplie þem, and þei shul not be laffid.
 xxxv And Y shal sette to þem 'an oþer testament euere durende, þat Y be to þem in to a Lord, and þei shul be to me in to a puple. And Y shal no more moue my puple, þe sonus of Israel, fro þe lond þat Y ȝaf to þem.

Capitulum III.

i And now, Lord God of Israel, þe soule in anguyfþes, and þe spirit tormentid criþ to þee.
 ii Heere, Lord, and haue mercy; for God þou art merciful. And haue mercy of vs, for wee han synned bifor þee,

iii þat sittist in to euermor, and wee shul not pershe in to þe spirituel during.

iv Lord God al myȝti, God of Israel, here now þe orisoun of þe deade men of Israel, and of þe sonus of hem, for þei han synned bifor þee, and þei herden not þe vois of þe Lord þer God, and ioyned ben to vs euelis.

v Wile þou not han mynde of þe wickenesse of oure fadris, but haue mynde of þin hond and of þi name in þis tyme;

vi for þou art Lord oure God, and wee shul preise þee, Lord.

vii For þat þou haft ȝoue þi drede in oure hertes, þat wee inwardli clepe þi name, and preise þee in oure caitifte; for wee shul be turned fro þe wickenesse of oure fadris, þat synneden in þee.

viii And lo! wee in oure caitifte ben to dai, þat vs þou haft scatered, in to repref, and in to cursing, and in to synne, after alle þe wickidnessis of oure fadris, þat wenten awei fro þee, Lord oure God.

ix Here þou, Israel, þe maundemens of lif; wiþ eres parcyue, þat þou wite prudence.

x What is, Israel, þat in þe lond of þe enemys þou art? þou haft eldid in an alien lond, þou art defoulid wiþ deade men, xi þou art fet wiþ men goende doun in to helle?

xii Pou haft forfake þe welle of wiðdam;

xiii for if in þe weies of God þou haddeft go, þou shuldist han dwellid forsoþe in pes vp on erþe.

xiv Lerne, wher be prudence, wher be vertue, wher be vnderstanding, þat þou wite togidere, wher be long abiding of lyf and of liflode, wher be liȝt of eȝen, and pes.

xv Who fond his place? who entride in to his tresores?

xvi Wher ben þe princes of Jentilys, and þat lordshipen of bestes, þat ben vpon erþe?

xvii þat in þe briddis of heuene pleien; þat siluer tresoren and gold, in whiche trosten men, and þer is noon ende of þe purchasing of hem?

xviii þat siluer forgen, and ben besy, ne þer is finding of þe werkus of hem?

xix þei ben outlawid, and to helle þei wente doun; and oþyr men in þe place of hem risen.

xx Pe ȝunge men of hem sawen liȝt, and dwelten on erþ. Soþely þei knewen not þe wei of disciplyne, xxi neþer vndirstoden þe papis of it; neþer þe fones of hem rescyeueden it. Fro þe face of hem it is maad fer;

xxii it is not herd in þe lond of Canaan, neþer it is seen in Theman.

xxiii And þe fones of Agar, þat souȝten out prudence þat is of erþ, þe marchauntis of erþ, and Theman, and þe fablers, or ianglers, and seekers out of prudence, and of vnderstandinge; soþely þei knewen not þe wei of wiðdam, neþer hadden mynde of þe paapis þerof.

xxiv O! Yrael, hou grete is þe hous of God, and hou grete þe place of his possessioun; xxv gret and not hauynge eende, heeȝ and wiþ outen mesure grete.

xxvi Þer weren named gyauntis; þo þat fro þe bigynnyng were in grete stature, witynge bataile.

xxvii þe Lord chese not þese, neþer þei founden þe weie of discipline;

xxviii þerfor þei pershiden. And for þei hadde not wiðdam, þei pershiden for her vnwijdam.

xxix Who steiȝede in to heuen, and toke it, and ledde it doun fro cloudis?

xxx Who paſſide ouer þe se, and foonde it, and brouȝt it to, vpon chosen gold?

xxxi Þer is not, þat may wite þe waies þerof, neþer þat sekij out þe papes þerof;

xxxii bot he þat wote alle þingis, knewȝ it, and foond it by his prudence. þe whiche maade redy þe erþ in euerlaftyng tyme, and fulfilled it wiþ feeld bestes, and four footid bestis.

xxxiii þe whiche sendij out liȝt, and it gob; and he clepid it, and it obeischede to hym in tremblyng.

xxxiv Forsoþ sterriȝ ȝauen liȝt in her keepyngus, and gladiden; þei ben clepid, and þei seiden, We cummen to; and þei shyneden to hym wiþ mirþ, þat maad hem.

xxxv Þis is our God, and oper shal not ben geſſid aȝenis hym.

xxxvi He þis foonde al weie of disciplyne, and bitoke it to Jacob, his child, and to Yrael, his derworþ.

xxxvii After þese þingus he was seen in erþis, and lyued wiþ men.

Capitulum III.

i This boke of þe maundementis of God, and þe lawe þat is in to wiþ outen eend. Alle men þat holden it, shuln perfity cummen to liȝf. Forsoþ þei þat shuln forfake it, in to deb.

ii Jacob, be þou conuertid, and cacche it; walke by þe waye to þe shynynge of it, aȝeinus þe liȝt of it.

iii Bitake þou not þi glorie to an oper, and þi dignitee to alien folk.

iv Yrael, we ben bleſſid; for what þingus ben plesaunt to God, ben knownen to vs.

v Pou peple of God, be of euener inwitt, or more stable, þou Yrael, worþi of mynde.

vi ȝe ben fold to heiȝen men, not in to perdioun; bot for þat in wrab ȝee terriden God to wrabfulnesse, ȝee ben bitaken to aduersaries.

vii Forsoþ ȝee steriden to bitternesse þe euerlaftyng God, þat made ȝou; offrynge to deuyls, and not to God.

viii Soþli ȝee han forȝeeten hym þat nurishide ȝou, and ȝee han maad forewful Jerusalem, ȝour nurſhe.

ix Soþeli it sawe wrabfulnesse of God cummyng to ȝou; and faide, ȝee niȝ cooftis of Syon, heere; forsoþ God brouȝt to me grete mournynge.

x Forsoþ I seeȝ þe caitifte of my peple, of my fones and douȝtris, whiche þe euerlaftyng aboue brouȝte to hem.

xi Soþeli I nurishide hem wiþ mirþe; forsoþe I left hem wiþ weepyng and mournynge.
xii No man haue ioye vp on me, widue and desolate. I am left, or forsaken, of manye, for þe synnes of my sones; for þei bowiden awei fro þe lawe of God.
xiii Forsoþ þei wisten not þe riȝtwisnese of hym; neþer walkiden bi weies of þe heestis of God, ne bi þe paapis of treueþe of hym þei entreden wiþ riȝtwisnese.
xiv Cum þe niȝ cooftis of Syon, and biþenke þei þe caitiffee of my sones and douȝtris, þe whiche þe euerlaftyng aboue brouȝte to hem.
xv Forsoþ he brouȝte vpon hem a folc fro fer, a folc vnsaciablie, or vnrestful, and of an oþer tung; whiche dredden not wiþ reuerence an olde man, neþer hadden mercy of children;
xvi and ledden aweie þe sones of widue, and maaden desolat þe aloon womman fro sonys.
xvii Forsoþ what may I help ȝou?
xviii Forsoþe he þat broȝte euyl þingus vpon ȝou, shal delyuere ȝou fro þe hondis of ȝour enmyes.
xix Wandre ȝee, sones, wandre; I soþli am forsaken aloon.
xx I haue vncloþide me þe stole of pese; forsoþe I cloþide me wiþ sak of bisechynge, and I shal crie to þe biehest in my days.
xi Sones, be ȝee of betir herte, or stabler; crie ȝee to þe Lord, and he shal delyuere ȝou fro þe hond of princes, enmyes.
xxii Soþeli I hopide in to wiþ outen eend ȝour helþ, and ioye came to me of þe holy vpon mercye, þat shal cum to ȝou of ȝour saueour euerlaftyng.
xxiii Forsoþ I sent ȝou out wiþ mournyng and weepyng; forsoþ God shal aȝein lede ȝou to me wiþ ioye and mirþe in to wiþ outen eende.
xxiv Soþeli as þe neiȝbores of Syon fawen ȝour caitife of God, so þei shuln fee and in haft ȝour helþ of God, þat shal aboue cum to ȝou wiþ grete honour in euerlaftyng shynynge.
xxv Sones, suffre ȝe pacientli þe wraþ, þat aboue commiȝ to ȝou; forsoþ þin enmye pursuede þee, bot sone þou shalt see perdiccion of hym, and vpon þe nolis of hym þou shalt lteiȝ vp.
xxvi My delicatis, or nurshid in deliciis, walkiden sharp weies; soþeli þei weren led as a floc rauyshide wiþ enmyes.
xxvii Sones, be ȝee of euener herte, or stabler, and afer crie ȝee to þe Lord; soþeli ȝour mynde shal be of hym þat lediȝ ȝou.
xxviii Forsoþ as ȝour witt was for to erre fro God, eft sone tenn fo myche ȝee conuertyng shuln `aȝen seeken hym.
xxix Forsoþe he þat ledde in to ȝou euyl þingus, shal bryng eft lone to ȝou myrþe euerlaftyng wiþ ȝour helþ.
xxx Jerusalem, be þou more stable, or of better herte; soþeli he þat namede þee, monestiȝ þee.

xxxi þei þat traueiliden þee, shuln apeere noyinge, or gilty; and þei þat þankiden in þi fallyng, shuln be punyshide. xxxii þe citees to whom þi sones feruyden, shuln be punishid, and it þat toke þi sones.
xxxiii Soþeli as it ioyide in þi fallyng, and gladdide in þi caas, or tribulacioun, so it shal be forewful in his desolacion.
xxxiv And þe mirþ wiþ outen forþ of multitude þerof shal be kitt aweye, and þe ioye of it shal be in to mournyng.
xxxv Forsoþ fijr shal aboue cum to it of þe euerlaftyng, and longe duyryng days; and it shal be enhabitid of deuylis, in to mychilnesse of tyme.
xxxvi Jerusalem, beholde aboue to þe eest, and see þe myrþe cummynge to þee of God.
xxxvii Loo! forsoþ þi sones cummen, whom þou leftist scaterid; þei gadrid cummen to þee fro þe eest vn to þe west in þe word of þe holy, ioying in to honour of God.

Capitulum V.

i Jerufalem, vncloþe þee þe stoole of mournyng, and of þi traueile; and cloþe þee wiþ fairnesse, and honour of it, þat is to þee of God in euerlaftyng glorie.
ii Forsoþ God shal enuyroun þee wiþ double cloþe of riȝtwisnese, and shal putte to þin heued a mytre of euerlaftyng honoure.
iii Forsoþ God shal shewe in þee his shynynge, þat is vndir heuen.
iv Soþeli þi name shal be named to þee of God in to wiþ outen eend, Peese of riȝtwisnese, and honour of pitee.
v Jerusalem, rijse vp, and stoonde in heeȝ, and biholde aboue to þe eest; and see þi sones gaderid fro þe fune, rijsinge vn to þe west in þe word of þe holy, ioyinge in þe mynde of God.
vi Forsoþ þei wenten out fro þee, led in feet of enmyes; forsoþ þe Lord shal breng to þee hem born in to honour, as þe sonnys of kyngdam.
vii Forsoþ God ordeynede for to meek eche heeȝ hill, and euerlaftyng rooches, and for to fulfille þe euen valeys in to þe euenesse of erþe; þat Yrael walke diligentli in to honour of God.
viii Soþely woddis and eche tree of swetnesse of Israel shadewiden, or obeiden, to þe maundement of God.
ix Forsoþ God shal leede to Yrael wiþ myrþe in þe liȝt of his maiestee, wiþ mercy and riȝtwisnese, þat is in hym.

Capitulum VI.

i Heer begynneþ enfaumple of þe fame pistle, whiche Jeremye sente to þe caitifs led aweie in to Babiloyn, of þe Kyng `of men of Babiloyn, þat he shulde shewe to hem, after þat it is comaundid to him of God.

ii For þe synnes þat ȝee synnyden befor God, ȝe shuln be led caitifs in to Babiloyne, of Nabugodonosor, kyng of men of Babiloyne. iii And so ȝe gon in to Babiloyne shuln be þere ful many ȝeris, and in to longe tyme, vnto seuen generacions; forþoþ after þis I shal lede out ȝou þennis wiþ peese.
iv Now forþoþ ȝe shuln see in Babiloyne golden goddis, and silueren, and stonen, and treen, for to be born in shuldris, shewinge drede to folkis.
v Perfor see ȝee, left and ȝee be maad liche to alien dedis, and ȝee dreede, and þat drede take ȝou in hem. And so þe cumpayne of peple seen fro bihynde and fro bifore wirshipyne, vi faye in ȝour hertis, Lord God, it byhouiþ þee for to be worshipid.
vii Forþoþ myn aungel is wiþ ȝou, forþoþ I my self shal seeke out ȝour soules.
viii For whi þe trees of hem polisid of a carpenter; þei also engoldid and enfiluered ben false, and mown not speke.
ix And as to a mayden louyng ournementis, so gold takyn, þei ben forgid. Certeynli þe goddis of hem han golden crownes vpon her hedis; x wheroft prestis drawen aweie fro hem gold and syluer, and ȝeuen, or spenden, it in hem self.
xi Forþoþ and of it þei ȝeuen to pute in bordel house, and ournen hooris; and eft sone when þei han resceyued it of hooris, þei ournen her goddis.
xii Sopely þese ben not delyuerd fro rust and mouȝþe. Forloþ hem couered wiþ cloþe of purpere, xiii þei shuln wijpe þe face of hem, for dust of þe hous, þat is ful myche amone hem.
xiv Forþoþ þei han a ceptre, or kyngis ȝerd, as a man; as a iuge of a cuntree, þat fleab not þe synnyng in to hym.
xv Forþoþ þei han also in þe hond fwerd and axe; forþoþ þei deliueren not hem self fro bataile and day þeues.
xvi Wher of be it knownen to ȝou, for þei ben not goddis; perfor worshipe ȝe not hem.
xvii Sopeli as a vessel of a man broken is maad vnproufitable, siche ben þe goddis of hem. Hem lett to gidir in an hous, þe eeȝen of hem ben ful of dust of þe feet of men entrynge in.
xviii And as to sum man þat offendip þe kyng, þe ȝatis ben sette aboute, and as dead man led to sepulcre, so prestes oft kepen þe dores wiþ closingis and lockis, leſt þei be robbed of day þeues.
xix Pei teenden launterns to hem, and sopeli manye, of whom þei mown noon fee;
xx forþoþ þei ben as bemes in þe hous. Sopeli serpentis þat ben of þe erþe, ben sayd to licke out þe hertis of hem; þe while þei eeten hem, and þe cloþing of hem, and þei feelen not.
xxi Pe faces of hem ben blac of smoke, þat is maad in þe hous.

xxii Aboue þe bodi of hem, and aboue þe hed of hem backis, or reremijfe, and swalewis fleeȝen, and briddis also, and also cattis.
xxiii Wher of wite ȝee, for þei ben not goddis; perfor ȝe shuln not dredre hem.
xxiv Also þe gold þat þei han, is to fairnesse; no bot eny man shal wijpe awei þe rust, þei shuln not shyne. Forþoþ neþer þe whijle þei weren ȝooten to gidir, þei feeliden.
xxv Þei ben bouȝt of al pris, in whiche þingus spirit is not in hem.
xxvi Wiþ outen feet þei ben born in shuldris, shewyng her vnnobley to men;
xxvii also be þei confoundid þat wurshipen hem. Perfor ȝif þei shuln falle in to erþe, of hem self þei shuln not rysse to gyder; neþer ȝif eny man shal sette hym riȝt, by hym self he shal stonde, bot as to dead men shuldris shuln be putte to hem.
xxviii Pe prestes of hem sellen þe hooftis, or sacrifices, of hem, and mysulen; also and þe wymmen of hem takynge aweie, neþer parten to seeke man, neþer to beggyng.
xxix Of þe sacrifices of hem wymmen wiþ chijlde, and menstruat, or in vncleene blode, touchen togyder. And so witynge of þese þingis, for þei ben not goddis, dred ȝee hem not.
xxx Forþoþ wheroft ben þei clepid goddis? For wymmen putten to golden goddis, sylueren, and treenen; xxxi and in þe houſis of hem fitten prestis hauyng torne, or kutt, cootis, and hedis and berd shauen, whos hedis ben nakid.
xxxii Forþoþ þei roren cryinge aȝeins her goddis, as in þe super of a dead man.
xxxiii Prestis taken awei þe cloþingus of hem, and cloþen her wijues, and her sones.
xxxiv Neþer ȝif þei suffren eny þing of euyl of eny man, neþer ȝif eny þinge of good, þei shuln mowe ȝeilde. Neþer þei mown make a kyng, neþer do aweie.
xxxv Also neþer þei mown ȝeue ricchessis, neþer ȝeeld euyll þing. ȝif eny man shal avowe to hem, and shal not ȝeilde, neþer þei requyren, or axen, þis þing.
xxxvi Pei delyueren not a man fro deþ, neþer delyueren a seeke man fro a more miȝti.
xxxvii Pei restoren not a blynde man to siȝt; þei shuln not delyueren a man fro neede.
xxxviii Pei shuln not haue mercye of þe wydue, neþer þei shuln do weel to þe fadrelesse and modrelesse.
xxxix Pe treenen goddis of hem, and stoonen, and golden, and sylueren, ben liȝe to stoonys of þe mounteyn; forþoþ þei þat worshipe hem, shuln be confoundid.
xl Hou þerfore is it to be geſſid, or to be faide, hem for to be goddis; ȝit þe ylk Caldeis not honouryng hem?
xli Whiche whan þei shuln heere þe doumbe not to mowe speke, offren hym to Bel, axinge of hym for to speke; as þei mown feele, whiche han not mouyng.

- xlvi And þei whanne þei shuln vndirstonde, shuln forsake hem; soþely þe ilke goddis of hem han not witt.
 xlvii Forsoþ wymmen ȝouen aboute, or bounden, wiþ coordis sitten in weyes, brennynge boonys of olyues. Forsoþ whann eny of hem drawen aweye of eny man paffinge haþ leapt, she dispisif hir neiȝbore, for she is not had worþi as sche, neþer hir coord is broken.
 xlviii Forsoþ alle þingis þat ben don to hem, ben fals. Hou is it to be geffid, or to be said, hem for to be goddis?
 xlvi Forsoþ of carpenteres and goldsmiþis þei ben maad. Þei shuln noon oþer þing be, no bot þe ylk þat prestis wolen for to be.
 xlvi Also þilk goldsmiþis þat maken hem, ben not of myche tyme; þerfor wheþer þe þingus þat ben maad of hem mown be goddis?
 xlvii Forsoþ þei lefsten fals þingus, and shenshipe to men to cummyng after.
 xlviii For whi whenne bataile shal aboue cum to hem, and euyl þingis, prestis þenken, where þei shuln hijde hem self wiþ hem.
 xlxi Perfore how own þei for to be feelid, or demyd, for þei ben goddis, whiche neþer delyueren hem fro batail, neþer delyueren hem fro euyl þingis?
 i For whi whenne þei ben treenen, and stoonen, and engoldid, and ensyluered, it shal ben wist afterward, for þei ben fals, ii to alle folkis and kyngis; whiche ben open, or knownen, for þei ben not goddis, bot werkis of mennus hondis, and no were of God wiþ hem.
 iii Wher of þerfor it is knownen, for þei ben not goddis, bot werkis of mennus hondis, and no werk of God is in hem.
 ivi Þei reisen not a kyng to a cuntrie, neþer þei shuln ȝeue reyn to men.
 ivii Also þei shul not discryue, or iuge, a dome, neþer þei shuln delyuere a cuntrie fro wronge. For þei mown no þing, as litil crowis bitwix þe mydil of heuen and erþe.
 ivii And soþeli whenne fijre shal fal in to þe house of treenen goddis, and golden, and silueren, soþeli þe prestis of hem shuln flee, and shuln be delyuered; bot þei as bemys in þe mydil shuln be brent.
 ivi Forsoþ þei shuln not aȝeinſtonde a kyng and batail. Hou þerfore is it to be geffid, or to be refcayed, for þei ben goddis?
 ivii þei shul not delyuere hem self fro niȝt beeues, neþer day þeeues, treenen goddis, and stoonen, and engoldid, and ensyluered, þan whiche wickid men ben strenger.
 iviii þei shuln take awei fro hem gold, and syluer, and cloþing, in whiche þei ben couered, and þei shuln go awei; neþer þei beren help to hem self.
 ix And so it is beter a kyng for to be shewyng his vertue, or a profitable vesselle in þe house, in whom he shal glorie þat weeldiþ it, þan fals goddis; or a dore in þe house, whiche kepiþ þe þingis þat ben in it, þan fals goddis.
 ix Sopely þe funne, and mone, and sterri, whenne þei ben shynynge, and sent out to profitis, obeyen.
 x Alſo and leyt, whanne it shal apeere, is clearer. Forsoþ þe same þinge and spirit, or wynd, breþiþ in eche cuntrie.
 xi And cloudis, to whiche when it shal be comaundid of God for to walke þorou al þe world, don what þing is comaundid to hem.
 xii Alſo fijr sente fro aboue, þat it waast hillis and woddis, doþ what þing is comaundid to it; forsoþ þese neþer in likenesse neþer vertues ben liche to oon of hem.
 xiii Wher of neþer it is to be geffid, neþer to be said, hem for to be goddis, whenne þei mown neþer deeme dome, neþer do to men.
 xv And so witynge for þei ben not goddis, þerfor ȝee shuln not dreden hem.
 xvi Soþeli neþer þei shuln curfe kyngis, neþer þei shuln bleſſe.
 xvii Forsoþ þei shewen not to folkis tokenis in heuen, neþer þei shuln shyne as funne, neþer liȝtene as þe mone.
 xviii Bestis ben better þan þei, whiche mown flee vndir a roof, and profit to hem self.
 xix And so by no manere it is knownen to ȝow, for þei ben goddis. For whiche þing drede ȝee not hem.
 xx For whi as dred in place where cucumeris, þat ben bitter herbis, waxen, kepiþ no þing, so ben þe treenen goddis, and sylueren, and goldid of hem.
 xxi In þe fame manere and in a ȝerd a whijt þorn, vpon whiche eche briddi sittip, alſo and to a dead þing cast in derckenesses, þe treenen godus of hem, and ensyluered, and engoldid, ben lijc.
 xxii And of þe purpre and marble, þat þei holden aboue hem, ȝee shuln wite also, for þei ben no goddis. Also at þe last þei hem self ben eten, and it shal be in to repreue in þe cuntrie.
 xxiii Betir is an iuft man, þat haþ not symylacris, for whi he shal be fer fro shenshipes.
Here endiþ þe boke of Baruch, and now bigynneþ þe boke of Ezechiel, þe prophete

EZECHIEL.

Her bigynneþ þe book of Ezechiel, þe prophete.

Capitulum I.

i And it is don, in þe brittipe zeer, in þe fourþe moneþ, in þe fyueþe day of þe moneþ, when I was in þe mydil of caitifs, bisydis þe floode Cobar, heuens wern openyd, and I seeȝ visiouns of God.

ii In þe fyueþe of þe moneþ; þe ylk is þe fyueþ ȝeer of transmygracioun, or paſſyng ouer, of Joachym, kyng of Juda;

iii þe word of þe Lord is maad to Ezechiel, sone of Buzi, preſte, in þe lond of Caldeis, bisijdis þe flode Cobar; and þe hond of þe Lord is maad þer vpon hym.

iv And I ſeeȝ, and loo! a wynde of tempeſt, or whirlwynde, cam fro þe norþ, and a grete cloude, and fyre inwlapptynge, and a ſchynynge in þe cumpas of it; and of þe mydil of it, þat is to ſaye, of þe mydil of fijre, as a likenesſe of electre, þat is, a metal of gold and ſyluere, cleerer þan gold.

v And of þe mydil of it a likenesſe of four beſtis. And þis þe byholdynge of hem, þe likenesſe of man in hem.

vi And four facis to oon, and four pennys to oon.

vii And þe feet of hem ſtreiȝ feet, and þe fool of þe foot of hem as þe ſole of a calues fote, and ſparclis, as byholdynge of whyte metale.

viii And an hond of man vnder þe pennys of hem, in four parties. And þei hadden faces and pennys by four parties;

ix and þe pennys of hem, of an oþer to þe oþer were ioyned. Þei turneden not aȝein, when þei wenten, bot eche wente byfore his face.

x Forſoþ þe likenesſe of þe ſemblaunt of hem; a face of man and face of a lyoun at þe riȝthalf of hem foure. Forſoþ a face of an oxe at þe left half of hem foure; and þe face of an egle fro aboue of hem foure.

xi And þe faces of hem and pennys of hem ſtreiȝ out aboue. Two pennys of eche were ioyned, and two keuerden þe bodies of hem.

xii And eche of hem walkide befor his face. Where þe feernesſe of þe ſpirit was, þidir þei wenten, neþer þei turneden aȝein, whenne þei walkiden.

xiii And þe likenesſe of þe beſtis, and þe biholdynge of hem, as of brennyng coolis of fijre, and as biholdynge of laumpis. Þis was þe ſiȝt diuersly rennyng in myddil of þe beſtis, ſhynyng of fijre, and of þe fijre leynt goyng forþ.

xiv And þe beſtes wenten, and turneden aȝein, into likenesſis of leynt ſhynyng.

xv And when I behelde þe beſtis, oo whele apeerid vpon erþe bisijdis þe beſtis, hauynge foure faces.

xvi And þe biholdynge of wheelis and þe werk of hem as ſiȝte of þe ſe; and oo likenesſe of hem foure; and þe biholdynge of hem and werkis, as ȝif a wheel be in þe mydil of a wheel.

xvii Pei goyng wenten bi foure parties of hem, and þei turneden not aȝein, whenne þei wenten. To what place þat was firſt bowide, and þe oþir ſueden. Pei turneden not aȝein, whenne þei walkiden.

xviii And ſtature was to þe wheelis, and heeȝnesſe, and orrible biholdynge; and al þe bodye ful of eeȝen in cumpas of hem foure.

xix And whenne þe beſtis walkiden, and þe whelis to gidir walkiden bisijdis hem. And whenn þe beſtis weren lift vp fro þe erþe, and þe wheelis weren lyft vp togidir.

xx Whidir euer þe ſpirit wente, þidir goyng þe ſpirit, and þe wheelis weren lift vp to gidir ſuyngē hym; forſoþ þe ſpirit of lyf was in þe wheelis.

xxi Wiþ þe goyng þei wenten, and wiþ þe ſtodynge þei ſtoden. And wiþ þe reiſide fro þe erþe, and þe wheelis were reyſid to gydir ſuyngē hem; for þe ſpirit of lyf was in þe wheelis.

xxii And þe likenesſe of þe firmament vpon þe hedis of beſtis, and as biholdynge of cristal orrible, and ſtreiȝ forþ aboue vpon þe hedis of hem.

xxiii Forſoþ vndir þe firmament þe pennis of hem ſtreiȝ, of þe toþer to þe toþer; eche hilide his bodye wiþ two weengus, and þe toþer alſo was hilide.

xxiv And I herde þe ſoun of weengus, as þe ſoun of many watriſ, as þe ſoun of heeȝ God. When þei walkiden, þere was as þe ſowne of multitude, as þe ſoun of caſtels, or ooftis of men; and when þei ſtoden, þe pennys of hem were leide doun.

xxv For whi whenne a vois was maad vpon þe firmament, whiche was vpon þe hedis of hem, þei ſtoden, and ſenten doun her weingis.

xxvi And vpon þe firmament þat was neijinge to þe hede of hem, as þe biholdynge of a ſaphire ſtoone, a likenesſe of trone; and vpon liknes of þe trone þe liknes, as biholdynge of man fro a boue.

xxvii And I ſeeȝ as þe liknes of electre, as þe biholdynge of fier wiþinforþ, bi þe compas of it; fro þe leendis of hym and aboue, and fro þe leendis of him and byneþe Y ſeeȝ as þe liknes of fier ſhynyng in þe cumpas, xxviii as þe biholdynge of a bowe, whanne it ſhal be in þe cloude in þe dai of rayn. Þis was þe biholdynge of ſhynyng bi compas. Þis ſiȝt of liknes of glorie of þe Lord. And Y ſeeȝ, and fel in to my face; and Y herde a vois of þe ſpekyng.

Capitulum II.

i And he feide to me, Sone of man, ſtoond vpon þi feet, and Y ſhal ſpeke wiþ þee.

ii And a ſpirit entride in to me, after þat he ſpak to me, and ſette me vpon my feet. And Y herde þe ſpekyng to me, iii and feiynge, Sone of man, Y fende þee to þe ſones of Israel, to folkis apoftataas, þat han broken her religiouſ or lawe, whiche wenten awei fro me; þe fadris of hem braken my couenaunt vn to þis day.

iv And þe ſones ben of hard face, and of herte vnchaſtisble, þat wole not be maad tame or meke, to whom I ſende þee. And þou ſhalt feye to hem, þes þingis ſeiþ þe Lord God; v if perauenture eþer þei heren, and if perauenture þei resten, for it is an hows styrnge to wræþþe. And þei shulen wite, for a prophete shal be in þe mydil of hem.

vi Þerfor þou, sone of man, drede not hem, ne drede þou þe wordis of hem; for vnbileueful men and distruyars ben wiþ þee, and þou dwellist wiþ scorpiouns. Drede þou not þe wordis of hem, ne drede þe semblaunte of hem, for it is an hous styrnge to wræþþe.

vii Þerfor þou shalt speke my wordis to hem, if perauenture þei heren, and resten, for þei ben wræþþers.

viii Forsoþe þou, sone of man, here what euer þingis I shal speke to þee; and nyl þou be styrnge to wræþþe, as þe hous of Israelf is wræþþeres. Opyn þi mouþ, and eet what euer þingis Y zeue to þee.

ix And I sawȝ, and loo! an hoond was sent to me, in whom was a boke foldyn.

x And he leide it abrood before me, þe which was writen wiþinforþ and wiþoutforþ. And lamentaciouns, and dite, or soong, and woo, was writen in it.

Capitulum III.

i And he seide to me, Sone of man, eet what euer þing þou shalt fynde, eet þis volym, or boke; and þou goyng spek to þe sones of Israelf.

ii And Y openede my mouþ, and he fedde me wiþ þe ilk volym.

iii And he seide to me, Sone of man, þi wombe shal ete, and þin entrailis shulen be fulfillid wiþ þis volym, which Y ȝyue to þee. And Y ete it, and it is maad in my mouþ as swete hony.

iv And he seide to me, Sone of man, go þou to þe hows of Israelf, and þou shalt speke my wordis to hem.

v Forsoþe þou shalt not be sent to a puple of deep word, and of vnknowyn tunge; to þe hows of Israelf, vi neþer to manye puplis of deep word, and of vnknowyn tunge, of whom þou mayst not here þe wordis. And if þou shuldis be sent to hem, þei shulden here þee.

vii Forsoþe þe hows of Israelf wole not here þee, for þei wole not here me. Forsoþe al þe hows of Israelf is of defoulid, or vnshamfast, forhed, and hard herte.

viii Loo! I haue ȝouen þi face myȝtier þan þe face of hem, and þi forheed harder þan þe forheed of hem.

ix And Y ȝaue þi face as an adamaunt, and as a flynt; drede þou not hem, neþer drede þou þe face of hem, for it is an hows styrnge to wræþþe.

x And he seide to me, Sone of man, tak to in þin herte, and wiþ þin erys here alle þes my wordis, whiche I speke to þee.

xi And go, entre to þe paſſynge ouere, to þe sones of þi puple. And þou shalt speke to hem, and þou shalt feie to hem, þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, if perauenture þei heren, and resten.

xii And þe spirit took me to, and Y herde after me a nois of greet mouynge togider, þe bleſſid glorie of þe Lord fro his place, xiii and þe vois of weengis of beeſtis smytyng another to þe tober, and þe vois of wheelis suynge þe beeſtis, and þe vois of greet mouynge togidir.

xiv And þe spirit reiſide me, and took me to. And Y wente awey in bitter indignacioun of my spirit; forsoþe þe hoond of þe Lord was wiþ me, coumfortyng me.

xv And Y cam to þe transmygracioun, or paſſinge ouer, to þe heep of newe fruytis, to hem þat dwellen bisidis þe flood Cobar. And I sat where þei faten, and I dwellide þere feuene days, mournyng, in þe mydil of hem.

xvi Forsoþe whanne feuene days hadden paſſid, þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, xvii Sone of man, I haue ȝouen þee a bholder, or a spier, to þe hows of Israelf. And þou shalt here of my mouþ a word, and þou shalt telle it to hem of me.

xviii If me seiyng to þe vpititous man, Bi deep þou shalt die, þou shalt not telle to hym, neþer speke to hym, þat he be turned fro his vpititous weie, and lyue; þe ilk vpititous shal die in his wickidnes, forsoþe I shal aȝen feke þe blood of hym of þin hoond.

xix Forsoþe if þou shalt shewe to þe vpititous man, and he shal not be conuertid fro his vpititousnes, and fro his wickid weie; soþeli he shal die in his wickidnes, but þou haft delyuerede þi foule.

xx But and if þe riȝtwijs man shal be conuertid fro his riȝtwiſnes, and shal doo wickidnes, Y shal putte an hirtyng before hym; he shal die, for þou shewdist not to hym; he shal die in his synne, and þe riȝtwiſnessiſ, whiche he dide, shulen not be in mynde, soþeli Y shal aȝen feche his blood of þin hond.

xxi Forsoþe if þou shalt telle to þe iust man, þat þe iust man synne not, and he shal not synne, he lyuynge shal lyue, for þou tooldist to hym, and þou haft delyuerede þi foule.

xxii And þe hoond of þe Lord is maad vpon me, and he seide to me, þou risynge go out in to þe feeld, and þere I shal speke wiþ þee.

xxiii And I risynge wente out in to þe feeld. And loo! þe glorie of þe Lord stode þere, as þe glorie which Y seeȝ besidis þe flood of Cobar; and I felle in to my face.

xxiv And þe spirit entride in to me, and sette me vpon my feet. And he spak to me, and seide to me, Entre, and be þou cloſid in þe mydil of þin hows.

xxv And þou, sone of man, loo! boondis ben ȝouen vpon þee, and þei shulen bynde þee in hem, and þou shalt not goon out in þe mydil of hem.

xxvi And Y shal make þi tunge for to cleue to þe roof of þi mouþ, and þou shalt be doumbe, neþer as man chydynge, or sharpli spekyng; for it is an hows styrnge to wræþþe.

xxvii Forsoþe whanne Y shal speke to þee, Y shal opyn þi mouþ, and þou shalt seie to hem, Þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, He þat heriþ, here, and he þat restiþ, reste; for it is an hows stiryng to wraþþe.

Capitulum III.

- i And þou, sone of man, take to þee a tijl stoon; and þou shalt putte it before þee, and þou shalt discriue in it þe citee of Jerufalem.
- ii And þou shalt ordeyne aȝens it a bisegyng; and þou shalt bilde waardingis, þou shalt bere togidre an heap of erþe, and þou shalt ȝyue aȝens it castels, or oostis, and þou shalt putte engynes in compas.
- iii And take þou to þee an yren panne; and þou shalt putte it in to an yren wal bitwix þee and bitwix þe citee; and þou shalt vpon alle fidis stable þi face to it, and it shal be in to bisegyng, and þou shalt about ȝyue it, or cumpas; it is a tokne to þe hows of Israel.
- iv And þou shalt slepe vpon þi left fijde, and þou shalt putte þe wickidnessis of þe hows of Israel vpon it in þe noumbre of dais, in whiche þou shalt slepe on it, and þou shalt take to þe wickidnes of hem.
- v Forsoþe Y ȝaue to þee ȝeeris of þe wickidnes of hem, in noumbre of þre hundrid dais and nynti dais; and þou shalt bere þe wickidnes of þe hows of Israel.
- vi And whanne þou shalt fulfille þes þingis, þou shalt sleepe vpon þi riȝt syde þe secounde tyme. And þou shalt take to þe wickidnes of þe hows of Juda fourty dais, a dai for a ȝeer, soþeli Y ȝaue to þee a dai for a ȝeer.
- vii And to þe bisegyng of Jerufalem þou shalt turne þi face; and þin arm shal be strauȝt forþ, and þou shalt prophecie aȝens it.
- viii Loo! Y ȝaue about, or cumpaside, þee wiþ boondis, and þou shalt not conuerte þee fro þi side in to þe toþer side, til þou fulfille þe dais of þi segyng.
- ix And take þou to þee whete, and barli, and bene, and lent, and mylie, and vetch; and þou shalt sende hem in to a vessel. And þou shalt make to þee looues in noumbre of dais, whiche þou shalt sleepe vpon þi side; þre hundrid and nynti dais þou shalt ete it.
- x Forsoþe þi meet, which þou shalt ete, shal be in weiȝt twenti stateris, þat is, ten owncis, in þe dai; fro tyme vn to tyme þou shalt ete it.
- xi And þou shalt drynke water in mesure þe sixt part of hyn; fro tyme vn to tyme þou shalt drynke it.
- xii And þou shalt ete it as a barley loof bakyn vndir afflen; and þou shalt hille it wiþ a toord þat goþ out of a man, in þe eyen, or siȝt, of hem.
- xiii Þes þingis seiþ þe Lord, So þe sones of Israel shulen ete her breed defoulid among heiþen men, to whom Y shal caste hem out.
- xiv And I feide, A! A! A! Lord God, loo! my soule is not defoulid, and fro my childhed til now Y ete not deed careyn, and to-drawyn of beestis; and al vnclene flesh entride not in to my mouþ.

xv And he seide to me, Loo! I ȝaue to þee dunge of oxen for mannis toordis; and þou shalt make þi breed in it.

xvi And he seide to me, Loo! Y shal defoule þe staf of breed in Jerufalem, and þei shulen ete her breed in weiȝt and in bisynes, and þei shulen drynke watir in mesure and in anguylsh;

xvii þat water and breed failyng eche man falle doun to his broþer, and waxe rotyn to gidre in her wickidnessis.

Capitulum V.

i And þou, sone of man, take to þee a sharp swerd, or rasour, shauyng heiris; and þou shalt 'take it to, and þou shalt lede it bi þin heed, and bi þi beerd.' And þou shalt take to þee a balaunce of weiȝt, and þou shalt departe hem.

ii And þou shalt brenne þe þridde part in fier in þe mydil of þe citee, besidis þe fulfilling of dais of segyng. And þou takyng to þe þridde part, shalt to gidir kitte bi swerd in cumpas of it. Soþeli þou shalt scatere in to wynd þe toþer þridde part; and Y shal make nakid, or vnþeþe, þe swerd after hem.

iii And þou shalt take þeof a litil noumbre, and þou shalt bynde hem in þe heigt of þin ouermost cloþ.

iv And eftsoone þou shalt take of hem, and þou shalt caste hem in to þe mydil of fier. And þou shalt brenne hem in fier; and of it fier shal gon out in to al þe hous of Israel.

v Þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Þis is Jerufalem; in þe mydil of heiþen men Y haue putte it, and loondis in þe cumpas of it.

vi And it dispiside my domys, þat it were more vnpitous þan heiþen men; and my maundementis more þan loondis þat ben in compas of it. Forsoþe þei han caſte a wei my domys, and þei walkeden not in my preceptis, or heeftis.

vii Perfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For ȝe han ouerpasseide, or ouercomyn, heiþen men þat ben in ȝour cumpas, and ȝe walkeden not in myn heeftis, and my domys ȝe han not doo, and ȝe han not wrouȝte aftir þe domys of heiþen men þat ben in ȝour cumpas;

viii perfor seiþ þe Lord þes þingis, Loo! Y to þee, and Y my silf in þe mydil of þee shal make domys in þe eyen, or siȝt, of heiþen men;

ix and I shal doo in þe whiche þingis I dide not, and to whiche I shal namore make lijc þingis, for alle þin abhomynaciouns.

x Perfor faders shulen eete sones in þe mydil of þee, and sones shulen eete her faders; and in þee I shal make domys, and I shal wyndewe alle þi relikis in to eche wynd.

xi Perfor I lyue, seip þe Lord God, no but for þat þat þou defoulidist myn hooli þing in alle þin offencious, and in alle þin abhomynaciouns; and I shal breke togider, and myn eye shal not spare, and Y shal not haue mercie.

xii Pe þridde part of þee shal die bi pestilence, and in hungre shal be waftid in þe mydil of þee; and þe þridde part of þee shal falle doun bi swerd in þi compas; soþeli I shal scatere þi þridde part in to eche wynd, and I shal drawe out a swerd after hem.

xiii And I shal fulfille my woodnes, and Y shal make myn indignacioun for to reste in hem, and Y shal be coumfortid. And þei shulen wite, for I þe Lord spake in my feruent wraþþe, whanne Y shal fulfille myn indignacioun in hem.

xiv And Y shal ȝeue þee in to scornyng and shenship to heiþen men þat ben in þi compas, in þe siȝt of eche man paſſyng forþ.

xv And þou shalt be shenship and blasfemye, ensaumple and greet wondryng, in heiþen men þat ben in þi compas, whanne Y shal doo in þee domys in woodnes, and in indignacioun, and in blamyingis of wrappe. Y þe Lord;

xvi whanne Y shal sende þe werſt arewis of hungre in to hem, whiche shulen be deedly; and whom Y shal sende, þat I scatere ȝou. And I shal gedre hungre vp on ȝou, and Y shal defoule in ȝou þe ſtaf of breed.

xvii And I shal fende in to ȝou hungre, and werſte beeſtis, vn to deeþ; and pestilence and blood shulen paſſe bi þee, and Y shal lede in a swerd vpon þee; I þe Lord haue ſpokyn.

Capitulum VI.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, ii Sone of man, put þi face to þe hillis of Israel; and þou shalt prophecie to hem, iii and þou shalt fey, Hillis of Israel, here ȝe word of þe Lord God. Þes bingis seip þe Lord God to mounteyns, and reiſyngis of hillis, to rochis, and valeys, Loo! I shal lede to on ȝou a swerd, and I shal scatere ȝour heiȝe þingis.

iv And I shal diſtruye ȝour auters, and ȝour symulacrys shulen be brokyn to gidre; and Y shal caſt doun ȝour flayn men before ȝour ydolis.

v And Y shal ȝeue þe deed careyns of þe sones of Israel before þe face of ȝour symulacris, and Y shal scatere ȝoure boonus about ȝoure autres, in alle ȝour dwellyngis.

vi Cytees shulen be deſeert, and heiȝe þingis shulen be diſtruyid, and shulen be diſparplid; and ȝour auters shulen perishe, and shulen be brokyn togidre. And ȝoure ydolis shulen ceſſe, and ȝour wode maumentis shulen be troden togidre, and ȝour werkis shulen be don a wei.

vii And a flayn man shal falle doun in þe mydil of ȝou; and ȝe shulen wite, for Y am Lord.

viii And Y shal leeue in ȝou hem þat han fledde þe swerd in heiþen men, 'whanne I ſchal ſcatere ȝou in to londis.

ix And ȝoure delyuered men shulen beþenke of me in heþen men, to whom þei ben lad caitifs; for Y haue defoulide þe herte of hem doyngे fornycacioun, and goyng away fro me, and þe eyen of hem doyngे fornicacioun after her ydolis. And þei shulen displeſe to hem ſelf vp on þe yuel þingis, whiche þei diden in alle her abomynaciouns.

x And þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord ſpake not veynli, þat Y ſhulde doo to hem þis yuel þing.

xi Þes þingis ſeip þe Lord God, Smyte þin hoond, and hurtle to gidre þi foot, and fey, Allas! to alle abomynaciouns of yuel þingis of þe hows of Israel, þat ben to fallyng bi swerd, hungre, and pestilence.

xii Forſoþe he þat is nyȝ, shal falle bi swerd. And he þat shal be laſt and be bifegid, shal die bi hungre. And Y shal fulfille myn indignacioun in hem.

xiii And ȝe shulen wite, for Y þe Lord, whanne ȝour flayn men shulen be in þe mydil of ȝour ydolis, in þe cumpas of ȝour auters, in eche heiȝ little hil, and in alle heiȝþis of mounteyns, and vnder eche tree ful of wode, or bouwis, and vndir eche ook ful of bouwis, þat is to feye, a place where þei brenten encenſis fwete fauerynge to alle her ydolis.

xiv And I shal holde forþ myn hoond vpon hem, and Y shal make þe loond of hem deſolat, and deſtitute, or forſakyn, fro deſeert Deblatha, in alle þe dwellingis of hem; and þei shulen wite, for I a Lord.

Capitulum VII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, ii And þou, ſone of man, þes bingis ſeip þe Lord God to þe loond of Israel, Ende comeþ, ende comeþ, vp on þe four plagis, 'or parties, of þe erþe.

iii Now ende vpon þee, and I shal fende my woodnes in to þee, and Y shal deme þee after þi weies, and I shal putte aȝen þee alle þin abomynaciouns.

iv And myn eye shal not ſpare vpon þee, and Y shal not haue mercye. But Y shal putte þi weies vpon þee, and þin abomynaciouns shulen be in þe mydil of þee; and ȝe shulen wyte, for I þe Lord.

v Þese bingis ſeip þe Lord God, Oon affliccioun, or tourment, loo! affliccioun comeþ; vi þe ende comeþ, þe ende comeþ; it shal wake out aȝens þee; loo! yt comeþ.

vii Contricioun, or tredyng to gider, comeþ vpon þee, þat dwellist in erþe; tyme comeþ, þe dai of fleinge is nyȝ, and not of glorie of hillis.

viii Now of nyȝ Y shal heelde out my wrappe vpon þee, and I shal fulfille my woodnes in þee; and I shal deme þee after þi weies, and Y shal putte to þee alle þi greet trespassis.

ix And myn eye shal not spare, neþer Y shal haue mercie; but þi weies Y shal putte to þee, and þin abomynaciouns shulen be in þe mydil of þee; and ȝe shulen wite, for Y am þe Lord smytyng.

x Loo! þe day, loo! it comeþ; contricioun, or defoulynge to gidir, is gon out. Þe ȝerde florishide, priyd buriounde, xi wickidnes roos in þe ȝerde of vnpitee; not of hem, and not of þe puple, neþer of þe sown of hem, and reste shal not be in hem.

xii Tyme comeþ, þe dai neijede; he þat bieþ, glade not, and he þat selliþ, mourne not; for wrapphe vpon al þe puple of it.

xiii For he þat soulde, shal not turne aȝen to þat þing þat he soulde, and ȝit in men lyuyng þe lijf of hem; forsoþe a visioun, or prophecie, shal not goo aȝen to al þe multitude of it, and a man shal not be coumfortid in þe wickidnes of his lijf.

xiv Syng ȝe wiþ trumpe, and be alle men maad redie, and þere is not þat shal goo to bateile; forsoþe my wrapphe vpon al þe puple of hym.

xv Swerd wiþ out forþ, pestilence, and hungre wiþ inforþ; he þat is in þe feeld, shal die bi swerde; and þei þat ben in þe citee, shulen be deuouride bi pestilence and hungre.

xvi And þei of hem þat shulen flee, shulen be sauð; and þei shulen be in mounteyns as culueres of euyn valeys, alle dredful, eche in his wickidnes.

xvii Alle hoondis shulen be vndon, and alle knees shulen flowe wiþ waters.

xviii And þei shulen girde hem wiþ heiris, and inward dreed shal hille hem to gidre; and in eche face confusioun, and in alle þe heedis of hem ballidnes.

xix Þe filuere of hem shal be cast fer wiþ outforþ, and þe gold of hem shal be in to dungehil; þe filuer of hem and þe gold of hem shal not mowe deliuere hem in þe dai of þe woodnes of þe Lord. Þei shulen not fulfillre her soule, or lijf, and þe wombis of hem shulen not be fullillid; for it is maad þe claudre of wickidnes of hem.

xx And þei puttiden þe ournement of her brochis in to pride; and þei maden of it þe ymagis of her abomynaciouns and symulacris. For pis þing Y ȝauë it to hem, in to vncلنnes.

xi And Y shal ȝyue it in to þe hoondis of alienys, for to take a wey, and to vnpitouse men of erþe in to praye, and þei shulen defoule it.

xxii And I shal turne awey my face fro hem, and þei shulen defoule my priue þing; and foule men, or renners, shulen entre in to it, and shulen defoule it.

xxiii Mak þou conclusioun, or ende; for þe erþe is ful of doom of bloodis, and þe citee ful of wickidnes.

xxiv And I shal bryng ȝe werst men of folk of kynde, and þei shulen weelde þe howfis of hem; and Y shal make þe pride of myȝti men for to reste, and þei shulen weelde þe seytuaries of hem.

xxv Anguysh comyng vpon, þei shulen aȝen seche pees, and it shal not be.

xxvi Trublynge to gidre shal come vpon trublyng to gidre, and herynge vpon herynge; and þei shulen feche a visioun of þe prophete, and lawe shal perishe fro preest, and counseil fro eldre men.

xxvii ȝe kyng shal mourne, and þe prince shal be clopid wiþ inward forew, and þe hoondis of puple of þe loond shulen be trublid togidir; after þe weie of hem Y shal do to hem, and after þe domes of hem Y shal deme hem; and þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord.

Capitulum VIII.

i And it is doon in þe sixte ȝeer, in þe fixte moneþ, in þe fifþe day of þe moneþ, Y fate in myn hous, and þe oolde men of Juda saten before me; and þe hoond of þe Lord God fel þere vpon me.

ii And I seeȝ, and loo! a liknes as þe biholdynge of fier; fro þe biholdynge of þe leendis of hym and bynþe was fier, and fro þe leendis of hym and aboue as biholdynge of shynynge, as þe seynge of electre, þat is, metal maad of gold and siluer, briȝter þan gold.

iii And þe liknes of an hoond sent out cauȝte me in þe heer of myn heed; and a spirit lifte me vp bitwix heuen and erþe, and ledde me in to Jerusalem, in þe vifoun of God, besidis þe inner dore þat biholdiþ to þe norþ, where þe idol of zele, or enuye, was set, for to styre enuye.

iv And loo! þere þe glorie of God of Israel, after þe visioun which Y seeȝ in þe feeld.

v And he seide to me, Sone of man, reys þin eyen to þe weye of þe norþ; and loo! fro þe norþ of þe ȝaat of þe auter, þe ydol of enuye in þat entrynge.

vi And he seide to me, Sone of man, gessist þou wheþer þou seest what þes men don, þe greet abomynaciouns whiche þe hows of Israel doþ here, þat Y goo a wey fer fro my seytuarie? and ȝit þou conuertid shal see gretter abomynaciouns.

vii And he ledde me in to þe dore of þe porche; and Y seeȝ, and loo! an hoole in þe wal.

viii And he seide to me, Sone of man, dig þe wal; and whanne Y hadde þurȝ diggide þe wal, o dore aperide.

ix And he seide to me, Go þou yn, and se þe werst abomynaciouns, whiche þes men doon here.

x And I gon in, seeȝ; and loo! eche lyknes of crepyng þingis, and abomynacioun of beestis, and alle þe ydolis of þe hous of Israel, weren peyntid in compas in þe wal bi alle.

xi And seuenti men of þe eldris of þe hous of Israel; and Jeconye, þe sone of Saphan, stode in þe mydil of hem, stoondynge before þe peyntyngis; and eche hadde a censer in his hoond, and þe vapour, or smoke of a cloud roos togider of þe ensence.

xii And he seide to me, Certis, sone of man, þou seeſt whiche þingis þe eldre men of þe hows of Israel doon in derkneſſis, eche in þe hid place of his couche; forſoþe þei feyn, Þe Lord ſeeþ not vs, þe Lord haþ forſakyn þe loond.
 xiii And þe Lord ſeide to me, ȝit þou conuertid þhal ſee gretter abomynaciouns, whiche þes men don.
 xiv And he ledde me yn, bi þe dore of þe ȝate of þe hows of þe Lord, þat biheilde to þe norþ; and loo! þere faten wymmen, mournyng a mawmet of letcherie, þat is clepid Adonydes.
 xv And he ſeide to me, Certis, sone of man, þou haſt ſeen; ȝit þou conuertid þhal ſee gretter abomynaciouns þan þes.
 xvi And he ledde me in, in to þe innermore porche of þe hows of þe Lord; and loo! in þe dore of þe temple of þe Lord, bitwixe þe vefiarie and þe auter, as fyue and twenti men hauyng þe backis aȝens þe temple of þe Lord, and þe faces to þe eest; and þei worshipeden at þe ryfynge of þe funne.
 xvii And he ſeide to me, Certis, manne sone, þou ſhalt ſee, wheþer þis þing is liȝt to þe hous of Juda, þat þei ſhulden doo þes abomynaciouns, whiche þei diden here? For þei fulfillynge þe erþe wiþ wickidnes, ben turned to gidre to terre me to wraþþe; and loo! þei applien, or leyn to, a braunche to her nose þrillis.
 xviii Perfor and Y ſhal doo in my woodnes; myn eye ſhal not ſpare to hem, neþer I ſhal haue mercy; and whanne þei ſhulen crie to myn erys wiþ greet vois, Y ſhal not here hem.

Capitulum IX.

i And he criede in myn eris wiþ greet voys, feyng, Þe viſitaciouns of þe citee han neijed, and eche man haþ a vefſel of fleyng in his hoond.
 ii And loo! ſixe men camen fro þe weye of þe heiȝer ȝaat, þat biholdiþ to þe norþ, and a vefſel of deeþ of eche man in his hoond; and o man in þe mydil of hem was cloþid wiþ lynnен, and an ynkhorn of a wryter in his reynes; and þei entriden, and ſtoden beſidis þe brasen auter.
 iii And þe glorie of þe Lord of Israel is takyn of cherubin, þat was on it, at þe þrefhfoold of þe hows; and he clepide þe man þat was cloþid wiþ lynnен, and hadde an enkhorn of a writer in his leendis.
 iv And þe Lord ſeide to hym, Go þou bi þe mydil cytee, in þe mydil of Jerufalem, and mark Tau vpon þe forehedis of men mournyng and forewyng vpon alle þe abhomynaciouns þat ben don in þe mydil þerof.
 v And he ſeide to hem, me heryng, Paffe ȝe bi þe cytee fuyng hym, and ſmyte ȝe; ȝour eye ſpare not, neþer haue ȝe mercy.
 vi Slee ȝe old man, ȝonge man, meyden, litil child, and wymmen, vn to þe perifhyng; forſoþe ſlee ȝe not eche man, vp on whom ȝe ſhulen ſee Tau; and bigynne ȝe of my feytuarie. Perfor þei bigunnen at þe eldre men, þat weren before þe face of þe hous.

 vii And he ſeide to hem, Defoule ȝe þe hous, and fulfillie ȝe þe porchis wiþ flayn men; goo ȝe out. And þei wenent out, and þei han ſmyten hem þat weren in þe citee.
 viii And þe fleyng fulfillid, Y dwelte. And Y felle vpon my face, and criyng Y ſeide, Allas! allas! allas!
 Lord God, þerfor wheþer þou ſhalt diſtruye alle þe relikiſ of Israel, ſhedyng out þi woodnes vpon Jerufalem?
 ix And he ſeide to me, Þe wickidnes of þe hous of Israel and Juda is ful greet, and þe erþe is fulfillid wiþ blodis, or synnes, and þe citee is fulfillid wiþ turnyng awei; forſoþe ȝeiſiden, Þe Lord haþ forſakyn þe loond, and þe Lord ſeeþ not.
 x Perfor and myn eye ſhal not ſpare, neþer Y ſhal haue mercy; Y ſhal ȝeelde þe weies of hem vpon þe heid of
 hem.
 xi And loo! þe man þat was cloþid wiþ lynnен, þat hadde an enkhorn in his rigge, anſwerde a word, feyng, Y haue don, as þou commaundideſt to me.

Capitulum X.

i And Y ſeeȝ, and loo! in þe firmament þat was vpon þe heid of cherubyn, as a saphir ſtoon, and as þe fourme of a feet aperiðe 'pon it.
 ii And he ſeide to þe man þat was cloþid wiþ lynnен, and he ſeip, Go þou yn in þe mydil of whelis, þat ben vndir cherubyn, and fil þin hoond wiþ coolis of fier, þat ben amoneg cherubyn, and ſheed out vpon þe citee.
 And he wente in my ſiȝt;
 iii forſoþe cherubyns ſtoden vpon þe riȝthalf of þe hous, whanne þe man wente in, and a cloude fulfillide þe porche wiþ inneforþ.
 iv And þe glorie of þe Lord is lift vp aboue cherubyn at þe þrefhfoold of þe hows; and þe hows is fulfillid wiþ a cloude, and þe porche is fulfillid wiþ ſhynyng of þe glorie of þe Lord.
 v And þe ſoun of weengis of cherubyn was herd vn to þe vttermore porche, as þe vois of almyȝti God ſpekyng.
 vi And whanne he hadde commandide to þe man þat was cloþid wiþ lynnен, feyng, Tak þou fier of þe mydil of þe wheelis, þat ben wiþ inne cherubyn, he goon in, ſtoode beſidis þe wheelis.
 vii And cherub helde forþ his hoond fro þe mydil of cherubyn, to þe fier þat was bitwix cherubyn; and took, and ȝaf in to þe hoondis of hym þat was cloþid wiþ lynnен; whiche takyn, wente out.
 viii And þe liknes of an hoond of man aperiðe in cherubyn, vndir þe pennys of hem.
 ix And Y ſeeȝ, and loo! foure wheelis beſidis cherubyn;
 o wheel beſidis o cherub, and anoþer wheel beſidis o cherub; forsoþe þe fourme of wheelis was as þe siȝt of a stoon crisolitus.

x And þe biholdynge of hem, o liknes of foure, as if a wheel be in þe mydil of a wheel.

xi And whanne þei walkiden, þei wenten in to foure parties; þei walkynge turneden not aȝen, but to þe place to whom þat þat was þe first bouwid for to goo, and þe oþere sueden, neþer þei turneden aȝen.

xii And al þe werk of hem, and neckis, and hoondis, and pennys, and cerclis, weren ful of eyen, in þe cumpas of foure wheelis.

xiii And he clepide þe ilk wheelis vrible, or turnynge about, me herynge.

xiv Forsoþe oon hadde foure faces; o face þe face of cherub, and þe secounde face a face of man, and þe þridde face of a lioun, and in þe fourþe a face of an egle;

xv and þe cherubyns ben lift vp. Þe ilk is þe beast, whom Y seeȝ besidis þe flood Cobar.

xvi And whanne cherubyns walkiden, and þe wheelis wenten togidir besidis hem; and whanne þe cherubyns liften vp her weengis, þat þei shulden be rerid fro þe erþe, þe wheelis abiden not, but and þei weren besidis hem.

xvii Hem stondynge, þei stoden, and wiþ þe lift vp þei weren lift vp; forsoþe þe spirit of lijf was in hem.

xviii And þe glorie of þe Lord wente out fro þe preshfold of þe temple, and stode vpon cherubyn.

xix And þe cherubyns liftinge vp her weengis, ben reyfisid fro þe erþe before me; and hem goyng out, and þe wheelis sueden; and it stode in þe entre of þe eest ȝaat of þe hows of þe Lord, and þe glorye of God of Israel was vpon it.

xx Þe ilk is þe beast, whom Y seeȝ vndir God of Israel, besidis þe flood Cobar. And Y vndirstode for foure cherubyns weren, xxi bi foure cheeris, 'or facis, to oon, and foure weengis to oon; and a liknes of mannis hoond vnder þe weengis of hem.

xxii And þe liknes of þe cheeris of hem, þe ilk cheeris whom Y seeȝ besidis þe flood Cobar; and þe biholdinge of hem, and þe feerfnes of eche, for to goo before his face.

Capitulum XI.

i And þe spirit lifte me vp, and ledde me in at þe est ȝate of þe hous of þe Lord, which biholdiþ þe ryfynge of þe sunne. And loo! in þe entre of þe ȝate weren fyue and twenti men; and Y seeȝ in þe mydil of hem Jeconye, þe sone of Afur, and Pheltia, þe sone of Banaye, pryncis of puple.

ii And he seide to me, Sone of man, þes men þat benken wickidnes, and treten þe worst counseil in þis citee, iii feiynge, Wheþer not a litil while gon ben houfis bildid? þis is þe caudrun, forsoþe we flesshes.

iv Perfor prophecy þou of hem, prophecy þou, sone of man.

v And þe Spyrit of þe Lord felle in to me, and seide to me, Spek þou, Þe Lord seiþ þes þingis, Pus, hows of Ifrael, ȝe spaken, and Y knewȝ þe þouȝtis of ȝour hertis;

vi ȝe flewen ful manye in þis cytee, and ȝe fulfilliden þe weies of it wiþ flayn men.

vii Perfor þe Lord seiþ þes þingis, ȝour flayn men, whom ȝe han put in mydil of it, þes ben flesh, and þis is þe caudrun; and Y shal lede ȝou out of þe mydil of it.

viii ȝe dredden fwerd, and I shal in lede fwerd vpon ȝou, seiþ þe Lord God.

ix And I shal caste ȝou out of þe mydil of it, and Y shal ȝyue ȝou in to þe hoond of enemyes, and Y shal make domys in ȝou.

x ȝe shulen falle bi fwerd, in þe endis of Ifrael Y shal deme ȝou; and ȝe shulen wite, for Y þe Lord.

xi ȝis shal not be to ȝou in to a caudrun, and ȝe shulen not be in to flesh his in þe mydil of it; in þe endis of Ifrael Y shal deme ȝou, xii and ȝe shulen wite, for Y þe Lord. For ȝe walkiden not in myn heefis, and ȝe diden not my domes, but ȝe vrouȝten after þe domes of heþen men, þat ben in ȝour cumpas.

xiii And it is don, whanne Y prophecið, Pheltia, þe sone of Banaye, is deed; and Y felle doun in to my face, criyng wiþ greet voys, and seide, Allas! allas! allas! Lord God, þou makist an eendyng of þe relikis of Ifrael.

xiv And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, xv Sone of man, þi breþeren, and þi neȝ men, and al þe hows of Ifrael, and alle men, to whom dwellers of Jerusalem seiden, Goo ȝe a wey fer fro þe Lord, þe loond is ȝouen to vs in to posseſſion.

xvi Perfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord, For Y made hem fer in heþen men, and for I scatride hem in loondis, Y shal be to hem in to a litil halewinge, in loondis to whom þei camen.

xvii Perfor spek þou, Þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Y shal gadre ȝou fro puplis, and Y shal gadre ȝou fro loondis, in whiche ȝe ben scattered; and Y shal ȝyue to ȝou þe loond of Ifrael.

xviii And þei shulen go in biðir, and þei shulen doo awei alle offensiouns, 'or greuyngis, and alle abomynaciouns of it in þe ilk day.

xix And Y shal ȝeue 'to hem a newe herte, and I shal ȝeue a new spirit in þe entrails of hem; and Y shal take awey a stonen herte of þe fleshe of hem, and Y shal ȝyue to hem an herte of flesh;

xx þat þei walken in myn heefis, and kepen my domys, and doo hem, and be to me in to puple, and I be to hem in to God.

xxi Forsoþe þe herte of whom goþ after her offendyngis and abomynaciouns, Y shal putte þe weie of hem in her heed, þe Lord God seip.

xxii And cherubyns liftiden vp her weengis, and þe wheelis wiþ hem, and þe glorie of God of Israel was vpon hem.

xxiii And þe glorie of þe Lord stiede vp of þe mydil of þe citee, 'and stode vpon þe hille, þat is at þe eest of þe citee.

xxiv And þe spirit reiside me, and ledde me in to Caldea, to transmygracioun, in a visioun in þe spirit of God; and þe visioun which Y feeȝ, is takyn a wey fro me.

xxv And Y spak to þe transmygracioun, or to þe puple led out of her loond, alle þe wordis of þe Lord, whiche he shewide to me.

Capitulum XII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, ii Sone of man, þou dwellist in mydil of an hous terryng to wrappē, whiche han eyen for to see, and seen not, and eris for to here, and heren not; for it is 'an hous terryng to wrappē.

iii Perfor þou, sone of man, mak to þee vessells of transmygracioun, or passyng ouer, and þou shalt passe ouer bifore hem bi dai; forsoþe þou shalt passe ouer fro þi place to anoþer place, in þe siȝt of hem, if perauenture þei biholden, for it is an hows terryng to wrappē.

iv And þou shalt bere out þi vessells, as vessells of a man passyng ouer bi dai, in þe siȝt of hem; forsoþe þou shalt gon out in þe euenyng before hem, as a man passyng ouer goþ out.

v Before þe eyen of hem dig to þee a wal, and þou shalt gon out bi it in þe siȝt of hem.

vi In shulders þou shalt be born, in derknesſis þou shalt be born out; þou shalt hide þi face, and þou shalt not see þe erþe, for Y ȝauē þee a wondryng, signyfyinge þing to comyng after to þe hous of Israel.

vii Perfor Y dide as þe Lord comaundide me; Y brouȝte forþ my vessells, as vessells of a man passyng ouer bi dai, and in þe euenyng I diggide a wal wiþ hoond; in derknes Y wente out, and in shuldris Y am born, in þe siȝt of hem.

viii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me erli, seiyng, ix Sone of man, wheþer þe hous of Israel feide not to þee, an hous terryng to wrappē, What doft þou?

x Sey þou to hem, Þes þingis seip þe Lord God, Þis charge vpon þe duyk, which is in Jerusalem, and vpon alle þe hows of Israel, þat is in þe mydil of hem.

xi Perfor sey þou, Y ȝour wondryng; as Y dide, so it shal be don to hem; þei shulen goo in to transmygracioun, and in to caitiftee.

xii And þe duyk þat is in þe mydil of hem, shal be born in shuldris, and shul goo out in derknes; þei shulen digge þe wal, for to lede out hym; þe face of hym shal be couered, þat he see not wiþ eye þe erþe.

xiii And Y shal stretche out my nette vpon hym, and he shal be takyn in my nette; and I shal lede hym in to Babiloyne, in to þe loond of Caldeis, and he shal not see it, and he shal dye þere.

xiv And Y shal disparle in to eche wynd alle þat ben about hym, his helpe, and his cumpanyes; and Y shal drawe out a fwerd after hem.

xv And þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord, whanne Y shal scatere hem in heiþen men, and I shal sowe hem abrood in loondis.

xvi And I shal leeue of hem a fewe men fro fwerd, and hungre, and pestilence, þat þei telle out alle þe greate trespassys of hem in heiþen men, to whom þei shulen entre; and þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord.

xvii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, xviii Sone of man, ete þou þi breed in trublyng to gidir, but and drynke þi water in hast and mournyng.

xix And þou shalt seie to þe puple of þe loond, Þes þingis seip þe Lord God to hem þat dwellen in Jerusalem, in þe loond of Israel, Pei shulen eete her breed in bisynes, and þei shulen drynke her water in discoumfort; þat þe loond be desolatid fro his multitude, for þe wickidnes of alle men þat dwellen in it.

xx And þe citees þat ben now enhabitid, shulen be desolat, and þe loond deseert, and ȝe shulen wite, for Y þe Lord.

xi And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, xxii Sone of man, what is þis prouerbe, or enfaumple, to ȝou in þe loond of Israel, of men seiyng, Dais shulen be differid, or drawnen, in to loong, and eche visioun, or prophecie, shal perishe?

xxiii Perfor sey þou to hem, Þes þingis seip þe Lord God, Y shal make þis prouerbe for to reste, neþer opynli, or euary where, it shal be seide ouer in Israel; and spek þou to hem, for dais han neijede, and þe word of eche visioun.

xxiv Forsoþe not eche visioun shal be void, neþer dyuynacoun douty in þe mydil of þe fones of Israel;

xxv for Y þe Lord shal speke what euere word Y shal speke, and it shal be don; it shal namore be drawnen along, but in ȝour dais, ȝe hous terryng to wrappē, I shal speke a word, and I shal doo it, þe Lord God seip.

xxvi And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, xxvii Sone of man, loo! þe hous of Israel, of men seiyng, Pe visioun which þis seeþ, þis prophecieþ in to manye dais, and in to loonge tymes.

xxviii Perfor sey þou to hem, Þes þingis seip þe Lord God, Eche my word shal not be drawnen alonge; þe word þat I shal speke, shal be fulfillid, þe Lord God seip.

Capitulum XIII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, ii Sone of man, prophecy þou to þe prophetis of Israel þat prophecien; and þou shalt sey to men propheciyng of her herte, Here ȝe þe word of þe Lord.
iii þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Woo to vnwise prophetis, þat fuen her spirit, and seen no þing;
iv as foxes in deseertis, Ifrael, þi prophetis weren.
v ȝe stieden not vp forn aȝens, neþer ȝe aȝen puttiden a wal for þe hous of Ifrael, þat ȝe stoden in bataile in dai
of þe Lord.
vi Pei seen veyn þingis, and deuynen leesynge, seiyng, Þe Lord seiþ, whanne he sente not hem; and þei lastiden for to confeirme þe word.
vii Wheþer ȝe sawen not a veyn visioun, and ȝe spaken a fals dyuynyng, and seiden, Þe Lord seiþ, whanne Y spak not?
viii Perfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For ȝe spaken veyn þingis, and ȝe sawen leesynge, perfor loo! Y to þou, seiþ þe Lord God.
ix And myn hoond ȝhal be vpon þe prophetis þat seen veyn þingis, and deuynen leesynge; þei shulen not be in þe counseyl of my puple, and þei shulen not be writyn in þe writynge of þe hous of Ifrael, neþer þei shulen entre in to þe loond of Ifrael; and ȝe shulen wite, for I þe Lord God.
x For þat þei disseyueden my puple, seiyng, Pees, pees, and pees is not; and he bildide a wal, forsoþe þei dawbeden, or pargetiden, it wiþ fen wiþ outen chaffis.
xi Sey þou to hem þat dawben, or leyn morter, wiþ outen temperryng, þat it is to fallynge doun; forsoþe a reyn flowynge ȝhal be, and Y ȝhal ȝyue ful grete ftoonus fallynge doun fro aboue, and a wynde of tempeſt distruyng.
xii Forsoþe loo! þe wal felle doun. Wheþer it ȝhal not be seid to þou, Wher is þe dawbyng, þat ȝe dawbiden?
xiii Perfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, And Y ȝhal make a spirit of tempeſts for to breke out in myn indignacioun, and a reyn flowynge ȝhal be in my woodnes, and grete ftoonus in my wraþþe in to wastynge.
xiv And Y ȝhal distruye þe wal, whom ȝe daubiden wiþ outen temperryng, and I ȝhal make it euen to þe erþe; and þe foundement of it ȝhal be shewid, and it ȝhal falle doun, and it ȝhal be wastid in þe mydil of it; and ȝe shulen wite, for Y am þe Lord.
xv And Y ȝhal fulfille myn indignacioun in þe wal, and in hem þat dauben it wiþ outen temperryng; and Y ȝhal seye to þou, Þe wal is not, and þe prophetis of Ifrael þat dauben it, ben not.
xvi whiche prophecien to Jerusalem, and seen to it a visioun of pees, and pees is not, þe Lord God seiþ.
xvii And þou, sone of man, put þi face aȝens þe douȝtris of þi puple, whiche prophecien of her herte; and prophecie þou of hem, xviii and sey, þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Woo to hem þat fewen to gidre cuffhens vndir eche cubit of hoond, and maken pilewis vnder þe heed of eche age, for to take, or disseyue, soulis; and whanne þei token þe soulis of my puple, þei quyceneden þe soulis of hem. xix And þei defouilden me to my puple, for an handful of barli, and a gobet of breed, þat þei flewen soulis whiche dien not, and quikeneden soulis whiche lyuen not, liyng to my puple, byleeuynge to leesynge. xx For þis þing þe Lord God seiþ, Loo! Y to ȝoure cuffhens, bi whom ȝe taken soulis fleyng; and Y ȝhal al tobreke hem of ȝour armes, and Y ȝhal dismytte, or delyuere, þe soulis for to flee, whom ȝe taken. xxi And Y ȝhal breke ȝour pilewis, and Y ȝhal delyuere my puple fro ȝour hoond; neþer þei shulen be ouer in ȝour hoondis, for to be robbid; and ȝe shulen wite, for Y þe Lord.

xxii For þat þat ȝe maden leeȝyngli þe herte of þe iust man for to mourne, whom Y made not foreful; and ȝe coumfortiden þe hoondis of þe vnpitous man, þat he shulde not turne aȝen fro hys yuel weie, and shulde lyue.
xxiii Perfor ȝe shulen not see veyn þingis, and ȝe shulen namore deuyn dyuynacions; and I ȝhal delyuere my puple fro ȝoure hoond, and ȝe shulen wite, for Y þe
Lord.

Capitulum XIII.

i And men of þe eldris of Ifrael camen to me, and saten before me.
ii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, iii Sone of man, þes men han putte her vncلنnes in her hertis, and han sette þe sclaundre of her wickidnes aȝens her face. Wheþer Y axyd, ȝhal answere to hem?
iv For þis þing spek þou to hem, and þou shalt seie to hem, þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, A man, a man of þe hous of Ifrael, þat haþ putte his vncلنnes in his herte, and haþ sette þe sclaundre of his wickidnes aȝens his face, and ȝhal come to þe prophete, axyng bi hym me, Y þe Lord ȝhal answere to hym in þe multitude of his vncلنnes;
v þat þe hous of Ifrael be takyn in her herte, in whiche þei wenten awey fro me in alle her ydolis.
vi Perfor sey þou to þe hous of Ifrael, þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Be ȝe conuertid, and departe ȝe fro ȝoure ydolis, and turne awei ȝoure facis fro alle ȝoure defoulyngis.
vii For a man, a man of þe hous of Ifrael, and of proselitis, or men new comen to þe lawe of Jewis, who euer ȝhal be cumlyng, or gest, in Ifrael, if he ȝhal be alienyd fro me, and ȝhal putte his ydolis in his herte, and ȝhal sette þe sclaundre of his wickidnes aȝens his face, and ȝhal come to þe prophete, þat he axe bi hym me, I þe Lord ȝhal answere to hym bi my filf.
viii And Y ȝhal putte my face vpon þat man, and I ȝhal make hym in to ensaumple, and in to a prouerbe, and I ſhal diſtruye him fro þe mydil of my puple; and ȝe ſhulen wite, for I þe Lord.

ix And whanne þe prop̄hete ſhal erre, and ſhal ſpeke a word, Y þe Lord ſhal diſfeyue þe ilk prop̄hete; and I ſhal ſtretche out myn hoond on him, and ſhal doo hym awēy of þe mydil of my puple of Iſrael.

x And þei ſhulen bere her wickidnes; aftir þe wickidnes of þe man axinge, ſo þe wickidnes of þe prop̄hete ſhal be;

xi þat þe hows of Iſrael erre namore fro me, neþer be defoulid in alle his trespaffyngis, but be to me in to a puple, and Y be to hym in to a God, þe Lord of ooftis ſeip.

xii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, xiii Sone of man, whanne þe erþe ſhal synne aȝens me, þat it trespafflynge trespafe, I ſhal ſtretche out myn hoond vpon it, and I ſhal togidir trede þe ȝeerd of breed of it; and I ſhal ſende in to it hungre, and I ſhal flee of it man and werk beeſt.

xiv And if þes þree men, Noe, Danyel, and Job, ſhulen be in þe mydil of it, þei bi her riȝtwifnes ſhulen delyuere her foulis, þe Lord God of ooftis ſeip.

xv Pat and if I ſhal lede yn werſt beeſtis vpon þe loond, þat I waste it, and it ſhal be vnwaied, or wayles, for þat þere is no paſſyng bi it for beeſtis, xvi and þes þre men þat ſhulen be in it, þe Lord God ſeip, Y lyue, for neþer þei ſhulen delyuere fones, neþer douȝters, but þei aloon ſhulen be delyuered; forſoþe þe loond ſhal be desolat.

xvii Or if I ſhal lede yn a ſword vpon þat loond, and Y ſhal fey to þe fwerd, Paffe bi þe loond, and I ſhal flee man and beeſt of it, xviii and þes þree men ſhulen be in þe mydil of it, I lyue, ſeip þe Lord God, þei ſhulen not delyuere fones neþir douȝtris, but þei aloon ſhulen be delyuered.

xix And forſoþe if Y ſhal ſende yn vpon þat loond pestilence, and I ſhal ſheede out myn indignacioun vpon it in blood, þat Y doo awei fro it man and beeſt, xx and Noe, Danyel, and Job, ſhulen be in þe mydil of it, Y lyue, ſeip þe Lord, for þei ſhulen not delyuere fone and douȝter, but þei aloon bi her riȝtwifnes ſhulen delyuere her foulis.

xxi For þes þingis ſeip þe Lord God, Pat and if I ſhal ſende in to Jerufalem my foure werſt domys, ſword, and hungre, and yuel beeſtis, and pestilence, þat Y flee man and beeſt of it, xxii and neþeles fauyngis of men ledynge out fonyſ and douȝtris ſhal be laſt in it. Loo! þei ſhulen goo out to ȝou, and ȝe ſhulen ſee þe weie of hem, and þe fyndyngis of hem; and ȝe ſchulen be coumfortid on þe yuel which Y haue ledde in to Jerufalem, in alle þingis whiche I haue brouȝte in on it.

xxiii And þei ſhulen conforſte ȝou, whanne ȝe ſhulen ſee þe weie of hem, and þe fyndyngis of hem; and ȝe ſhulen knowe, for not idely Y dide alle þingis, what euere Y dide in it, ſeip þe Lord almiȝti.

Capitulum XV.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, ii Sone of man, what ſhal be don to tree of þe viyn, of alle trees of þe wodis, þat ben among þe trees of woodis?

iii Wheþer a tree ſhal be takyn of it, þat werk be maad? or a litil paal ſhal be forchid of it, þat eny maner vessel hange in it?

iv Lo! it is ȝouun to þe fier in to meet; þe fier haþ waſtid eche eiþer parti of it, and þe mydil of it is brouȝt in to a deed broond; wheþer it ſhal be profitable to werk?

v ȝhe, whanne it was hool, it was not able to werk; hou myche more whanne fier haþ deuouride and brende to gidre, no þing of werk ſhal be maad of it?

vi Perfor þes þingis ſeip þe Lord God, Hou þe tree of viyn amonge þe trees of woodis, whom I ȝauē to fier for to deuoure, ſo Y ſhal bitake þe dwellers of Jerufalem, vii and I ſhal putte my face in to hem. ȝei ſhulen gon out of þe fier, and þe fier ſhal waſte hem; and ȝe ſhulen wite, for I þe Lord, whanne Y ſhal putte my face in hem, viii and ſhal ȝyue þe loond vnwaied and desolat, for þat þei weren trespaffours, ſeip þe Lord God.

Capitulum XVI.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, ii Sone of man, mak þou knowyn to Jerufalem her abomynaciouns;

iii and þou ſhalt ſeie, ȝes þingis ſeip þe Lord God. Jerufalem, þi roote and þi generacioun, of þe loond of Chanaan; þi fader Amorreī, and þi moder Cethei.

iv And whanne þou art born, in þe dai of þi birþ þi naule is not before kit, and in water þou art not waſthen in to help, neþer bi salt saltid, neþer wlappid in cloþis.

v Myn eye sparide not vpon þee, þat I ſhulde doo to þee oon of þes þingis, Y hauynge mercie of þee; but þou art caſt forþ vpon þe face of erþe, in þe caſtyng a wei of þi soule, in þe dai in which þou art born.

vi Forſoþe Y paſſinge bi þee, ſawȝ þee for to be defoulid in þi blood; and I feide to þee, whanne þou were in þi blood, Lyue þou; ſoþeli Y feide to þee in þi blood, Lyue þou.

vii And I ȝauē þee multiplie as buriounyng, or feed, of þe feeld, and þou art multiplied, and maad greet; and þou wentiſt in, and þou parfielitli cameſt to wommanus aparaile; þi breeftis, or teetis, waxeden greete, and þin heer buriounede; and þou was nakid, and ful of confusioun.

viii And I paſſide bi þee, and Y ſeeȝ þee, and loo! þi tyme, þe tyme of louers; and Y ſtretchide forþ my cloþinge vpon þee, and Y hilide þi shame. And Y fwore to þee, and Y entride in couenaunt wiþ þee, seiþ þe Lord God, and þou art maad boundyn to me.

ix And I wasshede þee in water, and Y clenaside þi blood of þee, and anoyntide þee wiþ oyle.

x And I cloþide þee wiþ cloþis of dyuerse colours, and fhodde þee wiþ iasynct; and I girde þee wiþ bijs, or whijt silk; xi and I cloþide þee wiþ folil þingis, and Y ournede þee wiþ ournementis. And I ȝaf ryngis in þin hoondis, and a bee about þi necke;

xii and I ȝaue a reng vpon þi mouþ, and eerclis to þin eeris, and a coroun of fayrnes in þi heed.

xiii And þou art ourned wiþ gold and siluer, and þou art cloþid wiþ bijs and wiþ cloþ many foold steyned wiþ rounde ymagis, and wiþ manye colours. þou haft etyn flour, and hony, and oyle, and myche þou art maad fayr; and þou profitidist in to a rewme, xiv and þi name is gon out in to heþen men for þi fairnes; and þou waſt perfit in my fairnes, which Y hadde putte vpon þee, seiþ þe Lord.

xv And þou hauynge truſt in þi fairnes, haſt don fornycacioun in þi name; and þou haſt putte þi fornycacioun to eche man paſſyng, þat þou were maad his.

xvi And þou takyng of my cloþingis, madist to þee heiȝ þingis, on eche ſide fewide togidre; and þou haſt don fornicacon vpon hem, as it was not don before, neþer is to beynge.

xvii And þou tokist þe veſſels of þi fairnes, of my gold and of my siluer, whiche Y ȝaue to þee; and þou madist to þee ymagis of men, and didist fornycacioun in hem.

xviii And þou tokist þi cloþingis of manye colours, and þou was cloþid in hem; and þou puttidist myn oyle and my tymyame, or encenſe, in þe ſiȝt of hem.

xix And my breed, which I ȝaue to þee, flour, and oyle, and honye, wiþ whiche Y nurſhede þee, þou puttidist in þe ſiȝt of hem, in to odour of swetnes; and it is don, seiþ þe Lord God.

xx And þou tokist þi ſones and douȝtris, whom þou gendredist to me, and offredist to hem, for to be deuourid. Wheþer þi fornycacioun is litil?

xxi þou offredist my ſones, and ȝauest hem, togider halewyng to hem.

xxii And after alle þin abomynaciouns and fornycaciouns, þou haſt not mynde of þe dais of þi ȝongþ, whanne þou was nakid, and ful of confusioun, þou was defoulid in þi blood.

xxiii And woo, woo bifelle to þee, after al þi malice, seiþ þe Lord God.

xxiv And þou haſt bildid to þee a bordel hous, and madist to þee hordom in alle ſtretis.

xxv At eche heed of weie þou bildidist a tokne of þi hordom, and madist þi fayrnes abomynable; and departidist þi feet to eche man paſſyng, and multipliedist alle þi fornycaciouns.

xxvi And þou didist fornycacioun wiþ ſones of Egipt, þi neȝboris of grete fleſhis, and multipliedist þi fornycacioun, for to terre me to wrappē.

xxvii Loo! Y fhāl hoolde forþ myn hoond vpon þee, and Y fhāl take awey þi iuſtifyng; and Y fhāl ȝyue þee in to þe hoondis of þe hatyng þee, of þe douȝtris of Palestyn, þat shamen in þi curſid weie.

xxviii And þou haſt don fornycacioun in þe ſones of Affriens, for þat þou was not ȝit fulfillid; and after þat þou didist fornycacioun, neþer so þou art swagid.

xxix And þou multipliedist þi fornycacioun in þe loond of Canaan wiþ Caldeis, and neþer so þou art fulfillid.

xxx In what þing fhāl Y clenſe þin herte, seiþ þe Lord God, whanne þou doſt alle þes werkis of a womman hoore, and bold to hordom?

xxxi For þou haſt forgid þi bordel hous in þe heed of eche weie, and þou madist þin heiȝe þingis in eche ſtrete; neþer þou art maad as an hoore anoyed, or ful of werynes, encreſyng prijs, xxii but as a womman auowtrefſe, þe whiche ledip in aliens vpon hir hufboond.

xxiii To alle hooris hijris ben ȝouen, forſoþe þou haſt ȝouun hijre, or mede, to alle þi loueris; and þou ȝauist to hem, þat þei ſhulden entre to þee on eche ſide, for to doo fornycacioun wiþ þee.

xxiv And it is don in þee aȝen þe cuſtom of wymmen in þi fornycaciouns, and after þee fhāl not be fornycacioun; forſoþe in þat þing þat þou ȝauest hijris, and refseyuedist not hijris, þe contrarie is don in þee.

xxv Perfor, þou hoore, here þe word of þe Lord.

xxvi Pes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For þi monee is ſhed out, and þin euyl fame is ſhewid in þi fornycaciouns vpon þi loueris and vpon þin idolis of þin abomynaciouns, in þe blood of þi ſones, whom þou haſt ȝouen to hem;

xxvii loo! Y fhāl gedre alle þi loueris, wiþ whom þou art meynd, and alle men whom þou louedist, wiþ alle men whom þou hatidist; and Y fhāl gadre hem vpon þee on eche ſide, and Y fhāl make nakid þin yuel fame before hem, and alle ſhulen fee þi filȝ.

xxviii And I fhāl deme þee wiþ domes of auoutrefſis, and of ſhedyng blood; and Y fhāl ȝyue þee in to blood of woodneſſe, and enuye.

xxix And Y fhāl ȝeue þee in to þe hoondis of hem, and þei ſhulen diſtruye þi bordel hous, and þei ſhulen diſtruye þin hoore hous; and þei ſhulen make þee nakid fro þi cloþis, and ſhulen take awei þe veſſels of þi feirnes, and þei ſhulen forſake þee nakid, and ful of yuel fame.

xl And þei ſhulen lede to vpon þee a multitude, and þei ſhulen ſtoone þee wiþ ſtoonus, and þei ſhulen flee þee wiþ her ſwerdis.

xli And þei ſhulen togider brenne þin houſis in fier, and þei ſhulen doo domys in þee, in þe eyen of ful manye wymmen; and þou ſhalt faile, or ceefe, for to do fornycacioun, and þou ſhalt namore ȝyue hijris.

xlvi And myn indignacioun shal reste in þee, and my loue shal be takyn awei fro þee; and I shal reste, neþer Y shal be wroþ more, xlvii for þat þou haddist not mynde of þe dais of þi ȝongþ, and hast terrid me to wraþþe in alle þese þingis. Wherfor and Y haue ȝouen þi weies in þin heed, seiþ þe Lord God, and Y dide not after þi greet trespassis, in alle þin abomynaciouns.
 xlviii Loo! eche man þat seiþ euer where, or comounli, a prouerbe in þee, shal take it to, seiynge, As þe modir, so and hir douȝter.
 xlvi And þou art þe doȝter of þi modir, which castide awei hir husboond and hir sones; and þe sister of þi sistris, whiche castiden awey her husbondis and her sones. Þi modir Cethei, and þi fader Ammorrei; xlvi And þi more sister Samarie, she and hir douȝtris, þat dwellen at þi left side. Forsoþe þi sister lassë þan þou, þat dwellip at þi riȝt half, Sodom and hir douȝtris.
 xlvii But neþer þou haft gon in þe weies of hem, neþer þou haft don after her grete trespassis; almeſt a litil leſſe gretter trespassis þou haft don þan þei, in alle þi weies.
 xlviii Y lyue, seiþ þe Lord God, for Sodom, þi sister, dide not, she and hir douȝtris, as þou didist and þi douȝtris.
 xlxi Loo! þis was þe wickidnes of Sodom, þi sister, prijde, and fulnes of bread, or glotonye, and aboundinge, or plente, and idilnes of hir, and hir douȝtris; and þei dresſiden not þe hoond to þe ned and pore.
 i And þei ben lift an heiȝ, and diden oper abomynaciouns before me; and Y dide hem a wei, as þou haft seen.
 ii And Samarie synnede not þe half of þi synnes, but þou haft ouercomen hem in grete trespassis, and haft iustified þi sistris in alle þin abomynaciouns, whiche þou wrouȝtist.
 iii Perfor and þou bere þi confusioun, which haft ouercomyn þi sistris wiþ þi synnes, doyng more cursidli þan þei; forsoþe þei ben iustified of þee. Perfor and þou be confoundid, and ber þou þin yuel fame, þe which haft iustifiede þi sistris. ivi And Y restorynge shal conuerte hem wiþ þe turnyng togidre of Sodom and hir douȝtris; and Y shal conuerte þi turnyng aȝen in þe mydil of hem, ivii þat þou bere þin yuel fame, and be confoundid in alle þingis whiche þou didist, coumfortyng hem.
 iv And þi sister Sodom and hir douȝtris shulen turne aȝen to her oldenes; and Samarie and hir douȝtris shulen turne aȝen to her oldenes; and þou and þi douȝtris turne aȝen to ȝour oldenes.
 ivi Forsoþe Sodom, þi sister, was not herde in þi mouȝ, in þe dai of þi pride, ivii before þat þi malice was shewid, as in þis tyme, in to þe shenship of douȝtris of Sirie, and of alle douȝters of Palestyn in þi cumpas, þat gon about þee bi enuyroun.

 viii þou haft born þi greet trespass, and þin yuel fame, seiþ þe Lord God.
 ix For þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, And I shal doo to þee as þou dispisedist þe oþ, þat þou madist þe couenaunt voyd; ix and Y shal haue mynde of my couenaunt wiþ þee in þe dais of þi ȝongþ, and I shal reise to þee couenaunt euerlaſtyng.
 xi And þou shalt haue mynde of þi weies, and þou shalt be confoundid, whanne þou shalt resseyue þi fistris more þan þou, wiþ þi leſſe; and Y shal ȝyue hem to þee in to douȝtris, and not of þi couenaunt.
 xii And Y shal reise my couenaunt wiþ þee, and þou shalt wite, for I þe Lord, xiii þat þou haue mynde, and be confoundid; and þat it be namore to þee for to opyn þe mouȝ, for þi confusioun, whanne Y shal be plesid to þee in alle þingis whiche þou haft don, seiþ þe Lord God.

Capitulum XVII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seyyng, ii Sone of man, put forþ a derk ensaumple, or hard questioun, and telle a parable to þe hous of Israel;
 iii and þou shalt seye, Þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God. A greet egle of grete weengis, wiþ long ledynge of membris, ful of feþeris and dyuerſite, cam to þe Liban, and took þe merouȝ of cedre.
 ivi He drowȝ of þe heiȝnes of his bouwis, or braunches, and bare it ouer 'in to þe loond of Canaan; in þe citee of marchauntis he puttide it.
 v And he took of þe feed of þe erþe, and puttide it in þe erþe for feed, þat he shulde make sad þe root vpon manye watris; in þe ouermest paart he puttide it.
 vi And whanne it had buriounede, it wexede in to a brodder viynȝerd, in lowe stature, þe braunches 'of it beholdinge to it, and þe rootis perof weren vndir it; þerfor it is maad in to a viynȝerd, and made fruyte in to siouns, and sente out braunchis.
 vii And anoþer greet egle is maad, wiþ greet weengis, and manye feþers; and loo! þis viynȝerd as sendyng his rootis to it, stretchide out his siouns to it, þat it moystide it of þe litil placis of his buriounyng.
 viii þat in good erþe vpon many waters is plauntid, þat it make bouwis, and bere fruyte, þat it be in to a greet viynȝerd.
 ix Sey þou, Þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Perfor wheþer it shal haue prosperite? Wheþer he shal not drawe vp þe rote of it, and shal distruye þe fruytis of it? And he shal drye alle þe syounis of his buriounyng, and it shal wexe drye; and not in a greet arme, neþer in myche puple, þat he shulde drawe it vp bi þe roote.
 x Loo! it is plauntid; þerfor wheþer it shal haue prosperite? Wheþer whanne a brennyng wynde shal touche it, it shal not be dried, and it shal dwyne awey in þe placis of his buriounyngē?

xii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyngē, xii Sey þou to þe hows terryngē to wraþþe, Witen ȝe not what þes þingis bitoknen? Sei þou, Loo! þe kyng of Babiloyne comeþ in to Jerusalem; and he shal take þe kyng and his princes, and he shal lede hem to hym self in to Babiloyne.

xiii And he shal take of þe seed of þe rewme, and he shal smyte a boond of pees wiþ it, and of it he shal refleyue an oop; but and he shal take a wei þe stronge men of þe loond,

xiv þat þe rewme be lowe, and be not reisid vp, but kepe þe couenaunt of hym, and kepe it, or faue.

xv Whiche goynge a wey fro hym, fente messageris to Egipt, þat he shulde ȝyue to hym horsis and myche puple. Wheþer he shal haue prosperite, or shal gete help, which dide þes þingis? and he þat vndorþ a couenaunt, wheþer he shal askape?

xvi Y lyue, seiþ þe Lord God, for in þe place of þe kyng þat made hym kyng, whos ooþ he made voyd, and brak þe couenaunt þat he hadde wiþ hym, in þe mydil of Babiloyne he shal die.

xvii And not in greet ooft, neþer in myche puple Pharao shal make batayle aȝens hym, in castynge of an heep of erþe, and in bildynge of paalis, þat he flee many soulis.

xviii Forsoþe he dispiside þe oop, þat he shulde breke þe boond of pees, and loo! he ȝaf his hoond; and whanne he haþ do alle þes þingis, he shal not skape.

xix Perfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, I lyue, for I shal putte in to his heed þe ooþ þat he dispiside, and þe boond of pees þat he brak.

xx And I shal holde forþ vpon hym my nette, `and he shal be cacchid in my nette, and Y shal lede hym in to Babiloyne; and Y shal deme hym in þe trespassyngē, in which he dispiside me.

xi And alle þe fleers of hym wiþ al his company shulen falle togidre in swerd, forsoþe þe residues shulen be scattered in to eche wynd; and ȝe shulen wite, for I þe Lord haue spoken.

xxii Þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, And Y shal take of þe merewȝ of þe heiȝ cedre, and I shal putte of þe cop of his braunchis; þe tendre I shal distreyne, and Y shal plaunte vpon an heiȝ hil, and fer aperynge.

xxiii And in þe heiȝ hil of Israel Y shal plaunte it; and it shal breſt vp in to buriownyngē, and shal make fruyte, and shal be in to a greet cedre, and alle briddis shulen dwelle vndir it; al volatile shal make nestis vndir þe fhadewe of his bouwis.

xxiv And alle þe trees of þe cuntrie shulen wite, for Y þe Lord haue mekid þe heiȝ tree, and reyfide þe meke tree, and Y drieðe þe grene tree, and Y made þe drye tree for to floriflē; Y þe Lord spak, and Y dide.

Capitulum XVIII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyngē, ii What is it, þat amonge ȝou ȝe turnen a parable in to þis prouerbe, in þe loond of Israelf, seyyngē, þe fadris eteen a soure grape, and þe teeþ of sones wexen on egge?

iii Y lyue, seiþ þe Lord God, if þis parable shal be more to ȝou in to a prouerbe in Israelf.

iv Loo! alle foulis ben myne; as þe soule of þe fadir, so and þe soule of þe sone is myne. þe soule þat shal synne, þe ilk shal die.

v And if a man shal be iust, and shal doo doom and riȝtwisnes,

vi he shal not ete in þe hillis, and shal not reyse his eyen to þe ydolis of þe hows of Israelf; and he shal not defoule þe wijf of his neiȝbour, and shal not go to a menstruat womman, or in vnclene blood flowing;

vii and he shal not make a man foreful, he shal ȝeelde þe wed to þe dettour, and he shal rauyshe no þing bi strengþ, he shal ȝyue his breed to þe hungryngē, and he shal hille þe nakid wiþ cloþing;

viii he shal not leene to vſure, and shal not take more;

he shal turne awey his hoond fro wickidnes, and he shal doo verre dom bitwix man and man;

ix and shal walke in my comaundementis, and shal kepe my domys, þat he doo treuþ; he þis is iust, in liȝf he shal lyue, seiþ þe Lord God.

x þat if he shal gendre a sone, þeef, shedyngē out blood, and shal doo oon of þes, xi and soþeli not doyngē alle þes, but etyngē in mounteyns, and defoulyngē þe wijf of his neiȝbour;

xii makynge þe nedys and pore foreful, rauylhyngē raueyns, not ȝeeldynge wed, reisynge his eyen to ydolis, doyngē abomynacioun;

xiii ȝyuyngē to vſure, and takynge more; wheþer he shal lyue? he shal not lyue; whanne he shal doo alle þes curfyd þingis, he shal die bi deeþ, þe blood of hym shal be in hym.

xiv þat if he shal gendre a sone, whiche seyngē alle þes fynnes of his fader, which he haþ don, shal drede, and not doo liche þing to hem;

xv shal not eete in hillis, and shal not reyse his eyen to þe ydolis of þe hows of Israelf; and shal not defoule þe wijf of his neiȝbour,

xvi and shal not make a man foreful, shal not wiþholde a wed, and shal not rauyshe raueyne, shal ȝyue his breed to þe hungryngē, and shal hille þe nakid wiþ cloþing;

xvii shal turne awey his hoond fro wroong of þe pore man, shal not take vſure and ouere-abundance, and shal doo my domys, shal walke in my preceptis; þis man shal not die in þe wickidnes of his fadir, but in liȝf he shal lyue.

xviii þe fadir of hym, for he dide fals chalenge, and dide strengþe, or violence, to his broþer, and wrouȝte yuel þing in þe mydil of his puple, loo! he is deed in his wickidnes.

xix And ȝe seyn, Whi beriþ not þe sone þe wickidnes of his fader? ȝat is for to wite, for þe sone wrouȝte doom and riȝtwisnes, he kepte alle my preceptis, and dide hem, in līf he shal lyue, seiþ þe Lord God.
 xx ȝe soule ȝat shal synne, þe ilke shal die; þe sone shal not bere þe wickidnes of þe fader, and þe fadir shal not bere þe wickidnes of þe sone; þe riȝtwisnes of þe iust man shal be vpon hym, and þe vnpitouſnes of þe vnpitous man shal be vpon hym.
 xxi Forsoþe if þe vnpitous man shal doo penaunce of alle his synnes whiche he haþ wrouȝte, and shal kepe alle myn heefis, and shal doo doom and riȝtwisnes, in līf he shal lyue, and he shal not die.
 xxii I shal not haue mynde of alle þe wyckidnessis whiche he wrouȝte; 'in his riȝtwisnessis whiche he wrouȝt, he shal lyue.
 xxiii Wheþer þe deep of þe vnpitous man is of my wil, seiþ þe Lord God, and not ȝat he be conuertid fro his weies, and lyue?
 xxiv Forsoþe if a iust man shal turne hym a wei fro his riȝtwisnes, and shal doo wickidnes, after alle þe abomynaciouns whiche þe vnpitous man is wont for to worche, wheþer he shal lyue? Alle his riȝtwisnessis whiche he dide, shulen not be recordid; in þe trespassyng in which he trespasside, and in þe synne in which he synned, in hem he shal dye.
 xxv And ȝe seiden, ȝe weie of þe Lord is not euen. Perfor here ȝe, hous of Israel, wheþer my weye is not euen, and not more ȝoure weies ben shrewid?
 xxvi Forsoþe whanne a iust man shal turne awei him fro his riȝtwisnes, and shal do wickidnes, he shal die in hem, in þe vniȝtwisnes which he wrouȝt, he shal die.
 xxvii And whanne þe vnpitous man shal turne hym a wey fro his vnpite which he wrouȝte, and shal doo doom and riȝtwisnes, he shal quykne his soule.
 xxviii Forsoþe biholdynge and turnyng awei hym fro alle his wickidnessis whiche he wrouȝte, he shal lyue in līf, and shal not die.
 xxix And þe sones of Israel seyn, ȝe weie of þe Lord is not euen. Wheþer my weies ben not euen, ȝe hous of Israel, and not more ȝoure weies ben shrewid?
 xxx Perfor I shal deme eche man after his weies, ȝe hous of Israel, seiþ þe Lord God. Be ȝe conuertid, and doo ȝe penaunce fro alle ȝour wyckidnessis, and wickidnes shal not be to ȝou in to falling doun.
 xxxi Caste ȝe awei fro ȝou alle ȝour trespassyngis, in whiche ȝe han trespasside, and make ȝe to ȝou a newe herte and a newe spirite, and whi shulen ȝe die, hous of Israel?
 xxxii For I wole not þe deep of þe diynge, but ȝat he be conuertid and lyue, seiþ þe Lord God; turne ȝe aȝen, and lyue.

Capitulum XIX.

i And þou, sone of man, take to þee weilynge vpon þe princis of Israel;
 ii and þou shalt seie, Whi þi modir, a liounesse, laie amonge lyouns? In þe mydil of smale liouns shē nurshide her whelpis, iii and ledde out oon of her litil liouns; he is maad a lioun, and lerned for to take pray, and for to ete man.
 iv And heiþen men herden of hym, and not wiþ outen his woundis þei tokyn hym; and ladden hym in cheynes in to þe loond of Egypt.
 v Which whanne shē feeȝ, for shē is maad sijk, and abidyng of hym perishide, took oon of her litil lyouns, ordeynde hym a lyoun.
 vi And he lernede for to take pray, and for to deoure men.
 vii He lernede for to make wydewis, and for to bryng citemes in to defeert; and þe loond is desolat and þe plente of it, of þe vois of his rorynge.
 viii And heiþen men camen togidre aȝens hym on eche fyde fro prouyncis, and stretchiden out her net vpon hym; in þe woundis of hem he is takyn.
 ix And þei senten hym in to a caue in cheynes, and þei ledden hym forþ to þe kyng of Babiloyne; and þei senten hym in to prisoun, leſt his vois were herd more vpon þe hillis of Israel.
 x ȝi modir as a vynȝerd in ȝi blood vpon water is plauntid; þe fruytis of it and bouwis of it waxeden of many watriſ.
 xi And sad zeerdis ben maad to it in to septris of men hauynge lordship, and þe stature of it is enhaunſid among bouwis; and it feeȝ his heiȝnes in þe multitude of his fiouns.
 xii And it is drawyn vp in wraþþe, and caste in to þe erþe; and a brennyng wynd drieðe þe fruyte of it, þe ȝerdeſ of his strengþ welewidien, and ben maad drie, fier ete it.
 xiii And now it is plauntid ouere in defeert, in loond not wayed, or not hauntid, and þristie.
 xiv And fier wente out of þe ȝerde of his braunchis, which ete þe fruyte of it. And a stronge ȝerde, a ceptre, or kyngis ȝerde, of men hauynge lordship, was not in it. Weilynge is, and shal be in to weilynge.

Capitulum XX.

i And it is maad in þe feuenþe ȝeer, in þe fifþe moneþ, in þe tenþe dai of þe moneþ, men of þe eldris of Israel camen for to axe þe Lord, and saten before me.
 ii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, iii Sone of man, speke þou to þe eldre men of Israel; and þou shalt seie to hem, ȝes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Wheþer ȝe camen for to axe me? Y lyue, for Y shal not answere to ȝou, seiþ þe Lord God.
 iv Sone of man if þou demest hem, if þou demist, shew þou to hem þe abomynaciouns of her fadris.

v And þou shalt seie to hem, Þes þingis seip þe Lord, In þe dai in which Y cheefe Israel, and reiside myn hoond for þe kynrede, or generaciouns, of Jacobs hows, and aperide to hem in þe loond of Egipt, and reiside myn hoond for hem, seiyng, Y þe Lord ȝoure God, vi in þat dai Y reiside myn hoond for hem, þat Y shulde lede hem out of þe loond of Egipt, in to þe loond which Y hadde purueiede to hem, flowynge wiþ mylk and hony, whiche is noble amonge alle loondis.
vii And Y feide to hem, Eche man caste awey þe offensiouns of his eyen, and in þe ydols of Egipt nyl ȝe be defoulid; I þe Lord ȝour God.
viii And þei wraþbiden me, and þei wolden not here me; eche man castide not awey þe abomynaciouns of his eyen, neþer forsoke þe ydols of Egipt. And Y feide, þat Y shulde sheede out myn indignacioun vpon hem, and shulde fulfille my wraþbe in hem, in þe mydil of þe loond of Egipt.
ix And Y dide for my name, þat it were not defoulid before heipen men, in whos mydil þei weren, and among whom I aperide to hem, þat I shulde lede out hem fro þe lond of Egipt.
x Perfor Y castide out hem fro þe lond of Egipt, and Y ledde out in to desert, xi and ȝaf to hem myn heestis, and Y shewide to hem my domys, whiche a man shulde doo, and lyue in hem.
xii More ouere and I ȝauet to hem my sabotis, þat it were a signe bitwixe me and hem, and þei shulden wite, for I þe Lord halewynge hem.
xiii And þe hous of Israel wraþbide me in deseert; in my preceptis þei walkiden not, and þei castiden awey my domys, whom a man doynghe shal lyue in hem; and þei defouliden greetli my sabotis. Perfor I feide, þat I shulde shede out my woodnes vpon hem in deseert, and destruye hem; xiv and Y dide for my name, leſt I were defoulid before heipen men, of whom Y castide hem out in þe fiste of hem.
xv Perfor Y reiside myn hoond vpon hem in deseert, þat Y ledde hem not in to þe loond which Y ȝauet to hem, flowynge wiþ mylk and hony, þe best of alle loondis.
xvi For þei castiden awei my domys, and þei walkiden not in myn heestis, and þei defouleden my sabotis; forsoþe þe herte of hem wente after idolis.
xvii And myn eye ſparide vpon hem, þat I shulde not flee hem, neþer Y waſtide hem in deseert.
xviii Forsoþe Y feide to þe sones of hem in wildirnes, In þe preceptis of ȝoure fadrис nyle ȝe goo, neþer kepe ȝe þe domys of hem, neþer be ȝe defoulid in þe idolis of hem.
xix Y þe Lord ȝour God, in my preceptis walke ȝe, and kepe ȝe my domys, and doo ȝe hem.
xx And halewe ȝe my labothis, þat it be a tokne betwixe me and ȝou, and it be wiſt, for Y þe Lord ȝour God.

xxi And þe sones of Israel wraþbiden me, and þei walkiden not in my preceptis, and þei kepten not my domys, þat þei shulden do hem, whiche whanne a man shal doo, he shal lyue in hem, and þei defouliden my sabotis. And I þreñene, þat I shulde sheede out my woodnes vpon hem, and shulde fulfille my wraþbe in hem in deseert.
xxii Y turnede awei myn hoond, and Y dide þis þing for my name, þat it were not defoulid before heipen men, of whom I castide out hem in þe eyen of hem.
xxiii Eftſoone Y reiside myn hoond in to hem in wildirnes, þat Y shulde scatere hem in to naciouns, and shulde wyndow hem in to loondis;
xxiv for þat þat þei diden not my domys, and repreueden my preceptis, and defouleden my sabotis, and þe eyen of hem weren after þe idolis of her fadrис.
xxv Perfor and Y ȝauet to hem preceptis not goode, and domys in whiche þei shulen not lyue.
xxvi And Y defoulede hem in her ȝiftis, whanne þei offriden al þing þat opneþ þe wombe for her giltis; and þei shulden wite, for Y þe Lord.
xxvii Wherfor, fone of man, spek þou to þe hous of Israel, and þou shalt seie to hem, Þes þingis seip þe Lord God, ȝit and in þes þingis ȝoure faders blasphemeden me, whanne þei despifyngē hadden forsake me, xxviii and Y hadde ledde hem in to þe loond vpon which Y reiside myn hoond, þat Y shulde ȝyue it to hem, þei sawen eche heeȝ litil hil, or reifyngē of greet hil, and eche tree ful of wode, and þei offreden þere her flayn sacrifices for victorie, and ȝauen þere her offryngis in to wraþbinge; and þei puttiden þere þe odour of her swetnes, and sacrefieden her libaciouns, þat ben of fletynge þingis, as wiyn, oyle, and fiche.
xxix And Y feide to hem, What is þe heeȝ þing, to whom ȝe entren in? And þe name of it is clepid Heeȝ þing til in to þis dai.
xxx Perfor sey þou to þe hous of Israel, Þes þingis seip þe Lord God, Certis in þe weie of ȝoure fadrис ȝe ben polut, or defoulid, and after her offensiouns ȝe don fornycacioun, xxxi and in offryngē of ȝour ȝiftis, whanne ȝe ledē ouer ȝoure sones bi fier, ȝe ben defoulid in alle ȝour ydols til to dai, and Y shal anſwre to ȝou, þe hous of Israel? Y lyue, seip þe Lord God, for I shal not anſwre to ȝou;
xxxii neþer þe penkyngē of ȝour soule, or vnderſtondyngē, shal be maad, of men seiyngē, We shulen be as heipen men, as þe kynredis of erþe, þat we worſhipe trees and ſtoonuſ.
xxxiii Y lyue, seip þe Lord God, for in ſtrong hoond, and in arm ſtrauȝt out, and in woodnes ſhed out, Y shal regne vpon ȝou.
xxxiv And I shal lede out ȝou of puplis, and Y shal gadre ȝou of loondis, in whiche ȝe ben ſcaterid; in strong hoond and arm strauȝt forþ, and in woodnes shed out I shal regne vpon ȝou.

xxxv And Y shal lede ȝou in to deseert of puplis, and I shal be demed þere wiþ ȝou face to face.

xxvi As bi doom Y stroof aȝens ȝour fadris in deseert of þe loond of Egipt, so Y shal deme ȝou, seip þe Lord; xxvii and I shal make you suget to my ceptre, and Y shal lede in ȝou in boondis of pees.

xxviii And Y shal cheefe of ȝou trespasseris, and vnpitouse men; I shal lede out hem fro þe loond of her cumlyngnes, and þei shulen not entre in to þe loond of Israel; and ȝe shulen wite, for Y þe Lord.

xxix And ȝe, þe hous of Israel, þes þingis seip þe Lord God, ȝe eche walke after ȝour idolis, and serue ȝe to hem. þat and if in þis þing ȝe shulen not here me, and ȝe shulen defoule ouer myn hooli name in ȝour ȝiftis, xi and in ȝour ydolis, in myn hooli hil, in þe heiȝ hil of Israel, seip þe Lord God, þere al be hous of Israel shal serue to me; forsoþe eche in þe loond, in which þei shulen plefe to me; and þere I shal seche ȝour prymyfies, or first fruytis, and þe bigynnyng of ȝour tipis in alle ȝour halewyngis.

xli In to odour of swetnes Y shal resseyue ȝou, whanne Y shal lede ȝou out of puplis, and shal gedre ȝou of loondis, in to whiche ȝe ben scatered; and I shal be halewid in ȝou in eyen, or siȝt, of naciouns.

xlii And ȝe shulen wite, for I þe Lord, whanne I shal lede ȝou in to þe loond of Israel, in to þe loond for which Y reyside myn hoond, þat I shulde ȝyue it to ȝour fadris.

xliii And þere ȝe shulen biȝenke in hem of ȝour weies, and of alle ȝour grete trespassis, bi whiche ȝe ben defoulid in hem; and ȝe shulen disples to ȝou in ȝour siȝt, in alle ȝour malices whiche ȝe diden.

xliiiii And ȝe shulen wite, for Y þe Lord, whanne I shal wel doo to ȝou for my name; not after ȝour yuel weies, neper after ȝour werst huge trespassis, ȝe hous of Israel, seip þe Lord God.

xlv And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, xlii Sone of man, put þou þi face aȝens þe weie of þe souþ, and drop to þe souþ wynd, and prophecy þou to þe wodi place, or wildernes, of þe myddai, or souþ, feeld.

xliii And þou shalt seie to þe myddai, or souþ, wodi place, Here þou þe word of þe Lord. þes þingis seip þe Lord, Loo! I shal kyndle in þee fier, and I shal togider brenne in þee eche grene tree, and eche drye tree; þe flaume of brennyng shal not be quenchid, and eche face in it shal be brent togidre, fro þe souþ vnto þe norþ.

xliiiii And eche flesh shal see, for I þe Lord brende it, and it shal not be quenchid.

xliiiiiii And Y seide, A! A! A! Lord God, þei feyn of me, What þis spekiþ bi parablis?

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, ii Sone of man, put þou þi face to Jerusalem, and drop to þe seytuaries, and prophecy þou aȝens þe erþe of Israel.

iii And þou shalt seie to þe loond of Israel, þes þingis seip þe Lord God, Loo! I to þee, and I shal caste out my fwerd of his sheeþe, and I shal flee in þee þe iuſt and þe vnpitous.

iv Forsoþe for þat Y flew in þee þe iuſt man and vnpitous, þerfor my fwerd shal goo out of his sheeþe to eche flesh, or man, fro þe souþ vn to þe norþ;
v þat eche flesh wite, for I þe Lord ledde out my fwerd of his sheeþe irreuocable, or þat may not be clepid aȝen.

vi And þou, sone of man, forew wiþinforþ in þe contricioun of leendis, and þou shalt inwardli forewe in bitternessis bifore hem.

vii And whanne þei shulen seie to þee, Whi forewist þou? þou shalt seie, For þe herynge, for it cummeþ; and eche herte shal faile, and alle hoondis shulen be vndon, and eche spirit shal be fijk, and bi alle kneȝes watris shulen fleete; loo! it cummeþ, and it shal be maad, seip þe Lord God.

viii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, ix Sone of man, prophecy þou; and þou shalt seie, þes þingis seip þe Lord God, Spek þou, þe fwerd, þe fwerd is whettid, and furbushid;

x þat it kitte, or flee, flayn sacrifices, it is whettid; þat it fhyne, it is furbushid. þe which mouynge þe ceptre of my sone, haſt kitte doun eche tree.

xi And Y ȝaue hym for to be maad pleyn, þat it be hold wiþ hoond; þis fwerd is whettid, and þis is furbushid, þat it be in þe hoond of þe fleyng.

xii Sone of man, cry þou, and goul, for þis is maad in my puple, þis in alle þe duykis of Israel; þei þat han fledde fro fwerd ben bitakyn wiþ my puple. þerfor bete togidre hoondis vpon þe hipe, xiii for it is proued; and þis þing whanne it shal distruye þe ceptre, and it shal not be, seip þe Lord God.

xiv þerfor þou, sone of man, prophecy, and smyit hoond to hoond, and þe fwerd be doublid, and þe fwerd of fleers be treblid; þis is þe fwerd of greet fleyng, which shal make hem greethi abaist, or mad, and for to faile in herte, and it multiplieþ fallyngis.

xv In alle þe ȝatis of hem Y ȝaue togidre sturblyngis of fwerd, sharp and furbushid for to fhyne, cloþid to fleyng.

xvi Be þou whettid, go þou to þe riȝt, or to þe left,
'whidir euere is þe appetit, or desier, of þi face.'

xvii For and Y shal smyte wiþ hoond to hoond, and Y shal fulfille myn indignaciooun; Y þe Lord haue spokyn.

xviii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, xix And þou, sone of man, put to þee two weies, þat þe fwerd of þe king of Babiloyne come; þoþe shulen goo out of o loond, and in hoond he shal take coniectyngis,

Capitulum XXI.

or suspiciooun; in heed of þe waie of þe citee he shal gesse, or þenke, xx puttinge a weie, þat þe swerd come to Rabath of þe sones of Amon, and to Juda 'in to Jerusalem moost waardid, or strengbid.
 xxi Forþoþe þe kyng of Babiloyne stode in þe metynge of two weies, fechynge dyuynacioun, mengyng arowis; he axede ydolis, he counseilide entrailis.
 xxii At þe riȝt half of hym dyuynacioun is maad vpon Jerusalem, þat he putte engynes, þat he opyn þe mouþ in fleynge, þat he reyse þe vois in goulynge, þat he putte engynes aȝens ȝatis, þat he bere togidre an heepe of erþe, þat he bilde waardynge.
 xxiii And he shal be as veynly counseilynge answere of God in þe eyen of hem, and chaungyng þe idilnes, or rest, of sabotis; forþoþe he shal haue mynde of wickidnes, for to take.
 xxiv Perfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For þat þat ȝe han mynde of ȝour wickidnes, and han shewide ȝour trespassingis, and ȝour synnes apereden in alle ȝour þouȝtis, for þat soþeli þat ȝe hadden mynde, ȝe shulen be takyn bi þe hoond.
 xxv Pou soþeli, cursid vnpitouſ duyk of Israel, whos day determinyd comeþ in tyme of wickidnes, xxvi þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Do a wey þe mytre, tak a wei þe coroun; wheþer þis is not which enhaunside þe meke, andmekide þe heiȝ?
 xxvii Y shal putte it wickidnes, wickidnes, wickidnes; and þis þing is not don til he cam, whos þe doom of God is, and shal be take to hym.
 xxviii And þou, sone of man, prophecy, and sey, þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God to þe sones of Amon, and to þe shenship of hem; and þou shalt seye, Swerd, swerd, vnlheþe þee for to flee, furbishe þee, þat þou flee and flhyne, xxix whanne veyne þingis weren seen to þee, and leefyngis weren dyuynyd, þat þou shuldist be ȝouen vpon þe neckis of vnpitouſ men woundid, of whom þe dai determinyd shal come in tyme of wickidnes.
 xxx Turn aȝen in to þi sheeþe, 'in to be place in which þou art maad. In þe loond of þi birþ Y shal deme þee, xxxi and Y shal shede out vpon þee myn indignacioun; in fier of my woodnes Y shal blowe in þee, and Y shal ȝeue þee in to þe hoondis of vniwys men, and forgynge perisfyng, or deep.
 xxxii Pou shalt be meet to fier, þi blood shal be in þe mydil of erþe; þou shalt be bitakyn to forȝetyng, for I þe Lord haue spokyn.

Capitulum XXII.

- i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng,
- ii And þou, sone of man, wheþer þou demest not þe citee of bloodis?
- iii And þou shalt shewe to it alle her abomynaciouns, and þou shalt seie, Þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Pe citee shedyng out blood in þe mydil of it, þat þe tyme of it cumme; and which made ydols aȝens it filf, þat it were polutid, or defoulid.

 iv In þi blood þat is shed out of þee, þou trespassidist, and in þin ydolis whiche þou madist þou art defoulid; and þou madist þi daies for to neiȝ, and leddist to þe tyme of þi ȝeeris. Perfor I ȝauë þee shenship to heiȝen men, and scornynge to alle loondis v þat ben besidis; and þei þat ben fer fro þee shulen haue victorie of þee, þou foule, noble, greet in perishing.
 vi Loo! þe princes of Israel, eche in her arm, weren in þee, for to shede out blood.
 vii ȝei punyshiden wiþ wroongis þe fadir and moder in þee, þei falsly chalengiden a cumlyng in þe mydil of þee, þei maden foreful fadirles and moderles and widewe anentis þee.
 viii ȝe han dispiside my seyntuaries, and ȝe han defoulide my sabotis.
 ix Men bacbiters weren in þee, for to shede out blood, and vpon mounteyns þei eten in þee; þei vrouȝten greet trespas in þe mydil of þee.
 x Fadris vnhilliden in þee more shameful þingis, þei meekeden in þee þe vnclemnes of þe menstruate womman.
 xi Eche man vrouȝte abomynacioun in to þe wif of his neiȝbour, and þe husbondis fader defoulide his sonys wif; vnleuefuli þe broþer oppresidist in þee his fistyr, þe douȝter of his fader.
 xii ȝei token ȝiftis, for to shede out blood at þee; þou tokist vture and oueraboundaunce, and gredili, or coueytouſly, þou falsly chalengidist þi neiȝbours, and haft forȝete me, seiþ þe Lord God.
 xiii Loo! I haue smytin togider myn hondis vpon þin aueryce, or gredynes, whiche þou didist, and vpon þe blood þat is shed out in þe mydil of þee.
 xiv Wheþer þin herte shal susteyne, or þin hoondis shulen haue power in þe dais whiche I shal make to þee? Forþoþe Y þe Lord spak, and Y shal doo.
 xv And I shal scater þee in to naciouns, and I shal wyndewe, 'or blowe, þee in to loondis; and I shal make þi vnclemnes to fayle fro þee, xvi and I shal weelde þee in þe siȝt of heiȝen men; and þou shalt wytte, for I þe Lord.
 xvii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, xviii Sone of man, þe hous of Israel is turnyd in to drosse, or syndre; alle þes bras, and tyn, and yren, and leed, in þe mydil of fourneys, ben maad drosse of filuer.
 xix Perfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For þat þat ȝe alle ben turned in to drosse, þerfor loo! I shal gedre ȝou in þe mydil of Jerusalem, xx a gedryng of filuer, and bras, and yren, and tyn, and leed, in þe mydil of þe fourneys; and I shal teende a fier in it, to welle to gidre; so Y shal gedre ȝou in my woodnes, and in my wrappē, and I shal restē aȝen. And I shal welle ȝou togidir, xxi and I shal gadre ȝou, and I shal kyndil ȝou in fier of my woodnes, and ȝe shulen be wellid to gidre in þe mydil of it.

 xxii As siluer is wellid to gidre in mydil of þe fourneis, so shulen ȝe be in þe mydil of it; and ȝe shulen wite, for Y þe Lord, whanne Y haue shedde out myn indignacioun vpon ȝou.
 xxiii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, xxiv Sone of man, sey to it, ȝou art þe vnclene loond, not reynyd togidir in þe dai of woodnes.
 xxv Coniurisoun of prophetis in þe mydil of it; as a lioun rorynge and takynge pray, þei deuoureden soule, or liff, of þe nedī man, and þei token priys; þei multiplieden widewis of it in þe mydil of it.
 xxvi ȝe preefis of it dispiseden my lawe, and defouleden my seytuaries; þei hadden no difference bitwix hooli and vnholi, þei vndirstoden not bitwixe vnclene and clene þing; and þei turneden awey her eyen fro my sabotis, and Y was defoulid in þe mydil of
 hem.
 xxvii ȝe princis of it in þe mydil of it as wulues rauyshyne pray, for to shede out blood, and for to lese soulis, and gredili suyng wynnnyngis.
 xxviii Forsoþe þe prophetis of it dawbiden hem wiþ outer temperure, seyng veyn þingis, and dyuynynge lefynges to hem, seiyng, Pes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, whanne þe Lord spak not.
 xxix Puplis of þe loond falſli chalengiden fals challenge, and violentli rauylheden þe nedī man, and tourmentiden þe pore man; and þei opprefſiden þe cumlynge wiþ fals challenge, wiþ outer doom.
 xxx And Y souȝte 'of hem a man, þat shulde bitwene putte an hegge, and stonde sette euen aȝens me fro þe loond, leſte Y shulde distruye it, and Y foond not.
 xxxi And Y shedde out myn indignacioun vpon hem, and in þe fier of my wrappē Y waftide hem; Y ȝeelde þe weye of hem in to þe heed of hem, seiþ þe Lord
 God.

Capitulum XXIII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, ii Sone of man, two wymmen weren douȝtris of o modir,
 iii and þei diden fornycacioun in Egipt, in her ȝongþ þei diden fornycacioun; þere þe brestis, or tetis, of hem ben vndirled, and þe tetis of her puberte, þat is tyme of mariage, ben broken.
 iv Forsoþe þe names of hem, Oolla þe more, and Ooliba þe leſſe sister of hir. And Y hadde hem, and þei baren child, fones and douȝtris; sopeli þe names of hem, Samarie Oolla, and Jerufalem Ooliba.
 v Perfor Oolla dide fornycacioun vpon me, and wexe woode in to her loueres, in to Assiriens neiȝyng.

vi clopid wiþ iacynct, princis, and magistratis, ȝonge men of coueting, alle knyȝtis, or rydynge men, stiers vp of horſis.
 vii And s̄he ȝaf her fornycaciouns vpon hem, þe chosyn sonys of alle Assiriens, alle and in alle in to whom s̄he wexe woode, in þe vncلنnes of hem s̄he is defoulid.
 viii More ouere and s̄he leſte not hir fornycaciouns, whiche s̄he hadde in Egipt; for whi and þei flepten wiþ hir in þe ȝongþ of hir, and þei togidre braken þe brestis of hir puberte, and shdden out her fornycacioun vpon hir.
 ix Perfor Y bitook hir in to þe hoondis of hir louers, in to þe hoondis of þe sonys of Assur, vpon whos letchery s̄he was woode.
 x ȝei vnhilliden þe yuel fame of hir; þei token þe sonys and douȝtris of hir, and flewen hir in fwerd; and þei ben maad famous, or fclaudrid, wymmen, and þei diden domys in to hir.
 xi Which þing whanne hir sistir Ooliba hadde seen, s̄he wexe woode in lecherie more þan s̄he, and s̄he ȝaf vnchaftili, or wiþ outer shame, hir fornycacioun, ouer þe fornycacioun of hir sister, xii to þe sonys of Assiriens, to duykys and magistratis comynge to hir, clopide wiþ dyuerſe clooþ, to knyȝtis þat weren born in horſis, and ȝonge men in noble fourme, or shappli, to alle men.
 xiii And Y sawȝ þat o weye of boþe was defoulid, xiv and s̄he encreſide hir fornycaciouns. And whanne s̄he seeȝ men peyntid in a wal, þe ymagis of Caldeis expreſſid, or opnyd, in colours, xv and gird þe reyns wiþ knyȝtis girdlis, and cappis died, or steyned, in þe heedis of hem, þe fourmes of alle duykis, liknes of þe fones of Babiloyne, and of þe loond of Caldeis, in whiche þei ben born; xvi and s̄he wexe woode aȝens hem in couetise of hir eȝen, and sente messageris to hem in to Caldee.
 xvii And whanne sonys of Babiloyne cam to hir, to þe couche of hir tetis, þei defouleden hir in her lecheries of defoulynge of maydynhod; and s̄he is defoulid of hem, and þe soule of hir is fulfillid of hem.
 xviii And s̄he made nakid hir fornycaciouns, and discouerde hir euyl fame; and my loule wente awey fro hir, as my loule hadde gon awey fro hir sister.
 xix Forsoþe s̄he multipliede hir fornycaciouns, biþenkynge þe dais of hir ȝongþ, in whiche s̄he dide fornycacioun in þe loond of Egipt.
 xx And s̄he wexe woode bi lecherie vpon þe liggyng bi of hem, whos flesshis ben as þe flesshis of assis, and as fluxis, or rennyngis, of horſis þe fluxis of hem.
 xxi And þou haſt viſitide þe grete trespassis of þi ȝongþ, for þi brestis ben vndirled in Egipt, and þe teetis of þi pubertee ben togidre brokyn.
 xxii Perfor, þou Ooliba, pes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Loo! Y shal reyfe alle þi loueris aȝens þee, of whiche þi soule is fulſild, and Y shal gadre hem aȝens þee in cumpas;

xxiii þe sonys of Babiloyne, and alle þe noble Caldeis, and tyrauntis, and princis, alle þe sonys of Assyriens, and ȝonge men in noble fourme, duykis, and magistratis, alle princis of princis, and þe named stiers of horsis.

xxiv And þei shulen come vpon þee, maad redy wiþ chaare and wheel, þe multitude of puplis shulen be armed aȝens þee on eche syde wiþ hauberoun, and sheeld, and helme; and I shal ȝyue before hem doom, and þei shulen deme þee in her domys.

xxv And Y shal putte myn enuye, or wraþþe, in þee, which þei haunten wiþ þee in woodnes; þei shulen kitte of pi noose and þin eeris, and whiche þingis shulen dwelle, þei shulen kytte of wiþ swerd; þei shulen take þi sonys and þi douȝtris, and þi last shal be deuoured in fier.

xxvi And þei shulen vncloþe þee þi cloþis, and shulen take awei þe vessells of þi glorie.

xxvii And Y shal make þi grete trespassis for to reste of þee, and þi fornycacioun of þe loond of Egyp; neper þou shalt reyse þin eyen to hem, and þou shalt no more haue mynde of Egyp.

xxviii For þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Loo! Y shal bitake þee in to þe hoondis of hem whom þou hatidist, in to þe hoondis of whyche þi soule is fulfillid.

xxix And þei shulen doo wiþ þee in haate, and þei shulen take alle þi traueilis, and shulen leeue þee nakid, and ful of euyl fame; and þe euyl fame of þi fornycaciouns, shal be shewid.

xxx Þi greet trespass and þi fornycaciouns han don þes þingis to þee; for þou didist fornycacioun after heiþen men, amoneg whom þou art defoulid in ydolis of hem.

xxxi Pou wandridist in þe weye of þi fistir, and Y shal ȝyue þe cuppe of hir in þin hoond.

xxxii þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Pou shalt drynke þe cuppe of þi sister, deep and brood; and þou shalt be in to scornynge, and vndirmowynge, whiche þou art moost able to take.

xxxiii Pou shalt be fulfillid wiþ drunkenes and forewe, þe cuppe of mournynge and heuynes, þe cuppe of þi sister Samarie.

xxxiv And þou shalt drynke it, and drynke of vn to þe drestis, and þou shalt deouore þe relyues of it, and þou shalt to-teere þi breefis, for I spak, seiþ þe Lord God.

xxxv Perfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For þou hast forȝete me, and caste me fer after þi bak, and þou beere þi grete trespassis and þi fornycaciouns.

xxxvi And þe Lord seiþ to me, seiyng, Sone of man, wheþer þou demyft Ooliba and Oolla, and shewist to hem þe grete trespassis of hem?

xxxvii For þei han don auowtrie, and blood in þe hoondis of hem, and þei diden fornycacioun wiþ her ydolis; more ouere þei offren to hem her sonys for to be deuourid, whiche þei gendriden to me.

xxxviii But and þis þing þei diden to me, þei defouleden my seytuaries in þat dai, and þei prophanedon, or maden vnholli, my sabotis.

xxxix And whanne þei offreden her sonys to her ydolis, and entriden my seytuarie in þat day, for to defoule it, and alfo þei diden þes þingis in þe mydil of myn hous.

xli þei fenten to men comyng fro fer, to whom þei fenten messageris. And so loo! þei camen, to whom þou walhidist þee, and al about anoyntidist þin eyen wiþ oynement of wymmen, and art ourned wiþ wommans a tyre.

xlii Pou hast fetyn in a bed mooft fayr, and a bord is ourned before þee; þou puttidist my tymyame, or encense, and myn oynement vpon it.

xlii And a voys of multitude ioyinge wiþout forþ was in it; and in þe men þat weren led to of þe multitude of men, and camen fro defeert, puttiden rengis in þe hoondis of hem, and faire corownys in þe heedis of hem.

xliii And Y feide to hir, þat is defoulid in auowtries, Now also þis shal doo fornycacioun in hir fornycacioun.

xliii And þei wenten to hir as to a woman hoore, so þei entriden to Oolla and to Ooliba, cursid wymmen.

xlv þerfor þes men ben iust, þes shulen deme hem in doom of auowtres, and in dome of sheding out blood; for þei ben auowtraris, and blood in þe hoondis of hem, and wiþ her ydolis þei doon fornycacioun.

xlii Forsoþe þe Lord God seiþ þes þingis, ȝit bryngे þe multitudis, and bitak hem in to noys and rauelyn;

xlvii and be þei stonyd wiþ stoonys of puplis, and be þei doluen wiþ swerdis of hem. þei shulen fle þe sones and douȝtris of hem, and þei shulen brenne wiþ fier þe houfis of hem.

xlviii And Y shal doo awei greet trespass fro erþe; and alle wymmen shulen lerne, leſt þei doon after þe greet trespass of hem.

xlix And þei shulen ȝyue ȝour greet trespass vpon ȝou; and ȝe shulen bere þe fynnys of ȝour idolis, and ȝe shulen wite, for I þe Lord God.

Capitulum XXIII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, in þe nynþe ȝeer, and in þe tenþe moneþ, þe tenþe day of þe moneþ, seiyng, ii Sone of man, wrijt þou to þee þe name of þis dai, in whom þe kyng of Babiloyne is confermyd aȝens Jerusalem to day.

iii And þou shalt feye bi prouerbe a parable to þe hous, terner to wraþþe, and þou shalt speke to hem, þes þingis seiþ þe Lord, Put þou a brasen pot, ȝofeli put þou, and send in to it water; tak to a beeft mooft fat.

iv Put togidre þe gobetis of it in to it, eche good part, and þe þiȝ, and þe shuldre, chofyn and ful of boonus.

v And mak to gidre heepis of boonus vndir it; and þe seþinge of it buylide vp, and þe boonus ben ful soþen in þe mydil þerof.

vi Þerfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Woo to þe citee of blodis, to þe pot whos rust is in it, and þe rust þerof wente not out of it; caſte it out bi partis, and bi his partis; foort, or lot, felle not vpon it.

vii Forſoþe þe blood þerof is in þe mydil þerof; he ſhedde it out vpon þe moost cleer ſtoon, he ſhedde it not out vpon erþe, þat it may be keuered wiþ duft, viii þat Y ſhulde lede in aboue myn indignacioun, and in veniaunce be vengid; Y ȝauē þe blood þerof vpon þe moost cleer ſtoon, leſt it were keuered.

ix Þerfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Woo to þe citee of bloodis, of whom I ſhal make greet hepe of ſtickis in fier; x gadir þe boonus, whom Y ſhal brenne wiþ fier; fleshis ſhulen be waatid, and al þe making togidre ſhal be ſoþen, and boonus ſhulen faile.

xi And put þou it void vpon coolis, þat it wexe hoot, and þe braſſe þerof melte, and þe foulynge þerof be wellid to gidre in þe mydil þerof, and þe rust of it be waatid.

xii Wiþ myche traueile it is maad in ſweet, and þe myche rust of it wente not out þerof, neþer bi fier.

xiii In vnclennes curſid; for I wolde clenſe þee, and þou art not clenſid fro þi filþis; but neþer þou ſhal be clenſid eer, til Y ſhal make myn indignacioun for to reſte in þee.

xiv I þe Lord ſpak; it ſhal come, and Y ſhal doo, Y ſhal not paſſe, neþer ſpare, neþer Y ſhal be pleſid; after þi weies and after þi fyndyngis to Y demede þee, seiþ þe Lord.

xv And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, xvi Sone of man, loo! Y take fro þee þe deſyraþe þing of þin eyen in plague, or wounde, and þou ſhalt not mourne, neþer weape, neþer þi teeris ſhulen flowe.

xvii Pou ſtillynge forewe inward, þou ſhalt not make mournynge of deede men; be þi coroun about boundyn to þee, and þi ſhoon ſhulen be in þi feet, neþer wiþ clooþ þou ſhalt veile, or hijde, mouþis, neþer þou ſhalt ete meet of mournynge men.

xviii Þerfor Y ſpak to þe puple in þe mornynge, and my wif is deed in þe euenyng; and I dide, as he comaundide to me.

xix And þe puple feide to me, Whi ſhewiſt þou not to vs what þes þingis bitokenen, þat þou doſt?

xx And Y feide to hem, Þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, xxi Spek þou to þe hows of Israel, þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Loo! Y ſhal defoule my ſeyntuarie, þe pryme of ȝour empyre, and deſyraþe þing of ȝour eyen, and vpon which ȝour ſoule dredip; and ȝour ſonyſ and ȝour douȝters, whom ȝe laſten, ſhulen falle in ſwert.

xxii And ȝe ſhulen doo, as Y dide; ȝe ſhulen not hide mouþis wiþ clooþ, and ȝe ſhulen not ete metis of men mournynge.

xxiii ȝe ſhulen haue corouns in ȝour heedis, and ſhoon in feet; ȝe ſhulen not weile, ne wepe, but faile for leenes in ȝour wickidnessis; and eche man ſhal forewe to his broþer.

xxiv And Ezechiel ſhal be to ȝou in to a wonder bitoknyngе þing to come; after alle þingis þat he dide, ȝe ſhulen doo; whanne þis þing ſhal come, ȝe ſhulen wite, for Y þe Lord God.

xxv And þou, ſone of man, loo! in þe dai in which Y ſhal take fro hem þe ſtrengþ of hem, and ioye of dignytee, and deſyre of her eyen, vpon which þe foulis of hem reſten, þe ſones and þe douȝtrs of hem;

xxvi in þat dai whanne a man fleynge ſhal come to þee, þat he telle to þee;

xxvii ſopeli in þat dai þi mouþ ſhal be openyd wiþ hym bat fleeþ; and þou ſhalt ſpeke, and þou ſhalt not be ſtille more; and þou ſhalt be to hem in to a wonder, and ȝe ſhulen wite, for I þe Lord.

Capitulum XXV.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, ii Sone of man, put þou þi face aȝens þe ſonyſ of Amon, and þou ſhalt prophecie of hem.

iii And þou ſhalt ſeie to be ſonyſ of Amon, Here ȝe þe word of þe Lord God; þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For þat þat ȝe feiden, Wew! wew! or ſcorn, or repreſ, vpon my ſeyntuarie, for it is polutid, and vpon þe loond of Israel, for it is defolatid, and vpon þe hous of Juda, for it is led in to caitifdoom; þerfor loo!

iv Y ſhal bitake þee to ſones of þe eeste in to eritage, and þei ſhulen togidir ſette her fooldis in þee, and ſhulen putte her tentis in þee; þei ſhulen ete þi fruytis, and þei ſhulen drynke þi mylk.

v And I ſhal ȝyue Ramath in to dwellynge of camelis, and þe ſonyſ of Amon in to couche of beeſtis; and ȝe ſhulen wite, for Y þe Lord.

vi For þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For þat þat þou ioiediſt wiþ hoond, and ſmytidistiſt wiþ foot, and ioiediſt of al þi wil vpon þe loond of Israel; þerfor loo!

vii Y ſhal ſtretche forþ myn hoond vpon þee, and Y ſhal bitake þee in to rauylhinge of heiþen men, and Y ſhal flee þee of puplis, and Y ſhal leefe fro loondis, and togidre defoule; and ȝe ſhulen wite, for Y þe Lord.

viii Pes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For þat þat Moab and Seyr feyden, Loo! as alle heiþen men þe hous of Juda; þerfor loo!

ix Y ſhal opyn þe ſhuler of Moab of cytees, ſopeli of his cytees and of his cooftis, þe noble of erþe, Bechiesmoth, and Beelmoth, and Cariathaym, x to þe ſones of þe este, wiþ þe ſones of Amon. And Y ſhal ȝeue it in to eritage, þat þe mynde of þe ſones of Amon be namore in folkis, xi and in Moab Y shal make domes; and þei shulen wite, for I þe Lord.

 xii Pes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For þat þat Ydume dide veniaunce, þat the shulde venge hir of þe fones of Juda, and synnede trespassyng, and axede veniaunce of
 hem;
 xiii þerfor þes þingys seiþ þe Lord God, Y shal stretche out myn hoond vpon Ydume, and shal take a wey fro it man and beest, and Y shal make it deseert fro þe souþ;
 and þei þat ben in Dedan shulen falle in swerd.
 xiv And Y shal ȝyue my veniaunce vpon Ydume, bi þe hoond of my puple Ifrael; and þei shulen doo in Edom after my wrappe, and my woodnes; and þei shulen wite my veniaunce, seiþ þe Lord God.
 xv Pes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For þat þat Palestyns diden veniaunce, and vengiden hem silf wiþ al inwit, fleynge and fulfillynge oldle enemytees; xvi þerfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord, Loo! Y shal stretche out myn hoond vpon Palestyns, and Y shal flee þe fleers, and Y shal lese þe relyues of þe see cuntree;
 xvii and Y shal doo in hem grete veniaunces, repreyng in woodnes; and þei shulen wite, for Y þe
 Lord, whanne Y shal ȝyue my veniaunce vpon hem.

Capitulum XXVI.

i And it is doon in þe elleuenþe ȝeer, in þe first of þe moneþ, þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, ii Sone of man, for þat þat Tyrus seide of Jerusalem, Wew! or ioye, þe ȝatis of puplis ben togidre broken, it is conuertid to me; Y shal be fulfillid, it is deseert; iii þerfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Loo! Y vpon bee, Tyre; and Y shal make many folkis for to stie vp to bee, as þe see flowynge stieþ vp.
 iv And þei shulen scatere þe wallis of Tyre, and þei shulen distruye þe touris þerof; and I shal shauie þe dust of it fro it, and Y shal ȝyue it in to a moost clear stoon.
 v Driyng of nettis it shal be in þe mydil of þe see, for Y spak, seiþ þe Lord God. And it shal be in to rauyshynge to folkis.
 vi And þe douȝters þerof þat ben in þe feeld, shulen be flayn wiþ swerd; and þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord.
 vii For þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Lo! I shal bryngē to Tyre Nabugodonosor, kyng of Babiloyne, fro þe norþ, kyng of kyngis, wiþ horfis, and charis, and horfmen, and cumpayne, and greet puple.
 viii He shal flee bi swerd þi douȝtris þat ben in þe feeld;
 and he shal enuyroune þee wiþ waardyngis, and he shal bryngē togider þe heepe of erþe in cumpas, and he shal reise vp aȝens þee a sheld.
 ix And he shal tempre engynes in maner of vynes, and engynes in maner of weþeres in to þi wallis; and he shal destruye þi touris in his aarmer. x Wiþ ynne flowynge of his horfis, þe dust of hem shal keuere þee; of þe sowne of horfmen, and wheelis, and charis bi wallis shulen be moued; whanne he shal goo in þe ȝatis, as bi entryngis of þe citee distruyed, or scattered,

 xi wiþ þe feet of his horfis he shal defoule alle þi stretis.
 He shal fle bi swerd þi puple, and þi noble ymagis shulen falle in to erþe.
 xii Pei shulen waaste þi riȝtchessis, and þei shulen rauyfhe þi marchaundis; and þei shulen distruye þi wallis, and þei shulen vndir-turne þi ful clere houfis, and þei shulen putte þi stoonus, and þi trees, and þi poudre in þe mydil of watriſ.
 xiii And Y shal make þe multitude of þi songsters for to reste, and þe sown of þin harpis shal namore be herd; xiv and Y shal ȝyue þee in to a moost cleer stoon. Pou shalt be driyngē of nettis in þe mydil see, neþer þou shalt more be bildid, for Y þe Lord spak, seiþ þe Lord God.
 xv Pes þingis seiþ þe Lord God to Tire, Wheþer not of þe soun of þi fallynge, and of þe forewynge of þi flayn men, whanne þei shulen be flayn in þe mydil of þee, ylys shulen be moued to gider?
 xvi And alle princis of þe see shulen cum doun fro her feetis, and þei shulen doo awei her spuylis, and þei shulen caste awei her dyuerse cloþingis, and þei shulen be cloþid wiþ greet dred. In þe erþe þei shulen sitte, and þei astonyed vpon þi fodeyn fal shulen wondre.
 xvii And þei takyngē to vpon þee lamentacioun, shulen seie to þee, How perþidist pou, noble citee, þat dwellist in þe see, which was stroong in þe see wiþ þi dwellers, whom alle men dredden?
 xviii Now shippis shulen wondre in þe day of þi dred, and ylis in þe see shulen be sturblid, for þat þat no man goþ out of þee.
 xix For þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Whanne Y shal ȝyue þee a citee defolat, as cytees þat ben not enhabitid, and Y shal leede to vpon þee þe depnes, or þe see, and manye watriſ shulen hille þee.
 xx And Y shal drawe þee doun wiþ þes þat gon doun in to þe lake, to puple euerlaftyng; and Y shal togidre sette þee in þe last loond, as old wildernes, wiþ þes þat ben lad forþ in to þe lake, þat pou be not enhabited.
 Sopeli whanne I shal ȝyue glorye in þe loond of men lyuynge,
 xxi I shal dryue þee in to nouȝt, and þou shalt not be;
 þou sowȝt aȝen shalt namore be foundyn in to wiþ outer ende, seiþ þe Lord God.

Capitulum XXVII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, ii þerfor þou, sone of man, tak to vpon Tyre
 lamentacioun.
 iii And þou shalt feye to Tyre, þat dwelliþ in þe entre of þe see, þe marchaundisynge of puplis to many ylis, Pes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, O! Tyre, pou feidist, Y am of perfijt fayrnes,

ivii and set in þe herte of þe see. Men of þi coostis þat bildiden þee, fulfilliden þi fayrnes;
v þei bildiden þee wiþ bechis of Sanyr, wiþ alle makyngis of boord of þe see; þei token cedre of Liban, for to make to þee a mast.
vi Pei heweden okis of Baafan in to þin ooris, and þei maden to þee þi feitis of rowers of yuer of Ynde, and þi litil cabans of þe ylis of Ytalie.
vii Dyuerfe bijs of Egypit is wouun to pee in to veyl, þat it shulde be put in þe maſt; iasynet and purpur of þe ylis Helyfa ben maad þin hillynge.
viii Dwellers of Sidon and Aradie weren þi rowers; þou Tyre, þi wijſe men ben maad þi gouernours.
ix Olde men of Bibly, and prudent men þerof, hadden ſhipmen to þe feruycē of þi diuerfe purtenaunce to houſhold; alle þe ſhippis of þe see, and þe maryners of hem, weren in þe puple of þi marchaundife.
x Men of Pers, and Lidiene, and Libiene were in þi cumpayne, or ooſt; men þi fr̄ſters hangiden ſhield and helm in þee, for þin ournyngē.
xi Sonys of Aradi wiþ þin ooſt weren vpon þi wallis in þi cumpas; but and Pigmeis, þat weren in þi touris, hangiden her arewgirdlis in þi wallis bi cumpas; þei fulfilliden þi fayrnes.
xii Cartagynessis, þi marchauntis, of multitude of alle ritcheſſis, wiþ ſiluer, and yren, tyn, and leed þei fulfilliden þi fayris.
xiii Grece, and Tubal, or Spayn, and Moſoch, or Capadocye, þei, þi biers, brouȝten feruauntis and braſen vefſels to þi puple.
xiiii Of þe hous Togorma þei brouȝten to þi chepyngē horſis, and horſmen, and mulis.
xv Sonys of Dedan þi marchauntis; manye ilis þe marchaundifyngē of þin hoond, chaungiden togidre in þi prijs teeþ of yuer, and of hebenyf, þat is, a tre þat, after þat it is kit, waxiþ hard as ſtoon.
xvi Syrus þi marchaunt, for þe multitude of þi werkis þei puttiden forþ in þi market, or marchaundife, gemme, and purpur, and clooþ wiþ dyuerfe colours, and bijs, and ſilk, and chodchod, þat is, precious marchaundife.
xvii Juda and þe loond of Ifrael, þei þi biers in þe firſt whete, puttiden forþ in þi fayris bawm, and hony, and oyle, and roſyn, or gumme.
xviii Damascene þi marchaunt, in multitude of þi werkis, and multitude of dyuerfe ritcheſſis, in fat wiyn, in wullis of beſt colour.
xix Dan, and Grece, and Mousel, ſettiden forþ in þi fayris yren wrouȝt bi craft, myrre, or preciouſe gumme, and swete ſauerynge ſpice, in þi marchaundife.
xx Dedan þi biers, in tapetis for to fitte.
xxi Arabie and alle princis of Cedar, þei marchauntis of þin hoond; wiþ lambren, and weperes, and kidis þi marchauntis camen to þee.

xxii Pe sellers of Saba and Reema, þei þi marchauntis, wiþ alle þe firſt ſwete ſauerynge ſpicias, and precious ſtoon, and gold, which þei puttiden forþ in þi market.
xxiii Aram, and Chemye, and Eden, þi marchauntis; Saba, and Affur, and Thelmath, þi sellers.
xxiv Pei þi marchauntis of manyfold wlappyngē þing, of iacynet and ſteyned clopis, wiþ ymagis and precious rytcheſſis, whiche weren wlappid and ſtreyned to gidre wiþ coordis.
xxv And ſhippis of þe see hadden cedris in her marchaundifis; þi princis in þi marchaundife; and þou art fulfillid, and art glorified fulmyche in þe herte of þe see.
xxvi In manye watris þi rowers, or mareners, ledden þee to; þe ſoup wynde defoulide þee in þe herte of þe see.
xxvii þi ritcheſſis, and þi tresours, and þi many fold instrument, þi mareneres, and þi gouernours þat helden þi purtenaunce of houſhold, and weren bifore to þi puple, or fouerayns, and men þi fr̄ſters þat were in þee, wiþ al þi multitude þat is in þe mydil of þee, ſhulen falle in to þe herte of þe see.
xxviii In þe dai of þi fallynge of þe ſoun of crye of þi gouernours multitude of ſhippis ſhulen be diſturbid togidre; xxix and alle men þat helden oor, ſhulen cum doun of her ſhippis. Mareners and alle gouernours of þe see ſhulen ſtoonde vpon þe loond;
xxx and þei ſhulen weile vpon þee wiþ greet vois, and ſhulen crye bitterli, and ſhulen caſte powdre, or duſt, in her heidis, and ſhulen be ſpreyned to gidre wiþ afflen.
xxxi And þei ſhulen ſhaue vpon þee ballidneſſis, and ſhulen be gyrd wiþ hairis, and ſhulen wepe þee in bitternes of ſoule, in moost bitter wepyngē.
xxxii And þei ſhulen take to vpon þee a weping ſoong, and ſhulen weile þee, Who is as Tyre, þat wax dioumb in þe mydil of þe see?
xxxiii Which in þe outgoyngē of þi marchaundifes of þe ſee fulfillidist manye puplis; in þe multitude of þi ritcheſſis, and þi puplis þou madiſt riche kyngis of erþe.
xxxiv Now þou art defoulid of þe ſee, in depneſſis of watris; þi ritcheſſis and al þi multitude þat was in mydil of þe ſee fallen doun.
xxxv Alle dwellers of ylis wondreden greetli vpon þee, and þe rowers, or þe kyngis, of hem. Alle ſmyten wiþ tempeſt chaungiden cheris; xxxvi marchauntis of puplis hiſſiden, or ſcornyden, vpon þee. Pou art led forþ to nouȝt, and þou ſhalt not be til in to wiþ outhen eende.

Capitulum XXVIII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, ſeiyngē, ii Sone of man, ſey þou to þe prince of Tyre, þes þingis ſeiþ þe Lord God, For þat þat þin herte is lift vp, and þou seidist, Y am God, and Y fatte in þe chaier of God, in þe herte of þe see, whanne þou art man and not God, and haſt ȝouen þin herte as þe herte of God;

 iii loo! þou art wyſer þan Danyel, eche priue þing is not hid fro þee;
 iv in þi wiſdam and prudence þou madiſt to þee strengþ, and haſt wonne to þee gold and ſiluer in þi trefours;
 v in multitude of þi wiſdam, and in þi marchaundife þou multepliediſt to þee strengþ, and þin herte is lift vp in þi strengþ;
 vi þe perfor þes þingis feiþ þe Lord God, For þat þin herte is reiſid vp as þe herte of God, þe perfor loo!
 vii Y ſhal lede to þee aliens, mooſt ſtronge of folkis.
 And þei ſhulen make nakid her ſwerdis on þe fairnes of þi wiſdam, and ſhulen defoule þi feyrnes.
 viii þei ſhulen flee, and drawe doun þee; and þou ſhalt die in þe perifhyngē of flayn men, in þe herte of þe fe.
 ix Wheþer þou ſeiyngē ſhalt ſpeke, Y am God, before men ſleyngē þee, whanne þou art man, and not God?
 x In þe hoond of men ſleyngē þee, in deeþ of vncircumcydid men, þou ſhalt die in þe hoond of aliens; for Y ſpak, feiþ þe Lord God.
 xi And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, ſeiyngē.
 xii Sone of man, reys weilyngē vpon þe kyng of Tyre;
 and þou ſhalt fey to him, þes þingis feiþ þe Lord God, Pou a ſignet of liknes, ful of wiſdam, perfijt in fayrnes, xiii was in delicis of paradise of God. Eche precious ſtoon þi keuerynge, fardius, topacius, and iaspis, crifolitus, and onix, and berillus, ſaphirus, and carbuncle, and ſmaragd; and gold þe werk of þi fairnes, and þin hoolis ben maad redy, in þe day in which þou art maad.
 xiv Pou cherub ſtreiȝ forþ, and keuerynge; and I putte þee in þe hooli hil of God. In þe mydil of firȝ ſtoonus þou walkidift,
 xv perfijt in þi weies fro þe dai of þi makynge, til wickidnes is foundyn in þee.
 xvi In þe multitude of þi marchaundife 'þin entrailis ben fulfillid wiþ wickidnesse, and þou ſynnedit; and Y keſte þee out of þe hil of God, and I loſt þee, þou cherub keuerynge, of þe mydil of firȝ ſtoonus.
 xvii And þin herte is reiſid vp in þi fairnes, þou loſtiſt þi wiſdam in þi fayrenes. Y keſte þee doun in to erþe, Y ȝauē þee before þe face of kyngis, þat þei ſhulden ſee þee.
 xviii In multitude of þi wickidnesſis, and in wickidnes of þi marchaundife þou defoulediſt þin halewyngē;
 þe perfor Y ſhal bryngē forþ fier fro þe mydil of þee, which ſhal ete þee; and Y ſhal ȝyue þee in to aſſhe on þe erþe, in ſiȝte of alle men feyngē þee.
 xix Alle men þat þulen ſee þee in folkis, þulen wondre greetli vpon þee; þou art maad nouȝt, and þou ſhalt not be in to wiþ outhen ende.
 xx And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, ſeiyngē, xxi Sone of man, put þi face aȝens Sidon, and þou ſhalt prophecie of it;

 xxii and þou ſhalt ſeie, þes þingis feiþ þe Lord God, Loo! Y to þee, Sydon, and Y ſhal be glorified in þe mydil of þee; and þei ſhulen wite, for Y þe Lord, whanne I ſhal doo in it domys, and Y ſhal be halewid
 in it.
 xxiii And Y ſhal ſende to it pestilence and blood in þe ſtretis þeroſ, and men flayn ſhulen falie in þe mydil þeroſ bi ſwerd bi cumpas; and þei ſhulen wite, for Y þe Lord God.
 xxiv And it ſhal no more be to þe hows of Israel hirtyngē of bitternes, and a þorn brengynge in forewe on eche ſide bi cumpas of hem þat ben aduersaries to hem; and þei ſhulen wite, for Y þe Lord God.
 xxv þes þingis feiþ þe Lord God, Whanne I ſhal gadre þe hows of Ifrael of puplis, in whiche þei ben ſcaterid, Y ſhal be halewid in hem before folkis. And þei ſhulen dwelle in her loond, which Y ȝauē to my feruaunt Jacob.
 xxvi And þei ſhulen dwelle ſikir in it, and ſhulen bilde houſis, and ſhulen plaunte viyn ȝerdis, and þei ſhulen dwelle triftili, whanne Y ſhal doo domys in alle men þat ben aduersaries to hem bi cumpas; and þei ſhulen wite, for Y þe Lord God of hem.

Capitulum XXIX.

i In þe tenþe ȝeer, in þe twelueþe moneþ, in o day of þe moneþ, þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, ſeiyngē, ii Sone of man, put þi face aȝens Pharao, kyng of Egipt; and þou ſhalt prophecie of hym, and of al Egipt.
 iii Spek þou, and þou ſhalt ſeie, þes þingis feiþ þe Lord God, Loo! Y to þee, Pharao, kyng of Egipt, greet dragoun, þat liggiſt in þe mydil of þi flodis, and þou ſeilst, þe flood is myn, and Y made myſlf.
 iv And Y ſhal putte a bridil in þi cheekis, and Y ſhal glewe to gidre þe fiſſhis of þi floodis to þi ſcalis; and I ſhal drawe þee out of þe mydil of þi flodis, and alle þi fiſſhis ſhulen cleue to þi ſcalis.
 v And Y ſhal caſte þee fer in to deſeert, and alle fiſſhis of þi flood; vpon þe face of erþe þou ſhalt falie, þou ſhalt not be gadrid vp, neþer gadrid to gidre; to beſtis of erþe, and to volatils of heuene Y ȝauē þee for to be deuourid.
 vi And alle þe dwellers of Egipt ſhulen wite, for I þe Lord. For þat þat þou was a ſtaf of reed to þe hows of Ifrael,
 vii whanne þei token 'þee to hoond, and þou art broken to gidre, and haſt drawe al þe ſhuldre of hem, and hem lenyngē, or truſtingē, vpon þee, þou art maad litil, and haſt diſſoluyd, or vndon, alle þe reynes of hem; viii þe perfor þes þingis feiþ þe Lord God, Loo! Y ſhal leede to on þee ſwerd, and I ſhal flee of þee man and beeſt;

ix and þe loond of Egipt shal be in to deseert and wildernes, and þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord. For þat þou seidist, þe flood is myn, and I made it, x þerfor loo! Y to þee, and to þi floodis. And Y shal ȝyue þe loond of Egipt in to wildernessis distried bi fwerd, fro þe `tour Syens til to þe termys of Ethiope.
 xi ȝe foot of man shal not passe bi it, neþer foot of beest shal goo in it, and it shal not be enabitid fourti ȝearis.
 xii And Y shal ȝeue þe loond of Egipt deseert, or forslakyn, in þe mydil of deseert loondis, and þe cytees þerof in þe mydil of citees vndir turned shulen be desolat fourty ȝearis. And Y shal scatere Egipciens in to naciouns, and Y shal wyndewe hem in to loondis.
 xiii For þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, After þe ende of fourti ȝearis Y shal gedre Egipt fro puplis, in whiche þei were scatered; xiv and Y shal lede aȝen þe caitife of Egipt. And Y shal sette hem `to gydre in þe loond of Phatures, in to þe loond of her natiuyte; and þei shulen be þere in to a meke, or lowe, kyngdam, xv and among oþer rewmes it shal be þe mekeſt, and it shal namore be reyſid on naciouns. And Y shal make hem litil, leſt þei be lordis to folkis; xvi neþer þei shulen be more to be hous of Ifrael in trift, techynge wickidnes, þat þei flee, and sue hem; and þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord God.
 xvii And it is maad in þe feuenþe and twenty ȝeer, in þe firſt, in oon of þe moneþ, þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, xviii Sone of man, Nabugodonosor, kyng of Babiloyne, made his oof for to ferue in greet feruyce aȝens Tyre; eche heed maad ballid, and eche shuldre is vnheerid, and hijre is not ȝoldyn to hym, neþer to his oof of Tyre, for þe feruyce in which he feruede to me aȝens it.
 xix þerfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Loo! Y shal ȝyue Nabugodonosor, kyng of Babiloyne, in þe loond of Egipt, and he shal take þe multitude of it; and he shal take by pray þe rauernes þerof, and he schal rauylle þe spuylis of it, xx and it shal be hijre to be oof of hym, and to þe werk for which he feruede aȝens it; Y ȝaue to hym þe loond of Egipt, for þat þat he traueilde to me, seiþ þe Lord God.
 xxi In þat dai an horn shal spryne to þe hous of Ifrael, and to þee Y shal ȝeue a mouþe opened in þe mydil of hem; and þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord.

Capitulum XXX.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, ii Sone of man, prophecy þou, and sey, þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Gowle ȝe, Woo! woo! to þe dai, iii for þe dai is nyȝ; and þe dai of þe Lord neȝþ, a dai of cloude. ȝe tym of heþen men shal be;

iv and fwerd shal come in to Egipt, and dred shal be in Ethiope, whanne men woundid shulen falle doun in Egipt, and þe multitude þerof shal be taken awei, and þe foundementis þerof destryed.
 v Ethiope, and Libie, and Lidij, and al oþer comoun puple, and Chub, or Arabie, and þe sones of boond of pees wiþ hem bi fwerd shulen falle.
 vi þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, And men vndir settynge Egipt shulen togidre falle doun, and pryd of lordship `þerof shal be destryued; fro þe tour of Syenes by fwerd þei shulen falle doun þer yn, þe Lord of oofis seiþ.
 vii And þei shulen be scattered in mydil of loondis desolatid, and þe cytees þerof shulen be in þe mydil of deseert cytees.
 viii And þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord God, whanne Y shal ȝyue fier in Egipt, and alle þe helpers þerof shulen be defoulid.
 ix In þat dai messengeris shulen go out fro my face in greet shippis, for to defoule, or destryue, þe trust of Ethiope; and dred shal be in hem in þe dai of Egipt, for wiþ outen doute it shal come.
 x þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, And Y shal make þe multitude of Egipt for to ceesse in þe hoond of Nabugodonosor, kyng of Babiloyne.
 xi He and his puple wiþ hym, þe strongest of folkis, shulen be led to, for to leese þe loond; and þei shulen drawe out her fwerdis on Egipt, and þei shulen fulfille þee wiþ slayn men.
 xii And Y shal make þe botmes of floodis drye, and Y shal bitake þe loond in þe hoond of werste men; and Y shal leefe þe loond, and þe plente þerof in þe hoond of alienys; Y þe Lord spak.
 xiii þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, And Y shal destrye simulacris, and Y shal make þe ydols of Memphis to ceesse, and duyk of þe loond of Egipt shal namore be. And Y shal ȝyue dred in þe loond of Egipt, xiv and Y shal scatere, or destrie, þe loond of Phatures. And Y shal ȝyue fier in Thapnys, and Y shal make my domys in Alisaundre.
 xv And Y shal helde out myn indignacioun on Pelusium, þe strengþ of Egipt; `and I schal flea þe multitude of Alisaundre, xvi and I schal ȝeue fijr in Egipt. As a womman beringe child, Pelusie shal forewe, and Alisaundre shal be destryued, and in Memphis eche dais anguyfhis.
 xvii ȝe ȝonge men of Heliopoleos and Bubasti shulen falle bi fwerd, and þei shulen be lad caytifis.
 xviii And in Taphnys þe dai shal wexe blac, whanne Y shal debriffe þere þe ceptris of Egipt, and þe pride of power þerof shal faile in it. A clowde shal hile it; forsoþe þe douȝters þerof shulen be led in to caitifee, xix and Y shal make domes in Egipt; and þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord.
 xx And it is don in þe elleuenþe ȝeer, in þe firſt moneþ, in þe feuenþe dai of þe moneþ, þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, feiynge, xxi Sone of man, Y brak togidre þe arm of Pharao, kyng of Egipt; and loo! it is not wlappid about, þat helpe shulde be restorid to it, þat it were boundyn in cloþis, and fastid, or boundyn, wiþ smale lynnyn cloþis, and, strengþ taken aȝen, he miȝte holde fwerd.

 xxii Perfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Loo! Y to Pharao, kyng of Egipt; and Y shal make litil his stronge arm but broken togidre, and Y shal caste doun þe fwerd of his hoond.
 xxiii And Y shal scatere Egipt in folkis, and Y shal wyndewe hem in loondis.
 xxiv And Y shal coumforte þe armys of þe kyng of Babiloyne, and Y shal ȝyue my fwerd in his hoond; and Y shal breke togidre þe armes of Pharao, and þei shulen weile wiþ weilyngis of a flayn man before þe face of hym.
 xxv And Y shal coumforte þe armes of þe kyng of Babiloyne, and þe armes of Pharao shulen falle doun togidre. And þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord, whanne I shal ȝyue my fwerd in þe hoond of þe kyng of Babiloyne; and he shal stretche it out vpon þe loond of Egipt.
 xxvi And I shal scatere Egipt in to naciouns, and I shal wyndewe hem in to loondis; and þei shulen wite, for Y þe Lord.

Capitulum XXXI.

i And it is maad in þe elleuenþe ȝeer, in þe þridde moneþ, in oon of þe moneþ, þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, ii Sone of man, fey þou to Pharao, kyng of Egipt, and to his puple, To whom art þou maad lijk in þi greetnes?
 iii Loo! Affur as a cedre in Liban, fayr in braunches, and bouwis ful of wode, and heiȝ in heiȝþe; and þe top þerof is reyfis vp amonge þicke bouwis.
 iv Watris nurshiden hym, depnes areyfide hym; þe flodis floweden in cumpas of his rootis, and he sente out his stroundis to alle þe trees of þe cuntree.
 v Perfor his heiȝnes is reyfis vpon alle þe trees of þe cuntre; and his tendre trees ben multiplied, and his braunchis ben reyfis vp, for manye watris. And whanne he strauȝte forþ his shadewe, vi alle þe volatils of heuen maden nestis in his braunchis; and alle beeftis of wijlde wodis gendreden vnder his bouwis, and þe cumpayne of ful manye folkis dwellide vndre þe shadewyne place of hym.
 vii And he was moost fayr in his greetnes, and in spredyng of tendre trees; forsoþe his root was bifyde manye watris.
 viii Cedris weren not heiȝer þan he in paradise of God; bechis weren not euen to his heiȝnes, and platan trees weren not euen to his bouwis. Eche tree of paradise of God is not maad lijc to hym, and to his fayrnes.

ix For Y made hym fayre, and wiþ manye and þicke bouwis; and alle þe trees of voluptee, þat weren in paradise of God, fueden hym.
 x Perfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, For þat þat he is reyfis in hiȝnes, and Y ȝaue his heiȝnes waxynge grene and þicke, and his herte is lift vp in his hiȝnes; xi now Y haue bitake hym in to þe hoondis of þe strengest of folkis. He doyng shal doo to hym; after þe vnpite of hym Y castide hym out.
 xii And aliens shulen kitte hym doun, and þe mooste cruel men of naciouns shulen caste hym fer vpon mounteynes. And his braunchis shulen falle doun togidre in alle valeys, and his tendre trees shulen be brokyn togider in alle þe rooches of erþe. And alle puplis of erþe shulen goo awey fro his shadewyne place, and shulen forfake hym.
 xiii Alle volatilis of heuene dwelliden in his fallynge, and alle beeftis of þe regiouen waren in his braunchis.
 xiv Wherfor alle trees of watris shulen not be lift vp in her heiȝnes, neþer shulen putte her heiȝnes amoneg wody þingis, and ful of bouwis, neþer alle þingis þat ben moystid wiþ watris shulen stoonde in þe heiȝnes of hem. For alle men ben bitaken in to deeþ, to þe vtmoost loond in þe mydil of sones of men, to hem þat goon doun in to þe lake.
 xv Pes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, In þe day þat Y ladde in mournynge 'in hellis, Y hillide hym wiþ depnes, and forbedde þe floodis of hym, and constreinede many watris. Liban is debroken on hym, and alle trees of þe feeld ben smyten togidre.
 xvi Of þe loun of his fallynge Y mouede togidre folkis, whanne Y ledde forþ hym to helle, wiþ hem þat wenten doun in to þe lake. And alle lowest trees of voluptee, noble and ful cleer in Liban, ben coumfortid in erþe, and alle þat waren moystid in watres.
 xvii For whi and þei wiþ hym shulen gon doun 'in to helle, to þe flayn men in fwerd; and þe arme of eche man shal sitte vndre þe shadewyne place of hym, in þe mydil of naciouns.
 xviii To whom art þou maad lijc, A! þou noble and heiȝe amoneg trees of voluptee? Loo! þou art led forþ wiþ trees of voluptee to þe last loond, or vtmeſt. In þe mydil of vncircumcidid men þou shalt slepe, wiþ hem þat ben flayn wiþ fwerd. He is Pharao, and al þe multitude of him, seiþ þe Lord God.

Capitulum XXXII.

i And it is maad in þe twelueþ ȝeer, in þe twelueþ moneþ, in oon of þe moneþ, þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, seiyng, ii Sone of man, tak to a lamentacioun vpon Pharao, kyng of Egipt, and þou shalt feye to hym, To a lioun of folkis þou art lickened, and to a dragoun þat is in þe see. And þou wyndewist wiþ horn in þi flodis, and trublist to gidre watriis wiþ þi feet, and þou defoulidist þe flodis of hem.

iii Þerfor þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, Y shal sprede out upon þee my nette in multitude of many puplis, and Y shal drawe out þee in my nette; iv and Y shal caste þee fer in þe loond. Vpon þe face of þe feeld Y shal caste þee a wey, and I shal make vpon þee for to dwelle alle volatilis of heuene, and Y shal fulfillie of þee þe beeftis of al erþe.

v And Y shal ȝyue þi fleshis vpon hillis, and Y shal fulfillie þi smale hillis wiþ þi roote;

vi and Y shal moyste þe erþe wiþ stynke of þi blood, more ouere mounteyns and valeis shulen be fulfillid of
þee.

vii And Y shal keuere heuens, whanne þou shalt be quenchid, and Y shal make þe sterriis of it for to waxe blac; Y shal keuere þe funne wiþ cloude, and þe mone shal not ȝyue his liȝt.

viii Y shal make alle liȝtmakers of heuen for to mourne vpon þee, and Y shal ȝyue derknessis vpon þi loond, seiþ þe Lord God; whanne þi woundid men shulen falle doun in þe mydil of erþe, seiþ þe Lord God.

ix And Y shal stire to wrappé þe herte of many puplis, whanne Y shal in leede þi contriciooun in folkis, vpon loondis whiche þou knowist not.

x And Y shal make many puplis for to wondre greetli vpon þee, and þe kyngis of hem wiþ ful myche orrou shulen be agast vpon þee, for alle þi wickidnessis whiche þou wrouȝtist, whanne my fwerd shal bigynne for to flee vpon þe facis of hem. And þei shulen wondre fodeynli, eche for his loule, in þe day of his fallyng.

xi For þes þingis seiþ þe Lord God, þe fwerd of þe kyng of Babiloyne shal come to þee;

xii in fwerdis of stronge men Y shal cast doun þi multitude, alle þes folkis ben vnexpugnable, or mowen not be ouercomen. And þei shulen destruye þe prude of Egipt, and þe multitude of it shal be scatrid.

xiii And I shal leese alle beeftis þerof, þat weren vpon many watriis; and þe foot of man shal namore truble hem togider, neber þe clawe of beeftis shal truble hem.

xiv Panne I shal ȝelde þe watriis of hem clenkest, and Y shal leede to þe floodis of hem as oyle, seiþ þe Lord
God,

xv whanne Y shal ȝyue þe loond of Egipt desolat.
Forsoþe þe loond shal be forsayn of his plentee, whanne I shal smyte alle þe dwellers þerof; and þei shulen wite, for I þe Lord.

xvi Pere is mournyng, and þe douȝters of folkis shulen weile hym; vpon Egipt, and vpon þe multitude þerof þei shulen weile hym, seiþ þe Lord God.

xvii And it is don in þe twelueþ zeer, in þe fiftenþe of þe moneþ, þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, leyynge, xviii Sone of man, fyng þou a mournyng song vpon þe multitude of Egipt, and draw doun þe ilke fame, and douȝtris of stronge folkis to þe vttermost loond, wiþ þes þat wenten doun in to þe lake.

xix Hou myche þou art fayrer, go doun, and sleep wiþ vncircumcidid men.

xx In þe mydil of flayn men þei shulen falle doun by fwerd; a fwerd is ȝouun, and þei drowen it to, and alle þe puplis þerof.

xxi þe moost myȝti of stronge shulen speke to it, fro þe mydil of helle, whiche wiþ helpers þerof wenten doun, and slepten vncircumcidid, and flayn bi fwerd.

xxii Pere Assur, and al his multitude; in þe cumpas of hym þe sepulcris of hym, alle þe flayn, and whiche fellen doun bi fwerd,

xxiii whos sepulcris ben ȝeuen in þe last þingis of þe lake. And þe multitude of hym is maad by cumpas of his sepulcre, alle flayn, and fallynge by fwerd, whiche ȝauen sumtyme her strengþe in þe lond of lyuyng
men.

xxiv Pere Helam, and al his multitude bi cumpas of his sepulcre; alle þese flayn, and fallynge by fwerd, whiche wenten doun vncircumcidid to þe vttermoþt lond; þe whiche puttiden her dred in þe lond of lyuyng men, and þei baren her yuel fame wiþ þese þat gon doun into þe lake.

xxv In þe mydil of flayn men þei puttiden þe couche of hym in alle his peplis; in þe cumpas of hym þe sepulcre of hym. Alle þese vncircumcidid and flayn wiþ fwerd, forsoþe þei ȝauen dred in þe lond of lyuyng men, and baren her yuel fame wiþ þese þat gon don into þe lake; in þe mydil of flayn men þei ben putt.

xxvi Pere Mosoch and Tubal, and al his multitude; in þe cumpas of hym þe sepulcris of hym. Alle þese vncircumcidid flayn, and fallynge by fwerd, for þei ȝauen her ferdfulness in þe lond of lyuyng men.

xxvii And nowe þei shulen sleep wiþ þe stronge, and fallynge, and vncircumcidid, whiche wenten doun into helle wiþ her armers, and han putt her fwerdis vndir her hedis. And her wickidnessis weren in þe boons of hem, for þei ben maad þe dred of hem in þe lond of lyuyng men.

xxviii And þerfore in þe mydil of vncircumcidid þou shalt be defoulid, and shalt fleepe wiþ flayn men by fwerd, and whiche slepten wiþ vncircumcidid.

xxix Pere Ydume, and kyngis þerof, and alle duykis þerof, whiche ben ȝouen wiþ her ooft, wiþ þe flayn bi fwerd, and whiche slepten wiþ vncircumcidid, and wiþ þese þat wenten doun in to þe lake.

xxx Pere alle princis of þe norþ, and alle hunters, þat ben led forþ wiþ þe flayn, dreedyng and in her strengþe confoundid, whiche slepten vncircumcidid wiþ þe flayn by fwerd, and baren her confusioun wiþ þese þat gon doun in to þe laake.

xxxi Pharaoo saw hem, and was comfortheid vpon his multitude whiche is flayn by fwerd. And þei baren her confusioun, wiþ þese þat wenten down into þe laake, Pharao and al his oost, þe Lord God saib; xxxii for he ȝaaue his dred in þe lond of lyuyng men, and he flepte in þe mydil of vncircumcised men, wiþ þe flayn in fwerd, Pharao, and al his multitude, saib þe Lord God.

Capitulum XXXIII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, sayinge, ii Sone of man, speke þou to þe sones of þi peple, and þou shalt saye to hem, Þe erþe, whann I shal bryngre yn vp on it a fwerd, and þe peple of þe lond shal take oon man of his last, and shal ordeyn hym a byholder vpon it, iii and he shal see a fwerd cummynge vpon þe lond, and shal synge wiþ an horn, and shal shewe to þe peple, iv forsoþe a man heerynge, who euer he is, þe soun of þe horn, and shal not kepe hym self, and þe fwerd shal cum, and shal take hym, þe blood of hym shal be vpon his hed.
v He herd þe soun of þe horn, and kepte not him silf, þe blood of hym shal be in hym; forsoþe ȝif he shal kepe hym, he shal ȝaaue his soule.
vi ȝat ȝif þe biholder, or aspier, shal see þe fwerd cummynge, and shal not soun in þe horn, and þe peple shal not keepe it self, and þe fwerd shal cum, and take a foule of hem, soþely he is taken in his wickidnesse; forsoþe I shal aȝein seeke þe blood of hym of þe hond of þe biholder, not þe peple of þe lond, bot Y.
vii And þou, sone of man, Y ȝaaue þee a biholder to þe hous of Yrael; þerfore þou heerynge a word of my mouþ shalt shewe to hem of me.
viii ȝif me sayinge to þe vnpitous man, Vnpitous man, by deeþ þou shalt deye, þou shalt not speke, þat þe vnpitous man kepe him silf fro his waye, þe ilke vnpitous man shal deye in his wickidnesse; forsoþe I shal aȝen seeke þe bloode of hym of þin hond.
ix Forsoþe ȝif þee tellynge to þe vnpitous man, þat he be conuertid, he shal not be conuertid fro his waye, he shal dye in his wickidnes; soþely þou haft delyuered þi soule.
x Perfore þou, sone of man, saye to þe hous of Yrael, Pus ȝe spaken, sayinge, Oure wickidnesse and our synnys ben vpon vs, and in hem we failen not; hou perfore shuln we mown lyue?
xi saye þou to hem, Y lyue, saib þe Lord God, Y wole not þe deeþ of þe vnpitous man, bot þat þe vnpitous man be conuertid fro his way, and lyue; be ȝe conuertid fro ȝour warfst wayes, and whi shuln ȝe dye, ȝe hous of Yrael?
xii And so þou, sone of man, saye to þe sones of þi peple, Þe riȝtwisnesse of a iust man shal not delyuere hym, in whateuer day he shal synne; and þe vnpitee of þe vnpitous man shal not anoye to hym, in whateuer day he shal be conuertid fro his vnpitee; and a iust man shal not mowe lyue in his riȝtwisnesse, in whateuer day he shal synne.

xiii ȝhe, if I shal saye to þe iust man, þat in liþ he shal lyue, and he triftryng in his riȝtwisnesse shal do wickidnesse, alle his riȝtwisness shuln be bitaken to forȝetyng, and in his wickidnesse whiche he wrouȝte, in þe ylk he shal dye.

xiv Forsoþe ȝif I shal saye to þe vnpitous man, Bi deþ þou shalt die, and he shal do penaunce of his synne, and shal do dome and riȝtwisnesse, xv and þe ylk vnpitous shal restore þe wed, and ȝeeld þe rauyn, shall go in þe maundementis of liþ, neþer shal do any þing vniuft, in liþ he shal lyue, and he shal not dye.

xvi Alle þe synnes whiche he synnyde, shuln not be rettid, or acountid, to hym; he dide dome and riȝtwisnesse, and in liþ he shal lyue.

xvii And þe sones of þi peple saiden, Þe waye of þe Lord is not of euen weiȝte; and þe waye of hem is vniuft.

xviii Forsoþe whan a iust man shal go awey fro his riȝtwisnesse, and shal do wickidnesse, he shal dye in hem;

xix and whann þe vnpitous man shal go awey fro his wickidnesse, and shal do dome and riȝtwisnesse, he shal lyue in hem.

xx And ȝe sayn, Þe waye of þe Lord is not riȝt. ȝe hous of Yrael, I shal deeme eche of ȝou after his waies.

xxi And it is don in þe twelfþe ȝeer, in þe tenþe moneþe, in þe fifþe of þe moneþe of oure transmigracioun, he cam to me þat fleiȝ fro Jerufalem, sayinge, Þe cytee is distruyed.

xxii Forsoþe þe hond of þe Lord was maad to me in þe euen, byfore he came þat fleiȝ, and he opnyde my mouþ, til he came to me in þe morewning; and, my mouþ opnyd, Y was na more stille.

xxiii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, sayinge, xxiv Sone of man, þei þat dwellen in þese ruynoufe þinges vpon þe erþe of Yrael, sayinge, sayn, Abraham was oon, and by eritage he weelde þe lond; forsoþe we ben manye, þe lond is ȝouen to vs in to possessioun.

xxv Perfore þou shalt saye to hem, ȝeles þingus laib þe Lord God, Where ȝe shuln weelde þe lond by eritage, whiche eten blood, and reyßen ȝour eeȝen to ȝour vncleanness, and sheden out blood?

xxvi ȝe stoden in ȝour fwerdis, ȝe diden ȝour abominacions, and eche man defoulide þe wif of his neiȝbore; and shul ȝe weelde þe lond by eritage?

xxvii ȝese þingus þou shalt saye to hem, Pus saib þe Lord God, Y lyue, for þei þat dwellen in ruynouse þingis, shuln falle by fwerd, and he þat is in þe feeld, shal be taken to beestis for to be deuoured; forsoþe þei þat in strengþis and dennys ben, by pestilence shuln dye.

xxviii And I shal ȝeue þe lond in to wildernesse, and into desert, and þe pride and strengþe þerof shall faile; and þe hillis of Yrael shuln be defolat, for þat þat þer is no man þat passip by hem.

xxix And þei shuln wite, for I þe Lord, whanne I shal ȝeue þe lond of hem desolate and desert, for alle her abomynaciouns whiche þei wrouȝten.

xxx And þou, sone of man, þe fones of þi peple þat speken of þee bisijdis wallis, and in doris of houfis, and sayn, oon to an oþer, a man to his neigbore, spekyng, Cumme ȝe, and heere wee, whiche is þe word goyng out of þe Lord;

xxxi and þei camen to þee, as ȝif my peple go yn, and my peple sitten bifore þee, and heeren þi woordis, and don not hem; for þei turnen hem in to a songe of her mouþe, and þe herte of hem sueþ her auerise;

xxxii and it is to hem as a songe of musyke, whiche is fungen by soft and sweet foun; and þei heren þi woordis, and don hem not;

xxxiii and whanne þat þing þat is byfore saide shal cume, forsoþe loo! it cummeh, þanne þei shuln wite, for a prophete was among hem.

Capitulum XXXIIII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, sayinge, ii Sone of man, prophecie þou of þe shepperdis of Yrael, prophecie þou; and þou shalt faye to þe sheperdis, Þese þingis saiþ þe Lord God, Woo to þe sheperdis of Yrael, þat fedden hemself; wher flockis ben feed of sheperdis?

iii ȝee eeten þe mylk, and ȝe weren keuered wiþ þe wollis, and ȝe flewen þat þing þat was fat; forsoþe ȝe fedden not my flok.

iv ȝe maden not sad togidre þat þat was seek, or vnfstedefast, and ȝe heeliden not þat þat was seek, or soor; ȝe bounden not to þat þat was broken, and ȝe lediden not aȝein þat þat is cast awey, and ȝe souȝten not þat þat perihide; bot wiþ steernes ȝe comaundide to hem, and wiþ power.

v And my sheep ben scatrid, for þat þat þer was no sheeperd; and þei ben maad in to deuouryng of alle beeftis of þe feeld, and þei ben scatrid.

vi My flockis erreden in alle hillis, and in eche heeȝ litil hill, and vpon al þe face of erþe my flockis ben scatrid, and þere was not þat aȝein souȝte.

vii Perfore, ȝe sheperdis, hear þe word of þe Lord; viii Y lyue, saiþ þe Lord God, for þat þat my flockis ben maad in to rauyne, and my sheep in to deuouryng of alle beeftis of þe feild, for þat þat þer was no sheeperd, forsoþe neþer sheperdis souȝten my floc, bot be sheperdis fedden hemself, and fedden not my flockis;

ix Perfore, ȝe sheperdis, hear ȝee þe word of þe Lord, x Þese þingis saiþ þe Lord God, Loo! I my self vpon þe sheperdis; I shal aȝein seeke my floc of þe hond of hem, and I shal make hem for to ceese, þat þei na more feede my floc, ne þe sheperdis shuln more feede hemself. And I shal deliuer my floc of þe mouþe of hem, and it shal na more be to hem in to mete.

xii For þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God, Loo! I myself shal aȝein seeke my sheep, and I shal visite hem.

xiii As a shepherd visitiþ his floc, in þe dai whan he shal be in þe mydil of his scattered sheep, so I shal visite my sheep, and shal delyuere hem of alle places in whiche þei weren scattered, in day of cloude, and derknesse.

xiv And I shal leede hem out of peplis, and I shal gadre hem of londis, and I shal leede hem into her lond, and I shal feede hem in þe hillis of Yrael, in strondis, and in alle seetis of erþe.

xvii In pasturis most plenteouse Y shal feede hem, and in þe heeȝ mounteyns of Yrael þe lefewis of hem shuln be; þere þei shuln aȝein reste in erbis wexyng greene, and in fat lefewis þei shuln be fed vpon þe mounteyns of Yrael.

xviii Y shal feede my sheep, and I shal make hem for to reste, saiþ þe Lord God.

xix Y shal aȝein seeke þat þat perihide, and I shal aȝein leede þat þat was cast awey; and I shal bynd to þat þat was to gidre broken, and I shal coumforte þat þat was seek; and I shal keepe þat þat is fat and strong, and I shal feede hem in dome;

xvii forsoþe ȝe ben my flockis. Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God, Loo! I deeme bitwixe beest and beest, and weþer and buc of geet.

xviii Wher it was not ynewȝ to ȝou for to deuoure good lefewes? More ouer and ȝe defouliden wiþ ȝour feet þe relis of ȝour lefewis, and whan ȝe dronen most clear water, and ȝe trublidien þe toper wiþ ȝour feet.

xix And my sheep weren fed wiþ þese þingus þat weren defoulid wiþ ȝour feet; and whiche þingus ȝour feet trublidien, þese þei drunken.

xx Perfore þese þingis saiþ þe Lord God to hem, Loo! I myself deeme bitwixe fat beeste and lene.

xxi For þat þat ȝe punchiden wiþ sydis, and shuldris, and wiþ ȝour hornis wynewiden alle seek beeftis, til þei weren scattered wiþouten forþ, xxii I shal saue my floc, and it shal na more be into rauwyn. And I shal deeme bitwix beest and beest;

xxiii and I shal reyle vpon hem oo sheperd, whiche shal feed hem, my seruaunt Dauyd; he shal feede hem, and he shal be to hem in to a sheperd.

xxiv Forsoþe I þe Lord shal be to hem in to God, and my seruaunt Dauyþ prince in þe mydil of hem; forsoþe I þe Lord spake.

xxv And I shal make wiþ hem a couenaunt of pees, and I shal make for to ceese þe werst beeftis fro þe erþe; and þei þat dwellen in desert, siker shuln sleep in wilde wodes.

xxvi And I shal putte hem in cumpas of my litil hill a bleffyng, and I shal lede out rayn in his tyme. Raynes of blisfyng shuln be, xxvii and þe tree of þe feeld shal ȝeue his fruyt, and þe erþe shal ȝeue his buriownyng. And þei shuln be in her lond wiþout dred; and þei shuln wite, for I þe Lord, whan I shal debrise þe chaynes of her ȝoc, and shal deliuere hem of þe hond of men comaundynge to hem.

xxviii And þei shuln na more be in to rauelyn in heiþen men, neþer beeftis of þe feeld shuln deououre hem, bot þei shuln dwelle tristili wiþout ony dred.

xxix And I shal reyse to hem a iust buriownyng, or seed, named; and þei shuln na more be maad litil by hungre in erþe, neþer þei shuln heere more ouer þe shendshipis of folkis.

xxx And þei shuln wite, for I þe Lord God of hem wiþ hem, and þei my peple, þe hous of Yrael, saþ þe Lord God.

xxxi Forsoþe ȝe men ben my flockis, þe flockis of my lefewe; and I þe Lord ȝour God, saþ þe Lord God.

Capitulum XXXV.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, sayinge, ii Sone of man, putte þou þi face aȝeins þe mount of Seir; and þou shalt prophecie to it, and shalt faye to it, iii Þese þingis saþ þe Lord God, Loo! I to þee, mount of Seir; I shal strecche out myn hond vpon þee, and I schal ȝiue þee desolat and desert.

iv I schal distrye þi citees, and þou schalt be desert; and þou schalt wite, for I þe Lord.

v For þat þat þou was an enmy euer lastynge, and closidist to gydre þe sones of Yrael in to hondis of swerd, in þe tyme of her affliccioun, in þe tyme of þe last wickidnesse;

vi þerfore Y lyue, saþ þe Lord God, for I shal bitake þee to blood, and blood shal pursue þee; and whann þou hatist bloode, blood shal pursue þee.

vii And I shal ȝeue þe hil of Seir desolat and desert, and I shal take awey fro it a man goyng and turnyng aȝein;

viii and I shal fulfille þe hillis of it wiþ careyns of flayn men. In þi litil hillis, and in þi valeis, and in rennyngre brokis of reyn, men flayn in swerd shuln falle doun.

ix I shal bytake þee into wildernesſis euerlastynge, and þi citees shuln not be enabitid; and ȝe shuln wite, for I þe Lord God.

x For þat þat þou saidist, Two folkis and two londis shuln be myn, and bi eritage I shal weelde hem, whan þe Lord was þere;

xi þerfore I lyue, saþ þe Lord God, for I shal do after þi wræþ, and after þin enuye, whiche þou didist, hauynge hem in hate, and I shal be maad knownen by hem, when I shal deeme þee;

xii and þou shalt wite, for I þe Lord. Y herde alle þi shendshipis, whiche þou haft spoken of þe mounteyns of Yrael, sayinge, Þei desert ben ȝouen to vs, for to deououre.

xiii And ȝe han rise vpon me wiþ ȝour mouþ, and han dynmued, or spoken yuel, aȝeins me; I herd ȝour wordis.

xiv Þese þingis saþ þe Lord God, All erþe gladynge, I shal dryue þee in to wildrenesse.

xv As þou ioyedist vpon þe eritage of þe hous of Yrael, for þat it was scatered, so I shal do to þee; þe hill of Seir shal be scatered, and al Ydume; and þei shuln wite, for I þe Lord.

Capitulum XXXVI.

i Forsoþe þou, sone of man, prophecie vpon þe mounteyns of Yrael; and þou shalt faye, Hillis of Yrael, heere ȝe þe word of þe Lord.

ii Þese þingis saþ þe Lord God, For þat þat þe enmye saide of ȝou, Wele! or scorne, heeȝnessis euerlastyng ben ȝouen to vs in to eritage;

iii þerfore prophecie þou, and faye, Þese þingus saþ þe Lord God, For þat þat ȝe ben desolat and defould by cumpas, and maad in to eritage to oper folkis, and ȝee steiȝiden vp vpon þe lipp of tunge, and shendship of peple;

iv þerfore, ȝe hillis of Yrael, heere þe word of þe Lord God. Þese þingis saþ þe Lord God to mounteyns, and smale hillis, to rennyngre stremys of reyn, and valeys, and to desert wallingus, and to forsaken citees, þat ben robbid, and scornyd of oper heiþen men bi cumpas; v þerfore þese þingus saþ þe Lord God, For in þe fijr of my wræþ I spake of oper heiþen men, and of al Ydume, þat ȝauen my lond to hem in to eritage in swerd, and al þe herte, and of inwit, and castiden out it, þat þei shulden waaste;

vi þerfore prophecie þou vpon þe erþ of Yrael, and þou shalt faye to mounteyns, and smale hillis, to heiȝbis of hillis, and valeys, Þese þingis saþ þe Lord God, For þat þat ȝe ben desolat, loo! I in my wræþ and in my woodnesse haue spoken. For þat þat ȝe fusteyneden þe confusioun of heiþen men.

vii þerfore þese þingis saþ þe Lord God, I reyfide myn hond aȝeins heiþen men, þat ben in ȝour cumpas, þat bei bere her confusioun.

viii Forsoþe, ȝe hillis of Yrael, buriown ȝour braunchis, and bring ȝour fruyt to my peple of Yrael; forsoþe it is niȝ þat it cum.

ix For loo! I to you, and I shal be conuertid to ȝou, and ȝe shuln be erid, and shuln take feed.

x And I shal multiplie in ȝou men, and al þe hous of Yrael; and citees shuln be enhabitid, and ruynouse þingis shuln be instorid, or maad aȝein.

xi And I shal fulfil ȝou wiþ men and beastis, and þei shuln be multiplied, and shuln waxe; and I shal make ȝou for to dwelle as fro þe bygynnyng, and I shal ȝeue wiþ gretter goodis þan ȝe hadden fro þe bygynnyng; and ȝe shuln wite, for I þe Lord.

xii And I shal brenge vpon ȝou men, my peple of Yrael, and by eritage þei shuln welde þee, and þou shalt be to hem in to eritage; and þou shalt na more putte to, þat þou be wiþout hem.

xiii Þeſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord God, For þat þat þei ſayn of ȝou, þou art a deuouerſe of men, and stranglinge þi folc;

xiv þerfore þou ſhalt na more ete men, and þou ſhalt na more flea þi folk, þe Lord God ſaiþ.

xv Neþer I ſhal make þe confuſioun of heiþen men herd more in þee, and þou ſhalt not bere þe ſhendſhiſe of peplis, and þou ſhalt na more leſe þi peple, ſaiþ þe Lord God.

xvi And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, ſayinge, xvii Sone of man, þe hous of Yrael dwelliden in her lond, and þei defoulidien it in her wayes, and in her ſtudies; after þe vncleſneſſe of þe menſtruat womman þe way of hem is maad before me.

xviii And I ſhedde out myn indignacioun vpon hem, for þe blood whiche þey ſhdden vpon þe lond, and in her ydolis þei defoulidien it.

xix And I ſcatride hem among heiþen men, and þei ben wyndowid in to londis. After þe waies of hem and fyndyngis Y deemyde hem.

xx And þei entriden to heiþen men, to whom þei entriden, and defoulidien myn holy name, whann it was ſaid of hem, Bis is þe peple of þe Lord, þei wenten out of þe lond of hym.

xi And I ſparid to myn hooli name, whom þe hous of Yrael defoulide in heiþen men, to whom þei entriden.

xii Perfore þou ſhalt ſaie to þe hous of Yrael, Þeſe þingis ſaiþ þe Lord God, Not for ȝou I ſhal do, ȝe hous of Yrael, but for myn holy name, whom ȝe defoulidien in heiþen men, to whom ȝe entriden.

xiii And I ſhal halewe my greet name, whiche is defoulid among heiþen men, whom ȝe defoulidien in þe mydil of hem; þat heiþen men witen, for I þe Lord, ſaiþ þe Lord of hoofstus, whanne I ſhal be halewid in ȝou bifore hem.

xiv Soþely Y ſhal take ȝou awey fro heiþen men, and I ſhal gadre ȝou of alle londis, and I ſhal brenge ȝou into ȝour lond.

xv And I ſhal ſhede out vpon ȝou clene watir, and ȝe ſhuln be clenſid of alle ȝour defoulyngis; and I ſhal cleanse ȝou fro alle ȝour ydolis.

xvi And I ſhal ȝeue to ȝou a newe herte, and I ſhal putte `a newe ſpirit in þe mydil of ȝou; and I ſhal take awey a ſtonen herte of ȝour fleshe, and I ſhal ȝeue to ȝou an herte of fleshe, xvii and I ſhal putte my ſpirit in þe mydil of ȝou. And I ſhal make þat ȝe walke in myn heeftis, and þat ȝee kepe and wirche my domys.

xviii And ȝe ſhuln dwelle in þe lond, whiche I ȝauē to ȝour fadris; and ȝe ſhuln be to me in to peple, and I ſhal be to ȝou in to God.

xix And I ſhal ſaue ȝou of alle ȝour filþis; and I ſhal clepe whete, and I ſhal multiplye it, and I ſhal not putte hungrye in to ȝou.

xxx And I ſhal multiplye þe fruyte of tree, and buriownyngus, or ſeedis, of þe feeld, þat ȝe bere na more ſhenſhip of hungrye in heiþen men.

xxxi And ȝe ſhuln haue mynde of ȝour warſt waies, and ſtudies not goode; and ȝour wickidneſſis, and ȝour grete trespassis ſhuln diſpleſe to ȝou.

xxxii Not for ȝou I ſhal do, ſaiþ þe Lord God, be it knownen to ȝou; be ȝe counfoundid, and ſhame ȝe vpon ȝour waies, ȝe hous of Yrael.

xxxiii Þeſe þingis ſaiþ þe Lord God, In þe day in whiche Y ſhal cleſe ȝou of alle ȝour wickidneſſis, and ſhal make citees for to be enhabitid, and ſhal repareyle ruynouſe þingis, xxxiv and þe deſert lond ſhal be tilied, whiche ſum tyme was deſolat, in þe eezen of eche way goar, xxxv þei ſhuln ſaye, Pe ylk lond vntilied is maad as a ȝerd of volupte, and citees deſert and deſtitute and vndirdiggið, waardid, or made ſtronge, han fetun;

xxxvi and heiþen men ſhuln wite, whiche euer ſhuln be left, or forſaken, in ȝour cumpas, for I þe Lord haue biſtide þe ſcatered þingus, and haue plantid vntilied þingus; Y þe Lord haue ſpoken, and haue don.

xxxvii Þeſe þingis ſaiþ þe Lord God, ȝit þe hous of Yrael in þis þing ſhuln fynde me, þat Y do to hem; Y ſhal multiplye hem as flockis of men, xxxviii as an holy floc, as þe floc of Jerusalem in þe ſolempnites þeroſ, ſo deſert citees ſhuln be ful of flockis of men; and þei ſhuln wite, for Y þe Lord.

Capitulum XXXVII.

i The hond of þe Lord is maad vpon me, and he ledde me out in þe ſpirit of þe Lord, and lefte me in þe mydil of a feeld þat was ful of boones;

ii and he ledde me aboue bi hem in cumpas. Forſoþe þere were ful manye vpon þe face of þe erþe, and gretely drye.

iii And he ſaide to me, Sone of man, geſiſt þou, wher þe boones ſhuln lyue? And I ſaide, Lord God, þou haſt knowe.

iv Þeſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord God to þeſe boonyſ; and þou ſhalt ſaye to hem, Drie boones, heer ȝe þe word of þe Lord.

v Þeſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord God to þeſe boonyſ, Loo! I ſhal wiþ ynne ſend in to ȝou a ſpirit, and ȝe ſhuln lyue.

vi And I ſhal ȝeue ſynewys vpon ȝou, and I ſhal make fleſhis for to wexe vpon ȝou, and I ſhal aboue ſtreſſe ſkyn in ȝou, and I ſhal ȝeue to ȝou a ſpirit, and ȝe ſhuln lyue; and ȝe ſhuln wite, for I þe Lord.

vii And I prophecie, as he comaundide to me; forſoþe me prophecyng a ſoun is maad, and loo! a ſtryng to gydre, and bones wenten to boones, eche to his ioynture.

viii And I ſawē, and loo! vpon hem fynewis and fleſhis ſteiȝiden vp to hem, and ſkyn is ſtreched forþ aboue, and þei hadden no ſpirit.

ix And he saide to me, Prophecie þou to þe spirit, sone of man, prophecie þou; and þou shalt faye to þe spirit, Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God, Fro four wyndys cum, þou spirit, and blowe yn vpon þese flayn men, and lyue þei aȝein.

x And I prophecied, as he comaundide to me; and þe spirit wente in to hem, and þei lyuyden, and stoden vpon her feet, a ful greet oost.

xi And þe Lord saide to me, Sone of man, alle þese boones is þe hous of Yrael; þei sayen, Oure boons dryeden, and our hoope peryshide, and we ben kit awey.

xii Perfore prophecie þou, and þou shalt faye to hem, Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God, Loo! I shal open ȝour biriels, and shal leede ȝou out of ȝour sepulcris, my peple, and I shal leed ȝou in to ȝour lond of Yrael.

xiii And ȝe shuln wite, for I þe Lord, whan I shall opyn ȝour sepulcris, and shal leede ȝou out of ȝour biriels, my peple; xiv and shal ȝeue my spirit in ȝou, and ȝe shuln lyue. And I shal make ȝou for to rest vpon ȝour lond; and ȝe shuln wite, for I þe Lord spake, and haue don, saiþ þe Lord God.

xv And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, sayinge, xvi And þou, sone of man, take to þee oo tree, and wryte vpon it, Of Juda, and þe sonys of Yrael, wiþ his felawis. And take þou an oþer tree, and write vpon it, Of Joseph, and þe tree of Effraym, and of al þe hous of Yrael, and his felawis.

xvii And ioyne hem þe toon to þe toþer to þee into oo tree; and þei shuln be in to oonyng in þin hond.

xviii Forsoþ whan þe sonys of þi peplis shuln faye to þee, spekyng, Wher þou shewist not to vs, what þou wolt in þese þingis to þee?

xix þou shalt speke to hem, Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord, Loo! I shal take to þe tree of Joseph, þat is in þe hond of Effraym, and þe kynredis of Yrael, þat ben ioyned to hym, and I shal ȝeue hem to gydre wiþ þe tree of Juda; and I shal make hem in to oo tree, and þei shuln be oon in his hond.

xx Forsoþ þe trees, vpon whom þou haft writen, shuln be in þin hond in þe eeȝen of hem.

xxi And þou shalt faye to hem, Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God, Loo! I shall take to þe sones of Yrael of þe mydil of naciouns, to whom þei wenten awey; and I shal gadere hem on eche syde. And I shal bringe hem to her erþe, xxii and I shal make hem oo folk in þe lond, in hillis of Yrael, and oo kyng shal be comaundynge to alle; and þei shuln na more be two folkis, neyþer þei shuln more be departid in to two rewmes.

xxiii Neþer þei shuln be defoulid more ouer in her ydols, and her abomynaciouns, and in alle her wickidnessis. And I shal make hem saaf of alle her fetis, in whiche þei synned, and I shal clenfe hem; and þei shuln be to me a peple, and I shal be God to hem.

xxiv And my seruaunt kyng Dauid vpon hem, and oo sheperd shal be of hem alle; þei shuln walke in my domys, and þei shuln kepe my comaundementis, and shuln do hem.

xxv And þei shuln dwelle vpon þe lond, whiche Y ȝauȝ to my seruaunt Jacob, in whiche ȝour faderis dwelldiden; and þei shuln dwelle vpon it, þei, and þe sones of hem, and þe sonys of her sones, til in to wiþ outeren eende; and Dauid, my seruaunt, prince of hem in to wiþ outh eende.

xxvi And I shal smyte to hem a couenaunt of pees; a couenaunte euerlastynge shal be to hem, and I shal founde hem, and shal multiplie.

xxvii And I shal be to hem God, and þei shuln be to me peple.

xxviii And heijen men shuln wite, for I þe Lord, halewer of Yrael, whan my halewyng shal be in þe mydil of hem in to wiþ outh eende.

Capitulum XXXVIII.

i And þe word of þe Lord is made to me, sayinge, ii Sone of man, putte þi face aȝeins Gog, and þe lond of Magog, prince of þe hed of Mosoch and Tubal; and prophecie þou of hym.

iii And þou shalt faye to hym, Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God, Loo! I to þee Gog, prince of þe hed of Mosoch and Tubal;

iv and I shal leede þee aboute, and I shal putte a brydil in þi cheekis, and shal leede þee out, and al þin oost, horsis, and horsmen, alle cloþed wiþ hauberious, a greet multitude of men, takynge shaft, and sheeld, and swerd.

v Men of Persis, Ethiopiens, and Libiens wiþ hem, alle sheeldid and helmyd.

vi Gomer, and alle his cumpanyes, þe hous of Togorma, sydis of þe norþ, and al þe strengþe of hym, and many peplis wiþ þee.

vii Diȝte, and make þee redy, and alle þi multitude þat is gadred to þee, be þou to hem in to comaundement.

viii After many dayes þou shalt be visitid, in þe last of ȝeiris þou shalt cum to erþe, whiche is turnyd aȝein fro swerd, and is gadrid of many peplis, to þe hillis of Yrael þat weren desert lastyngly; þis is led out of peplis, and alle dwelten in it trifstili.

ix Forsoþ þou steiȝinge vp as a tempest shalt cum, and as a cloude, þat þou hill þe erþe, þou and alle þi cumpaignyes, and many peplis wiþ þee.

x Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God, In þat day wordis shuln stye vp vpon þin herte, and þou shalt þenke þe warfst þouȝt;

xi and shalt faye, I shal stiȝe vp to þe lond wiþ outh wall, I shal cum to men restinge and dwellynge fykirly; alle þeſe dwellen wiþ outen wall, barris, or lockis, and ȝatis ben not to hem;

 xii þat þou rauyshe ſpuilis, and affaile pray; þat þou ȝeue þin hond vpon hem þat weren deſert, and afterward reſtoryd, and vpon þe peple whiche is gadrid of folkis, whiche bygan for to weelde, and for to be dweller of þe naule, or mydil, of þe erþe.
 xiii Saba, and Dedan, and marchauntis of Tharsis, and alle lyouns þeroſ ſhuln faye to þee, Wher þou cummeſt for to take ſpuylis? Loo! for to rauyshe pray þou gadereſt þi multitudine, þat þou take gold and ſyluer, and take awey, and take portenaunce of houſhold and ſubtaunce, and rauyshe ſpuylis wiþ outen noumbre.
 xiv Perfore, ſone of man, prophecie þou; and þou ſhalt faye to Gog, þeſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord God, Wher not in þat day, whan my peple of Yrael ſhal dwelle triftili, xv þou ſhalt wite; and ſhalt cum of þi place, fro ſydis of þe norþe, þou, and many peplis wiþ þee, alle ſtyers of horſis, a greet cumpignye, and greet ooft;
 xvi and ſtyeinge vp on my peple Yrael, as a cloude, þat þou hille þe erþe? In þe laſt dayes þou ſhalt be, and I ſhal leede þee to vp on my lond, þat my folkis wite, whan I ſhal be halewid in þee, in þe eeȝen of hem, þou Gog.
 xvii þeſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord God, Perfore þou art he of whom I ſpak in olde dayes, in þe hond of my feruauntis, prophetis of Yrael, þat prophecie in þe days of tymes, þat I ſhulde leede þee to vpon hem.
 xviii And it ſhal be, in þat day, in þe day of þe cummyng of Gog vpon þe lond of Yrael, ſaiþ þe Lord God, myn indignacioun iſhal ſtye vp in my wodeneffe, xix and in my wraþ; in þe fijre of my wraþ I ſpac. For in þat day ſhal be greet mouynge to gydre vpon þe lond of Yrael;
 xx and fishis of þe ſe ſhuln be moued to gydre fro my face, and beeftis of þe feeld, and briddis of heuen, and eche crepynge þing þat is moued vpon erþe, and alle men þat ben vpon þe face of þe erþe; and hillis ſhuln be vndirtournyd, and heggis ſhuln falles, and eche wall ſhal falles to gidre to erþe.
 xxi And I ſhal clepe to gydre aȝeins hym a fwerd in alle my mounteyns, ſaiþ þe Lord; þe fwerd of eche man ſhal be dressid in to his broþer.
 xxii And þan I iſhal deeme hym by pestilence, and blood, and reyn ful greet, and greete ſtoons; Y ſhal reyne vpon hym fyre and bronſton, and vpon his ooft, and vpon many peplis þat ben wiþ hym.
 xxiii And I ſhal be magnyfyed and halewid, and I ſhal be knownen in þe eeȝen of many folkis; and þei ſhuln wite, for I þe Lord.

Capitulum XXXIX.

i Forſoþe þou, ſone of man, prophecie aȝeins Gog; and þou ſhalt faye, þeſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord God, Loo! I vpon þee, Gog, prince of þe hed of Moſoch and Tubal.

ii And I ſhal leede þee aboute, and I ſhal diſcyeue þee, and make þee for to ſtēy vp of ſydis of þe norþ, and I ſhal bryng þee on þe hillis of Yrael.
 iii And I ſhal ſmyte þi bouwe in þi left half, and I ſhal caſt doun þin arowis of þi riȝt hond.
 iv Vpon þe mounteyns of Yrael þou ſhalt falles, þou, and alle þi cumpanyes, and peplis þat ben wiþ þee; to wylde beeftis, briddis and eche volatile, and beeftis of erþe I ȝaue þee for to be deououred.
 v Vpon þe face of feeld þou ſhalt falles; for I þe Lord ſpac, ſaiþ þe Lord God.
 vi And I ſhal fende out fijr in to Magog, and in hem þat dwellen in ijlis triftily; and þei ſhuln wite, for I þe Lord God of Yrael.
 vii And I ſhal make myn holy name knownen in þe mydil of my peple of Yrael, and I ſhal na more defoule myn holy name; and folkis ſhuln wite, for I þe Lord, holy God of Yrael.
 viii Loo! it cummeþ, and it is maad, ſaiþ þe Lord God. Þis is þe day of whiche I ſpac.
 ix And dwellers of þe cytees of Yrael ſhuln go out, and kyndlen and brenne to gydre armeris, ſheeld and ſhaft, bowe and arowis, and ſtafs of hond, and dartis; and þei ſhuln priuely brenne hem by fijr ſeuен ȝeiris.
 x And þei ſhuln not bere trees of cuntrees, neþer þei ſhuln priuely brenne of wijld wodis, for þei ſhuln priuely brenne armers in fijr; and þei ſhuln robbē hem, to whom prayes wereſ, and þei ſhuln rauyshe her waasters, or diſtruyers, ſaiþ þe Lord God.
 xi And it ſhal be in þat day, Y ſhal ȝeue Gog a place named, ſepulcre in Yrael, þe valey of way goers to þe eest of þe ſe, þat makiþ men paſſyng for to be agaſt; and þer þei ſhuln byryen Gog, and al þe multitude of hym, and it ſhal be clepid þe valey of þe multitude of Gog.
 xii And þe hous of Yrael ſhuln birye hem, þat þei clenſe þe erþe ſeuен moneþis.
 xiii Forſoþe al þe peple of erþe ſhal byrien hem, and it ſhal be to hem a named day, in whom Y am glorified, ſaiþ þe Lord God.
 xiv And þei ſhuln ordeyne byſili men ſeekyng, or compaſyng, þe erþe, þe whiche ſhuln birien and aȝein ſeeke hem þat dwelten vpon þe face of erþe, þat þei clenſe it. Forſoþe after ſeuен moneþis þei ſhuln bygynne for to ſeeke, and ſhuln cumpas walkynge þe lond;
 xv and when þei ſhuln ſee a boon of man, þei ſhuln fette a title, or ſigne, biſidis it, til þat byriers byrye it in þe valey of multitude of Gog.
 xvi Forſoþe name of þe citee Amona; and þei ſhuln clenſe þe lond.
 xvii Forſoþe þou, ſone of man, þeſe þingis ſaiþ þe Lord God, Saye þou to eche bryd, and to alle foulis, and to alle beeftis of þe feeld, Cum ȝe to gydre, and haſte ȝee, renne to gydre on eche ſijde to my flayn ſacrifice, whiche I offre to ȝou, a greet flayn sacrifice vpon þe hillis of Yrael, þat ȝee ete fleshis, and drynke blood.

 xvii ȝe shuln ete þe fleshis of strong men, and ȝe shuln drynke þe blood of princis of erþe, of weþers, of lambren, and of kiddis, and of boolis, and of þingus fed for to be fatt, and of alle fatt þingus.
 xix And ȝe shuln ete þe fatnesse in to fulfillynge, and shuln drynke blood in to drunkennesse, of þe flayn sacrifice whiche I shal offre to ȝou.
 xx And ȝe shuln be fulfillid vpon my bord, of hors, and of strong horfman, or knyȝt, and of alle men of batail, faþþ þe Lord God.
 xxi And I shal putte my glorie in folkis, and alle folkis shuln see my dome, þat I dide, and myn hond, þat I haue putte on hem.
 xxii And þe hous of Yrael shuln wite, for I þe Lord God of hem, fro þat day and afterward, or fro þennus forþ.
 xxiii And heiþen men shuln wite, for þe hous of Yrael is taken in his wickidnesse, for þat þat þei lefsten me; and Y hidde my face fro hem, and bytoke hem in to hondis of enmrys, and alle fallen in fwerd. xxiv After þe vncلنnesse of hem and greet trespass Y dide to hem, and I hidde my face fro hem.
 xxv Perfore þese þingis faþþ þe Lord God, Now I shal leede aȝein þe caitife of Jacob, and I shal haue mercy on al þe hous of Yrael; and I shal take to loue for myn holy name.
 xxvi And þei shuln bere her confusioun, and eche trespassyng whiche þei trespassiden in me, whan þei dwelliden in her lond tristili, dredynge no man; xxvii And I shal leede aȝein hem of peplis, and shal gadre hem fro londis of her enmyes, and shal be halewid in hem, in þe eeȝen of ful manye folkis.
 xxviii And þei shuln wite, for I þe Lord God of hem, for þat þat I transflatide hem into naciouns, and haue gadrede hem vpon her lond, and I haue not forsaken, or left, eny man of hem þere.
 xxix And I shal namore hide my face fro hem, for þat I shedde out my spirit vpon eche hous of Yrael, faþþ þe Lord God.

Capitulum XL.

i In þe fyue and twentipe ȝere of oure transmygracioun, in þe bygynnyng of þe ȝeer, in þe tenþe of þe moneþ, in þe fourtenþe ȝeer aftir þat þe citee is smytyn, in þe same day þe hond of þe Lord is maad on me, and ledde me bider in visiouns of God.
 ii And he brouȝt me in to þe lond of Yrael, and he left me on a ful heeȝ hill, vpon whom was as a beeldyng of a citee goyng to þe souþe; iii and he ledde me yn þider. And loo! a man, whos fourme was as þe fourme of brasse, and a lytil lynnyn bond in his hond, and a ȝerd of mesure in his hond; forsoþe he stood in þe ȝate.

ivii And þe same man spac to me, Sone of man, see wiþ pin eeȝen, and heere wiþ pin eeris, and putte þin herte in to alle þingis, whiche I shal shewe to þee, for þat it be shewid to þee, þou art brouȝt to hiper; telle þou alle þingus þat þou seest to þe hous of Yrael.
 v And loo! a wal wiþ outforþ, in cumpas of þe hous in eche sijd, and in hond of þe man a ȝerd of mesure of sixe cubitis and a palme; and he metid þe breede of þe beeldyng wiþ oo ȝerd, and þe heeȝneſſe wiþ oo ȝerd.
 vi And he came to þe ȝate þat biheelde to þe eest waye, and he stiede vp by þe greefe þerof; and he metid þe þresfold of þe ȝate wiþ oo ȝerd, þat is for to faye, þe breede of þe þresfold, wiþ oo ȝerd in breede; vii and þe chaumbre wiþ oo ȝerd in to long, and wiþ oo ȝerd in to breed, and bitwix chaumbris fyue cubitis; viii and þe þresfold of þe ȝate bifydis þe vestiarie, or porche, of þe ȝate wiþ ynforþ, oo ȝerd.
 ix And he metide þe porche of þe ȝate of eiȝ cubitus, and þe frount þerof in two cubitis; forsoþe þe vestiarie, or porche, of þe ȝate was wiþ inneforþ.
 x Forsoþe chaumbris of þe ȝate to þe eft waye, þree on þis sijd, and þree on þat sijd; oo mesure of þree, and oo mesure of þe frountis of eche syde.
 xi And he metid þe breede of þe þresfold of þe ȝate of ten cubitis, and þe lengþe of þe ȝate of þrittene cubitis; xii and þe margyne, or vttemest part, bifore þe chaumbris of oo cubit, and oo cubit þe eende of eche sijde; soþely þe chaumbres weren of sixe cubitis on þis syde and on þat syde.
 xiii And he metide þe ȝate fro þe roof of þe chaumbre til þe roof þerof, þe breede of fyue and twenty cubitis, dore aȝeins dore.
 xiv And he maad frountis bi sixti cubitis, and at a frount porche of þe ȝate on eche syde bi cumpas; xv and bifore þe face of þe ȝate þat laſtid til to þe face of þe porche of þe ynner ȝate, fifti cubitis; xvi and wyndowis ouerþwert, in chaumbris and in frountis of hem, þat weren wiþ ynne þe ȝate on eche syde by cumpas. Also forsoþe and wyndowis weren in þe porchis bi cumpas wiþ ynne forþ, and bifore þe frountis peyntyng of palmes grauen.
 xvii And he ledde me out to þe vtmer porche, 'or large hous, and loo! tresories, and pament paued wiþ stoon in þe porche by enuyrounn; þrittene tresories in þe cumpas of pament;
 xviii and a pament in þe frount of ȝatis, after þe lengþe of þe ȝatis was wiþ ynneforþ.
 xix And he metide þe breede fro face of þe ynner ȝate vnto þe frount of þe ynner porche wiþ outeforþ, an hundrid cubitis to þe eest, and to þe norþ.
 xx And he metide þe ȝate þat biheelde þe waye of þe norþ, of þe vtmore porche, as wele in lengþe as in breede;
 xxi and þree chaumbres þerof, þree on þis syde, and þree on þat syde, and þe frount þerof, and þe porche þerof, after þe mesure of þe first ȝate; þe lengþe þerof of fyfty cubitis, and þe breede of fyue and twenti cubitis.

xxii Forsoþe þe wyndowis þerof, and porche, and grauyngis, after þe mesure of þe ȝate þat byheelde to þe eest; and of seuen grees was þe styeing vp þerof, and a porche before it.

xxiii And þe ȝate of þe ynner porche aȝeinus þe ȝate of þe norþ, and þe eest ȝate; and he metide fro ȝate vnto ȝate an hundrid cubitis.

xxiv And he ledde me out to þe souþe waye, and loo! a ȝate þat bihelde to þe souþe; and he metide þe froutn þerof, and þe porche þerof, after þe ouermore mesures; xxv and þe wyndowis þerof, and porchis in cumpas, as þe toþer wyndows; of fifti cubitis þe lengþe, and þe breede of fyue and twenti cubitis.

xxvi And in seuen greefsis `men stieden þerto, and a porche before þe ȝatis þerof; and grauen palmes weren, oon on þis syde, and an oþer in þe froutn þerof.

xxvii And þe ȝate of þe ynner hous, in þe souþ waye; and he metide fro ȝate vnto ȝate in þe souþ waye, an hundrid cubitis.

xxviii And he ledde me yn, in to þe ynnermer hous at þe souþ ȝate; and he metide þe ȝate after þe ouermesuris;

xxix þe chaumbrys þerof, and froutn þerof, and porche þerof, bi þe same mesuris; and þe wyndowis þerof, and þe porche þerof in cumpas; fifti cubitis in lengþe, and of breed fyue and twenti cubitis;

xxx and þe porche by cumpas, þe lengþe of fyue and twenti cubitis, and þe breed of fyue cubitis.

xxxi And þe porche þerof to þe vtmer hous, and palmes þerof in þe froutn; and eiȝte greces weren, bi whiche me steyede vp þerby.

xxxii And he ledde me in to þe ynnermer hous, by þe eest waye; and he metide þe ȝate after þe ouermesuris;

xxxiii þe chaumbre þerof, and froutn þerof, and porchis þerof, as aboue; and wyndowis þerof, and porchis þerof in cumpas; þe lengþe of fifty cubitis, and þe breed of fyue and twenty cubitis;

xxxiv and þe porche þerof, þat is to saye, of þe vtmer hous; and palmes graued in þe froutn þerof, on þis syde and on þat syde; and in eiȝte greefe þe steyding vp þerof.

xxxv And he ledde me ynne, at þe ȝate þat bihelde to þe norþ, and matte after þe ouermore mesuris;

xxxvi þe chaumbrys þerof, and froutn þerof, and þe porche þerof, and wyndowis þerof bi cumpas; of lengþe of fifty cubitis, and þe breed of fyue and twenti cubitis.

xxxvii þe porche þerof bihelde to þe vtmer hous; and grauyngs of palmys in froutn þerof on boþe sydis; and in eiȝte greefe þe steyding vp þerof.

xxxviii And bi alle trefories a dore in froutnis of þe ȝatis; and þere þei washiden breed sacrifice.

xxxix And in þe porche of þe ȝate two bordis on þis syde, and two bordis on þat syde, þat vpon hem ben offrid breed sacrifice, for synne of doyng and for trespass of leeuyng vndon.

xli And at þe vtmer syde, þat goþ vp to þe dore of þe ȝate þat goþ to þe norþ, two bordis; and at þe toþer syde, before þe porche of þe ȝate, two bordis.

xlii Foure bordis on þis syde, and four bordis on þat syde; by þe sydis of þe ȝate weren eiȝte bordis vpon whom men offriden.

xliii Forsoþe foure bordis to breed sacrifice beeldid of sware stoons, in lengþe of oo cubit and an half, and in breede of oo cubite and an half, and in heiȝþe oo cubit; vpon whiche þei putten vessels, in whiche breed sacrifice is offrid, and flayn sacrifice.

xlii And þe lippis, or brynkis, of hem of oo palme, bowid aȝein wiþ ynneforþ bi cumpas; vpon þe bordis forsoþe offringis of fleshe.

xliii And wiþ outh þe ynner ȝate, tresories of chaunters, in þe ynner hous þat was in þe side of þe ȝate biholdynge to þe norþ; and þe face of þem aȝeinus þe souþe waye; oon on þe fyde of þe eest ȝate, þat bihelde to þe waye of þe norþ.

xlv And he saide to me, Þis is þe tresorie, þat biholdip þe souþ waye, of preefis þat waken in kepingis of þe temple.

xlii Sobli þe tresorie þat biholdip to þe waye of þe norþ, schal ben of prestis þat waken to þe seruise of þe auter; þes ben þe sones of Sadoch, þat comen to of þe sonys of Leuy to þe Lord, þat þei ministre to hym.

xlvii And he matte þe hous, þe lengþe of an hundrid cubitis, and þe breede by an hundrid cubitis, by sware, and þe auter before þe face of þe temple.

xlviii And he ledde me yn, in to þe porche of þe temple; and he matte þe porche by fyue cubitis on þis syde, and fyue cubitis on þat syde; and þe breed of þe ȝate, of þree cubitis on þis syde, and þree cubitis on þat syde;

xlix forsoþe þe lengþe of þe porche of twenti cubitis, and þe breed of elleuen cubitis, and bi eiȝte greefe me stieden þerto; and pilers weren in þe froutus, oon on þis syde, and an oþer on þat syde.

Capitulum XLI.

i And he ledde me yn, into þe temple; and he meet þe froutis, sixe cubitis of breed on þis syde, and sixe cubitis of breed on þat syde, þe breed of þe tabernacle.

ii And þe breed of þe ȝate was of ten cubitis; and þe sydis of þe ȝate, by fyue cubitis on þis syde, and by fyue cubitis on þat syde; and he matte þe lengþe þerof of fourty cubitis, and þe breed of twenti cubitis.

iii And he gon yn wiþ ynneforþ, matte in frout of þe ȝate two cubitis, and þe ȝate of sixe cubitis, and þe breed of þe ȝate of seuen cubitis.

iii And he matte þe lengþe þerof of twenti cubitis, and þe breede of twenti cubitis, byfore þe face of þe temple. And he sayde to me, Þis is þe holy of halewis.
v And he matte þe wall of þe hous of fixe cubitis, and þe breede of þe syde of four cubitis, on eche syde bi cumpas of þe hous.
vi Þe sydis forsoþe, syde to syde, twyse þree and þritti; and þei weren shewynge, 'or aboue femynge, þat entriden bi þe wall of þe hous, in þe sydis bi cumpas, þat þei shulden holde to gydre, and not touche þe wall of þe temple.
vii And þe street was in to round, styinge vpward bi þe heeȝ toure, and in to soupyng place of þe temple it bare forþ bi cumpas; þerfore þe temple was brodder in þe ouermore þingus; and so fro þe lower parties me stied to þe heeȝer, and þe mydil.
viii And I seeȝ in þe hous heeȝnesse bi cumpas, þe sydis foundid at þe mesure of a ȝerd in space of fixe cubitis;
ix and þe breede by þe wall of þe syde wiþ outforþ, of fyue cubitis; and þe ynner hous was in þe sydis of þe hous.
x And bytwix tresories þe breede of twentye cubitis in cumpas of þe hous on eche syde, xi and þe dore of þe syde to preyer; oo dore to þe waye of þe norþ, and oo dore to þe souȝ waye; and þe breede of place to preyer, of fyue cubitis in cumpas.
xii And þe beeldyng þat was departid, and turnyd to þe waye biholdynge to þe see, of þe breede of seuenty cubitis; forsoþe þe wall of beeldyng of fyue cubitis of breed in cumpas, and þe lengþe þerof of nynty cubitis.
xiii And he matte þe lengþe of þe hous, of an hundrid cubitis; and þe byldyng þat was departid, and þe wallis þerof, of lengþe of an hundrid cubitis.
xiv Forsoþe þe breede byfore þe face of þe hous, and of it þat was departid aȝeinus þe eest, of an hundrid cubitis.
xv And he matte þe lengþe of þe beeldyng aȝeinus þe face þerof, þat was departid at þe bac; folers on eche syde of an hundrid cubitis, and þe temple wiþ ynforþ, and porchis of þe hous, xvi þresfoldis, and wyndowis ouerþwert; folers in cumpas by þree parties, aȝeinus þe þreshfold of eche, and diȝte wiþ tree by cumpas in enuyroune; forsoþe erþe til to þe wyndowis, and wyndowis cloſiden þe doris, xvii vnto þe ynner hous, and wiþ out forþ, by eche wall in cumpas, wiþ ynneforþ and wiþ outforþ at mesure.
xviii And cherubyns forged, and palmes, and a palme bitwix cherub and cherub; and cherub hadde two faces, xix a face of man byſydis þe palme of þis syde, and a face of lyoun byſydis a palme expreffid on þe toþer syde. By all þe hous in cumpas, xx fro þe erþe vnto þe ouermer part, cherubyns and palmes weren graued in þe wall of þe temple.

xi ȝe þresfold foure cornerd; and þe face of þe byholdingyng of þe sayntuarye aȝenus þe biholdingyng of þe treenen auter;
xii þe heiȝt of it of þree cubitis, and þe lengþe þerof two cubitis; and þe corners þerof, and lengþe þerof, and wallis þerof, treenen. And he spac to me, Þis is þe bord byfore þe Lord.
xiii And two doris weren in þe temple, and in þe fayntuarie.
xiv And in þe two doris on eche sijde weren two smale doris, þat weren folden in hem self to gydre; forsoþe two doris weren on eche syde of þe doris.
xv And grauen weren in þe ylk doris of þe temple cherubyns and grauyng of palmes, as and in þe wallis þei weren expreffid. Wherfore and gretter trees weren in þe frount of þe porche wiþ outforþ, xvi on whiche þe ouerþwert wyndowis, and likenesse of palmes, on þis syde and þat syde; in þe litil shuldris of þe porche, after þe sydis of þe hous, and breede of wallis.

Capitulum XLII.

i And he ledde me out in to þe vtmer hous, by þe waye leedyng to þe norþ; and he ledde me yn, in to þe tresorie, þat was aȝeinus þe departid beeldyng, and aȝeinus þe hous goyng to þe norþ;
ii in þe face of lengþe an hundred cubitis of þe norþ dore, and of breede fifti cubitis, iii aȝeinus twenti cubitis of þe ynner hous, and aȝeinus þe pament pauid wiþ stoon of þe vtmer hous, wher was a porche ioynyd to treble porche.
iv And bifore þe tresories a walkyng of ten cubitis of breed, and biholdynge to þe ynner þingus of a waye of oo cubit. And þe doris of hem to þe norþ, v wher weren tresories lower in þe ouermore partis; for þei baren vp þe porchis þat of hem apperiden of þe lower partis, and of þe mydlis of beeldyng.
vi Sopely housis of þree stagis weren, and hadde not pilers, as pilers weren of þe greet housis; þerfore þei apperiden out fro þe lower parties, and fro þe mydlis fro þe erþe, in fifty cubitis.
vii And þe vtmer aleȝ after þe tresories, þat weren in þe waye of þe vtmer greet hous, byfore þe tresories; þe lengþe þerof of fyfty cubitis.
viii For þe lengþe was of þe tresories of þe vtmer hous of fyfty cubitis, and þe lengþe byfore þe face of þe temple of an hundrid cubitis.
ix And vndir þese tresories was an entre fro þe eest, of men entrynge in to it, of þe vtmer hous, x in þe breede of þe aleȝ of þe hous, þat was aȝeinus þe eest waye, in to þe face of þe departid beeldyng. And byfore þe beeldyng weren tresories, xi and a waye bifore þe face of hem, after þe lickenesse of tresories þat weren in þe waye of þe norþ; after þe lengþe of hem, so and þe breedë of hem. And al þe entryng of hem, and likenessis and doris of hem, xii after þe doris of trefories þat weren in þe waye biholdynge to þe souþ dore in þe heed of þe waye, whiche waye was byfore þe porche departid to men entrynge by þe eest waye.

 xiii And he saide to me, Þe trefories of þe norþ, and þe trefories of þe souþ, þat ben byfore þe beeldyng departid, þese ben holy trefories, in whiche þe prestis ben cloþid, whiche neiȝen to þe Lord in to þe holy of halewis; þere þei shuln putte þe holy þingus of þe holy, and offryngus for synne of doyng, and trefpas of leeuyng; forsoþe þe place is holy.
 xiv Forsoþe whan prestis shuln entre, þei shuln not go out of holy þingis in to þe vtmer hous; and þere þei shuln putte aȝein her cloþis, in whiche þei ministren, for þei ben holy; and þei shuln be cloþid wiþ oþer cloþingus, and so þei shuln go forþ to þe peple.
 xv And whenn he hadde ful eendid þe mesuris of þe ynner hous, he ledde me out by þe waye of þe ȝate þat byhelde to þe eest waye; and he matte it on eche syde by cumpas.
 xvi Forsoþe he matte aȝeinus þe eest wynd wiþ a ȝerd of mesure by cumpas fyue hundredþ ȝerdis, in a ȝerd of mesure by cumpas.
 xvii And he matte aȝeinus þe wynd of þe norþ fyue hundred ȝerdis, in a ȝerd of mesure by cumpas.
 xviii And in to þe souþ wynd he matte fyue hundredþ ȝerdis, in a ȝerd of mesure by cumpas.
 xix And to þe west wynd he matte fyue hundredþ ȝerdis, in a ȝerd of mesure.
 xx By foure wyndus he matte þe wall þerof on eche syde by cumpas, þe lengþe of fyue hundred cubitis, and þe breed of fyue hundred cubitis, departinge bitwix þe fayntuarie and place of commoun peple.

Capitulum XLIII.

i And he ladde me out at þe ȝate, þat byhelde to þe eest waye.
 ii And loo! þe glorie of God of Yrael entride by þe eest waye; and a voice was to hym, as þe voice of many watriis, and þe erþe shooone of þe maieste of hym.
 iii And I sawȝ a visioun, after þe fourme whiche I sawȝ, whan he came for to distruye þe citee; and þe fourme after þe biholding whom I sawȝ byfydis þe flood Cobar. And I felle vpon my face, iv and þe maieste of þe Lord entride þe temple, by þe waye of þe ȝate þat biheelde to þe eest.
 v And þe Spirit reyside me, and ledde me yn, in to þe ynner hous; and loo! þe hous was fulfilled wiþ glorie of þe Lord.
 vi And I herde þe spekyng to me of þe hous. And þe man þat stode byfydis me, saide to me, vii Sone of man, þe place of my feete, and þe place of steppis of my feet, wher Y dwelle in þe mydil of þe fones of Yrael in to wiþ outen eende; and þe hous of Yrael shuln na more defoule myn holy name, þei, and þe kyngus of hem, in her fornicaciouns, and in fallyngus of her kyngus, and in heeȝ þingus.

viii Whiche forgiden her þresfold byfydis my þresfold, and her postis byfydis my postis, and a wall was bitwix hem and me; and þei defouliden myn holy name in abominaciouns whiche þei diden; for whiche I waftide hem in my wrab.

ix Now þerfore putte þei ferr her fornicaciouns, and fallyngus of her kyngus fro me; and I shal dwelle in þe mydil of hem euermore.

x Forsoþe þou, sone of man, shewe to þe hous of Yrael þe temple, and be þei confoundid of her wickidnessis; and mete þei þe makynge, xi and shame þei of alle þingus þat þei diden. þou shalt shewe to hem þe figure of þe hous, and makynge þerof; þe outgoynge, and þe yngoung, and al discryuyng þerof, and alle maundementus þerof, and al þe ordre þerof, and alle lawis þerof, and þou shalt write in þe eeȝen of hem; þat þei keepe alle discryuyngus þerof, and preceptis þerof, and do hem.

xii þis is lawe of þe hous, in heeȝnesse of mount; alle þe eendis þerof in cumpas is þe holy of halewis; þerfore þis is þe lawe of þe hous.

xiii þese soþely þe mesures of þe auter in a cubit most verre, þat hadde a cubit and an 'hond; and þe bosum þerof was a cubit in lengþe, and a cubit in breedë; and þe diffynge, or certeyntee, þerof vn to þe lippe, or brynde, þerof in cumpas, o palme, or hond; and þis was þe diche, or holownesse, of þe auter.

xiv And fro þe bosum of þe erþe vn to þe last heiȝt, or brinke, two cubitis, and þe breedë of oo cubit; and fro þe leffe heiȝt, or auter, 'to þe more heiȝt, or auter, foure cubitis, and þe breedë of oo cubit;

xv forsoþe þe ylk ariel, or auter, of foure cubitis, and fro ariel vn to aboue, foure corners.

xvi And þe ariel, 'or auter, of twelue cubitis in lengþe, by twelue cubitis of breedë, foure cornered wiþ euen sydis.

xvii And þe heiȝt, or brynde, of fourtene cubitis of lengþe by fourtene cubitis of breedë, in four corners þerof. And a croune in cumpas þerof of half a cubit, and þe bosum þerof of oo cubit by cumpas; forsoþe þe grefe þerof turnyd to þe eest.

xviii And he saide to me, Sone of man, þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God, þese ben þe rytis, or obseruaunces, of þe auter, in what euer day it shal be forgid, þat brent sacrifice be offrid per vpon, and bloode be shed out.

xix And þou shalt ȝeue to prestis and dekenys, þat ben of þe feed of Sadoch, þat cumen to me, saiþ þe Lord God, þat þei offre to me a calf of þe droue for synne don.

xx And þou, takyng to of þe bloode þerof, shalt putte vpon four corners þerof, and vpon four corners of þe heiȝt, and vpon þe crown in cumpas; and þou shalt clese it, and fully make clene.

xxi And þou shalt take þe calf þat was offrid for synne don, and þou shalt brenne hym in a departid place of þe hous, wiþ outen þe fayntuare.

xxii And in þe fecounde day þou shalt offre a buc of geet vnspottid for synne don; and þei shuln fully clese þe auter, as þei clenfiden in þe calf.

xxiii And whann þou haſt fulfillid þat clenfyng, þou shalt offre a calf vnspottid of þe droue, and a weber, or ram, vnspottid of þe floc.

xxiv And þou shalt offre hem in þe siȝt of þe Lord; and prestis shuln fende salt vpon hem, and shuln offre hem in to brent sacrifice to þe Lord.

xxv Seuen days þou shalt make þe geet buc for synne, day by day; and þe calf of þe drooue, and þe weber of þe sheep þei shuln offre hem vnspottid.

xxvi Seuen days þei shuln fulli make clene þe auter, and shuln clenfe it, and shuln fulfille þe hond þerof.

xxvii Forsoþe feuen days fulfillid, in þe eiȝt day and ouer prestis shuln do ȝour brent sacrifices vpon þe auter, and whiche þei offren for pees; and I shal be plesid to ȝou, saþ þe Lord God.

Capitulum XLIII.

i And he turned me to þe waye of þe ȝate of þe vtmer fayntuarie, þat biholdiþ to þe eest, and was closid.

ii And þe Lord saide to me, Ȑis ȝate shal be closid, and shal not be opnyd, and a man shal not passe by it; for þe Lord God of Yrael entride yn by it, and it shal be closid to þe prynce.

iii Ȑe prince he shal sitte in it, þat he ete breedre before þe Lord; by þe waye of þe ȝate of þe porche he shal go yn, and by þe waye þerof he shal go out.

iv And he ledde me to by þe waye of þe norþ ȝate, in þe siȝte of þe hous; and I sawȝ, and loo! þe glorie of þe Lord fulfillid þe hous of þe Lord; and I felle in to my face.

v And þe Lord sayde to me, Sone of man, putte þin herte, and see wiþ þin eeȝen, and hear wiþ þin eris alle þingus whiche I speke to þee, of alle cerymonyes of þe hous of þe Lord, and of alle þe lawis þerof; and þou shalt putte þin herte in wayes of þe temple, by alle þe out goyngus of þe seyntuarie.

vi And þou shalt saye to þe hous of Yrael terryng me to wrab, Ȑese þingus saþ þe Lord God, Ȑe hous of Yrael, alle ȝour grete trespassis suffice þei to ȝou, vii for þat þat ȝe bryng yn alyen sonys, vncircumcidid in hert, and vncircumcidid in flesh, þat þei be in my fayntuarie, and defoule myn hous. And ȝe offren my louys, fatnesse, and bloode, and ȝe vndo my couenaunt in alle ȝour grete trespassis.

viii And ȝe kepte not þe preceptis of my fayntuarie, and ȝe han putte keepers of myn obseruaunces in my fayntuarie to ȝour self.

ix Ȑese þingus saþ þe Lord God, Eche alien vncircumcidid in herte, and vncircumcidid in fleshe, shal not entre my fayntuarie; eche alyen sone, þat is in þe mydil of þe sones of Yrael.

x Bot and þe Leuytis, or dekenys, whiche wenten fer awey fro me in errour of þe sonys of Yrael, and erriden fro me after her ydolis, and baren her wickidnes, xi þuln be in my fayntuarie kepers of þe hous, and porters of þe ȝatis of þe hous, and mynistris of þe hous; þei shulen flee brent sacrificis, and flayn sacrificis of þe peple; and þei shuln stonde in þe siȝt of hem, þat þei ministre to hem.

xii For þat þat þei mynstryden to hem in þe siȝt of þe ydols, and ben maad to þe hous of Yrael in to offendicoun of wickidnesse; þerfore Y reyfide myn hond vpon hem, saþ þe Lord God, and þei han born her wickidnesse.

xiii And þei shuln not neiȝe to me, þat þei be ordeyned in presthod to me, neþer þei shuln cum to al my fayntuarie byfidis þe holy of halewis, bot þei shuln bere her confusioun, and her grete trespassis þat þei diden.

xiv And I shal ȝeue hem porters of þe hous, in al þe mynsterie þerof, and in alle þingus þat weren in it.

xv Forsoþe prestis and dekenys, sonys of Sadoch, whiche kepten þe cerymonyes of my fayntuarie, whan þe sones of Yrael erryden fro me, þei shuln cum to me, þat þei mynistro to me; and þei shuln stonde in my siȝte, þat þei offre to me fatnesse and blood, saþ þe Lord God.

xvi Ȑei shuln go yn to my fayntuarie, and þei shuln cum to my bord, þat þei mynystre to me, and keepe my cerymonyes.

xvii And whan þei shuln go yn to þe ȝatis of þe ynner hous, þei shuln be clopid wiþ lynnen clopis, neþer eny wollun shal stye vp on hem, whann þei mynystren in þe ȝatis of þe ynner hous, and wiþ ynneforþ; xviii lynnen byndyngus shuln be in þe hedis of hem, and wommans lynnen in þe leendus of hem, and þei shuln not be gyrd in swoot.

xix And whan þei shuln go out þe vtmer hous to þe peple, þei shuln vnclope hem her cloþingus, in whiche þey mynistriden, and shuln aȝein putte hem in þe tresorie of fayntuarie; and þei shuln cloþe þem wiþ ober cloþingus, and þei shuln not halewe þe peple in her clopis.

xx Sopely þei shuln not shauue her hedis, neþer norishe longe her, bot clippynge þei shuln clippe her hedis.

xxi And eche prest shal not drynke wijne, whan he entriþ þe ynner hous.

xxii And þei shuln not take wyues a wydue, and forsaken, bot meydens of þe seed of þe hous of Yrael; bot and þei shuln take a wydue, whiche was wydue of a preft.

xxiii And þei shuln teche my peple, what is bitwixe holy and polute, or defoulid, and bitwixe cleen and vncleen; and þei shuln shewe to hem.

xxiv And whann debate shal be, þei shuln stonde in my domys, and þei shuln deem my lawis; and þei shuln kepe my heeftis in alle my solempnytees, and þei shuln halewe my sabothis.

xxv And þei shuln not entree to a dead man, leſt þei be defoulid, no bot to fader, and moder, sone, and douȝter, and broþer, and sister whiche hadde non hufbond, in whom þei shuln be defoulid.

xxvi And after þat he shal be clenſid, ſeuen days shuln be noumbred to hym.

xxvii And in þe day of his entryng in to þe fayntuarie, at þe ynner hous, þat he mynifre to me in my fayntuarie, he shal offre for his synne, faþ þe Lord God.

xxviii Forſoþe heritage shal not be to hem, Y þe heritage of hem; and ȝe shuln not ȝeue to hem poſſeſſioun in Yrael, forſoþe I þe poſſeſſion of hem.

xxix Þei shuln ete flayn ſacrifice, and for synne of doyng, and for trespas of leuyng, and eche vow in Yrael shal be hern.

xxx And þe primyſſis, or firſt þingus, of alle beeftus firſt bygoten, and alle liquyd ſacrifices, or fleetynge, as oyle, and hony, and fyche, of alle þingus þat ben offrid, shuln be þe preftis; and ȝe shuln ȝeue to þe preſt be firſt þingus of ȝour metis, þat he putte vp a bleffyng to his hous.

xxxi Preftis shuln not ete eche dead þing by it ſelf, and taken of beeftis, of briddus, and of etable beeftis.

Capitulum XLV.

i Whann ȝe shuln bygynne for to departe þe lond by lot, departe ȝe þe firſt fruytis to þe Lord, and halewid þinge of þe lond, þe lengþe fyue and twenti þousandis, and þe breed ten þousandis; it shal be halewid in al þe terme þerof by cumpas.

ii And on eche part it shal be halewid in fyue hundrid by fyue hundrid, four maner by cumpas, and in fifty cubitis in to þe ſuburbis þerof bi cumpas.

iii And of þis meſure þou shalt meſure þe lengþe of fyue and twenty þousandis, and þe breed of ten þousandis; and in þat þe temple shal be, and þe holy of holy þingus.

iv þe halewid þing of þe lond shal be to preftis, mynifris of þe fayntuarie, whiche cummen to þe feruyce of þe Lord; and a place shal be to hem in þe hous, in to fayntuarie of halewyng.

v Soþely fyue and twenti þousandis ſchulen ben of lengþe, and ten þousandis of breed; forſoþe þe dekenys þat minifren to þe hous, þei shuln weelde twenty trefories.

vi And ȝe shuln ȝeue poſſeſſiouns of þe citee, fyue þousandis of breed, and of lengþe fyue and twenti þousandis, after þe departyng of fayntuarie, to eche hous of Yrael.

vii And to þe prince on þis half and on þat half, and in to þe departyng of fayntuarie, and in to poſſeſſioun of þe citee, aȝeinuſ þe face of departyng of þe fayntuarie, and aȝeinuſ þe face of poſſeſſioun of þe citee, fro þe fyde of þe ſee vn to þe ſee, and fro þe fyde of þe eest vn to þe eest. Forſoþe þe lengþe byfydis eche of þe parties, fro þe west terme vnto þe eest terme of þe lond, viii shal be poſſeſſioun in Yrael; and princis shuln namore ſpuyle my peple, but shuln ȝeue lond to þe hous of Yrael, after þe lynagis of hem.

ix þeſe þingus faþ þe Lord God, ȝe princis of Yrael, be it ynewȝ to ȝow, leue ȝe wickidneſſe and raueyns, and do ȝe dome and riȝtwiſneſſe; departe ȝe ȝour niȝ cooftus fro my peple, faþ þe Lord God.

x A iuſt balaunce, and iuſt meſure of drye þingis, þat is clepid ephi, and iuſt meſure of fleetynge þingus, þat is clepid bachus, shal be to ȝou.

xi Ephi and bachus shuln be euen, and of oo meſure, þat bachus take þe tenþe part of corus, þat is a meſure of þritti buſhellis, and ephi þe tenþe part of chorus; after þe meſure of corus þer shal be euen weiȝt of hem.

xii Forſoþe a ficle shal haue twenti halpenns; forſoþe twenti ſyclis, and fyue and twenti ſyclis maken a befaunt.

xiii And þeſe ben þe firſt þingus whiche ȝe shuln take; þe ſixt part of ephi, of þe meſure corus of whete, and þe ſixte part of ephi, of þe meſure corus of barley.

xiv And þe meſure of oyle; bachus of oyle is þe tenþe part of þe meſure corus, and ten meſuris of bachus maken þe meſure corus; for ten meſuris of bachus fulfillen þe meſure corus.

xv And oo weþer of a floc of two hundrid, of þeſe whiche þe ſones of Yrael nuryſhen, in to ſacrifice, and in to breed ſacrifice, and in to peſible, for to fulli cleneſſe for hem, faþ þe Lord God.

xvi Al þe peple of þe lond shal be holden in þeſe priuilles to þe prince of Yrael.

xvii And vpon þe prince shuln be breed ſacrifices, and ſacrifice of offryngus of fleetynge þingus, in ſolempnytees, and in kalendus, and in ſabothis, and in alle þe ſolempnytees of þe hous of Yrael; he shal make ſacrifice for synne, and breed ſacrifice, and peſible, for to fulli cleneſſe for þe hous of Yrael.

xviii þeſe þingus faþ þe Lord God, In þe firſt moneþe, in oon of þe moneþ, þou shalt take a calf vnfoppid of þe droue, and þou shalt fully cleneſſe þe fayntuarie.

xix And þe preſt shal take of þe bloode, þat shal be for synne; and shal putte in poſtis of þe hous, and in four corners of þe heiȝt of þe auter, and in poſtus of þe ȝate of þe ynner hous.

xx And so þou shalt in þe ſeueneþe of þe moneþe, for eche man þat vnknewe, and by error is diſcleyued, and þou shalt fully cleneſſe for þe hous.

xxi In þe first moneþ, in þe fourtenþ day of þe moneþ, þe solempnytee of pask shal be to ȝou; in seuen days þerf þingus shuln be eten.

xxii And þe prince shal do in þat day, for hym and for al þe peple of þe lond, a calf for synne.

xxiii And in þe solempnyte of seuen days he shal do brend sacrifice to þe Lord; seuen calues and seuen weþeris vnfottid day by day, in seuen days, and for synne a geet buc eche day.

xxiv And þe sacrifice of þe mesure ephi bi a calf, and ephi by a weþer, he shal do, and þe mesure hyn of oyle, by eche ephi.

xxv In þe seuenþe moneþ, þe fifteenþ day of þe moneþ, in þe solempnytee, he shal do as þei ben aboue sayde, by seuen days, as wele for synne as for brent sacrifice, and in sacrifice, and in oyle.

Capitulum XLVI.

i These þingus saiþ þe Lord God, þe ȝate of þe ynner hous, þat byholdiþ to þe eest, shal be cloſid fixe days, in whiche werk is don; forsoþe in þe day of saboth it shal be opnyd, bot and in þe day of kalendis it shal be opnyd.

ii And þe prince shal entre by þe way of þe porche of þe ȝate wiþ outforþ, and he shal stonde in þe presfold of þe ȝate; and prestis shuln do his brend sacrifice, and his pesibles; and he shal worship vpon þe presfold of þe ȝate, and he shal go out; forsoþe þe ȝate shal not be cloſid vn to euyn.

iii And þe peple of þe lond shal worship at þe dore of þat ȝate, in sabothis, and kalendis, byfore þe Lord.

iv Forsoþe þe prince shal offre þis brent sacrifice to þe Lord in þe day of saboth, fixe lambren vnfottid, and a weþer vnfottid, v and a sacrifice of ephi by þe weþer; in lambren forsoþe þe sacrifice þat his hond shuln ȝeue, and þe mesure hyn of oyle, bi eche of ephi.

vi Soþely in þe day of kalendis a calf vnfottid of þe drooue, and fix lambren, and weþris vnfottid shuln be, vii and þe mesure ephi by þe calf. And he shal make þe sacrifice of þe mesure ephi by þe weþer; forsoþe of þe lambren as his hond shal fynde, and of oyle þe mesure hyn, by eche of mesure ephi.

viii And whann þe prince is to entringe, by waye of þe porche of þe ȝate entre he, and by þe same waye go he out.

ix And whan þe peple of þe lond shal entre in þe siȝt of þe Lord, in solempnytees, whiche goþ ynne by þe norþ ȝate, þat it wirþip, go it out by þe waye of þe souþ ȝate. Forsoþe he þat entríþ by þe waye of þe souþ ȝate, go out by waye of þe norþ ȝate. He shal not turne aȝein by waye of þe ȝate, by whom he goþ yn, bot euen aȝeinus it he shal go out.

x Soþeli þe prince shal be in þe mydil of hem; wiþ men goyng yn he shal go yn, `and wiþ men goyng oute he schal go oute.

xi Hou in fairis and in solempnyteese shal be sacrifice of mesure ephi by a calf, and mesure ephi by a weþer; in lambren shal be sacrifice as his hond shal fynde, and of oyle þe mesure hyn, bi eche of mesure ephi.

xii Forsoþe whan þe prince shal do wilful brent sacrifice, or wilful pesibles to þe Lord, þe ȝate þat biholdiþ to þe eest, shal be opnyd to hym; and he shal do his brent sacrifice, and his pesiblis, as it is wont for to be don in þe day of saboth; and he shal go out, and þe ȝate shal be flette after þat he shal go out.

xiii And he shal do a brend sacrifice, a lomb of þe same ȝeer vnfottid, eche day to þe Lord; euermore in þe morewe he shal do it, and he shal do sacrifice þeron bisidis, or niȝ, þe morewe;

xiv erly þe fixt part of þe mesure ephi, and of oyle þe bridde part of þe mesure hyn, þat it be meynt to floure; a lawful sacrifice to þe Lord, contynuel and euerlastynge.

xv And he shal make a lombe in to sacrifice, and oyle, niȝ þe morewe; erly þe brend sacrifice euerlastynge.

xvi Peſe þingis seiþ þe Lord God, ȝif þe prince shal ȝyue a hous to eny of his sones, þe eritaage þeroft schal be of his sones; þei schulen weelde it by eritage.

xvii Forsoþ ȝif he shal ȝeue a biqueþun þing of his eritage to oon of his seruauntis, it shal be his vn to þe ȝeer of remyssioun, and it shal turne aȝein to þe prince; forsoþe þe eritage of hym shal be to his sonys.

xviii And þe prince shal not take by violence of þe eritage of þe peple, and of þe posseſſioun of hem; bot of his posseſſioun he shal ȝeue eritage to his sonys, þat my peple be not disparplid, eche man fro his posseſſioun.

xix And he ledde me yn bi þe entree, þat was on þe syde of þe ȝate, in to þe tresories of þe sayntuarie to þe prestis, þat bihelden to þe norþ; and þere was a place goyng to þe west.

xx And he sayde to me, ȝis is a place, wher and prestis shuln faye and for synne of doyng, and for trespass of leeuyng; wher þei shuln lay sacrifice, þat þei bere not out in to þe vtmer hous, and þe peple be halewid.

xxi And he ledde me out in to þe vtmer hous, and about ledde me by foure corners of þe hous; and loo! a litil hous was in þe corner of þe hous, smale houſis, xxii eche by corners of þe hous; in to foure corners of þe hous litil houſis dispositid, of fourti cubitis by longe, and þritti by breed; foure weren of oo mesure;

xxiii and a wal by cumpas enuyrounynge foure smale houſis; and kitchens weren forgid vndir porchis bi cumpas.

xxiv And he laide to me, ȝis is þe hous of kichenys, in whom þe mynyſtris of þe hous of þe Lord seepen flayn sacrifices of þe peple.

Capitulum XLVII.

- i And he turnede me to þe ȝate of þe hous; and loo! waters wenten out vndir þe þresfold of þe hous to þe eest; forsoþe þe face of þe hous byheelde to þe eest; soþely þe waters wenten doun in to þe riȝt syde of þe temple, to þe souþ of þe auter.
- ii And he ledde me out by þe waye of þe norþ ȝate, and he turnyde me to þe waye wiþ outen þe vtmer ȝate, þe waye þat byheelde to þe eest; and loo! waters tournynge aȝein of þe riȝt syde,
- iii whan þe man wente out to þe eest, þat hadde a litil coord in his hond, and matte a pouſand cubitis, and ledde me ouer by þe water vn to þe helis.
- iv And aft sone he matte a pouſand, and ledde me ouer by þe water vn to þe knees. And aft sone he matte a pouſand, and ledde me by þe watre vn to þe reynys.
- v And he matte a pouſand, by þe streme of reyn whom Y miȝte not ouer passe; for deep waters of þe streme of reyn wexiden grete, whiche may not be ouer wad.
- vi And he faide to me, Certis, sone of man, þou haſt ſeen. And he ledde me, and turnyde me to þe ryuer of þe streme of rayn.
- vii And whan I hadde conuertid me, loo! in þe ryuer of þe strem of rayn ful many trees on eche syde.
- viii And he ſaiþ to me, Þese waters þat gon out to þe heepis of þe eest foond, and gon doun to þe playn þingus of defert, þuln go ynne to þe ſee, and go out; and þe waters þuln heele.
- ix And eche lyuyng soule þat creepiþ, whiþer euer þe ſtrem of rayn þhal cum, þhal lyue; and þere þuln be fishis many ynow, after þat þese waters þuln cum þidir, and þei þuln be maad hoole, and þuln lyue; alle þese þuln lyue, to whom þe ſtreme of rayn þhal cum.
- x And fishers þuln ſtond vpon hem; fro Engaddi vnto Engallym þhal be dryinge of nettis; ful many ſpices þuln be of fishis þeroſ, as fishes of þe grete ſe, of ful grete mykilneſſe;
- xi forſoþe in brynkis þeroſ and in mareifis þei þuln not be helid, for þei þuln be ȝouen in to salt places.
- xii And on þe ſtreme of rayn, and ryuers þeroſ, and on eche part, al tree berynge appul þhal be brouȝt forþ; a lefe þhal not fle awey þeroſ, and þe fruyt of it þhal not fayle; by eche moneþes it þhal bryngē firſt fruytis, for þe waters þeroſ þuln go out of sayntuarie; and fruytis þeroſ þuln be in to mete, and leſis þeroſ to medecyne.
- xiii Þese þingus ſaiþ þe Lord God, þis is þe terme, in whiche ȝe þuln weelde þe lond, in twelue kynredis of Yrael; for Joseph haþ double coord, or part.
- xiv Forſoþe ȝe þuln weelde it, eche evenly as his broþer; vpon whom I reyſide myn hond, þat I ſhulde ȝeue to ȝour fadris; and þis lond þhal falle to ȝou in to poſſeffioun.
- xv Þis is þe terme of þe lond at þe norþ cooſt, fro þe grete ſe, þe way of Bethalon to men cummyng to Sedala, xvi Emath, Beroth, Sabarym, whiche is bitwix þe mydil of Damask and þe cooſts of Emath, þe hous Athicon, þat is byſidis þe termys of Auran.

xvii And þe terme þhal be fro þe ſe vn to þe hous Ennon, þe terme of Damask, and fro þe norþ vn to þe norþ, þe terme, or eende, of Emath; forſoþe þe norþ plague, or cooſt.

xviii Forſoþe þe eest cooſt of þe mydil of Auran, and of þe mydil of Damask, and of þe mydil of Galaad, and of þe mydil of þe lond of Yrael, Jordan, departyng at þe eest ſee, ȝe þuln mete eest cooſt.

xix Soþely þe souþ cooſt of mydday, fro Thamar vn to þe waters of aȝein saiynge of Cades; and þe ſtreme of rayn vn to þe grete ſee, and þe souþ cooſt at mydday.

xx And þe cooſt of þe ſee is þe grete ſee, fro þe eende cooſt by þe ſtreiȝt, til þou cum to Emath; þis is þe cooſt of þe ſee.

xxi And ȝe þuln deparke þis lond to ȝou by lynagis of Yrael;

xxii and ȝe þuln fende it in to eritage to ȝou, and to cumlyngis þat camen to ȝou, þat gendreden ſonyſ in þe mydil of ȝou; and þei þuln be to ȝou as in dwellers amonȝe þe ſonyſ of Yrael; wiþ ȝou þei þuln deparke poſſeffioun, in mydil of þe lynages of Yrael.

xxiii Forſoþe in what euer lynage a cumlyng þhal be, þere ȝe þuln ȝeue poſſeffioun to hym, ſaiþ þe Lord God.

Capitulum XLVIII.

- i And þe names of lynages, fro þe eendis of þe norþ, byſidis þe waye of Methalon, to men goynge to Emath, þe hous of Ennon, terme of Damaske, fro þe norþ byſidis Emath; and þe eest cooſt þe ſee þhal be, to Dan oon.
- ii And fro þe terme of Dan, fro þe eest cooſt to þe cooſt of þe ſee, to Aſer oon.
- iii And vpon þe terme of Aſer, fro þe eest cooſt vn to þe cooſt of þe ſee, to Neptalym oon.
- iv And vpon þe terme of Neptalym, fro þe eest cooſt vn to þe cooſt of þe eest ſee, to Manasses oon.
- v And vpon þe terme of Manasses, fro þe eest cooſt vn to þe cooſt of þe ſee, to Effraym oon.
- vi And vpon þe terme of Effraym, fro þe eest cooſt vn to þe cooſt of þe ſee, to Ruben oon.
- vii And vpon þe terme of Ruben, fro þe eest cooſt vn to þe cooſt of þe ſee, to Juda oon.
- viii And vpon þe terme of Juda, fro þe eest plague, or cooſt, vn to þe cooſt of þe ſee, þuln be primiffis, whiche ȝe þuln deparke in fyue and twenti pouſandis ȝerdis of breede and lengþe, as eche partis, fro þe eest cooſt vnto þe cooſt of þe ſee; and þe sayntuarie þhal be in mydil þeroſ.
- ix Þe primiffis whiche ȝe þuln deparke to þe Lord, þe lengþe in fyue and twenti pouſandis, and þe breede in ten pouſandis.

x Soþeli þese shuln be þe primissis of þe sayntuarie of prestis; at þe norþ of lengþe fyue and twenti þousandis, and to þe see of breede ten þousandis; bot to þe eest of breed ten þousandis, and to þe soun of lengþe fyue and twenti þousandis; and þe sayntuarie of þe Lord shal be in mydil þerof.
 xi To prestis þe sayntuarie shal be, of þe sonys of Sadoch, whiche kepten my cerymonyes, and erriden not, whanne þe lones of Yrael erriden, as and þe dekenys erriden.
 xii And to hem shuln be primissis of primissis of þe lond, þe holy of holy þingus, bysidis þe terme of dekenes.
 xiii Bot and to dekenys also bysidis þe eendis of prestis, fyue and twenti þousandis of lengþe, and of breede ten þousandis; al þe lengþe of fyue and twenti þousandis, and þe breed of ten þousandis.
 xiv And þei shuln not felle þerof, neþer chaunge; neþer þe first fruytis of þe lond shuln be transferrid, or born ouer, for þei ben halewid to þe Lord.
 xv Forsoþe fyue þousandis, þat leuen ouer in breed, by fyue and twenti þousandis, shuln be vnholi places of þe citee, into dwellyng, and in to subarbis; and þe citee shal be in þe mydil þerof.
 xvi And þese þe mesuris þerof; at þe norþ cooſt, fyue hundred and foure þousandis, and at þe souþe plage, or cooſt, fyue hundred and foure þousandis, and at þe eest cooſt, fyue hundred and foure þousandis, and at þe west cooſt, fyue hundred and foure þousandis.
 xvii Forsoþe þe subarbis of þe citee shuln be at þe norþ two hundred and fifty, and to þe souþ two hundred and fifty, and at þe eest cooſt two hundred and fifty, and at þe see two hundred and fifty.
 xviii Forsoþe þat þat shal be laft, or ouer, in lengþe, after first fruytis of þe sayntuarie, ten þousandis in to þe eest, and ten þousandis in to þe west, shuln be as premissis of þe sayntuarie; and þe fruytis þerof shuln be in to looues to þese þat seruen to þe citee.
 xix Forsoþe men seruyng to þe citee shuln worche, of al þe lynages of Yrael.
 xx Alle þe premisses of fyue and twenti þousandis, by fyue and twenti þousandis in lware, shuln be departid in to premisses of þe sayntuarie, and possession of þe citee.
 xxi Forsoþe þat þat shal be left ouer, shal be of þe prince, on eche part of primissis of þe sayntuarie, and possellioun of þe citee, euen aȝeins fyue and twenti þousandis of primissis, vnto þe eest terme; bot and to þe see euen aȝeinus of fyue and twenti þousandis, vnto þe terme of þe see, also in partis of þe prince shal be; and premissis of þe sayntuarie shuln be, and þe sayntuarie of temple of þe cite, in mydil þerof.
 xxii Forsoþe of þe possellioun of dekenys, and of possellioun of þe citee, in mydil of partis of þe prince, shal be in to terme of Juda, and in to terme of Beniamyn, and shal pertene to þe prince.

xxiii And to þe toþer lynagis, fro þe eest cooſt vn to þe west cooſt, to Beniamyn oon.
 xxiv And aȝeinus þe terme of Beniamyn fro þe eest cooſt vn to þe west cooſt, to Symyon oon.
 xxv And vpon þe terme of Symyon, fro þe eest cooſt vn to þe west cooſt, to Ysacar oon.
 xxvi And vpon þe terme of Ysacar, fro þe eest cooſt vnto þe west cooſt, to Sabulon oon.
 xxvii And vpon þe terme of Sabulon, fro þe eest cooſt vnto þe cooſt of þe see, to Gad oon.
 xxviii And vpon þe terme of Gad, vn to þe cooſt of þe souþ in to mydday, or souþe; and þe eend shal be fro Thamar vn to þe waters of aȝein sayinge of Cades, and þe eritage aȝein þe grete see.
 xxix Þis is þe lond whiche ȝe shuln fende in to lot to þe lynagis of Yrael, and þese þe partyngis of hem, saþ þe Lord God.
 xxx And þese þe goyngus out of þe cytee; fro þe norþ cooſt þou shalt mesure fyue hundred and foure þousandis.
 xxxi And þe ȝatis of þe citee, in alle þe lynagis of Yrael, þree ȝatis fro þe norþ; þe ȝate of Ruben oon, þe ȝate of Juda oon, þe ȝate of Leuy oon.
 xxxii And at þe eest cooſt, fyue hundred and foure þousandis, and þree ȝatis; þe ȝate of Joseph oon, þe ȝate of Beniamyn oon, þe ȝate of Dan oon.
 xxxiii And at þe mydday cooſt, or souþe, fyue hundred and four þousandis þou shalt mete, þe ȝatis of hem þree; þe ȝate of Symyon oon, þe ȝate of Ysacar oon, þe ȝate of Zabulon oon.
 xxxiv And at þe west cooſt, fyue hundred and foure þousandis, þree ȝatis of hem; þe ȝate of Gad oon, þe ȝate of Afer oon, þe ȝate of Neptalm oon.
 xxxv By þe cumpas eiȝtene þousandis; and þe name of þe citee fro þat day, þe Lord þere. Amen.
Here endiþ þe book of Ezechiel, and bigynneþ þe book of Daniel

DANIEL.

Here begynneþ þe boke of Danyel, þe prophete.

Capitulum I.

i In þe þridde ȝeer of þe kyngdam of Joachym, kyng of Juda, Nabugodonosor, kyng of Babiloyne, came in to Jerusalem, and byseegide it.
 ii And þe Lord bitoke Joachym, kyng of Juda, in þe hond of hym, and he toke a part of vessels of þe hous of God; and bare hem out in to þe lond Sennaar, in to þe hous of his god, and toke þe vessels in to þe hous of tresour of his god.
 iii And þe kyng saiþ to Aphanet, prepost, or soureyne, of his geldingus, þat he shulde brynge yn of þe sonys of Yrael, and of þe kyngus bloode, and þe children of tyrauntis, or strong men, iiiii in whom was no wem, faire in fourme, and lernd in al wisdam, war in science, and tauȝt in disciplyne, and whiche miȝten stonde in paleys of þe kyng, þat he shulde teche hem lettris and langage of Caldeis.

 v And þe kyng ordeynde to hem fruyte of oo zeer bi alle days of his metis, and of þe wijne of whiche he dranke; þat þei nurishid out in þree zeers, afterward shulden stonde in siȝt of þe kyng.
 vi Perfore þere weren amone hem of þe sonyss of Juda, Danyel, Ananyas, Mysael, and Azarias.
 vii And þe prepost of geldyngus puttide to hem names; to Danyel, Balthasar; to Ananyas, Sydrac; to Mysael, Myfac; and to Azarias, Abdenago.
 viii Forsoþe Danyel purposide in his herte, þat he were not defoulid of þe borde of þe kyng, neþer of þe wyne of his drinke; and he preyede þe prepost of þe geldingis, þat he were not defoulid.
 ix Forsoþe God ȝaue grace and mercy to Danyel, in siȝte of þe prince of geldyngus.
 x And þe prince of geldingus faide to Danyel, I dreede my lord þe kyng, whiche ordeynede to ȝou mete and drinke; whiche ȝif he shal see ȝour cheeris lener byfore oþer ȝunge men, ȝour eueneldis, ȝe shuln condempne myn hede to þe kyng.
 xi And Danyel sayde to Malaffar, whom þe prince of geldyngus hadde ordeynyd vpon Danyel, Ananye, Mysael, and Azarie, xii I beseche, tempte, or affaie, vs þi seruauntis ten days, and be potage ȝouen to vs for to ete, and water for to drinke;
 xiii and byholde þou oure cheeris, and þe cheeris of children þat eten þe kyngus mete; and as þou shalt fee, so do þou to þi seruauntis.
 xiv Whiche, fiche manere wordis herd, temptide hem ten days.
 xv Forsoþe after ten days þe cheeris of hem apperiden betir and fuller of fleshe, byfore alle þe children þat eeten kyngus mete.
 xvi Soþeli Malaffar toke þe metis, and wijn þe drinke of hem, and ȝaue to hem potagis.
 xvii Forsoþe God ȝaue to þese children science and discipline in eche boke, and wildam; to Danyel soþely vndirstondyne of alle visiouns and sweuens.
 xviii And so þe days fulfillid, after whom þe kyng faide, þat þei shulden be brouȝt yn, þe prepost of geldyngus brouȝte hem yn, in þe siȝt of Nabugodonosor.
 xix And whan þe kyng spac to hem, þer ben not founden fiche of alle, as Danyel, Ananyas, Mysael, and Azarias; and þei stoden in siȝt of þe kyng.
 xx And eche word of wijldam and vndirstondyng, þat þe kyng axide of hem, he fonde in hem þe tenþe folde ouer alle dyuynours and witchis, þat weren in alle þe rewme of hym.
 xxi Forsoþe Danyel was vn to þe first zeer of kyng Cyrus.

Capitulum II.

i In þe secounde zeer of þe kyngdam of Nabugodonosor, Nabugodonosor sawȝ a sweuen; and his spirit was to gydre ferid, and his sweuen fleiȝ fro hym.
 ii Perfore þe kyng comaundide, þat dyuynours shulden be clepid to gydre, and witchis, and enchauntours, and Caldeis, þat þei shulden shewe to þe kyng his sweuens; whiche whenn þei camen, stoden bifore þe kyng.
 iii And þe kyng saide to hem, Y sawȝ a sweuen, and Y confusid, or astonyed, in mynde, wote not what I sawȝ.
 iv And Caldeis answerden to þe kyng by Siry speche, Kyng, lyue þou in to wiþ outer eende; faye þou þi sweuen to þi seruauntis, and we shuln shewe þe interpretacioun, or declaryng, þerof.
 v And þe kyng answarde, and saiþ to þe Caldeis, Þe word wente awey fro me; no bot ȝe shuln shewe to me þe sweuen, and þe coniecturyng, or menyng, þerof, ȝe shuln perishe, and ȝour houfis shuln be maad commoun, or forfeitid.
 vi Forsoþe ȝif ȝe shuln telle þe sweuen, and coniecture þerof, ȝe shuln resceyue of me meidis and ȝiftis, and myche honour; perfore shewe ȝe to me þe sweuen, and þe interpretacioun þerof.
 vii ȝei answerden þe secounde tyme, and saiden, Þe kyng faye þe sweuen to his seruauntis, and we shuln shewe þe interpretacioun þerof.
 viii ȝe kyng answarde, and saiþ, Certis I wote, for ȝe aȝein byen þe tyme, witynge þat þe word haþ gon awey fro me.
 ix Perfore ȝif ȝe shuln not shewe to me þe sweuen, oo sentence is of ȝou, þat ȝe han maad to gydre an interpretacioun, and fals, and ful of dyscseyt, þat ȝe speke to me til þe tyme passë; and so faye ȝe to me þe sweuen, þat Y wite, þat ȝe shuln speke to me and þe verre interpretacioun þerof.
 x Perfore þe Caldeis answeryng byfore þe kyng, saiden, Kyng, þer is no man vpon erþe, þat may fulfille þi word; bot neþer eny grete of kyngus and miȝti axiþ fiche manere word of eche dyuynour, and witche, and Caldey.
 xi Soþeli þe word whom þou, kyng, seekist, is greuous, neþer eny man shal be founden, þat shal shew it in siȝt of þe kyng, out taken goddis, whos lyuȝng is not wiþ men.
 xii Whiche þing herd, þe kyng, turned in to wodenesse and in grete wrab, comaundide, þat alle þe wijfe men of Babyloyne shulde perishe.
 xiii And þe sentence gon out, þe wijfe men weren flayn; and Danyel and his felawis weren sowȝt, þat þei shulden perishe.
 xiv ȝan Danyel enquyrider of þe lawe and sentence, of Arioch, prince of þe knyȝthode of þe kyng, whiche wente outh for to flea þe wijfe men of Babyloyne.

xv And he axide hym, þat hadde taken power of þe kyng, for what cause so cruel sentence wente out fro þe face of þe kyng. Perfore whann Arioche hadde shewide to Danyel, xvi Danyel gon yn preyede þe kyng, þat he shulde ȝeue hym tyme for to shewe þe vndoing to þe kyng.

xvii And he entride in to his hous, and shewide to Ananyas, Mysael, and Azarias, his felawis, þe neede, xviii þat þei shulden seeke mercye of þe face of God of heuen vpon þis sacrament; and Danyel and his felawis shulden not perishen wiþ oþer wijfe men of Babyloyn.

xix Panne þe misterie was shewid to Danyel by a visioun in niȝt. And Danyel bleffide God of heuen, xx and saiþ, Be þe name of God bleffid fro world, and til in to world, for wijfdom and strengþe is of hym;

xxi and loo! he chaungeþ tymes and ages, translatiþ rewmes and ordeyneþ; ȝeuþ wiþdom to wijfe men, and science to men vndirstondynge disciplyne;

xxii shewiþ depe þingus and hid, and knewe in derknessis þingus ordeyned, and liȝt is wiþ hym.

xxiii God of oure faders, to þee I knowleche, and Y herye þee, for þou haft ȝouen to me wijfdom and strengþe; and now þou haft shewide to me whiche þingus we preyden þee, for þou haft opnyde to vs þe word of þe kyng.

xxiv After þese þingis Danyel wente yn to Arioche, whom þe kyng hadde ordeyned, þat he shulde leefe þe wife men of Babiloyne, and þus spake to hym, Leefe þou not þe wijfe men of Babiloyne; leede yn me in þe siȝt of þe kyng, and I shal telle to þe kyng þe solucioun, or vndirstondynge.

xxv Panne Arioche haftyng ledde yn Danyel to þe kyng, and saide to hym, I haue founden a man of þe sonys of transmygracioun of Jude, þat shal telle to þe kyng þe solucioun.

xxvi þe kyng answarde, and saide to Danyel, to whom þe name was Balthasar, Geffist þou, wher þou maist verrely shewe to me þe sweuen þat I sawȝ, and þe interpretacioun þerof?

xxvii And Danyel answarde byfore þe kyng, and saiþ, þe mysterie whiche þe kyng axiþ, þe wise men, and þe witchis, and dyuynours bi auteris, and dyuynours by lokyng of sterriis, mown not shewe to þe kyng.

xxviii Bot þer is God in heuen, shewynge mysteries, whiche þingus ben to cum in þe last tymes. Bi fwenens and visions of þin hed, in þi couche, ben siche.

xxix þou, kyng, biganſt for to þinke in þi bed, what þing was to cummyng after þese þingus; and he þat shewiþ mysteries, shewide to þee what þingus ben to cummyng.

xxx And þis sacrament, or hid trewþe, is shewid, not in wiþdom þat is in me more þan in alle lyuyng men, bot þat þe interpretacioun be shewid to þe kyng, and þat þou shuldifte wite þe þouȝtis of þi soule.

xxxi þou, kyng, haft seen, and loo! as oo grete ymage; pilk ymage grete, and in stature hiȝ, stode aȝeinus þee, and þe biholding þerof was dredful.

xxxii þe hed of þis ymage was of best gold, forsoþe þe brest and armys of syluer; forsoþe þe wombe and þiȝes of braffe, xxxiii soþely þe leggis of yren; forsoþe of þe feet sum part of yren, sum of erþe.

xxxiv þou haft seen þus, til a stoon was kit of, wiþ outen hondis, of a mount, and smote þe ymage in his feet of yren and erþe, and made lesse, or brake, hem.

xxxv Panne þe yren, pott, or mater maad of erþe, braffe, syluer, and gold, ben broken to gidre, and dryuen as in to a qwenchid brond of somer feeld, whiche ben rauyfhid wiþ wynd, and no place is foundun in hem; forsoþe þe stoon þat smote þe ymage, is maad a grete mounteyn, and fulfillide al erþe.

xxxvi Pis is þe sweuen. And we shuln saye þe interpretacioun þerof byfore þe kyng.

xxxvii þou art kyng of kyngus, and God of heuen ȝau to þee kingdam, strengþe, and empire, or lordship, and glorie, xxxviii and alle þingus in whiche fones of men dwellen, and beestis of þe feeld; and he ȝau in þin hond þe foulis of heuen, and ordeynyde alle þingus vndir þi lordship; þerfor þou art þe golden hed.

xxxix And after þee an oþer rewme shal ryse to gydre, lesse þan þou; and þe þrid rewme, an oþer of braffe, whiche shal comaunde to al erþe.

xl And þe fourþe rewme shal be as yrunny; hou yrun brekip to gydre alle þingus, and dauntiþ, or tamiþ, so it shal menuſhe, and to gydre breke alle þese þingus.

xli Forsoþe þou haft seen of þe feete and fyngris erþi, or cleyi, part of a potter, and a part of yren, þe rewme shal be departid; whiche neuerþelesse shal spryne of þe plaunting of yren, after þat þou haft seen yren meynt of cleye and tyel, xlii and fyngris, or toon, of feet in partie of yren, in partie of erþe, þe rewme in party shal be sad, and in party debrufid.

xliii Sobeþy þat þou haft seen yren meynt to tyel of cley, forsoþe þei shuln be meynt to gidre by mans feed; bot þei shuln not cleue to hem self, as yren may not be meynt to tyel.

xliii Forsoþe in þe days of þo rewmes, God of heuen shal reyse a kyngdom, whiche shal not be distroyed in to wiþ outen eende, and his rewme shal not be taken to an oþer peple; it shal make lesse, and waste alle þese rewmes, and þe ylk shal stonde in to wiþ outen eende.

xlv Up þat þat þou sawȝ, þat a stoon is kit off wiþ outen hondis of an hill, and maad lesse, or brake, þe tyel, and yren, and bras, and syluer, and gold, þe grete God shewide to 'þe kyng, what þingus ben to cummyng afterward; and þe sweuen is trewe, and þe interpretacioun þerof feiþful.

xvi Pan kyng Nabuchodonosor felle in to his face, and wirshipe Danyel, and comaundide sacrifices and encense, þat it were offride to hym.

xvii Perfore þe kyng spekyng faþ to Danyel, Verreli your God is God of goddis, and Lord of kyngus, shewinge mysteries, for þou miȝtist opne þis sacrament.

xviii Pann þe kyng enhaunsde in to heeȝ Danyel, and ȝau to hym many ȝiftis and grete, and ordeynnde hym vpon alle prouyncis of Babiloyne prince and prefect, and maister vpon alle wijse men of Babiloyne.

xix Forsoþe Danyel axide of þe kyng, and ordeynnde vpon þe werkis of þe prouynce of Babiloyne, Sydrac, Mysac, and Abdenago; forsoþe Danyel hym self was in þe ȝatis of þe kyng.

Capitulum III.

i Nabugodonosor, kyng, made a goldyne ymage, in heiȝte of sixty cubitis, in breede of six cubitis; and sette it in þe feeld Duram, of þe prouynce of Babiloyne.

ii And so Nabugodonosor sente for to gedre fatrapis, or wijse men, magistratis, and iugis, and duykis, and tirauntis, or strong men, and prefectis, and alle þe princes of cuntrees, þat þei shulden cum to gydre to halewyng of þe ymage, whom þe kyng Nabugodonosor rayfide vp.

iii Pan fatrapes weren gedrid, magestratis, and iugis, and duykis, and tirauntis, and þe best men þat weren ordeyned in poweris, and alle princis of cuntrees, þat þei shulden cum to gydre to halewyng of þe ymage, whom þe kyng Nabugodonosor rayfide vp. Forsoþe þei stoden in siȝt of þe ymage, whence kyng Nabugodonosor hadde putt;

iv and a bedel criede miȝtily, To ȝou it is sayd, peplis, lynagis, and langagis;

v in þe hour in whence ȝe shuln heere þe lown of trumpe, and pipe, and harpe, sambuke, sautrie, and symfonie, and al kynde of musikis, ȝe fallynge wirshipe be golden ymage, whom Nabugodonosor, kyng, ordeynnde.

vi Soþeli ȝif eny man not fallynge doun shal wirship, in þe same hour he shal be sent in to a fourneyse of fijr brennyng.

vii Perfore after þese þingus, anoon as alle peplis harden þe lown of trumpe, pype, and harpe, sambuke, and sautrie, synphonie, and al kynde of musikis, fallynge alle peplis, lynagis, and langagis, wirshipiden þe golden ymage, whom Nabugodonosor, þe kyng, ordeynede.

viii And anoon in þat tyme men Caldeis cummyng to, accusiden Jewis, ix and faiden to Nabugodonosor, kyng, Kyng, in to wiþ outeren eende lyue þou.

x Pou, kyng, haft putte a decree, or dome, þat eche man þat shal heere þe lown of trumpe, pype, and harpe, sambuke, and sautre, and synfonye, and al kynde of musikis, putte doun hym self, and wirshipe þe golden ymage;

xi forsoþe ȝif eny man not fallynge doun shal wirshipe, be he fent in to fourneyse of brennyng fijr.

xii Perfore men Jewis ben, whom þou haft ordeynyd vpon werkis of þe cuntree of Babyloyn, Sydrac, Mysac, and Abdenago. Þese men, kyng, dispiliden þi decree; þei honouren not þi goddis, and þei worshipen not þe golden ymage, whom þou reyfidiſt.

xiii Panne Nabugodonosor in woodneſſe and in wraþ, comaundide, þat Sydrac, Mysac, and Abdenago shulden be ledde to; whence anoon ben ledde to in siȝt of þe kyng.

xiv And Nabugodonosor, þe kyng, pronounſyng faþ to hem, Verrely wher ȝe, Sydrac, Mysac, and Abdenago, honouren not my goddis, and wirshipe not þe golden ymage, whom Y reiſide?

xv Now þerfore be ȝe redy, in what euer hour ȝe shuln hear lown of trumpe, pype, harp, sambuke, sautrie, and synfonye, and of al manere of musikis, putte ȝe doun ȝou, and wirshipe þe ymage þat Y made; for ȝif ȝe shuln not wirship, in þe same hour ȝe shuln be sent in to þe fourneys of fijr brennyng; and who is God, þat shal delyuere ȝou of myn hond?

xvi Sydrac, Mysac, and Abdenago answeryng faiden to kyng Nabugodonosor, It byhoueþ not vs of þis þing for to answere to þee.

xvii Loo! soþely our God, whom we wirshipe, may delyuere vs of þe chymneye of brennyng fijre, and of þin hondis delyuere, þou kyng.

xviii For ȝif he wole not, be it knownen to þee, kyng, for we honoure not þi goddis, and we wirshipe not þe golden ymage, whom þou haft reyfide.

xix Panne Nabugodonosor was fulfillid wiþ wodeneſſe, and þe biholdynge of his face is chaungid vpon Sydrac, Mysac, and Abdenago. And he bad, þat þe fourneyse shulde be sette on fijre feuen fold, hatter þan it was wont for to be tendid.

xx And he badde þe strongist men of his oost, þat þe feet bounden of Sydrac, Mysac, and Abdenago, þei shulden fende hem in to þe fourneyse of brennyng fijre.

xi And anoon þe ilk men bounden, wiþ armes, and cappis, and shoon, and cloþis, weren fente in to mydil of þe fourneys of brennyng fijre;

xxii for whi þe comaundynge of þe kyng constreynde. Forsoþe þe fourneys was tendid ful miche; forsoþe flawme of þe fijre flewȝ þo men, þat fenten Sydrac, Mysac, and Abdenago in to þe fourneyse.

xxiii Forsoþe þese þree men, Sydrac, Mysac, and Abdenago, fallen doun bounden in mydil of þe chymney of brennyng fijre.

xxiv And þei walkiden in mydil of þe flawme, herynge God, and bleſſynge to þe Lord.

xxv Forsoþe Azarie stondynge preyede þus; and opnyng his mouȝ in mydil of þe fijre, faþ, xxvi Bleſſid art þou, Lord God of our fadris, and heryful, or worþi to be preyside, and þi name glorious in to worldis;

xxvii for þou art iuft in alle þingus whiche þou didist to vs, and alle þi werkis trewe, and þi wayes riȝt, and alle þi domes verrey.

xxviii Forſoþe þou haſt don verrey domes, after alle þingus þat þou leddiſt in vpon vs, and vpon þe holy citee of our fadris, Jeruſalem; for in trewþe and dome þou leddiſt yn alle þeſe þingus for oure synnes.

xxix Sopely we synnyden, and diden wickidly, goyng avey fro þee, and trespassiðen in alle þingus, xxx and herden not þin heestis, neþer kepten, neþer diden as þou comaundidist to vs, þat it were wele to vs.

xxxi Perfore alle þingus þat þou leddiſt yn vpon vs, and alle þingus þat þou didiſt to vs, xxxii in verre dome þou haſt don; and þou haſt bitaken vs in þe hondis of enmys, wickid and warſt trespassours, and to þe vniuſt kyng, and warſt ouer al erþe.

xxxiii And now we mown not opne þe mouþe; we ben maad confusioun and shenſhip to þi feruauntis, and to þeſe þat wirſhipen þee.

xxxiv We preyen, bitake not vs in to wiþ outen eende, for þi name, and diſtruye not þi teſtament, xxxv neþer do avey þi mercye fro vs, for Abram, þi derworþe, and Yfaac, þi feruaunt, and Yrael, or Jacob, þin holy;

xxxvi to whiche þou ſpake, bihetyng þat þou ſhuldiſt multiplie þe ſeede of hem as ſterriſ of heuen, and as grauel þat is in þe brynde of þe ſee.

xxxvii For, Lord, we ben maad litil, more þan alle heben men, and we ben meeke, or lowe, in eche lond pis day, for oure synnes.

xxxviii And þer is not in pis tyme prince, and duyke, and propheſe, neþer brent ſacrifice, neþer ſacrifice, neþer offring, neþer encenſe, xxxix ne place of primiſiſ byfor þee, þat we mown fynde þi mercye; bot in contriſe ſoule, or ynwitt, and in ſpirit of mekeneffe be we reſcveyyd.

xl As in breed ſacrifice of weþeris and boolis, and as in þouſandis of fat lambren, ſo oure ſacrifice be maad to day in þi ſiȝt, þat it pleſe to þee; for confusioun, or shame, is not to men triftinge in þee.

xli And now we ſuen þee in al herte, and dreden þee, and ſeeken þi face.

xlii Conſounde þou not vs, but do wiþ vs vp þi myldeneſſe, and vp þe mykilneſſe of þi mercy.

xliii And deliuere vs in þi merueylis, and ȝeue glorie to þi name, Lord;

xliii and conſounid be alle, þat ſhewen to þi feruauntis yuel þingis; be þei conſounid in al þi power, and þe ſtrengþe of hem be broken to gydre;

xlv and þei ſhuln wite, for þou art þe Lord God aloone, and glorious vpon þe roundeneſſe of erþes.

xlii And þei ceefiden not, þe ministris of þe kyng, þat ſente hem, for to tende þe fourneis wiþ napte, herdis of hemp, or flaxe, and pitche, and kittyngeſ of vynes.

xliii And þe flawme was held out ouer þe fourneys by nyne and fourti cubitis, xlviii and brake out, and brent whom of Caldeis it fonde byſidiſ þe fourneis.

xlii Forſoþe an aungel of þe Lord cam doun wiþ Azarie and his felawis, in to þe fourneys, and ſmote ouere þe flawme of fiȝre of þe fourneis;

i and maade þe mydil of þe fourneis as wynde of dewe blowinge; and þe fiȝre touchide not hem on al manere, neþer made forefull, neþer brouȝte yn eny þing of heuynneſſe.

ii Panne þeſe þree as of oo mouþe heryeden God, and glorifieden, and bleſſiden God in þe fourneys, ſayinge, iii Bleſſid art þou, Lord God of oure fadris, and worþi to be heryed, and glorious, and aboue enhaunſid in to worldis; and bleſſid þe name of þi glorie, þe whiche is holy, and worþi to be heried, and aboue reiſid in alle worldis.

iv Bleſſid art þou in þe holy temple of þi glorie, and þou aboue preiſeful, and glorious in to worldis.

v Bleſſid art þou in þe trone of þi rewme, and aboue preyſeful, and aboue reyſid in to worldis.

vi Bleſſid art þou, þat biholdiſt depneſſis, and ſittiſt vpon cherubyn, and preyſful, and aboue reyſid in to worldis.

vii Bleſſid art þou in þe firmament of heuen, and preyſful, and glorious in to worldis.

viii Bleſſe ȝe, alle þe werkis of þe Lord, 'to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue enhaunſe ȝe hym in to worldis.

ix Bleſſe ȝe, alle watris þat ben vp on heuens, to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.

x Alle vertues of þe Lord, bleſſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe him into worldis.

xii Sunne and moone, bleſſe ȝe to þe Lord; preiſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe him in to worldis.

xiii Sterriſ of heuene, bleſſe ȝe to þe Lord; preiſe ȝe, and aboue reiſe ȝe him in to worldis.

xiv Reyn and dew, bleſſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe him into worldis.

xv Ech ſpirit of God, bleſſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.

xvi Fiȝre and heete, bleſſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.

xvii Colde and fumer, bleſſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.

xviii Dewis and whijt froſt, bleſſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe him in to worldis.

xix Byndyneſſe froſt and colde, bleſſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.

lxx Yſs and snowes, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym into worldis.
 lxi Nyȝtis and days, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxii Liȝt and derkneſſes, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxiii Leitis and cloudis, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym into worldis.
 lxxiv Blesſe þe erþe þe Lord; preyſe it, and aboue reyſe hym in to worldis.
 lxxv Mounteyns and ſmale hillis, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxvi Alle buiownynge þingus in erþe, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxvii Wellis, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxviii Sees and floodes, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxix Whallis, and alle þingis þat ben moued in wattris, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxx Alle foulis of heuen, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxxi Alle beeſtis and etable, or litil, beeſtis, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxxii Sonys of men, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym into worldis.
 lxxxiii Blesſe Yrael þe Lord; preyſe it, and aboue reyſe him in to worldis.
 lxxxiv Preſtis of þe Lord, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxxv Seruauntis of þe Lord, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 lxxxvi Spiritis and foulis of iuft men, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym into worldis.
 lxxxvii Holi and meeke in herte, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym into worldis.
 lxxxviii Ananyas, Azarias, Mysael, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord; preyſe ȝe, and aboue reyſe ȝe hym in to worldis.
 Whiche delyuerede vs fro helle, and made ſaad fro þe hond of deþ, and delyuerede fro þe mydil of þe brennyngē flawme, and rauyſhde vs out of þe mydil of þe fyre.
 lxxxix Knowleche ȝe to þe Lord, for he is good; for in to þe world þe mercye of hym.
 xc Alle religious, blesſe ȝe to þe Lord, God of goddis; preyſe ȝe, and knowleche ȝe to hym, for in to alle worldis þe mercye of hym.
 xcii Panne kyng Nabugodonosor wondride myche, and roſe haſtiliche, and ſaiþ to his beſt men, Wher we ſenten not þree men bounden to gidre in to mydil of fyre? Whiche anſweringe to þe kyng laiden, Verrely, kyng.
 xcii Panne þe king anſwerde, and ſaiþ, Loo! I ſee foure men vnbounden, and walkyng in mydil of þe fyre, and no þing of corrupcioun is in hem; and þe fourme of þe fourþe lijc to þe fone of God.

 xciii Panne Nabugodonosor, kyng, came to þe dore of þe fourneys of brennyngē fyr, and ſaiþ, Sydrac, Myfac, and Abdenago, ſerauntis of heeȝ lyuyng God, go ȝe out, and cume ȝe. And anoon Sydrac, Myfac, and Abdenago, weneten out of þe mydil of fyr.
 xciv And satrapis gedrid, and mageſtratis, and domysmen, and miȝty men of þe kyng, biheelden þoo men, for fijre hadde no þing of power in þe bodys of hem, and an heer of hir hed was not brent to; alſo þe breechis of hem weren not chaungid, and þe fauer of fijr paſſide not by hem.
 xcvi And Nabugodonosor breſtinge out ſaiþ, Bleſſid 'is God of hem, þat is to faye, of Sydrac, Myfac, and Abdenago, whiche ſente his aungel, and delyuerde his ſerauntis þat byleuyden in to hym, and chaungiden þe word of þe kyng, and ȝauen her bodies, leſt bei ſeruyden, and leſt bei wirſhipiden euery god, outake her God aloone.
 xcvi Perfore of me þis decree, or dome, is putt, þat eche peple, and langagis, and lynagis, who euere ſhal ſpeke blaſfeme aȝeinuſ God of Sydrac, Myfac, and Abdenago, perifhe, and his hous be waſtid; forſoþe þer is non oþer God, þat may þus faue.
 xcvii Panne þe kyng auaunſide Sydrac, Myfac, and Abdenago, in þe prouynce of Babylayne; and in to eche lond he ſente a pifte, conteynynge þeſe woordis.

Capitulum III.

i Nabugodonosor, kyng, to alle peplis, folkis, and langagis, þat dwellen in al erþe, pees be multiplied to ȝou.
 ii Heeȝ God made at me ſignis and wondirful þingus; þerfore it pleſide to me for to preche þe ſygnys of hym, iii for þei ben greet, and his wondirful þingis, for þei ſtronge; and his rewme euerlaſtinge rewme, and his power in to generacioun and generacioun.
 iv I, Nabugodonosor, was quyete in myn hous, and flouringe in my paleys;
 v I ſawȝ a ſweuen, whiche feride me; and my þouȝtis in my bed, and ſiȝtis of myn hed, to gidre troubliden me.
 vi And by me a decree was putte forþ, þat alle wijſe men of Babylayne ſhulden be ledde yn in my ſiȝt, þat þei ſhulden ſhewe to me þe ſolucioun, or vndirſtondyng, of þe ſweuene.
 vii Panne entriden dyuynours by auters, wicches, Caldeis, and dyuynours by ſterris; and I teelde þe ſwenen in þe ſiȝt of hem, and þei ſhewiden not to me þe ſolucioun þerof, viii til a felowe of office entride in my ſiȝt, Danyel, to whom þe name Balthasar, after þe name of my god, whiche haþ þe ſpirit of holy goddis in hym ſelf; and I ſpac þe ſweuen biſore hym.

ix Balthasar, prince of dyuynours by autris, whom I wote, for þou hast in þee þe spirit of holy goddis, and eche sacrament is not impossible to þee, telle þou to me þe visions of my sweuens, and þe folucioun of hem.
 x Pe vifioun of myn hed in my couche. I sawȝ, and loo! a tree in þe mydil of erþe, and þe heiȝt þerof ful myche.
 xi And a greete tree and stronge, and þe nobley, or strecchinge out, þerof touchynge heuen, biholding þerof was vnto termes of al erþe.
 xii Pe leues þerof most faire, and þe fruyte þerof ful myche, and mete of alle þingus þeryn; vnder it beeftis dwelliden, and wijlde beeftis, and in bowis þerof briddis of heuen lyuyden, and eche fleshe eete of it.
 xiii þus I sawȝ in fiȝt of myn heued, vpon my bed. And loo! þe waker, and holy came doun from heuen, xiv and criede strongli, and þus saȝ, Kitte ȝe doun þe tree, and bifore kitte ȝe þe braunchis þerof, and smytle out þe leeues þerof, and scatere ȝe þe fruytis þerof; beeftis þat ben vndir it, flee þei, and briddis of þe braunchis þerof.
 xv Neþelefe suffre ȝe buriownyng of rootis þerof in þe erþe, and be it bounden to in boond of yren and brasun, in erbis þat ben wiȝ outforþ, and be it dyed in dewe of heuen, and wiȝ wijlde beeftis þe parte þerof in erbe of erþe.
 xvi þe herte þerof be chaungid fro mans, and þe herte of wijlde beeft be ȝouen to it, and feuen tymes be chaungid vpon hym.
 xvii As in sentence of wakers it is demyd, and þe word of saintus and axing, to lyuyng men knownen, for þe heeȝ shal be Lord in rewme of men; and he shal ȝeu it to whom euere he shal woln, and he shal ordeyne þe mekist man vpon it.
 xviii þis sweuen sawȝ Y Nabugodonosor, kyng. Perfore þou, Balthasar, hastily telle þe interpretacioun, for alle þe wijse men of my rewme mown not saye out to me þe folucioun; forsoþe þou maist, for þe spirit of þe holy goddis is in þee.
 xix Panne Danyel, to whom þe name Balthasar, bygan wiȝ yn hym self stilly for to þenke, as oon hour, and his þouȝtis to gydre trubliden hym. Forsoþe þe kyng answwerynge, saȝ, Balthasar, þe sweuen and interpretacioun of it truble not þee. Balthasar answerde and saide, My lord, þe sweuen be to hem þat haten þee, and þe interpretacioun þerof be to þin enmyes.
 xx þe tree whom þou hast seen heeȝ and stronge, whos heiȝt stretchiȝ vnto heuen, and þe biholdyng þerof vnto al erþe, xxi and his most faire braunchis, and fruyte þerof ful myche, and mete of alle þingus þeryn, vndir it dwellynge beeftis of þe feelde, and in braunchis þerof dwellynge briddis of heuen, xxii þou art, kyng; þat art magnyfied, and hast woxen stronge, and þi greetnesse wexide, and cam fully vnto heuen, and þi power in to termis of al erþe.

xxiii Forsoþe þat þe kyng sawȝ þe waker and hooly for to cum doun fro heuen, and for to saye, Kitte ȝe doun þe tree, and scatre ȝe it, neþelefe leue þe buriownyng of rootys þerof in erþe, and be he bounden in yren and brasun, and in erbis wiȝ out forþ, and dew of heuen be it spreyn to gydre, and wiȝ wylde beeftis be his mete, til feuen tymes be chaungid vpon hym; xxvii þis is þe interpretacioun of sentence of þe heeȝift, þat came fully vpon my lord kyng.
 xxv Pei shuln cast þee out fro men, and wiȝ beeftus and wijlde beeftis þi dwellyng shal be, and þou shalt ete hay as an oxe, bot and in dewe of heuen þou shalt be inshed, and feuen tymes shuln be chaungid vpon þee, til þou wite, þat þe heeȝ lordshipiȝ vpon rewme of men, and he ȝeuȝ it to whom euer he shal wiln.
 xxvi Forsoþe þat he comaundide, þat buriownyng of rootis þerof, þat is to saye, of þe tree, shulde be left, þi rewme shal dwelle to þee, after þat þou shalt knowe power for to be heuenly.
 xxvii Wherfore, kyng, my counseil plese to þee, and aȝeinby þou þi synnes wiȝ almes deedis, and þi wickidness wiȝ mercies of pore men; perauenture God shal forȝeue þi trespasses.
 xxviii Alle þese þingus camen on Nabugodonosor, kyng.
 xxix After þe eende of twelue monebis in þe halle of Babiloyne he walkide;
 xxx and þe kyng answerde and saȝ, Wher þis not Babyloyne, þe grete citee, whiche I beeldide in to þe hous of rewme, in miȝt of my strengþe, and in glorie of my fairnesse?
 xxxi Perfore whann ȝit þe word was in þe kyngus mouȝe, a voice felle fro heuen, To þee it is said, kyng Nabugodonosor, þi rewme passiȝ fro þee, xxxii and fro men þei shuln caste out þee, and wiȝ beeftis and wijlde beeftis þi dwellyng shal be; þou shalt ete hay as an oxe, and feuen tymes shuln be chaungid vpon þee, til þou wite, þat þe heeȝ lordshipiȝ in rewme of men, and he ȝeuȝ it to whom euer he shal woln.
 xxxiii In þe same houre þe word was fulfillid vp on Nabugodonosor, and of men he is cast out, and he ete hay as an oxe, and wiȝ dewe of heuen his body was enfourmed, or defoulid, til his heris wexiden in to lickenesse of eglis, and his naylis as naylis, or clees, of briddis.
 xxxiv Perfore after þe eend of days, Y, Nabugodonosor, reyaside myn eeȝen to heuen, and my wit is ȝolden to me; and I bleffide to þe heeȝift, and I heriede, and glorifiede þe lyuyng in to wiȝ outen eende; for his power euerlaftyng power, and þe rewme of hym in to generacioun and generacioun.
 xxxv And alle dwellers of erþe anentis him ben rettid in to nouȝt; forsoþe after his wille he shal do, as wele in vertues of heuen, as in dwellers of erþe, and þere is not, þat shal aȝein stonde his hond, and shal faye to hym, Whi didist þou þis?

xxxvi Pat tyme my wit tourned aȝein to me, and I came fully to þe honour of my kingdam, and fairnesse, and my figure, or shap, turnyde aȝein to me; and my best men and my magestratis aȝein souȝten me, and I am ordeyned in my kingdam, and my magnyfience, or greteneſſe, is addid to me.

xxxvii Now þerfore Y Nabugodonosor herie, and magnyfie þe kyng of heuen; for alle his werkis ben trewe, and his wayes domes; and he may make meke, or lowe, men goyng in pryd.

Capitulum V.

i Balthasar, kyng, made a grete fest to his best men a þousand, and eche man dranke after his age.

ii Forsoþe þe kyng now drunken comaundide, þat þe golden vessels and sylueren shulden be brouȝt forþ, whiche Nabugodonosor, his fadre, bare out of þe temple þat was in Jerusalem, iii þat þe kyng, and his best men, and wyues, and his concubynes, or secundarie wyues, shulden drynke.

iv Þei drunken wijne, and herieden her goddis of gold, and of syluer, and of brasse, and of yren, and of tree, and of stoon.

v In þe same houre þere apeeriden fyngrys, as of hond of a man, wrytyng aȝeins þe candilstike, in þe ouermer part of þe walle of þe kyngis halle; and þe kyng bihelde þe fyngrys of þe hond wrytyng.

vi Panne þe face of þe kyng was chaungid to gydre, and his þouȝtis al to-trubliden hym; and þe ioyntures of his reynys weren vnbouneden, and his knees weren hurtlid to gydre at hemself.

vii And so þe kyng cried strongly, þat þei shulden leede yn witches, or wijs men, Caldeis, and dyuynours by sterris. And þe kyng spekyng afer saiþ to þe wijs men of Babiloyne, Who euere shal reede þis wrytyng, and shal make þe interpretacioun þerof knownen to me, shal be clopid wiþ purprie, and shal haue a golden bee in þe nek, and shal be þe brid in my rewme.

viii Þann alle wijse men of þe kyng gon yn myȝten not reede þe scripture, neþer shewe to þe kyng interpretacioun þerof.

ix Wherof kyng Balthasar is trublid to gydre ynowȝ, and his cheere is chaungid, bot and his best men weren trublid to gydre.

x Forsoþe þe queen for þe þing þat bifelle to þe kyng, and best men of hym, wente to þe hous of feest; and for spekyng saiþ, Kyng, in to wiþ outen eende lyue þou.

xi þouȝtis trublen þee not, neþer þi face be chaungid.

xii A man is in þi rewme, þat haþ in hym þe spirit of holi goddis, and in þe days of þi fadir science and wiſdam ben founden in hym; for whi and kyng Nabugodonosor, þi fadre, ordeynyde hym prince of witchis, enchauntris, of Caldeis, and of dyuynours by sterris; þouȝeli, þou kyng, þi fadir, xii for þe more spirit, and more prudent, and vndirstondyng, and interpretacioun of sweuens, and shewyng of pruy þingus, and vndoing of bounden þingus ben founden in hym, þis is in Danyel, to whom þe kyng ȝauȝ name Balthasar. Now þerfore Danyel be clepid, and he shal telle þe interpretacioun.

xiii þerfore Danyel is brouȝt yn byfore þe kyng. To whom þe forsaid king saiþ, þou art Danyel of þe sonys of caytiffee of Jude, whom my fadre, kyng, ledde to fro Jude?

xiv Y herde of þee, for þou haſt in þee þe spirit of goddis, and science, and vndirstondyng, and wiſdam gretter ben founden in þee.

xv And now wijse men, witches, entreden in my liȝt, for to reede þis wrytyng, and for to shew to me þe interpretacioun þerof; and þei miȝten not saye out to me þe wit of þis word.

xvi Forsoþe I herde of þee, þat þou mayſt interprete derke þingis, and vnbynde bounden þingus; þerfore ȝif þou maist reede þe wrytyng, and shewe to me þe interpretacioun þerof, þou shalt be clopid wiþ purprie, and þou shalt haue a golden bee abouȝt þi nek, and þou shalt be þe bridde prince in my rewme.

xvii To whiche þingus Danyel answerynge saiþ byfore þe kyng, Bi ȝiftis be to þee, and ȝeue þou to an oþer þe ȝiftus of þin hous; forsoþe, kyng, I shal reede to þee þe wrytyng, and I shal shewe interpretacioun þerof to þee, þou kyng.

xviii þe heeȝift God ȝauȝ rewme, and magnyfience, glorie, and honour to Nabugodonosor, þi fadir.

xix And for þe magnificence whiche he ȝauȝ to hym alle peplis, lynagis, and tungis, trembliden and dredden hym; he flowȝ whom he wolde, and whom he wolde he smote, and whom he wolde he enhaunſide, and whom he wolde he meekeide.

xx Forsoþe whan his herte was reyſide vp, and his spirit stablid to pride, he was putt doun of þe feete of his rewme; and þe glorie of hym was taken away, xxi and he was cast out of lones of men; bot and þe herte of hym was putt wiþ beetis, and wiþ feeld assis his dwellynge was; and he eete hay as an oxe, and wiþ dewe of heuen his body was fourmed, or defouldid, til he knew þat þe heeȝift haþ power in þe rewme of men, and whom euere he shal wole, he shal reyſe on it.

xxii Forsoþe þou, Balthasar, his sone, mekedist not þin herte, whann þou wistis alle þese þingus;

xxiii bot aȝeinus þe Lord of heuen þou art reyſid vp, and þe vessels of his hous ben brouȝt to byfore þee, and þou, and þi best men, and þi wyues, and þi concubynes han drunken wijne in hem; and þou heriedist goddis of syluer, and of gold, and of brasse, and of yren, and of tree, and of stoon, whiche seen not, neþer heeren, neþer feelen; forsoþe þou glorifiedist not God, þat haþ þi wynd, or spirit, in his hond, and alle þi weies.

xxiv þerfore fro hym þe fyngre of an hond is fente, whiche wrote þis þing þat is writen.

xxv Forsoþe þis is þe wrytyng þat is ordeyned, Mane, Techel, Phares. xxvi And þis interpretacioun of þe word. Mane, God hab noumbride bi rewme, and fulfillid it;
xxvii Techel, it is hangid in a balaunce, and is founden hauyng leſſe;
xxviii Phares, þi kyngdam is departid, and is ȝouen to Medis and to Persis.
xxix Panne, þe kyng comaundynge, Danyel is cloþid wiþ purpore, and a gold bee is ȝouen aboue in his nek; and it is prechid of hym, þat he hadde power, he þe þrid in his rewme.
xxx Þe same niȝt Balthasar, kyng Caldey, is slayn; xxxi and Darius of Mede was succeſſour in þe rewme, hauyng two and fixti ȝeiris.

Capitulum VI.

i It pleſide to Darius, and he ordeynyd on þe rewme satraps an hundred and twenti, þat þei weren in al his rewme;
ii and on hem þree princis, of whom Danyel was oon; þat þe satraps shulden ȝelde resoun to hem, and þe kyng shulde not suffre eny difefe.
iii Perfore Danyel ouercame alle princis and satraps, for þe more spirit of God was in hym. Forsoþe þe kyng bouȝte for to ordeyne hym on al þe rewme.
iv Wherfore princes and satraps souȝten for to fynde occasioun to Danyel, of fyde of þe kyng; and þei miȝten fynde no caufe and suspicioun, for þat þat he was feiþful, and eche blame and suspicioun was not founden in hym.
v Perfore þilk men saiden, We shuln not fynde to þis Danyel eny occasioun, no bot perauenture in þe lawe of his God.
vi Panne princes and satraps falſli tyſiden, or counceyliden, to þe kyng, and þus spaken to hym, Darye, kyng, in to wiþ outen eende lyue þou.
vii Alle princes of þi rewme, and mageſtratis, and satrapis, ſenatours, and domysmen, maden a conceyle, þat decree, or dom, of þe emperor go out, and maundement, þat eche man þat shal axe eny axinge of eny god and man, vnto þritty days, no bot of þee, kyng, be ſent in to þe lake of lyouns.
viii And so now, kyng, conferme þou þe ſentence, and write þe decree, þat it be not chaungid whiche is ordeynyd of Medis and Persis, neþer be it leeful to eny man for to breke.
ix Forsoþe kyng Darius putte forþ þe decree, and ordeynyd.
x Whiche þing whanne Danyel had founden, þat is to ſaye, þe lawe ordeynyd, he wente in to his hous; and þe wyndowis opnyd in his ſoupyng place aȝeinuſ Jeruſalem, þree tymes in þe day he bowide his knees, and wirſhipide, and knawelichide byfore his God, as he was wonte for to do byfore.

xi Perfore þo men more byſily enquiryng founden Danyel preyng, and bifechynge his God.
xii And þei cummyng to ſpaken to þe kyng on þe maundement, Kyng, wher þou ordeynidist not, þat eche man whiche preyde eny of goddis and men, vnto þritty days, no bot þee, kyng, he ſhulde be ſent in to þe lake of lyouns? To whom þe kyng anſwerynge ſaiþ, Þe word is trewe, vp þe decree of Medis and Persis, whiche it is not leeful for to breeke.
xiii Panne þei anſwerynge ſaiden bifore þe kyng, Danyel, of þe fones of caytife of Judee, reckide not of þi lawe, and of þe maundement, whiche þou ordeynedist, bot þree tymes by day he preyeþ in his bifechynge.
xiv Whiche word whan þe kyng hadde herd, he was foreful ynewȝ, and for Danyel ſette þe herte, þat he ſhulde delyuere hym; and vnto goyng doun of þe funne he trauelide for to delyuere hym.
xv Forsoþe þo men vndirſtondynge þe kyng, ſaiden to hym, Wite þou, kyng, for þe lawe of Medis and Persis is, þat eche decree whiche þe kyng ordeyneþ, be not leeful for to be chaungid.
xvi Panne þe kyng comaundide, and þei ledden to Danyel, and ſenten hym into þe lake of lyouns. And þe kyng ſayde to Danyel, þi God, whom þou wirſhipidist euermore, he ſhal delyuere þee.
xvii And a ſtoon is brouȝt to, and is putt on þe mouȝe of þe lake, whiche þe kyng markide, or ſealide, on eche fyde wiþ his reng, and wiþ reng of his best men, left eny þing were don aȝeinuſ Danyel.
xviii And þe kyng wente away in to his hous, and ſlepte vnsoupid, and metis be not brouȝt to byfore hym; more ouer and ſleep wente away fro hym.
xix Panne þe kyng firſt in þe mornynge rysynge haſtily, wente to þe lake of lyouns;
xx and he neiȝinge to þe lake, wiþ a wepyng voice criede vn to Danyel, and ſpake to hym, Danyel, þe feruaunt of þe lyuyng God, geſſilt þou, wher þi God, to whom þou feruift euermore, miȝt not delyuere þee fro lyouns?
xi And Danyel anſwerynge to þe kyng ſaiþ, Kyng, in to wiþ outen eende lyue þou.
xii My God ſente his aungel, and cloſide to gydre þe mouȝes of lyouns, and þei anoyeden not me, for byfore hym riȝtwysnesſe is founden in me; bot and byfore þee, kyng, Y did no trespass.
xiii Panne þe kyng gretely ioyede vpon hym, and comaundide Danyel for to be led out of þe lake. And Danyel was led out of þe lake, and noon hirting is founden in hym, for he bileuyde to his God.
xviii Forsoþe þe kyng comaundynge, þei þat accuſiden Danyel ben brouȝt forþ, and in to þe lake of lyouns ben ſent, þei, and þe ſonnis of hem, and þe wyues of hem; and þei camen not fully vn to þe pament of þe lake, tyl þe lyouns rauyſhiden hem, and braken to gydre alle her bonys.

xxv þan Darius, kyng, wrote to alle peplis, lynagis, and langagis, dwellynge in al erþe, Pees be multiplied to ȝou.

xxvi Perfore a decre is ordeynide of me, þat in alle þe empire and my rewme ȝei tremble, and drede þe God of Danyel; forsoþe he is lyuyng God, and euerlastringe into worldis, and his rewme shal not be distroyed, and þe power of hym vnto wiþ outen eende.

xxvii He is delyuerer and fauer, doyng signe and merueilis in heuen and in erþe, whiche delyuerde Danyel fro þe lake of lyouns.

xxviii Forsoþe Danyel duryde vnto þe kyngdam of Darius, and to þe kyngdam of Cyrus of Persis.

Capitulum VII.

i In þe first ȝeer of Balthasar, kyng of Babyloyn, Danyel sawȝ a sween. Forsoþe þe visioun of his hed in his couche, and sween, he wrytynge comprehendide in short word; and in sum, or litil wordis, ii touchynge saij, Y sawȝ in my visioun by niȝt, and loo! foure wyndis of heuen fouȝten in þe mydil see.

iii And foure greet beeftis stieden vp of þe se, dyuerse bytwixe hem self.

iv þe first as a lyonesse, and hadde weengis of an egle. Y byheelde til hir weengis weren drawen of, and she is taken vp of þe erþe, and she stode on þe feet as a man, and þe herte of it is ȝouen to it.

v And loo! an oþer beeft, lijc to a bere in party, stode, and þree ordris weren in mouȝ þerof, and in teef þerof þree princis. And þus ȝei saiden to it, Ryse þou, ete ful manye fleshis.

vi After þese þingus Y byheelde, and loo! an oþer as a pard, and hadde vp on it foure weengis of a bridd on it, and foure hedis weren in þe beeft, and power is ȝouen to it.

vii After þese þingus Y byheelde in a visioun of niȝt, and loo! þe fourþe beeft, dredful, and wonderful, and ful stronge. It hadde greet yren teef, etynge and brekyng to gydre, and defoulyng oþer þingus wiþ his feet; forsoþe it was vnlijc to oþer beeftis, whiche Y sawȝ byfore it, and it hadde ten hornys.

viii Y biheelde þe hornys, and loo! an oþer litil horn is sprungen vp of þe mydil of hem, and þree of þe first horns ben drawen out fro þe face þerof; and loo! eeȝen as eeȝen of a man weren in þis horn, and a mouȝ spekyng greet þingus.

ix Y byhelde, til trones weren sette, and þe olde of days fat; his cloþinge white as snowe, and þe heris of his hed as cleen wolle, his trone of flawme of fijr, þe whelis of hym fijr tendid.

x A flode of fijr and fast rennyng wente out fro his face, a þousand of þousandis mynistriden to hym, and ten þousand sibis an hundred þousand stoden niȝ to hym; þe dom fate, and bokis ben opnyd.

xi Y byheelde for þe voice of grete wordis, whiche þe ylk horn spake; and I sawȝ, for þe beeft was flayn, and þe body þerof peryshide, and was bytaken for to be brent in fijr.

xii And þe power of oþer beeftus was taken awey, and tymes of lijf ben ordeynyd to hem, vn to tyme and tyme.

xiii Perfore Y byhelde in visioun of niȝt, and loo! wiþ cloudis of heuen as þe fone of man came; and vnto þe olde of days he came fully, and in his siȝt ȝei offreden hym.

xiv And he ȝaued to hym power, and honour, and rewme, and eche peple, lynagis, and tungis shuln serue to hym; þe power of hym euerlastringe power, whiche shal not be don awey, and þe rewme of hym, whiche shal not be corrupte, or distroyed.

xv My spirit hidoufide; Y, Danyel, was ferd in þese, and þe visiouns of my heed to gidre trublidien me.

xvi Y came to oon of þe niȝ stondynge, and Y axide of hym trewþe of alle þese þingus. Whiche faide to me interpretacioun of wordis, and tauȝte me.

xvii Pele foure greet beeftis ben foure rewmes, þat shuln ryfe to gydre of þe erþe.

xviii Forsoþe ȝei shuln resceyue þe rewme of God heeȝist holy, and ȝei shuln holde þe rewme, til into þe world, and in to world of worldis.

xix After þese þingus Y wolde diligently lerne of þe fourþe beeft, þat was gretely vnlijc fro alle, and dredful ful myche, þe teef and naylis þerof of yren; it eete, and brake to gydre, and defoulide þe toþir þingus wiþ his feet.

xx And of ten hornes whiche it hadde in þe hed, and of þe toþir þat was sprungen vp, bifore whiche þree hornes fallen doun, and of þat horne þat hadde eeȝen, and mouȝ spekinge grete þingis, and was more þan oþer; xi Y byheelde, and loo! þe ylk horn made bataile aȝein saintis, and hadde power ouer hem, xxii til þe olde of dais came, and ȝaued dome to saintis hiȝe; and loo! tyme came, and saintis weldiden rewme.

xxiii And þus he saij, þe fourþe beeft shal be þe fourþe rewme in erþe, þat shal be more þan alle rewmes, and shal deuouren al erþe, and shal defoule, and to gydre breke it.

xxiv Forsoþe ten horns of þat kyngdam shuln be ten kyngus; and an oþer shal rysse after hem, and he shal be miȝtier þan þe former, and shal meeke þree kyngus.

xxv And he shal speke wordis aȝeinus þe heeȝist, and he shal breke to gidre þe saintis of þe heeȝist; and he shal wene, þat he may chaunge tymes and lawis; and it shal be ȝouen in to þe hondis of hym, vn to tyme, and tymes, and þe half of tyme.

xxvi And dom shal sitte, þat power be taken awey, and be broken to gydre, and perishe til into þe eende.

xxvii þe rewme forsoþe, and power, and þe gretenesse of rewme, whiche is vndre al heuen, be ȝouen to þe peple of halewis of þe heeȝist, whose rewme is euerlaſtinge rewme, and alle folkis shuln serue to hym, and obeye.

xxviii Til hidre þe eende of þe word. Y, Danyel, in my þouȝtis was miche trublid, and my face is chaungid in me; forþoþe Y kepte to gidre þe word in my hert.

Capitulum VIII.

- i In þe þrid ȝeer of rewme of Balthasar, kyng, a vyſioun apeeride to me. Y, Danyel, after þat þing whiche Y hadde seen in þe bygynnyng, ii fawȝ in my viſioun, whan I was in þe castel Sufis, whiche is in þe cuntry of Helam; forþoþe I fawȝ in viſioun me for to be vpon þe ȝate Vlai.
iii And Y rayſide myn eeȝen, and fawȝ; and loo! oo weþer stode byfore þe mareis, hauyng heeȝ horns, and oon heeȝer þan an oþer, and vndrewexinge.
iv Afterward Y sawe þe weþer wiþ hornys wyndowynge, or caſtynge doun, aȝeinus þe eest, and aȝeinus þe west, and aȝeinus þe norþ, and aȝeinus þe souþ; and alle beestis miȝten not aȝein stonde it, neþer be delyuerd fro þe hondis þerof. And he dide vp his wille, and is magnyfied.
v And I vndirstode. Lo! forþoþe a buk of geet came fro þe west vpon þe face of al erþe, and touchide not þe erþe; forþoþe þe buk hadde a noble horn bitwixe his eeȝen;
vi and came vnto þe ylk weþer horned, whiche Y fawȝ stondynge byfore þe ȝate, and he ran to hym in bir of his strengþe.
vii And whenn he neȝede niȝ þe weþer, he dide crueli in to hym, and he smote þe weþer, and he brake to gidre two hornys of hym, and þe weþer miȝte not wiþftonde hym. And when he fente hym in to þe erþe, he defoulide hym; and no man miȝte delyuere þe weþer of his hond.
viii Forþoþe þe buk of geet is maad grete ful miche; and whan he hadde waxen, þe grete horn is brosten, and fourie horns ben brouȝt forþ vndir it, bi fourie wyndis of heuen.
ix Eftsoone forþoþe of hem oo litil horne wente out, and it is maad grete aȝeinus þe souþ, and aȝeinus þe eest, and aȝeinus strengþe.
x And it is magnyfied vnto þe strengþe of heuen, and caſtide doun of strengþe and of sterriſ, and defoulide hem.
xi And vnto þe prince of strengþe he is magnyfied, and fro hym he toke þe contynuel sacrifice, and caſtide doun þe place of halewyng of hym.
xii Forþoþe strengþe is ȝouen to hym aȝeinus þe contynuel sacrifice for synnes, and trewþe þal be caſt doun in erþe; and he shal haue prosperite, and þal do.
xiii And Y herde oon of þe saintus spekyng; and oo faynt saide to an oþer, Y noote to whom spekyng, Hou longe deuyſioun, and þe contynuel sacrifice, and synne

- of defolacioun, or discoumfort, þat is maad, and fayntuarie, and strengþe þal be defoulid?
xiv And he faide to hym, Vnto euening and morewynge, days two þousand and þree hundred; and þe fayntuarie þal be clenſid.
xv Forþoþe it is don, when Y, Danyel, fawe þe viſioun, and souȝte vndirstondynge, loo! þere stode in my ſiȝt as þe fourme of man.
xvi And Y herde a voice of þe man bytwixe Vlai, and he criede, and saȝ, Gabriel, make þou þis for to vndirstonde þe viſioun.
xvii And he came, and stode byſidis wher Y stode; and when he came, Y dreedyng felle doun in to my face. And he saȝ to me, Vndirstonde þou, fone of man, for in þe tyme of eende diuifioun þal be fulfillid.
xviii And when he ſpac to me, Y flode to gydre doun riȝt in to þe erþe. And he touchide me, and ſette me in my degree.
xix And he faide to me, Y þal shewe to þee what þingis ben to cummyng in þe laſt of curſidneſſe, for tyme haþ his eende.
xx Pe weþer, or ram, whom þou haſt ſeen for to haue hornys, is þe kyng of Medis and Perſis.
xxi Forþoþe þe geet buk is þe king of Grekiſ; and þe grete horn þat was bitwix his eeȝen, is þe firſt kyng.
xxii Forþoþe þat, it broken, fourie han ryſen for it, fourie kyngus shuln to gydre ryſe of þat folc, bot not in þe strengþe of hym.
xxiii And after þe rewme of hem, whenn wickidneſſes shuln wexe, þere þal ryſe a king vnſhamfast in face, and vndirstondynge propoficiouns, or refouſons; xxiv and his strengþe þal be maad miȝty, bot not in his own strengþis. And ouer þat it may be byleued he þal waste alle þingus, and þal haue prosperite, and þal do. And he þal fle aſtronge men, and þe peple of sayntus, xxv after his wille, and gyle þal be dressid in his hond. And he þal magnyfie his hert, and in plente of alle þingus he þal fle ful manye. And he þal ryſe to gydre aȝeins þe prince of princis, and wiþ outen hond he þal be broken to gydre.
xxvi And þe viſioun, þat is ſaid in euening and morewynge, is trewe. Þerefore ſeale þou, or marke, þe viſioun, for after manye days it þal be.
xxvii And Y, Danyel, languyſhide, and was ſeeke by ful manye days; and when Y roos, Y dide þe werkis of þe kyng; and I wondride at þe viſioun, and þer was not whiche ſhulde interprete, or expoun.

Capitulum IX.

- i In þe firſt ȝeer of Darius, fone of Affuerus, of þe feed of Meidis, whiche comaundide vpon þe rewme of Caldeis, ii in oo ȝeer of his rewme, Y, Danyel, vndirstode ‘in bokis þe noumbre of ȝeiris, of whiche þe word of þe

Lord is maad to Jeremye, þe prophete, þat feuenty ȝeeriſ of desolacioun of Jerufalem ſhulden be fulfillid.
iii And Y putte my face to þe Lord my God, for to preye and byſeche in faſtyngis, fac, and aſhe.
iii And Y preyede þe Lord my God, and I knawlechide, and fayde, Y bifeche, þou Lord God, grete and dredful, kepynge couenaunt and mercy to men louyng þee, and kepynge þi maundementis.
v We han fynned, we han don wickidneſſe, vnpytoufly we diden, and wenten awey, and bowiden awey fro þi maundementis and domys.
vi We obeyeden not to þi feruauntis, prophetis, þat ſpaken in þi name to our kyngis, oure princis, oure fadris, and to al peple of þe lond.
vii Lord, to þee riȝtwisneſſe, forſoþe to vs confusioun of face, as is to day to man of Juda, and dwellers of Jerufalem, and to al Yrael, to þeſe þat ben niȝ, and to þeſe þat ben fer in alle londis, to whom þou caſtidifſt hem out for þe wickidneſſis of hem, in whiche þei ſynnyden in þee, Lord.
viii To vs confusioun of face, to oure kyngis, oure princis, and to oure fadris, þat fynneden;
ix forſoþe to þee, Lord oure God, mercye and helpe.
For we wenten awey fro þee, x and herden not þe voice of þe Lord oure God, þat we ſhulde walke in his lawe, whiche he puttide to vs by his feruauntis, prophetis.
xi And al Yrael braken þi lawe, and bowiden awey, þat bei herden not þi voice; and curſe droppide on vs, and wlatyngneſſe, þat is writen in þe boke of Moyses, feruaunt of God, for we han fynned to hym.
xii And he ordeynyd his wordis, whiche he ſpac vpon vs, and vpon oure princis, þat demyden vs, þat þei ſhulden aboue lede yn in to vs grete yuel, what maner was neuer vndir al heuen, vp þat it is don in Jerufalem, xiii as it is writen in þe lawe of Moyses. Al þis yuel came vpon vs, and we preyeden not þi face, Lord oure God, þat we ſhulden turne aȝein fro oure wickidneſſis, and ſhulden þinke þi trewþe.
xiv And þe Lord wakide on his malice, and brouȝt it vpon vs; iuft þe Lord oure God in alle his werkis whiche he dide, forſoþe we herden not þe voice of
hym.
xv And now, Lord oure God, þat leddist out þi peple of þe lond of Egypt in strong hond, and madist to þee a name vp bis day, we han fynned, we diden wickidneſſe, xvi Lord, in to al þi riȝtwisneſſe. Y bifeche, be þi wrap turned awey and þi woodneſſe fro þi citee Jerufalem, and fro þin holy hill; forſoþe for oure synnes, and wickidneſſis of oure fadris, Jerufalem and al þi peple ben in ſhenshipe, to alle men bi oure cumpas.
xvii Now forſoþe, oure God, heere þe orifoun of þi feruaunt, and preyeres of hym, and ſhewe þi face on þi ſayntuarye, þat is deſert. For þi ſelf þou, xviii my God, bowe þin eere, and heere; opyn þin eeȝen, and fee oure desolacioun, and þe cite, on whom þi name is yn clepid. Forſoþe neþer in oure iuſtifyngus we caſten forþ preeyeres byfore þi face, bot in þi manye doyngus of mercy.

xix Heer þou, Lord; be þou plesid, Lord, perceyue, and do; dwelle þou, or tarye, not, for þi ſelf, Lord my God, for þi name is in clepid vpon þe cytee, and vpon þi peple.
xx And whan ȝit I ſpac, and preyede, and knowlachide my synnes, and synnys of my peple Yrael, þat Y ſhedde out preyers in ſiȝt of my God, for þe holy hill of my God,
xxi ȝit me ſpekyng in my preyer, loo! þe man Gabriel, whom I ſawȝ in viſiou fro þe bygynnynge, ſoone fleezinge touchide me in tyme of euen ſacrifice; xxii and tauȝt me, and ſpac to me, and ſaide, Danyel, now Y am gon out, þat Y ſhulde teche þee, and þou ſhuldiſte vndirſtonde.
xxiii Fro þe bygynnynge of þi preyers a word paſſide out.
Forſoþe Y came for to ſhewe to þee, for þou art a man of defiſirs; forſoþe perceyue þou þe word, and vndirſtonde þe viſiou.
xxiv Seuenty weekis ben abreggid on þi peple, and vpon þin holi citee, and trefpaſſyng ſhal ben eendid, and synne ſhal take eend, and wickidneſſe ſhal be don awey, and riȝtwisneſſe euerlaſtyngе ſhal be led to, and þe viſiou ſhal be fulfillid, and proprie, and þe holy of halewiſ ſhal be aноyntid.
xxv Perfore wite þou, and perceyue; fro bygynnynge of þe word, þat Jerufalem eftſone be beeldid, til to Crift, duyk, ſeuen weekis and two and ſixti weekis ſhuln be;
and eftſoone þe ſtrete ſhal be beeldid, and wallis, in angylhe, or ſtreytneſſe, of tymes.
xxvi And after two and ſixti weekis Crift ſhal be flayn.
And it ſhal not be þe peple of hym, þat is to denyngie hym. And þe peple ſhal diſtruye þe citee and ſayntuarie, wiþ þe duyke to commynge; and þe eende of hym waſtyng, and after þe eende of bataile ordeynd desolacioun.
xxvii Forſoþe he ſhal conferme þe couenaunt wiþ manye oo weeke, and in þe half of a weeke ooft and ſacrifice ſhal fayle; and in þe temple abomynacioun of desolacioun ſhal be, and vnto þe eendynge and eende þe desolacioun ſhal laſt.

Capitulum X.

i In þe þrid ȝeer of rewme of Cyrus, kyng of Persis, a word is toke aȝein to Danyel, by name Balthasar; and þe word trewe, and grete ſtrengþe, and he vndirſtode þe word; forſoþe vndirſtondyng is neede in viſiou.
ii In þo days Y, Danyel, weilide in days of þree wekis;
iii Y eete not deſireful breede, and fleſhe and wyne entrider not in to my mouþ, bot neþer wiþ oynement Y was aноyntid, til days of þree weekis weren fulfillid.

iiiii Forsoþe in þe fourþe and twentiþe day of þe first moneþ, Y was bysydis þe grete flode, þat is Tigris.
 v And I reysside myn eeȝen, and sawȝ, and loo! oo man cloþid in lynnен, and his reyns gird to wiþ shynynge gold;
 vi and his body as crisolitus, and his face as fourme of leyt, and his eeȝen as a laumpe brennynge, and his armys and whiche þing is downward vn to þe feet as fourme of braſſe waxinge whyte, and þe voice of his wordis as voice of multitude.
 vii Forsoþe Y, Danyel, aloone fawe þe visioun; soþely þe men þat weren wiþ me, fawen not, bot ful myche dreed felle vp on hem, and þei fledden in to an hid place.
 viii Forsoþe Y left aloone fawe þis greet visioun, and strengþe abode not in me; bot and my fourme is chaungid in me, and Y was drye, or welewid, neþer hadde eny þing of strengþis.
 ix And Y herde þe voice of his wordis, and Y heerynge laye caſtidoun, or ferd, vpon my face, and my cheer cleuyde to þe erþe.
 x And loo! an hond touchide me, and reysside me on my knees, and vpon þe fyngrys of myn hondis.
 xi And he fayde to me, Danyel, man of desiris, vndirſtonde þe wordis whiche Y speke to þee, and ſtonde þou in þi degree; now forsoþe Y am fente to þee. And whenn he faide to me þis word, Y ſtode tremblynge.
 xii And he faip to me, Danyel, nyl þou dreede, for of þe firſt day in whiche þou puttidist þin herte for to vndirſtonde, þat þou ſhuldifſ tourmente þee in ſiȝt of þi God, þin wordis ben herde, and Y came for þi wordis. xiii Forsoþe þe prince of þe kingdām of Persis aȝein ſtode me oon and twenti days, and loo! Mychael, oon of þe firſt princis, came in to myn help, and Y abode þere byſidis þe kyng of Persis.
 xiv Forsoþe Y came for to teche þee, what þingis ben to cummyng to þi peple in þe laſt days; for ſiȝt þe visioun is deferrid, or drawen alonge, in to days.
 xv And whann he ſpac to me ſiche maner wordis, Y keſte doun my cheer to þe erþe, and was ſtille.
 xvi And lo! as þe licneſſe of þe lone of man touchide my lippis; and Y opnyng my mouȝ ſpac, and faide to hym þat ſtode byfore me, My Lord, in þi visioun my ioyntouris ben vnbounden, and no þing of strengþis aboden in me.
 xvii And how may þe feruaunt of my Lord ſpeke wiþ my Lord? no þing of strengþis aboode in me, bot and my breþe is cloſid bitwixe, or ſtoppide.
 xviii Perfore eftſoone as þe ſiȝt of man touchide me, and coumfortide me, and faide, xix Nyl þou dreede, þou man of defyrs; pees to þee, be þou coumfortid, and be þou strong. And whann he ſpac wiþ me, Y waxe stronge, and faide, Speke þou, my Lord, for and þou haſt coumfortide me.

xx And he faip, Wher þou waſt, whi Y came to þee?
 And now Y ſhal turne aȝein, for to fiȝt aȝeinus þe prince of Persis. Forsoþe whann Y wente out, þe prince of Greekis apeerde cummyng.

xxi Neþeleſe Y ſhal telle to þee, what þing is expreſſid in þe wrytyng of trewþe; and no man is myn helper in alle þese þingis, no bot Miȝhel, ȝour prince.

Capitulum XI.

i Forsoþe fro þe firſt ȝeer of Darius of Mede Y ſtode, þat he ſhulde be coumfortid, and ſtrengþid.
 ii And now Y ſhal telle to þee trewþe. And loo! þree kyngus ſhuln ſtonde in Persis, and þe fourþe ſhal be maad riche wiþ ful manye richessis ouer alle men. And whanne he ſhal be ſtronge in his richessis, he ſhal ſtire to gydry alle men aȝeinus þe rewme of Grece.
 iii Forsoþe a ſtronge kyng ſhal rijſe, and ſhal lordſhiſe wiþ myche power, and þat, þat ſhal pleſe to hym, ſhal do.
 iv And whanne he ſhal ſtonde, his rewme ſhal be broken, and ſhal be departid in to foure wyndis of heuen, bot not in to his folewers of bloode, neþer after his power, in whiche he lordſhipide; þe rewme of hym ſhal be departid, and in to alyens, out taken þese.
 v And þe kyng of ſouȝ ſhal be coumfortide; and of þe princis of hym þer ſhal be ſtronge ouer hym, and ſhal be lord in lordſhip; forſoþe his lordſhipyng myche. vi And after þe eende of ȝeiris þei ſhuln be knyt in pees; and þe douȝter of kyng of ſouȝ ſhal come to þe kyng of þe norþ, for to make frenſhip. And ſhe ſhal not haue ſtrengþe of arm, neþer hir ſeed ſhal ſtonde; and ſhe ſhal be bitaken, and hir ȝunge men þat ledden hir to, and þei þat coumfortiden hir in tymes.
 vii And a plauntyng ſhal ſtonde of þe buriownyng of hir rootis; and he ſhal cum wiþ an ooft, and ſhal entre þe prouynce of þe kyng of þe norþ, and he ſhal myfuse
 hem,
 viii and ſhal weelde þe goddis of hem, and grauen þingus. And he ſhal lede þe precious vefſels of gold and ſyluer caitif, or taken in bataile, in to Egipt. He ſhal haue victorie aȝeinus þe kyng of þe norþ; ix and þe kyng of þe ſouȝ ſhal entre in to þe kyngdam, and ſhal turne aȝein `in to his lond.
 x Forſoþe þe ſonyſ of hym ſhuln be ſtirid to wrap, and þei ſhuln gadre þe multitude of ful manye ooftis. And he ſhal cum hiȝinge and flowynge, and he ſhal turne aȝein, and ſhal be ſtirid, and go to gydry wiþ ſtrengþe of hym.
 xi And þe kyng of þe ſouȝ terrid to wrap, ſhal go out, and fiȝte aȝeinus þe kyng of þe norþ, and ſhal make redy a ful grete multitude; and multitude ſhal be ȝouen in þe hond of hym.
 xii And he ſhal take multitude, and þe horn of hym ſhal be enhaunſid; and he ſhal caſt doun many þousandis, bot he ſhal not haue victorie.

xiii Be kyng of þe norþ shal be conuertid, and shal make redy a multitude, miche more þan byfore; and in þe eende of tymes and ȝeiris he shal cum hiȝinge wiþ þe most oost, and ful many richeffis.

xiv And in þo tymes many shuln ryse to gydre aȝeinus þe kyng of souþ; and sones of trespassours of þi peple shuln be enhaunsid, þat þei fulfille þe vifioun, and shuln falle to gydre.

xv And þe kyng of þe norþ shal cum, and shal bere to gydre hepis of erþe, and shal take strengist cytees; and þe armys of þe souþ shuln not sussteyne. And þe chosen of hym shuln ryse to gydre, for to wiþtonde, and strengþe shal not be.

xvi And he cummynge 'vp on hym, shal do vp his likyng; and þer shal not be, whiche shal stonde aȝeinus his face. And he shal stonde in þe noble lond, and it shal be waatid in hond of hym.

xvii And he shal putte his face, þat he cum for to holde al þe rewme of hym, and he shal do riȝt þingus wiþ hym. And he shal ȝeue to hym þe douȝtre of wymmen, þat shal turne hym vpsadoun; and it shal not stonde, neþer shal be his.

xviii And he shal turne his face to ylis, and shal take manye. And he shal make prince for to cese, and þe frendship of hym shal be turned in to hym.

xix And he shal turne his face to þe empire of his lond, and he shal hurtle, and shal falle, and shal not be founden.

xx And þe foulist and vnworþi to kyngis fairnesse shal stonde in place of hym, and in fewe days he shal be broken to gydre, not in wodenelle, neþer in batel.

xxi And a dispid man shal stonde in his place, and kyngus honour shal not be ȝouen to hym; and he shal cum priuely, and shal weelde þe rewme in fraude doyng.

xxii And armys of þe fiȝtyng shuln be ouercummen of his face, and shuln be broken to gydre, more ouer and þe duyke of pees.

xxiii And aftir frendship wiþ hym, he shal do gyle. And he shal stiȝe vp, and ouercume litil peple;

xxiv and he shal entre plenteuous and grete citees, and shal do whiche þingis þe fadris of hym diden not, and fadris of fadris of hym. He shal scatere raueyns, and prayes, and riccheffis of hem, and he shal bygynne, or go yn, counseile aȝeinus saddist bouȝtis, and þis þing vn to tyme.

xxv And þe strengþe of hym shal be stirid, and þe herte of hym, aȝeinus þe kyng of souþ in grete oost. And þe kyng of souþ shal be terrid to bateil wiþ manye helpis, and stronge ful myche; and þei shuln not stonde, for þei shuln go in to counseilis aȝeinus hym.

xxvi And þei etynge breede wiþ hym shuln breke hym to gydre; and his oost shal be opprellid, and his flayn men ful manye shuln falle.

xxvii And þe herte of two kyngus shal be, þat þei do yuel, and at oo bord þei shuln speke lesyng, and þei shul not profite; for ȝit þe eende in to oper tyme.

xxviii And he shal turne aȝein to his lond wiþ manye riccheffis, and his herte aȝeinus þe holy testament, and he shal do, and shal turne aȝein 'in to his lond.

xxix In tyme ordeynyd he shal cum aȝein, and shal cum to þe souþ, and þe last shal not be liȝc to þe former.

xxx And grete shippis, and Romayns, shal cum vpon hym, and he shal be smyten. And he shal turne aȝein, and be wroþe aȝeinus þe testament of þe sayntuarie, and shal do. And he shal turne aȝein, and shal þinke aȝeinus hem þat forsoken þe testament of sayntuarye.

xxxi And þe armes of hym shuln stonde, and shuln defoule þe sayntuarie of strengþe, and shuln take awey þe contynuel sacrifice, and shuln ȝeue abominacioun in to defolacioun.

xxxii And vnpitous men shuln feyne gylfully a testament; forsoþe þe peple witynge her God shal weelde, and do.

xxxiii And tauȝt men in peple shuln teche ful manye, and shuln falle in swerd, and in flawme, and in caitifee, and in to rauyn of days.

xxxiv And whanne þei shuln falle to gidre, þei shuln be reyfid vp wiþ litil help; and ful many shuln be applied, or putt to, to hem gylfully.

xxxv And of lerned men shuln falle, þat þei be wellyd to gydre, and be chosen, and be maad whijt unto þe tyme determynyd; for ȝit an oper tyme shal be.

xxxvi And þe kyng shal do after his wille, and shal be reyfid vp, and magnyfied aȝeinus eche god, and aȝeines God of goddis he shal speke great þingus; and he shal be dressid, til wrab be fulfillid. Forsoþe diffinicioun, or dome, is fully don.

xxxvii And he shal not rette þe God of his fadris, and he shal be in coueityngis of wymmen, neþer he shal recke eny of goddis, for aȝeinus alle þingus he shal ryse to gydre.

xxxviii Forsoþe he shal wirshire god of Maofym in his place, and he shal honoure god, whom his fadris knewen not, in gold, and syluer, and precious stoon, and precious þingus.

xxxix And he shal do þat he make stronge Maofym, wiþ an alien god whom he knewe not. And he shal multiplie glorie, and shal ȝeue to hem power in many þingus, and he shal departe erþ at his wille.

xl And in tyme sett þe kyng of souþ shal fiȝt aȝeinus hym, and þe kyng of þe norþ as a tempest shal cum aȝeinus hym, in chaaris, and horfmen, and grete nauue.

xli And he shal entre londis, and shal breke to gydre; and shal passe by, and shal entre in to glorious lond, and many shuln falle. Forsoþe þese aloone shuln be sauued fro þe hond of hym, Edom, and Moab, and of þe princis of þe sonys of Amon.

xlii And he shal fende his hond in to londis, and þe lond of Egypt shal not scape.

xliii And he shal be lord of tresours of gold, and syluer, and in alle precious þingis of Egypt; and he shal passe by Libie and Ethiopie.

xliii And fame shal truble hym fro eest and norþ; and he shal cum in grete multitude, for to breke to gydre, and flea ful manye.

xlv And he shal sette his tabernacle fro Feduo, bitwixe seese, vpon a noble hille and holy; and he shal cum vnto þe heeȝ þerof, and no man shal help hym.

Capitulum XII.

i Forsoþe in þat tyme Myȝhel shal rijse, þe grete prince, þat stondiþ for sonys of þi peple. And tyme shal cum, what maner was not, fro þat siben folkis bygunden for to be, vn to þat tyme. And in þat tyme þi peple shal be faued, eche þat shuln be founden wrijten in þe boke of lijf.

ii And manye of þese þat slepten in dust of erþe, shuln wake out, oþer in to euerlastinge lyf, and opere in to fhenþip, þat þei fe euermore.

iii Forsoþe þei þat shuln be tauȝt men, or wijse, shuln shyne as shynynge of þe firmament, and þei þat lernen, or enfourmen, manye to riȝtwijsneſſe, as sterriſ in to euerlaſtyngneſſis.

iv Forsoþe þou, Danyel, close þe wordis, and seale þe boke, vn to þe tyme ordeynynd; ful manye shuln pasſe, and science manyfold shal be.

v And Y, Danyel, sawȝ, and loo! as two oþer stoden; oon stode on þis syde, vpon þe ryuere of floode, and an oþer on þat syde, on þe toþer part of þe floode.

vi And I sayde to þe man, þat was cloþid wiþ lynnен, whiche stode vpon watriſ of þe floode, Hou longe þe eende of þese merueyliſ?

vii And Y herde þe man, þat was cloþid in lynnен, whiche stode vpon watriſ of þe floode, whann he hadde reyſide vp his riȝt and left half in to heuen, and fwore by þe lyuyng in to wiþ outen eende, For in to tyme, and tymys, and þe half of tyme. And whan scatering abrood of þe lond of holy peple shal be fulfillid, alle þese þingus shuln be eendid.

viii And Y herde, and vndirstode not; and saide, My lord, what shal be after þese þingus?

ix And he saiþ, Go þou, Danyel, for þe wordis ben cloſid and sealid, vn to tyme ordeynynd.

x Pei shuln be chosen, and be maad whijt, and as fijr many shuln be proued, and vnpytous men shuln do vnpytously, neþer alle vnpitous men shuln vndirstonde; forsoþe tauȝt men shuln vndirstonde.

xi And fro tyme in whiche contynuel sacrifice shal be don awey, and abomynacioun in to desolacioun shal be sett, days a þousand two hundred and nynty.

xii Bleſſid is he, þat abydiþ, and fully cummeþ, vn to days a þousand þre hundred and þirty and fyue.

xiii Forsoþe go þou to determynd; and þou shalt reste aȝein, and shalt stonde in þi fort, or part, in þe eende of days.

Hidre to we reeden Danyel in Ebru; oþer þingis þat fuer, til in to þe eende of þe boke, ben translatid of þe making of Theodosyon.

Capitulum XIII.

i A man was in Babiloyne, and þe name of hym Joachym.

ii And he toke a wijf, Sufanne by name, þe douȝter of Elchie, ful faire, and dreding þe Lord.

iii Forsoþe þe fadir and modir of hir, when þei weren iuſt, lerneden her douȝter after þe lawe of Moyſes.

iv Forsoþe Joachym was ful riche, and to hym was a gardyne nyȝ to his hous; and Jewis camen to gidre to hym, for þat he was more honourable of alle.

v And two olde domesmen ben ordeynynd in þat zeer, of whiche þe Lord spac, for wickidnesse wente out of Babyloyne, of þe eldred iugis whiche weren seen for to rewle þe peple.

vi Peſe ofte hauntiden þe hous of Joachym; and alle þat hadden domis camen to hem.

vii Forsoþe whenn þe peple turnyde aȝein after mydday, Sufanne entride, and walkide in þe gardyne of hir hufbond.

viii And þe eldred men fawen hir eche day entrynge, and walkinge; and þei brennyden 'in þe coueitise of hir.

ix And þei turnyden awey her witt, and bowiden awey her eezan, þat þei shulden not see heuen, neþer shulde haue mynde of iuſt domys.

x Forsoþe boþe weren woundid in loue of hir, neþer shewiden to hem self her forewe; xi forsoþe þei shameden for to shewe to hem self her coueitise, willynge for to ligge wiþ hir.

xii And þei aspieden eche day byſilier for to see hir.

xiii And þe toþer faide to þe toþer, Go we home, for oure of mete is. And þei gon out, departiden fro hem self.

xiv And whann þei hadden departid, þei camen in to oon; and þei axinge cause eche of oþer, knawlechiden her coueitise. And þann in comoun þei ordeynyden tyme, whann þei miȝten fynde hir aloon.

xv Forsoþe it is don, whanne þei aspieden a couenable day, sche entride sum tyme, as ȝifterday and þree days gon, wiþ two damisels aloone, and wolde be wafhen in þe gardyne; soþely heete was.

xvi And no man was þere, out taken two olde men hid, byholdingyng hir.

xvii And she faide to þe maydens, Breng ȝe to me oyle, and sope, or oynement; and shitte ȝe þe doris of þe gardyne, þat Y be wafhen.

xviii And þei diden as she comaundide; and þei closiden þe doris of þe gardeyn, and weneten out by a postern, for to brenge whiche þingus she bad. And she wiste not olde men for to be hid wiþ yn forþ.

xix Soþely when þe damysels weren gon out, þe two olde men rysen, and runnen to hir, and laidien, xx Loo! doris of þe gardyne ben closid, and no man feeb vs, and we ben in couetise of þee. Wherfore accorde to vs, and be ioyned wiþ vs.

xxi þat ȝif þou wilt not, we shuln saye witneſſyng aȝeinus þee, þat a ȝung man was wiþ þee, and for þis caufe þou sentist out þe damysels fro þee.

xxii And Susanne inwardly forewide, and saiþ, Anguyfhis ben to me on eche fyde; forþoþe ȝif Y shal do þis þing, deþ is to me; soþely ȝif Y shal not do, Y shal not ascape ȝoure hondis.

xxiii Bot bettir it is to me for to falle wiþ outen werk in to ȝour hondis, þan for to synne in þe siȝt of þe Lord.

xxiv And Susanne criede wiþ a grete voice, forþoþe and þe olde men crieren aȝeinus hir.

xxv Soþely þe ton ran, and opnyde þe dore of þe gardeyn.

xxvi Forþoþe seruautes of þe hous fallen yn by þe poterne, whan þei herden cry in þe gardeyne, for to see what it was.

xxvii Forþoþe after þat þe olde men spaken, þe seruauntis shamyd greately, for siche word was neuer herd of Susanne.

xxviii And þe morewe day is maad. And whanne þe peple cam to hir husbond Joachym, and þe two prestis camen ful of yuel þouȝt aȝeinus Susanne, for to flea hir.

xxix And þei leiden byfore alle þe peple, Sende ȝe to Susanne, douȝter of Elchie, wylf of Joachym. And anoon þei senten.

xxx And she came wiþ fadir, and modir, and sonnys, and alle hir cosyns.

xxxi Forþoþe Susanne was ful delicate, and faire of fourme, 'or shap.

xxxii And þe ylke wickid men comaundedien, þat she shulde be vnkeuered, soþely she was hillid; þat or so þei were fulfillid wiþ fairnesse of hir.

xxxiii Perfore hern wepten, and alle þat knewen hir.

xxxiv Soþeli two prestis rijfyng to gydre in mydil of þe peple, puttiden hir hondis vpon þe hed of hir.

xxxv Whiche wepynge byhelde to heuen, forþoþe þe hert of hir was hauyngre trist in þe Lord.

xxxvi And þe prestis saiden, Whann we walkiden aloon in þe gardeyn, she þis came yn wiþ two maydens dameſels; and closide þe dore of þe gardeyn, xxxvii and lefte þe damysels. And a ȝung man, þat was hid, came to hir, and dide lechorie wiþ hir.

xxxviii Forþoþe we, whanne we weren in a corner of þe gardeyn, seeynge wickidnesse, runnen to hem, and we lawen hem for to be mengid to gidre.

xxxix And soþely we miȝten not cacche hym, for he was strengre þan we; and þe doris opnyd, he lept out.

xl Soþely when we hadden cauȝt þis, we axiden, who was þat ȝunge man; and she wolde not shewe to vs. Of þis þing we ben witneſſes.

xli þe multitude byleuyde to hem, as to eldre men of þe peple and iugis, and condemnyden hir to deþ.

xlii Forþoþe Susanne criede wiþ grete voice, and faide, Lord God euerlaſtinge, þat art knower of hid þingus, þat haſt knownen alle þingus byfore þei be maad;

xliii þou wost, for þei han born fals witneſſinge aȝeinus me. And loo! Y dye, whann Y dide nouȝt of þese þingus, whiche þese maliciously maken to gydre aȝeinus me.

xlv Forþoþe þe Lord herd þe voice of hir.

xlii And whann she was ledde to deþ, þe Lord reyſide a spirit of a ȝungir chijld, whose name Danyel.

xliii And he cryede wiþ greete voyce, Y am cleene of þe blood of þis.

xlvii And al þe peple to gyder turnyd to hym saide,
What is þis word, whom þou haſt spoken?

xlviii Whiche, whanne he stode in þe mydil of hem, saide, So ȝe, foolis, sonys of Yrael, not demyngne neþer knowyng þat þing þat is iust, condempneden þe douȝter of Yrael.

xlix Turne ȝe aȝein to dome, for þei han spoke fals witneſſyng aȝeinus hir.

l Perfore þe peple turned aȝein wiþ hiȝyng. And þe olde men laidien to hym, Cum þou, and litt in mydil of vs, and shewe þou to vs; for God ȝaue to þee honour of eelde.

li And Danyel saide to hem, Departe ȝe hem fro a twynne, or eche fro oþer, fer, and Y shal wylfely deme
hem.

lii Perfore, whanne þei weren departid þe toþer fro þe toþer, he clepide oon of hem, and saide to hym, Pou olde of yuel days, nowe þi synnes camen on þee, whiche þou vrouȝtist byfore, liii demyng vniȝt domys, oppressing innocentis, and delyuerynge gylti, sayinge þe Lord, Pou shalt not flea þe innocent and iust man.

liv Now forþoþe ȝif þou lawist hir, saye þou, vndir what tree þou lawȝ hem spekyng to hemself? Whiche saiþ, Vndir a floo tree.

lv Soþely Danyel saide, Riȝtly þou leeȝist in to þin hed; loo! forþoþe an aungel of þe Lord, þe sentence token of hym, shal kitte þee þe mydil.

lx And hym remoued away, he comaundide þe toþer for to cum, and faide to hym, Seed of Canaan, and not of Juda, fourme, or fairnesse, disceyuyde þee, and couetise turnyde þin hert ypfadoun;

lxii þus ȝe diden to douȝtris of Yrael, and þei dredyng spaken wiþ ȝou, bot þe douȝter of Juda suffride not ȝour wickidnesse.

lxiii Now perfore faye to me, vndir what tree þou lawist hem spekyng to hem self? Whiche saiþ, Vndir a plum tree.

- ix Soþely Danyel saide to hym, Riȝtly and þou leeȝist in pin hed; forsoþe an aungel of þe Lord dwellip, hauyng a fwerd, þat he kitte þee þe mydil, and fleasou.
- x And so alle þe peple criede wiþ grete voyce, and bleſſiden þe Lord, þat faueþ men hopynge in hym.
- xi And þei ryſen to gidre aȝeins two prestis; soþely Danyel hadde conuicte hem of her mouþ, for to haue faide fals witneſſyng;
- xii and þei diden to hem, as þei hadden do yuel aȝeines þe neiȝbour, þat þei diden after þe lawe of Moyses, and flewen hem. And þe giltleſſe blode is faued in þat day.
- xiii Forsoþe Elchie and his wyf preysiden God in þat day, for her douȝter Sufanne, wiþ Joachym, hir husbond, and alle hir cofyns, for foule þing was not found in hir.
- xiv Forsoþe Danyel was maad greet in ſiȝt of þe peple, fro þat day and afterward.

Capitulum XIII.

- i And kyng Astriages is putt to his fadris, and Cyrus of Perſe refcveyude þe kyngdam of hym.
- ii Forsoþe Danyel was meete feere of þe kyng, and honoured aboue alle þe freendis of hym.
- iii And an ydol, Bel by name, was anentis men of Babyloyne, and þere weren ſpendid in it by alle days twelue meſuris artabis, and oon conteyneþ bree buſhels of floure, and fourty ſheep, and of wijn fiſe amphoris.
- iv And þe kyng wirſhipide hym, and wente by alle days for to honoure it; forsoþe Danyel honourede his God. And þe kyng faide to hym, Whi honourest þou not Bel?
- v Whiche anſwerynge faiþ to hym, For Y wirſhipe not ydolis maad by hond, bot lyuyng God, þat made of nouȝt heuen and erþe, and haþ power of eche fleshe.
- vi And þe kyng faide to hym, Wher Bel is not ſeen to bee a lyuyng God? wheþer þou ſeest not, hou many þingus he etiþ and drynkþ eche day?
- vii And Danyel leiȝinge faiþ, Kyng, erre þou not; þis is wiþynforþ of cley, and wiþ outforþ of braſſe, neþir etiþ eny tyme, neþer drynkyþ.
- viii And þe kyng wroþ clepide þe prestis of hym, and faide to hem, No bot ȝe ſhuln faye to me, who etiþ þeſe ȝiftis, ȝe ſhuln dye.
- ix Forsoþe ȝif ȝe ſhuln ſhewe for Bel etiþ þeſe, Danyel ſhal dye, for he blaſfemyde Bel. And Danyel fayde to þe kyng, Be it don vp bi word.
- x Forsoþe þere weren of Bel ſeuenty prestis, oute taken wijues, and litil children, and ſonyſ. And þe kyng wiþ Danyel came into þe temple of Bel.
- xi And preſtis of Bel ſaiden, Loo! we ſhuln go out, and þou, kyng, putte metis, and meyngewyne, and ſhitte þe dore, and ſeale wiþ bi ryng.

- xii And whan þou ſhalt cum yn erly, no bot þou ſhalt fynde alle þingus eten of Bel, by deþ we ſhuln dye, or Danyel, þat leeȝide aȝeinus vs.
- xiii Forſoþe þei diſpifiden, for þei hadden maad an hid entryng vndir þe bord, and þerby þei entriden euermore, and deuoureden þo þingus.
- xiv Forſoþe it is don, after þat þey wenten out, and þe kyng puttide metis byfore Bel, Danyel comaundide his children, and þei brouȝten to alſe, and by al þe temple he ridlide byfore þe kyng. And þei gon out cloſiden þe dore, and ſealyng wiþ ryng of þe kyng wenten awey.
- xv Soþely þe preſtis wenten yn in nyȝt, after her cuſtome, and wijues, and ſonyſ of hem, and eeten alle þe þingus, and drunken.
- xvi Soþeli þe kyng rooſe in þe heeiȝift ſpring of day, and Danyel wiþ hym.
- xvii And þe kyng faiþ, Danyel, wher þe ſealis ben ſaaſ? Whiche anſweride, Kyng, ſaaſ.
- xviii And anoon whan þei hadden opnyd þe dore, þe kyng byhelde þe bord, and he criede wiþ grete voyce, Grete art þou, Bel, and no gyle is anentys þee.
- xix And Danyel leiȝide, and he heelde þe kyng, leſt he entride wiþ ynforþ; and faide, Loo! þe pament, perceyue whos ſteppis þeſe ben.
- xx And þe kyng faide, Y ſee ſteppis of men, and wymmen, and ȝunge children. And þe kyng is wroþ.
- xxi Panne þe kyng cauȝte þe preſtis, and wijues, and ſonyſ of hem; and þei ſhewiden to hym ſmale doris hid, by whom þei entriden, and waſtiden what þingus wereon þe bord.
- xxii Perfore þe kyng flewȝ hem, and bytoke Bel in to power of Danyel, whiche diſtruyide hym and his temple.
- xxiii And a grete dragoun was in þat place, and men of Babyloyne wirſhipiden hym.
- xxiv And þe kyng faide to Danyel, Loo! now þou maift not faye, þat þis is not god lyuyng; perfore wirſhipe hym.
- xxv And Danyel faide to þe kyng, Y wirſhipe þe Lord my God, for he is lyuyng God; þis is not god lyuyng.
- xxvi Pou forſoþe, kyng, ȝeue to me power, þat Y ſlea þe dragoun, wiþ oute fwerd and ſtaff. And þe kyng faiþ, Y ȝeue to þee.
- xxvii Perfore Danyel toke picche, and fatneſſe, and heris, and ſeeþide to gydre; and he made gobettis, and ȝaue in to mouȝe of þe dragoun, and þe dragoun is borſtun. And Danyel fayde, Loo! whom ȝe wirſhipiden.
- xxviii Whiche þing whanne men of Babyloyne herden, þei hadden indignacioun gretely; and þei ben gadrid aȝeinus þe kyng, and ſayden, þe kyng is maad a Jewe; he diſtruyede Bel, and flewȝ þe dragoun, and killide preſtis.
- xxix And þei ſaiden, whanne þei camen to þe kyng, ȝeue to vs Danyel, þat diſtruyede Bel, and flewȝ þe dragoun; ellis we ſhuln ſlea þee, and þin hous.

xxx Perfore þe king sawȝ, þat þei fallen in to hym gretely; and by neede he constreynd ȝaue to hem Danyel.
 xxi Whiche fenten hym in to þe lake of lyouns, and he was þere feuen days.
 xxii Forsoþe in þe lake weren feuen lyouns, and eche day two bodyes and two sheep weren ȝouen to hem.
 And þanne þei weren not ȝouen to hem, þat þei shulde deuoure Danyel.
 xxiii Forsoþe Abacuc was a prophete in Judee, and he hadde soþen potage, and hadde sette yn looues in a litil vessele, and wente in to þe feeld, for to bere to repers.
 xxiv And an aungel of þe Lord saide to Abakuc, Bere þou þe mete, þat þou haft, in to Babyloyne, to Danyel, þat is in þe lake of lyouns.
 xxv And Abakuc saide, Lord, I sawȝ not Babyloyne, and I knewe not þe lake.
 xxvi And þe angel of þe Lord toke hym in þe poll of hym, and bare hym in an her of his hed, and putte hym in to Babyloyne, on þe lake, in bir of his spirit.
 xxvii And Abakuc criede, sayinge, Danyel, seruaunt of God, take þou þe mete, þat God sente to þee.
 xxviii And Danyel saþ, Lord God, þou haft mynde of me, and forfakist not men loouynge þee. xxix And Danyel rysyng eet; forsoþe þe aungel of þe Lord restoride anoon Abakuc in his place.
 xl Perfore þe kyng cam in þe seuenþe day for to weile Danyel; and he came to þe lake, and lookide wiþ ynne, and loo! Danyel fittyng in þe mydil of lyouns.
 xli And þe kyng criede wiþ grete voice, faiynge, Grete art þou, Lord God of Danyel; and drouȝ out him of þe lake.
 xlii Forsoþ he sente yn in to þe lake hem, þat weren cause of his perdicoun, and þei ben deuoured in a moment byfore hym.
 xlvi ȝann þe kyng saþ, Men dwellynge in al erþe, dreede þe God of Danyel; for he is deliuener, and fauere, doyng fygnes and merueyles in heuen and in erþe, þat delyuerede Danyel of þe lake of lyouns.

Here endeþ þe boke of Daniel, and here bigynneþ Osee.

OSEE.

Capitulum I.

i The word of þe Lord þat is maad to Osee, fone of Bery, in þe days of Ofye, Joathan, Achas, and Ezechie, kyngis of Juda, and in þe days of Jeroboam, fone of Joas, kyng of Yrael.
 ii ȝe bygynnynge of spekyng Lord in Osee. And þe Lord said to Osee, Go þou, take to þee a wif of fornicacioun, and make to þee sonys of fornicacioun, for þe erþe doyng fornicacioun shal do fornicacioun fro þe Lord.

iii And he wente, and toke Gomer, þe douȝter of Debalaym; and she conceyuyde, and bare to hym a sone.
 iv And þe Lord saide to hym, Clepe þe name of hym Jefrael; for ȝit a lytil and Y shal visite þe blode of Jefrael on þe hous of Hyeu, and shal make þe kyngdam of þe hous of Yrael for to reſte.
 v And in þat day Y shal breke to gydre þe bowe of Yrael in þe valey of Jefrael. vi And she conceyuyde ȝit, and bare a douȝter. And he faide to hym, Clepe þou þe name of þir Wiþ outen mercy, for Y shal namore putte to, for to haue mercy to þe hous of Yrael, bot bi forȝetyng Y shal forȝete
 hem.
 vii And to þe hous of Juda Y shal haue mercy, and Y shal faue hem in þe Lord her God; and Y shal not faue hem in bowe, and swerd, and bateil, and in horſis, and in horfmen.
 viii And she wenydhe hir þat was Wiþ outen mercye.
 And she conceyuyde, and bare to hym a sone.
 ix And he saide, Clepe þou þe name of hym Not my people, for ȝe ben not my peple, and Y shal not be ȝour
 God.
 x And þe noumbre of sones of Yrael shal be as grauel of þe see, whiche is wiþ oute mesure, and shal not be noumbrid; and it schal be in place, where it schal be feid to hem, Not my peple ȝe; it schal be feid to hem, Sones of God lyuyng.
 xi And sones of Juda and sones of Yrael shuln be gedrid to gydre, and þei shuln putte to hem self oon hed, and shuln stie vp fro þe lond, for grete is þe day of Jefrael.

Capitulum II.

i Saye ȝe to ȝour breþeren, My peple; and to ȝour sister, Wynnyng e mercy;
 ii deme ȝe ȝour modir, deme ȝe, for she is not my wif, and Y not her hubond. Do she aweye her fornicacioun fro her face, and her auowtries fro þe mydil of her tetis; iii leſt perauenture Y vncloþe her nakid, and sette her vp þe day of her birþe. And Y shal putte her as a wildrenesse, and ordeyne her as a lond vnweyed, or wiþ outen weye, and shal flea her wiþ brift.
 iv And of þe sones of her Y shal not haue mercy, for þei ben sonys of fornicacioun; v for þe modir of hem dide fornicacioun, she is confusid þat conceyuyde hem, for she saide, Y shal go after my louers þat ȝiuen my looues to me, and my waters, and my wolle, and my lynnyn, and myn oyle, and my drinke.
 vi For þis þing lo! Y shal hegge þi weye wiþ bornys, and I shal hegge it wiþ a walle, and it shal not fynde his pabis.
 vii And she shal sue her louers, and shal not cacche hem, and shal feke hem, and shal not fynde hem; and she shal faye, Y shal go, and Y shal turne aȝein to my former husbond, for wele it was to me þanne more þan now.

viii And þis womman wiste not, for Y ȝaue to hir wheat, wijne, and oyle; and multiplied to hir syluer and gold, whiche þei maden to Baal.

ix Perfore Y shal turne, and shal take my wheat in hys tyme, and my wijn in his tyme; and I shal weȝe my wolle, and my lynnен, whiche hiliden þe yuel fame of hir.

x And now Y shal shewe þe folye of hir in þe eeȝen of hir louers, and a man shal not delyuere hir fro myn hond;

xi and I shal make alle þe ioye of hir for to ceese, hir solempnyte, hir neomynye, or new feest, hir saboth, and alle feestis and tymys of hir.

xii And I shal corrumpe, or distruye, hir vyne ȝerd, and hir fijge tree, of which she faide, Þese ben my hijris, whiche my louers ȝauen to me; and Y shal putte hir in to wijlde wode, and þe beeft of þe feeld shal eet hir.

xiii And I shal vilsite vpon hir þe days of Baalym, in whiche she brent ensence, and was ourned wiþ hir ere ring, and hir broche, and wente aftir hir louers, and forȝate me, saþ þe Lord.

xiv For þis þing loo! Y shal ȝeue mylk to hir, and shal lede hir in to wildernesſe, and Y shal speke to hir herte;

xv and shal ȝeue to hir vijne tyliers of þe same place, and þe valey of Achor, for to opyn hope. And she shal fynge þere vp þe days of hir ȝouþe, and vp þe days of hir steyng vp fro þe lond of Egypt.

xvi And it shal be in þat day, saþ þe Lord, she shal clepe me Myn husbond, and she shal namore clepe me Baalym; xvii and Y shal take aweye þe names of Balym fro hir mouþe, and she shal namore haue mynde of þe name of hem.

xviii And Y shal smyte to hem a boond of pees in þat day wiþ beeft of þe feeld, and wiþ brid of heuen, and wiþ creepynge beeft of erþe. And Y shal breke to gydre bowe, and swerd, and batel of þe erþe; and Y shal make hem for to sleepe tristili.

xix And I shal spouse þee to me in to wiþ outen eende, and Y shal spouse þee to me in riȝtwijfnelle, and in dome, and in mercy, and in doyngis of mercy.

xx And Y shal spouse þee to me in feiþ; and þou shalt wite, for Y þe Lord.

xxi And it shal be, in þat day Y shal heere, saþ þe Lord, and I shal heere heuens, and þei shuln heere þe erþe; xxii and þe erþe shal heere wheete, and wijn, and oyle, and þese shuln heere Jefrael.

xxiii And Y shal sowe hir to me in to lond, and Y shal haue mercy on hir þat was wiþ out mercy. And Y shal faye to not my peple, þou art my peple, and he shal faye, þou art my God.

Capitulum III.

i And þe Lord faide to me, ȝit go þou, and loue þou a womman loued of a frend, and auoutress, as þe Lord loueþ þe sonys of Yrael; and þei byholden to alyen goddis, and louen þe darftis of grapis, þat leueþ in hem aftir preffyng.

ii And Y dalf hir to me wiþ fifteen platis of siluer, and wiþ a chorus of barly, whiche is a mesure of þritti bushels, and wiþ an half chorus of barly.

iii And Y faide to hir, Manye days þou shalt abyde me; þou shalt not do fornyacioun, and þou shalt not be to husbond, bot and Y shal abijde þee.

iv For manye days þe sonys of Yrael shuln sitte wiþ out kyng, wiþ out prince, wiþ out sacrifice, and wiþ out auter, and wiþ out ephot, or prestis cloþing, and wiþ out teraphyn.

v And after þese þingis sonys of Yrael shuln turne aȝein, and shuln feke þe Lord her God, and Dauip, her kyng; and þei shuln dreede to þe Lord, and to þe good of hym, in þe last of days.

Capitulum III.

i Heere ȝe, sonys of Yrael, þe word of þe Lord, for dome to þe Lord wiþ dwellers of erþe; forsoþe trewþe is not and mercy is not, and science, or kunnynge, of þe Lord is not in erþe.

ii Cursidnes, and lefyng, and mansleaynge, and þeft, and auoutrie flowiden, and bloode touchide bloode.

iii For þis þing erþe shal mourne, and ech man þat dwelliþ þeryn shal be seeke, in beeft of þe feeld, and in brid of heuen; bot and fishis of þe se shuln be gadrid.

iv Neþeles eche man deeme not, and be not a man reproued; forsoþe þi peple as þese þat aȝein fayen þe prest.

v And þou shalt falle to day, and alfo þe prophete shal falle to gydre wiþ þee; in nyȝt Y made þi modir for to be stille.

vi And my peple was to gydre stille, for it hadde not science; for þou haft putte awey science, Y shal putte þee awey, þat þou be not set, or vse, in presthode to me; þou haft forȝete þe lawe of þi God, and Y shal forgete þi sonys.

vii Vp þe multitude of hem, so þei synnyden to me. Y shal chaunge þe glorie of hem in to yuel fame.

viii Pei shuln ete þe synnys of my peple, and to þe wickidnesse of hem þei shuln reyse vp þe soulis of hem.

ix And it shal be, as þe peple so þe prest; and I shal vilsite on hym þe weyes of hym, and I shal ȝelde to hym his þouȝtis.

x And þei shuln ete, and shuln not be fulfillid; þei diden fornyacioun, and cesiden not, for þei forsoken þe Lord in not kepyng.

xi Fornicacioun, and wijne, and drunkenesse doþ awey herte.

xii My peple axide in his tree, and þe staff of hym shal shewe to hym; forsoþe þe spirit of fornicaciouns disceyuyde hem, and þei diden fornicacioun fro her God.

xiii On hedis of hillis þei maden sacrifice, and on litil hillis þei brennenet tymyame, or encense, vnder ook, and poplere, and terebynt, for þe shadew of it was good. Perfore ȝour douȝters shuln do fornicacioun, and ȝour spoufis, or wiffis, shuln be auoutressis.

xivii Y shal not visite on ȝour douȝters, whan þei shuln do fornicacioun, and on ȝoure wijues, whanne þei shuln do auowtrie; for þei lyueden wiþ hooris, and sacrificieden wiþ men turned in to wommans maners. And peple not vndirstondynge shal be beten.

xv ȝif þou, Yrael, doft fornyacioun, namely þou, Juda, trespass not; and nyl ȝe entre in to Galgala, and stye ȝe not in to Bethauen, neþer swere ȝe, þe Lord lyueþ.

xvi For as a cewe waxinge wijlde Yrael bowide awey; now þe Lord shal feede hem as a lombe in breed.

xvii Parcener of ydolis Effraym, leue ȝe hym; xviii þe feest of hem is departid. In fornicacioun þei diden fornicacioun, þe defenders of hem loueden for to bryngē to yuel fame.

xix A spirit boonde hym in his weengis, and þei shuln be confoundid of her sacrifices.

Capitulum V.

i Heere ȝe, prestis, þese þingis, and perceyue ȝe, hous of Yrael, and herken ȝe, hous of þe kyng; for wiþ ȝou is dome, for ȝe ben maad a graue to byholdynge, and as a nette sprad abrood on Thabor.

ii And ȝe bowiden doun flayn sacrifice for victorie in to depnesse; and Y þe lerner of hem alle.

iii Y wote Effraym, and Yrael is not hid fro me; for now Effraym dide fornicacioun, Yrael is defoulid.

iv Þei shul not ȝeue her þouȝtis, þat þei turne aȝein to her God; for þe spirit of fornicacioun in þe mydil of hem, and þei knewen not þe Lord.

v And þe pryd of Yrael shal answere in to his face, and Yrael and Effraym shuln falle to gydre in her wikkidnesse; also Juda shall falle wiþ hem.

vi In her flockis, and in her droues þei shuln go for to feke þe Lord, and shuln not fynde; he is taken awey fro hem.

vii In þe Lord þei trespassiden, for þei gendriden alien sonys; now þe moneþe wiþ her partis shal deuoure hem.

viii Sowne ȝe wiþ an horn in Gabaa, wiþ trumpe in Rama; woule ȝe in Bethauen, aftir þi bac, Beniamyn.

ix Effraym shal be in to desolacioun, in þe day of correctioun, and in lynagis of Yrael Y shewide feiþ.

x þe princis of Juda ben maad as takyngē to þe termes on hem; Y shal shede out as water my wrap.

xi Effraym is suffrynge fals chalenge, he broken in dome; for he byganne for to go after filþis.

xii And Y as a mouȝþe to Effraym, and as rot to þe hous of Juda.

xiii And Effraym sawȝ his seekenesse, and Juda his boond. And Effraym wente to Assur, and sente to þe kyng veniour. And he shal not mowe faue ȝou, neþer shal mowe vnbynde þe boond fro ȝou.

xivii For Y as a lyonesse to Effraym, and as a whelp of lyoun to þe hous of Juda. Y, Y shal take, and shal go, and shal take awey, and þer is not whiche shal delyuere.

xv Y goyngē shal turne aȝein to my place, til ȝe fayle, and seeke my face. In her tribulacioun erly þei shuln ryse to gyder to me.

Capitulum VI.

i Cum ȝe, and turne we aȝein to þe Lord; for he toke, or bigan, and shal hele us; he shal smyte, and shal cure us.

ii He shal quycken us aftir two days, in þe þrydde day he shal reyse vs, and we shuln lyue in þe siȝt of hym.

iii We shuln wite, and sue, þat we knewe þe Lord. As þe spryng of day his out goyng is maad redy, and he shal cum as rayne tymely to vs, and late to erþe.

iv What shal Y do to þee, Effraym? what shal Y do to þee, Juda? ȝour mercy as a morew cloude, and as dewe erly paffynge forþ.

v For þis þing Y haue hewun in prophetis, and flayn hem in wordis of my mouþe; and þi domys shuln go out as liȝt.

vi For Y wolde mercy, and not sacrifice, and science of God, more þan brente sacrifices.

vii Forþoþe þei as Adam braken my couenaunt; þere þei trespassiden in me.

viii Galaad þe cite of men wirchyng ydol, supplauntid by blood;

ix and as cheekis of men þeeues. Parcener of prestis in þe waye of men fleaynge men goyng of Sychem, for þei vrouȝten grete trefpas.

x In þe hous of Yrael Y saw an orrible þing; þere þe fornyaciouns of Effraym. Israel is defoulid; xi bot and þou, Juda, putte to þee rijk corn, whanne Y shal turne to gydre þe caitifree of my peple.

Capitulum VII.

i Whanne Y wolde hele Yrael, þe wickidnesse of Effraym is shewid, and þe malice of Samarie, for þei vrouȝten lesyng. And a nyȝt þeef wente in robbynge; a litil day þeef wiþ out forþ.

ii And leſt perauenture þei sayen in her hertis, me hauyng mynde on al þe malice of hem, now her fyndyngis han gon about hem, þei ben maad byfore my face.

iii In her malice þei gladden þe kyng, and in her lesyngus þe princis.

iv Alle doyngē auotrie, as fourneice kyndlid of a man seeþinge. þe citee restide a litil in mengyng to gydre of soure dowe, til it were fourdowid all.

v Pe day of oure kyng; princis bygunnen for to wexe wode of wijn; he streiȝte out his hond wiȝ scorners.
 vi For þei applieden as a fourneys her herte, whanne he aspiede, or fette, tresoun to hem. Al niȝt he slepte seeþinge hem, erly he set on fijr, as fijr of flawme.
 vii All ben maad hoot as a fourneice, and deououreden her domesmen. All kyngis of hem fallen doun, and þer is not in hem þat shal crie to me.
 viii Effraym in peplis he was meynt to gydre; Effraym is maad a loof baken vndir ashis, whiche is not turned aȝein.
 ix Aliens eeten þe strengþe of hym, and he wist not; bot and whijt heeris ben shed out in hym, and he knewe
 not.
 x And þe pride of Yrael shal be mekid in þe face of hym; neþer þei ben turned aȝein to þe Lord her God, and þei souȝten not hym in alle þeese þingus.
 xi And Effraym is maad as a culuer disceyued, not hauynge herte. Þei inclepiden Egypt, to Assiriens þei wenten.
 xii And whanne þei shuln go, Y shal sprede abrode on hem my nett, as a brid of heuen Y shal drawe hem doun. Y shal bete hem, vp þe heeryng of þe cumpayne of hem.
 xiii Wo to hem, for þei wenten awei fro me; þei shuln be waastid, for þei trespassiden in me. Y aȝein bouȝte hem, and þei spaken aȝeinus me lesyng.
 xiv And þei crieren not to me in her herte, bot þei wouliden in her couchis. Þei chewiden cud vpon whete, and wijne, and departiden fro me.
 xv And I lernyde hem, and coumfortide þe armys of hem, and in me þei þouȝten malice.
 xvi Þei turneden aȝein, þat þei shulden be wiȝ out ȝoc; þei ben maad as a gylful bowe. Pe princis of hem shuln falle in swerd, of þe wodenesse of her tunge; þis þe mowynge, or scornynge, of hem in þe lond of Egypt.

Capitulum VIII.

i In þi þrote be a trumpe, as an egle on þe hous of þe Lord; for þat þat þei braken my bond of pees, and þei trespassiden, or braken, my lawe.
 ii Þei inclepiden me, My God, we Yrael knewen þee.
 iii Yrael castide awey good þing, an enemy shal pursue
 hym.
 iv Þei regneden, and not of me; þei weren princis, and I knewe not. Þei maden her syluer and gold and her ydolis to hem, þat þei shulden perishe.
 v Samarie, þi calf is cast awey; my woodnesse is wroȝe in hem. Hou long miȝten þei not be clenſid?
 vi for of Yrael and he is. A craftise man made hym, and he is not god; for þe calf of Samarie shal be into webbis of yreinus.
 vii For þei shuln sowe wynd, and repe whirlwynd. A stondyne stalk is not in hem, þe buriownyng shal not make mele; þat and ȝif it shal make, aliens shuln ete it.

viii Yrael is deouored; now he is maad in naciouns, as an vnclene vessel, ix for þei stieden to Assur. Effraym a solitarie feeld asse to hym self. Þei ȝauen ȝiftis to her louers; x bot and wiȝ meed þei hijriden naciouns. Now Y shal gedre hem, and þei shuln reste a litol of charge of þe kyng and princis.
 xi For Effraym multiplieide autris for to synne, autris ben maad to hym in to trespassse.
 xii Y shal write to hym my manyfolde lawis, whiche ben acomptid as alyen.
 xiii Þei shulen brenge to ooftis, and shuln offre fleshis, and shuln ete; and þe Lord shal not rescyeue hem. Now he shal recorde þe wickidnesse of hem, and shal visite þe synnes of hem; þei shuln be turnyd in to Egypt.
 xiv And Yrael forȝate his maker, and beeldide templis, and Judas multiplieide stronge citees; and Y shal sende fijr in to þe citees of him, and it shal deouore þe housis
 of hym.

Capitulum IX.

i Yrael, nyl þou glade, nyl þou ioye wiȝ outforþ as peplis; for þou haft do fornicacioun fro þi God. þou louedist hijris on alle feeldis of whete.
 ii Feeld and pressour shal not feede hem, and wijne shal lye to hem.
 iii Þei shuln not dwelle in þe lond of þe Lord. Effraym turnyde aȝein in to Egypt, and in Assiriens eete defoulid þing.
 iv Þei shuln not sacrifice wijn to þe Lord, and þei shuln not plese to hym. Pe sacrifices of hem as breed of mournyng men; alle þat eten it shuln be defoulid. For þe breed of hem, of þe soule of hem, shal not entre in to þe hous of þe Lord.
 v What shuln ȝe do in þe solempne day, in day of þe fest of þe Lord?
 vi Loo! soþely þei ben gon fro wastnesse. Egypt shal gedre hem, Memphis shal birie hem. A nettil shal enherit þe desirable syluer of hem, a cloote in þe tabernaclis of hem.
 vii Days of visyting camen, days of ȝeldyng camen.
 Yrael, wite þou þee a fool, a wood prophete, a spirituel man, for þe multitude of þi wickidnesse, and multitude of madnesse.
 viii A spier of Effraym wiȝ my God; þe prophete is maad a gnare of fallynge, on alle þe wayes of hym, wodenesse in þe hous of his God.
 ix Þei synned depely, as in days of Gabaa. He shal recorde her wickidnesse, and shal visite þe synnis of
 hem.
 x Y foonde Yrael as grapes in desert, as þe first applicis of a litol fyge tree. In þe heeȝt þerof Y feeȝ þe faders of hem; forþoþe þei entriden to Belphagor, and ben alienyd aweye in to confusioun, and ben maad abomynable as þo þingus þat þei loueden.

- xi Effraym as a brid flee3 awey; þe glorie of hem of chijld beryng, and of wombe, and of conceyuyng.
- xii þat and ȝif þei shuln nurishe out her sonys, Y shal make hem wiþ out free childre in men. Bot and wo to hem, whanne I shal go awey fro hem.
- xiii Effraym, as I fy3 Tyrus, was foundid in fairnesse; Effraym schal leede out his sones to þe clear.
- xiv Lord, ȝyue þou to hem; what schalt þou ȝyue to hem? ȝeue þou to hem a ȝate of wombe wiþ oute free children, and drie tetis.
- xv Al wickidnesse of hem in Galgal, for þere Y hadde hem hateful; for þe malice of her wickidnesse Y shal caste hem out of myn hous. Y shal not putte to, þat Y loue hem. Alle princis of hem goynge awey;
- xvi Effraym is smyten, þe root of hem is dried vp; þei shuln not make fruyte. Pat and ȝif þei shuln gendre, Y shal flei þe most loued þingus of þe wombe of hem.
- xvii þe Lord my God shal caste hem awey, for þei herden not hym; and þei shuln be wagringe in naciouns.

Capitulum X.

- i Yrael a vijne ful of bowis, fruyte is maad euen to hym; vp þe multitude of his fruyte he multiplieide auters, vp þe plente of his lond he was plenteous in symulacris, or fals goddis.
- ii þe herte of hem is departid, now þei shuln perishe. He shal breke to gydre þe symulacris of hem, he shal spuyle þe auters of hem.
- iii For now þei shuln saye, Kyng is not 'to vs, forsoþe we dreden not God. And what shal a kyng do to vs?
- iv Speke ȝe wordis of vnprofitable visioun, and ȝe shuln make a couenaunt wiþ lefyng; and dome shal buriowne as bitternesse on forowis of þe feedl.
- v þe dwellers of Samarie wirshipen þe kijn of Bethauen. For þe peple þerof mournyde vpon hym, and kepers of þe hous of hym ioyeden wiþ outforþ in glorie of hym, for it pasidre fro hym.
- vi Forsoþe and he is born in to Assur, a ȝift to þe king venier. Confusioun shal take Effraym, and Yrael shal be confoundid in his will.
- vii Samarie made his king for to paffe, as frooþ on þe face of water.
- viii And þe heeȝ þingis of ydol, þe synne of Yrael, shulen be distruyed. Cloote and breere shal stye on þe auters of hem. And þei shuln feye to mounteyns, Hille ȝe vs, and to smale hillis, Falle ȝe vpon vs.
- ix Of þe days of Gabaa Yrael synnyde; þere þei stoden. Bateyl shal not cotche hem in Gabaa, on þe sonys of wickidnesse.
- x Vp my desijre Y shal chaftise hem; puplis shuln be gadrid on hem, whanne þei shuln be chaftisid for her two wickidnessis.
- xi Effraym a cow calf, tauȝt for to loue þreflyng; and Y pasidre on þe fairnesse of hir neck. Y shal stye vp on

- Effraym. Judas shal ere, Jacob shal breke to gydre to hym forowis.
- xii Sowe ȝe to ȝow in riȝtwijfnesse, and repe ȝe in þe mouȝt of mercy, and make newe to ȝou a newe feedl. Tyme soþely for to aȝein seeke þe Lord, whanne he shal cum, þat shal teche ȝou riȝtwijfnesse.
- xiii ȝe han sowe vnpite, ȝe repiden wickidnesse, ȝe eeten þe fruyte of lefyng. For þou trifidist in þi wayes, and in multitude of þi stronge men.
- xiv Noysē shal ryse to gydre in þi peple, and alle þi strenghþus shuln be distruyed; as Salmania is distruyed of þe hous of hym, þat veniede Baal; in þe day of bateyle, þe modir hurtlid on sones.
- xv So Bethel shal do to ȝou, fro þe face of malice of ȝour wickidnessis. As þe morewnyng passiþ, þe kyng of Yrael passiþ.

Capitulum XI.

- i Byfore Yrael a chijld, and Y louede hym; and of Egypt Y clepide my fone.
- ii þei clepiden hem, so þei wenten awey fro þe face of hem. þei offreden to Baalym, and maden sacrifice to symulacris.
- iii And Y as a nurishe of Effraym bare hem in myn armys, and þei wisten not, þat Y helide hem.
- iv In litil boondis of Adam Y shal drawe hem, in boondis of charitee. And Y shal be to hem as reysyng ȝoc on þe cheekis of hem; and Y bowide doun to hym, þat he shulde etc.
- v He shal not turne aȝein in to þe lond of Egypt. And Assur þe kyng þerof, for þei wolden not be conuertid.
- vi Swerd toke, or bigan, in þe citees þerof, and schal waaste þe chosun þerof, and schal ete þe heedis of hem.
- vii And my peple schal hange, at my comynge aȝein. Forsoþ a ȝok shal be putte vpon hem to gydre, whiche shal not be don awey.
- viii Hou shal Y ȝeue þee, Effraym? shal Y hille, or defende, þee, Yrael? hou shal Y ȝeue þee as Adama? shal Y putte þee as Seboym? Myn hert is conuertid in me; my forþinkyng is trublid to gidre.
- ix Y shal not do þe woodnesse of my wræþ. Y shal not be conuertid, þat Y distruye Effraym; for Y God, and not man; holy in þe mydil of þee, and Y shal not entre in to cytee.
- x After þe Lord þei shuln go. As a lyoun he schal roore, for he schal roore, and lones of þe see schulen drede.
- xi And 'þei shuln flee awey as a brid fro Egypt, and as culuer of þe lond of Assiriens. And Y shal to gydre sette hem in her houſis, saþ þe Lord.
- xii Effraym disceyuede me in marchaundise, and in ydol of þe hous of Yrael. Forsoþe Judas witnes wente doun wiþ God, and wiþ feiþful saintis.

Capitulum XII.

- i Effraym feediþ þe wijnd, and sueþ heete. Al day he multiplieþ lefyng, and distruccioun; and made pees wiþ Affriens, and bare oyle in to Egypt.
- ii Perfore þe dome of þe Lord wiþ Juda, and visitacioun on Jacob; vp þe wayes, and vp þe fyndyngus of hym he shal ȝeelde to hym.
- iii In þe wombe he supplauntide, or disceyuyde, his broþer, and in his strengþe he was dressid wiþ an aungel.
- iv And he hadde victorie at þe aungel, and he was coumfortid; he wepte, and preiede hym; in Bethel he fonde hym, and þere he spac wiþ ȝou.
- v And þe Lord God of oostis, þe Lord, memorial of hym.
- vi And þou shalt be conuertid to þe Lord þi God. Keepe þou mercy and dome, and hoope þou euermore in þy God.
- vii Canaan, in his hond a gyleful balaunce, louede fals chalenge.
- viii And Effraym faide, Neþeles Y am maad riche, Y fonde an ydol to me; alle my trauailis shuln not fynde to me wickidnesse, whiche Y synnyde.
- ix And Y þe Lord þi God, whiche ledde þee out of þe lond of Egypt; ȝit Y shal make þee for to sytte in tabernaclis, as in days of feest.
- x And Y spac on prophetis, and Y multipliede visioun, and in þe hond of prophetis Y am likkenyd.
- xi ȝif in Galaad an ydol, perfore veynly þey weren in Galgal offrynge to oxis; forwhi and þe auters of hem as hepis on forowis of þe feeld.
- xii Jacob fleiȝ into þe cuntrie of Sirie, and Israel feruyde into wyf, and feruyde into wyf.
- xiii Forsoþe in a prophete þe Lord ledde out Yrael of Egypt, and in a prophete he is kepte.
- xiv Effraym terride me to wrap in his bitternessis, and his blood shal cum on hym; and þe Lord his God shal restoren hym his shenþip.
- vii And Y shal be to hem as a lyounesse, and as a paard in þe waye of Affyriens.
- viii Y shal renne to hem as a she bere, þe whelpis rauyfhid; and Y shal breke þe ynner þingis of her mawe, and Y shal waastye hem þere as a lyoun. A beeþ of þe feeld shal kitte hem.
- ix ȝi losse, Yrael; oonly of me þin help.
- x Wher is þi kyng? most now faue he þee in alle þi citees; and þi domysmen, of whom þou saidist, ȝeue þou to me a kyng, and princis?
- xi And Y shal ȝeue to þee a kyng in my wodenesse, and Y shal take awey in myn indignacioun.
- xii Þe wickidnesse of Effraym is bounden to gidre; þe synne of hym hydde.
- xiii Sorewis of a woman berynge chijld shuln come to hym; he is a sone not wijfe. Now forsoþe he shal not stonde in contricioun of sonys.
- xiv Of þe hond of deþ Y shal delyuere hem, Y shal aȝein bye hem fro deþ. ȝou deþ, Y shal be þi deþ; þou helle, Y shal be þi morfel. Coumfort is hid fro myn eeȝen,
- xv for he departiþ among breþeren. Þe Lord shal brenge a brennyng wynd, of desert steiynge vp; and shal drye þe veynis þerof, and discoumforte, or leeue aloon, þe welle þerof; and he shal rauyshe tresour of eche desirable vessel.
- xvi Perishe Samarie, for to bitternesse she stiride hir God; in swerd perishe it. Þe litil childre of hem ben hurtlid, and wymmen wiþ chijld of it ben coruen out.

Capitulum XIII.

- i Effraym spekyng, errour assaileide Yrael; and he trespasside in Baal, and is dead.
- ii And now þei puttiden to for to synne, and maden to hem a ȝoten þing of her syluer, as þe licknesse of ydols; þe makynge of crafty men it is al. To þese þei sayen, Offre, ȝe men, wirshippyng calues.
- iii Perfore þei shuln be as a morewe clowde, or myst, and as morewe dewe passyng, as dust rauyfhid wiþ whirlwynd of þe feeld, and as smoke of þe chymney.
- iv Forsoþe Y þe Lord þi God, of þe lond of Egypt; and þou shalt not knowe God, wiþ outen me, and saueour is not, out take me.
- v Y knewe þee in desert, in þe lond of wildernesse.
- vi Byfidis her lefewis and þei ben fulfillid, and ful crammymd; þei lyftiden vp her herte, and forȝaten me.

- vii Assur shal not faue vs, we shuln not steye on hors; neþer we shuln faye more, Our goddis werkis of oure hondis; for þou shalt haue mercy of þe ylke fadreleffe chijld, þat is in þee.
- iii Y shal heele þe contricioun of hem; Y shal loue hem of my free wille, for my woodnesse is turned awey fro hem.
- v Y shal be as dew, and Yrael shal buriowne as lylie. And þe roote of hym shal birst out as of Lyban;
- vi þe braunchis of hym shuln go. And as olyue his glorie shal be, and his sauour as of Liban.
- vii ȝei shuln be conuertid fittyng in þe shadewe of hym; þei shuln lyue in whete, and shuln burioune as a vyne ȝerd. Be memoriel of hym as wijn of Lyban.
- viii Effraym, what ouer to me ydolis? Y shal heere hym, and Y shal dresse hym as a beeche waxinge green. Of me þi fruyte is founden.

ix Who is wijfe, and shal vndirstonden þese þingis? vndirstondynge, and shal wite þese þingis? For riȝtful þe wayes of þe Lord, and iust men shuln walke in hem; forsoþe trespassours shuln falle in hem.

Here endip Ofee, and bigynneþ Joel, prophete.

JOEL.

þe book of Joel, prophete.

Capitulum I.

i The word of þe Lord, þat is maad to Joel, þe sone of Fatuel.

ii Heere ȝe, olde men, þis, and wiþ eeris perceyue ȝe, alle dwellers of erþe. ȝif þis þing is don in ȝour days, or in days of ȝour faders.

iii Vpon þis þing telle ȝe to ȝour sones, and ȝour sonys to her sonys, and þe sonys of hem to an oþer generacioun.

iv A locust eete þe residue of eruke, þat is, a worme of bowis, and a bruke eete þe residue of locust, and rust eete þe residue of bruke.

v Awake ȝe, drunken men, and weepe; and ȝoule ȝe, alle þat drynken wyne in swetnesse; for it perishide fro ȝour mouþ.

vi Forsoþe folk haþ styed vpon my lond, stronge and vnmouumbreable. Þe teep of hym as teep of lyoun, and his wangteeþ as whelpis of a lyoun.

vii He haþ putte my vyne ȝerd in to desert, and haþ drawen of þe barc of my fijg tree. He nakynge robbide it, and castide awey; þe braunchis þerof ben maad whijt.

viii Weile þou, as a mayden gird wiþ a facche vpon þe husbonde of hir puberte, þat is, tyme of weddynge.

ix Sacrifice perishide, and libacioun, þat is, offryng fleetynge þingus, of þe hous of þe Lord; and prestis, mynystris of þe Lord, murneden.

x Þe cuntrie is robbid, þe erþe mournede; for whete is waastid, and wijn is confoundid, and oyle langwihide, or failide.

xi Erþe tiliers ben confoundid, vyne tiliers ȝouliden vpon whete, wijn, and barley; for corn of þe feeld perishide.

xii Þe vyne ȝerd is confoundid, and þe fyge tree langwihide. Poumgarnet, and palme tree, and maal tree, or fir, of whom mastis ben maad, and alle trees of þe feeld dryeden; for ioye is confoundid fro sonys of men.

xiii ȝe prestis, gyrd ȝou, and weile; ȝe mynystris of þe auter, ȝoule. ȝe mynystris of my God, entre ȝe yn, ligge ȝe in sak; for sacrifice perishide of þe hous of ȝour God, and offryng of fleetyng þing.

xiv Halewe ȝe fastyng, clepe ȝe cumpayne, gadre ȝe olde men, and alle dwellers of þe lond in to þe hous of ȝour God; and crye ȝe to þe Lord, xv A! A! A! to þe day; for þe day of þe Lord is niȝ, and as waastyng it shal cum of þe miȝty.

xvi Wher not before ȝour eeȝen fodis perishen of þe hous of your God; gladnesse and ioye wiþ outen forþ?

xvii Beestus wexiden roten to gidre in her drit. Berns ben destryued, celers ben scaterd, for whete is confusid.

xviii What forewide a beeſt wiþ ynne? flockis of grete beeſtis lowiden? for leſewe is not to hem; bot and flockis of ſheep perishiden.

xix To þee, Lord, Y shal crye, for fijre ete þe fair þingus of desert, and flawme brente alle trees of þe cuntrie.

xx Bot and beeſtis of þe feeld, as a feeld þristyng rayn, byhelden vp to þee; for wellis of watriſ ben dried vp, and fijr deuourede þe fair þingis of desert.

Capitulum II.

i Syng ȝe wiþ trumpe in Syon, ȝoule ȝe in myn holy mounteyn. Alle dwellers of erþe be trublid to gydre; for þe day of þe Lord cummeþ, ii for niȝ is þe day of derknessis and myſt, and day of cloude and of whirlwynd. As þe morning sprad abrood, vpon hillis myche peple and strong. Lijc to hym was not fro þe bygynnyng, and after hym shal not be, vnto zeeris of generacioun and generacioun.

iii Byfore þe face of hym fijr deuourynge, and after hym brenyng flawme; as a ȝerde of voluptee þe erþe byfore hym, and after hym aloonenesse of desert, neþer þer is þat shal aſcape hym.

iv As þe fiȝt of horsis þe fiȝt of hem, and as horsmen so þei shuln renne.

v As fown of cartis on coppis of hillis shuln liþe; so þe fown of flawme of fijre deuourynge stoble, as a stronge peple maad redy to bataile.

vi Of þe face of hym peplis shuln be tourmentid, alle cheeris shuln be dryuen in to a pot.

vii As stronge þei shuln renne, as men fiȝters þei shuln stye on þe walle. Men shuln go in her wayes, and þei shuln not bowe awey fro her papes.

viii Eche shal not streyte his broþer, eche shuln go in his paþ; bot and by wyndowis þei shuln falle, and þei shuln not be distroyed.

ix ȝei shuln entre in to þe cyte, ȝei shuln renne in þe wall; ȝei shuln stye vpon housis, ȝei shuln entre by wyndowis as a niȝt beef.

x Of þe face of hym þe erþe tremblide togydrye, heuens ben moued, þe funne and þe mone ben maad derk, and sterriſ wiþdrownen her liȝt.

xi And þe Lord ȝaue his voice byfore þe face of his ooſt, for many ben þe castels of hym ful myche; for stronge, and doyng þe word of hym. Forsoþe þe day of þe Lord grete, and dredful ful myche, and who shal fusteyne it?

xii Now þerfor saiþ þe Lord, Be ȝe conuerted to me in al ȝour herte, in faſtyng, and weepyng, and weylyng;

xiii and kerue ȝe ȝour hertis, and not ȝour clopingus, and be ȝe conuertid to þe Lord ȝour God, for he is benygne, and mercyful, pacient, and of myche mercy, and abydyng vpon malice.

xiv Who wote, ȝif God be conuertid, and forȝeue, and leue after hym bleffyng? sacrifice and offryng of fleetyng þingus to þe Lord ȝour God.

xv Synge ȝe wiþ trump in Syon, halewe ȝe fastyng, clepe ȝe cumpayne; xvi gadre ȝe þe peple, halewe ȝe þe chirche, gadre ȝe to gidre olde men, gadre ȝe litil children, and soukyngé tetis; þe husbonde go out of his couche, and þe wif of hir chaumbre.

xvii Bitwix þe vestiarie and þe auter prestis, mynyftris of þe Lord, shuln weepe, and shuln faye, Lord! spare þou, spare to þi peple, and ȝeue not þin eritage into schendship, þat naciouns be lordis to hem. Whi soþely fayn þei in peplis, Wher is þe God of hem?

xviii þe Lord louede his lond, and sparide to his peple.

xix And þe Lord answarde, and faide to his peple, Loo! Y shal fende to ȝou whete, and wijn, and oyle, and ȝe shuln be fulfilled in hem; and Y shal namore ȝeue ȝou shenʃhip in heþen men.

xx And Y shal make fer fro ȝou hym þat is of þe norþ; and Y shal putte hym awey in to a lond wiþ outen way, and desert; þe face þerof aȝeinus þe eest see, and þe laſt þerof to þe last see; and þe stynk of hym shal stye vp, and þe root of hym shal stye vp, for he did proudly.

xxi Erþe, nyl þou dreede, bot ioye þou wiþ outforþ, and be glad; for þe Lord magnyfiede þat he shulde do.

xxii Nyl ȝe dreede, ȝe beelis of þe cuntrie, for þe faire þingus of desert buriowneden; for a tree brouȝte to his fruyte, þe fijge tree and þe vyneȝerd ȝauen her vertue.

xxiii And ioye ȝe, sonys of Syon, and gladde ȝe in þe Lord ȝour God, for he ȝauet to ȝou a techer of riȝtwisnesse, and he shal make for to cum doun to ȝou morewe rayn, and late, as fro þe bygynnnyng.

xxiv And feedlis shuln be fulfillid wiþ whete, and pressours shuln be plenteuouse in wijn, and oyle.

xxv And Y shal ȝeelde to you þe ȝeris whom þe locult eete, and bruke, and rust, and eruke, my grete strengþe, whom Y lente in to ȝou.

xxvi And ȝe shuln ete etynge, and ye shuln be fulfillid; and ye shuln herie þe name of þe Lord ȝour God, þat did wiþ ȝou marueilis; and my peple shal not be confounded in to wiþ outen eende.

xxvii And ȝe shuln wite, for in þe mydil of Yrael Y am; and Y þe Lord ȝour God, and þere is not more; and my peple shal not be confoundid in to wiþ outen eende.

xxviii And it shal be, after þese þingus Y shal helde out my spirit vpon eche fleshe, and ȝour sonys shuln prophecie, and ȝoure douȝters; ȝour olde men shuln mete sweiens, and ȝour ȝunge men shuln see vilious.

xxix But and on my feruauntis, and hond maydens, in þo days Y shal heelde out my spirit;

xxx and Y shal ȝeue wondris in heuen, and in erþe, blood, and fijr, and vapour of smoke.

xxxi þe funne shal be turned in to dercknesſis, and þe mone in to blood, byfore þat þe grete day and orrible of þe Lord cumme.

xxxii And it shal be, eche man þat shal inclepe þe name of þe Lord, shal be saaf; for in þe hill of Syon and in Jerusalem shal be saluacioun, as þe Lord saide, and in þe residue, whom þe Lord shal clepe.

Capitulum III.

i For loo! in þo days, and in þat tyme, whanne Y shal to gydre turne þe caitiffee of Juda and Jerusalem, ii Y shal gedre alle folkis, and Y shal leede hem forþ in to þe valey of Josaphath; and Y shal dispute þere wiþ hem on my peple, and myn eritage Yrael, whom þei scaterden in naciouns; and þei departiden my lond, iii and on my peple þei fenten lot; and þei puttiden a chijld in þe bordel hous, and folden a meydchijld for wijn, þat þei shulden drynke.

iv Sopely what to me and ȝou, Tyrus, and Sydon, and alle þe terme of Palestynys? Wher ȝe shuln ȝeilde vengyng to me? and ȝif ȝe vengen ȝou aȝeinus me, soone swiftly Y shal ȝeelde þe whilnesse to ȝou on ȝour hed.

v Forsoþe ȝe token my syluer and gold, and my desireable and most faire þingus ȝe baren in to ȝour templis.

vi And ȝe folden sonys of Juda, and sonys of Jerusalem to þe sonys of Greekis, þat ȝe shulden make hem fer fro her coostis.

vii Loo! Y shal reyse hem of þe place in whiche ȝe folden hem; and Y shal turne to gydre ȝour ȝeldyng in to ȝour hed.

viii And Y shal felle ȝour sonys and ȝour douȝtris in þe hondis of þe sonys of Juda, and þei shuln felle hem to Sabeis, a fer folc, for þe Lord spac.

ix Crie ȝe þis þing in heiþen men, halewe ȝe bateile, reyse ȝe strong men; alle menfiȝters, cum to, and stey vp.

x Bete to gydre ȝour plowis in to swerdis, and ȝour pikoylis, or mattokis, in to speris; þe seeke man faye, for Y am strong.

xi Breſte ȝe out, and come ȝe, alle folkis of cumpas, and be ȝe gadrid; þere þe Lord shal make þi stronge men for to dye.

xii Folkis rijſe to gydre, and stie vp in to þe valey of Josephath; for þere I shal sitte, þat Y deme alle folkis in cumpas.

xiii Sende ȝe fykelis, for þe corn haþ rypid; cum ȝe, and discende ȝe, for þe pressoure is ful; pressours ben plenteuouse, for þe malice of hem is multiplied.

xiv Peplis, peplis in þe valey of concisioun, or fleaynge to gydre; for þe day of þe Lord is niȝ in þe valey of concisioun.

xv Be sonne and mone ben maad derck, and sterries wipdrewen her ihynnyng.
 xvi And þe Lord of Syon shal rore, and of Jerusalem shal ȝeue his voice, and heuens and erþe shuln be moued; and þe Lord hoope of his peple, and strengþe of þe sonyss of Yrael.
 xvii And ȝe shuln wite, for Y þe Lord ȝour God, dwellynge in Syon, in my holy hyll; and Jerusalem shal be holy, and aliens shuln namore passē þerby.
 xviii And it shal be, in þat day mounteyns shuln droppe swetnes, and litil hillis shuln flowe wiþ mylk, and by alle þe reuers of Juda waters shuln go; and a welle shal go out of þe hous of þe Lord, and shal moiste þe reyny streme of þornys.
 xix Egypt shal be in to desolacioun, and Ydume in to desert of perdiccioun; for þat þat þei diden wickidly in to sonyss of Juda, and shedden out innocent blood in her lond.
 xx And Jude in to wiþ oute eende shal be enhabited, and Jerusalem in to generacioun and generacioun.
 xxi And Y shal clense þe blood of hem, whiche Y clenside not; and þe Lord shal dwelle in Syon.

Here endeth þe boke of Joel, and bigynnes þe boke of Amos.

AMOS.

Þe book of Amos.

Capitulum I.

i The wordis of Amos, whiche was in sheperdis þingus of Thecue, whiche he sawȝ on Yrael, in þe days of Ofye, kyng of Juda, and in þe days of Jeroboam, sone of Joas, kyng of Yrael, byfore two ȝeris of þe erþe mouyng.
 ii And he saide, Þe Lord shal rore of Syon, and of Jerusalem shal ȝeue his voice; and þe faire þingus of sheperdis mourneden, and þe top of Carmele is dried vp.
 iii Þese þingis saiþ þe Lord, On þree grete trespassis of Damask, and on foure, Y shal not conuerte hym, for þat þat þei þreshiden in yren waynes Galaad.
 iv And Y shal sende fijr in to þe hous of Afael, and it shal deuoure þe houses of Benadab.
 v And Y shal breke to gydre þe barris, or lockis, of Damaske, and Y shal distruye þe dweller of þe feeld of ydol, and þe holdynge sceptre of þe hous of voluntee and lechchorie; and þe peple of Syrie shal be transferrid to Sirenens, saiþ þe Lord.
 vi Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord, On þree grete trespassis of Gasa, and on foure, Y shal not conuerte hym, for þat þat he translatide perfit caitiftee, þat he shulde close to gydre it in to Ydume.
 vii And Y shal sende fijr in to þe wall of Gasa, and it shal deuoure houfis þerof.

viii And Y shal distruye þe dwellers of Azotus, and þe holdynge sceptre of Ascalon; and Y shal turne to gydre myn hond vpon Accharon, and relikis of Philistiens shuln perische, seiþ þe Lord God.
 ix Þese þingis saiþ þe Lord God, On þree greet trespassis of Tyrus, and on four, Y shal not conuerte hym, for þat þat þei closiden to gydre perfit caytiffee in Ydume, and bouȝten not of þe boond of breþeren.
 x And Y schal sende fijr in to þe wall of Tyrus, and it shal deuoure þe houfis þerof.
 xi Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God, On þree grete trespassis of Edom, and on foure, Y shal not conuerte hym, for þat he pursuede in fwerd his broþer, and defoulide þe mercy of hym, and heelde ouer his wodenesse, and kepte his indignacioun til in to þe eend.
 xii Y shal sende fijr in to Theman, and it shal deuoure þe houfis of Bofra.
 xiii Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God, On þree grete trespassis of þe sonyss of Amon, and on þe foure, Y shal not conuerte hym, for þat he karf wymmen wiþ chijld of Galaad, for to alarge his terme.
 xiv And Y shal kyndyl fijr in þe wall of Rabba, and it shal deuoure his houfis, in ȝoulyng in þe day of bateyle, and in whirlwynd in þe day of meuyng to gydre.
 xv And Melchon shal go in to caitiftee, he and his princis to gydre, saiþ þe Lord.

Capitulum II.

i Thefe þingis saiþ þe Lord God, On þree grete trespassis of Moab, and on foure, Y shal not conuerte hym, for þat he brente þe boonyss of þe kyng of Ydume vn to ash.
 ii And Y shal sende fijr in to Moab, and it shal deuoure þe houfis of Carioth; and Moab shal dye in sown of trumpe.
 iii And Y shal distruye þe domysman of þe mydil þerof, and Y shal flei alle his princis wiþ hym, saiþ þe Lord.
 Þese þingis saiþ þe Lord, iv On þree grete trespassis of Juda, and on foure, Y shal not conuerte hym, for þat he castide awey þe lawe of þe Lord, and kepte not his comaundementis; forsoþe her ydols disceiuueden hem, after whom þe faders of hem wenten.
 v And Y shal sende fijr in to Juda, and it shal deuoure þe houfis of Jerusalem.
 vi Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord, On þree grete trespassis of Yrael, and on foure, Y shal not conuerte hym, for þat he folde a iuft man for syluer, and a poore man for shoone.
 vii Whiche breken to gydre on dust of þe erþe þe hedis of pore men, and bowen awey þe waye of meeke men; þe sone and his fadir wente to a wenche, þat þei defouliden myn holy name.

viii And on clopis leyde to wedde þei eeten byfidis eche auter, and drunken wijn of dampnyd men in þe hous of her God.

ix Forsoþe Y distruyede Ammorey fro þe face of hem, whos hienesse of cedris þe hyeneſſe of hym, and he strong as an ook; and Y brake to gidre þe fruyte of hym aboue, and þe rotis of hym byneþe.

x Y am, þat made ȝou for to stye vp fro þe lond of Egypt, and Y ledde ȝou out in desert fourty ȝeer, þat ȝe shulde weelde þe lond of Ammorrey.

xi And Y reyſide of ȝour sonys in to prophetis, and of ȝour ȝunge men Naȝareys. Wher it is not þus, ȝe sonys of Yrael? saip þe Lord.

xii And ȝe ȝauen wijn to Naȝareys, and ȝe comaundiden to prophetis, sayinge, Prophecie ȝe not.

xiii Loo! Y shal fowne strongly vndir ȝou, as a wayn chargid wiþ hay fowneþ strongly.

xiv And fliȝt shal perische fro þe swift, and a strong man shal not weelde his vertue, and a miȝty man in strengþe shal not faue his soule, or liȝt;

xv and a man holdynge bowe shal not stonde, and þe swift in his feet shal not be faued; and þe styer of hors shal not faue his soule, xvi and þe stronge in herte amonge men shal flee nakid in þat day, saip þe Lord.

Capitulum III.

i Sonys of Yrael, heer ȝe þe word þat þe Lord spac on ȝou, on al þe kynred, whiche Y ledde out of þe lond of Egypt, ii sayinge, Oonly ȝou Y knew of alle kynredis of erþe; þerfore Y shal visite on ȝou alle ȝour wickidnesſis.

iii Wher two shuln go to gydre, no but it shal accorde to hem?

iv Wher a lyoun shal rore in þe wijld wode, no bot he shal haue pray? Wher þe whelp of a lyoun shal ȝeue voice of his couche, no bot he shal cacche sum þing?

v Wher a brid shal falle in to grane of erþe, wiþ outen a foulur? Wher a gnare shal be taken awey fro erþe, before it shal take sum þing?

vi ȝif a trumpe shal fowne in a cytee, and þe peple shal not dreede? ȝif þere be yuel in þe citee, whiche þe Lord shal not do?

vii For þe Lord God shal not do a word, no bot he shal shewe his preuyte to his seruauntis prophetis.

viii A lyoun shal rore, who shal not dreede? þe Lord God spac, who shal not prophecie?

ix Make ȝe herd in þe housis of Azotus, and in þe housis of þe lond of Egypt; and faye ȝe, Be ȝe gadrid on þe hillis of Samarye, and see many woodnessis in þe mydil þeroft, and men suffrynge fals chalenge in priuy chaumbbris þeroft.

x And þei couplen not do riȝt þing, saip þe Lord, tresourynge wickidnesse and raueyn in her housis.

xi Perfore þese þingus saip þe Lord God, Þe lond shal be in tribulacioun, and shal be cumpafid; and þi strengþe shal be drawen awey fro þee, and þin housis shuln be robbid.

xii ȝese þingus saip þe Lord, Hou ȝif a sheperd delyuere two hypis, or þe last þing of a litil ere of þe lyouns mouþe, so þe sonys of Yrael shuln be delyuered, þat dwellen in Samarie, in plage, or wound, of þe litil bed, and in þe lappe of Damaske.

xiii Heere ȝe, and witnesse ȝe to gidre in þe hous of Jacob, saip þe Lord God of oostis.

xiv For in þe day, whanne Y shal bygynne for to visite þe trespassis of Yrael on hym, Y shal visite and on þe auters of Bethel; and þe corners of þe auters shuln be kitte of, and shuln falle in to erþe.

xv And Y shal smyte þe wyntyr hous wiþ þe somer hous, and þe housis of yuer shuln perishe, and many housis shuln be distruyed, saip þe Lord.

Capitulum III.

i Heer þis word, ȝe fatt kyen, þat ben in þe mount of Samarie; whiche don fals chalenge to nedys men, and to gydre breken poore men; whiche faien to ȝour lordis, Brente ȝee, and we shuln drynke.

ii ȝe Lord God swore in his holy, for loo! days shuln cum on ȝou; and þei shuln reyse ȝou in a dart wiþ out yren, and ȝour relykis in pottis boylyng.

iii And by opnyngis ȝe shuln go out, an oper aȝein an oper, and ȝe shuln be cast in to Arnoun, saip þe Lord.

iv Cum ȝe to Bethel, and do ȝe vnpytously; to Galgala, and multiplie ȝe trespassyng; and offre ȝe eerly ȝour sacrifices for victorie, in þree days ȝour tiþes.

v And sacrificie ȝe heryng of four dowid, and clepe ȝe wilful offryngus, and telle ȝe; forsoþe þus ȝe wolden, sonys of Yrael, saip þe Lord God.

vi Wherfore and Y ȝaue to ȝou eggynge of teeþ in alle ȝour cytees, and need of loues in alle ȝour placis; and ȝe turneden not aȝein to me, saip þe Lord.

vii And Y forbad rayn fro ȝou, whanne ȝit þree moneþis weren ouer, til to type corn; and I reynede on oo citee, and I reynede not on an oper; oo part is reyned, and þe part on whiche Y reynede not, dryede.

viii And two and þree cytees camen to oo citee, for to drinke water, and þei ben not fulfillid; and ȝe turnede not aȝein to me, saip þe Lord.

ix Y fmote ȝou in brennyng wynd, and in myldew, þe multitude of ȝour gardeyns, and ȝour vijn ȝerdis; and olyuetis, or placis wher olyues wexen, and fijge placis, eruke eete; and ȝee turneden not aȝein to me, saip þe Lord.

x Y sente in to ȝou deeþ in þe waye of Egypt, Y smote in fwerd ȝour ȝung men, vn to caitife of ȝour horfis, and Y made þe stynk of ȝour castels, or multitude of armed men, for to stye in to ȝour nose þrillis; and ȝe turneden not aȝein to me, saip þe Lord.

- xi Y distruyede ȝou, as God distruyede Sodom and Gomor, and ȝe ben maad as a brond rauyshid of brennyng; and ȝe turneden not aȝein to me, saif þe Lord.
 xii Wherfore þis Y shal do to þee, Yrael; forsoþe after þat Y shal do to þee þis þing, Yrael, be þou maad redy in to aȝein cummyng of þi God.
 xiii For loo! Y fourmynge hillis, and makyng of nouȝt wynd, and tellynge to man his speche, makyng a morewe cloude, or myst, and goynge on heeȝ þingis of erþe; þe Lord of ooftis name of hym.
- Capitulum V.
- i Heere ȝe, hous of Yrael, þis word, þat Y reyse on ȝou a weylyng.
 ii þe meyden of Yrael felle doun, she shal not put to, þat she rijse aȝein; she is cast doun in to hir erþe, þer is not þat shal reyse hir.
 iii For þese þingus saif þe Lord God, þe cite of whiche a þousand wenten out, an hundred shuln be left þeryne; and of whiche an hundred wenten out, ten shuln be left þerynne, in þe hous of Yrael.
 iv For þese þingis seiþ þe Lord to þe hous of Israel, Seeke ȝe me, and ȝe shulen lyue; v and nyle ȝe seeke Bethel, and in to Galgala nyle ȝe entre, and into Bersabe paffe ȝe not; for Galgal schal be led caityf, and Bethel shal be vnonprofitable.
 vi Seeke ȝe þe Lord, and lyue ȝe, leſt per auenture þe hous of Joseph be brent as fijre; and it shal deuoure, and þer shal not be, þat shal quenche Bethel.
 vii Whiche conuerten dom in to wermode, and forsaken riȝtwysnesse of þe Lord in erþe, viii and makyng Arture and Orion, and turnyng in to morewning dercknessis, and chaungyng day in to niȝt; whiche clepiȝ waters of þe see, and heeldiȝ out hem on þe face of þe erþe; þe Lord is name of hym.
 ix Whiche scornewȝ distruyinge, or waastnesse, on þe stronge, and bringiȝ robbing on þe miȝty.
 x Pei hadden in hate þe repreuyng man in þe ȝate, and þei wlatiden a man spekyng perfylly.
 xi Perfore for þat þat ȝe robbiden þe pore man, and token fro hym þe chosen pray, ȝe shuln beelde houſis wiȝ sware stoon, and ȝe shuln not dwelle in hem; ȝe shuln plante most amyable vyne ȝerdis, and ȝe shuln not drinke þe wyne of hem.
 xii For Y knewe ȝour manye grete trespassis, and ȝour strong synnes; enmyes of þe iust, takyng ȝiftis, and beringe doun pore men in þe ȝate.
 xiii Perfore a prudent man in þat tyme shal be stille, for þe tyme is yuel.
 xiv Seke ȝe good, and not yuel, þat ȝe lyue, and þe Lord God of ooftis shal be wiȝ ȝou, as ȝe faiden.
 xv Hate ȝe yuel, and loue ȝe good, and ordeyne ȝe in þe ȝate dom; ȝif per auenture þe Lord God of ooftus haue mercye to þe relikis of Joseph.

- xvi Perfore þese þingus saif þe Lord God of ooftis, hauyng lordship, In alle stretis weylyng, and in alle þingus þat ben wiȝ outforþ 'it shal be said, Wo! wo! and þei shuln cleepe an erþe tilier to mournyng, and hem to weylyng, þat kunnen weyle.
 xvii And in alle weyes weylyng shal be, for Y shal passe by þe mydil of þee, saif þe Lord.
 xviii Wo to men desiryng þe day of þe Lord; wher to it to ȝou? ȿis day of þe Lord dercknessis, and not liȝt.
 xix Hou ȝif a man renne fro face of a lyoun, and a bere renne to hym; and he entre in þe hous, and lene wiȝ his hond vpon þe walle, and a serpent dwellyng in shadewe byte hym.
 xx Wher not dercknessis þe day of þe Lord, and not liȝt; and myst, and not shynynge þerynne?
 xxi Y hatide and castide awey ȝoure feest days, and Y shal not take þe odour of ȝour cumpaynes.
 xxii þat ȝif ȝe shuln offre to me ȝour brent sacrifices, and ȝiftis, Y shal not resceyue, and Y shal not byholde avowis of ȝour fat þingus.
 xxiii Do awey fro me þe noyse of þi songis, or ditees, and Y shal not heere þe songis of þin harpe. xxiv And dom shal be shewid as water, and riȝtwysnesse as a strong stream of reyn.
 xxv Wher ȝe offriden to me ooftis, and sacrifice in desert fourty ȝeeris, ȝe hous of Yrael?
 xxvi And ȝe han born tabernaclis to Moloch, ȝour god, and ymage of ȝoure ydolis, þe sterre of ȝour god, whiche ȝe maden to ȝou.
 xxvii And Y shal make ȝou for to paffe ouer Damask, faide þe Lord; God of ooftis name to hym.
- Capitulum VI.
- i Wo to ȝou, þat ben ful of richessis in Syon, and tristen in þe hille of Samarie, ȝe best men in honour, hedis of peplis, proudly goynge in to þe hous of Yrael.
 ii Go ȝe in to Calamye, and se ȝe, and go ȝe þennus in to Emath þe grete; and go ȝe doun in to Geth of Palestyns, and to alle þe best rewmes of hem, ȝif her terme be bradder þan ȝour terme.
 iii Whiche ȝe ben departid in to yuel day, and neijen to feete of wickidnesse; iv whiche ȝe sleepen in beddis of yuer, and wexen wijld, or iolyf, in ȝour beddis; whiche ȝe eete lombe of floc, and a calf of mydil of þe droue;
 v whiche ȝe syngen at voice of psautrie. As Daud þei geſſiden hem for to haue vessels of song, vi in vyols drinkyng wyne, and wiȝ best oynement anoyntid; in no þing þei suffriden on þe contricioun of Joseph.
 vii Wherfore now þei shuln paffe in þe hed of men paffyng ouer, and þe doyng, or trefoun, of men wexinge ioly shal be don awey.

viii Be Lord God swore in his soule, saip be Lord God of ooftis, Y wlate be pride of Jacob, and Y hate be hous of hym, and Y shal bytake be citee wiþ his dwellers; ix bat ȝif be relikis shuln be ten men in oon hous, and bei shuln dye.

x And his neȝbore shal take hym, and shal to gydre brenne hym, bat he bere out boonyngs of be hous. And he shal faye to hym, bat is in priue places of be hous, Wher bere is ȝit anentis bee? And he shal answere, An eend is. And he shal faye to hym, Be stille, and recorde not be name of be Lord.

xi For loo! be Lord shal comaunde, and shal smyte be gretter hous wiþ fallyngis, and be lesse hous wiþ keruyngis.

xii Wher horsis mown renne in stonyngs, or may it be erid in wijlde oxen? For ȝe conuerten dom in to bitternesse, and be fruyte of riȝtwisnesse in to wormod.

xiii Whiche ȝe gladen in nouȝt, whiche ȝe sayen, Wher not in oure strengþe we token to vs horns?

xiv Loo! Y shal reyse a folc vpon ȝou, ȝe be hous of Yrael, saip be Lord God of ooftis; and it shal to gydre breke ȝou fro entre of Emath vn to be streme of desert.

Capitulum VII.

i These þingus be Lord God shewide to me; and loo! a maker of locust in be bygynnyng of buriownyngs þingus of eeuen rayn, and loo! eeuen rayn after be clipper of floc, or kyng.

ii And it is don, whanne he eendide for to eete be herbe of erþe, Y saide, Lord God, be þou merciful, Y byfeche; who shal reyse Jacob, for he is litil?

iii Be Lord hadde mercy on þis þing; It shal not be, saide be Lord God.

iv Be Lord God shewide to me þis þing; and loo! be Lord God shal cleepe dom to fijr, and it shal deuoure myche depnesse, and shal eet to gydre a part.

v And Y saide, Lord God, reste þou, Y byfeche; who shal reise Jacob, for he is lytil?

vi Be Lord hadde mercy on þis þing; Bot and þis þing shal not be, saide be Lord God.

vii Be Lord God shewide to me þese þingus; and loo! be Lord stondyne on a wall teerid, or morterd, and in be hond of hym a truel of masoun.

viii And be Lord saide to me, What feest þou, Amos? And Y saide, A truel of masoun. And be Lord saide, Loo! Y shal putte a truel in mydil of my people Yrael; Y shal no more putte to, for to ouer leede hym; ix and be heeȝ þingus of be ydol shuln be distruyed, and be halewyngis of Yrael shuln be desolat; and Y shal ryele on be hous of Jeroboam in swerde.

x And Amasie, prest of Bethel, fente to Jeroboam, kyng of Yrael, sayinge, Amos rebellide aȝein us bee, in be mydil of be hous of Yrael; be lond may not fusteyne alle his wordis.

xi Forsoþe Amos saip þese þingus, Jeroboam shal dye in swerd, and Yrael caitif shal passe of his lond.

xii And Amasie saide to Amos, þou þat seest, go; flee þou in to be lond of Juda, and eete þou þere þi breedë; and þere þou shalt prophecie.

xiii And in Bethel þou shalt no more putte to, bat þou prophecie, for it is be halewyng of be kyng, and is hous of be rewme.

xiv And Amos answarde, and saide to Amasye, Y am not a prophete, Y am not þe sone of a prophete; but a neet heerde Y am, drawinge vp sycomoris.

xv And be Lord toke me, whanne Y fuede be floc; and be Lord saide to me, Go, and prophecie þou to my peple Yrael.

xvi And now heere þou be word of be Lord. þou faist, þou shalt not prophecie on Yrael, and þou shalt not droppe on be hous of ydol.

xvii For þis þing be Lord saip þese þingis, þi wylf in cytee shal do fornycacioun, and þi sonnys and þi douȝters in swerd shuln falle, and þin erþe shal be meetyn wiþ a litil coorde; and þou shalt dye in a polut lond, and Yrael shal passe caitif of his lond.

Capitulum VIII.

i The Lord God shewide to me þese þingis; and loo! an hoke of applis.

ii And be Lord saide, What feest þou, Amos? And Y saide, An hok of applis. And be Lord saide to me, Be eende cummeþ on my peple Yrael; Y shal namore putte to, bat Y passe by hym.

iii And be herris of temple shuln gretely soun in þat day, saip be Lord God. Manye men shuln dye, in eche place silence shal be cast doun.

iv Heere þis þing, whiche breken to gydre be pore man, and maken needy men of be lond for to fayle, v sayinge, Whan shal rype corn passe, and we shuln felle marchaundises? and be saboth, and we shuln opyn whete? bat we make lesse be mesure, and encresce be fycle, and vndirputte gylfull balauncis;

vi bat we welden in syluer nedys and pore men for shoon, and we felle clensingis of whete?

vii God swore aȝein us be pryd of Jacob, ȝif Y shal forȝete in to be eende alle be werkis of hem.

viii Wher on þis þing be erþe shal not be moued to gidre, and eche dweller þerof shal mourne? And it shal stye vp as al be flood, and shal be cast out, and shal fleete awey as be strond of Egypt.

ix And it shal be, saip be Lord, in þat day be sunne shal go downn in mydday, and Y shal make be erþe for to be derk in day of liȝt.

x And Y shal conuerte ȝour feest days in to mournyng, and alle ȝour songis in to weylyng; and Y shal leede yn on al ȝour bac a fak, and on eche ȝour hed ballidnesse; and Y shal putte it as mournyng of an oon bigeten sone, and be last þingus þerof as a bitter day.

xi Loo! þe days cummen, saip þe Lord, and Y shal fende out hungre in to erþe; not hungre of breed, neþer brift of water, bot of heeryng of þe word of God.
 xii And þei shuln be moued to gydre fro see vn to see, and fro þe norþ vn to þe eest þei shuln cumpasse, feekyng þe word of þe Lord, and þei shuln not fynde.
 xiii In þat day faire maydeyns shul faile, and ȝunge in brift,
 xiv whiche sweren in trespasses of Samarye, and fayen, þi god lyueþ, Dan, and þe waye of Bersabe lyueþ; and þei shuln falle, and þei shuln namore ryse aȝein.

Capitulum IX.

i I saw þe Lord stondyne on þe auter, and he saide, Smyte þou þe herre, and be þe ouer prisfoldis moued to gydre; forþoþe auerice in þe hed of alle, and Y shal flea in swerd þe last of hem; þer shal no fliȝt be to hem, and he þat shal flee of hem, shal not be faued.
 ii ȝif þei shuln go doun vn to heuen, fro þennus my hond shal leede hem out; and ȝif þei shuln stye til in to heuen, fro þennus Y shal drawe hem doun.
 iii And ȝif þei shuln be hid in þe top of Carmele, fro þennus Y feekyng shal do hem awey; and ȝif þei shuln hyde hem self fro myn eeȝen in depness of þe see, þer Y shal comaunde to a serpent, and it shal bite hem.
 iv And ȝif þei shuln go away in to caitiftee bifore her emmyes, þer Y shal comaunde to swerd, and it shal flea hem. And Y shal putte myn eeȝen vpon hem in to yuel, and not in to good.
 v And þe Lord God of oostis, þat toucheþ erþe, and it shal fayle, and alle men dwellynge þeryn shuln mourne; and it shal stye vp as eche stronde, and shal fleete away as þe flood of Egypt.
 vi He þat beeldib his stying vp in heuen, and foundide his knytche, or berþen, on erþe; whiche clepiþ waters of þe see, and heeldib hem out on face of þe erþe; þe Lord name of hym.
 vii Wher not as sonys of Ethiopyens ȝe ben to me, þe sonys of Yrael? saip þe Lord God. Wher Y made not Yrael for to stye vp of þe lond of Egypt, and Palistens of Capadocie, and Siriens of Syren?

viii Loo! þe eeȝen of þe Lord God on rewme synnyng, and Y shal to gydre breke it fro face of þe erþe; neþeles Y brekyng togidere shal not breke to gydre þe hous of Jacob, saip þe Lord.
 ix Loo! soþeli Y shal comaunde, and shal smyte in alle folkis þe hous of Yrael, as whete is smyten in a rydil, and a lytil stoon of it shal not fal on erþe.
 x Alle synners of my people shal dye in swerde, whiche sayn, Yuel shal not neiȝ, and shal not cumme on vs.
 xi In þat day Y shal rayfe þe tabernacle of Dauid, þat felle doun, and Y shal aȝein beelde opnyngis of wallis þerof, and Y shal instore þo þingis þat fallen to gydre;
 and Y shal aȝein beelde hym, as in olde days, xii þat þei weelde relikis of Ydome, and alle naciouns;

 for þat my name is in clepid on hem, saip þe Lord doyng þese þingus.

xiii Loo! days cummen, saip þe Lord, and þe erer shal cacche þe reper, and treder of grape þe man fendynge feed; and mounteyns shuln droppe swetnesse, and alle smale hyllis shuln be tiliȝid.

xiv And Y shal conuerte þe caytife of my peple Yrael, and þei shuln beelde forfaken cytees, and shuln dwelle;
 and shuln plaunte vyne ȝerdis, and þei shuln drinke wyne of hem; and þei shuln make gardyns, and shuln ete fruytis of hem.

xv And Y shal plante hem on her erþe, and Y shal namore drawe hem out of her lond, whiche Y ȝau to hem, saip þe Lord þi God.

Here endiþ þe book of Amos, prophete, and bigynneþ þe book of Abdias, prophete.

ABDIAS.

Here bigynneþ þe boke of Abdias þe prophete.

i The visioun of Abdias. Peþe þingus saip þe Lord God to Edom. We herden an heeryng of þe Lord, and he sente a legate, or messager, to heþen men. Ryse ȝe, and to gydre ryse we aȝeinus hym in to bateile.

ii Loo! Y ȝau þee litil in heþen men, þou art ful myche contemptible, or worþi to be dispisid.

iii þe pride of þin herte enhaunside þee, dwellynge in kytting, or hoolis of stonyss, areysyng þi seete. þe whiche saift in þin herte, Who shal drawe me doun in to erþe?

iv ȝif þou shalt be reysid as an egle, and ȝif þou shalt putte þi nest amoneg sterries, fro þennus Y shal drawe þee doun, saip þe Lord.

v ȝif niȝ þeeues entriden to þee, ȝif outlawis bi niȝt, hou shuldist þou haue be styll? wher þei shulden not haue stoln ynowe þingus to hem? ȝif gadreris of grapis hadden entriden to þee, wher at þe leste þei shulden haue left racyns to þee?

vi Hou souȝten þei Esau, ferchiden þe hid þingus of
 hym?

vii Vn to þe termys þei senten þee out; and alle men of þi couenaunt scorneden, or disceyueden, þee, men of þi pees wexiden strong aȝeinus þee; þei þat shuln ete wiþ þee, shuln putte aspies, or tresouns, vndir þee; þer is no prudence in hym.

viii Wher not in þat day, saip þe Lord, Y shal leese þe wyse men of Ydume, and prudence of þe mount of Esau?

ix And þi stronge men shuln dreede fro mydday, þat a man of þe hill of Esau perishe.

x For fleayng and for wickidnes in to þi broþer Jacob, confusioun shal hille þee, and þou shalt perishe in to wiþ out eende.

xi In þe day whan þou stodist aȝeinus hym, whanne aliens token þe oost of hym, and straungers entriden þe ȝatis of hym, and on Jerusalem senten lot, and þou waſt as oon of hem.
 xii And þou ſhalt not diſpife in þe day of þi broþer, in day of his pilgrimage, and þou ſhalt not glade on fonyſ of Juda, in þe day of perdiſoun of hem; and þou ſhalt not magnyſie þi mouȝ in day of anguyſch, xiii neþer ſhalt entre þe ȝate of my peple, in þe day of fallying of hem; neþer and þou ſhalt diſpife in þe yuels of hym, in þe day of his diſtriſing; and þou ſhalt not be ſent out aȝens his oft, in þe dai of his diſtriſing; xiv neþer þou ſchalt ſtonde in þe goynge out of þe waies, þat þou fle hem þat fledden; and þou ſchalt not cloſe to gydrie þe relikiſ, or left men, of hym in þe day of tribulacioun,
 xv for þe day of þe Lord is niȝe vpon alle heiþen men.
 As þou haſt don, ſo it ſhal be don to þee; he ſhal conuerte þi ȝeldyng in to þin hed. xvi Forſoþe as ȝe drunke on myn holy hylle, alle heiþen men ſhuln drynke byſily, and þei ſhuln drynke, and ſhuln soupe vp; and þei ſhuln be as þei ben not.
 xvii And in þe hill of Syon ſaluacioun ſhal be, and holy ſhal be; and þe hous of Jacob ſhal weelde hem whiche weldiden hem.
 xviii And þe hous of Jacob ſhal be fijr, and þe hous of Joseph flawme, and þe hous of Eſau ſtobul; and þei ſhuln be brent in hem, and þei ſhuln deuoure hem; and relikiſ ſhuln namore be of þe hous of Eſau, for þe Lord ſpake.
 xix And þeſe þat ben at þe ſouþe, ſhuln enherite þe hill of Eſau; and þei þat in þe lowe feedlis, Philiftiym; and þei ſhuln weelde þe cuntrie of Effraym, and cuntre of Samarie; and Beniamyn ſhal weelde Galaad.
 xx And transmygracioun, or ouer paſſyng, of þis oost of fonyſ of Yrael, alle places of Cananeys, vn to Sarepta; and þe transmygracioun of Jerusalem, þat is in Bosphoro, ſhal weelde citees of þe ſouþ.
 xxi And faueouris ſhuln ſtye in to þe hyll of Syon, for to deme þe hill of Eſau, and ſhal be rewme to þe Lord.
 Amen.

Here endiþ þe book of Abdias, prop̄ete, and bigynneþ þe book of Jonas, þe prop̄ete.

JONAS.

Here bigynneþ þe boke of Jonas prop̄ete.

Capitulum I.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad to Jonas, ſone of Amathy, ſayinge, ii Ryse þou, and go in to Nynyuen, þe grete cytee, and preche þou þerynne, for þe malyce þeroſ ſtyeþ vp byfore me.

iii And Jonas ros for to fleeȝ in to Tharsis, fro þe face of þe Lord. And he came doun to Joppe, and foonde a ſhip goynge in to Tharsis, and he ȝaue ſhiphijre to hem; and he wente doun in to it, for to go wiȝ hem in to Tharsis, fro þe face of þe Lord.
 iv Forſoþe þe Lord fente a grete wynde in þe ſe, and a grete tempeſt is maad in þe ſe, and þe ſhip was in peryl for to be broken.
 v And ſhip men dredden, and men crieden to her god;
 and ſenten vessels, þat weren in þe ſhip, in to þe ſe, þat it were maad liſter of hem. And Jonas wente doun to þe ynner þingis of þe ſhip, and ſlepte in a greuouſe ſleep.
 vi And þe gouernour cam to hym, and ſaide to hym,
 What art þou caſt doun in ſleep? ryſe þou, ynclepe þi God, ȝif per auenture God aȝein þenk of vs, and we periſhe not.
 vii And a man ſaide to his felaw, Cum ȝe, and ſende we lot, and wite we, whi þis yuel is to vs. And þei ſenten lottis, and lot felle on Jonas.
 viii And þei ſaiden to hym, Shewe þou to vs, for cause of what þing þis yuel is to vs; what is þi werk, whiche þi lond, and whiþer goſt þou, or of what peple art þou?
 ix And he ſaide to hem, Y am an Ebru, and Y dreede þe Lord God of heuen, þat made heuen and erþe.
 x And þe men dredden wiȝ grete dred, and ſaiden to hym, What didiſt þou þis þing? forſoþe þe men knewen for he fleeȝ fro þe face of þe Lord, for Jonas had ſhewid to hem.
 xi And þei ſaiden to hym, What ſhuln we do to þee, and þe ſe ſhal ceſe fro vs? for þe ſe wente, and wexe grete on hem.
 xii And he ſaide to hem, Take ȝe me, and ſende in to þe ſe, and þe ſe ſhal ceſe fro ȝou; forſoþe Y wote, for whi for me þis grete tempeſt is on ȝou.
 xiii And men rowiden, for to turne aȝein to þe drye lond, and þei miȝten not, for þe ſe wente, and wexe grete on hem.
 xiv And þei crieden to þe Lord, and ſaiden, Lord, we bifechen, þat we periſhe not in þe foule of þis man, and þat þou ȝeue not on vs innocent blode; for þou, Lord, didiſt as þou woldiſt.
 xv And þei token Jonas, and ſenten in to þe ſe; and þe ſe ſtode of his buylng.
 xvi And þe men dredden þe Lord wiȝ grete dred, and offreden ooftis to þe Lord, and vowiden avowis.
 xvii And þe Lord made redy a grete fiffhe, þat he ſhulde ſwelowe Jonas; and Jonas was in wombe of þe fishe þree days and þree niȝtis.

Capitulum II.

i And Jonas preyede to þe Lord his God of þe fishis
 wombe,

ii and saide, Y cryede to God of my tribulacioun, and he herde me; of þe wombe of helle Y criede, and þou herdist my voice.

iii þou caſtidist me doun in to depnēſſe in þe hert of þe ſe, and þe flood aboute ȝaue me; alle þi ſwelowis and wawis paſſiden on me.

iv And Y ſaide, Y am caſt awey fro þe ſiȝt of þin eeeȝen; neþeles eftſoone Y ſhal fee þin holy temple. v Waters enuirounden me vn to my ſoule, depnēſſe encloſide me, þe ſe hillide myn hed.

vi To þe vtmeſt places of hillis Y wente doun, þe herris of erþe cloſiden me to gydre, in to wiþ ouen eend; and þou ſhalt reyſe vp my liſf of corrupcioun, Lord my God.

vii Whanne my ſoule was angwiſhið in me, Y biþouȝte of þe Lord, þat my prayer cum to þee, to þyn holy temple.

viii ȝei þat kepen vanytees, ydely ſhuln forſake her mercy.

ix Y forſoþe in voice of preyſyng ſhal offre to þee; what euer þingis Y vowide, Y ſhal ȝeelde to þe Lord, for help.

x And þe Lord ſaide to þe fishe, and it caſtide out Jonas in to lond.

Capitulum III.

i And þe word of þe Lord is maad þe ſecounde tyme to Jonas, ſayinge, ii Ryſe þou, and go in to Nynyue, þe grete cytee, and preche þou þere þe prechynge whiche Y ſpeke to þee.

iii And Jonas ros, and wente in to Nynyue, vp þe word of þe Lord. And Nynyue was a grete cytee, in iourney of þree days.

iv And Jonas bygan for to entre in to þe cytee, in iourney of oo day, and cryede, ȝit fourty days, and Nynyue ſhal be vndirturned, or diſtruyed.

v And men of Nynyue byleeyden to þe Lord, and prechiden faſtyng, and weren cloþid wiþ fackis, fro þe more vnto þe laſſe.

vi And þe word cam to þe kyng of Nynyue; and he ros of his feete, and caſtide awey his cloping fro hym, and is cloþid wiþ ſacke, and fate in afhe.

vii And he criede, and ſaide in Nynyue of þe mouȝt of þe kyng and of his princes, ſayinge, Men, and werk beeſtis, and oxen, and ſheep taafe not ony þing, neþer be fed, neþer drynke watir.

viii And be men hillid wiþ fackis, and werk beeſtis crie to þe Lord in ſtrengþe; and be a man conuertið, or al turnyd, fro his yuel waye, and fro wickidneſſe þat is in þe hondis of hem.

ix Who wote, ȝif God be conuertið, and forȝeue, and be turned aȝein fro woodneſſe of his wrāþ, and we ſhuln not perifhe?

x And God ſawȝ þe werkis of hem, for þei ben conuertið fro her yuel waye; and God hadde mercy on þe malice whiche he ſpac, þat he ſhulde do to hem, and dide not.

Capitulum IIII.

i And Jonas was tourmentid wiþ grete tourment, and was wroþ.

ii And he preiede to þe Lord, and ſaide, Lord, Y bifeche, wher þis is not my word, whanne Y was ȝit in my lond? For þis þing Y before occupiede, for to flee in to Tharsis; forſoþe Y wote, for þou, God, art meke and mercyful, pacient, and of myche mercy doyng, and forȝeuyng on malice.

iii And now, Lord, Y preye, take my ſoule, or liſf, fro me; for deeþ is beter to me þan lyf.

iv And þe Lord ſaide, Geſſiſt þou, wher þou art wel wroþ?

v And Jonas wente out of þe cytee, and fate aȝeinus þe eeft, and made to hym a ſhadewyng place þere; and fate vndre it in ſhadewe, til he ſawȝ what byfelle to þe citeme.

vi And þe Lord God made redy an eder, or a plaunt, and it ſtyede vp on þe hed of Jonas, þat ſhadewe wer on his hed, and keuerde hym; forſoþe he hadde traeſlid. And Jonas gladdid on þe eder, wiþ grete gladneſſe.

vii And God made redy a worme, in ſtynge vp of grey day in to morew; and ſmote þe eder, and it dryede vp.

viii And whan þe funne was ſprungen, þe Lord comaundide to þe hote wynd and brennyng; and þe funne ſmote on þe hed of Jonas, and he ſwalide. And he axide to his ſoule þat he ſhulde dye, and ſaide, It is beter to me for to dye, þan for to lyue.

ix And þe Lord ſaide to Jonas, Geſſiſt þou, wher þou art wel wroþ on þe eder? And he ſaide, Y am wel wroþe, vn to þe deþ.

x And þe Lord ſaide, þou art forie on þe eder, in whiche þou traueylidist not, neþer þou madist þat it wexide, þe whiche was born vnder oo niȝt, and in oo niȝt periſhide.

xi And ſhal Y not ſpare to þe grete citeme Nynyue, in whiche ben more þan a hundred and twenti þouſand of men, whiche witen not what is bitwix her riȝt half and left, and many werk beeſtis?

Here endiþ þe book of Jonas, and bigynneþ þe book of Micheas.

MICHEAS.

Here bigynneþ þe boke of Mycheas.

Capitulum I.

i The word of þe Lord, whiche is maad to Mycheas Morastites, in þe days of Joathan, Achas, Ezechie, kyngys of Juda; whiche he ſawȝ on Samarie, and Jeruſalem.

ii Heere ȝe, alle peplis, and þe erþe perceyue, and þe plente þerof; and be þe Lord God to ȝou in to a witnesse, þe Lord of hys holy temple.
 iii For loo! þe Lord shal gon out of his place, and shal cumme doun, and shal trede on heeȝ þingus of erþe.
 iv And mounteyns shuln be waastid vndir hym, and valeys shuln be kitt, as wex fro face of fijre, as waters bat rennen in to a pitt.
 v In þe grete trespas of Jacob al þis þing, and in þe synnes of þe hous of Yrael. Whiche þe grete trespas of Jacob, wher not Samarie? and whiche þe heeȝ þingis of Juda, wher not Jerusalerm?
 vi And Y shal putte Samarie as an heep of stoons in þe feeld, whanne a vyne ȝerd is plauntid; and Y shal drawe awey þe stoons þerof into a valey, and shal shewe þe foundementis þerof.
 vii And alle sculptilis, or grauen ymagis, þerof shuln be beten to gidre, and alle hijres þerof shuln be brent in fijr; and Y shal putte al ydolis þerof in to perdicoun; for of hijris of an hoore þei ben gadrid, and vn to hijre of an hoore þei shuln be turned aȝein.
 viii On þis þing Y shal weile and ȝoule, Y shal go spuylid and nakid; and Y shal make weyling as of dragouns, and mournyng as of strucions.
 ix For plage, or wounde, þerof is dispeirid; for it came vn to Juda, it touchide þe ȝate of my peple, vn to Jerusalerm.
 x In Geth nyl ȝe telle, in teris weape ȝe not; in þe hous of duft wiþ duft togydre sprengre ȝou.
 xi And a faire dwellyng shal passfe fro ȝou, confoundid wiþ yuel fame; it is not gon out, whiche dwelliþ in þe goynge out; a niȝ hous shal take of ȝou weylyng, whiche stode to it self.
 xii For it is maad seeke in to good, whiche dwelliþ in bitterneſſis. For yuel came doun fro þe Lord in to þe ȝate of Jerusalerm, xiii noyse of a four horsid cart, of dred to þe dwellynge at Lachis. It is þe bygynnyng of synne of þe douȝter of Syon, for in þee þe grete trespallis of Yrael ben founden.
 xiv þerfore he shal ȝeue vnnoble men on þe heritage of Geth, an hous of lefyng in to disceyte to þe kyngis of Yrael.
 xv ȝit Y shal brenge an eir to þee, þat dwellist in Maresfa; vnto Odolla of glorie of Yrael shal cum.
 xvi Be þou maad ballid, and be þou clippid on þe fonyis of ydolis; alarge þi baldneſſe as an egle, for þei ben led caftyf fro þee.

Capitulum II.

i Woo to ȝou, þat þenken vnpoffitable þing, and wirchen yuel in ȝoure couchis; in þe morew liȝt þei don it, for þe hond of hem is aȝeinus God.

ii þei couetiden feeldis, and violently token; and rauyshiden housis, and fallly chalengiden a man and his hous, and a man and his eritage.
 iii þerfore þese þingis faip þe Lord, Loo! Y þenke on þis meynee yuel, of whom ȝe shuln not take awey ȝour neckis; and ȝe shuln not walke proude, for þe warſt tyme is.
 iv In þat daye a parable shal be taken on ȝou, and a songe shal be fungen wiþ swetneſſe of men, sayinge, By robbing we ben distroyed; a part of my peple is chaungid to gidre; hou shal he go awey fro me, whanne he turneþ aȝein þat shal departe ȝoure cuntrees?
 v For þis þing þere shal not be to þee þe sendyng a litil coorde of sort in cumpayne of þe Lord.
 vi Pou Yrael, speke ȝe not spekyng; it shal not droppe on þese, confusioñ shal not cacche, vii faip þe Lord to Jacob. Wher þe Spirit of þe Lord is abreggid, or siche ben þe þouȝtus of hym? Wher my wordis ben not goode, wiþ hym þat riȝtli goþ?
 viii And aȝeinward my peple ros to gidre in to an aduersarie; ȝe toke awey þe mantil aboue þe coote, and ȝe turnyden hem in to bataile, hem þat wenten symþy.
 ix ȝe castiden out þe wymmen of my peple, of þe hous of her delices; fro þe litil childre of hem ȝe token awey my heryng in to wiþ outen eende.
 x Ryse ȝe, and go, for here ȝe han not reste; for þe vncleñneſſe þerof it shal be corrupt wiþ þe warſt rott.
 xi Y wolde Y were not a man hauyng spirit, and rafter Y spake lefyng. Y shal droppe to þee in to wyn, and in to drunkenesse; and þis peple shal be, on whom it is droppid.
 xii Wiþ gadryng Y shal gadre Jacob; Y shal leede to gydre þee al in to oon, þe relikis of Yrael. Y shal putte hym to gydre, as a flok in folde; as sheep in þe mydil of foldis þei shuln make noyse, of multitude of men.
 xiii Forþoþe he shal stye shewyng waye byfore hem; þei shuln departe, and passfe þe ȝate, and shuln go out berby; and þe kyng of hem shal passfe byfore hem, and þe Lord in þe hed of hem.

Capitulum III.

i And Y saide, Heere, ȝe princis of Jacob, and duykys of þe hous of Yrael. Wher it be ȝour for to wite dom, ii whiche han in hate good, and louen yuel? Whiche violentli taken awey þe skinnis of hem fro aboue hem, and þe fleshe of hem fro aboue þe bonys of hem.
 iii Whiche eteten fleshe of my peple, and hildiden, or flewen, þe skyn of hem fro aboue; and braken to gydre þe bonys of hem, and kittiden to gydre as in a cawdroun, and as fleshe in þe mydil of a pott.
 iv ȝanne þei shuln crye to þe Lord, and he shal not heer hem; and he shal hijde his face fro hem in þat tyme, as þei diden wickidly in her fyndyngus.

v Peſe þingus ſaiþ be Lord on þe prophetis þat diſceyen my peple, and biten wiþ her teeþ, and prechen pees; and ȝif eny man ſhal not ȝeue in þe mouȝt of hem eny þing, þei halewyn bateyle on hym.
vi Perfore niȝt ſhal be to ȝou for viſiouн, or prophecie, and derkneſſis to ȝou for dyuynacioun; and þe funne ſhal go doun on þe prophetis, and þe day ſhal be maad derk on hem.
vii And þei ſhuln be confoundid þat feen viſiouнs, and dyuynours ſhuln be confoundid, and alle ſhuln hille her cheeris, for it is not þe anſwere of God.
viii Neþeles Y am fulfillid wiþ strengþe of Spirit of þe Lord, in dom and vertu, þat Y ſhewe to Jacob his grete trespas, and to Yrael his synne.
ix Heere ȝe þeſe þingis, ȝe princis of þe hous of Jacob, and domysmen of þe hous of Yrael, whiche wlaten dom, and peruerten alle riȝt þingus; x whiche beelden Syon in blodis, and Jerusalem in wickidneſſe.
xi Princis þeroſt demyden in ȝiftus, and þe preſtis þeroſt tauȝten in hijre, and prophetis þeroſt dyuynyden in money; and on þe Lord þei reſtiden, ſayinge, Wher not þe Lord in þe mydil of vs? yuels ſhuln not cume on vs.
xii For þis þing by cauſe of ȝou, Syon as a feeld ſhal be eryd; and Jerusalem ſhal be as an heep of ſtoons, and þe hill of þe temple in to heeȝ þingus of wodys.

Capitulum IIII.

i And it ſhal be, in þe laſt of days þe hill of þe hous of þe Lord ſhal be maad redy in þe top of hillis, and heeȝ ouer ſmale hillis. And peplis ſhuln fleete to hym, ii and many folkis ſhuln haſten, and ſhuln faye, Cum ȝe, ſtye we to þe hill of þe Lord, and to þe hous of God of Jacob; and he ſhal teche vs of his wayes, and we ſhuln go in his papes. For of Syon þe lawe ſhal go out, and þe word of þe Lord of Jerusalem;
iii and he ſhal deme bitwixe manye peplis, and ſhal chaftyſe ſtrong folkis vnto in to fer. And þei ſhuln bete to gydre her ſwerdis in to ſhaaris, and her ſperis in to pycoyſis; a folk ſhal not take ſwerd aȝeinus folk, and þei ſhuln namore lerne for to fiȝte.
iv And a man ſhal ſitte vndir his vyne ȝerd, and vnder his fiȝe tree; and þer ſhal not be þat ſhal fere, for þe mouȝt of þe Lord of hoostis ſpak.
v For alle peplis ſhuln go, eche man in name of þe Lord her God; forſoþ we ſchulen walke in þe name of þe Lord oure God into wiþ outen ende, and ouer.
vi In þat day, ſeip þe Lord, I ſchal gedere þe haltinge, and hir þat I caſtide awey Y ſhal gedre, and whom Y tourmentide Y ſhal coumforte.
vii And Y ſhal putte þe haltyngie in to relikiſ, and hir þat traueilide, in to a ſtronge folk. And þe Lord ſhal regne on hem in þe hill of Syon, fro þis now and till in to þe world.

viii And þou, cloudy, or derk, tour of folk of þe douȝter of Syon, vn to þee he ſhal cume, and þe firſt power ſhal cume, þe rewme of þe douȝter of Jeruſalem.
ix Now whi art þou wiþ mournyng drawen to gydre?
wher a kyng is not to þee, or þi counſeilour periſhde?
for forewe haþ cachid þee, as a womman berynge chijld.

x þou douȝter of Syon, make forewe, and tyſe, or do ynewȝ, as a womman berynge chijld; for now þou ſhalt go out of þe cyte, and þou ſhalt dwelle in cuentre, and þou ſhalt cum vn to Babiloyne; þere þou ſhalt be delyuered, þere þe Lord ſhal aȝein bye þee, of þe hond of þin enmyes.

xi And now many folkis ben gadrid on þee, whiche ſayen, Be it ſtoonyd, and biholde our eeȝe in to Syon.

xii Forſoþ þei knewen not þe bouȝtis of þe Lord, and vndirſtoden not þe counſeil of hym, for he gadride hem as hay of þe feeld.

xiii Ryſe þou, and þreſhe, douȝter of Syon, for Y ſhal putte þin horn of yren, and Y ſhal putte þi naylis braſen; and þou ſhalt waste manye peplis, and ſhalt flea to þe Lord þe raueyns of hem, and þe strengþe of hem to þe Lord of al erþe.

Capitulum V.

i Now þou, douȝter of þe þeef, ſhalt be diſtruyed; þei puttiden on vs byſeegyng, in a ȝerd þei ſhuln ſmyte þe cheeke of þe iuge of Yrael.

ii And þou, Bethlem Effrata, art litil in þe þousandis of Juda; of þee ſhal gon out to me, whiche is lordſhiper in Yrael; and þe goyng out of hym fro þe bygynnynge of dais of euerlaſtyngeſſe.

iii For þis þing God ſhal ȝeue hem vn to tyme in whiche þe traueilyngie of chijld ſhal bere chijld, and þe relikis of his breþeren ſhuln be conuertid to þe ſonys of Yrael.

iv And he ſhal ſtonde, and ſhal feede in strengþe of þe Lord, in þe heiȝt of þe name of þe Lord his God; and þei ſhuln be conuertid, for now he ſhal be magnyfied vn to þe termes of al erþe.

v And þis ſhal be pees, whanne Affirius ſhal cum in to oure lond, and whanne he ſhal trede in oure houſis; and we ſhuln reyſe on hym ſeuen ſheperdis, and eiȝt primatis, or firſt men in dignyte.

vi And þei ſhuln feede þe lond of Affur in ſwerd, and þe lond of Nembroth in ſperis of hym; and he ſhal delyuere vs fro Affur, whanne he ſhal cum in to oure lond, and whanne he ſhal treede in oure cooftis.

vii And relikiſ of Jacob ſhuln be in þe mydil of many peplis, as dewe of þe Lord, and as droppyngis on erþe, whiche abydiþ not man, and ſhal not abyde þe ſonys of
men.

viii And relikiſ of Jacob ſhuln be in heiȝen men, in þe mydil of many peplis, as a lyoun in bestis of woddis, and as whelpe of lyoun rorynge in flockis of ſmale beestis; whiche whan shal passe, and defoule, and take, þer is not þat shal delyuere.

ix Bin hond shal be reysid on þin enmyes, and alle þin enmyes shuln perishe.

x And it shal be, in þat day, saiþ þe Lord, Y shal take awey þin horsis of þe mydil of þee, and Y shal distruye þi foure horsid cartis.

xi And Y shal leese þe citees of þi lond, and Y shal distruye alle þi strengþis;

xii and Y shal do awey þe yuel deedis of þin hond, and dyuynaciouns, or tellyngus by deuels craft, shuln not be in þee.

xiii And Y shal make for to perishe þi sculptilis, or grauen ymagis, and Y shal breke to gydre of þe mydil of þee þin ymagis, and þou shalt namore wirshipe þe werkis of þin hondis.

xiv And Y shal drawe out þi mawmet wodis, and shal breke to gydre þi citees.

xv And Y shal make in woodnesse and in indignacioun veniaunce in alle folkis, whiche herden not.

Capitulum VI.

i Heere ȝe whiche þingis þe Lord spekiþ. Ryse þou, stryue þou by dome aȝeinus mounteyns, and litil hillis heere þi voice.

ii Mounteyns heere þe dom of þe Lord, and þe strenger foudementis of erþe; for þe dom of þe Lord wiþ his peple, and wiþ Yrael he shal be wysely demed.

iii My peple, what haue Y don to þee, or what was Y greuous to þee? Answere þou to me.

iv For Y ledde þee out of þe lond of Egypt, and of þe hous of seruage Y delyuerde þee; and Y sente byfore þi face Moyses, and Aaron, and Marie.

v My peple, byþenke, Y preye, what Balaac, kyng of Moab, þouȝte, and what Balaam, sone of Beor, of Sethym, answeride to hym vn to Galgala, þat þou shuldist knowe þe riȝtwisnesse of þe Lord.

vi What worþi þing shal Y offre to þe Lord? shal Y bowe þe knee to þe heeȝ God? Wher Y shal offre to hym brent sacrifices, and calues of oo zeer?

vii Wher God may be plesid in þousandis of weþeris, or in many þousandis of fatt goot buckis? Wher Y shal ȝeue my first bygotten for my grete trespass, þe fruyte of my wombe for synne of my soule?

viii Y shal shewe to þee, þou man, what is good, and what þe Lord axiþ of þee; forsoþe for to do dom, and for to loue mercy, and bysi for to walke wiþ þi God.

ix Þe voice of þe Lord crieþ to þe citee, and helþe shal be to alle men dredinge þi name. Heere, ȝe lynagis; and who shal aproue it?

x ȝit fijr in þe hous of þe vnpitous man, þe tresours of wickidnesse, and a lasse mesure ful of wrap.

xi Wher Y shal iustifie þe wickid balaunce, and þe gylful weiȝtis of litil sac, xii in whiche riche men þeroft ben fulfillid wiþ wickidnesse? And men dwellynge þeryn spaken lesyng, and þe tunge of hem gijleful in þe mouȝ of hem.

xiii And Y þerfore bygan for to smyte þee, in perdiccioun on þin synnys.

xiv Pou shalt ete, and shalt not be fulfillid, and þi meekyng in þe mydil of þee; and þou shalt take to, and shalt not faue; and whom þou shalt saue, Y shal ȝeue in to fward.

xv Pou shalt sowe, and shalt not repe; þou shalt trede þe olyue, and shalt not be annoyntid wiþ oyle; and must,
and shalt not drynke wijne.

xvi And þou keptist þe heefcis of Amry, and al þe werke of þe hous of Achab, and haſt walkide in þe voluptees, or lustis, of hem, þat Y shulde ȝeue þee in to perdiccioun, and men dwellynge in it in to hissyng, or scornyng, and þou shalt bere þe shenþip of my peple.

Capitulum VII.

i Woo to me, for Y am maad as he þat gadrib in heruest rafyns of grape tyme; þer is no clustre for to ete; my soule desiride fijgis rijp before oþer.

ii Þe holy perishe of þe erþe, and riȝtful is not in men; alle in blood aspien, a man hunteþ his broþer to deb.

iii Þe yuel of her hondis þei sayn good; þe prince axiþ, and is domesman in ȝeeldynge; and a grete man spake desir of his soule, and þei strublidien to gydre it.

iv He þat is best in hem, is as a palyure, þat is, a sharp bushe, or a þistil, or frijse; and he þat is riȝtful, as a þorne of hegge. Þe day of þi byholdyng, þi visityng cummeþ, now shal be distruyng of hem.

v Nyl ȝe byleue to frend, and nyl ȝe trist in duyke; fro hir þat restiþ in þi bosum, keepe þou clofyngis of þi mouȝ.

vi For þe sone dop wronge to þe fadre, and þe douȝter shal riȝse aȝeinus hir modir, and wif of þe sone aȝeinus hir husbond modir; þe enmyes of a man, þe homly, or houfholt meyne, of hym.

vii Forsoþe Y shal biholde to þe Lord, Y shal abijde God my saueour; þe Lord my God shal heere me.

viii Pou, myn enmy, glade not on me, for Y felle doun, Y shal ryse; whan Y shal sitte in dercneſſis, þe Lord is my liȝt.

ix Y shal bere wrap of þe Lord, for Y haue synned to hym, til he deme my cause, and make my dom; he shal leede me out in to liȝt, Y shal se þe riȝtwisnesse of hym.

x And myn enmye shal byholde me, and she shal be hillid wiþ confusioun, whiche saiþ to me, Wher is þe Lord þi God? Myn eeȝen shuln se hir, now she shal be in defoulyng, as clay, or fen, of stretis, xi day þat þi wallis be beeldid. In þat day law shal be maad afer,

xii in þat day Assur vn to þee shal come, and `vn to stronge citees, and fro stronge citees vnto þe flood; and to see of see, and to hill of hill.

xiii And þe erþe shal be in to desolacioun for hir dwellers, and for fruyte of þe þouȝtis of hem.
 xiv Feed þou þi peple in þi ȝerd, þe floc of þin eritage, dwellynge aloone in þe wijld wode; in þe mydil of Carmele þei shuln be fed Basan and Galaad, vp olde days, xv vp days of þi goyng out of þe lond of Egypt. Y shal shewe to hym wondirful þingis; xvi heþen men shuln see, and þei shuln be confoundid on al her strengþe; þei shuln putte hondis on þe mouþe, þe eris of hem shuln be defe;
 xvii þei shuln lick dust as þe serpent, as crepynge þingis of þe erþe þei shuln be distourblid of her housis; þei shuln desirre þe Lord our God, and þei shuln dreede
 þee.
 xviii What god liche of þee, þat doſt awey wickidneſſe, and beriſt ouer þe synne of þe relikis of þin eritage? He shal namore in fende his wodneſſe, for he is willynge mercy;
 xix he ſhal turne aȝein, and haue mercy of vs. He ſhal putte doun oure wickidneſſis, and he ſhal caſte fer in to depneſſe of þe fee alle oure synnes.
 xx Pou ſhalt ȝeue trewþe to Jacob, mercy to Abraham, whiche þou fworist to oure fadris fro olde days.

Ende of þe book Micheas, and bigynneþ þe book of Naum, prophete.

NAUM.

Here bigynneþ þe book of Naum.

Capitulum I.

i The charge of Nyngue; þe boke of viſioun of Naum Helchesey.
 ii Þe Lord a louer, and þe Lord vengeyng; þe Lord vengyng, and hauyng woodneſſe; þe Lord vengyng in to his enmyes, and he wrapinge to his enmyes.
 iii Þe Lord pacient, and grete in strengþe, and he clenſyng he ſhal not make innocent. Þe Lord in tempeſt, and in whirlwynd þe wayes of hym, and cloudis dust of his feet;
 iv blamynge þe fee, and dryngiſe it, and bryngynge alle flodis to desert. Basan is maad seek, and Carmele, and þe flour of Liban langwifhicle.
 v Mounteyns ben moued to gidre of hym, and litil hillis ben defolate. And þe erþe tremblide to gydre fro þe face of hym, and þe roundneſſe of erþe, and alle þe dwellyng þeryn.
 vi Bifore þe face of his indignacioun who ſhal ſtonde?
 and who ſhal aȝein ſtonde in þe wraȝ of his woodneſſe?
 His indignacioun is ſhed out as fijre, and ſtoonus ben diſſolued, or broken, of hym.
 vii Þe Lord good, and coumfortyng in þe day of tribulacioun, and he knowyng men hoopyng in hym.

viii And in grete floode paſſyng by, he ſhal make eende of his place; and dercneſſis shuln purſue his enmyes.
 ix What þipken ȝe aȝeinuſ þe Lord? He ſhal make eend; double tribulacioun ſhal not ryſe to gydre. x For as þornys biſlippen hem to gydre, ſo þe feest of hem drynkyng to gydre ſhal be eendid, as ſtoble ful of dryneſſe.
 xi Forſoþe of þee ſhal go out þe þynkyng malice aȝeinuſ þe Lord, in foule, or mynde, tretyng trefpaſſyng.
 xii Peſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord, ȝif þei shuln be perfit, and ſo mo, and þus þei shuln be clippid, and it ſhal paſſe by. Y tourmentide þee, and Y ſhal namore tourmente
 þee.
 xiii And now Y ſhal to gydre breke þe ȝerd of hym of þi bac, and Y ſhal breke þi boondis.
 xiv And þe Lord ſhal comaunde on þee, it ſhal namore be ſown of þi name. Of þe hous of þi god Y ſhal fle; a ſculptil, or grauen ymage, and wellid to gydre, Y ſhal putte þi ſepulcre, for þou art vnvirſhipid.
 xv Loo! on hillis þe feet of euangelizinge and tellyng pees. Juda, halewe þou þi feest days, and ȝeelde þi vowis, for he ſhal namore putte to, þat he paſſe by in þee; al Belial perifhicle.

Capitulum II.

i He ſtyede vp, þat ſchal ſcatere byfore þee, þat ſhal kepe þe byſeeging; byholde þou þe waye, coumforte leendis, strengþe þou vertu gretely.
 ii For as þe Lord ȝeldide þe pride of Jacob, ſo þe pryd of Yrael; for diſtruyers ſcatriden hem, and corrumpent, or diſtruyiden, þe generaciouns of hem.
 iii Þe ſheeld of þe strong of hym fijry, men of þe hoost in rede cloþis; raynes of fijre of þe chaare, in þe day of his makyngh redy; and þe leeders þeroſ ben aſſleepe.
 iv In wayes þei ben trublid to gydre, cartis of four horſis he hurtlide to gydre in ſtretis; þe firȝt of hem as laumpis, as leȝtis rennyng aboue.
 v He ſhal byþenke of his ſtrenger, þei ſhulen falle in her wayes; and ſwyftly þei ſhuln ſtye vp þe wallis þeroſ, and þe ſhadewyne place ſhal be maad redy.
 vi ȝatis of flodis ſhuln be opnyd, and þe temple broken doun to þe erþe.
 vii And a kniȝt caitif is led to, and þe hond maydens þeroſ ſhuln be dryuen forewyng as culuers, grucchynge in her hertis.
 viii And Nyngue, as þe cysterne of waters þe waters þeroſ; forſoþe þei fledden, fayinge, Stonde ȝe, ſtonde ȝe, and þer is not þat ſhal turne aȝein.
 ix Rauyſhe ȝe ſyluer, rauyſhe ȝe gold; and þere is not eende of richelis, of all deſireable vefſels.
 x It is diſtruyed, and kitt, and to-torne, and herte feylynge, and vnknyttinge of ſmale knees, and failyng in alle reynes; and þe face of alle as blacnesse of a pott.

xii Where is þe dwellynge of lyouns, and þe lefewis of whelpis of lyouns? Þe lyoun wente to water, þat þe whelpe of þe lyoun shulde entre þidre, and þere is not þat shal fere.

xiii Þe lyoun toke ynowȝ to his whelpis, and flewȝ to his lyounnessis; and fulfillide wiþ praye her dennys, and his couche wiþ rauyn.

xiv Loo! Y to þee, saiþ þe Lord God of oostis; and Y shal vndre brenne þi cartis of foure horsis vn to þe heeȝist, and swerd shal ete þi smale lyouns; and Y shal distruye of erþe þi praye, and voice of þi messangeres shal no more be herd.

Capitulum III.

i Wo 'to þe citee of blodis, al of lesyng, ful of to-terying; raeuyñ shal not go awey fro þee.

ii Voice of scourge, and voice of bir of wheel, and of hors makynge noyse, and of a foure horsid cart brennyng,

iii and of kniȝt steyinge vp, and of shynynge swerd, and smytyng spere, and of þe flayn multitude, and greouuse fallynge, neþer þer is eende of careins. And þei shuln falle to gydre in her bodies, iv for multitude of þe fornycaciouns of þe hoore fair and able, and hauynge euel dedis, or wicchecraftis; whiche folde folkis in her fornycaciouns, and meynees in her poysouns.

v Loo! Y to þee, saiþ þe Lord God of oostis; and Y shal shewe þi shamful þingis in þi face; and Y shal shewe to folkis þi nakidnesse, and to rewmes þin yuel fame.

vi And Y shal caste out on þee þin abomynaciouns, and Y shal punyfhe þee wiþ dispitis, and Y shal putte þee in to ensaumple.

vii And it shal be, eche man þat shal see þee, shal lippe aȝein fro þee, and shal faye, Nynyue is distruyed. Who shal moue togydre þe hed vpon þee? wherof shal Y feke to þee a coumfortour?

viii Wher þou art better þan Alisaundre, of peplis whiche dwelliþ in flodis? Waters in cumpas þerof, whos ritcheſſis þe fe, waters be wallis þerof.

ix Ethiopie þe strengþe þerof, and Egypt, and þer is noon eende; Affrik and Libie weren in help þerof.

x Bot and it in transmygracioun, or passing ouer, is led in to caitifee; þe litil children þerof ben hirt in þe heed of alle wayes. And on þe noble men þerof þei senten lot, and alle grete men þerof ben fett togider in þe stockis.

xi And þou þerfore shalt be drunken, and þou shalt be dispisid, and þou shalt seeke help of enmy.

xii Alle þi strengþis as a fijge tree, wiþ his vnripe fijgis;
ȝif þei shuln be smyten to gydre, þei shuln falle in to þe mouȝ of þe etynge.

xiii Loo! þi peple wymmen in þe mydil of þee; to þin enmyes, to þe opnyng þe ȝatis of þi lond shuln be shewid, or opnyd; fijr shal deououre þi barris, or lockis.
xiv Drawe vp to þee water for aseegyng, beelde þi strengþis; entre in to fen, and trede, þou vndergoyng holde a tijl.

xv Pere fijr shal ete þee, þou shalt perishe by swerd, it shal deououre þee, as bruke; þerfor be þou gadrid togydre as bruke, be þou multiplied as locust.

xvi þou madist þi marchaundises mo þan ben sterriſ of heuen; bruke is sprad o brood, and fleiȝeb away.

xvii þi keepers as locustis, and þi litel children as locustis of locustis, whiche siten to gidre in heggis in þe day of cold; þe funne is sprungen vp, and þei fledden away, and þe place of hem is not knownen, where þei were.

xviii þi sheperdis napten, þou kyng Assur, þi princes shuln be biried; þi peple oft derkid in hillis, and þer is not þat shal gadre.

xix þi contricioun is not derk, þi wound is warſt; alle men þat herden þi heering, preſſiden to gidre hond on þee, for vpon whom paſſide not þi malice euermore?

Here endip þe of Naum, prophete, and bigynneþ þe book of Abacuk, prophete.

ABACUK.

Þe book of Abacuk.

Capitulum I.

i The charge þat Abacuk, prophete, saw.

ii Hou longe, Lord, shal Y crye, and þou shalt not heere graciouſly? Y suffringe violence shal crie on heeȝ, and shalt þou not faue?

iii Whi shewidist þou to me wickidnesse and traeile, for to see pray and vnriȝtwisnesse aȝeinus me? Whi biholdist þou dispisers, and art stille, þe vnpitous man defoulyng a iuster þan hym? And þou shalt make men as fishis of þe fe, and as crepynge þingis not hauynge duyk; and dom is maad, and aȝeinsayinge more miȝty.
iv For þis þing law is to-broken, and dom cummeþ not vn to þe eende; for vnpitous man haþ miȝt aȝeinus þe iust, þerfore weywerd dom shal go out.

v Biholde ȝe in heben men, and see ȝe, and wondre ȝee, and gretely dreede ȝee; for a worke is don in ȝour days, whiche no man shal byleeue, whan it shal be told.

vi For loo! Y shal reyse Caldeis, a bitter folk and swift, goyng vpon þe breed of erþe, þat he weelde tabernaclis not his.

vii He is orrible, and dreedeful; of hym self dome, and his charge shal go out.

viii His horsis liȝter þan pardis, and swifter þan euyn wolues, and his horſmen shuln be scatrid abrode; for whi horfmen shuln cum fro fer, þei shuln flee as an egle haftynge to ete.

 ix Alle men shuln cume to preye, þe face of hem as brennyng wynde; and he shal gadre as grauel caitiffee.
 x And he shal haue victorie of kyngis, and tirauntis shuln be his leizingis; he shal leiȝe vpon al strengþe, and shal bere to gidre an hepe of erþe, and shal take it.
 xi Panne þe spirit of hym shal be chaungid, and he shal passe by, and falle to gydre; þis is þe strengþe of hym, of his god.
 xii Wher not þou fro bigynnynge, Lord my God, myn holy, and we shuln not dye? Lord, in to dome þou haft putte hym, and þou groundidist hym strong, þat þou shuldist chasftise.
 xiii Þyn eeȝen ben cleene, see þou not yuel, and þou shalt not mow biholde to wickidnesse. Whi biholdist þou not vpon men doyng wickidly, and þou art stille, þe vnpytouse man deuourynge a more iust þan hym?
 xiv And þou shalt make men as fishis of þe fe, and as crepynge þing not hauynge prince.
 xv Alle in hooke he shal lifte vp; he drawide it in his nett, and gadride in to his net; vpon þis þing he shal glade, and ioye wiþ out forþ.
 xvi Perfore he shal offre to his nett, and he shal make sacrifice to his nett; for in hem his part is maad fatt, and his mete chosen.
 xvii Perfore for þis þing he spredip abrood his nett, and euermore he shal not spare for to flea folkis.

Capitulum II.

i Vpon my keepyng Y shal stonde, and Y shal picche a greese vpon þe wardyng; and Y shal byholde, þat Y see what þing shal be faide to me, and what Y shal answere to þe reprouyng me.
 ii And þe Lord answerde to me, and saide, Write þou þe fiȝt, and make it pleyn vpon tablis, þat he renne, þat shal reede it.
 iii For ȝit þe visioun fer, and it shal apeere in to eende, and shal not leeȝe; ȝit it shal make dwellyng, abijde þou it, for it cummyng shal cum, and shal not tarie.
 iv Loo! he þat is vnbileful, þe soule of hym shal not be riȝt in hym self; forsoþe þe iust man shal lyue in his feiþ.
 v And as wijn disceiueþ a man drinkynge, so shal þe proude man be, and shal not be maad faire; for as helle he alargide his soule, and he as deb, and he shal not be fulfillid; and he shal gedre to hym alle folkis, and he shal hepe to gydre to hym alle peplis.
 vi Wher not alle þese vpon hym shuln take a parable, and þe spekyng of derk sentencis of hym? And it shal be faide, Wo to hym þat multiplieþ þingus not his owne; how long, and he aggregiþ aȝeinus hym þicke clay?

vii Wher not sudeynly þei shuln ryse to gydre, þat shuln bite þee? And þei shuln be reisid to-terynge þee, and þou shalt be in to raueyne to hem; and þin aspiers in yuel shuln wake.
 viii For þou robbidist many folkis, alle shuln robbe þee, whiche shuln be relikis of peplis, for blood of man, and wickidnesse of lond of þe citee, and of men dwellynge in it.
 ix Woo to hym þat gadriþ euyl couetise to his hous, þat his nest be in heeȝ, and geſſiþ hym for to be delyuered of þe hond of yuel.
 x þou þouȝtist confusioun to þin hous; þou haft flayn many peplis, and þi soule synned.
 xi For a stoon of þe wall shal crie, and a tree þat is bitwixe ioynours of beeldingis shal answere.
 xii Woo to hym þat beeldip a citee in blodis, and makiþ redy a cytee in wickidnesse.
 xiii Wher not þese þingis ben of þe Lord of oostis? Forsoþe peplis shuln trauaille in myche fijr, and folkis in veyn, and bei shuln faille.
 xiv For þe erþe shal be fulfillid, þat þei knowe þe glorie of þe Lord, as waters hillynge þe fe.
 xv Woo to hym þat ȝeuþ drinke to his frend, fendynge his galle, and makyng drunken, þat he biholde his nakidnesse.
 xvi He is fulfillid wiþ yuel fame for glorie; and drynke þou, and be aslept; þe cup of þe riȝt half of þe Lord shal aboute ȝeue þee, and castynge vp of yuel fame vpon þi glorie.
 xvii For þe wickidnesse of Liban shal keuere þee, and þe distruccioun of beeltis shal fere þee, of blodis of man, and of wickidnesse of lond of þe citee, and of alle dwellynge þeryn.
 xviii What profitiþ þe sculptile, for his maker grauede it; a wellid þing to gidre, and a fals ymage, for þe maker þerof hopide in þe makyng, þat he made dumbe symulacris?
 xix Woo to hym þat saiþ to a tree, Wake þou; Ryse þou, to a stoon beyng styll; wher he shal mowe teche? Loo! þis is keuered in gold and syluer, and eche spirit is not in his entrailis.
 xx Forsoþe þe Lord in his holy temple, al erþe be stille fro his face.

Capitulum III.

i Lord, Y herde þi heerynge, and Y dredde; ii Lord, þi werke, in þe mydil of ȝeiris quycnene þou it. In þe mydil of ȝeiris þou shalt make knownen; whan þou shalt be wroþe, þou shalt recorde of mercy.
 iii God shal cum fro þe souþ, and þe holy fro þe mount of Pharan. Þe glorie of hym keuerde heuen, and þe erþe is ful of his heryng.
 iv Þe shynynge shal be as liȝt; hornys in hondis of hym. Þere þe strengþe of hym is hid,

- v byfore his face deb shal go; þe deuyl shal go out bifore his feet.
- vi He stode, and matte þe erþe; he bihelde, and vnboonde folkis, and hillis of þe world ben broken to gydre; þe ltil hillis of þe world ben bowid doun, of þe wayes of his euerlaftingnesse.
- vii For wickidnesse Y sawȝ þe tentis of Ethiopie, þe skynnes of lond of Madian shuln be trublid.
- viii Lord, wher in flodis þou art wroþe, or in flodis þi woodnesse, or in þe se þin indignacioun? Whiche shalt styke vp þin horsis; and þi foure horsid cartis saluacioun.
- ix þou reysynghe shalt reyse þi bowe, opis to lynagis whiche þou haſt spoken; þou shalt kitte flodis of erþe.
- x Watris fawen þee, and hillis forewidene, þe guter of waters paſſide; depneſſe ȝaf his voice, heeȝnesſe reyſide his hondis.
- xi Sunne and mone ſtoden in her dwellynge; in þe liȝt of þin arewis þei shuln goo, in þe fhynynge of þi ſpere ſmytyngē.
- xii In beting of teelþ þou ſhalt defoule erþe, and in wodnesſe þou ſhalt aftoneye folkis.
- xiii þou art gon out in to helþe of þi peple, in to helþe wiþ þi crift; þou haſt ſmyten þe heued of þe hous of þe vnpitouse man, þou haſt made nakid þe foundement vn to þe neckus.
- xiv þou curſidist þe ſceptris, or powers, of hym, þe hed of his fiȝters, cummyngē as whirlwynde for to ſcatere me; þe ioyngē wiþ outforþ of hem, as of hym þat deuourisþ a pore man in hidils.
- xv þou madiſt a weye in þe ſe to þin horsis, in cleye of manye waters.
- xvi Y herde, and my wombe is to gydre trublid; of þe oice my lippis trembleden to gydre. Rott entre in to my boonyſ, and boyle, or ſprynge, vndir me; and Y ſhal reſte aȝein in þe day of tribulacioun, and Y ſhal ſtey vp to oure peple girde to gydre.
- xvii Forſoþe þe fijge tree ſhal not florishe, and buriownyng ſhal not be in vyne ȝerdis; þe werk of þe olyue ſhal leeȝe, and feeldis ſhuln not bryngē to mete;
a ſheep ſhal be kitt of fro þe folde, and a drooue ſhal not be in þe cratchis.
- xviii Forſoþe Y ſhal haue ioye in þe Lord, and Y ſhal ioye wiþ outforþ in God my Jhesu.
- xix God þe Lord my ſtrengþe, and he ſhal putte my feet as of hertis; and vpon myn heeȝ þingus, þe ouercummer ſhal leede me forþ, ſingynge in psalmes.
- Here endiþ þe book of Abacuk, þe prophete, and bigynneþ þe book of Sophonye, prophete.

SOPHONYE.

Here bigynneþ þe boke of Sophonyas,
prophete.

Capitulum I.

- i The word of þe Lord, þat is maad to Sophonye, ſone of Chufy, ſone of Godolie, ſone of Amasie, ſone of Ezechie, in þe days of Josye, þe ſone of Amon, kyng of Juda.
- ii Y gaderynge ſhal gadre alle þingus fro face of erþe, ſaiþ þe Lord;
- iii gadryngē man and beeſte, gadryngē volatilis of heuen, and fishes of þe ſe; and fallyngis of vnytous men ſhuln ben, and Y ſhal leefe men fro face of þe erþe, ſaiþ þe Lord.
- iv And Y ſhal ſtretche out myn hond vpon Juda, and vpon alle þe dwellers of Jeruſalem; and Y ſhal leefe of þis place þe relikis of Baal, and þe names of kepers of þe houſis, wiþ þe preſtis;
- v and hem þat worshipen vpon roues þe knyȝthod of heuen, and worshipen, and ſweren in þe Lord, and ſweren in Melchon;
- vi and whiche ben turned awey byhynde þe bac of þe Lord, and whiche ſouȝten, or axiden, not þe Lord, neper enſerchiden hym.
- vii Be ȝe ſtille fro face of þe Lord God, for niȝ is þe day of þe Lord; for þe Lord made redi a ſacrifice, halewide his clepid men.
- viii And it ſhal be, in þe day of offryng of þe Lord, Y ſhal viſite vpon princes, and vpon ſones of þe kyng, and vpon alle þat ben cloþid wiþ pilgrim, or ſtraunge, cloþing.
- ix And Y ſhal viſite vpon eche þat proudli entrip vpon þe preſhfold in þat day, whiche fulfillen þe hous of þe Lord her God wiþ wickidnesſe and gyle.
- x And þer ſhal be in þat day, ſaiþ þe Lord, a voys of crye fro þe ȝate of fishis, and ȝoulyngē fro þe ſecounde, or þat ſtreece of Jeruſalem, and grete contricioun fro ltil hillis.
- xi ȝoule ȝe, dwellers of Pyle, or of tauern; alle þe peple of Canaan was ſtille to gidre, alle wlappid in ſyluer perihiden.
- xii And it ſhal be, in þat tyme Y ſhal ſeeke Jeruſalem in lanternys, and Y ſhal viſite vpon alle men piȝt in her darſtis, whiche ſayen in her hertis, þe Lord ſhal not do wel, and he ſhal not do yuel.
- xiii And þe ſtrengþe of hem ſhal be in to rauylhyng, and þe hous of hem in to deſert; and þei ſhuln beelde houſis, and ſhuln not enhabite; and þei ſhuln plante vyne ȝerdus, and þei ſhuln not drynke þe wijn of hem.
- xiv Niȝ is þe grete day of þe Lord, niȝ and ſwyft ful myche; þe voys of day of þe Lord bitter, a ſtronge man ſhal be in tribulacioun þere.
- xv Pe ilk day a day of wrap, day of tribulacioun and anguylh, þe day of needynesſe, or forewe wiþ out coumfort, and myſeſetee, or wretchidnesſe, day of derknessis and myſt, day of cloude and whirlwynde,
- xvi day of trumpe and noyſe vpon ſtronge cytees and vpon heeȝe corners.
- xvii And Y ſhal truble men, and þei ſhuln walke as blynde, for to þe Lord þei han ſynned; and þe blood of hem shal be shed out as erþe, and þe bodyes of hem as tordis.

xviii Bot and þe syluer of hem, and þe gold of hem, shal not mowe delyuere hem in þe day of wraþ of þe Lord; in fijr of his feruour al erþe shal be deououred, for he shal make eende wiþ haſtynge to alle men enhabitynge erþe.

Capitulum II.

i Cum ȝe togydre, be ȝe gadrid, ȝe folk not worþi to be louyd, ii byfore þat comaundyng brenge forþ as dust paffynge day; byfore þat wrap of wodenesse of þe Lord cum, byfore þat þe day of his indignacioun cume vpon ȝou.

iii Alle mylde, or pacient, men of erþe, seeke ȝe þe Lord, whiche han wrouȝt þe dom of hym; seke ȝe þe iust, seeke ȝe þe mylde, ȝif eny maner ȝe be hid in þe day of woodnesse of þe Lord.

iv For Gaza shal be distruyed, and Aschalon in to desert; þei shuln caste out Azotus in mydday, and Ackaron shal be drawnen out by þe rote.

v Woo! ȝe þat dwellen be litil part of þe se, a folk of lost men. Þe word of þe Lord vpon ȝou, Canaan, þe lond of Fylisteyns, and Y shal distruye þee, so þat an yndweller be not;

vi and þe litil part of þe se shal be reste of sheeperdis, and fooldis of sheep.

vii And it shal be a litil part of hym, þat shal abide of þe hous of Juda, þere þei shuln be fed in þe houſis of Aschalon; at euyn þei shuln reste, for þe Lord God of hem visitide hem, and shal turne awey þe caftyftee of hem.

viii Y herde þe shenshipte of Moab, and blasphemyes of þe sonys of Amon, whiche þei dispisiden my peple, and þei ben magnyfied vpon þe termes of hem.

ix Perfore Y lyue, saþ þe Lord of ooftis, God of Yrael, for Moab shal be as Sodom, and þe sonys of Amon as Gomor; drieneſſe of þornes, and hepis of salt, and desert, til in to wiþ out eende. Þe relikis of my peple shuln rauyſhe hem, þe residues of my folc shuln welde hem.

x Soþely þis þing shal cum to hem for her pride, in whiche þei blasfemyden, and weren magnyfied vpon þe peple of þe Lord of ooftis.

xi Orrible þe Lord vpon hem, and he shal make feble alle goddis of erþe; and men of her place shuln wirſhipte hym, alle þe ijlis of heþen men.

xii Bot and ȝee, Ethiopiens, shuln be flayn bi my swerd.

xiii And he shal stretche forþ his hond vpon þe norþ, and shal leefe Affur; and he shal putte þe faire in to wildrenesse, and in to vnwayed, and as desert.

xiv And alle flockis, and beeftis of folkis, shuln ligge in þe mydil þerof; and onacratulus, þat is, a brid wiþ a long bill lijke a swan, and þe yrchoun shuln dwelle in þe þrefheſfoldis þerof; voys of þe fyngynge in a wyndowe, and a crowe in þe lyntill, or ouer þrefold, for Y shal make þynne þe strengþe þerof.

xv Þis is þe glorious citee dwellynge in trift, whiche faide in her herte, Y am, and þer is noon oþer more wiþ outer me. Hou it is maad desert, a couche of beeſt? Eche man þat shal paffe bi it, shal hisse, or scorne, and shal moue his hond.

Capitulum III.

i Wo! þou cytee, terrere, or stirere, to wraþe, and bouȝt aȝein culuer.

ii It herde not þe voice, and resceyuede not discipline, or chaſtiseng; it trifstinede not in þe Lord, it neiȝide not to hir God.

iii Þe princis þerof in mydil þerof as lyouns roringe; iugis þerof wolues, in þe euyntyde leften not in to morewe.

iv Þe prophetis þerof wode, vnfeiþful men; þe prestis þerof defouliden holy þing, vniuſtly diden aȝeinus þe lawe.

v Þe Lord iust in mydil þerof, he shal not do wickidnesse; erly, erly he shal ȝeue his dom in liȝt, and it shal not be hid; forsoþe þe wickid man wist not confusioun.

vi Y loste folkis, and þe corners of hem ben distruyed; Y made þe wayes of hem desert, whijl þer is not þat shal paffe. Þe cytees of hem ben desolate, not dwellynge a man, neþer eny dweller.

vii Y sayde, Neþeleſe þou shalt dreede me, þou shalt resceyue discipline; and þe dwellynge þerof shal not perishe, for alle þingus in whiche Y visitide it; neþeleſe ful erly þei ryſyng han corrumpid alle her þouȝtis.

viii Wherfore abyde þou me, saiþ þe Lord, in þe day of my ryſyng aȝein in to comynge. For my dome is, þat Y gadre folkis, and gadre rewmes; and Y shal shede out vpon hem myn indignacioun, and al þe wraþ of my wodenesse; forsoþe in fijr of my feruour al erþe shal be deououred.

ix For þanne Y shal ȝelde to my peplis a chosen tung, þat alle in cleepen in name of þe Lord, and ferue to hym in oo shuldre.

x Ouer þe flodis of Ethiopie, fro þennis my bifecheris, þe sonys of my scaterid men, shuln bryng a ȝift to me.

xi In þat day þou shalt not be confoundide vpon alle þi fyndyngis, in whiche þou trespassidist in me; for þanne Y shal take awey fro þe mydil of þee þe grete spekers of þi pride, and þou shalt namore putte to, for to be enhaunſid in myn holy hill.

xii And Y shal leue in mydil of þee a pore peple, and nedys; and þei shuln hope in name of þe Lord.

xiii Þe relikis of Yrael shuln not do wickidnesse, neþer shuln speke leefyng, and a gyleful tung shal not be funden in hem; for þei shuln be fed, and shuln reste, and þere shal not be þat shal fere.

xiiii Peſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord, Douȝter of Syon, herie þou, fyngē þou, Yrael; glade þou, and fulout ioye in al þi herte, þou douȝter of Jerufalem.
 xv Pe Lord haþ taken awey bi dom, he haþ turned awey þin enmyes; kyng of Yrael lord in þe mydil of þee, þou haſt namore dreede yuel.
 xvi In þat day it haſt be ſaid, Jerufalem, nyl þou dreede; Syon, be not þin hondis vnknyt.
 xvii þe Lord þi God ſtronge in mydil of þee, he haſt ſaaue; he haſt enioye vpon þee in gladneſſe, he haſt be ſtille in þi louyng, he haſt ful enioye vpon þee in heryng.
 xviii Y haſt gadre þe foolis þat wenten awey fro þi lawe, for þei weren of þee, þat þou haue namore ſhenſhipte vpon hem.
 xix Loo! Y haſt fleſ alle men þat tourmentiden þee in þat tyme, and Y haſt ſaaue þe haltyng, and Y haſt gedre hir þat was caſt out; and Y haſt putte hem in to heryng, and in to name in eche lond of confuſioun of
 hem,
 xx in þat tyme in whiche Y haſt leede ȝou to, and in þe tyme in whiche Y haſt gadre ȝou. Forſoþe Y haſt ȝeue ȝou in to name, and in to heryng to alle peplis of erþe, whanne Y haſt conuerte ȝour caitifte byfore ȝour eeȝen, ſaiþ þe Lord.

Here endiþ þe book of Sophonye, prophete, and bigynneþ þe book of Aggey, þe prophete.

AGGEY.

Here begynneþ þe boke of Aggey, prophete.

Capitulum I.

i In þe ſecounde ȝeer of Darius, kyng of Persis, in þe fixte moneþ, in oo day of þe moneþ, þe word of þe Lord is maad in þe hond of Aggey, prophete, to Zorobabel, ſone of Salatiel, duyk of Juda, and to Jhesu, `þe greet preſt, ſone of Josedech, ſayinge, ii Peſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord of ooftis, ſayinge, ȝis peple ſaiþ, ȝit cummeþ not þe tyme of þe hous of þe Lord to be beeldid.
 iii And þe word of þe Lord is maad in þe hond of Aggey, prophete, ſayinge, iv Wher it is tyme to ȝou, þat ȝe dwelle in housis couplid wiþ tymbre, and þis hous desert?
 v And now peſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord God of ooftis, Putte ȝe ȝour hertis vpon ȝour wayes.
 vi ȝe han fown myche, and brouȝten in litil; ȝe han eten, and ȝe ben not fulfillid; ȝe han drunke, and ȝe ben not ful of drinke; ȝe hilliden ȝou, and ȝe ben not maad hote; and he þat gadrid hijris, ſente hem in to a fac, or bagge, hoolid, or broken.
 vii Peſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord of ooftis, Putte ȝe ȝour hertis vpon ȝour wayes.

viii Styg ȝe vp in to þe mounteyn, bere ȝe treeſe, and bielde ȝe an hous; and it haſt be acceptable to me, and Y haſt be glorifiede, ſaiþ þe Lord.
 ix ȝe bihelden to more, and loo! it made leſſe; and ȝe brouȝten in to hous, and Y blewe it out. For what caufe, ſaiþ þe Lord of ooftis? for myn hous is desert, and ȝe haſten eche man in to his hous.
 x For þis þing heuens ben forbeden, þat þei ſhulden not ȝeue dew; and þe erþe is forbeden, þat it ſhulde not ȝeue his buriownyng.
 xi And Y clepide dryenesſe vpon erþe, and vpon mounteyns, and vpon whete, and vpon wyn, and vpon oyle, and what euer þingus þe erþe bringeþ forþ; and vpon men, and vpon beeftis, and vpon al labour of hondis.
 xii And Zorobabel, ſone of Salatiel, herde, and Jhesus, `þe grete preſt, ſone of Josedech, and alle relikis of þe peple, þe voys of her God, and þe wordis of Aggey, prophete, as þe Lord God of hem ſente hym to hem;
 and al þe peple dredde of þe face of þe Lord.
 xiii And Aggey ſaide, a messangere of þe Lord, of messangers of þe Lord to þe peple, ſayinge, Y am wiþ ȝou, ſaiþ þe Lord.
 xiv And þe Lord reyfide þe ſpirit of Zorobabel, ſone of Salatiel, duyk of Juda, and þe ſpirit of Jhesu, `þe grete preſt, ſone of Josedech, and þe ſpirit of þe relikis of alle peple; and þei entriden, and maden werk in þe hous of þe Lord of hooftis, her God, xv in þe twentipe day and fourþe of þe moneþ, in þe fixte moneþ, in þe ſecounde ȝeer of Darius, kyng.

Capitulum II.

i In þe ſeuuenþe moneþ, in þe twentipe and firſte of þe moneþ, þe word of þe Lord is maad in þe hond of Aggey, prophete, ſayinge, ii Speke þou to Zorobabel, ſone of Salatiel, duyk of Juda, and to Jhesu, `þe greet preſt, ſone of Josedech, and to oþer of þe peple, ſayinge, iii Who in ȝou is left, þat ſawȝ þis hous in his firſt glorie? and what ſeen ȝe þis now? wher it is not þus, as it be not in ȝour eeȝen?
 iv And now, Zorobabel, be þou coumfortid, ſaiþ þe Lord, and Jhesu, `greet preſt, ſone of Josedech, be þou coumfortid, and al peple of þe lond, be þou coumfortid, ſaiþ þe Lord of ooftis; and do ȝe, for Y am wiþ ȝou, ſaiþ þe Lord of ooftis.
 v þe word þat Y couenauntide wiþ ȝou, whanne ȝe wenten out of þe lond of Egypt, and my Spirit haſt be in þe mydil of ȝou, Nyl ȝe dreede, vi for þeſe þingus ſaiþ þe Lord of ooftis, ȝit oo lytil þing, or tyme, is, and Y haſt moue heuen, and erþe, and þe ſe, and dryenesſe;
 vii and Y haſt moue alle folkis, and þe desirid to alle folkis haſt cume; and Y haſt fulfille þis hous wiþ glorie, ſaiþ þe Lord of ooftis.

viii Myn is syluer and myn is gold, seiþ þe Lord of oostis.

ix Þe glorie of þis laste hous schal be greet, more þan of þe firste, seiþ þe Lord of oostis. And in þis place I schal ȝyue pees, seiþ þe Lord of oostis.

x In þe foure and twentipe of þe nynþe moneþ, in þe secunde ȝeer of Darius, kyng, þe word of þe Lord is maad to Aggey, prophete, seiyng, xi Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord God of oostis, Axe prestis þe lawe, sayinge, xii ȝif a man shal take halewid fleshe in þe heme of his cloþinge, and shal touche of þe heeȝnesse þerof brede, or potage, or wyne, or oyle, or eche mete, wher it shal be halewid? Soþeli prestis answerynge sayden, Nay.

xiii And Aggey saide, ȝif a man defoulid in soule shal touche of alle þese, wher it shal be defoulid? And prestis answerten, and faiden, It shal be defoulid.

xiv And Aggey answerte, and faide, So þis peple, and so þis folk byfore my face, saiþ þe Lord, and so al were of her hondis; and alle þingus þat þei shuln offre þere, shuln be defoulid.

xv And now putte ȝe ȝour hertis, fro þis day and aboue, byfore þat a stoon vpon a stoon was putt in þe temple of þe Lord, xvi whenne ȝe wenten to an hep of twenty bushellis, and þere weren maad ten; ȝe entriden to þe preffour, þat ȝe shulden preffe out fifty galouns, and þer weren maad twenti.

xvii Y smote ȝou wiþ brennynge wynd, and mildew, and hayl, and alle þe werkis of ȝour hondis; and þer was not in ȝou þat turnede aȝein to me, saiþ þe Lord.

xviii Putte ȝe ȝour hertis of þis day, and in to cummynge, fro þe fourþe and twentipe of þe ninþe moneþ, fro þe day in whiche foundementis ben casten of þe temple of þe Lord, putte ȝe vppon ȝour herte.

xix Wher now feed is in buriownyng? and ȝit þe vyne ȝerd, and fijge tree, and powme garnet, and þe tree of olyue florishide not. Of þis day Y shal blesse.

xx And þe word of þe Lord is maad þe secounde tyme to Aggey, in þe foure and twentipe of þe moneþ, sayinge, xxi Speke þou to Zorobabel, duyk of Juda, sayinge, Y shal moue heuen and erþe to gydre, xxii and Y shal distruye þe sete of rewmys, and Y shal breke þe strengþe of þe rewme of heiþen men, and Y shal distruye þe foure horsid cart, and þe styer þerof; and þe horsis shuln go doun, and þe styers of hem, a man in swerd of his broþer.

xxiii In þat day, saiþ þe Lord of oostis, þou Zorobabel, sone of Salatiel, my feruaunt, Y shal take to þee, saiþ þe Lord; and Y shal putte þee as a sygnet, for Y cheeþe þee, saiþ þe Lord of hoostis.

Here endib þe book of Aggey, þe prophete, and bigynneþ þe book of Zacharie, sone of Barachie.

ZACHARIAS.

Here bigynneþ þe boke of Zacharye, prophete.

Capitulum I.

i In þe eiȝte moneþ, in þe secounde ȝeer of Darius, þe word of þe Lord is maad to Zacharie, sone of Barachie, sone of Addo, prophete, seyinge, ii ȝe Lord is wrop vpon ȝour fadris wiþ wraþe.

iii And þou shalt faye to hem. ȝese þingis saiþ þe Lord of oostis. Be ȝe conuertid to me, saiþ þe Lord of oostis, and Y shal be conuertid to ȝou, saiþ þe Lord of oostis.

iv Be ȝe not as ȝour fadris, to whom former prophetis crieden, sayinge, ȝese þingus saiþ þe Lord of oostis, Be ȝe conuertid of ȝour yuel wayes, and ȝoure warfst þouȝtes; and þei herden not, neþer token entente to me, saiþ þe Lord of oostis.

v Wher ben ȝour faders and prophetis? wher þei shuln lyue into wiþ outen eende?

vi Neþeleſe my wordis and my lawful þingis, whiche Y comaundide to my feruauntis prophetis, wher þei tauȝten not ȝoure fadris? And þei weren to gydre turned, and faiden, As þe Lord of oostis þouȝte for to do to vs vp oure wayes, and vp oure fyndyngis he dide to vs.

vii In þe foure and twentipe day of þe elleuenþe moneþ Sabath, in þe secounde ȝeer of Darius, þe word of þe Lord is maad to Sacharie, sone of Barachie, sone of Addo, prophete, sayinge, viii Y sawȝ bi niȝt, and loo! a man styinge vp a rede hors; and he stode bitwixe þe places where myrtis wexen, þat weren in þe deepe, and after hym horsis dyuerse, rede, and white.

ix And Y saide, My lord, what ben þese? And an angel of þe Lord saide to me, þat spac in me, Y shal shewe to þee what þese ben.

x And þe man þat stode bitwixe places wher myrtis wexen, answerte, and faide, ȝese ben, whom þe Lord sente, þat þei walke þorow erþe.

xi And þei answerden to þe aungel of þe Lord, þat stode bitwixe places wher myrtis wexen, and faiden, We han walkid þorou erþe, and loo! al erþe is enhabitid, and restiþ.

xii And þe aungel of þe Lord answerte, and faide, Lord of oostis, hou longe shalt þou not haue mercy of Jerusalēm, and of þe citees of Juda, to whiche þou art wrop? Pis is now þe feuentiȝe ȝeer.

xiii And þe Lord answerte to þe aungel, þat spac in me, good wordis, coumfortyng.

xivii And þe aungel þat spac in me, saide to me, Crie þou, sayinge, Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord of oostis, Y louede Jerusalen and Syon in grete feroour; xv and in grete wrop Y shal be wrop vpon riche folkis; for Y was wroþe a litil, forsoþe þei holpen in to yuel.
 xvi Perfore þese þingis saiþ þe Lord, Y shal turne aȝein to Jerusalen in mercyes. My hous shal be byldid in it, saiþ þe Lord of oostis; and an hangynge lyne, or mesure, shal be streiȝt out vpon Jerusalen.
 xvii ȝit crie þou, sayinge, Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord of oostis, ȝit my cytees shuln flete wiþ goodis, and ȝit þe Lord shal coumforte Syon, and ȝit he shal chese Jerusalen.
 xviii And Y reyfide myn eeȝen, and sawȝ, and loo! foure horns.
 xix And Y saide to þe aungel þat spak in me, What ben þese? And he faide to me, Þese ben hornes, þat wyndewiden Juda, and Ifrael, and Jerusalen.
 xx And þe Lord shewide to me foure smyþis.
 xxi And Y faide, What cummen þese for to do? Whiche saiþ, sayinge, Þese ben þe hornes, þat wyndewiden Juda by alle men, and no man of hem reiside his hed; and þese camen for to fere hem, þat bei caste doun hornes of heipen men, whiche reyfiden horn vpon þe lond of Juda, for to scatere it.

Capitulum II.

i And Y reyfide myn eeȝen, and sawȝ, and loo! a man, and loo! in his hond a litil coorde of meters.
 ii And Y saide, Whider goſt þou? And he faide to me, Pat Y mete Jerusalen, and Judee; hou myche is þe breede þerof, and hou myche þe lengþe þerof.
 iii And loo! þe angel þat spac in me, wente out, and an ober angel wente out into meetyng of hym, iii and faide to hym, Renne þou, spek to þis chijld, faiyng, Wiþ outen wall Jerusalen shal be enabitid, for multitude of men and beeftis in þe mydil þerof.
 v And Y shal be to it, saiþ þe Lord, a wall of fijr in cumpas; and Y shal be in glorye in þe mydil þerof.
 vi O! O! O! flee ȝe of þe lond of þe norþ, saiþ þe Lord, for in foure wyndis of heuen Y scatride ȝou, saiþ þe Lord.
 vii Pou Syon, flee, þat dwellist anentus þe douȝter of Babyloyne.
 viii For þese þingus saiþ þe Lord of oostis, After glorie he fente me to heipen men, whiche robbiden ȝou; forsoþe he þat shal touche ȝou, shal touche þe appil of myn eeȝe.
 ix For lo! Y reyse my hond vpon hem, and þei shuln be pray to þese þat feruyden to hem; and ȝe shuln knowe, for þe Lord of oostis fente me. x Douȝter of Syon, herye þou, and glade; for loo! Y come, and shal dwelle in þe mydil of þee, saiþ þe Lord.
 xi And manye folkis shuln be applied to þe Lord in þat day, and þei shuln be to me in to a peple, and Y shal dwelle in þe mydil of þee; and þou shalt wite, for þe Lord of oostis fente me to þee.

xii And þe Lord shal welde Juda in to his part, in þe lond halewid, and shal cheſe ȝit Jerusalen.

xiii Be eche flesh stille fro þe face of þe Lord, for he roose of his holy dwellynge place.

Capitulum III.

i And þe Lord shewide to me þe grete preſt Jheſu, stondyng byfore þe aungel of þe Lord; and Sathan stode on his riȝt half, þat he were aduersarie to hym.
 ii And þe Lord faide to Sathan, Þe Lord blame in þee, Sathan, and þe Lord blame in þee, þat ches Jerusalen. Wher þis is not a dead brond rauyſhid of þe fijr?
 iii And Jheſus was cloþid wiþ filþi cloþis, and stode byfore þe face of þe aungel.
 iii Whiche anſwerde, and saiþ to hym þat stode before hym, sayinge, Do ȝe awey filþi cloþis fro hym. And he faide to hym, Loo! Y haue don awey fro þee þi wickidnesse, and Y haue cloþid þee wiþ chaungynge cloþis.
 v And he faide, Putte ȝe a cleene cappe, or mytre, vpon his heued. And þei puttiden a cleene cappe, or mytre, vpon his heed, and cloþiden hym wiþ cloþis. And þe aungel of þe Lord stode, vi and þe aungel of þe Lord witnesſide Jheſu, sayinge, vii Þese þingis saiþ þe Lord of oostis, ȝif þou shalt go in my wayes, and shalt keepe my keepyng, and þou shalt deme my hous, and shalt keepe my porchis; and Y shal ȝeue to þee men walkynge, of þese þat now stonden here niȝ.
 viii Heere þou, Jheſu, grete preſt, þou and þi freendis þat dwellen byfore þee, for þei ben men signyfyng bing to cummyng. Loo! soþely Y shal bringe my seruaunt spryngynge vp.
 ix For loo! þe stoon whom Y ȝaf byfore Jheſu, vpon oo stoon ben feuen eeȝen; and loo! Y shal graue þe grauynge þerof, saiþ þe Lord of oostis, and Y shal do awey þe wickidnesse of þat lond in oo day.
 x In þat day, saiþ þe Lord of oostis, a man shal clepe his frend vndir his vyne ȝerd, and vndir his fijge tree.

Capitulum IIII.

i And þe aungel turnede aȝein, þat spak in me, and reyfide me, as a man þat is reyfide of his sleep.
 ii And he faide to me, What feest þou? And Y faide, Y sawȝ, and loo! a candilſtyke al of gold, and þe laumpe þerof vpon þe hed þerof, and feuen lanternes þerof vpon it, and feuen veffels for to holde oyle to þe lanternys, þat weren vpon þe hed þerof.
 iii And two olyues þer vpon, oon on þe riȝt half of þe laumpe, and an ober on þe left half þerof.
 iiiii And Y anſwerde, and Y saye to þe angel þat spak in me, sayinge, What ben þese þingus, my lord?

v And þe angel þat spak in me, answarde, and saide to me, Wher þou wost not what ben þese þingus? And Y saide, No, my lord.

vi And he answarde, and saiþ to me, sayinge, Þis is þe word of þe Lord to Zorobabel, sayinge, Not in oost, neber in strengþe, bot in my spirit, saiþ þe Lord of oostis.

vii Who þou, grete hill, byfore Zorobabel in to pleyn? and he shal leede out þe firste stoon, and shal make euene grace to grace þerof.

viii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, sayinge, ix Þe hondis of Zorobabel foundiden þis hous, and þe hondis of hym shuln perfourme it; and ȝe shuln wite, for þe Lord of oostis sente me to ȝou.

x Who forsoþe dispiside litil days? and þei shuln glade, and shuln see a stoon of tyn in þe hond of Zorobabel. Þese ben feuen eeȝen of þe Lord, þat rennen aboue in to eche lond.

xi And Y answarde, and saide to hym, What ben þese two olyues on þe riȝthalf of þe candilltike, and at þe left half?

xii And Y answarde þe secounde tyme, and sayde to hym, What ben þe two eris, or riȝt fruyt, of þe olyues, þat ben byfisid þe two golden bilis, in whiche ben oyle vefselis of gold?

xiii And he saiþ to me, sayinge, Wher þou wost not what ben þese þingis? And Y saide, No, my lord.

xiv And he saide, Þese ben two sonys of oyle shynynge, whiche stonden niȝ to þe lordshipere of al erþe.

Capitulum V.

i And Y was conuertid, and reyfide myn eeȝen, and fawȝ, and loo! a bok fleeȝinge.

ii And he saide to me, What seest þou? And Y saide, Y see a bok fleeȝinge; þe lengþe þerof of twenti cubitis, þe breed þerof of ten cubitis.

iii And he saide to me, Þis is þe curs, þat gop out vpon þe face of al erþe; for eche þeef, as it is writen þere, shal be demyd; and eche man swerynge, of þis also shal be deemid.

iv And Y shal leede it out, saiþ þe Lord of oostis, and it shal cum to hous of þe þeef, and to hous of þe swerynge fallly in my name; and it shal dwelle in mydil of his hous, and shal waaste hym, and his trees, and his stoones.

v And þe aungel wente out, þat spak in me, and saide to me, Reyeþ þin eeȝen, and fee, what þis þing is, þat gop out.

vi And Y saide, What is it? And he saiþ, Þis is an amfer, or a vefsel þat sum men clepen a tankard, goynge out. And he saide, Þis is þe eeȝe of hem in eche lond.

vii And lo! a talent of lede was born; and loo! a womman fytyng in mydil of þe amfer.

viii And he saide, Þis is vpnitee. And he keste hir doun in mydil of þe amfer, and sente a gobet of leed in þe mouȝ þerof.

ix And Y reyfide myn eeȝen, and fauȝ, and loo! two wymmen goynge out, and a spirit in þe wengus of hem; and þei hadden weengus as weengus of a kijte, and reyfiden þe amfer bitwix heuen and erþe.

x And Y saide to þe aungel þat spac in me, Whiþer beren þese þe amfer?

xi And he sayde to me, þat an hous be beeldid þerto in þe lond of Sennaar, and be stablid, and putte þere vpon his foundement.

Capitulum VI.

i And Y was conuertid, and Y reyfide myne eeȝen, and fawȝ, and loo! foure fourhorfid cartis goynge out of þe mydil of two hillis, and þe hillis hillis of bras.

ii In þe first foure horfid carte rede horfis, and in þe secound foure horfid cart blake horfis;

iii and in þe þrid foure horfid cart white horfis, and in þe fourȝ foure horfid carte dyuerse horfis stronge.

iv And Y answarde, and saide to þe aungel þat spac in me, What ben þese þingus, my lord?

v And þe aungel answarde, and saiþ to me, Þese ben foure wyndis of heuen, whiche gon out, þat þei stonde byfore þe lordshipere of al erþe.

vi In whiche weren blake horfis, wente out in to þe lond of þe norþ; and þe white wenten out after hem; and þe dyuers wenten out to þe lond of þe souþ.

vii Forsoþe þei þat waren strengest wenten out, and souȝten for to go, and renne aboue bi al erþe. And he saide, Go ȝe, walke ȝe þoru þe erþe. And þei walkiden þoru erþe.

viii And he clepide me, and spac to me, sayyng, Loo! þei þat gon out in to lond of þe norþ, maden my spirit for to reste in lond of þe norþ.

ix And þe word of þe Lord is maad to me, sayinge, x Take þou of þe transmygracioun, or caitiftee, of Olday, and of Toby, and of Byday; and þou shalt cum in þat day, and þou shalt entre in to þe hous of Josye, sone of Sophonye, þat camen fro Babyloyne.

xi And þou shalt take gold and syluer, and þou shalt make crownes, and putte in þe hed of Jhesu, sone of Josedech, þe grete preste;

xii and þou shalt speke to hym, sayinge, Þese þingus saiþ þe Lord of oostus, sayyng, Loo! a man, Eest, or Springynge, his name, and vndir hym shal springe; and he shal beelde a temple to þe Lord.

xiii And he shal ful make þe temple to þe Lord, and he shal bere glorie, and shal sitte, and shal be lord vpon his seete; and counfeile of pees shal be bitwixe hem two.

xiv And crownys shuln be to Helem, and Toby, and Ydaie, and Hen, þe sone of Sophonye, a memorial in temple of þe Lord.

xv And þei þat ben fer, shuln cumme, and bylde in þe temple of þe Lord; and ȝe shuln witen, for þe Lord of oostis fente me to ȝou. Soþely þis þing shal be, ȝif bi heeryng ȝe shuln heere þe voyce of þe Lord ȝour God.

Capitulum VII.

- i And it is maad in þe fourþe ȝeere of Darius, kyng, þe word of þe Lord is maad to Zacharie, in þe fourþe day of þe nynþe moneþe, þat is Casleu.
ii And Sarasar, and Rogumelech, and men þat weren wiþ hem, fenten to þe hous of þe Lord, for to preye þe face of þe Lord;
iii þat þei shulden faye to prestis of þe hous of þe Lord of oostis, and to prophetis, spekyng, Wher it is to wepe to me in þe fifþe moneþ, or Y shal halewe me, as Y dide now manye ȝeiris?
iv And þe word of þe Lord of oostis is maad to me, sayinge, v Speke þou to al þe peple of þe lond, and to prestis, fayinge, Whenne ȝe fastiden, and weiliden in þe fifþe and seuenþe moneþe, by feuenty ȝeiris, wher ȝe fastiden a fast 'to me?'
vi And when ȝe eeten, and drunken, wher ȝee eeten not 'to ȝou, and drunken to ȝour self?'
vii Wher wordis of prophetis ben not, whiche þe Lord spak in þe hond of former prophetis, when ȝit Jerusalem was enhabited, and was ful of ritchessis, and it, and þe citees þerof in cumpas þerof, and at þe souþ and in feeldi place was enhabited?
viii And þe word of þe Lord is maad to Zacharie, sayinge, ix þese þingis saip þe Lord of oostis, fayinge, Deme ȝe trewe dome, and mercy, and doyngus of mercy do ȝe, eche man to his broþer.
x And nyl ȝe falsly chalenge þe wydue, and fadirlesse, or moderlesse, and þe cumlyng, and pore man; and a man þenke not in his herte yuel to his broþer.
xi And þei wolden not take heed, and þei turneden awey þe shuldre goynge awey, and aggregiden, or maden heuy, her eeris, leſt þei herden.
xii And þei puttiden her herte as an adamaunt, leſt þei herden þe law, and wordis whiche þe Lord of oostis fente in his holy Spirit, by hond of former prophetis; and grete indignacioun is maad of þe Lord of oostis.
xiii And it is don, as he spak; and as þei herden not, þei shuln crye, and Y shal not heere hem, saip þe Lord of oostis.
xiv And Y scatride hem by alle rewmys, whiche þei knewen not, and þe lond is desolate fro hem, for þat þere was not a man goynge and turnyng aȝein; and þei han putt þe desirable lond in to defert.

Capitulum VIII.

- i And þe word of þe Lord of oostis is maad to me, sayinge,

- ii þese þingis saip þe Lord of oostis, Y hatide Syon wiþ grete feruour, and wiþ grete indignacioun Y hatid it.
iii þese þingus saip þe Lord of oostis, Y am turned aȝein to Syon, and Y shal dwelle in þe mydil of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shal be clepid a cytee of trewþe, and þe hill of þe Lord, an hill halewid.
iv þese þingus saip þe Lord of oostis, ȝit olde men and olde wymmen shuln dwelle in streetis of Jerusalem, and þe staff of a man in his hond, for multitude of ȝeiris.
v And streetis of þe citee shuln be fulfillid wiþ infautis and maydens, pleyinge in þe streetis of it.
vi þese þingus saip þe Lord of oostis, ȝif it shal be seen hard in eeȝen of þe relikis of þis peple in þo dayes, wher in myn eeȝen it shal be hard, saip þe Lord of oostis.
vii þese þingus saip þe Lord of oostis, Loo! Y shal faue my peple of lond of þe eest, and of þe lond of goynge doun of þe funne; viii and Y shal leede hem to, and þei shuln dwelle in mydil of Jerusalem; and þei shuln be to me in to peple, and Y shal be to hem in to God, and in trewþe, and in riȝtwisnesse.
ix þese þingis saip þe Lord of oostis, Be ȝoure hondis counfortid, whiche heeren in þese days þese wordis by þe mouþ of prophetis, in þe day in whiche þe hous of þe Lord of oostis is foundid, þat þe temple shulde be beeldid.
x Soþely bifore þo days hijre of men was not, neþer hijre of werk beetis was, neþer to man entringe and goynge out was pees for tribulacioun; and Y departide alle men, eche aȝein his neiȝbore.
xi Now forsoþe not after þe former days Y shal do to þe relikis of þis peple, saip þe Lord of oostis, xii but seed of pees shal be; þe vyne ȝerd shal ȝeue his fruyt, and þe erþe shal ȝeue his buriownyng, and heuens shuln ȝeue her dewe; and Y shal make þe relikis of þis peple for to welde alle þese þingus.
xiii And it shal be, as ȝe, hous of Juda, and þe hous of Yrael, weren cursyng in heiþen men, Y shal faue ȝou, and ȝe shuln be bleffyng. Nyl ȝe dreede, be ȝour hondis coumfortid; xiv for þese þingus saip þe Lord of oostis, As Y þouȝte for to tourmente ȝou, whanne ȝoure fadris hadden terrid me to wrþ, saip þe Lord, and Y hadde not mercy, xv so Y conuertið þouȝte in þese days for to do wele to þe hous of Juda and Jerusalem; nyl ȝe dreede.
xvi Forsoþe þese ben þe wordis whiche ȝe shuln do; speke ȝe trewþe, eche man wiþ his neiȝbore; deme ȝe treuþe and dom of pees in ȝour ȝatis;
xvii and þinke ȝe not in ȝoure hertis, eche man yuel aȝeinys his freend, and loue ȝe not a fals oþ; forsoþe alle þese þingus ben, whiche Y hate, saip þe Lord.
xviii And þe word of þe Lord of hoostis is maad to me, sayinge, xix Pese þingus saiþ þe Lord of oostis, Faſtyng of þe fourþe moneþe, and faſtyng of þe fifþe, and faſtyng of þe feuenþe, and faſtyng of þe tenþe, ſhal be to þe hous of Juda in to ioye and gladneſſe, and in to ful cleere ſolempnytees; loue ȝe oonly treuþe and pees.

 xx Pese þingis saiþ þe Lord of oostis, On eche fyde peplis ſhuln cume, and dwelle in many citees; xxi and þe dwellers ſhuln go, oon to an oþer, ſaiyng, Go we, and bifeche þe face of þe Lord, and feeke we þe Lord of oostus; alſo Y ſhal go.
 xxii And many peplis ſhuln cumme, and ſtronge folkis, for to feeke þe Lord of oostus in Jeruſalem, for to bifeche þe face of þe Lord.
 xxiii Pese þingus saiþ þe Lord of oostis, In þo days, in whiche ten men of alle tungis, or langagis, of heiþen men ſhuln cacche, and þei ſhuln catche þe hem of a man Jew, ſayinge, We ſhuln go wiþ ȝou; forſoþe we han herd, for God is wiþ ȝou.

Capitulum IX.

i The charge of word of þe Lord, in þe lond of Adrach, and Damask, reſte þeroſ; for þe Lord is þe eeȝe of man, and of alle þe lynagis of Yrael.
 ii And Emath in termes þeroſ, and Tyrus, and Sydon; ſoþeli þei token to hem wiſdam gretely.
 iii And Tyrus beeldide his ſtrengþyne, and gadride fyluer as erþe, and gold as fen of ſreetis.
 iii Loo! þe Lord ſhal weelde it, and ſhal ſmyte in þe ſee þe ſtrengþe þeroſ, and it ſhal be deououred in fijr.
 v Aschalon ſhal fe, and ſhal drede; and Gaza, and ſhal forewe ful myche; and Acharon, for þe hoope þeroſ is confoundid; and þe kyng ſhal perifhe of Gaza, and Ascalon ſhal not be enhabited;
 vi and a departer ſhal fitte in Azoto, and Y ſhal diſtruye þe pride of Philistynes.
 vii And Y ſhal take awey þe blood þeroſ of þe mouþ of it, and þe abhomynaciouns þeroſ of mydil of þe teeþ þeroſ, and it also ſhal be left to oure God; and it ſhal be as a duyk in Juda, and Accharon as Jebusey.
 viii And Y ſhal enuyrounne myn hous of þeſe þat holden knyȝthode to me, goynge and turnyng aȝein; and þe exactoure, or þe vniuſt axer, ſhal namore paſſe vpon hem, for now Y ſawȝ in myn eeȝen.
 ix þou douȝter of Syon, ioye wiþ outeforþ ynowȝ, ſynge, þou douȝter of Jeruſalem; loo! þi kyng ſhal cume to þee, he iuft, and faueour; he pore, ſtyninge vpon a ſhe aſſe, and vpon a foile, ſone of þe ſhe aſſe.
 x And Y ſhal ſcatere þe foure horsid carte of Effraym, and þe hors of Jeruſalem, and bowe of þe bateile ſhal be diſtruyed; and he ſhal ſpeke pees to heiþen men, and power of hym fro ſe vn to ſe, and fro floodis vn to eendis of þe erþe.
 xi And þou in blood of þi teſtament ſentift out þi bounden fro þe lake, in whiche is not water.

xii Be ȝe conuertid to ſtrengþing, ȝe bounden of hoope; and þis day Y ſhewyng double þingus ſhal ȝeelde to þee, xiii for Y ſhal ſtretche forþ to me Juda as a bowe, Y ſhal fulſille þe lond of Effraym. And Y ſhal reyſe þi ſones, Syon, vpon þi ſones, Greece, and Y ſhal putte þee as fwerd of ſtronge.
 xiv And þe Lord God ſhal be ſeen vpon hem, and þe fwerd of hym ſhal go out as leyt. And þe Lord God ſhal ſyng in trumpe, and ſhal go in whirlwynd of þe ſouþ; xv þe Lord of oostis ſhal keuere, or defende, hem, and þei ſhuln deuouren, and maken ſuget in ſtones of flynge; and þei drynkyng ſhuln be fulfillid as wiþ wyne, and ſhuln be fillid as cruetis, and as hornes of þe auter.
 xvi And þe Lord God of hem ſhal faaue hem in þat day, as a floc of his peple, for holy ſtoonyſ ſhuln be reyſid vpon þe lond of hym.
 xvii What forſoþe is þe good of hym, and what þe faire of hym, no but whete of chosen, and wyne buriownyng virgynes?

Capitulum X.

i Axe ȝe reyn of þe Lord in euenyng tyme, and þe Lord ſhal make ſnowis, and reyn of miȝt of þe cloude; and he ſhal ȝeue to hem, eche by hem ſelf, erbe in þe feeld.
 ii For ſymulacris ſpaken vnprofitable þing, and dyuynours ſawen leſyng; and dremers ſpaken veynly, ydely þei conforſiden; þeſor þei ben ledde to as a floc, þei ſhuln be tourmentid, for ſheperd is not to hem.
 iii Vpon ſheperdis my woodnes is wroþe, and vpon goot buckis Y ſhal viſite; for þe Lord of oostis haþ viſited his floc, þe hous of Juda, and haþ putt hem as hors of his glorye in batel.
 iii Of hym corner, and of him a litil pale, of hym bowe of batel, and of hym eche exactour, or vniuſt axer, ſhal go out togidre.
 v And þei ſhuln be as ſtronge men, defoulynge cley of wayes in bateil, and þei ſhuln fiȝte, for þe Lord is wiþ hem; and ſtyers of horsis ſhuln be confoundid.
 vi And Y ſhal coumforte þe hous of Joseph; and Y ſhal conuerte hem, for Y ſhal haue mercye of hem; and þei ſhuln be as þei weren, whanne Y hadde not caſt hem awēy; forſoþe Y þe Lord God of hem, and Y ſhal graciously heere hem.
 vii And þei ſhuln be as ſtronge of Effraym, and þe herte of hem ſhal glade, as of wyne; and þe ſonyſ of hem ſhuln ſee, and glade, and þe hert of hem ſhal ioye wiþ outeforþ in þe Lord.
 viii Y ſhal hiſſe, or softly ſpeeke, to hem, and Y ſhal gedre hem, for Y aȝein bouȝte hem, and Y ſhal multiplie hem, as þei weren byfore multiplied.

- ix And Y shal sowe hem in peplis, and of fer þei shuln biþenke of me; and þei shuln lyue wiþ her sonys, and shuln turne aȝein.
- x And Y shal aȝein leede hem fro þe lond of Egypt, and of Assiriens Y shal gedre hem; and to þe lond of Galaad and of Liban Y shal bringe hem, and place shal not be founden in hem.
- xi And he shal passe in wawe of þe fe, and shal smythe wawes in þe fee, and alle depnessis of flood shuln be confoundid; and þe pride of Assur shal be meekid, and þe sceptre of Egipt shal go awey.
- xii Y shal comforthe hem in þe Lord, and in þe name of hym þei shuln walke, saip þe Lord.

Capitulum XI.

- i Liban, opne þi ȝatis, and fijr shal eete þi cedris.
- ii ȝoule, þou beche, for þe cedre felle doun, for þe grete ben distruyed; ȝoule, ȝe ookis of Bafan, for þe stronge wijlde wod is kitt doun.
- iii Voice of ȝoulyng of sheperdis, for þe grete doyng of hem is distruyed; voice of roryng of lyouns, for þe pride of Jordan is waastid.
- iv ȝe fe þingus saip þe Lord my God, Feede þou beeftis of flauȝter,
- v whom þei þat weeldiden flewen; and forewidien not, and soulden hem, sayinge, Bleſſid þe Lord, we ben maad riche. And þe sheperdis of hem spariden not hem,
- vi and Y shal na more spare vpon men enabitinge þe erþe, saip þe Lord. Loo! Y shal bytake men, eche in þe hond of his neiȝbore, and in þe hond of his kyng, and þei shuln falle to gydre in to erþe; and Y shal not delyuere of þe hond of hem,
- vii and Y shal feede þe beest of sleaynge. For þis þing, ȝe pore men of þe floc, heerip. And Y toke to me two ȝerdis; oon Y clepide Fairnesse, and þe toþer Y clepide Litil Coorde; and Y fedde þe floc.
- viii And Y kitte doun þre sheperdis in oo moneþe, and my soule is drawnen to gydre in hem; soþely and þe soule of hem varieide, or chaungide, in me.
- ix And Y faide, Y shal not feede ȝou; þat þat dyeþ, dye; and þat þat is kitt doun, be it kitt doun; and þe toþer deuoure, eche þe fleshe of his neiȝbore.
- x And Y toke my ȝerde, þat was clepid Fairnesse, and Y kitte it doun, þat Y shulde make voide my couenaunt, þat Y smote wiþ alle peplis.
- xi And it is led forþ void in þat day; and þe pore of þe floc þat kepen to me, knewen þus, for it is þe word of þe Lord.
- xii And Y faide to hem, ȝif it is good in ȝour eeȝen, brenge ȝe my meede; and ȝif nay, reste ȝe. And þei weyȝiden my meede, þritti platis of syluer.
- xiii And þe Lord faide to me, Caste it awey to a feir maker of ymagis, þe pris, by whiche Y am preysid of hem. And Y toke þe þritti platis of syluer, and Y keste

- hem forþe in þe hous of þe Lord, to þe maker of ymagis.
- xiv And Y kitte doun my fecounde ȝerde, þat was clepid Litil Coorde, þat Y shulde departe, or vnbynde, þe broþerhed bitwixe Juda and Yrael.
- xv And þe Lord saide to me, ȝit take to þee vessels of a foliſhe ſheperd;
- xvi for loo! Y shal reyſe a ſheperd in erþe, whiche shal not viſite forfaken þingus, he ſchal not ſeeke ſcatered þingis, and shal not heele þe broken to gydre, and shal not nurishe forþ þat þat ſtondidþ. And he shal eete fleſhis of þe fatt, and shal vnbynde þe clees of hem.
- xvii A! ſheperd, and ydol, forſakyng þe floc; fwerd on his arme, and on his riȝt eeȝe; þe arm of hym shal be dried wiþ dryenesse, and his riȝt eeȝe wexinge derk shal be maad derc.
- ## Capitulum XII.
- i The charge of word of þe Lord on Yrael. Þe Lord faide, ſtretchynge forþ heuen, and foundynge erþe, and makyng þe ſpirit of a man in hym,
- ii Loo! Y shal putte Jerufalem a þrefhfold of glotonye to alle peplis in cumpas, bot and Juda shal be in aſeegyng ȝeineus Jerufalem.
- iii And it shal be, in þat day Y shal putte Jerufalem a ſtoon of charge to alle peplis; alle þat shuln lifte it, wiþ conſciooun, or kittyn to gidre, shuln be to-drawen, and alle rewmys of erþe shuln be gadrid ȝeineus it.
- iv In þat day, sayþ þe Lord, Y shal smythe eche hors in to dred, or leefyng of mynde, and þe ſtyer of hym in to wodenesse; and on þe hous of Juda I shal opyn myn eeȝen, and Y shal smythe wiþ blyndneſſe eche hors of peplis.
- v And duykis of Juda shuln faye in her hertis, Be þe dwellers of Jerufalem counfortid to me in þe Lord of ooftis, þe God of hem.
- vi In þat day Y shal putte þe duykis of Juda as a chymney of fijr in trees, and as a brond of fijr in hay; and þei shuln deouure at þe riȝt half and left alle peplis in cumpas. And Jerufalem shal be enhabitid eftſooне in his place, in Jerufalem.
- vii And þe Lord shal ſaaue þe tabernaclis of Juda, as in þe bygynnyng, þat þe hous of Dauid glorie not greetly, and þe glorie of men dwellyng in Jerufalem ȝeineus Juda.
- viii In þat day þe Lord shal defende þe dwellers of Jerufalem; and it shal be, he þat shal offend of hem in þat day as Dauid, and þe hous of Dauid as of God, as be aungel of þe Lord in þe firȝt of hym.
- ix And it shal be, in þat day Y shal ſeeke for to breke to gydre alle folkis þat cummen ȝeineus Jerufalem.
- x And Y shal heelde out on þe hous of Dauid, and on dwellers of Jerufalem, þe ſpirit of grace, and of prayers; and þei shuln biholde to me, whom þei to gidre ſicchiden. And þei shuln weile hym wiþ weilyng, as on þe oon bigoten; and þei shuln forewen on hym, as it is wont for to be forewid in deþ of þe first bygotten.

xii In þat day grete weilyng shal be in Jerusalem, as þe weilyng of Adremon in þe feeld of Magedon.

xiii And erþe shal weyle; meynees and meynees by hem self; þe meynees of þe hous of Dauid by hem self, and þe wymmen of hem by hemself; meynees of þe hous of Nathan bi hem self, and þe wymmen of hem by hem self;

xiv meynees of þe hous of Leuy by hem self, and þe wymmen of hem by hem self; meynees of Semey bi hem self, and þe wymmen of hem bi hem self.

xv Alle meynees, and oþer meynees, and meynees by hem self, and wymmen of hem by hem self.

Capitulum XIII.

i In þat day shal be a welle opnyng to þe hous of Dauip, and to men dwelling at Jerusalem, in to washyng awey of þe fynful, and of þe menstruate.

ii And it shal be, in þat day, saip þe Lord of oostis, Y shal disstruye names of ydolis of þe lond, and þei shuln namore be pouȝte on; and Y shal take awey fro erþe fals prophetis, and þe vnclene spirit.

iii And it shal be, whan eny man shal prophecie ouere, his fader and moder þat gendriden hym, shuln faye to hym, þou shalt not lyue, for þou haft spoken lefyng in name of þe Lord; and his fadir and modir, gendrers of hym, shuln to gidre ficche hym, whanne he haþ prophecied.

iv And it shal be, in þat day prophetis shuln be confoundid, eche of his visioun, whan he shal prophecie; neþer þei shuln be hillid wiþ mantil of sac, bat þei leeȝe;

v bot þei shuln sey, Y am not a prophete; a man erþe tilier Y am, for Adam my ensaumple fro my ȝongþe.

vi And it shal be said to hym, What ben þese woundis in mydil of þin hondis? And he shal say, Wiþ þese Y was woundid in þe hous of hem þat loueden me.

vii Swerd, be þou reysid on my shoperd, and on þe wall cleuynge to me, saip þe Lord of oostis; smyte þou þe shoperd, and þe sheep of þe floc shuln be scaterid. And Y shal turne my hond to þe litil;

viii And þer shuln be in eche lond, saip þe Lord, two parties in it, and shuln be scatered, and shuln faile, and þe þrid part shal be left in it.

ix And Y shal leede þe þrid part bi fijr, and Y shal brenne, as syluer is brent, and Y shal proue hem, as gold is proued. He shal incleepe my name, and Y shal graciously heere hym; and Y shal faye, þou art my peple, and he shal faye, þe Lord my God.

Capitulum XIV.

i Loo! days cummen, saip þe Lord, and þi spuylis shuln be departid in mydil of þee.

ii And Y shal gadre alle folkis to Jerusalem, in to bateyl; and þe citee shal be taken, and housis shuln be distryued, and wymmen shuln be defoulid. And þe mydil part of þe citee shal go out in to caitiftee, and þe toþer of þe peple shal not be taken awey fro þe citee.

iii And þe Lord shal go out, and shal fiȝte aȝeinus þe folkis, as he fauȝte in þe day of stryf.

iv And his feet shuln stonde in þat day on þe hill of olyues, þat is aȝeins Jerusalem at þe eest. And þe hill of olyues schal be coruen of þe myddel part þerof to þe eest and to þe west, þe greet valey bifore brokyn; and þe myddel of þat hill be departid to þe norþ, and þe myddil þerof to þe mydday, or souþe.

v And ȝe shuln flee to þe valey of myn hillis, for þe valey of hillis shuln be ioyned togidre vn to þe next. And ȝe shuln flee, as ȝe fledden fro face of þe erþe mouyng in þe days of Osee, kyng of Juda; and þe Lord my God shal cumme, and alle fayntis wiþ hym.

vi And it shal be, in þat day liȝt shal not be, bot colde and frost.

vii And þer shal be oo day, whiche is knownen to þe Lord, not day, neþer niȝt, and in tyme of euyn liȝt shal be.

viii And it shal be, in þat day quyck waters shuln go out of Jerusalem, þe mydil of hem to þe eest see, and þe mydil of hem to þe last see; in somer and in wynter þei shuln be.

ix And þe Lord shal be kyng on al erþe; in þat day þer shal be oo Lord, and his name shal be oon.

x And eche erþe shal turne aȝein vnto desert, fro þe litil hill Remmon to þe souþ of Jerusalem. And it shal be reysid, and shal dwelle in his place, fro þe ȝate of Beniamyn til to þe place of þe former ȝate, and vn to þe ȝate of corners, and fro þe tour of Ananyel vnto pressours of þe kyng.

xi And þei shuln dwelle þerynne, and cursidnesse shal namore be, bot Jerusalem shal sitte sykir.

xii And þis shal be þe plage, by whiche þe Lord shal smyte alle folkis, þat fouȝten aȝeinus Jerusalem; þe fleshe of eche man stondinge vpon his feet shal fayle, or rote, and his eeȝen shuln faile to gydre in her hoolis, and his tunge shal faile to gydre in his mouþ.

xiii In þat day grete noyse of þe Lord shal be in hem, and a man shal catche þe hond of his neiȝbore; and his hond shal be lockid to gidre on þe hond of his neiȝbore.

xiv Bot and Judas shal fiȝte aȝeinus Jerusalem; and ricchessis of alle folkis in cumpas shuln be gadred to gider, gold, and syluer, and many clopis ynowe.

xv And so fallyng shal be of hors, and mule, and camel, and asse, and of alle were beeftis, þat weren in þo castellis, as þis fallyng.

xvi And alle þat shuln be residu of alle folkis, þat camen aȝeinus Jerusalem, shuln styre vp fro ȝeere 'in to ȝeere, þat þei wirshipen þe kyng, Lord of oostis, and halewe þe feest of tabernaclis.

xvii And it shal be, þei þat shuln not stye vp of þe meynees of erþe to Jerusalem, þat þei wirshipe þe kyng, Lord of oostus, reyn shal not be on hem.
xviii þat and ȝif þe meynée of Egypt shal not stye vp, and shal not cum, neþer on hem shal be; bot fallynge shal be, bi whiche þe Lord shal smytle alle folkis, whiche stieden not vp, for to halewe þe fest of tabernaclis.

xix þis shal be þe synne of Egypt, and þis þe synne of alle folkis, þat stieden not vp, for to halewe þe fest of tabernaclis.

xx In þat day, it shal be, on whiche þing þe bridil of hors is hooly to þe Lord; and caudrons shuln be in þe hous of þe Lord, as cruetis byfore þe auter.

xxi And euerie caudron in Juda and Jerusalem shal be halewid to þe Lord of oostis. And alle men shuln cum offryng, and shuln take of hem, and shuln seeþe in hem; and a marchaunt shal namore be in hous of þe Lord of oostus in þat day.

Here endiþ þe book of Zacharias, þe prophete, and bigynneþ þe book of Malachie, prophete.

MALACHIE.

Here bigynneþ Malachie.

Capitulum I.

i The charge of word of þe Lord to Yrael, in þe hond of Malachie, prophete.

ii Y louyde ȝou, saiþ þe Lord, and ȝee saiden, In what þing louydist þou vs? Wher Esau was not þe broþer of Jacob, saiþ þe Lord, and Y louyde Jacob, iii forsoþe Y hadde Esau in hate? And Y haue putte Seir his hillis in to wildreneſſe, and his eritage in to dragouns of desert.

iv Pat ȝif Ydume shal say, We be distruyed, but we turnyng aȝein shuln beelde, whiche þingus ben distruyed; þese þingus saiþ þe Lord of oostis, þese shuln beelde, and Y shal distruye; and þei shuln be clepid termes of wickedneſſe, and a peple to whom þe Lord is wroþ, til vnto wiþouten eende.

v And ȝour eeȝen shuln see, and ȝee shuln saye, Magnyfied be þe Lord on þe terme of Yrael.

vi Pe sone honoureþ þe fadir, and þe seruaunt shal drede his lord; þerfore ȝif Y am fadir, wher is myn honour? and ȝif Y am lord, wher is my dred? saiþ þe Lord of oostis. O! preftis, to ȝou þat dispisen my name; and ȝe saiden, Wher yn haue we dispisid þi name?

vii ȝe offren on myn auter defoulid, or vnclene, breed, and ȝe sayn, Wherynne han we defoulide þee? In þat þing þat ȝe sayn, þe bord of þe Lord is dispisid.

viii ȝif ȝe offren a blynd þing for to be offrid, wher it is not yuel? And ȝif ȝe offren a crokide and seek, wher it is not yuel? Offre it to þi duyk, ȝif it shal plesse to hym, or ȝif he shal refcyeue þi face, saiþ þe Lord of oostis.

ix And nowe bisheeche þe cheere of þe Lord, þat he haue mercy on ȝou; forsoþe of ȝour hond þis þing is don, ȝif eny manere he refcyeue ȝour faces, saiþ þe Lord of oostis.

x Who is in ȝou þat closiþ doris, and brenneþ myn auter of his own wille, or freeli? Wille is not to me in ȝou, saiþ þe Lord of oostis; and Y shal not refcyeue a ȝift of ȝour hond.

xi Forsoþe fro ryfysyng of þe funne vn to goyng doun, my name is grete in heþen men; and in eche place a cleene offryng is halewid, and offrid to my name; for my name is grete in heþen men, saiþ þe Lord of oostis.

xii And ȝe han defoulid it in þat þat ȝe sayn, þe bord of þe Lord is defoulid, and þat þat is putt on is contemptible, or worþi for to be dispisid, wiþ þe fijr þat deuouriþ it.

xiii And ȝe saiden, Loo! of traeil; and ȝe han blowe it awey, saiþ þe Lord of oostis. And ȝe brouȝten yn of raueins a krokide þing, and feeke, and brouȝten yn a ȝift; wher Y shal refcyeue it of ȝour hond? saiþ þe Lord.

xiv Cursid þe gylful, þat hab in his floc a male beeſt, and he makynge a vowe offriþ a feble to þe Lord; for I a grete kyng, saiþ þe Lord of oostis, and my name orrible in folkis.

Capitulum II.

i And now, O! preftis, to ȝou þis maundement, ȝif ȝe woln heere.

ii And ȝif ȝe woln not putte on þe herte, þat ȝe ȝeue glorie to my name, saiþ þe Lord of oostis, Y shal sende in ȝou nedynesse, and Y shal curse to ȝour bleffyngis; and Y shal curse hem, for ȝe han not putte on þe herte.

iii Loo! Y shal caste to ȝou arme, and Y shal scatere on ȝour cheere þe dritt of ȝoure solempnytees, and it shal take ȝou wiþ it.

iv And ȝe shuln wite, for Y sente to ȝou þis maundement, þat my couenaunt were wiþ Leuy, saiþ þe Lord of oostis.

v My couenaunt was wiþ hym of liþ and pees; and Y ȝaue to hym a dred, and he dredde me, and he dredde of þe face of my name.

vi Pe lawe of trewþe was in his mouþ, and wickidneſſe is not founden in his lippis; in pees and in equitee he walkide wiþ me, and many men he turnyde awey fro wickidneſſe.

vii Forsoþe lippis of þe preft kepen science, or kunning, and þei shuln seeke aȝein þe lawe of þe mouþ of hem, for he is an aungel of þe Lord of oostis.

viii Forsoþe ȝe wenten awey fro þe weye, and sclaudren ful many men in þe lawe; ȝe maden voide þe couenaunt of Leuy, þese þingus saiþ þe Lord of oostis.

ix For whiche þing and Y ȝauȝ ȝou worþi to be dispisid, and meeke, or lowe, to alle peplis, as ȝe kepten not my wayes, and token folc in þe lawe.
x Wher not oo fadir of alle ȝou? wher oo God made ȝou not of nouȝt? Whi þerfore ech of ȝou dispisiþ his broþer, defoulynge þe couenaunt of ȝour faders?
xi Judas trespaſide, and abomynacioun is maad in Yrael, and in Jerusalem; for Judas defoulid þe halewing of þe Lord, whiche he louyde, and aliens hadden þe douȝter of þe Lord.
xii Pe Lord shal distruye þe man þat dide þis þinge, þe mayſtir and disciple, of tabernaclis of Jacob, and þe offryng a ȝift to þe Lord of oostis.
xiii And eftsoone ȝe diden þis þing; ȝe hilliden wiþ teris þe auter of þe Lord, wiþ weepyng and mournyng, so þat Y biholde namore to sacrifice, neþer resceyue eny þing plesaunt of ȝour hond.
xiv And ȝe saiden, For what cause? For þe Lord witnesſide bitwixe þee and þe wif of þi pubertee, þat is, tyme of mariage, whiche þou dispisiſt, and þis þi parcerer, and wif of þi couenaunt.
xv Wher oon dide not, and þe residue of his spirit is? and what seekiþ oon, no bot þe seed of God? Ȥerfore kepe ȝe ȝoure spirit, and nyl þou dispise þe wif of þi ȝongþe; xvi whanne þou shalt haue hir in hate, leue þou hir, saiþ þe Lord God of Yrael. Forþoþe wickidnesſe keuere þe cloſyng of hir, saiþ þe Lord of oostis; kepe ȝe ȝoure spirit, and nyl ȝe dispise.
xvii ȝe maden þe Lord for to trauile in ȝour wordis, and ȝe saiden, Wheryn made we hym for to trauile? In þat þat ȝe fayen, Eche man þat doþ yuel, is good in þe ſiȝt of þe Lord, and ſiche plesen to hym; or certis wher is God of dom?

Capitulum III.

i Loo! Y shal fende myn aungel, and he shal make redy be waye byfore my face; and anoon be lordshiper, whom ȝe feken, shal cum to his holy temple, `and þe aungel of testament, whom ȝe woln. Loo! he cummeþ, saiþ þe Lord of oostis;
ii and who shal mowe þenke þe day of his cummyng? and who shal stannde for to see hym? Forþoþe he as fijr wellynge to gidre, and as þe erbe of fullers;
iii and he shal ſitte wellinge to gidre and clensyng syluer, and shal purge þe fonys of Leuy; and shal purge hem as gold and as syluer, and þei shuln be offryng to þe Lord sacrifices in riȝtwisnessis.
iv And sacrifice of Juda and Jerusalem shal pleſe to þe Lord, as days of þe world, and as olde ȝeiris.
v And Y shal cum to ȝou in dom, and Y shal be a swyft witnesſe to mysdoars, to poyſonners, or enchaunters bi þe deuyls craft, and to auowters, and forsworne men, and þat falsly chalenge þe hijr of þe hirid man, and meeken widues, and faderleſſe childre, and moderleſſe, and opprefſen þe pylgryme, neþer dredden me, saiþ þe Lord of oostis.

vi Forþoþe Y þe Lord, and Y am not chaungid; and ȝe fonys of Jacob ben not waſtid.
vii Forþoþe fro þe days of ȝour fadres ȝe wenten awey fro my lawful þingus, and kepten not; turne ȝe aȝein to me, and Y shal aȝein turne to ȝou, saiþ þe Lord of oostis. And ȝe saiden, In what þing shuln we turne aȝein?
viii ȝif a man shal turmente God? for ȝe to gydre fitchen me. And ȝe saiden, In what þing togidre fitchen we þee? In tyþes, and in premiffis, or firſt fruytis, ix and in myſyfe, or nedynesse, ȝe ben cursid; and al ȝe folk disceyuen me, and to gidre fitchen.
x Brengi ȝe yn eche tiȝe in to my berne, þat mete be in my hous, and proue ȝe me on þis þing, saiþ þe Lord, ȝif Y shal not opne to ȝou þe gutters of heuen, and shal ſheeðe out to ȝou bleſſyng, vnto abundaunce.
xi And Y shal blame for ȝou þe deuouryng, and he shal not corrump, or distruye, þe fruyte of ȝour londe; neþer bareyn vyneȝerd shal be in þe feeld, saiþ þe Lord of oostis, xii and alle folkis shuln fayn ȝou bleſſid; ſoþely ȝe shuln be a defyrable lond, saiþ þe Lord of oostis.
xiii ȝoure wordis weſiden ſtronge on me, saiþ þe Lord; and ȝe saiden, What han we ſpoken aȝeins þee?
xiv And ȝee ſaiden, He is veyn, þat ferueþ God; and what wynnyng for we kepten his heeftis, and for we wenten foreful bifore þe Lord of oostis?
xv Ȥerfore now we fayn proud men bleſſid; ſoþeli þei ben beeldid doyngi vnpite, and þei temptiden God, and ben maad ſaaſ.
xvi Panne men dredinge God ſpaken, eche wiþ his neȝboure; and þe Lord perceuyde, and herde, and a boke of mynde is writen bifore hym to men dreddinge God, and þinkyng his name.
xvii And þei shuln be to me, saiþ þe Lord of oostis, in þe day in whiche Y shal make, into a ſpecial trefoure; and Y shal ſpare hem, as a man ſpariþ his ſone feruynge to hym.
xviii And ȝe shuln be conuertid, and ȝe shuln ſee, what is bitwixe þe iuſt man and þe vnpitouſe, bitwixe þe feruynge to þe Lord and not feruynge to hym.

Capitulum IIII.

i Loo! forþoþe þe day shal cumme, brennyng as a chymney; and alle proude men, and alle doyngi vnpite shuln be ſtobil; and þe day cummyng shal enflawme hem, saiþ þe Lord of oostis, whiche shal not leue to hem rote and buriownyng.
ii And to ȝou dredyngi my name þe funne of riȝtwisnessis shal ſpringe, and helpe in pennys of hym; ȝe shuln go out, and ȝe shuln lippe, as a calf of þe droue.

iii And ȝe shuln to-trede vnytouse men, whanne þei shuln be ashe vndir þe foole of ȝoure feet, in þe day in whiche Y do, saijþ þe Lord of oostis.

iii Biȝenke ȝe of þe lawe of my seruaunt Moyses, whiche Y comaundide to hym in Oreb, to alle Yrael comaundementis and domys.

v Loo! Y shal fende to ȝou Hely, þe prophete, bifore þat þe grete day and orrible of þe Lord cumme.

vi And he shal conuerte þe herte of faders to sonys, and þe herte of sonys to her faders, leſt per auenture Y cumme, and smyte þe erþe wiþ curse.

Here endip þe book of Malachie, and bigynneþ þe firſte book of Machabeorum.

I. MACHABEORUM.

Here bigynneþ þe firſte book of Machabeorum.

Capitulum I.

i And it is don, after þat Alisaundre of Philip, kyng of Macedo, which regnede firſt in Grece, smote, he gon out of þe lond of Sethym, smote Darius, kyng of Persis and Medis, ii and ordeynde many bateilis, and gate strengþes of alle; and he flewȝe kyngus of erþe, iii and paſſide forþ vnto eendis of erþe, and toke spuylis of multitude of folkis; and þe erþe was ſtille in þe ſiȝt of hym. And he gadride vertu, and ful ſtronge ooft, and þe herte of hym is enhaunſid and lift up.

iv And he gate cuntries of folkis, and tyrauntis, or ſtronge men; and þei ben maad to hym in to tribut.

v And after þese þingus he felle in to bed, and knewe þat he shulde die.

vi And he clepide his noble childre, þat weren nurishid wiþ hym fro her ȝouþe, and departide to hem his kyngdam, whanne ȝit he leuede.

vii And Alisaundre regnyde twelue ȝeer, and is dead.

viii And his children weldiden þe rewme, eche in his place, ix and alle puttiden to hem dyademes after his deþ, and sonys of hem after hem, many ȝeiris; and yuelis ben multiplied in erþe.

x And þere wente out of hem a root of synne, Antiochus þe noble, þe sone of Antiochi kyng, þat was at Rome in feegyng, or plegge, and regnede in þe hundrid and ſeuен and þretti ȝeer of þe rewme of Greekis.

xi In þo days wickid sonys of Yrael wenten out, and counfeiliden many, ſayinge, Go we, and ordeyne we a testament wiþ heiþen men, þat ben aboute us; for ſiȝen we departiden fro hem, many yuels founden us.

xii And þe word is ſeen good in þe eeȝen of hem.

xiii And ſumme of þe peple ſenten, and wenten awey to þe kyng; and he ȝauē power to hem for to do riȝtwisneſſe of heiþen men.

xiv And þei beeldiden a ſcole in Jerufalem, vp þe lawis of naciouns;

xv and þei maden to hem prepucyes, or heiþen customes, and wenten awey fro þe holy testament, and werein ioyned to naciouns, and werein folde for to do yuel.

xvi And þe rewme hadde proſperite in þe ſiȝt of Antiochus, and he byganne for to regne in þe lond of Egypt, for to regne on two rewmes.

xvii And he entride into Egyp in a greuous multitude, in chaaris, and olifauntis, and horſmen, and a plenteuous multitude of ſchippis, xviii and he ordeynede bateil aȝens Tholome, kyng of Egyp; and Ptholome dredde of his face, and fleiȝ; and manye woundid fallen doun.

xix And he toke þe ſtronge citees in þe lond of Egypt, and he toke prayes of þe lond of Egypt.

xx And Antiochus turnede, after þat he smote Egypt, in þe hundrid and bree and fourtiȝ ȝeer, and styede vp to Yrael. And he ſtiede vp to Jerufalem in a greouufe multitude, xxi and entride in to þe halewyng wiþ pride; and he toke þe golden auter, and þe candilſtike of liȝt, and alle vefſels þeroſ, xxii and þe bord of propoficioun, and vefſels of fleetyng sacrifices, and cruetis, and golden morters, and veil, and crownys, and golden ournement þat was in face of þe temple; and he brake alle.

xxiii And he toke gold and ſyluer, and alle deſireable vefſels, and he toke þe priuy trefours, whiche he fonde; xxiv and alle taken up, he wente in to his lond. And he made flawȝter of men, and ſpake in grete pride.

xxv And grete weiling is maad in Yrael, and in eche place of hem;

xxvi and princis forewidien inwardly, and elder men, and meydenys, and ȝung men, ben maad ſeeke, and fairneſſe of wyment is chaungid.

xxvii Eche hufbond toke weilyng, and þei þat ſaten in þe hufbondis bed, mourneden.

xxviii And þe lond is moued to gidre on men dwellynge þerynne, and al þe hous of Jacob cloþide confuſioun.

xxix And after two ȝeiris of days, þe kyng ſente a prince of tributis in to þe citees of Juda, and he cam to Jerufalem wiþ grete cumpaignye.

xxx And he ſpake to hem peſible wordis in gyle, and þei bileyuden to hym. And ſodenly he felle yn on þe citee, and smote it wiþ grete wounde, and loft miche peple of Yrael.

xxxi And he toke prayes of þe citee, and brente it wiþ fijr, and diſtruyede houſis þeroſ, and wallis þeroſ in cumpas.

xxxii And þei ledden wymmen caityf, and children, and weldiden beeſtis.

xxxiii And þei beeldiden þe cytee of Dauid wiþ grete wall and fad, and fad toures; and it is maad to hem in to ſtrengþe.

xxxiv And þei puttiden þere a folk of synners, wickid men, and þei weren stonge in it;
 xxxv and þei puttiden armers, and metis, and gadirden prays of Jerusalem; and puttiden vp þere, and ben maad into a grete gnare.
 xxxvi And þis þing is maad to aspyngus in yuel of halewyng, and in to yuel gyle in Yrael euermore.
 xxxvii And þei shdden out innocent blood, bi cumpas of þe halewyng, and defouliden þe halewyng.
 xxxviii And dwellers of Jerusalem fledden for hem, and is maad habitacioun of straungers, and is maad strange, or alien, to his seed, and þe sonnys þerof forsoken it.
 xxxix þe halewyng þerof is desolat as wildrenesse; þe feestdays þerof ben turned in to mournyng, þe sabothis þerof in to shenþip, þe honouris þerof into nouȝt.
 xl Vp þe glorie þerof þe yuel fame þerof is multiplied, and heiȝnesse þerof is tourned into mournyng.
 xli And kyng Antiochus wrot to al his reume, þat al þe peple weren oon.
 xlvi And þei forsoken eche man his lawe; and alle folkis consentiden vp þe word of kyng Antiochus, xlvi and manye of Yrael consentiden to hym, and sacrificiden to ydolis, and defouliden saboth.
 xlvii And kyng Antiochus fente bokis bi þe hond of messangers in to Jerusalem, and in to alle citees of Judee, þat þei shulden sue þe lawis of folkis of erþe, xlviii and þei shulden forbede burnt sacrifices, and sacrifices, and pleyngis for to be don in þe temple of God, and shulden forbede þe saboth for to be halewid, and solempne days, xlvi and holy þingus for to be defoulid, and þe holy peple of Yrael.
 xlvii And he comaundide auters for to be beeldid, and templis, and ydolis; and swyne fleshe for to be sacrificid, and commoun, or unclene, beastus; xlviii and for to leue her sonys vncircumcidid, and þe soulis of hem for to be defoulid in alle vncleannessis and abominaciouns, xlxi fo þat þei shulden forȝete þe lawe, and shulden chaunge alle þe iustifiyngis of God.
 li And who euer diden not þe word of Antiochus, shulden dye.
 li After alle þese wordis he wrote to al his rewme, and before sette princis to þe peple, whiche shulden confreyne þese þingis for to be don. And þei comaundiden to citees of Juda for to sacrifice.
 lii And many of þe peple ben gadrid to hem, whiche forsoken lawe of þe Lord, and diden yuels on erþe; liii and dryuen out þe peple of Yrael of priue places, and in hid places of fugityues, or fleeynge men.
 liiii In þe fyfteenþ day of þe moneþ Casleu, in þe hundrid and fyue and fourtiþ zeere, kyng Antiochus beeldide þe abominable ydol of defolacioun, or discomforþ, on þe auter of God; and bi alle þe citees of Jude þei beeldiden auters.

iv And bifore ȝatis of housis and in streetis þei brenten encensis, and sacrificieden;
 vii and brenten by fijr bokis of þe lawe of God, keruyng hem.
 viii And anentis whom euer bokis of þe testament of þe Lord weren founden, and who euer kepte þe lawe of þe Lord, vp maundement of þe kyng þei flewen hym.
 ix In her vertu, or power, þei diden þese þingus to þe peple of Yrael, þat was founden in eche moneþ in citees.
 ix And in þe fyue and twentipe day of þe moneþ, þei sacrificifiden on þe auter, þat was aȝeinus þe auter.
 ix And wymmen, þat circumcididen her sonys, weren strangled, vp comaundement of kyng Antiochus; xi and þei hangiden children of þe haterels, or hyndre part of þe nek, by alle housis of hem, and strangliden þat circumcididen hem.
 xii And many of þe peple of Yrael determyden, or fully demyden, anentis hem, þat þei shulden not ete vnclene þingis, and chefiden more for to dye, þan for to be defoulid wiþ vnclene metis.
 xiii And þei wolden not breke þe holy lawe of God, and þei weren slayn;
 xiv and grete wrap is maad on þe peple ful myche.

Capitulum II.

i In þo days Mathatias roose, þe sone of Joon, sone of Symeon, he `a prest of þe sones of Joazin, of Jerusalem, and fate in þe hil Modyn.
 ii And he hadde fyue sones; Joon, þat was named Gaddis;
 iii and Symount, þat was namyd Thaȝi;
 iii and Judas, þat was clepid Machabeus;
 v and Eleazarus, þat was namyd Abaron; and Jonathas, þat was named Apphus.
 vi Þese sawen þe yuelis þat weren don in þe peple of Juda and Jerusalem.
 vii And Mathatias faide, Woo to me! wherto am I born, for to se contricioun, or distrurying, of my peple, and contricioun of þe holy citee, and for to sitte þere, whan it is ȝouen in hondis of enmyes? Holy þingus ben maad in þe hond of strangers;
 viii þe temple þerof as a man vnnoble;
 ix vessels of glorie þerof ben ladde awey caytif. Olde men þerof ben slayn in streetis þerof, and ȝunge men þerof fallen doun in swerd of enmyes.
 x What folk inheritide not þe kyngdam þerof, and weeldede not prayes þerof?
 xi Al makyngh to gidre, or ournyng, þerof is born awey; þe þat was free, is maad hond mayden.
 xii And loo! oure holy, and oure fairnesse, and oure cleerte, is desolate, and heiȝen men defouliden it.
 xiii What þerfore ȝit to vs for to lyue?
 xiv And Mathatias kitte, and his sonys, her clopis, and hilliden hem wiþ hayris, and weiliden gretely.

xv And þei þat weren sente of kyng Antiochus, camen þidre, for to constreyne hem þat fledden to gydre in to þe citee Modyn, for to offre and brenne encensis, and for to departe fro þe lawe of God.

xvi And many of þe peple of Yrael consentynge camen to hem; bot Mathatias and his sonys stoden stidfastly.

xvii And þei answeryng, þat weren sente of Antiochus, saiden to Mathatias, þou art prince, and most cleer, and grete in þis citee, and ourned wiþ sonys and breþeren.

xviii Þerfore go to former, and do þe maundement of þe kyng, as alle folkis han don, and men of Juda, and þei þat laftan in Jerusalēm. And þou shalt be, and þy sonnys, among freendis of þe kyng, and made large in siluer and gold, and in many ȝiftis.

xix And Mathatias answeride, and saide wiþ grete voice, And if alle folkis obeien to þe kyng Antiochus, þat þei go awē eche man fro seruice of þe lawe of his fadris, and consente to his maundementis, xx Y, and my sonnys, and my breþeren shuln obeie to þe lawe of oure fadris.

xi God be helpful to us; it is not prophitable to us for to forsake þe lawe and riȝtwisnessis of God.

xxii We schulen not heeren þe wordis of kyng Antiochus, neþer shuln sacrifice, brekyng þe maundementis of oure lawe, þat we go anoþer way.

xxiii And as he ceeside for to speke þese wordis, sum Jew wente to in eeȝen of alle men, for to sacrifice to ydolis on þe auter, in þe cytee Modyn, vp comaunderment of þe kyng.

xxiv And Mathatias fauȝ, and forewide, and his reyns trembliden togidre, and his wodnesse is kyndled after dom of þe lawe; and he lippynge ynne, flewȝ hym on þe auter.

xxv Bot and he flewȝ in þat tyme þe man whom kyng Antiochus sente, whiche compellide for to be offrid, and distruyide þe auter.

xxvi And he louede feruently þe lawe, as Fynees dide to Zambri, sone of Salomy.

xxvii And Mathatias criede in grete voice in þe cytee, sayinge, Eche man þat haþ feruent loue of þe lawe, ordeynynge testament, go out after me.

xxviii And he fleiȝ, and his sonnys, in to mounteyns, and leften what euer þingus þei hadden in þe citee.

xxix Panne manye wente doun, seekyng domes and riȝtwisnessse, in to desert, þat þei saten þere, xxx þei, and sonys of hem, and wymmen of hem, and beestis of hem, for yuels weren hard on hem.

xxxi And it is tolde aȝein to men of þe kyng, and to þe ooft, þat weren in Jerusalēm, in þe cytee of Dauid, for sum men wente awē, þat distruyeden maundement of þe kyng, in to priuy placis of desert; and many hadden gon after hem.

xxxii And anoon þei wenten to hem, and ordeyniden aȝeins hem bateile, in þe day of sabothis;

xxxiii and saiden to hem, Aȝeinstonde ȝe and now ȝit? go ȝe out, and do ȝe vp þe word of kyng Antiochus, and ȝe shuln lyue.

xxxiv And þei saiden, We shuln not go out, neþir we shuln do þe word of þe kyng, þat we defoule þe day of sabothis.

xxxv And þei steriden bateile aȝeinus hem.

xxxvi And þei answarden not to hem, neþer sente stoon to hem, neþer stoppiden preuy places, sayinge, xxxvii Dye we alle in oure symplenesse, and heuen and erþe shuln be witnesis on vs, þat vniustly ȝe leesen us.

xxxviii And þei baren yn to hem bateil in sabothis, and þei ben deade, and þe wyues of hem, and sonnys of hem, and beestis of hem, vnto a þousand soules of men.

xxxix And Mathatias knewe, and his freendis; and þei hadden mournyng on hem gretely.

xl And a man saide to his neiȝbore, ȝif we alle shuln do as oure breþeren diden, and shuln not fiȝte aȝeinus heiȝen men, for oure soulis, and oure iustifiyngis, funner þei shuln distruye vs of erþe.

xli And þei þouȝten in þat day, sayinge, Eche man who euer hhal cum to vs in bateile, in day of sabothis, fiȝte we aȝeinus hym, and dye we not alle, as oure breþeren ben dead in priuy places.

xlii Pan þe synagoge of Jewis, stronge in miȝtis of Yrael, is gadrid to hem, euery wilful man in lawe; xliii and alle þat fledden fro yuels, ben addid, or put, to hem.

xlii And þei ben maad to hem to stedfaſtnesse, and gedryden an ooft, and smyten synners in her wraȝ, and wickid men in her indignacioun; and þe toþer fledden to naciouns, for to ascape.

xlii And Mathatias enuyrounede, and his freendis, and distruyeden auters, xliii and circumcididen children vncircumcidid, hou manye euer þei founden in coostis of Yrael, in strengþe.

xlvii And þei pursueden sonys of pride, and þe werk hadde prosperite in her hondis.

xliii And þei weeldiden þe lawe 'of hondis of heiȝen men, and of hondis of kyngus, and ȝauen not horn, or strengþe, to þe lynner.

xliii And þe days of Mathatias of dying neiȝeden, and he saide to his sonys, Now pride is counfortid, and chaftisfyng, and tyme of distruccioun, and þe wraȝ of indignacioun.

li Now þerfore, sonys, be ȝe suers, or louers, of þe lawe, and ȝeue ȝe ȝoure lyues for þe testament of fadris.

lii And biȝenke ȝe of þe werkis of fadris, þat þei diden in her generaciouns, and ȝe shuln resceyue grete glorie, and euerlaſtyng name.

liii Wher Abraham in temptation was not founden feiȝful, and it is rettid to hym to riȝtwilhelle?

liii Jofeph in tyme of his anguyſhe kepte þe comaunderment, and was maad lord of Egypt.

lviij Fynees, oure fadir, feruently louynge þe feruent loue of God, toke testament of euerlastynge presthode.
lvii Jhesus, or Josue, whijl he fulfilled þe word, is maad duyk in Yrael.
lviii Caleph, whijl he witnessiþ in þe chirche, toke heritage.
lxvii Dauid in his mercy gate þe seete of kyngdam, in to worldis.
lxviii Helye, whijl he feruently loueþ þe feruent loue of þe lawe, is rescveyued in to heuen.
lxix Ananias, Azarias, Myfael, by leeuynge ben delyuered of flawme.
lx Danyel in his symplenesse is delyuerd of mouþ of lyouns.
lxii And þus biþenke ȝe bi generacioun and generacioun, for alle þat hopen in to hym ben not maad vnstedfaſt.
lxiii And of wordis of þe synner ȝe shuln not drede, for þe glorie of hym is torde and worme;
lxiv to day he is enhaunſid, and to morrow he shal not be founden, for he is turned in to his erþe, and his bouȝte shal perishe.
lxv Perfore, sonyſ, be ȝe confortid, and do ȝe manly in þe lawe; for whan ȝe shuln do whiche þingus ben bedun to ȝou in þe lawe of þe Lord ȝour God, in it ȝe shuln be glorious.
lxvi And loo! Symount, ȝour broþere; I wote, for he is a man of counſeile, heere ȝe hym euermore, and he shal be fadir to ȝou.
lxvii And Judas Machabeus, stronge in miȝtis fro his ȝouþ, be he to ȝou a prince of kniȝthode, and he shal do bateil of þe peple.
lxviii And ȝe shuln bryngē to ȝou alle doars of þe lawe, and venge ȝe þe veniaunce of ȝoure peple.
lxix ȝelde ȝe ȝeeldynge to heiþen men, and take ȝe tent in to þe heest of lawe.
lxix And he bleſſide hem, and is putt to his faders.
lxxi And he is dead in þe hundrid and ſixe and fourtie ȝeere, and is biryed of his ſonnyſ in to þe ſepulcre of his fadris in Modyn; and alle Yrael weiliden hym wiþ greet weylung.

Capitulum III.

i And Judas rooſe, þat was cleepid Machabeus, his ſone, for him.
ii And alle his breþeren helpiden hym, and alle þat ioyneden hem to his fadir, and þei fouȝten þe bateil of Yrael wiþ gladneſſe.
iii And he alargide glorie to his peple, and clopide hym a hawberiou as a ieaunt, and girde hym his armeres of bateile in bateilis, and defendide caſtellis wiþ his fwerde.
iv He is maad lijc to a lyoun in his werkis, and as whelp of lyoun rorynge in his huntyng.

v And he purſuede wickid men, ſeekyng hem; and he brente hem in flawmes, þat to gydre diſtourbliden his peple.
vi And his enmyes ben putt aȝein for dred of hym, and alle wirchers of wickidneſſe ben trublid to gidre; and helþe is drefſid in his hond.
vii And he wrappide many kyngus, and gladide Yrael in his werkis, and in to world his mynde in bleſſyng.
viii And he wente þoru þe citees of Juda, and loſt vnpitouſ men of hem, and turnyde awey wraþ fro Yrael.
ix And he is named vn to þe vttermoſt of erþe, and he gadride þe perifhyng.
x And Appolonius gadride folkis, and fro Samarie miche vertue, and grete, for to fiȝt aȝeinus Yrael.
xi And Judas knewe, and wente out aȝeinus hym, and ſmote, and flewȝ hym. And many woundid fallen doun, and þe oþer fledden; xii and he toke prayes of hem. And Judas toke awey þe fwerd of Appolonie, and was fiȝtyng þerynne in alle days.
xiii And Seron, prince of þe oost of Syrie, herde, þat Judas gadride a gaderyng, and þe chirche of feiþful men wiþ hym.
xiiii And he ſaiþ, Y shal make to me a name, and Y shal be glorified in rewme, and Y shal ouercumme Judas, and hem þat ben wiþ hym, whiche diſpifiden þe kyngus word.
xv And he made hym redy; and þe caſtels of vnpitouſ men, strong helpers, ſtieden vp wiþ hym, for to do veniaunce in to þe ſonyſ of Yrael.
xvi And þei neijiden vn to Betheron; and Judas wente out aȝeinus hem, wiþ fewe men.
xvii Forſoþe as þei ſawen þe oost cummyng to hem in meetyng, þei ſaiden to Judas, How mown we fewe fiȝte aȝeinus ſo grete multitude, ſo stronge; and we ben maad wery by faſtyng þis day?
xviii And Judas ſaiþ, It is liȝt, or eify, many for to be cloſid to gydre in hond of fewe; and diſference is not in þe fiȝt of God of heuen, for to delyuer in many or in fewe; xix for not in multitude of oost þe victorie of bateil, bot of heuen is ſtrengþe.
xx Pei cummen to us in rebelle multitude, and prid, for to diſtruye vs, and oure wyues, and oure ſonyſ, and for to robbe us.
xi Forſoþe we shuln fiȝte for oure ſoulis, and oure lawis, xxii and he þe Lord shal breke hem to gydre byfore oure face; forſoþe dreede ȝe not hem.
xxiii Soþely as he ceefide for to ſpeke, he hurlide in in to hem foodeynly; and Seron is broken to gidre, and his ooft, in fiȝt of hym.
xxiiii And he purſuede hym in þe goyng doun of Betheron, til in to þe feeld; and eiȝte hundrid men of hem fallen doun, þe oþer forsoþe fledden in to þe lond of Philistim.

xxv And dred of Judas, and of his breþeren, and inward ferdneſſe, felle on alle heiþen men in cumpas of hem;

xxvi and þe name of hym came to þe kyng, and of þe batels of Judas alle folkis telden.

xxvii Soþely as kyng Antiochus herde þese wordis, he was wroþe in inwitt; and he fente, and gadride þe oost of al his rewme, ful stronge castels.

xxviii And he opnyde his tresorie, and ȝaue soudis to þe oost, in to oo ȝeer, and comaundide hem, þat þei weren redy to alle þingus.

xxix And he sawȝ, þat monee failide of his tresours, and tributis of þe contre litil, for discencioun and veniaunce þat he dide in to þe lond, for to do awey þe lawful þingis þat weren of þe first days.

xxx And he dredde, þat he shulde not haue and oonyis and twies in to costis and ȝiftis, whiche he hadde ȝouen byfore wiþ large hond; and he aboundide ouer kyngus þat weren before hym.

xxxi And he was astonyed in ynwitt gretly, and þouȝte for to go in to Perfis, and to take tributis of cuntrees, and for to gadre myche syluer.

xxxii And he laft Lyfias, a noble man of þe kyngis kynne, on þe kyngus needis, fro þe flood Eufrates vn to þe flood of Egipt; xxxiii and þat he shulde nuriche Antiochus, his sone, til he cam aȝein.

xxxiv And he toke to hym þe mydil oost, and olifauntis, and comaundide to hym of alle þingus þat he wolde, and of men enhabitynge Jude and Jerusalem;

xxxv and þat he shulde sende to hem an oost, for to breke to gidre, and to distruye vtterly þe vertue of Yrael, and relikis of Jerusalem, and for to do awey þe mynde of hem of place;

xxxvi and for to ordeyne aliens sonyis dwellers in alle þe cooftis of hem, and bi lot for to departe þe lond of hem.

xxxvii And þe kyng toke to a part of þe residue oost, and wente out of Antioche, þe citee of his rewme, in þe hundrid and leuen and fourtye ȝeer; and paſſide ouer þe flood Eufrates, and wente þoru þe heeȝer cuntrees.

xxxviii And Lisiās cheſe Ptholome, sone of Dorim, and Nychanore, and Gorgie, miȝty men of þe kyngus freendus.

xxxix And he fente wiþ hem fourti þousand of men, and feuen þousand of horſmen, 'or knyȝtis; and þat þei shulden cum in to þe lond of Juda, and distruye it, vp word of þe kyng.

xl And þei wenten forþ, for to go wiþ al her vertue; and þei camen, and applieden, or fallen to, at Ammaum, in þe feeldy lond.

xli And marchauntis of cuntrees herden þe name of hem, and token syluer and gold ful myche, and children, and camen in to castels, for to take þe sonyis of Yrael in to feruauntis; and þe oostis of Sirie ben added to hem, and londis of aliens.

xlii And Judas seeȝ, and his breþeren, for yuels ben multiplied, and þe oost appliede, or londide, at þe cooftis of hem; and þei knewen wordus of þe kyng, whiche he comaundide þe peple for to do, in to perifhyng and eendyng.

xliii And þei saiden, eche man to his neiȝbore, Reife we þe castiŋ doun of oure peple, and fiȝte we for oure peple, and oure holy þingus.

xliii And cummyng to gidre of oost is gadrid, for to be redy in to bateile, and for to preye, and axe mercy, and mercy doyngus.

xlv And Jerusalem was not enhabitud, bot was as desert; þer was not þat entride and wente oute, of þe children þerof; and þe holy þing was defoulid, and sonyis of aliens weren in þe heeȝ rocke, or toure, þere was þe dwellyng of heiþen men; and volupte, or lust, of Jacob is don awey, and pipe and harpe failide þere.

xlii And þei weren gadrid, and came in to Maspheath aȝeinus Jerusalem; for place of preyer was in Maspheath, bifore þan in Jerusalem.

xliii And þei fastiden in þat day, and cloþiden hem wiþ heiris, and puttiden ashe in her hed, and renten her cloþis.

xlvii And þei spradden abrood bokis of þe lawe, of whiche heiþen men souȝten liknesse of her symulacris;

xlii and þei brouȝten to ournementis of prestis, and premyllis, and tiþis; and þei reisiden Nazareis, þat hadden fulfilliden days.

i And þei crieren wiþ grete voice in to heuen, layinge, What shuln we do to þese, and whidir shuln we leede hem?

ii And þin holy þingus ben to-troden, and defoulid, and þi prestis ben maad in to mournyng, and in to meekenesse, or dispite.

iii And lo! naciouns camen togidre aȝeinus vs, for to distruye vs; þou woost what þingus þei þenken in to vs.

ivii Hou shuln we mown wiþ stonde byfore þe face of hem, no bot þou, God, help us?

ivii And þei crieren in trumpis, wiþ grete voice.

vii And after þese þingus Judas ordeynede duykis of þe peple, tribunys, þat oon ledde a þousand, and centoriouns, or ledinge an hundrid, and pentacontarkes, leders of fyfty, and decuriouns, leders of ten.

vi And he saide to þese þat bildiden housis, and weddiden wyues, and plantiden vyne ȝerdis, and to dreedful men, þat þei turnyden aȝein, eche man in to his hous, vp þe lawe.

vii And þei moueden castels, or oostis of armed men, and þei settiden to gidre at þe souþ of Ammaum.

viii And Judas saȝ, Be ȝe gird, and be ȝe miȝti sonyis, and be ȝe redy in þe morewyng, and þat ȝe fiȝte aȝeinus þese naciouns, þat camen to gidre for to distruye vs, and oure holy þingus.

lxix For better is vs for to dye in bateile, þan for to see yuel of oure folk and holy þingus.
lx Forsoþe as wille shal be in heuen, so be it don.

Capitulum III.

i And Gorgias toke to fyue þousand of men, and a þousand chosen horfmen; and þei moueden tentis by nyȝt,
ii for to applie to þe tentis of Jewis, and for to smyte hem fodeynly; and þe sonys þat weren on þe heeȝ rocke, weren leeders to hem.
iii And Judas herde, and he roose, and miȝty men, for to smyte þe vertue of oostis of þe kyng, þat was in Ammaum;
iv ȝit soþely þe oost was scaterid fro tentis.
v And Gorgias came in to þe tentis of Judas bi niȝt, and fonde no man; and þei souȝten hem in hillis, for he faide, þese fleen fro vs.
vi And whan day was maad, Judas apperide in þe feelde wiþ þree þousandis of men oonly, whiche hadden not hilingis and swerdis.
vii And þei sawen þe tentis of heiȝen men stronge, and men hauberiounyd, and ridingis in cumpas of hem, and þese tauȝt to bateile.
viii And Judas faip to men, þat sueden, Dreede ȝe not þe multitude of hem, and dreede ȝe not inwardli þe feerfesse of hem.
ix And byþenke ȝe, hou oure fadris ben maad saaf in þe Rede Se, whan Pharao suede hem wiþ miche oost.
x And nowe crie we in to heuen, and þe Lord shal haue mercy of vs, and shal be myndeful of þe testament of oure fadris, and shal breke to gidre þis oost bifore oure face to day.
xi And alle folkis shuln wite, for God is, þat shal aȝein bye, and delyuere Yrael.
xii And aliens reisiden her eeȝen, and sawen hem cummynge of þe contrarie part, or euen aȝein, xiii and wenten out of tentis in to bateile. And þei þat weren wiþ Judas, songen in trumpe.
xiv And þei wenten to gidre, and heiȝen men ben broken to gidre, and fledden in to þe feelde; xv forsoþe þe last fallen doun in swerd. And þei purfueden hem vn to Gaferon, and til in to þe feeldis of Ydume, and Aȝotus, and Jamny; and þer fallen doun of hem vn to þree þousandis of men.
xvi And Judas turnyde aȝein, and his oost fulynge hym.
xvii And he faide to þe peple, Coueyte ȝe not prayes, for bateil is aȝeinus vs.
xviii And Gorgias and his oost in þe hil niȝ vs; bot stonde ȝe nowe aȝeinus ȝoure enmyes, and ouercumme ȝe hem, and after þese þingus ȝe sifir shuln take prayes.
xix And ȝit Judas spekyng þese þingus, loo! sum part appereide, biholdynge forþ of þe hill.

xx And Gorgias sawȝ, þat his ben to gidre turnyd in to fliȝt, and tentis ben brent; forsoþe þe smoke þat was seen, declaride þat þat was don.
xxi Whiche þingus biholden, þei dredden greteli, biholdinge to gidre and Judas and þe oost in þe feeld, redi to bateile.
xxii And þei fledden alle in þe feeld of aliens, xxiii and Judas turnyde aȝein to preyes of þe tentis; and þei token myche gold, and syluer, and iacintt, and purpore of þe se, and grete ritchessis.
xxiv And þei conuertid fungen an ympne, or heryng, and bleffiden God in to heuen; for he is good, for in to þe world þe mercy of hym.
xxv And grete helþe is maad in Yrael in þat day.
xxvi Forsoþe who euer of aliens fledden, camen, and teelden to Lisiȝ alle þingus þat bifellen.
xxvii Whiche herd, he, astonyed in ynwitt, failide; for not what maner þingus he wolde, siche bifellen in Yrael, and what manere þingus þe kyng comaundide.
xxviii And þe ȝeer fulynge, Lisiȝ gadride of chosen men fixti þousandis, and of horfmen fyue þousand, for to ouercumme hem.
xxix And þei camen in to Judee, and setten tentis in Betheron; and Judas ran to hem wiþ ten þousand of
men.
xxx And þei sawen a stronge oost, and he preyede, and feide, Bleſſid art þou, faueour of Yrael, þat haft broken to gidre þe firfesse of þe miȝti in þe hond of þi seruaunt Dauid, and bitokist þe castels, or tentis, of aliens in to þe hondis of Jonathas, sone of Saul, and of his lquyer.
xxxi Close þou to gydre and þis oost in þe hond of þi peple Yrael, and be þei confoundid in her oost, and horfmen.
xxxii ȝeue þou to hem inward dred, and make þe hardinesse of her vertue to faile, and be þei moued to gidre in her brekyng to gidre.
xxxiii Caste hem doun in þe fwerd of men louynge þee, and to gidre preyse þee alle þat knewen þi name, in ympnys.
xxxiv And þei sente, or ioyneden, to gidre bateile, and fyue þousand of men fallen doun of þe oost of Lisiȝ.
xxxv Lisiȝ forsoþe seeynge þe fliȝt of hyse, and þe hardynesse of Jewis, and þat þei ben redy eþer for to lyue, eþer for to dye strongly, wente to Antioche, and cheefe kniȝtis, þat þei multiplied eftfone shulden cume in to Judee.
xxxvi Forsoþe Judas faide, and his breþeren, Loo! oure enmyes ben broken togidre; ftye we nowe, for to clenfe holy þingis, and renewle, or make newe.
xxxvii And al þe oost is gadrid, and styeden in to þe hill of Syon.
xxxviii And þei sawen þe halewyng defert, and þe auter vnhalewid, and þe ȝatis brent, and in þe porchis tendre trees sprungen, as in wijlde wode or mounteyns, and þe litil cellis distruyed.

xxxix And þei renten her cloþingus, and weiliden wiþ grete weilynge; and puttiden ashe on her hede, xl and fellen in to face on þe erþe, and crierden in trumpis of signys, and crierden in to heuen.
 xli Panne Judas ordeynnde, for to fiȝte aȝeinus hem þat weren in þe heeȝ rocke, til þei clenfiden holi þingus.
 xlvi And he cheſe prestis wiþ outeren wemme, hauynghe wille in þe lawe of God; xlvi and þei clenfiden holy þingus, and token awey stoons of defoulyng in to an vnclene place.
 xlvii And he þouȝte of þe auter of brent sacrifices, þat was vnhalewid, what he shulde do þerof.
 xlviii And a good counseile felle yn to hym, for to diſtruye it, leſt it were to hem in to shenship, for heiþen men defouliden it. And þei deſtruyeden it, xlvi and puttiden aȝein, or kepten, stoons in þe hill of þe hous, in couenable place, til þat a prophete came, and anſwerde of hem.
 xlvii And þei token hool stoons, after þe lawe, and beeldiden a newe auter, vp þat þat was byfore.
 xlviii And þei beeldiden holy þingus, and þo þingus þat weren wiþynne þe hous wiþynnforþ; and þei halewiden þe hous and þe porches.
 xlxi And þei maden newe holy vessels, and brouȝten yn a candilstike, and þe auter of encensis, and a bord in to þe temple.
 li And þei puttiden encense on þe auter, and tenden lanternys, þat weren on þe candilstike, and ȝauen liȝt in þe temple.
 lii And þei puttiden looues on þe borde, and hangiden veyles, and eendiden al þe werkis þat þei maden.
 liii And bifore morewtid þei risen, in þe 'fifþe and twenti day of þe nynȝ moneȝe, þis is þe moneȝ Casleu, of þe hundrid and eiȝte and fourtiȝe ȝeer.
 liii And þei offeriden sacrifice after þe lawe, on þe newe auter of brent sacrifices, whiche þei maden after tyme.
 lvi And after þe day in whiche heiþen men defouliden it, in þat it was renulid, in songis, and harpis, and cynaris, þat ben instrumentis of musike, and cymbalis.
 lvii And alle þe peple felle in to þe face, and wirlhipiden, and bleſſiden in to heuen hym þat dide prosperite in hem.
 lviii And þei maden halewing of þe auter in eiȝte days, and offreden brent sacrifices wiþ gladnesse, and helpful þingis of heryngis.
 lvii And þei ourneden þe face of þe temple wiþ golden crowns, and smale sheeldis; and halewiden þe ȝatis, and porches, or smale cellis, and puttiden to hem ȝatis.
 lviii And ful grete gladnesse is maad in þe peple, and þe shenship of heiþen men is turned awey.
 lx And Judas ordeynide, and his breþeren, and al þe chirche of Yrael, þat þe day of halewyng of þe auter be don in his tymes, fro ȝeer in to ȝeer, bi eiȝte days, fro þe 'fifþe and twenty day of þe moneȝ of Casleu, wiþ gladnesse and ioye.

ix And þei beeldiden in þat tyme þe hill of Syon, and bi cumpas heeȝ wallis, and sadde toures, leſt eny tyme heiþen men camen, and defouliden it, as þei diden byfore.

x And he sette þere a cumpayne, for to keepe it; and he wardide it, for to kepe Bethsura, þat þe peple shulde haue wardyng, or strengþeing, aȝein þe face of Ydume.

Capitulum V.

i And it is don, as heiþen men herden in cumpas, for þe auter is beeldid, and þe sayntuarie as before, þei weren wroȝt greteli.

ii And þei þouȝten for to do awey þe kynrede of Jacob, þat was among hem; and þei bygunne for to flea of þe peple, and pursue.

iii And Judas ouercam þe sonys of Esau in Ydume, and hem þat waren in Arabathane, for þei saten aboute men of Yrael; and he smote hem wiþ a grete wound.

iv And he þouȝte of þe malice of sonys of Bean, þat weren to þe peple in to gnare, and in to ſclaundre, aspyinge it in þe waye.

v And þei ben cloſid 'to gidre fro hym in toures; and he appliede to hem, and curſide hem, and brente wiþ fijr þe toures of hem, wiþ alle men þat waren in hem.

vi And he paſſide to þe sonys of Amon, and fonde ſtronge hond, and plenteouſe peple, and Tymothe, þe duyk of hem.

vii And he smote many batels wiþ hem, and þei ben broken to gidre in ſiȝt of hem. And he smote hem, viii and he toke þe cite Jazar, and þe sonys þerof; and he turnyde aȝein in to Judee.

ix And heiþen men þat ben in Galaad, ben gadrid aȝeinus Israelitis, þat waren in þe coſtis of hem, for to do hem awey; and þei fledden into Dathinan strengþinge.

x And þei ſenten lettris to Judas, and his breþeren, fayinge, Heiþen men ben gadrid aȝeinus vs bi cumpas, þat þei do vs awei; xi and þei maken redi for to cumme, and occupie þe strengþing, in to whom we fledden; and Tymothe is duyk of þe oost of hem.

xii Now þerfore cum þou, and delyuere vs fro her hondis, for þe multitude of vs felle doun;

xiii and alle oure breþeren þat weren in þe placis of Tubyn, euery wher ben slayne; and þei ledden caityf þe wyues of hem, and children, and token ſpuylis, and killiden þere almeſt a þouſand men.

xiv And ȝit pistles weren rad, and nowe oper meſſangers camen of Galilee, wiþ cootis torent, xv tellynge after þese wordus, fayinge, for to haue cummen to gidre aȝeins hem fro Ptholomaida, and Tyre, and Sydon, and al Galilee is fulfillid wiþ aliens, for to diſtruye vs.

xvi Soþeli as Judas herde, and þe peple, þese wordis, a grete chirche came to gidre, for to þenke what þei ſhulden do to her breþeren, þat weren in tribulacioun, and weren ouercummen of hem.

xvii And Judas faide to Symount, his broþer, Chese to bee men, and go, and deliuere þi breþeren in Galilee; I forſoþe and my broþer Jonathas ſhuln go in to Galatithym.

xviii And he lafte Josephus, fone of Zacharie, and Azarie, duykis of þe peple, wiþ þe residue ooft in Jude to keepynge.

xix And he comaundide hem, sayinge, Bifore be ȝe to þis peple, and nyl ȝe ſimynte bateil aȝeinus heiþen men, til we turnen aȝein.

xx And þree þousand men ben ȝouen to Symont, for to go in to Galilee; to Judas ſobely eȝte þousand, in to Galadithym.

xi And Symont wente in to Galilee, and ioynyd many bateils wiþ heiþen men. And heiþen men ben broken to gydre fro his face, xxii and he purſued hem vn to þe ȝate of Ptholomaid. And þere fallen doun of heiþen men almeſt þree þousand of men; and he toke þe ſpuylis of hem.

xxiii And he toke to hem þat weren in Galilee, and in Arbathis, wiþ wyues, and children, and alle þingus þat weren to hem; and he ledde to in to Jude wiþ grete gladneſſe.

xxiv And Judas Machabeus, and Jonathas, and his breþeren paſſiden Jordan, and wenten forþ þe waye of þree days in to desert.

xxv And Nabutheis camen aȝeinus hem, and reſcyeued hem peſibely, and teelden alle þingus þat bifellen to her breþeren in Galadithym;

xxvi and for many of hem ben cauȝt in Barafa, and Bozor, and Malymys, and Casphor, and Mathet, and Carnaym; alle þese ſtronge citees and greeete.

xxvii Bot `and in oper citees of Galadithis þei ben holden cauȝt. And on þe morewe þei ordeyneden for to moue þe ooft to þo citees, and for to cacche, and take hem awey in oo day.

xxviii And Judas turnyde, and his ooft, þe waye in to desert of Bozor foodeynly. And he occupiede þe citee, and flewȝ eche male in mouȝ of ſword, and toke alle þe ſpuylis þeroſ, and brente it wiþ fijr.

xxix And þei riſen þennus in niȝt, and wenten vn to þe ſtrengþinge.

xxx And it is maad in ſpryng of þe day, whanne þei reyſiden her eeȝen, and loo! myche peple, of whom was no noumbre, beryng laddris and engynes, for to take þe ſtrengþing, and ouer cumme hem.

xxxi And Judas ſeeȝ, for bateil byganne, and crye of bateile ſtyede in to heuen, as a trumpe, and grete cry of a citee.

xxxii And he faide to his ooft, Fiȝte ȝe to day for ȝour breþeren.

xxxiii And he cam in þree ordris after hem, and þei crieden wiþ trumpis, and crieden in preyer.

xxxivii And þe tentis of Tymothe knewen, for it is Machabeus, and fledden fro his face. And þei han ſmyten hem wiþ grete wounde; and þere fallen doun of hem in þat day almeſt eiȝt þousand of men.

xxxv And Judas turnyde awey in to Maspeth; and he ouercame and toke it, and flewȝ eche male þeroſ, and toke ſpuylis of it, and brente it in fijr.

xxxvi Fro þennus he wente, and toke Caſbon, and Mageth, and Bozor, and oper citees of Galadithe.

xxxvii Soþeli after þese wordis Thymothe gadride an oper ooft, and puttide tentis aȝeinus Raphon, ouer þe ſtrem of rayn.

xxxviii And Judas fente for to biholde þe ooft, and þei tolden aȝein to hym, sayinge, For alle heiþen men þat ben in oure cumpas camen to gidre to hym, and a ful myche ooft.

xxxix And þei hijriden Arabians in to help to hym, and þei han ſette tentis ouer þe ſtreme of reyn, redy for to cume to þee in to bateile. And Judas wente aȝeinus hem.

xli And Tymothee faide to princis of his ooft, Whanne Judas þhal neij, and his ooft, to þe ſtreme of reyn water, ȝif he þhal paſſe former to vs, we ſhuln not mowen ſuſteynen hym, for he miȝti þhal mowe aȝeinus vs.

xlii Soþely ȝif he þhal dreede for to paſſe, and þhal ſette tentis biſidis, or wiþ ynne, þe flood, paſſe we ouer to hem, and we ſhuln mown aȝeinus hym.

xliii Forſoþe as Judas neijide to þe ſtreme of watir, he ordeynide ſcribis of þe peple by ſidis þe ſtreme, and comaundide to hem, sayinge, Leue ȝe noon of men, bot cumme ȝe alle in to bateile.

xliii And he þe former paſſide ouer to hem, and alle þe peple after hym. And alle þese heiþen men ben broken to gidre fro þe face of hem, and þei caſtiden awey her armours; and þei fledden to þe temple, þat was at Carnaym.

xliii And he occupiede þilk citee, and brente þe temple wiþ fijr, wiþ alle þat weren in it; and Carnaym is opprefid, and miȝte not ſuſteyn aȝeinus þe face of Judas.

xlv And Judas gadride alle Yſraelitis þat weren in Galadithes, fro þe leſte vn to þe moſt, and þe wijues of hem, and children, and a ful grete ooft, þat þei ſhulden cume in to þe lond of Judee.

xlivi And þei camen til to Ephron, and þis grete citee putt ful ſtronge in þe entree; and þer was not for to bowe awei fro it, in þe riȝt half or left, bot by þe mydil þe waye was.

xlvii And þei þat weren in þe citee cloſiden hem yn, and ſtoppiden þe ȝatis wiþ ſtoonyſ. And Judas fente to hem wiþ peſible wordis, sayinge, xlviii Paſſe we by ȝoure lond, for to go into oure lond, and no man ſchal anoye ȝou, oonly on feet we ſchulen go. And þei wolde not opne to hem.

xlix And Judas comaundide for to preche in tentis, or ooft, þat eche man shulde applie, in what place he was.
i And men of vertu applieden hem, and he fauȝte aȝeinus þat citee al day and al niȝt, and þe citee is bitaken in his hond.
ii And þei flewen eche male in mouȝ of swerd, and drewȝ it vp by þe rootis, and toke þe spuylis þerof, and passide by al þe citee on þe flayn men.
iii And þei passiden ouer Jordan, in þe grete feeld aȝeinus þe face of Bethsan.
iv And Judas was gadrynge þe last, and monestide þe peple bi alle þe waye, til þei camen in to þe lond of Juda.
v And þei styeden in to þe hill of Syon wiȝ gladnesse and ioye, and offriden brent sacrifices, þat no man of hem felle doun, or was dead, til þei turnyden aȝein in pefe.
vi And in þe days in whiche Judas was, and Jonathas, in þe lond of Galaad, and Symont, his broþer, in Galilee, aȝeinus þe face of Ptholomaida, vii Ivi Josephus, sone of Zacharie, herde, and Azarias, prince of vertu, þe þingis wel done, and bateilis þat ben maad.
viii And he saide, Make and we oure self a name to vs, and go we for to fiȝte aȝeinus heiȝen men, þat ben in oure cumpas.
ix And he comaundide to þese þat weren in his ooft, and þei wenten forþ nowe þe waye.
x And Gorgias wente out of þe citee, and his men, aȝeinus hem, in to fiȝt.
xi And Jolephus and Azarias ben dryuen til into þe eendis of Judee; and þer felle doun in þat day of þe peple of Yrael, men two þousandis.
xii And a grete wound is maad in þe peple; for þei herden not Judas and his breþeren, gessyng hem to doyng strongly.
xiii Forsoþe þei weren not of þe seed of þo men, by whiche helþe is maad in Yrael.
xiv And men of Juda ben magnyfied greteli in fiȝt of al Yrael, and of alle heiȝen men, wher þe name of hem was herd.
xv And þei cammen to gidre, cryinge to hem prosperite, or bleſſid þingus.
xvi And Judas wente oute, and his breþeren, and ouer camen þe sonnys of Esau, in þe lond þat is at þe souȝ; and he smote Chebron, and þe douȝters þerof, and wallis þerof, and þe touris þerof brente in fijr in cumpas.
xvii And he mouede tentis, for to go in to lond of aliens; and he wente þoru Samarie.
xviii In þat day prestis fallen doun in bateile, whijl þei wolen do strongly, whijl wiȝ outen counseil þei wenten out in to bateil.
xix And Judas bowide aweye in to Azotus, in þe lond of aliens, and distruyide þe auters of hem, and spuylis of her goddis brente in fijr, and toke prayes of citees; and turnyde aȝein in to þe lond of Juda.

Capitulum VI.

i And kyng Antiochus walkide þoru þe heeȝer cuntrees, and he herde a citee for to be, Elymaides, in Persis, þe noblist and plenteuous in syluer and gold;
ii and a temple in it ful riche, and þere golden veylis, and hauberiouȝs, and sheeldis, whiche Alisaundre of Philip, kyng of Macedo, left, þat regnyde first in Grece.
iii And he came, and souȝte for to take þe citee, and robbe it; and he miȝte not, for þe word was knownen to hem þat weren in þe citee.
iv And þei risen vp in to bateil, and he fleiȝ þennus, and wente awey wiȝ grete heuynesse, and turnyde aȝein to Babiloyne.
v And þer came, þat teelde to hym in Persis, for þe ooftis þat weren in þe lond of Juda ben dryuen, vi and for Lisiȝas wente wiȝ stronge vertu in þe first, or best men, and he is dryuen fro þe face of Jewis, and þei wexiden stronge in armers, and strengbisi, and many prayes, whiche þei token of tentis, or ooftis, vii whiche þei flewen; and for þei distruyeden þe abominacioun, whiche he beeldide on þe auter þat was in Jerusalem, and þei enuyrounyden wiȝ heeȝ wallis þe halewyng, as byfore, bot and Bethsura, his citee.
viii And it is don, as þe kyng herde þese wordis, he dredde, and was mouyd to gidre gretely, and felle doun in to a bed, and felle in to a langour for heuynesse, for it is not don as he þouȝte.
ix And he was þere many dais, for grete heuynesse is renulid in hym, and he deemyde hym self for to dye.
x And he clepide alle his freendis, and saide to hem, Sleep passide awey fro myn eeȝen, and Y departide, and felle doun in herte for bysynesse; xi and faide in my herte, In to hou grete tribulacioun came Y, and in to what wawis of heuynesse in whiche Y am nowe, þat was myri, and biloued in my power?
xii Now forsoþe Y biȝenke of þe yuelis þat Y dide to Jerusalem, fro whennus and Y toke alle golden spuylis, and sylueren, þat weren peryne; and Y sente wiȝ outen cause, men dwellynge in Judee for to be don awey.
xiii Perfore Y knewe for þese yuelis han founden me; perfore and loo! I perishe bi grete heuynesse in an alien lond.
xiv And he clepide Philip, oon of his freendis, and bifore puttide hym on al his rewme;
xv and he ȝaue to hym þe dyadem, and his stoole, and ringe, for to leede to Antiochus, his sone, and to nuryfhe hym, and for to regne.
xvi And kyng Antiochus dyede þere, in þe hundrid and nyne and fourty zeer.
xvii And Lisiȝas knewe, for þe kyng is dead, and he ordeynyde Antiochus, þe sone of hym, for to regne, whom he nurishide ȝunge; and he clepide his name Eupator.

 xvii And þei þat weren in þe heeȝ rocke, clofiden to gydre Yrael in cumpas of holy þingis, and souȝten to hem yuels euer more, to strengþing of heþen men.
 xviii And Judas þouȝte for to distruye hem, and he clepide togidre alle þe peple, for to biseege hem.
 xix And þei camen to gidre, and biseegiden hem, in þe hundrid and fiftyþe ȝeer; and þei maden balistis, an instrument for to cast shافتis and stoonys, and engynes.
 xx And summe of hem þat weren biseegid, wenten out; and sum of þe vnpitous men of Yrael ioyneden hem to hem, xxii and wenten to þe kyng, and saiden, Hou long doft þou not dom, and vengeſt oure breþeran?
 xxiii And wee deemyden for to serue þi fadir, and for to walke in his heestis, and obeishe to his comaundementis.
 xxiv And þe fonyſ of oure peple for þis þing alieneden hem fro vs; and whiche euer were founden of vs, weren flayn, and oure eritagis weren rauyshid awei.
 xxv And not onoly to vs þei strecchiden out þe hond, bot and in to alle oure cooftis.
 xxvi And loo! þei applieden to day to þe heeȝ rocke in Jerusalem, for to occupie it, and þei strengþide a strengþing in Bethsura.
 xxvii And ȝif þou shalt not byfore cumē hem more fwyftly, þei shuln do gretter þingus þan þese, and þou shalt not mowe weelde hem.
 xxviii And þe kyng was wroþe, as he herde þis þing, and clepide to gidre alle his freendis, and princis of his ooft, and hem þat weren on horsmen;
 xxix bot and of oþer rewmys, and ylis, and of þe see cooftis camen to hym an hijrid ooft.
 xxx And þe noumber of his ooft was an hundred þousand of fote men, and twenti þousand of horsmen, and two and þirty olyfauntis tauȝte to bateile.
 xxxi And þei camen by Ydume, and þei applieden to Bethsura, and souȝten many days; and þei maden engynys, and þei wenten out, and brenten hem in fijre, and souȝten manly.
 xxxii And Judas wente fro þe heeȝ rocke, and mouede tentis to Bethsacharam, aȝeinus tentis of þe kyng.
 xxxiii And þe kyng roose bifore þe liȝt, and stiride þe ooft in to feersnesse, aȝeinus þe waye of Bethsacharam; and þe ooftis maden hem to gidre redy in to bateile, and fungen in trumpis.
 xxxiv And to olifantis þei shewiden blood of grape, and morus, or mulberie trees, for to whette hem in to bateil.
 xxxv And þei departiden þe beestis bi legiouns; and to eche olifaunt a þousand men stoden niȝ in mailid to gidre hauberiownes, and braſen helmys in her hedis, and fyue hundred choson horsmen weren ordeynyd to eche beest.

xxxvi Þese bifore þe tyme, wher euer þe beest was, weren þere; and whider euer it wente, þei wenten, and departiden not þerfo. xxxvii Bot and sad toures of tree on hem, defendyng by alle þe beestis, and on hem engynes, and on eche bi hem self men of vertu two and þritt, whiche souȝten fro aboue, and wiþ ynne þe maister of þe beest.
 xxxviii And he ordeynide þe residue rijdynge on þis half and þat half, in to two parties, for to moue to gidre þe ooft wiþ trumpis, and for to constreyne þe armyd men in his legions.
 xxxix And as þe sunne shynyde aȝein in to golden shheeldis, and braſen, þe hillis shynyden aȝein of hem, as laumpis of fyre.
 xl And a part of þe kyngus ooft is departid bi heeȝ hillis, and ober by lowe places; and þei wenten warly, and ordynatly.
 xli And alle men dwellynge in þe lond weren moued to gidre of þe voice of multitude of hem, and in goinge of þe compaignye, and huryng of armeris; forþoþe þe ooft was ful grete and stronge.
 xlvi And Judas and his ooft neȝiden yn to bateil; and þere fallen doun of þe kyngus ooft fixe hundrid men.
 xlvi And Eleasar, sone of Saura, seeȝ oon of þe beestus hauberiownyd wiþ hawberiounis of þe kyng, and it was heeȝ stondyne ouere ober beestis. And it is seen to hym, þat þe kyng was in it; xlvi And he ȝaue hym self for to delyuere hys peple, and for to gete to hym a name euerlastynge.
 xlvi And he ran þerto hardili, in to mydil of þe legioun, fleayne on riȝthalf and left; and þei fallen doun fro hym hidir and þidir.
 xlvi And he wente vndir þe feet of þe olyfaunt, and vndirputtide hym self þerto, and flewȝ hym; and it felle doun in to þe erþe on hym, and he is dead þere.
 xlvi And þei seeynge þe vertue of þe kyng, and fersnesse of his ooft, turnyden awey hem self fro hem.
 xlvi And þei seeynge þe vertue of þe kyng, and fersnesse of his ooft, turnyden awey hem self fro hem.
 xlvi And þei seeynge þe vertue of þe kyng, and fersnesse of his ooft, turnyden awey hem self fro hem.
 xlvi And he made pees wiþ þese þat waren in Bethsura. And þei wenten out of þe citee, for foodis weren not to hem cloſid to gidre þere, for sabothis of þe erþe weren.
 i And þe kyng toke Bethsura, and ordeynide þere keeping, for to keepe it.
 ii And he turnyde þe tentis to þe place of halewyng many days; and ordeynide þere balistis, and engynes, and dartis, or castyngis, of fijr, and tourmentis for to cast stoons and dartis, and scorpiouns for to fende arowis, and flyngis.
 iii Forþoþe and þei maden engynes aȝeinus þe engynes of hem, and þei souȝten many days.
 iii Forþoþe metis weren not in þe citee, for þat it was þe seuenþe ȝeer; and þei þat leften of heiþen men in Judee, hadden waſtid þe relikis of hem þat waren kept.

lvi And fewe men leften in holy þingus, for hungry hadde taken hem; and þei ben scaterid, eche man in to his place.

lv And Lisiás herde, þat Philipp, whom kyng Antiochus ordeynyd, whan ȝit he leuyde, þat he shulde nuriche Antiochus, his son, þat he regnide, lvii turnyde aȝein fro Perse and Mede, and þe oost þat wenten wiþ hym; and for he seekiþ for to take þe cauſis of þe rewme, lviii he haſtide for to go, and faye to þe kyng, and to duykis of þe oost, We failen eche day, and litil mete is to vs, and þe place whom we biseegen, is stronge, and it fallip to vs for to ordeyne of þe rewme.

lxvii And fo nowe ȝeue we riȝthondis to þese men, and make we pees wiþ hem, and wiþ alle þe folk of hem;

lxix and ordeyne we to hem, þat þei go in lawful þingis as byfore; soþely for þe lawful þingus of hem þei ben wroþe, and han don alle þese þingus.

lx And þe word pleside in ſiȝt of þe kyng, and princis;
and he fente to hem for to make pees, and þei refcseyuden it.

lxii And þe kyng swore to hem, and princis; and þei wenten out of þe strengþe.

lxiii And þe kyng entride þe mount Syon, and he seeȝ þe strengþyng of þe place; and he brake fulſone þe ooþ þat he swore, and comaundide for to distruye þat wall in cumpas.

lxviii And he departide awey haſtili, and turnyde aȝein to Antioche, and fonde Philip lordshipynge to þe citee; and he fauȝte aȝeinus hym, and occupiude þe citee bi strengþe.

Capitulum VII.

i In þe hundrid ȝeare and oon and fifty Demetrie, sone of Seleuci, wente out fro Rome citee, and stiede wiþ fewe men in to a citee niȝ þe see, and regnyde þere.

ii And it is don, as he entride in to hous of þe rewme of his fadris, þe oost cauȝte Antiochus, and Lisiás, for to brenge hem to hym.

iii And þe þyng was knownen to hym, and he saiþ, Nyl ȝe lhewe to me þe face of hem.

iv And þe oost flewȝ hem. And Demetrie fate vpon þe fete of his rewme;

v and wickid men and vnpitous of Yrael camen to hym, and Alchymus, duyke of hem, þat wolde be maad preft.

vi And þei accusiden þe peple anentus þe kyng, sayinge, Judas and his breþeren han loste þi frendus, and scateride vs fro oure lond.

vii Now þerfore fende þou a man, to whom þou byleuyſt, þat he go, and see all þe distrurying þat he haþ don to vs, and to cuntrees of þe kyng; and he punyſhip alle his frendis, and þe helpers of hem.

viii And þe kyng cheſe of his frendis Bachides, þat was lord ouer þe grete flood in þe rewme, and trewe to þe kyng, and he fente hym, for to see þe distrurying þat Judas dide;

ix and he ordeynyd vnpitous Alchymus in to presthode, and badde hym do veniaunce in to þe sonys of Yrael.

x And þei ryſen, and camen wiþ greete oost in to þe lond of Juda; and þei fenten messangers, and spaken to Judas and his breþeren, wiþ þeſible wordis in gyle.

xi And þei ȝauen not tente to her wordis; soþely þei fawen, for þei camen wiþ greet oost.

xii And þe congregacioun of scribes camen to gydre to Alchymus and Bachides, for to axe what þingus be iuſt;

xiii and þe first Affideys, þat weren in þe sonys of Yrael, and þei axiden of hem pees.

xiv Soþely þei faiden, A man, prest of þe seed of Aaron, cummeþ, he shal not disceyue vs.

xv And he spac wiþ hem þeſible wordis, and swore to hem, sayinge, We shuln not ȝeue to ȝou yuels, neþer to ȝoure frendus.

xvi And þei bileuyden to hym. And he cauȝte of hem fixti men, and flewȝ hem in oo day, after þe word þat is wryten,

xvii þei shadden out fleshis of þi fayntis, and blood of hem in cumpas of Jerufalem, and þere was not þat biryede.

xviii And dred and trembyng lay, or felle, in to al þe peple, for þei faiden, Per is not trewþe and dom to hym; soþely þei han broken þe statute, and þe ooþ þat þei sworen.

xix And Bachides mouede tentis fro Jerufalem, and appliede in to Bethsecha; and fente, and cauȝte many of hem þat fledden fro hym; and he killide sum of þe peple, and castide in to a grete pitt.

xx And he bitoke þe regioun to Alchimus, and left wiþ hym help, in to helping of hym. And Bachides wente to þe kyng,

xxi and Alchymus dide ynewȝ, for þe princehod of his presthod.

xxii And alle camen to gidre to hym, whiche distourbliden her peple, and weldiden þe lond of Juda; and þei diden grete veniaunce in Yrael.

xxiii And Judas seeȝ alle þe yuels, þat Alchymus dide, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, to þe sonys of Yrael, myche more þan heiþen men.

xxiv And he wente out in to alle cooſtis of Judee in cumpas, and dide veniaunce in to men forſakers, and þei cesiden for to go out ferþer in to þe cuntree.

xxv Forſoþe Alchymus seeȝ, for Judas hadde victorie, and þei þat weren wiþ hym; and he knewȝ for he may not fusteyne hem, and he wente aȝein to þe kyng, and accuside hem in many fynnis.

xxvi And þe kyng sent Nychanor, oon of his nobler princis, þat was hauntynge enmytees aȝein Yrael; and he comaundide him for to distruye þe peple.

xxvii And Nychanor came in to Jerusalem, wiþ grete ooft, and he fente to Judas and his breþeren wiþ gyle, by pesible wordis, sayinge, xxviii Fiȝt be not bitwixe me and ȝou; I shal cume wiþ fewe men, for to see ȝoure faces wiþ pees.
 xxix And he cam to Judas, and þei gretten hem to gidre pesibili; and enmyes weren redy for to rauylhe Judas.
 xxx And þe word was knownen to Judas, for wiþ gyle he came to hym; and he is broken togidre of hym, and he wolde namore see his face.
 xxxi And Nychanor knewe, þat his conceile is knownen, and he wente out aȝeinus Judas in to fiȝt, bisidis Capharsalma.
 xxxii And þere fallen doun of Nychanoris ooft almeſt fyue þousand men, and þei fledden in to þe citee of Dauyd.
 xxxiv And after þese wordis Nychanore stiede in to þe hille of Syon, and þere wenten out of prestis of þe peple, for to greete hym in pees, and for to shewe to hym brent sacrifices, þat þei offriden for þe kyng.
 xxxvii And he scornynge dispiside hem, and defoulide, and spake proudly, xxxv and swore wiþ wræþ, sayinge, ȝif Judas shal not be taken, and his ooft, in myn hoondis, anoon whanne Y shal turne aȝein in pees, Y shal brenne þis hous. And he wente out wiþ grete wræþ.
 xxxvi And þe prestis entriden, and stoden bifore face of þe autir and of þe temple, and weepynge faiden, xxxvii ȝou, Lord, haſt chosen þis hous, for to inclepe þi name in it, þat it were an hous of preyer and bisechynge to þi peple;
 xxxviii do venieaunce in þis man, and his ooft, and falle þei in fwerd; haue mynde of þe blasphemys of hem, and ȝeue not hem þat þei abide.
 xxxix And Nychanor wente out fro Jerusalem, and appliede tentis to Betheron; and þe ooft of Syrie cam to hym.
 xl And Judas appliede in Adarsa, wiþ þree þousand men. And Judas preyde, and faide, xli Lord, an aungel wente out, and smote an hundrid fourescore and fyue þousandis of hem, þat weren sent fro kyng Senacherib, for þei blasfemyden þee; xlvi so breke þou togidre þis ooft in oure liȝt to day, and wite oþer men, for yuel he spak on þin holy þingus, and deme þou hym vp be malice of hym.
 xlvi And þe ooftis ioynyden bateil, in þe þrittenþe day of þe moneþ Adar; and þe tentis of Nychanor ben broken to gidre, and he felle doun þe first in bateil.
 xlvi Soþely as his ooft seeȝ, for Nychanor felle doun, þei castiden awey her armers, and fledden.
 xlvi And þei purſueden hem þe way of oo day, fro Adasor vnto me come in to Gazera; and þei fungen in trumpis after hem wiþ signyfyngus.
 xlvi And þei wenten out of alle þe castellis of Judee in cumpas, and wynnewiden hem wiþ hornys, and eftsoone weren conuertid to hem; and þei fallen alle in fwerd, and þer is not left of hem neþer oon.

 xlvi And þei token þe spuylis of hem in to pray; and þei kittiden of þe hed of Nychanor, and his riȝthond whiche he strechide proudly, and þei brouȝten to, and hangiden aȝeinis Jerusalem.
 xlviii And þe peple gladide gretely, and diden þat day in grete gladnesse; xlvi And ordeynyde þis day for to be don in alle ȝeiris, in þe þriddynþ day of þe moneþ Adar.
 i And þe lond of Juda was stille a fewe dayes.

Capitulum VIII.

i And Judas herde þe name of Romeynys, for þei ben miȝty in strengþis, and acorden to alle þingis þat ben axid of hem; and who euer wente to hem, þei ordeynyden wiþ hem frendshipus;
 ii and for þei ben miȝty in strengþis. And þei herden bateyls of hem, and good vertues, þat þei don in Galacie, for þei weldiden hem, and ledden vndir tribute;
 iii and hou many þingus þei diden in þe cuntree of Spayne, and þat in to power þei dryuen metalis of fyluer and gold þat ben þere;
 iv and weldiden eche place wiþ her conseile, and pacient places þat weren ful fer fro hem; and kyngus þat camen aboue to hem fro þe vttemest places of erþe, þei braken to gydre, and smyten hem wiþ grete plage; forþoþe oþer ȝyuen to hem tribute alle ȝeiris.
 v And þei braken to gidre in bateil Philip, and Persen, kyng of Cetheis, and oþer þat baren armers aȝeinus hem, and þei weldiden hem;
 vi and Antiochus, þe grete kyng of Asye, þat ȝaue bateil to hem, hauyng an hundred and twenty olifauntis, and rydyng, and charys, and ful greet ooft, broken togidre of hem;
 vii and for þei token hym quyk, and ordeynyden to hym, þat he shulde ȝeue grete tribute, and þei þat regnyden after hym; and shulden ȝeue pleggis and ordenaunce, viii and þe cuntree of Yndis, and men of Mede, and of Lidde, of þe best cuntrees of hem, and þei ȝauen hem taken of hem to kyng Eumenij;
 ix and for þei þat weren anentis Elada, wolden go, and take hem;
 x and þe word was knownen to þese, and þei fenten to hem oo duyk, and þei fouȝten aȝeinus hem; and many of hem fallen, and þei ledden her wijues caitifs, and sonys, and robbiden hem; and weldiden þe lond of hem, and distruyeden þe wallis of hem, and dryuen hem in to seruage, til in to þis day.
 xi And þei distruyeden oþer rewmys and ylis, þat sumtyme aȝein stoden hem, and dryuen hem in to power.

xii Forsoþe wiþ her frendis, and þat hadden rest in hem, þei kepten frenship, and þei weldiden rewmys þat weren next, and þat weren fer; for who euer herden þe name of hem, dredden hem.

xiii For þei regnyden, to whom þei wolden be in help for to regne; and whom þei wolden, fro rewme þei distourbliden; and þei ben gretely enhaunfid.

xiv And in alle þese no man bare diademe, neþer was cloþid in purpe, for to be magnyfied þerynne.

xv And for þei maden to hem a courte, and eche day þei counseiliden þree hundrid and twenti, doyngre counseile euermore of multitude, þat þei do what þingus ben worþi.

xvi And þei bitakun to oo man her maistrie, or cheef gouernaunce, bi eche ȝeiris, for to be lord to al her lond; and alle obeishen to oon, and enuye is not, neþer wrab among hem.

xvii And Judas chefe Eupolemus, sone of Joon, sone of Jacob, and Jason, sone of Eleazarus, and he fente hem to Rome, for to ordeyne wiþ hem frenship and felawship; xviii and þat þei shulde take awey fro hem þe ȝoc of Greekis, for þei sawen þat þei opprefiden þe rewme of Yrael in to feruage.

xix And þei wenten to Rome, a ful grete way, and þei entriden þe courte, and saiden, xx Judas Machabeus, and his breþeren, and þe peple of Jewis fenten vs to ȝou, for to ordeyne wiþ ȝou felawship and pees, and for togidre write vs ȝoure felawis and frendis.

xxi And þe word pleside in ȝist of hem.

xxii And þis aȝein wrytyng is, whiche þei aȝein wryten in brasen tablis, and fenten in to Jerusalem, þat it were þere a memorial, or a þing of mynde, of pees and felawship.

xxiii Be it wel to Romayns, and to folk of Jewis, in see and lond, in to wiþ outen eende; and swerd and enmye be fer fro hem.

xxiv Pat ȝif bateil shal aȝein stonde Romayns former, or to alle felowis of hem in al þe lordship of hem, xxv þe folc of Jewis shal bere help, as tyme shal axe, wiþ ful herte;

xxvi and þei shuln not ȝeue, neþer priyli mynystre to þe ȝistyng, whete, armers, monee, shippus, as it pleside to Romayns; and þei shuln keepe þe maundementis of hem, no þing takynge of hem.

xxvii Also forsoþe and ȝif bateil shal falle bifore to þe folk of Jewis, Romayns shuln helpe of ynwitt, or good herte, as tyme shal suffre hem;

xxviii and to hem helpynge whete shal not be ȝouen, armers, money, shippus, as it pleside to Romayns; and þei shuln keep þe maundementis of hem wiþ outen gyle.

xxix After þese wordis Romaynes ordeynyden to þe peple of Jewis, xxx Pat ȝif after þese wordis, þese or þei shuln woln for to putte eny þing to, or do awey, þei shuln do of her purposyng; and what euere þingus þei shuln putte to, or do awey, þei shuln be stedfaſt.

xxxi Bot and of yuels whiche kyng Demetrie haþ don in to hem, we han writen to hym, sayinge, Whi haſt pou greeuyd þi ȝock vpon oure frendis and felawis, þe Jewis?

xxxii Perfore ȝif eft foone þei shuln cumme to vs aȝeinus þee, we shuln do dom to hem, and we shuln fiȝte wiþ þee by lond and see.

Capitulum IX.

i In þe mene tyme, wher Demetrie herde þat Nychanor felle, and his oost, in bateil, he puttide to eftfoone for to fende Bachides and Alchymus in to Judee, and þe riȝt horn wiþ hem.

ii And þei wenten þe weye þat ledip in to Galgala, and þei settiden tentis in Masoloth, þat is in Arbellis; and þei occupieden it, and flewen manye lyues of men.

iii In þe firſt moneȝ of an hundrid and two and fifti ȝeer, þei applieden þe oost to Jerusalem.

iv And twenti þousand of men, and two þousand of horſmen, han risen, and wente in to Berea.

v And Judas sette tentys in Layfa, and þree þousand chosen men wiþ hym.

vi And þei sawen þe multitude of oost, for þei ben many, and þei dredden gretely; and manye wiþdrewen hem fro tentis, and þere leſten not of hem no bot eiȝte hundrid men.

vii And Judas sawȝ for his oost flette awey, and bateil constreynde hym, he is broken to gydre in herte, for he hadde not tyme of gadryng hem, and he is dissoluyd, or discounfortid.

viii And he saide to þese þat weren residue, Ryse we, and go we to oure aduersaries, ȝif we shuln mowe ȝist aȝeinus hem.

ix And þei turnyden hem awey, sayinge, We shuln not mown, bot delyuere we nowe oure lyues, and turne we aȝein to oure breþeren, and þanne we shuln fiȝte aȝeins hem; forsoþe we ben fewe.

x And Judas seiȝ, Fer be it for to do þis þing, þat we flee fro hem; and ȝif oure tyme haþ neȝid, dye we in vertu of oure breþeren, and ȝeue we not cryme to oure glorie.

xi And þe oost moued of tentis, and þei stoden aȝeinus hem. And horſmen ben departid in two parties, and flyngers and archers wenten bifore þe oost, and þe firſt of þe bateil al þe miȝty.

xii Forsoþe Bachides was in þe riȝt horn, or cornere. And þe legioun of two partis came niȝ, and crieren wiþ trumpis.

xiii Forsoþe and þese þat weren of þe part of Judas, crieren also þei, and þe erþe is moued to gidre of þe voice of oostis, and bateil is ioyned fro morewe vn to euen.

xiii And Judas seeȝ, þat þe part of Bachides oost is fadder in þe riȝt half, and alle stedfast in herte camen to gidre wiþ hym.

xv And þe riȝt part is broken togydre of hem; and he purfuede hem vn to þe hill of Azotus.

xvi And þei þat weren in þe left horn, sawen, þat þe riȝt horn is broken to gidre, and þei fueden after Judas, and hem þat weren wiþ hym at þe bac.

xvii And þe bateil is maad greuouse, and þere fallen manye woundid of þese and of hem.

xviii And Judas felle, and þe oþer fledden.

xix And Jonathas and Symont token her broþer Judas, and birieden hym in þe sepulcre of his fadris, in þe citee Modyn.

xx And al Yrael wepten hym wiþ grete weylyng, and þei mourneden manye days, and saiden, xxi Hou felle þe miȝty, þat maad Yrael saaf?

xxii And oþer wordis of bateilis of Judas, and of vertues þat he dide, and his greteneſſis, ben not writen; forþoþ þei weren ful manye.

xxiii And it is don, after þe deþ of Judas, alle wickid men in alle cooftis of Yrael rysen out, and alle þat vrouȝten wickidnesse ben born out sprungen.

xxiv In þo days ful grete hungre is maad, and all þe cuntrie of hem bitoke hem self to Bachides wiþ hem.

xxv And Bachides cheſe vnytous men, and ordeynyd hem lordis of þe cuntree.

xxvi And þei axiden out, and souȝten þe frendis of Judas, and brouȝten hem to Bachides; and he vengide in to hem, and scornyde.

xxvii And grete tribulacioun is maad in Yrael, what manere was not fro þe day in whiche a prophete is not seen in Yrael.

xxviii And alle þe frendis of Judas ben gadrid, and saiden to Jonathas, xxix Siben þi broþer Judas is dead, þer is no man liȝc to hym, þat shal go out aȝeinus enmyes, Bachides and hem þat ben enmyes of oure folc.

xxx And so now we cheſe þee to day for to be prince to vs and duyk for hym, for to fȝte oure bateil.

xxxi And Jonathas resceyuyde in þat tyme þe princehod, and rose in þe place of Judas, his broþer.

xxxii And Bachides knewe, and souȝte for to flea hym.

xxxiii And Jonathas knewe, and Symont, his broþer, and alle þat weren wiþ hym, and þei fledden in to desert Techue, and saten to gidre at þe water of þe lake Aphar.

xxxiv And Bachides knewe, and in day of sabothis he came, and alle his oost, ouer Jordan.

xxxv And he fente his broþer duyk of þe peple, and preyede Nabutheis, his frendis, þat he shulde bitake to hem his appareil, þat was plenteuous.

xxxvi And þe sonys of Sambri wenten out of Madaba, and cauȝten Joon, and alle þingus þat he hadde, and wenten awey, hauyng hem.

xxxvii After þese wordis it is tolde aȝein to Jonathas, and Symont, his broþer, for þe sonys of Sambry maken grete weddingus, and wedden a wif of Madaba, þe douȝtre of oon of þe grete princis of Canaan, wiþ grete pride.

xxxviii And þei bibouȝten of þe blood of Joon, his broþer, and stieden vp, and hidden hem self vndir keueryng of þe hill.

xxxix And þei reisiden her eeȝen, and sawen, and loo! noys, and grete appareyl; and a spouse, or husbond, cam forþ, and his frendis, and his breþeren aȝeinus hem, wiþ tympans, and musykis, and many armers.

xl And þei risen to hem of aspies, and flewen hem, and many woundid fallen doun, and þe residues fledden in to þe hill, and þei token alle þe spuylis of hem;

xli and þe weddingus ben conuertid in to mournyng, and þe voice of her musikis in to weyling.

xlii And þei vengiden þe veniaunce of her broþers blood, and þei turnyden aȝein to þe ryuer of Jordan.

xliii And Bachides herde, and came in þe day of sabothis vn to þe vttermost part of Jordan, in grete vertu.

xliii And Jonathas saide to hisse, Ryse we, and fȝte aȝeinus oure enmyes; forþoþ it is not to day as ȝesterday and þe þrid day gon.

xlv Loo! soþeli bateil euen aȝeinus; soþeli water of Jordan on þis half and on þat half, and ryuers, and mareys, and wjild woodis, and þere is not place of turnyng awey.

xlivi Now þerfore crie ȝe in to heuen, þat ȝe be delyuered fro hond of ȝour enmyes.

xlvii And bateil is ioyned. And Jonathas strauȝte out his hond, for to smyte Bachides, and he turnyde awey fro hym byhynde.

xlviii And Jonathas lippide out, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, in to Jordan, and swame ouer Jordan to hem.

xlix And þere fallen of Bachides part in þat day a þousand men, l And þei turnyden aȝein in to Jerufalem. And þei beeldiden stronge citees in Judee, þe strengþe þat was in Jerico, and in Ammaum, and in Betheron, and Bethel, and Thamathan, and Phara, and Copho, wiþ heeȝ wallis, and ȝatis, and lockis.

li And he sette keepynge in hem, þat þei shulden haunte ennemitees in Israel;

lii and he strengþide þe citee Bethsura, and Gazaram, and þe heeȝ rocke; and he putte hem in þe heeȝ rocke in Jerufalem, in keepyng.

liii And he toke sonys of princis of þe cuntree in ofstage, or plegis, and he putte hem in þe heeȝ rocke in Jerufalem, in keepyng.

liiii And in þe hundreþ ȝeere and þree and fiftiþe, in þe secounde moneþ, Alchymus comaundide þe wallis of þe holy ynner hous for to be distruyed, and þe werkis of prophetus for to be distruyed, and he byganne for to distruye.

iv In þat tyme Alchymus is smyten, and þe werkis of hym ben lettid. And his mouþ is cloſid, and he is disfolued by palasie, neþer he miȝte spek ouere a word, and comaunde of his hous.

v And Alchymus is dead in þat tyme, wiþ grete tourment.

vi And Bachides seeȝ þat Alchymus is dead, and he turnyde aȝein to þe kyng, and þe lond was stille two ȝeer.

vii And alle wickid men þouȝten, saiynge, Loo! Jonathas, and þei þat ben wiþ hym, dwellen in silence, tristynge; now þerfore brengwe Bachides, and he shal caccche hem al in oo niȝt.

viii And þei wenten forþ, and ȝauen counseil to hym.

ix And he rose, for to cumbe wiþ miche oost. And he sente epistilis priuely to his felawis, þat weren in Judee, þat þei shulden caccche Jonathas, and hem þat weren wiþ hym; bot þei miȝten not, for her counseil was knownen to hem.

x And he caȝte of men of þe cuntree, þat weren princis of kniȝthode, fifty men, and flewȝ hem.

xii And Jonathas and Symont wente, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, in to Bethbelle, þat is in desert, and beeldiden þe distruyed þingus þerof, and maden it stronge.

xiii And Bachides knewe, and gadride al his multitude, and denounfide to hem þat weren of Judee.

xiv And he came, and fette tentis aboue Bethbelle, and faȝte aȝeinus it manye days, and made engynes.

xv And Jonathas lafte Symont, his broþer, in þe citee, and wente outh in to cuntree, and came wiþ noumble; xvi and smote Odaren, and his breþeren, and þe sonys of Phaseron, in þe tabernaclis of hem, xvii and he bigan for to smyte, and waxe in vertues. Symont soþely, and þey þat weren wiþ hym, wenten outh of þe citee, and brenten engynes.

xviii And þei fouȝten aȝeinus Bachides, and he is to gider broken of hem; and þei tourmentiden hym gretye for his counseil, and his goyng to togidre was void.

xix And he wroþe aȝeinus þe wickid men, þat ȝauen counseile to hym for to cumme in to her cuntree, flewȝ many of hem; forsoþe he þouȝte wiþ oþer for to go in to his cuntree.

xx And Jonathas knewe, and he sente legatis to hym, for to make pees wiþ hym, and ȝeeldide to hym caitiffee.

xxi And wilfully he toke, and dide after his wordis, and swore hym to doyng to hym no þing of yuel alle days of his lyf.

xxii And he ȝeeldide to hym caitiffee, whiche he toke by praye bifore of þe lond of Juda. And he turnyd aȝein wente into his lond, and puttide namore for to cum in to his cooſtis.

xxiii And swerd ceefide of Yrael. And Jonathas dwellide in Machinas, and þere Jonathas bigane for to deme þe peple, and distruye vnpitous men of Yrael.

Capitulum X.

i And in þe hundrid and sixtiȝe ȝeer Alisaundre, sone of Antiochus, þat is named noble, stiede vp, and occupide Ptholomaida; and þei rescveyuden hym, and he regnyde þere.

ii And kyng Demetrie herde, and gadride an oost ful copiouſe, and wente out aȝeinus hym in to bateil.

iii And Demetrie sente an epistle to Jonathas wiþ pesible wordis, for to magnyfye hym.

iv Soþely he faide, Bifore take we for to make pees wiþ hym, bifore þat he make wiþ Alisaundre aȝeinus vs;

v Soþely he shal haue mynde of alle yuels, þat we han don into him, and in to his broþer, and in to his folc.

vi And he ȝauȝ hym power of gadryng oost, and for to make armeris, and hym for to be his felawe. And he comaundide oostagis, þat were in þe heeȝ rocke, for to be ȝouen to hym.

vii And Jonathas came in to Jerufalem, and radde þe pistlis, in heerynge of al þe peple, and of hem þat weren in þe heeȝ rocke.

viii And þei dredden wiþ grete dred, for þei herden, þat þe kyng ȝauȝ to hym power of gadryng an oost.

ix And þe oostagis ben bitaken to Jonathas; and he ȝeeldide hem to her fadris and moders.

x And Jonathas dwellide in Jerufalem, and bygan for to beelde and to renule þe citeme.

xi And he faide to men doyng werkis, þat þei shulden make vp þe wallis, and þe hill of Syon in cumpas, wiþ square stoones to strengbing; and so þei diden.

xii And aliens fledden, þat weren in þe strengþus, whom Bachides hadde bilstide;

xiii and eche man lafte his place, and wente in to his lond.

xiv Onlyn in Bethfura dwelten summe of hem, þat forsoken þe lawe and þe heefis of God; soþeli þis was to hem to refute.

xv And kyng Alisaundre herde þe biheefis, þat kyng Demetrie bihiȝte to Jonathas, and þei teelden to him bateilis and vertues whiche he dide, and his breþeren, and þe traueils whiche þei traueiliden;

xvi and saijþ, Wher we shuln fynde eny fiche man? Also nowe make we hym frend, and oure felawe.

xvii And he wrote an epistle, and sente vp þese wordis, sayinge, xviii Kyng Alisaundre to Jonathas, broþer, helþe.

xix We han herde of þee, þat þou art a miȝti man in strengþis, and art able þat þou be oure freend.

xx And nowe ordeyne we þee to day heeȝift prest of þi folk, and þat þou be clepid freend of þe kyng. And he sente to hym purpre, and a golden crowne, þat þou feele wiþ vs what þingus oure ben, and kepe frenshipis to vs.

xxi And Jonathas cloþide hym wiþ þe holy stoole, in þe feuenþe moneþe, in þe hundrid and fixtiþe ȝere, in þe solempne day of Senophegie. And he gadride an oost, and made copiouse armers.

xxii And Demetrie herde þese wordis, and is maad ful foreful, and faþ, xxiii What han we do þis þing, þat Alisaundre before ocupiede vs, for to cacche þe frenshipe of Jewis to his strengþing?

xxiv And Y shal wryte to hym preying wordis, and of dignitee, and ȝiftis, þat he be wiþ me in help.

xxv And he wrote to hym in þese wordis, Kyng Demetrie to þe folk of Jewis, helþe.

xxvi For ȝe kepten to vs couenaunt, and dwelten in oure frenshipe, and wenten not to oure enmyes, we herden, and ioyeden.

xxvii And nowe laste ȝe ȝit for to kepe to vs feiþ; and we shuln quyte to ȝou good þingus, for þese þingus þat ȝe diden wiþ vs, xxviii and we shuln forȝeue to ȝou many ȝeuylngus of rentis, and we shuln ȝeue ȝiftis to ȝou.

xxix And nowe Y affoile ȝou, and alle Jewis, of tributis, and I forȝeue to ȝou þe pricis of salt, and forȝeue crownyis, xxx and þe þriddis of feed; and þe half part of fruyt of tree, þat is of my porcioun, I leue to ȝou fro þis day, and wiþ ynne forþ, þat it be not taken of þe lond of Juda, and of þree citees þat ben addid þerto, of Samarie and Galile, fro þis day in to al tyme.

xxxi And Jerufalem be holy, and free, wiþ his coostis; and tiþis and tributis be of it.

xxxii Also Y forȝeue þe power of þe heeȝ rocke, þat is in Jerufalem; and Y ȝeue it to þe heeȝ prest, þat he ordeyne þerynne men, whom euere he shal cheese, þat shuln kepe it.

xxxiii And ech soule of Jewis, þat is caitif of þe lond of Juda, in al my rewme, Y leue wilfully wiþ out money; þat alle be soiled of her tributis, ȝea, of her beestus.

xxxiv And alle solempne days, and sabothis, and neomenyes, and alle days ordeyned, and þree days before þe solempne day, and þree dais after þe solempne day, be alle dais of ynmuniti, or fraunchise, and of remissiouin, to alle Jewis þat ben in my rewme.

xxxv And no man shal haue power for to do eny þing, and moue needis, or caufis, aȝeinus eny of hem in al caufe.

xxxvi And þat þere be writhen to of Jewis in þe kyngus oost, to þriddi þousandis of men; and plentees shuln be ȝouen to hem, as it byhoueþ to alle oostis of þe kyng.

xxxvii And of hem shuln be ordeynye, þat ben in þe grete strengþis of þe kyng; of hem shuln be ordeyned ouer needis of þe rewme, þat ben don of feiþ, and princis be of hem; and walke þei in her lawis, as þe kyng comaundide in þe lond of Juda.

xxxviii And þree citees, þat ben addid to Judee of þe cuntrie of Samarie, be rettid, or demyd, wiþ Judee; þat þei be vnder oon, and obeye not to oþer power, no bot to þe heeȝest prest;

xxxix Ptholomayda, and coostis þeroft, whiche Y haue ȝouen a ȝift to þe holy þat ben in Jerufalem, to needful coostis of sayntis.

xli And I shal ȝeue in eche ȝeris fiftene þousandis of siclis of syluer, of þe kyngis reyfons, þat perteynen to me;

xlii and al þat shal be residue, whiche þei þat weren ouer needis ȝeelden not in former ȝeeris, fro þis tyme þei shuln ȝeue in to werkis of þe hous.

xliii And ouer þis fyue þousand siclis of syluer, whiche þei token of resoun of holy þingus by eche ȝeris; and þese þingus shuln perteyne to prestis, þat ben sett in ministerie.

xliii And who euer shuln flee to þe temple þat is in Jerufalem, and in alle coostus þeroft, gylty to þe kyng, in eche caufe be dismyttid, or releſid; and alle þingis þat ben to hem in my rewme, be hadde free.

xliii And to bilde, or restore, werkis of holy þingus, expensis shuln be ȝouen of þe kyngus resoun, and for to bilde out þe wallis of Jerufalem;

xlv and for to make stronge in cumpas, spensis shuln be ȝouen of þe kyngus resoun, for to make out wallis in Judee.

xlii As Jonathas and þe peple herde þese wordis, þei bileeuyden not to hem, neper resceyuyden; for þei hadden mynde of þe grete malice þat he hadde don in Yrael, and trublidien hem gretely.

xlvii And it pleside to gidre to hem in to Alysaundre, for he was to hem prince of wordis of peers, and to hym þei baren help in alle days.

xlviii And kyng Alisaundre gadride a grete oost, and mouyde tentis aȝeinus Demetrie.

xlix And þe kyngis ioynye bateil, and þe oost of Demetrie fledde; and Alisaundre purfuede hym, and lay vpon hym;

l and þe bateil was ful stronge, til þe sunne wente doun, and Demetrie fledde in þat day.

li And Alisaundre lente to Ptholome, kyng of Egypt, legatis after þese wordis, lii sayinge, For Y am gon aȝein in to my rewme, and satte in feete of my faders; and Y haue weldide princenhode, and haue broken togidre Demetrie, and haue weldide oure cuntrie;

liii and haue ioynye wiþ hym fiȝt, and he is broken to gidre and his tentis of vs, and we laten in fete of his rewme.

liii And nowe ordeyne we to gidre frenshipe, and ȝeue to me bi douȝter wif, and Y shal be bi douȝter hofbond; and Y shal ȝeue to þee ȝiftis, and to hir dignitee.

lv And kyng Ptolome answerde, saiynge, Bleſſid þe day in whiche þou turnedist aȝein to þe lond of þi fadiris, and hast fitten in fete of þe rewme 'of hem.

Ivi And nowe Y shal do to þee whiche þingus þou haſt writen; bot come þou aȝeinus me to Ptholomayda, þat we fee vs togidre, and Y biheete þee, as þou faidist.
Ivii And Ptholome wente out of Egypt, he, and Cleopatra, his douȝter; and he came to Ptholomaida, in þe hundrid and two and sixti ȝeare.
Iviii And kyng Alisaundre came to hym; and he ȝaued to hym Cleopatra, his douȝter, and made his weddyngus at Ptolomaida, as kyngus in grete glorie.
Ix And kyng Alisaundre wrote to Jonathas, þat he fhulde come aȝeinus hym.
Ix And he wente wiþ glorie to Ptholomaida, and came bere to two kyngis, and ȝaued to hem miche syluer, and gold, and ȝiftis; and he fonde grace in siȝt of hem.
Ix And men of Yrael, ful of venom, camen togidre aȝeinus hym, wickid men, axinge aȝeinus hym, and þe kyng toke no tente to hem; Ixii and comaundide Jonathas for to be maad nakid of his cloþis, and hym for to be cloþid in purpre; and so þei diden.
Ixiii And þe kyng sette hym for to sitte wiþ hym, and faide to his princis, Go ȝe out wiþ hym in to mydil of þe citem, and preche, þat no man axe aȝeinus hym of eny need, or cause, neþer eny man be heuy to hym of eny resoun.
Ixiiii And it is don, þat þei þat axiden, or apeliden hym, fawen his glorie þat was prechid, and hym keuerd wiþ purpre, fledden alle.
Ixv And þe kyng magnyfied hym, and wrote hym amonge þe firſt freendis, and he putte him duyk, and parcener, or felawe, of princehode.
Ixvi And Jonathas turnyde aȝein in to Jerusalem, wiþ pees and gladnesse.
Ixvii In þe hundrid ȝeare and fyue and sixtiȝe, Demetrie, sone of Demetrie, came fro Crete in to þe lond of his fadris.
Ixviii And kyng Alisaundre herde, and is maad ful foreful, and turnide aȝein in to Antioche.
Ixix And Demetrie ordeynide Appolonye duyk, þat was souereyn to Seleferie; and gadride his grete oost, and came to Jamnyam; and he fente to Jonathas, heeȝist preft, layingne, þou aloone aȝeinſtoldis vs?
Ix Y am maad in to scoorn and shenſhip, þerfore for þou hauntif power in hillis aȝeinus vs.
Ixxi Nowe þerfore ȝif þou tristest in þi vertues, come doun to vs in to þe feeld; and þere comparyſoun we to gidre, for wiþ me is vertu of bateilis.
Ixii Axe þou, and lerne who Y am, and oþer þat ben in help to me, and whiche sayn, for ȝour fote may not ſtonde aȝeinus oure face, for þi faders ben conuertid in to fliȝt twyis in to her lond.
Ixiii And now hou ſhalt þou mowe ſufteyne rydynge, and so grete oost in þe feeld, where is no ſtoon, ne rocke, neþer place of fleeȝyng?
Ixiiii Soþely as Jonathas herde þe wordis of Appolonye, he was moued in ynƿitt; and he chees ten þousand of men, and wente out fro Jerusalem, and Symont, his broþer, came to hym in to helpe.

Ixv And þei applieden tentis in Joppen, and he ſhitte hym out fro þe citem, for Joppen was þe keepyng of Appolonye;
Ixvi and he fauȝte aȝeinus it. And þei agaſt, þat weren wiþ ynne þe citem, opnyden to hym; and Jonathas weelidide Joppen.
Ixvii And Appolonye herde, and mouede to þree þousand of horsmen, and myche oost; and he wente to Azotum, as makynge þe waye. And anoon he wente out in to þe feelde, for þat he had multitude of horsmen, and he trifnyde in hem; Ixviii and Jonathas fuede hym in to Azotum, and þei ioyniden bateil.
Ixix And Appolonye lefte in þe tentis a þousand horsmen after hem priuylly.
Ixxy And Jonatas knewe for aspies ben after hym, and þei enuyrounden his tentis, and caſtiden darteris in to þe peple, fro morew vn to euynd.
Ixxyi Forþoþe þe peple ſtode, as Jonathas comaundide, and þe horsis of hem traueiliden out.
Ixxyii And Symount caſtide out his oost, and ioynide aȝeinus þe legiou; forþoþe þe horsmen weren maad wery, and ben togidre broken of hym, and fledden.
Ixxyiii And þei ben ſcaterd in to þe feeld, and fledden in to Azotum; and þei entrider in to Bethdagon, her ydol, þat þer þei ſhulden delyuere hem ſelf.
Ixxyiiii And Jonathas brent Azotum, and citees þat weren in cumpas þerof, and toke þe ſpuylis of hem; and he brente in fijr þe temple of Dagon, and hem þat fledden in to it.
Ixxyv And þer weren þat fallen by ſword wiþ hem þat ben brent, almeſt eiȝt þousande of men.
Ixxyvi And fro þennus Jonathas mouede tentis, and applieden hem to Ascalon; and þei wenten out of þe citem aȝeinus hym in grete glorie.
Ixxyvii And Jonathas turnyde aȝein in to Jerusalem wiþ his, hauynge many ſpuylis.
Ixxyviii And it is don, as kyng Alisaundre herde þese wordes, he putte to ȝit for to glorifie Jonathas.
Ixxyix And he fente to hym a golden laſe, or nouche, as cultume is for to be ȝouen to cofyns of kyngus; and he ȝaued to hym Accaron, and alle cooftis þerof in to poſſeffioun.

Capitulum XI.

i And þe kyng of Egypt gadride an oost, as grauel þat is about brynk of þe ſe, and many ſhippus; and ſouȝte for to weelde þe rewme of Alisaundre in gyle, and adde it to his rewme.
ii And he wente out in to Syrie wiþ þe wordis, and þei opnyden to hym citees, and camen to hym; for kyng Alisaundre comaundide for to go out aȝeinus hym, for he was fader of þe kyngus wiþ.

- iii Soþeli whan Ptolome entride a citee, he putte keepyngus of kniȝtis in eche citees.
 iiiii And as he neiȝide to Azotus, þei shewiden to hym þe temple of Dagon brente in fijre, and Azotus, and ober þingus þerof distruyed, and bodies cast forþ, and þe bryuels of hem þat weren flayn in bateil, whiche þei maden bisidis þe wey.
 v And þei teelden to þe kyng, for Jonathas dide þese þingus, for to make enuye to hym; and þe kyng was stille.
 vi And Jonathas came to þe kyng wiþ glorie in Joppen, and þei gretten hem to gidre; and þei flepten pere.
 vii And Jonathas wente wiþ þe kyng 'vn to þe flood þat is clepid Eleutherus, and turnyde aȝein in to Jerusalem.
 viii Soþeli kyng Ptholome weelidde þe lordship of citees 'vn to Sileuce, by þe see cooft, and þouȝte to Alisaundre yuel counseils;
 ix and sente legatis to Demetrie, sayinge, Cumme þou, make we bitwix vs couenaunt, and Y shal ȝeue to þee my douȝter, whom Alisaundre haþ, and þou shalt regne in rewme of þi fadir.
 x Forsoþe it rewȝt me, for Y ȝaue to hym my douȝter;
 soþeli he souȝte for to flea me.
 xi And he dispiside hym þerfore, for he coueitide þe rewme of hym.
 xii And he toke awey his douȝter, and ȝaue hir to Demetrie, and alienede hym fro Alisaundre; and his enmytees ben maad knownen. xiii And Ptholome entride Antioche, and ynputtide two dyademis to his hed, of Egipt and Afie.
 xiv Forsoþe Alisaundre was in Cilice in þo tymes, for þei rebelliden, þat weren in þo placis.
 xv And Alisaundre herde, and came to hym in to bateil; and Ptholome, kyng, brouȝt forþ þe oost, and came to hym in strong hond, and drofe hym.
 xvi And Alisaundre fleiȝ in to Araby, for to be defendid þere; soþely kyng Ptholome is enhaunſid.
 xvii And Gadiel of Araby toke awey Alisaundre hed, and sente to Ptholome.
 xviii And kyng Ptholome is dead in þe þrid day; and þei þat weren in strengþis perishiden, of hem þat weren wiþ ynne þe castels.
 xix And Demetrie regnyde in þe hundrid ȝeer and feuen and sixtiȝe.
 xx In þo days Jonathas gadride hem þat weren in Judee, for to ouercume þe heeȝ rocke, þat is in Jerusalem; and þei maden aȝeinus it many engynes.
 xxi And summe wickid men, þat hatiden her folc, wente to kyng Demetrie, and tolden to hym, þat Jonathas bisegide þe heeȝ rocke.
 xxii And as he herd, he is wroþe, and anon he came to Ptholomaida, and wrote to Jonathas, þat he bisegide not þe heeȝ rocke, but he shulde cume to hym in halȝt, to speke to gidre.
 xxiii Soþeli as Jonathas herde, he comaundide for to bisege; and he cheese of þe elder men of Yrael, and of prestis, and ȝaue hym to perel.
 xxiv And he toke gold, and syluer, and cloþ, and many ober prefentis; and wente to þe kyng, to Ptholomaida, and fonde grace in fijȝt of hym.
 xxv And sume wickid men of his folc axiden aȝeinus
 hym;
 xxvi and þe kyng dide to hym, as þei þat weren bifore hym, diden to hym; and he enhaunſide hym in fijȝt of alle his frendis,
 xxvii and ordeynide to hym princehod of presthod, and what euer preciouſe þingus he hadde before; and made hym prince of frendis.
 xxviii And Jonathas axide of þe kyng, þat he make Judee free, and þree princehodis of þree placis, and Samarie, and niȝ cooftis þerof; and he bihiȝte to hym þre hundrid talents.
 xxix And þe kyng consentide, and wrote to Jonathas epistlis of all þese þingus, conteynyngh þis manere.
 xxx Kyng Demetrie to Jonathas, broþer, helþe, and to folk of Jewis.
 xxxi Pe enfaumple of þe epistle whiche we han wryten to Lascheny, oure fadre, of ȝou, we fenten to ȝou, þat ȝe shulde wite.
 xxxii Kyng Demetrie to Lascheny, fader, helþe.
 xxxiii To þe peple of Jewis, oure frendis, and kepynge whiche þingus ben iust anentis vs, we demyden for to wele do, for þe benignytee of hem þat þei han anentus vs.
 xxxiv Berfore we ordeynen to hem, alle þe cooftis of Judee, and þree citees, Lidea, and Ramatha, þat ben addid to Judee, and Samarie, and alle þe niȝ cooftis of hem, for to be sequestrid, or departid, to alle doyng sacrifice in Jerusalem, for þese þingus þat þe kyng toke byfore of hem by alle ȝeiris, and for fruytis of erþe, and of applis.
 xxxv And ober þingus þat perteyned to vs, of tiþis, and tributis, fro þis tyme we forȝeuȝ to hem; and þe playn places of salt makyng, and þe crownes þat weren born to vs, alle þingus we graunten to þe peplis; xxxvi and no þing of þese shal be voide, fro þis and in to al tyme.
 xxxvii Nowe þerfore bisie ȝe for to make enfaumple of þese þingus, and be it ȝouen to Jonathas, and be putt in þe holy mount, and in þe holy place. xxxviii And kyng Demetrie feynge, þat þe lond was stille in his fijȝt, and noþing aȝein stondeþ hym, left alle his oost, eche man in to his place, out taken þe strange oost, þat he drewȝ fro ylis of heiþen men; and enmyes to it, al þe oost of his fadris.
 xxxix Forsoþe sum Trifon was of þe partis of Alisaundre bifore, and he feeȝ for al þe oost grucchide aȝeinus Demetrie; and he wente to Emacuel Arabyam, þat nurishide Antiochus, sone of Alisaundre.

xl And he fate niȝ to hym, þat he shulde bitake hym to hym, for to regne in stede of his fadir; and tolde out to hym, hou grete þingus Demetrie hadde don, and emmytees of his ooftis aȝeinus hym; and he dwelte þere many days.

xli And Jonathas fente to kyng Demetrie, þat he shulde caste hem out, þat weren in þe heeȝ rocke in Jerufalem, and whence weren in helpis, or strengbis, for þei inpungened Yrael.

xlii And Demetrie sente to Jonathas, sayinge, Not oonli þis Y shal do to þee and to þi folc, bot Y shal make þee noble by glorie, and þi folk, whan it shal be couenable.

xliii Nowe þerfore riȝtly þou shalt do, ȝif þou shalt sende men in to helpe of me, for al myn oost wente awey.

xliii And Jonathas fente to hym þree þousand of strong men, to Antioche; and þei camen to be kyng, and þe kyng delitide in þe cummyng of hem.

xlv And þere camen to gidre þat weren of þe citee an hundrid and twenti þousand of men, and wolden flea þe kyng.

xlivi And þe kyng fledde in to þe halle. And þei þat weren of þe citee occupieden þe wayes of þe citee, and bigunne for to fiȝte.

xlvii And þe kyng clepide Jewis in to help, and alle camen togidre to hym; xlviii and alle ben scatered by þe citee, and flewen in þat day an hundrid þousand of men. And þei brenten þe citee, and token many spuylis in þat day, and delyuerden be kyng.

xlix And þei sawen, þat weren of þe citee, þat Jewis hadden taken þe citee as þei wolden; and ben maad vnstedefast in her soule, and crieren to þe kyng wiþ preyers, sayinge, l ȝeue þou to vs riȝt hondis, and ceese þe Jewis for to fiȝte aȝein vs and þe citee.

li And þei castiden awey her armers, and maden pees. And Jewis ben glorified in siȝt of þe kyng, and in siȝt of alle men þat weren in his rewme, and ben named in þe rewme. And þei wenten aȝein in to Jerufalem, hauyng many spuylis.

lii And kyng Demetrie sittib in sete of his rewme, and þe lond was stille in his siȝt.

liii And he leeȝide alle þingus, what euere he saide, and alyenyde hym fro Jonathas, and he ȝeeldide not to hym vp benyficiis, þat he hadde ȝouen to hym, and traueilide hym gretely.

liii After þese þingus Trifon turnyde aȝein, and Antiochus wiþ hym, a ȝunge chijld; and regnide, and puttide on to hym a diademe.

lv And alle ooftis ben gadrid to hym, whence kyng Demetrie scatride; and þei fouȝten aȝeinus hym, and he fleiȝ, and turnyde backis.

lvii And Trifon toke beestis and weeldide Antioche.

lvii And Antiochus þe ȝunge wrote to Jonathas, sayinge, I ordeyne to þee presthod, and I ordeyne þee on foure citees, þat þou be of þe kyngis frendis.

lviii And he fente to hym golden vessels, in to mynsterie, and ȝaue to hym power of drinkyng in gold, and for to be in to purples, and for to haue a golden nouche.

lix And he ordeynyd Symont, his broþere, duyke fro termes of Tire `vn to þe eendis of Egypt.

lx And Jonathas wente out, and walkide ouere þe flood bi citees; and al þe oost of Syrie is gadrid to hym in to help. And he came to Ascalon, and þei of þe citee camen aȝeins hym wirshipfully.

lxii And fro þennus he wente to Gaza, and þei þat weren at Gaza cloſiden hem to gidre, and he biseegide it. And he brente what þingis weren in cumpas of þe citee, and spuylide it by praye.

lxiiii And men of Gaza preyeden Jonathas, and he ȝaue to hem riȝt hond, or pees. And he toke þe sonys of hem pleggis, `or in oſtage, and he fente hem in to Jerufalem; and he walkide þorou þe cuntree `vn to Damask.

lxviiii And Jonathas herde, for princis of Demetrie trespaſſiden in Cades, þat is in Galilee, wiþ miche oost, willynge for to remoue hym fro need of þe rewme; lxviii and he came aȝeinus hem. Forsoþe he lefte Symont, his broþer, bisidis þe prouyncie.

lxviiii And Symont appliede to Bethsura, and fauȝte aȝeinus it many days, and cloſide hem togidre.

lxvi And þei axiden of hym for to take riȝthondis, and he ȝaue to hem. And he castide hem out fro þennus, and toke þe citee, and puttide þerinne help, or strengþe.

lxvii And Jonathas and his tentis, or oost, applieden to þe water of Genasar, and bifore þe liȝt þei walkiden in þe feeld of Asor.

lxviii And loo! þe tentis, or oostis, of alyens camen aȝeinus in þe feeld, and benten, or setten, to hym aspies, or disceytis, in þe hillis. Soþeli he came aȝeinus of þe contrarie part.

lxix Soþeli þe aspies, or bushementis, risen vp of her places, and ioyneden bateil. And alle þat weren of Jonathas part fledden, lx and no man of hem is left, no bot Mathatias, sone of Abſalomy, and Judas, sone of Calphi, prince of þe kniȝthod and oost.

lxxi And Jonathas kittide his cloþis, and puttide erþe in his hed, and preyede.

lxii And Jonathas turnyde aȝein to hem in to bateil, and to gidre turnyde hem in to fliȝt, and fouȝten.

lxiii And þei sawen þat fledden of his part, and þei turneden aȝein to hym, and purfueden wiþ hym `in to Cades, to her tentis, and fully þei camen vn to pider.

lxviii And þere felle doun in þat day of aliens þree þousand of men, and Jonathas turnyde aȝein in to Jerufalem.

Capitulum XII.

- i And Jonathas seeȝ for þe tyme helpiþ hym; and he cheefe men, and sente hem to Rome, for to ordeyne and renule frenschip wiþ hem.
- ii And to Sparciatis, and to oþer places, he sente epistlis vp þe same fourme.
- iii And þei wenten to Rome, and entriden in þe courte, and saiden, Jonathas, heeȝest preft, and folc of Jewis, senten vs, for to renule frendship and felawship, after þe former.
- iv And þei ȝauen to hem epistlis to hem by placis, þat þei shulden leede hem forþ in to þe lond of Juda wiþ pees.
- v And þis is þe ensaumple of epistlis, whiche Jonathas wrote to Sparciatis.
- vi Jonathas, þe heiȝest preft, and elder men of þe folc, and preftis, and oþer people of Jewis, to Sparciatis, breþeren, helpe.
- vii Nowe bifore þe epistlis weren sente to Onye, þe heiȝest preft, fro Darius, þat regnide anentis ȝou; for ȝe ben oure breþeren as þe rescrive, or writing, conteneþ, þat is vndirput.
- viii And Onye rescveyude þe man wiþ honour, þat was sente, and toke þe epistels, in whom was signified of felawship and frenschip.
- ix Whan we hadden no need of þese, hauyng in solace, or coumfort, holy bokis, þat ben in oure hondis,
- x hadden leuere for to fende to ȝou, for to renule breþerhed and frenschip, leſt perauenture we ben maad aliens fro ȝou; forþoþe many tymes passidен, siþen ȝe senten to vs.
- xi We þerfore in al tyme wiþ out ceefyng, in solempne days, and oþer, in whiche it byhoueþ, ben myndeful of ȝou in sacrifices þat we offren, and in obseruances, as leeful is, and bisemeþ, for to haue hadde mynde of breþeren.
- xii And so we ben glad of ȝoure glorie.
- xiii Forþoþe many tribulaciouns enuyrounden vs, and many bateils; and kyngis, þat ben in oure cumpas, enpugneden, or fouȝten, aȝeinus vs.
- xiv And þerfore we wohn not be greuous to ȝou, neþer to oþer felawis, and oure frendis, in þese bateilis.
- xv Sopeli we hadden help of heuen, and ben delyuerde, and oure enmyes ben maad lowe.
- xvi And so we han chosen Numenium of Antiochi, and Antipatre, sone of Jasoun, and sente to Romayns, for to renule wiþ hem and frenschip and former felawship.
- xvii And so we comaundiden to hem, þat þei cum also to ȝou, and grete ȝou, and ȝeelde to ȝou oure pistlis of renulyng of oure breþerhed.
- xviii And now ȝe shuln wel do, answeryng to vs of þese pingis.
- xix And þis is þe rescrive, or aȝein wrytyng, of þe epistlis, þat Onye, kyng of Sparciatis, sente.
- xx Onye to Jonathas, þe grete preft, helpe.

- xxi It is founden in wrytyng of Sparciatis, and Jewis, for þei ben breþeren, and for þei ben of þe kyn of Abraham.
- xxii And nowe siþen we knewen þese þingus, ȝe don wel, wrytynge to vs of oure pees.
- xxiii Bot and we aȝein writhen to ȝou. Our beeftis and oure possessions ben ȝour, and ȝour oure. And so we comaundiden, for to telle þese þingis to ȝou.
- xxiv And Jonathas herde, for þe princis of Demetrie wenten out wiþ miche oost, ouer þat byfore, for to fiȝte aȝeinus hym.
- xxv And he wente out fro Jerusalēm, and ranne aȝeinus hem in þe cuntree of Amathithia; soþeli he ȝauē not space to hem, for to entre in to his cuntree.
- xxvi And he sente aspies in to þe tentus of hem, and þei turnyd aȝein tolden, for þei ordeyneden for to cum ouer þidre in niȝt.
- xxvii Whanne þe funne had go doun, Jonathas baad his waake, and be redy in armeres to bateil al niȝt. And he sette keepers bi cumpas of þe tentis;
- xxviii and þe aduersaries herden, for Jonathas is redy wiþ his in bateil, and þei dredden, and inwardly weren agast in her herte, and tenden fijrs in her tentis.
- xxix Forþoþe Jonathas, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, knewen not til morewe; forþoþe þei sawen liȝtis brennyngē.
- xxx And Jonathas suede hem, and cauȝte hem not; forþoþe þei passiden þe flood Eleutherus.
- xxxi And Jonathas turnyde to Arabas, þat weren clepid Sabadeis; and he smote hem, and toke spuylis of hem.
- xxxii And he ioynyde, and came to Damask, and walkide bi al þat cuntree.
- xxxiii Forþoþe Symont wente out, and came til Ascalon, and to þe next strengbis; and he bowide doun in to Joppen, and occupiede it.
- xxxiv Forþoþe he herde, þat þei wolden ȝeue help to þe parties of Demetrie; and he puttide þere keepers, for to keepe it.
- xxxv And Jonathas turnyde aȝein, and clepide togidre þe eldre men of þe peple, and þouȝte wiþ hem for to beelde strengbis in Judee,
- xxxvi and for to beelde wallis in Jerusalēm, and for to reyse a grete heiȝt, bitwix þe mydil of þe heeȝ rocke and þe citee, for to departe it fro þe citee, þat it were aloon, and neþer þei bye, ne selle.
- xxxvii And þei camen to gidre, for to beelde þe citee. And þe wal felle togidre, þat was on þe streme of reyne, fro ryfinge of þe sunne; and he repareilide it, þat is clepid Capheteca.
- xxxviii And Symont beeldide Adiada in Sephela, and he strengþide it, and puttide on ȝatis and locks.
- xxxix And whanne Tryfon þouȝte for to regne at Afie, and take to a diademē, and strecche out hond in to kyng Antiochus, xli dredinge left perauenture Jonathas shulde not suffre hym, bot fiȝte aȝeinus hym, he souȝte for to cacche hym, and fleas. And he rysyng vp wente in to Bethsan.

xlii And Jonathas wente out aȝeinus, wiþ fourty þousand of chosen men in to bateil, and came to Bethsan.
xliii And Trifon seeȝ, for Jonathas came wiþ a myche ooft, for to strecche out hondis in to hym. And he dredde, xliii and refcyeuede hym wiþ honoure, and comendide him to alle his freendis; and ȝau to hym ȝiftis, and comaundide to his oostis, for to obeye to hym as to hym self.
xliii And he saide to Jonathas, Wherto haſt þou traueilide al þe peple, whann bateil is not to vs?
xlv And nowe fende hem aȝein in to her housis. Soþely cheſe þou to bee a fewe men, þat ben wiþ þee, and cume wiþ me to Ptholomaida, and Y ſhal ȝeue it to þee, and oþer ſtrengþis, and ooft, and alle prepoftis, or ſouereyns, of neede; and Y conuertid ſhal go awey. Soþely þerfore Y came.
xlivi And he byleeuide to hym, and dide as he ſaid, and leſte þe ooft; and þei wenten awey in to þe lond of Juda.
xlvii Forſoþe he wipheelde wiþ hym þree þousand of men, of whom he ſente aȝein in to Galilee two þousand; ſoþeli a þousand camen wiþ hym.
xlviii Forſoþe as Jonathas entride Ptholomaida, men of Ptholomaida ſhitten þe ȝatis, and cauȝten hym; and alle þat entriden wiþ hym þei flewen wiþ fwerd.
xlix And Trifon ſente an ooft and horfmen in to Galilee, and in to þe greet feed, for to leefe alle þe felawis of Jonathas.
i And þei, whan þei knewen for Jonathas is taken, and perifhiden, and alle þat weren wiþ hym, monestiden hem ſelf, and wenten out redy in to bateile.
ii And þei feeynge, þat purſueden, for for ſoule, or lijf, þe þing is to hem, turnyden aȝein.
iii Forſoþe þei camen alle wiþ pees in to þe lond of Juda. And þei weilden Jonathas gretely, and alle þat weren wiþ hym, and Yrael mournyde wiþ grete mournyng.
iv And alle heiþen men þat weren in þe cumpas of hem, ſouȝten for to breke hem to gidre; forſoþe þei faiden, Pei han no prince and helping; now þerfore ouer cumme we hem, and take awey of men þe mynde of hem.

Capitulum XIII.

i And as Symont herde, þat Trifon gadride a grete ooft, for to cum in to þe lond of Juda, and for to diſtruye it, ii feeynge for þe peple is in tremblyng and dred, he ſtieȝ vp in to Jerufalem, and gadride þe peple;
iii and monestynge ſaide, ȝe witen, hou many þingus Y, and my breþeren, and þe hous of my fadir, han don, for lawis and for holy þingus, batels, and what maner anguylhis we ſawen.

iv For grace, or cause, of þeſe þingus alle my breþeren perifhiden for Yrael, and Y aloone am left.
v And now bifalle it not to me, for to ſpare my ſoule, or lijf, in al tyme of tribulaciooun; forſoþe Y am not better þan my breþeren.
vi And fo Y ſhal venge my folc, and holy þingus, and oure children, and wyues; for alle heiþen men ben gadrid, for to diſtruye vs, bi cause of enmytee.
vii And þe ſpirit of þe peple is brent togidre, as it herde þeſe wordis.
viii And þei anſwerden wiþ grete voice, ſayinge, ȝou art oure duyk in ſtede of Judas, and Jonathas, þi broþer;
ix fiȝte þou oure bateil, and alle þingus what euere þou ſhalt ſaye, we ſhuln do.
x And he gadryng alle men fiȝters haſtide for to eende alle þe wallis of Jerufalem, and he ſtrengþide it in cumpas.
xi And he fente Jonathas, þe ſone of Abſolomy, and wiþ hym a newe ooft, in to Joppen. And þeſe caſt out þat weren in it, he dwellide þere.
xii And Trifon mouede fro Ptholomaida wiþ myche ooft, for to cum in to þe lond of Juda, and Jonathas wiþ hym in keepyng.
xiii Forſoþe Symont appliede in Addus, aȝeinus þe face of þe feed.
xiv And as Trifon knewe, for Symont roſe in ſtede of his broþer Jonathas, and for he was to ioynyng bateil wiþ hym, he ſente to hym legatis, ſayinge, xv For ſyluer, þat þi broþer Jonathas ouȝte in reſun of þe kyng, we wiþhelden hym.
xvi And nowe fende þou an hundred talentis of ſyluer, and his two ſonnys pleggis, þat he not diſmitten flee fro vs, and we ſhuln aȝein fende hym.
xvii And Symont knewȝ, þat wiþ gijle he ſpake wiþ hym. Neþeles he comaundide þe ſyluer to be ȝouen, and children, leſt he toke grete enmyte to þe peple of Yrael, xviii ſayinge, For he ſente not to hym þe ſyluer and children, þerfore he perifhide.
xix And he leezide, and diſmytted not Jonathas.
xx And after þeſe þingus Tryfon came wiþ ynne þe cunte, for to diſtruye it. And þei cumpaseden by þe waye þat lediþ to Ador; and Symont and his ooft walkiden in to eche place, whider euere þei wenten.
xi Soþely þei þat weren in þe heeȝ rocke, ſenten legatis to Trifon, for to haſte for to come by defert, and fende to hem fodis.
xxii And Trifon made redy al þe rydyng, for to come in þat niȝt; ſoþeli þer was ful myche ſnowe, and he cam not in to Galadithym.
xxiii And whanne he neeȝide to Baschama, he flewȝ Jonathas and his ſonnys þere.
xxiv And Trifon turnyde, and wente in to his lond.

xxv And Symont fente, and toke þe bonys of Jonathas, his broþer, and byryede hym in Modyn, citee of his fadir.

xxvi And al Yrael weiliden hym wiþ grete weylyng, and þei mourneden hym many days.

xxvii And Symont beeldide on þe sepulcre of his fadir and breþeren an heeȝe beeldyng, wiþ stoon polisid byhynd and byfore.

xxviii And he ordeynde feuen smale bildyngus, broode byneþe and sharp aboue, oon aȝeinus oon, to his fader, and moder, and foure breþeren.

xxix And to þese he putte aboute grete pilers, and on þe pilers armers, to euerlaftyng mynd; and byfidis þe armers grauein shippis, whiche shulden be seen of men saylyng þe see.

xxx Bis is þe sepulcre þat he made in Modyn, til in to þis day.

xxxi Forsoþe whan Trifon maad waye wiþ Antiochus, þe ȝunge kyng, in gijle he flewȝ hym, and regnyde in his stede;

xxxii and he puttide on to hym þe diadem of Afie, and made grete veniance in þe lond.

xxxiii And Symont bildað þe strengbis of Judee, wardyne hem wiþ heeȝ tours, and grete wallis, and ȝatis, and lockis; and he putte fodis in strengbis.

xxxiv And Symont cheeſe men, and fente to kyng Demetrie, þat he shulde do remissiou to þe centre, for alle þe dedis of Trifon weren don by rauyfhyng.

xxxv And to þese wordis kyng Demetrie answarde to hym, and wrote fiche epistil.

xxxvi Kyng Demetrie to Symont, heeȝiſt preſt, and frend of kyngus, and to elder men, and folc of Jewis, helpe.

xxxvii Pe golden crown, and baheu, whiche ȝe fenten, we rescveyeden, and ben redy for to make wiþ ȝou grete pees, and for to write to prepostus of þe kyng, for to releefe to ȝou what þingus we forȝauen; xxxviii forsoþe what euer þingus we ordeyn to ȝou, ben ſtable. Pe strengbiſ þat ȝe bildað, be to ȝou; xxxix and we forȝeue ignorances and synnes, til in to þis day, and þe crown þat ȝe ouȝten; and ȝif eny oþer þing was tributarye, or bounden to tribute, in Jerufalem, nowe be it not tributarie.

xl And ȝif eny of ȝou ben able for to be wryten to gydres amouge oure men, be þei written togidre, and pees be bitwixe vs.

xli In þe hundrid ȝeer and ſeuentyne, þe ȝoc of heiþen men is taken away fro Yrael.

xlii And þe peple bigan for to write in tablis, and opyn, or comun, doynges, in þe firſt ȝeer vndre Symont, heeȝiſt preſt, grete duyk, and prince of Jewis.

xliii In þoo days Symont appliede to Gafan, and enuyrounyde it wiþ tentis, or men of armes, and made engynes, and appliede to þe citee, and ſmote a toure, and toke it.

xliiiii And þei þat braken out, were bitwixe þe engyne and in þe citee, and grete ſtiryng is maad in þe citee.

xlv And þei ſteiȝiden vp, þat were in þe citee, wiþ her wijues, and fonyngs, on þe walle, wiþ her kotis kitt, and crieden wiþ grete voice, axinge of Symont riȝthondis for to be ȝouen to hem, xlivi and ſaiden, ȝeelde þou not to vs after oure malices, bot after bi mercyes, and we shuln ferue to þee.

xlvii And Symont bowide, or folden, fauȝte not aȝeinus hem, or ouercame not hem; neþeles he caſtide hem out of þe citee, and clenſide out þe housis in whom were symulacris, and þanne he entride in to it, wiþ ympnus, bleſſyng þe Lord.

xlviii And alle vnclennesſe caſt out þerof, he fette þerynne men, þat shulden do þe lawe; and he ſtrengþide it, and made to hym abitacioun.

xlix Forſoþe þei þat were in þe heeȝ rocke of Jerufalem, were forboden for to go out and go yn, in to þe cuntree, and to bye, and ſelle; and þei hungriden gretely, and many of hem perifilden for hungrē.

l And þei crieden to Symont, for to take riȝthondis, and he ȝaue to hem; and he caſt out hem fro þennus, and clenſide þe heeȝ rocke fro defoulyngus.

li And þei entriden in to it in þe þree and twentynþe day of þe fecounde moneþe, in þe hundred and oon and ſeuenty ȝeer, wiþ preſyng, and braunchis of palmes, and instrumentis of musik, and cymbalis, and nablis, and ympnis, and songis, for þe grete enmye of Yrael is broken to gidre.

lii And he ordeynede, þat in alle ȝeiris þese days shulden be don wiþ gladdenesse. And he ſtrengþide þe hille of þe temple, þat was biſidis þe heeȝ rocke, and dwelte þere, he, and þei þat were wiþ hym.

liii And Symont ſeeȝ Joon, his ſone, þat he was a man of bateil, and he putte hym duyk of alle vertues, and he dwelte in Gafaris.

Capitulum XIII.

i In þe hundrid and two and ſeuentyne ȝeer kyng Demetrie gadride his ooft, and wente to Mede, for to drawe togidre helpis to hym, for to ouercume Trifon.

ii And as Arſaces, kyng of Perfis and Mede, herde for Demetrie entride his niȝ cooſtis, he fente oon of his princis, for to take hym quyck, and þat he shulde bryng hym to hym ſelf.

iii And he wente, and ſmote þe tentis of Demetrie, and toke hym, and ledde hym to Arſaces, and putt hym in to keepyng.

iv And þe lond of Juda was ſtille, or peſible, alle þe days of Symont, and he ſouȝte good þingus of his folk; and his power pleside to hem, and his glorie, in alle days.

v And wiþ alle his glorie he toke Joppen in to hauen, and maade entre in þe ylis of þe ſee;

vi and he alargide þe cooftis of his peple, and weeldeðe þe cuntre.
vii And he gadride myche caitiftee, and was lord in Gasara, and Bethsura, and Arcus; and he dide awey þe vnclennesse of it, and þere was not þat aȝein stode
hym.
viii And eche man tilied his own lond wiþ pees, and þe lond of Juda ȝaue his fruytis, and trees of þe feeld her fruyte.
ix Alle elder men saten in stretis, and tretiden of goodis of þe lond; and ȝunge men cloþiden hem in glorie, and stoolis of bateil.
x And to þe citees he ȝaue foodis, and ordeynyd hem, þat þei weren vessels of strengbing, til þat name of his glorie was named vnto þe last of erþe. xi He made pees on þe lond, and Yrael gladide wiþ grete gladnesse;
xii and eche man fate vnder his vyne, and vnder his fijge tree, neþer þere was þat feride hem.
xiii þe fijtyng man aȝeinus hem feilide on erþe;
kyngis ben broken togidre in þo days.
xiv And he confermyde alle meke men of his peple, and he souȝte out þe lawe, and dide awey al yuel and wickid;
xv and glorifiede holy þingus, and multipliðe vessels of holy þingus.
xvi And it is herd at Rome, for Jonathas is dead, and til in to Spartialis, and þei ben ful foreful.
xvii Forsoþe as þei herden, þat Symont, his broþer, was maad heeift preft in his stede, and weldide þe cuntrie, and citees in it,
xviii þei wryten to hym in brasen tablis, for to renule frenþship, and felawþip, þat þei maden wiþ Judas and Jonathas, his breþeren;
xix and þei ben rad in siȝ of þe chirche in Jerusalem.
xx And þis ensaumple of pistlis, þat Sparciatis senten.
Prince and þe citees of Sparciatis to Symound, þe grete preft, and to eldre men, and preeftis, and to oþer peple of Jewis, breþeren, helþe.
xxi Legatis þat ben fente to oure peple, tolden to vs of þour glorie, and honoure, and gladnesse, and we ioyeden in þe entree of hem.
xxii And we han wryten what þingus weren saide of hem in counseil of peple, þus. Numenius of Antiochus, and Antipatre, sone of Jason, legatis of Jewis, camen to vs, renulyng wiþ vs þe former frenþship.
xxiii And it pleside to þe peple, for to rescyeue þe men gloriously, and to putte ensaumple of her wordis in departid bokis of þe peple, þat it be to mynde to þe peple of Sparciatis; forsoþe we han wryten ensaumple of þese þingus to Symont, þe greete preft.
xxiv Forsoþe after þese þingus Symont fente Numenye to Rome, hauyng a greete golden sheld, weiȝt of a þousand besauntis, for to ordeyne frenþship wiþ hem.

xxv Soþeli whan þe peple of Rome herde þese wordis, þei saiden, What doyng of þankingus shuln we ȝeilde to Symont, and his sonys? xxvi Forsoþe he restoride his breþeren, and ouer came þe enmyes of Yrael fro hem. And þei ordeynden to him freedam,
xxvii and wryten in brasen tablis, and puttiden in tyllis, in to þe mount of Syon. And þis is þe ensaumple of writyng. In þe eiȝtenþe day of þe moneþe Ebul, in þe hundred and two and seuentiþe zeer, þe þrid zeer vnder Symont, þe grete preft, xxviii in Asaramel, in þe grete cummyng togidre of preftis, peple, and princis, and folc, and 'eldre men of þe cuntree, þese þingus ben maad knownen;
xxix for many tymes bateils ben maad in ȝour cuntree.
Forsoþe Symont, þe sone of Mathatias, of þe sonys of Joaryb, and his breþeren, ȝauen hem self to perel, and aȝein stoden aduersaries of her folc, þat her holy þingus and lawe shulden stonde; and bi grete glorie þei glorifieden her folc.
xxx And Jonathas gadride his folc, and is maad to hem a grete preft, and he is put to his peple. xxxi And þe enmyes of hem wolden defoule holy þingus, and disstruye þe cuntre of hem, and strecche forþ þe hond in to holy þingus of hem.
xxxii Panne Symont aȝein stode, and fauȝte for his peple, and ȝaue myche moneys, and armyd men of vertu of his folc, and he ȝaue to hem sowdis; xxxiii and strengbide þe citees of Juda, and Bethsura, þat was in þe eendis of Judee, wher bifore weren armers of enmyes, and he puttide þere help, or strengþe, men Jewis.
xxxiv And he strengbide Joppe, þat was at þe see, and Gasara, þat was in þe cooftis of Azotus, in whom enmyes dwelten byfore; and he sette þere Jewis, and what euere þingus weren able to þe amendyng of hem, he putte in hem.
xxxv And þe peple sawȝ þe doyng of Symount, and þe glorie þat he bouȝte for to do to his folc, and þei puttiden hym her duyke, and prince of preftis, for þat he hadde don alle þes þingis and riȝtwisnesse, and feiþ, þat he kepte to his folk; and he souȝte out in al maner for to reyse his peple.
xxxvi And in his days it hadde prosperitee in his hondis, þat heiþen men weren taken awey fro þe cuntree of hem, whiche weren in þe citee of Dauid in Jerusalem, in þe heeȝ rocke; of whiche þei camen out, and defouliden alle þingus þat weren in þe cumpas of holy þingus, and ȝauen grete wounde to þe citee. xxxvii And he sette þerynne men Jewis, to defendyng of þe cuntree and þe citee, and he reyfide þe wallis in Jerusalem.
xxxviii And kyng Demetrie ordeynede to hym þe heeȝiȝt
presthod;
xxxix vp þis he made hym his frend, and glorifiede hym in grete glorie.

x Forsoþe he herd, þat Jewis ben cleepid of Romayns frendis, and felawes, and breþeren, and for þei resceyuyden þe legatis of Symont glorioufly;

xii and for Jewis and prestis of hem consentiden, hym for to be her duyke, and heeȝist prest, in to wipouten eende, til þere ryse a feiþful prophete;

xiii and þat he be dyuk on hem, and cure were to hym for holy þingus; and þat he shulde ordeyne prepostus, or gouernours, on þe werkis of hem, and on þe cuntrie, and on armers, and on strengþus;

xiv and cure be to hym of holy þingus; and þat he be herd of men, and alle wrytyngis in þe cuntrie be wryten to gidre vnder name of hym;

xv and þat it be not leeful to eny of þe peple, and to prestis, for to make eny þing of þese voide, and aȝein faye to þese þingus þat ben said of hym, eþer to clepe togidre couent in þe cuntrie wipouten hym; and for to be cloþid in purpre, and for to vse a golden lace, or nouche.

xvi Soþely he þat shal do wiþ out þis, or shal make voide eny of þese, shal be gulty.

xvii And it pleside to gidre to alle þe peple, for to ordeyne Symont, and to do after þese wordis.

xviii And Symont resceyuede, and it pleside, þat he were sett in þe heeȝist presthod, and were dyuk and prince of þe folc of Jewis, and prestis, and were bifore to alle men.

xix And þei saiden hem for to putte þis wrytyng in brasen tablis, and to putte hem in þe walkyng place of holy þingus, in solempne place;

xx forsoþe for to putte enfaumple of þese in tresorie, þat Symont haue and his sonys.

Capitulum XV.

i And þe kyng Antiochus, sone of Demetrie, sente epistlis fro ijlys of þe see, to Symont, prest, and prince of folc of Jewis, and to al þe folc;

ii and þei weren conteynyngis þis manere. Kyng Antiochus to Symont, þe grete prest, and to folc of Jewis, helþ.

iii For soþli men berynge pestilence weeldiden þe rewme of oure faders, forsoþe Y wole venge þe rewme, and restore it, as it was byfore; Y made þe chosen multitude of oost, and made shippus of werre.

iv Forsoþe Y wole go forþ by cuntries, þat Y do veniaunce in to hem þat distruyede oure cuntrie, and þat maden many citees desolate in my rewme.

v Now þerfore Y ordeyne to bee alle offringus, þat alle kyngus byfore me forȝauen to þee, and what euer oþer ȝiftis þei forȝauen to þee;

vi and Y suffre þee for to make smytyng, or printe, of þin own money, in þi regyoun;

vii soþely Jerusalem for to be holy and free, and alle armers þat ben maad, and strengþis, þat þou haft maad out, and þat þou holdist, dwelle to þee;

viii and al dett of þe kyng, and þo þat ben to cummyng of kyngus þingis, fro þis in to al tyme ben forȝouen to þee.

ix Soþely whanne we shuln weelde oure rewme, we shuln glorifie þee, and þi folc, and temple, wiþ grete glorie, so þat ȝoure glorie be shewid in al erþe.

x In þe hundrid ȝeare and fourre and seuentiþe Antiochus wente out in to be lond of his fadris, and alle oostis camen to gydre to hym, so þat fewe weren left wiþ Trifon.

xi And kyng Antiochus pursuede hym, and he came to Doram, fleeȝinge by þe se coost; xii forsoþe he wist, þat yuels weren gadrid in to hym, and þe oost forsoken hym.

xiii And Antiochus appliede on Doram, wiþ an hundred and twenti þousand of fiȝting men, and eiȝte þousand of horfmen;

xiv and he cumpaside þe citee, and shippus fro þe se camen to; and þei traueiliden þe cite fro lond and se, and suffreden no man for to entre, or go out.

xv Forsoþe Numenus came, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, fro Rome, hauyng epistlis wryten to kyngis and cuntries, in whiche þese þingus weren conteyned.

xvi Lucius, consul of Romayns, to kyng Ptholome, helþe.

xvii Legatis of Jewis camen to vs, oure freendis, renulyng þe former frenship and felawship, sent of Symont, prince of prestis, and of þe peple of Jewis.

xviii Soþeli þei brouȝten to and a golden sheeld of a þousand besauntis.

xix And so it pleside to vs for to wryte to kyngis and cuntries, þat þei do not yuels to hem, neþer enpungne hem, and her cytees, and her cuntries, and þat þei bere not help to men fiȝtyng aȝein hem.

xx Forsoþe it is seen to vs, for to resceyue of hem þe sheeld.

xi Perfore ȝif any men of pestilence shuln flee fro þe cuntrie of hem to ȝou, bytake ȝe hem to Symont, prince of prestis, þat he venge in to hem after his lawe.

xxii Þese fame þingus ben wryten to kyng Demetrie, and Attalus, and Araba, and Arfaces, xxiii and in to alle cuntries, and Sampfame, and Spartanyes, and Delo, and Myde, and Synone, and Carie, and Samyum, and Pamphiliam, and Lysiam, and Alacarnasum, and Rodum, and Phaselida, and Reo, and Sydon, and Arado, and Gortynam, and Gnydum, and Cypre, and Cyrenen.

xxiv Forsoþe enfaumple of þese þei han wryten to Symont, prince of prestis, and to peple of Jewis.

xxv Forsoþe Antiochus appliede tentus in Doram þe secounde tyme, mouyng to it euermore hondis, and makynge engynes; and he closide to gidre Trifon, leſt he wente out.

xxvi And Symont sente to hym two þousand of chosen men, in to help, and fyluer, and gold, and plenteuouse vessels;

xxvii and he wolde not take. Bot he brake alle þingus þat he couenantide wiþ hym byfore, and alyenyde hym self fro hym.
 xxviii And he sente to hym Athenobius, oon of his frendis, for to treete wiþ hym, saynge, ȝe holden Joppen and Gazaram, and þe heeȝ rocke þat is in Jerusalem, cytees of my rewme; xxix þe coofis of hem ȝe han waastid, and han don a grete veniaunce in þe lond, and ȝe lordshipen by many places in my rewme.
 xxx Nowe þerfore ȝeue ȝe þe citees, whom ȝe occupieden, and tributis of places, `to whom ȝe lordshipen, out of þe eendis of Judee.
 xxxi Or ellis ȝeue ȝe for hem fyfty talentis of syluer, and of distruyng þat ȝe han distruyed, and of tributis of citees, oþer fifty talentis; or ellis we schuln cumme, and ouercumme ȝou.
 xxxii And Athenobyus, frend of þe kyng, came in to Jerusalem, and seeȝ þe glorye of Symont, and cleerneſſe, in gold, and syluer, and plenteouuse apareil, and was astonyed; and he tolde to hym wordis of þe kyng.
 xxxiii And Symont answerde, and seide to hym, Neþer we token alyen londis, neþer wiþ holden oþer mens þingus, bot eritage of oure fadris, þat was weeldid sum tyme vniuſtly of oure enmyes.
 xxxiv Soþely we hauyng tyme chalengen þe heritage of oure fadris.
 xxxv For why of Joppe and Gazara þat þou axist, þei diden grete veniaunce in þe peple, and in oure cuntrie; of þese we ȝeuen an hundrid talentis.
 xxxvi And Athenobyus answerde not a word. Soþely he, turned aȝein wiþ wrþ to þe kyng, tolde aȝein to hym þese wordis, and þe glorie of Symont, and alle þingus þat he seeȝ. And þe kyng was wroþe wiþ grete wrþ.
 xxxvii Forsoþe Trifon fleiȝ by ship in to Ortosayda.
 xxxviii And þe kyng ordeynye Cendebeus, duyk of þe fe cooft, and ȝau to hym ooft of fotmen and horfmen; xxxix and comaundide hym for to moue tentis aȝeinus þe face of Judee. And he comaundide hym for to bilde Cedron, and to stoppe ȝatis of þe citee, and ouercumme þe peple; forsoþe þe kyng purfuede Trifon.
 xl And Cendebeus came to Jamniam, and bigan for to terre þe peple to wrþ, and for to defoule Judee, and to make þe peple caityf, and flea, xli and to beelde Cedron. And he sette þere horfmen and ooft, þat þei gon out shulden walke by þe waye of Judee, as þe kyng ordeynye hym.

Capitulum XVI.

i And Joon styede fro Gazara, and tolde to Symont, his fadir, what þingus Cendebeus dide in þe peple of hem.
 ii And Symont clepide his two eldre sonnys, Judas and Joon, and saij to hem, Y, and my breþeren, and þe hous of my fadre, han ouercummen þe enmyes of Yrael, fro ȝongþe til in to þis day; and it hadde prosperite in oure hondis, for to delyuere Yrael sumtymes.

 iii Forsoþe nowe I haue oldid, bot be ȝe in my stede, and of my broþer, and ȝe gon out, fȝiȝe for oure folc;
 forsoþe help of heuen be wiþ ȝou.
 iv And he cheefe of þe cuntrie twenti þousand of fȝiȝyng men, and horfmen; and þei wenten out to Cendebeus, and leþten in Modyn.
 v And þei ryſen erly, and wenten in to þe feeld, and loo! a copyous ooft in to metyng to hem, of fotemen and horfmen; and þe flood of reyn water was bitwix þe myddis of hem.
 vi And he mouede to þe tentis aȝeinus þe face of hem, he and his peple, and he seeȝ þe peple tremblynge to passe ouer þe streme of reyn, and he passide ouer þe firſt; and men seeȝen hym, and passiden after hym.
 vii And he lefte þe peple and horfmen in mydil of fotemen; forsoþe þe rydyng of aduersaries was ful plenteouufe.
 viii And þei cryeden an heeȝ wiþ holy trumpis; and Cendebeus is conuertid in to fliȝt, and his ooft, and many of hem felle woundid; soþely þe residues fledden in to þe strengþe.
 ix Panne Judas, þe broþer of Joon, is woundid; forsoþe Joon purfuede hem, til he came to Cedrona, whom he beeldide.
 x And þei fledden `vnto toures, þat weren in þe feeldis of Azotis, and he brente hem wiþ fijr; and þere fallen of hem two þousand of men; and he turnyde aȝein in to Judee in pees.
 xi And Ptholome, sone of Aboby, was ordeynyd duyk in þe feeld of Jerico, and he hadde myche syluer and
 gold;
 xii forsoþe he weddide þe douȝter of þe heeȝist preſt.
 xiii And þe hert of hym is reysid, and he wolde weelde þe cuntrie; and he þouȝte gyle aȝeinus Symont and his sonnys, for to do awey hem.
 xiv Forsoþe Symont walkyng by citees þat weren in þe cuntrie of Judee, and beryng þe besynesse of hem, came doun in to Jericho, he, and Mathatias, his sone, and Judas, in þe hundrid ȝeer and leuen and leuentiȝe, in þe elleuenþe moneȝe; þis is þe moneȝ Sabath.
 xv And þe sone of Abobi refceyuyde hem in to a litil strengþe, þat is clepid Doth, wiþ gijle, whom he beeldide; and he made to hem a grete feest, and hidde men þere.
 xvi And whan Symont was ful of drinke, and his sonnys, Ptholome roose wiþ his, `and token her armers, and entriden in to þe feest, and flewen hym, and his two sonnys, and sume children of hym.
 xvii And he did a grete disceyte in Yrael, and ȝeeldide yuels for goodis.
 xviii And Ptholome wrote þese þingus, and sente to þe kyng, for to fende to hym an ooft in to help, and he shulde bitake to hym þe cuntrie and citees of hem, and tributis.

xix And he sente oper in to Gazara, for to do awey Joon; and þe tribune sente epistlis, þat þei shulden cume to hym, and he shulde ȝeue to hem syluer, and gold, and ȝiftis.

xx And he sente oper, for to occupie Jerusalem, and þe mount of þe temple.

xi And summan rennyng byfore tolde to Joon in Gazara, for his fader perishe, and his breþeren, and for he had sente and þee for to be flayn.

xxii Forsoþe as he herde, he dredde greteli; and he cauȝte þe men þat came for to leefe hym, and flewȝ hem; forsoþe he knewe, for þei fouȝten for to leefe hym.

xxiii And oþer þingis of Joons wordis, and of his bateils, and good vertues, in whiche he dide strongly, and of beeldyng of wallis, whom he fully maade, and of þingis don of hym, xxvii loo! þeefe ben writen in þe boke of days of his presthod, siþen he was maad prince of prestis aftir his fadir.

Here endip þe book of þe firste Judas Machabeus, and bigynneþ þe book of secunde Judas Machabeus.

II. MACHABEORUM.

Here bigynneþ þe secounde boke of Machabeorum.

Capitulum I.

i To breþeren, þat ben by Egipt, Jewis, helpe fayen breþeren, þat ben in Jerufalem, Jewis, and þat ben in þe cuntrie of Judee, and good pees.

ii God do wel to ȝou, and haue mynd of his testament, þat he spake to Abraham, Ysaac, and Jacob, his trewe seruauntis;

iii and ȝeue herte to ȝou alle, þat ȝe wirshipe hym, and do þe wille of hym wiþ grete herte and wilful ynwytt.

iii Opene he ȝour herte in his lawe, and his heestis, and make he pees;

v heere he graciously ȝour preyers, and be recounseilid to ȝou, neþer forfase ȝou in yuel tyme.

vi And nowe we ben here preyng for ȝou.

vii Regnyng Demetrie in þe hundred ȝeer and sixti and nynþe, we Jewis han writen to ȝou in tribulacioun and ferfnesse, þat came aboue to vs in þese ȝeiris, siþen Jafon wente oute of þe holy lond and rewme.

viii þei brenten þe ȝate, and shdden out innocent blood; and we preyeden to þe Lord, and we ben graciously herd, and we han offrid sacrifice, and cleene flour, and han tendid lanterns, and han putte forþ loues.

ix And nowe vse ȝe þe days of Senephegie, of þe moneþ Casleu.

x In þe hundred ȝeer and eiȝte and eiȝtipe, þe peple þat is in Jerusalem and in Judee, and þe senate, and Judas, to Aristoble, maister of Tholome, kyng, þat is of þe kyn of oyntyd prestis, and to hem þat ben in Egypt, Jewis, helpe of soule, and helpe of body.

xi We delyuerd of God fro grete perilis, don þankyngis to hym hugely, as we þat han fouȝten aȝeinus siche a kyng.

xii Forsoþe he made to buyle out of Persis hem þat fouȝten aȝeinus vs and þe holy citee.

xiii For whi whan in Perse was þe duyke hym self, and wiþ hym al þe oost, he felle in þe temple of Nauue, disceyuyd bi þe counsel of þe prest of Nauue.

xiv Forsoþe as to dwellyng wiþ hym Antiochus came to þe place, and his freendis, and for to take myche moneys by name of dower.

xv And whan prestis of Nauue hadden putte hem forþ, and he wiþ fewe entride wiþ ynne cumpas of þe temple, þei closiden þe temple, whanne Antiochus had entride.

xvi And þe priuy entree of þe temple opnyd, þei sendinge stoons smyten þe duyk, and hem þat weren wiþ hym, and departiden lym mele; and þe hedis gird off, casten forþ out.

xvii Bi alle þingis bleſſid God, þat bitoke vnpitous men. xviii Perfore we to makynge purfyng, or clenſyng, of þe temple, in þe fyue and twentipe day of þe moneþ Casleu, ledden needful for to signyfie to ȝou, þat and ȝe do þe day of Senephegie, and þe day of fijr, þat is ȝouen, whan Neemye offride sacrifices, and þe temple and þe auter bildid.

xix For whi whan oure fadris weren ledde in to Persis, prestis þat þanne weren wirshipers of God, hidden priuyly fijr taken of þe auter, in a valey, wher was a deep pitt, and drye; and þerynne þei kepten it, so þat þe place was vñknownen to alle men.

xx Forsoþe whanne many ȝeiris hadden paſſid, and it pleside to God þat Neemye was fente fro þe kyng of Persis, he sente þe sonys sonys of prestis þat hidden, for to seeke fijre; and as þei teelden to vs, þei foonden not fijre, bot fatt water.

xi And he comaundide hem for to drawe, and bryngre to hym. And Neemye, prest, comaundide þe sacrifices, þat weren put vpon, for to be spreyn wiþ þis water, and þe trees, and þo þat weren putte aboue.

xii And as þis was don, and þe tyme came to, in whiche þe sunne shoon aȝein, þat byfore was in cloude, a grete fijr is kyndlid, so þat alle men wondriden.

xiii Forsoþe alle þe prestis maden preyer, whijl þe sacrifice was eendid; Jonathas bygynnynge, oþer forsoþe answerynge.

xiv And þe preyer of Neemye was hauyng þis manere. Lord God, of alle þingis maker of nouȝt, dreedful and stronge, iuft and mercyful, whiche aloon art a good kyng.

xxv aloon ȝeuynge, aloone iuft, and almiȝti, and wiþ out bigynnyng and eend, whiche delyuerist Yrael fro al yuel, whiche madist chosen faders, and halewidist hem;

xxvi take þou sacrifice for al þy peple Yrael, and keepe þi part, and halewe.

xxvii Gadre oure scateryng, delyuere hem þat seruen to heiþen men, and biholde þou dispisid men, and maad abomynable, þat heiþen men wite, þat þou art oure God.

xxviii Tourment þou men oppresfyng vs, and doyng dispite in pride.

xxix Ordeyn þi peple in þin holy place, as Moyfes saide.

xxx Forsoþe prestis fungen ympnys, tyl þe sacrifice was eendid.

xxxi Forsoþe whan þe sacrifice was eendid, Neemye comaundide þe more stoons for to be shed on of þe residue water;

xxxii whiche þing as was don, flawme is kyndlid of hem, bot it is waastid of þe liȝt, þat aȝein shynyde of þe auter.

xxxiv Forsoþe as þe þing is knownen, it is tolde to þe kyng of Peris, þat in þe place in whiche þo prestis þat weren translatid, hadden hidde fijr, water apperide, of whiche Neemye and þei þat weren wiþ hym, clensiden sacrifices.

xxxv Forsoþe þe kyng byholdynge and diligently examyninge þe þing, made a temple to hym, for to proue þat þing þat was don.

xxxv And whanne he hadde proued, he ȝauue many goodis to prestis, and oþer wiþ outen noumbe; and takynge wiþ his hond, he ȝauue to hem.

xxxvi Forsoþe Neemye clepide þis place Nepthar, þat is interpretid clensyng; forsoþe anentis many it is clepid Nephi.

Capitulum II.

i Forsoþe it is founden in dyscryuyngis, or wrytyngis, of Jeremeie, þe prophete, þat he comaundide hem þat paſſiden ouer, for to take fijr, as it is signyfied, and as he bade to men paſſynge ouer, or caitif.

ii And he ȝauue to hem þe lawe, leſt þei forȝaten þe heeftis of þe Lord; and þat þei shulden not erre in soulis, or vndirstondingis, seeynge golden and sylueren symulacris, and ournementis of hem.

iii And he sayinge oþer ſiche þingus monestide, þat þei shulden not remoue þe lawe fro her herte.

iv Soþely it was in þat wrytyng, hou þe prophete badde þe tabernacle, and þe hucche, or ark, for to folowe wiþ hem, Goddis anſwer maad to hym, til he wente out in to þe hill in whiche Moyfes ascendide, and seeȝ þe eritage of God.

v And Jeremeie cummynge foonde þere a place of a den, and brouȝte yn þidir þe tabernacle, and þe hucche, and þe auter of encense, and stoppide þe dore.

vi And fume men camen to gidre þat folewiden, for to marke þe place to hem, and þei miȝten not fynde.

vii Forsoþe as Jeremeie knewe, he blamynge hem saide, þat þe place shal be vnknowen, til God gadre þe congregacioun togidre of peple, and be maad mercyful.

viii And þanne þe Lord shal shewe þese þingus, and maieste of þe Lord shal appere; and a cloude shal be, as and to Moyfes was ſchewid, and as whan Salomon axide, þat þe place shulde be halewid to grete God.

ix Forsoþ greetli he tretid wyfdom, and as hauyng wyfdom he offride sacrifice of halewyng, and of parfourmyng of þe temple.

x As and Moyfes preyde to þe Lord, and fijr came doun fro heuen, and waſtide þe brent sacrifice; as and Salomon preyde, and fijr came doun fro heuen, and waſtide þe brent sacrifices.

xi And Moyfes saide, For þat it is not clenſid, þat was for synne, and it is waastid.

xii Also and Salomon in eiȝte days wirſhipide þe halewyng.

xiii Forsoþe and þese fame þingis weren born in diſcripcions, and þe almeries of Neemye; and he makynge a litil bible, gadride of cuntrees bokis, and of prophetis, and of Dauid, and epiftlis of kyngus, and of ȝiftis.

xiv Alſo ſoþely and Judas gadride alle þo þingus whiche he lernyde by bateil, þat bifelle to vs, and þei ben anentus vs.

xv Perfore ȝif ȝe desiren þese, fende ȝe whiche shuln bere to ȝou.

xvi And so we to doyng purifyng, han write to ȝou; þerfore ȝe shuln do wel, ȝif ȝe shuln do þese days.

xvii Forsoþe God þat delyuerde his peple, and ȝeeldide his eritage to alle, and rewme, and preſthod, and halewyng, xviii as he byheiȝte in þe lawe, we hopen þat foone he shal haue mercy of vs, and shal gadre fro vnder heuen in to þe holy place; forsoþe he delyuerde vs fro grete perelis, and purgide þe place.

xix Soþely of Judas Machabeus, and his breþeren, and of purifying of þe grete temple, and of halewyng of þe auter;

xx bot and of þe bateilis, þat perteynen to noble Antioch, and to his sone Eupator;

xi and of liȝtnyngus þat ben maad of heuen, to hem þat strongly diden for Jewis, so þat whan þei weren fewe, þei vengeden al þe cuntree, and dryuen an heiþen multitude, xxii and rekyuerden þe moſt famous temple in al þe world; and þei delyuerden þe citee, þat and lawis þat weren don awey weren restorid; þe Lord maad helpful to hem, wiþ al peſibletee.

xxiii And so we temptiden, or assayeden, for to abregge ‘in to oo boke, þingus comprehendid of Jason of Cyrenen in fyue bookis.

xxiv Forsoþe we byholdynge þe multitude of bookis, and hardnesse, to men willynge for to affaile, or bygynne, þe tellyngis of stories, for multitude of þingus,

xxv Soþely we curiden, or hadden bysynesse, þat it were delectacioun, or lykyng, of ynwitt to men willynge for to reede; forsoþe þe studyouse, þat þei miȝten liȝtlyer bytake to mynde; forsoþe to alle men reedyng profit be ȝouen.

xxvi And soþely we token to ‘oure self þat rescyeueden þis werk, bi cause of abreggyng, not liȝt traueil, bot soþely a needfull of wakyngis and of swote.

xxvii As þese þat maken redy a feest, and seekyn for to plese to þe wille of oper men, for grace of many men, we fusteynen wilfully trauile;

xxviii forsoþe grauntynge þe trewþe of alle autours, bot we oure self studyinge to shortnesse, after þe fourme ȝouen.

xxix Forsoþe as it is for to cure, or bisie, to þe wriȝt of þe new hous, of al þe beeldyng; to hym soþely þat bisieþ for to peyne, þo þingus ben to be souȝt out, þat ben couenable to ȝurnyng; so it is to be geffid and in vs.

xxx Forsoþe for to gedir vndirstondyng, and ordeyne word, and ful bisili for to enquire alle partis of þe storie, eche bi hem self, acordiȝt to an auctour; xxxi forsoþe for to sue shortnesse of fayinge, and for to eschewe out fuyngus of þingus, is to be grauntid to þe bregger.

xxxii Fro hennus þerfore we shuln bygynne þe tellyng; be it ynewȝ for to haue said so myche of prefacioun, or byfore spekyng; forsoþe it is foly for to flete out, or be longe, before þe storie, bot in þat storie for to be maad short.

Capitulum III.

i Therfore whanne þe holy citee was enhabited in al pees, lawis also ȝit weren best kept, for ordynaunce and pite of Onye, prest, and for soulis hauynge in hate yuel
þingus,

ii it was maad, þat and þei kyngis and princis ledden þe place worþi heiest honour, and liȝteneden þe temple wiþ grettis ȝiftis;

iii so þat Seleucus, kyng of Afie, ȝaue of his rentis alle spenis perteynyng to þe seruice of sacrifices.

iv Forsoþe Symont, of þe lynage of Beniamyn, ordeynyd prepost of þe temple, þe prince of prestis aȝeinstondyng hym, strofe for to caste sum wickid þing in þe cytee.

v Bot whan he miȝte not ouercume Onye, he came to Appollonye, sone of Tharsie, þat in þat tyme was duyk of Celeffirie and Fenyce;

vi and tolde to hym þe tresorie in Jerusalem for to be ful wiþ moneys vnnoumbreadable; and commoun plentees, or richeſſis, for to be grete, whiche perteynen not to resoun of sacrifices; forsoþe for to be possiblē, alle þingus for to falle vndir power of þe kyng.

vii And whanne Appollonye hadde tolde to þe kyng of moneys þat weren born ynne, he sente Heleodore clepid, þat was on his needis, wiþ maundementus for to bere out þe forsaid money.

viii And anoon Heleodore takyng þe waye, soþely by fourme as he were to passyng by Celeffirie and Fenyce cytees, soþely in trewe þing, to parfournyng þe kyngus purpose.

ix Bot when he came to Jerusalem, and benyngly of þe heeȝist prest in þe cite was rescyeued, he tolde of dom ȝouen of moneys, and opnyde for grace, or caufe, of what þing he came; forsoþe he axide ‘ȝif verrely þese þingus weren so.

x Panne þe heeȝist prest shewide, þese þingus for to be kept to þe lyuelodis of widues, and faderleffe and moderleffe children;

xi sum soþely for to be of Hircam Tobye, man ful noble in þese þingus, þat vnpitous Symont hadde teelde; forsoþe alle þe talents of syluer for to be foure hundrid, and of gold two hundrid;

xii forsoþe for to be impossible on al manere, hem for to be disceyued, þat bileuyden, or bitoken, to þe place and temple, þat bi al þe world is honourid for his wirshipyng, and holynesse.

xiii And for þese þingus ‘þat he hadde in maundementis of þe kyng, he faide, in al kynde hem for to be born to þe kyng.

xiv Forsoþe in þe day ordeynyng Heleodore entride, to ordeynyng of þese þingis; forsoþe þere was not a lytil trembyng by al þe citee.

xv Forsoþe prestis castiden hem self byfore þe auter, wiþ prestis stolys, and ynclepiden fro heuen hym þat ȝaue lawe of þingus put in keepyng, þat he shulde keepe hem saaf to þese þat hadden putte hem in keepyng.

xvi Nowe forsoþe he þat seeȝ þe chier of þe heeȝist prest, was woundid in lowle; forsoþe þe face and colour inchaungid, declaride þe ynward forewe of soule, or ynwitt.

xvii Forsoþe sum forewfulnesse was shed about to þe man, and hydoufnesse of body, by whiche þe forewe of herte was maad knownen to men byholdynge.

xviii Also oper men by gadring to gidre camen out of houfis, byfechyng wiþ open byfechyng, for þat þat þe place was to cummyng in to dispit.

xix And wymmen gyrd þe brest wiþ heyris, flowiden togidre by streetis; bot and virgynes, þat weren clofid togidre, runnen fully to Onye; oper forsoþe to þe wallis, summe soþely byheelden by wyndowis.

xx Forsoþe alle holdynge forþ hondis in to heuen biſouȝten;

xxi soþely þere was a wretchid abyding of þe multitude meynt, and of þe heeȝist prest ordeyned in strij, or anguyſhe.

xxii And þese soþely inclepide almiȝti God, þat þingus taken in keepyng weren kept in al hoolneſſe, to þese þat hadden putte hem in keepynge.

xxiii Forſoþe Heleodore parfourmyde þat þing, þat he hadde demyde, xxiv he prefente wiþ his knyȝtis in þe same place aboue þe tresorie. Bot þe ſpirit of almiȝty God made grete euydence of his ſhewyng, ſo þat alle þat weren hardye for to obeye to hym, fallyng doun by þe vertu of God, weren `togidre turnyd in to vnbyndyne, or vnfrengþe, and inward dred.

xxv Forſoþe ſum hors apeeride to hem, hauyng a dreedful ſitter, ournyd wiþ best hillyngus; and he wiþ feerneſſe, or bire, ruſhide þe former feet to Heleodore; forſoþe he þat fate on hym, was ſeen for to haue golden armers.

xxvi Alſo oþer two ȝunge apperiden, faire in vertu, beſt in glorie, and fair in cloþinge, þat ſtoden aboue hym, and on eche ſijd ſcourgiden hym wiþ outhen ceefyng, wiþ many woundis betyngē.

xxvii Sodeynly forſoþe Heleodore felle in to erþe, and þei rauyſhiden hym ſhed about wiþ myche derkneſſe, and caſtiden hym out, put in a `ſadil of beere.

xxviii And þis þat wiþ many rynnars and kniȝtis entride in to be forſaide tresorie, was born, no man berynge help to hym, be opyn vertu of God knownen;

xxix and forſoþe by Goddis vertu he lay doumbe, and pryuued of al hope and helpe.

xxx Forſoþe þese bleſſiden be Lord, for he magnyfied his place; and þe temple, þat a lytil byfore was ful of dred and noyſe, þe Lord almiȝty appeeryngē, is fulfillid wiþ ioye and gladneſſe.

xxxi Panne forſoþe ſume of Heliodoris frendis preyeden anoon Onye, for to inclepe þe Heeȝist, and for to ȝeue lyf to hym, for he was ſette in þe laſt ſpirit.

xxxii Soþely þe heeȝist prest biholdinge, leſt par auenture þe kyng ſuppoſide eny malice of Jewis fully done aȝein Helyodore, he offride for helpe of þe man an helþful ſacrifice.

xxxiii And whan þe heeȝift prest preyede, þe ſame ȝunglyngus, cloþid in þe ſame cloþis, ſtondyne niȝ to Helyodore, ſaiden, Do þou þankynys to Onye, þe prest; for whi for hym þe Lord haþ ȝouen lyf to þee; xxxiv þou soþely, ſcourgid of God, telle to alle men þe greeete doyngus of God, and power. And þese þingis faid, þei apperiden not.

xxxv Helyodore ſoþely, a ſacrifice offrid to God, and grete auowis bihiȝte to hym, þat grauntide to hym for to lyue, and doyngे þankyngis to Onye, his ooſt reſcyeued, wente aȝein to be king.

xxxvi Soþely he witneſſide to alle men þe werkis of grete God, whiche he ſeeȝ vnder his eeȝen.

xxxvii Forſoþe whan þe kyng axide Helyodore, who was able ȝit oonys for to be ſente to Jerufalem, he ſaiþ, xxxviii ȝif þou haſt eny enmye, or aspier, or traitour, of þi rewme, fende þider, and þou ſhalt reſcyeue hym betun, ȝif neþeles he ſchal ſcape; for þat in þe place is verrely ſum vertu of God.

xxxix For whi he þat in heuens haþ dwellyng, is viſiter and helper of þat place; and he ſmyteþ and leefiþ men cummyngē to myſdo.

xı Perfore of Heliodore, and kepyng of þe tresorie, þus þe þyng haþ hym.

Capitulum IIII.

i Symont forſoþe byfore ſaide, acculer of moneys, and of þe cuntrie, ſpake yuel of Onye, as he hadde firide Helyodore to þese þingis, and he hadde be firer of yuels;

ii and he durft ſaye þe purueyoure of þe citem, and defender of his folc, and louer of þe lawe of God, enmye, or traitour, of þe rewme.

iii Bot whan enmytees in ſo myche camen forþ, þat by ſumme neceſſaries, or niȝ frendis, of Symont man fleayngus weren don, iv Onye, byholdinge þe perel of strij, and Appolonye for to be wood, as duyk of Celeſcerie and Fenyce, for to encresce þe malice of Symont, v ȝauē hym ſelf to be kyng; not as aculer of citemeins, bot biholdinge anentis hym ſelf þe comoun profit of al þe multitude.

vi Forſoþe he ſeeȝ, for to be inpoſſible pees for to be ȝouen to þingus wiþout þe kyngus puruyaunce, neþer Symont mowe ceſe of his foly.

vii Bot after þe paſſing of Seleucus lijf, whan Antiochus, þat was cleepid noble, hadde taken rewme, Jafon, broþer of Onye, coueytide þe heeȝift preſthod, viii þe kyng gon to, byhetynge hym þree hundred talents and ſixty of ſyluer, and of oþer rentis fourē ſcore;

ix Upon þese þingus he bihiȝte and oþer an hundrid and fyfty, ȝif it were grauntid to his power, for to ordeyne a ſcole, and a gadryng of ȝunge men to hym; and for to wryte hem þat weren in Jerufalem Antiochenys, or men of Antioche.

x Whiche þing whan þe kyng had grauntide, and he weelidide þe princehod, anoon he bygan for to tranſferre to heiþen cuſtum men of his lynage.

xi And þese þingus don awey, whiche bi caufe of humanytee, or curtaſie, to Jewis weren ordeyned of kyngus by Joon, fader of Eupolemy, whiche anentus Romayns is ordeyned in laweful meſſage of frendſhip and felawſhip, he, diſtruyinge riȝtis, or lawis, of þe cyteſeyns, made ſhrewid ordinauncis;

xii and ſoþely he was hardy for to ordeyne a ſcole vnder þat heeȝ rocke, and for to putte al þe beſte of ȝunge in bordel hous.

xiii Forsoþe þis was not bygynnyng, bot sum encrefysyng and profit of heiþen and alien lijf, for þe vnleeful and vnherd grete trespasses of vnytous, and not prest Jason; xiv so þat prestis not nowe weren ȝouen aboue offices of þe auter, bot þe temple dispisid, and sacrifices left, þei hastiden for to be maad felawis of wrastlyng, and of vniust ȝeuynge þeroft, and of oost, or cumpayne, of dishe, or pleyinge wiþ ledun dishe.

xv And þei hauynge honours of fadris at nouȝt, demyden Greek glories best.

xvi For grace of whiche perilous contencioun hadde hem, and her ordinauncis þei folediden, or louyden; and by alle þingus þei coueitiden for to be lijk to hem, whom þei hadden enmyes and distrayres.

xvii Forsoþe for to do vnpitously aȝein Goddis lawis fallip not wiþ outen peyn, bot and þe tyme suyng declaride þese þingus.

xviii Soþely whan fyue ȝeer stryf, or fiȝt, was wirshipid in Tyre, and þe kyng was present, xix Jason ful of grete trespassis fente fro Jerusalem men snynders, berynge þree hundred dragmes of syluer in to sacrifice of Ercules; whiche þese men þat baren out axiden, þat þei weren not ȝouen in sacrifices, for it needide not, bot in to oþer spensis hem for to be ordeynyd.

xx Bot þese soþely ben offrid of hym þat sente in to sacrifice of Ercules; soþely for men present þei ben ȝouen in to makyng of grete shippis.

xxi Forsoþe Appollonye, sone of Nesteye, fente in to Egyp for primatis of Tholome Philometoris, kyng; forsoþe whanne Antiochus knewe hym maad alien fro needis of þe rewme, he conseilide hym for to go forþ of aſile, anoon flewȝ hym, not dredyngre riȝtwisnesse.

xxii And he, resceiued of Jason and of þe citee wirshipfully, wiþ liȝtis of broondis, and preyfylngus, wente yn, and fro þennus turnyd þe oost in to cooſt of Fenyce.

xxiii And after þe tyme of þree ȝeer Jason fente Menelaus, brother of Symont aboue said, berynge moneys to þe kyng, and of necessarie cauſis to beryng anweris.

xxiv And he comedid to þe kyng, whan he magnyfiede þe face of his power, turnyde in to hym self þe heeȝist preſthode, aboue puttyng to Jason þree hundred talentes of syluer.

xxv And maundementis taken of þe kyng, he came, soþely hauynge no þing worþi to preſthod; soþely inwitt of cruel tyraunt, and beryng wrap of wiȝd beſt.

xxvi And soþely Jason, þat toke his own brother caitif, he disceyued is putt out outlawid in to þe cuntree of Amanythen.

xxvii Bot Menelaus forsoþe weeldide þe princehod, bot of moneys bihiȝt to þe kyng he hadde no þing, whan Sofratus, þat was prepoost to þe heeȝ rocke, made exactioun, or vniust axing, xxviii for whi exactioun of tributis perteyned to hym; for whiche cause boþe ben clepid to be kyng.

xxix And Menelaus remoued fro preſthod, succedyng, or next cummynge after, Lyfymacus, his brother; soþely Sofratus is maad souereyn to men of Sypre.

xxx And whan þese þingus weren don, it byfelle Tharsensis and Mallotis for to moue debate, for þat þei weren ȝouen in ȝift to be concubyne of kyng Antiochus.

xxxi And so þe kyng haſtily came, for to swage hem, left oon of his erlis suffectus Andronyk.

xxxii Forsoþe Menelaus demyngre hym for to haue taken couenable tyme, stelinge fume golden vessels of þe temple, ȝaue to Andronyk, and oþer he folde to Tyre, and by niȝ citees.

xxxiii Whiche þing whan Onye hadde knownen most certeynly, he repreude hym, he holdynge hym ſelf in a fyker place at Antioche, bifidis Daphnen.

xxxiv Wherof Menelaus goyng to Andronyk, preyede þat he flewȝ Onye. Whiche whan he came to Onye, and riȝt hondis ȝouen wiþ ooþ, þouȝ he was ſuþpet to hym, counſelide hym for to go forþ of aſile, anoon flewȝ hym, not dredyngre riȝtwisnesse.

xxxv For whiche cause not oonly Jewis, bot and oþer naciouns, weren wroþe, and baren heuyly of þe vniust deb of so grete a man.

xxxvi Bot Jewis at Antioche, and Greekis, togydre pleynynge of þe vniust deb of Onye, wenten to þe kyng, turnyd aȝein of þe places of Cilicia.

xxxvii And so þe kyng Antiochus fory in inwit for Onye, and he, bowid to mercy, ſhedde teeris, recordyngre þe ſobrenesse and myldneſſe of þe dead man.

xxxviii And þe ynwitt kyndlid, he comaundid Andronyk, vncloþid purpre, for to be led about by al þe citee, and, in þat place in whiche he hadde don vnpitee in to Onye, þe curſid man for to be priued of lijf, þe Lord ȝeuynge to hym euen worþ peyne.

xxxix Forsoþe many ſacrilegis don in þe temple of Lyfymacus, by counceil of Menelaus, and fame puliſhid, a multitude is gadrid aȝein Lyfymacus, myche gold now born out.

xl Forſoþe þe cumpanyes aȝein rylyng, and þe inwittus fulfillid wiþ wrap, Lyfymacus almeſt þree þouſand aarmyd wickid hondis bygan for to vſe, ſum tyraunt duyk, olde in age and alſo woodneſſe.

xi Bot as þei vndirstoden þe enforſyng of Lyfymacus, oþer tooken ſtoonyſ, oþer ſtrong ſtafs, ſum haſten for to kaſten aſkis in to Lyfymacus.

xii And many soþely woundid, ſum forſoþe caſt doun, alle forſoþe ben to gidre turnyd in to fliȝt; alſo þei flewen hym ſacrileger, or þeef of holy þingis, byſidis þe treſorie.

xiii Perfore of þese þingis dom bygan for to be moued aȝein Menelaus.

xiv And whan þe kyng came to Tyre, þree men, ſente of þe eldre men, brouȝten þe cauſe to hym.

xlv And whanne Menelaus was ouercummen, he bihiȝte for to ȝeue many moneys to Tholome, for to counseile þe kyng.

xvi And so Tholome wente to þe kyng, sett in sum porche, as for grace of refreytyng, or colyng, and ledd awey fro sentence.

xvii And he asfoilide Menelaus, gylty trewly of crymes, of al þe malice. Forsoþe he dampnyde by deeþ þese wrecches, whiche shulden be demyd innocentis, ȝea, ȝif þei hadden ledde cause anentis Sithis.

xviii Perfore soone þei ȝauen vniust peyn to hem, þat purfueden cause for þe citee, and for þe peple, and holy vessels.

xix Wherfore and men of Tyre wroope, weren most liberal aȝeinis þe birying of hem.

i Forsoþe for coueitise of hem þat weren in power, Menelaus dwelte in power, wexinge in malice, and to disceytis of citeseyns.

Capitulum V.

i In þe same tyme Antiochus made redy þe secounde goynge in to Egipt.

ii Forsoþe it byfelle, by eche citee of men of Jerusalem, for to be seen fourty days horsmen rennyng aboue by þe eyre, hauynge golden stoolis, and shaftis, as cumpanyes of kniȝtis armed;

iii and courfis of horfis wijfly set bi ordris, and assailyngis, or fȝȝtyngus to gidre, for to be maad niȝ, and mouyng of sheeldis, and multitude of helmyd men, wiþ streyned swerdis, and castyng of dartys, and fyning of golden armers, and of al kynde of hauberious.

iv Wherfore alle men preyeden, þe monstris, or wondres, tokne of þingus to cummyng, for to be togidre turned in to good.

v Bot when fals 'rumour, or tibing, wente out, as Antiochus hadde gon out of lijf, Jafon sodeynly asfailide þe citee, a houſand men taken to, not leſſe; and þe citeseyns togidre fleeȝinge to þe wall, at þe laſt þe citee taken, Menelaus fleiȝ in to þe heeȝ rocke.

vi Forsoþe Jafon sparide not in fleaynge to his citeseyns, neþer he pouȝte prosperite aȝens cosyns; demyng most yuel, for to be hym to takynge victories of enmyes, and not of citeseyns.

vii And soþely he weldide not princehod, bot toke confusioun eend of his aspies, or diffeitis; and he, fleeȝinge eft, wente in to Ammanithen.

viii At þe last vndoynge of hym, cloſid togidre of Areta, tyraunt of Arabum, fleeȝinge fro citee in to citee, odious to alle men, as apostata, or forsaker of lawis, and abominable, as enmye of þe cuntree and citeseyns, is cast out in to Egipt.

ix And he þat hadde putt out many of her cuntree, perishide in pilgrimage, goynge to Lacedomonas, as for cosynage to hauynge þere refuyt.

x And he þat castide awey many vnbiried, he and vnweilid and vnbiried is cast out of byryng, neþer vſyng straunge sepulcre, neþir takynge part of fadrис sepulcre.

xi And so þese þingus don, þe kyng supposide Jewis to forsakynge felawship; and for þis he gon out of Egipt wiþ wood inwittis, toke þe citee soþely wiþ armes.

xii Forsoþe he comaundide to þe kniȝtis, for to flea, neþer to spare to men rennyng aȝeinis, and by houſis styinge vp for to strangle.

xiii Before þer weren maad fleayngis of ȝunge and eldre, of wymmen and children distruyngis, and deþis of meydens and litil children.

xiv Forsoþe in alle þree days foure score þousand weren flayn, and fourty þousand bounden, forsoþe not leſſe feeld; bot neþer þese þingus suffisen.

xv Alſo he was hardy for to entre in to þe temple holier þan al þe lond, Menelaus þe leeder, þat was traitour of lawis and cuntree.

xvi And he touchide vnworþili, and defoulide, takynge in cursid hondis þe holy vessels, þat weren putt of oþer kyngis and citees, to ournyng and glorie of þe place.

xvii Antiochus so aliened fro mind, or vndirstondyng, biheelde not, þat, for synnys of men enhabitynge, þe Lord was wroþ a litil to þe citee; for whiche þing and dispisfyng bifelle aboue þe place.

xviii Ellis ȝif it hadde not bifallen hem for to be wlappid in many synnys, as Heleodore, þat was sent fro kyng Seleucus for to robbe þe tresorie, alſo þis anoon cummyng to shulde be beten, and forsoþe put abac of hardineſſe.

xix Bot þe Lord cheſe not for þe place þe folc, bot for þe folc þe place.

xx And þerfor and þat place is maad parcerer of yuels of þe peple; afterward forsoþe it shal be maad felawe and of goodis, and it, þat is forsaken in wraþ of almiȝty God, eftſoone in grete recounſeilyng of þe Lord shal be enhaunſid wiþ grete glorie.

xi Perfore Antiochus, taken awey a þousand and eiȝte hundrid talentis of þe temple, swiftly turnyde aȝein to Antioche, demyng hym for pridy 'to leedyng' þe lond to fayle, þe le forsoþe for to make iourney, for pride of þouȝt of soule.

xii Forsoþe he left prepoſtis, to tourment þe folc, in Jerusalem soþely Philip, of þe kyn of Friges, in maners crueler þan hym self, of whom he is ordeynyd;

xiii forsoþe in Garysym, Andronyk and Menelaus, whiche more greuoufly þan oþer layen to citeseyns.

xiv And whanne he was fette aȝeinis Jewis, he fente an odious prince, Appollonye, wiþ an oost two and twenti þousandis, comaundynge to hym for to flea alle of perfit age, wymmen and ȝunglyngis for to felle.

xv Whiche whan he came to Jerusalem, feynyng pees, restide 'vn to þe holy day of Saboth. And panne, þe Jewis holdynge holy day, he comaundynge his for to take armers, xxvi and he stranglide togidre alle þat camen forþ to þe spectacle, or biholdyng; and he rennyng aboute þe citee wiþ armyd men, flewȝ a grete multitude.

xxvii Forsoþe Judas Machabeus, þat was þe tenþe, wente in to desert place, and þere he ledde liȝt wiþ his, among wijld beeftis in hillis; and þei dwelten etinge mete of hay, lest þei weren parceners of defoulyng.

Capitulum VI.

i Bot not after myche tyme þe kyng sente sum olde Antiochene, whiche shulde confreyne Jewis, þat þei shulde transferre hem fro þe lawis of faders and of God;

ii also he shulde defoule þe temple, þat was in Jerufalem, and shulde clepe it of Jouis Olympij, and in Garyfym, as þei weren, þat enhabitiden þe place, of Jouis hospitale.

iii Forsoþe þe aȝein rennyng of yuels was warst and greuous to alle;

iv for whi þe temple was ful of lecherie and glotonye, and of men doyng lechery wiþ horis, and wymmen baren yn hem self to halewid housis, at her own will, berynge wiþ ynne þo þingis whiche it was not leefull.

v Also þe auter was ful of vnleeful þingus, whiche weren forbeden bi lawis.

vi Soþely neþer sabothis weren kept, neþer solemne days of faders, or cuntree, weren kept, neþer symþy, or pleynly, eny man knowlachide hym a Jew.

vii Forsoþe þei weren ledde wiþ bitter neede in day of þe kyngus birþe to sacrifices. And whanne holy þingus of a free chijld weren halewid, or wirshipid, þei, crownyd wiþ edera, weren confreyed for to go about wiþ þe free chijld.

viii Soþely þe dome wente out in to þe next citees of heiþen men, Tholomeys procurynge, þat liche manere þei shulden do aȝeinus Jewis, for to sacrifice;

ix Soþely þat þei shulden flea hem, þat wolden not passe to þe ordenauncis of heiþen men. Perfore it was wretchidnesse for to see þese þingus.

x Forsoþe two wymmen weren accusid, for to haue circumcidid her children; whom whan þei hadden ledde about opynly by þe citee, þe infauntis hangid at brestis, þei castiden hem doun by þe wallis.

xi Forsoþe oþer goynge to gidir to þe next dennis, and priuely wirshypnge þe day of saboth, whan þei weren shewid to Philip, þei weren brente in flawmes, for þi þat þei dredden, or shamyden, for religiou and obseruaunce, for to bere help to hem self wiþ hond.

xii Forsoþe Y biseche hem, þat ben to redyng þis boke, þat þei dreden not, 'or haue not hydous, for contrarie casis; bot rette þei þo þingus þat bifellen not to perishing, bot for to be to amendyng of oure kynde.

xiii Forsoþe for to not suffre by myche tyme synners for to do of sentence, or dome, bot anoon for to ȝeue veniaunces, is shewyng of grete benyfice.

xiv Soþely, not as in oþer naciouns, þe Lord abidiþ paciently, þat whan þe day of dome shal cume, he punyfhe hem in plente of synnys, so and in vs he ordeyneþ, xv þat oure synnys turned aboute in to þe eende, so at þe last he venge in vs.

xvi For whiche þing soþely he neuer remoueþ his mercy fro vs; forsoþe he chaftisynge his peple, in aduersitees forsaakilþ not.

xvii Bot þese ben said to ȝou in fewe to monestynge of men redyng; now forsoþe it is to come to þe tellynge.

xviii Perfore Eleafarus, oon of þe former of scribis, or men of lawe, a man woxen in age, and fair in cheer, ȝanyng wiþ open mouȝt, was compellid for to ete swynys flesh.

xix And he biclippynge, or desijryng, more gloriouse deþ, þan hateful liȝt, wilfully wente byfore to torment.

xx Forsoþe he byholdynge hou it bihoft for to go to, paciently susteynyng, ordeynyde for to not do vnleeful þingus for loue of liȝt.

xxi Soþely þese þat stoden niȝ, moued to gydre by wickid mercy, for olde frenship of þe man, takynge hym preuyly, preyden for to be brouȝt to fleshis, whiche it was leeful hym for to ete, þat it were feyned for to haue eten, as þe kyng comaundide, of þe fleshe of sacrifice;

xxii þat þis þing feyned, he were delyuered fro deþ; and for olde frenship of þe man, þei diden þis humanite, or curtafie, in hym.

xxiii And he bigan for to þenke þe worþi excellencye of age, and his eelde, and þe free born hoorenesse, or nobley, and fro childhode of beste lyuynge; and after þe ordinauncis of holy lawe, and maad of God, he answarde soon, saiynge, hym for to wille to be sent bifore in to helle.

xxiv Soþely he saiþ, It is not worþi to oure age for to feyne, þat many ȝunge men, demyng Eleazarus of fourescore zeer and ten, for to haue pasid to lyif of aliens, xxv and þei be disceyued for my feynyng, and for litil tyme of corruptible liȝt, and by þis Y gete spott and execracioun, or cursidnesse, to myn eelde.

xxvi For whi and ȝif in þis tyme Y be delyuered fro tourmentis of men, bot neþer quyck neþer dead Y shal ascape þe hond of Almiȝti.

xxvii Wherfore in passyng þe liȝt strongly, soþely Y shal appere worþi of age;

xxviii forsoþe Y shal leue stronge ensaumple to ȝunge men, ȝif Y be perfity sett in onest deþ wiþ redy inwitt, and strongly for þe worþiest and holiest lawis. Þese þingis said, anoon he was drawen to torment.

xxix Forsoþe þese þat ledden him, and a litil byfore weren mylder, ben turned in to wraþ, for þese wordis said of hym, whom þei demyden brouȝt forþ by pride of herte.

xxx Bot whan he shulde be flayn wiþ woundis, he inwardly forewide, and saide, Lord, þat hast holy kunnynge, opynly þou wost, for whan Y myȝt be delyuerd fro deþ, Y fusteyn hard forewis of body; forsoþe after soule wilfully Y suffre þese þingus, for þi dred.

xxxi And soþely þis man in þis maner departide fro lijf; not oonly leeuyng þe mynde of his deþ to ȝunge men, bot and to alle þe folc, to enfaumple of vertu and strengþe.

Capitulum VII.

i Forsoþe it bifelle, seuen breþeren taken to gidre wiþ þe modir, for to be constreyned of þe kyng for to touche aȝeinus leeue `fwynys flesche; hem tourmentid wiþ scourgyngis, and torment maad of bole leþer.

ii Forsoþe oon of hem, þat was þe first, saþ þus, What seekist þou? and what wolt þou lerne of vs? we ben redy for to dye, more þan to breke þe fadre lawis, or cuntrie lawis, of God.

iii And so þe kyng wroþe comaundide pannes of brasfe, and brasen pottis for to be tendid.

iv Whiche anoon tendid, he comaundide þe tunge for to be kitt off to hym þat former spack, and skyn of þe hed `to be drawen awey, and þe heeȝift hondis and feet of hym for to be kitt byfore, þe oþer breþeren of hym and þe moder biholdynge.

v And whan he was maad nowe vnonprofitable bi alle þingis, he comaundide fijr for to be moued to hym, and ȝit vndirbreþinge to be brent, or turned, in þe brasen panne; in whiche whan he was longe tormentid, þe oþir breþeren togidre wiþ þe modir, monestiden, or counfortiden, hem to gidre for to dye strongly, sayinge, vi Þe Lord God shal biholde trewþe, and he shal counforde, or ȝeue solace, in vs, as Moyses declaride in byfore witnesyng of songe, and in his seruauntis he shal counforde.

vii And so hym þe first dead on þis maner, þei ledden forþ þe suyng to be scornyd; and, þe skyn of his hed drawen off, þei axiden, ȝif he shulde eet, byfore þat he were punyshid in al þe body, by alle membris by hem self.

viii And he answerynge in cuntrie voice, saide, Y shal not. For whiche þing, and þis in suyng place of þe first, resceyuede tourmentis.

ix And he ordeynyd in þe last spirit, saþ þus, Soþely þou most wickid, or cursid, leefist vs in þis lijf, bot þe kyng of þe world shal reyse, in aȝein ryfysyng of euerlaftyng lijf, vs dead for his lawis.

x After þis þe brid was scorned; and he axid, anoon broȝt forþ þe tunge, and stedfastly helde forþ þe hondis, xi and wiþ trist saiþ, Of heuen Y weelde þese þingus, bot for þe lawis of God nowe Y dispise þese same; for Y hope me to resceyuyng hem of hym.

xii So þat þe kyng, and þo þat weren wiþ hym, wondriden þe inwitt of þe ȝunge man, þat he ledde þe tourmentis as nouȝt.

xiii And þis þus dead, þei traueiliden þe fourþe, also tourmentyng.

xiv And whan he was nowe at deþ, he saþ þus, Raper it is, men ȝouen to deþ of men, for to abijd hoope of God, beinge to be reysid aȝein eft of hym; forsoþe aȝein rijsyng to lijf shal not be to þee.

xv And whan þei hadden stirid to be fifþe, þei traueiliden hym.

xvi And he biholdynge in to hym, saide, þou hauynge power amoneg men, whan þou art corruptible, doþ what þou wolt; forsoþe nyl þou gesse, oure kynn for to be forsaken of God.

xvii Soþely fusteyne þou patiently, and þou shalt see þe grete power of hym, hou he shal tourmente þee, and þi feed.

xviii After þis þei ledden to and þe sixt; and þis bygynnynge for to dye, saþ þus, Nyl þou erre ydely; forsoþe we suffren þese þingus for oure self, synnyng in to oure God, and þingus worpi of wondryng ben maad in vs;

xix forsoþe deme þou not, to beyng wiþ outen peyn to þee, þat þou haft temptid for to fiȝte aȝeinus God.

xx Forsoþe þe moder wonderful aboue maner, and worpi þe mynde of good men, whiche biholdynge seuen sonys perilhyng vnder tyme of oo day, suffride in good inwitt, for hoope þat she hadde in to God;

xxi she monestide eche of hem by voice of cuntrie, strongly fulfillid wiþ wijfdam, and ynsettinge mans ynwitt to wommans þouȝt, saide to hem, xxii Sonys, Y wote not how ȝe apperiden in my wombe; forsoþe neþer Y haue ȝouen to ȝou spirit, and soule, and lijf, and Y my self ioynyd not to gidre þe membris of eche;

xxiii bot soþely þe maker of nouȝt of þe world, þat fourmyde þe birþe of man, and foonde bygynnynge of alle, shal ȝeelde eft to ȝou spirit, and lijf, wiþ mercye, as now ȝe dispisen your self for þe lawis of hym.

xxiv Forsoþe Antiochus demyng hym for to be dispisid, and also dispisid by voice of þe repreuyng, whan ȝit þe ȝunger was alyue, not oonly he monestide by woordis, bot and wiþ ooþ he affermyde, to makyng hym rijche and blesſid, and to hauynge freend, translatid fro cuntrie lawis, and to ȝeuynge needful þingus.

xxv Bot whan þe ȝunge man was not bowid to þese þingis, þe kyng clepide þe modir, and softly counseilide her, þat she shulde be maad to þe ȝunge man in to helþe.

xxvi Forsoþe whan he monestide hir by many wordis, she bihiȝte hir to counseilinge hir sone.

xxvii And so shē bowyde doun to hym, scornynge þe cruel tyraunt, saip in cuntrue voice, Sone, haue mercy on me, þat bare þee in wombe nyne moneþis, and ȝau mylk by þree ȝeere, and nurishide, and in to his age fully brouȝte.

xxviii Y axe, chijld, þat þou biholde to heuen and erþe, and alle þingus þat ben in hem, and vndirstonde, for God made hem of nouȝt, and kynde of men.

xxix So it shal be maad, þat þou dreede not his tourmentour, bot þou maad worþi to þi breþeren, rescyeue deeþ, þat in þat mercy doyng Y rescyeue þee wiþ þi breþeren.

xxx Whan shē ȝit said þese þingus, þe ȝunge man saip, Whom fusteyne ȝe? Y obeye not to bidding of þe kyng, bot to precept of þe lawe, þat is ȝouen to vs by Moyse.

xxxi Forsoþe þou, þat art maad fynder of al malice in to Ebrues, shalt not scape þe hond of God.

xxxii We soþely suffren þese þingus for oure synnys;

xxxiii and ȝif oure Lord be a litol wroþe to vs for blamynge and chaftisynge, bot eft he shal be recounseid to his seruauntis.

xxxiv Forsoþe þou cursid, and of alle men most flagiciouse, or fullist of yuel doyngus, and stiryngus, nyl þou veynly be enhaunfid, by veyn fourmys enflawmed in to his seruauntis; xxxv soþely þou hast not scapid ȝit be dom of almiȝty God, and biholdynge alle þingus.

xxxvi For whi my breþeren now a litol forew suffriden, and ben maad vndir þe testament of euerlastyng lejf; þou soþely by dome of God shalt paye iuft paynes of pride.

xxxvii Soþely Y, and as my breþeren, bitake my soule and body for þe lawis of faders, or of cuntrue; ynclepynge God, more rijply for to be maad helpful to oure folc, and þee wiþ tourmentis and betyngus for to knowleche, for he is God aloone.

xxxviii For in me and in my breþeren þe wrþ of Almiȝty shal faile, whiche is iuſtly brouȝt yn vpon alle our kyn.

xxxix þan þe kyng kyndlid wiþ wrþ, was feers in to hym more cruelly aboue alle, berynge vnworþily hym self scornyd.

xli And he þis soþely cleene dyede, by alle þingus tristynge in þe Lord.

xlii Forsoþe at þe last þe modir is waastid, or dead, after þe sonys.

xliii Perfor of sacrifices, and ouer grete crueltees, is ynow laid.

Capitulum VIII.

i Forsoþe Judas Machabeus, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, entriden priuely in to castels; and þei, cleypyng to gidre cosyns, and frendis, and takynge to hem þat dwelten in Jurye, ledden out to sixe þousand men.

ii And þei inclepiden þe Lord, for to biholde in to þe peple, þat was defould of alle men; for to haue mercye of þe temple, þat was defould of vnpitouſ men;

iii and for to haue mercy of distruyinge of þe citee, þat was anoon to be maad pleyn to gidre; and for to heere þe voice of blood cryinge to him, iv and for to haue mynde of þe wickidist deþis of lytil children innocentis, and of blasfemyes ȝouen to his name; and for to haue indignacioun on þese þingus.

v And Machabeus, þe multitude gadrid, was maad vnsuffreable to heiþen men; forsoþe þe wrþ of þe Lord is conuertid in to mercye.

vi And he aboue cummyng to castels and cytees, vnewarnyd, brente hem; occupyinge couenable places, ȝau not fewe fleayngis of enmys.

vii Sopely in niȝtis he was most born to syche out rennyngis; and fame of his vertu was shed out euery wher.

viii Forsoþe Philip seeyng þe man bi litol and litol for to cume to profit, or encresē, and ful ofte þingus bifalle to hym eefili, or in prosperite, wrote to Tholome, duyk of Celeſcie and Fenyce, þat he shulde bere help to þe kyngis needis.

ix And he swiftly fente Nychanore of Patrode, frend of þe former, or worþier, ȝouen to hym not leſſe þan twenti þousandis of armyd folkis meynt to gidre, for to do awey al þe kynde; and ioyned to hym Gorgie, a kniȝtly man, and in þingus of bateil most expert.

x Forsoþe Nychanore ordeynede to þe kyng, þat he shulde fulfille þe tribute þat was to be ȝouen to Romayns, two þousand of talentis, of þe caitife of Jewis.

xi And anoon he fente to cytees of þe fe cooſt, clepyng togidre to euyn byinge of boonde men of Jewis; byhetynge hym to sellynge nynty boond men for oo talent, not byholdynge to veniaunce þat was to folewynge hym of þe Almiȝty.

xii Forsoþe wher Judas foonde, he shewide to þese Jewis þat weren wiþ hym, þe cummyng of Nychanore.

xiii Of whom sume inwardly dreedyng, and not byleeuyng to riȝtwisnesse of God, weren turnyd in to fliȝt;

xiv ober soþely, ȝif eny leften of hem, camen, and to gidre bisouȝten þe Lord, for to delyuere hem of wickid Nychanore, whiche hadde folde hem before þat he came niȝt;

xv and þouȝ not for hem, for þe testament þat was to þe fadris of hem, and for þe ynclepyng of his holy name and grete on hem.

xvi Forsoþe Machabeus, clepid to gidre seuen þousandis þat weren wiþ hym, preyide, þat þei shulden not be reconseilid, neþer shulden dred þe multitude of enmys wickidly cummyng aȝein hem, bot strongly shulden stryue, or fȝete;

xvii hauynge byfore þe eezen þe dispite þat was 'in brouȝt in þe holy place vniustly of hem, and also þe wronge of citee, had in scornynge; ȝit also þe ordynaunces of olde men distruyed to gidre.
 xviii For whi he saip, ȝei soþely tristen in armers to gidre and hardynesse; forsoþe we tristen in þe Lord almiȝty, þat may do awey wiþ oo lookyng, wille, or signe, and men cummyng aȝein vs, and al þe world.
 xix Forsoþe he moneftide hem and of helpis of God, þat ben don aȝein faders; and þat vndir Senacheryb an hundrid foure score and fyue þousand perþiden; xx and of þe batel þat was to hem aȝein Galathas, in Babyloyn; wher ȝif it come to þing, or trewþe, felowis Macedoyns doutynge, ȝei alle fix þousandis alone flewen an hundrid and twenty þousandis, for help ȝouen to hem fro heuen; and for þese þingus ȝei hadden ful many benyfices.
 xxi By þese wordis ȝei ben maad stedfast, and redy for to dye for þe lawis and cuntree.
 xxii Soþely he ordeynyd his breþeren duykis, or leeders, to eche ordre, Symont, and Josephus, and Jonathas, to eche a þoufand and fyue hundrid fugettis.
 xxiii Also to pis þing, þe holy boke red to hem Esdra, and a tokne ȝouen of Goddis help, in þe first sheltrun he duyk, ioynyde wiþ Nychanore.
 xxiv And þe Almiȝty maad help to hym, ȝei flewen ouer nyne þousande of men; forsoþe ȝei confreyeneden þe more part of Nychanoris oost, maad feble by woundis, for to flee.
 xxv Forsoþe þe moneys of hem þat camen to þe bying of hem taken vp, on eche syde ȝei purfueden hem; bot ȝei turnyden aȝein clofid to gidre bi an hourre; xxvi for whi it was before þe saboth, for whiche cause ȝei lastiden not purfuyng.
 xxvii Forsoþe ȝei gadringe þe armers of hem, and spuylis, diden saboth, blesſinge þe Lord, þat delyuerde hem in þis day, droppynge in to hem bygynnyng of mercye.
 xxviii Forsoþe after þe saboth ȝei departiden spuylis to be feble, and fadirlesse, and modirlesse, and widewis;
 and ȝei wiþ hern hadden þe residues.
 xxix ȝele þingus þus don, and commounly of alle men bischynge maad, ȝei axiden þe merciful Lord, for to be recounseilid in to be eend to his seruauntis.
 xxx And of þese þat weren wiþ Tymothe and Bachides, stryuyng aȝein hem, ȝei flewen ouer twenty þousandis, and ȝei wealdiden heeȝ strengþis; and ȝei departiden mo preyes, euen porcioun to feble, faderlesse, and moderlesse, and widues, bot and to eldre men makynge.
 xxxi And whan ȝei hadden gadrid þe armers of hem, diligently ȝei maden to gydre, or kepten, alle þingus in couenable places; forsoþe ȝei baren to Jerufalem þe residue spuylis.

xxxii And ȝei flewen Philarces, þat was wiþ Tymothe, a man ful of grete trespassis, þat had tourmentide Jewis in many þingus.
 xxxiii And whan feefis for victorie weren don in Jerusalem, ȝei brenten hem þat hadden brente holy ȝatis, þat is to say, Calestenes, whan he hadde floweren in to sume hous; worpi meed ȝoolden to hem for her vnpitousnesse.
 xxxiv Forsoþe wickidist Nychanore, þat brouȝte a þousand marchauntis to bying of Jewis, xxxv meekid, or maad lowe, bi help of þe Lord, of hem whiche he gessid noon; þe cloþe of glorie putte doun, by mydil erþe fleeinge aloone, cam to Antioche, hauynge heiȝift infelicitee, or most wretchednesse, of þe deeþ of his ooft.
 xxxvi And he þat bihiȝte hym for to restore tribute to Romayns, of þe caitifree of men of Jerusalem, prechide Jewis for to haue oo defender God, and for hym to be vnable for to be woundid, for ȝei sueden lawis maad of
 hym.

Capitulum IX.

i In þe same tyme Antiochus turnyde aȝein vnonestly fro Perse.
 ii Soþely he hadde entrid in to þat citee, þat is said Persibolis, and he temptide for to robbe þe templis, and oppresse þe citee; bot, þe multitude rennyng togidre to armers, he is turned in to fliȝt; and so it bifelle, þat Antiochus after þe fliȝt loodly turnyde aȝein.
 iii And whan he came abouete Ebathana, he knewe what þingus ben don aȝein Nychanore and Tymothe.
 iv Forsoþe he wroȝt demede in wrap, hym for to mow turne in to Jewis þe wronge of hem, þat dryuen him.
 And þerefore he bad þe chaar for to be led, wiþ out ceesyng doyng iourney; heuenly dom dryuynge, for þat he spac so proudly, hym to cummyng to Jerufalem, and to makyng it 'þe gadryng of sepulcre of Jewis.
 v Bot þe Lord God of Yrael, þat byholdis alle þingus, smote hym wiþ a wound incurable and inuisible; forsoþe as he eendid þis same word, an hard forewe of entraylis toke hym, and kittir tourmentis of ynward þingis.
 vi And soþely iuſtly ynowȝ, forsoþe he þat hadde tourmentid þe entrailis of oþer men, wiþ many and newe tourmentis, þouȝ he in no manere ceeffide of his malice.
 vii Forsoþe ouer þis he fulfillid wiþ pride, breþinge fijr in ynwitt in to Jewis, and he comaundynge þe neede for to be haſtid, it byfelle, hym goyng in ferſhesse for to falle of þe chaar, and þe membris for to be trauelid wiþ þe greuous hurtlyng to gidre of body.
 viii And he þat was seen to hym seelf for to comaunde also to þe wawis of þe see, ouer mans maner fulfillid wiþ pride, and for to weye in balauncis þe heiȝis of hillis, nowe meekid to erþe, was born in a beere, witnessyng in hym self þe opyn vertu of God; ix so þat wormes buyliden out of þe body of þe vnyteuous man, and þe quyck flefhis of hym wiþ forewis fleetiden out. Alſo wiþ sauour of hym, and stynkyng, þe ooft was greeued; x and he þat a lytil byfore demyde hym to touche þe steris of heuen, no man miȝte beere hym, for vnſuffryng of stynke.

xi Perfore here of he ledde doun of greuouse pride, bygan for to cum to knowyng of hym self, warnyd by Goddis plague, or vengeance, by alle momentis his forewis takyng enrefis.

xii And whan he miȝte not nowe suffre his stynke, þus he saþ, It is iust for to be fuget to God, and a deadly not for to feele euen þingus to God.

xiii Forsoþe þe cursid man preyede þe Lord þese þingis, of whom he was not to getynge mercy.

xiv And þe citee, to whom he haſtynge came, for to leede it doun to erþe, and for to make a sepulcre of þingus born togidre, nowe he defijrep for to ȝeilde free.

xv And þe Jewis, whom he said hym self to hauyng neþer ſoþely worpi of sepulture, bot to betakeinge to foulis and wijld beestis, for to be to-drawen, and to diſtruyng wiþ litil children, now he bihetip to makynge euen to Atynyens, or men of Atenys;

xvi also to ournyng wiþ best ȝiftis þe holy temple, whom he robbide before, and to multipliynge holy vefſels, and to ȝeeuyng of his rentis costis perteynyng to sacrifices;

xvii ouer þese þingis and hym to beyng a Jewe, and to walkyng by eche place of þe lond, and to prechynge þe power of God.

xviii Bot forewis not ceesynge, forsoþe þe iust dome of God had aboue come in to hym, he dispeyryng wrote to Jewis, in to maner of bifeechynge, epiftis, conteynyng þese þingis.

xix To þe best citemeyns, Jewis, moft helþe, and wele for to fare, and to be ryche, or in prosperite, þe kyng and prince Antiochus.

xx ȝif ȝe faren wele, and ȝoure sonyngs, of sentence alle þingus ben to ȝou, we don moft þankynghus.

xxi And Y in ſekenesse ordeyned, ſoþely myndeful of ȝou benygnly, turnyng aȝein fro places of Perfis, and cauȝte wiþ greuouse enſirmyte, led needful for to haue cure for comyn profit;

xxii not diſpeirynge my ſelf, bot hauyng myche hope of ſcapyng þe enſirmyte.

xxiii Forsoþe Y biholdynge þat and my fadir, in what tymes he ledde ooft in heeȝer placis, ſhewide, who after hym ſhulde refceyue princehod;

xxiv þat ȝif eny contrarie þing bifelle, or hard þing were told, þeſe þat weren in cuntrees, witynge to whom þe ſumme, or charge, of alle þingus was left, ſhulden not be trublid.

xxv To þese þingus Y biholdynge of next, alle miȝty men and neiȝboris aspyng tynes, and abijdynge cummyng, haue ordeyned my ſone Antiochus kyng, whom Y, rennyng aȝein oft in to heeȝer rewmys, commendide, or toke in to keepyng, to many of ȝou, and Y wrote to hym what þingus ben fuget.

xxvi And fo Y preye ȝou, and axe, myndeful of benefices openly for to vſe and priuyl, þat eche of ȝou kepe feiþ to me, and to my ſone.

xxvii Forſoþe Y trift, hym to do myldly, and manly, or curteyfly, and fuyng my purpose for to be comoun to ȝou.

xxviii Perfore þe man queller and blaſfeme ſmyt warſt, and as he had tretide oþer, in pilgrimage in mounteyns, in wretchidful deþ is ſett fro liȝ.

xxix Forſoþe Philip, his euen fouker, transferride þe body; whiche, dredyng þe ſone of Antiochus, wente to Tholome Philometore, in to Egypt.

Capitulum X.

i Forſoþe Machabeus, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, þe Lord defendyng hem, refceyuyde ſoþely þe temple, and citee.

ii Forſoþe he diſtruyide þe auters, þat aliens maden bi streetis, and þe templis of waſhyng.

iii And þe temple purgid, þei maden an oþer auter, and of ſtoon fijrid, or flyntys, fijre conceyued, þei offriden ſacrifices aftir two ȝeer, and encenſe, and lanternys, and puttiden looues of proposicioun.

iv Whiche þingus don, þei, caſt doun in to erþe, preyeden þe Lord, leſt þei fallen more in to ſiche yuels, bot and ȝif eny tyme þei hadden synnyd, þat þei ſhulden be chaſtisid of hym more eyſili, and ſhulden not be taken to barbaris, or heiþen, and blaſfeme men.

v Forſoþe in what day þe temple was defoulid of aliens, it bifelle þe fame day clensyng for to be maad, in þe fyue and twentipe of þe moneþe, þat was Casleu.

vi And wiþ gladneſſe in eiȝe days þei diden in to maner of tabernaclis, biȝenkyng þat before a litil of tyme þei hadden don þe ſolempne day of tabernaclis in hillis and dennys, in custum of beestis.

vii For whiche þing þei bare before cerclis, and green braunchis, and palmes, to hym þat ȝae prosperitee for to clense his place.

viii And þei demyden wiþ commoun heeft, and wiþ dom, to alle þe folc of Jewis, in alle ȝeers for to do þeſe feest days.

ix And þe paſſyng, or eendyng, of liȝ of Antiochus, þat was clepid noble, had it þus.

x Now forſoþe we ſhulen telle of Eupator, þe ſone of vnpitouse Antiochus, what þingis ben don, breggyng þe euyls þat ben don in bateilis.

xi ȝis ſoþely, þe rewme refceyuyd, ordeynyde on needis of þe rewme ſumman Lifsias, prince of kniȝthod, of Fenyce and Sirie.

xii For whi Tholome, þat was said Macer, ordeynede for to beholdyng of iuft aȝeinus Jewis, and most for wickidnesse þat was don in to hem, and pesibly for to do wiþ hem.

xiii Bot for þis þing he, accusid of freendis anentis Eupator, whan oft þe traitour herde, for þat he hadde forsaken Cypre, bitaken to hym of Philometore, and translatide to Antiochus noble, also hadde gon awey fro hym, wiþ venom eendide þe liff.

xiv Forsoþe Gorgias, whan he was duyk of places, cumlingus taken to, oft ouercam Jewis in bateil.

xv Forsoþe Jewis þat helden couenable strengþis, resceyueden men dryuen fro Jerusalem, and temptiden for to fíȝte.

xvi Þese forsoþe þat weren wiþ Machabee, by preyers preyinge þe Lord, þat he were helper to hem, maden feernesse, or saut, in to strengþis of Ydumeys.

xvii And þei by myche strengþe aȝein stoondynge, weeldiden places, flewen men rennyng aȝein, and strangliden alle to gidre, not leſſe þan fyue and twenty þousandis.

xviii Forsoþe sume whan þei fledden to gidre in to two toures ful stronge, hauynge al apparel to aȝein fíȝte, xix Machabeus to ouer cummyng of hem Symont left, and Josephus, and eft Zachee, and hem þat weren wiþ hem, many ynowȝ, he is 'turned aȝein to þoo bateils þat constreyneden more.

xx Soþely þese þat weren wiþ Symont, led by coueitise, of summe þat weren in þe toures ben conseilid by money; and feuente þousand double dragmes taken, þei leſten summe to flee out.

xi Forsoþe whan þat þing þat was don, was tolde to Machabeus, þe princis of þe peple gadrid, he acufide, þat þei hadde foulde breþeren for money, þe aduersaries of hym dismyttid, or delyuered.

xxii Þerfore he flewȝ þese maad traitours, and anoon he occupide þe two toures.

xxiii Forsoþe in armers and hondis doyng alle þingis welsumly, he flewȝ in þe two strengþis more þan twenti þousandis.

xxiv And Tymothe, þat byfore was ouercummen of Jewis, an oof of istrange multitude gadrid togidre, and þe ridyng, or horfmen, of Asie gadrid, came to as wiþ armers, to takynge Judee.

xxv Forsoþe Machabeus, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, hym neiȝinge, bisouȝten God, springinge þe hed wiþ erþe, and byfore gird þe leendis wiþ heiris, xxvi þei fooldid doun at heeȝnesse of þe auter, þat he helpful to hem, forsoþe were enmye to þe enmyes of hem, and to þe aduersaries were aduersarie, as þe lawe saip.

xxvii And so after preyer, armers taken, þei goyng forþer fro þe citee, and, maad next to enmyes, laten aȝein.

xxviii Forsoþe in þe firſte ryfynge of þe funne, boþe ioyneden; þese soþely hauynge þe Lord biheeter of victorie and prosperitee; þei forsoþe hadden her owne inwitt, or wille, duyk of bateil.

xxix Bot whan grete fiȝt was, fyue faire men, in horfis wiþ golden bridels, appeeriden to þe aduersaries fro heuen, ȝeeuyng leedyng to Jewis;

xxx of whom two hauynge Machabeus in þe mydil, sett about wiþ her armers, kepten found. Forsoþe þei caſtiden dartis and leydis in to aduersaries; of whiche þing and þei confusid in blyndnesse, and fulfillid wiþ perturbacioun, fallen doun.

xxxi Forsoþe þere ben slayn of fote men twenty þousand and fyue hundrid, and horfmen fixe hundrid.

xxxii Soþely Tymothe fledde in to a stronge hold of Gasara, to whom Cereas was fouerayne, or keeper.

xxxiii Forsoþe Machabeus, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, gladyng, biseegiden þe hold foure days.

xxxiv And þei þat weren wiþ ynne, triftinge in fikernesse of þe place, aboue maner cursiden, and caſtiden cursid woordis.

xxxv Bot whan þe fifþe day Ihynyde, twenty ȝunge men of þese þat weren wiþ Machabeus, kyndlid in inwittis for þe blasfeme, manly wenten to þe wall, and wiþ feerfe inwitt goyng, þei stieden vp;

xxxvi bot and oþer also styinge vp, assailiden for to brenne þe toures and ȝatis, and to gidre brenne þe cursers quyck.

xxxvii Forsoþe by contynuel two days þei waastyng þe hold flewen Tymothe, hydynge hym self, founden in sume place; and þei flewen his broþer Sereas, and Appollofanes.

xxxviii Whiche þingis don, þei bleffiden þe Lord in ympnys and confessiouns, whiche dide gret þingus in Ifrael, and ȝaue to hem victorie.

Capitulum XI.

i Bot a litil tyme after, Lisiás, procuratour of þe kyng, and niȝ, and prepost of needis, beerynge greuously of þese þingis þat bifellen, ii gadrid foure score þousandis, and al rydynge, or horfmen, came aȝeinus Jewis, demyng hym self to makyng þe citee soþely taken a dwellyng to heiþen men, iii forsoþe to hauynge þe temple in to wynnyng of money, as oþer templis of heiþen men, and by eche ȝeiris prestehode vendible, or able to be soold;

iv not byþenkyng þe power of God, bot in mynde maad wiþ outen bridil, trif tide in multitude of fote men, and in þousandis of horfmen, and in foure score olyfauntis.

v Soþely he gon in to Judee, and cummyng niȝ to Bethsura, þat was in a streit place, fro Jerusalem in space of fyue furlongis, fauȝte aȝeinus þat strengþe.

vi Soþely as Machabeus, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, knewe strengþis for to be aȝeinus fauȝte, wiþ weeping and teeris preyeden þe Lord, and al þe cumpany to gidre, for to fende a good aungel to help of Yrael.

vii And he þe first Machabeus, armers taken, moneftide ober for to take togidre perel wiþ hym, and bere help to her breþeren. And whan þei wenten forþ togidre wiþ redy inwitt fro Jerufalem, viii an horsman apeeride goyng before hem in whijt clore, and golden armers, florishyng a shaft.
ix Panne alle to gidre bleſſiden þe merciful Lord, and woxen stronge in ynwittis, and redy for to perse not oonly men, bot and most feers beetis, and 'yrn wallis.
x Perfore þei wenten redy, hauynge of heuen an helper, and þe Lord hauynge mercy on hem.
xi Soþely by custume of lyouns, in feernesſe þei hurlynge in to enmyes, caſtiden doun of hem elleuen þousand of fotemen, and of horsmen a þousand and ſixe hundrid. Soþely þei turnyden alle in to fliȝt; xii forſoþe many of hem woundid, aſcapiden nakid, bot and he Lifiā foully fleeyng aſcapide.
xiii And for he was not witleſſe, he rettyng wiþ hym felf þe makyng leſſe don aȝeinuſ hym, and vndirſtoondynge þe Ebrues for to be vnuercumen, enforſinge, or triftynge, to help of almiȝty God, he ſente to hem,
xiv and bihiȝte hym to conſentynge to alle þingis þat ben iuft, and to compellynge þe kyng for to be maad freend.
xv Forſoþe Machabeus grauntide to þe preyers of Lifiā, in alle þingis counfeilyng to profit; and what euer þingis Machabeus wrote to Lifiā of Jewis, þe kyng grauntide hem.
xvi For whi epiftlis weren wryten to Jewis fro Lifiā, ſoþely conteynynge þis maner. Lifiā to þe peple of Jewis, helþe.
xvii Joon and Abefalon, þat ben ſente fro ȝou, bitakyng writtis, axiden, þat Y fulfulle þoo þingis þat weren ſignyfied by hem.
xviii Perfore what euer þingis miȝten be brouȝte forþ to þe kyng, Y expounyde, and whiche þe kyng ſufffride, Y grauntide.
xix Perfore ȝif in needis ȝe þuln kepe feiþ, alſo hennus forþ Y ſhal tempte for to be cauſe of good þingis to
ȝou.
xx Of oþer þingis ſoþely Y commaundide bi alle wordis, and to þeſe and to hem þat ben ſente of me, for to ſpeke to gidre wiþ ȝou. xxi Fare ȝe wel. In þe hundrid ȝeer and eiȝte and fourtiȝe, þe foure and twentiȝe day of þe moneþ Dyoscorus.
xxii Forſoþe þe piftle of þe kyng conteynyde þeſe þingis. Kyng Antiochus to Lifiā, broþer, helþe. xxiii Oure fadris translatiſ amonge goddis, we willyng hem þat ben in oure rewme for to do wiþ oure noyſe, and for to ȝeue diligence to her þingis, xxiv han herd Jewis not to haue affentid to þe fadre, for to be translatiſ to þe custume of Greekis, bot wille for to holde her ordynance, and þerfore for to axe of vs, her lawful þingis for to be grauntid to hem.

xxv Perfore we willyng and þis folc for to be quyet, ordeynyng han demyd, þe temple for to be restorid to hem, þat þei ſhulden do after þe custom of her gretter
men.
xxvi Perfore þou ſhalt do wel, ȝif þou ſhalt fende to hem, and ſhalt ȝeue þe riȝthond; þat, oure wille knownen, þei be in good inwitt, and ferue to her owne profittis.
xxvii Soþely to þe Jewis þe kyngis piftle was ſiche.
Kyng Antiochus to þe ſenate of Jewis, and to oþer Jewis, helþe.
xxviii ȝif ȝee faren welle, fo it as we wolen, bot and we ſelf faren wel.
xxix Menelaus came to vs, ſayinge, ȝou for to wilne for to go doun to ȝoure, þat ben anentis ȝou.
xxx To þeſe perfore þat dwellen to gidre, til þe þrittig day of þe moneþ Sandici we ȝeuen riȝthondis of fykynesse,
xxxi þat Jewis vſe metis, and her lawis, as and byfore;
and no man 'of hem eny more ſuffre diſeſe of þeſe þingis, þat ben don by ignoraunce. xxxii Soþely we ſenten and Menelaus, þat ſhal ſpeke to
ȝou.
xxxiii Fare ȝe wel. In þe hundrid ȝeer and eiȝte and fourtiȝe, þe fiftenȝe of þe moneþ Sandici, xxxiv alſo Romayns ſenten an epiftle, hauynge it þus.
Quintus Menius and Titus Manylius, legatis of Romayns, to þe peple of Jewis, helþe.
xxxv Of þeſe þingis þat Lifiā, cofyn of þe kyng, grauntide to ȝou, and we grauntiden.
xxxvi Forſoþe of whiche þingis he demyde to be tolde aȝein to þe kyng, anoon ſende ȝe ſume man, diligentlyer ſpekyng amonge ȝou, þat we deme as it acordiȝ to ȝou. Forſoþe we gon to Antiochie, xxxvii and perfore hafe ȝe for to aȝein write, þat and we wite of what wille ȝe ben. xxxviii Fare ȝe wel. In þe hundrid ȝeer and foure and fourtiȝe, þe fiftenȝe day of þe moneþ Sandici.

Capitulum XII.

i These couenauntis maad, Lifiā wenete to þe kyng; forſoþe Jewis ȝauen werk to erþe tiliyng.
ii Bot þeſe þat dwelten, or wern resident, Tymothe, and Appollonye, ſone of Genney, bot and Jerom, and Demophon proud, and Nychanore, Cipriarchis, or prince of Cipre, ſuffriden not hem for to do in silence and quyet.
iii Forſoþe men of Joppyn han don ſiche a felony; þei preyeden Jewis, wiþ whiche þei dwelten, for to ſtve vp ſmale bootis, whiche þei haddeñ maad redy, wiþ wyues, and fones, as noon enmytees amonege hem vndirliggyngē.

iii Forsoþe after þe commoun dom of þe citee, and hem acordynge, and for cause of pees, and hauyng no þing suspect, whan þei camen in to deep, þei drenchiden two hundrid, not leſſe.

v Whiche cruelte as Judas knewȝ don in to men of his folc, he comaundide to men þat weren wiþ hym; vi and, inclepid þe iuſt domeſman God, he came aȝein flears of breþeren; and soþely by niȝt brente þe hauen, he brente þe bootis, forsoþe he flewȝ by fwerd hem þat fledden fro fijre.

vii Whan he hadde don þus þese þingus, he wente awey, as eft to turnyng aȝein, and vterly to distruye alle men of Joppe.

viii Bot whan he knewȝ, and hem þat weren at Jamnie to wilne for to do liche manere to Jewis dwellynge wiþ hem, ix and to Jammites he aboue came by niȝt, and brente þe hauen, wiþ shippis; so þat þe liȝt apperide to Jerusalēm fro two hundrid furlongis and fourty.

x Whan now þey hadden gon þennus by nyne furlongis, and maden iourney to Tymoþe, men of Arabye ioynyden wiþ hym, fyue þousand men, and horfmen fyue hundrid.

xi And whan stronge fiȝte was maad, and by help of God wente, or byfelle, esily, or by prosperitee, þe residue of men of Arabye axiden of Judas þe riȝthondis for to be ȝouen to hem; byheetyng hem self to ȝeuynge leſewis, and oþer þingis to profityng.

xii Forsoþe Judas demynge verrely hem profitable in many þingis, bihiȝte pees; and, þe riȝthondis taken, þei departiden to her tabernaclis.

xiii Forsoþe he affailide and fume ſad citee by bryggis, and about sett by wallis, whiche was enhabitid of cumpanyes of heiȝen men meynd, boþe men and wymmen, to whom þe name Casphym.

xiv Forsoþe þese þat weren wiþ ynne, triftinge in ſtablenesse of wallis, and in aparel of fodis, diden flowlicher, to terynge, or terrynge, Judas wiþ curfyngis; and blasfemyng, and spekyng whiche þingus is not leeful.

xv Soþely Machabeus, ynclepide þe grete prince of þe world, whiche wiþ outen weþeris, þat ben engynes liȝ to weþeris, and wiþ outen engynes, in tymes of Jhesu, or Jofue, caſtide doun Jerico, he hurlide feerly to þe wallis;

xvi and þe citee taken by wille of þe Lord, he diðe vnnoumbreable fleayngis; so þat þe pool of ſtondynge water of two furlongis of breed infect, or meynd, wiþ blood was ſeen to flowe.

xvii Fro þennus þei wenten feuen hundref and fifty furlongis, and camen in to Caracha, to þe Jewis þat ben clepid Tubianey.

xviii And soþely þei cauȝten not Tymoþe in þo places; and no need fully don, he turnyde aȝein, moſt ſad ſtrengþe left in ſume place.

xix Forsoþe Dositheus and Sosipater, þat weren duykis wiþ Machabeus, flewen ten þousand men left of Tymoþe in þe ſtrengþe.

xx And Machabeus fixe þousand ordeynyd aboue hym, and ordeynd by cumpanyes, wenten forþ aȝeinus Tymoþe, hauyng an hundrid 'and fyue and twenty þousand of foot men, and of horfmen two þousand and fyue hundrid.

xxi Forsoþe þe cummyng of Judas knownen, Tymoþe bifore ſente wymmen, and ſonyſ, and oþer aparel in to a ſtrengþe þat is ſaid Carmon; forſoþe it was 'vnable to be ouercummen, and hard in goynge to, for ſtreytnesse of places.

xxii And whan þe firſt cumpaignye of Judas appeiride, dred is ynsmyten to þe enmyes of þe preſence of God, þat biholdiþ alle þingis; and þei ben turnyd in to fliȝt, an oþer fro an oþer, so þat þey weren caſt doun of her own more, and wiþ ſtrookis of her ſwērdis þei weren feblid.

xxiii Judas soþely aȝeinstode gretely, punyſhyng vnholy men, and he keſte doun of hem þritty þousand men.

xxiv Thymoþe soþely felle in to þe partis of Dositheus and Sosipatris; and he axide by many preyers, þat he were delyuerd quyck; for þat he hadde fadris, and moderis, and breþeren, 'manye of Jewis, whom it ſhulde byfalle for to be diſceyued by his deþ.

xxv And whan he hadde ȝouen feiþ, hym to reſtoryng hem after þing ordeynd, þei diſmittiden hym vnhurt, for helþe of breþeren.

xxvi Forsoþe Judas turnyde aȝein fro Carmon, flayn fyue and twenti þousandis.

xxvii After þe fliȝt of þese and deeþ, he mouede þe ooft to Effron, a ſtronge citee, in whom þe multitude of diuerfe folc dwelte; and ſtronge ȝunge men, ſtondynge togidre for wallis, ſtrongly fouȝten aȝeinus; forſoþe in þis weren manye engynys, and appareils of darts.

xxviii Bot whan þei hadden inclepid þe Almiȝty, þat by his power brekiþ togidre þe miȝtis of enmyes, þei token þe citee, and caſtiden doun of hem þat weren wiþ ynne fyue and twenty þousand.

xxix Fro þennus þei wenten to þe citee of Scitis, whiche was fer fro Jerusalēm fixe hundrid furlongis.

xxx Forsoþe witnessinge þese Jewis þat weren anentis Scitopolitis, þat þei weren had of hem benignly, ȝe, in tymys of aduersite, and þat þei diden myldly wiþ hem, xxxi þei doyngे þankyngis to hem, and also ſtiryng fro hennus forþ for to be benigne aȝeinus her kyne, camen to Jerusalēm, þe ſolempne day of weekis neȝinge.

xxxii And after Pentecost, þei wenten aȝeins Gorgias, prepoost of Ydume.

xxxiii Soþely he wente out wiþ þre þousand fote men, and foure hundrid horfmen;
xxxiv whiche gon to gidre, it befelle a fewe of Jewis for to falle.
xxxv Forsoþe Dositheus, sum horfman of Bachenoris, a stronge man, heelde Gorgias; and whan he wolde take hym quyck, sum horfman of Tracis felle vpon hym, and kitte of his shuldre, and so Gorgias fleiȝ in to Marefame.
xxxvi And hem þat weren wiþ Hesdrym lengre fiȝtyng, and maad wery, Judas inclepide þe Lord, helper, and duyk of bateil, for to be maad benigne, xxxvii wiþ cuntree voice, and wiþ ympnys reisynge crye, smote fliȝt to kniȝtis of Gorgias.
xxxviii Forsoþe Judas, þe oost gadrid, came in to þe citee Odollam; and whan þe feuenþe day aboue came, þei after custom clenfid, in þe place diden saboth.
xxxix And in þe suyng day Judas came wiþ his, for to take awey þe bodies of men cast doun, and for to putte wiþ fadris, and modris, in sepulcris of fadris.
x Forsoþe þei founden vndir cootis of flayn men, of þe ȝiftis of ydolis þat weren at Jamniam, fro whom þe lawe forbediȝ Jewis; þerfore it is maad knownen to alle men, for þis cause hem for to haue fallen.
xi And so alle bleſſiden þe iust dom of þe Lord, whiche maad priuy þingus knownen.
xii And so þei conuertid to preyers, preyeden, þat þilk trespas þat was don, were bitaken to forȝetyng. And soþely þe strengift Judas monestide þe peple, for to keepe hem wiþ out synne, vnder eeȝen seeynge, what þingus ben don for synnys of hem þat ben cast doun.
xiii And collacioun, or spekinge to gidre maad, he sente twelue þousand dragmes of syluer to Jerusalem, for to be offrid sacrifice for synnes of dead men, wele and religiouſly byþenkynge of aȝein ryfing; xliii soþely ȝif he hopide not, hem þat fallen to ryfynge aȝein, it was seen superflue and veyne for to preye for dead men;
xlv and for he biheelde, þat þei þat token slepyng, or deþ, wiþ pitee, hadden best grace kept. Þerfore holy and helþful þenkynge is, for to preye for dead men, þat þei be vnbounden fro synnus.

Capitulum XIII.

i In þe hundrid and nyne and fourtiþe ȝeer Judas knewȝ, Antiochus Eupator for to cume wiþ multitude aȝein Judee;
ii and wiþ hym Lisiȝ, procuratoure and prepoost of needis, wiþ hym hauyng an hundrid and ten þousand of foot men, and of horfmen fyue þousand, and olyfauntis two and twenti, chaaris wiþ sykelis þree hundrid.
iii Forsoþe and Menelaus ioynyd hym to hem, and wiþ grete disceit bisouȝte Antiochus, not for helþe of þe cuntree, bot hopynge hym for to be ordeynd in to princehod.

iv Bot þe kyng of kyngis reiside þe ynwittis of Antiochus in to þe fynner; and Lisiȝ shewynge, or conseilynge at ere, him for to be cause of alle yuels, he comaundide, as custome is to hem, hym taken to, for to be slayn in þe same place.
v Soþely in þe same place was a toure of fifty cubitis, hauyng of eche syde an gadryng of ashe; þis hadde biholdynge in to dounward.
vi Fro pennus he comaundide þe sacrileger, or curſid man, for to be cast doun in to þe ashe, alle men puttyng hym forþ to be deþ.
vii And bi ſiche lawe it bifelle þe breker of lawe for to dye, neþer Menelaus for to be ȝouen to erþe. And forsoþe iustly ynowȝ; viii for whi for he dide many trespassis aȝeinus þe auter of God, whos fijr and ashe was holy, he is dampnyd in deþ of ashe.
ix Bot þe kyng wiþ out brydil in mynde, came to shewynge hym wars to Jewis, þan his fadir.
x Whiche þingis knownen, Judas comaundide þe peple niȝt and day for to ynclepe þe Lord; þat as euermore, and nowe he shulde helpe hem; whiche soþely dredden for to be priued of lawe, and cuntrie, and of þe holy temple; xi and þat he suffride not þe peple, þat a whijl goon, hadde a litil quycknyd aȝein, for to be fuget eftsoonyis to blasfeme naciouns.
xii And so alle men doyng togidere þat þing, and axinge mercy of þe Lord wiþ weepyng, in fastyngis by alle þree days cast doun, Judas monestide hem for to make hem redy.
xiii Forsoþe he wiþ eldre men þouȝte, bifore þat þe kyng mouede oost to Judee, and gate þe citee, for to go out, and bitake to dom of þe Lord þe out goynge, or eende, of þe þyng.
xiv And so ȝeuȝe power of alle þingis to God, maker of nouȝt of þe world, and monestynge hise for to fiȝt strongly, and `vn to deþ, for lawes, temple, citee, cuntree, and citefeyns for to stonde, ordeynyde þe oost aboue Modyn.
xv And tokyn ȝouen to his of victorie of God, þe strongest ȝunge men chosen, bi nyȝt assaylinge þe kyngis halle in tentis, he flewȝ fourtene þousand men, and þe most of olyfauntis, wiþ þese þat weren putt aboue.
xvi And wiþ heeȝist dred and distourblyng þei fulfillynge þe tentis of enmyes, and þingus eisly, or welsumly, don, wenten awey.
xvii Forsoþe þis is don þe day liȝtyng, þe proteccion of þe Lord helpynge hym.
xviii Bot þe kyng, taken taft of hardynesse by craft of Jewis, temptide hardynessis of placis;

xix and he mouede þe tentis to Bethsura, þat was a stronge hold of Jewis; bot he was dryuen hurtlid and menuſhid.
 xx Forſoþe to þeſe þat weren wiþynne, Judas fente needful þingus.
 xxi Forſoþe Rodochus, ſumman of þe ooft of Jewis, telde out to enmyes priuytees; whiche ſouȝt is taken,
 and ſhitt to gidre.
 xxii Eftfone þe kyng hadde word to hem þat weren in Bethsura, ȝauȝ þe riȝt hond, reſcveyede, wente awey.
 Ioynye wþ Judas is ouercummen.
 xxiii Forſoþe as he knewȝ Philipp for to haue rebellid at Antiochie, whiche was left on needis, he aſtonyed in mynde, bifowȝte Jewis, and fuget to hem, ſweriȝ of alle þingis, of whiche it is ſeen iuſt; and recounſeſlinge offride ſacrifice, wirſhipide þe temple, and puttide ȝiftis.
 xxiv He byclippide Machabeus, and made hym duyk and prince fro Tholomaid a vnto Gerreyns.
 xxv Soþely as he came to Tholomaid a, men of Tholomaid a baren greuouſly þe accordyng of frendſhip, hauynge indignacioun, leſt perauenture þei braken pees.
 xxvi þan Lifiȝ ſtyede vp þe dom place, and expounyde reſoun, and ceefide þe peple, and turnyde aȝein to Antioche; and þis maner þe kyngis goynge out and turnyng aȝein wente forþ.

Capitulum XIII.

i Bot after tyme of þree ȝeere Judas knewȝ, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, Demetrie Seleucus wiþ ſtronge multitude, and ſhippis, by þe hauen of Tripolis for to haue ſtyede to couenable placis, ii and haue holden cuntries aȝein Antiochus, and his duyk Lifiȝ.
 iii Forſoþe ſum Alchymus, þat was heeȝiſt preſt, bot wilfully was defoulid in tyme of mengynge to gidre, biholdinge in no manere helpe for to be to hym, neþer acceſſe, or cummyng to, to be auter, iii came to kyng Demetrye, in þe hundrid and fouretiȝ ȝeer, offringe to hym a golden crown, and palme, ouer þeſe þingis and offringe veſſels, þat weren ſeen for to be of þe temple; and ſoþely in þat day was ſtille.
 v Forſoþe he getynge a couenable tyme of his woodneſſe, and he clepid of Demetrie to counſeile, and axid wiþ what þingis and conſeilis Jewis enforſiden, anſwerde,
 vi þei þat ben ſaid Afſideys of Jewis, to whom Judas Machabeus is ſouereyn, nuryſhen bateils, and mouen diſcenciouns, neþer ſuffren þe rewme for to be quyet.
 vii For whi and Y defrauid of glorie of fader and modir, ſoþely Y faye, of heeȝiſt preſthod, came hidir, viii firſt ſoþely keepynge feiþ to þe kyngis profitis, þe ſecounde tyme ſoþely counſeilynge to citesayns, for whi by ſhrewidneſſe of hem alle our kyn is traueilid not beſte.

 ix Bot Y preyde, þou kyng, alle þeſe þingus knownen, byholde to þe cuntrie and kyn, after þi manlyneſſe ſhewid to alle men.
 x For whi as long as Judas is aboue, or alyue, it is imposſible pees for to be to needis.
 xi Forſoþe ſiche þingis ſaid of hym, and oþer frendis, hauynge hem enmyly, enflawmiden Demetrie aȝeinus Judee.
 xii Whiche anoon fente Nychanore, prepoſt of olifauntis, duyk in to Judee, xiii comaundementis ȝouen for to take hym Judas quyck ſoþely, for to ſcatere ſoþely hem þat weren wiþ hym, and for to ordelyn Alchymus heeȝiſt preſt of þe moſt temple.
 xiv þan heilpen men þat fledden Judas fro Judee, flocmele ioynyen hem to Nychanore, geſſyng þe myſeſtees and deþis of Jewis proſperitees of her þingus.
 xv And ſo þe cummyng of Nychanore herd, and þe cummyng to gidre of naciouns, Jewis ſpreynt wiþ erþe preyden hym, þat ordeynde his peple in to wiþ outer eende for to keepe, and whiche keuerde, or defendide, his part wiþ opyn signys.
 xvi Forſoþe þe duyk comaundynge, anoon þei moueden fro þennus, and camen togidre to be caſtel Delfau.
 xvii Symont forſoþe, broþer of Judas, ioynye wþ Nychanore, bot he is to gidre broken wiþ ſudeyn cummyng of aduersaries.
 xviii Neþeleſe Nychanore heerynge þe vertu of Judas felowis, and gretenesse of ynwytt, whiche þei hadden for ſtryues of þe cuntrie, dredde for to make dom of blood.
 xix Wherfore he byfore fente Poffydonye, and Theodoce, and Mathie, for to ȝeue riȝthondis, and take.
 xx And whan longe counſeile was don of þeſe þingis, and he duyk hadde told to be multitude, oo ſentence was of alle, for to graunte to frenſhipis.
 xxi And ſo þei ordeynden a day, in whiche þei ſhulden do priuili bitwixe hem ſelf; and to eche ſellis, or ſmale ſetis, ben broȝt forþ, and putt.
 xxii Forſoþe Judas comaundide armed men for to be in couenable placis, leſt per auenture of enmyes eny þyng of yuel ſpronge; and þei maden a couenable ſpeche to gidre.
 xxiii Forſoþe Nychanore dwelte in Jeruſalem, and no þing did yuel; and he lefte flockis of cumpañyes, þat weren gadrid.
 xxiv Forſoþe he hadde Judas euermore derworþ of ynwytt, and was bowid to þe man; xxv and preyde hym for to wedde a wif, and to gendre ſonys; and he made weddyngis, quyetyl dide, and lyueden comounly, or togidre.
 xxvi Alchymus forſoþe, ſeeyng þe charite of hem to gidre, and accoordyngus, came to Demetrie, and faide,

Nychanore for to assente to alyen þingis, and to haue ordeynd Judas, traytour of þe rewme, successoure to hym.

xxvii And so þe kyng maad sharp, and wiþ fishe warst accusyngis terrid to wraph, wrote to Nychanore, fayinge, hym soþely for to bere greeuously of acoording of frenship, neþeleſe for to comaunde for to fende Machabeus bounden to Antiochie.

xxviii Whiche þingis knownen, Nychanore was astonyed, and greuously bare, ȝif he made void þo þingis þat accordiden, he no þing hirt, or harmed, of þe man; xxix bot for he miȝte not aȝeinſtōnde þe kyng, he kepte couenabletee, in whiche he shulde perfourme þe maundement.

xxx And Machabeus feeynge Nychanore for to do wiþ hym more sternly, and feerflier ȝeuynge custumable cummyng to gidre, vndirstondynge þis feerfnesse for to be not of good, a fewe of his gadrid, he hid hym fro Nychanore.

xxxi Whiche þing as he knewȝ, hym strongly byfore cummen of þe man, he came to þe most and holiest temple, and he comaundide to þe prestis offryngre wont ooftis, or sacrifices, þe man for to be taken to hym.

xxxii Whiche sayinge wiþ oþe, for to not wyte, wher he was þat was souȝt, xxxiii he stretchyne forþ þe hond to þe temple, swore, ȝif þe shuln not bitake to me Judas bounden, Y shal leede doun þis temple of God in to pleyn, and digge out þe auter, and Y shal halewe þis temple to þe free fadir.

xxxiv And þese þingis said, he wente awey. Forsoþe þe prestis holdynge forþ hondis in to heuen, ynclepiden hym þat euer is forfȝter of þe folc of hem, sayinge þese þingus, xxxv Pou, Lord of vnyuerſitee, or of alle creatures, þat of no þing hast need, woldist þe temple of þin habitacioun for to be maad in vs.

xxxvi And nowe, pou holy of al holy, Lord, kepe in to wiþ outer eende þis hous vndefoulid, þat a lytil goon was clenfid.

xxxvii Forsoþe Ralias, sum of þe eldre men of Jerusalēm, was acculid to Nychanore, a man, louer of þe citee, and wel heerynge, þat for affeccioun, or loue, was clepid fadre of Jewis.

xxxviii Ȣis man many tymes helde purpose of continence in Jewrie, apaied for to bitake body and soule of perseuerance, or laſtyng.

xxxix Forsoþe Nychanore willynge for to shewe þe hate, þat he hadde aȝeinis Jewis, fente fyue hundrid kniȝtis, for to take hym.

x Forsoþe he geffide, ȝif he hadde disceyuyde hym, hymself to ȝeuynge most deþ to Jewis.

xli Forsoþe cumpanyes coueitynge for to falle in to his hous, and for to breke þe ȝate, and for to moue to fijr, whanne now he was taken, he axide, or assailide, hym self wiþ swerd;

xliii cheefyng for to dye nobly, raþer þan for to be maad fuget to synners, and aȝeinis his birþis for to be ledd wiþ vnworþi wrongis.

xliii Bot whan by haastynge wiþ vncerteyn stroke he hadde ȝouen wounde, and cumpanyes bitwixe dores braſten ynne, he rennyng aȝein hardly to þe walle, castide doun hym ſelf manly in to þe cumpanyes.

xliii Whiche fwiftly ȝeuynge place to his fall, he came by þe mydil hatrel, xlv and ȝit whil he breþide, he, in ynwitt kyndlid, roose. And whan his blood wiþ grete flowyngre flowide doun, and wiþ moþt greuos woundis he was woundid, bi rennyng he paſſide þe cumpanye; and ſtoondynge vpon ſum heeȝ ſtoon, xlii and now maad wiþ outer blood, biclippynge his entraylis wiþ boþe hondis, castide forb on þe cumpanyes, he ynclepyng he lordhiper of liþ and ſpirit, þat he shulde ȝeilde eftſonyſ þeſe þingis to hym; and þus he is dead fro liþ.

Capitulum XV.

i Forſoþe as Nychanore foonde Judas for to be in places of Samarye, he þouȝte in þe day of ſaboth wiþ al feerfnesſe for to ioyne bateil.

ii Forſoþe Jewis, þat ſueden hym by need, sayinge, Do þou not so feerfly and heiþenly, bot ȝeue honour to þe day of halewyng, and wirſhiþe þou hym, þat biholdiþ alle þingus.

iii And he vnblesſid, axide, ȝif þere is a miȝti in heuen, þat comaundide þe 'day of ſabothis for to be don?

iv And hem answerynge, Pere is oo Lord, and he in heuen miȝti, þat comaundide þe ſeuenþe day for to be don.

v And he ſaiþ, And Y am miȝti vpon erþe, whiche comaunde armers for to be taken, and needis of þe kyng for to be fulfillid. Neþeleſe he gate not, for to perfourme counſeil.

vi And ſoþely Nychanore wiþ foureyne pride enhaunſid, þouȝte for to ordeyne a comoun victorie of Judas.

vii Forſoþe Machabeus tristide euermore wiþ al hope, help to cummyng to hym of þe Lord, viii and moneſtide hise, þat þei ſhulden not inwardly dreede at þe cummyng to of naciouns, bot ſhulden haue in mynde þe helpis don to hem of heuen, and nowe ſhulden hoope of Almiȝty þe victorie to cummyng to hem.

ix And ſpekyng to hem of lawe, and prophetis, and moneſtinge what þingis þei diden biſore, he ordeynde hem redier.

x And so þe ynwittis of hem reyſid, he ſhewide to gidere þe falſenesſe of heiþen men, and brekyng of oþpis.

xi Forſoþe he armyde eche of hem, not bi ſtrengþing of ſheld and ſhaft, bot wiþ best wordis and moneſtyngis, a fweuen worpi of byleeue expowned, by whiche he gladide alle.

xii Soþely þe visioun is siche. Onye, þat was heeȝist preft, a good man and benyngne, shamfast in siȝt, and mylde in maners, and fair in speche, and whiche was exerſisid, or hauntid, in vertues fro a chijld, holdynge forþ þe hondis for to prey for al þe peple of þe Jewis.

xiii After þis þing and an oþer man for to haue apeerid, in age and glorie wondreful, and in hauyngre of grete fairnesse aboue hym.

xiv Forsoþe Onye answerynge to haue saide, Þis is þe louer of breþeren, and of peple of Yrael; þis is he, þat mycþe preyed for þe peple, and for al þe holy cite, Jeremye, þe prophete of God.

xv Forsoþe Jeremye for to haue streiȝte forþ þe riȝthond, and to haue ȝouen a golden swerd to Judas, fayinge, xvi Take þou þe holy swerd, a ȝift of God, in whiche þou shalt cast doun þe aduersaries of my peple Yrael.

xvii And so þei moneftid wiþ wordis of Judas ful goode, of whiche feersnesse miȝte be enhaunſid, and þe ynnewittis of ȝunge men be confortyd, þei ordeynyden for to fiȝte, and tourmente to gidre strongly, þat vertu shulde deme of needis, for þat þe holy citee and temple weren in perel.

xviii Soþely for wijues, and sonys, and also for breþeren, and cofyns, was leſſe bysynesse, bot most and first dread was for holynesse of þe temple.

xix Bot not leſſe bysynesse hadde hem þat weren in þe citee, for þese þat weren to affailyng to gidre.

xx And whanne now alle men hopiden dom to beyng, and enmys camen, and ooft was ordeynynd, beeftis and horſmen putt to gidre in couenable place, xxi Machabeus biholdynge þe cummyng of multitude, and dyuers apparel of armers, and feersnesse of beeftis, strecchynge out þe hondis in to heuen, ynclepide þe Lord doyngre grete wondris, whiche not after power of armers, bot as it plesid to hym, ȝeuȝ to worpi men victorie.

xxii Forsoþe he saide, ynclepinge þis manere, Pou, Lord, þat sentist þin aungel vnder Ezechie, kyng of Juda, and haſt flayn of tentis, or ooltis, of Senacherib, an hundred foure score and fyue þousand;

xxiii and now, lordshiper of heuens, fende þou þi good aungel bifore vs, in dred and tremblyng xxiv of gretenesse of þin arm, þat þei dreede, þat cummen aȝeinus þin holy peple. And bi þese þingis þus he perfity preyede.

xxv Forsoþe Nychanore, and þei þat weren wiþ hym, wiþ trumpis and songis moueden to.

xxvi Judas forsoþe, and þei þat weren wiþ him, God ynclepid by preyers of knowlachyng, wenten to gidre.

xxvii Soþely in hond fiȝtyng, bot in hertis preyngre God, caſtiden doun fyue and þritty þousand, not leſſe, by þe presence of God gretely delytyngre.

xxviii And whanne þei hadden ceſid, and wiþ ioye turnyden aȝein, þei knewen Nychanore for to haue fallen, wiþ his armers.

xxix And so crie maad, and perturbacioun stirid, by cuntree voice þei bleſſiden þe Lord almiȝty.

xxx Forsoþe Judas comaundide, þat by alle þingis in body and ynƿitt was redy for to dye for citeſeyns, þe hed of Nychanore, and þe hond wiþ þe shuldre gird off, for to be brouȝt forþ to Jeruſalem.

xxxi Whidir whanne he fully came, men of his lynage clepid to gidre, and prestis to þe auter, he clepide and hem þat weren in þe heeȝ rock.

xxxii And þe hed of Nychanore shewid, and þe cursid hond, whiche he holdynge forþ aȝeinus þe holy hous of almiȝty God gretely gloriede, xxxiii also he comaundide þe tunge of vnpitouſ Nychanore kitt off, for to be ȝouen to briddis gobetmele; forsoþe þe hond of þe wood man for to be hongid vp aȝeinus þe temple.

xxxiv Before alle bleſſiden þe Lord of heuen, fayinge, Bleſſid þe Lord, þat kepte his place vndeſoulid.

xxxv Forsoþe he hangide vp Nychanoris hed in þe heeȝist rock, þat it were euydent, or knownen, and opyn ſigne of helpe of God.

xxxvi Perfore alle men by commoun counſeile demyden in no maner þis day for to passe wiþoute worſhiping, ſophli for to haue worſhipyng þe þrittenþe day of þe moneþ Adar, þat is said, by voice of Sirye, þe firſt day of Mardochyus.

xxxvii Perfore þese þingis don aȝeinus Nychanore, and of þe tymes þe citee weelid of Ebrues, and Y in þese þingis ſhal make an eend of word.

xxxviii And ſophli ȝif wel and as it acordid to þe ſtorye, þis þing and Y wole; ȝif ellis leſſe worþily, it is to be grauntid to me.

xxxix Soþely as for to drinke euermore wyne, or euermore water, is contrarie, forſoþe for to vſe chaungable, or now oon, now anoþer, is delitable; ſo to men redyngre, ȝif þe word be euermore vniuſtly axid, or aȝein ſouȝt, it ſhal not be couenable, or pleſinge; þerfore here it ſhal be eendid.

Here endid þe ſtorye of Machabeus, þe whiche is þe laſte book of þe Olde Teſtament. And nowe bigynneþ þe Newe Teſtament; firſt is þe prolog of Matheu, apofle and euangelift.

MATHEU.

Here begynneþ þe prologue on Mathew.

Mathew of Jewerye born, as he is 'putt firſt in ordre, ſo firſt he wrote þe goſpel in Jewes langage, whas sleepingre to God was from peplicanis dedis; he takynge bifore þe bygynnynge is of twey, Abraham and Dauid, in þe generacioñ of Crift, of oon, þat is, Abraham, of þe whiche þe firſt circumciſion was in

fleshe, of an oþer, Dauip, whas eleccioun was after herte. Of boþe fadris forþoþe Crist was bore. And so þe noumble of fourtene þries putte, he strecchynge forþ þe bygynnyng fro feyþ of bileyngne, þat was in Abraham, in to þe tyme of chesynge, þat was in Dauip, and dressynge fro þe chesynge anoon in to þe day of transmygracioun, and diffynnge fro þe day of transmygracioun anoon in to Crist, he shewiþ þe generacioun of þe cummyng of Crist fulfillid, oþer paffynge in renninge, þat he, maakyng good boþe to þe noumble and to þe tyme, boþe shulde shewe hym silf whiche he were, and, in hym silf mynystryng þe work of God, also in hem, whas kynred he putte, shulde not denye þe witnessse of Crist workynge fro þe bygynnyng. Of alle whoche þingis þe tyme, þe ordre, þe noumble, þe dispositioun, oþer þe resoun, þat Crist is God, þat is necessarie to þe feiþ, þe whiche was maad of a womman, maad vnder lawe, bore of a mayde, suffride in fleshe, al þing flicchide in þe cros, þat he ouercommynge þilke þingis in hym silf, rylyng in body, boþe þe name of þe fadir in fadris to þe sone, and sones name to þe fadir restoringe in sones, wiþ outen bygynnyng, wiþ oute eendynge, shewynge þe fadir to be oon wiþ hym, for he is oon. In þe whiche gospel it is profitable to men defryng God, so to knowe þe first, þe mydreste, oþer þe last, þat þei, redynge bi alle þingis, vndirstonde boþe þe clepyng of þe apostil, and þe work of þe gospel, and þe loue of God kennynge in fleshe, and þei biknowe in hym, in þe whiche þei beþ knowe, and desijryþ to knowe. To vs forþoþe it was to stodye of preuyng, boþe to take þe feiþ of þing do, and not to be stille to men sechynge bisiliche þe ordynance of God worshynge to be vndirstonde.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and bigynnip þe gospel.

Capitulum I.

- i The boke of þe generacioun of Jhesu Crist, þe sone of Dauyd, þe sone of Abraham.
- ii Abraham gendride Ysaac. Ysaac forþoþe bigate Jacob. Jacob forþoþe bigate Judas and his breþeren.
- iii Judas forþoþe bigate Phares and Zaram, of Thamar. Phares forþoþe bigate Efrom. Efrom forþoþe bigate Aram.
- iv Aram forþoþe bigate Amynadab. Amynadab forþoþe bigate Nason. Nason forþoþe bigate Salmon.
- v Salmon forþoþe bigate Booz, of Raab. Booz forþoþe bigate Obeth, of Ruth. Obeth forþoþe bigate Geſſe.
- vi Geſſe forþoþe bigate Dauip þe kyng. Dauip forþoþe kyng bigate Salomon, of þat womman þat was Uries wif.
- vii Salomon forþoþe bigate Roboam. Roboam forþoþe bigate Abias. Abias forþoþe bigate Aſa.
- viii Aſa forþoþe bigate Josophat. Josophat forþoþe bigate Joram. Joram forþoþe bigate Ofias.

ix Ofias forþoþe bigate Joathan. Joathan forþoþe bigate Achaz. Achaz forþoþe bigate Ezechie.

x Ezechie forþoþe bigate Manasses. Manasses forþoþe bigate Amon. Amon forþoþe bigate Josias.

xi Josias forþoþe bigate Jechonyas and his breþeren, 'in to transmigracyoun of Babiloyne.

xii And after þe transmigracyoun of Babiloyne, Jechonias bigate Salatiel. Salatiel forþoþe bigate Zorobabel.

xiii Zorobabel forþoþe begate Abyut. Abyut forþoþe bygate Eliachim. Eliachym forþoþe bigate Asor.

xiv Asor forþoþe bigate Sadoc. Sadoc forþoþe bygate Achym. Achym forþoþe bygate Elyut.

xv Elyut forþoþe bygate Eleasar. Eleasar forþoþe bigate Mathan. Mathan forþoþe bigate Jacob.

xvi Jacob forþoþe bigate Joseph, þe hufbond of Marie, of whiche Marie Jefus is born, þat is clepid Crist.

xvii 'And so alle generaciouns from Abraham 'til to Dauip ben fourtene generaciouns, and fro Dauip 'vnto transmygracioun of Babiloyne ben fourtene generaciouns, and from þe transmygracioun of Babiloyne vnto Crist ben fourtene generaciouns.

xviii Forþoþe þe generacioun of Crist was bus. Whane Marie, 'or riȝtful, was spousid to Joseph, bifore þat þei 'shulden come to gidre, she is foundun hauyng in þe wombe of þe Holy Gost.

xix Joseph forþoþe, his hufbond, when he was iust man, 'or riȝtful, and wolde not pupliche him, 'or lede him ferþer, wolde priuyl forſake hire.

xx Sopely hym þenkyng þese þingus, lo! þe angel of þe Lord aperide in sleepe, 'or swēuen, to hym, sayinge, Joseph, þe sone of Dauyd, nyl þou drede to take Marie, þi wif; forþoþe þat þing þat is born in hire is of þe Holy Gooft.

xxi Sopely she shal bere a sone, and þou shalt clepe his name Jefus; for he shal make his peple saif fro her synnes.

xxii Forþoþe al þis þing was don, þat it shulde be fulfillid, 'þat þing þat was feid by a prophete, seyng, xxiii Loo! a virgyne shal haue in wombe, and she shal bere a sone, and his name shal be clepid Emanuel, þat is interpretid, 'or expounid, God wiþ us.

xxiv Sopely Joseph ryfyng vp fro sleep, did as þe angel of þe Lord comaundide hym, and toke his wif;

xxv and he knewe his nat, til she had boren his first bygoten sone, and clepide his name Jhesus.

Capitulum II.

i Therfore when Jhesus was born in Bethlem of Juda, in þe days of kyng Herode, loo! kyngis, 'or wijs men, camen fro þe eest to Jerusalem, ii sayinge, Wher is he, þat is borun kyng of Jewis? forþoþe we 'han feyn his sterre in þe este, and we comen for to wirſhipe hym.

iii Soþely kyng Herode herynge is trublid, and al Jerusalem wiþ him.
 iv And he, gedrynge to gidre alle þe princis of prestis, and scribis of þe peple, enquiride of hem, wher Crist shulde be borun.
 v And þei feiden to hym, In Bethlem of Juda; 'for so it is writen bi a prophete, vi And þou, Bethlem, 'þe lond of Juda, þou art nat þe leste in þe princis of Juda; for of þee a duk shal gon out, þat shal gourne my peple of Yrael.
 vii Pan 'Herode, priyli þe kyngis clepid 'to hym, 'bisilys lernynde of hem þe tyme of þe sterre þat apperide to hem.
 viii And he, sendyng hem in to Bethlem, faide, Go ȝee, and axe ȝee bisilys of þe chyld, and whan ȝee han founden, telle aȝein to me, þat and Y cummynge wirshipe hym.
 ix þe whiche, when þei hadden herde þe kyng, wenten awey. And loo! þe sterre, þe whiche þei sayan in este, wente bifore hem, til þat it cummynge stood aboue, wher þe child was.
 x Forsoþe þei, feeyng þe sterre, ioyeden wiþ a ful grete ioye.
 xi And þei, entrynge þe hous, founden þe child wiþ Marie, his modir; and þei fallynge doun worshipiden hym. And her tresours opnyd, þei offreden to hym ȝiftis, gold, encense, and merre.
 xii And answer taken in sleep, þat þei shulden not turne aȝein to Herode, þei 'ben turned by an oþer wey in to her cuntree.
 xiii And when þei hadden gon awey, loo! þe aungel of þe Lord apperide in sleep to Joseph, sayyng, Ryse vp, and take þe child and his modir, and flee in to Egipt, and be þou bere, til þat I seye to þee; soþely it is 'to cume, þat Herode seeke þe child, for to lese hym.
 xiv þe whiche Joseph, ryfynge vp, toke þe chyld and his modir by nyȝte, and wente into Egipt, xv and was þere til to be deþ of Erode; þat it shuld be fulfillid, 'þat þing þat was said of þe Lord by þe prophete, sayyng, Fro Egypt Y haue clepide my sone. xvi Panne Erode feeyng þat he was scorned, 'or disceyued, of þe kyngis, was gretely wroþ; and he sendyng flewȝ alle þe children, 'þat weren in Bethlem, and in alle þe eendis 'of it, fro two ȝeer age and wiþ ynne, after þe tyme þat he hadde souȝt out of þe kyngis.
 xvii Pan it was fulfillide, 'þat þing þat was said by Jeremye, þe prophete, sayyng, xviii A voice is herd 'an heeȝe, weepynge and myche weilynge, Rachel weepynge hir sonys, and she 'wolde not be comfortid, for þei ben not.
 xix Soþely Erode dead, loo! þe angel of þe Lord apeeride in sleep to Joseph in Egipt, xx sayyng, Ryse vp, and take þe childe and his modir, and go in to þe lond of Yrael; for þei þat souȝten þe liȝ of þe chyld ben dead.

xxi þe whiche Joseph, ryfynge vp, toke þe child and his modir, and cam in to þe lond of Yrael.
 xxii Forsoþe he heerynge þat Archelaus regnede in Jude for Eroude, his fadir, dred for to go þidir. And he, moneftid in sleep, wente in to þe parties of Galilee;
 xxiii and he cummynge dwelte in a citee, þat is clepid Nazareth, þat it shulde be fulfillid, 'þat þing þat is said by prophetis, For whi he shal be clepid 'of Nazareth.

Capitulum III.

i In þilke days came Joon Baptist, prechynge in þe desert of Jude,
 ii sayyng, 'Do ȝe penaunce, for þe kyngdom of heuens shal neij, 'or come niȝe.
 iii Forsoþe þis is he, 'of whom it is said by Ysaye, þe prophete, A voice of a cryinge in deserte, 'Make ȝe redy þe wayes of þe Lord; 'make ȝe riȝtful þe pabes of hym.
 iv Forsoþe 'þat ilk Joon hadde cloþ of þe heeris of cameylis, and a girdil of skyn aboute his leendis; soþely his mete weren locuftis, and hony of þe wode.
 v Panne Jerusalem wente out to hym, and al Jude, and al þe cuntre aboute Jordan;
 vi and þei weren cristenyd of hym in Jordan, knowlechynge þere synnes.
 vii Soþely he feeyng many of Pharisees and of Saducee commynge to his bapteme, faide to hem, Generacions of eddris, who shewide to ȝou for to flee fro wrap to cumme?
 viii ȿerfore do ȝee worpi fruytis of penaunce, ix and nyl ȝe fay wiþ ynne ȝou, We han þe fadir Abraham; soþely Y saye to ȝou, for whi God is miȝti to reyse vp of þese stony sony of Abraham.
 x For now þe axe is putt to þe rote of þe tree; soþely euery tree þat makib nat good fruyt, shal be kitt doun, and shal be sent in to fijr.
 xi Forsoþe Y cristene ȝou in water, in to penaunce; forsoþe he þat is to cumme after me is strenger þan Y, whos shon Y am not worpi to bere; he shal baptise, 'or cristen, ȝow in þe Holy Gooſt and fijr.
 xii Whos wynwing cloþ, 'or fan, in his hond, and he shal fully clenfe his corne floore, and shal gedre his corne in to his berne; but chaffis he shal brenne wiþ fyr unquenchable, 'or þat neuer shal be quenchid.
 xiii Panne Jhesus came fro Galilee in to Jordan to Joon,
 'for to be cristned of hym.
 xiv Soþly Joon forbeed hym, sayyng, 'I owe for to be cristned of þee, and 'þou commest to me?
 xv Forsoþe Jhesus answeringe faide to hym, Suffre now,
 'for so it becummeþ vs for to fulfile all riȝtwisnesse.
 Pan Joon leete hym, 'or left hym.
 xvi Forsoþe Jhesus cristened steiȝ vp anoon fro þe water; and loo! heuens ben opened to hym, and he fay þe Spirit of God cummynge doun as a culuer, and cummynge vpon hym;

xvii and loo! a voice fro heuenes, sayinge, Pis is my byloued sone, in þe whiche Y haue plesid to me.

Capitulum III.

- i Thanne Jhesus was led in to desert of a spirit, 'þat he shulde be temptid of þe deuel.
ii And whanne he hadde fastid fourty days and fourety niȝtis, afterward he hungride.
iii And þe tempter cummyng neȝ, saide to hym, Zif þou 'be Goddis sone, say þat þese stoons be maad looues.
iv Þe whiche answerynge said to hym, It is wryten, A man lyueþ not in breed aloon, bot in euery word þat comeþ forþ fro þe mouþe of God.
v Panne þe deuyl toke hym in to an hooly citee, and fette hym on þe pynacle of þe temple, vi and faide to hym, Zif þou 'be Goddis sone, sende þee doun; soþely it is wryten, For to his aungels he comaundide of þee, and þei shulden take þee in hoondis, leſt perauenture þou hurte þi fote at a stoon.
vii Eftfone Jhesus saiþ to hym, It is writen, Pou shalt not tempte þe Lord þi God.
viii Eftfone þe deuel toke hym in to a ful heeȝ hill, and shewide to hym alle þe rewmys of þe world, and þe glorie of hem; and faide to hym, ix Alle þese þingis Y shal ȝeue to þee, zif þou fallynge doun shalt worshire me.
x Pan Jhesus faide to hym, Go, Sathanas; 'forsoþe it is wrytin, Pou shalt worshire þe Lord 'þi God, and to hym alone þou shalt serue.
xi Pan þe deuel lafte hym; and loo! aungelis 'camen niȝe, and serueden to hym.
xii Soþely whanne Jhesus hadde herde þat Joon was taken, he wente into Galilee.
xiii And þe cite of Nazaret laft, he came, and dwelte in þe citee of Caphernaum, beside þe see, in þe eendis of Zabulon and Neptaly.
xiv þat it shulde be fulfillid, 'þat þing þat was said by Ysay, þe prophete, xv þe lond of Zabulon and þe lond of Neptaly, þe weye of þe see ouer Jordan, of Galilee of heþene men, xvi þe peple þat dwelte in derknessis fay grete liȝt, and men fittyng in þe cuntree of shadew of deþ, liȝt 'is sprunge to hem.
xvii Fro þennus Jhesus bygan for to preche, and say, Do ȝe penaunce, forsoþe þe kyngdom of heuens 'shal cumre niȝe.
xviii Soþely Jhesus, walkyng bisidis þe see of Galilee, fay two breþeren, Symon, þat is clepid Petre, and Andrew, his broþer, sendyng nett in to þe see; forsoþe þei weren fisheris.
xix And he saide to hem, 'Come ȝe after me, and I shal make ȝou to be maad fisheris of men.
xx And anon her nettis forsakyn, þey fuerden hym.

xi And he goynge forþ fro þat place, say tweyn oþer breþeren, Jamys of Zebedee, and Joon, his broþer, in þe ship wiþ Zebedee, her fadir, makyng aȝein, 'or beetynge, her nettis, and he clepide hem.

xii Soþely anoon þe nettis forsaken and þe fadir, þei fuerden hym.

xiii And Jhesus enuyraunyde al Galilee, techynge in þe synagogis of hem, and prechynge þe gospel of kyngdam, and helynge al forow, 'orache, and al fekenesse in þe peple.

xiv And his 'opnyoun, or fame, wente in to al Syrie; and þei offriden to hym alle men hauynge yuele, takyn wiþ dyuers forowis and tourmentis, and hem þat hadden deuelis, and lunatijk men, and men in palfie, and he helide hem.

xv And 'þere fuerden hym many cumpanyes of Galilee, and of Decapoly, and of Jerusalem, and of Judee, and of beȝonde Jordan.

Capitulum V.

- i Jhesus forsoþe, seynge cumpanyes, wente vp in to an hill; and when he hadde sete, his disciplis camen niȝe to hym.
ii And he, openyng his mouþe, tauȝte to hem, sayinge, iii Bleſſid be þe pore in spirit, for þe kingdam in heuenes is heren.
iv Bleſſid be mylde men, for þei shuln welde þe eerþe.
v Bleſſid be þei þat mournen, for þei shuln be comfortid.
vi Bleſſid be þei þat hungren and þristen riȝtwisnesse, for þei shuln ben fulfillid.
vii Bleſſid be 'mercyful men, for þei shuln gete mercy.
viii Bleſſid be þei þat ben of clene herte, for þei shuln see God.
ix Bleſſid be 'pesible men, for þei shuln be clepid þe fonys of God.
x Bleſſid be þei þat suffren persecuciouн for riȝtwisnesse, for þe kyngdam of heuenes is herun.
xi ȝee 'shulen be bleſſid, when men shulen curse ȝou, and shulen pursue ȝou, and shulen say al yuel aȝeins ȝou leeȝing, for me.
xii Ioye ȝee 'wiþ yn forþ, and 'glade ȝee 'wiþ out forþ, for ȝoure meede is plenteuouse in heuenes; forsoþe so þei han purfued and prophetis þat weren before ȝou.
xiii ȝee ben salt of þe erþe; þat ȝif þe salt shal vanyſhe awey, wherynne shal it be saltid? To no þing it is worþ ouer, no bot þat it be sent out, and defoulid of men.
xiv ȝee ben liȝt of þe world; a citee putt on an hill may nat be hid;
xv neþer men tendyn a lanterne, and putten it vndir a buſhþel, but on a candilstike, þat it ȝeue liȝt to alle þat ben in þe hous.
xvi So shyne ȝoure liȝt before men, þat þei see ȝoure good werkis, and glorifie ȝoure fadir þat is in heuens.

xvii Nyle ȝe gesse, 'or deme, þat Y came to 'vndo, or distruye, þe lawe, or þe prophetis; I came not to vndo
 'þe lawe, but to fulfille.
 xviii Forsoþe I say to ȝou trewþe, til heuen and erþe passe, oon i, 'þat is leste lettre, or titil, shal nat passe fro þe lawe, til alle þingis be don. xix Perfore he þat 'vndob, or brekeþ, oon of þese leste maundementis, and techiþ þus men, shal be clepid þe leste in þe rewme of heuenes; forsoþe þis þat doþ, and techiþ, shal be clepid grete in þe kyngdame of heuenes.
 xx Forsoþe Y say to ȝou, no but ȝif ȝoure riȝtwisnæsse shal be more plenteuouse þan of scribis and Pharisees, ȝee shulen not entre in to kyngdam of heuenes.
 xxi ȝee han herde þat it is said to olde men, þou shal nat flea; forsoþe he þat fleeþ, shal be gylty of dome.
 xxii But I say to ȝou, þat euereche þat is wroþe to his broþer, shal be gylty of dome; forsoþe he þat 'shal say to his broþer, Racha, þat is, a word of scorn, shal be gylty of counseile; soþly he þat 'shal say, Fool, 'þat is, a word of dispisynge, shal be gylti of þe fijr of helle.
 xxiii Perfore ȝif þou offrist bi ȝift at þe auter, and þere 'shalt byþenke, þat bi broþer haþ sum what aȝeins þee, xxiv Leeue þere bi ȝift before þe auter, and go first for to be recounseilid, or accordid, to bi broþer, and þanne þou cummyng shalt offre bi ȝifte.
 xxv Be þou consentynge to þin aduersarie soon, þe whijle þou art in þe way wiþ hym, leſt perauenture þin aduersarie take þee to þe domesman, and þe domesman take þee to þe mynystre, and þou be sente in to prisoun.
 xxvi Trewely I say to þee, þou shalt not go þennes, til þou ȝelde þe last ferþing.
 xxvii ȝe han herd for it was said to olde men, þou shalt nat do lecherye.
 xxviii Forsoþe Y say to ȝou, for why euery man þat seeþ a womman for to coueite hire, now he haþ do lecherie by hire in his herte.
 xxix ȝat ȝif bi riȝt eijȝe sclaundre þee, pulle it out, and cast it fro þee; for it spedib to þee, þat oon of bi membris perishe, þan al bi body go in to helle. xxx And ȝif bi riȝt hond sclaundre þee, kitt it awey, and cast it fro þee; for it spedib to þee, þat oon of bi membris perishe, þan þat al bi body go in to helle.
 xxxi Forsoþe it is said, Who euere shal leeue his wyf, ȝeue he to hir a libel, þat is, a lilit boke of forsfakyng.
 xxxii Soþely Y say to ȝou, þat euery man þat 'thal leeue his wyf, outaken cause of fornicacioun, he makib hire do lecherie, and he þat weddiþ þe forsaken wif, doþ auotrie.
 xxxiii Efte foony ȝee han herd, þat it was said to olde men, þou shalt not forswere, soþely to þe Lord þou shalt ȝeeld þin oeþis.
 xxxiv Forsoþe Y lay to ȝou, to nat swere on al manere; neiþer by heuene, for it is þe trone of God;
 xxxv neiþer by þe erþe, for it is þe stole of his feet;
 neiþer by Jerusalēm, for it is þe citee of a greet kyng;

xxxvi neiþer þou shalt swere by þin heued, for þou maist not make oon 'heer whyt, or blak; xxxvii but 'be ȝoure word ȝea, ȝea; Nay, nay; forsoþe þat þat is more 'þan þis, is of yuel.
 xxxviii ȝee han herde þat it is said, Eiȝe for eiȝe, toþ for toþ.
 xxxix But Y say to ȝou, to nat aȝein stonde yuel; but ȝif any 'shal smyte þee in þe riȝt cheeke, ȝeue to hym and þe toþer;
 xl and to hym þat wole stryue wiþ þee in dome, and take awey bi coote, leeue þou 'to hym and þin ouer cloþe;
 xli and who euere constrainyeb þee a þousand pacis, go þou wiþ hym oper tweyne.
 xl二人 Forsoþe ȝif to hym þat axib of þee, and turne þou nat awey fro hym þat wol borwe of þee.
 xlii ȝee han herd þat it is said, þou shalt loue þin neiȝbore, and hate þin enmy.
 xliii But Y say to ȝou, loue ȝee ȝoure enmyes, do ȝee wel to hem þat haten ȝou, and preye ȝee for men purfuyng, and falsly chalengyng ȝou; xlv þat ȝee be þe fony of ȝoure fadir þat is in heuenes, þat makib his fune to 'springe vp vpon good and yuel men, and rayneþ vpon iuste men and vniuste men.
 xlvi For ȝif ȝe louen hem þat louen ȝou, what meed shul ȝee haue? wheþer and puplicans don nat þis þing?
 xlvii And ȝif ȝee greten, 'or saluten, ȝoure breþeren oonly, what 'more ouer shul ȝee don? wheþer and paynymmys don nat þis þing?
 xlviii Perfore be ȝee parfit, as and ȝoure heuenly fadir is parfit.

Capitulum VI.

i 'Take ȝee hede, leſt ȝe don ȝour riȝtwisnæſſe before men, þat ȝee be ſeen of hem, ellis ȝe ſhule nat han meed at ȝoure fadir þat is in heuenes.
 ii Perfore when þou doſt almefſſe, nyle þou ſyng byfore þee 'in a trumpe, as ypocritis don in synagogis and streetis, þat þei ben 'maad worshipful of men; forſoþe Y ſaye to ȝou, þei han reſcayed her meede.
 iii But 'þee doynge almefſſe, knowe nat þe leſt hond what bi riȝt hond doþ, iv þat bi almes be in hidlis, and bi fadir þat ſeep in hidlis, shal ȝeeld to þee.
 v And when ȝe ſhuln preye, ȝee ſhuln nat be as ypocritis, þe whiche ſtondyng leuen to preye in synagogis and corners of streetis, þat þei be ſeen of men; trewly Y ſay to ȝou, þei han reſseyued her meede.
 vi But whan þou shalt preye, entre in to bi couche, and þe dore ſchet, preye bi fadir in hidlis, and bi fadir þat ſeep in hidlis, shal ȝeeld to þee.
 vii Soþely preyinge nyle ȝee ſpeke moche, as heþen men don, for þei geſſen þat þei ben herd in þeire moche ſpeche.

viii Perfore nyl ȝe be maad liche to hem, for ȝoure fadir woot what is need to ȝou, before þat ȝe axen hym.
 ix Forsoþe þus ȝe shulen preyen, Oure fadir þat art in heuenes, halwid be þi name;
 x þi kyngdom cumme to; 'be þi wille don as in heuen and in erþe;
 xi ȝif to vs þis day oure breed oþer substaunce;
 xii and forȝeue to vs oure dettis, as we forȝeue to oure dettors; xiii and leede vs nat in to temptacioun, but delyuere vs fro yuel. 'Amen, þat is, so be it.
 xiv Forsoþe ȝif ȝee shulen forȝeue to men her synnys, and ȝoure heuenly fadir shal forȝeue to ȝou ȝoure trespassis. xv Soþely ȝif ȝee shulen forȝeue not to men, neþer ȝoure fadir shal forȝeue to ȝou ȝoure synnys.
 xvi But when ȝee fasten, nyl ȝe be maad as ypocritis forweful, for þei putten her facis out of kyndly termys, þat þei seme fastynge to men; trewly Y say to ȝou, þei han refseyued her meeđe.
 xvii But whan þou fastist, anoynte þin hede, and washe þi face, xviii þat þou be nat seen fastynge to men, but to þi fadir þat is in hidlis, and þi fadir þat seeþ in hidlis, shal zeelde to þee.
 xix Nyle ȝe tresoure to ȝou tresours in erþe, wher rust and mouȝþe disstruyeþ, and wher þeuees deluen out and stelen; xx but tresoure ȝee to ȝou tresouris in heuene, wher neþer rust ne mouȝþe disstruyeþ, and wher þeuees deluen nat out, 'or undirmyne nat, ne stelen.
 xxi Forsoþe wher þi tresour is, þere and þin herte is.
 xxii Pe lanterne of þi body is þin eȝe; ȝif þin eȝe be symple, al þi body shal be liȝtful;
 xxiii bot ȝif þyn eȝe be weyward, al þi body shal be derkful. Perfore ȝif þe liȝt þat is in þee be derknessis, 'how grete shulen þilk derknessis be?
 xxiv No man may ferue to two lordis, forsoþe eþir he shal haat 'þe toon, and loue þe toþer; oþer he shal susteyn 'þe toon, and dispise þe toþir. ȝe mown nat ferue to God and richeſſis.
 xxv Perfore Y lay to ȝou, þat ȝe ben nat besie to ȝoure liȝf, what ȝe shulen ete; oþir to ȝoure body, wiþ what ȝe shuln be cloþid. Wher ȝoure liȝf is nat more þan mete, and þe body more þan cloþe?
 xxvi Beholde ȝe þe fleeȝinge foulis of þe eir, for þei sownen nat, ne repyn, neþer gadren in to bernys; and ȝoure fadir of heuen fediþ hem. Wher ȝe ben nat more worþi þan þei?
 xxvii Soþely who of ȝou þenkinge may 'putte to to his stature oo cubite?
 xxviii And of cloþing what ben ȝe besye? 'Beholde ȝe þe lilies of þe feelde, how þei wexen. Pei traueilen nat, neþer spynnen; xxix trewly I say to ȝou, for whi neþer Salomon in al his glorie was keuerid as oon of þes.

xxx For ȝif God cloþiþ þus þe heye of þe feeld, þat to day is, and to morwe is fente in to þe fourneyse, how moche more ȝou of litil feiþ?
 xxxi Perfore nyl ȝe be bisie, sayinge, What shulen we ete? or, What shulen we drynke? or, Wiþ what þing shulen we be keuered?
 xxxii Forsoþe heijen men sechen alle þese þingis; trewly ȝoure fadir wote þat ȝe han need to alle þese þingis.
 xxxiii Perfore seke ȝee first þe kyngdam of God and his riȝtwisnesse, and alle þese þingis shulen be cast to ȝou.
 xxxiv Perfore nyle ȝe be besie in to þe morwe, for þe morew day shal be besie to it self; soþely it sufficiþ to þe day his malice.

Capitulum VII.

i Nyle ȝe deme, þat ȝe be nat demyd;
 ii for in what dome ȝe demen, ȝe shulen ben demyd, and in what mesur ȝe meten, it shal be meten to ȝou.
 iii But what feest þou a festu, 'or a litil mote, in þe eȝe of þi broþer, and þou feest nat a beme in þin owne eȝe?
 iv Or what maner saist þou to þi broþer, Broþer, suffre þat I caste out a 'festu fro þin eȝe, and loo! a beme is in þin owne eȝe?
 v Ypocrite, caste out first a beme of þin eȝe, and þan þou shalt see for to caste out a festu of þe eȝe of þi broþer.
 vi Nyl ȝe ȝeue holy þing to houndis, neþer fende ȝe ȝour margaritis, or 'precious stoonyis, before swyne, leſt perauenture þei defoulen hem wiþ peire feet, and 'leſt houndis turned to gidre al to-breke ȝou.
 vii Axe ȝe, and it shal be ȝouen to ȝou; 'feke ȝe, and ȝe shulen fynde; 'knocke ȝe, and it shal be opnyd to ȝou.
 viii For eche þat axiþ, takiþ; and he þat sechis, fyndis; and it shal be opnyde to 'a man knokyng.
 ix Oper who of ȝou is a man, whom ȝif his fone axe breed, wher he shal dresse to hym a stoon?
 x Oper ȝif he 'shal axe a fishe, wher he shal dresse to hym a serpent?
 xi Perfore ȝif ȝe, when ȝe ben yuel men, 'han knownen for to ȝeue good þingis ȝouen to ȝoure sonys, hou myche more ȝoure fadir þat is in heuenes shal ȝeue good þingis to men axinge hym?
 xii Perfore alle þingis, what euer þingis ȝee wolen þat men don to ȝou, and ȝe do to hem, forsoþe 'þese þingis ben þe lawe and prophetis.
 xiii Entre ȝe bi þe streyt ȝate; for þe gate 'þat lediþ to perdicacioun, or dampnacioun, is brode, and 'þe weye large, and 'þer ben many þat entren bi it.
 xiv How streat is þe ȝate, and narewe þe weye, þat lediþ to liȝf, and 'þere ben fewe þat fynden it.
 xv Perceyue ȝe, and flee fro fals prophetis, þe whiche cummen to ȝou in cloþingis of sheepis, bot wyþynne þei ben rauyfhyng wolves;

xvi of her fruytis ȝe shulen knowe hem. Wheþer men gaderen grapis of þornys, or fijgis of breeris?
 xvii So euery good tree makiþ good fruytis; soþely an yuel tree makiþ yuel fruytis.
 xviii A good tree may nat make yuel fruytis, neþer an yuel tree make good fruytis.
 xix Euery tree þat makiþ nat good fruyt, shal be kitte doun, and shal be sent in to þe fire.
 xx Perfore of her fruytis ȝee shulen knowe hem.
 xxi Nat eche man þat saþ to me, Lord, Lord, shal entre in to þe kyngdam of heuenes; but he þat doþ þe wille of my fadir þat is in heuenes, he shal entre in to þe kyngdam of heuenes.
 xxii Many shul say to me in þat day, Lord, Lord, wheþer we han nat prophecied in þi name, and han cast out deuelis in þi name, and han don many vertues in þi name?
 xxiii And þan Y shal knowliche to hem, For I knewe ȝou neuer; departe awey fro me, ȝe þat worchen wickidnesse.
 xxiv Perfore eche man þat heriþ þese my wordis, and doþ hem, shal be maad liche to a wijse man, þat haþ bildid his hous vpon a stoon.
 xxv And rayn came doun, and flodis camen, and wyndis blewen, and rusheden in to þat hous; and it felle nat doun, for it was foundid on a stoon.
 xxvi And euery man þat heriþ þese my wordis, and doþ hem nat, is liche to a man fool, þat haþ bildid his hous on `grael, or foond.
 xxvii And rayn came doun, and floodis camen, and wyndis blewen, and þei hurliden in to þat hous; and it felle doun, and þe fallyng doun þeroft was grete.
 xxviii And it is maad, when Jhesus hadde eendid þese wordis, þe cumpanyes wondreden on his techyng; xxix soþely he was techyng hem, as `a man hauynge power, and nat as þe scribis of hem, and Pharisees.

Capitulum VIII.

i Forsoþe when Jhesus hadde comen doun fro þe hil, many cumpanyes folewiden hym.
 ii And loo! a leprouse man cummyng worshipide hym, sayinge, Lord, ȝif þou wolt, þou maist make me clene.
 iii And Jhesus, holdynge forþe þe hond, touchide hym, sayinge, I wole, be þou maad clene. And anoon þe lepre of hym was clenfid.
 iv And Jhesus saþ to hym, See, say þou to no man; but go, shewe þee to prestis, and offre þat ȝifte þat Moyses comaundide, in to witnessing to hem.
 v Soþely when he hadde entride in to Capharnaum, centurio neijide to hym, vi preyngie hym, and faide, Lord, my child lyþ in þe hous like on þe palfie, and is yuel tourmentid.
 vii And Jhesus saþ to hym, I shal cume, and shal hele
 hym.

viii And centurio answerynge saþ to hym, Lord, I am not worþi, þat þou entre vndir my roof; but oonly say bi word, and my child shal be helid.
 ix For whi and I am a man ordeyned vnder power, hauynge vndir me kniȝtis; and I say to þis, Go, and he goþ; and to an oper, Come þou, and he comeþ; and to my seruaunt, Do þou þis þing, and he doþ.
 x Soþely Jhesus, heerynge þese þingis, wondride, and faide to men suyngie hym, Trewly I faye to ȝou, I fonde nat so grete feiþ in Yrael.
 xi Soþely Y say to ȝou, þat manye shulen come fro þe est `and west, and shulen rest wiþ Abraham and Yfaac and Jacob in þe kyngdam of heuenes; xii forsoþe þe sonys of þe rewme shulen be cast out in to vtremest derknessis; þere shal be weepynge, and beetyng togidre of teef.
 xiii And Jhesus faide to centurio, Go, and as þou haſt bileeued, be it don to þee. And þe child was helid fro bat hour.
 xiv And when Jhesus hadde comen in to þe hous of Symond Petre, he say his wyues moder liggyng, and shakun wiþ feueris.
 xv And he touchide hir hond, and þe feuer lefte hir; and shre roose, and seruyde hem.
 xvi Soþely whan þe euenyng was maad, þei brouȝte to hym many hauynge deuels, and he castide out spiritis by word, and helide alle hauynge yuel; xvii þat it shulde be fulfillid, `þat þing þat was said by Ysaie, þe prophete, sayinge, He toke oure infirmitees, and bere oure sykenesseis.
 xviii Soþely Jhesus feeyngie many cumpanyes about hym, bad his disciplis go ouer þe water.
 xix And oo scribe, or a man of lawe, `commynge to, faide to hym, Maistre, I shal sue þee, whidir euer þou shalt go.
 xx And Jhesus said to hym, Foxis han `dichis, or borowis, and briddis of þe eir han nestis, but mannes sone haþ nat wher he reste his heued.
 xxi Soþeli an oper of his disciplis faide to hym, Lord, suffre me go firſt, and birye my fadir.
 xxii Forsoþe Jhesus faide to hym, Sue þou me, and late dede men birye her dead men.
 xxiii And `Jhesu steyninge vp in to a litel ship, his disciplis fueden hym.
 xxiv And loo! a grete steryng was maad in þe see, so þat þe litil ship was hilid wiþ wawis; but he slepte.
 xxv And `his disciplis camen niȝ to hym, and raysiden hym, sayinge, Lord, faue vs; we perishen.
 xxvi And Jhesus seþ to hem, What ben ȝee of litil feiþ agaſt? Panne he ryſyng comaundide to þe wyndis and þe see, and a grete peſiblenesse is maad.
 xxvii Forsoþe men wondreden, sayinge, What manere man is he þis, for þe wyndis and þe see obeilhen to
 hym?
 xxviii And whan Jhesus hadde comen ouer þe water in to þe cuentre `of men of Genazereth, twey men hauynge deuelis runnen to hym, goyng out fro brielis, ful feerse, 'or wickid, so þat no man miȝte passē by þat wey.

xxix And 'loo! þei crierden, sayinge, What to vs and to þee, Jhesu, þe sone of God? hast þou comen hidir before þe tyme for to tourmente vs?

xxx Soþely a 'floc, or droue, of many hoggis leſewyngē was nat fer from hem.

xxxi But þe deuelis preyeden him, seyinge, ȝif þou caſtis out vs hennes, fende vs in to þe droue of hoggis.

xxxii And he ſaiȝ to hem, Go ȝee. And þei goyng out wente in to þe hoggis; and loo! in a greet bire al þe droue wente heedlyngē in to þe see, and þei ben dead in watris.

xxxiii Forþoþe þe hirdes fledden awey, and cummyngē in to þe citee, tolden alle þese þingis, and of hem þat hadden þe fendis.

xxxiv And loo! al þe citee wente aȝeinis Jhesu, 'metyngē hym; and hym seen, þei preiden hym, þat he shulde passē fro her coofis.

Capitulum IX.

i And Jhesus, 'goyng vp in to a boot, paſſide ouer þe water, and came in to his citee.

ii And loo! þei offreden to hym a man fyke in palfie, liggyngē in a bed. Forþoþe Jhesus, feeyng þe feiȝ of hem, faide to þe man fike in palfie, Sone, haue þou trust; þi synnes ben forȝeu[n] to þee.

iii And lo! sum of þe scribis said wiþ ynne hem self, ȝis blasphemēb.

iv And when Jhesus hadde seen her þouȝtis, he said, Wherto þenken ȝe yuel þingis in ȝour hertis?

v What is liȝter to faye, ȝi synnes ben forȝeu[n] to þee, ober to faye, Ryse þou, and walke?

vi Forþoþe þat ȝe wite, þat mannes sone haþ power to forȝeu[n] synnes in erþe, þanne he faide to þilke man in palfie, 'Ryse vp; take þi bed, and go in to þin house.

vii And he roose, and wente in to his houſe.

viii Soþely þe companyes feeyngē dredden, and glorifieden God, þat ȝau[er] fiche power to men.

ix And when Jhesus paſſide þennis, he seiȝ a man fittyngē in a tolboþe, Matheu by name. And he faide to hym, Sue þou me. And he, ryfynge, folowide hym.

x And it is don, hym fittyngē at þe mete in þe house, loo! many puplicanys and synneful men cummyngē saten at þe mete wiþ Jhesu and his disciplis.

xi And Pharisees feeyngē saiden to his disciplis, Whi etip ȝoure maister wiþ puplicanys and synneful men?

xii And Jhesus herynge faide, A leche is nat nede to men þat faren wel, but to men hauyngē yuel.

xiii Soþely ȝee goyngē lerne what it is, Y wole mercy, and nat sacrifice; forþoþe Y came, nat to clepe riȝtful men, bot synneful men.

xiv Panne þe disciplis of Joon 'camen niȝe to hym, sayinge, Whi we and Pharisees fasten ofte, but þi disciplis fasten nat?

xv And Jhesus faide to hem, Wheþer þe sonys of þe spouse, 'or husbonde, mow 'weilen, or mourne, how longe þe spouse is wiþ hem? Soþely days shulen come, when þe spouse shal be taken awey fro hem, and þanne þei shulen faste.

xvi Soþely no man fendiȝ ynne a medlyngē of rudee, or newe, cloþe in to an olde cloþe; soþely he takiȝ awey þe plente of it fro þe cloþe, and a wors kittyng is maad.

xvii Neþer men fenden newe wijne in to olde 'botelis, or wijn vessellis, ellis þe wijn vessells ben broken, and þe wijn is ſhed out, and þe wijn vessellis periſhen. But men fenden newe wijn in to newe wijn vessellis, and boþe ben kept.

xviii Jhesu ſpekyng þese þingis to hem, loo! oo prince 'came to, and worshipid hym, sayinge, Lord, my douȝter is now dead; but cume þou, and put þin hond vpon hire, and the þhal lyue.

xix And Jhesus ryfynge ſuede hym, and his disciplis.

xx And loo! a womman þat suffride þe flix, 'or rennyngē, of blood twelue ȝeer, 'cam to byhynde, and touchide þe hemme of his cloþe.

xi Soþely ſhe faide wiþ ynne hir self, ȝif I touche oonly þe cloþis of hym, I ſhal be ſaad.

xii And Jhesus turnyde, and feeyngē hir, faide, Douȝter, haue þou trust; þi faȝt haþ made þee ſaad. And þe womman was maad ſaad fro þat houre.

xiii And when Jhesus came in to þe hous of þe prince, and ſeeȝ mynſtrelis, and þe companye makynge noyſe, xvii he faide, Go ȝe awey, for þe wenche is nat dead, but ſlepiȝ. And þei ſcornyden hym.

xviii And when þe companye was caſt out, he entride in, and held hir honde; and þe wenche rooſe vp.

xvi And þis fame wente out in to al þe londe.

xvii And Jhesu paſſyngē þennes, twey blynde men ſueden hym, cryinge, and ſayinge, Pou sone of Dauȝt, haue mercy of vs.

xviii Soþely when 'þei came home, þe blynde men camen niȝ to hym; and Jhesus ſaiȝ to hem, What wole ȝe, þat I do to ȝou? And þei ſeiden, Lord, þat oure eeȝen ben opnyd. And Jhesus faide, Bileeu ȝe, þat I may do þis þing 'to ȝou? And þei ſayn, Soþely, or ȝea, Lord.

xix Pan he touchide her eeȝen, ſayinge, Vp ȝour feiȝ be it don to ȝou.

xx And þe eeȝen of 'boþe ben opnyde. And Jhesus bretynde to hem, ſayinge, See ȝee, þat no man wite.

xxi But þei goyng out, defameden hym þorwȝ al þat lond.

xxii Soþely þei gon out, loo! þei offriden to hym a 'man doumb, hauyngē a deuel.

xxxiii And whan þe deuel was cast out, þe doumbe man spac. And þe cumpanyes wondreden, sayinge, It aperede neuere so in Yrael.

xxxiv But þe Pharisees faiden, In þe prince of deuelis he castiþ out deuelis.

xxxv And Jhesus compasidre aboute alle citees and castels, techyng in synagogis of hem, and prechynge þe gospel of kyngdam, and helynge al 'languyfhyng, orache, and al fiknesse.

xxxvi Forsoþe Jhesus, syngi cumpanyes, hadde rewþe of hem; for þei weren traueilid, and liggyng as sheep nat hauyng a sheperde.

xxxvii Panne he faide to his disciplis, Soþely 'þere is moche rype corne, but fewe werkmen.

xxxviii Perfore preye ȝe þe lord of þe rijpe corn, þat he fende workmen into his rijp corn.

Capitulum X.

i And þe twelue disciplis clepid to gidre, he ȝauet to hem power of vnclene spiritis, þat þei shulde casten hem out, and þat þei shulden heele al ache, and al fiknesse.

ii þese ben þe names of twelue apostelis; þe first, Symoun, þat is clepid Petre, and Andrew, his broþer; iii Philip, and Bartilmew; Jamys of Zebedee, and Joon, his broþer; Thomas, and Matheu puplican; and James Alþe, and Thadee; iv Symount Canane, and Judas Scarioth, þe whiche betraide Crift.

v Jhesus sente þese twelue, comaundynge to hem, and fayinge, Gop ȝe nat into þe wey of heiþen men, and 'entre ȝe nat in to þe citees of Samaritanys; vi but raþer goþ to þe sheep of þe hous of Yrael, þat perishiden.

vii Soþely ȝee goynge preche, sayinge, for þe kyngdam of heuenes shal neiȝe; viii hele ȝe seke men, vpreyse ȝee dead men, clense ȝe meselis, 'caſt ȝe out deuelis; frely ȝe han taken, frely ȝeue ȝe.

ix Nyl ȝe welden gold, neþer syluer, ne money in ȝoure girdlis, x not a scribe in þe weye, neþer two cootis, neþer shoon, neþer zeerd; for a workman is worþi his mete.

xi In to whateuer citee, or castel, ȝe shulen entre, axeþ who þerinne is worþi, and þere 'dwelle ȝe, til þat ȝe gon out.

xii Forsoþe ȝe entrynge in to an house, 'grete ȝe, 'or salute ȝee, it, sayinge, Pees to þis hous.

xiii And soþely ȝif 'þat ilk hous be worþi, ȝoure pees shal come on it; forsoþe ȝif þat house be nat worþy, ȝoure pees shall turne aȝein to ȝou.

xiv And who euere shall nat rescyeue ȝou, neþer heer ȝoure wordis, ȝee goynge forþ fro þat hous, or citee, smytiþ awey þe dust fro ȝoure feet.

xv Trewly I say to ȝou, it shall be more suffreable to þe lond of men of Sodom and Gomor in þe day of iugement, þan to þat citee.

xvi Loo! I fende ȝou as sheep in to þe mydil of wolues; þerfore be ȝe 'war, or wijfe before, as serpentis, and symple as dowues.

xvii Forsoþe be ȝe war of men, for þei shuln taken ȝou in counseilis, and þei shuln bete ȝou in þere synagogis; xviii and to 'presidentis, or meyris, and to kyngis ȝe shuln be led for me, in to witnessyng to hem, and heþen men.

xix But whenne þei shuln take, 'or bitraie, ȝou, nyl ȝe þenke, how or what þing ȝee speeken, forsoþe it shal be ȝouen to ȝou in þat hour, what ȝe shuln speke;

xx for it ben nat ȝe þat speken, but þe spirit of ȝoure fadir, þat spekiþ in ȝou.

xxi Soþely þe broþer shal take þe broþer in to deþ, and þe fadir þe sone, and þe sonys shuln ryse aȝeins fadir and modir, and shuln tourmente hem bi deþ.

xxii And ȝe shuln be in hate to alle men, for my name; forsoþe he þat shall 'dwelle stille in to þe eende, þis shal be saaf.

xxiii Soþely whenne þei shuln pursue ȝou in þis citee, 'flee ȝe 'in to an oþer. Trewly I faye to ȝou, ȝe shuln nat eende þe citees of Yrael, til þat mannes sone cume.

xxiv þe disciple is nat aboue þe maistre, ne þe seruaunt aboue his lord;

xxv it is ynow to þe disciple, 'þat he be as his maistre, and to þe seruaunt as his lord. ȝif þei han clepid þe 'husbonde man, 'or þe fadir of meyne, Belzebub, hou myche more his houlholde meyne?

xxvi Perfore drede ȝe nat hem; for no þing is couerid, 'or hid, þat shal nat be shewid; and no þing is preuy, þat shal nat be wist.

xxvii ȝat þing þat Y say to ȝou in dercnessis, faye ȝee in þe liȝt; and preche ȝe vpon housis, þat þing þat ȝee heere in ere.

xxviii And nyl ȝe dreede hem þat fleen þe body; trewly þei mowen nat flea þe soule; bot raþer dreede ȝe hym, þat may lese soule and body in to helle.

xxix Wheþer twey sparwys ben not fold for an halpeny? and oon of hem shal nat falle on þe erþe wiþouten ȝoure fadir.

xxx Forsoþe alle þe heiris of ȝoure heued be noumbred. xxxi Perfore nyle ȝe drede; ȝe ben better þan many sparwys.

xxxii Perfore euery man þat shal knowleche me before men, and I shal knowleche hym byfore my fadir þat is in heuenes.

xxxiii Soþely he þat shal denye me bifore men, and I shall deniȝe hym before my fadir whiche is in heuenes.

xxxiv Nyl ȝee deme, þat I cam to fende pees in to erþe, I cam not to fende pees 'in to erþe, but swerd.

xxxv Soþely Y cam to departe a man aȝeins his fadir, and þe douȝter aȝeins hire modir, and þe sonys wyf aȝeins þe 'wyues, or husbondis, modir;

xxxvi and þe enmyes of a man ben his homly meynee.
 xxxvii He þat loueþ fadir or modir more þan me, is nat `worþi of me. And he þat loueþ fone or douȝter ouer me, is nat worþi of me.
 xxxviii And he þat takiþ nat his croſſe, and sueþ me, is not worþi of me.
 xxxix He þat fyndiþ his soule, þat is, temporal lyf, shal leefe it; and he þat lesiþ his soule, `þat is, lif, for me, shal fynde it.
 xl He þat resseyueþ ȝou, resseyueþ me; and he þat resseyueþ me, resseyueþ hym þat fente me. xli And he þat resseyueþ a prophete in þe name of a prophete, shal take þe mede of a prophete. And he þat resseyueþ a iust man in þe name of a iust man, shal take þe mede of a iust man.
 xlii And who euer ȝiueþ drynke to oon of þese leste a cuppe of cold water oonly in þe name of a disciple, trewly I saye to ȝou, he shal nat leefe his mede.

Capitulum XI.

i And it is don, when Jhesus hadde eendid, he, comaundynge to his twelue disciplis, passide fro þennes for to `preche and teche in þe citees of hem.
 ii Forsoþe when Joon in boondis hadde herd þe werkis of Crist, he, sendynge two or þree of his disciplis, iii seide to hym, Art þou he þat art to cummyng, or we abiden an oþer?
 iv And Jhesus answerynge, seide to hem, ȝee goynge telle aȝein to Joon þe þingis þat ȝe han herde and seen.
 v Blynde men seen, crokid men wandren, mesels ben maad clene, deef men heeren, dead men risen aȝein, pore men ben `taken to prechynge of þe gospel, or ben `maad keepers of þe gospel.
 vi And he is bleffid, þat shal nat be sclaundrid in me.
 vii Soþely hem goynge awey, Jhesus biganne for to seye of Joon to þe cumpanyes, What þing wenten ȝe out for to see in desert? wheþer a reede wawid wiþ wynd? viii But what þing wente ȝe out for to seen? wheþer a man cloþid wiþ soft þingis? Loo! þei þat ben cloþid wiþ softe þingis ben in housis of kyngis.
 ix But what þing wenten ȝe out for to se? wheþer a prophete? ȝe, I seie to ȝou, and more þan a prophete.
 x For þis is he, of whom it is writyn, Loo! I fende myne aungel before þi face, þat shal make redy þi wey bifore þee.
 xi Trewly I say to ȝou, `þer roose noon more þan Joon Baptist amonge children of wommen; forsoþe he þat is lesse in þe kyngdam of heuenes, is more þan he.
 xii Soþely fro þe days of Joon Baptyst til now þe kyngdam of heuenes suffreþ strengþe, `or violence, and violent men rauyshen it.
 xiii For alle prophetis and þe lawe til Joon Baptyst prophecieden;
 xiv and ȝif ȝe wolen resseyuen, he is Ely þat is to cume.
 xv He þat haþ eeris of heerynge, heere he.

xvi But to whom shal I gesse þis generacioun lichy? It is lichi to children fittyng in cheepynge, þe whiche, cryinge to her peeris,
 xvii feien, We han fungen to ȝou, and ȝe han nat lippid;
 we han mourned to ȝou, and ȝe han nat weilid.
 xviii Soþely Joon cam neijer etyinge ne drynkyng, and þei feien, He haþ a deuel.
 xix ȝe fone of man came etynge `and drynkyng, and þei seyen, Loo! a man deouurer, `or glotoun, and drynker of wyn, and frend of puplicanys and synful men. And wijsdam is iustified of her sonys.
 xx Panne Jhesus began for to seie repreue to citees, in whiche ful manye vertues of hym ben don, for þei diden nat penaunce.
 xxi Woo to þee! Corozaym, woo to þee! Bethaida; for ȝif þo vertues þat ben don in ȝou hadden ben don in Tyre and Sydon, sum tyme þei hadden don penaunce in haire and asch.
 xxii Neþeles I say, it shal be softer, or `lesse peyne, to Tyre and Sydon þan to ȝou, in þe day of dome.
 xxiii And þou, Caphernaum, wheþer til in to heuen þou shalt be `rerid vp? þou shalt go doun til into helle. For ȝif þe vertues þat ben don in þee, hadden be don in Sodom, perauenture þei `shulden han dwellid til `vn to þis day.
 xxiv Neþeles Y saye to ȝou, for to þe lond of Sodom it shal be softer, `or lesse peyne, in þe day of dome, þan to þee.
 xxv In `þe ilk tyme Jhesus answerynge saide, I knowleche to þee, fadir, lord of heuen and erþe, for þou haſt hid þe þingis fro wiſle men and `ware, or fleeȝ men, and haſt shewid hem to litil men; xxvi so, fadir, for whi so it was `pleſyng tofore þee.
 xxvii Alle þingis ben taken to me of my fadir; and no man knewe þe fone, no but þe fadir, neijer eny man knewe þe fadir, no but þe fone, and to whom þe fone wolde shewe.
 xxviii Alle ȝe þat traueilen, and ben chargid, come to me, and I shal refrefhe, `or fulfille, ȝou.
 xxix Take ȝe my ȝoc vpon ȝou, and `lerne ȝe of me, for I am mylde and meeke in herte; and ȝe shulen fynde reste in ȝoure soulis.
 xxx For my ȝoc is `swete, or softe, and my charge `liȝt, or eisly.

Capitulum XII.

i In þat tyme Jhesus wente by cornys on þe sabot day; forsoþe his disciplis, hungrynge, bigunnen to pluc eris of corn, and to ete.
 ii Soþely Pharisees feeynge, feiden to hym, Loo! þi disciplis don þat þing þat is nat leeful to hem to do in sabothis.
 iii And he seide to hem, Wheþer ȝe han nat rad, what Dauȝþ didde, when he hungride, and þei þat weren wiþ
 hym?

iv hou he entride in to þe hous of God, and ete louis of proposiciooun, 'or puttynge forþ, þe whiche louis was nat leeful to hym to eet, neþer to hem þat weren wiþ hym, no but to prestis only?
v 'Or wheþer ȝe han nat rad in þe lawe, for in sabothis prestis in þe temple defoulen þe sabothis, and þei ben wiþ outen grete synne?
vi Soþely Y saye to ȝou, for þis is more þan þe temple.
vii Forsoþe ȝif ȝe wisten, what it is, I wole mercy, and nat sacrifice, ȝe shulden neuer han condempnyd innocentis.
viii Trewly mannys sone is, 'ȝhe, lord of þe sabot.
ix And whenne he paſſide þennus, he came in to þe synagoge of hem.
x And loo! a man hauynge a drye hond. And þei axiden hym, sayinge, ȝif it is leeful to heele in þe sabot? þat þei shulden acufe hym.
xi Soþely he feide to hem, Who shal be a man of ȝou, þat haþ oo sheep, and ȝif it shal falle doun in to a dike in þe sabotis, wheþer he shal nat holde, and lift it vp?
xii Hou moche more 'is a man betre þan a sheep? 'And so it is leeful to do good in þe sabot.
xiii Panne he feide to þe man, Strecche forþ þin hond. And he streiȝte forþ; and it is restorid 'to helpe as þe toþer.
xiv Forsoþe Pharisees goyng out, maden a counsel aȝeins hym, hou þei shulden leefe hym.
xv Soþely Jhesus witynge, wente awey þennes; and many sueden hym, and he helide hem alle.
xvi And he comaundide to hem, þat þei shulden nat make hym 'opyn, or knownen; xvii þat þat þing shulde be fulfilled, þat was said by Ysay, þe prophete, seyinge, xviii Loo! my chosen child, 'whom I haue chosen, my derlyng, in whom it haþ wel plesid to my soule; I shal putte my spirit on hym, and he shal telle dome to heþen men.
xix He shal nat stryue, 'ne crye, neþer eny man shal here his voice in stretis.
xx He shal nat breke to gidre a schaken reed, and he shal nat quenche smokyng flax, til þat he cast out dome to victorie;
xxi and heþen men shulen hope in his name.
xxii Panne a blynd man and doumb, hauynge a deuel, was offrid vp to hym; and he helide hym, so þat he spac, and say.
xxiii And alle þe cumpanyes wondreden, and saiden, Wher þis be þe sone of Dauiþ?
xxiv But þe Pharisees, herynge, seiden, He þis castiþ not out feendis, no but in Belzabub, prince of fendis.
xxv Soþely Jhesus, witynge her þouȝtis, seide to hem, Eche kyngdam departid aȝeins 'hym self, shal be defolat, 'or discounfortid, and eche citee, or hous, departid aȝeins it self, shal nat stonde.

xxvi And ȝif Sathanas castiþ out Sathanas, he is departid aȝeins hym self; þerfore hou shal his kyngdam stonde?
xxvii And ȝif I in Belzabub cast out deuelis, in whom, 'or whos miȝt, ȝoure sonys casten out? Perfore þei shulen ben ȝoure domys men.
xxviii Forsoþe ȝif I in þe Spirit of God caste out fendis, þerfore þe kyngdam of God is cummen in to ȝou, 'or amonge ȝou.
xxix Eþer hou may eny man entre in to þe hous of a stonge man, and take awey his vessellis, no but first he shal bynde þe stonge man, and þan he shal rauyfhe his hous?
xxx He þat is nat wiþ me, is aȝeinus me; and he þat gadriþ nat to gidre wiþ me, scatriþ abrood.
xxxi Perfore Y seye to ȝou, al synne and blasphemye shal be forȝouen to men, but þe 'spirit of blasphemye shal nat be forȝouen.
xxxii And who euere shal seie a word aȝeins mannys sone, it shal be forȝouen to hym; forsoþe 'he þat shall seye a word aȝeins þe Holy Gooft, it shal nat be forȝouen to hym, neþer in þis world, ne in 'þe toþer.
xxxiii Eþer make ȝe þe tree good, and his fruyt good; eþer make ȝe þe tree yuel, and his fruyt euyl; forsoþe a tree is knownen of þe fruyt.
xxxiv ȝe generacioun of eddris, howe mowe ȝe speke good þingis, when ȝe ben yuel? Soþely þe mouȝ spekiȝ of þe grete plente of þe herte.
xxxv A good man brengiȝ forþ good þingis of good tresoure, and an yuel man bryngiȝ forþ yuel þingis of yuel trefour.
xxxvi Forsoþe Y seie to ȝou, for whi of euery ydel word þat men speken, þei shul ȝelde resoun þerof in þe day of dome;
xxxvii for of þi wordis þou shalt be iustified, and of þi wordis þou shalt be dampnyd.
xxxviii Panne sume of þe scribes and Pharisees answereden to hym, seyinge, Maistre, we wolden se a tokne of þee.
xxxix þe whiche answerynge 'seij to hem, An iuel generacioun and auotrere sekij a tokne, and tokne shal nat be ȝouen to it, no but þe tokne of Jonas, þe prophete.
xl For as Jonas was in þe womb of a whall þree days and þree niȝtis, so mannus sone shal be in þe herte of þe erþe þree days and þree niȝtis.
xli Men of Nynyue shal ryse in dome wiþ þis generacioun, and shulen condempne it; for þei diden penaunce in þe prechynge of Jonas, and loo! here is more þan Jonas.
xlii þe queen of þe souȝ shal ryse in dome wiþ þis generation, and shal condempne it; for she came fro þe eendis of þe erþe, for to here þe wiðdam of Salomon, and loo! heere is more þan Salomon.

xliii Forsoþe whan an vnclene spirit `shal go out fro a man, he goþ by drye places, seekyng reſte, and he fyndyþ nat.
xliii Panne he faþ, I ſhal turne aȝein in to my hous, fro whennys Y came out. And he cummyng fyndiþ it voide, clenſid wiþ biftmes, and maad faire.
xlv Panne he goþ, and takiþ ſeuен ober ſpiritis wiþ hym, worse þan hym ſelf; and þei entrynge yn dwellen bere. And he laſt þingis of þat man ben maad worse þan þe former. So it ſhal be and to þis worſt generacioun.
xlivi ȝit hym ſpekyng to þe cumpañies `of peple, loo! his modir and his breþeren ſtoden wiþ outforþ, ſeekyng for to ſpeke to hym.
xlvii Soþely ſum man ſaide to hym, Loo! þi modir and þi breþren ſtonden wiþ outforþ, ſeekyng þee.
xlviii And he, anſwerynge to þe man ſeiyng to hym, ſeip, Who is my modir? and who ben my breþren?
xlix And he holdynge forþ his hond in to his diſciples, feide, Loo! my modir and my breþeren;
I `treuly whoeuer doþ þe wil of my fadir þat is in heuenes, he `is my broþer, fuſter, and modir.

Capitulum XIII.

i In þat day Jhesus goyng out of þe hous, sat besidis þe fee.
ii And manye cumpañies `of peple ben gedrid to hym, ſo þat he ſteyinge vp in to a boot fat; and al þe cumpañie ſtode in þe bryneke.
iii And he ſpak to hem many þingis in parablis, ſeiyng, Loo! he þat ſowiþ, goþ out to ſowe his feed.
iv And þe while he ſoweb, ſumfelden byſide þe weye, and briddis of þe eyre camen, and eeten hem.
v Soþely ober ſeedisfelden into ſtoony placis, wher þei hadden nat moche erþe; and anoon þei ben ſprungene vp, for þei hadde nat depneſſe of erþe.
vi Soþely þe funne ſprung vp, þei ſwaliden, or brenden for hete, and for þei hadden nat roote, þei drieden vp.
vii Forſoþe ober ſeedisfelden amoneg bornis; and þe bornis wexen vp, and strangliden hem.
viii But ober ſeedisfelden in to good lond, and ȝauen fruyt; ſume an hundred fold, `anoþer ſexti fold, anoþer britti fold.
ix He þat haþ eris of heerynge, heere he.
x And diſciplis `cummyng to ſeiden to hym, Whi ſpekiſt þou in parablis to hem?
xi þe whiche anſwerynge ſeip to hem, For to ȝou it is ȝouen for to knowe þe mysterie, `or priuyte, of þe kyngdam of heuenes; but it is nat ȝouen to hem.
xii For it ſhal be ȝouen to hym þat haþ, and he ſhal haue plentee; trewly `who þat haþ nat, þat þing þat he `is ſeen `to haue ſhal be taken awaye fro hym.
xiii Perfore I ſpeke to hem in parablis, for þei ſeeyng see nat, and þei heerynge heeren nat, neþer vndirſtonden;

xiv þat þe prophecie of Yſay ſeiyng be fulfillid in hem, Wiþ heerynge ȝe ſhulen heere, and ȝee ſhulen nat vnderſtonde; and ȝee ſeeyng ſhulen ſee, and ȝee ſhulen nat ſee;
xv for þe herte of þis peple is enfattid, and þei herden greuously wiþ eris, and þei han cloſid her eeȝen, þat ſum tyme þei ſee wiþ eeȝen, and wiþ eris heeren, and vndirſtonden in herte, and þei ben `to gidre turned, and I heele hem.
xvi Forſoþe ȝoure eeȝen þat ſeen ben bleſſid, and ȝoure eris þat heeren.
xvii Forſoþe I ſaye trewþe to ȝou, for many prophetis and iuſte men coueitiden to ſee þoo þingis þat ȝee ſeen, and þei ſaien nat, and to heeren þoo þingis þat ȝee heeren, and þei herden nat.
xviii Perfore heere ȝe þe parable of þe `ſowynge man.
xix Eche þat heeriþ þe word of rewme, and vndirſtondiþ nat, þe yuel ſpirit comeþ, and rauyschiþ þat þat is ſowyn in his herte; þis is þat is ſowen beſidis þe weye.
xx Soþely he þat is ſowen on þe ſtoon, `þis it is, þat heeriþ þe word of God, and anoon wiþ ioye takiþ it.
xxi Forſoþe he haþ nat roote in hym ſelf, but it is temporal; `þat is, it laſtiþ bot a litil tyme. Forſoþe tribulacioun and perſecucioun maad for þe word, anoon he is ſclaundrid.
xxii Bot he þat is ſowen in þornys, is þis þat heriþ þe word, and þe byſyneſſe of þis world, and þe falſneſſis of Ritchefſis strangliþ þe word, and it is maad wiþ outen fruyt.
xxiii Bot he þat is ſowen in to good lond, is þis þat heriþ þe word, and vndirſtondiþ, and bryngþe forþ fruyt. And ſoþely ſume makiþ an hundrefold, treuly anoþer ſixtyfold, forſoþe anoþer þrittifold.
xxiv Anoþer parable Jhesus putte forþ `to hem, ſeyng, þe kyngdam of heuenes is maad liche to a man, þat ſew good feed in his feeld.
xxv But, when men flepten, his enmye came, and few aboue dernel, `or cokil, in þe midil of whete, and wente awey.
xxvi Soþely when þe herbe hadde growid, and maad fruyt, þanne þe dernel, `or cokil, apperiden.
xxvii Forſoþe þe ſerauntis of þe hufbondeman `comyng niȝ, `feiden to hym, Lord, wher þou haſt nat ſowen good feed in þi feeld? wher of þan haþ it dernel, `or cokil?
xxviii And he ſeip to hem, þe man enmye haþ don þis þing. Trewly þe ſerauntis feiden to him, Wolt þou we go, and gedren hem?
xxix And he faþ, Nay, leſt perauenture ȝe gedryngē dernels, `or coclis, draw vp by þe roote togidre wiþ hem and þe whete.
xxx Suffre ȝe `hem boþe wexe til to rype corne; and in tyme of rype corn I ſhal ſeie to reperis, First gedre ȝee `to gedre dernels, `or cockilis, and byndeþ hem to gidre in knytcis, 'or smale bundelis, for to be brent, but gedere ȝe whete in to my berne.

xxxi An oþer parable Jhefus putte forþ to hem, seiyng, ȝe kyngdam of heuenes is like to a corn of seneuey, ȝe whiche a man takynge sewe in his feeld.

xxxii ȝe whiche trewly is leest of alle seedis, but when it haþ wexen, it is most of alle wortis, and is maad a tree; so þat briddis of ȝe eyre cummen, and dwellen in 'bowis, or braunchis, þerof.

xxxiii An oþer parable 'Jhesus spac to hem, ȝe kyngdam of heuenes is lic to foure dowȝ, ȝe whiche taken, a womman hidde in þree mesuris of meeple, til it were al fowrdowid.

xxxiv Jhesus spac alle þese þingis in parablis to ȝe cumpanyes 'of peple, and he spac nat to hem wiþ outen parablis, xxxv þat it shulde be fulfillid, 'þat þing þat is seid by ȝe prophete, seyinge, I shal opyn my mouȝ in parablis; I shal 'bolke out, or telle oute, 'hid þingus fro makynge of ȝe world.

xxxvi Panne ȝe cumpanyes laft, he came into an hous; and his disciplis camen niȝ to hym, seiyng, Expoune to vs ȝe parable of dernelis, 'or cokelis, of ȝe feeld.

xxxvii ȝe whiche answerynge saiþ, He þat sowiþ good feed is mannes sone; xxxviii soþely ȝe feld is ȝe world; bot ȝe good feed, þese ben sonys of ȝe kyngdam, dernels, 'or cocklis, forsoþe þese ben 'yuel sonys;

xxxix but ȝe enmye þat soweþ hem is ȝe feend; but ȝe ripe corn is ȝe eendyng of ȝe world, soþely ȝe repers ben angelis.

xl Perfore as dernels ben gedrid to gidre, and brent in fijr, so it shal be in ȝe eendyng of ȝe world.

xli Mannes sone shal fende his angels, and þei shulden gedre of his rewme alle scalaundris, and hem þat don wickidnesse;

xlii and þei shulden fende hem into ȝe chymney of fijr, þere shal be weepynge and betynge togidre of teep.

xliii Panne iust men shulden shyne as ȝe funne, in ȝe rewme of her fadir. He þat haþ eris of heerynge, heere he.

xliii ȝe kyngdame of heuenes is lijk to tresour hid in a feeld, ȝe whiche a man þat fyndiþ, hidriþ; and for ioye 'of it he goþ, and felliþ alle þingis þat he haþ, and bieþ 'ȝe ilk feeld.

xlv Eftsones ȝe kyngdam of heuenes is lic to a man marchaunt, seekyng good margarytis; xlivi soþely oo preciouſe margarite founden, he wente, and folde alle þingis þat he hadde, and bouȝte it.

xlvii Eft ȝe kingdam of heuenes is lic to a nette sent in to ȝe see, and of alle kynd of fishis gedrynge;

xlviii ȝe whiche whan it was fulfillid, men ledynge out, and fittyng byldis ȝe brynde, cheefiden ȝe good into her vessels, but þei fenten out ȝe yuel.

xlix So it shal be in ȝe eending of ȝe world. Angelis shulen gon out, and shulen departe yuel men fro ȝe mydil of iuste men.

i And þei shulen fende hem into ȝe chymney of fijr; þere shal be weepynge and betynge togidre of teep.

ii Han ȝee vnderstonden alle þese þingis? Pei seien to hym, ȝe he.

iii He seiþ to hem, Perfore euery wryter tauȝt in ȝe kyngdam of heuenes, is lic to an husbonde man, þat bryngiþ forþ of his tresour newe þingis and olde.

iv And it is don, whanne Jhesus hadde eendid þese parables, he passide fro þennis.

viiii And he, cummyng in to his cuntree, tauȝt hem in her synagogis, so þat þei wondriden, and feiden, Wherof to hym þis wisdam and vertues?

vi Wher is nat þis ȝe sone of a 'smyþ, or carpenter? Wher his modir be nat feid Marie? and his breþen, Jamys, and Joseph, and Symount, and Judas?

vii and 'his sistris, wher þei 'alle ben nat at vs? Perfore wherof to hym alle þese þingis?

viii And so þei weren scalaundrid in hym. Forsoþe Jhesus feide to hem, A prophete is nat wiþ outen wirshire, no but in his owne cuntree, and in his owne hous.

viii And he dide nat þere manye vertues, for ȝe vnbyleue of hem.

Capitulum XIII.

i In þat tyme Eroude 'tetrarcha, þat is, prince of ȝe fourþe part, herde ȝe fame of Jhesu;

ii and feide to his children, Bis is Jon Baptist, he haþ risen fro dead, and perfore vertues worchen in hym.

iii Forsoþe Eroude helde Joon, and bounde hym, and putte him in to prisoun for Erodias, ȝe wif of his broþer.

iv For Joon faide to hym, It is nat leful to þee for to haue him.

v And he willynge to fle hym, drede ȝe peple; for þei hadden hym as a prophete.

vi Forsoþe in ȝe day of Eroudis birþe, ȝe douȝter of Erodias lepte in ȝe mydil, and pleside to Eroude.

vii Wherfore wiþ an ooþ he byhiȝte for to ȝeue to him, what euer þinge he hadde axid of hym.

viii And she bifore monestid, 'or warnyd, of his modir, seiþ, ȝeue þou to me hidir ȝe hed of Joon Baptist in a dische.

ix And ȝe kyng was forowful, but for ȝe ooþ, and for hem þat feeten to gidre at ȝe mete, he comaundide to be ȝouen.

x And he fente, and bihedge Joon in ȝe prisoun.

xi And his heed is brouȝt to in a dische, and it is ȝouen to ȝe whench, and she bare it to his modir.

xii And his disciplis 'cummyng to token his body, and bryeden it; and þei cummyng tolden to Jhesu.

xiii ȝe whiche þing when Jhesus hadde herd, he went fro þennus 'in to a boot, in to desert place besidis. And whenne þe cumpanyes `of peple hadden herd, þei folowiden hym and on þe feet fro citees.

 xiii And Jhesus, goyng out, saw a greet multitude `of peple, and hadde rewþe of hem, and heelide þe lice men of hem.
 xv Soþely þe euenyng maad, his disciplis `camen niȝ to him, seiyng, Þe place is desert, and þe hour haþ now paſſid; leue þou þe cumpanyes `of peple, þat þei, goyng in to caſtels, bigge meetis to hem.
 xvi Forſoþe Jhesus ſeide to hem, Þei han nat neede to go; ȝeue ȝe to hem for to ete.
 xvii Þei anſweriden, We han nat here, no but fiue looues and two fishis.
 xviii Þe whiche ſeip to hem, Brynge ȝee hem hidir to me.
 xix And when he hadde comaundid þe cumpayne for to fitte to mete on hay, fyue looues and two fishis taken, he byholdynge in to heuen, bleffide, and brak, and ȝau to his disciplis; ſoþely þe disciplis ȝauen to þe cumpanyes.
 xx And alle eeten, and weren fulfillid. And þei token þe relifis of broken gobetis, twelue cofyns ful.
 xxi Forſoþe þe noumbe of men etynge was fyue þousand of men, out taken wemmen and litel children.
 xxii And anon Jhesus compellide, `or comaundide, þe disciplis for to `go vp in to a boot, and go bifore hym ouer þe fee, til þat he lefte þe cumpanyes.
 xxiii And þe cumpanyes left, he ſteȝide vp in to an hill aloone for to preye. Soþely þe euenyng maad, he was þere aloone.
 xxiv Soþely þe boot in þe mydil fee was þrownen wiþ wawis, forſoþe þe wynd was contrarie.
 xxv But in þe fourþe wakyng of þe niȝt, he came to hem walkynge aboue þe fee.
 xxvi And þei, feeyng hym walkynge aboue þe fee, weren diſtoublid, feyinge, For it is a fantum; and for drede þei cryeden.
 xxvii And anoon Jhesus ſpac to hem, ſayinge, Haue ȝe truſt, I am; nyl ȝe dreede.
 xxviii Soþely Petre anſwerynge ſeide, Lord, ȝif þou art, comaunde me to cum to þee vpon þe watriſ.
 xxix And he ſeip, Cume þou. And Petre goyng doun fro þe bote, walkide on þe wateris for to cum to Jhesu.
 xxx Trewly he, feeyng a strong wynde, `was aferde; and whan he bygan for to be drenchid, he cryede, feyinge, Lord, make me ſaaf.
 xxxi And anoon Jhesus, holdynge forþ þe hond, cauȝte hym, and ſeip to hym, Pou of litil ſeip, whi haſt þou doutid?
 xxxii And whenne he hadde ſtied vp in to þe boot, þe wynde ceſſide.
 xxxiii Soþely þei, þat weren in þe boot, camen, and worshipiden hym, feyinge, Veryly, þou art Goddis ſone.

xxxiv And whenne he had paſſide ouer þe fee, þei camen in to þe lond of Genefar.
 xxxv And whenne men of þat place hadden knownen hym, þei fenten into al þat cuntree; and þei offriden to hym al hauynge yuel.
 xxxvi And þei preyiden hym, þat þei ſhulden touche eþer þe hem of `þe cloþing `of hym; and who euer touchiden ben maad ſaaf.

Capitulum XV.

i Thanne ſcribis and Pharifees `camen niȝ to hym fro Jerusalem, feyinge, ii Whi bi disciplis ouerpaffen, `or breken, þe tradiciouns, `or statutis, of elder men? for þei washen nat hondis, whenne þei eten breed.
 iii Soþely he anſwerynge ſeip to hem, And `whi and ȝe breken þe maundement of God for ȝoure tradiciooun?
 iv For whi God ſeide, Honour þi fadir and þi modir, and he þat cursip fadir or modir, dye he by deþ.
 v But ȝe feyn, Who euere `ſhal faye to fadir or modir, What euere ȝifte is of me, it ſhal profite to þee;
 vi and he haþ not worshipid his fadir or modir; and ȝe han made þe maundement of God voide, `or idyl, for ȝoure tradiciooun.
 vii Ipocritis, Yſay, þe prophete, propheciode wel of ȝou, feyinge, viii þis peple honoureþ me wiþ lippis, forſoþe her herte is fer fro me;
 ix trewly þei worshipen me wiþ outen cause, techynge þe doctrines and maundements of men.
 x And þe cumpanyes `of peple clepid `to gidre to hym, he ſeide to hem, Heere ȝe, and vnderſtonde.
 xi Nat þat þing þat entriþ in to þe mouþ, defouliþ a man; but þat þing þat cummeþ forþ fro þe mouþ, defouliþ a man.
 xii Panne his disciplis `cummyng niȝ ſeiden to hym, Woſt þou, þat, þis word herd, Pharifees ben ſclaundrid?
 xiii And he anſwerynge ſeip, Euery plantynge, þe whiche my fadir of heuen haþ nat plantid, ſhal be drawen vp by þe roote.
 xiv Suffre ȝe hem; þei ben blynde, `and lederis of blynde men. Soþely ȝif a blynd man ȝeue ledynge to a blynd man, boþe fallen doun in to þe diche.
 xv Forſoþe Petre anſwerynge ſaide to hym, Expoun to vs þis parable.
 xvi And he ſeide, ȝit and ȝe ben wiþout vnderſtondyng?
 xvii Wher ȝe vnderſtonde nat, þat al þing þat entriþ in to þe mouþ, gop in to þe wombe, and is ſent out in to þe goyng awey?
 xviii But þo þingis þat cummen forþ fro þe mouþ, gon out of þe herte, and þo þingus defoulen a man.
 xix For of þe herte `gon out yuel þouȝtis, manſleayngis, auoutries, fornicaciouns, þeftis, `fals witneſſis, blaſphemyes.

xx Pese þingis it ben þat defoulen a man; soþely for to ete wiþ hondis vnwafhen, defouleþ not a man.
 xxi And Jhefus gon out fro þennys, wente into parties of Tyre and Sidon.
 xxii And loo! a womman of Canane gon out of þe coftis, cryede, seyinge to hym, Lord, þe son of Dauid, haue mercye on me; my douȝter is yuel traeilid of a deyul.
 xxiii Þe whiche answyerid nat to hir o word. And his disciplis 'cummynge to preyden hym, seyinge, Leeue þou hire, for hie crieb after vs.
 xxiv Forsoþe he answerynge seiþ, I am nat sent, no but to þe sheep of þe hous of Yrael þat perishiden.
 xxv Bot hie came, and wirshipide hym, seyinge, Lord, help me.
 xxvi Þe whiche answerynge seiþ, It is nat good for to take þe breed of sonyis, and sende to houndis.
 xxvii And hie seide, ȝhe, Lord; forwhi and þe litel whelpis eten of þe crummys, þat fallen doun fro þe bord of her lordis.
 xxviii Panne Jhesus answeringe seiþ to hir, O! þou womman, þi seiþ is grete; be it don to þee, as þou wolt. And hir douȝter was heelid fro þat hour.
 xxix And whenne Jhesus hadde passide þennes, he came bisidis þe fee of Galilee. And he steyng in to an hyl, sat þere.
 xxx And many cumpanyes 'camen niȝ to hym, hauynge wiþ hem doumbe men and crokis, feble and blynde, and many opir; and castiden hem doun at his feet. And he helide hem, xxxi So þat þe cumpanyes wondriden, seyng e doumbe men spekyng, and crokis goynge, blynd men seyng; and þei magnyfieden God of Yrael.
 xxxii Soþely Jhesus, his disciplis gedered to gider, seide, I haue rewþe of þe cumpany 'of peple, for now 'þe bridde day þei dwellen still wiþ me, and þei han not þing whiche þei shulen ete; and Y 'wole nat leeue hem fastynge, left þei failen in þe weye.
 xxxiii And þe disciplis seyen to hym, Perfore wheroft so many louuys to vs in desert, þat we fulfille so grete a cumpayne 'of peple?
 xxxiv And Jhesus seiþ to hem, Hou many louuys han ȝee? And þei seiden, Seuene, and a few smalle fishis.
 xxxv And he comaundide to þe cumpany, þat þei shulde fitt to þe mete vpon þe erþe.
 xxxvi And he takyng feuen louues, and fishis, and doyng þonkyngis, brak, and ȝauet to his disciplis; and disciplis ȝauen to þe peple.
 xxxvii And alle eten, and weren fulfillid, and þei token þat þat was ouer of relyues, feuene lepis fulle.
 xxxviii Forsoþe þei þat eten weren foure þousand of men, wiþ outen litil children and wemmen.
 xxxix And, þe cumpayne 'of peple laft, he styeðe vp in to a boot, and cam into þe coftis of Magedan.

Capitulum XVI.

i And Pharisees and Saduceis temptynge him 'camen niȝ to hym, and preiden hym for to shewe to hem a tokene fro heuene.
 ii And he answerynge seiþ to hem, Be eeuenyng maad, ȝe seien, It shal be clearer, for þe heuene is 'lijk to reed;
 iii and 'þe morwe, To day tempeſt, for heuen shyneþ 'heuy, or forwful. Perfore ȝe 'han knowe to deme wiſely þe face of heuen, but ȝe mowen not wite þe tokenys of tymes.
 iv Þe yuel generacioun and avowtrer sekiþ a tokne; and a tokene shal nat be ȝouen to it, no but þe tokne of Jonas, þe prophete. And, hem forsaken, he wente awey.
 v And whenne his disciplis camen ouer þe see, þei forȝaten for to take louuys.
 vi Þe whiche feide to hem, Beholde ȝe, and beþ war of þe fourdowȝ of Pharisees and Saducees.
 vii And þei þouȝten amonge hem, seyng, For we han nat taken louuys.
 viii Forsoþe Jhesus witynge feide to hem, What þenken ȝe amonge ȝou of litil feiþ, for ȝe han nat louuys?
 ix ȝit ȝe vndirstonden nat, neþer han mynde of fyue louuys in to fyue þousand of men, and hou many cofyns ȝe token?
 x trewly neþer of feuen louuys in to four þousand of men, and hou many lepis ȝee token?
 xi Whi vndirstonden ȝe nat, for I feide nat to ȝou of breed, Be ȝe war of fourdowȝ of Pharisees and of Saducees?
 xii Panne þei vnderstoden, þat he feide nat to be war of fourdowȝ of louuys, bote of þe techyng of Pharisees and Saducees.
 xiii Soþely Jhesus came in to þe parties 'of Cesarie of Philip, and axide his disciplis, seyinge, Whom seyn men to ben mannes sone?
 xiv And þei seiden, Summe Joon Baptist; oþer forsoþe Hely; 'but oþer Jeremye, or oon of þe prophetis.
 xv Jhesus seiþ to hem, Soþely whom seien ȝe me to be?
 xvi Symon Petre answerynge feide, Pou art Crist, þe sone of 'God lyuynge.
 xvii Forsoþe Jhesus answerynge feide to hym, Bleſſid art þou, Symon Bariona, þat is, þe lone of culuer; for flesh and blood shewide nat to þee, but my fadir þat is in heuenes.
 xviii And Y seye to þee, for þou art Petre, and vpon þis stoon I shal bilde my churche, and þe ȝatis of helle shulen nat han miȝt, 'or strengþe, aȝeins it.
 xix And to þee I shal ȝeue þe keies of þe kyngdam of heuenes; and what euer þou shalt bynde vpon erþe, shal be bounden and in heuenes; and what euer þou shalt vnbunde vpon erþe, shal be vnbounden and in heuenes.
 xx Panne he comaundide to his disciplis, þat þei shulden seie to no man, þat he was Crist.
 xxi Fro þat tyme Jhesus bygan for to shewe to his disciplis, þat it byhouȝt hym to go to Jerusalem, and suffre many þingis of þe eldris, and scribis, and princis of prestis; and be fleyn, and þe þridde day ryse vp aȝein.

xxii And Petre, takynge hym to, began for to blame hym, seyinge, Fer be it fro þee, Lord; þis þing shal not be to þee.

xxiii ȝe whiche, turnyd, feide to Petre, Sathanas, go after me; þou art sclaudre to me; for þou `fauerist nat, or vndirstondist nat, þo þingis þat ben of God, but þo þingis þat ben of men.

xxiv ȝanne Jhesus feide to his disciplis, ȝif eny man wole cume after me, denye he hym self, and take his crosse, and sue me;

xxv for he þat wole make `his soule saaf, `þat is, his lyf, shal lese it; forsoþe he þat shal lese his soule, `þat is, his lyf, for me, shal fynde it.

xxvi Soþely what profitip it to a man, `ȝif he wynne al þe world, trewly he suffre peyryng of his soule? or what chaungyng shal a man ȝeue for his soule?

xxvii For mannes sone `is to come in glorie of his fadir, wip his angelis, and ȝanne he shal ȝelde to euery man aftir his workis.

xxviii Treuly I seie to ȝou, `þere ben summe of men stondyne heer, `þe whiche shul nat taaste deþ, til þei seen manrys sone cummyng in his kyngdom.

Capitulum XVII.

i And after sexe dayes Jhesus toke Petre, and Jamys, and Joon, his broþer, and ledde hem asydis in to an hiȝ hill,

ii and was transfigured, `or turnyd into an oþer lickenesse, bifore hem. And his face schoon as þe funne; forsoþe his cloþis were maad white as snow.

iii And lo! Moyses and Helye apperiden to hem, spekyng wip hym.

iv Soþely Petre answerynge seid to Jhesu, Lord, it is good vs to be here. ȝif þou wolt, make we here þree tabernaclis; to þee oon, to Moyses oon, and oon to Helië.

v ȝit hym spekyng, loo! a liȝty cloude shadewid hem; and loo! a vois of þe cloude, seyinge, ȝis is my derworþ sone, in whom I haue wel pleside to me; heere ȝe hym.

vi And þe disciplis, heerynge, fallen doun in to her facis, and dredden gretely.

vii And Jhesus `came niȝ, and touchide hem, and seide to hem, `Ris vp, nyl ȝe dreede.

viii Forsoþe þei, `rysynge vp her eiȝen, sawen no man, no but Jhesus aloon.

ix And, hem cummyng doun fro þe mounteyn, Jhesus comaundide hem, seyinge, Saie ȝe to no man þe visiou, til mannes sone ryse aȝein fro dead.

x And his disciplis axiden hym, seyinge, What þerfore feyn scribis, þat it behoueþ Hely first come?

xi And he answerynge seip to hem, Forsoþe Hely `is to come, and he shal restore alle þingis.

xii Treuly Y seye to ȝou, þat Hely is now comen, and þei knewen hym nat, but þei diden in hym, what euere þingis þei wolden; so and manrys sone `is to suffre of
hem.

xiii ȝanne disciplis vndirstoden, þat of Joon Baptist he hadde seid to hem.

xiv And whanne he cam to þe cumpayne `of peple, a man `cam to hym, foldid on knees byfore hym, seyinge,

xv Lord, haue mercy on my sone; for he is lunatyke, and suffriþ yuel, for why oft tymys he falliþ in to þe fijr, and oft tymys in to water.

xvi And I offride hym to þi disciplis, and þei myȝten nat hele hym.

xvii Jhesus answerynge seip, A! þou generacioun vnbyleeful, `or out of þe seip, and weoward; hou longe shal I be wiþ ȝou? hou longe shal I suffre ȝou? Brynge ȝee hym hidir to me.

xviii And Jhesus blamyde hym, and þe deuel wente out fro hym; and þe child is helid fro þat houre.

xix ȝanne disciplis `camen niȝ to Jhesu priuyl, and feiden to hym, Whi miȝte nat we casten hym out?

xx Jhesus seip to hem, For ȝoure vnbyleue. Treuly I seie to ȝou, ȝif ȝe shulen haue seip, as a corn of seneuey, ȝe shulen seie to þis hill, Passe þou hennus, and it shal passe; and no þing shal be impossible to ȝou;

xxi forsoþe þis kynde is nat cast out, no but by preyngie and fastyng.

xxii Treuly, hem lyuyng togidre in Galilee, Jhesus feide to hem, Mannes sone `is to be bitraied in to þe hondis of men;

xxiii and þei shulen fleah hym, and þe þridde day he shal ryse aȝein. And þei `ben maad ful sory.

xxiv And whanne `he came to Capharnaum, þei þat taken tribut, camen to Petre, and feiden to hym, ȝoure maister payeþ nat tribute?

xxv And he seip, ȝe. And whenne he had entrid in to an house, Jhesus came bifore hym, seyinge, Symount, what semeþ to þee? Of whiche taken þe kyngis of erþe tribut, `or rent? of her owne sonys, eþer of alyenys, `or oþer mennys sones?

xxvi And he seide, Of `oþer mennus sonys. Jhesus seide to hym, Perfore sonys ben free.

xxvii Forsoþe þat we sclaudre nat hem, go þou to þe see, and fende an hoke, and take `þe ilke fishe þat first cummeþ vp; and, his mouþ openyd, þou shalt fynde stater, `þat is, a certeyn of moneye; þou takyng it, ȝeue to hem for me and for þee.

Capitulum XVIII.

i In þat hour þe disciplis `camen niȝ to Jhesus, seiyngie, Who, gesiȝt þou, is more in þe kyngdam of heuenes?

ii And Jhesus, clepynge to a litil child, putte hym in þe mydil of hem;

iii and feide, 'I seie trewþe to ȝou, no but ȝif ȝe shulen be turnyd, and maad as litil children, ȝe shulen nat entren in to þe kyngdam of heuenes.
 iiiii Perfore who euere 'shal meeke hym as þis litil child, he is more in þe kyngdam of heuenes.
 v And he þat rescyeueþ oon siche litil in my name, rescyeueþ me.
 vi Forsoþe 'who shal scalaundre oon of þese 'smale leste, þat byleuen in me, it spedip to hym þat a myln stoon of alfs be hanged in his neeke, and be drenchid in to þe depnesse of þe see.
 vii Woo to þe world, for scalaundris; treuly it is neede, þat scalaundris come; nepeles woo to 'þe ilk man by whom a scalaundre comeþ.
 viii Forsoþe ȝif þin hond or þi foot scalaundre þee, kitt 'it of, and cast away fro þee. It is good to þee to entre in to lyf 'feble, ober croked, þan hauynge two hondis or two feet to be sent in to euerlastyng fijr.
 ix And ȝif þin eiȝe scalaundre þee, pulle it out, and cast away fro þee. It is good to þee wiþ oon eiȝe to entre in to lyf, þan hauynge two eiȝen to be sente in to 'fijr of helle.
 x Se ȝe, þat ȝe dispise nat oon of þese litile. Trewly I seie to ȝou, þat þe angelis of hem in heuenes seen euermore þe face of my fadir þat is in heuenes.
 xi Forsoþe mannys sone came for to saue þat þing þat perishide.
 xii What semeþ to ȝou? ȝif 'þer weren to summan an hundred sheep, and oon of hem 'shall erre, wher he shal nat leeue nynty and nyne in desert, and shal go for to seeke þat þat erride?
 xiii And if it befalle þat he fynde it, trewly I seie to ȝou, for he shal ioye þeron more þan of nynty and nyne þat erriden nat.
 xiv So it is nat will before youre fadir þat is in heuenes, þat oon of þese litil perishe.
 xv Forsoþ ȝif þi broþer 'shal synne in þee, go þou, and reproue hym, 'or synbbe, bitwixe þee and hym aloone; ȝif he 'shal heere þee, þou haft wonnen þi broþer.
 xvi Trewly ȝif he 'shal nat heere þee, take wiþ þee oon or two, þat euery word stonde in þe mouþe of two or þree witnelliſ.
 xvii Pat ȝif he shal nat heere hem, seie þou to þe chirche. Forsoþe ȝif he shal not heere þe chirche, be hee 'to þee as an heþen and a puplicane.
 xviii I seie to ȝou trewli, what euere þingis ȝee shulen bynde vpon erþe, þo shulen be bounden and in heuenes; and what euere þingis ȝee shulen vnbynde vpon erþe, þo shulen be vnbounden and in heuenes.
 xix Eftsoone I seie to ȝou, þat ȝif two of ȝou shulen consente on þe erþe, of every þinge whateuer þei shulen axe, it shal be don to hem of my fadir þat is in heuenes.
 xx For where two or þree shulen be gedrid in my name, þer I am in þe midil of hem.

xxi Panne Petre, 'cummynge niȝ to hym, seide, Lord, hou ofte shal my broþer synne in me, and I shal forȝeue hym? Wheþer to feuen tymes?
 xxii Jhesus seiþ to hym, I seie nat to þee, til feuen siþis; but to feuenty siþis feuene siþis.
 xxiii Perfore þe kingdom of heuenes is likened to a man kyng, þat wolde putte resoun wiþ his seruauntis. xxiv And whanne he began for to putte resoun, oon was offrid to hym, þat ouȝte to hym ten poufand talentis.
 xxv Trewly whanne he hadde nat wheroft to ȝelde, his lord comaundide hym to be sold, and his wif, and sonys, and alle þingis þat he hadde, and to be payed.
 xxvi Forsoþe 'þe ilk seruaunt, fallynge doun, preide hym, seyinge, Haue pacience in me, and alle þingis I shal ȝeilde to þee.
 xxvii Soþely þe lord 'of þat seruaunt hauynge mercy, leete hym, 'or suffride hym, and forȝaue to hym þe dette.
 xxviii Trewly þilk seruaunt gon out, fonde oon of his euen seruauntis, þat ouȝte hym an hundred pens; and he, holdynge hym, stranglide hym, seyinge, ȝeld þat þou owist.
 xxix And his euen seruaunt preide hym, seyinge, Haue pacience in me, and 'alle þingis I shal quyte to þee.
 xxx Forsoþe he 'wolde nat; but wente, and sent hym in to pryson, til þat he paide al þe dette. xxxi Soþely his euen seruauntis, seeynge þe þingis þat weren don, 'greately hadden forowe. And þei camen, and tolden to her lord alle þe þingis þat weren don.
 xxxii Panne his lord clepide hym, and seide to hym, Weyward seruaunt, I forȝaf to þee al þe dette, for þou preidist me.
 xxxiii Perfore wher it behouede nat and þee to haue mercy on þi euen seruaunt, as I hadde mercy of þee?
 xxxiv And his lord wroþ, tok hym to tormenturs, til þat he paide al þe dette.
 xxxv 'So and my fadir of heuen shal do to ȝou, ȝif ȝe
 'forȝeue nat euery man to his broþer, of ȝoure hertis.

Capitulum XIX.

i And it is don, whenne Jhesus hadde eendide þese wordis, he passide fro Galilee, and came in to 'þe eendis of Judee ouer Jordan.
 ii And manye cumpanyes 'of men sueden hym, and he helide hem þere.
 iii And Pharisees camen niȝ to hym, temptynge hym, and seyinge, Wher it be leeful for a man for to 'leeue, or forsake, his wijf, 'of what euer cause?
 iv ȝe whiche answerynge seiþ to hem, Han nat ȝee rad, for he þat made men at þe bygynnyng, male and female 'he made hem?
 v And he seide, For þis þing a man shal leeue fadir and modir, and he shal cleue, 'or drawe, to his wif; and þei shulen be two in oo flesh.

vi And so þei ben nat now two, bot oo flesh. Perfore a man departe nat þat þing þat God enioynye, 'or knytte to gidre.
vii Pei seyen to hym, What þanne comaundide Moyses, to ȝeue a litol boke of forsaynge, and to 'leeue off?
viii And he seiþ to hem, For Moyfes, at þe hardnesse of ȝoure herte, suffrider ȝou forsake ȝoure wyues; forsoþe at þe begynnnyng it was nat so.
ix Trewly I seie to ȝou, þat who euer leeueþ his wif, no but for fornicacioun, and weddiþ an oþer, doþ a vowtrie; and he þat weddiþ þe forsaken wife, doþ a vowtrie.
x His disciplis seien to hym, ȝif þe cause of a man wiþ a wif is so, it speediþ nat to wedde.
xi Pe whiche seiþ to hem, Nat alle men taken þis word; but to which it is ȝouen.
xii Soþely 'pere ben geldyngis, 'þe whiche ben þus born of þe modris wombe; and 'pere ben geldyngis, þat ben maad of men, and 'pere ben geldyngis, þat han geldid hem self, for þe kyngdam of heuenes. He þat may take, take he.
xiii Panne litol children weren offrid vp to hym, þat he shulde putte hondis to hem, and preie. Soþely his disciplis blameden hem.
xiv But Jhesus seiþ to hem, Suffre ȝe litol childre cumme to me, and nyl ȝe forbede hem 'for to come to me; for of siche is þe kyngdam of heuenes.
xv And whenne he hadde putte to hem hondis, he wente þennus.
xvi And loo! oon, 'cummynge to, seiþ to hym, Good maister, what of good þing shal I do, þat I haue euerlaftyng lyf?
xvii Pe whiche seiþ to hym, What axist þou me of good þing? 'Pere is oo good God. For ȝif þou wolt entre in to lif, kepe þe comaundementis.
xviii He seiþ to hym, Whiche? Trewly Jhesus seide, þou shalt nat do man fleaynge, þou shalt nat do awotrie, þou shalt nat do þeft, þou shalt nat seye fals witnessinge; xix worshipe þi fadir and þi modir, and þou shalt looue þi neȝbore as þi self.
xx Pe ȝung man seiþ to hym, I haue kepte alle þese þingis fro my ȝouþe, what ȝit failip to me?
xxi Jhesus seiþ to hym, ȝif þou wolt be perfit, go, and felle alle þingus þat þou haft, and ȝeue to pore men, and þou shalt haue tresour in heuene; and cum, sue þou me.
xxii Forsoþe whenne þe ȝung man hadde herde þese wordis, he wente awey forwful, for he was hauyng many posseffions.
xxiii Forsoþe Jhesus seide to his disciplis, 'I seie to ȝou trewþe, for a riche man 'of hard shal entre in to þe kyngdam of heuenes.
xxiv And eftstone I seie to ȝou, it is 'liȝter, or eyfier, a camel for to passe þorwȝ 'a nedelis eiȝe, þan a riche man to entre into þe kyngdam of heuenes.

xxv Treuly þese wordis herd, þe disciplis wondriden gretely, seyinge, Who perfore may be saaf?
xxvi Forsoþe Jhesus beholdyng feide to hem, Anentis men þis þing is impossible; but anentis God alle þingis ben possible.
xxvii Panne Petre answerynge feide to hym, Loo! we han forsaken alle þingis, and we han sued þee; what perfore shal be to us?
xxviii Jhesus forsoþe feide to hem, Trewly Y feye to ȝou, þat ȝe þat han forsaken alle þingis, and sued me, in regeneracioun, 'or gendryng aȝein, whenne mannes sone shall sitte in þe sete of his mageste, and ȝe shulen sitt on twelue fetis, 'or feegis, demyng ȝe twelue kynredis of Yrael.
xxix And euery man þat shal forsake hous, or breþeren, or sistren, or fadir, or modir, or wif, or sonys, or feeldis, for my name, he shal take an hundred fold, and shal welde euere laftyng lyf.
xxx Forsoþe many shulen be, 'þe firste þe laste, and þe laste þe firste.

Capitulum XX.

i The kyngdam of heuenes is lic to an husbond man, þat wente out first erly, 'or by þe morwe, to hyre workemen in to his 'vyne ȝerd.
ii Forsoþe þe couenaunt maad wiþ workmen, of a peny for þe day, he sente hem in to his 'vyne ȝerd.
iii And he, gon out about þe pridde hour, say oþer stondyne ydil in þe chepyng.
iv And he feide to hem, Go 'and ȝee in to my 'vyne ȝerd, and 'þat þat shal be riȝtful, I shal ȝeue to ȝou. Soþeli þei wenten forþ.
v Forsoþe eftsoone he wente out aboue þe sixte hour, and þe nyneþe, and dide on liche manere.
vi But aboue þe elleuenþe hour he wente out, and foond oþer stondyne; and he feide to hem, What stonden ȝe her ydil al day?
vii Pei seien to hym, For no man haþ hirid us. He seiþ to hem, Go 'and ȝe in to my 'vyne ȝerd.
viii Forsoþe whenne euenyng was maad, þe lord of þe 'vyne ȝerd seiþ to his procuratour, Clepe þe workmen, and ȝeilde to hem her hijre, bygynnynge at þe laste 'til to þe firste.
ix Perfore whenne þei 'weren commen, þat camen about þe elleuenþ hour, and þei token synguler pens, þat is, euery man oo peny.
x Trewly and þe firste cummynge demeden, þat þei weren to take more, 'trewly and þei token 'echon by hym silf a peny.
xi And þei takynge grutcheden aȝeins þe husbond man, xii seyinge, Pei laste diden worche oon our, and þou haft maad hem euen to vs, þat han born þe charge of þe day and hete?

- xiii And he answerynge to oon of hem, feide, Frend, I do 'bee no wronge; wheþer þou haft nat accordid wiþ me for a peny?
- xiv Take þat þat is þine, and go; forsoþe Y wole ȝeue and to þis þe laste man, as and to þee.
- xv Wher it is nat leful to me for to do þat þat I wole? Wher þin eiȝe is wickid, for I am good?
- xvi So þere shulen be þe last men þe firste, and þe 'firste men þe laste; for many ben clepid, bot few chosun.
- xvii And Jhesus, steyinge vp to Jerusalem, toke his twelue disciplis in priuytee, and seip to hem,
- xviii Loo! we 'gon vp to Jerusalem, and mannes sone shal be taken to princis of prestis, and scribis; and þei shulen condempne hym by deb.
- xix And þei shulen bitake hym to heþen men, for to be scornyd, and scourgid, and crucified; and þe þridde day he shal ryse aȝein.
- xx Panne þe modir of þe sonis of Zebede 'came niȝ to hym wiþ hire sonys, honourynge, and axinge sume þing of hym.
- xxi He whiche feide to hir, What wolt þou? She seip to hym, Seie þat þese 'two my sonys sitten, oon at þi riȝthalf, and oon at þi lefthalf, in þi kyngdam.
- xxii Forsoþe Jhesus answerynge feide, ȝe wyten nat what ȝe axen, or shulen axe. Mowen ȝe drynke þe cuppe þat I 'am to drynke? Þei feien to hym, We mowen.
- xxiii He seip to hem, Forsoþe ȝe shal drynke my cuppe; but to sitte at þe riȝthalf or at lefthalf, it is nat myn to ȝeue to ȝou; but to whiche it is made redy of my fadir.
- xxiv And þe ten herynge hadden indignacioun of þe two breþeren.
- xxv Soþely Jhesus clepide hem to hym, and seip, ȝe witen, for princis of heilpen men ben lordis of hem, and þei þat ben more, hawnten power 'in to hem.
- xxvi It shal nat be so among ȝou; bot who euere wole be maad more among ȝou, be he ȝoure mynystre;
- xxvii and who euere amonge ȝou wole be firste, he shal be ȝoure seruaunt.
- xxviii As mannes sone came nat for to be serued, but for to serue, and 'for to ȝeue his 'soule, or lif, redempcioun for many.
- xxix And hem goyng out of Jerico, manye cumpanyes of peple fueden hym.
- xxx And loo! two blynd men sittynge besidis þe weye, herden þat Jhesus passide; and þei crieden, seyinge, Lord, þe sone of Dauyþ, haue mercy on vs.
- xxxi Forsoþe þe cumpanye blamyde hem, 'for to be stille; and þei crieden more 'and more, seiyng, Lord, þe sone of Dauyþ, haue mercy on vs.
- xxxii And Jhesus stood, and clepide hem, and seip, What wole ȝe, þat I do to ȝou?
- xxxiii Þei feien to hym, Lord, þat oure eiȝen be openyd.
- xxxiv Forsoþe Jhesus, hauyng mercy on hem, touchide her eiȝen; and anoon þei sayen, and fueden hym.

Capitulum XXI.

- i And whanne Jhesus came niȝ to Jerusalem, and cam to Bethfage, in þe mount of Olyfeet, þanne Jhesus sente his two disciplis,
- ii feyng to hem, Go ȝe in to þe castel þat is aȝeinus ȝou, and anon ȝe shal fynde a she asse tyed, and a colt wiþ hir; vnbynde ȝe, and bryng to me.
- iii And ȝif eny man 'shal seie to ȝou eny þinge, 'seie ȝe, þat þe Lord haþ need to hem; and anoon he shal leeue hem.
- iv Trewly al þis was don, þat þat þing þat was seid by þe prophete shulde be fulfillid, seyng,
- v Seie ȝe to þe douȝter of Syon, Loo! þi kyng comeþ to þee, 'homly, or meke, sittynge on 'an asse, and a 'fole, þe sone of a beest vndir ȝook.
- vi Forsoþe disciplis, goyng, diden as Jhesus comaundide hem.
- vii And þei brouȝten to a she asse, and 'þe fole, and puttiden her cloþis on hem, and maden hym fitte aboue.
- viii Forsoþe ful muche cumpanye strewiden her cloþis in þe wey; soþely oþer kittiden braunchis of trees, and strowiden in þe weye.
- ix But þe cumpanyes þat wenten before, and þat sueden, crieden, seyng, Osanna, þat is, I preie, saue, to þe sone of Dauyþ; bleffid is he þat cummeþ in þe name of þe Lord; Osanna in 'þe heeȝift þingis.
- x And when he had entrid in to Jerusalem, al þe cite was stirid, seyng, Who is þis?
- xi Treuly þe peplis feiden, Þis is 'Jhesus, þe prophete, of Nazareth of Galilee.
- xii And Jhesus entride in to þe temple of God, and kest out of þe temple alle 'sellynge and byinge; and he turnyde vpsadoun þe bordis of chaungeris, and þe chaiers of men sellynge culueris.
- xiii And he seip to hem, It is writen, My hous shal be clepid an hous of preiere; forsoþe ȝe han made it a denne of þefes.
- xiv And blynde and crokid 'camen niȝ to hym 'in þe temple, and he helide hem.
- xv Forsoþe þe princis of prestis and scribis, seeyng þe marueilouse þingis þat he dide, and children cryinge in þe temple, and feyng, Osanna to þe sone of Dauyþ, dedeyned,
- xvi and feiden to hym, Heerist þou what þese seyen? Soþely Jhesus seip to hem, ȝe; wher ȝe han nat rad, For of þe mouȝ of children, þat kunnen nat speke, and of soukyng mylk, þou haft made parfite heryinge?
- xvii And, hem forfaken, he wente forþ out of þe citee, in to Betanye; and þere he dwelte, and tauȝte hem of þe kyngdam of God.
- xviii Forsoþe on þe morw, he, turnyng aȝein in to þe citee, hungride.
- xix And he, seeyng a fige tree bysidis þe weye, came to it, and fonde no þing 'þer on no but leeuyys ononly;

and he seiþ to it, Neuer be fruyt born of þee, in to wiþ outen eende. And anoon þe fijge tree was dried vp. xx And disciplis seeynge, wondreden, seyinge, Hou anon it drieede.

xxi Soþely Jhesus answerynge, seiþ to hem, Trewly I feye to ȝou, ȝif ȝe shulen han seiþ, as a corn of seneuey, and 'douten nat, nat oonly ȝe shulen do of þis fijge tree, bot and ȝif ȝe feien to þis hill, Take þee, and caste þee in to þe fee, 'and so it shal be don.

xxii And alle þingis what euer ȝe shulen axe in preier byleuyng, ȝee shulen take.

xxiii And whenne he came in to þe temple, þe princis of prestis and eldre men of þe peple camen niȝ to hym techynge, seyinge, In what power dost þou þese þingis?
and who ȝaf to þee þis power?

xxiv Jhesus answerynge feide to hem, And I shal axe ȝou o word, þe whiche ȝif ȝe shulen feie to me, and I shal feie to ȝou, in what power I do þese þingis.

xxv Of whennes was þe baptem of Joon; of heuene, or of men? And þei þouȝten wiþ inn'e hem self, seyinge, ȝif we shulen feie of heuene, he shal feie to vs, Whi perfore beleuen ȝe nat to hym?

xxvi Soþely ȝif we shulen feie of men, we dreden þe cumpayne 'of peple, for alle hadde Joon as a prophete.

xxvii And þei answerynge to Jhesu seiden, We witen nat. And he seiþ to hem, Neþer I feie to ȝou, in what power I do þese þingis.

xxviii Forsoþe what semeþ to ȝou? Sum man hadde two sonys; and he 'cummynge niȝ to þe firste feide, Sone, go 'for to worche 'þis day in to myn vyneȝerd.

xxix Soþely he answerynge seiþ, I nyle; forsoþe afterward he stirid by penaunce, 'or forþpenkyng, wente.

xxx Forsoþe he, cummynge to 'be toþer, feide lic maner. And he answerynge seiþ, Lord, I go; and he wente nat.

xxxi Who of þe two dide þe 'fadris will? Þei feien to hym, þe firste. Jhesus seiþ to hem, Trewly I feie to ȝou, for puplicanys and hooris shulen go before ȝou in to þe kyngdam of God.

xxii Forsoþe Joon cam to ȝou in þe weye of riȝtwisnelle, and ȝe bileueden nat to hym; but puplicanys and hooris beleueden to hym. Soþely ȝee seeynge 'neþer hadde don penaunce afterward, þat ȝe bileuyden to hym. Heere ȝe an oþer parable.

xxiii 'Per was an husbondman, þat plantide a 'vyne ȝerd, and ȝauë an hegge aboute, and dalue a preffour þerynne, and bildide a toure, and 'hiride, or sette it to ferme, to erþe tiliers, and wente ferre in pilgrimage.
xxiv Forsoþe whenne þe tyme of fruytis neijide, he sente his seruauntis to þe erþe tiliers, þat þei token fruytis of it.

xxv And, his seruauntis taken, þe erþe tiliers beeten
'þe toon 'an oþer þei flewen, 'but anoþer þei stoonyden
'to deþ.

xxvi Eftstones he sente oþer seruauntis, mo þan þe firste, and 'liche maner þei diden to hem.

xxvii Forsoþe at þe laſte he sent his sone to hem, seyinge, Þei shulen 'lhamen, or drede, my sone.

xxviii Soþely þe erþe tiliers, seeynge þe sone, seiden wiþ ynne hem self, Þis is þe eire; cume ȝe, flea we hym, and we shulen haue his eritage.

xxix And, 'hym taken, þei keſten out of þe vynȝerd, and flewen.

xli Perfore whenne þe lord of þe vyneȝerd shal cume, what shal he do to 'þe ilk erþe tiliers?

xlii Þei feien to hym, He shal leſe yuele þe yuel men, and sette to hire his vyneȝerd to oþer erþe tiliers, þe whiche shulen ȝelde to hym fruytis in her tymes.

xliii Jhesus seiþ to hem, Redden ȝe neuer in scripturis, þe ſtoon 'þe whiche 'beldynge men reprouden, þis is maad in to þe heued of þe corner? 'Of þe Lord þis þing is maad, and it is merueilous in oure eiȝen.

xliii Perfore I feie to ȝou, for þe kyngdam of God shal be taken fro ȝou, and shal be ȝouen to a folk doinge fruytis 'of it.

xliii And he þat shal falle on þis ſtoon, shal be broken togidre; forsoþe 'vpon whom it shal falle, it shal 'togidre poune hym.

xlv And when þe princis of prestis and Pharisees hadden herde his parablis, þei knewen þat he feide of hem.

xlii And þei, seekyng to holde hym, dreden þe cumpaines 'of peple, for þei hadden hym as a prophete.

Capitulum XXII.

i And Jhesus answerynge 'feide eftſone in parablis 'to hem, seiyng,

ii þe kyngdam of heuenes is maad lic to a man kyng þat made weddingus to his sone.

iii And he ſente his ſeruauntis for to clepe men beden to þe weddyngis, and þei wolden nat cume.

iv Eftſoone he ſente oþer ſeruauntis, feiyng, Seie ȝee to þe men beden to þe feeste, Loo! I haue made redy my mete, my boles and volatilis ben flayn, and alle þingis redy; 'cumme ȝe to þe weddyngus.

v Soþely þei diſpilden, 'or recken nat, and þei wenten awey, oon in to his vyneȝerd, forsoþe an oþer to his marchaudise.

vi But þe oþer helden his ſeruauntis, and flowen hem, ponished wiþ kontek.

vii Forsoþe þe kyng, whenne he hadde herde, was wroþ;
and, his hoostis ſente, he loſte, 'or diſtruyde, þe man quellers, and brente her citee.

viii Banne he seiþ to his ſeruauntis, Soþely þe weddyngis ben redy, but þei þat weren clepid to þe feeste, weren nat worþi.

ix Perfore go ȝee to þe outgoyngis of weyes, and whom euere ȝe shulen fynde, clepe to þe weddyngis.

x And his seruauntis, gon out in to þe weyes, gedreden togidre alle þat þei founden, good and yuel; and þe weddyngis of men fittyng at mete ben fulfillid.
 xi Forsoþe þe kyng entride, þat he shulde see men fittyng at mete; and he seeȝ þere a man nat cloþid wiþ brijd cloþis.
 xii And he seip to hym, Frend, hou entridist þou hidir, nat hauynge brijd cloþe? And he was doumbe.
 xiii Panne þe kyng feide to þe mynystris, His 'hondis and feet bounden, fende ȝee hym into vttermore darknessis; þere shal be weeping and betyng to gidre of teeþ.
 xiv Forsoþe many ben clepid, but fewe chosen.
 xv Panne Pharisees, goyng away, token a counseile, þat þei shulden take Jhesus in word.
 xvi And þei senden to hym her disciplis, wiþ Erodyans, 'bat ben men of Eroudys, feiyng, Maister, we witen, bat þou art soþfaſt, and þou techist in trewþe þe weye of God, and 'þere is no cure, or charge, to þee of eny man, for þou beholdist nat þe perfoone of men.
 xvii Perfore seie to vs, what it femeþ to þee. Is it leful 'to ȝeue to Cesar, 'or emperour, 'rente, or tribut?
 xviii Forsoþe, be wickednesse of hem knownen, Jhesus seip, Ypocritis, what tempten ȝee me?
 xix Shewe ȝee to me þe prynte of þe moneye. And þei offriden to hym a peny.
 xx And Jhesus seip to hem, Whos is þis ymage, and þe wrytyng aboue? Pei seyen to hym, Of Cesar.
 xxi Panne 'he seip to hem, Perfore ȝelde ȝee to Cesar þo þingis þat ben Cesaris, and to God þo þingis þat ben of God.
 xxii And þei heerynge wondreden; and, hym laft, þei wenten away.
 xxiii In þat day Saducees, þat seyen 'þere is no ryfing aȝein, 'camen niȝ to hym, and axiden hym, xxiv seyinge, Maister, Moyses seide, ȝif eny 'man be dead, nat hauynge a sone, þat his broþer wedde his wylf, and reyfe feed to his broþer.
 xxv Forsoþe feuen breþeren weren at vs; and þe first, a wylf weddid, is dead. And he nat hauynge feed, left his wylf to his broþer;
 xxvi alio þe secounde, and þe þridde, til to þe leuenþe.
 xxvii Forsoþe þe laste of alle, and þe womman is dead.
 xxviii Perfore in þe ryfinge aȝein, whos wylf of þe feuene shal lhe be? for alle hadden hir.
 xxix Sopely Jhesus answerynge seip to hem, ȝee erren, neþer knowyng þe scripturis, neþer þe vertu of God.
 xxx Forsoþe in þe ryfing aȝeyn, neþer þei wedden, neþer ben weddid; but þei ben as þe aungelis of God in heuene.
 xxxi Sopely of þe ryfinge aȝein of dead men, 'ȝee han nat rad, þat it is seid of þe Lord, seyinge to ȝou, xxxii I am God of Abraham, and God of Yfaac, and God of Jacob? he is nat God of deed men, but of lyuyng men.

xxxiii And þe cumpanyes 'of peple heerynge, wondreden in his techyng.
 xxxiv Forsoþe Pharisees, heerynge þat he hadde put silence to Saducees, camen to gidre in to oon.
 xxxv And oon of hem, a techer of þe lawe, axede Jhesus, temptyng hym, xxxvi Maistre, whiche is a greet maundement in þe lawe?
 xxxvii Jhesus feide to hym, þou shalt loue þe Lord þi God, of al þin herte, and in al þi soule, and in al þi mynde.
 xxxviii Þis is þe firste and þe most maundement.
 xxxix Forsoþe þe secounde is lic to þis; þou shalt loue þi neiȝbore as þi self.
 xl In þese two maundementis hangiþ al þe lawe and prophetis.
 xli Sopely þe Pharisees gedrid to gidre, Jhesus axide
 hem,
 xl ii seyinge, What femeþ to ȝou of Crist, whos sone is he? Pei seyen to hym, Of Dauiþ. xl iii He seip to hem, Perfore hou 'Dauiþ in spirit clepiþ hym Lord, seyinge, xl iv Pe Lord seide to my Lord, Sitte on my riȝthalf, til þat I put þin enmyes a stole of þi feet?
 xl v Perfore ȝif Dauyd clepiþ him Lord, hou is he his sone?
 xl vi And no man miȝt answere a word to hym, neþer eny man was hardy fro þat' day, for to axe hym more.

Capitulum XXIII.

i Thanne Jhesus spac to þe cumpanyes 'of peple, and to his disciplis,
 ii seiyng, Vpon 'þe chaier of Moyses, scribis and Pharisees feeten.
 iii Perfore kepe ȝee, and do ȝee alle þingis, what euere þingis þei shulen seie to ȝou. But nyl ȝee do after 'her werkis; sopely þei seien, and don nat.
 iv Sopely þei bynden to greuouse chargis, and vnportable, or 'þat mown nat be born, and putten 'in to shuldres of men; but wiþ her fyngir þei wolen nat moue hem.
 v Perfore þei don alle her werkis, þat þei be seen of men; forsoþe þei alargen her filateries, þat 'ben smale scrowis, and magnyfie hemmys.
 vi Sopely þei louen þe first fittyng placis in sopers, and þe first chaiers in synagogis;
 vii and salutaciouns in þe chepyng, and to ben clepid
 'of men maistirs.
 viii Sopely nyl ȝee ben clepid maistir; for oon is ȝoure maistir, forsoþe alle ȝe ben breþren.
 ix And nyl ȝe clepe to ȝou a fadir on erþe, for oon is ȝoure fadir, þat is in heuenes.
 x Neþer be ȝe clepid maistirs, for oon is ȝour maistre, Crist.
 xi He þat is more of ȝou, shal be ȝoure mynystre.

xii Forsoþe he þat shal hie hym self, shal be mekid; and he þat shal meeke hym self, shal ben enhaunſid.
xiii Soþely woo to ȝou, scribis and Pharisees, ypocrisis, for ȝe cloſen þe kyngdam of heuenes before men; soþely ȝe entren nat, ne suffre men entrynge for to entre.
xiv Woo to ȝou, scribis and Pharisees, ypocrisis, þat eten þe houſis of widues, in longe preier preyinge; 'for bis þing ȝe shulen take þe more dom.
xv Woo to ȝou, scribis and Pharisees, ypocrisis, þat cumpasen þe fe and þe lond, 'þat ȝee maken o profelite, þat is, a conuertid to ȝoure ordre; and whanne he 'þal be maad, ȝe maken hym a fone of helle, double more þan ȝou.
xvi Woo to ȝou, blynde lederis, þat feien, Who euere 'þal swere by þe temple of God, 'no þing is; soþely he þat 'þal swere in þe gold of þe temple, 'owip, or is detour.
xvii ȝee folis and blynde, forsoþe what is more, þe gold, or þe temple þat halowip þe gold?
xviii And who euer 'þal swere in þe auter, 'no þing is; but he þat 'þal swere in þe ȝifte þat is on þe auter, owip.
xix Blynde men, forsoþe what is more, þe ȝift, or þe auter þat halowip þe ȝifte?
xx Forsoþe he þat swerip in þe auter, swerip in it, and alle þingis þat ben þeron.
xxi And he þat swerip in þe temple, swerip in it, and in hym þat dwellip in þe temple.
xxii And he þat swerip in heuene, swerip in þe trone of God, and in hym þat sittiþ þeron.
xxiii Woo to ȝou, scribis and Pharisees, ypocrisis, þat tiben mente, anete, and comyn, and han lefte þo þingis þat ben 'greouuer, or of more charge, of þe lawe, dom, and mercy, and feip. And 'þese þingis it behofte, 'or nedide, for to do, and not to leeue hem.
xxiv Blynde leders, 'clensyng a gnatte, but fwolowyng a camel.
xxv Woo to ȝou, scribis and Pharisees, ipocrisis, þat maken clene þat þing of þe cuppe and plater, þat is wiþ ynneforþ; forsoþe wiþ ynne ȝe ben ful of raueyne and vnclennelle.
xxvi þou blynd Pharisee, clense first þat þing of þe cuppe and plater þat is 'wiþ ynneforþ, þat 'and þat þing þat is wiþ outerforþ be maad clene.
xxvii Woo to ȝou, scribis and Pharisees, ipocrisis, þat ben lic to sepulcris maad whijt, þe whiche wiþ outerforþ semen faire to men; soþely wiþ ynne þei ben ful of boonyngs of dead men, and al filþe.
xxviii So and ȝee forsoþe wiþ outerforþ aperen iuste to men; but wiþ ynne ȝee ben ful of ypocrisie and wickidnesse.
xxix Woo to ȝou, scribis and Pharisees, ipocrisis, þat belden sepulcris of prophetis, and maken faire þe birielis of iuste men, xxx and feien, ȝif we hadden ben in þe dayes of our fadris, we shulden nat han be here felowis in þe blood of prophetis.

xxxi And so ȝe ben in witnessyng to ȝou self, for ȝe ben þe sonys of hem þat flowen þe prophetis.
xxxii And 'ȝe fulfillen þe mesure of ȝoure fadris.
xxxiii ȝee sarpentis, fruytis, or buriownyngus, 'of eddris, 'þat sleen her modris, hou shulen ȝee flee fro þe dom of helle?
xxxiv ȝerfore loo! I sende to ȝou prophetis, and wife men, and scribis, 'or writeris; and of hem ȝee shulen flee, and crucifie, and of hem ȝe shulen bete in ȝour synagogis, and shulen purſue fro citee in to citee; xxxv þat al þe iuste blode come vpon ȝou, þat was shed on þe erþe, fro þe blood of iust Abel til þe blood of Zacharie, þe fone of Barachie, whom ȝee flowen bitwixe þe temple and þe auter.
xxxvi Trewli I feie to ȝou, alle þese þingis shulen come vpon þis generacioun.
xxxvii Jerufalem, Jerufalem, þat fleest prophetis, and stonyft hem þat ben sent to þee, hou oft wold I gedre to gidre þi sonys, as an henne gedreþ togidre hir chikenys vndir hir wengis, and þou woldist nat.
xxxviii Loo! ȝoure hous shal be lefte to ȝou desert, 'or forsaken.
xxxix Forsoþe I feie to ȝou, ȝee shulen nat see me fro hennys forþ, til þat ȝee feien, Bleſſid 'is he, þat cumef in þe name of þe Lord.

Capitulum XXIIII.

i And Jhesus, gon out of þe temple, wente; and his disciplis 'camen niȝ to hym, þat þei shulden shewe to hym þe bildyngis of þe temple.
ii Forsoþe he answeryng feiþ to hem, Seen ȝee alle þese þingis? Trewly I feie to ȝou, a stoon shal nat be lefte here on a stoon, 'þe whiche shal nat be distroyed.
iii Soþely hym sittyng on þe hil of Olyuete, disciplis 'camen niȝ to him priuely, feiþng, Seie to vs, whanne þes þingis schulen be, and what tokene of þi comynge, and of ending of þe world.
iv And Jhesus answeringe seide to hem, Se ȝe, þat no man disceyue ȝou.
v Many schulen come in my name, seyyng, I am Crist; and þei schulen disceyue manye.
vi Sonly ȝe 'ben to heere bateyls, and opynyouns of bateyls; se ȝe, þat ȝe ben not distroblid; forsoþ it bihoueþ þes þingis to be don, but not ȝit is þe ende.
vii Folk schal ryse to gidere aȝen folk, and rewme 'in to rewme, and pestilencis, and hungris, and erþemouyngis schulen be by placis;
viii forsoþe alle þes þingis ben bigynnyngis of forwis.
ix Penne þei schulen bitake ȝou 'in to tribulacioun, and þei schulen flee ȝou, and ȝe schulen be in hate to alle folkis for my name.

x And þanne manye schulen be sclaudrid, and 'to gidere bitraye, or 'ech oþer, and 'in hate haue to gidere.
 xi And many false prophetis schulen ryse, and disceyue many.
 xii And for wickidnesse schal 'be plenteous, þe charite of manye schal wexe coold; xiii forsoþe he þat schal dwelle stable vnto þe ende, he bis schal be saaf.
 xiv And þis gospel of kyngdom schal be prechid in al þe world, in to witnesinge to alle folkis; and þanne þe ende schal come.
 xv Perfore whenne ȝe schulen se þe abhomynacioun of discomfort, þat is feid of Danyel, þe prophete, stondyne in be hooly place; he þat rediþ, vndirstonde;
 xvi þanne þei þat ben in Judee, fle to mounteyns; xvii and he þat is in þe hous roof, come not down to take ony þing of his hous;
 xviii and he þat is in þe feeld, turne not aȝen to take his coote.
 xix Forsoþ wo to wymmen wiþ childe and noryschinge in þo dayes.
 xx Soply preie ȝe, þat ȝoure fleynge be not maad in wyntir, or saboth.
 xxi Forsoþe þanne schal be greet tribulacioun, what maner was not fro þe bigynnyng of þe world to now, neþir schal be maad.
 xxii And no but þo dayes hadden be breggid, al fleisch,
 'þat is, mankynde, 'schulde not be maad saaf; but þo dayes schulen be maad schort, for þe chosun men.
 xxiii þanne if ony man schal seie to ȝou, Lo! here is Crist, or þere, nyle ȝe bileue.
 xxiv Forsoþe false Cristis and false prophetis schulen ryse, and þei schulen ȝyue grete tokenes and wondris;
 'fo þat also þe chofyne be ledd in to errour, if it may be don.
 xxv Lo! I haue bifore feid to ȝou.
 xxvi Perfore if þei schulen seie to ȝou, Loo! he is in desert, nyle ȝe go out; loo! in pruyey 'chambris, or placis, nyle ȝe bileue.
 xxvii Soply as leyt gop out fro þe eest, and apperiþ 'til in to þe west, lo schal be and þe comyng of mannes fone.
 xxviii Where euere þe body schal be, and þe eeglis schulen be gederid þidur.
 xxix Forsoþe anoon aftir þe tribulacioun of þo dayes, þe sunne schal be maad derk, and þe mone schal not ȝyue hir liȝt, and sterries schulen falle down fro heuene, and þe vertues of heuenes schulen be mouyd.
 xxx And þanne þe tokene of mannes fone schal appere in heuene, and þanne alle kynredis, 'or lynagis, of erþe schulen weyle; and þei schulen se mannes fone comyng in þe clowdis of heuene, wiþ moche vertu and mageste.
 xxxi And he schal sende his angelis wiþ a trumpe, and greet voice; and þei schulen gedere his chofyne fro foure wyndis 'of heuene, fro þe hiȝeste þingis of heuenes til teermes, 'or endes, of hem. xxxii 'Lerne ȝe þe parable of a fyge tree. Whenne his 'bouȝ, or braunche, is now tendre, and leeuy sprung, ȝee witen, þat somer is niȝ; xxxiii so 'and ȝee whenne ȝee shulen se alle þese þingis, wiþ þat it is niȝ, and in þe ȝatis.

 xxxiv Trewly I seie to ȝow, for þis generacioun shal nat paffe, til þat alle þingis 'be don; xxxv heuene and erþe shulen paffe, but my wordis shulen nat paffe.
 xxxvi Forsoþe of þilk day and hour no man woot, neþer angelis of heuenes, no but þe fadir alone. xxxvii Forsoþe as it was in þe dayes of Noye, so shal be and þe comyng of mannes fone.
 xxxviii For as in þe days bifore þe grete flood, þei weren etynge and drinkyng, weddynge and takyng to weddynge, til in to þat day, in þe whiche Noe entride in to þe ship;
 xxxix and þei knewen nat, til þat þe grete flood came,
 and toke alle men, so shal be þe cummyng of mannes
 fone.
 xl Panne two shulen be in a feeld, oon shal be taken to,
 and 'an oþer left, or forsaken;
 xli two wymmen shulen be gryndyne in oo querne, oon shal be taken to, and 'þe oþer forsaken; two in oo bed, 'þe toon shal be taken to, and þe toþer forsaken.
 xlvi Perfore wake ȝee, for ȝee witen nat in what houre ȝoure Lord 'is to cumme.
 xlvi Soply þat þing wite ȝee, for ȝif þe houſbonde man wifte in what houre þe þeef 'were to cumme, trewly he shulde wake, and suffre nat his hous to be vndirmynyd.
 xlviii And perfore and 'ȝee be redy, for in what hour
 'ȝee gessen nat, mannes fone 'is to cumme.
 xlvi Who gesſift þou is a trew seruaunt and prudent, 'or war, whom his lord ordeynede on his meynée, þat he ȝeue to hem mete in tyme?
 xlvi Blifſid is þat seruaunt, whom his lord, whenne he shal cumme, shal fynde 'doyng fo.
 xlvii Trewly I seie to ȝou, for vpon alle his goodis he shal ordeyne hym.
 xlviii Forsoþe ȝif þilk yuel seruaunt shal seie in his herte, My lord makid dwellynge, or taryinge, to cum, xlvi and bigynne to smyte his euen seruauntis, soplly ȝif he ete and drynke wiþ drunkenlewe men; lþe lord of þilk seruaunt shal cume in þe day in whiche he hopiþ nat, and in hour þat he knowiþ nat, li and shal departe hym, and put his part wiþ yopocritis;
 þere shal be weepynge, and betynge togidre of teeþ.

Capitulum XXV.

i Thanne þe kyngdam of heuenes shal be lic to ten virgynys, 'þe whiche, takyng her laumpis, wente out meetyng þe spouse, 'or husbonde, and þe spoufesse, 'or wif;

ii forsoþe fyue of hem weren foolis, and fyue prudent.
iii But þe fyue foolis, her laumpis taken, token nat oyle wiþ hem;
iv forsoþe þe prudent token oyle in her vessels wiþ laumpis.
v Forsoþe þe spouse, `or houſbonde, makyng dwellynge, alle nappiden and flepten.
vi Soþely at myd niȝt a cry was maad, Loo! þe spouse cummeþ, go ȝee out `metyng to hym.
vii Panne alle þe virgynys ryſen vp, and anourneden her laumpis.
viii Soþely þe foolis seiden to þe wise, ȝeue ȝee to vs of ȝoure oile, for oure laumpis ben qwenchid.
ix þe prudent anſwereden, seyinge, Lest perauenture it suffiſe nat to us and to ȝou, go ȝee rāþer to `men fellynge, and bye to ȝou.
x `Forsoþe þe while þei wenten for to bye, þe spouse came; and þo þat were redy, entriden in wiþ hym to þe weddyngis; and þe ȝate is ſlit.
xi Soþely at þe laſt and þe oper virgynys camen, seyinge, Lord, lord, opene to vs.
xii And he anſwerynge ſeip, Treuly I feie to ȝou, I knowe `nat ȝou.
xiii And so wake ȝee, `and preye, for ȝee witen nat þe day ne þe hour.
xiv Soþely as a man goyng fer in pilgrimage, clepide his feruauntis, and bitoke to hem his goodis;
xv and to oon he ȝauē fyue talentis, `or befauntis, forsoþe to an oper two, but to an oper oon, to eche after his owne vertu; and wente forþ anoon.
xvi Forsoþe and he þat hadde take fyue talentis, wente forþ, and wrouȝte in hem, and wan oper fyue.
xvii Alſo and he þat hadde taken two, wan oper two.
xviii Soþely he þat hadde taken oon, goyng forþ, dalf in to þe erþe, and hidde þe mone of his lord. xix Bot after muche tyme, þe lord of þo feruauntis came, and puttide refoun wiþ hem.
xx And he þat hadde taken fyue talentis, `cummynge to, offride oper fyue, seyinge, Lord, þou bitokist me fyue talentis, `or befauntis, loo! I haue `geten ouer oper fyue.
xxi His lord ſeip to hym, Wel be þou, good feruaunt and feiþful, `or trewe; for vpon fewe þingis þou haſt ben trewe, Ithal ordeyne þee vpon many þingis; entre þou in to þe ioye of þi lord.
xxii Forsoþe and he þat hadde taken two talentis, `came to, and ſeip, Lord, þou bitokist to me two talentis; loo! I haue `geten ouer oper two.
xxiii His lord ſeip to him, Wel be þou, good feruaunt and trewe; for vpon fewe þingis þou haſt ben trewe, Ithal ordeyne þee vpon many þingis; entre þou in to þe ioye of þi lord.
xxiv Forsoþe and he þat hadde taken oo talent, `cummynge to, ſeip, Lord, I wote þat þou art an hard man; þou repift wher þou haſt nat ſewen, and þou gederift to gidre wher þou haſt nat ſpreedde abroad;

xxv and I dredynge wente, and hidde þi talent in þe erþe; loo! þou haſt þat þat is þin.
xxvi Soþely his lord anſwerynge, feide to hym, Yuel feruaunt and flowe, wifſt þou þat I repe wher I ſewe nat, and gedere to gidre wher I ſpradde nat abroad?
xxvii Perfore it bihouyde þee to `ſende, or betaken, my monee to chaungers, þat and I cummyng ſhulde haue refceyued forſoþe þat þat is myn wiþ vſuris.
xxviii And fo `take ȝe away fro hym þe talent, and ȝeue ȝe it to hym þat haþ ten talentis.
xxix For to euery man hauyng it ſhal be ȝouen, and he ſhal haue plente; and to hym þat haþ nat, and þat þat he ſemeþ to haue, ſhal be taken fro hym.
xxx And caſte ȝee out þe `vnprofitable feruaunt, `and ſend ȝee hym in to vttermore derkneſſis; þere ſhal be weepynge, and betyng to gidre of teeþ.
xxxi Forsoþe whanne mannes ſone ſhal cume in his mageſte, and alle his angelis wiþ hym, þanne he ſhal ſitte on þe ſege of his mageſtee;
xxxii and alle folkis ſhulen be gederid before hym, and he ſchal departe hem awynne, as a ſheperde departheid ſcheep fro kidis; xxxiii and ſoþli he ſchal ſette þe ſcheep on his riȝthalf, þe kidis forſoþe on þe lefthalf.
xxxiv Panne þe kyng ſchal feie to hem, þat ſhulen be on his riȝthalf, Come ȝee, þe bleſſid of my fadir, welde ȝee, `or take ȝee in poſſeſſion, þe kyngdam maad redy to ȝou fro þe `bygynnynge, or makyng, of þe world.
xxxv Forſoþe I was hungry, and ȝe ȝauen to me for to ete; I briftide, and ȝee ȝeuen to me for to drynke; I was herberleſſe, and ȝee `gederiden, or herberden, me;
xxxvi nakid, and ȝee heliden me; ſeik, and ȝee viſitiden me; I was in prisoun, and ȝe camen to me.
xxxvii Panne iuſt men ſhulen anſwere to hym, seyinge, Lord, whenne ſyȝen we þee hungry, and we fedd þee; bristy, and we ȝeuen to þee drynke?
xxxviii whenne forſoþe ſeien we þee herberleſſe, and we gedriden þee; or nakid, and we heliden þee?
xxxix or `whenne ſeien we þee ſeek, or in prisoun, and we camen to þee?
xl And he anſwerynge ſhal feie to hem, Treuly I feie to ȝou, `as long as ȝee diden to oon of þeſe my leſte breþren, ȝee diden to me.
xli Panne þe kyng ſhal feie and to hem, þat ſhulen be on his left half, Depart fro me, `ȝee curſid, in to euerlaſtyng fijr, `þe whiche is maad redy to þe deuyl and his angelis.
xlii Soþely I hungerde, and ȝe ȝauen nat to me for to ete; I briftide, and ȝee ȝauen nat to me for to drynke; xliii I was herberleſſe, and ȝee gedriden nat me; nakid, and ȝee couereden nat me; ſeik, and in prisoun, and ȝee viſitiden nat me.
xliiiii Panne and þei ſhulen anſwere to hym, seyinge, Lord, whanne ſeien we þee hungrynge, or bristyng, or herberleſſe, or nakid, or ſeik, or in prisoun, and we ſeruyden nat to þee?

xlv Panne he shal answere to hem, seiyng, Treuly I seie to ȝou, hou longe ȝee diden nat to oon of þese leste, 'neþere ȝee diden to me.

xlii And þese shulen go in to euerlaftyng tourment; forsoþe þe iust men in to euere lastinge lyf.

Capitulum XXVI.

i And it is don, whenne Jhesus hadde eendid alle þese wordis, he seide to his discipulis, ii Wite ȝee, for after two dayes pask shal be maad, and mannes sone shal be bitaken, þat he be crucified.

iii Panne þe princis of prestis and eldre men of þe peple ben gedrid in to þe halle of þe prince of prestis, þat was said Caiphas, iv and maden a counseile, þat þei shulden holde Jhesu wiþ gile, and flea;

v soþly þei seiden, Nat in þe 'feste day, leſt per auenture noys were maad in þe peple.

vi Forsoþe whenne Jhesus was in Betanye, in þe house of Symount leprosous, vii a womman hauynge a boxe of alabastre of preciouſe oynement, 'came niȝ to hym, and shedde out on þe heued of hym restinge.

viii Soþely discipulis feeyng hadden dedeyn, seyinge, Wherto þis losſe?

ix forsoþe it miȝte be folde for myche, and be ȝouen to pore men.

x Soþely Jhesus wytinge, seiþ to hem, What be ȝe heuy, 'or fory, to þis womman? Soþely a good work she haþ wrouȝt in me.

xi For whi ȝee shulen 'euermore haue pore men wiþ ȝou, but ȝee shulen nat algatis haue me.

xii Forsoþe þis womman sendenge þis oynement in to my body, made for to birye me.

xiii Treuly I seie to ȝou, wher euer þis gospel shal be prechid in al þe world, it shal be seide and þat þis womman dide, in to mynde of hym.

xiv Panne oon of þe twelue, þat was seide Judas Scarioth, wente forþ to þe princis of prestis, xv and seiþ to hem, What wolen ȝee ȝeue to me, and I shal bitake hym to ȝou? And þei ordeyneden to hym þritti platis of feluer.

xvi And fro þat tyme he souȝte couenablete, 'for to bitake hym.

xvii Forsoþe in þe first day of 'þe fest of pask discipulis camen to Jhesu, seyinge, Wher wolt þou we make redy to þee, for to ete paske?

xviii And Jhesus seiþ, Go ȝee in to þe citee to sum man, and seie to hym, Þe maister seiþ, My tyme is niȝ; at þee I make paske wiþ my discipulis.

xix And þe discipulis diden, as Jhesus comaundide 'to hem; and þei maden redy pask.

xx Forsoþe eueningyng maad, he fat 'at þe mete wiþ his twelue discipulis.

xxi And he seide to hem etynge, Treuly I seie to ȝou, for oon of ȝou 'is to betraye me.

xxii And þei 'ful fory bygunnyn eche to seie, Lord, wher I am?

xxiii And he answerynge seiþ, He þat 'wiþ me in puttib þe hond in þe plater, þis shal betraye me.

xxiv Forsoþe mannes sone goþ, as it is writhen of hym; but woo to þat man, bi whom manny sone shal be betrayed; it were good to hym, ȝif þat man hadde nat ben boreن.

xxv Forsoþe Judas þat betrayed hym, answeride, seyinge, Maister, wher 'I am? He seiþ to hym, Pou haſt seid.

xxvi Forsoþe hem souþyng, Jhesus toke breed, and blisse, and bracke, and ȝaue to his discipulis, 'and seiþ, Take ȝee, and ete; þis is my body.

xxvii And he takyng þe cuppe, dede þankyngis, and ȝaue to hem, seyinge, Drinke ȝee alle herof;

xxviii þis is my blood of þe newe testament, 'þe whiche shal be shed out for many, in to remissioun of synns.

xxix Forsoþe I seie to ȝou, I shal nat drinke fro þis tyme, of þis fruyt of þe vyne, til in to þat day whenne I shal drinke it newe wiþ ȝou, in þe kyngdam of my fadir.

xxx And an ympne, 'or heriynge, seid, þei wenten out in to þe mount of Olyuete.

xxxi Panne Jhesus seiþ to hem, Alle ȝe shulen suffre scalaundre in me, in þis niȝ; for it is wrytyn, I shal smyte þe shaperde, and þe sheep of þe flock shulen be scattered.

xxxii Forsoþe after þat I shal ryse aȝein, I shal go before ȝou in to Galilee.

xxxiii Soþely Petre answerynge, seiþ to him, 'And ȝif alle shulen be scalaundrid in þee, I shal neuere be scalaundrid.

xxxiv Jhesus seiþ to hym, Trewly I seie to þee, for in þis niȝt bifore þe cok crowe, þries þou shalt denye me.

xxxv Petre seiþ to hym, 'And ȝif it shal behoue me to dye wiþ þee, I shal nat denye þee. Also and alle discipulis feiden.

xxxvi Panne Jhesus came wiþ hem in to a toun, þat is seid Geffemanye. And he seide to his discipulis, Sitte ȝee heer, þe while I shal go þidir, and preie.

xxxvii And Petre taken to, and two sonys of Zebedee, he began for to be distourblid, 'or heuy, and fory in herte.

xxxviii Panne he seiþ to hem, My soule is sorowful til to þe deþ; 'susteyne ȝee, or abyde ȝee, here, and wake ȝee wiþ me.

xxxix And he gon forþ a litil, felle doun in to his face, preyng, and seyinge, My fadir, ȝif it is possible, 'pasle þis cuppe fro me; neþeles nat as I wole, but as þou wolt.

xl And he came to his discipulis, and foonde hem slepyng. And he seiþ to Petre, So, 'wher ȝee miȝte nat oon hour wake wiþ me?

- xlvi Wake ȝee, and preie, þat ȝee entren nat in to temptacioun; forsoþe þe spirit is redy, bote þe flesh seik, 'or vnstable.
 xlvi Eft þe fecounde tyme he wente, and preide, seyinge, My fadir, ȝif þis cuppe may nat passē, no bote I drynke it, þi wille be don.
 xlvi And eftfone he came, and foonde hem slepyng; forsoþe her eȝen weren greued.
 xlviii And hem left, he wente eftfone, and preide þe þridde tyme, þe same word seyinge.
 xlvi Panne he came to his discipulis, and seiþ to hem, Slepe ȝee nowe, and reste ȝe; loo! þe hour haþ neȝed, and mannes fone shal be taken in to þe hondis of synners; xlvi rysfe ȝee, go wee; loo! he þat shal take me, 'shal neȝe.
 xlvi And ȝit hym spekyng, loo! Judas, oon of þe twelue, and wiþ hym came a grete cumpayne, wiþ swerdis and battis, fent of þe princes of prestis, and of eldre men of þe peple.
 xlvi Forsoþe he þat bitraiede hym, ȝaue to hem a tokne, seiynge, Whom euer Y shal kisse, he it is; holde ȝee hym.
 xlvi And anon he 'cummynge niȝ to Jhesu, seide, Haile, maistre; and he kiffide hym.
 i And Jhesus seide to hym, Frend, wherto art þou comen? Panne þei 'camen niȝ, and castiden hondis 'in to Jhesu, and helden hym.
 ii And loo! oon of hem þat weren wiþ Jhesu, holdynge out þe hond, drowȝ out his swerd; and he, smytyng þe seruaunt of þe prince of prestis, kitte of his litil ere.
 iii Panne Jhesus seiþ to hym, Turne þi swerd in to his place; soþely alle þat shulen take swerd, shulen perishe by swerd.
 iv Wher geslȝit þou, þat I may nat preie my fadir, and he shal ȝeue to me now more þan twelue legions of angelis?
 v Hou þerfore shulen þe scripturis be fulfillid? 'for it behouȝt to be don.
 vi In þat hour Jhesus seide to þe cumpaynes 'of peple, As to a þeef ȝee han gon out, wiþ swerdis and battis, for to cacche me; 'day by day I latte at ȝou, techynge in þe temple, and ȝee helden not me.
 vii Forsoþe al þis ȝing was don, þat þe scripturis of prophetis shulden be fulfillid. Panne alle discipulis fledden, hym forsaken.
 viii And þei holdynge Jhesu, ledden hym to Caiphas, prince of prestis, wher scribis 'and Pharisees, and þe eldre men of þe peple hadden cummen to gidre.
 ix Forsoþe Petre suede hym afer, til in to þe halle of þe prince of prestis; and he gon ynne wiþ ynne, fate wiþ seruauntis, þat he shulde se þe eend.
 x Forsoþe þe princis of prestis, and alle þe counseile fouȝten fals witnesfyng aȝeinus Jhesu, þat þei shulden take hym to deþ;
- ix and þei founden nat, whenne many fals witnessis hadden 'cummen to. Treuly at þe laste, two fals witnessis camen, xi and seiden, Bis seide, I may distruye þe temple of God, and after 'þe þridde day bilde it aȝein.
 xii And þe prince of prestis ryfynge seiþ to hym, Answerist þou no ȝing to þo ȝingis, 'þe whiche þese witnessen aȝeinus bee?
 xiii Forsoþe Jhesus was stille. And þe prince of prestis seiþ to hym, I counour þee by quycce God, þat þou seie to vs, ȝif þou be Crist, þe fone of God.
 xiv Jhesus seide to hym, þou hast seid; neþeles I seie to ȝou, 'an oþer tyme, 'or fro þis tyme forþ, ȝee shulen se mannes fone fittyng at þe riȝthalf of 'þe vertue of God, and cummyng in cloudis of heuene.
 xv Panne þe prince of prestis kitte, 'or to-rente, his cloþis, seyinge, He haþ blasfemed; what ȝit nede han we to witnessis? loo! now ȝee han herd blasfemye; xvi what femeþ to ȝou? And þei answeryng seiden, He is guilty of deþ.
 xvii Panne þei spitten in to his face, and smyten hym wiþ buffetis; forsoþe oþer ȝouen strokis wiþ þe pawm of hondis in to his face, xviii seyinge, þou Crist, prophecie to vs, who is he þat smote þee?
 xix Sopely Petre sat 'wiþ outen in þe porche; and an hond mayden 'came niȝ to hym, seyinge, And þou were wiþ Jhesu of Galilee.
 xx And he denyede before alle men, seyinge, I woot nat what þou faist.
 xxi Forsoþe hym goyng out þe ȝate, an oþer hond mayden say hym, and seiþ to hem þat weren þere, And þis was wiþ Jhesu of Nazareth.
 xxii And eftfone he denyede wiþ an ooþ, for he knewe nat þe man.
 xxiii And after a litil, þei þat stoden 'came niȝ, and seiden 'to Petre, Treuly and þou art of hem; for whi and þi speche makȝ þee opyn.
 xxiv Panne 'he began to warye and swere, þat he knewe nat þe man. And anon þe cok crew.
 xxv And Petre biþouȝte on þe word of Jhesu, þat he hadde seide, Bifore þe cok crewe, þries þou shalt denye me. And he gon out, wepte bittirly.

Capitulum XXVII.

- i Forsoþe þe morwe maad, alle þe princis of prestis, and eldre men of þe peple token counseil aȝeins Jhesu, þat þei shulden take hym to deþ.
 ii And þei ladden hym bounden, and bitoken hym to Pilat of Pounce, 'meire, or chef iustice.
 iii Panne Judas þat bitrayede hym, seyng ȝat he was dampnyd, he led by penaunce, 'or forþenkynge, brouȝte aȝein þriddi platis of feluer to þe princis of prestis, and to þe eldre men of þe peple, iv feyng, I haue synned, bitrayinge iust blood. And þei seiden, What to vs? se þou.

v And þe platis of seluer 'cast awey in þe temple, he wente awey, and goyinge awey he hangide hym wiþ a 'grane, or a gnare.
vi Forsoþe þe princis of prestis, taken þe platis of seluer, seiden, It is nat leueful to sende hem in to þe tresorie, for it 'is þe pris of blood.
vii Soply counciel taken, þei bouȝten wiþ þem þe feed of a potter, 'in to byryinge of 'dead men.
viii For þis þing 'þe ilk feed is clepid Acheldemak, þat is, a feed of blood, til in to þis day.
ix Panne it is fulfillid, 'þat þing þat is feid by þe prophete Jeremye, feyyng, And þei token þrity platis of syluer, þe pris of a man preysid, whom þei preysiden of þe sonys of Yrael;
x and þei ȝauen hem in to þe feed of a potter, as þe Lord ordeyned to me.
xi Soþely Jhesus stood byfore þe 'meyre, or domysman; and þe prefendent axide hym, feyyng, Art thou kyng of Jewis? Jhesus seiþ to hym, Pou seist.
xii And whenne he was acusid of þe princes of prestis, and eldre men of þe peple, he answereide no þing.
xiii Pan Pilat seiþ to hym, Herist thou nat, hou many witnessyngis þei seien aȝein þee?
xiv And he answereide nat to hym to eny word, so þat þe prefendent wondride gretely.
xv Forsoþe by a solempne day þe prefendent was wont for to delyuere to þe peple oon bounden, whom þei wolden.
xvi Forsoþe he hadde a 'noble man bounden, þat was feid Barabas.
xvii Perfore Pilat feid to hem gedrid to gidre, Whom wole ȝee, I 'leeue, or delyuere, to ȝou? wher Barabas, or Jhesu, þat is feid Crist?
xviii Soþely he wiste, þat 'by enuye þei betraieden hym.
xix Forsoþe hym fittyng for 'iustise, or domysman, his wylf sente to hym, feyyng, No þing to bee and to þat iust man; soþely I haue suffrid 'þis day many þings for hym, by a visioun, 'or swēuen.
xx Forsoþe þe princis of prestis and þe eldre men 'tisiden, or counseiliden, to þe peplis, þat þei shulden axe Barabas, but Jhesu þei shulden lese.
xxi Forsoþe þe president answerynge seiþ to hem, Whom of þe two wolen ȝee to be 'left, or delyuerid, to ȝou?
xxii And þei seiden, Barabas. Pilat seiþ to hem, What perfore shal I do of Jhesu, þat is feid Crist? Alle seien, Be he crucified.
xxiii Þe prefendent seiþ to hem, Soþely what of yuel haþ he don? And þei crieren more, feyyng, Be he crucified.
xxiv Forsoþe Pilat feyng 'þat he profitide no þing, but þe more noyse was maad, water taken, waþhide þe hondis byfore þe peple, feyyng, I am innocent, 'or giltlesse, fro þe blood of þis iust man; se ȝee.

xxv And al þe peple answerynge feide, His blood vpon vs, and on oure sonys.
xxvi Panne he lefte to hem Barabas, but he toke to hem Jhesu scourgid, þat he shulde be crucified.
xxvii Panne kniȝtis of þe president takynge Jhesu in þe mote halle, gedriden to hym alle þe cumpayne of kniȝtis.
xxviii And þei vnclopinge hym, diden aboute hym a rede mantel;
xxix and þei foldynge a crowne of þornis, puttiden on his heued, and a reed in his riȝt hond; and þe knee bowid, 'or folden, bifore hym, þei scornyden hym, feyng, Hayle, kyng of Jewis.
xxx And þei spittynge 'in to hym, token a reed, and smyten his heued.
xxxi And after þat þei hadden 'scorned hym, þei vncloþiden hym of þe mantel, and þei cloþiden hym wiþ his cloþis, and ledden hym 'for to crucifie.
xxxii Soþely þei goyng out, founden a man of Syrynen, cummyng fro a toun, Symont by name; þei constreyned hym, þat he shulde take 'his croſſe.
xxxiii And þei camen 'in to a place þat is clepid Golgatha, þat is, þe place of Caluarie.
xxxiv And þei ȝauen hym for to drinke wiyn meyngid wiþ galle; and whenne he had taſtid, he wolde nat drinke.
xxxv Soþely after þat þei hadden crucified hym, þei departiden his cloþis, sendyng lot, þat it shulde be fulfillid, þat is feid by þe prophete, feyng, 'Þei departiden to hem my cloþ þei ſenten lot.
xxxvi And þei fittyng kepten hym; xxxvii and þei puttiden on his heued þe cause of hym wryten, 'Pis is Jhesus 'of Nazareth, kyng of Jewis.
xxxviii Panne two þeeues ben crucified wiþ him, oon on þe riȝt half, and oon on þe left half.
xxxix Forsoþe men paſſyng forþ blasphemiden hym, moouyng her heuedis, xl and feyng, 'Vath, or fie, 'to þee, þat distroyist þe temple of God, and in þe þridde day 'bildift it aȝein; faue þou bi self; ȝif þou art þe fone of God, cume doun of þe croſſe.
xli Alſo and princis of prestis scornyng, wiþ scribis and eldre men, feiden, xlii He made oþer men saaf, he may nat make hym self saaf; ȝif he is kyng of Yrael, cume he nowe doun fro þe croſſe, and we bileyuen to hym;
xliii he trustiþ in God, delyuere he hym nowe, ȝif he wole; forsoþe he feide, For I am 'Goddis fone.
xliii 'Forsoþe and þe þeeuys, þat weren crucified wiþ hym, puttiden to hym wiþ repreue þe same þing.
xlv Soþely fro þe fixte hour dercnessis ben maad on al þe erþe, 'til to þe nyneþe hour.
xlii And about þe nynþe houre Jhesus criede wiþ grete voice, feyng, Hely, Hely, lamazabatany, þat is, My God, my God, 'wherto, or whi, haſt thou forsaken mee?

- xlviij Soþly summen stondynge þere, and heerynge, feiden, þis clepiþ Hely.
 xviii And anon oon of hem rennyng, fillide a spounge taken wiþ 'aycel, or vynegre, and puttide to a reed, and ȝaue to hym for to drinke. xlxi But oþer feiden, Suffre þou; see we wher Hely cumme, delyuerynge hym.
 i Forsoþe Jhesus eftsones crynge wiþ grete voice,
 'fente out þe spirit.
 ii And loo! þe veile of þe temple is kitt, 'or rent, in to two parties, fro þe heiȝest til doun. And þe erþe is moued, and stoonys ben cleft;
 iii and biriels ben openyd, and many bodies of feintes bat slepten, 'or weren dead, 'rysen aȝein. ivii And þei goyng out of her biriels, after his resureccioun camen in to þe holy citee, and apeeriden to manye.
 iviii Treuly centurio and þei þat weren wiþ hym kepinge Jhesu, þe moouyng of þe erþe seen, and þoo þingis þat weren done, dredden greteli, seyinge, Verrely þis was Goddis sone.
 ivi Forsoþe 'pere weren þere many wymmen afer, þat fueden Jhesu fro Galilee, mynþtrynge to hym. ivi Amonge whiche was Marie Mawdeleyne, and Marie of Jamys, and 'þe modir of Joseph, and þe modir of Zebedees sones.
 lvii Forsoþe when þe euening was maad, 'pere came a riche man fro Armathia, Joseph by name, þe whiche and he was disciple of Jhesu.
 lviii He wente to Pilate, and axide þe body of Jhesu.
 Panne Pilate comaundide þe body to be ȝolden.
 lix And þe body taken, Joseph wlappide it in a clene
 'fendel, or lynnen cloþ, lx and puttide it in his newe biriel, þat he hadde hewen in a stoon; and he walowid to a grete stoon at þe dore of þe biriel, and wente awey.
 lxi Forsoþe Marye Mawdeleyne and an oþere Marye weren þere, fittyng aȝeins þe sepulcre.
 lxii Soþely on 'þe tober day, þat is after pascke eueninge, þe princis 'of prestis and Pharisees camen to gidere to Pilate, lxiii leiyng, Sire, we han mynde, for 'þe ilke 'traitour, or disseyuour, fayde ȝit lyuynge, Aftir þre dayes I shal ryse aȝen.
 lxiv Perfore comaunde þou þe sepulcre to be kept til 'in to þe þridde day; leſt perauenture his disciplis comen, and stelen him, and seyen to þe peple, He is risun fro deep; and þe laste errour schal be worse þan þe formere.
 lxv Pilat seiþ to hem, ȝe han þe kepinge; go ȝe, 'kepe ȝe as ȝe kunnen.
 lxvi Forsoþ þei goyng forþ, kepten, 'or wardiden, þe sepulcre, markinge, 'or feelinge, þe stoon, wiþ keperis.
- i Forsoþe in þe euening of þe saboth, 'or haliday, þat schyneþ in þe firste day of þe woke, Marie Mawdeleyne cam, and anoþer Marie, for to fe þe sepulcre.
 ii And lo! 'þer was maad a greet erþe mouyng; forsoþ þe aungel of þe Lord cam doun fro heuene, and
 'comyng to turnide awey þe stoon, and sat þeron.
 iii Soþli his lokyng was as leyt, and his cloþis as snow;
 iii forsoþe for drede of him þe keperis ben afferid, and þei ben maad as deede men.
 v Forsoþe þe aungel answeringe feide to þe wymmen, Nyle ȝe drede, for I woot þat ȝe feken Jhesu, þat is crucified;
 vi he is not here, soþli he roos, as he feide; come ȝe, and seeþ þe place, where þe Lord was putt.
 vii And ȝe goyng lone, seie to his disciplis 'and to Petre, for he hab risun. And lo! he schal go bifore ȝou in to Galilee; þere ȝe schulen fe him. Lo! I haue bifore feid to ȝou.
 viii And 'Marie Mawdeleyne, and anoþer Marie wenten out loone fro þe buryel, wiþ drede and greet ioye, rennyng for to telle his disciplis.
 ix And lo! Jhesus 'ran aȝens hem, seyinge, Heil ȝe.
 Forsoþe þei 'camen to, and heelden his feet, and worschipiden him.
 x Panne Jhesus seiþ to hem, Nyle ȝe drede; go ȝe, 'telle ȝe to my briþeren, þat þei go in to Galilee; þere þei schulen fe me.
 xi 'þe whiche whanne þei hadden gon, loo! summe of þe keperis camen in to þe cytee, and tolden to þe princes 'of prestis alle þingis þat weren don. xii And þei gedrid to gidre wiþ þe eldere men, a counceil takun, ȝaue to þe knyȝtis plenteuous money, xiii seyinge, Seie ȝe, for his disciplis camen by niȝte, and han stolen him, vs slepinge.
 xiv And if þis be herd of þe 'prefedent, or iustife, we schulen conceile him, and make ȝou sikir.
 xv And þe money takun, þei diden, as þei weren tauȝt.
 And þis word is pupplifid at þe Jewis, til in to þis day.
 xvi Forsoþe enleuene disciplis wenten in to Galilee, in to an hil, where Jhesus hadde ordeyned to hem. xvii And þei seyng him, worschipiden; soþli summe of hem doutiden.
 xviii And Jhesus 'comyng to, spak to hem, seyinge, Al power is ȝouun to me, in heuene and in erþe. xix Perfore ȝe goyng teche alle folkis, cristenye hem in þe name of þe Fadir, and of þe Sone, and of þe Hooly Gost;
 xx techinge hem for to kepe alle þingis, what euere þingis I haue comaundid to ȝou; and lo! I am wiþ ȝou in alle dayes, til to þe endyng of þe world.
- Here endip þe gospel of Matheu, and bigynneþ þe prolog of Mark.

Capitulum XXVIII.

MARK.

þe prologue of Marke.

Mark, þe euangelist, of God chofun, and Petris sone in baptyme, and in Goddis word disciple, presthod in Israel ledynge, aftir fleisch a dekene, he, turnyd to þe feip of Crist, wroot þe gospel in Ytayle; schewinge þeron boþe what he owide to his kynrede and to Crist. For whi þe bigynnyng of his principle he ordeynynge in þe vois of a prophetis exclamacioun, schewiþ þe ordre of dekenis eleccioun, þat he, prechinge 'þe for ordenede John, Zakaries sone, sent out in vois of an aungel tellynge, not oonly Goddis sone maad man, but þe body of þe Lord, 'þat is, þe churche, in to alle þingis by þe word of Goddis vois quykid, schulde schewe in þe bigynnyng of his prechinge of þe gospel; þat þe which þis redinge schulde knowe, to whom þe bigynnyng of fleisch in þe Lord, and Jhesu comyng to þe habitacle, þe fleisch schulde knowe, and in hym silf þe word, 'þat is, Crist, of þe vois 'John Baptist, þat in consonantis, 'þat is, in forme fadris, he hadde lost, schulde fynde. Forsoþ boþe he, þe work of þe fulfillid gospel entringe, 'and fro þe baptym of þe Lord bigynnyng to preche God, ne trauelide not to seie þe natiuite of fleisch, þe which he hadde seene in obere bifore, but he exprefsing þe expositioun of al þe desert, haþ schewid out þe fastinge of noumbre, 'oþer þe noumbre of fastinge, þe temptacioun of þe fend, þe congregacioun of beestis, and þe seruise of aungels, þat he ordeynynge vs to vndirstonde, alle þingis in schort peyntyng to gidere, noþer þe autorite of þing do 'schulde do awey, and 'in performyng schulde not denye fulnesse to þe werk. Forsoþe he is seid to haue kit awey his þoumbe, þat he myȝte be hadd as vnworþi to presthod. But so moche myȝte eleccioun bifore ordeyned, acordynge to þe feip, þat noþir so in þe werk of þe word he schulde leese, þat rabiþe he hadde deferuyd 'in kynde. For of Alexandre he was bischop; of whom bi alle þingis werk, 'oþir intencioun, was to kunne, boþe to dispose þe seiyingis of þe gospel in 'him silf, and þe disciplyne of þe lawe 'to knowe in him silf, and 'þe nature of God to knowe in þe fleisch, oþer in 'þe manhood of þe Lord. Pe whiche þingis in vs silf first it behoueþ to be requyrid; aftirward we wolliþ þingis souȝt to be knowe, hauynge þe mede of exortacioun; for he þat plonȝiþ, and he þat moistiþ, beþ þe fame; but he þat ȝyueþ þe encrees, is God.

Here bygynneþ þe gospel of Mark.

Capitulum I.

- i The bigynnyng of þe gospel of Jhesu Crist, þe sone of God.
- ii As it is writun in Yfaie, þe prophete, Lo! I fende myn angel bifore þi face, þat schal make þi weye redy bifore þee.

iii þe voice of oon cryinge in desert, Make ȝe redy þe weye of þe Lord, make ȝe his papis riȝtful.

iv Jhon was in desert baptifyng, and prechinge þe baptym of penaunce, in to remiscioun of synnes.

v And alle men of Jerusalem wenten out to him, and al þe cuntrie of Judee; and weren baptisid of him in þe flood of Jordan, knowlechinge her synnes.

vi And John was cloþid wiþ heiris of camelis, and a girdil of skyn abowte his leendis; and he eet locustus, and 'hony of þe wode, vii and prechide, seyng, A strengere þan I schal come aftir me, of whom I knelinge am not worþi for to 'vndo, or vnbynde, þe þwong of his schoon.

viii I haue baptisid ȝou in water; forsoþe he shal baptise ȝou in þe Holy Gooſt.

ix And it is don in þoo dayes, Jhesus came fro Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptisid of Joon in Jordan.

x And anoon he styinge vp of þe water, sayȝ heuenes openyd, and þe 'Holy Gooſt cummyng doun as a culiere, and dwellyng in hym.

xi And a voys is maad fro heuenes, Pou art my 'sone loued, in þee I haue plesid.

xii And anon þe Spirit puttide hym in to desert.

xiii And he was in desert fourty dayes and fourty niȝtis, and was temptid of Sathanas, and was wiþ beestis, and angelis mynstriden to hym.

xiv Forsoþe after þat Joon was taken, Jhesus came in to Galilee, prechinge þe gospel of þe kyngdam of God, xv and seiyinge, For tyme is fulfillid, and þe kyngdam of God shal 'come niȝ; 'forþpinke ȝee, 'or do ȝee penaunce, and 'bileue ȝee to þe gospel.

xvi And he passyng bisidis þe see of Galilee, say Symont, and Andrew, his broþer, sendyng nettis in to þe see; soþely þei weren fishers.

xvii And Jhesus seide to hem, Come ȝee after me; I shal make ȝou to be maad fishers of men.

xviii And anoon þe nettis forsaken, þei sueden hym.

xix And he gon forþ bennes a litil, say James of Zebede, and Joon, his broþer, and hem in þe boot makynge nettis.

xx And anoon he clepide hem; and Zebede, her fadir, left in þe boot wiþ hirid seruauntis, þei sueden hym.

xxi And þei 'wenten forþ in to Cafarnaum, and anoon in þe sabotis he gon yn into þe synagoge, tauȝte hem.

xxii And þei wondreden on his techyng; soþely he was techyng hem, as hauynge power, and not as scribis.

xxiii And in þe synagoge of hem was a man in an vnclene spirit, xxiv and he crieðe, seyng, What to vs and to þee, þou Jhesu of Nazareth? haſte þou cummen 'bifore þe tym for to destroie vs? Y woot þat þou art þe holy of God.

xxv And Jhesus þretenyde to hym, seyng, Wexe dowmb, and go out of þe man.

xxvi And þe vnclene goost debrekyng hym, and cryinge wiþ grete vois, wente awey fro hym.

xxvii And alle men wondriden, so þat þei 'souȝten togidre amonge hem, seyinge, What is þis þinge? what is þis newe techyng? for in power he comaundiþ to vnclene spritis, and þei obeyen to hym.
 xxviii And þe tale, 'or tybing, of hym wente forþ anoon in to al þe cuntrie of Galilee.
 xxix And anoon þei goyng out of þe synagoge camen in to þe hous of Symont and Andrew, wiþ James and Joon.
 xxx Soþely and þe modir of Symontis wif 'sik in feueris restide, or lay; and anoon þei seien to hym of hir. xxxi And he 'cummynge to, reride hir vp, 'þe hond of hir taken, and anoon þe feuere left hire, and she mynystride to hem.
 xxxii Forsoþe þe euenyng maad, whenne þe sone wente doun, þei brouȝten to hym alle hauyng yuel, and hauyng deuelis.
 xxxiv And al þe cite was gaderid at þe ȝate.
 xxxvii And he helide many þat weren traueilide wiþ dyuers foris, and he caſtide out many deuelis, and he fufffride hem nat for to speke, for þei knewen hym.
 xxxv And 'in þe morewynge ful erly he ryfynge, gon out, wente 'in to desert place, and preiede þere. xxxvi And Symont suede hym, and þei þat weren wiþ
 hym.
 xxxvii And whanne þei hadden founden hym, þei seiden to hym, For alle men seeken þee.
 xxxviii And he seiþ to hem, Go we in to þe nexte townes and citees, þat and þere I preche, 'for to þis þing I came.
 xxxix And he was prechynge in þe synagogis of hem, and in alle Galilee, and caſtyng out fendis.
 xl And a leprous man cam to hym, bisechynge hym, and, þe knee folden, feide, ȝif þou wolt, þou maist cleanse me.
 xli Forsoþe Jhesus, hauyng mercy on hym, streiȝt out his hond, and, touchynge hym, seiþ to hym, I wole, be þou maad clene.
 xlvi And whanne he hadde feide, anoon þe lepre partide awey fro hym, and he is clenſid.
 xlvi And he þretenyde to hym, and anoon 'he putte hym out,
 xlvi and seiþ to hym, Se þou, seie to no man; but go, shewe þee to þe princis of preftis, and offre for þi clenſyng boþingis þat Moyſes badde, in to witneſſyng to hem.
 xlv And he, gon out, biganne to preche, and diffame,
 'or puplifhe, þe word, so þat nowe he miȝte nat opynly go in to þe citee, but be wiþ out forþ in deserte placis; and þei camen to gidre to hym on alle sydis.

Capitulum II.

i And eft he entride in to Capharnaum, after eiȝte days.
 And it is herd, þat he was in an hous,

ii and many camen togidre, so þat it tok nat, neþer at þe ȝate. And he spac to hem a word.
 iii And 'þere camen to hym men bryngynge a 'man fike in paleſie, 'þe whiche was borun of fourē.
 iv And whanne þei miȝte nat offre hym to hym for þe campanye 'of peple, þei 'maden þe roof nakid, wher he was; and makyng opyn, þei ſenten doun þe bedd, in whiche þe fike man in paleſie lay.
 v Soþely whanne Jhesus fay þe feip of hem, he feip 'vnto þe fike man in paleſie, Sone, þi synnes ben forȝouen to þee.
 vi Forsoþe 'þere weren summe of þe ſcribis fittyng, and þenkyng in her hertis, vii What ſpekiþ he þus? He blaſfemeþ; who may forȝeue synnes, no but God alone?
 viii Þe whiche þing anoon knownen by þe Holy Gooſt, for þei þouȝten so wiþ inne hem ſelf, Jhesus feip to hem, What benken ȝee þe þingis in ȝoure hertis?
 ix What is liȝtere for to ſeie to þe fike man in paleſie, Synnes ben forȝouen to þee, 'or for to ſeie, Ryle, take þi bed, and walke?
 x Soþely þat ȝee wite þat mannes ſone haþ powere in erþe to forȝeue synnes, he feip to þe fike man in paleſie,
 xi I ſeie to þee, ryſe vp, take þi bed, and go in to þin
 hous.
 xii And anoon he roos vp, and, þe bed taken vp, he wente biſore alle men, so þat alle men wondriden, and honouriden God, seyinge, For we ſayen neuer ſo.
 xiii And he wente out eftſone to þe ſee, and al þe campanye of peple cam to hym; and he tauȝte hem.
 xiv And whenne he paſſide, he fay Leui Alfey fittyng at þe tolboþe, and he feip to hym, Sue þou me. And he ryfynge ſuede hym.
 xv And it is don, whenne he fat at þe mete in his hous, many puplicanys and synful men ſaten togidre at þe mete wiþ Jhesu and his diſciplis; ſoþely þere weren manye þat foleweden hym.
 xvi And ſcribis and Pharifees ſeyinge, for he eet wiþ puplicanys and synful men, ſeiden to his diſciplis, Whi 'ȝoure maister etiþ and drinkiþ wiþ puplicanys and synners?
 xvii Pis þing herd, Jhesus feip to hem, Hoole men han no nede to a leche, but þei þat han yuele; forſoþe I cam not for to clepe iuſte men, but synners.
 xviii And diſciplis of Joon and þe Pharifees were faſtyng; and þei camen, and ſeien to hym, Whi diſciplis of Joon and of Pharifees fasten, but þi diſciplis fasten nat?
 xix And Jhesus feip to hem, Wheþer þe ſonnys of weddyngis mown faſte, as long as þe ſpoſe is wiþ hem? Hou longe tyme þei han þe ſpoſe wiþ hem, þei mowe nat faſte.
 xx Forſoþe dayes ſhulen come, whenne þe ſpoſe ſhal be taken awey from hem, and þanne þei ſhulen faſte in þoo days.

xxi No man feweþ a pacche of rude, or newe, cloþe to an old cloþe, ellis he takiþ awey þe newe supplement, 'or pacche, and a more brekyng is maad.
xxii And no man fendiþ newe wyn in to oold botelis, 'or wyne vefselis, ellis þe wyn shal berste þe wyn vefselis, and þe wyn shal be held out, and þe wyne vefselis shulen perishe. But newe wyn shal be sent in to newe wyn vefselis.
xxiii And it is don eftsoone, whanne 'þe Lord walkide in þe sabothis by þe cornes, and his disciplis bigunnyn to passe forþ, and plucke eris.
xxiv Soþly þe Pharysees feiden, Loo! what 'don þi disciplis in sabotis, þat is nat leeueful.
xxv And he seiþ to hem, Radde ȝee neuere what Dauyþ dide, whanne he hadde neede, and he hungride, and þei þat weren wiþ hym?
xxvi Hou he wente in into þe hous of God, vndir Abiathar, prince of prestis, and eete loouys of proposiciooun, þe whiche it was nat leeful to ete, no but to prestis alone, and he ȝaue to hem þat weren wiþ hym.
xxvii And he seide to hem, Þe sabote is maad for man, and nat a man for þe sabote;
xxviii and so manrys sone is lord also of þe saboth.

Capitulum III.

i And he entride eftsoone in to þe synagoge, and þer was a man hauyng a drye hond.
ii And þei aspieden hym, ȝif he helide in sabothis, 'for to accuse hym.
iii And he seiþ to þe man hauyng a drye hond, Ryse in to þe mydil.
iv And he seiþ to hem, Is it leeueful to do wel in þe sabothis, or yuele? for to make a soule saaf, wheþer to lese? And þei weren stille.
v And he biholdynge hem aboute wiþ wraþe, hauyng forwe vpon þe blyndnesse of her herte, seiþ to þe man, Holde forþ þin honde. And he helde forþ, and þe honde is restorid 'to hym.
vi Soþely Pharisees goyng out anoon, maden a counseil wiþ Herodyans aȝeins hym, hou þei shulden lese hym.
vii Forþoþe Jhesus wiþ his disciplis wente to þe see; and myche cumpayne from Galilee and Judee suede hym, viii and fro Jerusalem, and fro Ydume, and biȝendis Jordan, and þei þat aboute Tyre and Sydon, a grete multitude, 'heerynge þe þingis þat he dide, camen to hym.
ix And Jhesus seiþ to his disciplis, þat þe litil boot shulde ferue hym, for þe cumpayne 'of peple, leſt þei oppreſſiden hym;
x Soþely he helide many, so þat þei felden fast to hym, þat þei shulden touche hym. Forþoþe hou many euere hadden 'foris, or woundis, xi and vnclene spiritis, whenne þei seien hym, felden down to hym, and crieden, seyinge, Pou art þe sone of God.

xii And gretely he manasseð hem, þat þei shulden nat make hym opyn, 'or knownen.
xiii And he styinge in to an hil, clepide to hym whom he wolde; and þei camen to hym.
xiv And he made, þat 'þere weren twelue wiþ hym, 'and þat he shulde fende hem for to preche.
xv And he ȝaue to hem power 'of heelyng fiknessis, and 'of caftyng out fendis.
xvi And to Symount he putte name Petre, xvii and James of Zebede and Joon, þe broþer of James, and he putte to hem names Boonerges, þat is, þe sones of þondryng; xviii and Andrew and Philip, and Bartholomewe and Mathew, and Thomas and James Alfey, and Thadee and Symount Cananee, xix and Judas Scarioth, þat bitraide hym. And þei comen to an hous, xx and þe cumpayne 'of peple came togidre eftsoone, so þat þei miȝte not neþer ete breed.
xi And whanne his kynnesmen hadden herdde, þei wenten out for to holde hym; soþly þei seiden, for he is turnyd in to wodeneſſe.
xii And þe scribis þat camen doun fro Jerusalem, feiden, For he haþ Belfebub, and for in þe prince of deuels he castiþ out fendis.
xiii And, hem gadrid togidre, he seide to hem in parablis, Hou may Sathanas caste out Sathanas?
xiv And if a rewme be departide in itſelf, 'þe ilke rewme may not stonde.
xv And if an hous be disparoilid on it ſelf, þilke hous may not stonde.
xvi And if Sathanas haþ riſen aȝeins hym ſelf, he is disparoilid, and he shal not mowe stonde, but haþ an ende.
xvii No man, gon in to a ſtronge mannes hous, may take awey his vefſels, no but he bynde firſte þe ſtronge man, and þanne he shal diuerſly rauyſhe his hous.
xviii Trewly I ſeie to ȝou, for alle synnes and blaþemyes, by whiche þei han blaſfemed, shulen be forȝouen to þe sones of men.
xix Soþely he þat 'shal blaſfeme aȝeins þe Holy Gost, 'shal not haue remiſſion in to wiþ ouen eend, but he shal be guilty of euerlaſtyng treſpas.
xx For þei ſeiden, He haþ an unclene ſpirit.
xxi And his modir and breþeren comen, and þei ſtondynge wiþ oue forþ, ſenten to hym, clepyng hym.
xxii And a cumpayne ſat aboute hym; and þei ſeien to hym, Lo! þi modir, and þei breþeren wiþ ouen forþ ſeken þee.
xxiii And he anſweryng to hem seiþ, Who is my modir and my breþeren?

xxxivii And biholdynge hem aboute, þat saten in þe cumpas of hym, he seiþ, Lo! my modir and my breþeren.

xxxv Forþoþ who þat doþ þe will of God, he is my broþer, and my sister, and modir.

Capitulum IIII.

i And eft Jheſus bigan for to teche at þe fee; and myche cumpany 'of peple is gedrid to hym, so þat he styinge in to a boot, fat in þe fee, and al þe cumpany 'of peple was aboute þe fee, on þe lond.

ii And he tauȝte hem in parablis many þingis. And he feide to hem in his techyng, Heere ȝee.

iii Loo! a 'man sowynge goþ out for to sowe.

iv And þe while he sowiþ, 'an oþer seed felde aboute þe wey, and briddis of heuene, 'or of þe eire, camen, and eeten it.

v Forþoþ an oþer felde doun on stony placis, wher it had nat myche erþe; and anoon it sprong vp, for it hadde nat depnesse of erþe.

vi And whenne þe funne rose vp, it welwide for heete, and it dried vp, for it hadde not roote.

vii And an oþer felde doun into þornes, and þornes stieden vp, and strangliden it, and it ȝaue not fruyt.

viii And an oþer felde doun in to good lond, and ȝaue fruyt, styinge vp, and waxinge; and oon brouȝte 'pritty fold, and oon sixtyfold, and oon an hundredfold.

ix And he feide, He þat haþ eris 'of heeryng, heere.

x And whenne he was singuler, 'or by hym silf, þe twelue þat weren wiþ hym axiden hym for to expowne þe parable.

xi And he feide to hem, To ȝou it is ȝouen for to knowe þe mysterie, 'or pruite, of þe kyngdom of God.

Sopely to hem þat ben wiþ oute forþ, alle þingis ben maad in parablis, xii þat þei seyng fe, and fe nat, and þei heeryng heere, and vnderstonde not; þat sum tyme þei be conuertid, and synnes be forȝouen to hem.

xiii And he seiþ to hem, Witen not ȝee þis parable? and howe ȝee shulden knowe alle parablis?

xiv He þat sowiþ, sowiþ a word.

xv 'Pese soply ben þat aboute þe weye, where þe word is sowun; and whenne þei han herd, anoon comeþ Sathanas, and takiþ awey þe word þat is sowun in her hertis.

xvi And also þese ben þat ben sown on 'a stoon, þe whiche whanne þei 'han herd þe word, anoon taken it wiþ ioye;

xvii and þei han nat roote in hem silf, but þei ben temporal, 'þat is, laſten a lityl tyme; afterward 'tribulacioun spongen vp, and persecucioun for þe word, anoon þei ben sclaundrid.

xviii And 'þere ben oþer þat ben sowun in þornis; þese it ben, þat heeren þe word, xix and myfeiste of þe world, and diffeit of richeſſis, and oþer charge of coueitise entrynge ynne, strangulen þe word, and it is maad wiþ ouden fruyt.

xx And þese it ben þat ben sowun on good lond, 'þe whiche heren þe word, and taken, and maken fruyt, oon þritti fold, oon fixti fold, and oon an hundrid.

xxi And he feide to hem, Wher a lanterne come, þat it be put vndir a bushel? wher not, þat it be put vpon a candil stike?

xxii Forþoþe 'þer is no þing hid, þat shal not be 'maad opyn; neþer ony þing is preuy, 'þe whiche shal not come 'in to apert.

xxiii If ony man haue eeris of heryng, heere he.

xxiv And he feide to hem, Se ȝee what ȝee heeren. In what mesure ȝee meten, it shal be meten to ȝou, and be kaſt to ȝou.

xxv Sopely it shal be ȝouen to hym þat haþ, and 'it shal be taken awey from hym 'þat haþ not, also þat þat he haþ.

xxvi 'And he feide, So þe kingdom of God is, as if a man caste feed in to þe erþe, xxvii and it slepe, and ryse vp in niȝt and day, and bryngre forþ feed, and wexe faſte, þe while he wote not.

xxviii Forþoþe þe erþe by his owne worshynge makiþ fruyt, firſt an erþe, 'or grene corn, afterward an eere, afterward ful fruyt in þe ere.

xxix And whanne of it silf it haþ brouȝt forþ fruyt, anoon he sendiþ a fikil, 'or hook, for rype corn comeþ.

xxx And he feide, To what þing shulden we likene þe kyngdom of God? or to what parable shulen we comparisoune it?

xxxi As a corn of feneueye, þe which whann it is sowun in þe erþe, is leſſe þan alle feedis þat ben in erþe;

xxxii and whanne it is bredd, 'or quykened, it stiȝetþ vp in to a tree, and is maad more þan alle wortis, 'or erbis; and it 'shal make grete braunchis, so þat briddis of heuene mowe dwelle vndir þe shadewe þer of.

xxxiii And in many fiche parablis he ſpac to hem a word, as þei miȝten heer;

xxxiv ſopely he ſpac not to hem wiþ ouden parable. Forþoþe he expounyde to his diſciplis alle þingis 'on fidis hond, 'or by hem ſelf.

xxxv And he seiþ to hem, in þat day, whenne euening was maad, Paffe we aȝeinward.

xxxvi And þei leeuyng be cumpayne 'of peple, taken hym, so þat he was in þe boot; and oþer bootis weren wiþ hym.

xxxvii And a greet storme of wynd is maad, and ſente wawis in to þe boot, so þat þe boot was ful.

xxxviii And he was in þe 'hyndir part of þe boot, ſlepyng on a pilewe. And þei reyſen hym, and feien to hym, Maiftre, perteneþ it nat to þee, þat we periſhen?

xxxix And he rylyng vp, manaffe to þe wynd, and feide to þe fee, Be ſtille, wexe doumb. And þe wynd ceſſide, and greet peſiblenesse is maad.

- xli And he seip to hem, What 'dreden ȝee? Nat ȝit han ȝee feip?
 xlii And þei dredden wiþ greete dred, and seiden 'to eche oper, Who, geſſiſt þou, is þis? for þe wynd and þe see obeyſhen to hym.

Capitulum V.

- i And þei camen ouer þe wawe of þe see into þe cuntrie of Genazareth.
 ii And anoon a man in vnclene spirit ran out of 'a bryel, to hym goyng out of þe boot.
 iii 'Þe whiche man hadde an hous in graues, 'or biriels, and neþer wiþ chaynis now miȝte eny man bynde hym.
 iv For oft tymes he bounden in stockis and chaynes, 'hadde broken þe chaynes, and 'hadde brokun þe stockis to smale gobetis, and no man miȝte 'daunte, or make tame, hym.
 v And euer more, niȝt and day, in biriels and hillis, he was cryinge, and betyng hym silf wiþ stoones.
 vi Soþely he seyng Jhesus afer, ran, and worshipide hym.
 vii And he cryinge wiþ greet voice, seide, What to me and to þee, þou Jhesu, þe fone of God hieſte? I conioure þee bi God, þat þou tourmente 'not me.
 viii Forſoþe Jhesus feide to hym, Pou vnclene spirit, go out fro þe man.
 ix And Jhesus axide hym, What name is to þee? And he seip to hym, A legioun is name to me; for we ben manye.
 x And he preide hym myche, þat he ſhulde nat put hym out of þe cuntrie.
 xi Forſoþe þere was þere aboute þe hill 'a flock of hoggis 'lefewynge in feeldis.
 xii And þe spiritis preieden Jhesu, seyng, Sende vs into hoggis, þat we entre into hem.
 xiii And anoon Jhesus grauntide to hem. And þe vnclene spiritis entriden in to þe hoggis, and wiþ greet bire, 'or haſte, þe floc was caſt doun in to þe fee, 'to tweyne þousynde, and þei ben strangelid in þe fee.
 xiv Soþely þei þat fedden hem, fledden, and tolden in to þe citee, and in to þe feeldis; and þei wenten out, for to see what was don.
 xv And þei camen to Jhesu, and þei ſeen hym þat was traueilid of þe fend, ſittyng cloþid, and of hoole mynde; and þei dreden.
 xvi And þei 'tolden to hem, þat ſayen, hou it was don to hym þat hadde a fend, and of þe hoggis.
 xvii And þei bygunnen for to preie hym, þat he ſhulde go awey fro 'her cooftis.
 xviii And when he ſtiede in to a boot, he þat was traueilid of þe deuel, bygan to preyng hym, þat he ſhulde be wiþ hym.
 xix Soþly Jhesus refcayued hym nat, but ſeip to hym, Go þou in to þin hous to þine, and telle to hem, hou

- many þingis þe Lord haþ don to þee, and hadde mercy of þee.
 xx And he wente forþ, and bigan for to preche in Decapoly, þat is, a cuntrie of ten citees, hou manye þingis Jhesus hadde don to hym; and alle men wondriðen.
 xxi And whanne Jhesus hadde ſtiede in to þe boot eftſoone ouer þe see, myche cumpayne 'of peple cam togidre to hym, and was aboute þe see.
 xxii And oon of þe princis of synagogis, by name Jayrus, cam, and ſeyng hym, fel doun at his feet, xxiii and preide hym myche, ſeyng, For whi my douȝter is 'in þe laſte þingis; come þou, putte þin hond on hire, þat ſhe be faaf, and lyue.
 xxiv And he wente forþ wiþ hym, and myche cumpayne 'of peple ſuede hym, and opprefſide hym.
 xxv And a womman þat was in þe flux of blood twelue ȝere, xxvi and hadde ſuffrider many þingis of ful many lechis, and ſpendid alle hir þingis, and 'no þing prophitide, but 'more hadde worse, xxvii whanne ſhe hadde herd of Jhesu, ſhe cam in þe cumpayne byhynde, and touchide his cloþ.
 xxviii Soþly ſhe feide, For if I ſhal touche or his cloþ, I ſhal be faaf.
 xxix And anoon þe welle of blood is dried vp, and ſhe felide in body þat ſhe was helid of þe wound, 'or ſikenefſe.
 xxx And anoon Jhesus knowynge in hym silf þe vertu þat was gon out of hym, he, turned to þe cumpenyne, ſeip, Who touchede my cloþis?
 xxxi And his disciplis ſeiden to hym, Pou ſeest þe cumpenyne preſſinge þee, and ſeift þou, Who touchide me?
 xxxii And Jhesus lokide aboute, for to ſee hir þat hadde don þis þing.
 xxxiii Forſoþe þe womman dredinge and quakynge, witynge þat it was don in hir, cam, and fel down bifore him, and ſeide to hym al treuþe.
 xxxiv Forſoþe Jhesus ſeide to hir, Douȝtir, þi feip haþ maad þee saf; go in pees, and be saf fro þi fykenes.
 xxxv ȝit him ſpekyng, mellageris camen to þe prince of a synagogue, ſeyng, For þi douȝtir is deed; what traueilist þou þe maiftir ferþere?
 xxxvi Forſoþe þe word herd þat was ſeide, Jhesus ſeip to þe prince of þe synagogue, Nyle þou drede, oonly byleue þou.
 xxxvii And he refcayued not ony man to ſue him, no but Petre, and James, and John, þe brother of James.
 xxxviii And þei camen in to þe hous of þe prince of þe synagogue. And he ſiȝ noyſe, and men wepinge and weilinge moche.
 xxxix And he gon yn, ſeip to hem, What ben ȝee troublid, and weþyn? Pe wenche is not deed, but ſlepip.

- xli And þei scorneden him. Forsoþe alle kaſt out, he takip þe fadir and modir of þe wenche, and hem þat weren wiþ him, and þei entren yn, where þe wenche lay.
- xlii And he holdinge þe hond of þe wenche, seiþ to hir, Tabita, cumy, þat is interpretid, 'or expownid, Wenche, to þee I seie, rife þou.
- xliii And anon þe wenche roos, and walkide; soþly she was of twelue ȝeer. And þei weren abaſcht wiþ greet ſtoneyinge.
- xliii And he comaundide to hem greetly, þat no man ſchulde wite it. And he comaundide to ȝiue to hir for to ete.

Capitulum VI.

- i And Jhesus gon out þennis, wente in to his owne cuntree; and his disciplis folwidien him.
- ii And þe ſaboth maad, Jhesus bigan for to teche in a synagogue. And manye heeringe wondriden in his techinge, ſeyinge, Of whennis 'to þis alle þeſe þingis? and what is þe wyfdom þat is ȝouun to him, and ſuche vertues 'þe whiche ben maad by his hond?
- iii Wher þis is not a ſmyþ, 'or carpenter, þe fone of Marie, þe broþer of James and Joseph and Judas and Symound? wher and his ſistris ben nat here wiþ vs? And þei weren ſclaundrid in him.
- iv And Jhesus feide to hem, For a prophete is not wiþ outhen honour, no but in his owne cuntree, and in his hows, and in his kyn.
- v And he myȝte not make þere ony vertu, no but heelide a fewe ſike men, þe hondis put to.
- vi And he wondride for þe vnbileue of hem. And he wente aboute caſtelis in enuyrown, techinge.
- vii And he clepide twelue, and bigan for to ſende hem bi tweyne; and ȝaf to hem power of vnclene ſpiritis,
- viii and comaundide hem, þat þei ſchulde not take ony þing in þe weye, no but a ȝerd oonly, not a ſcrippe, not bred, neiþer money in þe girdil,
- ix but ſchoon wiþ fandalies, 'þat ben opyn aboue, and þat þei 'weren not clopid wiþ tweie cootis.
- x And he feide to hem, Whidir euere ȝee ſchulen entre in to an hous, dwelle ȝe þere, till ȝe gon out þennis.
- xi And who euere 'ſchulen not reſſeyue, ne heere ȝou, ȝe goyng out fro þennes ſhake awey þe powdre fro ȝoure feet, in to witneſſinge to hem.
- xii And þei goyng out, prechiden, þat men ſchulden do penaunce.
- xiii And þei caſtiden out manye fendis, and anoyniden wiþ oyle manye fyke men, and þei weren heelid.
- xiv And kyng Eroude herde, forſoþe his name was maad opyn, and 'he feide, For Johne Baptiſt haþ riſun aȝen fro deed men, and þerfore vertues worchen in hym.
- xv Soþely opere feiden, For it is Ely; but opere feiden, For it is a prophete, as oon of prophetis.

- xvi Þe whiche þing herd, Eroude ſeiþ, Whom I haue bihedid, 'John, þis haþ riſun fro deed men.
- xvii Forſoþe þe ilke Eroude ſente, and held Joon, and bond him in to prisoun, for Erodias, þe wyf of Philip, his broþer; for he hadde weddid hir.
- xviii Soþly Johne feide to Eroude, It is not leefful to þee, for to haue þe wyf of þi broþer.
- xix Erodias forſoþe 'leide aſpies to him, and wolde fle him, and miȝte not.
- xx Soþly Eroude drede John, witinge him a iuft man and hooly, and kepte him. And him herd, he diде many þingis, and 'gladly herde hym.
- xi And whanne a couenable day hadde fallun, Eroude 'in his birþe day made a ſoupere to þe princis, and tribunys, and to þe firſte, 'or gretteſte, of Galilee.
- xxii And whanne þe douȝter of þilke Erodias hadde entrid yn, and lepte, and pleside to Eroude, and alſo to men reſtyng, þe kyng feide to þe wenche, Axe þou of me what þou wolt, and I ſchal ȝyue to þee.
- xxiii And he twoor to hir, For what euere þou ſchalt axe, I ſchal ȝyue to þee, þouȝ þe half of my kyngdom.
- xxiv 'Þe whiche, whanne ſche hadde gon out, feide to hir modir, What ſchal I axe? And ſhe feide, Þe heed of John Baptiſt.
- xxv And whanne ſhe hadde entrid anon wiþ haste to þe kyng, ſhe axide, ſeyinge, I wole þat anoon þou ȝyue to me in a diſche þe heed of John Baptiſt.
- xxvi And þe kyng was ſory for þe ooþ, and for men ſittinge 'to gidere at mete he 'wolde not hir be maad ſory;
- xxvii but a manquellere ſent, he comaundide þe heed of John Baptiſt for to be brouȝt.
- xxviii And he bihedide him in þe priſon, and brouȝt his heed in a diſche, and ȝaf it to þe wenche, and þe wench ȝaf to hir modir.
- xxix Þe whiche þing herd, his disciplis camen, and token his body, and puttiden it in a buriel.
- xxx And apostlis comyng to gidere to Jhesu, tolden to hym alle þingis, þat þei hadde don, and tauȝt.
- xxxi And he ſeiþ to hem, Come ȝe 'by ȝou ſelue in to a deſert place; reſte ȝe a litel. Forſoþ 'þere weren manye þat camen, and wenten aȝen, and þei hadde not ſpace for to ete.
- xxxii And þei ſtiȝyng in to boot, wenten in to a deſert place 'by hem ſelue.
- xxxiii And þei fyȝen hem goyng awey, and manye knewen, and goyng on feet fro alle citees, þei runnen to gidere þidir, and came before hem.
- xxxiv And Jhesus goyng out fyȝ moche cumpanye, and hadde mercy on hem, for þei weren as ſcheepe not hauyng a ſhepherde. And he bigan for to teche hem manye þingis.
- xxxv And whanne moche our was maad now, his disciplis 'camen nyȝ, ſeyinge, Þis place is deſert, and now þe our haþ paſſid;

xxxvi leeue hem, þat þei goyngē in to þe nexte townes or vilagis, bye to hem metis whiche þei schulen ete.
 xxxvii And he answerynge seip to hem, ȝyue ȝe to hem for to ete. And þei feiden to hym, Goyngē bye we loues wiþ two hundrid pens, and we schulen ȝyue to hem for to ete.
 xxxviii And he seip to hem, Hou many loues han ȝe? Go ȝe, and se. And whanne þei hadden knowun, þei seien, Fyue, and two fyschis.
 xxxix And he comaundide to hem, þat þei schulden make alle men fitte to mete aftir cumpenyes, vpon greene hey.
 xl And þei saten down by parties, by hundridis, and fyfties.
 xli And þe fyue louues taken, and two fyschis, he biholdynge in to heuene, bleſſide, and brak loouis, and ȝaf to his disciplis, þat þei schulden putte before hem. And he departide two fyschis to alle; xlvi and alle eeten, and weren fillid.
 xlvi And þei token þe relyues of broken mete, twelue coffyns full, and of þe fyschis.
 xlviii Soþli þei þat eeten, were fyue þousynd of men.
 xlvi And anon he constreynde his disciplis for to stiȝe vp in to a boot, þat þei schulden passē before him ouer þe see to Bethsayda, þe while he lefte þe peple.
 xlvi And whanne he hadde left hem, he wente in to an hil, for to preie.
 xlvii And whanne euening was, þe boot was in 'þe myddil see, and he aloone in þe lond; xlviii and he syȝ hem trauelinge in rowynge; soþli þe wynd was contrarie to hem. And aboute þe fourþe waking of þe nyȝt, he wandryngē on þe see cam to hem, and wolde passē hem.
 xlxi And þei, as þei syȝen him wandryngē on þe see, geſſiden for to be a fantum, and crieden;
 i Forþoþ alle syȝen hym, and þei weren disturblid. And anon he spak wiþ hem, and seide to hem, Triste ȝe, I am; nyle ȝe drede.
 ii And he 'cam vp 'to hem in to þe boot, and þe wynd ceſſide. And þei more wondriden wiþ ynne hem; iii for þei vndirstoden not of þe louues; soþli her herte was blyndid. iv And whanne þei hadden passid ouer þe see, þei camen in to þe lond of Genazareth, and fetten to londe.
 v And whanne þei hadden gon out of þe boot, anon þei knewen him.
 vi And whidur euere he entride yn to vilagis and townes, or in to citees, þei puttiden fyke men in stretis, and preieden him, þat þei schulden touche eiþer þe hem of his cloþ; and how manye euere touchiden him, weren maad saf.

Capitulum VII.

i And Pharisees and summe of scribis comyngē fro Jerusalēm, camen to gidere to him.
 ii And whanne þei hadden seyn summe of his disciplis ete breed wiþ comune hondis, þat is, not waſchun, þei blamyden.
 iii Forþoþ Pharisees and alle Jewis eten not, no but þei waſſchen ofte her hondis, holdinge þe tradiciouns, 'or statutis, of eldere men.
 iv And þei turnyngē aȝen fro chepyngē, eten not, no but þei ben waſchun; and manye obere þingis ben, þat ben takun to hem for to kepe, waſchingis of cuppis, and cruetis, and of veffels of bras, and of beddis.
 v And Pharisees and scribis axiden him, seyinge, Whi gon not þi disciplis aftir þe tradicioun of eldere men, but wiþ comyne hondis þei eten bred?
 vi And he answeringe seide to hem, Yſaie propheciede wel of ȝou, ypocritis, as it is writun, Pis peple worschipiþ me wiþ lippis, forþoþ 'her herte is fer fro me;
 vii in veyn trewli þei worschipen me, techinge doctrinys and preceptis of men.
 viii Forþoþ ȝe forsakinge þe maundement of God, holden þe tradiciouns of men, waſchingis of cruetis, and cuppis; and manye obere þingis lyke to þes ȝe don.
 ix And he seide to hem, Wel ȝe han maad þe maundement of God voyde, þat ȝe kepe ȝoure tradicioun.
 x Forþoþ Moyses seide, Worschipe þi fadir and þi modir; and he þat 'ſchal curse fadir or modir, 'by deeþ deie he.
 xi Soþli ȝe feyen, If a man 'ſchal feye to fadir or to modir, 'Corban, þat is, What euere ȝifte of me, ſchal profite to þee; xii and ouer ȝe suffren not him do ony þing to fadir or modir, xiii brekyngē þe word of God by ȝoure tradicioun, þat ȝe han ȝouun; and ȝe don manye 'obere ſuche þingis.
 xiv And he eftſooне clepinge to þe cumpayne 'of peple, seide to hem, ȝe alle heere me, and vndirstonden.
 xv No þing wiþ outen man is entringe in to him, þat may defoule him; but þo þingis þat comen forþ of man, 'þo it ben þat defoulen a man.
 xvi Forþoþ if ony man haue eeris 'of heeringe, heere he.
 xvii And whanne he hadde entrid in to an hous, fro þe cumpayne 'of peple, his disciplis axiden him þe parable.
 xviii And he seip to hem, So and ȝe ben vnprudent, 'or vnwyſe. Vndirstonden ȝe not, for al þing wiþoute forþ entringe in to a man, may not defoule him?
 xix for it haþ not entrid into his herte, but in to þe wombe, and byneþe it goþ out, purgyngē alle metis.
 xx Soþli he seide, For þe þingis þat gon out of a man, þo defoulen a man.
 xxi Forþoþ fro wiþynne, of þe herte of men comen forþ yuele þouȝtis, auoutries, fornicaciouns, manfleyngis, xxii þeftis, couetises, 'or ouer hard kepynge of goodis, wickidneses, gyle, vnchaftite, yuel yȝe, blasphemyes, pride, folye.

 xxiii Alle þes yuelis fro wiþynne comen forþ, and defoulen a man.
 xxiv And Jheſus riſyng þennis, wente in to þe endes of Tyre and Sidon. And he gon in to an hows, wolde no man wite; and he miȝte not 'dare, or be priuy.
 xxv Soþli a womman, anon as lche herde of him, 'which wommanis douȝtir hadde an vnclene spirit, entride, and fel doun at his feet.
 xxvi Soþli þe womman was heþene, of þe generacioun of Sirefen And lhe preide him, þat he wolde caste out a deuel fro hir douȝtir.
 xxvii þe which seide to hir, Suffre þou þe fones be fulſild firſt; it is not good to take þe bred of fones, and fende to houndis.
 xxviii And lhe answeride, and seide to him, Forſoþe, Lord; for whi and little welpis eten vndir þe bord, of þe crummes of children.
 xxix And Jheſus seiþ to hir, For þis word go, þe fend is went out of þi douȝtir.
 xxx And whanne lhe hadde gon hom, lhe fond þe wenche ſittinge on þe bedd, and þe deuel gon out 'fro hir.
 xxxi And eftſoone Jheſus goyng out fro þe endis, 'or cooftis, of Tire, cam þurȝ Sidon to þe ſee of Galilee, 'þat is bitwixe þe myddil endis of Decapoleos.
 xxxii And þei leeden 'to him a deef man and doumb, and preieden him, þat he putte to him þe hond.
 xxxiii And he takyng him alfydis fro þe cumpayne, fente his fyngries in to his little eeris; and ſpetinge towchide his tunge.
 xxxiv And he biholdynge in to heuene, forwide wiþynne, and seiþ, 'Effeta, þat is, Be þou openyd, xxxv And anon his eeris weren openyd, and þe bond of his tunge is unbounden, and he ſpak riȝtly.
 xxxvi 'And he comaundide to hem, þat þei ſchulden feye to no man; forſoþ how moche he comaundide to hem, fo moche more þei prechiden more, xxxvii and by þat þe more þei wondriden, ſeyinge, He dide wel alle þingis, and deef men he made to heere, and doumbe for to ſpeke.

Capitulum VIII.

i In þo dayes, whanne moche cumpeny 'of peple was wiþ Jheſu, and hadde not what þei ſchulden ete, his disciplis gaderid to gidere, he seiþ to hem, ii I haue rewþe on þe cumpayne 'of peple, for loo! now 'þe þridde day þei fuſteynen, 'or abyden me, and han not what þei ſchulden ete;
 iii and if I leeue hem fastinge in to her hous, þei ſchulen faile in þe weye; forſoþe ſumme of hem camen fro fer.
 iv And disciplis answeriden to him, Wherof 'a man ſchal mowe fille hem wiþ looues here in wildirneſſe?

v And he axide hem, How manye looues han ȝe? Pe whiche feiden, Seuene.
 vi And he comaundide þe cumpayne to fitt doun on þe erþe. And he takyng ſeuene looues, and doyng þankynges, brak, and ȝaf to his disciplis, þat þei ſchulden putte forþ. And þei ſetten forþ to þe cumpayne.
 vii And þei hadden a fewe ſmale fiſchis; and he bleſſide hem, and comaundide for to be put forþ.
 viii And þei eeten, and ben fulſild; and þei token vp þat lefte of relyf, 'or ſmale gobatis, ſeuene leepis.
 ix Forſoþ þei þat eeten, weren as fouru þousand of men; and he lefte hem.
 x And anon he 'wente vp in to a boot, wiþ his disciplis, and cam in to þe partis of Dalmamytha.
 xi And Pharifees wenten out, and bigunnen to feke, 'or axe, wiþ him, axyng a tokene of hym fro heuene, temptinge hym.
 xii And he forwyngi wiþynne in ſpirit, ſeiþ, What ſekiþ bis generacioun a tokene? Treuly I ſeie to ȝou, if a tokene ſchal be ȝouun to þis generacioun.
 xiii And he leeuyng hem, 'wente vp eftſoone in to a boot, and wente ouer þe ſee.
 xiv And þei forȝaten to take breed, and þei hadden not wiþ hem no but o loaf in þe boot.
 xv And he comaundide to hem, ſeyinge, 'Se ȝe, and 'be ȝe war of þe fourdowȝ of Pharifees, and fourdowȝ of Eroude.
 xvi And þei þouȝten 'oon to anoþer, ſeyinge, For we han not breed.
 xvii þe which þing knowun, Jheſus ſeip to hem, What þenke ȝe, for ȝe han not breed? ȝit ȝe knownen not, ne vndirſtonden; ȝit ȝe han ȝoure herte blyndid.
 xviii ȝe hauyng yȝen, ſeen not, and ȝe hauyng eeris, heeren not; neþer ȝe han mynde, xix whanne I brak fyue looues in to five þousande, and hou manye coffyns ful of 'broke mete 'ȝe token vp?
 xxi And þei ſeyen, Seuene. And he ſeide to hem, How vndirſtonden ȝe not ȝit?
 xxii And þei comen to Bethſayda, and þei bryngen to him a blynd man, and preieden hym, þat he ſchulde touche him.
 xxiii And þe hond of þe blynd man takun, he ledde him out of þe ſtreete, and ſpetynge in to his yȝen, his hondis put to, he axide him, if he fyȝ ony þing.
 xxiv And he biholdinge, ſeip, I ſe men as trees walkynge.
 xxv Aftirward eftſoones he puttide hondis on his yȝen, and he bigan for to ſe, and he is restorid, fo þat he fyȝ clereley alle þingis.
 xxvi And he ſente him in to his hous, ſeyinge, Go in to þi hous; and if þou ſchalt go in to þe ſtreete, ſeye to no man.

xxvii And Jhesus entride yn and his disciplis in to þe castels of Sezarie of Philip. And in þe weye he axide his disciplis, seyng to hem, Whom seyn men me for to be?
 xxviii þe whiche answeriden `to hym, seyng, Summe, John Baptisf; oþere seyn, Helye; but oþere seyn, as oon of þe prophetis.
 xxix Þanne he seip to hem, But whom seye ȝe me for to be? Petre answeringe, seip to him, Pou ert Crist.
 xxx And he þretenyde hem, þat þei schulden nat seie to ony man of him.
 xxxi And he bigan for to teche hem, for it bihoueþ mannis sone suffre manye þingis, and to be reprooved of þe `hiȝeste prestis, and of eldere men, and scribis, and to be flayn, and aftir þre dayes, for to rise aȝen.
 xxxii And he spak playnli þe word. And Petre takyng him, bygan for to blame him.
 xxxiii þe which turnyd, seyng his disciplis, manaside Petre, seyng, Go aftir me, Sathanas; for pou sauerist not þo þingis þat ben of God, but þo þingis þat ben of men.
 xxxiv And þe cumpayne `of peple gederid, wiþ his disciplis, he seide to hem, If ony man wole sue me, denye he him self, and take he his cros, and sue he me.
 xxxv Soþly `who so wole make his soule, `þat is, his lyf, saf, he schal leese it; forsoþe he þat schal leese his soule, `þat is, his lyf, for me and þe gospel, schal make it saf.
 xxxvi Soþli what `profiteþ it a man, if he wynne al þe world, and do peyringe to his soule?
 xxxvii or what chaungyng schal a man ȝyue for his soule?
 xxxviii Forsoþ `who þat schal knoleche me, and my wordis in þis generacioun auoutresse, and mannis sone schal knowleche him, whanne he schal come in þe glory of his fadir, wiþ his aungels.

Capitulum IX.

i And he seide to hem, Treuly I seie to ȝou, for `þer ben summe of men stondinge here, `þe whiche schulen not taste deeþ, til þei sen þe rewme of God comyng in vertu.
 ii And aftir sixe dayes Jhesus took Petre, and James, and John, and ledijþ hem by hem selue aloone in to an hiȝ hil; and he is transfigurid byfore hem.
 iii And his cloþis ben maad schynynge and white ful moche as snow, and which maner cloþis a fullere, `or walkere of cloþ, may not make white on erþe.
 iv And Helye wiþ Moyfes apperide to hem, and þei weren spekyng wiþ Jhesu.
 v And Petre answeringe seip to Jhesu, Maistir, it is good vs for to be here; make we here þre tabernaclis, oon to þee, oon to Moyfes, and oon to Helye.
 vi Soþli he wiste not what he schulde seie; forsoþe þei weren agast by drede.

vii And `þer is maad a cloude schadewinge hem; and a voys cam of þe cloude, seyinge, Þis is my moooste deereworþe sone, heere ȝe him.
 viii And anon þei biholdinge aboute, syȝe no more any man, no but Jhesus oonly wiþ hem.
 ix And hem comyng down fro þe hil, he comaundide hem, þat þei schulde not telle to any man þo þingis þat þei hadde seyn, no but whanne mannis sone haþ risun fro `deede spiritis.
 x And þei heelden þe word at hem silf, sekyng what schulde be, whanne he haþ risun fro deede.
 xi And þei axiden him, seyng, What þerfore seyn Pharisees and scribis, for it bihoueþ Helye for to come first.
 xii þe which answeringe seip to hem, Whanne Helye schal come first, he schal restore alle þingis; and hou it is writun `in to mannis sone, þat he suffre many þingis, and be despisid.
 xiii But I seie to ȝou, for and Helye is comun, and þei diden to him what euere þingis þei wolden, as it is writun of him.
 xiv And he comyng to his disciplis, syȝ a greet cumpayne aboute hem, and scribis axyng wiþ hem.
 xv And anon al þe cumpayne seyng Jhesu, was astoneyed, and þei dreden; and þei rennyng to, greeten him.
 xvi And he axide hem, What feken ȝe among ȝou?
 xvii And oon of þe cumpayne answeringe seide, Maistir, I haue brouȝt to þee my sone hauyng `an vnclene spirit;
 xviii þe which wher euere he `schal take hym, hirtiþ him, and he frobiþ, `or vomeþ, and betiþ to gidere wiþ teeþ, and wexiþ drye. And I seide to þi disciplis, þat þei schulden caste hym out, and þei myȝten not.
 xix þe which answeringe to hem seide, A! pou schrewid generacioun `and out of bileue, hou longe schal I be at ȝou, hou longe schal I suffre ȝou? `Brynge ȝe hym to me.
 xx And þei brouȝten hym to. And whanne he hadde seyn him, anon þe spirit troublide him; and he cast doun in to þe erþe, was walewid froþinge.
 xi And he axide his fadir, Hou moche of tyme `it is, siþen þis þing fel to him?
 xii And he seip, Fro childhod; and ofte he haþ sent him and in to fier and `in to watir, þat he schulde leese him; but and if pou maist ony þing, help vs, hauyng mercy on vs.
 xiii Soþli Jhesus seip to him, If pou maist bileue, alle þingis ben possibl to a man bileuyng.
 xiv And anon þe `fadir of þe child criyng wiþ teeris seide, Lord, I bileue; help pou myn vnbileuefulnessse.
 xv And whanne Jhesus hadde seyn þe company `of peple rennyng to gidere, he manaside to þe vnclene spirit, seyng to him, Pou deef and doumb spirit, I comaund þee, go out fro him, and entre not more in to him.

xxvi And he crynge, and moche to-breidyng him, wente out fro him; and he is maad as deed, so þat manye feiden, þat he was deed.
 xxvii Forþoþ Jhesus holdyng his hond, 'lifte vp him; and he roos.
 xxviii And whanne he hadde entrid in to an hous, his disciplis axiden him priuely, Whi myȝten not we caste hym out?
 xxix And he seyde to hem, Þis kynde 'in no þing may go out, no but in preier and fastinge.
 xxx And þei gon fro þennis, wenten forþ in to Galile; and he wolde no man wite.
 xxxi He tauȝte his disciplis, and seide to hem, For mannus sone schal be bitrayed in to þe hondis of men, and þei schulen fle him, and he flayn, on þe þridde day schal rise aȝen.
 xxxii And þei knewen not þe word, and dredden for to axe him.
 xxxiii And þei camen to Cafarnaum. Which whenne 'he was in þe hous, axide hem, What tretiden ȝe in þe weie?
 xxxiv And þei weren stille; soþli þei dispuȝtiden among hem in þe weie, who of hem schulde be more.
 xxxv And he sittinge clepide þe twelue, and seiþ to hem, If any man wole be þe first among ȝou, he schal be þe laste, and mynystre of alle.
 xxxvi And he takinge a childe, ordeynede him in þe myddil of hem; whom whanne he hadde byclippid, he seiþ to hem, xxxvii Who euere 'schal receyue oon of suche children in my name, he receyueþ me; and who euere receyueþ me, he receyueþ not me aloone, but him þat sente me.
 xxxviii John answereide to him, seyng, Maistir, we fyȝen sum oon for to caste out fendis in þi name, þe which sueþ not vs, and we han forbedun him.
 xxxix Soþli Jhesus seiþ 'to him, Nyle ȝe forbede him; 'þer is no man þat doþ vertu in my name, and may foone speke yuele of me.
 xl Forþoþe he þat is not aȝens vs, is for vs.
 xli Soþli who euere schal ȝyue drynke to ȝou a cuppe of cold watir in my name, for ȝe ben of Crist, treuly I seie to ȝou, he schal not leefe his mede.
 xlvi And who euere 'schal sclaundre oon of þes little bileuyng in me, it is good to him þat a mylne stoon of assis were don aboute his necke, and were sent in to þe see.
 xlvi And if þin hond sclaundre þee, kitt it awey; it is good to þee 'feble to entre in to lyf, þan hauyng twey hondis go in to helle, in to fier 'þat neuere schal be quenchid, xlvi where þe worm of hem deieþ not, and þe fier is not quenchid.
 xlvi And if þi foot sclaundre þee, kitt it of; it is good to þee 'for to 'entre crokid in to euerlastyng lyf, þan hauyng twey feet to be sent in to helle of fier, 'þat neuere schal be quenchid, xlvi where þe worm of hem deieþ not, and þe fier is not quenchid.

xlvi þat if þin yȝe scalaundre þee, cast it out; it is good to þee 'for to entre gogil yȝed in to rewme of God, þan hauyng twey yȝen for to be sent in to helle of fier, xlvi where þe worm of hem deieþ not, and þe fier is not quenchid.

xlvi Forþoþ euery man schal be saltid, 'or maad sauori, wiþ fier, and euery flayn sacrifice schal be sauorid wiþ salt.

i Salt is good þing; þat if salt be vnsauori, in what þing schulen ȝe make it sauori? Haue ȝe salt in ȝou, and haue ȝe pees among ȝou.

Capitulum X.

i And Jhesus risyng vp fro þennis, cam in to þe endis of Jude ouer Jordan; and eftsoones þe cumpanyes 'of peple camen 'to gidere to him, and as he was wont, eftsoone he tauȝte hem.

ii And Pharisees 'comyng nyȝ, axiden him, If it be leefful to a man for to leeue, 'or forsake, his wyf? 'temptinge him.

iii And he answeringe seiþ to hem, What comaundide Moyfes to ȝou?

iv Be whiche seiden, Moyfes suffride to write a libel of forsakinge, and to forsake.

v To whom Jhesus answeringe seiþ, To þe hardnesse of ȝoure herte Moyfes wroot to ȝou þis precept.

vi Forþoþe fro þe bigynnyng of creature God made hem male and female;

vii and he seide, For þis þing a man schal leeue fadir and modir, and schal clefe to his wif, viii and þei schulen be tweyne in o fleisch. And so now þei ben not tweyne, but o fleisch.

ix Perfore þat þing þat God ioynede to gidere, 'no man departe.

x And eftsoone in þe hows his disciplis axiden him of þe same þing.

xi And he seiþ to hem, Who euere 'schal leeue his wyf, and wedde anoþer, he doþ auoutrie vpon hir.

xii And if þe wyf 'schal leeue hir hosebonde, and be weddid to anoþer, she doþ auoutrie.

xiii And þei offriden to him litle children, þat he schulde touche hem; soþli disciplis þretenyden to men offringe.

xiv Whom whanne Jhesus hadde seyn, he baar 'heuye, or vnworþili, and seiþ to hem, Suffre ȝe litle children for to come to me, and forbede ȝe hem not, forþoþ of suche 'is þe kyngdom of God.

xv Treuli I seie to ȝou, who euere 'schal not receyue þe kyngdom of God as þis litle child, he schal not entre in to it.

xvi And he biclippinge hem, and puttinge hondis vpon hem, bleſſide hem.

xvii And whanne Jhesus was gon out in þe weye, o man rennyngre bifore, þe kne bowid, preiede him, feiynge, Goode maistir, what schal I do, þat I receyue euerlastringe lyf?

xviii Forsoþe Jhesus seide to him, What seist þou me good? 'No man good, no but 'God aloone.

xix 'Pou haft knownen þe comaundementis, do þou non auoutrie, fle not, stele not, seie not fals witnesſinge, do no fraude, worchipe þi fadir and modir.

xx And he answeringe seiþ to him, Maistir, I haue kept alle þese þingis fro my ȝouþe.

xxi Soþli Jhesus 'biheld him, and louyde hym; and he seide to him, O þing failiþ to þee; go þou, selle þou what euere þingis þou haft, and ȝyue to pore men, and þou schalt haue tresour in heuene; and come, sue þou
me.

xxii Pe which maad forwful in þe word, wente awey mornynge, forsoþ he was hauynge many posseſcions.

xxiii And Jhesus biholdinge aboute, seiþ to his disciplis, How hard þei þat han money schulen entre in to þe kyngdom of God.

xxiv Forsoþe þe disciplis weren stoneyed in his wordis.
And Jhesus eftsoone answeringe seiþ to hem, ȝe little sones, how hard þing 'it is, men trystynge in richeſſis for to entre in to þe kyngdom of God.

xxv It is liþter, 'or esyer, a camel for to passe þorw 'a nedlis yȝe, þan a riche man for to entre in to þe kyngdom of God.

xxvi Whiche wondriden more, seyinge at hem felue,
And who may be maad saf?

xxvii And Jhesus biholdinge hem, seiþ 'to hem, Anentis men it is impossible, but not anemptis God; for alle þingis ben possible anemptis God.

xxviii And aftirward Petre bigan for to seye to him, Loo! we han left alle þingis, and han sued þee.

xxix Jhesus answeringe seiþ, Treuli I seie to ȝou, 'þer is no man þat schal leeue hous, or breþeren, or sistris, or fadir, or modir, or sones, or feeldis for me and for þe gospel,

xxx þe which schal not taken an hundredfold so moche now in þis tyme, houſis, and breþeren, and sistris, and modris, and lones, and feldis, wiþ perfecucionis, and in þe world to comynge euerlaſting lyf.

xxxi Forsoþ many schulen be, þe firſte þe laſte, and þe laſte þe firſte.

xxxii Forsoþe þei weren in þe weye ſtiȝyng to Jerusalem; and Jhesus wente bifore hem, and þei wondriden, and folowinge dredden. And eftſoone Jhesus takinge to twelue, bygan to feye to hem, what þingis weren to come to him.

xxxiii For lo! we ſtiȝen to Jerusalem, and mannis fone schal be bitrayed to þe princes of prestis, and to ſcribis, and to eldere men; and þei schulen dampne him by deeþ, and þei schulen bytake him to heþene men.

xxxiv And þei schulen ſcorne him, and byſpeeete him, and beete him; and þei schulen fle him, and in þe þridde day he ſchal ryſe aȝen.

xxxv And James and Jon, 'Zebedees fones, 'camen nyȝ to him, ſeyinge, Maistir, we wolen, þat what euere we ſchulen axe, þou do to vs.

xxxvi And he ſeide to hem, What wolen ȝe þat I do to
ȝou?

xxxvii And þei ſeiden, ȝyue to vs, þat we fitten 'þat oon at þi riȝthalf, and 'þe toþir at 'þe left, in þi glorie.

xxxviii Forſoþe Jhesus 'seiþ to hem, ȝe witen not what ȝe ſchulen axe; mown ȝe drynke þe cuppe, þe which I 'am to drynke, or be waſchun wiþ þe baptym, in which I am baptifid?

xxxix And þei ſeiden to him, We mown. Soþli Jhesus ſeiþ to hem, Treuli ȝe ſchulen drynke þe cuppe þat I drynke, and ȝe ſchulen be waſchun wiþ þe baptym, in which I am baptifid;

xl Soþli for to ſitte at my riȝthalf or lefthalf is not myn to ȝyue to ȝou, but to which it is ordeyned.

xli And þe ten heeringe hadden endignacioun of James and John.

xlii Soþli Jhesus clepinge hem, seiþ to hem, ȝe witen, þat þei þat ſemen, or ben feyn, to haue princehed on folkis, lordschipen, 'or ben lordis, of hem, and þe princes of hem han power of hem.

xliii Forſoþ it is not ſo in ȝou, but who euere ſchal wolle be maad more, ſchal be ȝoure mynyſtre, xliii and who euere ſchal wolle be þe firſte in ȝou, ſchal be ſerauant of alle.

xlv Forwhi and mannis fone cam not, þat 'it ſchulde be mynyſtrid to him, but þat he ſchulde mynyſtre, and ȝyue his foule, 'or lyf, redempcioun, or aȝen biyng, for manye.

xlii And þei camen to Jerico; and him goyng forþ fro Jerico, and his disciplis, and a ful moche cumpany 'of peple, þe fone of Tymey, Barthymeus, blynd, ſaat biſydis þe weye beggyng.

xlvii 'Pe which whanne he hadde herd, for it is Jhesus of Nazareth, bigan to crie, and feye, Jhesu, þe fone of Dauiþ, haue mercy on me.

xlviii And manye þretyneden hym, þat he ſchulde be ſtille; and he criede moche more, Jhesu, þe fone of Dauiþ, haue mercy on me.

xlix And Jhesu ſtondinge comaundide hym for to be clepid; and þei clepiden þe blynde man, feiynge to him, Be þou 'of betere herte, ryſe vp, he clepiþ þee.
l 'Pe which, his cloþ caſt away, 'ſturtinge cam to him.

li And Jhesus answeringe ſeide to him, What wolt þou I ſchal do to þee? Pe blynde man ſeide to him, Maistir, þat I ſe.

lii Soþli Jhesus ſeide to him, Go þou, þi feiþ haþ maad þee faaf. And anon he lyȝ, and fuede him in þe weye.

Capitulum XI.

i And whanne Jhesus `cam nyȝ to Jerusalem and to Betanye, to þe mount of Olyuete, he sendiþ two of his disciplis, ii and seiþ to hem, Go ȝe in to þe castel þat is aȝens ȝou; and anon ȝe entrynge in þidur schulen fynde a colt tyed, on þe which `non of men sat ȝit; vnbynde ȝe, and bryng him.
iii And if ony man `schal seie ony þing to ȝou, seie ȝe, þat he is nedeful to þe Lord, and anon he schal leeue him hidur.
iv And þei goynge forþ, founden a colt bounden byfore þe ȝate wiþ outhorþ, in þe meeting of tweye weyes; and þei vnbounden him.
v And summe of men stondinge þere seiden to hem, What don ȝe, vnbyndinge þe colt?
vi `And þei seiden to hem, as Jhesus comaundide to hem; and þei lefsten hem.
vii And þei brouȝten þe colt to Jhesu, and þei puttiden to him her clopis, and Jhesus sat vpon him.
viii Forsoþe manye strewiden her clopis in þe weye, soþeli opere men kittiden bowis, `or braunchis, fro trees, and strewiden in þe weye.
ix And þei þat wenten bifore, and þat sueden, cryeden, seyinge, Osanna, bleſſid is he þat comeþ in þe name of þe Lord;
x bleſſid þe kyngdom `þat comeþ of oure fadir Dauiþ; Osanna in hiȝtees.
xi And he entride in to Jerusalem, in to þe temple; and alle þingis seyn aboute, whanne `þe our was now euenyng, he wente in to Betanye, wiþ twelue.
xii And anoþer day, whanne he wente out of Betanye, he hungride.
xiii And whanne he hadde seyn a fyge tree afer hauynge leeuy, he cam, if happily he schulde fynde ony þing þerynne; and whanne he cam to it, he fond no þing, out taken leeuy; for it was no tyme of fygis.
xiv And Jhesus answeringe seide to it, Now no more wiþ outen ende ony man ete fruyt of þee. And his disciples herden; xv and þei camen to Jerusalem. And whanne he hadde entrid in to þe temple, he bigan for to caste out men sellinge and biggyng in þe temple; and he turnyde vpfodoun þe boordis of chaungeris, and þe chaieris of men sellinge culueris; xvi and he suffride not, þat ony man schulde bere a vessel þurȝ þe temple.
xvii And he tauȝte hem, seyinge, Wher it is not writun, For myn hous schal be clepid þe hous of preiyng to alle folkis? forsoþ ȝe han maad it a den of þeues.
xviii þe which þing herd, þe princes of prestis and scribis souȝten hou þei schulde leese him; forsoþ þei dreden hym, for al þe cumpayne `of peple wondride on his teching.
xix And whanne euenyng was maad, he wente out of þe citee.

xx And whanne þei passiden eerly, þei syȝen þe fige tree maad drye fro þe rootis.
xi And Petre hauynge mynde, seide to him, Maistir, lo! þe fyge tree, whom þou cursedist, hap dried vp.
xii And Jhesus answeringe seiþ to him, Haue ȝe þe feiþ of God;
xiii treuli I seie to ȝou, þat who euere seiþ to þis hil, Take, and sende in to þe see; and doutiþ not in his herte, but bileueþ, for what euere he `schal seye, `be it maad, it schal be maad to him.
xiv Perfore I seie to ȝou, alle þingis `what euere þingis ȝe preiyng schulen axe, bileue ȝe þat ȝe schulen take, and þei schulen come to ȝou.
xv And whanne ȝe schulen stonde for to preie, forȝyue ȝe, if ȝe han ony þing aȝens ony man, þat and ȝoure fadir þat is in heuenes, forȝyue to ȝou ȝoure synnes.
xvi þat if ȝe `schulen not forȝyue ȝou ȝoure synnes.
xvii And eftsoone þei camen to Jerusalem. And whanne he walkide in to þe temple, þe hiȝeste prestis, and scribis, and eldere men `camen niȝ to him, xviii and seien to him, In what power doist þou þes þingis? or who ȝaf to þee þis power, þat `þou do þes þingis?
xix Forsoþe Jhesus answeringe seiþ to hem, And I schal axe ȝou o word, and answere ȝe to me, and I schal seie to ȝou, in what power I do þes þingis.
xx Wheþer was `þe baptym of John of heuene, or of men? answere ȝe to me.
xxi And þei þouȝten `wiþ inne hem selue, seyinge, If we schulen seie of heuene, he schal seie to vs, Whi þerfore bileuen ȝe not to him;
xxii if we schulen seie of men, we dreden þe peple; for alle men hadden John, for he was verily a prophete.
xxiii And þei answeringe seyen to Jhesu, We witen neuere. And Jhesu answeringe seiþ to hem, Neiþer I seie to ȝou, in what power I do þes þingis.

Capitulum XII.

i And Jhesus bigan to speke parably, `or in parablis. A man plauntide a vyneȝerd, and puttide aboute an hegge, and dalf a lake, and bildide a tour, and hirede it to erþe tilieris, and wente forþ in pilgrymage;
ii and fente to þe erþe tilieris in tyme a seruaunt, þat he schulde receyue of þe fruyt of þe vyneȝerd at þe erþe tilieris.
iii Pe whiche `beten him takun, and lefsten him voyde.
iv And eftsoone he sente to hem a noþer seruaunt, and þei woundiden him in þe heed, and ponyshed wiþ chidingis, `or reprouyngis.
v And eftsoone he sente anoþer, and þei flowen him, and opere mo, betynges summe, but fleynges opere.
vi Perfore ȝit he hauynge a fone most dereworp, `and to hem he sente him þe lafte, seyinge, For by hap þei schulen schame my fone, `or drede wiþ reuerence.

vii Forsoþe þe tenauntis seyden `to hem self, `or to gidere, þis is þe eier; come ȝe, fle we him, and þe eritage schal be oure.
viii And þei takynge him, castiden out wiþoute þe vyneȝerd, `and flowen.
ix `Perfore what schal þe lord of þe vyneȝerd do? He schal come, and leese þe tenauntis, and ȝyue þe vyneȝerd to ȝbere.
x Wher ȝe han not rad þis scripture, Þe stoon þe which men bildinge han dispisid, þis is maad in to þe heed of þe corner?
xi Þis þing is maad of þe Lord, and is wondirful in oure yȝen.
xii And þei souȝten for to holde him, and þei dreden þe cumpayne `of peple; soþli þei knewen for to hem he feide þis parable; and him left, þei wenten away.
xiii And þei fenden to him summe of þe Farisees and Erodians, for to take hym in word.
xiv þe whiche comynge seyn to hym, Maistir, we witen for þou ert soþfast, and reckift not of ony man; soþly neiþer þou seest in to face of man, but þou techist þe wey of God in treuþe. Is it leefful for `to ȝyue tribute to Cesar, or we schulen not ȝyue?
xv þe which witinge her priuey falsnesse, seiþ to hem,
What tempten ȝe me? brynge ȝe to me a peny, þat I se. xvi And þei offriden to him. And he seiþ to hem, Whos is þis ymage, and þe `in wrytinge? ȝei feien to him, Cesaris.
xvii Forsoþe Jhesus answeringe seiþ to hem, Perfore ȝelde ȝe to Cesar þat ben of Cesar, and to God þo þingis þat ben of God. And alle wondriden on him.
xviii And Saducees, þat seyen no resurecioun `to be, camen to him, and axiden him, seyinge, xix Maistir, Moyses wroot to vs, þat if þe broþer of a man were deed, and lefte a wyf, and lefte not sones, his broþer take his wyf, and reyse vp feed to his broþir.
xx Perfore feuene briþeren weren; and þe firste took a wyf, and is deed, no feed left.
xxi And þe secunde took hir, and he is deed, and neiþer þis lefte feed. And þe þridde also.
xxii And feuene taken hir, and lefte not feed. And þe womman þe laste of alle is deed.
xxiii Panne in þe resureccioun, whanne þei schulen rise aȝen, whos wyf of þese schal sche be? soþly feuene hadden hir wyf.
xxiv And Jhesus answeringe seiþ to hem, Wher ȝe erron not perfore, not knowinge þe scripturis, noþer þe vertu of God?
xxv Forsoþe whanne þei schulen rise aȝen fro `deed men, neiþer þei wedden, noþer ben weddid, but þei schulen be as aungels of God in heuenes.
xxvi Soþli of deed men, þat þei ryfen aȝein, `han ȝe not rad in þe book of Moyses, on þe bousche, hou God feide to him, seiyng, I am God of Abraham, and God of Ysaac, and God of Jacob?

xxvii He is not God of deede men, but God of lyuyng men; þerfore ȝe erren moche.
xxviii And oon of þe scribis, þat hadde herd hem sekyng `to gidere, `cam niȝ, and seyinge þat he hadde wel answyerid hem, axide hym, which was þe firste maundement of alle.
xxix Jhesus answyeride to him, þat þe firste `of alle comaundermentis is, `Heere, Ifrael, þe Lord þi God is oon;
xxx and þou schal loue þe Lord þi God of al þin herte, and of al þi soule, and of al þi mynde, and of al þi vertu, or myȝte. ȝis is þe firste maundement.
xxxi Forsoþe þe secunde is lyk to þis, þou schalt loue þi neiȝebore as þi silf. `Per is non oþir maundement more þan þese.
xxxii And þe scribe seiþ to him, Maister, in treuþe þou haft wel feid; for o God is, and `þer is non, out taken
him;
xxxiii and þat he be loued of al herte, `and of al þouȝt, `or mynde, and of al vndirstondinge, and of al þe soule, and of al strengþe, and to loue þe neiȝebore as him silf, is more þan alle breed offringis and sacrificis.
xxxiv Jhesus forsoþe seyinge þat he hadde answyerid wysely, feide to him, þou ert not fer fro þe kyngdom of God. And now no man durste axe him. xxxv And Jhesus answeringe feide, techinge in þe temple, Perfore how seyn scribis, Crist for `to be þe fone of Dauȝþ
xxxvi `To whom Dauȝþ him silf feide in þe Hooly Gost, Þe Lord feide to my lord, Sitte on my riȝthalf, til I putte þin enemyes þe stool of pi feet.
xxxvii Perfore Dauȝþ him silf seiþ him a lord, and wherof is he his fone? And moche cumpany gladli herde him.
xxxviii And he feide to hem in his teching, Be ȝe war of scribis, þat wolen wandre in stoolis, and be salutid in chepinge, xxxix and sitte `in synagogis in þe firste chaires, and þe firste sitting places in soperis; xl þe whiche deuouren þe houfis of widewis, vndir colour of long preier; þei taken lenger dom.
xli And Jhesus sittinge aȝeins þe trelerie, biheld hou þe cumpany `of peple caste money in to þe tresorie; and many riche castiden many þings.
xlii Soþli whanne o pore widowe hadde comen, sche fente tweye mynusis, þat is, a ferþing.
xliii And his disciplis `clepid to gidere, he seiþ to hem, Treuly I seie to ȝou, for þis pore widowe fente more þan alle, þat fente in to þe tresorie. xliv Soþli alle fente of þat þing þat was plenteuous to hem; but þis `of hir myfeste fente alle þingis þat she hadde, al hir lyfloe.

Capitulum XIII.

- i And whanne he wente out of þe temple, oon of his disciples seiþ to him, Maistir, bihold, what maner stoones, and what manere bildingis.
- ii And he answeringe seiþ to him, Seest þou alle þes greete bildingis? þer schal not be left 'a stoon vpon a stoon, 'þe which schal not be distroyed.
- iii And whanne he sat in þe mount of Olyuete aȝens þe temple, 'þei axiden hym by hem silue, Petre, and James, and John, and Andrew,
- iv Seie þou to vs, whanne þes þingis schulen be maad, and what tokenes, whanne alle þes þingis schulen bigynne for to be endid.
- v And Jhesus answeringe bigan for to seie to hem, Se ȝe, þat no man disceyue ȝou;
- vi for many schulen come in my name, seiyng, For I am; and þei schulen disceyue manye.
- vii Soþli whanne ȝe schulen heere batels and opynious of bateils, drede ȝe not; forsoþe it bihoueþ þese þingis for to be don, but not ȝit 'anon þe ende.
- viii For folk schal rise vpon folk, and rewme vpon rewme, and erþe mouyng schal be by places 'and hungur; bigynnyngis of forwis þese þingis.
- ix Soþli se ȝe ȝou silf, for þei schulen take ȝou in counceils, and ȝe schulen be beten in synagogis; and ȝe schulen stonde before kyngis and domesmen for me, in to witnesſing to hem.
- x And in to alle folkis 'it bihoueþ first þe gospel for 'to be prechid.
- xi And whanne þei schulen lede ȝou bitrayinge, nyle ȝe þenke what ȝe schulen speke, but 'speke ȝe þat 'þing þat schal be ȝouen to ȝou in þat our; soþli ȝe ben not spekinge, but þe Hooly Gost.
- xii Forsoþe a broþer schal bitraye þe broþer in to deeþ, and þe fadir þe sone, and sones schulen ryse to gidre aȝens fadris and modris, and pony sche hem by deeþ.
- xiii And ȝe schulen be in hate to alle men for my name; but he þat schal susteyne in to þe ende, þis schal be saf.
- xiv Forsoþe whanne ȝe schulen se þe abhomynacioun of discomfort, stondinge wher it owiþ not; vndirtonde he þat rediþ; þanne þei þat be in Judee, flee in to hillis.
- xv And he þat is aboue þe roof, come he not doun in to þe hous, neiþir entre he, þat he take ony þing of his hows;
- xvi and he þat schal be in þe feeld, turne not aȝen byhynde for to take his cloþ.
- xvii Soþli wo to hem þat ben wiþ childe, and norischinge in þo dayes.
- xviii Perfore preie ȝe, þat þei ben not don in wyntir.
- xix Forsoþ 'þe ilke dayes of tribulacioun schulen be suche, whiche manere weren not fro þe bygynnyngis of creature, þe which God made, til now, neiþer schulen be.
- xx And no but þe Lord hadde breiggid þo dayes, al fleisch, 'or mankynde, hadde not be saf; but for þe chofene whom he chees, þe Lord haþ breiggid dayes, 'or maad schort.
- xi And þanne if ony man schulde seie to ȝou, Lo! here is Crist, loo! þere, beleue ȝe not.
- xii For fals Cristis and fals prophetis schulen ryse vp, and schulen ȝyue tokenes and grete wondris, to disceyue, if it may be don, ȝhe, þe chofene.
- xiii Perfore se ȝe; loo! I haue bifore feid to ȝou alle þingis.
- xiv But in þo dayes, aftir þat tribulacioun, þe sunne schal be maad derk, and þe mone schal not ȝyue hir schynnyng.
- xv and fterris of heuenes schal be fallinge doun, and vertues þat be in heuenes, schulen be mouyd.
- xvi And þanne þei schulen se mannis sone comynge in cloudis of heuene, wiþ greet vertu and glorie.
- xvii And þanne he schal sende his aungels, and schal gedre his chofene fro foure wyndis, fro þe loweste þing of erþe vnto þe hiȝeste þing of heuene.
- xviii Forsoþe of þe fyge tree lerne ȝe þe parable. Whanne now his braunche 'schal be tendre, and leeuyis ben sprongen out, ȝe witen for somer is in þe nexte.
- xix So and whanne ȝe schulen se alle þese þingis ben maad, wite ȝe, þat it is in þe nexte in þe doris.
- xxx Treuly I seye to ȝou, for þis generacioun schal not paffe awey, til alle þese þingis be don.
- xxxi Heuene and erþe schal paffe, forsoþe my wordis schulen not paffe.
- xxxii Treuly of þat day or our no man woot, neþir aungelis in heuene, neþer þe sone, no but þe fadir.
- xxxiii Se ȝe, 'wake ȝe, and preie ȝe; soþli ȝe witen not, whanne tyme is.
- xxxiv For as a man 'þe which gon fer in pilgrimage, lefte his hous, and ȝaf to his seruauntis power of euery work, and comaundide to þe porter, þat he schulde wake.
- xxxv Perfore wake ȝe, forsoþe ȝe witen not, whanne þe lord of þe hous comeþ, in þe euentide, or in þe mydnyȝt, or kockis crowynge, or morwynge;
- xxxvi leſt whanne he schal come ſudely, he fynde ȝou flepinge.
- xxxvii Forsoþe þat þat I seie to ȝou, I seie to alle, 'Wake ȝe.

Capitulum XIII.

- i Forsoþe paſk and þe feeste of þerf looues 'wiþouȝten sourdowȝ was aftir 'þe secunde day. And þe hiȝeste prestis and scribis ſouȝten, hou þei schulden holde him wiþ gile, and fle.
- ii Soþli þei feiden, Not in þe feeste day, leſt perauenture noyse were maad in þe peple.
- iii And whanne he was at Betanye, in þe hous of Symount leprous, and restid, a womman comynge, hauyng a box of precious oynement spikanard; and þe box brokun, helde out on his heed.

iv Forsoþ þer weren summe beringe vnworþily, 'or heuyl, wiþ ynne hem filf, 'and seyinge, Wherto is þis losſ of oynement maad?
v For þis oynement myȝte haue be fold more þan for þre hundrid pens, and be ȝouun to pore men. And þei groyneden 'in to hir.
vi Soþli Jhesus seide, Suffre hir; what be ȝe heuy to hir? She haþ vrouȝt good work in me.
vii For 'euer more ȝe schulen haue pore men wiþ ȝou, and whanne ȝe schulen wolle, ȝe mown do wel to hem; forsoþ ȝe schulen not euermore haue me.
viii She dide þat she hadde; sche bifore cam for to aynoynte my body into buriyng.
ix Treuli I seie to ȝou, where euere þis gospel schal be prechid in al þe world, and þat þis womman haþ done, schal be told in to mynde of hir.
x And Judas Scarioth, oon of þe twelue, wente to þe hiȝeste prestis, þat he schulde bitray him to hem.
xi þe whiche heerynge ioyeden, and bihiȝten hem to ȝyue 'him money. And he souȝte how he schulde bitraye him couenably.
xii And þe firſte day of þerue loues, whenne 'pask was offrid, disciplis seyn to him, Whidir wolt þou we go, and make redy to þee, þat þou ete pask?
xiii And he fendiþ tweyne of his disciplis, and seiþ to hem, Go ȝe in to þe citem, and a man beringe a galoun of watir schal 'renne to ȝou, 'or come aȝens ȝou; suwe ȝe him.
xiv And whidir euere he schal entre, seye ȝe to þe lord of þe hous, For þe maister seiþ, Wher is my fulfilling, 'or etyng place, where I schal ete pask wiþ my disciplis?
xv And he schal shewe to ȝou a greet souping place strewid, and þere make ȝe redy to vs.
xvi And his disciplis wenten forþ, and camen in to þe citem, and founde as he hadde feid to hem; and þei maden redy pask.
xvii Soþli euen maad, he cam wiþ twelue.
xviii And hem fittinge at þe mete, and etinge, Jhesus seiþ, Treuli I seie to ȝou, for oon of ȝou þat etiþ wiþ me, schal bitraye me.
xix And þei bigunnen for to be lori, and 'to seie, ech by hym filf, Wheper I?
xx Pe which seiþ to hem, Oon of twelue þat puttiþ yn þe hond wiþ me in þe plater.
xxi And soþli mannis lone goþ, as it is writun of him; forsoþ wo to þat man, bi whom 'mannis lone schal be bitrayd. It were good to him, if 'þat ilke man hadde not be borun.
xxii And hem etinge, Jhesus took bred, and blessinge brak, and ȝaf to hem, and seiþ, Take ȝe; þis is my body.
xxiii And þe cuppe takun, he doyngre gracis ȝaf to hem, and alle drunkun þerof.
xxiv And he seiþ to hem, Þis is my blood of þe newe testament, þe which schal be shedd out for manye.

xxv Treuly I seie to ȝou, for now I schal not drynke of þis fruit of vyne, til in to þat daye whanne I schal drynke it newe in þe rewme of God.
xxvi And þe ympne, 'or heriȝnge, feid, þei wenten out in to þe hil of Olyues.
xxvii And Jheſus seiþ to hem, Alle ȝe schulen be sclaundrid in me in þis niȝt; for it is writun, I schal smyte þe schepherde, and þe scheep of þe floc schulen be disparplid.
xxviii But aftir þat I schal ryse aȝen, I schal go bifore ȝou in to Galilee.
xxix Forsoþ Petre seiþ to him, 'And if alle schulen be sclaundrid, but not I. xxx And Jheſus seiþ to him, Treuly I seie to þee, for þou to day bifore þe cok in þis nyȝt 'twy়es ȝyue vois, þries þou 'ert to denye me.
xxxi And he spak more, 'And if it bihoue me to dye to gidere wiþ þee, I schal not denye þee. Soþli and lyk manere alle feiden.
xxxii And þei camen in to a place, to whom þe name Gethsamany. And he seiþ to his disciplis, Sitte ȝe here, þe while I preie.
xxxiii And he takip Petre and James and John wiþ him, and bigan for to drede, and to heuye.
xxxiv And he seiþ to hem, My soule is forwful til to þe deeþ; susteyne ȝe, 'or abide ȝe, here, and preie ȝe 'wiþ me.
xxxv And whanne he hadde gon forþ a litel, he felde down on þe erþe, and preiede, 'þat, if it myȝte be, þe our schulde passe fro him.
xxxvi And he leide, Fadir, alle þingis ben possible to þee, turne fro me þis cuppe; but not þat I wole, but 'þat þat þou.
xxxvii And he cam, and fond hem slepyng. And he seiþ to Petre, Symount, slepist þou? myȝtist þou not wake wiþ me oon our?
xxxviii Wake ȝe, and 'preie ȝe, þat ȝe entre not 'in to temptacioun; forsoþe þe spirit is redy, but þe fleisch fyk.
xxxix And eftfoone he goyngre preiede, þe same word seyinge.
xl And he turnyd aȝen eftfoone, fond hem slepinge; soþli her yȝen were greuyd. And þei knewen not, what þei schulden answere to him.
xli And he cam þe þridde tyme, and seiþ to hem, Slepe ȝe nowe, and 'reste ȝe; soþli it sufficiþ. þe our comeþ; loo! mannis lone schal be bitrayed in to hondis of 'synful men.
xlii Ryfe ȝe, go we; loo! he þat schal bytraye me is nyȝ.
xliii And, ȝit him spekinge, Judas Scarioth, oon of þe twelue, cam, and wiþ him moche cumpeny wiþ swerdis and staues, sent fro þe hiȝeste prestis, and scribis, and 'fro þe eldere men.
xliii Forsoþe þe traitour hadde ȝouun to hem a tokene, seyinge, Whom euere I schal kisse, he it is; holde ȝe him, and lede ȝe warly, 'or queyntely.

xlv And whanne he cam, anon he cominge to him, seij, Maistir; and he kisſide him.

xlii And þei layden hondis 'in to him, and heelden him.

xliii Soplí oon of men stondinge aboue, ledinge out a swerd, smot þe seruaunt of þe hiȝeste prest, and kitte of to him an eere.

xlviii And Jheſus anſweringe seij to hem, As to a þef ȝe han gon out wiþ swerdis and staues, for to take me?

xlii Forſoþ day by day I was at ȝou, techinge in þe temple, and ȝe heelden not me; but þat þe scripturis be fulfillid.

i Panne 'him forſakun, alle his disciplis fledden.

ii Soplí sum ȝong man, clopid wiþ 'lynne cloþ on þe bare, suede him; and þei heelden him.

iii And þe lynnen cloþ forſakun, he nakid fleiȝ awey fro hem.

iv And þei ledden Jheſu to þe hiȝeste prest. And all camen to gidere 'in to oon, þe prestis and þe scribis and eldere men.

v Forſoþ Petre suede him afer til wiþ ynne 'in to þe halle of þe hiȝeste prest. And he sat wiþ þe mynyſtris, and warmyde him at þe fier.

vi Forſoþ þe hiȝeste prestis, and al þe counceil, ſouȝten witnessſinge aȝens Jheſu, þat þei ſchulen ȝyue him to deeþ; neþer þei founded.

vii Soplí manye ſeiden fals witnessſinge aȝens him, and þe witnessſingis weren not couenable.

viii And ſumme riſyngे ſouȝten fals witnessſing aȝens hym, ſeyinge, ix For we 'han herd him ſeiyngē, I ſchal vndo þis temple maad wiþ hondis, and aftir þe þridde day I ſchal bilde a noþer not maad wiþ hondis.

x And þe witnessſing of hem was not couenable.

xi Forſoþ þe hiȝeste prest riſinge vp in to þe myddel, axide him, ſeyinge, Anſweriſt þou 'not ony þing to þo þingis þat ben put to þee of þese?

xii Soplí he was ſtille, and no þing anſweride. Eftſoone þe hiȝest prest axide him, and feide to him, Ert þou Crif, þe fone of bleſſid God?

xiii Soplí Jheſus ſeide to him, I am; and ȝe ſchulen ſe mannis ſone ſittinge on þe riȝt half of 'þe vertu of God, and comyngē in cloudis of heuene.

xiv Forſoþ þe hiȝest prest, kittinge his cloþis, seij, What ȝit defyren we witnessſis?

xv ȝe han herde blaſphemye. What ſemeþ to ȝou? ȝe whiche alle condempned him for to be gilty of deeþ.

xvi And ſumme bigunnen for to biſpitte him, and to hide his yȝen, and ſmyte him wiþ boffatis, and ſeie to him, Prophecie þou. And þe mynyſtris beeten him wiþ strokis, 'or boffatis.

xvii And whanne Petre was in þe halle byneþen, oon of þe hand maydens of þe hiȝest prest cam.

xviii And whanne ſche hadde ſeyn Petre warmyngē him, ſche biholdinge him ſeip, And þou waſt wiþ Jheſu of Nazareth.

lxviii And he denyede, ſeyinge, Nepir I woot, neþer I haue knowun, what þou ſeift. And he wente forþ biſore þe halle; and anon þe cok ſong.

lxix Eftſone forſoþ whanne 'a noþer 'hand mayde hadde ſeyn him, ſhe bigan for to ſeie to men stondinge aboue, For þis is of hem.

lxx And he eftſone denyede. And aftir a litil, eftſoone þei þat 'ſtooden nyȝ, ſeiden to Petre, Verily þou ert of hem, forwhi and þou ert of Galilee.

lxxi Soplí he bigan for to curse and ſwere, For I knowe not þis man, whom ȝe ſeyn.

lxxii And anon eftſoones þe cok ſong. And Petre biþouȝte on þe werd þat Jheſus hadde ſeid to him, Biſore þe cok ſyngē twytes, þries þou ſchalt denye me. And he bigan for to wepe.

Capitulum XV.

i And anon 'þe morwe maad, þe hiȝeste prestis, makinge counceil wiþ þe eldere men, and scribis, and al þe counceil, byndinge Jheſu, ledden, and bitooken to Pilat.

ii And Pilat axide him, Art þou kyng of Jewis? And he anſweringe ſeij to him, Pou ſeyſt.

iii And þe hiȝeste prestis accusiden him in manye þingis.

iv Pilat forſoþ eftſoone axide him, ſeyinge, 'Pou anſweriſt not ony þing? Seest þou, in how manye þingis þei accufen þee?

v Forſoþ Jheſus more no þing anſweride, ſo þat Pilat 'ſchulde wondre.

vi Forſoþ by 'a ſolemne day he was wont to leeue to hem oon bounden, whom euere þei axiden.

vii Forſoþ 'þere was he þat was ſeid Barabas, þat was boundun wiþ 'ſleeris of men, and þat hadde don manſlauȝtre in 'ſeduicioun, þat is, debaat in cytee.

viii And whanne þe cumpany hadde 'ſtiȝe vp, he bigan for to preye, as he euermore dide to hem.

ix Sopely Pilat anſweride to hem, and ſeide, Wolen ȝe I leeue to ȝou þe kyng of Jewis?

x Soplí he wiste, þat þe hiȝeste prestis hadden taken him by enuye.

xi Forſoþ þe biſchopis ſtireden þe cumpeny'e 'of peple, þat more he ſchulde leeue to hem Barabas.

xii Forſoþ eftſoone Pilat anſweringe ſeij to hem, What þe before wolen ȝe I ſchal do to þe kyng of Jewis?

xiii And þei eftſoone crieden, Crucifie hym, or 'put hym on þe cros.

xiv Forſoþ Pilat ſeide to hem, Soplí what of yuel haþ he don? And þei crieden more, Crucifie him.

xv Soplí Pilat willinge for to 'do ynow to þe peple, lefte to hem Barabas, and bitook 'to hem Jheſu, ſmyten, 'or betun, wiþ ſcourgis, þat he ſchulde be crucified.

xvi Forsoþe knyȝtis ledden him wiþynne, in to þe floor of þe moot halle, and clepiden to gidere al þe cumpenye of knyȝtis, xvii and cloþiden him wiþ purpur. And þei foldinge a corowne of þornes, puttiden to 'him; xviii and bigunnen for to greet him, sayinge, Hail, þou kyng of Jewis.
 xix And þei smyten his heed wiþ a reede, and bispatten him; and 'puttinge her knees þei worþipiden him.
 xx And aftir þat þei hadden scornyd him, þei vncloþiden him fro purpur, and cloþedyn him wiþ his cloþis, and ledden him, þat þei schulde crucifie him.
 xxi And þei constreynden sum man paſſyngē forþ, Symount of Syrenen, comyngē fro þe town, þe fadir of Alyſandre and Rufe, þat he schulde take his croſs.
 xxii And þei ledden him in to a place Golgotha, þat is interpretid, 'or expowned, þe place of Caluarie.
 xxiii And þei ȝauen him for to drynke wyn meddelid wiþ myrre, and he took not.
 xxiv And þei crucifyngē him departiden his cloþis, sendinge lot, who what schulde take.
 xxv Forsoþ it was þe þridde our, þat 'men clepen vndrun, and þei crucifieden him.
 xxvi And þe title of his cause was writun, Jhesus of Nazareth, kyng of Jewis.
 xxvii And þei crucifiengē wiþ him twey þeues, oon 'at þe riȝthalf, 'and oon at his lefthalf.
 xxviii And þe prophecie is fulſild þat feiþ, And he is geſſide, 'or ordeyned, wiþ wickide men.
 xxix And paſſinge forþ þei blasphemiden him, mouyngē her heidis, and seyinge, Fyȝ! þou þat distroyest þe temple of God, and in þre dayes aȝen bildeſt it;
 xxx þou comyngē down fro þe croſs, make þi ſelf saf.
 xxxi Also and þe hiȝeftre preſtes ſcornyngē him, ech to oþer, wiþ ſcribis, feiden, 'Crist, kyng of Yrael, maade obere men saf, 'he maye not ſaue him ſilue. xxxii Come he down now fro þe croſs, þat we ſe, and bileue. And þei þat were crucified wiþ him, puttedyn wrong, 'or fals repref, to him.
 xxxiii And þe fixte our, 'or mydday, maad, derkneſſis ben maad vpon al þe erþe til 'in to þe nynþe our, 'þat is, noon.
 xxxiv And in þe nynþe our Jhesus criede wiþ greet vois, seyinge, 'Heloy, Heloy, lamazabatany, þe which 'interpretid is, My God, my God, whi, 'or wherto, haſt þou forſake me?
 xxxv And ſumme of men ſtondinge aboue heeringe feiden, Lo! he clepiþ Hely.
 xxxvi Soþli oon rennyngē, and fillinge a ſponge wiþ vynegre, and puttinge aboue to a reede, ȝaue him drynke, seyinge, Suffre ȝe, ſe we, if Hely come for to do hym down.
 xxxvii Forſoþ Jhesus, a greet vois ſent out, deide, or fente out þe breþ.
 xxxviii And þe veil of þe temple is kitt in to tweyne fro þe hiȝeftre til to down, 'or byneþe.

xxxix Forſoþ centurio ſeynge, 'þe which stood euene aȝenſt, for fo crynge he hadde deied, ſeiþ, Verrili, þis man was 'Goddis ſone.
 xl Soþli 'þere weren and obere wymmen biholdinge fro affer, among whiche was Mary Mawdeleyn, and Mari of James þe laſſe, and 'modir of Joseph, and Salome.
 xli And whanne Jhesus was in Galilee, þei folowiden him, and mynyſtriden to him, and manye obere wymmen, þat 'to gidere ſtȝeden vp wiþ him to Jeruſalem.
 xlii And whanne euentyd was now maad, for it was þe euentyd bifore þe ſaboth, xlvi Joseph of Armathie, þe noble decurioun, 'þat hadde ten men vndir him, cam, þe which and he was abidinge þe rewme of God; and hardly he entride in to Pilat, and axide þe body of Jhesu. xlviıi Forſoþ Pilat wondride, if he hadde now deied.
 And centurio 'axid to, 'or brouȝt to, he axide him, if he were now deed;
 xlviii and whanne he hadde knowun of centurio, he ȝaf þe body of Jhesu to Joseph.
 xlviıi Soþli Joseph byngē him 'lynnnen cloþ, and doyngē him doun, wlappede in þe lynen cloþ, and puttide in a 'newe ſepulcre þat was hewen in a ſtoon, and walewid to a ſtoon at þe mōuþ of þe ſepulcre. xlviıii Marie Mawdeleyn forſoþe, and Marie of Joseph biheelden, where he was putt.

Capitulum XVI.

i And whanne þe ſaboth hadde paſſid, Marie Mawdeleyn, and Marie of James, and Salome bouȝten oynementis, þat þei comyngē ſchulden anoynte Jhesu.
 ii And ful eerly in oon of woke dayes, þei camen to þe ſepulcre, þe funne now 'ſprungen vp.
 iii And þei feiden to gidere, Who ſchal 'turne aȝen to vs þe ſtoon fro þe dore of þe ſepulcre?
 iv And þei biholdinge ſyȝen þe ſtoon walewid awey, forſoþ it was ful greet.
 v And þei goyngē yn into þe ſepulcre ſyȝen a ȝong oon, hilid wiþ a whit ſtoole, ſittinge at þe riȝt half; and þei were abait, 'or greetli aferd.
 vi þe which feiþ to hem, Nyle ȝe drede; ȝe ſeken Jhesu of Nazareth crucified; he haþ riſun, he is not heere; lo!
 þe place where þei puttiden him.
 vii But go ȝe, 'ſeye ȝe to his diſciplis, and to Petre, for he ſchal go byfore ȝou in to Galilee; þere ȝe ſchulen ſe him, as he ſeide to ȝou.
 viii And þei goyngē out fledden fro þe ſepulcre; forſoþe drede and quakyngē hadde affaylid hem, 'or gon in to hem, and to no man þei feiden ony þing, forſoþ þei dredden.
 ix Soþly Jhesus, ryſinge erly in þe firſt day of þe wouke, apperide firſte to Mary Mawdeleyn, of whom he hadde caſt out ſeuene deuelis.

- x She goyng tolde to hem þat weren wiþ him, 'hem weylinge and wepynge.
- xi And þei heeringe þat he lyuede, and was seyn of hir, billeueden not.
- xii Sopl after þes þingis 'tweyne of hem wandringe, he is schewid in an oþer lykness, 'or figure, to hem goyng in to a toun.
- xiii And þei goyng toolden to oþere, neþir þei bileuyden to hem.
- xiv Forsoþ at þe laste, hem enleuene restinge, Jhesus apperide to hem, and reproyde þe vnbileue of hem, and þe hardnesse of herte, for þei bileuyden not to hem, þat hadden seyn him to haue risun fro deede.
- xv And he seide to hem, ȝe goyng in to al þe world, preche þe gospel to ech creature.
- xvi He þat schal bileue, and schal be baptisid, 'or cristenyd, schal be sauyd; soþli he þat schal 'bileue not, schal be dampned.
- xvii Forsoþ þese tokenes schulen sue hem, þat schulen bileue. In my name þei schulen cast out fendis; þei schulen speke wiþ newe tungis;
- xviii þei schulen do awey serpentis; and if þei schulen drynke ony venom, 'or deedli þing, 'þat bryngiþ deeþ, it schal not noye hem. Þei schulen putte hir hondis vpon fike men, and þei schulen haue wel.
- xix And soþli þe Lord Jhesu, aftir þat he 'hadde spoke to hem, is takun vp in to heuene, and sittiþ on þe riȝthalf of God.
- xx Soþli þei gon forþ prechiden euerywhere, þe Lord worchinge wiþ, and conferminge þe word wiþ signes folowinge.

Here endiþ Mark, and now bigynneþ Luk.

LUKE.

Þe prologue of Luke.

Lucas of Antyoche of Sirye nacioun, in craft a leche, was a disciple of þe apostlis; afterward he folowide Poul anon in to his passioun, seruynge to þe Lord wiþ outen blame; forwhi he noþer hauyng eny tyme wyf, neþir sones, of feuenty and foure ȝeer age deide in Betanye, ful of þe Hooly Gost. Þe which aftir þat þe gospels weren writun, by Matheu forsoþe in Jewerie, by Mark soþli in Ytalie, stiryng þe Hooly Gost, þis gospel he wroot in 'þe cuntrees of Achaye; alfo signyfyinge him silf, þat oþere gospels of Matheu and Mark weren writhen before. To whom wiþ outh 'þe ilke þingis, þe whiche þe ordre of þe disposinge of þe gospel axiþ, þe mooste nede of trauail was, þat first to be bileuyd men of Grees bi alle profeciyng þe manheed of Crist comynge in to fleisch schulde be maad opyn, leſt þei, holde wiþ Jewis fablis, in þe oonly desyr of þe olde lawe schulde be holde, and þat he schulde trauale, leſt þei, disceyued wiþ eretikis fablis and foli bisynessis, schulde falle fro þe treuþe;

and aftir þat, in þe bigynnyng of his gospel, þe natuyte of Jon take bifore, schulde schewe, to whom he wroot þe gospel, and in whom 'he chose schulde wryte, makyng opyn him in him silf to be fulfillid, þat weren of oþir bigunne. To whom þerfore after þe baptym of Goddis sone fro þe perfeccioun of generacioun fulfillid in Crist, and fro þe bigynnyng of natuyte of man to be 'reherfid, power 'was grauntid, þat to men fechinge he schulde schewe, in whom he was apprehendinge bi þe entringe of þe generacioun of vndeþartable God, rennyng aȝen 'in to God by Nathan, þe sone of Dauȝ, admittid, preaching to men his Crist, schulde make by þe 'sone þe work of a perfit man turne aȝen in to him silf, þe which Luk by Dauȝ þe fadir to men comynge to God ȝaf a wey in Crist. To þe which Luk power in seruys of þe apostlis dedis to be write was ȝoue, þat God ful schewide in to God, oþer to be God þat was in þe assencioun, and þe sone of tresoun, þat was Judas, acquenchid, þe preier of þe apostlis maad, þorw þe lot of Goddis choys, 'þe noumbrschulde be fulfiȝd. So Poul fulfillinge schulde ȝyue to þe dedis of þe apostlis, whom longe 'to aȝens God, þat was Goddis wille, kikyng þe Lord hadde chose. þat þouȝ boþe 'to men redinge and fechinge God by alle þingis it were profitable to be spedde of vs, neþeles we, knowinge þat þe traueilinge erþe tilier it bihouȝ to ete of his frutis, hauȝ auoyded opyn curiouste, leſte we schulde be feid not to schewe God as wel to men willinge, as to profite to men alooþinge.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and bigynneþ þe gospel.

Capitulum I.

- i Forsoþe for manye men enforceden to ordeyne þe tellyng of þingis, whiche ben fillid in vs,
- ii as þei þat seyn atte þe bigynnyng, and weren ministris of þe word, bitaken,
- iii it is seen also to me, hauyng alle þingis diligentli bi ordre, to write to þee, þou best Theofile,
- iv þat þou knowe þe treuþe of þo wordis, of whiche þou art lerned.
- v Þer was sum prest, Zacharie by name, in þe dayes of Eroude, kyng of Judee, of þe sort of Abia, and his wyf of þe douȝtris of Aaron, and hir name Elizabeth.
- vi Soþli þei boþe weren iuste 'before God, goyng in alle þe maundementis and iustifyingis of þe Lord, wiþ outen pleynte.
- vii And a sone was not to hem, for þat Elizabeth was bareyne, and boþe hadden gon forþ fer in her dayes.
- viii Soþli it was don, whanne Sacharie was fet 'in presthod, in þe ordre of his sort before God,
- ix vp þe custom of presthod, by sort he wente forþ, þat he entrid in to þe temple of þe Lord, schulde putte ensence.
- x And alle þe multitude of þe peple was wiþoute forþ, preiȝing in þe our of encence.

xi Soplī an aungel of þe Lord apperide to him, ſtondinge on þe riȝthalf of þe auter of ensence.
xii And Sacharie feynge was disturblid, and drede felde doun on him.
xiii Forſoþ þe aungel ſeip to hym, Zacharie, drede þou not; for þi preier is herd, and Elizabeth, þi wyf, ſchal bere to þee a fone, and his name ſchal be clepid John.
xiv And 'ioye and gladinge ſchal be to þee; and manye ſchulen enioye in his natyuite.
xv Soplī he ſchal be greet bifore þe Lord, and he ſchal not drynke wyn and fydir, and he ſchal be fulfillid of þe Hooly Gost ȝit of his modir wombe.
xvi And he ſchal conuerte manye of þe ſones of Iſrael to þe Lord God of hem;
xvii and he ſchal go bifore him in þe ſpirit and vertu of Helye; and he ſchal turne þe hertis of fadris in to ſones, and men out of bileyue to þe prudence of iuste men, for
to make redy a parfyte peple to þe Lord. xviii And Zachari ſeide to þe aungel, Wherof ſchal I wite þis? for I am old, and my wyf haþ gon fer in her dayes.
xix And þe aungel anſweringe ſeide to him, Forſoþ I am Gabriel, þat ſtonde nyȝ before God; and I am ſent to þee for to ſpeke, and to euangelife, 'or telle, to þee þes þingis.
xx And loo! þou ſhalt be ſtille, 'or doumbe, and þou ſchalt not mowe ſpeke til in to þe day, in which þes þingis ſchulen be don; for þat þou haſt not bileyuyd to my wordis, whiche ſchulen be fillid in her tymē.
xxi And þe peple was abidinge Zacharie, and þei wondriden, for he tariede in þe temple.
xxii Forſoþ he gon out myȝte not ſpeke to hem, and þei knewen þat he hadde feyn a vicioun in þe temple. And he was bekenyngē to hem, and dwellide doumb.
xxiii And it was maad, as þe dayes of his office weren fulfillid, he wente in to his hous.
xxiv Forſoþ after dayes Elizabeth, his wyf, conſeyuede, and hidde hir fyue moneþis, feyngē, xxv For so þe Lord dide to me in þe dayes, in þe whiche he bihelde, for to take a wey my ſchenschip a mong
men.
xxvi Soþely in þe fixte moneþe þe aungel Gabriel was ſent fro God in to a citeme of Galilee, to which þe name Nazareth,
xxvii to a mayden, weddid to a man, to whom þe name was Joseph, of þe house of Dauȝ; and þe name of þe mayden Marie.
xxviii And þe aungel gon yn to hir ſeide, Heil, ful of grace; þe Lord be wiþ þee; bleſſid be þou among wymmen.
xxix Which, whanne ſhe had herd, was troublid in his word, and bouȝte what maner ſalutacioun þis was.
xxx And þe aungel ſeide to hir, Ne drede þou, Marie, ſoplī þou haſt founden grace anemptis God.
xxxi Loo! þou ſchalt conſeyue in þe wombe, and ſchalt bere a fone, and þou ſchalt clepe his name Jhesu.

xxxii Þis ſchal be greet, and he ſchal be clepid þe fone of þe Hiȝefte; and þe Lord God ſchal ȝyue to him þe ſeete of Dauȝ, his fadir, xxxiii and he ſchal regne in þe hous of Jacob 'wiþ outer ende, and of his rewme ſchal be non ende.
xxxiv Forſoþ Marie ſeip to þe aungel, On what manere ſchal þis þing be don, for I knowe not man?
xxxv And þe aungel anſweringe ſeide to hir, þe Hooly Gost ſchal come fro aboue in to þee, and þe vertu of þe Hiȝefte ſchal ſchadewe vnto þee; þerfore and þat hooly þing þat ſchal be born of þee, ſchal be clepid þe fone
of God.
xxxvi And loo! Elizabeth, þi cofyneſſ, and ſche haþ conceyued a fone in hir elde, and þis moneþe is þe fixte to hir þat is clepid bareyne; xxxvii for eury word ſchal not be inpoſſible anemptis
God.
xxxviii Forſoþ Marie ſeide, Loo! þe hand mayden of þe Lord; be it don to me aftir þi word. And þe aungel departide fro hir.
xxxix Soplī Marie riſinge vp in þo dayes, wente wiþ haſte in to þe hilly placis, in to a citeme of Judee. xl And ſche entride yn to þe hows of Zacharie, and grette Elizabeth.
xli And it was don, as Elizabeth herde þe ſalutacioun of Marie, þe ȝonge child in hir wombe gladide. And Elizabeth 'was fillid wiþ þe Hooly Gost, xlii and crieđe wiþ grete voys, and ſeide, Bleſſid be þou a mong wymmen, and bleſſid be þe fruyt of þi wombe.
xliii And wherof þis þing to me, þat þe modir of my Lord come to me?
xliii Loo! forſoþe as þe vois of þi ſalutacioun was maad in myn eeris, þe ȝonge child gladide wiþ ioye in my wombe.
xlii And bleſſid þou ert, þat haſt bileyuyd, for þo þingis þat ben ſeid to þee fro þe Lord, ſchulen be parfyli don.
xliii And Marie ſeide, My ſoule magnyfieþ þe Lord, xlvii and my ſpirit haþ gladdid in God, myn heelþe.
xliii For he haþ biholden þe mekenesse of his hand mayde. Loo! forſoþ of þis alle generaciouns ſchulen ſeie me bleſſid.
xliii For he þat is myȝti haþ don grete þingis to me, and his name is hooly.
i And his mercy is fro kynredis in to kynredis, to men dredinge him.
ii He made myȝte in his arme, he ſcateride proude men wiþ mynde of his herte.
iii He puttide doun myȝty men fro ſeete, and enhaunſide meke.
iv He haþ fillid hungry men wiþ goode þingis, and he haþ left ryche men voyde.
vii He, hauynge mynde of his mercy, took vp Iſrael, his child;
viii as he haþ ſpoken to oure fadris, to Abraham and to his feed, in to worldis.

Ivi Forsoþ Marye dwellide wiþ hir as þree moneþis, and turnyde aȝen in to hir hous.
Ivii Soþly þe tyme of beringe child `was fillid to Elizabeth, and sche childide a sone.
Iviii And þe neȝeboris and cosyns of hir herden, for þe Lord hadde magnyfied his mercy wiþ hir; and þei bankiden him.
Ix And it was don, in þe eiȝteþe day, þei camen for to circumside þe child; and þei clepiden him Sacharie, by name of his fadir.
Ix And his modir answeringe seide, Nay, but he schal be clepid John.
Ix And þei seiden to hir, For no man is in þi kyn, þat is clepid bi þis name.
Ixii Soþli þei maden a fyngne to his fadir, whom he wolde him for to be clepid.
Ixiii And he axinge a poynTEL, wroot, seyinge, John is his name. And alle men wondriden.
Ixvii Forsoþ his mouþ was openyd anon, and his tunge, and he spak, bleffinge God.
Ixv And drede was maad on alle her neȝeboris, and þes wordis weren pupplifchid on alle þe hilly placis of Judee.
Ixvi And alle men þat herden puttedyn in her herte, seyinge, Who, geſſift þou, þis child schal be? And soþli þe hond of þe Lord was wiþ him.
Ixvii And Zacharie, his fadir, `was fillid wiþ þe Hooli Gost, and prophesiede, seyinge, Ixviii Bleſſid be þe Lord God of Ifrael, for he haþ viſitid, and maad redempcioun of his peple.
Ixix And he haþ rerid to vs an horn of helþe in þe hous of Dauiþ, his child.
Ix As he spak by þe mouþe of `hooly prophetis, þat ben fro þe world.
Ixli Helþe fro oure enemyes, and fro þe hond of alle men þat hatiden vs.
Ixlii To do mercy wiþ oure fadris, and to haue mynde of his hooly testament.
Ixliii Pe ooþ þat he swor to Abraham, oure fadir, `to ȝyue him silf to vs. Pat we `wiþoute drede deliuerid fro þe hond of oure enemyes, ferue to him, lxxv in hoolynesse and riȝtfulnesse bifore him in alle oure dayes.
Ixlii And þou, child, schalt be clepid þe prophte of þe Hiȝeste; for þou schalt go bifore þe face of þe Lord, to make redy his weytes.
Ixliii For to ȝyue þe science of helþe to his peple, in to remiscioun of her synnes; Ixliii bi þe entraylis of mercy of oure God, in whiche he spryngyng vp fro an hiȝ haþ viſytid vs.
Ixliii For to ȝyue liȝt to hem þat sitten in derknessis, and in schadewe of deþ; for to dresse oure feet in to þe wey of pees.
Ixlii Soþli þe child waxide, and was comfortid in spirit, and was in desert til to þe day of his schewinge to Ifrael.

Capitulum II.

i Forsoþ it was don in þo dayes, a maundement went out fro Cesar August, `or noble, þat al þe world schulde be discryued.
ii Þis firſte discryuyng was maad of Cyryne, iuſtice of Cirye.
iii And alle men wenten, þat þei schulde make profefcioun, `or knowleching, ech by him ſelf in to his cite.
iv Soþly and Josep ſtiȝede vp fro Galilee, of þe cite of Nazareth, in to Jude, in to a cite of Dauiþ, þat is clepid Bedleem, for þat he was of þe hous and meyne of Dauiþ, v þat he schulde knowleche wiþ Marie, wiþ child ſpousid wyf to him.
vi Soþli it was don, whanne þei weren þere, þe dayes weren fulfillid, þat she schulde bere child.
vii And sche childide her firſte born sone, and wlappide him in cloþis, and puttide him in a cracche, for þer was not place to hym in þe comyn ſtable.
viii And ſchepherdis weren in þe fame cuntre, wakinge and kepinge þe watchis of þe nyȝt on her flok.
ix And loo! þe aungel of þe Lord stood by sydis hem, and þe clerenesse of God ſchynede aboute hem; and þei dredden wiþ greet drede.
x And þe aungel feide to hem, Nyle ȝe drede; lo! ſoþli I euangelife to ȝou a grete ioye, þat ſchal be to al peple.
xi For a fauour is borun to day to vs, þat is Crif þe Lord, in þe cite of Dauiþ.
xii And þis a tokene to ȝou; ȝe Schulen fynde a ȝong child wlappid in cloþis, and put in a cracche.
xiii And ſudenly þer is maad wiþ þe aungel a multitude of heuenly knyȝthod, heriyng God, and seyinge, xiv Glorie be in þe hiȝeste þingis to God, and in erþe pees be to men of good wille.
xv And it was don, þat whanne þe aungelis paſſiden a wey fro hem in to heuene, þe ſchepherdis ſpaken to gidere, ſeiyng, Palle we ouer til to Bedleem, and `le we þis word þat is maad, þe `whiche þe Lorde maad, and ſchewid to vs.
xvi And þei hyȝinge camen, and founded Marie and Joseph, and a ȝong child put in a cracche.
xvii Soþli þei ſeinge, knewen of þe word þat was ſeid to hem of þis child.
xviii And alle men þat hadde herd wondriden, and of þes þingis þat weren ſeide to hem of þe ſchepherdis.
xix Forsoþ Marie kepte alle þes wordis, beringe to gidere in hir herte.
xx And þe ſchepherdis turneden aȝen, glorifyng and heriyng God in alle þingis þat þei hadde herd and feyn, as it is feyd to hem.
xi And aftir þat eiȝte dayes weren endid, þat þe child schulde be circumſidid, his name was clepid Jhesus, which was clepid of þe aungel, bifore he was confeyued in wombe.

xxii And aftir þat þe dayes of purgacioun of Marie weren fulfild, vp Moyses lawe, þei token him in to Jerusalem, þat þei schulden offre him to þe Lord, xxiii as it is writun in þe lawe of þe Lord, For ech male kynde openyng þe wombe 'to go out, schal be clepid hooly to þe Lord;
xxiv and þat þei schulen ȝyue an offrynge, vp þat it is feid in þe lawe of þe Lord, A peyre of turtris, or twey culuere briddis.
xxv And lo! a man was in Jerusalem, to whom þe name Symeon; and þis man was iuft and dredful, abidinge þe comfort of Israel; and þe Hooly Gost was in him.
xxvi And he hadde taken answere of þe Hooly Gost, 'þat he schal not se deep, no but he saiȝ first þe Crist of þe Lord.
xxvii And he cam in spirit in to þe temple. And whenne his 'fadir and modir ledden in þe child Jhesu, þat þei schulden do vp þe custom of lawe for him, xxviii and he took him in to his armes, and he bleſſide God, and feide, xxix Lord, now þou leeuyſt þi seruaunt vp þi word in
pees;
xxx for myn ȝyzen han seyn þin helpe, xxxi þe which þou haſt maad redy biſore þe face of alle peplis;
xxxii liȝt to þe ſchewing of heþene, and glorie of þi peple of Israel.
xxxiii And his fadir and his modir weren wondringe on þes pingis, þat weren feid of him.
xxxiv And Symeon bleſſide hem, and feide to Marie, his modir, Lo! þis is put in to be fallinge and in to þe ryſinge ȝazen of many men in Israel, and in to a tokene, to whom it ſchal be aȝeainſeid.
xxxv And a ſword ſchal paſſe þorw þin owne ſoule, þat þouȝtis be ſchewid of manye hertis.
xxxvi And Anna was a prophetiſſe, þe douȝtir of Fanuel, of þe lynage of Aſer. And ſche hadde gon forþ in many dayes, and hadde lyued wiþ hir hofebonde feuen ȝeer fro hir maydenhed.
xxxvii And þis was a widowe 'til to foure ſcore ȝeer and four; which departide not fro þe temple, ſeruyng nyȝt and day to faltingis and bifechingis.
xxxviii And þis in þilke our aboue comynge, knowlechide to þe Lord, and ſpak of him to alle þat abiden þe redempcioun of Israel.
xxxix And as þei hadde perſytli doon alle þingis, by þe lawe of þe Lord, þei turnyden ȝazen in to Galilee, in to her citee Nazareth.
xl Soþli þe child wax, and was coumfortid, ful of wysdom; and þe grace of God was in him.
xli And 'his fadir and modir wenten by alle ȝeiris in to Jerusalem, in þe ſolempne day of paske.
xlii And whanne Jhesus was maad of twelue ȝeiris, hem ſtiȝyng vp in to Jerusalem, by custom of þe feefte day, xliii and þe dayes endid, whanne þei turneden ȝazen, þe child dwelte in Jerusalem, and his fadir and modir knewen not.

xlv Forſoþe þei geſſinge him to be in þe fellowſchiþe, camen þe wey of a day, and ſouȝten him a mong his coſyns and knownen.
xlvi And þei not fyndinge, wenten ȝazen in to Jerusalem, ſekyng him.
xlvi And it was don, aftir þe þridde day þei founden him in þe temple, ſittinge in þe myddil of doctours, heeringe hem and axinge hem.
xlvii Soþli alle men þat herden him, wondriðen on þe prudence and anſweris of him.
xlviii And þei ſeyng wondriðen. And his modir feide to him, Sone, what haſt þou don to vs þus? Lo! þi fadir and I forwyngē han ſouȝt þee.
xlix And he ſeiȝ to hem, What is it þat ȝe ſouȝten me?
wiften ȝe not, for in þo þingis þat ben 'of my fadir, it bihouȝt me to be?
l And þei vndirstoden not þe word, which he ſpak to
hem.
li And he cam doun wiþ hem, and cam to Nazareth, and was fuget to hem. And his modir kepte to gidere alle þes wordis, beringe to gidere in hir herte.
lii And Jhesu profitide in wylldom, age, and grace, anempts God and men.

Capitulum III.

i Forſoþe in þe fyftenþe ȝeer of þe empyre of Tiberie, emperour, Pilat of Pounce kepinge Judee, soþli Eroude, prince of Galilee, Philip forſoþ, his brother, prince of Ituree, and of þe cuntre of Tracon, and Lisany, prince of Abilyn, ii vndir þe princis of preſtis Annas and Cayfas, þe word of þe Lord is maad on John, þe sone of Zacharie, in desert.
iii And he cam in to al þe cuntre of Jordan, prechinge baptym of penaunce in to remyſcioun of synnes.
iv As it is writun in þe book of wordis of Yſaye, þe prophete, Be voys of oon criyng in desert, Make ȝe redy þe weye of þe Lord, make ȝe his paþis riȝt.
v Ech valey ſchal be fulfillid, and 'ech mountayn and 'litil hil ſchal be maad louȝ; and ſchrewide þingis ſchulen be in to dressid þingis, and ſcharpe þingis in to playne weyes;
vi and ech fleiſch, 'or man, ſchal fe þe helpe of God.
vii Perfore he ſeide to þe cumpanyes, 'þe whiche wenten out, þat þei ſchulden be baptyſid of him, Kyndlis of eddris, who ſchewide to ȝou to flee fro wræþe to comynge?
viii Perfore do ȝe worpi fruytis of penaunce, and bigynne ȝe not to feye, We han a fadir Abraham; soþli I ſeie to ȝou, God is myȝti 'to reiſe of þes ſtoones þe ſones of Abraham.

ix Forsoþe now an ax is put to þe roote of þe tree; soþli ech tree not makynge good fruyt, schal be kitt doun, and schal be sent in to þe fier.
 x And þe cumpanyes axden him, seyng, What þerfore schulen we do?
 xi Soþli he answeringe seide to hem, He þat haþ twey cootis, ȝyue 'to him þat haþ non; and he þat haþ metis, do on lyk manere.
 xii Soþli and pupplicans camen for to be baptisid; and þei seiden to him, Maistir, what schulen we don?
 xiii And he seide to hem, Do ȝe no þing more, þan 'þat þat is ordeyned to ȝou.
 xiv Forsoþe and knyȝtis axiden him, seyng, What schulen also we do? And he seiþ to hem, Smyte ȝe wrongfulli no man, neþer make ȝe fals chalenge, and be ȝe apaid wiþ ȝoure soudis.
 xv Forsoþ al þe peple gessinge, and alle men þenkinge in her hertis of John, leſt perauenture he were Crist, xvi John 'answeride, seyng to alle men, Soþli I baptise ȝou in watir; forsoþ a strengere þan I schal come aftir me, 'of which I am not worþi for to vnbynde þe þwong of his schoon; he schal baptysye ȝou in þe Hooly Gost and fyer.
 xvii Whos wynewyng tool in his hond, and he schal purge his 'corn floor, and schal gedere þe whete 'in to his berne; soþli þe chaffis he schal brenne in fier vnquenchable.
 xviii Forsoþ and he monestinge manye obere þingis, euangeliside to þe peple.
 xix Soþli Eroude, 'þe forþe prince, whanne he was blamyd of John for Herodias, wyf of his broþer, and of alle euels þat Eroud dide, xx addide þis ouer alle, and closide John in prisoun.
 xxi Forsoþ it was don, whanne al þe peple was baptisid, and Jhesu cristenyd, and preiyng, heuene was openyd.
 xxii And þe Hooly Gost cam doun in bodily liknesse, as a culuere in to him; and a voys was maad fro heuene, Pou ert my dereworþe fone, in þee it hap plesid to me.
 xxiii And 'Jhesu him filf was bygynnynge as of þriddi zeer, þat he was geffid þe sone of Joseph, which was of Hely,
 xxiv which was of Mathath, which was of Leuy, wiche was of Melchy, which was of Jamne, þat was of Joseph,
 xxv þat was of Mataty, þat was of Amos, þat was of Naum, þat was of Hely, þat was of Nagge, xxvi þat was of Mathath, þat was of Mathatye, þat was of Semy, þat was of Joseph, þat was of Juda, xxvii þat was of Johanna, þat was of Refa, þat was of Zorobabel, þat was of Salatiel, þat was of Nery, xxviii þat was of Melchy, þat was of Addy, þat was of Colan, þat was of Elmadan, þat was of Her, xxix þat was of Jesu, þat was of Eleasar, þat was of Jorym, þat was of Mathath, þat was of Leuy, xxx þat was of Symeon, þat was of Juda, þat was of Joseph, þat was of Jona, þat was of Elyachim, xxxi þat was of Melca, þat was of Menna, þat was of Mathatha, þat was of Nathan, þat was of Dauip, xxxii þat was of Jesse, þat was of Obeth, þat was of Booz, þat was of Salmon, þat was of Nafon, xxxiii þat was of Amynadab, þat was of Aram, þat was of Esfrom, þat was of Phares, þat was of Judas, xxxiv þat was of Jacob, þat was of Yfaac, þat was of Abraham, þat was of Tare, þat was of Nacor, xxxv þat was of Seruch, þat was of Ragau, þat was of Phaleth, þat was of Heber, þat was of Sale, xxxvi þat was of Caynan, þat was of Arfaxat, þat was of Sem, þat was of Noe, þat was of Lameth, xxxvii þat was of Matusale, þat was of Enok, þat was of Jareth, þat was of Malaliel, þat was of Caynan, xxxviii þat was of Enos, þat was of Seth, þat was of Adam, þat was of God.

Capitulum III.

i Forsoþe Jhesu ful of þe Hooly Gost turnede aȝen fro Jordan, and was led by þe spirit in to desert fourty
 dayes,
 ii and was temptid of þe deuyl, and eet no þing in þo dayes; and þo dayes endid, he hungride.
 iii Forsoþe þe deuel seide to him, If þou ert Goddis sone, seye to his stoon, þat it be maad bred.
 iv And Jhesus answeride to him, It is writun, For a man lyueþ not in breed aloone, but in euery word of God.
 v And þe deuyl ladde hym in to an hiȝ hil, and schewide to him alle þe rewmes of þe roundnesse of erþe in a moment of a tyme; vi and seiþ to him, I schal ȝyue to þee al þis power, and þe glorie of hem, for to me þei ben ȝouun, and to whom I wole I ȝyue hem;
 vii þerfore if þou 'fallinge doun schalt worshipe before me, alle þingis schulen be þine.
 viii And Jhesus answeringe seide 'to him, It is writen, þou schalt worshipe þe Lord þi God, and to hym aloone þou schalt serue.
 ix And he ledde him in to Jerusalem, and settide on þe pynacle of þe temple, and seide to him, If þou art Goddis sone, sende þi self fro hennis down; x for it is writen, For he haþ comaundid to his aungels of þee, þat þei kepe þee in alle 'þi weyes, xi and for þei schulen 'in hondis take þee, leſt perauenture þou hirte þi foot at a stoon.
 xii And Jhesus answeringe seiþ to him, It is feid, þou schalt not tempte þe Lord þi God.
 xiii And euery temptacioun endid, þe deuyl wente away fro him til to a tyme.
 xiv And Jhesus turnyde aȝen in þe vertu of þe spirit in to Galilee, and þe fame wente forþ of him þurȝ al þe cuntry.

xv And he tauȝte in þe synagogis of hem, and was magnyfied of alle men.
 xvi And he cam to Nazareth, where he was norischid, and he entride by custom in þe 'day of saboth in to þe synagoge, and roos for to rede.
 xvii And þe book of Ysaie, þe prophete, was takun to him; and as he turnyde þe book, he fond a place where it is writun, xviii þe Spirit of þe Lord on me, for which þing he anoyntide me; he sente me for to euangelise to pore men, for to heele contrite men in herte, and for to preche remyscioun to caytifs, and siȝt to blynde men; and for to delyuere brokun men in to remiscioun;
 xix for to preche þe ȝeer of þe Lord plesaunt, and þe day of ȝeldynge.
 xx And whanne he hadde clofid þe book, he ȝaf aȝein to þe mynystre, and sat; and þe yȝen of alle men in þe synagoge weren biholdinge in to him.
 xxi Soþli he bigan for to seie to hem, For in þis day þis scripture is fulfillid in ȝoure eeris.
 xxii And alle men ȝauen witnellinge to him, and wondriden in þe wordis of grace, þat camen forþ of his mouȝ. And þei seiden, Wher þis is not þe sone of Jofeph?
 xxiii And he seide to hem, Soþli ȝe schulen seie to me þis liknesse, Leeche, heele þi filf. 'Þei sayden, Hou grete þingis han we herd don in Capharnaum, make pou and here in þi cuntry.
 xxiv Soþli he seiþ, Treuli I seie to ȝou, for no man 'prophete is receyued in his owne cuntry.
 xxv In treupe I seie to ȝou, for manye widewis weren in þe dayes of Elye, þe prophete, in Ifrael, whanne heuene was clofid þre ȝeare and sixe moneþis, whanne greet hungir was maad in euery lond;
 xxvi and to non of hem was Elye sent, no but to Sarepta of Sydon, to a womman widowe.
 xxvii And manye meselis weren in Ifrael, vndir Elyse, þe prophete, and non of hem was clensid, no but Naman of Sirie.
 xxviii And alle in þe synagoge heeringe þes þingis, weren fulfillid wiþ wrappē.
 xxix And þei risen vp, and castiden 'out him wiþ oute þe citee, and ledde him to þe cop of þe hil on which 'þe cite of hem is foundid, þat þei schulden caste him doun.
 xxx Soþli Jhesus paffynge wente þorw þe myddil of hem; xxxi and he cam doun in to Cafarnaum, a citee of Galilee, and þere he tauȝte hem in þe sabothis.
 xxxii And þei weren astonyed in 'his teching, for his word was in power.
 xxxiii And in þe synagoge was a man hauynge an vncleane fend, and he criede wiþ greet vois, xxxiv seyinge, Suffre, what to vs and to þee, Jhesus of Nazareth? haſt þou comen for to leefe vs? I knowe þee, þat þou art þe hooly of God.

xxxv And Jhesu blamyde him, seyinge, Waxe doumbe, and go out fro him. And whanne 'þe fend hadde cast 'him forþ in to þe myddel, he wente a wey fro him, and ȝit noyede hym 'no þing.
 xxxvi And drede is maad in alle men, and þei spaken to gidere, seyinge, What is þis word, for in power and vertu he comaundid to vncleane spiritis, and þei gon out?
 xxxvii And þe fame was pupplischid of hym in to ech place of þe cuntry.
 xxxviii Forsoþ Jhesu risyng of þe synagoge, entride in to þe hous of Symount; soþli þe modir of Symondis wyf was holden wiþ grete feueris, and þei preieden him for hir.
 xxxix And Jhesu stondinge on hir, comaundide to þe feuir, and it lefte hir; and anon sche risyng mynystride to hem.
 xl Forsoþ whanne þe funne wente doun, alle þat hadden like men wiþ dyuerse langwischingis, ledden hem to hym; and he, puttinge hondis to ech by him filf, heelide hem.
 xli Soþli fendis wenten out fro manye, crynge, and seyinge, For þou ert þe sone of God. And he blamynge suffrider not hem for to speke, for þei wisten him to be Crist.
 xlii Soþli, þe day maad, he gon out, wente in to desert place; and þe cumpenyes of peple souȝten him, and þei camen 'til to him, and þei helden him, þat he schulde not go awey fro hem.
 xliii To whiche he seyde, For and to oþere citees it bihoueþ me for to euangelise þe kyngdom of God, for þefore I am sente.
 xliv And he was prechinge in þe synagogis of Galilee.

Capitulum V.

i Soþeli it was don, whanne cumpanyes of peple felden in to Jhesu, 'or camen faste, þat þei schulden heere þe word of God, and he stood bifydis þe stondinge watir of Genasereth, ii and fyȝ twey bootis stondinge bifydis þe stonding watir; soþli þe fischeris hadden gon doun, and waſchide nettis.
 iii Soþli he stiȝynghe in to a boot, þat was Symoundis, preiede him to lede aȝen a litil fro þe lond; and he sittinge tauȝte þe cumpanyes fro þe boot.
 iv Soþli as he ceeffide to speke, he seide to Symound, Lede þou in to hiȝ, and flake ȝe ȝoure nettis in to þe takinge.
 v And Symount answeringe seide to him, Comaundour, we trauelinge by al þe nyȝt token no þing, but in þi word I schal leye out þe nett.
 vi And whanne þei hadden don þis þing, þei closiden 'to gidere a plenteuous multitude of fysches; forsoþ her nett was broken.

vii And þei bekenyden to felowis, þat weren in an oþir boot, þat þei schulden come, and helpe hem. And þei camen, and filliden boþe little bootis, so þat þei weren al moost drenchid.

viii Which þing whanne Symound Petre sy3, he felde doun to þe knees of Jhesu, seyinge, Lord, go fro me, for I am a man synnere.

ix Soþli greet wondir hadde bigon `aboute him, and alle þat weren wiþ him, in þe takinge of fisches whiche þei tooken.

x Soþli in lyk manere James and John, þe sones of Zebede, welche weren felowis of Symount Petre. And Jhesu seiþ to Symound, Nyle þou drede; now fro þis tyme þou schalt be takynge men.

xi And þe bootis led vp to þe lond, alle þingis left, þei sueden him.

xii And it was don, whanne he was in oon of þe citees, and lo! a man ful of leper; and seyinge Jhesu, and fallinge doun in to his face, preiede him, seyinge, Lord, if þou wolt, þou maist make me clene.

xiii And Jhesu holdinge forþ þe hond, touchide him, seyinge, I wole, be þou maad clene. And anon þe lepre passide away fro hym.

xiv And Jhesu comaundide to him, þat he schulde seie to no man; But go þou, schewe þou þee to a prest, and offre þou for þi clensing, as Moyses bad, in to witnesſinge to hem.

xv Soþli þe word walkide aboute þe more of him; and manye cumpanyes camen to gidre, þat þei schulden heere, and be heelid of her syknessis.

xvi Forsoþe he wente in to desert, and preiede.

xvii And it was don in oon of dayes, and he fittinge tauȝte; and þere were Pharisees sittinge, and doctours of þe lawe, þat camen of ech castel of Galilee, and of Judee, and of Jerusalem; and þe vertu of þe Lord was for to heele syke men.

xviii And loo! men beringe in a bed a man þat was syk in palasye, and þei souȝten for to bere `in hym, and to putte before him.

xix And þei not fyndinge in what part þei schulde bere him yn, for þe cumpeny of peple, stiȝeden vp on þe rof, and by þe sclattis þei lenten him doun wiþ þe bed in to þe myddil, byfore Jhesu.

xx Pe seiþ of whiche as Jhesu sy3, he seide, Man, þi synnes ben forȝouun to þee.

xi And scribis and Pharisees bigunnen for to þenke, seyinge, Who is þis, þat spekiþ blaþemyes? who may forȝyue synnes, no but God aloone?

xxii Forsoþ as Jhesu knew þe þouȝtis of hem, he answeringe seide to hem, What þenken ȝe yuele þingis in ȝoure hertis?

xxiii What is liȝtere to seye, Synnes ben forȝouun to þee, eþir to seie, Rylle vp, and walke?

xxiv Soþli þat ȝe wite, for mannis sone haþ power in erþe to forȝyue synnes, he seiþ to þe syke man in palasy, To þee I seie, ryse vp, take þi bed, and go in to þin hous.

xxv And anon he risinge vp `before hem, took þe bed in which he lay, and wente in to his hous, magnyfyinge God.

xxvi And greet wondir took alle men, and þei magnyfieden God; and þei weren fulfillid wiþ greet drede, seyinge, For we han seyn merueilouse þingis to day.

xxvii And aftir þes þingis Jhesu wente out, and sy3 a pupplican, Leeuy by name, sittinge at þe tolboþe. And he seiþ to him, Sue þou me;

xxviii and alle þingis forsaken, he rifynge suede him.

xxix And Leuy made to him a greet feeste in his hous; and þere was a greet cumpayne of pupplicans, and of obere þat weren wiþ hem, sittinge at þe mete.

xxx And Farisees and þe scribis of hem grucchiden, seyinge to his disciplis, Whi eten ȝe and drynken wiþ pupplicans and synful men?

xxxi And Jhesu answeringe seiþ to hem, Þei þat ben hoole han no nede to a leche, but þei þat han yuele;

xxxii soþli I cam not to clepe iust men, but synful men to penaunce.

xxxiii And þei feiden to him, Whi disciplis of John fasten oft, and maken bischingis, also and of Pharisees, but þi disciplis eten and drynken.

xxxiv To whiche he seiþ, Wher ȝe mown make þe sones of þe spouse for to faste, þe while þe spouse is wiþ hem?

xxxv Soþli dayes schulen come, whanne þe spouse schal be taken away fro hem, þanne þei schulen faste in þo dayes.

xxxvi Forsoþ he seide to hem also a liknesse; For no man `fendip a medling of newe cloþ in to an old cloþ; ellis and he brekiþ þe newe, and þe medling of þe newe acordip not to þe oolde.

xxxvii And no man fendip newe wyn in to olde wyn vessellis; ellis þe newe wyn schal breke þe wyn vessellis, and þe wyn schal be sched out, and þe wyn vessellis schulen perische.

xxxviii But newe wyn is to be sent in to newe wyn vessellis, and boþe ben kept.

xxxix And no man drynkinge old, wole anon newe; soþli he seiþ, þe olde is þe betere.

Capitulum VI.

i Forsoþe it is don in þe `secunde firste saboth, whanne he passide by cornes, his disciplis pluckeden eeris; and þei frottinge wiþ her hondis, eeten.

ii Soþli summe of þe Pharisees feiden to hem, What don ȝe `þis, þat is not leefful in sabotis?

iii And Jhesu answeringe seide to hem, `Neipir ȝe han rad þis, þat Dauiþ dide, whanne he hungride, and þei þat weren wiþ him;

iv hou he entride in to þe hous of God, and took looues of proposiciooun, and eet, and ȝaf to hem þat weren wiþ him; whiche looues it was not leeffful to ete, no but to preeftis aloone.

v And he seide to hem, For mannis sone is lord, ȝe, of þe saboth.

vi Soþli it was don and in an ober saboth, þat he entride in to a synagoge, and tauȝte. And a man was þere, and his riȝthond was drye.

vii Forsoþe scribis and Pharisees aspieden him, if he schulde heele him in þe saboth, þat þei schulden fynde cause, wherof þei schulden accuse him.

viii Soþli he wiste þe þouȝtis of hem, and he seiþ to þe man þat hadde a drye hond, Rife vp, `and stond in to þe myddel. And he risinge stood.

ix Soþli Jhesu seiþ to hem, I axe ȝou, if it is leeffful to do wel in þe sabot, eþer yuele? for to make a soule saf, eþer for to leese?

x And, alle men lookide aboute, he seide to þe man, Hold forþ bin hond. And he held forþ, and his hond was restorid to helpe.

xi Soþli þei weren fulfilld wiþ vnwyfdom, and spaken to gidere, what þei schulden do of Jhesu.

xii Forsoþe it is don in þo dayes, he wente out in to an hil for to preye; and he was al nyȝt dwellinge in þe preier of God.

xiii And whanne þe day was maad, he clepide his disciplis, and chees twelue of hem, whiche `he clepide also apostlis;

xiv Symound, whom he clepide Petre, and Andrew, his broþer, James and Jon, Philip and Bartolmew, xv Matheu and Thomas, James Alphei, and Symound, þat is clepid Zelotis, xvi Judas of James, and Judas Scariot, þat was traitour.

xvii And Jhesu comyng doun fro þe hil wiþ hem, stood in a feeld place; and þe cumpeny of his disciplis, and a plenteuous multitude of pore people, of al Judee, and of Jerusalem, and of `þe fe cooftis, and of Tire, and of Sydon, whiche camen, þat þei schulde heere hym, and þat þei schulden be heelid of her langwischingis;

xviii and þei þat weren trauelid wiþ vnclene spiritis, weren heelid.

xix And ech cumpeny of þe peple souȝten for to touche him, for vertu wente out of him, and heelide alle.

xx And, his yȝen reyfid vp in to his disciplis, he seide, Bleffid be ȝe, pore men, for þe kyngdom of God is ȝoure.

xxi Bleffid be ȝe, þat `hungren now, for ȝe schulen be fillid. Bleffid be ȝe, þat `wepen now, for ȝe schulen leyȝe.

xxii ȝe schulen be bleffid, whanne men schulen hate ȝou, and schulen departe ȝou awey, and schulen putte schenʃchip on ȝou, and schulen caste out ȝoure name as yuel, for mannis sone.

xxiii Joye ȝe in herte in þat day, and glade ȝe wiþ oute forþ; loo! soþli ȝoure mede is moche in heuene; forsoþe vp þes þingis þe fadris of hem diden to prophetis.

xxiv Neþeles woo to ȝou, riche men, þat han ȝoure comfort.

xxv Woo to ȝou þat ben fulfillid, for ȝe schulen hungre. Woo to ȝou þat `lauȝhen now, for ȝe schal morne, and wepe.

xxvi Woo, whanne alle men schulen blesse ȝou; aftir þes þingis þe fadris of hem diden to prophetis.

xxvii But I seie to ȝou þat heeren, loue ȝe ȝoure enemyes, `do ȝe wel to hem þat haten ȝou;

xxviii blesse ȝe to men cursinge ȝou, preie ȝe for men `falsly chalengyng ȝou.

xxix And `to him þat schal smyte þee `on o cheke, ȝyue also þe toþer; and fro him þat takip away fro þee `a cloþ, ȝhe, nyle þou forbede þe coote.

xxx Soþly ȝyue to ech axinge þee, and who takip away bo þingis þat ben þyne, axe þou not aȝeyn.

xxxi And as ȝe wolen þat men do to ȝou, and do ȝe to hem in lyk manere.

xxxii And if ȝe louen hem þat louen ȝou, what grace, `eþir þank, is to ȝou? for whi and synful men louen men louyng hem.

xxxiii And if ȝe don wel to hem þat don wel to ȝou, what grace is to ȝow? soþly and synful men don þis þing.

xxxiv And if ȝe `ȝyuen borwyng to hem, of whiche ȝe hopen to take aȝen, what grace is to ȝou? for whi and synful men leenen to synful men, þat þei taken aȝeyn euene þingis.

xxxv Neþeles loue ȝe ȝoure enemyes, and do ȝe wel, and ȝyue ȝe borwyng, hopinge no þing þeroft, and ȝoure mede schal be moche, and ȝe schulen be þe sones of þe Hiȝeste, for he is benyngne on vnkynde men and yuele men.

xxxvi Perfore be ȝe merciful, as and ȝoure fadir is merciful.

xxxvii Nyle ȝe deme, and ȝe schulen not be demyd. Nyle ȝe condempne, and ȝe schulen not be condempned; `forȝyue ȝe, and it schal be forȝouun to ȝou.

xxxviii ȝyue ȝe, and it schal be ȝouun to ȝou. Þei schulen ȝyue in to ȝoure bosum a good mesure, and wel fillid, and shakun to gidere, and ouerflowyng; forsoþe by þe fame mesure, by which ȝe schulen mete, it schal be meten to ȝou.

xxxix Soþli he seide to hem and a liknesse, Wheþir a blynd man may leede þe blynde? wheþir þei falle not boþe in to þe dyche?

xl A disciple is not aboue þe maistir; soþli ech schal be perfyt, if he is as his maistir.

xli Soþli what feest þou in þi broþeris yȝe `a festu, oþir a mot, but þou biholdist not a beem, `which is in þi owne yȝe?

xlii Oþir hou maist þou seye to þi broþer, Broþer, suffre, I schal caste out a festu of þin yȝe? þou biholdist not a beem in þin owne yȝe? Ypocrite, first tak out þe beem of þyn yȝe, and þanne þou schalt biholde, þat þou lede out a festu of þi broþeris yȝe.

xliii Forsoþe it is not a good tree, þat makiþ yuele frutis, noþer an yuele tree, þat makiþ goode fruytis; xliii Soþli euery tree is knowun of his fruyt. Soþli neþer men gederyn fygis of þornes, neþer men gederyn a grape of a boyßch of breris.

xlv A good man of þe goode trefour of his herte bryngiþ forþ good þing, and an yuel man of yuel trefour, bryngiþ forþ yuel þing; soþli of þe plente of þe herte þe mouþ spekiþ.

xlii Forsoþe what clepen ȝe me, Lord, Lord, and don not þo þingis þat I seye.

xlii Ech þat comeþ to me, and heeriþ my wordis, and doþ hem, I schal schewe to ȝou, to whom he is lyk.

xliii He is lyk to a man bildinge an hous, þat diggide deepe, and puttide þe foundement on a stoon. Soþli greet flowing maad, flood was hurtlid to þat hous, and it myȝte not moue it, for it was foundid on a fad stoon. xlvi Soþli he þat heeriþ, and doþ not, is lyk to a man bildinge his hous on erþe wiþ oute foundement; in to which þe flood was hurlid, and a non it felde doun; and þe fallinge doun of þat hous is maad greet.

Capitulum VII.

i Forsoþe whanne he hadde fulfillid alle his wordis in to þe eeris of þe peple, he entride in to Capharnaum.

ii Soþli a seruaunt of sum man centurio, 'þat hadde an hundrid men vndir him, hauyng yuel, was to deyinge, which was precious to him.

iii And whanne he hadde herd of Jhesu, he sente to him þe eldere men of Jewis, preiynge him, þat he come, and heele his seruaunt.

iv And, whanne þei camen to Jhesu, þei preieden bisyli, seyinge to him, For he is worþi, þat þou ȝyue to him þis þing;

v for he loueþ oure folk, and he bildide to vs a synagoge.

vi Soþly Jhesu wente wiþ hem. And whanne now he was not fer fro þe hous, centurio sente to him frendis, seyinge, Lord, nyle þou be trauelid, for I am not worþi, þat þou entre vndir my roof;

vii for which þing and I demyde not my filf worþi, þat I schulde come to þee; but seye þou by word, and my child schal be heelid.

viii For whi and I am a man ordeyned vndir power, hauyng knyȝtis vndir me; and I seie to þis, Go þou, and he goþ, and to anopir, Come þou, and he comeþ, and to my seruaunt, Do þou þis þing, and he doþ.

ix Be which þing herd, Jhesu wondride; and he turnyd, feide to þe cumpanyes suyng him, Treuli I seye to ȝou, neþir in Ifrael I fond so moche feiþ.

x And þei þat weren sent, turnyd aȝen hom, founden þe seruaunt hool, which was syk.

xi And it was don afterward Jhesu wente in to a cite, þat is clepid Naym, and his disciplis; and ful greet cumpanye of peple 'wente wiþ him.

xii Soþly whanne he cam nyȝ to þe ȝate of þe citee, loo! an oonlypi fone of his modir was born out deed; and þis was a widowe; and moche cumpany of þe citee was wiþ her.

xiii Whom whanne þe Lord Jhesu hadde seyn, he meuyd by mercy on her, feide to her, Nyle þou wepe.

xiv And he neijede, and touchide þe bere; and þei þat baren stooden. And he seiþ, ȝong man, I seie to thee, ryfe vp.

xv And he þat was deed sat vp, and bigan to speke; and he ȝaf him to his modir.

xvi Soþli drede took alle men, and þei magnyfieden God, seyinge, For a greet prophete haþ risun among vs, 'and, For God haþ visitud his peple.

xvii And þis word wente out of him 'in to al Judee, and in to al þe cuntrie aboue.

xviii And disciplis of John tolden him of alle þes þings.

xix And John clepide to gidere tweyne of his disciplis, and sente to Jhesu, seyinge, Art þou þat art to comynge, 'oþer we abiden anoþer?

xx Soþli whanne þe men hadden come to him, þei seiden, John Baptist fente vs to þee, seyinge, Art þou þat art to comynge, oþer we abiden anoþer?

xi Forsoþe in þat our he heelide many men of her sykenessis, and woundis, and yuele spiritis; and he ȝaf siȝt to manye blynde men.

xxii And Jhesu answweringe seide to hem, ȝe goynge telle aȝen to John þo þingis þat ȝe han herd and seyn; for blynde men seen, crokide men gon, meselis ben maad clene, deef men heeren, deede men ryfen aȝen, pore men ben takun to prechinge of þe gospel, 'eþer ben maad keperis of þe gospel.

xxiii And 'he þat schal not be sclaundrid in me, is bleſſid.

xxiv And whanne þe messangers of John hadden gon away, he bigan to seye of John to þe cumpanyes, What wenten ȝe out in to desert for to se? a reed wawid wiþ þe wynd?

xxv But what wente ȝe out for to se? a man cloþid wiþ softe cloþis? Lo! þei þat ben in a precious cloþ and in delices, ben in 'housis of kyngis.

xxvi But what þing wente ȝe out for to se? a prophete? Soþli I seie to ȝou, and more þan a prophete.

xxvii Þis it is, of whom it is writhen, Lo! I sende myn aungel byfore þi face, 'þe which schal make þi weye redy bifore þee.

xxviii Soþly I seye to ȝou, among þe childeren of wymmen, no man is more þan John Baptist, prophete; soþli he þat is leſſe in þe kyngdom of heuenes, is more þan he.

xxix And al þe peple heeringe, and pupplicans, baptisid wiþ baptym of John, iuſtifieden God;

xxx forsoþ Pharisees and wyse men of þe lawe, not baptisid of him, dispiseden þe conseil of God in hem filf.

xxxi Soplí þe Lord seyde, Perfore to whom schal I seye men of þis generacioun lyk, and to whom ben þei lyk?
xxxii Pei ben lyk to children sittinge in chepinge, and spekyng to gidere, and seyinge, We han songun to ȝou wiþ pipis, and ȝe han not daunsid; we han maad lamentacioun, and ȝe han not wept.

xxxiii Forsoþ John Baptist cam, neþir etinge breed, neþer drynkyngewyn, and ȝe seyn, He haþ a fend.
xxxiv Mannis sone cam etinge and drynkinge, and ȝe seyn, Lo! a man `deuourene, eþer glotoun, and drynkinge wyn, frend of pupplicans and of synful men.

xxxv And wyðdom is justified of alle her sones.

xxxvi Forsoþ sum Pharise preiede Jhesu, þat he schulde ete wiþ him. And he entringe in to þe hous of þe Pharise, sat at þe mete.

xxxvii And lo! a womman synneresse, þat was in þe citee, as sche knew, þat Jhesu hadde fete at þe mete in þe hous of þe Pharisee, brouȝte an alabastre box of oynement;

xxxviii and sche stondinge byhynde bisydhis his feet, bigan to moiste his feet wiþ teiris, and wypide wiþ heeris of hir heed, and kiste his feet, and anoyntide wiþ oynement.

xxxix Soplí þe Pharise seyng, þat clepide him, seiþ wiþ ynne him filf, seiyng, If þis were a prophete, soþli he schulde wite, who and what maner womman it were þat touchiþ him, for she is a synneresse.

xli And Jhesu answeringe feide to him, Symound, I haue sum þing for to seye to þee. And he seiþ, Maistir, seie þou.

xlii And he answereide, Tweye dettours were to sum leenere, `eþir vfuror; oon ouȝte fyue hundred pens, and an oþer fyfty.

xliii Soplí hem not hauynge wherof þei schulden ȝelde, he ȝaf freely to `euer eyþir.

xliii Who perfore loueþ him more? Symound answeringe feide, I gesse, for he to whom he `frely ȝaf more. And he answereide to him, þou haſt demyd riȝtly. xlvi And he, turnyd to þe womman, feide to Symound, Seest þou þis womman? I entride in to þi hous, þou haſt not ȝouun watir to my feet; forsoþ þis womman haþ moistid my feet wiþ teiris, and haþ wypt wiþ hir heeris.

xlv þou haſt not ȝouun to me a cosse; forsoþ þis womman, siþen sche entride, `ceeffide not to kisse my feet.

xlii þou `haſt not anoyntid myn heed wiþ oyle; forsoþ þis oyntide my feet wiþ oynement.

xliii For which þing I seie to þee, manye synnes ben forȝouun to hire, for sche haþ loued myche; soþli he to whom is leſſe forȝouun, loueþ leſſe.

xlviii Soplí Jhesu feide to hir, Synnes ben forȝouun to þee.

xliv And þei þat saten to gidere at þe mete, bigunne to seie wiþ ynne hem filf, Who is þis þat also forȝyueþ synnes?

i Forsoþ he feide to þe womman, Bi feiþ haþ maad þee saf; go þou in pees.

Capitulum VIII.

i And it was don afterward, and Jhesu made iorney by citees and castelis, prechinge and euangelyfinge þe rewme of God, ii and twelue wiþ him; and summe wymmen þat weren heelid of wickide spiris and syknessis, Marie, þat is clepid Mawdeleyn, of whom seuene deuelis wenten out, iii and Jone, þe wyf of Chuse, procuratour of Eroude, and Susanne, and manye obere, whiche mynystriden to him of her riches.

iv Forsoþ whanne ful moche cumpayne cam to gidere, and fro citees haſtiden to him, he feide by a liknesse, v He þat sowiþ, ȝede out for to sowe his seed. And þe while he sowiþ, sum felde by sydis þe weye, and was defoulid, and briddis of þe eyr eeten it.

vi And anoþer felde doun on a stoon, and it sprungen vp dryede, for it hadde not moisture.

vii And anoþir felde doun among þornes, and þe þornes sprungen vp to gidere strangliden it.

viii And anoþer felde doun in to good erþe, and it sprungun vp made an hundrid foold fruit. He seyinge þes þingis criede, He þat haþ eeris of heeringe, heere he.

ix Soplí his disciplis axiden him, what þis parable was.

x To whiche he seyde, To ȝou it is ȝouun to knowe þe mysterie of þe kyngdom of God; forsoþ to obere men in parablis, þat þei seyng fe not, and þei heeringe vndirſtonde not.

xii Soplí þis is þe parable. Þe feed is Goddis word;

xii soþli þei þat ben bisydhis þe weye, ben þes þat heeren; afterward þe fend comeþ, and takiþ awey þe word fro her herte, leſt þei bileuyng be maad saaf.

xiii Forwhi þei þat `felden doun on a stoon, ben þese `men whiche whenne þei han herd, receyuen þe word wiþ ioye. And þes han not roote; for at a tyme þei bileuen, and in tyme of temptacioun þei gon awey.

xiv Forsoþ `þes þat felden doun in þornes, ben þes þat herden, and of bysinessis, and richeſſis, and lustis of lyf þei goyng be stranglid, and bryngen not aȝein fruyt.

xv Forsoþ `þis þat felde doun in to good erþe, ben þes men whiche, in good herte and best, heeringe þe word holdun, and brygen forþ fruyt in pacience.

xvi Forsoþ no man liȝtinge a lanterne hilþ it wiþ a vessel, eþir puttþ vndir a bed, but on a candilſticke, þat men entringe fe liȝt.

xvii `Forsoþ no þing is priuey, which schal not be openyd, neþer hid, which schal not be knowun, and come into apert.

xviii Perfore se ȝe, hou ȝe heeren; forsoþe it schal be ȝouun to him þat haþ, and who euere haþ not, also þis he geffisþ him silf to haue, schal be takun awey fro him.

xix Forsoþ his modir and briþeren camen to him; and þei myȝten not go fully to him for þe cumpany of peple.

xx And it is told to him, Pi modir and þi briþeren stonden wiþ oute forþ, willinge to se þee.

xi Which answeringe seide to hem, My moder and my briþeren ben þes, whiche heeren þe word of God, and don.

xxii Forsoþ it was don in oon of dayes, and he stiȝede in to a boot and his disciplis. And he feiþ to hem, Passe we ouer þe stondinge watir. And þei stiȝeden vp.

xxiii Soþli, hem rowynge, he slepte. And a tempeſt of wynd cam doun in to þe watir, and þei weren driuen hidur and þidur wiþ wawis, and weren in perel.

xxiv Forsoþe þei comynge nyȝ reyfiden him, seyinge, Comaundour, we perischen. And he risynge blamyde þe wynd, and þe tempeſt of watir; and it ceelfide, and pefyblete was maad.

xxv Forsoþ he seyde to hem, Where is ȝoure feiþ? Whiche dredinge wondriden, `seyinge to gidere, Who, geffist þou, 'is þis? for he comaundiþ to wyndis and to þe fee, and þei obeyen to him.

xxvi And þei rowiden to þe cuntree of Gerasenus, which is aȝens Galilee.

xxvii And whanne he wente out to þe lond, sum man ran to him, which hadde a deuyl now longe tymes, and was not cloþid wiþ cloþ, neþer dwellide in hous, but in sepulcris.

xxviii ȝis as he syȝ Jhesu, felde doun bifore him, and criyng wiþ greet voys seide, What to me and to þee, Jhesu, þe sone of 'God þe hiȝeste? I beseeche þee, þat þou turmente not me.

xxix Soþli he comaundide to þe vnclene spirit, þat he schulde go out fro þe man. Forsoþe he took him longe tymes, and he kept in stockis was bounden wiþ chaynes, and, þe boondis broken, he was led of fendis in desert.

xxx Soþli Jhesu axide him, seyinge, What name is to þee? And he seyde, A legiouн; for manye fendis hadde entrid in to him.

xxxi And þei preiden him, þat he schulde not comaunde hem, þat þei 'schulden go in to þe depnesse.

xxxi Forsoþe a flok of manye hoggis 'was þere lefewynge in an hil, and þei preiden him, þat he schulde suffre hem to entre in to hem. And he suffrider hem.

xxxiv Perfore fendis wenten out fro þe man, and entride in to hoggis; and wiþ bire þe floc wente hedlinge in to þe lake of watir, and was stranglid.

xxxv Which þing, as þei þat lefewiden syȝen don, þei fledden, and tolden in to þe citee, and in townes.

xxxvi Soþli þei ȝeden out to se þat þing þat was don. And þei founden þe man fittinge cloþid, fro whom þe fendis wenten out, and in hool mynde at his feet; and þei dredden.

xxxvii Soþli and þei þat syȝen tolden to hem, how he was maad hool of þe legiouн.

xxxviii And al þe multitude of þe cuntree of Gerasenus preieden him, þat he schulde go fro hem, for þei weren holde wiþ greet drede. Soþli he stiȝyngi in to a boot turned aȝein.

xxxix And þe man of whom þe fendis wente out, preied him, þat he schulde be wiþ him. Soþli Jhesu lefte him, seyinge, xl Go aȝeyn in to þin hous, and telle hou grete þingis God haþ don to þee. And he wente þorw al þe citee, prechinge, hou grete þingis Jhesu hadde don to him.

xl Forsoþe it was don, whanne Jhesu hadde gon aȝeyn, þe cumpanye of peple receyuede him; forsoþe alle weren abidinge him.

xl And loo! a man, to whom þe name was Jayrus, and he was a prince of a synagoge; and he fel doun to þe feet of Jhesu, preiyng him, þat he schulde entre in to his hous, xl For olypi douȝtir was to him almoost of twelue ȝeare, and þis deide. And it bifel, þe while he wente, he was brongun of þe cumpeny.

xl And sum womman was in flix of blood fro twelue ȝeare, which hadde spendifid al hir catel in to lechis, neþer myȝte be curid of ony, xl cam nyȝ bihynde, and touchide þe hem of his clooþ, and a non þe flix of hir blood stood.

xl And Jhesu feiþ, Who is it þat touchide me? Soþli alle men denyinge, Petre seide, and þei þat weren wiþ him, Comaundour, `cumpanyes þringen, and turmentyn þee, and þou seift, Who touchide me?

xlvi And Jhesus seide, Sum man touchide me, forwhi 'and I haue knowe vertu 'to haue gon out of me.

xlvii Soþli þe womman seyng, for it was not priuey, sche tremblinge cam, and felde doun bifore his feet, and for what cause sche hadde touchid him sche schewide byfore al þe peple, and hou a non sche was heelid.

xlviii And he leide to hir, Douȝtir, þi feiþ haþ maad þee faaf; go þou in pees.

xlix 'Bit him spekinge, sum man cam to þe prince of þe synagoge, seyinge to him, For þi douȝtir is deed, nyle þou trauaile þe maystir.

li Soþli þis word herd, Jhesu answereide to þe fadir of þe damysele, Nyle þou drede, but 'oonly bileue þou, and sche shal be faaf.

li And whanne he 'had come to þe hous, he suffrider not ony man for to entre wiþ him, no but Petre and John and James, and þe fadir and þe modir of þe damysele.

lii Soþli alle wepten, and biwayleden hir. And he seide, Nyle ȝe wepe, soþli þe damysele is not deed, but slepiþ.

liii And þei scorniden him, witinge for sche was deed.

- lvi Forsoþe he holdinge his hond criede, seyinge, Damysfel, ryse vp.
lv And his spirit turnyde aȝeyn, and sche roos anon.
And he comaundide to ȝiue to his for to ete.
lvii And his fadir and modir wondriden gretly; to whiche he comaundide, þat þei schulden not seye to ony man 'þe þing þat was don.

Capitulum IX.

- i Forsoþe twelve apostlis clepid to gidere, Jhesu ȝaf to hem vertu and power on alle deuelis, and þat þei schulde heele fykenessis.
ii And he sente hem for to preche þe kyngdom of God, and for to heele syke men.
iii And he seiþ to hem, 'Take ȝe no þing in þe weye, neþir ȝerd, neþir scrippe, neþir bread, neþir money, and neþir haue ȝe twey cootis.
iv And in to what euere hous ȝe schulen entre, 'dwelle ȝe þere, and go ȝe not out þennis.
v And who euere schulen not receyue ȝow, ȝe goynge out of þat citee schake of also þe poudir of ȝoure feete in to witnessinge on hem.
vi Sopli þei gon out, cumpassiden bi castels, euangeliſinge and heelinge euerwhere.
vii Forsoþ Eroude, 'þe fourþe prince, herde alle þe þingis þat weren don of him, and he doutide, for þat it was seid of sum men, for Joon roos aȝen fro deede
men;
viii forsoþ of sum men, for Elye apperide; sopli of obere men, for oon of þe olde prophetis roos.
ix And Eroude seiþ, I haue bishid Joon; sopli who is þis, of whom I heere þes þingis? And he souȝte for to fe him.
x And apostlis turnyng aȝeyn toolden to him, what euere þingis þei diden. And hem takun to, he wente on anopere half in to desert place, which is Bethsayda.
xi Which þing whanne þe cumpanyes hadden knownen, þei folowiden him. And he receyuyde hem, and spak to hem of þe kingdom of God; and heelide hem þat hadden nede of cure.
xii Sopli þe day bigan for to bowe doun, and þe twelve comynge nyȝ feiden to him, Leeue þe cumpanyes, þat þei goynge 'turne in to castels and townes, þat ben aboute, þat þei fynde metis, for we ben here in a desert place.
xiii Forsoþe he seiþ to hem, ȝyue ȝe to hem to ete. And þei feiden, Per ben not to vs more þan fyue loouys and tweye fischis, no but perauenture and we go, and byen metis 'in to al þe cumpany.
xiv Sopli þe men weren almoost fyue þousynde.
Forsoþe he seiþ to his disciplis, Make hem to sitte to mete by feefties, fyftyes.
xv And þei diden so, and þei maden alle men sitte to þe mete.

- xvi Forsoþe fyue looues and tweye fysches takun, he byheld in to heuene, and bleffide hem, and brak, and delide to his disciplis, þat þei schulden putte bifore þe cumpanyes.
xvii And alle men eeten, and 'weren fillid; and 'þis þat lefte to hem 'of broken metis was taken, twelue coffyns.
xviii And it was don, whanne he was aloone preyng, and his disciplis weren wiþ him, and he axide hem, seyinge, Whom 'seyen þe cumpanyes me to be?
xix And þei answeriden, and feiden, John Baptisþ, forsoþe obere seyen Elye, but obere seyen, for o prophete of þe formere halifrisun.
xx Sopli he feide to hem, But whom seye ȝe me to be?
Symound Petre answeringe feide, Pe Crist of God.
xxi And he blamynge hem comaundide hem þat þei schulden seie to no man, xxii 'and seiþ 'þes þingis, For it bihoueþ mannis sone to suffre manye þingis, and to be repreued of þe eldere men, and of princes of prestis, and of scribis, and for to be flayn, and in þe þridde day to ryse aȝen.
xxiii Forsoþe he feide to alle men, If ony man wole come aftir me, denye he him silf, and take he his cross euery day, and sue he me.
xxiv Sopli he þat schal wilne to make his lyf saaf, schal leefe it; forwhi he þat schal leefe his lyf for me, schal make it saaf.
xxv Forsoþe what profitiþ it to a man, if he wynne al þe world, sopli leefe him silf, and do peyringe of him silf?
xxvi Forwhi who þat schal schame me and my wordis, and mannis sone schal schame him, whanne he schal come in his mageste, and of þe fadir, and of þe hooly aungels.
xxvii Forsoþ I seye to ȝou, verily þer ben summe ftandinge here, whiche schulen not taste deep, til þei seen þe rewme of God.
xxviii Sopli it was don aftir þes wordis almoost eiȝte dayes, and he took Petre and James and John, and he ftiȝede in to an hil, þat he schulde preie.
xxix And þe while he preiede, þe liknesse of his cheere was maad oþir maner, and his cloping whit schynynge.
xxx And loo! tweye men spaken wiþ him, forsoþe Moyfes and Elye
xxxi weren seyn in mageste; and þei seyden his goynge out, which he was to fillinge in Jerusalēm.
xxxii Forsoþe Petre, and þei þat weren wiþ him, weren greuyd wiþ sleep, and þei wakin ge syȝen his mageste, and tweye men þat stoonen wiþ him.
xxxiii And it was don, whanne þei departiden fro him, Petre seiþ to Jhesu, Comandour, it is good to vs for to be here, and make we here þre tabernaclis, oon to þee, and oon to Moyfes, and oon to Elye; not witinge what he schulde seye.
xxxiv Sopli him spekinge þes þingis, a cloude was maad, and schadewide hem; and þei dredden, hem entringe in to þe clowde.

xxxv And a voys was maad fro þe clowde, seyinge, Þis is my dereworþe sone, heere ȝe him.
 xxxvi And þe while þe vois was maad, Jhesu was founden aloone. And þei helden pees, and 'feide to no man in þo dayes ouȝt of þo þingis, whiche þei hadden herd.
 xxxvii Forsoþe it was don in þe day fuynge, hem comyng doun of þe hil, myche cumpayne of peple renneþ to hem.
 xxxviii And loo! a man of þe cumpayne criede, seyinge, Maitstir, I biseche þee, byhold in to my sone, for he is 'oon aloone to me;
 xxxix and lo! a spirit takiþ him, and sudenly he criþ, and hurtliþ down, and 'todrawiþ him wiþ frop, and vneþe he gob away to-drawinge him.
 xl And I preiede þi disciplis, þat þei schulde caste him out, and þei myȝten not.
 xli Soplí Jhesu answeringe seide to hem, A! vnfeiþful generacioun and weyward, hou longe schal I be anentis ȝou, and schal suffre ȝou? leed hidur þi sone.
 xlvi And whanne he cam nyȝ, þe fend hurlide him doun, and 'to-brayd. And Jhesu blamede þe vnclene spirit, and heelide þe child, and ȝeld him to his fadir.
 xlvi Soplí alle men wondriden greetly in þe greetnesse of God. And alle men wondringe in alle þingis whiche he dide, he seide to his disciplis, xlvi Putte ȝe 'þes wordis in ȝoure hertis, for it is to comyng, þat mannis sone be bitrayed in to þe hondis of men.
 xlvi And þei knewen not þis word, and it was hid before hem, þat þei feeliden it not; and þei dreden to axe him of þis word.
 xlvi Forsoþe a þouȝt entride in to hem, who of hem schulde be more.
 xlvi And Jhesu seynge þe þouȝtis of þe herte of hem, takynge a child, settide him bisydis him silf; xlvi and seiþ to hem, Who euere schal receyue þis child in my name, receyueþ me; and who euere schal receyue me, receyueþ hym þat sente me; for whi he þat is leſſe among ȝou alle, is þe more.
 xlvi Forsoþ John 'answeringe seide, Comaundour, we syȝen sum man castinge out fendis in þi name, and we han forbodyn him, for he sueþ not þee wiþ vs.
 l And Jhesu seiþ to him, Nyle ȝe forbede, forsoþe he þat is not aȝens ȝou, is for ȝou.
 li Soplí it was don, whanne þe dayes of his takynge vp weren fillid, and he settide faste his face, þat he schulde go in to Jerusalem;
 lii and he fente messangeris before his siȝt. And þei goynge entriden in to a citee of Samaritans, þat þei schulden make redy to him.
 liii And þei receyueden not him, for þe face 'was of him goynge in to Jerusalēm.
 liiii Forsoþe whanne James and John, his disciplis, hadden seyn, þei seiden, Lord, wolt þou 'we seye, þat fier come doun fro heuene, and waaste hem, 'as Helye did?

iv And he turned blamyde hem, seyinge, ȝe witen not, whos spiritis ȝe ben; ivi forsoþe mannis sone cam not for to leese foulis, but for to faue. And þei wenten in to anoþer castel.
 ivii Forsoþ it was don, hem walkynge in þe weye, sum man feide to him, I schal sue þee, whidur euere þou schalt go.
 iviii And Jhesu feide to him, Foxis han dennys, and briddis of þe eyr han nestis, but mannis sone haþ not where he schal reste his heed.
 ix Forsoþe he feide to anoþer, Sue þou me. Soplí he feide, Lord, suffre me first to go, and to burie my fadir.
 ix And Jhesu feide to him, Suffre þat deede men burie her deede; but go þou, and telle þe kyngdom of God.
 xi And anoþir feide, Lord, I schal sue þee, but first suffre me to telle aȝen to hem þat ben at home.
 xii Forsoþe Jhesu seiþ to him, No man sendynghe his hond to þe plouȝ, and biholdinge aȝen, is able to þe rewme of God.

Capitulum X.

i Forsoþe aftir þes þingis þe Lord Jhesu ordeynede and opere feuenty and tweyne, and fente hem by tweyne and tweyne before his face in to euery citee and place, whidur he was to comyng.
 ii And he seide to hem, Soplí myche ripe corn is, but fewe workmen; þerfore preie ȝe þe lord of þe ripe corn, þat he fende workmen in to his type corn.
 iii Go ȝe, lo! I fende ȝou as lambren a mong wolues.
 iii Nyle ȝe bere a fachel, neþer scrip, neþer schoon, and greeete ȝe no man by þe weye.
 v And in to what euere hous ȝe schulen entre, first seye ȝe, Pees to þis hous.
 vi And if a sone of pees schal be þere, ȝoure pees schal reste on him; if non, it schal turne aȝen to ȝou.
 vii Forsoþe 'dwelle ȝe in þe same hous, etynge and drynkinge þo þingis þat ben at hem; forsoþe a workman is worþi his hyre. Nyle ȝe passe fro hous in to hous.
 viii And in to what euere citee ȝe schulen entre, and þei schulen receyue ȝou, ete ȝe þo þingis þat ben put to ȝou; ix and heele ȝe þe fyke men þat ben 'þer ynne. And seye ȝe to hem, Pe kyngdom of God schal neiȝe 'in to ȝou.
 x In to what euer citee ȝe schulen entre, and þei schulen not receyue ȝou, ȝe goynge out in to þe streetis þereof, seie, xi Also we wypen of in to ȝou þe poudere þat cleuyde to vs of ȝoure citee; neþelee wite ȝe þis þing, for þe rewme of God schal come nyȝ.
 xii Forsoþ I seie to ȝou, for to Sodom it schal be esyere, 'oper lassé peyne, þan to þat citee in þilke day.

xiii Woo to þee, Corofaym; woo to þee, Bethsayda; for if in Tyre and Sydon þe vertues hadden ben don, whiche ben don in þee, sum tyme þei sittinge in heer and aische, schulden haue don penaunce.

xiv Neþeles to Tyre and Sydon it schal be esyer in þe dom þan to ȝou.

xv And þou, Cafarnaum, ert enhaunsid 'til to heuene; þou schalt be drenchid 'til in to helle.

xvi He þat heeris ȝou, heeris me; and he þat dispisiþ ȝou, dispisiþ me; forsoþe he þat dispisiþ me, dispisiþ him þat sente me.

xvii Forsoþ two and feuenty disciplis turnedyn aȝein wiþ ioye, seyinge, Lord, also fendis ben fujet to vs in þi name.

xviii And he seiþ to hem, I syȝ Sathanas fallinge doun fro heuene, as leit.

xix And loo! I haue ȝouun to ȝou power of defoulinge, 'opir tredinge, on serpents, and scorpiouns, and on al þe vertu of þe enemy, and no þing schal 'anoye ȝou.

xx Neþeles nyle ȝe 'haue ioye in þis þing, for fendis ben fujet to ȝou; but ioye ȝee, þat ȝoure names ben writun in heuenes.

xxi In þilke our he gladide in þe Hooly Gooft, and seide, I knowleche to þee, fadir, Lord of heuene and erþe, which hast hid þes þingis fro wyse men and prudent, and hast schewid hem to litle. ȝhe, fadir, for so it pleside bifore þee.

xxii Alle þingis ben ȝouun to me of my fadir, and no man woot, who is þe sone, no but þe fadir; and who is þe fadir, no but þe sone, and to whom þe sone wolde schewe.

xxiii And he turned to his disciplis, seide, Bleſſid ben þe ȝen, whiche seen þo þingis þat ȝe seen.

xxiv Soþli I seie to ȝou, for many prophetis and kyngis wolden se þo þingis, whiche ȝe seen, and þei syȝen not; and heere þo þingis, þat ȝe heere, and þei herden not.

xxv And lo! a wyfe man of þe lawe roos, temptinge him, and seyinge, Maitir, what þing doyng schal I welde euerlaſtinge lyf? And he seide to him, xxvi What is writun in þe lawe? hou redist þou?

xxvii He answeringe seide, Pou schalt loue þe Lord þi God of al þyn herte, and of al þi loule, 'or lyf, and of alle þi myȝtis, and of al þi mynde; and þi neȝebore as þi filf.

xxviii And Jhesu seide to him, Pou haſt answereid riȝtly; do þou þis þing, and þou schalt lyue.

xxix Forsoþe he willinge to iustifye him filf, seide to Jhesu, And who is my neȝebore?

xxx Soþli Jhesu biholdinge, seide, Sum man cam doun fro Jerusalem 'in to Jerico, and felde among þeuues, whiche also robbiden him, and, woundis 'putt in, wenten awey, þe man lefte half quyk.

xxxi Forsoþe it byfel, þat sum preft cam doun in þe fame weye, and, him seyn, paſſide forþ.

xxxii Also forsoþ and a dekene, whanne he was bisydis þe place, and syȝ him, paſſide forþ.

xxxiii Forsoþ sum man Samaritan, makyng iourney, cam bisydis þe weye; and he seyng him, was stirid by mercy.

xxxiv And he comyng nyȝ, bond to gidere his woundis, heeldynge yn oyle and wyn. And he puttinge on his hors, ledde in to a stable, and dide þe cure of him.

xxxv And anoþer day he brouȝte forþ twey pens, and ȝaf to þe keper of þe stable, and seide, Haue þou þe cure of him; and what euere þing þou schalt ȝyue ouer, I schal ȝelde to þee, whanne I schal come aȝen.

xxxvi Who of þes þre semeþ to þee to haue be neȝebore to him, þat felde 'a mong þe þeues?

xxxvii And he seide, He þat dide mercy on him. And Jhesu seiþ to him, Go þou, and do þou in lyk manere.

xxxviii Forsoþ it was don, while þei wenten, and he entride in to sum castel; and sum womman, Martha bi name, receyuede him in to his hous.

xxxix And to þis Martha was a sister, Marie bi name, which also sittinge by sydis þe feet of þe Lord, herde þe word of him.

xli Forsoþe Martha bisyede aboute moche seruyce. Which stood, and seide, Lord, is it not of charge to þee, þat my fistir lefte me aloone, for to mynystre? þefore seye to hir, þat she helpe me.

xlii And þe Lord answeringe seide to hir, Martha, Martha, þou ert byþi, and art troublid anentis ful manye þingis; xliii forsoþ o þing is necessarie. Marie haþ chose þe beste part, which schal not be take a wey fro hir.

Capitulum XI.

i And it was don, whanne he was preiyng in sum place, as he ceeffide, oon of his disciplis seide to him, Lord, teche vs to preye, as and John tauȝte his disciplis.

ii And he seide to hem, Whanne ȝe preyen, seye ȝe, Fadir, halewid be þi name. ȝi kyngdom come to.

iii ȝyue to vs to day oure eche dayes breed.

iv And forȝyue to vs oure synnes, as and we forȝyuen to ech owynge to vs. And leed 'not vs in to temptacioun.

v And he seiþ to hem, Who of ȝou schal haue a frend, and schal go to him at mydnyȝt, and schal seie to him, Frend, leene to me þre louys;

vi for my frend comeþ to me of þe weye, and I haue not what I schal sette bifore him.

vii And he wipynne forþ answeringe seye, Nyle þou be noyful to me; þe dore is now schit, and my children beþ wiþ me in þe cowche; I may noȝt ryse, and ȝyue to þee.

viii And if he schal contynue knockynge, I seye to ȝou, þouȝ he schal not ȝyue to hym, for he is a frend, neþeles for his vnrestefulnesse he schal rise, and ȝyue to hym, 'how manye he haþ nedeful.

ix And I seie to ȝou, axe ȝe, and it schal be ȝouun to ȝou; feke ȝe, and ȝe schulen fynde; knocke ȝe, and it schal be openyd to ȝou.
x Forsoþ ech man þat axiþ, takiþ; and he þat sekiþ, fyndiþ; and to a man knockynge, it schal be openyd.
xi Perfore who of ȝou axiþ þe fadir breed, wher he schal ȝyue to him a stoon? eþer if he axiþ fyfch, wher he schal ȝyue to him a serpent for þe fyfch?
xii eþir if he schal axe an ey, wheþir he schal dresse to him a scorpions?
xiii Perfore if ȝe, whanne ȝe ben yuele, 'kunne ȝyue 'to ȝoure children goode þingis ȝouun, hou moche more ȝoure fadir of heuene schal ȝyue a good spirit to men axyng him.
xiv And Jhesu was castinge out a fend, and he was doumbe. And whanne he hadde cast out þe fend, þe doumb man spak; and þe cumpaines wondriden.
xv Forsoþ summe of hem seiden, In Belsebub, prince of deuelis, he castiþ out deuelis.
xvi And obere temptinge axiden of him a tokene fro heuene.
xvii Forsoþ he, as he syȝ þe þouȝtis of hem, feide to hem, Euery rewme departide 'aȝens it sifl, schal be desolat, and an hous schal falle on an hous.
xviii Forsoþ and if Sathanas is departid aȝens him sifl, how schal his rewme stonde? For ȝe seyn, 'þat I caste out fenis in Belsebub.
xix Forsoþ if I in Belsebub caste out fenis, in whom 'ȝoure sones casten out? Perfore þei schulen be ȝoure domesmen.
xx Forsoþ if I caste out fenis in þe fyngr, 'eþer spirit, of God, soþli þe rewme of God is comen in to ȝou.
xxi Whanne a strong armed man kepiþ his hows, alle þingis þat he weldiþ ben in pees.
xxii Soþli if a strongere comynge aboue ouercome him, he schal take a wey alle his armeris, in whiche he tristide, and schal dele abrood his spuylis.
xxiii He þat is not wiþ me, is aȝens me; and he þat gedriþ not to gidere wiþ me, scateriþ a brood.
xxiv Whanne an vnclene spirit 'haþ gon out of a man, he wandriþ by drye placis, sekinge reste; and he fyndyng not, seiþ, I schal turne aȝen in to myn hous, wher of I cam out.
xxv And whanne he schal come, he fyndiþ it clensid wiþ beefmes, and ourned.
xxvi Panne he goþ, and takiþ wiþ him seuene obere spiritis werfe þan him sifl, and þei 'gon yn, dwellen þere. And þe laste þingis of þat man ben maad worse þan þe formere.
xxvii Forsoþ it was don, whanne he feide þes þingis, sum womman of þe cumpany reysinge hir vois, feide, Bleſſid be þe wombe þat bar þee, and 'bleſſid be þe teetis whiche þou haft lokun.
xxviii And he feide, Raþere bleſſid ben þei, þat heeren 'Goddis word, and kepen it.

xxix Forsoþ þe cumpayne comynge to gidere, he bigan to seye, Þis generacioun is a weyward generacioun; it sekiþ a tokene, and a tokene schal not be ȝouun to it, no but þe tokene of Joonas, þe prophete.
xxx For whi as Joonas was a tokene to men of Nynyue, so mannis sone schal be to þis generacioun.
xxxi Þe queene of þe souþ schal ryse in dom wiþ men of þis generacioun, and schal condempne hem; for sche cam fro þe endis of þe erþe, to heere þe wyfdom of Salomon, and lo! here is more þan Salomon.
xxxii Men of Nynyue schulen ryse in dom wiþ þis generacioun, and schulen condempne it; for þei diden penaunce at þe prechinge of Joonas, and lo! here is more þan Joonas.
xxxiii No man liȝtneþ a lanterne, and puttþ in hidlis, ober vndir a boyfchel, but on a candel sticke, þat þei þat gon yn, se liȝt.
xxxiv Þe lanterne of þi body is þin yȝe; if þin yȝe schal be symple, al þi body schal be liȝtful; forsoþ if it schal be weyward, also þi body schal be derkful.
xxxv Perfore se þou, leſt þe liȝt which is in þee, be derknessis.
xxxvi Perfore if al þi body schal be liȝtful, not hauyng ony part of derknessis, it schal be al liȝtful, and as a lanterne of briȝtnesse it schal ȝyue liȝt to þee.
xxxvii And whanne he spak, sum Pharisee praiede, þat he schulde ete at hym. And he gon yn, 'saat to þe mete.
xxxviii Soþli þe Pharisee 'bigan to feie, gesyng wiþ ynne him sifl, whi he was not waſchun byfore þe mete.
xxxix And þe Lord seiþ to him, Now ȝe Farisees clenlen 'þat þing þat is wiþ outenforþ of þe kuppe and plater; but þat þing 'of ȝou þat is 'wiþ ynne, is ful of rauwyn and wickidnessis.
xl Foolis, wher he þat made 'þat þing þat is wiþ oute forþ, made not 'also þat þing þat is 'wiþ ynne?
xli Neþeles 'þat þing þat is ouer, 'eþer superflu, ȝyue ȝe almes, and lo! alle þingis ben clene to ȝou.
xlii But woo to ȝou, Pharisees, þat louen þe firſte chaieris in synagogis, and falutacions in cheping.
xliii Woo to ȝou, þat ben as sepulcris, whiche apperyn not, and men walkynge aboue witen not.
xlvi Forsoþ oon of þe wyse men of lawe answeringe, feide to him, Maistir, þou seyinge þes þingis, 'doist dispit also to vs.
xlvi 'He feide, And woo to ȝou, wyse men of lawe, for ȝe chargen men wiþ birpins whiche þei moun not bere, and ȝe ȝou sifl wiþ ȝoure o fynger touchen not þe heuynessis.
xlvii Woo to ȝou, þat bilden biriels of prophetis; forsoþ ȝoure fadris flowen hem.

xlviii Treuly ȝe witnesſen, þat ȝe consenten to þe werkis of ȝoure fadris; for ȝoplí þei flown hem, but ȝe bilden her sepulcris.

xlix Ȥerfore and þe wyſdom of God ſeide, I ſchal ſende to hem prophetis, and apostlis, and of hem þei ſchulen flee and purſue, i þat þe blood of alle prophetis, þat was ſched out fro þe makynge of þe world, be ſouȝt of þis generacioun; ii fro þe blood of Abel 'til to þe blood of Zacharie, which perischede bytwix þe auter and þe hous. So I feie to ȝou, it ſchal be ſouȝt of þis generacioun.

iii Woo to ȝou, wylle men of lawe, for ȝe han take awey þe keye of kunnynge; ȝe ȝou ſilf entriden not, and ȝe han forboden hem þat entriden.

iv Soplí whanne he ſpakte þes þingis to hem, Pharifees and wylle men of lawe bigunnen greuously to aȝenſtonden, and oppreſſe his mouȝt 'of many þingis, v aspiyng him, and lekinge to take ſum þing of his mouȝt, þat þei ſchulden accufe him.

Capitulum XII.

i Soþeli manye cumpanyes ſtondinge aboute, fo þat þei troden ech obir, he bigan to feie to his disciplis, Be ȝe war of þe fourdowȝ of Pharifees, which is yþocryſye.

ii Forſoþ no þing is hilid, which ſchal not be ſchewid; neþer hid, þat ſchal not be wift.

iii Forwhi þo þingis þat ȝe han feyd in derkneſſis, ſchulen be ſeid in liȝt; and 'þis þat ȝe han ſpoken in eere in þe cowchis, ſchal be prechid in rooues.

iv Forſoþe I feie to ȝou, my frendis, 'be ȝe not a feerd of hem þat ſlen þe body, and aftir þes þingis han no more what þei ſchulen don.

v Soplí I ſchal ſchewe to ȝou, whom ȝe ſchulen drede; drede ȝe him, which aftir þat he hab flayn, hab power to ſende in to helle. So I feie to ȝou, 'drede ȝe hym.

vi Wher fiue ſparrowis ben not ſeeld for tweyne halpens; and oon of hem is not in forȝeting bifore God?

vii But and alle þe heeris of ȝoure heed ben noumbrid. Ȥerfore nyle ȝe drede; ȝe ben of more priys þan many ſparowis.

viii Treuli I feie to ȝou, 'ech man which euer ſchal knowleche me byfore men, and mannis fone ſchal knowleche him bifore þe aungelis of God.

ix Forſoþ he þat ſchal denye me bifor men, ſchal be denyed bifore þe aungelis of God.

x And ech man þat ſeip a word aȝens þe fone of man, it ſchal be forȝouun to him; ȝoplí it ſchal not be forȝouun to him, 'þat blaſphemēþ aȝens þe Hooly Gost.

xi Forſoþ whanne þei ſchulen leede ȝou in to synagogis, and to mageſtatis, and to potefſtatis, nyle ȝe be bify, how eþer what ȝe ſchulen anſwre, eþer what ȝe ſchulen feye.

xii Forſoþ þe Hooly Gost ſchal teche ȝou in þat our, what it bihoueþ ȝou to feye.

xiii Forſoþ ſum man of þe cumpaニー ſeip to him, Maiſtir, feie to my broþer, þat he deparde wiþ me þe eritage.

xiv And he feyde to him, A! man, who ordeynede me domeſman, eþer departer, on ȝou?

xv And he feyde to hem, Se ȝe, and 'be ȝe war 'of al auarice; for 'þe lyf of a man is not in þe haboundanſe of þo þingis whiche he weldip.

xvi Soplí he ſeide to hem a likneſſe, ſeiyng, Þe feed of ſum riche man brouȝte forþ plenteuous fruytis.

xvii And he þouȝte wiþ ynne him ſilf, ſeyng, What ſchal I do, for I haue not whidir I ſchal gedere my fruytis?

xviii And he ſeip, 'I ſchal do þis þing; I ſchal diſtrye my bernis, and I ſchal make grettere, and þidir I ſchal gedere alle þingis þat growen to me, and alle my goodis.

xix And I ſchal feye to my soule, Soule, þou haſt many goodis kept in to ful manye ȝeeriſ; reſte þou, etc, drynke, and 'ete þou plenteuously.

xx Soplí God feide to him, Fool, in þis nyȝt þei ſchulen axe of þee þi soule. Forſoþe whos ſchulen þo þingis be, whiche þou haſt maad redy?

xxi So is he þat treſourij to him ſilf, and is not ryche in God.

xxii And he ſeide to his disciplis, Ȥerfore I feie to ȝou, nyle ȝe be bify to ȝoure lyf, what ȝe ſchulen etc, neþir to ȝoure body, wiþ what ȝe ſchulen be cloþid.

xxiii Þe lyf is more þan mete, and þe body more þan cloþing.

xxiv Biholde ȝe crowis, for þei ſowen not, neþer repen, to whiche is no celer, neþer beerne, and God fedip hem. How myche more 'ȝe ben of more prys þan þei.

xxv Forſoþe who of ȝou byþenkyng may adde o cubite to his ſtature?

xxvi Ȥerfore if ȝe mown not 'þis þat is þe leeſte, what ben ȝe bify of obere þingis?

xxvii Biholde ȝe lilies of þe feed, how þei wexen; þei trauelen not, neþer ſpynnen. Soplí I ſeye to ȝou, for neþer Salomon in al his glorie was cloþid as oon of þese.

xxviii Forſoþe if God cloþip þus þe hey, which to day is in þe feed, and to morwe is ſent in to a furneys; how moche more ȝou of litel feip?

xxix And nyle ȝe feke, what ȝe ſchulen etc, eþir what ȝe ſchulen drynke; and nyle ȝe be reyſid 'in to an hiȝ.

xxx Forſoþ folkis of þe world ſeken alle þes þingis; ȝoplí ȝoure fadir woot, for ȝe neden þes þingis.

xxxi Neþeles ſeke ȝe firſt þe kyngdom of God, and alle þes þingis ſchulen be caſt to ȝou.

xxxii Nyle ȝe, litil floc, drede, for it pleside to ȝoure fadir to ȝyue to ȝou a kyngdom.

xxxiii Sille ȝe 'þo þingis þat ȝe welden, and ȝyue ȝe almes. Make ȝe to ȝou ſachels þat wexen not olde, treſour 'not failinge in heuenes, whidur a þeef neyȝeþ not, neþer mowȝte diſtryeþ.

xxxiv Forsoþe where `þi tresour is, þere also þin herte schal be.
 xxv Be ȝoure leendes gird by fore, and lanternes brennyng in ȝoure hondis;
 xxvi and be ȝe lyk to men abydinge her lord, whanne he schal turne aȝen fro weddingis, þat whanne he schal come, and knocke, anoon þei opene to him.
 xxvii Bleſſid ben þo feruauntis, whiche whanne þe Lord schal come, he schal fynde wakyng. Treuli I seie to ȝou, þat he schal bifore girde him, and `he schal make hem to sitte at þe mete, and he paſſinge schal mynystre to hem.
 xxviii And if he schal come in þe secunde wakyng, and yf he schal come in þe þridde wakyng, and schal fynde so, þo feruauntis ben bleſſid.
 xxix Forsoþ wite ȝe þis þing, for if an hosebonde man wiſte, in what our þe þeef wolde come, soþli he schulde wake, and `not suffre his hous to be mynyd.
 xl And be ȝe redy, for in what our ȝe geſſen not, mannis fone schal come.
 xli Forsoþe Petre seiþ to him, Lord, seiſt þou þis parable to vs, eþer to alle?
 xlvi Soþli þe Lord seide, Who, geſſist þou, is a feiþful dispender, and prudent, whom þe lord ordeynede on his meyne, þat he ȝyue to hem in tyme a mesure of whete?
 xlviı Bleſſid is þat feruaunt, whom whanne þe lord schal come, he schal fynde `doyng so.
 xlviıi Verili I seie to ȝou, for on alle þingis which he weldiþ, he schal ordeyne him.
 xlviıiı Bat if þilke feruaunt schal feye in his herte, My lord makiþ `tariyng to come; and bigynne to smyte children, and handmaydens, and ete, and drynke, and be fillid ouer mesure, xlviıiıı Soþli þe lord of þat feruaunt schal come, in þe day þat he hopiþ not, and our þat he wot not; and schal departe him, and schal putte his part wiþ vnfeiþful men.
 xlviıiııı Forsoþe þilke feruaunt þat knew þe wille of his lord, and made `not him redy, and dide not vp his wille, schal be betun wiþ many woundis. xlviıiıııı Soþli he þat knew not, and dide worþi þingis of woundis, schal be beten wiþ fewe. Forsoþ to ech man to whom moche is ȝouun, moche schal be axid of hym; and þei schulen axe more of him, to whom þei bitoken moche.
 xlviıiııııı I cam to fende fier in to erþe, and what wole I, no but þat it be kyndelid?
 i Soþli I haue to be baptisid wiþ baptym, and hou `am I confreyned, til it be perfyli don? ii `Geffen ȝe, for I cam to ȝyue pees in to erþe? Nay, I seye to ȝou, but departyng.
 iii Forsoþ `fro þis tyme þer schulen be fyue departid in oon hous; þre `schulen be departid aȝens tweyne, and tweyne `schulen be departid aȝens þre; iiiı þe fadir aȝens þe fone, and þe fone aȝens his fadir;
 þe modir aȝens þe douȝtir, and þe douȝtir aȝens þe modir; þe hosebondis modir aȝens þe fones wyf, and þe fones wyf aȝens hir hosebondis modir.

ivii `Forsoþ he `feid and to þe cumpanyes, Whanne ȝe schulen se a cloude rysinge fro þe sunne goyng doun, anon ȝe seyn, Reyn comeþ; and so it is don.

iv And whanne ȝe seen þe souþ blowynge, ȝe seyen, For heete schal be; and so it is don.

ivi Ypocritis, ȝe han knowe to proue þe face of heuene and of erþe, but hou prouen ȝe not þis tyme?

ivii `Forsoþe whi and of ȝou ſilf deme ȝe not `þis þing þat is iuſt?

iviii Forsoþe whanne þou goiſt wiþ þin aduersarie to þe prince in þe weye, ȝyue þou bifynesse to be delyuered fro him; leſt perauenture he drawe þee to þe domesman, and þe domesman bitake þee to þe wrongfull axere, and þe wrongfull axere fende þee in to prisoun.

ix I seie to þee, þou schalt not go þennis, til þou ȝelde also þe last ferping.

Capitulum XIII.

i Forsoþe sum men neiȝeden in þat tyme, tellinge to him of Galilees, whos blood Pilat myngede wiþ þe sacrificis of hem.

ii And he anſweringe seide to hem, Wenен ȝe, þat þes men `of Galilee weren synneris byfore alle Galileis, for bei suffriden ſuche þingis?

iii Nay, I seye to ȝou; but alle ȝe schulen perische in lyk manere, no but ȝe schulen haue penaunce.

iiiı And as þo ten and eiȝte, `on which þe tour of Siloa felde doun, and flouȝ hem, geſſen ȝe, for and þei were dettours more þan alle men dwellinge in Jerufalem?

v Nay, I seie to ȝou; but also ȝe alle schulen perische, if ȝe schulen not do penaunce.

vi Forsoþe he feide to þe lyknesse. Sum man hadde a fyge tree plauntid in his vyner, and he cam ſekyng fruyt in it, and fond not.

vii Soþli he feide to þe tilier of `þe vyner, Loo! þre zeeris ben, ſiþen I come ſekinge fruyt in þis fyge tree, and I fond not; þerfore kitt it doun, wherto occupieþ it, ȝe, þe erþe?

viii And he anſweringe seide to him, Lord, suffre alſo þis zeer, til þe while I delue aboue it, and fende toordis;

ix and if it schal make fruyt, ellis in tyme to comynge þou schalt kitte it doun.

x Forsoþe he was techinge in þe synagogue of hem in sabotis.

xi And loo! a womman þat hadde a ſpirit of fykenesse ten and eiȝte zeeris, and was bowid doun, neþer `in ony manere myȝte looke vpward.

xii Whom whanne Jhesu hadde seyn, he clepide to hym, and ſeide to hir, Womman, þou ert left of þi fykenesse.

xiii And he puttide to hir þe hoondis, and a non ſhe `was reyſid, and glorifiede God.

xiii Soþli þe prince of synagoge answeringe, hauyng dedeyn for Jhesu hadde heelid in þe saboth, feide to þe cumpany, 'Sixe dayes ben, in whiche it bihoueþ to wirche; þerfore come in þes, and 'be ȝe heelid, and not in þe dayes of saboth.
 xv Forsoþe þe Lord answeringe 'to him feide, Ypocrite, wher ech 'of ȝou 'vntyþ not in þe saboth his oxe, eþir asse, fro þe stable, and lediþ for to watre?
 xvi Bihoste it not þis douȝtre of Abraham, whom Sathanas haþ bounden, loo! ten and eiȝte ȝeiris, to be vnbouneden of þis bond in þe day of saboth?
 xvii And whanne he feide þes þingis, alle his aduersaries weren aschamyd. And al þe peple ioyede in al þingis, þat weren don gloriouſly of him.
 xviii ȝerfore he feide, To what þing is þe rewme of God lyk? and to what þing schal I geſſe it to be lyk?
 xix It is lyk to a corn of feneuey, which takun, a man fente in to his ȝerd; and it wax, and was maad in to a greet tree, and fowelis of þe eyr restiden in þe braunchis þerof.
 xx 'And eftſone he sayd, To what þing schal I geſſe þe kyngdom 'of God lyk?
 xxi It is lyk to fourdowȝ, which takun, a womman hidip in þre mesuris of mele, til 'al were fourdowid.
 xxii And he wente by citees and castels, techinge and makinge iurney in to Jerusalem.
 xxiii Soþli sum man feide to him, Lord, if þere ben fewe, þat ben fauyd? Soþli he feide to hem, xxiv Stryue ȝe for to entre by þe streit ȝate; for I seye to ȝou, many men feken for to entre, and þei 'schulen not mowe.
 xxv Forsoþe whanne þe hosebonde man haþ entrid, and cloſid þe dore, ȝe schulen bigynne to stannde wiþ oute forþ, and knocke þe dore, seyinge, Lord, opyne to vs. And he answeringe schal seye to ȝou, I knowe 'not ȝou, of whennis ȝe ben.
 xxvi Panne ȝe schulen bigynne to seye, We han 'ete and drunke bifore þee, and in oure streetis þou haft tauȝt.
 xxvii And he schal seye to ȝou, I knowe 'not ȝou, of whennis ȝe ben; go ȝe awey fro me, alle worcheris of wickidnesse.
 xxviii Per schal be wepinge and betinge to gidere of teeþ, whanne ȝe schulen fe Abraham, and Ysaac, and Jacob, and alle prophetis in þe kyngdom of God; soþli ȝou to be put out.
 xxix And þei schulen come fro þe eest and west, and fro þe norþ and souþ, and sitte at þe mete in þe rewme of God.
 xxx And loo! þei þat weren firſte, ben þe laſte; and þei þat weren þe laſt, ben þe firſte.
 xxxi In þat day summe of Pharisees camen nyȝ, seyinge 'to him, Go out, and go hennis, for Eroude wole flee þee.
 xxxii And he seiþ to hem, Go ȝe, and 'seye ȝe to þat fox, Loo! I caste out fendis, and I make perfityl heelþis, to day and to morwe, and þe þridde day I am endid.

xxxiii Neþeles it bihoueþ me to day, and to morwe, and þe 'day suyng, to walke; for it falliþ not a prophete to perische out of Jerusalem.

xxxiv Jerusalem, Jerusalem, þat fleest prophetis, and stoonest hem þat ben sent to þee, hou ofte wolde I gedere 'to gidere þi sones, as a brid his nest vnder pennes, and þou noldist.

xxxv Loo! ȝoure hous schal be left to ȝou desert. Soþli I feie to ȝou, for ȝe schulen not fe me, til it come, whanne ȝe schulen seye, Bleſſid is he, þat comeþ in þe name of þe Lord.

Capitulum XIII.

- i And it was don, whanne he had entrid in to þe hous of sum prince of Pharisees, in þe saboth, to ete breed, and þei aspieden him.
- ii And loo! sum man syk in ydrofesie was bifore him.
- iii And Jhesu answeringe feide to þe wyſe men 'of lawe, and to Pharyſees, seyinge, Where it is leeful for to heele in þe sabotis?
- iv And þei heelden pees. Forsoþe Jhesu heelide him takun to, and leſte.
- v And he answeringe to hem, feyde, Whos asse eþer oxe 'of ȝoure schal falle in to a pitt, and not a non 'he schal drawe out him on þe day of sabot?
- vi And þei myȝten not anſwre to him to þes þingis.
- vii Forsoþe he feyde also a parable to men bodun to a feeste, bitholdinge how þei cheſiden þe firſte ſeetis, ſeyinge to hem,
- viii Whanne þou ſchalt be bedun to weddingis, ſitte þou not at þe mete in þe firſte place; leſt perauenture a worschipfullere þan þou be bedun of him,
- ix and he comynge þat clepide þee and him, ſeye to þee, ȝyue place to þis, and þanne þou ſchalt bigynne wiþ ſchame to holde þe laſte place.
- x But whanne þou ſchalt be bedun to feeste, go, and ſitte doun in þe laſte place, þat whanne he 'ſchal come, þat bad þee to feeste, he ſeye to þee, Frend, ſtige hiȝere. Panne glorie ſchal be to þee bifore men ſyttinge 'to gidere at þe mete.
- xi For ech þat enhaunſiþ him ſilf, ſchal be 'maad lowȝ; and he þat mekiþ him ſilf, ſchal be hiȝed.
- xii Forſoþ he feide also to him, þat hadde bedun him to þe feeste, Whanne þou makist a 'mete, eþer souper, nyle þou clepe þi frendis, neþer þi briþeren, neþir cosyns, neþir neȝeboris, neþer riche men; leſt perauenture and þei bidde þee aȝen to feeste, and 'ȝeldinge aȝen be maad to þee.
- xiii But whanne þou makist a feeste, clepe pore men, feble men, crokid, and blynde,
- xiv and þou ſchalt be bleſſid; for þei han not, wher of to ȝelde to þee, forſoþ it ſchal be ȝoldun to þee in þe riſyng aȝen of iuste men.

xv Whanne sum man of sittinge at þe mete had herd þes þingis, he seide to hym, Bleſſid is he, þat ſchal ete breed in þe rewme of God.
 xvi And he seide to him, Sum man maade a greet ſouper, and clepide manye.
 xvii And he fente his feruaunt in þe our of ſouper, to ſeye to men bedun to feefte, þat þei ſchulden come, for now alle þingis ben redy.
 xviii And alle bigunnen to gidere to excufe. Þe firſte feide, I haue bouȝt a toun, and I haue nede to go out, and to fe it; I preie þee, haue me excusid.
 xix And þe toþir feide, I haue bouȝt fyue ȝokis of oxen, and I go to proue hem; I preie þee, haue me excusid.
 xx And an oþir feide, I haue weddid a wyf; and þerfore I may not come.
 xxi And þe feruaunt turnyd aȝen, toolde þes þingis to þe lord. Panne þe hosebonde man wroþ, feide to his feruaunt, Go out ſoone in to grete ſtretis and ſmale ſtreetis of þe citem, and 'bryngē in hidur pore men, and feble, and blynde, and crokid.
 xxii And þe feruaunt feiþ, Lord, it is don, as þou haſt comaundid, and ȝit 'place is.
 xxiii And þe lord feiþ to þe feruaunt, Go þou into weyes and heggis, and conſtreynē for to entre, þat myn hous be fillid.
 xxiv Forſoþe I ſeie to ȝou, for noone of þo men þat ben clepid, ſchal taafe my ſouper.
 xxv Soþli many cumpanyes wenten wiþ him; and he turned, feide to hem, xxvi If ony comeþ to me, and hatiþ not his fadir, and modir, and wyf, ſones, and briþeren, and douȝtris, ȝit forſoþ and his lyf, he may not be my diſciplie.
 xxvii And he þat beriþ not his crofs, and 'comeþ aftir me, may not be my diſciplie.
 xxviii Forſoþ who of ȝou willinge to bylde a tour, wher he 'ſittinge countiþ not firſt þe ſpensis þat ben nedful, if he haue to performe?
 xxix Leſt aftir he haþ ſett þe foundement, and myȝte not performe, alle þat ſeen, bigynne to ſcorne him, xxx ſeyinge, For þis man bigan to bilde, and myȝte not
 ende.
 xxxi Eþer what kyng 'to goynge to make batel aȝens anoþer kyng, wher he ſittinge 'byþenkiþ not firſt, if he may wiþ ten þoufynd go aȝens him þat comeþ to him wiþ twenty þoufynd?
 xxxii Ellis him ȝit doinge a fer, he ſendinge a meſſanger, preieþ þo þingis þat ben of pees.
 xxxiii So þerfore ech of ȝou, þat 'renounciþ not alle þingis whiche he weeldiþ, may not be my diſciplie.
 xxxiv Salt is good þing; forſoþ if salt 'ſchal vanysche, in what þing ſchal it be fauerid?
 xxxv Neþer in erþe, neþer in þe dunghil it is profitable, but it ſchal be ſent out. He þat haþ eeris of heeringe, heere.

Capitulum XV.

i Forſoþe pupplicans and synful men weren neiȝinge to him, þat þei ſchulden heere him.
 ii And Farifees and ſcribis grucciden, feyngē, For þis man receyueþ synful men, and etiþ wiþ hem.
 iii And he ſeiþ to hem þis parable, feyngē, iv What man of ȝou þat haþ an hundred ſcheep, and if he 'haþ loſt oon of hem, wher he leeuiþ not nynty and nyne in deſert, and goþ to it þat periſchide, til he fynde
 it?
 v And whanne he haþ founded it, he ioyinge puttiþ on his ſhuldris;
 vi and he comynge hoom clepiþ 'to gidere his frendis and neiȝebors, feyngē to hem, 'Panke ȝe me, for I haue founded my ſcheep, which 'hadde periſchid.
 vii Soþly I ſeye to ȝou, fo ioye ſchal be in heuene on o synful man doyngē penaunce, þan of nynti and nyne iuste, þat han no nede of penaunce.
 viii Eþer what womman hauynge ten 'dragmes, eþer befauntis, and if ſche 'haþ loſt o dragme, wher ſhe liȝteþ not a lanterne, and turneþ vpſodoun þe hous, and ſekiþ diligently, til ſche fynde?
 ix And whanne ſche haþ founded, ſche clepiþ to gidere frendis and neiȝeboris, feyngē, 'Panke ȝe me, for I haue founded þe dragme, which I hadde loſt.
 x So I ſeie to ȝou, ioye ſchal be to þe aungels of God
 'on o synful man doyngē penaunce.
 xi Forſoþe he ſeiþ, Sum man hadde tweye ſones; xii and þe ȝongere feide to þe fadir, Fadir, ȝyue to me þe porcioun of ſubstaunce, 'eþir catel, þat 'byfalliþ to me. And 'þe fadir departide to him þe ſubstaunce.
 xiii And not aftir manye dayes, alle þingis gederid to giðre, þe ȝongere ſone wente in pilgrymage in to a fer cuntree; and þere he waſtide his ſubstaunce in lyuyngē leccherously.
 xiv And aftir þat he hadde endid alle þingis, a ſtrong hungris was maad in þat cuntree, and he bigan to haue nede.
 xv And he wente, and cleuyde to oon of þe citefeyns of þat cuntree. And he fente him in to his toun, þat he ſchulde feede hoggis.
 xvi And he coueteide to fille his wombe of þe coddis whiche þe hoggis eeten, and no man ȝaf to him.
 xvii Soþli he turned aȝen in to him ſilf, feyde, Hou many hirid men in my fadir hous, 'han plente of looues; forſoþe I periſche here þurȝ hungris.
 xviii I ſchal ryſe, and 'I ſchal go to my fadir, and I ſchal ſeie to him, Fadir, I haue ſynned aȝens heuene, and
 bifore þee;
 xix now I am not worbi to be clepid bi ſone, make me as oon of bi hyrid men.
 xx And he ryſinge cam to his fadir. Soþli whanne he was ȝit fer, his fadir fyȝ him, and 'he was ſtirid by mercy. And he rennyngē to, 'felde on his necke, and kiſte him.

xxi And þe sone seyde to him, Fadir, I haue synned aȝens heuene, and bifore þee; and now I am not worþi to be clepid þi sone.
 xxii Forsoþ þe fadir seyde to his seruauntis, Soone bringe ȝe forþ þe firste stoole, and cloþe ȝe him, and ȝyue ȝe a ring in his hond, and schoon in to þe feet; xxiii and 'bryng ȝe a calf maad fat, and sle ȝe, and ete we, and plenteuouslylly ete we.
 xxiv For þis my sone was deed, and haþ lyued aȝen; he perischede, and is founden. And alle bigunnen to eat plenteuouslylly.
 xxv Forsoþ his eldere sone was in þe feeld; and whanne he cam, and neȝede to þe hous, he herde a symphonye and a crowde.
 xxvi And he clepide oon of þe seruauntis, and axide,
 what 'þingis þes weren.
 xxvii And he seide to him, Pi brodir is comen, and þi fadir 'haþ flayn a fat calf, for he receyued him saf.
 xxviii Forsoþ he was wroþ, and wolde not entre. Perfore his fadir gon out, bigan to preie him.
 xxix And he answeringe to his fadir, seide, Lo! so manye ȝeeris I serue to þee, and I 'brak neuere þi comaundement; þou 'haft neuere ȝouun 'a kyde to me, þat I schulde 'ete largely wiþ my frendis.
 xxx But aftir þat þis þi sone, which deuouride his substaunce wiþ hooris, cam, þou hast flayn to him a fat calf.
 xxxi And he seide to him, Sone, þou ert euere wiþ me,
 and alle myne þingis ben þyne.
 xxxii Forsoþ it bihofte to ete plenteuouslylly, and for to ioye; for þis þi broþer was deed, and lyued aȝeyn; he peryschide, and he is founden.

Capitulum XVI.

i Forsoþ he seide also to his disciplis, Per was sum riche man, þat hadde a 'fermour, eþir a baily; and þis was defamyd anentis him, as he hadde waſtid his goodis.
 ii And he clepide him, and feide to him, What heere I þis þing of þee? ȝeld refoun of þi ferme, for now þou schalt 'not mowe holde þi ferme.
 iii Forsoþ þe fermour seide wiþ ynne him filf, What schal I do, for my lord takid away fro me þe ferme? 'I may not delue, I 'am aschamyd to begge.
 iv I woot what I schal do, þat whanne I schal be remouyd fro þe ferme, þei receyue me in to her housis.
 v And alle þe dettours of þe lord clepid to gidere, he feide to þe firste, Hou moche owist þou to my lord?
 vi And he feide to him, An hundrid barelis of oyle. And he feide to him, Taak þin obligacioun, and fitte soon, and wryt fyfti.
 vii Afterward he seyde to anoþer, Soþli hou moche owist þou? 'Which feide, An hundrid mesuris of whete.
 And he feide to him, Tak þi lettis, and wryt foure score.

viii And þe lord preifide þe fermour of wickidnesse, for he hadde don prudently; for þe sones of þis world ben more prudent in her generacioun þan þe sones of liȝt.
 ix 'And I seie to ȝou, make to ȝou frendes of þe richeſſe of wickidnesse, þat whan ȝe shulen fayle, þei receyue ȝou in to euerlaſtyng tabernaclis.
 x He þat is feiþful in þe leefte þing, 'is feiþful alſo in more; and he þat 'is wickid in a litil þing, 'is wickid alſo in þe more.
 xi Perfore if ȝe weren not trewe in wicked riches, 'who schal bitake to ȝou þis þat is verri?
 xii And if ȝe weren not trewe in 'alien þing, who schal ȝyue to ȝou 'þis þat is ȝoure?
 xiii No man seruaunt may serue twey lordis; forsoþ eber he schal hate oon, and loue þe tobir; eber 'he schal cleue to oon, and dispise 'þe tohir. ȝe mown not serue to God and to riches.
 xiv Forsoþ Farisees, þat weren coueytouse, herden alle þes þingis, and þei scornyden him.
 xv And he seide to hem, ȝe it ben, þat iulſifyen ȝou bifore men; soþli God knowiþ ȝoure hertis, for 'þat þing þat is hiȝ to men, is abominacioun anemptis God.
 xvi þe lawe and prophetis til to John; fro þat tyme þe rewme of God is prechid, and ech man 'makid violence in to it.
 xvii Forsoþ it is liȝter heuene and erþe to passe ouer, þan o titil falle fro þe lawe.
 xviii Ech man þat forsakiþ his wyf, and weddiþ anoþer, doiþ auoutrie; and he þat weddiþ þe wyf forfakun of þe hosebonde, doiþ auoutrie.
 xix Sum man was rich, and was cloþid in purpur, and biys, 'eþer whit silk, and he eet ech day schynyngh. xx And þer was sum beggere, Lazarus by name, þat lay ful of bylis at his ȝate, xxi coueytinge to be fillid of þe crummes, þat felden doun fro þe riche mannis boord, and no man ȝaf to him; but and houndis camen, and lickiden his bylis. xxii Forsoþ it was don, þat þe beggere deiede, and was borun of aungels in to Abrahams bosum. Forsoþ and þe riche man is deed, and is biried.
 xxiii In helle, forsoþ he reyfinge his yȝen, whanne he was in turmentis, syȝ Abraham afer, and Lazarus in his bosum.
 xxiv And he 'criyng seyde, Fadir Abraham, haue mercy on me, and send Lazarus, þat he dippe þe laſte part of his fyngur in watir, and kele my tungue; for I am turmentid in þis flawme.
 xxv And Abraham feide to him, Sone, haue mynde, for þou haſt receyued good þingis in þi lyf, and Lazarus alſo yuele þingis; soþli he is now comfortid, but þou art tormentid.
 xxvi And in alle þes þingis a greet derk place, 'eþer deppe, is stabiſchid 'by twixe vs and ȝou; þat þei þat wolen fro hennis passe to ȝou, mown not, neþer fro þennis passe ouer hidur.

xxvii And he seide, Perfore I preye þee, fadir Abraham, þat þou sende him in to þe hous of my fadir.
xxviii For I haue fyue breþeren, þat he witnesse to hem, leſt also þei come in to þis place of turmentis.
xxix And Abraham feide to him, Þei han Moyſes and þe prophetis; heere þei hem.
xxx And he feide, Nay, fadir Abraham, but if ony of deede men ſchal go to hem, þei ſchulen do penaunce.
xxxi Forſoþe he feyde to him, If þei heere not Moyſes and þe prophetis, neijer if ony of deede men ſchal ryſe aȝen, þei ſchulen bileue to him.

Capitulum XVII.

i And he feide to his disciplis, It is inpoſſible þat fclaudris come not; but woo to him, by whom þei comen.
ii It is more profitable to him, if a mylne ſtoon be put aboute his necke, and he be caſt in to þe ſee, þan þat he ſcлаudre oon of þes little.
iii Take ȝe heede to ȝou ſilf; if þi broþer 'haþ synned aȝens þee, blame him; and if he ſchal do penaunce, forȝyue to him.
iv And if ſeuene ſiþis in þe day he ſchal synne aȝens þee, and ſeuene ſiþis in þe day he ſchal be conuertid to þee, feyng, It forþenkil me, forȝyue to him.
v And 'þe poſtlis feiden to þe Lord, Encreeſſe 'feiþ to vs.
vi Forſoþ þe Lord feyde, If ȝe 'ſchulen haue feiþ as þe corn of ſyneuey, ȝe ſchulen feye to þis 'more tree, Be þou drawun vp by þe roote, and be 'plauntid ouer in to þe ſee, and it ſchal obeye to ȝou.
vii Forſoþe who of ȝou hauyng a feruaunt eringe, oþer leſewynge oxun, which 'feiþ to him, turnyd aȝen fro þe feeld, Anoon go, and ſitte to mete;
viii and 'feiþ not to him, Make þou redy, þat I ſoupe, and girde þee, and mynystre to me, til I ete and drynke, and aftir þes þingis þou ſchalt ete and drynke;
ix wher he haþ grace to þat feruaunt, for he dide 'þis þat he comaundide to him? Nay, I geſſe.
x So also ȝe whanne ȝe han don alle þingis þat ben comaundid to ȝou, 'ſeie ȝe, We ben vnprofitable feruauntis, 'we han don 'þis þat we ouȝte to do.
xi And it was done, þe while Jhesu wente in to Jerusalem, he paſſide þorw þe myddel of Samarie, and of Galilee.
xii And whanne he entride in to ſum caſtel, ten leprouſe men camen aȝens him, whiche ſtoode afer, xiii and reyſide þe vois, feyng, Jhesu, comaundour, haue mercy on vs.
xiv Whiche as he fyȝ, he feide, Go ȝe, 'ſchewe ȝe ȝou to preſtis. And it was don, þe while þei wenten, þei weren clenſid.
xv Forſoþe oon of hem, as he fyȝ for he was clenſid, wente aȝen, magnyfyng God wiþ greet vois.

xvi And he felde doun in to þe face bifore his feet, doyngे þankingis; and þis was a Samaritan.
xvii Forſoþe Jhesu anſweringe feide, Wher ten ben not clenſid, and where ben þe nyne?
xviii 'Noon is foundun, þat turnyde aȝen, and ȝaf glorie to God, no but þis alien.
xix And he ſeiþ to him, Ryſe þou, go þou; for þi feiþ haþ maad þee ſaaſ.
xx Forſoþe he axid of Pharifees, whanne þe rewme of God comeþ, anſweride to hem, and feide, þe rewme of God comeþ not wiþ aſpyng, xxi neþir þei ſchulen feye, Lo! here, eþer lo! þere; forſoþe lo! þe rewme of God is wiþ ynne ȝou.
xxii And he feide to his disciplis, Dayes ſchulen come, whanne ȝe ſchulen defyre to ſe o day of mannis fone, and ȝe ſchulen not ſe.
xxiii And þei ſchulen feye to ȝou, Lo! here, and lo! þere. Nyle ȝe go, neþer ſue ȝe; xxiv for as leit ſchynynge fro vndir heuene ſchyneþ 'on þoo þingis þat ben vndir heuene, fo 'mannis fone ſchal be in his day.
xxv Forſoþe firſt it bihouetteþ him to ſuffre many þingis, and to be reproued of þis generacioun.
xxvi And as it was don in þe dayes of Noe, fo it ſchal be in þe dayes of mannis fone.
xxvii þei eeten and drunken, and weddiden wyues, and weren ȝouun to weddingis, til in to þe day in which Noe entride in to his ſchip; and þe greet flood cam, and loſte alle.
xxviii Also as it was don in þe dayes of Loth, þei eeten and drunken, bouȝten and feelden, plantiden and byldeden; xxix ſopl in what day Loth wente out of Sodom, þe Lord reynede fier and brymſtoon fro heuene, and loſte alle.
xxx Vp þis þing it ſchal be, in what day mannis fone ſchal be ſchewid.
xxxi In þat our he þat ſchal be in þe roof, and his vefels in þe hous, come he not doun to take hem awei; and he þat 'ſchal be in þe feeld, alſo turne not aȝen bihynde.
xxxii Be ȝe myndeful of þe wyf of Loth.
xxxiii Who euere ſchal ſeke to make his lyf ſaf, ſchal leefe it; and who euere ſchal leefe it, ſchal quykene it.
xxxiv I feye to ȝou, in þat niȝt tweyne ſchulen be in o bed, oon ſchal be receyued, and 'þe toþer 'ſchal be forſakun;
xxxv tweyne wymmen ſchulen be gryndinge to gidere, oon ſchal be receyued, and 'þe toþer 'ſchal be forſakun; tweyne in a feeld, oon ſchal be receyued, 'þe toþer 'ſchal be forſakun.
xxxvi þei anſweringe feyden to him, Where, Lord?
xxxvii Which feide to hem, Where euere þe body ſchal be, 'alſo þe eglis ſchulen be gederid to gidere þidur.

Capitulum XVIII.

i Forsoþe he seide `also a parable to hem, for it bihoueþ to preie euere, and `to fayle not;
ii seyinge, `Sum iuge was in sum citee, which dredde not God, neþer schamede of men.
iii Forsoþe sum widowe was in þat citee, and sche cam to him, seyinge, Venge me of myn aduersarie; iv and he wolde not by myche tyme. Soþli aftir þes þingis he seide wiþ ynne him sifl, þouȝ I drede not God, and schame not of man, v Neþeles for þis widowe is heuy, `or disesful, to me, I schal venge hir; left at þe laste sche comynge strangle me.
vi Soþli þe Lord seide, Heere ȝe, what þe domesman of wickidnesse seiþ; vii forsoþ wher God schal not do þe veniaunce of his chosene, criyng to him nyȝt and day, and schal haue pacience in hem?
viii Soþli I seie to ȝou, for foone he schal do þe veniaunce of hem. Neþeles geffist þou, mannis sone comynge schal fynde feiþ in erþe?
ix Forsoþ he seide also to sum men, þat tristiden in hem sifl, as riȝtful, and dispiseden oþere, þis parable, seyinge, x Tweye men stiȝeden in to þe temple for to preie; oon a Pharise, and `þe toþir a pupplican.
xi Forsoþe þe Farise stondinge, praiede anentis him sifl þes þingis, seyinge, God, I do þankingis to þee, for I am not as oþere men, rauelynouris, vniust, auouters, `as also þis pupplican;
xii I faste twyes in þe woke, I ȝyue tybis of alle þingis whiche I haue in posseffion.
xiii And þe pupplican stondinge `a fer nolde neþir reyse þe yȝen to heuene, but smoot his breft, seyinge, God be merciful to me, synnere.
xiv Treuli I seye to ȝou, þis `cam doun in to his hous iustified of him. For ech þat enhaunsifþ him sifl schal be maad louȝ, and he þat mekiþ him sifl, schal be enhaunȝid.
xv Forsoþe þei brouȝten to him ȝonge children, þat he schulde touch hem; which þing whanne disciplis syȝen, þei blamyden hem.
xvi Soþli Jhesu clepinge to gidere hem, seide, Suffre ȝe children to come to me, and nyle ȝe forbede hem, for of siche is þe rewme of heuenes.
xvii Treuli I seie to ȝou, who euere schal not take þe kyngdom of God as a child, he schal not entre in to it.
xviii And sum prince axide him, seyinge, Good maistir, what þing doyng schal I welde euerlastyng lyf?
xix Soþli Jhesu seyde to him, What feiþ þou me good? No man is good, no but God aloone.
xx Pou knowilst þe comaundementis, Pou schalt not fle, Pou schalt not do leccherie, Pou schalt not do þeft, Pou schal not leye fals witnelyng, Worþchipe fadir and modir.
xxi Which seide, I haue kept alle þes þingis fro my ȝouþe.

xxii Which þing herd, Jhesu seide to him, ȝit o þing faylib to þee; fille þou alle, what `euere þingis þou haft, and ȝyue to pore men, and þou schalt haue tresour in heuene; and come, and sue me.
xxiii þes þingis herd, he was forwful, for he was ful riche.
xxiv Soþli Jhesu seinge him maad forwful seide, How hard þei þat han richeffis schulen entre in to þe rewme of God;
xxv forsoþ it is esyer a camel to passe þurȝ `a nedlis yȝe, þan a riche man for to entre in to þe kingdom of God.
xxvi And þei þat herden þes þingis seiden, And who may be maad saf?
xxvii And he feide to hem, Po þingis þat ben vnpossible anemptis men, ben possibl anemptis God.
xxviii Forsoþ Petre seide, Loo! we han forsake alle þingis, and `han sued þee. xxix Which seyde to hem, Treuly I seye to ȝou, `no man is, þat schal forsake hous, eþer fadir, eþir modir, eþir briþeren, eþer wyf, eþer sones, eþer feeldis, for þe rewme of God, xxx and schal not receyue myche mo þingis in þis tyme, and in þe world to comynge euerelaſting lyf.
xxxi Forsoþe Jhesu took twelue disciplis, and seide to hem, Lo! we stiȝen to Jerusalem, and alle þingis schulen be endid, þat ben writun by þe prophetis of mannis sone.
xxxii Forsoþ he schal be bitrayed to heþen men, and he schal be scorned, and scourgid, and bispet; xxxiii and aftir þat þei han scourgid, þei schulen fle him, and þe þridde day he schal ryfe aȝein.
xxxiv And þei vnderstoden no þing of þese; and þis word was hid fro hem, and þei vndirstoden not þo þingis þat weren seid.
xxxv Forsoþe it was don, whanne Jhesu cam nyȝ to Jerico, sum blynd man saat bifydis þe weye beggyng.
xxxvi And whanne he herde þe cumpany passyng, he axide, what þis þing was.
xxxvii Soþli þei feiden to him, þat Jhesu of Nazareth passide. xxxviii And he cryede, seyinge, Jhesu, þe sone of Dauȝþ, haue mercy on me.
xxxix And þei þat wenten bifore blamyden him, þat he schulde be stille; soþli he `cryede myche more, þou sone of Dauȝþ, haue mercy on me.
xl Forsoþe Jhesu stondinge comaundide him to be brouȝt forþ to him. And whanne he cam nyȝ, he axide him, xli seyinge, What wolt þou I schal do to þee? And he seide, Lord, þat I se.
xlii And Jhesu seide to him, Bihold þou; þi feiþ haþ maad þee saaf. xliii And anon he syȝ, and suede him, magnyfyinge God. And al þe peple, as it syȝ, ȝaf heriynge to God.

Capitulum XIX.

- i And Jhesu goyng yn, walkide þorw Jerico.
- ii And lo! a man, Zachee by name, and he was prince of puplicians, and he was riche.
- iii And he souȝte to see Jhesu, who he was, and he myȝte not, for þe cumpany, for he was litel in stature.
- iv And he rennyng before, stiȝede in to a sycamoure tree, þat he schulde see Jhesu; for he was to passinge þennis.
- v And Jhesu biholdinge vpward, whanne he cam to þe place, syȝ him, and seyde to him, Zachee, 'haſtinge cum doun, for to day I moot dwelle in þin hous.
- vi And he haſtinge cam doun, and ioyngē refeyued him.
- vii And whanne alle men sayen, þei grucciden, seyngē, For he hadde turned to a synful man.
- viii Forþof Zachee ſtandinge feide to þe Lord, Lo! Lord, I ȝyue þe half of my goodis to pore men; and if I haue ony þing defraudid ony man, I ȝelde þe fourefold.
- ix Jhesu feide to him, For in þis day heelþe is maad to þis hous, for and he is 'þe fone of Abraham;
- x forſoþe mannis fone cam to feke, and make saaf þis þing þat perischede.
- xi Hem heringe þes þingis, he 'puttinge to, feide a parable, for he was nyȝ Jerusalem, and for þei geſſiden, þat þe kyngdom of God schulde be ſchewid 'a non.
- xii þerfore he feide, Sum noble man wente in to a fer cuntree, to take to him a kyngdom, and to turne aȝeyn.
- xiii Soþli his ten ſerauntis clepid, he ȝaf to hem ten befauntis. And 'he feide to hem, Marchaundife ȝe, til I come.
- xiv Forþof his citeſeyns hatiden him, and fente a messenger aftir him, seyngē, We 'nyle, þat he regne on vs.
- xv And it was don, þat þe rewme takun, he turnede aȝen; and he comaundide his ſerauntis to be clepid, to whiche he ȝaf money, þat he schulde wite, hou moche ech hadde wunne by chaffaring.
- xvi Forþof þe firſte cam, seyngē, Lord, þi befaunt haþ wunne ten befauntis.
- xvii He feide to him, Wel be, þou goode ſeraunt; for in litil þing þou haſt be trewe, þou ſchalt haue power on ten citees.
- xviii And anoþer cam, seyngē, Lord, þi befaunt haþ maad fyue befauntis.
- xix And he feide to þis, And be þou on fyue citees.
- xx And þe þridde cam, seyngē, Lord, lo! þi befaunt, which I hadde, kept in a ſudarie, 'eþer ſweting cloþ.
- xi Forþof I dredde þee, for þou art an auſterne man; þou takist awey 'þis þing which þou ſettist not, and þou repift 'þis þing which þou haſt not fowe.
- xii He ſeip to him, Weyward ſeraunt, of þi mouþ I deme þee. Wilſt þou, þat I am 'an hausterne man, takinge a wey 'þis þing which I ſettide not, and repinge 'þis þing which I 'haue not fowe?
- xxiii and whi haſt þou not ȝouun my money to þe boord, and I comynge ſchulde haue receyued it soþli wiþ vſuris?
- xxiv And he feide to hem 'þat ſtooden nyȝ, Take ȝe awey fro him þe befaunt, and ȝyue ȝe to him þat haþ ten befauntis.
- xxv And þei feiden to him, Lord, he haþ ten befauntis.
- xxvi Soþli I ſeie to ȝou, for to ech hauynge it ſchal be ȝouun, and he ſchal 'be plenteuous; but fro him þat haþ not, 'also þis þing þat he haþ, ſchal be takun of him.
- xxvii Neþeles bryngē ȝe hidir þo myne enemyes, þat nolde me to regne on hem, and fle ȝe before me.
- xxviii And þes þingis ſeyd, he wente before, stiȝyngē to Jerusalem.
- xxix And it was don, whanne he cam nyȝ to Bethfage and Betanye, at þe mount, which is clepid of Olyuete, he ſente his tweye disciplis,
- xxx ſeyngē, Go ȝe in to þe caſtel, which is aȝens ȝou; in to which ȝe entrynge ſchulen fynde a colt of a ſhe affe, on which non of men euere ſaat; vnbýnde ȝe him, and 'bryngē ȝe to me.
- xxxi And if ony man ſchal axe, whi ȝe vnbýnden, þus ȝe ſchulen ſeye to him, For þe Lord defyriþ his work.
- xxii Forſoþe þei þat weren ſent, wenten forþ, and founded as he ſeyde to hem, a colt ſtandinge.
- xxiii Soþli hem vntyngē þe colt, þe lordis of him ſeyde to hem, What vntyen ȝe þe colt?
- xxiv And þei feiden, For þe Lord haþ him nedful.
- xxv And þei ledden him to Jhesu; and þei, caſtinge her cloþis on þe colt, puttedyn Jhesu on him.
- xxvi Forſoþe him goyng, þei vndir ſtrewidene her cloþis in þe weye.
- xxvii And whanne now he cam nyȝ to þe comynge doun of þe hil of Olyuete, alle þe cumpanyes of men comynge doun bigunnen ioyngē to herie God wiþ greet vois on alle þe vertues, whiche þei fyȝen,
- xxviii ſeyngē, Bleſſid is þe kyng, þat comeþ in þe name of þe Lord; pees in heuene, and glorie in hiȝ þingis.
- xxix And ſumme of þe Pharisees of þe cumpanyes ſeyden to him, Maſtir, blame þi disciplis.
- xi To whiche he feide, I ſeye to ȝou, for if þes ſchulen be ſtille, ſtoones ſchulen crye.
- xli And whanne he neiȝede, he ſeyngē þe citee, wepte on it ſeyngē,
- xlii For if þou haddist knowe, and þou, and ſoþeli in þis þi day, which is to pees to þee; but now þei ben hid fro þin yȝen.
- xliii For daies ſchulen come into þee, and þin enemyes ſchulen enuyroune þee 'wiþ pale, and ſchulen enuyroune þee, and 'þei ſchulen make þee ſtreyt on alle sydis;
- xliii and 'þei ſchulen caſte þee doun to erþe, and þi fones þat ben in þee; and þei ſchulen not leeue in þee a ſtoon on a ſtoon, for þou haſt not knowe þe tyme of þi viſitacioun.

xlv And he gon in to þe temple, bigan to caste out men sellinge þer ynne and biggyng, xlii feyinge to hem, It is writun, For myn hous is an hous of preier, forsoþe ȝe han maad it a den of þeys.
xlii And he was techinge euery day in þe temple. Forsoþ þe princes of prestis, and scribis, and þe princis of þe peple souȝten 'to leese him;
xliii and þei founden not what þei schulden do to him, for al þe peple was 'al occupied, heeringe him.

Capitulum XX.

i And it was don in oon of dayes, him techinge þe peple in þe temple, and 'prechinge þe gospel, þe princis of prestis and þe scribis camen to gidere wiþ þe eldre men;
ii and seiden, feyinge to him, Seye to vs, in what power þou dost þis þing, eþer who ȝaf to þee þis power?
iii Forsoþe Jhesu answeringe feide to hem, And I schal axe ȝou a word; answere ȝe to me.
iv Was þe baptym of Joon of heuene, eþer of men?
v And þei þouȝten wiþ ynne hem selue, feyinge, For if we schulen seye, Of heuene, he schal seye, Whi þerfore bileuen ȝe not to him?
vi forsoþ if we schulen seye, Of men, all þe comyn peple schal stooone vs; for þei ben certeyn, 'þat John is a prophete.
vii And þei answeriden, 'þat þei witen not, of whennis it was.
viii And Jhesu feide to hem, Neiþer I seie to ȝou, in what power I do þes þingis.
ix Forsoþe he bigan to seye to þe comyn peple þis parable. Sum man plantide a vyner, and 'settide it to ferme to tilieris; and he was in pilgrymage many tymes.
x And in þe tyme of gedrynge of grapis, he fente a feruaunt to þe tilieris, þat þei schulden ȝyue to him of þe fruyt of þe vyner; whiche 'leften him, betun, voyde.
xi And he addide to fende anoþer feruaunt; forsoþe also þei betinge þis, and ponyschynge wiþ dispisfingis, leften voyde.
xii And he addide to fende þe þridde, whiche also woundinge him, castiden out.
xiii Soþli þe lord of þe vyner feide, What schal I do? I schal fende my dereworþe sone; perauenture whanne þei schulen se him, þei schulen 'be aschamyd.
xiv Whom whanne þe tilieris hadden seyn, þei þouȝten wiþ ynne hem selue, feyinge, Pis is þe eyr, fle we him, þat þe eritage be maad oure.
xv And þei killiden him, cast out of þe vyner. What þerfore schal þe lord of þe vyner do to hem?
xvi He schal come, and lese þese tilieris, and 'he schal ȝyue þe vyner to oþere. Which þing herd, þei seiden to him, 'Fer be it.

xvii Forsoþe he biholdinge hem, seide, What þerfore is þis þing þat is writun, Þe stoon whom men bildinge reproueden, þis is maad in to þe heed of þe corner?
xviii Ech þat schal falle on þat stoon, schal be bryfid; forsoþe on whom it schal falle, it schal breke him in to smale parties.
xix And þe princes of prestis, and þe scribis, souȝten 'to sette hondis on him in þat our, and þei dredden þe peple; forsoþe þei knewen þat to hem he feide þis lykneſſe.
xx And þei aspyinge senten aspieris, whiche feyneden hem selue iuste, þat þei schulden take him in word, and 'bitake him to þe prince, and to þe power of þe iustise.
xxi And þei axiden him, feyinge, Maiſtir, we witen, þat þou feift and techist riȝtly; and þou takist not persoone of man, but þou techist in treuþ þe wey of God.
xxii Is it leefful to vs to ȝyue tribute to Cesar, eþer nay?
xxiii Forsoþe he biholdinge þe difseyt of hem, feide to hem, What tempte ȝe me?
xxiv 'Schewe ȝe to me a peny; whos 'ymage and writynge aboue haþ it? Þei answeringe feiden to him, Cesaris.
xxv And he feide to hem, 'Perfore ȝelde ȝe to Cesar þo þingis þat ben 'of Cesar, and þo þingis þat ben of God, to God.
xxvi And þei myȝten not repreoue his word bifore þe pore peple; and þei wondringe in his answere, helden pees.
xxvii Summe of þe Sadducees, þat denyen 'aȝen ryfinge to be, neiȝeden, and axiden him, xxviii feyinge, Maiſtir, Moyses wrot to vs, if þe broþer of ony man hauyngе wyf deide, and he was wiþ outh fre children, þat his broþer take his wyf, and reyse feed to his broþer.
xxix Perfore feuene briþeren weren. Þe firste took a wyf, and is deed, wiþ outh fones;
xxx and þe broþer suwinge took hir, and he is deed wiþ outh fone; xxxi and þe þridde took hir; also and alle feuene, and leften no feed, but ben deede; xxxii 'and þe womman þe laste of alle is deed.
xxxiii Perfore in þe ryfinge aȝein, whos wyf of hem schal sche be? forsoþe feuene hadden hir wyf.
xxxiv And Jhesu feide to hem, Sones of þis world wedden, and ben ȝouun to weddingis; xxxv forsoþe þei þat be worþi to þat world, and ryfing aȝen fro deede men, neiþer ben weddid, neþer wedden wyues, xxxvi neþer schulen mowe deye more; forsoþ þei ben euene wiþ aungels, and ben þe fones of God, siþen þei ben þe fones of ryfinge aȝen.
xxxvii Forsoþe for deede men ryfen aȝen, also Moyses schewide byfyde þe boylche, as he feiþ, Þe Lord God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob.
xxxviii Forsoþ God is not of deede men, but of lyuynge men; forsoþ alle men lyuen to hym.

xxxix Soplī summe of þe scribis `answeringe seide, Maistir, þou hast well seide.
 xl And þei durste no more axe him ony þing.
 xli Forsoþ he seide to hem, How seyn men, `þat Crift is þe sone of Dauiþ,
 xlvi and Dauiþ him silf seiþ in þe book of Salmes, Þe Lord seide to my lord, Sitte þou on my riȝt half, xlvii til I putte þin enemys a stool of pi feet.
 xlviii Perfore Dauiþ clepiþ him lord, and how is he his sone?
 xlvi Soplī al þe peple heeringe, he seyde to his disciplis, xlvi Be ȝe war of scribis, þat wolen go in stoolis, and louen salutaciouns in þe cheping, and þe firste chayris in synagogis, and þe firste sitting places in feestis; xlvii whiche deuouren þe housis of widowis, feynynge long preier; þes schulen take more dampnacioun.

Capitulum XXI.

i Forsoþ he biholdinge syȝ `þo riche men, whiche fenten her ȝiftis in to þe treforie; ii forsoþ he syȝ also sum litel pore widowe sendyng tweie little moneys, ehir `a ferþing.
 iii And he feyde, Treuli I seye to ȝou, for þis pore widowe fente more þan alle men.
 iv Forwhi alle þes fenten in to ȝiftis of God, `of þe þing plenteuously to hem; forsoþ þis widowe of þis þing þat fayleþ to hir, fente al hir lyflood, þat she hadde.
 v And sum men seyinge of þe temple, þat it was ourned wiþ goode stoones and ȝyftis, he seyde, vi þes þingis þat ȝe seen, dayes schulen come, in which a stoon schal not be left on a stoon, which schal not be distroyed.
 vii Soplī þei axiden him, seyinge, Comaundour, whanne schulen þes þingis be? and what tokene, whanne þei schulen bigynne to be don?
 viii Which feide, Se ȝe, þat ȝe be not disceyued; forsoþ manye schulen come in my name, seyinge, For I am, and þe tyme schal neijȝ; perfore nyle ȝe go aftir hem.
 ix But whanne ȝe schulen heere batels and diffencions `wiþ ynne, nyle ȝe be aferd; it bihoueþ first þes þingis to be don, but not ȝit anoon þe ende.
 x Panne he seide to hem, Folk schal ryse aȝens folk, and rewme aȝens rewme;
 xi and grete mouyngis of erþe schulen be by places, and pestilensis, and hungris, and dredis fro heuene, and grete tokenes schulen be.
 xii But bifore alle þes þingis þei schulen sette hir hondis on ȝou, and schulen pursuwe, bitakinge in to synagogis and kepingis, `eþer prisouns, drawynge to kingis and iustis, for my name;
 xiii forsoþ it schal bifalle to ȝou in to witnesȝ.
 xiv Perfore putte ȝe in ȝoure hertis, not to þenke bifore, how ȝe schulen answere;

xv for I schal ȝyue to ȝou mouȝ and wyfdom, to whiche alle ȝoure aduersaries schulen not mowe aȝenstonde, and aȝensseye.
 xvi Soplī ȝe schulen be bytrayed of fadir, and modir, and briþeren, and cosyns, and frendis, and by deeþ þei schulen turmente summe of ȝou;
 xvii and ȝe schulen be hatid of alle men for my name.
 xviii And an heer of ȝoure heed schal not perische;
 xix in ȝoure pacience ȝe schulen welde ȝoure soulis.
 xx Forsoþ whanne ȝe schulen se Jerusalem enuyrowned of an oost of batel, þanne wite ȝe, þat þe desolacioun þerof schal neijȝ.
 xxi Panne þei þat ben in Judee, flee `in to hillis; and þei þat ben in þe myddel of it, go awey; and þei þat ben in þe cuntrieis, entre not in to it.
 xxii For þes ben þe dayes of veniaunce, þat alle þingis þat ben writun, be fillid.
 xxiii Forsoþ wo to hem, `þat ben wiþ childe, and norischen in þo dayes; for a greet tribulacioun schal be on erþe, and wrappe to þis peple.
 xxiv And þei schulen falle in þe mouȝ of swerd, and þei schulen be ledd caytif in to alle folkis; and Jerusalem schal be defoulid of heþen men, til þe tymes of nacionis be fillid.
 xxv And tokenes schulen be in þe funne, and moone, and sterriis; and in þe erþe `schal be ouerleying of folkis, for confusioun of sown of þe fee and wawis; xxvi men waxinge drye for drede and abidinge þat schulen come on al þe world; forwhi vertues of heuene schulen be mouyd.
 xxvii And þanne þei schulen fe mannis sone comyng in a cloude, wiþ greet power and maieste.
 xxviii Soplī þes þingis bigynnyng to be don, biholde ȝe, and reyse ȝe ȝoure heedis, for ȝoure `aȝen bying neijȝþ.
 xxix And he seide to hem a licenesse, Se ȝe þe fige tree,
 and alle trees,
 xxx whanne þei `bringen forþ `of hem fruyt now, ȝe witen for somer is niȝ; xxxi so also, whanne ȝe schulen fe þes þingis to be don, wite ȝe, for þe kyngdom of God is nyȝ.
 xxxii Treuli I seie to ȝou, for þis generacioun schal not passe, til alle þingis be don.
 xxxiii Heuene and erþe schulen passe, but my wordis schulen not passe.
 xxxiv Forsoþ `take ȝe heede to ȝou filf, leſt per auenture ȝoure hertis be greuyd wiþ glotenye, and drunkenesse, and bisynessis of þis lyf, and þilke day come fudeyn on ȝou;
 xxxv for as a snare it schal come `on alle men, þat sitten on þe face of al erþe.
 xxxvi And so wake ȝe, preyng in ech tyme, þat ȝe be worþi to fle alle þes þingis þat schulen come, and to stonde bifore mannis sone.

xxxvii Forsoþ in dayes he was techinge in þe temple, but he goyng out dwellide 'in nyȝtis in þe hil, which is clepid of Olyuete.

xxxviii And al þe peple 'roos erly, to come to him in þe temple, for to heere him.

Capitulum XXII.

i Forsoþe þe haliday of þerf looues, which is seid paske, neȝjede.

ii And þe princes of prestis and þe scribis souȝten, hou þei schulden flee Jhefu, but þei dresden þe peple.

iii Soþli Sathanas entride in to Judas, þat was clepid Scarioth, oon of þe twelue.

iv And he wente, and spak wiþ þe princes of prestis, and 'wiþ þe magestratis, how he schulde bitraye him to hem.

v And þei ioyeden, and maden couenaunt to ȝyue 'money to him.

vi And he bihiȝte, and he souȝte couenablete, þat he schulde bitraye him, wiþ outhiȝt þe cumpaynes.

vii Soþli þe day of þerf looues cam, in which it was nede, þat paske, 'þat is, sacrifice of paske, be slain.

viii And he fente Petre and John, seyinge, ȝe goyng make redy 'paske to vs, þat we ete?

ix And þei seiden, Where wolt þou, þat we make redy?

x And he feide to hem, Lo! ȝou entringe in to þe citee, sum man beringe a vessel wiþ watir schal come aȝens ȝou; fue ȝe him in to þe hous, 'in to which he entrif.

xi And ȝe schulen seye to þe hosebonde man of þe hous, Þe maistir seip to þee, Where is þe herborgerie, where I schal ete paske wiþ my disciplis?

xii And he schal schewe to ȝou a greet souping place strewid, and þere 'make ȝe redy.

xiii Soþli þei goyng founden as he feide to hem, and þere þei maden redy þe paske.

xiv And whanne þe our was maad, he sat to þe mete, and twelue apostlis wiþ him.

xv And he feide to hem, Wiþ defyr I haue defyrid to ete wiþ ȝou þis paske, bifore þat I suffre; xvi forsoþe I seie to ȝou, for fro þis tyme I shal not ete it, til it be fillid in þe rewme of God.

xvii And þe cuppe takun, he dide þankingis, and feide, 'Take ȝe, and 'departe ȝe among ȝou;

xviii forsoþe I seie to ȝou, I schal not drynke of þe generacioun of þis vyne, til þe rewme of God come.

xix And þe breed takun, he dide þankingis, and brak, and ȝaf to hem, seyinge, ȝis is my body, which schal be ȝouun 'for ȝou; do ȝe þis þing in to my commemmoracioun.

xx Also and þe chalys, aftir þat he hadde soudip, seyinge, ȝis cuppe is þe newe testament in my blood, which schal be sched for ȝou.

xxi Neþeles lo! þe hond of a man bitrayinge me is wiþ me in þe bord.

xxii And soþli mannis sone goþ, vp þat it is determynd; neþeles wo to þat man, bi whom he schal be bitrayed.

xxiii And þei bigynnen to seche among hem filf, who it was of hem, þat was to doyng þis bing.

xxiv And stryf was maad among hem, which of hem schulde be 'feyn to be more.

xxv Forsoþ he feide to hem, 'Kyngis of 'heþen men 'ben lordis, 'or lordschipen, 'of hem, and þei þat han power on hem ben clepid goode ȝyueris, xxvi but ȝe not so; but he þat is þe more in ȝou, be maad as þe ȝongere, and he þat is bifore goer, as a seruaunt.

xxvii Forwhi who is þe more, he þat restiþ, oþer he þat mynstriþ? wher not he þat restiþ? Forsoþ I am in þe myddis of ȝou, as he þat mynstriþ.

xxviii Soþli ȝe it ben, þat han dwelt wiþ me in my temptacioun;

xxix and I dispose to ȝou, as my fadir haþ disposed to me, a rewme, xxx þat ȝe ete and drynke on my bord in my rewme, and fitte on trones, demyngi twelue kynredis of Ifrael.

xxxi Forsoþe þe Lord feide to Symount, Symount, lo! Sathanas haþ axid ȝou, þat he schulde ridele as whete; xxxii but I haue preied for þee, þat þi feiþ fayle not; and þou conuertid sum tyme, conferme þi briþeren.

xxxiii Which feide to him, Lord, I am redi to go wiþ þee, and in to prisoun and in to deep.

xxxiv And he feide, I seie to þee, Peter, þe koc schal not crowe to day, til þou 'þries forslake 'to knowe me.

xxxv And he feide to hem, Whanne I fente ȝou wiþ outhiȝt fachel, and scrip, and schoon, wher ony þing failide to ȝou?

xxxvi And þei seiden, No þing. Perfore he feide to hem, But now he þat haþ a fachel, take also and a scripp; and he þat haþ not, felle his coote, and bye a fwerd.

xxxvii Soþli I seie to ȝou, for ȝit it bihoueþ þis þing þat is writun to be fulfillid in me, And he is demyd wiþ wickide men; forsoþe þo þingis þat ben of me han an ende.

xxxviii And þei seiden, Lord, lo! tweye fwerdis here. And he seyde to hem, It is ynowȝ.

xxxix And he gon out, wente bi custom in to þe hil of Olyues; soþli and þe disciplis sueden him.

xli And whanne he cam to þe place, he seyde to hem, Preie ȝe, leſt ȝe entre in to temptacioun.

xlii And he was takun awey fro hem, 'as myche as is a stoones caſt; and þe knees put, he preide, xliii seyinge, Fadir, if þou wolt, turn ouer þis cuppe fro me; neþeles not my wille 'be don, but þin.

xlii Forsoþ an aungel apperide to him fro heuene, cumfortinge him.

xliii And he maad in agonye, 'eþer angwische, preiede lengere; and his swoot was maad as dropis of blood rennyng doun in to þe erþe.

xlv And whanne he hadde rise fro preier, and hadde come to his disciplis, he fond hem slepinge for heuynesse.

xvi And he feide to hem, What slepen ȝe? 'Ryse ȝe, and preie ȝe, þat ȝe entre not in to temptacioun.

xvii ȝit him spekinge, lo! a cumpany, and he þat was clepid Judas, oon of þe twelue, wente bifore hem; and he neijede to Jhesu, þat he schulde kiffle him.

xviii Soþli Jhesu feide to him, Judas, 'bitrayest þou mannis sone 'wiþ a cosf?

xlix Forsoþ þei þat weren aboute hym, seyng 'þe þing þat was to comynge, feiden to him, Lord, wher we smyten by swerd?

i And oon of hem smoot þe seruaunt of þe prince of þe prestis, and kittide of his litel riȝt eere.

ii Forsoþe Jhesu answeringe seyde, Suffre ȝe til hidur. And whanne he hadde touchid his litil eere, he heelide him.

iii Forsoþe Jhesu feide to hem, þat camen to him, þe princes of prestis, and magestratis, and eldere men, As to a þeef ȝe han gon out wiþ swerdis and stauies?

iv Whanne I was eche day 'wiþ ȝou in þe temple, ȝe streiȝten not out þe hondis into me; but þis is ȝoure our, and þe power of derknessis.

v Soþli þei takinge him, ledden to þe hous of 'þe prince of prestis; Petre forsoþe fuede him a fer.

vi Soþli a fyer kyndlid in þe myddel 'greet hous, and hem sittinge aboute, Petre was in þe myddel of hem.

vii Whom whanne sum handmayde hadde seyn sittinge at þe liȝt, and hadde biholde him, shre feide, And þis was wiþ him.

viii And he denyede him, seyng, Womman, I knowe him not.

ix And aftir a litil a nobir man seyng him, feide, And þou ert of hem. Petre forsoþe feide, A! man, I am not.

x And a space maad as of oon our, soþli anobir affermyde, seyng, Treuli and þis was wiþ him; forwhi and 'he is of Galilee.

xi And Petre feide, Man, I 'wot not what þou feist. And a non ȝit him spekinge, a cok crew.

xii And þe Lord turned aȝen, biheeld Petre; and Petre hadde mynde of þe word of Jhesu, as he hadde seid, For bifore þat þe koc crew, þries þou schalt denye me.

xiii And Petre gon forþ, wepte bitturly.

xiv And þe men þat heelden him, scornyden him betinge.

xv And þei veyliden him, 'or hidden, and smyten his face, and axiden him, seyng, Propheſie þou, who 'is he þat smoot bee.

xvi Also þei blasphemynge seiden manye oþere þingis aȝens him.

xvii And as þe day was maad, þe eldere men of þe peple, and þe princes of prestis, and þe scribis camen to gidere, and ledden him in to her counceil, seyng, xviii If þou art Crist, seie to vs. And he feide to hem, If I schal feye to ȝou, ȝe schulen not billeue to me;

xix soþli and if I shal axe, ȝe schulen not answere to me, neþer ȝe schulen leue.

lxix Forsoþ aftir þis tyme mannis sone schal be sittinge on þe riȝthalf of þe vertu of God.

lxx Perfore alle seiden, Perfore ert þou þe sone of God? Which feide, ȝe seyn for I am.

lxi And þei seiden, What ȝit defyren we witnesſing? forsoþ we vs felue han herd of his mouþ.

Capitulum XXIII.

i And al þe multitude 'rizinge of hem, ledden him to Pilat.

ii Forsoþ þei bigunnen to accuse him, seyng, We han founden þis man turnyng vpfodoun oure folk, and forbedinge tributis to be ȝouun to Cesar, and seyng him silf to be Crist king.

iii Forsoþe Pilat axide him, seyng, Ert þou kyng of Jewis? And he answeringe feide, ȝou feist.

iv Forsoþe Pilat feide to þe princes of prestis, and to þe cumpanyes of peple, I fynde no þing of cause in þis man.

v And þei woxen strengere, seyng, He moueþ 'to gidere þe peple, techinge þorw al Judee, bigynnyng fro Galilee til hidur.

vi Pilat forsoþ heeringe Galilee axide, if he were a man of Galilee.

vii And as he knew þat he was of þe power of Eroude, he sente him aȝen to Eroude; which and he was at Jerusalēm 'in þo dayes.

viii Forsoþe, him seyn, Eroude ioyede ful myche; for he was coueitinge of moche tyme to se him, for he herde many þings of hym, and hopide to se sum myracle to be don of him.

ix Soþli he axide him in manye wordis; and he no þing answereide to him.

x Forsoþe þe princes of prestis and þe scrybis stooden, stedfastli accusinge him.

xi Soþli Eroude wiþ his oost 'dispiside him, and scornide him cloþid wiþ a whit cloþ, and sente aȝen to Pilate.

xii And Eroude and Pilate weren maad frendis in þilke day; forwhi 'biforeto þei weren enemyes to gidere.

xiii Soþli þe princes of prestis and þe magestratis of þe peple clepid to gidere, xiv Pilat feide to hem, ȝe han offrid to me þis man, as turnyng away þe peple, and lo! I axyne byfore ȝou fynde no cause in þis man of þes þings, in whiche ȝe accusen him;

xv but neþir Eroude, for I aȝein sente 'ȝou to him, and lo! no þing worþi of deeþ is don to him.

xvi Perfore I schal delyuere him amended.

xvii Forsoþe he hadde nede to deliuere to hem oon by þe feeste day.

xviii Soþli al þe cumpanye crieđe, seyng, Do him a wey, and deliuere 'Barabas to vs;

xix which was sent in to prisoun for sum diffencioun maad in þe citee, and for mansleyng.

- xx Forsoþ eft Pilat spak to hem, willinge to delyuere Jhesu.
 xxi And þei vndircryeden, seyinge, Crucifie, crucifie him.
 xxii Soþli þe þridde tyme he seide to hem, Soþli what of yuel haþ he don? I fynde no caufe of deeþ in him; þerfore I schal chaftise hym, and 'I schal delyuere.
 xxiii And þei contynueden axinge wiþ greete voices, þat he schulde be crucified; and þe voyces of hem woxen stronge.
 xxiv And Pilat demyde her axinge to be don.
 xxv Soþli he deliuerede to hem him, þat for mansleynge and diffencioun was sent in to prisoun, whom þei axiden; soþli he bitook Jhesu to her wille.
 xxvi And whanne þei ledden him, þei took sum man, Symount of Sirenen, comynge fro þe toun, and þei puttiden to him a croſſ to bere aftir Jhesu.
 xxvii Soþli þer suede him moche cumpayne of peple, and of wymmen þat weileden, and bymoornydren him.
 xxviii Soþli Jhesu turnyd to hem seide, Douȝtris of Jerusalēm, nyle ȝe wepe on me, but wepe ȝe on ȝou filf, and on ȝoure sones.
 xxix For lo! dayes schulen come, in whiche it schal be feid, Bleſſid be bareyn wymmen, and wombis þat han not gendrid, and þe teetis whiche han not ȝouun fouke.
 xxx ȝanne þei schulen bigynne to seye to monteyns, Falle ȝe doun on vs, and to litle hillis, Hile ȝe vs.
 xxxi For if þei don 'þes þingis in a grene tree, what schal be don in a drye?
 xxxii Soþli and oþere tweye wickide men weren led wiþ him, þat þei schulde be flayn.
 xxxiii And aftir þat þei camen in to a place, which is clepid of Caluarie, þere þei crucifieden him, and þe þeues, oon on þe riȝthalf, and 'þe toþer on þe left half.
 xxxiv Forsoþe Jhesu seide, Fadir, forȝyue to hem, for þei witen not what þei don. Forsoþe þei departinge his cloþis, senten lottis.
 xxxv And þe peple stood abydinge; and þe princes scornyden him wiþ hem, seyinge, Oþere men he made saf, make he him filf saf, if 'he is Crist, þe chosun of God.
 xxxvi Forsoþ and knyȝtis neȝyngē scornyden him, and offriden vynegre to him, xxxvii seyinge, If þou ert kyng of Jewis, make þee saf.
 xxxviii Soþli and þe 'wrytinge aboue was writun on him wiþ 'letris of Greek, of Latyn, and of Ebrew, ȝis is þe kyng of Jewis.
 xxxix Forsoþ oon of þo þeues þat hangiden, blasphemede him, seyinge, If þou ert Crist, make þi filf saf and vs.
 xl Soþli 'þe toþir answeringe, blamyde him, seyinge, Neþir þou dredist God, 'þat þou art in þe fame dampnacioun?
 xli And treuly we iustly, for we han receyued worþi þingis to dedis; soþli ȝis 'haþ don no yuel.
- xlii And he seide to Jhesu, Lord, haue mynde on me, whanne þou 'schalt come in to þi kingdom.
 xliii And Jhesu seyde to him, Treuli I seie to þee, þis day þou schalt be wiþ me in paradys.
 xliv Soþly it was almost þe fixte our, and derknessis weren maad in al erþe til to þe nynþe our.
 xlvi And þe sunne was maad derk, and þe veyl of þe temple was kitt þe myddel.
 xlvi And Jhesu cryinge wiþ greet voys, feide, Fadir, in to þi hondis I bitake my spirit. And he seyinge þes þingis, fente out þe spirit, 'eþer diede.
 xlvii Forsoþe centurio seyngi þe þing þat was don, glorifiede God, seyinge, Verily þis man was iuſt.
 xlviii And al þe cumpany of hem þat weren þere to gidere at þis spectacle, and syȝen þo þingis þat weren don, smytinge her brestis turneden aȝeyn.
 xlvi And his knownen stooden a fer, and wymmen þat fuerden him fro Galilee, seyngi þes þingis.
 li And lo! a man, Joseph bi name, þat was a decurioun, eþer hauyng ten vndir him, a good man and iuſt, lii of Aramathie, 'a citee of Judee, he consentide not to þe counceil and dedis of hem; which and he aþood þe kingdom of God.
 liii He cam nyȝ to Pilat, and axide þe body of Jhesu, liii and wlappide it don doun in a lynnenn cloþ, and puttide him in a graue hewun, in which not ȝit ony man was put.
 liiii And þe day was 'þe makinge redy of paſk, and þe saboth bygan to schyne.
 lv Soþli þe wymmen suyngi, þat camen wiþ him fro Galilee, syȝen þe graue, and hou his body was put.
 livi And þei turnyng eȝen, maden redy swete splices, and oynementis; and soþli in þe saboth þei restiden, vp þe comaundement.

Capitulum XXIII.

- i Forsoþe in oon of þe woke ful erly þei camen to þe graue, bryngyngi swete spicis, whiche þei hadden maad redy.
 ii And þei founden þe stoone turned a wey fro þe graue.
 iii And þei gon yn, founden not þe body of Jhesu.
 ivi And it was don, while þei weren astoneyed in þouȝt of þis þing, loo! twey men stooden bifydis hem in 'cloþ schynynge.
 v Soþli whenne þei dredden, and bowiden her semelant in to erþe þei seiden to hem, What seke ȝe þe lyuyngi wiþ deede men?
 vi He is not here, but he haþ rise. Haue ȝe mynde, how he spak to ȝou, whanne 'ȝit he was in Galilee, vii seyinge, it bihoueþ mannis sone be bitakun in to hondis of synful men, and to be crucified, and þe þridde day to ryse aȝen.
 viii And þei biþouȝten on his wordis.
 ix And þei gon aȝen fro þe graue, telden alle þes þingis to þe enleuene, and to alle oþere.

x Forsoþe 'Mary Mawdeleyn was, and Joone, and Marye of James, and obere wymmen þat weren wiþ hem, þat seiden þes þingis to apostlis.
xi And þes wordis weren seyn bifore hem as madneſſe, 'eþer errorr, and þei bileueden not to hem.
xii Forsoþe Petre rysinge, ran to þe graue; and he bowyng doun, syȝ þe lynn cloþis put aloone. And he wente, wondryng wiþ him ſilf 'þis þing þat was don.
xiii And lo! tweyne of hem wenten in þat day to a caſtel, þat was fro Jeruſalem in ſpace of ſixty furlongis, by name Emaws.
xiv And þei ſpaken to gidere of alle þes þingis þat hadden falle.
xv And it was don, while þei talkiden, and ſouȝten wiþ hem ſilf, and Jhesu him ſilf neijynge, wente wiþ hem.
xvi Soþli her yȝen weren holdun, leſt þei knewen him.
xvii And he feide to hem, Whiche ben þes wordis, þat ȝe ſpeken to gidere goyng, and ȝe ben forwful?
xviii And oon anſweringe, to whom þe name was Cleofas, feide 'to him, Pou aloone ert a pilgrym of Jeruſalem, and haſt þou not knowe, what þingis ben don in it in þes dayes?
xix To which he feide, Whiche? And þei ſeyden to him, Of Jhesu of Nazareth, þat was a man propheṭe, myȝti in work and word bifore God and al þe peple; xx and hou þe hiȝteſte preſtis and oure princes bitoken him in to dampnacioun of deeþ, and crucifieden him.
xxi Forſoþ we hopiden, for he 'ſchulde aȝen bye Iſrael. And now 'in alle þingis þe þridde day is to day, þat þes þingis ben don.
xxii But and ſum wymmen of oure maden vs a ferd, whiche bifore þe liȝt weren at þe graue;
xxiii and his bodi not foundun, þei camen, ſeyinge, 'þat þei ſyȝen a ſiȝt of aungels, whiche feyn, 'þat he lyueþ.
xxiv And ſum men of oure wenten to þe graue, and þei founden ſo as þe wymmen feiden, but þei founden not him.
xxv And he ſeyde to hem, A! foolis, and flowe of herte for to bileyue in alle þingis whiche þe prophetis han ſpoke.
xxvi Where it bihofte not Crift to ſuffre 'þes þingis, and fo for to entre in to his glorie?
xxvii And he bigynnyng at Moyses and alle prophetis, expownede to hem in alle ſcripturis, whiche weren of him.
xxviii And þei camen nyȝ to þe caſtel, whidur þei wenten. And he made cuntaunce him to go ferþere.
xxix And þei conſtreyned him, ſeyinge, Dwel wiþ vs, for it drawiþ to nyȝt, and þe day is now bowid doun. And he entride wiþ hem.
xxx And it was don, while he reſtide wiþ hem, he took bred, and bleſſide, and brac, and drefſide to hem.
xxxi And þe yȝen of hem weren opened, and þei knewen him; and he vanyschide fro her yȝen.

xxxii And þei feiden to gidere, Wher oure herte was not brennyng in vs, while he ſpac in þe weye, and openyde 'ſcripturis to vs?
xxxiii And þei riſinge in þe fame our, wenten aȝen in to Jeruſalem, and þei founded enleue gederid to gidere, and hem þat weren wiþ hem, xxxiv ſeyinge, For þe Lord roos verily, and aperide to Symount.
xxxv And þei telden what þingis weren don in þe weye, and hou þei knewen him in brekyng of breed.
xxxvi Forſoþe while þei ſpaken þes þingis, Jhesus stood in þe myddel of hem, and ſeide to hem, Pees to ȝou; I am, nyle ȝe drede.
xxxvii Soþli þei troublid and agast, geſſiden hem to fe a ſpirit.
xxxviii And he ſeide to hem, What ben ȝe troublid, and þouȝtis ſtȝen vp in to ȝoure hertis?
xxxix Se ȝe myn hondis and my feet, for I my ſilf am. Feele ȝe, and fe ȝe; for a ſpirit haþ not fleiſch, and boonyſ, as ȝe ſeen me for to haue.
xl And whanne he hadde feyd þis þing, he ſchewide hondis and feet 'to hem.
xli Forſoþ ȝit hem not bileyng, and wondringe for ioye, he ſeyde, Han ȝe ony þing here þat ſchal be etun?
xlii And þei offriden to him a part of a fyſch rooſtid, and a coomb of hony.
xliii And whanne he hadde etun bifore hem, he takyng þe reſyfs, ȝaf to hem.
xliv And he ſeyde to hem, þes ben þe wordis whiche I ſpak to ȝou, whanne I was ȝit wiþ ȝou; for it is nede þat alle þingis 'be fillid, whiche ben writun in þe lawe of Moyses, and in prophetis, and in ſalmes, of me.
xlv Panne he openyd witt to hem, þat þei ſchulde vndirſtonde ſcripturis.
xlvi And he ſeyde to hem, For þus it is writun, and þus it bihofte Crift to ſuffre, and to ryſe aȝen fro deed men in þe þridde day;
xlvii and penaunce and remyſſioun of synnes to be prechid in his name to alle folkis, men bigynnyng at Jeruſalem.
xlviii Forſoþe ȝe ben witneſſis of þes þingis.
xlix And I lende þe biheſte of my fadir in to ȝou; Soþli fitte ȝe in þe citee, til þat ȝe be cloþid wiþ vertu fro an hiȝ.
l Forſoþ he ledde hem forþ in to Bethanye, and, his hondis reyſid, he bleſſide hem.
li And it was don, while he bleſſide hem, he departide fro hem, and was borun in to heuene.
lii And þei worſhippinge wente aȝen in to Jeruſalem wiþ greet ioye;
liii and weren euere in þe temple, heryng and bleſſinge God.
Here endiþ Luk, and now bigynneþ Joon.

JOON.

þe prolog.

Þis is Joon euangelist, oon of þe disciplis of God, þe which a mayde of God was chosun, whom fro þe sposailis willinge be weddid, God clepide; to whom double witnesse of maydenhod in þe gospel is ȝeue; in þat, þat boþe bifore he is feid louyd of God, and to him God hangyng in þe crois bitook his modir, þat a mayden schulde kepe a mayde. Forsoþe he openyng in þe gospel what he was, bigynnyng þe work of an vncorruptible word, 'oper Goddis sone, he aloone witnessip Goddis sone to be maad man, and þe liȝt, 'þat is, Crist, to haue be not comprehendid of derknessis, 'þat beþ synneris; puttinge þe firste sygne, þat God made in sposailis, þat he schewinge what he was, schulde schewe to men redinge, þat where þe Lord was preied to mete, ouȝt fayle þe wyn of sposailis, and þat oolde þingis chaungid, alle newe þingis þat ben ordeyned of Crist schulde appere. Þis golpel forsoþe he wrot in Afye, aftir þat in þe yle of Pathmos he hadde write þe Apocalips; þat to whom 'þat in þe principal of canoun incorruptible principle is fornootid, to him also incorruptible ende by a mayde in þe apocalips schulde 'be ȝolde; seyng Crist, I am alpha and o, þat is, bigynnyng and wiþ outen ende. And þis is John, þe which knowinge þe day of his passinge to haue be come ouer, his disciplis clepid to gidere in Ephesie, by many preuyngis of tokenes schewinge Crist, dessendid in to a dolue place of his graue; and, preier maad, he was put to his fadir, as Istraunge fro lorne of deep, as he is founde alien fro corupcioun of fleisch. Neuerþeles aftir alle he wroot þe gospel, and þat was dewe to a mayde. Of þe whiche þingis neuerþeles oþir þe deposiciooun of þe tym of writingis, or þe ordynaunce of bookis; þerfore by alle þingis by vs is not expowned, þat to þe 'kunnyng defyr y-fett, boþe to men lechinge, fruyt of trauayl, and to God þe doctryne of maystrie, be kept.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and bigynneþ þe gospel.

Capitulum I.

- i In þe bigynnyng was þe word, þat is, Goddis sone, and þe word was at God, and God was þe word.
- ii Þis was in þe bigynnyng at God.
- iii Alle þingis ben maad by hym, and wiþ outen him is maad noȝt, þat þing þat is maad.
- iv Was lyf in him, and þe lyf was þe liȝt of men;
- v and þe liȝt schyneþ in derknessis, and derknessis tooken not it.
- vi A man was fent fro God, to whom þe name was Joon.
- vii Þis man cam in to witnesſinge, þat he schulde bere witnesſinge of þe liȝt, þat alle men schulden bileyue bi him.

viii He was not þe liȝt, but þat he schulde bere witnesſing of þe liȝt.

ix It was verri liȝt, which liȝtneþ ech man comyng into þis world.

x He was in þe world, and þe world was maad bi him, and þe world knew him not.

xi He cam in to his owne þingis, and his receyueden not him.

xii Forsoþe hou manye euere receyueden him, he ȝaf to hem power for to be maad þe sones of God, to hem þat bileyuen in his name;

xiii whiche not of blodis, neþer of þe will of fleisch, neþer of þe will of man, but ben born of God.

xiv And þe word, 'þat is, Goddis sone, is maad fleisch, 'or man, and hab dwellicid in vs, and we han seyn þe glorie of him, þe glorie as of þe oon bigetun of þe fadir, þe sone ful of grace, and of treue.

xv John beriþ witnesſing of him, and cryeþ, seyng, 'Þis 'it was, whom I feide, He þat comeþ aftir me, is maad bifore me, for he was 'þe formere þan I;

xvi and of þe plente of him we alle han takun, and grace for grace.

xvii For þe lawe is ȝouun by Moyses; forsoþ grace and treueþ is maad by Jhesu Crist.

xviii No man euere fyȝ God, no but þe oon bigetun sone, þat is in þe bosum of þe fadir, he hab told out.

xix And þis is þe witnesſing of John, whanne Jewis senten fro Jerusalem prestis and dekenys to hym, þat bei schulden axe him, Who art þou?

xx And he knowelechide, and denyede not, and he knowlechide, For I am not Crist.

xxi And bei axiden him, What þerfore? art þou Elye? And he feide, I am not. Art þou a prophete? And he answeride, Nay.

xxii þerfore bei seyden to him, Who art þou? þat we ȝyue answere to þes þat sente vs. What seist þou of þi filf?

xxiii He seiþ, I a vois of 'þe crying in desert, Dresse ȝe þe wey of þe Lord, as Ysaye, þe prophete, seyde.

xxiv And bei þat weren sente, weren of þe Pharisees.

xxv And bei axiden him, and seiden to him, What þerfore baptylist þou, if þou art not Crist, neþir Elye, neþer prophete?

xxvi John answeride to hem, seyng, I baptise in watir, soþli þe myddil man of ȝou stood, whom ȝe knownen not;

xxvii he it is, þat comeþ aftir me, þat is maad bifore me, of whom I am not worþi, þat I vnbynde þe þwong of his schoo.

xxviii þes þingis ben don in Bethany ouer Jordan, wher John was baptisinge.

xxix Anoþer day John fyȝ Jhesu comyng to him, and he seiþ, Lo! þe lamb of God; lo! þat doiþ a wey þe fynnes of þe world.

xxx Þis is, of whom I feide, Aftir me comeþ a man, þat is maad bifore me; for he was 'þe formere þan I.

xxxi And I knewe 'not him, but þat he be schewid in Israelf, þerfore I cam baptisinge in watir.
 xxxii And John bar witnesssing, seyng, For I sīȝ þe spirit comynge doun, as a culuere fro heuene, and dwellinge on him.
 xxxiii And I knew 'not him; but he þat fente me for to baptise in watir, seyde to me, On whom þou schalt se þe Spirit comynge doun, and dwellinge on him, þis it is, þat baptisip in þe Hooly Goſt.
 xxxiv And I syȝ, and bar witnesssing, for þis is þe lone of God.
 xxxv 'Anoþer day John stood, and tweyne of his disciplis; xxxvi and he biholdinge Jhesu walkynge, seiþ, Lo! þe lomb of God.
 xxxvii And tweye disciplis herden him spekyng, and folwidene Jhesu.
 xxxviii Soþli Jhesu conuertid, and seyng hem fuwynge him, seiþ to hem, What feken ȝe? Whiche feiden to him, Raby, þat is interpretid, Maifir, where dwelilst þou? xxxix He seiþ to hem, 'Come ȝe, and 'se ȝe. Þei camen, and syȝen where he dwelte; and þei dwelten at him in þat day. Soþli þe our was as þe tenþe.
 xl Forsoþe Andrew, broþer of Symount Petre, was oon of þe tweyne, þat herden of John, and hadde sued him.
 xli Pis fond first his broþer Symount, and he seiþ to him, We han founde Meffias, þat is interpretid Crift; xlvi and he ledde him to Jhesu. Soþli Jhesu biholdinge him, seide, þou ert Symount, þe lone of Johanna; þou schalt be clepid Cephas, þat is interpretid Petre.
 xlvi Forsoþe on þe morwe he wolde go out in to Galilee, and he fond Philip; and Jhesu seiþ to him, Sue þou me.
 xlvii Philip was of Bethsayda, þe citee of Andreu and Petre.
 xlviii Philip fond Nathanael, and he seiþ to him, We han founden Jhesu, þe lone of Joseph, of Nazareth, whom Moyſes wroot in þe lawe and prophetis. xlvi And Nathanael seide to him, Of Nazareth may sum 'good þing be? Philip seiþ to him, Come, and se.
 xlvii Jhesu syȝ Nathanael comynge to him, and he seiþ of him, Lo! verily a man of Israelf, in which is no gile.
 xlviii Nathanael seiþ to him, Wheroft haſt þou knowe me? Jhesu answeride, and seiþ to him, Bifore þat Philip clepide þee, whanne þou were vndir þe fyge tree, I syȝ þee.
 xlxi Nathanael answeride to him, 'and seiþ, Rabi, þou ert þe lone of God, þou ert kyng of Israelf.
 li And Jhesu answeride, and seide to him, For I seyde to þee, I syȝ þee vndir þe fyge tree, þou billeuest; þou schalt fe more þan þese þingis.
 lii And he seide to hem, Treuli I seie to ȝou, ȝe schulen fe heuene openyd, and þe aungels of God stiȝyng vp and comynge doun on mannis lone.

Capitulum II.

- i And þe þridde day weddingis ben maad in þe Cane, 'or town, of Galilee; and þe modir of Jhesu was þere.
- ii Soþli Jhesu is clepid, and his disciplis, to þe weddingis.
- iii And wyn faylinge, þe modir of Jhesu seide to him, Þei han not wyn.
- iv And Jhesu seiþ to hir, What to me and to þee, þou womman? myn our cam not ȝit.
- v Þe modir of him seiþ to þe mynystris, What euere þing he schal seie to ȝou, do ȝe.
- vi Forsoþe þer weren put fixe stoonun pottis, aftir þe clensinge of Jewis, takinge ech tweyne or þre mesuris.
- vii Jhesu seiþ to hem, Fille ȝe þe pottis wiþ water. And þei filliden hem, 'til to þe hiȝeste part.
- viii And Jhesu seiþ to hem, Drawe ȝe now, and 'bere ȝe to architriclyn, þat is, prince in þe hous of þre stagis. And þei token.
- ix And as architriclyn taſtide þe watir maad wyn, and he wiste not wheroft it was, soþli þe mynystris wisten, þat drowen watir, architriclyn clepiþ þe spouse,
- x and seiþ to him, Ech man puttis firſt good wyn, and whanne men schulen be fillid, þanne þat þat is worse; soþli þou haſt kept good wyn 'til to now.
- xi Jhesu dide þis þe bigynnyng of signes in þe Cane of Galilee, and schewide his glorie; and his disciplis billeueden in to him.
- xii Aftir þes þings he cam doun to Capharnaum, and his modir, and his briþeren, and his disciplis; and þei dwelten þere not many dayes.
- xiii And þe paske of Jewis was nyȝ, and Jhesu wente vp to Jerusalem.
- xiv And he fond in þe temple men sellinge scheep, and oxen, and culueris, and chaungeris ſittinge.
- xv And whanne he hadde maad 'as a scourge of ſmale coordis, he caſtide 'out alle of þe temple, and 'oxen, and scheep; and he ſchedde out þe moneye of chaungeris, and turnede vpfodoun þe bordis.
- xvi And he ſeide to hem þat ſelden culueris, Take a wey fro hennis þes þings, and nyle ȝe make þe hous of my fadir an hous of marchaundife.
- xvii Forsoþe his disciplis hadden mynde, for it is writun, Þe 'feruour of loue of þin hous haþ etun me.
- xviii Perfore þe Jewis anſweriden, and feyden to him, What ſyngne, 'or tokene, ſchewiſt þou to vs, for þou doiſt þes þings?
- xix Jhesu anſweride, and feyde to hem, Vndo ȝe þis temple, and in þre dayes I ſchal reyſe it.
- xx Perfore þe Jewis feyden to him, In fourty and fixe ȝeiris þis temple is byldid, and þou in þre dayes ſchalt reyſe it?
- xi Forsoþe he ſeide of þe temple of his body.
- xxii Perfore whanne he hadde ryſun fro 'deed men, his disciplis hadden mynde, for he ſeide 'þis þing; and þei bileueden to þe scripture, and to þe word þat Jhesu feide.

xxiii Forsoþe whanne Jhesu was at Jerusalem in pask, in þe feeste day, manye bileuyden in his name, seyng þe syngnes of him þat he dide.

xxiv Soþli Jhesu him silf bileuede not hym silf to hem, for þat he knew alle men;

xxv and for it was not nede to hym, þat eny man schulde bere witnesſing of man, soþli he wiste what was in man.

Capitulum III.

i Forsoþe þer was a man of Pharisees, Nicodeme bi name, a prince of Jewis.

ii He cam to Jhesu in þe nyȝte, and feide to him, Raby, we witen, for of God þou haſt come a maifir; soþli no man may do þes signes þat þou doſt, no but God were wiþ him.

iii Jhesu answeride, and seyde to him, Treuli, treuli, I feye to þee, no but a man ſchal be born aȝen, he may not fe þe kyngdom of God.

iv Nycodeme feide to him, How may a man be born, whanne he is olde? wher he may entre aȝen in to his modris wombe, and be born aȝein?

v Jhesus answeride, Treuli, treuli, I feie to þee, no but a man ſchal be born aȝen of watir, and of þe Hooly Gost, he may not entre in to þe kyngdom of God.

vi þat þat is born of fleiſch, is fleiſch; and þat þat is born of spirit, is spirit.

vii Wondre þou not, for I feye to þee, It bihoueþ ȝou for to be born aȝein.

viii þe ſpirit breþiþ wher it wole, and þou heerist his vois, but þou wolt not, fro whennis he comeþ, or whidir he goþ; fo is ech man þat is borun of þe ſpirit.

ix Nycodeme answeride, and feide to him, Hou mown þes þingis be don?

x Jhesu answeride, and seyde to him, 'Art þou a maifir in Ifrael, and knowiſt not þes þingis?

xi Treuli, treuli, I feye to þee, for þat þat we witen, we ſpeken, and þat þat we han feyn, we witneſſen, and ȝe taken not oure witnesſing.

xii If I haue feid to ȝou erþeli þingis, and ȝe bileuen not, how if I ſchal feie to ȝou heuenli þingis, ſchulen ȝe bileue?

xiii And no man ſtyeþ in to heuene, no but he þat cam doun fro heuene, 'mannis fone þat is in heuene.

xiv And as Moyses 'reride vp a ſerpent in deſert, fo it bihoueþ manrus fone for to be areyſid vp, xv þat ech man þat bileueþ 'in to him, periſche not, but haue 'euerelaſtinge lyf.

xvi Forſoþe God 'ſo louede þe world, þat he ȝaf his oon bigetun fone, þat ech man þat bileueþ in to him periſche not, but haue euere laſtinge lyf.

xvii Soþli God ſente not his fone in to þe world, þat he iuge þe world, but þat þe world be fauyd by hym.

xviii He þat bileueþ in to him, is not demyd, 'or dampnyd; forſoþe he þat bileueþ not, is now demed, for he bileueþ not in þe name of þe 'oon bigetun fone of God.

xix Soþli þis is þe dom, for liȝt cam in to þe world, and men louede more derknessis þan liȝt; forſoþ her workis weren yuele.

xx Soþli ech man þat doþ yuele, hatiþ liȝt; and he comeþ not to þe liȝt, þat his workis be not reproued, 'or vndirnomun.

xxi Soþli he þat doþ treuþe, comeþ to þe liȝt, þat his workis be ſchewid, for þei ben don in God.

xxii Aftir þes þingis Jhesu cam, and his disciplis, in to þe lond of Judee, and þere he dwellide wiþ hem, and baptiſide, 'or criftenede.

xxiii Soþli John was baptiſyng in Ennon, bifydis Salym, for many watriſ were þere; and þei camen, and weren baptiſid.

xxiv Soþli John was not ȝit ſent in to prisoun.

xxv Soþli a queſtioun, 'or axyng, is maad of Johnis disciplis wiþ þe Jewis, of þe purificacioun, 'or clensiſing.

xxvi And þei camen to John, and seyde to him, Rabi, or maifir, he þat was wiþ þee ouer Jordan, to whom þou haſt born witneſſinge, lo! he baptiſeþ, and alle men comen to him.

xxvii John answeride, and seyde, A man may not take ony þing, no but it be ȝouun to him fro heuene.

xxviii ȝe ȝou ſilf beren witneſſing to me, þat I feyde, I am not Crift, but for I am ſent bifore him.

xxix He þat haþ a 'ſpouſe, or wyf, is þe ſpouse, or hofebonde; forſoþe a frend of þe ſpouse, þat ſtondiþ, and heeriþ him, ioyeþ in ioye, for þe vois of þe ſpouse. Perfore in þis þing my ioye is fillid.

xxx It bihoueþ him for to wexe, forſoþ me to be 'menufid, or maad leſſe.

xxxi He þat cam fro aboue, is aboue alle; he þat is of þe erþe, ſpekiþ of þe erþe; he þat comiþ fro heuene, is aboue alle.

xxii And þis þing þat he ſyȝ, and herde, he witneſſiþ, and no man takiþ his witneſſing.

xxiii Forſoþ he þat 'haþ takun his witneſſing, haþ markid þat God is ſoþfaſt.

xxiv Forſoþ he whom God ſente, ſpekiþ þe wordis of God; forſoþe not to meſure God ȝyueþ þe ſpirit.

xxv þe fadir loueþ þe fone, and he haþ ȝouun alle þingis in his hond.

xxvi He þat bileueþ in to þe fone, haþ euere laſtinge lyf; forſoþe he þat is vnbileueful to þe fone, ſchal not fe euerelaſting lyf, but þe wraþþe of God dwelliþ on hym.

Capitulum III.

i Therfore as Jhesu knew, þat Pharifees herden, þat Jhesu makiþ mo disciplis and baptiſip, þan John,

- ii þouȝ Jhesu baptiside not, but his disciplis, iii he lefte Judee, and wente aȝen in to Galilee.
 iv Soþli it bihoft him to passē bi Samarie.
 v Perfore Jhesu cam 'in to a citee of Samarie, þat is seyde Sycar, bifydis þe 'manere, or feeld, þat Jacob ȝaf to Joseph, his sone.
 vi Forsoþ þe welle of Jacob was þere; soþli Jhesu 'maad wery, or feynt, of þe iurney, sat þus on þe welle. Soþli þe our was, as þe fixte, 'or vndurn.
 vii A womman cam of Samarie, for to drawe watir.
 Jhesu seip to her, ȝyue to me 'for to drynke.
 viii Forsoþ his disciplis hadden gon in to þe citee, þat þei schulden bye metis.
 ix Perfore 'þe ilke womman of Samarie seip to him, How þou, whanne þou ert a Jew, axist of me 'for to drynke, which am a womman of Samarie? forsoþe Jewis vñen not wiþ Samaritans.
 x Jhesu answeride, and seide to her, If þou wistist þe ȝifte of God, and who it is, þat seip to þee, ȝyue to me for 'to drynke, þou peraudentre schuldest haue axid of him, and he schulde haue ȝouun to þee quyk watir.
 xi Pe womman seip to him, Sire, neþer þou haft in what þing þou schalt drawe, and þe pitt is deep; þerfore wheroft haft þou quyk watir?
 xii Wher þou art more þan oure fadir Jacob, þat ȝauet to vs þis pitt? and he drank þerof, and his sones, and his beftis.
 xiii Jhesu answeride, and seide to her, Ech man þat drynkis of þis watir, schal þirste eftsoone; xiv forsoþe he þat schal drynke of þe watir þat I schal ȝyue to him, schal not þirste in to wiþ outen ende; but þe watir þat I schal ȝyue to him, schal be maad in him a 'welle of watir, spryngyng vp in to euerelaſtinge lyf.
 xv Pe womman seip to him, Sire, ȝyue to me þis watir, þat I þirste not, neþer come hidir for to drawe.
 xvi Jhesu seip to her, Go, clepe þin hosebonde, and come hidur.
 xvii Pe womman answeride, and seide, I haue not an hosebonde. Jhesu seip to her, þou seidist wel, For I haue 'not an hosebonde;
 xviii forsoþ þou haft had fyue hosebondis, and he whom þou haft, is not þin hosebonde. Þis þing þou seidist soþli.
 xix Pe womman seip to him, Lord, I se, for þou art a prophete.
 xx Oure fadris worschipiden in þis hil, and ȝe seyn, for at Jerusalem is a place, wher it bihoueþ for to worschipe.
 xxi Jhesu seip to her, Womman, bileue to me, for þe our schal come, whanne neþer in þis hil, neþer in Jerusalem, ȝe schulen 'preye, or worschipe, þe fadir.
 xxii ȝe worschiperen þat þat ȝe witen not; we worschiperen þat þat we witen; for heelpe is of Jewis.
 xxiii But þe our comeþ, and now it is, whanne trewe worschiperis schulen worschipe þe fader in spirit and treupe; forwhi and þe fadir sekiþ suche, þat schulen worschipe him.
 xxiv God is a spirit, and it bihoueþ hem þat worschiperen him, for to worschipe in spirit and treup.
 xxv Pe womman seip to him, I woot for Meffias is comen, þat is feid Crist; þerfore whanne he schal come, he schal telle to vs alle þingis.
 xxvi Jhesu seip to her, I am, þat speke wiþ þee.
 xxvii And anon his disciplis camen, and wondriden, for he spak wiþ a womman; neþeres no man seide, What sekiſt þou, or, What spekiſt þou wiþ hir?
 xxviii Perfore þe womman lefte þe watir pott, and wente in to þe citee, and seip to þo men, xxix Come ȝe, and 'le ȝe þe man, þat seide to me alle þingis 'what euere þingis I haue don; wher he is Crist?
 xxx And þei wenten out of þe citee, and þei camen to
 hym.
 xxxi In þe mene while his disciplis preieden him, seyinge, 'Raby, or maiftir, etc.
 xxxii Soþli he seide to hem, I haue mete for to ete, þat ȝe witen not.
 xxxiii Perfore þe disciplis feiden to gidere, Wher ony man brouȝte to him for to ete?
 xxxiv Jhesu seip to hem, My mete is, þat I do þe will of him þat sente me, and þat I performe þe work of him.
 xxxv Wher ȝe seyn not, for ȝit foure moneþis ben, and rype corn comeþ? Lo! I seie to ȝou, lift vp ȝoure ȝzen, and 'se ȝe þe 'regiouns, or cuntrees, for now þei ben white to ripe corn.
 xxxvi And he þat repiþ takiþ hyre, 'or mede, and he þat gederiþ, fruit in to euerelaſting lyf; þat and he þat sowiþ haue ioye to gidere, and he þat repiþ.
 xxxvii In þis þing soþli 'þe word is trewe, for anoþer is þat sowiþ, and anoþer þat repiþ.
 xxxviii I fente ȝou for to repe, þat þat ȝe traueliden not;
 obere men traueliden, and ȝe entriden in to her trauelis.
 xxxix Forsoþ of þe citee many Samaritans bileueden in to him, for þe word of þe womman beringe witneſſing, For he seide to me alle þingis, what euere þingis I dide.
 xl Perfore whanne Samaritans camen to him, þei preieden him, þat he schulde dwelle þere; and he dwelte þere twey dayes.
 xli And many mo bileueden for his word, xl and feyden to þe womman, For now not for þi speche we bileuen; forsoþ we han herd, and we witen, for þis is verily þe sauyour of þe world.
 xlii Forsoþ aftir twey dayes he wente þennis, and wente in to Galilee.
 xliii 'Soþli Jhesu bar witneſſing, for a prophete in his owne cuntree haþ not honour, 'or worschip.
 xl Perfore whanne he cam in to Galilee, men of Galilee receyueden him, whanne þei hadden seyn alle þingis þat he hadde don in Jerusalem, in þe feeste day,

'or haliday; and soþli þei hadden come to þe feeste day.

xvi Perfore he cam eftsoone in to Cana of Galilee, where he made þe watir wyn. And sum litil king was, whos sone was syk at Capharnaum.

xvii Whanne þis hadde herd, for Jhesu schulde come fro Judee in to Galilee, he wente to him, and preiede him, þat he schulde come doun, and heele his sone; forþoþ he bigan to deye.

xviii Perfore Jhesu seide to him, No but ȝe schulen se tokenes and grete wondris, ȝe bileuen not.

xix ȝe litil kyng seiþ to him, Lord, come doun, before my sone deye.

i Jhesu seiþ to him, Go, þi sone lyueþ. ȝe man bileuede to þe word, þat Jhesu seide to hym, and he wente.

ii Soþli now him comynge doun, þe seruauntis camen aȝens him, and telden to him, seyinge, For his sone lyuede.

iii Perfore he axide of hem þe our, in whiche he 'hadde betere. And þei seiden to him, For ȝistirday in þe seuenþe our þe feuere lefte him.

iv Perfore þe fadir knew, þat 'þe ilke our it was, 'in which Jhesu seide to him, ȝi sone lyueþ; and he bileuede, and al his hous.

v Jhesu dide eft þis secunde tokene, whanne he cam fro Judee in to Galilee.

Capitulum V.

i Aftir þes bingis was a feeste day of Jewis, and Jhesu wente vp to Jerusalēm.

ii Forþoþ in Jerusalēm is a 'ftanding watir of beestis, þat in Ebrew is named Bethsayda, hauyng five 'little ȝatis.

iii In þes lay a greet multitude of langwischinge men, blynde, krokid, drye, abidinge þe stirring of þe watir.

iv Forþoþ þe aungel of þe Lord 'aftir tyme cam doun in to þe stonding watir, and þe watir was moued; and he þat first cam doun in to þe fisterne, aftir þe mouyng of þe watir, was maad hool of 'what euere fikness he was holdun.

v Forþoþ sum man was þere, hauyng eiȝte and þritti geeris in his fykness.

vi Whanne Jhesu hadde seyn him liggyng, and hadde knowe, for now he hadde moche tyme, he seiþ to him, Wolt þou be maad hool?

vii ȝe syke man answeride to him, Lord, I haue not a man þat whanne þe water 'schal be troublid, he sende me in to þe fisterne; forþoþ þe while I com, anoþer gōd down bifore me.

viii Jhesu seiþ to him, Ryse vp, taak þi bed, and wandre.

ix And a non þe man is maad hool, and took vp his bed, and wandride. And saboth was in þat day.

x Perfore þe Jewis seyden to him þat was maad hool, It is saboth, it is not leefful to þee, for to take þi bed.

xi He answeride to hem, He þat maade me hool, seide to me, Taak þi bed, and wandre.

xii Perfore þei axiden him, Who is þat man, þat seide to þee, Taak þi bed, and wandre?

xiii Soþli he þat was maad hool, wiste not who it was. Forþoþ Jhesu bowide him fro þe cumpany 'ordeyneid, or sett, in þe place.

xiv Afterward Jhesu fond him in þe temple, and seide to him, Lo! þou ert maad hool; now nyle þou do synne, leste ony þing worse bifalle to þee.

xv 'ȝe ilke man wente, and telde to þe Jewis, for it was Jhesu þat maad him hool.

xvi Perfore þe Jewis purfueden Jhesu, for he dide þis þing in þe saboth.

xvii Forþoþ Jhesu answeride to hem, My fadir worship til now, and I worche.

xviii Perfore þanne þe Jewis souȝten more for to flee hym, for not oonly he brak þe saboth, but and he seide his fadir God, makinge him euene to God. And so Jhesu answeride, xix and seide to hem, Treuli, treuli, I seie to ȝou, þe sone may not of him silf do ony þing, no but þat þing þat he schal se þe fadir doyng; what euere þingis soþli he doiþ, þes þingis and þe sone also doiþ.

xx Forþoþ þe fadir loueþ þe sone, and schewiþ to him alle þingis þat he doiþ; and he schal schewe to him more workis þan þes, þat ȝe wondre.

xxi Forþoþ as þe fadir reysiþ deede men, and quykeneþ, 'so and þe sone quykeneþ whiche he wole.

xxii Soþli neiþer þe fader iugeþ ony man, but haþ ȝouun al þe dom to þe sone, xxiii þat alle men honoure þe sone, as þei honouren þe fadir. He þat honouriþ not þe sone, honouriþ not þe fadir þat fente him.

xxiv Treuli, treuli, I seye to ȝou, for he þat heeriþ my word, and bileueþ to him þat fente me, haþ euere lasting lyf, and comeþ not in to dom, but paſſiþ fro deeþ in to lyf.

xxv Treuli, treuli, I seye to ȝou, for þe our comeþ, and now it is, whanne deede men schulen heere þe vois of Goddis sone, and þei þat schulen heere, schulen lyue.

xxvi Soþli as þe fader haþ lyf in him silf, so he ȝaf and to þe sone for to haue lyf in him silf;

xxvii and he ȝaf to him power for to make dom, for he is mannis sone.

xxviii Nyle ȝe wondre þis þing, for þe our comeþ, in which alle men þat ben in buriels, schulen heere þe vois of Goddis sone.

xxix And þei þat han do goode þingis, schulen come forþ in to ryfinge aȝen of lyf; forþoþ þei þat han don yuele þingis, in to ryfinge aȝen of dom.

xxx I may not of mysilf do ony þing, but as I heere, I iuge, and my dom is iuft, for I feke not my wille, but þe will of þe fadir þat fente me.

xxxi If I bere witnelling of my silf, my witnelling is not trewe;

xxxii anoþer is þat beriþ witnelling of me, and I woot for his witnelling is trewe, þat he beriþ of me.

xxxiii ȝe senten to John, and he bar witnessiñg to þe
 treube.
 xxxiv Soþly I take not witnessiñg of man; but I seie þes þingis, þat ȝe be saf.
 xxxv Soþli he was a lanterne brennyng and schynynge, 'or ȝyuynge liȝt; forsoþe ȝe wolden glade at oon our in his liȝt.
 xxxvi Soþli I haue more witnessiñg þan John, forsoþ þe workis þat my fadir ȝaf to me þat I performe hem, 'þe ilke workis þat I do beren witnessyng of me, þat þe fadir fente me.
 xxxvii And þe fadir þat sente me, he bar witnessiñg of me. Neþir ȝe herden euere his vois, neþir sayȝen his lincenne, 'or foorme.
 xxxviii And 'ȝe han not his word dwellinge in ȝou; for ȝe bileuen not to him, whom he sente.
 xxxix Seke ȝe scripturis, in whiche ȝe gessen to haue euerlaustinge lyf; and þo it ben, þat beren witnessiñg of
 me.
 xl And ȝe wolen not come 'to me, þat ȝe haue lyf.
 xli I take not clernenesse of men; xlvi but I haue knownen ȝou, for ȝe han not þe loue of God in ȝou.
 xlvi i cam in þe name of my fadir, and ȝe token not me.
 If anoþer schal come in his owne name, ȝe schulen receyue him.
 xlvi i How mown ȝe bileue, þat receyuen glorie ech of oþer, and ȝe feken not þe glorie þat is of God aloone?
 xlvi Nyle ȝe gefse, þat I am to accusinge ȝou anemptis þe fadir; it is Moyses þat accusisþ ȝou, in whom ȝe hopen.
 xlvi Forsoþ if ȝe bileueden to Moyses, perauenture ȝe schulden bileue and to me; soþli he wroot of me.
 xlvi Soþli if ȝe beleuen not to his lettris, how schulen ȝe bileue to my wordis?

Capitulum VI.

i Aftir þes þingis Jhesu wente ouer þe ſe of Galilee, þat is Tiberiadis.
 ii And a greet multitude ſuede him; for þei syȝen þe tokenes, þat he dide on hem þat weren fyke.
 iii Perfore Jhesu wente in to an hil, and 'þere he ſat wiþ
 his disciplis.
 iv Forſoþ paſk was ful nyȝ, a feefte day of Jewis.
 v Perfore whanne Jhesu hadd lyft vp þe yȝen, and hadde seyn, for a greet multitude cam to him, he ſeij to Philip, Wheroſchulen we bie loues, þat þes men ete?
 vi Soþli he ſeide þis þing, temptinge him; forſoþ he wiſte what he was to doynge.
 vii Philip anſweride to him, þe loues of two hundrid pens ſuffyſen not to hem, þat ech man take a little what.
 viii Oon of his disciplis, Andrew, þe brother of Symount Petre, ſeij to him,

ix O child is here, þat haþ fyue barley loues and tweye fylches; but what ben þes þingis among so many men?
 x Perfore Jhesu ſeij, Make ȝe men for to ſitte at þe mete. Forſoþ þere was myche hey in þe place. Perfore men ſaten at þe mete, in noumbre as fyue þousandis.
 xi Perfore Jhesu took fyue loues, and whanne he hadde do þankingis, he deportide to men ſittinge at mete, alſo and of þe fylches, as myche as þei wolden.
 xii Forſoþ as þei ben fillid, he ſeide to his disciplis, Gedere ȝe þe relyfs þat ben left, þat þei perifchen not.
 xiii Perfore þei gedriden, and filleden twelue coffyns of relyfs of þe fyue barly loues and tweye fylches, þat leſten to hem þat haddun etun.
 xiv Perfore þo men, whanne þei hadden seyn þe
 'tokene, or myracle, þat he hadde don, ſeyden, For þis is verily þe propheþe, þat is to comyng in to þe world.
 xv Perfore whanne Jhesu hadde knowun, for þei were to comyng þat þei ſchulden rauysche him, and make him kyng, he 'aloone fledde eft in to an hil.
 xvi Soþli as euentyd was maad, his disciplis wenten doun to þe ſee.
 xvii And whanne þei hadden ſtȝed vp in to þe boot, þei camen ouer þe ſee in to Capharnaum. And derknessis were now maad, and Jhesu hadde not comen to hem.
 xviii Forſoþ a greet wynde blowynge, þe ſee roos vp.
 xix Perfore whanne þei hadden rowid as fyue and twenty furlongis or þrittý, þei ſeen Jhesu walkinge on þe ſee, and to be maad next to þe boot; and þei dredden.
 xx Soþli he ſeyde to hem, I am; nyle ȝe drede.
 xxi Perfore þei wolden take him 'in to þe boot, and anon þe boot was at þe lond in to which þei wenten.
 xxii On 'þe topir day þe cumpayne, þat stood ouer þe ſee, syȝ, for þere was non oþir boot þere no but oon, and for Jhesu entride not wiþ his disciplis in to þe boot, but his disciplis 'aloone wenten.
 xxiii Forſoþ oþere bootis camen fro Tiberiade bifydis þe place, where þei eeten breed, doynge þankingis to God.
 xxiv Perfore whanne þe cumpayne hadden seyn, for Jhesu was not þere, neþere his disciplis, þei ſtȝeden in to bootis, and camen to Capharnaum, ſeking him.
 xxv And whanne þei hadden founden him ouer þe ſee, þei ſeyden to him, Raby, hou haſt þou com hidur?
 xxvi Jhesu anſweride to hem, and ſeyde, Treuli, treuli, I ſeie to ȝou, ȝe feken me, not for ȝe syȝ þe 'tokenis, or myraclis, but for ȝe eeten of loues, and ben fillid.
 xxvii Worche ȝe not mete þat perischiþ, but þat dwelliþ in to euerlaustinge lyf, which mete mannis ſone 'ſchal ȝyue to ȝou; forſoþ God þe fadir 'bitokenede, or markede, him.
 xxviii Perfore þei ſeiden to him, What ſchulen we do, þat we worche þe workis of God?
 xxix Jhesu anſweride, and ſeide to him, Þis is þe work of God, þat ȝe bileue in to him, whom he fente.

iii Forsoþe his breþeren feiden to him, Passe fro hennis, and go in to Judee, þat and þi disciplis se þi werkis þat þou doist;
iv forsoþe no man doþ ony þing in 'hid place, or priuy, and he sekiþ to be 'in to opyn. If þou doſt 'þes þingis, schewe þi filf to þe world.
v Forsoþe neþer his briþeren bileueden in to him.
vi Perfore Jhesu seiþ to hem, My time cam not ȝit, but ȝoure tyme is euermore redy.
vii þe world may not haue hatid ȝou, soþli it hatiþ me; for I bere witnesſing þeroſ, for þe workis of it ben yuele.
viii Stiȝe ȝe vp at þis feeste day, but I ſchal not ſtiȝe vp at þis feeste day, for my tyme is not ȝit fillid.
ix Whanne he hadde feid þes þingis, he dwelte in Galilee.
x Forsoþe as his briþeren ſtiȝeden vp, þanne and he ſtiȝede vp at þe feeste day, not opynli, but as in prueuei.
xi Perfore þe Jewis ſouȝten him in þe feeste day, and feiden, Wher is he?
xii And moche gruccing was of him in þe cumpayne of peple. Forsoþe ſumme feiden, For he is good; forſoþ obere feiden, Nay, but he disceyueþ þe cumpanyes; xiii neþeles no man ſpak opynly of him, for þe drede of Jewis.
xiv Forsoþe now þe feeste day medlinge, 'or goyng bitwixe, Jhesu wente vp in to þe temple, and tauȝte.
xv And þe Jewis wondriden, ſeyinge, Hou kan þis man lettis, ſiȝen he haþ not lernyd?
xvi Jhesu anſweride to hem, and ſeide, My doctrine is not myn, but his þat fente me.
xvii If ony man 'ſchal wilne to do his wille, he ſchal knowe of þe techinge, wher it be of God, wher I speke of my filf.
xviii He þat ſpekiþ of himself, ſekiþ his owne glorie; forſoþ he þat ſekiþ þe glorie of him þat fente him, þis is ſoþfast, and vniȝtfulnesse is not in him.
xix Wher Moyses ȝaf not to ȝou a lawe, and no man of ȝou doþ þe lawe? What ſeken ȝe to fle me?
xx 'Pe cumpayne anſweride, and ſeide, ȝou haſt a deuyl; who ſekiþ for to fle þee?
xxi Jhesu anſweride, and leide to hem, I haue don o work, and alle ȝe wondren.
xxii Perfore Moyses ȝaf to ȝou circumcioun; not for it is of Moyses, but of fadris; and in þe ſaboth ȝe circumſididen a man.
xxiii If a man takiþ circumcioun in þe ſaboth, þat þe lawe of Moyſes be not brokun, han ȝe indignacioun, 'or wrappe, to me, for I made al þe man hool in þe ſabot?
xxiv Nyle ȝe deme vp þe face, but deme a riȝtful dom.
xxv Perfore ſumme of Jerusalem feiden, Wher þis is not, whom þe Jewis ſekan to flee?
xxvi and lo! he ſpekiþ opynly, and þei ſeyn no þing to him. Wher þe princes knewen verili, for þis is Crift?

xxvii But we witen þis man, of whennis he is; 'forſoþ whanne Crift ſchal come, no man wot of whennis he is.
xxviii Perfore Jhesu crieđe in þe temple, techinge hem, and ſeyinge, And ȝe witen me, and of whennis I am; and I cam not of my filf, but he is trewe þat fente me, whom ȝe knownen not.
xxix I woot him, and if I ſchal ſeie for I 'woot not him, I ſchal be lyk to ȝou, a lyere; and I woot him, for of him I am, and he fente me.
xxx Perfore þei ſouȝten for to take him, and no man fente in to him hondis, for his our cam not ȝit.
xxxi Soþli many of þe cumpayne bileueden in to him, and feiden, Whanne Crift ſchal come, wher he ſchal do mo tokenes, þan þis doþ?
xxxii Pharifees herden þe cumpenye of peple gruccinge of him þes þingis; and þe princes of Pharifees ſenten mynistris, þat þei ſchulden take him.
xxxiii Perfore Jhesu feide to hem, ȝit a litel tyme I am wiþ ȝou, and I go to þe fadir, þat fente me.
xxxiv ȝe ſchulen ſeke me, and ȝe ſchulen not fynde; and where I am, ȝe mown not come.
xxxv Perfore þe Jewis feiden to hem filf, Whidur 'is þis to goyng, for we ſchulen not fynde him? wher he is to goyinge in to ſcateringe, 'or diſtroyinge, of heþene men, and 'is to techinge 'heþene men?
xxxvi What is þis word, which he ſeide, ȝe ſchulen ſeke me, and ȝe ſchulen not fynde; and where I am, ȝe mown not come?
xxxvii Forſoþ in þe laſte day of þe grete feeste, Jhesu ſtood, and crieđe, ſeyinge, If ony man þirſtiþ, come he to me, and drynke he.
xxxviii He þat bileueþ in to me, as þe scripture ſeiþ, Flodis of quyke watir ſchulen flowe of his wombe.
xxxix Soþli he ſeide þis þing of þe Hooly Gooſt, whom men bileuyng in to him weren to takinge; forſoþ þe Spirit was not ȝit ȝouun, for Jhesus was not ȝit glorified.
xl Perfore of þat cumpayne, whanne þei hadden herde þes wordis of him, þei feiden, ȝis is verili a prophete.
xli Oþere feiden, ȝis is Crift. Forſoþ ſumme feiden, Wher Crift comeþ fro Galilee?
xlii Wher þe scripture ſeiþ not, þat of þe feed of Dauȝþ, and of þe caſtel of Bethleem, where Dauȝþ was, Crift comeþ?
xliii And so diſfencioun is maad in þe cumpayne for him.
xliv Forſoþe ſumme of hem wolden take him, but no man fente hondis on him.
xlv Perfore þe mynistris camen to þe biſchopis and Pharifees, and þei feiden to hem, Whi brouȝte ȝe not him?
xlvi þe mynistris anſweriden, Neuere man ſpak fo, as þis ſpekiþ.
xlvii Perfore þe Farifees anſweriden to hem, 'Wher and ȝe be diſceyued?
xlviii wher ony of þe princes bileueden in to him, or of þe Pharifees?

- xlix But þis cumpany of peple, þat knew not þe lawe, ben curſid.
i Nycodeme ſeip to hem, he þat cam to him in nyȝte, þat was oon of hem.
ii Wher oure lawe demeþ a man, no but 'firſt it 'haue herd of him, and knowe what he doþ?
iii Pei anſweriden, and feiden to him, Wher and þou ert a man of Galilee? Seke þou scripturis, and se þou, for a prophete ryſip not of Galilee.
iv And þei turnedyn aȝen, ech in to his hows.

Capitulum VIII.

- i Forſoþe Jhesu wente in to þe mount of Olyuete.
ii And erly eft he cam in to þe temple; and al þe peple cam to him; and he ſittinge tauȝte hem.
iii Soþli ſcribis and Pharifees bryngen a womman take in auowtrie, and ſettiden hir in þe middil, iv and feiden to him, Maifir, þis womman is now takun in auoutrie.
v Forſoþ in þe lawe Moyfes comaundide vs for to ſtoone ſiche; þerfore what ſeift þou?
vi Soþli þei feiden þis þing temptinge him, þat þei myȝten accufe him. Forſoþe Jhesu bowinge 'him ſilf doun, wrot wiþ þe fyngir in þe erþe.
vii Soþly whanne þei 'laſtiden, or contynuede, axinge him, he reiſide him ſilf, and feide to hem, Which of þou þat is wiþ oute fynne, firſt ſende a ſtoon in to hir.
viii And eft he bowinge doun him ſilf, wroot in þe erþe.
ix Soþli þei heeringe þes þingis, wenten awey oon aftir an oþer, þei bigynnynge at þe eldere men; and Jhesu dwelte aloone, and þe womman ſtondinge in þe myddel.
x Soþli Jhesu reiſyngē him ſilf feide to hir, Womman, wher ben þei þat accuſiden þee? no man dampnede
þee. 'þe which ſeyde, No man, Lord.
xi Jhesu ſeip to hir, Neþer I ſchal dampne þee; go þou, and now aftirward nyle þou 'do fynne.
xii þerfore eft Jhesu ſpak to hem, ſeyinge, I am þe liȝt of þe world; he þat ſueþ me, walkiþ not in derkneſſis, but ſchal haue þe liȝt of lyf.
xiii þerfore þe Pharifees feiden, þou beriſt witnessiſg of þi ſilf, þi witnessiſg is not trewe.
xiv Jhesu anſweride, and feide to hem, And if I bere witnessiſg of my ſilf, my witnessiſg is trewe; for I woot fro whennis I cam, and whidur I go. Forſoþe ȝe witen not fro whennus I come, or whidur I go.
xv Forſoþ ȝe demen vp þe fleiſch, I deme not ony man; xvi and if I deme, my dom is trewe, for I am not aloone, but I and þe fadir þat ſente me.
xvii And in ȝoure lawe it is writun, for þe witnessiſg of twei men is trewe.
xviii I am, þat bere witnessiſg of my ſilf, and þe fadir þat ſente me, beriþ witnessiſg of me. xix þerfore þei feiden to him, Wher is þi fadir? Jhesu anſweride, Neþer ȝe witen, 'or knownen, me, neþer ȝe

- witen my fadir; if ȝe wisten me, perauenture and ȝe ſchulden wite my fader.
xx Jhesu ſpak þes wordis in þe treſerie, techinge in þe temple; and no man took him, for his our cam not ȝit.
xi þerfore eft Jhesu ſeide to hem, Lo! I go, and ȝe ſchulen feche me, and ȝe ſchulen deye in ȝoure synne; whidur I go, ȝe mown not come.
xxii þerfore þe Jewis feiden, Wher he ſchal fle him ſilf, for he ſeip, Whidur I go, ȝe mown not come?
xxiii And he ſeide to hem, ȝe ben of byneþe, I am of aboue; ȝe ben of þis world, I am not of þis world.
xxiv þerfore I ſeide to ȝou, For ȝe ſchulen dye in ȝoure synnes; forſoþe if ȝe ſchulen not bileue for I am, ȝe ſchulen deye in ȝoure synne.
xxv þerfore þei feiden to him, Who art þou? Jhesu ſeide to hem, þe bigynnyng, 'or þe firſte of al þing, which and ſpeke to ȝou.
xxvi I haue many þingis for to ſpeke, and deme of ȝou, but he þat ſente me is ſoþfast; and I ſpeke in þe world þes þingis, þat I herde of him.
xxvii And þei knewen not, for he ſeide his fadir God.
xxviii þerfore Jhesu ſeip to hem, Whanne 'ȝe han reyſid mannis fone, þanne ȝe ſchulen knowe, for I am, and of my ſilf I do no þing; but as my fadir tauȝte me, I ſpeke þes þingis.
xxix And he þat ſente me is wiþ me, and lefte 'not me aloone; for I do euere þo þingis, þat ben pleauant to
him.
xxx Him ſpekinge þes þingis, many men bileueden in to
him.
xxxi þerfore Jhesu ſeide to þe Jewis, þat bileueden in to him, If ȝe ſchulen dwelle in my word, verili ȝe ſchulen be my diſciplis;
xxii and ȝe ſchulen knowe þe treuþe, and þe treuþe ſchal delyuere ȝou.
xxiii þerfore þe Jewis anſweriden to him, We ben þe seed of Abraham, and to no man we 'ſeruyden euere; hou ſeift þou, ȝe ſchulen be free?
xxviii Jhesu anſweride to hem, Treuli, treuli, I ſeie to ȝou, for ech man þat doþ fynne, is þe ſeruaunt of synne.
xxv Soþli þe ſeruaunt dwelliþ not in þe hous, into wiþouten ende, þe fone dwelliþ into wiþouten ende.
xxvi Perfor if þe fone ſchal delyuere ȝou, verili ȝe ſchulen be free.
xxvii I woot for ȝe ben Abrahams fones, but ȝe ſeken for to fle me, for my word takiþ not in ȝou.
xxviii And I ſpeke þo þingis, þat I ſyȝ at my fadir; and ȝe don þo þingis, þat ȝe ſyȝen at ȝoure fadir.
xxix Pei anſweriden, and feiden to him, Abraham is oure fadir. Jhesu ſeip to hem, If ȝe ben þe fones of Abraham, 'do ȝe þe werkis of Abraham.
xi Soþli now ȝe ſeken to fle me, a man þat haue ſpoken to ȝou treuþe, þat I herde of God; Abraham dide not þis þing.

xli ȝe don þe workis of ȝoure fadir. And so þei seiden to him, We ben not born of fornycacioun; we han o fadir, God.

xlii Ȥerfore Jhesu seide to hem, If God were ȝoure fadir, soþli ȝe schulden loue me; forþoþe I 'procedide, or cam forþ, of God, and cam; neþer soþli I cam of my sifl, but he sente me.

xliii Whi knownen ȝe not my speche? for ȝe mown not heere my word.

xliii ȝe ben of þe fadir, þe deuel, and ȝe wolen do þe defyris of ȝoure fadir. He was a mansleere fro þe bigynnyng, and in treuþe he stood not; for treuþe is not in him. Whanne he spekiþ a lesinge, he spekiþ of his owne þingis; for he is a lyiere, and fadir of it.

xlv Soþeli for I seye treuþe, ȝe bileuen not to me.

xlivi Who of ȝou schal reprove me of synne? if I seie treuþe, whi bileuen ȝe not to me?

xlvii He þat is of God, heerip þe wordis of God; Ȥerfore ȝe heeren not, for ȝe ben not of God.

xlviii Ȥerfore þe Jewis answeriden, and seiden, Wher we seyn not wel, for þou art a Samaritan, and haſt a deuel?

xlix Jhesu answeride, and seide, I haue not a deuel, but I honoure my fadir, and ȝe han vnhonourid me.

l Forþoþe I feke not my glorie; þer is, þat 'sekiþ, and demeþ.

li Treuli, treuli, I seie to ȝou, if ony man schal kepe my word, he schal not 'se, or taaste, deeþ in to wiþ outen ende.

lii Ȥerfor þe Jewis seiden, Now we han knownen, for þou haſt a deuel. Abraham is deed, and þe prophetis, and þou seist, If ony man schal kepe my word, he schal not taaste deeþ in to wiþ outen ende.

liii Wher þou ert more þan oure fadir Abraham, þat is deed, and þe prophetis ben deede; whom makist þou þi sifl?

liiii Jhesu answeride, If I glorifie my sifl, my glorie is noȝt; my fadir is, þat glorifiþ me, whom ȝe seyn, for he is ȝoure God.

lv And ȝe han not knownen him, forþoþ I haue knowe him; and if I schal seye for I 'woot not him, I shal be a lyere lyk to ȝou; but I woot him, and I kepe his word.

lvii Abraham, ȝoure fader, 'ful out ioyede, 'þat he schulde se my day; and he syȝ, and he ioyede.

lviii Ȥerfore þe Jewis seiden to him, ȝou haſt not ȝit fifty ȝeer, and haſt þou seyn Abraham?

lviiii Ȥerfore Jhesu seide to hem, Treuli, treuli, I seye to ȝou, bifore þat Abraham was maad, I am.

lx Ȥerfore þei token stoones, þat þei schulden caste in to him; soþli Jhesu hidde him, and wente out of þe temple.

Capitulum IX.

i And Jhesu paffinge, syȝ a man blynd fro þe birþe.

ii And his disciplis axiden him, Raby, 'þat is, Maiftir, who synnede, þis man, or his fadir and modir, þat he schulde be born blynd?

iii Jhesu answeride, Neber þis man synnede, neþer his fadir and moder; but þat þe werkis of God be schewid in hym.

iv It bihoueþ me for to worche þe werkis of him þat sente me, þe while þe day is; þe nyȝt schal come, whanne no man may worche.

v Hou longe I am in þe world, I am þe liȝt of þe world.

vi Whanne he hadde seid þes þingis, he spette in to erþe, and made cley of þe spotle, and leyde, 'or bawmede, þe cley on his yȝen, vii and seide to him, Go, and be þou wayschen in þe watir, 'or cisterne, of Siloe, þat is interpretid, Sent. Ȥerfore he wente, and waſchide, and cam seynge.

viii And so neiȝeboris, and þei þat haſten seyn hym byfore, for he was a beggere, seiden, Wher þis is not he, þat fat, and beggide?

ix Opere men seiden, þis it is; opere men forþoþe, Nay, but it is a lyk of him.

x Forþoþ he seide, For I am. Ȥerfore þei seiden to him, How ben þin yȝen openyd 'to þee?

xi He answeride, 'Pe ilke man, þat is seid Jhesu, made cley, and anoyntide myn yȝen, and seide to me, Go þou to þe watir, 'or cisterne, of Siloe, and waſche; and I wente, and waſchide, and fyȝ.

xii And þei seiden to him, Wher is he? He seiþ, I woot not.

xiii Ȥei ledien him þat was blynd to þe Pharisees.

xiv Forþoþ it was saboth, whanne Jhesu made cley, and openyde his yȝen.

xv Eft Pharisees axiden him, how he haſten seyn. Soþly he seide to hem, He puttide to me cley on þe yȝen; and I waſchide, and I se.

xvi Ȥerfore summe of Pharisees seiden, ȝis man is not of God, for he kepiþ not þe saboth. Opere men seyden, How may a man synnere do þes syngnys, 'or myraclis? And dyuyſioun was among hem.

xvii Ȥerfore þei seyn eftfoone to þe blynd man, What seist þou of him, þat openyde þin yȝen? Soþli he seide, For he is a prophete.

xviii Ȥerfore Jewis bileueden not of him, for he was blynd, and haſten seyn, til þei clepiden his fadir and modir, þat haſten seyn.

xix And þei axiden hem, seyinge, 'Is þis ȝoure fone, whom ȝe seyn, for he is born blynd? hou Ȥerfore seeþ he now?

xx His fadir and modir answeriden to hem, and seyden, We witen, for þis is oure fone, and for he is born blynd;

xxi soþli how he seeþ now, we witen not, or who openyde his yȝen, we witen not; axe ȝe him, he haþ age, speke he of him sifl.

xxii His fadir and modir seiden þes þingis, for þei dredden Jewis; forþoþ now þe Jewis 'haſten conspirid, þat if ony man knowlechide him Crist, he schulde be don out of þe synagoge.

 xxiii Perfore his fadir and modir seiden, For he haþ age, axe ȝe him.
 xxiv Perfore eftsoone þei clepiden þe man, þat was blynd, and seyden to him, ȝyue þou glorie to God; we witen, for þis man is a synner.
 xxv Perfore he seide, If he is a synner, I woot not; o þing I woot, for whanne I was blynd, now I fe.
 xxvi Perfore þei seiden to him, What dide he to þee?
 how openyde he þin yȝen?
 xxvii He answeride to hem, I seide to ȝou now, and ȝe herden; what wolen ȝe eftsoone heere? wher and ȝe wolen be maad his disciplis?
 xxviii Perfore þei `wariden, or cursiden, him, and seiden, Be þou his disciple; we ben disciplis of Moyses. xxix We witen, for God spak to Moyses; forþoþ we witen noȝt þis, of whennis he is.
 xxx Þe ilke man answeride, and seide to hem, Forþoþ in bis þing is wonderful, þat ȝe witen not of whennis he is, and he haþ opened myn yȝen.
 xxxi Soþli we witen, for God heerip not synneris, but if ony man is worshiper of God, and doþ his wille, hym he heerip.
 xxxii Fro þe world it is not herd, þat ony man openyde þe yȝen of a blynd born man; xxxiii no but þis were of God, he myȝte not do ony þing.
 xxxiv Þei answeriden, and seiden to him, þou art al boren in synnes, and `techist þou vs? And þei castiden `out him.
 xxxv Jhesu herde, for þei `han cast `out him; and whanne he hadde founden him, he feide to him, Bileuest þou in to þe sone of God?
 xxxvi He answeride, and seide, Lord, who is he, þat I bileue in to him?
 xxxvii And Jhesu seide to him, And þou haſt seyn him, and he it is, þat spekiþ wiþ þee. xxxviii And he feide, Lord, I bileue. And he fallinge doun, worshipide him.
 xxxix Perfore Jhesu seide to him, I cam in to þis world, in to dom, þat þei þat seen not, se, and þei þat seen, be maad blynde.
 xl And summe of þe Pharisees herden, þat weren wiþ him, and þei seiden to him, Wher and we ben blynde?
 xli Jhesu seide to hem, If ȝe weren blynde, ȝe schulden not haue synne; but now ȝe seyn, For we seen, ȝoure synne dwelliþ.

Capitulum X.

- i Treuli, treuli, I seie to ȝou, he þat comeþ not in by þe dore in to þe fold of þe scheep, but stiȝeþ vp by anoþer weye, is nyȝt þef and day þef.
- ii Forþoþ he þat entriþ by þe dore, is þe schepherde of þe scheep.

iii To þis þe porter openeþ, and þe scheep heeren his vois, and he clepiþ his owne scheep by name, and lediþ out hem.
 iv And whanne he haþ sent out his owne scheep, he goþ bifore hem, and þe scheep suwen him; for þei knownen his vois.
 v Soþli þei suwen not an alien, but fleeñ fro him; for þei han not knownen þe voys of alyens.
 vi Jhesu seide to hem þis prouerbe; forþoþ þei knewen not what he spak to hem.
 vii Perfore Jhesu seide to hem eftsoone, Treuli, treuli, I seie to ȝou, for I am þe dore of þe scheep.
 viii Alle how manye euere camen, ben nyȝt þeues and day þeues, but þe scheep herden not hem.
 ix I am þe dore. If ony man schal entre by me, he schal be saued; and he schal go yn, and schal go out, and he schal fynde lesewisi.
 x A niȝt þeef comeþ not, no but þat he stele, and fle, and leese; I cam, þat þei haue lyf, and haue more plenteuously.
 xi I am a good schepherde; a good schepherde ȝyueþ his `soule, þat is, his lyf, for his scheep. xii Forþoþ a `marchaunt, or hyred hyne, and þat is not schepherde, whos `ben not þe scheep his owne, seeþ a wolf comynge, and he leeueþ, `or forfakeþ, þe scheep, and fleeþ; and þe wolf rauyschip, and disparlip, `or scaterip, þe scheep.
 xiii Forþoþ þe marchaunt fleeþ, for he is `a marchaunt, and it perteyneþ not to him of þe scheep.
 xiv I am a good schepherde, and I knowe my scheep, and my scheep knownen me.
 xv As my fadir haþ knowun me, and I knowe þe fadir;
 and I putte my lyf for my scheep.
 xvi And I haue opere scheep, þat ben not of þis folde, and it bihoueþ me for to `leede hem to, and þei schulen heere my vois; and it schal be maad o fold and o schepherde.
 xvii Perfore þe fadir loueþ me, for I putte my soule, þat eftsoone I take it.
 xviii No man takip it fro me, but I putte it fro my filf. I haue power for to putte it, and I haue power for to take it eftloone. Þis maundement I haue take of my fadir.
 xix And so diffencioun was maad among þe Jewis for þes wordis.
 xx Forþoþ manye of hem seiden, He haþ a deuel, and maddiþ, `or wexiþ wood; what heeren ȝe him?
 xxi Opere men seiden, þes wordis beþ not of a man hauyng a fend. Wher a deuel may opene þe yȝen of blynde men?
 xxii Forþoþ newe feeftis of halwing of þe temple ben maad in Jerufalem, and it was wyntir.
 xxiii And Jhesu walkide in þe temple, in þe porche of Salomon.
 xxiv Perfore Jewis enyyrowneden him, and seiden to him, Hou longe dost þou a wey oure soule? if þou ert Crist, seie to vs opynly.

xxv Jhesu answeride to hem, I speke to ȝou, and ȝe bileuen not; þe workis þat I do in þe name of my fadir, þes beren witnessiŋ of me.
 xxvi But and ȝe bileuen not, for ȝe ben not of my scheep.
 xxvii My scheepe heeren my vois, and I knowe hem,
 and þei suen me.
 xxviii And I ȝyue to hem euerelaſting lyf, and þei schulen not periſche in to wiþ ouen ende, and ony man schal not rauysche hem of myn hond.
 xxix þat þing þat my fadir ȝaf to me, is more þan alle;
 þerfore no man may rauysche fro my fadris hond.
 xxx 'I and þe fadir ben o þing.
 xxxi Jewis token vp stoones, for to stoone hym 'to þe deeþ.
 xxxii Jhesu answeride to hem, I haue ſchewid to ȝou manye goode werkis of my fadir, for which werk of hem stoonen ȝe me?
 xxxiv þe Jewis answeriden to him, We ſtoonan 'not þee of good work, but of blaſphemye, and for þou, ſiþen þou art a man, makist þi filf God.
 xxxvii Jhesu anſweride to hem, Wher it is not writun in ȝoure lawe, For I feide, ȝe ben goddis? xxxvi If he feide hem goddis, to whiche þe word of God is maad, and þe scripture, which þe fadir halwide, and ſente in to þe world, may not be vndon, xxxvii and ȝe feyn, for I blaſpheme, for I feide, I am Goddis ſone?
 xxxviii If I do not þe workis of my fadir, nyle ȝe bileue
 to me;
 xxxix loþli if I do, þouȝ ȝe wolen not bileue to me,
 'bileue ȝe to þe workis; þat ȝe knowe and bileue, for þe fadir is in me, and I in þe fadir.
 xl Perfore þei ſouȝten for to take him, and he wente out of her hondis.
 xli And he wente eftſoone ouer Jordan, in to þat place where John was first baptiſinge, and he dwelte þere. xlii And manye camen to him, and feiden, Forſoþ John dide no 'ſigne, or myracle; forſoþ alle þingis what euere John feide of þis, weren ſoþe.
 xliii And manye bileueden in to him.

Capitulum XI.

i Forſoþ þer was fum fyk man, Lazarus of Bethanye, of þe castel of Mary and Martha, his ſistris.
 ii Forſoþ Mary it was, which anoyntide þe Lord wiþ oynement, and wipte his feet wiþ his heeris, whos broþer Lazarus was fyk.
 iii Perfore his ſistris ſenten to him, ſeyinge, Lord, lo! he whom þou louest, is fyk.
 iv Forſoþ Jhesu heeringe feide to hem, Þis ſickneſſe is not to þe deeþ, but for þe glorie of God, þat Goddis ſone be glorified bi it.
 v Soþli Jhesu louede Martha, and hir ſiftir Marye, and Lazarus.

vi Perfore as Jhesu herde, for he was fyk, þanne ſoþli he dwellide in þe ſame place tweye dayes.
 vii Perfore aftir þes þingis he feide to his disciplis, Go we eft in to Judee.
 viii Disciplis ſeyen to him, 'Raby, or maifir, now þe Jewis ſouȝten for to ſtoone þee, and eft 'þou goſt þidur?
 ix Jhesu answeride, Wher þer ben not twelue ouris of þe day? If ony man 'ſchal wandre in þe day, he hirtiþ not, for he ſeep þe liȝt of þis world.
 x Soþli if he ſchal wandre in þe nyȝt, he hirtiþ, for liȝt is not in him.
 xi 'He ſeip þes þingis, and aftir þes þingis he ſeip to hem, Lazarus, oure frend, ſlepiþ, but I go for to reyſe him fro ſlepe.
 xii Perfore his disciplis feiden, Lord, if he ſlepiþ, he ſchal be ſaf.
 xiii Forſoþ Jhesu hadde ſeid of his deeþ; but þei geſſiden, þat he feide of þe ſlepinge of ſleep.
 xiv þanne perfore Jhesu feide to hem opynli, Lazarus is deed;
 xv and I enioye for ȝou, þat ȝe beleue, for I was not þere; but go we to him.
 xvi Perfore Thomas, þat is ſeid Didymus, feide to euen disciplis, And go we, þat we deye wiþ him.
 xvii And ſo Jhesu cam, and fond him hauynge now foure dayes in þe graue.
 xviii Soþli Bethanye was bifydis Jerufalem, as fiftene furlongis.
 xix Forſoþ manye of Jewis camen to Marie and Martha, for to comforte hem of her broþer.
 xx Perfore as Martha herde, for Jhesu cam, ſhe renneþ to him; Marie forſoþ ſat at hom.
 xxi Perfore Martha feide to Jhesu, Lord, if þou haddiſt be here, my broþer hadde not be deed.
 xxii But and now I woot, þat what euere þingis þou ſchalt axe of God, God ſchal ȝyue to þee.
 xxiii Jheſus ſeip to hir, Pi broþer ſchal ryſe aȝen.
 xxiv Martha ſeip to him, I woot, for he ſchal ryſe aȝen in þe aȝenryſing in þe laſte day.
 xxv Jhesu ſeip to hir, I am aȝenryſing and lyf; he þat bileueþ in me, ȝe, if he ſchal be deed, ſchal lyue; xxvi and ech þat lyueþ, and bileueþ in me, ſchal not deie wiþ ouen ende.
 xxvii Bileuyſt þou þis þing? She ſeip to him, 'Forſoþ, or ȝe, Lord, I haue bileuyd, for þou art Crift, þe ſone of quyk God, þat haſt come in to þis world.
 xxviii And whanne ſhe hadde feide þis þing, ſhe wente, and clepide Marie, hir ſiftir, in silence, 'or ſtilneſſe, ſeyinge, þe maifir comeþ, and clepiþ þee.
 xxix She, as ſhe herde, roos anon, and cam to him.
 xxx Soþli Jhesu cam not ȝit in to þe castel, but he was ȝit in þat place, wher Martha hadde comen aȝens him.
 xxxi Perfore þe Jewis þat weren wiþ hir in þe hous, and comfortiden hir, whanne þei ſiȝen Marie, for foone ſhe roos, and wente out, sueden hir, seyinge, For she goþ to þe graue, for to wepe þere.

xxxii Forsoþe Marie, whanne she hadde seyn wher Jhesu was, seyng him felde to his feet, and seide to him, Lord, if þou haddist be here, my brother hadde not be deed.

xxxiii Perfore as Jhesu siȝ hir wepynge, and þe Jewis þat weren wiþ hir wepinge, he made noysē in spirit, and troublide him sīlf, xxxiv and seide, Wher han ȝe putt him? þei seyen to him, Lord, come and se.

xxxv And Jhesu wepte.

xxxvi Perfore þe Jewis seiden, Lo! hou he louede him.

xxxvii Forsoþe summe of hem seiden, Wher þis man þat openyd þe yȝen of þe born blynde, miȝte not make þat and þis deiede not?

xxxviii Perfore Jhesu eft makynge noysē in him sīlf, cam to þe graue. Forsoþe þer was a denne, and a stoon was put þeron.

xxxix Jhesu seiȝ, Take ȝe a wey þe stoon. Martha, þe fistir of him þat was deed, seiȝ to him, Lord, he stynkiȝ now, soþli he is of foure dayes.

xli Jhesus seiȝ to hir, 'Wher I haue not feid to þee, for if þou schalt bileue, þou schalt se þe glorie of God?

xlii Perfore þei tooken a wey þe stoon. Forsoþe þe yȝen reyſid vpward, Jhesu seide, Fadir, I do þankyngis to þee, for þou herdift me;

xliii forsoþ I wiste, for þou euere hearest me, but for þe peple þat stondiȝ aboute, I seide, þat þei bileue, for þou haſt ſent me.

xlii Whanne he hadde leid þes þingis, he crieðe wiþ greet vois, Lazarus, come 'þou out.

xliii And anoon he þat was deed, cam forþ, bounden þe hondis and feet wiþ bondis, and his face was boundun wiþ a fudarie, or fweting cloþ. Jhesu seiȝ to hem, Vnbynde ȝe him, and 'ſuffre ȝe 'go away.

xlv Perfore manye of þe Jewis þat camen to Marie and Martha, and fyȝen what þingis he dide, bileueden in to him.

xlii Soþli summe of hem wenten to Pharisees, and feiden to hem, what þingis he dide.

xlvii Perfore þe bischops and Pharisees gedriden a counceil aȝens Jhesu, and feiden, What don we? for þis man doȝ 'many signes, or myraclis.

xlviii If we leeue him þus, alle men schulen bileue in to him; and Romayns schulen come, and schulen take oure place and flok.

xlix Forsoþ oon of hem, Cayfas by name, whanne he was bischop of þat ȝeer, feide to hem, ȝe witen no þing, l neþir þenken, for it spediȝ to ȝou, þat o man deie for þe peple, and þat alle folk perische not.

li Forsoþ he feide not þis þing of him sīlf, but whanne he was bischop of þat ȝeer, he prophesiede, for Jhesu was to deyinge for þe folk, liii and not oonly for þe folk, but þat he schulde gedere in to oon þe lones of God þat weren scaterid.

liii Perfore fro þat day þei þouȝten for to fle him.

liiii Perfore Jhesu walkide not now opynli at þe Jewis; but he wente in to a cuntree bifydis þe desert, in to a citee, þat is seid Effrem, and þere he dwelte wiþ his disciplis.

lv Forsoþe þe pask of Jewis was next, and many of þe cuntree stijeden vp to Jerufalem þe day before pask, for to halowe hem selue.

lii Perfore þei fouȝten Jhesu, and spaken to gidere, stondinge in þe temple, What gessen ȝe, for he comeþ not to þe feeste day?

lvii Forsoþe þe bischopis and Pharisees hadden ȝouun a maundement, þat if ony man knew wher he is, he schewe, þat þei taken hym.

Capitulum XII.

i Therfore Jhesu bifore ſixe dayes of pask cam to Bethanye, wher Lazarus was deed, whom Jhesu reyſide.

ii Forsoþ þei maden to him a ſopere þere, and Martha mynistrade to hym; Lazarus forſoþe was oon of men ſittinge at þe mete wiþ him.

iii Perfore Marie took a pound of 'oynement ſpikenard, 'or trewe narde, precious, and anoyntide þe feet of Jhesu, and wipte his feete wiþ her heeris; and þe hous 'is fillid of þe ſauour of oygnement.

iv Perfore Judas Scarioth, oon of his disciplis, þat was to bitraynge hym, feide, v Whi 'þis oygnement is not feeld for þre hundrid pens, and is ȝouun to nedy men?

vi Forsoþ he feide þis þing, not for it perteyned to him of nedy men, but for he was a þeef, and he hauyngе purſis baar þo þingis þat weren ſent.

vii Perfore Jhesu feide, Suffre ȝe hir, þat in to þe day of my biryng ſhe kepe þat; viii forſoþe ȝe ſchulen euer haue pore men wiþ ȝou, soþli ȝe ſchulen not euere haue me.

ix Perfore myche cumpany of þe Jewis knewe, þat Jhesu was þere; and þei camen, not oonly for Jhesu, but for to ſe Lazarus, whom he reyſede fro 'deede men.

x Forſoþe þe princes of preſtis þouȝten for to fle Lazarus, xi for manye of þe Jewis for hym wente awei, and beleueden in to Jhesu.

xii Forſoþe on þe morwe a myche cumpany, þat cam togidere at þe feeste day, whanne þei hadden herd, for Jhesu comeþ to Jerufalem, xiii tooken braunchis of palmes, and camen forþ aȝens him, and crieden, Osanna, bleſſid is he, þat comeþ in þe name of þe Lord, 'king of Israel.

xiv And Jhesu fond a litil aſſe, and ſat on him, as it is writun, xv Be douȝtir of Syon, nyle þou drede; lo! þi king comeþ, fittinge on þe colt of a sche asse.

 xvi His disciplis knewen not first þes þingis, but whanne Jhesu is glorified, þanne þei recordiden, or hadden mynde, for þes þingis weren writen of him, and þes þingis þei diden to him.
 xvii Perfore þe cumpany baar witnesſing, þat was wiþ him, whanne he clepide Lazarus fro þe graue, and reyſide him fro 'deede men.
 xviii Perfore and þe cumpany cam metinge to him, for þei herden 'him to haue don þis signe.
 xix Perfore þe Pharisees seiden to hem selue, ȝe seen, for we profiten no þing; lo! al þe world wente aftir
 him.
 xx Forsoþe þer weren summe heþen men, of hem þat hadden stȝed vp for to worſchipe in þe feeste day.
 xxi Perfore þes camen to Philip, þat was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and preieden him, seyinge, Sire, we wolen fe Jhesu.
 xxii Philip comeþ, and seiþ to Andrew; eft Andrew and Philip seiden to Jhesu.
 xxiii Soþli Jhesu anſweride to hem, seyinge, Þe our comeþ, þat mannis sone be clarified.
 xxiv Treuli, treuli, I seie to ȝou, no but a corn of whete fallinge in to þe erþe schal be deed, it dwelliþ aloone; soþli if it schal be deed, it bringiþ moche fruyt.
 xxv He þat loueþ his soule, 'þat is, lyf, schal leefe it;
 and he þat hatiþ his soule, 'þat is, lyf, in þis world, kepiþ it in to euerelaſting lyf.
 xxvi If ony man seruip to me, sue he me; and where I am, þere and my mynyſtre, 'or seruant, schal be. If ony man schal myniste to me, my fadir schal worſchipe
 him.
 xxvii Now my soule is troublid, and what schal I seye?
 Fadir, saue me fro þis our; but for þat þing I cam in to þis our; fadir, clarifie þi name.
 xxviii Perfore a vois cam fro heuene, seyinge, And I haue clarifie, and eft I schal clarifie.
 xxix Perfore þe cumpany þat stood, and herde, seide, þundir to be maad; opere men seiden, an aungel spak to him.
 xxx Jhesu anſweride, and seide, ȝis vois cam not for me, but for ȝou.
 xxxi Now is dom of þe world, now þe prince of þis world schal be cast out.
 xxxii And if I schal be enhaunſid fro þe erþe, I schal drawe alle þingis to my ſilf.
 xxxiii Soþli 'he seide þis þing, ſignifyng bi what deeþ he was to deyng.
 xxxiv Þe cumpany anſweride to him, We han herd of þe lawe, for Crist dwelliþ 'in to wiþ outen ende; and hou feift þou, It bihoueþ mannis sone for to be arerid?
 Who is þis mannis sone?
 xxxv Perfore Jhesu seiþ to hem, ȝit a litil liȝt is in ȝou;
 walke ȝe, þe while ȝe han liȝt, þat derkneſſis catche

'not ȝou; and he þat wandriþ in derkneſſis, woot nere whidur he goþ.
 xxxvi Þe while ȝe han liȝt, 'byleue ȝe 'in to liȝt, þat ȝe be þe fones of liȝt. Jhesu spak þes þingis, and wente, and hidde him fro hem.
 xxxvii Soþli whanne he hadde don so manye ſigues, 'or myraclis, byfore hem, þei bileueden not in to him; xxxviii þat þe word of Yſaie, þe prop̄hete, ſchulde be fillid, which he feide, Lord, who bileuede to oure heering, and to whom is þe arm of 'þe Lord ſchewid?
 xxxix Perfore þei myȝten not bileue, for eft Yſaye feide, xl He haþ blyndid her ȝyzen, and he haþ 'endurid, or maad hard, þe herte of hem, þat þei fe not wiþ ȝyzen, and vndirſtonde not wiþ herte; and þat þei be conuertid, 'or al turned, and I heele hem.
 xli Yſaie ſeid þes þingis, whanne he syȝ þe glorie of hym, and ſpak of him.
 xlii Neþeles and of þe princes manye bileueden in to him, but for þe Farifees þei knowlechiden not, þat þei ſchulden not be caſt out of þe synagogue; xliii forſoþe þei loueden þe glorie of men, more þan þe glorie of God.
 xliv Forſoþe Jhesu cryede, and ſeide, He þat bileueþ in to me, bileueþ not in to me, but in to him þat ſente me.
 xlv He þat ſeeþ me, ſeeþ him þat ſente me.
 xlvi I liȝt cam in to þe world, þat ech man þat bileueþ in to me, dwelle not in derkneſſis.
 xlvii And if ony man ſchal heere my wordis, and 'ſchal not kepe, I deme 'not him; forſoþ I cam not, þat I deem þe world, but þat I make þe world saf. xlviii He þat diſpiȝþ me, and takiþ not my wordis, haþ him þat ſchal iuge him; þe word þat I haue ſpoken, þat ſchal deme him in þe laſte day.
 xlix For I haue noȝt ſpokun of my ſilf, but þe fadir, þat ſente me, ȝaf to me a maundement, what I ſchal ſeie, and what I ſchal ſpeke.
 l And I woot, for his maundement is euerelaſting lyf; perfore þo þingis þat I ſpeke, as þe fadir ſeide to me, fo
 I ſpeke.

Capitulum XIII.

i Forſoþe bifore þe feeste day of pask Jhesu witinge, for his our comeþ, þat he paſſe of þis world to þe fadir, whanne he hadde loued hiſe þat weren in þe world, in to þe ende he louede hem.
 ii And þe ſouper maad, whanne þe deuel hadde ſent now in to þe herte of Judas, 'þat Judas of Symount Scarioth ſchulde bitraye him, iii he witinge for þe fadir ȝaf alle þingis to him in to hondis, and þat he wente out fro God, and goþ to God, iv riſiþ fro þe ſouper, and puttiþ his cloþis; and whanne he hadde takun a lynnen cloþ, he bifore girde him.
 v Aftrward he ſente water in to a bafyn, and bigan for to waſche disciplis feet, and to wype wiþ þe lynnen cloþ, wiþ which he was bifore gird.

vi Perfore he cam to Symount Petre, and Petre seiþ to him, Lord, 'waischift þou to me þe feet?
vii Jhesu answeride, and seide to him, What þingis I do, þou woost not now; forsoþe þou schalt wite afterward.
viii Petre seiþ to him, þou schalt not waische to me þe feet, in to wiþ outer ende. Jhesu ansWERIDE to him, If I schal not waische þee, þou schalt not haue part wiþ me.
ix Symount Petre seiþ to him, Lord, not oonly my feet, but and þe hondis and þe heed.
x Jhesu seide to him, He þat is waifchun, haþ no nede no but þat he waische þe feet, but he is clene al; and ȝe ben clene, but not alle.
xi Forsoþe he wiste, who schulde bitraye him; þerfore he seide, ȝe ben not clene alle.
xii Perfore aftir þat he waischide þe feet of hem, he took his clopis; and whanne he hadde restid ajen, eft he seide to hem, 'ȝe witen what I haue done to ȝou.
xiii ȝe clepen me maistir and lord, and ȝe feyn wel; forsoþ I am.
xiv Perfore if I, lord and maistir, haue waische ȝoure feet, and ȝe 'owen to waische anoper þe toþeris feet;
xv for I haue ȝouun ensaumple to ȝou, þat as I haue don to ȝou, so and ȝe do.
xvi Treuli, treuli, I seie to ȝou, þe feruaunt is not more ban his lord, neijer apostle is more þan he þat sente him.
xvii If ȝe witen þes þingis, ȝe schulen be bleffid, if ȝe schulen do hem.
xviii I seie not of alle ȝou, I woot whiche I haue chosun; but þat þe scripture be fillid, He þat etiþ my breed, schal reyse his heele aȝens me.
xix Treuli, treuli, I seie to ȝou, bifore it be don, þat whanne it 'schal be don, 'ȝe bileue for I am.
xx Treuli, treuli, I seye to ȝou, he þat takeþ whom euere I schal sende, receyueþ me; forsoþe he þat receyueþ me, receyueþ him þat sente me.
xxi Whanne Jhesu hadde seid þes þingis, he was troblid 'in spirit, and witnesse, and seide, Treuli, treuli I seie to ȝou, oon of ȝou schal bitraye me.
xxii Perfore þe disciplis lokiden to gidere, doutynge of whom he seide.
xxiii Perfore oon of his disciplis was restinge in þe bosum of Jhesu, whom Jhesu louede.
xxiv Perfore Symount Petre bekenyde to him, and seiþ to him, Who is it, of which he seiþ?
xxv And so whanne he hadde restid aȝen on þe brest of Jhesu, he seiþ to him, Lord, who is it?
xxvi Jhesu answeride, He it is, to whom I schal dresse breed dipped yn. And whanne he had 'dippid yn breed, he ȝaf to Judas of Symount Scariot.
xxvii And aftir þe morsel, þanne Sathanas entride in to him. And Jhesu seiþ to him, What þing þou doſt, do þou funnere.
xxviii Forsoþ no man sittinge at þe mete wiste þis þing, to what þing he seide to him.

xxix Forsoþe summe geſſiden, for Judas hadde purſis, þat Jhesu hadde seid to him, Bye þou þo þingis, þat ben nedeful to vs at þe feeste day, or þat he schulde ȝyue sum þing to nedý men.

xxx Perfore whanne he hadde take þe morsel, he wente out a non; forsoþ it was nyȝt.

xxxi Perfore whanne he hadde gon out, Jhesu seide, Now mannis sone is clarified, and God is clarified in him.

xxxii If God is clarified in him, and God schal clarifie him in him ſilf, and a non he schal clarifie him.

xxxiii Litil fones, ȝit a litil I am wiþ ȝou; ȝe schulen feke me, and, as I seide to þe Jewis, Whidur I go, ȝe mown not come; and to ȝou I feie now.

xxxiv I ȝyue to ȝou a newe maundement, þat ȝe loue to gidere, as I louede ȝou, þat and ȝe loue to gedere.

xxxv In þis þing alle men schulen knowe, for ȝe ben my disciplis, if ȝe 'schulen haue loue to gidere.

xxxvi Symount Petre seiþ to hym, Lord, whidir goiſt þou? Jhesu answeride, Whidur I go, þou maist not sue me now, but þou schalt sue afterward.

xxxvii Petre seiþ to him, Whi may I not sue þee now? I schal putte my foule, 'þat is, lyf, for þee.

xxxviii Jhesu answeride, þou schalt putte þi foule, 'þat is, lyf, for me? Treuli, treuli, I seie to þee, þe koc schal not crowe, til þou schalt denye me þries.

Capitulum XIII.

i And he seiþ to his disciplis, Be not ȝoure herte disturblid, neijer drede it; ȝe bileuen in to God, and bileue ȝe in to me.

ii In þe hous of my fadir ben many dwellingis; if any þing leſſe, I hadde seid to ȝou, for I go for to make redy to ȝou a place.

iii And if I schal go, and schal make redy to ȝou a place, eftsoone I schal come, and I schal take ȝou to my ſilf, þat where I am, and ȝe be.

iv And whidur I go, ȝe witen, and ȝe witen þe wey.

v Thomas seiþ to him, Lord, we witen not whidur þou goiſt, and hou mown we wite þe weye?

vi Jhesu seiþ to him, I am weye, treuþe, and lyf; no man comeþ to þe fadir, no but by me.

vii If ȝe hadden knownen me, ſoþli ȝe hadden knownen and my fadir; and afterward ȝe schulen knowe him, and ȝe han feyn him.

viii Philip seiþ to him, Lord, ſchewe to vs þe fadir, and it suffiſþ to vs.

ix Jhesu seiþ to him, So moche tyme I am wiþ ȝou, and han ȝe not knowun me? Philip, he þat seeþ me, ſeeþ and þe fadir. Hou ſeift þou, Schewe to vs þe fadir?

x Bileuest 'not þou, for I am in þe fadir, and þe fadir is in me? I speke not of my ſilf þe wordis þat I speke to ȝou; ſoþli þe fadir dwellinge in me, he doiþ þe workis.

xi Beleue ȝe not, for I am in þe fadir, and þe fadir is in me? Ellis bileue ȝe for þilke workis.

- xii Treuli, treuli, I feie to ȝou, he þat bileueþ in to me, and he schal do þe workis þat I do; and he schal do more workis þan þes, for I go to þe fadir.
 xiii And what euere þing ȝe schulen axe þe fadir in my name, I schal do þis þing, þat þe fadir be glorified in þe sone.
 xiv If ȝe schulen axe ony þing in my name, I schal do
 it.
 xv If ȝe louen me, 'kepe ȝe my comaundementis.
 xvi And I schal preie þe fadir, and he schal ȝyue to ȝou anoþer coumfortour, xvii 'þe spirit of treube, þat he dwelle wiþ ȝou into wiþ outer ende; which spirit þe world may not take, for it seeþ 'not him, neþer woot him. Forsoþe ȝe schulen knowe him, for he schal dwelle at ȝou, and he schal be in ȝou.
 xviii I schal not leeue ȝou fadirlees, I schal come to ȝou.
 xix ȝit a litol, and þe world seeþ not 'me now; forsoþ ȝe schulen se me, for I lyue, and ȝe schulen lyue.
 xx In þat day ȝe schulen knowe, for I am in my fadir, and ȝee in me, and I in ȝou.
 xxi He þat haþ my comaundementis, and kepiþ hem, he it is þat loueþ me; soþli he þat loueþ me, schal be loued of my fadir, and I schal loue him, and I schal schewe to him my silf.
 xxii Judas seiþ to him, not he of Scarioth, Lord, what is don, for þou art to schewe to vs bi silf, and not to þe world?
 xxiii Jhefus ansWeride, and seide to him, If ony man loueþ me, he schal kepe my word; and my fadir schal loue him, and we schulen come to him, and we schulen make dwellinge at him.
 xxiv He þat loueþ me not, kepiþ not my wordis; and þe word which ȝe han herd, is not myn, but his þat sente me, þe fadris.
 xxv Pes þingis I haue spokun 'to ȝou, dwellinge at ȝou;
 xxvi forsoþ þe Hooly Gost, coumfortour, whom þe fadir schal sende in my name, he schal teche ȝou alle þingis, and schal schewe, 'or remembre, to ȝou alle þingis, what euer þingis I schal feye to ȝou.
 xxvii Pees I leeue to ȝou, my pees I ȝyue to ȝou; not as þe world ȝyueþ, I ȝyue to ȝou; be not ȝoure herte disturblid, neþer drede it.
 xxviii ȝe han herd, for I seide to ȝou, I go, and come to ȝou. If ȝe louedyne me, forsoþ ȝe schulden 'haue ioye, for I go to þe fadir, for þe fadir is more þan I. xxix And now I haue seid to ȝou, bifore it be don, þat whanne it schal be don, ȝe bileue.
 xxx Now I schal not speke many þingis to ȝou; forsoþ þe prince of þis world comeþ, and he haþ not 'ony þing in
 me.
 xxxi But þat þe world knowe, for I loue þe fadir, and as þe fadir ȝaf comaundement to me, so I do. Rylfe ȝe, go we hennis.
- i I am a verri vyne, and my fadir is an erþe tilier.
 ii Ech syoun, 'or braunche, not berynge fruit in me, he schal do 'a wey it; and ech þat beriþ fruit, he schal purge it, þat it 'more bere fruit. iii Now ȝe ben clene, for þe word þat I haue spokun to
 ȝou.
 iv Dwell ȝe in me, and I in ȝou; as a braunche may not make fruit of him silf, no but it schal dwelle in þe vyne, so neþer ȝe, no but ȝe schulen dwelle in me.
 v I am a vyne, ȝe ben þe braunchis. He þat dwelliþ in me, and I in him, þis beriþ moche fruit, for wiþ outer me ȝe mown no þing do.
 vi If ony man schal not dwelle in me, he schal be sent out as a braunche, and schal wexe drye; and þei schulen gadere him, and þei schulen sende him in to þe fier, and he brenneþ.
 vii If ȝe schulen dwelle in me, and my wordis schulen dwelle in ȝou, what euere þing ȝe schulen wilne, ȝe schulen axe, and it schal be do to ȝou.
 viii In þis þing my fadir is clarified, þat ȝe bryng mooft fruyt, and ȝe be maad my disciplis.
 ix As my fadir louede me, and I louyde ȝou; dwelle ȝe in my loue.
 x If ȝe schulen kepe my comaundementis, ȝe schulen dwelle in my loue; as and I haue kept þe comaundementis of my fadir, and I dwelle in his loue.
 xi Pes þingis I spak to ȝou, þat my ioye be in ȝou, and ȝoure ioye be fillid.
 xii ȝis is my comaundement, þat ȝe loue to gidere, as I louede ȝou.
 xiii No man haþ more loue þan ȝis, þat ony man putte his soule, 'þat is, lyf, for his frendis. xiv ȝe ben my frendis, if ȝe schulen do þo þingis, þat I comaunde to ȝou.
 xv Now I schal not seye ȝou seruauntis, for þe seruaunt woot not, what his lord schal do; forsoþe I haue seid ȝou frendis, for alle þingis what euere I herde of my fadir, I haue maad knowun to ȝou.
 xvi ȝe han not chofun me, but I chees ȝou; and 'I haue put ȝou, þat ȝe go, and bryng fruit, and ȝoure fruit dwelle; þat what euere þing ȝe schulen axe þe fadir in my name, he ȝyue to ȝou.
 xvii Pes þingis I comaunde to ȝou, þat ȝe loue to gidere.
 xviii If þe world hatiþ ȝou, wite ȝe, for it hadde me in hate first þan ȝou.
 xix If ȝe hadden be of þe world, þe world schulde loue þat þing þat was his; but for ȝe ben not of þe world, but I chees ȝou fro þe world, þerfore þe world hatiþ
 ȝou.
 xx Haue ȝe mynde of my word, which I seide to ȝou, þe seruaunt is not more þan his lord. If þei han purfuwed me, and þei schulen pursue ȝou; if þei han kept my word, and þei schulen kepe ȝoure.
 xxi But þei schulen do to ȝou alle þes þingis for my name, for þei witen not him þat sente me.

Capitulum XV.

xxii If I hadde not come, and hadde not spoke to hem, þei schulden not haue synne; forþoþ now þei han not excusacioun of her synne.
 xxiii He þat hatiþ me, hatiþ and my fadir.
 xxiv If I hadde not don werkis in hem, whiche non oþir man dide, þei schulden not haue synne; forþoþ now and þei han seyn, and hatid me and my fadir.
 xxv But þat þe word be fillid, þat is writun in 'þe lawe of hem, For þei hadden me in hate wiþ outeren caufe, 'or freely.
 xxvi Forþoþ whanne þe cumfortour schal come, which I schal sende to ȝou fro þe fadir, a spirit of treuþe, þe whiche procediþ, 'or comeþ forþ, of þe fadir, he schal bere witnessiñg of me;
 xxvii and ȝe schulen bere witnessiñg, for ȝe ben wiþ me fro þe bigynnyng.

Capitulum XVI.

i Thes þingis I haue spokun to ȝou, þat ȝe ben not fclaudrid.
 ii Þei schulen make ȝou wiþ oute synagogis, but þe our comeþ, þat ech man þat sleeþ ȝou, deme him silf for to ȝyue sacrifice to God.
 iii And þei schulen do to ȝou þes þingis, for þei han not knowe þe fadir, neþir me.
 iv But þes þingis I spak to ȝou, þat whanne þe our of hem schal come, ȝe haue mynde, for I seide to ȝou.
 v I seide not to ȝou þes þingis fro þe bigynnyng, for I was wiþ ȝou. And now I go to him þat sente me, and no man of ȝou askiþ me, Whidur 'þou goiſt?
 vi but for I haue spokyn to ȝou þes þingis, forwe, 'or heuynesse, haþ fulfillid ȝoure herte.
 vii But I seie to ȝou treuþe, it spedil to ȝou, þat I go; soþli if I schal not go awey, be coumfortour schal not come to ȝou; forþoþ if I schal go a wey, I schal sende hym to ȝou.
 viii And whanne he schal come, he schal reproue þe world of synne, and of riȝtfulnesse, and of dom.
 ix Forþoþ of synne, for þei han not bileuyd in to me; x forþoþ of riȝtfulnesse, for I go to þe fadir, and now ȝe schulen not fe me;
 xi forþoþ of dom, for þe prince of þis world is now demyd.
 xii ȝit I haue many þingis for to seie to ȝou, but ȝe mown not bere now.
 xiii Soþeli whanne 'þe ilke spirit of treuþe schal come, he schal teche ȝou al treuþe; soþli he schal not speke of him self, but what euere þingis he schal heere, he schal speke; and he schal telle to ȝou þe þingis þat ben to comynge.
 xiv He schal clarifie me, for of myne he schal take, and
 schal telle to ȝou.
 xv Alle þingis, what euere þingis þe fadir haþ, ben myne; þerfore I seide to ȝou, for of myne he schal take,
 and schal telle to ȝou.

xvi A litil, and now ȝe schulen not fe me; and eft a litil, and ȝe schulen fe me, for I go to þe fadir.
 xvii Perfore summe of his disciplis feiden to gidere,
 What is þis þing þat he seiþ to vs, A litil, and ȝe schulen not fe me; and eft a litil, and ȝe schulen fe me, for I go to þe fader?
 xviii Perfore þei feiden, What is þis, þat he seiþ to vs, A litel? we witen not what he spekiþ.
 xix Forþoþ Jhesu knew, for þei wolden axe him, and he feide to hem, Of þis þing ȝe seken a mong ȝou, for I feide, A litil, and ȝe schulen not fe me; and eft a litel, and ȝe schulen fe me.
 xx Treuli, treuli, I seye to ȝou, for ȝe schulen morne and wepe, forþoþ þe world schal enioye; forþoþ ȝe schulen be forwful, but ȝoure forwe schal turne in to ioye.
 xxi Soþly a womman whanne sche beriþ child, haþ forwe, for hir our comeþ; forþoþ whanne sche haþ borun a sone, now sche þenkiþ not on þe 'pressure, or charge, for ioye, for a man is borun in to þe world.
 xxii And þerfore ȝe han now forwe, soþli eft I schal fe ȝou, and ȝoure herte schal enioye, and no man schal take fro ȝou ȝoure ioye.
 xxiii And in þat day ȝe schulen not axe me ony þing;
 treuli, treuli, I seie to ȝou, if ȝe schulen axe þe fadir
 'ony þing in my name, he schal ȝyue to ȝou.
 xxiv Til now ȝe axiden not ony þing in my name; 'axe ȝe, and ȝe schulen take, þat ȝoure ioye be ful.
 xxv I haue spokun to ȝou þes þingis in prouerbis, 'or derke faumplis; þe our comeþ, whanne now I schal not speke to ȝou in prouerbis, but opynly of my fadir I schal telle to ȝou.
 xxvi In þat day ȝe schulen axe in my name; and I seie not to ȝou, for I schal preye þe fadir for ȝou; xxvii forþoþ he þe fadir loueþ ȝou, for ȝe han loued me, and han bileuyd, for I wente out fro God.
 xxviii I wente out fro þe fadir, and I cam in to þe world;
 eftsoones I leeue þe world, and I go to þe fadir.
 xxix His disciplis seyen to him, Lo! now þou spekist opynli, and þou feist no prouerbe.
 xxx Now we witen, for þou wost alle þingis; and it is no nede to þee, þat ony man axe þee. In þis þing we bileuen, for þou wentist out fro God.
 xxxi Jhesu answe ride to hem, Now ȝe bileuen. xxxii Lo! þe our comeþ, and now it comeþ, þat ȝe be disþarplid, 'or scaterid, ech in to his owne þingis, and leeue me aloone; and I am not aloone, for þe fadir is wiþ me.
 xxxiii þes þingis I haue spokun to ȝou, þat ȝe haue pees in me; in þe world ȝe schulen haue preßing, 'or ouerleying, but 'triste ȝe, I haue ouercome þe world.

Capitulum XVII.

i `Jhesu spak þes þingis, and þe yȝen lift vp in to heuene, he feide, Fadir, þe our comeþ, clarifie þi sone, þat þi sone clarifie þee.

ii As þou haft ȝouun to him power of ech fleisch, `or man, þat al þing þat þou haft ȝouun to hym, he ȝyue to hem euerlaſting lyf.

iii Forsoþe þis is euerlaſting lyf, þat þei knowe þee aloone verry God, and whom þou sentist, Jhesu Crist.

iv I haue clarifyed þee on erþe, I haue endid þe werk, þat þou haft ȝouun to me, þat I do.

v And now, fadir, clarifie þou me at þi ſilf, wiþ clerenesse þat I hadde at þee, biſore þe world was maad.

vi I haue ſchewid þi name to þe men, whiche þou haft ȝouun to me of þe world; þei weren þine, and þou haft ȝouun hem to me, and þei han kept þi word.

vii And now þei han knowun, for alle þingis þat þou haft ȝouun to me, ben of þee.

viii For þe wordis þat þou haft ȝouun to me, I ȝaf to hem; and þei han takun, and han knowun verili, for I wente out fro þee; and þei bileuyden, for þou sentist me.

ix I preie for hem, not for þe world, but for hem, þat þou haft ȝouun to me, for þei ben þine.

x And alle myne þingis ben þine, and þin þingis ben myne; and I am clarified in hem.

xi And now I am not in þe world, and þes ben in þe world, and I come to þee. Hooli fadir, kepe hem in þy name, whiche þou `haft ȝouun to me, þat þei be oon, as and we.

xii Whanne I was wiþ hem, I kepte hem in þi name; whiche þou `haft ȝouun to me, I kepte, and no man of hem perischede, no but þe sone of perdicioun, or dampnacioun, þat þe scripture be fillid.

xiii Forsoþe now I come to þee, and `I speke þes þingis in þe world, þat þei haue my ioye fillid in hem ſilf.

xiv I ȝaf to hem þi word, and þe world hadde hem in hate; for þei ben not of þe world, as and I am not of þe world.

xv I preie not, þat þou take a wey hem fro þe world, but þat þou kepe hem fro yuel.

xvi Þei ben not of þe world, as and I am not of þe world.

xvii Halwe þou hem in treuþe; þi word is treuþe.

xviii As þou sentist me in to þe world, and I fente hem in to þe world.

xix And I halwe my ſilf for hem, þat and þei be halwid in treuþe.

xx Sopeli I preie not oonli for hem, but and for hem þat ben to bileuyng in to me bi þe word of hem;

xxi þat alle þei be oon, as þou, fadir, in me, and I in þee, þat and þei in vs be oon; þat þe world billeue, for þou haft ſent me.

xxii And I haue ȝouun to hem þe clerenesse, þat þou haft ȝouun to me, þat þei be oon, as and we ben oon;

xxiii I in hem, and þou in me, þat þei be endid in oon; and þat þe world knowe, þat þou ſentist me, and haſt louyd hem, as þou haſt louyd and me.

xxiv Fadir, I wole þat and þei whiche þou `haft ȝouun to me, be wiþ me where I am, þat þei fe my cleernesſe, þat þou haft ȝouun to me; for þou louedist me bifor þe makinge of þe world.

xxv `Riȝtful fadir, þe world knew `not þee, forsoþe I knew þee, and þes knownen, for þou ſentist me.

xxvi And I haue maad þi name knowe to hem, and ſchal make knowe; þat þe loue by which þou haſt loued me, be in hem, and I in hem.

Capitulum XVIII.

i Whanne Jhesu hadde ſeid þes þingis, he wente out wiþ his diſciplis ouer þe ſtrond of Cedron, where was a ȝerd, `or a gardyn, in to which he entride, and his diſciplis.

ii Soþli and Judas, þat bitraiede him, wiste þe place, for ofte Jhesu cam to gidere þidur wiþ his diſciplis.

iii Perfore whanne Judas hadde takun a cumpany of kniȝtis, and of þe biſchopis and Pharifees mynyſtris, he cam wiþ lanternis, and brondis, and armys.

iv And so Jhesu witinge alle þingis þat weren to comyng on him, wente forþ, and ſeip to hem, Whom feken ȝe?

v Þei anſweriden to him, Jhesu of Nazareth. Jhesu ſeip to hem, I am. Forſoþ and Judas þat bitrayede hym, stood wiþ hem.

vi Perfore as he feide to hem, I am, þei wenten a bak, and felden doun in to erþe.

vii Eft he axide hem, Whom feken ȝe? Forſoþ þei feiden, Jhesu Nazaren.

viii He anſweride to hem, I feide to ȝou, for I am; þefore if ȝe feken me, ſuffre ȝe þes to go a wey.

ix Pat þe word which he feide ſchulde be fillid, For I loſte not ony of hem, whiche þou haft ȝouun to me.

x Forſoþ Symount Petre hauyng a fwerd, drouȝ it out, and ſmot þe feruaunt of þe biſchop, and kitte of his litil riȝt eere. Forſoþ þe name of þe feruaunt was Malkus.

xi Perfore Jhesu feide to Petre, Sende þou þe fwerd in to þe ſcheþe; wolt þou not, þat I drynke þilke cuppe, þat my fadir ȝaf to me?

xii Perfore þe cumpany of kniȝtis, and þe tribune, and þe mynyſtris of Jewis, token Jhesu, and bounden him, xiii and ledden him `first to Annas; ſopli he was fadir of Cayphas wyf, þat was biſchop of þat ȝeer.

xiv Sopli it was Cayphas, þat ȝaf counceil to þe Jewis, þat it ſpediþ o man for to deie for þe peple.

xv Perfore Symount Petre ſuede Jhesu, and anoþer diſcipli; forſoþ þilke diſcipli was knowun to þe biſchop. And he entride yn wiþ Jhesu, in to þe halle of þe biſchop; xvi ſoply Petre stood at þe dore wiþoute forþ. Perfore þe topir diſcipli, þat was knowun to þe biſchop, wente out, and seide to þe womman kepinge þe dore, and ledde yn Petre.

xxvii Perfore þe handmayde, kepere of þe dore, seide to Petre, Wher and þou art of þe disciplis of þis man? He seide, I am not.

xxviii Forsoþ þe seruauntis and mynystris stooden at þe colis, for it was coold, and þei warmyden hem; soþli and Petre was wiþ hem, stondinge and warmynge him.

xxix Perfore þe bischop axide Jhesu of his disciplis, and of his teching.

xx Jhesu answeride to him, I haue spokun opynly to þe world; I tauȝte euere in þe synagoge, and in þe temple, whidur alle þe Jewis camen to gidere, and in priuy I spak no þing.

xxi What axist þou me? axe hem þat herden, what I haue spokun to hem; lo! þei witen, what þingis I haue feyd.

xxii Whanne he hadde seid þes þingis, oon of þe mynystris stondinge nyȝ, ȝaf a boffat to Jhesu, seyinge, Answereſt þou so to þe byſchop?

xxiii Jhesu answeride to him, If I haue spokun yuele, bere þou witnessiñg of yuel; soþli if wel, whi smytſt þou me?

xxiv And Annas fente him boundun to Cayfas, þe bischop.

xxv Forsoþ Symount Petre was stondynge and warmynge him; þerfore þei seiden to him, Wher and þou art his disciple? He denyede, and seyde, I am not.

xxvi Oon of þe bischopis seruauntis, cosyn of hym, whos litel eere Petre kittide of, seyde, Wher I syȝ 'not bee in þe gardyn wiþ hym?

xxvii Perfore eft Petre denyede, and anoon þe koc crew.

xxviii Perfore þei lednen Jhesu to Cayfas, in to þe moot halle; soþli it was morwetyde, and þai entriden not in to þe moot halle, þat þei schulden not be defoylid, but þat þei schulden ete paske.

xxix Perfore Pilat wente out wiþ oute forþ to hem, and seide, What accusing bryngē ȝe aȝens þis man?

xxx þei answeriden, and seiden to hym, If þis were not a myſdoer, we hadden not bitakun hym to bee.

xxxi Perfore Pilat seip to hem, Take ȝe him, and 'deme ȝe him, vp ȝoure lawe. Perfore þei feyden to him, It is not leefful to vs for to flee ony man;

xxxii þat þe word of Jhesu schulde be fillid, which he seide, signyfyng bi what deeþ he was to deyinge.

xxxiii Perfore eft Pilate entride in to þe moot halle, and clepide Jhesu, and seide to him, Ert þou king of Jewis?

xxxiv Jhesu answeride, and seide to him, Seist þou þis þing of bi filf, eþer obere seiden to bee of me?

xxxv Pilat answeride, Wher I am a Jew? Bi folk and bischopis bytokun þee to me; what hast þou don?

xxxvi Jhesu answeride, My kyngdom is not of þis world; if my kyngdom were of þis world, soþli my mynystris schulden stryue, þat I schulde not be takun to þe Jewis;

now forsoþe my kyngdom is not of hennis, or of þis place.

xxxvii And so Pilat seide to him, 'Perfore art þou kyng? Jhesu answeride, þou feidist, for I am a kyng. To þis þing I am born, and to þis I cam in to þe world, þat I bere witnessiñg to treuþe. Ech þat is of treuþe, heeris my voys.

xxxviii Pilat seip to him, What is treuþe? And whanne he hadde seid þis þing, eft he wente out to þe Jewis, and seide to hem, I fynde no cause in him.

xxxix Forsoþ it is a custom to ȝou, þat I delyuer oon to ȝou in paſk; perfore wolē ȝe 'I ſchal diſmytte to ȝou þe kyng of Jewis?

x Perfore þei cryeden eft alle, seyng, Not þis, but Barabas. Forsoþe Barabas was a þeef.

Capitulum XIX.

i Therfore Pilat took þanne Jhesu, and scourgide.

ii And knyȝtis foldinge a crowne of þornes, puttiden on his heed, and diden aboute him a cloþ of purpur, iii and camen to him, and feiden, Heyl, kyng of Jewis. And þei ȝauen to hym boſfatis.

iv Eft Pilat wente out, and seide to hem, Lo! I lede him to ȝou wiþ oute forþ, þat ȝe knowe, for I fynde no cause in him.

v Perfore Jhesu wente out, beringe a crowne of þornes, and a cloþ of purpur. And he ſeip to hem, Loo! þe man.

vi Perfore whanne þe bischopis and mynystris hadde feyn him, þei crieden, seyng, Crucifie, crucifie him. Pilate ſeip to hem, Take ȝe him, and 'crucifie ȝe, soþli I fynde no cause in him.

vii þe Jewis answeriden to him, We han a lawe, and vpon þe lawe he 'owiþ to deie, for he made him Goddis lone.

viii Perfore whanne Pilat hadde herd þis word, he dredde more.

ix And he wente in to þe moot halle eft, and seyde to hym, Of whennus art þou? Forsoþe Jhesu ȝaf not answere to him.

x Pilat ſeip to him, Spekest þou not to me? Wost þou not, for I haue power for to crucifie þee, and I haue power for to delyuere þee?

xii Jhesu answeride, þou schuldist not haue ony power aȝens me, no but it were ȝouuen to þee fro aboue; þerfore he þat bitook me to þee, hap þe more synne.

xii Perfore Pilat, whanne he hadde herd þes wordis, ledde Jhesu forþ, and saat for domeſman in a place, þat is feide Licoſtratos, in Ebrew forsoþe Golgatha, in 'Englisch, place of Caluarie.

xiv Forsoþ it was 'þe makinge redy, or euyn, of pask, as þe fixte our, 'or mydday. And he seiþ to þe Jewis, Loo! ȝoure kyng.

xv Forsoþ þei cryeden, seyinge, Do awey, do awey; crucifie hym. Pilat seiþ to hem, Schal I crucifie ȝoure kyng? Þe bischopis anfweriden, We han no kyng no but Cesar.

xvi ȿerfore þanne Pilat bitook him to hem, þat he schulde be crucifyed. Forsoþ þei token Jhesu, and ledden out.

xvii And he berynge to him sifl a cros wente out in to þat place, þat is seid of Caluarie, in Ebrew Golgatha; xviii where þei crucifieden him, and opere tweye wiþ him, on þis syde and on þat syde, forsoþ Jhesu þe myddil.

xix Forsoþ and Pilat wroot a title, and puttide on þe croſs; ȝopl it was writun, Jhesu Nazaren, kyng of Jewis.

xx ȿerfore manye of þe Jewis radden þis title, for þe place where Jhesu was crucifiede, was nyȝ þe citee, and it was writen in Ebrew, Greek, and Latyn.

xxi ȿerfore þe bischops of Jewis feiden to Pilat, Nyle þou write kyng of Jewis, but for he seyde, I am kyng of Jewis.

xxii Pilat anfweride, ȝat þat I haue writen, I haue writen.

xxiii ȿerfore þe knyȝtis whanne þei hadden crucified him, token his cloþis, and maden foure partis, to ech knyȝt a part, and a coote. Forsoþ þe coote was wiþ out seem, and aboue wouun bi al.

xxiv ȿerfore þei feiden to gidere, Kitte we not it, but leye we lott, whos it is; ȝat þe scripture be fillid, seyinge, ȝei partiden my cloþis to hem, and in to my cloþ þei fenten lott. And ȝopl knyȝtis diden þes þingis.

xxv Forsoþ bifydis þe croſs of Jhesu stooden his modir, and 'Marie Cleaphe, þe sister of his modir, and Marie Maudeleyn.

xxvi ȿerfore whanne Jhesu hadde seyn þe modir, and þe disciple stondinge, whom he louede, he seiþ to his modir, Womman, lo! þi sone.

xxvii Afterward he seiþ to þe disciple, Lo! þi modir. And fro þat our þe disciple took hire 'in to his þingis.

xxviii Afterward Jhesu witinge, for now alle þingis ben endid, ȝat þe scripture schulde be fillid, he seiþ, I þirste.

xxix ȝopl a vessel was putt ful of vynegre. ȝei forsoþ puttinge aboue wiþ yslope þe sponge ful of vynegre, offriden to his mouþ.

xxx ȿerfore whanne Jhesu hadde take vynegre, he feide, It is endid. And þe heed bowid doun, he bitook þe spirit.

xxxi ȿerfore for it was þe 'makynge redy of pask, ȝat þe bodies schulde not dwelle in þe croſs in þe faboth, for þat day of faboth was greet, þe Jewis preieden Pilat, ȝat þe hupis of hem schulden be brokun, and takun awey.

xxxii ȿerfore knyȝtis camen, and ȝofly þei braken þe þiȝes of þe firſte, and of þe toþir, þat was crucified wiþ him.

xxxiii Forsoþ whanne þei hadden come to Jhesu, as þei fyȝen him deed þanne, þei braken not his þiȝes;

xxxiv but oon of þe knyȝtis openyde his syde wiþ a sper, and a noon bloot and watir wente out.

xxxv And he þat syȝ, bar witneſſing, and his witneſſing is trewe; and he woot for he seiþ trewe þingis, þat ȝe bileue.

xxxvi Forsoþ þes þingis ben don, ȝat þe scripture schulde be fillid, ȝe schulen not breke, 'or make leſſe, a boon of him.

xxxvii And eft anoþir scripture seiþ, ȝei schulen se in to whom þey piȝten þorw.

xxxviii ȝobelí aftr þes þingis Joseph of Armathi preiede Pilat, ȝat he schulde take awey þe body of Jhesu, for þat he was a disciple of Jhesu, forsoþ priuey, for þe drede of Jewis. And Pilat suffride. ȿerfore he cam, and took awey þe body of Jhesu.

xxxix ȝopl and Nycodeme cam, ȝat hadde come 'first to Jhesu 'in þe nyȝt, beringe a medlynge of myrre and aloes, as an hundrid pound.

xl ȿerfore þei token þe body of Jhesu, and bounden it in lynnен cloþis wiþ oynementis, as it is custom to Jewis for to birye.

xli ȝopl in þe place wher he was crucified, was a ȝerd, and in þe ȝerd a newe graue, in which not ȝit ony man was put.

xlii ȿerfore þere for þe 'makynge redy of Jewis, for þe graue was nyȝ, ȝei puttiden Jhesu.

Capitulum XX.

i Forsoþ in þe oon of þe faboth, ȝat is, of þe woke, Mary Mawdeleyn 'cam erly, whanne 'derkneſſis weren ȝit, 'at þe graue. And she syȝ þe stoon turned aȝen fro þe graue.

ii ȿerfore she ran, and cam to Symount Petre, and to anoþir disciple, whom Jhesu louyde, and seiþ to hem, ȝei han take þe Lord fro þe graue, and we witen not, where þei han put him.

iii ȿerfore Petre wente out, and þilke opere disciple, and þei camen to þe graue.

iv Forsoþ þei tweyne runnen to gidere, and þilke oper disciple ran bifore sunner þan Petre, and cam first to þe graue.

v And whanne he hadde ynbowyd him, he syȝ þe scheetis putt, neþeles he entride not.

vi ȿerfore Symount Petre cam fuyng hym, and he entride in to þe graue, and he syȝ þe scheetis putt, vii and þe sudarie ȝat was on his heed, not putt wiþ þe scheetis, but by it sifl wlappid in to o place.

viii ȿerfore þanne and þilke disciple ȝat cam firſt to þe graue, entride, and syȝ, and bileuede.

ix Forsoþe þei wisten not þe scripture, for it bihoft him for to ryse aȝen fro deede men.
x Perfore þe disciplis wenten eft to hem felue.
xi Forsoþ Marie stood at þe graue wiþoute forþ wepynge. Perfore while she wepte, sche bowide hir, and biheld forþ in to þe graue.
xii And she syȝ twey angelis sittynge in whyt, oon at þe heed and oon at þe feet, wher þe body of Jhesu was putt.
xiii Þei seyn to hir, Womman, what wepist þou? She feid to hem, For þei han takun a wey my lord, and I woot not, where þei han putt him.
xiv Whanne she hadde seid þes þingis, she was turnyd a bak, and syȝ Jhesu stondinge, and wiste not for it was Jhesu.
xv Jhesu seiþ to hir, Womman, what wepist þou? whom fekist þou? She gessinge for he was a gardener, seiþ to him, Sire, if þou haft takun him vp, feye to me, where þou haft put him, and I schal take him a wey.
xvi Jhesu seiþ to hir, Marie. She conuertid seiþ to him, Rabbony, þat is seid, maistir.
xvii Jhesu seiþ to hir, Nyle þou touche me, for I haue not ȝit styȝed to my fadir; forsoþe go to my briberen, and feye to hem, I stye to my fadir and ȝoure fadir, to my God and ȝoure God.
xviii Mary Mawdeleyn cam, tellinge to disciplis, For I syȝ þe Lord, and þes þingis he seide to me.
xix Perfore whanne euentid was in þat day, oon of þe sabotis, and þe ȝatis weren schitt, where disciplis weren gederid, for þe drede of Jewis, Jhesu cam, and stood in þe myddel of hem, and seide to hem, Pees to ȝou.
xx And whanne he hadde seid þis þing, he schewide to hem hondis and þe fyde; perfore þe disciplis ioyeden, þe Lord seyn.
xxi Perfore he seiþ to hem eft, Pees to ȝou; as þe fadir sente me, and I sende ȝou.
xxii Whanne he hadde seid þes þingis, he blew ynne, and seide, Take ȝe þe Hooly Gost; xxiii whos synnes ȝe schulen forȝyue, þei ben forȝouun; and whos synnes ȝe 'schulen wiþholde, þei ben wiþholdun.
xxiv Forsoþe Thomas, oon of þe twelue, þat is leid Didymus, was not wiþ hem, whanne Jhesu cam.
xxv Perfore opere disciplis seiden, We han seyn þe Lord. Forsoþe he seide to hem, No but I schal se in his hondis þe ficching of naylis, and schal sende my fyngris in to places of naylis, and 'I schal sende myn honde in to his fyde, I schal not bileue.
xxvi And aftir eiȝte dayes eft his disciplis weren wiþ ynne, and Thomas wiþ hem. Jhesu cam, þe ȝatis schitt, and stood in þe myddel, and seide, Pees to ȝou.
xxvii Aftirward he seiþ to Thomas, Bryng yn hidur þi fyngrur, and se myn hondis, and bryng to þin hond, and fend in to my fyde, and nyle þou be vnbileueful, but feiþful.

xxviii Thomas answereide, and seide to him, My Lord and my God.
xxix Jhesu seiþ to him, Thomas, for þou haft seyn me, þou billeuedist; blesſid ben þei, þat syȝen not, and han billeuyd.
xxx Forsoþe and 'Jhesus dide manye opere signes in þe syȝt of his disciplis, whiche ben not writun in þis book.
xxxi Forsoþe þes ben writun, þat ȝe bileue, for Jhesu is Crist, þe lone of God, and þat ȝe bileuyng haue lyf in his name.

Capitulum XXI.

i Aftirward Jhesu eft schewide him to his disciplis, at þe see of Tyberias. Soþli he schewide þus.
ii Per weren to gidere Symount Petre, and Thomas, þat is seid Didymus, and Nathanael, þat was of þe Cane of Galilee, and þe sones of Zebedee, and tweye opere of his disciplis.
iii Symount Petre seiþ to hem, I go for to fysche. Þei seyn to him, And we comen wiþ þee. And þei ȝeden out, and stiȝeden in to a boot. And in þat niȝt þei token noþing.
iv Forsoþ þe morwe maad, Jhesu stood in þe brynke; neþeles þe disciplis knewen not, for it was Jhesu.
v Perfore Jhesu seiþ to hem, Children, wher ȝe han ony souþyng þing?
vi Þei answeren, Nay. He seide to hem, Send ȝe þe nett in to þe riȝthalf of þe rowyng, and ȝe schulen fynde. Perfore þei senten þe nett, and now þei myȝten not drawe it, for multitude of fyschis.
vii Perfore þilke disciple, whom Jhesu louede, seide to Petre, It is þe Lord. Symount Petre, whanne he hadde herd for it was þe Lord, girte him wiþ a coote, soþli he was nakid, and sente him in to þe see.
viii Soþli opere disciplis camen by boot, for þei weren not fer fro þe lond, but as two hundred cubitis, drawyng þe nett of fyschis.
ix Perfore as þei camen doun in to þe lond, þei syȝen colis put, and a fysch 'put aboue, and breed.
x Jhesu seiþ to hym, Brynge ȝe of þe fyschis, whiche ȝe han taken now.
xi Symount Petre stiȝede vp, and drowȝ þe nett in to þe lond, ful of grete fyschis, an hundred fyfti and þre; and whanne þei weren so greete, þe nett is not brokun.
xii Jhesu seiþ to hem, Come ȝe, 'ete ȝe. And no man of 'þe sittinge at mete durste axe him, Who art þou, witinge for it is þe Lord.
xiii And Jhesu cam, and took breed, and ȝaf to hem, and þe fysch also.
xiv Now þis þridde day Jhesu is schewid to his disciplis, whanne he 'hadde rise aȝen fro deed men.
xv Perfore whanne þei hadde etyn, Jhesu seiþ to Symount Petre, Symount of John, louest þou me more ban þes don? He seiþ to hym, ȝhe, Lord, þou wost for I loue þee. Jhesu seiþ to him, Feede þou my lambren.

xvi Eft he seiþ to hym, Symount of John, louest þou me? And he seiþ to him, ȝhe, Lord, þou wost for I lou þee. He seiþ to him, Feede þou my lambren.

xvii He seiþ to him þe þridde tyme, Symount of John, louest þou me? Petre is fori, for he seiþ to him þe þridde tyme, Louest þou me, and he seiþ to him, Lord, þou wost alle þingis; þou wost for I lou þee. Jhesu seiþ to him, Feede þou my scheep.

xviii Treuli, treuli, I feie to þee, whanne þou were ȝongere, þou girdedist þee, and wandiseft where þou woldist; sopli whanne þou schalt wexe eldere, þou schalt holde forþ þin hondis, and anoþir schal girde þee, and leede þee whidir þou wolt not.

xix Soþli he seide þis þing, signyfyng by what deeþ he was to glorifyng God. And whanne he hadde seid þes þingis, he seiþ to him, Sue þou me.

xx Petre conuertid syȝ þilke disciple, whom Jhesu louede, 'and which restide in þe souper on his breſt, and he feide to hym, Lord, who is it, þat schal bitraye þee?

xxi Þerfore whanne Petre hadde seyn þis disciple, he seiþ to Jhesu, Lord, what forþoþ þis?

xxii Jhesu seiþ to him, So I wole him dwelle til I come, what to þee? sue þou me.

xxiii Þerfore þis word wente out among briþeren, for þilke disciple deyeþ not. And Jhesu seide not to him, for he deieþ not, but, So I wole him dwelle til I come, what to þee?

xxiv Þis is þilke disciple, þat beriþ witnessiȝ of þes þingis, and wroot þes þingis; and we witen, for his witnessiȝ is trewe.

xxv Forþoþ þere ben and manye obere syngnes, 'or myraclis, þat Jhesu dide, whiche if þei ben writun by eche by 'hem filue, I deme neijer þe world him filf 'to mowe take þo bookis, þat ben to be writun.

Here endiþ þe gospel of John, and now bigynneþ þe prolog of Seint Poul to Romayns.

ROMAYNES.

Here bygynneþ þe prologue of Jerome in to þe epistles of Poule to Romaynes.

First vndirstonden vs bihoueþ, to whom or whi þe apostil Powil writeþ his epistolis. Forþoþ it is not to trowen, hym 'after þe gospelis, þat ben þe fulfillinge of þe lawe, wiþoute cause to han writen þese epistolis to alle chirches; most sien to vs in þese epistolis, preceptus and exsaumples of lyuyng 'fulliest, or most plenteuously, ben defied. But in þe bygynnyng of þe kennende chirche, new causes beende, also questiounes to comen aftir, he excludedde; not onli þis, þe apostil, but also þe profetes diden. Forwhi aftir þe lawe of Moises ȝouen, in þe whiche all þe maundementis weren contened, þei profetes also ceseden not wiþ þer preaching to bristen doun þe synnes of þe puple, and in

bokis to oure memorie fenden, in to whom þe eendes of þe worldus ben comen. He writeþ þerfore to þe Romaynes, þe whiche beende summe of Jewis, and summe of paynymes bileeuende, wolden wiþ proud contencioun vnderpoten eiþer oþer. þe Jewis forþoþ feiden, Wee ben an holi folc, þe whiche God fro þe bigynnyng haþ loued, and nursched; wee of þe kinrede of Abraham, of an holi lynage han descendid; wee deliuered fro Egyp, han paffid þe drie fe on foote; for vs Farao drenchid wiþ his oft, diede; to vs God man, 'or aungelis mete, reynede in desert. And obere þingis þei feiden, þat to rehersen were riȝt long; onli heer wee seyn, þat þilke Lord, in whiche also ȝee ben seen to beleuen, to vs of þe lawe was bihoten. ȝee forþoþ ben 'Jentilis, or paynymes, fro þe bigynnyng forsaken, þe whiche neuere hadden knoueleche of God, but euere to dueuelis han serued. 'Is it wheþer þerfore equite, þat ȝee, turned todai fro maumetis, to vs be comparisouned; and not ræþere ȝee be as men turned to þe olde lawe, as euere ȝee 'han ben in þe lawe of Moises? And þat same ȝee han, for myche merciful is God, þe whiche wolde bringe ȝou to oure folowinge. þe paynymes, 'or Jentilis, aȝeenward answarden, In how myche þe grettore benefis ȝee tellen abouten ȝou, in so myche ȝee shulen shewe ȝouself gilti þe more blame. For euere to alle þese þingis ȝee han ben vnkinde, þat aftir 'þe vois of God herd, forgeden ȝou mawmetis. þe whiche þoȝ ȝee haden not do, þurȝ þat onli synne ȝee myȝten not taken forȝyuenesse, þat þe 'Lord, to ȝou by 'profetes voises bihiȝt, not onli ȝee wolden not resceyuen, but also ȝee flowen; whom wee vnderfongan, whan of hym to vs no man hadde fornseid. In hou myche þerfore oure feiþ be betere, clerli it is open. 'Forþoþ þat wee serueden to maumetis, was not of rebelte, but of ignoraunce. Forþoþ where wee knewen þe treuþe, anoen wee foleweden, þe sones of Abraham; not of fleshli birþe, but of þe grace of Crist it was. To þese þus striuende þe apostil putte hym a mene bitwen, shewende to boþe puples, neijer circumcisioñ to ben oȝt, neijer 'þe kept flesh, but þe feiþ þat werkilþ bi charite; euere forþoþ 'bi whilemekende hem bi al þe epistil wiþ resownes and wittenesses, counceliþ to onhed, and shewilþ neijir þurȝ his riȝtfulnesse haue þis deferued, but al what euere to be depute to þe grace of God; shewende þe Jewis forþoþ and þe paynymes greuouſli to han trespassid, and witendely; þe Jewis, for þei bi breking of þe lawe han vnwrshipid God; þe Gentilis, for þei chaungeden þe treuþe of God in to lesinge. It is axid, whi 'he wrot no mo þan ten epistolis to chirches? Ten forþoþ ben epistolis, wiþ þilke þat is seid to Ebrues; for þe obere foure to disciples homli weren sent, 'or put forþ; for he wolde shewen þe newe 'to not discorden fro þe olde testament, and hymself not to don aȝen þe lawe of Moises, ordeynede his epistolis to þe noumbe of þe firste maundementus of þe decaloge.

And wiþ how manye preceptis he Moyses ordeynede Jewis deliuered fro Farao, wiþ riȝt so manye epistolis þis Powil techeþ men purchasid fro þe deuel, and fro þe feruage of mawmetrie. Forwhi also þe two tables of ston to han had figure of þe two testamentis, riȝtwel lered men han taken. Pe epistil holly þat to Ebrues ys writen, 'or entitlid, to ben noen of Powelis, summe affermen, for so myche þat it is not entitlid wiþ his name, and for þe distaunce of speche, and maner of writinge; but or Barnabeis, aftir Tertullian, or Luks, after summe, or certeyn Clementis, þe disciple of þe apostolis, and aftir hem ordeyned bishop of Rome chirche. To whom it is þus to answern. If þerfore it is not Powelis epistil, for it haþ not his name, eek it shal be no manes, for wiþ no manes name it is entytlid. Þe whiche þinge to graunte if it be foul, his it is most to be beleued to be, þat so myche shyneþ wiþ þe eloquence of his doctrine; or certeyn, for þat at þe Ebrues chirches he was had as destroȝere of þe lawe wiþ fals fulspecioun, he wolde, his name beende stille, of þe figures of þe lawe, and þe treueþ of Crist ȝelde rekenyng; leſt happili hate of þe prelatis name, shulde exclude þe profit of þe lessoun. It is no wnder holli if he be wifere in his owne langage, þat is Ebru, þan in a ſtraunge, þat is in Grw, in whiche speche opere epistolis ben writene. It moueþ also summe men, whi þat þe epistil of Romaynes is put in firſt, syben refoun openeþ it to han be writen aftir; for he witnesseþ hymſelf to han writen þis epistil, þanne goende to Jerusalem, aftir þanne þat he hadde amoneſtid wiþ lettiris, þat weren epiftolis, þe Corintheis and opere, þat þei shulden gedere þe mynysterye, 'or collect, þat ſchulde be born wiþ hym. Wherefore it is to vnderſtonde, so alle þe epiftolis to ben ordeyned, þat þilke firſte shulde be put, þe whiche to lowere men in lyuyng was ſent, and bi 'alle, or eche, epiftolis fro gree to gree, þei shulden comen to parfitere þingis.

Romaynes ſoþli riȝt manye weren so vnſtedefast, þat þei vnderſtoden not hemſelf to be fauid þurȝ Goddis grace, but þurȝ here merytes; and for þat two puplis shulden not ſtriueng among hemſelf, þerfore he afermeþ hem ned to be conſermed, þe vices of her paynymrie raþere myndende. To Corintheis ſoþly he feiþ, þe grace of ſcience to be grauntid, and not as wel he blameþ hem, as he repreueþ whi þei vndernemen not opere, whan he feiþ, Þer is herd amongis ȝou fornycacioun; and eftſoone, My ſperit wiþ ȝou 'gedered togedere, takeþ ſuþon to Sathanas. In þe fecounde epiftil, forſoþe þei ben preſid, and þat þei profite more and more, þei ben counſeilid. Pe men of Galas þanne of no blame ben repreued, but for þei beleueden to fele false apostolis. Effesienes holli noen vndernymyng, but myche preſing ben wrþi, for þei kepten þe feiþ of þe apostolis. Pe Filipenes ſoþly myche more ben preſid, for forſoþe neijer þei wolden heren false apostolis. Pe Teſſalonycenſis neþeles in two epiftolis wiþ alle preſing he 'ſueþ forþ; for as myche as not only 'þei kepten 'þe feiþ of treueþ, vntofmyten, but also in perfecucioun of þer citemeynes þei weren founded ſtable. Colocenſis ſoþli ſuþe weren, þat no nede shulden han, þat þei shulden be ſeen fleshli of þe apoftil. Forſoþe to hem he bihiȝte neuere his comynge, to þe whiche also he feiþ, And þeyȝ I be abſent in bodi, but in ſpirit I am wiþ ȝou, iȝeȝende and ſeende ȝoure ordre. Of þe Ebrues ſoþli what ſhal I ſeie? Of whom þe Teſſalonycenſes, þat gretly ben preſid, ben ſeid to be maad foloweres, as he feiþ, And ȝee, breþern, ben maad foloweris off þe chirches of God, þat ben in Jewerie; þe ſame ſoþli also ȝee han ſuffrid of ȝoure kinrede, þat also þei of Jewis. At þilke Ebreues also þe ſame he remembreþ, ſeide, Forwhi also to men bounden ȝee han had compaſſion, and rauelyn of ȝoure goodis wiþ gladneſſe ȝee han ſuffrid, knowende ȝou to han betere and dwellende ſubſtaunce.

Here eendeþ þe prologue, and bygynneþ þe epiftel of Poule to Romaynus.

An oþer vpon Romayns.

Romayns 'þe whiche in þe cite of Rome lyueden in to Jhesu Crist, so of false apoftlis were deprauyd, þat vndir þe name of oure Lord Jhesu Crist in to þe olde lawe and circumciſion þei were led. Peſ reuokiþ þe apofte to þe verrey and þe goſpels bileue, wrytyng to hem fro Athenys.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and bigynneþ epiftle to Romayns.

Capitulum I.

- i Poul, ſeruaunt of Jhesu Crist, clepid apofte, departid into þe euangelie of God;
- ii 'þe which he bihiȝt biſore by his prophetis in hooly scripturis of his ſone,
- iii 'þe which is maad 'to him of þe feed of Dauȝiþ aftir þe fleiſch,
- iv 'þe which is predestynat, 'or biſore ordeyned bi grace, þe ſone of God in vertu, aftir þe ſpirit of halewyng of þe aȝeyn ryfyng of deed men, of Jhesu Crist oure Lord,
- v by whom we han reſſeyued grace and apofteſhed, 'or ſtat of apofte, to obeische to þe feiþ in alle folkis for his name,
- vi in which and ȝe ben clepid of Jhesu Crist,
- vii to alle þat ben at Rome, þe louede of God, clepid hooly, grace to ȝou, and pees of God oure fadir, and of þe Lord Jhesu Crist.
- viii Firſte ſoþly I do þankyngis to my God, by Jhesu Crist, for alle ȝou, for ȝour feiþ is ſchewid in al þe world.
- ix Forſoþ God is a witneſſe to me, to whom I ferue in my ſpirit, in þe goſpel of his ſone, for wiþ outen ceessinge I make mynde of ȝou euermore in my preieris, xi if by ony maner afterward sumtyme I haue esy, 'or spedy, weie in þe wille of God of comynge to ȝou.

 xi Forsoþe I defyre for to se ȝou, þat I ȝyue to ȝou sum þing of spiritual grace, to ȝou to be confermyd, xii þat is to seie, to be comfortid to gidere in ȝou, by þat feiþ þat is to gidere ȝoure and myn, 'or of ech to oþir.
 xiii Soþly, briperen, I nyle ȝou for to vnknowe, þat ofte I purposide for to come to ȝou, and I am forbodyn til ȝit, þat I haue sum fruyt in ȝou, as and in opere folkis.
 xiv To Grekis and barbayns, 'or heþene men, to wyse men and vnwyse men, I am dettour, xv so þat þat is in me is redy for to euangelyse and to ȝou þat ben at Rome.
 xvi Forsoþ I schame not be gospel, for it is þe vertu of God in to helpe to ech man bileuyng, to þe Jew first, and to þe Greek.
 xvii Soþely þe riȝtwysnesse of God is shewid in it, of feiþ in to feiþ, as it is writun, Forsoþe a iust man lyueþ of feiþ.
 xviii Forsoþe þe wrapphe of God is schewid fro heuene vpon al vnpite and vnriȝtwysnesse of þo men, þat wiþholden, 'or holden a bac, þe treuþe of God in vnriȝtwysnesse.
 xix For þat þat is knowyn of God, is schewid, 'or maad opyn, to hem, forsoþe God schewide to hem.
 xx For þe inuyisble þingis of hym, of þe creature 'of þe world, by þo þingis þat ben maad, 'vndirstondyn, ben biholdun, and þe euerlastynghed vertu of him and þe godhede, so þat þei ben vnexcusabla.
 xxi For whanne þei hadden knowe God, þei glorifieden not as God, 'or diden þankyngis; but þei vanyscheden in her þouȝtis, and þe vnwyse herte of hem is derkid,
 'or maad derk.
 xxii Soþli þei seyinge hem selue for to be wyse men, ben maad foolis.
 xxiii And þei chaungiden þe glorie of God vncorruptible, þat 'may not deie, ne be peirid, in to þe lyknesse 'of an ymage of coruptible man, and of briddis, and of foure footide beefis, and of serpentis.
 xxiv For which þing God bytook hem in to þe defyris of her herte, in to vnclennesse, þat þei pony sche wiþ wrongis, 'or dispitis, her bodies in hem silf.
 xxv þe whiche men chaungiden þe treuþe of God in to leefyng, and herieden and serueden to a creature raþere þan to þe creatour, 'þat is, maker of nouȝt, þat is bleſſid in to worldis, 'or wiþ outen ende. Amen, 'or so be it.
 xxvi Þerfore God bitook hem in to passiouns of yuel fame, 'or schenschip. Forwhi þe wymmen of hem chaungiden þe kyndely vſ in to þat vſ þat is aȝens kynde.
 xxvii Also forsoþ and þe mawlis, 'or men, þe kyndeli vſ of womman forsakyn, brennyden in her defyris to gidere, mawlis in to mawlis worchinge filphede, and receyuynge in hem silf þe 'mede, or hyre, þat byhovte of her errorr.

xxviii And as þei proueden not for to haue God in knowinge, God bitook hem in to a reprovable witt, þat þei do þo þingis þat acoorden not, 'or byfemen not;
 xxix hem fulfillid wiþ al wickidnesse, malice, fornycacioun, couetyse, weyardnesse, ful of enuye, mansleyng, stryf, gyle, yuel will, 'priuey bacbyteris, or loweris of discord,
 xxx detractouris, 'or opyn bacbyteris, hateful to God, wrongly dispyferis 'of opere men, proude, hyȝe ouermeſure, fynderis of yuele þingis, not obeischinge to 'fadir and modir, xxxi vnwyse, vncouenable in berynge wiþ outh forþ, wiþ outhen affeccioun, 'or loue, wiþouten bond of pees, wiþouten mercy.
 xxxii þe whiche whanne þei hadden knownen þe riȝtwisnesse of God, vndirstoden not, for þei þat don fuche þingis ben worþi þe deeþ, not onoly þei þat don þo þingis, but also þei þat consenten to men doyngne.

Capitulum II.

i For which þing þou ert vnexcusabla, þou ech man þat demest, soþli in what þing þou demest an oþir man, þou condempnist þi silf; forsoþe þou doist þe same þingis whiche þou demest.
 ii Soþely we witen, for þe dom of God is vp treuþe to hem, þat don fiche þingis.
 iii Geffist þou, man, forsoþe, þat demest hem þat don fuche þingis, and þou doist hem, for þou schalt ascape þe dom of God?
 iv Wher 'þou dispisist þe richesse of his goodnessse, and pacience, and longe abidyng? Vnknowest þou, for þe benygnyte, 'or good wille, of God lediþ þee to penaunce?
 v Forsoþe aftir þi hardnesse and vnrepentaunt herte, þou tresourist to þee wrapphe in to þe day of wrapphe and of schewynge of þe riȝtful dom of God, vi þat schal ȝelde to ech man vp his workis;
 vii soþely to hem þat vp patience of good werk, glorie, and honour, and vncoripcioun, to hem sekyng euerelaſting lyf;
 viii forsoþe to hem þat ben of stryf, and þat assenten not to treuþe, but bileuen to wickidnesse, wrapphe and indignacioun, ix tribulacioun and angwische, in to ech soule of man worchinge yuel þing, of Jew first and Greek; x soþely glorie, and honour, and pees, to ech worchinge good þing, to Jew first, and to Greek.
 xi For accepciouns of persoones, 'þat is, to putte oon bifore anoþer wiþoute desert, is not anentis God.
 xii Forsoþe who euere synnen wiþoute lawe, schulen perische wiþouten lawe; and who euere in þe lawe synnen, schulen be demed by þe lawe.

xiii Soþely þe heereris of lawe ben not iust anentis God, but þe doeris of lawe schulen be maad iust.
 xiv Forsoþ whanne heþene þat han not lawe, don kyndeli, 'or by stiryng of kynde, þo þingis þat ben of þe lawe, þei not hauyng fuch maner lawe, ben lawe to hem silf,
 xv þat schewen þe work of lawe writun in her hertis; þe conscience of hem ȝeldinge to hem a witnesſinge and bitwixe hem selue of þouȝtis accusinge or also defendinge, xvi in þe day whanne God schal deme þe pryuei þingis of men vp my gospel, by Jhesu Crist.
 xvii Forsoþ if þou ert namyd a Jew, and restist in þe lawe, and haſt glorie in God, xviii and haſt knowe his wille, and þou lerned by þe lawe preuyſt more profitable þingis, xix tristnest þi silf for to be a ledere of blynde men, þe liȝt of hem þat beþ in derknessis, xx a techere of vnwyſe men, a maistir of ȝonge children, hauyng þe foorme of sciencie, 'or kunnynge, and of treueþ in þe lawe;
 xxi þerfore þou þat techist anobir, techist not þi silf?
 þou þat prechist to not ſtele, ſtelift?
 xxii þou þat feift to 'not do leccherie, doift leccherie?
 þou þat wlatifit ydols, 'or mawmetis, doift sacrilegie,
 'þat is, þeftie of hooly þingis?
 xxiii þou þat gloriest in þe lawe, by 'brekinge of þe lawe vnworſhipist, 'or dispifist, God?
 xxiv Forsoþ þe name of God by ȝou is blasphemyd among heþene men, as it is writun.
 xxv Soþli circumciſion profyteþ, if þou kepe þe lawe;
 forsoþ if þou be a trespassour of þe lawe, þi circumciſion is maad prepucie, 'or custom of heþen
 men.
 xxvi þerfore if prepucie, 'or custom of heþen men, kepe riȝtwysnedeſſe of þe lawe, wher his prepucie ſchal not be rettid in to circumciſion?
 xxvii And þe prepucie, þat is of kynde, fullinge þe lawe, ſchal deme þee, þat by lettre and circumciſion ert trespassour of þe lawe.
 xxviii Forsoþ not he þat is a Jew in opyn, ne þe circumciſion þat is in þe fleiſch in opyn; xxix but he þat is a Jew in hidd, and þe circumciſion of herte in spirit, not in lettre, whos preifing is not of men, but of God.

Capitulum III.

- i Therfore what is more to a Jew, or what profyt of circumciſion?
- ii Moche by alle maner; firſt soþli, for þe spekyngis of God ben bitakun to hem.
- iii What soþli if summe of hem bileueden not? Wher þe vnbileue of hem haþ auoydid þe feiþ of God?
- iv Fer be it. Forsoþ God is trewe, 'or soþfast, soþli ech man a lyere, 'or vnſtable; as is writun, þat þou be iuſtifyed, 'or founden trewe, in þi wordis, and ouercome, whanne þou ert demed.

 v Forsoþ if oure wickidneſſe, 'or vnequyte, comende þe riȝtwysnedeſſe of God, what schulen we ſeie? Wher God is wickid, þat bryngeþ in wraþþe? Vp man I ſeie. vi Fer be it. Ellis how 'God ſchal deme þis world?
 vii Forsoþ if þe treueþ of God haþ haboundid, 'or be plenteuous, in my leſyng, in to þe glorie of hym, what and ȝit am I demed as a synnere?
 viii And not as we ben blaſemyd, and as ſumme ſeyen vs for to feye, Do we yuele þingis, þat goode þingis come. Whos dampnacioun is iust.
 ix What þerfore? Paffen we hem? Nay; ſoþli we han ſchewid by ſkile, Jewis and Greekis alle for to be vndir synne, x as it is writun, For þer is not ony man iust;
 xi þer is not a man vndirſtonding, neiþer ſeking God.
 xii Alle bowedyn a wey, to gidere þei ben maad vnprefitable; þer is not þat doþ good þing, þer is not til to oon.
 xiii 'A ſepulcre openyng is þe þrote of hem; wiþ her tungis þei diden gilyngly, 'or trecherously; þe venym of eddris, 'þat ben clepid alpis, vndur her lippis.
 xiv þe mouȝt of whom is ful of curſyng, 'or wariyng, and bitterneſſe;
 xv þe feet of hem ben ſwift for to ſchede out blood.
 xvi Contricioun, 'or defoulyng togidere, and 'infelicitie, or curſidneſſe, in þe weies of hem, xvii and þei knewen not þe wey of pees;
 xviii þe drede of God is not bifore her yȝen.
 xix Forſoþe we witen, for what euere þingis þe lawe ſpekiþ, it ſpekiþ to hem þat ben in þe lawe, þat ech mouȝt be ſtoppid, and ech world be maad ſuget to God.
 xx For of þe workis of lawe ech fleiſch, 'þat is,
 mankynde, ſchal not be iuſtifyed bifore him; forſoþe by þe lawe is knowinge of synne.
 xi Forſoþe now wiþouten þe lawe þe riȝtwysnedeſſe of God is ſchewid, witneſſid of þe lawe and prophetis.
 xxii Soþli þe riȝtwysnedeſſe of God is by þe feiþ of Jhesu Crist on alle þat bileuen in to hym; forſoþ þer is no diſtynccioun, 'or departyng.
 xxiii For alle men ſynneden, and han nede to þe glorie
 of God;
 xxiv þei iuſtified freely bi his grace, by þe redemcioun
 'or þe aȝenbiyng, þat is purpoſid in Jhesu Crist.
 xxv Whom God purpoſide an helpere by feiþ in his blood, to þe ſchewinge of his riȝtwysnedeſſe, for remiſcioun of 'bifore goyng fynnes, in þe fuſtentacioun, 'or beringe vp, of God, xxvi to þe ſchewyng of his riȝtwysnedeſſe in þis tyme, þat he be iust, and iuſtifyinge him þat is of þe feiþ of Jhesu Crist.
 xxvii Where is þerfore þi gloriyng? It is excludid, 'or put out. By what lawe? Of dedis doyng? Nay, but by þe lawe of feiþ.

- xxviii Forsoþe we demen a man for to be iustifyed by feiþ, wiþouten workis of lawe.
- xxix Wher of Jewis is God oonly? Wher he is not and of heþene? ȝis, and of heþene.
- xxx For soþely oon is God, þat iustifyeþ circumcisioun of feiþ, and prepucie, `or heþen men, by feiþ.
- xxxi Perfore distrye we þe lawe by þe feiþ? Fer be it; but we stabischen þe lawe.

Capitulum III.

- i What þerfore schulen we seye, `oure fadir Abraham for `to haue founden vp þe fleysch?
- ii Forsoþ if Abraham be iustified of þe workis of lawe, he haþ glorie, but not anentis God.
- iii `What soþli feiþ þe scripture? Abraham billeuede to God, and it is rettid to him to riȝtwyfnesse.
- iv Forsoþ to him þat worchiþ mede is not ȝouun to, `or rettid, vp grace, but vp dette.
- v But to hym þat worchiþ not, forsoþ billeuyng into him þat iustifyeþ þe wickid man, `or vnpitous, his feiþ is rettid to riȝtwyfnesse, vp þe purposinge of Goddis grace.
- vi As and Dauid feiþ þe bleſſidnesse of a man, to whom God acceptiþ riȝtwyfnesse wiþoute werkis `of þe lawe,
- vii Bleſſid þei, whos wickidnesſis ben forȝouun, and whos synnes ben keuered, `or hid.
- viii Bleſſid þat man, to whom God rettide not synne.
- ix Perfore þis bleſſidnesse dwelliþ oonly in circumcisioun, or also in prepucie, `or staat of heþene men? Forsoþe we seyn, for þe feiþ is rettid to Abraham to riȝtwyfnesse.
- x Hou þerfore is it rettid? in circumcisioun, or in prepucie? Not in circumcisioun, but in prepucie.
- xi And he took a signe of circumcisioun, a markyng, `or tokenyng, of riȝtwyfnesse of feiþ þat is in prepucie, þat he be fadir of alle men billeuyng by prepucie, þat it be rettid and to hem to riȝtwyfnesse;
- xii and þat he be fadir of circumcisioun, not oonly to hem þat ben of circumcisioun, but and to hem þat fuen his steppis `of þe feiþ `of our fadir Abraham, þat is in prepucie.
- xiii Forsoþe not by þe lawe is biheeſte to Abraham, or to his feed, þat he be þe eyr of þe world, but bi þe riȝtwyfnesse of feiþ.
- xiv Soþli if þei þat ben of þe lawe, ben eyris, feiþ is anentyſchid, `or distroyed, biheeſte is don awey.
- xv Forsoþ þe lawe worchiþ wraþþe; soþli wher þe lawe is not, neþir is preuaricacioun, `or trespassinge.
- xvi Perfore of þe feiþ, þat vp grace biheeſte be stable, `or stedefast, to ech feed, not to þat feed oonly þat is of þe lawe, but to þat þat is of þe feiþ of Abraham, þe which is fadir of vs alle.
- xvii As it is writun, For I haue sett þee fadir of manye folkis, bifore God to whom þou haſt billeuyd. þe which

- God quykeneþ deede men, and clepiþ þo þingis þat ben not, as þo þat ben.
- xviii þe which Abraham aȝens hope billeuede in to hope, þat he schulde be maad fadir of manye folkis, vp þat it is seid to hym, Ȣus schal þi feed be, as sterriſ of heuene, and as grauel, `or sond, þat is in þe brynde of þe see.
- xix And he is not maad vnſtedefast in þe billeue, neþir he billeud his body now nyȝ deed, whanne he was almoost of an hundrid ȝeare, and þe wombe of Sare nyȝ deed.
- xx Also in þe byheeſte of God he doutide not wiþ vntrust; but he is comfortid in billeue, ȝyuynge glorie to God,
- xxi witinge mooſt fully for what euere þingis God haþ bihiȝt, he is myȝti and for to do.
- xxii Perfore it is rettid to him to riȝtwyfnesse.
- xxiii Forsoþe it is not writun oonly for hym, for it is rettid to him to riȝtwyfnesse,
- xxiv but and for vs, to which it ſchal be rettid, beleuyng in to hym þat reyſide oure Lord Jheſu Crift fro deede ſpiritis.
- xxv þe which is bitakun for oure synnes, and roos aȝen for oure iustifyinge.

Capitulum V.

- i Therfore we, iustifyed of feiþ, haue pees at God by oure Lord Jheſu Crift.
- ii By whom we han `acceſſe, or nyȝ goynge to, by feiþ in to þis grace, in which we ſtonden, and han glorie in þe hope of glorie of Goddis ſones.
- iii Forsoþ not oonly, but and we glorien in tribulaciouns, witinge þat tribulacioun worchiþ pacience,
- iv Soþli pacience prouyng, forsoþe prouyng hope.
- v Forsoþ hope confoundiþ not, for þe charite of God is ſpred abrood in oure hertis by þe Hooly Gost, þat is ȝouun to vs.
- vi Wherto soþly deide Crift for wickide men, whanne we weren ȝit fyke, `or vnſtable, `vp tyme?
- vii Soþli vneþis deieþ eny man for þe iuft; for whi for þe goode perauenture `sum man dar deye.
- viii Forsoþ God comendiþ his charite in vs; for if whanne we weren ȝit synners, `vp tyme Crift is deed for vs,
- ix moche more now we iustifyed in his blood, schulen be ſaad fro wraþþe by him.
- x Soþli if whenne we weren enemies, we ben recouncilid to God by deeþ of his ſone, moche more we recounſylid schulen be ſaad in þe lyf `of him.
- xi Forsoþe not oonly, but and we glorien in God, by oure Lord Jheſu Crift, by whom we han receyued now recouncilyng, `or acordyng.

xii Perfore as by o man synne entride in to þis world, and by synne deeþ, so `deeþ passide forþ in to alle men, in which man alle men synneden.
 xiii Soþli til to þe lawe synne was in þe world; forsoþe synne was not `wytid, or rettid, whanne lawe was not.
 xiv But deeþ regnyde fro Adam til to Moyses, also in to hem þat synneden not in licnesse of trespassinge of Adam, which is foorme, `or licnesse, of oon to comynge.
 xv But not as gilt, `or trespass, so and þe ȝifte; soþli if þorw þe gilt of oon manye ben deed, moche more þe grace of God and ȝifte in þe grace of o man Jhesu Crist haþ haboundid in to many men.
 xvi And not as by o synne, so and by ȝyfte; forwhi soþli dom of oon in to condempnacioun, grace forsoþe of manye giltis, `or trespassingis, in to iustificacioun.
 xvii Forsoþ if in þe gilt of oon deeþ regnede þorw oon, moche more men takyng plente of grace, and ȝyuynge, and riȝtwysnesse, `in lyf schulen regne by oon Jhesu Crist.
 xviii Perfore as by þe gilt of oon in to alle men in to condempnacioun, so and by þe riȝtwysnesse of oon in to alle men in to iustifyinge of lyf.
 xix Soþli as by inobedience of o man manye ben ordeyned synneris, so and by obedience of oon manye schulen be ordeyned iust.
 xx Forsoþ þe lawe entride, þat gilt shulde be plenteuous; soþli wher gilt was plenteuous, and grace haboundide, `or was plenteuous.
 xxi þat as synne regnede in to deeþ, so and grace regne by riȝtwysnesse into euere laftyng lyf, by `Jhesu Crist oure Lord.

Capitulum VI.

i Therfore what schulen we seye? Schulen we dwelle in synne, þat grace be plenteuous? ii Ferr be it. Soþli we þat ben deed to synne, `how schulen we `ȝit lyue þer ynne?
 iii Wher, breþeren, `ȝe vñknownen, for whiche euere we ben baptysid, `or cristen, in Crist Jhesu, `in his deeþ we ben baptysid?
 iv Soþli we ben to gidere biried wiþ him bi cristendom in to deeþ; þat as Crist roos fro deede spiritis bi glorie of þe fadir, so and we walke in þe newenesse of lyf.
 v Forsoþ if we `plauntid to gidere ben maad to þe liknesse of his deeþ, also and we schulen ben of his rysing aȝen;
 vi witinge þat oure oolde man is to gidere crucifyed, þat þe body of synne be distroyed, þat we serue no more to synne.
 vii Soþli he þat is deed `to synne, is iustified fro synne.
 viii Forsoþ if we ben deed wiþ Crist, we bileuen þat also we schulen lyue to gidere wiþ him; ix witinge for Crist, ryfinge aȝen fro deede spiritis, now dieþ not, deeþ schal no more lordschipe to him.

x Forsoþ `he þat is deed to synne, he is deed oonys;
 soþli `he þat lyueþ, he lyueþ to God.
 xi So and ȝe deme ȝou for to be deed soþli to synne, forsoþ lyuynge to God in Jhesu Crist oure Lord.
 xii Perfore regne not synne in ȝoure deedly body, þat ȝe obeische to his couetingis.
 xiii But neijer ȝyue ȝe ȝoure membris aarmours of wickidnesse to synne, but ȝyue ȝe ȝou self to God, as of deed men lyuynge, and ȝoure membris armers of riȝtwysnesse to God.
 xiv Forsoþ synne schal not lordschipe to ȝou; soþli ȝe ben not vndir lawe, but vndir grace. xv What perfore? Schulen we synnen, for we ben not vndir þe lawe, but vndir grace? Ferr be it.
 xvi Witen ȝe not, for to whom ȝe ȝyuen ȝou seruauntis for to obeische, ȝe ben seruauntis of þat þing, to which ȝe han obeischid, eiper of synne to deeþ, oþir of obedience to riȝtwysnesse?
 xvii Soþli I do þankyngis to God, þat ȝe weren seruauntis of synne; forsoþ ȝe han obeychid of herte in to þat fourme of techyng, in which ȝe ben bitakun. xviii Forsoþ ȝe delyuered fro synne, ben maad seruauntis of riȝtwysnesse.
 xix I seie mannis þing, for þe infirmite, `or vnstabilnesse, of ȝoure fleisch. Soþli as ȝe han ȝouun ȝoure membris for to serue to vnclennes, and wickidnesse to wickidnesse, so now ȝyue ȝe ȝoure membris for to serue to riȝtwysnesse in to hoolynesse.
 xx Forsoþe whanne ȝe weren seruauntis of synne, ȝe weren fre of riȝtwysnesse.
 xxi Perfore what fruyt hadden ȝe þanne in þo þingis, in whiche ȝe schamen now? Now perfore þe ende of hem is deeþ.
 xxii Forsoþ now ȝe delyuered fro synne, `maad soþeli seruauntis to God, han ȝoure fruyt in to hoolynesse, þe ende forsoþ euerlaþyng lyf.
 xxiii Treuli þe hyris of synne, deeþ; þe grace of God, euerlaþing lyf in `Crist Jhesu oure Lord.

Capitulum VII.

i Breþeren, wher ȝe vñknownen; forsoþ I speke to men witinge þe lawe; for þe lawe haþ lordschip in a man, hou longe tyme it lyueþ?
 ii Forwhi þat womman þat is vnder an housbonde, is bounden to þe lawe, `lyuynge þe hofebonde; soþli if hir hofebonde `be deed, sche is delyuered, `or vnbunden, fro þe lawe of þe man.
 iii Perfore `lyuynge þe man, she schal be clepid auoutresse, if she schal be wiþ anoþer man; forsoþe if hir hofebonde be deed, she is deliuere fro lawe of þe man, þat sche be not auoutresse, if she schal be wiþ anoþer man.
 iv Treuli, briþeren, and ȝe ben maad deed to þe lawe þorw þe body of Crist, þat ȝe ben anoþeris, þat roos aȝen fro deede spiritis, þat we bere fruit to God.

v Forsoþ whanne we weren in fleisch, passiouons of synnes, þat weren bi þe lawe, wrouȝten in oure membris, þat þei schulden bere fruyt to deeþ.

vi Now forsoþe we ben vnbouneden fro þe lawe of deeþ, in þe which we weren holde, so þat we ferue in newenesse of spirit, and not in oldnesse of lettere.

vii What perfore schulen we seie? Pe lawe is synne? Fer be it. But I knew not synne, no but by lawe; forwhi I wiste not coueitynge for to be synne, 'no but þe lawe seide, þou schalt not coueite.

viii Forsoþe occasiouon takun, synne by þe maundement haþ wrouȝte in me al coueityng, 'or coueityse; soþli wiþ outhate þe lawe, synne was deed.

ix Forsoþe I lyuede wiþ outhate þe lawe sum tyme; but whanne þe comaundement hadde comen, synne lyuede azen. Soþli I am deed, x and þe comaundement is founden to me, 'þat was to lyf, þis þing for to be to deeþ.

xi Forwhi synne, occasiouon takun bi þe comaundement, disfeyuede me, and bi it flouȝ me.

xii 'And so þe lawe soþeli hooly, and þe comaundement hooly, and iuft, and good.

xiii Perfor 'þat þat is good, 'to me is maad deeþ? Fer be it. But þat synne appere, 'or be knownen, synne, þowr good þing wrouȝte deeþ to me, þat þer be maad synne synnyng over manere, 'or mesure, by comaundement.

xiv Soþli we witen, for þe lawe is spiritual, 'or goostli; forsoþ I am fleischly, sold vndir synne.

xv Soþli I vndirtonde not þat þat I worche; soþly I do not þe good þing þat I wole, but I do 'þe ilke yuel þing þat I hate.

xvi Forsoþ if I do þat þing þat I wole not, I consente to þe lawe, for it is good.

xvii Now soþely I worche not now, but þat synne þat dwelliþ in me.

xviii Soþli I wot, for in me, þat is, in my fleisch, dwelliþ no good; forwhi williþ to me, trewli 'for to performe good þing I fynde not.

xix Forsoþe I do not 'þe ilke good þing þat I wole, but I do 'þe ilke yuel þing þat I wole not.

xx Soþli if I do þat þing þat I wole not, I worche not it, but þe synne þat dwelliþ in me.

xxi Perfore I fynde a lawe to me willinge for to do good þing, for 'to me yuel þing lieþ to. 'Perfore þe lawe is good to me willinge;

xxii forsoþ I delite to gidere to þe lawe of God, vp þe ynner man.

xxiii Soþly I se an oþer lawe in my membris, aȝenfȝtinge to þe lawe of my soule, and makyng me caytyf in þe lawe of synne, þat is in my membris.

xxiv I a woeful man; who schal delyuer me fro þe body of þis synne?

xxv Forsoþe þe grace of God, bi Jhesu Crist oure Lorde. Perfore I my silf by 'resoun of þe soule ferue to þe lawe of God; soþli bi þe fleisch to þe lawe of synne.

Capitulum VIII.

i Therfore now no þing of dampnacioun is to hem þat ben in 'Crist Jhesu, þe whiche wandren not aftir þe fleisch.

ii Forsoþ þe spirit of lyf in Crist Jhesu haþ delyuered me fro þe lawe of synne, and deeþ.

iii Forwhi þat þat was vnpossible to þe lawe, in what þing it was syk, 'or freyl, by fleisch, God fendinge his sone in to þe liknesse of fleisch of synne, of þe synne dampned synne in fleisch;

iv þat þe iustifyng of lawe were fulfillid in vs, þat not aftir þe fleisch wandren, but aftir þe spirit.

v Forsoþ þei þat ben aftir þe fleisch, faueren þo þingis þat ben of þe fleisch; but þei þat ben after þe spirit, feelen þo þingis þat ben of þe spirit.

vi Forwhi þe prudence of fleisch is deeþ; forsoþ þe prudence of spirit lyf and pees.

vii For þe wyldom of fleisch is enemy to God; forsoþ it is not suget to þe lawe of God, soþly neþir it may.

viii Forsoþ þei þat ben in fleisch, mown not plese to God.

ix Soþli ȝe ben not in fleisch, but in spirit; 'neþelees if þe spirit of God dwelliþ in ȝow. Forsoþ if ony haþ not þe spirit of Crist, þis is not his.

x Forsoþ if Crist is in ȝou, soþli þe body is deed for synne, but þe spirit lyueþ for iustifyng.

xi For if þe spirit of him þat reiside Jhesu Crist fro deede spiritis dwelliþ in ȝou, he þat reiside Jhesu Crist fro deede spiritis, schal quykene and ȝoure deedli bodies, for þe spirit of him dwellinge in ȝou.

xii Perfore, breþeren, we ben dettours, not to þe fleisch, þat we lyue aftir þe fleisch.

xiii Forsoþ if ȝe schulen lyue aftir þe fleisch, ȝe schulen deie; forsoþ if ȝe bi spirit 'schulen fle þe deedis of fleisch, ȝe schulen lyue.

xiv Soþli who euere ben lad by þe spirit of God, þes ben þe sones of God.

xv Forsoþe ȝe han not taken eftloone þe spirit of seruage in drede, but ȝe han taken þe spirit of adopcioun of sones, 'þat is, to be sones of God by grace, in which spirit we cryen, Abba, fadir.

xvi Forsoþ 'þe ilke spirit ȝeldiþ witnesсыng to oure spirit, þat we ben þe sones of God;

xvii forsoþ if sones, and eyris, soþli eyris of God, trewli euene eyris of Crist; if neþelees we 'to gidere suffren, þat and we be glorified to gidere.

xviii Trewli I deme, þat þe passions of þis tyme ben not euene worþi to þe glorie to comynge, þat schal be schewid in vs.

xix Forwhi þe abydinge of creature, 'þat is, man, abidiþ þe schewinge of þe sones of God.

xx Soþli þe creature is suget to vanyte, not willinge, but for him þat 'sugetide it, 'or made it suget, in hope;

xxi for and 'þe ilke creature schal be delyuered fro seruage of corupcioun in to liberte of þe glorie of þe sones of God.

xxii Soþli we witen, þat ech creature inforwiþ, and childiþ, 'or worchip wiþ angwis, til ȝit.

xxiii Forsoþ not oonly it, but and we vs silf, hauyng þe fyrste fruytis of þe spirit, and we vs silf forwen wiþ ynne vs þe adopcioun of Goddis sones, 'þat is, wiþ greet mormynge defyren þe staat of Goddis sones bi grace, abidinge þe 'aȝen bygging of oure body.

xxiv Soþli by hope we ben mad saaf. Forsoþ þe hope þat is seyn, is not hope; forwhy what hopiþ a man þat þing, þat he seeþ?

xxv Forsoþ if we hopen þat þing þat we seen not, we abiden by pacience.

xxvi Also and þe spirit helpiþ oure infirmyte, 'or vnfstedefastnesse; forwhy what we schulen preie, as it bihoueþ, we witen not, but 'þe ilke spirit axiþ for vs wiþ forowyngis, þat mown not ben toold out.

xxvii Forsoþ he þat sekip þe hertis, wot what þe spirit defyriþ, for aftir God, 'þat is, at Goddis wille, he axiþ for hooly men.

xxviii Forsoþ we witen, for to men louyng God alle þingis worchen to gidere into good þing, to hem þat aftir purpos ben clepid seytis.

xxix Forwhy and whom he wiste bifore, 'and he ordeynede 'by grace for to be maad lychi of þe ymage of his sone, þat he be þe fyrste bigetun in many briþeren.

xxx Soþely whom he bifore ordeynede to blisse, and hem he clepide; and whom he clepide, and hem he iustifiede; soþli whom he iustifiede, and hem he glorifiede.

xxxi What þerfore schulen we seye to þes þingis? If God for vs, who aȝens vs?

xxxii 'Pe which also sparide not his owne sone, but for vs alle bitook him, how also ȝaf he not to vs alle þingis wiþ him?

xxxiii Who schal accuse aȝenus þe chosene sones of God? God þat iustifieþ, xxxiv who is it þat condempneþ? Jhesus Crist þat is deed, ȝhe, þe which and roos aȝen, þe which is on þe riȝthalf of God, and þe which preieþ for vs.

xxxv Who þerfore schal departe 'vs from þe charite of God? tribulacioun, or angwisch, or hungur, or nakidnesse, or persecucioun, or perel, or swerd?

xxxvi As it is writun, For we ben flayn al day for þee; we ben geffid as sheep to flauȝtir.

xxxvii But in alle þes þingis we ouercomen, for him þat louede vs.

xxxviii Soþli I am certeyn, for neþer deeþ, neþer lyf, neþer angels, neþer pryncipatis, neþer virtutes, 'neþer potestatis, neþer present þingis, neþer þingis to comynge, xxxix neþer strengþe, neþer hiȝþe, neþer depnesse, neþer opir creature schal may departe vs fro þe charite of God, þat is in 'Jhesu Crist oure Lord.

Capitulum IX.

i I seye treuþe in Crist Jhesu, I lye not, my conscience beringe witnes syng to me in þe Hooly Gooft, ii for greet heuynesse is to me, and continual forwe to myn herte.

iii Forsoþ I my silf defyride for to be cursid, 'or departid, fro Crist for my breþeren, þat ben my cosyns aftir þe fleisch, iv þat ben Israelytis, 'or of Israel; whos is adopcioun of sones, and glorie, and testament, and ȝyuynge of lawe, and seruyse, and biheestis;

v whos ben þe fadris, and of whom Crist aftir þe fleisch, þat is God aboue alle þingis, bleffid in to worldis. Amen.

vi Soþli not þat þe word of God haþ falle doun, 'or failide vnfyllid. Soþli not alle þat ben of Israel, þes ben Israeltis, 'or sones of Jacob.

vii Neþer þei þat ben seed of Abraham, alle ben sones; but in Ysaac seed schal be clepid to bee;

viii þat is to seye, not þei þat ben sones of þe flesh, ben sones of God, but þei þat ben sones of biheeste ben demyd in seed 'of biheeste.

ix Soþli þis is þe word of biheeste, Vp þis tyme I schal come, and a sone schal be to Sare.

x Forsoþ not oonly she, but and Rebecca, of o 'liggyng by hauyng tweye sones of Ysaac, oure fadir.

xi Soþli whanne þei weren not ȝit born, eþer hadden don ony þing of good or yuel, þat þe purpos of God schulde dwelle vp þe eleccioun, not of workis, but of God clepinge, xii it is feid to him, For þe more schal serue to þe lasse, xiii as it is writun, I louede Jacob, forsoþe 'Esau I hadde in hate.

xiv What þerfore schulen we seie? Wher wickidnesse be anentis God? Fer be it.

xv Forsoþ he seiþ to Moyses, I schal haue mercy to whom I schal haue mercy; and I schal ȝyue mercy to whom I schal haue mercy.

xvi Perfore it is not neþer of man willinge, neþer rennyng, but of God hauyng mercy.

xvii Forsoþ þe scripture seiþ to Pharao, For in to þis þing I haue stirid þee, þat I schewe in þee my vertu, and þat my name be told in al erþe.

xviii Perfore of whom God wole, he haþ mercy; and whom he wole, he enduris, 'or hardeneþ.

xix 'And so þou seist to me, What þing is ȝit souȝt? soþli who wiþstondiþ his will?

xx Aa! man, who art þou, 'þe which answerist to God? Wher a pott, 'or a maad þing, seiþ to him þat made it, What haſt þou maad me so?

xxi Wher a pottere of cley haþ not power of þe fame gobet for to make soþli o vessel in to honour, anoir forsoþe in to dispyt, 'or lowȝ office?
 xxii þat if God willinge for to schewe wraþþe, and for to make power knowun, susteynede in greet pacience þe vessels of wraþþe able in to perdicoun, 'or dampnacioun, xxiii þat he schulde schewe þe richeſſis of his glorie in to vefselis of mercy, 'þe whiche he made redy in to glorie.
 xxiv 'And whiche he clepide not oonli of Jewis, but also of heþen men, xxv as he seiþ in Ofee, I schal clepe not my peple my peple, and not my loued my loued, and not hauynge mercy hauynge mercy;
 xxvi and it schal be in place, wher it is feid, Not ȝe my peple, þere þei schulen be clepid þe fones of God lyuynge.
 xxvii Forsoþ Yſai cryeþ for Ifrael, If þe noumble of Ifrael shal be as þe grauel of þe see, þe relifs schulen be maad saf.
 xxviii Forsoþ a word endinge, and abreggyng in equyte, for þe Lord schal make a word breggid, 'or maad lhort, vpon al erþe.
 xxix And as Yſaie bifore feide, 'No but God hadde left to vs feed, we hadden ben maad as Sodom, and we hadden ben lyk as Gomor.
 xxx Perfore what schulen we seye? þat heþene men þat fueden not riȝtwysnesse, han kauȝt riȝtwysnesse, soþli þe riȝtwysnesse þat is of seiþ.
 xxxi Forsoþ Ifrael suynge þe lawe of riȝtwisnesse, cam not parfylli in to þe lawe of riȝtwysnesse. xxxii Whi? For not of seiþ, but as of workis. Soþli þei offendiden 'in to þe stoon of offencioun, 'or spurnyng, xxxiii as it is writun, Lo! I putte a stoon of offencioun in Syon, and a stoon of sclaundre; and ech þat schal bileue in to it, schal not be confoundid, 'or schent.

Capitulum X.

i Briþeren, soþli þe will of myn herte and my biseching is maad to God for hem in to heelpe.
 ii Forsoþe I bere witneſſinge to hem, for þei han loue of God, but not vp kunnynge.
 iii Soþli þei vnknowyng Goddis riȝtwysnesse, and sekinge for to make stedefast her owne, ben not suget to þe riȝtwysnesse of God.
 iv Forsoþe þe ende of þe lawe Crist, to riȝtwysnesse to ech man bileuyng.
 v Soþli Moyses wrot, For þe man þat schal do riȝtwysnesse þat is of þe lawe, schal lyue in it.
 vi Forsoþ þe riȝtwysnesse þat is of byleue, seiþ þus, Seie þou not in þin herte, Who schal styȝe into heuene? þat is to seie, for to lede doun Crist;

vii or who schal go doun in to depnesse, 'or helle? þat is, for to aȝen clepe Crist fro þe deede sp̄iritis.
 viii But what seiþ þe scripture? þe word is nyȝ in þi mouȝ, and in þin herte; þis is þe word of billeue, 'þe which we prechen.
 ix þat if þou knowleche in þi mouȝ þe Lord Jhesu Crist, and byleuest in þin herte, þat God reiside him fro deede sp̄iritis, þou schalt be saaf.
 x Forsoþ by herte men billeueþ to riȝtwysnesse, by mouȝ soþli knowleching is maad to helþe.
 xi Soþli þe scripture seiþ, Ech þat billeueþ into him, schal not be confoundid.
 xii Soþli þer is no distynccioun of Jew and Greek; for why þe same Lord of alle, ryche into alle, þat inclepen
 him.
 xiii Forsoþ ech man who euere schal inclepe þe name of þe Lord, schal be saaf.
 xiv How þerfore schulen þei inclepyn hym, into whom þei han not billeued? or how schulen þei billeue to hym, whom þei herden not? How forsoþ schulen þei heere, wiþ outen þe prechinge?
 xv or how schulen þei preche, no but if þei be sent? As it is writun, How faire þe feet of 'men euangelising pees, of prechinge goode þingis.
 xvi But not alle men obeischen to þe gospel. Forsoþ Yſaie seiþ, Lord, who billeuyde to oure heeringe?
 xvii Perfore seiþ of heeringe, heering forsoþ by þe word of Crist.
 xviii But I seye, Wher þei herden not? And soþli þe word of hem wente out into al erþe, and into þe endis of þe roundnesse of þe erþe 'her wordis.
 xix But I seie, Wher Ifrael knew not? First Moyſes seiþ, I schal lede ȝou to enuye, 'into not a folk; into an vnwys folk, I schal sende ȝou in to wraþþe.
 xx Forsoþ Yſaie dar, and seiþ, I am foundyn of men not sekinge me; openly I apperide to hem, þat axiden not
 me.
 xxi Forsoþe to Yrael he seiþ, Al day I streiȝe out my hondis to a peple not billeuyng to me, but aȝen seyinge.

Capitulum XI.

i Therfore I seye, Wher God haþ putt awey his peple?
 Ferr be it. Forwhi and I am an Ifraelyte, of þe seed of Abraham, of þe lynage of Beniamyn.
 ii 'þe Lord 'putte not awey his peple, 'þe which he bifore wiste. Wher ȝe witen not, 'in Helye 'what þe scripture seiþ? How he preieþ God aȝens Ifrael, iii Lord, þei han flayn þi prophetis, þei han vndirdoluen þin auteris, and I am left aloone, and þei seken my lyf.
 iv But what seiþ Goddis answere to him? I haue left to me feuene þousand of men, þat han not bowid her knees bifore Baal.
 v So þerfore and in þis tyme, þe relyfs ben mad saaf, vp þe chefyng of þe grace of God.

- vi For if bi þe grace of God, now not of workis; ellis grace is not now grace.
- vii What þerfore? Ifrael haþ not getyn þat þat he souȝte, forsoþe eleccioun haþ getyn; soþli þe opere ben blyndid.
- viii As it is writun, He ȝaf to hem a spirit of compuncion, yȝen þat þei se not, and eeris, þat þei heeren not, til in to þis day.
- ix And Dauȝþ feiþ, Be þe boord of hem maad 'before hem in to a gnare, and in to catchinge, and in to fclaudre, and into ȝeldinge aȝen to hem.
- x Be þe yȝen of hem maad derke, þat þei se not; and incroke algatis þe bak of hem.
- xi Ȥerfore I seye, Wher þei offendiden so, þat þei schulden falle doun? Fer be it. But bi þe gilt of hem heelþe is maad to heþene men, þat þei sue hem.
- xii Pat if þe gilt of hem ben richeſſis of þe world, and þe menuſinge, 'or makinge leſſe, 'of hem ben richeſſis of heþen men, hou moche more þe plente of hem?
- xiii Soþli I seye to ȝou, heþen men, hou longe soþli I am apostle of heþen men, I ſchal honoure my mynystrie, 'or feruyle,
- xiv if on ony maner I ſtire my fleiſch for to folwe, and I make ſumme of hem ſaaf.
- xv Forſoþ if þe loſſe of hem is reconſilinge of þe world, what takinge vp, no but lyf of deede men?
- xvi For if þe ſacrifice, 'or litel part of taſtyng, be hooly, and þe hool gobet; and if þe roote is hooly, and þe braunchis.
- xvii þat if ony of þe braunchis ben broken, þou soþli, whanne þou were a wylde olyue tre, art 'fett yn among hem, and ert maad felowe of þe roote, and of fatneſſe of þe olyue tre,
- xviii nyle þou glorie aȝeyns þe braunchis. For if þou gloriest, þou beriſt not þe roote, but þe roote þee.
- xix Ȥerfore þou feiſt, þe braunchis ben broken, þat I be 'yn fett.
- xx Wel, for vnbileue þe braunchis ben broken; forſoþ þou ſtondiſt by feiþ. Nyle þou fauere hiȝe þing, but drede þou,
- xxi forſoþ if God ſparide not þe kyndely braunchis, leſt perauenture he ſpare not þee.
- xxii Ȥerfore fe þe goodneſſe, and feerſneſſe of God; soþli feerſneſſe in to hem þat felden doun, soþli þe goodneſſe of God in þee, if þou 'ſchalt dwelle in goodneſſe, ellis and þou ſchalt be kitt down.
- xxiii But and þei ſchulen ben ynfett, if þei 'ſchulen not dwelle in vnbileue. Forſoþ God is myȝty, eftſoone for to ynfette hem.
- xxiv Forwhi if þou ert kitt doun of þe kyndely wylde olyue tre, and aȝens kynde ert infeſt in to a good olyue tre, how moche more þei þat by kynde, ſchulen be ynfett to her olyue tre?
- xxv Forſoþe, briþeren, I nyle ȝou vñknowe þis mynystrie, þat ȝe ben not wyſe to ȝou ſilf; for blyndneſſe haþ felde of party in Ifrael, til þe plente of heþen men entriden,
- xxvi and ſo al Ifrael ſchulde be maad ſaaf. As it is writun, He ſchal come of Syon, þat ſchal delyuere, and turne awey þe vnpite of Jacob.
- xxvii And þis teſtament to hem of me, whanne I ſchal do awey her synnes.
- xxviii Soþli vp þe gospel enemyes for ȝou, forſoþ moost dereworþe vp þe eleccioun for fadris.
- xxix Soþli þe ȝiftis and clepyngē of God ben wiþouten forþinkynge, 'or reuokynge.
- xxx Soþli as sum tyme and ȝe bileueden not to God, 'now forſoþe ȝe han gete mercy for þe vnbileue of hem;
- xxxi ſo and þes now bileueden not in to ȝoure mercy, þat and þei gete mercy.
- xxxii Forſoþe God cloſide to gidere alle þingis in vnbileue, þat he haue mercy on alle.
- xxxiii A! þe hiȝneſſe, 'or depneſſe, of þe richeſſe of wyſdom and kunnynge of God; hou incomprehenſyble ben his domes, and his weyis vñſerchable.
- xxxiv Forſoþe who knew þe witt of God, or who was his councelour?
- xxxv or who formere ȝaf to hym, and it ſchal be quyt aȝen to him?
- xxxvi For of him, and by him, and in hym ben alle þingis. To him 'honour and glorie in to worldis. Amen.

Capitulum XII.

- i 'And ſo, briþeren, I bifeche ȝou by þe mercy of God, þat ȝe ȝyue ȝoure bodyes a lyuynge ooft, 'or ſacrifice, hooly, pleſyngē to God, ȝoure feruycē reſonable.
- ii And nyle ȝe be confoormed, 'or maad lyk, to þis world, but 'be ȝe refoormed in newenesse of ȝoure witt, þat ȝe proue which is þe wille of God, good, and wel pleſyngē, and parfy.
- iii Forſoþ I ſeie, bi þe grace þat is ȝouun to me, to alle þat ben among ȝou, for to not fauere, 'or kunne, more þan it behoueþ for to kunne, but for to Kunne to ſobrenesse; and to ech man, as God haþ departid þe meſure of feiþ.
- iv Forſoþ as in oo body we han many membris, soþli alle þe membris han not þe ſame acte, 'or dede;
- v ſo we 'ben manye oo body in Crift, ech forſoþe membris 'þe toper of an oper.
- vi Ȥerfore hauynge ȝiftis dyuersinge, vp grace þat is ȝouun to vs, eþer propheſie, vp reſoun of feiþ;
- vii eþer mynifterie, 'or feruycē, in myniftringe; eþer he þat techiþ, in techinge;
- viii he þat ſtireþ softly, in exhortacioun, 'or monestinge; he þat ȝyueþ, in sympleniffe; he þat is byfore, 'or ſouereyn, in bisynesse; he þat haþ mercy, in gladneſſe.
- ix Loue wiþ oute feynynge, hatynge yuel, cleuynge, 'or faste drawynge, to good þing;
- x louynge to gidere þe charite of briþerhed; comynge before to gidere in honour, xi not flow in bisynesse, feruent, 'or brennynge, in spirit, feruyng to þe Lord, xii ioyinge in hope, pacient in tribulacioun, bisy in preier, xiii comunyng to þe nedis of seyntis, suynge, 'or kepinge, hospitalite, 'þat is, herboringe of pore men.

 xiv Bleſſe ȝe men purſuyng ȝou; bleſſe ȝe, and nyle ȝe curse, 'or warie;
 xv for to ioye wiþ men ioyinge, for to wepe wiþ men wepinge; xvi feelynge þe same þing to gidere; not sauerynge, 'or kunnynge, hiȝe þingis, but consentyng to meke þingis. Nyle ȝe be prudent anentis ȝou ſilf, xvii to no man ȝeldinge yuel for yuel, purueyinge goode þingis, not oonly before God, but also before alle men.
 xviii If it may be don, þat þat is of ȝou, hauyng pees wiþ alle men.
 xix ȝe moost dereworþe briþeren, not defendyng, 'or vengynge, ȝou ſilf, but 'ȝyue ȝe place to ire, 'or wrappe; forſoþ it is writun, ȝe Lord ſeip, To me veniaunce, and I ſchal ȝelde aȝen.
 xx But if þin enemye 'ſchal hungre, feede þou him; if he þirstib, ȝyue þou drynke to hym; forſoþ þou doyng 'þes þingis ſchalt gidere to gedre colis on his heed.
 xxi Nyle þou be ouercome of yuel þing, but ouercome þou yuel þing in good þing.

Capitulum XIII.

i Euery foule, 'or lyuyng man, be fuget to hiȝer poweris. Forſoþ þere is not power no but of God; ſoplí þo þingis þat ben of God, ben ordeyned.
 ii 'And ſo he þat 'aȝen ſtondiþ power, aȝen ſtondiþ 'þe ordynaunce of God; forſoþ þei þat aȝenſtonden, getiþ to hem ſilf dampnacioun.
 iii Forwhi princis ben not to þe drede of good werk, but of yuel. ſoplí wilt þou not drede power? Do þou good þing, and þou ſchalt haue preyſyng of it;
 iv forſoþ he is þe mynyſtre of God to þee into good. ſoplí if þou doift yuel þing, drede þou; for not wiþoute cause he beriþ þe ſword, for he is þe mynyſtre of God, vengere into wrappe to him þat doþ yuel þing.
 v And þerfore by nede be ȝe fuget, not oonly for wrappe, but and for conscience.
 vi ſoplí þerfore and ȝe ȝyuen tributis, þei ben þe mynyſtris of God, 'for þis fame þing feruyng.
 vii þerfore ȝelde ȝe 'to alle men dettis, to whom tribut, tribut, to whom tol, 'or custom 'for þingis borun aboute, tol, 'or ſuch custom, to whom drede, drede, to whom honour, honour. viii To no man owe ȝe ony þing, no but þat ȝe loue to gidere. ſoplí he þat loueþ his neȝbore, haþ fulfillid þe lawe.
 ix Forwhy, þou ſchalt 'do no leccherie, þou ſchalt not fle, þou ſchalt not ſtele, þou ſchalt not feye fals witneſſinge, þou ſchalt not coueite þe þing of þi neȝbore, and if þere be ony opir maundement, it is inſtorid, 'or encloſid, in þis word, þou ſchalt loue þi neȝbore as þi ſilf.

 x ȝe loue of þi neȝbore worchiþ not yuel; þerfore loue is þe plente, 'or fulfillinge, of þe lawe.
 xi And we witinge þis tyme, for hour is now, vs for to ryse of ſlepe; ſoplí now oure heelþe is neer, þan whanne we billeueden.
 xii ȝe nyȝt wente byfore, forſoþ þe day 'ſchal neȝe. þerfore caste we awey þe workis of derkneſſis, and be we cloþid wiþ þe armeris of liȝt.
 xiii As in day wandre we honestly, not in 'oþte etyngis and drynkyngis, not in couchis and vnchaſtitees, not in ſtryf and in enuye;
 xiv but be ȝe cloþid in þe Lord Jhesu Crift, and do ȝe not cure, 'or bisynesse, of fleiſch in defyris.

Capitulum XIV.

i Forſoþ take ȝe a syk man in billeue, not in deceptaciouns, or dispeticious, of þouȝtis.
 ii ſoplí anoþir billeueþ himſilf for to ete alle þingis; forſoþ he þat is syk, 'or vnſtedefast, ete he wortis, 'or potage.
 iii He þat etiþ, dispise not 'þe man not etyng; and he þat etiþ not, deme not 'þe man etyng. ſoplí God haþ takyn him.
 iv Who art þou, þat demeſt anoþir feruaunt? To his lord he ſtondiþ, or falliþ doun. Forſoþ he ſchal ſtonde; forſoþ þe Lord is myȝti for to 'ordeyne him, 'or make ſtedefast.
 v Forwhi anoþir demeþ a day bytwixe day, anoþer demeþ ech day. Ech man habunde, 'or be plenteuous, in his witt.
 vi He þat ſaueriþ, 'or vndirſtondiþ, þe day, vndirſtondiþ to þe Lord. And he þat etiþ, etiþ to þe Lord, for he doiþ þankygis to 'þe Lord. And he þat etiþ not, etiþ not to þe Lord, and doiþ þankygis to God.
 vii Forſoþ no man of vs lyueþ to hym ſilf, and no man dieiþ to him ſilf.
 viii ſoplí where we lyuen, we lyuen to þe Lord; where we deien, we deien to þe Lord. þerfore wher we lyuen or deien, we ben 'of þe Lord.
 ix In þis þing ſoplí Crift is deed, and 'roos aȝen, þat he be Lord and of quike and of deede.
 x Forſoþ what demeſt þou þi broþer? or whi diſpifſt þou þi broþer? for alle we ſchulen ſtonde before þe trone of Crift.
 xi For it is writun, I lyue, ſeip þe Lord, for to me ech knee ſchal ben bowid, and ech tunge ſchal knowleche to God.
 xii 'And ſo ech of vs ſchal ȝelde refoun to God for him ſilf.

xiii Perfore no more deme we to gidere, 'or ech oþir; but more deme ȝe þis þing, þat ȝe putte not hurtyng, 'or sclaundre, to a broþer.
 xiv I woot and truste in þe Lord Jhesu, for no þing is comune, 'or vnclene, by him, no but to him þat demeþ ony þing for to be vnclene, 'to him it is vnclene.
 xv Soþli if þi broþir be maad sory, 'or heuy in conscience, for mete, now þou walkist not aftir charite. Nyle þou þorw þi mete leese him, for whom Crist diede.
 xvi Perfore be not oure good þing blasfemyd, 'or dispisid.
 xvii Soþli þe rewme of God is not mete and drynke, but riȝtwysnesse and pees and ioye in þe Hooly Gost.
 xviii Forsoþ he þat in þis þing serueþ Crist, plesiþ God, and is prouyd to men.
 xix And so sue we þo þingis þat ben of pees, and kepe we þo þingis to gidere þat ben of edificacioun, 'þat is, to bylde soulis to heuene.
 xx Nyle þou for mete distroye þe work of God. Soþli alle þingis ben cleene, but it is yuel to þe man þat etiþ by offendinge, 'or sclaundre.
 xxi It is good for to not ete fleisch, and for to not drynke wyn, neþer in what þing þi broþir offendis, 'or is sclaundrid, or is maad syk, 'or vnstedefast.
 xxii þou þat hast feiþ anentis þi silf, haue þou before God. Bleffid is he þat demeþ not, 'or dampneþ not, him silf in þat þing þat he proueþ.
 xxiii Forsoþ he þat demeþ, 'if he ete, is dampned; for it is not of feiþ. Forsoþ al þing þat is not of feiþ, is synne.

Capitulum XV.

i Forsoþe we saddere owen for to susteyne, 'or bere vp, þe feblenesse of syke men, 'or vnsadde in feiþ, and not plese to vs silf.
 ii Ech of vs plese to his neiȝbore in to good, to edificacioun.
 iii And forsoþ Crist pleside not to hym silf, but, as it is writun, Þe reprouys, 'or schenschipis, of men displeasinge þee, felden on me.
 iv Forsoþe what euere þingis ben writun, þei ben writun to oure techinge, þat by pacience and comfort of scripturis we han hope.
 v Forsoþe God of pacience and solace, 'or comfort, ȝyue to ȝou for to vndirstonde þe same þing, ech in to oþir aftir Jhesu Crist, vi þat ȝe of oo wille, 'or witt, wiþ oo mouȝ worshipe God and þe fadir of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.
 vii For which þing take ȝe to gidere, as and Crist took ȝou into þe honour of God.
 viii Soþli I seie Jhesu Crist for 'to haue be a mynistre of circumcisioun for þe treuþe of God, for to conferme þe biheftis of fadrис.

ix Soþli heþene men for to honoure God vpon mercy; as it is writun, Perfore, Lord, I schal knowleche to þee in heþene men, and I schal synge to þi name.
 x And eftsoone he seiþ, Glade, or ioye, ȝe heþene men wiþ his peple.
 xi And eftsoone, Alle heþene men, herye ȝe þe Lord; and alle peplis, magnyfie ȝe him.
 xii And eft Ysaie seiþ, Þer schal be a roote of Jesse, and heþene men schulen hope in him, þat schal ryse for to gouerne heþene men.
 xiii Forsoþ God of hope fulfille ȝou in al ioye and pees in bileuyng, þat ȝe habounde in hope and vertu of þe Hooly Gost.
 xiv Soþeli, briþeren, and I my silf am certeyn of ȝou, 'for and ȝe ȝou silf ben ful of loue, ȝhe, fulfillid wiþ al sciense, 'or kunnynge, so þat ȝe mown moneste ech oper.
 xv Soþeli, briþeren, more hardily I wroot to ȝou 'of party, as aȝen bryngynge ȝou in to mynde, for þe grace þat is ȝouun to me of God.
 xvi þat I be þe mynistre of Crist Jhesu in heþene men; I halwinge þe gospel of God, þat þe offringe of heþene men be maad acceptid, and halewid in þe Hooly Gost.
 xvii Perfore I haue glorie in Crist Jhesu to God.
 xviii Forsoþ I dar not speke ony þing of þo þingis, þe whiche Crist makis not by me, into obeydence of heþene men, in word and dedis, xix in vertu of tokenes and grete wondris, in vertu of þe Hooly Gost, so þat from Jerusalem by cumpas, 'or enuyroun, til vnto Illiryk I haue fulfillid þe gospel of Crist.
 xx Forsoþ so I haue prechid þis gospel, not where Crist was named, left I bilde vpon oþeris ground, xxi but as it is writun, For to whom it is not told of him, þei schulen se, and þei þat herden not, schulen vndirstonde.
 xxii For which þing I was lettid ful moche for to come to ȝou, and I am forbodyn til into ȝit.
 xxiii Forsoþ now I 'not hauyng ferþere place in þes cuntrees, soþli hauyng couetyse 'of comynge to ȝou, of many ȝeiris now goyng before, xxiv whanne I schal bygynne for to passe in to Spayne, I hope þat I passinge forþ schal se ȝou, and of ȝou I schal be lad þidur, if I schal vſen ȝou first in party.
 xxv Perfore now I schal passe forþ to Jerusalem, for to mynistre to feyntis.
 xxvi Forsoþ Macedonye and Achaye proueden for to make sum collacioun, 'or gedrynge of moneye, in to pore men of feyntis, þat ben in Jerusalem.
 xxvii Soþli it pleside to hem, and þei ben dettouris of hem; forwhi if heþene men ben maad parteneris of her goostly þingis, þei owen and in fleischly þingis for to mynistre to hem.
 xxviii Perfore whanne I schal ende þis þing, and affigne hem þis fruit, bi ȝou I schal passe into Spayne.

xxix Forsoþ I woot, þat I comyngē to ȝou, schal come into þe haboundaunce, 'or plente, of þe blesſinge of Crist.

xxx Perfore, briþeren, I beſeche ȝou by oure Lord Jhesu Crist, and bi charite of þe Hooly Gost, þat ȝe helpe me in ȝoure prayeris 'for me to þe Lord, xxxi þat I be delyuerid fro þe vntrewe, 'or vnfelþul, men, þat ben in Judee, and þat þe offrynge of my feruyce be acceptid in Jerusalem to feynis;
xxxii þat I come to ȝou in ioye, by þe wille of God, and þat I be refresched wiþ ȝou.
xxxiii Soþli God of pees be wiþ ȝou alle. Amen.

Capitulum XVI.

i Forſob, briþeren, I comende to ȝou Feben, oure ſiſter, þat is in þe feruyce of þe chirche þat is in Teucris, ii þat ȝe refseyue hir in þe Lord worþily to feynis, and þat ȝe 'ftonde nyȝ, 'or helpe, hir in what euere nede, 'or þing, ſhe ſchal nede of ȝou. Forſob and ſhe 'stood nyȝ, 'or helpide, to manye, and to me ſilf.
iii Saluwe ȝe, or 'greete ȝe, Priska and Aquyla, myn helperis in Crist Jhesu, iv þe whiche vndirputtiden her neckis for my foule, 'or lyf; to whiche not I aloone do þankingis, but and alle þe chirchis of heþene men.
v And 'greete ȝe wel hir homeli chirche. 'Grete ȝe wel Efenete, loued to me, þat is þe firſte of Afye in Crist Jhesu.
vi Greete wel Marie, 'þe whiche haþ trauelid moche in vs.
vii Greeteþ wel Andronyk and Juliane, myn cofyns, and myn euene caytifs, 'or prisoneris, þe whiche ben noble among apostlis, and þe whiche weren biſore me in Crist.
viii Greeteþ wel Ampliate, mooſt dereworþe to me in þe Lord.
ix Greete wel Vrban, oure helper in Crist Jhesu, and Stacchen, my loued.
x Greete wel Appellem, noble in Crist. Greete wel hem þat ben of Aristoblis hous.
xi Greete wel Erodyon, my cofyn. 'Grete we hem þat ben of Narcifties hous, þat ben in þe Lord.
xii Greete wel Triphenam and Triphonam, þe whiche wymmen trauelen in þe Lord. Greete wel Perfida, mooſt dereworþe womman, þat haþ moche trauelid in þe Lord.
xiii Greete wel Rufus, chosun in þe Lord, and his modir, and myn.
xiv Greete wel Anſicrete, Flegoncia, Hermen, Patroban, Herman, and briþeren þat ben wiþ hem.
xv Greete wel Filologus, and Julyan, and Venerum, and his ſiſter, and Olympiades, and alle þe feynis þat ben wiþ hem.
xvi Greetiþ wel to gidere in hooly cof. Alle þe chirchis of Crist greeten ȝou wel.

xvii Forſob, briþeren, I preie ȝou, þat ȝe aspye hem þat maken diſcenciouns and hirtyngis, or ſclaundris, bifydis þe doctryñ þat ȝe han lernyd, and 'bowe ȝe awey fro hem.

xviii Soþely ſiche men ſeruen not to þe Lord Crist, but to her wombe, and by ſwete wordis and blesſingis diſfeſyen þe hertiſ of innocent men.

xix Soþli ȝoure obedience is pupplisched into euery place, þerfore I ioye in ȝou. But I wole ȝou for to be wyſe in good þing, and ſympyle in yuel þing.

xx Forſobe God of pees defoule Sathanas vndir ȝoure feet ſweftly. Pe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crist be wiþ ȝou.

xxi Tymothe, myn helpere, greetiþ ȝou wel, and alſo Lucius, and Jason, and Sofipater, my cofyns.

xxii 'I þe þridde greete ȝou wel, þat haue writyn þe epiftle, in þe Lord.

xxiii Gayus, my herborgere, greetiþ ȝou wel, and al þe chirche. Eraſtus treſorer, 'or keper, of þe cite, greetiþ ȝou wel, and Quartus, broþer.

xxiv Pe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crist wiþ ȝou alle. Amen.

xxv Forſob to him, þat is myȝty for to conferme ȝou by my gospel, and preaching of Jhesu Crist, vp þe reuelacioun of mysterie holdun ſtille, þat is, not ſchewid, in tymes euerlaſtyng;

xxvi þe which mysterie is now maad opyn by scripturis of prophetis, vp þe comaundement of God wiþouten bygynnynge and endyng, to þe obedience of feiþ in alle heþene men, xxvii þe mysterie knowun to God aloone wyſe 'by Jhesu Crist, to whom honour and glorie into worldis of worldis. Amen.

Here endiþ þe epiftle to Romayns, and now bigynneþ þe prolog to þe firſte epiftle to Corinthis.

I. CORINTHIS.

Prolog to þe firſte Corinthies.

Corinthies ben men of Achaye, and þes also of þe apoftelis hadden herd þe word of treuþe, and þei were ouerturned in many maneris of false apoftelis; ſumme of wordy eloquence of philofophie, ſumme to þe ſecte of Jewis lawe yledd. Þes reuokeþ þe apoftle to þe trewe and goſpels wysdom, writynge to hem fro Effecie, by Tymothe, his disciple.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and bigynneþ þe epiftle. Pe firſte piftle of Poul to Corinthis.

Capitulum I.

i Poul, clepid apoftle of Jhesu Crist, bi þe wille of God, and Softenes, broþir, ii to þe chirche of God þat is at Corinthe, to þe halowid in Crist Jhesu, clepid seytis, wiþ alle þat inclepyn þe name of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, in ech place of hem and oure, iii grace 'and pees to ȝou of God, oure fadir, and of þe Lord Jhesu Crist.

iv I do þankyngis to my God euermore for ȝou, in þe grace of God þat is ȝouun to ȝou in Crist Jhesu.
v For in alle þingis ȝe ben ryche in him, in ech word, and in ech kunnynge, 'or science, vi as þe witnesfyng of Crist is confermyd in ȝou;
vii so þat no þing fayle to ȝou in ony grace, abidyng þe reuelacioun, 'or schewynge, of oure Lord Jhesu Crist;
viii þe which and schal conferme ȝou til into þe ende wibouten cryme, 'or greet synne, in þe day of þe comynge of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.
ix Forsoþ God is trewe, bi whom ȝe ben clepid in to þe fellowship of his sone Jhesu Crist oure Lord.
x Forsoþ, briþeren, I biseche ȝou, bi þe name of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, þat ȝe alle seye þe same þing, and þat scismes, or dyuyliouns, diffenciouns, 'or discordis, be not among ȝou; soþli be ȝe parfyt in þe same witt, and in þe same kunnynge.
xi Forsoþ, briþeren, it is signyfied, 'or toold, to me of hem þat ben of Cloes, for stryues ben among ȝou.
xii Forsoþ I seye þis þing, þat ech of ȝou seip, Forsoþ I am of Poul, forsoþ I of Appollo, treuly I of Cephas, 'þat is, Petre, forsoþ I of Crist.
xiii Wher Crist is departid? wher Poul is crucifyed for ȝou, eþir ben ȝe baptysid in þe name of Poul?
xiv I do þankyngis to God, þat I baptiside no man of ȝou, no but Crispus and Gayus; xv leſt ony man seye, þat ȝe ben baptysid in my name.
xvi Soþli 'and I baptiside þe hous of Steuene, a womman, but I woot not, if I baptiside ony oþir.
xvii For Crist fente me not for to baptise, but for to euangelyse, 'or preche þe gospel; not in wyðdom of word, þat he cros of Crist be not voydid awey.
xviii For þe word of þe cros is folye soþli to 'men perischinge; forsoþ to hem þat ben maad saaf, þat is to seye, to vs, it is þe vertu of God.
xix Soþli it is writun, I schal leſe þe wyðdom of wyle men, and I schal reproue þe prudence of prudent men.
xx Where is þe wyle man? where is þe writere, 'or man of lawe? where is þe purchasour of þis world? Wher God hap not maad þe wyðdom of þis world foltisch, 'or fool.
xxi Forwhi for in þe wyðdom of God þe world knew not God by wyðdom, it pleside to God for to make 'men saaf bileuyng, by þe folie of prechinge.
xxii For and Jewis feken līgnes, and Greekis feken wiðdom; xxiii forsoþ we prechen Crist crucifyed, to Jewis soþli fclaudre, to heþene men 'forsoþ folly;
xxiv forsoþ to 'hem clepid, Jewis and Greekis, Crist þe vertu of God, and þe wyðdom of God.

xxv For þat þat is foly þing of God, is wyſer þan men; and þat þat is lyk þing, 'or freyl, of God, is strenger þan men.
xxvi Forsoþ fe ȝe ȝoure clepinge, briþeren; for not manye wyle men aftir þe fleisch, not many myȝty, not many noble.
xxvii But God chees þo þingis þat ben foltyſch of þe world, þat he confounde wyle men; and God chees þe fyke þingis, 'or freyl, of þe world, þat he confounde þe ſtronge þingis;
xxviii and God chees þe vnnoble þingis and diſpifable þingis of þe world, and þo þingis þat ben not, þat he ſchulde diſtroye þo þingis þat ben;
xxix þat ech fleisch, 'or man, 'glorie not in his ſiȝt.
xxx Forsoþ of him ȝe ben in Crist Jhesu, þe which is maad to vs wyðdom and riȝtwyſneſſe, and hoolyneſſe, and aȝenbying; xxxi þat, as it is writun, He þat gloriþ, glorie in þe Lord.

Capitulum II.

i And I, briþeren, whanne I cam to ȝou, cam not in hiȝneſſe of word, or wyðdom, tellinge, 'or ſchewinge, 'to ȝou þe witneſſing of Crist.
ii Soþli I ſchewide, 'or demyde, not me for to wite, 'or kunne, ony þing among ȝou, not but Crist Jhesu, and him crucifyed.
iii And I in fyknelle, and drede, and moche tremblyng, 'or quakyng, was anentis ȝou;
iv and my word and my preching not in persuable, 'or futile gloſyng, wordis of mannis wyðdom, but in ſchewynge of ſpirit and vertu;
v þat ȝoure feiþ be not in þe wyðdom of men, but in þe vertu of God.
vi Forsoþ we ſpeken wyðdom among perfyt men, forſoþ not wyðdom of þis world, neþer of princes of þis world, þat ben diſtroyed;
vii but we ſpeken þe wyðdom of God, þat 'is hid in mysterie, 'or priuyte; þe which wyðdom God biſore ordeyned biſore worldis in to oure glorie, viii þe which no man of þe princes of þis world knew; for if þei hadden knownen, þei ſchulden neuere haue crucifyed þe Lord of glorie.
ix But as it is writun, þat yȝe fyȝ not, ne eere herde, neþer it ſtȝede in to herte of man, what þingis God made redy biſore to hem þat louen him; x forsoþ God ſchewyde to vs by his ſpirit. Forsoþ þe ſpirit ſekip alle þingis, ȝe, þe deepe þingis of God.
xi Soþli who of men woot, what þingis ben of man, no but þe ſpirit of man þat is in him? So and what þingis ben of God, no man knowip, no but þe ſpirit of God.
xii Forsoþ we han not refseyued þe ſpirit of þis world, but þe ſpirit þat is of God, þat we witen what þingis ben ȝouun to vs of God.

xiii Be whiche þingis we speken, not in tauȝt wordis of mannis wysdom, but in doctryne of þe spirit, comparisyonge spiritual þingis to goftly men.

xiv Forsoþ a beestli man persefueþ not þo þingis þat ben of þe spirit of God; soþli it is foly to him, and he may not vnderstonde, for he is examyned, 'or asayed, goftly.

xv Forsoþ a spiritual man demeþ alle þingis, and he is demyd, 'or dampned, of no man.

xvi As it is writun, Who soþli knew þe witt of þe Lord, or who tauȝte him? Forsoþ we han þe witt of Crist.

Capitulum III.

i And I, briþeren, myȝte not speke to ȝou as to spiritual men, but as to fleischli; as to litle children in Crist, ii I ȝaf to ȝou mylk drynke, not mete; soþli ȝe myȝten not ȝit vndirstonde, but neþir 'now soþli ȝe mown, iii for ȝit ȝe ben fleischly. Whanne enuye and stryf is among ȝou, wher ȝe ben not fleischli, and aftir man ȝe gon?

iv For whanne summe seiþ, I soþli am of Poul, anoþer forsoþ, I am of Apollo, wher ȝe ben not men?

v What þerfore is Apollo, what forsoþ Poul? Þei ben mynistris, 'or feruauntis, of him, to whom ȝe han bileuyd; and to ech man as God haþ ȝouun.

vi I plauntide, Apollo watride, 'or moystide, but God ȝaf encrefynge.

vii And so neþir he þat plauntiþ is ony þing, neþir he þat moystiþ, but God þat ȝyueþ encrefynge.

viii Forsoþ he þat plauntiþ, and he þat moystiþ, ben oo þing; soþli ech schal take his propre hyre, after his traueil.

ix For we ben þe helperis of God; ȝe ben þe erþe tilyinge of God, ȝe ben þe byldinge of God.

x Aftir þe grace of God þat is ȝouun to me, as a wys carpenter I sette þe fundement; forsoþe anoþer bildeþ aboue. Soþli ech man se, hou 'and what þingis he byldeþ vpon.

xi Soþli no man may sette anoþer foundement, 'bi sydis þat þat is sett, þe which is Crist Jhesus.

xii Forsoþ if eny man bylde ouer vpon þis foundement, gold, siluer, precyous stooones, stickis, hey, stuble, xiii euery mannis work schal be open, þe day of þe Lord schal declare; for 'ech mannis work schal be schewid in fyre, 'what maner it is, þe fier schal proue.

xiv If þe werk of ony man schal dwelle, þe which he byldide vpon, he schal receyue mede.

xv If eny mannis work schal brenne, it schal suffre peyringe; forsoþ he schal be saaf, so neþeles as by fyre.

xvi Wite ȝe not, for ȝe ben þe temple of God, and þe spirit of God dwelliþ in ȝou?

xvii Forsoþ if ony 'schal defoule þe temple of God, God schal disparelle him, 'or distroye; forsoþ þe temple of God is hooly, þe which ȝe ben.

xviii No man disseyue him silf. If eny man a mong ȝou is feyn for to be wyse in þis world, be he maad a fool, þat he be wyse.

xix Forsoþ þe wysdom of þis world is foly anentis God; forsoþ it is writun, I schal catche wyse men in her fell wysdom, 'or sutil gyle;

xx and eft, Þe Lord haþ knowyn þe þouȝtis of wyse men, for þei ben veyn.

xxi And so no man glorie in men. Forsoþ alle þingis ben ȝoure, xxii eiþer Poul, eiþer Apollo, eiþir Cephas, 'þat is, Petre, eiþir þe world, eiþer lyf, eiþir deeþ, eiþer þingis present, eiþir þingis to comynge; forsoþe alle þingis ben ȝoure, xxiii ȝe forsoþ of Crist, Crist soþeli of God.

Capitulum IIII.

i So a man gesse, 'or deme, vs, as mynistris of Crist, and dispenderis of þe mynisteries of God.

ii Now it is souȝt here a mong þe dispenderis, þat a man be founden trewe.

iii Forsoþ to me it is for þe leeste þing, þat I be demyd of ȝou, or of mannis day; but neþir I deme my silf.

iv Soþli I am no þing guilty to my silf, but not in þis þing I am iustified; forsoþ he þat demeþ me, is þe Lord.

v 'And so nyle ȝe deme bi fore þe tyme, til þat þe Lord come, þe which 'and schal aliȝtne þe hid þingis of derknessis, and schal schewe þe councells of hertis; and þanne preisfyng schal be to ech man of God.

vi Soþeli, briþeren, 'þis þing I haue transfigurid in to me and in to Apollo; þat in vs ȝe lerne, leſt þat ouer þat it is writun, oon aȝens anopir be inblowyn 'wiþ pride for anopir man.

vii Who forsoþ demeþ þee? What soþli haſt þou, þat þou haſt not refseyued? Soþli if þou haſt refseyued, what gloriest þou, as þou haddist not refseyued?

viii Now ȝe ben fulfillid, now ȝe ben maad ryche; ȝe regnen wiþ ȝoute vs; and I wolde ȝe regne, 'þat and we regneden wiþ ȝou.

ix Soþli I wene, þat God schewide vs þe laſte apostelis, as maad redy to deeþ; for we ben maad a spectacle to þe world, and to aungels, and to men.

x We foolis for Crist, ȝe forsoþe prudent in Crist; we syke, ȝe forsoþe stronge; ȝe noble, we forsoþ vnnoble.

xi Til into þis hour 'and we hungren, and þirsten, and ben nakid, and ben smytun wiþ boffatis, and we ben vnstable, xii and we trauelen worchinge wiþ oure hondis; we ben cursid, and we bleſſen; we suffren perfecucioun, and we susfeynen, 'or abyden longe;

xiii we ben blasphemyd, and we bisechen; as clenfyngis of þis world we ben maad, þe paringis, 'or outcaſtinge, of alle þingis til ȝit.

xiv I write not þes þingis, þat I confounde ȝou, but I amoneste, 'or warne, as my mooft dereworþe sones.
xv Forwhi if ȝe han ten þousandis of litle maistris in 'Crist Jhesu, but not manye fadris; forwhi in Crist Jhesu I haue gendrid ȝou by þe gospel.

xvi Perfore I preie ȝou, be ȝe foloweris of me, as and I of Crist.

xvii Perfore I sente to ȝou Tymothe, þat is my mooste dereworþe sone, and feiþful in þe Lord, þe which schal moneste ȝou, 'or teche, my weyes, þat ben in Crist Jhesu; as I teche euerywhere in ech chirche.

xviii As I 'be not to come to ȝou, so summen ben ynblownen 'wiþ pride;

xix I schal come to ȝou foone, if God schal wylne; and I schal knowe not þe word of hem þat ben ynblownen 'wiþ pride, but þe vertu.

xx Soþli þe rewme of God is not in word, but in vertu.

xxi What wolen ȝe? Schal I come 'to ȝou in a ȝerd, or in charite, and in spirit of bonerneſſe, 'or myldeneſſe?

Capitulum V.

i Al 'out, or al maner, fornycacioun is herd among ȝou, and such fornycacioun, what maner neþer among heben men, so þat sum man haue þe wyf of his fadir.

ii And ȝe ben bolnun 'wiþ pride, and not more hadden weylynge, þat he þat dide þis work, be taken a wey fro þe myddil of ȝou.

iii Soþli I absent in body, but present in spirit, now haue demyd as present 'in þe name of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, him þat 'þus haþ wrouȝt, iv 'ȝou and my spirit gaderid togidere, wiþ þe vertu of þe Lord Jhesu, v for to bitake sich a man to Sathanas in to perischinge of fleisch, þat þe spirit be saf in þe day of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.

vi ȝoure gloriyng is not good. Witen ȝe not, for a litil fourdowȝ corumpib, 'or defoulip, al þe gobet?

vii 'Clenſe ȝe out oold fourdowȝ, þat ȝe ben newe spryngynge to gidere, as ȝe ben þerf, 'or wiþoute 'four þing. Forſoþ Crist 'is offrid oure paſk.

viii 'And so ete we, not in old fourdowȝ, neþir in fourdowȝ of malice and weyardneſſe, but in þerf þingis of clennesſe and treueþ.

ix I wroot to ȝou in 'a pistle, þat ȝe be not meynd, 'or comunen not, wiþ lecchours, x Soþli not wiþ lecchours of þis world, or coueitouse men, or rauelynours, or wiþ men feruynge to ydols, ellis ȝe ſchulden haue gon out of þis world.

xi Now soþli I wroot to ȝou, for to not be meynd, 'or comunen not. If he þat is namyd a broþir among ȝou, and is a lecchour, or coueitous, or feruynge to ydols, or cursere, 'or wariere, or ful of drunkenneſſe, or rauelynour, wiþ ſiche neþer for to take mete.

xii Forſoþe what to me for to deme of hem þat ben wiþouteforþ? Wher ȝe demen not of hem þat ben wiþ ynne?

xiii Forwhi God ſchal deme hem þat ben wiþoutenforþ. 'Do ȝe awey yuel þing of ȝou ſilf.

Capitulum VI.

i Dar ony of ȝow, hauyng a cause aȝens anoþir, be demed at wickyde men, and not at feyntis, 'or hooly men?

ii Wher ȝe witen not, for feyntis ſhulen deme of þis world? And if þe world ſchal be demed in ȝou, ben ȝe vnworþi þat demen of leest þingis?

iii Witen ȝe not, for we ſchulen deme aungels? how moche more worldly þingis?

iv Perfore if ȝe 'ſchulen haue worldly nedis, ordeyne ȝe þo contemptible men, 'or of litil reputacioun, þat ben in þe chirche, for to deme.

v I ſeie to ȝoure ſchame. So þer is not ony wys man, þat may deme bitwixe a broþer and his broþir;

vi but a broþer wiþ broþir ſtryueþ in dome, and þat anentis vnfeiþful men.

vii Now forſoþ trespas is algatis in ȝou, for ȝe han domes among ȝou. Whi more taken ȝe not wrong? Whi 'not more suffren ȝe fraude, 'or diſceyt?

viii But and ȝe don wrong, and defrauden, 'or bigilen, and þat to briþeren.

ix Wher ȝe witen not, for wickide men ſchulen not welde þe kingdom of God? Nyle ȝe erre; neþir lecchours, neþir men feruynge to ydols, neþer auouters, neþer neische, neþer lecchours of men, þat don synne of Sodom, x neþir þeþys, neþer coueitouse men, or nygards, neþer 'ful of drunkenneſſe, neþir curſeris, 'or wariers, neþer rauelynours, ſchulen weelde þe kyngdom of God.

xi And 'þes þingis ȝe weren sum tyme; but ȝe ben waſchen, but ȝe ben halowid, but ȝe ben iuſtifyed in þe name of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, and in þe ſpirit of oure God.

xii Alle þingis ben leefful 'to me, but not alle þingis ſpeden. Alle þingis ben leefful to me, but I 'vndir no mannis power ſchal be brouȝt down.

xiii Mete to þe wombe, and þe wombe to metis; forſoþ God ſchal diſtroye and þis and þat. Soþli þe body not to fornycacioun, but to þe Lord, and þe Lord to þe body.

xiv Forſoþe and God reyſide þe Lord, and ſchal reife vs by his vertu.

xv Witen ȝe not, for ȝoure bodyes ben membris of Crist? Perfore takinge membris of Crist, ſchal I make membris of an hoore? Fer be it.

xvi Wher ȝe witen not, for he þat cleueþ to an hoore, is maad oo body? Soþli he ſeþ, Per ſchulen be tweyne in oo fleiſh.

xvii Forſoþe he þat cleuiþ to God, is oo ſpirit.

xviii Fle ȝe fornycacioun; al synne what euere synne a man `schal do, is wiþouten, `or by fidis, þe body; forþoþ he þat doþ fornycacioun, synneþ 'in to his body.
xix Wher ȝe witen not, for ȝoure membris ben þe temple of þe Hooli Gost, þat is in ȝow, whom ȝe han of God, and ȝe ben not ȝoure owne?
xx Forþoþ ȝe be bouȝt wiþ greet prys. Glorifie ȝe, and bere God in ȝoure body.

Capitulum VII.

i Forþoþ of whiche þingis ȝe han writun to me, it is good to a man for to 'touche not a womman.
ii Soþli for fornycacioun ech man haue his owne wyf, and ech womman haue hir hosebonde.
iii Þe hosebonde ȝelde dette to þe wyf, also soþli and þe wyf to þe hosebonde.
iv Þe womman haþ not power of hir body, but þe hosebonde; also forþoþ þe hosebonde haþ not power of his body, but þe womman.
v Nyle ȝe defraude to gidere, no but perauenture of consent to a tyme, þat ȝe ȝyue tent to preier; and eft turne ȝe aȝen in to þe same þing, leſt Sathanas tempte ȝou for ȝoure incontynence.
vi Forþoþ I seye þis þing vp indulgence, `or forȝyuenesse, not vp comaundement.
vii Soþli I wole alle men for to be as mi silf. But ech man haþ his propre ȝifte of God; soþli anoþer þus, but anoþer þus.
viii Forþoþ to not weddid and widewis, it is good to hem, if þei dwellen so as and I.
ix For if þei conteynen not hem silf, `or ben not chaſt, `weddid be þei; forþoþ it is bettere for to be weddid, þan for to be brent.
x Forþoþ to hem þat ben ioyned in matrymony, I comaunde, not I, but þe Lord, þe wyf for 'to not departe fro þe hosebonde; xi for if sche `schal departe, for to dwell vnweddid, or for to be reconſilid, `or acordid, to hir hosebonde; and þe hosebonde forſake not þe wyf.
xii Forwhi to opere I seye, not þe Lord. If ony broþir haue an vnfeiþful, `or heben, wyf, and sche consentiþ for to dwelle wiþ hym, leue he, `or forſake, hir not.
xiii And if þe womman haþ an hosebonde vnfeiþful, and þis consentiþ for to dwelle wiþ hir, leeue she not þe hosebonde.
xiv Forþoþ þe vnfeiþful hosebonde is halowid by þe feiþful womman, and þe vnfeiþful womman is halowid by þe feiþful hosebonde. Ellis ȝoure children weren vnclene, now forþoþ þei ben hooly.
xv þat if þe vnfeiþful departiþ, departe he. Forþoþ þe broþir or fistir is not ſuget to feruage in ſuche; forþoþ God clepiþ vs in pees. xvi Soþli wherof woſt þou, womman, if þou ſchalt make þe man ſaaſ; or wherof woſt þou, man, if þou ſchalt make þe womman ſaaſ?

xvii No but as þe Lord haþ departid to ech, as God haþ clepid ech man, and fo go, he and as I teche in alle chirchis.
xviii Sum man circumſidid is clepid, brynge he not to prepucie. Sum man is clepid in prepucie, be he not circumſidid.
xix Circumciſioun is noȝt, and prepucie is nouȝt, but þe kepinge of comaundementis of God.
xx Ech man in what clepyng he is clepid, in þat dwelle he.
xxi þou feruaunt ert clepid, be it not to charge to þee; but if þou maift be fre, more vſe þou.
xxii He þat 'in þe Lord is clepid feruaunt, is fre man of þe Lord. Also and he þat fre man is clepid, is þe feruaunt of Crift.
xxiii Wiþ prys ȝe ben bouȝt; nyle ȝe be maad feruauntis of men.
xxiv 'Ech man þerfor in what clepinge he is clepid, 'in þat dwelle he anentis God.
xxv Forþoþ of virgyns I haue not precept of God; soþli I ȝyue counceil, as hauyng mercy of þe Lord, þat I be trewe.
xxvi Perfor I geſſe, `or deme, þis þing for 'to be good for present nede; for it is good to a man for to be fo.
xxvii þou art boundyn to a wyf, nyle þou feke vnbondyng; þou ert vnbondyn fro a wyf, nyle þou feke a wyf.
xxviii Forþoþ if þou haſt taken a wyf, þou haſt not synned; and if a mayden be weddid, she synned not; neþeles ſuche ſchulen haue tribulacioun of fleiſch. Forþoþ I ſpare ȝou.
xxix 'And fo, briþeren, I seye þis þing, þe tyme is ſchort. þe 'toþir þing is, þat and þei þat han wyues, be as not hauyng;
xxx and þei þat wepen, as not wepyng; and þei þat ioyen, as not ioyinge; and þei þat byen, as not hauyng; xxxi and þei þat vſen þis world, as 'þei þat vſen not. Forþoþ þe figure of þis world paſſiþ.
xxxii Forþoþ I wole ȝou for to be wiþoute bisynesse. Soþli he þat is wiþoute wyf is biſy what þingis ben of þe Lord, how he ſchal pleſe to God.
xxxiii Forþoþ he þat is wiþ a wyf, is biſy what þingis ben of þe world, how he ſchal pleſe þe wyf, and he is departid.
xxxiv And a womman vnweddid and mayden þenkiþ what þingis ben of þe Lord, þat ſche be hooly in body and ſpirit. Forþoþ ſhe þat is weddid, þenkiþ what þingis ben of þe world, how ſche ſchal pleſe þe hosebonde.
xxxv Soþeli I seye þes þingis to ȝoure profyt, not þat I caſte to ȝou a fnare, but to 'þat þat is honest, and ȝyueþ faculþe, `or eſynesſe, wiþ ouþe letting for to bifeche to þe Lord.
xxxvi Soþli if ony deme him silf for to be ſeyn foul on his virgyne, þat ſhe is 'wel old, and fo it bihoueþ 'for to be don, do s̄he þat s̄he wole; s̄che synneþ not, if s̄che be weddid.

xxxvii Forwhi he þat ordeynede stable, 'or stedefast, in his herte, not hauyngē nede, but hauyngē power of his wille, and haþ demyd in his herte 'þis þing, for to kepe his virgyn, doþ well.

xxxviii Perfor he þat ioyneþ his virgyn in matrimonye, doþ wel; and he þat ioyneþ not, doiþ bettere.

xxxix Þe womman is boundyn to þe lawe, how moche tyme hir hosebonde lyueþ; þat if hir hosebonde 'schal flepe, 'þat is, die, s̄che is delyuering fro þe lawe, be s̄he weddid to whom s̄he wole, oonly in þe Lord.

x Forsoþ s̄che schal be more blesſid, if s̄che 'schal þus dwelle, aftir my counceil; forsoþ I wene, þat and I haue þe Spirit of God.

Capitulum VIII.

i Forsoþe of þes þingis þat ben offrid to ydols, 'þat ben symulacris maad to mannis liknesse, we witen, for alle we han kunnynge. Soþli science, 'or kunnynge, inblowiþ 'wiþ pride; charite edifieþ.

ii Forsoþ if ony man gesse, 'or deme, him for 'to wyte ony þing, he haþ not ȝit knowyn how it bihoueþ hym for to kunne.

iii Forsoþ if ony man loueþ God, þis is knowun of him.

iv Forsoþ of metis þat ben offrid to ydols, we witen, for an ydol is no þing in þe world, and þat þer is no God but oon.

v Forwhy 'and if þer ben þat ben seide goddis, eþer in heuene, eþer in erþe, forsoþ þer ben many goddis, and many lordis;

vi neþelees to vs is oo God, þe fadir, of whom alle þingis, and we in him; and oo Lord, Jhesu Crist, by whom alle þingis, and we by him.

vii But not in alle men is kunnynge. Soþli summe wiþ conscience of ydol til now eten as þing offrid to ydols; and her conscience is vnclene, whanne it is syk.

viii Mete comediþ vs not to God; 'neiþir forsoþe we schulen faylen, if we 'schulen not ete, 'nepir if we eten, we schulen habounde, 'or haue plente.

ix Se ȝe forsoþ, leſt perauenture þis ȝoure leue be maad hirtinge, 'or sclaundre, to fyke men, 'or freele.

x Soþli if ony man schal fe him þat haþ kunnynge, restinge in a place wher ydols ben worshipid, wher his conscience, siþ it is syk, schal not be edyfyed for to ete þingis offrid to ydols?

xi And þe fyke broþir, for whom Crist deyede, schal perische in þi kunnynge.

xii Forsoþ þus ȝe synnyngē 'in to briþeren, and smytinge hir fyke conscience, synnen in Crist.

xiii Wherfor if mete sclaundiþ my broþer, I schal not ete fleisch 'in to wiþouten ende, leſt I sclaundre my broþir.

Capitulum IX.

i Wher I am not fre? Am I not apostle? Wher I fyȝ not Crist Jhesu, oure Lord? Wher ȝe ben not my work in þe Lord?

ii And þouȝ to obere I am not apostle, but neþelees to ȝou I am; forwhy ȝe ben þe sygnacle, 'or litil signe, of myn apostilhed in þe Lord.

iii My defence to hem þat axen me, is þis.

iv Wher we han not power for to ete and drynke?

v Wher we han not power for to lede aboue a womman fistir, as and obere apostlis, and briþeren of þe Lord, and Cephas, 'þat is, Petre?

vi Or I aloone and Barnabas han not power for to worche þes þingis?

vii Who fiȝteþ, 'or holdiþ knyȝthod, ony tyme wiþ his owne loundis? Who plauntiþ a vyneȝerd, and etiþ not of 'his fruyt? Who feediþ, 'or lesuwip, a floc, and etiþ not of þe mylk of þe flok?

viii Wher aftir man I seye þes þingis? wher and þe lawe seiþ not þes þingis?

ix Forsoþ it is writun in þe lawe of Moyfes, þou schalt not bynde þe mouȝ of þe oxe þreischinge, 'or trauelynge. Wheþer of oxen is charge to God?

x Wheþer for vs soþli 'he seiþ þes þingis? Forwhi 'for vs þei ben writun; for he þat eriþ, owiþ to ere in hope, and he þat þreischip, 'or trauelip, in hope for to perseye fruitis.

xi Forsoþ yf we sownen spiritual þingis to ȝou, 'it is not greet, if we repen ȝoure fleischly þingis?

xii If obere ben parceris of ȝoure power, whi not 'raþere we? But we vſen not þis power, but we susteynen, 'or suffren, alle þingis, þat we ȝeuen not lettinge, 'or sclaundre, to þe euangelie of Crist.

xiii Witen ȝe not, for þei þat wirchen in þe sacrarie, 'þat is, a place where hooly þingis ben kept, eten þo þingis þat ben of þe sacrarie, and þat þo þat seruen to þe auter, taken part wiþ þe auter?

xiv So and þe Lord ordeynede to hem þat tellen þe gospel, for to lyue of þe gospel.

xv Forsoþ I vſide 'none of þes þingis; soþli I wroot not þes þingis, þat þei be don so in me; forsoþ it is good to me more for to deie, þan þat ony man avoyde my glorie.

xvi Forwhi if I schal preche þe gospel, glorie is not to me, forsoþ nede liþ to me; forsoþ wo to me, if I 'schal not euangelise.

xvii Forsoþ if I willinge do þis þing, I haue mede; soþli if aȝens my wil, dispensacioun is bitake to me.

xviii What perfore is my hyre, 'or mede? Pat I preching þe gospel, putte þe gospel wiþ ȝoute spence 'takynge, or sustenaunce perfore, þat I myfuse not my power in þe gospel.

xix Forwhi whanne I was fre of alle men, I made me feruaunt of alle men, þat I schulde wynne mo men.

xx And to Jewis I am maad as a Jew, þat I schulde wynne Jewis; to hem þat ben vndir þe lawe, as I were vndir þe lawe, whanne I was not vndir þe lawe, þat I schulde wynne hem þat weren vndir þe lawe;

 xxi to hem þat weren wiþ oute þe lawe, as I were wiþoute þe lawe, whanne I was not wiþoute þe lawe of God, but I was in þe lawe of Crist, þat I schulde wynne hem þat weren wiþ oute lawe.
 xxii I am maad syk to syke men, þat I schulde wynne syke men; to alle men I am maad alle þingis, þat I schulde make alle men saaf.
 xxiii Forsoþ I do alle þingis for þe gospel, þat I be maad parcener of it.
 xxiv Witen ȝe not, þat þei þat rennen in a furlong, alle forsoþ rennen, but oon takip þe priys? So renne ȝe, þat ȝe catche.
 xxv Ech man þat stryueþ in fyȝt, absteyneþ him fro alle þingis; and þei forsoþ, þat þei take a corruptible crowne, `we forsoþe vncorupt.
 xxvi Perfore I renne so, not as into vncerteyn þing; þus I fiste, not as betynge þe eyr; xxvii but I chaſtise my body, and bryngie in to feruage; leſt perauenture whanne I `haue prechid to obere, I my ſilf be maad reprovable.

Capitulum X.

i Sobeli, briþeren, I nyle ȝou for to vnknowe, for alle oure fadris weren vndir cloude, and alle paſſiden þe fee;
 ii and alle ben baptysid in Moyses, in þe cloude and in þe fee;
 iii and alle eeten þe fame ſpiritual breed, iv and alle dronken þe fame ſpiritual drynke; forsoþ þei dronken of þe ſpiritual, a ſtoon folowynge hem; forsoþ þe ſtoon was Crist.
 v But not in ful manye of hem it was wel plesant to God; forwhi `þei ben caſt doun in þe deſert.
 vi Forsoþ þes þingis ben don in figure of vs, þat we ben not coueyteris of yuelis, as and þei coueitiden.
 vii Neijer be ȝe maad ydolatreriſ, `þat is, worſhiperiſ of falſe mawmetis, as ſumme of hem; as it is writun, þe peple ſat for to ete and drynke, and þei `han riſun vp for to pleie.
 viii Neijer do we fornycacioun, as ſumme of hem diden fornycacioun, and þre and twenty þousandis felden, `or deieden, in o day.
 ix Neijer tempte we Crist, as ſumme of hem temptiden, and perischeden of ſerpentis.
 x Neijer grucche ȝe, as ſumme of hem grucchiden, and þei perischeden of a waſtour, `or diſtrier.
 xi Forſoþe alle þes þingis felden to hem in figure; ſoþi þei ben writun to oure coreccioun, `or amendyng, in to whom þe endis of þe world han comen.
 xii And ſo he þat geſſiþ him for to ſtonde, ſe, þat he falle not.
 xiii Temptacioun take not ȝou, no but mannus; forſoþ God is trewe, þe which ſchal not ſuffre ȝou for to be temptid ouer `þat þat ȝe mown; but he ſchal make wiþ temptacioun alſo puruyaunce, þat ȝe mown fuſteyne.

 xiv Wherfore, ȝe mooſt dereworþe to me, fle fro worſhipinge of ydols.
 xv As to prudent men I ſpeke, ȝe ȝou ſilf deme þat þing þat I feye.
 xvi Pe cuppe of bleſſynge `þe which we bleſſen, `wher it is not þe comenyng of Criftis blood? and þe breed which we breken, wher it is not þe `delynge, or `part takynge, `of þe body of þe Lord?
 xvii For `o breed and o body we manye ben, alle we þat taken part of o breed and of o cuppe.
 xviii Se ȝe Israeſ aftir þe fleiſch, wher þei þat eten ooſtiſ, `or ſacrifices, ben not parceneris of þe auter?
 xix What þerfore ſe ye I, þat þing offrid to ydols is ony þing, or þat þe ydole is ony þing?
 xx But þo þingis þat heþene men offren, þei offren to deuelis, and not to God. Forſoþ I nyle ȝou for to be maad fellowis of fendis; xxi for ȝe mown not drynke þe cuppe of þe Lord, and þe cuppe of fendis; ȝe mown not be parceneris of þe boord of þe Lord, and of þe boord of fendis.
 xxii Wher we `fuwen by enuye þe Lord? wher we ben ſtrengere þan he?
 xxiii Alle þingis ben leeſful to me, but not alle þingis ſpeden. Alle þingis ben leeſful, but not alle þingis edifyen.
 xxiv No man ſeke þat þing þat is his owne, but þat þing þat is of anoþer.
 xxv Al þing þat comeþ in þe bocherie, `ete ȝe, no þing axyng for conſcience.
 xxvi Pe erþe and þe plente of it, is `þe Lordis.
 xxvii Forſoþ if ony of vnfelþul, `or heþen men, clepiþ ȝou to ſouper, and ȝe wolen go, al þing þat is ſett to ȝou, `ete ȝe, noþing axyng for conſcience.
 xxviii If ony man ſoþli `ſchal ſeie, þis þing is offrid to ydols, nyle ȝe ete, for him þat ſchewide, and for conſcience; xxix forſoþe I ſeie not, þi conſcience, but of anoþir. Soþli wherto is my liberte, `or freedom, demyd of anoþir mannus conſcience?
 xxx Perfore if I take part wiþ grace, what am I blaſphemyd, `for þat I do graces, `or þankyngis?
 xxxi Perfore where ȝe eten, or drynken, or don any oþir þing, do ȝe alle þingis in to glorie of God.
 xxxii Be ȝe wiþoute offendiouſ, `or ſclaundre, to Jewis, and heþene men, and to þe chirche of God; xxxiii as and I by alle þingis pleſe to alle men, not fechinge what is profitable to me, but `þat þat to many men, þat þei be maad ſaaf.

Capitulum XI.

i Be ȝe `my foloweris, as and I of Crist.

ii Forsoþ, briþeren, I preife ȝou, þat bi alle þingis ȝe be myndful of me; 'as and I bitook to ȝou my comaundementis, ȝe kepen.
iii Forsoþe I wole 'ȝou for to wite, þat Crist is þe heed of ech man; forsoþ þe heed of þe womman is þe man; forsoþ þe heed of Crist, God.
iv Ech man preyng, or prophesyinge, 'þe heed hilid, defouliþ his heed.
v Forsoþ ech womman preyng, or prophesyinge, 'þe heed not hilid, defouliþ hir heed; forsoþ it is oon, as ȝif sche be maad ballid, 'pollid, or clippid.
vi For if a womman be not veylid, 'or keuerid, be s/he pollid; for if it is foul þing to a womman for to be pollid, or for to be maad ballid, veyle, 'or hyde, s/he hir heed.
vii Soþly a man schal not veyle, 'or hyde, his heed, for he is þe ymage and glorie of God; forsoþe a womman is þe glorie of man.
viii Soþli a man is not of þe womman, but þe womman of þe man.
ix 'And forsoþe þe man is not maad for þe womman, but þe womman for þe man.
x Perfore þe womman schal haue a veyle on hir heed, and for aungels.
xi Neþeles neiþer þe man wiþouten womman, neiþer þe womman wiþouten man, in þe Lord.
xii Forwhi as þe womman of man, so and man by woman; forsoþe alle þingis of God.
xiii ȝe ȝou silf deme; bicomeþ, 'or bisemeþ, it a womman not veylid for to preye God?
xiv Neiþer þe kynde it silf techiþ vs, forsoþ þat if a man norische long heer, it is yuel fame, 'or sclaundre, to him;
xv but if a womman norische long heer, it is glorie to hir, for heeris ben ȝouun to hir for veyle, 'or keueryng.
xvi Forsoþ if ony man is seyn for to be ful of stryf 'among ȝou, we han not fuch custom, neiþer þe chirche of God 'haþ sich.
xvii Soþli þis þing I comaunde, not preisynge, þat ȝe comen to gidere not in to betere þing, but into worse.
xviii First forsoþ 'ȝou comynge to gidere into chirche, I heere 'departyngis, or diffenciouns, for 'to be, and of partye I billeue.
xix Forwhi it bihoueþ heresies for to be, þat þei 'þe which ben prouyd, be maad knowun in ȝou.
xx Perfore 'ȝou comynge to gidere into oon, now it is not for to ete þe Lordis soperie;
xxi forsoþ ech man 'bifore takiþ his soperie for to ete, and soþely anoþir is hungrie, anoþer forsoþ is drunkyn.
xxii Wher ȝe han not houfis for to ete and drynke, or ȝe dispisen þe chirche of God, and confounden hem þat han not? What schal I seye to ȝou? I preife ȝou; in þis þing I preife not.
xxiii Forsoþe I haue takun of þe Lord þat þing, 'þe which and I haue bytakun to ȝou. For þe Lord Jhesu, in what nyȝt he was bytrayed, took breed, xxiv and 'doyng graces, 'or þankyngis, he brak, and feide, Take ȝe, and 'ete ȝe; þis is my body, þe which schal be bitrayd for ȝou; do ȝe þis þing 'in to my mynde.

xxv Alſo and he took þe cuppe, aftir he haþ soupid, feiynge, Pis cuppe is þe newe testament in my blood; do ȝe þis þing, how ofte euere ȝe schulen drynke, in to my mynde.
xxvi Soþli how ofte euere ȝe schulen ete þis breed, and schulen drynke þe cuppe, ȝe schulen schewe þe deeþ of þe Lord, til he come.
xxvii 'And so who euere 'schal ete þe breed, or drynke þe cuppe of þe Lord vnworþily, he schal be guilty of þe body and blood of þe Lord.
xxviii Forsoþ proue a man him silf, and so ete he of 'þe ilke breed, and drynke of þe cuppe.
xxix Forsoþ he þat etiþ and dryniþ vnworþily, etiþ and dryniþ dom, 'or dampnacioun, to hym, not wysely demyngi þe body of þe Lord.
xxx Perfore among ȝou manye fyke, and vnstronge, 'or feble, and manye flepen, 'or deien, xxxi For if we demeden wysely vs silf, forsoþ we schulden not be demed; xxxii Soþli þe while we ben demed of þe Lord, we ben chaftyfid, þat we ben not dampned wiþ þis world.
xxxiii 'And so, my briþeren, whanne ȝe comen to gidere for to ete, abyde ȝe to gidere.
xxxiv If ony man hungrþ, ete he at hom, þat ȝe come not to gidere in to dom. Soþli I schal dispose oþere þingis, whanne I schal come.

Capitulum XII.

i Forsoþe of spiritual þingis, briþeren, I nyle 'ȝou for to vnknowe.
ii Soþly ȝe witen, for whanne ȝe weren heþen men, as ȝe weren ledd goyng to doumbe fymylacris.
iii Perfore I make knowun to ȝou, þat no man spekinge in þe spirit of God, seiþ departyng fro Jhesu; and no man may feye þe Lord Jhesu is, no but in þe Hooly Gost.
iv Soþli departingis of gracis ben, forsoþe þe same Spirit;
v and departyngis of seruyngis, forsoþe þe same Lord;
vi and departingis of worchingis ben, forsoþ þe same God, þat worship alle þingis in alle þingis.
vii Forsoþ to ech man þe schewynge of spirit is ȝouun to profyt.
viii To anoþir forsoþ by spirit þe word of wysdom is ȝouun; to anoþir soþli þe word of kunnynge, aftir þe same spirit;
ix feiþ to anoþer, in þe same spirit; to anoþer, grace of heelþis, in oþer spirit; x to anoþer, þe worchinge of vertues; to anoþer, prophesye; to anoþer, discreſcioun, 'or verrey knowynge, of spiritis; to anoþer, kyndis of tungis, 'or langagis; to anoþer, interpretyng, `or expownyng, of wordis.

xii Forþoþ alle þes þingis oon and þe fame spirit worchîþ, departyng to ech by him silf as he wole.

xiii Soplî as þer is o body, and haþ many membris, forþoþ alle þe membris of þe body, whanne þei ben manye, ben o body, so and Crist.

xiv And soplî in o spirit alle we ben baptisid in to o body, eiþer Jewis, eiþer heþene, eiþer seruauntis, eiþer fre; and alle we 'han drunken in o spirit.

xvii Forwhi and þe body is not o membre, but manye.

xvi If þe foot 'schal seye, For I am not þe hond, I am not of þe body; not þerfore 'it is not of þe body.

xvii And if þe eere 'schal seye, For I am not þe yðe, I am not of þe body; not þerfore 'it is not of þe body.

xviii If al þe body be yðe, where is heringe? and if al þe body be heeringe, where is smellinge?

xix Now forþoþ God haþ put membris, and ech of hem in þe body, as he wolde.

xx But if alle weren o membre, where þe body?

xxi Forþoþ þe yðe 'schal not mowe seye to þe hond, I haue no nede to bi werk; or eft þe heed to be feet, ȝe ben not necessarie to me.

xxii But moche more þo þat ben seyn for to be more fyke, `or lowere, membris of þe body, ben more nedeful;

xxiii and to hem þat we gessen for to be vnnoblere membris of þe body, we ȝyuen more honour `in cumpas; and þo membris þat ben vnhoneſt, han more honeſte.

xxiv Forþoþ oure honest membris 'of noon han nede; but God temprise þe body, ȝyuynge more worshipe to it, to whom it failide, xxv þat debaat be not in þe body, but þat þe membris ben bify into þe fame þing for ech oþir.

xxvi And if o membre suffriþ ony þing, alle membris suffren þerwiþ; eþir if o membre glorieþ, alle membris ioyen to gidere.

xxvii Forþoþ ȝe ben þe body of Crist, and membris of membre.

xxviii And soplî God puttide summe in þe chirche, firſt apostlis, þe fecunde tyme prophetis, þe þridde techeris, aftirward vertues, aftirward graces of heelingis, helpingis, gouernaylis, `or gouernyngis, kyndis of langagis, interpretacions of wordis.

xxix Wher alle apostlis? wher alle prophetis? wher alle techeris? wher alle vertues?

xxx wher alle men han grace of heelingis? wher alle speken wiþ langages? wher alle interpreten, `or expownen?

xxxi Forþoþ fue ȝe þe bettere gostli ȝyftis. And ȝit I schewe to ȝou a more excellent, `or worþi, weye.

Capitulum XIII.

i If I speke wiþ tungis of men and aungels, 'soplî I haue not charite, I am maad as bras fownnyng, or a fymbal tynkyng.

ii And if I schal haue prophesy, and 'haue knowun alle mysteries, and al kunnynge, `or science, and if I schal haue al feiþ, so þat I 'bere ouere hillis 'fro o place to anoþer, forþoþ if I 'schal not haue charite, I am noȝt.

iii And if I schal departe alle my goodis into metis of pore men, and if I schal bytake my body, so þat I brenne, forþoþ if I 'schal not haue charite, it profitiþ to me no þing.

iv Charite is pacient, it is benygne, `or of good will, charite enuyeþ not, it doþ not gyle, it is not inblowyn 'wiþ pride, v it is not ambicous, `or coueitous of worshipis, it sekiþ not þo þingis þat ben her owne, it is not stirid to wrapþe, it þenkiþ not yuel, vi it ioyeþ not in wickidnesse, forþoþ it ioyeþ togidere to treueþ;

vii it suffriþ alle þingis, it bileueþ alle þingis, it hopiþ alle þingis, it susþeyneþ alle þingis.

viii Charite fallip not down, where prophecyes schulen be voydid, eþer langagis schulen ceesse, eþer science schal be distroyed.

ix Forþoþ of party we han knownen, and of party we prophesien;

x forþoþ whanne þat schal come þat is perfyt, þat þing þat is of party, schal be avoydid.

xi Whanne I was a litil child, I spak as a litil child, I vndirstood as a litil child, I þouȝte as a litil child; forþoþ whanne I was maad man, I auoydide þo þingis þat weren of a litil child.

xii Forþoþ we seen now by a myrour in a derknesse, þanne forþoþ face to face; now I knowe of party, `þanne forþoþ I schal knowe, as and I am knowyn.

xiii Now forþoþ dwellen feiþ, hope, and charite, þes þre; forþoþ þe mooste of þes is charite.

Capitulum XIII.

i Sue ȝe charite, loue ȝe spiritual þingis, more forþoþ þat ȝe prophecie.

ii Soplî he þat spekiþ in tunge, spekiþ not to men, but to God; forþoþ no man heeris. Soplî þe spirit spekiþ mysteries.

iii Forwhi he þat prophecieþ, spekiþ to men, to edificacioun, and moneſtyng, and comfortynge, `or folafynge.

iv He þat spekiþ in tunge, edifieþ him silf; forþoþ he þat prophecieþ, edyfieþ þe chirche of God.

v Forþoþ I wole ȝou alle for to speke in tungis, `but more `for to prophecie. Forwhi he þat prophecieþ, is more þan he þat spekiþ in tungis, `or langagis; no but perauenture he interprete, `or declare, þat þe chirche take edificacioun.

vi Now forsoþ, briþeren, if I schal come to ȝou, spekyng in tungis, what schal I profyte, no but if I schal speke to ȝou eþer in reuelacioun, eþir in science, eþer in prophecie, eþer in techinge?
vii Neþeles þo þingis þat ben wiþ oute soule, 'or lyf, ȝyuynge voyces, eþer pype, eþer harpe, no but þei schulen ȝyue distinccioun of sownyngis, how schal it be kowd þat is songun, eþer 'þat þat is harpid?
viii 'And soþli if þe trumpe ȝyue vncerteyn vois, who schal make 'him silf redy to bateil?
ix So and 'no but ȝe schulen ȝyue an opyn word by tunge, how schal 'þat þat is seid be knowun? Soþli ȝe schulen be spekyng in þe eiris, x 'so manye as ben tungis, 'or langagis, in þis world,
and no þing is wiþoute voys.
xi Perfore if I 'schal not knowe þe vertu of vois, I schal be to him, to whom I schal speke, a barbar, 'or not vndirstondun; and he þat spekiþ, to me 'a barbar.
xii So and ȝe, for ȝe ben loueris of spiritis, to edificacioun of þe chirche feke þat ȝe be plenteuous. xiii And perfore he þat spekiþ in tunge, preie, þat he interprete, 'or expowne.
xiv Forwhi if I preye in tunge, my spirit preieþ; forsoþ my mynde, 'or resoun, is wiþoute fruyt. xv Perfore what þing is? I schal preie in spirit, I schal preie and in mynde, 'or resoun; I schal seie salm in spirit, I schal feye salm in mynde, 'or resoun. xvi Forwhi if pou 'schalt blesse in spirit, who fulfilliþ þe place of an ydiote, 'or vnlerid man, how schal he seie Amen vpon þi blessing, for he woot not, what þou feilst?
xvii Forwhi þou soþli doist wel gracis, 'or þankyngis, but anoþer man is not edified.
xviii I do graces to my God, for I speke in þe langagis of alle ȝou;
xix but in þe chirche I wole speke fyue wordis in my witt, þat and I teche oþere men, þan ten þousandis of wordis in tunge.
xx Briþeren, nyle ȝe be maad children in wittis, but in malice 'be ȝe litil; forsoþ in wittis 'be ȝe perfyt.
xxi Soþly in þe lawe it is writun, For in oþere tungis and oþere lippis I schal speke to þis peple, and neþir lo
'it schal heere me, seiþ þe Lord.
xxii 'And so langagis ben in to tokene, not to feiþful men, but to men out of þe feiþ; forsoþ prophesyngs not to men out of feiþ, but to feiþful men.
xxiii Perfore if al þe chirche come to gidere in to oon, and alle men speke in tungis, soþli if ydiotes entren, 'or men out of þe feiþ, wher þei 'feyn not, What ben ȝe wood?
xxiv Forsoþ if alle men prophecieng, forsoþ if ony vnfeiþful man or ydiot entre, he is conuict of alle, he is wyseli demed of alle.
xxv Forsoþ þe hid þingis of his herte ben knownen, and so he fallinge doun 'in to þe face, schal worshipe God, schewinge verily þat God 'in ȝou is.

xxvi Perfor, briþeren, what is? Whanne ȝe comen to gidere, ech of ȝou haþ a salm, he haþ techinge, he haþ apocalips, 'or reuelacioun, he haþ tunge, he haþ 'interpretynge, 'or expownyng; be alle þingis don to edificacioun.
xxvii Wheþir a man spekiþ in tunge, aftir tweyne, 'or as mochre þre, and by partis, þat oon interprete.
xxviii Forsoþ if þer be not an interpretour, be he stille,
'or speke not, in þe chirche; soþli speke he to him silf, and to God.
xxix Soþli prophetis tweyne or þre seye, and oþere wysely deme.
xxx þat if ony þing schal be schewid to 'oon sittinge,
'þe formere be stille.
xxxi Forsoþ ȝe mown prophecies alle, by ech bi him silf, þat alle men lerne, and alle moneste.
xxxii And þe spiritis of prophetis ben sugetis to
prophetis;
xxxiii soþli God is not of diffencioun, but of pees; as and in alle chirchis of hooly men I teche.
xxxiv Wymmen in chirchis be stille; soþli it is not suffrid to hem for to speke, but for to be suget, as þe lawe seiþ.
xxxv Forsoþ if þei wolen ony þing lerne, at hom axe þei her hosebondis; forsoþ it is foul þing to womman for to speke in chirche.
xxxvi Wheþer of ȝou þe word of God cam forþ, or to ȝou aloone it cam?
xxxvii If ony man is seyn for to be a prophete, 'or spiritual, knowe he þo þingis þat I wryte to ȝou, for þei ben þe comaundementis of þe Lord. xxxviii Forsoþ if ony man vnknowiþ, he schal be vnknowen.
xxxix 'And so, breþeren, loue ȝe for to prophecies, and nyle ȝe forbede for to speke in tungis.
xl Forsoþ be alle þingis don honestli, and vp ordre in
ȝou.

Capitulum XV.

i Soþeli, briþeren, I make þe gospel knowun to ȝou, 'þe which I haue prechid to ȝou, þe which and ȝe han takun, in which and ȝe stonden, ii by which and ȝe ben saued; by which resoun I haue prechid to ȝou, if ȝe hoolden, if ȝe han not bileuyd ydeli.
iii Forsoþ I bitook to ȝou in þe firste þat þing 'þat and I took; for Crist was deed for oure synnes, vp þe scripturis;
iv and for he was biried, and for he roos aȝen in þe bridde day, vp þe scripturis;
v and for he was seyn to Cephas, 'þat is, Petre, and aftir
'þis þing to enleuene;
vi aftirward he was seyn to mo þan fyue hundrid briþeren to gidere, of þe whiche manye dwellen 'til to ȝit, forsoþ summe han slepte, 'or dyede;

vii afterward he was feyn to James, afterward to alle apostlis.
viii Forsoþ at þe laste of alle, he was feyn and to me, as to a myßborn child.
ix Forsoþ I am þe leeste of apostlis, þat am not worþi for to be clepid apostle, for I purfuede þe chirche of God.
x Forsoþe by þe grace of God, I am þat þing bat I am; and his grace was not voyde, 'or ydel, in me. But I trauelide more plenteoufly þan alle þei; forsoþ not I, but þe grace of God wiþ me.
xi Soþli wheþer I, wheþer þei, so we han prechid, and so ȝe han bileuyd.
xii Forsoþ if Crist is prechid, þat he roos aȝen fro deed spiritis, hou 'summe feyn 'in ȝou, for þe aȝen ryfinge of deed men is not?
xiii Forsoþ if þe aȝen ryfinge of deed men is not, neþer Crist roos.
xiv Soþli if Crist roos not, oure prechinge is veyn, oure feip is veyn.
xv Forsoþ and we ben found fals witnessis of God, for we han seyd witnessyng aȝens God, þat he reyfide Crist, whom he reifide not, if deed men ryfen not aȝen.
xvi Forwhy if deede men ryfen not aȝen, neþer Crist roos aȝen; xvii þat if Crist roos not aȝen, oure feip is veyn; forsoþ ȝit ȝe ben in ȝoure synnes.
xviii Ȣerefore and þei þat slepten, 'or dyeden, in Crist, 'han perischid.
xix If in þis lyf oonly we ben hopinge in Crist, we ben more wrecchis þan alle men.
xx Now forsoþ Crist roos aȝen, 'fro deede men, þe firste fruytis of slepynge men, 'or deyinge; xxi for soþli 'bye a man deeþ, and bye a man aȝen ryfinge of deed men.
xxii And as in Adam alle men deyen, so and in Crist alle men schulen be quykenyd.
xxiii Ech man forsoþe in his ordre; first fruytis, Crist, afterward þei þat ben of Crist, þat bileueden in þe comynge 'of Crist; xxiv afterward an ende, whanne he schal bitake þe kyngdom to God and to þe fadir, whanne he schal auoyde al princehede, and power, and vertu.
xxv Soþli it bihoueþ him for to regne, til he putte alle his enemyes vndir his feet.
xxvi Forsoþ at þe laste, þe enemy deeþ schal be distroyed; forsoþ he haþ maad fuget alle þingis vndir his feet.
xxvii Forsoþ whanne he seip, alle þingis ben fugetis to him, wiþouten doute out taken him þat fugettide alle þingis to him.
xxviii Soþli whanne alle þingis schulen be fuget to hym, þanne he þe lone schal be fuget to hym, þat fugettide alle þingis to him, þat God be alle þingis in alle þingis.
xxix Ellis what schulen þei don, þat ben baptysid for deede men, if in al manere deede men ryfen not aȝen?

xxx Wherto and we ben in perel euery hour?
xxxi Ech day I deie for ȝoure glorie, briþeren, þe which glorie I haue in 'Crist Jhesu ȝoure Lord.
xxxii If vp man I haue fouȝte to beeftis at Epheci, what 'profitiþ it to me, if deede men ryfen not aȝen? Ete we, and drynke we, 'to morwe forsoþ we schulen deye.
xxxiii Nyle ȝe be disfeyued; forsoþ yuele spechis corumpen, 'or distroyen, goode þewis, 'or vertues.
xxxiv Awake ȝe, iuste men, and nyle ȝe synne; forsoþe summe han ignoraunce of God, to reuerence I speke to ȝou.
xxxv But 'summan seip, How schulen deede men ryse aȝen, or in what maner body schulen þei come?
xxxvi Vnwyse man, þat þing þat þou sowist, is not quykenyd, no but it deie firſt; xxxvii and þat þing þat þou sowist, not þe body þat is to come þou sowist, but a nakid corn, as of whete, or of sum of þe oþir; xxxviii forsoþe God ȝyueþ to it a body as he wole, and to ech of feedis þe propre body.
xxxix Not ech fleisch þe same fleisch, but 'forsoþe anoþir of men, anoþir soþli of beeftis, anoþir forsoþe of briddis, anoþir of fischis.
xl And heuenly bodyes, and erþeli bodyes; but forsoþe anoþir glorie of heuenli bodies, anoþir forsoþ of erþeli.
xli Anoþir clerenesse of þe sunne, anoþir clerenesse of þe mone, and anoþir clerenesse of þe sterris; forsoþe a sterre diuersiþ fro a sterre in clerenesse.
xlii So and þe aȝen ryfinge of deede men. It is sowun in corupcioun, it schal ryse in vncorupcioun; xliii it is sowun in vnnobley, it schal ryse in glorie; it is sowun in infirmyte, it schal ryse in vertu; xlvii it is sowun a beeftly body, it schal ryse a spiritual body. If þere is a beeftly body, þer is and a spiritual body; xliiiii as it is writun, þe firste man Adam is maad in to a soule lyuyng, þe laste Adam in to a spirit quykenyng.
xlii But not firſt þat þat is spiritual, but þat þat is beeftlich, afterward þat þat is spiritual.
xliiiii Þe firste man of erþe, erþeli; þe secunde man of heuen, heuenli.
xlviii What maner þe erþeli man, such þe erþeli men; and what maner þe heuenli man, such þe heuenli men.
xliii Perfore as we han born þe ymage of þe erþeli man, bere we and þe ymage of þe heuenly.
i Briþeren, I feye þis þing, for fleisch and blood mown not welde þe kyngdom of God, neþir corupcioun schal weelde incorupcioun.
ii Lo! I seye to ȝou mysterie, 'or priuyte, of hooly þingis. Forsoþe alle we schulen ryse aȝen, but not alle we schulen be inchaungid;
iii in a moment, in þe smytinge of an yȝe, in þe laste trumpe; forsoþ þe trumpe schal syng, and deede men 'þat ben 'in Crist schulen ryse aȝen, 'þe firſte incorupt, and we schulen be inchaungid.

iiiii Forsoþ it byhoueþ þis corruptible þing cloþe incorupcioun, and þis deedly þing for to cloþe vndeedlyneſſe.
 iiij Forſoþe whanne þis deedly þing ſchal cloþe vndeedlyneſſe, þanne ſchal be maad þe word þat is writun, Deep is ſopun vp in victorie.
 iv Deep, wher is þi victorie? Deep, wher is þi pricke?
 v Forſoþ þe pricke of deeþ is synne; forſoþ þe vertu of synne is lawe.
 vii Forſoþ þankingis to God, þat ȝaf to vs victorie by oure Lord Jhesu Crift, þat was deed 'for vs.
 viii 'And ſo, my dereworþe briþeren, 'be ȝe ſtidefast and vnmouable, beyng plentuous in work of þe Lord, euermore witynge þat ȝoure trauel is not ydel in þe Lord.

Capitulum XVI.

i Forſoþe of þe collectis, or gaderingis of moneye, þat ben maad in to feyntis, as Y ordeyned in þe chirchis of Galathi, ſo and do ȝe, ii by oon of þe woke. Ech of ȝou kepe, or leye vp, at hym filf, kepinge þat þat 'ſchal pleſe to him, þat not whanne I ſchal come, þanne be maad collectis.
 iii Forſoþe whanne I ſchal be preſent, whom ȝe ſchulen proue bi epiftis, hem I ſchal ſende for to perſytly bere ȝoure grace in to Jerusalem.
 iv For if it ſchal be worþi þat and I go, þei ſchulen go
 wiþ me.
 v Soþli I ſchal come to ȝou, whanne I ſchal paſſe by Macedonye; forwhi I ſchal paſſe by Macedonye.
 vi Soþli perauenture I ſchal dwelle at ȝou, or alſo dwelle by wyntir, þat and ȝe lede me whidir euere I ſchal go.
 vii Soþli I wole not now fe ȝou in paſſyng, forſoþe I hope 'ſum what of tyme for to dwelle at ȝou, if God ſchal ſuffre.
 viii Forſoþ I ſchal dwelle at Effecy, til to Witsuntide.
 ix Soþli a greet dore and euident, 'or opyn, is openyd to me, and manye aduersaries.
 x Soþli if Tymoþe ſchal come, fe ȝe þat he be wiþoute drede at ȝou, for he worchip þe work of þe Lord, as and I.
 xi Perfore no man diſpise him; forſoþ lede ȝe him in pees, þat he come to me; forſoþ I abyde hym wiþ briþeren.
 xii Forſoþ, briþeren, I make knowun to ȝou of Apollo, for I preiede hym moche, þat he ſchulde come to ȝou, wiþ briþeren. And soþli it was not his wille, 'þat he ſchulde come now; forſoþ he ſchal come, whanne it ſchal be able to hym.
 xiii Wake ȝe, and 'ſtonde ȝe in þe feiþ; do ȝe manly, and 'be ȝe coumfortid in þe Lord, xiv and be alle ȝoure þingis don in charite.
 xv Forſoþe, briþeren, I beseche ȝou, ȝe han knownen þe hous of Stheuene, þe womman, and of Fortunati, and Acaye, for þei ben þe firſte fruytis of Acaye, and in to mynsterie of feyntis þei han ordeyned hem filf, xvi þat and ȝe be ſugettis to ſuch, and to ech worchinge to gidere and trauelinge.

xvii Forſoþe I enioye in þe preſence of Stheuene, 'þe womman, and of Fortunate, and Acaye; for þei fulfilliden þat þing þat faylide to ȝou;

xviii forſoþ þei han 'fulfillid and my ſpirit and ȝoure.

Perfore knowe ȝe hem, þat ben ſuche maner men.

xix Alle þe chirchis of Afye greeten ȝou wel. Aquyla and Prisca greeten ȝou moche in þe Lord, at 'þe whiche and I am herborid, 'wiþ her homely chirche.

xx Alle briþeren greeten ȝou wel. Grete ȝe wel to gidere in hooly coſs.

xxi My greetinge by Pouſis hond.

xxii If ony man loue not oure Lord Jhesu Crift, be he curſid, Maranatha, 'þat is, in þe comyng of þe Lord.

xxiii Þe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crift be wiþ ȝou.

xxiv My charite be wiþ ȝou alle in Crift Jhesu oure

Lord. Amen.

Here endiþ þe firſt piftle to þe Corynthies, and now bigynneþ þe fecounde.

II. CORINTHIS.

Prolog to þe fecunde piftle to Corinthijs.

Aftir penaunce don, a comfortable piftle he wrytiþ to hem fro Troade, by Tite; and preifynge hem he counceiliþ to betre, ſchewynge hem 'yforowid, but soþli amendid.

Ende of þe prolog; bigynnyng þe fecunde piftle.

Capitulum I.

i Poul, apostle of Jhesu Crift, bi þe wille of God, and Tymoþe, broþir, to þe chirche of God þat is at Corinthi, wiþ alle feyntis þat ben in al Acaye, ii grace to ȝou, and pees of God oure fadir, and of þe Lord Jhesu Crift.

iii Bleſſid be God and fadir of oure Lord Jhesu Crift, fadir of mercies, and God of al comfort, 'or ſolace, iv þat comfortiþ vs 'in al oure tribulacioun, þat and we mown comforte hem, þat ben in al pressure, 'or ouerleyinge, by þe exortacioun, 'or moneſtyng, by which and we ben moneſtid of God.

v For as þe paſſiouſ of Crift ben plenteuous in vs, ſo and by Crift oure coumfort is plenteuous.

vi Forſoþ wher we ben trowblid, 'or purſuwed, for ȝoure techinge and helpe, eþir we ben comfortid, for ȝoure comfort, eþir we ben moneſtid, for ȝoure moneſtinge and heelpe. Þe which worchip in ȝou þe suffryng of þe fame paſſiouſ, þe whiche and we suffren,

vii þat oure hope be fadd for ȝou; witynge for as ȝe ben felowis of passiouns, so ȝe schulen be and of comfort.
 viii Forsoþe, briþeren, we wolen 'not ȝou for to vnwide of oure tribulacioun, þat is don in Afye; for ouer maner we ben greuyd aboue vertu, 'or myȝte, so þat it anoyȝede vs, ȝhe, for to lyue.
 ix But we silf in vs silf hadden answere of deeþ, þat we be not tristinge in vs silf, but in God þat reysib deede
 men.
 x þe which delyuerede vs, 'and delyuereþ fro so greet perelis, in to whom we hopen, for and ȝit he schal delyuere,
 xi 'helpynge and ȝou in prayere for vs; þat of þe persoones of manye faces of þat ȝyungne þat is in ȝou, by manye parceneris, 'graces, or þankyngis, ben don to God for vs.
 xii Forwhi oure glorie is þis, þe witnessinge of oure conscience, þat in symplenesse and clennesse of God, and not in fleischly wysdom, but in þe grace of God, we lyuen in þis world, forsoþ more plenteuously to
 ȝou.
 xiii Soþli we wryten not oþere þingis, þan þo þat ȝe han rad and knownen, forsoþ I hope þat til to þe ende ȝe schulen knowe,
 xiv as and ȝe han knownen vs of party; for we ben ȝoure glorie, 'and ȝe oure in þe day of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.
 xv And in þis tristynge I wolde firste come to ȝou, þat ȝe hadden þe secunde grace, xvi and 'þat I schulde 'by ȝou passe in to Macedonia, and eft fro Macedonia 'I schulde come to ȝou, and of ȝou be ledd in to Judee.
 xvii Forsoþ whanne I wolde þis þing, wher I vñide liȝtnesse, or þo þingis þat I þenke, I þenke aftir þe fleisch, þat 'at me be, 'is and not, or ȝhe and nay?
 xviii Forsoþ God is trewe, for oure word 'þe which was at ȝou, 'þer is not in it is and nay, but 'in it is is, 'þat is, treuþe.
 xix Soþeli Jhesus Crist, þe sone of God, þe which is prechid in ȝou by vs, by me, and Syluan, and Tymoþe, þer was not in him is and nay, but 'in hym is was, 'þat is, stedefast treuþe.
 xx Forsoþ how many euere ben biheeltis of God, in him 'is, þat is, ben fulfillid. Perfore and by him we feyn amen to God, to oure ioye.
 xxi 'þe which soþli confermeþ vs wiþ ȝou in Crist, and þe which God anoyntide vs, xxii and þat markide vs, and ȝaf 'a wed, 'or eernes, of þe spirit in oure hertis.
 xxiii Forsoþ I inclepe God witnesse 'in to my soule, þat I sparinge ȝou cam not ouer Corinthe; xxiv not for we ben lordis of ȝoure feiþ, but we ben helperis of ȝoure ioye; forwhi þorw bileue ȝe stonden.

Capitulum II.

i Forsoþ I ordeynede þis ilke þing at me, þat I schulde not come eftfoone in to forwe to ȝou.
 ii Soþli if I make ȝou fori, 'or heuy, and who is he þat gladdib me, no but he þat is sorowful of me?
 iii And þis same þing I wroot to ȝou, þat whanne I schal come, I haue not forwe vp forwe, 'of hem of 'þe whiche it bihofte me for to ioye. Tristynge in ȝou alle, for my ioye is of ȝou alle.
 iv For whi of moche tribulacioun and angwische of herte I wroot to ȝou by manye teiris, 'þat ȝe be not fori, but þat ȝe wite what charite I haue more plenteuously in ȝou.
 v Forsoþ if ony man haþ maad me forwful, he haþ not maad me forwful but in party, þat I charge, 'or diseese, not ȝou alle.
 vi Þis blamynge þat is maad of many, sufficiþ to him, þat is such maner man;
 vii so þat aȝenward ȝe ȝyue more and comforde, left perauenture he þat is such maner man, be sopus vp, 'or dispeire, by more greet heuynesse.
 viii For which þing I biseche ȝou, þat ȝe conferme charite in to him.
 ix Forsoþ þerfore and I wroot, 'þat I knowe ȝoure asayinge, wher in alle þingis ȝe ben obedient.
 x Forsoþ to whom ȝe han 'ony þing ȝouen, and I haue forȝeuon. Forwhi and I þat I ȝaf, 'if I ony þing ȝaf, haue ȝouun for ȝou in þe persoone of Crist, xi þat we be not disseyued of Sathanas; soþli we
 'vnknowen not his þouȝtis.
 xii Forsoþ whanne I hadde comen to Trowade for þe golspel of Crist, and a dore was openyd to me in þe
 Lord,
 xiii I hadde not reste to my spirit, for þat I fond not my broþir Tite, but I seyinge to hem far wel, passide into Macedonia.
 xiv þerfor þankingis to God, þat euermore makiþ vs to haue victorie in Crist Jhesu, and schewiþ by vs þe odour of his knowynge in ech place; xv for we ben þe good odour, 'or sauour, of Crist to God, in þes þat ben maad saaf, and in þes þat perischen.
 xvi 'To oþere soþli odour of deeþ in to deeþ, to oþere forsoþ odour of lyf into lyf. And to þes þingis who so able?
 xvii Soþli we ben not as ful manye, auoutryng þe word of God, but of clennesse, but as of God, before God in Crist 'we speken.

Capitulum III.

i Bigynne we eftfoone for to comende, 'or preife, vs silf? or wher we neden, as summe, preisynge lettris to ȝou, or of ȝou?
 ii ȝe ben oure pistle, writun in ȝoure hertis, þe which is kowd and radd of alle men;

iii ȝe maad opyn, for ȝe ben þe pistle of Crist mynistrid of vs, and writun, not wiþ enke, but by þe spirit of quyk God; not in stony tablis, but in fleischly tablis of herte.
 iv Forsoþ we han such trist by Crist to God; v not þat we ben sufficient for to þenke ony þing of vs, as of vs, but oure sufficience is of God.
 vi þe which and made vs able mynistris of þe newe testament, not bi lettre, but by spirit; for þe lettre sleip, forsoþ þe spirit quykeneþ.
 vii For if þe mynistracioun of deeþ defformyd by lettis in stoones was in glorie, so þat þe children of Ifrael myȝten not biholde in to þe face of Moyses, for þe glorie of his cheere, þe which glorie is auoydid, viii hou not more þe mynistracioun of spirit schal be in glorie?
 ix Forwhi if þe mynistracioun of dampnacioun is in glorie, moche more þe mynisterie, 'or seruyng, of riȝtwysnesse is plenteuous in glorie.
 x Forwhi neper 'þat þat was clearer' in þis part, 'was glorified for excellent glorie; xi soþly if 'þat þat is auoydid, is bi glorie, moche more
 'þat þat dwelliþ is in glorie.
 xii Perfore we hauynge such hope, vſen moche trist;
 xiii and not as Moyses puttide a veyl on his face, þat þe children of Israel schulde not byholde in to his face, þe which veyl is auoydid.
 xiv But þe wittis of hem ben astoneyed; soþli til in to þis day þe same veyl in redinge of þe oolde testament dwelliþ 'not schewid, for in Crist it is auoydid, xv but til in to þis day, whanne Moyles is radd, þe veyl is putt vpon her hertis.
 xvi Forsoþ whanne Israel schal be conuertid to God, þe veyl schal be don awey.
 xvii Forsoþ þe Lord is spirit; forsoþ where is þe spirit of God, þere is liberte.
 xviii Forsoþ alle we wiþ schewid face biholdinge þe glorie of þe Lord, ben transformyd into þe same ymage, fro clerenesse into clerenesse, as of þe spirit of þe Lord.

Capitulum III.

i Therfore we hauynge þis administracioun, 'or office, vp which we han getun mercy, faylen not, ii but don a wey þe priuey þingis of schame, not walkynge in futil gyle, neþer auoutrynge þe word of God, but in schewinge of treuþe comendinge vs silf to ech conscience of men bifore God.
 iii For if also oure gospel is keuerid, 'or hid, in þese þat perischen it is keuerid;
 iv in whiche þe god of þis world haþ blyndid þe soules of men out of þe bileue, 'or vnfeiþful men, þat þe liȝtynge of þe gospel of þe glorie of Crist, þat is þe ymage of God inuyisible, schyne not.

v Soþli we prechen not vs silf, but Jhesu Crist oure Lord; forsoþ vs ȝoure seruauntis by Jhesu.
 vi For God, þat feide þe lyȝt for to schyne of derknessis, he haþ ynliȝtid in oure hertis, to þe illumynyng of þe science of þe cleerneſſe of God, into þe face of Jhesu Crist.
 vii Forsoþ we han þis tresour in brotil vesselis, þat þe hiȝnesse be of Goddis vertu, and not of vs.
 viii In alle þingis we suffren tribulacioun, but we ben not 'maad streit; we ben maad pore, but we ben not distroyed;
 ix we suffren persecucioun, but we ben not forsaken; we ben maad lowe, but we ben not confoundid; we ben cast down, but we perischen not;
 x euermore beringe aboue þe mortifyinge of Jhesu Crist in oure body, þat and þe lyf of Jhesu be schewid in oure bodies.
 xi Soþli euermore we þat lyuen, ben takun in to deeþ for Jhesu, þat and þe lyf of Jhesu be schewid in oure deedly fleisch.
 xii Perfore deeþ worshiþ in vs, lyf soþli in ȝou.
 xiii Forsoþ hauynge þe same spirit of feiþ, as it is writun, I haue bileued, for which þing I spak; and we bileuen, for which þing and we speken; xiv witynge for he þat reiside Jhesu, schal reise and vs wiþ Jhesu, and schal ordeyne vs wiþ ȝou.
 xv Soþli alle þingis for ȝou, þat grace beyng plenteuous by manye in doyng of þankingis be plenteuous into glorie of God.
 xvi For which þing we faylen not, but þouȝ 'þe ilke þat is wiþouteforþ, oure man be corruptid; neþeles þat man þat is wiþinne forþ, is renewid, 'or maad newe aȝen, fro day into day.
 xvii Forsoþ þat þat is 'in present, 'or now, 'a litil moment lastynge, and liȝt, 'or esy, þing of oure tribulacioun, worshiþ ouer manere, 'or mesure, into hiȝnesse þe euerelaſting weiȝte of glorie in vs, xviii vs not biholdynge þo þingis þat ben seyn, but þo þat ben not seyn. Soþli þo þingis þat ben seyn, ben temperal, 'or duryng by short tyme; forsoþ þo þingis þat ben not seyn, ben euerlaſtinge, 'or wiþouten ende.

Capitulum V.

i Soþeli we witen, for if oure erþely hous of þis dwellyng be dissolued, þat we han a bildyng of God, an hous not maad by hondis, euerlaſtinge in heuenes.
 ii Forwhi and in þis þing we mornen, coueitynge for to be cloþid aboue oure dwellinge of heuen.
 iii if neþeles we ben founden cloþid, and not nakid.
 iv Forwhi and we þat ben in þis tabernacle, forwen 'wiþ inneforþ greuyd, for þat we wolen not be dispoylid, but be cloþid aboue; þat 'þe ilke þing þat is deedli, be sopus vp of lyf.
 v Forsoþ he þat makþ vs into þis þing, is God, þat ȝaf to vs a wedd, 'or eernes, of spirit.

vi Perfore we beynge hardy alle gatis, and witinge for þe whyle we ben in þis body, we gon in pilgrymage
 fro þe Lord;
 vii forþoþ we walken by feiþ, and not by clear siȝte.
 viii Forþoþ we ben hardy, and han good wille, more for to be in pilgrymage fro þe body, and for to be present to God.
 ix And þerfore we stryuen, wheþer absent, wheþir present, for to plese hym.
 x Forþoþ it byhoueþ vs alle for to be schewid bifore þe trone of Crift, þat euer man resceyue, 'or telle aȝen, þe propre þingis of body, as he haþ don, eþer good, eþir yuel.
 xi Perfore we witynge þe drede of þe Lord, softly mouen, 'or counceilen, to men, forþoþ to God we ben opyn; soþly I hope, and in ȝoure consciencis vs for 'to be knowun.
 xii We comenden not vs silf eftsoone to ȝou, but we ȝuyen to ȝou occacioun for to glorie for vs, þat ȝe haue to hem þat glorian in þe face, and not in þe herte.
 xiii Soþli wher we by mynde, 'or resoun, passen to God, wher we ben sobre to ȝou?
 xiv Soþli þe charite of Crift dryueþ vs; geſſinge, 'or demyne, þis þing, for if oon is deed for alle, þerfore alle ben deede.
 xv And Crift deyde for alle, þat and þei þat lyuen, lyue not now to hem silf, but to him þat deyde for hem, and roos aȝen.
 xvi 'And so we fro þis tyme 'han knowe no man vp þe fleisch; 'and if we knownen Crift vp þe fleisch, but riȝt now we 'han not knownen.
 xvii Perfore if ony newe creature is in Crift, oolde þingis han passid, and lo! alle þingis ben maad newe.
 xviii Forþoþ alle þingis of God, þe which reconciled,
 'or acordide, vs to him by Crift, and ȝaf to vs þe mynisterie, 'or seruyse, of reconcilinge.
 xix Soþli for God was in Crift, reconcilynge to him þe world, not rettinge to hem her giltis, and puttide in vs þe word of reconcilinge.
 xx Perfore we 'ben sett in legacie, 'or message, for Crift, as God monestinge by vs; we bisechen ȝou for Crift, be ȝe reconcilid to God.
 xxi God þe fadir made him þe synne for vs, 'þat is, redempcioun, or sacrifice for synne, þe which knew not synne, þat we schulde be maad riȝtwysnesse of God in
 hym.

Capitulum VI.

i Forþoþ we helpinge monestyn, þat ȝe resceyuen not þe grace of God in veyn.
 ii Soþli he seiþ, In tyme accept, 'or wel plesyng, I haue herd þee, and in þe day of helpe I haue helpid þee. Lo! now a tyme acceptable, lo! now a day of heelpe.

iii 'To no man ȝyuynge ony offencioun, 'or hurtyng, þat oure mynisterie, 'or seruyse, be not reproyud;
 iii but in alle þingis ȝyue we vs silf as mynistris of God, in moche pacience, in tribulaciouns, and in nedis, in angwischis,
 v in betyngis, 'or scorgingis, in prisouns, in diffenciouns wiþ ynne forþ, in trauelis, in wakyngis, in fastingis, vi in chaſtite, in science, 'or kunnynge, in long abydinge, in swetnesse, in þe Hooly Gooſt, in charite not feyned,
 vii in þe word of treuþe, in þe vertu of God; by armers of riȝtwysnesse on þe riȝt half and left half; viii by glorie and vnnobley; by yuel fame and good fame; as disseyueris, and trewe men; ix as þei þat ben vnknownen, and knowun; as men deyinge, and 'lo! we lyuen; as chaſtisid, and not maad
 deed;
 x as forowful, forþoþ euermore ioying; as 'hauynge nede, 'or as nedys men, soþly makynge manye riche; as no þing hauynge, and weldinge alle þingis. xi A! ȝe Corynthis, oure mouþ is opyn to ȝou, oure herte is alargid;
 xii 'be ȝe not maad streit in vs, but 'be ȝe maad streit in ȝoure entralis.
 xiii Forþoþ we hauynge þe same reward, I seye as to sones, and be ȝe alargid. xiv Nyle ȝe lede ȝok wiþ vnfeiþful men. Soþli what partyng, 'or comunyng, of riȝtwysnesse wiþ wickidnesse? or what felowship of liȝt to derknessis?
 xv Soþli what acordinge of Crift to Belial? or what part of a feiþful, 'or cristen man, wiþ vnfeiþful, 'or heþene?
 xvi but what consent to þe temple of God wiþ ydols?
 Forþoþ ȝe ben þe temple of quyk God, as þe Lord seiþ, For I schal dwelle in hem, 'and I schal walken in; and I schal be þe God of hem, and þei schulen be to me a peple.
 xvii For which þing go ȝe out of þe myddel of hem, and be ȝe departid, seiþ þe Lord, and touche ȝe not vnclene þing; and I schal resceyue ȝou, xviii and I schal be to ȝou in to a fadir, and ȝe schulen be to me into sones and douȝtris, seiþ þe Lord almyȝti.

Capitulum VII.

i Therfore, moost dereworþe briþeren, we hauynge þes ȝiftis, clense vs fro alle filþe of fleisch and spirit, perþyli makynge halowynge in þe drede of 'þe Lord.
 ii Take ȝe vs; we han hurt no man, we han corrupt no man, we han bigylid no man.
 iii I seye not for ȝoure condempnyng; forþoþ I seide bifore, þat ȝe ben in oure hertis, for to deie to gidere, and lyue to gidere.
 iv Moche trist is to me anentis ȝou, moche gloriynge is to me for ȝou. I am fulfillid wiþ comfort, I abounde, 'or am plenteuous, in ioye in al oure tribulacioun.

v Forwhi and whanne we hadden comen to Macedonye, oure fleisch hadde no reste, but we suffriden al tribulacioun; forsoþ wiþouteforþ, fřtingis, 'wiþ ynneforþ, dredis.
vi But he þat comfortiþ meeke men, God comfortide vs in þe comynge of Tyte.
vii Forsoþ not oonli in þe comynge of him, but also in þe comfort by which he 'comfortide me in ȝou, tellinge to vs ȝoure defyr, ȝoure wepinge, ȝoure loue for me, so þat I ioyede more.
viii For 'and if I made ȝou fori in 'a pifte, now it rewip 'me not; and if it rewide, I feyng ȝat þouȝ I made ȝou fori 'in þat pifte at an hour, ix now 'haue I ioye; not for ȝe weren maad forowful, but for ȝe weren maad forowful to penaunce. Sopli ȝe ben maad fori aftir God, ȝat in no þing ȝe suffre peirement of vs.
x Forsoþ ȝat forwe ȝat is aftir God, worchiþ penaunce in to stedefast heelþe; forsoþ forwe of þe world worchiþ deep.
xi Lo! ȝobelici þis same þing, ȝou for to be forowful aftir God, how moche bifynesse it worchiþ in ȝou; but defending, but indignacioun, but drede, but defyr, but loue, but veniaunce. In alle þingis ȝe han ȝouun ȝou silf for to be vndefoulid in cause, 'or nede.
xii ȝerfore 'and if I wroot to ȝou, not for him ȝat dide iniurie, neþer for him ȝat suffride, but for to schewe oure bifynesse, þe which we han for ȝou bifore God.
xiii ȝerfore we ben comfortid, forsoþ in oure comfort more plenteuously we ioyeden more on þe ioye of Tyte, for his spirit is fulfillid of alle ȝou.
xiv And if I gloriede ony þing anentis him of ȝou, I am not confoundid, 'or schamyd; but as we han spokun to ȝou alle þingis 'in treue, so and oure glorie ȝat was at Tyte, is maad treue.
xv And þe entraylis of him ben more plenteuously in ȝou, 'of him hauyng in mynde þe obedience of ȝou alle, how wiþ drede and tremblinge ȝe resseyueden him.
xvi I haue ioye, ȝat in alle þingis I triste in ȝou.

Capitulum VIII.

i Briþeren, forsoþe we maken knowe to ȝou þe grace of God, ȝat is ȝouun in þe chirchis of Macedonye, ii and ȝat in moche asayinge of tribulacioun, þe haboundaunce, 'or plente, of þe ioye of hem was, and þe hiȝest pouert of hem was plenteuous into þe richeſſis of þe symplenesse of hem.
iii For I bere witnessinge and to hem, vp vertu, 'or power, 'and aboue vertu þei weren wilful, iv wiþ moche moneſtynge bifechinge vs þe grace and comenyng of mynsterie, ȝat is maad in to hoþy men.
v And not as we hopiden, but þei ȝauen hem silf firſt to þe Lord, afterward to vs by þe wille of God.

vi So ȝat we preieden Tyte, ȝat as he bigan, so and he perfoarme in ȝou also þis grace.
vii But as ȝe abounden in alle þingis, in feiþ, word, and science, 'or kunnunge, and al bifynesse, moreouer and in ȝoure charite in to vs, ȝat and in þis grace ȝe habounde.
viii I feie not as comaunding, but by þe bifynesse of obere men 'also prouyng to gidere þe good wit of ȝoure charite.
ix Sopli ȝe witen þe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Christ, forwhi he was made nedys for vs, whanne he was ryche, ȝat ȝe schulden be maad ryche by his myfeste, 'or nedynesſe.
x And I ȝyue counceil in þis þing; sopli þis is profitable to ȝou, ȝat not 'oonly bigynnē for to do, but and for to wilne fro þe formere zeer.
xi Now forsoþe and in dede performe ȝe, ȝat as þe ynwitt of wil is redy, so be it and of performyng of þat þing ȝat ȝe han.
xii Sopli if þe wille be redy, it is acceptid vp ȝat ȝat it haþ, not vp ȝat ȝat it haþ not.
xiii Forsoþ not 'bat it be remyſſioun, 'or flouþe, to obere, forsoþ to ȝou tribulacioun; xiv but of euenesse, in þe present tyme ȝoure haboundaunce fulfillë þe myfeste of hem, ȝat and þe haboundaunce of hem be 'supplement, or fulfillinge, of ȝoure myfeste, ȝat euenesse be maad;
xv as it is writun, He ȝat haþ moche, haboundide not, and he ȝat litil, hadde not lasse.
xvi Forsoþ I do þankyngis to God, ȝat ȝaf þe same bifynesse for ȝou in þe herte of Tyte, xvii for ȝobelici he rescyeued exortacioun, 'or moneſtynge; but whanne he was bifyere, wiþ his wille he wente forþ to ȝou.
xviii Forsoþ we ſenten wiþ hym oure broþer, whos preisynge is in þe gospel by alle chirchis.
xix Forsoþ not oonly, but and he is ordeyned of chirchis þe felowe of oure pilgrymage into þis grace, ȝat is mynſtrid of vs to þe glorie of þe Lord, and to oure ordeyned wille;
xx eschewinge þis þing, ȝat no man blame, 'or dispise, vs in þis plente, ȝat is mynſtrid of vs to þe glorie of þe Lord.
xxi Sopli we purueyen goode þingis, not oonly bifore God, but also bifore alle men.
xxii Forsoþ we ſenten wiþ hem and oure broþer, whom we han prouyd in manye þingis ofte, for to be bify, now forsoþ moche bifyer, in moche trift in ȝou, xxiii eþir for Tyte, ȝat is my felowe, and in ȝou helpere, eþer oure briþeren, apostlis of chirchis of þe glorie of Crist.
xxiv ȝerfor schewe ȝe in to þe faces of chirchis, þe schewyng ȝat is of ȝoure charite and of oure glorie for ȝou 'into hem.

Capitulum IX.

i Forwhi of þe mynysterie þat is maad into hooly men, it is to me of 'haboundaunt, or plente, for to wryte to ȝou.

ii Forsoþ I woot ȝoure ynwitt redy, for þe which I haue glorie of ȝou anentis Macedonyes, for and Acaye is redi fro a ȝeer passid, and ȝoure loue haþ stirid ful manye.

iii Forsoþ we han sent briþeren, þat þat þing þat we glorian in ȝou, be not auoydid in þis partie, þat as I seyde, ȝe be redy.

iv Left when Macedonyes schulen come wiþ me, and schulen fynde ȝou vnredy, we schamen, þat we seye ȝou not, in þis substaunce.

v Perfore I geffide necessarie for to praye briþeren, þat þei come bifore to ȝou, and make redy þis bihiȝt bleffynge for to be redy, so as bleſſinge, not as auarice.

vi Þis þing forsoþe I seye, for he þat sowiþ scarfly, schal and scarfly repe; and he þat sowiþ in bleſſingis, schal repe and of bleffyngis.

vii Ech man as he castide in his herte, not of heuynesse, 'or of nede; forsoþ God loueþ a glad ȝyuere.

viii Forsoþe God is myȝty for to make al grace abounde in ȝou, þat ȝe in alle þingis euermore hauynge al sufficience, abounde in to al good work;

ix as it is writun, He delide a brood, he ȝaf to pore men, his riȝtwisnesse dwelliþ into 'wiþouten ende.

x Forsoþ he þat mynifriþ feed to þe 'man sowynge, and schal ȝyue breed for to ete, and he schal multiplie ȝoure feed, and make moche þe encresyngis of fruytis of ȝoure riȝtwyfnesse;

xi þat in alle þingis ȝe maad ryche habounde 'in to alle symplenesse, þe which worship by vs doynges of þankynge to God.

xii For þe mynisterie of þis office not oonly filliþ þo þingis þat faylen to hooly men, but also aboundiþ by manye in doynges of þankingis to þe Lord, xiii by prouynge of þis mynisterie, glorifyng God in þe obedience of ȝoure knowleching in þe goſpel of Crist, and in symplenesse of comynycacioun into hem and into alle, xiv and in þe bisechinge of hem for ȝou, defyringe ȝou for þe clere grace in ȝou.

xv I do þankingis to God vpon þe 'vnenarrable, or þat may not be told, ȝifte of hym.

Capitulum X.

i Forsoþ I Poul biseche ȝou, by þe homlynnesse, 'or myldenesse, and softenesse, 'or pacience, of Crist, þe which soþely in þe face am meek among ȝou, forsoþ I absent triste in ȝou.

ii Forsoþe, briþeren, I preie ȝou, þat I present be not hardy by 'þe ilke trist, in which I am geſſid for to be hardy in to summe, þe whiche deme vs, as we wandren vp þe fleisch.

iii Forsoþ we walkynge in fleisch, 'fiȝten not, 'or holden not knyȝthod, vp þe fleisch.

iv Forwhi þe armers of oure knyȝthod ben not fleischly, but myȝty to God to þe deſtruccioun of wardingis, 'or strengbis;

v we distroyinge councells, and al hiȝnesse reysinge him aȝens þe science of God, and dryuyng into caytife al vndirstondinge into þe seruyle of Crist;

vi also hauynge in redyneſſe for to venge al vnobedience, whanne ȝoure obedience schal be fulfillid.

vii Se ȝe þe þingis þat ben vpon þe face. If ony man tristiþ to him silf, him for 'to be of Crist, þenke he þis þing eft anentis himsilf, for as he is Cristis, so and we.

viii Forwhi and if I schal glorie ony þing more of oure power, þe which þe Lord ȝaf to vs into edifyinge, and not into ȝoure distruccioun, I schal not ſchame.

ix Forsoþe þat I be not geſſid as for to feere ȝou by epiftlis, x forwhi þei seyn, þe epiftlis ben heuye, 'or greouſe, and ſtrong, but þe preſence of body ſijk, and þe word contemptible, 'or worþi for to be diſpyſid.

xi He þat is ſuch 'maner man, þenke þis, for what maner men we 'ben abſent by epiftlis, fuche maner men vs preſent in dede.

xii Soþli we doren not putte vs among, 'or comparisowne vs to ſumme, þat comedende hem silf; but we metinge, 'or meſuringe, 'vs in 'vs silf, and comparisownynge vs silf to vs, xiii Soþli we ſchulden not glorie 'into ful moche, but vp þe meſure of reule, bi which God meſuride to vs, þe meſure of ſtrechinge til to ȝou.

xiv Forsoþ not as we not ſtrechinge to ȝou, 'ouerholden vs. Forsoþ 'til to ȝou we camen in þe goſpel of Crist, xv not gloryinge 'into ful moche in obere mennis traelis. Soþli we hauynge hope of ȝoure feiþ waxynge in ȝou for to be magnyfied vp oure reule in haboundaunce, xvi also for to preche into þo þingis þat ben byȝondes ȝou, not for to glorie in oþir mennis reule, in þes þingis þat ben maad redy.

xvii Forsoþe he þat glorieþ, glorie in þe Lord.

xviii Forsoþ not he þat comendiþ him silf is proued, but whom God comendiþ, 'or preiſþ.

Capitulum XI.

i I wolde 'ȝe ſchulden ſusteyne a litil þing of myn vnwydom, but and ſupporte me, 'or bere vp me.

ii Soþli I loue ȝou by þe loue of God; ſoþli I haue bihiȝt, 'or bicome borwe, for to ȝyue ȝou a chaſt virgyne to a man, Crist.

iii Forsoþ I drede, left as þe ſerpent diſcocyuede Eue wiþ his ſutil wordis, fo ȝoure wittis ben corrupt, and falles doun fro þe symplenesse þat is in Crist.

iv Forwhi if he þat comeþ, prechib anopir Crist, whom we prechen not, or if ȝe taken anopir spirit, whom ȝe resseyueden not, or anoþir gospel, þe which ȝe rescleyueden not, riȝtly ȝe schulden suffre.
v Soþli I wene 'for to haue don no þing lassé fro þe greeete apostlis.
vi Forwhi þouȝ I be vnlerned in sermoun, 'or word, but not in science, 'or kunnyngh. Forsoþ in alle þingis I am schedewid, 'or maad knowe, to ȝou.
vii Or wheþir I haue do synne, mekyng, 'or makinge lowȝ, my silf, þat ȝe ben enhaunȝid, for freely I euangeliside to ȝou þe euangelie of God?
viii I spoilede, 'or made nakide, or took ȝiftis, of oþir chirchis, takyng soude to ȝoure seruyse.
ix And whenne I was anentis ȝou, and nedide, I was chargeous to no man; forwhi briþeren þat camen fro Macedonia, 'supplieden, or fulfilden, þat þat failide to me. And in alle þingis I haue kept, and schal kepe me wiþoute charge to ȝou.
x þe treueþ of Crist is in me; for þis glorie schal not be brokun in me, in þe 'regiouns, or kuntrees, of Achaye.
xi Whi? for I loue not ȝou? God woot.
xii 'For þat þat I do, and I schal do, þat I kitte awey 'þe occasioun of hem, þat wolen occasioun, 'or plente, or power, þat in þe þing, in which þei glorien, þei be founde suche as and we.
xiii Forwhi suche false apostlis ben trecherous, 'or gylyous, work men, transfiguringe hem into apostlis.
xiv And not wondir; soþli he Sathanas transfyguriþ him into an aungel of lyȝt.
xv Perfor it is not greet, if his mynistris ben transfigurid as þe mynistris of riȝtwysnesse, whos ende schal be aftir hir workis.
xvi Eft I seye, leſt ony man deme me vnwyse; ellis take ȝe me vnwyse, þat and I haue glorie a litil what.
xvii 'Þat þat I speke, I speke not vp God, but as into vnwyfdom, in þis substaunce of glorie.
xviii Forwhi many men glorien vp þe fleisch, and I schal glorie.
xix Forsoþ ȝe suffren gladly vnwyse men, whanne ȝe silf ben wyse.
xx Soþli ȝe lusteynen, if ony man dryue ȝou into feruage, if ony man deuourиþ, if ony man takиþ, if ony man is enhaunȝid 'bi pride, if ony man smytiþ ȝou 'into face.
xxi Vp vnnobleyn, I seye, as we weren fyke in þis partie. In what þing ony man dar, in vnwyfdom I seie, and I dar.
xxii Pei ben Ebewis, and I; þei ben Ysraelitis, and I; þei ben þe seed of Abraham, and I; xxiii þei ben þe mynistris of Crist, and I. As lassé wys I seye, 'I more; in ful manye trauels, in prisouns more plenteuously, in woundis aboue 'manere, or ouer mesure, in deepis ofte tymes.
xxiv I rescleyuede of þe Jewis fyue sybis fourty strokis oon leſſe;

xxv þries I was betun wiþ ȝerdis, onys I was stonyd, bryes Y maad perisching in schip, nyȝt and day I was in depnesse of þe see;
xxvi in weies ofte, in perelis of flodis, in perels of þeues, in perelis of kyn, in perels of heþen men, 'in perels in cite, in perels in desert, in perels in see, in perels in false briþeren, xxvii in traeil and myfeste, in many wakyngis, in hungir and þirst, in many fastingis, in cold and in nakidnesse.
xxviii Wiþoute þo þingis þat ben wiþoute forþ; myn eche dayes wakyng, 'or studyinge, þe bifynesse of alle chirchis.
xxix Who is syk, and I am not syk? who is sclaundrid, and I am not brend?
xxx If it bihoueþ for to glorie, I schal glorie in þo þingis þat ben of myn infirmyte, 'or freelite.
xxxi God and þe fadir of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, þat is bleſſid into þe worldis, woot, þat I 'gabbe not, or lyie not.
xxxii þe prouost, or kepere, of Damaske, of þe king of þe folk Arethe, kepte þe cite of Damasenys for to take me; xxxiii and by a wyndow in a leep I was latun down by þe wal, and so I scapide his hondis.

Capitulum XII.

i If it bihoueþ for to glorie, soþli it spedip not; forsoþ I schal come to þe visyouns and reuelacions of þe Lord.
ii I woot a man in Crist before fourtene ȝeare; wher in body, wher out of body, I woot not, God woot; sich a man rauyschid 'til to þe þridde heuene.
iii And I woot such a man; wher in body, or out of body, I noot, God woot; iv for he was rauyschid into paradys, and herde priuey wordes, þe whiche it is not leefful to a man for to speke.
v For sich maner þing I schal glorie; forsoþe for me no þing, no but in myn infirmitees.
vi Forwhi and if I schal wilne for to glorie, I schal not be vnwys; soþli I schal seye treueþ; forsoþ I spare, leſt ony man gesse me ouer þat þing þat he seeþ in me, or heerib ony þing of me.
vii And leſt þe greetnesse of reuelacions enhaunce me 'in pride, þe pricke of fleisch, an aungel of Sathanas, is ȝouun to me, 'þe which boffatiþ me.
viii For which þing þries I preide þe Lord, þat it schuld go awey fro me.
ix And he feide to me, My grace sufficiþ to þee; forwhi vertu is perfityl maad in infirmite. Before gladly I schal glorie in myn infirmitees, þat þe vertu of Crist dwelle in me.
x For which þing I pleſe to me in myn infirmitees, in wrong dispisyngis, 'or reprouyngis, in nedis, in persecuciouns, in angwyschis, for Crist; soþli whanne I am syk, þanne I am myȝty.

xi I am maad vnwitty, ȝe constreyened me. Forsoþ I 'schulde, or owȝte, for to be comendid of ȝou; soþli I dide no þing leſſe 'fro hem þat ben apostlis aboue manere. Forwhi þouȝ I be nouȝt, xii neþeles ȝe sygnes of 'myn apostilhed ben maad on ȝou, in al pacience, and singnes, 'or miraclis, and grete wondris, and vertues.

xiii Soþli what is it, þat ȝe hadden laſſe before oþere chirchis, no but þat I my ſilf greuyde ȝou not? Forȝyue ȝe to me þis wrong.

xiv Loo! þis þridde tyme I am redy for to come to ȝou, and I ſchal not be greuous to ȝou; forſoþ I ſeke not þo þingis þat ben ȝoure, but ȝou. Forſoþ neþir ſones Owen to trefoure, 'or make trefour, to fadir and modir, but þe fadir and modir to þe ſones.

xv Forſoþ I moost wilfully ſchal ȝyue, and I my ſilf ſchal be 'ouerȝouun for ȝoure ſoulis; þouȝ I more louyng, be leſſe loued.

xvi But be it; I greuyd not ȝou, but whanne I was ſutil wyse, I took ȝou wiþ gyle.

xvii Wher I diſceyuede ȝou by ony of hem, 'þe whiche I ſente to ȝou?

xviii I preiede Tyte, and I ſente wiþ him a broþir. Wher Tyte bigylide ȝou? wher we gon not in þe same ſpiryt? wher not in þe same ſteppis?

xix Sum tyme ȝe wenēn, þat we ſchulen excuse vs anentis ȝou. Bifore God in Crist we ſpeken; forſoþ, moost dere briþeren, alle þingis for ȝoure edyfyngē.

xx Sopeli I drede, leſt perauenture whanne I ſchal come, I ſchal fynde ȝou not which manere I wole, and I ſchal be founde of ȝow which maner ȝe wolen not; leſt perauenture ſtryuyngis, enuyes, ſturdyneſſis, diſencious and detracciouns, priuey ſpechis of diſcord, bolnynges bi pride, debatis be among ȝou;

xxi leſt eftſoone whanne I ſchal come, God make me louȝ anentis ȝou, and I weyle manye of hem, þat bifore fyndeden, and diden not penaunce of þe vncleſſe, and fornycacioun, and vnaſhaftite, þat þei han don.

Capitulum XIII.

i Lo! þis þridde tyme I come to ȝou, and in þe mouȝ of tweyne or þre witneſſis euery word ſchal ſtonde.

ii I feide bifore, and feye bifore, as preſent twytes, and now abſent, to hem þat bifore han fynded, and to alle oþere; for if I ſchal come eftſoone, I ſchal not ſpare.

iii Wher ȝe ſeken aſayinge of him þat ſpekiþ in me, Crist, þe which is not ſyk in ȝou, but is myȝty in vs?

iv Forwhi þouȝ he was crucified of infirmyte, but he lyueþ of þe vertu of God. Forwhi and we ben fyke in hym, but we ſchulen lyue wiþ him of þe vertu of God in vs.

v Afaye ȝou ſilf, if ȝe ben in þe feiþ; ȝe ȝou ſilf proue. Wher ȝe knownen not ȝou ſilf, for Crist Jhesu is in ȝou? no but ȝe ben repreuable.

vi Forſoþ I hope, þat ȝe knownen for we ben not repreuable.

vii Sopely we preien þe Lord, þat ȝe don no þing of yuel; not þat we ſeme prouyd, but þat ȝe do þat þat is good, forſoþ þat we be repreuable.

viii Forſoþe we mowen no þing aȝens treuþe, but for treuþe.

ix Forſoþ we ioyen, for we ben fyke, forſoþ ȝe ben myȝty; and we preien þis þing, ȝoure endinge.

x Soþli þerfore I abſent write 'þis þing, þat I preſent do not hardere, vp þe power, þe which þe Lord ȝaf to me into edificacioun, and not into diſtruccioun.

xi Briþeren, hennis forward ioye ȝe, 'be ȝe perfyt, and 'teche ȝe; 'vndirſtonde ȝe þe same þing; haue ȝe pees, and God of pees and loue ſchal be wiþ ȝou.

xii Greete ȝe wel to gidere in hooly cofſ.

xiii Alle hooly men greeten ȝou wel.

xiv Þe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, and þe charite of God, and þe comunyngē of þe Hooly Gost, be wiþ ȝou alle. Amen.

Heere endiþ þe fecounde piftle to Corynþys, and heere bigynneþ epiftle to Galathies.

GALATHIES.

Þe prolog to Galathies.

Galathies ben Greekis. Þes þe word of treuþe first tooke[n] of þe apostle; but aftir his departyng, þei weren temptid of falſe apostlis, þat þei ſchulden be turned into þe olde lawe and circumciſion. Þes reuokeþ þe apostle to þe feiþ of treuþe, writinge to hem fro Ephesye.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and bigynneþ þe epiftle.

Capitulum I.

i Poul apostle, not of men, neiþer by man, but bi Jhesu Crist, and God þe fadir, þat reyſide him fro deede men, ii and alle þe briþeren þat ben wiþ me, to þe chirchis of Galathie, iii grace to ȝou, and pees of God þe fadir, and of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, iv þe which ȝaf him ſilf for oure ſynnes, þat he ſchulde delyuere vs of þis preſent weyward world, vp þe wil of God and oure fadir, v to whom is 'honour and glorie in to worldis of worldis. Amen; 'ſo be it.

vi I wondre, þat þus ſo foone ȝe ben born ouer fro him þat clepide ȝou into þe grace of Crist, into an oper golpel;

vii þe which is not oþer, 'no but þer ben ſumme þat diſturblen ȝou, and wolen myſturne þe euangelie of Crist.

viii But þouȝ we, or an aungel of heuene, euangelise to ȝou, bifydis þat þat we han euangelisid to ȝou, cursid be he.

ix As I bifore seide, and now eftsoone I seye, if ony 'schal euangelise out taken þat þat ȝe han takun, cursid be he.

x 'I counceile now to men, or to God? or 'I seke for to plesse to men? If I 'ȝit pleside to men, I were not þe feruaunt of Crist.

xi Soþeli, briþeren, I make þe gospel knowun to ȝou, þe which is euangelisid, 'or prechid, of me, for it is not vp man;

xii soþli neþer I took it of man, neþer lernyde, but by þe reuelacioun of Jhesu Crist.

xiii Forsoþe ȝe herden my lyuyng sum tyme in þe Juwerie, for ouer manere I purfuwide þe chirche of God, and fauȝte aȝens it.

xiv And I profitide in Jurye aboue many myn euene eeldis in my kyn, beyng more haboundantly louere, 'or folower, of my fadryng tradicioouns.

xv Forsoþ whanne it pleside to him, þat departide me fro þe wombe of my modir, and clepid by his grace, xvi þat he schulde schewe in me his sone, þat I schulde preche hym in heþene men, anoon I acordide not to fleisch and blood;

xvii neþer I cam to Jerusalem to my bifore goeris apostlis, but I wente forb into Arabye, and eftsoone I turnede aȝen to Damask.

xviii Aftirward aftir þre ȝeiris I cam to Jerusalem, for to se Petre, and dwellide anentis him fifteene dayes;

xix forsoþ I sayȝ non oþer man of apostlis, no but James, þe broþir of þe Lord.

xx Forsoþ what þingis I wryte to ȝou, loo! bifore God for I lye not, 'or gabbe not.

xxi Aftirward I cam into þe parties of Sirye and Cilicie.

xxii Forsoþ I was vnknowyn bi face to þe chirchis of Judee, þat weren in Crist;

xxiii oonly forsoþ þei hadden heeringe, for he þat purfuwede vs sumtyme, now euangelisid þe feiþ, aȝens which he fauȝte sumtyme;

xxiv and in me þei clarifieden God.

Capitulum II.

i Aftirward aftir fourtene ȝeir, eftsoone I stiȝede to Jerusalem wiþ Barnabas, and Tyte takyn to.

ii Forsoþ I stiȝede vp reuelacioun, and 'to gidere seyde, 'or disputide, wiþ hem þe gospel, þe which I preche among heþene men; forsoþ a sydis hond, 'or by hem silf, to hem þat weren seyn for to be sumwhat, left perauenture I schulde renne in veyn, or hadde runne.

iii But neþer Tyte, þat was wiþ me, whanne he was heþene, was compellid for to be circumſidid;

iv but for false briþeren 'vndirbrouȝt yn, þe whiche priuely entriden for to aspie oure liberte, þat we han in Crist Jhesu, þat þei schulden dryue vs into feruage.

v To whiche neþer at oon hour we ȝauen stede to subieccioun, þat þe treuþe of þe gospel dwelle at ȝou.

vi Forsoþe of hem þat weren seyen for to be sumwhat; what maner men þei weren sum tyme, it perteyneþ no þing to me, forsoþ God takid not þe persoone of man; forsoþ þei þat weren seen for to be sumwhat, no þing to me ȝauen 'to gidere.

vii But aȝenward, whanne þei hadden seyn, þat þe gospel of prepucie, 'or heþene men, is bitakun to me, as of circumſioun to Petre;

viii for he þat wrouȝte to Petre into apostelhed of circumſioun, wrouȝte and to me among heþene men;

ix and whanne þei hadden knowe þe grace 'of God, þat is ȝouun to me, James, and Cephas, 'or Petre, and John, þe whiche weren seyn for to be pileris, ȝauen to me and Barnabas þe riȝt hondis of felowſhip, þat we among heþene men, þei forsoþ into circumſioun;

x oonly þat we schulde be myndful of pore men, þat also I was bify for to do þe same þing.

xi Forsoþe whanne Cephas, 'or Petre, cam to Antioche, I 'stood aȝens hym in to þe face, for he was reprehensiþle, 'or worþi for to be reproyed.

xii Forsoþ bifore þat summe camen fro James, he eet wiþ heþen men; forsoþ whanne þei camen, he wiþdrawȝ, and departide hym, dredyng hem þat weren of circumſioun.

xiii And oþere consentiden to his feynynge, so þat Barnabas was ledd of hem into þat feynynge.

xiv But whanne I hadde seyn, þat þei walkiden not riȝtly to þe treuþe of þe gospel, I seide to 'Cephas, or Petre, bifore alle men, If þou, siþen þou ert a Jew, lyuest heþenli, and not Jewly, hou constreynest þou heþene men for to bicome Jewis?

xv We ben Jewis of kynde, and not synners of heþene men;

xvi forsoþ witynge for a man is not iustified of þe workis of lawe, no but by þe feiþ of Jhesu Crist, and we in Crist Jhesu bileuen, þat we be iustified of þe feiþ of Crist, and not of þe workis of lawe. Wherfore of þe workis of lawe ech fleisch, 'or man, schal not be iustified.

xvii þat if we lekyng for to be iustified in Crist, and we vs silf be founden synners, wher Crist is mynistre of synne? Fer be it.

xviii Soþli if I bilde aȝen þo þingis þat I distroyede, I make me for 'to be a trespassour.

xix Forsoþ by þe lawe I am deed to þe lawe, þat I lyue to God; xx wiþ Crist I am ficchid to þe cross. Forsoþ I lyue now, not I, but Crist lyueþ in me. Forsoþ þat I lyue now in fleisch, I lyue in þe feiþ of Goddis sone, þe which louyde me, and bitook him silf for me.

xi I calte not awey þe grace of God; forsoþ if riȝtwynesse is by þe lawe, Crist deide 'wiþ oure caufe.

Capitulum III.

- i A! ȝe witlees men of Galathie, who disceyuede ȝou for to 'not bileue to þe treuþe? bifore whos yȝen 'Jhesu Crist is dampnyd, 'or excilid, and in ȝou crucifyed.
ii ȝis þing oonli wole I lerne of ȝou, han ȝe take þe spirit of þe workis of þe lawe, wherof þe heeringe of bileue?
iii So ȝe ben foolis, þat whanne ȝe bigunne by spirit, now ȝe ben endid by fleisch.
iv ȝe han suffrid so many þingis wiþoute cause, neþeles if wiþ outh cause.
v Perfore he þat ȝyueþ to ȝou þe spirit, and worshiþ vertues in ȝou, wheþir of þe worchis of lawe, or of heeringe of feiþ?
vi As it is writun, Abraham bileuyde to God, and it is rettid to him to riȝtwysnelle.
vii Perfore knowe ȝe, þat þei þat ben of þe feiþ, þei ben fones of Abraham.
viii Forsoþe þe scripture purueyinge, for God iustifieþ of feiþ heþen men, toold bifore to Abraham, For in þee alle folkis, 'or heþene men, schulen be bleſſid.
ix Perfore þei þat ben of þe feiþ, schulen be bleſſid wiþ feiþful Abraham.
x Forsoþ who euere ben of þe workis of lawe, ben vndir curs; for it is writun, Cursid ech man, þat 'schal not dwelle in alle þingis þat ben writun in þe booke of lawe, þat he do hem.
xi Forsoþ for no man is iustified in þe lawe anentis God, it is knownen, for a riȝtful man lyueþ of feiþ.
xii Forsoþ þe lawe is not of bileue, but he þat 'schal do þo þingis, schal lyuen in hem.
xiii Crist deliuerede vs fro þe curs of þe lawe, maad for vs curs, 'þat is, sacrifice for curs; for it is writun, Cursid is ech þat hangiþ in þe tree;
xiv þat bleſſinge of Abraham in heþen men schulde be maad in Crist Jhesu, þat we take þe biheeste of spirit by feiþ.
xv Briþeren, I seye vp man, neþeles no man dispiliþ þe testament of a man, or 'ordeyneþ aboue.
xvi Biheeftis ben feid to Abraham and to his feed; he feiþ not, In feedis, as in manye, but as in oon, And in þi feed, þat is, Crist.
xvii Forsoþ I seie þis, a testament confermyd of God, þe which aftir foure hundrid ȝeiris and þritti 'is maad lawe, makiþ not voyde 'for to avoyde þe biheeste.
xviii Forwhy if of lawe þe heritage, now not of biheeste. Forsoþ God ȝaf to Abraham bi aȝenbiheeste.
xix What þerfore lawe? For trespassyng it is putt, til þe feed cam, to whom God bihiȝte þingis ordeyned by aungelis, in þe hond of a medyatour.
xx Forsoþ a mediatour is not of o þing. Forsoþ God is oon.
xxi Perfore þe lawe anentis, 'or contrarie to, þe heefis of God? Fer be it. Soþli if þer were a lawe ȝouun, þe which myȝte quykene, vereily riȝtwysnelle were of lawe.

xxii But þe scripture enclofyde alle þingis vndir synne, þat biheeste schulde be ȝouun of þe feiþ of Jhesu Crist to men bileuyng.

xxiii Forsoþe bifore þat þe feiþ cam, we weren kept vndir þe lawe, schette to gidere in to þat faiþ þat was to be schewid.

xxiv And so þe lawe was oure litil maistir in Crist, þat we be iustified of þe feiþ.

xxv But where þe feiþ cam, now we ben not vndir þe litil maistir.

xxvi Forsoþ 'alle ȝe ben þe fones of God by feiþ in 'Crist Jhesu.

xxvii Forsoþe who euere ȝe ben baptysid in Crist, ȝe han cloþid Crist.

xxviii Per is not Jew, neiper Greek; þer is not seruaunt, neþir fre man; þer is not male, neþer female; soþeli alle ȝe ben oon in Crist Jhesu.

xxix Forsoþ if ȝe ben of Crist, þerfore ȝe ben feed of Abraham, vp biheeste eyris.

Capitulum IIII.

i I seye forsoþe, how moche tyme þe eyr is litil, he dyuersiþ no þing fro a seruaunt, whanne he is lord of alle;

ii but he is vndir tutouris and actouris, 'til to þe tyme determyned of þe fadir.

iii So and we, whanne we weren litile, weren seruyng vndir þe elementis of þe world.

iv But where þe plente of tyme cam, God sente his fone, maad of a womman, maad vndir þe lawe, v þat 'he schulde aȝenbye hem þat weren vndir þe lawe, þat we schulde rescyeue þe adopcioun of fones.

vi Forsoþ for ȝe ben þe fones of God, God sente þe spirit of his fone into ȝoure hertis, criyng, Abba, 'þat is, fadir.

vii And so now þer is not seruaunt, but fone; þat if fone, þanne and eyr bi God.

viii But þanne soþli ȝe vnknowynge God, seruyden to hem þat weren not goddis, in kynde.

ix Now forsoþ whanne ȝe han knownen God, ȝe, rapere ȝe ben knownen of God, hou ben ȝe turned to gidere eftsoone to fyke, 'or freel, and nedys elementis, to whiche ȝe wolen serue eftsoone?

x ȝe kepen dayes, and moneþis, 'and tymes, and ȝeiris.

xii Forsoþ I drede ȝou, leſt perauenture I haue trauelid in ȝou wiþoute cause.

xii Be ȝe as I, for and 'I as ȝe. Briþeren, I biseche ȝou, ȝe han no þing hirt me.

xiii Soþli ȝe witen, for by infirmyte of fleisch I haue euangeliſid to ȝou now bifore; xiv and ȝoure temptacioun in my fleisch ȝe dispiseden not, neþer forsoken, but ȝe rescyeueden me as an aungel of God, as Crist Jhesu.

xv Perfore wher is ȝoure bleſſinge? Soþli I bere witneſſinge to ȝou, for if it myȝte be don, ȝe ſchulden haue put out ȝoure ȝzen, and haue ȝouun to me.
 xvi Perfore am I maad enemy to ȝou, feiynge trewe þing to ȝou?
 xvii Forſoþe þei louen ȝou not wel, but þei wolen exclude ȝou, þat ȝe ſue hem.
 xviii Forſoþe fue ȝe good euermore in good, and not oonly whanne I am preſent anentis ȝou.
 xix My little ſones, whom I childe, 'or bryngē forþ by traueyl, eftſoone, til Crift be fourmyd in ȝou, xx forſoþe I wolde now be at ȝou, and chaunge my vois, for I am confoundid, 'or ſchamed, in ȝou.
 xxi Seie ȝe to me, þat wolen be vndir lawe, han ȝe not radd þe lawe?
 xxii Soþli it is writun, for Abraham hadde twey ſones, oon of þe hand mayden, and oon of þe fre wyf.
 xxiii Forſoþ he þat of þe 'hand mayden, vp þe fleiſch 'was borun; but he þat of þe fre wyf, by aȝenbiheſte.
 xxiv Be whiche þingis ben ſeid by allegorie, 'or goofly vndirſtondinge. Soþli þes þingis ben twey teſtamentis; ſoþli 'þat oon in þe mount of Syna, gendrингe in to feruage, þat is Agar.
 xxv Forſoþ Syna is an hil in Arabie, þe which is ioyned to it þat now is Jeruſalem, and feruiþ wiþ her ſones.
 xxvi Forſoþe þat Jeruſalem þat is aboue, is free, þe which is oure modir.
 xxvii Forſoþ it is writun, Be glad, þou bareyne, þat childiſt not, or bryngiſt not forþ child; brek out and crie, þou þat childiſt not; for manye ſones of þe 'desert, or left womman, more þan of hir þat haþ an houſbonde.
 xxviii Forſoþe, briþeren, we ben vp Isaac þe ſones of biheſte; xxix but how þanne he þat was borun vp þe fleiſch purfuwide him þat vp þe ſpirit, so and now.
 xxx But what ſeip þe scripture? Caſt out þe hand mayden and hir ſone, forſoþ þe ſone of þe hand mayden ſchal not be eyr wiþ þe ſone of þe free wyf.
 xxxi 'And fo, briþeren, 'we ben not ſones of þe hand mayden, but of þe free wyf, by which liberte Crift haþ 'maad vs free.

Capitulum V.

i Therfore ſtonde ȝe, and eftſoone nyle ȝe be to gidere holdun in ȝok of feruage.
 ii Loo! I Poul ſeie to ȝou, for if ȝe ben circumcidid, Crift ſchal profite to ȝou nobiŋ.
 iii Soþli I bere witneſſinge eftſoone to euery man circumſiding him ſilf, for he is dettour of al þe lawe for to be don.
 iv ȝe ben auoydid fro Crift, ȝe þat ben iuſtified in þe lawe han fallen awey fro grace.
 v Forſoþ we by ſpirit of feiþ abiden þe hope of riȝtwyſneſſe.

vi Forwhi in Crift Jhesu neþir circumciſioun is ony þing worþ, neþer prepucie, 'þat is, maner of heþen men, but feiþ þat worchiþ by charite.
 vii ȝe 'runnen wel; who lettide ȝou for to not obeische to treueþ?
 viii To no man conſente ȝe; forſoþ þis perſuacioun, 'or ſoſte mouynge, is not of hym þat clepide ȝou.
 ix A litil ſoudowȝ corumpiþ al þe gobet.
 x I truſte of ȝou in þe Lord, þat ȝe ſchulen vndirſtonde noon oþir þing. Forſoþe he þat diſturbliþ ȝou, ſchal bere dom, who euere he is.
 xi Forſoþe, briþeren, if I preche ȝit circumciſioun, what ȝit ſuffre I perſecucioun? perfore þe ſclaundre of þe croſs is avoydiſſid.
 xii I wolde and þei þat diſturblen ȝou, be kitt of.
 xiii Forſoþ, briþeren, ȝe ben clepid into liberte oonly; 'ȝyue ȝe not liberte in to occaſioun of fleiſch, but by charite of ſpirit ferue ȝe to gidere.
 xiv Forſoþ al þe lawe is fulfillid in o word, þou ſchalt loue þi neiȝbore as þi ſilf.
 xv For if ȝe biten to gidere, and eten, ſe ȝe, leſt ȝe be waſtid fro a twynne, 'or ech fro oþir.
 xvi Forſoþ I ſeie in Crift, wandre ȝe in ſpirit, and ȝe ſchulen not perfoorme þe deſyriſ of fleiſch.
 xvii For þe fleiſch coueitiþ aȝen þe ſpirit, ſoþli þe ſpirit aȝens þe fleiſch; forſoþe þes ben aduersaries to hem ſilf to gidere, þat ȝe do not ho þingis, what euere þingis ȝe wolen.
 xviii For if ȝe ben led by þe ſpirit, ȝe ben not vndir þe lawe.
 xix Forſoþe þe workis of þe fleiſch ben opyn, þe whiche ben fornycacioun, vncleanness, vnchaftite, xx leccherie, feruyng of ydols, 'or falſe goddis, doyngis of venym, enemytees, ſtryues, enuyes, 'or folowingis in yuel, wraþþis, chidingis, diſfenciouns, ſectis, 'or herefyes, xxi enuyes, mansleyngis, drunkeneffis, glotenyes, and lyche þingis to þes, þe whiche I preche to ȝou, as I bifore ſeide, for þei þat don ſuche þingis, ſchulen not haue þe kingdom of God.
 xxii Forſoþe þe fruyt of þe ſpirit is charite, ioye, pees, pacience, benygnyte, 'or good will, goodneſſe, long abydyng, myldeneſſe, feiþ, xxiii temperaunce, contynence, chaſtite; aȝens ſuch þingis þe lawe is not.
 xxiv Forſoþ þei þat ben of Crift, han crucified her fleiſch wiþ vices and concupiſcencis, or coueitiſis.
 xxv If we lyuen by ſpirit, 'by ſpirit and walke we;
 xxvi be we not maad coueitous of veyn glorie, to gidere ſtiringe to wraþþe, hauyng enuye to gidere.

Capitulum VI.

i Briþeren, and if a man be bifore occupied, 'or ouercomen, in ony gilt, 'or trespass, ȝe þat ben ſpiritual, teche ſiche a maner man in ſpirit of ſoftneſſe, 'or mekenesse, biholdinge þi sīlf, þat and þou be not temptid.

 ii Bere ȝe chargis þe toþir of þe toþir, and so ȝe schulen fulfille þe lawe of Crist.
 iii Forwhi if ony man geſſiþ him sīlf for to be ouȝt, whanne he is noȝt, he disceyueþ him sīlf.
 iv Forſoþ ech man proue his owne werk, and so he schal haue glorie oonly in hym sīlf, and not in an oþir.
 v Forſoþ ech man schal bere his owne charge.
 vi Forſoþ he þat is tauȝt by word, comune to him þat techiþ him, in alle good pingis.
 vii Nyle ȝe erre, God is not scornyd; forſoþ what pingis a man `schal fowe, and þes þinges he schal repe.
 viii For he þat sowiþ in his fleisch, and of þe fleisch he schal repe corupcioun; forſoþ he þat sowiþ in spirit, of þe spirit schal repe euerlaſtyng lyf.
 ix Forſoþ we doyngē good, fayle not; ſōþli in his tyme we ſchulen repe, not faylinge.
 x Perfore þe while we han tyme, worche we good to alle men; forſoþ moost to þe houſhold meyne of þe feip.
 xi Se ȝe, wiþ what maner lettis I haue writun to ȝou by myn hond.
 xii ſōþli who euere wolen pleſe in fleisch, þes confſtreynen ȝou for to be circumſidid, oonly þat þei ſuffre not þe perfecucioun of Cristis croſſ.
 xiii Forſoþ neþer þei þat ben circumſidid kepen þe lawe; but þei wolen ȝou for to be circumſidid, þat þei glorie in ȝoure fleisch.
 xiv Forſoþ be it ferr to me for to glorie, no but in þe croſſ of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, by whom þe world is crucified to me, and I to þe world.
 xv Forſoþ in Crist Jhesu neþir circumſicioun is ouȝt worþ, neþer prepucie, `þat is, maner of heþen men, but a newe creature.
 xvi And who euere ſchulen ſuwe þis rewle, pees vpon hem, and mercy, and vpon Israel of God.
 xvii Fro hennis forþ no man be heuy to me; forſoþ I bere in my body þe tokenis of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.
 xviii þe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crist wiþ ȝoure spirit, briþeren. Amen.

Heere endiþ þe piftle to Galathies, and heere bigynneþ epiftle to Ephesians.

EFFESEIES.

Here bigynneþ þe prologe to Effeseies.

Ephecyes ſōþli ben Afyanys; and þes þe word of treuþe takun, ſtooden ſtedefast in þe bileue. þes preiſiþ þe apostle, writynge to hem fro Rome cite out of prisoun, by Tyte, a dekene.

Here eendiþ þe prologe, and bygynneþ þe Epiftel to Ephesies.

Capitulum I.

i Poul, apostle of Crist, by þe will of God, to alle hooly men `þat ben at Ephecy and feiþful in Crist Jhesu, ii grace to ȝou and pees of God, oure fadir, and of þe Lord Jhesu Crist.
 iii 'Bleſſid be God and þe fadir of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, þat bleſſide vs in al ſpiritual bleſſinge in heuenly pingis in Crist,
 iv as he chees vs in him bifore þe makynge of þe world, þat we ſchulden be hooli, and wiþ ȝute wemme, `or vndeſoulið, in his ſiȝt, in charite.
 v þe which bifore ordeynede vs into þe adopcioun of fones by Jhesu Crist into him, vp þe purpos of his will, vi into heriynge of þe glorie of his grace; in þe which he made vs able to his grace, `or made dereworþe, in his dereworþe fone.
 vii In whom we han aȝen byinge by his blood, and remiſſioun of synnes, vp þe richeſſis of his grace, viii þat haboundide greetly in vs in all wyſdom and
 prudence,
 ix þat he ſchulde make þe sacrament of his will knownen to vs, vp þe good pleſaunce of him, þat he purposide in
 him
 x in þe dispensacioun of plente of tymes for to infſore alle þingis in Crist, þe whiche ben in heuenes and in erþe, in him.
 xi In whom also and we by forte, or grace, ben clepid, bifore ordeyned vp þe purpos of him þat worchip alle þingis vp þe counceil of his will; xii þat we be into þe herynge of his glorie, `we þat bifore hopiden in Crist.
 xiii In whom and ȝe, whanne ȝe hadden herd þe word of treuþe, reſcyeueden þe goſpel of ȝoure heelþe, in which and ȝe bileuyngē ben markid wiþ þe Hooly Goſt of biheſte,
 xiv þat is `a wed, or eernes, of ȝoure heritage, into þe redempcioun of purchaſinge, into herynge of his glorie.
 xv Perfore and I heeringe ȝoure feiþ, þat is in Crist Jhesu, and louyngē into alle feyntis, xvi ceſſe not doyngē þankynge for ȝou, makynge mynde of ȝou in my preieris; xvii þat God of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, fadir of glorie, ȝyue to ȝou þe ſpirit of wyſdom and of reuelacioun, into þe knowynge of him;
 xviii þe yȝen of ȝoure herte inliȝtened, þat ȝe wite, which is þe hope of his clepinge, and whiche þe richeſſis of þe glorie of his heritage in feyntis; xix and which is þe ouerſemyngē greetneſſe of his vertu into vs þat han bileuyd, vp þe worchinge of þe myȝt of his vertu, xx þe which he wrouȝte in Crist, reſyngē him fro deed men, and ſettinge on his riȝthalf in heuenly þingis, xxi aboue ech principat, `or power of princes, and potestate, and vertu, and lordſchiping, and ech name þat is named, not oonly in þis world, but in þe world to come;

xxii and made alle þingis fuget vndir his feet, and ȝaf him heed vpon al þe chirche, xxiii þat is þe bodi of him, and þe plente of him, þe which alle þingis in alle þingis is fulfillid.

Capitulum II.

- i And whanne ȝe weren deede in ȝoure giltis and synnes, ii in which ȝe wandreden sum tyme vp þe space, 'or lastinge, of þis world, vp þe prince of þe power of þis eir, of þe spirit þat worship now in to þe sones of vntrust, 'or vnibileue;
iii in 'þe which we alle lyueden sum tyme in desyris of ȝoure fleisch, doyng ȝe wille of fleisch and þouȝtis, and we weren by kynde þe sones of wraþþe, as and oþere;
iv forþoþ God, þat is riche in mercy, for his ful moche charite in which he louede vs, v and whanne we weren deede in synnes, quykenede vs to gidere in Crist, by whos grace ȝe ben sauyd, vi and to gidere aȝen reyside, and to gidere made to fitte in heuenly þingis in Crist Jhesu;
vii þat he schulde schewe in þe worldis comynge ouer þe plenteuouse richeffis of his grace in goodnesse vpon vs in Crist Jhesu.
viii Forsoþe by grace ȝe ben saued bi feiþ, and not of ȝou; soþli it is þe ȝifte of God, ix not of werkis, þat no man glorie.
x Forsoþ we ben þe makinge of hym, maad of noȝt in Crist Jhesu, in good workis, þat God made redy before, þat in hem we go.
xi For which þing be ȝe myndeful, þat sum tyme ȝe þat weren heþene in fleisch, þe whiche weren seid prepucie, fro 'þat þat is seid circumcisioun in fleisch maad bi hand;
xii þat weren in þat tyme wiþouten Crist, alyened, 'or maad straunge, fro þe lyuynge of Israel, and herborid men, 'or geftis, of testamantis, not hauyng hope of biheeste, and wiþ outen God in þis world;
xiii 'now forsoþ in Crist Jhesu ȝe þat weren sum tyme ferr, ben maad nyȝ in þe blood of Crist.
xiv Forsoþ he is oure pees, þat made boþ oon, and þe myddel wal of a long wal vnbyndinge, xv enemytees in his fleisch; auoydinge þe lawe of maundementis by domes, þat he make twey peplis in him silf into a newe man, makinge pees, xvi þat he reconcile boþe in o body to God by þe croſs, fleyng ȝe enemytees in him silf.
xvii And he comynge euangelifyde pees to ȝou þat weren ferr, and pees to hem þat weren nyȝ; xviii for by him we boþ han nyȝ comynge in o spirit to þe fadir.
xix Perfore now ȝe ben not 'herborid men and geftis, 'or comelingis, but ȝe ben citeſeyns of seyntis, and houſhold meyne of God;

xx aboue bildid on þe foundement of apostlis and of prophetis, bi þat hiȝeste corner stoon, Crist Jhesu;
xi in whom ech bildenye maad wexiþ in to an hooly temple in þe Lord.

xii In whom and 'be ȝe bildid to gidere into þe habitacle of God, in þe Hooli Gost.

Capitulum III.

- i For grace of þis þing I Poul, þe boundyn of 'Jhesu Crist, for ȝou heþene men, ii if neþeles ȝe han herd þe dispensacioun of Goddis grace, þat is ȝouun to me in ȝou.
iii For vp reuelacioun þe sacrament is maad knowun to me, as I aboue wroot in schort þing, iv as ȝe redinge mown vndirstonde my prudence in þe mysterie of Crist.
v þe which is not knowun to oþere generaciouns to þe sones of men, as it is now schewid to his hooly apostlis and prophetis in þe spirit, vi heþen men for to be euene eiris, and to gidere bodily and to gidere parceneris of his biheeste in Crist Jhesu by þe euangelię;
vii whos mynistre I am maad, vp þe ȝifte of Goddis grace, þe which is ȝouun to me vp þe worchinge of his vertu.
viii Forsoþ to me, leest of alle seyntis, þis grace is ȝouun for to euangelise in heþen men þe vnferchable richeffis, 'or þat mown not be souȝt out, of Crist, ix and for to ynliȝtne alle men, which is þe dispensacioun of sacrament hid fro worldis in God, þat made alle þingis of noȝt;
x þat þe mochefold wysdom of God be knowun to princes and potestatis in heuenly þingis by þe chirche, xi aftir þe settinge of worldis, þe which he made in Crist Jhesu oure Lord.
xii In whom we han trust and nyȝ comynge, in trustnyng by þe feiþ of him.
xiii For which þing I aske, þat ȝe fayle not in my tribulaciouns for ȝou, þat is ȝoure glorie.
xiv For grace of þis þing I bowe my knees to þe fadir of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, xv of whom ech fadirheed in heuenes and in erþe is named, xvi þat he ȝyue to ȝou, vp þe richeffis of his glorie, vertu for to be strengþid by his spirit in þe ynnere man, xvii Crist for to dwelle by feiþ in ȝoure hertis; ȝe rootid and groundid in charite, xviii þat ȝe mown comprehende wiþ alle seyntis, which is þe brede, and lengþe, and hiȝnesse, and depnesse;
xix also for to wite þe charite of Crist 'aboue semynge to science, þat ȝe be fulfillid into al þe plente of God.
xx Forsoþe to him þat is myȝti for to make alle þingis more plenteuouly þan we axen or vndirstonden, vp þe vertu þat worship in vs, xxi to him be glorie in þe chirche, and in Crist Jhesu, into alle generaciouns of þe world of worldis. Amen.

'So be it.

Capitulum III.

- i And so I bounden in þe Lord byseche, þat ȝe walke worpily in þe clepinge, in which ȝe ben clepid, ii wiþ al mekenesse and myldenesse, wiþ pacience supportinge to gidere in charite, iii bify for to kepe vnite of spirit in þe bond of pees.
iv O body and o sp̄irit, as ȝe ben clepid in oon hope of ȝoure clepinge;
v o Lord, o feiþ, o baptym, vi o God and fadir of alle, þe which is aboue alle men, and by alle þingis, and in vs alle.
vii To ech of vs grace is ȝouun vp þe mesure of þe ȝuyng of Crist;
viii for which þing he feiþ, He styeinge into hiȝ, ledde caitife caytif, 'or prysonynge prisoned, he ȝaf ȝiftis to
men.
ix Forsoþ þat he assendide, what is it, no but for he desendide first into þe lowere partis of þe erþe?
x He it is þat cam down, and þat stiȝede vp on alle heuenes, þat he schulde fulfille alle þingis.
xi And he ȝaf summe soþeli apostlis, summe forsoþ prophetis, opere forsoþe euangelistis, opere forsoþ schepherdis and techeris, xii to þe ful endyne of seytis, into þe work of mynisterie, into edificacioun of Cristis body, xiii til we rennen alle, in vnyte of feiþ and of knowyng of Goddis sone, into a parfyte man, into þe mesure of age of þe plente of Crist; xiv þat we ben not now litile children, mouyng as wawis, and be borun aboute wiþ al wynd of techinge, in þe weyardnesse of men, in sutil witt, to þe disceyuyng of errour.
xv Forsoþ we doyng treueþ in charite, wexen in him bi alle þingis, þat is Crist þe heed; xvi of whom al þe body sett to gidere, and boundyn to gidere by ech ioynture of vndirseruynge, vp worching into mesure of ech membre, makiþ encrefyng of þe body, into edificacioun of it in charite.
xvii Perfore þis þing I seie, and witnesse it in þe Lord, þat ȝe walke not now, as and heþen men walken, xviii in þe vanyte of her witt, 'in derknessis; hauyng vndirstondyng derkened, alyened, 'or maad ferr, fro þe lyf of God, bi ignoraunce, 'or vnkunnyng, þat is in hem, for þe blyndnesse of her herte.
xix þei dispeiringe bitoken hem silf to vnchaſtite, in to worchinge of al vncلنnesse in coueytise.
xx Forsoþe ȝe han not so lerud Crist, xxi if neþeles ȝe herden hym, and ben tauȝt in him, as is treueþ in Jhesu.
xxii 'Do ȝe awey vp þe firſte lyuynge þe olde man, þat is corupt vp þe defyris of errour;

- xxiii forsoþ 'be ȝe renewid, 'or maad newe aȝen, by spirit of ȝoure mynde;
xxiv and cloþe ȝe þe newe man, þat vp God is maad of noȝt in riȝtwyfnesse and hoþynesse of treueþ.
xxv For which þing ȝe puttinge awey leefyng, speke treueþ ech man wiþ his neiȝbore, for we ben membris
to gidere.
xxvi 'Be ȝe wroþ, and nyle ȝe synne; þe sunne falle not down on ȝoure wræþe.
xxvii Nyle ȝe ȝyue stede to þe deuel.
xxviii He þat staal, now stele not; 'more forsoþ traeile he in worchinge wiþ his hondis 'þat þat is good þing, þat he haue wherof he schal ȝyue to a man suffringe nede.
xxix Ech yuel word go not out of ȝoure mouþ; but if ony is good to edificacioun of feiþ, þat it ȝyue grace to men heeringe.
xxx And nyle ȝe make þe Hooly Gost of God fori, 'or heuy, in þe which ȝe ben markid in þe day of redempcioun.
xxxi Al bitternesse, and wræþe, and indignacioun, and cry, and blasphemye be takun awey fro ȝou, wiþ al
malice;
xxxii forsoþ be ȝe to gidere benyngne, 'or of good will, mercyful, ȝuyng 'to gidere, as and God ȝaf to ȝou in Crist.

Capitulum V.

- i Therfore be ȝe foloweris of God, as moost dereworþe
fones;
ii and walke ȝe in loue, as and Crist louede vs, and ȝaf him silf for vs an offryng and sacrifice to God, in to þe odour of swetnesse.
iii Fornycacioun forsoþ, and al vncلنnesse, or auarice, be not named in ȝou, as it bicomeþ hooly men;
iv eþer filþe, or foly speche, or harlotrie, þat perteyneþ not to þing, but more doyng of þankyngis.
v Forsoþ 'þis þing wyte ȝe, vndirſtondinge þat ech fornycatour, or vnclene man, or coueytous, þat is seruage of ydols, 'or mawmetis, haþ not heritage in þe kingdom of Crist and God.
vi No man disceyue ȝou by veyne wordis; forsoþ for þes þingis þe wræþe of God cam into þe fones of vnrifst,
'or vnbileue.
vii Perfore nyle ȝe be maad parteneris of hem.
viii Forsoþ ȝe weren sum tyme derknessis, 'now forsoþ
'ȝe ben liȝt in þe Lord. Walke ȝe as fones of liȝt.
ix Forsoþe þe fruyt of liȝt is in al goodnesse, and riȝtwyfnesse, and treueþ;
x prouyng what is wel plefynge to God.
xi And nyle ȝe comune to vnfrytouse workes of derknessis; forsoþe more reproue ȝe.
xii Forsoþe what þingis ben don of hem and in priuey, it is foul and for to seye.

xiii Forsoþ alle þingis þat ben prouyd of þe liȝt, ben maad opyn; forsoþ `al þing þat is schewid, is liȝt.
 xiv For which þing he seiþ, Ryse þou þat flepist, and `ryse vp fro deede þingis, and Crist schal illumyne þee.
 xv And so, briþeren, se ȝe, how warly ȝe schulen go;
 not as vnwyse men, but as wyse men, xvi aȝen byinge tyme, for þe dayes ben yuele.
 xvii ȿerfore nyle ȝe be maad vnprudent, but vndirftondinge which is þe will of þe Lord.
 xviii And nyle ȝe be fulfillid, `or be drunkun, wiþ wyn, in which `luxurie is, but be ȝe fulfillid wiþ þe Hooly Gost;
 xix spekinge to ȝou silf in psalmes, and ymnes, and spiritual songis, syngynge and seyinge psalme in ȝoure hertis to þe Lord;
 xx euermore doyng hankyngis for alle þingis in þe name of oure Lord Jhesu Crist to God and þe fadir, xxi ȝe suget to gidere in þe drede of Crist.
 xxii Be wymmen suget to her `men, or housbondis, as to
 þe Lord;
 xxiii for þe man is heed of þe womman, as Crist is heed of þe chirche; he sauour of his body.
 xxiv But as þe chirche is suget to Crist, so and wymmen to her housebondis in alle þingis.
 xxv Men, loue ȝe ȝoure wyues, as and Crist louede þe chirche,
 xxvi and ȝaf him silf for it, þat he schulde make it hooly; clensyng it wiþ þe waisching stoon of watir, in þe word of lyf;
 xxvii þat he schulde ȝyue þe chirche glorious to him silf, not hauynge wem, `or spot, or ryuelyng, or ony such þing, but þat it be hooli and vndefoulid.
 xxviii So and men schulen loue her wyues, as her owne bodies. He þat loueþ his wyf, loueþ him silf; xxix forsoþ no man hatide euere his fleisch, but norischip and fostrifþ it, as and Crist doþ þe chirche.
 xxx For we ben membris of his body, of his fleisch, and of his boones.
 xxxi For þis þing a man schal forsake his fadir and his modir, and he schal clyue to his wyf; and þei schulen be tweyne in o fleisch.
 xxxii Forsoþ þis sacrament is greet; forsoþ I leye in Crist, and in his chirche.
 xxxiii Neþeles and ȝe alle, ech man loue his wyf as him silf; forsoþ þe wyf drede hir hosebonde.

Capitulum VI.

i Sones, obeische ȝe to ȝoure fadir and modir, in þe Lord; forsoþe þis þing is iuſt, `or riȝtful.
 ii Honoure þou þi fadir and þi modir, þat is þe firſte maundement in þe biheeste;
 iii þat it be wel to þee, and þat þou be longe lyuyng on þe erþe.

iv And, ȝe fadris, nyle ȝe terre ȝoure sones to wraþþe;
 but norische ȝe hem in þe discipline and correccioun, `or chaftyſing, of þe Lord.
 v Seruauntis, obeysche ȝe to fleiſhly lordis wiþ drede and trembyng, in symplenesse of ȝoure herte, as to Crist;
 vi not seruyng at yȝe, as plesyng to men, but as seruauntis of Crist; doyng þe will of God `of ynwitt, `or refoun, vii wiþ good will seruyng as to þe Lord, and not to
 men;
 viii witynge þat ech man, what euere good þing he schal do, `þis he schal resceyue of þe Lord, wheþir seruaunt, wheþer fre man.
 ix And, ȝe lordis, do þe same þingis to hem, forȝyung manacis; witynge for her Lord and ȝoure is in heuenes, and takynge of persoones is not anentis God.
 x Here aftirward, briþeren, be ȝe comfortid in þe Lord, and in þe myȝt of his vertu.
 xi Cloþe ȝou wiþ þe armer of God, þat ȝe mown stonde aȝens aspyngis, `or asaylyngis, of þe deuel.
 xii For struyng is not to vs aȝens fleiſch and `blood, but aȝens þe princes and potestatis, aȝens gouernours of þe world of þes derknessis, aȝens spiritual þingis of wickidnesse, in heuenli þingis.
 xiii ȿerfore take ȝe þe armer of God, þat ȝe mown aȝenſtonde in þe yuel day; and in alle þingis stonde parfyt.
 xiv ȿerfore `ſtonde ȝe, gird `aboute ȝoure leendis in ſoþfastnesse, and cloþid þe haberioun of riȝtwynesse, xv and `ſchoold þe feet in makynge redy of þe gospel of
 pees; xvi in alle þingis takinge þe scheeld of feiþ, in þe which ȝe mown quenche alle þe firy dartis of þe worſte enmye.
 xvii And take ȝe þe helm of heelþe, and þe fwerd of þe Gost, þat is, þe word of God; xviii by al preier and bisechinge preiynge al tyme in spirit, and in him wakyng in al byfynesse, and byſeching for alle hooly, xix and for me; þat word be ȝouun to me in openyng of my mouþ, wiþ trift for to make knowun þe mysterie of þe gospel, xx for which I am sett in legacie, `or message, in þis cheyne; so þat in it I be hardy for to speke, as it bihoueþ me.
 xi Forsoþe þat and ȝe wite, what þingis ben aboute me, what I schal do, Titicus, my moost dere broþer, and trewe mynifre in þe Lord, schal make alle þingis knowun to ȝou;
 xii whom I fente to ȝou into þis fame þing, þat ȝe knowe what þingis ben aboute vs, and þat he comforþe ȝoure hertis.
 xiii Pees to briþeren, and charite, wiþ feiþ of God oure fadir, and of þe Lord Jhesu Crist.

xxiiii Grace wiþ alle men þat louen oure Lord Jhesu Crist in vncorupcioun. Amen.

Here endip þe epistle to Ephecies, and bigynneþ þe prolog to Philipencis.

PHILIPENCIS.

Philipencis ben men of Macedonia. Þes þe word of treueþ ytake, stedefaſtly ſtoode in þe feiþ, neibr þei token false apostlis. Þese þe apostle preifeþ, wrytinge to hem by Epifroðith, fro Rome, out of prisoun.

Here eendip þe prologue, and bygynneþ þe epiftel to þe Philippenses.

Capitulum I.

i Poul and Tymothe, feruauntis of Jhesu Crist, to alle þe hooly men in Crist Jhesu, þat ben at Philippis, wiþ bischopis and dekenes, ii grace to ȝou and pees of God oure fadir, and of þe Lord Jhesu Crist.

iii I do þankyngis to my God in al mynde of ȝou euermore in alle my preieris for alle ȝou wiþ ioye, makynge a bisechinge

v on ȝoure comunyng in þe gospel of Crist, fro þe firſte day til now;

vi tristnyngis þis ilke þing, for he þat bigan in ȝou a good work, ſchal performe til into þe day of Jhesu Crist.

vii As it is iuft to me for to feele þis þing for 'alle ȝou, for þat I haue ȝou in herte, and in my boondis, and in defendyng and confermyng of þe gospel, 'alle ȝou for to be felowis of my ioye.

viii Forſoþe God is a witnesse to me, hou I coueite ȝou alle in þe bowelis of Jhesu Crist.

ix And þis þing I preye, þat ȝoure charite be plenteuous more and more in science, 'or kunnyng, and in al witt;

x þat ȝe proue bettere þingis, þat ȝe be clene and wiþoute offence in þe day of Crist;

xi fulfillid wiþ þe fruyt of riȝtwysnesse by Jhesu Crist, into þe heriynge and glorie of God.

xii Forſoþ, briþeren, I wole ȝow for to wite, þat þe þingis þat ben aboute me han comyn 'more to þe profyte of þe gospel, xiii so þat my boondis weren maad knowun in Crist, in ech moot halle, and in alle opere placis;

xiv þat mo of briþeren in þe Lord tristenyng in my boondis, more plenteuously dursten wiþ outh drede speke þe word of God.

xv Summe forſoþ and for enuye and stryf, summe forſoþ and for good wille, prechen Crist; xvi summe forſoþ of charite, witinge for I am putt in þe defence of þe gospel.

xvii Forſoþ summe of contencioun, 'or stryf, ſchewen Crist not 'clenly, geſſinge hem for to reyſe pressure to my boondis.

xviii What foþly? 'þe while in al maner, eþer by contencioun, eþer by treueþ, Crist is ſchewid; and in þis þing I haue ioye, but and 'in þis þing I ſchal haue ioye.

xix Soþli I woot, þat þis þing ſchal come to me into heelþe by ȝoure preier, and þe vndirmyniftringe of þe spirit of Jhesu Crist, xx vp myn abidyng and hope. For in no þing I ſchal be confoundid, 'or ſchamed, but in al trift as euermore and now, Crist ſchal be magnyfied in my body, eþer by lyf, eþer by deeþ.

xxi Forſoþe to me for to lyue Crist is, and for to deie wynnyng.

xxii Pat if for to lyue in fleisch, þis is fruyt of work to me, and what I ſchal cheefe, I knowe not.

xxiii Forſoþ I am confreynd of twey þingis, hauynge defyr for to be diſſolued, 'or departid þe foule fro body, and for to be wiþ Crist, it is moche more bettere;

xxiv forſoþ for to dwelle in fleisch, it is nedeful for ȝou.

xxv And I triftinge þis þing, wot þat I ſchal dwelle, and parfitly dwelle to alle ȝou, to 'ȝoure profyt and ioye of feiþ.

xxvi þat ȝoure þankynghabounde in Crist Jhesu in me, by my comynge eftſoone to ȝou.

xxvii Oonly lyue ȝe worþily to þe gospel of Crist, þat where I ſchal come and se ȝou, eþer absent I ſchal heere of ȝou, for ȝe ſtonden in o ſpirit of o wille, trauelinge to gidere to þe feiþ of þe golpel.

xxviii And in no þing be ȝe aferd of aduersaries, þe which is to hem cause of perdiſioun, 'or of damnacioun; forſoþ to ȝou cause of heelþe. And þis þing of God.

xxix For it is ȝouun to ȝou for Crist, þat not oonly ȝe bileuen in to him, but also þat ȝe suffren for him;

xxx hauynge þe fame stryf, what 'maner and ȝe fyzen in me, and now ȝe han herd of me.

Capitulum II.

i Therfore if ony comfort in Crist, if ony folace of charite, if ony felowſhip of ſpirit, if ony entraylis of mercy doyng, ii fulſille ȝe my ioye, þat ȝe vndirſtonde þe fame þing, hauynge þe fame charite, of o wille, feelinge þe fame þing;

iii 'noþing by stryf, neþer by veyn glorie, but in mekenesse, demynge 'hiȝere to hem ſilf to gidere, 'or ech holdinge opere hiȝer in vertu;

iv not ech by him ſilf biholdinge what þingis ben her owne, but þo þingis þat ben of opere.

v Forſoþe feele ȝe þis þing in ȝou, þe which and in Crist Jhesu;

vi þe which whanne he was in þe foorme of God, demyde not rauelyn, him silf for to be euene to God;
 vii but he lowyde him silf, takynge þe foorme of a seruaunt, into lyknesse of men maad, viii and in habyt founden as a man. He mekeðe him silf, maad obedient 'til to þe deeþ, forþoþ to þe deeþ of cros.
 ix For which þing and God enhauncide him, and ȝaf to him a name þat is aboue al name;
 x þat in þe name of Jhesu ech kne be bowid, of heuenly þingis and erþely, and of hellis; xi and ech tunge knowleche, for þe Lord Jhesu Crist is in þe glorie of God þe fadir.
 xii 'And so, my mooste dereworþe, as euermore ȝe han obeisched, not in my presence oonly, but moche more now in myn absence, worche ȝe wiþ drede and tremblinge ȝoure heelþe.
 xiii Forþoþ it is God þat worshiþ in ȝou, and for to wille, and for to perfoarme, for good wille.
 xiv Forþoþ do ȝe alle þingis wiþouten gruccingis and doutyngis;
 xv þat ȝe be wiþoute pleynt, and þe symple sones of God, wiþoute reprof, in þe myddel of a schrewid nacioun and weyward; among whom ȝe schynen as ȝyueris of liȝt in þe world; xvi holdynge to gidere þe word of lyf to my glorie in þe day of Crist; for I haue not runnen in veyn, 'neþer in veyn trauelid.
 xvii But 'and if I be offrid, 'or slayn, vpon þe sacrifice and seruyce of ȝoure feiþ, I haue ioye, and 'to gidere þank ȝou alle.
 xviii þe same þing forþoþe and ȝe haue ioye, and 'to gidere þanke me.
 xix Forþoþ I hope in þe Lord Jhesu, me for to sende Tymothe foone to ȝou, þat and I be in good ynwitt, 'or gladnesse, þo þingis knowun þat ben at ȝou. xx Forþoþe I haue no man so of o wille, 'or accord, þat is bify for ȝou wiþ clene affeccioun, 'or defyre.
 xxi Forþoþ alle men seken þo þingis þat ben her owne, not þo þat ben of Crist Jhesu.
 xxii Forþoþ knowe ȝe 'þe assay of him, for as a sone to þe fadir he seruyde wiþ me in þe gospel.
 xxiii Forþoþe I hope me for to sende hym to ȝou, a noon as I schal se what þingis ben abowte me.
 xxiv Soþely in þe Lord I triste, for and I my silf schal come to ȝou foone.
 xxv Forþoþe I geffide it nedeful for to sende to ȝou Epaphrodite, my broþer and euene worchere, and myn euene knyȝt, forþoþe ȝoure apostle, and þe mynystre of my nede.
 xxvi For soþely he defyrde ȝou alle, and he was forwful, 'for þat and ȝe herden him maad syk.
 xxvii Forþwhi and he was maad syk to þe deeþ, but God hadde mercy on hym; forþoþ not oonly on hym, but also and on me, leſt I hadde heuynesse vpon heuynesse.

xxviii Perfore more hastedly I sente hym, þat 'him seyn, eft ȝe haue ioye, and I be wiþoute heuynesse.
 xxix 'And so resceyue ȝe him wiþ al ioye in þe Lord, and haue ȝe such maner men wiþ honour.
 xxx Forþwhi for þe work of Crist 'til to deeþ he wente, ȝyuynge his soule, 'þat is, lyf, þat he schulde fulfillie þat þat faylide to ȝou anentis my seruyfe.

Capitulum III.

i Hennus forward, my briþeren, haue ȝe ioye in þe Lord. For to write to ȝou þe fame þingis, forþoþ to me not flow, forþoþ to ȝou necessarie.
 ii Se ȝe houndis, se ȝe yuel workmen, se ȝe dyuisioun.
 iii Soplí we ben circumcisioun, þat bi spirit feruen to God, and glorien in Crist Jhesu, and not hauynge trist in þe fleisch, iv þouȝ I haue trist and in þe fleisch. If ony oþer man is seyn for to triste in fleisch, I more, v circumcidid in þe eiȝtiþ day, of þe kyn of Israel, of þe lynage of Beniamyn, an Ebrew of Ebrows, vp þe lawe a Pharise,
 vi vp loue pursuwinge be chirche of God, vp riȝtwynesse þat is in þe lawe lyuynge wiþoute pleynt.
 vii But whiche þingis weren to me wynnyngis, I haue demyde þese peiringis for Crist, viii Neþeles I gesse alle þingis for to be peyrement for be cleer science of Jhesu Crist. For whom I made alle þingis peirement, and I deme as toordis, þat I wynne Crist,
 ix and þat I be foundyn in him, not hauynge my riȝtwynesse þat is of þe lawe, but 'þat þat is of þe feiþ of Crist, þat is of God riȝtwynesse in feiþ, x for to knowe him, and þe vertu of his ryſinge aȝen, and þe felowschip of his passioun, I configurid, 'or made lyk, to his deeþ, xi if on ony maner I schal come, 'or renne aȝens, to þe resurreccioñ þat is of deede men.
 xii Not þat now I haue takun, or now am parfyit; forþoþ I sue, if on ony maner I schal comprehendere, 'and in what þing I am comprehendid of Crist Jhesu. xiii Breþeren, I deme me not for to haue comprehendid;
 o þing forþoþe, I forȝetinge soplí þo þingis þat ben bihyndis, strecchinge my silf forþoþ to þo þingis þat ben þe formere, to þe ordeyned þing.
 xiv pursue to be pris of þe hiȝe cleping of God in Crist Jhesu.
 xv Perfore who euere we ben parfyt, feele we þis þing.
 And if ȝe vndirstonden oþir maner ony þing, and þat þing God schal schewe to ȝou.
 xvi Neþeles to what þing we han comen, þat we vndirstonde þe same þing, and þat we parfytli dwelle in þe same reule.
 xvii Briþeren, be ȝe my foloweris, and wayte ȝe hem þat walken so, as ȝe han oure foorme.

xviii Forsoþ manye walken, whom I haue seide oft to ȝou, forsoþ now and I wepinge seie, þe enemyes of Cristis crofs,
 xix whos ende deep, 'or perisching, whos god is þe wombe, and glorie in confusiouf of hem, þat saueren,
 'or vndirstonden, erpeli þingis.
 xx Forsoþ oure lyuyng is in heuenes; 'wher of also we abyden þe sauyour oure Lord Jhesu Crist, xxi þe which schal refoorme þe body of oure mekenesse, configurid, 'or maad lyk, to þe body of his cleernes, vp þe worchinge by which he may also make alle þingis suget to hym.

Capitulum III.

i And so, my briþeren moost dereworþe and moost defyrid, my ioye and my crowne, so stonde ȝe in þe Lord, moost dere briþeren.
 ii I preie Eucodiam, and I bisech Syntesem, for to vndirstonde þe same þing in þe Lord.
 iii Also and I preie þee, german felowe, helpe þou 'þe ilke wymmen þat trueliden wiþ me in þe gospel, wiþ Clement and opere my helperis, whos names ben in þe book of lyf.
 iv Ioye ȝe in þe Lord euer more; eft I seie, ioye ȝe.
 v Be ȝoure temperaunce, 'or pacience, knowun to alle men; þe Lord is nyȝ.
 vi Be ȝe no þing bify, but in al preier and biseching, wiþ doyng of þankingis, be ȝoure axingis knowun at
 God.
 vii And þe pees of God, þat passib al witt, kepe ȝoure hertis and vndirstondingis in Crist Jhesu 'oure Lord.
 viii Fro hennus forþ, briþeren, what euere þingis ben soþe, what euere þingis chaſt, what euere þingis iust, what euere þingis hooly, what euere þingis amyable, or able for to be loued, what euere þingis of good fame, if ony vertu, if ony preifinge of disciplyn, þenke ȝe þese þingis, ix þat and ȝe han lerud, and take, and herd, and seyn in me. Do ȝe þese þingis, and God of pees schal be wiþ
 ȝou.
 x Forsoþ, briþeren, I ioyede greetly in þe Lord, for sumtyme aftirward ȝe 'flouriden aȝen for to feele for me, as and ȝe feeliden. Forsoþ ȝe weren occupied, xi I seie not as for nede, forsoþ I haue lerud, in whiche þingis I am, sufficient for to be.
 xii I can and be lowid, 'or mekid, I can and abounde, 'or haue plente. Euery where and in alle þingis I am ordeyned, and 'I can be fulfillid, and to hungr, and to habounde, and to suffre myselfe.
 xiii I may alle þingis in him þat comfortib me.
 xiv Neþeles ȝe han don wel, comunyng to my tribulacioun.
 xv Forsoþ and ȝe, Philipencis, witen, þat in þe bigynnyng of þe gospel, whanne I wente forþ fro

Macedonye, no chirche comunede wiþ me in resoun of
 'þing ȝouun and takun, no but ȝe allone.

xvi 'For and to Tessalonyk ȝe senten oonis and twyes 'in to vſ to me.

xvii Not for I seke ȝifte, but I requyre, 'or seke aȝen, fruyt haboundyng in ȝoure resoun.

xviii Forsoþ I haue alle þingis, and habounde; I am replete wiþ þo þingis takun of Epafrodite, þe which ȝe fente into þe odour of swetnesse, a couenable ooft, or sacrifice, plesyng to God.

xix Forsoþ my God fulfille al ȝoure desyr, vp his richeffis in glorie in Crist Jhesu.

xx Forsoþ to God and oure fadir be glorie into worldis of worldis. Amen.

xxi 'Greete ȝe wel euery hooly man in Crist Jhesu. Po briþeren þat ben wiþ me, greeten ȝou wel.

xxii Alle hooli men greeten ȝou wel, moost soþli þo þat ben of Cesaris hous.

xxiii þe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crist be wiþ ȝoure spirit. Amen.

Here endiþ þe epistle to Philipenis, and bigynneþ prolog to Colocencis.

COLOCENSIS.

Prologue.

Colocensis also þes as Laodicenis ben men of Afye, and þei weren forgon of false apostlis. And to þes þe apostle cam not him self, but þes also he corectib by his pistle; þei hadden herd soþli þe word of treue of Archippis, þe which took mynisterie into hem. Perfore þe apostle, þennis boundyn, writib to hem fro Effecie bi Tyte, a dekene, 'and Honesym, acolite.

Here endeþ þe prologue.

Capitulum I.

i Poul, apostle of 'Crist Jhesu, by þe wille of God, and Tymothe, broþer,
 ii to hem þat ben at Colose, hooly and feiþful briþeren in Crist Jhesu, grace to ȝou and pees of God oure fadir and of þe Lord Jhesu Crist.
 iii We don þankingis to God, and þe fadir of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, euermore 'for ȝou preiyng, iv we heeringe ȝoure feip in Crist Jhesu, and þe loue þat ȝe han into alle hooly men, v for þe hope þat is kept to ȝou in heuenes. þe which ȝe herden in þe word of treue of þe gospel, vi þat cam to ȝou, as and it is in al þe world, and makiþ fruyt, and wexiþ, as in ȝou, of þat day in which ȝe herden and knewen þe grace in treue.
 vii As ȝe lerneden of Epaphras, oure euene seruaunt moost dereworþe, þe which is a trewe mynistre of Jhesu Crist for ȝou;
 viii þe which also schewide to vs ȝoure louyng in spirit.

ix Perfore and we fro þe day in which we herden, ceessen not for ȝou preyng, and axynge, þat ȝe be fulfilled wiþ þe knowyng of his will in al wysdom and goostly vndirstonding;
 x þat ȝe walke worþily to God 'by alle plesynge þingis, makinge fruit in al good werk, and wexynge in þe science of God, xi 'in al vertu comfortid vp þe myȝt of his cleernesse, in al pacience and long abidinge wiþ ioye, xii doyng ȝankingis to God þe fadir, þe which made vs worþi in to þe part of sort of hooly men in liȝt.
 xiii þe which delyuerede vs fro þe power of derknessis, and translatide into þe kyngdom of þe sone 'of his louynge,
 xiv in whom we han aȝenbyinge and remyscioun of synnes.
 xv Pe which is þe ymage of God inuyisible, þat may not be seyn, þe firste bigetun of ech creature.
 xvi For in hym alle þingis ben maad, in heuenes and in erþe, viifyble and inuifyle, eþer trones, eþer domynaciouns, eþir principatis, eþer potestates, alle þingis ben maad of noȝt by him, and in him, xvii and he is bifore alle, and alle þingis ben in hym.
 xviii And he is heed of þe body of þe chirche; þe which is þe bigynnynge, 'or þe firste þing of alle, and þe firste bigetun of deede men, þat he be holdinge primacie, 'or þe firste dignyte, in alle þingis.
 xix For in hym it pleside 'to gidere al plente for to inhabite, xx and by him alle þingis for to be reconfylid in to hym, he pefyng by þe blood of his croſs, eþer þo þingis þat ben in erþis, eþer þat ben in heuenes.
 xxi And whanne ȝe weren sum tyme aliened, 'or maad straunge, and enemyes by witt in yuel werkis, now forsoþe he haþ recouncilid ȝou xxii in þe body of his fleisch bi deep, for to haue ȝou hooly, and vnwemmid, and wiþ outh reprof bifore
 hym.
 xxiii If neþelees ȝe dwellen in þe feiþ, foundid, and stable, and vnmouable fro þe hope of þe gospel þat ȝe han herd, þe which is prechid in al creature þat is vnd heuene. Of which I Poul am maad mynistro, xxiv 'þe which now I haue ioye in passiouns for ȝou, and fulfille bo þingis þat faylen of þe passiouns of Crist in my fleisch, for his body, þat is þe chirche.
 xxv Of þe which I Poul am maad mynistre, 'or feruaunt, vp þe dispensacioun of God, þat is ȝouun to me in ȝou, þat I fulfille þe word of God, xxvi þe myfterie, 'or priuete, þat was hid fro worldis and generaciouns. Now forsoþ it is schewid to his seyntis,
 xxvii to whom God wolde make 'þe richeffis knowun of þe glorie of þis sacrament in heben men, þat is Crist in ȝou, þe hope of glorie.

xxviii Whom we schewen, reprouyng ech man, and techinge ech man in al wysdom, þat we ȝyuen ech man parfyt in Crist Jhesu.

xxix In which þing and I trauele, ftryuyng vp þe worchinge of him, þat he worshiþ in me in vertu.

Capitulum II.

i Sopli I wole 'ȝou for to wite, what bisynesse I haue for ȝou, and for hem þat ben at Laodice, and whiche euere fayen not my face in fleisch, ii þat 'þe hertis of hem be comfortid, þei tauȝt in charite, and 'in to alle richeffis of plente of vndirstonding, into þe knowyng of mysterie of God, þe fadir of Jhesu Crist,

iii in whom ben al þe tresours 'hid of wysdom and science.

iv Forsoþ þis þing I seie, þat no man disceyue ȝou in hiȝþe of wordis.

v Forwhi 'and if I be absent in body, but by spirit I am wiþ ȝou, ioyng and seinge ȝoure ordre and þe fadness of þat ȝoure bileue þat is in Crist.

vi Perfore as ȝe han takun Jhesu Crist oure Lord, walke ȝe in hym,

vii ȝe rootid and byldid aboue in Crist, and confermyd in þe bileue, as and ȝe han lerud, haboundinge in hym in doyng of ȝankingis.

viii Se ȝe þat no man disseyue ȝou by philosofye and veyn fallace, 'or gilouse falshede, vp þe tradicioun of men, vp elementis of þis world, and not vp Crist.

ix For in hym dwelliþ bodilich al plente of Godhede.

x And ȝe ben fulfillid in him, þat is heed of al principat and power.

xi In whom and ȝe ben circumſidid in circumcisioun not maad wiþ hond, in nakidnesse of þe body of fleisch, but in circumcisioun of Crist;

xii to gidere biryed to hym in baptym, in whom and ȝe han riſun aȝen by feiþ of þe worching of God, þat reyſide hym fro deede men.

xiii And whanne ȝe weren deede in giltis, and in þe prepucie of ȝoure fleisch, he quykenye to gidere ȝou wiþ hym; forȝyng to ȝou alle giltis, 'or trespallis, xiv doyng away þat wryting of decree, 'or dom, 'þat was aȝens ȝou, þat was contrarie to ȝou; and he took þat fro þe myddel, picchinge it to þe croſs, xv spoylinge princepatis and poweris, led out tristily, openly ouercomyng hem in him filf.

xvi Perfore no man iuge ȝou in mete, or drynke, or in part of feeste day, or neomenye, or of sabotis, xvii þe whiche ben schadowe of þingis to come; forsoþ þe body is of Crist.

xviii No man disseyue ȝou, willinge in mekenesse, and religioune of aungels, þe whiche þingis he haþ not seyn, walkynge veynly; ynblowyn wiþ witt of his fleisch,

- xix and not holdynge þe heed, of which al þe body, by bondis and iwynngis to gidere vndirmynistrid and maad, wexiþ into þe encreessyng of God.
- xx Forsoþe if ȝe ben deede wiþ Crist fro þe elementis of þis worlde, what ȝit as men lyuylge to þe world deme ȝe?
- xxi Neþer 'ȝe schulen touche, neþer taste, neþer trete wiþ hondis 'þo þingis,
- xxii þe which alle ben into deep by 'þe ilke vſs, vp preceptis and techingis of men;
- xxiii þe whiche ben soþeli hauynges resoun of wysdom in superftcioun, 'or veyn religioun, or honour, and mekenesse, and not for to spare þe body, not in ony honour to þe fulnesse of fleisch.

Capitulum III.

- i Therfore if ȝe han risun to gidere wiþ Crist, 'seke ȝe þo þingis þat be aboue, where Crist is sittinge in þe riȝthalf of God.
- ii Sauere, 'or vndirstonde, ȝe þo þingis þat ben aboue, not þo þat ben vpon þe erþe.
- iii Forsoþ ȝe ben deede, and ȝoure lyf is hid wiþ Crist in God.
- iv Forsoþe whanne Crist schal appere, ȝoure lyf, þanne and ȝe schulen appeere wiþ him in glorie.
- v Perfore fle ȝe ȝoure membris, þe whiche ben on þe erþe, fornycacioun, vncleanness, lecherie, yuel couetyse, and auarice, þe which is feruage of symylacris;
- vi for whiche þingis þe wraþþe of God cam vpon þe fones of vnbileue;
- vii in þe whiche and ȝe walkiden sumtyme, whanne ȝe lyueden in hem.
- viii 'Now forsoþ and 'ȝe putte awey alle þingis, wraþþe, indignacioun, malice, blasfemye, foul word of ȝoure mouþ.
- ix Nyle ȝe lyie, 'or gabbe, to gidere, spulinge þe olde man wiþ his deedis,
- x and cloþinge þe newe man, þat is maad newe aȝen into þe knowyng of God, vp þe ymage of him þat maad hym;
- xi wher is not male and female, heþen man and Jew, circumcisioun and prepucie, barbar and Scita, seruaunt, 'or þral, and fre man, but alle þingis and in alle þingis Crist.
- xii Perfore cloþe ȝou, as þe chosun of God, and hooly, and þe loued 'of God, þe entralis of mercy, benygnite, and mekenesse, temperaunce, and pacience;
- xiii supportinge, 'or beringe vp to gidere, and ȝyuylge to ȝou silf, if ony man aȝens any hab 'querel, or pleynt; as and þe Lord Crist ȝaf to ȝou, so and ȝe.
- xiv Forsoþ vpon alle þes þingis haue ȝe charite, þat is þe bond of perfeccioun.

- xv And þe pees of Crist enioye in ȝoure hertis, in þe which and ȝe ben clepid in o body, and 'be ȝe kynde, 'or fre of goodwill or ȝifte.
- xvi Þe word of Crist dwelle in ȝou plenteouly, in al wysdom, techinge and monestinge ȝou silf in salmes, and ymnes, and spiritual songis, in grace syngynge in ȝoure hertis to þe Lord.
- xvii Al þing, what euere þing ȝe don, in word or in dede, alle þingis in þe name of þe Lord Jhesu Crist, doyng ȝankyngis to God þe fadir by hym.
- xviii Wymmen, be ȝe suget to ȝoure housbondis, as it bihoueþ in þe Lord.
- xix Men, loue ȝe ȝoure wyues, and nyle ȝe be bitter to hem.
- xx Sones, obeye ȝe to fadir 'and modir by alle þingis; forsoþe þis is wel plesyng to þe Lord.
- xxi Fadriss, nyle ȝe terre ȝoure sones to indignacioun, bat þei be not maad of litel ynwitt, 'or resoun.
- xxii Seruauntis, obeye ȝe by alle þingis to fleischly lordis, not feruynge at yȝe, as plesyng to men, but in symplenesse of herte, dredinge þe Lord.
- xxiii What euere ȝe don, worche ȝe of ynwitt, as to þe Lord and not to men;
- xxiv witinge þat of þe Lord ȝe schulen take 'retribucioun, or ȝeldinge aȝen, of heritage. Serue ȝe to þe Lord Crist.
- xxv Forsoþ he þat doþ iniurie, 'or wrong, schal refseyue þat þat he dide yuele; and accepcioun of persoones is not anentis God.

Capitulum III.

- i Lordis, þat þat is iust and euene ȝyue ȝe to seruauntis, witinge þat 'and ȝe han a Lord in heuene.
- ii Be ȝe bisy to preier, wakin ge in it, in doyngis of ȝankyngis;
- iii preiynge to gidere and for vs, þat God opene to vs þe dore of word, for to speke þe mysterie of Crist; for which alþo I am boundun,
- iv þat I schewe it, so as it bihoueþ me for to speke.
- v In wysdom walke ȝe to hem þat ben wiþoute forþ, aȝen byyng tyme.
- vi ȝoure word be sauerid in salt, 'þat is, wylðom, euermore in grace; þat ȝe wite, hou 'it bihoueþ ȝou for to answere to ech man.
- vii Titicus, moost dere broþer, and feiþful mynystre, and euene seruaunt in þe Lord, schal make alle þingis knownun to ȝou, þat ben aboute me.
- viii Whom I sente to ȝou to þis same þing, þat he knowe what þingis ben aboute ȝou, and conforte ȝoure hertis,
- ix wiþ Onesyme, moost dere and feiþful broþer, þe which is of ȝou; þe which schal make alle þingis þat ben don here, knownun to ȝou.
- x Ariftark, myne euene caytyf, 'or prisoner wiþ me, greetiþ ȝou wel, and Mark, þe cosyn of Barnabas, of whom ȝe han take maundementis; if he schal come to ȝou, rescyeue ȝe him;

 xi and Jhesus, þat is seid Just; þe whiche ben of circumcisioun; þei aloone ben myne helperis in þe kingdom of God, þat weren to me in solace.
 xii Epaphras, þat is of ȝou, þe seruaunt of Jhesu Crist, greetiþ ȝou wel; euere bify for ȝou in preieris, þat ȝe stonde perfyt and ful in al þe wyll of God.
 xiii Soplí I bere witnesfyng to him, þat he hab moche trauel for ȝou, and for hem þat ben at Laodice, and þat ben at Ierepolym.
 xiv Luk, leche moost dere, and Demas, greeten ȝou wel.
 xv Greetiþ ȝe wel þe briþeren þat ben at Laodice, and Nymphan, and þe chirche þat is in his hous.
 xvi And whanne þis pistle `schal be rad at ȝou, do ȝe, þat it be rad in þe chirche of Laodicencis; and `þat þat is of Laodicencis `be rad at ȝou.
 xvii And seie ȝe to Archyp, Se þe mynisterie, þat þou haſt takun of þe Lord, þat þou fulfille it.
 xviii My salutacioun, by þe hond of Poul. Be ȝe myndeful of my boondis. Pe grace of þe Lord Jhesu be wiþ ȝou. Amen.

Here endiþ þe epistle to Colocensis, and bigynneþ þe prolog to Teſſalonycenſis.

I. TEſſALONYCENSIS.

Prolog to þe first pistle to Teſſalonycenſis.

Teſſalonycenſis ben men of Macedonya. Þes þe word of treube takun, stoden perfyly in þe feiþ, and þanne in purſuyng of her citeſeyns; ferþermore alſo þei reſseyueden not false apostlis, neþir þe ilke þingis þat weren seid of false apostlis. Þese þe apostle preiſþ, writinge to hem fro Athenis, by Tyte and Onesym.

Ende of prolog; bigynnyng þe firſte pistle.

Capitulum I.

i Poul, apostle, and Siluan, and Tymothe, to þe chirche of Teſſalonycenſis, in God, oure fadir, and þe Lord Jhesu Crist, `grace to ȝou, and pees.
 ii We don þankingis to God euermore for alle ȝou, makinge mynde of ȝou in oure preieris wiþoute ceſſyng;
 iii we myndeful of `ȝoure werk of feiþ, and traueil, and charite, and ſufteynynge of þe hope of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, biſore `þe Lord and oure fadir.
 iv We witynge, ȝe mooft loued briþeren of `þe Lord, ȝoure cheſyng;
 v for oure gospel was not at ȝou in word oonli, but in vertu, and in þe Hooly Goof, and in moche plente; as ȝe witen, what maner men we weren in ȝou for ȝou;
 vi and ȝe ben maad oure foloweris, and of þe Lord, resceyuyng þe word in moche tribulacioun, wiþ ioye of þe Hooly Goof;

vii fo þat ȝe ben maad fourme, `or enfaumple, to alle men bileuyng, in Macedonye and in Achaye.
 viii Forſoþ of ȝou þe word of þe Lord is defamyd, `or moche told, not oonly in Macedonye and Achaye, but in ech place ȝoure feiþ þat is to God, is parfyd; fo þat it is not nede for to speke `to ȝou `ony þing.
 ix Forſoþ þei ſchewen of ȝou, what maner entre we hadden to ȝou, and hou ȝe ben conuertid to God fro symylacris, for to ferue to quyk God and very;
 x and for to abide his fone fro heuenes, whom he reifyde fro deede men, Jhesu, þat delyuerede vs fro wrabþe to comynge.

Capitulum II.

i Forwhi ȝe witen, briþeren, oure entre to ȝou, for it was not veyn;
 ii but firſt we ſuffrid, and punyſhid wiþ wrongis, `or fals reprouyng, as ȝe witen in Philippis, hadden trust in oure Lord, for to speke `to ȝou þe gospel of God in moche byſyneſſe.
 iii Soplí oure exortacioun, `or techinge, not of errorr, neþer of vncleſſe, neþer in gile, iv but as we ben proued of God, þat þe gospel ſchulde be takyn to vs, fo we ſpeken; not as pleſyng to men, but to God þat proueþ oure hertiſ.
 v Forſoþ neþir we were ony tyme in word of gloſyng, as ȝe witen, neþer in occaſion of auarice; God is witneſſe;
 vi neþir ſekinge glorie of men, neþir of ȝou, neþir of obere, whanne we myȝten be to charge to ȝou, as Cristis apostelis.
 vii But we ben maad litle in þe myddil of ȝou, as if a noryſe foſtre hir fones;
 viii fo we defyriſe ȝou coueityngly, `or wiþ greet loue, wolden bitake to ȝou, not oonly þe gospel of God, but alſo oure ſoules, `or lyues, for ȝe ben maad to vs mooft dereworþe.
 ix Forſoþe, briþeren, ȝe ben myndeful of oure traueil and weryneſſe; nyȝt and day we worchinge, þat we ſchulden not greue ony of ȝou, prechiden in ȝou þe euangeliſe of God.
 x ȝe ben witneſſis, and God, how hoolily, and iuftli, and wiþouten querel, `or pleyn, to ȝou þat bileueden, `we weren.
 xi As ȝe witen, how ech of ȝou, as þe fadir his fones, `preiyinge and comfortynge ȝou, we han witneſſid, xii þat ȝe ſchulden go worþili to God, þat clepide ȝou into his kyngdom and glorie.
 xiii Perfore and we don þankingis to God wiþ oute ceſſinge. For whanne ȝe hadden takun of vs þe word of þe heringe of God, ȝe token it not as þe word of men, but as it is verily, þe word of God, þat worchiþ in ȝou þat han bileued.
 xiv Soplí, briþeren, ȝe ben maad foloweris of þe chirchis of God, þat ben in Judee, in Crist Jhesu, for and ȝe han suffrid þe same þinges of ȝoure euene lynagis, as and þei of Jewis.

xv þe whiche flowen and þe Lord Jhesu and þe prophetis, and pursuwen vs, and þei plesen not to God, and to alle men þei ben aduersaries;

xvi forbedinge vs for to speke to heþen men, þat 'þe heþen men be maad saaf, þat þei fulfille her synnes euermore; forsoþ þe wrappe of God bifore cam vpon hem til into þe ende.

xvii Forsöþ, briþeren, we desolat fro ȝou 'at þe tyme 'of an hour, in bihooldynge, not in herte, more plenteuously han hiȝed for to fe ȝoure face wiþ greet defyr.

xviii For we wolden come to ȝou, soþli I Poul, and oones and eftfoone, but Sathanas lettide vs.

xix Soþli what is oure hope, or ioye, or crowne of glorie? Wher ȝe ben not bifore oure Lord Jhesu Crist in his comyng?

xx Forsoþ ȝe ben oure glorie and ioye.

Capitulum III.

i For which ping we fusteynyng no lengere, it pleside to vs for to dwelle at Athenis aloone;

ii and senten Tymothe, oure broþer, and mynistrе of God in þe euangelie of Crist, to ȝou, for to be confermyd, and tauȝt, 'or moneſtid, for ȝoure feiþ, iii þat no man be moued in þes tribulaciouns. Soþly ȝe ſilf witen, þat in þis þing we ben putt.

iv Forwhi and whanne we weren at ȝou, we bifore ſeyden to ȝou, vs to ſuffre tribulaciouns; as and it is don, and ȝe witen.

v Perfore and I Poul, not fusteynyng, 'or abidyng, more, ſente for to knowe ȝoure feiþ, leſt perauenture he þat tempiþ ſchal tempte ȝou, and oure trauel be maad veyn.

vi 'Now forſoþ Tymothe comyng to vs fro ȝou, and tellinge to vs ȝoure feiþ and charite, and for ȝe han euermore good mynde of vs, defyngre for to fe vs, as we also ȝou;

vii þerfore, briþeren, we ben comfortid in ȝou, in al oure nede and tribulacioun, by ȝoure feiþ.

viii For now we lyuen, if ȝe stonden in þe Lord.

ix Soþli what doyngе of þankyngis mown we ȝelde to God for ȝou, in al ioye, in which we ioyen for ȝou bifore oure Lord?

x nyȝt and day more plenteuously preiyng, þat we fe ȝoure face, and fulfille þo þingis þat failen of ȝoure feiþ.

xi Forſoþe 'þe fame God oure fadir, and þe Lord Jhesu Crist, drefſe oure wey to ȝou.

xii Forſoþe þe Lord multiplye ȝou, and make ȝoure charite for to habounde in to gidere, and into alle, as and we in ȝou;

xiii to ȝoure hertis to be confermyd wiþ outen pleynt in hoolynesse, bifore God and oure fadir, in þe comyng of oure Lord Jhesu Crist wiþ alle his feyntis. Amen.

Capitulum IIII.

i Therfore, briþeren, 'hennis forþward we preyen ȝou, and biseche in þe Lord Jhesu, þat as ȝe han reſceyued of vs how it bihoueþ ȝou for to go and pleſe to God, ſo and walke ȝe, þat ȝe habounde more.

ii Soþly ȝe wyten what comaundementis I haue ȝouun to ȝou by þe Lord Jhesu.

iii Forſoþ þis is þe wille of God, ȝoure makinge hooly, þat ȝe absteyne ȝou fro fornycacioun.

iv þat ech of ȝou kunne welde his vefſel in 'makyng hooly, 'or hoolynesse, and honour;
v not in paſſioun of defyr, as and 'heþen men þat knowen not God.

vi And þat no man ouergo, neþer diſſeyue his broþer in cause, 'or nede. For þe Lord is venger of alle þes þingis, as we bifore ſeiden to ȝou, and han witneſſid,
'or prouyd by autorite.

vii Soþli God clepide not vs into vncleſſe, but into hoolynesse.

viii 'And ſo he þat diſpifiþ þes þingis, diſpifiþ not man, but God, þat ȝaf his hooly ſpirit in vs.

ix Forſoþe of þe charite of briþerhed we hadden not nede for to wryte to ȝou; soþli ȝe ſilf han lerud of God, þat ȝe loue to gidere;

x 'and forſoþe ȝe don þat into alle briþeren in al Macedonye. Forſoþe, briþeren, we preyen ȝou, þat ȝe habounde more;

xi and ȝyue werk, 'or bisynesse, þat ȝe be quyet, and do ȝoure nede, þat ȝe worche wiþ ȝoure hondis, as we han comaundid to ȝou;

xii and þat ȝe wandre honeſtly to hem þat ben wiþouteforþ, þat of no mannis ȝe defyre ony þing.

xiii Forſoþ, briþeren, we wolen not ȝou 'for to vñknowe of men ſlepyng, or deiyng, þat ȝe ben not forwful, as and obere þat han not hope.

xiv Soþli if we bileuen, þat Jhesus was deed, and roos aȝen, ſo and God ſchal lede wiþ him hem þat 'flepten, or deieden, by Jhesu.

xv Soþli þis þing we ſeien to ȝou in þe word of þe Lord, for we þat lyuen, þat ben residue, 'or left, in þe comyng of þe Lord, ſchulen not come bifore hem þat flepten, 'or deieden.

xvi For he þe Lord 'ſchal come down fro heuene, in þe comaundyng, and in þe voys of archaungel, and in þe trumpe of God; and þe deede men þat ben in Crist, ſchulen ryſe aȝen firſt.

xvii Aftirward we þat lyuen, þat ben left, ſchulen be rauysched to gidere wiþ hem in cloudis, meetyngre to Crist into þe eyr; 'and ſo euermore we ſchulen be wiþ þe Lord.

xviii 'And ſo be ȝe comfortid to gidere in þes wordis.

Capitulum V.

- i Forsoþ, briþeren, of `tymes and momentis ȝe neden not þat I write to ȝou.
- ii Also ȝe filf diligentli witen, for þe day of þe Lord, as a þeef in nyȝt, so fchal come.
- iii Soþli whanne þei schulen seye pees and sikurnesse, þanne fudeyn perischinge, `or deep, fchal come `aboue to hem, as forwe to a womman `beringe child, and þei schulen not scape.
- iv Forsoþ, briþeren, ȝe ben not in derknessis, þat `þe ilke day as a þeef catche ȝou.
- v Soþli alle ȝe ben þe sones of lyȝt, and sones of day; we ben not of nyȝt, neþir of derknessis.
- vi Perfore slepe we not as and oþere; but wake, and be we sobre.
- vii Forsoþ þei þat slepen, slepen in þe nyȝt, and þei þat ben drunken, ben drunken in nyȝt.
- viii Forsoþ we þat ben of þe day, ben sobre, cloþid þe haburioun of feiþ and charite, and þe helm, hope of heelþe.
- ix For God puttide not vs into wrapphe, but into þe purchasyng of heelþe by oure Lord Jhesu Crist,
- x þat was deed for vs; þat where we waken, where we slepen, we lyue to gidere wiþ him.
- xi For which þing `be ȝe comfortid to gidere, and `edifie ȝe ech oþir, as and ȝe don.
- xii Forsoþ, briþeren, we preien ȝou, þat ȝe schulen knowe hem þat trauelen among ȝou, and ben bifore to ȝou in þe Lord, and monesten, `or techen, ȝou,
- xiii þat ȝe haue hem more haboundantli in charite; for þe work of hem, haue ȝe pees wiþ hem.
- xiv Forsoþ, briþeren, we preien ȝou, reproue, `or chaftyse, ȝe vnquyete men. Comforte ȝe men of litil herte, rescyeue ȝe fyke men, be ȝe pacient to alle men.
- xv Se ȝe, þat no man ȝelde yuel for yuel; but euermore sue ȝe þat þat is good, to gidere and into alle men.
- xvi Euermore ioye ȝe;
- xvii wiþ outh ceelfynge preie ȝe;
- xviii in alle þingis do ȝe þankyngis. Forsoþ þis is þe wille of God in Crist Jhesu, and in alle ȝou.
- xix Nyle ȝe `quench þe spirit;
- xx nyle ȝe dispise prophecies.
- xxi Forsoþ proue ȝe alle þingis, holde ȝe þat þing þat is good.
- xxii Absteyne ȝou fro al yuel spice, `or liknesse.
- xxiii Forsoþ `þe same God of pees make ȝou hooly by alle þingis, þat ȝoure spirit be kept hool, and foule, and body, wiþ outh playnt, in þe comynge of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.
- xxiv God is trewe, þat clepide ȝou, þe which also fchal do.
- xxv Briþeren, preie ȝe for vs.
- xxvi `Greete ȝe wel alle briþeren in hooly cos.
- xxvii I coniure ȝou by þe Lord, þat þis pistle be rad to alle hooly briþeren.

xxviii Pe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crist be wiþ ȝou alle.
Amen.

Here endiþ þe firste pistle to Teſſalonycenſis, and bigynneþ þe prologue to þe secunde pistle.

II. TESSALONYCENSIS.

Þe prologue in þe secunde pistle.

To Teſſalonycenſis þe apostle wrytiþ þe secunde pistle, and makiþ knowe to hem of þe lafte tymes, and of þe distruſſion of þe aduersarie, þat is, anticrist; wrytinge bis pistle from Athenys by Titicus, a dekene, and Honeſym, a colyt.

Here endiþ þe prologue, and bigynneþ þe secunde pistle to Teſſalonycenſis.

Capitulum I.

- i Poul, and Siluan, and Tymothe, to þe chirche of Teſſalonycenſis, in God oure fadir, and in þe Lord Jhesu Crist,
- ii grace to ȝou and pees of God, oure fadir, and of þe Lord Jhesu Crist.
- iii We schullen, `or owen, do þankyngis euermore to God for ȝou, briþeren, so as it is worþi, for ȝoure feiþ ouerwexiþ, and þe charite of ech of ȝou to gidere haboundiþ.
- iv So þat we filf glorien in ȝou in þe chirchis of God, for ȝoure pacience and feip in alle ȝoure persecuciouns and tribulaciouns.
- v Þe whiche ȝe fusteynen into þe enfaumple of þe iuft dom of God, þat ȝe be had worþi in þe kyngdom of God, for which and ȝe suffren.
- vi If neþeles it is iuft at God for to quyte ȝeldyng to hem þat trublen ȝou,
- vii and to ȝou þat ben trublid, reste wiþ vs in þe schewinge of oure Lord Jhesu Crist fro heuene, wiþ aungels of his vertu,
- viii in þe flawme of fyer, ȝyuynge veniaunce to hem þat knewen not God, and þat obeyen not to þe euangelie of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.
- ix Þe whiche schulen ȝyue, `or suffre, euere laſtinge peynes, in perisching fro þe face of þe Lord, and fro þe glorie of his vertu,
- x whanne he fchal come for to be glorified in his seyntis, and for to be maad wondirful in alle men þat bileyden, for oure witnesſyng is bileyden on ȝoun, in þat day.
- xi In which þing also we preien euermore for ȝou, þat oure God `fouchefaf for to clepe ȝou in his clepyng, and fulfille al þe wille of his goodnesse, and þe werk of feiþ in vertu;
- xii þat þe name of oure Lord Jhesu Crist be clarified in ȝou, and ȝe in it, vp þe grace of oure `God, and of þe Lord Jhesu Crist.

Capitulum II.

i Forsoþe, briþeren, we preien ȝou by þe comynge of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, and oure congregacioun into þe same þing, ii þat ȝe be not moued soone fro ȝoure witt, neþer be agast, neþir bi spirit, neþir by word, neþer by epistle as fent by vs, as þe day of þe Lord be nyȝ.
iii ȝat no man disceyue ȝou in ony maner. For no but `departyng awey, `or diffencioun, schal come first, and þe man of synne schal be schewid, þe sone of perdicioun, iv ȝat is aduersarie, and is enhaunsid vpon al þing ȝat is feid God, or ȝat is worshippid, so ȝat he sitte in þe temple, `or into þe temple, of God, schewing him silf as he be God.
v Wher ȝe holden not, ȝat ȝit whanne I was at ȝou, I feide þes þingis to ȝou?
vi And now what wiþholdiþ, ȝe witen, ȝat he be schewid in his tyme.
vii Forwhi þe mysterie, `or priuyte, of wickidnesse worchiþ now; oonly ȝat he ȝat holdiþ now, holde, til it be maad of þe myddel.
viii And þanne `be ilke wickid man schal be schewid, whom þe Lord Jhesu schal fle wiþ þe spirit of his mouþ, and schal distroye wiþ þe illumynyng, `or schynnyng, of his comyng. Jhesus schal fle him, ix whos comyng is vp þe worching of Sathanas, in al vertu, and signes, and grete wondris, lyinge, `or fals, x and in al diffeit of wickidnesse, to hem ȝat perischen. For ȝat bei rescyeueden not þe charite of treuþe, ȝat bei schulden be maad saaf.
xi Perfore God schal fende to hem a worching of errour, ȝat bei bileue to lessyng, `or gabbyng, xii ȝat alle be demyd, `or dampned, þe whiche bileueden not to treuþe, but consentiden to wickidnesse.
xiii Forsoþ we owen for to do þankingis euermore to God for ȝou, ȝe `breþeren loued of God, ȝat God chees vs primyllis, `or firste fruytis, into heelþe, in halowyng of spirit and feiþ of treuþe;
xiv in þe which and he clepide ȝou by oure gospel, into getynge of þe glorie of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.
xv And so, briþeren, stonde ȝe, and `holde ȝe þe tradiciouns, `or techingis, ȝat ȝe han lerud, eþir by word, eþir by oure pifte.
xvi Forsoþe oure Lord Jhesu Crist him silf, and God and oure fadir, þe which louede ȝou, and ȝaf euerlasting comfort and good hope in grace, xvii stirre, `or monefste, ȝoure hertis, and conferme in al `werk and good word.

Capitulum III.

i Briþeren, `hennis forþward preie ȝe for vs, ȝat þe word of God renne, and be clarified, as and anentis ȝou;

ii and þat we be delyuered fro vncouenable, `or noyous, and yuele men; soþli feiþ is not of alle men.
iii Forsoþ þe Lord is trewe, ȝat schal conferme vs, and schal kepe fro yuel.
iv Soþli, briþeren, we tristen of ȝou in þe Lord, for what euere þingis we bydden, and ȝe don and schulen don.
v Forsoþ þe Lord dresse ȝoure hertis, in þe charite of God, and pacience of Crist.
vi Forsoþe, briþeren, we denouncen to ȝou in þe name of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, ȝat ȝe wiþdrawe ȝou fro ech broþer wandrynge vnordynatly, `or aȝens good ordre, and not vp þe tradicioun, ȝat þei rescyeueden of vs.
vii Soþli ȝe ȝe silf witen, how it bihoueþ for to sue vs. For we weren not `iniquyet, `or reste, or in pesyble, among ȝou, viii neþer frely, `or wiþoute oure owne traueil, we eeten breed of ony man, but in trauel and werynesse nyȝt and day worchinge, ȝat we greueden noon of ȝou.
ix Not as we hadden not power, but ȝat we schulden ȝyue vs silf a foorme, `or ensaumple, for to sue vs.
x Forwhi and whanne we weren anentis ȝou, þis þing we denounsiden, `or warneden, to ȝou, for if ony man wole not worche, neþer ete he.
xi Soþli we han herd summe among ȝou `for to wandre `iniquyet, or reste, or in pesibl, no þing worchinge, but doyng curioufly.
xii Forsoþ we denounsen to hem ȝat ben siche maner men, and bisechen in þe Lord Jhesu Crist, ȝat þei wiþ silenze, `or stilnesse, worchinge, ete her owne breed.
xiii Forsoþe nyle ȝe, briþeren, fayle wel doyngे `in Crist Jhesu oure Lord.
xiv ȝat if ony man `schal not obeie to oure word by epistle, marke ȝe hym, and comune ȝe not wiþ him, ȝat he be confoundid, `or schamed; xv and nyle ȝe gesse hym as an enemy, but `reproue ȝe him as a broþer.
xvi Forsoþe `be ilke God of pees ȝyue to ȝou euerlaftyng pees in al place. Pe Lord be wiþ alle ȝou.
xvii My salutacioun by þe hond of Poul; `þat is signe in ech epistle. I write þus. xviii Pe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crist be wiþ `alle ȝou. Amen.

Here endiþ þe secunde pifte to Teffalonycensis, and bigynneþ þe prolog to þe firſte pifte to Tymoþe.

I. TIMOTHE.

Prolog to þe firſte pifte to Tymoþe.

Thimoþe þe apostell enformeþ and techeþ of þe ordinaunce of bischophode, and of dekenhode, and of all þe chirches discipline; forþermore enfourmeþ him to schrewed apostoles to him bakbytyng mot answere resoun ȝeldyng, ȝat of þe pursuere he be saaf, whan

Crist hab̄ comen to deliuer all synneres at þe last; oþerwysē teching, moneſt he to be fledde. Writyn fro Rome cyte.

Here eendep þe prologue, and bygynneþ þe epiftel.

Capitulum I.

- i Poul, apostle of 'Crist Jhesu, vp þe comaundement of God oure fauyour, and Jhesu Crist oure hope, ii to Tymothe, bylouyd sone in þe feiþ, grace and mercy and pees, of God þe fadir, and Jhesu Crist, oure Lord.
iii As I preide þee, þat þou schuldifst dwelle at Ephesy, whanne I wente to Macedonye, þat þou schuldifst denounce to summe, þat þei schulden not teche oþere weye, iv neþir ȝyue tent to fablis and genologies 'wiþouten endes, þe whiche ȝyuen questiouns, more þan edificacioun of God, þat is in þe feiþ.
v Forþof þe ende of comaundement is charite of clene herte, and good conscience, and feiþ not feyned.
vi Fro whiche þingis 'sum men erringe, ben turned to giderie into veyn speche;
vii willinge for to be techeris of þe lawe, not vndirstondinge, neþir what þingis 'ben spokun, neþer of what þingis þei affermen.
viii Forþof we witen for þe lawe is good, if ony man vse it lawefully;
ix witinge þis þing, þat þe lawe 'is not put to a iust man, but to vniust and not suget, to vnpitouse men and synneris, to curseide men and defoulid, to fleeris of fadir, and fleeris of modir, to 'men fleeris, x and fornycatours, to hem þat trespassen wiþ malis 'aȝens kynde, filleris, 'or steleris, or 'draweris awey, of men, lefyngmongeris and forsworn, and if ony opir þing is contrarie to holsum teching, xi þat is vp þe euangelie of þe glorie of blesſid God, þe which gospel is bitakun to me.
xii I do þankingis to him, þat comfortide me in Crist Jhesu oure Lord, for he geffide me feiþful, 'or trewe, puttinge me in mynisterie, xiii þe which I first was a blasfeme, 'or dispiser of God, and purfuwer, and ful of wrongis. But I haue getun þe mercy of God, for I vnknowyng dide in vnbileue.
xiv Soþli þe grace of oure Lord ouer habounde, wiþ feiþ and loue þat is in Crist Jhesu.
xv A trewe worde and worpi al resceyuyng, for Crist Jhesu caam into þis world for to make synful men saaf, of whiche I am þe firste.
xvi But þerfore I haue getyn mercy, þat Crist Jhesu schulde schewe in me first al pacience, to þe enfoormyng of hem þat 'ben to bileyng to him into euere laſtyng lyf.

xvii Forþof to þe kyng of worldis, vndeedly and inuifyble God aloone, honour and glorie into worldis of worldis. Amen.

- xviii I comende, 'or bitake, þis presept, 'or biddyng, to þee, þou sone Tymothe, vp prophecies bifore goyng in þee, þat þou fiȝte, 'or holde, in hem a good knyȝthood, xix hauyng feiþ and good conscience, þe which 'sum men caſtyng a wey, perischeden a boute þe feiþ.
xx Of which is Emyneus and Alisaundre, whom I bitook to Sathanas, þat þei lerne for 'to not blasphemē.

Capitulum II.

- i Therfore I biseche first of alle þingis, for to be maad bisechingis, preieris, axyngis, doynges of þankygis, for alle men, ii for kyngis and alle þat ben sett in hijnesse, 'or greet stat, þat we lede quyet and pefyble lyf, in al pite and chastite.
iii Forþof þis þing is good and acceptid bifore God, oure fauyour, iv þat wole alle men for to be maad saaf, and for to come to þe knowyng of treuþe.
v Soþli o God and mediatour of God and men, a man 'Jhesus Crist, vi þat ȝaf him silf redempcioun for alle men. Whos witnessinge is confermyd in his tymes; vii in þe which I am putt a prechour and apostle. Soþli I seie treuþe 'in Crist Jhesu, and I lye not, a techer of heþen men in feiþ and in treuþe.
viii þerfore I wole, 'men for to preie in al place, liftinge vp clene hondis wiþ outh wreþþe and disputyng, 'or stryf.
ix Also and wymmen 'in ourned, 'or couenable, abite, wiþ schamfastnesse and sobrenesse ournyng hem silf, not in wriþun heiris, eþir in gold, eþir margaritis, 'þat ben peerlis, eþer precious cloþ;
x but þat þat bicomeþ wymmen, bihetynge pite bi goode werkis.
xi A womman lerne in silence, wiþ al subieccioun.
xii Forþoþe I suffre not a womman for to tech, neþer for to haue lordship into þe man, 'or hosebonde, but for to be in silence.
xiii Forþof Adam was first foormyd, aftirward Eue; xiv and Adam was not disceyued 'in feiþ, forþof þe womman was disceyued 'in feiþ, in preuaricacioun, 'or brekyng of þe lawe.
xv Soþli sche schal be faued by generacioun of sones, if sche 'schal dwelle perfyli in feiþ, and loue, and hoolynesse, wiþ sobrenesse.

Capitulum III.

- i A feiþful word. If ony man defyre a byschopriche, he defyriþ a good werk.

ii Perfore it bihoueþ a byschop for to be irreprehenfyble, 'or wiþoute reproue, and þe hosebonde of oo wyf, sobre, prudent, ounred, chaſt, holdynge hospitalite, techer;
 iii not ȝouun moche to wyn, not smyter, but temperaunt, 'or pacient, not litigious, 'or ful of stryf, or chidynge, not coueitous, iii wel rewlynge his hous, hauyng fones fuget wiþ al
 chaſtite;
 v forſoþ if ony man kan not gourne his hous, how schal he haue diligence of þe chirche of God?
 vi not newe conuertid into feiþ, left he borun vp into pride, falle into þe dom, 'or synne, of þe deuyl.
 vii Forſoþ it bihoueþ hym for to haue good witnesſyng and of hem þat ben wiþoute forþ, þat he falle not into schenschip, 'or reprof, and into þe snare of þe deuyl.
 viii Also 'it byhoueþ dekenes for to be chaſt, not dowble tungid, not ȝouun 'to moche wyn, not fuyng foul wynnnyng;
 ix hauyng þe mysterie of feiþ in clene conscience.
 x And forſoþ be þei proued first, þat þei mynſtre so, hauyng no cryme, 'or greet synne.
 xi Also 'it bihoueþ wymmen for to be chaſt, not bacbitinge, sobre, feiþful in alle þingis.
 xii Dekenes be þei hosebondis of o wyf; þe whiche dekenes gourne wel her fones and her housis.
 xiii Soþli þei þat `schulen mynſtre wel, schulen gete a good degree to hem ſilf, and moche trift in þe feiþ, þat is in Crift Jhesu.
 xiv Sone Tymothe, I write to þee þes þingis, hopinge me for to come loone to þee;
 xv forſoþ if I ſchal tarie, þat þou wite, how it bihoueþ þee for to lyue in þe hous of God, þat is þe chirche of quyk God, a piler and ſadneſſe of treueþ.
 xvi And opynly it is a greet sacrament of pite, þat þat is ſchewid in fleiſch, is iuftified in ſpirit, it apperide to aungels, it is prechid to heþen men, it is byleuyd in þe world, it is takyn vp in glorie.

Capitulum III.

i Forſoþ þe ſpirit feiþ opynli, for in þe laſte tymes ſumme ſchulen departe fro þe feiþ, ȝyuyng tent to ſpiritis of error, and to techingis of deuels; ii in ypocrifye ſpekinge leſyng, and hauyng her conſcience brent,
 iii forbedynge for to wedde, for to abſteyne fro metis, þe whiche God made 'of noȝt for to take wiþ doyngē of þankingis, to feiþful men, and hem þat han knownen be treueþ.
 iii For ech creature of God is good, and no þing is to be caſt awey, þe which is takun wiþ doyngē of þankingis;
 v forſoþ it is halwid by 'þe word of God, and 'by preier.

vi Pou puttinge forþ þese þingis to briþeren, ſchalt be a good mynſtre of Crift Jhesu; þou noriſchid wiþ wordis of feiþ and of good doctryne, þat þou haſt gete 'in fuyngē.
 vii Forſoþe ſchonye þou vncouenable fablis and veyn;
 ſoþli haunte þi ſilf to pite.
 viii Forwhi bodili 'excercitacioun, or traueling, or abſtinence, to litil þing is profytable; forſoþ pite is profytable to alle þingis, hauyng biheſte of lyf þat now is, and to comyngē.
 ix A trewe word, and worþi al accepcioun.
 x Soþli in þis þing we traueilen, and ben curſid, for we hopen in quyk God, þat is fauour of alle men, moſt of feiþful men.
 xi Comaunde þou þis þing, and teche.
 xii No man diſpise þi ȝongþe, but be þou enſaumple of feiþful men in word, in lyuyng, in charite, in feiþ, in chaſtite.
 xiii Pe while I come, taak tent to redinge, to exortacioun, 'or moneſtyng, and tecning.
 xiv Nyle þou diſpise, 'or litil charge, þe grace 'of God þat is in þee, þat is ȝouun to þee by prophecie, wiþ puttyngē to of hondis of prestis, 'or preſthod.
 xv ȝenk þou þes þingis, in þese be þou, þat þi profyting be ſchewid, 'or knowun, to alle men.
 xvi Tak tent to þi ſilf and doctryne; be bify in hem. Soþli þou doyngē þes þingis, ſchalt make 'þi ſilf saf, and hem þat heeren þee.

Capitulum V.

i Blame þou not an elder man, but bifech as a fadir, ȝonge men, as briþeren;
 ii olde wymmen, as modris, ȝonge wymmen, as ſiſtris,
 in al chaſtite.
 iii Honoure þou widewis, þat ben verrey widewis.
 iii Forſoþ if ony widew haþ fone, or children of fones, lerne ſche firſt for to gourne hir hous, and 'chaungable while, or ech to oþir, zelde to fadir and modir; ſoþli þis þing is acceptid before God. v Forſoþ ſhe þat is a widowe verily, and defolat, 'or diſcomfortid, hope into God, and wake, 'or be byſi, in bifechingis and preieris nyȝt and day.
 vi Forwhi ſche þat is lyuyng in delycis, is deed.
 vii And þis þing comaunde þou, þat þei be wiþoute reprof.
 viii Forſoþ if ony man haue not cure of his owne, and moſt of his houſhold men, he haþ denyed þe feiþ, and is worse þan an vnfeiþful, 'or heþen, man.
 ix A widewe be 'not chofun leſſe þan ſixty zeer, þat was wyf of oon hosebonde, x hauyng witneſſinge in goode workis, if ſhe noriſche fones, if ſhe refleyue pore men to herbore, if ſhe haþ waſchyn þe feet of hooly men, if ſhe vndirmyniſtride to men ſuffringe tribulacioun, if ſhe folowide al good work.

xi Forsoþ eschewe ȝongere widewis; forsoþe whanne þei han don lecherie in Crist, þei wolen be weddid, xii hauyng dampnacioun, for þei han maad þe firste feiþ voide.
 xiii Also forsoþe and þei ydel lernen for to enuyrownne houfis, not oonly forsoþ ydel, but and ful of wordis and curiouſe, spekinge what þing 'it bihoueþ not.
 xiv ȿerfore I wole, ȝongere for to be weddid, for to bryng forþ sones, for to be hofewyues, for to ȝyue noon occasioun to þe aduersarie, bicause of cursid þing.
 xv Now forsoþ summe ben turned abac aftir Sathanas.
 xvi If ony feiþful man haþ widewis, vndirmynistre he to hem, þat þe chirche be not greuyd, þat it suffice to hem þat ben verri widewis.
 xvii ȿe preftis þat ben wel before, 'þat is, treuly kepen presthod, be þei hadd worþi double honour; moost þei þat trauelen in word and teching.
 xviii Soþli þe scripture feiþ, þou schalt not bridele þe mouþ to þe oxe þreischinge, and, A werkman is worþi his hyre.
 xix Nyle þou resceyue accusyng aȝens a preft, no but vndir tweye or þre witnesseis.
 xx Forsoþe 'repreue þou men synnyng before alle men, þat and opere haue dredre.
 xxi I preie, or coniure, þee before God, and 'Crist Jhesu, and his chosne angels, þat þou kepe þes þingis, and wiþouten before dom 'doyng noþing, bowyng into anoþer part.
 xxii 'To no man soone þou schalt putte hondis, neþer
 'þou schalt comune wiþ opere mennis synnes. Kepe þi filf chaſt.
 xxiii Nyle þou ȝit drynke watir, but use a litil wyn for þi stomak, and þin ofte falling infirmytees. xxiv 'Sum mennis synnes ben opyn, 'before goyng to dom; forsoþ of 'sum men and þei fuen.
 xxv Also and goode dedis ben opyn, and þo þat han hem oþirwyse, mown not be hid.

Capitulum VI.

i Who euere 'feruauntis ben vndir ȝok, deme þei her lordis worþi al honour, leſt þe name of 'þe Lord and doctryn be blasphemyd.
 ii Forsoþ þei þat han feiþful, 'or criftene, lordis, dispise not, for þei ben briþeren; but more serue þei, for þei ben feiþful and loued, þe whiche ben parceners of benefice, 'or good doyng. 'Þese þingis teche þou, and 'þese þingis monente þou.
 iii If ony man techiþ oþirwyse, and acordiþ not to þe hoole, 'or holſum, wordis of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, and to þat teching þat is vp pite, iv is proud, 'no þing kunnynge, but langwischinge aboute questiouns and fiȝtingis of wordis, of þe whiche ben brouȝt forþ enuyes, stryues, blasphemyes, yuele suspiciouns,

v fiȝtingis of men corrupt in soule, 'or resoun, and þat ben priued fro treuþe, demyngwynnyng for to be pite.
 vi Forsoþ a greet wynnynge is pite, wiþ sufficience.
 vii Forsoþ we brouȝten no þing in to þis world, no dowte, for we mown not bere awei ony þing.
 viii Forsoþe hauyng foodis, and wiþ what þingis we schulen be cloþid, 'wiþ þese þingis be we payed.
 ix Forwhi þei þat wolen be maad riche, fallen into temptacioun, and into snare of þe deuel, and manye vnprofitable defyris and noyows, þe whiche drenchen men into þe deeþ and perdicoun.
 x Soþly þe roote of alle yuels is couetyse, þe which 'sum men couetynge, 'or defyringe, erreden fro þe feiþ, and bisettiden hem wiþ many sorwis.
 xi Forsoþ þou, man of God, fle þes þingis; soþli sue þou riȝtwynesse, pite, feiþ, charite, pacience, myldenesse.
 xii Stryue þou a good strif of feiþ, catche euerlaſting lyf, into which þou art clepid, and haſt knowleched a good knowleching before many witnesſes.
 xiii I comaunde to þee before God, þat quykeneþ alle þingis, and Crist Jhesu, þat ȝelde a witnesſing vndir Pilat of Pounce, a good confessioun, xiv þat þou kepe þe comaundement wiþouten wem, irreprehensible, til into þe comyng of oure Lord Jhesu
 Crist;
 xv whom þe bleſſid and aloone myȝty kyng of kingis, and Lord of lordis, schal schewe in his tymes.
 xvi ȿe which aloone haþ immortalite, and dwelliþ in liȝt, to which no man may come; whom noon of men fyȝ, but neþer may le; to whom glorie, and honour, and empire into wiþouten ende. Amen.
 xvii Comaunde þou to 'riche men of þis world, for 'to not fauere, 'or vndirstonde, hiȝly, neþir for to hope in vncerteynte of richesseis, but in quyk God, þat ȝyueþ to vs alle þingis plenteuously for to vſe; xviii for to do wel, for to be maad riche in goode werkis, liȝtli for to ȝyue, for to comune, xix for to tresoure to hem filf a good foundement into tyme to comyng, þat þei catche euerlaſting lyf.
 xx þou Tymothe, kepe þe depoost, or þing bitakun to þee, elchewinge curſide noueltees of voyces, and opynynous of fals name of kunnynge; xxi ȿe which 'sum men bihetyng, falliden doun aboue þe feiþ. ȿe grace of God wiþ þee. Amen.
Here endiþ þe firſte piftle to Tymothe, and bigynneþ þe prolog to þe ſecunde piftle.

II. TIMOTHE.

Prolog to þe ſecunde piftle to Tymothe.

Also he wrytiþ to Tymothe of þe exortacioun of martirdom, and of al þe reule of treuþe; and what beþ to comyng in þe laſte tymes, and of his owne paſſioun; writinge to him fro Rome cite.

Here endip þe prolog, and bigynneþ þe pistle.

Capitulum I.

i Poul, apostle of Jhesu Crist, bi þe wille of God, vp þe biheeste of lyf þat is in Crist Jhesu, ii to Tymothe, his mooste dereworpe sone, grace, mercy, and pees of God oure fadir, and Jhesu Crist, oure Lord.
iii I do þankyngis to my God, to whom I serue fro my progenitours in clene conscience, for wiþouten ceessyng I haue mynde of þee in my preieris, nyȝt and day, iv desyrringe for to se þee; I myndeful of þi teeris, þat is in wiþ ioye fulfillid;
v takinge recordinge, 'or mynde, of þat feiþ, þat is in þee not feyned, þe whiche and dwellide first in þin auntे Loyde, and in þi modir Ennyce. Soþli I am certeyn, þat and in þee.
vi For which cause I moneste, þat þou reyse aȝen þe grace of God, þat is in þee bi þe 'on puttinge of myne hondis.
vii Soþli God ȝaf not to vs þe spirit of drede, but of vertu, and of loue, and sobrenesse.
viii 'And so nyle þou schame þe witnesssing of oure Lord Jhesu, neþer me, þe boundyn of him; but trauele 'wiþ me in þe gospel vp þe vertu of God;
ix þat delyuerede vs, and clepide wiþ his hooli clepyng, not aftir oure workis, but vp his purpos and grace, þat is ȝouyn 'to vs in Crist Jhesu bifore worldli tymes;
x now forsoþ it is opyn bi þe liȝtnyng of oure fauyour Jhesu Crist, þe which soþli distruyede deeþ, forsoþe liȝtnede lyf and vncorupcioun bi þe 'gospel.
xi In þe which I am sett a prechour and apostle, and maistir of heþen men.
xii For which caufe also I suffre þes þingis; but I am not confoundid. Forsoþ I woot to whom I haue bileuyd, and I am certeyn for he is myȝti for to kepe my depoost, 'or þing putt in keping, into þat day.
xiii 'Haue þou þe foorme of hool wordis, þe whiche þou herdyst of me in feiþ and loue in Crist Jhesu.
xiv Kepe þou a good depoost, 'or a þing takyn to þi keping, bi þe Hooly Goſt, þat dwellip in vs.
xv Soþli þou woost, þat alle þat ben in Afye ben turned fro me, of whiche is Figelus and Ermogenes.
xvi Þe Lord ȝyue mercy to þe hous of Onozepherus, for ofte he refreischide me, and schamye not my chayne.
xvii But whanne he cam to Rome, he souȝte me bifyli, and fond.
xviii Þe Lord ȝyue to him for to fynde mercy of God in þat day. And how grete þingis he mynistrde to me at Ephecy, þou 'hast betere knowe.

Capitulum II.

i Therfore þou, my sone, be comfortid in grace þat is in Crist Jhesu.

ii And what þingis þou haft herd of me by many witnesſis, bitake þou þese to feiþful men, þe whiche schulen be able and for to teche oþere men.
iii Trauele þou as a good knyȝt of 'Crist Jhesu.
iv No man holdinge knyȝthod to God, inwlappiþ him wiþ worldli nedis, þat he plese to him, to whom he haþ prouyd him wiþ.
v Forwhi and he þat stryueþ, 'or fiȝtip, in batel, schal not be crowned, 'no but he schal fiȝt lawfully.
vi It bihoueþ an erþe tilier for to rescyeue first of þe fruytis.
vii Vndirstond þou what þingis I seie. Soþli þe Lord schal ȝyue to þee in alle þingis vndirstondyng.
viii Be þou myndeful þe Lord Jhesu Crist 'for to haue risyn aȝen fro deede men, 'of þe seed of Dauid, vp my gospel, ix in which I trauele 'til to boondis, as yuel worchinge, but þe word of God is not boundyn.
x Perfore I sussteyne alle þingis for þe chosene, þat and þei gete þe heelþe, þat is in Crist Jhesu, wiþ heuenly glorie.
xi A trewe word, forwhi if we ben to gidere deede, and we schulen lyue to gidere;
xii if we schulen sussteyne, and we schulen regne to gidere; if we schulen denye, and he schal denye vs;
xiii if we bileuen not, he dwellip feiþful, he may not denye him wiþ.
xiv Forsoþ þes þingis 'I moneste, witnesssinge bifore God. Nyle þou stryue in wordis; forsoþ to no þing it is profitable, no but to þe subuertynge of men heeringe.
xv Forloþe bifyli cure, 'or kepe, for to ȝyue 'pi self prouable, 'or able, werk man to God, vnschamyd, 'or worpi not for to be schamed, riȝtli tretinge þe word of treuþe.
xvi Forsoþ schonye þou vnhooli and veyn spechis, soþli þei profiten moche to vnpite, xvii and þe word of hem crepiþ as a kankir. Of 'þe which Philetis is, and Imeneus, xviii þe whiche felden doun fro þe treuþe, seyinge 'risyng aȝen now don, and subuertiden þe feiþ of sum men.
xix But þe sad foundement of God stondip, hauyng þis litil marke, Þe Lord 'haþ knowyn whiche ben hise, and, Ech man þat nameþ þe name of þe Lord, departip fro wickidnesse.
xx Forsoþ in þe greet hows ben not oonli 'goldyn vessels and silueren, but and treene and brutil, 'or erþeli; and soþli summe 'in to honour, summe forsoþ into dispit.
xi Perfore if ony man 'schal clense him wiþ fro þese, he schal be a vessel halwid into honour, and profitable to þe Lord, redy to al good work.
xxii Forloþe fle þou þe defyris of ȝouþe; soþli sue þou riȝtwisnesse, feiþ, charite, pees, wiþ hem þat inclepen þe Lord of a clene herte.

xxiii Forsoþ schonye þou foltische questiouns, and wiþoute disciplyne, witynge for þei gendren chidingis.
 xxvii Forsoþ it bihouȝ þe feruaunt of 'þe Lord for to not chyde; but for to be mylde to alle men, able for to teche, pacient,
 xxv wiþ temperaunce reprouyng hem þat aȝenstonden þe treuþe, þat sum tyme God ȝyue hem penaunce for to knowe þe treuþe, xxvi and þei ryse aȝen fro fnaris of þe deuyl, of whom þei ben holdyn caytif at his wille.

Capitulum III.

i Forsoþe wite þou þis þing, þat in þe laste dayes perelouse tymes schulen 'stonde nyȝ, ii and men schulen be louyng hem silf, couetous, hiȝ of beringe, proude, blasfemes, not obedient to fadir and modir, vnkynde, curſid, iii wiþoute affeccioun, 'or good wille, wiþoute pees, fals blameris, vncouenant, vnmyle, wiþoute benygnyte,
 iv traitours, proterue, 'or ouerþwert, bollun 'wiþ proude þouȝtis, loueris of lustis more þan of God, v hauyng soþli þe spice, 'or liceneſſe, of pite, forsoþe denyinge þe vertu of it. And eschewe þou þese.
 vi Of þese 'soþli þei ben þat peerſen houſis, and leeden litle wymmen caytifs chargid wiþ synnes, þe whiche ben ledd wiþ diuerſe defyris, vii euermore lernynge, and neuere perfitly comyng to science of treuþe.
 viii Forsoþ as Jannes and Mambre aȝen stooden Moyses, fo and þese 'aȝen stonden treupe, men corrupt in soule,
 'or vndirstondynge, reprooud aboute þe feiþ.
 ix But ferþer þei schulen not profyte, soþli þe vnewysdom of hem schal be knownen to alle men, as and hern was.
 x Forsoþ þou haſt getyn my teching, 'and ordynaunce, purposyng, feiþ, longe abidyng, loue, pacience, xi persecucioun, passioune, what maner ben maad to me at Antyoche, at Iconye, at Listris, what maner persecucioun I suffrider, and þe Lord haþ delyuered me 'of alle.
 xii And alle men þat wolen lyue piteously in Crist Jhesu, schulen suffre persecucioun.
 xiii Forsoþ yuel men and disceyueris schulen profyte into worse, errynge, and sendyng into errour.
 xiv But dwelle þou in þese þingis þat þou haſt lerid, and ben bitakun to þee, witynge of whom þou haſt lerid; xv and for þou haſt knowun hooly lettris fro þi ȝongþe,
 'or childhod, þe whiche mouwn lerne þee to heellþ, by feiþ þat is in Crist Jhesu.
 xvi Forsoþ al 'scripture of God ynspyrid is profitable to teche, to arguwe, 'or proue, to reproue, for to lerne in riȝtwyfnessse, xvii þat þe man of God be perfyt, lerid 'to al good werk.

Capitulum III.

i I witnesse, 'or preie, or coniure, before God and Crist Jhesu, þat 'is to demyng þe quyk and deed, by þe comyng of hym, and þe kyngdom of him, ii preche þe word, be þou bify 'couenably wiþ oute reste, arguwe, 'or proue, bifeche, blame in al pacience and doctryne.
 iii Forsoþ tyme schal be, whanne men schulen not susþeyne, 'or suffre, 'hool, or holsum, teching, but at her defyris þei schulen gadere to gidere maiſtris zitchinge, 'or plesyng, to þe eeris.
 iv And treuly þei schulen turne awey þe heeringe fro treuþe, but to fablis þei schulen turne to gidere.
 v Forsoþe wake þou, in alle þingis trauele þou, do þe work of euangelist, fulfille þi feruyse, 'or office, be þou sobre.
 vi Forsoþ I am sacrificyd now, and þe tyme of my 'resolucioun, or deeþ, is nyȝ.
 vii I haue stryyn a good stryf, I haue endid þe cours, I haue kept þe feiþ.
 viii In þe toþir tyme a crowne of riȝtwyfnessse is kept to me, þe which þe Lord 'schal ȝelde to me in þat day, iust domesman; forsoþ not oonly to me, but 'and to þese þat louen his comyng.
 ix Hiȝe for to come to me foone.
 x Forsoþ Demas 'haþ forfakyn me, louyng þis world, and wente to Tefſalonyk, Cressens into Galathie, Tyte into Dalmatichy;
 xi Luk aloone is wiþ me. Taak Mark, and lede to wiþ þee; forsoþ he is profitable to me into feruyse.
 xii Titicus soþeli I sente to Ephesi.
 xiii Penulam, 'þat is, cloþ of Romayns, 'or book, which I lefte at Troade at Carpe, þou comyng bryng wiþ þee, and þe bookis, mooſt forsoþe parchemynus.
 xiv Alisaundre, þe tresorer, schewide to me manye 'yuele þingis; þe Lord schal ȝelde to hym vp his workis.
 xv Whom and þou eschewe; 'ful greetli forsoþ he aȝenstood my wordis.
 xvi In my firſte defence no man 'was to me, but alle forsaken me; be it not rettid to hem.
 xvii Forsoþ þe Lord 'stood nyȝ to me, and comfortide me, þat þe preching be fulfillid by me, and þat alle folkis heere, and I am delyuered fro mouȝ of þe lyoun.
 xviii Forsoþ þe Lord delyuerede me fro al yuel werk, and schal make saaf into his heuenli kingdom, to whom glorie into worldis of worldis. Amen.
 xix Greete wel Prisca, and Aquyla, and þe hows of Onosephorus.
 xx Forsoþ Eraftus dwelte, 'or lefte, at Corynþi. Forsoþ I lefte Trophymus syk at Mylete. xxi Soþli hiȝe þou for to come bifore wynter. Embolus, and Prudent, and Lynus, and Claudia, and alle briþeren, greeten þee wel.

xxii Oure Lord Jhesu Crist wiþ þi spirit. Pe grace of God wiþ ȝou. Amen.

Here endip þe secunde pifte to Tymothe, and bigynneþ þe prolog to Tyte.

TYTE.

Prolog to þe epifte to Tyte.

Tyte he councelip, and enformeþ of þe ordynacioun 'of prest and of spiritual conuerfacioun, and of heretikis 'to be auoydid, þe whiche bileuen in Jewis wrytinge; he writip fro Nicopolis.

Here endip þe prolog, and bigynneþ þe epifte to Tyte.

Capitulum I.

i Poul, þe feruaunt of God, apostle of Jhesu Crist, vp þe feip of þe chofene of God, and knowyng of þe treuþe, þe which is vp pite, ii in hope of euere lastyng lyf, þat God bihiȝte, þat lyeþ not, bifore 'worldly tymes;
iii forsoþ he schewide in his tymes his word, 'or fone, in preaching, þat is bitakyn to me vp þe comaundement of oure sauour God, iv to Tyte, biloued fone vp þe comun feip, grace and pees of God þe fadir, and of Crist Jhesu, oure sauour.
v For grace, 'or cause, of þis þing I lefte þee at Crete, þat þou amende þo þingis þat faylen, and ordeyne 'by cytees prestis, as and I dispoide to þee.
vi If ony man is wiþouten cryme, 'or greet synne, houſbonde of o wyf, hauynge feipful fones, not in accusacioun of leccherie, or not fuget.
vii Forsoþ it bihoueþ a bishop for to be wiþoute crime, as dispendour of God, not proud, not wraþful, not 'vynolent, þat is, 'moche ȝouun to wyn, not smytere, not coueitous of foul wynnynge;
viii but holdinge hospitalite, benyngne, prudent, sobre, iust, hooly, contynent, ix biclippynghat 'trewe word, 'hat is vp doctryn; þat he be myȝti for to amoneste in hoolsum teching, and to reproue hem þat 'aȝen seyn.
x Forsoþ þer ben manye vnobedient, and veyn spekeris, and disceyuers, moost þei þat ben of circumcisioun, xi whom it bihoueþ for to be reprouyd; þe whiche subuerten alle housis, teching whiche þingis it bihoueþ not, for grace, 'or loue, of foul wynnynng.
xii Summe oon of hem, 'þe propre prophete of hem, feide, Men of Crete euermore lyeris, yuel beetis, 'flow of wombe.
xiii þis witnesſing is trewe. For what cause blame hem fore, þat þei be hool in feip, xiv not ȝyuynge tent to fablis of Jewis, and to maundementis of men, turnynge 'hem awey fro treuþe.

xv Sobeli alle þingis ben clene to clene men; forsoþ to vnclene men and vnfeipful no þing is clene, but and þe soule, 'or resoun, and conscience 'of hem ben maad vnclene.

xvi Pei knowlechen hem for 'to haue knowe God, forsoþ by dedis þei denyen; whanne þei ben abomynable, and vnbyleful, and reprouable to al good werk.

Capitulum II.

i Forsoþ speke þou þe þingis þat bicomen hoolsum teching;
ii þat olde men be sobre, chaſt, prudent, hool in feip, in loue, and pacience;
iii also olde wymmen in hooly habite, not bacbiteris, 'or seyinge fals blame on opere men, not feruyng moche to wyn, wel techinge, iv þat þei teche prudence; ȝonge wymmen, þat þei loue her housebondis, þat þei loue fones;
v þei prudent, chaſt, sobre, hauynge cure of 'þe hous, benyngne, fuget to her housebondis, þat þe word of God be not blasphemyd.
vi Also moneſte ȝonge men, þat þei be sobre.
vii In alle þingis ȝyue þi filf enſaumple of good werkis, in teching, in hoolnessse, 'wiþoute ſclaundre, in fadnessse.
viii An hool word, vnreprovable; þat he þat is on 'þat obir fyde, be aschamed, 'or aferd, hauynge noon yuel þing for to feye of ȝou.
ix Seruauntis, for to be fuget to her lordis; in alle þingis plesinge, not aȝen feyngne, x not defraudinge, but in alle þingis ſchewyngne good feip, þat þei ourne in alle þingis þe doctryn of 'oure sauour God.
xi Forsoþ þe grace of God, oure sauour, haþ apperid to alle men, xii techinge, 'or lernynge, vs, þat we, forsakynge vnpite, and worldly defyris, lyue ſobrelī, and iuftli, and piteoufly, in þis world, xiii abidinge þe bleſſide hope and þe comynge of þe glorie of greet God, and oure sauour Jhesu Crist;
xiv þat ȝaf hym ſilf for vs, þat he ſchulde aȝen bye vs fro al wickidnessse, and 'made clene a peple acceptable 'to him ſilf, fuere of good werkis.
xv Speke þou þese þingis, and moneſte, and arguwe, 'or proue, or reproue, wiþ al comaundement, 'or hardynesse; no man diſpise þee.

Capitulum III.

i Amoneste, 'or comaunde, hem, for to be ſugettis to princes, and poweris; for to obeische to feyngne, for to be redy to al good werk;
ii for to blaſfeme no man, for to be not litygious, 'or ful of chiding, but temperaunt, 'or pacient, ſchewinge al myldenesse to alle men.

iii Forsoþ and we weren sum tyme vnwyse, vnbileueful, erringe, and feruynge to defyris, and dyuerse voluptees, in malice and enuye doyng, hateful, 'or worþi for to be hatid, hatynge to gidere.
 iii Forsoþ whanne þe benygnyte, and humanite, 'or manhed, of 'oure sauour God apperide, v not of workis of riȝtwynesse þat we diden, but vp his mercy he made vs saaf, by waifchynge, 'or baptym, of aȝen bigetyng, and aȝen newyng of þe Hooly Gost, vi whom he schedde out in to vs plenteuously by Jhesu Crist, oure sauour, vii þat we iustifyed bi his grace, be eyris vp hope of euerlaftyng lyf.
 viii A trewe word is, and of þes þingis I wole þee for to conferme oþere men, þat þei þat bileuen to God, curen, 'or do bisynesse, for to be bifore in goode werkis. Þes þingis ben goode and profitable to men.
 ix Forsoþ eschewe þou foltische questiouns, and genealogies, and stryues, and frȝtingis of þe lawe; forsoþ þei ben vnonprofitable and veyn. x Schonye þou a man heretyk, aftir oon and þe secunde coreccioun, 'or correccioun, or reprouyng; xi witinge for he þat is such maner man is subuertid, and trespassiþ, dampned bi his owne dom.
 xii Sopli whanne I schal fende to þee Arteman, or Tytik, hyȝe, 'or haste, þou for to come to me to Nicopolis; forsoþ I haue purposid for to dwelle in winter þer.
 xiii Bisilys 'fende bifore Zenam, a wyse man of lawe, and Apollo, þat no þing fayle to hem.
 xiv Forsoþe and oure men lerne for to be bifore in good werkis, to necessarie vses, þat þei be not vnfryntoufe.
 xv Alle men þat ben wiþ me greeten þee wel. Greete þou wel hem, þat louen vs in feiþ. Pe grace of God wiþ ȝou alle. Amen.

Here endiþ þe epistle to Tyte, and bygynneþ þe prolog to Filomon.

FILOMON.

Prolog to þe pistle to Filomon.

To Filomon he makid homly lettris for Honesyme his seruaunt; he writiþ ȝopli to him fro Rome cite.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and bigynneþ þe epistle to Filomon.

i Poul, þe boundun of 'Crist Jhesu, and Tymothe, broþir, to Filomon, bilouyd, and oure helper, ii and to Apya, moost dere fistir, and to Archip, oure euene knyȝt, and to þe chirch þat is in þin hous, iii grace to ȝou, and pees of God oure fadir, and of þe Lord Jhesu Crist.
 iv I do banyngis to my God, euer more makynge mynde of þee in my preieris,

v heeringe þi charite and feiþ, þat þou haft in þe Lord Jhesu, and in to alle hooly men, vi þat þe comunyng of þi feiþ be maad opyn, in knowynge of al good þing in Crist Jhesu.
 vii Forsoþ I hadde greet ioye and comfort in þi charite, for þe entraylis of hooly men restiden by þee, broþir.
 viii For which þing I hauynge moche trust in Crist Jhesu, for to comaunde to þee þat þat perteyneþ to þing, 'or profiteþ;
 ix for charite I beseche more, siþen þou art such as
 'Poul old, now forsoþ and þe boundyn of Jhesu Crist.
 x I biseche þee for my sone Onesyme, whom I in bondis bigat,
 xi þe which sum tyme was 'to þee vnonprofitable, forsoþe now profitable and to 'þee and to me; xii whom I sente aȝen to þee. Forsoþ refcseyue þou him as myn entraylis;
 xiii whom I wolde wiþholde wiþ me, þat he schulde serue for þee to me in bondis of þe gospel; xiv forsoþ wiþoute þi council I wolde not do, þat þi good schulde not be as of nede, but willeful.
 xv 'Forsoþ perauenture þefore he departide fro þee at oon our, þat þou schuldist refcseyue hym into wiþouten
 ende;
 xvi now not as a seruaunt, but for 'a seruaunt a moost dere broþer, moost to me; forsoþ how moche more to þee, and in fleisch and in þe Lord?
 xvii Perfore if þou haft me a felowe, refcseyue him as
 me;
 xviii forsoþ if he haþ ony þing anoyed þee, 'or owiþ, rette þou þis þing to me.
 xix I Poul wroot wiþ myn hond, I schal ȝelde; þat I seye not to þee, þat and þou owist to me þi filf.
 xx So, broþer, I schal vse þee in þe Lord; fulfillie myn entraylis in Crist.
 xxi I tristynge of þin obedyence wroot to þee, witynge for þou schalt do and ouer þat þat I seye.
 xxii Alfo forsoþ and make redy to me an ooste, or hous for to dwelle inne; forwhi I hope by ȝoure preieris me for to be ȝouun to ȝou.
 xxiii Epefras, myn euene caytif, or prisoner 'to gidere,
 'in Crist Jhesu, greetiþ þee wel, xxiv and Mark, Aristark, Demas, Lucas, myn helpers.
 xxv Pe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crist wiþ ȝoure spirit.
 Amen.

Here endiþ þe epistle to Filomon, and bigynneþ þe prolog to þe pistle to Ebrews.

EBREWS.

Prolog to þe pistle to Ebrews.

In þe firste it is to seie, whi þe apostle Poul in þis pistle
 'in wrytyng ne kepte not his maner, or his custom, þat he wroot oþir þe word of his name, oþir þe dignyte of ordre. Ȣis is þe caufe, þat he wrytinge to hem þat of circumcisioun hadde bileuyd, was as an apostle of paymes, and not of Ebrewis; knowynge also her pride, schewyng also his mekenesse by feiþ, þe merit of his office he wolde not seie bifore. For in lyche maner John apostle, for mekenesse, in his pistle his name by þe same resoun putte not bifore. Pis pistle þerfore þe apostle is seid to haue sent to Ebrews ywrite in Ebrew tunge; whos witt and ordre holdynge, Luk, þe euangelist, afir þe passinge of bleffid Poul, þe apostle, made in Grew langage.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and bigynneþ þe epistle.

Capitulum I.

i Manyfold and many maners sum tyme God spekinge to fadris in prophetis, ii at þe lafte in þes daies spak to vs in þe sone; whom he ordeynede eyr of alle þingis, by whom he made and þe worldis.
iii þe which whanne he is þe schynynge of glorie, and figure of his substaunce, and berynge alle þingis bi word of his vertu, makyng purgacioun of synnes, fittiþ on þe riȝthalf of mageste in hiȝ þingis;
iv so moche maad betere þan aungelis, by how moche he haþ inherited a more different, 'or excellent, name bifore hem.
v Forsoþ to which of þe aungels seide God ony tyme, Pou art my sone, I haue 'gendrid þee to day? And eftsoone, I schal be to him into fadir, and he schal be to me into sone?
vi And whanne eftsoone he brynged yn þe firste bigetyn into þe roundnesse of þe erþe, he seiþ, And alle þe aungels of God worshipe þei hym.
vii And soþli 'to aungels he seiþ, Þe which makid his aungels spiritis, and his mynystris flawme of fyre.
viii Forsoþ to þe sone, God, þi trone into þe world of world; a ȝerd of equyte þe ȝerd of þi rewme;
ix þou haft louyd riȝtwynesse, and hatedist wickidnesse; þerfore God, þi God, annoyntide þee wiþ oyle of gladnesse, 'or ioye, bifore þi felowis.
x And, Pou, Lord, in þe bigynnyng foundedist þe erþe, and heuenes ben werkis of þin hondis; xi þei schulen perische, forsoþ þou schalt perfity dwelle; and alle schulen wexe olde as a cloþ, xii and þou schalt chaunge hem as 'an amyte, 'or girdyng aboute, and þei schulen be chaungid. Forsoþ þou ert þe same þi silf, and þi ȝeiris schulen not faylen.
xiii Forsoþ to which of þe aungels seide God ony tyme, Sitte þou on my riȝthalf, til I schal putte þin enemyes a stool of þi feet?
xiv Wher þei 'alle ben not seruyng spiritis, sent into mynsterie for hem þat taken þe heritage of heelþe?

Capitulum II.

i Therfore 'more plenteoufly it bihoueþ vs for to kepe þo þingis, þat we han herd, left perauenture we fleten awey.
ii Forsoþ if 'þe ilke word þat is seyd by aungels is maad sad, and ech trespassyng, 'or breking of þe lawe, and vnobedience took iust retricioun of mede, iii how schulen we ascape, if we schulen despise so greet heelþe? Þe which, whanne it hadde takun bigynnyng for to be told out by þe Lord, of hem þat herden is confermyd into vs;
iv God 'to gidere witnesfyng by sygnes, wondris, and greete merueylis, and dyuerse vertues, and distribuciouns of þe Hooly Gost, vp his wille.
v Forsoþ not to aungelis God sugetide þe roundnesse of erþe to comynge, of which we speken.
vi Soþli sum man witnesfide in sum place, seyng, What þing is man, þat þou art myndful of him, or mannis sone, for þou visitidest him?
vii Pou 'haft maad him litil, a litil leſſe fro aungelis; þou haft crowned him wiþ glorie and onoure; þou haft ordeyned him vpon werkis of þin hondis.
viii Pou haft maad alle þingis suget vndir his feet. Forsoþ in þat þing þat he sugetide alle þingis to him, he leſte no þing vnsuget to him. Forsoþ now we seen not ȝit alle þingis suget to him;
ix forsoþ we seen hym, þat a litil is maad leſſe þan aungelis, Jhesu, for passioun of deeþ crowned wiþ glorie and honour, þat he þorw grace of God schulde taaste deeþ for alle men.
x Forsoþ it bicaam him, for whom alle þingis, and by whom alle þingis, þe which hadde 'led to gidere manye sones into glorie, 'þe maker of þe 'heelþe of hem, for to ende by passiounis.
xi Soþely he þat halowid, and þei þat ben halowid, of oon alle; for which cause he is not confoundid, 'or schamed, for to clepe hem briþeren, xii seyng, I schal telle þi name to my briþeren; in þe myddil of þe chirche I schal herie þee.
xiii And eftsoone, I schal be triflyng into him; and eftsoone, Lo! I and my children, þe whiche God ȝaf to me.
xiv Perfore for children comuneden to fleisch and blood, and he 'also took part of þe same, þat by deeþ he schulde distroye hym þat hadde lordship of deeþ, þat is to seie, þe deuel, xv and schulde delyuere hem þat by drede of deeþ, by al lyf weren boundun to seruage.
xvi Forsoþ he cauȝte, 'or took to, neuere aungels, but he cauȝte þe seed of Abraham.
xvii Wherfore he ouȝte to be licned to briþeren by alle þingis, þat he schulde be maad mercyful and feiþful byschop to God, þat he schulde be mercyful to þe trespassis, 'or giltis, of þe peple.
xviii Forsoþ he in þat þing in which he suffride, and was temptid, he is myȝty for to helpe and hem þat ben temptid.

Capitulum III.

- i Wherfore, hooly briberen, parcers of heuenly cleping, biholde ȝe þe apostle and bischop of oure confessioun, Jhesu, ii þe which is trewe to him þat made hym, as and Moyses in al þe hous of hym.
iii Forþoþ þis bischop is had worþi of more glorie byfore Moyses, by how moche 'ban þe hous, haþ he more honour, þat made it.
iv Forwhi ech hous is maad of sum man; forþoþ he þat made alle þingis of noȝt, is God.
v And soþli Moyses was trewe in al his hows, as a feruaunt, into witnessyng of þo þingis þat weren to be feid;
vi forþoþ Crist as a sone in his hous. Þe which hous we ben, if we holden trist and glorie of hope 'til to 'sad feip.
vii Wherfore as þe Hooly Gost seiþ, To day, if ȝe han herd his vois, viii nyle ȝe hardne ȝoure hertis, as in wrappung, vp þe day of temptacioun in desert;
ix where ȝoure fadris temptiden me, prouedyn, and fyen my werkis.
x Wherfore fourty ȝeiris I was offendid, 'or wroþ, to þis generacioun, and I seide, Euermore þei erren in herte, forþoþ þei knewen not my weyes; xi to whom I swoor in my wrappþe, if þei schulen entre into my reste.
xii Briþeren, se ȝe, leſt perauenture in ony of ȝou be an yuel herte of vnbileue, for to departe fro quyk God.
xiii But moneſte ȝou ſilf by alle dayes, þe while to day is named, þat noon of ȝou be hardned by falſneſſe of synne.
xiv Soþli we ben maad parcers of Crist, if neþeles we holden þe bigynnyng of his ſubstaunce ſad into þe ende.
xv While it is feid, to day, if ȝe han herd þe vois of him, nyle ȝe hardne ȝoure hertis, as in þat wrappþing. xvi Soþli ſumme heeringe wrappidien, but not alle þei þat wenten out of Egipt by Moyſes.
xvii To whiche forþoþ was he wrappid fourty ȝeiris? Wher not to hem þat synneden, whos careyns ben caſt doun in desert?
xviii To whiche he swoor soþli, for to not entre into 'þe rest of hym, no but to hem þat were vnbileueful?
xix And we ſeen, for þei myȝten not entre into 'þe rest of him for vnbileue.

Capitulum III.

- i 'Perfore drede we, briþeren, leſt perauenture þe biheeste of entrynge into 'his reste left, 'or forſakyn, 'onys of vs be geſſid, 'or demed, for 'to be aweye.
ii Forþoþ it is told to vs, as and to hem. And þe word herd profitide not to hem, not meynt to feiþ of þeſe þingis þat þei herden.

iii Forþoþ we þat han byleuyd ſchulen entre into rest, as he feyde, As I swoor in my wrappþe, if þei ſchulen entre into my reste. And ſoþli þe werkis maad parfyd fro þe ordynaunce of þe world, iv forþoþ he feide þus in ſum place of þe ſeueneþ day, And God restide in þe ſeueneþ day from alle his werkis.

v And in þis eftſoone, If þei ſchulen entre into my reste. vi 'Perfore for it leeueþ, 'or is ouer, ſummen for to entre into it, and þei to whiche þe firſte it is told, entriden not for her vnbileue.

vii Eftſoone he termyneþ ſum day, 'To day, ſeyinge in Dauȝ, aftir ſo moche of tyme; as it is bifore ſeid, To day if ȝe han herd his vois, nyle ȝe hardne ȝoure hertis, 'as in þe ilke wrappþing.

viii Forwhi if Jhesus hadde ȝouyn reste to hem, he ſchulde neuere ſpeke of opere aftir þat day.

ix 'Perfore 'ſaboth halowing is left to þe peple of God.

x Forþoþ he þat entride into his reste, and he restide of his werkis, as and God of hife.

xi 'Perfore haste we for to entre into þat reste, þat no man falle into þe fame enfaumple of vnbileue.

xii Forþoþ þe word of God is quyk, and ſpedy in worching, and more 'able for to perse þan al tweyne eggid ſwerd, and entrynge, 'or ſtrecchinge, 'til to departyng of ſoule, 'or lyf, and ſpirit, and of ioyntouris and merewis, and departer, 'or demer, of þouȝtis and intencious of hertis.

xiii And no creature is inuifyble in þe ſiȝt of God.

Forþoþ alle þingis ben nakid and opyn to his ȝyzen, to whom a word to vs.

xiv 'Perfore we hauyng a greet bischop, þat perſide heuenes, Jhesu, þe ſone of God, holde þe confeffioun, 'or knowleching, of oure feiþ.

xv Forþoþ we han not a byſchop, þat may not ſuffre to gidere, 'or haue compaſſioun, to ȝoure infirmytees, but temptid by alle þingis for lykneſſe, wiþoute synne.

xvi 'Perfore go we wiþ trift to þe trone of his grace, þat we gete mercy, and fynde grace in couenable help.

Capitulum V.

i Forwhi ech byſhōp takyn of men, is ordeyned for men in þeſe þingis þat ben to God, þat he offre ȝyftis and ſacrificis for synnes.

ii 'Þe which may to gidere forwe wiþ hem, þat vnknoƿen and erren; for and he is enuyrowned wiþ infirmyte.

iii And þerfore he owiþ, as and for þe peple, ſo also and for hym ſilf, offre for synnes.

iv Neiþir ony man takiþ to him honour, no but he þat is clepid of God, as Aaron.

v So and Crist clarifieſe not hym ſilf, þat he were biſhōp, but he þat ſpak to him, Pou art my ſone, to day I gendride þee.

vi As and in oþere place he feiþ, Pou art a prest into wiþ outen ende, vp þe ordre of Melchisedech.
 vii þe which in þe dayes of his fleisch offringe preieris and bisechingis to God þat myȝte make him saf fro deeþ, 'wiþ greet cry and teeris, is herd for his reuerence.
 viii And soþli whanne he was Goddis sone, he lernede obedience of þes þingis þat he suffride; ix and he endid is maad cause of euerlaſting heelpe to alle obeishinge to him, x clepid of God a bischop, bisydis þe ordre of Melchisedech.
 xi Of whom to vs a greet word, and able for to be interpretid, for to seye, for ȝe ben maad feble for to heere.
 xii Forsoþe whanne ȝe schulen be maistris for tyme, eftsoone ȝe neden þat ȝe be tauȝt, whiche ben þe elementis, 'or lettis, of þe bigynnyng of Goddis wordis. And ȝe ben maade, 'po to whom is nede of mylk, and not sad mete.
 xiii Forsoþ ech þat is parcener of mylk, is wiþoute part of þe word of riȝtwyfnesse, forsoþ he is a litil child.
 xiv Forsoþ of parfit men is sad mete, of hem þat for 'þe ilke custom han wittis exersyfis, 'or trauelid, to discrecioun of good and yuel.

Capitulum VI.

i Wherfore we leeuyng a while þe word of þe bigynnyng of Crist, be born to þe perfeccioun 'of him, not eftsoone leggyng þe foundament of penaunce fro deede werkis, and of feiþ to God, ii of waifhingis, 'or baptyms, of teching, and of leying on of hondis, and of rysing aȝen of deed men, and of euerlaſting dom.
 iii And þis þing we schulen do, if God schal suffre.
 iv Soþli it is impossible, hem þat oonys ben illumyned, han taſtid also heuenly ȝifte, and ben maad parceners of þe Hooly Gost,
 v neþeleeſ taſtiden þe good word of God, and vertues of þe world to comynge, vi and ben fliden fer awey, eftsoone for to be renewlid,
 'or maad newe, to penaunce; eftsoones crucifyng to hem ſilf þe sone of God, and hauyng to scorn.
 vii Forsoþe þe erþe drynkyng reyn ofte comynge vpon it, and bryngynge forþ couenable eerbe to hem of whom it is tilid, takiþ bleſſing of God.
 viii Forsoþ it bryngynge forþ þornes and breris, is reprovable, and next to curs, whos endyng schal be into brennyng.
 ix Forsoþ, ȝe moost dereworþe, we tristen of ȝou betere þingis, and neer to heelþe, neþeleeſ þouȝ we speken fo. x Soþli God is not vniuſt, þat he forȝete ȝoure workis and loue, þe whiche ȝe han schewid in his name; for ȝe han mynistrid to feytis, and mynifren.

xi Forsoþe we coueiten ech of ȝou for to schewe þe fame bysynesse to þe fulfilling of hope til into þe ende; xii þat ȝe be not maad flow, but also fuweris of hem,
 'þe whiche by feiþ and pacience schulen enherite biheestis.

xiii Forwhi God biheetyng to Abraham, for he hadde
 'no man more, by whom he ſchulde fwere, swoor by hym ſilf,

xiv feiþyng, No but I bleffynge ſchal bleſſe þee, and I multiplyinge ſchal multiplie þee;

xv and ſo he longe ſuffringe gaat 'repromyscioun, or biheefte aȝen.

xvi Forsoþe men fwere by þe more of hem, and þe ende of al her controuersye, 'or debate, is an oop to conformacioun.

xvii In þe which þing God willinge for to schewe to þe eyris of his biheefte þe vnmouablenesse, 'or fadnessse, of his conſeil, put bitwixe an op, xviii þat by tweye þingis vnmouable, by whiche it is inþoſſible God for to lye, we haue strengest folace, 'or confort, þe whiche fleen to gidere for to holde þe hope put forþ.

xix þe which as an ankir we han ſikir to þe foule, and sad, and yngointe til to þe ynner þingis of hydnyg;

xx where þe forgoore 'for vs entride yn, Jheſus, maad bischop into wiþouten ende vp þe ordre of Melchisedech.

Capitulum VII.

i Soþli þis Melchisedech, kyng of Salem, þe prest of þe hiȝeſte God, þe which mette wiþ Abraham gon aȝen fro fleyng of kyngis, and bleſſide him;

ii to whom and Abraham departide tybes of alle þingis;
 first soþli þe which is interpretid kyng of riȝtwyfnesse, afterward forsoþe and kyng of Salem, þat is to ſeie, kyng of pees,

iii wiþ oute fadir, wiþ oute modir, wiþ oute genealogie, neþir hauyng bigynnyng of dayes, neþir ende of lyf; forsoþ he licned to þe sone of God, dwelliþ preſt into wiþouten ende.

iv Forsoþ biholde ȝe hou greet 'is þis man, to whom and Abraham patriark ȝaf tiþes of þe beste þingis.

v And soþli men takyng preſthod of þe fones of Leeuy han maundement for to take tybes of þe peple, vp þe lawe, þat is to ſeie, of her briþeren, þouȝ and þei wenten out of þe leendis of Abraham.

vi Forsoþ he whos generacioun is not noumbrid in hem, tooke tiþis of Abraham; and he bleſſide þis Abraham, þe which hadde repromyſſouns.

vii Forsoþ wiþoute aȝenſeyng, þat þat is leſſe, is bleſſid of þe betere.

viii And here soþli men deiyng taken tiþis; forsoþ þer
 'it is witnessid, þat he lyueþ.

ix And þat it is fo ſeid, by Abraham, and Leeuy, þat took tiþis, is tiþid;

x forsoþ and ȝit he was in his fadris leendis, whanne Melchisedech mette wiþ him.
 xi ȿerfore if endyng was by presthod of Leeuy, forsoþ vndir hym þe peple took þe lawe, what ȝit was it nedeful, anoþer prest for to ryse, vp þe ordre of Melchisedech, and not for to be feid vp þe ordre of Aaron?
 xii Forsoþ þe presthod translatid, it is nede þat and translacoun of lawe be maad.
 xiii Forsoþ he in whom þes þingis ben feid, is of anoþer lynage, of þe which no man was prest, 'or redy, to þe auter.
 xiv Soþli it is opynly knowun, þat oure Lord is born of Juda, in which lynage Moyses spak no þing of prestis.
 xv And more ȝit it is knowun, if vp þe ordre of Melchisedech anoþer prest rysip; xvi þe which is not maad vp þe lawe of fleischly maundement, but vp vertu of lyf insolible, 'or þat 'may not be vndon.
 xvii Soþli he witnelliþ, For þou art a prest into wiþouten ende, vp þe ordre of Melchisedech; xviii forsoþ reproyng of þe maundement bifore goyng is maad, for þe vnsadnesse and vnprofyt of it.
 xix Forsoþ þe lawe brouȝte no þing to 'perfit þing, forsoþ þe bryngyng yn of betere hope, by which we neiȝen to God.
 xx And hou greet it is, not wiþoute sweringe;
 xxi forsoþ oþere ben maad prestis wiþ outh an oþ; 'forsoþ þis prest wiþ an oþ, by hym þat seide to hym, þe Lord swoor, and it schal not rewe him, þou ert a prest into wiþouten ende, vp þe ordre of Melchisedech;
 xxii in so moche Jhesu is maad biheter of þe betere testament.
 xxiii And soþli oþere mo ben maad prestis vp 'þe lawe, 'for þat þat þei weren forbeden by deeþ for to dwelle;
 xxiv forsoþ þis man, for þat he dwelle into wiþouten ende, haþ euerelaſtynge presthod.
 xxv Wherfore and he may faue into wiþouten ende, comynge nyȝ bi hym filf 'to God, euermore lyuyng for to preye for vs.
 xxvi Forsoþ it bycaam þat such a man were bischop to vs, hooly, innocent, inpolute, 'or ful clene, departid fro 'synful men, and maad hiȝer þan heuenes;
 xxvii þe which haþ not nede ech day, as prestis, first for his owne giltis for to offre oostis, 'or sacrificis, astirward for þe peple; soþli he dide þis þing, 'onys offrynge him filf.
 xxviii Forsoþ þe lawe ordeynede men prestis hauynge fykenesse, 'or freelte; forsoþ þe word of swering, þe which is astir þe lawe, ordeynede þe sone perfyt into wiþouten ende.

Capitulum VIII.

i Forsoþ a capitle vpon þo þingis þat ben feid. We han such a bischop, þat saat to gidere in þe riȝthalf of þe seete of greetnesse in heuenes, ii mynistre of seyntis and of þe verri tabernacle, þat God sette, and not man.
 iii Forsoþ ech bischop is ordeyned for to offre ȝiftis and oostis; wherfore it is nede, and þis man 'for to haue sum þing þat he schal offre.
 iv ȿerfore if he were vpon erþe, he were no prest, whanne þer weren þat schulden offre ȝiftis vp þe lawe, vþe whiche seruen to þe faumpler and schadewe of heuenly þingis. As it is answierid to Moyses, whanne he schulde ende þe tabernacle, Se, he seiþ, make þou alle þingis vp þe faumpler, þat is schewid to þee in þe mount.
 v Now forsoþ he haþ getyn a betre mynsterie, by how moche and he is a mediator of a betere testament, þe which is halewid, 'or confermyd, wiþ betere biheefis.
 vi For if 'þe ilke firste hadde be voydid fro blame, soþli a place of þe secunde schulde not be souȝt.
 vii Forsoþ reproyng hem he seiþ, Loo! dayes comen, seiþ þe Lord, and I schal ende a newe testament vpon þe hous of Yrael, and vpon þe house of Juda;
 viii not vp þe testament þat I made to her fadris, in þe day in which I cauȝte her hond, þat I schulde leede hem out of þe lond of Egipt; for þei dwelliden not perfity in my testament, and I haue dispysid hem, seiþ þe Lord.
 ix For þis is þe testament, 'þe which I schal dispose to þe hous of Israel aftir þo dayes, seiþ þe Lord, in ȝyuyng my lawis into þe soulis of hem, and into þe hertis 'of hem I schal aboue wryte hem; and I schal be to hem into God, and þei schulen be to me into a peple.
 x And ech man schal not teche his neiȝbore, and ech man his broþer, feyninge, Knowe þou þe Lord; for alle men schulen wite, 'or knowe, me, fro þe leſſe 'til to þe more of hem.
 xi For I schal be helpful, 'or mercyful, to þe wickidnesse of hem, and now I schal not biþenke on þe synnes of hem.
 xii Forsoþ in seyng newe, þe formere wexiden olde; forsoþ þat þat is of many dayes, and wexip olde, is nyȝ þe deeþ.

Capitulum IX.

i Sobeli and þe formere hadde iustifyingis of worchipe, and hooly þing worldli, 'þat is, duringe for a tyme.
 ii Forsoþ þe tabernacle was maad first, in which weren candelfstickis, and boord, and puttinge forþ of looues, þat is feid hooly.
 iii Forsoþ astir þe veil, 'or hydyng, þe secunde tabernacle, 'þat is feid 'sancta sanctorum, þat is, hooly of hooli þingis;

iiiii hauyng a goldin fencer, and þe arke of testament, keuerid aboue on ech syde wiþ gold, in þe which a pot of gold hauyng manna, and þe ȝerd of Aaron þat florischide, and þe tablis of testament;
 v vpon whiche þingis weren cherubyns of glorie, schadewinge þe propiciatorie; of whiche þingis it is not now for to seye by alle.
 vi Forsoþ þes maad þus to gidere, soþli in þe formere tabernacle prestis entriden yn euermore, endinge þe officis of sacramentis;
 vii forsoþ in þe secunde tabernacle, 'onys in þe ȝeer þe bishop aloone, not wiþoute blood, þe which he offriþ for his ignorauance and þe peplis.
 viii Þe Hooly Gost signyfyinge þis þing, not ȝit þe wei of seyntis for 'to be openyd, ȝit þe former tabernacle hauyng state.
 ix Þe which parable is of þis present time, bisydys which ȝiftis and ooftis, 'or sacrifys, ben offrid, þe whiche mown not make a man seruyng perfit by conscience, x oonly in metis, and drynkis, and dyuerse waſchingis, and riȝtwyfnessis of fleisch, put 'til to þe tyme of coreccioun.
 xi Forsoþ Crist beyng a bishop of goodis to comynge, by a larger and perfiter tabernacle, not maad by hond, þat is to seye, not of þis makynge, xii neþer by blood of goot buckis, or of caluys, but bi his owne blood, entride oonys into hooly þingis, euerlaſting redemcioun foundyn.
 xiii Forsoþ if þe blood of goot buckis, and bolis, and asche of a cow calf spreynd, halowiþ vnclene men to þe clenſyng of fleisch, xiv how moche more þe blood of Crist, þe which by þe Hooly Gost offride hym vnwemmyd to God, schal clenſe oure conscience fro deede workis, for to serue to 'God lyuynge?
 xv And þerfore he is a mediatour of new testament, þat deeþ fallinge bitwixe, into redempcioun of þe trespassyngis þat weren vndir þe former testament, þei þat ben clepid take repromyscioun of euerlaſting eritage.
 xvi Soþeli where is a testament, it is nede, þat þe deeþ of þe testament maker come bitwixe.
 xvii Forsoþ þe testament is confermyd in deede men; ellis it is not worþ, þe while he lyueþ, þat made þe testament.
 xviii Wherfore soþli neþer þe firſte testament is halowid wiþoute blood.
 xix Forsoþ ech maundement of þe lawe radd of Moyſes to al þe peple, he takynge þe blood of calves, and of buckis of geet, wiþ watir, and reed wolle, and yſope, spreyngde and 'þe ilke book and al þe peple, xx feyng, þis is þe blood of þe telfament, þat God comaundide to ȝou.
 xxi Also he spreyngde by blood þe tabernacle, and alle þe vessels of mynsterie, 'or seruyſes, in lich manere.

xxii And almost alle þinges ben clenſid in blood vp þe lawe; and wiþoute ſcheding of blood remyſſioun of synnes is not maad.
 xxiii þerfore it is nede þe faumpleris forſoþ of heuenly þingis for to be clenſid wiþ þese þingis; forſoþ 'þe ilke heuenly þingis wiþ betere ooftis þan þes.
 xxiv Forſoþ Jhesus entride not into hooly þingis maad by hondis, þe faumples of verri þingis, but into 'þe ilke heuene, þat he appere now to chere, 'or face, of God for vs;
 xxv neþer þat he offre him ſilf ofte, as þe bishop entride into hooli þingis by alle ȝeiris in alien blood, xxvi ellis it bihoſte hym ofte for to ſuffre fro þe bigynnyng of þe world; now forſoþ onys in þe endyng of þe worldis, to diſtruccioun of synne by his ooft, 'or ſacrifice, he apperide, xxvii and as it is ordeyned to men, oonys for to deie. Forſoþ aftir þis dom, xxviii fo and Crift was offrid onys, for to auoyde þe synnes of many men; þe ſecunde tyme he ſchal appere wiþoute synne to men abydinge him into þe heelþe 'of hem by feiþ.

Capitulum X.

i Forſoþ þe lawe hauyng ſhadowe of goodis to comynge, not 'þe ilke ymage of þingis, 'by alle ȝeiris by þe ilke fame ooftis, whiche 'þei offren wiþoute ceeffinge, 'neuere may make men 'comynge nyȝ perfyt;
 ii ellis þei ſchulden haue ceeffid for to be offrid, þerfore þat þe worſhipers clenſid oonys, hadden no conſcience of synne ferþermore.
 iii But in hem mynde of synnes is maad by alle ȝeiris.
 iv Forſoþ it is ynpoffſible synnes for to be don awey by blood of bolis, and buckis of geet.
 v þerfore he entryng into þe world, ſeiþ, þou woldiſt not 'an ooft, 'or ſacrifice, and offring; forſoþ þou haſt ſhapyn a body to me;
 vi and brent ſacrificis for synne pleside not to þee.
 vii Panne I feyde, Loo! I come; in þe heed, 'or bigynnyng, of þe book it is writyn of me, þat I do þi wille.
 viii He 'ſeyng aboue, 'or bifore, For þou woldiſt not ooftis, and offringis, and brent ſacrificis, and for synne, ne þo þingis ben plesaunt to þee, 'þe whiche ben offrid vp þe lawe, ix panne I feide, Lo! I come, þat I do þi wille, God. He doiþ awey þe firſte, þat he make þe ſecunde.
 x In which wil we ben halewid by þe offring of þe body of Crift Jhesu oonys.
 xi And soþli ech preſt is redy 'ech day mynyſtringe, 'and ofte tymes offringe þe fame ooftis, 'þe whiche mown neuere do awey synnes.
 xii Forſoþ þis man offringe an ooft for synnes, for euermore ſittiþ on þe riȝthalf of God þe fadir;

xiii fro þennis forþ abidyng, til his enemyes ben put a stool of his feet.
 xiv Soþli by oon offryng he endide for euermore halowide men.
 xv Forþof and þe Hooly Gost witnesſip to vs; forþof aftirward he feide, xvi Forþof þis is þe testament, 'þe which I schal witnesſe to hem aftir þo dayes, 'þe Lord seiþ, in ȝyung my lawis in þe hertis of hem, and in þe soulis of hem I schal aboue wryte hem; xvii and now I schal no more þenke on þe synnes and wickidnessis of hem.
 xviii Forþoþe where 'is remissioune of þese, now non offring for synne.
 xix 'And so, briþeren, hauynge trist into þe entring of seytis in þe blood of Crist, xx 'þe which he halowide to vs a new wey, and lyuynge bi a veyl, 'or keuering, þat is to seye, his fleisch, xxi and þe greet preſt on þe hous of God, xxii go we to wiþ verri herte into þe plente of feiþ; we spreynþ þe hertis fro yuel conscience, and waſchyn þe body wiþ clene watir, xxiii holde þe confessioune of oure hope vnbowyng, 'or þat may not be foldyn; forþof he is trewe þat 'biniȝte aȝen.
 xxiv And biholde we 'in to gidere in þe stiringe of charite and of goode werkis;
 xxv not forſakyng oure gederinge to gidere, as it is of custome to sum men, but comfortinge, and by so moche þe more, by how moche ȝe schulen se þe day neiȝinge.
 xxvi Forþof to vs synnyng wilfully, aftir þe knowyng of treue takun, 'now an oost for synnes is not left.
 xxvii For whi sum abyding of doom is dredful, and þe fuyng of fyer, þe which is to waſtynge aduersaries.
 xxviii Ony man makynge voyde, 'or brekinge, þe lawe of Moyſes, deieþ wiþ outen ony mercy, by tweyne or þre witnesſis;
 xxix how moche more geffen ȝe, him for to differue worse turmentis, 'þe which 'schal defoule þe fone of God, and schal leede, 'or holde, þe blood of þe testament polute, in 'þe which he is halewid, and 'schal do wrong, 'or dispit, to þe spirit of grace?
 xxx Soþeli we witen hym þat seide, To me veniaunce, and I schal ȝelde. And eft, For þe Lord schal deme his peple.
 xxxi It is feerful for to falle into hondis of 'God lyuynge.
 xxxii Forþof haue ȝe mynde on þe formere dayes, in þe whiche ȝe liȝtned fusteyned greet stryf, 'or fijȝt, of passiouns.
 xxxiii And soþly in 'þat oþer ȝe maad a spectacle bi schenschips and tribulacions; in þe toþir forþoþe ȝe ben maad felowis of men lyuynge so.
 xxxiv For whi and to boundun men ȝe hadden compaſſioun, and ȝe resseyueden wiþ ioye þe rauayne of ȝoure goodis, knowyng ȝou for to haue a betere and dwelling substaunce.

 xxxv 'And so nyle ȝe leese ȝoure trist, 'þe which haþ greet rewardyng.
 xxxvi Forþof pacience is nedeful to ȝou, þat ȝe doyng þe wille of God, brynge aȝen þe biheeſte.
 xxxvii ȝit soþeli a litil, how euere litil, he þat is to comynge schal come, and he schal not tarie.
 xxxviii Forþof my iuft man lyueþ of feiþ; þat if he 'schal wiþdrawe 'him silf, he schal not pleſe to my soule.
 xxxix Forþof we ben not þe fones of wiþdrawyng awei into perdiſoun, but of feiþ into þe getyng of soule.

Capitulum XI.

i Forþoþe feiþ is þe substaunce of þingis to be hopid, an argument, 'or certeynte, of þingis not apperinge.
 ii Soþeli in þis feiþ olde men han getun witnesſyng.
 iii Bi feiþ we vndirstonden þe worldis for to be schapun, 'or maad, bi Goddis word, þat visyble þingis weren maad of vnuylible þingis.
 iv By feiþ Abel offride ful moche more oost, 'or sacrifice, 'ban Cayn to God, by þe which he gat witnesſing for to be iuft, God beringe witnesſyng to his ȝiftis; and by þat feiþ he deed spekiþ ȝit.
 v By feiþ Enok is translatis, þat he schulde not fe deeþ; and he was not founden, for þe Lord translatis him. Forþoþe bifore translatioun he hadde witnesſing for 'to haue plesid God.
 vi Forþoþe it is impossible 'ony man for to pleſe God wiþoute feiþ. Forþof it bihouetteþ a man comynge to God, for to bileyue for he is, and 'he is rewarder of men ynſekinge him.
 vii Bi feiþ Noe, anſwere take of þese þingis þat ȝit weren not seyn, dredinge schapide an ark, 'or schip, into þe helpe of his hows; bi which he dampnyde þe world, and is infiſted, or ordeyned, eir of riȝtwysnesse, þe which is by feiþ.
 viii By feiþ he þat is clepid Abraham, obeiede for to go into a place, which he was to takinge into heritage; and he wente out, not witinge whidur he schulde go.
 ix By feiþ he dwelte in þe lond of aȝenbiheeſte, as in an alien, in litel housis dwellinge wiþ Ysaac and Jacob, euene eyris of þe fame aȝenbyheeſte.
 x Soþeli he abood a cite hauynge fundamentis, whos crafty man and maker is God.
 xi By feiþ and 'þe ilke Sare bareyn, took vertu into conſeyuing of feed, ȝhe, 'bi sydis, 'or wiþoute, þe tymē of age; for sche bileyude him trewe, þat hadde aȝenbiliȝt.
 xii For which þing and of oon, and him nyȝ deed, men ben borun as sterriſ of heuen in multitude, and as grauel, 'or foond, þat is at see ſide vnnoumbrable.
 xiii By feiþ alle þes ben deede, þe aȝenbiheeſtis not takun, but þei biholdinge hem aferr, and gretinge wel, and knowlechinge for þei ben pilgrymes, and herborid men vpon þe erþe.

xivii Sopli þei þat seyn þes þingis, signifieng hem for to seke a cuntre.

xv And forsoþe if þei hadden had mynde of 'þe ilke, of þe which þei 'wenten out, soþli þei hadden tyme of turnyng aȝen;

xvi now forsoþ þei defyren a betere, þat is to seye, heuenly. Þeþore God is not confoundid, 'or schamed, for to be clepid þe God of hem; forsoþe he made redy to hem a cite.

xvii Bi feiþ Abraham offride Ysaac, whanne he was temptid; and he offride þe oon bigetyn, þe which hadde takyn repromyssions, 'or aȝenbiheetis;

xviii to whom it was seid, For in Ysaac seed schal be clepid to þee;

xix demyng, for and fro deed men God is myȝty for to reise hym; wherof he took him and into a parable.

xx By feiþ and of þingis to comyng, Ysaac blesſide Jacob and Esaу.

xxi By feiþ Jacob deyinge, by alle þe sones of Joseph blesſide, and honouride þe hiȝnesse of his ȝerde.

xxii By feiþ Joseph deyinge hadde mynde of þe passyng forþ of þe sones of Israel, and comaundide of his boones.

xxiii By feiþ Moyses born, was hid þre moneþis of his fadir and modir, for þat þei siȝen þe ȝonge child fair, 'or femely; and þei dredden not þe maundement of þe kyng.

xxiv By feiþ Moyses maad greet, denyede him for to be þe lone of Pharaois douȝtir, xxv chefyng more for to be tormentid wiþ þe peple of God, þan for to haue myrþe of temperal synne;

xxvi demyng be reproue of Crist more richeſſis þan þe tresouris of Egipſians; forsoþe he bihelde 'into þe rewardyng.

xxvii By feiþ he forsook Egipt, 'not schamynge, 'or dredyng, þe hardnesse of þe kyng; forsoþ he as feyng fusteynede þe inuifyble.

xxviii By feiþ he halowide pask, and schedinge of blood, leſt he þat distryede þe firſte þingis of Egipſians, schulde touche hem.

xxix By feiþ þei passiden þe reede see, as bi drye lond, þe which þing Egipciens asayinge weren deouourid.

xxx By feiþ þe wallis of Jerico felden doun, by cumpassing of feuene dayes.

xxxi By feiþ Raab hoore 'perischide not wiþ vnbileueful men, she takynge, 'or receyuynge, þe aspiers wiþ pees.

xxxii And what ȝit schal I seye? Sopeli tyme schal fayle me tellinge of Gedeon, Barach, Sampson, Jepte, Dauiþ, and Samuel, and oþere prophetis; xxxiii þe whiche by feiþ ouercamen rewmes, wrouȝten riȝtwyfelle, gaten repromyssions; þei stoppiden þe mouȝis of lyouns, xxxiv þei quenchiden þe feernesſe of fyre, þei dryuen awey þe egge of swerd, þei keuereden of syknesſe, þei weren maad strong in batel, þei turneden þe castels, 'or ooftis, of aliens.

xxxv Wymmen receyueden her deede of aȝenrysing; forsoþe oþere ben holdun forþ, 'or deede, not takinge redempcioun, þat þei schulden fynde betere aȝenrysyng.

xxxvi Forsoþ oþere assayeden scornyngis and betyngis, more ouer and boondis and prisouns.

xxxvii þei weren stoonyd, þei weren kitt, þei weren temptid, þei weren deed in fleynge of swerd. Þei wenten aboue in brok skynnes, and in skynnes of geet, nedys, angwyſſchid, turmentid;

xxxviii to which þe world was not worþi; þei erringe in wildirnessis, in mounteyns, and dennys, and cauys of erþe.

xxxix And alle þese, proued by witnesſing of feiþ, tooken not repromyssion;

xi God purueyinge sum betere þing for vs, þat þei schulden not be fulfillid wiþouten vs.

Capitulum XII.

i Forsoþe 'and we hauyng so greet a cloud of witnesſis put to, doyng avey al charge, and synne stondinge aboue vs, by pacience renne to þe ftryf, 'or fiȝt, purposid to vs, ii biholdinge into þe maker of feiþ and ender, Jhesu; þe which ioye purposid to him, suffride þe croſs, confusioun dispisid, and fittiþ on þe riȝthalf of þe feete of God.

iii Forsoþ biȝenke ȝe on him þat susteynede such aȝen feyng of synful men aȝens him silf, þat ȝe be not maad wery, faylinge in ȝoure inwittis.

iv Forsoþ ȝe aȝenstoden not ȝit 'til to blood, fȝtinge aȝens synne.

v And ȝe han forȝete þe comfort þat spekiþ to ȝou as to sones, feyng, My lone, nyle þou dispise þe disciplyn of þe Lord, neþer be þou maad wery, þe while þou art chaſtysid of hym.

vi Forsoþ þe Lord chaſtisid 'hym þat he loueþ; forsoþ he scourgiþ euery lone þat he receyueþ.

vii Laſte ȝe ſtille in disciplyn; God offriþ him to ȝou as to sones. Sopli what lone is it, whom þe fadir 'ſchal not reproue, 'or chaſtysfe?

viii ȝat if ȝe ben out of disciplyn, 'of which alle ben maad parceners, þerfore ȝe ben auowtreris, and not sones.

ix Aftirward sopli we hadden fadris of oure fleiſch, lerneris, and we wiþ reuerence dreden hem. Wher not moche more we schulen obeische to þe fadir of spiritis, and we schulen lyue?

x And þei sopli in tyme of fewe dayes vp her will lerneden vs; forsoþ þis fadir to þat þing þat is profitable, in receyuyng þe halowing of him.

xi Forsoþ ech disciplyn in þis present tyme 'is seyn trewly for to be not of ioye, but of forwe; aftirward forsoþ it schal ȝelde fruyt of riȝtwyfnesse most peesfyble to men exerſifid, 'or hauntid, by it.

 xii For which þing reise ȝe vp flowe hondis, and knees vnboundun,
 xiii and make riȝtful goyngis, 'or steppis, to ȝoure feet;
 þat no man haltinge erre, but more be heelid.
 xiv Sue ȝe pees wiþ alle men, and hoolynesse, wiþoute which no man schal fe God;
 xv biholdinge þat no man fayle to be grace of God, þat no roote of bitternesse 'vpward burionyng lette, and bi it foulid be many men;
 xvi þat no man be lecchour, eþer vnhooli, 'or cursid, as Esau, þe which for oo mete folde his firſte þingis.
 xvii Soplí wite ȝe, for and aftirward he coueytinge for to anherite bleſſing, was reproud. Forſoþ he found not place of penaunce, þouȝ he ſouȝte it wiþ teeris. xviii Forſoþ ȝe han not come to be tretable fyer, 'or able for to touche, and able to come to, and 'greet wynd,
 'or whirlwynd, and myſt, and tempeſt, xix and fown of trumpe, and vois of wordis; þe which þei þat herden, excuseden hem, þat þe word ſchulde not be maad to hem.
 xx Forſoþ þei baren not þat þat was feid, And if a beſt touchide þe hil, it 'ſchal be ſtooned.
 xxi And ſo dredful it was þat was feyn, Moyses ſeide, I am aferd, and ful of trembyng.
 xxii But ȝe han come nyȝ to 'Syon hil, and þe citee of 'God lyuyng, heuenli Jerufalem, and þe multitude of many þouȝynd aungels, xxiii and to þe chirche of þe firſte men, þe whiche ben writun in heuenes, and God, domeſman of alle, and þe ſpirit of iuste perfit men, xxiv and to Jhesu, mediatour of þe newe testament, and þe ſprengyng of blood, betere ſpekinge þan Abel.
 xxv 'Se ȝe, þat ȝe 'forſake not þe ſpekinge; 'forſoþe if þei forſakinge him þat ſpak on þe erþe, aſcapiden not, moche more we þat turnen awey 'fro him 'spekinge to vs fro heuenes.
 xxvi Whos vois þanne mouede þe erþe, now forſoþe he 'aȝen byhetiþ, ſeiyng, ȝit onys and I ſchal moue not oonly erþe, but also heueene.
 xxvii 'Forſoþ þat 'he ſeip, ȝit onys, he declarip þe tranſlacioun of mouable þingis, as of maad þingis, þat þo þingis dwelle, þat ben vnmouable. xxviii 'And ſo we receyuyng þe 'kyngdom vnmouable, han grace, by which ſerue we pleyng to God wiþ drede and reuerence.
 xxix And forſoþ oure God is fyer waſtyng.

Capitulum XIII.

i The charite of broþerhed dwelle in ȝou, ii and 'nyɩe ȝe forȝete hofpitalite; forſoþ by þis ſumme pleſiden to aungels receyuede to herboare.

iii 'Penke ȝe on boundun men, as ȝe to gidere boundun, and of traueling men, as and ȝe filf dwellinge in þe body.
 iv Honorable wedding in alle þingis, and 'bed vñwembid; forſoþ God ſchal deme 'fornycatouris and auoutreris.
 v Be maners wiþoute coueytise, payd wiþ 'present þingis; ſoplí he ſeide, I ſchal not leue þee, neþer forſake, vi ſo þat 'we triftily ſeie, Þe Lord is an helper to me; I ſchal not drede, what a man ſchal do to me.
 vii 'Haue ȝe mynde of ȝoure ſouereyns, þat 'han ſpouȝun to ȝou þe word of God; of whom ȝe biholdinge þe goyng out of lyuyng, 'ſuwe ȝe feiþ, viii Jhesu Crift, ȝiftiday, and to day, he and into worldis.
 ix Nile ȝe be ledd awey 'wiþ dyuerſe techingis, and 'pilgrym, or ſtraunge. 'Forſoþ it is beſt for to ſtable þe herte 'wiþ grace, not wiþ metis, 'þe whiche profiten not to men wandryng in hem.
 x We han an auter, of þe which þei þat ſeruen to tabernacle 'of þe body, 'han not power for 'to ete.
 xi Forſoþ of whiche beeſtis þe blood is borun yn for synne into hooly þingis bi þe biſhōp, 'þe bodies of hem ben brent wiþ outh þe caſtels.
 xii For which þing and Jhesu, þat he ſchulde halwe þe peple by his blood, ſuffrider wiþoute þe ȝate.
 xiii 'Perfore go we out 'to him wiþ outh caſtels, beringe his repreue, 'or ſchenſchip.
 xiv Soplí we han not here a 'citee dwellinge, but we ſekien 'a citee to comynge.
 xv 'Perfore bi him offre we 'an ooft of heriynge euermore to God, þat is to ſeie, þe fruyt of lippis knowlechinge to his name.
 xvi Forſoþ nyle ȝe forȝete 'of wel doyng, 'or ȝuyng, and of comunyng; forſoþ by ſuche ooftis God is diſſeruyd.
 xvii 'Obeye ȝe to ȝoure prouoftis, 'or prelatis, and 'vndir ligge to hem; þei perſytly waken, as to ȝeldinge reſoun for ȝoure ſoulis, þat þei do 'þis þing wiþ ioye, and not forwyng; 'forſoþ þis þing ſpedip not to ȝou.
 xviii 'Preie ȝe for vs, ſoplí we triftan for we han good conſciencie in alle þingis, willinge for to lyue wel.
 xix 'More ouer forſoþ I biſeche ȝou for to do, þat I 'þe ſonnere be reſtorid to ȝou.
 xx 'Soplí God of pees, þat ledde out fro deede men þe greet ſchepherde of ſchEEP, in þe blood of euerlaſting teſtaMENT, 'oure Lord Jhesu Crift, xxi 'ſchape, or make able, ȝou in al good þing, þat ȝe do 'þe wille of him; he doyng in ȝou þat 'þing þat ſchal plefe biſore him, by Jhesu Crift, to whom is glorie into worldis of worldis. Amen.
 xxii Forſoþe, briberen, I preie ȝou, þat ȝe ſuffre a word of folace, 'or coumfort; forſoþe by ful fewe þingis I haue writyn to ȝou.

xxiii 'Knowe ȝe oure broþer Tymothe left, wiþ whom if he schal come 'more haſteli, I schal fe ȝou.
xxiv Greete wel alle ȝoure fouereyns, and alle 'hooly men. þe breþeren of Ytalye greeten ȝou wel.
xxv þe grace 'of God wiþ ȝou alle. Amen.

Here enden þe epiftlis of Poul, and now bigynneþ þe prolog to Actus Apostolorum.

ACTUS APOSTOLORUM.

Prolog to Actus Apostolorum.

Luk of Sirye by nacioun, whos preifinge in þe euangelye is writun, at Antioche noble of craft of medycyne, and þe disciple of þe apostlis of Crist; aftir folowinge Poul anoon to confesciouin, oþer þe deep, wiþoute blame dwellinge in maydenhod, chees to serue God; þe which goynge foure skore ȝeare of age, in Bithyniye deide ful of þe Hooly Gost. Ȭis þorw þe Hooly Gost stiringe, in þe cuntrees of Achaye wrytyng þe gospel to Grekis bileuyde, þe incarnacioun of þe Lord wiþ trewe tale schewide; and þe same Crist he schewide to haue dessendid of þe stok and progeny of Dauiþ. To whom not wiþoute desert power of wrytinge þe dedis of þe apostlis was ȝyue in mynistre, þat God in God ful, and þe sone of 'lost aquent, preier of þe apostlis ymaad, þorw lott of Goddis eleccioun þe noumber schulde be fulfillid; and so Poul schulde ȝyue fulfillinge to þe apostlis dedis, whom long kykyng to aȝens, þe goode God hadde chose. þe which þing to men redyng and sechinge God he wolde rafir schewe in schort word, þan to haue schewid ony þing lengir to men aloopinge; whom Goddis grace fo folowyde, þat not onoly to bodyes, but also to soulis his medycyne schulde profyte.

Here endiþ þe prolog, and bigynneþ þe lessoun.

Capitulum I.

i Forsoþe, þou Theophile, first I made a sermoun, 'or word, of alle þe þingis, þat Jhesus bygan for to do and teche, ii til into þe day, in which he comaunding to apostlis 'bi þe Hooly Gost, whom he chees, was takyn vp;
iii to which and he ȝaf hym silf alyue, 'or quyke, aftir his passioun, in manye argumentis, 'or prouyngis, by fourty dayes apperinge to hem, and spekinge of þe rewme of God.
iv And he etinge to gidere, comaundide to hem, þat þei schulden not departe fro Jerusalem, but schulden abyde þe biheeste of þe fadir, þe which ȝe herden, he seiþ, by my mouþ;
v for soþeli John baptiside in watir, but ȝe schulen be baptysid in þe Hooly Gost, not aftir þese manye dayes.
vi Perfore þei þat camen to gidere, axiden him, seyinge, Lord, if in þis tyme schalt þou restore þe kyngdom of Israef?

vii Forsoþ he feide to hem, It is not ȝoure for to haue knowe tymes or momentis, þe whiche þe fadir haþ put in his power;

viii but ȝe schulen take þe vertu of þe Hooly Gost comynge fro a boue into ȝou, and ȝe schulen be witnesſis to me in Jerufalem, and in al Judee, and Samarye, and 'til to þe vtmeſte of erpe.

ix And whanne he hadde seid þes þingis, 'hem seynge, he was lift vp, and a cloud receyued hym fro þe yȝen of hem.

x And whanne þei bihelden into heuene 'him goynge, lo! twey men stoodyn nyȝ bifydis hem in white cloþis, xi þe whiche and seiden, Men of Galilee, what stonde ȝe biholdinge into heuene? Ȭis Jhesus, þat is takyn vp fro ȝou into heuene, 'fo schal come, as ȝe syȝen him goynge into heuene.

xii Panne þei turneden aȝen to Jerufalem, fro þe hil þat is clepid Olyuete, 'þe which is bifydis Jerufalem, hauyng þe iurney of a saboth.

xiii And whanne þei hadden entride into þe 'soupyng place, þei wenten vp in to 'þe hiȝere þingis, where þei dwelten, Petre and John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartelmew and Mathew, James of Alfey, and Symound Zelotes, and Judas of James.

xiv Alle þes weren dwellinge, 'or lastinge, 'to gidere in preier, wiþ wymmen, and Marie, þe modir of Jhesu, and wiþ his breþeren.

xv In þo dayes Petre ryfyng vp in þe myddel of breþeren, feide; forsoþ þer was a cumpeny of men to gidere, almeſt an hundrid and twenty;

xvi Men breþeren, it bihoueþ þe scripture for to be fulfillid, which þe Hooly Gost before seyde by þe mouþ of Dauiþ, of Judas þat was leder of hem þat tooken Jhesu;

xvii þe which was noumbrid in vs, and gat þe fort of þis mynsterie.

xviii And forsoþ þis weeldide a feeld of þe hyre of wickidnesse, and he hangid, to-barst þe myddel, and alle his entrailis ben sched a brood.

xix And it is maad knowun to alle men dwellinge in Jerufalem, so þat þilke feeld was clepid Achildemak in þe langage of hem, þat is, þe feeld of blood.

xx Forsoþ it is writun in þe book of Salmes, Pe habitacioun of him be maad desert, and be þere not þat dwelliþ in it, and anoþer take þe bisshopryche of him.

xxi Perfore it bihoueþ of þese men, þat ben gederid to gidere wiþ vs in al tyme, in which þe Lord Jhesu entride yn, and wente out among vs, xxii bigynnyng fro baptym of John 'til into þe day in which he was takyn vp fro vs, oon of þese for to be maad a witnesſe of his resurexioun wiþ vs.

xxiii And þei ordeyneden tweyne, Joseph, þat is clepid Barſabas, þat is namyd Iustus, and Mathi.

xxiv And þei preiynge seiden, Pou, Lord, þat 'haſt knowe þe hertis of men, schewe whom þou haſt chosun of þes tweyne, xxv oon for to take þe place of þis mynisterie and apostilhed, of þe which Judas trespasside, þat he schulde go into his place.

xxvi And þei ȝauen lottis to hem, and þe lot felde to Mathi; and he was noumbrid 'to gidere wiþ enleuene apostlis.

Capitulum II.

i And whanne þe 'dayes Pentecostes, 'þat is, fyfti, weren fulfillid, alle disciplis weren to gidere in þe same place.

ii And sudenly þer was maad a fown fro heuene, as of a greet spirit comynge to, and it fulfillide al þe hous where þei weren sittinge.

iii And tungis dyuerfly partid as fyer apperiden to hem, and it faat vpon ech of hem.

iv And alle 'ben fulfillid wiþ þe Hooli Gost, and þei bigunned for to speke wiþ dyuerse langagis, as þe Hooli Gost ȝaf to hem for to speke.

v Forsoþ þer weren in Jerufalem dwellinge Jewis, religiouse men, of ech nacioun þat is vndir heuene.

vi Soþli, 'þis vois maad, þe multitude cam to gidere, and in soule, 'or vndirstondyng, 'was confoundid, 'or stoneyd, for ech man herde hem spekyng in his langage.

vii Forsoþ alle men weren 'a stoneyd 'in witt, and wondriden, seyinge to gidere, Wher not alle þese þat speken ben Galilees, viii and how 'we herden ech man his langage in which we ben born?

ix Party, and Medy, and Elamyte, and þei þat dwellen in Mesopotamye, Judee, and Capadocie, Ponte, and Afie, x Frigie, and Pamphilie, Egipt, and þe parties of Libie, þat is aboute Sirenen, and cumelingis Romayns, and Jewis, and profelitis, xi men of Crete and Arabye, we han herd hem spekyng in oure langagis þe greeete þingis of God.

xii Forsoþ alle weren stoneyd 'in witt, and wondriden, seyinge, What wole þis þing be?

xiii Forsoþ opere scornyd, seyinge, For þei ben ful of must.

xiv Forsoþ Petre stondinge wiþ enleuene, reyside his vois, and spak to hem, Men Jewis, and alle þat dwellen in Jerufalem, be þis þing knowun to ȝou, and wiþ eeris perseue my wordis.

xv Soþely not as ȝe demen, 'or gesfen, þese be drunkun, whanne it is þe ȝridde our of þe day, 'or vndirne;

xvi but þis 'þing it is, þat was feid by þe prophete Johel, xvii And it schal be in þe laste dayes, þe Lord seiþ, I schal heelde out of my spirit on 'al fleisch; and ȝoure sones and ȝoure douȝtris schulen prophecie, and ȝoure ȝonge schulen se vifyouns, and ȝoure eldris schulen dreme meetels, 'or sweuens.

xviii And soþeli on my 'seruauntis men and myne handmaydens in ȝo dayes I schal schede out of my spirit, and þei schulen prophecie.

xix And I schal ȝyue greeete wondris in heuene aboue, and signes in erþe byneþe, blood, and fyre, and vapour of smoke.

xx Pe funne schal be turned into derknessis, and þe mone into blood, bifore þat þe gret and opyn day of þe Lord schal come.

xxi And ech man which euere schal inclepe þe name of þe Lord, schal be saf.

xxii ȝe men of Ifrael, heerip þes wordis. Jhesu of Nazareth, a man prouyd of God in ȝou by vertues, 'or myraclis, and wondris, and tokenes, þe whiche God dide by him in þe myddel of ȝou, as ȝe 'witen, xxiii hym, þe counceil determyned, 'or endid, and by þe prescience, 'or bifore knowynge, of God, bitakun, 'or trayed, by þe hondis of wickid ȝe tormentinge flowen.

xxiv Whom God reyside, 'þe forwis of helle vnboundun, 'vp þat it was infolleble him for to be holdyn of it.

xxv Soþli Dauip seiþ into him, I purueyde þe Lord bifore me euermore, for he is on my riȝthalf, þat I be not moued.

xxvi For þis þing myn herte ioyede, and my tunge gladide, more ouer and my fleisch schal reste in hope.

xxvii For þou schalt not forsake my soule in helle, 'neþir þou schalt ȝyue þin hooli for to se corupcioun.

xxviii þou haft maad knowun to me þe weies of lyf, þou schalt fulfille me in myrþe wiþ þi face.

xxix Men breþeren, be it leefful boldly for to seye to ȝou of þe patriark Dauip, for he is deed and biried, and his sepulcre is at vs til into þis day.

xxx Perfore whanne he was a prophete, and wiste, for wiþ an oop God hadde sworn to him, of þe fruyt of his leende for to sitte on his seete, xxxi he purueyng spak of þe resurexioun of Crist, for neþir he is left in helle, neþir his fleisch siȝ corupcioun.

xxxii God reiside þis Jhesu, to whom we alle ben witneſſis.

xxxiii Perfore he enhaunsid by þe riȝt hond of God, and þe biheeſte of þe Hooli Gost takyn of þe fadir, he schedde out þis, þat ȝe seen and heeren.

xxxiv Forsoþ Dauip affendide not into heuene; forsoþ he seiþ, þe Lord seide to my Lord, Sitt on my riȝthalf, xxxv til I schal putte þin enemyes þe stool of þi feet.

xxxvi Perfore moost certeynly wite al þe hous of Ifrael, for God reyside and hym þe Lord and Crist, þis Jhesu, whom ȝe crucifieden.

xxxvii 'Þese þingis herd, þei weren compunct in herte; and þei seiden to Petre and to opere apostlis, Men breþeren, what schulen we do?

xxxviii Petre forsoþ seiþ to hem, Penaunce, he seiþ, do ȝe, and ech of ȝou be cristen in þe name of Jhesu Crist, into remiseioun of ȝoure synnes; and ȝe schulen take þe ȝifte of þe Hooly Gost.

xxxix Forsoþ repromisciou, 'or eft biheeste, is to ȝou, and to ȝoure sones, and to alle þat ben ferr, whom euere þe Lord oure God haþ clepid to.
 xi Soplí wiþ opere wordis ful manye he witnesside to hem, and monefside hem, seyinge, Be ȝe sauð fro þis wickid, 'or schrewid, generacioun.
 xii Perfore þei þat receyueden his wordis, weren baptysid, and in þat day foulis ben putt to, aboute þre pouynd.
 xiii Forsoþ þei weren lastynge in techinge of apostlis, and in comunyng of brekinge of breed, and in preieris.
 xliii Forsoþ drede was maad to ech soule. And many wondris and sygnes weren don by apostlis in Jerusalem, and greet drede was in alle.
 xl Alſo alle men þat bileyuden weren to gidere, and hadden alle þingis comyn.
 xlvi Felen posſefcions and ſubftaunces, 'or goodis, and departiden alle þingis to alle men, as it was nede to ech.
 xlvi 'Forsoþ day bi day þei 'laſtinge to gidere in þe temple, and brekinge breed aboute houſis, token mete wiþ gladyng and symplenelle of herte, xlvii heriyng to gidere God, and hauyng grace to al þe peple. Forsoþ þe Lord encreſide hem þat weren maad ſaaf, ech day into þe ſame þing.

Capitulum III.

i Forſoþ Petre and John ſt̄iȝeden into þe temple, at þe nynþe our of preyng.
 ii And ſum man þat was lame fro þe wombe of his modir, was borun, whom þei puttiden ech day at þe ȝate of þe temple, þat is feid fair, þat he ſchulde axe almes of men entrynge into þe temple.
 iii Þis, whanne he fyȝ Petre and John bigynnynge for to entre into þe temple, preiede þat he ſchulde take almes.
 iv Forsoþ Petre wiþ John biholdinge him, ſeide, Bihold into vs.
 v And he biheeld into hem, hopinge him to take ſum þing of hem.
 vi Forsoþ Petre ſeide, Siluer and gold is not to me; forſoþ þat þat I haue, I ȝyue to þee. In þe name of Jhesu Crift of Nazareth, ryse þou, and go.
 vii And 'his riȝthond takun, he lifte him vp; and anon þe groundis and plauntis, 'or folis, of him ben faddid to gidere; viii and he lippinge stood, and wandrider. And he entride wiþ hem into þe temple, wandryng, 'and lippinge, and heriyng God.
 ix And al þe peple fyȝ him walkinge, and heriyng God.
 x Forsoþ þei knewyn him, for he it was þat fat at almes at þe fair gate of þe temple. And þei weren fulfillid wiþ wondryng, and exſtasie, 'þat is, leefyng of mynde of 'resoun and lettinge of tunge, in þat þing þat bifel to him.

 xi Soplí whanne þei fyȝen Petre and John, al þe peple ran to hem at þe porche þat 'was clepid of Salomon, wondringe greetly.
 xii Forſoþ Petre feynge anſweride to þe peple, Men of Ifrael, what wondren ȝe in þis þing? or what biholden ȝe vs, as by oure vertu 'or power we maden þis for to walke?
 xiii God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob, God of oure fadris, 'haþ glorified his ſone Jhesu, whom ȝe ſoplí bitraiden, and denyeden before þe face of Pilate, 'him demyng for to be diſmyttid, 'or left.
 xiv 'ȝe forſoþ denyeden þe hooly and iuft, and axiden a 'man homeſide, or manſleer, for to be ȝouun to ȝou.
 xv Forſoþ ȝe flowen þe maker of lyf, whom God reiſide fro deed men, of whom we ben witneſſis.
 xvi And in þe feiþ of his name he haþ conſermyd þis, whom ȝe ſeen and han knowe; þe name of him, and þe feiþ þat is by him, ȝaf þis ful heelþe in þe ſiȝt of alle ȝou.
 xvii And now, breþeren, I woot þat by vnwiſtinge ȝe diden, as and ȝoure princes.
 xviii 'God forſoþ 'þat biſore toolde bi þe mouȝ of alle prophetis his Crift for to ſuffre, fulfillide ſo.
 xix Perfore be ȝe repentaunt, and be ȝe conuertið, þat ȝoure lynes be do awey, whanne þe tymes of kelynge, 'or refreſchinge, fro þe ſiȝt of þe Lord ſchulen come, xx and he ſchal ſende him þat is now prechid to ȝou, 'Jhesu Crift.
 xxi Whom ſobel i bihouette heuene for to refceyue, til into þe tyme of reſtitucioun of alle þingis, þe whiche þe Lord ſpak by þe mouȝ of his hooli prophetis fro þe world.
 xxii Forſoþ Moyses ſeide, For þe Lord ȝoure God ſchal reyſe to ȝou a prophete, of ȝoure briþeren; as me, ȝe ſchulen heere him vp alle þe þingis, what euere he ſchal ſpeke to ȝou.
 xxiii Forſoþ it ſchal be, euery ſoule þat ſchal not heere 'þe ilke propheti, ſchal be diſtryed of þe peple.
 xxiv And alle prophetis fro Samuel and aftirward, þat ſpaken, tolden þes dayes.
 xxv ȝe forſoþ ben þe ſones of prophetis, and of þe teſtament, þat God ordeynede to oure fadris, ſeyng to Abraham, In þi ſeed alle þe meyneſes of erþe ſchulen be bleſſid.
 xxvi God reyſinge his ſone firſt to ȝou, ſente him bleſſinge ȝou, þat ech man conuert him fro his wickydneſſe.

Capitulum IIII.

i Forſoþ 'hem ſpekinge to þe peple, preftis and magiſtratis of þe temple camen vpon, and Sadducees, ii forwyngē þat þei `schulden teche þe peple, and toolden into Jhesu aȝen ryfinge fro deed men.

 iii And þei leyden hondis into hem, and puttiden hem into kepinge til into þe morwe; soþli it was 'now euen.
 iii Forsoþ manye of hem þat hadden herd þe word, bileuyden; and þe noumber of 'hem is maad fyue þousendis.
 v Forsoþe in þe morwe it is don, þat þe princes of hem, and eldere men and scribes `schulden be gederid in Jerusalem;
 vi and Annas, prince of prestis, and Cayphas, and Joon, and Alisaundre, and how manye euere weren of þe kynde of preftis.
 vii And þei ordeynnge hem in þe myddel axiden, In what vertu, 'or what name, han ȝe don þis þing?
 viii Panne Petre fulfillid wiþ þe Hooly Gost, seide to hem, ȝe princes of þe peple, and eldre men, heere, ix If we to day ben demyd in þe good dedis of a fyke man, in þe which þis is maad saaf, x be it knowun to ȝou alle, and to al þe peple of Israelf, for in þe name of 'oure Lord Jhesu Crist of Nazareth, whom ȝe crucifieden, whom God reyside fro deed men, in þis þis man stondiþ hool biforn ȝou.
 xi ȝis is þe stoon, which was reproud of ȝou bildinge, þe which is maad into þe heed of þe corner;
 xii and heelþe is not in ony oþir. Forsoþ neþir oþir name is vndir heuene ȝouun to men, in þe which it bihoueþ vs to be maad saf.
 xiii Forsoþ þei seyngē þe stedfastnesse of Petre and John, founden þat þei weren men wiþ outhate lettris, and idiotis, wondriden, and knewen for þei weren wiþ Jhesu.
 xiv And seyngē þe man stondinge wiþ hem, þat was heelid, þei myȝten no þing wiþseye.
 xv Forsoþ þei comaundiden hem for to go forþ wiþoute þe counceil.
 xvi And þei spaken to gidere, seyngē, What schulen we do to þes men? for soþli þe sygne is maad knowun by hem to alle men, dwellinge at Jerusalem; it is opyn, and we mown not denye.
 xvii But þat it be no more pupplisched into þe peple, manale we to hem, þat þei speke no more in þis name to ony of men.
 xviii And þei clepinge hem denounisiden, þat on no maner þei schulden speke, ne teche, in þe name of Jhesu.
 xix Forsoþe Petre and John answeringe, seiden to hem, If it be riȝtful in þe siȝt of God for to heere ȝou rapere þan God, deme ȝe.
 xx Forsoþ we 'mown not not speke þe þingis þat we han seyn and herd.
 xxi And þei manasinge leften hem, 'not fyndyngē how þei schulden ponyfche hem, for þe peple; for alle men clarifiden þat þing þat was don in þat þing þat bifel.
 xxii Forsoþe þe man was more þan of fourty ȝeiris, in
 'þe which þis sygne of heelþe was maad.

xxiii Forsoþ þei left, camen to hern, and toolden to hem, how manye þingis þe princes and eldere men seiden to
 hem.
 xxiv þe whiche whanne þei herden, wiþ oon herte reysiden voys to þe Lord, and seiden, Lord, þou þat madist heuene and erþe, fee, and alle þingis þat ben in
 hem,
 xxv þe which by þe Hooly Gost, by þe mouþ of oure fadir Dauiþ, þi child, feidiſt, Whi heþene men wrappiden, 'or beten wiþ teeþ to gidere, and peplis þouȝten veyn þingis?
 xxvi Kyngis of þe erþe stooden nyȝ, and princes camen to gidere into oon, aȝens þe Lord, and aȝens his Crift.
 xxvii For þei camen to gidere verily in þis citee aȝens þi hooly child Jhesu, whom þou anoyntideſt, Heroude and Pounce Pilat, wiþ heþene men, and peplis of Israelf, xxviii for to do þe þingis, þat þin hond and þi counceil demiden for to be don.
 xxix And now, Lord, bihold into þe þretingis of hem, and ȝyue to þi seruauntis wiþ al trist for to speke þi word,
 xxx in þat þing þat þou holde forþ þin hond, heelpis and signes and wondris for to be maad by þe name of þin hooly sone Jhesu.
 xxxi And whanne þei hadden preied, þe place was moued, in which þei weren gederid; and alle 'ben fulfillid wiþ þe Hooly Gost, and spaken þe word of God wiþ trist.
 xxxii Forsoþ of þe multitude of men bileuyngē þer was oon herte and oon soule, 'or wille; neþir ony man seide ony þing 'of þo þingis þat he weeldide for to be his owne, but alle þingis weren comune to hem. xxxiii And wiþ greet vertu apostlis ȝoldun witnesсыng of þe aȝen ryfinge of Jhesu Crist oure Lord, and greet grace was in 'alle hem.
 xxxiv Forsoþ neþir ony nedy man was among hem, for how many euere weren possescioners, 'or weelders, of feeldis or howfis, þei sellynge brouȝten to þe prices of þo þingis þat þei solden, xxxv and puttiden biforn þe feet of apostlis. Forsoþ 'þei departiden to ech, as it was nede to ech.
 xxxvi Forsoþ Joseph, þat is named Barnabas of apostlis, þat is interpretid, þe sone of coumfort, a 'dekene, of þe kynde of Cypre, xxxvii whanne he hadde a feeld, folde it, and brouȝte to þe prijs, and puttide biforn þe feet of apostlis.

Capitulum V.

i Forsoþ sum man, Ananye by name, wiþ Safyra, his wife, feelden a feeld,
 ii and defraudide of þe prijs, his wyf guilty, 'or witinge.
 And he bryngynge sum part, puttide biforn þe feet of apostlis.

iii Forsoþ Petre seide, Anany, why hab Sathanas temtid pin herte, þee for to lye to be Hooly Gost, and for to defraude of þe prijs of þe feeld?
iii Wher it dwellinge dwelte not to þee; and it fold was in þi power? Whi hast þou put þis þing in þin herte?
Pou hast not lyed to men, but to God.
v Forsoþ Ananye heerynge þes wordis felde doun, and deiede. And greet drede was maad into alle þat herden.
vi Forsoþ ȝonge men ryfinge mouedyn hym awey, and `berynge out birieden.
vii Forsoþ þer was maad as þe space of þre houris, and þe wyf of him `not knowynge þat þing þat was don, `entride yn.
viii Forsoþ Petre answereide to hir, Womman, seye to me, if ȝe solden þe feeld for so moche? And she seide, ȝhe, so moche.
ix Forsoþ Petre seide to hir, What soþli `cam to gidere to ȝou, `or accordide, for to tempte þe spirit of þe Lord?
Lo! þe feet of hem þat han biried pin hosebonde at þe dore, and þei schulen bere þee out.
x Anoon she felde down at his feet, and deiede. Forsoþ þe ȝonge men entrynge founden hir deed, and þei baren out, and birieden to hir hosebonde.
xi And greet drede is maad in al þe chirche, and into alle þat herden þes þingis.
xii Forsoþ by þe hondis of apostlis signes and many wondris ben maad in þe peple. And alle weren `to gidere in þe porche of Salomon.
xiii Forsoþ no man of ȝdere durste ioyne him silf wiþ hem, but þe peple magnyfiede hem.
xiv Forsoþ þe multitude of men and wymmen bileuyng in þe Lord was more encrefid, xv so þat into streetis þei brouȝten out like men, and puttiden in little beddis and cowchis, þat Petre comynge, namely þe schadowe of him schulde schadowe ech of hem, and þei weren dilyuered fro `al fyknesse.
xvi Forsoþ þe multitude `of citees nyȝ to Jerusalem ran, brynginge to syk men, and trauelid of vnclene spritis, þe whiche weren heelid alle.
xvii Forsoþ þe prince of prestis ryfinge, and alle þat weren wiþ him, þat is þe herefye of Saducees, `ben fulfillid wiþ enuye;
xviii and leiden hondis into apostlis, and puttiden hem in comun kepyng.
xix Forsoþ þe aungel of þe Lord by nyȝte openyngre þe ȝate of þe prisoun, and ledinge hem out, seyde, xx Go ȝe, and `ȝe stondinge speke in þe temple to þe peple alle þe wordis of þis lyf.
xxi Pe whiche whanne þei hadden herd, entriden erly into þe temple, and tauȝten. Forsoþ þe prince of prestis comynge, and þei þat weren wiþ him, clepiden togidere þe council, and alle þe eldere men of þe fones of Israel; and senten to þe prisoun, þat þei schulden be brouȝt forþ.

xxii Soþli whanne þe mynistris camen, and, þe prisoun openyd, `founden hem not, xxiii þei turned aȝen telden, seyng, Forsoþ we founden þe prisoun schit wiþ al diligence, and þe keperis stondinge at þe ȝatis; forsoþ we openyngre founden no man þer ynne.
xxiv Soþli as þe magestratis of þe temple, and þe princes of prestis herden þese wordis, þei doutiden `of hem, what `schulde be don.
xxv Forsoþe sum man `comynge to, tolde to hem, For lo! þo men whom ȝe han put into prisoun, ben in þe temple, stondinge, and techinge þe peple.
xxvi Panne þe magestrat wente wiþ mynistris, and brouȝten hem to wiþ outen strengþe; forsoþ þei dreden þe peple, left þei schulden be stooned `to deeþ.
xxvii And whanne þei hadden brouȝt hem to, þei ordeyneden in þe council; and þe princes of prestis axiden hem,
xxviii seyinge, In comaundingre we comaundiden ȝou, þat ȝe schulden not teche in þis name, and lo! ȝe han fulfillid Jerusalem wiþ ȝoure teching, and ȝe wolen bryngre yn on vs þe blood of þis man.
xxix Forsoþ Petre answeringe, and apostlis, seiden, It bihouȝ for to obeye to God, more þan to men.
xxx Pe God of oure fadris reyside Jhesu, whom ȝe flowen, hangyng in a tree.
xxxi God enhaunȝide wiþ his riȝthond þis prince and faþour, for to ȝyue penaunce to Ifrael, and remyſcioun of synnes.
xxxii And we ben witnessis of þes wordis, and þe Hooly Gost, whom God ȝaf to alle obeischinge to him.
xxxiii Whanne þei herden þes þingis, þei weren turmentid, and þouȝten for to fle hem.
xxxiv Forsoþ sum man ryfinge in þe council, a Pharise, Gamaliel by name, a doctour of þe lawe, a worshipful man to al þe peple, comaundide men for to be maad wiþoute forþ to a schort tyme.
xxxv And he seide to hem, ȝe men of Ifrael, take tent to ȝou silf on þes men, what ȝe be to doyngre.
xxxvi Forsoþ bifore þes dayes Theodas was, seyinge him silf for to be sum man, to whom a noumbe of men consentide, aboute foure hundrid; þe which is flayn, and alle whiche euere bileueden to him, ben disperplid, and brouȝt to nouȝt.
xxxvii Aftir þis, Judas Galilee was in þo dayes of profesioun, and turnede awey þe peple aftir him; and alle how manye euere consentiden to him, ben scaterid, and he perischede.
xxxviii And now soþli I seie to ȝou, departe ȝe fro þes men, and suffre ȝe hem; for if it `is of men þis council or werk, it schal be vndon; xxxix forsoþe if it is of God, ȝe mown not vndo hem.
`But suffre ȝe hem, leſt perauenture and ȝe be foundun for to repugne God.
xl Forsoþ þei consentiden to him; and þei clepinge `to gidere apostlis, denounciden to hem betun, þat þei ſchulde no more ſpeke in þe name of Jhesu, and leſten hem.

xli And ſoþli þei wenten ioyinge fro þe fiȝt of þe counceil, for þei ben had worþi for to ſuffre diſpyſing, 'or wrong, for þe name of Jhesu.

xlii Forſoþ ech day þei ceeffiden not in þe temple, and aboute houſis, techinge and euangeliſyng Jhesu Crift.

Capitulum VI.

i Forſoþ in þo dayes, þe noumbre of diſciplis wexyng, grucchinge of Greekis is maad aȝens Ebrews, for þat þe widewis of hem weren diſpiſid in euery daies mynistring.

ii Forſoþ þe twelue clepinge to gidere þe multitude of diſciplis, feiden, It is not euene þing, 'vs to forſake þe word of God, and for to mynifre to bordis.

iii Perfore, breþeren, biholde ȝe men of ȝou, of good wiþneſſing, 'or fame, ſeuene, ful of þe Hooly Goft and wyſdom, whom we ſchulen ordeyne on þis werk;

iv forſoþ we ſchulen be bifly to preier and mynifterie, 'or preching, of þe word.

v And þe word pleſide to al þe multitude; and þei cheefiden Stheuene, a man ful of feiþ and þe Hooly Goft, and Philip, and Proture, and Nichanore, and Tymon, and Permanam, and Nichol, a geſt, 'or comelyng, Antiochene.

vi Pei ordeyneden þeſe biſore þe fiȝt of apoftis, and þei preiyng puttiden þe hondis to hem.

vii And þe word of þe Lord wexide, and þe noumbre of diſciplis in Jeruſalem was multiplied moche; alſo moche cumpanye of preſtis obeiden to þe feiþ.

viii 'Stheuene, ful of grace and ſtrengþe, made wondris and grete ſigñes in þe peple.

ix Forſoþ ſumme riſen of þe synagogue, þat was clepid of Libertyns, and Cirenensis, and of men of Alifaundre, and of hem þat were of Cilice and Afye, diſputyng wiþ Stheuene.

x And þei myȝten not wiþtonde to þe wyſdom and ſpirit, þat ſpak.

xi Panne þei priuely ſenten men, þat ſchulden ſeye, hem haue herd him ſeyinge wordis of blaſphemye into Moyses and God.

xii And ſo þei moueden to gidere þe peple, and eldere men, and ſcribis; and þei rennyng to gidere rauyscheden him, and brouȝten to into þe counceil.

xiii And þei ordeyneden falſe wiþneſſis, ſeyinge, Þis man ceeffiþ not for to ſpeke wordis aȝens þe hooly place, and lawe.

xiv Forſoþ we herden hym ſeyinge, For þis Jhesus of Nazareth ſchal diſtroye þis place, and ſchal chaunge tradicioſuns, þe whiche Moyses bytook to vs.

xv And alle men þat ſaten in þe counceil biholdinge him, fyȝen þe face of him as þe face of an aungel.

Capitulum VII.

i Forſoþ þe prince of preſtis feide to Stheuene, If þes þingis han hem so?

ii þe which ſeiþ, Men breþeren, and fadris, heere ȝe. God of glorie apperide to oure fadir Abraham, whanne he was in Mesopotanye, biſore he dwelte in Carram, iii and feide to him, Go out of þi lond, and of þi cognacioun, 'or kynrede, and come into þe lond, 'þe which I ſchal ſchewe to þee.

iv Panne he wente out of þe lond of Caldeys, and dwelte in Carram. And þennis aftir þat his fadir was deed, he tranflatide hym into þis lond, in which ȝe dwellen now.

v And he ȝaf not to him heritage in it, noþer a paas of foot, but he aȝenbihiȝte for to ȝyue to him it into poſſefcioun, and to his feed aftir him, whanne he hadde not a ſone.

vi Forſoþ God ſpak to him, For his feed ſchal be cumelyng, 'or geſt, in an alien lond, and þei ſchulen 'fugette hem to feruage, and ſchulen yuele trete hem, foure hundrid ȝeeriſ and þrittý;

vii and I ſchal iuge þe folk, to which þei ſchulen ferue, ſeiþ þe Lord. And aftir þeſe þingis þei ſchulen go out, and þei ſchulen ferue to me in þis place.

viii And he ȝaf to him þe teſtament of circumciſioun; and ſo he gendride Yſaac, and circumcidide him in þe eiȝtiþ day. And Yſaac gendride Jacob, and Jacob þe twelue patriarkis.

ix And þe patriarkis hauyng enuye to Joseph, folden hym into Egipt. And God was wiþ hym, x and delyuered him of alle his tribulacioſuns, and ȝaf to him grace and wyſdom in þe fiȝt of Pharao, kyng of Egipt. And he ordeynede him prepoſt, 'or ſouereyn, on Egipt, and on al his hous.

xi Forſoþ hungir cam into al Egipt, and Canaan, and greet tribulacioſun; and oure fadris founden not metis.

xii Forſoþ whanne Jacob herde, whete 'for to be in Egipt, he ſente oure fadris firſt.

xiii And in þe ſecunde tyme Jofep was knowyn of his briþeren, and his kyn is maad knowun to Pharao.

xiv Forſoþ Jofep ſendyng clepide to Jacob, his fadir, and al his cognacioun, in foulis ſeuenty and fyue.

xv And Jacob deſſendide into Egipt, and is deed, he and oure fadris; xvi and þei ben tranflatid into Sichen, and ben putt in þe ſepulcre, þat Abraham bouȝte by priys of filuer of þe ſones of Emor, þe ſone of Sichen.

xvii Forſoþ whanne þe tyme of biheefte cam nyȝ, þe which God hadde knowlechid to Abraham, þe peple waxe, and was multiplied in Egipt, xviii til anoþer kyng roos in Egipt, þe which knew not Joseph.

xix Þis bigylinge oure peple, turmentide oure fadris, þat þei ſchulden putte out her ȝonge children, leſt þei were quykened.

xx In þe same tyme Moyses was born, and he was acceptid, 'or louyd, of God; and he was norischid þre moneþis in þe hous of his fadir.
xxi Forsoþ him putt out, þe douȝtir of Pharao took him vp, and norischide him into a sone to hir.
xxii And Moyses was lernd in al þe wyfdom of Egipcians, and he was myȝty in his wordis and werkis.
xxiii Forsoþ whanne þe tyme of twenti ȝeer was fulfillid to him, it stiȝede vp into his herte, þat he schulde visite his breþeren, þe sones of Israel.
xxiv And whanne he fyȝ sum man suffringe wrong, he vengide him, and dide veniaunce to him þat suffride wrong; þe Egipcian flayn.
xxv Forsoþ he geffide breþeren 'for to vndirstonde, for God by þe hond of hym schulde ȝyue to hem heelþe; but þei vndirstoden not.
xxvi Forsoþ in þe day suyng he apperide to hem chidinge, and recounsilide hem in pees, seyinge, Men, ȝe ben breþeren; wherto noyen ȝe ech oþir?
xxvii Forsoþ he þat dide wrong to his neȝebore, puttide him awey, seyinge, Who ordeynede þee prince and domesman vpon vs?
xxviii Wher þou wolt fle me, as ȝistiday þou killidist þe Egipcian?
xxix Forsoþe in þis word Moyses flyȝ, and was maad a comeling in þe lond of Madian, where he gendrider twey fones.
xxx And fourty ȝeer fulfillid, an aungel apperide to him in fyer of flame of a boisch, in desert of þe mount of Syna.
xxxi Forsoþe Moyses seyng wondride þe liȝt. And 'him comynge to þat he schulde biholde, þe vois of þe Lord is maad to him, xxvii seyinge, I am God of ȝoure fadris, God of Abraham, God of Ysaac, God of Jacob. Moyses maad tremeling, durste not biholde.
xxxiii Forsoþe God seide to him, Vnbynd þe schon of þi feet, for þe place in which þou stondist is hooli erþe.
xxxiv I seyng fyȝ þe affliccioun, 'or tormentyng, of my peple þat is in Egipt, and I herde þe mornyng of hem, and I caam down for to delyuere hem. And now come þou, and I schal lende þee into Egipt.
xxxv Þis Moyses, whom þei denyeden, seyinge, Who ordeyned þee prince and domesman on vs? God sente þis prince and aȝenbyer, wiþ þe hond of þe aungel, þat apperide to hym in þe boisch.
xxxvi Þis ledde hem out, doyng wondris and sygnes in þe lond of Egipt, and in þe reede see, in desert fourty ȝeiris.
xxxvii Þis is Moyses, þat seide to þe sones of Israel, God schal reise to ȝou a prophete of ȝoure breþeren, as me ȝe schulen heere him.
xxxviii Þis is, þat was in þe chirche in wildirnesse, wiþ þe aungel þat spak to him in þe mount Syna, and wiþ ȝoure fadris; þe which took wordis of lyf for to ȝyue to vs.

xxxix To whom ȝoure fadris wolden not obeye, but puttiden him awei, and ben turned awei in her hertis into Egipt, xl feyng to Aaron, Make þou to vs goddis, þat schulen go bifore vs; forsoþe to þis Moyses, þat ledde vs out of þe lond of Egipt, we witen not, what is don to him.
xli And þei maden a calf in þo dayes, and offriden 'an oost to þe symylacre; and þei gladiden in þe werkis of her hondis.
xlii Forsoþ God turnyde, and bitook hem 'for to ferue to þe knyȝthod of heuene, as it is writun in þe book of prophetis, Where ȝe offriden to me flayn sacrificis, 'or oostis, fourty ȝeiris in desert, ȝe 'hous of Israel?
xliii And ȝe han takun þe tabernacle of Moloc, and þe sterre of ȝoure god Rempham, figuris þat ȝe han maad for to worhipe hem; and I schal tranlate ȝou into Babiloyne.
xlvii Þe tabernacle of witnesȝing was wiþ ȝoure fadris in desert, as God disposeide to hem, spekinge to Moyses, þat he schulde make it vp þe foorme þat he fyȝ.
xliii ȝe which and ȝoure fadris takinge 'wiþ Jhesu, brouȝten into possescioune of heben men, þe which God puttide awey fro þe face of ȝoure fadris, xlii til in þe dayes of Dauip, þat fond grace anentis God, and axide þat he schulde fynde a tabernacle to God of Jacob.
xliii Salomon forsoþe bildide an hows to him.
xliii But þe hiȝe dwelliȝ not in maade þingis by hond, as he seiþ by þe prophete, xliii Heuene is a feete to me, þe erþe forsoþ þe stool of my feet; what hous schulen ȝe bylde to me, seiþ þe Lord, or what place of my resting?
i Wher myn hond made not alle þes þingis?
ii Wiþ hard nol, and vncircumcidid hertis and eeris ȝe wiþstonden euermore þe Hooly Gooft; as and ȝoure fadris, so and ȝe.
iii Whom of þe prophetis han not ȝoure fadris purfued, and han flayn hem þat bifore teelden of þe comynge of þe iuȝt, whos traitours and mansleeris ȝe weren now?
iv ȝe whiche token þe lawe in ordynaunce of aungels, and han not kept.
vii Forsoþe þei heeringe þes þingis, weren dyuerfly turmentid in her hertis, and gnaȝtiden, 'or grennyden, into him.
vi Forsoþe whanne Stheuene was ful of þe Hooly Gooft, he biholdinge into heuene, fyȝ þe glorie of God, and Jhesu stondinge on þe riȝthalf of þe vertu of God.
vii And he seiþ, Lo! I see heuenes openyd, and þe sone of man stondinge on þe riȝt half of þe vertu of God.
viii Forsoþ þei criyng wiþ grete voises, heelden to gidere her eeris, and maden 'to gidere afaȝt, 'or feersnesse, in to him.
ix And þei castinge him out of þe cytee Stoonyden. And witnessis diden of her cloþis, bifydis þe feet of a ȝong man, þat was clepid Saul.

lix And þei stoonyden Steuene ynclepinge, and seyinge, Lord Jhesu, receyue my spirit.

lx Forþoþ 'þe knees putt, he criede wiþ greet vois, seyinge, Lord, sette not to hem þis synne; 'for þei witen not what þei don. And whanne he hadde seid þis þing, he slepte in þe Lord.

Capitulum VIII.

i Forþoþ Saul was consentynge to his deep. Forþoþ greet persecucioun was maad in þat day in þe chirche, þat was in Jerusalem. And alle men weren scaterid by þe cuntrees of Judee and Samarie, out takun apostlis.

ii Forþoþ men dredeful 'curiden, or birieden, Stheuene, and maden greet moornynge on him.

iii Forþoþ Saul greetli distroyede þe chirche, entringe by howfis, drawynge men and wymmen, bitook into kepyng, 'or prisoun.

iv Forþoþ þerfore þei þat weren scaterid, paffyden forþ, euangelynge þe word of God.

v Forþoþ Philip comynge down into a citee of Samarie, prechide to hem Crist.

vi Forþoþ þe cumpanyes ȝauen tent to þes þingis þat weren seid of Philip, 'to gidere heeringe and seyinge þe signes þat he dide.

vii Forþoþe manye of hem þat hadden vnclene spiritis, cryinge wiþ greet vois, wenten out. Forþoþe manye fyke in palafye, and crokide, ben heelid.

viii Ȣerfore gret ioye is maad in þat citee.

ix Forþoþ þer was sum man, Symound by name, þe which before was in þe citee a wicche, disfeyuyng þe folk of Samarie, feyng him silf for to be sum greet man.

x To whom alle herkenyden, fro þe leeste til to þe mooste, seyng, Ȣis is þe vertu of God, þe which is clepid greet.

xi Forþoþe alle bihelden him, for þis þing, þat moche tyme he hadde maad hem mad, 'or wood, wiþ his wicchingis.

xii Soplí whanne þei hadden bileuyde to Philip, euangelysing of þe kyngdom of God, in þe name of Jhesu Crist, men and wymmen weren baptiside.

xiii ȝanne Symound 'and he bileuyde; and whanne he was baptysid, he clyuede to Philip; he seyng signes and moost vertues 'for to be maad, dredinge wondride.

xiv Forþoþ whanne apostlis þat weren at Jerusalem, hadden herd for Samarie receyuede þe word of God, þei fenten to hem Petre and John.

xv Pe welche whanne þei camen, preieden for hem, þat þei schulden receyue þe Hooly Gost;

xvi forþoþ not ȝit he cam into ony of hem, but þei weren baptysid oonly in þe name of þe Lord Jhesu.

xvii ȝanne þei puttiden hondis on hem, and þei receyueden þe Hooly Gost.

xviii Forþoþ whanne Symound hadde seyn, for þe Hooly Gost was ȝouun by putting on of þe hond of apostlis, he offride to hem money, xix seyinge, 'ȝyue ȝe to me and þis power, þat to whom euere I schal putte on hondis, he receyue þe Hooly Gost.

xx Forþoþ Petre seide to him, 'Pi money be wiþ þee into perdicoun, for þou geſſidist þe ȝifte of God for to be had, 'or weeldid, by money.

xxi Part is not to þee, neþir fort, in þis word, for þin herte is not riȝtful bifore God.

xxii 'And so do þou penaunce fro þis þi wickidnesse, and preie God, if peraumentre þis þouȝt of þin herte be forȝouun to þee.

xxiii Forþoþ in galle of bittirnesse and bond of wickidnesse 'I se þee for to be.

xxiv Forþoþ Symound answeringe, seide, Preie ȝe for me to þe Lord, þat no þing of þes þat ȝe han seid, come on me.

xxv And þei witnellinge and spekinge þe word of þe Lord, ȝeden aȝen to Jerusalem, and euangelisiden to manye cuntrees of Samaritans.

xxvi Forþoþ an aungel of þe Lord spak to Philip, seyng, Ryse þou, and go aȝens þe souþ, to þe weye þat god doun fro Jerusalem into Gasam; þis is 'desert weye.

xxvii And he risyng, wente forþ. And lo! a man of Ethiopie, 'geldyng, myȝti of þe queene Candace of Ethiopiens, þe which was on alle hir richeſſis, cam for to worshipe in Jerusalem.

xxviii And he turnyde aȝen, fittinge on his chare, and redyng Yfaie, þe prophete.

xxix Forþoþ þe spirit seide to Philip, 'Come to, and ioyne þee to þis chare.

xxx Forþoþ Philip 'rennyng to, herde hym redinge Yfaie, þe prophete. And he seyde, Geſſist þou, wher þou vndirstondist, what þingis þou redist?

xxxi Pe which seiþ, And how may I, if 'sum man schal not schewe to me? And he preiede Philip, þat he schulde stiȝe vp, and sitte wiþ him.

xxxii Forþoþe þe place of scripture þat he radde, was þis, As a scheep to fleyng he was led, and as a lomb before a man scheringe him is doumb wiþ ouþe vois, so he openyde not his mouþ.

xxxiii In mekenesse his dom is takyn vp; who schal telle out þe generacioun of hym? For his lyf schal be takyn awey fro þe erþe.

xxxiv Forþoþ þe 'gelding answeringe to Philip, seide, I biseche þee, of what prophete seiþ he þis þing? of him, or of ony oþir?

xxxv Forþoþe Philip openyng his mouþ, and bigynnynge at þis scripture, euangeliside to hym Jhesu.
xxxvi And þe while þei wenten bi þe weye, þei camen to sum watir. And þe 'geldyng seiþ, Loo! watir; who forbediþ me for to be baptysid?

xxxvii Forsoþ Philip feide, If þou bileuyft of al þe herte, it is leefful. And he answeringe, seip, I bileue þe sone of God `for to be Jhesu. xxxviii And he comaundide þe chare for to stonde. And þei wenten doun boþe into þe watir, Philip and þe gelding, and he baptysyde him.
xxxix Forsoþe whanne `he stiȝede vp of þe watir, þe spirit of þe Lord rauyschide Philip, and þe geldyng syȝ him no more. Forsoþ he wente ioyinge by his weye.
xl Forsoþ Philip is foundun in Afoto; and he `passinge forþ, euangeliside to alle citees, til he cam to Cefarye.

Capitulum IX.

i Saul, ȝit brebere, `or blowere, of manastis and betyng, `or fleyng, into disciplis of þe Lord, cam nyȝ to þe princes of prestis, ii and axide of him epistlis into Damaske, to synagogis; þat if he founde ony men and wymmen of þis lyf, he schulde lede boundyn to Jerusalem.
iii And whanne he made iourney, it bifel, þat he cam nyȝ to Damaske. And fudeynly liȝt fro heuene schon aboute hym; iv and he fallinge into þe erþe, herde a vois seyinge to hym, Saul, Saul, what pursuest þou me?
v Þe which feide, Who art þou, Lord? And he, I am Jhesu of Nazareth, whom þou pursuest. It is hard to bee, for to kyke aȝens þe pricke.
vi And he `tremblinge and wondringe, feide, Lord, what wolt þou `me for to do. And þe Lord to him, Ryse þou, and entre in to þe citee, and it schal be feide to bee, what `it bihoueþ þee for to do.
vii Forsoþe þo men þat wenten wiþ him, stooden maad ferd, `or out of mynde; soþli heeringe a vois, `forsoþe seyng no man.
viii Forsoþe Saul roos fro þe erþe; and `þe ȝyzen openyd, he syȝ no þing. Forsoþ þei drawinge him to hondis, ledden into Damask.
ix And he was þre daies not seyng; and he eet not, neþer drank.
x Forsoþ sum disciple was at Damask, by name Ananye. And þe Lord feide to him in a visiou, Ananye. And he seip, Lo! I, Lord.
xi And þe Lord to him, Ryse þou, and go into a streete þat is clepid Rectus; and seke, in þe hous of Judas, Saul by name Tarfence. Forsoþ lo! he preieþ; xii and he syȝ a man Ananye by name, entringe and puttinge to hym hondis, þat he receyue liȝt.
xiii Forsoþe Ananye answерide, Lord, I haue herd of manye of þis man, how `manye yuele þingis he dide to þi seyntis in Jerusalem; xiv and þis haþ power of þe princes of prestis, for to bynde alle men þat `inclepen þi name.
xv Forsoþ þe Lord feide to him, Go þou, for þis is to me a vessel of chesyng, þat he bere my name bifore heþen men, and kingis, and þe sones of Israel.

xvi Forsoþe I schal schewe to him, how manye þingis it bihoueþ him for to suffre for my name.
xvii And Ananye wente, and entride into þe hous; and `he puttinge to him þe hondis, feide, Saul broþir, þe Lord Jhesu sente me, þat apperide to þee in þe weye, in which þou cameſt, þat þou fe, and be fulfillid wiþ þe Hooly Gost.
xviii And anon þer felden from his ȝyzen as scalis, and he receyuede liȝt. And he `risinge is baptisid.
xix And whanne he hadde takun mete, he was comfortid. Forsoþ he was wiþ disciplis, þat weren at Damask, by summe dayes.
xx And anoon he entrynge into þe synagogis, prechide þe Lord Jhesu, for þis is þe sone of God.
xxi Forsoþ alle men þat herden him, wondriden, and feiden, Wher `þis is not þat inpuȝide in Jerusalem hem þat inclepiden þis name? and hidir to þis þing he cam, þat he schulde lede hem bounden to þe princes of prestis.
xxii Forsoþe Saul moche more wexide strong, and confoundide þe Jewis þat dwelliden at Damask, `affermynge for þis is Crist.
xxiii Forsoþ whanne manye dayes weren fulfillid, Jewis maden a counceil, þat þei schulden flee him.
xxiv Forsoþe þe aspies of hem ben maad knowun to Saul. Forsoþe þei kepten and þe ȝatis day and nyȝt, þat þei schulden fle him.
xxv Forsoþe his disciplis `takynge him in nyȝt, `bi þe wal leften him, sendinge doun in a leep.
xxvi Forsoþ whanne he cam into Jerusalem, he `temptide, or afaiede, for to ioyne him to disciplis; and alle dredden him, `not bileuyng he was a disciple.
xxvii Forsoþ Barnabas `ledde him takun to apostolis, and telde to hem, how in þe weye he hadde seyn þe Lord, and for he spak to him, and how in Damask he dide tristily in þe name of Jhesu.
xxviii And he was wiþ hem, `entringe and goyng out in Jerusalem, doyng tristily in þe name of þe Lord.
xxix And he spaak to heþene men, and disputide wiþ Grekis. Forsoþe þei souȝten for to fle him.
xxx Þe which þing whanne breþeren hadden knowe, þei ledden him in nyȝt to Cesarie, and leften to Taris.
xxxi Soþli þe chirche by al Judee, and Galile, and Samarie hadde pees, and was edifyed, walkinge in þe drede of þe Lord, and was fulfillid wiþ comfort of þe Hooly Gost.
xxxii Forsoþ it is maad, þat Petre, þe while he passide alle, cam to þe hooly men þat dwelliden at Lidde.
xxxiii Forsoþe he fond þere sum man, Eneas by name, fro eiȝte ȝeris ligynge in bedd; þe which was fyke in paleſye.
xxxiv And Petre seiþ to him, Eneas, þe Lord Jhesu Crist heele þee; ryfe þou, and dresse to þee. And anoon he roos.
xxxv And alle men þat dwelliden at Lidde, and Sarone, syȝen hym, þe whiche ben conuertid to þe Lord.

xxxvi Forsoþ in Joppe was sum disciplisse, bi name Tabыта, þe which interpretid, is seid Dorcas. Þis was ful of goode werkis and almesdedis, þat sche dide.
 xxxvii Forsoþ it is maad in þo dayes, þat sche `maad syk deide. Þe whiche whanne þei hadde wayschun, þei puttiden hir in a `souping place.
 xxxviii Forsoþ whanne Lidda was nyȝ fro Joppe, disciplis `heeringe for Petre was in it, senten twey men to him, preiynge, þat þou tarie not for to come `til to vs.
 xxxix Soplí Petre `ryſinge vp cam wiþ hem. And whanne he cam, þei ledden him into þe `souping place. And alle widewis stooden aboue hym, wepinge, and schewinge cootis and clopis, þe whiche Dorcas maade to hem.
 xl Forsoþe `alle men cast out wiþoute forþ, Petre `puttinge þe knees, preiede. And he turnyd to þe body, feide, Tabita, ryse þou. And sche openyde þe yȝen, and `Petre seyn, saat vp aȝen.
 xli Forsoþ he ȝyuynge to hir þe hond, reyside hir. And whanne he hadde clepid hooly men and widewis, he affignede hir quyk.
 xlvi Forsoþ it is maad knowun by al Joppe; and þei bileuyden in þe Lord.
 xlvii Forsoþ it is maad, þat many dayes he dwellide in Joppe, at Symound, sum coriour, `or tawier.

Capitulum X.

i Forsoþ sum man was in Cesarie, Cornelii by name, centurio, `þat is, hauynge an hundred men vndir hym, of þe cumpayne of knyȝtis, þat is feid of Ytalie;
 ii a religious man, and dredinge þe Lord, wiþ al his meyne; doyng manye almeſſis to þe peple, and preiynge þe Lord euermore.
 iii Þis fyȝ in a uysioun opynli, as in þe nynþe hour, `or noon, an aungel of God entrynge into hym, and feyng `to him, Cornelii.
 iv And he biholdinge hym, takyn wiþ drede seyde, Who art þou, Lord? Forsoþ he feide to him, Pi preieris and þin almeſdedis han stiȝed vp into mynde, in þe siȝ of þe Lord.
 v And now fende men into Joppe, and clepe `sum man, Symound, þat is namyd Petre.
 vi Þis is herborid at sum man, Symound, coriour, whos hous is bifydis þe see. Þis schal seie to þee, what it bihoueþ þee for to do.
 vii And whanne þe aungel þat spak to him, hadde gon a wey, he clepide tweyne `his homely men, and a knyȝt dredinge þe Lord, of hem þat obeischeden to him.
 viii To which, whanne he hadde told alle þingis, he sente hem into Joppe.
 ix Forsoþ on þe day suyng, `hem makinge iourney, and neiȝynge to þe citee, Petre stiȝede vp into þe hiȝere þingis of þe hous, þat he schulde preie, aboue þe sixte hour.

x And whanne he hungride, he wolde taste, `or ete. Forsoþ `hem makinge redy, an axces of soule, `or rauysching of spirit, fel on hym; xi and he fyȝ heuene openyd, and sum vessel comynge doun, as a greet scheete wiþ foure cordis, for to be sent doun fro heuene into erþ, xii in þe which weren alle foure footide beeſtis, and crepinge þingis of erþe, and volatils of heuene, `or eyr.
 xiii And a vois is maad to hym, Ryse, Petre, flee, and ete.
 xiv Forsoþe Petre seiþ, Lord, ferr be it `fro me, for I neuere eet al comyn þing and vnclene.
 xv And eft þe secunde tyme þe vois to him, þat þing þat God hab̄ clensid, `þou schalt not seie vnclene.
 xvi Forsoþ þis þing is don by þries; and a non þe vessel is receyued into heuene.
 xvii And þe while Petre wiþ ynne hym doutide, what þe visioun was which he fyȝ, lo! þe men, þat weren sent fro Cornelie, sekinge þe hous of Symound, stoden nyȝ at þe zate.
 xviii And whanne þei hadden clepid, þei axiden if Symound, þat was named Petre, hadde þer herbore.
 xix Forsoþe `Petre þenkinge on þe visioun, a spirit seide to him, Lo! þre men seken þee.
 xx `And so ryse þou, and go doun, and go wiþ hem, `no þing doutynge, for I sente hem.
 xxi Forsoþ Petre comynge doun to þe men, feide, I am, whom ȝe seken; what is þe caufe, for which ȝe han comen?
 xxii þe whiche feiden, Cornelie, centurio, a iuft man, and dredinge God, and hauynge good witnelling of alle þe folk of Jewis, took answere of an hooly aungel, for to clepe þee into his hous, and for to heere wordis of þee.
 xxiii Perfore he ledinge hem wiþ ynne, receyuede in herbore. Forsoþ in þe day suyng he ryſinge, wente forþ wiþ hem; and summe of breþeren fro Joppe folowiden hym, `þat þei be witnelliſ to Petre.
 xxiv Forsoþ an ober day he entride into Cesarie. Forsoþ Cornelie abood hem, his cosyns and necessarie frendis clepid to gidere.
 xxv And it is don, whanne Petre hadde entrid, Cornelie cam metinge him, and fallinge doun at his feet, he worshipeþ him.
 xxvi Petre soplí reyside him, seyng, `Ryse, and I my ſilf am a man, as and þou.
 xxvii And he ſpekinge wiþ him, `entride yn, and fond manye þat camen to gidere.
 xxviii And he feide to hem, ȝe witen, how abhomynable it is to a man Jew, for to be ioyned `or for to come to an alien; but God ſchewide to me, no man `for to feie a man comyn, or vnclene.
 xxix For which þing I `clepid cam. Perfore I axe ȝou, for what caule han ȝe clepid me?
 xxx And Cornelie seiþ, Fro þe fourþe day paſſid til to þis hour, I faſtinge was preiynge in þe nynþe hour in myn hous. And lo! a man stood bifore me in a whit cloþ, xxxii and seiþ, Cornelie, þi preier is herd, and þin almesdedis ben in mynde in þe fïst of God.

xxxiii Perfore sende into Joppe, and clepe Symound, þat is named Petre; þis is herborid in þe hous of Symound coriour, bifydis þe see. Þis, whan he schal come, schal speke to þee.
xxxiv Perfore anon I fente to þee, and þou didist wel in comynge to vs. Now perfore we alle ben present in þi fïst, for to heere þe wordis, what euere ben comaundid to þee of þe Lord.
xxxv Forsoþ Petre openyng his mouþ, seide, In treue I haue foundyn, for God is not acceptour of persoones; xxxv but in ech folk he þat drediþ God, and worchiþ riȝtwysnesse, is accept to him.
xxxvi God fente a word to þe sones of Israel, schewinge pees by Jhesu Crist; þis is God of alle men.
xxxvii ȝe witen þe word þat is maad bi al Judee, 'forsoþ bigynnynge fro Galilee, aftir þe baptym þat John prechide, xxxviii Jhesu of Nazareth; how God anoyntide him wiþ þe Hooly Gost, and vertu; þe which 'þorw passide in wel doyng, and heeling alle men oppressid of þe deuyl, for God was wiþ him.
xxxix And we ben witnesſis of alle þingis, 'þe whiche he dide in þe cuntree of Jewis, and Jerusalem; whom þei floweren, hongyng in a tree.
xl God reyfide þis in þe þridde day, and ȝaf him for to 'be maad knowun, xli not to ech peple, but to witnesſis bifore ordeyned 'of God; to vs þat eetyn and drunkyn wiþ him, aftir þat he roos aȝen fro deed men.
xlii And he comaundide to vs for to preche to þe peple, and for to witnesse, 'for he is, þat is ordeyned of God domesman of quyke and deede.
xliii To þis alle prophetis beren witnessiñg, alle men þat bileuen into him, 'for to receyue remyscioun of synnes by his name.
xliiiii 'ȝit Petre spekinge þes wordis, þe Hooly Gost fell on alle þat herden þe word.
xlv And þe feiþful, 'or cristen, men of circumcisioun wondriden, þat camen wiþ Petre, and for into naciouns þe grace of þe Hooly Gost is sched out.
xlivi Forsoþ þei herden hem spekinge 'wiþ tungis, or langagis, and magnyfyng God. Panne Petre answeride, xlvii Wher ony man may forbede watir, þat þese be not baptysid, þat han receyued þe Hooly Gost as and we?
xlviii And he comaundide hem for to be baptysid in þe name of þe Lord Jhesu Crist. Panne þei preieden him, þat he schulde dwelle wiþ hem summe dayes.

Capitulum XI.

i Forsoþ apostlis herden, þat were in Judee, 'for and heþene men receyueden þe word of God, and þei glorifieden God.
ii Forsoþ whanne Petre cam to Jerusalem, þei þat weren of circumcisioun, disputiden aȝens him, iii seiþ, Whi entridist þou to men hauyng prepucie, and haſt ete wiþ hem?
iv Petre soþli bigynnynge, expownede to hem þe ordre, seiþ, v I was in þe citee of Joppe preiyng, and I syȝ in 'excels of my soule a visioun, sum vessel comynge down as a greet scheete, 'or lynnен cloþ, wiþ foure cordis 'for to be sent down fro heuene; and it cam 'til to me.
vi Into which I biholdinge biheeld, and syȝ foure footide þingis of erþe, and beestis, and crepinge þingis, and volatils of þe eyr.
vii Forsoþ I herde and a voys seyinge to me, Petre, ryse, fle, and ete.
viii Forsoþ I seide, Nay, Lord; comyn þing or vnclene, entride neuere into my mouþ.
ix Soþli þe vois answereide þe secunde tyme fro heuene, 'Þo þingis þat God haþ clensid, 'þou schalt not seye vnclene.
x Forsoþ þis is don bi þries, and alle þingis ben receyued aȝen into heuene.
xi And lo! þre men anon stooten nyȝ in þe hous, in which I was, sent fro Cesarie to me.
xii Forsoþ a spirit seide to me, þat I schulde go wiþ hem, 'no þing doutynge. Forsoþ and þes fixe breþeren camen wiþ me, and we entriden into þe hous of þe man.
xiii Soþli he tealde, how he syȝ an aungel in his hous, stondinge and seyinge to him, Sende into Joppe, and clepe Symound, þat is namyd Petre, xiv þe which schal speke to þee wordis, in whiche þou schalt be saf, and al þin hous.
xv Forsoþ whanne I hadde bigunne for to speke, þe Hooly Gost fel on hem, as and into vs in þe bygynnynge.
xvi Forsoþ I biþouȝte on þe word of þe Lord, as he seide, Soþli John baptyside in watir, forsoþ ȝe schulen be baptysid in þe Hooly Gost.
xvii Perfore if God ȝaf to hem þe same grace, as and to vs þat bileuyden into þe Lord Jhesu Crist, who was I, þat myȝte forbede 'þe Lord, 'þat he schulde not ȝyue þe Hooly Gost to men bileuyng in þe name of Jhesu Crist?
xviii 'Pese þingis herd, þei heelden pees, and glorifieden God, seiþ, Perfore and to heþene men God haþ ȝouun penaunce to þe lyf.
xix And soþli þei þat weren scaterid of þe tribulacioun þat was maad vndir Stheuene, walkiden forþ til to Fenyfe, and Cypre, and Antiochie, 'to no man speikinge þe word, no but to Jewis aloone.

xx Forsoþ summe of hem weren men of Cypre and Cyrenen; þe whiche whanne þei entreden into Antiochie, spaken to Greekis, schewinge þe Lord Jhesu.
 xxi And þe hond of þe Lord was wiþ hem, and moche noumbe of men bileyng is conuertid to þe Lord.
 xxii Forsoþ þe word cam to þe eeris of þe chirche, þat was at Jerusalem, on þes þingis; and þei senten Barnabas 'til to Antiochie.
 xxiii Þe which whanne he hadde come, and seyn þe grace of þe Lord, ioyede, and monestide alle men in purpos of herte for to dwelle in þe Lord;
 xxiv for he was a good man, and ful of þe Hooly Gost, and feiþ. And moche cumpayne is putt to þe Lord.
 xxv Forsoþ he wente forþ to Tarfis, 'þat he schulde seke Saul;
 xxvi whom whanne he hadde founden, he ledde to Antiochie. And al a ȝeer þei lyueden þere in þe chirche, and tauȝten moche cumpayne, so þat 'first cristen disciplis weren namyd at Antiochie.
 xxvii Forsoþ in þes daies prophetis camen ouer fro Jerusalem to Antiochie.
 xxviii And oon of hem rysinge, Agabus by name, signyfiede bi þe spirit a greet hungr to comynge in al þe roundnesse of erþis, þat is maad vndir Claudius.
 xxix Forsoþ disciplis purposiden alle, as ech hadde, for to fende mynisterie to breþeren dwellinge in Judee.
 xxx Þe which þing and þei diden, sendinge to þe eldere men, bi þe hondis of Barnabas and Saul.

Capitulum XII.

i Forsoþ in þe fame tyme Heroude kyng fente hondis, for to turmente sum men of þe chirche.
 ii Forsoþ he flouȝ by fwerd James, þe broþer of John.
 iii Forsoþ he 'seynge for it pleside to Jewis, puttide to for to 'catche and Petre; forsoþ þe dayes of þerf looues weren.
 iv Whom whanne he hadde cauȝt, he fente into prisoun, and bitakinge to foure quaternyouns of knyȝtis, þat ech hadde foure men vndir him, for to kepe him, willinge aftir paske for to brynghe him forþ to þe peple.
 v And soþli Petre was kept in prisoun; forsoþ preier was maad of þe chirche wiþoute ceessinge to God for
 him.
 vi Forsoþ whanne Heroude was to bryngynge forþ him, in þat nyȝt Petre was slepinge bitwixe twey knyȝtis, boundun wiþ twey chaynes; and keperis before he dore kepten þe prisoun.
 vii And loo! an aungel of þe Lord stood nyȝ, and liȝt schoon aȝen in þe habytacle. And 'þe syde of Petre smytun, he reyside, 'or wakide, him, seiyng, Ryse þou swiflly. And anoon þe chaynes felden doun of his hondis.

viii Forsoþ þe aungel feide to him, Be þou gurd bifore, and do on þi hofis. And he dide so. And he feide to him, Do aboute to þee þi cloþ, and sue me.
 ix And he 'goyng out, suede him; and he wiste not for it is soþ, þat was maad bi þe aungel; forsoþ he geffide him silf to se a visioun.
 x Forsoþ þei pasinge þe firste and þe secunde kepyng, camen to þe irun ȝate þat leedip to þe citee, þe which 'wilfully is opened to hem. And þei goyng out, camen forþ into o streeete, and anoon þe aungel passide awey fro him.
 xi And Petre turnyng aȝen to him silf, feide, Now I woot verily, for þe Lord sente his aungel, and delyuerede me fro þe hond of Eroude, and of al abydinge of þe peple of Jewis.
 xii And he biholdinge cam to þe hous of Marie, modir of John, þat is named Marcus, where manye weren gederid to gidere, and preiynge.
 xiii Forsoþ 'him knockyng at þe dore of þe ȝate, a wenche, Rode by name, cam forþ for to se.
 xiv And, as sche knew þe vois of Petre, for ioye she openede not þe ȝate, but rennyng yn, tolde Petre for
 'to stonde bifore þe ȝate.
 xv And þei seiden to hir, þou maddist, 'or art wood.
 Soþli she affermyde, for to haue him so. Forsoþ þei seiden, It is his aungel.
 xvi Forsoþ Petre laftide knockyng. Soþli whanne þei hadden openyd, þei syȝen him, and wondriden.
 xvii Soþli he bekenyng to hem wiþ hond for to be stille, tolde hou þe Lord hadde ledd him out of prisoun.
 And he seide, Telle ȝe to James and breþeren þes þingis. And he 'gon out, wente into anoþer place.
 xviii Soþli 'þe day maad, þer was not lytil trowblyng among þe knyȝtis, what was don of Petre.
 xix Soþli whanne Eroud had souȝt hym aȝen, and nouȝt founde, inquisioun, 'or sekyng, maad of keperis, he comaundide hem for to be brouȝt. And he comyng doun fro Judee into Cesarie, dwellide þere.
 xx Forsoþ he was wroþ to men of Tyre and of Sidon.
 And þei of oon accord camen to him, and Blastis, þat was on þe cowche of þe kyng, softli stirid, þei axiden pees, for þat her cuntrees weren norilched, 'or fussteyned, by him.
 xxi Forsoþ 'a day ordeyned, Eroud cloþid wiþ kingis cloþinge, faat for domesman, and spak to hem.
 xxii Forsoþ þe peple cryede, Þe vois of God, not of
 man.
 xxiii Soþli anoon an aungel of þe Lord smoot him, for he hadde not don honour to God; and he waastid of wormes, deide.
 xxiv Soþli þe word of þe Lord wexide, and was multiplied.
 xxv Forsoþ Barnabas and Saul turnyden aȝen fro Jerusalem, 'þe mynisterie fulfillid, 'John takyn to, þat was namyd Markus.

Capitulum XIII.

i Forsoþ þer weren in þe chirche þat was at Antioche, 'prophetis and doctours, in whiche Barnabas, and Symound, þat is clepid Blak, and Lucius Cironense, and Manaen, þat was þe lownyng feere of Eroud tetrarke, þat is, prince of þe fourþe part, and Saul.
ii Forsoþ 'hem mynistringe in þe Lord, and fastynge, þe Hooly Gost seide to hem, Departe ȝe to me Saul and Barnabas, into þe work to which I haue takyn hem.
iii ȝanne þei 'fastinge, and preyinge, and puttinge hondis to hem, lefsten hem.
iv And soþli þei sent of þe Hooly Gost, wenten forþ to Seleucia, and fro þennis þei wenten by boot to Cypre.
v And whanne þei camen to Salamyne, þei prechiden þe word of God in synagogis of Jewis; forsoþ þei hadden and John in mynisterie, 'or seruyle.
vi And whanne þei hadden walkide by al þe yle 'til to Pafum, þei founden sum 'man wicche, a fals prophete, Jew, to whom þe name was Barieu, vii þat was wiþ þe proconsul Sergius Poul, prudent man. ȝis, Barnabas and Poul 'clepid to, defyride for to heere þe word of God.
viii Soþeli Elymas wicche wiþstood hem; 'so soþli is interpretid his name; sekinge for to turne awey þe proconsul fro bieleue.
ix Forsoþ Saul, which 'and Poul, fulfillid wiþ þe Hooly Gost, biholdynge into him, x feide, A! þou ful of al gyle, and al falsnesse, 'þou sone of þe deuel, þou enemye of al riȝtwysnesse, þou leeuyȝt not for to subuerte, 'or distroye, þe riȝtful weyes of þe Lord.
xi And 'now lo! þe hond of þe Lord on þee, and þou schalt be blynd, and not seyng funne til a tyme. And anoon a myȝt fel down on hym and derknesse; and he 'goyng aboute, souȝte hym þat schulde ȝyue þe hond to him.
xii ȝanne þe proconsul, whanne he hadde seyn þe dede, bieleuye, wondrynge on þe teching of þe Lord.
xiii And whanne fro Pafum Poul hadde go by boot, and þei þat were wiþ him, þei camen to Pergen of Pamfili; forsoþ John departinge fro hem, turnyde aȝen to Jerusalem.
xiv Soþli þei goyng to Pergen, camen to Antioche of Persidie; and þei gon into 'þe synagoge þe day of fabatis, faten.
xv Soþli aftir þe redinge of lawe and prophetis, þe princes of þe synagogue senten to hem, seyng, Men breþeren, if ony word of exortacioun, 'or teching, to þe peple is in ȝou, feye ȝe.
xvi Forsoþ Poul ryfynge, and wiþ hond biddynge fylence, feiþ, Men of Israel, and ȝe þat dreden God, heere.
xvii God of þe peple of Israel chees oure fadris, and enhaunside þe peple, whanne þei weren comelingis in þe lond of Egipt, and in an hiȝ arm he ledde hem out of it;

xviii and bi þe tyme of fourti ȝeeris he susteyned her maneris in desert.
xix And he distroyinge feuene folkis in þe lond of Canaan, by fort departide to hem þe lond of hem, xx as aftir foure hundrid and fyfti ȝeeris. And after 'þes þingis he ȝaf domeſmen, 'til to Samuel, þe prophete.
xxi And fro þennis þei axiden a kyng, and he ȝaf to hem Saul, þe sone of Cis, a man of þe lynage of Beniamyn, by fourty ȝeeris.
xxii And 'him don awey, he reyſide to hem Dauiþ king, to whom he beringe witnesſing seyde, I haue foundun Dauiþ, þe sone of Jesse, a man vp myn herte, þe which schal do alle my willis.
xxiii Of whos feed vp biheeste God ledde out to Israel a fauour Jhesu, xxiv 'John prechinge bi fore þe face of his comyng þe baptym of penaunce to al þe peple of Israel.
xxv Forsoþ whanne John fulfillide his cours, he seyde, Whom ȝe demen me for to be, 'I am not; but lo! þer comeþ aftir me, of whos I am not worþi for to vnbynde þe schoon of his feet.
xxvi Men breþeren, sones of þe kynde of Abraham, and þat in ȝou dreden God, to ȝou þe word of heelþe is sent.
xxvii Soþeli þei þat dwelliden at Jerusalēm, and princes of it, vnknownyng 'þis Jhesu, and þe voysis of prophetis, þat by euery sabotis ben radd, 'demyng fulfilliden;
xxviii and þei fyndinge in him no caufe of deeþ, axiden of Pilate, þat þei schulden flee him.
xxix And whanne þei hadden endid alle þingis þat weren writun of him, þei puttinge him doun of þe tree, puttiden him in a graue.
xxx Forsoþ God reyſide him fro deede men in þe þridde day; xxxi þe which is seyn by many dayes to hem þat to gidere stiȝeden vp fro Galilee into Jerusalēm, þe whiche ben til now his witnesſis to þe peple.
xxxii And we schewen to ȝou þe ilke þat is maad 'biheeste aȝen to oure fadris; xxxiii for God haþ fulfillid 'þis to oure sones, 'aȝen ryfinge Jhesu; as and in þe fecunde salm it is writun, þou art my sone, to day I gendrige þee.
xxxiv Forsoþ þat he aȝen reyſide him fro deede men, now 'no more to turnyng into corupcioun, þus he seiþ, For I schal ȝyue to ȝou þe hooly trewe þingis of Dauiþ.
xxxv And þerfore and on anoþer stide he seiþ, Pou schalt not ȝyue þin hooli for to se corupcioun.
xxxvi Forsoþ Dauiþ in his generacioun, whanne he hadde mynystrid to þe wille of God, slepte, 'or deiede, and is putt to his fadris, and fyȝ corupcioun; xxxvii soþli he whom God reyſide fro deede men, fyȝ not corupcioun.

xxxviii Perfore, men breþeren, be it knowun to ȝou, for by him remyssioun of synnes is told to ȝou, xxxix fro alle synnes, of þe whiche ȝe myȝten not be iustified in þe lawe of Moyfes. In þis ech man þat bileueþ, is iustified.
xi Perfore se ȝe, þat it come not to ȝou, þat is aboue feid in prophetis, xii 'Se ȝe, dispiseris, and wondre ȝe, and be ȝe scaterid a brood; for I worche a work in ȝoure daies, a werk þat ȝe schulen not bileue, if ony man schal telle out to ȝou.
xlii Forsoþ hem goynge out, þei preieden, þat 'anoþer fuynge saboth þei schulden speke to hem þes wordis.
xliii And whanne þe synagoge was left, manye of Jewis and of comelingis worschipinge sueden Poul and Barnabas; þe whiche 'spekinge, softli counceiliden hem, þat þei schulden dwelle in þe grace of God.
xliiiii Soþly in saboth fuynge almoost al þe cyte cam to gidere, for to heere þe word of God.
xlv Forsoþ Jewis fuynge þe cumpanyes of peple, ben fulfillid wiþ enuye, and aȝen feiden þes þingis þat weren feid of Poul, blasphemynge.
xlivi Panne Poul and Barnabas stedefastly feyden, To ȝou it bihoft first for to speke þe word of God; but for ȝe putten it awey, and han demed vs vnworþi of euere lasting lyf, lo! we turnen to gidere to heþene men.
xlvii Forsoþ so þe Lord comaundide vs, I haue putt þee into liȝt to heþene men, þat þou be into heelþe 'til to þe vtmoste of erþe.
xlviii Soþli heþen men heeringe ioyeden, and glorifieden þe word of þe Lord; and bileuyden, how manye euere weren byfore ordeyned to euere lastyng lyf.
xlix Forsoþ þe word of þe Lord was ferr sowun by al þe cuntree.
i Sopli Jewis stiredyn religiouse wymmen, and honest, and þe firste men of þe cytee, and stiriden persecucioun into Poul and Barnabas, and castiden hem out of her cuntrees.
ii And þei, þe powdir of feet 'shakun awey into hem, camen to Iconye.
iii And disciplis weren fulfillid wiþ ioye and þe Hooly Gof.

Capitulum XIII.

i Forsoþ it is don at Iconye, þat to gidere þei entriden into a synagoge of Jewis, and spaken, so þat a plenteuous multitude of Jewis and Greekis bieleueden.
ii Forsoþ þe Jewis þat weren vnbileueful, reisiden persecucioun, and to wrappe stiriden þe soulis of heþen men aȝens breþeren.
iii Perfore þei dwelliden moche tyme, doyng tristlyli in þe Lord, beringe witnesſinge to þe word of his grace, ȝyuynge fynges and wondris for to be maad by þe hondis of hem.

ivii Forsoþ þe multitude of þe citee is departid, and soþeli summe weren wiþ Jewis, summe soþli wiþ apostlis.
v Forsoþ whanne asawt of heþen men and Jewis was maad, wiþ her princes, for to ponische wiþ dispisingis, 'or fals blamynge, and stoone hem, vi þei vndirstondinge fledden to gidere to þe citees of Licaonye, Listris and Derben, and al þe cuntree inuyroun.
vii And þei weren þere prechinge þe gospel, and al þe multitude is moued to gidere in þe teching of hem. Poul soþli and Barnabas dwelten at Listris.
viii And sum man at Listris, syk in þe feet, saat crokid fro his modris wombe, þe which neuere hadde gon.
ix Pis herde Poul speikinge; þe 'which biholdynge him, and 'feyng, for he hadde feiþ, þat he schulde be maad saaf, x feide wiþ greet vois, Ryse þou riȝt on þi feet. And he lepide, and walkide.
xi Forsoþ þe cumpanyes, whanne þei hadden seyn þat þat Poul dide, reriden her voys in Lycaon tungue, feiȝinge, Godis maad lyk to men camen doun to vs.
xii And þei clepiden Barnabas Jouem, Poul soþli Mercurie, for he was ledere of þe word.
xiii And þe prest of Jubiter, þat was bifore þe citee, bryngynge to bolis and crownes bifore þe ȝatis, wiþ pepolis, wolde make sacrifice.
xiv þe which þing whanne apostlis, Barnabas and Poul, herden, 'her cootis kitt to gidere, þei scipten out into þe cumpanyes, 'cryinge, xv and feiȝinge, Men, what don ȝe þis þing? and we ben deedly 'men lyk to ȝou, schewinge to ȝou, 'for to be conuertid fro þese veyne þingis to quyk God, þat made heuene, and erþe, and þe fee, and alle þingis þat ben in hem;
xvi þe which in generaciouns passid lefte alle folkis entre into her weyes.
xvii And soþeli not wiþoute witnessyng he 'wel doyng lefte hym filf, fro heuene ȝyuynge reynes and tymis beringe fruyt, fulfillinge wiþ mete and gladnesse ȝoure hertis.
xviii And þei feyninge þes þingis, vneþe swagiden þe cumpanyes, þat þei offriden not to hem.
xix Forsoþ summe Jewis camen out fro Antiochie and Iconye, and, þe cumpanyes sweteli 'stirid, þei stoonyng Poul, drowen out of þe citee, gessinge 'him for to be deed.
xx Sopli disciplis enuyrownynge hym, he ryfinge entride into þe citee; and þe fuynge day he wente forþ wiþ Barnabas into Derben.
xxi And whanne þei hadden euangelyfid to 'þe ilke citee, and tauȝt manye, þei turneden aȝen to Listris, and Iconye, and Antiochie;
xxii confermyng þe soulis of disciplis, and monesting, þat þei schulden dwelle in feiþ, and feiȝinge, For by manye tribulaciouns it bihoueþ vs for to entre into þe kingdom of heuenes.

xxiii And whanne þei hadden ordeyned prestis to hem by alle citees, and hadden preied wiþ fastingis, þei bitoken hem to þe Lord, into whom þei bileuyden.

xxiii And þei passinge Persidie, camen to Pamphilie; xxv and þei spekinge þe word of þe Lord in Pergen, camen down in to Atalie.

xxvi And fro þennis þei wenten bi boot to Antiochie, fro whennis þei weren takun to þe grace of God, in to þe werk þat þei fulfilliden.

xxvii Soplí whanne þei camen, and gedriden þe chirche, þei telden how manye þingis God dide wiþ hem, for he hadde opened to heþene men þe dore of feiþ.

xxviii Forsoþ þei dwelliden a tyme not litil wiþ disciplis.

Capitulum XV.

i And summe comyngre doun fro Judee, tauȝten breþeren, For no but ȝe be circumſidid vp þe lawe of Moyſes, ȝe mown not be 'maad saaf.

ii Perfore 'ſediciooun, or diffenciooun, maad not leeft to Poul and Barnabas aȝens hem, þei ordeyneden, þat Poul and Barnabas, and summe oþere of hem, ſchulden gon vp to apostlis and prestis in Jerufalem, on þis queſtioun.

iii Perfore þei, ledd forþ of þe chirche, paſſiden by Fenye and Samarie; tellinge þe lyuynge of heþen men, and þei maaden greet ioye to alle breþeren.

iv Soplí whanne þei camen to Jerufalem, þei weren receyued of þe chirche, and of apostlis, and eldere men, tellinge how manye þingis God dide wiþ hem.

v Forſoþ ſum of þe ereſye of Pharifees, þat bileuyden, riſen, feyninge, For it bihoueþ hem for to be circumſidid, and for to comaunde for to kepe þe lawe of Moyſes.

vi And apostlis and eldre men camen to gidere, for to fe of his word.

vii Forſoþ whanne greet ſekyng 'to gidere was maad, Petre ryſinge, ſeide to hem, Men breþeren, ȝe witen, for of oolde dayes in ȝou God chees by my mouþ heþen men, for to heere þe word of þe gol spel, and for to bileue;

viii and God þat knew hertis, bar witneſſing, ȝyuynge to hem þe Hooli Gost, as and to vs;

ix and no þing dyuerside bitwixe 'vs and hem, 'bi feiþ clenſynge þe hertis of hem.

x Now perfore what tempten ȝe God, for to putte a ȝok on þe nol, 'or necke, of disciplis, þe which neþer we, neþer oure fadrис myȝten bere?

xi But bi þe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crift we bileuen for to be fauyd, as and þei.

xii Forſoþ al þe multitude heeld pees, and herden Barnaban and Poul, tellinge how many ſigñes and wondris God dide by hem in heþen men.

xiii And aftir þat þei helden pees, James anſweride, feyninge, Men breþeren, 'heere ȝe me.

xiv Symound telde, how firſt God viſytide, for to take of heþen men a peple to his name.

xv And to him þe wordis of prophetis acorden, as it is writun, xvi Aftir þis I ſchal turne aȝen, and bylde þe tabernacle of Dauȝ, þat felde doun; and I ſchal bylde aȝen þe caſt doun þingis of it, and I ſchal reyfe it;

xvii þat oþere of men aȝen ſeke þe Lord, and alle folkis on whiche my name is inclepid; þe Lord doyngē þis þing, ſeiþ.

xviii Fro þe world, to þe Lord 'his werk is knownun.

xix For which þing I deme hem þat of heþen men ben conuertið to God, for to be not vnquyetid, 'or diſeſid, xx but for to wryte to hem, þat þei abſteyne hem fro defoulingis of ſymulacris, and fornycacioun, and stranglid þingis, and blood.

xxi Moyses ſoplí of olde tymes haþ in alle citees hem þat prechen him in synagogis, where by ech ſaboth he is rad.

xxii Panne it pleside to apostlis, and eldre men, wiþ al þe chirche, for to cheſe men of hem, and ſende to Antiochie, wiþ Poul and Barnabas, Judas, þat was named Barsabas, and Sylam, þe firſte men in breþeren; xxiii wrytinge by þe hondis of hem, Apostlis and eldere breþeren to hem þat ben at Antiochie, and Cirie, and Cilice, breþeren of heþen men, greeting, or heelþe.

xxiv For we herden þat summe 'of vs 'goyng out, troubliden ȝou wiþ wordis, turnyng vpfodoun ȝoure foulis, to whiche men we comaundiden not,

xxv it pleside to vs gederid into oon, for to cheſe men, and ſende to ȝou, wiþ oure mooste dereworþe Barnabas and Poul, xxvi men þat bitoken, 'or ȝauen, her foulis, 'or lyues, for þe name of oure Lord Jhesu Crift.

xxvii Perfore we ſenten Judas and Sylas, 'þe whiche and þei ſchulen telle þe fame þingis to ȝou by wordis.

xxviii Forſoþ it is feyn to þe Hooly Gost and vs, for to putte to ȝou no þing more of charge, þan þese nedeful þingis, xxix þat ȝe abſteyne ȝou fro þe offrid þingis of ſymulacris, and blood stranglid, and fornycacioun. Fro whiche ȝe kepinge ȝou, ſchulen do wel. Fare ȝe wel.

xxx Perfore þei diſmittid, camen down to Antiochie; and, þe multitude gederid, þei bitaken þe epiftle; xxxi þe which whanne þei hadden radd, þei ioyeden on þe comfort.

xxxii Forſoþ Judas and Sylas and þei, whanne þei weren prophetis, 'wiþ ful moche word coumfortiden breþeren, and confermyden.

xxxiii Soplí ſum litil tyme maad þere, þei weren diſmittid, 'or left, wiþ pees of breþeren, to hem þat hadden ſent hem.

xxxiv Forſoþ it is feyn to Silas, for to dwelle þere; Judas ſoplí wente aloone to Jerufalem.

xxxv Forsoþ Poul and Barnabas dwelliden at Antiochie, techinge and euangelysinge þe word of þe Lord, wiþ 'opere manye.

xxxvi Forsoþe aftir summe dayes, Poul seide to Barnabas, 'We turnyng aȝen, visite oure breþeren by alle citees, in whiche we han prechid þe word of þe Lord, how þei han hem.'

xxxvii Barnabas forsoþe wolde take wiþ him and John, þat was namyd Markus.

xxxviii Poul soþli preiede him, þat he þat departide fro hem fro Pamphilie, and wente not wiþ hem into werk, schulde not be receyued.

xxxix Forsoþ diffencioun is maad, so þat þei departiden atwynny. And Barnabas soþli, Mark takyn to, bi boot cam to Cypre.

x Forsoþ Poul, 'Silas chosun, wente forþ, takun to þe grace of God fro briþeren.'

xii Forsoþ he wente bi Sirie and Cilice, confermynge þe chirche, comaunding for to kepe þe preceptis of apostlis and eldere men.

Capitulum XVI.

i Soplí he cam in to Derben and Listram. And lo! sum disciple was þere, by name Tymothe, þe sone of a womman widowe feiþful, 'or cristen, þe fadir heþen.

ii Breþeren þat weren in Listris and Iconye, ȝelden good witnessiing to him.

iii Poul wolde him 'for to go forþ wiþ him silf, and he 'takinge to, circumcide him, for Jewis þat weren in 'þe ilke places. Soþely alle wisten, þat his fadir was heþen.

iv Forsoþ whanne þei passiden bi citees, þei bitoken to hem for to kepe þe techingis, þat weren demed of apostlis and eldere men, þat weren at Jerusalem.

v And soþly þe chirchis weren confermyd in feiþ, and haboundiden in noumbre ech day.

vi Forsoþ þei passinge Frigye, and þe cuntree of Galathie, weren forbodyn of þe Hooly Gost for to speke þe word of God in Afya.

vii Soplí whanne þei camen into Misyé, þei temptiden for to go into Bithinie, and þe spirit of Jhesu suffrider 'not hem.'

viii Soplí whanne þei hadden passid by Misyé, þei camen down to Troade; ix and a visioun by nyȝt was schewid to Poul. Sum man of Macedonia was stondinge, and preyinge him, and seyinge, 'þou goynge into Macedonia, help vs.'

x Soplí as he syȝ þe visioun, anoon we souȝten for to go forþ into Macedonia, maad certeyn þat God hadde clepid vs for to euangelise to hem.

xi Soplí we goynge by boot, 'or seylinge, wiþ streiȝt cours camen to Samatracia; and þe day fuyng to Neapolis;

xii and fro þennis to Philippis, þat is þe firste part of Macedonia, þe citee colonye. Soplí we weren in þis citee summe dayes, spekinge to gidere.

xiii Soplí in þe day of sabotis we wenten out wiþoute þe ȝate bifydis þe flood, wher preier was seyn for to be; and we sittinge, spaken to wymmen þat camen to gidere.

xiv And sum womman, Lidda bi name, purpureffe of þe citee of Tiatirens, worchipinge God, herde; whos herte þe Lord openyde for to ȝyue tent to þese þingis, þat weren seid of Poul.

xv Forsoþe whanne she was baptysid and hir hous, she preiede, seiyng, If ȝe han demyd me for to be feiþful to þe Lord, entre ȝe into myn hous, and dwelle. And sche constreynede vs.

xvi Forsoþe it is don, 'vs goynge to preier, sum wenche hauynge a spirit of dyuynacioun, 'for to mete vs, þe which ȝaf greet wynnyng to hir lordis in dyuynyng, þat is, tellinge hid þingis bi þe deuelis craft.

xvii Pis fuyng Poul and vs, criede, seyng, Þes men ben seruauntis of hiȝe God, þat tellen to ȝou þe wey of helþe.

xviii Forsoþe þis þing she dide in many dayes. Soplí Poul forwinge, and conuertid, seide to þe spirit, I comaunde to þee in þe name of Jhesu Crist, 'for to go out of hir. And he wente out in þe same hour.

xix Soplí þe lordis of hir, seyng for þe hope of hir wynnyng wente a wey, catchinge Poul and Silas ledden into cheping, or dom place, to þe princes.

xx And þei offringe hem to þe magestratis, seyden, Þese men disturblen oure citee, whanne þei ben Jewis, xxi and schewen a custome, þe which it is not leueful to vs for to receyue, neþer do, syȝen we ben Romayns.

xxii And þe peple ran aȝens hem 'and magestratis, and 'þe cootis of hem kitt, þei comaundiden hem for to be betyn wiþ ȝerdis.

xxiii And whanne þei hadden ȝouun to hem many woundis, þei senten hem into prisoun, comaunding to þe keper, þat he diligentli schulde kepe hem.

xxiv þe which, whanne he hadde takyn such a precept, fente hem into þe ynner prisoun, and streynede þe feet of hem in a tree.

xxv Soplí at mydnyȝt Poul and Silas worchipinge, herieden God; and þei þat weren in keping herden hem.

xxvi Forsoþ fudenli a greet erþe mouyng is maad, so þat þe foundementis of þe prisoun weren mouyd. And anoon alle þe doris ben openyd, and þe bondis of alle ben vnbouneden.

xxvii Soplí þe keper of þe prisoun maad wakyn, and seyng þe ȝatis of þe prisoun openyd, þe swerd drawun out, wolde fle hym silf, wenynge þe boundyn men 'for to haue fled.'

xxviii Forsoþ Poul criede wiþ greet vois, seyng, Do þou no þing of yuel to þi silf, forsoþ alle we ben here.

xxix And ȝiȝt axid, he entride yn, and 'tremblinge he fel down to Poul and Silas at þe feet.

xxx And he 'bringinge hem wiþoute forþ, seiþ, Lordis, what bihouȝt me for to do, þat I be maad saf?'

- xxxi And þei feiden, Bileue þou in to þe Lord Jhesu, and þou schalt be saf, and þin hows.
- xxxii And þei spaken to him þe word of þe Lord, wiþ alle þat weren in his hous.
- xxxiii And he takinge hem in 'þe ilke hour of nyȝt, waſchide her woundis. And he is baptysid, and al his hous anoon.
- xxxiv And whanne he hadde led hem into his hous, he fette to hem a boord. And he gladide wiþ al his hous, bileyng to God.
- xxxv And whanne day was maad, þe magistratis senten 'littoures, þat ben mynistris of ponyſching, seyinge, Dismitte, 'or delyuere, ȝe þo men.
- xxxvi Forſoþ þe keper of prisoun telde þes wordis to Poul, For þe magestratis han sent, þat ȝe be delyuered; now þerfore 'ȝe goyng out, gob in pees.
- xxxvii Forſoþ Poul feide to hem, ȝei senten into prisoun vs, betyn opynly vndampnyd, men Romayns, and now priuely þei caſten vs out; not so, but come þei, and þei filf caſte vs out.
- xxxviii Soþli þe mynistris of peyne telden þes wordis to þe magestratis; and þei dredden, herd þat þei were Romayns.
- xxxix And þei comynge, bifecheden hem, and þei ledinge forþ, preieden, þat þei schulden go out of þe citee.
- x Soþli þei goyng out of þe prisoun, 'entriden into Lidie. And, 'þe breþeren seyn, þei coumfortiden hem, and wenten forþ.

Capitulum XVII.

- i Soþeli, whanne þei hadden passid bi Amphipolis and Apolonye, þei camen to Tessalonyk, wher was a synagoge of Jewis.
- ii Soþli vp custom Poul entride into hem, and by þre sabotis he declaride to hem of scripturis,
- iii 'openyng and schewyng for it bihoueþ Crist for to suffre, and ryse aȝen fro deede men, and for þis is Jhefus Crist, whom I 'tolde, or schewide, to ȝou.
- iv And summe of hem bileyden, and ben ioyned to Poul and Silas; and of heþen men worschipinge a greet multitude, and noble wymmen not fewe.
- v Soþli Jewis hauyng enuye, and takinge of þe comune summe yuele men, and a cumpayne maad, þei moueden þe citee. And þei stondinge nyȝ Jafons hous, souȝten hem for to bringe forþ into þe peple.
- vi And whanne þei founden hem not, þei drowen Jafon and summe breþeren to þe princes of 'þe citee, 'criyng, For þese it ben, þat mouen þe world, and hidir þei camen,
- vii whom Jafon receyuede. And 'þes alle don aȝens þe maundementis of Cesar, 'seyinge, an oþer Jhefus 'for to be kyng.
- viii Forſoþ þei mouyden þe peple, and princes of þe citee, heeringe þes þingis.

- ix And 'satisfaccioun takun of Jafon and of opere, þei leften hem.
- x Forſoþ anoon by nyȝte breþeren dismittiden Poul and Silas in to Beroan. ȝe whiche whanne þei camen, entriden into þe synagoge of Jewis.
- xi Soþli þes weren þe nobelere of hem þat ben at Tessalonyk, whiche resceyueden þe word wiþ al defyr, ech day sekyng scripturis, if þese þingis fo hadden hem.
- xii And soþeli manye of hem bileyden, and of 'heþen wymmen honeste and men not fewe.
- xiii Forſoþe whanne Jewis in Tessalonyk hadden knowe, 'for and at Beroan þe word of God is prechid of Poul, þei camen and þidur, mouyng and disturbinge þe multitude.
- xiv And anon breþeren dismittiden Poul þanne, þat he schulde go 'til to þe fee; forſoþ Silas and Tymothe dwelten þere.
- xv Soþli þei þat ledden forþ Poul, ledden him 'til to Athenes. And 'maundement takyn of him to Silas and Tymothe, þat ful hiȝyngli þei schulden come to him, þei wenten forþ.
- xvi Forſoþ whanne Poul abood hem at Athenys, his spirit was mouyd in him, seyng þe citee ȝouun to ydolatrie.
- xvii ȝerfore he disputide in þe synagoge wiþ Jewis, and men worschipinge, in þe 'cheping, or dom place, bi alle dayes to hem þat herden.
- xviii Forſoþe summe Epicureis, and Stoycis, and philosofris disputiden, 'or tretiden, wiþ him. And summe feiden, What wole þis lowere of wordis leie? Soþli opere feiden, He is seyn for to be a tellere of newe deuelis; for he telde to hem Jhefus, and aȝen ryſing.
- xix And þei 'ledden him takun to Ariopage, þat is, comun scole, seyinge, Mown we wite, what is þis newe doctryn, þat is feid of þee?
- xx Soþli þou bringist yn sum newe þingis to oure eeris; ȝerfore we wolen wite, what þese þingis wolen be.
- xi Soþli alle men of Athenis and comelingis, herborid men, ȝauen tent to noon oþir þing, no but eþir for to seye, eþir for to heere, ony þing of newe.
- xxii Forſoþ Poul stondinge in þe myddel of Areopage, seip, Men of Athenis, bi alle þingis I se ȝou as veyn worschiperis.
- xxiii 'Sopli I passinge, and seyng ȝoure symulacris, foond and an auter, in which was writun, To vnknown God. ȝerfore which þing ȝe vnknowyngе worschipen, þis þing I schewe to ȝou.
- xxiv God þat made þe world and alle þingis þat ben in it, þis, whanne he is Lord of heuene and erþe, dwellip not in templis maad bi hond,
- xxv neþer is worschipid by mannis hondis, 'hauyng nede of ony þing, whanne he ȝyueþ lyf to alle men, 'and ynbreþing, and alle þingis;

xxvi and maad of oon al þe kynde of men for to enhabite on al þe face of erþe, determinyng tymes ordeyned, and termes of 'habitacioun, 'or dwelling, of hem, xxvii for to seke God, if perauenture þei feelen him, eþir fynden, þouȝ he be not fer fro 'ech of ȝou.

xxviii Soþeli in him we lyuen, and ben moued, and ben. As and summe of ȝoure poetis feiden, Soþeli we ben and þe kynde of him.

xxix Þerfore sþpen we ben þe kynde of God, we schulen not deme, 'or gesse, godly þing 'for to be lyk to gold, and siluer, or stoon, to grauyng of craft and þouȝt of man.

xxx And soþeli God dispisinge þe tymes of þis vnkunnyng, now schewiþ to men, þat alle euerywhere do penaunce;

xxxi for þat he ordeynede a day, in which he 'is to demyng þe world in equyte, in a man in which he ordeynede, 'feiþ ȝyuȝng to alle, reysinge him fro deede men.

xxxii Soþeli whanne þei 'hadden herd þe aȝen ryȝing of deede men, soþli summe scorneden, summe forsoþe feiden, We schulen heere þee eft of 'þis þing.

xxxiii So Poul wente out of þe myddil of hem.

xxxiv Forsoþe summe cliyng to him, bileuyden. In þe whiche and Dionyse Ariopagite, or greet man of comun scole, and a womman, by name Damaris, and oþere men wiþ hem.

Capitulum XVIII.

i Aftir þes þingis 'he gon out of Athenis, cam to Corinthe.

ii And fyndyng a man Jew, by name Aquyla, of Ponte bi kynde, þat late cam fro Italie, and Priscille, his wyf, for þat Claudius comaundide alle Jewis for to departe fro Rome, cam to hem.

iii And for he was of þe same craft, he dwellide at hem, and wrouȝte; soþli þei weren of cenefectorie craft, þat is, to make hilingis to trauelinge men.

iv And he disputide in þe synagoge by ech saboth, 'by twixe puttinge þe name of þe Lord Jhesu; and he softly counceilide to Jewis and Greekis.

v Soþeli whanne Silas and Tymothe camen fro Macedonye, Poul ȝaf bisynesse to þe word, witnesȝing to þe Jewis, 'Jhesu for to be Crist.

vi Forsoþe 'hem aȝen seyinge and blasphemynge, he schakynge of his cloþis, feide to hem, ȝoure blood on ȝoure heed; I clene fro hennis forþ, schal go to heþene men.

vii And he paffinge þennis, entride into þe hous of sum iust man, by name Tyte, worchipynge God, whos hous was ioyned to þe synagoge.

viii Crispe soþli, prince of þe synagoge, bileuyde to þe Lord, wiþ al his hows. And manye of þe Corinthies heeringe bileuyden, and weren cristenyd.

ix Forsoþ þe Lord feide by nyȝte to Poul by a visioun, Nyle þou drede, but spek, and be not stille; x for which þing I am wiþ þee, and no man schal be put to þee þat he anoye þee, for moche peple is to me in þis citee.

xi Forsoþ he saat þer a ȝeer and sixe moneþis, techinge at hem þe word of 'þe Lord.

xii Soþli Gallion proconsul of Achaye, Jewis risen vp wiþ oon ynwitt, 'or wille, into Poul, and ledde hym to þe dom, xiii seiyng, For aȝens þe lawe þis councelijþ men for to worschipe God.

xiv Soþli 'Poul bigynnynge for to opene þe mouȝ, Gallion seide to Jewis, Forsoþ if þer were ony wickid þing, or worst trespass, ȝe men Jewis, riȝtly I schulde fusteyne ȝou;

xv forsoþ if questiouns ben of þe word, and names of ȝoure lawe, ȝe silf se; I wole not be domeſman of þes wordis.

xvi And he drof þem fro þe dom place.

xvii Forsoþe alle takynge Softenen, prince of þe synagoge, smyten him bifore þe dom place; and no þing of þese was to charge to Gallion.

xviii Poul forsoþe whanne ȝit he hadde fusteyned many dayes, seiyng far wel to breþeren, by boot cam to Sirie, and 'wiþ him Priscille and Aquyla, þe whiche hadden clippid to hem þe heed in Tencris; 'soþli þei hadden a vow.

xix And he cam to Ephes, and þere he lefte hem; soþli he goyng into þe synagoge, disputide wiþ Jewis.

xx Soþli 'hem preiynge þat he schulde dwelle more tyme, he consentide not, xi but he makinge farwel, and seiyng, 'It bihoueþ me for to make þe solempne day comynge to at Jerusalem, and eft I schal turne aȝen to ȝou. 'God willinge, wente forþ fro Ephesi.

xxii And he comynge doun to Cesarie, stiȝede vp, and grette þe chirche, and cam doun to Antiochie.

xxiii And, þere sumwhat of tyme maad, he wente forþ, walkinge by ordre þorw þe cuntree of Galathie, and Frigie, confermyng alle disciplis.

xxiv Soþli sum Jew, Apollo by name, a man of Alyfaundre of kynde, a man eloquent, cam to Ephesie, myȝti in scripturis.

xxv Þis man was tauȝt þe wey of þe Lord, and feruent in spirit spak, and tauȝte diligentli þo þingis þat weren of Jhesu, knowinge oonli þe baptym of John.

xxvi Soþli þis man bigan for to do tristily in þe synagoge. Whom whanne Priscille and Aquyla herden, þei token 'him to, and more diligently expowneden to him þe wey of þe Lord.

xxvii Soþli whanne he wolde go to Achaie, breþeren monestid, 'or councelid, writhen to disciplis, þat þei schulden rescyeue him; which whanne he cam, ȝaf moche to hem þat bileuyden.

xxviii Forsoþe he greetly ouercam Jewis, schewinge openly by scripturis, 'Jhesu for to be Crist.

Capitulum XIX.

i Forsoþ it is don, whanne Apollo was at Corinthe, þat þe hiȝer partis gon, Poul cam to Ephesi, and fond summe of disciplis.

ii And he seide to hem, If ȝe han refcleyued þe Hooli Gost bileuyng? And þei seiden to him, But nepir we han herd, if þe Hooli Gost is.

iii Soþli he seip, Perfore in what þing ben ȝe baptysid? Whiche seiden, In baptym of John.

iv Forsoþ Poul seide, John baptyside in baptym of penaunce þe peple, seyinge, þat þei schulde byleue into him þat was to comynge aftir him, þat is, into Jhesu.

v 'Pele þingis herd, þei ben baptysid in þe name of þe Lord Jhesu.

vi And whanne Poul hadde putt to hem þe hondis, þe Hooli Gost cam on hem, and þei spaken wiþ langagis, and prophesieden.

vii Forsoþ alle weren almeſt twelue men.

viii Soþli he gon into þe synagogue, 'wiþ trift spak, by þre moneþis disputinge and softli mouynge of þe kyngdom of God.

ix Soþli whanne summe weren endurid, 'or maad hard, and bileuyden not, cursinge þe wey of þe Lord before multitude, he goynge awey fro hem, departide disciplis, 'ech day disputinge in scole of sum tyraunt, 'or strong man.

x Þis is don by twey ȝeeris, so þat alle þat dwelliden in Afie herden þe word of 'þe Lord, Jewis and heþene men.

xi And vertues whiche euere 'þe Lord dide by þe hond of Poul, xii So þat on syke men þe fudaries, 'or swetyng cloþis, or 'nyȝt cloþis, or girdils, weren borun fro his body, and sikenessis departiden fro hem, and wickide spiritis wenten out.

xiii Forsoþe and summe of þe Jewis exorcistis, or conureris, comynge aboute, temptide for to inclepe þe name of þe Lord Jhesu Crist on hem þat hadden yuele spiritis, seiyng, I coniure ȝou by Jhesu, whom Poul prechis.

xiv Soþli þer weren summe seuene fones of a Jewe, Sceue, prince of prestis, þat diden þis þing.

xv Soþli þe yuel spirit answeringe, seide to hem, I haue knowe Jhesu, and I woot Poul; forsoþ whiche ben ȝe?

xvi And þe man in which was þeworste deuel, 'lippinge into hem, and hauynge lordship of boþe, was strong aȝens hem, þat þei nakid and woundid fledden awey fro þat hous.

xvii Forsoþ þis þing was maad knowun to alle Jewis and heþene men, þat dwelliden at Ephesi; and drede fel doun on hem alle, and þei magnyfieden þe name of þe Lord Jhesu.

xxviii And manye of men bileuyng camen, knowlechinge and tellinge her dedis.

xxix Soþli manye of hem þat fueden curiose þingis, brouȝten to gidere bookis, and brennyden hem before alle men; and þe prisis of hem accountid, þei founden money of fifty þousynd pens;

xx so strongly þe word of God wexide, and was confermyd.

xxi Soþli 'þes þingis fulfillid, Poul purposide in spirit, Macedonia paſſid and Achaye, for to go to Jerusalem, feiyng, For aftir þat I schal be þere, it bihoueþ me for to fe Rome.

xxii Forsoþ he fendinge into Macedonia tweyne of men mynistringe to him, Tymothe and Erafte, dwellide at a tyme in Afie.

xxiii Perfore þer was maad in þat day 'a sturbling 'not leef, of þe wey of þe Lord.

xxiv Forsoþ sum man, Demetrie by name, argentarie, makinge siluerene housis to Dian, 'þat is, fals goddesse, ȝaf to crafty men 'not litil wynnyng;

xxv whom he clepinge to gidere, and hem þat weren fuche manere werk men, seide, Men, ȝe witen for of þis craft 'is to ȝou wynnyng;

xxvi and ȝe seen and heeren, for not oonly of Ephesi, but almeſt of al Afie, þis Poul councelinge turneþ awey moche cumpany, seiyng, for þei ben not goddis, þat ben maad by hondis.

xxvii Forsoþ not oonli þis part schal be in perel to vs, for to come into reprof, but þe temple of greet Dian schal be accountid into noȝt; but and þe mageste of hir schal be diſtroyed, whom al Afie worſhipp and þe world.

xxviii 'Bese þingis herd, þei 'ben fulfillid wiþ ire, and cryeden, seiyng, Greet Dian of Ephesians.

xxix And þe citee 'is fulfillid wiþ confusioun, and þei maden a lawt wiþ 'oon ynwit, 'or wille, in to þe teatre, or comune biholdyng place, 'Gayus rauyschid and Aristark, men of Macedonia, fellowis of Poul.

xxx Soþli 'Poul willinge for to entre into þe peple, disciplis suffriden not.

xxxi Forsoþ summe and of þe princes of Afie, þat weren his frendis, senten to him, preiyng, þat he schulde not ȝyue him ſilf into þe teatre.

xxxii Soþli opere men cryeden oþir þing; soþli þe chirche was confusid, and manye wisten not of what cause þei camen to gidere.

xxxiii Soþli of þe cumpayne þei wiþdrawen sum man Alisaundre, Jewis puttinge him, 'or fer schowfynge. Forsoþe Alisaundre, silence axid wiþ þe hond, wolde gelde refoun to þe peple.

xxxiv Whom as þei knewen for to be a Jew, o vois of alle men was maad, criyng as by twey houris, Greet Dian of Ephisians.

xxxv And whanne þe ſcribe hadde ceſſid þe cumpanyes, he feide, Men of Ephesi, who soþli is 'of men, þat knowiþ not, þe citee of Ephisians 'for to be worſhiper of greet Dian, and of þe fone Jubiter?

- xxxvi Perfore whanne it may not be aȝen feid to þes þingis, it bihoueþ ȝou for to be ceeffid, 'or swagid, and for to do no þing folily;
- xxxvii Soþli ȝe han brouȝt þes men, neþer sacrilegeris, neþer blasfemyng ȝoure goddesse.
- xxxviii Pat if Demetrie, and þe werkmen þat ben wiþ him, han cause aȝens ony man, comyngis to gidere of dom ben don, and proconsuls, 'or iustis, ben; accuse þei hem to gidere.
- xxxix If ȝe seken ouȝt of ony oþir þing, it may be aþoylid in þe laweful chirche.
- x Forwhi and we ben in perel for to be reproued of þis dayes sedicoun, siþen no man is guilty, of whom we mown ȝelde resoun of þis rennyng to gidere.
- xli And whanne he hadde feid þis þing, he lefte, or delyuerede, þe chirche.

Capitulum XX.

- i Forsoþe aftir þat þe noyse ceeffide, 'disciplis clepid, Poul monestinge hem, feide farwel; and he wente forþ, for to go into Macedonye.
- ii Soþli whanne he hadde walkid bi þe partis, and hadde monestid hem by moche word, he cam to Greece.
- iii Where whanne he hadde be þre moneþis, aþpies in yuel of þe Jewis weren maad to him, to schippinge into Sirie; and he hadde counceil 'of turnyng aȝen into Macedonye.
- iv Soþli Sosipater Pirri Beroence folowide him; of Teffalonisenfis forsoþe Aristark, and Secunde, and Gayus, Derbeus, and Tymoþe; soþli Afians, Tyticus and Trophimus.
- v Þese whanne þei wenten bifore, 'fusteyned, or abiden, vs at Troade.
- vi Forsoþ we schipiden aftir dayes of 'þerf looues fro Philippis, and camen to hem at Troade in fyue daies, where we dwelten seuene dayes.
- vii Soþli 'o day of saboth, whanne we camen for to breke breed, Poul dispu tide wiþ hem, 'he to goyng in þe morwe; and he drew along þe word til into mydnyȝt.
- viii Soþli plenteuous laumpis weren in þe 'souping place, where we weren gederid to gidere.
- ix Soþli sum ȝong man, Euticus bi name, fittinge on þe wyndow, whanne he was dreynt wiþ a greuous sleep, 'Poul disputinge longe, he ledd by sleep fel down fro þe þridde stage, 'or souping place; and he takun vp, 'is offrid deed.
- x To whom whanne Poul cam down, he lay on him, and biclippinge feide, Nyle ȝe be troublid; forsoþ þe soule of him is in him.
- xi And he goyng vp, and brekinge breed, and taſtinge, and spak ynow til into þe liȝt; and so he wente forþ.
- xii Soþli þei brouȝten to þe child lyuynge, and þei ben comfortid 'not leest.

- xiii Soþli we stiȝyng vp into a schip, schippiden into Affon, 'fro þennus we to receyuyng Poul; soþli so he hadde disposid, to makinge iourney bi lond.
- xiv Forsoþ whanne he fond vs in Affon, 'him takyn to, we camen to Mitilene.
- xv And fro þennis schippinge, in þe day fuyng we camen aȝens Chyum, and an oþer day we haueneden at Samum, and in þe day fuyng we camen to Milet.
- xvi Soþli Poul purposide for to schippe ouer to Epheſi, leſt ony dwelling were maad to him in Asie; forsoþ he hiȝede, if it were poſſible to him, þat he schulde make þe day of Pentecoste at Jerusaleſem.
- xvii Fro Milet soþli he fendyng to Epheſy, clepide þe more þorw birþe of þe chirche.
- xviii Which whanne þei camen to him, and weren to gidere, he feide to hem, ȝe witen fro þe firſte day, in which I cam into Asie, hou wiþ ȝou by ech tyme I was,
- xix feruyng to be Lord wiþ al mekenesse, and myldnesse, and teeris, and temptaciouns, þat felden to me of aþpyngis of Jewis;
- xx how I wiþdrawȝ noȝt of profitable þingis to ȝou, þat I telde not to ȝou, and tauȝte ȝou openly, and bi houfis;
- xxi witneſſinge to Jewis and heþene men 'into God penaunce, and feiþ into oure Lord Jhesu Crift.
- xxii And 'now lo! I boundun in ſpirit, go into Jerufalem; what þingis in it 'ben to comyng to me vnkownyng,
- xxiii no but þat þe Hooly Gost by alle citees witneſſip to me, feyng, for bondis and tribulaciouns at Jerufalem 'dwellen to me.
- xxiv But I ſchame, 'or drede, no þing of þese, neþer I make my 'ſoule, þat is, lyf, preciouſer þan my ſilf, 'þe while I ende, 'or fulfülle, my cours, and þe mynysterie of þe word, þe which I receyuede of þe Lord Jhesu, for to witneſſe þe gospel of þe grace of God.
- xxv And now lo! I woot, for ȝe ſchulen no more fe my face, alle ȝe by whom I paſſide, prechinge þe kingdom of God.
- xxvi Wherfore I witneſſe ȝou þis day, for I am clene of þe blood, 'or synne, of alle men.
- xxvii Forsoþ I fleiȝ not awey, þat I tauȝte, 'or teelde, not to ȝou al þe council of God.
- xxviii Take tent to ȝou, and to al þe folk, in which þe Hooly Gost fette ȝou bischopis, for to reule þe chirche of God, which he purchaſide wiþ his blood.
- xxix I woot for aftir my departyng, rauyschinge wolues ſchulen entre in to ȝou, 'not ſparinge þe flok;
- xxx and of ȝou ſilf men ſpekinge weyward þingis ſchulen ryfe, þat þei ledien disciplis aftir hem.
- xxxi For which þing wake ȝe, holdinge in mynde þat by þre ȝeer nyȝt and day I ceeffide not wiþ teeris monestinge ech of ȝou.
- xxxii And now I bitake ȝou to God and to þe word of his grace, þat is myȝty for to edifie and ȝyue heritage in alle maad hooly.
- xxxiii Forsoþ of no man I coueitide ſiluer, and gold, or cloþ, xxxiv as ȝe filf witen; but to þo þingis þat weren nede to me, and to þese þat ben wiþ me, þese hondis mynistriden.

xxxv Alle þese þingis I schewide to ȝou, for so it bihoueþ men trauelinge for to rescyeue þe syke, and for to haue mynde of þe word of þe Lord Jhesu; for he feide, It is more bleſſid for to ȝyue, more þan for to receyue.

xxxvi And whanne he hadde feide þese þingis, 'his knees putt, he preiede wiþ alle hem.

xxxvii Soþli greet wepyng of alle men was maad; and þei fallinge in þe necke of Poul, kiffeden him, xxxviii forwinge mooſt in þe word þat he feide, for þei weren no more to seyng his face. And þei ledden him to þe schip.

Capitulum XXI.

i Soþli whanne it was don, þat we schulden schippe, drawun awey fro hem, streiȝt cours we camen to Choum, and þe day fuyng to Rodum, and fro þennis to Patiram, 'fro þennis into Iram.

ii And whanne we founden a schip paſſinge ouer into Fenyse, we 'ftiȝyng vp, schippeden, 'or seilden.

iii Soþli whanne we apperiden to Cypre, we leeuyng it at þe left half, schipiden into Cyrie, and camen to Tyre. Soþli þere þe schip was to puttinge out þe charge.

iv Soþli 'disciplis foundun, we dwelliden þere feuene dayes; þe whiche feiden bi spirit to Poul, þat he schulde not stiȝe to Jerusalem.

v And 'þe dayes fulfillid, we goinge forþ wenten, alle men wiþ wyues and fre children ledinge forþ vs til to wiþoute þe citee; and 'þe knees putt in þe see brynde, we preieden.

vi And whanne we hadden maad farwel to gidere, we wenten vp into þe schip; soþli þei turneden aȝen into her owne þingis.

vii Soþli þe schip seiling fulfillid fro Tyre, we dessendiden to Tolomayda, and 'þe breþeren gret wel, we dwelliden o day at hem.

viii Forsoþe an ober day we gon forþ, camen to Cesarie. And we entringe into þe hous of Philip euangelist, þat was oon of þe feuene, dwelliden at him.

ix Soþli to þis weren foure douȝtris, virgyns, prophesiynge.

x And whanne we dwelliden þere bi sum dayes, sum man prophete, Agabus by name, cam ouer fro Judee.

xi ȝis whanne he cam to vs, took þe girdil of Poul, and byndyne to gidere 'to him þe feet and hondis, feide, þe Hooli Gost seiþ þes þingis, ȝis Jewis schulen bynde in Jerusalem þe man, whos is þis girdil; and þei schulen bitake into heþene mennis hondis.

xii Which þing whanne we herden, we preieden, and þei þat weren of þat place, þat he schulde not stiȝe to Jerusalem.

xiii Panne Poul answeride, and seide, What do ȝe, wepinge and turmentyng myn herte? Soþli I am redy, not onli for to be boundun, but and to deie in Jerusalem for þe name of þe Lord Jhesu.

xiv And whanne we myȝten not councel him, we weren stille, 'or restiden, seyinge, ȝe wille of þe Lord be don.

xv Soþli aftir þes dayes we maad redy, stiȝeden to Jerusalem.

xvi Soþli summe of disciplis camen wiþ vs fro Cesarie, ledinge wiþ hem sum man, Jason of Cypre, an old disciple, at whom we schulden be herborid.

xvii And whanne we camen to Jerusalem, breþeren rescyeueden vs wilfulli.

xviii Soþli in þe day fuyng Poul entride wiþ vs to James, and alle þe eldere men ben gederid.

xix Whom whanne he hadde grett, he tolde bi alle þingis, what þingis God hadde don in heþene men, by þe mynisterie of him.

xx And þei whanne þei herden, magnifieden God, and feiden to him, ȝou, broþir, seest how manye þousandis ben in Jewis, þat han bileuyd to God, and alle ben fueris, 'or loueris, of þe lawe.

xxi Soþli þei herden of þee, for þou techist departing fro Moyses of 'þe ilke Jewis þat ben by heþene men, seyinge, þat þei oweden not for to circumfide her sones, neþer owen for to entre vp custom.

xxii Perfore what is? Soþli it bihoueþ a multitude come to gidere; forsoþe þei schulen heere 'þee, for to haue come ouer.

xxiii Perfore do þou þis þing, þat we seyn to þee. ȝere ben to vs foure men, hauyng a vow on hem.

xxiv 'Þese takun to, halowe þee wiþ hem; and 'coſte in hem, þat þei schaue her heidis; and alle men wite, þat þe þingis þat þei herden of þee ben falſe, but þou walkist and bi filf kepinge þe lawe.

xxv Of þese soþli þat bileuyden of heþene men, we writen, demyng ȝat þei abſtayne hem fro þingis offrid to ydols, and blood, and stranglid þing, and fornicacioun.

xxvi Panne 'þe men takyn to, Poul in þe day fuyng purified wiþ hem, entride into þe temple, schewinge þe fulfilling of dayes of purifiyng, til offring was offrid for ech of hem.

xxvii Soþli whanne feuene dayes weren endid, þe Jewis þat weren of Asie, whanne þei fyȝen hym in þe temple, stiriden al þe peple, and leiden hondis on him, xxviii criyng, Men of Israel, helpe ȝe vs. ȝis is þe man, þat aȝens peple and lawe and þis place techinge euery where alle men, more ouer and haþ ledd yn heþen men into þe temple, and haþ defoulid þis hooly place.

xxix Forsoþe þei fyȝen Trophimus of Ephesi in þe citee wiþ him, whom þei geſſiden for Poul hadde brouȝt into þe temple.

xxx And al þe citee is mouyd, and a rennyng to gidere of peple is maad. And þei 'catchinge Poul, drowyn him out of þe temple; and anoon þe ȝatis ben closid.

xxxi Soþli 'hem sekyng for to fle hym, it is toold to þe tribune of þe cumpayne of knyȝtis, for al Jerusalem is confoundid.

xxxii Þe which a noon 'knyȝtis takun to, and centuriouns, ran to hem. Whiche whanne þei hadden feyn þe tribune and knyȝtis, ceestiden for to smyte Poul.

xxxiii Panne þe tribune 'comynge to, kauȝte him, and comaundide for to be boundyn wiþ twey chaynes; and axide, who it was, and what he hadde don.

xxxiv Soþli oþere crieden oþir þing in þe cumpayne. And whanne he myȝte not knowe certeyn þing for þe noyse, he comaundide him for to be ledd into þe castels.

xxxv And whanne Poul cam to grees, it bifel þat he was born of knyȝtis, for strengþe of þe peple.

xxxvi Forsoþe multitude of peple suede him, criyng, Take him awey.

xxxvii And whanne Poul bigan for to be ledd in to þe castels, he seip to þe tribune, If it is leefful to me, for to speke ony þing to þee? Which seide, Pou 'Greek hast þou knowun?

xxxviii Wher þou ert not þe Egipcian, þe which bifore þes dayes mouedist a noyse, and laddist out into desert foure þousand of men, menfleiris?

xxxix And Poul seide to him, Soþli I am a man Jew, of Tarfe of Cilicie, a citefeyn, 'or burgeys, 'of a citee not vñknowun. Forsoþ I preie þee, suffre me 'for to speke to þe peple.

x And whanne he suffride, Poul stondinge in þe grees, bekenyde wiþ þe hond to þe peple. And a greet silence maad, he spak to in Ebrew tunge, seyinge,

Capitulum XXII.

i Men, breþeren and fadris, heere ȝe what resoun I ȝelde now to ȝou.

ii Forsoþ, whanne summe herden for in Ebrew tunge he spak to hem, þei ȝauen more silence. And he seide, iii I 'a man Jew, born at Tarfe of Cilicie, norisched forsoþ in þis citee bifydis þe feet of Gamaliel, lerud vp þe treue of fadris lawe, folower, 'or louer, of þe lawe, as and ȝe alle ben to day.

iv Whiche I pursuede þis wey til to þe deep, byndinge to gidere and drawinge into holdis men and wymmen, v as þe prince of prestis ȝeldiþ witnesſing to me, and alle þe more in birþe. Of which 'and I takinge pistlis 'to breþeren, wente to Damask, þat I schulde bryngre fro þennis bounden into Jerusalem, þat þei schulden ben peyned.

vi Forsoþ it is don, 'me goynge, and neȝyng to Damask, in þe mydday sudenli 'fro heuene 'a copious liȝt schon aboute me.

vii And I 'fallinge into þe erþe, herde a vois fro heuene, seyng to me, Saul, Saul, what pursuest þou me? It is hard to bee for to kyke aȝens þe pricke.

viii Forsoþe I answereide, Who art þou, Lord? And he seide to me, I am Jhesu of Nazareth, whom þou pursuest.

ix And þei þat weren wiþ me syȝen soþli þe liȝt, forsoþe þei herden not þe vois of him, þat spak wiþ me.

x And I seide, Lord, what schal I do? Soþli þe Lord seide to me, 'Pou rifynge, go to Damask; and þere it schal be feid to þee, of alle þingis whiche it bihouȝ þee for to do.

xi And whanne I syȝ not, for þe clerete of þat liȝt, I ledd to hondis of felowis, cam to Damask.

xii Forsoþ summan, Ananye, vp þe lawe hauyng witnesſing of alle Jewis dwellinge in Damask, xiii comynge to me, and stondinge nyȝ, seide, Saul, broþer, bihold. And I in þe same hour biheld in to him.

xiv And he seide, God of oure fadris ordeynede þee, þat þou schuldist knowe þe wille of him, and schuldist se iust þing, and heere þe vois of his mouȝ.

xv For þou schalt be his witnesse to alle men, of þo þingis þat þou hast feyn and herd.

xvi And now, what dwellist þou? Ryse vp, and be baptisid, and waisch awey þi synnes, 'ynclepid þe name of him.

xvii Forsoþ it is don to me, turnynge aȝen into Jerusalem, and preinge in þe temple, 'me for to be maad in rauyſching of soule, xviii and to se him seyng to me, Hiȝe þou, and go out faste of Jerusalem, for þei schulen not receyue þi witnesſyng of me.

xix And I seide, Lord, þei witen, for I was clofyng to gidere into prisoun, and betyng by synagogis hem þat bileueden 'in to þee.

xx And whanne þe blood of Stheuene, þi witnesse, was sched, I stood nyȝ, and consentide, and kepte þe cloþis of men fleyng him.

xi And he seide to me, Go þou, for I schal lende þee ferr to naciouns.

xii Forsoþ þei herden him til to þis word; and þei reysiden her vois, seyng, Take fro þe erþe such a maner man; forsoþ it is not leefful, 'him for to lyue.

xiii Soþli 'hem cryng in voys, and castinge a wey her cloþis, and þrowinge dowft in to þe eyr, xiv þe tribune comaundide hym for to be ledd in to castels, and for to be betyn wiþ scourgis, and him for to be turmentid, þat he schulde wite, for what cause þei cryeden so to him.

xv And whanne þei hadden streyned hym wiþ boondis, 'or roopis, Poul seide to a centurioun stondinge nyȝ to him, If it is leeful to ȝou, for to scourge a man Romayn, and vndampned?

xxvi 'Which þing herd, centurioun wente to þe tribune, and tolde to him, seyng, What art þou to doinge? forþoþ þis man is a citemeyn Romayn.

xxvii Forþoþ þe tribune 'comynge to, seide to him, Seie þou to me, if þou art a Romayn?

xxviii And he seide, ȝhe. And þe tribune answeride, 'How liȝtly seist þou þee a Romayn citemeyn? I wiþ moche summe gat þis ciuylite. And Poul seip, 'I soþli and am borun.

xxix Perfore a noon þei þat weren to turmentinge him, departiden awey fro him. And þe tribune dredde, aftir þat he wiste aȝen, for he was a citemeyn of Rome, and for he hadde boundyn him.

xxx Forþoþ in þe day suyng he willinge 'for to wite more diligently, of what cause he were accusid of Jewis, vnbounþ him, and comaundide prestis 'for to come, and al þe counseil. And he bryngynge forþ Poul, ordeynede him among hem.

Capitulum XXIII.

i Poul forþoþ biholdinge in to þe counseil, seip, Men breþeren, I wiþ al good conscience haue lyued before God, til into þis day.

ii Soþli Anany, prince of prestis, comaundide to men stondinge nyȝ, for to smytle his mouþ.

iii Panne Poul seide to him, Wal maad whiȝt, God schal smyte þee; and þou sittinge demest me vp þe lawe, and aȝenst þe lawe comaundist me for to be smytyng.

iv And þei þat stooden nyȝ, seiden, Cursist þou þe hiȝeste prest of God?

v Soþli Poul seide, Breþeren, I wiste not, for he is prince of prestis; forþoþ it is writun, Poul schalt not curse þe prince of þi peple.

vi Forþoþ Poul 'witinge, for o party was of Saducees, and 'þat oþir of Pharisees, he cryede in þe counseil, Men breþeren, I am a Pharise, þe sone of Pharisees; of þe hope and aȝen rysing of deede men I am demed.

vii And whanne he hadde seid þis þing, diffencioun is maad bitwixe Pharisees and Saducees, and þe multitude is departid.

viii Forþoþ Saducees seyn, for 'to be 'no rysing aȝen of deede men, neþer aungel, neþer spirit; forþoþ Pharisees knowlechen boþe.

ix Soþli a greet cry is maad. And summe of Pharisees rysing vp, souȝten, seyng, We fynde no þing of yuel in þis man; what if a spirit spak to him, 'or aungel?

x And whanne greet diffencioun was maad, þe tribune dredinge, left Poul schulde be to-drawun 'a mong hem, comaundide knyȝtis for to go doun, and to rauysche him of þe myddil of hem, and for to lede him in to castels.

xi Soþli in þe nyȝt suyng þe Lord stondinge nyȝ to him, seip, Be þou stedefast; soþli as þou hast witnessid of me in Jerusalem, so it bihoueþ þee for to witnesse and at Rome.

xii Forþoþ 'þe day maad, summe of þe Jewis gederiden hem, and maden a vow, seyng, hem neþer to etinge, neþer to drynkinge, til þei flowen Poul.

xiii Forþoþ þer weren mo þan fourty men, þat maden þis coniuracioun, 'or swering to gidere.

xiv Pe whiche wenten to þe princes of prestis, and eldre men, and seiden, Wiþ deuocioun we han avowid vs 'to no þing taftinge, til we slen Poul.

xv Now þerfore make ȝe knownun to þe tribune, wiþ þe counceil, þat he leede forþ him to ȝou, as ȝe to knowinge sum þing more certeynli of him; soþli we ben redy for to lede him, bifore þat he come nyȝ.

xvi Which þing whanne þe sone of Poules fistir hadde herd þe aspies, 'or trefoun, he cam, and entride in to þe castels, and tolde Poul.

xvii Soþli 'he clepinge to him oon of þe centuriouns, seip, Leed þis ȝonge man to þe tribune, for he haþ sum þing for to schewe to him.

xviii And he forþoþ takinge him 'to, ledde to þe tribune, and seip, Boundyn Poul preiede me, for to lede to þee þis ȝonge man, hauynge sum þing for to speke to þee.

xix Soþli þe tribune takinge his hond, wente wiþ him a sydis half, and axide him, What þing is it, þat þou haft to schewe to me?

xx Forþoþ he seide, It bifallilþ to þe Jewis for to preie þee, þat to morwe day þou bringe forþ Poul into þe counceil, 'as þei ben to sekinge sum þing certeynere.

xxi Soþli bileue þou not to hem; forþoþ more þan fourty men of hem aspien him, þe whiche han a vowid, 'hem for to not ete ne drynke, til þei slen him; and now þei ben redy, abidinge 'þi biheeste.

xxii Perfore þe tribune lefte þe ȝonge man, comaundinge, þat he schulde speke to no man, for he hadde maad þes þingis knowun to him.

xxiii And tweye centuriouns clepid to gidire, he seide to hem, Make ȝe redy tweyne hundrid knyȝtis, þat þei go til to Cesarie, and horsmen feuenty, and sper men tweyn hundrid, fro þe þridde hour of þe nyȝt.

xxiv And make ȝe redy 'iumentis, or hors, þat þei puttinge Poul vpon, schulden lede him saf to Felix, president.

xxv 'Soþli he dredde, left peraudentre Jewis schulden rauysche him, and flee, and he afterward schulde suffre chalenge, as he were to takinge money; writinge to him 'an epistle, conteynynge þes þingis.

xxvi Claudius Lisiias to þe best Felix, presidenc, heelþe.

xxvii Þis man takyn of Jewis, and bigynnynge for to be flayn of hem, I 'aboue comynge 'wiþ cumpany delyuerede, 'knowun for he is a Romayn.

xxviii And I willinge 'for to wite þe cause, þe which þei puttiden aȝens him, ledde him in to þe counceil of hem.

xxix Whom I fond for to ben accusid of questiouns of þe lawe of hem, forþoþ hauynge no cryme worþi þe deeþ, 'or bondis.

xxx And whanne it was teeld to me of þe aspies, 'or tresouns, þat þei maden redy, I sente him to þee, 'denounsinge and to accusatours, þat þei seie at þee. Farwel.
xxi Soþli knyȝtis, vp þing comaundid to hem, 'takinge to Poul, ledden him by nyȝt into Antipatriden.
xxxii And in þe day fuynge, 'þe horfmen left, þat þei schulden go wiþ him, þei turnyden aȝen 'to þe castels.
xxxiii Þe whiche whanne þei camen to Cesarie, and token þe pyftle to þe president, þei settent bifore hym and Poul.
xxxxii Forsoþ whanne he hadde rad, and axid, of what prouunce he was, and 'knowinge for he was of Cilice, xxxxi I schal heere þee, he seiþ, whanne þi accuseris 'schulen come. And he comaundide him for to be kept in þe pretorie, or moote halle, of Heroude.

Capitulum XXIIII.

i Forsoþ aftir fyue dayes, Ananye, prince of prestis, cam doun wiþ sum eldre men, and Terculle, sum 'oratour, or fair speker, or auocat, whiche wenten to þe president aȝeyns Poul.
ii And, Poul somenyd, Terculle bigan for to 'accuse, seyinge, Whanne in moche pees we don bi þee, and manye þingis ben amendid bi þi prouydence, 'or wysdom, iii euermore and euerywhere, þou best Felix, we han receyued wiþ al doynges of þankingis.
iii Forsoþ left I tarie þee lengere, I preie þee, schortly heere vs for þi mekenesse.
v We han foundun þis man beringe venom, 'or pestilence, and stiringe sediciooun, 'or diffenciooun, to alle Jewis in al þe world, and auctour of seduciooun of þe fecte of Nazarens;
vi þe which also enforuide for to defoule þe temple; whom 'and takun to, we wolden deme, aftir oure lawe.
vii Soþli Lisiás, þe tribune, 'aboue comynge wiþ greet strengþe, delyuerede him fro oure hondis;
viii comaundingis his accuseris for to come to þee, of whom þou demyng, maist knowe of alle þes þingis, of whiche we accusen him.
ix Forsoþ and Jewis caſtiden to, seyinge þes þingis 'for to haue hem so. x Forsoþ Poul answeride, 'grauntinge þe presedent to him for to seie, Of manye ȝeiris I knowinge þee for to be domesman to þis folk, schal do ynow for me wiþ good ynwitt, 'or resoun.
xi Soþli þou maist knowe, for to me ben not more þan twelue dayes, siþen I stiȝede vp for to worshipe in Jerusalem;
xii and neþir in þe temple þei founden me disputinge wiþ ony man, or makinge concurs, 'or rennyng to gidere, of þe cumpany 'of peple, neþer in synagogis, neþer in citee;

xiii neþer þei mown proue to þee, of þe whiche þingis þei now accusen me.
xiv Soþli I knowleche to þee þis þing, þat vp þe secte which þei seyn ȝeresie, so I ferue to God þe fadir, bileuyng to alle þingis þat ben writun in þe lawe and prophetis;
xv hauyng hope in to God, þe whiche and þei hem ſilf abyden, þe aȝen ryſing to comynge of iuft men and wickid.
xvi In þis þing and I studie wiþouten hirtyng, for to haue conscience to God, and to men euermore.
xvii Forsoþ aftir mo ȝeiris, I cam to doyng almesdedis into my folk, and offringis, and vowis; xviii in whiche þei founden me purified in þe temple, not wiþ cumpanye, neþir wiþ noyse. And þei cauȝten me, þei 'cryinge, and seiyng, Take awei oure enemy. Soþli summe Jewis of Afie, xix whom it bihofte for to be now present, 'or redy, at þee, and accuse, if þei hadden ony þing aȝens me, xx or þese hem ſilf feye, if þei founden in me ony þing of wickidnesse, siþen I stonde in þe counciel, xxi no but oonli of þis o vois, by which I cryede ſtondinge a mong hem, For of þe aȝen ryſing of deede men I am demyd þis day of ȝou.
xxii Soþli Felix deferride hem, moost certeynli 'he witinge of þe weye, seiyng, Whanne Lisiás, þe tribune, schal come, I schal heere ȝou.
xxiii And he comaundide to centurioun for to kepe him, and for to haue reſte, neþir for to forbide ony man for to mynstre of his owne þingis to him.
xxiv Soþli aftir summe dayes, Felix comynge wiþ Drusille, his wyf, þat was a Jewesse, clepide Poul, and herde of him þe feiþ þat is into 'Jhesu Crift.
xxv Soþli 'him disputinge of riȝtwyfnesse, and chaſtite, and of dom to comynge, Felix maad tremblinge, answeride, þat perteyneþ now, go; soþli in tyme couenable I schal clepe þee to.
xxvi Alſo and hopinge, þat money schulde be ȝouun to him of Poul; for whiche þing and ofte he clepinge him to, spak wiþ him.
xxvii Soþli twey ȝeiris fulfillid, Felix took a ſuccellour, 'Festus of Ponte; forſoþ Felix willinge 'for to ȝyue grace to Jewis, lefte Poul boundun.

Capitulum XXV.

i Therfore whanne Festus cam into prouunce, aftir þe þridde day he affendide to Jerufalem fro Cesarie.
ii And þe princes of prestis, and þe firſte of Jewis wenten to him aȝens Poul, and preieden him, iii axinge grace aȝens him, þat he ſchulde comaunde him for to be led to Jerufalem; ſettinge aspies for to fle hym in þe weye.
iv Soþli Festus answeride, Poul 'for to be kepte in Cesarie; 'him ſoþly to goyng forþ more rypeli, 'or haſteli.

v Perfore he seiþ, þei þat in ȝou ben myȝti, comynge doun to gidere; if ony cryme is in þe man, accuse him.

vi Soþli he dwellinge a mong hem no more þan eiȝte or ten dayes, cam doun to Cesarie; and þat oþir day he sat for domeſman, and comaundide Poul for to be 'ledd to.

vii Which whanne he was ledd, Jewis stooden 'aboute him, þe whiche camen doun fro Jerusalem, puttinge aȝens manye and greuoule cauſis, whiche þei myȝten not proue.

viii Soþli Poul ȝeldinge refoun, For neþir into þe lawe of Jewis, neþer 'in to þe temple, neþer into Cesar, I synnede ony þing.

ix Forsoþ Festus willinge 'for to ȝyue grace to þe Jewis, anſweringe to Poul, feide, Wolt þou affende to Jerusalem, and þere be demed of þese þingis at me?

x Soþli Poul feide, At þe dom place of Cesar I stonde, where it bihoueþ me for to be demyd. I haue not noyed to þe Jewis, as þou 'haft betere knowun.

xi Soþli if I haue noyed, or don ony þing worþi deep, I forſake not for to deie; soþli if no þing of þese is, þat þei accusen me, no man may ȝyue me to hem. 'Cesar I apele.

xii Panne Festus spekinge wiþ þe counceil, anſweride, Cesar þou haft apelid, to Cesar þou schalt go.

xiii And whanne summe dayes weren paſſid, Agrippa kyng, and Bernyſe camen doun to Cesarie, for to greete wel Festus.

xiv And whanne þei dwelliden þere manye dayes, Festus ſchewide to þe king of Poul, feiynge, Sum man is left boundun of Felix, xv of which, whanne I was at Jerusalem, princes of preſtis and eldere men of Jewis camen to me, axinge dampnacioun aȝens him.

xvi To whom I anſweride, It is not custom to Romayns, for to dampne ony man, 'bifore þat he þat is accusid haue his accuseris present, and take place of defendyng, for to wayſche a wey crymes, 'or greet trespassis, þat ben putt aȝens.

xvii Perfore whanne þei camen to gedire hidur, wiþoute ony delay, in þe day ſuyng I ſittinge for domeſman, comaundide þe man for to be 'ladd to.

xviii Of whom whanne þe accuseris stooden nyȝ, þei feyden no caufe, of whiche þingis I hadde ſuspicioun of yuel.

xix Soþli þei hadde aȝens hym summe queſtiouns of her veyn worſhiping, 'or religioune, and of sum Jhesu deed, whom Poul affermyde for to lyue.

xx Soþli I doutinge of ſuch maner queſtioun, feide, If he wolde go to Jerusalem, and þere 'for to be demyd of þese þingis?

xi Forsoþ Poul apelinge, þat he ſchulde be kept to þe knowinge of þe emperor, I comaundide him for to be kept, til I ſchal fende him to Cesar.

xxii Soþli Agrippa feide to Festus, And I my ſilf wolde heere þe man. 'Festus anſweride, To morwe, he seiþ, þou ſchalt heere him.

xxiii Soþeli on 'þat oþir day, whanne Agrippa and Bernyſe camen wiþ moche ambicioun, or prude of ſtaat, and entriden into þe auditorie, wiþ tribunis and principal men of þe citee, 'Festus biddinge, Poul 'is lad to.

xxiv And Festus feide, Kyng Agrippa, and alle men þat ben wiþ vs, ȝe ſeen þis, of þe which al þe multitude of Jewis preiede me at Jerusalem, 'axinge, and cryninge, him for 'to not bihoue 'for to 'lyue more.

xxv Forſoþ I fond, 'him for to haue don no þing worþi of deep; soþli 'him apelinge þis þing to þe emperor, I deme for to fende.

xxvi Of which man I haue not, what þing certeyn I ſchal wryte to þe lord. For which þing I brouȝte him 'to ȝou, and mooſt to þee, O kyng Agrippa, þat axyng maad, I haue what I ſchal wryte.

xxvii Forſoþ it is feyn to me wiþoute refoun, for to fende a boundun man, and not to ſignifie þe cause of him.

Capitulum XXVI.

i Agrippa soþli ſeiþ to Poul, It is ſuffrid to þee, for to ſpeke for þi ſilf. Panne Poul, 'þe hond holdun forþ, bigan for to ȝelde refoun.

ii Of alle þingis, in whiche I am accusid, þou kyng Agrippa, I geſſe me bleſſid at þee, whanne I am to defendinge me þis day;

iii mooſt 'þee witinge alle þingis þat ben at Jewis, cuſtoms and queſtiouns. For which þing, I beſeche, heere me paciently.

iv And soþli alle Jewis 'bifore witinge me fro þe bigynnyng, han knowun my lyf fro ȝongþe;

v þat fro þe bigynnyng was in my folk in Jerusalem, if þei wolen bere witnesse, 'for vp þe mooſt certeyn ſecte of oure religioune, I lyued a Farifee.

vi And now in þe hope of repremyſcioun, þat is maad to oure fadris of God, I ſtonde fuget in dom;

vii in which oure twelue lynagis feruyng nyȝt and day, hopen for to become; of which hope, þou king, I am accusid of Jewis.

viii What vnbileefful þing is demyd at ȝou, if God reysib deede men?

ix And soþeli I geſſide, 'me aȝens þe name of Jhesu Nazarene, for to owe do manye contrarie þingis.

x Which þing and I dide in Jerusalem, and I encloſide manye of feyntis in prisouns, 'power takun of þe princes of preſtis. And whanne þei weren flayn, I ȝaf þe ſentence.

xi And bi alle synagogis ofte I ponyſchinge hem, conſtreynde for to blaſphemē; and more I waxynge wood aȝens hem, 'purſuede to aliene citees.

xii In whiche, þe while I wente to Damask, wiþ power and suffring of princes of prestis, xiii in þe mydday, in þe wey I syȝ, þou kyng, fro heuene liȝt 'haue schyned aboue me, ouer þe schynynge of þe funne, and hem þat weren to gidere wiþ me.
 xiv And whanne we alle hadden fallun doun into þe erþe, I herde a voys seyinge to me in Ebrew tunge, Saul, Saul, what purfuest þou me? it is hard to þee, for to kike aȝens þe pricke. xv Forsoþ I feide, Who art þou, Lord? Soþeli þe Lord feide, I am Jhesus, whom þou purfuest. xvi But ryse vp, and stond on þi feet. Soþli to þis þing I aperide to þee, þat I ordeyne þee mynistre and witnesse of þo þingis þat þou haft seyn, and of þo in whiche I schal apeere to þee;
 xvii delyuerynge þee fro peplis and folkis, into whiche now I fende þee,
 xviii for to opene þe yȝen of hem, þat þei be conuertid fro derknessis to liȝt, and fro power of Sathanas to God, þat þei take remyfcioun of synnes, and fort, 'or part, among seytis, by feiþ þat is in me.
 xix Wherfore, þou kyng Agrippa, I was not vnbileefful to heuenly viȝioun;
 xx but to hem þat ben at Damask first, and Jerufalem, and bi al þe cuntree of Judee, and to heþen men, 'I schewide, 'or tolde, þat þei schulden do penaunce, and be conuertid to God, doyng worþi workis of
 penaunce.
 xxi Of þis cause Jewis temptiden me takyn to, whanne I was in þe temple, willinge 'for to fle me.
 xxii Soþli I holbyn by þe help of God into þis day, stonde, witniffinge to lassfe and more; 'no þing 'wiþoute seyinge þan whiche þingis þe prophetis and Moyfes spaken 'for to be comynge, xxiii if Crist passible, 'or able to suffre, if þe firste of þe aȝen rysing of deede men is to schewinge liȝt to þe peple and heþen men.
 xxiv 'Him spekinge þes þingis, and ȝeldinge resoun, Festus 'wiþ greet vois seyde, Poul, þou maddist, 'or wexist wood; manye lettris turnen þee to woodnesse.
 xxv And Poul seiþ, I madde not, þou best Festus, but I speke out þe wordus of treuþe and lobrenesse.
 xxvi Soþli and þe kyng, to whom I speke stedefastly, woot of þese þingis; soþli I deme no þing of þese 'for to 'dare him, or vnknowe. Forsoþ neþer in a corner is ouȝt of þese þingis don.
 xxvii Bileuest þou, kyng Agrippa, to prophetis? I woot for þou bileuest.
 xxviii Soþli Agrippa feide to Poul, 'In litil þing þou councelist me 'for to be maad a cristen man.
 xxix And Poul, I defyre anentis God, and in litil and in greet, not oonly þee, but and alle þese þat heeren to day, for to be maad siche what manere and I am, out takun þes bondis.
 xxx And þe kyng roos vp, and þe president, and Bernyce, and þei þat saten nyȝ to hem.

xxxi þe whiche whanne þei wenten awey, spaken to gidere, seyinge, For þis man haþ not don ony þing worþi deep, or bondis.
 xxxii Forsoþ Agrippa feide to Festus, Þis man myȝte be dismyttid, 'or delyuered, if he hadde not apelid to Cesar.

Capitulum XXVII.

i Soþli as it is demed him for to schippe into Italie, and þei bitoken Poul wiþ opere kept to a centurioun, by name Julius, of þe cumpayne of knyȝtis of þe emperour.
 ii Soþli we stiȝyng into þe schip of Adrymetis, and bigynnyng for to seyle, baren vp aboute þe placis of Asie, 'lastinge stille wiþ vs Aristark of Macedonye, Tessalonycense.
 iii Forsoþ þe day fuynge we camen to Sidon; soþli Julius tretyng manly, or kurteyfly, Poule, suffride for to go to frendis, and do þe cure, 'or nede, of hym.
 iv And whanne 'we haddun takun vp fro þennis, we vndirfailiden to Cypre, for þat wyndis weren contrarie.
 v And þe see of Silicie and Pamphilie 'we seilinge, camen to Listris, þat is Licie.
 vi And þere centurioun fyndinge a schip of Alisaundre, seilinge into Italie, puttide vs ouer in to it.
 vii And whanne many dayes we seilden flowli, and vnneþe camen aȝens Gnydum, 'þe wynd forbedinge vs, we seilden to Creete, bi sydis Salomona.
 viii And vnneþe we 'bi sydis seylinge, camen into sum place, þat 'is clepid of good hauene, to whom þe citee Tessala was nyȝ.
 ix Forsoþe 'moche tyme passid, and whanne now
 'seylinge was not sykir, for þat fasting passide, x Poul coumfortide hem, seyng to hem, Men, I se for wiþ wrong and harm, not oonly of charge and schipp, but also of oure soulis, 'or lyues, 'bygynneþ seiling for
 to be.
 xi Soþli centurioun bileuede more to þe gouernour, and to þe lord of þe schipp, þan to þese þingis þat weren seid of Poul.
 xii And whanne þe hauene was not able for to dwelle in wyntir, ful manye ordeyneden counceil for to seile þennis, if on ony maner þei myȝten come to Fenyce, for to 'wynterne in þe hauene of Crete, biholdinge to Affryk, and to Chorum.
 xiii Soþli 'þe souþ blowynge, þei geffinge hem for to holde purpos, whanne þei hadden takun vp fro Asson, seilden to Crete.
 xiv Soþli not aftir moche, þe wynd Tiffonyk, þat is clepid norþ eest, 'or wynd of tempest, fente him aȝens
 it.
 xv And whanne þe schipp was rauyschid, and myȝte not enforse into þe wynd, þe schipp ȝouun to blowingis,
 'we were borun.

xvi Soplí we rennyngé into sum yle þat is clepid Canda, 'vnneþe myȝte gete a litil boot.

xvii 'Þe which takun vp 'wiþ helpis, þei vſeden girdyng to gidere of schipp, dredyng leſt þei ſchulden falle into sandy placis; 'þe vessel vndirſent, fo þei were borun.

xviii Soplí vs þrōwun wiþ greet tempeſt, in þe day ſuyngē þei maden caſtyng out.

xix And þe þriddē day wiþ her hondis þei caſtiden awey þe instrumentis of þe ſchipp.

xx Soplý neþer funne neþer ſterris apperinge bi mo dayes, and tempeſt not litil 'ſchewingē nyȝ, now al þe hope of oure heelþe was don awey.

xxi And whanne moche faſting hadde be, þanne Poul ſtondinge in þe myddel of hem, ſeyde, A! men, it bihofto 'me herd, for to not take awey fro Crete, and make wynne þis wrong and caſting out.

xxii And now I counceile ȝou for to be of good ynwitt, 'or herte; ſoplí 'þer ſchal be loſs of no foule of ȝou, out takun of þe ſchipp.

xxiii Forſoþ an aungel of God, whos I am, and to whom I ferue, ſtood nyȝ to me þis nyȝt, xxiv ſeyninge, Poul, drede þou not; it bihoueþ bee for to ſtonde nyȝ to Cesar. And lo! God haþ ȝouun to bee alle þat ben in ſchipp wiþ þee.

xxv For which þing, ȝe men, be of good ynwitt, 'or herte; forſoþ I bileeue to my God, for ſo it ſchal be, as it is feid to me.

xxvi Soplí it bihoueþ vs for to come into sum yle.

xxvii But aftirward þat in fourteneþ day þe nyȝt cam aboue to vs ſeilinge in þe ſtoony ſee, aboue mydnyȝt þe ſchipmen ſupposiden sum regiouн, 'or cuntre, for to appere to hem.

xxviii þe whiche ſendinge doun a plomet, founded twenty paſis of depneſſe. And aftir a litil þei departid þennis, founded fiftene paſis.

xxix Soplí þei dredinge leſt we ſchulden falle into ſcharp places, fro þe laſte part of þe ſchipp ſendinge fourē ancris, defiſreden day 'for to be maad.

xxx Soplí 'þe ſchippmen ſekinge for to fle of þe ſchipp, whanne þei haddeſſen ſente a litel boot in to þe ſee, vndir colour as þei ſchulden bigynne fro þe former part of þe ſchipp for to ſtrecche forþ þe ancris, xxxi Poul ſeide to þe centurioun and knyȝtis, 'No but þeſe 'ſchulen dwelle in þe ſchipp, ȝe mown not be maad saf.

xxxii þanne knyȝtis kittiden awey þe cordis of þe litil boot, and ſuffriſen it for to falles fro.

xxxiii And whanne liȝt bigan for to be maad, Poul preiede alle men for to take mete, ſeyninge, 'Þe fourtenþe day þis day ȝe abidinge, dwellen faſtinge, 'no þing takynge.

xxxiv For which þing I preie ȝou for to take mete, for ȝoure helþe; for of noon of ȝou þe heer of þe heede ſchal periſche.

xxxv And whanne he hadde ſeid þeſe þingis, 'he takinge breed dide þankingis to God in þe liȝt of alle men; and whanne he hadde brokyn, he bigan for to ete.

xxxvi Forſoþ alle 'maad more pacient, 'or herty, and þei token to mete.

xxxvii Soplí we weren alle 'þe foulis in þe ſchipp, two hundrid ſeuenti and fixe.

xxxviii And þei fulfillid wiþ mete, diſcardeſen þe ſchipp, caſtinge whete in to þe ſee.

xxxix Soplí whanne day was maad, þei knewen not lond; forſoþ þei biheelden sum hauene hauyngē a water banke, into which þei þouȝten, if þei myȝten, for to caſte þe ſchipp.

xl And whanne þei hadden takun vp þe ancris, þei bitoken hem to be ſee, 'to gidere flakinge þe ioyntours of gouernaylis. And a litil ſeil lift vp, vp blowinge of þe wynd þei wenten to be banke.

xli And whanne we felden into a place of grauel gon al aboute wiþ þe ſee, þei hurtliden þe ſchipp. And þe formere part fiſchid, dwellide vnmouable; ſoplí þe laſte part was brokyn of ſtrengþe of þe ſee.

xlii Soplí counceil of þe knyȝtis was, for to fle men in þe keping, leſt ony ſchulde ſcape, whanne he haddeſſe ſwymmed out.

xliii Forſoþ þe centurioun willinge 'for to kepe Poul, forbeed for to be don. And he comaundide hem þat myȝte ſwymme, for to ſende hem þe firſte into þe ſee, and ſcape, and go out to be lond.

xlii And 'fumme obere þei baren in boordis, ſumme on þo þingis þat weren of þe ſchipp. And 'it is maad, þat alle þe 'ſoulis, or lyuyng men, ſcapiden to be lond.

Capitulum XXVIII.

i And whanne we haddeſſen ſcapid, þanne we knewen þat þe yle was clepid Mitilene.

ii Soplí barbaris, 'or heþene men, ȝauen to vs not litil humanyte, 'or curtesy. Forſoþ 'a fyer kyndlid, þei 'refetiden, or refreſchiden, vs alle, for þe reyn þat cam nyȝ, and cold.

iii Soplí whanne Poul hadde gederid ſum multitude of kittingis of vynes, and ynputt on þe fyer, an eddre, whanne ſhe cam forþ fro þe heete, aſailide his hond.

iv þeſore as barbares ſyȝen þe beeſt hangyngē in his hond, þei ſeiden to gidere, Soplí þis man is a man quellere; which whanne he ſcapide fro þe ſee, Goddis veniaunce ſuffriþ him not for to lyue.

v And 'he ſoplí ſchakinge of þe beeſt into þe fyer, ſuffride no þing of yuel.

vi And þei geſſiden 'him to be turned into ſwellinge, and ſudenly 'to fallinge, and 'for to deie. Forſoþ 'hem longe abidinge, and ſeyngē no þing of yuel 'for to be don in him, þei turnyngē to gidere, ſeiden 'him for to be God.

vii Forſoþ in þo places weren maneres, 'or feeldis, of þe prince of þe yle, Puplius by name, þe which

- refceyuynge vs þre dayes benygnely, `or wiþ good loue, fond vs.
- viii Soþli it bifel, þe fadir of Puplius `for to ligge traelid wiþ feueres and dissenterie, `or heil. To whom Poul entride, and whanne he hadde preied, and putt þe hondis to him, he fauyde him.
- ix 'Which þing don, alle þat in þe yle hadden sykeness, camen to, and weren curid, `or heilid.
- x Whiche also honowriden vs in many worschipis, and `to vs schippinge, ynputtiden what þingis weren necessarie.
- xi Forsoþ aftir þre monebis we schippiden in a schip of Alisaundre, þat hadde wyntrid in þe yle, to which was `a noble þing of castels.
- xii And whanne we camen to Siracusan, we dwelliden þere þre dayes.
- xiii Fro þennis we schippinge aboute, bicamen to Regioum; and aftir o day, `þe souþ blowynge, in þe secunde day we camen to Puteolos.
- xiv Where `breþeren foundun, we ben preied for to dwelle þere anentis hem seuene dayes. And so we camen to Rome.
- xv And fro þennus, whanne breþeren hadden herd, þei runnen to vs til to þe cheping of Appius, and to a place þat is clepid þre tauernes. Whom whanne Poul hadde seyn, he doyng þankinges to God, toke trist.
- xvi Soþeli whan we camen to Rome, it is suffrid to Poul for to dwelle to him self, wiþ oo kniȝt kepyng him.
- xvii Forsoþe aftir þe þridde day, he clepide to gydere þe firste of Jewis. And whan þei camen, he seide to hem, Men briþeren, I doyng no þing aȝens þe puple or custome of fadirs, I bounden at Jerusalem, am bitakun in to þe hondes of Romayns.
- xviii Whiche whan þei hadden axinge of me, wolden dismytte me, for þat no cause of deep was in me.
- xix But `Jewis aȝenseyng, I am constreynd for to apeele Cesar; not as hauynge ony þing for to accuse my folk.
- xx Perfore for þis cause I preyede for to see ȝou, and speke to; forsoþe for þe hope of Yrael I am gyrd aboue wiþ þis cheyne.
- xxi And þei leiden to him, Neþer we han receyued lettres of þee from Judee, neþer ony of briþeren comynge to schewide, or spake ony yuel þing of þee.
- xxii Soþeli we preyen for to here of þee, what þingis þou feelist; forwhi of þis fecte it is knowun to vs, for euery where it is aȝen seid to it.
- xxiii Soþeli whan þei hadden ordeyned a day to him, mo camen to him in to þe hooft, `or herbore. To whom he expounede, witnessinge þe kyngdom of God, and counseilede hem of Jhesu, of þe lawe of Moyfes, and prophetis, fro þe moru til to euentijde.
- xxiv And summe bileueden to þes þingis þat weren seid of Poul, summe bileueden not.

xxv Whan þei weren not consentinge to gydere, þei departiden, 'Poul seiyng oo word, For þe Holy Goost spake wel by Ysaie, þe prophet, to oure fadirs, xxvi seiyng, Go þou to bis puple, and seie to hem, Wiþ ere ȝe shulen here, and ȝe shulen not vndirstonde; and ȝe feeyng shulen fee, and ȝe shulen not biholde.

xxvii Þe herte of þis puple is infattid, and wiþ eris þei herden greuoufli, and þei pressidен to gydere her iȝen, leſt perauenture þei seen wiþ iȝen, and wiþ erys here, and bi herte vndirstonde, and be conuertid, and I heele hem.

xxviii Perfore be it knownen to ȝou, for to heþen men þis helpe `of God is sent, and þei shulen here.

xxix And whan he hadde seid þes þinges, Jewis wenten out fro him, hauynge miche questioun, `or seking, among hem filȝ.

xxx Sopeli he dwellide alle two ȝeer in his hijrid place; and he receyued alle þat entriden to him, xxxi prechinge þe kyngdom of God, and techinge what þinges ben of þe Lord Jhesu Crist, `wiþ al trist, wiþ outen forbeding.

Here endiþ þe book of Apostle Deidis.

JAMES.

Prologue on þe Catholic epistles.

Not þe fame ordre is at Greekis, þat holly sauouren, and þe riȝte feiþ folowen, of þe seuene epistolis þat ben clepid canonysid, as in Latyn bokys. It is founden sōþly, þat Petir is þe firste in noumbre of apostolis, also his epistolis shulden ben firſt in þe ordre of opere; but as þe euangelistis `sum tym to þe lyne of treupe now we han correctid, so þese epistolis to þer owne ordre, God helpende, we han ȝolden. Þe firſte sōþli of hem is of Jamys, two of Petir, þre of Jon, oen of Jude. Þe whiche, if as of hem þei weren mad, so also of interpretouris, or vndoeris, in to Latyn speche þei `were turned treuly, neþer doute to men redende þei shulde make, neþer diuerfete of wordes shulde enpugne þemself; in þat place, nameli, where in þe onhed of þe Trynyte, in þe firſte epistil of John wee reden set, in whiche also wee finden myche þing to ben errid of vntrewe transflatouris, potende hem `þe names onli of þre, of watir, of blod, and of þe spirit, in þilke her making, and leuende þe witnessesse of þe Fadir, and of þe Sone, and of þe Holi Goost, in þe whiche most boþe þe feiþ of riȝt beleue is strengþid, and oen substaunce of þe Godhed of þe Fadir, and Sone, and Holi Goost is proued. In opere epistolis sōþly, hou myche fro oure operis making discordiþ, I leue to þe prudence of þe redere. But þou, maiden of Crist, Eustache, whil of me þe treupe of scripture bifili þou enquerist, myn eelde sum what þou potest to þe teef of enyous men to `be gnawen; þe whiche pronouncen me to be a falsere, `and a distroȝere, `or apeirere, of holi scripturis. But I in such werk neijer drede þe enuye of myn enemys, neijer I will denyen þe treuþe of scripture to men askende.

Þe epistle of James.

Capitulum I.

- i James, þe seruaunt of God, and of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, to þe twelue kinredis, þat ben in scatering abrood, helþe.
ii My briþeren, gesse ȝe, 'or deme, al ioye, whan ȝe shulen falle in to diuersē temptaciouns, 'or tribulaciouns, iii witynge, þat þe prouyng of ȝoure feiþ werchiþ pacience;
iv Soþeli pacience haþ parfijt werk, þat ȝe be parfijt and hool, in no þing faylinge.
v Forsoþe if ony of ȝou nedijþ wisdom, axe he of God, 'þe which ȝiueþ to alle men largeli, and vpbraydiþ not; and it shal be ȝouun to him.
vi Soþeli axe he in feiþ, no þing doutynge; forsoþe he þat doutiþ, is lijk to a wawe of þe se, þe which 'of wijnd is moued and born aboute.
vii Þerfore gesse not 'þe ilke man, þat he shal take ony þing of þe Lord.
viii A man double of inwit is vnstable in alle his weyes.
ix Forsoþe a meke broþer glorye in his enhaunsinge, x Soþeli a riche man in his mekenesse; for as þe flour of hay, 'or graſſe, he shal passē.
xi Soþeli þe sunne 'is sprungen vp wiþ brennyng, 'or heete, and drieðe þe hay, and þe flour of it fel doun, and þe fayrnelle of his cheere perischide; 'so and a riche man welewiþ in his weies.
xii Bleſſid is þe man, þat suffriþ temptacioun; for whan he shal be proued, he shal receyue þe crown of liþ, þe which God aȝen bihiȝte to men louyng him.
xiii No man whan he is temptid, seie, for he is temptid of God; soþeli God is vntempter of yuel þingis, forsoþe he temptiþ no man.
xiv Soþeli ech man is temptid of his couteitinge, drawun fro refoun, and snaarid, 'or deceyued.
xv Þanne couteiting, whan it haþ conseyyed, bringiþ forþ synne; soþeli synne, whan it is fulfillid, gendriþ deeþ.
xvi 'And so, my moost derworþe briþeren, nyle ȝe erre.
xvii Ech besti þing ȝouun, and al parfijt gift is fro aboue, comyng doun of þe fadir of liȝtis, anentis whom is not ouerchaunginge, neþer shadewing of whileneſſ, 'or tyme.
xviii Forsoþe wilfully he gendride vs wiþ þe word of treuþe, þat we be sum bigynnyng of þe creature of him.
xix Wite ȝe, my briþeren moost loued, be ech man swift for to here, forsoþe flowe for to speke, and flowe to wrapphe; xx Soþeli þe wrap of man werchiþ not þe riȝtwisnesse of God.

xxi For which þing 'ȝe castinge awey al vncلنnesse, and plente of malice, in myldenesse, 'or homelynnesse, 'receyue ȝe þe word infant, 'or ioyned, þat mai saue ȝoure soules.

xxii Forsoþe be ȝe doers of þe word, and not herers onely, deceyuyng ȝou silf.

xxiii For if ony man is an herer 'of þe word, and not doer, þis shal be comparfound, 'or likned, to a man biholdinge þe cheere of his birþe in a myrour;

xxiv Soþeli he biheld him silf, and wente, and anoon he forȝat 'what maner he was.

xxv Forsoþe he þat 'shal parfijtly biholde in þe lawe of parfijt fredom, and 'shal dwelle in it, not maad a forȝetful herer, but a doer of werk, þis shal be bleſſid in his dede.

xxvi Forsoþe if ony man geſſiþ hym silf for to be religious, 'not refreynyng his tunge, but deceyuyng his herte, þe religioun of him is veyn.

xxvii Þis is a clene religioun, and vnwemmyd anentis God and þe fadir, for to viſite 'pupilles, þat is, fadirles and modirles, 'or boþe, and widewes in her tribulacioun, and for to kepe him silf vndefoulid fro þis world.

Capitulum II.

i Mi briþeren, nyle ȝe 'in accepcioun, 'or takinge, of personys, haue þe feiþ of oure Lord Jhesu Crist of glorie.

ii Forsoþe if 'þer shal entre in to ȝoure couent, 'or gederinge 'to gydere, a man hauyng a golden ryng, and in whijt, 'or fayr, cloþ, forsoþe and a pore man 'shal entre in foul habite, 'or cloþ, iii and ȝe biholde in to him þat is cloþid wiþ ful cleer cloþ, and if ȝe shulen seie to him, Pou sitte heere wel; soþeli to be pore man ȝe seie, Stonde pou þere, or sitte vndir þe stool of my feet;

iv wher ȝe deme not anentis ȝou silf, and ben maad domesmen of wickid þouȝtis?

v Here ȝe, my moost derworþe briþeren, wher God chees not pore men in þis world, riche in feiþ, and eyris of þe kyngdom, þat God 'bihiȝte aȝen to men louyng him?

vi Forsoþe ȝe han despisid þe pore man. Wher riche men oppresen not ȝou bi power, and drawnen ȝou to domys?

vii Wher þei blasfeme not þe good name, þat is inclepid on ȝou?

viii Neþeles if ȝe performen þe kynges lawe, vp scriptures, Pou shalt loue þi neiȝebore as þi silf, ȝe don wel.

ix Soþeli if ȝe taken persones, ȝe werchen synne, ȝe ben repreued of þe lawe, as trespassoures.

- x Forsoþe who euer þhal kepe al þe lawe, soþeli offende in oon, he is maad gylty of alle.
- xi For he þat seide, þou shalt not do leccherie, seide and, þou shalt not fle; þat if þou þhalt not do leccherie, but þou fleest, þou art maad trespassour of þe lawe.
- xii Pus speke ȝe, and þus do ȝe, as bigynnyng for to be demyd bi lawe of parfijt fredom.
- xiii Soþeli doom wiþ outen merfy to him þat doip not merfy; forsoþe merci aboue reisip doom.
- xiv Mi briþeren, what shal it profite, if ony man seie him for to haue feip, werkes forsoþe he haue not? wher feip shal mowe faue him?
- xv Forsoþe if a broþer or syfþir be nakid, and han nede of eche day liffode,
- xvi forsoþe ony of ȝou seie to hem, Go ȝe in pees, be ȝe maad hoot, and be ȝe fulfillid; soþeli if ȝe þulen not ȝiue to hem what þinges ben necessarie of body, what shal it profite 'to ȝou?
- xvii So and feip, if it hap not werkes, is deed in it sifl.
- xviii But sum man þhal seie, þou haft feip, and I haue werkes; shewe þou to me þi feip wiþ outen werkes, and I shal shewe to þee my feip of werkis.
- xix þou bileyest, for oo God is; þou doist wel; and deuels bileyen, and togydere tremblen.
- xx Forsoþe wolt þou wite, þou veyn man, for feip wiþ outen werkes is ydel?
- xxi Abraham, oure fadir, wher he was not iustified of werkis, offringe Ysaac, his sone, on þe auter?
- xxii Perfore þou seeft, for feip wrouȝte wiþ his werkis, and his feip is fulfillid of werkis.
- xxiii And þe scripture is fulfillid, seiyng, Abraham bileyede to God, and it is rettid to him to riȝtwisnesse, and he is clepid þe frend of God.
- xxiv ȝe seen for a man is iustified of werkis, and not of feip onely.
- xxv Also forsoþe and Raab, hoore, 'wher she was not iustified of werkis, receyuyng þe messageres, and bi an oþer weie 'doyng out, 'or sendinge out?
- xxvi Forsoþe as a body wiþ oute spirit is deed, so and feip wiþ oute werkis is deed.

Capitulum III.

- i Mi briþeren, nyle ȝe be maad many mayftris, witynge for ȝe taken þe more doom.
- ii Soþeli alle we offenden in many þingis. If ony man offendip not in word, þis is a parfijt man; forsoþe he mai 'wiþ a bridel lede aboute al þe body.
- iii Forsoþe if we putten to horfis bridles in to mouȝis, for to consenten to vs, and we beren 'þer wiþ aboute al þe body of hem.
- iv And lo! shippes, whan þei ben greete, and ben dryuen of stronge wijndis, soþeli þei ben born aboute of a litel gouernayle, where þe bire of a man dressinge þhal wole.

- v 'So and þe tunge soþeli is a litel membre, and reysiþ greete þinges. Lo! hou miche fijr kyndliþ hou greete a wode.
- vi And oure tunge is fijr, þe vniuersite of wickidnesse. Þe tunge is ordeyned in oure membris, 'þe which defoulip al þe body; and it enflaumed, 'or fet afijre, of helle, enflaumeþ þe wheel of oure birþe.
- vii Soþeli al þe kynde of beestis, and foulis, and serpentis, and of opere, 'ben ouercome, 'or vndirȝokid, and ben maad taame, of mannis kynde;
- viii forsoþe noon of men mai daunte, 'or chastise, þe tunge, soþeli it is an vnquyet, 'or vnpesible, yuel þing, and ful of deedly venym.
- ix In it we blessem God, þe fadir, and in it we cursen men, þat ben maad to be licenesse of God.
- x Of þe same mouȝ comeþ forþ bleslyng and cursyng. My briþeren, it bihoueþ not þes þinges for to be maad so.
- xi Wher a welle of þe saame hole bringe forþ swete and salt watir?
- xii My briþeren, wher a fijge tree mai make grapes, or a vijne fyges? So neþer salt watir mai make swete watir.
- xiii Who is wijse, and disciplined, 'or chaftifyd, among ȝou? Shewe he of good lyuyng his werk, in myldenesse of wisdom.
- xiv þat if ȝe han bitter zeel, 'or enuy, and striuyngis ben in ȝoure hertis, nyle ȝe glorye, and be liȝers aȝens þe treueþe.
- xv Forsoþe þis wisdom is not fro aboue comyng doun, but erþeli, beeþtly, and fendli.
- xvi For wher is enuye and strijf, þere vnstedefastnesse and al shrewid werk.
- xvii Forsoþe wisdom þat is fro aboue, first soþeli it is chaast, aftirward pesible, mylde, fuaidle, þat is, esy for to treete, 'and to 'be treetid, consentyng to goode þingis, ful of merfy and goode fruytis, demyng wiþ oute feynyng.
- xviii Soþeli þe fruytes of riȝtwisnesse ben sowun in pees, to men makinge pees.

Capitulum III.

- i 'Wherof bateyles and 'cheestes, or chidinges, a mong ȝou? Wher not of ȝoure coueytis, þat fiȝten in ȝoure membris?
- ii ȝe coueyten, and ȝe han not; ȝe sleen, and ȝe han enuye, and ȝe mowen not gete. ȝe chijden, and maken bateyl; and ȝe han not, for 'which þing ȝe han not axid.
- iii ȝe axen, and ȝe receyuen not; for þat ȝe axen yuel, as in ȝoure coueytise 'ȝe shewen.
- iv Auowtreres, witen not ȝe, for þe frendship of þis world is enemy to God? Perfore who euer shal wole for to be freend of þis world, is ordeyned þe enemye of God.

v Wher `weene ȝe, þat veynly þe scripture seiþ, Þe spirit þat dwellip in ȝou, coueytiþ to enuye?

vi Forsoþe he ȝiueþ more grace; for which þing he seiþ, God wiþſtondiþ proude men, forſoþe to meke men he ȝiueþ grace.

vii Perfore be ȝe ſuget to God; forſoþe wiþſtonde ȝe þe deuel, and he ſhal flee fro ȝou.

viii Neiȝe ȝe to God, and he ſhal neiȝe to ȝou. ȝe fynners, clenfe þe hondes, and ȝe double of inwit, `or wille, purge ȝe hertes.

ix Be ȝe wrecches, `in ȝoure owne iȝen, and `weyle ȝe, `and wepe ȝe; ȝoure leiȝing be it turned in to wepyng, and ȝoure ioye in to forewe of herte.

x Be ȝe mekid in þe ſiȝt of þe Lord, and he ſhal enhaunſe ȝou.

xi Mi briþeren, nyle ȝe bakbite ech oþer. He þat bakbitiþ his broþir, or þat demeþ his brother, bakbitiþ þe lawe, and demeþ þe lawe. Forſoþe if þou demeſt þe lawe, þou art not a doere of þe lawe, but domesman.

xii Sopeli oon is ſpeker, `or maker, of þe lawe, and iuge, þat mai leefe, and delyuere. Forſoþe who art þou, þat demeſt þi neiȝebore?

xiii Lo! now ȝe þat ſeien, To day or to moru we ſhulen go in to `þe ilke citee, and þere ſopeli we ſhulen make a ȝeer, and we ſhulen make marchaundife, and we ſhulen make wynnyng;

xiv `þe whiche witen not, what is to ȝou in þe morewe. Forſoþe what is ȝoure liȝf? A vapour, `or ſmoke, to a litil ſemyng, and afterward it ſhal be waſtid.

xv Perfore þat ȝe ſeie, If þe Lord ſhal wole, and if we ſhulen lyue, we ſhulen do þis þing, or þat þing.

xvi Now forſoþe ȝe gladen in ȝoure pridiſ; euery ſich ioying is wickid.

xvii Perfore to `a man kunnynge for to do good, and `not doyng, `synne is to him.

Capitulum V.

i Do now, ȝe riche men, `wepe ȝe, ȝoulynge in ȝoure wrechidneſſis þat ſhulen come to ȝou.

ii ȝoure richelleſſes ben maad rotun, and ȝoure cloþes ben eten of mouȝtis.

iii ȝoure gold and ſiluer haþ ruſtid, and ruſt of hem ſhal be to ȝou in to witneſſing, and ſhal ete ȝoure fleſches, as fir. ȝe han trefſourid to ȝou wrab in þe laſte dayes.

iv Lo! þe hijre of ȝoure werkmen, þat repiden ȝoure cuntrieſ, þat is fraudid of ȝou, criþ; and þe cry of hem entride in to þe erys of þe Lord of hoostis.

v ȝe han ete on þe erþe, and in ȝoure leccheries ȝe han nurchid ȝoure hertes. In þe dai of ſleyng ȝe `ledden to, vi and flewen þe iuſt man, and he `aȝenſtode not ȝou.

vii Perfore, briþeren, be ȝe pacient, til to þe comyng of þe Lord. Lo! an erþe tilyer abijdiþ precious fruyt of þe erþe, paciently ſuffringe, til he receyue tymeful and lateful.

viii And be ȝe pacient, and conferme ȝe ȝoure hertes, for þe comyng of þe Lord ſhal neiȝe.

ix Briþeren, nyle ȝe be foreweſul ech in to oþer, þat ȝe be not demed. Lo! þe iuſtis ſtondiþ niȝ before þe ȝat.

x Briþeren, take ȝe enſaumple of yuel goyng out, and of long abijdinge of trauele, and pacience, þe prophetes, þat ſpaken to ȝou in þe name of þe Lord.

xi Lo! we bleſſen hem þat ſuffreden. ȝe herden þe ſuffring, `or pacience, of Job, and ȝe ſiȝen þe ende of þe Lord, for þe Lord is merciful, and doyng mercy.

xii Bifore alle þingis, my briþeren, nyle ȝe ſwere, neþer bi heuene, ne bi erþe, neþir bi `what euere oþer oþer. Forſoþe be ȝoure word, `Is, is, Nay, nay, þat ȝe falles not vndir doom.

xiii Soþeli ony of ȝou is ſoruſul, `or heuy, preye he wiþ `euene inwit, and ſeie he psalme.

xiv Ony of ȝou is ſijke, lede he in prestis of þe chirche, and preye þei on him, anoyntinge wiþ oyle in þe name of þe Lord;

xv and þe preier of feiþ ſhal faue þe ſijke, and þe Lord ſhal diſcharge, `or make hym liȝt; and if he be in synnes, þei ſhulen be forȝie to him.

xvi Perfore knowleche ȝe oon to an obere ȝoure synnes, and preye ȝe `for ech obere, þat ȝe be ſaued. Forſoþe þe contynuel preyer of a iuſt man is miche worþ.

xvii Helye was a man lijk to vs paſſible, `or able for to ſuffre, and in preyer he preyede, þat it ſhulde not reyne on þe erþe, and it reynede not þre ȝeeres and fixe monþes.

xviii And eftſoone he preyede, and heuen ȝaf reyn, and þe erþe ȝaf his fruyt.

xix Briþeren, forſoþe if ony of ȝou `ſhal erre fro treuþe, and ony `ſhal conuerte hym, xx he owiþ for to wite, for he `þat ſhal make a synner for to be turned fro þe errour of his weie, ſhal faue þe ſoule of hym fro deeþ, and coueriþ þe multitude of synnys.

Here endiþ þe piftis of James, and now bigynneþ þe fyrſt piftle of feynt Petre aþotle.

I. PETRE.

Þe firt piftle of Petre.

Capitulum I.

i Petre, aþotle of Jhesu Crift, to þe chosen gestis, `or comelingis, of diſperſioun, `or ſcateringe abrood, of Ponte, of Galathie, of Capadosie, of Afye, and of Bitynye, ii vp þe preſcience, `or bifore knowinge, of God, þe fadir, `in to halewinge of þe ſpirit, `in to obedience, and ſprengyng of þe blood of Jhesu Crift, grace and pees `to ȝou be multiplied.

iii Bleſſid be God, and þe fadir of oure Lord Jhesu Crift, þe which vp his greet mercy aȝen gendrige vs in to quik hope, bi þe aȝen rijfsyng of Jhesu Crist fro deede

 men,
 iii in to heritage vncorruptible, and vndefoulid, and vnweleable, þat shal not fade, kept in heuenes in
 ȝou,
 v þat in be vertu of God ben kept bi þe feiþ in to helpe, maad redy for to be shewid in þe last tyme.
 vi In which ȝe shulen ioye, if it bihoueþ now a litel for to be fory in diuerse temptaciouns; vii þat þe prouyng of ȝoure feiþ be Miche preciouser þan gold, þat is proued bi fijr; be it founde in to heriying, and glory, and honour, 'in to þe reuelacioun of Jhesu Crist.
 viii Whom whan ȝe han not seyn, ȝe louen; in to whom also now ȝe not feynge, bileuen; forsoþe ȝe bileuyng shulen haue ioye wiþ outh forþ in gladnesse vnenarrable, þat mai not be told out, and glorified, ix bringyng aȝen þe ende of ȝoure feiþ, þe helpe of ȝoure soulis.
 x Of whiche helpe profetes louȝten out, and enserchiden, þat prophecieden of þe grace to comyng
 in ȝou,
 xi sekinge which or what maner tyme þe spirit of Crist signyfiede in hem, 'before tellinge þe passiouns, þat ben in Crist, and latter glories.
 xii To whom it is shewid, for not to hem silf, soþeli to ȝou þei mynistriden bo þingis, þat now ben told to ȝou bi hem þat euangelizeden to ȝou þe Holy Goost sent fro heuene, in to whom aungels desijren for to bisholde.
 xiii For whiche þing be ȝe gyrd þe leendes of ȝoure soule, sobre, parfijt, hope in to 'þe ilke grace þat is offrid to ȝou 'in to þe reuelacioun, 'or shewinge, of Jhesu Crist,
 xiv as sones of obedience, not 'to gydere liknyd to þe former desijris of ȝoure ignoraunse, xv but vp him þat clepid ȝou holy; þat and 'ȝoure silf be holy in al lyuynge;
 xvi for it is write, ȝe shulen be holy, for I am holy.
 xvii And if ȝe inclepen him fadir, 'þe whiche wiþ outh accepcioun of personys demeþ vp þe werk of eche man, lyue ȝe in drede in tyme of ȝoure pilgrimage, 'or litel dwellinge 'in erþe;
 xviii witinge þat not bi corruptible gold, or siluer, ȝe ben bouȝt aȝen of ȝoure veyn lyuynge of fadirs tradicioun, xix but bi þe precious blood of þe lomb vndefoulid and vnsportid, Crist Jhesu, xx before knowun soþeli before þe making of þe world, forsoþe shewid in þe laste tymes, for ȝou, xxi þat bi hym ben feiþful in God; þat reiside him fro deede men, and ȝaf to him euerlastinge glory, þat ȝoure feiþ and hope were in God.
 xxii 'ȝe makinge chaافت ȝoure loules in obedience of charite, in loue of briþerhed; of symple herte loue ȝe to gydre bisiloker;

xxiii born aȝen, not of coruptible feed, but of vncorruptible, bi þe word of quike God, and dwellinge in to wiþ outh ende.

xxiv For ech flesch hay, and al þe glorie of it as flour of heþ; þe hay drieþ vp, and his flour fel doun;

xxv forsoþe þe word of þe Lord dwellid in to wiþ outh ende. Soþeli þis is þe word, þat is euangelized to ȝou.

Capitulum II.

i Therfore puttinge awey al malice, and al gyle, and symulaciouns, 'or feynynges, 'and enuyes, and 'al detraccioun;

ii as now gendrid ȝonge children, resonable, wiþ out gyle, coueyte ȝe mylk, þat in it ȝe wexe in to helpe;
 iii if neþeles ȝe taastiden, for þe Lord is swete.

iv 'To whom ȝe goyng nyȝe, a quyk stoon, reproud soþeli of men, forsoþe chosen of God, and honourid, v and ȝoure silf as quike stoones be aboue bildid spiritual housis, holy presthod, for to offre spiritual hooftes, 'or offringes, acceptable to God bi Jhesu Crist.

vi For which þing þe scripture holdiþ, Lo! I shal putte in Syon 'þe hiȝest stoon, corner stoon, chosen, precious; and he þat shal belieue in to him, shal not be confoundid.

vii þe before honour to ȝou bileuyng; forsoþe to men not bileuyng, þe stoon whom 'þei bildynge reprouden, bis is maad in to þe heed of þe corner;

viii and þe stoon of offendicoun, 'or hirtynge, and stoon of sclaundre, to hem þat offenden bi word, neþer bileuen, in which and þei ben put.

ix Forsoþe ȝe ben a 'kynde chosun, kyngly presthod, holy folk, puple of purchasinge, þat ȝe telle þe vertues of him, þat clepide ȝou fro derknesses in to his wondirful liȝt.

x 'þe whiche sum tyme not þe puple of God, 'now soþeli þe puple of God; þe which 'not hauyng mersy,
 'now forsoþe hauyng mersy.

xi Moost dere, Y beseeche ȝou, as comelinges, 'or gestes, and pilgrimes, for to abstene ȝou fro fleschly desijris, þat fiȝten aȝens þe soule;

xii hauyng ȝoure conuersacioun, 'or liȝf, good among heþen men, þat in þat þing þat þei bacbiten, 'or yuele treeten, of ȝou, as of myþdoers, þei bisholdinge ȝou of good werkis, and glorifie God in þe dai of visitacioun.

xiii Be ȝe suget to ech creature of man, for God; oþer to þe kyng, as preccellent, 'or more worpi in staat, xiv oþer to dukis, as fent of him to þe veniaunce of mysdedis, 'or mysdoeris, forsoþe to þe preylinge of goode dedis, 'or goode men.

xv For so is þe wille of God, þat ȝe doyng wel, make þe vnkunnyngnesse of vnprudent men for to be doumb.

xvi As fre men, and not as hauyng fredom þe couering of malice, but as þe seruautes of God.

xvii Honoure ȝe alle men, loue ȝe briþerhed, drede ȝe God, make ȝe þe kyng honourable.

xviii Seruautes, be ȝe fuget in al drede to lordis, not onely to goode and mylde, but also to tirauntes.
xix Forsoþe þis is grace, if for conscience of God ony man suffriþ forewes, 'or heuynesses, suffringe vniustly.
xx Sopeli what grace is it, if ȝe synnyng and buffatid suffren? But if ȝe 'wel doyng suffren, þis is grace anentis God.
xxi Forsoþe in þis þing ȝe ben clepid. For Crist suffride for vs, leuyng to ȝou enfaumple, þat ȝe folewe þe steppes of him.
xxii þe which dide not synne, neþer gyle is founde in his mouþ.
xxiii Which whan he was curfid, curfide not; whan he suffride, he manafide not; sopeli he bitoke him to 'a man demyng him vniustly.
xxiv Which he him silf suffride, 'or bar, oure synnes in his body on þe tree, þat we deede to synnes, lyue to riȝtwisnesse, bi whois wounde 'ȝe ben heelid.
xxv Forsoþe ȝe weren as sheep erringe, but ȝe ben conuertid now to þe shepherde, and bischop of ȝoure soulis.

Capitulum III.

i Also and wymmen be fuget to her husbondis; þat if ony bileuen not to þe word, bi þe conuersacioun of wymmen 'be þei wonnen wiþ outen word, ii biholdinge in drede ȝoure holy conuersacioun.
iii Of þe welche be not wiþ outforþ curious ournyng of heer, or doyng aboute of gold, or ournyng of cloþinge of vestymenis; iv but 'þe ilke þat is þe hid man of herte, in vncorruptibilitie of quyete, 'or peſible, and mylde spirit, þe which is riche in þe fijt of God.
v Sopeli so and holy wymmen hopinge in God, 'not in ournement of cloþinge ourneden, 'or maden clene, hem silf, fuget to her owne husbondes.
vi As Sare obeschide to Abraham, clepinge him lord; of whom ȝe ben douȝtres wel doyng, and not dredinge ony perturbacioun.
vii Also men 'to gydere dwellinge, vp science, 'or kunnynge, ȝeuynge honour to þe wommans vessel, 'or body, as to þe more fijk, as and to þe euene eyris of grace of lijf, þat ȝoure preyers ben not lettid.
viii Forsoþe in feiþ alle of oon vndirstondinge, 'or wille, in preyer be ȝe compacient, 'or eche suffring wiþ ober, louers of fraternyte, merciful, mylde, meke;
ix not ȝeldinge yuel for yuel, neþer cursyng for cursyng, but aȝenward bleſsyng; for in þis þing ȝe ben clepid, þat ȝe welde bleſsyng bi heritage.
x Forsoþe he þat wolde loue lijf, and see goode dayes, confreyne his tunge fro yuel, and his lijppis, þat þei speke not gyle.
xi Sopeli bowe he fro yuel, and do good; seke he pees, and parfijtly sue it.

xii For þe iȝen of þe Lord on iust men, and þe eres of him on þe preyeris of hem; forsoþe þe cheer of þe Lord on men doyng 'yuel þinges.
xiii And who is it þat shal 'noye to ȝou, if ȝe shulen be 'goode fuers?
xiv But if ȝe suffren ony þing for riȝtwisnesse, ȝe ben bleſſid; sopeli drede ȝe not þe drede of hem, þat ȝe be not disturblid.
xv Forsoþe halewe ȝe þe Lord Crist in ȝoure hertis, euermore redy to do satisfaccioun to eche man axinge ȝou resoun of þat feiþ and hope þat is in ȝou, but wiþ myldenesse and drede, xvi hauynge good conscience; þat in 'þat þing þat þei bacbiten of ȝou, þei be confoundid, þe welche chalengen falli ȝoure good conuersacioun in Crist.
xvii Sopeli it is betere, 'if þe wille of God wole, ȝe wel doyng 'for to suffre, þan 'yuele doyng.
xviii For and Crist oonys dyede for oure synnes, he iust for vniust, þat he shulde offre 'vs to God, maad deede sopeli in flesch, forsoþe maad quike in spirit.
xix In which þing and to hem þat weren cloſid to gydre in prisoun 'he comyng in spirit prechide;
xx þe welche weren sumtyme vnbileueful, whan þei abiden þe pacience of God in þe dayes of Noe, whan þe ark, 'or schip, was maad, in which a fewe, þat is 'to seie, eiȝte soules ben maad saaf bi water.
xi ȝe which þing and baptym of lijk foorme makþ vs saaf; not þe putting awey of 'flesch of filþis, but þe axing of a good conscience in to God, bi þe aȝenrifysng of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, xxii þat is in þe riȝthalf of God, he 'swolewinge deep, or destriyinge, þat we shulde be maad eyres of euerlaſtinge lijf; he gon in to heuen, aungels, and powers, and vertues, maad fugettes to him.

Capitulum III.

i Therfore Crist suffringe in flesch, and be ȝe armed bi þe same þenking; for he þat suffride in flesch ceſiþ fro synnes, ii þat he lyue not now to þe desijris of men, but to þe wille of God, þat is more of tyme in flesch.
iii Sopeli þe tyme passid is ynowȝ to þe wille of heþen men to be endid, þe welche walkiden in leccheries, and desijris, in miche drinkinge of wijn, ofte etyngis, drinkingis, and vnléeueful worschepingis of ydolis.
iv In welche now þei ben 'a feerd 'on ech fijde, in which þing þei wondren, ȝou 'to gydere not rennyng in to þe same confusioun of leccherie, blasphemynge.
v ȝe whiche shulen ȝiue resoun to him, þat is redy to deme þe quike and deede.
vi Sopeli for þis þing and to deede men it is euangelized, þat þei be demyd sopeli vp men in flesch, sopeli þat þei lyue vp God in spirit.
vii Forsoþe þe ende of alle þingis shal neiȝe. 'And so be ȝe prudent, and 'wake ȝe in preyers;

viii bifore alle þingis forsoþe hauyng charite ech to oþer in ȝou filf algatis laftinge; for charite couerisþ þe multitude of synnes, ix holdinge holþitalite to gydere wiþ outen gruccinge;
 x ech man as he receyued grace, mynistringe 'it in to ech oþer, as goode dispenderes of þe manyfolde grace of God.
 xi If ony man spekiþ, speke he as þe wordes of God; if ony man mynistrisþ, as of þe vertu which God mynistrisþ; þat God be honourid in alle þingis bi Jhesu Crist oure Lord, to whom is glory and lordship in to worldlis of worldlis. Amen.
 xii Mooft dere, nyle ȝe go in pilgrimage in feruour, þat is maad to ȝou to temptacioun, as ony of newe þing bifalle to ȝou;
 xiii but ȝe comunyng to þe passiounis of Crist, haue ioye, þat and ȝe gladinge wiþ outh forþ, haue ioye in þe reuelacioun of his glory.
 xiv If ȝe ben despisid in þe name of Crist, ȝe shulen be bleffid; for þat þat is of þe 'glory and vertu of God, and þe spirit þat is his, restisþ on ȝou.
 xv Forsoþe no man of ȝou suffre as a mansleere, or beef, or curser, or a desirer of opere mennus þingis; xvi forsoþe if as a cristen men, shame he not, soþeli glorifie he God in þis name.
 xvii For tyme is, þat doom bigynne at Goddis hous;
 soþeli if first of vs, what ende of hem, þat bileyen not to þe gospel?
 xviii And soþeli if a iust man vnneþe shal be saued, where shal þe vnpitous man and synner appeere?
 xix 'And so and þei þat suffren vp þe wille of God, bitaken her soulis in good dedis to þe feiþful maker of nouȝt.

Capitulum V.

i Therfore I, euene eldre, biseche þe eldre men þat ben in ȝou, 'and I witnesse of Cristis passioun, which and comuner of þat glorye, þat 'is to be shewid in tyme to comynge.
 ii Fede ȝe þe flok of God, þat is in ȝou, purueyng not confreyningli, but wilfulli, vp God; not for grace, 'or loue, of foul wynnyng, but wilfully, iii neþer as hauyng lordshipe in þe clergie, but maad foarme, 'or ensaumple, of þe flok, and of invit.
 iv And whan þe prince of shiperdis shal apeere, ȝe shulen receyue þe vnweleable crowne of glory, 'or þat shal neuere faade.
 v Alſo, ȝe ȝonge men, 'be ȝe fuget to eldre men, forsoþe 'schewe ȝe alle to gydere mekenesse; for þe Lord wiþstondisþ proude men, forsoþe he ȝiueþ grace to meke men.
 vi Perfore be ȝe mekid vndir þe miȝty hond of God, þat he reise ȝou in þe day of visitacioun, vii ȝe castinge 'in to him al ȝoure bisynesse, for to him is cure of ȝou.

viii Be ȝe sobre, and 'wake ȝe, for ȝoure aduersarie, þe deuel, as a roryng lyoun goiþ aboute, sekinge whom he shal deuoure.
 ix To whom aȝenstonde ȝe, stronge in feiþ, witynge þe same passioun for to be to 'þe ilke 'ȝoure briþerhed, þat is in þe world.
 x Forsoþe God of alle grace, þat clepide in to his euerelaſtinge glorye, ȝou suffringe a litel, he shal parforme, conferme, and make fad.
 xi To him glory and lordship, in to worldlis of worldlis. Amen.
 xii Bi Siluane, a feiþful broþer to ȝou as I deme, I wroot shortly; bisechinge, and witnessinge þis for 'to be þe verrey grace of God, in whiche ȝe stonden.
 xiii 'Be chirche þat is gederid in Babyloyn 'gretisþ ȝou wel, and Markus, my sone.
 xiv 'Grete ȝe wel to gydere in holy coffe. Grace be to ȝou alle þat ben in Crist. Amen.

Here endisþ þe firſte pifſle of Petir, and here bigynnesþ þe ſecounde.

II. PETRE.

Þe ſecounde epiftle of Petre.

Capitulum I.

i Simount Petre, feruaunt and apostle of Jhesu Crist, to hem þat han take wiþ vs þe euene miche feiþ, in þe riȝtwisnesse of oure God and sauour Jhesu Crist, ii grace to ȝou 'and pees be fulfillid, in þe knowinge of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.
 iii Hou alle þinges of his godliche vertu, þat ben to liþ and pitee, ben ȝouun to vs, bi þe knowing of him, þat clepide vs for his owne glory and vertu.
 iv Bi whom he ȝaf to vs moost and preciouſe biheestes;
 þat bi þes þingis ȝe shulden be maad felawes of Goddis kynde, fleyng þe corupcioun of þat coueytise, þat is in þe world.
 v Forsoþe 'ȝe vndir beringe, 'or ȝeuynge, al cure, mynistrisþ in ȝoure feiþ vertu, soþeli in vertu science, 'or kunnynge;
 vi in science soþeli abſtinence, in abſtinence forſoþe pacience, in pacience soþeli pitee; vii in pitee, soþeli loue of briþerhede, forſoþe in loue of briþerhede charite.
 viii Forſoþe if þes ben wiþ ȝou, and ouercomen, 'or ben not plenteuous, þei shulen not ordeyne ȝou voyde, ne wiþ outen fruyt, in þe knowinge of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.
 ix Forſoþe to whom þes ben not redy, he is blynd, and bi hond temptyng, 'or affayninge, receyuyng forȝetnes of þe purgyng of his olde trespassis.
 x Wherfore, briþeren, more bisye ȝe, þat bi goode werkis ȝe make ȝoure clepyng 'and cheſyng certeyn; soþeli ȝe doyng þes þinges shulen not synne ony tyme.

xi Forsoþe þus þe entringe `in to euerelaſtinge kyngdom of oure Lord Jhesu Crist `and sauour, þhal be mynistrid to ȝou plenteuously.

xii For which þing I þhal bigynne for to moneste ȝou euermore of þes þingis; and soþeli I wole ȝe wityng and confermid in present treuþe.

xiii Forsoþe Y deme iuft, `hou longe I am in þis tabernacle, for to reyse ȝou in monestinge;

xiv I certeyn for þe putting off of my tabernacle is swift, vp þat oure Lord Jhesu Crist haþ signyfied to me.

xv Forsoþe I þhal ȝiue werk, `or bisynesse, and ofte for to haue ȝou aftir my deeþ, þat ȝe do þe mynde of
hem.

xvi Soþeli we not fuynge vnwijfe taales, han maad knowun to ȝou þe vertu and prescience, `or bifore knowing, of oure Lord Jhesu Crist; but maad biholders of his greetnesse.

xvii Soþeli he takinge of God þe fadir honour and glory, sich maner voys fliden doun to him fro þe greet glory, þis is my loued lone, in whom I haue plesid to me; `here ȝe him.

xviii And we herden þis voys brouȝt to fro heuene, whan we weren wiþ him in þe holy hyl.

xix And we han a fadder word of þe prophet, to which ȝe ȝeuynge tent don wel, as to a lantern ȝeuynge liȝt in a derk, `or mysty, place, til þe day bigynne for to ȝiue liȝt, and þe day sterre springe in ȝoure hertis.

xx First vndirstondinge þis þing, þat ech prophecie of scripture is not maad bi propre, `or owne, interpretacioun.

xxi Forsoþe prophecie is not brouȝt to bi mannus wille, but þe holy men of God inspirid wiþ þe Holy Goost spaken.

Capitulum II.

i Forsoþe þer weren and false prophetes of þe puple, as and in ȝou shulen be maystris liȝers, þat shulen bringe in sectes of perdiccion; and þei denyen `þe ilke Lord þat bouȝte hem, and `aboue ledynge to hem silf hafty perdiccion, `or dampnacion.

ii And many shulen sue her leccheries, bi whiche þe weye of treuþe þhal be blasfemyd;

iii and þei shulen marchaundise of ȝou in couetise bi feyned wordis. To whom now doom `sum tyme ceesilþ not, and þe perdiccion of hem nappiþ not.

iv Forsoþe if God sparide not to aungels, but bitoke hem `to be tormentid, drawnen wiþ boondis of helle in to helle, for to be kept in to doom;

v and sparide not to þe first world, but kept Noe, þe eisþe, bifore goer of riȝtwisnesse, bringyng in þe `diluuye, or greet flood, to þe world of vnpiteouse
men;

vi and he driuyng in to poudre þe citees of men of Sodom and of men of Gomor, dampnide bi turnyng vpfedoun, puttinge enfaumple of hem þat weren to doyng yuel, `or vnpitoufly;

vii and deliuering iuft Loþ, oppresſid fro þe wrong, `of curſide men, and lecherous conuersacioun;

viii soþeli in siȝt and heringe he was iuft, dwellinge anentis hem þat fro day in to day tormentiden wiþ wickide werkis a iuft soule.

ix þe Lord knew for to delyuere pitouse men of temptacioun, soþeli for to kepe wickide men in to þe day of dome for to be tormentid;

x forsoþe more hem þat walken aftir flesch, in couetinge of vnclemness, and despisen lordshaping, bolde, dreden not to bringe in sectes `plesinge to hem, blasfemyng;

xi wher aungels, whan þei ben more in strengþe and vertu beren not aȝens hem þe execrable, `or cursid, doom.

xii `þes soþeli as vnresounable beeſtes, kyndeli in capciooun, `or takinge, and in to deeþ, blasfemyng in þes þingis þat þei knownen not, shulen perische in her corupcioun,

xiii receyuyng þe hijre of vnriȝtwisnesse, geſſyng `þe voluptees of þe day delijces of defoulinge and of wemme, `wiþ delijcis flowinge, in her feestis doyng leccherie wiþ ȝou,

xiv hauynge iȝen ful of auowtrie, and vnceſyng trespass, deceyuyng vnſtedefast soules, hauynge þe herte excercisid in couetise, þe sones of cursyng, xv forsakinge þe riȝt weie, erreden, fuyng þe weie of Balaam of Bosor, þe which louede hijre of wickidnesse.

xvi Soþeli he hadde correpcion, `or reproyng, of his woodnesse; a doumbe beeſt vndir ȝok, ſpekinge wiþ voys of man, forbede þe vniſdom of þe profet.

xvii þes ben welles wiþ out watir, and cloudis, `or mijſtis, driuun wiþ `whirlinge wijndis, to whom þe picke mijſt of derknessis is referued.

xviii Soþeli þei ſpekinge in pride of vanyte, deceyuen in defiſris of flesch of leccherie hem, þat `a litel ſcapen.
þe whiche lyuyng in errour, xix bihotinge liberte, `or fredom, to hem, whan þei ben feruaentes of corupcioun. Soþeli of whom ony man is ouercome, `of him and `he is feruaunt.

xx Forsoþe if men forsakinge þe defoulinges, `or vnclemnesses, of þe world, in þe knowinge of oure `Lord and sauour Jhesu Crist, eftſoone inwlappid in þes, ben ouercome, þe latter þingis ben maad to hem worse þan þe former.

xi Soþeli it was betere `to hem for to not knowe þe weie of riȝtwisnesse, þan for to turne aȝen aftir þe knowinge, fro þat holy maundement þat was bitakun to
hem.

xxii Soþeli `þe ilke þing of verrey prouerbe bifel to hem, An hound turned aȝen to his woom, `or caſtyng vp, and a ſowe waſchun in walewinge, `or flowe, of cley, `or fen.

Capitulum III.

i Lo! I wrijte to ȝou þis secounde epistle, in which I stire ȝoure clearer soule in monefinge to gydere, ii þat ȝe be myndeful of þe wordis, þat I bifore seide of holy prophetis, and of þe maundementis of holy apostlis of þe Lord sauour;
iii first witynge þis þing, þat in þe laste dayes illusours, 'or scorners, or deceyuours, shulen come in deceyt, goynge aftir her owne couetinges, iv feyng, Where is biheste, or þe comyng, of him? forsoþe sib fadirs lepten, so alle þinges lasten fro þe bigynnyng of creature.
v Soþeli it daariþ hem willinge þis þing, þat heuenes weren bifore, and þe erþe of watir and bi watir beyng, 'or stondinge, to gydere bi Goddis word;
vi bi whiche þingis 'þat ilke world clenſid þanne perischide.
vii Forsoþe þe heuenes þat now ben, and þe erþe, bi þe same word, 'put aȝen, ben kept to fijr in to þe day of dome and perdicioun of vnpitouse men.
viii Forsoþe, ȝe moost dere, oo þing 'daare ȝe not, 'or be not vñknowun, for oo day anentis God as a þousynd zeeres, and a þousynd ȝeere as oo day.
ix Pe Lord tarieþ not his biheest, as 'sum men gessen, but he doþ paciently for ȝou, 'not willinge ony for to perische, but alle for to turne aȝen to penaunce.
x Forsoþe þe day of þe Lord shal come as a þeef, in which heuenes wiþ greet bire, 'or feersnesse, shulen passe, soþeli elementes shulen be dissoluued bi heete, forsoþe þe erþe, and alle werkes þat ben in it, shulen be brent.
xi Perfore whan alle þes þinges shulen be 'to be dissoluued, what maner men bihoueþ ȝou for to be in holy lyuyngis and pitees, xii abidynge and hiȝinge in to þe comynge of þe day of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, bi whom heuenes brennyng shulen be dissoluued, and elementes bi brennyng, 'or heete, of fijr 'lhulen fayle. xiii Soþeli we abijden vp his biheestes newe heuenes and newe erþe, in whiche riȝtwisnesse dwelliþ.
xiv For which þing, ȝe moost dere, abijdinge þes þinges, bifye for to be founde to him in pees vnsportid and vnfoulid.
xv And deme ȝe þe longe abijdinge of oure Lord ȝoure helpe, as and oure moost dere broþer Poul wroot to ȝou, vp wisdom ȝouun to him.
xvi As and in alle epistlis spekinge 'in hem of þes þingis; in whiche ben summe harde þinges in vndirftondinge, þe whiche vniwifse, 'or vntauȝt, and vntable men deprauen, as and opere scriptures, to her owne perdicioun.
xvii Perfore ȝe, briþeren, bifore witynge kepe ȝou filf, leſt ȝe ouerled, 'or deceyued, bi error of vniwifse men, falle awey fro ȝoure owne sadnesse.

xviii Forsoþe wexe ȝe in grace and knowinge of oure Lord Jhesu Crist and oure Sauour; to him glory and now in to þe day of euerelaſtingnesse. Amen.

Heere endeþ þe secounde piftle of Seynt Petre, and now bigynneþ þe firſt piftle of Seynt Joon.

I. JOON.

Þe firſte epiftle of Joon.

Capitulum I.

i Whiche þing was fro þe bigynnyng, which we herden, which we ſiȝen wiþ oure iȝen, whiche we bihelden, and oure hondes tretiden to gydere, 'or touchiden, of þe word of liȝt;
ii and þe liȝt is shewid. And we ſiȝen, and we witneſſen, and tellen to ȝou euerelaſtinge liȝt, þat was anentis þe fadir, and apperide to vs.
iii Perfore þat þing, þat we ſiȝen, and herden, þat we tellen to ȝou, þat and ȝe haue felaufhippe wiþ vs, and oure felaufchip be wiþ þe fadir, and his ſone Jhesu Crist.
iv And 'þis þing we writhen to ȝou, þat ȝe haue ioye, and þat ȝoure ioye be ful.
v And þis is þe tellyng, þat we herden of him, and tellen to ȝou, for God is liȝt, ony derknesses ben not in him.
vi If we 'shulen feie, for we han felaufchip wiþ him, and we wandren in derknessis, we liȝen, and we don not treueþ.
vii Soþeli if we walken in liȝt, as and he is in liȝt, we han felaufchip to gydere; and þe blood of Jhesu, his ſone, clenſib vs fro al synne.
viii If we 'shulen feie, for we han not synne, we 'oure ſilf deceyuen vs, and treueþ is not in vs.
ix If we knowlechen oure synnes, he is feiȝful and iuft, þat he forȝiue to vs oure synnes, and clenſe vs from al wickidnelle.
x And if we 'shulen feie, for we han not synned, we maken him a liȝer, and his word is not in vs.

Capitulum II.

i Mi little ſones, I wrijte to ȝou þes þinges, þat 'ȝe synne not. But and if ony man 'shal synne, we han an aduoket anentis þe fadir, Jhesu Crist iuft, ii and he is helpyng for oure synnes; soþeli not onely for oure, but also for of al þe world.
iii And in þis þing we witen, for we han knowun him, if we kepen his comaundementes.
iv He þat feiȝ him for to haue knowe God, and kepiȝ not his comaundementes, is a liȝer, and treueþ is not in hym.
v Forsoþe who kepiȝ his word, 'verily in him is parfijt charite. In þis þing we witen, for we ben in him, if we shulen be parfijt in him.

- vi He þat seiþ him for to dwelle in him, and he owiþ for to walke, as he walkide.
- vii Mooft dere, I wrijte to ȝou, not a newe maundement, but þe olde maundement, þat ȝe hadden fro þe bigynnyng. Þe olde maundement is þe word, þat ȝe herden.
- viii Eftsoone I wrijte to ȝou a newe maundement, þat is trewe and in him and in ȝou; for derknesses passeden, and verrey liȝt now shijneþ.
- ix He þat seiþ him for to be in liȝt, and haatiþ his broþer, is in derknessse til to ȝit.
- x He þat loueþ his broþir, dwelliþ in liȝt, and sclaundre is not in him.
- xi Soþeli he þat haatiþ his broþer, is in derknessis, and 'in derknessis wandriþ, and woot not whidir he goiþ; for derknesses han blyndid his iȝen.
- xii Litel sones, I wrijte to ȝou, for ȝoure synnes ben forȝouun to ȝou for his name.
- xiii Fadris, I wrijte to ȝou, for ȝe han knowun him, þat is fro þe bigynnynge. ȝonge men, I wrijte to ȝou, for ȝe han ouercome þe wickid. I wrijte to ȝou, infauntis, 'or ȝonge children, for ȝe han knowe þe fadir.
- xiv I write to ȝou, ȝonge men, 'or of mydle age, for ȝe ben stronge, and þe word of God dwelliþ in ȝou, and ȝe ouercamen þe wickid.
- xv Nyle ȝe loue þe world, neþer þo þinges þat ben in þe world. If ony man loueþ þe world, þe charite of þe fader is not in him.
- xvi Forwhi al þing þat is in þe world, is coueytise of fleſch, and coueytise of iȝen, and pride of liȝf, whiche is not of þe fadir, but it is of þe world.
- xvii And þe world shal pasſe, and þe coueytise of it; soþeli he þat doiþ þe wille of God, dwelliþ 'in to wiþ outen ende.
- xviii My litel sones, þe last hour is; and as ȝe han herd, for antecrist comeþ, now many antecristes ben made; 'wher of we witen, for it is þe last hour.
- xix Pei wenten forþ fro vs, but pei weren not of vs; forwhi if pei hadden be of vs, soþeli pei hadden dwelt wiþ vs; but þat pei be knowun, for pei ben not of vs.
- xx But ȝe han vnciouȝ of þe Holy Gooſt, and han knowe alle þinges.
- xxi I wroot not to ȝou, as to men þat vnknowinge treuþe, but as to knowinge it, and for ech lesyng 'is not of treuþe.
- xxii Who is a liȝer, no but þis þat denyeþ for Jhesu is not Crist? Pis is antecrist, þat denyeþ þe fadir, and þe fone.
- xxiii Soþeli ech þat denyeþ þe fone, 'neþer haþ þe fadir; forsoþe he þat knowlechiþ þe fone, haþ and þe fadir.
- xxiv þat þing þat ȝe herden fro þe bigynnyng, dwelle it in ȝou; for if it 'shal dwelle in ȝou, þe which ȝe herden at þe bigynnyng, and ȝe shulen dwelle in þe fone and in þe fadir.
- xxv And þis is þe aȝen biheest, þat he bihiȝte to vs, euerelaftyng liȝf.

- xxvi I wroot þes þinges to ȝou, of hem þat deceyuen ȝou;
- xxvii 'and þe anoyntyng, 'þe which ȝe receyueden of him, dwelle in ȝou. And ȝe han not nede, þat ony man teche ȝou, but as his anoyntyng techiþ ȝou of alle þingis, and it is trewe, and it is not lesyng; and as he tauȝte ȝou, dwelle ȝe in him.
- xxviii And now, ȝe litel sones, dwelliþ in him, þat whan he shal appere, we han trift, and be not confoundid of him in his comynge.
- xxix If ȝe witen, for he is iuſt, 'wite ȝe for and ech þat doiþ riȝtwisneshesse, is born of him.

Capitulum III.

- i See ȝe what maner charite þe fadir ȝaf to vs, þat we be named þe sones of God, and be. For þis þing þe world knew not vs, for it knew not him.
- ii Mooft dere, now we ben þe sones of God, and ȝit it apperide not, what we shulen be. We witen, for whan he shal appere, we shulen be lik to him, for we shulen see him as he is.
- iii And ech man þat haþ þis hope in him, makiþ him silf holy, as and he is holy.
- iv Ech man þat doiþ synne, doiþ and wickidnesse, and synne is wickidnesse.
- v And ȝe witen, for he apperide þat he shulde do awey synnes, and synne is not in him.
- vi Ech man þat dwelliþ in him, synneþ not; and ech þat synneþ, seþ not him, ne knew hym.
- vii Litel sones, no man deceyue ȝou; he þat doiþ riȝtwyfnesse, is iuſt, as and he is iuſt.
- viii He þat 'doiþ synne, is of þe deuel; for þe deuel synneþ at þe bigynnyng. In þis þing þe sone of God apperide, þat he vndo be werkes of þe deuel.
- ix Ech man þat is born of God, doiþ not synne; for þe feed of God dwelliþ in him, and he mai not synne, for he is born of God.
- x In þis þing þe sones of God ben knowun, and þe sones of þe fend. Ech man þat is not iuſt, is not of God, and he þat loueþ not his broþer.
- xi For þis is þe tellyng, þat ȝe herden at þe bigynnyng, þat ȝe loue ech oper;
- xii not as Caym, þat was of þe yuel, and flow his broþer. And for what þing flew he him? for his werkes weren yuele, soþeli his broþeris iuſt.
- xiii Briþeren, nyle ȝe wondre, if þe world haatiþ ȝou.
- xiv We witen, for we ben translatid fro deeþ to liȝf, for we loue briþeren. He þat loueþ not, dwelliþ in deeþ.
- xv Ech man þat haatiþ his broþer, is a manqueller; and ȝe witen, for ech manqueller haþ not euerlaſting liȝf dwellinge in him.
- xvi In þis þing we han knowe þe charite of God, for he puttide his soule, 'or liȝf, for vs, and we Owen for to putte oure soules for briþeren.

xvii He þat `shal haue þe substaunſe of þis world, and `shal ſee his broþer for to haue nede, and `shal close his entrayles fro him, hou dwelliþ þe charite of God in him?

xviii Mi litel ſones, loue we not in word, neþer in tunge, but in werk and treuþe.

xix In þis þing we knownen, for we ben of treuþe, and in his liȝt we moneſten oure hertis.

xx For if oure herte ſhal reproue vs, `or vndernymme, God is more þan oure herte, and knewe alle þinges.

xxi Moost dere, if oure herte `shal not reproue vs, we han trift to God;

xxii and what euer we ſhulen axe, we ſhulen receyue of him, for we kepen his comaundementes, and we don þo þinges þat ben pleafaunt biforn him.

xxiii And þis is þe comaundement of him, þat we bileue in þe name of his fone Jhesu Crift, and loue ech oþer, as he ȝaf heeft to vs.

xxiv And he þat kepiþ his maundementes, dwelliþ in him, and he in him. And in þis þing we witen, for he dwelliþ in vs, of þe spirit, whom he ȝaf to vs.

Capitulum IIII.

i Moost dere, nyle ȝe bileue to eche spirit, but proue ȝe spiritis, if þei ben of God; for many false prophetis wenten out in to þe world.

ii In þis þing þe spirit of God is knowun; ech spirit þat knowlechiþ Crift for to haue comen in flesch, is of God;

iii and ech spirit þat diſſoluteþ, `or fordoiþ, Jhesu, is not of God. And þis is antecrift, of whom ȝe herden, for he comeþ; and riȝt now he is in þe world.

iv ȝe, litel ſones, ben of God, and ȝe han ouercome him; for he þat is in ȝou is more, þan he þat in þe world.

v ȝei ben of þe world, þerfore ȝei speken of þe world, and þe world heriþ hem.

vi We ben of God; he þat knew God, heriþ vs; he þat is not of God, heriþ not vs. In þis þing we knownen þe spirit of treuþe, and þe spirit of errour.

vii Moost dere, loue we to gydere, for charite is of God; and ech man þat loueþ his broþer, is born of God, and knowiþ God.

viii He þat loueþ not, haþ not charite, `neþer knew God; for God is charite.

ix In þis þing þe charite of God apperide in vs, for God fente his oon bigeten fone in to þe world, þat we lyue bi hym.

x In þis þing is charite, not as we hadden loued God, `but for he first louede vs, and fente his fone helpinge for oure synnes.

xi ȝe moost dere, if God louede vs, we owen for to loue ech oþer.

xii No man ſiȝe euere God; if we louen to gydre, God dwelliþ in vs, and þe charite of him is parfijt in vs.

xiii In þis þing we knownen, for we dwellen in him, and he in vs; for of his ſpirit he ȝaf to vs.

xiv And we ſiȝen, and witneſſen, `for þe fadir ſente his fone fauour of þe world.

xv Who euere `shal knowleche, for Jhesu is þe fone of God, God dwelliþ in him, and he in God.

xvi And we han knownen, and bileuen to þe charite, þat God haþ in vs. God is charite, and he þat dwelliþ in charite, dwelliþ in God, and God in him.

xvii In þis þing is þe parfijt charite of God wiþ vs, þat we haue trift in þe day of dome; for as he is, and we ben in þis world.

xviii Drede is not in charite, but parfijt charite ſendijþ out drede; for drede haþ peyne. Forſoþe he þat drediþ, is not parfijt in charite.

xix ȝerfore loue we God, for he former louede vs.

xx If ony man `shal feie, for I loue God, and `shal haate his broþer, he is a liȝer. Soþeli he þat loueþ not his broþer, whiche he ſeeþ, hou mai he loue God, whom he ſeeþ not?

xi And we han þis precept of God, þat he þat loueþ God, loue and his broþer.

Capitulum V.

i Eche man þat bileueþ þat Jhesus is Crift, is born of God; and eche man þat loueþ him þat gendriþ, loueþ him þat is born of him.

ii In þis þing we knownen, for we louen þe children of God, whan we louen God, and don his maundementes.

iii Soþeli þis is charite of God, þat we kepe his maundementes; and his maundementes ben not greuous.

iv For al þing þat is born of God, ouercomeþ þe world; and þis is þe victorie þat ouercomeþ þe world, oure feiþ.

v Forſoþe who is it þat ouercomeþ þe world, no but he þat bileueþ for Jhesus is þe fone of God?

vi þis is Jhesu Crift, þat cam bi watir and blood; not in water onely, but in watir and blood. And þe spirit is he þat witneſſip, þat Crift is treuþe.

vii For þre ben, þat ȝiuen witneſſing in heuen, þe Fadir, þe Word, `or Sone, and þe Hooly Gooſt; and þes þre ben oon.

viii And þre ben, þat ȝiuen witneſſing in erþe, þe spirit, water, and blood; and þes þre ben oon.

ix If we receyuen witneſſing of men, þe witneſſing of God is more; for þis is þe witneſſing of God, þat is more, for he witneſſide of his fone.

x He þat bileueþ in to þe fone of God, haþ þe witneſſing of God in him. He þat bileueþ not to þe fone, makiþ hym a liȝer; for he bileueþ not in þe witneſſinge, þat God witneſſide `of his fone.

xi þis is þe witneſſing, for God ȝaf to vs euerelaſtinge liȝf, and þis liȝf is in his fone.

xii He þat haþ þe sone, haþ and lijf, he þat haþ not þe sone of God, haþ not lijf.
 xiii I wrijte to ȝou þes þinges, þat ȝe wite, for ȝe han euerelaftyng lijf, þe whiche bileuen in þe name of Goddis sone.
 xiv And þis is þe trist þat we han to God, for what euere þing we shal axe vp his wille, he shal here vs.
 xv And we witen, for he heriþ vs, what euer þing we shulen axe; we witen, for we han þe axynges, whiche we axen of him.
 xvi He þat woot his broþer for to synne a synne not to be deep, axe he, and lijf shal be ȝouun to him, 'lynnynge not to be deep. Þer is a synne to deeþ; not for it I seie, þat ony man preye.
 xvii Eche wickidnesse is synne, and þere is synne to deeþ.
 xviii We witen, for ech man þat is born of God, synneþ not; but þe generacioun of God kepiþ him, and þe wickid touchiþ him not.
 xix We witen, for we ben of God, and al þe world is put in wickid.
 xx And we witen, for þe sone of God cam, 'and clopide flesch for þe cause of vs, and suffride, and roos aȝen fro deede men, and toke vs to, and ȝaf to vs wit, þat we knowe verrey God, and be in þe verrey sone of him. Þis is verrey God, and euerelaftyng lijf.
 xxi Litel sones, kepe ȝe ȝou fro simulacris, 'or coueytise.

Heere endiþ þe first pistle of Joon, and now bigynneþ þe secounde.

II. JOON.

Þe secounde epistle of Joon.

i The eldere man, to þe 'chosен lady, and to hir children, þe whiche I loue in treuþe; and not I aloone, but and alle men þat knewen treuþe;
 ii for þe treuþe þat dwelliþ in ȝou, and wiþ ȝou shal be wiþ outen ende.
 iii Grace be wiþ ȝou, mercy, and pees of God þe fadir, and of Jhesu Crist, þe sone of þe fadir, in treuþe and charite.
 iv I ioiede ful miche, for I foond of þi sones goynge in treuþe, as we receyueden maundement of þe fadir.
 v And now I preye pee, lady, not as writinge a newe maundement to þee, but þat þat we hadden at þe bigynnyng, þat we loue eche oþer.
 vi And þis is charite, þat we walke vp his maundementes. Soþeli þis is þe comaundement, þat as ȝe herden at þe bigynnyng, 'in him walke ȝe.
 vii For many deceyuours wenten out in to þe world, whiche knowlechen not Jhesu Crist for to haue come in flesch; þis is a deceyuour and antecrist.
 viii Se ȝe ȝoure silf, leſt ȝe leſe þe þinges þat ȝe han wrouȝt, but þat ȝe receyue ful meede;

ix witynge þat ech man þat goiþ awey, and dwelliþ not in þe techinge of Crist, haþ not God. He þat dwelliþ in þe techinge, haþ and þe sone and þe fadir.
 x If ony man comeþ to ȝou, and bringeþ 'not to þis teching, nyle ȝe receyue him in to hous, neþer 'ȝe shulen seie to him, Heyl. xi Soþeli he þat seiþ to him, Heyl, comuneþ wiþ his yuele werkis. Lo! I bifore feide to ȝou, þat ȝe be not confoundid in þe day of oure Lord Jhesu Crist.
 xii I hauyng mo þinges for to wrijte to ȝou, wolde not bi parchemyn and ynke; soþeli I hope 'me to comynge to ȝou, and speke mouþ to mouþ, þat ȝour ioye be ful.
 xiii Þe sones, 'or douȝtres, of þi syftir chosen greten þee wel. Þe grace of God wiþ þee. Amen.

Here endiþ þe secounde pistle of Joon, and here bigynneþ þe pridde.

III. JOON.

Þe prid pistle of Joon.

i The eldere man to Gayus, moost dere, whom I loue in treuþe.
 ii 'Moost dere, of alle þingis I make preyer, þee for to entre, and fare welfumly, as þi soule doiþ welfumly.
 iii I ioyede ful greetly, briþeren comynge, and witnesfyng beringe to þi treuþe, as þou walkist in treuþe.
 iv I haue not more grace of þes þingis, þan þat I here my sones for to walke in treuþe.
 v Moost dere, þou doist seiþfully, what euer þou werchist in to briþeren, and þis þing in to pilgrimys, vi whiche ȝelden witnesfyng to þi charite in siȝt of þe chirche; whom þou 'wel doyng ledist forþ worþily to God.
 vii Soþeli for his name 'þei wenten forþ, noþing takinge of heþen men.
 viii Perfore we owen for to receyue siche manere men, þat we be euene werchers of treuþe.
 ix I 'shulde haue write perauenture to þe chirche, but þis Diotropis, þat loueþ for to bere primacye in hem, receyueþ not vs.
 x For þis þing, if I shal come, I shal moneste his werkes, whiche he doiþ, 'garringe, or chidinge, 'in to vs wiþ yuele wordis. And as þes þinges suffisen not to him, neþer he receyueþ briþeren, and forbediþ hem þat receyuen, and caſtiþ out of þe chirche.
 xi Moost dere, nyle þou sue yuel þing, but 'þat þat is good þing. He þat doiþ wel, is of God; he þat doiþ yuel, seeþ 'him not.
 xii Witnesfyng is ȝolde to Demetrie of alle men, and of treuþe it silf; but and we beren witnesfyng, and þou 'haſt knowun, for oure witnesfyng is trewe.
 xiii I hadde many þinges for to wrijte to þee, but Y wolde not wrijte to þee bi ynke and penne.

xiiii Forsoþe I hope anoon for to see þee, and we shulen speke mouþ to mouþ. Pees to þee. Frendes greten þee wel. Grete þou wel frendes bi name.

Here endiþ þe þridde epistle of Joon, and here bigynneþ þe piftle of Judas, þe broþer of James.

JUDAS.

Þe epistil of Jude.

i Judas, þe seruaunt of Jhesu Crist, and broþer forsoþe of Jamys, to þes loued, þat ben in God þe fadir, and `o Jhesu Crist kept and clepid, ii mercy, `to ȝou, and pees, and charite be fulfillid.

iii Moost dere, I makinge al bifynelle `o writinge to ȝou of ȝoure comun helpe, hadde neede for to wrijte to ȝou, preyngre for to stryue vpon þe feiþ oonys bitakun of seyntis.

iv Soþeli summen priyli entriden, þat sumtyme weren bifore write in to þis doom, `vnpitous men, ouerturnyngre þe grace of oure God in to lecherie, and denyinge þe aloone lordschiper and oure Lord Jhesu Crist.

v Forsoþe I wole `to gydere moneste ȝou, witynge oonys alle þingis, for Jhesus sauyngre his puple of þe lond of Egipt, and þe secounde tyme loste hem þat bileueden not.

vi Soþeli aungels, þat kepten not his princehed, but forsoken his hous, he referuede in to þe doom of greet God, in euerelaftinge boondis `vndir derknesse.

vii As Sodom, and Gomor, and nyȝ cooftid citees, on liche manere doyngre fornycacioun, and goyngre awey astir oþer flesch, ben maad enfaumple, sustenyngre peyne of euerlaftinge fijr.

viii Also and þes þat defoulen soþeli þe flesch, forsoþe despisjen lordschiping, forsoþe blasfemen mageste.

ix Whan Mychael, `þe archaungel, disputinge wiþ þe deuel, stroof of Moyfes body, he was not hardy for ȝiu doom of blasfemye, but seide, Þe Lord comaunde to þee.

x Forsoþe þes blasfemen, what euere þinges þei `soþeli vnknownen. Soþeli what euere þinges þei `han knowe kyndely as doumbe beeftis, in þes þei ben corupt.

xi Wo to hem þat wenten þe weye of Caym, and bi errour of Balaam for meede `ben fled out, and perischeden in þe azen seiyngre of Chore.

xii Pes ben in her metys filþes, `or defoulinges, feestinge to gydere, wiþ outen dreede fedyngre hem silf; cloudes wiþ outen watir, þat ben born aboute of wijndis; heruest trees wiþ outen fruyt, twies deede, drawun vp bi þe roote;

xiii wawes of þe wijlde, `or woode, se, froþinge out her confusiouns; erringe sterres, `or fallinge doun, to whom þe tempest of derknessis is kept `in to wiþ outen ende.

xiv Forsoþe Enos, þe seuenþe fro Adam, propheciode of þes, seiyngre, Lo! þe Lord comeþ in his holy þoufyndis, xv for to do doom aȝens alle men, and for to reprove alle vnpitous men of alle þe werkis of þe vnpitee of hem, bi whiche þei diden vnpitoufly, and of alle harde þingis, þat `vnpitous synners han spoke aȝens God.

xvi Pes ben gruccchers pleynyngre, `or ful of pleynitis, wandringe vp her desijris; and þe mouþ of hem spekiþ pride, wondringe, `or worschipinge, persones, bi cause of wynnyng.

xvii Forsoþe, ȝe moost dere, `be ȝe myndeful of þe wordis, whiche ben bifore seid of apostlis of oure Lord Jhesu Crist; xviii þe whiche feiden to ȝou, for in þe laste tymes þer shulen come scorners, wandringe vp her desijres, not in pitee.

xix Pes ben, `þe whiche departen hem silf, beefstly, not hauyngre spirit.

xx Forsoþe ȝe, moost dere, aboue byldinge ȝou silf to ȝoure moost hooly feiþ, in þe Hooly Goost preyinge, xxi kepe ȝou silf in þe loue of God, abijdinge þe merfy of oure Lord Jhesu Crist in to lijf euerelaftynge.

xxii And soþeli reproue ȝe þes men demyd, xxiii forsoþe `saue ȝe hem, rauschinge of þe fijr. Soþeli do ȝe merfy to opere in drede of God, `hatynge and `þe ilke defoulid coote, `þe which is fleshly.

xxiv Forsoþe to him þat is myȝty for to kepe to gydere ȝou wiþ ȝute synne, and for to ordeyne bifore þe siȝt of his gloriye ȝou vnewemmyd in gladinge, `or ioyinge wiþ ȝute forþ, in þe comynge of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, xxv to God aloone oure sauyour, bi Jhesu Crist oure Lord, gloriye, and magnyfyng, empire, `or greet lordschip, and power, bifore alle worldis, and in to alle worldis of worldlis. Amen.

Here endiþ þe piftle of Judas, and now bigynneþ Apocalips, or Reuelacioun, of Joon Euangelist.

APOCALIPS.

Prologue.

Jon, þe apostil and euangelist of oure Lord Jhesu Crist, chosen and loued, in so gret loue of dileccioun is had, þat in þe cene on his breſt he shulde lyn, and at þe cros he hadde bitaken his owne modir to hym stondende alone, þat whom willende to be weddid to þe cleping of maidenhed he hadde clepid, to hym also he shulde han bitake a maiden to be kept. Ȣis also, whan for þe word of God and þe witnesse of Jhesu Crist wiþ outlaweri shulde be born in to þe ile of Pathmos, þere of þe same þe Apocalips forþ shewid was writen, þat as in þe bigynnynge of canon, þat is, of þe bok of Genefis, an vncorruptible principle is fornottid, so an vncorruptible ende bi a maiden in þe Apocalips shulde be ȝoue of Crist, seiende, I am alfa and oo, bygynnyng and ending. Pis is Jon, þe whiche knowende þe dai of passing fro bodi to han becomen to hym, his disciplis in Effesf clepid togidere, wente doun in to a delf place of his biriellis, and, preȝeere fullfild, he ȝeld þe goſt, as wel fro þe forewe of dep made ſtraunge, as fro corupcioun of flesh he is knownen alyen. Of whose scripture neþeles þe `disposing, or þe ordynaunce, of þe boc þerfore of vs bi alle þingis is not expowned, þat to men not knowende defyr of feching be ſet, and to men fechende frut of trauaile, and to God þe doctrine of maifterhed be kept.

Here endiþ þe prologue, and bygynneþ þe Apocalips.

Capitulum I.

i Apocalipſis, or reuelacioun, of Jhesu Crist, þe whiche God ȝaf to him for to make opyn to his feruauntis, whiche þingis it bihoueþ to be maad foone. And he signyfiede, ſending bi his aungel to his feruaunt Joon, ii þe whiche bar witneſſing to þe word of God, and witneſſing of Jhesu Crist, in þes þingis, what euere þinges he ſiȝe.

iii Bleſſid he þat rediþ, and he þat heriþ þe wordis of pis prophecie, and kepiþ þo þingis þat ben writen in it; forſoþe þe tyme is nyȝ.

iv Joon to feuen chirchis, þat ben in Afye, grace `to ȝou, and pees, of him þat is, and þat was, and þat is to comynge; and of þe feuen spiritis, þat ben in þe fiȝt of his trone;

v and of Jhesu Crist, þat is a feiþful witneſſe, þe firſte bigeten of deede men, and prince of kingis of erþe; þe which louede vs, and waſchide vs fro oure fynnes in his blood, vi and made vs a kingdom, and preſtes to God and to his fadir; to him glory and empire in to worldlis of worldlis. Amen.

vii Lo! he comeþ wiþ clowdis, and ech iȝe ſhal see him, and þei þat pungeden, `or prickeden, him; and alle þe kynredes, `or lynages, of erþe ſhulen weile hem ſilf on him. ȝhe, Amen!

viii I am alpha and oo, þe bigynnyng and endyng, ſeip þe Lord God, þat is, and þat was, and þat is to comynge, almiȝty.

ix I, Joon, ȝoure brother, and parcerer in tribulacioun, and kingdom, and pacience in Crist Jhesu, was in an yle, þat is clepid Pathmos, for þe word of God, and witneſſyng of Jhesu.

x I was in ſpirit in þe Sunday, and I herde aftir me a greet voys, as of a trumpe, xi ſeiyng, þat þing þat þou feest, `wrijte in a book, and fende to þe feuen chirchis þat ben in Afye; to Epheso, to Smyrma, and Pergamo, and to Tyatira, and Sardo, and Philadelfia, and Loadicia.

xii And I turnede, þat I ſhulde fee þe voys þat ſpake wiþ me; and I turned ſiȝe ſeuene candelſtickes of gold, xiii and in þe mydle of þe ſeuene goldun candelſtickis `a liche to þe ſone of man, cloþid wiþ a long preſtly cloþ, and biſore gyrd at þe teetis wiþ a golden gyrdel.

xiv Sopeli þe heed of him and heeres were white, as whijt wulle, and as ſnow; and þe iȝen of him as flaume of fijr;

xv and hife feet lijke to `droſſe of gold, `or latoun, as in a brennyng chymeney; and þe voys of him as þe voys of many watriſ.

xvi And he hadde in his riȝthond ſeuene ſterres, and a ſwerd ſharpe on boþe ſijdis wente out of his mouþ; and his face ſhijneþ as þe funne in his vertu.

xvii And whan I hadde feyn hym, I fel doun at his feet, as deed. And he puttide his riȝthond on me, ſeiyng, Nyle þou drede; I am þe firſt and þe laſt;

xviii and I am alyue, and I was deed; and lo! I am lyuyng in to worldlis of worldlis, and I haue þe keyes of deeþ and helle.

xix þerfore wriȝte þou whiche þinges þou haſt feyn, and whiche ben, and whiche it bihoueþ for to be don aftir þes þinges.

xx þe mysterie, `or priuyee, of ſeuene ſterris, whom þou ſiȝe in my riȝthalf, and þe ſeuene golden candelſtickes; þe ſeuene ſterres ben aungels of ſeuene chirchis, and þe ſeuene candelſtickes ben ſeuene chirches.

Capitulum II.

i And to þe aungel of þe chirche of Efesus wriȝte þou, Pes þinges ſeip he, þat holdiþ ſeuene ſterres in his riȝthalf, þe which walkiþ in þe mydle of ſeuene golden candelſtickis.

ii Y woot þi werkes, and trauel, and þi pacyence, and for þou mayſt not ſuffre yuele men; and þou haſt temptid, `or afayed, hem þat ſeien hem ſilf for to be apostles, and ben not, and þou haſt founded hem liȝers; iii and þou haſt pacience, and þou haſt fulſtenyd for my name, and faylediſt not.

iv But Y haue aȝen þee a fewe þinges, þat þou haſt left þi firſt charite.

v `And ſo be þou myndeful of whennus þou haſt falle, and do penaunce, and do þe firſte werkes; `if not, I come foone to þee, and ſhal moue þi candelſticke of his place, `no but þou ſhalt do penaunce.

vi But þou haſt þis good þing, for þou hatediſt `þe dedes of Nychoſaytis, `or foļewers of Nychoł, þe whiche and I hatede.

vii He þat haþ eres, here, what þe ſpirit ſhal ſeie to þe chirchis. To `þe ouercomyng I ſhal ȝiue for to ete of þe tree of liȝ, þat is in paradise of my God.

viii And to þe aungel of þe chirche of Smyrma wriȝte þou, Pes þinges ſeip þe firſt and þe laſt, þat was deed, and lyueþ.

ix I woot þi tribulacioun, and þi pouert, but þou art riche; and þou art blasphemyd of hem, þat feien hem sīl for to be Jewes, and ben not, but þei ben þe synagoge of Sathanas.

x Drede þou no þing of þes, whiche þou 'art to fuffringe. Lo! þe deuel is to sendinge summe of ȝou in to prisoun, þat ȝe be temptid; and ȝe shulen haue tribulacioun ten dayes. Be þou feiþful unto þe deeþ, and I shal ȝiue to þee a coroun of liff.

xi He þat haþ eres, here, what þe spirit 'shal seie to þe chirchis. He þat shal ouercome, shal not be hirt of þe fecounde deeþ.

xii And to þe aungel of þe chirche of Pergame wrijte þou, þes þinges seiþ he, þat haþ þe swerd sharp on 'eiper sijde.

xiii I woot where þou dwellist, where þe seete of Sathanas is; and þou holdist my name, and denyeft not my feiþ. And in þo dayes was Antiphas, my feiþful witnesse, þat was flayn at ȝou, where Sathanas dwelliþ.

xiv But I haue aȝens þee fewe þinges; for þou haft þere men holdinge þe teching of Balaam, 'þe which tauȝte Balac for to sende sclaundre bifor þe sones of Yrael, þat is to seie, for to ete of sacrificis of ydolis, and for to do fornycacioun;

xv so and þou haft men holdinge þe teching of Nycholaytis.

xvi Alſo do þou penaunce; if not, I shal 'ſoone come to þee, and I shal fiȝte wiþ hem in swerd of my mouȝ.

xvii He þat haþ eres, here, what þe spirit 'shal seie to þe chirches. To þe ouercomyng I shal ȝiue manna hid; or aungel mete, and I ſchal ȝiue to him a whijt ſtoon, and in þe ſtoon a newe name wriȝtun, þe which no man woot, no but he þat takiþ.

xviii And to þe aungel of þe chirche of Tyatira wrijte þou, þes þinges seiþ þe lone of God, þat haþ iȝen as flaume of fijr, and his feet lik to 'droſſe of gold.

xix I haue knowe þi werkes, and feiþ, and charite, and 'mynisterie, or seruice, and þi pacience, and þi laſte werkes mo þan þe formere.

xx But I haue aȝens þee a fewe þinges; for þou ſuffrifſt þe womman Jezabel, þe which ſeip hir for to be a prophetelle, for to teche and deceyue my ſeruautes, for to do leccherie, and for to ete of þingis offrid to ydolis.

xxi And Y ȝaf to hir time, 'þat ſhe ſhulde do penaunce, and ſhe wole not do penaunce of hir fornycacioun.

xxii Lo! I ſende hir in to a bed, and þei þat don leccherie wiþ hir ſhulen be in moost tribulacioun, no but if þei do penaunce of her werkes.

xxiii And I ſchal flee hir ſones in deeþ, and alle chirches ſhulen wite, for I am ſekinge reynes and hertes; and I ſhal ȝiue to ech man aftir his werkes.

xxiv Forſoþe I ſeie to ȝou, and oþere þat ben at Tyatire, who euere han not þis teching, and þat knewen not þe hiȝneſſe of Sathanas, hou þei ſeien, I ſhal not ſende on ȝou an oþer charge;

xxv neþeles þat þat ȝe han, holdiþ til I come.

xxvi And to him þat shal ouercome, and shal kepe til in to þe ende my werkes, I ſhal ȝiue power on folkes, xxvii and he ſhal gourerne hem in an yren ȝerd; and þei ſhulen be broke to gydere, as vefſel of a potter, 'as and I receyuede of my fadir;

xxviii and I ſhal ȝiue to him a morewe ſterre.

xxix He þat haþ eres, here, what þe spirit 'ſhal ſeie to þe chirchis.

Capitulum III.

i And to þe 'aungel of þe chirche of Sardis write þou, þes þinges seiþ he, þat haþ þe feuen ſpirites of God,
'and feuen ſterres. I woot þi werkes, for þou haſt name, þat þou lyuest, and þou art deed.

ii Be þou wakinge, and confirme oþere þinges, þat weren to diyng; forſoþe I fynde not þi werkes ful bifore my God.

iii Perfore haue þou in mynde, hou þou receyuediſt, and herdiſt; and kepe, and do penaunce. Perfore if þou ſhalt not wake, I ſhal come to þee as a nyȝt þeef, and þou ſhalt not wite in what our I ſhal come to þee.

iv But þou haft a fewe names in Sardis, þe whiche defouleden not her cloþes; and þei ſhulen walke wiþ me in whijte þingis, for þei ben worþi.

v He þat shal ouercome, ſhal be cloþid þus wiþ whijte cloþis; and I ſhal not do awey his name of þe boke of lijf, and I ſhal knowleche his name bifore my fadir, and bifore his aungels.

vi He þat haþ eres, here, what þe spirit 'ſhal ſeie to chirchis.

vii And to þe aungel of þe chirche of Philadelphe wrijte þou, þes þinges seiþ þe holy and trewe, þat haþ þe keye of Dauid; þe which openiþ, and no man cloſiþ, he cloſiþ, and no man openiþ.

viii I woot þi werkis, and lo! I ȝaf bifore þee a dore openid, 'þe which no man mai close; for þou haft a litel vertu, and haſt kept my word, and denyeft not my name.

ix Lo! I ſhal ȝyue to þee of þe synagoge of Sathanas, þe whiche ſeien hem for to be Jewis, and ben not, but liȝen. Lo! I ſhal make hem, þat þei come, and worschipe bifore þi feet; and þei ſhulen wite, for I louede þee,

x for þou keptiſt þe word of my pacience. And I ſhal kepe þee fro þe hour of temptacioun, þat is to comyng in to al þe world, for to tempte men dwellinge in erþe.

xi Lo! I come ſoone; holde þat þat þou haſt, þat no man take þi coroun.

xii And him þat shal ouercome, I ſhal make a piler in þe temple of my God, and he ſhal no more go out; and I ſhal write on him þe name of my God, and þe name of þe citeme of my God, of newe Jerufalem, þat comeþ doun fro heuene of my God, and my newe name.

- xiii He þat haþ eres, here, what þe spirit `shal seie to chirchis.
- xiv And to þe aungel of þe chirche of Laodice wrijte þou, þes þinges seiþ Amen, `þat is verreyli, `þe feiþful witnesse and trewe, þe which is þe bigynnyng of Goddis creature.
- xv I woot þi werkes, for neþer þou art coold, neþer hoot; I wolde þat þou were coold, or hoot;
- xvi but for þou art lew, and neþer coold, neþer hoot, I shal bigynne for to caste þee out of my mouþ.
- xvii For þou seist, `þat I am riche, and ful of goodis, and I haue nede of no man; and þou woost not, for þou art a wrecche, and wreichful, and pore, and blynd, and nakid.
- xviii I counseile þee, for to bye of me `gold fijrid, and proued, þat þou be maad riche, and be cloþid wiþ whijt cloþis, þat þe confusioun of þi nakidnesse appere not; and anoynte þin ižen wiþ a colirie, þat is, medycynal for ižen, maad of diuerse erbis, þat þou se.
- xix I `whom I loue, reproue, and chastise; þerfore sue, `or loue, and do penaunce.
- xx Lo! I stonde at þe dore, and knocke; if ony man `shal here my voys, and opene þe ȝat, I shal entre to hym, and soupe wiþ hym, and he wiþ me.
- xxi I shal ȝiue to hym þat shal ouercome, for to sitte wiþ me in my troone, as and I ouercam, and sat wiþ my fadir in his troone.
- xxii He þat haþ eres, here, what þe spirit shal seie to chirchis.

Capitulum IIII.

- i Aftir þese þingis I siȝe, and lo! a dore openyd in heuene. And þe firste voys þat I herde, as of a trumpe spekinge wiþ me, seiyng, Stiȝe vp hidir, and I shal shewe to þee whiche þinges it bihoueþ for to be don foone aftir þes þinges.
- ii Anoon I was in spirit, and lo! a seete was put in heuen, and on þe seete oon sittinge.
- iii And he þat fat, was liȝt `þe siȝt of a stoon iaspis, and to sardyn; and þe reynbowe was in cumpas of þe seete, liȝt to þe siȝt of smaragdyn.
- iv And in þe cumpas of þe seete foure and twenty smale feetes; and vpon þe troones foure and twenty eldre fittyng, gyrd aboute wiþ white cloþis, and in þe heidis of hem golden crownes.
- v And leytinges, and voyces, and þundringes camen out of þe troone; and seuen laumpes brennyng before þe troone, þe whiche ben seuen spirates of God.
- vi And in þe siȝt of þe seete, as a se of glas, liȝt to cristal; and in þe mydle of þe seete, and in cumpas of þe seete, foure beeſtes ful of ižen before and bihynde.
- vii And þe firſt beeſt liȝt to a lyon; and þe ſecounde beeſt liȝt to a calf; and þe þridde beeſt hauyng a face as of a man; and þe fourþe beeſt liȝt to an egle fleyng.

- viii And þe foure beeſtes hadden ech of hem fixe wynges; and in cumpas and wiþ inne þei ben ful of ižen; and þei hadden not reſte dai and nyȝt, feiyng, Holy, holy, holy, þe Lord God almyȝti, þat was, and þat is, and þat is to comynge.
- ix And whanne þo foure beeſts ȝauen glorie, and honour, and bleſſing to þe ſittinge on þe troone, to þe lyuyng in to worldlis of worldlis,
- x þe foure and twenty eldre fallen doun bifore þe fittyng in troone, and worſhipeden þe lyuyng in to worldlis of worldlis. And þei ſenten her crownes bifore þe trone, feiyng,
- xi þou, Lord oure God, art worþi for to take glory, and honour, and vertu; for þou madif of nouȝt alle þinges, and for þi wille þei weren, and ben maad of nouȝt.

Capitulum V.

- i And I siȝe in þe riȝthalf of þe ſittinge vpon þe troone, a book writhun wiþ inne and wiþ out, and ſeelið wiþ ſeuuen ſeeliſ.
- ii And I siȝe a ſtrong aungel, preching wiþ a greet voys, Who is worþi for to opene þe boke, and for to vnbýnde þe ſignetes of it?
- iii And `no man miȝte in heuene, neþer in erþe, neþer vndir erþe opene þe book, ne biholde it.
- iv And I wepte miche, for `no man is founded worþi for to opene þe book, neþer for to ſee it.
- v And oon of þe eldre ſeide to me, Wepe þou not; lo! a lyoun of þe lynage of Juda, þe rote of Dauid, haþ ouercomen for to opene þe book, and for to vnbýnde þe ſeuene ſignetes of it.
- vi And I siȝe, and lo! in þe mydle of þe troone, and `in þe mydle of þe foure beeſtes, and in þe mydle of eldre, a lomb ſtandinge as fleyn, hauyng ſeuene hornes, and ſeuен ižen, þe whiche ben ſeuene ſpirites of God, ſent into ech lond.
- vii And he cam, and toke of þe riȝthond of þe ſittinge in troone þe boke.
- viii And whan he hadde openyd þe boke, foure beeſtes and foure and twenty eldre fallen doun bifore þe lomb; hauyng ech of hem harpis, and golden fiolis ful of ſaueringis, whiche ben þe preyers of ſeyntis.
- ix And þei fungen a newe ſong, feiyng, Lord, þou art worþi for to take þe boke, and for to opene þe ſignetes of it; for þou were flayn, and aȝen bouȝtis to God in þi blood, of al lynage, and tunge, and purple, and nacioun;
- x and madif vs `to oure God kingdom, and prefis; and we ſhulen regne vpon erþe.
- xi And I siȝe, and herde þe voys of many aungels in cumpas of þe trone, and of beeſtes, and of eldre. And þe nombre of hem `was a þousynd of þousyndis,
- xii feiyng wiþ greet voys, þe lomb þat is flayn, is worþi for to take vertu, and `diuynte, or godhed, and fleyng.

wisdom, and strengþe, and honour, and glory, and bleſſing.

xiii And ech creature þat is in heuene, and þat on erþe, and vnder erþe, and þe se, and whiche þinges ben in it, I herde alle feiynge, To þe fittyng in troone, and to þe lomb, bleſſing, and honour, and glory, and power, in to worldlis of worldlis. xivii And þe foure beeſtes feiden, Amen. And foure and twenty `eldre men felden doun `in to her facis, and worshipeden þe lyuyng in to worldlis of worldlis.

Capitulum VI.

i And I ſiȝe, þat þe lomb hadde openid oon of þe feuen signetes. And Y herde oon of þe foure beeſtis feiynge, as a voys of þundre, Come, and fee.

ii And I ſiȝe, `and lo! a whijt hors; and he þat fat on him hadde a bowe, and a coroun was ȝouun to hym. And he wente out ouercomyng, þat he ſhulde ouercome.

iii And whan he hadde openyd þe fecounde feel, I herde þe fecounde beeſt feiynge, Come þou, and fee.

ivii And an ober reed hors wente out; and it is ȝouun to him `þat fat on him, þat he ſhulde take pees fro erþe, and þat þei flee to gydere hem ſilf; and a greet ſword is ȝouun to him.

v And whan he hadde openyd þe þridde feel, I herde þe þridde beeſt feiynge, Come þou, and fee. And loo! a blak hors; and he þat fat vpon him hadde a balaunce in his hond.

vi And I herde as a voys in þe mydle of foure beeſtis, feiynge, A bilbre of whete, þat is, a weyȝt of two pound, for oo peny, and þre bilbris of barly for oo peny; and hirte þou not wijn, and oyle.

vii And whan he hadde openyd þe fourþe feel, I herde a voys of þe fourþe beeſt, feiynge, Come þou, and fee.

viii And loo! a paal hors; and þe name Deep to him þat fat on him, and helle ſuede him. And power is ȝouun to him on foure partis of þe erþe, for to fle wiþ ſword, and hungre, and deeþ, and wiþ beeſtis `of erþe.

ix And whan he hadde openyd þe fyueþe feel, I ſiȝe vndir an auter þe ſoules of men ſleyn for þe word of God, and for witnessiŋ þat þei hadden.

x And þei crierden wiþ greet voys, feiynge, Hou longe, Lord, holy and trewe, demyst þou not, and vengist oure blood of þes þat dwellen in erþe?

xi And white ſtoolis, `for ech ſoule a ſtoole, ben ȝouun to hem; and it is feid to hem, þat þei ſhulden reſte ȝit a litel tyme, til þe euen ſerauntes of hem be fulfillid, and þe briþeren of hem, þat ben to be flayn, as and þei.

xii And I ſiȝe, whan he hadde openyd þe ſixte feel, and lo! a greet erþe mouyng is maad; and þe funne is maad blak, as a fak of heyre, and al þe moone is maad as blood.

xiii And sterres of heuene fallen doun vpon þe erþe, as a fijge tree ſendip his vnripe fyges, whan it is mouyd of a greet wijnd.

xivii And heuen wente awei, as a book infoldid; and all mounteyns and ijles ben mouyd fro her places.

xv And kinges of erþe, and princes, and tribunes, and riche, and ſtronge, and ech ſeraunt, and fre man, hidden hem in dennes and ſtoones of hillis.

xvi And þei ſeien to hillis and to ſtoonyſ, Falle ȝe on vs, and hijde ȝe vs fro þe face of þe fittyng on troone, and fro wrap of þe lomb;

xvii for þe greet dai of her wrap comeþ, and who ſhal mowe ſtonde?

Capitulum VII.

i Aftr þes þinges I ſiȝe foure aungels ſtondinge vpon þe foure corners of þe erþe, holdinge foure wijndis of þe erþe, þat þei blewen not on erþe, nepir on þe fe, nepir `in to ony tre.

ii And Y ſiȝe an ober aungel ſtiȝinge fro þe riſyng of þe funne, hauyng a ſigne of þe quike God. And he criede wiþ a greet voys to þe foure aungels, to whiche it was ȝouun to noiȝe to þe erþe, and fe, iii feiynge, Nyle ȝe noiȝe þe erþe, and fe, neþer to trees, til we `ſigne, or marke, þe ſerauntes of oure God in þe forhedis of hem.

ivii And I herde þe noumbr `of markid, an hundrid and foure and fourty þousynd markid, of eueri lynage of þe ſones of Yrael;

v of þe lynage of Juda, twelue þousynd ſigned; of þe lynage of Ruben, twelue þousynd markid; of þe lynage of Gad, twelue þousynd markid;

vi of þe lynage of Afer, twelue þousynd markid; of þe lynage of Neptaly, twelue þousynd markid; of þe lynage of Manaffe, twelue þousynd markid;

vii of þe lynage of Symeon, twelue þousynd markid; of þe lynage of Leyu, twelue þousynd markid; of þe lynage of Yſacar, twelue þousynd markid;

viii of þe lynage of Zabulon, twelue þousynd markid; of þe lynage of Joseph, twelue þousynd markid; of þe lynage of Beniamyn, twelue þousynd markid.

ix Aftr þes þinges I ſiȝe a greet company, whom no man miȝte noumbr, of alle `folkis, and lynagis, and puplis, and tungis, ſtondinge biſore þe trone, in þe ſiȝt of þe lomb; couerid, `or cloþid, wiþ whijte ſtoolis, and palmes in þe hondis of hem.

x And þei crierden wiþ greet voys, feiynge, Helpe to oure God, þat ſittip on trone, and to þe lombe.

xi And alle aungels ſtoden in cumpas of þe trone, and of `ſenyouris, or eldre, and foure beeſtis. And þei fallen in þe ſiȝt of þe trone, `in to her facis, and worshippeden God, xii feiynge, Amen! bleſſyng, and cleernes, and wisdom, and doyng of þankingis, and honour, and vertu, and ſtrengþe to oure God, in to worldlis of worldlis. Amen.

- xiii And oon of þe 'eldre men answereide, and seide to me, Who ben þes, þat ben couerid, or cloþid, wiþ whijte stoolis? and fro whennus camen þei?
- xiv And I feide to him, My lord, þou woost. And he feide to me, þes ben þei, þat camen fro greet tribulacioun, and waſchiden her stooles, and maden hem whijte in blood of þe lomb.
- xv Perfore þei ben before þe trone of God, and seruen to him day and niȝt, in his temple. And he þat sittip in trone, dwelliþ on hem.
- xvi Þei shulen no more hungrē, and þirste, neþer sunne þhal falle on hem, neþer ony heete.
- xvii For þe lomb, þat is in þe mydle of þe trone, þhal gouerne hem, and þhal leede 'hem forþ to þe wellis of watriſ of lijf; and God þhal wipe awey ech teer fro 'þe iȝen of hem.

Capitulum VIII.

- i And whan he hadde openid þe feuenþe feel, silence is maad in heuene, as 'half an hour.
- ii And I siȝe feuen aungels stondinge in þe siȝt of God, and feuen trumpes be ȝouun to hem.
- iii And anoþer aungel cam, and stode before þe auter, hauynge a golden censer; and many encences ben ȝouen to him, þat he shulde ȝiue of þe preyers of alle feyntis vpon þe golden auter, þat is before þe trone.
- iv And þe smoke of encensis of þe preyers of halewis stiȝede vp of þe aungelis hond before God.
- v And þe aungel toke þe censer, and fillide it of þe fijr of þe auter, and sente it in to erþe. And þundres, and voyces, and leytinges ben maad, and greet erþe mouyng.
- vi And þe feuene aungelis, þat hadden feuen trumpes, maden hem redy, þat þei shulden syng in trumpe.
- vii And þe first aungel song in trumpe; and hayl is maad, and fijr mengid to gydere 'in blood; and it is fent in to erþe. And þe þridde paart of erþe is brent, and þe þridde paart of trees is brent, and al green 'hay, or gras, is brent.
- viii And þe secunde aungel song in trumpe; and as a greet hil brennyng wiþ fijr is sent in to þe se; and þe þridde part of þe se is maad blood,
- ix And þe þridde part of creatures is deed, þat hadden soules, 'or lijfes, in þe se, and þe þridde paart of shippis perschide.
- x And þe þridde aungel song in trumpe; and a great sterre brennyng as a litel brond, fel fro heuen; and it fel in to þe þridde part of floodis, and in to wellis of watriſ.
- xi And þe name of þe sterre is seid Wermode. And þe þridde part of watriſ is maad in to wermode; and many men ben deed of þe watriſ, for 'þei ben made bitter.
- xii And þe fourþe aungel song in trumpe; and þe þridde paart of sunne is smytun, and þe þridde paart of þe moone, and þe þridde part of sterries, so þat þe þridde paart of hem was derkid, and þe þridde paart of dai shooone not, and also of niȝt.

xiii And I siȝe, and herde þe voys of an egle fleynge bi mydle heuen, seiynge wiþ greet voys, Wo! wo! wo! to 'þe dwellinge men in erþe, of oþere voycis of þre aungels, þat weren to fyngynge in trumpe.

Capitulum IX.

- i And þe fyueþe aungel song in trumpe; and I siȝe a sterre 'for to haue fallen doun fro heuen in to erþe; and þe keye of þe pitt of depnesse is ȝouun to him.
- ii And he openyde þe pitt of depnesse, and smoke 'of þe pitt stiȝede vp, as þe smoke of a greet fourneys; and þe sunne is derkid, and þe eyr, of þe smoke of þe pitt.
- iii And 'of þe smoke of þe pitt locustes wenten out in 'to þe erþe; and power is ȝouun to hem, as scorpiouns of erþe han power.
- iv And it is comaundid to hem, þat þei shulden not hirte hay 'of erþe, neþer al grene þing, neþer ech tree, but onely men, þat han not þe mark of God in her forhedis.
- v And it is ȝouun to hem, þat þei shulden not sle hem, but þat þei shulden be tourmentid fyue moneþes; and þe tormenting of hem, as þe tormentyng of a scorpioun, whan he smytiþ a man.
- vi And in þo daies men shulen seke deeþ, and þei shulen not fynde it; and þei shulen desijre for to die, and deeþ shal flee fro hem.
- vii And þe lijknesses of locustis lik to horsis made redy in to bateyle; and on þe heidis of hem as crownes lik to gold, and þe faces of hem as faces of men.
- viii And þei hadden heeres, 'as heeres of wymmen; and þe teeþ of hem were as þe teeþ of lyouns.
- ix And þei hadden haberious, as yren haberious, and þe voys of 'þe ilke wyngis as þe voys of chaaris of many horsis rennyng in to bateyl.
- x And þei hadden tayles lik of scorpiouns, and prickes weren in þe tayles of hem; and þe miȝt of hem for to noye men bi fyue moneþis.
- xi And þei hadden vpon hem a kyng, þe aungel of depnesse, to whom þe name bi Ebru, Labadon, forsoþe bi Greke, Appolian, and bi Latyn 'hauynge þe name Destrier.
- xii Oo woo passid, and lo! ȝit comen two wos.
- xiii Aftir þes þingis and þe sixt aungel song in trumpe; and I herde oo voys of foure corners of þe golden auter, þat is before þe iȝen of God,
- xiv seiynge to þe sixte aungel þat hadde a trumpe, Vnbynde foure aungels, þat ben bounde in þe greet flood Eufrates.
- xv And þe foure aungels ben vnbounde, þe whiche weren redy into hour, and day, and moneþe, and ȝeer, 'þat þei shulden flee þe þridde paart of men.

xvi And þe noumber of þe hooft of horsmen twenty þousynd siþis ten þousyndis. I herde þe noumber of
 hem.
 xvii And so I siȝe horses in vifioun; and þei þat saten on hem hadden fijry haberious, and iacynctines, and of brunstony. And þe heedis of þe horfis weren as heedis of lyouns; and `of þe mouþ of hem fijr comeþ forþ, and smoke, and brunston.
 xviii Of þese þre plagis, `or woundis, þe þridde paart of men is flayn, of fijr, and of smoke, and of brunston, þat camen out of þe mouþ of hem.
 xix Soþeli þe power of horfis is in þe mouþ of hem, and in þe taylis of hem; forwhi þe tailis of hem lijk to serpentes, hauynge heedes, and in hem þei noyen.
 xx And þe toþir men, þat ben not flayn in þes plagis, neper diden penaunce of þe werkis of her hondis, þat þei worshipiden not deuels, and simulacres golden, silueren, and brasen, and stoonen, and treenen, þe whiche neþer mowen see, neþer heere, neþer wandre; xxi and diden not penaunce of her manleyngis, neþer of her venemyngis, neþer of her fornycacioun, neþer of her þeftis.

Capitulum X.

i And I siȝe an oþer strong aungel comynge doun fro heuen, couerid, `or cloþid, wiþ a cloude, and þe raynbowe in his heed; and þe face of him was as sunne, and þe feet of him as a pyler of fijr.
 ii And he hadde in his hond a litel book openyd; and he putte his riȝt foot on þe se, forsoþe his lift on þe erþe.
 iii And he crieðe wiþ greet voys, as a lyoun whan he rorip; and whan he hadde cried, feuene þundres spaken her voices.
 iv And whan þe feuen þundres hadden spoke her voyces, I was to writynge. And I herde a voys fro heuen, seiyng, `Signe þou, `or marke, what þinges þe feuen þundres spaken, and nyle þou write hem.
 v And þe aungel whom I siȝe stondinge aboue þe se, and aboue þe erþe, liftide vp his hond to heuen, vi and swoor bi þe lyuynge in to worldlis of worldlis, þat maad of nouȝt heuen, and þo þinges þat ben in it, and þe erþe, and þo þinges þat ben in it, and þe se, and þo þinges þat ben in it, for time shal no more be.
 vii But in þe dayes of þe voyce of þe feuenþe aungel, whan he shal bigynne for to syng in trumpe, þe mysterie of God shal be endid, as he euangelizide bi his seruauntis prophetis.
 viii And I herde a voys fro heuen eftsoone spekinge wiþ me, and seiyng, Go þou, and take þe book openyd, of þe hond of þe aungel stondinge aboue þe se, and on þe lond.
 ix And I wente to þe aungel, seiyng to him, þat he shulde ȝiue to me þe book. And he feide to me, Take þe book, and deuoure it; and it shal make þi wombe for to be bittir, but in þi mouþ it shal be swete `as hony.

x And I toke þe book of þe aungels hond, and deuouride it, and it was in my mouþ as swete honey; and whan I hadde deuourid it, my wombe was bittir.
 xi And he feide to me, It bihoueþ þee eftsoone for to prophecie to heben men, and to puplis, and langagis, and to many kingis.

Capitulum XI.

i And a `mefure lijk to a ȝerde is ȝouun to me, and it is seid to me, Rise þou, and mete þe temple of God, and þe auter, and men worshipinge in it.
 ii Forsoþe caste out þe porche, þat is wiþ out forþe þe temple, and mete it not; for it is ȝouun to heben men, and þei shulen defoule þe holy citee bi fourty moneþis and two.
 iii And I shal ȝiue to my two witnesses, and þei shulen prophecie a þousynd dayes two hundred and sixty, þei cloþid wiþ fackis.
 iv Þes ben two olyues, and two candelstickes, `ȝeuynge liȝt, þei stondinge in þe liȝt of þe Lord of erþe.
 v And if ony man `shal wolen for to anoȝe hem, fijr shal go out of þe mouþ of hem, and shal deuoure her enemyes. And if ony `shal wolen for to hirte hem, þus it bihoueþ him for to be flayn.
 vi Þes han power `of shittinge heuen, þat it rayne not in þe dayes of her prophecie; and þei han power on watris, `of turnyng hem in to blood; and for to smyte þe erþe wiþ `al plage, and hou ofte euer þei `shulen wole.
 vii And whan þei shulen ende her witnesſing, þe beest þat stiȝeþ vp þe of depnelliȝe, shal make bateyl aȝens hem, and shal ouercome hem, and shal flee hem.
 viii And þe bodies of hem shulen ligge in þe streetis of þe grete citee, þat is clepid goostly Sodom, and Egyp̄t, where þe Lord of hem was crucified.
 ix And þei shulen see of lynagis, and of puplis, and of tungis, and heben men, þe bodies of hem bi þre dayes and an half; and `þe bodies of hem shulen not be suffrid for to be put in biriels.
 x And men inhabitinge þe erþe shulen haue ioye vpon hem; and þei shulen make myry, and sende ȝiftis to gydere, for þes two prophets tourmentiden hem þat dwellen on erþe.
 xi And aftir þre daies and an half, þe spirit of `lijf of God entride in to hem; and þei stoden on her feet, and greet drede fel on hem þat ȝiȝen hem.
 xii And þei herden a greet voys fro heuen, seiyng to hem, Stiȝe vp hidir. And þei stiȝeden in to heuen in a cloude, and þe enemyes of hem ȝiȝen hem.
 xiii And in þat hour a greet erþe mouyng is maad, and þe tenþe paart of þe citee fel; and `þer ben flayn in þe erþe mouyng þe `names of men feuen þousynd; and `þe toþer ben fent in drede, and ȝauen glorie to God of heuen.

xivii Pe secounde wente, and lo! þe þridde woo shal come foone.
 xv And þe seuenþe aungel song in trumpe, and greete voices ben maad in heuen, and seiyng, þe reume of þis world is maad 'oure Lordis, and of Cristis, his sone; and þei shulen regne in to worldlis of worldlis. Amen.
 xvi And þe foure and twenty senyours, 'or elder men, þat sitten in her seetes in þe siȝt of þe Lord, fallen 'in to her facis, and worchipiden God, seiyng, xvii We don þankynge to þee, Lord God almyȝty, which art, and which was, and which art to comynge; which haft takun þi greet vertu, and haft regned.
 xviii And folkes ben wroþe, and þi wraþe cam, and tyme of deede men for to be demyd, and for to ȝelde hijre to þi seruauntis, and prophetis, and halewis, and dredinge þi name, to smale and litle, and 'of destriyng hem þat corrumpeden þe erþe.
 xix And þe temple of God in heuene is openyd, and þe ark of his testament is seyn in his temple; and leytingis ben maad, and voyces, and erþe mouyng, and greet hayl.

Capitulum XII.

i And a greet token apperide in heuene; a womman 'couerid, or clopid, wiþ þe funne, and þe moone vndir hir feet, and in þe heed of hir a coroun of twelue sterries.
 ii And she hauyng in wombe, and she 'criede, beringe chijld, and is tourmentid, þat she bere chijld.
 iii And an oþer tokene is seyn in heuen; and lo! a greet reed dragoun, hauyng seuen heedes, and ten hornes, and in þe heedis of him seuen diademis.
 ivi And þe tayl of him drewȝ þe þridde paart of sterres of heuene, and sente hem in to erþe. And þe dragoun stood bifore þe womman, þat was to beringe chijld, þat whan she hadde born chijld, he shulde deuoure hir sone.
 v And she chijldide a 'sone male, þat was to reulinge alle folkes in an yren ȝerd; and hir sone is rauyschid to God, and to his trone.
 vi And þe womman fleȝ in to wildirnesse, where sche hab a place redy of God, þat she feede hir þere a poufynd dayes two hundrid and sixty.
 vii And a greet bateyl is maad in heuen, and Mychael and his aungels fauȝten wiþ þe dragoun. And þe dragoun fauȝt, and his aungels; viii and þei hadden not miȝt, neþer þe place of hem is founden more in heuen.
 ix And 'þe þilke dragoun is cast doun, þe greet olde serpent, þat is clepid þe Deuel, and Sathanas, þat deceyueþ al þe world; is cast out in to erþe, and his aungels ben sent wiþ him.
 x And I herde a greet voys in heuen, seiyng, Now is maad helþe, and vertu, and kingdom of oure God, and þe power of his Crist; for þe accuser of oure briþeren is cast doun, which accusede hem bifore þe siȝt of oure God day and niȝt.

 xi And þei ouercamen him for þe blood of þe lomb, and for þe word of his witnesſinge; and þei loueden not her soules, 'or lijſes, vnto deeþ.
 xii Perfore 'glad ȝe heuens, and ȝe þat dwellen in hem. Wo to þe erþe, and se; for þe fend cam doun 'to ȝou, hauyng greet wraþþe, witinge for he haþ litel tyme.
 xiii And aftir þat þe dragoun siȝe, for he was cast doun in to erþe, he pursuede þe womman, þat chijdide a male sone.
 xivii And two wynges of a greet egle ben ȝouun to 'þe womman, þat she shulde flee in to desert, in to hir place, where she is fed bi tyme, and tymes, and þe half of tyme, fro þe face of þe serpent.
 xv And þe serpent sente out of his mouþ aftir þe womman watir as flood, þat he shulde make hir for to be drawnen of þe flood.
 xvi And þe erþe helpide þe womman, and þe erþe openyde his mouþ, and soupide þe flood, þat þe dragoun sente of his mouþ.
 xvii And þe dragoun is wroþ to þe womman, and he wente for to make bateyl wiþ obere of hir seed, þat kepen þe maundementes of God, and han þe witnesſing of Jhesu Crist.

Capitulum XIII.

i And he stood on þe grauel of þe see. And I siȝe a beeþ stiȝinge vp of þe se, hauyng seuen heedes, and ten hornes; and on his hornes ten dyademes, and on his heedes þe names of blasfemye.
 ii And þe beeþ, whom I siȝe, was lijk to a pard, 'or a lopard, and his feet as þe feet of a bere, and his mouþ as þe mouþ of a lyoun; and þe dragoun ȝaf to 'þe ilke 'his vertu, and greet power.
 iii And I siȝe oon of his heedis, as flayn in to deeþ; and þe wounde of his deeþ is curid. And al erþe wondride aftir þe beeþ.
 ivii And þei worshipiden þe dragoun, þat ȝaf power to þe beeþ; and þei worshipiden þe beeþ, seiyng, Who lijk to þe beeþ, and who shal mowe fiȝte wiþ it?
 v And a mouþ spekinge greet þinges, and blasfemyes, is ȝouun to it; and power is ȝouun to it, for to do in two and fourty moneþis.
 vi And it openyde his mouþ in to blasfemyes to God, for to blasfeme his name, and his tabernacle, and hem þat dwellen in heuen.
 vii And it is ȝouun to hym for to make bateyl wiþ seytis, and for to ouercome hem; and power is ȝouun to him, in to al lynage, and puple, and tunge, and folk.
 viii And alle men worshipiden it, þat dwellen in erþe, whois names ben not writhen in þe book of liȝt of þe lomb, þat is flayn fro þe bigynnyng of þe world.
 ix If ony man haþ eres, 'of heringe, here he.

x He þat `shal lede in to caytisfe, shal go in to caytisfe; he þat `shal fleeþ in swerd, it bihouþ him for to be flayn in swerd. Þis is þe pacience and feiþ of seytis.
 xi And I siȝe an oþer beest stiȝing vp fro þe erþe, and hadde two hornes, lijk þe lomb; and it spak as þe dragoun, xii and dide al þe power of þe former beest, in his siȝt. And it made þe erþe, and men dwellinge in it, for to worshipe þe first beest, whois plage of deep is curid.
 xiii And it dide grete signes, þat also it made fijr for to come doun fro heuen in to erþe, in þe siȝt of alle men;
 xiv and deceyueþ men, dwellinge in erþe, for signes `þe whiche ben ȝouun to it for to do in þe siȝt of þe beest; seiyng to men dwellinge in erþe, þat þei make an ymage of þe beest, þat haþ þe wounde of swerd, and lyued.
 xv And it is ȝouun to him, þat he shulde ȝiue a spirit to þe ymage of þe beest, and þe ymage of þe beest speke. And he shal make, þat who euer `hal not honoure þe ymage of þe beest, be flayn.
 xvi And he shal make alle, smale and greate, and riche and pore, and fre men and seruautes, for to haue a caracter in þe riȝt hond, or in her forhedis; xvii þat no man may bye, or fille, no but þei þat han þe character, `or lettre, or þe name, or þe noumbre of his name.
 xviii Heere is wiðdom; he þat haþ vndirstanding, acounte þe noumbre of þe beest; soþeli þe noumbre of man is, and his noumbre is sixe hundrid sixty and sixe.

Capitulum XIII.

i And I siȝe, and lo! þe lomb stood on þe mount Syon, and wiþ hym an hundrid and foure and fourty þousynd, hauynge his name, and þe name of his fadir writun in her forhedis.
 ii And I herde a voys fro heuen, as þe voys of many watri, and as þe voys of greet þundre; and þe voys which I herde, `as of harpers harpinge in her harpis.
 iii And þei fungen as a newe song bifore þe feete of God, and bifore þe foure beestes, and þe `eldre men. And no man miȝte seie þe song, no but þei an hundrid and foure and fourty þousynd, þat ben bouȝt of þe erþe.
 iv Pes it ben, þat ben not defoulid wiþ wymmen; soþeli þei ben virgyns. Pes suen þe lomb, whidir euer he shal go; þes ben bouȝt of alle, primycies, `or firste fruytis, to God, and to þe lomb;
 v and in þe mouȝt of hem lesyng is not found; soþeli þei ben wiþ outen wem bifore þe troone of God.
 vi And I siȝe an oþer aungel, fleynge bi mydle heuen, hauynge þe euerlasting gospel, þat he shulde euangelize to men fittyng on erþe, and on al folk, and lynage, and langage, and puple;
 vii seiyng wiþ greet voys, Drede ȝe þe Lord, and ȝiue ȝe to him honour, for þe hour of his doom comeþ; and worshipe ȝe him, þat made heuen and erþe, þe se, and alle þinges þat ben in hem, and þe welles of watri.

 viii And an oþer aungel suede, seiyng, `þe ilke greet citee Babilon `felde, felde, `þe which ȝaf drinke to alle folkis of þe wijn of wraþþe of hir fornicacioun.
 ix And þe pridde aungel suede hem, seiyng wiþ greet voys, If ony man `shal worshipe þe beefte, and þe ymage of it, and take þe tokne in his forhed, or `in his hond, x and þis shal drinke of þe wijn of Goddis wraþ, þat is meynd wiþ clear wijn in þe cuppe of his wraþþe, and shal be tourmentid wiþ fijr and brunston, in þe siȝt of holy aungelis, and bifore þe siȝt of þe lomb.
 xi And þe smoke of her tormentis shal stiȝe vp in to worldlis of worldlis; neþer þei han reste day and niȝt, `þe whiche worshipiden þe beefte, and his ymage, and if ony man toke þe carecte of his name.
 xii Þis is þe pacience of seytis, and whiche kepen þe maumentis of him, and þe feiþ of Jhesu.
 xiii And I herde a voys fro heuen, seiyng to me, Wrijte þou, Bleſſid þe deede men, þat dien in þe Lord; fro hennus forþ now þe spirit feiþ, þat þei reste of her traueilis; forþoþ þe werkes of hem suen hem.
 xiv And I siȝe, and lo! a whijt cloude, and aboue þe cloude a sittinge, lijk to þe lone of man, hauynge in his heed a golden coroun, and in his hond a sharp fikel.
 xv And an oþer aungel wente out of þe temple, criyng wiþ greet voys to þe fittyng vpon þe cloude, Sende þi fikel, and repe, for hour comeþ, þat it be ropen; for þe rijpe corn of erþe drieðe. xvi And he þat sat vpon þe cloude, sente his fikel in to erþe, and repide `in to erþe.
 xvii And an oþer aungel wente out of þe temple, þat is in heuen, `hauynge and he a sharp fikel.
 xviii And an oþer aungel wente out of þe auter, þat hadde power on fijr; and he criede wiþ greet voys to him þat hadde a sharp fikel, seiyng, Sende þi sharp fikel, and kutte of þe cluftres of þe vijnȝerd of erþe, for þe grapes of it ben rijpe.
 xix And þe aungel sente his fikel in to þe erþe, and kutte of þe vijnȝerd of erþe, and sente in to þe greet lake of Goddis wraþþe.
 xx And þe lake is defoulid wiþ oute þe citee, and þe blood wente out of þe lake `vn to þe `brijdels of horfis, bi furlonges a þousynd and two hundrid.

Capitulum XV.

i And I siȝe an oþer tokne in heuen, greet and wondirful; feuen aungels hauynge feuen þe lafte plages, for þe wraþ of God is endid in hem.
 ii And I siȝe as a glasen se mengid wiþ fijr, and hem þat ouercamen þe beefte, and his ymage, and þe noumbre of his name, stondinge aboue þe glasen se, hauynge þe harpes of God;

iii and syngynge þe song of Moyses, seruaunt of God, and þe song of þe lomb, seiyng, Greet and wondirful ben þi werkes, Lord God almiȝty; þi weies ben iust and trewe, Lord, kyng of worldlis.

iv Lord, who shal not drede þee, and magnifie þi name? for þou aloone art piteous, 'or merciful; for alle folkes shulen come, and shulen worshipe in þi siȝt, for þi domes ben opun.

v And aftir þes þingis I siȝe, and lo! þe temple of þe tabernacle of witneſſinge in heuen is openyd; vi and seuene aungels hauyng þe seuene plagues, wenten out of þe temple, clopid wiþ a stoon cleene and whijt, and bifore gyrd wiþ golden gyrdlis aboute þe brestis.

vii And oon of þe foure beestis ȝaf to þe seuene aungels seuene golden violes, ful of þe wrappes of God, lyuyng in to worldlis of worldlis.

viii And þe temple 'is fulfillid wiþ smoke of þe mageste of God, and of þe vertu of him; and no man miȝte entre in to þe temple, til þe seuene plagues of þe seuene aungels weren endid.

Capitulum XVI.

i And I herde a greet voys fro heuen, seiyng to þe seuene aungelis, 'Go ȝe, and 'schede ȝe out þe seuene violes of Goddis wrapp in to erþe.

ii And þe first aungel wente, and shedde out his viole in to erþe; and a wounde feers and worst is maad 'in alle þat hadden þe carecte, 'or marke, of þe beest, and 'in to hem þat worschipiden þe beest, and his ymage.

iii And þe secounde aungel shedde out his viole in to þe fe, and blood is maad, as of deed þing; and ech 'soule, 'or lijf, lyuyng is deed in þe fe.

iv And þe bridde shedde out his viole on þe floodes, and on welles of watri, blood is maad.

v And I herde þe aungel 'of watirs seiyng, Just art þou, Lord, þat art, and þat was holy, þat demyft þes þingis; vi for þei shdden out þe blood of halewis and prophetis, and þou haft ȝouun hem blood for to drinke; forsoþe þei ben worþi.

vii And I herde an oþer aungel seiyng, ȝhe! Lord God almiȝty, trewe and iust þi domes.

viii And þe fourþe aungel shedde out his viol in to þe sunne, and it is ȝouun to him for to tourmente men wiþ heete and fijr.

ix And men swayleden wiþ greet heete, and blasfemeden þe name of God hauyng power on þes plages, neþer þei diden penaunce, þat þei shulden ȝiue glory to him.

x And þe fyueþe aungel shedde out his viole on þe feete of þe beest, and his kyngdom is maad derk; and þei eeten to gydere her tungen for forowe, xi and þei blasfemeden God of heuen, for forowis and her woundis; and þei diden not penaunce of her werkis.

xii And þe sixte aungel shedde out his viole in 'þe ilke greet flood Eufrates, and drieðe þe watir of it, þat weie were rediede to kyngis fro þe sunne risyng.

xiii And I siȝe þre vnclene spirites 'in to manere of froggis for to go out of þe mouþ of þe dragoun, and of þe mouþ of þe beest, and of þe mouþ of þe false prophet.

xiv Sopeli 'þei ben spirites of deuelis, makinge signes, and þei gon forþ to kyngis of al erþe, for to gedere hem in to bateyle, to þe greet dai of almiȝti God.

xv Lo! I come, as a niȝt þeef. Bleſſid he þat wakiþ, and kepiþ his clothes, þat he wandre not nakid, and þei seen his filþed.

xvi And he gederide hem in to a place, þat is clepid in Ebru Hermagedon.

xvii And þe seueneþe aungel shedde out his viole in to þe eyr, and a greet voys wente out of heuen fro þe trone, seiyng, It is don.

xviii And leytinges ben maad, and voyces, and þundres; and greet erþe mouyng is maad, which manere neuere was, sif men weren vpon erþe, sich erþe mouyng so greet.

xix And þe greet citee 'is brokun in to þre parties, and þe citees of heþene men fallen doun; and greet Babilon cam in to mynde bifore God, for to ȝiue to it þe cuppe of wijn of indignacioun of his wrapp.

xx And ech iȝle fley awey, and hilles ben not founde.

xxi And greet hayl as a talent cam doun fro heuen in to men; and men blasfemeden God, for þe plague of hayl, for it is maad wondirly greet.

Capitulum XVII.

i And oon of þe seuene aungels cam, þat hadden seuene violes, and spake wiþ me, seiyng, Come þou, I shal shewe to þee þe dampnacioun of þe greet hoore, þat sittip on many watri, ii wiþ which kynges of erþe diden fornycacioun; and þei þat dwellen in erþe ben ful drunkun of þe wijn of hir leccherie.

iii And he toke 'me awey in to desert in spirit. And I siȝe a womman sittynge on a reed beest, ful of namys of blasfemye, hauyng seuene heedes, and ten hornes.

iv And þe womman was enuyround wiþ purpur, and coccyn, 'þat is, reed, and engoldid wiþ gold, and wiþ precious stoon, and peerlis, hauyng a golden cuppe in hir hond, ful of abhomynaciouns and vnclenesse of hir fornycacioun.

v And in þe forhed of hir a name writun, Mysterie, Babilon þe greet, modir of fornycaciouns, and of abhomynaciouns of erþe.

vi And I siȝe a womman drunken of þe blood of seyntis, and of þe blood of martris of Jhesu. And whan I siȝe hir, I wondride wiþ greet wondringe.

vii And þe aungel seide to me, Whi wondrist þou? I shal seie to þee þe sacrament of þe womman, and of þe beest þat berip hir, þat haþ feuen heedes and ten hornes.

viii þe beeſte whom þou ſiȝe, was, and is not; and ſhe 'is to ſtiȝing vp fro depneſſe, and the ſhal go in to periſching. And men dwelliſe in erþe ſhulen wonde, whois names ben not write in þe book of liſt fro makynge of þe world, ſeeynge þe beeſt, þat was, and is not.

ix And þis is witt, þat haþ wiſdom. þe feuen heedes ben feuen hilles, on whom þe womman ſittiþ, x and 'ben feuen kiŋgiſ. Fyue han fallen doun, oon is, and an oþer comeþ not ȝit. And whan he ſhal come, it bihoueþ him for to dwelle a ſhort tyme.

xi And þe beeſt þat was, and is not, and ſhe is þe eiȝtþe, and is of þe feuen, and ſhal go in to periſching.

xii And þe ten hornes whom þou haſt ſeyn, ben ten kynges, þat ȝit han not takun kiŋdom; but þei ſhulen take power as kynges, oon hour aftir þe beeſt.

xiii þes han oo counſeyl, and ſhulen bitake her vertu and power to þe beeſt.

xiv þes ſhulen fiȝte wiþ þe lomb, and þe lomb ſhal ouercome hem; for he is Lord of lordis, and kyng of kyngis; and þei þat ben wiþ hym clepid, chosen, and feiþful.

xv And he ſeyde to me, þe watris þat þou haſt ſeyn, where þe hoore ſittiþ, ben puplis, folkes, and tungen.

xvi And þe ten hornes þat þou haſt ſeyn in þe beeſt, þes ſhulen make hir desolat, 'or diſcoumfortid, and nakid, and ſhulen ete þe fleſch of hir, and ſhulen brenne 'hir to gydere wiþ fijr.

xvii Soþeli God ȝaf 'in to þe hertiſ of hem, þat þei do þat þat is plefaunt to hym, þat þei ȝiue hir kyngdom to þe beeſt, til þe wordis of God be endid.

xviii And þe womman whom þou haſt ſeyn, is þe greet citee, þat haþ kyngdom vpon kynges of erþe.

Capitulum XVIII.

i And aftir þeſe þinges I ſiȝe an oþer aungel comyng doun fro heuen, hauynge greet power; and þe erþe is liȝted of his glorie;

ii 'and he criyng wiþ ſtrong vois, ſeiyng, Greet Babilon fel doun, 'fel doun, and is maad þe habitacioun of deuelis, and þe keping of ech vnclene ſpirit, and þe keping of ech vnclene foul, and haatful.

iii For alle folkis drunken of þe wrappe of þe fornicacioun of hir, and kynges of erþe, and marchaunteſ of erþe, diden fornycacioun wiþ hir; and þei ben maad riche of þe vertu of þe deliciſ of hir.

iv And Y herde an oþer voys of heuen, ſeiyng, My puple, go ȝe out 'of it, and be ȝe not parcerens of þe trespassis of it, and ȝe ſhulen not receyue of þe plagis of it.

v For þe synnes of it camen 'vn to heuen, and þe Lord hadde mynde of þe wickidneſſis of it.

vi ȝelde ȝe to it, as and ſhe ȝeldide to ȝou; and double ȝe double þinges, aftir hir werkis; in þe drinke þat ſhe medlide to ȝou, menge ȝe double to hir.

vii Hou miche ſhe glorifiede hir ſilf, and was in delijcis, ſo miche tourment ȝiue ȝe to hir, and wepyng; for 'in hir herte ſhe feip, I ſitte a queen, and I am not a widewe, and I ſhal not fee wepyng.

viii And þerfore in oo day hir plages ſhulen come, deeþ, and moornynge, and hunger; and the ſhal be brent in fijr, for God is strong, þat ſhal deme hir.

ix And þe kiŋges of erþe ſhulen wepe, and weyle hem on hir, þe whiche diden fornycacioun wiþ hir, and lyueden in deliciſ, whan þei ſhulen ſe þe ſmoke of brennyng of hir;

x ſtondinge fer, for drede of tourmentis of hir, ſeiyng, Wo! wo! wo! 'þe ilke greet citee Babilon, and 'þe ilke ſtronge citee; for in oon hour þi doom comeþ.

xi And marchaunteſ of erþe ſhulen wepe 'vpon hir, and moorne, for no man ſhal bye more þe marchaundifeſ of hem;

xii þe marchaundifeſ of gold, and ſiluer, and precious ſtoon, and of margarite, 'or peerl, and bijce, and purpur, and ſilk, and coccyng, and ech tre thyme, and alle veſſels of yuer, and alle veſſels of precious ſtoon, and of bras, and yren, and marble, and canel, xiii and amome, 'þat is, a fwete ſaueringe tree, and of odoramentis, and oyementis, and encenſe, and of wijn, and oyle, and floure, and wheete, and of iumentis, 'or werk beeſtes, and ſheep, and of horses, and cartes, and of ſerauantis, and of ſoulis, 'or liſfis, of men.

xiv And þin apples, þe deſiſres of þi liſf, wenten awey fro þee, and alle fatte þinges, and ful cleere perifchiden fro þee.

xv And marchaunteſ of þes men ſhulen no more fynde 'þo þinges. þei þat ben maad riche of hir, ſhulen ſtonde fer, for drede of tourmentis of hir, wepinge, and moornynge, xvi and ſeiyng, Wo! wo! 'þe ilke greet citee, þat was cloþid wiþ bijce, and purpur, and cocke, and was goldid wiþ gold, and precious ſtoon, and margaritis, xvii for in oon hour ſo many richelliſ ben deſtitute. And ech gouernour, and alle þat ſhippen in to place, and mariners, and þat werchen in þe ſe, ſtoden fer, xviii and crieden, ſeiyng þe place of þe brennyng of hir, ſeiyng, What lijk to þis greet citee?

xix And þei ſenten poudir vpon her heedes, and crieden, wepinge, and moornynge, and ſeiyng, Wo! wo! 'þe ilke grete citee, in whom alle þat han ſhippes in þe ſee ben maad riche of priſis of it; for in oon our it is deſolate.

xx Heuen, and holy aþoþles, 'and prophetes, 'glade ȝe on it, for God haþ demyd ȝoure doom of it.

xi And oo ſtronge aungel toke vp a ſtoon, as a greet mylne ſtoon, and ſente in to þe ſe, ſeiyng, In þis bire

'þe ilke greet citee Babilon shal be sent, and now 'ouer shal not be founde.

xxii And þe voys of harpers, and of men of musike, and syngynge wiþ pijpe and trumpe, shal no more be herd in it. And ech 'crafty man, and ech craft, shal not be foundun in it. And þe voys of mylne stoon shal no more be herd in þee, xxiii and þe liȝt of lanterne shal no more shijne to þee, and þe voys of þe hulbonde and of wif shal 'not ȝit more be herd in þee; for þi marchautes weren princes of erþe. For in þi venemous dedis alle folkes erreden.

xxiv And þe blood of prophetis and seyntis is founden in it, and of alle men þat ben slayn in erþe.

Capitulum XIX.

i Aftr þes binges I herde as a greet voys of many trumpis in heuen, feiynge, Alleluya; heriynge, and glory, and vertu is to oure God;

ii for trewe and iust ben þe domes of him, þe whiche demeden of þe greet hoore, þat corrumpide þe erþe in hir leccherie, and demyde, 'or vengide, þe blood of his seruauntis, of þe hondis of hir.

iii And eft þei seiden, Alleluya, 'þat is, Herie ȝe þe Lord. And þe smoke of it stiȝip vp, in to worldlis of worldlis.

iv And þe foure and twenty 'elder men and þe foure beftis fallen doun, and worshipiden God sittynge vpon trone, feiynge, Amen, Alleluya.

v And a voys wente out of þe trone, feiynge, To oure God, 'seie ȝe, alle þe seruauntis of him, heriynge, and ȝe þat dreden God, smale and grete.

vi And Y herde a voys of a greet trumpe, and as þe voys of grete þundris, feiynge, Alleluya; for oure God almiȝty haþ regnyd.

vii Enioye we, and 'glade we wiþ out forþe, and ȝiue we glory to him; for þe weddinges of þe lombe camen, and þe wif of him made redy hir silf.

viii And it is ȝouun to hir, þat she couere hir wiþ whijte bijce shijnyng; forsoþe bijcen ben þe iustifynges of seyntis.

ix And he seide to me, Wrijte þou, Bleſſid þei, þat ben clepid to þe soper of weddingis of þe lomb. And he seide to me, þes wordis of God ben trewe.

x And I fel doun bifore his feet, 'þat I shulde worshipe him. And he seide to me, See, þat þou do not; I am þin euen seruaunt, and of þi briþeren, hauynge þe witnessyng of Jhesu; worshipe þou God. Forsoþe þe witnessyng of Jhesu is spirit of profecie.

xi And I siȝe heuen openyd, and lo! a whijt hors, and he þat sat vpon hym was clepid Feiȝful and soþefast; and wiþ riȝtwisnelle he demiþ, and fiȝtiþ.

xii Forsoþe 'þe iȝen of him as flaume of fijr, and in his heed many diademes; hauynge a name writun, which no man knew, no but he.

xiii And he was cloþid in a cloþ spreyned wiþ blood; and þe name of hym was clepid þe word of God.

xiv And þe hooftes, 'or companyes, þat ben in heuen, sueden him in whijte horsis, cloþid wiþ bissyn, whijte and cleene.

xv And a swerd sharp on ech sijde cam forþ of his mouþ, þat in it he smyte folkes; and he shal reule hem in an yren ȝerde. And he trediþ, 'or defoulid, þe pressour of wijn of woodnesse of wrappe of almiȝty God.

xvi And he haþ writhen in his cloþ, and hemme, Kyng of kyngis and Lord of lordis.

xvii And I siȝe an aungel, stondinge in þe funne; and he criede wiþ greet voys, feiynge to alle briddis, þat flewen bi þe mydle of heuen, 'Come ȝe, and 'be ȝe gederid 'to gydere to þe greet soper of God, xviii þat ȝe ete þe flesches of kingis, and þe flesches of tribunys, and þe flesches of stronge, and flesches of horsis, and of þe sittinge on hem, and þe flesches of alle fre men and seruauntis, and of smale and of greeete.

xix And I siȝe þe beeft, and kingis of erþe, and þe hooftes of hem gederid, to make bateyle wiþ him, þat sat in þe hors, and wiþ his hoof.

xx And þe beeft is cauȝt, and wiþ hir þe fals prophet, þat made signes bifor hir; in whiche he deceyued hem þat token þe carect of þe beeft, and þat worshipeden 'þe ymage of it. Pes two ben sent quyke in to þe pool of fijr, brennyng in brunston.

xi And þe opere ben slayn in swerd of þe sittynge on þe hors, þat comeþ 'forþ of þe mouþ of him; and alle briddis 'ben fulfillid wiþ þe fleschis of hem.

Capitulum XX.

i And I siȝe an aungel comynge doun fro heuene, hauynge þe keye of depnelle, and a greet cheyne in his hond.

ii And he cauȝte þe dragoun, þe olde serpent, þat is þe deuel and Sathanas; and he boonde him bi a þoufynd ȝeiris.

iii And he fente him in to depnelle, and closide, and signede, 'or felide, on him, þat he deceyue no more folkes, til a þoufynd ȝeiris be fulfillid. After þes binges it bihouȝt him for to be vnbounde a litel tyme.

iv And I siȝe seetes, and þei saten on hem, and doom is ȝouun to hem. And þe soules of 'bihedid men for þe witnessyng of Jhesu, and for þe word of God, and hem þat worschepiden not þe beeft, neþer þe ymage of it, neþer token þe carect of it in her forhedis, or in her hondis. And þei lyueden, and regneden 'wiþ Crist a þoufynd ȝeir.

v Þe opere of deede men lyueden not, til a þoufynd ȝeeres be endid. Pis is þe first aȝen risyng.

vi Bleſſid and holy he, þat haþ paart in þe firſt aȝen risyng. In þes men þe fecounde deeȝ haþ not power; but þei shulen be prestis of God, and of Crist, and þei shulen regne wiþ him a þoufynd ȝeiris.

vii And whan a þoufynd ȝeeres shulen be endid, Sathanas shal be vnbounde of his prisoun; viii and he shal go out, and he shal deceyue folkes, þat ben on foure corners of þe erþe, Gog and Magog. And he shal gedere hem in to bateyl, whois noumbe is as þe grauel of þe se.
ix And þei stiȝeden vp, on þe broodnesse of erþe, and enuyrounden þe castels of seytis, and þe loued citee. And fijr cam doun of God fro heuen, and deuourede hem.
x And þe deuel, þat deceyued hem, is sent in to þe pool of fijr and brunston, where and þe beeſt and false prophetes shulen be tourmentid day and niȝt, in to worldlis of worldlis. Amen.
xi And I ſiȝe a greet white trone, and þe ſittynge on it, fro whois ſiȝt erþe fleiȝ and heuen; and place is not founden of hem.
xii And I ſiȝe deede men, greete and ſmale, ſtondinge in þe ſiȝt of þe trone; and bookeſ ben openyd; and an oþir book is openyd, þat is þe book of liȝf; and deede men ben demyd of þes þingis þat weren write in þe bookis, aftir þe werkis of hem.
xiii And þe fe ȝaf his deede men, þat weren in it; and deeþ and helle ȝauen her deede men, þat weren in hem. And it is demyd of alle, vp þe werkes of hem.
xiv And 'helle and deeþ ben ſent in to þe pool of fijr. Þis is þe ſecounde deeþ.
xv And he þat is not founde writun in þe book of liȝf, is ſent in to þe pool of fijr.

Capitulum XXI.

i And I ſiȝe newe heuen and newe erþe; forſoþe þe firſte heuen and þe firſte erþe wenten awey, and 'now is not þe fe.
ii And I Joon ſiȝe þe holy citee Jerufalem, newe, comynge doun fro heuen, 'of God, maad redy as a wif ȝourned to hir husbonde.
iii And I herde a greet voys of þe trone, ſeiyng, Lo! þe tabernacle of God wiþ men, and he shal dwelle wiþ hem; and þei shulen be his puple, and he God wiþ hem shal be her God.
iv And God shal wijpe awey ech teer fro iȝen of seytis; and deeþ shal no more be, neþer moornynge, neþer criyng, neþer forowe shal be ouer; þe whiche firſte þinges wenten awey.
v And he feide, þat sat in þe trone, Lo! I make alle þinges newe. And he feide to me, Wriȝte þou, for þes wordes ben mooft feiþful and trewe.
vi And he feide to me, It is don; I am alpha and oo, þe bigynnynge and ende. I shal ȝiue freely 'to þe þirstinge of þe welle of quyk watir.
vii He þat shal ouercome, shal weelde þes þinges; and I shal be God to him, and he shal be fone to me.

viii Forſoþe to proude men, and vnbileueful, and cursid, and manquellers, and fornicatours, and to men doyng venym, or fleynge men by venym, and worshipeſ of ydolis, and to alle liȝeris, þe paart of hem shal be in þe pool brennyng wiþ fijr and brunston, þat is þe ſecounde deeþ.
ix And one cam of þe ſeuен aungels, hauynge violes ful of ſeuen þe laſte plagis. And he ſpake wiþ me, ſeiyng, Come þou, I ſhal ſchewe to þee þe ſpouse, wiþ of þe lomb.
x And he toke me vp in ſpirit in to a greet hil and hiȝ; and he ſhewide to me þe holy citee Jerufalem, comynge doun fro heuene of God, xi hauynge þe cleerte of God; and þe liȝt of it liȝk to a precious ſtoon, as to þe ſtoon iaſpis, as cristal.
xii And it hadde a wal greet and hiȝ, hauynge twelue ȝates, and in þe ȝatis of it twelue aungels, and names writun in, þat ben þe names of þe twelue lynagis of þe ſones of Yrael;
xiii fro þe eeft þre ȝates, and fro þe norþ þre ȝates, and fro þe ſouþ þre ȝates, and fro þe west þre ȝates.
xiv And þe wal of þe citee hauynge twelue foundementes, and in hem þe names of þe twelue apoftlis, and of þe lomb.
xv And he þat ſpake wiþ me, hadde a golden meſure of a reed, þat he ſhulde mete þe citee, and þe ȝates of it, and þe wal.
xvi And þe citee is 'put in ſquare; and þe lengþe 'of it is fo miche, hou miche and þe breed. And he mat þe citee of þe reed, bi furlongis twelue þouſyndes. And þe hiȝþe, and lengþe and breed of it, ben euen.
xvii And he mat þe walles 'of it, of an hundrid and foure and fourty cubytis, bi meſure of man, þat is, of aungel.
xviii And þe bildenyng of þe wal was of ſtoon iaſpis. Soþeli þe citee it ſilf was of cleene gold, liȝk to cleene glas.
xix And þe foundementes of þe wal of þe citee ȝurned wiþ al precious ſtoon. þe firſt foundement, iaſpis; þe ſecounde, safirus; þe þridde, calcedonyus; þe fourþe, ſmaragdus;
xx þe fyueþe, fardonix; þe ſixte, fardius; þe ſeuenþe, crifolitus; þe eiȝþe, berillus; þe nynþe, topafius; þe tenþe, crisopassus; þe eleuenþe, iacinctus; þe twelueþe, ametistus.
xi And twelue ȝates twelue margarites ben, by ech; and eche 'ȝates weren of eche margaritis. And þe ſtretes of þe citee clene gold, as glas ful ſhijnyng.
xii And I ſiȝe no temple in it, forſoþe Lord God almiȝty is temple of it, 'and þe lomb.
xiii And þe citee haþ no neðe of funne, neþer moone, þat þei ſhijne in it; forwhi þe cleerte of God shal liȝtne it; and þe lomb is þe lantern of it.
xiv And folkes shulen walke in liȝt of it; and þe kinges of þe erþe shulen bringe to her glory and honour in to it.

- xxv And þe ȝates of it shulen not be closid bi daye; soþeli niȝt shal not be þere.
- xxvi And þei shulen bringe to þe glory and honour of folkis in to it.
- xxvii Neþir ony þing defoulid shal entre in to it, 'and doyng abhomynacioun and lesyng; no but þei þat ben writun in þe book of lijf of þe lomb.

Capitulum XXII.

- i And he shewide to me a flood of quyk watir, shinyng as cristal, comynge forþ of þe seete of God, and of þe lomb.
- ii In þe myddil of þe street of it, and on ech sijde of þe flood, þe tree of lijf, bringyng to twelue fruytes, 'bi eche moneþes ȝeldinge his fruyt; and þe leefes of þe tree to helpe of folkis.
- iii And ech curfid þing shal no more be; but þe feetes of God and of þe lomb shulen be in it. And þe feruauntis of him shulen serue to hym.
- iv And þei shulen see his face, and his name in her forhedis.
- v And niȝt shal no more be, and þei shulen not haue nede to þe liȝt of lantern, neþir to liȝt of þe funne; for þe Lord God shal liȝtne hem, and þei shulen regne in to worldlis of worldlis.
- vi And he seide to me, Þes wordis ben moost feiþful and truewe. And þe Lord God of sp̄iritis prophetis sente his aungel, for to shewe his feruauntis, what þinges it bihoueþ for to be don soone.
- vii 'And lo! I come swiftli. Bleſſid is he, þat kepiþ þe wordis of prophecie of þis book.
- viii And I Joon, þat herde and siȝe þes þinges. And aftir þat I hadde herd and seyn, I fel doun, 'þat I shulde worshipe bifor þe feet of þe aungel, þat schewide to me þes þinges.
- ix And he seide to me, See þat þou do not; forþoþe I am þin euen feruaunt, and of þi briþeren, prophetis, and of hem þat kepen þe wordes of prophecie of þis book; worshipe þou God.
- x And he seide to me, Signe, or feele, þou not þe wordes of prophecie 'of þis book; forþoþe þe tyme is niȝ.
- xi He þat noyeþ, noye ȝit; and he þat is in filþis, wexe foul ȝit; and 'he þat is iuft, be he ȝit iustified; and þe holy, be he halewid ȝit.
- xii Lo! I come soone, and my mede wiþ me, for to ȝelde to ech man aftir his werkes.
- xiii I am alpha and oo, þe firste and þe laſte, bigynnynge and ende.
- xiv Bleſſid þei, þat waschen her stooles 'in þe blood of þe lomb, þat þe power of hem be in þe book of lijf, bi ȝatis entre in to þe citee.
- xv Forþoþe wiþ oute forþ, houndes, and venym doers, 'or poyseners, and unchaast men, and manquellers, and feruynge to ydoles, and ech þat loueþ and doiþ lesyng.

xvi I Jhesus fente myn aungel, for to witnesse to ȝou þes þinges 'in chirchis. I am þe roote and kynde of Dauid, a shynynge moru sterre.

xvii And þe hufbonde and þe spouse, or wijf, seyn, Come þou. And he þat heriþ, seieþ, Come þou; and he þat ȝirstiþ, come; and he þat wole, take freely þe watir of lijf.

xviii Forþoþe I witnesse to ech man heringe þe wordes of prophecie of þis book, if ony man schal put to þes, God schal putte on him þe plages writun in þis book.

xix And if ony man shal do awey of þe wordis of þe book of þis prophecie, God shal take awey þe paart 'of him fro þe book of lijf, and fro þe holy citee, and fro þes þinges þat ben writun in þis book.

xx He seiþ, þat beriþ witnesfyng of þese þingis, ȝe, amen. I come soone. Amen. Come þou, Lord Jhesu.

xxi Þe grace of oure Lord Jhesu Crist be wiþ ȝou alle. Amen.

Here endiþ Apocalips.